

Debris Rains On Firemen

Firemen throw a protective cover of water as two colleagues scurry out the way of raining debris as the roof of a 60-year-old church collapsed in Pittsburgh, Pa. The church burst into flames as a wrecking crew started to dismantle it. This picture made by Morris Berman of the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph.

Old Spanish Fort May Arise Again

MENARD — A centuries-old Spanish fort, now in ruins, may rise again near here in Southwest Texas. This restoration is a joint project of the Menard Historical Society and the Franciscan fathers, a Roman Catholic Church order. They propose to rebuild the ancient Presidio de San Luis de last Amarillas as a shrine in memory of two early-day priests slain by the Comanche Indians. Ruins of the old presidio occupy part of the Menard Country Club's golf course. The movement stems from a pilgrimage made last fall by 10 Franciscan fathers. It marked the 200th anniversary of the San Saba massacre in which the pioneer priests died.

Two of those visitors—the Rev. Amnian Lutowski of Sacred Heart Church and the Rev. Fidelis Albrecht of San Jose Mission, both in San Angelo—talked to Menard civic leaders. They returned, a week later, to address a public meeting at which the historical society was formed. At the same time plans were made for the first pilgrimage later in the fall, which included a religious service, speeches and a picnic.

Father Amnian has described the presidio site as important to the area both as a tourist attraction and as a shrine. "Hundreds of thousands of Catholics will come here," he said, "because of the two priests that were martyred."

These pilgrimages will commemorate the deaths of Fathers Alonzo de Giraldo de Terrores and Jose Santiesteban, along with many Spanish soldiers, during an attack made by Comanche Indians on March 16, 1758, at the Mission San Saba de la Santa Cruz.

Like the fort, this mission was built on the San Saba River. It was two or three miles downstream from the military establishment.

One of the most westerly Franciscan outposts in Texas, the mission and presidio were founded to spread Christianity among the Lipan Apaches. This made them objects of suspicion to the tribe's bitter enemies, the Comanches.

On the day of the massacre, the Comanches gained friendly entrance and then burned and plun-

Kennedy Makes Important Visit

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Sen. John Kennedy (D-Mass.) comes to Wisconsin today for a three-day visit that may be the springboard to his entry in the 1960 state presidential preference primary.

The Massachusetts senator has made no secret that he would like to find out how he stands among Wisconsin voters.

His visit here, at which he plans to meet with many of his supporters and make several speeches, could well give him an insight on the support he might obtain if he chooses to enter the primary next year.

Wisconsin's primary — at which presidential convention delegates are chosen — comes in April and is preceded only by the one in New Hampshire.

In the event that Kennedy announces that he will enter the race in Wisconsin, Sen. Hubert Humphrey (D-Minn.) is almost sure to follow suit. Kennedy sent out 13,000 letters to Wisconsin Democrats last week, inviting them to a breakfast at Madison Saturday at which he said he would like to discuss the political situation with them.

Royal Plants Are Given To Texas Garden

WEATHERFORD — The famous Chandor Gardens are proud possessor of two plants from the Royal Gardens at Buckingham Palace.

They arrived a short time after a recent visit to the palace of Mrs. Douglas Chandor, whose late artist husband established the gardens at the Chandor home here.

One of the plants is a myrtle. In an accompanying letter from the royal florist, it was explained that it was from a planting from "Princess Alice, 1931, for daughter's wedding bouquet."

The plant has been placed near a drive in the Chandor Gardens in a cove near a pond which holds a Chinese junk.

The other plant was described by the royal gardener as having been taken from an oak tree grown from an acorn planted on the day of Queen Elizabeth's coronation, June 2, 1953.

It was planted in a plot which the late artist called the "Gray Gardens."

Mrs. Chandor visited with Queen Elizabeth during her recent trip to England.

She took to Buckingham Palace the first pencil sketch her late husband made of Queen Elizabeth in preparation for painting the queen's portrait.

Mrs. Chandor during her four-week trip abroad also was luncheon guest of Winston Churchill.

She said the ex-prime minister, in spite of his recent illness, is still alert mentally and a delightful conversationalist.

Disney Buys Site Of Gold Discovery

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The site of California's first recorded gold strike has been purchased by Walt Disney, a fellow who has struck a little gold in these parts himself.

Disney Productions announced Wednesday it has acquired the historic Golden Oak Rancho for $300,000. The studio said this is believed to be more money than was realized from all the gold found there after the strike in 1842.

Disney will use the site as a movie location and a ranch for polo ponies and thoroughbreds.

Lawyers Outnumber Others In Breakdown Of Congress

By TEX EASLEY Associated Press Special Service WASHINGTON — The 24-member Texas delegation in Congress is heavy with lawyers—as is Congress as a whole.

The new Congressional Directory lists 19 of the 24 Texans as lawyers. A 20th, Sen. Lyndon Johnson, attended Georgetown Law School here in 1935 and got an honorary law degree from Southwestern University in 1943.

The remaining four are Reps. Olin Teague, once a postal worker in College Station; Jim Wright of Fort Worth, who operated an advertising firm; Clark Thompson, who was in private business in Galveston; and the only Republican in the delegation, Rep. Bruce Alger, who operated a real estate concern in Dallas.

In the biographical section of the directory, the only woman senator, Margaret Chase Smith (R-Maine), takes the prize for brevity. Her sketch consists of:

"Margaret Chase Smith, Republican, Skowhegan." One of the longest is that of Maine's other senator, Edmund S. Muskie, Democrat, which takes up most of a page and runs about 500 words.

Shortest among the Texans: "O. Clark Fisher, Democrat, of San Angelo, Tex. member House Armed Services Committee elected to 78th and succeeding Congresses."

Longest Texas biography is that of Sen. Ralph Yarborough, who includes this:

"Worked passage to Europe on a freighter, spent one year working and studying foreign trade and international relations in Europe. . . worked as a harvest hand in wheat fields of Oklahoma and as a tank builder in the boom oil town of Borger. . ."

Generally speaking, a newcomer to Congress puts in more biographical material than do the oldtimers.

As they gain seniority, many will trim the wordage.

Fisher, for example, stated in the directory of the 78th Congress that he had served as county attorney of Tom Green County from 1931 to 1935, was a member of the state House of Representatives in 1935-37 and served as district attorney of the 51st Judicial District of Texas from 1937 to 1943.

Speaker Sam Rayburn's sketch has varied little since he came to the House March 4, 1913. The directory of that, the 63rd Congress, stated he was born Jan. 6, 1882, in Roane County, Tenn., son of W. M. and Martha Waller Rayburn, that he was graduated from East Texas Normal College, studied law at the University of Texas, served six years in Texas Legislature, the last two as speaker of the House.

The only additional information in the 1959 directory is an enumeration of the Congresses in which he has served, the years he has presided as speaker, and the fact that he was chairman of the House Commerce Committee from 1931 to 1937. Six other members of the Texas delegation also were born in Louisiana, Teague in Oklahoma, Walter Rogers of Pampa and J. T. Rutherford of Odessa in Arkansas, and Rep. Bob Casey of Houston in Missouri.

Of all 534 members of Congress, 288 are lawyers, 51 are business men, 31 are from the field of journalism, radio and television. Twenty-five list farming as their occupation. There are 90 Methodists, 79 Catholics, 62 Baptists, 56 Presbyterians and 51 Episcopalians. Many, including a number of Jewish members, list no religious affiliation. There are six Smiths among the lot, with Johnsons ranking second with five — and among them, of course, is Texas' senior senator.

Water Jet Engine Revolution In Boats

AZUSA, Calif. (AP) — A new water jet engine designed to drive boats and ships at almost incredible speeds was disclosed today by scientists at Aerojet-General Corp.

"We know we can increase the speed of hydroplanes by at least 75 per cent," said Calvin Gongwer, head of Aerojet's Antisubmarine Warfare Division. "Theoretically there is no limit to the speed that can be reached by vessels of any size, with proper hull design."

The revolutionary device, called the hydrorocket, has no propellers. Instead an impeller, something like a lawn sprinkler whirling at terrific speed, drives the boat forward by spraying water into the air behind it.

A low-horsepower version has been ocean tested in a small boat. The company plans to install a high-speed hydrorocket in a racing craft for time trials this summer.

"We are confident it will break every speed record for propeller driven boats," Gongwer said. Stan Sayer's So-Mo-Shun IV hydroplane reached 178 miles an hour in 1952. This has been topped only by Donald Campbell's air-jet hydroplane, cocked at 248 miles an hour in 1957.

"Campbell's boat used an air-jet jet engine. We can do the same thing with conventional power plants requiring much less horsepower and much less fuel," Gongwer said.

Hydrorocket is expected to have military applications, but they are secret. A commercial model for boating enthusiasts is expected to be ready in two years. No estimate on cost is available. The hydrorocket was developed to overcome water drag on propellers.

"We have reduced this to a minimum," Gongwer said. "The hydrorocket's impeller is completely out of the water."

The impeller, a metal disk pierced with slanting holes, is geared to the engine's drive shaft. As it spins, the impeller pumps water up from a scoop below the boat and forces it through the nozzles in a whirling spray pattern. The boat can be steered by a rudder or by vanes which deflect the water jet.

