

Showdown Looms At Baptist Meeting

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
AP Religion Writer
LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — A showdown loomed today on whether Southern Baptists will stand for continued regulation by an outside accrediting agency of the way they run their theological schools.

The issue which touches a sensitive nerve in relationships among Protestants, was expected to go before the denomination's annual convention.

It stems from the intervention of the American Assn. of Theological Schools, an interdenominational accrediting body, in a longstanding dispute at Southern Baptist Theological Seminary here.

The seminary has been ordered to rectify certain conditions — or lose its accredited status.

In retaliation, the Rev. L. E.

Barrow of Montgomery, Ala., is pushing a move to get the convention to pull all six of its seminaries out of the association.

This would automatically cost them their standing with other theological institutions.

In contrast with Baptist leaders throughout the country, Barrow has maintained that outsiders have no business telling Southern Baptists how to conduct their affairs.

They have never belonged to such inter-church cooperative groups as the National and World Councils of Churches and Baptist Outcasts, their seminaries should not be subject to any "ecumenical organization."

Top leaders of the nine-million-member denomination, including President Brooks Hays, have opposed any walkout from the association, saying it would be a grave blow at Baptist academic prestige.

Seminary officials also have worked to correct the original problem, involving the mass firing last summer of 13 professors, in compliance with criticisms by the association.

One professor has been reinstated. The dismissal of the others has been rescinded, and they have resigned.

They had originally assailed the seminary administration of Dr. Duke K. McCall as high-handed.

Meanwhile, the 15,000 Baptist "messengers" and visitors from across the country heard several reports, including a warning that Christianity is not keeping abreast of growing population.

They registered strong approval of a plea by Hays for establishment of racial justice and elimination of discrimination.

"This is part of the Christian gospel, and we must demonstrate that we believe it," the former congressman from Arkansas said. "It is the mission field on our own doorstep."

A two-way race developed in the election of a successor to Hays, with Dr. Ramsey Pollard, Knoxville, Tenn., and a surprise Georgia candidate, the Rev. Dr. Roy O. McClain of Atlanta, leading a field of five in the first voting. A run-off vote was set Thursday.

Duke Invited To Give Data On Old Slaying

NASSAU, Bahamas (AP) — A Bahamas political leader says the Duke of Windsor should come to Nassau and reveal what information he has on the murder of Sir Harry Oakes more than 15 years ago.

The House of Assembly unanimously approved a resolution to ask Scotland Yard to renew investigation of the multimillionaire's killing.

Cyril Stevenson, who introduced the resolution, said he was surprised at the Assembly's action Tuesday and expected it to be thrown out.

"I feel it imperative that the Duke of Windsor come to Nassau to reveal information he has at his disposal concerning the murder," Stevenson said Wednesday. "It was the duke's bungling that was responsible for the investigation not being carried through."

Stevenson said that Raymond Schindler, an American detective, told him without doubt he could put his hand on the murderer who he said is a member of the Bay Street political party.

Sir Harry, who owned considerable Bahamas property and gold mines in other parts of the world, was found bludgeoned in his home July 8, 1942. His son-in-law, Count Alfred de Marigny, was charged with the slaying but was acquitted.

The Duke of Windsor was governor of the Bahamas at the time and hired veteran detectives to work on the case, which has never been solved.

De Marigny was ordered to leave the Bahamas and later his marriage to Nancy Oakes, heiress to an estimated 200 million dollars, was annulled. Both De Marigny and Nancy have since remarried.

Jury Acquits DWI Defendant

A Howard County Court jury deliberated 30 minutes Wednesday afternoon before returning a verdict acquitting Otis West of DWI charges.

The case was the last to be tried by a jury in the current county court criminal session. Judge Ed Carpenter excused the jury panel for the remainder of the week. Wayne Burns, county attorney, said that other cases docketed for trial Thursday and Friday will either be passed for the term or the defendant intends to enter a plea of guilty.

He said several such pleas would be heard on Thursday.

West was accused of driving an automobile while intoxicated in a complaint made by city police. He was arrested April 17 on a city street. The defense and the state both waived argument and the jurors began deliberating the case immediately after the judge had read his charge.

DEAR ABBY

LOW RESISTANCE

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am going with a fellow who says he loves me very much. Although he knows I won't go all the way he still tries to break down my resistance. I like him, Abby, but if he continues the way he has been doing, I don't know what I'll do. I've talked to him but it does no good. Is there any way I can get around this without losing him?

DEAR LIKE: Let's get one thing straight. A fellow who LOVES a girl does not encourage her to do something that is immoral, dangerous and degrading. If you lose him you'll be the luckiest girl in the world. Hold out for orange blossoms, honey. He's offering you poison ivy.

DEAR ABBY: I know a man who is 73 years old. He has 6 children all married and he stays alone. He wants me to go on a trip with him for a couple of months. I am 69 years old, a widow and all my children are grown and on their own. We are just a couple of old pals. There is no funny business going to happen. I would like to go but I'm afraid the gossips might think we were lovebirds. But we are both lonely and single so why not? What do you say, Abby? You're open-minded. ME

DEAR ME: I may be open-minded but I don't have holes in my head. "Old pals" don't take trips together for a couple of months unless they are married. If you think the gossips would regard you as "lovebirds" — you are cockoo.

DEAR ABBY: I live in an apartment and the boy upstairs always comes down and pesters me.

One night he dumped his purse all over the living room floor. I got mad. My mother wasn't home at the time. I couldn't hit him or anything because he is 14 and I am 12. If I went upstairs and did something like that to him he would break my arm. Give me some advice on what to say to him.

DEAR MAD: Tell him if he can't behave like a gentleman he isn't to come to your apartment. A girl shouldn't have to KNOCK a pesty neighbor out — she can LOCK him out.

DEAR ABBY: I am a happily married woman with two wonderful children. I love my husband dearly but I can't seem to control a very strong impulse to show my affection (deep affection) to doctors. The last doctor I went to was on my mind night and day. I would have given anything to have kissed him just one time. This feeling has been going on for years about different doctors I've had. I've tried to fight it, believe me, but I can't help myself. Would you please help me, Abby? I don't know what to do.

ing gratitude, respect, hero-worship and a little of the old-fashioned school-girl crush with "deep affection." There are many fine WOMEN practicing medicine. Consult one.

T&P Orders 250 Boxcars

DALLAS (AP)—Directors of the Texas and Pacific Railway Co. yesterday ordered construction of 250 50-foot steel box cars in 1960 in the company's shops at Marshall.

