Citizens Protest Hike In City's Budget, Public Hearing Recessed

About a dozen citizens appeared before the City Commission Tuesday night protesting and commenting on the $2 million budget for the coming year. Others will have a chance also. After hearing the complaints, the commission decided to extend the public hearing with a special session next Tuesday night. Commissioner Ward Hall said that the commission owed it to the people to give them another chance to speak. He said the budget hearing was a rather "jumped up affair" since the commission hadn't gotten a chance to see the budget until last week. So he felt the need of extending the time. Another commission meeting will be held in the council room of the City Hall next Tuesday at 5:15 p.m. to take up where the session last night ended. Although generally raked over the coals, the commission said it was gratified at the interest shown by the people. Mayor G. W. Dabney commended the citizens for their interest; "This is the first time in many years that anyone had seen fit to come up and speak in connection with the spending of the city's money." Most of the budget hearing was in complaint, with salaries—principally the city manager's—garbage collection, taxes and the recent revaluation program, the engineering department, the cemetery and annexation matters coming in for comment. PAY HIKE QUESTIONED Several attacks were made on the salary increase for the city manager. The commission last week voted to hike A. K. Steinheimer's salary from $10,800 to $12,000. He had not recommended the increase in suggesting pay hikes for city employees. During questioning by H. W. Wharton, local accountant, Steinheimer said he felt the job he merited a salary of about $13,500, and Mayor Dabney said that the average salary for manager of cities of Big Spring's size was $13,265. The mayor later said he would make no apologies for the increase in Steinheimer's salary although the man had been here only three months. Members of the commission indicated that when conversations were held with Steinheimer about employment here, there was agreement that the salary preferred would be adjusted when budget provisions would permit. Mrs. David Waldo Jones called the increase "fabulous" in comparison with the raises for other employees on the city payroll. Most of the city employees got raises of five per cent while some "key" employees were granted more substantial raises. Mrs. Jones, in speaking about the raises mentioned the bigger budget every year, and the tax hikes necessary to support the changes. She asked what would happen to pensioners who have a set income. She said that the city should live within its income. REVALUATION Dick Hooper and several others mentioned the tax revaluation survey which was made last year. He said that it was his understanding that when the revaluation program was completed last year, there would be no more tax hikes for some time. He was assured by the commission that no statement was made nor was the city able to make any to that effect. The taxes, he was told, must be recalculated from year to year to meet the needs. Hooper said that he was convinced that the 30-cent tax raise this year—from a $1.20 rate in 1958 to $1.50 this year—would be followed by another next year, and he urged the city to hold a tight rein on the budget. He said he felt the city was being taken by annexations and subdivisions. Even though the developers are required to pay for street paving, and water and sewer lines, Hooper said that it is the original townsite property owners who are having to bear the tax burden of the new areas. To this, the commission argued that although it took time, the new additions will come into a supporting basis. Also, the charges for annexation and subdivision engineering which is done by the city will be increased so developers will bear more of the load. Hooper also charged the city engineering department was poor. He cited the inverted crown streets as an example. R. H. Weaver questioned the great jump in expenditures in the engineering department, from about $39,000 last year to $63,000. He asked if that jump will make the city engineering department adequate to handle all business. "Any way," he said, "let's put in the budget what we can afford."

HELP NEEDED Steinheimer explained that the extra money was needed to hire another field crew and also an office and design engineer. The manager said that the present city engineer, Clifton Bellamy, was so overworked that he had to have time to get out of the office and inspect the work of his department. Most of his time is consumed by developers. Garbage collections came in for plenty of complaints too. Robert Evans said he had complained many times about garbage collections and had not received much consideration. His complaint was seconded by several others present. Evans said his garbage cans were not up to city specifications because the garbage men had beaten them out of shape and size. Steinheimer said he would do what he could to improve the service. He added that it is the city's aim to strive to improve its service every hour. Evans also mentioned the cemetery charges and the city manager said he wanted to increase the rates for cemetery care and to try to set up a perpetual care fund which will be handled by the banks. This perpetual care will mean just that, he said, and it is working in many cities. Evans said he would be willing to pay a cemetery tax if necessary to see the cemetery maintained properly. He said he felt the city owed it to the citizens to keep a clean cemetery. LETTER READ In addition to the dozen persons present for the hearing, a letter was read by Mayor Dabney from Bernard Fisher to the effect that the citizens are paying dearly for service in light of the tax increase. The mayor said that he didn't want to see the city get to the place where it ran off business by a high tax rate, but at the same time, he had no apologies for the salary increases for anyone. He said that if you pay substandard wages you receive substandard service. At another time during the five-hour commission meeting Tuesday but in connection with the budget, a group of electricians, plumbers, and gas company employees came before the board and asked for a raise for one city employee, Homer Ward, plumbing and electrical inspector. They asked that his salary be raised to $400 monthly. It was pointed out that he has been recommended for a raise to $360 and is being given an assistant to help him. The commission made no change during the meeting on the request but told the petitioners that their request would be taken into consideration.

YMCA Building Contract Let, Financing Set

The YMCA board of directors Tuesday formally awarded a $294,962 contract for construction of a new plant. In so doing, the board also adopted resolutions necessary for financing. Recognizing that the building costs will be somewhat in excess of funds originally pledged, the board also went on record to the effect that a supplemental capital funds campaign will be necessary after the current pledge period has expired. Last year pledges were taken over a three-year period. The third and final installment will be due within a matter of a few months after anticipated completion of the plant. Start on the project by J. D. Jones Construction Co. will await title approval on the new site which is west of the ball park and south of E. 8th St. R. H. Weaver, president, expressed the hope that this could be expedited. The plant as planned includes numerous club rooms, reception areas, snack bar, kitchen, gymnasium, chapel and indoor swimming pool.

Posse Seeks Gunman In Cop Shooting

BROWNSVILLE, Ore. (AP)—Armed posses searched warily today for a gunman who abducted one police chief, then shot another before hiding in the timbered Cascade Mountain foothills. Sheriff George Miller said the gunman was Richard Allen Hunt, 27, a Harrisburg, Ore., dairy worker armed with a pistol, a 30 caliber carbine and 300 rounds of ammunition. More than 100 policemen were pressed into the search for Hunt. They were joined by FBI agents from Portland. The FBI said the 5-10, 160-pound Hunt, a former inmate of the Montana State Prison, was sought on a federal warrant that charged interstate transportation of a stolen car. Late Tuesday, Police Chief Ernest McPhee at Harrisburg sought to arrest Hunt for having improper license plates on his car. McPhee was taken prisoner at gun point. He was released 10 miles out of town. McPhee, picked up by another motorist, then phoned to Browns-ville, alerting Police Chief Robert Kennon and state policeman Gene Richardson. A few minutes later, they spotted Hunt refueling his car in a service station here, and gave chase as the dairy worker sped out of town. On the outskirts of Browns-ville Hunt's car veered out of control into a ditch. Hunt raced from the car into a nearby barn. In the exchange of shots that followed, Kennon fell with a bullet wound in the head. Residents saw Hunt flee from the barn, splash across a waist-deep creek, and vanish into a timbered ridge. Bands of armed men roamed through the rugged Cascade Mountain foothills until darkness fell, then set up mobile patrols along backwoods roads. The wounded police chief was taken to nearby Lebanon, where a doctor said, "I think Kennon has a chance for recovery." He spent the night of Jan. 7, he said, with a girl friend, identified as "Prilla." He denied too that the statements attributed to him in signed confessions submitted by the prosecution were true, he said he had been abused and threatened by several officers and on cross examination replied to many state questions with "I do not remember."

Food Prices Push Living Costs Down

WASHINGTON (AP)—Lower food prices pushed the nation's living costs down one-tenth of one per cent in February. The Labor Department Statistics Bureau said its index declined to 123.7 per cent of the 1947-49 base. This is the highest February index point on record, however, 1 per cent above last year. For January the index stood at 123.8, a fraction under the record of 123.9 set last July and equaled in November. All consumer price items, except food, averaged higher in February. Food prices dropped seven-tenths of a per cent, resuming a decline interrupted in January after five consecutive months. Ewan Clague, Labor Department statistics commissioner, said the prospect for the next few months is that living costs will continue in a narrow range. He said foods tend to go up in the late spring and summer, but this expected rise may be moderated this year and counterbalanced to some extent by expected declines in durable goods and clothing.

California Strikes Execution Irony

By ARTHUR W. EVERETT NEW YORK (AP)—Forty-one states and the District of Columbia sanction the death penalty for convicted criminals. But only nine states have executed a woman in recent years. California is one of the nine, and its last experience with a woman in its gas chamber was so distasteful that a legislative effort now is under way to abolish capital punishment. But, ironically, it was the state of California that Tuesday became the latest to doom a woman to death. She is Elizabeth Duncan, whose jealous love of her 30-year-old son drove her to promise two men $6,000 to kill her daughter-in-law. It was the 1955 execution of Barbara Graham, 32, in the San Quentin prison gas chamber that sickened many Californians on capital punishment. A prostitute turned robber, she died with two professional robbers for the murder of a 63-year-old Burbank, Calif., widow in a robbery attempt. The case formed the basis for a current movie, "I Want to Live," starring Susan Hayward. After Miss Graham's death, Atty. Gen. Edmund G. Brown, now governor of California, was moved to declare: "This business today has been like some dark memory out of the Roman Coliseum." "I hope Barbara Graham will be the last woman to be executed in the state of California." New York, probably, has executed more women than any other state—eight by state decree and a ninth by mandate of the federal government. The latter was a participant with her husband in one of the most infamous cases in American history—the Rosenberg atomic spy case. Ethel Rosenberg went with her husband Julius to Sing Sing's electric chair June 19, 1953. She died with no display of emotion. In recent years, Ohio has put three women to death in the electric chair, and South Carolina and Alabama have electrocuted two each, Illinois has electrocuted one, So has Virginia, but not since 1911. Two women have gone to the gas chamber in North Carolina, and one in Missouri. In the latter state, years ago, a murderess was hanged.

Mansfield Funds Case Probed AUSTIN (AP)—Jess M. Mansfield, veteran state worker, was given a five-year suspended sentence last night on conviction of taking $13,000 in money belonging to the state. Mansfield, an employee of the State Comptroller's Department 25 years, pleaded guilty to misapplication of $13,014 in motor fuel taxes paid by an Austin service station. He was auditor in charge of issuing permits to retail outlets for special fuels, such as diesel oil. The station involved in the case specializes in servicing trucks. Gus Farrar, chief clerk in the comptroller's department said at the time of Mansfield's arrest that the operator of the station apparently was not involved in the alleged misuse of funds. Looking around he saw Liner on the floor and Marquez shooting at him. They fled to the north side to Lopez's house, where Marquez gave Lopez $45 of the $248 stolen. The next day Marquez handed him a pistol and told him to hide it, the statement said. Capt. Isidro Trevino, Midland detective, told of recovering the pistol at Lopez's house. The gun was introduced by the state Ed R. Rymer, state ballistics expert, DPS, Austin, identified the gun as one he tested and said that certain discharged 22 shells which had been submitted to him were checked and that the gun in question was the weapon from which these empties shells had been fired. Dr. Fabian Gomez told the jury he made an examination of the body of Liner. There were two wounds in the head but examination showed there were three bullets in the skull. Two had gone in the same opening on the left temple. The other had entered at the point of the chin on the left side. He said this was the fatal bullet—it had ranged through the jaw and severed the spinal column. He said that the wound where the two bullets entered the same aperture showed powder burns; the jaw wound did not. STATE TESTS With Gomez's testimony the state rested its case. Jury to try Lopez was finally completed at 4:15 p.m. Tuesday. The supply of prospective jurors was exhausted at 2:40 p.m. and Judge Sullivan instructed Sheriff Miller Harris to bring in five talesmen from the county. Eleven jurors had been seated at the time the last of the 76 veniremen had been questioned. At 4 p.m. Harris returned to court with four men and one woman as talesmen. Mrs. Kathleen Graves, Irish-born wife of a civil service worker and herself an employee of the First National Bank, was the first of these special veniremen to be questioned. She qualified as a juror and was accepted by state and defense. The jurors are J. C. Gross, plumber; Mrs. Robert Dugan, (See TRIAL, Pg. 4-A, Col. 3)

Lopez Denies Part In Liner Shooting

Armando Lopez, 17, took the witness stand at 11 a.m. today as the first witness in his own defense in 118th District Court. Speaking in so low a voice as to be hardly understood he told a confused story in which he denied in general that he participated in the fatal holdup on the night of Jan. 7. Gerald D. Liner, young filling station attendant was murdered, as climax to that holdup. He spent the night of Jan. 7, he said, with a girl friend, identified as "Prilla." He denied too that the statements attributed to him in signed confessions submitted by the prosecution were true, he said he had been abused and threatened by several officers and on cross examination replied to many state questions with "I do not remember."

Knife Used In Lamesa Holdup

LAMESA — A Negro held a knife to the throat of a service station attendant and stole $63.25 from the station's cash register early today. The victim was Monroe Goforth, night attendant at the South Bend Service Station on the Big Spring Highway. He said he was seated at a desk drinking coffee about 12:30 a.m. when the Negro grabbed his shoulders and stuck the knife against his throat. The handi demanded the money in the cash register and then vanished in the darkness.

School Evaluation Report Due Today

Some of Texas' leading educators were to tell local teachers and administrators this afternoon how good the Big Spring schools are. Report on a system-wide evaluation was to be given at a general faculty meeting. The evaluators, headed by Dr. Morris Wallace, head of the department of education at Texas Tech, have spent the past two and a half days inspecting local school operations, facilities, etc. Robbed Of $160 Juan Parra, 506 NW 4th, told the police that two Latin Americans took $160 off him downtown this morning. He said the trouble came up in the 400 block of Run-

Clean-Up Campaign In Planning Stage

Civic Development Committee of the Chamber of Commerce has launched a preliminary study in connection with the annual city-wide spring clean-up, paint-up, fix-up campaign. The group is due to meet soon to set dates for the drive and start other arrangements, said Cliff Fisher, chairman. Tentative plans call for two campaigns this year—one in the spring and a follow-up next fall.

Dabney Dinner Slated April 23

Appreciation dinner for Mayor G. W. Dabney, retiring next month after 14 years as a member of the Big Spring City Commission, will be held at 7:30 p.m. April 23. Date for the event was set Tuesday by a planning committee of the Chamber of Commerce, sponsor. The dinner will be staged in the Dora Roberts Club at Howard County Junior College. Speakers will be Steve Matthews, executive director of the Texas Municipal League; the Rev. Clyde Nichols, Mayor Dabney's pastor; and L. C. Porter, vice president of the T&P Railway Co., Dabney's employer. A committee of 20 was named to distribute tickets for the dinner, and the tickets also will be available at the City Hall and Chamber of Commerce. Cost will be $2 each.

Water Usage Jumps Tuesday

Water consumption hit a new daily high for this year Tuesday as usage jumped over the five million gallon mark. The city Tuesday used 5,733,000 gallons, and this total showed the usage for March to 96,097,000 gallons. Daily average for the month is now over the four-million gallon mark. The previous high consumption had been Monday when 4,948,000 gallons went through meters. Before Tuesday, consumption had topped four million nine days this month.

Abilene Men Are Hurt In Mishap

Two Abilene men are in the Big Spring Hospital with injuries received when their car ran out of control and reportedly turned over four times east of Big Spring last night. Coy Anglin has a deep cut on the left jaw and a possible fracture of the jaw. He also has extensive lacerations and bruises over his body. John Weaver, his companion, has an injury to the legs and knees. He is also extensively bruised and cut. Neither man is seriously hurt, the hospital said.

Good Question To Mull Over: What About Retirement Fund?

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — What are you going to live on when you're old?

Even some of the rock 'n' roll generation may think about that once in a while. And the U.S. Supreme Court's decision on variable annuities brings up today all the many—and competing—forms of retirement income that are available to Americans.

A rock 'n' roller is likely to dismiss the question of cash in old age by saying the government will take care of it. He means old age pensions, and all the other benefits that federal and state governments hand out these days.

Workers also either have or hope for some form of retirement pension—a matter for negotiation between themselves and their bosses—and also dependent in some cases on the continuing existence of the company for which they work. Many civil servants have similar pension plans. Some unions have funds for aiding their retired members.