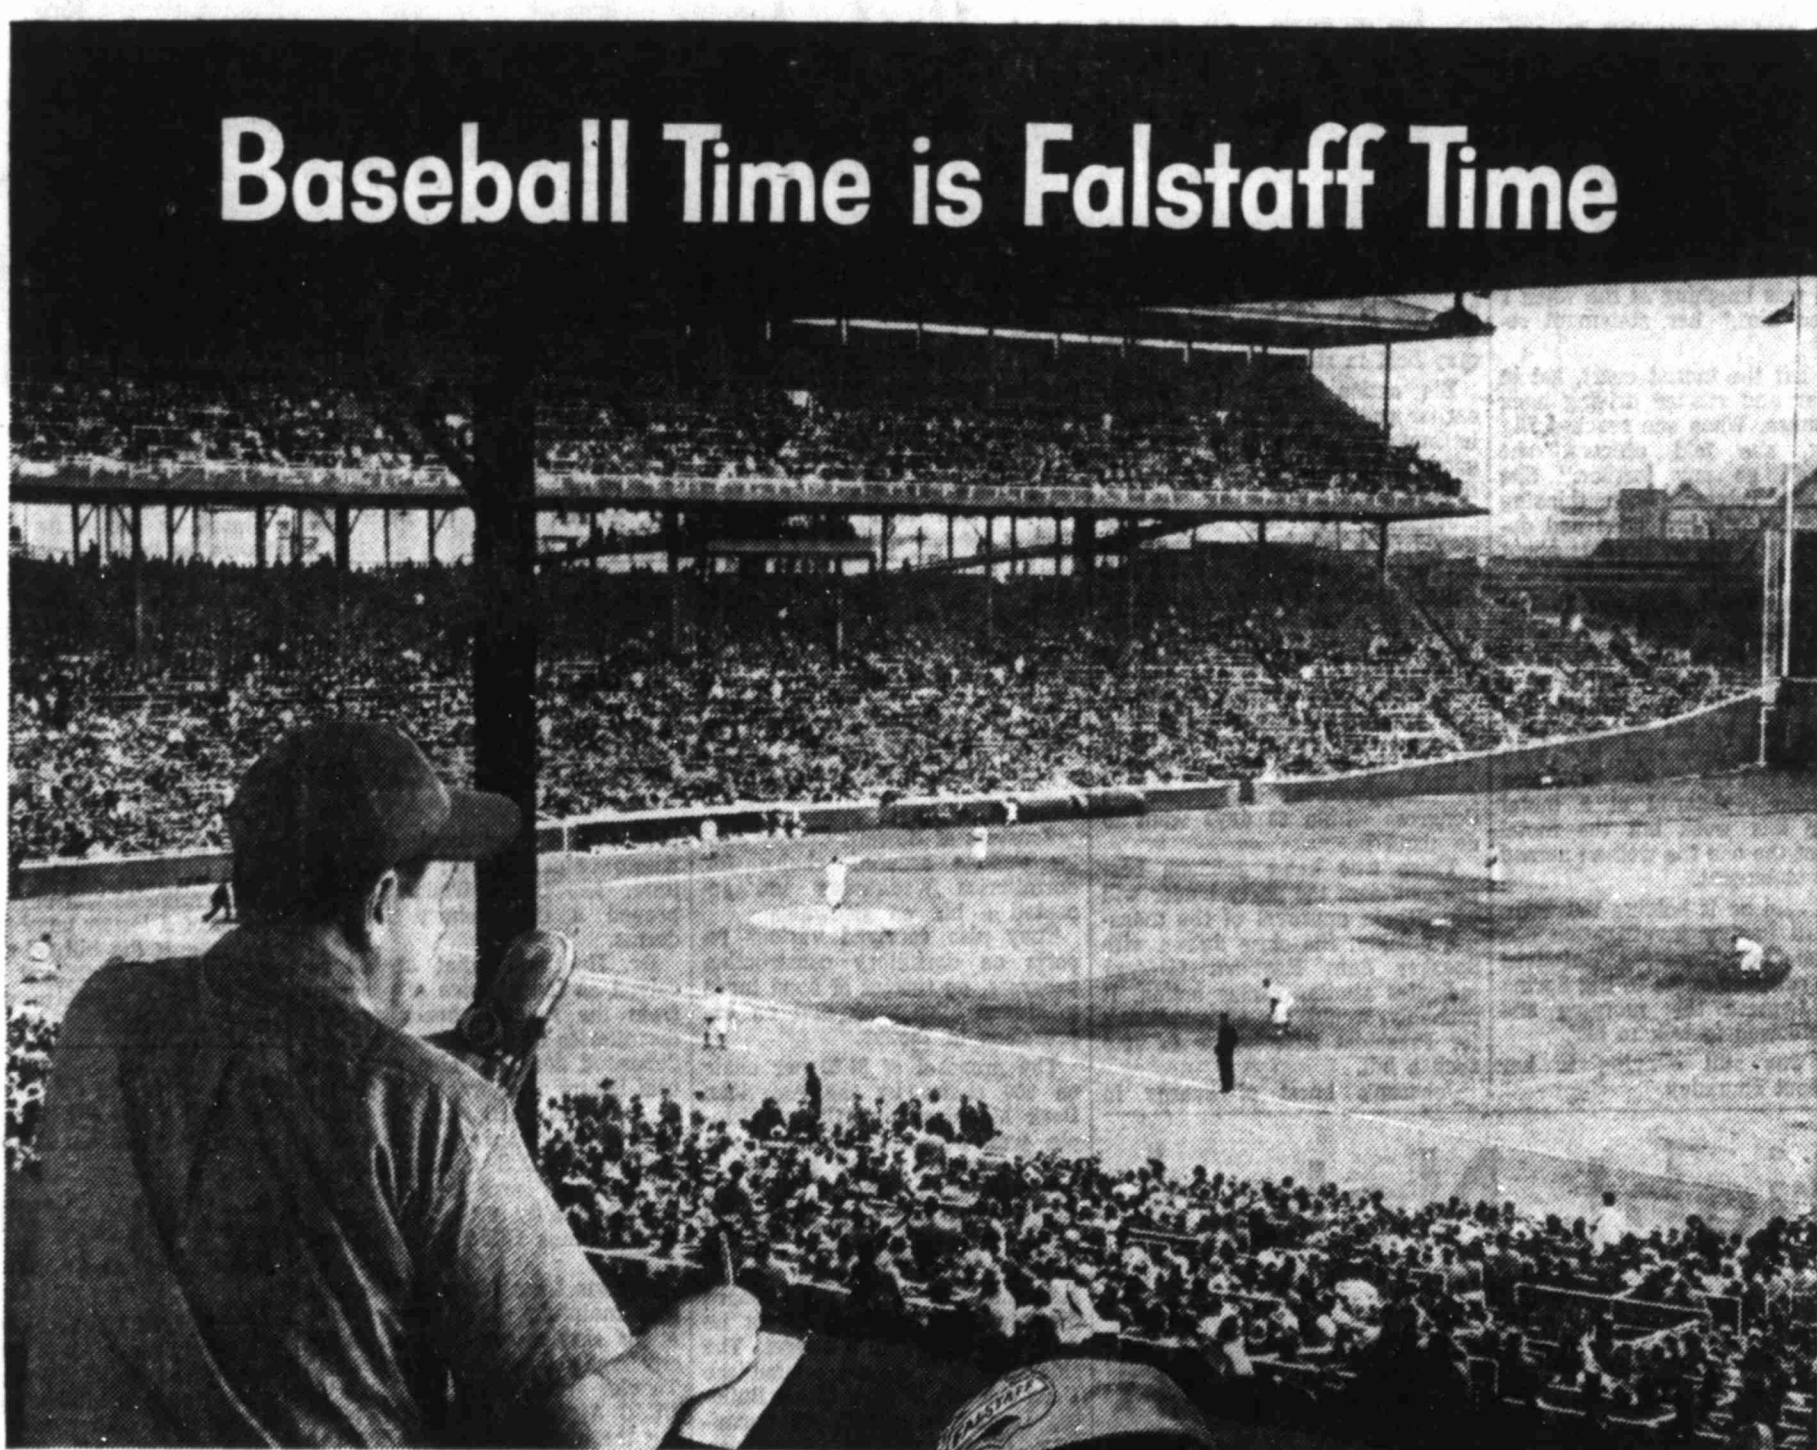

In tests, a 23 horsepower gasoline engine has achieved a speed of 22 miles an hour. "Increasing the horsepower will increase the efficiency," Gongwer said.

21 Serious Cases Found On Medics' Self-Exams

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Twenty-one cases of serious or potentially serious illness have been uncovered among the first 350 doctors to submit casually to free physical examinations while attending the American Academy of General Practice convention here.

These findings were made by a group of physicians and technicians in the first large-scale undertaking of that nature by the academy.

The convention and the project have one more day to go, so the final figures on undetected ailments among the doctors will be somewhat higher.

In about 40 minutes, the doctors get a thorough-going check-up that would take 3 to 4 days to complete for a patient in ordinary practice. The ordinary patient would have to pay about $75 for the job. It's free to the doctors.

The physical examination center is manned by a volunteer staff of 140 nurses and technicians. Ten to 15 examining doctors from a volunteer staff of 70 are on duty.

A $40,000 layout of the latest in laboratory and testing equipment, including electronic blood counters and on the spot X-ray reading, makes possible the immediate reporting of findings. Twelve electrocardiographs are used for heart studies. A cardiologist analyzes their records.

Dr. John D. Humber of San Francisco's Southern Pacific Hospital is the center's director.

Officer Slate For Lions Club Listed

The "Steamrollers," the past presidents who serve as a nominations committee, returned their slate of nominees for the Downtown Lions Club Wednesday. But B. M. Keese, president, said there were rumblings that the traditional opposition Streamliners would have a ticket.

Nominations returned Wednesday included Pete Cook, president; Louis Carothers, C. W. Fisher and E. H. Bouillon, vice presidents; Bill Quimby, Lionmaster; Fred Stiltzell, secretary-treasurer; R. H. Snyder and James Tidwell, tail-twisters; Ray Adams and Jimmy Ray Smith, directors. The hold-over directors are L. T. King and Choc Jones.

Joe Pond, chairman of the 30th anniversary celebration committee, said that the date for this will be June 2 and R. A. Lipscomb, Odessa, international director, will be the speaker.

Response to the two workshops held at HCJC for Soap Box Derby boys was the best in the history of the event here, said Pete Cook. There is a possibility one other shop night will be held, he added.

How the hand of fortune turns in the development of a business was illustrated by George McAlister, HCJC professor who operates a mathematical aides business under the name of GAMCO. When he felt the need of permanently embossed lines for chalk boards, a large instructional supply house turned down the idea. So McAlister did it himself, and this au-

Prefers Term To An Appeal

HOUSTON (AP) — A woman given 20 months in a federal reformatory has chosen to take the sentence rather than to appeal.

Alva Jean Kirk, 20, told Federal Judge Ben C. Connally that she wanted to withdraw her appeal and dismiss her attorney.

She had been convicted of passing counterfeit $100 bills. Connally said he understood similar charges against Mrs. Kirk in Dallas had been dropped and that he thought Chicago authorities would pursue the same course.

He told the woman he hoped her decision would work to her advantage and said, "If you comply by the rules you can get out in about a year."

Chief Deputy U.S. Marshal Kathryn Matthews said Mrs. Kirk would go to the Federal Reformatory for Women at Alderson, W.Va.

Still in county jail here is Miss Vida Jane McMillon, 24, who received 24 months for her bogus bills conviction.

Lamesa Mother Follows Sons Through Tech

LAMESA — "And mother makes three."

When commencement day rolls around at Texas Tech this spring a Lamesa woman, Mrs. W. W. (Minnie) Weaver, will receive her bachelor's degree and become the third of her family in as many years to graduate from the college.

In June, 1956, when she first enrolled at Tech, her son, John, was a senior and a younger son, Robert, was a junior.

"The boys were surprised at first," said Mrs. Weaver, "but when their father and I explained to them that I had planned for 22 years to go to college and how much it meant to me, they were very understanding."

Mrs. Weaver's major is secondary education and her minor is math. Her average throughout her college career has been 2.5. Mrs. Weaver says it has been no harder during the past three years than it was in high school.

"I have fewer interruptions now, and I know what I want, so there's no time or effort lost there," she said. Mrs. Weaver plans to enter the teaching profession.

Weaver operates the Triple W. Laundry in Lamesa and is as proud of his wife's accomplishments as she is, and boasts more loudly. John Weaver is in Goldsmith as a petroleum engineer with the Texas Co.; Robert is in Oklahoma City and is a mechanical engineer at Tinker Air Force Base.

Both boys are married; John and his wife, the former Lexeen Woodu, have two daughters; and Robert and his wife, the former Carolyn McMullen, have a son.

Burton Back In Filmtown, Not For Long

By BOB THOMAS
Associated Press Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)— After a three-year absence, Richard Burton is back in Hollywood — but not for long.

The British star of "The Robe" is out of tunic and into a business suit to play a modern doctor in "Bramble Bush," another probe of morality or rather immortality in New England. He said he may stay on for another film, but then he'll be tied up for some time.

He is lined up to play the singing lead in the new Lerner-Lowe show, "Jenny Kissed Me." It's a complete change of pace for the "My Fair Lady" authors, being an adaptation of a T. S. White book about King Arthur.

There has never been a weekend like it. That's the conclusion after three fabulous social evenings that saw virtually all of the film famous out in their jewels and minks.

It started Friday night with "An Evening with Betty Comden and Adolph Green" at the Huntington Theater — a benefit for the Reiss-Davis Clinic.

The Buddy Adlers' party for Ingrid Bergman on Saturday night was another memorable one. There can be no doubt how Hollywood regards the long-absent Swede. She was greeted with warmth by all her old friends.

After a Sunday rest, the big names turned out again for the Oscars and the Academy Ball that followed at the Beverly Hilton. No need to yearn for the good old days of Hollywood. They're still with us.

Pretty Commoner Marries Japanese Prince Friday

TOKYO (AP)—The pretty commoner marries her prince Friday in the climax to a storybook romance which has all Japan gasping with delight.

"I am passing each day wrapped in an indescribable state of tension," murmured 24-year-old Michiko Shoda as the hour of her tradition-shattering marriage to Crown Prince Akihito drew near.

An intelligent, high spirited girl unknown to Japan's millions less than five months ago, she is destined to ascend the 2,600-year-old chrysanthemum throne as Akihito's empress, the first commoner ever to do so.

to carry out, somehow, the heavy responsibilities that lie ahead without making any serious mistakes."

The crown prince and the wealthy flour miller's daughter, symbols of a more democratic and prosperous nation born out of the embers of military defeat, will become man and wife at 10:13 a.m.—8:13 p.m. EST Thursday.

Thousands of young Japanese girls, to whom Michiko is the embodiment of their postwar emancipation, at the same moment will marry in shrines and wedding halls throughout the country.

Their eagerness to share in the romantic atmosphere of the day was whetted by the young prince's assurance that he is marrying for love even though his bride was nominated by Imperia Household officials in conformity with tradition.

Incense, Tea Among Late Buddhist Rites

By ROBERT TUCKMAN HONOLULU (AP)—Burning incense and sweet tea poured over a statue are among the ritual highlights of an annual religious observance last Sunday in Hawaii. It was the day when the large Buddhist population of the 50th state-to-be takes note of the 2,500th birthday of Siddhartha Gautama, the Buddha or Enlightened One, founder of their faith. Buddhists probably make up more 10 per cent of the islands' population although the exact number is difficult to determine since Buddhists join the temple as family units. About 20,000 Japanese families practice Buddhism in Hawaii which—figuring an average of four to a family—means a total membership of 80,000. But the estimate may be conservative. Roughly 12,000 family units belong to the Honpa Hongwanji Mission, a member of the Shin sect and the largest in the islands. Buddhists are divided into a dozen or more sects. The Buddhist population of Hawaii is rising only very slowly. Many of the younger generation join Christian churches because of the strong influence of the American community, which is predominantly Christian in religion, English in language and Western in culture. Buddhist rituals follow age-old tradition but recently more and more sermons and other services are offered in English. Many Buddhist students are given scholarships in the United States. Hawaiian Buddhists list as one of their greatest needs more English-speaking ministers. An evangelistic program is under way to attract youths to the ministry. Buddhism teaches tolerance and understanding so it is not remarkable that Buddhists get along very well with the other religions in Hawaii, known for its blending of many races and cultures. The birthday observance Sunday centered on the dedication of a recently arrived, three-foot statue showing Buddha as a child. The traditional sweet tea that was poured over the statue symbolizes the belief that when Buddha was born it rained sweet tea to wash his body. The ceremonies also included the burning of incense, chanting of sutras (Buddhist scriptures), singing of gathas (Buddhist hymns) and symbolic dances by Sunday School children dressed in colorful, traditional costumes.

Deputies Face Violence Rap

HOUSTON (AP)—Three Harris County sheriff's deputies, one a polygraph machine operator, were indicted yesterday on charges of using violence in an effort to get confessions. Named by the grand jury were Joe Thorpe, 30, investigator and lie detector operator; Wesley Schules, 38, investigator; and W. V. Barnett, 38, a patrolman. Two Negro brothers, Joseph and Archie Arceneaux, both of Crosby, Tex., complained that the three deputies twisted handcuffs around their hands in an effort to obtain a confession. The investigation involved a burglary case.