Dividends of $1.25 per share on common stock and one and one-quarter per cent on preferred, payable June 30, were voted.

Hoffa Denies Strike Threat

HOUSTON (AP)—Teamsters Union President James Hoffa denied Tuesday he had threatened a nationwide strike in reprisal for proposed restrictive labor laws.

He told the Houston Chronicle that accounts of his speech in Brownsville Monday were "distortions of the truth." He said there is "no threat of a nationwide Teamsters' strike whatever."

The Associated Press reporter at the Brownsville meeting, Whitey Sawyer, said however he quoted Hoffa correctly. Sawyer said he talked to Hoffa after the Brownsville meeting and the union president then repeated the threat.

Daily newspapers in the Lower Rio Grande Valley, working independently, carried virtually the same wording.

Hoffa, addressing a convention of longshoremen at Brownsville, was quoted by the AP as saying in reference to restrictive labor laws: "The only answer is that if such a law is passed, we should have all of our contracts end on a given date. They talk about a secondary boycott. We can call a primary strike all across the nation that will straighten out the employers once and for all."

In the Rio Grande Valley, the McAllen (Texas) Monitor said Hoffa proposed that all contracts be written to expire on the same date. The Monitor quoted Hoffa as adding: "Then if we have to, we could call one solitary strike throughout the United States to tie up all employers across the nation at one time."

Strike Vote

NEW YORK (AP)—Non-professional workers at six hospitals have voted overwhelmingly — 1,784 to 14 — to continue their 14-day-old walkout in a bid to win union recognition.

8 Texans Among Capitol Cops; Job Mainly In Helping Tourists

By TEX EASLEY
AP Special Service

WASHINGTON (AP)—The 200-man police force which patrols the Capitol and adjacent office buildings contains eight Texans.

The Capitol cops, not connected with the Washington Metropolitan police force, seldom have occasion to handle crime. The men pack pistols and are ready for trouble but their job largely is one of directing tourists.

Chet Coutant, originally from New York but now a legal resident of Corsicana, holds down an information desk in the House wing of the Capitol.

"We're asked every question imaginable," he commented. "Many want to know where they can find the President's office. After telling them the President seldom comes up to the Capitol, we mention that they can take guided tours of the buildings."

At present one of the most common questions is why the big east front of the Capitol has been torn down.

"It's been in the newspapers all over the country that the front is being extended," he added, "but for some reason an awful lot of people never heard of it."

Many foreigners ask how laws are made, he said, and the English are fond of comparing their Parliament to Congress. Most all home state, and Texans seem to take extra pride in it, he added.

Coutant is married to the former Jean Delaney, who was born and reared in Corsicana and has just returned from a visit there to undergo an operation. They have a son, Paul Edward, 5.

Jim Wheeler of Glenwood, near Gilmer, is another Texan holding down a spot in the Capitol where tourists continually cluster.

He has worked the Senate side for years, and now is stationed outside the Senate disbursing office, near the old Supreme Court Chamber. He has a son named Lyndon, after—whom else?—Sen. Lyndon Johnson (D-Tex.).

Stationed outside the House "Sergeant-at-Arms" office, the "bank" for all House members and employees, is John Keesee of Sonora. On the force since 1942, he is nearing retirement.

Oldest of all the Texans is Archie S. (Buck) Rodgers, 76, a native of Wood County. He could retire but doesn't want to.

Buck gained some fame a few years ago when a group of Puerto Ricans fire shots in the House Chamber and wounded some congressmen. As the Puerto Ricans fled Rodgers pursued and caught two of them.

Newest among the Texans on the force is Jack Elliott of Galveston, 21. He also attends George Washington University. He helps patrol automobile traffic in front of the Capitol, and does what he can to placate unhappy tourists unable to find parking places.

A prime requirement for a Capitol hill cop is to know how to deal with families or friends of congressmen who may expect special treatment.

About half the force is composed of young men studying law, medicine and other professions. At least two are studying for the ministry at Episcopal Seminary in nearby Alexandria, Va.

Juan Ramirez of Tioga is studying at Georgetown University. Other Texans on the force are Clark Eubank Finks, Dallas, and Jimmy Gage, Denton.

Negroes Hit Race Bars In Texas Schools

DALLAS (AP)—Negro attorneys have asked federal courts to require immediate integration of schools in Dallas and Houston.

Dist. Judge Ben Connally set the Houston request on his docket for Monday. The Dallas request, filed here while Judge T. Whitfield Davison was holding court in Fort Worth, must be sent to Davidson before he can set a hearing date.

Attorneys, including chief counsel Thurgood Marshall of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People, asked that the Dallas school board be ordered to comply with an April 16, 1958, integration order.

The Houston petition asked Connally to require integration on the basis of a two-year-old order calling for schools to be integrated "with all deliberate speed."

Houston, with 157,000 students, has the largest enrollment in Texas and the largest segregated school system in the nation. Dallas has the second largest enrollment in the state.

The Houston motion came exactly two years after Connally issued his "all deliberate speed" order. The action followed a four-day hearing on the request of parents of two Negro children who had been refused admission to all-white schools.

The same parents—Marion Williams, father of Beneva Williams, 14, and Mrs. Mary Alice Benjamin, mother of Delores Ross, 9—had yesterday's motion filed in their behalf.

The petition asks Connally to rule that the constitutional rights of the children—and all other children in similar situations—are being violated.

It also asks that the school board be ordered to allow them to enter, matriculate and study in Houston public schools.

Dr. Henry A. Peterson, Houston school board president, said desegregating schools "immediately or by the first of September, as I presume they are urging, would be disastrous both to the colored schools and to the public schools system."

Badgers Champion Natural Fighters

ROCKPORT (AP)—Badgers, which inhabit some of the more arid sections of Texas, don't come very big, but they are considered the heavyweight champions although fighting at bantam-weight size.

If surprised by man too far from their own hole, the animal digs in. A geyser of dirt spouts into the air as the beast's front paws rip away the soil. And in a very short time, Mr. Badger has disappeared from view.

The holes thus made do not endanger him to cowhands and ranchers. For many a horse has stuck his foot in such a hole and turned a double flip while his rider flew without wings.

Rarely weighing more than 14 or 15 pounds, they're built like tanks, wide and close to the ground. While ordinarily deliberate enough in their movements, they are fast when they get started.

In past years, badger baiting was a favorite sport, and the animals were in great demand for this. A special breed of dog, the Dachshund, was developed to enter the holes and rout them out. Once the badger was captured, it was pitted against dogs of the various breeds and was ordinarily an odds on favorite.

