Wide Areas Of Texas Are Soaked

By The Associated Press. A cloudburst struck the Palestine area of East Texas Saturday night after twisting winds raked four South Texas towns earlier in the day. The Palestine Herald-Press said 6.30 inches of rain poured down there within about two hours early Saturday night sending water 10 feet deep into low sections of the city near the business district. Shortly after 7 p. m., there had been no evacuations in Palestine and the water was going down although it was still raining. Five or six stores, five blocks from Palestine's main business district, were flooded. These were between the main business area and the Anderson County court house which is on high ground in the eastern part of the city. A small creek, a block north of the high school (football field), swirled out of its banks to make a stream 50 feet wide where usually the flow is slight or zero. Automobiles stalled and traffic in the East Texas town came to a virtual standstill. Indian Creek, in southeast Palestine, roared out of its banks into low places to threaten homes. Early Saturday morning, twisting winds which witnesses called tornadoes struck four towns in the San Antonio area. Considerable damage was caused. Light to heavy rains fell over a wide area of Texas Saturday with most of the heavy downpours coming between midnight and 5 a. m. in Southwest Texas. It was during that time that Del Rio reported 3.02 inches and Sterling City 1.70 inches. Other rainfall totals for the 24 hours ending at 6 p. m. Saturday included Corpus Christi .01, Lubbock .03, Midland .25, San Angelo .24, San Antonio .36, Victoria .05, Waco .03, College Station .22, Beeville .11, and Austin .32. There was light rain at Dallas at 6 p. m. Temperatures for the day ranged from Presidio's 95 to 75 at San Antonio. Mostly they were in the 80s, but Wichita Falls and Laredo reported 94. Childress reported 93, and Cotulla and Wink reported 91.

Storms Strike Midwest Areas But None Hurt

By The Associated Press. Tornadoes struck in Texas and Kansas Saturday. No injuries were reported, but the storms caused considerable damage. A small tornado dipped into a residential neighborhood in Marysville, Kan. The blow caused some damage at the airport. A wind-fanned forest fire was brought under control Saturday several miles away from Webster, a village of 600 population in northwestern Wisconsin. The woodlands in that area have been without appreciable rainfall for 10 days. But the rains were welcomed by residents of the dry North Woods and farmers in the spring wheat region stretching westward across Minnesota and the Dakotas. Forest and grass fires swept across thousands of acres of land and burned out five farmsteads in Minnesota Friday. Midsummer heat broiled a broad area from the Western Plains to the Appalachian Mountains. The temperature in Chicago bounded to 90 at 3 p. m. That was a record for the date. Heat of the 90-degree kind was reported from states as far apart as Florida and Minnesota.

Astronauts Together

The seven astronauts, one of whom will be the first American to orbit in space, met at Langley Air Force Base, Va., for the first time since the announcement of their identities. Robert R. Gilruth, right, director of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration's project Mercury, greeted the seven, who are, left to right: Air Force Capt. Leroy G. Cooper, Jr.; Air Force Capt. Donald K. Slayton; Navy Lt. Cmdr. Alan B. Shepard, Jr.; Navy Lt. Cmdr. Walter M. Schirra; Marine Lt. Col. John H. Glenn, Jr.; Navy Lt. Malcolm S. Carpenter and Air Force Capt. Virgil I. Grissom.

SHOT WITH PISTOL

Former Sterling City Couple Found Dead In House Trailer

STERLING CITY — The bullet pierced bodies of Wilbur H. Stone, 44, and his wife, Idelle, 38, were discovered at 9 a. m. Saturday in their trailer house, parked on one side of the highway from Sterling City to Garden City. John Blair, Sterling City, brother of Mrs. Stone, found the victims. He said he approached the trailer and as he neared it, he heard a shot. He said this was around 9 a. m. He called his sister's name. Receiving no answer, he opened the door and found his sister sprawled in the doorway. She was still alive, he said, but she had been shot two times in the back and once in the temple. He decided to race for help. When officers arrived, they found Stone's body on a bed in the rear of the trailer. He had been shot one time through the heart. A pistol lay on the bed beside his body. Both victims were dead when officers reached the scene. The bodies were removed to Lowe Funeral Home in Sterling City. Arrangements are pending word from relatives. Stone was an automobile mechanic. He and his wife, both members of well known Sterling County families, had left Sterling City last September to move to Tucson, Ariz. They were said to be on their way back to Sterling City to resume residence. Justice of the Peace A. W. Dearen, who with Sheriff W. O. Green, and highway patrol officers investigated the tragedy, said he planned to withhold verdict in the deaths for 24 to 36 hours. The Stones have two children — Wilbur Stone Jr., a student in Texas Western College, El Paso, and Ginger, 13, who remained with an aunt in Tucson, when her parents started back to Sterling. Lowe Funeral Home reported they had been in contact with the son and with other relatives of the slain couple. A sister of the dead man who lives in Miami, Fla., told the funeral home she could not reach Sterling City before Tuesday. In addition to Blair, Mrs. Stone is survived by several other brothers and sisters. Green said there was no note or other message in the trailer house.

NAACP Leader Says Kidnaping Hurts Democrats

WASHINGTON (AP)—The kidnaping "and almost certain lynching" of a Negro last week in Mississippi makes it almost certain that no Southerner can get on the national Democratic ticket in 1960, a Negro leader said Saturday night. Roy Wilkins, New York, executive secretary of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People, said: "It could have some effect on Democratic party fortunes in 1960. It does no good for Republicans who collaborate with lynch law. And it might possibly become one more crowbar with which to dislodge the seniority system of committee chairmanships in Congress." In a speech prepared for an awards dinner audience of the Capital Press Club, an organization for the Negro press Wilkins said: "The kidnaping and almost certain lynching of Mack Charles Parker last Saturday in Poplarville has shocked the nation and the world. Yet, for all the 'deploring' that has been done by Gov. J.P. Coleman, the press of the state, and by at least one of its congressmen, this Poplarville lynching was in the Mississippi tradition of keeping the Negro down — by color-line court procedure, if possible, and by violence if necessary."

Bitterly-Divided Aldine Stages School Election

Town Scene Of Walkout By Teachers

HOUSTON (AP)—Residents of bitterly-divided Aldine voted today to select two new board members for a school district that is shut down by a shortage of teacher paycheck funds. A near record turnout was reported by election judges in the six voting precincts on Houston's north side. Sheriff's deputies patrolled the area but reported no disturbances. Five candidates, including two mothers, sought positions being vacated by two members of the current 4-3 majority on a board that has been plagued by disputes over tax rates and budgets. The outcome could retain the 4-3 status or give the current minority a 5-3 majority. The three minority members and the powerful Aldine Taxpayers Assn. were backing B. B. Cathey and Harry Gardner. Cathey was opposed by an independent, Mrs. Frank Smith an elementary PTA member. Gardner faced two independents, Mrs. R. B. Clarke Sr., president of the elementary PTA, and Sidney Johnson. Holdover board members were Richard Cass, president, and John Buckley, members of the current majority, and the minority group of Robert Whitmarsh, a former board president, Harry Ammons, and Carl Tautenhahn. Cass said he would resign if Cathey and Gardner were elected. Cass was elected with support from the taxpayers association but switched sides and forced realignment of the board to its current status when the tax rate-budget dispute developed last year. The district ran short of funds when the board set a tax rate of $1.35 per $100 valuation but adopted a budget based on a $1.59 tax rate. Cass walked out of the board meeting at which the $1.35 rate was adopted, having failed to obtain a second for his motion for a $1.59 rate. The resulting shortage of funds caused Aldine teachers to vote 150-10 on April 15 not to work without pay. The school system was shut down but reopened on April 20 after emergency action by the state Legislature and the school board. The emergency measures failed, and the district again was unable to meet its payroll this week. The teachers voted 169-12 Thursday to stay away until sufficient funds were available to operate the schools until Aug. 31, the end of the fiscal year. Sheriff's deputies broke up a near riot Thursday night when over 1,000 Aldine residents jammed into the high school auditorium for an emergency meeting of the board.

CONTROVERSIAL BILL

Teachers Permit Debate Scheduled

AUSTIN (AP)—The House may debate Monday a proposal to increase the number of high school teachers. The privately-financed Texas State Teachers Assn., representing 80,000 public school teachers, strongly opposes the measure. Authored by a one-time teacher, Rep. Maud Isaacks of El Paso, the bill is co-sponsored by more than 80 representatives. The 30-line measure will require the state education commissioner to issue a temporary high school teacher's certificate to anyone with a bachelors degree from an accredited four-year college or university. This action eliminates the required, but controversial, 24 hours of educator courses for high school teachers. The certificates may be renewed annually for three years. "This will give the local schools more teachers," Miss Isaacks says. "It will help solve the teacher shortage. There is an urgent need to assure an adequate supply of well qualified teachers in subject matter fields for the high schools and junior high schools." The State Teachers Assn. claims the bill will destroy professional standards. Some college administrators joined the public school teachers in telling lawmakers to kill the bill. "I've only received one letter for it," Rep. H. G. Wells of Tulsa said. "I don't know why there is so much opposition. I think it's needed and is a good bill." President E. N. Jones of Texas Tech wrote House members: "One of the most serious of the bill's results may be anticipated as making Texas a dumping ground for castoff teachers from other states." Rep. Robert Bowers of Brownfield replied: "I was shocked and surprised to receive your letter. As a co-author of the bill, I think it is a much-needed piece of legislation." Dr. Jones came to Austin for a personal talk with Bowers and other members. Their talk followed the thoughts they exchanged in the letters. Jones said in 1925 he favored such an approach to certify teachers. Now the plan will damage progress made to raise teacher's standards, he said. "The bill doesn't hire the teachers," Bowers said. "That is left to the local school board. You refer to making Texas a dumping ground for cast-off teachers from other states. On this theory it seems to be that Texas would be a dumping ground for college professors also because they do not have to have the education courses."

Psychologists Flee Dixie In Fear Of Klan Vengeance

NEW CASTLE, Ind. (AP) — A state hospital psychologist said he and three colleagues fled Alabama Friday for fear of violence over charges that they threw paint on a Ku Klux Klan sign in Tuscaloosa. "We were not verbally abused, we were not physically abused," said Dr. Loren Fitzhugh, 34. "But we were extremely apprehensive about our safety." Asked if he and his psychologist wife, Kathleen, 30, and Dr. and Mrs. Erwin Stegman, both 34, of Westville, Ind., would return to Tuscaloosa for a court appearance if necessary, Dr. Fitzhugh said: "I'm afraid to go back down there." He said the two couples drove through the night to reach New Castle Saturday. "I was quite happy to see the Indiana line." Dr. Fitzhugh flatly denied the group had thrown any paint on the Klan's "welcome to Tuscaloosa" sign and said arresting policemen—"there must have been a dozen of them"—ignored his request that his car be searched for a paint can. The two couples were never put in jail, Dr. Fitzhugh said, but he complained that two policemen stood by at the police station, eying the "slapper" straps in their hands. "They seemed to be looking for an excuse to use them," he said. The two couples were released early Friday morning after $100 property bonds were posed for each by Dr. John Kew, chief psychologist at the Veterans' Administration hospital in Tuscaloosa. Dr. Fitzhugh said the Klan's welcome sign was mentioned in conversation Thursday evening while the Indiana couples visited with Dr. Kew and Dr. Edwin O. Timmons, another VA psychologist. "We couldn't believe it," he said so the two couples watched for the sign on the way from the Timmons home to their motel. They turned the car around for a second look at the sign, but Dr. Fitzhugh said they didn't throw anything, stop the car or get out of the car. Police stopped their car near their motel, he said, and they were taken to the police station. He said the disorderly conduct complaint against all four was signed by Roy Hartley, whom police referred to as a Klan grand dragon, with a guard named Over-all signing as a witness. Dr. William Murray, superintendent of the New Castle State Hospital, pledged full support to the Fitzhughs on the basis of their report of the arrests. "I'm sure they didn't do it," he told a newsmen. Dr. Fitzhugh is the hospital's chief psychologist, and his wife is also on the psychology staff.

Reviewing The Big Spring Week

With Joe Pickle. Our area was twice in a weather alert last week, and until Friday evening all we got was wind. Friday's shower was light but revived hopes that perhaps the weather pattern will change in May. Meanwhile, several farmers were "dusting" in their seed, that is, they were planting without sufficient moisture in hopes that subsequent showers would sprout the seed and give them an early start. Something more than 1,000 special visitors have been in our city during the past week. Over 500 registered for the West Texas district Assemblies of God from Monday through Thursday. Saturday beauty culturists from all over the state flocked here for their regional parley, and more than 500 of these were due by time for the business sessions today. Webb AFB turned out another crop of the world's finest pilots on Thursday evening with 64 members of Class 59-G graduating. The speaker was Brig. Gen. John R. Allison, and the honor graduate of the class was Lt. Lester R. Williams. Building totals of $317,341 brought the year's total to $1,421,004. Completely new building in the April figure exceeded a quarter of a million dollars, the bulk of it residential. Commercial construction continued on the timid side. You don't have to do things just the way they've always been done. Oftentimes you can find a better way if you'll take time to think and to experiment. Lloyd Nails did that on his job at Cosden's polystyrene plant and came up with a new and valuable test for a critical stage. He was rewarded with $1,000. Sometimes the word "pioneer" is used rather loosely in applying to old timers, but it could be used genuinely for Mrs. J. W. Carpenter, who died here Thursday evening. She moved to Big Spring when the town was but four years old. Like the pioneers, she was quiet, unassuming, friendly and with character solid as a rock. Dr. Pat Blair and Avid Anderson of the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research were here last week to initiate another phase of the city's master planning program. They will be concerned with digging up details on which (See THE WEEK, Pg. 6-A, Col. 5)

Battle-Scarred Freighter Burns In Vancouver Harbor

VANCOUVER, B.C. (AP)—The battle-scarred freighter Ferngulf, sunk twice by the Germans in World War II and each time refloated, exploded into an inferno of burning oil at the entrance to Vancouver Harbor Friday night. Six members of the 38-man crew and a Canadian Navy fireman were injured. The unexplained blast shook the 7,500-ton ship at 4:25 p. m. She was bound for the nearby Fraser River to add to her cargo of 800,000 board feet of lumber. Capt. William Archer of the Norwegian freighter was bitterly critical of delay in rescue efforts. "I sent an SOS for a fireboat and doctors as soon as the explosion occurred and we were told by the city that we were outside limits," he said. "More than an hour later we were told a fireboat and a doctor were coming. We never saw a fireboat. A helicopter circled but did not land. "I can't imagine anyone refusing to send a fireboat. For an hour the men had no treatment except from me. I kept showing morphine into them." Seconds after the explosion shook the vessel's engine room, burning oil poured from a ruptured bunker tank holding some 4,000 gallons of fuel. Residents in a half-mile area of West Vancouver were asked to evacuate homes as a greater explosion was feared. This danger abated and an armada of small boats took off the survivors. A 17-man Navy fire-fighting crew, clothed in thick asbestos suits was lowered into the Ferngulf's burning hold and engine room. They received slight burns before the fire was controlled.

Wayland Yates, Herald City Editor, To Take Post At H-SU

Wayland D. Yates, city editor of the Big Spring Daily Herald since 1954, has been named chief of the Hardin-Simmons University News Bureau. The announcement was made Saturday by Dr. Evan Alard Reiff, H-SU president. Yates, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Arch Yates of 1318 N. 15th in Abilene, is a magna cum laude graduate of H-SU, receiving his BA degree in 1949 with a double major in journalism and economics. He will assume his duties June 8. The university bureau position is part of the newly reorganized division of public relations. Yates as chief will coordinate the bureau's work with Byron Bryant, former pastor of First Baptist Church in Breckenridge, who assumed office May 1 as director of public relations at H-SU. Yates is a 10-year veteran in the newspaper field in West Texas. He has been associated with the Herald and the Wichita Falls Record-News since his graduation, first serving as a reporter for the Daily Herald and as city editor for the past five years. He is married to the former Dorothy Kincaid, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. K. L. Kincaid of 2634 Hickory. They have two children, Kent and Kay. Mrs. Yates, a graduate of Abilene High School, received her degree at Hardin-Simmons in 1950 after serving as editor of the student newspaper. Both are members of the First Baptist Church of Big Spring and reside at 106 Dixie. Yates, 37, is a native of Taylor County and a 1940 graduate of Ovalo High School. Following a year of engineering study at the University of Nebraska in 1943, he entered the army and served in Germany. After his discharge he enrolled at H-SU. At Hardin-Simmons University, Yates was editor of the student newspaper during his senior year. He was also elected to Alpha Chi, national honor society, and to Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities.

Elbow Adopts New Tax Plan

Elbow School patrons Saturday approved 51 to 12 a bond maintenance tax proposal at an election held in the district. The voting was at the Elbow school and Homer Thorp was judge of the election. The proposal was initiated by a petition which asked that the patrons vote on a plan to utilize all of the $1.50 per hundred dollar ad valorem levy for school operation and maintenance and empower the County Commissioners to make a separate levy for bond service charges. Elbow is the third school in Howard County to adopt this plan which is authorized by a special act of the legislature. Big Spring District adopted the plan some time ago. Recently Center Point school connected the same idea with a bond election. Under the system followed at Elbow before adoption of this new program, the school had to function on $1.50 per hundred tax valuation. The bonded indebtedness and interest needs were paid out of the $1.50 and the school compelled to do as best it could with the remainder. 3 Men Die In Collision DUMAS (AP) — Three men died Saturday when a car pulled from a side road into the path of their vehicle. Killed were I. D. Deck, 57; Leon Boydston, 38; and Marvin Turner, 38. All lived here and worked for Phoenix Drilling Co. None of the five persons in the other car was seriously hurt. Mother Kills 3 Children CONCORD, Calif. (AP)—An attractive young mother fatally shot her three children Friday night, then committed suicide. Mrs. Barbara C. Snowden, 27, fired .38-caliber revolver bullets into the heads of the sleeping youngsters.

Top Democrats Meet

Gov. Edmund G. Brown of California, left, escorts, Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.) into California's Executive Mansion at Sacramento after Kennedy arrived for a visit with state Democrats. The two leaders, both mentioned as possible candidates for their party's presidential nomination next year, talked privately over breakfast.

Arthur Godfrey Makes Progress

NEW YORK (AP)—Arthur Godfrey was reported making satisfactory progress Saturday from his lung cancer operation and was able to get out of bed for short periods. The radio and television star 53 years old, was operated on Thursday. Surgeons removed part of his left lung. A bulletin issued at Columbia-Presbyterian Medical Center Saturday morning said he had spent a comfortable night and that his condition "continues to be excellent." Another bulletin at noon said his "post-operative condition continues satisfactory" and that "he gets up for short periods during the day."

TEC Now Occupying Its New 'Home'

Texas Employment Commission, for many years at 213 W. Third, is now doing business at its roomy new quarters in the McDaniel Building, between Second and Third on Runnels. Jeff D. Collier, an interviewer on the TEC staff, is shown moving in a box full of records. Leon Kinney, manager of the TEC office, plans an open house soon to enable the public to inspect the new quarters.

Rubber Workers Reach Settlement

NEW YORK (AP) — The United Rubber Workers Union has reached agreement with the U. S. Rubber Co., ending a 22-day-old strike. But workers are still out at plants of Firestone Tire & Rubber Co., and the B. F. Goodrich Co. The fourth big firm, Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co., averted a walk-out of its 24,000 workers by reaching agreement with the union.

MEN IN SERVICE

Pvt. Daryl Henderson, son of Mrs. Katherine Henderson of Lamessa, has left to begin eight weeks of basic training at Ft. Chaffee, Ark.

Henderson enlisted under the Army's graduate specialist program. After completing basic training, he will receive technical training at the Army Signal School in radio transmitter repair.

A graduate of Lamessa High School, Henderson took work in engineering while at Texas A&M. He was recruited by M. Sgt. Robert L. Martin, local Army enlistment officer.

Danny Fiveash is home on leave from the Navy after completion of a 28-week electronic technician's course at San Francisco. Fiveash is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Fiveash, 803 E. 14th.

He was one of 15 men completing the course; 80 started it. After completion of his leave, he will report for duty aboard an LST at San Diego, Calif. His duties will be repairing radios, radar units, and other electronic gear aboard the ship.

C. J. Young, electrician's mate second class, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl B. Young, 700 E. 15th, departed Norfolk, Va., April 24 aboard the attack aircraft carrier USS Independence for a two-month training and shakedown cruise in the Caribbean.

On April 13, the Independence left the New York Naval Shipyard for Norfolk to load aircraft and air group personnel to participate in the ship's training cruise. Base of operations will be Guantanamo Bay, Cuba.

Grid, Theatre Exes Square Off In Steel Battle

NEW YORK (AP) — A former Minnesota football player and a one-time drama student will meet here Tuesday to open steel wage talks that can have an impact on the nation's whole economy.

A plushly furnished suite in the Hotel Roosevelt will be the setting for the rough give and take of contract negotiations in the basic industry.

R. Conrad Cooper, 55, the husky ex-gridster who is now an executive vice president of U. S. Steel Corp., the nation's largest steel producer, will head the negotiating team of the "Big 12" steel companies.

David J. McDonald, 56, the erstwhile thespian who has the profile of a stage star, will lead the labor forces as president of the million-member United Steelworkers of America.

The negotiators must reach agreement by June 30, when the present three-year contract expires, or face the possibility of a strike that would knock out the bulk of the nation's steel production.

The talks three years ago were capped by a five-week strike, a pay boost and an increase in steel prices.

Some government officials have a two-way worry over the outcome. They fear a strike this year may retard recovery from the recession — and that a contract agreement might lead to inflation through wage and price increases.

In March, President Eisenhower, wary of any pact that would spur inflation, hinted he would not stand idly by if the negotiations pointed toward a price boost in steel. He did not indicate just what action he might take if this happens.

A sizeable steel price boost would lead to higher prices in many other industries that use steel products.

And a sizable increase in steel wages would encourage unions in other industries to seek higher pay.

The union has said in advertisements that an extra billion dollars for the Steelworkers would make merchants' cash registers jingle and help the economy and employment situation generally.

C-C Finance Drive Leaders Optimistic

With 56 new members already enlisted and dues adjustments approved by scores of old members, Chamber of Commerce officials are optimistic over prospects for success of their membership and finance campaign.

So far, the drive has provided about $4,000 a year in new funds for Chamber operations. And with more than 200 prospect cards still unreported in the membership phase of the drive, officials expect the sum to grow considerably.

Additional funds to finance an expanding program of work are a necessity, said Chamber president Clyde McMahon.

"As the rest of our prospect cards are worked, we expect this to result in an entirely successful Saturday.

Plans are being made to attempt to get complete reports from the remainder of the drive workers in the next two days.

New members not reported previously include Murray's Radio & TV Service, Roy's Radiator Service, Big Spring Steers Athletic Department, Bugg Wholesale Meats, Warren Chiropractic Clinic, O. Ray Dunlap, Fred Haller, Hitching Post Trailer Park, Kirby's 66 Service, Pat Bostler, L. M. Thompson, Coffee Cup Cafe, Big Mike's Liquor Store, Joe Bell, E. T. O'Daniel, Roscoe Newell, Culligan Soft Water Service, Gage Fin a Service, J-Bar-J. Barbecue, and Airport Body Shop.

Glenn Ford Faces Divorce Action

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) — "I am sure Glenn will be much happier alone. He isn't happy now."

So says Eleanor Powell, explained why she sued Glenn Ford for divorce Friday. Her 16-year marriage to the movie boxoffice king had been considered one of Hollywood's happiest.

Texas Construction Record Predicted

DALLAS (AP)—Texas Contractor, a buildings trade publication, said Saturday that construction awards in Texas during April totaled $91,921,632. The year total was $421,777,903.

The magazine said the pace suggested that Texas would attain another construction record for the year.

Zoning Change Up For Hearing

A public hearing has been called by the zoning commission to consider rezoning property in the 800 block of Scurry. The meeting will be May 11.

Under consideration is the half block east of Scurry between 8th and 9th. The proposed change is from B (two-party residential) zone to F (retail business).

The hearing will be held in the City Hall at 5:15 p.m. on May 11. All property owners within 200 feet of the property under consideration have been notified of the hearing and have been urged to attend.

Should the zoning board approve the change following the hearing, the matter will then be turned to the City Commission when it meets May 12.

Meeting Of Scout Leaders Is Called

Jack Alexander, chairman of the Lone Star district, has called a meeting of Scout district committeemen and commissioners.

The dinner affair will begin at 6:30 p.m. Tuesday in the H.C.J.C. Student Union Building and will be concluded by 8 p.m. After the meal, various committees and the commissioners staffs will have work sessions, mapping out the next month's activities for Cubs, Scouts and Explorers.

Respiratory Cases Head Disease List

Upper respiratory cases topped the weekly communicable disease report as compiled by the City-County Health Unit.

The upper respiratory cases numbered 73, and next largest number was 28 cases of streptococcal. Another 26 had tonsillitis.

Thirteen had measles, and 10 cases of influenza were counted during the week. Eight had chicken pox, and seven caught the mumps. Five cases of gonorrhea, three of pneumonia, two each of pertussis and scarletina, and one each of tuberculosis, syphilis, and typhoid completed the report.