Bond of $1,000 each was set for the deputies by Dist. Judge Miron A. Love. The grand jury, noting Harris County law enforcement agencies are undermanned, said "The number of crimes committed places a heavy burden on every officer." The statement continued: "Nevertheless acts of brutality in situations where the arrested persons are at the mercy of police officers we consider indefensible, and unlawful methods of extortion of confessions cannot be overlooked by a civilized community." The grand jury's action yesterday climaxed an investigation of alleged police brutality. Sheriff's Capt. J. D. Walters, who said the three deputies had been suspended, said they would be restored to duty if they are not convicted. "If they are convicted," he said, "they'll be fired."

The average season's paid attendance in the Sophomore League last season was 22,214.

Perkins Shades Armstead In Dull Chicago Battle

CHICAGO (AP)—Eddie Perkins of Chicago won a split 10 round decision from Los Angeles' Paulie Armstead Wednesday night in a pro boxing bout.

They banged away before a TV audience and a cluster of 981 Chicago Stadium customers with inaccurate shots and frequent clinches.

There were no approaches to a knockdown. The corner of Armstead's left eye was split in the first round and he had another gash near his right eye in the fifth.

Perkins gained his 14th triumph against 5 defeats. He outweighed his foe 138½ pounds to 135.

Many Regulars On Sidelines As Play Opens

By JOE REICHLER Associated Press Sports Writer NEW YORK (AP)—Ted Williams has a pain in the neck; Red Schoendienst is recovering from tuberculosis; Clint Courtney has a hairline fracture of the left leg; Billy Klaus has a cracked rib and Curt Simmons is set to undergo an arm operation.

These and other highly publicized baseball names will be missing from the opening day lineups of the 16 major league clubs launch the 1959 season today and Friday.

Roy McMillan, recuperating from a shoulder dislocation; Mcl Roach, still hobbling on a knee that underwent surgery; Gene Stephens, with a jammed right thumb; Bill Skowron, with a twisted back; Gene Baker, with a damaged knee; Billy O'Dell, with a muscle spasm in his side; George Witt, with an inflamed elbow; Frank Sullivan, with a pulled muscle and Billy Loes, with a sore arm, may also be on the sidelines on opening day.

A check of the 1958 opening day lineups show that at least 54 of the 128 players (excluding pitchers) who started in last year's inaugurations will either be missing or playing on other teams. This list includes such retired players as Pee Wee Reese and Rube Walker, and such traded players as Frank Thomas, Alvin Dark, Eddie Yost, Billy Martin, Jimmy Piersall, Vic Power, Wally Moon, Del Ennis, Larry Doby, Jim Hegar, Rocky Bridges and Ray Boone.

Eight of last year's opening day starters were expected to be back on the firing line in this year's inaugurations. They are Pete Ramos, Washington; Jim Bunning, Detroit; Billy Pierce, Chicago; Ned Garver, Kansas City; Don Drysdale, Los Angeles; Robin Roberts, Philadelphia; Bob Friend, Pittsburgh, and Warren Spahn, Milwaukee.

Ramos, 14-18 last year, has been selected by manager Cookie Lavagetto to hurl today's special American League opener in the nation's capital, Vice President Richard M. Nixon, substituting for President Eisenhower, was slated to throw out the first ball. After that, it was to be up to Ramos and Baltimore's Jack Harshman (12-15).

The pitchers for the National League's sole game today, in Cincinnati, were expected to be Bob Purkey (17-11) for the Reds and Ronnie Kline (13-16) for Pittsburgh.

Cable Garage offered little resistance to high-powered Dibrrell's which rolled to a 3-1 win this week in the Monday Couples bowling league. Dibrrell owns a 15 game lead in the circuit.

Lacy Electric cruised past Cable Cleaners, 4-0, and Nalley-Pickler trapped Vernon, 3-1. Auto Smerk-market toppled Fireball, 3-1.

Sugar Brown of Dibrrell's was high woman bowler with a 191-541 game and series, while Shirlee Starnes had a 186 game and Dot Hood, Cable Garage, had a 513 series.

For the men, Pete Shepherd, Lacy Electric, came in with a 216 game and series, while second place 565 series. Bill Bell keggled a high 602 series, including a 212 game.

Dibrrell's was high team for the evening with 863-2369. Lacy furnished closest competition, 828-2342.

Starting dates for the club golf tournament for women will be May 12-13-14, it has been announced.

The women may qualify as early as May 5 but only those playing on May 12 will be eligible for the medalist's award.

Present plans call for the tournament to be made up of three flights, including a nine-hole or novice flight. Entry fee is $2.

A driving contest will be held in conjunction with the meet on May 12. The tournament luncheon is scheduled for May 13 while a putting tournament is down for May 14.

Trophies will be awarded during a cocktail party the afternoon of May 14.

All Country Club members are being urged to take part in a scotch foursome scheduled to be held at the course starting at 1:30 p.m. Sunday afternoon.

MAJOR LEAGUES SET TO OPEN LONG HAUL

By ED WILKS Associated Press Sports Writer Forget about that 150-point business for the world championship in the NBA. Put the Stanley cup on ice. Switch Patterson, London to Magnolia, Ohio. Forget 'em all, pal. This is the day major league baseball starts bustin' out all over.

The traditional opens, both threatened by rain, got the pennant races moving a day early in Washington and Cincinnati this afternoon.

In the American League, the Washington Senators and Baltimore Orioles were paired in the nation's capital with Vice President Richard M. Nixon in the middle. The Veep threw out the first ball as a stand-in for President Eisenhower, who is vacationing with the GOP—Grand Old Putter.

The expected scramble for the National League flag was to get under way with Pittsburgh's long prostrate Pirates, still burning from last year's pennant fever, going against the darkhorse Reds.

The good pitch, no sock Orioles, sixth last year in the AL, went into the new season with the best exhibition record of any major league club. They capped that spring success 17-3 with a 3-0 decision over Philadelphia at Baltimore Wednesday. Rookie Jack Fisher knocked off the Phils with a three-hitter.

Boston's Red Sox, who open at New York against the world champion Yankees Friday were second best in the spring standings, finishing with a 16-11 record when Wednesday night's exhibition with the Chicago Cubs (12-14) was rained out at Houston.

The Los Angeles Dodgers, the club that was too good to finish seventh last year but did, led National League entries in the exhibitions with a 13-10 mark, although they dropped a 12-3 decision Wednesday to the Milwaukee Braves at Jacksonville, Fla.

In other exhibition finales yesterday, Cincinnati's southpaw rookie, Jim O'Toole, beat the Chicago White Sox 3-1 with a two-hitter at Indianapolis; a five-man pitching act by the San Francisco Giants blanked Cleveland 2-0 on three hits at Omaha. The Yankees copped first place in the Permian Basin Relays.

FIRST ONE FRIDAY Elementary Teams Planning 3 Meets

The first of three city-wide elementary school track and field meets will be staged at Memorial Stadium here Friday afternoon.

The second is scheduled for April 17 and the third for April 24.

Competition will be held in the 50, 75 and 100 yard dashes, 220 relay, 440 relay, chinning the bar, broad jump, baseball throw and high jump.

Each school may enter two boys in each individual event, as well as two relay teams in the relay races. Only one of those relay teams will be eligible for the April 24 meet, however.

Scoring in the individual events will be on a 5-4-3-2-1 basis while relay events will count 10-8-6-4-2.

The schools will be divided into two groups, with Washington Place, Bauer, College Heights and Boydston competing in Group One and Washington of Gollad, Park Hill, Cedar Crest and Airport taking part in Group Two in the initial meet.

In the April 17 meet, Washington Place will compete against Boydston, Park Hill and Airport in Group One while Washington, Gollad, Bauer, College Heights and Airport will compete in Group Two.

In the third meet, all teams will compete against each other. Winners will be determined in heats.

Each boy will be allowed to enter three running events, along with one field event, three field events and one running event or two of each.

Harold Bentley will be in charge of the meet and will be assisted by the elementary school mentors and parents.

Knotts Best All-Around Shot Of All HC Quints

By BOBBY HORTON Pick five basketball players to represent the greatest basketball talent in Howard County Junior College history? Impossible. Ten? Incomplete.

Coach Harold Davis, who has been there since 1947 except the 1951-52 season, names 15 HCJC exes he'd recruit next year if he had his druthers about it. And he admits he's still leaving off several outstanding boys.

His mythical team: Horace "Boss" Rankin, Big Spring, and Don Clark (1948-49); Bill Fletcher, Dallas, and Delmar Turner, Big Spring ('50-51); Robert "Dallas" Williams, Dallas, Charles Warren, Big Spring, Bobby Maines and Clarence "Casey" Jones, Big Spring ('52-53); Jim Knotts, Doyle, La., Paschal Wickard, Clovis, N. M., and Ray Crooks, Kentucky, ('54-55); Charles Clark, Big Spring, Mike Powell, Coleman, and Al Kloven, Big Spring ('56-57); Larry Gore, Potosi, Mo. ('57-58).

Naturally, Davis turns to his better teams for many boys chosen. The 1953 team (Williams, Maines, Jones, Richard Gilmore of Forsan and Warren) advanced to the national tournament semi-finals.

In 1955 the Hawks—Knotts, Ronald Anderson of Orangefield, Wickard, Crooks and Arlen White of Forsan—were in the national meet again. Fletcher and Turner, with Harold Berry and Melvin Norris of Doyle, Mo., were on the 1951 team that won the state junior college championship.

"Jim Knotts was the best all-around shot," says Davis. Knotts, second high scorer in HCJC records with 560 points, was especially deadly with a one-handed set shot. The Louisiana product averaged 17 and 18 points per game his freshman and sophomore years.

Robert "Dallas" Williams of Dallas holds the mark with 719 points, an 18-per average for 40 games. "Dallas" was a terror with his hook shots and jumps at close range, recalls Davis.

The best little men? Charles Warren and Jimmy Robinson were the finest ballhandlers, Davis says. Warren, a Big Spring High School graduate, was 5-10 and Robinson, Lovington, N. M., stood 5-9.

"The best rebounders I've had were Robert Williams and Bill Fletcher, both of Dallas, who were 6-4 and Larry Gore who was only 6-1."

The coach is not including 6-6 Bobby Davis, Kilgore transfer, who holds the record number of rebounds as far back as statistics are available, since none of the boys from this season's squad was considered for the mythical team.

Davis recalled numerous other fine cagers from the HCJC past in picking the elite 15: Lewis Stallings, Quin Grigsby, Howard Jones, Don Stevens, Wylie Brown, Ernie Davis were athletes who were considered and who were perhaps as talented.

Brown To Austin NACOGDOCHES, Tex. (AP)—Marshall Brown, formerly of Lon Morris at Jacksonville, is the new basketball coach at Stephen F. Austin College. Brown was named yesterday to succeed John O. Stephens who was promoted to athletic director.

W. O.'s brother, Bobby, returned last week to his job as a teaching pro in White Plains, N.Y., which is just above New York City. He'll spend the summer there as an assistant to Joe Moore Jr., the native of San Antonio who joins the touring pros for several weeks a year.

The golfing season from New York City northward usually opens in late April and closes on Labor Day.

A baseball spokesman says it's only a question of time before the major leagues adopt a uniform numbering system for their players.

The plan would number coaches and catchers from 1 through 9, the infielders from 10 through 19, the outfielders from 20 through 29 and the pitchers from 30 upwards.

Most football teams have long since employed numbering systems, with good results.

Big Spring's three products in the big leagues wear the following numbers: Camilo (Little Potato) Pascual, Washington, 17; Mike Fornieles, Boston, 20; and Ossie Alvarez, Detroit, 36.

The average season's paid attendance in the Sophomore League last season was 22,214.

None did so poorly that it threw in the towel.

Big Spring could do that, even with its present park.

Perkins Shades Armstead In Dull Chicago Battle

CHICAGO (AP)—Eddie Perkins of Chicago won a split 10 round decision from Los Angeles' Paulie Armstead Wednesday night in a pro boxing bout.

Usually the littler guys go at it nail and tong, but these 22-year-olds couldn't seem to get going at all.

They banged away before a TV audience and a cluster of 981 Chicago Stadium customers with inaccurate shots and frequent clinches.

There were no approaches to a knockdown. The corner of Armstead's left eye was split in the first round and he had another gash near his right eye in the fifth. Neither wound bothered him much and there was little blood.

Perkins gained his 14th triumph against 5 defeats. He outweighed his foe 138½ pounds to 135.

Coach Harold Bentley will take a squad of about 15 boys to Monahans.

Other teams entered into the Class AA division of the meet, in addition to the 2-AAAA schools, include Pecos, Brownfield, Monahans, Ector, Kermit and Del Rio. Odessa High is sending boys to both Monahans and the Amarillo Relays but has not decided who will go where.

Monahans has constructed a new cinder racing oval. Preliminaries will be run at 9 a.m. Saturday while the finals start at 2 p.m. Class A teams entered at Monahans include Denver City, Crane, Fort Stockton, Wink, Alpine, Van Horn, Morton, Eagle Pass and Eunice, N.M.

