Panama Puts Down Revolt In City Hall

PANAMA (AP)—A municipal revolt in this capital apparently collapsed Saturday under vigorous strokes by the national government. The government named a 15-man council to supplant a rebel council and sent armed troops to City Hall in a show of force.

The Revolutionary Municipal Junta, its selected council, including Chairman Carlos Enoch Adams, and about 80 supporters, fled out of City Hall under the watchful eyes of the troops.

The junta had held out in City Hall since seizing it Wednesday. The junta demanded the ouster of the 15-man council elected in 1956, accusing it of mishandling city funds. The uprising won a partial victory because the elected council stepped aside pending investigation.

Guillermo Marquez Briceno, chairman of the junta, said the main reason the junta had decided to quit City Hall was because the troops had cut off the radio the rebel leaders had been using to summon the people to their support.

A general strike, ordered Friday to support the revolutionary movement, ended. Businesses reopened, and public transportation was rolling again.

The government stepped into the crisis early today by naming a new City Council after the old councilmen, whose removal was demanded by the junta, agreed to step aside. The old council was accused by the junta and its supporters of mishandling municipal funds.

The government announced that a new mayor and a new municipal treasurer also will be appointed.

The announcement was made by Government Minister Max Heurtematte, who said the former councilmen were "separated" from their posts. There was no immediate explanation of that term, but earlier an official source said the councilmen had requested a leave of absence.

Battle Lines Forming On Type Of State Taxation

AUSTIN (AP)—The Legislature edged closer last week to a showdown on spending and taxation. Backstage pressures mounted in the battle of big interests involved in the revenue issue.

The House Appropriations Committee virtually finished hearing spokesmen for state services. The nearly unanimous word from them was: "We need more money to keep pace with Texas' growth and potential."

Chairman W. S. Healy of the committee has kept his members' noses on the grindstone. He praised them Saturday for their faithful attendance and hard work.

As the session ended its sixth week, here is essence of the picture of finances, postponed to 1. Major oil, gas, and business interests plugging subtly or overtly for a sales tax have thrown their top lobbyists or observers into around-the-clock service. In general they are fighting Gov. Daniel's proposed natural gas levy and his franchise tax revision. His plan to top dormant funds held by banks and other agencies, such as pipeline companies, is also under fire.

OPPOSES SALES TAX

2. Daniel has given no ground on his opposition to a general sales tax. He emphasizes and repeats the word "general" but has recommended some specific additional sales tax additions. He has held numerous talks with representatives of the oil and gas industry and many others interested in taxation.

3. Daniel fired a new blast at the major oil companies whose recent crude price cuts, he said, have slashed state revenues by about six million dollars a year. He said if price cuts and excessive imports continued at the expense of the state's treasury and general economy, he would ask the attorney general for an investigation of possible anti-trust violations.

4. The status of Daniel's deficit-defraying bills remained up in the air with subcommittee reports pending and no definite committee action yet in sight.

MORE BILLS

5. Still more tax bills were piling up in the House, the latest prospect was a new 90 million dollar a year dedicated reserves levy on natural gas by Rep. George Hinson of Mineola. He said he would introduce it next week. He is also author of the similar Daniel-backed severance-beneficiary gas tax which he said he was not abandoning. He planned to offer the new measure as an alternative to a sales tax.

6. Legislators say the pressure for a sales tax is growing every day. Most of them insist they

Macmillan Warns Of 'Muddle' War

Nation Must 'Mobilize' To Win In Berlin

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Army chief of staff says the United States has all the strength necessary to resist force in Berlin "if we are willing to mobilize it and do so in time."

"Mobilize the entire nation?" asked Sen. Russell B. Long (D-La.).

"Yes," replied Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor at a secret hearing Feb. 2. "You cannot play around in this business unless you have a lot of blue chips in your pocket. This is unlimited poker."

The exchange was included in testimony made public Saturday night by the Senate Disarmament subcommittee.

NO 'BLUE CHIPS'

Long questioned Taylor about Western ability to maintain its position in West Berlin, referred to earlier testimony that Soviet bloc conventional forces greatly outnumber those of the West.

"But I heard you make the statement a moment ago that as it stands now, you do not have any blue chips to give away," Long said.

Taylor replied that "we do not, with standing forces," but "we have a mobilization base, in proved reserve forces, and so on."

This was an apparent reference to reserve and National Guard forces in addition to the Army's own regular divisions.

PRESENT CRISIS

Long brought up the crisis created by the Soviet Union's call for removal of foreign troops from Berlin by May 27.

He said:

"Now our people say if they are going to cut us out of Berlin, we are not going to take it lying down but that we will try to move through, that we will send a tank division through to Berlin."

"But once a military solution to this question becomes necessary, we don't have the conventional forces to follow through with."

If a military solution is provoked immediately, or if there is "just a step-by-step approach so that there is no particular point where you can justify yourself in resorting to atomic warfare," Long asked, "then that situation could be handled in view of the Soviet superiority in conventional forces?"

It was at this point that Taylor replied: "We have all the strength that is necessary if we are willing to mobilize it and do so in time."

Prime Minister In Moscow For Talks

MOSCOW (AP)—As a guest of the Kremlin, British Prime Minister Macmillan Saturday night challenged the statesmen of the world to reduce the danger of war that might arise through "miscalculation or muddle."

The first British prime minister to visit Moscow since the war, Macmillan arrived wearing a light gray fur hat that delighted the Russians.

He and British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd are here for 10 days of talks they hope will reduce world tensions.

But Macmillan made it clear to Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev at the very outset that he had brought no particular subject, such as the Berlin crisis, on which he wanted to negotiate.

A Kremlin Palace dinner climaxed his first day in Moscow. The text of his address there was released in advance.

He said Britain does not fear acts of calculated aggression, "and I hope that you do not."

In this day and age, he added, "such aggression between the great powers, at least, would be suicidal folly."

"At the same time it is impossible to hide from ourselves the danger of a war by miscalculation or muddle. That, indeed, would be a calamity for us all."

Then he issued a challenge:

"In such circumstances it is the duty of statesmen to see if it is possible to establish some basis of confidence or treaty or in some way to reduce this danger. I do not pretend that this is any easy task, but nevertheless let us attempt it."

"Meanwhile, let us and other governments try to avoid hazardous courses."

POLITE APPLAUSE

Macmillan and his party arrived at Vnukovo Airport outside Moscow in a Concorde jet airplane. In addition to Khrushchev, First Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan and Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko were on hand to meet the Britons.

A crowd of about 500 Russians watched silently at first.

After the usual welcoming routine, he walked over and greeted them. They applauded politely. Macmillan took off his fur hat in response. His grey hair was ruffled by the wind. The applause turned into laughter. The crowd loved the hat. Macmillan grinned with pleasure, then put it back on.

Later the two premiers climbed glasses in a toast to mutual friendship in the great St. Catherine's banquet hall of the Kremlin.

Still suffering from the effects of a heavy cold, Macmillan told the diners in an off-the-cuff addition to his prepared speech that Britain and the Soviet Union achieve a lot working together.

FOR UNITY

"We can concentrate on things that unite us rather than divide us," he said. "At least don't let us add to mankind's burdens by becoming victims of our own propaganda."

"Peace can be preserved while our own great systems, working in parallel but not in conflict, contribute to the general well-being of mankind."

Macmillan's remarks were applauded warmly.

Thongs Hear Billy Graham In Australia

MELBOURNE, Australia (AP)—Big crowds jammed traffic in Melbourne Saturday night as thousands poured into the city to hear evangelist Billy Graham. The 40,000 persons who got into the open air Music Bowl to hear him swelled to 110,000, the total of his audiences in his first week here.

They arrived by the thousands in cars, trains, buses, streetcars, and afoot all through this warm, sunny day. After it was over, police had to cope with a major traffic jam while the credits unwound.

Graham, obviously delighted at the turnout, told his hearers it was the greatest crowd during the first week of any crusade he ever has held. In addition, the first week virtually assured the financial success of his Melbourne visit.

His doctors have advised him to take it easy following a recent eye operation. Although the American evangelist looks fit, he has limited his preaching to 25 minutes a night instead of the customary hour.

Call For Stronger Security Statutes

CHICAGO (AP)—An American Bar Assn. committee Saturday urged an extensive program for Congress aimed at strengthening internal security laws.

The committee's report, endorsed by the ABA board of governors, made references to recent U.S. Supreme Court decisions "deemed unsound by many responsible authorities," but carefully refrained from any direct attack on such court decisions.

The report urged redefining the authority and purposes of the House Committee on Un-American Activities, and rewording parts of the Smith Act on internal security.

Singer Linked In Rackets Is Cancelled Off TV Show

NEW YORK (AP)—Singer Tommy Leonetti's manager said Saturday a scheduled guest appearance by the singer on a TV show Saturday night was canceled because Leonetti's name came up in Washington racket hearings.

The manager, Dick Linke, said Leonetti was promised another spot on the Dick Clark Show later "after this blows over."

Clark and the show's producer, Chuck Reeves, declined comment on Linke's statement.

Meanwhile, Leonetti said he knew nothing about activities of his former manager, John Ambrosia, named in testimony before the Senate Labor-Management Committee.

The committee was told Friday that Ambrosia and others used shooting tactics, including veiled threats, to force use of Leonetti's records on Chicago jukeboxes several years ago.

BUSINESS DEAL

Leonetti said of Ambrosia: "It was just a business arrangement with him and all I know was that he always told me 'Do the singing and I'll do the booking.' I never knew anything else about him."

His manager said Leonetti was wiring committee counsel Robert Kennedy a request that the singer be allowed to testify before the committee "at the earliest opportunity."

Leonetti expressed surprise over the sudden cancellation of his appearance on Clark's ABC-TV show but added that "I don't hold anything against Clark."

Linke said he was told of the decision to remove Leonetti from

Strike Closes St. Louis Paper

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP)—St. Louisans will go without one of their two Sunday newspapers after a strike of the American Newspaper Guild shut down the St. Louis Globe-Democrat Saturday.

Publisher Richard M. Amberg predicted no immediate resumption of publishing.

No negotiations were scheduled immediately in the dispute over a pension plan.

Newspaper officials said 700 employees in the paper's 11 mechanical unions did not cross the picket line set up at 3 a.m.

On strike are 332 members of Local 47 of the Guild. The strike was the first called by the St. Louis local since its inception in 1954.

Negotiations for a new contract began Dec. 1 and deadlocked on a proposed funded pension plan. All other issues, including wages were agreed to, it was reported.

Talks were broken off Friday and a last minute meeting Friday night between management, union officials and C. K. Call, federal conciliation commissioner, was fruitless.

Clearing Weather Is Forecast Today

Cloudy weather is due to break off today, but the weatherman says there is some chance of scattered showers.

Meanwhile, total precipitation for the current spell of glaze and mist amounted to only .15 of an inch.

The United States Weather Bureau held out for a warming trend and said fog and drizzle would lift by noon. Partly cloudy conditions may bring scattered showers. Much the same pattern, without the fog and drizzle, was forecast for Monday. In contrast to Saturday's early freeze, today and Monday are due to produce minimums of about 40 degrees.

By The Associated Press

Drizzle spewed wide sections of Texas Saturday. The whole state was overcast and too cool for outdoor comfort.

Winds however shifted around to the south and southeast in most sections, promising slowly rising temperatures through Sunday. Scattered light rain is forecast for all Texas with the heaviest downpours in the south and east.

In South Texas, San Antonio had afternoon rain. Corpus Christi had drizzle. Brownsville had rain and drizzle. Laredo, with drizzle and 40 degree temperature, postponed its big outdoor doings in the Washington Birthday celebration until Sunday.

The heaviest rain overnight was at Brownsville where .58 inch of rain was measured in 24 hours to 6 a.m. Saturday.

Reviewing The Big Spring Week

With Joe Pickle

Let's hope we don't have another week to approach the past one for traffic toll. A week ago this morning Mrs. Flora Larez, 62, and Jose Louis Larez, 18, died in a flaming wreck 3 miles west on the Andrews highway. Tuesday James C. Martin was killed 17 miles west on U. S. 80 and W. E. Henry critically hurt. Little Diane Taylor, 3, rallied after brain surgery necessitated when she was struck by a car Tuesday. There were half a dozen other crashes, with injuries, some not so minor.

If you are between 45 and 65 years of age, you fall into a bracket where half the deaths are caused by heart disease. If you're over 65, heart ailment is your biggest threat by far. You might keep this in mind this afternoon when canvassers for the Heart Fund knock at your door. You could be making a contribution to lengthen your life.

The Big Spring Concert series closed out with ballad singer Dylan Todd, who incidentally, was warmly received once he utilized the sound system. But the big news came from Maj. Vincent Brophy, president, who announced Fred Waring and his troupe had been booked for next season.

Winter took another fling during the week, and once more there was a glaze along with sleet and mist. Moisture of less than half an inch was hardly enough to help much — but it sure didn't hurt anything. Soft is now really conditioned for a good rain.

New Cuban Envoy Gives Credentials

HAVANA (AP)—Philip W. Bonsal presented copies of his credentials as the new U.S. ambassador to Cuba at the Foreign Ministry Saturday, to the accompaniment of praise from the Cuban press.

The Spanish-speaking veteran of Latin American diplomacy has the blessings of Premier Fidel Castro. Castro had accused U.S. Ambassador Earl T. Smith, Bonsal's predecessor, of being too friendly with ex-President Fulgencio Batista.

Revolutionary government officials consider Bonsal a good friend of Latin Americans, citing his work as ambassador to Colombia and Bolivia.

Girl Tells Of Sex Affairs With Policemen At Wichita

WICHITA FALLS, Tex. (AP)—The grand jury was in session Saturday until March 18 after hearing a pretty teenager tell a story of sex relations with nine policemen in two years.

The green-eyed girl, 17, accused one of the cops of fathering her illegitimate child, now 3 weeks old. She is not married.

First she took a lie detector test. Then Dist. Atty. L. T. Wilson called her and her mother, 11 policemen and another girl before the grand jury Friday. Not all of the 11 cops were accused by the young mother.

Proposal For Public Housing To Go Before City Commission

A petition bearing the names of about 500 Big Spring citizens is to be given to the City Commission this week asking for a low-rent housing area to be financed by federal funds.

Members of the Big Spring Civic Improvement League circulated the petitions and plan to present the list to the commission at its meeting Tuesday evening.

The project is aimed at raising the living standards of low-income residents and to provide adequate housing for them. Rental payments would be made on a percentage of the person's income.

Heading the League is James B. Frazier with Dr. Fabian Gomez as vice president. Gary Tate is secretary. Also working on the projects are Jesse Hernandez, Owen Ivin, Walter Stroup, Louis Jean Thompson, Lige Fox, and Bo Bowen.

Union Leader Is Asked To Resign

HOUSTON (AP)—John Kirtley was asked Saturday to resign as president of Boilermakers Union Local 74 by March 13 or face impeachment charges.

Some 250 members at a special meeting also voted unanimously to remove Kirtley as the local's delegate to the Houston Building and Construction Trades Council. Kirtley's removal as a delegate also would remove him as president of the council.

Kirtley did not attend the meeting and was not available for comment.

Senator Suggests A Boycott Of Jukes

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. John L. McClellan (D-Ark) said Saturday phonograph record manufacturers would be justified in refusing to sell to outlets that supply gangster-ridden jukebox operations.

McClellan, chairman of the Senate Labor-Management Committee, told newsmen that if such action could be taken, he thinks it would be a legitimate one.

McClellan's comments were prompted by testimony about the operations of the Lormar Distributing Co. of Chicago, described by committee counsel Robert F. Kennedy as gangster-run.

The committee plans to explore the company's activities further when it resumes public hearings Tuesday on a widespread investigation of the extent to which mobsters and shady union officials have muscled in on the jukebox business.

$100,000 TRIBUTE

A staff investigator testified Friday that Chicago jukebox operators have to pay more than $100,000 a year to maintain peace in the industry and keep from losing the locations for their machines.

One of the witnesses to be called this week is Charles (Chuck) English, described by the committee as owner of the Lormar Co. Kennedy said English will be

Five Roofing, Building Repair Operators Indicted For Theft

COLORADO CITY — The Mitchell County grand jury returned 10 indictments Wednesday, after a three-day session largely devoted to investigation of five out-of-town roofing and building repair operators.

These men had secured $4,930.50 on various occasions from three local women, and hadn't done a hundred dollars worth of work, Dist. Atty. Eldon Mahon said Friday.

The five men were charged with theft by false pretext, had been apprehended by officers and were free on bond Friday. The arrests had followed several weeks of investigation by the district attorney, Texas Rangers, Colorado City police and the sheriff's department.

Billy James Duke, 31, of Dallas is charged on four indictments with theft by false pretext of $3,850.50 from Mrs. Jim Hale.

E. C. Duke, 48, of Dallas is charged on one count with theft by false pretext of $175 from Mrs. E. McCurry.

William W. Brooks, 40, of Dallas, E. J. Oliver, 47, of Waco and J. F.

Couch, 49, of Athens are charged jointly with theft by false pretext of $618 from Mrs. T. J. Ratliff. Brooks and Oliver are charged on another count with theft by false pretext from Mrs. Ratliff in the amount of $287.

Other indictments returned by the grand jury included one for removing mortgaged property from the county against a person not yet apprehended; and two charges of burglary against Clyde Raymond Ellison alleging that Ellison burglarized the Colorado City and Lorraine high schools in January.

200 Juveniles Involved Here In Burglaries

A. E. Long, county juvenile officer, reported Saturday to the county commissioners that he had interviewed and investigated charges against 200 boys and girls involved in burglary cases during 1958.

This was one item of a lengthy report turned in for the year by the county juvenile officer.

He said he had 251 cases which were either before the juvenile court or disposed of unofficially during the year. Juveniles spent 358 days in the juvenile ward at the county jail. Eighty-eight boys and girls were locked up in the ward during the 12 months. Long dealt with 45 boys and girls in runaway cases; 41 for truancy and 55 for vagrancy or being out at unusual hours.

Twenty-five youngsters were picked up for liquor law violation and 10 boys faced traffic complaints in the city court. Eight boys were arrested in connection with car theft.

In addition to the 200 boys and girls he said he questioned in breaking and entering complaints—burglary—50 others are questioned in other theft cases.

He made an average of three calls a day to deal with difficulties involving juveniles including 35 school calls.

Four boys and girls were involved in forgery cases in 1958. Twenty-three boys and girls were committed to Gatesville or Gainesville reformatories and 25 others were paroled from the state school. Sixty-one juveniles were placed on parole with requirement they report to Long once each month.

Elected

Wade Simpson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dick Simpson, 519 Hillside, has been elected vice president of the Kappa Sigma fraternity at Texas Christian. He also served in the Student Congress, is a leader in other fraternities and a member of United Religious Council. A senior student, he was elected to Who's Who.

FOR VIOLATORS Driver Training School Proposed

Zoning matters and a request for an adult driver training program will be presented to the City Commission at its regular session Tuesday evening.

At a public hearing last week, the zoning board approved a request to rezone the area from the alley south of Alabama St. to FM 700 from A (two-party residential) zone to E (community business).

Also the zoning commission gave its approval to two plats, one a part of the Rice Addition near Webb AFB and the other the Choate Addition at the intersection of FM 700 and Goliad. All actions taken by the zoning board must be approved by the City Commission to be official.

The Jaycees have proposed initiating a driver educational training school in cooperation with the Corporation Court and the Citizen's Traffic Commission. The school would be for persons found guilty of traffic violations in the city court. Members of the Jaycees will outline the program to the commissioners.

A new car will be purchased for the police department to replace an old model.

The water rates for the Coahoma Water District will also be set. These charges are revised from year to year based on increases or decreases in the city's rates from CRMWD.

A matter of dedication of San Antonio St. from 3rd to 1st will be discussed. The T&P Railroad proposed the dedication of the street.

Chester Sturdevan has asked that Boy Scouts be permitted to paint house numbers on curbs here for 50 cents per house, and he will explain the problem to the commission.

Reports will probably be made from commissioners attending a session in Austin Monday with the Board on State Schools and Hospitals. The session was to consider alteration of the city's water rates to the State Hospital.

After the meeting, the commission will have a meeting with Chamber of Commerce officials relative to financing the master planning survey being undertaken.

Although it was not listed on the advance agenda, it is understood that a group of citizens plan to submit a petition to the commission asking for investigation of a low-cost federal housing program. This federal housing program could mean construction of new residences on the North Side to replace current substandard living conditions.

