Connie Gets Prison For Slaying Lover

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—Connie Nicholas, disappointed by her conviction of voluntary manslaughter of her wealthy lover, was taken to the Indiana Women's Prison today to start a term of 2 to 21 years.

Connie Returns To Jail

"We probably will appeal," said Charles W. Symmes, one of her lawyers. The jury of 12 married men returned the manslaughter conviction early today.

The jury reached its verdict at 1:50 a.m., and the defendant, summoned after her jail cell, heard it half an hour later. Immediately after Judge Thomas J. Faulconer pronounced sentence, the 45-year-old double divorcee turned in annoyance to her lawyers and said: "I had hoped for acquittal all along," she told newsmen.

Jail matron Mildred Lynch, left, guides Mrs. Connie Nicholas through a group of newsmen, as she is returned to the County Jail at Indianapolis, Ind. Mrs. Nicholas was convicted of a first degree murder charge in the slaying of Forrest Teel.

away in handcuffs to return to her cell in Marion County jail. The monthlong trial reached a dramatic peak when Mrs. Nicholas took the stand to tell of the 15-year off-limits affair that ended with the fatal shooting of Teel. On the night of the shooting Mrs. Nicholas found Teel's white Cadillac parked near the apartment of Auburn-haired Laura Mowrer, the drug executive's beautiful new girl friend.

Senate Begins Debate Over State Fund Bill

AUSTIN (AP)—The Senate began debate today on its version of how much Texas should spend on state services during the next two years.

The bill recommended by Sen. William Fly's tight-fisted finance committee called for about 30 million dollars less than the measure already approved by the House. A conference committee will write the final bill.

The House moved to concentrate all next week if necessary on the all-purpose tax bill which may come up Monday. It approved a resolution setting aside the legislative rule that ordinarily limits the House to consideration of Senate bills on Wednesday and Thursday.

Final action was pending in the House on the administration's abandoned property bill and another Gov. Daniel Hill to hike the franchise tax for one year to help erase the deficit. Daniel asserted yesterday he would make the abandoned property bill an issue until it is passed. "Shall the people of Texas be taxed 25 million dollars just so the banks, pipeline companies and other holders can use this money free? I say no," stated the governor.

Increase Ordered In Texas Oil Flow

W. en Dulles And Herter Got Together

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, left, whose resignation was announced by President Eisenhower, smiles as he chats with under-secretary of State Christian Herter at Washington's National Airport last August on returning from Brazil. Eisenhower said that Herter, as acting secretary of state, will attend the April 29 meeting of Western Foreign Ministers in Paris and a May 11 conference of those ministers with the Soviet Union's foreign minister.

May Pattern Is Set Up On 12-Day Basis

AUSTIN (AP)—The Texas Railroad Commission today ordered a 12-day production pattern for May with a statewide allowable of 3,152,765 barrels daily. This is an increase of 106,906 barrels.

In a quick hearing, the oil regulatory agency heard five major companies ask for 12 days, five others request 10 days and three recommend a continuation of the present 11-day pattern.

No independent voiced an opinion.

Companies seeking 10 days said their stocks were above desired level and they would have to sell from 2,000 to 14,000 barrels daily for each production day above 10 days.

Other companies said they would buy this much oil and recommended this production pattern: 10 days, Atlantic (84,265 barrels), Shell (164,200), Phillips (133,311), Cities Service (91,910) and Gulf (225,220); 11 days, Magnolia (235,700), Standard of Texas (38,475), and Continental (30,000); 12 days, Indiana Purchasing (281,000), Texas (210,000), Sun (128,357), Humble (431,575) and Sinclair (137,600).

Most of the short hearing was centered on testimony by Jack Baumel of Austin, representing the Texas American Asphalt Co. He said his company needed 2,000 barrels daily of asphalt crude with less than three per cent naphtha for each day in May and would buy 7,000 barrels daily in June. "It has been a distress crude for years," Baumel said.

Commissioners William J. Murray and Olin Cuberson joined Chairman Ernest Thompson in questioning Baumel as to why the company built its plants when it knew that only 400 barrels a day of that type crude was available. "You are not here to make a hardship case to get import oil," asked Thompson.

"No sir, but we've got to do that to get it," Baumel said. "It is a hardship. We've got the market available if someone produces it and we need this type of crude."

"You have no case here," Thompson said. Murray said the company made a mistake in building its plants. He said "there is an allegation against us that we want to make crude scarce. We're here to make crude available to all markets. While your 7,000 barrels is a small part of the market, we want your refinery to have all you can use, but with a little foresight you could have made a little leeway."

Baumel said his plants could only handle that special type crude and looked to imports for a solution.

Burns Fatal DALLAS (AP)—Burns received in a March 24 explosion which wrecked an East Dallas home proved fatal yesterday to Mrs. Mrs. Mary Conners, 36. The other occupant of the house, Bob Lyon, 29, died three days after the blast.

Step-Son Is Charged In Lamesan's Death

LAMESA — Murder charges were filed in Monahans this morning against David Sandlin, 29, of Lamesa in connection with the death of his stepfather, James Wright, 52, also of Lamesa. Wright was dead on arrival at a hospital in Monahans shortly after 6 p.m. Wednesday.

Wright, Sandlin and three other men were en route to the Rio Grande on a fishing trip. David Sandlin, his brother, Truman Sandlin, and O. H. Dodson of Odessa told Dist. Atty. Tom White of Monahans that Wright became belligerent shortly after they passed through Monahans. David said he hit Wright on the head with his fist when Wright attempted to take a penknife out of his pocket. He said Wright slumped over. After efforts to revive him failed, the group unhitched their car from a boat trailer and rushed Wright to the hospital in Monahans, where he was pronounced dead.

City Closes Books On Fiscal Year, Tax Take Is Up

The tax department of the City of Big Spring closed its books at the end of March on another fiscal year with revenue amounting to over $35,000 more than the same time of 1958. For the fiscal year ending March 30, the city collected $440,464.82, as compared with $404,520.41 during the fiscal year ending in March of 1958. Current tax revenue for the year was $405,668.46, up $42,091.92 from the previous year. Current tax collections in March were $2,913.96. Occupation taxes contributed $3,518.25 during the year, and $1,239.24 came from the taxi franchise. Interest, penalties and other costs from delinquent taxes reached $5,610.42 during the year. Last month, the city collected $1,318.45 in delinquent taxes, and $113 came from occupation taxes.

FUNDS SAFEGUARDED

A bill to put safeguards on the investments of nearly one billion dollars in three major state funds through creation of a Texas Trust Fund Investment Board breezed through a Senate committee.

The board would invest the money in corporation bonds, preferred stocks and common stocks from a list of 25 security brokers approved by the University of Texas regents. The funds include the permanent university fund, state employees and teacher retirement systems.

Sen. Hubert Hudson of Brownsville said present methods of investments cost millions of dollars through inflation. He also again referred to investment practices of the teacher retirement system which he said allowed one man to have full power "on investing up to $5 million dollars in a single week in corporate bonds... I don't want to put temptation in front of anybody."

Ike, Dulles Hold Conference On Successor To Cabinet Post

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—President Eisenhower today conferred with hospitalized John Foster Dulles regarding selection of a new secretary of state.

Dulles, who resigned from the top State Department job Wednesday because of cancer, also talked by telephone with Eisenhower that night about a successor.

The President continued to defer announcement of a successor, but Undersecretary of State Christian A. Herter was reported after the Eisenhower-Dulles talks to still have the inside track. In Washington, a Republican official predicted that Herter would be named this weekend.

Dulles talked to Eisenhower from his room at Walter Reed Army Hospital in Washington. Eisenhower was at his vacation cottage at the Augusta National Golf Club.

After today's talk, the White House announced Eisenhower's formal acceptance of Dulles' resignation. It made public an exchange of letters between the President and the retiring secretary.

Eisenhower reiterated his warm affection for the 71-year-old Dulles. "You have been a staunch bulwark of our nation against the machinations of imperialistic communism. You have won to the side of the free world countless people, and inspired in them renewed courage and determination to fight for freedom and principle," Eisenhower wrote.

"As a statesman of world stature you have set a record in the stewardship of our foreign relations that stands clear and strong for all to see." At the same time, Eisenhower formally requested Dulles "to serve in the future, to whatever extent your health will permit, as a consultant to me and the State Department in international affairs."

In his formal letter of resignation, Dulles wrote Eisenhower: "It is apparent to me that I shall not be well enough soon enough to continue to serve as secretary of state."

Dulles wrote further that he was brought up in the belief that this nation was founded with a mission "to help build where liberty and justice would prevail." He added:

"Today that concept faces a formidable and ruthless challenge from international communism. This has made it manifestly difficult to adhere steadfastly to our national idealism and national mission, and at the same time avoid the awful catastrophe of war."

Dulles, in a letter dated Wednesday, also told the President: "If I can, in a more limited capacity, continue to serve, I shall be happy to do so."

James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary, reported today that Eisenhower also discussed the matter of a Dulles successor with staff aides.

With the President at the breakfast session were Hagerty, Gordon Gray, a special assistant on national security matters, and Brig. Gen. Andrew J. Goodpaster, White House staff secretary.

Hagerty also indicated that Vice President Nixon had been sounded out on Eisenhower's behalf regarding a successor to Dulles.

Asked if the President had talked to Nixon on that subject, Hagerty replied: "No—not directly."

Hagerty declined to shed any new light on when Eisenhower will announce his choice.

Herter, who has been acting secretary since Dulles became ill early in February, still was given the inside track for the top job in most speculation. But none of the sources was claiming to have any definite word. They all noted that Eisenhower himself — while carefully avoiding any ruling out of Herter — had given himself a broader selection field.

At a news conference where he announced Dulles' resignation, the President said there are several persons in government — "or at least a few" — with particular talent for the No. 1 State Department post.

He made that statement when a reporter remarked it had been taken pretty much for granted he would tap Herter, 64-year-old former member of the House of Representatives and onetime governor of Massachusetts.

Eisenhower said he didn't want to imply approval or rejection of any individual. He added he wanted to consult first with Dulles regarding a successor.

James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary, said later that the President Nixon had been sounded out on Eisenhower's behalf regarding a successor to Dulles.

The predictions are that those conferences may not be completed for a few days. And it is likely that Dulles' formal letter of resignation and Eisenhower's reply will be made public by the White House in advance of an announcement of a new secretary.

Aides said one reason Eisenhower didn't couple his own disclosure of the resignation with an immediate nomination of a successor was that he wanted no diversion of public attention from his warm tribute to the cancer-stricken official.

Civil Defense Test Will Halt All Traffic On Local Streets, Highways

Big Spring will be under simulated battle conditions Friday as the city participates in the nationwide "Operation Alert 1959." Most of the activities will come during the morning, and for a time, all traffic in and around the city will be halted.

The alert is to help the Civil Defense test its effectiveness during the time of air attack. Big Spring will be the only city in this area to participate.

Sirens at 9:30 and 10:30 will sound the beginnings of two phases of the alert, with the first phase to be in effect all morning.

A Blue Alert, denoting possibility of attack, will begin at 8:30 and this information will be passed by normal channels of communications.

However, at 9:30, a five-minute steady blast will come from all sirens in the city, with the help of Webb AFB, VA Hospital, T&P, and law enforcement units. This signal denotes a Yellow Alert.

In the case of an actual alert, all military personnel will report to their stations at this signal, but today, Webb officials announced that this will not be in effect Friday. Off-duty personnel are not to report back to the base.

SIRENS TO SOUND

The Red Alert will begin at 10:30 a.m. with a wailing siren blast of five minutes duration, CD officials announced. And with this signal, all traffic entering, leaving or within the city will be stopped at a series of points. This traffic will then be held for at least 10 minutes.

W. D. Berry, CD coordinator, said the reason for this is to determine how well traffic can be stopped in case of an actual attack.

"Naturally, highways will be needed for military duties in case of an actual attack, and our test Friday will be to find better means of expediting this flow of traffic."

All motorists are urged to pull to the side of the streets when the 10:30 wailing signal is given. On the edges of town, all cars stopped will be provided with information cards telling the reasons for the stoppage.

Some 70 law enforcement officers will be involved in the traffic holdup. These officers will attempt to keep the people from the driving lanes so military vehicles would have free access in case of an actual attack.

Prior to the time that traffic is held up, all radio stations in the area will broadcast notices about the stoppage so many motorists traveling into Big Spring will be aware of the alert before being waded to the side of the roads.

A Webb helicopter will be down-town to take pictures of the area both before the traffic stoppage and during the Red Alert so CD personnel later will be able to actually determine the effectiveness of their plan.

At the time the Red Alert is sounded at 10:30, all radio and TV stations will go off the air for 30 minutes. All communications will be over the two Conelrad stations, at 640 and 1240 kilocycles. Also, all police and law enforcement channels will be silenced except for emergency traffic.

The All Clear signal for Big Spring will be sounded about 10:45 a.m. with a pair of one-minute blasts of sirens, the blasts to be separated by a 30-second interval. Traffic will then proceed as before.

WEBB ALERT

At the same time local CD officials are watching the setup in Big Spring, Webb will be conducting an alert to determine its readiness.

At the Yellow Alert signal at 9:30 all personnel on the base at the time will report to their duty stations, and all defense teams are to go to their stations as a defense against possible sabotage.

Then when the Red Alert is sounded, all persons will proceed to shelters except security units. Various situations will be furnished to give base officials an indication of their readiness.

All flying will proceed as usual as far as training is concerned. Any alert operations for Air Defense Command planes will have to come through regular ADC channels from the Oklahoma City headquarters.

Everybody Can See What New Cars Look Like Friday

Everybody likes to see what ALL the 1959 automobiles look like. They'll have the opportunity Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock, when a great panorama of the newest in automotive transportation is unfolded in a great street parade.

All 10 franchised dealers in Big Spring are participating in the review, and will show perhaps up to 100 new models, covering all styles, types and colors. It will be the greatest new car array ever presented here at one time.

The Big Spring High School band will lead the procession, which starts on East 3rd, and will cover all principal blocks in the business district. In an honorary marshal's car at the head of the parade will be Mayor Lee O. Rogers, County Judge Ed Carpenter and School Superintendent Floyd Parsons.

The parade is a cooperative effort on the part of dealers to bring home to the public the great variety of values available in new cars today. The public is urged to study all the models as they pass by, and then call on any dealer, without obligation, for full information and demonstration. The review is physical proof that, in today's automobile offerings, it's easy to "live better by far with a brand new car."

Taft Memorial

Early arrivals begin to fill the seats at Washington, D.C., before the start of dedication ceremonies at the Robert A. Taft Memorial. The bell tower, built with public subscriptions in honor of the late Ohio senator, was formally dedicated by President Eisenhower.

Amplifying System Will Be Dedicated

The warmth of human hearts will be recognized at 7:30 this evening with the dedication of an amplifying system and the capping of volunteer workers at the Big Spring State Hospital.

Here to acknowledge the gratitude of Texas for the sound system will be French M. Robertson, Abilene, chairman of the state board for hospitals and special schools, Dr. L. J. Rullmann, executive director, and other officials.