There were a number of reasons for this. Badgers go into battle with a high courage that few animals can equal and none surpass. Next, their sturdy, muscular build and remarkably heavy body for their size make it almost impossible for a dog to upset one and obtain a throat hold.

Add to this is the fact that they are equipped with a pair of jaws joined by a peculiar ball-and-socket joint that allows them to lock. When this happens, the only way to dislodge one is to wrench it free, taking flesh with it.

Badgers have four paws tipped with claws like razors, and is protected with a loose, flexible skin that seems too large for it. This is covered with a coarse dense mat of grizzled fur, through which an enemy's teeth can hardly penetrate.

When attacked, the tough little fighter merely rolls around in his skin until he can lock on with his jaws and then, with slashing claws, rip and tear in a paroxysm of fury.

Badgers were once much valued for their silvery gray fur, grizzled with black, which was used for shaving brushes, bringing as much as $85 a pound.

At one time, speculators even tried to farm badgers but the beasts' voracious appetites soon put a stop to that. It cost too much to feed 'em.

H-P Bard Group Off On A Tour

FORT WORTH (AP)—A college group which plans to present Shakespeare "Western style" in Europe was on its way to New York today.

here yesterday by rail. They will sail May 25 for England.

The group, headed by Alex Reeve, member of the college faculty, will present "A Mid-Summer Night's Dream" while costumed in Western garb such as blue jeans, boots and wide-brimmed hats.

They plan to perform eight weeks in British theaters, including an opera house in North Hampton, England, managed for 14 years by Reeve.

Dragster Convicted Of Manslaughter

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP)—A teenage drag racer accused of causing a traffic accident that killed three persons was convicted of manslaughter Wednesday.

Robert Clarence Fennewald, 18, was sentenced to a year in jail and fined $1,000 in Circuit Court.

Witnesses said Fennewald was racing at speeds of more than 100 miles an hour last Nov. 23 in North St. Louis just before the accident. They said he forced the car he was racing into the wrong lane, where it collided with another car.

BEING LAST NOTHING NEW TO C. STENGEL

By ED WILKS
AP Sports Writer

KER-PLUNK*
The Yankees are last. The club that has won nine American League pennants and seven world championships in 10 years is in the cellar.
You have to go back to May 25, 1940, to find a set of standings that shows the New York Yankees, too, were world champions. They had won four consecutive World Series, and had swept the Chicago Cubs and Cincinnati in four straight in 1938 and 1939.
Yet that New York Yankee club too was last. By Aug. 9 it still was only a 500 team 51-51, and while it finished fifth consecutive pennant by three.

Kennedale Ace Is Signed To HC Athletic Letter

Charles Knotts of Kennedale team. Basketball is his only sport. Coach Harold Davis revealed he expected to sign a couple of more high school seniors in the next few days.
Knotts is no relation to Jim Knotts, one of the all-time greats in HCJC cage history, who is now coaching high school ball in Louisiana.
Kennedale is located southeast of Fort Worth in Tarrant County.
Knotts lettered for four years at Kennedale, a Class B school, and captained the team in scoring last season, scoring 589 points, for an average of 23 points a game. He was named to the all-state

Eight Teams Set For Church Loop

Eight teams are ready to go in the YMCA Church Softball league but some of those still need to pay entry fees. The fees are $24 per team. The money should be in the Y office by Friday.
The eight teams lined up for the league will represent the Salvation Army, Baptist Temple, Park Methodist, Wesley Methodist, West Side Baptist, College Baptist, First Baptist and East Fourth Baptist.
Play officially gets under way June 1. The teams will use the City Park diamond on Mondays and Thursdays, according to present plans.

100,000 May View Winged Foot Play

By FRANK ECK
MAMARONECK, N. Y. (AP)—Par is being tightened on a tough 72 to a more rugged 70 for the National Open championship at the Winged Foot Golf Club. However, some fairways are being widened, which is a change from the narrow approaches familiar with previous USGA events.
Six holes will be tightened in width, but none drastically. Four holes will offer more room for those lucky enough to qualify for the June 11-13 world series of golf. Four holes will be about the same as Winged Foot members have been playing them. Four other holes will be tightened on one side but widened on the other for a more dog-legged effect.
Many of the holes must be narrowed for the Anderson Memorial best-ball tournament a month after the Open, points out Gus Benedict, Winged Foot tournament chairman.

The back breaking holes — the 468-yard ninth and the 452-yard 15th—are normal par 5s for club members. These have been reduced to par 4s for the Open but because of their length, officials felt added driving room would be necessary.
The edges of all fairways have been cut to two inches deep six feet in from the rough. They will be maintained that way for the Open. The rough will be four inches deep. There will be no hay-fields, officials point out. In other words the professionals who form the largest part of the Open field may not be able to come up with that old saw:
"And there I was, after my ball hit a spectator, knee deep in the rough."
All holes will be completely roped off with almost 12 miles of new colored nylon ropes. More than 2,500 iron stakes will be used. This procedure was used at Tulsa last year when touchy Tommy Bolt won the marbles.
Sixteen of the 18 holes will have dual corridors within the ropes for the progress of spectators. The 12th and 17th will have no alleys but both holes offer plenty of vantage points.
Space will be provided for 12,000 cars and since this is the first Open in the New York area since 1954 — Baltusrol at Springfield, N. J.—a three-day gallery of close to 100,000 is a possibility. The New England Thruway and Hutchinson

Minneapolis Nears Lead In League

By The Associated Press
Minneapolis beat Indianapolis 7-6 in the American Association Wednesday night to pull within one game and a half of the league-leading Indians.
St. Paul beat Charleston 6-3 to stay out of the league basement. 10-2 lead in the first five innings, then went on to defeat Houston 10-7.
Rain postponed the Louisville doubleheader at Denver and wind and rain stopped Dallas at Omaha. Dallas led 4-1 at the top of the fifth. The game will be replayed from the start later.
Red Robbins hit a pinch single to send Art Schult home from second in the ninth inning to give Minneapolis the victory over Indianapolis.
Al Lary was credited with his fifth straight victory and his sixth of the year as the Fort Worth Cats hung on to beat Houston.

Pilot Struck Barracks To Avoid Town

ASHIYA AIR BASE, Japan. (AP)—The American pilot whose crippled transport plane crashed into a U.S. Air Force barracks Wednesday had banked the wrong way to avoid a Japanese town of 30,000 people.

The pilot and six other American servicemen died in the crash. Another airman was reported missing, and 13 were injured.

The pilot who spared the nearby town of Ashiyamachi was the only fatality among the eight men aboard the giant turboprop C130.