Gains Reported By CRMWD For January

Operations started at a substantially better pace for the Colorado River Municipal Water District during January.

During the first month of the year the district delivered 578,000 gallons of water as compared with 544,491,000 for the same month a year ago.

Gross revenues amounted to $153,385 as compared with $125,007 in January of 1958. Of this, $132,028 was from sale of water and $21,357 from recreational facilities. The recreational yield is abnormally high in January because all cabin site leases of the district are payable for the year in that month.

Expenses totaled $54,816 in January, leaving $98,568 to be transferred to bond requirements and other trust funds. Included were $90.94 for operation of city production systems, $474.50 for lease rentals, $2,211.26 for water royalties, $7,394.08 for maintenance, $28,135.78 for operating expense, $5,849.50 for administrative and general expense, and $9,592.13 for recreational purposes. The latter item included $8,194.52 as the final repayment on the basin at Lake Thomas Lodge.

Water sales showed 158,000,000 gallons to Odessa, 128,204,000 to Big Spring, 38,750,000 to Snyder, 169,887,000 to SACROC, 27,475,000 to Lion Oil, $3,716,000 to Sharon Ridge and 1,908,000 to Texas Gulf Production. Production for the month aggregated 611,406,000, because some went to storage. Of this $42,112,000 gallons came from Lake J. B. Thomas.

Bids On 33-Mile Pipe Line To Be Opened By CRMWD

Bids will be opened in Big Spring Thursday morning on approximately 33 miles of water supply line.

Directors of the Colorado River Municipal Water District will convene at the Settles Hotel at 10 a.m. to open the proposals on a line from Odessa to the Martin County pump station. Freese & Nichols, Fort Worth, engineers, indicated a lively interest among prospective bidders.

Proposals will cover three possibilities — an all 30-inch line, a combination of 30 and 33-inch line, and all 33-inch main. The district is using concrete cylinder pipe. The line, which roughly parallels the existing supply line, will enable the district to use one leg for delivery of water from Lake J. B. Thomas to Odessa while the other is delivering water from the well field to meet peak demands.

Other progress reports will be made at the meeting by E. V. Spence, general manager.

Japanese Girl Seeks Pen Pals

To the Editor:

If you can spare a little of your precious time, it would be appreciated very much. What I want is this: I always wanted to make some friends in your country through letter writings. But I did not know how to do it. Recently, however, I was told by the Youth Council for International Contact (20 Ichome Jimbo-cho Chyoda-ku, Tokyo, Japan) that the best way is to write to the newspapers and gave me your name. So I am writing this letter to you. If you can insert this letter somewhere in your pages so that I can start communications with your readers, I would appreciate it very much. If such insertion was not able to be done, then may I ask you to pass this letter to some schools or cultural organizations or some individuals? That will help me, too.

Yours very truly,
Chizako Narike

P. S. Let me introduce myself briefly: I am a 15-year-old Japanese girl and am attending junior high school.

DWI Excused?

U. S. Offices To Have Holiday

FFA boys have received cards urging them to meet at the barns and help with arrangements at this time.

Taxpayers with problems who planned on taking these worries to the Internal Revenue Service offices in the Permian Building on Monday will have to wait until Tuesday, according to Ben Hawkins, in charge of the office.

Monday, falling as it does on the day after Washington's birthday, will be an official holiday. The office, as well as all other federal offices, will be closed on Monday.

Ordinarily Mondays are "taxpayers assistance days" in the revenue service operations. Because of the holiday on Monday the local office will observe Tuesday for this purpose. Taxpayers are invited to bring their questions to the office between 8:30 a.m. and 12:30 p.m. Tuesday instead of Monday this week only.

Effective the following Monday and on each Monday until April 13, however, the half days devoted to helping puzzled taxpayers will be observed, Hawkins

Actor Injured Seriously In Fall Down Elevator Shaft

Pat Hingle, 35, successful Broadway actor and husband of the former Alice Faye Dorsey, Big Spring, is in Knickerbocker Hospital in New York being treated for serious injuries sustained in a fall down an elevator shaft Friday morning.

H. F. Dorsey, father of Mrs. Hingle, said Friday he had talked with his wife, who is in New York at the present time, and was told that Hingle had suffered a fractured hip, fractured wrist, head injuries and the loss of one finger in the accident.

Hingle, star of the Broadway hit "J. B.", was in an apartment hotel elevator with several other persons Friday morning. Dorsey was told. The elevator jammed between the second and third floor.

Hingle climbed out in an effort to obtain help. He slipped and fell down the shaft.

He and Miss Dorsey were married in 1946. They have one daughter, Jodie.

He has been starred in a number of successful Broadway plays. While Hingle never made his home here, he has often visited with the Dorseys in Big Spring and is well known to many local residents. He and Mrs. Hingle met when they were students at the University of Texas.

Master Planning Financed May Be Studied By County

Only routine business is on the agenda for the Howard County Commissioners Court when it meets on Monday, according to Ed Carpenter, county judge.

As usual, the commissioners will have right-of-way problems to consider, he said, but no special business of any great importance is slated for presentation.

Carpenter said it was possible further discussion of the question of whether or not the county can enter into an agreement with the city and schools to finance a master plan project might arise.

The commissioners, after hearing an opinion by the attorney general, are now of the impression the county has no legal authority to make such a contract.

Regional Exhibit Of Fine Arts Slated

Groundwork for a Texas Fine Arts Assn., regional exhibition here March 13-15 is being laid here.

The exhibit, free to the public, will be held at the Dora Roberts Student Union Building at Howard County Junior College. This year there will be, for the first time, a division for photography.

Entries will be sought from the 20-county area of district No. 18, which extends from Sonora to Colorado City.

John Findlater is general chairman of the exhibit while Fred J. Whitaker will head up the photography division. Terry Patterson is regional chairman.

All work submitted must be original and should not have been shown locally in competition. Class work will not be accepted. There will be divisions for oils, water-colors, pastels, graphics and photography. Classes will include portrait, still life, landscape or seascape, animal and miscellaneous, and there will be sub-divisions for those personally developed and those commercially developed.

So far, two judges have been announced. They are Dr. J. B. Smith, head of the art department for Hardin-Simmons University, and Dr. Robert Lancaster, head of the art department at San Angelo College.

Each painting requires a $1 entry fee unless the artist pays the $2 citation fee which entitles a maximum of six entries for that amount. The $1 entry fee covers as many as the maximum of six photographic entries. In the best of show award, there will be only one for paintings and one for photographs.

Pictures on exhibit may be offered for sale, in which case the Las Artistas Club will receive 10 per cent for defraying show expenses and other activities.

Entries must be received between 1 p.m. and 6 p.m. on March 13 and none will be taken after that. Artists will be required to leave their works on exhibit until 3 p.m. on the afternoon of Sunday, March 15. There will be a reception and presentation of awards from 5 p.m. to 7 p.m. on March 15.

Complete details may be had from Findlater at 1202 Douglas or AM 3-3643.

Caution Urged In Flying Kites Near Highlines

Texas Electric Service Co. has appealed to parents to caution their children about flying kites near electric wires.

"The windy season brings kite flying time and this traditional sport is one that is lots of fun for children if it is done safely," R. L. Beale, Texas Electric Service Co. manager, pointed out.

"Many youngsters don't realize the dangers in this innocent pastime if certain safety rules are not observed. The most important is to never fly kites where there is the possibility of them getting tangled in electric power lines."

Other dangerous practices in connection with kite flying include using metallic cord or wire for the kite string, making the kite frame of metal, flying kites in the rain when even a cotton kite string can become dangerous conductor of electricity and trying to retrieve a kite in case it does get caught in electric wires, Beale stated.

"Local youngsters who fly kites have been careful and cooperative in the past and we've had no serious mishaps in several years, but each year, over the nation, there are many cases of injuries to kite flyers," Beale said.

"If kites are made right and flown right, kite flying is an enjoyable, wholesome sport."

To further impress children that safety is all-important in kite flying, Texas Electric Service Co. is providing posters for all school bulletin boards and announcements for school principals.

Mrs. Green was reared in Big Spring as Ethel Painter, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. D. F. Painter, pioneer citizens. She and her husband had observed their golden wedding anniversary two years ago.

Surviving her are husband; two daughters, Ernestine Green of Rosebud and Mrs. Bill Bailey, Tulsa, Okla.; a grandson, Bill Bailey Jr.; and a brother, Dan Painter, Houston.

Interment will be in the Rosebud cemetery.

All Steamed Up

Electricians found themselves with a warm, humid job on their hands when they volunteered to string wire through the utility tunnels between buildings at the state hospital. V. L. Friar, left, and Tom Carwin work in a cloud of steam in one of the tunnels, above. More than 4,500 feet of the sound system wire was installed by the 17 workers Saturday morning.

Sound System Wiring For State Hospital Installed

An amplification system carrying music and other programs to every building of the state hospital may be in operation in the next two weeks.

Nearly a score of local electricians Saturday volunteered their services and strung between 4,500 and 5,000 feet of wire to the various buildings. All but two of the buildings also were wired for the sound system, and they probably will be finished next Saturday.

During the next week, Ben and M. Sgt. Arthur B. Maus will be installing speakers and other equipment for the $3,500 amplification system.

The installation work is culmination of a long effort to raise funds for the project. J. H. Greene is the project chairman. Funds have been contributed by numerous local individuals and business operators, and by civic groups and others in several towns of this area.

Hospital officials expect the system to be of special value in providing recreation and entertainment for the patients. Although no definite completion date has been set, Greene said he thinks the work will be finished within two weeks. Most of the equipment is already on hand.

Electricians from nine firms joined Saturday in stretching the wire through utility tunnels and splicing the lines into the various buildings. Seventeen individuals, directed by Joe B. Kitching and Ben Hall, assisted.

In the group were W. H. Toerck, A. C. Latson, T. L. Young, W. O. Moore, Tommy Corwin, V. L. Friar, Ray Anderson, Troy Drinkard, Gene Haston, Kenneth Huett, Douglas E. Beams, J. T. Farquhar, Henry A. Thames, Phillip Riddle, Jerry T. Musgrove, Hall and Kitching.

Poison Control Centers Spring Up Over Texas

TYLER (AP) — Tears of fear and anxiety welled in the eyes of a young mother as she waited the near-eternity it took the operator to rouse the family physician.

Her emotional state had reached near panic in the few minutes since her son, 3, had drunk almost a cupful of common cleaning fluid.

Her frightened call, tied to a hurried call from the family physician to Tyler's new East Texas poison control center, was all needed to provide the lifesaving antidote.

The low-headed youngster, one of many who each year accidentally consume some type of poison, was one of the first in the East Texas area who will some day thank the new center for his life.

The story of this tot's near fatal bout with a painful death is one repeated many times in Texas and the nation. Last year, more children under six years old died because of accidental poisoning than from all infectious diseases combined, statistics show.

It was an alarming fact and it needed a remedy. And the State Health Department, working with the State Medical Assn., city physicians and county health units mapped a solution.

With the opening recently of the East Texas poison control center in Tyler's sprawling medical center hospital, the state has six such centers.

Of these six, Tyler is the third offering the complete three-phase campaign against accidental poisoning. The East Texas center will work through its physicians' information center, a treatment center and public health education.

Other three-phase centers are in Austin, and Galveston. Centers offering all phases except actual treatment are Corpus Christi, Fort Worth and Houston.

Talbott Gets State Hospital Contract

Contract for construction of a residence for the superintendent of the Big Spring State Hospital has been awarded to F. H. Talbott, Big Spring.

Talbott was to receive the contract documents over the weekend and work may start within a fortnight. The award was made a week ago in Austin by the board for State Hospitals and Special Schools.

100 Attend Mass Meeting On Gay Hill School Consolidation

Proposed consolidation of the Gay Hill School District of Howard County with the Borden County Independent School District was discussed pro and con at a mass meeting in Gay Hill auditorium Friday night.

Nearly 100 men and women patrons of the Gay Hill school and residents of the area, were on hand. The meeting was harmonious and the seriousness of the issue at stake which will be settled at an election on March 14 made the entire meeting one of considerable gravity.

A panel, with Doyle Fenn, principal of the school, serving as moderator, was on hand and offered answers to all queries propounded by members of the audience.

Representing Borden County on the panel was F. P. Stewart, superintendent of the Gail schools and several members of his school board. Members of the Gay Hill school board—Neil Spencer, L. C. Underwood, Virgil Little, Ulysses Hall, Melvin Anderson and Jeff Painter—were also present.

Four members of the Howard County School trustees board were on hand. They were Jack Cook, Truman Jones, J. D. Gilmore, and Fred Roman.

Others participating in the panel included Wayne Burns, Howard County attorney, and Wendell Holt, district attorney. Snyder Holt was present at the invitation of the Borden County delegation. Walker Bailey, Howard County school superintendent was also on the panel.

The attorneys were queried about the many legal phases of the proposed merger.

Questions put by the spectators indicated a deep interest in the problem and a desire for authoritative information.

No effort was made at any time to sample sentiment of the gathering on the question.

The proposed consolidation developed about a month ago when a petition was presented to County Judge Ed Carpenter signed by 31 patrons of the district asking an election on the question. A similar petition was filed at the same time with the Borden County judge.

Carpenter set the election date for March 14. He has been advised that the date is satisfactory with Borden County.

Make Haste Slowly On Zoning

In accordance with city ordinances, the zoning commission has been considering applications for changes and additions and has conducted the public hearings. All of this is keeping with requirements set up under the existing zoning statutes.

This procedure is established to provide for the necessary flexibility and equity without which zoning could defeat its own ends by ignoring trends and newly developing needs.

However, we hope that there will be a minimum of requests for rezoning pending an opportunity to see if we can get master planning on the road. If we do go into this program — and there is a probability that we will — then we run the risk of creating some problems that master planning might hope to avoid.

If we were to plan on a major re-modeling of a business house or home according to a well defined plan, most of us would delay piece meal changes so long as possible. So it is with extensive zoning at this stage of the game — establishment of certain areas might plot costly improvements atwart proposed key traffic arteries, or new use classifications might be substantially lower than would be recommended in an overall layout.

We do not propose a complete moratorium in zoning matters, but we do offer in a constructive spirit the suggestion that every proposal be scrutinized closely in light of potential master planning.

Guard Against Grass Fires

Grass fires have been reported within the past week near Colorado City and Midland, and despite light moisture during the past week, all of West Texas is ripe for more of this. Pastures are tinder dry in most instances, and they need only a carelessly thrown cigarette or lighted match to start them burning.

Moreover, we're getting to the high wind season, and a prairie fire on one of these gusty days could get so quickly out of hand that controlling or containing it would be impossible.

Our area is struggling back from the effects of half a dozen years of successive and severe drought, and we can ill afford the loss of forage for livestock, let alone the great injury that fire would bring to ranges.

So please be doubly careful about your smoking, trash burning, or camp fire building for the next two or three months. Under no circumstance toss cigarettes or cigars from moving cars, always use the ash tray. Make sure matches are completely out before you toss them away.

Time To Stand Firm Against Russia

WASHINGTON — Dictator Khrushchev isn't scaring anybody here with his blustering statement that any attempt by the Allies to break through to Berlin by land sea or air would be met by force.

President Eisenhower has countered with the simple declaration that the United States and the Western Powers will continue to carry out their "responsibilities" under the 1945 wartime agreement and that "it will be the other side, if there is going to be any force," which will have to use it "to block our carrying out our responsibilities."

These are serious words from the President of the United States. No further authority is needed from Congress, moreover, to resist an attack on the American troops stationed in West Berlin or in the approaches to that city. For it is written in the North Atlantic Treaty, as ratified by the U. S. Senate, that any attack on a member state or its forces—which include West Berlin—can be considered an attack on all the Western Powers, including the United States. Congress has, therefore, already authorized the use of the armed forces of the United States to repel attack.

The President made it clear that the United States would not initiate any fighting. He said to his press conference: "He (Khrushchev) must be talking about shooting to stop us from doing our duty. After all, that is what is going to happen if it happens. We are not saying that we are going to shoot our way into Berlin. We say we are just going to go and continue carrying out our responsibilities to those people and to the world as a whole, and we are going back in 1945. So that if we are stopped, it will be somebody else using force."

The President performed a service to world peace by making it clear that the United States will not fail to resist any attack on the Western Allied military forces as they pursue their rights under the 1945 agreement. That agreement was adopted when the men of the armed forces of the United States and her Western allies were completing the job of saving the Russian people from possible conquest by Hitler's armies.

It seems a brazen piece of ingratitude to demand now that West Berlin be given up to whomever the Moscow government says shall occupy it, thus disregarding the interallied agreement altogether. Certainly, unless consent is given by all the partners in the war, the territory of West Berlin should remain in its present status. Any attempt to alter that status by force becomes an attack by the Soviet Union on the Western allies. This would mean the beginning of a war, and it seems incredible that Dictator Khrushchev would take such a risk.

It may be that Khrushchev thinks the Western allies will not stand together and would not risk a war. But that is the kind of miscalculation which the Communist leaders in Moscow should never make. For, if fighting breaks out in the vicinity of West Berlin, it could result in a revolution inside East Germany and in some other satellite countries as well as inside the Soviet Union itself. The peoples behind the Iron Curtain do not want war. That's why it is so important to make clear before all the world that it is the head of the Soviet regime who today is deliberately planning to initiate war.

Some of the same menacing maneuvers were made by Red China just before opening a bombardment on Quemoy and Matsu a few months ago. But President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles stood firm, and the Communists have not risked an attack on Formosa, which Congress has, by resolution, pledged the United States to defend.

The United States is not going to be bluffed by either Peiping or Moscow. To make sure the Communists understand this, it has been necessary, as Mr. Dulles once said, to be ready to go "to the brink of war." This has been cynically referred to as "brinkmanship," but it works. It is a manifestation of resoluteness that prevents war. Vacillation, on the other hand, breeds war by encouraging the mistaken belief that one side will not fight if attacked. Then, when disillusionment comes, war is already under way. So it is much better to say in advance explicitly what will or will not be done in a given contingency.

The feeling here is that the Soviets will not risk war but will talk about it in the hope of forcing surrender. Firmness and unity on the Allied side were never more important. This applies also to those well-intentioned members of Congress whose words, implying a readiness to make concessions, are taken abroad to be a sign of weakness. This is one time above all others when the executive branch should do the talking and the legislative branch should, if it speaks at all, uphold the hands of the President and the Secretary of State.

Economy Showing A Brisk Upsurge

NEW YORK — The economy's signs of vigor from recession showed new strength in the week before and 9,201,349 in the same week.

Steel and auto production climbed briskly; rail and truck freight traffic maintained an upward trend.

Stock prices soared through the roof. Both The Associated Press average of 60 stocks and the Dow Jones average of 30 industrial shares racked up new record highs. For the first time in history the Dow Jones industrials topped 600.

Stock sales hit 18,504,770 shares during the week compared to 14,792,890 shares in the week before and 9,201,349 in the same week.

Bond sales in the latest week totaled $32,280,000 against $30,560,000 for the previous week and $22,974,500 in the corresponding week a year ago.

Earnings reports of blue chip corporations showed sales and earnings at the end of 1958 bounding up from their recession lows.

Gross national product—the government's yardstick of the sum total of goods and services produced—hit a record annual rate of more than 453 billion dollars in the final 1958 quarter, and, judging from the available indicators, it was still climbing this week.

Meanwhile inflationary forces continued to mark time.

Living costs in January advanced a slim one-tenth of one per cent. If it hadn't been for a modest rise in food costs, the government's index of what it costs you to live would have dropped a little.

The upward trend in food expenses, plus a slight rise in the cost of heating fuel, medical care and rent, more than offset a downturn in prices of home furnishings and clothing.

Take-home pay of factory workers was the best for any January on record—$78.50 a week for a worker with three dependents after allowing for the increased Social Security tax.

Definite Slowdown In Rate Of Business Recovery

Is this the pause before the second upsurge?

The obvious things—the amount of money people are collecting in wages, salaries, Social Security benefits and dividends; the recent spurt in steel production; the December-January upswing in retail sales; the turnaround in business inventories, and the confidence among businessmen—all point to a surge in prosperity later on this year.

