

DEAR ABBY

'FESS UP, HONEY!

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am 16 years old and fell in love with a boy 18. We asked our folks to sign for us to get married. At first they refused because Bud had to go to the Army. Then they agreed on the condition that we promise not to live like man and wife until after Bud gets back from the Army. They said that way I could draw his allotment check and we would not have to worry about having children before we could afford it. Abby, Bud and I didn't keep our part of the bargain and I am pregnant. I am afraid to tell my mother. Please tell me what to do and where I can go? I hate myself for sinning this way.

DEAR SIXTEEN: Tell your mother at once. If your parents consented to your marriage they had no right to forbid you to consummate it. You made a foolish promise but you committed no sin. Stay home and your husband can make a home for you elsewhere. Good luck!

DEAR ABBY: I go with a fellow who says he likes me very much. I go steady with him, but he isn't going steady with me. We have no agreement, but I never accept another date because I am always waiting until the last minute in hopes that he will call me. Sometimes he calls and sometimes he doesn't. I know he's made dates in advance with other girls, and when he can't get any one else, he calls me. I am a little tired of playing second fiddle. Have you any advice?

DEAR "SECOND FIDDLE": What you need is a new "bow"!

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of a mother who lets her little five-year-old boy hit her over the head with anything he happens to have in his hand when he gets mad? A toy gun, a car, it doesn't matter what. She just laughs and says it doesn't hurt and makes no effort to correct him. I feel sorry for her.

DEAR NEIGHBOR: Don't waste your sympathy on the mother. The boy will need it when he goes to school and uses those tactics on his teacher and classmates. When a mother fails to teach her child how to control his temper, the child learns it the hard way and pays dearly for the lesson.

DEAR ABBY: I gave my husband a surprise party for his birthday. Naturally everybody gave him a kiss and wished him a happy birthday, but this one cousin of mine took advantage of the occasion. When she kissed him you could have counted to twenty-five before she let go. This may seem like nothing to you but it is plenty to me. I am still so mad I can't look her in the face and she lives around the corner from me, which makes it awkward. My husband says to forget it. How can I?

DEAR STILL: Put it down as a little stunt to get attention, prompted by the excitement of the celebration — and forget it. We've all got kissing cousins.

To get ABBY'S booklet, "What Every Teen-Ager Wants to Know," send 25 cents and a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope to ABBY in care of the Big Spring Herald.

Byrd Says Housing Is Costly To U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Harry F. Byrd (D-Va.) said today defaults and foreclosures on 17 military housing projects have cost the Federal Housing Administration $16,100,000.

Eight other projects out of 110 under study, Byrd said in a statement, are in financial difficulty with $14,800,000 still owed on federal mortgages.

U.S. Call Out For Inventors

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon has issued a list of things it wishes somebody would invent.

Something that would enable a soldier to jump over a mountain, for instance.

Or a quick method of fixing a broken transatlantic cable.

Or an altimeter that would work 100 miles up.

The list of 28 new problems for the nation's inventors was issued by the military Monday through the National Inventors Council, a Commerce Department agency which is a clearing house for military inventions.

The list has been issued, revised and updated from time to time since the council was set up in 1940. The council has winnowed several hundred thousands of responses, ranging from the sublime to the ridiculous.

The likely ones it sends to the Pentagon which decides whether they're usable. The military then negotiates directly with the inventor for the use of the idea.

Of the mountain-jumper for soldiers, the council said: "The device must provide excellent stability and be sufficiently responsive to control that the wearer may use it to assist in his movement over rough terrain while carrying normal combat equipment of the infantry."

The Army has been working on such a rocket belt for some time, but apparently a more ambitious one is needed.

Another problem: A device or process that would enable anyone to transform inedible materials, such as leaves, into food. The council said this could have broad application in an atomic war.

China Gobbles Indian Enclave

SRINAGAR, Indian Kashmir (AP)—Red China apparently has gobbled up a tiny Indian enclave 70 miles within the border of Tibet.

