Big Spring's $2 Million Budget To Hike Taxes

Public Hearing Slated Tuesday

Big Spring's $2 million budget for the coming year will provide raises for most of the city employees, a drastic enlargement of the engineering department, and the first year's payment on the comprehensive master plan—in addition to regular operating expenses.

But it will also provide for an additional 30 cents on the tax rate.

City Manager A. K. Steinheimer presented the prospective budget to the City Commission at a special meeting Thursday night. The budget showed expenditures of about $1,936,000 which included the raises, etc.

This compared with the budget of about $1,714,000 of last year, an increase of 13 per cent.

Out of the total, $135,741.25 will go toward tax bond debt service, $964,665.64 in General Fund expenses, $673,873.28 for water department operation and payment for water, $92,999.73 for water and sewer revenue bond payments, and $19,907.36 for parking meter fund operations. In addition, the city will spend $1,000 at the airport, $20,148 in the City Cemetery, and $28,100 in operations of the swimming pool and golf course.

Expected revenues are principally $763,055 in the General Fund after $100,000 has been transferred to the Interest & Sinking Fund, and $895,836.50 in water and sewer department collections.

Bulk of the General Fund revenue is from current taxes ($540,000) and garbage collection fees ($130,000).

In preparing the budgets, the city manager recommended upping the current rate from the last year's $1.20 to $1.50. He proposed to break this down $1.12 for General Fund expenses, 28 cents for tax bond obligations, and 10 cents for the master plan.

First year's cost of the master plan should be $36,000, Steinheimer estimated.

The increase of $161,000 in General Fund expenditures over last year includes the master plan, an additional $22,000 for increased personnel and services of the engineering department, $16,000 added in the fire department to include a fulltime fire marshal, $14,000 for the public works department to increase service, $20,000 to expand the garbage collection system, and $31,000 for building up a reserve for replacement of equipment.

On the salary sheet, Steinheimer recommended raises for several department chiefs and other employees in the city hall. He also recommended creating a position of assistant city manager to be filled by the purchasing agent, Roy Anderson. Steinheimer said he would slowly work Anderson out of the purchasing system, giving him added responsibilities as an assistant.

In addition, he recommended

Abducted Woman Proved Spunky

LOGAN, W. Va. (AP)—Elma Baldwin, scared but spunky, hit her ex-convict captor on the head with a hammer in an effort to free herself and her three children.

The story of the six hours she and her children were forced to spend with their kidnaper, Richard Arlen Payne, was related Thursday night by Mrs. Baldwin via telephone to reporter Don Marsh of the Charleston Gazette.

Payne was captured at a state police roadblock here.

"I knew if I was going to do anything," said Mrs. Baldwin, "I'd better do it before we left South Charleston."

She told this story.

"I was pretty scared. He'd threatened to torture and kill the children. I didn't know what was going to happen. We stopped at a service station in Spring Hill.

There was a hammer under the front seat and I whispered to my oldest boy to hand it to me when I made a signal.

"I motioned with my hand and the boy gave me the hammer. We were stopped at the service station. I knew he could have been an attendant wasn't paying any attention to us."

"I hit him with a hammer, hard, in the back of the head. Then I hit him another lick in the forehead.

"It made a deep cut in his head and it bled a lot.

"It didn't seem to make him too mad. He took the hammer away from me and said I couldn't hurt him. He said he'd been hit in the head so much it didn't make any difference.

Then we drove out on Davis Creek, past Ruth and on into Lincoln County. I got lost after that. I had no idea where we were."

"I kept trying to talk to him. I wanted him to take his mind off the children.

"We drove around over back roads all night. I was afraid to go to sleep. He didn't sleep either. Actually, he was real nice to us."

Knott Couple Hurt In Mishap

Two persons were hospitalized as a result of a collision between a milk truck and a car two miles north of Big Spring at 9:20 a.m. today.

F. E. Little, 60, of Knott, has a fractured wrist, concussion of the chest, possible knee injuries and abrasions. Mrs. Little has a fractured wrist and a fractured ankle and painful bruises.

They are in Cowper Hospital and Clinic where they were taken by Nalley-Pickle ambulance. Their condition at noon was described as good.

