Steps To Strengthen Law Agencies Urged

Fifteen proposals for strengthening local law enforcement agencies and three recommendations for action at the state level were adopted by the Chamber of Commerce Law Enforcement Committee Wednesday.

The Law Enforcement Committee proposes support of state legislation to lower the ages of juvenile responsibility in felony cases, endorsement of the State Law Enforcement Commission's recommendation for a study of correctional institutions, and legislation providing liability protection for cities in connection with jail inmates.

The 15 recommendations for action on the local level are: 1. That the city and county arrange for a 24-hour telephone connection between the sheriff's office and the police department, and that appropriate information be distributed to the public.

The group's report will be submitted to the Chamber's board of directors Monday, along with a recommendation that the city and county governments be urged to act on the proposals.

Generally, the report urges the improvement of training programs for members of law enforcement agencies, improved communications between police and sheriff departments, and development of public support for law enforcement.

At the same time, it commends law enforcement departments for a splendid job considering the facilities now available.

Gun Practice Told At Connie's Trial

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP)—A pawnshop owner testified today he took Mrs. Minnie B. (Connie) Nicholas on a practice shooting trip with the pearl handled pistol she used later in the killing of wealthy drug executive Forrest Teel.

loaded and fired the pistol under his direction. The pawnshop owner's testimony was part of the state's attempt to prove Mrs. Nicholas planned Teel's death well in advance.

Mrs. Nicholas contends her small French purse revolver fired accidentally as Teel tried to wrestle it away from her to keep her from killing herself over the breakup of their 15-year illicit romance.

William Gano said Mrs. Nicholas bought the .25 caliber French revolver July 14, 17 days before Teel was slain in his parked Cadillac after visiting an attractive secretary 14 years younger than the defendant.

Pierce had testified that all three bullets which hit Teel entered from his right side, slightly to the front. Then Deputy Prosecutor Francis E. Thomason asked for his opinion on Teel's position.

Mrs. Nicholas' three attorneys jumped to their feet with objections before Pierce could answer. Faulconer sent the jury out while he listened to the objections, then adjourned the trial overnight.

Dep. Prosecutor Judson Hagerty carefully drew from Gano the testimony that it requires a separate pull of the trigger to fire each shot from the pistol Mrs. Nicholas bought.

Gano said he fired a couple of shots into a sandbank on the practice trip and then Mrs. Nicholas

House Kills Bill To Oversee Boating

AUSTIN (AP)—The House killed today, at least temporarily, a legislative proposal to set up boat safety regulations in Texas, then turned to one phase of Gov. Price Daniel's deficit-erasing plans.

It was the first time this session that the governor has been able to get one of his pet plans before legislators for actual floor debate.

By a special parliamentary procedure the defeating vote may be reconsidered later and revoked—if there are enough votes in favor.

The House also finally passed and sent to the governor for signature a bill making the same title requirements for trailers and semi-trailers as the present provisions for trucks and automobiles.

A special local and uncontested bill session for 21 measures was set for 1:30 p.m.

The group, headed by R. L. Tollett, was organized early this year to enlist support of law agencies in combatting what civic leaders considered an abnormally high crime rate.

"It is hoped that this commission will exercise its full strength, influence and prestige in continuing to stress the goal of making our community the most desirable and attractive city in the nation," the report concluded.

Persons wishing to vote absentee must go to the city secretary's office in the City Hall to obtain a ballot.

Eleven members got into the trunk and 23 into the body of the small sedan after they learned that 18 New York University students had stuffed themselves into a similar vehicle.

STATE, NATIONAL COMMANDERS

Big Spring Hosts Legion Officers

The national commander of the American Legion, Preston J. Moore of Stillwater, Okla., and a host of other Legion leaders will gather in Big Spring this evening for a party honoring the commander.

The event is set for 7:30 p.m. in the Cosden Country Club, said H. J. (Sunbeam) Morrison, commander of the Big Spring Legion post.

Moore will speak following a buffet dinner. He is to pay tribute to the local post, one of the most active in the state. The Big Spring group's outstanding record in maintaining membership resulted in Moore's decision to visit here while on a three-day tour of Texas. Accompanying the national commander will be J. Walter Janko of Austin, the state Legion commander, and Joe L. Matthews of Fort Worth, national executive committee member.

A large number of district and divisional leaders from throughout West Texas is due to be on hand to greet Moore and his party when they arrive this afternoon. The commander's plane is due to land at Webb AFB between 3 and 4 p.m. Raymond Andrews of Big Spring, the 19th Legion district commander, and Morrison will be the host commanders.

Morrison said 300 or more are expected for the dinner at the Cosden Club. Tickets will be available at the door this evening. Legionnaires and guests are to assemble at 7:30 p.m. Morrison will preside and colors will be posted by the 19th district color guard, a unit from Andrews. Invocation and benediction will be led by Chaplain V. E. Mikessell of Webb AFB.

Andrews and G. Ward Moody of Austin, state adjutant, will introduce guests and Janko will present the national commander and members of his group. Entertainment will be provided by vocalists Ira Schanz and Joyce Howard, accompanied by Jack Hendrix. Moore's address will conclude the banquet, but Legion members and the visitors will gather at the Legion clubhouse on U. S. 87 south of town for a period of fellowship.

A welcoming delegation is to meet the national commander's plan at Webb and escort the group to Big Spring for a round of activities during the late afternoon. Moore was elected national commander of the American Legion on Sept. 4, 1958, at the final session of the Legion's 40th national convention in Chicago, climaxing 13 years of Legion service for the World War II Army and Air Force veteran.

Tibet's Dalai Lama Takes Indian Refuge

LONDON (AP)—Red China's radio declared today Tibet's Dalai Lama has taken refuge in India. The broadcast, quoting the New China News Agency, said the Dalai Lama left Tibet "under duress by the rebellious elements."

There has been no definite word on the fate of the Dalai Lama since fighting broke out between Tibetans and Chinese Communist occupation forces on March 20.

But unofficial reports said the 37-year-old spiritual and political leader of his mountaintop country was with rebel forces in southern Tibet and perhaps trying to reach asylum in India.

The Peiping broadcast said he and his party "arrived in India on March 31" and that by order of the Indian government police authorities had been sent to meet him. The place of his arrival was not stated.

New School At Center Point Is Proposed

Patrons of the Center Point School District voted on a $45,000 bond issue April 11, it was announced today.

The election has been formally proclaimed by Ed Carpenter, county judge, who accepted a petition for such an election some days ago.

Center Point proposes to use the $45,000 to build a four-classroom school, according to Walker Bailey, county superintendent. The building is to be of brick and tile.

The Center Point school now operates in an old frame building. The new edifice will include, in addition to the four classrooms, office quarters, wash rooms and storage facilities.

All patrons of the district are urged to express their wishes on this issue at the April 11 voting.

Friday Last Day To Vote Absentee In City Election

Only one day remains after today to cast absentee ballots for the City Commission election next Tuesday.

The absentee voting closes Friday at 5 p.m. and through this morning, only five persons had cast ballots. Last year, there were 12 absentee votes polled.

Six men are in the race for two posts on the commission: Paul Kasch, J. D. Elliott, Perry Chandler, Roy Black, Tom South, and H. J. Agge. The terms of Mayor G. W. Dabney and commissioner Ward Hall expire this year, but neither asked for another term.

Persons wishing to vote absentee must go to the city secretary's office in the City Hall to obtain a ballot.

AN OLD INJUSTICE

Massachusetts State House Reviews Sacco-Vanzetti Case

BOSTON (AP)—The world renowned Sacco-Vanzetti case, one of the most famous of all time, comes up for another airing today before the Massachusetts Legislature.

Hearings are opening before the Joint Committee on Judiciary on a resolution for a legislative pardon for the two men, whose murder trial, convictions and executions touched off demonstrations around the world nearly 40 years ago.

The resolutions were filed by Rep. Alexander J. Cella (D-Medford) who wasn't even born when the men were tried and convicted in 1921, and was only 2 years old when they were electrocuted in August of 1927.

Cella said he filed the resolutions in the belief the men were convicted in a wave of "anti-foreigner hysteria."

Justice Michael A. Musmanno of the Pennsylvania Supreme Court, who was one of the lawyers active in appeals to higher courts, is one of the witnesses scheduled to appear for the resolution.

Cella said others include retired Prof. Arthur M. Schlesinger Sr., Harvard historian, and the Rev. Roland D. Sawyer, retired minister who was a member of the Legislature at the time.

The case began on the afternoon of April 20, 1920, at South Braintree a dozen miles south of Boston. A shoe factory paymaster, Frederick A. Parmenter, and his armed guard, Alessandro Berardelli, were shot down as they crossed a street to a factory with a $15,776 payroll.

Two men did the shooting and fled with the money. Three weeks later, Nicola Sacco and Bartolomeo Vanzetti were arrested near Brockton, not far from South Braintree. Both were armed. Both were aliens and both had fled the United States to Mexico to avoid the World War I draft in 1917.

Sacco was a shoemaker, Vanzetti a fish peddler. A forgotten circumstance is that they were tried first for an earlier holdup in Bridgewater. Sacco was freed when it was shown he had been working in Braintree the day of that robbery.

Vanzetti was convicted and sentenced to a 12-15 year state prison term. He began serving that sentence in August 1926.

Sacco and Vanzetti were indicted the following month for the Braintree murders. Friends began an appeal for defense funds. Contributions came from all over the world, even from Soviet Russia. Many of the contributors were Communists, but there were others who gave in response to claims of the men's friends that they were being persecuted for their political beliefs.

More than $300,000 was raised for their defense, a huge sum for those days. The trial lasted six weeks. Appeals to the State Supreme Court and to the Supreme Court of the United States kept them alive for six more years.

Finally it was up to then Gov. Alvan T. Fuller, who died only a few months ago.

Fuller appointed a committee headed by President A. Lawrence Lowell of Harvard.

The committee waded through the record of the trial and other documents and reported it believed the men had a fair trial and had been properly convicted.

Gov. Fuller also reviewed the documents. In the end he declined to exercise his power of clemency.

On the night of Aug. 22, 1927, the two men were executed in the electric chair at old Charlestown State Prison.

There was no violence in Boston that night, but around the world there were riots by demonstrators. The American Embassy in Paris was bombed.

But, he went on, the development of nuclear weapons meant that war could threaten entire civilizations. Almost simultaneously with the realization of this fact, Eisenhower said, came the rise of a new dictatorship—Soviet communism—with such great power that it "openly challenged the concepts of justice and freedom which our respective nations adhere to and support."

"Since NATO was formed," Eisenhower continued, "there has been no further Communist advance in Europe—either by political or military means. And while our military efforts have obviously required economic sacrifice, they have by no means stunted the economic growth of member countries."

"By our association," Eisenhower declared, "we have created possibilities for new and unprecedented forms of economic cooperation among the free peoples of Europe. Together we have laid the foundation for intimate Atlantic partnership in other fields, such as science and technology. All these achievements of the past decade merely point the way for an accelerated progress ahead."

BE PREPARED

We shall never cease to encourage such a change. Meanwhile, we must be prepared during the years ahead to live in a world in which tension and bickering between free nations and the Soviets will be daily experiences. To do this, freedom's greatest requirement is unity—the unity which is the very life blood of NATO."

Eisenhower said that after World War II there was momentary hope that "mankind had begun to put aside the weapons of war in favor of the tools of peace."

Building Passes $1 Million Mark

New construction projects begun last month raised the city's building picture for 1959 past the $1 million mark. The city issued 80 permits during the month, and building valuations from them amounted to $221,687. This total lifted the total for the first quarter of 1959 to $1,103,663, as compared with $619,330 for the same time of last year.

Last year, however, the building boom gained momentum through the summer and soared to $5,068,280, the third highest year in history. The 80 permits issued during March is just one less than were months of 1959.

Big Spring is down in building valuations during the month from the same time last year. In March of 1958, the city saw $332,655 in new work begun.

Capitol Reporting Is 24-Hour Task

By DAVE CHEAVENS
AUSTIN (AP)—On one recent legislative day, public hearings were scheduled on 75 proposed laws.

Some of them, on their face, were important measures such as tax bills, bills to change the criminal law of procedures and bills to regulate the small loan business.

That illustrates the magnitude of the job faced by capitol reporters in trying to keep the public informed on what goes on in the Legislature, both on the surface and in its undercurrents.

It is almost an around-the-clock task.

Some House committees place no time limit on testimony or debate. Night after night the lights burn bright in the committee rooms until long after midnight. That means they burn bright until 1 a.m. or later in the press room where reporters work fast to get their accounts in morning editions and then return to their typewriters to write the story again for afternoon editions.

For the committee members themselves, "five o'clock shadows" become midnight beads in this usually dull but always important phase of the legislative process. It isn't always dull and it can be explosive.

An alert and conscientious legislator will want to sit through the long committee sessions—usually on very hard chairs or benches in poorly lighted rooms—so that he will have some idea what the bill is all about.

Too often nobody but the author, or in many cases the lobbyist who wrote a bill for a specific purpose and found a sponsor, knows what a bill really does.

That's why reporters use all their ingenuity, experience, and energy during the six-week peak committee period to cover as many hearings as possible. The hearings often begin as early as 8 a.m. and go on until 10, 11 or 12 p.m. with only brief interruptions.

Despite the know-how of the newsmen and the sophistication of some legislators, many a bill rolls through the entire legislative process with a vital joker so hidden by legal language that it isn't found until too late.