U.S. 87 Project To Cost $106,000

Right of way costs for improvement of U. S. 87 on a 34 mile segment from San Angelo to Sterling City will cost $106,000.

The Texas Highway Commission Friday allocated $53,000 as its share of these costs. Tom Green, Coke and Sterling counties, through which the road will pass will pay the other half.

The action was part of the decision of the commission to consider bids on May 15 and 16 on 655 miles of road projects to cost over $21,000,000.

No Howard County projects were in the list released by the commission.

Glasscock County—State 158,

Scurry County—U. S. 190, .03 mile to widen railway overpass two miles southeast of Snyder.

Andrews and Martin Counties—Farm 87—19.7 miles grading surfacing, east of Andrews to State 349.

Andrews County — Farm 87, 8.9 miles, grading widen structures, paving from New Mexico 9 miles east.

13.6 miles grading and surfacing Garden City to Sterling County Line.

Scurry County—U. S. 190, .03 mile to widen railway overpass two miles southeast of Snyder.

Andrews and Martin Counties—Farm 87—19.7 miles grading surfacing, east of Andrews to State 349.

Andrews County — Farm 87, 8.9 miles, grading widen structures, paving from New Mexico 9 miles east.

BIG INCREASE IN BIRTHS IS NOTED AS 'BABY WEEK' ENDS

National Baby Week expired on Saturday and if the records at the office of the county clerk are to be accepted as criterion — Howard County has contributed generously this year to making necessity for such a week urgent.

A survey of the birth certificates filed for the first four months of this year disclosed 418 births recorded. The same four months last year provided 352 certificates — this year showing an increase of 56.

Nor is this all of the story. Baby girls for some reason are being produced in bumper crop profusion.

This year's birth certificates list 224 females and only 194 males.

Last year, January through April, showed 175 boys and 177 girls.

The birth certificate rolls do not reflect the exact number of births for a period since some of the certificates are delayed. However, the number of belated listings never materially changes the overall totals.

A Pat On The Back

For RAD WARE

Heading The Current Membership Campaign For The Chamber Of Commerce.

The First National is happy to offer a "pat on the back" to Rad Ware for heading the drive for new members for the Chamber of Commerce this year. Rad won his spurs in the new member division in 1957 when he signed up over 50 new members. He was presented the only honorary lifetime membership the local chamber has ever awarded.

Rad is active in all phases of civic work. He is a past President of the Jaycees, is serving as chairman of the Citizen's Traffic Commission. He is also chairman, Howard-Glasscock Chapter of the National Foundation and a director of the Howard County Unit of the American Cancer Society. Mr. Ware is on the official board of The First Methodist Church. He is active in The Eastern Star, Masonry and Shrine. For these, and other civic duties that help our community grow, a "Pat On The Back" to him.

Rad Has Time To Serve His Community. We Always Have Time To Serve You.

Hauled From Home

Still protesting, Mrs. Catherine Ranonis, 60-year-old widow, is lowered from the third floor of her home in Philadelphia, Pa., after a three-hour siege in which she hurled back tear gas grenades and fired several shots from a shotgun at police and firemen trying to get her from her barricaded home.

Work To Start On Huge Water Line

Work on two projects involving the Colorado River Municipal Water District may get under way this week. Mitchell Darby Construction Co. may begin tie-ins within the city of Odessa preparatory to launching a project to extend a 33-inch supply line from Odessa to the Martin County pump station. Actual laying of the line is not due to begin until the following Monday. Darby, who holds the $2,403,158 contract for laying the line, has been clearing right of way. E. V. Spence, general manager for the CRMWD, said that all but two pieces of right of way had been secured. When completed, this line will be capable of transporting 22,500,000 gallons of water daily to Odessa. It will permit delivery of water from Lake J. B. Thomas through the existing line and peaking water from the well field through the other. Monday work will begin on connecting lines from the Martin County pump station to the McWhorter booster in eastern Martin County. The 16 miles of lines will be used in the automatic control of booster pumps from the main pumping station, said Ivie.

City Maintains Favorable Record Of Losses In Fires

Big Spring's losses from fire during April were less than $1,000 for the second time this year, and insured losses came from only four fires. Losses from fire during the month totaled $620.22, the lowest of any month this year, and these losses raised the year's aggregate loss to $12,420.05. This compares with the $27,899.20 for the same time of 1958. During April of last year, the city lost $1,290.70 in fires. In addition to last month, the city's losses were below $1,000 in February, when only $840.32 in insured property was destroyed. Firemen answered 27 calls during April, and three of them were outside the city limits. Most damage at one time came on April 2 when fire hit the J. C. Gilbert residence at 1002 E. 16th. Loss there was $123.50 to the building and $261.14 to furnishings. Out of the month's total losses, $339.06 was paid for damage to buildings, and the remaining to contents.

Pastors Set Election

The Big Spring Pastors Assn. will hold its regular meeting Wednesday at 7:30 a.m. in the First Presbyterian Church. One of the chief items of business at the monthly breakfast affair will be the election of new officers.

Legislature Closes In About A Week

AUSTIN (AP)—The frustrated Legislature closes down in about a week, baffled by the fiscal crisis that grows worse every day. The search is on for someone to blame for what will be 120 days of wheel-spinning of taxing and spending. Gov. Price Daniel attributed the trouble to what he called "an arrogant lobby." This time he said "interstate gas pipelines companies and other corporations" road-blocked his program. In earlier statements he slapped at bankers for killing his dormant fund bill. Most legislators say they are faced with campaign pledges which make writing any tax bill nearly impossible. They are pledged against a general sales tax. They said "no" to personal or corporate income taxes. Many are committed against new levies on natural gas or other resources. The Senate blames the House for not sending it a workable tax bill sooner. The House was so closely divided, the tax bill it finally approved was only a faltering step toward solution of the money problem. Meanwhile, the general revenue fund's deficit digs deeper into the red. At the last report, it was over 64 million dollars. It was expected to exceed the predicted 65 million soon. The state's fiscal system is now operating in violation of the Constitution's cash basis directive. Texas could even be headed for a crisis similar to the one in Michigan where many state workers face payless paydays. Texas bankers are now honoring deficit warrants without a discount. That means state workers and those who sell to the state can cash their hot checks at face value. How long the banks will continue to follow that plan may depend on whether or not the lawmakers can straighten out the money mess in a special session. Daniel now says it is a certainty. The precise date for starting the 30-day meeting has not been set. If the special session starts immediately after final adjournment of the regular session May 12, about $30,000 would be saved in travel expenses, House aides said. It could begin at 7 p.m. after official adjournment at 6 p.m. May 12.

AIB Chapter Elects Davis As President

Jack I. Davis will succeed Larson Lloyd as president of the Big Spring chapter of the American Institute of Banking. He was named Thursday evening at the chapter meeting and will be installed along with other officers on May 1 at a barbecue supper at the Lloyd home. Others elected are Temp Currie, first vice president; and Bill Hampton, second vice president; Winifred Greenless; and Jane Eubanks, treasurer. The A. I. B. chapter is sponsoring a series of special classes which will lead to certification. Two classes will be completed on May 14, one in commercial law, taught by Walton S. Morrison, attorney; and the other on economics, taught by Harold Vail, member of the Howard County Junior College faculty. Two from Security State, two from State National and six from First National Bank — a total of 10 — will have earned a pre-standard certificate when the course in economics is completed.

U.S. Protests S. Korean Snub Of Newspaper Probe

SEOUL, Korea (AP)—U. S. Ambassador Walter Dowling has sent a protest to the South Korean government complaining that a Korean official refused to confer with two American diplomats inquiring about the government shutdown of an opposition newspaper. An embassy statement tonight said Dowling described the incident as "contrary to close and friendly relations" between the two countries. Dr. Chun Sung Chun, government information director, denied refusing to meet the American diplomats. He called the incident a misunderstanding. He said he had them wait outside his office a few minutes but they were gone when he was ready to see them. The diplomats, First Secretary William Jones and Attache Brooks McClure, visited Chun's office Thursday night. They were checking on reports that the Kyunghang Shinmoon, one of Seoul's six major dailies, was being closed. An embassy source said they were told that Chun was too busy to see them. The paper, backed by a Catholic foundation, is a supporter of President Syngman Rhee's political foe Vice President Chang Myun. The paper was accused of printing false reports and seditious comments. The government closed it under an old U.S. military government ordinance of 1946, the first time that decree has been invoked since the republic was set up in 1948. It was the use of this ordinance that the diplomats wanted to ask Chun about, the embassy said. A reporter on the paper also is awaiting trial as the first South Korean newsman charged with violating the new national security law by writing about the investigation of a Communist agent.

Dentists Attending Annual TDS Meet

At least five Big Spring dentists are in San Antonio this weekend for the annual Texas Dental Society meeting opening today. The meeting will continue through Tuesday. Attending from here are Drs. C. W. Deats, W. B. Hardy, H. M. Jarratt, Dick Allen, and Lee O. Rogers. Also attending is Mrs. Mary Wegman, a dental hygienist employed by Dr. Jarratt.

Beauty Culturists Gather

Beauticians Today Open First Southwest Beauty Show Here

A small army of beauty shop operators, representatives of beautician suppliers and manufacturers, and special guests will invade Big Spring today for the first annual Southwest Texas Beauty Show. The event is expected to attract from 500 to 700 delegates and visitors from 10 West Texas communities.

Initial registration opened in the Settles Hotel at 3 p.m. Saturday. Early registrants were largely representatives of supply houses and manufacturers who were busy arranging an imposing display of booths on the mezzanine floor of Settles Hotel. All activities of the show will be concentrated in the hotel.

Communities to have participants in the show are Abilene, Andrews, Big Spring, Kermit, Midland, Odessa, San Angelo, Sweetwater, Colorado City and El Paso. The event is under sponsorship and direction of District 2 of the Texas Assn. of Accredited Beauty Culturists. D. S. Elmore, El Paso, is chairman of the district and will be present at the three day meeting. Sunday will be the big day of the convention. Gladys Ritcher, chairman of the Southwest Texas Beauty Show, who is from San Angelo, and her committee has arranged a program which opens at 8 a.m. and continues without intermission through Sunday night. Climax of today's program will be the "Breath of Spring" extravaganza by Lone Star Styles, which is slated to open at 8 p.m. in the Settles Ball Room. A ball was Saturday night's featured event.

Monday's program is equally loaded with special events and will be climaxed with the banquet which is set for 8 p.m. The banquet will bring the show to its official close.

Glen Nealeigh, Abilene, as show director, Gordon Wheeler, Big Spring, and Bob Spencer, Midland, as chairman and co-chairman of the properties committee, will be largely in charge of the major features of the three days. Registration will be carried on daily on Saturday, Sunday and Monday.

Contests, for students and for professionals, with an imposing array of attractive trophies awaiting the winners will be featured.

Big Spring Chamber of Commerce is cooperating with local beauty shop operators in the event. Two outstanding guest artists are to be on the program—Grace Doran, co-owner and director of the Comer and Doran school in Hollywood and Gerald Raich, owner of Gerald's Hair Style Salon in Mason City, Iowa. Both are widely known for their creations and for the many awards and recognitions they have been accorded across the nation.

Three Cars Hit By Accessory Thieves Friday

After a week of comparative quiet, car-accessory thieves hit three autos here Friday.

Lt. Robert Devlin of Webb AFB lost a set of golf clubs and bag from his 1958 Dodge while it was parked at Carlos Restaurant Friday night.

Mrs. L. D. Chrane, 1502 Eleventh, reported theft of two floor mats from a 1956 Cadillac. An entire set of hub caps and two fender skirts were taken from a car owned by Luce Cisneros, 709 NW 9th.

Newsman Have 'Divine Curiosity'

COLLEGE STATION (AP)—James A. Byron, national president of Sigma Delta Chi journalism fraternity, said yesterday "divine curiosity about humanity makes a real newsman."

Byron spoke at the journalism awards banquet of Texas A&M College. The first radio newsman to ever head the national journalism fraternity, Byron is news director of WBAP AM-TV, Fort Worth.

"Curiosity drives a reporter on and on, heedless of hours and pay," the radio-TV man said, "wanting to find out what makes this world tick."

Speaking mainly to journalism students, Byron said, "It is a proud profession... a strikingly important profession."

Sir Winston Pays Another Call In Capital

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sir Winston Churchill pays another call on Washington this week this time as a three-day personal guest of President Eisenhower.

The visit starting Monday is billed as purely personal and social. But the 84-year-old British leader doubtless will have words of advice on world affairs to pass on to his World War II associate, Eisenhower, and top U.S. officials. It has been five years since Churchill last came here. He was still prime minister then. He stepped down the next year, but he kept his seat in Parliament and plans to run again in the next election.

During his 1954 call as prime minister, Churchill steered unerringly for waiting microphones, held newsmen spellbound at a jam-packed luncheon in a downtown hotel, and generally kept in the headlines.

This time mums is the word for the world-famous orator, at least in the advance billing. He has turned down several invitations to make speeches, including one from the National Press Club.

The cigar-smoking, brandy-sipping elder statesman has suffered several serious illnesses in recent years. Illness forced him to postpone a scheduled trip to Washington last year.

Churchill is expected to arrive at National Airport Monday evening aboard Eisenhower's plane, the Columbine III, after a London-New York flight on a British jet transport.

He will be Eisenhower's White House guest through Wednesday. Thursday he moves to the British Embassy. Friday he flies back to New York for the weekend before returning to London. In New York his host may be another old friend, Bernard Baruch.

The only scheduled Washington events for Churchill are three stag dinners—Tuesday and Wednesday at the White House, Thursday at the Embassy.

Real Estate, Oil Transactions Up

Transactions in real estate, oil leases and similar fields in Howard County hit a new high for April. Pauline Petty, county clerk, said Saturday.

She based her estimate on the purchase of U. S. Internal Revenue stamps which have to be attached to the documents filed in connection with such deals.

April saw the office use $1,274.80 worth of these stickers for the highest dollar volume of the year and unequalled in any month on record.

Uncle Sam collects a fee of $1.05 for each $1,000 value involved in such transactions. When the document is filed, the stamps have to be attached and cancelled.

Each month since 1959 opened has seen an upward surge in the number of revenue stamps needed for the documents filed in the office.

New A&M Dean

COLLEGE STATION (AP)—Brig. Gen. James P. Hannigan will become dean of students of Texas A&M College. Hannigan now is deputy commanding general of the U. S. Army Training Center (Artillery), Fort Chaffee, Ark.

Cuban Invaders Sit In Panamanian Jail

PANAMA (AP)—About 80 discouraged Cubans who scared Panama with an invasion were lodged Saturday in the same jail that recently held Britain's famed ballerina, Dame Margot Fonteyn. After questioning, they probably will be deported.

The Cubans, who meekly surrendered their arms without firing a shot were brought to Panama City in eight heavily guarded buses late Friday from their invasion beachhead at Nombre de Dios as an unruly crowd demonstrated around the Brazilian Embassy here.

The crowd was demanding that the embassy hand over Roberto Arias, Dame Margot's prominent Panamanian husband. He has been accused by the government of attempting to start a rebellion with the aid of the Cubans.

Arias, a political foe of President Ernesto de la Guardia, has taken refuge in the embassy. Dame Margot was arrested April 20 and held 24 hours for questioning about her husband's suspected revolutionary activity.

The unruly crowd around the embassy shot off fireworks, shouted, honked automobile horns, and set up floodlights. But armed police surrounded the embassy, and no disorders developed.

By contrast a crowd of several hundred silently watched the Cu-han captives as they entered Panama's jail.

The government said 87, including one woman, had surrendered at Nombre de Dios, a Caribbean coastal village without a road link to the outside world.

Correspondents and observers, flown to the village by helicopter, watched the surrender that had been arranged by a five-man mission of the Organization of American States.

The unshaven Cubans stacked their arms in the old post office and marched aboard landing craft while singing the songs of Fidel Castro's Cuban revolution. The townspeople, many of whom had welcomed the invaders, stood along the streets lined with coconut and banana trees and tropical flowers. Some of the girls wept at the Cubans' departure.

Panama's National Guard troops waited offshore to avoid a clash and landed only after the Cuban evacuation.

Government sources said five of the Cubans who had fled into the hills rather than surrender were captured by a patrol.

Fernando Lobo, the Brazilian diplomat who heads the OAS mission, said the possibility that other boatloads of invaders were coming was being investigated, but so far there were only rumors.

Texan Owns Firms Which Store Government Cotton

WASHINGTON (AP)—One Texan owns 8 of the 18 largest firms which store government-owned cotton, Agriculture Department records show.

A department spokesman said Arch Underwood of Lubbock is the listed owner of firms which were paid $4,354,996 in 1958 for storing surplus cotton.

The firms were in a list of farm surplus storage paymets for various commodities made public this week by Sen. John Williams (R-Dele). However, he did not lump Underwood's firms together. The Agriculture Department confirmed his holdings after they were reported by the Scripps-Howard newspapers.

Underwood's firms altogether did not receive the largest payment. Topping the list was the Federal Compress and Warehouse Co. of Memphis, Tenn., which received $4,447,039.

The spokesman said the storage figures do not represent profits but are payments, from which the firms must finance their own costs of storing the cotton.

Williams said the average cost of storing a bale of cotton this year is about 43 cents a bale for a month.

The Lubbock firms for which Underwood is listed as owner and the payments made to them for 1958 were:

Panhandle Compress & Warehouse Co., $1,132,588; Union Compress & Warehouse Co., $855,605; West Texas Compress & Warehouse Co., $610,623; Western American Warehouse Co., $416,354; Texas Compress & Warehouse Co., $370,347; United Compress & Warehouse Co., $356,259; Trinity Compress & Warehouse Co., $331,961; and Western Warehouse Co., $281,059.

Ackerly Incorporation Plan Set For Election Saturday

ACKERLY (SC)—Local residents will have a chance to express their approval or disapproval of a plan to incorporate Ackerly at a special election called for Saturday, May 16.

Election notices state that any citizen 21 years or older who has lived within the city limits for a period of six months is eligible to vote.

Some advantages of incorporation, as pointed out by observers, are the possibility of getting a municipal water supply, paying for the street lights out of taxation money, and a lowered fire insurance rate.

The water situation is a problem spot. The water table lies about 150 feet below the surface, but there are some places in town where water cannot be found. Owners of vacant lots say that land must be sold on a basis of an assured water supply. If there is no water beneath the lot, then the sale may be voided.

Street lights are now being financed by Ackerly business firms. If the city is incorporated, this cost could be taken care of through regular city expenses. Despite these advantages, those against the movement say taxes might be raised in order to pay the extra costs.

Students Compete In IL Thursday

AUSTIN (AP)—About 2,000 high school students start competing Thursday in the Interscholastic League state meet.

Sports and literary events will draw contestants from about 450 schools. The first and last contests in the 3-day meet will be the 24 one-act plays.

The state track, golf and tennis meets begin Friday. Finals are Saturday.

Journalism, number sense, debate, declamation, poetry reading, extemporaneous speech, typewriting, short hand and science are some of the literary and academic contests.

WELLS PUMPING

Dawson Farmers Hoping For Rain

LAMESA (SC)—Dawson County is generally dry, and most farmers are still waiting for rain. Showers the last few weeks have put some moisture in fields, but planting is still questionable.

Continued dry weather has caused a flurry of irrigation activity. Wells are being pumped in order to get planting moisture, and farmers are running the irrigation pumps long hours every day.

Well drilling has slowed down the last few weeks, but not before around 100 extra wells were drilled. These were in all parts of the county where underground water exists.

One irrigation dealer, C. W. Luby, said his firm had drilled about 70 water wells since last fall, while a possible 40 or 50 were put down by other contractors. "The water table has dropped from 20 to 30 feet in some areas," he said, "but this was generally top water which did not contribute much to the well's output. Most of the water is in the second strata which lies from 100 to about 170 feet deep."

Strangely enough, some of the wells drilled this spring are pumping more water than those drilled several years ago.

Practically all the water will be applied to cotton. A few fields of vegetables are irrigated, but in Dawson County cotton is still the money crop.

Fertilizer sales are better than average despite the prospects for a dry year. As cotton acreage shrinks, the producers are trying to increase yields per acre by using more fertilizer and insecticides.

For the first time, cotton farmers are using potash in the fertilizer. While soil tests show an adequate supply of potassium, the soil specialists say that after about three years of irrigation it becomes unavailable to crops, and a booster shot must be given.

Mrs. James, 86, Dies Saturday; Rites Monday

Mrs. Lua Jane James, 86, lifelong resident of West Texas, died at 4:45 p.m. Saturday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. O. E. Wolfe.

Mrs. James reared five children who were only youngsters when their father, Dr. Spencer T. James, died at Decatur in 1905.

Funeral for Mrs. James will be held at 10 a.m. Monday in the First Methodist Church at Baird with the Rev. T. G. Craft, pastor, officiating.

Mrs. James was born Oct. 19, 1872, in a log cabin between Decatur and Fort Worth. She and Dr. James were married in the same cabin, which still stands, in 1895.

After his death, she moved to Sterling City in 1913, and to Baird in 1917. Eleven years ago she moved to Big Spring and lived with her son, the late S. T. James III, on the Dr. O. E. Wolfe farm north of town.

Her son died in 1952. A daughter, Lua James, died 12 years to the day prior to Mrs. James' death.

Mrs. James had been a member of the Methodist Church since she was a small girl, and was a life member of the Callahan Chapter (No. 242) of the Order of Eastern Star, at Baird.

She is survived by three daughters, Mrs. Wolfe and Mrs. Brandon Curry, Big Spring, and Mrs. W. D. Wornack, Ozona, one sister, Mrs. Lillie Hoyle, Lubbock; two brothers, Forrest Burton of Amarillo and T. W. Burton of Alvord; seven grandchildren and 13 great-grandchildren.

The family suggested that in lieu of flowers, memorial gifts might be made to a Bible fund to be handled by Nalley-Pickle Funeral Home.

THE WEEK

they may project the city's economic curves to the year 1980.

The City of Big Spring, incidentally, did a little looking ahead itself in acquiring half a block adjacent to its filtration plant in southeast Big Spring. It also was granted option on another half block adjoining that one.

Speaking of water, the city also decided to put on a booster pump to increase the flow of water to Coahoma. Of course the line size limits potential of delivery, but the pump will help and we're glad to see this step taken for our neighbors.

Forty firms took part in the Summer Fun Days displays around the courthouse square. And once again weather turned blustery and even wet. Looks like this is getting to be standard fare; hence we suggest we might move it up a little next year and cut the sand storm season short.

Contract for pre-engineering and contact work on an assessment paving program is due to go to Thompson, Benson and Nash of Big Spring. City officials are thinking in terms of 150 blocks, and already requests are on hand for some 85 blocks.

Terms of two of Big Spring's representatives on the Colorado River Municipal Water District board have been renewed by the city commission. H. W. Wright and Curtis Driver were renamed and will serve with R. L. Cook and R. W. Currie in what promises to be a mighty important period.

Weldon Snodgrass, who has been serving as superintendent at Knott, is stepping into a nice promotion next year. He has accepted the superintendency at Miami in the Texas Panhandle.

A number who had planned to go didn't make it, and Big Spring fell a bit short on attendance at the Coahoma good will dinner Tuesday. However, there was more good old leisurely visiting than ever before.

Police have really been getting with it on the hub cap thievery business. During the past week they picked up seven youngsters and a quantity of hub caps and fender skirts. They are proving that heat can be applied to shut off this source of easy money for kids who don't want to work for it.

This is Music Week. Our community is making steady, if somewhat slow, strides in upgrading our musical and art opportunities. So support the various events of the week with your attendance.

Two injured in Glasscock Crash

GARDEN CITY—Weather may have contributed to the serious injury of two men west of here Friday afternoon.

John Clark, 32, of 2623 Roosevelt, Midland, and Ted A. Laughlin, 50, Garden City rancher, were rushed to the Midland Memorial Hospital following a head-on highway collision 10 miles west of here at 2:30 p.m. It had been showering and a drizzle was falling at the time.

Condition of the two men was described as critical upon arrival at the hospital. Clark, a geologist for Chase Oil Company, was driving a 1957 Ford and was east bound, and Laughlin, driving a 1958 GMC pickup, was going west.

Half Inch Of Rain Falls In Glasscock

GARDEN CITY — Glasscock County was helped Friday by half an inch of moisture which fell slowly.

One brisk shower during the afternoon put out .3 of an inch, and the balance fell intermittently from 7 p.m. to after midnight. Although not a drought-breaker, the rain will be of great help in freshening the range and keeping spring grazing going awhile longer.

Norstad Warns West: Don't Back Down At Summit Talks

By GEORGE McARTHUR

PARIS (AP)—The top soldiers of NATO have bluntly told their political bosses to look to the Soviet Union in the eye at any summit conference.

"If there is another Munich it won't be our fault," said one gruff general who daily weighs the military implications of threats from Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev.

This pointed advice to Western diplomats was based on a soldier's faith in the military machine forged in 10 years by the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. The machine has some bad flaws, the general readily admitted, but it can do the job.

In essence, this was the message given to the 15 NATO nations after they, somewhat apprehensively, set out reassessing their strength in the light of Khrushchev's ominous jabs at Berlin.

The supreme Allied commander in Europe, Gen. Lauris Norstad—now adding wrinkles to his still boyish 52-year-old face—flew to Washington to report to the U.S. Congress.