Hobbs, N.M., had originally entered the Sand Hills Relays but later withdrew due to illness. Abilene won the Cowtown Relays in Fort Worth last week. Midland accumulated enough points to cop first in the Texas Relays at Austin, had team championships been awarded. San Angelo was first and Big Spring fifth in the Brady Relays. Andrews copped first place in the Permian Basin Relays.

LIVE BETTER

BY FAR

WITH A BRAND NEW

CAR!

Yearning to get more out of life? Longing to pack extra pleasure in a picnic or put more zest in your sports? Buy a brand new 1959 car—and put a world of excitement in your life!

You'll find you'll live better by far with a brand new car—because owning and driving a sleek, sweet-sounding, smooth-riding '59 model will give you a brand new outlook on life! Sure, buying a new car is a major investment—it's one of the big accomplishments in your life. It sets you apart as a person who is going places and doing things—in the manner and style that you so richly deserve.

Your local car dealers are making a special effort during these "Total Selling" days—April 6-18—to get you going places in a brand new car. Take a good look at their ads on the pages of your "Total Selling" medium—the daily newspaper.

Dennis Crosby In Paternity Suit

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A tall, brown-haired divorcee is demanding that Dennis Crosby pay $400.25 a month for support of her baby daughter. She says he is the child's father.

The 25-year-old son of singer Bing Crosby was named defendant Wednesday in a paternity and child-support suit filed by Mrs. Marilyn Scott, 27, a former telephone operator. Mrs. Scott said she does not have enough money to support the baby and Dennis "has failed and refused to provide sufficient means of support." Young Crosby, now a Hollywood disc jockey, said he was not prepared to discuss the suit. He did say, however, that he has never admitted fathering the child. The girl was born 17 months ago.

Dennis married Las Vegas show-girl Pat Sheehan last year and they since have had a child.

Suicide Ruled

TYLER (AP) — Suicide was ruled yesterday in the death of William R. Durbin, 34. Officers said Durbin was shot with a rifle in Tyler State Park.

Low Bid

HOUSTON (AP)—A low combined bid of $1,264,041.50 was submitted yesterday by the L. H. Lacy Co. of Dallas on the extension of two runways at Houston International Airport.

DEAR ABBY

NOW OR NEVER

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: What can be done with a four-year-old child who sometimes stays up as late as 10 o'clock, doesn't shut her mouth and insists on sleeping with us nightly until we carry her into her own bed asleep? I am sick and tired of this. When I try to put her in bed at 8 o'clock she cries and screams and throws up her supper. My doctor says nothing is wrong with her and all she needs is DISCIPLINE, but he doesn't know how strong-willed she is. I am willing to try anything anyone suggests as I am ready for a nervous breakdown.

MRS. W.D. DEAR MRS. W. D.: Your doctor is trying to tell you it is time you showed your child who is "boss". Put her in her own bed at 8 o'clock in spite of her tantrums. You might have to "tidy her up" and return her to bed again, but once she learns her scenes are futile there will be no more nonsense.

DEAR ABBY: Recently you mentioned a woman who listened in on the party line and I thought you might enjoy knowing how I handled a similar experience. I had a private line but I used to call a friend who had a five-party line. We could hear her neighbor listening in because of the background music, children, etc. Finally I got tired of it and started to say the Apostles' Creed and my friend made the responses. Soon, BANG went the receiver. Another time I led the Rosary prayers — my friend responded. Bang it went again! I asked questions on religion — my friend replied. That snoopy neighbor sure learned a lot about our religion — but nothing else. By the way I am 74. AUNT PEG

DEAR ABBY: Will you please help to settle a family argument? My mother-in-law says that Elizabeth Taylor is pushing forty. She also says that Loretta Young, Ginger Rogers and Joan Crawford are all pushing sixty and they were big stars when she was a little girl forty years ago. I'd appreciate a quick reply. Thanks, KAY

DEAR KAY: Your mother-in-law is pushing pretty hard. She has added approximately fifteen

Clouds, Rains In Wake Of Hard Texas Storms

By The Associated Press
Light rain and cloudiness hung on over Texas Thursday in the wake of soaking moisture, twisters and thunderstorms Wednesday.

Light rain fell along the coast early Thursday. Skies were clearing in the north, but cloudy over the rest of the state.

Predawn temperatures ranged from 65 degrees at Galveston and Brownsville to 34 at Childress.

A small twister reportedly struck the Centerville Community 40 miles east of Lufkin Wednesday. A house was destroyed, another unroofed and trees were uprooted, the Department of Public Safety said.

Another small tornado knocked down utility poles in the Homestead area northeast of Houston. An unconfirmed twister uprooted trees and smashed windows at Rung.

High winds flattened ranch buildings near Medina and knocked out power lines in San Antonio for a time Wednesday. Lightning struck a 55,000-barrel tank of oil at the Magnolia refinery near Luling and started a wild fire. No one was injured.

Small craft warnings were hoisted along the coast Wednesday and remained up Thursday.

Snow blanketed the upper Panhandle Wednesday and fell in flurries as far south as Amarillo.

Thundershowers dumped more than three inches of rain on some parts of the Lower Rio Grande Valley in less than an hour Wednesday night.

R. F. Wilson, who lives between McAllen and Mission, said his rain gauge measured 3.3 inches of rain in 30 minutes.

Soaking rains ranging up to three inches brought badly needed moisture to wheat, cotton and other crops and to grazing lands over wide areas of Texas. The cold front which touched it all off had moved clear across the state by Thursday.

Highs Wednesday varied from 41 at Dalhart to 85 at Presidio.

The Weather Bureau reported the following rainfall for the 24 hours ending at 6 p.m. Wednesday: Houston 1.98 inches, Austin 1.97, San Angelo 1.69, Tyler 1.54, Del Rio 1.49, Lufkin 1.18, Lubbock 1.15, Childress 1.11, Abilene .42, Amarillo .66, Beaumont .77, Corpus Christi .18, Wichita Falls .66, Kingsville .44 and numerous other points received less than a fourth of an inch.

Why Electric Cooking is CLEAN

An electric range cooks with concentrated, sealed-in-metal heat—the same spotless heat you use to iron clothes. This means that your cooking utensils will stay bright and shiny. Clean-up time is reduced to a minimum.

When you use an electric oven there is no need for a draft of air into and out of the oven. A minimum of cooking vapors is carried into the kitchen. So you can expect your kitchen curtains and walls to stay fresh and new-looking with a minimum of cleaning and care.

Electric cooking is also cool, fast, accurate and economical. Select your new electric range now and enjoy all these benefits... at an average cost of only about 3c a meal for electricity.

Is This The End?

Joe's just been shot in the back. A few days ago, he was drowned. Previous to that, he was killed in an airplane crash and cremated. So, now he'll have to find a new body to inhabit.

You Know It Isn't

So, he found one, and now Joe can live his 60 destined years, and enjoy a pretty girl's company, too. Joe is played by Gary Pickle, and his girlfriend by Janet Thorburn, in these scenes from "Heaven Can Wait." It's a fantasy about a prizefighter who was mistakenly cut down before his time by the Grim Reaper, who in turn must find Joe a new and permanent body. Curtain time: 8 o'clock tonight, High School Auditorium.

Mrs. Khrushchev Remains In Background, Aids Social Life

By HAROLD K. MILKS
Associated Press Staff Writer

Among the many changes Nikita Khrushchev has made in the Soviet Union is one directly affecting his family life. He has made his first lady a publicly known personality.

Until Khrushchev became head of both government and party the wives of top-level leaders hadn't been seen by foreigners in years, even at functions attended by foreign officials or diplomats.

Nikita Khrushchev has changed all this, as he has changed many things in the Soviet Union.

Mrs. Khrushchev's given name is Nadezhda, meaning hope. She first became known as a hostess for important visitors when Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt and Eric Johnston were invited to the Khrushchev summer home on the Black Sea.

Later, at a Kremlin reception for foreign diplomats, she talked with some of the envoys and their wives—about home matters, far removed from any connection with her husband's job.

In most of these appearances she wore black or dark dresses and had her graying hair tightly pinned into a bun on the back of her head.

Her latest appearance at an official Moscow reception came during the visit of British Premier Harold Macmillan. She was in the reserved dinner section of the Kremlin's St. George Hall but remained in the background, chatting with Soviets or with diplomats. Khrushchev's toasts with Macmillan and other Soviet and British officials were strictly a man's affair within an inner circle.

Those who saw her there noted something else: Mrs. Khrushchev had abandoned her dark dress for a gown of soft gray, well cut and decorated. Her hair was fashionably arranged and worn loosely, with the bun low at the back of her neck.

Mrs. Khrushchev appeared in a front row seat in the visitor's gal-

Freed, But Can't Have Burglar Tools

ST. JOSEPH, Mo. (AP) — After William Woodrum was found innocent of a burglary charge, he went to the office of Prosecutor Dan Hale to pick up some tools used as evidence against him.

But Woodrum left the office without them. He refused to sign a receipt for the tools, listed on a receipt as "burglary tools."

Possession of burglary tools is a felony.

lery when the Communist party 21st congress opened. Throughout her husband's long presentation of the nation's new seven-year plan she seemed to listen intently.

She also accompanied Khrushchev to Leningrad to welcome Finland's president on a state visit.

Among the latest to share Mrs. Khrushchev's hospitality at the summer home were U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld and Iowa corn farmer Raswell Garst. She presided as hostess at meals for both.

Veteran Moscow observers believe Mrs. Khrushchev is determined to protect her bustling husband's health and to give him as much of a normal family life as she can.

There is little public information in Moscow on the family life of Nikita Khrushchev and his strong and pleasant-looking wife. It is believed they were married in 1938, after he was widowed.

She helped raise his two sons—one perished in World War II—and his two daughters, both married now, one to a Communist party editor in Moscow, the other to a Kiev theater manager.

Apparently she spends a good share of her time at Pitsunda, the "summer White House" on the Black Sea, and encourages her husband to come there as much as possible.

People who know Khrushchev well say he is proud of his wife and the kind of mother she has made for his children. That may be one explanation why she has moved into the public eye. Most other Soviet leaders still keep their wives at home.

Bill Would Keep Lyndon In Office, Let Him Run

AUSTIN (AP) — A bill that would let Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson's name appear on the 1960 ballot as a candidate for re-election and for president or vice president went to the House Calendar today.

It won Elections Committee approval last night after surviving several tests.

Some committee members bitterly assailed it as a measure written solely for the benefit of the Senate majority leader, often mentioned as a top possibility for the Democratic presidential nomination next year.

Johnson has disclaimed any presidential ambitions.

The measure would amend Texas' presidential law prohibiting a candidate's name from appearing more than once on a ballot. It would also set the Democratic primary dates for the first Saturday in May and the first Saturday in June, rather than in July and August.

Iraq Seizure By Force Now A Possibility

By WILLIAM L. RYAN

AP Foreign News Analyst

A Communist attempt to seize control of Iraq by naked force has become a distinct possibility.

If that happens, something in the nature of another Korea also is possible.

The threat of a Communist coup in Baghdad becomes more real with persistent reports of an infusion of armed Kurds from the Soviet Union, plus an Iraqi decision to arm civilian units known as the "People's Resistance."

Because Iraq has no borders with any Communist-ruled country, a forcible Red seizure of its government would be a departure from past practice. Up to now, armed communism has not leaped over land barriers. But the elements for such a leap are present. Also present are the makings of a situation not unlike that in Korea nine years ago.

Troops of Gamal Abdel Nasser's Arab Republic, according to Turkish reports, already have taken up positions in northern Syria near the Iraqi frontier. Shammar tribesmen, who supported the recent pro-Nasser revolt in north Iraq and as a result had to flee the country, are reported massed in an area roughly 50 miles from the Iraqi border.

The fierce cold war between Nasser's U.A.R. and the Iraqi regime of Premier Abdel Karim Kassem could easily turn into a hot war, even a Moslem "jihad," or holy war.

A military clash could be a prelude to an attempt by pro-Nasser forces to install a rival government in Iraq.

The spark for the clash also could be a Communist takeover in Baghdad. The tools for the takeover could be a nucleus of tough, heavily armed Kurds from the U.S.S.R. and the street militia made up of what the Arabs call the Muqawamah al Sha'Abiyah, or popular resistance. Such organizations exist in other Arab states, notably Syria, but Syria up to now has not trusted this potentially violent, mob with live ammunition.

Ostensibly the organization is supposed to train for guerrilla warfare in the event the country is threatened from outside. Actually it is a handy weapon of political control through intimidation.

The arming of this group in Iraq came in response to strident demands of the increasingly powerful left, dominated by the Communists.

For Calorie-Counters

Modern nutritionists recommend extravagant use of leafy vegetables and fresh fruits in reducing diets. Real aids are also provided in the form of new non-calorie sweeteners, non-fat dry milk, high-protein meal and cottage cheese. Learn how to be clever with herbs and spices, too.

Low Calorie Recipes Will Help You 'Get In Shape' For Summer

Are you one of the millions who vowed this time last year never again to be seen in a swimsuit or shorts with so much poundage? Would-be dieters have many fellow sufferers. But if you really are determined to whittle off that surplus baggage for this summer, better be at it.