The other seven escaped with slight injuries. The other casualties were men in the barracks.

The two-story, E-shaped barracks, housing 225 men but almost deserted at meal time, was leveled.

The 24-million-dollar transport, coming in from Iwo Jima with one of its four turboprop engines dead, apparently approached too far down the runway and was rising for another try when it went out of control.

"The pilot in the usual flight pattern would have turned to the right when attempting to make another landing," said an operations officer, but this pilot turned left. He did it to avoid Ashiyamachi.

The plane crunched into the barracks, spewed exploding gasoline through the building, floundered briefly in the air, and then hit the ground in flames, 100 feet beyond.

Names of the dead were withheld.

Lightning Hits House, Ups Storm Damage

Lightning was blamed for the destruction of one house and heavy damage to a second home in the San Antonio area Wednesday night and early Thursday as a thunderstorm ripped San Antonio.

The city caught an official .06 of rain, but unofficial reports of up to 1 1/2 inches came from the surrounding area.

Earlier Wednesday, high winds smashed a building under construction in Abilene and a tornado was reported to have ripped the roof of a "pig parlor" on a farm near Clyde as a line of thunderstorms moved through wide sections of West Texas.

Skies remained cloudy over most of the state Thursday and forecasts call for thunderstorms and occasional thunderstorms just about everywhere in West and North Central Texas.

Lightning hit the home of Mrs. W. D. Scott, a widow who lives a few miles south of San Antonio, shortly after her son, Robert D. Scott, came to take her to his home for the night. Scott told officers he felt uneasy about his mother, who lives alone, when he saw the storm approaching.

Damage was estimated at $6,000. A bolt of lightning described by neighbors as a fireball which "drifted into the side of the house" of San Antonio College Professor James D. Bennett caused an estimated $5,500 damage when it set fire to the two-story home in North San Antonio. Bennett and his family were away from home.

In Abilene, wind toppled one wall and heavily damaged a second wall of a building being built to house the Woodlock Furniture Co. Damage was estimated at $3,000.

Clarence Milliron reported seeing a small tornado dip down and rip the roof from the "pig parlor" on the Tommy Milliron farm near Clyde Wednesday afternoon. Milliron said the twister lifted without injuring any of the hogs inside the structure.

High winds stirred up dust clouds, blew down television aerials and damaged barns.

Thunderheads were reported from Mineral Wells to Junction, but little rainfall came out of the vicious-looking skies. A severe weather alert posted for the Panhandle Wednesday afternoon expired at 7:30 p.m. with no storms reported.

Otherwise, the state had a pleasant day. Temperatures climbed to 102 at Laredo, 101 at Presidio and 100 at Cotulla. The low maximum was 85 at Big Spring, Galveston, Corpus Christi and El Paso.

Temperatures at dawn Thursday ranged from 50 at Dalhart to 79 at Brownsville.

Ford Wins Race For Small Car Name

NEW YORK (AP)—Ford Motor Co. has won a race with Chrysler Corp. in naming its new small car the Falcon just 20 minutes before Chrysler tried to get it.

Neither company knew the other was interested in the name. Both had asked the Automobile Manufacturers Assn. to look into the availability of the name. While Chrysler was making its final decision, Ford called in and registered the name.

The Chrysler car will be called the Valiant, while General Motors plans a small car labeled the Corvair. All three cars, to meet competition of imported and American economy cars, go on the market this fall.

All Work, Low Pay Makes Jack Dizzy

DURHAM, N.C. (AP) — A specialist on problems of the aged says there may be a link between dizziness and income. Dr. Juan A. Pons told a seminar on old age here Tuesday that 54 per cent of a test group of 200 volunteer subjects, all 60 or over, complained of frequent dizziness. He found that sex, race and age had little or no relationship to the ailment. But he did note that more people in low income brackets suffered from dizzy spells than those who had earned more money.

Dr. Pons, former secretary of health for Puerto Rico and now a senior fellow in geriatric psychiatry at Duke University, said many people in the low income group were plagued by insecurity feelings and financial problems throughout their lives.

He also said those who complained of dizziness tended to be worriers about their health, and were sick more often than those free from dizziness.

Honoring Their 'Boss'

James Perdue, left and Leo Hare, both of Big Spring, sign a scroll which will be presented to Mrs. Nannie L. Baird on her 90th birthday. Mrs. Baird, founder of the baking organization which bears her name, will be 90 Saturday, May 23. Perdue and Hare serve grocers in the Big Spring area for Mrs. Baird's.

Famed Bread-Maker Faces 90th Birthday

FORT WORTH—On Saturday, May 23, in Fort Worth, a birthday is being celebrated—the 90th birthday of Mrs. Nannie L. Baird, whose career proves once again that America rewards the old-fashioned virtues of courage, determination and devotion.

Not that this unassuming woman considers herself remarkable. She is much more likely to talk about her four sons and three daughters, her 23 grandchildren, 43 great-grandchildren and two great-great-grandchildren than about the fact that the baking business she started in her home kitchen has grown to be the largest independently owned baking business in the nation.

Her neighbors had always praised the bread she baked. So in 1908 Mrs. Baird, using her own wood-burning range, started baking bread to sell. Her children helped her, the two oldest boys delivering the still-warm loaves in baskets to their customers.

More people wanted the loaf they were calling Mrs. Baird's Bread, so a larger range was bought. Later a little bakery was built in the back yard of the Baird home, and a horse-drawn wagon was bought to make deliveries. As the sons grew to manhood it became obvious that the demand for the kind of bread Mrs. Baird baked called for volume baking facilities.

First one large bakery was built, then others, until today there are five great modern bakeries turning out Mrs. Baird's Bread and cakes in key Texas cities. Every step of their operations is personally supervised by Mrs. Baird's sons and their sons, all trained in Mrs. Baird's own tradition: To bake an even better loaf tomorrow than the one baked today.

As chairman of the board of Mrs. Baird's Bakeries, Mrs. Nannie Baird still keeps a watchful eye on the product that has made her name a household word across the broad expanse of Texas. She will take time out Saturday to receive a scroll signed by 1,500 admiring employees to mark her 90th birthday, while Texas and the nation applaud this woman who built her baking skill and her motherly determination into a great business enterprise.

AF Expert Urges Runway Clearing

HOUSTON (AP) — Residences and assembly halls should be banned in areas four miles wide by seven miles long at the end of jet-age airport runways, an Air Force official said yesterday.

S. Richard Rio, assistant deputy chief of the air base planning division, told a conference sponsored by the American Society of Civil Engineers residents of cities served by jet aircraft need to be protected from noise.