Jack Hackney, deputy sheriff, who with his fellow deputy Tommy Cole, investigated the accident, said it occurred in front of the Poor Boy Service Station on the Lamesa highway about two miles north of town.

The officer reported that the milk truck, driven by Stanley Wesley Griffin, 20, of Big Spring, and operated by Foremost Dairies, was going north. Griffin sought to turn into the service station.

The Littles also traveling north crashed into the rear of the truck. The car in which they were riding was extensively damaged.

Sure Signs Of Spring

Before the duster hit, that is. It was a perfect prelude to spring Thursday afternoon when Sue Patterson, pretty high school senior, sniffed this young blossom before a backdrop of budding willow in Birdwell Park. Today's winds provided what is probably more typical of spring in this area—dust, dust, dust. (Keith McMillin Photo)

Spring Due Early Saturday, Buds Swell, Flowers Bloom

If you want to see the advent of 1959 Spring,—be up Saturday morning at 2:55 o'clock.

That's when winter ends, spring arrives and theoretically everything should be just hunky-dory.

The nasty chill which has been so persistently sticking around; the sea-brown coloring which has stuck to the countryside and perhaps the nasty brown dust which mars the pristine blue of the skies should be done with.

Spring, as every poet has warbled, is the season of flowers, green grass, swelling buds and beautiful days. That's what it should be.

A few bold-hearted trees have budded. Some flowering shrubs have shown. Violets are blooming and bulbs putting forth. The harder wild grass is taking advantage

Police Radarmen Nab 43 Speeders

The police department handed out 43 traffic speeding tickets Thursday afternoon, using the radar unit. This is the first time that the unit has been in operation in several months.

Police Chief C. L. Rogers said that the department used the unit on W. 4th and on Gregg and didn't issue a ticket to persons driving less than 40 m.p.h. in the 30 mile zones. The maximum speed recorded was 55, the chief said.

The radar unit has been in the shop for repairs, said Rogers, but now that it is ready to use again, it will be employed often in an attempt to cut down on speeding violators.

Freeze Forecast For Area Tonight

Winds ranging up to as much as 45 miles per hour, dust in abundance, dropping temperatures—that's the weather menu for today and tonight.

Despite the official arrival of spring, due tomorrow at 2:55 a.m., the weather forecast calls for sub-freezing temperatures to be in operation. Saturday will be cooler with partly cloudy skies.

Family Pawns Rescued After Terror Ride

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP)—A 29-year-old mother and her three children, pawns in an ex-convict's mad scheme against a former cellmate, were rescued by state police after being held captive for 20 hours.

Richard A. Payne, 23, surrendered late Thursday afternoon at a roadblock near Logan, 70 miles south of here, after firing two shots at trailing police. He had planned to use Mrs. John Baldwin and her children as a wedge to force the release of Burton Junior Post from the state penitentiary.

Payne had vowed vengeance—and death — on Post and threatened torture and death to his hostages if his demands were not met. The men were cellmates for 17 months of Payne's seven years in prison.

Talking freely and calmly with reporters, Payne said flatly: "If they send me back to the pen, I'm going to kill Post. They can't keep me from him in there. I just hope he's ready for me."

Payne did not go into detail as to the cause of his pent-up passion against Post. Thursday Post told a guard at the penitentiary he had no idea what Payne had against him.

Payne was released from prison eight days ago. Today, the sallow, heavy-lidded young man faces kidnaping charges. He was held at Kanawha County Jail.

In jail, Payne stuck to his story of why he kidnaped the 29-year-old mother and her children from their home in nearby South Charleston Wednesday night.

WANTED HOSTAGES

He said he wanted them as hostages to force the release of his one-time cellmate, Burton Junior Post, 31, from the penitentiary so that he could kill Post.

Payne said he had planned the kidnaping for about two weeks but didn't select the Baldwins as his victims until he went to their home—three doors away from his house—and gained admittance on the pretext of wanting to use the telephone.

"I regret only that I was caught before I got Post," Payne said. "I was going to get his head and sort of preserve it. He's an enemy of my existence, and I hate him!" He described his feeling toward Post as "hatred at first sight."

Payne gave that motive for the kidnaping in a weird note addressed to Gov. Cecil H. Underwood of West Virginia. The note threatened torture and death to the children if Payne's demand for Post's release was not met.