Presentation of the communications system which connects all the principal buildings of the mental hospital will be made by J. H. Greene. He has headed this project for the Big Spring State Hospital since its formation two years ago.

The Rev. William Boyd, chairman of the council, will be in charge of the program, and Dr. Preston Harrison, hospital superintendent, will make special acknowledgements. Thirty-eight women will receive their caps for having completed orientation and a minimum of 20 hours volunteer service. Another 37 will be eligible to receive service stripes for 100 or more hours service in the wards, and one—Mrs. W. T. Long—will receive her 300-hour award. The capping will bring to 104 the number who have so qualified here as part of the 132 regularly scheduled volunteers.

Individuals and organizations in Big Spring and in a score of West Texas communities combined to make possible the amplifying system.

Greene said that materials for the high fidelity apparatus were furnished at absolute cost and that over a score of local electricians put in three days without charge to install the mile and a half of line, the 94 separate speakers, the master controls and other studio equipment. Currently Musak programs are reaching all buildings and these are interchangeable with selected types for special musical therapy. The system is also used to communicate with the staff.

Cost was pegged at $3,500, but the value actually is much greater.

The Rev. Boyd and Dr. Harrison emphasized that all friends of the hospital and other interested persons are urged to attend today's program.

Among others due here for the ceremonies are Cotton Kirkin, Odessa, member of the state board for hospitals and special school, and Mrs. Leland Croft, Odessa, founder of the State Mental Hospital Development Association and who will introduce Mr. Robertson, and Mr. Croft; Helen Colburn, Austin, state coordinator of volunteer services; Eliska S. Lynn, Austin, of the Hogg Mental Health Foundation; Mrs. Malcolm Gregory, Austin, state chairman of volunteer advisory councils; Josephine Lamb, Austin, director of nurses for mental hospitals; Mrs. H. G. Towle, Snyder, benefactor of the hospital here; Mrs. Robertson and others.

Water Consumption Ahead Of '58 Rate

The city used about 36 million gallons more water last month than the same time of 1958, the city secretary noted in his monthly report to the commission.

The report showed that the city metered 128,168,500 gallons of water to customers during March, an increase of 36,519,900 gallons over March of 1958. The total is also 8,336,900 more than was needed during February.

Water and sewer bills amounted to $59,009.04, an increase of $26,774 over March of last year.

The end of the month showed the city owing $1,139,000 in tax bonds and $1,396,000 in revenue bonds.

The city collected $78,661.91 on accounts receivable in the water and sewer revenue fund, and $2,325 was received on new water taps. Sale of effluent brought in $823.89.

At the golf course, the city collected $285 from holiday and weekend golf tickets, and $172.50 came on monthly golf cards. Nine-hole green fees netted $125, and 18-hole golf charges added $128.75.

In the parking meter fund, the city collected $3,755.05 from parking meters, compared with $2,497.53 in February.

The telephone franchise contributed $10,936.04 to the city treasury last month, and the gas franchise brought in $6,961.54. Gas franchise revenue during February was $7,071.09.

Fines and court costs contributed $3,696, as compared with $3,631 during February. Fishing permits brought in $780, as against $182 for February.

Other general fund revenue included $332.95 from electrical permits, $232.50 from plumbing permits, and $207 from building permit fees.

Nine Japanese Pilots Get Jet Training Here Through MDAP

Nine Japanese officers, under the Military Defense Assistance Pact, are taking jet pilot training at Webb AFB.

They took their primary training at Spence AFB, Ga.

These officers are part of a group of 20 who came to the United States to take pilot training.

After attending an English course at Lackland AFB, they were formed into two groups, the other 11 going to Bainbridge AFB, Ga., for primary, and then to Vance AFB, Okla.

The Webb group is headed by Maj. Iwao Negi, a veteran of World War II, who is a graduate of the Japanese Military Academy. He conducted an instructor primary course for the men in his group at Utsunomiya, north of Tokyo, Japan, before coming to the states. He, along with Sr. 1st Lt. Akio Nakamishi, is assigned to Section IV, 3561st Pilot Training Squadron. Their instructor is 1st Lt. Donald L. Michaels.

In Section II, also in the 3561st, are 1st Lt. Mitsuhiro Masuyama, Yukitaka Muramoto and Ryunosuke Shimada. They have as their instructor 1st Lt. Richard E. Lingrel, who was stationed in Japan and speaks their language. Section I of the 3560th Pilot Training Squadron has 1st Lt. Akiyoshi Iwamura and Sekinore Kanegae. Their instructor is 1st Lt. Jack L. DeMass.

The remaining officers, Sr. 1st Lt. Shori Shinoda and 1st Lt. Toshiyuki Ando, have 1st Lt. Darrel G. Burris and 1st Lt. Donald E. Kneidel as instructors. They are in Section III of the 3560th.

The major and his men will go into advanced training and gunnery upon completion of the course at this base.

DA Seeks End To Heyday Of Gun-Totin'

BEAUMONT (AP)—Texas laws on pistol-toting are relics from the frontier days and should be tightened to help cut down crime, Dist. Atty. Ramie Griffin says.

And Griffin, chairman of the legislative committee of the state association of district and county attorneys, believes something may be done about it this year.

A proposed bill would make it mandatory for a person to first obtain a permit to buy and possess a pistol.

Griffin believes this would eliminate the many exceptions that a pistol-toter can now hide behind if he is caught carrying one of the weapons. The bill would allow only persons of good character and reputation to get a permit.

The decision whether a person is of good character or reputation should not be decided by public officials, Griffin says, but by a committee of citizens to eliminate politics.

Griffin says the present situation would be simplified if possession of a pistol without a permit would be a violation of the law.

Actually there is a law on the books, apparently little known and not strictly enforced, Griffin says, which makes it unlawful to sell a pistol to a person unless he has received a certificate of "good character" from a justice of peace or a county or district judge. But Griffin points out the law has "no teeth in it" since it does not set forth any punishment for violation.

Traditionally the western states have been more liberal when it comes to the possession of weapons, Griffin says.

The law now makes it a misdemeanor offense for anyone to carry "on or about the person, saddle, or in saddle bags, portfolio or purse a pistol, dirk, dagger, slingshot, blackjack, hand-chain, night stick, sword cane, spear, metal knuckles, bowie knife or any other knife manufactured or sold for offense or defense."

There are exceptions to this law, including peace officers or persons serving as "militia men."

A person may keep a pistol at his home or place of business. A person may not keep a pistol in his car unless he is traveling from one county to another.

Violations of the law carry a fine of from $100 to $500 and a jail term of three to 12 months.

A provision in Texas law makes it mandatory for all dealers to keep permanent records of pistols sold. The record must include the name of the seller and buyer and the serial number of the weapon. This information must be available to law enforcing agencies.

But Griffin believes that only by making it an offense to own a pistol without a permit can officers tighten up on the use of pistols.

Right now, pistols turn up in the most unusual places.

Just recently a man booked on a felony charge here was found to have a pistol in his bag inside the county jail.

Washington To Change Time, Some Confusion Is Expected

By TEX EASLEY
Associated Press Special Service

WASHINGTON (AP)—The nation's capital goes on daylight saving time the last weekend of April, and that will add to the confusion sometimes resulting from the difference between Texas and Washington time.

Not infrequently there are telephone calls from Texas to the offices of Texas members of Congress in late spring and summer months after the offices have closed—calls placed by those failing to realize that at 4:15 p.m. in Texas it's 6:15 p.m. here and most of the offices are closed for the day.

Rep. J. T. (Slick) Rutherford of Odessa and points west points out that his problem is compounded by the fact that El Paso operates on Mountain Standard Time—the only Texas city not on Central Time.

He tells of getting a call at his home a couple of years ago from a constituent of El Paso area when the time difference was three hours. It was 7:15 p.m. there and the man "raised Cain because I had left my office" at that time of day, Rutherford recounted.

"The next morning bright and early at 7 a.m. here," he added, "I called him in Texas and chastised him for sleeping so late. By that method, he understood the time lag perfectly."

Incidentally, Rutherford said he had received an inquiry recently as to how Pecos might go on mountain time if it so desired. He talked to Thomas E. Pyne, Interstate Commerce Commission examiner versed in such matters, and learned:

Before 1883 there were no established time standards in the nation. The railroads then adopted the four now in use. Congress made it official in 1919, but there is no procedure or funds for enforcement. A community may adopt any time it chooses.

From Washington north and east, daylight saving time is in effect each summer. Virginia, except for the areas adjacent to Washington, sticks to standard time.

Around the capital:
A University of Texas law professor on leave to study at Harvard was recently admitted to practice before the Supreme Court. He is E. Wayne Thode. He was introduced to the high tribunal by Charles Johnson, former Austin attorney and now on the staff of Sen. Ralph Yarborough (D-Tex.).

Sam H. Field, Dallas attorney representing the Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Assn., testified before the House Ways and Means Committee on unemployment compensation legislation.

"Dignity and integrity can become mere empty words to a man out of work with a family to care for," he said.

"We are therefore, willing to and do participate in the development of state unemployment compensation programs and freely subscribe to the proposition that benefits provided should be adequate for local needs . . . at the same time our association members are very opposed to any giveaway programs."

Sen. Lyndon Johnson put into the Congressional Record a statement including this comment about a Texas magazine:

"True West is published in an old two-story frame house in Austin by Joe Small, a young man with new ideas. Such outstanding writers as Walter Prescott Webb, J. Frank Dobie and Fred Gipson are among the contributors. A friend has remarked that while many publishers start with a million dollars, and go broke, Joe Small started broke and hopes to wind up with a million dollars."

One of the office suites of Sen. Lyndon Johnson—the one in which Texas business is transacted as distinguished from Johnson's offices as Democratic leader—has just been moved into the new Senate Office Building.

It's a six-room, fifth floor layout with a view of the Supreme Court and the Capitol Dome—the latter about two blocks distant. Arthur Perry of Austin and Walter Jenkins of Wichita Falls head up the staff in the new quarters.

Elks Lodge Officers

Historians May Argue Dulles Role, But He'll Be Missed

EDITOR'S NOTE—The effects of Secretary of State John Foster Dulles' career on international events will be discussed and argued for a long time. This is the first of a series of articles on the effects of Dulles' resignation on Wednesday. It is the work of John M. Hightower, whose coverage of foreign affairs for AP spans Dulles' official career.

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
WASHINGTON (AP)—John Foster Dulles has been both violently denounced and extravagantly praised for his work in foreign affairs.

Few men in his position have been more controversial, and historians will be slow to adopt President Eisenhower's estimate that he was the country's greatest secretary of state.

But there can be no doubt that in the critical weeks ahead he will be sorely missed.

His successor faces a tough task in picking up the direction of foreign policy where Dulles, stricken by cancer, has put it down. In the six years he was in office, the lawyer-diplomat achieved great stature not only as a figure in American government but also as a leader of the free world in its struggle against expansive Chinese communism.

He demonstrated a rugged capacity for work—days, nights and weekends—which probably few other men can equal. He knew other leaders of the free world from close personal contacts and he traveled, with apparent relish, 560,000 miles on trips which took him to 46 countries.

This would be true even for a man in the position of Under Secretary of State Christian Herter, who has worked with Dulles for two years.

But the times now allow no easy period of settling in. The man who takes over Dulles' desk has his work already cut out.

On April 29, he must meet in Paris with the foreign ministers of Britain, France and West Germany to make final preparations for negotiations with the Soviets on delicate and dangerous questions of the future of Berlin and Germany. On May 11, with his British and French colleagues, he must sit opposite Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko in a Big Four conference that is likely to stretch into a grueling month of frustrating argument.

Very likely in late July or August there will be a Big Four summit conference in which the new secretary will play a key role as the chief adviser to the President in further exchanges with the Soviets.

For such negotiations as these, Dulles was prepared by long experience and a love of the game of diplomacy born of a lifelong interest in foreign affairs. His ambition to take over the job went back to his boyhood association with two other secretaries of state, his grandfather, John Watson Foster, and his uncle, Robert Lansing. Dulles achieved that ambition Jan. 21, 1953.

Dulles ran the State Department with complete confidence in his own abilities and the know-how accumulated over the years. From the time he took over, he was the dominant figure. One of the most frequent criticisms was that he operated out of his vest pocket.

Few even of his closest advisers knew precisely what he would do in a given situation. Even high officials in his own organization looked to his news conferences many times for fresh light on his policy thinking about critical problems.

Roving Police Force Termed Best Weapon Against Hoods

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—There's nothing the San Francisco cops detest more than out-of-town hoodlums, so they're mulling over a scheme to get to know them much better.

The idea: a novel intercity task force of police.

Veteran officers who developed the plan believe it would hit the floating criminal and syndicated crime in the most vulnerable spot—the cash they risk.

As they envision it, cities with small police forces, where every member is well known and easily recognized by underworld elements, could benefit immeasurably by using a trained task force borrowed from another city.

"Such a task force would keep the criminal off balance," says Inspector Thomas F. Fitzpatrick, in charge of San Francisco's police intelligence unit.

"The police task force would be especially effective in discouraging the individual hoodlum or the crime syndicate from putting money into an uncertain racket—gambling, narcotics, prostitution or extortion—at the risk of having it knocked over promptly by strange investigators."

Fitzpatrick envisions using as many as 15 or 20 undercover officers in these cooperative efforts.

The task force idea would have to be worked out by the attorney general or even in the governor's office, Fitzpatrick says.

He is convinced, however, that the concept would be highly valuable within a state. With broader development, such task forces could even be sent from one state to another.

"All that would be necessary in the other state would be to deputize the visiting task force officers," Fitzpatrick says.

Police intelligence units and San Francisco's hard-hitting "Operation S" have hit local crime where it lives.

"Operation S," which means selective saturation of districts where criminal activities are prevalent, has brought about a sharp reduction of armed robberies, assaults, purse snatchings, prostitution and other types of crime here.

Without warning, as many as 50 plainclothes police in unmarked cars descend after dark on any area where normal patrols find the situation difficult.

Police Chief Thomas T. Cahill is sold on it. Department records show an over-all reduction of 9.2 per cent in crimes of violence.

DRYSDALE, ANTONELLI FLASH OLD SPARKLE

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Don Drysdale and Johnny Antonelli, a pair of young aces who went a long way to go nowhere last season, are back in business again, flashing some of the old sparkle.

It was Drysdale, a 22-year-old right-hander, who won 17 as a Los Angeles sophomore and went West with the transplanted Dodgers last season boomed as the star of the Los Angeles staff. Instead, he went wild and wound up with a 12-13 record.

Antonelli, a 27-year-old southpaw who twice has been a 20-game winner, didn't have it quite so bad when the Giants shifted to San Francisco. But his 16-13 record wasn't on to deliver.

Wednesday night, things were different. Antonelli gave up a run on three singles in the first inning, then blanked the Chicago Cubs on two hits the rest of the way for a 7-1 victory, his second. That left the Giants, who got a pair of homers from Orlando Cepeda and another from Felipe Alou, with a 4-1 record in second place.

Drysdale gave up eight hits, but no runs at all, squaring his record at 1-1 with his first complete game as the Dodgers beat St. Louis 5-0.