Menser, a mere dot on the sprawling land mass of western Tibet, has about 300 residents who by agreement paid the government of Kashmir $30 a year rent for the land they occupied.

But Kashmir has been able to collect the rent only twice since 1949, and Peiping has not replied to Indian protests.

Even before the Tibetan revolution this year, Red China generally avoided committing itself on ownership of Menser, whose allegiance to India reaches back into the misty history of Tibet-Kashmir relations.

Meanwhile, the Hindustan Times in New Delhi reported that Communist Chinese troops have occupied two more pockets of Indian territory on the borders of western Tibet.

The paper said Peiping's troops entered Uttar Pradesh of Garbhya and Bari Hoti Plateau. Uttar Pradesh is Prime Minister Nehru's home state.

Earlier, Nehru said Red troops apparently occupied two other small areas of Uttar Pradesh, and indicated they would be asked to withdraw. Both areas are inaccessible from India during the winter.

House Begins Its Housing Fight Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — The annual public housing battle starts today in the House, with a show-down vote scheduled for Wednesday and the outcome a toss-up.

Directly at issue is a Democratic-backed proposal to continue construction of government-subsidized public housing. This is opposed by the administration.

Caught in the crossfire, but not in controversy, is continuation of the Federal Housing Administration's home mortgage insurance program. The FHA has used up almost all of its current insurance authorization and soon may be forced to turn down all new applications for mortgage guarantees.

A 10 billion dollar increase in the insurance authorization is provided for in today's bill, drafted by a House Banking subcommittee headed by Rep. Albert Rains (D-Ala.).

But the Rains measure also includes other provisions opposed by most Republicans and some Democrats. It would provide authority for 1½ billion dollars for slum elimination and urban renewal projects, 400 millions for college housing, 100 millions for housing for the elderly, lower FHA down payments, and 140,000 new units of low-rent public housing.

A substitute measure drafted by Rep. A. S. Herlong (D-Fla.) and heavily backed by Republicans calls for liberalized FHA mortgage financing for the elderly, 100 millions for urban renewal grants for 1959 and 250 millions for each of the next two years, and no new public housing.

Supporters of the Herlong measure claim there still are more than 100,000 public housing units authorized but not yet started.

President Eisenhower has proposed a six-year $1,650,000,000 program consisting of $1,450,000,000 in urban renewal funds and 2 million for college housing.

The Senate has passed a bill that would cost more than either the Rains bill or Eisenhower's program.

The House will have its choice of the Rains bill or the Herlong measure or can alter either one to suit itself when the amendment stage is reached Wednesday.

Woman Claims Shark, But Others See A Barnacle

INDIAN ROCKS BEACH, Fla. (AP)—A shark or a barnacle? That seems to be the question at this resort community a few miles south of Clearwater.

Mrs. June Goldback said a shark attacked her while she swam at the beach yesterday. She suffered scratches on her foot, hand and thigh.

Beach residents scoffed at the shark story, but Bob Robinson of Muncie, Ind., had another story to tell. He said he saw the 37-year-old Milwaukee, Wis., woman struggling in the water and the fish swim away.

"I actually believe she would have been pulled under," he said, "if her mother hadn't come to the rescue."

Mrs. Clara Winkler, about 60, also of Milwaukee, was with her daughter at the time. She grabbed Mrs. Goldback's hand and helped pull her to safety.

"She had three small barnacle scratches," said Ed Whitnel, a motel owner. "I have seen many of them in my 36 years in Florida and I could not be mistaken."

The physician who treated Mrs. Goldback said he told her at the time the scratches "probably had been caused by barnacles."

Two men fishing from a boat caught two 4-foot sharks about 400 feet from the spot at which Mrs. Goldback was swimming. Their catch was made a few minutes after the attack was supposed to have occurred.

ONLY NEWSPAPERS SELL TOILETRIES FROM CHEMIST TO CUSTOMER

TOILETRY MANUFACTURERS spent over $34,000,000 in 1958 in newspapers to reach their millions of men and women customers. This kind of spending, year after year, helps to pay off handsomely for the toiletry business because, according to the Bureau of the Census, the industry's sales are highest ever.