Payne left the note in the Baldwin home when he drove off in the family car with Mrs. Baldwin and Susan S. Danny, 7, and Kenneth, 10. The husband and father, John H. Baldwin, 30, was left behind, tied and gagged.

Despite the threats in his macabre note, Payne did not harm his captives. "I couldn't have killed them after I got to know them," he said later.

"It was the most horrible experience I ever had," Mrs. Baldwin said. "They gave information to back up the Nike-Zeus antimissile now under development."

After the hush-hush tests became known, Deputy Secretary of Defense Donald Quarles told a news conference Thursday:

1. The world's first known nuclear blasts in space helped the national security.

2. The tests advanced the basis of knowledge required to develop antimissile missiles; they produced results that will be used in perfecting radar systems needed to put an antimissile missile on course; they gave information to back up the Nike-Zeus antimissile now under development.

3. The explosions 300 miles above the South Atlantic will help U.S. offensive weapons.

Questions about the "how" of these statements got no answers. Pentagon officials, however, in-

Space Blasts Invaluable, But Details Still Lacking

WASHINGTON (AP)—America's spectacular high altitude nuclear blasts produced valuable information for both military men and scientists, officials say.

But they are talking only in general terms about knowledge gained from the three space explosions late last summer which sent a man-made electronic sheet around the world.

High Bomb In Earth's Magnetic Field

Schematic drawing indicates the earth's magnetic field, with symbol depicting a nuclear bomb exploding high in space, releasing countless electrons into space above earth's atmosphere. News of three such high-in-space explosions by the U.S. last fall brought word from Dr. Herbert York, director of Pentagon research, that trapping of these electrons by the earth's magnetic field created a great sheet encircling the globe. Another official and these tests were an effort to spread a shield through which missile warheads could not fly.

Easter Series Starts Soon

Be sure to watch for "Epistles from a Roman," a fresh approach to Easter reading by Associated Press Religion Writer Tom Henshaw. The series, in the form of letters written by a Roman soldier stationed in Jerusalem, tells of the events leading up to the Crucifixion and their effect on one witness. The first of the five articles will appear Monday in the Herald.

Blowing Board Is Blamed For Injury

Mrs. H. A. Burns was injured about noon Friday in a freak accident at 812 W. 3rd. Extent of her injuries could not be determined.

Mrs. Burns was carrying a board near the Corder Service Station at 812 W. 3rd, and the high winds evidently knocked it out of her hand. She then suffered a blow on the back of her head, either from the board or as she fell. She was rushed to Medical Arts Hospital for treatment by a River ambulance.

DEAR ABBY

TAKE A TUB, BUB

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I'm so ashamed of my problem I don't even know how to say it. Well, my husband is one of those stubborn kind. You can't tell him anything. He isn't a drinker. He doesn't chase. He goes to church and maybe I shouldn't complain but here it is: He thinks it's foolish to take a bath in the winter. Abby, I have hinted, made suggestions, opened windows and burned incense, but nothing helps. He says a man doesn't have to smell like a "lily of the valley." Outside of that he is dandy. Can you please help me get him into a tub before Easter?

DEAR OVERCOME: A man doesn't have to smell like a lily of the valley — neither does he have to smell like a mountain goat. Quit hinting, opening windows and burning incense. Tell him plainly, "If you want ME next to YOU, get next to yourself, Honey, and take a tub, Bub!" (And use plenty of soft soap if you have to.)

DEAR ABBY: What is a girl supposed to do when she wants to be popular? I try to be friendly with a boy but I don't want to get the reputation of being fast. I kiss them good night, but they aren't satisfied to stop there. They want more. How does a girl act towards a fellow who, when she gives him an inch wants the whole hand?

DEAR THELMA: Compromise. Give him the BACK of your hand.

DEAR ABBY: I think you were wrong when you told that party that people should call on the phone before coming over. I think that is one of the reasons why families and friends are drifting apart. Far as I'm concerned, any time a friend of ours thinks enough of us to come and visit us, we welcome them. Please print this as I know a lot of people will agree that you are wrong and I am right. Also, tell Andrea for me that we bought a "welcome mat" for our front door before we had a telephone.

DEAR READER: Sorry, I can't agree with you. Most people are not prepared for company "any time." A telephone call in advance is not too big a price to pay for a warm welcome.