He said the Air Force has adopted the controlled area plan in selecting sites for its bases.

Paris Hit By Raging Blaze

PARIS (AP)—This North Texas city surveyed the damage today from its second major fire in three months. A raging blaze last night gutted the Ayers Department Store and damaged three other firms.

Two firemen suffered minor injuries.

Damage was estimated at $250,000.

The fire, discovered shortly before 10 p.m. in the Ayers store, roared out of control for more than two hours as firemen from Paris and Camp Maxey fought to keep it from spreading.

Fire trucks from Hugo, Okla., 26 miles north of here, were called, but the fire was under control when they arrived.

The Ayers firm is one of the city's oldest and largest. Firemen credited firewalls with saving other businesses along the north side of the plaza.

Beal Brothers dry goods firm damage. Lighter damage was reported to a jewelry store, drug store and Woolworth firm.

The fire drew a crowd estimated at 1,500.

City fireman Alton Roten was overcome by smoke and volunteer fireman C. B. Woods suffered a cut hand.

A brisk wind hampered efforts to control the fire and threatened to spread it through the business district. Flames leaped an estimated 50 feet into the air when the roof of the Ayers store collapsed.

The stores are across the plaza from the scene of a March blaze which did an estimated $300,000 damage to the S. H. Kress store and two other businesses.

Plant Razed

HOUSTON (AP)—Fire destroyed the 40,000-square-foot plant of Perlfoam Inc. yesterday. Twelve firemen received minor injuries, but 50 employees escaped injury.

Power Of U. S. Turned Onto Rackets; Kingpins Arrested

NEW YORK (AP)—The power of the federal government today was turned upon the notorious 1957 underworld convention at Apalachin, N.Y., with 27 delegates indicted on charges of conspiring to balk probes of it.

Arrests of the defendants quickly got under way. Many already were in trouble, and some in jail, as a result of refusal to answer questions of various investigatory agencies previously.

The crackdown was the result of nearly a year's effort by a special crime-busting agency set up by the U.S. attorney general's office, with teams of agents working across the nation.

The Apalachin delegates came from many cities, and authorities since have been struggling to peg its purpose. The general opinion is that it was for tightening or altering control over a vast empire of rackets.

All 63 persons who attended the conclave were named in the indictment but only 27 as defendants.

The remaining 36 were tabbed as coconspirators. A federal spokesman said a person named a coconspirator but not a defendant is someone who had a connection with one or more defendants in a case but whose activities did not warrant an indictment. Occasionally coconspirators agree to aid or testify in behalf of the prosecution.

The latter possibility seemed remote in this instance.

If convicted of conspiring to obstruct justice, as charged in the indictment, the 27 defendants could receive five-year prison sentences and $10,000 fines each.

The indictment had been returned on May 13 but was kept sealed until 7:30 a.m. today.

Agents of the Federal Bureau of Narcotics were said to have begun arresting defendants at 6 a.m.

Some claimed those in attendance were top echelon figures of the Mafia, the notorious underworld society spawned in Sicily many years ago.

Participants in the gathering either refused to talk about it or claimed it was nothing more than an expression of friendship for the host, Joseph L. Barbara Sr., ill with a heart ailment.

He said that attending physicians were well pleased with response to treatment at the hospital.

Seven of those who attended have been held in jail here several months for refusal to answer questions of state crime probes. A eighth recently obtained freedom on appeal.

In the federal indictment, Barbara was named as a coconspirator, but not a defendant.

Three of the defendants, Joseph Profaci of Brooklyn, Pasquale Turrigiano of Endwell, N.Y., and Joseph Magliocco of Brooklyn, also were accused of perjury.

Other defendants were: Joseph Bonanno, Tucson, Ariz.; Russell A. Bufalino, Pittston, Pa.; Ignatius Cannone, Endwell; Paul C. Castellano, Brooklyn; Joseph F. Civallo, Dallas, Tex.; Frank Cucchiara, Watertown, Mass.; Antonio de Marco, Shaker Heights, Pa.; A. De Simone, Downey, Calif.

Cosden Suits Seek SEC Clarification

What was described as a "friendly" suit for clarification of certain Securities Exchange Commission regulations was filed in the U. S. District Court in Abilene Wednesday by Cosden Petroleum Corporation against two of its principal officers.

Named in companion cases were R. L. Tollett, president, and Marvin M. Miller, senior vice president. The suits are for recovery of certain profits held to have been made by the two in acquisition and sale of Cosden stock—shares granted through the company's stock option program.

A Cosden spokesman said the SEC Act of 1934 held that profits bought and sold on short term basis by a corporation's officers and directors, under certain conditions, should accrue to the corporation. A later SEC ruling, however, excepts stocks issued under qualified option plans.

There have been some other suits brought affecting status of such stock sales, it is understood, but as yet no final court decision has been handed down. The Cosden action, officials said, is an attempt to arrive at a final clarification.

The Abilene litigation involves stock purchases and sales made by Tollett and Miller in May and June of 1958, and cites profits to Tollett of $115,567, and to Miller of $42,581. Separate but identical suits were filed against the two company officials.

Day Camp Registration Under Way

Registrations are being sought for the Indian Guide and other YMCA day camps, and a special registration meeting has been called for 7:30 p.m. today at the Y.

Everett Taylor, program director who will be in charge of the day camps, said that details of the camp operations, schedules, etc., will be explained at this evening's session. Parents, who cannot make the meeting are asked to register their boys prior to the May 29 deadline.

The first period will be from June 1-12 for Indian Guides only. Then from June 15-26, all boys in grades 1-3 will be eligible, and from June 29-July 6, boys in grades 4-6 will be served. The fee is $12 for boys who are members of a Y activity, or $13 for non-members. This includes all program materials, transportation, swimming, soft drink and dessert each day, counselling. Boys will take a sack lunch daily.

Entertaining Friends At Supper Is This Businesswoman's Forte

They say the modern American businesswoman is a marvel of efficiency, competence and composure. She not only keeps the wheels of her office running smoothly; she budgets her time and energy so that her home is spotless and a haven for assorted hobbies. Extending hospitality to friends is a real joy to her, regardless though her schedule be.

Well, not every businesswoman is so well organized. But exemplifying the ideal is someone like Mrs. Nina Carter.

After a day's work as business manager for the Big Spring Theatres, she goes to her duplex at 508 1/2 Scurry to make ready for any number of possibilities. Perhaps there is to be a meeting with the Lydia Circle at First Christian Church; she is service chairman for the group. Or maybe it is choir practice night. Or it's time for a meeting of the Christian Women's Fellowship, of which she is secretary-treasurer.