A classic example slipped through unchallenged one session 12 or more years ago.

A bill classified by the author as being in the "local and uncontested" category was heard publicly, approved by a House committee and the House with almost no explanation.

It followed the same slick process in the Senate, went to the governor's desk and became law near the end of the session. Then somebody discovered that the bill—which was supposed only to have slightly changed the legal size limit on red fish—also abolished an important division of the Game and Fish Commission.

This joker was hidden in the legal language of the bill's repealer clause which only a careful lawyer or super-conscientious student of government would trouble to dig out of the law books.

But very often a public hearing—one of the dozens and dozens that the newsmen cover day and night for a two-month period during each session—reveals some disguised shenanigan.

And that's why the lights burn late in the capitol press room.

Hospital Named In Damages Suit

Medical Arts Hospital has been named defendant in a suit filed in 118th District Court by E. B. Smith, acting as next friend to Donnie Mark Smith, a minor.

The suit seeks $35,000 damages. Smith in his petition alleges that on Dec. 26, 1958, while Donnie Mark, his son, aged four years, was patient in the hospital, he fell out of bed onto a concrete floor.

Smith claims that the child was painfully and seriously injured and that he is entitled to $35,000 damages as result of alleged negligence on the part of the hospital.

Coded Israeli Broadcast Stirs New War Fear

JERUSALEM (AP)—A coded Israeli broadcast calling up three units of army reserves brought new war jitters to the Middle East during the night but the Israeli government said the callup was a routine exercise.

Neighboring Syria immediately ordered all military men on leave back to duty and all reserves mobilized.

Jordan's higher defense council held a late night emergency meeting and announced it was taking "all necessary measures to protect the Jordan border and security."

Israeli Finance Minister Levi Eshkol interrupted a budget debate in Parliament to express the government's regret over the manner in which the orders were broadcast to the reserves.

Eshkol said Premier David Ben-Gurion had assured him the callup had no special significance.

The suddenness of the military maneuvering came as a shock for the Arab-Israeli frontiers have been unusually quiet in recent weeks.

There was an air of mystery about the Israeli callup. The orders to the reservists were broadcast Wednesday night in code during a regular station break on the Israeli radio.

Damascus radio interrupted a Moslem religious program marking the holy month of Ramadan to call Syrian reservists and regular army men back to duty.

Cairo radio, in Syria's companion province of the United Arab Republic, rebroadcast the Syrian mobilization order.

The Jordan government apparently got a garbled account of the Israeli order. It spoke of the "declaration of general mobilization announced by Israel," whereas the Israeli order applied to only three reserve units.

Israeli sources said reservists may be called for training periods of a week or two by broadcasts, telegrams or telephone calls in code for signal practice.

Knife, Poison, Flip Of Coin: Partners In Cancer Treatment

By JOHN BARBOUR
Associated Press Science Writer

EXCELSIOR SPRINGS, Mo. (AP)—The surgeons' knife, a powerful poison and a flip of a coin.

These are the strange partners in testing a technique against cancer. First indications are promising.

Signs of success of the technique in treating breast cancer were reported by Dr. Warren Cole at this week's American Cancer Society seminar on cancer research and progress.

The test was begun more than three years ago. Dr. Cole and his colleagues wanted to try a powerful poison, nitrogen mustard, with surgery against breast cancer.

Nitrogen mustard, a cousin to the poison gas of World War I, is poisonous to both the cancer and the patient. Just enough is given to the patient to hit the tumor.

"To get the effect, you have to approach the toxic dose," said the University of Illinois researcher.

To control or compare the method properly, only half of the women participating in the test got nitrogen mustard treatment after the breast cancer operation. A flip of the coin decided which women got the poison.

Dr. Cole said cancer has recurred twice as often in women who did not get the nitrogen mustard treatment—and deaths are more than twice as high.

Other chemical compounds that are toxic to cancer cells also can be used.

Some are available that can find and destroy loose cancer cells dislodged during the cancer operation.

The surgeon controls 90 per cent of the solid tumors in men, said

Dr. I. S. Ravdin of the University of Pennsylvania. But a surgeon also must concern himself with drugs to reach widely spread small cancers the knife can not find or remove.

Each year cancer in the United States kills 250,000 persons, said Dr. Stuart M. Sessoms, chief of cancer drug therapy for the National Cancer Institute.

Some 450,000 new cases are found each year—and there are always 700,000 under treatment for cancer.

This, unchecked, would mean 40 million Americans now living will develop cancer and 26 million will die of it, Dr. Sessoms said.

Deputies Lectured On Mistreatment

HOUSTON (AP)—The 93 deputies employed in the sheriff's department were warned yesterday they will be fired if they mishandle prisoners.

The warning and a series of lectures on the handling of prisoners came after it was reported that the Harris County grand jury is continuing an investigation into the handling of prisoners.

Blood Transfusion Helped Cure Cancer

By ALTON BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Cancer vanished in a young man given blood from another man who had spontaneously recovered from the same type of "black cancer," two physicians reported today.

His dramatic recovery indicates the borrowed blood contained some mysterious defense against the cancer. But it could also have been a very rare coincidence.

A third man receiving the borrowed blood did not benefit. But

Drug Will Check One Tumor Type

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A Philadelphia medical researcher says a drug has been developed that will kill or check one kind of cancer cell.

Dr. Charles S. Cameron, dean of the Hahnemann Medical College, reported Wednesday that the drug has completely cured melanoma, a cancer usually occurring in the skin. He said the tests were made in hamsters, and that because of the success of the demonstration "it seems to me the principle of a 'magic bullet' for cancer is reasonable."

"Since science has been able to kill or check one kind of cancer in one kind of animal with one kind of drug, I have every confidence that, in time, science will develop other drugs effective against many types of cancer—and possibly all cancer—in the human species," he told an American Cancer Society fund raising dinner.

his body was badly riddled internally with the cancer.

The unusual case was described by Drs. Wilbur C. Sumner and Alvan C. Forkner, of Jacksonville, Fla., to the annual meeting of the James Ewing Society at Memorial Center for Cancer and Allied Diseases here.

All three men had malignant melanoma, the so-called "black cancer" which often starts in moles on the body. Surgery can cure if the melanoma is still localized. But it often spreads rapidly, early, and fatally to other parts of the body.

A 30-year-old man, first seen in 1949, recovered from fairly widespread melanoma after some of the black cancer spots had been removed surgically.

In 1954, some of his blood was given to a 28-year-old man who had multiple outbreaks of melanoma on his body. Again, only some of the cancerous spots could be removed.

But six weeks after he received the blood, many of the cancerous lumps and other symptoms began melting away, the physicians said. Within six months there was no sign of melanoma. One finger showed a black cancerous spot a year later, and this spot was removed. Since then he has been perfectly well.

Examining the first man's blood, scientists at the National Cancer Institute found no sign of viruses, nor any effects on melanoma cells treated with the blood in test-tubes.

Spontaneous recovery from melanoma is rare. Sumner and Forkner said they knew of only one case other than the man who came to them in 1949.

Tour By Trailer

Experiment Farm Field Day Attended By Large Crowd

U. S. Experiment Station's big field day Wednesday on wind erosion and water conservation practices drew 150 farmers, ranchers and specialists and was termed by Dr. Earl Burnett, state superintendent, as a big success. Plans are being made to make the field day an annual event and to widen its base of operations in the years to come. Representatives at the field day came from a wide area. There were ranchers and farmers from as far away as Dalhart, Temple and Abilene, Texas, and from Portales and Clovis, N. M. The field day began with a meeting of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce research committee on Wednesday morning. At 1 p.m. the field tours began. Weather was good although the wind was a little high and made talking at the experiment plots difficult. Several widely known experts and authorities in the field of conservation were on hand. These included Dr. R. B. Lewis, College Station; Dr. J. R. Johnston, area director, Fort Collins, Colo.; Dr. R. J. Hildreth, research coordinator, Lubbock; Dr. George Thomas, dean of agriculture, Texas Tech, Lubbock; Homer Taff, assistant state conservatist, Soil Conservation Service, Temple; and Loy-an Walker, manager of the agricultural division of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, Abilene.

Team Captains Chosen For C Of C Membership Drive

Twenty-four team captains have been chosen for the membership and dues adjustment campaign of the Chamber of Commerce. The drive is set for late this month. The two division chairmen are John Currie, dues adjustments; and Rad Ware, new members. Ware's section chairmen, each with four team captains under his direction, are Bob McEwen, Bob Hardy, and Randall Polk. Currie's section leaders are Ike Robb, R. W. Whipkey and J. R. Hensley. McEwen was the first of the group to enlist his team captains. The new member lineup includes: McEwen-Tom South, Marvin Miller, M. C. Grigaby and Garner McAdams; Hardy—George McAllister, Grover Cunningham Jr., Wendal Parks and Wayne Baxden; and Polk—George Old-camp, Don Richardson, Bob Rogers and Bob Bradberry. Teams in the dues reevaluation division are: Robb—John Taylor, Jim Lewis, Jerry Worthing and Doug Clements; Whipkey—Douglas Orme, Jack Cook, Sherman Smith and Larson Lloyd; and Hensley—Joe Pickle, K. H. McGibbon, C. H. Rainwater and R. B. Reeder. Captains in the dues division will meet at 5 p.m. today to choose team members. Leaders in the new member department will meet a week later for the same purpose.

Rabbit Drives Set For This Weekend

Weekend rabbit drives for the Lomax area have been announced. Bernard Houston, at whose ranch home the drives will originate, said that the first will start at 8 a.m. Saturday and continue all day. Swings are planned through his place, and over the Grady Cross, Chuck Houston, Gordon Stone and other ranches in the area. A second drive is set for 1 p.m. Sunday in the same general area. No hunters under 18 years of age may take part unless they are accompanied by their father at all times. This limitation has been taken as a safety precaution because in an earlier drive this season a number of unsupervised youngsters took part with the result that a couple of hunters got peppered. There will be ammunition for various gauges of shotguns avail-

Baptists Will Hold District Meet Friday

LAMESA—Vernon Yearby, former pastor of First Baptist Church, Midland, and now associate in the department of Evangelism of the Baptist Home Mission Board, Dallas, will be the guest speaker for a conference meeting of Baptist district and associational leaders Friday at Second Baptist Church here. Another guest conference leader-speaker is to be H. H. McBride, Dallas, field representative of the Southern Baptist Protective Plan for churches and ministers. This conference will commence at 9:45 a.m. Friday. It is a regular quarterly feature in the Baptist work in District Eight, comprising five associations, 130 churches in a 12 county area. J. William Arnett, Big Spring, is the missions secretary. Participating in these conferences from Lamesa and neighboring churches are host pastor, L. R. Pendley, J. Roy Haynes, Giles Hankins, C. E. Blake and Raymond Holley, Welch; Ed Wittner, J. B. Mabry, Ackery; Raymond Smith, J. F. O'Brien, L. P. Lee, Neil Roberts, Mrs. Ernest Moody, Owen C. Taylor, Monroe Teeters and Paris Barton. Following the regular conference, the district has been called for a special session in the afternoon for consideration of the new encampment program. This encampment is to be developed to the north of Stanton, near the geographical center of District 8. The program is to reach not only the membership of the churches but to the needy youth of all the area. Camp directors in the Lamesa Area are Dalton Myers, Olen Earnest, W. J. Beckham, C. R. Blake, Murray Kay and Raymond Smith.

Water Usage Running High

The city's water consumption went over the 154 million mark during March, some 14 million gallons more than had been anticipated. In setting up the budget over a year ago, the city estimated that 140 million gallons would be needed for March. But the total hit 154,789,000 gallons, including 30,736,000 gallons taken by Cabot-Cosden. Twice during the month the consumption topped five million gallons per day. The peak day was 5,733,000 gallons taken on March 24. The other day, March 26, the usage in Big Spring hit 5,262,000 gallons. Anticipated need for this month is 150 million gallons.

DOKK Sets Rehearsal

All members of the DOKK, fraternal order, are urged to attend an important rehearsal meeting to be held at 7:30 p.m. Thursday. The meeting is to plan for the DOKK ceremonial scheduled in Big Spring on April 10. Bill Kuykendall, royal visitor of the local chapter, pointed out it was important that all members be on hand and assist in the preparations. The meeting will be in the new DOKK building at 9th and Nolan.

Blaze Breaks Out, But Damage Averted

No damage resulted from the single fire which brought out the fire department Wednesday. Firemen from the central station went to the Crawford Hotel on W. 3rd where a fire developed in the basement. The blaze started in some trash, but firemen were able to extinguish it before any damage was sustained.

One Accident Is Reported Today

W. J. Schleich, 610 Scurry, and John P. Rodgers of Fort Worth were involved in the lone accident occurring this morning. The collision occurred at 3rd and Main. Wednesday, Dan Foreman of Lenora had a car parked in front of the post office when it was hit by a 1954 Lincoln which did not stop.

This is to be the first session for a laymen's course on the Letter of Paul, set to start at 8 p.m. This study of six sessions will be conducted by the Rev. W. D. Boyd and will deal with the historical and theological high points of the Pauline epistles. There is no charge for Y members and only a $2 fee for non-members.

Judge Considering Lumber Theft Case

Judge Ed Carpenter took the fate of two young boys, aged 12 and 14 respectively, under advisement after hearing a complaint against the pair in juvenile court this morning. A. E. (Shorty) Long, juvenile officer, said the pair had either stolen some lumber or attempted to steal some lumber from a building south of the city. Carpenter indicated he would rule on what disposition to make of the boys sometime this week.