DEAR ABBY: My husband thinks we should take our children to church from the time they are two months old. They cry and wiggle and nearly drive me crazy. I don't get a thing out of the services. We have a nursery but he won't let me leave the children there. He has the idea that a baby must learn to sit quietly in church. Says he had to do it when he was small. What can I do? I might as well stay home.

DEAR STUMPED: I agree that children should be taught to sit quietly in church, but if they are too young to understand what's going on and spoil the services for others, they should be left elsewhere.

Are your parents square? Get ABBY'S booklet "What Every Teen-ager Wants To Know." Send 25 cents and a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope to ABBY in care of the Big Spring Herald.

Hemingway Work Finest TV Drama

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP)—"For Whom the Bell Tolls," which "Playhouse 90" presented in two parts ending Thursday night on CBS-TV, was the finest drama of the current television season.

A. E. Hotchner's faithful dramatization of Ernest Hemingway's novel about a group of loyalist guerrillas in the Spanish civil war was brilliantly played by an outstanding cast under the imaginative direction of John Frankenheimer. Producer Fred Coe, deserves the gratitude of everyone interested in better TV drama.

Despite the handicap of appearing in two installments and being interrupted by too many strident commercials, seldom have actors developed their roles more compellingly and creatively on television than did the cast assembled for Hemingway's story of human bondage under imminent death.

Jason Robards Jr. and Maria Schell gave tremendous performances as they movingly portrayed a passionate love affair that ended in inevitable tragedy. As the indomitable Pilar, who refused to shun responsibility, Maureen Stapleton was magnificent. Eli Wallach as the irresponsible gypsy Rafael was equally fine.

One of the most memorable performances was that of Nehemiah Persoff as Pablo, the guerrilla leader who wavered between courage and cowardice.

In the early part of the first episode, the literal-minded Pablo have been troubled by the phrasing with which Hemingway suggested the Spanish language. As the drama progressed, however, the dignity of language underscored the beauty of the work.

The final battle scene of the taped production was infused with a clarity and authenticity rarely achieved in the medium.

There was nothing dated about "For Whom the Bell Tolls." It made a powerful dramatic statement of man's hope and man's fate in the universal terms of love and war, courage and cowardice.

This production should be presented again on CBS—without commercials or a break of seven days.

Mullen Out Over Atlantic

HOUSTON (AP)—Bill Mullen, attempting a record flight, was out over the North Atlantic in his light plane today and everything "looks wonderful," a local backer said.

Joel Cummings, owner of a private flight service here and a backer of Mullen's trip, said Mullen was ahead of schedule and would have landed at Newfoundland if there was any doubt at all that he could reach Rome.

Mullen took off from here yesterday at 6:35 a.m. and hoped to reach Rome shortly after noon (CST) today.

Mullen designed the 5,800-mile flight in a Mooney Mark 20 single-engine plane to break the 1949 Class III record of 4,957 miles set by the late Bill Odom.

The Class IV record for heavier planes is 6,856 miles set by Pat Boling last year.

Cadillac

A Wonderful Story... Told in Silence!

There are many ways, certainly, to describe the quality of the great Cadillac car. But we think no one tells the story quite as well—or quite as convincingly—as the car itself.

And how does a Cadillac put it? Well, the next time you are in the "car of cars"—just listen!

Listen to its absolute freedom from vibration. Here, it says, is the kind of craftsmanship that can only come from years of devotion to the very highest quality ideals.

Then listen to its extraordinary freedom from wind noise. Here, it says, is true perfection in styling—as scientifically sound as it is majestically beautiful.

Or listen to the incredible quiet of that great engine. Here, it says, is truly masterful engineering—with every phase of the car's performance working in perfect harmony.

And listen to the marvelous manner in which it closes out the sound of a city's traffic. Here, it says, you will find perfect serenity and security throughout even the longest of journeys—a wonderful sanctuary in a busy world.

Yes, just listen—and we think you'll agree that the Cadillac story is never more eloquent than when told by the "voice" of its own silence.

In fact, we earnestly suggest that you visit your authorized Cadillac dealer very soon—and spend an hour or so in the driver's seat.