Perhaps the New Idea Sewing Club is to assemble. Sometimes it's simply to be a quiet, restful evening at home with Brother, her yellow cat whose Persian ancestry shows only in the winter, pre-shedding days.

Then again, maybe Mrs. Carter is having a few friends in for dinner. Informal entertaining is her specialty and she is adept in the cooking department. Unlike many people who live alone, she cooks with an eye on proper diet rules. Since she works, she is alert for recipes that are easily concocted and prepared in advance. Such are the quartet which she shares with the Herald readers today.

It is easy to visualize the delight of supper guests as they feast on her Perfection or Yum Yum Salad, accompanied with crisp cheese wafers. Shrimp Jambalaya is also an exotic and inviting main dish for company. The centerpiece will probably be from Mrs. Carter's own garden, for her friends declare she owns a green thumb. When the evening is over, none will have enjoyed the social respite more than the hostess. And that is, after all, the acid test of a party's success.

Add these interesting recipes of hers to your own culinary portfolio.

PERFECTION SALAD

1 pkg. lemon gelatin
2 cups hot water
1/2 tsp. salt
2 tps. vinegar or lemon juice
1 cup finely shredded cabbage
1 cup diced celery
1 cup pineapple chunks
2 pimientos, cut in small pieces
Mix gelatin and water. Add salt and vinegar and allow mixture to cool. Add celery, pineapple, cabbage and pimiento; pour into mold that has been coated with salad dressing.

YUM YUM SALAD

Heat 2 cups crushed pineapple. Add juice of 1 lemon and 3/4 cup sugar. Stir until sugar is dissolved. Stir in 2 tablespoons gelatin which has been soaked in 1/2 cup cold water for 10 minutes. When mixture is cool and beginning to set, add 1 cup grated American cheese. Put in mold and leave until firm. Dress with a mixture of 2 tablespoons finely chopped green pepper and 2 tablespoons finely chopped celery, added to 1/2 cup salad dressing. Serves 12.

CHEESE WAFERS

1/2 lb. Old English cheese
2 1/2 cups sifted flour
1 tsp. salt
2 tps. red pepper
1 cup chopped nuts
Cream together the oleo and cheese. Mix remaining ingredients with the cheese, and form in long rolls about the size of half dollar. Wrap in waxed paper and refrigerate overnight. Slice in 1/4 in. waters and bake in 350 degree oven for 12 or 15 minutes.

SHRIMP JAMBALAYA

1/4 cup butter
1/4 tsp. garlic salt
1/4 cup chopped onion
1/4 cup chopped green pepper
2 1/2 cups canned tomatoes
1/4 tsp. salt
1/4 tsp. ground thyme
1/4 tsp. paprika
2 cups diced cooked ham
1/4 lb. fresh shrimp, shelled, cleaned and deveined.
1 1/2 cups well seasoned meat broth or bouillon
1 cup uncooked white rice
Melt butter in a 2 quart sauce pan. Add garlic salt and onion, and cook over low direct heat for 2 to 3 minutes, stirring occasionally. Remove from heat. Add green pepper, tomatoes and seasonings. Return to low heat and cook about 10 minutes, stirring occasionally. Add ham, shrimp, broth and rice. Bring to a boil, then cover and cook over low direct heat for 30 minutes or until rice is tender. Makes four servings.

Potato Pancakes

For a quick top-of-the-range supper try your hand at making potato pancakes; serve with crisp bacon and applesauce. Speed is all important in making potato pancakes — get busy on the griddle the moment the potatoes are grated and mixed with the batter.

Old-Fashioned Chicken Salad Can't Be Beat

By CECILY BROWNSTON
AP Newsfeatures Food Editor

Hungry for the taste of old-fashioned chicken salad — that delight of box suppers, Sunday school picnics and ladies' club meetings?

Then first find yourself a plump bird, cover with water and cook it well. When the bird is ready, dismember tenderly so you have large juicy chunks of meat.

Cut the chicken into healthy bite-size pieces and add diced celery, that's all. No grapes, no water chestnuts, no pineapple, no parsley, no chives, no almonds, no apple or orange; these are new-fangled additions and right now we've got our hearts set on the original standby.

Dress your chicken and celery with old-fashioned boiled dressing. Fannie Farmer's first cookbook allowed a garnish of only hard-boiled eggs, capers and pickles, but we feel it doesn't hurt to garnish with romaine, radishes and cucumber.

Perfect accompaniment to this salad is crisp Melba toast. Originating in Victorian times, nowadays it comes in neat packages in white, rye or wheat varieties with plenty of crunch. Choose small round melbas and count only 9 calories per piece; or help yourself to a real slice and still count only 16.

OLD-FASHIONED BOILED DRESSING

2 tbsps. flour
3 tbsps. sugar
2 tps. dry mustard
1/2 tsp salt
Cayenne pepper
1-3 cup cider vinegar
1/2 cup water
4 egg yolks
1 tsp. butter

In the top of a double boiler stir together thoroughly the flour, sugar, mustard, salt and a dash of cayenne. Gradually add vinegar and water; blend well, stirring until smooth after each addition. Cook over hot (not boiling) water, stirring constantly until thickened.

Pour half of the mixture into the slightly beaten yolks stirring to blend. Stir this mixture back into the rest in the double boiler. Cook, stirring until the mixture is thick enough to mound. Remove from heat and stir in the butter or margarine. Cover and cool.

Store in the refrigerator; if necessary, thin, when using, with a little light cream or evaporated milk. Makes about 1 1/4 cups dressing.

Peeling Potatoes Is Becoming Lost Art

BOISE — More and more of Idaho's potatoes are going to market in brightly colored packages and cans instead of the brown burlap bags in which they won their first fame.

The change is having far-reaching effects on the consumer and the producer. For the housewife, it means the elimination of much of the preparation in serving, for example, an inviting dish of mashed potatoes.

But more important, for the producer it means a stabilized market for the product that has had a history of economic ups and downs since the russet potato brought Idaho its fame as a tuber-producing state.

One of the leaders in the potato marketing change has been J. R. Simplot of Boise. He has been a potato producer since 1929. Then it was a matter of planting the potatoes in the spring, keeping them cultivated and watered during the summer, harvesting them in the fall and praying for a good price.

In 1940 Simplot built a processing plant in Caldwell for the production of dehydrated onions. Within a year he had begun processing potatoes, too. Now he operates plants in Caldwell, Burley and Heyburn.