Retailers of toiletries, too, know the value of steady, strong newspaper advertising on the local scene. They can easily see the effects—their sales of toilet preparations are up, also. Most local advertisers are firm believers in the retailers' number one medium, the Total Selling newspaper. That's why they invested an overwhelming $2,375,000,000 last year in newspapers—six times as much as in radio; nine times as much as in TV!

Put the combined national coverage and local impact of the Total Selling daily newspaper to work on your products. It sells goods—at all levels at the same time and in the same medium.

Revenues Up, But CRMWD's Expenses Show Big Gain, Too

Revenues increased 15 per cent but expenses went up 21 per cent for the Colorado River Municipal Water District through the first four months of the year. A year ago all the water going to Odessa was from the well fields; now it is being pumped from Lake J. B. Thomas, a distance of 90 miles and 600 feet uphill. That accounted for the increase of $52,000 in operating expense.

The April revenue fund report of the district shows $142,867 from sale of water (including $66,165 from Odessa, $29,836 from Big Spring, $39,394 from Snyder, $34,865 from oil repressuring units and $4,208 from rural users and installations.) Water sales for the year have reached $543,992, or $75,838 ahead of the first four months of last year.

Revenue from recreation amounted to $4,829 in April, making $33,369 from this source this year, up some $4,000 over the comparable period in 1958. Expenses aggregated $50,932 in April, making $202,127 for the year, compared with $155,666 for the first four months of last year.

Ike Tells Plans To Help Allies With Atom Weapons

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower advised Congress formally today of plans to help Britain and France develop atomic weapons and submarines. The President submitted agreements this country signed with those two nations May 7. The pacts will go into effect automatically in 60 days unless vetoed by both the Senate and the House.

The agreement with Britain, the only other Western nation now producing atomic weapons, provides for U.S. assistance in the military application of atomic energy. Details are not being made public. The United States agrees to sell France a quantity of enriched nuclear fuel for use in development of an atomic-powered submarine.

Flash Flood Hits St. Joseph, Killing 1; Damage Widespread

ST. JOSEPH, Mo. (AP)—A torrent of water up to 10 feet deep surged through St. Joseph's north side late Monday night after a cloudburst north of the city. One man drowned. Despite widespread damage, there were no reports of missing persons. The body of William M. Thomas was found four blocks from where the water swept him from his car. Property damage was tremendous, but no one would estimate the monetary loss immediately.

Merrill Chilcote, managing editor of the St. Joseph News-Press, who made a tour of the area, said "It's terrific. It's unbelievable how much damage could be inflicted in such a short time. It's a miracle no one else got it." The downpour on the north slopes of St. Joseph, a city of 79,000 population in northwestern Missouri, was measured at four inches in one hour. It was one of a series of thunderstorms which produced at least two tornadoes across the Missouri River in northeastern Kansas.

The flood smashed the windows of the big Green Hills supermarket just as eight clerks were closing the store. Trapped inside, they fled to the roof. Mrs. Glenn Case, wife of one of the clerks, arrived in a car to pick up her husband just as the water hit. She and her three small children were trapped in the car. Alfred Dougal, one of the clerks, reached the car and passed the woman and children up to the other men on the roof. Firemen took the 12 persons off the supermarket with an extension ladder. Some small houses along the railroad tracks floated off their foundations. Water was 10 feet deep in the Great Western freight house, and a number of the railroad's diesel locomotives were standing in the water.

Strauss Wins Panel's Okay For Ike Post

WASHINGTON (AP)—Lewis L. Strauss' nomination to be secretary of commerce won Senate committee approval today by a 9-8 vote. The committee action sends the nomination on to the Senate with a recommendation for approval. A Senate vote may come later this week. Three Democrats on the Commerce Committee joined with six Republicans to vote in favor of Strauss' nomination. Eight Democrats voted against confirmation.