Milwaukee's first-place Braves (3-0) were idle, along with Phillies, while Cincinnati (3-1) took their third by handing winless Pittsburgh a fifth defeat, 10-5.

Cepeda blasted his first home run of the year in a two-run fourth off Moe Drabowsky, Cepeda then hit a two-run homer and Alou followed with a solo shot, his third home run of the season, in the fifth.

Drysdale won his seventh straight in the Coliseum with solo homer help from Don Demeter and Jim Hayes. The Dodgers put it away against Larry Jackson (0-1) with a two-run fourth.

The Pirates, getting a 3-0 lead on Don Hoak's first-inning homer, twice blew leads, falling behind for keeps when the Reds chased Bob Friend to his second loss in a five-run sixth inning. Vada Pinson, Jerry Lynch and Ed Bailey counted seven runs with homers for Cincinnati. Joe Nuxhall was the winner.

Pat Fanning is scheduled to play Sunday at the Sterettes. She is committed to oppose Fay Watson, Odessa, in the second round at 2 p.m. tomorrow, having drawn a first round bye.

Big Spring's doubles team of Layla Ann Glaser and Joan Bratcher also drew a first round bye and goes against the Odessa-San Angelo survivor at 3:30 p.m. Friday.

Glaser and Bratcher lost to Odessa in their only encounter this year, 6-2, 6-1.

Fanning is replacing Betty Ellison, who will not be able to play due to a foot injury.

The Big Spring team has won 12 white losing 14 matches this season. Ellison had won six of nine matches before she was forced to quit.

Nancy Richey of San Angelo, the state women's champion, will be favored in girls' singles while Midland's Pat Busby and Ann Brazzil have the best records among district doubles teams.

Finals will be played at 10 a.m. Saturday.

The local girls will be taken to Odessa by their coach, Billie Clyburn.

3 Teams Bunched Near Top Spot

The After Burners ripped the Pin Ups, 4-0; the Ball Points turned back the Shudda Beens 4-0; and the Sexy Five kayoed the Head Hunters, 3-1, in Officers Wives Bowling league competition earlier this week.

Only two games separates the pace setting After Burners from the third place Pin Ups in the standings.

The Sexy Five had a team score of 1924. Betty Watson of the Pin Ups came in with a high individual game of 175 while Betty Reid of the Shudda Beens had a 437 aggregate, followed by the 437 posted by Nita Brown of the Sexy Five.

Splits were converted by: Veda Bruhat, 3-10 and 2-7; Betty Tillman, 5-7 and 4-10; Ruby Harrison, 5-7-9; Betty Reid, 3-10; and Rita Lyon, 3-10.

Standings:

Betsy Rawls Gets Gallery Attention

DALLAS (AP) — Twenty-eight stars of the women's golf tour and a dozen area amateurs move out today in the opening round of the $10,000 Dallas Civilian Open.

Favorites were almost as numerous as players with the gal on the greatest streak, Betsy Rawls of Spartanburg, S.C., getting the most attention.

Miss Rawls has won three tournaments and finished second twice in the last five. She also tops the money-winners with $5,692.52 for 3½ months work.

Two More Enter

FORT WORTH (AP)—Ed Furgol and Ed Oliver entered the $27,300 Colonial National Invitation Golf Tournament today and now only four players are needed to complete the field of 48.

Laine Keeping Tab On Littler

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Four years ago Frankie Laine, who didn't know whether golfer Gene Littler was blond or brunet, left-handed or right-handed, crossed-eyed or blind.

Today he keeps a chart on Littler's temperature. He makes repeated phone calls to all sections of the country to check on the golfer's appetite, state of mind and putting touch.

The reason: $190,610. "Somebody asked me if I planned to buy Littler again this year in the Calcutta pool at Las Vegas," Laine said today. "I said: 'If you had won nearly $200,000 on him, what would you do?'"

The reported warbler today declared for Las Vegas, where the $40,000 tournament of Champions begins next Thursday.

Every year in the tournament competitors are sold at auction in the Calcutta pool which pays rich dividends to lucky purchasers.

Laine and his wife, Nan, were motoring to the 1955 tournament when the singer was to serve as parttime auctioneer when the better half suggested:

"I think it's only right you should be heard at the auction. Why don't you bid on that nice young boy we've been reading about, Gene Littler?"

"Okay," said Laine. Frank went to the auction deciding not to go over $1,500. Before he knew it he had bid $13,000 for Littler. Later he sold two 25 cent pieces to a couple of fellows.

Littler won the tournament and Laine's little syndicate collected $72,900.

The next year Laine bid Littler again at $15,500. Littler won and Laine collected $69,120. In 1957 Laine bought the young California player for $15,500. This time he collected $95,635 on a phenomenal third Littler triumph.

Last year it took $20,000 to get the three-time winner, who finished in a tie for fourth, netting the singer $17,955.

Hundreds Of Boys Bidding For Li'l League Positions

The American Little League spring training drills, which opened Monday, were attended by 200 boys, and it appears as if officials will have to limit all eight-year-olds to play on two teams outside regular Little League play.

President John Ed Brown said the two teams made from the surplus of players would play on Saturday mornings. This will actually allow more boys to participate, he added, and those boys to play more games.

The American League has named its six major managers but need two minor league managers to fill the six-man quota in that division.

The league workers are now in the midst of an important fence sign sales campaign to help defray expenses for the park bleachers and other improvements. The stands will seat an estimated 150.

Turf on the field, near HCJC, has been filled in and will be rolled. Irrigation will be available now that a water pipe has been laid.

Harold Hall said that the National League had some 137 new boys out for spring training. About 63 major leaguers from last year drills.

The National League workers are currently working on the base paths and will haul in sand to make base-sliding easier for the youngsters. Hall encouraged all youngsters all encouraged all youngsters to help Saturday with the project.

Rhubarb Is Brewing Over Colonial Meet

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Editor

Most of the rhubarb of golf, it seems, happens in Texas. And there's one brewing over at Fort Worth where Colonial National Invitation faces a fight for survival against the encroachments of the PGA.

The PGA wants to name the players who are to be invited to the swank Colonial tournament—or at least name the top ones. The PGA has what it calls the Top Tournament Players system whereby the leaders of the links get paid appearance money.

If they participate in the tournaments they get points on their records and are entitled to several hundred dollars just for showing up at the tournaments the next year.

Colonial is not a TT tournament so the golfers don't get any points for playing there. Colonial already has lost the leading money winner of the year for no TT points. He's Art Wall, who led the TT last year and can take for playing there. His tournament because there are $300 at each TT tournament this year just for doing it.

Colonial is a select tournament that has its own system of picking the players. It grades them in various ways and it also has some places to be awarded just because it wants the golfers there.

The PGA wants all the top men according to money winnings and TT points in the tournament and has handed down an edict that unless Colonial increases its field from 48 to 54 and allows PGA to name the first 40 it will set up a competing tournament next year.

This could work toward elimination of Colonial. If too many of the top golfers choose to play in the competing tournament the Colonial field would be in trouble.

Colonial is handled by an 18-member board of governors. There are strong indications that these fellows never will yield to the PGA on invitations. If it doesn't then Colonial may fade from the golf scene.

Colonial can operate like the Sam Snead Festival at White Sulphur Springs, W. Va. There they have a fine hotel that likes to get folds in for a stay and a little golf. There is a tournament to which top names in the game are invited. It is just one of the baits and they really don't care whether they have all the top players attending San Antonio's Trinity University, 6-4, 8-6.

The PGA says if Colonial doesn't choose to accept its edict it can have a tournament similar to the Snead festival with a competing tournament elsewhere.

Colonial, it is indicated, wouldn't want to operate unless it felt it was getting the players it desired.

Colonial might, if the circumstances are right, pull out on its own. The past two years have found the tournament taking stiff blows from the weather. If it happens again this time the board of governors might say, "We've had it" and the PGA would be rid of what it apparently thinks is a troublesome situation.

Longhorn Cagers To Open With Cathedral Quintet

The 1958-59 edition of the Big Spring High School basketball team will open play against the always-strong Cathedral High team of El Paso Nov. 27, Coach Vernon Harton has announced.

The Steers will also host Cathedral the following night.

The Longhorns will also play practice games with Colorado City, Seminole, Kermit and Snyder and will enter tournaments at Nacogdoches (Dec. 18-19) and Odessa (Dec. 31, Jan. 1-2).

Big Spring "gets its feet wet" in conference play as early as Jan. 12, at which time it goes to Midland.

Ten 2-AAAA games will be played the coming season, compared to eight in 1958-59, since Permian High of Odessa formally became a member.

The schedule:
Nov. 27—Cathedral High El Paso at Big Spring
Dec. 1—Colorado City at Big Spring
Dec. 4—Seminole at Seminole
Dec. 7—Kermit at Kermit

Idaho State Coach Won't Leave Post

POCATELLO, Idaho (AP)—John Grayson said he was tempted by a job offer from a major school in the southwest, but decided to remain as basketball coach at Idaho State College.

Grayson made a tour of the school's campus last week, but announced last night that he will stay at Idaho State. He declined to identify the southwestern school.

The Associated Press, however, learned unofficially that it was Rice Institute at Houston, Tex.

Coahoma And Ralls Meet At Lubbock

COAHOMA (SC)—The Coahoma High School girls' volleyball team, District 6-A champions, meet Ralls in the first round of the Regional tournament at 8:30 a.m. Saturday in Lubbock.

If the Bulldogs win that one, they challenge Oozma for the championship at 3:30 p.m. the same day.

Girls who will make the trip with Coach Jean Wynn are Claudine Bales, Joan Davis, Frances Earnest, Lynn Nell Mason, Glenda Haney, Johanne Lou Nichols, Audie Nixon, Annette Porter, Audine Drewery and Margie Logsdon.

Jewelers Regain Lead In League

Zale's Jewelers returned to sole possession of first place in Housewives' bowling league standings Wednesday by shelling Caprock Restaurant, 4-0, while the erstwhile leaders, Truman Jones Motors (losing) to Tom's Peanuts, 3-1.

In the other match, Wesson and Trantham won over Warren's Clinic, 3-1.

Pat Hamilton of Wesson and Trantham had a game high of 171 while Wanda Warren of Warren's Clinic registered a 449 series, best of the day.

Splits were converted by: Dora Carter, Tom's, 5-7; Jodie Bowers, Tom's, 3-10; Wanda Warren, Warren's, 3-10; Pat Hamilton, Wesson-Trantham, 5-7; Edna Varnadore, Wesson-Trantham, 2-7; Rena Elsberry, Caprock, 5-7; and Marie Raughley, Zale's, 5-10.

Local Junior High Teams To Snyder

Big Spring's two junior high schools send teams Friday to the Snyder Junior High School Invitational track and field meet.

Competition will take place on all three grade levels in junior high school, which actually means that six Big Spring teams will be running at Snyder.

Marcus Stages Second Upset

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Neal Marcus, the young giant killer from Tampa, Fla., challenged nationally ranked Ron Holmberg of New Orleans today in the quarter-finals of the River Oaks tennis tournament.

After sending defending champion Barry MacKay to the sidelines on Tuesday, Marcus pulled another upset yesterday by soundly trouncing Armando Ferla, Beaumont, Tex., college student from Sao Paulo, Brazil, 6-0, 6-2.

Holmberg, a Tulane student who is ranked No. 2 nationally gained revenge for a December loss in the Sugar Bowl meet by defeating Mike Franks of UCLA, 6-4, 6-3.

Today's second quarter final match placed third-seeded Luis Ayala, last year's runnerup from Chile, against Don Candy of Australia. The round of eight will be completed tomorrow with second seeded Bernard Barten meeting Earl Buchholz Jr., the young Dave Copper from St. Louis, and fourth-seeded Dick Savitt meeting London's Jaroslav Dornby.

Ayala made quick work of his match with Pedro Bueno, another student at Beaumont's Lamar Tech. Ayala swept to a 6-3, 6-0 victory in 40 minutes.

Candy survived a 45-minute first set and then took 27 minutes in a second set to eliminate Hugh Stewart of Los Angeles, 9-7, 6-4.

Savitt ignored an elbow injury and handed a 6-3, 6-3 defeat to John Sharpe, a husky Australian who is attending Pan American College at Edinburg, Tex. Barten won a 6-2, 7-5 match from Chuck McKinley, a junior player from St. Ann, Mo.

Buchholz trailed 2-5 in the second set but rallied to overcome Rod Sussman, a St. Louis student attending San Antonio's Trinity University, 6-4, 8-6.

The PGA says if Colonial doesn't choose to accept its edict it can have a tournament similar to the Snead festival with a competing tournament elsewhere.

Colonial, it is indicated, wouldn't want to operate unless it felt it was getting the players it desired.

Colonial might, if the circumstances are right, pull out on its own. The past two years have found the tournament taking stiff blows from the weather. HOWARD COUNTY JUNIOR COLLEGE GIRLS VOLLEYBALL TEAM, THE JAYHAWK QUEENS, CLOSES HIS SEASON APRIL 24 IN A FIFTH ENGAGEMENT WITH HARDY SIMMONS HERE.

The HCJC club has defeated Abilene all five times, four coming in tournament play. A and B games will be played at the HCJC gym, 7:30 and 6 p.m., respectively.

The local college girls have scored 570 points in 18 games while limiting opponents to 327.

Janice Dixon is the scoring leader with 89 points, but Pat Hudgins is right behind with 88. Wanda Armstrong with 87, Wynona Yarbrough with 86, Jo Ann Howard 82 and Jo Ann Rawden 61.

The team took third place in last weekend competition in the Dallas YMCA tournament, and lost their first games of the season to Austin. Their record is 16-2.

"The girls learned a lot against teams at the Dallas tournament," said Miss Anna Smith, coach, "since they play a different type game."

On April 23 a game is slated against the Starlettes, a group of local high school graduates under direction of Miss Arh Phillips. It had been scheduled for last night.

SAN ANGELO LOSTS TO SNYDER, 10-5

SAN ANGELO (SC) — Snyder's Tigers turned back the San Angelo Bobcats, 10-5, in a practice baseball game played here Wednesday afternoon.

Norman Gladson hurled the win, yielding only five hits to the Cats. Snyder 216 000 1-10 4 2 San Angelo 120 000 2-5 3 3 Gladson and Wylie; Dorris, Talley, Stephens and Franklin.

DEAR ABBY

'COVERING UP'

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: For years (14 to be exact) I've been covering up for my husband for the sake of my children, and now I am beginning to wonder if I've been doing the right thing. He's always had other women (one at a time) and when he'd stay out all night I'd say, "Dad has gone on a business trip." Everyone thinks he is an honorable family man and he certainly doesn't deserve the good reputation he enjoys. I spoke to my minister about this three years ago and he said given time he'd straighten out. But nothing has changed. Should I continue to cover up for him or force a showdown? TIRED OF COVERING UP

DEAR ABBY: "Covering up" for a cheating husband is like buying a tweed coat to cure dandruff. Unless you insist on a better marriage and a fulltime husband, he'll assume you don't miss it and he'll make no effort to change. Don't expose him to the children, but do see a marriage counselor.