In Suit For Damages

A district court jury today was hearing evidence in the $70,000 damage suit brought by Edgar L. Meeks, Big Spring television repairman, against the Texas & Pacific Railroad. It was believed the case could be completed today. However, Thursday morning considerable evidence remained to be presented. Meeks is suing for damages as result of a collision between his pickup car and a T&P boxcar on a rail crossing one and a half miles west of Big Spring on U. S. 80. The accident occurred on Aug. 16, 1958.

Ballot Boxes Are Ready For School Voting

Howard County voters go to the polls on Saturday to select members of boards for several schools and to select two members of the county board of school trustees. Ballot boxes for the elections are now ready at the office of Pauline Petty, county clerk. Judges of the elections are asked to come by the office and pick up their election supplies either today or Friday.

In Big Spring, in addition to selecting local board members, the voters are to ballot on the two members of the county board of trustees to be elected. Those school districts in Commissioner Precinct 1 and Precinct 2 will vote on candidates for these posts.

The candidates for Commissioner's Precinct 1 trustee is Fred Roman. J. D. Gilmore is candidate for Commissioner Precinct 2. In Coahoma, the voters elect members of the local school board and vote on one county trustee. Al Center Point school, one local trustee is to be chosen. Yalmoor is to elect one local trustee, and Gay Hill three local trustees. Knott, in addition to selecting members of the local board votes on one county trustee. The same situation prevails at Foran. Gay Hill is to select three members of its own board. The lists of candidates filed with the county clerk includes no list for any schools other than Foran and Gay Hill. Foran candidates are: Ozro Allison, A. O. Jones, Virgie Ray Patton, L. T. Shoultz, J. B. Anderson. Gay Hill candidates are: T. A. Norman, Henry Moates, James C. Foster, and Neil D. Spencer. "Write in" candidates will be elected in other districts where no formal nominations were made.

Nominations To Be Made

Past presidents of the Big Spring Downtown Lions Club have been convoked as a nominations committee. The group will meet Monday noon to select a slate of officers for the year beginning July 1. The nominees are presented to the club, nominations also will be received from the floor. Election must be accomplished in advance of the district 2-T-2 convention on May 9-9 at Colorado City, said B. M. Keese, president. This convention, incidentally, will be the last for Big Spring in the present district, for it is being shifted to one which extends into the San Angelo and Brownwood areas.

STAR-SPANGLED FIELD IN CAGE TOURNAMENT

Some of West Texas' finest basketball players will be seen in the E. C. Smith Construction Co. Invitational tournament, which starts in the Howard County Junior College Gym here this evening and continues through Saturday evening.

In all, eight teams — including five from Big Spring — are entered. Outside quintets competing for the championship include the Jal, N. M., Gassers, Manuel's Pacos of Odessa and the Robinson Drilling Co. contingent of Monahans.

Admission for each session will be 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for students. Proceeds go to the YMCA.

Officials will be Pete Cook, Jimmy Smith, Boyce Hale and Billy Paul Thomas.

A former junior college All-American, Charley Brown, is a member of the Monahans team entered here. Brown later made good for the TCU team. He was a juco All-American while attending Wharton JC of Texas.

Delnor Poss, the former Border Conference all-star and later coach at Garden City, is also a member of the Monahans team. Poss attended college at H-SU in Abilene, where he set all kinds of scoring records.

Still another member of the team is Kenneth Cleveland, who went from Coleman High School to the University of Texas.

Other Robinson players include

Bill Wynn, Carroll Smith, Jim Crawford, Larry Freeman, Bobby Freeman, Hagar Thompson (formerly of Decatur Baptist College), Willie Qualls, Al Gonzales, Bill "Dutty" Brooks Franklin, Jack Webb and Norman Cox. Duty serves as manager of the team.

Manuel's Taco team has among its players Paul Thorp of Odessa JC; Paul Ingle of Connors, Okla., and all-conference player for three years while attending Sul Ross; Gary Roberts, a 6-foot-6 one-time regular for Indiana University; Bill Swerdon, an Indian who was a regular on the Odessa JC team; and Les Sherrod, former YMCA league star here, who now resides in Odessa.

Wylie Brown, ACC regular the past season; Ray Crooks, Bobby Davis and Ray Clay are among other well known players who will be active in the tournament.

First round pairings: Birdwell's Fruit Stand vs. Lakeview's Comics, 5:30 p.m.; E. C. Smith Construction vs. Mort Denton Pharmacy, 7 p.m.; Jal, N. M., Odessa, 8:30 p.m.; Robinson Drilling Co., Monahans vs. McMahon Concrete Co., 10 p.m.

Championship finals are on tap for 8:30 p.m. Saturday.

Dodgers Seem Much Better Than In '58

VERO BEACH, Fla. (AP) — The Dodgers don't look like the same ball club that finished a dismal seventh in their first year in Los Angeles. They look like a definite first-division contender.

Even Walter Alton, one of the most conservative of managers, is optimistic. He's convinced his club will finish several notches higher than they did in 1958.

"There's no question about our club being better," he said. "I can cite several reasons. No. 1, a lot of the fellows played two, three times a week in California and came here in excellent condition. No. 2, Duke Snider is 50 per cent improved over last year. No. 3, the fellows have an incentive. They are out to prove they can't possibly be as bad as last year."

Alton admitted he called a meeting of the clan at the start of spring training and told them the facts of life on a baseball diamond. A little more effort, a little more sweat and a little less carousing was stressed.

"My talk with them wouldn't have meant a thing if they didn't cooperate," said Alton. "The schedule was a little stiffer; they worked a little harder. But I didn't have to remind them again."

The pitching staff once again will be headed by Drysdale (12-13), Johnny Podres (13-15), Sandy Koufax (11-11), Erskine (4-4) and Stan Williams (9-7). Fred Kipp (6-6) and Danny McDevitt (2-6) will be spot starters.

Next—Kansas City.

Steers And Lamesa Vie Here Friday

COLORADO CITY, (SC)—The Big Spring Steers, benefitting from sparking pitching on the part of Kenny Johnson, rolled to their ninth win in ten baseball starts by belting the Colorado City Wolves, 15-0, here Wednesday afternoon.

The Longhorns, beaten only by Lubbock Monterey this season, host Lamesa in a single game starting at 4 p.m. Friday, then play Snyder in two outings Saturday afternoon in Big Spring.

Johnson was tagged for only four hits by Colorado City. He fanned seven and issued only three bases on balls.

Two of the hits he surrendered came in the third inning, the other two in the final round. Only one of the blows, a third inning double off the bat of Ronnie Feaster, went only two runners as far as third base on the right-handed. Joe Merritt walked and advanced that in the fourth while Lucky Market singled and went on around on Clyde Feaster's one-baser in the seventh.

Palmer Is After 2nd Win In Row

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — Arnold Palmer, a muscular young man from Latrobe, Pa., sets out today with hopes of accomplishing something no other golfer has ever done — successfully defend his Masters' title.

Since grand slam king Bob Jones and Cliff Roberts launched this classic event 25 years ago, some of the biggest names in the game have won it. A few have won it more than once.

But none has been able to tame this demanding 6,900-yard Augusta National course and the talent-rich field two years running.

Palmer isn't favored to shatter precedent.

In fact there is no outstanding favorite in the field. Among those claiming most attention were Sam Snead, Ken Venturi and Jack Burke Jr.

The top threats in the 10-man foreign field appeared to be Australia's Peter Thomson, who has won four of the past five British Opens; South Africa's Gary Player, who fired a 64 in his final tune-up, and Spain's Angel Miguel, individual champion of the 1958 Canada Cup matches in Mexico City.

Player, making his third Masters appearance, missed an opportunity to set a course record when he three-putted the final green for a bogey-5 Wednesday.

Par for the lush, rolling layout with its mammoth greens is 36-36-72. Lloyd Mangrum set the record at 64 in the opening round of the 1940 Masters. Hogan holds the 72-hole record of 274.

Snead is one of the two men who own three Masters titles. The other is Jimmy Demaret. The slammer hasn't played the circuit since 1957 but has been unbeatable in a series of head-to-head televised matches with a dozen top pros.

Ben Hogan, a two-time Masters champion, predicted this year's victory will go to a long hitter. Snead certainly qualifies there.

Venturi is a determined young man who came within a whisker of winning this tournament in 1956 as an amateur. He has been scoring well in practice, is second to Snead in the betting line of a local oddsmaker.

Burke captured a lot of attention with practice rounds of 66 and 64, but he acknowledged he was playing a gambling brand of golf he'd never dare in tournament play.

Hottest golfer among the touring pros is slender Art Wall, who captured the Azalea Open at Wilmington, N.C., Monday and leads in money winnings with more than $18,000 this year.

Jayhawks Head For Tourney

Members of the Howard County Junior College golf team were to leave this morning for Stephenville, where they open defense of their Stephenville Junior College Golf tournament title.

The Jayhawk team is all new this year. Bobby Blum and Jerry Scott were members of the squad that surged to a first place finish at Stephenville last year. Both are now regulars on the Lamar Tech team at Beaumont.

Composing the team this year are Lefty Morris, Dwayne McRoy, Johnny Phillips and Darrell Aldridge.

All aside here but Aldridge played his high school golf at Sweetwater.

Odessa, despite the fact that it lost four members of its team, is favored to win the championship.

The Jayhawks will go to Amarillo April 17-18 to take part in the West Zone meet.

The tournament at Stephenville starts tomorrow and continues through Saturday.

Two More Entries

BEAUMONT (AP) — Mickey Wright and Ruth Jessen have entered the $6,000 Babe Zaharias Open golf tournament here April 10-12. Twelve of the touring professional women golfers have sent in entry blanks.

Sad Sam Jones Blasted In Start With Giants

By JACK CLARY Associated Press Sports Writer

The first returns are in on last week's controversial Sam Jones-Bill White trade between the St. Louis Cardinals and San Francisco Giants. It looks like Card General Manager Bing Devine might not have gotten the bad end after all.

Devine was criticized for giving Jones, his pitching mainstay last season with a 14-13 record, to the Giants for White, who has only little more than a season of major league experience.

Jones, in his first start since the trade, was blasted for nine hits and nine runs in four innings Wednesday by the Chicago Cubs who beat the Giants, 10-5. Among the hits were three-run homers by rookie George Altman and Moose Moryn.

Jones, last year's National League strikeout king, walked three and fanned four.

On the other hand, White has made a more favorable impression on Cards manager Billy Hume — at least until his error paved the way for a five-run New York Yankee ninth inning that gave the world champions a 5-1 victory Wednesday.

Hume decided before the game to give White the first base job and move Joe Cunningham to right field. White hit three home runs and batted over .300 since joining the Cards. Cunningham has been hitting under .200 all spring.

But it was the fielding that swayed Hume's decision. He said he had no doubt that White would be better than Cunningham at first.

White's error ruined a five-hit eighth and one-third inning performance by Vinegar Bend Mizell as the Yanks then capitalized on an intentional pass and three straight hits for their victory. Yankee sorearm right-hander Don Larsen gave up one run and three hits in four innings, his first action since March 15.

LOOKING 'EM OVER With Tommy Hart

The Cubs got their third straight victory as Bob Anderson pitched the first eight innings, allowing 11 hits and five runs.

In other exhibition games, Cleveland edged Boston 5-4, Los Angeles shutout the Philadelphia Phillies 8-0, Cincinnati defeated Washington 6-4, the Chicago White Sox humbled the Milwaukee Braves 8-5, the Kansas City A's won over Detroit 4-3 and Baltimore edged the Pittsburgh Pirates 4-3 in a 12-inning night game.

The Panthers are the best fielding team the Steers have faced all season.

And one of the best defensive players in the Panther lineup is center fielder John Jimerson, who is a brother to Curtis Jimerson, the Austin basketball star of the 1957-58 season.

In the first inning of the game with Big Spring here the other day, Johnny "climbed on his horse" and raced into far right center field to drag down Wilson Bell's long smash, taking it over his shoulder. The drive would have been a home run against any other team the Steers have faced all season but Jimerson made the catch look easy.

The fact that Bell did hit to that field caused the Panthers to over-shift on him in the eighth, however, and resulted in a Big Spring victory. He crossed them up and smashed a triple into left center that set up the winning run.

Bell is swinging the lumber as he never did before.

John Macy, Houston University's celebrated distance runner, didn't compete in the ABC Relays last week because he was retained in school to undergo a classroom examination.

Macy's teacher specified that the test was to be given on Thursday morning and the Cougars' departure date for West Texas was Wednesday. They ran in Abilene before coming on to Big Spring.

Jarrell Edwards, who won the mile race in the university division of the ABC Relays, is a nephew to Buren Edwards, one of the greatest hurdlers in the history of Big Spring High School and to James Edwards of Big Spring.

Buren, who was in school here in the late '20's and early '30's, matriculated at the University of Texas, where he enjoyed even greater fame as a timber-topper. He now resides in Hobbs, N.M. Jarrell's father is Jack Edwards, who grew up in Howard County but who now farms in the Olton community.

Dates of the Snyder Invitational Golf tournament have been changed. Originally carded for May 29-30-31; it now is scheduled for June 12-13-14.

Gross receipts from the sectional, regional, semi-state and state high school basketball playoffs in Indiana the past season totaled $968,345, or $42,000 more than in 1958.