One of the biggest disadvantages about dieting is feeling plain hungry. For it is a sad fact that in discarding something old, a few pounds, the dieter is acquiring something new—hunger pangs. Keeping these pangs assuaged takes a clever cook, who can plan a satisfying meal with low-calorie appeal. She will remember that protein-rich foods such as meat, cottage cheese, fish and fowl are the dieter's best friends. Lots of leafy vegetables and fresh fruits are beneficial, too.

Make use of non-fat dry milk in recipes, experiment with new non-calorie sweeteners, take advantage of the array of nature's low-calorie foods, and use spices and herbs with a knowing touch. These aids will show you that a low-calorie diet need not be colorless or without its own brand of glamour.

Here are some ideas:
TOMATO SHRIMP
 1 lb. shrimp, frozen
 2 onions, sliced
 2 tsp. butter or oleo
 1/4 cup instant non-fat dry milk
 2 tsp. flour
 2 cups canned tomatoes
 1/2 tsp. salt
 1/4 tsp. pepper

Clean and cook shrimp. Cook onion in butter or oleo until soft. Thoroughly mix milk, flour, tomatoes, salt and pepper. Add to onions and cook, stirring, until mixture thickens.

Add shrimp and cook until shrimp are heated through. Serve with a border of toast or low-calorie wafers. Serves four.

BROILED CHICKEN
 1 quick-frozen frying chicken, thawed
 2 1/2 tsp. French dressing
 Salt and pepper
 Paprika
 1 tsp. chopped parsley

Separate pieces of chicken and dry well between towels. Brush with part of the French dressing and sprinkle with salt, pepper and paprika.

Preheat broiler. Place chicken on broiler rack. Broil at very low heat about 30 minutes or until golden brown and tender, turning chicken frequently and brushing with remaining French dressing while broiling. (Chicken should be watched closely to prevent burning). Before serving, sprinkle with chopped parsley, if desired. Serves four.

GRAPEFRUIT CRESS SALAD
 1 envelope low-calorie lemon-flavored gelatin
 Dash of salt
 1 cup hot water
 4 sections drained unsweetened grapefruit
 1/4 cup coarsely cut water cress
 1/2 tsp. drained chopped pimiento

If desired, 1/4 cup shredded celery tops may be substituted for the water cress.

Dissolve gelatin and salt in hot water. Chill until slightly thickened, then fold in grapefruit sections (cut in half), water cress and pimiento. Divide evenly into two individual molds. Chill until firm. Serve on crisp salad greens with dressing, if allowed. Makes two servings.

DIETERS' STEW
 3 oz. cubed beef
 1 tsp. fat
 2 tsp. chopped onion
 1 cup dieters' canned tomatoes
 Salt and pepper
 1/4 cup diced carrots
 1/4 cup peas
 1 small potato, diced

Brown meat in fat, adding onion when meat is partially browned. Add tomato, salt and pepper to taste. Simmer slowly until meat is tender. Add carrots, peas and potato. Cook 20 to 25 minutes or until vegetables are done. Serves one, with 344 calories.

LOW-CALORIE BARBECUE SAUCE
 1/4 cup chopped onion
 1 cup catsup
 1/2 cup water
 1/4 cup lemon juice
 3 tsp. Worcestershire sauce
 2 tsp. vinegar
 1 1/2 tsp. prepared mustard
 1 tsp. non-caloric sweetener
 1/2 tsp. salt
 Dash of pepper and cayenne

Combine all ingredients in a small saucepan; simmer 20 minutes. Use to bake hamburgers or steaks during broiling. Makes two cups. 1/4 cup of sauce contains 43 calories.

WEIGHT-WATCHERS' FRENCH DRESSING
 1/4 cup vinegar
 1/4 cup salad oil
 1/4 tsp. paprika
 1/4 tsp. salt
 1 tsp. sugar

Combine ingredients. Shake vigorously. Chill. Shake before serving. There are 82 calories per tablespoon. By adding 1 tablespoon honey to 1/4 cup basic French dressing, a perfect fruit dressing is obtained. Ten to 12 calories are added to each serving of dressing.

CHOCOLATE SOUFFLE
 Combine in saucepan:
 1 cup skim milk
 1 envelope low-calorie chocolate pudding mix

Rinse 1-quart mold with ice water; pour in bavarian mixture. Chill until firm, about 2 hours. Makes eight servings. Calorie count is about 27 per half cup.

COFFEE MOLD
 2 tbsps. sugar
 2 tps. instant powdered coffee
 Salt

1 envelope unflavored gelatin
 2 eggs (separated)
 1 1/4 cups water
 1 tsp. vanilla
 1/4 cup sugar
 1/4 cup instant nonfat dry milk

Stir and cook over medium heat until mixture comes to a full boil. Remove from heat. Cool about 5 minutes, stirring once or twice.

Stir in:
 1/4 tsp. vanilla
 Stirring constantly, gradually add pudding to:
 3 egg yolks, well beaten
 Beat with rotary beater until soft peaks form:
 3 egg whites

Eggs Are Natural 'Joiners'

You likely will find larger supplies of eggs at generally lower prices than last year for the next several months, according to the Agricultural Marketing Service.

Poultrymen have more layers this spring than last. They may sell off aging hens this summer and fall, as usual, but new layers from an unusually large out-of-season hatch in the last five months of 1958 will bolster the flock. Also, the trend to more eggs per bird continues.

That's good news for the consumer because eggs are much like a cheerful friend who fits into any company. Eggs are natural "joiners." They are right at home with most other foods. And they make the best of nearly every cooking situation.

If leftovers become drab, eggs can transform them into delicious and popular entrees.

Eggs are the answer if you want clear consommés, soup stock, soups and coffee. The fat in eggs helps deter crystallization of candies and cake frostings, like taffy butterscotch, caramels or "utter icings."

Eggs fill the bill if you need a thickener in pies, salad dressings, sauces, soups or stuffings.

An egg also is an emulsifier. Simply combine the liquid and the egg and slowly add the oil. The egg quickly encircles each oil droplet and holds it fast.

Eggs are a friend in need as a leavener or binder. If you treat them correctly, they'll help you become the kind of cook you want to be.

Dieters Need Not Be Denied Good Desserts

Did you know that you can diet and still dine on luscious desserts? It's true. The secret lies in such modern-day miracles as instant nonfat dry milk, non-caloric sweeteners, and low-calorie gelatin.

Nonfat dry milk is top-quality pasteurized milk with only the fat and water removed. It is a rich source of such important nutrients as protein, calcium and riboflavin. And it is economical. Cooks have learned to like it, too, because it mixes immediately in ice water.

Here are a few low-calorie, mouth-watering desserts:

EMERALD FLUFF
 1-3 cup cold water
 1 tsp. lemon juice
 1-3 cup instant nonfat dry milk
 3 envelopes low-calorie lime-flavored gelatin
 1 1/2 cups cold water
 1/4 tsp. almond extract

Combine 1-3 cup cold water, lemon juice and instant dry milk powder in deep bowl. Beat with rotary beater or electric mixer until stiff, about 8 minutes. Chill.

Dissolve gelatin in hot water. Stir in 1 cup cold water and almond extract. Chill over ice water, stirring constantly until mixture reaches consistency of unbeaten egg white. Fold into whipped milk.

Rinse 1-quart mold with ice water; pour in bavarian mixture. Chill until firm, about 2 hours. Makes eight servings. Calorie count is about 27 per half cup.

FRUIT WHIRL
 Prepare, following package directions:
 4 envelopes low-calorie orange gelatin dessert powder
 4 cups boiling water
 Chill until gelatin reaches consistency of unbeaten egg whites. Meanwhile, drain thoroughly:
 1 can (No. 303) dietetic fruit cocktail

Fold drained fruit into orange gelatin. Turn into eight 2-3-cup molds or a 1 1/4-quart mold and chill until firm about 3 hours. Unmold and garnish. Makes eight servings, at 33 calories per serving.

PINEAPPLE MINT SHERBET
 3 cups liquefied instant nonfat dry milk
 1 envelope unflavored gelatin
 1/4 cup sugar
 1/4 tsp. peppermint extract
 1/4 cup well-drained crushed pineapple

Green food coloring
 Set refrigerator control at coldest point. Pour liquefied instant nonfat dry milk into top of double boiler; add gelatin and allow to soften. Add sugar. Place over hot water; stir until sugar and gelatin are dissolved. Remove from heat; add peppermint extract and pineapple; stir to mix.

Stir and cook over medium heat until mixture comes to a full boil. Remove from heat. Cool about 5 minutes, stirring once or twice.

Stir in:
 1/4 tsp. vanilla
 Stirring constantly, gradually add pudding to:
 3 egg yolks, well beaten
 Beat with rotary beater until soft peaks form:
 3 egg whites

Fold pudding into them. Turn into five 1/2 cup greased soufflé cups. Place in pan of hot water and bake at 350 degrees about one hour. Serve hot or cold. Makes five servings at 68 calories per serving.

COFFEE MOLD
 2 tbsps. sugar
 2 tps. instant powdered coffee
 Salt

1 envelope unflavored gelatin
 2 eggs (separated)
 1 1/4 cups water
 1 tsp. vanilla
 1/4 cup sugar
 1/4 cup instant nonfat dry milk

Stir and cook over medium heat until mixture comes to a full boil. Remove from heat. Cool about 5 minutes, stirring once or twice.

Stir in:
 1/4 tsp. vanilla
 Stirring constantly, gradually add pudding to:
 3 egg yolks, well beaten
 Beat with rotary beater until soft peaks form:
 3 egg whites

Fold pudding into them. Turn into five 1/2 cup greased soufflé cups. Place in pan of hot water and bake at 350 degrees about one hour. Serve hot or cold. Makes five servings at 68 calories per serving.

 Set refrigerator control at coldest point. Pour liquefied instant nonfat dry milk into top of double boiler; add gelatin and allow to soften. Add sugar. Place over hot water; stir until sugar and gelatin are dissolved. Remove from heat; add peppermint extract and pineapple; stir to mix.

 1/4 cup very cold water

In the top of a double boiler, stir together the 2 tablespoons sugar, powdered coffee, a dash of salt and the gelatin. Beat the egg yolks slightly; add 1/4 cups water and beat until combined; stir into gelatin mixture. Stirring constantly, cook over boiling water until gelatin dissolves — about 8 minutes.

Remove from heat; stir in the vanilla. Chill, stirring occasionally, until slightly thicker than unbeaten egg white.

Beat the 2 egg whites until stiff; gradually beat in the 1/4 cup sugar until very stiff. Beat instant nonfat dry milk solids and 1/4 cup very cold water together rapidly with rotary beater (hand or electric) until mixture stands in peaks when beater is slowly withdrawn; this will take from 5 to 10 minutes. Turn into small molds or custard cups; chill until firm. Unmold. Makes seven servings, 83 calories each.

Tint mixture pale green with food coloring.

Pour into refrigerator freezing tray; cover with waxed paper. Place in freezing unit until mixture is a firm mush (about 1 hour). Turn into chilled bowl and beat with rotary beater (hand or electric) until fluffy. Quickly return to freezing tray and cover with waxed paper. Return to freezing unit and freeze until firm, about 2 hours. Makes eight 1/4 cup servings. 104 calories per half-cup.

Shrimp Are Low-Calorie Protein Food

With shrimp available in frozen and canned form now, people across the nation are finding more and more uses for the highly digestible complete protein food. Shrimp are all lean meat, low in calories, popular universally. Shrimp may be served plain-broiled with salt or a favorite spice blend; fried, breaded, broiled or en casserole; or served fancy with a rich sauce. Calcium, phosphorus, copper and iodine are afforded by the shrimp. Try this plate:

PATIO SHRIMP PLATE
3 cans (4 1/2 oz. each) de-veined large shrimp
1 large cucumber, sliced
1 Drain shrimp. Cover with ice water; let stand five minutes. Drain. Arrange shrimp on crisp lettuce with cucumber slices.
Serve with sauce made by combining and blending together 1 cup sour cream, 1 tablespoon horseradish, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1 tablespoon grated onion and 1/2 teaspoon paprika. Serves six.

Marinate Artichoke In Vinegar Mixture

When you need an extra special dish for company, try marinating artichoke hearts.

Here is how to do it
MARINATED ARTICHOKE HEARTS

Ingredients:
1 pkg. (9 ounces) frozen artichoke hearts (cut and trimmed)
2 tbsps. olive oil
1 to 2 tbsps. white wine vinegar
Romaine
2 medium-sized tomatoes
1 tsp. drained capers

Method:
Cook artichokes according to package directions; drain.
With a fork, in a small wide container, beat together the oil and vinegar add drained artichokes. Cover and chill for several hours, turning a few times.
At serving time, arrange romaine on serving plate; add undrained artichokes. Slice tomatoes and add; sprinkle with capers. Makes four servings.

Cottage Cheese Rates As Dieter's Friend

If you are one of those who is trying to shed excess weight, you will find a firm ally in cottage cheese, preferably the non-fat variety. Used as is, it takes to seasoning with onion salt, chives, or just a dash of salt.