You will find that your dealer is long practiced in the art of satisfying a motorist's personal needs and requirements—and he will make you his welcome guest at any time.

200 London Delinquents Toss A Brawl

By RAYMOND PALMER
LONDON (AP)—Nearly 300 not so juvenile society delinquents threw a drunken brawl in a London subway train Thursday night, but apparently nobody got arrested.

The revellers included debutantes, models, young Guards officers, university undergraduates and members of titled and socialite families.

The mob swarmed into a compartment of a train in the fashionable Chelsea district, armed with bottles, glasses and 35-cent tickets for a 13-mile, 50-minute round trip.

Bewildered passengers—including an elderly parson—escaped as soon as possible, but not before a homeward bound businessman parked his umbrella, doffed his bowler hat and floored an unruly party boy with an uppercut.

The shouting, fighting and drinking continued from station to station. Subway police chucked out a dozen or so of the unruliest at each station, but some got back into other cars.

At Baker Street the police made a determined assault and chased 50 sweating girls along the platform and up the stairs. Someone stopped the train for five minutes by pulling the emergency cord. Police struggles with the partygoers held it up at other points.

Survivors who made it back to Chelsea roared out into the street, leaving the train littered with empty bottles and broken glasses. The determined little band wound its way to an apartment and switched to pajamas.

Neighbors called the cops to stop the noise. The party adjourned to another apartment, and stragglers who caught up were told they couldn't get in without pajamas.

"Let's just strip," said a brunette, starting to take off her jacket.

"I say, steady on, old girl," said her escort, a Guards officer.

She staided.

Once more the police rolled up in answer to neighbors' complaints. Again the party moved on, but its further route was not chronicled.

"I had a funny feeling something would go wrong," complained Maureen (Biddy) Lyle-Purdy, 24, a half-sister of Lady Sordale and the organizer of the soiree.

Fire Trap To Help Experts

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Fire! The school's on fire!

A cry to rip at a town's heart, to bring hysteria and heartbreak. Next month an old school building—a regular fire trap—will go up in flames while firemen stand by and watch. They'll put the torch to it themselves.

What happens then could save your child's life.

This will be one school fire that was planned ahead of time. Flames will roar up drafty open stairways, through transoms. They'll lick through wooden floors in a three-story school considered a potential death trap—a school a lot like those still filling with youngsters five days a week in some places.

Fire experts from over the nation will be watching the unusual experiment. It was born after Chicago's tragic school fire last Dec. 2 killed 91 persons, mostly children.

The Los Angeles Fire Department wants to see just what happens when flames sweep through an old building. The firemen also want to try various ways of stopping the fire.

For that purpose, they're installing automatic sprinkler systems in some sections, also thicker transoms and doors in some classrooms.

Inspections this year, touched off by the Chicago fire, showed many fire hazards in Los Angeles private and public schools. Some were easily corrected; some have caused buildings to be condemned. The fest building, Robert Louis Stevenson Junior High School, was abandoned because of foundation flaws. It is more than 30 years old.

"Operation school fire," starts April 11. At least 14 separate fires, sealed off from one another, are planned.

Fire officials feel it will take much of the guess work out of school safety precautions.

They think, too, it will help them save lives when somebody shouts "The school's on fire!"

Scientist Tells Of Moon Rocket

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—A space scientist says a seven-stage rocket to take man to the moon within the next four years is in the planning stages.

The rocket, called Nova, was described at a conference here Thursday by Dr. Abe Silverstein, director of space flight development for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

Silverstein said the first three stages will be 260 feet tall—about equal to a 26-story building. He gave no details of the final four stages.

The first three stages will power the rocket to the moon. It may carry two or three men. A fourth stage will slow the rocket down for landing on the moon, and the other three will return it to earth.

Lamesa Calls $2.1 Million Bond Election For April 7

LAMESA — The Lamesa City Council Thursday called for an April 7 bond election to include six separate issues, proposals which the council considers to be the most imminent needs facing the city. The five new issues total $2,103,000.

The issues are as follows:
From revenue bonds: $760,000 water improvement bonds; $470,000 sewer improvement bonds;

$854,000 water and sewer refunding bonds.
From general obligation bonds — $548,000 disposal plant removal; $200,000 street improvement and $125,000 municipal building improvement.