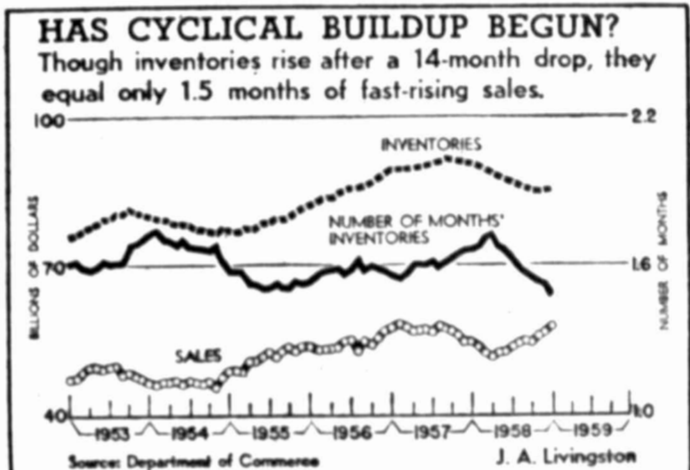

So does history, itself—the business cycle. According to the studies of Geoffrey H. Moore, of the National Bureau of Economic Research, a recovery from a business downturn can be expected to reach the level at which the decline started in from 18 to 30 months, depending on the depth of the decline. Then it will push on to further new highs. So far, this cyclical turnaround is making excellent time against history.

In June, July, and August 1957, the Federal Reserve Board's index of industrial production edged out at 145. Today, 17 months later, after a drop to 126 in April, the index is up to 142. It could easily hit 145 this month or next, when Chrysler can resume fullscale auto output. The Pittsburgh Plate Glass Co. strike has been "arrested"—the major issues having been referred to arbitration.

By all odds, the stabilizing influence in this cycle has been personal income. Although unemployment rose sharply—embracing more than 5,000,000 workers in the months of February, March, and April last year—personal income dipped less than 2 per cent, and today, at a $362,300,000,000 annual rate, it is 4.6 per cent above its recession low. Increases in government payments, such as unemployment compensation and Social Security benefits, helped to offset the drop in payrolls.

But now, the rate of recovery has definitely slowed down. As noted here a month ago, production, as measured by the Federal Reserve Board index, pushed forward at the rate of 2½ points per month from May through August, or 10 points in four months. In the next five months, the index picked up only seven points, and in four of those five months, including January, the gain was only a point. Is this significant?

If you look at steel production, now running at an annual rate of about 120,000,000 tons of ingots per year, you'd answer, "No: an upsurge is certain." Steel reflects demand for a wide variety of products—automobiles, household appliances, furniture, machinery, road-building equipment, structural members for construction, cans, etc. Production has almost doubled since its recession low of April, 1957.

If you look at inventories, again the answer is, "No." Inventories of all businesses in the United States declined from a high of $91.3 billion in August-September, 1957, to $84.9 billion in October last year. They have since edged up to $85.2 billion.

Meanwhile, total sales have risen much more sharply—from a seasonally adjusted annual rate of $51.3 billion in March to $57.4 billion. Result: Inventories on hand amount to only 1.48 months of sales (see chart). This is the lowest level since early 1951 when the present statistical series began. A year ago the ratio was 1.66 months' supply.

The 57 question mark is you and I—the consumer. What will you do? We bought rather freely in December and January—$17,600,000,000 worth of goods at retail (seasonally adjusted). That was 3 per cent ahead of a year ago. If we keep that up, it's certain that retail stores will have to re-order and that expectations for a boom year 1959 will be realized.

Automobile sales also have been moderately reassuring. Recently, they've been running about 20 per cent ahead of a year ago, indicating a domestic output of 5,300,000 to 5,500,000 passenger cars. This is in line with early Big-Three forecasts, and the rate could increase, now that Chrysler is back into production.

By 1959 isn't a simple "Whoosh, boys, here we go, hold your hats." Unemployment is still high at 4,700,000, and the automobile industry has yet to face the consequences of its Great Depression.

Numerous families are still recession-scattered. So it still remains to be proved that retail sales will maintain their December-January pace. The high level of unemployment discourages some families from living up to their incomes. They want to save.

Big-Three auto companies do not deny news stories that they will bring out a small car this year. As the news spreads that Ford, General Motors, and Chrysler are committed to technologically different cars in the fall, it's likely to unsettle the new-car market. Autos are the Big If in retail sales and unemployment.

Bible Words for Today

I JOHN 4:7a, 16:b—"Beloved, let us love one another. . . God is love, and he who abides in love abides in God, and God abides in him." (RSV)

"God is Love!" Here is the very heart of the Gospel. The Infinite Power who ever creates and sustains this vast universe is forever our Father and Friend. The God who is beyond the stars, mysterious in his majesty and might, comes to us in the lowly Jesus with healing hands and compassionate heart.

It follows of necessity that "he who abides in love abides in God." Through our human love at its best, that is, when it is unselfish rather than possessive, we are brought into spiritual union with God.

To abide in love, however, involves a love that is constant and continuing, a love that motivates and colors every thought, every attitude, every act. Such a love cannot be achieved in our own strength, but only as we commit our lives completely to the will of God, that He may abide in us. "Beloved, let us love one another!"

Around The Rim

Contributions To Washington Lore

This being whose birthday it is, it seems not unfitting that herewith should be offered some historic gems, never before published:

It is a few weeks before Christmas, and Gus and Mary Washington are discussing what to have Santa bring to little George.

"The lad wants a gun," Mary says. "Well, perhaps we should get him one, replies the old man, ready to get the whole business behind him. "He's got to learn to protect himself against the redskins."

"But Gus," Mary replies, "George is simply too young for a gun. You won't take the time to show him how to use it, and I certainly don't know how. He has just got to wait another year or so. I am not going to have that boy wandering around with a gun at his age."

"All right, all right," Gus yields. "If you don't want him to have a gun, get him something else, say a hatchet. But mark you, Mary, if you get him a hatchet, you're going to see some damage done around here."

It's December again, only quite a number of years later. General George Washington has his Army poised to cross the Delaware, headed for the Hessians who are holed-up in Trenton. He's having a staff conference.

"Gentlemen, we can make this another Pearl Harbor," the general says. "While the enemy is sleeping off his celebration, the time is opportune for us."

"But General," replies an aide, "the river is rough and stormy, the ice flows are dangerous, and the boats all leak."

The General wields his authority. "Colonel, sir, you see that the boats are bailed out." The Colonel immediately calls the Major. "Major, see that the boats are bailed out." The Major sends for the Captain. "Captain, bail out the boats." The Captain hollers for a Lieutenant.

"Lieutenant, it is your responsibility to bail out the boats." The Lieutenant turns to the Sergeant. "Sergeant, get to bailing out the boats." The Sergeant snaps at the Corporal. "Hey, you bail out those boats." The Corporal yanks up the privates. "You guys jump to, on the double, and bail out those boats."

The General crosses the Delaware, standing up, while the privates bail the boats.

December again, at Valley Forge. Too. Worst winter since the blizzard of '88, Washington's Army is in great suffering. "I do dechlar," says one Southern subaltern, "if this ain't worse than Amarillo with the barbed wire fence down."

"We've got to stir the men up, and keep them moving," says the General. "Let's have some music."

The bugler cuts loose with "Baby, It's Cold Outside."

Later, on when the crisis of the colonies has eased a hit, and the higher-up men of state have gathered on the banks of the Potomac for an afternoon outing. Alex Hamilton gazes across the stream. "Say, that's quite a stretch of water. Wonder if a fellow could throw a rock across it?"

"A dollar would sail better than a rock," observes Ben Franklin, always the scientist. "Let's just see who can throw a dollar across the river."

The men step to the water's edge, each rares back with a mighty toss. But one after one, they see the coins drop in the water, short of the opposite bank. Then it's George's time. He winds up and lets her go, and they see the dollar sail across and hit the mud on the other side, kerplunk.

"Crazy, man," shout his friends. "You're the most."

"Oh, well, fellows," George answers modestly. "You've got to remember that a dollar goes a lot farther today than it will 175 years from now."

The Power Of Prayer To Heal Fear

My friend and associate, John L. Sherrill, one of the editors of Guideposts magazine, is a man in his early thirties. One September morning, his children had gone to school as usual and he was in his office at home working on an article on "Why Men Pray."

Then the telephone rang. It was his doctor, who insisted that John and his wife come to his office at once. John, puzzled, agreed. His one visit to the doctor in two years had been only a few days before to have a small mole removed from his ear.

The Sherrills went to the doctor's office that morning. It was evident the physician had a serious message to convey. With obvious difficulty he put forth this startling question: "How can I tell a young husband and father that in all probability he's going to die?"

Then he explained the tragic news that John's mole had turned out to be malignant melanoma, a particularly dangerous cancer. Without an operation, there was only one chance in nine that he could live out the year. With an operation, there was one chance in three.

The couple sat speechless, while the doctor said he wanted John to go to three different hospitals for tests to confirm his own diagnosis. John did; and each time the report was the same.

After the last report, he and his wife went home, shut themselves into a room, looked at each other and burst into tears. He began to feel the full impact of black, abysmal depression and awful fear. This fear even woke him up at night. He and his wife began to make preparations; they discussed insurance and he wrote a will.

Bad news of this kind is hard to keep secret. People heard about John and began to pray for him. My own congregation, for example, did so on several successive Sundays. And soon John became aware that everywhere people were praying for him. As John described it, he felt "engulfed in a tremendous wave of prayer." He, too, prayed, but not so much for himself as for others. And then, suddenly, just the night before his operation, he realized a wonderful thing had happened: he was free of the fear that had gripped him.

In the hospital he had the impression of being surrounded by prayer, immersed in it. "They wheeled me into the operating room," he said. "It was as if I and the white masked nurses and the doctors were in the center of a force that dispelled fear. The closest I can describe it is to say that I felt as though I were deeply and personally loved. And that, of course, must be a perfect condition for healing."

It took a week before the doctors were able to give him the good news that the operation had been successful and that there was no evidence of residual melanoma. No one knows enough about cancer yet to be sure that it will not come back. But two years have passed since then and John Sherrill remains in good health—bodily health and spiritual health. And he has good mental health, too, for his thinking is straight and sound.

"Before the operation," he wrote me shortly afterwards, "I lived as I think most of us do, in a kind of twilight fear of cancer. Then, when I learned I did have cancer, this vague fear blossomed into a monster. The fear had the power to destroy just as surely as the melanoma. But after the experience in the hospital I feel there has been another cure."

"With as much honesty as I can possibly muster," he concludes, "I must say that I personally have experienced the power of prayer to heal the most devastating disease of all—the power of prayer to heal fear."

Unemployment Counteracts Inflation

WASHINGTON — A long, hard look at the estimates on unemployment and prices for the months ahead takes most of the steam out of President Eisenhower's repeated warnings and the perils of inflation.

What this means for 1960 and the party in power requires no crystal gazing. With party allegiance more and more tenuous, recent trends show that the bread-and-butter issue swings an increasingly big bloc of voters. This is true particularly where no glamorous figure such as President Eisenhower overshadows the party.

Those who look objectively at current trends estimate that unemployment will average 4.250,000 a month throughout 1959. It will be considerably higher than that in June and July when high school and college graduates and summer workers are looking for jobs. The total may drop to 3,000,000 or even 2,900,000 in October with a seasonal low for the year.

But even if it is below the three-million mark in the fall it is virtually certain to go above four million in January of 1960. That estimate is based in part on the fact that while in certain major industries—automobiles and steel, for example—production has gone back to something like the pre-recession levels, unemployment continues. Partly this is automation and partly it is because with wages remaining high industry strives in every way to cut labor costs.

On prices, the likelihood, barring some unforeseen development such as a prolonged Florida freeze, is that they will hold steady or even dip in the next 12 months. The last cost-of-living index was 123.7. A drop in hog and perhaps also cattle prices in the fall could lower it a point or so.

These estimates are not on wishful guesses but the result of the careful consideration of all the factors involved. Who does this leave the President's repeated cry of inflation and its perils?

The answer of those in the government who look at the facts is that this danger may be real 18 months from now. But since most people never look that far ahead they are likely to greet with skepticism, if not scorn, the alarm, bell rung when unemployment is about six per cent of the labor force and prices are dropping.

When the President talks about inflation, it is fairly clear, he is concerned over the government's money problem—how to refloat big government bond issues when interest rates are rising and the big money is going into the stock market. This problem seems for the moment to have little immediate relation to the condition of the economy.

It is related to the inflation in the stock market and for those with somewhat longer memories it has a connection with the $7.4 billion tax cut put through by the Republican Congress in 1954. With that revenue available over the intervening years there would be no deficit today. The same Congress approved an accelerated depreciation allowance that, according to the House Ways and Means Committee study, will save business $19 billion in taxes over a period of about 15 years.

The latter gave a big boost to investment in industrial plants, helping to create the boom of 1955 and after. But this water over the fiscal dam does not concern the Administration so much as certain painful choices just ahead.

On March 21 the temporary unemployment compensation law, making it possible to supplement state unemployment benefits, expires. Of this law 975,000 have exhausted their benefits, and 230,000 are still receiving the Federal supplement. The President at his press conference indicated he was opposed to continuing the program.

But to let the law expire with the latest official total of unemployment 4,720,000 is to court a large political risk. On the other hand, to recommend its renewal is to breach the dike on which the President has put so much stress. With inflation in the economy all but invisible at the moment this is only one of a number of ticklish decisions the Administration must make.

No Missile Defenses In Canal Zone

PANAMA (AP)—The Panama Canal, once ringed by the most modern of weapons, has no missile defenses today.

Moreover, there seems little air of urgency in establishing missile defenses for the United States Canal Zone—in an era when rocket weapons are becoming of major importance.

Why is the primary defense of the Canal Zone still based on anti-aircraft guns not much different from those of World War II?

It doesn't necessarily mean that the joint chiefs of staff in Washington question the value of missiles.

Military commanders stationed here or visiting the area for recently concluded exercises point to some of the factors back of the policy. And there are other obvious ones which they do not mention.

SEIZURE

1. The assumption is that an enemy would aim at seizure rather than destruction of the canal.

For a conquering nation it would have high economic value. Its military value to the United States is lessened in these days by the fact that the U.S. Navy now is a two ocean fleet. Destruction of the canal would be more probable through sabotage of dams and locks than through air or missile attack.

2. The canal, at this time, is well removed from the area of Soviet threat. Lt. Gen. Ridgely Gaither, chief of the combined Army-Navy-Air Command for the Caribbean, said Saturday: "My command is not belted up against any Communist or satellite country; we are in the midst of friendly countries."

3. Because defensive tactics apparently might be needed more against attempted seizure of the canal than its attempted destruction by overt attack, the need is for ground, air and sea forces to repel invaders.

The resident garrison of the Canal Zone, about 3,000 troops, is smaller now than in any year since World War II. The big coastal guns of other wars are gone. In their place are 90 and 120 millimeter anti-aircraft guns. They are good against slow-moving propeller-driven aircraft, but of doubtful value against jets.

How would the Caribbean command repel an attempt to capture the Canal Zone?

TEST

During the past week the military has tested out, again, its plan. In Exercise Banyan Tree, two organizations for coping with small wars and similar aggressive efforts were used—the Army's Strategic Army Command (STRAC) and the Air Force's composite strike force.

Seven hours after taking off in big C130 Turboprop transports from a base in the United States, 1,300 paratroopers parachuted into mock battle in the light jungle 70 miles north of the Canal Zone.

Flying with them was an Air Force composite strike force of light jet bombers and fighters.

The bombers are able to carry tactical size atomic weapons. Tanker planes refueled the jets in flight, extending their range to match the 2,000 miles flown by the big transports.

It could be asked: Exercise Banyan Tree demonstrated the capability to put a battle group of 1,300 men into the canal area, but what about putting in a bigger force, say an airborne division of 12,000 men?

TROOP MOVEMENT

Maj. Gen. Robert Sink, commander of STRAC forces, thinks that, as an example, the 82nd Airborne Division (of which the battle group now here is a unit) might be moved to Panama from its Ft. Bragg, N.C., station in four or five hours more than the time required for bringing down just the battle group.

But there are some reservations. The 21 planes which brought the 1,300 paratroopers to the jump zone at Rio Hato obviously couldn't tote a whole division. Sink's estimate is based on the idea of using about 700 four-engine, long range planes to airlift a division of troops.

The Air Force's Tactical Air Command doesn't have that many planes ready at all times for immediate use. But by diverting big transports from other services and borrowing from other Air Force units it might be possible to muster that total.

However, even the Panama Canal Zone doesn't have landing areas for 700 large planes in a single mass movement. Instead, the troop transports would arrive in spaced-out units.

The Canal Zone is fortunate in its facilities for receiving planes, ships and troops. There are two large air bases and several smaller ones. The big ones are used now. The smaller ones, built in World War II, are kept in shape by housekeeping units and are used from time to time in training operations. They could be put to immediate use.

City Delegation Slates Talks In Austin Monday

Three of the five city commissioners plan to be in Austin Monday to discuss water rates for the State Hospital with the hospital's governing board.

The city asked for and got an audience with the Board on State Schools and Hospitals for 2:30 p.m. Monday.

Commissioners John Taylor, George Zachariah, and Ward Hall were planning to attend, along with A. K. Steinheimer, city manager, and Wayne Basden, city attorney.

The city, since the contract was drawn up at the time the hospital was located here, has sold water for 10 cents per 1,000 gallons. And at the present, the city has to pay well over 30 cents per 1,000 for treated water.

This loss has been in the neighborhood of $750 per month, and the city feels that the State Hospital should pay a price in line with the city's costs.

The city has been corresponding with the state agency for about a year asking for consideration on the matter, but the correspondence has not achieved anything. As a result, the personal audience with the state group was requested.

The city officials also will attend House of Representatives committee hearings Monday on three bills affecting municipal affairs. One of the measures would set wage and hour limits for firemen and policemen. Another proposes to restrict the annexation powers of cities. The third would repeal existing laws regulating hours and pay of firemen.

Joining the city officers in Austin Tuesday for the "legislative breakfast" sponsored by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce will be Leroy Tidwell, Roy Reeder and H. W. Smith of Big Spring.

Boys Who Attained Highest Ranks In Scouting Honored

Recognition was given here Friday evening to young men who have attained Scouting's pinnacles.

Approximately 175 boys and parents, along with Scout and Explorer leaders, from the Buffalo Trail Council, were on hand for the annual banquet honoring boys who had become Eagle Scouts or won the Explorer Silver Award during the past year.

Because of their achievements, said Dan M. Krause, a Cosden senior vice president, they have become leaders and they hold the responsibility of leadership.

Today's frontiers are in the realms of ideas rather than geography, and there are no limitations of the mind. Krause reminded his young listeners that they have an obligation also to keep their bodies strong. It is an indictment against the country that two-thirds of the young men nominated for West Point have been rejected because of physical shortcomings.

Clint Lackey, Odessa, assistant council advancement chairman, presented Eagle neckerchiefs and Silver award to the classes. During the past year 53 boys received their Eagles and 35 boys the Silver award. P. V. Thorson, Midland, council chairman, spoke briefly and W. C. Blankenship, council advancement chairman, presided.

Music was furnished by a group of high school girls under direction of Bill Dawes. Included were DeLores Howard, Jan Kendrick, Linda Colvard, Jane McElreath, Kay Coleman, Mary Oliphant and Jo Nita Evans. Mrs. Jack Alexander handled the arrangements for the dinner affair held in the Goliad Junior High Cafeteria.

Man Unconscious For Week Shows Signs Of Recovery

Walter Gatlin, 62, badly beaten in a fight on the evening of Feb. 14, continues unconscious at the Big Spring Hospital. Dr. Fabian Gomez, his physician, said Saturday.

Gatlin has been unconscious for over 170 hours. Dr. Gomez said there are faint indications the elderly yardman may be making some slight recovery. He moves his arms and legs and coughs—actions which he did not do for several days after being admitted to the hospital.

A severe concussion is blamed for his condition. He has no broken bones.

He was found sprawled on the ground in the front of his small house on W. 2nd Street at 7:30 p.m. on Feb. 14.

Police said he had been subjected to a brutal beating. His face was lacerated and swollen.

Two men were arrested that night and later have been charged with assault with intent to commit murder in connection with the attack on Gatlin.

One, James P. Tindal, 29, is still in the Howard County Jail. His brother, John A. Tindal, 23, has been released from custody on $5,000 bail.

Light Penalty For Ex-Marshall In Bank Holdup

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—A former town marshal who went to church regularly was sent to prison Friday for three years for a bank holdup.

"All I can say is that I am deeply ashamed," said Henry R. Persinger, 37.

"I'll probably be criticized for it," said U. S. Dist. Judge William E. Steckler as he gave Persinger the light sentence.