Cottage cheese makes a handsome luncheon plate; surround it with radish roses, green pepper rings, carrot sticks, crisp cucumber rounds, thin onion slices, fresh tomato wedges — all happily low in calories. Or it can form the heart of a fresh fruit plate, delightfully tempting but low in fattening food values.

If you must have a dressing for the cottage cheese and vegetable plate, try this Italian version: 1 envelope Italian salad dressing mix, vinegar, water and oil. Shake well.

Perhaps you would be interested in a cottage cheese dressing for vegetables or vegetable salads. Here is one which yields 16 calories to the 1 tablespoon serving.

COTTAGE CHEESE DRESSING
1/2 cup instant nonfat dry milk crystals
1-3 cup water
1 cup cottage cheese
1 tbs. lemon juice
2 tbs. chopped chives
1/4 tsp. salt
Pepper to taste
Combine instant crystals and water; mix well. Add cottage cheese and beat until smooth. Add remaining ingredients and mix well. Makes 1-3 cups.

SPICE VOCABULARY

MARJORAM, an herb, is available in either whole or ground form. Green in color, it has a distinctive, delicate flavor.

Marjoram is compatible with lamb chops, roast beef, pork, veal, chicken, duck, goose, salmon loaf and other baked and broiled fish; omelets and souffles; tossed green salad; onion, clam and oyster soups; stews; eggplant, carrots, peas, spinach; stuffings.

Breakfast Is Important, Whether You Diet Or Not

Weight-watchers are usually advised to eat a good breakfast each day. For a variety of reasons, this is good advice.

A basic cereal and milk breakfast can be the mainstay of a low calorie diet. Adequate and satisfying, it prevents hunger until noon, at the same time keeping one from falling prey to late-morning lagging and fatigue.

Before looking into the foods that make a basic breakfast, it may be a good idea to answer some questions about calories. The first function of food is to provide fuel to give energy. The calorie is the unit used to measure this "fuel value" of foods. All foods furnish heat which may be stated in terms of calories.

A sufficient number of calories for growth and maintenance is necessary for good health. The energy needs of a person depend on age, sex, activity and size. A moderately active man, for instance, requires about 3,200 calories daily, while his 16-year-old son needs about 3,800.

In order to feel his best, one should start the day with an adequate breakfast. In terms of calories and nutritive requirements, a basic cereal and milk breakfast will account for 1/4 to 1-3 the day's needs.
A low calorie basic breakfast might include the following foods:

- Caloric values follow in parentheses:
- 1 medium orange (70)
  - 1 cup ready-to-eat high protein cereal (70)
  - 1 tsp. sugar (16)
  - 1 cup skim milk (85)
  - 1 slice enriched or whole wheat toast (65)
  - 1 tsp. butter or margarine (34)
- The total of 340 calories is well within the range of 1/4 to 1-3 of a 1,200 calorie diet.

Those whose calorie needs are greater may wish to take a larger serving of cereal, whole milk, another piece of toast or an egg. Still, the basic breakfast provides top-quality protein, essential B vitamins and important minerals. It is moderately low in fat and provides quick and lasting energy.

Pillsbury's Bake-Off Entries Open

The Grand National Bake-Off will head west this year to inaugurate its second decade as the world's largest recipe contest. The Pillsbury Company, sponsor of the Bake-Off, has announced that the 1959 event will be held in Beverly Hills, Calif., scene of 1957's cooking classic.

Entries are now being accepted for the contest which will be staged Sept. 20, 21 and 22 in the Beverly Hilton Hotel. Closing date for entries has been set for June 30, 1959. Entry blanks are available in grocery stores, or may be had by writing direct to Grand National Entry Blanks, Box 353, Minneapolis, Minn.

Prizes in the big recipe contest total more than $100,000 in cash and General Electric equipment. Besides the top cash prize of $25,000, there is a second grand prize of $5,000.

Other cash prizes add up to $6,500 in the senior division, $4,500 in the junior division, and $4,000 in "best of class" awards. Entries in all divisions are eligible for the grand prize.

Besides a chance at the cash awards, each of the 80 senior and 20 junior finalists will receive an all-expense trip to California, a two-day stay at the famous Beverly Hilton and a cash prize of $100 each. Every finalist also gets a brand new General Electric range, and a General Electric all-purpose mixer.

Announcement of finalists in the Bake-Off contest itself will be made early in September.

Tells Eye Secrets

Canadian-born Suzanne Lloyd, a popular CBS-TV actress, tells her secrets of eye make-up and her favorite one-day diet.

HOLLYWOOD BEAUTY

Care Of Eyelashes Can Aid Appearance

By LYDIA LANE
HOLLYWOOD — Though Suzanne Lloyd was born in Toronto, Canada, of English parents, she looks so Spanish she has been chosen many times to play a girl from south of the border. When I visited her on the "Bachelor Father" set at CBS-TV, I must confess she made a convincing Latin. As we chatted in her dressing room, Suzanne was eating a cup of jellied consommé.

"This is my day for liquids," she confessed. "I can lose two pounds in 24 hours very simply. I like to keep around 115."

She explained that she was five-six and when she started to push 120 she would begin to reduce. I wanted to know exactly what she consumed in a day of dieting.

"For breakfast I have a glass of tomato juice with a package of gelatin — the unsweetened kind — stirred in. (They usually come — four packages to a box.) And I take vitamins which my doctor prescribes as a good supplement.

"For lunch I have hot or cold consommé and in the mid-afternoon I have a glass of skim milk. For dinner I have a health broth made with vegetable juices and beef cubes — and more vitamins."

Suzanne has sparkling eyes with long, thick lashes. When I complimented her she said, "I've made my eyelashes grow with a cream I read about in your column. I used it every night, and after 15 days finished one jar the studio make-up man remarked how much longer my lashes were. So I tried using it on my eyebrows and they grew, too," Suzanne confessed.

"I feel my eyes are my best feature. I play them up all I can, but I try not to be obvious about this. I've used many different colors of eye shadow but black looks most natural on me."

"I smooth a tiny bit of it from

Local Woman Member In New Chapter Of Ninety-Nines, Inc.

Mrs. Doyle Bynum, 1206 Mulberry, was in Midland Saturday for the first official business session of the newly-formed local chapter of Ninety-Nines, Inc. The gathering took place in the area headquarters at Midland Airport.

The Ninety-Nines, Inc. is an international flying club for women. First organized at Curtiss Field, Long Island, N. Y., on Nov. 2, 1929, the Ninety-Nines had ninety-nine charter members—thus its name.

Today the membership stands at about 1,300 within the U.S.A. Puerto Rico and Canada, with members-at-large in England, France, Turkey, Australia, Brazil, Japan, Switzerland, and the French and British West Indies. To be eligible for membership, a woman must hold a private pilot's license or better.

The Midland Chapter boasts 11 women who are qualified for membership. They are Mrs. Everett Copeland, Mrs. John Butts, Mrs. Tom Schneider, Mrs. Roger Carter, all of Midland; Mrs. Dee Adcock of Lamesa; Mrs. Doyle Bynum of Big Spring; Mrs. Randolph

Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Wash were recent business visitors in Midland.

Here for a few days with L. A. Pitcock were his daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Speegle of Midland.

The J. D. Gilmore have had as their guests the Richard Gilmore of Lubbock.

Mrs. S. C. Crumley was expected home today from a trip to Kyle, Austin and Seagoville.

Elmer and Albert Crumley of Doole were recent guests of the C. V. Washes.

Minister Addresses Study Club

In speaking to the Child Study Club, Wednesday afternoon, the Rev. H. W. Bartlett dwelt on "The Mature Personality," and said that Jesus is the supreme example. Mothers can solve many of their problems by referring to the Bible, he continued. In particular he recommended the Book of Proverbs.

Mrs. Raymond Moore and Mrs. P. D. Williams were hostesses to the group at the former's home. They introduced Mrs. Bill Pool as a new member.

Officers for the year were elected, Mrs. Moore will be president, Mrs. Bob Tawater vice president, Mrs. Luther McDaniel secretary, and Mrs. David Eldred treasurer. Duties of librarian-historian will be carried by Mrs. Tommy Hart. Serving as parliamentarian will be Mrs. Wayland Yates.

The May 13 meeting will be replaced with a spring luncheon at 1 p.m. at the home of Mrs. J. H. Burnett. Mrs. Tawater will be joined by Mrs. Charles Sweeney and Mrs. R. C. Thomas as hostesses.

Seven attended the meeting of the Pioneer Sewing Club held Tuesday in the home of Mrs. C. L. Gooch. The April 21 meeting will be in the home of Mrs. John Kubecka.

DOES Schedule A Chili Supper

A chili supper will be staged by the BPODoes April 18 at Elks Hall. Serving hours will be from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. The public is invited to attend, with tickets priced at $1 for adults and 50 cents for children.

Plans for the event were completed Wednesday evening when the Does gathered at the hall. Mrs. C. C. Ryan Jr. was elected junior counselor. Pro tem officers were Mrs. Bill Ragsdale, secretary, and Mrs. Joe Clark, conductress.

In other business, the women agreed to send $36 to the State Hospital for commissary tickets for patients, and $18 to Boys Ranch at San Angelo.

The area meeting is scheduled for April 23-25 at Sweetwater; headquarters will be the Bluebonnet Hotel.

Powell of Pecos; Mrs. Nancy Brumlow of Kermit; Mrs. Jimmie Barbee of Ozona; Mrs. Fred Cutts of Eagle Pass and Mrs. Mike Michaels of Del Rio. Besides this group there are 18 known student pilots who are also interested in the organization.

It is expected that the charter for the Midland Chapter will be officially presented by Mrs. Boneta Davis Evans of Oklahoma City, president of the Ninety-Nines, sometime near the middle of April. A presentation coffee is planned for that occasion.

At Saturday's meeting Mrs. Everett Copeland Jr. of Midland was elected chairman. Vice chairman is Mrs. Dee Adcock of Lamesa; secretary-treasurer is Mrs. Tom Schneider of Midland; membership chairman is Mrs. Randolph Powell of Pecos; and reporter-publicity chairman is Mrs. John Butts of Midland.

Yearly local dues were set at $5 per member. A regular meeting date will be the first Saturday of each month with the time and place being decided prior to each meeting.

To Wed

Mr. and Mrs. I. W. Watson Sr. of Lamesa have announced the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Martha, to Don Rebbert, son of Rev. and Mrs. J. H. Rebbert of Lamesa. The couple will be married by the bridegroom's father, who is minister of the Lutheran Church in the Rebbert home.

Mrs. Wiley Speaker For Junior Club

Members of the Junior Garden Club met in the home of Mrs. Obie Bristow Tuesday afternoon to hear a discussion of the planting, care and hybridizing of irises. Mrs. Cliff Wiley was the speaker; she also staged a contest among the group with individuals naming from memory iris blossoms shown previously. Winners, who received iris rhizomes, were Katie Cochran, William Boyd and Linda Cochran.

The resignation of Greg Gossett as president was accepted, and the vice president, Jim Bruce Frazer, named to fill the unexpired term. Ken Lawrence is the incoming president.

Valencia Conway was present as a new member. The group discussed the Spring Flower Show, slated for May 1, and many signified their intentions of entering the exhibition.

The Culture Of Dahlias Claims Club's Interest

Dahlias and how to grow them monopolized the interest of the Oasis Garden Club, Wednesday morning at the home of Mrs. F. H. Talbott, Cohostess was Mrs. Larson Lloyd.

Mrs. W. R. Douglass introduced the program by saying that "Dahlias are as easy to grow as potatoes." She urged the women not to judge dahlias by size, because some of the prettiest blossoms emerge from small tubers.

Enlarging upon the cultivation of dahlias, Mrs. Sam Blackburn gave seven rules for growing the flowers. Do not plant too early; take care of the soil; give plants enough room; top and disbud the plants; use care in feeding; stake them well, and dig and store the tubers carefully, she cautioned.

Roll call was answered by 17 with suggestions for color in the garden. Mrs. Rex Baggett was presented as a new member.

Mrs. W. F. Taylor presided at the session and called for committee reports. It was announced that more than $500 had been made by the Council's recent tasting tea.

The club's next meeting will be in the form of a pilgrimage to various of the members' gardens. Mrs. R. L. Beale's yard will be first on the list, at 9:30 a.m. May 13. The women will pause to eat their sack lunches at the home of Mrs. C. B. South.

Club Shown Safety Film

Health and safety were the two main topics studied by the Elbow Home Demonstration Club Wednesday afternoon at the school. Mrs. Leroy Findley was hostess. The group, joined by the eighth grade pupils, viewed a film. Appointment With Danger, on safe driving habits. Under discussion was the matter of abandoned refrigerators and the hazard which they create.

Members cited danger spots around their homes, and each answered roll call by giving an answer to the question, When Did You Ask a Non-member to Attend This Club?

Mrs. Ray Shortes brought the thought for the day — You may take and never give; stay here a long time and never live.

A demonstration on foods for better health was presented by Mrs. B. J. Petty, who discussed the value of vitamin B in the diet she told members that the richest source of the vitamin is in enriched corn meal and spoke of the bill before the legislature providing for all meal to be enriched.

The speaker then served brownies which she had prepared, using corn meal, to 12 members and a guest, Mrs. R. L. Rister.