Then you come to the list of income which an individual provides for himself entirely on his own. These forms compete with each other for the individual's savings. This is one reason the variable annuity was brought before the U.S. Supreme Court.

In a 5-4 ruling Monday the court held that the Securities and Exchange Commission should have jurisdiction over variable annuity contracts. In the past they were subject to regulation only by state insurance authorities.

The usual type of annuity as sold by insurance companies provides for a fixed return in dollars, starting at a time and continuing over a period set forth in the contract.

The variable annuity offers payment in dollar amounts that go up and down in line with market value of the corporate stocks into which the insurance company has put the reserve funds involved.

The argument is that stock prices will go up when the cost of living rises and that thus the annuity holder will have a fairly stable standard of living.

Many insurance officials—who don't like the variable kind—challenge this argument. They say the stock market is no reliable barometer of inflation, nor is continuing inflation as inevitable as some contend. Also they don't like the competition which variable annuities might give the standard kind which these companies propose to sell only.

There are forms of insurance besides annuities that have retirement pay features.

Another competitor is the mutual fund. Holders of this form of security also have their returns tied to the investing skill of the fund's management and to some extent to the rise and fall of the market value of such investments.

Dealers in stocks and bonds, and the exchanges on which they trade, also tend to look upon the variable annuity as a competitor.

Many persons buy stocks and bonds with the aim of assuring an income in old age, either through dividends or capital gains.

Dealers and exchange officials naturally prefer that individuals buy stocks through them rather than through insurance companies. And they hold that if insurance companies do enter this field they should be subject to the same regulation—through the Securities and Exchange Commission—as are the security dealers or those floating new securities.

Other ways individuals use to put money away for old age include: U.S. savings bonds, bank accounts, and bank trust funds (which also buy and sell stocks and bonds).

And some individuals turn to real estate, counting on rent collections to provide for them in old age.

Services For 3 Miners Planned

ONEIDA, Tenn. (AP)—Three of the nine coal miners killed in the Robbins mine explosion will be buried today in the red, Cumberland Mountain earth from which they carved their livelihood.

A joint service for the other six victims will be Thursday.

As the funeral arrangements were announced by grieving relatives, the owner announced he planned to remove equipment from the small mine and close it.

J. R. Miller, chief state mine inspector, said W. O. West, 52, told him Tuesday he planned to shut down, "for the time being, at least."

The nine were killed as a gas pocket exploded shortly after they entered the mine Monday morning.

All were related by blood or marriage.

Theft Moves Star To Guard Children

LONDON (AP) — Theft of her jewels has prompted American actress Lauren Bacall to hire a guard for her to children.

The attractive widow of actor Humphrey Bogart, became worried about the safety of the youngsters — Stephen, 10, and Lesley, 6 — after her apartment was entered last week and $14,000 worth of jewels stolen.

The gems were recovered but no arrests have been made.

"She feels she needs a man about the house," said Miss Bacall's maid.

Senators Probe Use Of Unions As Front For Jukebox Rackets

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate investigators look today into charges that mobsters used labor unions as pawns in maneuvering for monopoly control of Miami area jukebox operations.

Chief Counsel Robert F. Kennedy said the Labor-Management Committee hearing will center on Joseph (Joe) Scotch) Indelicato and Charles Karpf, whom he described as Miami racketeers, and their relations with jukebox operator Joseph Mangone and others.

Among other things, Kennedy said, the hearing will show that racketeers sought variously to use the Upholsterers Union, the Textile Workers Union, the Electrical Workers and the Teamsters in battling for complete control of Miami's jukebox industry.

Kennedy said the committee has evidence that strong arm violence was used against those who refused to bow to underworld demands.

The hearing marks another chapter in the committee's investigation of charges of a coast-to-coast plot by gangsters and corrupt labor union officials to muscle in on lucrative jukebox and other coin machine operations.

The committee had a brief encounter Tuesday with two old underworld figures, Mickey Cohen and Fred Sica. Both ducked behind Fifth Amendment pleas when questioned about allegations of shakedowns in Los Angeles against George M. Seedman, a cigarette vending machine operator.

Cohen, who insists he is leading an honest life, also refused to tell whether he owes the government more than a half million dollars of income taxes, or to discuss his sources of income. He said answers might incriminate him.

As for the shakedowns alleged by one witness, Cohen refused to say whether he and Sica had collected $11,000 as a price for being neutral in a trade war between Seedman and some business rivals.

Nor would he say whether the alleged payments came after Cohen reportedly told of being offered $50,000 if he would "put Mr. Seedman's lights out."

Testimony about that purported threat came from Tom Vaughn, a New Orleans cigarette machine operator. Vaughn said he handed $11,000 of Seedman's money to Cohen and Sica.

But he added that he does not now believe either man was working for the rival Coast Cigarette Vendors, Inc.

Coast's Vice President Myer Carr and salesman William Breen testified they had rejected an offer to help from Sica for a $25,000 fee. They said they never had paid a cent to either Cohen or Sica.

"Our company doesn't do business with people like that," Carr said.

Riders Invited To Local Rodeo

Invitations to the Sheriff Pesses of this area, as well as to prospective entrants in the girls' sponsors contest, have been mailed by the Big Spring Cowboy Reunion and Rodeo.

E. P. Driver, secretary, said he hoped that response to the invitations to take part in the June 11-12-13 show here would be coming in soon.

This year's show is, as usual, RCA approved, which means that some of the top cowboy talent of the country will be here for the rodeo.

Missionary Bitter Over Movie Story

TAIPEI, Formosa. (AP)—Gladys Aylward, whose life as a missionary in China was the basis for Ingrid Bergman's film "The Inn of the Sixth Happiness," left for Hong Kong today on her way to Britain and the United States.

Miss Aylward is a onetime London parliament who is now over 60 and a Chinese citizen. Although she has never seen the film version of her life, she has complained bitterly because the producers worked a romance into it.

"There have never been any love scenes in my life—never," she told newsmen.

Plain talk to the man who thinks "all cars are built alike today"

"The one thing we know car buyers want above all in an automobile is quality. Yet many people assume that all cars today are pretty much the same in this respect.

This is far from being the case. I can name at least 30 basic differences in the design of our '59 Mercury. Naturally, we feel these differences make Mercury a better car. For example:

EXTRA STRENGTH STARTS WITH THE FRAME

The backbone of every Mercury is the frame. We use a heavy box-type construction—the heaviest in the industry. Competitors use frames that are up to 125 pounds lighter.

WE BUILD QUALITY YOU CAN SEE

Compare the way Mercury builds engine hoods. Most competitive cars use what is known as a single panel construction. This type of hood can be twisted and turned with the slightest pressure—often flutters and vibrates when the car is in motion. At Mercury, on the other hand, we use a double-panel construction—two layers of steel with the insulation sandwiched in between. Not only is Mercury's hood more rigid, but it looks better.

YOU FEEL THE QUALITY WITH EVERY STOP...

Mercury brakes are the largest in the field—with up to 22% more brake lining than competitive cars. And only Mercury in its field has brakes that adjust themselves mechanically. You save money by eliminating periodic adjustments. And you are safer because Mercury brakes stay properly adjusted for the life of the linings.

...AND EVERY TIME YOU TAKE THE WHEEL

All 1959 Mercurys have a flexible coupling installed in the steering system.

This acts as an insulator—absorbs road shocks that would otherwise travel up to the steering wheel. Mercury, unlike some cars, gives you this with either manual or power steering.

WE HAVE PLENTY OF PROOF THAT THIS IS THE BEST-BUILT CAR IN AMERICA TODAY

We know it is the greatest Mercury ever designed and built. Never in Mercury's 20-year history have we had so much value in the product itself. Mercury has advantages everywhere over competition. The four described on this page are only typical. In future messages I'll tell you about dozens more—in styling, comfort, in everything you want in a car."

EPISTLES FROM A ROMAN

Puzzled Soldier Tells His Father About Visit With Man Called Peter

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the third article of the Master series "Epistles from a Roman." Each is in the form of a letter from a Roman soldier stationed in Jerusalem to his father in Rome. While he first showed mocking disbelief of the Galilean's words, the soldier's attitude now is slowly changing.

By TOM HENSHAW
Associated Press Religion Writer
Jerusalem, Judea
16th year of the Caesar Tiberius

Gaius my father,
I send you the warmest of filial greetings.
Another day of oppressive heat sharpens the fine edge of temper. This afternoon, in the courtyard of our Antonia, two soldiers quarreled over a mere game and had at one another with knives. Before they could be parted, one lay dead and the other grievously wounded.

The heat is such, my father, that it befores the mind. For a time today even I felt it dull my senses to the point where the incredible became credible and fantasy almost became truth. As you may guess, it is our Galilean again.

From one of his closest followers, a man named Peter, I have learned more about this strange, wandering holy man from Galilee. It is a story which will stretch your credulity to the breaking point and beyond.

I met the man Peter by great coincidence in the shop of a man who supplies both animals for Jewish sacrifice and meat for our garrison. At first, Peter was reluctant to talk to a Roman. But, feigning deep interest, I was able to play upon his sympathy until he agreed.

We adjourned to a place outside the city walls, a quiet hillside garden called Gethsemane to which the Master, as Peter calls the Galilean, frequently retreats for meditation. Peter spoke at great length and I shall tell you, my father, briefly what he said.

The Galilean is named Jesus and he is indeed the promised savior. He is indeed the Son of God. He was born of a virgin in Bethlehem, south of here, during the reign of Herod as king in Judea. This is what Peter tells me.

Peter met him for the first time on the shore of the fresh water sea in Galilee. The Galilean directed him to drop his fisher's nets and follow him. Such is the force of the man's personality that Peter, although he did not then know why, did drop his nets and did follow him!

Peter claims to have been present when Jesus—the Galilean—performed supernatural acts called miracles. He caused a man to rise from the dead; he stilled the angry storm waves of the fresh water sea; he healed lepers and blind men and people possessed of demons.

He talked on, this man Peter, and as he spoke a faraway look came into his eye and his voice rose in the stillness and the uneasy feeling crept over me that he was no longer speaking to me alone but to all the world, although there was no one else within earshot.

"His message," said Peter,

"He talked on, this man Peter, . . . and the uneasy feeling crept over me that he was no longer speaking to me alone but to all the world . . ."

speaking as one who had it graven on his heart. "his message is this: Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart and with all thy soul and with all thy mind. Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself. Blessed are the poor in spirit, for theirs is the kingdom of heaven; blessed are they that mourn, for they shall be comforted; blessed are the meek, for they shall inherit the earth . . ."

When he had finished we sat silent for some time. I blush to tell you, my father, that during that time I half believed the fantasy he wove about the Galilean and his message.

Slowly the noises of the city intruded upon my ears. A caravan clattered by on the road from Bethany. The peal of a horn echoed in the little valley. Suddenly, I was back to reality in a hillside garden with a man named Peter.

"What you say has merit," I conceded, "but it is scarcely proof to me. How do I know that what you say is true? How do I know that he is indeed the Son of a one God? You must show me proof." "I can show you nothing else," said Peter. "I myself know because I have faith in him. When you have faith, then you too will know."

Utter disbelief must have shown in my face because Peter looked at me sadly for a long moment. Then he rose and shuffled down the hillside and turned into the road toward Bethany. I had to feel sorry for the man. Despite his delusions, I could not bring myself to ridicule him.

This then, my father, is the story of the Galilean who is named Jesus. Is it not a strange fable. Can a virgin conceive? Can the dead be raised? Can a man of flesh and blood who walks the earth be the Son of a one God?

These questions, my father, I must leave to the philosophers. And I must stay away from the Galilean—or out of the heat. For I am a soldier of Rome, duty-bound to give my loyalty to none but the Caesar and the City.

Obediently
Valerius, thy son.

Airmen Serve On Lonely Isle

GERHALA ISLAND, Sulu Sea (AP)—How would you like to live six months on a tropical island complete with a comfortable cabin, radio and refrigerator and your own white beach at the doorstep?

Four U.S. airmen here aren't exactly overjoyed. Among the drawbacks are poisonous snakes and giant lizards. An abandoned leper colony is nearby. But the airmen say the worst thing is monotony and loneliness.

"I've come to the conclusion you can take this exotic stuff and give it to somebody else," said S. Sgt. John C. Coleman, 26, of Towanda, Penn. "I've had my fill of just basking in the sun."

"We have a life of boredom and waiting to go home," echoed S. Sgt. H. O. Jones, 27, of Cairo, Ga., dressed in the uniform of the day—a bath towel around the waist.

Coleman and Jones are stationed for six months on this British island four miles off Sandakan, North Borneo, with Airman 1 C. David Pair, 23, (Route A) Double Springs, Ala., and S. Sgt. John R. Overstreet, 29, (Route 1) Durant, Okla.

They belong to the 1370th Aerial Photomapping Group in the Philippines and are not permitted to discuss their mission. Sources in Sandakan say they are manning a ground locator station in a U.S. Air Force project connecting surveys of Borneo and the Philippines to produce the great accuracy needed for missile-age maps.

Every few days, the men are called on their radio to operate equipment atop a hill from which they can see both Borneo and the Philippines' Sul Archipelago.

Otherwise, it's a life of playing cards, cooking the food brought in monthly by a Navy ship, boating, swimming and fishing.

"We trawl but haven't caught a thing yet," said Coleman.

The Americans discovered after they arrived Dec. 15 that Berhala is the site of a leoprosarium. In World War II the Japanese had a prison camp here.

BIG DIFFERENCE

IN WAGONS

Big, glamorous Plymouth wagons pack the Big Difference in 4 ways—

BIG DIFFERENCE IN FEATURES

Here's a wagon that's really easy to live with! The 1959 Plymouth offers you ingenious rear-facing third seat and roll-down rear window. And, in addition, you get low-extra-cost comfort and convenience features like new Swivel Seats, push-button heating and transmission. These wonderful new features—plus clean, progressive styling—help explain the peak popularity that Plymouth station wagons are enjoying today.

BIG DIFFERENCE IN RIDE AND PERFORMANCE

No other low-price wagon can match Plymouth's Torsion-Aire Ride, yours at no extra cost. You enjoy superb handling ease with no roll or sway on turns, no front-end dive on stops. Or you can choose optional Constant Level Torsion-Aire to keep your wagon level no matter the load or the road. And you can thrill to V-8 power, including optional New Golden Commando 395, biggest engine in the low-price field.

BIG DIFFERENCE IN SPACE

Plymouth boasts the longest wheelbase (a full 122 inches) in its field, plus a loading deck almost 10 feet long. This means you get 95 cubic feet of cargo capacity—more than you'll find in any other low-price wagon. You simply can't buy a bigger, more useful wagon for the money!

BIG DIFFERENCE IN ECONOMY

Plymouth won the Mobilgas Economy Run in the low-price class two years in a row. And only Plymouth offers a Fuel-Saver Choke and new 3-stage carburetor for maximum gas savings. What's more, all Plymouth standard V-8 and 6 engines perform at peak efficiency on regular gas.

BUT... YOU DON'T PAY FOR THE DIFFERENCE

The three top-selling 1959 station wagons are all priced within a very few dollars of each other. But only the Plymouth gives you the Big Difference for your money . . . and you get high trade-in value, too!

COME IN FOR YOUR "TWO-MILE TRY-OUT" NOW!

Get behind the wheel of a Plymouth. Prove to yourself that Plymouth wagons deliver the Big Difference in features, ride, performance, economy, space. Ask your Plymouth dealer for your "Two-Mile Try-Out"

So much the same in price . . . so different on the road!

Thank You

One of the Air Force's rarest official expressions of gratitude was awarded to an Air Force wife at Webb yesterday. The occasion was highlighted also by the fact that the award was presented personally by Lt. Gen. Frederick H. Smith Jr., Air Training Commander, who was at Webb on an inspection tour. Mrs. Maurice A. January received the Air Training Command Outstanding Service Certificate for distinguishing herself as Family Services Coordinator at Webb for a two-year period.