A total of 1,508,962 watched the teams struggle through the 85 tournaments conducted.

Football plays second fiddle to the round ball game in Indiana high school circles.

Rookie Jerry Casale's wild pitch let in the winning Cleveland run in the eighth inning. The Indians' Herb Score pitched three innings, giving up four runs on homers by Sammy White and Frank Malzone but striking out eight.

Gil Hodges' homer and double and Duke Snider's triple and double powered Los Angeles to its victory while Eddie Kasko's eighth-inning triple sparked the Cincinnati win.

The White Sox routed Joey Jay with a five-run eighth inning in its victory and A's pitcher Preston Ward slammed a two run homer in the ninth inning to beat the Tigers.

Al Pilarcik singled in the 12th inning to give Baltimore its victory, scoring Jim Finigan from second base.

Boston Celtics Are Poised For Title Set With Lakers

BOSTON (AP) — The mighty Boston Celtics feared only over-confidence against the upstart Minneapolis Lakers today while marking time before their series opener for pro basketball's world championship.

"We figure to beat the Lakers, but we have to guard against over-confidence," warned Bob Cousy, Boston's veteran backcourt magician.

"That's right, chimed in Coach Red Auerbach. "We've taken them easily the past two years and then they didn't figure to upset St. Louis. They have everything to gain and nothing to lose."

Roy Harris Earns $5,500 In Bout With Fleeman

By WHITE SAWYER DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Roy Harris possessed about $5,500, a cut forehead and another victory over Donnie Fleeman today, but his manager didn't think he was any closer to a rematch with World Heavyweight Champion Floyd Patterson.

"I don't think so," Lou Viscusi, Harris' manager, laughed when asked whether he thought the one-sided victory brought the Texas heavyweight champion from Cut and Shoot any closer to a rematch with Patterson. Patterson cut Harris to ribbons last year for a TKO.

Previously Viscusi, of Houston, had said he felt if Harris won big it would help him toward a rematch.

Harris won a lop-sided margin over Fleeman, but he had to jab his way to it from behind a mask of blood. Late in the fight Harris landed freely, but was unable to score a knockdown Wednesday night.

A but in the second round opened a ragged, two-inch cut over Roy's eye. It bled badly until after the seventh, when his seconds stopped the bleeding and Fleeman was unable to hit him and reopen the cut.

Fleeman, 183, of Midlothian, Tex., looked good in the early rounds, especially the second and third, but he faded badly and was a well-beaten fighter by the end of the 12-round, nationally televised bout.

Harris, 198, never let up with his steaming left jabs, often using them as counters. He landed several hard rights and staggered the gritty Fleeman several times.

Harris is ranked seventh among the heavyweights and Fleeman ninth nationally as a light-heavy. The fight was for the Texas heavyweight championship.

The fighters got 15 per cent each of the net gate and $4,000 each from television. An estimated $5,500 paid a gross of $14,160.

Judge Norman Levinson scored it 119 for Harris, 109 for Fleeman, Judge J. O. Cherry had it Harris 120, Fleeman 105; Referee Charley Cravatti had it Harris 120 to 108 and The Associated Press gave it to Harris 118 to 108. Scoring was under the 10-point must.

Lewis Takes Seven Hawks To Texas Relays Today

Coach Red Lewis and seven members of the Howard County Junior College track and field team leave for Austin today, where they take part in the annual Texas Relays.

In the Austin show, they'll be competing against crack freshmen athletes from senior colleges and universities.

The Hawks have already won team titles in the Border Olympics, San Antonio Relays and in the ABC Relays here.

Those making the trip from here include Millard Bennett, who'll run on the sprint medley and mile relay teams; Fred Thompson, an entry in the quartet mile and sprint medley and mile relay; and compete in the same events;

Midland Once Had 2 Railroads

MIDLAND — Few Midlanders recall it, but this Permian Basin center once had two railroads.

The Texas & Pacific, of course, was largely responsible for establishment of Midland and has served the city since 1884. Midland became the halfway point between Fort Worth and El Paso. The other railroad was the Midland & Northwestern, which connected Midland with Seminole to the northwest. In between, the line served and then flourished city of Fasken, about 10 miles east of Andrews, and Florey, 10 miles north of Fasken.

Princess Grace Due Surgery

LAUSANNE, Switzerland (AP) — Princess Grace of Monaco will be under the knife only six or seven minutes during her appendectomy, her Philadelphia surgeon says.

Dr. James B. Lehman said he would perform the operation with the assistance of a Lausanne surgeon, Dr. Jean-David Buffat, in a local clinic "one of these days, this week, possibly the next."

He said the former Hollywood movie star suffered from appendicitis "and nothing else." He said she has recently had several minor appendicitis attacks and "removal of the organ is the only possible treatment." She suffers no pain and is in excellent health, Dr. Lehman added.

With Princess Grace are her husband, Prince Rainier, and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John B. Kelly of Philadelphia.

J. M. Speck, Midland County tax assessor-collector, who operated a general store at Fasken in those days, recalled the M&N was built in 1915-16. It ceased operations about 1921.

Speck said "the train used to break down quite often and I would go get the passengers and crew members in an old Cole automobile I used to have, bringing them to the store to eat and maybe spend the night."

"I remember feeding 33 people at breakfast one morning—canned goods, crackers and coffee. Occasionally I would have to take a load of people to Midland."

Murry Fasken, president of the Midland National Bank, said a drought and heavy rains both contributed to the folding of the railway. The drought hurt business and then an eight or 10-inch rain came which inundated the tracks for an extended period.

"It wasn't worth it at the time to reroute the line," Fasken said.

The rails were taken up many years ago and the roadbed was used as a roadway before new highways were built.

BILL KNOWLAND

From Fish Bowl To Private Citizen

By SAUL PETT
SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — For half of his 50 years, Big Bill Knowland swam in the whirling goldfish bowl called politics.

At 24, he became California's youngest assemblyman; at 26, its youngest state senator; at 36, its youngest U.S. senator. They called him a "young man in a hurry."

For five of his 13 years in the U.S. Senate, he was Republican leader, and there were those who said his momentum might carry him into a presidential nomination in 1960.

Today, at 50, Big Bill Knowland is suddenly a private citizen again and the presidential nomination is dimmer than a candle in a London fog. How does a man like Knowland, suddenly derailed, make the transition from public to private life?

The question brings a wry smile. "It hasn't been too bad an adjustment," he says. "If you were going from the Senate back to private life as a farmer or insurance man, it might be harder to take. But going back to the newspaper business, as I've done, you don't exactly feel out of things, you don't feel so isolated."

Knowland is assistant publisher of his family's newspaper, the Oakland Tribune. It was here that he returned after quitting the Senate and then losing the fight for governor last fall.

Knowland says he still keeps in touch with political developments through a heavy correspondence, through personal contacts and through the flow of news.

"I like to watch the Washington dispatches coming over the wire. After all, I know many of the personalities involved. I can tell why a certain fellow puts up a certain line."

As a private citizen, he enjoys being able to control his own time, being able to spend more time with his family.

As a private citizen, he admits missing the sense of being on the inside, of being there while history is made.

"In Washington, I had a great feeling of being in touch with the nation and the world. There were the regular Tuesday conferences with the President where, of course, many decisions were discussed long before they became public. There were the off the record meetings of the Foreign Relations Committee with the secretary of state after his return from a trip abroad. There were the many contacts with visiting presidents and premiers from around the world.

"Most of all, I miss the friends I made. The Senate, you know, is small enough to know all these senators pretty well and some of them very well. I had friends on both sides of the aisle.

"But remember, I grew up in politics. My father served many years in the House. We knew that in politics you can only win or lose. I had a good batting average until I came out on the short end last fall. I have no regrets about running for governor or fighting on the issues I did."

What in Washington does Bill Knowland miss least? He had to think about that one.

"Well, I can't say that I miss being called in the middle of the night. Some of my constituents in California used to forget the three-hour difference in time.

"I don't particularly miss the life in the goldfish bowl, although I never let it get me down."

As of now, Knowland says, he has no political plans; he intends to remain in the newspaper business. When he ran for governor, he says, he did not intend that as a stepping stone; he did not plan to seek the presidential nomination in 1960.

Who is his personal choice for the nomination?

"As of now, my choice is the vice president. He's from my state and he'll get my support in the convention. That is based on the situation as of today."

How about Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York?

"Rockefeller has yet to make a name for himself as an executive. Being governor of the state with the largest delegation, he will be a factor at the convention. But he doesn't have too much time to develop his own record."

How about William F. Knowland?

"It's not very realistic to talk about the presidential nomination for a man who has just been defeated for governor."

Uneven Race

Coming in for a landing at International Airport, Los Angeles this passenger plane scatters the rabbit wildlife that abounds on the field. An unofficial "live and let live" pact between International Airport and its wildlife has so far, protected herds of rabbits, but trouble looms in the sanctuary. Cause of complaints are the throngs of rabbits that are killed by the planes. Their bodies attract buzzards, which pose a real threat to the planes. This photo was made by Art Rogers of the Los Angeles Times.

Meat Can Be Seasoned Superbly With Apples

Meal-planning inevitably centers around the choice of meat. It need not be an expensive cut, but variety does help and piquancy of flavor can be achieved more than one way.

Apples can do much for meat. If you doubt it, try these recipes:

MEAT LOAF WITH FRESH APPLE
2 large apples, pared and grated
1 lb. ground beef
1 tsp. salt
1/4 tsp. pepper
1/4 tsp. allspice
1/4 tsp. dry mustard
1 small onion, chopped
1 egg, beaten
2 slices bacon
Wash and pare apples and grate directly into a large bowl; add ground beef, salt, pepper, allspice, dry mustard, chopped onion and beaten egg. Mix until all ingredients are well blended and pack the mixture into a loaf pan. Top with bacon slices.

Place in 375 degree F. oven and bake for 45 minutes. Transfer to a platter and garnish with fresh, unpeeled apple slices. Serves six to eight.

LAMB AND APPLE CURRY
3 lbs. lamb shoulder or neck
5 tbsps. flour
3/4 cup butter
1 clove garlic, minced
3 onions, sliced
4 apples, cored, pared and chopped
4 tbsps. curry powder
2 cups water
4 tbsps. brown sugar
1/4 cup raisins
2 tbsps. Worcestershire sauce
2 lemons, sliced
3 tbsps. flaked coconut
1/2 cup coarsely chopped walnut meats
1/4 tsp. grated lime peel
1 tsp. salt

Cut meat into 2 or 3 inch squares. Dredge with flour. Melt butter in large saucepan. Add meat, garlic and onions and brown lightly, stirring constantly. Add apples and curry powder and cook 5 minutes more. Then add 2 cups of water and remaining ingredients. Bring to a boil, reduce heat and simmer for one hour or until meat is tender. Serves six-eight.

No Vitamin Loss

Cabbage may be prepared ahead of time with little loss of Vitamin C by cutting or slicing with a sharp knife and then storing covered in the refrigerator.

Tasty Squash

Zucchini squash panned in butter is an ever-tasty addition to a meal; for an interesting change use olive oil for the browning and sprinkle with parmesan cheese.

Basting's Good

The old-fashioned way of roasting chicken or turkey is still a fine one: baste often with melted butter.

DESSERT OF FRENCH ANCESTRY

Custard Dessert Is A Favorite Import

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
(AP) Newsfeatures Food Editor

If you've had any trepidations about serving one of the world's great custard desserts, Creme Brulee, you can give them up right now. Only a little care is needed in preparing this simple but fascinating dish.

Translated, the French name for the dessert means "burnt custard" — called that because it's custard sprinkled with light brown sugar and put under the broiler until the topping melts, runs together, bubbles and turns brown. When the melted sugar grows cold, it is brittle and has to be tapped lightly with a spoon to break it up for eating. The rich bland custard and sweet crisp topping are a marvelous combination to which it is easy to become addicted.

Some custards for Creme Brulee are richer than ours. These recipes call for egg yolks instead of the whole eggs we use. They also call for heavy cream; we use heavy cream diluted with thin cream or homogenized milk. And most of these custards call for less sugar than does ours.

The egg and heavy cream version is sometimes cooked on top of the range in a double boiler. Our recipe uses the baked-custard technique; you can mix it up in a very few minutes, without scalding the cream and milk, and put it in the oven in a hot-water bath. Then you can forget it until it's set enough to be taken out and chilled.

The trick in making this dessert is "burning" the sugar. Once upon a time it was melted with a salamander. This, according to Webster, is "a culinary utensil of metal with a plate or disk, heated, and held over pastry, etc., to brown it." There aren't many salamanders around these days so we suggest you utilize the broiler of your good modern range.

CREME BRULEE

Ingredients:
2 large eggs
1/4 cup granulated sugar
1/4 tsp. salt
1 cup light cream or homogenized milk
1 cup heavy cream
1/2 tsp. vanilla extract
10 tbsps. sifted moist light brown sugar (not packed down)

Method:
Beat eggs just enough to combine yolks and whites; add granulated sugar and salt and beat only enough to combine. Gradually stir in light and heavy cream, then vanilla.

Turn into 5 ovenproof ramekins (each 1/2 cup size). Place in shallow pan of hot water; have water come up about as high as custard. Bake in moderate (350 degrees) oven until a silver knife

Swiss Steak Is Sure To Please Him

Lucky the man who goes home to dinner and finds Swiss Steak awaiting him. There is something about a flavorful sauce over a skillet steak that betokens pleased palates.