Norstad asked for more missiles to beef up his thin defense. The present 21 1/2 divisions in NATO's central European arsenal are not enough, he said. He wants 30 divisions with atomic arms.

Despite these seeming shortcomings, Norstad said his forces could go a long way toward backing up any Western diplomatic decisions. His international staff agrees and there are some trump cards which have strengthened their beliefs.

These soldierly views enabled NATO's diplomats to display confidence and unity when the diplomats gathered in the United States April 4 for the 10th anniversary ceremonies of the organization.

Much of the diplomatic icing is increasingly tempered and strengthened by the judgments coming from Norstad's sprawling, informal headquarters outside Paris.

In this little Pentagon American, British, French and other Allied officers work easily with German ex-Wermacht officers now beginning to play bigger and bigger roles.

It is accepted here, as an article of faith, that the U.S. Strategic Air Command and the British Bomber Command can adequately deliver the massive H-bomb deterrent to the Soviet heartland if the need arises. A second article of faith is that NATO's force can "hold the pass" in Europe, although the job would be pretty sloppy with the forces now available.

These are the sentiments of a wide range of Allied officers who daily witness the strength—and weaknesses—of the alliance. Interviews with NATO diplomats reflect the same frank admission of many flaws but confidence that NATO can do its job.

The job, simply stated, is to convince the Soviet Union that she cannot overrun Europe and will not be allowed to chew up NATO nation-by-nation. To accomplish this, NATO must have diplomatic unity as well as military strength.

However, international rivalries die hard. Just keeping in step takes a disproportionate amount of NATO's time.

President Charles de Gaulle recently pulled his Mediterranean naval forces out of the NATO command picture. To accomplish the action emphasized De Gaulle's belief that NATO should have national commands rather than international forces under integrated commands.

This is perhaps NATO's most serious internal argument. The theory of integrated forces is lifeblood to Norstad and his deputy, ruddy-faced British paratrooper Sir Richard Nelson Gale, 62, a warrior whose career started in the World War I trenches of France.

The immediate effectiveness of NATO's forces is a question for both the Soviet Union and the West to ponder.

One factor making them tremendously effective is that Norstad already has the personal power to react immediately to any attack on NATO countries. He has warned in advance he will use atomic weapons.

Technically, Norstad is supposed to consult with his political bosses if he has time. However, the West has recognized in advance that Norstad might not have time, and has given him, in advance, the necessary direction.

Another factor is the push-button quick communications network Norstad now has. His troops are strung from Norway to the remote frontier of Turkey—where giant radars watch Soviet missile shoots—and he can get them into action immediately. American atomic warheads are generally close at hand and American missile units are scattered throughout NATO's forces, mainly in Germany, Italy and Turkey.

A third factor is NATO's sizeable network of supply dumps, ammunition depots, oil pipelines, nuclear stocks, hospitals and other military installations. The atomic devastation of Europe would have to be almost total to wipe out this network.

Without atomic weapons, the NATO force—mainly American, British, Canadian and German troops now that the French are off fighting in Algeria—would probably be run off the battlefield by World War II standards. Yet with atomic weapons they are expected to hold.

Backing up the ground troops is a tactical air force which also packs a big atomic wallop.

Midland Jaycees Win Citation

FORT WORTH (AP)—The convention of the state Junior Chamber of Commerce closed here today.

Fort Worth and Midland chambers took top honors yesterday. Midland of Division IV led the state in first place division awards in the efficiency presentations. Fort Worth Jaycees headed Division V—cities of more than 200,000—with 6 first and 8 second and third places.

Army Assn. Hits Hydrogen Strategy

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Assn. of the United States Army says overreliance on hydrogen weapons is forcing American diplomacy and strategy into an all-or-nothing pattern.

"The present military posture of the United States is out of balance and incapable of exerting its full influence on war and cold war situations that lie on the broad spectrum between a simple 'showing of the flag' at one end and thermonuclear war at the other end," the association said in a pamphlet released Saturday.

The association is headed by Maj. Gen. A. J. Drexel Biddle, retired. A committee which prepared the pamphlet listed as its chairman Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, former Army chief of staff.

The organization describes itself as a nonprofit educational association of about 60,000 members. Members include civilians as well as active and retired Army men. The group long has promoted Army objectives.

The report said the association "is gravely disturbed that so many Americans assert that war in Europe will necessarily be an exclusively thermonuclear war. We believe this is unrealistic."

It added that it agrees with Secretary of State Christian A. Herter's view that the initial stage of war might use limited forces. "A ground and air war using tactical atomic weapons might be such as to make it impractical to expand the conflict into total thermonuclear war, since such an expansion would mean the certain destruction of the very areas and values we are committed to defend and preserve," the report said.

"Until such moment as the potential enemy might venture to risk suicide by resort to massive strategic attack, the most effective means of defending free world positions—and this also applies to intervention in conflicts of potentially limited scope—rests in well integrated forces, which importantly include ground forces armed with tactical nuclear weapons and capable of waging modernized conventional warfare."

Death Separates Couple First Time In 72 Years

ELIZABETHTOWN, Pa. (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Grant were separated Saturday for the first time in 72 years of marriage, by death.

Grant, 92 died in the Masonic Home. His wife was at his side as she had been for all but his working hours since they spoke their wedding vows.

They renewed the vows on their 60th and 70th anniversaries. The latter ceremony was performed by a son, the Rev. Charles Grant, of St. Paul, Minn.

Their constant companionship began with courtship. Or his 70th anniversary, Grant said he couldn't recall how long the courtship lasted but "it was long enough." As young married people they worked side by side in a cigar factory. Later, Grant became custodian of schools in the nearby Reamstown area and was, of necessity, separated from his wife when he went to work.

He said in an interview that other than on those occasions he couldn't recall having been away from Mrs. Grant.

He acknowledged quarrels with his wife, asserting, "They will come. One person must give in." The couple had gone to a convalescent home together and when Grant was transferred to the Masonic Home last Tuesday she went with him.

The Rev. Mr. Grant and another son, Clifford, of East Orange, N. J., survive.

New Radiator Service Is Opened By Fireball Firm

Enlargement of his business to include a complete radiator service was announced Saturday by A. J. Ball, owner of the Fireball Muffler Service.

Ball has installed a complete radiator department, with all new and modern equipment. Henceforth, he said, the firm will be Fireball Muffler & Radiator Service. It is located at 1004 W. 4th in a building constructed only a year and a half ago and designed especially for the Fireball operations. Space and other provisions were made for inauguration of the radiator service when the building was erected.

Equipment in the new radiator shop was built by the well-known manufacturers, Mangum and Barbee. Boil-out vat, dryer and leak exposer, the hot solder dip device, test tank and wash and paint booth all were made by Mangum. Barbee guns, flex-lift and other accessories have been installed. Ball said he will utilize G&O radiator cores and will carry a complete stock.

Assisting Ball in the operation of the shop is Martin Hunnicutt, rated as an expert in the radiator field. Ball himself has several years of experience in radiator service work, and recently completed a special factory course in Dallas as a "refresher" preparatory to opening the new business here.

In the muffler department, Fireball uses the Maremont aluminum mufflers. Ball said his stock is adequate to equip any car, regardless of model, with muffler, tailpipe and other accessories in the muffler field.

Ball opened his business here more than five years ago. After a period of growth in another location, he constructed the new plant a year ago. The masonry building, equipped with two car hoists, has 3,000 square feet of floor space.

Eight Youth Is Arrested For Car Accessory Thefts

Another juvenile was arrested by police officers Saturday morning in connection with thefts of hub caps here.

The boy was turned over to the juvenile officer after telling the police about several hub cap thefts. None of the items was recovered Saturday, but he told officers several of them had been sold in Odessa.

Officers brought to eight the number who have been apprehended in the last 10 days for thefts of auto accessories. The drive is still under way, detective Leo Hull added, and more will be arrested since the thefts continue.

Four Hospitalized By Dawson Wreck

LAMESA — Four persons were hospitalized here Saturday as a result of a two-car collision north of Lamesa.

Listed in fair condition were J. C. Scoggin, farmer, Route B of Lamesa; and Mr. and Mrs. Herman Rodriguez and Maria De-Castro of Denver, Colo.

The accident occurred at 12:20 p.m. Saturday one-half mile north of Lamesa on U. S. 87. Scoggin proceeding north, attempted to make a left turn onto a farm-to-market road and entered the path of the second car, driven by Rodriguez. Rodriguez's vehicle, driving south, struck the north-bound car, Patrolman Ralph Ward said.

Driver Killed

TULSA (AP)—A truck driver identified as Alexander McLendon, 37, of Troup, Tex. was killed in a traffic accident here Saturday.

Negro Coed Raped By 4 White Men

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP)—A Negro coed from Florida A.&M. University was kidnapped and raped at gunpoint by four white men early Saturday after a college dance.

Deputy Sheriff W. W. Slappey reported that the four men involved had been arrested a short time later with the gagged and hysterical girl still in their car.

State Atty. William Hopkins was questioning the four in Leon County Jail and announced that rape charges would be filed against all four.

Three of the men were listed as Patrick G. Scarborough, 20, a Tallahassee man reported A.W.O.L. from Ft. Fisher, N.C. Air Base; William Collinsworth, 24, a telephone company lineman from Tallahassee; and David Ervin Bagles, 18, a Tallahassee high school student.

The fourth was a 16-year-old former high school student whose name was withheld.

Slappey gave an account of the case.

Two Negro couples from Florida A.&M. were parked in an automobile near the campus about 2:30 a.m. when an automobile containing the four white men pulled up alongside, he said.

At shotgun point the white men demanded that the two Negro girls get into their car. One of the Negro girls broke and ran, succeeding in getting away. The four drove off with the other girl into a wooded area several miles west of the campus. All four raped her, one of them twice, Slappey said.

The two Negro men, Thomas Butterfield and Richard Brown, both of Miami, called the sheriff's office. Slappey and a part-time deputy, Joe Cook, started out in different cars. Cook came upon the car with the four men and the Negro girl in it.

With the aid of other officers summoned to the scene by radio, he brought them to the county jail. The Negro girl was taken to Florida A.&M. Hospital, where examination showed she had been raped. She was reported suffering from shock.

Slappey said the four white men appeared to have been drinking heavily.

No Jury Trials Slated Until May

Court activity in the Howard County Courthouse is in a state of recess. No jury trials are slated until the last two weeks in May. Judge Charlie Sullivan, 118th District Court, is handling non-jury cases which come up for hearing but has announced no jury is to be called until the week of May 25. A criminal docket will open on that date. County Judge Ed Carpenter said he would call a jury to report to his court on May 18. A criminal docket is scheduled for that week in the county court.

Train Excursion For Cubs

Around 200 Cub Scouts and parents boarded special cars in the T&P yards here Saturday morning for their annual railway excursion. The group traveled to Sweetwater where they hiked to the city park for lunch and recreation before catching the westbound Eagle for the return to Big Spring. Four extra coaches were required for the Cubs and their leaders.

Bike Safety Clinic Delayed

The Citizens Traffic Commission's annual bicycle safety clinic, slated to begin Monday, has been delayed a week. James Eubanks, CTC executive secretary, reported.

Eubanks said that all arrangements have not been completed, so the CTC decided to postpone the school for a week. The added time will enable the instructors and the CTC to expand the program to include girls. Previously, the CTC has planned to give instruction to boys only.

The school will be of a week's duration and instruction will be given at each elementary school by the schools' athletic coaches. Work will include rules of safe cycling, inspection of bicycles, and Road-E-Os at the individual schools.

Eubanks said all youngsters attending each session will receive a certificate signifying completion of the course.

Career Man May Replace Mrs. Luce

WASHINGTON (AP)—If he takes senatorial advice, President Eisenhower probably will name a career man to fill the Brazilian ambassadorship. Clare Boothe Luce didn't accept.

The controversy over Mrs. Luce's exchange of posts with Sen. Wayne Morse (D-Ore) has left the Senate anxious to avoid any further political brawls over Latin American diplomatic posts.

Selection of a noncontroversial career officer to take over at Rio de Janeiro obviously would please both Republicans and Democrats interested in offsetting any possible damage done to good neighbor relations.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon's comment that it will be difficult to find anybody who can fill the post as ably as Mrs. Luce appeared to point to a belief on his part that an experienced diplomat must be chosen. Mrs. Luce formerly served as ambassador to Italy.

Nixon described Brazil as one of the most important diplomatic posts in the world. With that in mind, some Republicans think Eisenhower may pick a seasoned career man for the job.

Herter Says West Ready For Parleys

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Christian A. Herter flew in from Paris Saturday and told President Eisenhower the Western Powers are ready to open negotiations with the Soviet Union for an end to the Berlin crisis and a start on German unification.

He described as very successful his talks with British, French, and West German foreign ministers last week. In an airport arrival statement, he challenged the Soviet Union to show an honest desire to negotiate in the Big Four meeting coming up at Geneva, Switzerland, May 11.

The Western ministers reached final agreement on a set of proposals to present to the Soviet Union for ending the Berlin crisis and making a start on German unification and control of armed forces.

Officials said proposals in this package may be bargained over separately if the Russians show a sincere interest in negotiation, which State Department authorities consider unlikely.

This was Herter's first exercise in high-level personal diplomacy as secretary of state. Dispatches from Paris reported Allied diplomats were favorably impressed with his work. The assignment was carried out somewhat in the manner of Herter's cancer-stricken predecessor, John Foster Dulles.

The new secretary, whose walking is impaired by arthritis, appeared relaxed despite a busy week of meetings and a long overnight flight from Paris.

Within two hours Herter had flown by helicopter to Gettysburg, Pa. There he conferred with Eisenhower on the sun porch of the President's farm home for 75 minutes, then returned to Washington.

Both Herter's airport statement and White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty, in relaying word of the secretary's talk with Eisenhower, used the words "very successful," to describe Herter's meetings with Britain's Selwyn Lloyd, France's Maurice Couve de Murville, and West Germany's Heinrich von Brentano.

"Both in spirit and substance," Herter said, "we reached complete agreement on a highly important Western position. This should assist us greatly in making progress at Geneva should the Soviet Union demonstrate an honest desire to negotiate."

He said he will leave again Friday for Geneva, where the Western ministers will negotiate for several weeks with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko as a prelude to a possible summit conference later.

Negro Held On Fondling Charge

A 48-year-old Negro, whose address is given as 400 NW 4th, is being held in the Howard County jail on charges of fondling.

Jess Slaughter, justice of the peace, said the charge against Henry L. Farmer was filed in his court on Saturday morning.

Slaughter set Farmer's bond at $5,000. He had not been able to post bond and is still being held in jail. Farmer was arrested by city police on Friday night.

No details of the complaint against Farmer were known by the sheriff's office.

Raymon Lee Blackmon, 36, arrested for DWI, has been freed from custody on posting $500 bail. He was picked up Friday night.

Business Better Than In Old Days, Report Suggests

AUSTIN (AP)—Business is twice as good now as in the good old days, the Bureau of Business Research says.

"Overall business activity in the state in March was at a level of 202 per cent of the 1947-49 average rate, after adjusting the data for seasonal variation," the University of Texas agency said Saturday.

"At this level the index of Texas business activity was six per cent below the all-time record established in February. It was 10 per cent above the March 1958 value."

"It is apparent that, although the course is an irregular one, the general direction of movement of Texas business activity is strongly upward from the depression lows. With economic activity in the United States in a vigorous recovery, the direction of movement should be upward for the next year at least."

March figures had Texas business showing substantial increases over March 1958, in all except non-residential building which was down five per cent.

Marriage Licenses For April Total 28

Twenty-eight marriage licenses were issued by the office of Howard County Clerk in April. This is not an exceptionally high number. A brisk pickup was indicated as May moved in.

The deputies anticipate a rally in this department as June draws nearer.

Boy Dies In Crash

TRENTON (AP)—A boy was killed and five other persons injured seriously in a 2-car collision last night on the edge of Trenton on U. S. Highway 69. Dead was Everett D. James Jr., 14.

Postal Receipts Still Climbing

Big Spring Post office receipts for April were $31,354.59, a gain of $6,713.07 over April 1958.

For the year, the post office receipts are $25,938.43 ahead of the receipts for the first four months of 1958. Total receipts so far this year are $113,209.72 compared with $87,271.29 for the same period last year.

E. C. Boatler, postmaster, said that one of the interesting aspects of the April receipt totals was the increased volume provided by the four substations operated by the office.

These substations provided $4,535.84 of the total for the month, one of the biggest months in this category—other than for Christmas periods—on record.

The substations are located in the Hemphill-Weils department store; Edwards Heights, Pharmacy, Lewis 5&10 and at Webb Airforce Base.

WHAT MAKES AN OLDS RIDE SO WELL?

It all starts with a 9-inch wider frame... Oldsmobile's exclusive Wide-Stance Chassis!

When it comes to designing an automobile for superior riding qualities, the key engineering word is balance.

That's why Oldsmobile brings you the Wide-Stance Chassis—plus an exclusive frame construction with the best stability and security factors of both "X" and cross-member construction. There are stabilizer bars front and rear.

Big, smooth-acting front coil springs team up with wide, splay-mounted leaf springs that automatically dampen road shock. And the springing system is further assisted by direct-action, outboard shock absorbers.

But for you, the important thing is the result! You've heard of smooth, road-hugging rides before... but you actually have to drive a '59 Olds to experience the marvelous difference in its ride. Now that it's Spring... why not join us and take that ride?

Garza Strike Flows Heavily From Strawn

The General American No. 1-3 Koonsman wildcat in Garza will attempt to dually complete as strikes from the Strawn and Spraberry zones.

The venture at last report was flowing oil through a 10-64-inch choke from the Strawn at a rate of 14 barrels per day.

Elsewhere in the county, Shell has staked a new try in the Happy (Ellenburger) field, a project in the Red Loflin field found gas, oil and water on a Strawn drillstem test, and another project was taking a DST in the Spraberry in the same field.

The General American No. 1-3 Koonsman, about nine miles southwest of Justiceburg, was flowing through Strawn perforations 7,702-50 feet at last report when the 14-barrel-per-hour rate was gauged. Operator is now ready to perforate and test the Spraberry for discovery potential.

Location of the well is 330 feet from north and east lines, 3-2, T&NO Survey, and 1 1/2 miles southeast of the multiphase Red Loflin pool.

The hole is bottomed at 8,319 feet with seven-inch string set at 8,194. Top of the Spraberry zone is 4,898 feet, and operator topped the Ellenburger at 8,202 feet.

In the Red Loflin field, the General American No. 1-21 Koonsman was bottomed at 7,820 feet Saturday and preparing to take another drillstem test from 7,851-920 feet after testing from 7,780-850 feet.

The test tool was open three hours, and recovery included 1,030 feet of gas in drill pipe, 350 feet of oil and gas-cut mud, 450 feet of oil and gas-cut salt water, and 4,190 feet of gas and salt water-cut mud. Flowing pressure mounted from 325-2,325 pounds, and 30-minute in pressure hit 2,900 pounds.

The site is 2,100 feet from north and 1,750 from east lines, 21-2, T&NO Survey, and 10 miles southwest of Justiceburg.

In the same field, the General American No. 1-677 Koonsman ran a drillstem test Saturday from 4,856-921 feet in the Spraberry. Results of the test were not announced. The site is 330 from north and west lines, 677-97, H&TC Survey.

W'camp Shows Found On Test Of Martin Well

A Martin County wildcat found gas and some shows of oil on a Wolfcamp drillstem test Friday.

Operator tested the Texas Crude No. 1-19 Kerry-Kim-Bo from 9,890-10,141 feet in the Wolfcamp for two hours, with good blows reported throughout. Recovery included 90 feet of gas and 90 feet of heavily oil and gas-cut mud with a slight scum of oil on top of the mud. Shutin pressure for 30 minutes gauges 105 pounds.

Saturday, it was drilling below 10,332 feet in lime and shale. The 12,500-foot wildcat is located 10 miles southwest of Patricia, 660 from south and east lines, 10-HA, Lanier Survey.

Two New Wildcats In Upton, Cochran

Two new wildcat sites were announced this weekend, one each in Upton and Cochran counties.

The Upton try is Penrose No. 1 King Ranch Oil & Lignite Co., about five miles northeast of McCamey. It is 660 from south and 1,980 from north lines, 26-2, MKT Survey, and five miles from nearest Ellenburger production. Drilling depth for Ellenburger tests is 10,500 feet.

In Cochran County about 4 1/2 miles southeast of Morton is the Lee & Grappe No. 1 Cameron Heirs. It is 467 from north and west lines, Labor 20, League 86, Greer CSL Survey, with a contracted depth of 5,400 feet.

Patricia Field Well In Dawson Drills

The Forest Oil No. 2 Harris, a project 12 miles southwest of Patricia, in Dawson County drilled past 9,660 feet in lime and shale this weekend.

Mixing Alcohol, Gasoline Produces Fuel—Not Drink

WASHINGTON (AP)—Mixing alcohol with gasoline—in automobile tanks, that is—again is being proposed in Congress. The idea: To use grain surpluses for production of alcohol.

Rep. Lawrence Brock (D-Neb) offered the suggestion before a House agriculture subcommittee studying legislation to expand research into new and improved uses for farm products.

Brock said cereal grains are rich in starch, a basic ingredient in alcohol.

"Great quantities of alcohol are being used as fuel for jet planes, rockets, guided missiles and turbo-propelled engines," he told the committee. "Successful tests have been made to use alcohol as an additive to gasoline for automobiles, trucks, tractors and aircraft. Further studies will develop more uses of alcohol."

and nine miles southwest of Justiceburg.

Shell Oil has located the No. 3-CC Slaughter in the Happy (Ellenburger) pool about 12 miles south of Post. The site is 660 feet from south and west lines, 42-2, T&NO Survey, on a 960-acre lease. Drilling depth is 8,400 feet.

About 12 miles southwest of Post, the General American No. 1-1

Evans, Fallon Retire From Cosden After 16, 23 Years

Two veteran Cosden Petroleum Corp. employees with 16 years continuous service each to their credit have taken their retirement.

They are Dave T. Evans, lubrication engineer, and J. Claude Fallon, crude unit stillman. Both laid aside their active duties with the company Thursday evening.

In all, Fallon had 23 1/2 years of service with Cosden. Evans came to Cosden 15 years ago but he has spent most of his 48 working years as a chemist or lubrication expert.

Both men plan to do a lot of relaxing to begin with. Evans is concerned with regaining strength from two surgical operations and an illness, while Fallon has his eye on a lot of maintenance work around his home at 1105 E. 5th. Both said they were proud to have been a part of Cosden during its period of unprecedented development.

Born in Fort Worth on Oct. 12, 1891, Evans graduated from old Central High School there in 1909 and then spent two years studying chemistry and mathematics at the University of Texas. He worked as a chemist for 8 1/2 years, the last six years with Fort Worth Laboratories, before going to San Antonio as lubrication engineer with Pierce Oil Co., a position he held for five years.

T.P. Coal and Oil offered his next opportunity, and he remained with that firm 10 years before moving to Wichita, Kans., and putting in a two-year stint with Derby Oil and Refining. Later he spent five years with Globe Oil and Refining Co. at Wichita, and when that sold he went with Boing Aircraft as process engineer on lubrication oils and fuels. From there he came to Cosden.

Married in Fort Worth in 1913 to Ruth Beaumont, who was born in Kentucky, Mr. Evans is very proud of their family of three children and seven grandchildren. Their oldest, a daughter, Mrs. J. R. Horsnell, lives in Wichita, Kan., where her husband is an aeronautical engineer. They have two daughters. The Rev. David Evans Jr., now pastor of the First Presbyterian Church at Bridgeport, is the father of a son and a daughter, John, who works for a life insurance firm in Houston, has two girls and a boy.

Mr. Evans has had a member grade in the Society of Automotive Engineers for 20 years. A member of Delta Tau Delta, social fraternity, and of the Lions Club for many years, he is also an elder in The St. Paul's Presbyterian Church. They are currently on a trip to visit one of their sons, Mr. and Mrs. Fallon are looking forward most to a long vacation trip to Idaho Falls, Idaho, to visit their oldest son, Kenneth Paul Fallon, who works in an atomic energy plant.

The other children are closer to home. Mrs. Charlene Lamb, their only daughter, lives at Danbury, where her husband is superintendent of schools. She has three daughters. Dr. B. J. Fallon, father of a son and daughter, is associate professor of education at Texas Tech. James, who has two boys, works for Humble in its drilling department at Seminole. Robert works for T & P in Big Spring and also has three daughters. Kenneth Paul's only son is a student in the University of Utah.

Mrs. Fallon is a member of the East Fourth Baptist Church, and Mr. Fallon is a Catholic.

Mr. Fallon was born at Clarksville July 10, 1891. His father died when he was a year and a half old, and he was reared by his paternal grandmother on a farm near Goldthwaite. In 1915 he was married to the former Elizabeth Bohannon, who also was reared in that community. Except for a short period in 1919 when he worked on a ranch at Albany, Mr. Fallon was principally engaged in farming and working at a gin in Goldthwaite until the family moved to Big Spring in 1929. He worked for Cosden 8 1/2 years and later for the city on water treating at the filtration plant before returning to Cosden in April 1944.

Mr. Fallon is a member of the McFarland (Queen) field of Andrews County.