DEAR ABBY: After going together for six years my boyfriend and I planned to be married at a simple ceremony at the City Hall during my lunch hour on Friday. I missed my bus and got there about 40 minutes late. He and his buddy were later than I was and when he showed up I noticed his eyes were blurry and he smelled like a brewery. I said, "I am not marrying any man in that condition!" And I didn't stay to get married either. Marriage to me is something sacred even if I can't afford a fancy church wedding. I think the least he could have done was stayed sober. Was I wrong?

NOT MARRIED
DEAR NOT: Not by a long shot!

DEAR ABBY: What would you do if you had a brother 14 years old and you were 11 and he kept kicking you in bed and you told your mother and she got up and said, "You quit kicking him!" and as soon as she went back to bed he started kicking you again and then you couldn't stand it any longer so you got your father out of bed and he came in and gave both of you a good licking right through all the covers and everything?

MAD
DEAR MAD: I'd remember this experience if I were you. It's not the fairest way to settle differences between two quarreling children, but it's by far the most effective.

DEAR ABBY: I am a married lady. I was invited by a married couple to go to a show. How should we have been sitting in the show? Should the wife have sat between me and her husband or should the husband have sat between me and his wife?

GUEST
DEAR GUEST: The husband should have sat between you and his wife. A "guest" should never come between a woman and her husband.

Is it safe to go steady? Get ABBY'S booklet, "What Every Teenager Wants To Know." Send 25 cents and a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope to Abby, care of The Big Spring Herald.

For a personal reply, write to ABBY in care of The Big Spring Herald. Enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Spooked House Is For The Birds

RYEN, N.Y. (AP) — Ten days ago a staccato knocking and banging awakened the Richard Spath household at 5 a.m.

"Good heavens," said Mrs. Spath, "whatever can that be?"

"Must be the plumbing," said her husband.

No, it wasn't the plumbing, said the plumber.

Second day: same time, same noise. Spath called in a heating engineer. Not the heating, said the engineer.

Third day: ditto time and racket. Gas man called in. No defect, the man said.

Fourth day: same old time and tribulation. Spath donned a robe and hurried outside. There, in the dawning, he saw the culprit: a downy woodpecker hammering like mad on the television aerial.

"Go home," "shoot!" and rocks and hand-clapping failed to scare away the bird.

Wednesday, Spath consulted the National Audubon Society. Advised the society: Turn the garden hose on him; or get a toy pop gun and frighten it; or get a fireworks permit and shoot some roman candles at it.

Spath has decided to use the hose treatment first. He'll probably get help from his wife and their two youngsters, Greg, 6, and John, 3.

That downy woodpecker isn't just a mean old cuss, said the Audubon Society. He's merely using the TV antenna as a sort of sounding board to issue a spring love call.

At any event, the spokesman continued, the hammering won't go beyond the next few weeks or so. By that time, the bird either will have found a mate or will give up. And what's more important to the Spaths, it will go away.

During the past two weeks you have seen the above symbol displayed throughout this newspaper, in the showrooms of our local car dealers and other places in town.

This symbol identifies a movement by the newspaper industry on behalf of the automotive manufacturers and their local dealers to dramatize one of the significant achievements of your life — buying and owning a new car.

Buying a new car is not an ordinary, everyday act. It requires deliberate analysis, a weighing of preferences, tastes and values. You study the ads—like the ones in this newspaper—you pour over the brochures, you test the various models and discuss features with the dealer. You ask your neighbor's opinion and review the whole affair within the family circle.

Then you make the great decision. And after you've signed the contract, been handed the keys and drive off, you get one of the biggest thrills of your life. You suddenly realize that this gleaming, purring mechanical marvel belongs to you! And you know that no other car can touch it for looks, performance and value.

Your local car dealers are making a special effort to give you the opportunity to make this major decision of your life — to help you live better by far with a brand new car. Talk it over with the family — and see your dealer soon.

"New Cars Are Fine In '59". See All The New Models AUTO PARADE Through Downtown Big Spring Friday, April 17, 4 P.M. Scores of models, representing the very latest in new car transportation, on review for you to see. A public demonstration for you, from local auto dealers. Don't miss this outstanding array of new cars Friday. The Following Big Spring Dealers Will Have 1959 Automobiles In Tomorrow's Big Parade. Come To Town And See Them All Displayed.

Teachers Walk Out When Salaries Stop

ALDINE, Tex. (AP)—The Aldine schools are closed today. The 400 teachers in the district did not show up this morning after their voting yesterday to stay out until they are paid.

The district was short of meeting its $105,000 payroll yesterday by some $60,000. The Aldine Teachers Assn. voted 159-10 to walk out.

Some 9,000 students are in the district. There appeared little hope the district would be able to borrow money, Supt. W. W. Thorne said.

Blue Panic Grass Attracts Interest In Mitchell County

COLORADO CITY (SC)—Showing of blue panic grass this spring, after a comparatively cold and dry winter, is attracting interest. Several patches have put up green shoots four to eight inches long. Soil Conservation Service specialists say that forage production ranges from two to three tons per acre from panic grass. Protein content ranges from 10 per cent in hay to 26 per cent in young shoots. This is one of the highest protein contents found in warm season grasses in Texas.

Among Mitchell County landowners who have patches of blue panic are Tex Keel, Costin Bros., Fee and Son, Elwood and Towle ranches, Irwin Grant and Roy Buchanan. Blue panic, a native of India, was first introduced in the United States in 1912, but it did not come to Texas until 1935.

While teachers and district personnel were worriedly awaiting some solution to their pay problem, school board members were hurling charges and countercharges at each other.

Trustee Robert Whitmarsh, of the Aldine Taxpayers Assn., charged school board president Richard Cass and other members of the board with "a deliberate attempt to cause the teachers trouble."

He said Cass and the others have refused to call a board meeting to settle the district's financial problems and vote funds to meet the district's payroll.

Cass countered that the trustees, backed by the taxpayers association, have displayed "a lack of faith" in running the district's affairs.

"I'll be glad to resign from the board if the other six men will," Cass said.

Another group of citizens is planning a meeting Monday night to organize in order to seek legal advice.

A spokesman said they propose to ask the State Board of Education to declare all positions on the board vacant, and then call an election of new officers.

Carpenter Killed

SWEETWATER, Tex. (AP)—A Sweetwater carpenter, James Clift, 45, was killed yesterday and his wife injured when their car and two trucks were involved in a collision here.

Herter Illness May Figure In Ike Appointment

WASHINGTON (AP)—Christian A. Herter's arthritis may be a factor in whether he succeeds John Foster Dulles as secretary of state.

President Eisenhower, it is believed, would consider whether the affliction would interfere with Herter's being an active foreign policy chief. Herter is now acting secretary of state.

Herter's personal physician Dr. Theodore B. Bayles provided his own answer to this question Wednesday night. The 64-year-old New Englander, he said, is "perfectly capable" of carrying the full burden of secretary of state.

Herter suffers from arthritis of the hips, it causes him to bend his 6-foot-5 frame forward when he walks.

"It's a disease he has put up with for the past 10 to 15 years. Dr. Bayles said the condition was 'progressed very little' in the past eight years.

"He doesn't have a crippling kind of arthritis," the doctor reported in an interview. "Mr. Herter suffers some discomfort when he walks or stands for any length of time.

"But he has absolutely no discomfort when sitting at a conference table, for example, or resting in bed at night."

Ever since he became undersecretary of state two years ago, Herter has relied on light-weight metal arm crutches to move about. They relieve the pressure on his hip joints.

Herter's name has led all the rest in the guessing game that got under way after Eisenhower announced Dulles' resignation Wednesday.

Dulles was reported to be in good spirits despite the cancer which forced him to resign. A State Department spokesman said he was up and about his hospital suite. No change was reported in his physical condition.

Flee Hollywood

Killer Blonde Just 'Scared' To Medic

REDWOOD CITY, Calif. (AP)—A chubby, 18-year-old blonde who said she fired 18 bullets into a young father because of an urge to kill is "just a scared girl" to a psychiatrist.

Dr. Walter Rappaport, chief of a state mental hospital, talked with pony-tailed Rosemarie Bjorkland Wednesday, a few hours after she told Sheriff Earl B. Whitmore she killed August Norry, 28, on Feb. 1 as he dumped grass cuttings.

"I wanted to see if I could commit a murder and not have it on my conscience," Miss Bjorkland, a clerk-typist, was quoted by Whitmore. "I've felt better ever since I killed him."

Norry, married and expecting to become a father, was only a casual acquaintance who happened along when she was target practicing in the hills near her Daly City home, just south of San Francisco, she said. An urge to kill that had obsessed her for at least two years became impossible to control when Norry happened to be in the target practice area, she related.

Rosemarie, a scared girl to Dr. Rappaport, was "a lone wolf" to Nadeline Ochoa, head clerk of the San Francisco publishing company where they worked.

She took her coffee breaks and lunches alone, but sometimes bragged about being handy with a knife, Mrs. Ochoa said. Other employees said she carried a knife in her purse.

To school authorities, Rosemarie was a problem, transferred among three high schools for drinking and cutting classes and finally quitting to go to work.

She fired 18 shots from her target pistol at point-blank range into Norry, reloading twice.

She lived at home with her mother, father, and three younger brothers, ages 9 to 13.

She will be charged with murder, said Howard Hartley, district attorney.

Witness

William Bufalino, above, a Detroit, Mich., teamsters Union official, is shown as he appeared before the Senate Rackets Committee in Washington, D.C. His appearance was marked by several angry clashes with Robert Kennedy, committee counsel, and Sen. John McClellan (D-Ark.), committee chairman. At one point, Bufalino shouted, "I intend to file a petition for redress of grievances to the Senate" and added that he has court suits pending against Kennedy and against "a national publication."

Flying Robber Awaits Hearing After Capture

LAREDO, Tex. (AP) — Flying bank robber Frank Sprenz brought to earth by a Mexican cow, sat in jail today awaiting a removal hearing.

Sprenz, 29, heard U.S. Commissioner Frank V. Hill set his bond at $100,000 Wednesday. The commissioner continued a removal hearing until copies of the warrant for the arrest of the Ohio man arrived from Cincinnati. Sprenz was on the FBI's list of the 10 Most Wanted criminals.

Usually a smooth and quick talker, Sprenz refused to answer newsmen's questions when he was brought across the border from Mexico.

Mexican police nabbed him at Cozumel, a Yucatan island resort, Tuesday. He was driven to Laredo.

The balding, slender prisoner told FBI agents the airplane he had flown down the Texas coast to Mexico was wrecked April 3 when a cow got in his path on takeoff and smashed a wing. He was attempting to take off from a beach between Tampico and Veracruz.

The wrecked plane, one of several used by Sprenz in his escapes, tipped Mexican officials he was in that area.

Hill told Sprenz he faced a charge of robbing a branch bank in Hamilton, Ohio, of $25,955 last March 2. At the Hamilton airport he stole a plane, flew to Canton, Ohio, and escaped.

At Hamilton, while Mexican authorities were escorting Sprenz to the border, the Butler County grand jury returned two indictments against him. One charges him with bank theft and the other with stealing a plane.

FBI agents said Sprenz also told them he was glad to be back in this country.

"I was trying to catch a boat for Havana," they quoted him as saying.

Stations Will Set Off Alert

WASHINGTON (AP) — All television and radio stations in the United States will go off the air for half an hour Friday morning signaling the start of the annual national civil defense drill.

The Office of the Civil and Defense Mobilization said today the unusual silence will begin at 11:30 a.m., EST.

About 1,200 radio stations will resume broadcasting immediately on the two "Comelrad" civil defense frequencies — 640 and 1240 on the radio dial.

The name is an abbreviation of control of electromagnetic radiation. The system, under which various stations alternate on the frequencies, was designed to prevent enemy bombers from using radio beams to find their targets.

All this will be part of Operation Alert 1959, designed to test the nation's readiness to cope with a mock nuclear attack by planes and missiles.

Operation Alert will continue through the summer in various stages. On Friday and Saturday, the public will take part as warning signals sound across the country. In many communities, citizens will evacuate or take cover depending on local plans.

I Can Relax Now . . .

... says L. B. Lane, superintendent of the Zale's construction project at 3rd and Main, as he inspects the huge beams supporting the second story of the building. For several days, the top half of the building—weighing 300,000 pounds—was merely propped up while workmen installed the permanent supports. Immediately above Lane is an "I" beam 24 inches high and weighing 84 pounds per foot. The enormous beam holds the weight formerly borne by a solid brick wall 22 inches thick. The wall was removed to provide show window space in the west side of the building. The Jess Bailey Co. of Big Spring performed the steel work.

No Federal Control Involved In Accepting NDEA Funds

Participation of the Big Spring schools in the National Defense Education Act involves no federal control and very little state involvement in the local education program, according to Supt. Floyd Parsons.

All federal funds the school district will receive will come from the Texas Education Agency. The TEA must approve all expenditures of the funds, but no federal agency ever has any role in the proceedings.

All federal money employed in Texas will be paid in a lump sum directly to the state, which will divide the funds among the participating school districts.

Big Spring participation was approved Tuesday night by trustees. An NDEA budget supplement of $15,000 was set up.

The federal NDEA grants are available for improving school programs in the fields of science, mathematics, languages, guidance, counseling and testing. The grants match local funds on a 50-50 basis.

Here's the way Parsons explained the program in what he called an over-simplified illustration, using physics as an example:

1. We write a full description of our current physics program, showing what we have.

2. We then write a full description of the type of program that we would like to have and feel that we need.

3. Then we prepare a list of equipment, materials and supplies that would enable us to move from what we have to what we need.

The equipment, etc., included in the list would then become eligible for purchase under the NDEA program. We select the items, issue purchase orders, receive the materials, and send one copy of the invoice to the Texas Education Agency. We receive from the TEA within 30 days a check for 50 per cent of the total invoice.

Chaplain Leath Arrives At Webb, Replacing Mikesell

Chaplain (1st Lt.) James E. Leath has arrived at Webb AFB from Lackland AFB to succeed Chaplain (1st Lt.) Verlin E. Mikesell, who will leave Webb late next month for an assignment in Alaska.

Wins Mayorship

WESLACO (AP)—Bud Horn, a service station operator, defeated incumbent James Medley for mayor in a city election Monday. Horn polled 554 votes and Medley 437.

A native of Clara, Texas, who now calls Wichita Falls his home, Chaplain Leath has almost five years of service. He is a graduate of Baylor University, Waco, the Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary, Ft. Worth, and the Basic Chaplain School, Lackland.

Before entering the Air Force, the chaplain was pastor of the Baptist Church at Era. He is married to the former Margaret L. Lowry, of Bluegrove, and they have one daughter, Linda, 11, and a son, Gary, 10.

The chaplain's mother, Mrs. George Leath, resides in Iowa Park.

U. S., Russia Differ In Four Major Ways

There is less difference between the United States and Russia than you think.

And unless American citizens stock on the nation's moral right to survive, they may wake up someday to find that practically all the differences have disappeared.

Then it will be a naked battle between two colossi, and victory will go to the stronger.