Drought Back In Some Parts

AUSTIN (AP)—Drought conditions are returning to a portion of Texas, the State Board of Water Engineers says. Reduced stream flow and a drop in storage at reservoirs show a return to a drought north of a line from Del Rio to Austin to Texarkana, the board said yesterday.

The Dallas-Fort Worth area went through its driest April since 1937 and Amarillo and Wichita Falls recorded their ninth straight month of below normal rainfall, the monthly report said. The state's 34 major reservoirs dropped 56,480 acre feet to 7,990,930 acre feet. This is 78 per cent of capacity compared to 92 per cent in April 1958. The 350-foot Edwards limestone well at Uvalde rose slightly for the 20th consecutive month. The level in an observation well in El Paso declined 0.2 foot to 225.7 feet. A 703-foot limestone well near Buda declined 0.4 foot to 144.4 feet, about four feet higher than a year ago.

Dr. George W. Murphy, formerly of the Pruitt Chiropractic Clinic of Fort Worth, is now with Chiropractic Arts Clinic and K. L. Brady, D.C.

The addition of Dr. Murphy will enable the Clinic to increase its Chiropractic facilities and services to the public. The science of Chiropractic has enabled millions of sick people to regain their health. Below are listed some of the cases whose health has benefited through Chiropractic care at this Clinic.

No. 1905 — A thirty-eight-year-old lady came to Chiropractic Arts Clinic complaining of Migraine Headaches. She stated that the headaches had existed for the past 14 years, and that during the past two years they had increased to about three times a week. A spinal analysis disclosed defective function of the nerves of the spine to be the cause of the condition. Corrective adjustment removed the interference and the case was dismissed in a very short time with no further symptoms of the condition.

Headaches come in such a variety of types that it is difficult to write about them. Some indicate a liver-gall bladder ailment, others a stomach or kidney disease while others are of nervous origin. It's advisable that you investigate persistent headaches, especially into the cause. Our examinations at the Chiropractic Arts Clinic are always directed at the causative factor. Once the cause is determined and corrected, the effects vanish as suddenly as they came.

No. 1724 — A twenty-nine-year-old man came to Chiropractic Arts Clinic with a sinus condition. He said that he had it as long as he could remember. There was a post nasal drip, headaches, soreness in the face and eyes, watering of the eyes and a great deal of coughing and sneezing.

A spinal analysis of this case disclosed defective function of the nerves of the spine to be the cause of the condition. Corrective adjustment of this malfunction in the spine led to the correction of the cause and the case was released without his symptoms.

Sinus trouble is a condition which is caused by a malfunction of the nervous system, which may be caused by mis-alignment of the spinal column. You would do well to investigate the service of a Chiropractor in these cases. Our Clinic is located one block east of the VA Hospital, off Gregg St., where parking is no problem. Cal Farley Could Have Been Millionaire If He Were Selfish

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the second of three articles about Boy's Ranch, first project of its kind in the nation, and Cal Farley, the man who founded it to keep homeless boys out of reform schools.

By FINIS MOTHERSHEAD

AMARILLO (AP)—A single lifetime is too short for one of this country's foremost foes of juvenile delinquency to accomplish all he feels must be done.

"I wish I had 50 years more to live," says Cal Farley, who founded Boys Ranch. There he takes in erring youngsters when everybody else is ready to write them off as criminals.

More than 9 times out of 10 he and his co-workers succeed. It's a record which has brought steadily increasing appeals for help from juvenile authorities and despairing parents since Boys Ranch opened its doors 20 years ago this spring.

Hundreds have come to know Farley, 63, as a 5-foot-6 human dynamo whose fierce love for boys is matched only by his personal charm and super-salesmanship in winning support for the program.

Friends say he would be a millionaire if he had kept on working for himself. Instead he sold out a profitable business a dozen years ago and gives full time, without pay, toward "giving the kids a break."

Boys Ranch started with five boys and a cook. They set up operations 40 miles northwest of Amarillo on 120 acres donated by rancher Julian Bivins. The only building was an ancient stone courthouse at old Tascosa, a frontier days trading post on the Canadian River.