"The whole program is aimed at stabilizing the potato business," Simplot says. "Now we go into the farming areas ahead of the planting season and make firm contracts with the growers. The farmer knows before he plants his crop that he will be able to sell it."

One of the advantages of the processed potato is the reduction in weight. Freight charges always have been a major problem for Idaho producers because of long shipping distances.

One hundred pounds of fresh potatoes are reduced to just 30 pounds of frozen french fries, Simplot says, and the reduction in weight of dehydrated potatoes is six to one.

"I think in time," Simplot says, "that as much as 60 per cent of all the potatoes grown in the United States each year will be processed."

Types of potato products turned out continue to increase. The potato chip, of course, was one of the first. Among the first offered in frozen form were the french fries and hash browns.

Simplot says a prepared quick-frozen mashed potato in baked jacket made of potato flour, sprinkled with cheese or parsley or other dressing and frozen. The housewife simply takes it from the package, browns it in the oven and it's ready to serve.

Mix Three Cheeses For Tasty Combo

In making sandwich spreads, you might be surprised what a delicious flavor the combination of three cheeses will yield. Here's a recipe capitalizing on the idea:

THREE-CHEESE SPREAD

Ingredients:
1 pkg. (3 ounces) cream cheese
1/2 cup soft cheddar cheese
1/2 cup Roquefort cheese (packed down)
1 tsp. brandy
1 tsp. cream sherry

Method:

Beat the cream cheese, cheddar cheese and Roquefort together thoroughly; use an electric mixer or a spoon and a sturdy right hand. Beat in the brandy and sherry. Makes about 1 1/2 cups.

Turn into jar; cover tightly; refrigerate for at least a week so flavors have a chance to blend.

Marinate To Broil

Rub split or quartered chicken with French dressing before broiling; frying-chicken pieces may be marinated in French dressing a couple hours and then broiled.

Nutritious Buttermilk Rates High

For a tart, refreshing drink these days, try buttermilk. It's a low-cost nutritious drink that has all the desirable milk nutrients except vitamin A and fat, and averages only 85 calories to the cup.

Buttermilk has many cooking uses, especially in baked products. Experienced cooks say waffles taste better when made with buttermilk.

Here's a good waffle recipe: necessary ingredients are 2 1/2 cups flour, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon soda, 3 eggs, 2 cups buttermilk, 1/2 cup melted butter, and 1 teaspoon baking powder. Sift together the dry ingredients. Add beaten yolks, buttermilk, and butter. Fold in beaten egg whites. Add 1/2 teaspoon vanilla if desired.

As with whole milk, skim milk, cheese, ice cream and all other dairy products buttermilk is plentiful this month.

These foods are important in daily diets because they contain about 100 nutrients.

Bon Voyage

Here's a traveler who knows what to wear — a simple, easy-fitting suit of Indian raw silk and matching topcoat. Under the jacket is a wrap around blouse of printed arnel jersey, and in her suitcase is a matching full skirt, all designed by traveling Vera Maxwell.

Quick Change

The same topcoat and blouse now are worn with the matching full skirt, and our traveler is all set for shopping or sightseeing abroad. The printed persey of the blouse and skirt has all the "miracle" talents of packability, easy washing, permanent finish, light weight.

Smart Globe-Trotters Plan Packing Carefully

By DOROTHY ROE
AP News Features Writer

You can tell an experienced traveler by the clothes she leaves at home, says Vera Maxwell, probably the world's most traveled designer.

"Most women not only take the wrong clothes for a trip abroad, they simply take too many," says this globe-trotter, who takes off for a different corner of the world each summer in search of new fabrics, new colors, new design inspiration.

Mrs. Maxwell feels strongly on this subject, having been a specialist in travel clothes for a quarter of a century.

Even when she was just getting a foothold on fame, she was always going places, at home or abroad. And she worked out for herself a travel wardrobe that furnished the basis for the thousands of honors she has designed for other women since. Its basic theory is coordination — everything you take must go together.

Mrs. Maxwell usually starts with a suit and topcoat — both of fabric that sheds wrinkles, both color coordinated to everything else in the suitcase. A few different blouses and cashmere sweaters stretch this basic outfit into many.

Then she adds a couple of dresses, both of which may be worn with the same topcoat — one for daytime, one suitable for cocktail or informal dinner wear, both wrinkle-shedding and preferably of drip-dry fabric, that can be dunked in the washbowl at night and worn next day without ironing.

You wear the basic travel outfit en route, complete with its coordinated accessories — hat, shoes, gloves, handbag. In the suitcase you pack a few veils, scarfs, extra blouses, sweaters and jewelry to change the look of the dresses according to the occasion.

There you have it — with a

Goliad P-TA Elects Slate For New Year

Capt. and Mrs. William Boudreaux were elected president and first vice president, respectively, by Goliad P-TA, Tuesday evening. The slate for next year also includes Mrs. P. W. Malone and Mrs. Martin Staggs, second and third vice presidents; Mrs. Billye Harrel, secretary; and Gilbert Gibbs, treasurer.

Highlight of the unit's final meeting was a panel discussion of the substandard housing in Big Spring. Panelists were Bruce Frazier, Dr. Fabian Gomez and Gary Tate, who illustrated the program with slides.

With Runnels P-TA, the group will sponsor a variety show to be staged tonight at the VA Hospital. Much of the talent, of both amateur and professional experience, will be derived from Webb AFB.

Accordian Band

Mrs. M. F. Kelso and about 12 of her accordian pupils will be in Midland this evening to appear on a television program for May Music Company.

JOY Class Meets

Mrs. Horace Rankin and Mrs. Mitchell Malouf were hostesses for the JOY Class of College Baptist Church Tuesday evening in the Rankin home. A farewell gift was presented to Mrs. James Findley, who will leave soon to make a home in Midland. Fourteen were entertained with games.

Flower Tip

Cut flowers that you aim to use as bouquets in your home late in the evening. Place them in a large container that holds plenty of water and leave them in a cool place overnight, then arrange for use in your home the following morning.

Lamesans Have Chance To Learn Various Phases Of Homemaking

LAMESA, (pl)—Summer courses in various phases of homemaking will be offered by the Lamesa High School Homemaking Department for students and adults free of charge, it is announced.

Any high school girl who has completed at least one year of homemaking during the regular long term is eligible to enroll for the student courses. A half credit may be received by the girls who must attend at least one class and do the remainder of the 90 hours as a home experience.