J. M. Barker, representing First Southwest Co., appeared before the proposed bond election. Mayor J. D. Dyer, members of the council and City Manager C. A. Taylor are appearing before civic clubs this week to outline the needs of the city in regard to the bond election.

In other business at the council meeting, the mayor was authorized to sign an agreement with Roberts, Terriman, Bowden and Isbell for engineering service for the city with the agreement to remain in force two years.
The council also extended a 1956 paving contract with E. W. Cope and increased the contract price approximately 10 per cent on unit prices. The cost to the property owner on a 40-foot street will increase from $3.25 per foot to about $3.65 per foot.

Five Of Six Issues Endorsed By C-C

LAMESA — The Lamesa Chamber of Commerce board of directors went on record this morning endorsing five of the city bond proposals to go before voters in the April 7 election.
The executive board approved the action by a 10-3 vote after hearing a recommendation from the Civic Development Committee in a report by Chairman C. W. Tarter.
The committee had unanimously adopted a recommendation to approve five of the six proposals and passed over the other issue. The executive board thus accepted the committee's recommendation and voted to publicly endorse the proposals.
It was pointed out in the directors' meeting that the Chamber does not normally go on record for or against a public issue, but usually works to disseminate information and facts and urge people to vote their convictions.

In passing over the municipal building improvement proposal, Tarter told the board that the civic development group apparently felt that the city needs new city hall facilities but had rather see new construction in the future. The $125,000 municipal building issue calls for the purchase of the Nix property across the street from the City Hall and the renovation of the buildings for city hall offices.
The proposals endorsed by the group included water improvement, disposal plant removal, street improvement and water and sewer refunding bonds. It was pointed out that the water and sewer refunding bonds must pass to accomplish the other proposals and does not increase the indebtedness of the city.

LETTER

Discusses Reason For Consolidation

Dear Editor:
I write this letter in response to some remarks heard over the air concerning the proposed Ackery-Knott School Consolidation. Due to apparent concern and outspoken views expressed, I think the public should be properly informed. With due respect to personal opinion, to which we all have a right, some of these might reach people to whom no other version of the issue might be available. I take this opportunity to state some reasons behind this movement.
The primary purpose of the proposed consolidation is to assure our children and every child within a reasonable distance from this proposed school location, of an education second to none; of an inherent right; one of which we feel any honest citizen will not and would not want to deprive them. Why any outside interest would want to, I don't know.
We have been asleep, you might say, but we have awakened to our responsibility. We at Knott are aware of the debt at Ackery, and we know how much it is. Those at Ackery know how much ours is, and we both know what the two debts add up to. Well, that could be sufficient to scare some folks off, but not us. Vote another $325,000 in bonds to build a new modern junior and senior high school building at a central, convenient point? Yes. A preliminary informal vote in both school districts says so by a considerable margin.
Now you're going to pay this will raise taxes; right, it will. We know how much, and actually it's less than we expected since it will be spread over much more territory. We discussed the tax issue first and then voted on the proposition. There is no intent to undermine or distort facts or force anyone into this merger. All we expect from Knott or Ackery, or ever expected, was to do the will of the people involved.

We also expect to offer our adjoining school districts to the east and west, including Vealmoor, Gay Hill and Flower Grove, a voluntary opportunity to align with us if they see fit. If this should materialize, we would have a potential over-all enrollment of between 700-800 students with a modern grade school located in each community, with a central high school which would offer any course a high school student would want, including foreign language, music, band, complete science, physics, mathematics, etc., which, standing alone, none of our schools could offer.
At this point the old saying again comes true that "together we stand and divided we fall." So in closing I say, thank God we on the local levels involved still have the inherent right to decide the destiny of the future realms of education for our respective communities, and trusting that our concept of human values will be held higher than the value of the dollar, or the opinions of outside interests, we stand solid on our proposed action.
Sincerely,
LARRY SHAW
P.S. We have no intention of including anyone on plans for this consolidation who cannot show evidence by a preliminary vote of their people, that a majority favor consolidation. We leave the doors open for their voluntary consideration.