The new site is Rice No. 1 D. J. Barber and is about four miles southwest of Westbrook. It is 990 feet from north and west lines, 16-28-15, T&P Survey, on a 240-acre tract. Drilling depth is 3,500 feet.

Others included in the survey are Martin 6 (4), Menard 0 (1), Midland 7 (8), Mitchell 1 (1), Nolan 2 (2), Pecos 15 (16), Reagan 3 (3), Roosevelt 3 (3), Reeves 3 (3), Runnels 4 (3), San Miguel 0 (1), Scurry 9 (9), and Schleicher 6 (4).

Reed Finds 377 Rotaries Active In Permian Basin

An increase of four rigs was noted by the Reed Roller Bit Co. on its survey of the active rotary rigs in the Permian Basin last week.

Reed took its regular weekly survey on Friday and found 377 rotaries turning, compared with 373 on April 24. On April 17, however, there were 389 units in action in the Basin. May 2, 1958, there were 329 rigs turning.

Outside of the April 17 count, though, the 377 recorded Friday is the highest total since Feb. 20, when 379 were in action, and the fifth-highest count of the year.

Lea County, N. M., is the individual leader for the fifth straight week, having 51 rotaries in action on Friday, three more than it counted April 24. Andrews County is second with 38, down four from its April 24 tally.

Other counties having 20 or more active rigs on Friday include Crane with 21, Ector with 30, Gaines with 20, and Winkler with 22.

Howard County's drilling dropped three rigs from the 11 count of April 24. Martin added its count by two to six during the week. Dawson had two as compared to four for the previous week.

The tabulations for individual areas throughout the Basin (with April 24 totals in parenthesis) include Andrews 38 (42), Borden 10 (10), Brewster 0 (1), Cochran 5 (5), Chaves 5 (5), Crane 21 (20), Coke 2 (2), Crockett 2 (3), and Crosby 0 (0).

Also Culberson 3 (4), Dawson 2 (4), Dickens 1 (0), Ector 30 (29), Eddy 15 (14), Gaines 20 (19), Garza 10 (10), Glasscock 0 (0), Hockley 5 (4), HOWARD 8 (11), Irion 2 (1), Kent 1 (2), Lamb 2 (3), Lea 51 (48), Lubbock 1 (1), and Loving 3 (4).

Others included in the survey are Martin 6 (4), Menard 0 (1), Midland 7 (8), Mitchell 1 (1), Nolan 2 (2), Pecos 15 (16), Reagan 3 (3), Roosevelt 3 (3), Reeves 3 (3), Runnels 4 (3), San Miguel 0 (1), Scurry 9 (9), and Schleicher 6 (4).

Also Stonewall 6 (3), Sutton 2 (2), Terry 3 (4), Terrell 7 (7), Tom Green 3 (1), Upton 9 (6), Val Verde 2 (2), Ward 13 (13), Winkler 22 (21), Yoakum 10 (10), and Permian Basin totals 377 (373).

Summer Recreation Plans Taking Shape

Plans for the city-wide summer recreational program are rapidly taking shape.

Most of the staff has been engaged, said Bobo Hardy, executive secretary of the YMCA, the administrative agency for the program. Cooperating financially and in other ways to make it possible are the United Fund, the City of Big Spring and the Big Spring Independent School District.

The fun clubs will begin on June 1 and the swimming classes on June 8, said Hardy. Other program details will be announced as the plans are completed.

Hardy is still in need of a female part-time supervisor for the North Side program. The assignment is for a fun club director in that area between the hours of 9 a.m. and 12 noon.

Similarly, he is seeking a woman on a part-time basis for assignment to some of the other fun club activities. The fun club program, which will be gymnasium centered this year, is primarily for elementary school age youngsters.

Another pressing need is that of transportation. Anyone who has a truck, farm, commercial or other type—not in use this summer, the YMCA desperately needs to make use of it. The owners will be completely indemnified against any liability and the vehicles will be kept in top mechanical condition. Anyone who might be able to offer help or suggestions in this direction is urged to call Hardy at the Y (AM 4-8821).

Odessa, Big Spring and Snyder and to its other customers a total of 772,737,000 gallons, or 35.2 per cent more than 571,140,000 gallons in April of 1958.

This compared with a 35.6 per cent gain in March over the same month a year ago. Total deliveries for the year stand over two and a half billion gallons or 2,579,924,000 to be exact.

In April Odessa used 313,149,000 gallons, or an increase of 48.7 per cent over April of last year. Big Spring took 176,471,000, up 32.1 per cent, and Snyder used 48,565,000 gallons, or 24.8 per cent more than the same month in 1958.

SACROC took 151,840,000, Lion Oil 28,284,000 and Sharon Ridge 51,280,000 for a total oilfield repressuring draw of 231,404,000, which was 25.3 per cent more than the 184,673,000 gallons used for repressuring in April of 1958.

For the year, said O. H. Ivie, production engineer, CRMWD has delivered 538,114,000 gallons more than during the first four months of 1958, or an increase of 37.9 per cent.

Water Withdrawals Exceed Estimates

Water consumption here during April exceeded the city's estimate by about 26 million gallons and soared over the same month of last year by 43 million.

Thursday's usage of 6,500,000 gallons upped the city's water total to 136,425,000 gallons for April. This, coupled with the 39,746,000 gallons needed by Cabot-Coden, raised the total to 176,171,000 gallons.

Big Springers To See AF Firepower Demonstration

A dozen Big Springers will be among the crowd at Eglin Air Force Base, Florida, Tuesday, for the Air Force's aerial firepower demonstrations.

They will be guests of the AF Training Command and of Webb AFB, with Col. Kyle Riddle as escort officer. At Eglin, the Air Force shows off its latest types of aircraft and weapons, putting these through actual tactical demonstrations.

The local group will leave Webb at 8:30 a.m. Monday, spend the night at Keesler AFB, Miss., and fly on to Eglin Tuesday morning, returning here that evening after the demonstrations.

The list includes Clyde McMahon, R. H. Weaver, J. Y. Robb, Ike Robb, R. W. Whipkey, Leroy Tidwell, Bill Quimby, Lee Hanson, John Taylor, Douglas Orme, Bobo Hardy, and Larson Lloyd.

From Webb, Lt. Col. Philip G. Cardin, Maj. Sherrod H. Osborne Jr., 1st Lt. James O. Daniel, 1st Lt. William G. Daoust and 1st Lt. Roy E. Fornel, accompanied by five maintenance technicians, will fly T-33's to Eglin to assist in giving orientation and indoctrination flights to special guests at the demonstration.

Carlile Second High In Judging Contest At LSU

COLLEGE STATION—A team of agronomy students from Texas A&M College took second place honors in the regional soil judging contest at Louisiana State University.

The A&M team completed the contest with 2,285 points. LSU won the contest with 2,295 points. Students comprising the A&M team were Bobby Carlile, Stanton, James C. Blue, Clifton, Larry Hausmann, Goliad, and Boyd S. Proctor, DeKalb.

Carlile was second high point man in the contest with 740 points and Hausmann was fourth with 715. Both are seniors at A&M. Proctor and Blue are juniors.

During a business meeting of Region IV of the student division of the American Society of Agronomy, Proctor was elected to succeed Carlile as vice president.

The Student Agronomy Society sponsored the team's trip to LSU and will be hosts for the regional contest in 1960. Carlile is president of the society.

Tot 'N' Teen Shop Is Sold To Mrs. Ragan

Sale of Tot 'N' Teen Shop, 901 Johnson, to Mrs. Dorothy Ragan, became effective on April 27.

Mrs. Ragan purchased the popular shop devoted to supplying the needs of the younger social set of the community from Mrs. K. L. Click, who has operated it for the past five years.

Mrs. Ragan said that she planned to redecorate the establishment and to add important new lines of merchandise to the stock of the store.

She will materially increase her inventory to offer customers a wider selection of the goods the store features. Not all of these things can be done immediately, she pointed out, but her plans call for a general broadening of operations from now on.

She said the same sales staff will continue with her.

They are Mrs. L. T. Hargrove and Mrs. Curtis Reynolds. Part time employees will be added as needed to accommodate the trade.

Mrs. Ragan is well known in Big Spring. Up to about 18 months ago she was proprietress of Estah's Flower Shop. More recently she has been engaged in bookkeeping and other activities.

Tot 'N' Teen is housed in a brick building on the corner of 9th and Johnson.

Quimby On Program For WTCC Meet

Bill Quimby, local Chamber of Commerce manager, will fill two roles at the annual convention of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce in Amarillo next Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

He will preside Friday morning at a breakfast honoring Chamber presidents and managers from throughout West Texas. Quimby also is chairman of a program committee for the Chamber of Commerce Managers Assn. of West Texas.

The group will meet Friday to map plans for the annual CCMAWT meeting, to be held this year in conjunction with the WTCC short course for Chamber executives. The joint meeting is set for Aug. 20-22 in Lubbock.

Among the featured speakers at the WTCC convention this weekend will be State Sen. Grady Hazlewood, Amarillo, and House Speaker Waggoner Carr of Lubbock. There will be nine speakers on the program for the 41st annual meeting of the WTCC. "The Shape of Things to Come" is to be theme of the meeting.

Desmond Barry, Houston, truck line president and subject of a November Reader's Digest article, "The Man the Teamsters Found Too Hot to Handle," will address the convention on "What Labor Unions Can Do to Your Business Today."

Other speakers include: Robert A. Finney, Humboldt, Kan., former president of the Kansas State Chamber and currently a district director of the U. S. Chamber, speaking on "What Congress Proposes to Do to Our Economy."

C. B. Spencer, agricultural director, Texas Cottonseed Crushers Assn., Dallas, on "How the Problems of the Cotton Industry in West Texas Will Affect Business Interests."

Durward Lewter, Lubbock cattle feeder on "Prospects for Growth of Stock Feeding in West Texas."

Dr. Harold Loden, manager, Paymaster Farm, Plainview — "The Stake of West Texas' Economy in Grain Production."

Harry W. Clark, Dallas, industrial consultant with Texas Power and Light Co., "Will Industry Continue to Regard Texas and West Texas As Attractive for Location of New Plants?"

Dr. Carl S. Winters, minister, First Baptist Church, Oak Park, Ill. — "The Community Glory Road."

Hazlewood and Carr are scheduled for the third day of the convention. Hazlewood will talk on "Legislative Problems Affecting Business." Carr will talk on "The Shape of Things to Come in Texas."

Reports On Early Studies Of Southwest Given Tech

LUBBOCK — Rare copies of reports that helped open the gates for a gigantic Southwestern cattle industry have been given to the Southwest Collection at Texas Tech by Atty. Gen. Will Wilson.

One is a report to Congress in 1854 by Capt. John Pope on sections of Texas for an east-west route between the Red River and Rio Grande.

The other is a report on the Southwest cattle industry and its prospects made to Congress 30 years later by Joseph Nimmo.

Dr. Seymour V. Connor, collection director, called the two rare reports "basic additions for any study of Southwestern history."

"They are of practical as well as scholarly value because they reveal some of the little-known forces behind Southwestern growth in vivid detail," he declared. "It's just the type of material we need."

Connor said Pope's report was one of the first important documents to come after the U. S. expanded into what is now its Southwest. The U. S. took over this great expanse in 1848 after the Mexican War.

The California gold rush followed in 1849, bringing pressures for new routes across the Southwest. The federal government began making surveys to determine such possibilities.

Capt. Pope was assigned the task of seeking a Southwestern route across the Llano Estacado, then considered a formidable barrier because its flat top was devoid of dependable water sources.

Pope it was who — more than a century ago — suggested the underground water that opened the high plains to cattlemen and later to irrigated agriculture.

Pope's personal account of the exploration is reported in the rare document given by Wilson.

Pope saw only possibilities for taking care of a few domestic animals that could be watered from wells by hand.

His report, however, helped spur adventurous cattlemen to move their herds onto the rich table land once the Indians were subdued.

Nimmo's report three decades later records details of a tremendous cattle empire that sent nearly a million head out of Texas alone in one year.

Wilson, who collects historical literature, came across the two rare documents during the annual book auction of the Texas State Historical Assn. Because of their particular significance in West Texas history, he decided to purchase them as gifts for Tech.

Couch Elected To Student Law Post

AUSTIN — J. Sewell Couch, University of Texas law student from Big Spring, has been elected vice president of the Law Students Bar Assn.

Norman Is Fired, Dykes In

DETROIT (AP)—Bill Norman was fired Saturday as manager of the Detroit Tigers and Jimmy Dykes was named to succeed him.

Norman's dismissal came immediately after his team lost 15-3 to the Washington Senators. It was Detroit's third straight loss and the 15th in 17 games this season.

Norman, 48, had the job less than one year. He took over last June 10, when Jack Tighe was fired in Boston with his team in last place.

Dykes, long-time big league manager and coach, will take over the Tigers before Sunday's double header against the New York Yankees in Briggs Stadium here.

Dykes has been coaching for the Pittsburgh Pirates this season. He was a coach for the Cincinnati Redlegs of the National League in 1958 and took over that club late in the season when Birdie Tebbetts left to join the Milwaukee Braves organization as a vice president.

DETROIT (AP)—Harmon Killebrew hammered his third and fourth home runs in two days and Jim Lemon connected with the bases loaded as the Washington Senators feasted on Detroit pitching for the third day in a row and blasted the Tigers Saturday 15-3.

DETROIT (AP)—Harmon Killebrew hammered his third and fourth home runs in two days and Jim Lemon connected with the bases loaded as the Washington Senators feasted on Detroit pitching for the third day in a row and blasted the Tigers Saturday 15-3.

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Baltimore's Hoyt Wilhelm survived a ninth inning scare Saturday and fluttered his knuckleball past Kansas City batters for a 3-1 victory.

BALTIMORE KANSAS CITY baseball score table with columns for teams, players, and statistics.

SAN ANGELO (SC)—Sands Consolidated girls track team, composed of losses from Ackery and Knott high schools, placed fifth in the Bluebonnet Belle relay competition here Friday.

Alice also won third in the shot put. Jeannette Ray, Knott, won fourth in the 220, Janice Bearden fourth in the 50 and two Sands relay teams won fourth.

Dorothy Williams, Shirley Williams and Martha Burrow, all of Ackery, and Jeannette Ray, Knott, ran on the 300-yard medley relay. Janice Bearden, Ackery, stepped in for Shirley Williams on the 200-yard relay.

Bobby Davis, 6-6 basketball player who transferred from Kilgore to perform for HCJC this season, received most ballots in selections for the all-West Zone basketball squad.

Tommy Zinn, who recently left college for the Armed Forces, was chosen for the second team. Gilbert Bell, 6-4 forward, and Ray Clay, 5-8 guard, were HCJC players named to the honorable mention list.

Neither Davis nor Bell was able to play in the Region V finals, but both had distinguished themselves in zone competition, Davis was ineligible to compete in the playoffs and Bell was injured.

Zinn and Clay, both sophomores, were playing on the team that won second behind San Angelo in the regional finals.

Davis received 54 votes for the first team, Warren Tipton of Frank Phillips 53, Jim Bevers of Amarillo 41, Jay Sherrard of Lubbock Christian 37, and Frank Castleberry of Frank Phillips 34.

Clarendon, West Zone winner, had no player on the first quintet but placed two on the second five.

Lloyd Stephens of Clarendon received 31 votes, Paul Thorpe of Odessa 29, Dale Glaze of Lubbock Christian 28, Tommy Zinn of HCJC 17 and Alva Carter of Clarendon 13.

Followers of junior college basketball thought it strange that 5-8 guard Benny Carver of Howard County Junior College received no votes, Carver was a leading scorer (14).

Ted Kroll Takes Lead As Hebert Crumbles

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF Associated Press Sports Writer FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—War Veteran Ted Kroll fought his way into the lead in the $27,300 Colonial National Invitation Golf Tournament Saturday with a stretch run 4-under-par 32 on the final nine, besting struggling Lionel Hebert by two strokes.

By SARASOTA, Fla., came home with a 1-over-par 71 as Hebert soared to an 8-over-par 78 under the pressure and terrific wind.

When the final round opens Sunday Kroll will start out with 210 for 54 holes while Hebert has 212.

The 39-year-old Kroll, once winner of the World Golf Championship, but virtually inactive of late, made his lead solid over Hebert, the Frenchman from Lafayette, La., with a 25-foot birdie putt on the 18th hole.

The two had come into the 18th with Hebert a stroke behind. Hebert got his par by two-putting but Kroll went boldly for the birdie. The ball trickled into the cup and Kroll, who started the third round with 139 for 36 holes, had pulled up with a gain of seven strokes.

Hogan, who four times won this tournament in the 40s and early 50s, and Tommy Jacobs of Whittier, Calif., tied for third place at 213. Jacobs pulled up with a 73.

In fifth place is Fred Hawkins of El Paso, Tex., with 214 while tied for sixth are Bo Winger of Odessa, Tex., and Don January of Denver, Colo., each with 215.

Only two players were able to shoot under par—Cary Middlecoff of Hollywood, Fla., and Arnold Palmer of Ligonier, Pa.—but it didn't do them a lot of good. Palmer was able to go into a tie for eighth at 216 with his 69.

The Odessa Bronchos clinched a tie for the District 2-AAAAA baseball championship by slaughtering Big Spring, 12-1, here Saturday afternoon.

Coach Roy Baird of Big Spring used three hurlers in a vain attempt to muffle the Odessa power. Only Jay LeFevre, who went the last 2-3 innings, was effective against the Bronchos.

Jerry Tyson went all the way on the mound for Odessa, yielding only four hits. The only rally he gave up was unearned. Tyson slipped the third strike past five batters and walked only one.

Odessa's 14-hit attack was led by Gary Spann and Audie Cox, each of whom drove out three singles.

George Pike compiled a 606 high individual series in bowling action this week in the Merchants bowling league.

Snider Gulf hobbled Prager's with a two of three games defeat, and Alexander picked up two of three off Toby's. Tom Conway strayed Donald's Drive Inn in two of three, and B&P Distributors won the best of a trio from Wilson Bros.

Virgil Long recorded high single game, 219.

B&P holds a skimpy two game lead over Wilson Bros. in the standings.

Midland Man's Entry Wins Derby By Nose

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Tommy Lee, an English colt owned by wealthy Texan Fred Turner Jr., nosed out Sword Dancer after a scorching stretch battle in the Kentucky Derby. Then the huge crowd estimated at some 100,000 had to sweat out a foul claim for 17 minutes before the stewards flashed the red official sign on the infield odds board.

Tommy Lee is only the second foreign-bred horse in history to win the race. It was one of the most dramatic finishes ever seen in America's most glamorous horse race, and the scorching finish matched the weather.

Seventeen horses started in the $163,750 race, second richest of all derbies. Christopher T. Chenery's First Landing, the champion 4-year-old of 1958, finished third behind Tommy Lee and the Brookmeade Stable's Sword Dancer.

There were two and one quarter lengths between the second and third horses, while Mrs. Jacques Braunstein's Royal Orbit was fourth, another length away.

Jockey Bill Boland who won the 1950 Derby with Middleground, lodged two foul claims against Tommy Lee.

Boland was riding Sword Dancer. Tommy Lee's jockey was Willie Shoemaker, who was involved in the most recent Derby rhabur two years ago. In the 1957 Derby Wee Willie misjudged the finish line aboard British-bred Gallant Man, and stood up momentarily in the saddle. Iron Liege won the race by a nose, and many observers thought the miscue cost another Texas owner the race.

Gallant Man was owned by Ralph Lowe, who hails from Midland, which also is Turner's home town. This time, however, Shoemaker, a 25-year-old national champion rider from El Paso, Tex., was on the winning side. He had won the 1955 Derby when Swaps, a California colt, upset Nashua.

Old timers said this was the longest delay in making the Derby result official, and recalled only one other claim of foul in the race which was inaugurated in 1875.

That, oddly enough, was against Omar Khayyam in 1917. Omar Khayyam was English-bred. Shoemaker had sent Tommy Lee to the front late in the backstretch with a little better than half a mile to travel. Sword Dancer, in fourth place and never far behind, came up on the outside to challenge on the first turn.

They hooked up midway around. That was the first place Boland said his horse was bumped. Sword Dancer went to the front near the head of the stretch with about a quarter of a mile to go. The two colts battled head and head in a furious stretch drive. Then, Boland complained, Tommy Lee drifted out in the track and bumped his horse again with about an eighth of a mile remaining. Sword Dancer still led by a head, and it seemed that Tommy Lee wouldn't last.

But Shoemaker pulled his tiring mount together, and in the final 70 yards Tommy Lee surged up again on the rail and pounded under the wire with his sleek nose the margin between the winner's share of $119,650 and second place money of $25,000.

Tommy Lee stepped the mile and quarter in 2:02 1-5 on a fast track. Whirlaway set the track record of 2:01 2-5 in winning the 1941 derby.

First Landing, with Eddie Arcaro seeking his sixth derby victory, was the slight favorite. Tommy Lee paid $9.40, $4.80 and $3.80. Sword Dancer, a Virginia colt owned by Mrs. Isabel Dodge Sloane of Upperville in the Old Dominion, paid $9.00 and $6.20. First Landing was $4.00 to show.

STATE CHAMPS THIRD TIME Steerettes Rout Pampa For Volleyball Crown

ABILENE (SC)—The Big Spring Steerettes, doing their best when the chips were down, routed Pampa 26-12 here at Rose Field House of Hardin-Simmons University for the AAAA State volleyball title Saturday.

It was the fifth time the two teams had met this season, and Pampa had won once for the regional championship recently. This was the worst defeat Big Spring had following Pampa.

In a given exhibition game, Big Spring used all substitutes in beating AAA champion Pecos, 29-18. Pecos was named winner of that division after San Marcos failed to appear.

Peggy Isaacks and Elena Patterson were named all-state spikers and June Johnson all-state setter for Big Spring. Kay Lane, spiker, and Phyllis Burris and Eslick, setters, were on the team for Pampa.

In the 4-A title game, Big Spring jumped into a 4-0 lead in two minutes and the closest Pampa could get was 4-2 seconds later.

The score at halftime had spread to 14-7. With one minute remaining in the game Big Spring opened its largest margin, 25-10.

Peggy Isaacks served seven with Elena Patterson at the net. Darlene Williams and Helen Boyd served six each with Isaacks at net.

The Steerettes led all the way in the Pecos game, sluggingly played because of the heat and all-out performance given against Pampa. Three minutes before half it was 11-9 for Big Spring, the closest margin. At half, score stood at 18-14.

Big Spring scored 11 to Pecos' 4 points in the last period. This was the third straight volleyball title for the Steerettes. It was also Isaacks' third time to be chosen all-state spiker. Elena is only a sophomore and Darlene is a senior, her first time to be selected.

The games closed the season for the local girls with a 28-2 won lost mark.

Seven seniors saw their last volleyball duty for Coach Bernice Waggoner: Helen Boyd, June Ann Johnson, Darlene Williams, Peggy Isaacks, Kitty Thomas, Mary Ann Weaver and Edith Freeman.

Cyprus Fairbanks defeated Crane for the AA crown and Caldwell won consolation; in A Clyde defeated Ozona and Ralls was third; in Class B, Imperial defeated Woodson, Rhineland was third and Happy won consolation.

George Pike Has 606 Loop Series

George Pike compiled a 606 high individual series in bowling action this week in the Merchants bowling league.

GROGGY TIGERS SWAP HOEFT FOR SOX PAIR

By The Associated Press
 DETROIT (AP)—The Detroit Tigers traded pitcher Billy Hoelt to the Boston Red Sox for utility infielder Ted Lepcio and right-handed pitcher Dave Sisler.

Hoelt, a left-hander, is credited with one of Detroit's only two victories this season, Frank Lary got the other decision. The Tigers are 2-14 in the American League, and Hoelt is 1-1 for the season.

In taking on Lepcio and Sisler, the Tigers sent infielder Ozie Alvarez to his American Assn. Farm club at Charleston, W. Va., subject to a 24-hour recall option.

Lepcio, although used infrequently this season, has a .333 batting average. Sisler has worked in three games, but has registered no defeats or victories.

In trading the careerfree southpaw, the Tigers parted with their oldest player in point of service. The Oshkosh, Wis., pitcher, who will be 27 in 15 days, joined Detroit in 1952.

Hoelt did not have a winning season until 1955, when he won 16 and lost 7 and had a 2.99 earned run average. The following season Hoelt was a 20-game winner, dropping 14 decisions.

But for the last two seasons Hoelt has been one of the Detroit staff's most puzzling cases. The blazing fast ball that brought him into the majors while still in his teens appeared to lose its old zip and Hoelt came to rely upon slow curves and seldom reared back and threw the high hard one.

He was 9-11 in 1957 and 10-9 last year, making his over all record 74-78.

Both under Jack Tighe and Bill Norman, Hoelt found himself in the manager's doghouse more than once.

There have been recurring reports for the last two seasons that Hoelt has had arm trouble, but both he and his managers have stoutly denied it.

Sisler has a 24-25 lifetime mark and was 9-9 with Boston last season. The tall Princeton graduate comes from a famous baseball family.

His father, George, is one of the game's all-time great first basemen and one of its finest hitters. A brother, George, Jr., is general manager of the Rochester (N.Y.) club in the International League.