It was the lightest bank robbery sentence in the history of the local federal court. Fifteen friends appeared to ask leniency for Persinger, father of three who has been in financial trouble since a leg became crippled in an accident. He will be eligible for parole in a year.

Persinger formerly was marshal at Jamestown, northwest of Indianapolis. He admitted robbing the Ladoga State Bank at Ladoga, 12 miles from Jamestown, last Dec. 29.

Officials said Persinger was so well regarded in his hometown he might have been overlooked as a suspect had not a bank teller recognized him.

Persinger was working on a farm.

Beck Free On Bond While Awaiting Tax Sentence

TACOMA, Wash. (AP)—Former Teamsters Union President Dave Beck Sr., who will appear for sentencing as an income tax evader next Friday, left City Jail here Friday.

Released on $25,000 appeal bond, Beck returned to Seattle where he has a luxurious home on the shores of Lake Washington. He was untried by 20 hours in jail.

Beck, 64, often described during his trial as a millionaire, was convicted of evading $40,607 in income taxes for the years 1950-53.

Beck estimated earlier the trial would cost him about $250,000 for lawyers and accountants. He said he had sent out letters appealing for financial aid because he didn't want to liquidate assets, but insisted he is far from broke.

His attorneys said the conviction would be appealed "all the way."

Parsons To Speak At School Study Council Conference

Floyd Parsons, superintendent of Big Spring schools, and Ormer Douglas, Brownfield superintendent, will describe their schools' programs for "gifted students" at a meeting of the West Texas School Study Council in Lubbock Wednesday.

Dr. Louis Armstrong, director of the Indian Springs School in Helena, Ala., will be featured speaker at the gatherings. He will outline the Indian Springs system for talented pupils.

Other speakers will be Dr. E. N. Jones, Texas Tech president; and Dr. G. E. Giesecke, Tech academic vice president. Several panel discussions will be held.

Dr. Morris Wallace, head of Tech's department of education, will lead a conference evaluation at 3 p.m. preceding a brief business meeting which will conclude the conference.

Area school systems belonging to the West Texas School Study Council are Andrews, Big Spring, Brownfield, Denver City, Hale Center, Hereford, Kermit, Lamesa, Levelland, Littlefield, Monahans, Morton, Plainview, Seminole and Slaton.

These schools will be represented at the meeting by superintendents, principals, curriculum and guidance personnel, teachers and board members.

Bishop Honored At Laredo Celebration

LAREDO (AP)—Roman Catholic Bishop Mariano S. Garriga of Corpus Christi was honored Saturday as "Mr. South Texas of 1959."

The presentation was made at a luncheon attended by Gov. Price Daniel and other U. S. and Mexican dignitaries.

The luncheon highlighted the third day of the four-day Washington Birthday celebration.

Drizzling rain in weather generally around 40 degrees caused officials of the celebration to postpone until 11 a.m. tomorrow the downtown parade. The ceremony at the International Bridge also was postponed until 9 a.m. tomorrow.

Canvass Set Today For Heart Funds

With the appeal to "give for every heart in your family," scores of volunteers will knock on doors this afternoon as the climax to Heart Sunday.

Out of this effort, chapter officials hope to raise enough funds for local requirements and contribute to state and national research into heart disease.

"Please answer the knock or the ring of your doorbell this afternoon and give as generously as you can," said Mrs. Larson Lloyd, general drive chairman.

Teams under the direction of Mrs. W. N. Norred, Mrs. John Balch, Mrs. Truman Jones, Mrs. R. E. McKinney, Mrs. Frank Sabato and Mrs. A. K. Turner Jr. will make contacts between 1:30 p.m. and 3:30 p.m., said Mrs. Zolie Boykin, Heart Sunday chairman.

Similarly, a score of volunteers at Coahoma will meet with Ralph White, community chairman there, at the Hiway Cafe and go out from there to canvass Coahoma.

The Security State Bank will be open before the completion hour to receive the funds collected. Six tellers from the three local banks will tabulate results.

Mayor G. W. Dabney previously had proclaimed this Heart Sunday and urged residents to invest in the Heart Fund as a means of curbing the nation's No. 1 killer.

Sixty per cent of all contributions go to the Howard County chapter, and the remaining 40 per cent is divided between state and national, mostly for research. A good part of local funds also are applied in this direction. Last year the chapter contributed a lung-heart machine to the University of Texas heart center in Galveston and gave $500 to research. Funds are available to aid indigent patients and a member of the family to get to a heart center.

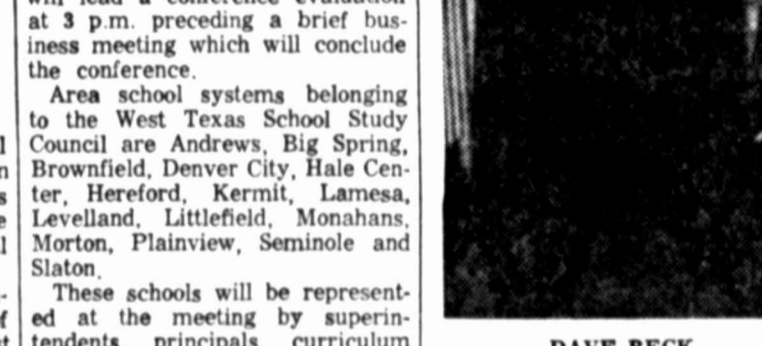

During the four years of World War II 292,000 American lives were lost, while in the same four years 2,317,000 Americans died of heart trouble. The last complete year of reporting showed 87,000 victims of heart attack in the country, more than twice as many as the second nearest killer disease, cancer.

Thanks to coordinated and stepped up research, progress is being made, said Mrs. Lloyd. Rheumatic fever can now be controlled or prevented by prompt treatment; bacterial infections of the heart lining, once 100 per cent fatal, are now controlled; surgery on heart tissue is being done successfully; heart catheters explore the inner chambers of hearts for better diagnosis; high blood pressure can be controlled in many cases. Gifts today will help step up this frontal attack on heart attacks, said Mrs. Lloyd.

Guard Registers Superior Rating

AUSTIN (AP)—The National Guard's 36th Infantry Division said Saturday a record 36 units had attained highest possible ratings on the 4th Army's general inspections this year.

Maj. Gen. Carl Phinney, commander, said the total number of superior ratings surpassed last year's previous high of 32 top ratings.

Mrs. Nettie Proctor, 79, Carlsbad, N. M., is a patient in Cowper Hospital as result of a two-car accident five miles east of Big Spring on the U. S. 80 service road.

Highway patrol officers said that she was in a car driven by Robert F. Glazner, Carlsbad, N. M., which was involved in a collision with another driven by Johnny Thomas Fonville, Big Spring.

Both cars were extensively damaged.

The accident occurred around 4 p.m. Friday. Nalley-Pickle ambulance was summoned to the scene to bring Mrs. Proctor to the hospital. Her condition is said to be satisfactory.

Men's Organizations Fill Vital Role In Churches

By BOBBY HORTON
There are those who say that the most pinching poverty felt by most churches today is on the point of fellowship.

Ask ministers of Big Spring churches and you'll find that most disagree.

Harmony and togetherness of men in the church is basic and an inseparable segment of religious life. How men are unified as a nation under crisis may very well depend on how well those men can function and work together on the local church level.

Thus, fellowship organizations for men are vital to the life of the church and perhaps to the support of governments.

A typical report shows Big Spring has no large problem: "Best ever..." says Dr. P. D. O'Brien of the First Baptist Church here, commenting on fellowship among the males in that church.

O'Brien said that to the contrary of reports from some authorities there is no lack of participation in the men's activities; rather, the picture is one of increase.

The First Baptist Brotherhood meets once monthly and among its functions, it promotes visitations throughout the year, has an ushering committee for the church worship, promotes projects, and has a program and activities committee.

No recreational program is available, however, because of the lack of facilities, but a regular dinner meeting supplies the fellowship, foremost duty of the Brotherhood.

Another local minister gave his view: "I don't think fellowship has decreased; we do as much as ever," declares the Rev. Clyde Nichols of the First Christian Church.

The Christian Men's Fellowship in that church meets once monthly for local fellowship and once each quarter with the district churches. A prayer breakfast is held weekly, and as much recreation as possible is furnished.

Rev. V. Ward Jackson, one year from his last charge in Hugoton, Kansas, is less optimistic. In his opinion, fellowship has slackened.

"Either that or I have failed in my promotional part..." but we are just now beginning to work toward a strong fellowship," says Rev. Jackson.

Jackson, a native of Hickman, Ky., realizes the importance of fellowship because it provides a definite common goal for the men. The Men's Brotherhood of his First Church of God undertakes projects, such as backing Boy Scout movements, and meets monthly.

"As for our church," responds Dr. R. Gage Lloyd of the Presbyterian Church, "we are stronger than ever."

The men's Sunday School is exceedingly large, says Dr. Lloyd, and the Men of the Church meet

Guest Speaker

Dr. Paul Campbell, Ft. Worth, long active in Knights of Pythias lodge, will be guest speaker at the K-P meeting Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. in the Legion Hall. Dr. Campbell is former director of the extension department for the Grand Lodge of Texas and held the same title for the Supreme lodge in the United States and Canada. James Vines, chancellor commander, urged all members to attend.

once monthly for dinner, the primary objective being fellowship. Also, many projects, such as construction or evangelism, are undertaken by the organization.

Lloyd sums it up thusly: "The strength of the church depends upon men's activities... because the church is run by men."

Rev. Fr. Francis Beazley of St. Thomas Catholic Church reports that the Knights of Columbus, the fellowship organization of men within that church, has "adequate" participation.

Does he think fellowship plays an important role? "I think it is second to church work," he says, "but it helps men get along and know one another."

Dr. Jordan Grooms of the First Methodist Church on whether men's fellowship is slackening: "I don't think it has; in fact, we (our church) have had an increase."

The First Methodist Church has no regular monthly meeting, but aims for a more outstanding dinner program on a quarterly basis. Also, during the year a Holy Week, when men meet for breakfast communion, helps to strengthen the Methodist Men.

A strong Bible Class and a coffee before Sunday School is supplementary.

Dr. Grooms feels that fellowship "creates manpower for the church work and exposes the work to the men." Most groups have projects which they alone support; one project of the Methodist Men is a Latin-American mission in north Big Spring.

Rev. Wayne Dittloff, who recently left Big Spring for another charge, believes too much secular competition has weakened fellowships, although participation has increased. Because of acquaintances, Christian recreation, men participating "grow spiritually."

Too, it is very educational, he says.

The Lutheran Laymen's League has no actual ties with the church, but it functions within and for the church, promoting such movements as foreign missions.

Ike Makes Call On Secy. Dulles

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower today paid his first sick call on Secretary of State Dulles at Walter Reed Army Hospital.

Eisenhower went to the hospital about three hours after returning from a two-day visit with Mexican President Adolfo Lopez Mateos. He spent about 20 minutes with Dulles and returned to the White House shortly after noon.

Dulles, who has been hospitalized for a little over a week, is undergoing treatment for cancer and is recuperating from a hernia operation.

12 Children Perish In Three Fires

By The Associated Press
Twelve children perished today in three separate fires on the Eastern Seaboard.

Daniel Lauds Plan For Dam

LAREDO (AP)—Gov. Price Daniel sent telegrams Saturday to Presidents Eisenhower and Lopez Mateos of Mexico praising the agreement to build Diablo Dam on the Rio Grande.

Daniel told the two presidents that "The hearts of all in attendance at the 62nd annual George Washington's birthday celebration in Laredo are warmed by the Acapulco decision to build Diablo Dam."

"I suggest that the name should be changed from Diablo to Dos Amigos (Two Friends) so that its name and its construction will be a monument to the friendship between the two countries."

Diablo Dam would be a name after the Devil's River which converges with the Rio Grande near the dam's location.

The governor said this change would be in line with Eisenhower's statement "that the Rio Grande should stand as a tie of friendship between the United States and Mexico rather than a barrier."

of her youngsters. The father was away at the time. The victims were under 10 years old.

Four children—12 years old or younger—perished and another was critically burned when fire roared through the second floor of a three-story tenement in the Roxbury district of Boston.

The children's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Orlando Watkins, escaped serious injury when they dashed to the street for help, police said. Cause of the fire was undetermined.

Victims of the Boston and Crisfield blazes were Negroes.

In Hanson, Mass., three children were killed and five others hospitalized when fire destroyed their seven-room home. The father, Raymond Sullivan, escaped injury and one daughter was treated at the scene. The dead were 3, 5 and 9 years old.

Propose Changes In Liquor Laws

AUSTIN (AP)—Major changes in state liquor laws and the state's higher education system will be proposed this week before legislative committees.

The House Liquor Regulation Committee has slated a Thursday afternoon airing for bills which would prohibit beer sales on Sunday and after 10 p.m. on weekdays, end the state tax exemption for beer sold on military posts, prohibit liquor sales on Christmas Day, and establish minimum liquor prices and limits for new licenses.

Proposals to make four-year colleges of Arlington State at Arlington and Tarleton State at Stephenville will be heard by the Senate State Affairs Committee Monday afternoon.

The House State Affairs Committee meets Wednesday night to consider plans to put University of Texas medical branches at Austin and San Antonio.

Bulldogs Feared By Hawks, 54-52

Outshot from the field, the Howard County Junior College resorted to free throws to topple the Clarendon Bulldogs, 54-52, in a West Zone basketball cliff-hanger here Saturday night.

The loss meant little outside of a drop in prestige to the Clarendon club, which had already clinched first place in the race. It meant a whole lot to the Hawks, however, who fanned the dying flame of hope for a second place finish in the race.

By beating Odessa here Tuesday night, and that will be another big hurdle, the Big Springers can wind up with an 8-4 zone record and force a playoff for the runnerup spot with Frank Phillips of Berger.

Phillips still has weak Lubbock Christian College to play but no one gives the Pioneers a chance against the Plainsmen, especially since the game is in Berger.

The first and second place teams in each zone (there are four in the Texas Junior College Conference) become eligible to play in the State Meet.

The Bulldogs, a great defensive club, were down 14 points at the half and behind by 16 early in the third quarter but they fought back to take the lead with a little less than two minutes to play at 50-49 when eagle-eye Jack Buttram hit from just behind the keyhole. It was the only time the Bulldogs led during evening but they had staged such a tremendous comeback they seemed on their way to victory.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Harold Davis, the HCJC cage mentor, says he is convinced the basketball rules committee would adopt a 20 or 25 second rule in the game right now were it not for the prohibitive cost of timing devices. Such instruments would probably cost between $500 and $600 and some of the schools can't afford them. A 20 or 25-second rule in basketball, wherein the offending team has to take a shot within that time after gaining possession of the ball, would be the most popular innovation ever to hit the collegiate and high school game. Midland had no fewer than 128 players out for its spring football drills. Spring workouts for Class AAAA stand a good chance of being voted out when school superintendents vote on the matter in a few weeks.

When John Conley, the Snyder coach, vetoed a suggestion that he move to Midland as head coach, he remarked "What they want over there is a Physical Education director, not a coach."

Bobby Grace, who I thought was the best basketball player Plainview High School had last year, quit at Texas A&M at midterm to enroll at West Texas State.

Frank Long, the former quarterbacking great of the Big Spring High School football team, wants to work with the Teen-Age baseball program here this year. Incidentally, only one Teen-Age circuit, embracing the 13-14-15 year brackets, will probably be organized here this year.

The older boys can concentrate on seeking jobs with the American Legion Junior baseball team. The Kentucky Derby is still over a month away but there's already more than $600,000 in the Churchill Downs till in ticket reservations for the big event.

A total of 240 writers from throughout the country covered the Run For The Roses at Lexington in 1958.

John Tindle, the former HCJC athlete, has seen a lot of action as a cager at Pepperdine College in California this year. Tindle was a scholastic casualty here last year.

Harvesters Could Have Been Penalized

Had some of the District 2-AAAA coaches decided to get tough about the matter, Pampa would have been sitting on the sidelines in this year's basketball playoffs, rather than getting ready to meet Wichita Falls in the first round.

Pampa reportedly was caught sermioning one of the area's junior college teams before it was legal under existing Texas Interscholastic League rules, yet nothing was done about it.

Why have such statistics on the books, if no one takes the trouble to enforce them? Midland High School is losing its trainer, Bo Midkiff, who leaves March 1 to accept a job with a Carlsbad, N. M., pharmaceutical firm.

Odessa's Periman's new football coach, says District 2-AAAA's freshman school team will lean on speed and be a "passing type" team in 1959.

Centers are not represented in the present coaching setup on the National Football League and the only exception in the group is Buck Shaw of the Philadelphia Eagles.

More former ends are now coaching NFL clubs than those active at any other position - six in all.

Paul Brown of the Cleveland Browns was the only one who played quarterback.

When John Bridgers quit the Baltimore Colts to take the coaching job at Baylor, he was replaced by John Sandusky, one-time Green Bay Packers tackle.

Sandusky has been serving as line coach at Villanova.

The state high school basketball tournament will be held in Austin June 24.

Only Class AAAA, and AAA determine state titlists.

Putt Powell, the Amarillo writer, says Tascosa is almost sure to be the power in Amarillo High School football circles this fall.

Powell also reveals that all three of Amarillo's high schools are sending track teams to the ABC Relays here.

Sweetwater's Mustangs will open their 1959 football season with the Breckenridge game on Sept. 11.

The Ponies also play practice tilts with Abilene, Stamford, Big Spring, Graham and Littlefield.

State Champs Lost To BS In 1933

The most recent edition of the Interscholastic Leaguer, published by the Bureau of Public School Service in Austin, devotes part of its space to the 1933 Athens High School team, which won the fourth of five state basketball champions garnered by the school.

The Hornets that year were also regarded as national champions.

Big Spring qualified for the state tournament that year but didn't proceed very far.

Tournament jitters were largely to blame for the Longhorns' early demise.

The Big Spring club did have a claim to fame that year, however.

The Steers were one of the three high school teams able to defeat the Athens club.

The win occurred in the local gym.

The 1933 Athens club will be the "honorary" team in the 39th annual state tournament in Austin next month.

San Angelo's Bobcats lose five of their first six basketball scores via graduation this spring.

Coach Bill Humphrey is expecting an improvement in Cat fortunes in 1959-60.

Only David Warner returns from this year's team.

Humphrey should field his best team two years hence.

Wally Moon, the outfielder who was traded to Los Angeles by the St. Louis Cardinals, moved his permanent home to Bryan, Texas, recently.

He has an interest in an insurance company there.

He also plans to operate a shooting preserve and raise cattle.

Johnny Morris, the University of Houston track coach who brings his team here March 28 to compete in the ABC Relays, expects to have a sprint relay combination that can hit 40.5 and a half-mile relay capable of 1:22.5.

A sports wag suggests that if the basketball rules makers won't go along with the proposal to raise the height of the baskets (to help the small player), they could at least lower the floor.

Jackie Copeland, the Odessa High School trainer, is given much of the credit for getting the Ohio State University track team to compete in the West Texas Relays and the ABC meet here.

Copeland formerly worked at OSU.

Kentucky Rips Auburn, 75-56

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) - Kentucky, the nation's No. 3 team, shattered second-ranked Auburn's 30-game winning streak with a balanced attack and defensive pressure Saturday night 75-56 in a prestige-packed Southeastern Conference basketball game.

A hot-shooting first half wrapped up the decision for the Kentucky Wildcats that snapped Auburn's winning streak—the nation's longest.

Kentucky raced to a 46-26 lead at halftime and was content to play it cautious the final half, staying in front by 16 to 19 points all period.

Johnny Cox and Billy Ray Licker each tallied 18 points, Bennie Coffman added 16 and Dickie Parsons added 14 in the well-balanced Wildcat attack.

For Auburn, Jimmy Lee and Henry Hart had 12 apiece.

Johnny Valentine was Levelland's top point producer, with 19 points.

Overall, Odessa is 14-10 for the season. The Wranglers close out against HCJC in Big Spring Tuesday night.

Steerettes Annex Denver City Title

DENVER CITY - Big Spring's Steerettes capped Denver City's first invitational volleyball tournament here Saturday night, edging Imperial 14-11.

Peggy Isaacks was picked on the all-tournament team and sophomore Elena Patterson was named to the second all-tourney squad. Marjorie Roberts was high point server for the two-day meet. Other starters for the Steerettes were Mary Jane Weaver, June Ann Johnston and Helen Boyd.