In two decades, Boys Ranch has returned 1,500 youngsters to society, taught to earn a living at some trade and resolved to build the kind of homes most of them never knew.

There are 251 at the ranch now, plus an adult staff of 45. There are three dozen buildings—dormitories, school, church, gymnasium, dining hall. It's a three million dollar plant with 1,200 acres at the headquarters and scattered other tracts given by people who share Farley's beliefs about how to raise boys.

"Within six years," Farley estimates, "we'll have at least 500 boys. That means we'll need more dormitories first of all, and the other facilities it takes to look after them. We'll get them, too." His technique is simple: Never ask directly for anything. Simply tell all who'll listen what is needed to do the job.

"If a man is able to help you, you can see him start figuring how to do it before you stop talking," he explains.

Only last week Farley told an oil company executive about a heating problem. During the coldest weather a two-inch pipeline from a gas well 7½ miles distant can't deliver enough fuel. Boys at the ranch double up while only half their dormitories are heated in order to maintain gas pressure.

The same oil firm gave the pipe and laid the original line to the ranch. Now a four-inch line is needed.

Next day the executive telephoned Farley from another city. "I've got the pipe for you," he said. "Let me know when you want us to deliver it."

Within the hour another oil company had promised to build the new line. Boys Ranchers won't have to double up to stay warm this winter.

That's how Boys Ranch was built, wholly through private gifts of cash, property, goods and personal services, and how it keeps expanding to accommodate additional boys.

Visitors find, often to their surprise, that these resources are funneled into making the place as unlike an institution as possible.

A boyhood in which he hungered for affection led Farley to shape this pattern. To Boys Ranch paid workers he constantly insists on a homelike atmosphere, firm but not harsh discipline—and above all, displays of love for their charges.

Farley was born Dec. 25, 1895, at Saxton, Iowa, and grew up on a farm near Elmore, Minn. He was one of six children whose quarreling parents found scant time to demonstrate much affection.

Cal, nicknamed "Shrimp," turned from an unhappy home to sports. Baseball became almost a passion. He also developed as a wrestler, employing deceptive speed and strength to dump bigger opponents.

During World War I he saw action as a soldier in seven major European battles, coming through without a scratch while men fell all about him.

Like Gene Tunney, a personal friend who later became heavyweight boxing champion, Farley gained fame as a wrestler among troops waiting to come home from France after the war. First he won the middleweight championship of the Allied Expeditionary Force. In the subsequent Inter-Allied Games, he switched to the welterweight division to add U.S. team balance and again took the title.

Back in this country he wrestled professionally with success but small profit and took advantage of a veteran's business college scholarship. His other formal schooling ended at the eighth grade. He also played semipro baseball and coached boys' teams in his spare time.

Faulty vision and overdeveloped wrestler's muscles thwarted his dream of playing major league baseball. He wound up here after a 1923 season in which his Amarillo club and the rest of a Class D league folded financially.

Heading For Australia

Stanley Yankus, the Dowagiac, Mich., poultry farmer who sold his farm after the government fined him $5,070 for growing too much wheat, changes trains in Chicago on his way to San Francisco. There he and his family boarded a ship for Australia where they will make their home. With Yankus are his wife, Mildred and children, Russell, Dennis and Karen. Yankus said he was glad to be going, but his wife and children didn't share his opinion.

Judge Sends Youths For Mental Check

NEVADA, Mo. (AP) — Circuit Judge Jack Pritchard is taking a new tack with juvenile offenders. He requires most of them to submit to mental and physical examination at State Hospital No. 3.

This has given certain pause to the set whose byword is — "crazy, man, crazy!"

"There isn't any doubt it's changed a lot of attitudes," said Darrell Estes Jr., chief of police in this southwest Missouri city and juvenile officer or Missouri's 26th Judicial Circuit.

Estes said he thinks Judge Pritchard's strategy will be as much a preventive as a remedy.