Here is a reliable recipe:

MARY'S SWISS STEAK
Ingredients:
2 1/2 lbs. chuck beef steak (about 1 inch thick)
3 tbsps. flour
2 tps. salt
1/4 tsp. pepper
1/2 cup finely diced onion
3/4 cup finely diced green pepper
1 can (14 1/2 ounces) stewed tomatoes

Method:
Cut most of fat away from around edge of steak. Mix together the flour, 1/2 teaspoon of the salt and the pepper; pound mixture well into both sides of steak. Melt a small piece of the steak fat in a large very hot heavy skillet — enough to give pan a heavy film. Brown steak thoroughly using high heat and turning a few times.

Sprinkle onion, green pepper and remaining 1 1/2 teaspoons salt, and pour stewed tomatoes (including liquid in can) around meat. Simmer, covered tightly, until meat is tender — 1 to 1 1/2 hours. Makes four servings.

Four Servings

When planning a buttered carrot dish, remember that a pound of carrots serves four; "new" or young carrots may be cooked and eaten with skins on.

Casserole Dish

A good way to treat frozen chopped spinach is to use it in a puffy casserole dish with eggs and milk; mushrooms are a delicious addition.

Plentiful Pork Will Provide Many A Succulent Meal This Year

Dreams are interesting experiences. They can be enjoyable, too, if you can interpret them into omen of your own well-being.

Take a dream in which you are surrounded by pigs, for instance. It has been said that such a dream means someone surely will ask you for money. That could be bad. But if the money were invested wisely in your behalf, it's good. Of course, if you dream you're surrounded by razorbacks—the kind about which Southwest farmers used to brag: "My pig can lick yours,"—you're in for a rude awakening. They were vicious. To emerge victorious in such "a dream, you'd have to capture one of the pigs and enjoy a sumptuous feast of whole roast pig, stuffed with a collection of smaller animals. That was the old Roman way.

But you don't have to dream about being surrounded with pigs. You actually are—more than 57 million of them. And for the consumer it's a joyful situation, because it means pork is plentiful.

Last fall American farmers produced a bumper crop of pigs—17 per cent more than a year earlier, says the Agricultural Marketing Service. These are being marketed now. February slaughter was 24 per cent more than the previous February. Then, the spring pig crop is estimated at 13 per cent more than in 1958. That means another huge slaughter this fall.

It's difficult for a hog producer to see much joy in the situation because hog prices have dropped considerably. But for consumers, it means lower retail prices, greater choice in quality cuts, and a chance to use more pork without increasing the food budget. AMS predicts the average person will eat 66 pounds of pork in 1959. This is 5 1/2 pounds more than last year, but still 1/2 pound less than the post-war average.

During the oyster season, you have a chance to make your fondest pork-eating dreams come true. Try the delicacy known as "Angels on Horseback." It consists of oysters rolled in bacon slices, grilled and served on toast.

Or, if you prefer baked ham: The secret of tender, succulent ham dinners is dry heat roasting in a moderate 300-degree oven. No liquid, and no cover is needed.

Good With Steak

Good go — alongs with steak: sauteed mushrooms, French-fried onion rings, water cress and radishes.

Sweetbreads

Sweetbreads should always be simmered in water before they are used in recipes.

Just slow cooking. Place ham, fat side up, on rack in open roasting pan. Insert a meat thermometer into the center of the ham, being careful that it does not rest on bone or fat. Allow about 18 to 20 minutes per pound. Use one of these glazes:

Orange and Pecan Glaze: Combine orange marmalade with finely chopped pecans and spread over ham about 10 minutes before removing from oven.

Brown Sugar and Cloves: This glaze is added before cooking. Remove rind from ham and score fat into diamond shapes. Rub brown sugar into the fat and stud each diamond with whole cloves.

Here's what it takes to make homemade ICE CREAM as good as BORDEN'S GOLDEN VANILLA

24% RICHER than standard ice cream!

To make one-half gallon of the finest homemade ice cream get 2 country-fresh eggs — 1 1/4 cups pure cane sugar — 3 cups rich milk — 2 cups whipping cream — 1 tablespoon vanilla — 1/4 teaspoon salt. Beat eggs until fluffy and light. Gradually add sugar. Beat until mixture thickens. Add remaining ingredients; mix thoroughly. Freeze in ice cream freezer.

But why bother. It still won't taste quite as good as Borden's Golden Vanilla. We had 200 people compare homemade ice cream from the above recipe with Borden's Golden Vanilla. 161 chose Borden's Golden Vanilla.

MRS. VERNON V. HINSON

Miss Rouse, V. Hinson Repeat Vows

Double ring vows were exchanged Wednesday evening by Wanda Rouse and Vernon V. Hinson. Thomas E. Cudd, minister of Main St. Church of Christ, read the ceremony in the church study.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Rouse, 309 North-east First. She is a graduate of the Big Spring High School and is employed by Good Housekeeping Shop.

Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Hinson, 410 Mesquite, are the parents of the bridegroom. An alumnus of BSHS, he is serving in the U. S. Army.

For the wedding, the bride chose a dress of white lace, with matching hat. Her flowers were carnations in corsage.

The couple was attended by Mary Lou Click and Robert C. Rouse, brother of the bride.

Following a brief wedding trip, the newlyweds will return to Big Spring. She will remain here when he leaves next week for assignment overseas.

Sweetwater To Host P-TA Meet

The twelfth annual conference of the 16th district, Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers, will be held in Sweetwater April 17 and 18.

Theme of this year's conference is Education Opens Windows on a Wider World.

Headquarters for the two-day meet will be the First Methodist Church, with banquet and luncheon at the Bluebonnet Hotel. Only local unit and council presidents and presidents-elect will attend the luncheon, which will be April 18; everyone is invited to attend the banquet April 17, at 7:30.

Tickets are $1.75 for the luncheon and $2.25 for the banquet and may be secured by mail from Dr. Bettye J. Shipman, 705 E. Broadway, Sweetwater. Deadline on tickets is April 14.

Highlights of the conference will be election of officers and leadership development workshops. Registration will begin April 17, at 12:30 p.m. Mrs. Elmer Payne, district president, will preside over the first general session beginning at 1:30 p.m.

home of Mrs. Carl Strom. Other entertainments include a bridge party at the J. R. HENSLEY home, a dinner party at the home of DR. AND MRS. MORRIS JARRATT, and a luncheon at the WAFB Officers Club for which MRS. JAMES JOHNSON was hostess.

MR. AND MRS. H. H. SQUYRES have received announcement of the arrival of their second grandson. The newcomer is the son of MR. AND MRS. PHILLIPS SQUYRES, who is the son of MR. AND MRS. FERRELL SQUYRES of El Monte, Calif.

Back from an Easter visit with relatives in Texarkana are Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Wilson Jr., whose son, W. W. Wilson, came over from Baton Rouge, La., for a family gathering Sunday.

MRS. C. E. RENFROE is resting well at the Big Spring Hospital after undergoing major surgery Monday morning.

MR. GLENN ALLEN SR. of Arkadelphia, Ark., is expected this weekend for a visit in the home of her son and his family, DR. AND MRS. GLENN ALLEN, their three daughters and little son.

DR. AND MRS. C. W. DEATS and MR. AND MRS. A. W. MOODY plan to leave Friday morning for Amarillo where they will spend the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Less Whitaker.

DR. AND MRS. J. E. HOGAN are getting poised for flight to New York and an ocean voyage to Europe with the coming of Sunday. The couple will drive to Dallas where they will enplane for New York. Here, they will spend several days before boarding the Queen Mary on April 8. They will dock at Southampton and then go by train to Ipswich where they will be met by their daughter, MRS. WILLIAM H. BRIGMAN, 1ST. LT. BRIGMAN and the extra attraction, HANK BRIGMAN, who will be four and one-half months of age when his grandparents see him. The Brigmans are stationed at Bentwater.

After spending a week in England, the two couples will spend the month of May touring central Europe. They will stay in Paris four days and be there for the International Flower Show. While in France they will see Lyons, the Riviera and Nice and then go to Italy; they will visit Pisa, Florence, Venice and Rome where they expect to stay five days. Also on their itinerary will be a trip into Salzburg, Austria; to Berchtesgaden in the Bavarian Alps; Lucerne and Zurich, Switzerland, along the Rhine River to Weisbaden, Heidelberg and Frankfurt. They plan a boat trip from Weisbaden to Koblenz. The party will visit Bonn before going into Brussels, Belgium, and Amsterdam, Holland.

Back in England the Hogans will visit the REV. AND MRS. ARTHUR HOYLES, exchange minister here several years ago, in Manchester and expect to spend some time seeing the Shakespeare area. They will arrive back in the states aboard the Queen Elizabeth on June 9 and go to Atlantic City for a meeting of the American Medical Assn. on June 10, 11 and 12.

Using a nautical theme Wednesday, Mrs. James Johnson entertained at luncheon for Mrs. J. E. Hogan, who will leave Sunday for a trip to Europe.

Dr. and Mrs. Hogan will be guests of their daughter, Mrs. William Brigman and Lt. Brigman in England, and will tour the continent.

A model of the Queen Mary, on which the Hogans will sail April 8, was the center of interest on the table and other appointments were indicative of a ship's furnishings.

Mrs. Hogan will be the honoree at a brunch slated Friday morning in the home of Mrs. Carl Strom.

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Cook and Jim returned home Monday after a four-day visit with relatives in Cleburne, Stephenville, Brazos and other points in Central Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Adams spent the weekend in Abilene as guests of his son and family, the Doyle Adamses.

From Corpus Christi came Mr. and Mrs. John Horton to visit his brother, Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Horton.

The Buck Baker family and Mr. and Mrs. Garland Brown of Seagraves met Mrs. Jim Brown at the Lamesa park where the group of 25 had a basket lunch.

Lee Lemon, a student at McMurry College, spent Easter with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Lemon.

Delbert Baker visited his great-aunt, Ellen Hill, recently at Anson, and friends in Moran.

Mr. and Mrs. Sammie Cates of Kennitt visited Monday with his sister, Mr. and Mrs. Riley Smith.

Mrs. L. D. Crain and Carrol of Midland, with Judy Pate of Big Spring, visited recently with Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Crain.

Girl With A Voice

Mary Costa's beautiful voice is heard in Walt Disney's "Sleeping Beauty." Mary, who is presently singing in opera, tells her personal beauty secrets to Hollywood Beauty columnist Lydia Lane.

HOLLYWOOD BEAUTY

Simplicity Keynote For Young Songstress

By LYDIA LANE

HOLLYWOOD — "Walt Disney is such a perfectionist that it took him six years to put 'Sleeping Beauty' into the theaters," Mary Costa told me. "I know it took that long because he put me under contract when I first came to Hollywood." Mary is the voice of the princess in the new full-length animated cartoon.

"The hardest thing I've ever done was lose my Tennessee accent. But by the time the studio was ready for me I had licked it. Any speech correction can be much easier if you can listen to your voice. It takes patience and a critical ear."

Mary confessed that she had true pitch and a clear voice when she started singing.

"I loved to sing, and my dream was for an opera career," she explained.

Midland Woman Speaker For Big Spring Gardeners

Pointers on preparing roses for display were given to members of the Big Spring Garden Club Wednesday morning in the home of Mrs. Clyde Angel.

The speaker was Mrs. C. W. Cowden of Midland, a national judge in the American Rose Society and in the American Iris Society; she has been a blue ribbon winner for an entry in the National Rose Show in Tulsa.

Mrs. Cowden told the group that a rose intended for judging in a show must be from 1/2 to 2-3 open; a fully opened rose will be eliminated by the judges.

The foliage, she stated, must not be polished, but it should be cleaned with a fine camel's hair brush. To protect the rose before displaying it, Mrs. Cowden suggested cotton, moistened and wrapped around the rose.

Members were told that rose bushes planted in November and December do better in this section of the country; she explained that feedings of the bushes should start about the middle of March, with an application of food about every two weeks. The speaker warned against overfeeding, and she suggested that the directions on the fertilizer container be followed.

Leaf rollers, which cut holes in the foliage, should be removed by hand, the speaker reminded the club.

Arrangements for display were brought by Mrs. J. R. Hensley and Mrs. Robert Stripling.

Elected to serve as delegates to the district convention are Mrs. Bristow and Mrs. Stripling; the meeting is scheduled for April 15-16 in Lubbock.

Final announcements were made concerning the Tasting Tea, which is in progress this afternoon from 4 to 7 in the Student Union Building at Howard County Junior College.

The session was dismissed with a scripture concerning flowers read by the president, Mrs. Angel.

DAV Group Slates Meet Of Region

Members of the DAV Auxiliary are making ready to receive their regional officers at the convention to be held here during the week-end.

Expected from Amarillo are Mrs. Bilda Smith, commander, and Mrs. Stella Beard, adjutant; Mrs. Blanche Ludwech of El Paso is senior vice commander, and Mrs. Jack Horn of Big Spring is junior vice commander.

Registration will be at the Settles Hotel all day Saturday, with a reception slated at 5 p.m. at the hotel.

In the evening the men's organization will join the auxiliary at 9 o'clock for a dance at the Settles. Playing for dancing will be Leon Fitts and his band.

Sunday morning is the time for election of regional officers, and the sessions will be concluded with a luncheon at noon at the hotel.

Eleven members of the local auxiliary were in Lamesa Monday evening when Mrs. Horn served as installing officer for the DAV Auxiliary of that city.