With this Dr. W. S. McBirnie, San Antonio, challenged Downtown Lions members Wednesday to preserve those great bulwarks which are still fundamentally different between democracy and communism. Dr. McBirnie, is conducting a week's series of revival meetings at the First Baptist Church, has only recently returned from one of several trips to Europe and Asia Minor.

There still exist four major differences which give us the edge in the death struggle with communism, he told the Lions.

The first is government based on law — on the rights of men rather than only privileges as in Russia; the second is persuasion rather than coercion (and thus the salesman has come to be America's greatest symbol); the third is the freedom of expression and choice — "a deep difference"; and the fourth is the accountability of the individual and government to Almighty God.

"It is the system that comes from a knowledge of accountability that gives us our morality," he declared. "Russia is atheistic because the Russian rulers don't want to be accountable to anyone or anything higher than the government."

Holding his audience in rapt attention for nearly 40 minutes, Dr. McBirnie ruled out several superficial differences between Russia and the United States as myths.

One is that the Soviet citizen lives in terror and fear of a dictatorship. The average citizen does not live in terror and he's never known anything but a dictatorship so it doesn't bother him.

Another is that our standard of living is so much greater. But standards are judged in relation to what one has had, and the Russian standard stacks up a lot better than anything he has ever had.

Still another is that the Russians don't have an adequate educational system. Sputnik exploded that.

"We are impaled on the horns of the fact that the Russians can produce anything they want to produce," Dr. McBirnie declared. "They may even be able to out-produce us in some fields."

And finally, there is a myth that Russia alone is a big bureaucracy. It is that totally and purely, but, warned Dr. McBirnie, our own country seems inexorably caught in a trend toward big business, big labor, big armed forces, and big government, and "in 25 years we're apt to be a lot further along this trend to bigness."

The moral right of America to survive, he said, is to be asserted by "putting steel rods in our spines" to preserve the basic differences.

"If you don't vote everytime you have a chance, there goes difference No. 1," he warned. "When you associate yourself with movements which deny persuasion and tend to coercion, there goes No. 2. When you won't read your newspapers and want to throttle those who disagree with you, there goes No. 3. And when you roll over in bed on Sunday morning or get up early and pass by the open door of your church on the way to some pleasures, there goes No. 4."

And there will go America, too.

Gov. Daniel Signs Bills

AUSTIN (AP)—Gov. Daniel has signed the following bills:
SB 250, Seeligen, allowing San Antonio Loan and Trust Co. to amend its charter;
SB 251, Fipkin, relating to lands owned by navigation districts;
SB 252, De La Garza, providing interpreters in some courts;
SB 253, Reagan, allowing school districts to shorten their business day;
SB 254, Roberts, amending the bedding law;
SB 255, Dies, authorizing more money for the First Judicial District judge;
SB 314, Fry, allowing beer distributors to sell to each other.
All but SB 250 and SB 314 have immediate effect.

Medical School Dedicates Building

DALLAS (AP)—Southwestern Medical School of the University of Texas, which came into being 14 years ago in a few prefabricated shacks, dedicated today its new 3 1/2-million-dollar Clinical Science Building.

Dr. Melvin Casberg, vice president of Medical Affairs of the University of Texas, spoke.

He said "we dedicate, not to the past, not to the present but to the future" as "we stand on the threshold of discovery and on the frontiers of medicine."

The speaker foresaw a great future for the Dallas medical center.

He declared. "Russia is atheistic because the Russian rulers don't want to be accountable to anyone or anything higher than the government."

Holding his audience in rapt attention for nearly 40 minutes, Dr. McBirnie ruled out several superficial differences between Russia and the United States as myths.

One is that the Soviet citizen lives in terror and fear of a dictatorship. The average citizen does not live in terror and he's never known anything but a dictatorship so it doesn't bother him.

Another is that our standard of living is so much greater. But standards are judged in relation to what one has had, and the Russian standard stacks up a lot better than anything he has ever had.

Still another is that the Russians don't have an adequate educational system. Sputnik exploded that.

"We are impaled on the horns of the fact that the Russians can produce anything they want to produce," Dr. McBirnie declared. "They may even be able to out-produce us in some fields."

And finally, there is a myth that Russia alone is a big bureaucracy. It is that totally and purely, but, warned Dr. McBirnie, our own country seems inexorably caught in a trend toward big business, big labor, big armed forces, and big government, and "in 25 years we're apt to be a lot further along this trend to bigness."

The moral right of America to survive, he said, is to be asserted by "putting steel rods in our spines" to preserve the basic differences.

"If you don't vote everytime you have a chance, there goes difference No. 1," he warned. "When you associate yourself with movements which deny persuasion and tend to coercion, there goes No. 2. When you won't read your newspapers and want to throttle those who disagree with you, there goes No. 3. And when you roll over in bed on Sunday morning or get up early and pass by the open door of your church on the way to some pleasures, there goes No. 4."

And there will go America, too.

Jaycee-Ettes Meet For Installation Dinner

Jaycee-Ettes met Wednesday evening at Carlos Restaurant for a dinner and installation service, with the outgoing officers serving to install the new slate.

Mrs. James Cape, past president, read the duties of her office to Mrs. George Creagh, incoming president; Mrs. Ralph McLaughlin, speaking for Mrs. David Sims, outgoing vice president, installed Mrs. John Rudeseal, and Mrs. Bill Gray relinquished her post as secretary-treasurer to Mrs. John Hones.

Mrs. Cape was presented with a gift by the club.

The 14 attending discussed plans for a membership coffee to be given some time in May at the home of Mrs. Jones. The date is to be announced.

The next regular meeting of the group, set for May 20, will be held at the Wagon Wheel Restaurant.

Knott Juniors Have Banquet For Seniors

KNOTT—The Knott Junior-Senior Banquet was held Saturday evening at the Desert Sands Restaurant, in Big Spring.

Guest speaker was Dr. R. Gage Lloyd, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church.

Guests at the banquet were Mrs. Lloyd, Mr. and Mrs. Weldon Snodgrass, Frances Weeg and James Farmer, Mr. and Mrs. Roland R. Lewis, and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Adams, Mr. and Mrs. John McGregor, Mrs. Jane Dotson, Gene Jones, and Harrell Holder.

Seniors were Dois Ray, class president, Helen Stoldt, Pat McPhaul, Jerry Nichols, Ray Peacock, Leo Williams, Virgie Burchell and Geraldine Caughey and their dates.

Juniors present were Alice Day, class president, Loy Ditto, Neva Jackson, Joyce Robinson, Ronald Shaw, Dickie Shortes, and Ann Ulmer.

The theme of the banquet was Rendezvous Of The Stars.

Lamesa Women Form Auxiliary For Hospital

LAMESA (Sp1)—Ninety-six women attended a meeting at the First Presbyterian Church Monday night, when a hospital auxiliary to serve Medical Arts Hospital was organized.

Guy Hamilton, administrator, who has served as temporary chairman during the organization period introduced Mrs. Guy Neas of Odessa, who founded the auxiliary in that city and has helped with the organization of eight other auxiliaries. She outlined the various committees the Lamesa organization may need, told of the various types of memberships, and gave other pertinent information.

The first meeting of the auxiliary will be held at 10 a.m. Tuesday, and will be a coffee at Women's Study Club.

Mrs. Neas told her audience that the national uniform for Hospital Auxiliaries, with which the Lamesa group will affiliate, is a cherry red penafore with white blouse and name tag. The local group will also adhere to the national code of ethics.

Three types of memberships will be accepted in the Lamesa Auxiliary, it was voted. These are active memberships for $3 annually, with this type member to be engaged in service at the hospital; sustaining memberships, which are $10 annually, are usually issued to business and professional women who wish to be associated with the organization; life memberships, which go to any one who donates as much as $100.

Rev. Boyd Is Speaker For Hyperions Wednesday

"Christianity is still the one force in the world that can bring peace; but this can be done only within the framework of God's purpose and not according to our own ambitions."

This was the core of the Rev. William D. Boyd's message to the 1905 Hyperion Club, meeting Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Loy Branon. The rector of St. Mary's Episcopal Church, introduced by Mrs. Lee Hanson, spoke on Christianity Today, as a facet of the club's study of the World's Great Religions.

To understand Christianity, one must look backward to its beginnings, said the Rev. Boyd. Christianity had been prophesied for centuries before it became a reality through the coming of the Messiah. Israel refused to accept Jesus as the promised Messiah because they expected a saviour who would, with armed force, deliver them from the Romans.

History recounts the staunch stands Christianity has made against her enemies throughout the ages. Nazism, for example, sought to render Christianity useless by picturing Christ as a good man martyred for a nationalistic cause. The powerful force can never be stamped out. All of history has been a revelation of the will of God, the speaker pointed out.

Announcement was made of the Hyperion Council luncheon, scheduled for 12:30 p.m. April 25 at the Settles Hotel Ballroom. Mrs. J. R. Hatch accepted chairmanship of the 1905 committee to decorate tables.

Tea and dainties were served from an all-pink table. An imported pink embroidered cloth was a foil for pink carnations, pink grapes and lilacs arranged in a pink vase with fluted pedestal. Silver candelabra on the buffet held twisted tapers in pink. Mrs. Norman Read, president, poured from the silver service.

The 18 were told of the next meeting, which will be May 20 at the home of Mrs. Clyde Angel.

Housewarming For Mrs. J. Appleton

Mrs. Jennie Appleton, who has recently moved to Big Spring from Lamesa, was in her home town Tuesday on a business trip. She returned to her new home, 1300 Wood, to find a group of her friends gathered for a housewarming.

Hostesses, Mrs. Earl Holly, Mrs. M. Y. Butler, Mrs. Laverne Rogers and Mrs. John Appleton, had used the time of her absence to decorate a tea table with a lace cloth over pink and center it with pink roses.

A cake, frosted by Mrs. Holly with a replica of the local home, was served to about 32 guests who attended the party.

Green Salads Test Your Imagination

Spring is the season to let the artistry in your culinary soul break out. It's time for crisp, green salads.

Your local store has a good supply of "artists' materials," especially lettuce, cabbage and celery. Your imagination is the limit as to what you can make with them.

Green vegetables are important in meals because of the nutrients they furnish, especially vitamins A and C as well as some minerals. Lettuce is usually considered the most important of the green salad crops since it makes an ideal base for both tart and sweet salads.

Celery adds the texture that most green salads need. Use the leaves as well as the stalk, for they add flavor.

VEGETABLE PLATTER

Fresh Vegetables Liven Spring Menus

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

Come springtime, to market we go to gather in bright and beguiling fresh vegetables. Asparagus, young carrots, green peas, snowy heads of cauliflower; at this time of year, the connoisseur of fine flavor never resists these.

Do right by these garden foods when you prepare them and your table will benefit.

Asparagus, first off. Here we preach our yearly piece: don't go to the trouble of standing the stalks in a double-boiler or percolator to cook them. Just break off tough ends; use a swivel-blade vegetable parer to remove the fibrous outer covering up to the buds, cook in a deep skillet with a dome-type cover in a small amount of boiling water a minimum of time — only until tender-crisp.

Watch like a hawk! Drain and serve with nut-brown butter and savor one of the simplest epicurean dishes.

When carrots are given a partner they become interesting. Cook diced celery with diced carrots for flavor contrast. Or cut carrots matchstick size and julienne snap beans; cook the two together, drain, douse with butter and freshly-grated pepper. Add an orange sauce to cooked carrot rounds — this probably is the most popular partner of all.

And here's a way to show off cauliflower on a vegetable platter. CAULIFLOWER WITH CELERY SAUCE

1 large head cauliflower
3 tbsps. butter or margarine
1 tsp. chopped onion
2 tbsps. flour
1 1/2 cups milk
1 tsp. salt
1/4 tsp. paprika
1/4 tsp. pepper
1 tsp. Worcestershire sauce
1 1/2 cups diced celery (cooked)
1 1/2 tbsps. minced parsley
1 tsp. diced pimiento

For Linen Glaze

A few shavings of parawax added to hot starch will give a pretty gloss to all your table linens.

Wash cauliflower well; remove green stalks. Leave head whole and cook, covered in 1-inch of boiling salted water — 20 to 30 minutes. Cook onion lightly in butter; blend in flour. Stir in milk. Cook and stir constantly over moderate low heat until boiling and thickened. Season with salt, paprika, pepper, and Worcestershire sauce. Add celery, parsley and pimiento.

Serve hot with cauliflower, adding asparagus, carrots and green peas to the platter.

Stuff Onions For Savory Spring Dish

Everyone knows the irresistible appeal of onions. Nothing else can begin to take the place of these assertive vegetables. Certain dishes, such as green beans or Mexican food, simply cannot do without them.

Marinate pearly white slices in wine vinegar for that added fillip to a spring meal. But if you would serve something extra special stuff onions and bake them.

Try this recipe:

SAVORY STUFFED ONIONS

Ingredients:
6 large onions
1/2 cup fine dry bread crumbs
1/2 cup chopped ripe olives
1/2 tsp. salt
Dried crushed thyme
Pepper

1 tsp. butter or margarine (melted)

Grated cheddar cheese

Method:
Peel onions; boil in salted water to cover until tender; drain and hollow out centers. Mix bread crumbs, olives and salt with a dash of thyme, pepper and the melted butter. Chop onion centers and add half (or more) to bread-crumbs mixture.

Fill onions with stuffing; arrange in baking pan; top with cheese. Bake in moderate (350 degrees) oven 30 minutes. Makes six servings.

Do Cook Cabbage With Little Water, Gentle Heat

"Little water and gentle heat." That sounds like a couple of

Spinach Responds To New Treatment

Here is an interesting way to prepare spinach. You may use either the fresh or frozen variety.

SAVORY SPINACH

Ingredients:
1 package (10 ounces) frozen chopped spinach
1/4 cup boiling water
1 tsp. salt
2 1/2 tbsps. butter or margarine
Milk
1-3 cup finely sliced scallions (without green tops)
2 tbsps. flour
Pepper

Method:
Put frozen spinach, boiling water and 1/2 teaspoon of the salt in a 1 1/2-quart saucepan. Have heat moderate and turn spinach with a fork occasionally to break up; cook a few minutes longer. Drain, reserving liquid in a measure; add enough milk to spinach liquid to make 1 cup.

Melt butter in a saucepan over low heat; add scallions; cook gently, stirring several times, until golden—about 5 minutes. Stir in flour; add milk mixture, remaining 1/2 teaspoon salt and pepper to taste. Cook and stir over low heat until thickened and bubbly. Add drained spinach; reheat. Makes four servings.

SPICE VOCABULARY

MINT, an herb, is available either whole or in flaked form. Its characteristics are green color and a distinctive, sweet aroma and flavor.

Mint is compatible with jelly, fruit compote, frostings, custard, ice cream, fruit salad, mint sauce, fruit compote; split pea soup; lamb and veal roast sauces; tea; cottage cheese salad; white potatoes, cabbage, carrots, celery, snap beans.

Indian names, but it's not. It is the rule for cooking cabbage suggested by U. S. Department of Agriculture nutritionists.

Of course the early Indians could have been alert to that rule, too. They knew their cabbage. At least American folklore has it that the Dutch gave the Indians $24 for Manhattan Island in 1669 because of the cabbages growing there.