Another brother, Dick, was a major league player in the National League and now is manager of the Nashville (Tenn.) club of the Southern Assn.

Lepcio, who will be 29 in July, has a lifetime batting average of .247 and has hit 53 home runs in seven seasons. He has been used generally as a utility player and has played all of the infield positions, except first base.

Rain Postpones Opening Game Of Texas LL

The opening game of the Texas Little League was postponed because of rain and the first half match between Cosden Oil and Local 826 will be moved until the last of the season.

Now Kent Oil and Odd Fellows will play in the league opener, which will be Tuesday, said Texas league president W. E. Eubank.

One new sponsor has taken over a Texas team. Charles Campbell Cement Co. now backs the Lions team. Also, instead of the Reed Oil entry of last year, there will be the Kent Oil club.

WANDA ARMSTRONG

Freshman Girl Wins Dibrell Sports Award

Recipient of the Dibrell Sportsmanship Award for a H.C.J.C. woman athlete is Wanda Armstrong. The prize was presented during a recent assembly program at the college.

The selection was made by a committee of five. The following things were considered in choosing the winner of the trophy:

1. Service to team.
2. Courtesy to others.
3. Ability and desire to follow instructions.
4. Care of equipment with which she works.
5. Care of gym apparel—both workout suits and playing uniform.
6. Personal grooming.
7. Dependability.
8. Loyalty.
9. Conduct on gym floor, campus, trips, or any school environment.
10. Performance.
11. Scholarship.

Wanda will be a returning letter winner for next year's Jayhawk Queens.

Ninth Inning Run Gives Buc's 2-1 Win Over Cards

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Roberto Clemente singled home the winning run with one out in the ninth inning Saturday to break up a 1-1 ball game and give the Pittsburgh Pirates a 2-1 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals.

Harvey Haddix, the winning pitcher, fanned 8 Cardinals as he chalked up his second victory of the season against no defeats on a 5 higer.

Lindy McDaniel, helped by 4 double plays, matched pitches with Haddix until he was relieved in the ninth with 1 out and 1 on. McDaniel was charged with the loss, his third against 1 win.

The victory blow was Clemente's third hit of the game. He had stroked two doubles previously.

Smoky Burgess, Pirate catcher hit his 10th double of the season and also collected a single to make it 4 consecutive games in which he has collected 2 hits.

Classy Field Looms For Okla. City Open

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—A big, classy field is in prospect for the revival of the Oklahoma City Open Golf Tournament next week at the usually tough but well-groomed Twin Hills Country Club course.

The pros last played the tree-lined, ditch-filled par 72 layout in 1956.

Fred Hawkins Jr., El Paso, Tex., shot a 9-under par 279 for the 72 holes to win first money in the $15,000 event. He will be on hand to defend his title and will have more incentive to improve his game. The prize money has been boosted to $25,000. First place money will be $4,300.

Advance commitments given Harvey Raynor, PGA field director, indicate 42 of the top 50 money winners of the 1959 campaign will try their luck. The first round is scheduled Thursday with 18-hole rounds daily through Sunday.

Raynor said the field also will include 34 of 39 winners of PGA tournaments the past 12 months and a solid group of National Open tournament winners, including current champion Tommy Bolt. Former Open champions scheduled to compete include Lloyd Mangrum, Dick Mayer, Julius Boros and Jack Fleck.

Raynor said there was a slight chance two other former champions Ben Hogan and Cary Middlecoff, would play.

Raynor said it was possible Hogan might decide to compete so that he could keep his game sharp for another try at the Open championship at Winged Foot in June. He hopes to become the first player to win the Open title five times.

15 Try Out For Hawk Cage Team

The largest group of high school seniors to attend trout drills at H.C.J.C. this year was on hand at the college gymnasium Saturday. H.C.J.C. coach Harold Davis, with several college players assisting in the drills, watched about 15 basketball players who will graduate this spring.

Also in the shooting-dribbling drills, half- and full-court scrimmages were H.C.J.C. cagers Ray Clay, Harold Henson, and Tom Garrison.

Only one more trout program will be held for about four more who have been unable to make the last three trout dates.

LOOKING 'EM OVER With Tommy Hart

He hasn't committed himself but it's not unlikely Bob Harrell, the San Angelo football mentor, will become head coach at one of Wichita Falls' new high schools when he departs the Concho City . . . Harrell is due to serve out his contract at San Angelo, however . . . Bill Howton, the pass-catching great from Plainview, was palmed off by the Green Bay Packers recently because (1) a change was made in the Packers' basic style of attack, calling for three running backs and two ends, rather than three ends and two backs; (2) Bill had not shown any propensity toward blocking, therefore was expendable; (3) Cleveland, which landed the Texan, needed a pass catching end badly; (4) Green Bay needed a defensive end; (5) the Packers needed help in running backs, and Lew Carpenter, acquired in the deal, fitted into Coach Vince Lombardi's plans; (6) Howton, 29 years of age, is considered over the hill, athletically speaking; (7) Bill, as representative for the players' association, had been accused of working harder for the pension plan than for the Packers; (8) the pass-catching star was among the most vocal critics of the policy makers when Tobin Rote was traded to Detroit; and (9) Howton was accused of trying too often to call the signals in the huddle, a chore ordinarily handled by the quarterback . . . There are more reasons? . . . In seven years with Green Bay, Howton caught 303 passes for 5,581 yards and 43 touchdowns . . . He ranked no better than tenth in the league as a pass receiver last year . . . A well known West Texas coach, given a car by the patrons of his school after several seasons of winning ball, found out to his utter amazement that $300 was still owed on the vehicle after his boys lost a game to an area rival . . . As far as I know, the last $300 was never made up by the fans . . . Of the 16 girls Coach Cliff Frather of Sands Consolidated School planned to take to the Bluebonnet Relays in San Angelo this weekend, 12 hail from Ackerly and the other four from Knott.

Horace Yanez To Pitch As Tigers Meet Merkel Nine

Horace Yanez will step to the mound for the Big Spring Tigers here today as the local independent baseball club tries for its third consecutive victory.

The Bengals, fresh from a 7-1 Lamesa win and their opening 11-0 defeat of Midland, meet Merkel at 3:30 p.m.

Yanez may get relief from standby hurlers Danny Valdez and Gus Fierro. The Tigers' regular pitcher, Joe Cadenhead, is in a local hospital.

Catcher will be either Ramiro Jaime or Nacho Rodriguez. The remainder of the starting lineup: second base, Sal Sarmiento; first base, Robert Dutchover (regular first baseman Pat Martinez leaves for Dallas today where his daughter will undergo surgery); shortstop, Jackie Jennings; third base, Guy Lare; center field, Tito Arencibia; left field, Isidro Arguello; and right field, Nico Paredes.

The team manager is Sonny Dutchover, and business manager is Mike Franco. Esquiel Valdes handles the advertising for the club.

Four local business concerns have contributed to the organization of the Tiger team, in addition to 30 other establishments reported earlier. They are Reese Service Station, Sy Terrazas Liquor Store, Central Cafe and Spec's Cafe.

TEXAS WINS AT DALLAS

Woodhouse Wins 2 Firsts, Relay Team Drops Baton

DALLAS (AP)—Bill Woodhouse, the stocky blur from Abilene Christian College, won the 100 and 220 yard dashes Friday night but couldn't keep Texas from winning the Dallas Invitational track meet.

Woodhouse won the outstanding athlete trophy for riding a 13-mile per hour wind to a 9.4 time in the 100 and 20.4 in the 220.

Texas repeated as university class champion with 61 2-3 points to Oklahoma's 42 1/2, Abilene Christian's 41 5/6 and Southern Methodist's 28.

Gainesville won the high school division with 16 points. Daingerfield and San Angelo tied for second with 12 and Graham was next with 11.

Pat Mitchell of Gainesville skimmed the low hurdles in a record 18.8, tied the 100-yard record of 9.7 and won the 220 in 21.0. He won the award as the outstanding schoolboy competitor.

ACC's sprint relay team lost when leadoff man Bud Clanton failed to complete the baton exchange with Calvin Cooley.

With ACC out, Texas' Walley Wilson, Eddie Southern, Hollis Gainey and Ralph Alspaugh won in 40.7.

Southern won the 440 in 46.9.

Texas' Bruce Parker tossed the javelin 246 feet, 9 1/4 inches for his all-time best. Oklahoma's Mike Lindsay put the shot 57 1/2 and Gale Hodgeson spun the mile in 4:10.8 for meet records. Jan Ahlberg of SMU reared the two-mile in 9:13.2 and Don Steward high jumped 22-11, and Graham's Haven Woodhouse tied the 220 record.

Other record-breakers were San Angelo's Emery Martindale, who tossed the shot a spectacular 59-6; Vernon's Jackie Upton, who high jumped 6-4; Fort Worth Arlington Heights' Joe White, who broad jumped 22-11, and Graham's Haven Snow, who registered a 4:29.5 mile.

Dallas Thomas Jefferson's sprint relay team of Charles Simons, Bill Argo, Sid McClain and Bob Clinger won a tight race in a record-tying 43.3.

Powell Was Fourth With 21.0 Quarter

Jim Powell, the Base Athletic Officer at Webb AFB here, ran the 220 in 21.0, the quarter mile in 48.7 and broad jumped 23 feet 10 inches while in school at Maryland State last year . . . Despite that splendid timing in the hurdles, Powell was no better than fourth in that particular race . . . The great Elias Gilbert was second in the event . . . Powell also played an end position in football for his school . . . His coach was Vernon McClain, formerly of Oklahoma City . . . Pole vaulter Jim Graham of Oklahoma State, who wanted to accompany the Cowboys here for the ABC Relays in 1957 but could not because of injuries, got to the Olympic Games in Melbourne, Australia, thanks to a fund raising campaign started by the student body at Occidental College in California . . . The Occidental students were impressed by the fact that Graham had voluntarily removed himself from the 1956 U. S. Olympic squad in favor of their school's Bob Gutowski, after hurting himself just before the squad was to depart for Melbourne . . .

Graham hopes to make it to the 1960 Games in Rome . . . Dick Rossales, who scored 620 points for the Stephen F. Austin High School basketball team of Houston last season, has signed a letter-of-intent to attend Baylor University . . . He guided his club to 26 victories . . . Ronald Robbins, twin brother to Donald, who has replaced Big Spring's Hal Battle as line football coach at Snyder High School, is a coaching aide at Tom S. Lubbock High School . . . Donald was an end for Breckenridge High while Ronald played quarterback . . . The son of sports scribe Spec Gammon of Odessa, who made his entrance into the world only last week, was born in a local hospital . . . Mrs. Gammon's mother is a local resident . . . Big Spring's Wayne Fields probably will run as halfback on both the All-Star squad in Fort Worth in August and in college . . . He played both tailback and fullback here . . . Half will likely be Georgia Tech's starting backfield next fall — Freddy Braselton and Dickie Thompson — hail from Texas.

Enthusiasm Waned For Grid Mentor

Curtis Kelley, the local coaching aide, tells the funny but lamentably true story about Floyd Murray, who coached at Floydada three years . . . Kelley quoted Murray as saying "the first year they gave me a car, the second year a rocking chair and the third year a vote of confidence" . . . Metz LaFollette, the new West Texas State College basketball player wasn't long in recruiting his Seminole star, Dan Cobb, after signing on at the Canyon school . . . Pat Mitchell, the Gainesville sprinter who will be the favorite in the short races at the State Meet next weekend, is only a junior . . . Hardin-Simmons has recruited Bobby Taylor, 6-foot-8 pivot man who performed for Amarello College's basketball team the past season . . . Taylor was named to the Howard College all-tournament team here last Jan. 3 (during which time HSU Coach Bill Scott scouted him in person) but in a later game against H.C.J.C. the Badger mentor, Bob Carter, was forced to keep him on the sidelines because he couldn't "run and shoot" with the Jayhawks . . . An Amarillo product, Taylor originally enrolled at West Texas State but left there after one semester . . . Snyder High School's baseball team may lose one of its best known players next season . . . His family is moving . . . Pat Martinez, the veteran first baseman of the Big Spring Tigers, will miss today's game here with Merkel . . . His infant daughter is to undergo an operation in Dallas . . . Frosty Robinson, the former Big Spring grid great who was a regular end at SMU last fall, reportedly will return here to take a job after getting his diploma in June . . . His mother and father now reside in Odessa . . . Frank Crosetti, the New York Yankee coach, has collected World Series checks totaling $118,000 since joining the champions as a shortstop . . . Louis Wolfson, the financial genius who tried unsuccessfully to gain control of Montgomery Ward several years ago, is assembling a racing menage of royally-bred juveniles and hopes to have an entry in the Kentucky Derby by 1961.

Vigilantes Still Ride n Santa Fe

By SAUL PETT

SANTA FE, N.M. (AP) — The vigilantes still ride on Santa Fe, when it's moonlight on the mesa and the shadows stretch long from the aspens and the cottonwoods.

Thin-lipped, grim, silent, they turn off the television sets, put out their thinking man's filters, slip into their loafers and out of their adobe houses. Saddling their station wagons and convertibles, they ride north, jaws set, eyes clear, minds joined in a common resolve to protect a way of life.

There are the billboards on the highway north of town. People in Santa Fe don't like billboards fouling their scenery. So, at night, they cut them down, burn them down, or smear them up in red paint. They do this several times a year.

The billboard vigilantes are only one symptom of the special syndrome distinguishing Santa Fe. It is a city devoutly determined to be different by remaining the same.

Other cities welcome new industry and business and progress in the form of paved streets. Here, these things are resisted, not always successfully but loudly. In other places, the voice of the artist may cry out alone and unheeded in an attic. In Santa Fe, the free soul is accepted and respected and, far from being ignored, is invited to join civic committees.

Santa Fe, which has a population of 34,000, has no industry to speak of and only enough business to accommodate tourists and legislators, its chief sources of income. Many of its streets remain unpaved, especially in the residential areas, where narrow lanes wind under fruit trees between the lovely earth-tinted adobe homes with their low flat roofs and dark beams jutting out under the eaves.

In one-third the town, it is now against the law to build any building, business or private dwelling, in anything but the adobe style. An artist aroused can be a tiger.

Not long ago some progressive-minded radicals managed to push through a paved street in a residential district. The day it was completed an enraged sculptor tore out of his house with a sledge hammer and broke up a long stretch of curb.

Santa Feans can get mad over a variety of things — billboards, paving, street lights, modern buildings of glass and steel, a superhighway cutting across a lovely foothill of the majestic Sangre de Cristo Mountains.

But their most consistent source of irritation seems to come from Texas. Santa Feans can tolerate Texas tourist money but not Texans. They grumble constantly that Texans are talking over their ski slopes in the winter and their trout streams in the summer.

Recently many people in town were enraged by a published picture showing several hundred skiers from Texas raising the Lone Star flag on a nearby ski slope. "Such damned gall!" said a dignified lady of Spanish origin.

In Santa Fe, only the Spanish-Americans are referred to as natives. The Indians are called Indians and everyone else, regardless of how long they've been here, are Anglos. Both Spanish and English are spoken in the Legislature, in the courts and political campaigns.

The first families are Spanish. Many claim to be descended from the old conquistadores who came here in search of gold — an expedition which not only antedated the Mayflower but must have been even more crowded.

Stanton Leads In Voting On Cotton Office

Only a third of the cotton growers of the county have voted their preference on whether they want their cotton classed at Stanton or at Abilene.

On the basis of the votes received so far, Stanton has a 16-vote margin. The total votes tabulated by the office of the county agent show Abilene 113 and Stanton 129.

Jimmy Taylor, county agent, said that 725 ballots were mailed to as many cotton growers. Each was asked to express on the ballot his preference as to classing office.

Nearly 10 days have elapsed since the ballots were mailed. A few are received in each day's mail but there is no indication that a true majority of all of the farmers concerned intend to vote on the question.

The balloting is a resurvey of sentiment on whether the newly created office at Stanton shall serve as classing office for Howard County or whether the old practice of depending on the Abilene office is to prevail. In an initial survey some months ago, the vote was in favor of Stanton.

Later, it was revealed that the sponsors of the Stanton office proposed to assess a 25 cents per bale fee from cotton farmers as a means of paying for the building which the community provided to house the office. No charge is made for classing cotton; the fee, if collected, would have to be on a voluntary basis from the cotton growers, it was said.

When this information was made public a resurvey of sentiment on county was proposed.

Training Grants Are Available

Dr. William T. Chrane has announced the availability of grants-in-aid for qualified men and women interested in training leading to a degree of doctor of chiropractic.

The grants-in-aid are to nine of the accredited colleges of chiropractic throughout the U. S. and Canada, Dr. Chrane said. Anyone interested in the scholarships may contact him at his office, 206 Eleventh.

The principal prerequisite under the Chiropractic Scholarship Fund is the establishment of need for part or full financial help, Dr. Chrane said.

Oil Leases Newest Airport Problem

Howard County Commissioners will begin work Monday on obtaining oil and gas leases now existing on the Howard County Airport site.

Object of this effort is to control possible future oil exploration or development of the land. The leases were in effect at the time the county acquired the site for an airport.

In order to comply with the regulations of the Civil Aeronautics Authority regarding an airport operation, the owners of the leases must sign agreements covering any future oil enterprises on the land and land adjacent to the airport.

There would be no reason, it was pointed out, why an oil well could not be drilled under the field provided the drilling was carried out according to specifications established by the CAA.

In addition to the matter of oil and gas leases, commissioners are still working on the aviation easements on marginal lands at the airport.

The commissioners also will be called upon to consider a proposal by Jack Cook that a special operating committee of five be appointed by the commissioners to actually operate the airport, once it is completed.

A petition, signed by 15 persons, suggesting that the rental rate on the 20 "T" hangars at the airport be reduced from the planned fee adopted by the commission is on hand. The commissioners have proposed the end-hangers on each of the two segments, which are slightly larger than the inner hangars, be rented at $25 per month. The 16 inner stalls would be rented for $20 per month.

The petition suggests $20 for the four at the ends of the buildings and $15 per month for the others.

The hangars were constructed at a cost of $50,000.

The commissioners will also canvass the vote cast on Saturday in the Elbow school district tax maintenance proposal.

Savings Offered On GI Insurance

Savings of up to two-thirds in the cost of their GI insurance are being offered by mail to all veterans whose insurance policy number is preceded by the letters "RS". Ray Boren, contact representative at the Big Spring VA Hospital, said Saturday.

All of these veterans, who for the most part fall in the Korean and post-Korean conflict period, now have a chance to exchange their present 5-year term policies for 5-year term policies at a lower premium cost, due to the improved mortality tables resulting from modern medical advance.

The new policy, however, must eventually be converted to a permanent plan of insurance since it cannot be renewed by the insured past age 50.

If you don't get a letter with the application form, that will mean you do not have "RS" type insurance and are not eligible for this exchange, said Boren.

Even if you return the enclosed application, continue to pay your premiums at the old rate until the VA notifies you the new type policy is in effect, he said. Any overpayment will be credited to your account.

Questionnaires For Economic Survey To Go To 650 Concerns

About 650 businesses, professional firms, and industries in Big Spring this week will receive forms which, when completed, will help the Bureau of Business Research determine how many people will live here in 1960.

The Bureau, a part of the University of Texas, is undertaking an economic survey of the city as part of the comprehensive master plan program. And the questionnaires to be dispatched next week are the key to the survey, said Dr. Pat Blair, a member of the Bureau who was here last week.

Dr. Blair and Arvid Anderson worked the city Thursday and Friday distributing some of the forms, but the remainder—about 650—are to be sent out by the Chamber of Commerce early this week. The forms will also go to schools, hospitals, churches, and other institutions.

The City of Big Spring has joined the Chamber of Commerce in urging business men to complete the forms and return them as soon as possible to the research bureau. The answers will be the determining factor, said Dr. Blair, in telling how many industries will be located in Big Spring and thus how many people will reside in the city in 1960.

Also, the survey will determine how much water will be needed during that year. All of these facts are needed by Forrest & Cotton, the Dallas engineering firm working on the master plan. The engineering firm can use these figures in planning water lines and projecting other phases of the plan.

Dr. Blair pointed out that the questionnaires are confidential and will not be shown to anyone who is not directly working with the survey. The information will be tabulated by automatic machines and the data condensed. Only the overall data will be released, Dr. Blair said, which will benefit the city but will not reveal any facts about individuals.

The questions deal with types of organizations, number of employees, products, sales inside and outside Howard County, and water usage.

Dr. Blair reemphasized that cooperation by business men will determine the effectiveness of the survey. "If we get only about half the forms back, our predictions will not be nearly as accurate as if we get back 90 per cent of them."

"We plan to complete the survey by the summer, but this too will depend on how quickly the questionnaires are returned to us."

A Week Of Music

(See story on Page 2-C)

TWO PIANISTS, Avanel Greenwood, left, and Glendene Philley, will be featured as part of the musicale this afternoon when the HCJC Chorus is presented in the college auditorium at 4 o'clock. The public is invited to attend this first activity slated for National Music Week. The program is planned around selections by the choir, with featured soloists and pianists. Miss Greenwood will play Chopin's Prelude in D-Flat, Op. 28, No. 15; Miss Philley, with Jack Hendrix at a second piano, will play Fantasia on Hungarian Folk Melodies by Liszt.

DRESSED FOR THE AFTERNOON MUSICAL to be presented today are two soloists and their accompanist as they will appear in the HCJC Chorus. Harlen Thornton is seated at the piano, while Ronnie Phillips and Hubert Murphy seem ready to begin the selections which they will sing when the choir is presented in the first program in the observance of National Music Week, today through Saturday. An Italian song, Caro Mio Ben, and Open the Door Softly are the solos chosen by Phillips; Murphy will also sing in Italian, Gia Il Sole Dal Gange, and I Know a Hill.

TWO PROGRAMS are planned by this group of singers from Runnels Junior High, directed by Mrs. Forrest Gambill. On Friday, an afternoon gathering of students will hear a program at 2 o'clock in the school auditorium. Friday evening, the chorus will be presented in songs in the auditorium. Making up the group are, front row, left to right, Wyetta Smith, Juanell Matthews, Joyce Horn; second row, Earl Pearson, Barbara Bahn, Rachael Phelan, Suzanne Compton; third row, Gary Cunningham, Cecil Vandegear, Linda Wagner, Joetta Barnes.

Mosaics Made By Local Hobbyists

Mrs. Floyd Mays; mural by Mrs. Douglas Orme. At right, round table top by Mrs. Orme; rectangular table top by Mrs. W. R. Jones.

FASCINATING ART

Localites Join Nationwide Hobby Trend-Creating Mosaics

By HELEN HURT

(Editor's note: This is the first in a series of two articles about mosaics and localites who are pursuing the hobby.)

Do you want to put the stamp of individuality on your home? Is there a table top at your house that needs refinishing? Are your hands "aching" to create something beautiful?

An affirmative answer to any or all three of these questions might lead you down the fascinating road to mosaics. So it has for many Big Springers, and the trend shows no sign of slackening. There is work involved, but the end results are objects which would cost several times as much if purchased outright; and the pieces bear your own mark of craftsmanship.

You might ease into it with bookends or ashtrays or trivets. The more ambitious projects can come after you "get the feel" of the craft.

Restores Table

When the material is set, the excess grout is scrubbed off with sponge or scouring pads, and the whole is rubbed with silicone or marble polish to prevent the grout from changing color.

Locally, most enthusiasts seem to prefer the Italian glass tesserae, although ceramic, marble and porcelain tile is available and has its followers. Glass tesserae cut more easily and cleanly and boast a color throughout. They are available, too, in opalescent or translucent quality. Colors may be obtained in endless variety and in varying intensity.

Some artists work with the whole tessera; others cut it into the shapes and sizes desired. Still others put the tesserae into a strong bag and hammer them into fragments. In the direct method, there are two ways of applying the tiles when the pattern has been drawn onto the plyboard. Some stroke mastic onto small areas of the pattern and press the fragments into it. Others apply adhesive to the tile itself. When all tesserae are in place, grout is rubbed into the crevices between, so that none will be dislodged.

Jarratts To Attend Dental Meet And Visit In Houston

Dr. and Mrs. H. M. Jarratt planned to leave for San Antonio this morning to attend the Texas Dental Society state meeting.

Among those assisting her with advice was Mrs. Truman Jones, whose fascination for mosaics developed several years ago. It was before the hobby became widespread and, finding no aid available in this area, she began ordering supplies from the East, together with a book of instructions. From concentrated efforts over a period of six weeks emerged her handsome 6' x 18" serving table, with metal frame, which is a conversation piece at the Joneses' home, 1204 Douglas.

Electing to cut Italian glass tesserae into tiny fragments, she blended some 15 shades of blue, turquoise, green and grey into her original pattern of gently curved spaces in the long rectangle. Miniature bits of yellow recur at infrequent intervals. By setting the tesserae closely together and using grey-dyed grout, her mosaic gives the impression of no grout at all. She, too, left the tiles at varying heights for texture.

Musical Today Begins Music Week Activities

As an opener to the local observance of National Music Week, today through Saturday, the music department at Howard County Junior College will join forces with the Music Study Club to present a musicale this afternoon.

Beginning at 4 p.m. in the HCJC auditorium, the program is open to the public, with no admittance fee.

The HCJC Choir will be presented in two groups of songs, one in a religious vein, the other on the lighter side. Ira Schantz will direct the choir; Jack Hendrix will accompany the group.