DEAR ABBY

DEBT TO SOCIETY

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My teen-aged son was picked up by the police for "Loitering, Disturbing the Peace and Suspicious" whatever that means. When questioned he said, "There is nothing to do in this town." Don't you think it is the crime of SOCIETY AGAINST OUR CHILDREN instead of the other way around? Doesn't Society OWE our children something? MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: Society owes us nothing . . . on the contrary we OWE Society our co-operation, energy, talents and time. Too many parents expect "Society" to raise their children and provide entertainment for them. The basic moral lessons are learned at home. Provide your children with a good healthy home life (and don't forget to introduce them to church at an early age) and you won't have to worry about what they do when they have nothing to do.

DEAR ABBY: I am only 13 years old but I know the answer to a question I see in your column very often. It is about mixing religions. I was raised Jewish and so was my brother. He fell in love with a Catholic girl and nobody could stop him from marrying her. She is a nice girl, Abby, but her folks were just as broke up about the marriage as ours. My brother changed his religion for her. They had a darling baby, but she died when she was only 11 months old. Mom fainted when she saw the beads around her little fingers. There has been no happiness in our house since we started mixing religions. Please put this in your column, Abby. Maybe it will help someone. A JEWISH GIRL

DEAR ABBY: My in-laws think it is terrible for a lady to smoke so I never smoke in front of them and they don't know I smoke. My problem is how to keep my one year-old son from telling them I smoke when he gets old enough to talk plainly. I know that telling him NOT to tell them would be the worst thing I could do because I know when I was a child if my mother told me not to tell something, that was the first thing I would tell. If I DON'T tell him not to mention it, I'm afraid he might accidentally let the cat out of the bag. What is your advice?

DEAR SMOKER: A woman who is old enough to be a wife and mother is certainly old enough to smoke if she wishes. Either quit smoking or tell your in-laws yourself.

DEAR ABBY: I am a widow and I live next door to a very nice young couple. We are good friends and they are my only neighbors as I live on a corner. Only occasionally do we visit each other, as we both work. My problem is this: They keep their shades closed all the time. It gives me such a lonely feeling to be completely shut out. If they knew how I felt I am sure they wouldn't do it. If you'd print this in your column they might see it. Thank you.

DEAR SHUT: Don't expect even the friendliest of folks to live in full view of their neighbors. They don't mean to "shut you out"—they keep their shades closed to attain privacy, which is every person's right.

Girl Scout Chosen For Work In Island

By JUDY ESHENFELDER
Corpus Christi Caller - Times
Written For (AP)

CORPUS CHRISTI (AP) — When tiny Barbara Kerr, 16, of Corpus Christi strapped on several pounds of camping gear for a rigorous 17-mile hike last summer, she had no idea Puerto Rico was around the next bend.

Because of her many years' experience with such primitive camping, the Girl Scout was chosen to represent Texas, Oklahoma and New Mexico as a program aide at a camp in Puerto Rico next July.

She and 11 other Girl Scouts in the United States will fly to the Caribbean to teach singing, lashing together primitive showers and tables, flag ceremonies and program planning at Camp Elisa in the islands.

Sponsored by the Juliette Low World Fellowship Fund, the project is a laboratory experiment to establish a camp for 200 public school Puerto Rican girls. It will be sponsored by the San Juan city government if permanently established.

The leader of the Girl Scout delegation will be Miss Margaret McAdams of Abilene, the only other member of the tri-state region 4 to participate.

When Barbara's application for Puerto Rico was submitted by the Corpus Christi Council to the regional office, the high school junior had accumulated almost 11 years of scouting.

To have qualified for the Puerto Rican project, she must have won her program aide service bar, and must speak Spanish. She has had three years of Spanish courses in school, and received her service bar through working with both retarded girls and crippled children's troops in Corpus Christi.

Barbara, with other members of Troop 30, has led songs and taught simple games and handicrafts to 20 retarded girls aged 14-20. She has served as a program aide at the Crippled Children's Hospital, helping the children obtain Girl Scout badges that require no physical effort.

The two troops, sponsored by the Council of Jewish Women, are among the first of their kind organized in South Texas.

The petite Girl Scout also volunteers her time to the Red Cross as a staff aide. At the Junior Museum in Corpus Christi she spends an afternoon a week guiding tours and running the movie projector. She has volunteered to work daily in the high school library.

Camping is Barbara's primary interest, however. She has accumulated 25 weeks of Girl Scout camping and has spent many summer vacations out on Padre Island with her family, in a primitive trailer. The Kerrs have made camping expeditions all over Texas and into Mexico.

Her mother, Mrs. Robert Kerr, joined the Girl Scouts when she did, becoming a leader of Barbara's troop. Her brother Don is a Boy Scout.

Barbara began her counselor-in-training program at Girl Scout camp last year, which entailed teaching songs, lashing, sketching and swimming to Brownies and Girl Scouts of all ages. She will complete her CIT training next summer before going to Puerto Rico.

She will leave for the Caribbean camp in July, where she will be joined by the United States Girl Scout delegation and 12 Girl Guides from the Western Hemisphere, for several weeks of training and instruction. She will be entertained in Puerto Rican homes while she is there.

Lions To Observe 30th Anniversary

Thirty years as a service institution in Big Spring will be celebrated by the Big Spring Downtown Lions Club this spring.

B. M. Keese, president, announced at the Wednesday meeting at the Settles that June 2 had been set as the date for the observance of the 30th birthday of the club.

Speaker for the occasion will be R. A. Lipscomb, Odessa, a director of Lions International and a past district governor. Joe Pond will serve as chairman of the committee to plan for the event, said Keese.

Two Bicycles And Auto Part Stolen

Two bicycles and a hub cap were reported stolen Tuesday and Wednesday.

Mrs. Al Milch, 1731 Yale, reported loss of a bicycle while it was at Washington Place School. The other bicycle was lost by Robert St. Amant, 1142 Main.

Capt. Bodak said one hub cap was taken from his 1958 Dodge while it was parked in front of his residence, 1503 Vines.

Island Bound

When tiny Barbara Kerr, 16, of Corpus Christi strapped on several pounds of camping gear for a rigorous 17-mile hike last summer, she had no idea Puerto Rico was around the next bend. Barbara has been selected as a program aide at a Girl Scout camp in Puerto Rico to be held next July.

Brother On Payroll

Sam Houston Johnson, 45, and five years junior to his well known brother Sen. Lyndon Johnson, poses in his office in the Old Senate Office Building in Washington. He is on the senator's payroll at $1,050 a month.

Lyndon's Brother His Best Advisor

By TEX EASLEY
 Associated Press Special Service

WASHINGTON (AP) — When Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon Johnson of Texas wants to know what people are really saying about him and his views, there is at least one aide to whom he can turn for candid comment.

That's his brother, Sam Houston Johnson, 45, five years the senator's junior and one of his chief aides.

Boh Sam Houston Johnson and his wife, Mary, are on the Senate payroll.

Sam Houston Johnson is no Johnny-come-lately to Capitol Hill, and the senator counts upon him heavily. In the senator's view, his brother not only is an intensely loyal aide but is eminently qualified for the job.

Sam Houston Johnson was secretary to the late Rep. Richard Kleberg of Corpus Christi at the time Lyndon Johnson was first elected to the House April 10, 1937.

But for the youthful age at which he was graduated from college, Sam Houston Johnson probably would be practicing law today. He got his law degree from Cumberland University, Lebanon, Tenn., in 1934 when he was only 20, and under regulations, prevailing at that time was prohibited from taking the Texas bar examination.

"I went to work in the legal division of the Federal Land Bank in Houston," he recalls. "By the time I had reached 21 and was eligible for the examination I had a chance to come to Washington to work as a congressional secretary. And, I might add, at a salary better than many a lawyer was making in those mid-depression years."

He went to work for his brother in 1932 and his present salary is $1,050 a month. He is on the payroll which the senator controls as Democratic leader of the Senate. That payroll is open to public inspection, whereas the salaries of employees handling strictly state matters are not a matter of public record, under Senate custom.

While his big brother is holding forth in the Senate wing of the Capitol, both in the Senate chamber and in a deluxe office suite just off the Senate floor, Sam Houston Johnson is to be found at a big broad-topped desk in the old Senate Office Building a block away. He puts in 10 hours a day there, he will tell you.

Elevator boys vouch for the fact that Sam and his wife regularly show up at 8 a.m., which is early around Capitol Hill, and seldom leave before 6 p.m. They seldom see each other during the day, because she works on the other side of the block-square, white marble edifice in her brother-in-law's regular Senate office.

where strictly Texas matters are handled.

She was working for the senator as secretary for some time before she met and married his brother. They were married in 1955. She is the former Mary Fish of San Antonio.

Sam Houston Johnson handles many matters for his brother but his main job is to keep especially informed about problems that have a personal aspect for the senator. He handles some correspondence, interviews many constituents and others seeking appointments with the senator. He knows many of the top newspaper and magazine writers, and has had much to do with some of the nationwide articles on Lyndon Johnson.

The brothers are in almost daily touch with each other, by telephone if not in person, and in these chats the senator gets fill-ins on many stories and reports going the round—some of which a regular subordinate would be unlikely to discuss.

More than a year ago Sam slipped on a floor of his apartment and suffered a fractured hip. For a long while he was forced to stay at home in bed with a traction, and even yet comes to work with the aid of crutches. While he was laid up, Lyndon frequently would stop by the apartment.

"In fact," Sam observed, "It was so convenient to Lyndon that he persuaded me to drop the idea when we were talking about moving."

As the only brothers in the family, with three sisters, Lyndon and Sam always have been close. When the five children were still getting their schooling, the Johnson family moved from Johnson City to San Marcos so as to be near the state college there.

In the fall of 1931 Sam entered the University of Houston and lived with Lyndon, who got a job teaching at the University. Later he enrolled at Cumberland.

In 1940 Sam Houston was married to the former Albertine Summers, secretary to an Illinois congressman. He then got a job as regional director of the National Youth Administration with headquarters in Memphis, Tenn. Brother Lyndon was head of the NYA in Texas when first elected to Congress.

In World War II Sam Houston served in psychological warfare with the Office of Strategic Service and Office of War Information in the Mediterranean Theater. After his return he and his first wife were divorced. The son and daughter went to live with their mother in Illinois.

The 17-year-old son, Sam Summers Johnson, however, is presently living with his father and attending a public school here. The fourth in line of Sam Johnsons in the family, he expects to attend college in Texas.

Gas Firm Loses Bid To Expand Pipeline Service

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Power Commission examiner has refused Trunkline Gas Co. of Houston permission to expand its natural gas pipeline to serve Consumer Power Co. of Jackson, Mich.

Examiner Francis L. Hall also rejected yesterday 13 applications by eight producers to sell gas to Trunkline and a proposal by Michigan Gas Storage Co., also of Jackson, to transport gas for Consumer.

The commission will hear arguments on the decision here April 9.

Hall criticized Trunkline and its parent company, Panhandle Eastern Pipe Line Co. of Kansas City. He pointed out that Consumer now receive the bulk of the gas it sells from Michigan Gas, which is served by Panhandle, and that Trunkline now sells substantially all of its gas to Panhandle.

Hall said that Trunkline, by proposing to render service only to Consumer through the proposed expansion program, was by induction attempting to assume functions of allocation "the exercise of which is entrusted solely by Congress to the commission."

The examiner held that Consumer needs the gas and noted that its own project has already been approved by the Michigan Public Service Commission.

Request Granted

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Communications Commission granted an application yesterday to transfer 50 per cent interest in KPEP, San Angelo, to Leroy Elmore, owner of KDAV, Lubbock, and KPFX, Colorado Springs, Colo., for $10,000.

A Devotional For Today

By their fruits ye shall know them. (Matthew 7:20)

PRAYER: Eternal Father, we would, by Thy grace, be the sort of people Thou dost want us to be. We would be men and women who witness to our faith in Thy Son by the things we do. Help us this day to express our faith in deeds that reflect Thy love. Through Christ our Lord. Amen.

Tibet Revolt Confronts Nehru

Red China had the gall to instruct its ambassador in India to remind Nehru's government that discussion of the anti-Red revolt in Tibet would be "impolite and improper."

Nehru reacted by saying that "it should be perfectly clear that this Parliament is not going to be limited in its discussion by any source—internal or external."

But Nehru's Parliament was giving Nehru a pretty tough time. He had to turn down a demand that India admit all refugees from Tibet, as Austria did in the 1956 Hungarian revolt. He said there were many "vast differences" in this situation.

The differences are difficult to spot. Tibetans have pleaded for help in their fight against the Red invaders. Nehru expressed sympathy, but that was all. Riots broke out in various Indian cities in behalf of the embattled Tibetans.

Red China accuses India of fomenting the revolt in Tibet, an accusation calculated to instill fear in Nehru's camp, a clear warning to keep hands off.

"Obviously," Nehru protested to Parliament, "I cannot say that if large crowds come we will automatically admit them all. I tell you we would not admit them. No country could or should say it will admit everybody that comes."

Well, Austria did in the case of the Hungarians—did it boldly and openly in the very teeth of Russian cannon.

Smokers Weren't Scared

Did the public hulla-balloo over the part cigarette smoking plays in lung cancer, if any, cause you to sell your stock in tobacco companies in anticipation of a big slump in sales?

If so, you should have held on a bit longer, for it was announced by the Agriculture Department this week that Americans over the age of 15 burned up 185 packs of cigarettes apiece in 1958.