But, getting back to today, USDA points out that cabbage is tender enough to be eaten "as is." Only gentle heating and a little moisture make it a tasty, hot food.

Green cabbage is a rich source of valuable vitamin C, so essential in warding off colds during "changeable" spring days. Vitamin C is soluble in water and destroyed by heat. So the nutritionists advise steaming cabbage in the liquid that "clings" to the leaves during washing, in a covered pan and the lowest heat.

Even in average years, cabbage gives high nutritional returns per penny spent. This month, though, cabbage is on the list of plentiful foods. Winter and spring crops are overlapping.

South Texas growers, who usually market cabbage earlier, are competing with the regular April supply. As a result, they are receiving only one-half to one-third as much per pound for their domestic round cabbage as they got a year earlier.

Scottish Trick

Profit from an old Scottish breakfast practice and dip your bacon slices in milk, then in flour. Place them in a large skillet and cook over low flame until they are golden-brown on both sides. Serve sizzling hot!

'Old Reliable' Has Flavor Dividend

It's news when an old favorite sandwich undergoes a new flavor touch. Here is the secret: SPECIAL TOMATO BACON SANDWICHES

Ingredients:
12 slices bacon
3 small or 2 medium-sized tomatos
3 tbsps. mayonnaise
1 tsp. chili sauce
1/4 tsp. curry powder
8 slices buttered toast

Method:
Cook bacon until crisp; drain and keep warm. Cut ends from tomatos; slice thin. Stir together until blended the mayonnaise, chili sauce and curry powder.

Cooked Apples

When you want to cook wedges of apple on top of the range for a compote, use a thin syrup: one cup of sugar to three cups of water. Serve the apples with a fluff of cream cheese beaten with a little milk or cream and a suspicion of lemon juice.

Heat Franks

If you place frankfurters on a rack in a shallow pan you can heat them in a hot (400 degrees) oven for 15 or 20 minutes. Nice idea when there are a lot of franks to heat for a crowd.

Orange Shells

Save orange shells after squeezing out the juice and remove inner membranes; pink edges with kitchen shears. Fill with small pieces of cut-up fruit for a company appetizer or dessert.

Crumb Crust

You can use fine vanilla wafer crumbs for a pie shell when you don't want to roll out pastry or bake it. Nice for a chocolate cream filling.

Why Electric Cooking is FAST

Flat-surfaced cooking elements on today's electric ranges start heating instantly, reach full high heat in seconds. Heat is transferred to utensils by direct metal-to-metal contact, with no intervening air space, so you get maximum efficiency and cooking speed.

A fully-insulated electric oven reaches baking or roasting temperature quickly. Since it is insulated all around, including the bottom, it keeps the heat inside the oven. And because electric heat is instant, the broiler requires no preheating. This means that your meals can be prepared in a minimum of time.

Electric cooking is also cool, clean, accurate and economical. Select your new electric range now and enjoy all these benefits... at an average cost of only about 3c a meal for electricity.

Guilty

This is a closeup of Jerry Packe, 14, as he sobs in the corridor of a courthouse in Pittsburgh, Pa., while being led back to his jail cell. He had just been found guilty of second degree murder in the slaying of 54-year-old Mrs. Stevick of Brackenridge, Pa.

Everything Set For Debut Of Bolshoi Ballet

By WILLIAM GLOVER
NEW YORK (AP) — From patched-up floor to iced champagne, everything is set for tonight's big show — the American debut of the Soviet Bolshoi ballet troupe.
A stellar cross-section of society, diplomacy, business—and even dance fans — have plunked down $50 each for box seats and $40 per orchestra chairs to witness the gala.
In addition, there will be 200 standees at $3 each. The eager line to buy that space began queuing up Wednesday afternoon. Those enduring the all-night vigil were armed with blankets, sleeping bags and picnic jugs. The standing room tickets go on sale tonight.
The premiere performance, Prokofiev's "Romeo and Juliet," launches a 3½-week repertory run in the old red-and-gold Metropolitan Opera House. Then the 100 dancers and 90 musicians go on tour, returning here in May to end the eight-week visit with added appearances at Madison Square Garden.
The arrival has been accompanied by an inevitable flurry of last-minute details and snags. Some alleged ticket scalpers have been already nabbed.
But most important, for the performers, was that matter of the stage floor.
"It's like a plowed field," sympathetically murmured an American ballerina, Nora Kaye, after hearing of the visitors' complaint about splintery, rough sections of the stage.
"There's nothing unusual," explained a spokesman for Sol Hurrok, the impresario who is sponsoring the visit in cooperation with the American National Theatre and Academy.
"The floor gets banged up by moving scenery during the opera season. The workmen moved in Monday and have been patching and repairing."
The Russians also discovered during rehearsals that stage movement and leaps had to be reduced, because the Met stage is one-third smaller than their home theater in Moscow.

Rains Dampen Areas Of Texas

By The Associated Press
Showers moistened scattered areas of Texas Thursday while the Weather Bureau forecast thunderstorms and cooler weather for nearly all the state.
Scattered thunderstorms were forecast to sweep across West Texas and North Central Texas Thursday afternoon and on into East and South Central Texas Thursday night and Friday.
Skies were cloudy over central and East Texas and partly cloudy in the extreme west early Thursday.
Light rain fell at Houston, Waco, Mineral Wells, Dallas and Tyler early Thursday. Corpus Christi had drizzle and San Antonio and Austin fog.
Predawn temperatures ranged from 49 degrees at Amarillo and Texarkana to 66 at Brownsville.
Light rains Wednesday hit Del Rio, Llano, Austin, Laredo, Junction, Waco, Palacios, Kingsville, College Station, Victoria, San Antonio, Corpus Christi, Houston, Dallas, Van Horn, Lufkin, Beeville, Cotulla and Sherman.
Highs Wednesday ran from 57 at Austin to 82 at Presidio.

IN LAST YEAR

2,000 Arrested For Drunkenness

'Drunks' provided the large majority of arrests during the past year, according to a report from the police department.

An annual report on its activities for the fiscal year ending in March showed that 3,127 arrests were made, and 2,067 of them were on drunkenness charges. And from this 2,067 total, 1,974 drew fines.

Next largest group of arrests came on vagrancy complaints, 297, and 241 of them were fined. Disturbance charges numbered 122, and 100 persons were arrested and held for other authorities.

The city police arrested 68 persons on driving-while-intoxicated complaints, and 67 arrests were made on theft cases.

The fines for the year totaled $79,649, and $9,773 was paid for parking tickets during the 12 months.

Out of the fines assessed, $53,642 were collected, and jail layouts amounted to $30,695.

During March, the city fined 170 drunks a total of $3,760, and $444 was the total of fines assessed 37 vagrants. Moving violations numbered 132, and these fines totaled $1,189.

The total fines during the month came to $7,002, and jail layouts accounted for $3,491 of the sum.

Overtime parking tickets issued during March totaled 1,365.

Ex-Mayor Issues Statement Of Appreciation, Advice

The following is a statement of appreciation from George W. Darney, who Tuesday evening ended 14 years of service as a city commissioner. Most of that time was spent as mayor of the City of Big Spring.

"I want to thank each and every one for the fine loyal support you have given me the past 14 years that I have served you as city commissioner and mayor.

"I would like personally to thank each individual and group that has supported me these 14 years. You have been wonderful.

"I have tried to be helpful to every one regardless of their status in life.

"It has been a real pleasure to have served you, and I have enjoyed every waking moment that I have served you.

"I have jotted down five rules that might be helpful to politicians if they want to stay in office any length of time.

(1) One must be sincere and truthful. You must take people into your confidence. You must be able to take constructive criticism. Lay all your cards on the table and don't try to hide anything.

(2) You must have a feeling of what the people want. You must be able to sense a situation. You must be yourself; don't try to imitate someone else.

(3) You must be able to make prompt decisions. You must be able to make compromises, but never compromise a principle.

(4) Get all the information you can from others, but use your best judgment in making decisions. Try to do the most good for the most people.

(5) Make your own speeches even if they are inferior; people like sincerity and originality. Don't do anything that will keep you awake nights. Be concerned and anxious, but don't let worry get you down. Work won't hurt you, but worry will ...

"God bless all of you."
 G. W. DARNEY

CTC Presents Essay Awards

Janice Downing of Big Spring High School and Pat Loudamy of Runnels Junior High received top awards in the annual Citizens Traffic Commission essay contest. The announcement came today in an assembly program at the high school.

Sam Anderson, assistant superintendent, made the presentations.

Second place in the senior high category went to Jeanne Hammon, first place winner last year and honorable mention recipient in 1957.

Sharon Gary of Goliad Junior High had the second best essay in that category.

In addition to the first and second place trophies in each class, five honorable mention medals were given in senior high and five in junior high.

The winners were picked from 54 entries submitted by Big Spring and Forsan. Trophies and medals were donated by Security State Bank.

The essays were judged by a committee of five. Mrs. J. W. Forrester, Marvis Koon, Sgt. John T. Cooper, Paul Vagt, and Edith Gay.

Tax Election Called In Elbow District

Thirty-nine patrons of Elbow School District No. 10 signed a petition to Ed Carpenter, county judge, asking a tax election in their district. The petition was filed late Tuesday and Judge Carpenter indicated that he planned to call the election on May 2.

The petition asks that the commissioners be authorized by a vote of the district to set the tax rate for ad valorem taxes in Elbow district at $1.50 per hundred dollar valuation. The money, it was explained, was for school maintenance.

Walker Bailey, county school superintendent, said the election is in accord with a special statute on the law books. Under this law, a district by vote can establish the rate for taxation on ad valorem property at $1.50 and utilize all of the tax funds derived for maintenance of schools. Any bonded indebtedness (up to a certain per cent of the district's total valuation) is retired by an extra levy which the commissioners are empowered to assess.

Bailey said that Elbow's ad valorem rate is now $1.50 a hundred but that out of it, the school has to use 25 cents to retire bonded indebtedness. This leaves the money for maintenance inadequate to the demands. By having the election as set up in the petition and assuming it carries, the school will have the full $1.50 for maintenance and levy another 25 cents to meet payments on the debt.

He said that a number of districts have already voted such authority to the tax levy setting bodies.

Gather 'Round, Little Ones

Entertaining six-month-old Chris is a popular occupation at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Jack H. Burnett Jr. Stephen and Lisa beam with pride when they show him off to company. The group is seated near the hearth, a cozy spot to which family and friends just seem to gravitate.

Herb Cookery, Casseroles Offer Unlimited Vista For Mrs. Burnett

Mrs. Jack H. (Josh) Burnett Jr. avers that casseroles are her preferred area of cookery because they challenge her to discover combinations that compliment and enhance each other.

The Baylor University graduate in biology recalls that, in her case, learning to cook came after the wedding; under the stimulus of a lean budget during Dr. Burnett's medical school days in Atlanta and prodded by their pleasure in informal entertaining, she experimented with the different wonderful things that can be done with beef, chicken and shrimp. Exploring the mysteries of herb cookery has increased her culinary acumen still further.

Our featured cook passes along a quartet of her specialties. The Mock Hollandaise Sauce is excellent with such vegetables as asparagus, broccoli, brussels sprouts. Beets take on new significance when dressed with a vinegared sauce. Shrimp Curry makes a nice "company" dish and can be elegantly served from a chafing dish. The Green Chicken Enchiladas are a delicious deviation from the basic Southwestern favorite.

The couple is active in St. Mary's Episcopal Church. Their new home at 2500 Morrison Drive, tailor-made to their needs and interests, exudes the charm of a pair keenly alert to creativeness and aesthetic pursuits. The master bedroom furniture forms the nucleus of a burgeoning collection of antiques. Fascinating nooks and crannies house old glass, heaps of intriguing books, colorful canvases done by friends and the doctor's own paintings, records for the hi fi, items picked up in their travels.

Mrs. Burnett is concentrating her energies, club-wise, on the Child Study Club at present. Most of her time, however, is devoted to the three Burnett youngsters—Stephen, 5, who is in kindergarten; Lisa, who will be four in June; and 6-month-old Chris. They have the run of a spacious backyard, fully enclosed, onto which the livingroom looks.

Cooking is Mrs. Burnett's own brand of artistry. Try her recipes:

SHRIMP CURRY

4 tbsps. butter
1 large onion, chopped fine
1/4 cup apple, chopped fine
1/4 cup celery, chopped fine
1 1/2 cups water
3 lbs. shrimp, boiled and cleaned
2 tbsps. curry powder
1 pt. cream
Salt and pepper to taste

Put butter in frying pan. When melted, add onion, apple and celery. Sauté these, then add water. Continue to simmer gently until apple and celery are tender and most of the liquid has cooked away. Stir into the mixture the seasonings. Add the cream and shrimp. Cook gently until cream is reduced to sauce consistency.

Serve with plenty of well cooked rice. Have small bowls of grated coconut, chutney, chopped almonds and pickle relish on hand.

GREEN CHICKEN ENCHILADAS

6 tortillas
1 flat tin green chilies
1 medium onion
1/2 lb. sliced Swiss cheese
1 can cream of mushroom soup
2 tbsps. butter
2 cans chicken
Chop onion and green chilies fine and saute in butter until clear.

Yummy Chicken

Flavor creamed chicken with a little sherry and pour over cooked broccoli; sprinkle with grated Romano or Parmesan cheese and broil.

in greased 2-quart casserole put a layer of tortillas, then a layer of chilies and onions mixed with chicken, then a layer of sliced cheese. Pour cream of mushroom soup over all and bake at 325 degrees for 25 to 30 minutes.

MOCK HOLLANDAISE SAUCE

3 tbsps. butter
1 tsp. flour
1/4 cup hot water
2 tbsps. lemon juice
2 egg yolks or 1 egg
1/2 tsp. salt and pepper
Mix soft butter, flour and beaten egg. Pour in lemon juice and add hot water. Put on stove until it bubbles up well. Thicken a little; add salt, pepper, and serve on asparagus or broccoli.

BEST BEETS

2 cups beets
3/4 tbsps. flour
1/2 cup sugar
1/4 tsp. salt
1/4 cup cider vinegar
2 tbsps. butter
Mix flour with sugar and salt. Pour on vinegar and stir until dissolved. Let come to a boil, stirring constantly. Cook for 5 minutes. Add butter.

Pour sauce over drained beets and serve hot. Serves four.

Mineral-Rich Shrimp Has Mighty Potential

Shrimp, long popular as an appetizer, can appease the whole appetite. Cooks who fail to include shrimp in their menu planning are overlooking a fine food, not only because they are adaptable to various types of cookery, but because they are rich in calcium, phosphorus, copper and iodine.

Fully peeled, de-veined shrimp leave nothing to throw away and are ready for use in three distinct forms. Raw-frozen individually or in flatter packages; pre-cooked, vacuum-packed and frozen shrimp, specially processed after peeling and de-veining for a fresh-cooked flavor which makes them ideal for cocktails, salads and other dishes asking for cooked shrimp; canned shrimp, processed in natural juices, fork-tender, which make excellent sandwich fillings, canape spreads, hot shrimp dishes of many kinds.