Pritchard, who will be 41 next month, is one of Missouri's youngest circuit judges. He started delving into the juvenile problem even before he took the bench last January.

His study of the state juvenile code turned up the section which authorizes a judge to order mental examinations for wayward youngsters.

"We're fortunate to have the state hospital right here in Nevada," Judge Pritchard said. "I checked with Dr. Paul Barone (the director) and his staff. They said they would be glad to help."

Judge Pritchard barely had taken his oath when a flurry of juvenile misdeeds in his southwest Missouri district gave him opportunity to put his new approach into operation.

It is too early for sweeping conclusions about how it is working. But Judge Pritchard and Chief Estes are encouraged by what it is doing for four boys.

Psychiatrists at State Hospital No. 3—Dr. Gerald G. Prideoaux and Dr. Don R. Swick among them, and Jerry Evans, a psychiatric social worker — decided there was a good chance to redeem the four boys. Judge Pritchard put them on probation in their own homes or in foster homes.

They are 14 and 15 years old. They stole cars for joyrides and got mixed up in fights. Two were second offenders. Two wore black motorcycle jackets, skin-tight jeans, boots and long hair. Boy No. 1 tested dull, 2 tested dull-normal, 3 bright normal and boy 4 upper average to bright.

Psychiatrists concluded all four boys needed work, supervision, discipline and the chance to make only rudimentary decisions for themselves.

Judge Pritchard set up rigid ground rules for their probation. Among other things, he ruled that they could not drive a car, drink intoxicants, skip school or be on the streets after 8 p.m. They must do chores at home and homework assigned at school.

The boys made their second monthly report to the judge Saturday.

"They seem to appreciate someone taking an interest in them," Judge Pritchard said. "We try to let them know we're here to help them. We're not just kicking them around. At the same time, we also let them know they've got to toe the line."

McElroy To Stay Indefinitely, Spikes Rumors That He'll Quit

WASHINGTON (AP) — Neil H. McElroy said today he will stay on indefinitely as secretary of defense.

McElroy made the announcement to newsmen at the White House with his new deputy, Thomas S. Gates Jr. standing at his side.

They had just conferred with President Eisenhower.

"I have suspended my plans for departure," McElroy said. "I don't know when I will be leaving, if at all."

Asked whether that means he intends to stay in the Cabinet indefinitely, McElroy replied that was the best way to put it.

Eisenhower Monday picked Gates, who is retiring as secretary of the Navy at the end of the month, to succeed the late Donald A. Quarles as deputy secretary of defense.

There had been speculation that Eisenhower had persuaded Gates to stay on at the Pentagon by telling him he is in line to take over behind McElroy. He had been planning to step out June 1 as secretary of the Navy.

Prior to Quarles' death McElroy had said several times that he wanted to leave his Cabinet post by the end of the year to return to private business.

Even in his statement today the defense chief did not rule out the possibility of his resigning before the end of Eisenhower's tenure in office.

He simply said that as of now he has suspended plans to leave. Gates had been planning to return to his investment banking business in Philadelphia.

As for his change of plans, Gates remarked with a smile: "I couldn't think of any reason not to do it, except that I didn't want to, and that wasn't good enough."

McElroy and Gates conferred with Eisenhower as McElroy got ready to leave later today or Wednesday to attend the Geneva foreign ministers conference.

Girl, 13, Heading For State School

A 13-year-old girl, who has been a thorn in the side of her parents and the juvenile officers for a long time, is back in the juvenile detention ward again.

This time, according to A. E. Long, juvenile officer, she will be sent to the Gainesville School For Girls. She and a 12-year-old companion, also well known to Long, were arrested on Sunday night. In addition to being out without permission of their parents, they are believed to have broken into the container on a newspaper vending machine.

Ed Carpenter, county judge, told Long he would dispose of the case Tuesday afternoon if county court business permitted.

DWI Defendant Wins Acquittal

Milford N. Nunn, accused of driving an automobile while intoxicated, was found not guilty by a jury in Howard County Court Monday afternoon.