Coahoma Lions Get Report On Coming Events

COAHOMA (SC) — Coming events were boosted before the Coahoma Lions Club on Thursday, including the ABC relays and annual county stock show next week, the district Lions parley in May and the Soap-Box Derby in June.
The club also crowded in several items of business in a fast-moving program at Hiway Cafe.
Jimmy Taylor, county agent and general superintendent of the stock show, said that it appeared 115 youngsters would exhibit some 25 calves, 100 lambs and 50 capons. About a third of the number would be from the Coahoma community, he said. Weighing in and making ready for the show will be on Wednesday and the traditional sale and barbecue Thursday.
Bob Rogers, KBST radio and publicity chairman for the relays, told the club that several hundred athletes, including some of the nation's outstanding ones, would be in the big track and field show in Big Spring March 27-28. Coahoma is numbered among the large group of high schools participating. In addition, there are 13 junior colleges sending teams and eight colleges and universities.
Eldon Mahon, Colorado City, urged attendance at the last district 2-T-2 convention which will be held May 8-9 in Colorado City. At that meeting, this area will pass into district 2-A-1. The convention shapes up as one of the largest and liveliest in years, he said.
Joe Pickle told about the June 25 Soap Box Derby to be sponsored by the Downtown Lions Club in cooperation with the Herald and Tidwell Chevrolet. A record field is entered, he said.
R. A. Foster, president, said a ladies' night affair was being planned for possibly sometime in May to honor some members who are moving from Coahoma. He also said the broom sale would be held in May, possibly May 16. Ralph White, Fred Salling and John Westmoreland were named as a committee to work with Walker Bailey, Big Spring, on a good will dinner date. The club voted to start a birthday bank with all proceeds going to the blind and sight conservation fund. O. D. O'Daniel said that the club had sent in one application for a child to take part in the Texas Lions Crippled Children's Camp at Kerrville. Reports at the meeting were made on repainting of city street signs.

English Pupil Compares Two School Systems

Christine Brownlee, 16, now a senior in the Big Spring High School but until this year a student in schools in her native England, is puzzled over the "hero worship" attached to high school athletic events in this country.
Miss Brownlee, who started her school career at the age of four (which she said is not at all uncommon in England), finds many puzzling differences in educational procedure here as compared to that she has known for 12 years of her life.
Christine is the daughter of Sgt. and Mrs. Richard Pinkley. Sgt. Pinkley is stationed at Webb AFB and the family moved to Big Spring last September.
She spoke at the Thursday luncheon meeting of the Big Spring Kiwanis Club. Her talk was on the British method of education and its differences as compared to the American system.
Bennie Pierson, high school counselor, was program chairman for the day. He told the Kiwanians that the difference in methods employed in English schools as compared to American made it a problem to determine accurately where Miss Brownlee should begin her American school work.
He said she was finally enrolled as a senior and that she has demonstrated beyond all question her capabilities to carry that work. She is enrolled in more subjects than the average student and is making better grades.
Miss Brownlee's comments were heard with deep interest by the Kiwanians who devoted about 20 minutes time to asking her questions about her former school experience after she had completed her formal talk.
Two vocal selections were presented by Ronnie Phillips with Jack Hendrix at the piano.

Bishop Heads Repeal Move In Oklahoma

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — The Rt. Rev. Chilton Powell, Episcopal bishop of Oklahoma, will be chairman of a 24-member committee assisting in the campaign for repeal of prohibition in the state.
The repeal movement is sponsored by United Oklahomans for Repeal. A statewide television program launched the campaign Thursday night.
Oklahoma has been constitutionally dry since statehood in 1907 and will vote on the issue April 7.

Cause . . .
This is Isabel Sarli, sexy new queen of the Argentine movie industry.

. . . And The Effect
Here's what happened when Isabel tried to move through the crowd into a Buenos Aires theater for the premiere of her latest movie. She fainted twice but survived.