Nurse Shortage Is Forum Topic

The serious need for nurses was made known to members of the Junior Woman's Forum, Tuesday afternoon, when the group of 10 gathered at the home of Mrs. Horace Rankin, assisting as cohostess was Mrs. Melvin Witter. Bo Bowen, county health nurse, elaborated on the shortage of nurses for the private citizen, stating that the area of public health alone needs six times as many nurses as are presently engaged in the field. She cited the high cost of obtaining nurses training, and recommended that those who plan to enter the profession earn a college degree along with the RN certificate. Steady siphoning of the nurse supply was attributed to family responsibilities and marriage, with numerous nurses entering government service also. Miss Bowen pointed to the value of nurses training in homemaking, however, and the security of a profession. In introducing the guest speaker, Mrs. Bruce Wright, she noted the audience of the nursing scholarship initiated this year by the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs, District Eight will raise $1,000 toward the fund to send a candidate to Texas Woman's University for the program. Tickets to the forthcoming puppet show being sponsored by Mu Zeta Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi will be purchased for the first graders at Bauer School. The decision was made in a business meeting Tuesday. Mrs. Bill Draper, Mrs. Wright and Mrs. Rankin volunteered transportation for the youngsters. Discussion was also held concerning the forum's program plans for the Federation Day luncheon. Following the meeting, the women adjourned to Birdwell Park where they staged an Easter egg hunt for their children. Mrs. Billy Ray Watson, 1902 11th Place, will be hostess April 14.

Toastmistresses Induct Member, Plan Parley

Mrs. Gregg Smith was inducted into the Tall Talkers Toastmistress Club when the group met for dinner Tuesday evening at the Officers Club. Mrs. Leland A. Younklin officiated at the ritual and introduced two guests, Mrs. Glenn Hartwell and Cynthia Brownlee. Icebreaker speeches by Mrs. Donald M. Sackschewsky and Mrs. Kenneth Tucker developed the story of their life. Mrs. Younklin followed the selections with a reading, Jean Kerr's How To Talk to a Husband. Mrs. Caribel Laughlin, who took home the boner award, served as a critic with Mrs. Hal Mabry and Mrs. H. E. Thornber Jr., general evaluator was Mrs. Albert E. Haydel. In charge of table topics for the evening was Mrs. Hollis Smith. All took part in discussing what they notice when they meet someone for the first time. Mrs. Andrew L. Terpening presided for the session, which opened with grace by Mrs. J. C. McVay Jr., timekeeper. The group will host a Council meeting April 4 and 5 Delegates from Oklahoma, New Mexico and various points in Texas are expected for the two days of workshops.

Insect Eradication Is Rosebud Club's Concern

Johnny Johansen, superintendent of parks, told Rosebud Garden Club members about pests and their eradication at a Tuesday morning meeting in the home of Mrs. Dick Lane. Mrs. J. W. Furqueron was cohostess. In discussing the oddities of insects, the speaker said entomologists have theorized that the world has between 685,000 and 1,500,000 species of insects. Of this number, at least 10,000 are enemies. Reproduction of insects is unbelievable. Mr. Johansen said, Nature provides them with an immunity to various poisons, and scientists are kept working constantly to produce new poisons to keep ahead of the immunity the insects build up. In discussing protection for roses after pruning, a homey preventive measure is to stick a thumb tack in the trimmed twig to prevent the entrance of the tiny beetle that will enter the opening if left unprotected. Johansen displayed a number of sprays and other medications that he recommended for various trees and shrubs and for insect eradication. He recommended pulling out of weeds in grass rather than using strong weed killer which will not kill the seed that is in the ground. Fruit trees should be sprayed when the petals of the blooms start falling, thereby protecting the fruit from the fruit fly by killing the eggs before the fruit is stung. Mrs. Furqueron gave the plans for the Tasting Tea and told members what their duties would be. Hostesses from the Rosebud club will be Mrs. Horace Reagan, Mrs. Travis Carlton, Mrs. Joe Pickle, Mrs. J. T. Anderson, Mrs. Merrill Creighton and Mrs. W. B. Younger. Named to the nominating committee were Mrs. J. G. Lewis, Mrs. Dick Lane and Mrs. Furqueron. The report will be made at the April meeting which will

Newlyweds On Trip To North Carolina

A-2C and Mrs. Winford Russell White are on a trip to his home in St. Pauls, N. C., following their marriage Tuesday evening at East Fourth Baptist Church. The single ring ceremony was read by the Rev. Ernest D. Stewart Jr., pastor.

The bride, the former Gloria Jean White, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. White, 200 Circle Drive. She is a student at Runnels Junior High School.

Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph White of St. Pauls are the parents of the bridegroom. Given in marriage by her father, the bride was dressed in white nylon lace and carried white carnations. Lace adorned her white hat which was sprinkled with rhinestones. They also glittered on the ruffled gloves which were the borrowed item in her ensemble. With the new dress she wore a strand of pearls as something old. A blue garter fulfilled tradition.

The couple was attended by Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Stephens. Mrs. J. J. Herbert, Karla Seward, Peggie Beckford and the honor attendants assisted at the reception which was held at the A. L. White home. A lace cloth made by Mrs. A. C. White, grandmother of the bride, covered the refreshment table. The cake, frosted with pink roses and double hearts bearing the names of the newlyweds, was served by Mrs. L. D. Kewter. Upon their return from North

Breakfast Entertains HD Club

Gay Easter baskets and place cards decorated the tables for the breakfast given Tuesday morning in the home of Mrs. Marion Edwards for the Coahoma Home Demonstration Club.

Joining her as hostesses were Mrs. Ray Swann, Mrs. Sam Armstrong and Mrs. Elvon DeVaney. During the business session, plans were made for the craft study to be held April 1 at the First Presbyterian Church in Coahoma. Meeting at 10 a. m., members will have a covered dish luncheon at noon, and each one of the group will work on any craft which she prefers, it was decided. Mrs. DeVaney presented the devotion and read a poem pertaining to the Easter season for the 15 members and a guest, Mrs. R. L. Powell.

Woman Of Year Named By Fora

Members of the Spoudazio Fora selected the clubwoman of the year by secret ballot at their meeting Tuesday evening in the hospitality room of Texas Electric Service Company. Mrs. Charles Lusk and Mrs. Ben Erwin were cohostesses. The name of the chosen woman will be disclosed at the officer installation banquet to be held May 26. Announced was the Easter egg hunt for pupils at the school for exceptional children, who will be entertained at Birdwell Park on Thursday at 1:30 p. m.; at 9 a. m. Thursday, members of the club will gather at the school for a program to be presented by the youngsters. Plans were discussed for the program at the luncheon for the Forum units slated for April 22 at the Sands Restaurant. Mrs. Ladd Smith introduced M. R. Turner, principal of Boydston School, who spoke to the group on School Legislation. He told of the bills now before the Legislature and how they will affect the lives of school children. Some of the benefits of the passage of such bills, he stated, are that it will assist the gifted child to proceed faster in school; it will strengthen drivers education and will give added instruction in various subjects with an increase in teachers' salaries. A school for teaching English to children from non-English speaking homes would be one of the results, he added. Members were urged to write letters to their representatives regarding the bills. Mrs. Bill Lansing was announced as the next hostess. Fifteen were present for the meeting.

Duncan Expects Appeal Soon

VENTURA, Calif. (AP) — "I think my chances for an appeal are just fine," says condemned murderer Elizabeth Duncan. She made that statement Tuesday after being declared sane and subject to the death sentence for hiring the murder of her daughter-in-law. Earlier she had been convicted of first degree murder and her punishment set at execution in the gas chamber. Immediately after Superior Court Judge Charles F. Blackstock accepted the conclusions of two psychiatrists that Mrs. Duncan was sane, defense attorney S. Ward Sullivan filed a motion for a new trial and asked that Mrs. Duncan's son Frank, 30, a Santa Barbara attorney, be associated with him. Judge Blackstock said he would consider the motion April 3. If he denies it, he is expected to sentence Mrs. Duncan at that time. Sullivan has said he would carry an appeal from the conviction to the higher courts. Mrs. Duncan, jealous of Frank's bride, Olga, 30, was convicted of hiring two men to kill her daughter-in-law on the promise of paying $6,000. Augustine Baldonado, 26, and Luis Moya, 20, confessed kidnapping and strangling Olga. They are awaiting trial.

Youngsters Foist Prank Upon Bank

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Frank about their prank on a bank, two youngsters hoped to be cleared of attempted holdup charges today. But they wished wistfully it hadn't happened. Little Dan McKay, 9, and big Danny Husk, 13, school boys on Easter vacation, simulated a bank holdup Tuesday seeking some play money. Trouble is, officials of the Bank of America—the world's largest—took them seriously. And a dragnet of 15 policemen and FBI agents took the bank seriously. So, when the youngsters returned home from a movie, they were arrested and turned over to the San Francisco Youth Guidance Center. The charge: attempted bank robbery. "They cried when we surrounded them," said Inspector William Porter. Big Dan's mother, Mrs. Wilma Husk, said "The boys meant no harm, although they shouldn't have done it. Danny has never been in any trouble," she said. "He hasn't even been absent from school without my knowing of it. I gave him a dollar to go to the movie. En route to the movie the boys stopped at the Bank of America Mission branch. The bank had issued some play money as a promotion campaign. The boys said they had lost theirs and wanted more. Little Dan, cleanly dressed in a sweater, jeans and tennis shoes, marched to the teller's window. He solemnly placed a slip of paper on the counter. It said (in Big Dan's handwriting) "Put $100 in sack or we'll blow up the bank, Dan Husk." "Who gave you this?" demanded Filamine Miller, the teller. Little Dan fidgeted and pointed to his buddy. Miss Miller scolded them and said "Get out of here." Big Dan said he told her it was a joke and apologized. The boys left. Miss Miller reported the incident to J. C. Bonzani, branch manager, who called police. They traced the Husk boy's home address through his school records. "Three policemen barged into the house," said Mrs. Husk. "I was still out shopping and Danny wasn't home yet, but Mrs. Tessie Robbles (a guest) said the officers were very rude. They searched the house, but they didn't show Mrs. Robbles any papers." "When they got Danny and the McKay boy, the kids were scared stiff. Danny kept telling me: 'Mama, they don't believe me and we're telling the truth.'" Little Dan's father, Rufus McKay, a service station employee, said his 9-year-old — one of six children — is "full of mischief" but hadn't been in any real trouble. He said he planned to discipline the lad regardless of what juvenile authorities do.

Process For Cleaning Rough Fish Developed

COLLEGE STATION — Billions of tons of small, rough fish, taken in nets of commercial shrimp and fishing boats each year, may soon be converted from one of commercial fishing's biggest liabilities to a profitable enterprise. This is the result of an invention announced here today.

Dr. W. W. Meinke, manager of the Chemurgy Laboratory of the Texas Engineering Experiment Station, a part of the Texas A&M College system, has developed a method of scaling and gutting small fish, without the use of machinery.

Meinke places the small fish in an enzyme solution, and, by regulating time, temperature and enzyme concentration, brings out fish carcasses free of scales and viscera. Only the bones and meat remain on these fish; viscera and scales go off into solution. The scales will be separated for production of scale and bone meal, and the viscera will be kept in solution as fish solubles.

The new method is expected to cut man-hour requirements in plants processing fish for food and will be of potential economic importance in the sardine and mackerel canning industry. It could open markets for products made from the small "waste" fish that have been thrown over the side in commercial fishing operations in the past.

Meinke points out that his gutting and scaling operation works on a principle similar to that used in tenderizing meat. Whole small fish are placed in tanks with the enzyme solution which selectively loosens the scales and "digests" the viscera. The whole carcasses are removed and washed with water and set aside for further processing. Nothing is wasted.

Marketable products produced from the small waste fish include fish flours, meals, fish solubles and bone and scale meals with a number of uses.

Fish flour can be used for enrichment of human foods as cereals. The fish flours run as high as from 80 to 90 per cent protein.

Fish solubles, resulting from digestion of the viscera and soft skin in the fish, have a ready market with producers of formulated poultry feeds, and are valued at from $80 to $100 a ton.

Bone and scale left over from processing have potential uses as mineral supplements, and as protein supplements in poultry feeds. Carcass flesh from the rough fish is available for the cat and dog food industry and other uses.

Color Guard Inspection

Ike Warns Khrushy Against Blackmail In Berlin Crisis

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower said today he believes the Western Allies will have to meet at the summit with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev to get any sort of valid agreement on German problems.

But no one is going to command the United States and the other Western Powers to show up at a top level conference, the President told a news conference emphatically.

"The West will not be bluffed or blackmailed into going to the summit, he said.

Eisenhower thus said anew, although indirectly, that his attendance at any summit meeting will be contingent on progress at an earlier conference of East-West foreign ministers.

Eisenhower's news conference was dominated by discussion of the prospects for a summit conference and a settlement of the Berlin crisis.

But the President did touch on these other matters:

DULLES — He will never let ailing Secretary of State Dulles leave government service so long as Dulles feels able to work in some capacity.

Without saying so specifically, the President thus indicated that he has given thought to keeping Dulles on, possibly as a foreign policy adviser, even if Dulles' illness should make it necessary for him to resign as secretary of state.

PROJECT ARGUS—The government will make public later in the day a report on Project Argus—the explosion last September of three atomic devices about 300 miles in outer space.

JOHNSON—A reporter, suggesting that Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex.) might win the Democratic presidential nomination, asked whether Eisenhower feels that Johnson is well qualified. Eisenhower ducked that one. He simply referred to the Texas Senator as a warm personal friend of many years—a man, who like himself, belongs to the cardiac club. This referred to the two men's heart attacks.

SPENDING—A bit sharply Eisenhower said that during the political campaign last fall he never labeled all Democratic members of Congress as reckless spenders.

BYRD—Told that Sen. Harry F. Byrd (D-Va.) is urging him to veto legislation which the Senator feels would throw the administration's 77-billion-dollar budget out of balance, Eisenhower said he has no agreement with Byrd regarding possible vetoes. But he added he does agree with Byrd on the necessity for safeguarding the nation's financial status.

Johnson Viewed As Candidate For Demo Nomination

Lyndon Johnson not only wants the Democratic presidential nomination, he is already campaigning shrewdly and vigorously, according to Newsweek.

Discussing his chances, Newsweek says, "The impact of Johnson's strong and successful leadership of the party makes it inevitable that Democrats will give him careful consideration before they choose their next Presidential nominee." And, almost nobody believes Johnson when he says he isn't running. "The betting in Texas is that Johnson's mask of 'unavailability' will be dropped before Texas Democrats meet, in May 1960 to choose delegates for the Los Angeles convention."

Johnson's best strategy is to let the other candidates knock each other off, while he concentrates on his job as Senate leader and thereby sharpens the image of "the man who gets things done." If none of the active candidates has enough votes to win on an early ballot, the Democrats will turn to the two men left: Adlai Stevenson, a two-time loser, and Lyndon Johnson.

Winner Of VIC Shotgun Chosen

Auda Vee Graham of Ackerly has been announced as winner of the 12-gauge shotgun given away by the Vocational Industrial Club of Big Spring High School.

The winner was chosen at a meeting of the club last night. The pump-type shotgun cost the VIC $60, leaving a profit of $135 on the project.

The funds will be used to finance the club's banquet honoring members' employers April 10 and to help defray expenses of attending the state VIC meeting in Galveston May 7-9.

Tibetan Revolt Spreads Thru Mountain Land

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—The Tibetan revolt against Chinese Communist rule has spread throughout the mountain land, an Indian newspaper close to the Nehru government reported today.

Reports persisted fighting had subsided in the capital of Lhasa, with the Reds still in command. But the pro-government Hindu-Nation Times said the rebellion had spread to all corners of Tibet and that the Dalai Lama was "not in Chinese hands."

There was no official confirmation of the Hindu-Nation Times report.

The whereabouts of the 23-year-old Asian monarch, worshipped by Tibetans as the reincarnation of Buddha, and his role in the rebellion still were vague.

"According to one version he went underground before the fighting started in Lhasa five days ago," the Times said, "and his palace is now guarded by Chinese pickets."

The more general theory, however, was that the youthful godking was still in his 1,000-rupee hillside palace under Communist surveillance.

A spokesman for the Indian government, which has the only foreign diplomatic mission in Lhasa, said he had "no correct information" on the latest developments in Tibet.

On Formosa, Chinese Nationalist officials, cheered by the revolt, said that Red China was rushing strong reinforcements to Tibet, where the occupation force had been estimated at 50,000 troops.