Add that exotic note to your next dinner party by serving shrimp in one form or another. Here are recipes:

SHRIMP DEJOUHE

3 cans (4 1/2 oz. each) de-veined, large shrimp
1 cup dry bread crumbs
1/4 cup butter or oleo, melted
1/4 cup chopped green onions and tops
2 cloves garlic, finely chopped
2 tsp. chopped parsley
1 tsp. chervil
1 tsp. tarragon vinegar
1 tsp. crushed whole thyme
1/4 tsp. nutmeg
Dash mace
1/4 cup sherry

2 tbsps. butter or oleo, melted
1/2 cup dry bread crumbs
Drain shrimp. Cover with ice water; let stand for 5 minutes.

Drain. Combine crumbs, butter, onion, garlic, parsley, chervil, vinegar, thyme, nutmeg, mace and sherry.

Place alternate layers of shrimp and crumb mixture in a well greased 1 quart casserole. Combine butter and crumbs; sprinkle over top of casserole. Bake in a moderate oven, 350 degrees, for 1 hour or until brown. Serves six.

SHRIMP ROCKEFELLER

1 lb. packaged pre-cooked, frozen shrimp
2 pkgs. (12 oz. each) frozen, chopped spinach
1/4 cup butter or oleo
1 1/2 tsp. Worcestershire sauce
2 tsp. anchovy paste
1/4 tsp. salt
1/4 tsp. tabasco
1 tsp. celery salt
1/2 cup chopped green onions and tops

2 cloves garlic, finely chopped
1 cup chopped lettuce
3 slices white bread, crusts removed
1/4 cup water
2 tbsps. butter or oleo, melted
1/2 cup dry bread crumbs
1/4 cup grated Parmesan cheese
Thaw shrimp; thaw spinach and drain. Melt butter and blend in seasonings. Add vegetables and simmer 10 minutes, or until tender. Moisten bread with water; add vegetables and mix well.

Place shrimp in six well-greased individual shells or 10 oz. casseroles, reserving six shrimp for top. Cover with vegetable mixture. Combine butter and crumbs. Sprinkle buttered crumbs and cheese over top of each shell. Place a shrimp on top. Bake in a hot oven, 400 degrees, for 15 minutes or until brown.

SHRIMP REMOLADE

1 lb. pre-cooked, frozen shrimp
2 cloves garlic, finely chopped
1-3 cup horseradish mustard
2 tbsps. catsup
2 1/2 tbsps. paprika
1/4 tsp. cayenne pepper
1 tsp. salt
1-3 cup tarragon vinegar
1/4 cup olive or salad oil
1/4 cup chopped green onions and tops

Letting
Thaw shrimp. Combine all ingredients except shrimp and lettuce; shake well. Marinate shrimp in sauce for several hours in refrigerator. Serve on lettuce. Serves six.

A Devotional For Today

These are they who have come out of the great tribulation; they have washed their robes and made them white in the blood of the Lamb. Therefore are they before the throne of God, and serve him day and night within his temple. (Revelations 7:14, 15.)

PRAYER: Dear Lord, we thank Thee that Thou dost cleanse us of sin. Help us to be Thy servants because we love Thee. Guide us by the Holy Spirit that we may find outlets for serving Thee this day. Grant us strength to do Thy work. In the Master's name. Amen.

Mr. Dulles' Great Devotion

Secretary of State Dulles has bowed to the inevitable; he has resigned his position in the knowledge of his incapacity from a consuming illness.

The decision was Mr. Dulles' for the President would not make it for him. Now the die is cast; Mr. Eisenhower must come face to face with the issue of picking the right man for the most critical spot in our government below his own office. One can understand the President's reluctance to consider a successor for the ailing Mr. Dulles, although one might disagree. Mr. Eisenhower hoped and prayed—as did all Americans—that the secretary's recovery would be complete. It wasn't and it can't be, and time has been lost.

We now face a crucial foreign minister's conference as a prelude to the summit meeting in the summer. Our voice in the preliminary meeting—which is really the most important meeting of all because it is only at this level that there is any opportunity for real constructive negotiation—will be on an acting basis, which may restrict us to some degree. We are going to need the closest liaison humanly possible between our emissaries and our chief executive during this period. Anything less than making this paramount will doom it to failure or to disadvantage.

Meanwhile, let us be concerned for the condition of Mr. Dulles. He fought with all the vigor and dedication he could muster even in the face of collapsing health. No soldier on the field of battle could do more, for in the end Mr. Dulles will have given his life in the service of his country.

The Beloved Capt. Waskow

One of the most moving battlefield stories of the late Ernie Pyle ever wrote related to a heroic captain of infantry, Henry T. Waskow, of Belton, Texas. He described how the dead captain's body was brought down, lashed to the back of a mule, off a mountain in the Cassino area of Italy, and the reactions of his men when it reached the company HQ.

"Never have I crossed the trail of any man as beloved as was Captain Waskow," Pyle wrote.

Well, there was news of the heroic captain in the papers last week, when the Temple Telegram printed a copyrighted story in which the captain's last will and testament was made public for the first time. The family had finally consented to its publication because "it might help some mother or her soldier son."

The captain's will was almost as moving as Ernie Pyle's story of his death on December 14, 1943, at age 25. This is but a single paragraph:

"If you get to read this, I will have died in defense of my country and all that it stands for—the most honorable and distinguished death a man can die." He prayed for "strength of character and courage to lead these magnificent Americans."

David Lawrence

Senate Power Over Court Appointee

WASHINGTON—Several members of the United States Senate are a little disturbed over the attempt the other day to gag them when they were questioning Justice Potter Stewart of the Supreme Court of the United States.

Mr. Stewart was given a "recess appointment" as an associate justice of the Supreme Court on October 14, 1958. He has not been confirmed by the Senate, but he has participated in many decisions and has written nine opinions.

Some justices in the past have declined to take the oath of office until confirmed. The embarrasments that come to a justice who is already sitting on the Court but who has to appear before a congressional committee to give information, presumably on his own qualifications, are obvious.

In the hearing of the Senate Judiciary Committee the other day, lasting two hours, a point of order was made that no question should be asked of Justice Stewart concerning Supreme Court decisions or his own attitude toward past decisions. But, in the discussion that followed, it was apparent that the point of order was not concurred in by other members of the committee from both the North and the South.

While the Constitution provides that the Senate may confirm or reject any presidential nomination submitted to it, sometimes, when Congress is not in session, "recess appointments" are made. The recipient of such an appointment can serve only through the subsequent session of Congress. If he is not confirmed during that session, he is no longer eligible to remain in his post.

Justice Stewart was, of course, not on the Supreme Court when the segregation decisions of 1954 were issued, but he has since had opportunities to concur in various rulings derived from the original case. On the surface, it would seem to be an impropriety to ask any Supreme Court justice to discuss his reasoning with respect to decisions that he has already rendered on the high court, even though serving under a recess appointment. But the senators on the Judiciary Committee did not ask about current decisions. They were interested in the reasoning of the Supreme Court in decisions prior to the time of Mr. Stewart's appointment. They wanted to know whether the new justice agrees with the reasoning, and Senator McClellan of Arkansas, Democrat, asked him to explain what he thinks was the reasoning and logic applied in the school segregation cases.

Justice Stewart said that basically he agrees with the 1954 decision, but not with "all the grammar and the footnotes." Yet it was one of those footnotes citing "psychological authority"—including Gunnar Myrdal, a Swedish Socialist—that has occasioned widespread criticism. Certainly in the argument before the Supreme Court itself, there was no opportunity to offer a rebuttal to the Myrdal view, because the "footnote" had at the time not been mentioned by the Court.

It might well be asked of what value it is to determine whether an appointee to the Court agrees or disagrees with past decisions. On this point, Mr. Stewart said, "I've never read any opinion of any court that I thought was perfect."

But the real duty of the Senate, every time a judicial appointment is submitted, is to find out whether the prospective justice actually believes in a written Constitution and the method prescribed therein for its amendment, or whether he believes that the Supreme Court can override the Constitution at will.

At one point, when the Senate Judiciary Committee was interrogating Justice Stewart, he was asked:

"Do you think the Supreme Court has the power to amend the Constitution?" He answered: "Certainly not to amend it, no."

The questioning of Justice Stewart is to be resumed in a few days. This is not the first time the views of a judicial appointee have come under close scrutiny by members of the Senate Judiciary Committee. Back in 1930, when Charles Evans Hughes was nominated to be Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, he was sharply criticized for his views in various cases. Indeed, much of the opposition to his confirmation came from the radicals of those days, and on the final vote they voted against Mr. Hughes plainly because of his previous decisions. In the case of John J. Parker, a member of the U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals who was nominated by President Hoover for the Supreme Court of the United States, the labor-union opposition was such that his nomination was rejected by a vote of the Senate.

There is, therefore, ample precedent for the present members of the Judiciary Committee to examine the views of any appointee to the Supreme Court and, indeed, to vote against him if they are so inclined.

WHAT OTHERS SAY

Former President Truman made an ill-considered remark the other day which might have given some foreign journalists a false idea of the American press.

At a Press Conference of the World at the University of Missouri, attended by delegates from 40 countries, Truman said, "I don't know what a free press is, I've never seen one."

He went on to slug away at the newspapers for printing "what the editors want" instead of reporting the news as it happens. But then he stuck his foot in his mouth. He said that he would do just what he was accusing the editors of doing: "I'd like to be newspaper editor so I could get what I want in the paper."

Truman knows better of course. Newspapers print the news, not "what the editors want." If they didn't he never would have won that uphill race in 1948. Nearly all the metropolitan dailies were against him. The polls indicated he hadn't a chance. But his "give 'em hell" campaigning was good copy. The newspapers kept him on the front page every day and gave his campaign more space than they did the comparatively pallid one Gov. Dewey was making. All that space given him by newspapers which were against him put his campaign over.

The Boston Globe accepted Truman's challenge. It offered to let him be editor for a day so he could get what he wanted into the paper. He turned the offer down.

Red Squeeze On Cairo Conference

A meeting of grave importance to the Western world opens in Cairo today.

After much jockeying and many postponements, the Arab League is holding its first petroleum conference, attended by representatives of both the producing and nonproducing countries of the Middle East.

Iraq, one of the big producers, will not be represented. A com-bin of Arab rivalries and Communist pressure has fomented a violent feud between the Iraqi regime of Premier Abdel Karim Kassam and President Gamal Abdel Nasser of the United Arab Republic.

Communist influence is likely to figure heavily in the Cairo deliberations. Already the Communists have opened an offensive to identify the congress with the cold war between the Kremlin and the West.

Inspired and instructed by Soviet experts, the Communists are attempting to put a painful squeeze on Nasser.

The purpose of the conference is to determine ways to use the wealth from Arab oil to better the lot of all Arab countries.

This oil cannot be produced without the Americans and British. Many of the participants in the congress, indeed, will be representatives of American and British companies operating in the Middle East. Only a few Arabs are competent to discuss the vast complexities of the oil industry, and surely the Arabs must have Western technical advice and assistance in any program they undertake.

The Communists, therefore, find themselves in the position of being able to resurrect a specter which so often has moved Arabs to violence: Western colonialism.

American and British participation in the congress, the Communists are saying in a mammoth propaganda drive, proves Egypt's Nasser is the tool of imperialism and should be overthrown by patriotic nationalists. This attack has a number of purposes.

At all costs, the Communists want to keep Iraq out of any all-Arab scheme to use the oil riches. Iraq represents a future golden opportunity for a first Communist grab at control in Arab oil affairs.

At the same time, the Communists want to weaken other Arab rulers, in Kuwait, Saudi Arabia and the little British protectorates. The Communists will try to make the rulers suspect in the eyes of nationalists. America and Britain, the Arabs are told, support hated Israel. American and British "monopolies" collaborate with Nasser to exploit Arab riches.

Nasser is trying to grab Iraq's oil for his own purposes, the Reds charge.

Nasser is in a bit of a fix. In his furious eruption of anti-West fever between 1955 and late 1958, he made much of his economy and military establishment dependent upon Moscow. Moscow is in a position to hurt him unless he can get massive support from the West. But his attacks on the West have him far out on a limb, perhaps unable to crawl all the way back.

Arab oil keeps the wheels of Europe's industry turning. Any development regarding its future is of grave concern to the West.

WHAT OTHERS SAY

Writing to Gov. Price Daniel on the highway situation, Indiana's Gov. Harold Handley is concerned for the immediate future of the federal highway program and with considerable cause.

Handley stresses the fact that the provisions of the Federal Highway Act of 1958, superseding provisions of the previous 1956 act, must inevitably do this: It will prevent allocation of funds to the states for fiscal 1960-61 and allow only about $500 million for fiscal 1961-62, about one-fifth of the total amount authorized in the 1958 act for the latter year. In other words, Handley points out that the interstate program will be practically halted for those two years.

Governor Handley points out that the funds would be available if federal highway taxes were restricted to the use of the highway program. But this is not the case. Hence a just cause for alarm. Whether the current session of Congress, confronted with ample financial worries, will or can remedy the situation may be doubtful. Handley has done what he could to make the adverse picture clear.

The Man Who Created Rhodes Scholars

It seems ironic (to me, at least) that the world's best-known scholarship owes its existence to a man who was a firm believer in racial inequality.

He was the late Cecil Rhodes, a sickly English lad who grew up to become master of South Africa and responsible for much of England's colonialism in that region.

Rhodes' racial complex wasn't confined to the simple belief in the superiority of whites over races of other colors. He believed in the supremacy of the English-speaking people, sort of the way the lamented Adolph Hitler theorized that the Germans were a super-race.

Anyway, Rhodes Scholars came into being to send the cream of American undergraduates to Oxford for study.

Irony of the thing is, Americans are such an amalgamation of races. If we could trace our ancestry, most of us probably would find that our forebears gathered from every section of the globe. We do speak a form of English, though.

Rhodes migrated from England to South

Africa as a youth to cure himself of tuberculosis. That was in 1870. Within two decades he was head of the South Africa Company, which controlled the flow of both gold and diamonds from the territory. He also became prime minister of Cape Colony.

When he died at the age of 49, his wealth amounted to about $200 million and he had added some 800,000 square miles of territory to the British Empire. The countries of North and South Rhodesia—named after Rhodes—were created during his heyday.

Shortly before his death, he became involved in the struggle to strangle the Boers loose from their hold in a part of the territory and was forced to resign as prime minister.

Regardless of Rhodes' beliefs and motives, his scholarships no doubt have contributed a lot to the development of racial understanding and international goodwill. Here's hoping there'll always be Rhodes Scholars.

Albuquerque Area In The Front Line

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M.—It takes a trip to this bustling, bursting community in the sun to realize that the citizens of this community and those of my home town, New York, share a common and fearful bond.

The citizens of each are convinced, not within cause, that in case of nuclear war, each lives in a prime target area for the enemy. To a selfish New Yorker, it is comfort, even if kinda cold, to discover a target that seems even pricier than his own bailiwick.

And Albuquerque certainly does seem pricier! Here, on the edge of town, is the great Sandia Military Base whose area embraces the Sandia Corporation.