Argentina Finds Answer To Brigitte

By VERONICA GIRALDEZ
BUENOS AIRES (AP)—"Sa . . . Sa . . . Sarli. Sa . . . Sa . . . Sarli."
The chant erupted as Argentina's sexiest film queen, Isabel Sarli, slid out of a car at the premiere of her second motion picture, "Sabaleros." Young film fans broke through a police cordon and in an avalanche mobbed the buxom star, ripping her blue low-cut gown.
As the chant grew louder, the mob pressed tighter. The surging fans shattered glass posters, police whistles blared and Isabel fainted. Husky bodyguards had to lift her on their shoulders and slug their way through to safety behind the glass walls of the ticket booth.
Buenos Aires movie-goers could not remember a more surprising and delicious reception for an Argentine movie actress.
Local propaganda boasts that Isabel was more audacious than France's Brigitte, Italy's Gina and Sofia Loren or Marilyn Monroe and Jayne Mansfield had done the trick. The premiere was a sellout. Buenos Aires movie-goers could not remember a more surprising and delicious reception for an Argentine movie actress.
Argentina's movie critics roundly rapped "Sabaleros," a tale of fishing folk. But the frenzied multitude of fans loved every minute of it, particularly when Isabel shed her scanty fishing costume and plunged into a lazy lagoon.
The crowd rushed Isabel again as she left the premiere. Crushed and bruised, but always smiling, she finally escaped to safety in a convertible.
The film and the premiere have nailed down Isabel's fame as Argentina's most talked-about actress. Only a few months ago, she emerged from virtual obscurity with her first nude swim in her film debut, a Paraguayan tale called "Thunder Among the Leaves."
The film critics said Isabel's acting was better in her second movie—but only because she spoke fewer lines than in her first outing.
But the critics did concede her one orchid—"we don't need to see any more Brigittes, we've got our own."
Isabel, soft-spoken off the screen, takes it all in stride. Nursing the bruises on her arms and legs suffered at the premiere, she murmured: "I was a bit frightened there for a moment. But when I caught my breath, I thought it was all wonderful."

Teachers Accused Of Fighting Bill To Solve Shortage

AUSTIN (AP)—The Texas State Teachers Assn. has been accused of fighting a bill aimed at helping solve the shortage of teachers.
Rep. Maud Isaacks of El Paso said yesterday the TSTA was issuing "misleading and inaccurate information" on her measure. It would let provisional teaching certificates be issued to junior and senior high school teachers if they had bachelor of arts degrees and did not have the currently required teacher education courses. About 80 representatives have co-signed the bill.
The TSTA claims it would bring about a breakdown in professional teacher's standards. It issued a bulletin asking school administrators to call meetings of Parent-Teacher Assn. units and try to discuss the bill before local service and civic clubs.

"It is a fact that a professor with a doctor of philosophy degree and 20 years of experience in teaching higher mathematics is not qualified under our existing laws to teach seventh grade arithmetic in our junior high schools," Miss Isaacks said in a statement.
"This absurd situation exists because junior and high school teachers are required to have a minimum of 24 hours in so-called courses in education. No such courses are required of college professors."

Week's Video Entertaining

By CHARLES MERCER
NEW YORK (AP)—Entertainment can be informing—and information can be entertaining. Look at some of the offerings on the television networks Sunday (all times Eastern Standard):
Psychoanalysts are forever interviewing people, so it should be informative—and entertaining—to hear an outstanding analyst, Dr. Karl Menninger, being the subject of an interview for a change: On "Wisdom" over NBC Sunday at 2 p.m.
At 2:30 on CBS Sen. John Kennedy of Massachusetts and Arthur Larson, former aide to President Eisenhower, are among those debating the question of "Can Democracy Meet the Space Age Challenge?"
Changing its time for this Sunday only, "Meet the Press" interviews poet Robert Frost at 4:30 on NBC. At the same hour on CBS Leonard Bernstein and the New York Philharmonic will demonstrate how composers through the ages have employed wit and satire in their works.
Eavesdropping is one of the most entertaining pastimes for some humans, and wiretapping is the scientifically informed method of accomplishing it. "The Big Ear" on "Kaleidoscope" at 5 p.m. over NBC is an examination of wiretapping and its implications.
On "Small World" at 6 over CBS Edward R. Murrow leads Noel Coward, James Thurber and actress Siobhan McKenna into a discussion of wit and humor in the theater today. At the same hour on NBC "The Bell Telephone Science Series" repeats "The Unchained Goddess," showing how scientists study, analyze and forecast the weather.

Educator Quits
DALLAS (AP)—Dr. F. Kenneth Brasted, president of the University of Dallas since its founding in 1955, resigned last night effective at the close of the current academic year. He said he wanted to consider other opportunities in business and industry.