For the meeting on April 22, Mrs. R. I. Findley will serve as hostess at the school.

The Planters Arrange Festive Table Settings

Table settings for festive occasions were displayed by members of the Planters Garden Club, Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Sonny Rose.

Mrs. C. W. Neefe and Mrs. R. L. Reaves arranged an outdoor table with red cloth and brown pottery. Yellow iris in a basket were placed at the center.

For a buffet party, Mrs. U. E. Dickens and Mrs. R. O. Carothers chose a Christmas decor. On a red cloth imprinted with golden pine cones, they placed gold and white china. Red and gold balls glittered in a gold container.

Teaming to present a dinner setting, Mrs. Frank Wilson and Mrs. J. A. Sutherland covered a table with a white cloth and centered it with pink roses and white spiraea. A luncheon table, decorated by Mrs. Rose and Mrs. J. W. Dickens, featured white and gold china on a white cloth. The white one prevailed, too, in an arrangement of irises.

Mrs. Carothers gave the Council report and announced that Gems of the World will be the central theme for the May 1 flower show. The club agreed to continue the improvement of Birdwell Park as their project for the year.

Guests were Mrs. Loyd Liles and Mrs. W. E. Bruner.

Officers will be installed at 1:30 p.m. May 13, at the home of Mrs. Neefe, 1701 Purdue.

Club Looks At Music Education

The Music Study Club, meeting Wednesday afternoon at the home of Roberta Gay, considered the World of Musical Education on the local level.

Mrs. Robert Mason spoke on elementary music, and stated that the principal objective in the early grades is to stimulate and foster in children a genuine love of music. Demonstrations of the Augoharp and bells were given by Joyce Howard and Mrs. J. L. Christensen. Mrs. Mason rounded out this phase of the program with a resume of folk games.

From the high school band, flute and saxophone quartets were heard in several selections. They were presented by Mrs. Douglas Wiehe.

Highlights of the local observance of National Music Week, May 3-10, were revealed. Opening concert will be given May 3 by the HCJC Chorus under the direction of Ira Schantz. On the following date, Billy Evans, NTSC music major, will be presented in piano recital and will be assisted by Jack Hendrix, his former teacher. Musical interludes for the civic clubs will be provided during the week by members of the Music Study Club.

Mrs. Norman Furlong, Mrs. James R. Line and Mrs. C. E. McStravick served refreshments to 25.

A Devotional For Today

Noah . . . a preacher of righteousness. (II Peter 2:5.)

PRAYER: O God, help us to remember that day by day we are preaching by our lives to many who will hear no other sermon. Grant that the message given today may be true and worthy of its text. As followers of Christ, help us to preach righteousness that Thy kingdom may come upon earth as it is in heaven. In His name. Amen.

The Crux Of The Matter

Late in March the U. S. Supreme Court heard arguments on these questions: Can a radio or TV station screen a candidate's speech for libelous statements? If not, is the station subject to libel suits under state law?

There is a provision in the Federal Communications Act of 1934 which says that legally qualified candidates for public office must be given "equal opportunities" to use a broadcasting station. It specifically prohibits broadcasters from exercising any "power of censorship over the material broadcast."

The case argued before the Supreme Court came on from North Dakota, where political foreclosures can be particularly violent. A political candidate demanded "equal time" under the Communications Act, and got it. In the resultant telecast he charged a farmers' organization was "Communist-controlled." The organization sued the station for $100,000 damages, but lost in state courts and then carried it to the highest.

The nub of the matter seems to be whether state courts have an effective jurisdiction over a state's own laws, or whether the Supreme Court will again hold that federal statutes are paramount over all, as it has done in some other cases.

A higher question at stake is whether the federal government, through control of electronic organs of information (by a system of licensing) has a moral right, aside from any question of legal right, to compel such an organ to commit involuntary libel, permit any one else to do so through its medium. If so, the sky would seem to be the limit, and no man's reputation and honor would be safe.

We'll Feel Better—And Be Better

If for no other reason than psychological, the showers of Tuesday evening would be of incalculable value to our area. But the volume and general coverage were both of sufficient strength to make the benefits real.

Neither the Tuesday precipitation nor the one some 10 days earlier were of the drought-breaking variety, but they were within such proximity that the benefit of the two far exceeds twice the value of either.

In few areas, where the rain was more intense, there will actually be some planting within a week. Based on weather charts and experience, this is too early—but how are young to argue with a man who gets his seed into the ground and up while his neighbors may be waiting for a more timely rain? If he hits, he's wise if he misses, he's still got the same chance as his neighbor and all he's been out is labor, seed, fuel and depreciation.

This will be the exception, however. The general picture will be some rapidly greening hills and flats as a weed crop quickly flourishes and grass takes a toe hold. Wildflowers will appear almost as if by magic. Spring will work its leisurely magic.

And maybe the sand will blow—but probably not so distressingly as before.

Damaging Anglo-American Relations

WASHINGTON—What kind of "iron curtain" is there between Britain and the United States? Do the British correspondents stationed in this country send back home an objective story of what's been happening in the American government—or, if they do, is it possible that certain British newspapers ignore the facts and are unaware that they are breeding ill feeling between the two countries?

These questions are important because it is so desirable for the British and American governments to work together nowadays lest there be an enlargement of the already stable section of public opinion in America which believes that "foreign aid" is superfluous and that "mutual security" is merely an excuse for pouring out American billions.

The latest example of a serious misunderstanding was reported widely last Saturday when the Associated Press distributed throughout this country a dispatch which said in part:

"Do American generals talk too much? A British newspaper claims they do and thus imperil the world's hopes for peace."

"Britain's largest daily, the tabloid 'Daily Mirror' which leans toward Labor party (Socialist) views, devoted its entire front page Friday to an editorial attack on 'meddling American generals.'"

"The 'Mirror' has not been alone in its sentiments. The day before, the laborite 'Daily Herald' and the liberal 'News Chronicle' reported the British government planning to protest recent testimony before Congress by General Nathan Twining, chairman of the U. S. Joint Chiefs of Staff, and General Thomas E. White, U. S. Air Force chief of staff, about the war readiness of Allied rocket bases in Britain."

Is it possible that the British people were not informed previously by their correspondents in New York and Washington that the Eisenhower administration had been accused week after week by prominent Democrats in Congress of letting the Soviet Union "get ahead of us," including charges that the "missile gap" is dangerous and that the President has been sacrificing the safety of his country for the sake of "budget balancing"? Have the newsmen from Britain told their editors and the British public that this barrage had to be answered publicly and that convincing or reassuring words could come only from the military chiefs in the American government? Is it possible that the British newsmen do not understand the currents of American politics? They surely must know partisanship isn't much different on this side of the Atlantic from what it is in the battles between the British Socialist Labor party and the Conservatives in England.

American newsmen in London have reported faithfully to the American people that Prime Minister Macmillan has had to touch on many topics in his debates in the House of Commons that seem unfortunate from an American standpoint—such as "thinning out" of Allied troops and "disengagement"—but this doesn't result in front-page editorials denouncing him for "talking too much." There are differences of opinion expressed in the press here, and some concern, too, that the British Socialist Labor party, like its Conservative counterpart under Chamberlain, may drag America into another world war through the paths of appeasement. But certainly there is no objection voiced to the fullest expression of views by British officials and the press. Indeed, there has been in this country even a recognition of the fact that Prime Minister Macmillan is in a tight spot politically and must maintain a "flexible" position with respect to the "summit" conference, for example, because he is under such heavy political attack by the Socialist Labor party and its "left wingers."

Some of the Socialist Laborites object to American military bases in Britain. This is very comforting news always to the Soviet press, which displays such protests prominently. But do not the British critics realize that the worst thing that could happen to Anglo-American relations would be to stimulate the isolationists in America by telling them that only through "intercontinental missiles" and the "Fortress America" concept can the safety of the United States be assured?

Have the British people not been told by their correspondents in America that economic aid, ever since the Marshall Plan was launched, has received its strongest support from those people in this country who think that overseas bases are important to the safety of the United States? Why should the Socialist Labor party in Britain want to antagonize American public opinion by creating doubts as to whether, in an emergency, the bases would be available for use? For, only if they are, can retaliatory blows be struck from Britain as well as from other bases in Europe, thus reducing the value of intercontinental missiles to the Soviets.

To cry out that the American generals "talk too much" is misdirected criticism. Rather it should be directed to all those politicians who not only talk too much but who, when they see a political advantage to be gained, actually appear too much and thus pave the way for an enemy to miscalculate on the West's being too weak or too scared to resist—the very way that world wars in the past have been provoked.

What Happens When Veterans Leave

WASHINGTON (AP)—Time, like a cop handing out traffic tickets, taps each man in turn for over-parking. One by one the aging men who have led the world these past 14 postwar years are being forced to make way for others.

Because they move off the main street of activity only one at a time, the change may hardly be noticed.

Latest to go, under the burden of years and responsibility, is 83-year-old Konrad Adenauer, chancellor of West Germany. He decided this week to run for the less and less important job of president.

As his influence diminishes — he tried to say Wednesday nothing will change — the attitude of West Germany toward East and West may undergo subtle shifts which the West, for sure, will watch carefully and with concern. Only a few months ago John Foster Dulles at 71 was stricken a second time with cancer and may never return as secretary of state. He is being missed for, even though he was fairly rigid, he operated with determination.

President Eisenhower, 68, has less than two years left in the White House. Then he, too, must fade into the background. Even if he wanted it, and there is no sign he does, the Constitution forbids a third term.

It's about as certain as anything can be that the man who succeeds him in 1961 — Democrat or Republican — will be years younger and with ideas that cannot possibly be identical with Eisenhower's.

Sir Winston Churchill, now 84, for all practical purposes ended his career of leadership four years ago when, because of age and tiredness, he quit as British prime minister.

Joseph Stalin died six years ago at 73. Soviet communism took a new direction, a shrewder one, after his death.

But that bubbling, bouncing ball of energy, Premier Nikita Khrushchev, was reported this week to have suffered a dizzy spell and to have been warned by his doctors to slow up. He is 65.

All of these long thoughts have been churning around in my mind since I heard a group of stuffy, middle-aged contemporaries criticizing Joseph Welch, the Boston attorney who took the measure of the late Sen. Joseph McCarthy, for going to Hollywood to play a supporting role in a motion picture.

This group said a distinguished lawyer crowding 70 ought to have too much sense and dignity to take a flyer in the movies at his age.

Nonsense, cried I. What did it want him to do — wait till he was 80 before he took a flier at acting?

What happens in his republic, now linked to the United States but under pressure from Red China and Red Korea, when Rhee has moved of stage?

Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek is 71, a firm ally of this country. For that matter, he had better be a firm ally. Alone against Red China he would lose his skin. But with his death the Red Chinese will increase the pressure to induce his Nationalists on Formosa to join them.

In India, which is trying to go its own way, Prime Minister Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru still runs the show at 69, seems in good health, still probably stands on his head in the morning to relax.

He has been the guiding force of India, a foe of communism at home where the Communists have made some progress despite him. What the attitude of Indians toward communism will be when he wears out seems unpredictable.

There are no reported signs that Yugoslavia's strong man, Marshal Tito, is thinking of an easier life in retirement although he is almost 67. He has broken with the Soviet Union but he has enemies at home. Yugoslavia could well take a new direction, toward either the Soviet Union or the West, when Tito is gone.

France's Charles de Gaulle is 68. No sign of fatigue in him, yet. He saved his country from chaos when he took over. There is no assurance there won't be chaos when he goes.

WHAT OTHERS SAY

A person either eats onion or doesn't. The bulbous product of the garden is one food on which there can be no compromise. A little of it is the same as a lot, by itself or in flavoring quantities. The onion is, of course, highly respected, appreciated by those who like its pungent flavor and don't mind its tattletale after-effects and disinclined by those who don't or don't dare eat it.

This discourse is occasioned by the announcement that research into the onion by a Canadian firm has produced a variety that promises to be odorless. In other words, the onion is on the verge of social acceptance and housewives need not be prepared to shed tears when they peel one.

The report added: "The smell is on its way out, too." And that casts doubts on the worthwhile-ness of the scientific effort. An onion that isn't an old-style onion might persuade non-onion eaters to try it. But what will it do to those whose palates crave the familiar tang?

Maybe They'll Get Tired

These scientist fellows have quit producing and gone to meddling, as the saying goes.

Used to be, they spent all their time thinking up new ways to do things better, more gimmicks and less work, etc. Now, it seems, they're wasting a lot of effort just to take the joy out of living. No telling where it will end.

The latest scientific spearhead into places where it has no business has breached the field of relaxation—bed rest, to be specific.

Keep 'em outta bed! is the battle cry of this new intrusion into the private lives of private people.

The bed is a dangerous place, goes the sales pitch. You should dread it like the grave.

Among the hazards are such things as fallen arches, blood clots, the deterioration of joints and muscles, loss of calcium from the bones, loss of muscular coordination, pneumonia and general demoralization. Not to mention bedsores.

Even your kidneys may go to pot if you stay too long in bed, according to the warning. Calcium leaving your pore old bones tends to damage kidneys as it seeks a new home.