Big Spring clipped Snyder handily Friday despite a relatively close first half that saw the Steerettes ahead only 15-11 at intermission. However, they were going away, 34-17. Coach Bernice Waggoner used 10 players.

Crane, which ended in third place, proved a real toughie for Big Spring in the semi-final. The two teams were tied 10 times, including 9-9 at the half.

Shortly after the intermission Crane jumped to a 13-10 lead, but with seven minutes left Big Spring was back ahead and let Crane have only three points during the last 10 minutes. Final score was Big Spring 20-16.

Imperial spurred ahead 4-0 in the final game, but the Steerettes knotted it at 4-4, and it was 7-7 at the half. Imperial forged out in front 10-6, but with seven minutes left Big Spring went ahead and didn't let Imperial score again until just before the end of the game.

AUSTIN (AP) - Texas Christian defeated Texas University, 72-59, to clinch championship honors in the Southwest Conference basketball race here Saturday night. The win insured the Frogs a berth in the NCAA playoffs.

LUBBOCK (AP) - Texas Tech defeated Southern Methodist, 72-64, for the first time since joining the Southwest Conference here Saturday night.

The defeat knocked the Mustangs from contention in the conference race.

Teen-Age Loop Parley Is Set

First efforts to overhaul the Teen-Age baseball program here will be made at a meeting of all interested parties, to be held in the court room of the Police Building at 7:30 p.m. Monday.

Many things remain to be done, if the program is to get off the ground this year.

For one thing, a new playing area will probably have to be found. Indications are the present park, located on North 12th Street, will have to be torn down.

The Teen-Age people would like to build on city-owned property, if possible. Anyone knowing of a likely spot for the park should contact Tom Conway, Tom Farquhar, Foy Dunlap, Doyle Thomas or any other member of the committee, however.

The Teen-Age season will probably get under way sometime in May.

Last year, two leagues were organized but indications are the age groups will be consolidated to some extent.

FIVE-UNDER-PAR 65 GIVES JACOBS LEAD

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) - Tommy Jacobs, a sophomore on the pro golf tour, shot a 5-under-par 65 Saturday to take the lead at 54 holes in the $20,000 Texas Open Golf Tournament.

The 24-year-old from Whittier, Calif., was six strokes behind with 142 starting the third round. But his 65 Saturday, fashioned with some fine putting, gave him the low round of the day and a one-stroke lead with a score of 207.

Bill Johnston of Provo, Utah, the defending champion, moved into second place with a 70 to make his total 208.

Joe Jimenez of Manhattan, Kan., the leader at 36 holes with 136, shot a 76 to make his total 212.

Despite a driving rain and 40-degree temperatures 19 players bettered par over the 6,490-yard Brackenridge Park course.

THOMAS BREAKS JUMPING MARK

NEW YORK (AP)—John Thomas, a 17-year-old Boston University freshman, got off a 7-foot, 13.4-inch high jump—better than any human being in history—and Ron Delany shattered the world indoor mile mark in a wholesale assault on world records Saturday night in the National AAU Track and Field Championships.

NEW YORK (AP)—Ron Delany led a wholesale assault on world indoor records when he shattered his own one-mile mark with a splendid clocking of 4:02.5 Saturday night in the National AAU

Track and Field Championships. Besides Delany, the following records were set in the star-studded meet:

1. Lt. Bill Dellinger of the U.S. Air Force smashed the 3-mile mark with a time of 13:37.

2. Harry O'Brien, the Los Angeles banker, got off a tremendous heave of 62.1% to break his own world indoor standard in the shot put.

3. Bob Backus of the New York A.C. flipped the 35-pound weight for 66 feet 2.4 inches, breaking his own world mark of 65.4.

EVEN FRONT RUNNERS HAVE THEIR WOES

By JOE REICHLER
ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)—Will the salary squabble between the New York players and front office and the disciplinary darts hurled by Manager Casey Stengel affect the Yankees' chances for a fifth straight American league pennant?

Will this be the year of decline for such great but aging stars as Ted Williams, Stan Musial and Warren Spahn?

Will the Milwaukee Braves find a second base replacement for tuberculosis-ridden Red Schoendienst?

Can the new managers be expected to be more successful than the old ones?

Will there be a pennant race in either league?

These and other questions stood out boldly on the baseball horizon Saturday as the 16 major league teams began to assemble their hired hands for the serious business of preparing for the 1959 season.

As in the past year, a dozen clubs are basing in Florida. The others—Cleveland, Boston, San Francisco and the Chicago Cubs—are training in Arizona. A majority of the clubs already have gotten under way. By the end of the week, all will be in action.

To the surprise of no one, the defending champion Yankees and Braves have been installed as odds-on favorites to repeat.

The Cleveland Indians and Detroit Tigers are regarded as the most improved clubs in the American League. The Yankees, still the class of the rest of the league, are strong everywhere except in left field and perhaps in the bullpen.

Detroit has strengthened its pitching, but still needs more punch in the infield and behind the plate. Cleveland has acquired speed and hustle in Jimmy Piersall and Billy Martin and has Herb Score to go with sophomore hurlers Jim Grant and Gary Bell.

The White Sox, still lacking punch, have the pitching but the burden may again be too great to carry. Al Lopez must get good years out of veterans Nellie Fox, Al Smith, and Sherm Lollar, as well as youngsters Luis Aparicio, Jim Landis and Johnny Callison.

Boston finally has done some trading but pitching remains its biggest weakness. The team still figures to be tough as long as Ted Williams is around and able to swing a bat.

The talk around National League camps is "watch out for the Giants." The young upstarts of 1958 are more experienced and have more belief in themselves.

If the 38-year-old Spahn holds up, the Braves' pitching may be even more formidable than it was in 1958.

The seventh-place Los Angeles Dodgers figure to be better but they still need a seasoned catcher, a solid shortstop and third baseman and another outfielder. Pittsburgh came out of nowhere to finish second last year but the Pirates rid themselves of their biggest hitter and run-producer in trading Frank Thomas to Cincinnati. The Pirates are depending too much on the inexperienced Dick Stuart.

Thomas undoubtedly figures to help Cincinnati and could form a murderous one-two punch with Frank Robinson. Mayo Smith however, needs more pitching.

Solly Hemus, the new manager at St. Louis, has a big job on his hands. The Cardinals need more long ball hitting, a better all-around defense, a shortstop with more punch, and a dependable southpaw.

None of the other clubs—Kansas City, Baltimore and Washington in the American League, and Philadelphia and Chicago in the National—has much of a chance to emerge from the second division.

Airport Triumphs Over College Hts.

In Gra-Y Basketball League competition Saturday, Airport won over College Heights, 97-7, while Lakeview accepted a forfeit from Washington No. 2.

Dough McMeans led the Airport team in scoring with five points, the same number garnered by Curtis Sanders of College Heights.

Bass Fishermen Enjoying Luck At Falcon Lake

By EARL GOLDING
Written for The Associated Press
LAREDO (AP)—Probably the hottest spot in Texas for bass fishermen right now is Falcon Lake, a sprawling giant on the border which almost leaves the sportsmen breathless.

When the lake was proposed, biologists pointed out the possibilities of this newcomer, saying that someday it would just possibly be one of the best big-bass producers in the country, Florida included.

The reason, they said, is that Falcon's waters would be warm almost the year around. This would keep the fish feeding, and since a bass grows as long as it lives, Falcon would be a place to watch if you like to plug.

Well, the boys watched from all over Texas, and this is the year the big lake started reaching maturity.

Fishermen say it is no trick to catch a limit of bass every day, and there have been some monsters already caught.

"They're catching six and seven pounders every week," said Jack Ziller of Austin, after his first visit.

"Give it five years," said Roy Mohon, formerly of Lake Whitney and now a camp operator on Falcon, "and records won't be safe."

Mahon and Ray Creel, the two-time state bass champ and former guide on Whitney, remain its biggest weak link. The young upstarts of 1958 are more experienced and have more belief in themselves.

If the 38-year-old Spahn holds up, the Braves' pitching may be even more formidable than it was in 1958.

The seventh-place Los Angeles Dodgers figure to be better but they still need a seasoned catcher, a solid shortstop and third baseman and another outfielder. Pittsburgh came out of nowhere to finish second last year but the Pirates rid themselves of their biggest hitter and run-producer in trading Frank Thomas to Cincinnati. The Pirates are depending too much on the inexperienced Dick Stuart.

Thomas undoubtedly figures to help Cincinnati and could form a murderous one-two punch with Frank Robinson. Mayo Smith however, needs more pitching.

Solly Hemus, the new manager at St. Louis, has a big job on his hands. The Cardinals need more long ball hitting, a better all-around defense, a shortstop with more punch, and a dependable southpaw.

None of the other clubs—Kansas City, Baltimore and Washington in the American League, and Philadelphia and Chicago in the National—has much of a chance to emerge from the second division.

Hemphill Wells Is New Loop Leader

A Hemphill Wells win and a Henderson loss placed the Hemphill team on top of the Thursday Matinee bowling league standings for this week.

Hemphill dropped Good Housekeeping, 3-1. Tot 'n Teen mauled Henderson, 3-1, and Hardware bumped Gillhans, 4-0.

The hardware team had high game of 900 and top series of 2583. Jean Buchanan was an individual leader, gaining a 167 game. Juanita Campbell had 161 for second, and topped all with 457 series.

Splits were converted by Reba Gross, 5-10; Wanda Roman, Evelyn Ball, 3-10; and Pauline McLawhorn, 3-10.

Next week Tot 'n Teen plays Hemphill. Good Housekeeping charges Gillhans, and Hardware battles Henderson.

Bardstown Is Again Widener 'Cap King

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Seven-year-old Bardstown showed younger horses how to run Saturday, then survived a foul claim to win the $137,600 Widener Handicap for the second time in his career.

The Calumet Farm gelding, carrying high weight of 124, ran a brilliant race under jockey Steve Brooks. He went the mile and a quarter in 2:01 1/5, only one-fifth of a second slower than the record.

Claiborne Farm's Nadir finished a length and a quarter behind Bardstown and jockey Willie Hartack claimed foul. But the stewards did not allow it.

Hoop Band, under Charlie Burr, finished third but jockey Jack Leonard on Air Pilot claimed Hoop Band interfered with his mount.

Baird Enheartened By Two Players

The Big Spring Steers have made progress in their baseball camp, despite bad weather that forced them inside at times.

Coach Roy Baird is emboldened by the showing of outfielder Bob Andrews and pitcher Jay LeFevre.

He still has problems at shortstop and behind the plate. Right now, it appears Jerry Dunlap will hold down the shortstop's position. Dunlap is only a sophomore but he's shown good power at the plate and his fielding is improving.

Ronnie Suggs, a candidate for an infield position, broke his leg while taking wind sprints recently and appears out for the year. He was a soph who would have been retained on the squad mainly for experience.

Dunlap, if he wins the job, will play between Jackie Thomas and Bernard McMahon both of whom boast two years' experience at their jobs. Thomas, of course, will be at third and McMahon at the keystone spot.

Wilson Bell, a hard-hitting senior who hits from the left side of the plate, will hold down first base.

Morrow, Four Others To Be Honor Guests

AUSTIN (AP)—Olympic sprint champion Bobby Morrow and four other world champion dashmen from Abilene Christian College will be honored April 3-4 at the 32nd annual Texas Relays.

The five were members of the 440 and 880-yard teams which set new world marks in the California relays last year in Modesto.

Morrow, co-holder of the world record for the 100-yard dash, will compete in the Memorial Stadium dashes for the sixth straight year. He will run in a special 100-meter field which also includes Bill Woodhouse, another ACC relay team member.

James Segrest, who ran on both teams, Waymond Griggs of the 440-yard foursome and George Peterson of the 880-yard quartet are the others who will receive the salutes of the crowd.

Peterson is the only one of the five who will compete in the relay events this year.

ACC's Modesto marks were 39.7 seconds for 440 yards and 1:22.6 for a half mile. They wiped out records set the year before by a sophomore foursome from the University of Texas—39.7 at the Kansas Relays in Lawrence and 1:22.7 in the Texas Relays.

Three members of that Texas outfit will be back however—Wally Wilson, Eddie Southern and Hollis Gaine. Sophomore Ralph Alspaugh is the fourth man on this year's team.

Other top entrants this year are expected to come from Oklahoma state, Oklahoma, Kansas and Houston.

Field Is Fairly Well Set For Juco Meet

The field for the Texas Junior College Conference basketball tournament, which will be held at Navarro Junior College in Corsicana, is fairly well set.

Henderson and Navarro are the top two teams in Zone One and appear certain for the state meet. They still have each other to play. Should Navarro win, it will deadlock Henderson for first place in the race. Henderson is located at Athens.

South Texas Junior College of Houston and San Antonio are running one-two in Zone Two and will be in the state tourney.

Zone Three is led by Decatur Baptist College. Allen Academy is favored to win the runnerup spot and the right to play in the state meet but Panola is still in contention for the No. 2 spot.

Clarendon has clinched the championship in Zone Four. Frank Phillips is now occupying the runnerup position in the Zone Four (or the West Zone, as it is more popularly called).

Howard County Junior College of Big Spring faced the job of beating both Clarendon and Odessa Junior College before it could tie Frank Phillips for the runnerup spot. A loss to either team would eliminate the Hawks from the race.

Should Frank Phillips, and HCJC tie for the No. 2 position, they would probably engage in a playoff sometime this week to see which team goes to state meet.

In the TJCC tournament, champions are pitted against runnerups from other zones in first round games.

The tournament is being held in a TJCC member city for the first time—HCJC is due to host the tournament in 1960. In years past, it has been conducted in such places as Denton, Waco and College Station.

The Region V Tournament at Amarillo, winner of which becomes eligible to take part in the National Junior College Tournament at Hutchinson, Kansas, will be conducted March 9-10-11.

HCJC is afforded a good chance of getting an invitation to the meet. The Hawks have competed in eight previous Regionals. They won it in 1953 and again two years later.

Knott Billies Mark Time For Playoffs

KNOTT (SC) — The Knott Hill Billies are awaiting word as to their bi-district opponent after having won championship honors in the girls' basketball division of District 19-B for the fourth consecutive year.

The Billies are coached by Harrell Holder, who succeeded Bill Bolin this year. Holder said Knott's opponent and the site of the play-off game would not be known before Friday.

The Billies, who had a 7-1 win-loss record in 19-B play, won consolation trophies in tournaments at Ira and Gail and earned second place in a meet at Sterling City.

The Knott squad consists of only ten girls and only two of these were regulars last season.

The Billies will play Roby in a practice game in Roby Thursday night.

Indications are the Billies' bi-district opponent will be Wall, Coach Holder revealed. Holder said he would like to book practice games for his girls for Tuesday and Friday of this week.

The Knott team scored a total of 1,330 points this season, compared to 1,211 for the opposition.

Two of the Billies' top hands are Sheran Cline, 5-foot-2 left forward, and Jeanette Ray, 5-6 center forward. Both are forwards.

Cline is the top scorer on the team, with 468 points. She was an all-tournament selection at Sterling City and serves as team captain.

Ray is the playmaker for the club and a good outside shooter. She has scored 218 points.

W. B. (Benny) Asbury of 1605 Vines Street, Big Spring, has been informed he is the winner of a $25 savings bond for being one of the winners in the Field and Stream magazine's fishing contest conducted in 1958.

Fullmer Wants 160-Pound Title Declared Vacated

NEW YORK (AP) — Gene Fullmer, a majority decision winner over Willie Greaves, wants the New York State Athletic Commission to vacate Sugar Ray Robinson's world middleweight title.

Marv Jensen, Fullmer's manager, has written a letter to the commission asking that a match between Gene and Carmen Basilio or any other middleweight receive sanction as a championship bout.

"We want to fight Basilio for the title in New York," said Jensen last night after Fullmer had won his Madison Square Garden match with Greaves, a willing young Canadian. "Basilio is No. 1 Gene is No. 2 and he has licked Spider Webb, the best of the rest."

Robinson hasn't fought since he regained the crown from Basilio March 25, 1958 at Chicago. The normal six-month period of grace expired long ago. Robinson has been talking of fighting Archie Moore for the light heavy championship before he defends his 160-pound title.

Fullmer had his hands full with Greaves, a rough and ready youngster from Edmonton, Alberta. The ex-champ was able to bull his man and scored heavily with right hand punches to the body.

However, Greaves caught Fullmer time and again with his left hook and kept him at long range whenever he used his jab.

Buyers Cut Prices In Several Areas

TULSA — Continental Oil Co. and the Texas Co. announced new slashes Friday in the price they will pay for crude oil.

Continental cut three cents off its posted price to $3.05 a barrel for sweet crude in Oklahoma and Kansas. Along with the Texas Co., Continental cut postings to $3.01 for North Texas.

The seven-cent-a-barrel cut in North Texas by Conoco and Texaco marked the first time postings were dropped to the $3.01 level by major companies in that region.

New Texaco postings included a top of $3.01 per barrel for 40-gravity crude purchased in Archer, Jack, Wichita, Wilbarger and Young Counties, a $2.95 top in the Texas Panhandle and $2.95 for Darst Creek Crude in Guadalupe County.

Texaco also reduced its price of sour crude in South Central Texas and the Texas Panhandle seven cents a barrel with previous cuts in the West Texas-New Mexico area. The new price is $2.95 a barrel top, with a three-cent gravity differential.

GOVERNOR PROTESTS CUTS AND EXCESSIVE IMPORTS

AUSTIN — The state government must protect the economy and tax revenues against unwarranted imports and price cuts in oil, Gov. Daniel says.

"I appeal now for application of business statesmanship to stop the present disastrous trends before it is too late," Daniel said Friday.

He said if price cuts and imports continue he would ask for an investigation of possible antitrust violations.

State tax revenues are being shaved six million dollars a year solely because of oil price cuts, he said, adding:

"These price cuts together with excessive foreign oil imports have seriously damaged the economy of Texas as well as decreasing our state revenue."

Texaco does not purchase crude in Oklahoma and it already had a $3.05 top in Kansas.

Conoco buys about 13,000 barrels of crude daily in Oklahoma, 17,000 in Kansas and 20,000 in North Texas.

Texaco's daily purchases are about 43,000 barrels in North Texas, 13,000 in the Texas Panhandle and 5,000 barrels in South Central Texas.

Only 75,000 barrels daily of Oklahoma crude still carries the $3.08 top. In Kansas, $3.08 crude totals about 48,000 barrels daily. Most of the other sweet crude is at the $3.05 top.

PEMEX Absorbs Organic Chemicals

EL PASO (AP)—An enactment, passed three months ago by the Mexican government, has given PEMEX, the government oil agency, control over all organic chemistry in the republic.

The law was passed Nov. 21, 1958, and went into effect at a meeting of the Juaréz, Mexico Gas Dealers Feb. 16 brought out the full impact of the law.

Chihuahua State Gov. Teofilo Borunda told the gas dealers that within six months of Feb. 16 they would no longer be able to buy gasoline from American refineries across the border at El Paso.

Borunda detailed the law to the gas dealers.

The law makes PEMEX the only official source of raw materials for a vast range of products from fertilizer to plastics.

Two areas are covered by the legislation. One part abolishes private petroleum concessions which had been allowed to stand beyond expirations of the past two decades.

The second part of the law specifically names the classes of raw materials and derivatives to be placed under supply control by PEMEX.

The law contains 11 subparagraphs listing articles controlled by PEMEX. They are fertilizer ammonia; polyethylene and polystyrene for plastics; benzene for general chemical and detergent manufacture; butadiene and styrene sulfur derived from oil processing.

Acids and their anhydrides; cyclohexane and other synthetic fiber materials; acetones and phenols used in reagent plastics such as bakelite and moulded forms of plastics; base materials for tetraethyl, known as anti-knock compound;

Vinyls; benzols; tuhuols; aromatics; solvents and whatever derivative of petroleum which, like those enumerated, industries use as a basic first material designed either for consumer use or serving to make other articles for public sale.

The Mexican embassy commercial counselor in Washington said he hadn't heard of any order giving PEMEX import control. The law as it reads gives PEMEX control of the sale of all organic chemical supplies in Mexico.

Operators Contend Tariff Could Settle Import Issue

By MAX B. SKELTON

HOUSTON (AP)—Swiss cattle and Swedish pocketknives are involved in arguments Texas independent oil operators use to support an equalization tariff as an effective means of settling the dispute over oil imports.

Attorneys for the Texas Independent Producers & Royalty Owners Assn. (TIPO) argue that a tariff can be used to equalize the costs of foreign and domestic crude oil even though it may discriminate against specific countries or areas.