Featured vocalists will be Patsy Potter, Ronnie Phillips and Hubert Murphy, all of whom will be accompanied by Harlen Thornton. Piano selections will be offerings of Avanel Greenwood and Gledene Phillely.

On Monday evening, Billy Evans will present a piano recital under the sponsorship of the Music Study Club. This, too, will be in the college auditorium at 8 p.m., and the public is invited to attend.

Evans, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl C. Evans, 2410 Johnson, is a music major at North Texas State College, Denton. He is well-known in local musical circles, having appeared in several concerts. His program will include Rondo Capriccioso by Mendelssohn, and Beethoven's Sonata, Op. 57

The Scuddays Have Out-Of-Towners

FORSAN — Mrs. H. L. Holt and Brenda Sue of Monahans are visiting in the O. W. Scudday home, Kerney Sue Scudday of Brownfield has been here this week with the Scuddays and with the M. M. Hines family. Expected for the weekend is Mrs. W. K. Scudday.

S. J. Hestis of Taft visited with friends. E. M. Strickland, manager of Forsan Welding Service, has been hospitalized at Malone & Hogan for several days. Mrs. Strickland Elizabeth and Marie will move here from Lubbock when school is out. They are weekend guests of the Elbert Stricklands.

Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Hines are fishing at Possum Kingdom Lake for the weekend, and are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Mutt Scudday, Yvette and Mike.

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Kubacka are spending Sunday in Odessa with Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Dunn and Wilma.

(Appassionata), two preludes by Debussy and Prokofieff's Concerto No. 1 D-Flat Major. In the latter, the young musician will be joined by Jack Hendrix for the orchestral passages.

During the coming week, members of the Music Club will be guest soloists for the various service clubs of the city. This morning, Mrs. Harrol Jones, president of the club, was to sing at the VA Hospital.

Mrs. J. R. Hensley will sing for the Evening Lions Club on Monday evening, and Mrs. Carl Marcum is to entertain the Rotary Club on Tuesday at noon. She will be accompanied by Mrs. Fred Beckham.

Under the direction of Douglas Wiehe, a brass ensemble and a flute quartet from the high school will be presented for the Downtown Lions Club at their Wednesday luncheon.

Thursday, members of the Altrusa Club will hear Mrs. Rene Brown, soloist, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Jim Line. A program will be given by the high school ensembles for the Kiwanis Club at the noon meeting, and on Friday, Mrs. Carol Belton will sing for the ABClub. Her accompanist will also be Mrs. Line.

On Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock, the mixed chorus from Runnels Junior High will give a program in the auditorium. The same evening, the group will be presented in a program at 8 o'clock. Mrs. Forrest Gambill is the director of the chorus.

Special objectives for the week include activities to demonstrate the pleasures and value of music; the inspiration of amateurs to take part in music; the increase of musical knowledge through study, and the development of more extensive understanding and appreciation of music.

The 1959 Music Week marks the 36th annual observance of the nation-wide celebration, sponsored by the National Federation of Music Clubs, with its 5,500 clubs including about 600,000 members.

Charm Of This Frock Lies In Its Simplicity

It's magic, presented as only Harvey Berlin knows how! At its best in sheers over an opaque lining, it is handled with the utmost simplicity, the main detail in the pleats at either side of the skirt that are almost on the bias. This treatment gives beautiful motion to the skirt, as well as an expensive look. Make it in organdy, silk or rayon.

on chiffon, bemberg sheer, voile, organza over a lining of china silk or rayon taffeta and scatter some flowers or embroidery medallions. If what you're in the market for is a simple black dress, this is it—in silk or rayon crepe, silk or rayon jersey.

From this size select the one size best for you:

Size	Bust	Waist	Slips	Nepe of Neck to Waist	16 1/2 inches
8	33	23	34	26 1/2	16 1/2
10	34	24	35	27 1/2	16 1/2

4-H Members Have Charge Of Program

The St. Lawrence 4-H Club met recently in the home of Barbara and Linda Wilde. Two senior club members, Betty Schraeder and Pat Saunders, gave a demonstration on record books, with all members bringing their record books up to date in preparation for the district eliminations in Odessa which were held Saturday. Ten members attended the meeting along with five adult leaders. The next meeting will be in the home of Linda Hoelscher the first Monday in June.

Davis-Derryberry Vows Are Solemnized In Home Ceremony

Double ring vows, read Saturday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Davis, 1106 Graft, united in marriage their daughter, Nancy Kay, and Pvt. Landon Ellis Derryberry, Roby. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. B. T. Derryberry, Roby.

Roy Phemister, minister of West Highway Church of Christ, officiated at the service, for which Mrs. Earl Bohannon was pianist.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Her sleeveless sheath of white cotton lace was designed with low neckline which extended into a deep V at the back; the effect was emphasized by a large bow. With her new dress, she had a handkerchief of her mother as something old and a garter provided the blue item. Her bouquet of white feathered carnations centered with a white orchid was carried on a Bible borrowed from Mrs. Dan Robinson.

Barbara Roberts, maid of honor, was attired in a full-skirted blue dress.

Ted Derryberry of Graham attended his brother as best man.

After the ceremony, the wedding guests were received by the newlyweds and their parents. Garden flowers enhanced the refreshment table which was done in white lace over blue. The cake, in three tiers, was embossed in pink roses and crowned with a bridal figurine. Wanda Anderson presided at the register.

Coming from out of town for the event were the bridegroom's parents: Mrs. Georgia Stewart, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Davis, grandparents of the bride, and Bobby Stewart, her uncle, all of Borger; Bart Stewart, another uncle of the bride, Hollywood, Calif.

The couple postponed their wedding trip until June, when the bride will have completed her junior year at BSHS. As a DE student, she is employed at Medical Arts Clinic and is a member of the V.I. Club.

Pvt. Derryberry, who is assigned by the U. S. Army at Fort Rucker, Ala., is a graduate of Roby High School and North Texas State College where he was a member of Sigma Nu fraternity.

In June, the couple will reside in Alabama.

Forsan HD Club Has Demonstration Of Craft Activities

FORSAN — The program for the Forsan Home Demonstration Club was presented by two members of the Fairview Club Tuesday afternoon at the school.

Mrs. J. F. Skalicky and Mrs. Frank Wilson brought various types of aprons to display and gave demonstrations of the methods of making them; they also showed other examples of crafts.

Mrs. Frank Shannon was in charge of the meeting when plans were made for attending a clothing workshop. Roll call was an expression of her opinion from each member of the new fashions.

Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Draper and Verna were in Odessa recently as guests of relatives.

Back from a visit in Stephenville are the D. L. Knights and their granddaughter, Daressa Kay Crooks. They were guests of Mr. and Mrs. O. R. Green, parents of Mrs. Knight.

Mrs. M. M. Hines and Mrs. O. W. Scudday were in Brownfield at the first of the week to visit the W. K. Scuddays.

Recent visitors in the Leroy Prescott home have been the E. B. Prescotts of Midkiff.

Eager Beavers Sew

Four members of the Eager Beaver Sewing Club engaged in sewing and visiting Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. D. D. Johnston. It was announced that Mrs. L. D. Patterson will be hostess next week rather than Mrs. J. D. Kendrick, as previously announced.

Coahoma Cafeteria Tells Week's Menu

Menus for the Coahoma school cafeteria have been released for next week:

Robert Floyd To Judge Piano Auditions Here

Almost 100 local piano pupils will enter the Big Spring segment of the National Piano Playing Auditions which get under way Tuesday at the HJC Auditorium and will continue through Saturday.

Adjudicator for the event will be Robert Floyd, hailed as one of the nation's gifted young pianists and chairman of the Division of Fine Arts at the University of Corpus Christi.

From coast to coast over 40,000 piano pupils will participate in this annual tournament in 403 music centers of the country. Those who acquire themselves well will be given membership in the National Fraternity of Student Musicians, sponsored by the National Guild of Piano Teachers of which their teachers are members. They will be striving for pledges, local, district, state, national or international honors, for each of which stringent requirements are designated.

Pupils of Mrs. James Finley, Jack Hendrix and Mrs. Douglas Wiehe will be heard Tuesday, while those studying with Miss Elsie Willis, Mrs. C. A. Boyd and Mrs. Fred Beckham will enter Wednesday. Mrs. R. L. Morris's students and Mrs. Nell Frazier's entrants will be heard Thursday and Friday, respectively. Playing during parts of Wednesday, Thursday and Saturday will be pupils of Mrs. Ann G. Houser.

Floyd, winner of the National Guild of Piano Teachers' Young Artists competition in 1952, is a graduate of North Texas State College, where he studied under Silvio and Isabel Sciolti. He holds a master of music degree from the college and has completed residence work on the doctor of music degree from Indiana University.

He made his Town Hall debut in New York in April, 1952, and this year won the Fulbright competition entitling him to study in Vienna for a year. He declined the fellowship, however, to remain at the University of Corpus Christi. He has also been concertizing throughout the nation.

The Piano Guild originated at Hardin-Simmons University, Abilene, and national headquarters are still maintained in Texas. Mrs. Houser is chairman of the local auditions.

Common-Sense Dieter

Shirley Jones believes that with sensible dieting women need not have weight problems. She is presently touring the country with her husband in a night club act and can be seen in U-T's "Never Steal Anything Small."

HOLLYWOOD BEAUTY

There's Sensible Way To Take Off Weight

By LYDIA LANE
HOLLYWOOD — When I first met Shirley Jones she was the Cinderella girl of the year. Virtually unknown, she was chosen to star in screen versions of both "Oklahoma" and "Carousel." She was overjoyed but frightened to begin at the top. "Where do I go from here?" she moaned.

The other evening I caught Shirley and her husband, Jack Cassidy, in their night club act at the Coconut Grove. The audience clamored for encores. Shirley, poised and slim in a sophisticated gown, had retained her sweet personality and seemed unspooled by success.

Later she told me that she was rehearsing the act 10 days after her baby was born.

"Did you diet strenuously during pregnancy?" I asked.

"No. I definitely believe in sensible dieting. And my doctor agrees. I gained 24 pounds, but I exercised almost to the day my baby was expected. When he was born I lost 25 pounds. This sounds unbelievable, but it's true. And my figure is better proportioned now than it's ever been.

"My doctor feels the mistake most women make is babying themselves. He believes the important thing is to live as normally as possible and do everything you did before you became pregnant. I swam almost every day and continued my dancing lessons.

"After Shaun was born I was allowed to begin exercising immediately. Basically these post-natal exercises are designed to get your organs back into place. And your skin is so elastic-like that if you work with your body without delay, you can get very good results. I wore some of my dresses right away, but I had to work to get into others."

"Remember what a problem you used to have with your weight?" I asked.

"I do," Shirley moaned. "I have heard that there is no such thing as 'baby fat,' but I don't believe that. Now that I'm older my face has contours that were not there before, and I can keep at 117 pounds without a struggle." Shirley is five-five.

"When I started working in 'Oklahoma' the cameraman complained that my face was too moon-shaped and that I photographed fat. I ate so little I fainted from hunger," Shirley recalled. "But I didn't lose weight in my face. Fortunately I didn't ruin my health, but I came close to it. When you're in your teens it is very foolish to lose weight too fast. In fact, at any age it is best to diet slowly and sensibly. I have a special diet which I go on when I want to lose weight.

"One shouldn't be impatient when dieting. Until you get down to the size you like, you can choose your clothes to conceal your figure faults. If you are plump, you probably have pretty shoulders — play this up. If your hips are too large, until you lose the desired amount, they can be concealed in full skirts."

Shirley has beautiful hair, and she takes great pride in caring for it.

"I believe in lots of brushing. You can't get a lasting sheen any other way. No matter what type hair dressing you use, you can't expect the best results unless you help it along with brushing. Buy a good brush. Five years ago I was given one with imported bristles. It's still in fine shape, and I give it plenty of use.

"I wash and set my own hair. I bought a second-hand dryer, and I sit under it quite a while with the warm air blowing. I think the hot air dries out the scalp." To look at Shirley's peaches and cream complexion you wouldn't believe she once had a problem skin.

"As a teen-ager I suffered with acne. It's a miracle I don't have scars. I use a non-allergic make-up and I clean my face with a lotion that looks and acts like liquid soap but doesn't contain soap. My skin is still oily, so I use only skin preparations made to combat this," she concluded.

SHIRLEY JONES' OWN SENSIBLE DIET

Because Shirley Jones almost ruined her health with extreme dieting, she hopes to protect others from the same mistakes she made by presenting her reducing program. In Leaflet M-61, "Shirley Jones' Easy to Follow Sensible Diet," are special diet menus and many non-fattening snacks to stave off those between-meal hunger pangs. For your copy of this unusual diet, send only 10 cents and a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Lydia Lane, Hollywood Beauty in care of The Big Spring Herald. Be sure to ask for Leaflet M-61.

'ROUND TOWN

With Lucille Pickle

The trials and tribulations a mail man goes through to get the mail out on time has nothing on the Garden Club women with a flower show to put on. Gems of the World went on as scheduled with a creditable number of pretty flowers regardless of the underhanded tricks of the spring weather.

FRED ASHLEY was welcomed to Big Spring by a group of Phillips Petroleum associates when MR. AND MRS. RAYMOND EADS entertained with a patio party Saturday evening. Ashley, new district salesman, came here from Childress to replace Marion Goodson, who with his family is moving to Andrews where he will work with the Phillips distributor there. Mrs. Eads was assisted by her daughter, Mrs. J. C. Prince. She and her sons, Ronnie and Brad, are visiting here from Amarillo. The three will be here this week.

MRS. C. B. IVIE will return to her home in Waller Monday after spending several days here with her son and his family, Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Ivie.

With the arrival of Chris Kaye Sewell to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sewell in Lubbock on April 6, MRS. L. Y. MOORE became a great-grandmother for the first time. The other great-grandmother here in Big Spring is MRS. G. R. SEWELL. Grandparent are Mr. and Mrs. Carlton Sewell of Albuquerque, N. M. She is the former Vera Kaye Moore.

DOUGLAS BURRAGE, FRANK HARDESTY, DALE WOODRUFF and TOMMY PICKLE are to return this evening from Fort Worth where they have spent the weekend.

Don't forget the musicale at the HCJC this afternoon at 4. If you haven't heard the students perform you'll be pleased with their performance. If you've heard them, you already know you have a pleasant program to look forward to.

Although she has been working in Big Spring for several years, MRS. C. T. LINDLEY has just recently moved her home from Coahoma to here. She and her daughter, Dolores, are making their home at 1405 E. 19th St., and we're all glad they came to Big Spring.

MR. AND MRS. ROY ROSENE and their children, Kay Loveland, and Dana Lou and Kyle Rosene, spent Saturday in San Angelo, their former home, visiting friends.

MR. AND MRS. ROBERT ROBERSON of Lubbock are to return there this evening after spending the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Eli Jacobs.

SGT. AND MRS. JOHN AMERSON left Saturday night for points in South Carolina where they will spend two weeks with relatives and friends.

CHARLIE SWEENEY is expected home this evening from Los Angeles and Bakersfield, Calif., where he has been on business.

In Vernon for the weekend are MR. AND MRS. CLEO RICHARDSON who are visiting his sister and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Dunsen. They expect to return Monday.

MRS. J. FRED STITZELL of Dallas is here for a visit in the home of her son, Fred Stitzell, and to get a first look at her new granddaughter, Martha Ann Stitzell.

DR. AND MRS. C. W. DEATS are in San Antonio where they will be until Tuesday attending a dental meeting.

MARGARET BENNETT left Saturday by plane for Corpus Christi where she will visit a friend, Mrs. Aubrey Feider. From there, she will go to Baton Rouge, La., to spend two weeks with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Bennett.

May Fellowship Services Held

United Church Women throughout the nation paused Friday to observe May Fellowship Day with special programs and assemblies. The local group met at the First Presbyterian Church for a salad luncheon followed by a worship service.

Dr. R. Gage Lloyd, host pastor, noting the theme How Much is Enough, applied it to effective Christian living, to education, and to the necessities of life. Determining the standards we set for ourselves is not alone a matter of educating the mind, he observed; rather, the heart must enter in also.

The service, for which Mrs. G. C. Graves presided, had begun with the song Open Mine Eyes by Mrs. Fred Whitaker, accompanied by Mrs. Bill Edwards. Congregational singing was led by Mrs. Royce Womack. Benediction was by the Rev. Clyde Nichols, First Christian Church minister.

Dr. Jordan Grooms, minister of First Methodist Church, offered the invocation.

Runners of honeysuckle, punctuated with bouquets of roses, graced the luncheon tables where about 85 were seated. Arrangements of iris further beautified Fellowship Hall.

General program chairman for the event was Mrs. F. H. Talbott. Mrs. George Hall handled luncheon arrangements, and decorations were under the charge of Mrs. W. G. Wilson Jr.

Among the guests were the Rev. J. W. Birt, Baker Methodist Chapel pastor, the Rev. Dan Argujio, pastor of Latin American Methodist Mission, and several from their congregations.

Marie Garner, Expert hair stylist, is now with the BON-ETTE BEAUTY SHOP. Consult Marie for free advice on glamorous hair styling that will do wonders for you. Also take advantage of our permanent wave specials. Call now for an appointment. 1018 Johnson AM 3-2163

Mrs. Crunk Is Shower Honoree

STANTON — Mrs. Butch Crunk, the former Lynda Nichols, was named honoree at a personal shower recently at the home of Mrs. Souval Britton.

The refreshment table was laid with a pink cloth and featured an arrangement of garden flowers centered with a miniature bride holding a gift and white umbrellas decorated with pink streamers.

For the occasion, the honoree chose a pink polished cotton dress with a pink chiffon drape. She wore a white carnation corsage.

Is This Pose All Right?

Elder and Mrs. R. D. Lee have the tables turned on them by the Herald photographer. Usually it is they who are behind the camera, getting candid poses of their little girl, Sherry. Elder Lee is the new pastor of Birdwell Lane Baptist Church.

Birdwell Lane Church Has A New Pastor

Today is Elder R. D. Lee's third Sunday as pastor of Birdwell Lane Baptist Church. He is hopeful that during his ministry the congregation will increase way above the record seventies attendance figures of the past two Sabbaths.

In the planning stage now is the church's Vacation Bible School, which will be held June 8-12.

Mrs. Lee, whose hometown is Houston, is happy about being located here, as is her husband. This is his second church. For six months he was pastor of a church in Ardmore, Okla., where he attended the Orthodox Baptist Institute. He is an Oklahoman by birth.

Taking pictures of Sherry, their 10½-months-old daughter, is a pleasant activity. Golfing and all types of sports attract his attention; the interest stems from school days when he was a participant rather than a spectator. Both Mr. and Mrs. Lee sing, to her piano accompaniment.

The newcomers are making their home at 1021 East 21st Street.

Beta Kappa Chapter Has Initiation

Thirty-seven attended the initiation dinner of the Beta Kappa Chapter, Delta Kappa Gamma society for teachers, Friday evening at the Settles Hotel.

Guests were seated at tables decorated with red roses in brass bowls with brass candlesticks supporting red candles. The brass accessories are traditionally used for affairs of the society.

Mrs. Roy Green read the initiation ritual for eight new members, who included Joyce Howard, Betty Joyce Gray, Mrs. Bob Craig, Mrs. Paul Warren, Mrs. Virgil Smedley of Big Spring, and Mrs. Guy Eiland, Mrs. Homer Schwalbe and Mrs. Margaret Miller, all of Stanton.

Mrs. A. C. Kloven, president of the chapter, was mistress of ceremonies; Mrs. W. E. Singleton was in charge of the service held for the observance of Founders Day.

Music was furnished by Mrs. Ella White and Mrs. Bill Griese. Included in the chapter are teachers from Sterling City, Stanton, Coahoma and Big Spring.

Choose A Floral Scented Cologne For Mother's Gift

Hearts and flowers go together, so what could be more appropriate for Mother's Day than a gift of floral fragrance?

A group of colognes, hand lotion and dusting powder, available singly and in gift sets, captures the fresh, true fragrance of the white lilac, and is just right for spring and summer. It is a scent to make any mother (or daughter who borrows it!) feel delightfully feminine and well groomed.

The series is newly packaged in pure white, embossed with sprigs of white lilac, and labeled in bands of lilac with gold.

There are two choices in cologne: the one, lilac colored, in a glass bottle and the other, a cologne atomizer in white plastic-coated bottle banded in lilac and gold.

Fancy Croutons

Fancy-up your croutons by cutting bread with small cookie cutters; make "almond" shapes by cutting a round and then (with the round cutter) making elliptical-shaped pieces around the edge.

Coahoma People Report Visitors, Trips During Week

COAHOMA — Mr. and Mrs. Frank Griffith have had as their guests this week her sister and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Terrell Graves of San Antonio.

Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Read spent the weekend in Alpine visiting their children Mr. and Mrs. Bob Read and daughter Kim.

Mrs. J. W. Baxter of Mason County is visiting here with her grandchildren, Donald Lay and Mrs. Ralph White. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Parker and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Parker and daughter Debra, all of Knott, were also visiting the Whites and the Lays recently.

Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Hale spent the weekend visiting in Lubbock with their grandson and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Arlon DeVaney.

Mrs. Paul Allen spent Sunday in Fort Worth visiting her mother after having spent Friday and Saturday in Dallas attending the State Future Homemakers convention. Students accompanying her and representing the Coahoma Club were Donna Cramer, Rosalie DeVaney and Sharon Finley. Sharon sang in the all-state choir.

Mrs. Rex Shive has been in a Big Spring hospital where she underwent minor surgery.

Simm Reeves of Fort Stockton spent Monday visiting here with his brother and his wife, the Rev. and Mrs. Mark Reeves.

Mrs. Joe Gregory is at home after receiving treatment in a Big Spring hospital for the past week.

Just Look At All The Bargains In Today's Herald

MILLIONS OF WOMEN EVERYWHERE LOOK FIRST TO THEIR NEWSPAPER FOR NEWS ABOUT BUDGET-BOOSTING VALUES...

Dad may look first to the sports page and Junior may want the comics — but survey after survey continues to prove that women everywhere look FIRST to the ADS in their NEWSpapers for fashion news, menu ideas, home fix-up tips, new product information, as well as "bargains"!

More than 90% of the women surveyed read all of the local ads in their community paper for food and fashion news... of this number, 50% read advertising by national firms, too. Most significant is that MOST of all American WOMEN DO MOST OF THE BUYING FOR THEIR FAMILIES AND HOMES!

No wonder advertisers invested twice as much money in newspapers last year as in any other medium.

Mr. Merchant... publish your NEWS in this paper regularly. Your ad in this NEWSpaper is like having a personal salesman in the home of each and every one of our readers.

Miss Snellgrove Bride In O'Donnell Church Rites

LAMESA (Spl) — Jearld Wayne Barton took Betty Lou Snellgrove as his bride in a ceremony at 8 p.m. Friday in the First Baptist Church at O'Donnell. The officiating clergyman was the Rev. Ernest Stewart of Big Spring. Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Snellgrove, and Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Barton, all of Route 1, O'Donnell.

Arranged before a background of greenery was a bridal archway topped with white wedding bells and fern entwined; it was flanked by baskets of white gladioli and candelabra holding white tapers.

Mrs. C. A. Doss was organist, and Mrs. Ernest Stewart of Big Spring, soloist, for the program of wedding music. Mrs. Stewart sang Because and Walk Hand in Hand With Me, and at the conclusion of the ceremony, The Lord's Prayer.

Snellgrove gave her daughter in marriage. She wore a traditional gown of pure white silk organza and beau de sole fashioned with a basque bodice and front skirt panel delicately traced with applique re-embroidered Alencon lace and tiny seed pearls, sabrina neckline and short shirred sleeves; the bouffant skirt of silk organza with bustle bow in center back extended to form a chapel train.

BRIDAL VEIL

fitting Juliet cap of re-embroidered Alencon lace and tulle accented with tiny seed pearls. She carried white roses, showered with Stephanotis and English ivy.

The matron of honor was Mrs. Harold Sanders of Lubbock, aunt of the bride. She wore a dress of shirred pink chiffon over tulle styled on princess lines with a draped scoop neckline. She had a matching headdress and carried a colonial bouquet of moss green tulle and satin tufts and streamers on shirred pink glameiras.

Bridesmaids were Donna Vestal, cousin of the bride; Dickey Marie Harris and Kay Cabbinis of Lubbock. They were dressed identically to the matron of honor.

Best man was the brother of the bridegroom, Carl Barton of Abernathy. Ushers were his brother-in-law, Bill Oliver of Levelland; and the bride's uncle, Harold Sanders of Lubbock.

Glenda Clark, cousin of the bride, and Buster Snellgrove, her brother, were candlelighters. A niece and nephew of the bridegroom, Kay Barton of Abernathy and Monte Barton, were ring bearers. Flower girl was Linda Vestal, cousin of the bride.

RECEPTION
A reception was held following the ceremony in Fellowship Hall

Turn To Chinese Food To Escape That Rut

It's easy to get into a rut and lose that adventurous spirit for experimenting with family meals. In the daily round of planning, shopping and cooking it can happen before you know it.

There's really no excuse for it, however, if you'll just turn to your grocer's canned foods shelves for unusual ideas. Here you can find all kinds of exotic foods which, today, are not out of line with the average food budget.