The jury deliberated 40 minutes. It had heard the evidence in the case during the day. Nunn was the first defendant to go to trial at the current county jury docket.

Nunn had been arrested by highway patrol on Jan. 2 and charged with being intoxicated. He pleaded not guilty at the time and has been at liberty on bail since that date.

Prof Charged In Lad's Death

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — A college professor who threw a 6-year-old boy to the ground in a fit of rage has been charged with first degree manslaughter.

The charge was placed Monday after the boy, Michael Sorce, died at a hospital.

Charles J. Goebel, 28, assistant professor of physics at the University of Rochester, told police he became enraged when he saw the youngster pushing and teasing his son, George, 3, last Saturday.

Goebel said he raised the Sorce boy over his head and dashed him to the ground. A stick the boy was holding penetrated his head through the left eye.

"The stick in the boy's hand was the unforeseen circumstance," Goebel said. "I didn't know it was there."

"I know this thing makes me seem like a monster, but it was just an unhappy accident," he said. "There can be no doubt about how responsible I am for this and I'm sorry for what happened."

Goebel is free on $5,000 bail.

Eddie, Liz Sail Into French Port

CANNES, France (AP) — The Elizabeth Taylor-Eddie Fisher honeymoon yacht sailed lazily into Cannes early this morning with the newlyweds out of sight.

But the weather has turned gloomy on the French Riviera, and crewmen of the rented yacht Olrico said they would sail later today for Portofino, Italy.

The bride will miss a reunion with her three children in Nice. The children — by former husbands Michael Wilding and Mike Todd — will pass through the airport there Thursday en route to Italy. They may be reunited with mama there.

Negro Suspect Charged With Burglary Of Ray's Grocery

Leroy Heard, 34-year-old Negro whom officers had believed was the man involved in the strong arm holdup of R. E. McClure at the latter's service station last week, was charged with burglary in a complaint filed late Monday. The complaint was placed in the court of Justice Walter Grice. Heard, officers said, has admitted a series of burglaries, including three separate raids on Ray's Grocery in Big Spring, but emphatically insists he was not involved in the McClure holdup. McClure, who looked the prisoner over in a lineup, was unable to make any identification. The man who slugged him with a sack of empty cartridge shells and then squeezed him with a bear hug into grogginess, wore a silk stocking pulled over his head. The light was not good in the filling station grease room where the attack occurred and the interval that McClure had to see the attacker was brief.

The specific burglary with which Heard has been charged is one perpetrated on May 11 at Ray's Grocery.

Leo Hull, city detective, said the prisoner admitted he has served four terms in state penitentiaries.

Jury Forming For Woman's Trial

WICHITA FALLS (AP) — Selection of a jury continued today in the murder trial of pretty Betty Jo Marcella, 26, in the pistol slaying of her friend, Bill Pelley, 35.

Five male jurors including a state highway patrolman were seated yesterday.

Joe Goodwin, her Beaumont lawyer, questioned venemore about self defense and whether they would consider the woman's size as compared to that of Pelley. He died Feb. 20 with four bullet wounds in his head and body.

Miss Marcella, a demure appearing brunette, was once married but got her maiden name back. She has been living in Odessa.

Eldest, Toughest Of Crosby Boys Has Had Most Trouble

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Gary is the leader of the four Crosby brothers, and that helps to explain the kind of guy he is. "It was Gary who paved the way for us," explains his youngest brother Lindsay. "He took all the knocks and we profited from his experience."
Being the eldest, Gary was the first to learn what it was like to bear a famous name. "I remember how worried mother was during the kidnaping scare when I was going to grammar school," he says. "She insisted on having the chauffeur drive me to school every day. I was so embarrassed I had him let me out a block away from school and pick me up the same way. When she found out about it, she blew her top."
Gary, named for his Godfather Gary Cooper, managed to get through a succession of Catholic schools and military academies with little incident. Even at Stanford University, he was "one of the boys," an affable football player and beer drinker. But the picture changed when he entered the Army.
Speaking of his Army superiors, he says: "They have a way of getting to you with nasty digs and extra duty, just because you've got a famous name."
Gary is strong-willed, and he fought back. He looks back on his two-year hitch, largely as an entertaining experience. He is still taking treatment for nervous ailments he said he incurred during his service.