Swiss cattle, Swedish pocketknives, and Cuban tobacco are cited as products which have received special consideration when the United States and other countries have imposed tariffs on specific commodities.

TIPO believes Congress already has delegated to the President sufficient authority to settle the controversy by levying a tariff or other duty. The Texans also argue that the most-favored-nation clauses of international treaties do not prevent the imposition of an equalization tariff.

A brief prepared for the current Washington studies suggests three possible methods for effecting equalization:

An equalization tariff specifying different rates for different source countries.

An equalization tariff specifying different rates for different types and qualities of crude.

An excise tax leviable at each refinery in an amount equal to the difference of cost of foreign and domestic crude at that refinery.

Bills Would Kill Compact, Hot Oil Acts

By CHARLES HASLET

WASHINGTON — Two bills just offered in the House may surprise the oil industry. One is designed to knock of the Interstate Oil and Gas Compact. The other would repeal the "Hot Oil" Act. Both bills were introduced by Rep. Samuel Friedel (D-MD).

"I introduced the bills by request and I am not dedicated to the legislation," Friedel said. "I want to see what hearings will bring forth before making a personal decision."

He said help "independent oil men all over the United States."

The Interstate Oil Compact was formed by oil and gas producing states in 1935 to encourage conservation of oil and gas through established state agencies.

Congress gave its approval and 29 states, by action of their legislatures, are now members of the compact. A commission directs operation of the compact from headquarters in Oklahoma City.

The last extension expires next September. Renewal legislation is expected to come before the house and senate before that time.

The "Hot Oil" Act prohibits shipment in interstate and foreign commerce of petroleum and petroleum products produced in violation of state conservation laws.

MARTIN WELL CHECKS DEAN

Operator swabbed the Husky No. 1 Knox wildcard in Martin County this weekend after perforating in the Dean.

Plugged back to 9,251 feet, operator ran logs and perforated from 9,128-46 feet before swabbing. The wildcard is six miles south of Patricia, 6,507 feet from south and 3,813 feet from west lines, League 253, Ward CSL Survey.

It was drilled to 12,148 feet but found the Devonian barren and then was plugged back to retest the Dean.

BS Exploration Moves Offices

Transfer of the general headquarters of Big Spring Exploration, Inc. from the Permian Building to 101 Goliad was announced Saturday.

The new location is the former home of Westex Oil, which has transferred its main offices to a new terminal at Odessa. Ted O. Groebel, president of Westex Oil, will maintain an office at 101 Goliad.

John R. Hatch, president of Big Spring Exploration, said that all operations would be handled from the new location, which provides substantially more space.

Meanwhile, in Culberson County, Big Spring Exploration, No. 1 J. H. Fisher, a 4,000-foot wildcard on a 320 acre lease, will be spudded Monday. Water well for this explorer 18 miles southwest of Orla has been completed. Location is 660 from the south and east lines of section 21-111, PSL.

Six miles from the Big Piney field in Wyoming, Brinkerhoff-Monsanto No. 1 Government, in which Big Spring Exploration has a one-fourth interest, was making hole below 4,400 feet. A second drillstem test returned only 20 feet of drilling mud after an earlier one in the Transition from 4,277-4,302 yielded 2,336,000 cubic feet of gas and five barrels of distillate in one hour through a 1-inch opening. Target depth is 5,000 feet.

Drilling Activity Shows Slight Strength In Latest Reports

Another slight increase was noted last week in Permian Basin rotary drilling, with the increase during the week being four rigs.

Reed Roller Bit Co. counted the active rigs on Friday and found 379 turning, as against 375 on Feb. 13. At the same time last year, there were 355 rigs turning.

This is the third straight week that an increase has been recorded in the Basin. It hit a low of 353 on Jan. 30.

Lea County again led the basin in number of units, with 53, one more than had been reported the previous week. Andrews, first in 1959 until last week, showed 49 on the last count, also up one from the Feb. 13 total.

Borden County had 12 active rotary units on Friday, another area showing a one-rig increase. Howard County held steady with nine rigs being found on both the last two surveys.

In addition to Lea and Andrews, other counties showing at least 20 rigs included Ector with 25, Gaines with 21, and Winkler with 20.

Over the Basin, the individual totals (with Feb. 13 totals in parentheses) include Andrews 49 (48), Borden 12 (11), Browder 1 (0), Cochran 5 (5), Chaves 3 (3), Crane 15 (15), Crockett 4 (5), Crosby 1 (1), and Culberson 7 (7).

GOOD LIVING... YOUR TELEPHONE BY YOUR SIDE

HOW BUSY MOTHERS DO TWO THINGS AT ONCE

What a difference... when there's a handy extension phone right at your elbow. In your kitchen, for example. You call the grocer, watch over feeding of the baby at the same time. Answer incoming calls without disrupting your work. You enjoy a quick "telephone break" without even taking your eyes off the stove.

And now, smart-looking new color phones come with a spring cord that stretches out easily when you lift the receiver, retracts neatly and compactly when you hang up. And you adjust the bell to suit yourself.

In a dozen big ways, and in a hundred little ones, your telephone is a part of today's good living. So if you haven't made a telephone check of your home lately, do it now. See if you don't need another extension or two.

Extension phones are only $1.00 a month, plus installation. For color, there's a one-time only charge of $10. To order, call AM 4-7491, or ask any telephone service man.

NEW WALL PHONES are real space savers. Perfect for kitchen, utility areas. Now eight lovely colors.

NIGHT LIGHT PHONE, with an electrically illuminated dial, is ideal for bedrooms. Nine colors.

TABLE MODEL COLOR PHONES have adjustable bell for softer sounding ringing; modern spring cord; extension cut-off (optional) for privacy. Nine colors.

Castro Puts The Brakes On Distribution Of Cuba Land

HAVANA (AP)—Premier Fidel Castro and his Cabinet acted today to prevent peasants from jumping the gun and starting a premature land rush in the program of agrarian reform.

The government said it will distribute land to peasants in a legal, orderly manner. It decreed that peasants who try to occupy the land before it is distributed will lose their rights under the program.

Many cases have been reported of peasants occupying tracts illegally since the program was announced. Most of the land to be distributed is idle. Much of it was held by big landholders who acquired possession simply by the process of occupation.

The Cabinet also put into effect a decree decentralizing the Cuban Education Administration, a key provision in the revolutionary program. The revolutionaries believe the former government devoted most of its attention to Havana and neglected education in the provinces.

Total executions mounted to 316 by unofficial count. Firing squads executed 12 soldiers convicted of war crimes at Santa Clara. The total includes one soldier who committed suicide while awaiting execution.

Three supporters of ex-President Fulgencio Batista who took refuge in foreign embassies left by plane today for Buenos Aires and asylum. They are ex-Judge

Soldier-On-Leave Charged In Bank Robbery Slaying

FT. BRAGG, N. C. (AP) — A gum-chewing soldier home on leave was arrested early today and charged with slaying a teller during a Ft. Bragg bank robbery Friday.

Officers said Charles Thomas Bradford, 27, on leave from the band at Ft. McPherson, Ga., was driving his mother-in-law in a brand new car purchased Friday at Fayetteville.

She promptly surrendered $81 to officers which she said Bradford had given her Friday in repayment of a loan.

Bradford, arrested at Fuquay Springs, about 30 miles north of here, was brought to Fayetteville where he waived a preliminary hearing before U. S. Commissioner T. L. Hon. He was charged with committing a crime on a government reservation. The charge covers both the bank robbery and the slaying of Teller J. Frank Johnson, 54 Bradford was held in lieu of $50,000 bond for the next term of U. S. Dist. Court.

Johnson's body was found next to the locked vault in the branch of the First Citizens Bank & Trust Co. Officers said $13,373 was rickety from cash drawers in the rickety, one-story white frame building.

Motley County Pioneer Ranch Owner Expires

MATADOR, Tex. (AP)—Funeral services will be held here Sunday afternoon for J. R. Moore, 91, retired ranch owner who had lived in Motley County longer than any other resident. He died early Saturday.

He came here in 1888 prior to the county's organization as a young cow puncher from the Matador Land and Cattle Co. which then had herds roaming over more than one million acres and just after the last herds of buffalo retreated from the brakes to the Plains.

Later he established his own ranch which still remains in the family and whose R-Cross brand is one of the oldest in this section.

Moore is survived by four daughters, 10 grandchildren and 16 great-grandchildren. One daughter is Mrs. Chas. A. Guy, wife of the editor of the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal. Others are Mrs. Sam G. Dunn of Lubbock; Mrs. J. Farris Fish, wife of a Matador lawyer and rancher; and Mrs. Charlotte Hunsucker of Corpus Christi.

Burial will be in East Mound Cemetery in Matador.

Former Convict Is Shot To Death

WICHITA FALLS (AP) — Bill Pelly, 35 and a former convict, was shot to death Friday night by a woman who said he had threatened to kill her.

Betty Jo Marcella, 26, of Odessa told police and reporters she stood outside Pelly's car and fired shots from a snub-nosed revolver into his body through the open door. She said she and Pelly had visited a number of bars and had argued during the evening.

The body was found in Pelly's car west of town. Police sought another girl, 17 to 20 years old, whom the Marcella woman said fled from the car when the shooting started.

Man Asks For His Prison Sentence

HOUSTON (AP)—Federal Judge Joe Ingraham sentenced a Houston man to 13 months in prison Friday at the man's insistence.

Ingraham had first suggested a suspended sentence for C. L. Barnhart, 29, for transporting a stolen automobile across state lines. Barnhart objected.

"I'm not going to argue the point," the judge said.

Barnhart later said he feared an investigation by probation officers would disclose two earlier convictions on hot check charges and cause him to get a longer sentence.

Airline Is Sued For A Million

CHICAGO (AP)—Agents for an 8-year-old orphan, one of eight survivors of the Feb. 4 American Airlines plane crash in New York City, have filed a million-dollar law suit against the airline.

A Circuit Court suit was filed Friday in behalf of Robert Sullivan, who survived the East River crash which killed his parents and two sisters. Altogether, 65 persons were killed.

The suit asks $500,000 for the death of each parent, Joseph and Lorraine Sullivan. Their daughters, Joan, 5, and Patricia, 12, also were killed.

The suit, which accuses the airline of negligence and carelessness, was filed by the American National Bank and Trust Co. and Edward Murphy as administrators of the estate of Robert's parents.

The boy is living with his grandparents in Chicago.

MODIFIED BLOUSON EFFECT of the suit in picture above, is attained with an elasticized waist in the cropped jacket which is shown by Mrs. C. B. Rimer. Note the new sleeve length, designed to be complemented with long gloves or a lovely bracelet. In sunset and sand tones, the suit is set off with a choker of iridescents in brown tints and a large straw bag. Black accents are the velvet bands around the small cloche and the black pumps.

A STUDY IN BROWN—spring brown, that is, with even the rose on the baku straw breton in that shade. That's the suit which Mrs. Kenneth L. Chisholm wears. Of pure silk linen, the straight skirt is topped by a contour fitted blouse with back interest contained in a panel from neckline to waist. Bone accessories and cut crystal beads and earbobs are nice touches for spring and can be carried over into summer.

QUITE A COMEBACK is made this spring season by the easy-to-wear shirtwaister, one version of which is selected by Mrs. Jim Bill Little in picture above. Pure silk in navy fashions the frock with its pleats around the skirt except for a straight line in the front. The collar, squared in the back, is highlighted with a white band, accented by red with orange overtones. Navy kid pumps and white shortie gloves complete the costume.

WOMEN'S NEWS

The Big Spring Herald

BIG SPRING, TEXAS, SUNDAY, FEBRUARY 22, 1959

A PERENNIAL FAVORITE for spring is the two-some of navy and white, so well chosen by Carolyn Duckett, in picture above. The navy sheath of raw silk is relieved by the Irish lace at the neckline, the shortie gloves, the bag, and the bone jewelry on a gold foundation. Red pulses bloom on the brim of the large milan straw, which, following Fashion's decree, Miss Duckett wears well back on her head.

HOT ORANGE is predominant in the leisure ensemble of skinny pants and blouse worn by Mrs. O. W. Hildebrand Jr. Fashioned of wash and wear fabric, the blouse is in Roman stripes of brown, purple and orange, a perfect foil for the orange pants. Black flats complete the outfit, made for comfort as well as for good looks during work at home or play.

BEAUTIFUL LADY IN BLUE might well be the song typifying the spring finery of Mrs. Eugene Moore. And such a pretty rich tone is the turquoise frock made along princess lines with the faintest echo of the empire line in the cording terminated with a rose in the same shade of turquoise. A back-of-the-head hat is made of braid and tiny pink flowers.

PRETTY COMBINATION is made by the gray tones shown in the cotton satin frock of Mrs. Andrew Terpening. Large plaids in three shades of gray emphasize the one block of dark ivory, which is matched to the kid pumps. Bone is the shade of the off-face hat, sparkled with two roses, shading from deep to lighter pink, which find their accent in the crystal, pink and rose necklace and earbobs.

Models Are A Hobby

As far as Mike is concerned, his models were among the most important items the A. K. Steinheimers moved here from Paris. Steinheimer is Big Spring's city manager, having assumed the duties January 5. The likeable family is looking forward to making a host of new friends.

Slipcovers Are Cinch To Make By Use Of New Tricks

If your upholstered pieces are beginning to look a little tired, you can work wonders with new slipcovers. They are easier than ever to make, with a few quick tricks.

The first rule is to buy everything at once: fabric, trimmings, zippers, thread, pins and so on. Be sure to get dressmaker's chalk—It's important for the new pin-fitting technique.

To pin-fit a slipcover, cut sections roughly to size. Then pin sections to chair along seam line, working with fabric right side out. Pin sections together. A basting thread will help keep gathers even at front of arm and around curve in back.

Mark seam line with chalk; then trim away all seams evenly to one inch. Next take pieces off and remove pins. If you are using fringe or corded trim, stitch this along right side of fabric, on chalk lines. Then turn pieces wrong side out and, using the stitching line for the fringe as a guide, stitch sections together. This technique will insure smooth seams and a good fit.

Here's a final trick: To keep the tuck-in allowance smooth, so it doesn't wrinkle and bunch, roll wrapping paper and push firmly into space between seat and arms and back of chair. When the cushion is put in place, the paper will be concealed and the tuck-in allowance will stay put.

A well-tailored and perfectly fitting slipcover will give the shabbiest chair a new lease on life and will brighten up the whole room.

Slipcover fabrics should be washable—so be sure your fabric is shrink-resistant and colorfast.

Affable City Manager, Family Busy Making Friends In Our Town

Since his arrival January 2, Big Spring's new city manager, A. K. Steinheimer, has been busy acquainting himself with the local people and with his job. Officially he assumed the post Jan. 5.

The civil engineer, whose career has been spent in Texas, had for the past 3½ years been city manager of his hometown, Paris. Now that the fall school term has ended, Mrs. Steinheimer and their son Mike have joined him to make their home at 704 Mathews. Theirs would have been a complete family reunion last Sunday if Anne had been here too, but she is lingering with friends in Paris to complete her senior year and graduate in May.

Anne, 17, is following her father's footsteps by playing a saxophone in the Paris High School band. This term she received her four-year letter for her efforts. With her mother, she collects demi-tasses which will pair beautifully with the collection of silver coffee spoons Steinheimer inherited from his aunt; the spoons came from all parts of the world and he continues to add to them. Piano is the instrument chosen by Mike, who is 12 and a sixth grader at College Heights School. Vying with music for the Boy Scout's attention, however, are baseball and model-building. When the father-son team goes fishing, the family agrees that it's Mike who comes back with the catch.

Mrs. Steinheimer is talented in sewing and makes many of Anne's dresses and some of her own. Her time is devoted mostly to making the household run smoothly but she does enjoy bridge. Her husband is an avid golfer, and can be found on the links every Saturday.

New Hats Bring Fresh Outlook For Spring Ensembles

There is something about a new hat in spring that gives you a fresh outlook on life, a very special feeling of well-being.

A young designer, who believes in the flattery of pretty and feminine hats, has made them irresistibly flattering to the wearer. In addition to their being light as a breeze, they all fit the head comfortably. All are new expressions of beloved classics. Their trimming is characterized by a look of tailored elegance, most often expressed in self detail, crisp organdy, lace and soft chiffon.

If you are wearing your hat forward, push it back. Spring hats, no matter what size or shape, will settle down on your head to expose a pretty hairline. Brims, sailors, pillboxes, turbans, cloches, all will play up your most expressive features... your eyes.

An excellent example of the use of sheer organdy in a high crown cloche is a hat with an applique of cotton lace on its crown and brim. For a prettier you, try it with your new spring suit.

A light-as-air portrait brim is of hairbraided and petipurl sewn row-on-row. A deep straw flange creates a flattering contour to the brim. A twist of hair and petipurl adds two-toned color interest to the crown. You'll love to wear it after Easter with your summer silks and cottons.

Pin Money

The term "pin money" comes from the time when pins were scarce and valuable, and were sold only on the first two days of the year. Wealthy women flocked to the shops to buy the pins with money provided for this purpose by their husbands.

Fighting the "Cold" War

The common cold is still one of medicine's biggest mysteries. Few doctors agree on what actually constitutes a cold.

There's no mystery, however, to the widespread prevalence of colds; colds account for about 40% of all illnesses in this country. The average adult American has three colds a year, at an estimated cost of $5 billion a year in lost work days.

a costly campaign...

Americans spend $200 million annually for cold remedies. Some of this is spent foolishly and wastefully by cold sufferers who accept advice from laymen, neighbors or glib-talking salesmen. Obviously, the wisest and safest way to get the most from your cold remedy-dollar is to get the personal attention and professional direction of your physician and your pharmacist.

When you come to this pharmacy for your cold remedies and for prescription service, you can do so with complete confidence. Confidence that comes from dealing with prescription specialists—who make the practice of pharmacy the first and most important function of a drug store. Proper Care Adds Beauty To Glassware Entertaining can be a real joy when you've a cupboard full of pretty glass plates, cups, and glasses. And, given the proper care in washing and storing, glassware will last for years and years, maybe long enough to become family heirloom pieces.

Stemware should not be washed in quantity, as glasses may bump against each other and become nicked or scratched. To protect glassware in the sink, use a rubber mat or dish towel on the bottom.

Water should be comfortably hot and sudsy. A few drops of bluing in the water will add sparkle to clear glass or crystal. Rinse water should be of the same temperature, as sharp changes in temperature put a strain on glassware.

If iced drinks have been served, the remaining liquid should be poured out and the glasses filled with barely lukewarm water to take the chill off before rinsing. Glasses used for milk or wine should be rinsed out in clear, cool water before they are washed.

A long-handled dish mop or bottle brush is useful for cleaning tall glasses and cut or etched glassware. Dry glassware with a lint-free towel.

And here are a few special tips for the care of glassware:

In order to prevent breakage when pouring hot liquids into a glass, a spoon should be placed in the glass while pouring.

Stains in water bottles, decanters and pitchers are easily removed by placing tea leaves soaked in vinegar, together with a few grains of uncooked rice, into the piece and shaking vigorously.

A tiny nick can be smoothed by rubbing the glass softly with a fine emery paper.

Bride's Mother Designs, Makes Gown For Wedding In Ackerly

Wearing a wedding gown designed and made by her mother, Nona Dolores Mabry became the bride of Lt. Waylon Arlen White of Camp Pendleton, Calif. Vows were exchanged in the Ackerly Baptist Church Saturday evening.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Mabry of Morton, former Ackerly residents; the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Jewell White of Forsan and the late Mr. White.

Baskets of gladioli and candytuft combined with tapers in candelabra with a background of palms to form the altar before which double ring rites were read by the Rev. Bill Coffman of Fort Worth, assisted by the Rev. J. D. Mabry, pastor of the church.

Judy Kay Brown, a cousin of the bride, presented a prelude of nuptial music and accompanied Mrs. Jerry Forderhase of Dallas as she sang Because and The Lord's Prayer.

BRIDAL GOWN
The bride's father gave her in marriage; she was attired in white slipper satin made into a fitted bodice with sweetheart neckline and long skirt which extended into a chapel train. In the neckline, lace was re-embroidered with seed pearls, and tiny self-covered buttons fastened the pointed sleeves and the back of the extended waist.