Chinese chop suey is a good example. Time was when the home-maker prepared chop suey only on the most special occasions, for it had to be concocted by exacting, long-preparation methods employed by the Orientals. Today, however, some of the finest chop sueys may come right from a can. A unique canning process retains all of the crispness of the vegetables and flavor of the meat.

You can create an exotic main dish for dinner in less than five minutes with this product. All you do is drain off the liquid and thicken it with cornstarch. Return the vegetables and meat to heat them through. Then if you like, stir in one-third cup of sherry.

Almond fried rice is another Chinese dish that's equally easy to prepare with the help of fully cooked, canned rice.

School Yearbooks To Reach Students In Next Few Weeks

The Big Spring High School El Rodeo and Howard County Junior College Jayhawker, yearbooks of the two local schools, are at press and will be released to students in May.

Both publications, planned and laid out by student staffs, are being printed by the same company, Colopress Inc. of Austin.

The El Rodeo should be in May 8, said the high school journalism instructor and annual sponsor, Mrs. Irma Steward. J. T. Clements, physical science teacher and college yearbook sponsor, said students should have the Jayhawker about May 20.

The El Rodeo went to press only Wednesday. The high school staff set to work in May 1958 as juniors. The group began planning lay-outs and toying with theme ideas then and finished last preparations March 1, 15 days before deadline.

Under guidance of co-editors Glenda Greenwood and Judy Cauble, the students worked through the summer and in August had some class pictures ready.

In connection with their annual, two co-editors attended a week-long workshop at Texas Tech in August.

Before the March 15 deadline, the layout had been completed and last additions—spring sports, baseball and golf—were inserted.

Newest addition to the El Rodeo is an index, located in the back pages. The cover color, a lovely blend, is strictly a military secret with the staff.

The book has 200 pages of school material and advertising, plus eight pages of autograph space. There are three full color pages in the El Rodeo depicting military, cattle and oil, and industrial scenes.

The first 16 pages have a second color in addition to black and white, and six dividing pages showing city businesses and professions have this second color also.

The theme carries the idea of promotion of Big Spring and Howard County progress. It pays tribute to local establishments, particularly in connection with cattle and oil, industry and military functions.

There is no dedication to a person; rather the dedication ties in with the "promote Big Spring progress" theme.

Mrs. Steward's hard-working staff is composed of co-editors Glenda Greenwood and Judy Cauble, assistant editor Jo Ann Ebling, senior editor Edith Freeman, activities editor Toni Thomas, sports editor Bobby McAdams, art editor Judy Reagan and photographer Randall Fowler.

All are seniors except Fowler. Judy Cauble graduated at mid-term.

There were 675 copies of the high school book ordered, which includes extra copies. Students paid for their annuals at the rate of $5 before Christmas or $6 after. That way students were encouraged to buy early, giving the staff an idea of the demand.

Plastic covers for the memory book come extra.

Mrs. Steward said her next year's editor has been selected. Carolyn Sewell was chosen and now has the juniors working for the 1959-60 book.

Mrs. Steward also sponsors publication of the school newspaper, The Corral.

The H.C.J.C. Jayhawker's cover will be black with orange and blue streamers in a spiral-confetti pattern, said Clements, college yearbook sponsor. Last year's annual was red with the emblematic jayhawk.

There are 200 pages, including a natural color shot of the college campus.

A total of 350 yearbooks have been ordered. Cost per copy is $6, but students who bought activity tickets for both the fall and spring semesters were also paying for their yearbook.

The Jayhawker has been dedicated to Mrs. Dora Roberts, pioneer Howard County woman.

Carolyn (Cookie) Sneed was editor, aided by assistant editor Anita Gardner, art editor Jean Fuqua, class editor Sammie Sue McComb, faculty editor Brenda Gordon, organizations editor Lynn McMahon, sports editor Gilbert Bell and photographer Tommy Roberts.

Carolyn and Anita attended a Texas A&M yearbook conference at Bryan during the year in connection with their plans and problems.

El Rodeo Features 22 Personalities

Twenty-two Big Spring High School student personalities are spotlighted in the 1958-59 El Rodeo, school yearbook.

In addition, almost that many more students are featured in a division entitled "leaders of tomorrow," for their work on important school clubs and organizations.

Student body president, leader of the Student Council, is James Howard Stephens. He is also a figure in the Who's Who lineup of the high school.

Named as the best all-around girl and boy are Judy Reagan and Benny McCrary. The homecoming queen, football celebrity during the fall occasion, was Jo Ann Ebling. School beauty is Malinda Crocker.

Pam Forbes and Alf Cobb are shown as sophomore favorites, and Betty Ellison and Benny Edwards are most popular in the junior class.

Senior popularity choices are Peggy Isaacks and Eddie Kinney. Who's Who listing is composed of James Stephens, Jo Ann Ebling, Vincent Friedewald, Benny McCrary, Judy Reagan, B-I-I-I

French and Sharon Creighton. All are seniors.

Juniors of the Who's Who group are Teresa Smith, Bobby Evans, Jane Cowper and Bill Engle.

Presidents and leaders of various clubs and organizations in the "leaders of tomorrow" division are depicted in the El Rodeo in a section that catches practically every facet of school life.

Publications—editors of El Rodeo, yearbook, Glenda Greenwood and Judy Cauble (who graduated at mid-term), and editor Pat Rogers of the school newspaper, The Corral; Spanish Club president Teresa Smith; Latin Club president Eddie Kinney; and Short-hand Club president Judy Shields.

Also, Key Club president Wayne Vaughn; sweetheart of the Vocational Industrial Club Nancy Davis; Distributive Education president Jo Ann Lane and DE sweetheart Bessie Smith; Majors Club president Janie Phillips and Majors Sportsman, Charles Green; Future Homemakers of America Dream Boy, Jackie Thomas; and Science Club president Bill Parsons.

Also, Library Club president, Irene Rudd; Court Jesters president, Lynn Anderson; president of Junior Historians, Randy Hensley; Pep Squad president, Pat Rogers; National Honor Society president, Eddie Kinney; and band major Mike Jarratt.

The Future Farmers of America, Bible Clubs and A Capella Choir are shown in several group activity shots.

Theme of the El Rodeo is "Progress Is Our Watchword." The staff inquired as to the use of a major corporation's saying, "Progress Is Our Most Important Product," but found too much red tape concerning copyright.

The corporation made the suggestion for the El Rodeo slogan, however, and the staff tied it in with Big Spring and Howard County progress.

Secretaries Take Certificate Tests

Two Big Spring women were among the 15 taking the Certified Professional Secretary exams at Texas Tech Friday and Saturday.

They are Dorothea Kain and Marguerite Cooper.

The examinations covered business administration and law, secretarial accounting, skills and procedures, personal adjustment and human relations. The CPS exams were inaugurated in 1951, and the certificates are now held by 1,466 top-flight secretaries throughout the U. S.

DEAR ABBY

WHOSE DAY?

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Mother's Day is coming again and I get tired just thinking about it. Last year my 7 children (all married) came for supper. They brought their families and we number 28 and ate in 3 shifts. I got up at 5:30 in the morning to start the supper. Nobody helped me peel a potato and they all started coming in at five o'clock with their kids. I wiped noses, heated bottles, changed diapers, answered questions and waited on everybody trying to make them feel comfortable and welcome. They left my house upside down and it took me a week to clean it up. I still love them but I am wondering how many more Mothers' Days I can take like the last one? Any suggestions?

asking you this question but I'm ashamed to ask anyone else. I've dated lots of fellows and have made out with many of them but I've always kept my emotions under control. But, Abby, there is one fellow in my English Lit. class who makes me flip. Whenever I see him and our eyes meet, I get weak in the knees and have to look away. I can't even think straight when he looks at me. We have nothing much in common (different backgrounds, interests, religion, etc.) and I don't think he's serious about me. I'm sure this isn't "love" — but what is it? COOKIE

AVERAGE MOTHER: IF this is the way your children "honor" their mother on MOTHER'S DAY, it's time you spoke up. Tell them on MOTHER'S DAY the kitchen and nursery are closed. Get yourself all prettied up and let them take you out for dinner. It's supposed to be YOUR day — not THEIRS.

DEAR COOKIE: This is "physical attraction" — and unfortunately, often passes for "love." If this is all you have in common — avoid him, because when this feeling takes over, it blots out reason, and that's the way the cookie crumbles.

DEAR ABBY: May I make a suggestion on how to handle uninvited guests when they "drop in" and spoil your plans? Keep your coat and hat hanging near the door. When the doorbell rings, slip it on in a hurry, and then open the door. If it's someone you do not wish to entertain, tell them how sorry you are that you were just leaving and are already ten minutes late. If it's someone you want to entertain, invite them in and tell them you just got home. It works ten times out of ten. Cordially, R. F. K.

CONFIDENTIAL TO THE GIRL UPSTAIRS: Don't worry, you'll hear from him again, Hot air rises.

Are you getting along with your parents? Get ABBY'S booklet, "What Every Teen-ager Wants to Know." Send 25 cents and a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope to ABBY, care of the Big Spring Herald.

DEAR R. F. K.: And what do you do if you say you are leaving, and the "guest" offers to go with you?

DEAR ABBY: Please tell "LOVES TO DANCE" to tell her mother-in-law to keep her big mouth shut and to keep right on dancing. When my first baby was two weeks overdue I won a Jitterbug contest at the Civic Auditorium and have the pictures to prove it. I am expecting my second baby any day now and am dancing my fool head off.

STILL DANCING

DEAR ABBY: I am a sophomore at college and I feel like a child

A Devotional For Today

As thy days, so shall thy strength be. (Deuteronomy 33:25.)

PRAYER: Our Father, we thank Thee that Thou dost know each of us intimately. Therefore, we will not fear what the future may bring to us, for our times are in Thy hands. We leave ourselves in Thy keeping. In the name of Christ. Amen.

Community Challenge Ahead

The first units of the Capehart housing project were accepted by the Air Force last week. Others will follow as they pass the inspections by the Air Force and are found to meet specifications. When a sizeable block has been accepted, the Air Force will begin immediately to move in families which have qualified to rent these quarters south of Webb AFB.

Before ground was broken for the project, we took occasion to inject a plea if not a warning to Big Spring civilian residents regarding a new problem which will arise with occupancy of the Capehart units.

It is the problem of community relations. We like to think that on the whole Big Spring has been very cognizant of its responsibility as the home town of all members of the Air Force family while they are stationed here. Out of this have come generally good relations between base and community.

For a time, many of the Webb-connected people were housed in the Monticello area, but ultimately they were dispersed all over the city. Being thoroughly and completely infused into the residential pattern, it was natural that they would come in contact with other residents as door-to-door neighbors. Many fast friendships resulted.

By no means all of the Webb families will be housed in the Capehart sector, but the 400 units means that an identical number of families will be quartered there. Although there are no physical barriers, the fact is that these good people will be more or less segregated because only military-connected personnel will be housed in the Capehart area. For them the contact of door-to-door neighbors with longer established residents will not be possible.

Moreover, in time their children will largely attend one school (Marcy elementary, which is now under construction). The proximity to Webb AFB means that they may make major use of the clubs, the swimming pools, the bowling alley, the golf course, etc., which are on the base. Thus, the recreational point of contact will be somewhat reduced.

Left to its natural course, this could mean a withdrawal or separation from the community as a whole.

But it must not be left to its natural course. We must be more determined than ever that Webb AFB people everywhere—including Capehart—are indeed citizens of Big Spring while they live in Big Spring.

There is no general way to achieve this, despite the platitude that we must all work harder at the job of having good community relations. The churches offer one good point of contact, and the pastors association and the lay church workers ought to wake up to this challenge. Our service clubs, which have been all too careless about drawing Webb officers and enlisted men into their fellowship and programs, can do a far more constructive job. Our other clubs and activities should consciously seek to draw more and more Webb people into them just as the Civic Theatre, Chamber of Commerce, Big Spring Concert Assn., Boy Scouts, etc., have done. Through the junior and senior high schools we can strengthen points of contact; for Air Force personnel is growing older and more and more of their children are in that level of school. Responsible businessmen can do far more than they dream.

Doubtless there are numerous other equally logical and effective vehicles of promoting continued community participation of our Webb citizens. And doubtless the base itself can contribute to the success of this by recognizing the problem and working constantly to hack away the temptations to or the convenience of drifting into geographical segregation.

We can further strengthen our friendships if, knowing the new obstacles, we will put more effort into earning those friendships.

Marquis Childs Macmillan Fills Key Role In Crisis

LONDON — It is one of the miracles of political life that less than two and a half years after the catastrophe of the Suez, attack the gray Edwardian figure of Harold Macmillan should dominate the contemporary horizon.

Hardly less a miracle when so much had seemed lost in the debacle of Suez is the fact of a buoyant and prosperous Britain. There is no doubt that, for all the seeming artlessness and casualness of his political posture, the pilot both at home and abroad has been the Prime Minister who succeeded to office amidst the ruins of the failure of Suez. Even the Labor opposition has for him so healthy a respect that they do not rule out in an election sometime in the next 12 months a third successive victory for the Conservatives which would be virtually unprecedented in British politics.

Prime Minister Macmillan is not inclined to minimize current difficulties that cannot be concealed by the outward pomp and circumstances of success. He smiles wryly over the rumpus set off by Field Marshal Montgomery. Temperamental field marshals—and generals—are among the crosses that men in office today must bear.

The cornerstone of Macmillan's foreign policy has been Anglo-American interdependence. He recognizes that this relationship is today a troubled one. But he is also confident that events of the coming three or four months will put it right. If he had the power to order those events they would go as follows:

The foreign ministers' meeting in Geneva would in a fairly amicable way reach agreement on three or four main subjects to be considered by heads of government at a summit conference preferably in San Francisco in August.

At the summit, agreement would be reached on a rather narrow zone of arms limitation on either side of a dividing line running through Berlin. This might be only 50 to 100 kilometers on each side of the line but it would be a beginning of a system of control and inspection. This would be tied to an agreement on Berlin covering the status of the four powers there. One proposal under consideration is to add both East German and West German representatives to the control commission.

Having got that far, and no one in the Prime Minister's view could expect progress on German reunification, the heads of government would agree before adjourning to meet again in December or January. They would, furthermore, decide before they adjourned on the agenda to be considered at the next meeting.

And beyond December or January would be a contemplated meeting the following June. The heads of government would, in short, constitute a continuing body. Between sessions the foreign ministers would meet from time to time and special commissions might also be named to work on the tougher problems.

If Macmillan has been nettled by cries of "appeaser" and "Munich" coming from the United States and Germany, he gives no sign of it. He believes that his mission to Moscow was essential, that it prepared the way for negotiation, that it had something to do with preventing Premier Khrushchev from signing a separate treaty with East Germany.

The Prime Minister remains firmly convinced that the Russians want to negotiate a settlement because they want an assurance of peace in which they can begin to make good on Khrushchev's promise to raise the Russian standard of living. To those who say that the Soviets want a settlement in Western Europe only so that they can strike out in other areas such as the Middle East, the Prime Minister replies that this may be true. But it may also be true that they would like a general settlement. Nor does he regret having brought up with Khrushchev in their talks in Moscow the idea of a quota on inspections of suspected nuclear explosions. The Russians have now taken this up as a counter to the American proposal for an agreement limited to tests in the atmosphere. Macmillan's objective was to get a control system going that, under a quota of say 50 inspections a year, would give the West a maximum assurance of security.

In the subdued quiet of the cabinet table with each minister's portfolio properly in place, the young green of the trees through the big window at the end of the room, this seems a confident man. His power is nothing like that of the great Victorian Prime Ministers whose marble busts line the corridors of the dingy brown brick citadel that is No. 10 Downing Street.

But it is power of another sort, based in no small part on the confidence of long experience and grave perils endured. This is a man not afraid to say that as between nuclear war and negotiation, and two months ago he felt the odds to be very strongly on nuclear war, he will take negotiation.

Morgue Is Theatre

DOVER, N. J. (AP) — What was once the city morgue has become one of the brightest spots in town.

The building, purchased through the efforts of a philanthropic businessman, has been converted into a theater by the Dover Little Theater group.

"The outside still looks like a morgue," one member commented, "but we think it's pretty comfortable on the inside."

Light Aids Soldiers

DOVER, N. J. (AP) — A method for using simulated daylight to help the food soldier has recently been uncovered by the pyrotechnics laboratory at Picatinny Arsenal.

Chief of the Army's research and development program, Lt. Gen. Arthur G. Trudeau termed the development, "the best piece of work I have seen in five years."

The laboratory study shows that it is possible to light up millions of square yards at one time, permitting continued attack after dark and providing easier observation of enemy movements at night.

Also A Victim

J. A. Livingston Sales Of Standard Model Autos Going Well

Ask any college student who has taken Economics 1 to fill in the missing word in the axiom, "As — goes, so goes the nation," and chances are good he'll put down "steel." Yet steel has not always epitomized the state of the American economy.

When the country was predominantly agrarian, the weather and the price of cotton and wheat determined how "went the nation." Southerners proclaimed, "Cotton is king." And in the postwar period, you wouldn't have gone too far wrong saying, "As autos go, so goes the nation."

In 1949, the automobile almost single-industrialized the nation out of the recession into the upsurge of 1950. Americans spent 4.7 per cent of their personal income on autos in '49 and 5.7 per cent in '50. Prior to that, the highest they'd ever spent on autos and parts was 3.7 per cent in 1929.

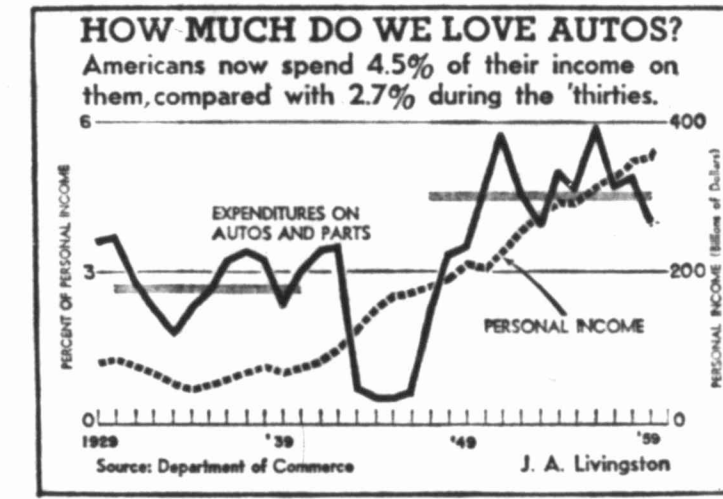

During the 'thirties, the range was from 1.8 per cent (1932) to 3.4 per cent (1939).

Again, in 1955, automobile executives could boast they lifted the country out of the doldrums. They produced 7,900,000 cars. People spent 5.9 per cent of record personal income on their passenger cars. Then the oomph oozed out of demand.

Although nearly 6,000,000 cars were sold in 1956 and again 1957, only 4.8 cents out of every dollar of income went for cars. And people began to show an interest in foreign makes. They also cocked ears to George Romney, president of American Motors, who called Big-Three cars "gas-guzzling dinosaurs." The gas, a different kind of gas, went out of the Big Three's bigger, longer, wider balloon.

Until jolted by foreign cars and Romney's Rambler, Big-Three executives, salesmen, and market researchers were sure they had Americans "taped." Every American wanted his car to look like a Cadillac and every year's Cadillac had to look different. That recipe failed in '58.

The nation not only did not "go as autos went," but autos went worse—much worse—than the nation. Expenditures on autos and parts fell to 4 per cent of personal income, as against 4.9 per cent in '57. And this year, though pasenger car sales are more or less recovering with business, they're not on an autonomous tear—on a spurge all by their lonesome. For this, there's an explanation.

From the end of the war and into 1957, Americans were automobile-starved. No cars had been produced during the war. Families had to do without or make do with old worn-out cars. The rush to the suburbs augmented the pent-up demand. Two cars became essential for many families. Workers as well as executives began driving to their jobs. As the result, we have today 58,000,000 passenger cars on the road — more than double the prewar total.

No wonder John F. Gordon, president of General Motors Corp., figures a "normal annual sales of 7,250,000 passenger cars by 1965." This would compare with current sales estimates of 5,800,000 to 6,000,000, of which 500,000 are foreign cars. Gordon allows for expansion in the market of 3 per cent a year. This is not over-optimistic.

The rising standard of living, the continued drift to the suburbs, larger families, and the increasing proportion of teen-agers in the population during the next ten years (from about 7 per cent to 9 per cent) suggest a persistent growth in two-car families. And with nearly 60,000,000 cars on the road, replacement demand comes to 5,000,000 or 6,000,000 yearly, allowing cars a ten-year life.

Though no announcements have been made, names and approximate dates for Big-Three compact cars are gossip in Detroit. GM's Corvair (an acronym of Corvette and Bel Aire) is due to debut in October, Ford's Falcon a bit later, and Chrysler's Valiant early in 1960. As dealerships are assigned, orders for parts and accessories placed, and workers hired, the news will spread all over the U.S. It could slow down sales. Some would-be buyers may postpone buying.

This year's surprise is that sales have held up—they're now at a 6,000,000 annual rate—despite the threat of compact cars. Big-Three executives grudgingly concede that the smaller models could cut into sales of their own cars.

But they hope to offset this with (a) sales gained from foreign cars, Ramblers, and Larks, and (b) their share of a bigger pie—the general rise in demand.

Certainly, 1960 has the "makings" of an excellent automobile year. The 1955 rate of expenditure — 5.9 cents out of every dollar of income — is too much to hope for. But something better than recent levels of 4 per cent, something closer to the postwar average of about 4.5 per cent, is a reasonable expectation (see chart). And, since personal income is at a record high, this augurs well. "As the nation goes, so go autos."

Joey's Brothers Can Use The Cash

NEW YORK (AP) — Joey Bishop, who will sit in for vacationing Jack Paar this week, said he'd like to get his two brothers on the show. One is a head waiter in Miami Beach and the other "runs a pocketbook factory in California."

A fellow asked if they were unrecognized comic geniuses.

"No," replied Bishop. "They're horrible — as comedians. But they could use the 320 bucks you get for appearing on the show."

One yardstick of comedians, he implied, lies in the neighborhood of $320 — those who need it and those who don't want it. "I'd like to get Jack Benny and Bob Hope. But neither of them wants $320."

Bishop is a smallish, youngish looking chap with features as immobile as a Grecian mask and an upper lip as stiff as Jack Benny's.

As a matter of fact, Bishop would rather talk about Benny than about himself.

Benny, he says, is a "genuine comic. A genuine comic is a guy who's told by the audience that he's funny. The other kind tells the audience he's funny."

Bishop was a highly successful nightclub comedian when he was offered a spot on the CBS-TV show "Keep Talking." Guest spots on the Paar Show over NBC-TV followed.

Lost: Another Battle With Nature

This might be termed the 1959 supplement to the continuing volume on man's inescapable defeat at the hands of Nature.

In other words, some people—oh, well, a couple—have asked how I fare with the yard this year. Customarily, I have voiced laments of frustration at about this season, and some friends—oh, well, a couple—have apparently been optimistic enough to surmise that this year should bring a brighter tune.

How is the yard coming along this year? In one inelegant word—lousy.

One's hopes are never dashed, I suppose. There were occasions during the winter when it was decided (and this took help from the other side of the family) that the barren grass should be watered, just to keep it condition. Then, with the first dim prospects of Spring came the rite of fertilizing, for growth; and poisoning, for protection. This was followed, of course, with much watering.

Things looked bright for a time, and then came this spurge of cold weather. Tender grass shoots that had looked inviting enough immediately ducked their little heads and faded away, to return again—maybe.

They may be coming again now, but at their own measured pace: much too leisurely to suit an impatient mortal. And, worse, not with any uniformity. The result is a yard of splotches, an area here of some verdure; another there of dreary yellow; and others scattered about of an in-between light green that takes on billous tones. This is calculated to raise the spirits of a yard worker?

But where the grass has been timid,

I hastily report that the weeds have been bold. The varieties are so numerous that I can't name them all. I don't even want to name them. I hate, hate, hate 'em. There are some of those dandelion creatures, or perhaps wild onions, whose bulb-like roots defy every known process of excavation. There is that demon crab grass, usually surrounded by a clump of some other kind of wild grass. There are milk weeds and bear grass, stink weeds and cabbage weeds. You name 'em, I got 'em.

To go on with the frustration, about the time it looks like MAYBE the weeds will retreat, here come the varmints. They may be assorted bugs and insects to you, but they are varmints to me. Cinch bugs, sow bugs, snails and cut-worms. Big bugs and little bugs, flying bugs and crawling bugs, wiggy worms and digging worms.

You know the story with these creatures. Attack! With every bottled and packaged nostrum conceived by the nursery people. I have used secret formulas, not to mention such stuff as B-29, R-4-D, and T-33, plus just a touch of diobexylpropaphydrogenesterhalgesic, with radio isotopes added.

You know what the bugs have been doing? Just laughing and laughing.

On top of this, the first Spring water bill has come. I broke the hoe handle and the lawn mower won't work.

Somebody asked me about the yard? I am the fellow lying out there flat on his face, beating fists and feet on the ground, crying aloud and offering to surrender to Nature. Might as well.