Chiang Kai-shek met with top leaders of his government in Taipei to discuss ways of capitalizing on the Tibetan uprising. The Chinese Nationalists—like the Communists—still consider Tibet a part of China.

Commission Deals With Many Problems During Long Session

For about six hours, the City Commission was in session Tuesday night, and time wasn't consumed by the public hearing on the budget. The commission went through an agenda dotted by zoning changes, ordinances, and taking of bids.

Passed were two zoning changes which were recommended by the planning and zoning commission at a public hearing last week. An area on the southeast side of Wascon Corner, on the Old San Angelo highway, was rezoned from A (one-party residence) to Zone E (which allows a shopping center or community businesses).

Mrs. George Thomas protested the change saying it was bringing additional traffic hazards to the corner. Mrs. Thomas lives just north of the area under question but outside the city limits. The commission passed the change despite the protest.

Also rezoned, from A to F (retail business), is the 18-acre area south of FM 700 East to Big Spring Creek and east of Birdwell. Worth Peeler said a motel was being considered for the spot.

First reading was held on an ordinance annexing about 40 acres of land in College Park Estates. John Little asked for part of the annexation and the school requested the other. Three readings of the annexation ordinance are required for final passage.

Gary Tate, representing the Big Spring Civic Improvement League, came before the commission in connection with the league's plea for a low-rent federally financed housing area here. Tate, along with the city manager, A. K. Steinheimer, and two commissioners, Ward Hall and John Taylor, made a tour Monday of three cities, Brownwood, Cisco, and Sweetwater, where such housing projects are in use.

Taylor reported on the trip and said that he had been able to hear only the favorable side. Further investigation will be made before the commission decides to act on the program.

The Chamber of Commerce entered pleas for removal of parking around the courthouse May 1 and 2 for the Summer Fun Days exhibits and for a protest from the city on curtailment of airline service to Big Spring. Both requests were approved by the commission.

Bids were accepted from Humble, Phillips, Gulf, Magnolia, Cosden and Texas oil companies on supplying petroleum products for the coming year, with the exception of gasoline. Cosden was low bidder on all items with the exception of diesel fuels, and Phillips got contract on that commodity. The petroleum products included kerosene, heavy oils and greases for the city's equipment.

The commission ordered Steinheimer to prepare a proposed ordinance affecting trailer houses which are in residential areas but not in trailer camps. The commission passed an ordinance in October but the commission's ideas weren't properly carried out by the ordinance.

The new ordinance will require a charge amounting to a tax for all trailers not in trailer parks. This is necessary, said the commission, since trailer occupants receive all city services but pay no city taxes.

Discussion was given to starting proceedings almost immediately for an assessment paving program. Steinheimer said because of the load of work now on the engineering department, he would like to see an engineering firm employed temporarily to start the procedure of lining up the areas to be paved and handling of petitions. The commission agreed and asked him to contact firms about such engineering.

Final reading was made of an ordinance amending the present electrical code; the city elected to continue the policy of splitting its accounts among the three banks; and it decided to look for more land for future expansion of the filter plant.

Garden City Slates Rabies Inoculations

GARDEN CITY — Dr. H. F. Schwarzenbach of Big Spring will be here Friday to vaccinate dogs and cats against rabies.

There have been two suspected cases of rabies in Glasscock County during the past few days, said Oliver West, county agent. It is therefore important, he added, that pets be vaccinated for the safety of families. The veterinarian will be at the courthouse at 1 p.m.

O'Brien Elected

Dr. P. D. O'Brien, pastor of the First Baptist Church and a longtime Rotarian, Tuesday was elected president of the Big Spring Rotary Club for the next year.

W. C. Blankenship, superintendent emeritus of Big Spring schools and a charter member of the local club, was named vice president. Other officers were re-elected.

They are Ira Driver, treasurer of the club for many years, and W. T. McClure, secretary.

New officers will be installed and start their terms in June.

Boadle On Honor Roll At Texas U.

Robert Boadle, Big Spring, is among those listed on the honor roll of the College of Engineering of the University of Texas for its first semester.

He was included in the cum laude group. Others in this area honored include Dennis Martin Phillips, Lamesa, Thomas Sydney Edrington, Midland, William Reavis Gardner, Odessa, and Robert William Crowell, Snyder, all magna cum laude.

Devonian Wildcat Is Staked In Northwest Martin County

A new Devonian wildcat was staked in the extreme northwest corner of Martin County today. In Garza, a possible Spraberry discovery has been indicated at the General American No. 1-3 Koonsman.

The wildcat is Texas Crude No. 1-10 Perry-Kimbo and is 10 miles southwest of Patricia. The site is contracted to 12,500 feet and is about five miles west of the Breedlove field.

In Garza the General American exploration found shows of oil on a drillstem test in the Spraberry. It is nine miles southwest of Justiceburg.

A four-hour test on 4,940-5,040 feet in the same zone returned 1,300 feet of gas, 1,220 feet of salt water, 186 feet of gas-cut salt water, and 134 feet of heavily oil and gas-cut mud. The wildcat is 330 feet north and east lines, 3-2 T&W Survey, and 1 1/2 miles southeast of the Red Loftin field.

Operator moved in rig on the Harmon No. 1 Gates wildcat today. It is five miles south of Post, 2,435 feet north and 74 feet from east lines, 27-1, Hays Survey.

Glasscock

Operator took a drillstem test from 9,626-71 feet today at the Hamilton No. 1-16 Cole. The wildcat is 580 feet south and 700 feet from east lines, 16-32-4s, T&P Survey.

Operator continued to wait on orders at the Phillips No. 2 Gillman, C NW NW, 18-31-1, T&P Survey, in the Big Spring field. It is bottomed at 9,610 feet.

Cosden No. 2-C Clay, in the Howard-Glasscock field, pumped 47.02 barrels of 34-degree oil and 45 per cent water on final test. It is 990 feet south and 330 feet from east lines, 139-29, W&W Survey. Total depth is 2,610 feet, with production from open hole reached at 2,268 feet.

In the Snyder field, Cosden No. 10 O'Daniel potentialized 53.95 barrels of 32-degree oil along with 5 per cent water in 24 hours. The site is 1,650 feet south and 980 feet from east lines, T&P Survey. It is bottomed at 2,684 feet, and top of the pay zone is 2,595 ft. It also produced from open hole.

Martin

Rodman No. 1 Cowden, C NW SW, 30-39-1, T&P Survey, made hole in lime and shale at 10,723 feet. It is eight miles northwest of Midland in the Gladys Cowden field.

Street No. 1 White penetrated to 10,243 feet in shale today. The wildcat site is 660 feet south and 1,320 feet from west lines, 21-35-1s, T&P Survey.

The Texas Crude No. 1-10 Perry-Kimbo is a wildcat site 660 feet south and east lines, 10-HA, Lantier Survey, and about 10 miles southwest of Patricia. Drilling depth is 12,500 feet.

Midland's Art Show Deadline Falls Thursday

The deadline for entries to the Midland early spring art show has been extended to 8 p.m. Thursday.

The show, sponsored by the Midland Jaycees and the Midland Art Assn., will be open to public view Thursday through Sunday. Awards will be given at 3 p.m. Sunday.

There will be a two-dollar entry fee for non-members in the show to be held in the Air Park Art Center. Divisions include watercolor, oil and casein, charcoal, pen and ink, and pencil drawings. There will be a limit of three entries per person.

The "best in show" will win the Clint Dunagan Gold Medal award, and art materials will be given to other winners.

80 Attend Banquet Of Cub Scout Pack

About 80 parents and Cubs attended the monthly meeting of Cub Scout Pack No. 137 Tuesday night at the Washington Place School.

Nat Shick made a talk on wood-carving and totem poles, and a film on Canadian wildlife was presented. The theme for the month for the Cubs was the Royal Canadian Mounted Police and the program centered around this. Ten advancement awards were made.

L. D. Cobb New Leader Of Elks

L. D. Cobb was elected exalted ruler of the Big Spring Elks Lodge Tuesday night.

He and other new officers will be installed April 14. An installation team from the San Angelo lodge will come here to perform the ceremony. Representatives of the local group will go to San Angelo April 6 to install officers there.

Serving with Cobb for the next year will be David Sims, esteemed leading knight; Leland Graves, esteemed local knight; Bill Gray, esteemed lecturing knight; R. L. Heith, secretary; Bart Wilkinson, treasurer; R. H. Snyder, trustee; George Zacharias, five-year trustee; and W. C. Ragsdale, alternate representative to the grand lodge.

Mrs. Kinnison Dies At Lamesa, Services Pending

LAMESA—Mrs. Delia Kinnison, 79, died here today at 1:30 a.m. today after an illness of more than a year.

Funeral arrangements are pending at Higginbotham Funeral Home.

Mrs. Kinnison was born Aug. 7, 1879, in Eastland County and moved to Dawson County from Fisher County in 1922. She was a longtime member of the Baptist church.

Survivors include three sons, R. H. Kinnison of Lamesa, Raymond of Seagraves and O. A. Kinnison Jr. of Carlsbad, N. M.; four daughters, Mrs. R. L. Price and Mrs. Mable Lee Ray of Lamesa, Mrs. J. W. Paul of Levelland, and Mrs. Arne Waldrop of Haskell; two sisters, Mrs. Bob Hamrick and Mrs. Frances Koonce of Lubbock; 19 grandchildren and 12 great-grandchildren.

Mrs. J. H. Jones Dies In Wichita, Rites Thursday

Mrs. J. H. Jones, 69, a former Big Spring resident, died in a hospital at Wichita Falls last night after a long illness.

She was the sister of Mrs. Eugene Thomas, Mrs. Grace Lee Grider and Grover Griffice, all of Big Spring. Her parents were the late Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Griffice, early-day residents of Big Spring.

Mrs. Jones moved to Wichita Falls about 25 years ago. The family home is at 1621 Lucille St.

Funeral services will be conducted at 2:30 p.m. Thursday in the Owens & Brumley Funeral Home at Wichita Falls.

Survivors include a daughter, Mrs. J. D. Brown of Fort Worth, and two sons, Ernest and Herman Jones, both of Wichita Falls. Another sister is Mrs. Ruby Tappin of Snyder.

Welding Equipment Damaged By Blaze

Fire broke out on a welding machine downtown Tuesday afternoon and the welding equipment was extensively damaged before firemen could extinguish the blaze.

The equipment owned by Wayne Burleson was set up at 404 Runnels when the fire started. No cause was found for the blaze. Firemen were able to extinguish the blaze with carbon dioxide foam after cooling the equipment with water.

TRIAL
housewife, G. W. Arrant, office worker, E. H. Patton, refinery employee, J. C. Wadkins, package store clerk, Joe L. Spinks, independent trucker, C. W. Ford, air base employee, William Grey Johnson, air base employee, W. F. Splain, refinery worker; Charles Modette, employee of Reef Corp., and Mrs. Gravers.

Lopez, who has been natively dressed in a light sports jacket and dark trousers with a shirt and tie the first two days of the trial, pleaded not guilty when queried by the court after the indictment was read.

First witness for the state was R. E. McClure, operator of the Texaco service station at 701 W. 4th, at which Liner was shot to death.

He said he had a phone call around 2 a.m. on Jan. 7. He did not believe the message at first, he said. A second call a little later led to his going to the station. There he found Liner had been slain and the station cash register robbed.

Liner, he told the jury, was 18 years old, and had worked for him for three months. He was night attendant at the station, working alone from 7 p.m. to 7 a.m. In that interval, he was in complete charge of the station.

He said that Liner had notified him on the date of the slaying that he was resigning his job—that he would work on that night to terminate his employment at the station.

McClure said the robbers had taken $248.88 from the cash register and had overlooked one $20 bill which had been under some papers in the back of the register.

He said he had known the defendant Lopez "all of his life." He added that he merely knew who the youth was and that he had never been intimately acquainted with him.

The defense waived cross examination.

Second state witness was Walter Eubanks, police captain.

He told of a call which sent him to the McClure Station around 2 a.m. on Jan. 7. There he found Liner's body sprawled, face upward on the filling station floor. The man was dead, shot several times, he testified. He picked up a number of empty 22-caliber cartridge shells from the floor about three feet from the body. He also found three lead slugs—one on the floor under the body and two others which he extracted from the walls and display cases. The shells and bullets, he said he turned over to John Wood, Texas ranger, after having marked them for identification purposes.

He described in great detail just how the victim's body was found and stated that Liner had both hands in the side pockets of the white coveralls he wore.

He identified four photographs presented as state exhibits as pictures he had taken in the station shortly after reaching the scene and pointed out the marks left where the bullets had plowed into the woodwork.

The defense had no cross examination questions to ask Eubanks. Court recessed at 4:45 p.m.

Midland District Leads In Reducing Highway Deaths
District 4-A of the Department of Public Safety, headquartered in Midland under Capt. Ray Butler, set the pace for the state for highway death reductions in 1958. Gov. Price Daniel, at an awards breakfast Wednesday morning, said that the district had reduced deaths from 164 in 1957 to 104 in 1958, or 37 per cent.

The Marshall News-Messenger and the Abilene Reporter-News tied for the first award of $500 to the Texas daily newspaper doing the best job in promoting traffic safety and reducing traffic deaths. Among those getting special merit citations for reductions were Dawson County, which cut its toll from 11 to 2, a cut of 87 per cent. This was exceeded only by Madison and King counties, which had no fatalities.

Identical twins, Mrs. Glen Brock, left, and Mrs. Morrill L. Anglesey, right, 19, gave birth to daughters just 19 minutes apart. Only 67 minutes earlier their older sister, Mrs. Kirt L. House Vote Gives Ike Edge, But May Cost Campaign Help WASHINGTON (AP)—A bipartisan House vote for increased spending has given President Eisenhower a major legislative victory but may cost Republicans in Congress some 1960 campaign ammunition.

With heavy Democratic and Republican support, the House late Tuesday shouted approval of a $2,657,402,944 supplemental appropriation bill after handing its Appropriations Committee one of its worst setbacks in years.

The principal victory for Eisenhower lay in inclusion of 100 million dollars for the foreign aid development loan program. He had asked 225 millions but the committee had allowed nothing.

In addition, the House increased funds for eight other agencies for the remaining three months of the present fiscal year, though not as much as Eisenhower had asked.

None of the spending will directly affect the 77-billion-dollar budget Eisenhower has proposed for next year.

As the bill went to the Senate, it allotted $177,880,500 more than the committee had approved but still was $207,551,532 below the total requested by the President.

Extra money added to the committee's usually inviolate recommendations were the 100 million for the Development Loan Fund, $50,300,000 for defense education programs, $100,000 for the Recreation Resources Review Commission, 2 1/2 million for the District of Columbia, $4,306,500 for in-patient care of veterans, $2,100,000 for the Treasury Department, 18 million for the Post Office Department and $20,000 for the Narcotics Bureau.

Much of the added money was asked to pay for salary increases Congress voted last year.

Although the money for the Development Loan Fund fell 125 million dollars short of what the President had sought, it was the amount agreed upon as "realistic" by his House leaders.

The fund is used to make loans to friendly foreign nations for economic development under the foreign aid program. The loans are repayable mainly in foreign currencies but fishermen who oppose them claimed little if any ever would be repaid in any kind of money.

Rep. John J. Rooney (D-N.Y.), offered the amendment giving the fund 100 million dollars. Only a handful of Midwestern Republicans and a bloc of Southern Democrats opposed it on the final 183-59 standing vote.

The heavy backing from Republicans was viewed by some Democratic leaders as having taken away much of the momentum from the current GOP drive to label Democrats as big spenders in next year's political wars. Republicans not only heavily supported the loan fund amendment but offered no organized opposition to the other increases.

One Republican, Rep. H. R. Gross of Iowa, condemned the over-all action.

"The spenders have kicked the door down this afternoon," he said.

Take for example your own favorite newspaper. The index of its contents is an index of your interests . . . a listing of an and an answer to your wants. Help for you and your home!

Instead of struggling singlehandedly with scores of perplexities, the homemaker, thanks to your newspaper, has recourse to skilled experts galore, whose counsel and help is always at hand when needed. Food, health, child care . . . columns on these and many other home subjects are in your newspaper. Fashion, society, beauty, budgeting . . . the cavalcade of columns goes on. Included are entertainment, sports, stock market listings, the comics, everything from international commentaries to local obituaries. All this in addition to a bustling bundle of information about your community, your nation, your world, and the universe around you.