Down the front of the skirt was a panel of Land O' Lace, with appliques of the lace scattered over it and re-embroidered with pearls. A crown of tulle, pearls and lace held a fingertip veil of illusion, and the bride wore a strand of pearls, a gift from the bridegroom. On a white Bible, a gift from the late Mrs. Julia Mabry, her grandmother, the bride carried Japetta orchids and hyacinth ribbons tied with French picot ribbons.

Something old was a lace handkerchief which had belonged to the late Mrs. C. E. West, her grandmother; her bridal attire was new and she wore a blue garter, which had been given to her by Miss Brown. The bride had borrowed the earbobs which she wore from her maid of honor, Peggy Pate of Lancaster. In her shoe she carried a sixpence brought from England in 1955 by David Bead of Big Spring, her cousin.

Miss Pate was joined by the bridesmaids, Reba Louise Whittle of Rockspings and Mrs. Roy Kornegay of Brownwood, in attending the bride. They were identically dressed in street length frocks of wine satin featuring harem skirts and sweetheart necklines.

MRS. WAYLON ARLEN WHITE

Headresses were of dusty rose satin formed into bows and the three carried cascade bouquets of carnations in dusty rose.

George Alvin White attended his brother as best man; groomsmen were Jerry Forderhase of Dallas and Greg Burg of Brownwood. Seating guests were the bridegroom's cousins, Gerald Morris of Midland, James Johnson on and John Ivie, both of Lubbock. Karon West of Big Spring, frocked in dusty rose satin trimmed in wine satin, was her cousin's flower girl, and rings were borne by Brenda Ingram of Ackerly and Joe Dean West of Big Spring, the bride's cousin.

Taper lighters were Dorothy Baker and Dana Ruth Horton, both of Ackerly. They wore dresses of dusty rose satin made identically to those of the other feminine attendants.

RECEPTION
During the reception held in the church parlor, the couple was assisted in receiving guests by their parents and the bride's attendants, who placed their bouquets on the tea table as the centerpiece.

A three-tiered cake, enhanced with pink frosting on white, stood on a white lace cloth over dusty pink. A miniature bridal figurine ornamented the top of the cake. Gloria Dawn Springfield, Ackerly, registered guests; others in the house party were Mrs. Forderhase, Mrs. E. T. Tucker Jr. of Big Spring, and Mrs. Don Abbott of Brownwood.

All-American Favorite

Here are two versions of the indispensable shirtwaist dress, now back with a bang in French and American fashions. Left, Suzy Perette's full-skirted design in sheer turquoise cotton. Right, Betty Carol's gay creation in barber-pole striped cotton with wide belt and white linen dickey.

Perennial Favorite Is Welcomed As Top Style

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor
Any girl who wants to be safe and sure this spring and summer can settle for a shirtwaist dress. The all-American favorite now is spring's top fashion hit on both sides of the Atlantic, sharing honors in Paris with the classic suit. In California and New York collections, shirtwaist dresses stole the show during recent spring openings. And here was one instance where Paris followed suit, with practically every member of the haute couture showing some version of the shirt dress.

This is one of those fashions that never go out of style. Even at the height of the chemise rage, women who balked at the sack silhouette turned to the classic shirtwaist—and looked right.

It's the kind of dress that is easy to wear for any age or any figure. The tailored top, the full skirt and the belt in the middle combine to hide figure faults and to put the wearer at ease.

You'll be seeing this perennial silhouette this year in every fabric, from gingham to chiffon, with various treatments of collar and sleeves. Sometimes a wide cummerbund minimizes the waistline. Sometimes a contrasting contoured belt of leather is used. On some versions there's a crisp dickey front; on others the collar is rounded and sports a bow tie. In any version, the shirtwaist dress once more is the backbone of the knowing woman's wardrobe.

Lomax HD Hears Civil Defense Talk

Speaking on civil defense, Thursday afternoon when the Lomax HD Club met with Mrs. L. G. Adkins, Mrs. Wiley Williams gave advice on what to do in disastrous situations.

She told how to give artificial respiration, how to remove helpless persons from burning homes and how to prevent accidents when electric lines have fallen. First aid for nosebleed, frostbite and burns was also shared. Twelve members had answered roll call with suggested precautions in case of atomic attack.

The group presented a gift certificate to Williams in appreciation of his having made two serving tables for the Lomax community center. Council report was given by Mrs. Waymon Etchison, who announced that the 4-H Club children will stage a sale March 18-20.

The devotion was brought by Mrs. Tom Newman from Prov. 16-18.

Mrs. Kenneth Loso, a new member, was among those present.

The March 5 meeting will be with Mrs. Paul Bulsterbaum.

GFWC Sewing Contest Deadline Set May 1

Entries for the second annual GFWC Fashion Sewing Contest must be entered at the district conventions, before they can be entered in the state contest, according to Mrs. Bob Long of Austin, state chairman of the contest. Sponsored by the General Federation of Women's Club Service Bureau, the contest is to select the "Ideal Costume for the Clubwoman's Wardrobe" from entries made and modeled by individual club members.

The contest runs from Oct. 1, 1958, to May 1, 1959; arrangements have been made for the judging, which will start with the local club, then to the district, and then to the state, before going to national for final judging. Official forms must be sent in immediately through each club, the presidents of which have the entry forms. All state-winning costumes, which are eligible for the National judging must be received at the Woman's Club Service Bureau, 10 East 49th Street, New York 17, New York not later than May 1, 1959. Any costume or outfit entered in this contest must have been completed in its entirety between Oct. 1, 1958, and May 1, 1959.

The top prize will be a three-week trip to Paris and London for two people, with cash awards of $500 and $250 going to the second and third place winners. First and second place winners will also receive trips to the 1959 GFWC Convention in Los Angeles as part of their award. There are also local and district awards.

Further information may be obtained from the Woman's Club Service Bureau, 10 East 49th St.,

Doggy Tip

If you walk your dog in the snow, it is a good idea to wash his feet after the slushy walk. Many people use street cleaners that burn a dog's pads. If that should happen use a cloth dipped in a baking soda solution to wipe off his paws. Or dunk a paw at a time in a basin full of the soda. This will not only remove the chemical but soothe the burn. It will avoid harm, too, in case he should decide to lick his paws.

Winner At Rook

Mrs. Walter Pike was high score winner at the Rook Club Friday afternoon when Mrs. W. A. Updewood was hostess. Refreshments were served to 11 members and two guests. Mrs. J. L. Terry and Mrs. W. E. Hotchkiss, Mrs. F. S. Gray, 601 Runnels, is scheduled as the March hostess.

Gift Addition

GARDENERS INVITED TO ATTEND ODESSA MEETING

Gardeners of this area are invited to gather at the Lincoln Hotel in Odessa on March 19 to hear Mrs. Dorothy Janson, garden columnist, author and guest lecturer.

Scheduled to start at 2 p.m., the lecture is open to anyone wishing to attend, it was announced.

Mrs. Janson writes a garden column for several newspapers in Texas and for 20 years has been a garden consultant. Her discussion will deal with the problems of gardeners in the West and Southwest, and she will hold a question and answer period.

Ticking Attractive

For an unusual bedroom, ordinary navy blue and white cotton ticking is used on one wall of the room and combined with red ball fringe for the draperies, a two-piece chaise, bedspread and a panel hung behind the bed. The ticking is repeated again on a boudoir chair. Vivid scarlet carpeting tops off the red, white and blue color scheme.

Shades Of White

A novel window treatment becomes the focal point in a living room when a heavy white cotton striped with acid green binding is used in the draw shade, the over-curtain and tasseled valance. Wood tones in the room are set off by touches of black and green.

Fashion Dolls

The first Parisian fashion model was a doll. A report is that six hundred years ago the French sent these "fashion babies" to other lands to display the latest dress and hair styles.

Milk Glass Accessories Refreshing

All rooms become fresh and inviting when white accessories are used. American-made milk glass pieces, because of their purity of color, multi-uses and moderate cost, give an easy solution for accents of white.

Milk glass tableware and accessories are at home in any period—Traditional, Modern or Early American, and in any room. A milk glass bowl filled with bright flowers is a pretty addition on a coffee table.

Use a pair of milk glass vases on a credenza. A hutch becomes a focal point of a room when a collection of milk glass is grouped on its shelves. Milk glass cologne bottles can enhance a dressing table in the bedroom.

Many of the pieces of milk glass that are available today are authentic reproductions of pieces from antique collections. However, with our changed mode of living, we have found much more varied uses for many pieces.

In days of yesteryear, a spoon-holder was a "must" on every table. Today we see reproductions of this piece being used as a planter or vase. Toothpick holders at one time were an accepted part of any table setting. Today, we use these items to hold cigarettes on a coffee or dining table.

Big Spring's second annual "Agri-Business Day" program will be presented Tuesday at Howard County Junior College.

The all-day event is expected to attract 300 or more farmers and other business operators from throughout the county.

A battery of agricultural experts, farm economists and business leaders has been lined up for the program. Among the speakers will be Dr. Tyrus Timm, head of the Department of Agricultural Economics at Texas A&M College; Dr. Wayland Bennett, who holds a similar post at Texas Tech; and C. G. Scruggs, associate editor of the Progressive Farmer magazine.

Scruggs will preside over morning and afternoon sessions and will moderate a panel discussion which will conclude the program. A free barbecue luncheon will be served in the new Dora Roberts SUB Host for that event will be the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce.

The Chamber is joining the T&P Railway Co. and the West Texas Chamber of Commerce in sponsoring Agri-Business Day here. A similar program, in which the Colorado City Chamber will participate, is to be held Wednesday at Colorado City.

The local program will open at 9:30 a.m. Tuesday in the HCJC auditorium. Scruggs will introduce guests and Clyde McMahon, C of C president, will extend the welcome.

The first speaker, at 10 a.m., will be Charlie Sewell of Abilene, district manager for the Ralston-Purina Co. He will discuss "New Practices in Livestock Feeding."

Roy Davis of Lubbock, general manager of the Plains Cooperative Oil Mill, will speak on "Cotton - Problems of Production Cost" at 11 a.m.

At 11:30 a.m. Dr. Bennett will

Texas Retail Sales Increase

AUSTIN (AP)—Most Texas retail lines shared in the 6 per cent increase of January retail sales over the same month last year, the Bureau of Business Research said Saturday.

The month total of $972,300,000 was 38 per cent below December but better than the previous year. Non-durable goods sales were up 4 per cent over January 1958. Durable goods were up 12 per cent.

The best increases were made by motor vehicle dealers and hardware stores, each up 14 per cent. Farm implement dealers were down 10 and apparel stores down 3.

The 19 cities reporting January increases over a year ago were led by Plainview, up 62 per cent, Abilene up 42, Texarkana up 24, Corpus Christi up 20, Fort Worth and Waco each up 17, Lubbock up 15, Amarillo up 13, San Antonio up 12 and Galveston up 11.

discuss "Farm Credit Needs of West Texas."

Following the luncheon, R. W. Whipkey, publisher of the Big Spring Herald, will tell of the "Importance of Agriculture to the Economy of Our Area" at 1:15 p.m. He will be followed by Hico Eudaly of Fort Worth, Universal Mills livestock consultant, who will speak on "Storage Problems of Grain Sorghum and Forage Crops" at 1:45 p.m.

Dr. Timm is to describe the "Outlook for West Texas Agriculture" in the final talk of the day, starting at 2:15 p.m. Scruggs' panel discussion is expected to be completed by 3:15 p.m.

Except for local personalities involved, the programs at Colorado City and Big Spring will be identical.

Tuesday morning, the WTCC, T&P and the local Chamber will host breakfast for the program participants and members of the Big Spring Chamber's Agriculture Committee.

Objective of the Agri-Business Day conferences is to bring farmers, ranchers and other businessmen together for a discussion of common problems and to acquaint each group with some of the newest developments in the agri-business field.

C. B. Senter of Van, agricultural representative for the T&P; Loyal Walker, manager of the agricultural department of the WTCC; and Malcolm Patterson, chairman of the local C-C agriculture committee, are coordinating plans for the event.

Kiwanians' Pancake Feast Slated Friday

Like pancakes, butter, bacon and coffee? If so, the place you want to head for, come next Friday night, is the Big Spring High School cafeteria.

The Big Spring Kiwanis Club will stage its annual pancake supper on that night—the biggest bargain in fine eating of the entire year.

"All the pancakes, bacon, syrup, butter and coffee you can eat" is official slogan of the Kiwanis annual pancake supper. This will be the seventh successive year the Kiwanians have served these suppers. Hundreds of Big Springers have fond memories of the occasions.

Tickets are on sale now. Kiwanians are dispensing the ducats at a bargain price of 75 cents for adults and only 50 cents for children.

In the past, it has become a tradition for whole families to turn out for these annual feasts. This year, the club members anticipate that they will serve most of their former patrons and they have hopes of serving hundreds of new customers as well.

The supper will start at 5 p.m. Serving will continue until 9 p.m. All profits above expenses go into the Kiwanis Club's fund for the benefit of underprivileged children. Kiwanians devote much of their time to helping needy boys and girls of the community. They fatten their treasury for this work from time to time with special events and the annual pancake supper is one of the major activities of the club each year.

Kiwanians are proud of their special pancake recipe. Jasper Atkins is the chief of the batter brigade and has an enviable reputation for the high quality of his pancakes.

All Kiwanians will be on duty Friday night at the supper. They have been assigned their specific chores by Jack Alexander, general chairman. Ample supplies of all materials needed for the pancakes are being assembled; mountains of bacon have been acquired and preparations are complete for the percolating of the small ocean of coffee which will be needed for the occasion.

Special cooking equipment is being moved into the cafeteria to speed up the preparation of the pancakes and a revised schedule of operations has been adopted which will expedite the feeding of the hundreds of hungry patrons the club anticipates will be on hand for the supper.

Conservation Units Present Budgets

AUSTIN (AP)—The 174 state soil conservation districts want $628,300 to spend in 1960-61 in their land saving program.

The State Soil Conservation Board presented the requests recently to the Legislature. It also asked $141,570 for its own operations the next two years. This compares to $115,220 for the present biennium.

The board said the districts were first appropriated five million dollars in 1949. The only other money authorized by the Legislature was $67,338 in the last session for five new districts.

500 Seniors Due For Career Day

By BOBBY HORTON
Seniors from 13 area high schools converge upon Howard County Junior College tomorrow during what is a holiday for local daytime collegians for the annual Career Day program. Some 500 high school students are expected for the day, which will feature an address by Lamesa superintendent C. W. Tarter, a luncheon, and sectional career meetings with some field trips to local plants.

Visiting seniors and accompanying faculties will be viewing the college plant while observing opportunities in agriculture and geology, business and legal professions, communications, engineering, fine arts, homemaking, medical services, skilled trades, social service, and teaching.

Enrollment for the spring semester at the college stands at 601 since registration closed down two weeks ago. This number is down from the fall sign-in of 697, but customary since most colleges lose many students as the term progresses.

The 601 is higher than last term's spring semester registration, however, signifying growth. A troupe of Spanish dancers made an assembly appearance before HCJC students Thursday morning, displaying a form of art which could have been more fully appreciated by the young male members of the audience.

RUNNELS REPORT

Talks On 'Brotherhood' Are Heard At Assembly

By DIANA BAKER
Wednesday three laymen from Dallas spoke at an assembly program on Brotherhood Week. Introduced by Dr. W. A. Hunt, president of HCJC, were Barry Holton, representing the Catholic faith; A. Robert Beer, the Jewish faith; and Ralph W. Thomas, representing the Protestant faith. Each talked about the importance of judging a person as an individual.

The Runnels Volleyball teams played the Goliad teams at Runnels on Tuesday. The seventh graders won 79-57 and Dorinda Hooper was high scorer with 15. The eighth grade won 56-38 with Eileen Farquhar high pointer with 30. The ninth grade lost 44-16, and Judy Pate was our high scorer with 7 points.

The next volleyball games will be March 2 in Coahoma. Mrs. Pat Drake is the coach.

Track season has started for our boys. Several boys have reported for workouts. The seventh graders will be coached by Dan Bastamante, the eighth graders by Bobby Zellars, the ninth graders by Ted Kirby.

Friday afternoon the fifth and sixth periods were devoted to a social hour for some in the gym. All students who attended had qualified by selling at least two magazine subscriptions. Records were played and refreshments of punch and cookies were served. The gym was colorfully decorated with posters and red and white crepe paper. The Runnels P-TA sponsored the social, assisted by social director Elpha Lee West of Laredo Junior College, frequently make the trips about the state and on this particular occasion were headed for a Leveland Chamber of Commerce program. The paused in Big Spring for a guest appearance. Norma Casso, Adela Lleverino and Ofelia Hernandez performed Spanish dances and Sarah Meade presented two Spanish vocals. All are students at Laredo Junior College, and all freshmen except the vocalist, Miss Meade.

Carolyn Sneed replaced Patty Francis as secretary on the Student Council at its last meeting. Patty is now studying at the University of Texas. Ira Schantz, HCJC drama student, received an "excellent" rating in oratory at a recent Abilene Christian College speech tournament which drew students from 22 senior colleges from six states. His oration was on the theme of banning nuclear weapons.

Laymen from three faiths spoke at an assembly Wednesday to highlight the Brotherhood Day observance. Robert A. Beer, of the Jewish faith, Ralph W. Thomas of the Methodist, and Barry Holton of the Roman Catholic spoke.

The Student Council. Approximately 112 students attended, plus the council members. Tuesday an ice cream and coke party was held for the homeroom selling the most subscriptions. The seventh grade was the high room under Miss Clara Seccrest; the eighth grade under Mrs. Doris Gambill; the ninth grade under Mrs. Rosa Belle Curtis. Another homeroom was composed of seventh, eighth and ninth grade students under Mrs. George Dyer. The top salesmen were Susan Stephens, Robert Isbell, and Larry Sage, in that order.

Work on the yearbook, El Palomar, has been completed except for five pages. It will be sent to the publishers next Friday. Students are scheduled to receive their annuals around May 15.

Mrs. Forrest Gambill and Mr. Tommy Fry left Wednesday for Galveston to attend the annual state music convention. They are to return sometime this weekend.

Pink slips were turned into the office the latter part of this week. These are sent out to parents of students that are failing in their school work. Students, if you get a pink slip, try to have better grades this next part of the nine-weeks.

By the way, last week's column contained an error. The personnel of the girls' trio includes Mary Roger, Doris Compton and Carol Clark.

The Soap Box Derby Film was shown Thursday to the student body.

D-E Students Will Honor Employers

Distributive Education students will honor their employers at their annual banquet here Tuesday evening.

Frank Farrar, coordinator, said approximately 60 are expected for the affair at the Desert Sands Restaurant at 7:30 p.m.

This will be the first major activity of a busy week for the DE students. Thursday Farrar and four delegates will leave for the state meet in Fort Worth where Jimmy Whitefield is entered in the business speech contest and Glenda Mahoney in the essay contest. The other two delegates are Jo Ann Lane, club president, and Lloyd Lindsey.

Jimmy Whitefield will preside over the bosses banquet and Miss Mahoney will offer the invocation. The welcome will be by Miss Lane and the response by Larson Lloyd.

Mary Barrington will introduce DE students, who in turn will present their employers. Other special guests will be introduced by Farrar.

The DE Creed will be given by Carol Wilson. Musical entertainment will include Carolyn Duckett, vocalist, and the Smith family from Ackerly. Joe Pickle, managing editor of the Herald will follow the banquet theme, "Stepping Stones to Success," in a brief address.

Since the Diversified occupations course, the first on-the-job training program offered in the state school program, was divided in 1949, Big Spring has had a DE course which trains young people in the sales and service trades. This city has the oldest continuous vocational on-the-job program in the state, dating back to institution of D-O here in 1936.

Time On Job Gives Students Head Start In Sales Careers

Big Spring High School students who want to establish a career in the distributive fields of business are getting a head start.

Under the Distributive Education program, they are actually spending time on the job they seek to learn at the same time they are learning some of the theories and principles of the job.

This is all part of their high school experience with a vocational bent. Open only to junior or senior students, the DE program presupposes that the DE courses will be the electives of the last two years. That means that enrollees will take their language arts and social science courses required for high school graduation plus special job related subjects.

These may include such things as job orientation, psychology of buying, customer types, sales, economics of distribution, sales promotion, legal aspects of distribution and several others. In addition, each student has a workbook which covers his or her particular field of study such as retail clothing, shoe sales, office work, etc.

HI TALK

'Value Of Scholarship' Topic Of Honor Society Discussion

By PAT ROGERS

This past week has certainly been a confused one as far as the weather is concerned, a few days of warm sunshine, and then here comes the snow and sleet. It couldn't happen anywhere except in Texas.