Total number smoked was 470 billion, a rise of 6 per cent above the previous record set in 1957. Spent on cigarettes last year: $5.75 billion. It was the biggest gain in cigarette sales in any two-year period in history.

Federal, state and local taxes on cigarettes alone last year totaled almost $2.5 billion.

Tobacco farmers got only a little more than $1 billion for their crop, including that used for cigarettes, cigars and other tobacco products used in this country and tobacco products sold abroad.

The perverse streak that lives in most people probably accounts for the rise in cigarette consumption.

So they're trying to scare us, are they? We'll show 'em!

The industry fought back with a gimmick called a filter—which, if you stop to think, is tantamount to admission that there are harmful effects in smoking sure enough.

The extravagant and in many cases ridiculous claims made in behalf of the filters could not possibly account for the increase in consumption: most smokers still prefer the filterless kind. So it must be just the normal human reaction to being told, "You mustn't do that! It ain't good for you."

Chaos Can Come From Growing Deficit

WASHINGTON—There seems to be joy in some quarters that the budget is going to be unbalanced. Judging by some of the comments from Democrats in Capitol Hill, this proves that President Eisenhower was all wrong and that, since the budget is going to be unbalanced by more than a billion, it might as well be unbalanced by three or four or five billions.

When Congress comes back from its recess, the drive to spend more and hence make the deficit bigger will take on momentum. It seems to be taken for granted that only the prestige of the President—not the pocketbook of the American people—is going to be hurt by the failure to reduce the deficits.

It's hard for the average man to realize just what is involved in budget balancing and in the increases in Treasury deficits. At the National Press Club luncheon the other day for Raymond J. Saulnier, chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisors, this question was asked with reference to the drop in the purchasing power of the dollar from 100 cents in 1939 to 48 cents today:

"If I have only a 48-cent 'back' in my pocket, haven't I got 48 cents more than I had in the depression?"

Dr. Saulnier replied that nobody now is much concerned with 1939 except historically, and then added pointedly:

"I'd like to protect your 48 cents, you see, from now on."

This is a simple statement of a dilemma that faces the American people. Do they want to see the dollar decline still further in purchasing power so that the 48 cents they have today would before long be cut down to 24 cents?

The drama of money—the threat of printing-press currency—is not yet a subject of popular discussion. But among those whose business it is to deal in government securities—a man, for instance, like Aubrey G. Lanston of the New York firm which bears his name—the topic is very live. Mr. Lanston, speaking a few days ago before the Cleveland Society of Security Analysts, said:

"I think it will become plain that the people of this country will have to make a choice, sometime over the near future, either by positive action or through default. They can force Congress to administer federal finances in a responsible way—something we have urged other so-called less advanced countries to do—or we will end up, first, with selective controls of a mushrooming character and, ultimately, with a chaotic breakdown in our economy."

"The financial irresponsibility on the part of the government has created a series of deficits that have been financed by commercial banks. No matter what you have read to the contrary, that is the fact.

"Further, it seems inevitable that the commercial banks will be obliged to absorb whatever deficits develop from here on. It also seems likely that the increase in the government security holdings of commercial banks will enlarge by somewhat more than the amount of future deficits because the banks will be the only major buyers left. Therefore, the banks also will have to absorb whatever government securities are sold by others.

"This kind of frenzied public finance poses a serious threat."

"We should recognize now that the number of spending measures that have been, or will be passed between now and the close of the 86th Congress, call for increased government spending for fiscal 1961 and for later years, too. The prospect of another deficit—for fiscal 1961—coming on top of a deficit for fiscal 1960, and all those that have preceded these, could produce some substantial, nonchalant, fiddling attitude of Congress—as a whole—toward a balanced budget for 1960 may be building a base for explosive developments later on."

"These are significant words from one of those persons who normally speak in the most restrained phrases about government finances. Mr. Lanston's concluding advice to the public might well be pondered by those members of Congress and others who have been ridiculing the idea of a balanced budget. He said:

"Here is the way I look at the picture. I can see no point in investing in the lowest yielding credit of all—U. S. Treasury securities—at long-term in a background wherein the purchasing power seems likely to continue to depreciate. . . . Therefore, the best buys in government securities are those that are short in term."

But what is this going to do to the Treasury, which has to sell for cash somewhere between 11 and 12 billion dollars in government securities during the present calendar year, to say nothing of refinancing the many billions of other previously issued securities which come due in the next 18 months? When will the Congress realize that the Treasury Department's task is of transcendent importance to the American people and the future of the whole economy?"

Loaded Find

MONROE, Mich. (AP)—Finding what he thought was a cap pistol on his way home from school, 8-year-old Terry Marlow twirled it cowboy fashion and snapped off a couple of shots as he walked. He took a third shot in his bedroom at home and blew a hole in the floor. Police found no evidence that the first two shots harmed anyone.

One Of 14 Rewarded

MADISON, Wis. (AP)—William Walker, one of 14 children of the late John H. Walker, was named as sole beneficiary in his father's will.

The elder Walker, who left a $100,000 estate when he died at the age of 89, said in his will that William had worked with him for many years and was largely responsible for the size of the estate.

Hope For Earp

SPARTANBURG, S. C. (AP)—A Spartanburg youngster wants to see his television Western heroes in good shape. Asked by his Sunday school teacher if he had anyone special for whom he wanted to pray, the boy replied:

"For Wyatt Earp. He was shot in the arm last night."

Alcorn Was A Realistic Fellow

WASHINGTON (AP)—Every once in a while a politician leaves this citadel of stuffy party platitudes after a career which makes you feel like saying: "Thanks for some cool air, for a change."

Meade Alcorn is such a one.

With a few moments of frankness he denied, although the dent disappeared fast, the long tradition which seems to require political big-wigs to slambang the opposition only and never admit defeat beforehand.

Alcorn, 51, did his share of slambanging before he resigned Wednesday as chairman of the Republican National Committee after more than 22 months of trying to steer his party down a victory road.

But it was his plain talk—months before the 1955 elections—that his party figured to lose which anguished some of his fellow-Republicans and astonished politicians of both parties.

Alcorn, a lawyer who is going back to his practice in Connecticut, looked over the prospects last April and announced to newsmen it isn't in the cards "for the Republicans to win the Senate.

He thought his party might barely make it in the House.

Among politicians this umbrella of gloom which Alcorn raised over his party's chances may have seemed unheard of, unnecessary, unprofessional, and even unsporting. It was certainly unheeded.

But it was realistic. And it was justified, for what seemed at the time like wild optimism from his opposite number, Paul Butler, chairman of the Democratic National Committee, turned out to be rather conservative.

Butler predicted the Democrats would win perhaps 12 seats from the Republicans in the Senate and 40 in the House. In the 1958 elections they actually took 13 Republican Senate seats and 47 in the House.

It was the biggest Democratic victory since early New Deal days.

But Alcorn gave his party another dose of jolting frankness last January when the Republican National Committee met in Des Moines to hold a wake over the 1958 disaster and plan for victory in 1960.

Alcorn told committee members

they had better dream up a new look for the party or get set for another shellacking.

"Today," he said, "we are being out-voted, out-talked, out-spent and out-worked by an alert, disciplined, politically astute opposition."

In politics you can't stand still. Either you go forward or you go backward. And it's high time for the Republican party to shift gears. It's time we snatched off the "big-business" false-face that the Democrats placed on us years ago.

"It's time we erased the dollar sign they painted on our vest."

Alcorn, like Butler on the other side of the fence, had no easy time trying to get Republicans to see eye-to-eye or work together.

Butler has to try to keep Southern Democratic conservatives running happily in the same harness with Northern liberals. Alcorn had the same task with the conservatives and liberals of his party.

Even if Alcorn made a policy of sweet-talk he couldn't have pleased everybody.

Highly conservative Rep. Clare Hoffman, Michigan Republican, was so outraged by Alcorn's selection to be the party's general in January 1957 that he reacted immediately with this statement: "The conservative wing of the Republican party has been liquidated and is about to be buried."

The Circus In The Office

NEW YORK (AP)—The greatest remaining indoor circus in America is the average business office.

It has more acts than Barnum and Bailey ever dreamed of. But one of the best shows is watching how the animals in the office zoo go about starting their daily circus routine.

Here are some typical star performers you can see in action in your own office practically every morning:

Alibi Ike—"The Doc told me I oughta stay in bed at least a couple more days," he says on arrival. This means he really is too sick to work, and no matter what goes wrong during the day you can't blame him as he is a real hero to be there at all.

The Quick Change Artist—This ambitious secretary gets to the office five minutes early so she can erase her ride-the-bus face and replace it with her greet-the-boss face. As soon as the boss is in his sanctum, she goes downstairs to the drugstore and spends a half hour at breakfast.

The Supreme Organist—The initial problem of the boss is to decide which button to press among the row of buzzers on his desk.

"Let me see," he muses, "who'll I scare first today?"

The Proud Grouch—He speaks to no one, but takes out pen and pad and starts figuring how many more months, days and hours he will have to spend in this wilderness of ineptitude before he can retire and start mingling with a better class of people.

The Guilty Innocent—Fervidly he sets about doing work he should have finished yesterday, and he hopes nobody will find him out. What he doesn't realize is that 9 out of 10 people in the office still are putting off the work they should have done the day before yesterday.

The Boy Wonder—This pink-cheeked junior executive fidgets until 9:30 a.m., then bursts in on the boss to brag about all the work he did at home the night before.

The Boss is impressed. He makes a mental note to fire the guy at the first opportunity—to safeguard his own job.

The Efficiency Expert—He strides briskly into his office, closes the door, then lies down and takes a three-hour nap. He feels perfectly safe. Nobody ever watches an efficiency expert. They figure he's always watching them.

Two Chairmen In The Gardeners' Tasting Tea Today Share Recipes

Big Springers are enjoying a unique experience today if they are out at H.C.J.'s new Student Union Building. From 4 to 7 p.m., the council of local garden clubs is sponsoring a Tasting Tea.

A hundred tempting and exotic dishes, ranging from delectable dips to succulent entrees, are being sampled by the guests who, in turn, may purchase the recipe for 10 cents each. Admission is 50 cents. The tea is fun for both men and women.

Two of the women in key roles are Mrs. J. W. Dickens, a former president of both the Planters Club and the Council, and Mrs. G. T. Cook, who is active in the Four O'Clock Club. It has been Mrs. Dickens' responsibility to enlist every member in the six garden clubs in this project. As recipe and food chairman, her knottiest problem was perhaps figuring out how congealed salads could be effectively displayed and kept intact. The array of gustatory treats is grouped according to meats, vegetables, salads, breads, dips and desserts.

At each of the six tables, two women are on hand to sell recipes for every dish. Their efforts are coordinated by Mrs. Cook who is in charge of recipe sales. Her own entry in the event is Danish Krinkles, an unusual pastry featuring the rich flavor accents of raisins and almonds.

Frankly, making desserts and pastries ranks at the top of her culinary activities. She often leaves the meat cookery at home to her husband, Sgt. Cook, with special training in the USAF, is a supervisor in the mess halls at Webb AFB and an excellent cook, says his wife. Their home at 1004 East 21st is enlivened by the presence of the three boys. Wayne, 15, is in the eighth grade at Goliad. Eddie, 8, and seven-year-old Wesley are second and first graders at College Heights. Aside from gardening, Mrs. Cook is a den mother for Cub Scouts in Pack No. 138.

The Dickens home at 624 McEwen is in the throes of remodeling. This is just another "iron in the fire" for Mrs. Dickens, who is active in the Reba Thomas Circle at First Methodist Church and the American Legion Auxiliary. She also holds membership in the National Secretaries Assn. She and her husband, a Cabot Carbon employe, keep busy with their two youngsters: Pink, 6, is in kindergarten; Jeryl Wayne is only 3.

Salads are Mrs. Dickens' preference, both to prepare and to eat, but she yields to the rest of the family and makes desserts. Her contribution to the tea is a molded salad featuring dill pickles.

You'll want to visit the tea today and select your collection of recipes. But our featured cooks share with you two from each of their repertoires. Here are Mrs. Cook's Blueberry Pancakes and Pineapple Cheese Cake. The White Salad and Sand Dabs, her pet cookie since childhood, are credited to Mrs. Dickens:

WHITE SALAD
2 cups sweet milk
1 envelope gelatin
1 cup sugar
1/2 pint cream, whipped
1 can pineapple
1 can white cherries
1 lb. almonds
Dissolve gelatin in a scant cup pineapple juice. Scald milk with sugar. When cold, pour in gelatin. When it thickens, add the whipped cream and fruits. Serve with mayonnaise.

SAND DABS
1/4 cup butter
4 tsp. sugar
2 1/2 cups flour
2 tsp. vanilla
2 tsp. cold water
1 cup chopped nuts
Cream butter and sugar; add rest of ingredients, and mix well. Pinch off bits of dough and roll about the size of a finger. Bake 40 or 50 minutes in 325 degrees heated oven. While still warm, roll in powdered sugar.

Cabbage Rates High As A Nutritive Agent

If vegetables are rated by the company they keep, cabbage is one that can hold its head high in any kind of society.

Nutritionists of the U. S. Department of Agriculture say that cabbage should be rated along with those aristocrats of the diet — oranges, tomatoes and other foods rich in vitamin C.

Vitamin C can't be stored in the body. You have to eat or drink a new supply every day. One of the thrifty ways to get your vitamin C is in the form of cabbage, especially cabbage with lots of green leaves.