A modern realist has said: "One who drops a coin on the newsstand and picks up a paper buys a piece of himself every day." Look back a bit. Socrates stands in the first rank of philosophers, yet his ultimate advice to the world was "Know Thyself."

Today's great text book on self is your newspaper! Your taken-for-granted newspaper, is packed with living lessons on self . . . is the continuing study of man, his successes and failures, his glories and weaknesses, his inspirations and aspirations, his life and death . . . and yours, and ours! The daily record of our times, the lives of ourselves and our fellow men is found only in the print of our newspapers.

It's intensely interesting, this deepening drama of man and the world around him. Instructive too, because the truth in this newsprint text book are basic, and adaptable to every phase of our lives.

Newspapers help families live more intelligently, and help them to better enjoy living. They help them understand themselves, and their neighbors. They help them bear trouble and make money. And, because these printed text book truths are a record, not a recollection, they—more than any other daily expressions—find constant and repeated use in the home.

DEAR ABBY

IRRESISTIBLE FORCE!

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Do you believe in "love at first sight"? A friend where I work fixed me up with a fellow she had been talking about for ages. On the first date I felt like I'd known the fellow for years. He said that's the feeling he had about me. Abby, I'm not cheap, but it was the most natural thing in the world for me to kiss him. I have seen him every night this week and I wonder if it's possible for some one to fall in love this fast? I am 21 and he is 24.

IN LOVE
DEAR IN: Love is a "miracle" whereby two people become magnetized by each other. This can happen in a matter of minutes, but the true test of its depth and duration can be determined only by time. Make haste slowly.

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of an old-maid neighbor of mine who is so man-hungry that she still has her mistletoe up over front door? Whenever a man passes through she makes a big joke of it and grabs for him and kisses him a real good one. She is old enough to know better. Should I tell her that Christmas has passed?

NEXT-DOOR NEIGHBOR
DEAR NEXT: A woman who is this hungry for kisses doesn't care when Christmas is. Just introduce her to a nice congenial gentleman who wouldn't mind playing Santa Claus.

DEAR ABBY: Our son has been overseas for two years. He is coming home soon. He was married before he left. His wife says we are not to meet him. We plan to stay at home and do as she says, but are we doing right by our son? Your advice will be our decision. ANXIOUS MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: Stay at home and if your son asks you why you didn't meet him — tell him.

DEAR ABBY: I am the mother of a teen-aged girl, whose interests have strayed from school activities to "slumber parties" which are poorly chaperoned. These parties are held at a girl's house. There are 10 or 12 girls in the group. They are visited by anywhere from 12 to 30 boys all evening, until the wee hours of the morning. A party is planned for this Friday night and I told my daughter "NO!" I am being criticized (and even hated) by my own daughter and her friends for sticking to my decision, but I can see nothing but trouble ahead if I don't. Am I too old-fashioned?

JUST A MOTHER
DEAR JUST: You may be criticized (or even "hated" now) but you will be thanked and loved later. Stick to your decision, Mother.

What's wrong with hecking and petting? Get ABBY's booklet, "What Every Teen-ager Wants To Know." Send 25 cents and a large, self-addressed stamped envelope to ABBY, care of the Big Spring Herald.

For a personal reply, write to ABBY in care of this paper. Enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

New York City May Secede From State, Become No. 51

NEW YORK (AP)—New York City is looking into the possibility of seceding from New York and seeking statehood.

The suggestion that the city might become a sovereign state caused the state Senate to rock with laughter. But the city fathers maintained they weren't just whistling "Dixie."

Demands for separation of the city from the rest of the state go back almost 100 years. The first was made by Mayor Fernando Wood in 1861. Since then bills calling for secession have been introduced into the Legislature many times.

How to do it legally has always been a question.

A move calling for a committee to study the possibility was introduced in the City Council Tuesday, and referred to the Rules Committee for study.

The move came in the wake of a bitter fight between the city and the state over money. The city government, which is Democratic, said it must have new taxes this year to balance its budget. Permission was needed from the Legislature, which is Republican.

The city leaders claimed they had to go "hat in hand" to Albany. There, they said, they found New York City treated like an "unwanted stepchild." They didn't get all the taxing power they wanted.

Mayor Robert F. Wagner's immediate response was to lop $2 million dollars off the budget, announcing that the pinch would be felt by 80,000 city employees who would get smaller pay raises, or none at all.

The mayor's austerity program brought a wave of protest from the city's teachers threatened mass resignations. Other city employes scheduled a one-day protest stoppage — 30,000 strong — next Tuesday. Later they hinted they might stay out longer.

At Albany, the state Senate howled with laughter when a resolution was introduced to let New York City secede.

The move called for a state constitutional amendment to create "South New York" (New York City) and "North New York" (the rest of the state).

The leading rebel was Joseph Zaretzki, leader of the minority Senate Democrats. He repeated a frequent city complaint, that the city is often short-changed in the matter of state aid.

In a voice vote, Republican senators whimsically added their voices to those of their Democratic colleagues in a thunderous

"aye." One lone "no" voice was faintly heard.

There was a hush while the body waited for Lt. Gov. Malcolm Wilson, presiding officer and a Republican, to deal with the situation. He smiled and blandly ruled "The amendment is defeated."

But there was no whimsy in the secession resolution offered in the City Council. It came from Joseph T. Sharkey, Democratic majority leader, and 10 other Democratic councilmen.

The resolution calls for a committee to be set up to study "the possibility and legality of New York City seceding from the state of New York for the purpose of becoming a sovereign state."

The measure was introduced with much fist-shaking in the direction of Albany. Sharkey, who comes from Brooklyn, denounced what he called the "vicious attitude" of Republican Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller and the Legislature in imposing "economic slavery" on the city.

Iraq Quits Baghdad Pact

LONDON (AP)—The Baghdad Pact was in the market for a new name today following Iraq's withdrawal from the U.S.-supported anti-Communist alliance.

Premier Abdel Karim Kassem formally pulled his country out of the alliance Tuesday in a move seemingly designed to please both the pan-Arab followers of President Gamal Abdel Nasser of the United Arab Republic and the Soviet bloc.

The alliance took its name from the Iraqi capital, where the pact was signed in 1955 by Iraq, Iran, Pakistan, Turkey and Britain. The other four governments and the United States already had written off Iraq as a military ally. Kassem had boycotted all pact activities since his revolutionists overthrew the pro-Western monarchy last July, and the alliance's headquarters are now in Ankara, the Turkish capital.

The first reaction from the United Arab Republic was one of disdain. The semi-official Middle East News Agency, repeating the old charge that the pact sought to destroy Arab nationalism, said this also was the aim of "Kassem's policy as well as the penetration of Communist imperialism into Iraq."

"Arabs who opposed the Baghdad Pact ever since its creation will today resist for the same reasons Communist influence and subordination," the U.A.R. agency declared.

Nasser has accused Kassem of joining the Communists in a campaign against the U.A.R. and Arab unity. Kassem, backed by Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev, has accused Nasser of fomenting the recent abortive army revolt in northern Iraq.

The Iraqi move raised doubt about the future of the British air base at Habaniyah, west of Baghdad. The RAF base of 600 men and a number of planes operated under the Baghdad Pact.

Diplomats said that Kassem, though publicly trying to ignore Nasser's attacks, may be feeling the pressure of the U.A.R. leader's pan-Arab movement. There was speculation that the Iraqi premier hoped to demonstrate to the Arab world that he was free of Western influence. But Kassem's Communist backers in Baghdad and Moscow also have assailed the alliance with the West ever since its formation, and his withdrawal from it was certain to please them.

Kassem met Tuesday with Baghdad editors—who had led the criticism of the U.A.R. president—and ordered them to "forget Nasser" and not waste time replying to U.A.R. attacks.

"Within three years," he told the editors, "Iraq will be the most powerful nation in the Middle East."

The Iraqi premier insisted his revolutionary government was still adhering to a policy of positive neutrality.

Kassem's apparent desire to improve relations with Nasser also was indicated by the subdued atmosphere surrounding the trial of four Iraqi air force officers accused of taking part in the short-lived revolt earlier this month.

The trial opened in Baghdad without fanfare or even any advance announcement.

BREAK THE CHAIN LAXATIVE HABIT

Millions find gentle, safe relief with Kellogg's All-Bran and milk

For irregularity caused by lack of bulk

Wouldn't you like to rid yourself of harsh laxative drugs and find a safe, gentle way to natural regularity?

You can, you know, because there is a way—a very delicious way—the Kellogg's All-Bran way. And every year more and more people discover that this good cereal food can do for them what laxative drugs never could.

Actually there's a good reason why Kellogg's All-Bran works when laxative drugs don't. You see, one of the common causes of irregularity is lack of bulk in the diet. And laxative drugs which contain no bulk can do nothing to correct the cause of the trouble.

Kellogg's All-Bran, on the other hand, is a whole bran cereal. And since bran is nature's best bulk-forming food, a half-cup of Kellogg's All-Bran with milk provides all of the good bulk food needed for consistent, natural regularity. (Wonderful old-fashioned bran muffin flavor and good nutrition, too!)

Enjoy Kellogg's All-Bran with milk every day for 10 days. Then, if you are not completely satisfied, just return the empty carton to us. By return mail we'll send you double your money back and that's a promise from Kellogg's of Battle Creek.

Snow Warnings For Panhandle

Snow warnings came out for the Texas Panhandle Wednesday as another late norther rumbled down the eastern slopes of the Rockies toward the state.

Thunderstorms and showers whipped down the Panhandle and Plains as far south as the Lubbock area early Wednesday. The cold front was expected to hit the Panhandle late Wednesday with snow starting Wednesday night. More than three inches was expected in the upper Panhandle by early Thursday and the Weather Bureau warned all interests to take precautions.

Colder weather with a hard freeze down to 22 degrees in the Panhandle and upper South Plains was forecast for early Thursday.

The cold air, led by a wave of showers and thunderstorms, was expected to sweep over the entire state by late Thursday.

Light drizzle fell early Wednesday from the San Antonio area north to Fort Worth and Dallas. Houston also reported drizzle. Skies were generally cloudy except clear in the Wink and Midland area.

Predawn temperatures Wednesday ranged from 47 degrees at Dalhart to 68 at Laredo, Brownsville, Corpus Christi and Alice.

Highs Tuesday climbed to 91 at Presidio and Wichita Falls. Readings were mostly in the 80s with only a trace of rain reported at Kingsville.

75,000 Needless Cancer Deaths

NEW YORK (AP) — Cancer kills 75,000 Americans each year—needlessly. The American Cancer Society reported Tuesday that 45,000 Americans develop cancer each year. Last year 150,000 were saved. The report said 75,000 more would have been saved by earlier diagnosis and treatment. The two most rapidly increasing forms of cancer in older persons are leukemia (cancer of the blood) and lung cancer.

Driver Training For Danger Urged

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Student drivers, says a safety engineer, should be trained like soldiers, being exposed to hazards repeatedly until they instinctively react correctly. Dr. Earle Hannaford of the American Telephone and Telegraph Co. told a safety conference Tuesday that traffic hazards could be simulated in motion pictures showing traffic rushing toward a driving class. Through repeated exposures under non-panic conditions, he said, student drivers can acquire built-in responses for use when the real thing comes along.

Fire Destroys Benjamin Stores

BENJAMIN, Tex. (AP) — A spectacular fire burned three stores in the downtown section of this small West Texas town last night.

A brisk wind and limited water supplies hampered firemen as they fought the stubborn flames for more than three hours.

They used all the water in an overhead storage tank and had to stretch lines to a small lake about a mile from town.

Destroyed were two groceries and a hardware store. Two nearby unoccupied buildings were damaged by water.

Ronny Hamilton, son of T. E. Hamilton, owner of a grocery store, said the blaze broke out in an air conditioner.

Unofficial estimates put damages at $100,000.

One fireman, Leo Benham, suffered a cut hand. Firemen from nearby Munday, Knox City and Seymour helped battle the flames.

Benjamin is about 80 miles southwest of Wichita Falls.

Mishap In Meat Plant Kills 5

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Searchers sifted through the ruptured interior of a meat packing plant today looking for two workers believed missing in a freak disaster which claimed five lives.

Five workers died Tuesday when an ice house atop the seven-story brick building collapsed. It ripped huge holes in each floor in its dive to the basement. Sixteen other workers were injured.

Tons of rubble and meat were piled at the base of the building. The stinging aroma of ammonia was prevalent as the searchers continued their task.

Company officials said they are fairly certain the missing men are buried in the debris and presumed dead. They were identified as Claud Wilkinson and James McIntosh.

Scores of lives were saved when seconds elapsed before each floor section gave way. Workers said they heard muffled rumbles similar to an earthquake and scurried to safety.

A coffee break may have saved additional lives. Officials said there was no way to determine how many of the plant's 1,100 workers were in the building at the time.

Ironically, one of the victims, Ronnie Porter, was an off-duty fireman working on his day off.

On The Way To The Poor House

An elderly lady, portrayed by High School Sophomore Jessie Paddock, is on her way to the poor-house. But the local minister, played by Capt. Bill Sandefur of Webb AFB, consoles her and, as it turns out, the old woman is saved from her gloomy fate. This scene, depicting the two in a prayerful attitude, is from "The Little Minister," to be staged Monday and Tuesday by the College Players under the sponsorship of the Pastors Assn.

Knott-Ackerly Consolidation Election Called For April 18

Ackerly and Knott school districts will vote on April 18 on a proposal to consolidate the two schools into a new district to be known as Sands Consolidated Independent School District.

A petition signed by 36 Knott residents was filed with Ed Carpenter, Howard County judge, Tuesday asking that he call an election on that date. He said he was informed a similar petition signed by Ackerly residents was presented to the Martin County judge at the same time.

Under the plan being pushed by sponsors of the election, the new consolidated district would lead to establishment of a new school building to be erected near the geographical center of the district. This edifice would be in Howard County just off U. S. 87 and between Knott and Ackerly.

Carpenter said that he had selected judges to conduct the election in Knott, R. L. Stallings will be presiding judge and Donald Allred and Mrs. R. L. Stallings will serve as clerks.

Notices were to be posted in the district calling attention to the election and ballots will be prepared. The ballots merely ask expressions of voters on whether or not the consolidation be approved.

Voters in each district must show a majority approval or the consolidation issue will fail.

At a meeting of the school boards of the two districts Monday night in Ackerly the name "Sands Consolidated Independent School District" was selected for the new district which will be created if voters approve consolidation.

The proposed bond issue which would provide $325,000 for construction of a new high school and junior high school for the consolidated district, will be called at a later date, R. N. Pierce, superintendent of the Ackerly schools, stated.

Should the districts vote consolidation and fail to vote the bond issue, high school students in the new district would use the facilities which presently exist at Ackerly.

Western Division Repeats As T&P Safety Winner

Texas and Pacific Railway Co.'s Western Division railroaders were tops in safety on the T&P in 1958 and will receive their President's Safety Trophy as honored guests of the railroad at a banquet here Friday evening.

The "Safety Victory" of T&P's West Texas railroaders last year marks the third time the Western Division has won the coveted President's award since the program was initiated in 1951. They also won it for the best safety performance in 1957 and this is the first time in Texas and Pacific's safety program that the same division repeated its victory.

Highlight of the occasion will be the presentation of the President's Safety Trophy, a beautiful 4-foot-high golden trophy, by President J. T. Suggs, Supt. K. D. Hestes will accept the huge cup on behalf of his safeworking Western Division.

Vice President-Operations L. C. Porter will award 14 T&P "Safety Oscars," smaller gold-plated trophies, to a like number of Western Division supervisors whose departments achieved perfect safety performances through 1958. These "Safety Oscars" are presented to departments - which complete a year without a single employee injury.

From the customer's standpoint - T&P's rail patrons - the Texas and Pacific has not suffered a single passenger fatality in more than 35 years of public service.

Approximately 1,000 guests are expected to attend the dinner, coming from up and down the T&P's winning Western Division between Fort Worth and El Paso. Included in the guest list are employees of T&P's Texas-New Mexico Railway on its Western Division.

Special guests will include members of T&P Ladies Safety Councils, composed of women employees, wives, mothers, daughters and sweethearts of T&P workers. On the railroad's Western Division these T&P Ladies Safety Councils are organized in Big Spring and El Paso.