The prone position also encourages fluids to accumulate in the lungs, setting the stage for an attack of pneumonia or worse, say the experts.

Consequence of all this is a general demoralization. The longer you stay in bed, the harder it is to get out.

You've got to give the scientists credit, though. They still admit the body needs a certain amount of rest. But get that and no more, they warn.

Trouble is, they haven't decided how much is enough. Practically every famous scientist is reputed to work devotedly about 18 or 20 hours a day, getting his rest in catnaps on the workbench or while riding to and from meals.

But no one will get on the line and say that's enough. A few of the old-fashioned ones even persist in insisting that you'll do well to get your eight hours per.

Being either old-fashioned or lazy enough to enjoy my Sunday afternoon naps and lots of other sack time any time I can get it, I think I'll just continue to risk the hazards of too much bed rest. Meanwhile, I'm hoping the scientist people will get tired of fighting sleep.

'Senior Citizens' Entitled To A Fling

If each of us lives long enough, he is bound, one of these days, to enter that age group so euphemistically christened "senior citizens" by our social workers or "life engineers." It is a social gaff, if not downright bad manners, in these days to refer to anyone as "old" or "elderly."

The term "senior citizen" has been invited to gloss over this inevitable condition of man and to pretty it up. In a nation that worships young and is despotically ruled by teen-agers the bright lexicon must contain no such word as "old."

So we have the term "senior citizen," which sounds a lot too much like "senile citizen" to me. And when the times come the social workers are going to have to come after me with a butterfly net before they plump me, willy-nilly, in that category.

I shan't mind being old — I'm reconciled to getting there day by day — to achieving "the last of life for which the first was made," if I am quoting Browning correctly. But I'm going to put up a stiff fight against being arbitrarily herded and exclusively confined with other oldsters. What's the harm of letting me roam and communicate with all age groups, as our elders did until the life engineers began to quarantine "senior citizens" in padded and perfumed concentration camps?

All of these long thoughts have been churning around in my mind since I heard a group of stuffy, middle-aged contemporaries criticizing Joseph Welch, the Boston attorney who took the measure of the late Sen. Joseph McCarthy, for going to Hollywood to play a supporting role in a motion picture.

This group said a distinguished lawyer crowding 70 ought to have too much sense and dignity to take a flyer in the movies at his age.

Nonsense, cried I. What did it want him to do — wait till he was 80 before he took a flier at acting?

I can think of nothing more exhilarating, when one is facing three score and ten; than the offer of a new job totally unassociated with any task one has done in the past. I would give my eye teeth and I may not even have them then! If I could be certain, when I am 68 to 70, that someone will have enough confidence in my ability to offer me a brand new job working at something totally unrelated to the typewriter I have been pounding all my life.

If I have such luck, I hope I have the confidence and the courage to tackle the job, even if I eventually fall flat on my face in ignominious failure. What fun it would be, what new life it would pump into my aging veins, if when I am Mr. Welch's age, someone asked me to design a house (and how I'd love to! What closet space it would have; what a kitchen!) Or if someone should ask me to act as librarian for an archeological party digging on the Upper Nile or the Upper Amazon, or draft me to teach classes in cooking.

My mail from day to day is filled with letters from older men and women who cry out for opportunity to lead useful, active lives. They are in despair at being automatically and autocritically put on the shelf at 60, 65 or 70 when they are still full of bounce and beans. But that is their fate in a nation that worships youth.

The tragic fact is that many men and women at 50 are unable to find jobs in the United States. They are too "old!" Their letters wring the heart.

It is my hunch that multitudes of America's "senior citizens" have been heartened by Joseph Welch's debut in the movies at his age. It is all right for science to make us live longer, but not in frustration and the doldrums. Man has the right both to live longer and to LIKE it.

Is Moral Indignation Enough?

WASHINGTON — What happened in Poland, in Czechoslovakia, and in Hungary is now occurring in the remote, almost dreamlike country of Tibet.

Communist power is crushing with relentless force the ancient way of life of a people who have lived to themselves since time immemorial in the high Himalayas. It is bent on wiping out all traces of dissent and difference to achieve the mass conformity of an all-powerful state.

The tragedy of Tibet as the Dalai Lama and his followers are hounded out of the country has set off a wave of indignation in India. The ties with Tibet of religion and commerce have long been close. For Prime Minister Nehru the realization of what Red China means by "autonomy" for Tibet is obviously painful.

The moral indignation with which the West reacts is by now an old story. It is the automatic response to a tragedy repeated many times over. Perhaps because it is so familiar this response tends to be an exercise in righteousness, giving us a comforting feeling that merely by exploding in angry denunciation we are accomplishing something.

That is a dangerous illusion, as even a glimpse at the past makes clear. The anger over the betrayal of Czechoslovakia 11 years ago was deep and real. Yet Communist power has organized that country in such a way that production today is at a high level.

It would be comforting to think that the iniquitous methods used by the Red Chinese were bound to fail. This is the conviction so often expressed by American policy-makers. While in the long run it may be true, in the long run, as has been wryly said, we shall all be dead.

In the meantime there is the fact of China's ever-growing power. A recent visitor to Peiping, with a long background of experience in China and every reason to detest communism, has come out with a report of the extraordinary progress being made in construction of highways, factories, government buildings, hotels, and airports. In the decade since the Communists took over China has a new look.

The "great leap forward" proved too ambitious and one consequence is that the Chinese are defaulting on their trade agreements. But this, in the view of a staunch capitalist from the West, is only a temporary condition. In the present phase the excesses of the "great leap forward" are being compensated for. It is a pause before another stride forward.

There is nothing essentially new in this. Almost every observer, of whatever nationality, has reported the amazing organization of the Chinese mass under the constant goad of propaganda, surveillance, reward and punishment. What more advanced industrial nations do with machines the Communists are undertaking to do with harnessed manpower.

Shortly before his unexpected resignation as Assistant Secretary for Far Eastern Affairs, Walter Robertson, who has shaped America's China policy in recent years, made in Canada a speech that put as forcefully as possible the whole quarantine theory. A man of dedicated zeal, rare in Washington, he stated the case as follows:

"The Peiping regime was imposed by force with the will of only an infinitesimal fraction of the Chinese people. Today, after nine years, less than two per cent belong to the party. It has kept itself in power by bloody purges and the liquidation of some 18,000,000 of mainland Chinese in nine years. In our view the security interests of ourselves, of Asia and of the free world as a whole demand that we take no action which would create international prestige for this regime, which would increase its capacity for advancing its objective of communizing all of Asia, or which would betray the hopes of those having the will and the courage to resist it."

The premise in this is that American recognition would give Red China a prestige it does not now have. It does not answer the question of how we are to meet the challenge of ever-growing Communist power other than by moral indignation stirred when some particularly bloody deed commands the headlines. The moralistic tone may well serve to conceal the reality of China's power and therefore encourage us to wait for the inevitable triumph of virtue.

Suzari Marionette Program Is Friday

"Once upon a time..." With these words the boys and girls of Big Spring will be whisked away to the land of make-believe when the Beta Sigma Phi Sorority brings the famous Suzari Marionettes to City Auditorium Friday in the ballet-fantasy "The Red Shoes."

This latest puppet extravaganza by the Suzari company did not "just happen." It is the culmination of long team work. All the Suzari artists, wood-carvers, writers, set designers, costumers and choreographers have combined their efforts to make "The Red Shoes" the piece-de-resistance of the puppet show-world.

Jack Hochhauser, who adapted the story from the Danish classic by Hans Christian Anderson, traveled through Denmark visiting museums and libraries in Copenhagen to secure material covering the songs, dance, dress and folklore of the early 1800's. These have been integrated into this production. The costumes are by the famed Silhouette Studios.

Suzari's director and founder, Miss Dorothy Zaonick, designed the puppets. She has spent many years both here and in Europe studying the art of puppetry and its place in the field of good, educational entertainment.

There is always a moral for young minds in a Suzari show, and each is brought to light with considerable delicacy. "The Red Shoes" is no exception. The tale revolves about a wee Danish lass, who, passionate in her desire to be a grand ballerina, fails to keep a promise.

There will be two performances, at 4 and 8 p.m.

Story Of Stricken Ship Camera Magic

NEW YORK (AP) — Television shows come from practically everywhere these days. This week a program is being taped from an empty freighter moored on a bleak stretch of the Bayonne, N.J., waterfront.

Technicians and actors are swarming over the ship like boys playing a serious game. And serious indeed is "The Strange Ordeal of the Normandier" which "Omni-bus" will present Sunday over ABC-TV (5 p.m., EST).

The program is based on the recently published book by an Englishman, H. L. Tredree, one of two living survivors of a sea tragedy in World War I involving the S. S. Normandier.

Her crew stricken with black-water fever on the way from West Africa to a Canadian port and her engines dead in a raging gale, the ship became the scene of despair, madness and heroism before American warships came to her aid. Tredree, then 17, was the ship's radio operator.

William A. Graham, director of the "Omni-bus" production, says that converting the modern freighter Oregon Sword into the old tramp Normandier and depicting the desolate South Atlantic on the Bayonnefront involve some difficult problems.

How, for example, do you create the effect of a hurricane in New York harbor?

"We're fortunate in dealing with a most cooperative Fire Department in Bayonne," Graham said. "It's permitting us to use its hoses so that we can churn up the water to resemble storm-tossed waves. Winds are created by giant fans and sprayers."

A new camera gimmick enables the technicians to give the illusion of the ship rolling and pitching violently.

One of the most difficult jobs has been to disguise a modern freighter to look like an old tramp built at the turn of the century.

The diesel engine room of the Oregon Sword was camouflaged with a dummy boiler serving for the coal-stoking scenes. The fairly luxurious crew's quarters (three hands to a cabin) have been dirtied and crowded to look like the Normandier (10 to a cabin).

Robert Saudek Associates, producers of "Omni-bus," are supplying electricity from shore since the ship's generators are dead. One problem has been a lack of heat, for this is a show in which the entire cast is necessarily all wet a good deal of the time.

Actor Rex Thompson, 16, is playing the role of Tredree. Altogether, about 100 actors and technicians are sweating out the ordeal of the Oregon Sword — or the Normandier.

"Bayonne, like a recent 'Omni-bus' program," says Graham, "is only 45 minutes from Broadway, but it might as well be 45,000 minutes from Times Square."

Bracero Meet Hits Piece Work

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Elimination of piece work for Mexican farm laborers in the United States and a dollar-an-hour minimum wage were urged yesterday by union men of both countries.

The Mexican-United States Union Committee drew up these among other recommendations here after three days of discussions.

The suggestions will be presented to members of the Mexican-U.S. Commission which meets here April 21 to discuss possible revisions of the present migratory worker agreement.

The union representatives also recommended:

Improvement by the U.S. labor contractors in food, lodging and transportation afforded the braceros.

Limiting the number of workers going to the United States to the number essentially needed.

That arrangements be made to allow Mexican workers going into the United States to join union organizations.

'Raisin In The Sun' Climaxes Success With Critics Award

NEW YORK (AP)—Slim, petite Lorraine Hansberry tried four times to write a play, tore up the results. Then one night in a burst of indignation, she went to work again.

The result was "A Raisin in the Sun," which this week climaxed spectacular Broadway success by being named by the Drama Critics Circle as the season's best American play.

Newcomer Lorraine's simple, warm story of a Negro family in Chicago triumphed over the works of such notables as Eugene O'Neill, Archibald MacLeish and Tennessee Williams.

The 28-year-old playwright fervently wrote "A Raisin" to express "something about American life in general" beyond race and color.

"People can get pretty missed up," she said, "and they can also be pretty nice. I think the human race is obviously worth saving, ridiculous as it can be, and that probably we have the stamina to fight for our survival if we can just stop talking about how hopeless we all are."

Miss Hansberry, energetic and articulate, grew up on Chicago's South Side, daughter of a prosperous Negro real estate broker. She has a sister and two brothers.

The events in her prize play resemble her own life only in the person of the drama's outspoken, off-beat college girl, Beneatha. Lorraine grew up with the aspirations to be a painter, studying at Chicago's Art Institute, the University of Wisconsin and the University of Guadalajara in Mexico.

She did a little work with a small theater group in Chicago, and took some courses at Roosevelt College. In 1950 she headed for New York.

Up to this point, her only literary effort to show a profit was a high school essay that won two tickets to a football game. To support herself while seeking success as a short story writer, she undertook a series of jobs that included putting price tags on her coats and tending table.

In 1953 she and Robert Nemeroff were married and settled down to life in a Greenwich Village apartment. Nemeroff, now a music publisher, urged his wife to keep writing.

One night seeing a play, "I suddenly became disgusted with the whole body of material about Negroes" and determined to write "a social drama about Negroes that will be good art."

About a year ago, Miss Hansberry finished "A Raisin in the Sun," and after a dinner party read some of it to a group of friends. The next morning one of them, Phil Rose, telephoned to say he wanted to produce it.

Miss Hansberry is at work on another play, which she doesn't expect to have ready for about a year. She appears to have lost none of her ability as a self-taught writer to appraise herself frankly.

Discussing "A Raisin," she observed: "I didn't have to change dialogue much, but constantly revised the structure. Boy, if plays didn't have to make sense I'd be a genius."