Cabbage is economical because there is enough of it coming to your market for it to rate a spot on the U. S. Department of Agriculture's plentiful

This Sounds Good!

Mrs. G. T. Cook, at left, and Mrs. J. W. Dickens indulge in the preview of the 100 recipes to be represented in the Tasting Tea today at the Student Union Building. The pair is assisting in the event, which is sponsored by the Council of Big Spring Garden Clubs. Every garden club member has been asked to prepare her culinary specialty for sampling by guests.

BLUEBERRY PANCAKES
1 egg, well beaten
1 cup milk
1/4 cup oil
1 cup sifted flour
2 tsp. sugar
1/4 tsp. salt
2 1/2 tsp. baking powder
1 cup drained canned blueberries
Combine eggs and milk in mixing bowl; add oil. Sift together dry ingredients. Gradually add to liquid, using rotary beater or mixer.

Drop batter on lightly greased griddle, using 1/4 cup measure. Sprinkle about 2 tablespoons blueberries over each cake. When under side is lightly brown, turn and brown other side.

PINEAPPLE CHEESE CAKE
1 cup fine gingersnap crumbs
1/4 cup butter, melted
1 No. 2 can crushed pineapple
2 envelopes unflavored gelatin
4 egg yolks, beaten
1 cup sugar
2 tsp. grated lemon peel
1/2 tsp. salt
2 12 oz. cartons small-curd cream-style cottage cheese
1 tsp. vanilla
2 cups heavy cream, whipped
4 egg whites, beaten stiff
Mix crumbs and butter. Press into bottom of buttered 9-inch springform pan.

Drain pineapple, reserving syrup. Soften gelatin in 1/2 cup pineapple syrup. In double boiler, combine egg yolks, sugar, lemon peel, salt and 2 tablespoons pineapple syrup. Stirring constantly, cook over simmering water 5 to 8 minutes or until mixture is like smooth stirred custard.

Remove from heat; dissolve softened gelatin in hot mixture. Add crushed pineapple, cottage cheese and vanilla. Fold in whipped cream, then egg whites. Pour into pan and chill about 5 hours. Garnish with pineapple slices and maraschino cherries, if desired. Serves 16.

Crunchy Cookies Have Cereal Base
Crunchy cookies are forever in demand. Makes no difference whether the crowd is composed of teen-agers or middle-agers, cookies will always find their mark.

Cereal forms the basis of many good recipes. It is true in this case — Crunchy Kays. Make them for your family:

CRUNCHY KAYS
1 1/4 cups sifted flour
1 tsp. baking powder
1/2 cup soft butter or margarine
1 cup sugar
1 egg
1 tsp. vanilla flavoring
1 1/2 cups ready-to-eat high protein cereal
1/4 cup finely chopped nutmeats
2 tsp. cinnamon
Sift together flour, baking powder and salt. Blend butter and sugar. Add egg and vanilla; beat well. Stir in sifted dry ingredients. Crush ready-to-eat high protein cereal slightly; combine with nutmeats and cinnamon.

Roll tablespoonfuls of dough in crumbs; mixture; place about 2 inches apart on ungreased baking sheets. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) about 15 minutes. Yield: about 2 1/2 dozen cookies.

For a real taste treat, serve wedges of green cabbage marinated in lemon juice with fresh shallots, green pepper rings and slices of fresh cucumbers.

MEATLESS ROAST

Curry-Lovers Begin With Chicken

Devotees of curried chicken claim there is nothing to compare with the exotic dish. It is served with rice and such taste heighteners as coconut, hardcooked egg, chutney, peanuts and raisins.

Try your hand with this curry: CURRIED CHICKEN
1 1/2 to 6-pound stewing chicken, cut in serving pieces
3 cups water
1 tsp. Ac-cent
2 1/2 tsp. salt
1/4 tsp. pepper
1 medium onion, finely chopped
1 1/2 tbsps. finely chopped parsley
1 apple, peeled and finely chopped
4 tbsps. flour
1/4 cup evaporated milk
1 tsp. curry powder
1/2 tsp. ginger
Place chicken in kettle with tight-fitting lid. Add water, Ac-cent, salt, pepper, onion, parsley and apple; cover. Bring to a boil; reduce heat and simmer two hours, or until tender.

Remove chicken from bone in large pieces. Skim fat from broth; reserve 6 tbsps. of fat. Measure broth; if necessary, add water to make 3 cups. Mix flour and chicken fat in kettle; blend in evaporated milk until smooth. Add broth, stirring constantly. Add turky powder and ginger.

Cook, stirring constantly, until thickened. Add chicken; heat to serving temperature. Serve with rice and curry accompaniments: coconut, chopped hard cooked egg, chutney, peanuts and raisins. Yield: Six to eight servings.

Honey Sweetens Food And Dispositions Too

Honey was considered so valuable in early world history that any man who stole it was liable to punishment by death.

There is no need for anyone to steal the distinctive sweet today, since bees in the United States were busy last year and honey is plentiful. Nearly 5 1/2 million colonies of bees produced almost 266 million pounds of honey last year, Agricultural Marketing Service reports. That is nine per cent more than in 1957; 13 per cent more than average.

Your family will start the day with a honeyed disposition if you add the honey to breakfast favorites. For instance, either canned or fresh grapefruit is enhanced when flavored with honey. It also goes well with hot or cold cereals.

Here are some additional suggestions to help sweeten dispositions:

POACHED EGGS IN HONEY CUPS
Blend equal portions of softened butter and honey together.

SPICE VOCABULARY
MACE, a spice available in either whole or ground form, boasts a sweet, exotic aroma and strong nutmeg flavor. Its color is burnt orange, shading to gold when ground.

MACE is compatible with fish sauces, oyster and clam stews; creamed soups; pickling, preserved fruits; gingerbread batter, stewed cherries, fruit salad, light fruit cakes, doughnuts, pound cake, sweet spiced doughs, whipped cream, fruit pies; Welsh rabbit, meat loaf, veal chops; cottage pudding, custard, all chocolate dishes; carrots, cauliflower, potatoes, spinach, succotash.

Trim crusts from fresh bread slices; roll flat with rolling pin. Spread top side of slices with honey-butter mixture. Press into muffin cups and bake in hot oven until browned — 10 to 15 minutes. Slip a poached egg into each cup, sprinkle with crispy bacon crumbles and serve immediately.

HOT HONEY BREADS
Split English muffins or "left-overs" from last night's dinner rolls or muffins. Spread generously with a butter and honey mixture. Sprinkle with cinnamon. Place under low broiler heat until honey bubbles and roll is gently tinged with brown. Serve hot.

HONEY PEANUT BUTTER
Combine equal parts of honey and peanut butter, chunk style or creamy. Place slices of your favorite bread under broiler until golden brown on one side, remove and spread generously with honey-peanut butter mixture. Return to broiler until peanut butter is nicely warmed. Serve immediately.

And here's a treat for the coffee 'n' sinker crowd: Spread top of doughnuts with honey, sprinkle with flaked coconut. Place under broiler just long enough to heat the doughnut and until coconut is golden brown. Serve hot.

Small Fry Delight
Small fry delight: Mashed potatoes spooned into an individual baking dish with a center "nest" of cooked drained green peas.

Spinach Garnish
Pep up spinach by serving it with a garnish of hard-cooked egg, lemon wedges or crisp bacon.

Poppy Seeds Star In Surprise Cookies

Poppy seeds impart an unexpected quality to cookies. The sticky tidbits make an otherwise ordinary cookie rise to new heights of appeal.

Stir up this recipe for Poppy Seed Cookies. Chances are they will become a standby.

POPPY SEED COOKIES
1 cup soft butter or margarine
2-3 cup sugar
4 egg yolks
2 cups sifted flour
1/2 tsp. salt
1/2 tsp. grated lemon rind
1 tsp. vanilla flavoring
4 tps. poppy seeds
1 1/2 cups corn flake crumbs
Blend butter and sugar. Beat in egg yolks, flour, salt, grated lemon rind, vanilla and poppy seeds. Shape dough into 1-inch balls; then roll in corn flake crumbs. Place on greased baking sheets about 2 inches apart; flatten with a fork. Bake in moderately hot oven (375 degrees F.) for 10 minutes, or until edges are lightly browned. Yield: four dozen cookies.

Meatless Main Dish Is Inviting

As many a housewife re-discovers during Lenten season, not every meal has to have meat as its backbone. Cheese, fish and potatoes gain in stature not only because of flavor but because they are appetite-satisfiers in all seasons of the year.

Here is a main dish which relies on ground nuts and rice for a meat substitute. It invites trial in your kitchen:

MEATLESS RICE ROAST
2 cups cooked regular or brown rice
2 cups ground whole wheat toast
1 cup ground nuts (peanuts or pecans)
4 tbsps. chopped pimiento
1/4 tsp. sage
2 tbsps. ground onion
2 tbsps. ground green pepper
2 cups canned tomatoes
4 beaten eggs
1 tsp. salt
Mix ingredients thoroughly; form into a loaf and bake for one hour in a moderate oven (350 degrees). Serve hot with this sauce.

SAUCE
1 1/2 tbsps. butter or oleo
1 tsp. ground onion
3 tbsps. flour
1 cup tomato juice
Melt the butter or oleo, add the onion, and cook gently for a few seconds. Then stir in the flour and continue stirring until the mixture is well browned. Pour in the tomato juice, cook until thick; season with salt and pepper. Serves eight.
Garnish with sliced boiled eggs, chopped pimiento, parsley and mandarin orange segments.

Teagarden Wants A Return To Jazz

By MURRAY FROMSON
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Jack Teagarden, the old pro of Dixieland jazz, wants to put heart back into the music business.

After 35 years of trombone tooting on three continents, Teagarden says he's a little frightened by some trends in American music. With a nostalgic look in his eyes, he told of the era which produced Tatum, Goodman, Miller, Bigard and Armstrong.

"You hear a lot of noise these days, but what does it all mean? There's hardly a demand for anything good any more. Everyone used to enjoy music. It was festive. It was gay. It was romantic. You could dance to it. It came from the heart.

"Everything is a fad now. Echo chambers, chimes, howling choruses—anything to get a different sound."

Teagarden isn't worried about the quality of today's performers. "Technically, they're better than the musicians of '20 or '30 years ago," he said.

Jack does much of the arranging for his own band. On a recent tour of Asia for the State Department, he stopped in New Delhi and asked for the score for the Indian national anthem.

The only one available was for the 90-piece Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra, which visited India a few years ago. Teagarden hurriedly re-arranged for his sextet.

That tour ended, Teagarden entered a hospital here for a stay of two months. The effects of extensive surgery show. He has a gaunt look and seems older than his 53 years.

Despite the changes in music Teagarden still finds large audiences for his playing, which has ranked him among the all-time greats of American jazz.

What bothers him is that rock 'n' roll and "cool" jazz are causing Americans to lose touch with real American jazz.

Granger, Jean Find Ranch Life Is 'Wonderful'

By GENE HANDSAKER
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Why would two British-born movie stars buy and live on a big Arizona ranch 600 miles from their work here?

"It's a wonderful life," said Stewart Granger. "I'd like to stay there and never come back to Hollywood."

We were on the sidelines while Jean Simmons, his wife, ladled out stew to a fellow Roman slave Kirk Douglas for a scene in "Spartacus."

During a break the London-reared lass said of ranching: "I love it. We're up early, out riding, checking over the joint. It's a very full day."

Joint? At my request Granger described their spread:

Ten thousand acres of rolling hills just east of Nogales, five miles of the acreage on the Mexican border. Six-bedroom house, two-bedroom guest house, two-bedroom servants' quarters.

Television "in every room" with three-channel reception from Phoenix and Tucson. A 10-acre lake feeding a five-acre lake stocked with trout. Pool, tennis court. The Santa Cruz River coursing through cottonwoods.

Five hundred head of Charolais beef cattle, a French breed, "all white and enormous." "Seven families who work for us," their 20 children riding to a little red schoolhouse in a bus. Granger's two children by his former marriage—Jamie, 14½, and Lindsay, 13, a girl—in boarding school at Tucson, home on weekends.

How much of the work does he do?

"I don't dig a hole, but I say where the hole will go. I run the caterpillar and knock down trees. I love it. The evenings come far too soon."

By auto and airliner they can get from the ranch to Hollywood studio in three hours when the wind is right. While here they rent a five-room penthouse apartment. Daughter Tracy, 2½, comes along "with 48 dolls and toy animals for her," Granger said.

Local Student In Scholarship Finals

Five West Texas high school boys and girls are among the 132 students qualifying for the final competition for scholarships from the Educational Fund for Children of Phillips Petroleum Co. They qualified for the scholastic aptitude test of the college entrance examination board to be given May 16. Final selection of 50 winners will be made in June or July.

The area students who will take the aptitude test are: Willard Jr. Mears, son of Mr.

and Mrs. Willard Mears, and James H. Posey, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. O. Posey, both of Odessa; Karen G. Richards, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Richards, Midland; Mary F. Oliphant, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Oliphant, Big Spring; and Linda L. Hammett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Hammett, Andrews.

Also competing for one of the scholarships is Sarah E. Johnson of Atlanta, (Texas), daughter of W. R. Johnson of Crane. Each of the 50 scholarship awards provides $500 annually during four years of college attendance, subject to the maintenance of a satisfactory record by the awardee.