Supt. of Safety J. H. Williams, who directs the safety program on the T&P, will act as master of ceremonies.

Accompanying President Suggs from the railroad's general offices at Dallas will be a contingent of Texas and Pacific officers and representatives.

This railroad safety banquet will be staged in the company's Freight Terminal Warehouse Building at Big Spring. The big freight depot will be cleared of all freight shipments and specially decorated for the occasion.

Church Choirs Will Sing Easter Cantata At Lamesa

LAMESA—Approximately 25 vocalists from the various church choirs of Lamesa will appear in the Easter Cantata, "The Seven Last Words of Christ," by DuBois Friday night at the First Presbyterian Church.

The cantata, which begins at 7:30 p.m., is to be directed by Richard Crawley. Soloists will be Mrs. Don Newsom of Big Spring, soprano; Oatus Roberts Jr. and Edward L. Wittner, tenors; and the Rev. Julian Hendren, pastor of First Presbyterian Church at Sherman, baritone.

The readers will be four local pastors, the Rev. Walter G. Horn of hosting First Presbyterian Church; Rev. Milo B. Arbuckle, pastor of First Baptist Church; the Rev. Rush J. Barnett, First Christian Church, and the Rev. J. Floyd Mayhew, First Methodist Church.

The cantata has been presented during the Easter season here at least seven times. Many of the singers have sung each year, among them Crawley and Roberts. Mrs. Newsom and the Rev. Hendren have sung the cantata several times. Only four of the singers rehearsing this week for the production have not sung in the group previously.

"The Seven Last Words" has been sung in the Baptist, Methodist and Presbyterian Churches at various times.

Student, 19, Weds 69-Year-Old Widow

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—A 19-year-old student and his 69-year-old bride spent their first day at home Tuesday beating off demands of the bride's children that they end their marriage.

Paul Dunn and Lola Tipton Dunn said they were wed Monday in Covington, Tenn., by County Judge Stanley Shoaf and intend to stay that way.

"I told them I have already promised before God and witnesses to stand by him always, and I will," said Mrs. Dunn.

They met about a year ago when Dunn, studying accounting at a business school, rented a room from his future wife. "I was lost within the world and had no one to care," he said. "She looked to me to be the same."

Mrs. Dunn, a widow of 19 years, said she first felt "very sympathetic to him. And later we fell in love. We tried to fight it. He moved out for a month. And then we gave in."

Pension Reports Must Be Filed

A new law passed by the last preceding session of Congress goes into effect April 1, and unless a lot of folks don't watch out they may be caught right smack dab out on a limb.

It is called the Pension and Welfare Fund Disclosure Act, and it requires that ALL (repeat all) administrators of these funds file with the Labor Department a full description of their fund's operation before April 1 of this year.

The Labor Department estimates that upwards of 500,000 separate pension and welfare plans are in existence which are covered by the new law. A statement by Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell declares that "We have publicized the provisions of this law widely" but "we are fearful that many administrators of pension and welfare funds have failed to become acquainted with the law's requirements and will neglect to file the necessary reports with the department by the April 1 deadline.

Stiff penalties are provided for failure to file the required reports, he says.

Forms are obtainable free from all Labor Department Wage and Hour regional offices or from the Department in Washington.

Declaration purpose of the new law is to protect beneficiaries against abuses, waste and mismanagement. There are estimated to be from 80 to 90 million workers and their dependents and beneficiaries covered by the act.

Support ABC Relays By Attending

Once more we'd like to remind you to support the American Business Club relays this weekend.

This is a track and field show second to none in quality. A number of the leading university teams of the nation have been invited along with most of the Southwest Conference squads and other leading track aggregations.

In Glenn Davis, fans will be looking at one of the most colorful and gifted stars of the nation's cinder path. And he'll have plenty of competition.

The junior college portion of the meet will make it the outstanding junior college aggregation in the state, and our own

H.C.J.C. has a very good chance to dominate this part of it.

The high school division is jam-packed with teams, among them some of the best in the state. Out of all the numbers entered are bound to come some exciting performances.

Whether you prefer the sprints, or the runs, or the relays, or the jumps and pole vault, you'll find a rich field to your liking.

The ABC club has gone to considerable expense to put this tremendous show. We urge you to support it by your attendance. That's the best way we know about to perpetuate this fine production.

We Deal Again With A Consummate Liar

WASHINGTON—Three years and three months isn't a long time in world affairs, yet how many people who are so enthusiastically hailing the next "summit" conference remember that the Soviet government made a solemn pledge three years ago at a "summit" conference and then broke it four months later at a foreign ministers' conference?

Of what avail is any "summit" conference if the agreements are later torn into scraps of paper?

A certain communique, for instance, is worth rereading today. The head of the Soviet government—Bulgarian—with Khrushchev at his side, signed it on July 23, 1955. It was issued after a "summit" conference at Geneva, attended also by President Eisenhower, Prime Minister Eden of Britain and Premier Faure of France. The statement says:

"The heads of government, recognizing their common responsibility for the settlement of the German question and the reunification of Germany, have agreed that the settlement of the German question and the reunification of Germany by free elections shall be carried out in conformity with the national interests of the German people and the interests of European security. The foreign ministers will make whatever arrangements they may consider desirable for the participation of, or for consultation with, other interested parties."

This was a "directive" or formal instruction to the foreign ministers of the same four countries—the Soviet Union, Great Britain, France and the United States. The four ministers then met at Geneva, and here is the full text of the joint declaration of France, Great Britain and the United States, issued at the close of the conference on Nov. 16, 1955:

"At Geneva, the foreign ministers of France, the United Kingdom and the United States of America tried to reach agreement with the Soviet foreign minister on what the four heads of government in July agreed were the closely linked problems of German reunification and European security. To this end, they made a proposal for the reunification of Germany by free elections in 1956 and for a treaty of assurance giving the Soviet Union far-reaching safeguards against aggression when Germany was reunified.

"Marshal Bulganin in July had agreed that the reunification of Germany was the common responsibility of the four powers and should be carried out by means of free elections. The Soviet foreign minister, however, despite the directive of the heads of government, made it plain that the Soviet government refused to agree to the reunification of Germany, since that would lead to the liquidation of the East German regime. He made counterproposals which would have involved the continued division of Germany as well as the eventual dissolution of the Western security system. It is for this reason that the negotiations have failed.

"The foreign ministers of France, the United Kingdom and the United States of America are aware that this result must bring a sense of cruel disappointment to the German people, east and west of the zonal border which now unjustly divides them. However, the three foreign ministers believe that the Soviet government will come to recognize that its own self-interest will be served by ending the injustice of a divided Germany. They believe that the Soviet government will realize that so long as it persists in withholding unity from the German people, there can be no solid security in Europe, nor, indeed, in the world.

"The three Western Powers will themselves not cease their efforts to end the injustice and wrong now being done by dividing the German people and will continue to stand ready to contribute to the security which can be enjoyed by all only when Germany is reunified."

Why does the Soviet Union think now it can reap the fruits of its repudiation of the pledge given at the "summit" conference of July 1955 and gain its ends in 1959?

Perhaps it is because the Soviets have an iron determination and believe that the Western democracies are undergoing a process of moral deterioration in which principle will be sacrificed for expediency.

Perhaps it's because the politically selfish Socialist-Labor party in Britain, which believes in peace-at-any-price doctrines, has forgotten the fatal appointment of Hitler at Munich in 1938.

Perhaps it's because, inside the United States, prominent Democrats in Congress, by their speeches and statements in the press, have openly encouraged the Soviets to believe that President Eisenhower "lost the confidence" of the American people in the last congressional election, that the Democrats are going to win the presidency in 1960, and that the next administration will give softer treatment to the Kremlin.

Certainly the widespread pressure for a "summit" conference this summer has persuaded a reluctant President of the United States to go again to Geneva. But the holding of the conference can have only one value: to inform the world once more of the futility of trying to negotiate with a consummate liar.

WHAT OTHERS SAY

Senator Henry M. Jackson, a member of the Senate Armed Service Committee, has warned against the nurturing of what he calls a "national superiority complex" that could lead the United States to disaster in the cold war with Russia.

The admission may remind many how they laughed at that strutting funny fellow Adolf Hitler, with his Chaplin mustache, and then how appallingly he made them swallow their laughter in the early months of World War II. But for some time after we won the decision in that war and had a monopoly on such destructive weapons as the atomic and hydrogen bombs, we maintained a "superiority complex" toward Russia.

There is still the abiding American conviction that, put to a decisive test with any nation, this country and its free people can and will come through the ordeal. It has always happened and would happen again. That Russia well knows.

Getting Crossed Eyes From Budget

WASHINGTON (AP) — Taxpayers can get double vision looking at the Washington juggling act.

President Eisenhower proposed a budget which he said could be balanced. He offered to show how. But his figures were so thin and flimsy only magic could make them out right.

The Democrats, sticking under his charge that they're the big spenders, are trying some magic of their own, plus defiance. They are complaining his budget is much too low for what the country needs.

Eisenhower, calling on the Democratic-run Congress to keep down spending in the 1960 fiscal year starting July 1, offered a budget of 77 billion dollars and estimated revenue at $77,100,000,000. That is cutting it pretty thin.

Eisenhower figured the government would wind up 100 million dollars to the good if Congress agreed to raise 600 million in revenue by boosting the gasoline tax and postal rates.

It is a pretty good bet Congress won't.

So the idea of a balanced budget already looks academic, particularly in view of what Congress already has done to some of Eisenhower's thoughts on spending.

But what Eisenhower proposed and what the Democrats are doing will give politicians of both parties plenty of ground for argument right up to election day in 1960.

Remember: In this present 1959 fiscal year which ends June 30, the budget is already unbalanced with a deficit of perhaps 13 billion dollars. It's the 1960 budget, starting July 1, that Eisenhower has talked of balancing.

He asked $1,375,000,000 for the country's subscription to the International Monetary Fund. He wanted the expense charged to the 1959 fiscal year, with its already well-known deficit.

The Democratic-run Senate voted the money but charged it to fiscal 1960 expenses. If the House goes along, the Democrats can argue Eisenhower himself threw his own 1960 budget out of balance by asking this money. Chances are in this case the House won't go along.

It would be a rare taxpayer who could figure out the difference between charging an expense to the 1959 budget or the 1960 budget.

Then there's the Development Loan Fund, a government agency which makes long-term loans to underdeveloped countries to get them moving. Last year Congress voted for fiscal 1959-225 million dollars less than Eisenhower asked for this fund.

But fiscal 1959 doesn't end till June 30 and the fund is already running dry. Eisenhower asked that the 225 million, dropped last year, be voted now and charged to 1959.

The House Appropriations Committee voted to give him not a dime. Later this year, of course, it could vote to give him the 225 million along with what he asked for next year, but charging it all to fiscal 1960, thus throwing his budget further out of balance.

This, too, the Democrats could point to as an example how the economy—preaching Eisenhower was piling up expense. But Tuesday the full House overruled its committee and voted Eisenhower 100 million to be charged to 1959 expenses.

Here's a good example of Congress voting more than Eisenhower asked. He wanted for fiscal 1960 about 33 million dollars for loans and grants to communities in distress because of continuing unemployment.

The Senate voted 389 million. The House has yet to act, but will probably vote more than Eisenhower asked. The argument, of course, is that Eisenhower didn't ask enough.

He'll be plenty more of this until only a taxpayer who is an auditor and has the time could unjuggle the figures.

Hasty Retreat

COLUMBUS, Ohio — Nathaniel Robinson, 25, had nothing but thanks for the two men who approached him on the street, told him he had dropped his wallet and returned it to him.

After the two men made a hasty retreat, Robinson looked inside his wallet and changed his opinion of them — $49 was missing from the wallet.

WHAT OTHERS SAY

The gyrations of the stock market in substantial part seem to be the result of hedging against inflation. Yet much of this inflationary prospect is the direct result of inbuilt devices by government, those who fear their liquid funds will be shrunken further by the inflation against which the administration has been so assiduously warning the country naturally turn to the acquisition of stocks. These and the speculative element, including the "greenhorns" who do not perform in an orthodox manner, have lifted the market to record heights, and the artificial nature of this rise then results in serious backsets as the timid or profit-seekers get out. Then a new crop appears to come into the market all over again with the result that it again rises to unrealistic heights.

The boom in the market is caused as much as anything by government policy. Then when it gets out of hand the government does its utmost to knock it down.

Really there is too much money for two stocks. An unhealthy competition for acquisition is the result, and in the process a sense of real relationship to income and values is lost.

This is a poor way to counter the inflationary threat. One can counter inflation by driving more people into fear of inflation and thus into the stock market to compete for stocks all too few for the money at hand.

Business thus becomes deprived of financing. The Treasury has to borrow from banks. It is forced into more and more short-term financing because the federal government's constant and openly expressed fear of inflation is driving money into other channels.

Around The Rim

You Have To Hand It To The Poets

The other night I picked up a text containing a smattering of the best in literature. It was pretty much standard fare, for the old reliables were there, including a number of poems.

I got stuck on them, being a sucker for a neatly turned phrase. With all due respect for the masters in prose, you've got to hand it to the poets when it comes to packing word pictures into beautiful packages with a lyrical lilt.

They—at least the honest-to-goodness poets—can say more in fewer words, they can set a mood quicker, and they can stir the emotions more deeply than by any other word media of comparable limitations in length.

As for mood, how about Thomas Gray's opening lines in his "Elegy"? "The curfew tolls the knell of parting day, The lowing herd winds slowly o'er the lea. The ploughman homeward plods his weary way, And leaves the world to darkness and to me." Not bad, even if it did take Mr. Gray eight years to do it.

Or how about Walt Whitman's lines: "O shades of night—O moody, tearful night! A great star disappeared. O the black murk that hides the star! O cruel hands that hold me powerless—O helpless soul of me!"

How could you say things as well as William Wordsworth? For instance: "Our birth is but a sleep and a forgetting. The soul that rises with us, our life's Star, Hath elsewhere its setting, And cometh from afar."

Then there is the neat phrase from Percy Shelley: "O wind, if winter comes, can Spring be far behind?"

And who could in fewer words get to the heart of real religion as did Robert Burns? "Compared with this, how poor Religion's pride, In all the pomp of method and of art, When men display to congregations wide, Devotions every Grace—except the heart!"

In a twinkling Lord Byron captured the spirit of Rome—"Oh Rome, my country! City of the soul! The orphans of the heart must turn to thee, Lone mother of dead empires."

Francis Joseph Thompson had the touch for lyrical expression when he wrote: "I laughed in the morning's eyes, Heaven and I wept together, And its sweet tears were salt with mortal mine. The pulp is so bitter, how shall taste the rind?"

And as for sheer music, how about this from "The Garden of Prosperine" by Charles Swinburne: "Pale without name or number, In fruitless fields of corn, They bow themselves and slumber All night 'til light is born."

Critics are generally agreed that there was never a more beautiful and lyrical work, so fully packed with imagery as Samuel Taylor Coleridge's "Kubla Khan." Here are three lines which many contend are among the most lovely passages ever penned in the English language:

"A savage place! As holy and enchanted As e'er beneath a waning moon was haunted By woman wailing for her demon-lover!"

What wouldn't you give to be able to handle words like that? —JOE PICKLE

A Beef About Airline Services

It is one woman's opinion that there ought to be a national movement to Save Our Railroads. Passenger Division, before it is too late.

Unless the jet air performs a miracle for passengers in comfort, convenience and schedules adhered to, a lot of us passengers are going to be driven back to the railroads.

Let me say here and now that I am a real pioneer of the scheduled airways. In 30 years, I have flown more than a million miles, both at home and abroad. But unless domestic service within the continental limits of the U. S. A. improves tremendously and very soon, it's back to the iron horse for me.

In the past two years, service on domestic airlines has been increasingly uncertain and erratic. This has nothing to do with safety, as the safety records of domestic airlines are excellent. No, my beef has to do with the uncertainty of a passenger that the plane, on which he has a ticket, will take off on schedule or take off at all.

A mere delay of an hour or so seems to be S. O. P. Apparently, the passenger should be grateful if the flight on which he is booked isn't cancelled altogether at the last minute.