This corporation, in reality a vast laboratory, designs and develops the nuclear and thermonuclear weapons that encase the explosive systems or charges of uranium or hydrogen cooked up at Los Alamos or in the Livermore laboratories in California.

After the physicists of Los Alamos and Livermore have perfected each new shot of nuclear fuel in the kiloton or megaton range, they put their baby on the doorstep of the Sandia Laboratories, which takes it from there.

Then it is up to the Sandia scientists to design the bomb body or casing, its fusing or firing systems that detonate the weapon, together with its internal components. These include power supplies and timing mechanisms, radars, barometric switches and other components and circuitry which comprise the intricate actuating mechanisms (and none of which I really have the wits to understand).

The corporation is big, ultra-secret, filled with genuine, high-class engineers and employs a staff of almost 8,000 persons. (The Sandia Lab, by the way is operated by the Atomic Energy Commission under a nonprofit contract with the Western Electric Company.)

The corporation must also arrange for the manufacture of the fearsome weapons it is eternally developing. It also designs the mechanic's tools or handling equipment for field assembly and testing of its ultra-hot products.

Now, I pride myself on reading omnivorously. But this fascinating Sandia Corporation must have been in the ultra-fine print. It came to me as a great surprise—as one of the fascinating, little-known developments that honeycomb this great and beautiful nation, once a citizen begins prowling around in his own country.

Certainly, the Sandia Base, in time of nuclear war, would be one of the first targets for obliteration by an enemy. But it is not the only reason the Albuquerque citizens feel themselves on the front line. The Manzana Base in the Manzana mountain range shadowing Albuquerque is one of the nation's "atomic stockpile sites."

No one knows how many nuclear and thermonuclear bombs are stashed away in the nearby range that the Spanish long ago christened "Manzana," the Apple Mountains.

In addition, Albuquerque is less than a 60-minute drive away from the richest open-pit uranium mine in the world. Indeed, the northwest quarter of New Mexico contains more than 60 per cent of the nation's known uranium deposits!

Oddly enough, the Sandia Base and Laboratory were in full swing long before a Navajo sheep rancher, Patricia (Paddy) Martinez, stumbled on the yellow rock in 1950 that uncovered the state's rich uranium potential and started New Mexico's uranium boom.

But the citizens of Albuquerque, like those of New York, take their front-line position in event of nuclear war with a philosophic or fatalistic shrug. I have been unable to unearth a single citizen of Albuquerque who has built himself or his family an atomic shelter!

Nixon Laying Strong Groundwork

WASHINGTON—If Vice President Nixon is concerned by the growing speculation that he may be nosed out by the Presidential nomination next year by Gov. Nelson Rockefeller his close associates have detected not the least sign of it. He gives every impression of a man serenely content to wait for what destiny may bring him.

There is good reason why this should be so. The vice president, as one of the shrewdest practitioners of the art of politics, knows that things within his party are running his way. He has some reason to believe that the trend today favors a Republican candidate in '60.

Long in advance of his selection Nixon and his team of strategists had approved Sen. Thruston B. Morton of Kentucky to be chairman of the Republican National Committee. They have no illusions about what Morton can do as part-time chairman of the party.

He will be a respectable stand-in until after the convention in Chicago has chosen a presidential nominee. Then the nominee will pick his own man to direct the campaign. Morton will make the right speeches and issue the right statements from his top-drawer Kentucky background. His is the politics of upper-case Republicanism that is charted to a careful course between any and all extremes.

This is, in short, a holding operation. And all the time Nixon's own organization will be working intensively in state after state to nail down the nomination.

His hold on orthodox Republicans is indisputable. Year in and year out he and the shrewd operators in his camp have been working with the men and women throughout the country who will go to the convention and select the nominee. In one nationwide campaign after another Nixon has found time at each stop to meet with the grass-roots leaders, to give flattering attention to their views and to send back warm and friendly letters of appreciation.

What the astute men around Nixon understand is that in order to get the nomination from the vice president—and for all practical purposes he has it as of today—Rockefeller must have a professional spearhead. He must have able and knowledgeable leaders, such as former Gov. Thomas E. Dewey and former Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell Jr. who will do the essential spade work.

Dewey and Brownell in 1951 and the early months of '52 prepared the way for Gen. Eisenhower's nomination. Whether they would do the same thing for Rockefeller today is a question. There is some evidence that Dewey has been disillusioned with the Eisenhower administration and disillusioned perhaps with the game of politics itself. Absorbed in a highly lucrative law practice he has had little contact with the White House.

In sidetracking Nixon as they sidetracked the late Sen. Robert A. Taft, they would stir even greater hostility among the Republican regulars than came out of the '52 fracas. While the orthodox Nixon has replaced Taft as a kind of Mr. Republican Jr., this inheritance he has been careful to cultivate. In his speech on the rule of world law before the Academy of Political Science in New York he quoted Taft on international organization as "one of the most brilliant political and legal minds in the nation's history."

Should he cinch the nomination as Mr. Republican Jr., the question then becomes how much it is worth. The detailed statistical analysis of last November's debacle left behind by retiring Chairman Meade Alcorn shows that Republicans are in almost every part of the country a dwindling species.

But the Nixon team pins its hopes on two factors. One is the growing evidence of a half-dozen cracks in the Democratic front. By the time the campaign of '60 rolls around the Democrats, in this view, will be hopelessly split.

The second factor is a revival of all-out prosperity, with unemployment falling below 3,000,000. A Republican-sponsored tax cut judiciously brought forward next February or March will spark it. This is the stuff of the Nixon dream and it is rather more substantial than most political dreams.

He Gets Action

TOLEDO, Ohio (U)—Four-year-old Mark Heldrum, a pneumonia victim, called for his nurse at Mercy Hospital to tell her he was feeling better. She didn't appear, so Mark pushed a button. Bells clang, intercommunications speakers blared and the hospital corridors became a river of rushing nurses and doctors. Mark had pushed the fire alarm.

Champ Crow Hunters

IDABEL, Okla. (U)—Herbert Derryberry is in the crow killing business in a big way. He bought a hi-fi battery operated record player and some crow call records. He can call crows from several miles away. Unless he kills 35 or 40 a day he does not consider it much of a hunt.

Ancient Books Make For Big Business

By W. G. ROGERS
Associated Press Arts Editor
NEW YORK (AP)—Sotheby's, the London firm that auctions books and paintings for prices usually paid for yachts and racing stables, gets from the United States up to a quarter of the material it sells, and sells up to half of it right back to us.

That's the estimate of one of the ancient firm's eight directors, youngish Anthony Hobson, a personable book authority who specializes in bindings, who has just come here for his fourth quick visit, who likes New York but finds it fast and wearing, and who talks fascinatingly about his business in a sterling English accent so authentic that Sotheby's—Sothe-sub-bee's, three syllables—ought to be able to auction it off, too.

A black-haired, slender, World War II veteran with a small neat moustache, Hobson, whose father also was in the firm, says knowledge is essential, but "a collector just has to be bitten with it."

"Tastes in collections vary a great deal from country to country and from time to time. Before the war, Regency furniture was very cheap, now it's very hard to get. Once people made very generalized collections, now they tend to specialize. A man gets all of Horace Walpole; it's at Yale. Or some one may start on Gibbon, first editions, his letters,

Book Authority

Anthony Hobson is one of the directors of Sotheby's of London, which claims to be the oldest book and art auction firm in the world. Here he examines a manuscript to see if it has resale value.

books from his library, letters that mention him.

PAINTINGS BROUGHT $10,000

"Four or five years ago we handled the estate of Ashburnham Place. There were three great collectors in the family, who bought Italians of one period or another and books. At the sale in 1953, paintings by Salvator Rosa and Guido Reni, that you almost could have given away before then, fetched $10,000 apiece.

"Then, of course, there are different interests. Americans don't buy so many illuminated manuscripts. You take the books. The interest of your individual in books is traceable. I think, to college English departments. We just wander into a bookstore and start haphazard."

"There is," he continued, "a fair amount of chance in it. A man rang us from Lancashire, he was leaving his house, he had books, all rubbish, he said. He sent them on, it looked in fact like the most terrible collection of Victorian rubbish you can imagine. There were about 150 books, none sold for more than $100, with one exception. It fetched $23,000. It was 'Littleton's Tenures,' a legal work, and in a contemporary binding with it a shortened version of English statutes. It's the only known book both printed and bound, in 1481, by the first, or one of the first printers in the city of London, John Letton.

SHAW'S WRITINGS SELL
"When George Bernard Shaw left his London flat, he turned all his furniture over to us. It wasn't up to our standard, but we did sell his books. Among them was one of that first printing of T. E. Lawrence's 'The Seven Pillars of Wisdom.' It fetched about $1,500, or double the usual amount, because Shaw had written in it.

"He was a tremendous Sotheby's fan. When he was old he had delusions of bankruptcy, and he discovered that if he wrote some long inscription in a book he could sell it for five times what he paid. He was always writing people and noting that if they were hard up, they could sell his letter."

Hobson said there were many fewer books coming on the market now than 30 years ago; that however they bring higher prices; and that more of them are sold at auction than through dealers. Though in this country many collections go straight to libraries and universities, in Europe they are more apt to be sold.

MODERN NOT ATTRACTIVE
Modern works are not such attractive buys and maybe never will be. "The Seven Pillars of Wisdom" brings a good price, so does a "Gulliver's Travels" printed by London's Cressid Press. The first 100 or so copies of French books, done on special paper and with distinctive binding, also have a rare-book market value.

After that, it is names that matter. "I saw Middleton Murray's second wife to ask her whether there were any of the books or papers of his first wife, Katherine Mansfield. She thought not. Had she looked in the attic? She had not, but she did, and found some 400 inscribed books, which made a fine sale two years ago."

Sotheby's, called the oldest book and art auction firm in the world, was founded in 1744. It has handled the libraries of Napoleon and Talleyrand, and the possessions of many crowned heads. Last fall it auctioned off seven paintings for the all-time high of $2,186,000.

Stage Hypnotist Will Appear Friday

James Fetz, stage hypnotist, will be the star of the "Hypnodrama" show to be presented here Friday. Sponsored by the Eagles lodge, the show will begin at 8:00 in City Auditorium. Proceeds will be used for Eagles projects.

Fetz has traveled in India and Egypt studying fakirs, mystics and holy men, and has appeared in theatres, hotels, supper clubs and before civic organizations.

Beginning with a layman's explanation of the hypnotic phenomenon, Fetz will put the entire audience through a test run to help choose easily-hypnotized subjects. It is with a stage full of these people that Fetz will accomplish most of his trance sequences.

Some of the scenes will include: Scratching and swatting at imaginary mosquitoes.

Trip to Florida, which the subjects will "remember" after the show is over, and disappearance of the audience upon their return.

A soft shoe dance routine done to imaginary music.

Subjects are "transported" to any part of the Universe to see anything they desire. Subject eats a lemon, believing it to be an orange.

One of the highlights of the program promises to be in an age regression, experiment similar to those in the famed Bridey Murphy case. In this scene, the subjects will be taken back to a supposedly "previous" life.

Ex-Prosecutor Oversees Filming Of Famous Book

By BOB THOMAS
Associated Press Movie-TV Writer

MARQUETTE, Mich. (AP)—The setting was familiar enough to John Voelker — the Marquette County courtroom where he prosecuted many a case as district attorney.

But the defense attorney was a movie star, James Stewart, and he was questioning beautiful Lee Remick. On the bench was the noted lawyer-turned-actor Joseph Welch. The action was directed by film maker Otto Preminger.

Voelker could blame this invasion on his own double life. To the citizens of Michigan he is known as a justice of the State Supreme Court. But he is also Robert Traver, author of the best-selling "Anatomy of a Murder," and he is here to give advice on filming of the tale.

He is a big, friendly man whose resemblance to John Wayne was noted by Jimmy Stewart. Between scenes, he lighted a cheroot and talked about his two professions.

It was the voters of Marquette County who interfered with his writing career. Six times they voted him district attorney. The seventh time, they turned him out. "That gave me the time to be an author," he said. "I took five and a half months off and did nothing but write."

The result was "Anatomy of a Murder."

The justice is keeping a close eye on the film makers and approves the treatment of his book — "there will be no last-minute witnesses, no sitting on the lap of those testifying, no finger-pointing in third degree. That's corn, pure corn, and all lawyers who see trial movies recognize this."

Voodoo Makes 5th Speed Record

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—A McDonnell RF 101, Voodoo, the world's fastest photo reconnaissance aircraft, streaked to its fifth speed record Wednesday.

Piloted by Air Force Capt. George A. Edwards Jr., the plane roared over a triangular 500-kilometer course at 816.279 m.p.h. The world record was announced by the Tactical Air Command at the World Congress of Flight.

The previous record was 695.127 m.p.h. over a similar course in July 1955 by a Navy A4D1 fighter. Edwards, from Crossville, Tenn., and stationed at Shaw Air Force Base, S.C., flew over a course beginning and ending on the Mojave Desert.

Nike Sites Planned For Abilene Area

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two launching sites for Nike missiles will be acquired near Abilene,

Tex., the Pentagon said yesterday.

One of the sites will be 12 miles north of Abilene and the other 12 miles southwest of the city, Air Force officials informed Rep. Omar Burlison (D-Tex.). The two sites would total 85 acres.

There was no information as to when the defensive missiles would be installed. Between 250 and 300 officers and enlisted men will be required to man the Nike bases.

Not Every Actress Works Minimum

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP)—Not every successful young performer in television and the theater has heard of the eight-hour day.

Carol Lawrence was discussing this before her appearance tonight in "Too Bad About Sheila Troy" over NBC-TV on "Oldsmobile Theater" (8:30 p.m., EST).

Miss Lawrence, who stars in "West Side Story" on Broadway, plays a temperamental actress who formerly was a child movie star in tonight's live production.

While Miss Lawrence had been singing, dancing and acting in "West Side Story" she has been maintaining a rigorous weekly schedule of study. Her subjects: singing, dancing and acting.

"You never should stop studying," she said. "Both the theater and television are changing rapidly. The theater is a different place than it was 20 years ago. And television is different than it was even two years ago. Increasingly drama displays deeper psychological insight."

"It's no longer enough to be either an actor or singer or dancer. If possible you should be able to do all three. All are related.

The old days of the theater are past when you could get one role and play it for the rest of your life. Both the theater and television demand a greater diversity from a performer."

Comely, dark-haired Miss Lawrence was given time off from "West Side Story" to appear in the TV drama. Her schedule should give pause to many an office worker who feels he is burdened by the 40-hour week.

Her husband, Cosmo F. Allegretti, is a puppeteer on "Captain Kangaroo," the early morning CBS-TV program. That means he rises at 5:30 a.m. As a dutiful wife, she feels that she must too.

She studies her triumvirate of talents in the mornings. Normally she has two matinees and six nightly performances in her physically exhausting role in "West Side Story." Then her husband calls for her at the theater and takes her home. "Since I get up in the morning, he insists on staying up at night."

In addition, she frequently appears in television shows.

"It's a wonderful way of life," she said. "I wouldn't change it."