Learning from his experience, his three brothers avoided drawing any attention to themselves by entertaining in the Army. Lindsay was at Fort Ord more than a year before the brass learned of his identity. He was then requested to make special appearances, but he turned them down.

Observes Phillip: "Gary is the oldest of us, the most aggressive and extroverted. He's the boss and he's a fighter." Adds Dennis: "He has the most temper."
Sometimes the temper has flared, resulting in unpleasant publicity. Sometimes the temper has been held in check.

Gary was the first of the brothers to plunge into show business. They all had appeared with their father in films and on radio, but Gary first registered as a single by dueting with Bing on the hit record, "Sam's Song," which sold over 2 million.

He quit Stanford—to Bing's displeasure—and was enjoying success as a singer on his own until the Army took him. On his return, he was signed by Jerry Wald to appear in "Mardi Gras" and made a good impression. He has a contract with 20th Century-Fox and has made two more films, "Holiday for Lovers" and "A Private's Affair."

"Gary comes across as a good personality," Wald says. "He's not an actor yet, but he will be." Nearing 26, Gary lives in a four-room hillside home once inhabited by Howard Hughes. He dates the field of the good-looking chicks of Hollywood's younger set, and likes to party. This reputation has made him prey for the fun-seekers and led to an eviction from his apartment.

The incident brought about a schism between Gary and Bing. Gary is the only son who does not share cordial relations with his father. But the other brothers argue that the situation is not uncommon among strong-minded fathers and their first-born, especially if they're Irish. They feel sure the breach will be mended. "Gary and dad love each other more than they will admit," says Lindsay with quiet wisdom. "Gary would be the first to slug anyone who said anything against dad."

Self-Mutilation Cons' Way Of Making Protest

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP) — Eight tough, long-term convicts at a prison camp for incorrigibles chose self mutilation as a means of registering complaints Monday. State Prisons Director William Bailey said three cut off a part of their little fingers, and five injured themselves with sledge hammers.

"They wanted television, store privileges and they fussed about the food," Bailey said. The incident occurred at Ivy Bluff Camp in Caswell County. The men were brought to Central Prison Hospital here for treatment.

Only 35 to 40 men are confined at Ivy Bluff, a camp for convicts who fail to conform to prison regulations. The men work in a rock quarry, Bailey commented. "Men will do anything to get away from there."

Bailey said the State Bureau of Investigation will look into the matter. The three who cut off part of their little fingers were Henry Gilmore, 36, of Orange, Texas; Ralph Byers, 23, of Winston-Salem, N.C.; and Roy Anderson Jr., 18, of North Wilkesboro, N.C.

The other five were Glenn Hensley, 31, of Rt. 1, Asheville, N.C.; Wiley Cummings, 32, of Winston-Salem; Johnny Miller, 21, of Albemarle, N.C.; William Vaughn, 34, of Halifax, Va.; and John Kilbourne, 30, no address listed.

Asst. Prisons Director Robert Allen recalled that four inmates hit themselves with sledge hammers about a year ago, prompting an investigation into charges of mistreatment of prisoners at the camp. One of the men broke his leg.

The State Bureau of Investigation report gave no indication of mistreatment.

In Monday's incident, the men used a tool on the end of an electric drill to cut their fingers.

Two of the men, Vaughn and Hensley, are serving life for first degree murder. The others are serving various terms ranging to a maximum of 20 years.

Today's Weather Yesterday's Twin

By The Associated Press
Tuesday's Texas weather picture looked enough like Monday's to be its twin: windy, cloudy and dry with a possibility of showers. Forecasts call for afternoon and evening thundershowers in scattered areas all the way from East Texas to the Pecos Valley. Tuesday's dawn temperatures fell between 55 at Dalhart and 75 at Galveston.