Dan Krausse, senior vice president of Coaden, spoke to the National Honor Society at Thursday night's meeting. His main topic was "The Value of Scholarship", but when the speech was finished, he talked about some of the opportunities open in the business world. Various musical notes drifted from the room of Miss Ione McAllister's seventh period, accelerated literature class. It seems they were singing a song that was recorded in the old works of English literature.

Parking tickets were given to several (rather angry) BSHSers. Even though they have been warned against parking in the semi-circle in front of the school, students persisted in parking there. They may give it a second thought the next time they want to park in the semi-circle; it could prove to be expensive.

Left on their own in the absence of their teacher, Mrs. Don Green, the shorthand girls were instructed to take dictation from some records of letters etc. They took dictation from the records all right; it went something like this, "Oh my love, my darling, I've cumbered for your love... It was fun while it lasted — which wasn't for long.

The senior class voted to take three holidays instead of a Senior Trip. They decided to take the money, which consists of more than $600, and throw some big parties. As someone said, "This is operation Mardi Gras."

In a joint class meeting Wednesday, Sherry Lurting, treasurer, assured the seniors that there would be a prom. The prom is to be May 16, in the HCJC Student Union Building. Mr. Roy Worley warned both juniors and seniors that, if anyone was found drinking at the prom, he would be suspended, even if it would keep him from graduating.

Much to the dread of several BSHSers, pink slips—better known as failure slips—were sent out last week. From the reports of several teachers to several parents, several students made the "dean's team."

The Junior Historians, sponsored by Mr. Frank McDonald and Mr. John P. Yates, are planning a big trip to the Big Bend National Park. Requirements for members wishing to go are as follows: Write an essay on some thing about Texas, work on money-raising projects, and have a 75 per cent average.

The Court Jesters "stepped out" Saturday night for some money-spending, dancing, and a bit of musical entertainment. This fun and folly took place at the Sands Restaurant.

Tomorrow, seniors of surrounding high schools will get a glimpse of what the future holds in store for them. They will gather at Howard County Junior College for the annual Senior Day.

The Steerettes traveled to Denver City Friday for a big volleyball game. They will get to display their talents before BSHSers in an assembly game to be held Tuesday.

Practice, practice, and more practice has been the main word of students participating in the talent show to be held Tuesday. The show will consist of mostly juniors mixed with a few seniors and sophomores.

Johnny Harrison, senior, met with a serious accident last week. While working on an oil tank, Johnny fell off and rolled down a small hill. He was alone with a broken leg for about an hour. He is now in the hospital trying to get his leg into better working condition.

James Howard Stephens, student council president, led the invocation in Wednesday's Brotherhood assembly. Dr. W. A. Hunt from HCJC introduced Mr. Barry Holton, Austin, Texas; A. Robert Beer, native of New York; and Ralph W. Thomas, native of St. Louis, Missouri; who in turn gave brief talks concerning the importance of brotherhood. The talks were both inspiring and a good lesson.

On Honor Roll
Mrs. Rebecca Affleck Cook, daughter of Mrs. Bert Affleck, has been listed on the honor roll recently released by the dean's office at McMurry College in Abilene. This means that Mrs. Cook was in the upper 10 per cent of the student body which posted 2.62 or more grade points.

BESSIE SMITH, a teller trainee at Security State Bank, Bessie is in her first year of the DE program. She is a senior.

CLETA SNEED, another first time DE student, Cleta is a junior. She works as saleslady at Hester's Supply.

LINDA STUTEVILLE works as a service saleslady at Clay's Cleaners. She is a junior and in her first year of the DE program.

JAMES WHITEFIELD, working in the display and advertising departments at Hemphill-Wells Co. He is a junior and in his first year of DE.

'Twirp Week' Dates Changed

By PAT ARMSTRONG

The date for Twirp Week has been changed from the first week in March to the coming week, Feb. 23-27. A Twirp Week soccer will be the climax of the week's activities. It will be Friday during the noon hour.

Tuesday during the last of sixth period a volleyball pep rally was held in the gym. Sharon Flower and Mozelle Groebel, ninth graders, gave pep talks. Carolyn Hooper and Margaret Gary, from the eighth grade, gave talks. The rally was ended with the yell "Victory" but the ninth grade team was the one to win over Runnels that night.

Wednesday morning Bill Pate, student council president, called the meeting of the council to order. Karon Koger, secretary, called the roll and read the minutes of the last meeting. The program consisted of speeches on "What a Student Member Should Be," given by Ann Gibbs, Ronnie Crowover, and Bob Moore. The speeches were then evaluated by Baxter Moore, Karon Kee, and Katie Bess Morgan. The council then discussed the topic of what dances are to be given the remainder of this year. The ninth grade Tri-Hi-Y held its meeting Wednesday afternoon. Betty McWhorter introduced Mrs. Odessa Morris, guest of the group, who gave a demonstration on "Make-up".

Thursday night the eighth and ninth grade volleyball teams played Lamesa here at the Goliad gym. The teams played good games but failed to beat the Lamesa teams.

Several students from Goliad attended the concert at the auditorium Wednesday night. Dylan Todd, a ballad singer, furnished the entertainment for the night. All reported a very good time.

Failure slips were mailed out this week to parents of the students making failing grades so far this nine weeks. All students are urged to work harder and bring up their low grades.

The Goliad Homemaking girls participated in the Heart Fund Drive Saturday. The club has also planted several rose bushes in the patio at Goliad.

Several students from Goliad attended the Runnels dance at the "Y" Friday night. Everyone reported having a lot of fun!

When Sun Goes Down The Jazz Comes Out

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP) — "Those fellows are musicians at heart and you can hardly find that kind anymore . . . they got the beat and that's what counts."

Jazz artist Cliff Jackson was talking about a group called The Greater New Haven Jazz Assn., which swings out with Dixieland for fun and no profit.

Jackson — who has sat in with them — thinks these cats are cool. And they are. But in the daylight you might never know it to meet them.

Take Benji Gaillard for an example. He's president of the association. If you met him during the day he'd probably shake your hand and listen to your money problems. Benjamin T. Gaillard Jr., in daylight and a three button suit, is assistant treasurer of the Union and New Haven Trust Co.

Then there's Steve Dunn. He plays a soprano sax so that if you closed your eyes you'd swear it was Sidney Bechet. That's when he swings. But when he works you'd probably close your eyes and grimace. Dr. H. Lincoln Dunn is a New Haven dentist.

Dunn had much to do with founding the association. He has been extending his practice closer to New York over the years so that he could visit the jazz haunts there and sit in with such pros as Red Allen, Buster Bailey, Eddie Condon and Russell Moore.

COLLEGIATE HIT
His enthusiasm for jazz began one football afternoon 30 years ago at Harvard when he strode along with the university band between halves and belted out the unscheduled "Tiger Rag." It didn't go over big with the faculty but Dunn has been big with his friends ever since.

The organization is a private, non-profit club formed to provide, for people interested in jazz, an opportunity to hear the real thing inexpensively and conveniently.

The real thing is presented by such local personalities as Carlton W. Blanchard, president of Wyatt Inc.; Tom Thibau, vice president of Connecticut Coke; Bud Finch, an early morning New Haven disc jockey; Bill Winnick, a local insurance salesman; Sherman Drutman, a former state senator.

Also included at the swinging sessions are an aircraft engineer, a factory foreman, a tobacco salesman, and a delicatessen business man who hits the drums.

TWO YEARS OLD
The association was officially formed two years ago when the audiences grew too big for the private homes over a 10-year period.

The New Haven Assn. is much like the famed New Orleans club. However, it costs but $5 to join the New Haven club. There are now almost 100 members.

The group also hires guest stars to sit in with them and spark them to a maximum performance. The jam sessions are held at the Town Ho club in Milford. The club's hall is turned over to them for nothing.

Jackson — like Buck Clayton who preceded him as a guest star — thinks the association has some real musicians. After one recent session he said:

"Man, I'm coming back here even if they don't invite me. This was the greatest."

Indiscreet

Ingrid Bergman is indiscreet in "Indiscreet," Sunday through Tuesday at the Sahara, but everything comes out alright before the frothy comedy is over. Cary Grant co-stars.

Council Turns Player Back On

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The singing voice of Frank Sinatra echoed through the City Council chambers as the councilmen took their seats.

"Can't we get that jukebox turned off?" asked Councilman Harold Henry.

A moment later Henry, as presiding officer, banged his gavel and said:

"The chair apologizes. The chair understands the authors of the song just played are in the council chamber to be honored this morning. Put the record back on."

That was how song writers Sammy Cahn and Jimmy Van Heusen received a City Council resolution honoring their current hit song, "To Love And Be Loved."

Civic Theatre In Remarkable Rebirth; Plays Are Chosen

The Civic Theatre, which has been in the doldrums for nearly a year, seems to be having a remarkable rebirth.

Meetings are conducted now on a businesslike basis, with a brisk movement through the agenda with discussion of various problems centered upon those problems and without insertion of side issues or flying off on tangents, and members are volunteering for projects and actually getting them done.

Older heads who had developed a habit of sitting aside to await developments (a trait that is not restricted to the theatre) are catching the new spirit and getting to work.

If this keeps up, the theatre may be able to pay for its Prairie Playhouse without need for a fund drive.

At Thursday's meeting, three plays were finally chosen for summer production. Exact dates have not been set, although it was agreed a three-night run (Thursday through Saturday) for each play would be preferable, and tickets are being now in the process of being printed.

The first play, to be presented early in June, will be "The Seven-Year Itch," a romantic farce in which a married man whose wife's away decides to play — and then discovers he loves his wife too much for that sort of thing.

The second, "The Night of Jan. 16th," promises to be one of the greatest local plays from the standpoint of audience interest. It is a courtroom trial scene, with actors portraying all but the jury and spectators. The audience becomes the spectators, and the jury box is filled from the audience. The show goes right on through the trial, through the jury's verdict (which is entirely up to the jury) and the judge's statement following the verdict. It is the kind of play which keeps people arguing over the outcome for some time. Date will be in mid-summer.

The third play will be "The Four-Poster," the story of a couple from their wedding night to the time, years later, after all their children are grown and married off, when they move from the old house. All the action takes place in their bedroom in the center of which is a giant, old-fashioned four-poster bed. It has a total cast of two persons, a fact which is usually ignored by the spell-bound audiences. Date will be in early September.

Tickets will be sold in block form for the entire season. Prices will be announced within the next few days, before the ducks go to the printer.

The autumn season is already taking shape. Maj. Vincent Brophy, who was the moving power behind last year's production of "The Mikado," and who has served successfully as the Concert Association's president, was given leeway by the Civic Theatre to plan for a musical comedy in mid-autumn.

As of the moment, Brophy is awaiting the scores to "La Perle," a bouncy, humorous myth about the King of Peru, an old role who gets his comeuppance.

Cast Final For 'Little Minister'

Final casting has been made for "The Little Minister," sponsored by the Pastors Assn. and to be staged by the College Players sometime around Easter.

The play, by James Barrie, is set in Scotland many years ago, and is religious in theme. H.C.J. drama chief Fred Short will direct the production.

College students in the cast include Karen Thomas, Alice Lay, Church Worley, Jack Cuipepper, Linda Nichols, Thomas Gregg, Mima Reed, and student directors Sammy Kruse and Margaret Ann Nichols. From the high school drama department come Jessie Paddock, Rhedine Smith, Luann Hood, Bradley Clayton and Warren Schulte.

Barbara Baker, 8-year-old daughter of Dr. Marvin Baker, also is in the cast, as is John Austin, who is also active in the Civic Theatre. Roles were open to any citizen of the community. Cuipepper will play the role of the "little minister," who tries to save the soul of a gypsy girl, to be portrayed by Linda Nichols. Miss Paddock will understudy for this and another role. Austin will be cast as a villainous aristocrat. Rehearsals for "The Little Minister" already are under way.

George Kozachuck, College Players veteran, once said "no more drama." A psych major at NTSC, he seems to have changed his mind. He's taking a course in TV and radio production, will direct "The Terrible Meek," and has a part in a one-act play.

Doyle Phillips, also a College Players ex, can now say he's had professional experience. Latest word is that he got a minor role in a play at a professional theatre in Pasadena, Calif., called "The Playboy." Doyle is attending the Playhouse drama school in Pasadena where he already has won a lead role in a laboratory production. This is unusual for a first-year student.

Perfect Furlough

What GI wouldn't jump at the chance to date a woman like Linda Cristal? That's what Tony Curtis does in "The Perfect Furlough," Sunday through Wednesday at the Ritz. Only trouble is, real-life wife Janet Leigh comes along to complicate matters.

CINEMA COMMENT

By BOB SMITH

"The Perfect Furlough." Lady soldier Janet Leigh comes up with an idea for meeting morale needs of a polar crew, and GI Tony Curtis embellishes; pick one soldier, give him a date in Paris with the world's most beautiful actress (a twist on an old French classic about cadets at France's military academy). Naturally, Tony gets the furlough, real-life wife Janet goes along as chaperone (there's always a string attached) and before you know it, guess which girl wins which boy? There are number of what the publicity crew calls certified laughs. I didn't count quite that many, unless you include a few snickers and chuckles, but it's entertaining froth for all that.

"Tunnel of Love." Richard Widmark again proves his versatility in this sexy farce, and Doris Day as his distaff again proves her charm. Nothing memorable, but diverting.

"Voice in the Mirror." Little or no comedy; just about the starkest drama on the subject since "Lost Weekend." Richard Egan is the bottle baby, Julie London his understanding wife.

"Indiscreet." Veterans Cary Grant and Ingrid Bergman make 90 per cent of this film's appeal, and appeal it has; it's the sometimes amusing, sometimes sweet-sad yarn about a star who goes too far with a bachelor posing as a married man (an odd twist in a romantic comedy full of odd twists).

The Hollywood pipeline: "101 Dalmations," the classic by Dodie Smith, is next on Disney's full-length cartoon agenda and also being considered for much further in the future is one on the life of King Arthur.

The romance of David Niven and Deborah Kerr, as depicted in "Separate Tables," may be carried over into a sequel, name of the picture would be "Table for Two."

Dawson May Become Leading Broiler Producer In W. Texas

By JESS BLAIR
 LAMESA (SC)—Dawson County may soon become the leading broiler county west of Fort Worth. There are already several hundred thousand broilers on feed, and plans are being made for one million.

Boyd Hilley, manager of the Clary Poultry & Egg Co. says this will mean one million birds on the floor at one-time. The total for a year would be several million.

One of the larger plants is located on the Bill David farm two miles south of Lamesa on the Andrews Highway. David has two large houses 30 by 360 feet in size, with each one holding 9,000 birds. He buys the chicks at one day old and feeds them eight weeks when they average three pounds apiece. They are then picked up by the Clary trucks and hauled to a processing plant in Lubbock. From there they are consigned to West Texas grocery stores.

David started in November and has already raised two bunches from each house. He has been well satisfied with the results. The producer is guaranteed 20 cents per pound for the finished broiler. It's up to the feeder to put those pounds on at the lowest cost.

The two houses are equipped with bulk feed bins, automatic waterers and other modern devices. It takes only one man to care for the 18,000 chickens. except when loading, putting down new ones or disinfecting and cleaning up after a bunch has been removed.

Several large broiler houses are being constructed near O'Donnell. Others are located in various parts of the county. All the feed is mixed at the Clary feed mill in the north part of Lamesa, and is hauled to the farms in large trucks.

Hilley, manager of the local office, says that broilers can be grown cheaply here because of the abundance of maize, which is the main feed ingredient in the chick ration.

He says that California may be a potential market for some of the Dawson County broilers.

"Most of them are shipped in from Alabama and Georgia," he pointed out, "and they come right through Texas on their way. Our freight rates are two cents a bird cheaper to the West Coast than theirs."

LOOKS AT BOOKS

By Sam Blackburn

"If we are to win the cold war, there is so much to do and perhaps so little time in which to do it. Much capital, public and private, must be made available to the countries that need it for the development of their resources and for raising their standard of living. If we are to seize the opportunities for peace and prosperity offered us by the modern world, we must contemplate a great increase in our imports. Tariffs and other barriers must be lowered, not raised. Economic nationalism just won't mix with political and military internationalism."

These are excerpts from the views of a Texan who probably has a lot more to do with the shaping of our international economic policies than most Texans dream.

Ellen Clayton Garwood does an excellent job of presenting her illustrious father in a short biography, "Will Clayton." (University of Texas Press, Austin 12, Texas $3.)

From this and other statements contained in the book, and from the special exhibits, the basis becomes evident for the appraisal by John Dagleish in Everybody's Weekly (of London) that "when the full story of the genesis of the Marshall Plan is told, it will become evident that the inspiration was Will Clayton's."

Mrs. Garwood has mixed enough of Will Clayton's upbringing as the son of a Mississippi cotton farmer who went flat broke and then rose to partnership in one of the world's greatest cotton firms (Anderson-Clayton). It is tempered with his romance with Sue Vaughan.

Will Clayton actually spent some time in government during World War I and returned to service during the Roosevelt administrations, finally being brought back into government in 1940 by his fellow Houstonian, Jesse Jones. The impact of his thinking, which stems in part from his own severe childhood and his experiences in international trade, is aptly reflected in Mrs. Garwood's biography.

The book is beautifully done by the University Press, which now is turning out some exceptional work.

DEAR ABBY

THIS IS NATURAL

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I have been married for nine years and we have three children. My mother-in-law always refers to my children as ROY'S children. Whenever she is showing a picture of them she will always say, "These are ROY'S children" never ROY'S and MAXINE'S children. I get so burned up when she does this that I have to clench my fists and grit my teeth to keep from telling her off. Have you any advice on how I can correct this ignorant habit without getting into a fight with her?

BURNED UP
 DEAR BURNED: Listen closely. YOUR parents probably refer to the children as MAXINE'S children. This is a natural "habit" and you'd be wise to overlook it.

DEAR ABBY: I am a man who married a woman who was married twice before. Both of her husbands died. I bought her an especially nice wedding band. She wears it on the same finger with her other two wedding bands. I don't know if I have the right to ask her to please take off her other two wedding bands and wear only mine. Is it proper to wear three at once?

NUMBER THREE
 DEAR THREE: A woman is entitled to wear only one wedding band at a time. Ask her to please put the first two away.

DEAR ABBY: Boy, oh, boy, oh, boy, did I ever see myself in one of your reader's letters! That mother who yelled at her daughter to get her off to school on time could have been me a few years ago. No more! I just wake up the kids, have breakfast on the table, let them help themselves and I go back to bed. If I "help" them get ready I start to pick and nag and work myself into a nervous state. I tell them if they're late, they can make their own excuses because I am not writing any (They haven't been late yet!) Abby, dear, tell those mothers who are nervous wrecks they're making nervous wrecks of their children and they should cut it out.

ONE WHO KNOWS

DEAR ABBY: The young woman who works for my husband gave him a tie for Christmas. Her taste is hideous but he wears the tie constantly just to aggravate me. How would you handle this?

WIFE
 DEAR WIFE: Ignore it. It's knot worth the aggravation.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "LIKES 'EM YOUNG": Careful with whom you "kill time" or you'll be doing some. That chick is under age.

For a personal reply, write to ABBY in care of The Big Spring Herald. Enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Murder Trial Is Scheduled Monday

Elbert Ford, 28, Negro laborer, goes on trial Monday for the knife slaying last Dec. 6 of his brother-in-law, Julian Bedford.

A special venire, as required in capital cases, has been summoned to report to Judge Charlie Sullivan at 10 a.m. Monday. Ninety jurors will be available from which 12 can be chosen to hear the case.

Ford's trial is the first of three in which special venires are required to be heard in the next five weeks.

He was indicted by the last grand jury on a charge of murder with malice. Bond was set at $10,000 in his case but he was never able to post bail. He has been held in jail since the night of Dec. 6.

At the time of his arrest, Ford told police that his brother-in-law and his wife had been quarreling.

Gentry To Retire

DALLAS (AP)—William Gentry will retire March 1 as first vice president of the Dallas Federal Reserve Bank and will be succeeded by Harry Shuford, a native of Tyler.

He said he interceded in behalf of his sister.

He took the officers to 809 Pine St., where the fatal affray had developed, and showed them the knife which had been hidden in the drain of an old bathtub.

Bedford, an employe on the Capehart housing project, was stabbed around 9:30 p.m. He died an hour later.