It is a common experience for a passenger to go to an air terminal to discover that his flight not only has been cancelled but that the employees of the airline are annoyed that the passenger's extra-sensory perception failed to inform him of the fact.

Occasionally, even the employee's extra-sensory perception fails him. Only a few weeks ago, an airline employee checked my bags and was handing ticket and baggage checks back to me when a more alert employee reminded him that the flight had been cancelled some hours before.

Then, both employees upbraided me because the airline's main office had not called to tell me of the cancellation!

It is hard for a customer to understand why, 10 minutes after flight time, passengers are called to the airline counter and an employee explains that due to "technical failure" the plane will not take off. Goodness knows, we are grateful that a faulty plane is not taking off. But what we fail to understand is why a plane, which has been standing idle for some hours at the point where the flight originates, has not been checked out as to performance until takeoff time.

That kind of fiasco has been my lot three times in the past eight weeks. Performance, not weather, was at fault in each case. In each instance, it was up to the passenger to find another flight.

On a fourth and recent occasion, passengers waited two hours while another plane was readied. Many passengers lost the plane connections they had expected to make at other points. It is my recent experience that it is futile to try to make a plane connection with a leeway of less than five to eight hours!

Airlines can no longer plead the "importance of the industry" or the "newness of air service" for their lapses or laxness. The industry is now a giant, and ought to act like one.

Passengers have another legitimate beef, too, that both airports and airlines had better remedy before it is too late. At far too many airports all over the country, and many of them new, the passenger has to stand and stand and wait and wait, to board a plane, in an icy wind tunnel a quarter of a mile from the terminal. It is equally broiling in summer.

Unless things change in the wild blue yonder, I am going back to Casey Jones. Copyright 1958, United Features Syndicate, Inc.

What's With The Movies?

HOLLYWOOD — George Baldwin had been working hard in the hula-hoop factory—some say too hard.

He felt it himself. He realized he had neglected his family as he spent long hours over the production line. Now, with the eraze drying and the plant retooling for whirly plates, he would make amends.

"I know!" he exclaimed as he drove his Whippet home on the freeway. "I'll take the whole family to a movie! What fun when the folks used to take us to the Gem as youngsters! Oh, that Anta Page!"

At home, George Baldwin patted the heads of Maxine, 7, Patty, 9, and Laverne, 11, and kissed his wife, Nancy. That was surprise enough. Then he sprang the topper: "Let's all go to a movie tonight."

Mrs. Baldwin's face darkened and she ordered the daughters to go to their room. This puzzled her husband. "Don't you want to go to a movie?" he asked. "I'd do anything to get out of this cotton-picking house," she retorted. "But we can't discuss movies in front of the children."

"Ridiculous! Why not?"

"You've been circulating with that hula-hoop crowd so much you don't know what's going on. I know. I've been reading the movie reviews. Now just what picture would you like to take the children to?"

"I thought we might see some of those that are up for Academy Awards, how about 'Cat on a Hot Tin Roof.' I like animal movies."

"Are you daft? The cat is Maggie and she spends the picture trying to get her husband to act like a husband instead of pining for an old teammate."

"How about 'I Want to Live'? That sounds inspirational."

"About a girl whose hobbies are crime and men?"

"Then how about 'Some Came Running'? I hear Shirley MacLaine is wonderful."

"As a floozy. Nothing but drinking and carousing."

"Surely 'Separate Tables' is okay. Such a nice cast. David Niven . . ."

"Plays an old fraud who molests ladies in theatres."

"Hmmm. I don't suppose" The Defiant Ones—"

"No. Not the kind of language we would want the children to hear. And there's a bedroom scene."

"I've got it! 'Gigi!' That should be a gay one."

"It's gay, all right. About a girl from a long line of unwed mothers who is trained to be a French mistress. How do we explain all that to our daughters?"

"I don't know. I just don't know," said George Baldwin, his visions of togetherness shattering before him. "I guess I'll just stay home and watch TV. I see they're showing 'The Cohens and the Kellys in the Argentine.'"

U.S. Expert Says Texas Water Problem No Cause For Alarm

DALLAS (AP)— Texas' water problems will increase in number and complexity but are not a cause for alarm, a staff member of the U. S. Geological Survey declared today.

"These problems will require more and more sound scientific knowledge as a basis for water management," said Dr. R. L. Nance in a speech prepared for delivery to the convention of the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Assn.

Noting that the principal bulk use of water is used for irrigation, Nance said "of total withdrawals of 18,700,000 acre-feet of water, irrigation farming used 74.5 per cent, industry 17.5 per cent a high proportion of its water that is drawn from the ground—especially so during the recent drought.

Emphasizing that planning and management are essential to solving the state's water problems, Nance said that enough facts have not yet been assembled on downstream effects of stock ponds, contouring, range reseeding and other management practices to determine their value.

"Land management agencies, working with farmers and ranchers, have accomplished a great deal of conservation during the past 25 years," he said. "Now, however, with much of the land improvement work being aimed directly at water control, the time has come to find out what control actually is being achieved. Otherwise, for example, there is no basis for deciding what measures will give the most benefit from the small water supply or help the most to pull rangeland through droughts."

But, he said, the dollar return from water invested in beef is among the highest of any of the uses of water.

"A steer drinks about 10 gallons of water per day and develops roughly a thousand pounds of weight in two years," he said. "Assuming that the steer is worth $250 on the hoof on the range and has consumed 7,300 gallons of water, the gross dollar return is about $34.25 per thousand gallons of water."

He said the "nationwide average gross return per thousand gallons of water is 10 cents from irrigation and $11.70 from manufacturing."

L. S. Pope of Oklahoma State urged the cattlemen to stay abreast of advancing knowledge that may affect their industry.

"Whether the cattle producer accepts the change or tries to avoid it, he is affected by new methods and ideas," he said. "In many ways he is forced to conform to advances in the industry by the pressure of competition from other producers and the expanded sales efforts of the feed industry and pharmaceutical houses."

Pope said the cattle industry has seen an alarming increase recently in the use and acceptance of implants and additives in feeds without unbiased information as to the merits and disadvantages of the products.

"Despite the difficulties always inherent to application of new ideas or methods, certain developments do point the way to real progress in producing more beef at lower cost."

In this connection he stressed the importance in upgrading breeding practices and proper nutrition.

O. D. Butler of Texas A&M, reporting on the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station's research and recommendations on beef production, also stressed that nutrition has a significant influence on reproduction.

Mother Held After Children Found Dead

HIRBERNIA, N.J. (AP)— Two children were found slain Tuesday, their bodies swathed in a blanket and jammed in a clothes basket. One had been bludgeoned to death.

The victims were Katherine Church, 2, and her brother Kenneth, 6 months, children of Mr. and Mrs. Brooks Church. The bodies were found by Robert Burdge, captain of the Hibernia rescue squad.

Police Chief Ernest Powers of Rockaway Township said early today Burdge had given police a sworn statement alleging that Ellen Church, 38, the mother, told him she killed the children and disclosed where she put the bodies.

No charges have been placed against Mrs. Church, who was found by her husband in their home, heavily drugged.

Church, a microbiologist for the Warner-Lambert Pharmaceutical Co. in Morris Plains, told police he came home from work to find his wife and two other children, Elizabeth, 14, and Stephen, 9, under the influence of drugs.

The scientist said he spent the next three hours trying to find his two youngest children and trying to keep his wife away from the other two.

At 9:30 p.m. police received a telephone call. They say they think it was from Mrs. Church. The rescue squad found the two dead youngsters in a playhouse some 50 feet from the Church's rural home.

Mrs. Church was taken to St. Clare's hospital in Denville and placed under police custody. She told hospital authorities she had taken "some pills."

Katherine was bludgeoned to death by a blunt instrument. An autopsy was scheduled for both children. The other children were nauseated but otherwise unharmed.

Powers said Mrs. Church would be examined by a psychiatrist. Church was questioned by police and released.

EDINBERG (AP)— The ballots in the Donna city election April 7 were ordered impounded yesterday by Judge Fidencio Guerra of 139th District Court. Dist. Atty. R. L. Lattimore said all candidates asked the action.

Boilermakers Claim Union Trial Unfair

HOUSTON (AP)— Three of 10 boilermakers on trial by their international union charged after a hearing yesterday that they weren't given the names of their accusers.

The three-member trial group replied that the accusers wouldn't be named.

The union member counsel for the first three to be called, W.R. Ray Allen, objected during the closed-door hearing on the grounds that the 10 men should not be accused by anonymous witnesses.

Allen said the trio's attorney, Frederick W. Robinson, wasn't permitted in the hearing room because he isn't a member of the union.

Nine of the 10 accused obtained court action prohibiting the international union from trying them for referring their grievances to the courts.

The 1st Court of Civil Appeals also enjoined the international from trying them on charges they advocated and encouraged the dissolution of a district lodge established by the international to supervise Houston's Local 74 and locals in Galveston and Corpus Christi. The injunction authorized the international, however, to try the men on charges that they created dissension if the parent union so desired.

But the court order said no reference could be made during such proceedings to the district lodge.

International officers conducting the trial are H. E. Osburn, president of Local 83, Kansas City, Mo. Buddy Fals, business manager of Local 96, Fort Worth, and Jeff Johnson, business manager of Local 587, Tulsa. Osburn refused to make public the specific charges against the local members.

Called before the group yesterday were C.L. Pail, vice president of the union, Leland Head, business agent, and Tommy Watkins, J. D. Langham, recording secretary of the local, who is expected to be called today, said he will not testify to anything unless confronted by his accusers or unless they are at least named.

He said he will demand to know the specific charges filed against him.

Do-It-Yourself Burns Own Roof

NEWPORT, Ky. (AP)— Ernest Johnson put a new roof on his house Tuesday, then fired up his stove and relaxed.

Soon his roof was ablaze and his home full of smoke.

Firefighters saved part of the roof and said the trouble was Johnson built the roof right over the chimney.

Plenty To Spare

Bernard McMahan, Big Spring second baseman, arrives at third base with plenty of time to spare as Ronnie McLain, the Pecos third baseman, receives the ball in the above picture, snapped by Herald photographer Keith McMillin in the fourth inning of the Steer-Eagle baseball game here Tuesday afternoon. McMahan went on to score. Big Spring won the game, 9-2.

ROCK JOHNSON HURLS STEERS PAST PECOS

Roy Baird and his Big Spring Steers turned their attentions to Thursday's game here with Colorado City, after they subdued the Pecos Eagles, 9-2, here yesterday. With Kenny (Rock) Johnson going all the way on the mound, the Steers, who ran their win-loss record to 6-1 with the success, Pecos has now won two, lost four. Johnson gave up five hits, the same number the Steers collected off Robert (Lefty) Scott. Johnson gave up only two walks and struck out 11, however, whereas the Longhorns took advantage of seven bases on balls and fanned only three times.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Big Spring's Jan Loundermilk has been named to the Waco Herald-Tribune News-Tribune's All-Southwest Conference basketball team, along with Carroll Broussard, Texas A&M; Bill Brown, Texas; Mike Maroney, Rice; David Wagnell, TCU; and Jon Larson, another SMU player.

Al Ward, who selected the team, singled out Broussard as the most outstanding player. The Steers added another in the third on a single by Wilson Bell and an error, got two more in the fourth without the aid of a single hit and closed out with three tallies in the fifth after Scott had walked the first two batters to face him.

Travis McLain of the visitors was the only player on either team to collect more than one hit. He came up with two singles. Coach Baird made liberal use of his substitutes after the Steers had put the decision on ice. No fewer than three catchers saw action during the fray.

Jerry Dunlap, a substitute shortstop, picked the right time to double in his only appearance at bat, the drive following walks handed to Thomas and Bobby Adams in the fifth. Game time tomorrow with Colorado City is 4 p.m. Baird may send Jerry Phillips out to face the Wolves.

Texas passed up the Odessa meet this year in favor of the San Angelo Relays but apparently regretted its decision.

Payton Jordan, who when track coach at Occidental College several years ago helped plant the idea of a university division in the ABC Relays in the mind of Dean George McAlister of HCJC, is having his troubles at Stanford University this spring.

His team has won a couple of dual meets this year but won't be able to make much of a showing in any of the cinder shows involving the national track powers.

One of the reasons for the Stanford slump is the fact that Jim Lea, who held the world record in the 440-yard race (45 8/10) until Ohio State's Glenn Davis broke it, is on the sidelines with an injured Achilles heel.

Lea is now serving as coach of Santa Clara's volunteer track team. The aquatic staff of the Texas Game and Fish Commission, which descended upon Lake Moss Creek near here to kill out the rough fish in the waters, was headed by James Wilcox, who went to school here.

Brodie Cain, owner of a local skating rink, says his arena is big enough to host a sizeable crowd for a professional fight and is offering the facility to Bob Callahan, the Odessa promoter. Callahan wants to book nationally-ranked Joey Giambra in here for a match within the next few weeks.

Abe Saperstein, owner of the Harlem Globetrotters, says 125 of his team's first 141 games this season were sellouts. The fact that Wilt the Stilt Chamberlain is a member of the Globetrotter team, of course, caused the jam at the turnstiles. Chamberlain may play with the Philadelphia Warriors of the pro league next year but Saperstein isn't due to kick up a fuss. After all, he owns a piece of the Warriors, too.

Steerettes Bomb Angelo, 32-14, In 2-AAA Game

The District 2-4A volleyball title went undisputed to the Big Spring Steerettes here last night after they had bottled past San Angelo, 32-14, for their fourth straight conference win.

The Steerettes didn't lose a game in conference action, and have lost only one game all season—to Imperial—in 27 contests. The B team sacked two victories, the first over Goliad Junior High School freshmen, 33-22, and another over the visiting San Angelo reserves, 49-14.

In all three games, every substitute played; the varsity team performed for a half only, before reserves finished the tilt. Big Spring led San Angelo 11-0, at one point and 19-5 at halftime.

Mary Jane Weaver scored seven in the conference game. In the B team scrap with Goliad, the high school girls led at halftime, 14-10. Carol Monroe picked up 12 for the winners.

San Angelo's B group could barely stay on the floor with Big Spring, falling back, 24-1, at half-

Robert Lee Wins Over Wolfpack

ROBERT LEE (SC)—The Robert Lee Steers turned back the Colorado City Wolves, 6-2, in a baseball exhibition here Tuesday. Jerry Tinkler pitched the win, giving up only two hits. Rumold Lujan was the losing hurler.

Jones Acquired By S. Francisco In 4-Man Trade

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals have traded pitchers Sam Jones and Don Choate to the San Francisco Giants for Bill White, an infielder-outfielder, and Ray Jablonski, third baseman. The Associated Press learned today.

Jones, 33 years old, had a 14-13 record last year but his earned run average of 2.88 was second best in the National League. Choate is a rookie. Both are right-handers.

White was the regular first baseman of the Giants in 1955 and then went into the armed services. When he returned he had lost his job to Orlando Cepeda, 1958 National League Rookie of the Year. The Giants, with a strong offense, need pitching.

The Cardinals stand to benefit by the trade because they need a right fielder badly. It was believed they will put White at first base and send Joe Cunningham to the outfield from his post at first.

Jablonski batted .230 in 86 games last year with 12 home runs and 46 runs batted in. White only played in 26 games in 1958 and batted .241, playing mostly as a pinch hitter. He returned to the Giants late in the season from the armed services.

Jablonski started with the Cardinals in 1953, was traded to Cincinnati and to the Chicago Cubs, before going to the Giants. He is 32 years old.

Choate, 20, compiled a 12-11 record in 1958. He was 5-4 with Houston in the Texas League and 7-7 with Omaha of the American Assn. He was on the Omaha roster.

Abilene Eagles Win Ninth Game

ABILENE (SC) — The Abilene Eagles ran their win-loss record to 9-1 by flattening the Tom S. Lubbock Westerners, 8-3, here Tuesday afternoon.

The Eagles scored five runs in the second inning and coasted in from that point. They added three more in the fourth and left the sacks loaded at that time.

Shortstop Charlie Harrison led the Abilene attack with a two-run homer in the fourth. Abilene's first four-master of the year, Harry Pryjnoski blasted four hits in as many trips for the visitors.

Cincinnati Redlegs Have Major Pitching Problems

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — The Cincinnati Reds are being tabbed as the dark horse of the National League but that is bringing little solace to Manager Mayo Smith and General Manager Gabe Paul. They realize that if something isn't done soon about the plight of their pitching staff, the Reds will be fortunate to finish in the first division.