The Need For A Life Of Service

Some time ago I met a physician, an extraordinarily stimulating personality. We had an interesting conversation about how we happened to select our respective jobs in life. His story was so wonderful that I must tell you about it.

He told me that when he was a small boy in Kansas, the countryside in wintertime often lay under deep, drifted snow and there would be difficulty getting in and out from his family farmhouse and from town. One such winter, when he was about seven years old, his little sister became sick. She ran a high fever and became delirious. By the time his father got a message to the doctor over the well-nigh impassable roads and the physician finally arrived in his horse and buggy through the snow, the little girl was near death's door.

The family doctor stayed with them for 24 hours. The whole household was filled with deep anguish and sorrow and no one had a moment's sleep. Finally, the little boy saw the doctor walk from his sister's bedside and put his hands on the shoulders of his father and mother. And the boy heard the doctor say: "By the Grace of God, I can tell you that little Mary will get well."

The crisis had passed. The frightened boy, from where he stood behind a chair, could see his parents' faces at that moment. He had never seen them so beautiful, so lighted up, so wondrously happy. They had been made so by the few meaningful words the doctor had spoken to them.

"Right there, in that moment," my friend concluded, "I decided to be a doctor so I could say things like that to people, that would bring that light to their eyes, that joy to their faces."

Well, of course, you don't have to be a doctor specifically to say or do that which puts light in a human eye and joy in a human face. Simply by leading a life of service to your fellow men you can bring happiness to human beings and in so doing you find happiness for yourself. There are many ways in which each of us, no matter who or what we are, can serve. The satisfactions of serving others well, of bringing them joy and happiness, is open to each of us. Indeed, all you have to do is treat everyone in a kindly manner.

For myself, I have a little scheme that proves most exciting. Every morning I ask the Lord to lead me to someone during the day whom I may help. This has brought many wonderful adventures in service and I have gotten huge pleasure from it.

There are, of course, the special careers of service such as the work of medical doctors and others. At this time of year when many thousands of young people are graduating from our high schools, colleges and universities, it is important to point out to them the joys that lie in a life of service—the work of bringing real happiness to others.

We do not have enough doctors. We are short on pastors, priests and rabbis. We do not have enough teachers, or nurses, or missionaries, or scientists. And there are many other areas of service crying out for dedicated men and women who want to find that joy beyond measure that lies in being able to help others and bring "that light to their eyes . . . that joy to their faces."

Allies Tip Hand On German Offers

PARIS — What a familiar paradox — fifty reporters unsuccessfully pressing an American government spokesman to tell them what the Western Allies plan to agree to at the forthcoming Geneva Conference, while a French afternoon newspaper prints the details of the so-called "package plan" which is to be offered to the Soviets.

Forty years ago it was much the same. This correspondent then watched the American delegation keep faith on the secrecy rule while the British and French "briefed" their own newsmen at that time on important news developments at the Paris peace conference. It did not matter then, because the enemy was not to be present anyhow at the "summit" conference in Paris, and everything agreed upon by the Allies was to be submitted to the defeated adversary to be signed later on the dotted line.

But today the "enemy" is very much in evidence. The Communists, of course, have plenty of stooges in Paris nowadays, but they only have to read the French press to get vital information before the negotiations start.

Notwithstanding these handicaps, it is apparent that Secretary of State Hertz is standing firmly on a broad plan that offers the Soviets a palatable program — if they are in a conciliatory mood — but one that does not alter the substance of things. Thus, the idea now is to present a three-step plan — described in some detail by the French press — with the ultimate purpose of establishing a unified Germany through free elections. When former Secretary Dulles recently abandoned temporarily the concept of free elections as a requisite to discussions with the Soviets, it did not mean that the United States was giving up the proposal altogether. It took a little while to reassure the West German government on this point. But now all is fully understood in Bonn.

The program now, in the first stage, is to issue a number of declarations of a "non-aggression" character, along with the establishment of two committees. One would be a permanent four-power committee to discuss European security, and the other would be an East-West German committee or "council" to discuss continuing contacts between the two rival German governments and to draft an electoral law. This "council" would not be created unless the Soviets accepted from the outset the proposal that within a stated period — probably five or six years — free elections would be held to unify Germany.

The second stage would provide a system of control of forces and armaments in a "zone" as large as possible in Europe, preferably from the Atlantic to the Ural Mountains.

The third stage would be a reunification of Germany by free elections, which would be followed by a "free choice" by Germany as between an alliance with the North Atlantic Treaty Organization and a position of "neutrality." The German choice would determine the kind of permanent security structure that would be established in Europe. Only in this stage would there be a limitation or a ceiling on armed forces and on armaments in general. Berlin would meanwhile be kept in its existing status until the third stage had been accomplished, when it would become the capital of a reunified Germany.

The American spokesman naturally was inhibited today from saying how much of the French newspaper article was accurate. But it is assumed generally here that it covers the substance of what was discussed by the foreign ministers.

The information that was officially divulged by the American delegation here was confined to the statement that very few differences appeared between the Western foreign ministers and that they were agreed upon a general approach to be made at the Geneva meeting on May 11. There is indeed a very pleasant feeling between the Western governments.

Moscow would, of course, like to have in advance the details of the Western proposals, and it is too bad that the Allies do not really observe a secrecy rule before a big conference is held. What the Western diplomats and attaches ought to do perhaps is to consult John L. Lewis, Walter Reuther and David McDonald about the techniques of hard-balled negotiating.

None of them ever tells in advance how his price happens to be and how long he will maintain a strike or threat of a strike. The Western governments need to get more hard-balled about keeping their own counsels prior to a negotiation. The Communists naturally want the Western press to tell them each day what has happened, so that it will be easier to demolish the Allied arguments at the Geneva conference.

Bible Words for Today

ISAIAH 54:13 — "And all thy children shall be taught of the Lord, and great shall be the peace of thy children."

What can the home do to assure the children in it a happy, abundant life? Isaiah answers this question simply and to the point: "And all thy children shall be taught of the Lord."

Just what does Isaiah mean? First, he means the child must be taught God's love in the home. He must not be told of God's love alone, but be able to feel it permeating the life of his home. The loveless home is indeed the Godless home no matter what its piety or pretensions.

Isaiah means also that the child should be taught the truth that the Godly home is the happy home. The Christian home is the vessel of the highest kind of happiness for the entire family. Are you giving your children the time they need just to know you as a happy, fun-loving, life-loving person? The sombre home is not the Christian home.

Bring God's deep unselfish and warm love into the life of your family, if this love lives in your home then the rich happiness of the life in God will be shared.

Four Weeks Left In '58-59 School Year

By PAT ROGERS

B.S.H.S.'rs have only four more weeks of school to go. In other words, there will be four more weeks of last club meetings of the year, last minute parties, and, last of all, the senior graduation.

The junior class was a bit on the tired side after spending Tuesday taking the National Merit Scholarship Test. Taking the test isn't as distressing as learning the results.

Mrs. Erma Steward, journalism instructor, and the CORRAL staff have worked diligently trying to prepare the dummy for the senior magazine. The dummy, with a few things missing which will be sent later, was mailed to the printer yesterday.

The junior class, along with the National Merit Scholarship Test, is having to worry about the prom festivities which are around the corner. Once again this year, like years in the past, they will have the last-minute worries until the prom is over for good.

The seniors will have a banquet! After meeting several times having many arguments, and discussions, the senior class is giving itself a banquet.

Tentative date is May 16, but details will be announced later.

Speaking of the seniors, they had a class meeting Tuesday to discuss plans for the senior assembly and banquet. A committee was also chosen to make plans for the baccalaureate services and commencement exercises.

Friday night students celebrated May Day with a dance in the cafeteria. May Day and the dance brought back memories of grade school and the May Pole dances once held at the football stadium where every grade school in town would have various dances.

Everyone crossed their fingers for good luck as the Steerette Volleyball Team pulled out and headed for Abilene and the State Tournament. This year the girls were runners-up for the regional title.

Melva Burton and Teresa Smith journeyed to Odessa last weekend for the Journalism Interscholastic Meet. Melva placed fourth for Big Spring. Not only did they participate in the contest, but they also saw a horror movie as an added attraction.

Shorthand girls are preparing to take the Civil Service Test. To pass the stenographic part of the test, the girls will have to be able to take dictation at the rate of 80 words per minute.

The annual staff has been preparing lists of names for the distribution of the '58-59 yearbooks. Could this mean the annuals will be coming in soon?

If it seems monotonous to keep talking about seniors, remember they are on their last leg and headed for graduation. Barr's Photo Center, as a complimentary gift, is taking a picture of each senior in a cap and gown.

Miss Billie Harding "popped" a good and confusing assignment on her Language Arts classes. They have to write a theme disproving an old proverb. Is it possible to disprove "Crime doesn't pay"?

American and Texas history students who have Mr. J. P.

Yates for a teacher will more than likely be burning midnight oil tonight. Their term notebooks are due tomorrow. Friday afternoon, several students decided the time had come to work!

Band members "whooped and hollered" as they left BSHS Wednesday morning and headed for Enid Oklahoma. They are supposed to arrive home sometime today.

Council Election Slated Thursday

By DIANE BAKER

Circulation of petitions for student council representatives was started Monday and ended Friday. Practices for cheerleader tryouts have also begun. Qualifications for all student officers will be checked by a faculty committee.

The political assembly and cheerleader tryouts will be Wednesday. Voting will be Thursday morning in the homerooms. Five eighth grade representatives and five from the ninth will be chosen as well as three 10th grade representatives. There will be three eighth, three ninth and one 10th grade cheerleaders chosen.

The past week has been a busy one for Y Clubs. The Runnels and Goliad Hi-Y Clubs elected officers last Tuesday night. Officers for next year are Jimmy Hinds, president; David Maberry, first vice president; Bob Moore, second vice president; Skipper Driver, secretary; Dick Ebling, treasurer; Coy Mitchell, chaplain; David Maberry and Jimmy Hinds, delegates to the Hi-Y council.

Officers for the Tri-Hi-Y are Joan Jordan, president; Linda Grant, first vice president; Karon Koger, second vice president; Rachael Phelan, secretary; Katherine Hepler, treasurer; Martha Hardy, chaplain; Martha Jones, parliamentarian; Pat Armstrong, reporter; and Karon Koger and Joan Jordan council delegates.

Don't forget the spring chrous concert on Friday in the junior high gym at 2 p.m. and at 8 p.m. Prices are 25 cents student and 50 cents adult.

Friday evening there was a scrimmage football game. The ninth graders who made varsity from Runnels were Jack Irons, David Maberry, Mike Hughes,

Spring Formal Is Year's Top Event

By PAT ARMSTRONG

Goliad held its first annual Spring Formal at the Cosden Country Club last weekend. This affair was the biggest event of the school year and perhaps the most successful.

The club was decorated by the student council to the theme, "Summertime." Music was furnished by a combo from Snyder. A professional photographer took individual pictures of couples, available at a nominal charge.

Next Saturday, there will be a Safe Driving Road-E-O. It will be at 1 a.m. at Webb Air Force Base, and is open to all teen-agers. You must have a driver's license, have no moving traffic violations, and be able to pass a simple test on driving regulations, in order to qualify. The cars will be furnished for all participants. There will be local awards as well as the trip to Washington, D. C. and the $2,000 scholarship which will be awarded to National winners.

The Hi-Y officers for the sophomore club next year are: Jimmy Hinds, president; David Maberry, first vice president; Bob Moore, second vice president; Skipper Driver, secretary; Dick Ebling, treasurer; Coy Mitchell, chaplain. These officers were elected last week at the regular meeting.

The president of the Tri-Hi-Y sophomore club for next year is Joan Jordan; first vice president, Linda Grant; second vice president, Karon Koger; secretary, Rachael Phelan; treasurer, Katherine Hepler; chaplain, Martha Hardy; parliamentarian, Martha Jones; and reporter, Pat Armstrong. Karon Koger is also the club's representative to the Hi-Y Council along with the president Joan Jordan.

Next Tuesday night the Tri-Hi-Y club will have a banquet at the Sands Restaurant. This will probably be the last time the group will meet together.

Next Friday the annual staff will leave for Austin and will stay until Sunday. Also the staff is expecting the yearbooks in the following week.

Many of the ninth grade girls that took Homemaking this year have signed up for the summer homemaking course. They will go to school the first week after school is out, two hours in the morning. The rest of the course will be done at home. The girls will earn another half credit for this work.

The last issue of the school paper will be sold next Tuesday for 10 cents. Bring your dime and get an extra special issue.

The ninth grade Hi-Y had a hayride Saturday night. The group went to Moss Creek.

Musicales Featuring Students Opens National Music Week

By BOBBY HORTON

A musicale which will initiate observance of National Music Week will be presented in the HCJC Auditorium at 4 p.m. today.

Vocal and piano students of the local college music department will be featured in a number of musical presentations. Parents of the choir will be guests at the occasion and the public is invited.

Four religious compositions will be presented in the first portion of the program:

We Come Unto Our Fathers' God (Bach); Come, Christians, Join To Sing (Arr. Mueller); Jesus Walked This Lonesome Valley (Arr. Wilson and Ehret); and The Last Words of David (Thompson).

Vocal and piano students will be in the second portion:

Prelude in D-flat, Op. 28, No. 15 (Chopin) by Avel Greenwood; piano; O Let Me Press Thy Cheek To Mine (Jenson) and Over The Mountains (Arr. Quilter) by Patsy Potter, soprano; Caro Mio Ben (Giordani) and Open The Door Softly (Hughes) by tenor Ronnie Phillips.

Also Gioia Il Sole Dal Gange (Scarlati) and I Know A Hill (Whelpley) by Hubert Murphy, baritone; and Fantasia On Hungarian Folk Melodies (Liszt) by Glendene Philley, pianist, and Jack Hendrix, second pianist.

The choir will sing five semi-classical numbers in the final part:

There Is A Ladye (Murray); The Colorado Trail (Scott); The Synopated Clock; (Anderson); My Bonnie Lassie (Bennett-Tepner-McClurg-Ehret); and You'll Never Walk Alone (Rodgers-Stickles).

Monday night in the auditorium, in conjunction with the National Music Week festivities, a former HCJC student will be featured in a recital.

Billy Evans, who attended two summer sessions and a term in 1956-57, will be featured pianist. After impressing local people with his talent, Billy went to North Texas State College and recently won another audition for the Amarillo Symphony Orchestra. He won his first while at HCJC.

Speaker for HCJC commencement exercises on May 28 this year will be Dr. J. W. Reynolds. He is a professor and consulat of Junior College Education, with in the University of Texas, and is also editor of the Junior College Journal.

About 47 sophomore students may be in the graduating class, including 15 girls.

Webb Receives Big Inspection

The largest inspection team ever to visit Webb AFB Friday would up a full week of checking into all phases of the base's operation and activities.

Part of the Air Force's plan whereby major commands inspect member bases annually to insure uniformity and efficiency, this year's inspection was headed by Col. Charles S. Marshall, assistant director of inspection, Headquarters, Air Training Command, Randolph AFB. Col. Marshall's team, including 14 other officers, and 3 non-commissioned officers, arrived Monday and departed Webb on Friday.

Col. Charles S. Overstreet, Air Training Command director of inspection, joined the group Thursday and the inspector general of Air Training Command, Col. Clair L. Wood, arrived Friday morning and left in the afternoon following a short critique and discussion.

Wing inspector at Webb is Col. Herman G. Tillman Jr.

CRITIQUE Of The Local Entertainment Scene

By Bob Smith

Music lovers will have a double-header this week. This afternoon, 4 p.m. in HCJC Auditorium, there will be a musical featuring vocal and piano students of the music department instructors, and the HCJC Choir. It would be a pity to miss this program, as Ira Schantz has done wonders both with his chorus and his vocal students, and Hendrix has shown rare teaching ability with the piano students.

The second program will be a concert by Billy Evans, Monday at 8 p.m. in the auditorium. Evans, now a student at North Texas, has one of the greatest talents Big Spring has yet produced. There are many residents who can attest to his piano artistry.

Those who wonder how a music critic goes about writing his reviews may have something of a hint from the cartoon reproduced on this page.

As for this particular critic, I'm not saying anything. The cartoon, which has no gag line (who needs one?), was stolen from a magazine section of the Los Angeles Times.

While the nation—musically speaking—may be going through a period of "electronic exaggeration," the next 50 years should prove to be a rich period in a vigorous musical American society.

an excellent 18th century beginning

In this country," Persichetti asserts that "it was not until the 1920's that American composers That's the prediction of Dr. Vincent Persichetti, Juilliard School of Music composer, who served as conductor—composer-moderator of the eighth annual Texas Symposium of Contemporary Music last week at Texas Tech.

Noting that musically "we had begun searching once more for their own musical culture."

"In the 30's, the specialists became prominent, these men who dealt with a limited segment of the 20th century materials. In the 40's, some composers specialized in special ideas of the specialists. They refined, polished and extended their predecessors' ideas."

"We must watch the younger composers throughout the country," he predicts. "They are coordinating the various musical resources of the past 40 years. They have the technical means and performing media at their disposal . . . little can stand in their way if they have the talent. The next 50 years should prove to be a rich culminating period in a vigorous musical American society."

He pointed out that dissonance for dissonance's sake is being replaced by effective use of a dissonance in connection with today's dramatic and documentary television and film productions. And dissonance is getting "musical and extramusical" meaning because of this use.

"We're now going through a period of electronic exaggeration," Persichetti said in commenting on current interest in Hi-Fi. "It is good as long as composers of real talent don't pause too long to look. After all, a cigar box with rubber bands is good as long as it leads to a violin. The danger is that we don't listen attentively."

"In and through it all, we are developing a wider palate."

Fred Short has been making some gains in the provinces. He acted as critic judge during the district one-act play contest at Rankin High School last March, and the Rankinites, heeding his advice, went on to take first place in their division at the Odessa regional meet. Now, they're on their way to the state contest.

Short had held a special clinic here for the Rankin players, before the Odessa event.

Short hopes to gain some recruits from the Rankin graduating class for his College Players next year.

Got an interested brochure through the mails. A schedule of University of Texas events in the College of Fine Arts.

A brief and partial peek reveals: graduating seniors art exhibit; visit by the Tyler Junior College Choir; "Count Ory," by the Opera Workshop and Orchestra; the faculty concert series; special music classes headed by Frank Mannheim; University Chorus spring concert; Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia concert; A Cappella Choir and Madrigal Singers concert; student recital series; Junior String Project Orchestra concert; Junior Art Project exhibit; University Symphony Orchestra concert; University Symphonic Band concert.

These events run from May 1 through May 24, and point up an old college this ex-teasipper heard in college days—that in Austin, there's never a dull moment for the longhairs.

Anyone expecting to be in the area in May might want a copy of the schedule—one may be had from the College of Fine Arts.

Odd bits: The original production of "Floradora" ("Tell Me, Pretty Maiden, Are There Any More At Home Like You?") played for eight years in U.S. theatres. . . the late comedian W. C. Fields was an accomplished juggler—said it took him seven years of practice before he could include juggling in his vaudeville act. . .

Playwright Clyde Fitch had five plays on Broadway at the same time in 1901. . . they were "Sappho," "Lovers Lane," "The Climbers," "Barbara Fritche," and "Captain Jinks of the Horse Marines." . . Patrick Dennis, author of the best selling "Auntie Mame" books, said the idea came to him while he was taking a bath. . . says he, "what I really was thinking about was money" . . . so "Auntie Mame" solved the problem. . .

Ethel Barrymore's first starring role was in "Captain Jinks of the Horse Marines" (see above). . . it ran for 168 performances on Broadway. . .

Sean O'Casey was a 37-year-old bricklayer when he decided to become a playwright. . .

George Bernard Shaw received the Nobel Prize in 1925. . . at that time, he said he wrote for the simple, everyday person—not for society in general. . .

Probably the most extensively performed play today is "A Raisin in the Sun" by Lorraine Hansberry. . . long ago, it played 43 different communities on the same evening

PARIS (AP)—The famed Paris Left Bank, which has always considered an attic a decent height for anyone, is to be invaded by a 52-story skyscraper.

Tradition-minded officials fought it, but finally bowed to pressure and persuasion. The skyscraper—tallest in Europe—is planned as the centerpiece for an ultramodern development project that will root out many of the rickety but picturesque studios.

The main building will rise 600 feet, towering over the Paris skyline now limited to about 10 stories. But it still will play second fiddle to the Eiffel Tower's 985 feet.

A concession to the Left Bank will be 25 acres of new studios for painters, sculptors, artists and writers.

R&H In Disc Biz

NEW YORK (AP)—In addition to writing and producing their own musical comedies, Oscar Hammerstein II and Richard Rodgers are now in the recording business. The team's first disc release is the original cast album of their current Broadway hit, "Flower Drum Song."

CINEMA COMMENT

By BOB SMITH

THE REMARKABLE MR. PENNYPACKER, starring Clifton Webb, Produced by Charles Brackett. Directed by Henry Levin. Screenplay by Walter Reisch, from the play by Liam O'Brien. Tuesday through Thursday at the Ritz.

The Gay 90's really were gay for Mr. Pennypacker. Owner of two packing plants in two Pennsylvania cities, he was a modern man of the turn of the century.

Clifton Webb, in the title role, believes in Darwin, chooses knickerbockers over pressed suit pants, owns a car—and in general is a non-conformist.

But he gets his comeuppance when it is discovered that he has been keeping two families in the two cities where his business is located. He believes in efficiency, and he has picked a peck of Pennypackers—17 to be exact.

The law calls such shenanigans bigamy, and frowns upon it. But Mr. Pennypacker, still the rugged individualist, insists it should be called polygamy, a practice still considered acceptable in a large part of the world.

But if you know Clifton Webb, you might expect him to extricate himself—which he does, meanwhile throwing in some pretty convincing arguments favoring polygamy.

The supporting cast is uniformly good, but Webb remains the center of attraction. Others in the cast include Dorothy McGuire, Charles Coburn, Jill St. John, Ron Ely and Dorothy Stickney.

The film is not really naughty, in spite of its theme—indeed, it may be classified as good comedy. It was no accident that Midland's community theatre chose "The Remarkable Mr. Pennypacker" as one of its season plays.

IMITATION OF LIFE, starring Lana Turner. Produced by Ross Hunter. Directed by Douglas Sirk. Screenplay by Eleanore Griffith and Allan Scott, from the novel by Fannie Hurst. Friday and Saturday at the Ritz.

This is a powerful woman's story, and one must expect that it will be well attended.

One might also expect that the legion of hanky-wavers, including all those who get shook up over soap operas, will turn out in a body.

Fannie Hurst's old novel, the second time around, is turned out efficiently, and is baked real brown. It is a lavish, tear-jerking, mass-emotional view of reality, and the film's in terrific color besides.

The story's two-hour length is kept snappy by director Douglas Sirk, and the racial theme is largely kept to the personal level. It makes some fine points, although they are dressed up in the confession magazine style and are therefore exaggerated.

The story centers mostly around a Negro girl with a white skin who wants to pass for white, against her brother's insistence that she be honest. There are several other interwoven plots, a white girl who needs her mother's love, and her mother's ambitions for stage success, all complicated by the actress' love life and the resulting triangle with her own daughter.

The problems are all resolved at the death scene and funeral. Susan Kohner, as the would-be white girl, proves her ability with a piece of magnificent acting. Juanita Moore, as her darker-hued mother, is quiet and especially endearing. Lana Turner is adequate, while the male actors are cardboard characters seemingly thrown in just to remind us that there are such creatures as men.

Mehalia Jackson, the famed colored gospel singer, is in fine voice as a spiritual soloist in the funeral scene.

In brief: Mama won't dare miss "Imitation of Life," but Papa had just as leave stay home with the kids.

TWO HEADED SPY, starring Jack Hawkins. Produced by Bill Kirby. Directed by Andre de Toth. Screenplay by James O'Donnell, based on a story by J. Alvin Kugelmass. Tuesday and Wednesday at the State.

With an unusual amount of suspense that builds into a shattering ending, this great spy story is one of the greatest of its kind.

The fact that it is based on an actual incident may have had a lot to do with this state of things, since truth is often less believable than fiction.

Jack Hawkins, of "River Kwai" fame, turns in a truly splendid characterization as the British colonel who masqueraded for years before and during World War II as a member of the Nazi high command, sending messages out almost daily and never getting caught.

He was almost caught, but with his usual aplomb, the colonel escaped with Hitler's blessing, leaving behind six confused and thoroughly framed generals condemned to death.

This is one you can't afford to miss.

Remember all those ridiculous titles on teen-age horror shows—I Was a Teen-Age Frankenstein, I Was a Teen-Age Dracula, etc.?

Well, it took Walt Disney to put them to rest. And his medium was the movie ad, a thing which most often is a horror in itself. The ads were for "The Shaggy Dog," an unlikely tale about a teen-ager who turns into an overgrown sheepdog, back into a boy, and infinitum.

In the ads, Disney has the dog saying, "I Was a Teen-Age Boy." "The Shaggy Dog," one of the most rib-hurting comedies Disney has yet turned out, continues at the Ritz through Monday.

Other viewing: "Villal" Rodolfo Hoyos does right by Pancho Villa, the bandido who became one of the heroes of the Mexican Revolution. Since this is a Mexican-made film, Villa is portrayed as the Mexicans see