Knott Girls Tip Forsan

KNOTT (SC)—The Knott girls nosed out Forsan, 33-34, in a volleyball match here Tuesday night to clinch first place in the District 19-B single round-robin play.

Previously, the Billies had defeated Garden City, 75-14; Water Valley, 28-24; and Sterling City, 24-23.

The district tournament will be conducted in Garden City next Tuesday, at which time Water Valley opposes Garden City and Forsan tangles with Knott in first round play. Sterling City drew the bye.

If some team other than Knott wins the tournament, a playoff will have to be arranged to determine the overall title.

Brenda Woods, Jeanette Ray, Judy Roman, Alice Day, Virgie Burchell and Neva Jackson are the regulars on the Knott team while Sheran Cline, Helen Sloudt, Ann Ulmer and Barbara McGregor are first line subs.

Mrs. June Dutton serves as the Knott coach. In other games played last night, the Knott B team lost to Forsan, 48-21, while the junior high fems were beaten, 53-34.

After Burners Get High Team Series

Binding each opponent by a 3-1 score, the Head Hunters drubbed the Sexy Five, the Shoudda Beens punched the Ball Points, and the After Burners scorched the Pin Boppers.

Ups, in this week's Officers' Wives bowling league. The After Burners had high team series of 1894, while Betty Reid etched high game and series, 157-453.

Splits were converted by Sharon Fernandez, 3-10; Lillian Coogan, 3-10; Rita Lyon, 3-10; and Betty Tillman, 3-5-7.

Play Suspended Due to the upcoming holiday, no games will be played in the YMCA Church Volleyball league this week. Competition will be resumed next week.

Don Drysdale Hits His Mound Stride

Don Drysdale's "tired elbow" is wide awake. It never took a rest Tuesday as the 22-year-old Los Angeles righthander pitched nine shutout innings and the Dodgers upped their exhibition record to 10-3, best in the majors. The Philadelphia Phils were the victims of Drysdale's 10 performance, a five-hitter at Sarasota. The Phils got only two runners past first base after the fourth inning, and although the double by Wally Moon and a triple by Jim Gentile in the fourth inning were enough. It was the first complete spring game by a Dodger pitcher in three years.

When Drysdale flopped at the start of the 1958 season some said it was nervousness before "home-town" fans. Don was born in Van Nuys, Calif., played high school ball at Baton Rouge last week, a loss of 5-1—that took second behind LSU's Billy Cannon.

HOUSTON AND HERE A&M In Two Meets Within Three Days

COLLEGE STATION (SC)—The Texas-A&M track team will be busy on two fronts this week. Coach Charles Thomas will enter his varsity and freshman teams in the A&M-Rice-Texas triangular at Houston Thursday, then will take the varsity to Big Spring for the ABC Relays Saturday.

Although the Cadets have not won a meet in four starts they have shown steady improvement and Thomas in his first year of rebuilding Aggie track fortunes is well pleased with the progress.

With two of his top field men sidelined with injuries a junior javelin thrower—Newton Lamb of Houston Lamar—has been the big surprise for the Aggies.

Lamb has been over the 200 mark twice this spring with tosses of 206-6 at Shreveport and 204-6 1/2 at Baton Rouge.

Discus man Owen Hill of Dallas and pole vaulter Jerry Davis of Lubbock have been slowed with injuries and have not reached their potential.

Henry Bonorden of Port Lavaca has improved weekly in the shot put. His best put to date was 42.28.

Wildcats To Enter 15-Man Team In Relays Saturday

ABILENE (SC) — Coach Oliver Jackson will enter a 15-man squad in the 14th annual ABC Relays at Big Spring Saturday.

Heading the team will be sprinter Bill Woodhouse and hurdler Calvin Cooley, winners of the outstanding performer's awards at the Southwestern Recreation Meet and the San Angelo Relays. Woodhouse took the award at Fort Worth and Cooley at San Angelo.

Stomach ulcers have forced the Wildcats' ace miler Jimmy Reeves from the track to the grandstands until next spring. The diagnosis of ulcers was made last week. Reeves ran the mile in 4:11.0 last spring to set an all-time Wildcat record.

Senior Thomas O'Neal has stepped in to surprise observers in the mile run. He placed third at Fort Worth with a 4:22.2 and last Saturday edged SMU's Jan Ahlberg for second behind Joe Villarreal of Texas at San Angelo with 4:22.8.

Probable ACC entries at Big Spring with best 1959 performances: 100 — Woodhouse (9.3w) and George Peterson (9.5w); Mile — O'Neal (4:22.2) and Jerry Mabry (4:27.9); Two-Mile — O'Neal (9:34.2) and Mabry (9:49.6); High Hurdles — Cooley (14.5w); 440 Relay — Peterson, Cooley, Bud Clanton, Woodhouse (40.9); 880 Relay — Peterson, Pat McKennon, Clanton, Woodhouse; Mile Relay — Clanton, H. T. Nance, Jerry Edwards, McKennon (3:15.1); Sprint Medley Relay — Clanton, McKennon, Peterson, Edwards (3:29.8); Broad Jump — Don Stafford (24.2 1/2) and Bill Todd (24 1/2); Pole Vault — Leroy Culver (12-6); High Jump — R. A. Wade (6-0); Shot Put — Rayford McIlhenny (51-1 1/4).

Independent Cage Tourny Set Here

Applications are being accepted for the YMCA Independent Basketball tournament, which will be held April 2-3 in the Howard County Junior College Gymnasium.

Entry fee per team is $25. Those interested can contact Ray Crooks, telephone number AM 4-8269, within the next few days.

Trophies will be awarded to first and second place teams, in addition to the consolation round winner. In addition, a ten-man all-tournament squad will be selected and each player given an award. Crooks said the best officiating possible would be lined up for the tournament.

Queens Shade Odessa, 35-12

ODESSA (SC) — HCJC's Jayhawk Queens ran their win-loss volleyball record to eight in a row by defeating Odessa JC, 35-12, here Tuesday night.

Joah Howard scored ten points for the Queens, at which time Janice Kay Dixon was at the net. For Odessa, Joan Jordan led with three points, at which time Jimmie Sue Paxton was the spiker.

Odessa's B team turned back the HCJC reserves in the opening contest, 31-14. Kay Burroughs counted seven points for the Big Spring club while Janice Smith had the same number for Odessa.

The Queens play their first home game March 31, at which time they host South Plains JC of Levelland.

Sugar Brown Has 248 In Circuit

A high individual game of 248 was scored by Sugar Brown of Schaefer Couden this week in the Ladies' Classic bowling league.

Couden hurled 7:10.4. as Neel's trimmed BTT, 4-0. Alexander also split with Anthony, 2-2, while Pinkies' doused Carlos, 4-0.

Brown in addition had second high series, 538. Dot Hood, Knopp Couden, pulled in high series of 559 and next-best game, 233.

Splits were converted by Angie Merrill, 3-10; Marie McDonald, 3-10; and Shirley Starnes, 3-10 (Pinkies); Verdine Eller, 4-5-7 Anthony; Mary Taylor, 3-10 (Alexander); Vivian McIntosh, 3-10 (Neel); Grace Todd, 3-10 (7-Up); Carmen Davis, 5-10 (7-Up); and Frances Bartlett, 2-7 (Plew's Couden).

House Ducks Action On Daniel Proposals

AUSTIN (AP)—The House today ducked at least until next week a showdown on the first of Gov. Price Daniel's deficit-reducing proposals.

It voted to postpone until Tuesday action on the measure making a bookkeeping change which Daniel says would slash 18 million dollars from the current $5 million dollar general fund deficit.

The bill is the only one of the governor's recommendations to reach the calendar after approval by the House Revenue and Taxation Committee. It was high on today's agenda.

Interest centered on the record-breaking two and a half billion dollar spending bill recommended to the House last night by its Appropriations Committee. It would require 92 million dollars in new taxes.

The appropriation bill calls for an increase of $42,435,748 from the general revenue fund during the fiscal biennium starting Sept. 1.

This compares with an increase of 48 million dollars from general revenue suggested by Gov. Daniel. Daniel's plans for abolishing the current general fund deficit and balancing the budget are for the most part still hung up in the House Revenue and Taxation Committee.

Spokesmen for the revenue committee have said they were awaiting the word on just how much will be needed from the appropriations committee. One of Daniel's anti-deficit bills has moved from the committee to the House calendar, a bookkeeping change that the governor says would help the deficit by 18 million dollars.

The revenue committee scheduled additional hearings on pending tax bills today.

They may be the last legislative day until next week if the House and Senate can agree on a suggested Easter holiday of five days. Committee action on the big appropriations bill for state departments, the courts, colleges and state hospitals and special schools moves the session nearer a fiscal showdown. Healy said the bill would be on members' desks Monday and it could be taken up Thursday or Friday of next week.

The total in the huge bill calls for an expenditure of $2,401,276,388 during the next two years. Much of this comes from such sources as federal aid, and the Legislature's head-on deals mainly with that which derives from the general revenue fund. That is the fund now laboring under a deficit, and into which new taxes must flow if the budget is to be balanced.

The spending bill also does not take into consideration scores of spending requests that may be considered when it is disposed of, such as additional state aid on public school teachers pay or other spending contemplated by the Hale-Aiken School Study Committee.

The committee recommended college spending from the general fund of $158,875,863, an increase of $23,304,432 over the current figure. This was what the Higher Education Commission recommended, Healy said.

For the courts, the recommendation is $9,205,101, up $181,131; hospitals and special schools, $94,429,488, up $10,321,186; state departments, $60,652,369, up $6,422,999.

Court Affirms Midland Action

AUSTIN (AP)—The Court of Criminal Appeals did not agree with an argument today that a special judge is really not a judge if he is elected judge while the regular judge is still in town.

The court affirmed the action of Midland County officials in the Oct. 22, 1948, conviction of Elbert William Thomas on a charge of driving while intoxicated. Thomas was given two years in jail and fined $500.

In asking for release from jail (habeas corpus) Thomas contended that special Judge Robert Montgomery, who presided over his case, had been illegally elected judge by Midland County action. Midland County Judge Noel D. Cason had informed the court that he would be absent on a business trip to Dallas but did not make the trip.

The court said today that the fact that Cason did not leave the county after informing the court that he would not be in court did not void Montgomery's election.

Recruits Begin Army Training

Four youths from this area have left for Ft. Chaffee, Ark., to begin their eight weeks of basic military training in the Army.

They are Recruit Jearld D. Brunette, 1602 Seminole Rd., Lamesa, Ret. Clifford E. Elms, 218 SW Ave. J. Semolina, Ret. Travis W. Nail, Route No. 2, Seagraves, and Ret. Carroll D. Dyess, 1007 Wood St., Big Spring.

Brunette is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Otis L. Brunette and he enlisted in the Army career group for supply handling. Elms is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Milton E. Elms. He enlisted in the regular Army unassigned. Nail, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Nail, enlisted in the Army career group on radio code. Dyess, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ezra Dyess, enlisted in the Army career group for automotive maintenance. Nail and Brunette enlisted under the Army buddy plan where they go through basic together, said the recruiter, M. Sgt. Robert L. Martin, Lamesa.

Youth Enjoys Thrills Of Theft

SEATTLE (AP)—"If I had $100,000 I'd still pull burglaries," a sallow-faced youth said Tuesday as he told how he burgled more than 100 Seattle homes after throwing rocks through the windows.

"It just sort of came natural. I used to like to throw baseballs." Walter E. Kinell, 22, told newsmen and police.

"I get a big thrill out of it," he said. "I like the stealth and the dark. I could easily be 160 places."

Kinell was arrested last November and admitted 103 burglaries. Because he had no prior record, sentencing was deferred for three years.

Kinell was arrested Monday night after a burglary which followed his pattern.

CRITIQUE
Of The Local Entertainment Scene

By Bob Smith

American folk songs, Negro spirituals and Broadway show tunes will resound through concert halls and open air parks from London to Venice once again this year. Carrying their message of brotherhood to men of all nations, these gems of our national heritage will win their way into the hearts of our neighbors in ten European countries. For once again that unique band of singers, The All-America Chorus, will be on the "Peace Path."

The All-America Chorus is a magnificent vocal ensemble. But it is much more than that. It is a living demonstration of American initiative, culture and prosperity. For where else could one find each year a hundred men and women able and willing to give so much of themselves, and pay for the privilege of doing so? Organized in 1956, the All-America Chorus has proven successful beyond the dreams of its most ardent boosters, including even its founder, the eminent American conductor, Dr. James Allan Dash. Vast audiences in Austria, Switzerland, France, Germany, Italy, Belgium, Luxembourg, Holland and England have welcomed these "Ambassadors of Song" with standing ovations. Government officials have given them receptions of "moving friendliness, and music critics have praised their singing words that seem almost extravagant.

Now firmly established, the All-America Chorus receives hundreds of applications from singers throughout the U. S. each fall and winter. Late in June the trek begins as the nominees from all points of the compass, from Alaska to Florida, converge for their first meeting and set out on another inspiring pilgrimage that is winning friends for America throughout the crucial areas of Europe.

The 1959 tour will visit 10 countries between June 28 and August 27. The rehearsals will be held on shipboard during the trans-Atlantic crossing. Persons interested in learning more about this organization may write to the All-America Chorus office at 325 N. Charles Street, Baltimore 1, Maryland.

Think you'd like to act? Or maybe you'd enjoy working backstage? April 6, 7 and 8 are the dates set for readings and setting up of production for "The Seven-Year Itch" by the Civic Theatre. These

Tech, WT Plans Move

AUSTIN (AP) — Expansion programs to add 22,000 new seats to football stadium at West Texas State and Texas Tech were advanced yesterday. The state teachers college board of regents awarded a $312,469 contract to Neill Singleton of Amarillo for construction of 10,000 seats at the new West Texas State stadium north of Canyon. Completion of the stadium, which will seat a total of 20,000, is scheduled Sept. 26. Construction began last year on the first 10,000 seats and press box. The Tech board of directors authorized expansion of Jones Stadium from 28,000 to 40,000 seats. The action will fulfill one of the conditions under which the Lubbock school gained membership in the Southwest Conference. Bids for the construction will be opened April 10. Other low bids approved by the teachers college regents included: An $81,377 low bid for an addition to the senior women's dormitory at Stephen F. Austin State, by J. A. Nesbit Co., Nacogdoches. A $322,048 bid for an art building at East Texas State, by Yates Construction Co., Dallas.

will be held in the offices of the Chamber of Commerce in the Permian Building.

Director John Austin would like to point out that experience is not necessary. "Anyone who's never acted in his life," Austin says, "but who I think can do the job, will be cast."

Those who plan to read for parts should contact Austin at AM 4-8247 to obtain a copy of the script. "Professionals can read cold," Austin opines, "but I don't expect amateurs to do so."

The part of the little boy in "The Seven-Year Itch" has already been cast, but all other roles will remain open until readings are completed. And roles are open to any citizen.

Austin gives an unanswerable reason for casting his own son in the role of the pre-school-age youngster: "I can make sure my own child gets it right, but how could I browbeat someone else's 4-year-old?"

The theatre's board of governors has authorized building a new set of lights for the three-play season next summer. They will be batteries of six sets with three lights each. Civic Theatre members will do construction work, and the lights will be hooked to the theatre's own dimmer switch, which will be set up in HCJC Auditorium.

Odd bits: Maxwell Anderson, Pulitzer Prize-winning playwright who died recently, was a member of the football team at the University of North Dakota during his undergraduate days.

Thomas Hardy, author of the classical "The Return of the Native," lived to the age of 88... he died in 1928.

Patricia Finch, one of the leading players in the Broadway hit, "Fall Story," was graduated as a teacher from Michigan State University, instead of teaching, she took a role singing in "South Pacific."

Lt. Col. William F. Santelmann was leader of the U. S. Marine Band from 1940 to 1955... his father was leader before him.

A ceiling painted by Rubens features the banquet hall of the old Whitehall Palace in London, built in 1662. "HMS Pinafore," one of the most popular Gilbert & Sullivan works was first played in London in 1878.

Twenty editions of "The Pilgrim's Progress" appeared between 1678 and 1690... it was Rabelais who said, "What cannot be cured must be endured."