Classes to be taught for high school students include:

Personal Grooming, to be taught June 2 through June 10 by Mrs. Hugh Phillips; Child Development (a nursery school) to be taught June 8 through 19 by Mrs. J. W. Holman Jr., and a Clothing Construction class to be taught June 15 through June 26 by Mrs. Don Rowland.

Three courses have been announced for adults.

Mrs. Holman will teach a clothing construction class for adults from June 29 to July 3. Registration for this class will be at 11 a.m. Friday, May 22 at the homemaking department.

OES Matron To Live In California

LAMESA (Spl) — Mrs. Pat O'Neil, worthy matron of the Lamesa Chapter of the Eastern Star, was in the honor spotlight for a cola party Tuesday evening. Mrs. Al Griffin was hostess for the party, held in the home of Mrs. Bob Lindsey Jr.

Mrs. O'Neil is leaving for the Imperial Valley in California for three months where her husband is staying for his health.

During the evening, Mrs. O'Neil received the Worth Matron's plate, a gift from her officers, and she presented gifts to them. Mrs. A. V. Stanfield, junior past matron, gave her the chapter jewels, since she will be out of the city for the installation of new officers.

Mrs. Travis Kidd assisted at the serving table where drinks were iced in a large punch bowl; the table was laid with white linen and appointed in silver and crystal.

Twenty-five members of the chapter were guests.

Poultry, Pork, Eggs Still Thrifty Buys

By The Associated Press

Eggs, broilers, small turkeys and all cuts of pork are the thrifty buys in Texas this week.

Among fruits and vegetables, the U.S. Department of Agriculture rates cabbage, celery, sweet corn, all greens, lettuce, yellow medium onions and winesap apples as top buys. All are plentiful.

Carrying lower prices than a week ago are pole beans, cauliflower, cucumbers, bananas, tomatoes, new long white potatoes, okra and strawberries.

Good supplies of East Texas and Arkansas strawberries are available at in-season prices.

Priced higher this week are Texas grapefruit, lemons and green bell peppers.

New items at Texas markets this week include cherries, cantaloupes and peaches, and local squash. Increased volume of tomatoes, blackberries, dewberries, green beans and bruce plums also is evident. Pineapple shipments from Mexico are larger.

We economize, sure... but not when it comes to ice cream!

Brownies Receive Scout Pins, Wings

Fourteen Brownies became intermediate Girl Scouts Tuesday evening in a fly-up ceremony held in the home of Mrs. Clyde Nichols.

About 41 were present to see the awarding of wings and three-year pins to the group. Mrs. H. M. Nicholson, co-leader, assisted with the presentation, and guests were served refreshments after the service.

The last meeting of the year will be a picnic Tuesday, with the place to be announced.

If you go for steak with that deep-brown, crusty coat and char flavor, here's how: Sear one side by lowering grill close to coals for 2 or 3 minutes, then raise grill to finish same side; turn steak, sear second side, against raise grill and complete the cooking. No matter what, serve your steaks sputtering hot! And with a generous pat of butter melting atop.

HOLLYWOOD BEAUTY

Taller Girls Told To Perfect Their Poise

Time To Slow Down

Patrice Wymore, who has lived the past few years in Europe, complains of the frantic pace in the USA. She is soon to be seen in 20th Century-Fox's "The Sad Horse" and across the country with her night-club act.

By LYDIA LANE
HOLLYWOOD — When Patrice Wymore lived in Europe she found it difficult adjusting to the new mode of living. Big lunches and siestas for several hours in the middle of the day were bewildering to this girl who had spent several years in the frantic pace of Hollywood.
 "At first I couldn't get used to eating so much at noon and resting so many hours, but I must say it did wonderful things for me," Patrice admitted.
 "And now that I'm back it seems strange to either rush through lunch or do without it," she went on. "I still find myself making appointments so close together that I have to hurry to get everything done. I wonder." Pat said with a quiet smile, "if we Americans will ever slow down."
 "I soon adapted a frantic pace — doing a nightclub act at the Cocomi Grove and working in 'The Sad Horse' at 20th Century-Fox during the day. A late show and an early call for make-up at the studio meant about four hours sleep.
 "I was terribly tired all the time, but the amazing thing was that I gained 10 pounds. My doctor said that the body tissues often get puffy when a person is fatigued," Patrice added. Although Pat is quite tall she's never let her height bother her. "I grew much taller than everyone in my class, but I was never self-conscious. One of the things a tall girl should never do is slump. Fortunately I had taken ballet lessons since I was five, so I carried myself well."

 "We were having lunch together at the Beverly Hills Hotel, and Pat looked very chic in a smart black suit and cloche hat.
 "When I was in Europe I adored being so close to the fashion scene and going to the collection showings in Paris. Every designer has what he calls his shock models. These get much publicity, but the clientele buy simple and conservative styles.
 "Very few women can afford extreme styles because they so quickly go out of fashion," Patrice observed.
 "Have you any advice for tall girls on fashion?" I asked as I arose to go.
 "Never call attention to your height with low heels," Patrice said with feeling. "The only time a tall girl should wear flats is with shorts or pedal-pushers."

Bridal Tea Is Given

Mrs. Pat McPhaul was complimented with a bridal shower Wednesday in the home of Mrs. H. G. Caldwell. Joining her as hostesses were Mrs. A. W. Blackwell and Nola.
 Mrs. McPhaul is the former Shirley Thurman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Thurman.
 Pink and green were featured in the party, with the table reflecting the theme in the lace over green and in the floral arrangement. This was formed of pink roses and carnations with sweet peas in a pink container, placed on a reflector and surrounded by pink parasols.
 Flavors to the 20 guests were small wedding rings. A cake in pink and green was frosted with the names, Pat and Shirley.

Son Is Born To The Leonard Moseleys

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Moseley of Abilene are the parents of a son born at 12:30 this morning at Hendrick Memorial Hospital. The infant weighed 7 pounds, 12 ounces. Mr. and Mrs. Lee Young of Weatherford are the maternal grandparents; the paternal grandparents reside in Amarillo.
 Moseley is a former Big Spring-er, having been a teller at the State National Bank.

Lions Women Enjoy Informal Party

Mrs. Charles Havens and Mrs. Wayne Bartlett were hostesses for a Coke party Wednesday morning at the Havens home. Guests were members of the Downtown Lions Club Auxiliary.
 Refreshments were served from a table laid with a brown linen cloth. An off-center arrangement of Seven Sister roses was held in a green bowl.
 Hostesses for the June meeting will be Mrs. Lloyd Curley and Mrs. Earl Burnett.
 Mrs. Laroy Carothers of Bremen, Ind., was a guest.

Jaycee-Ettes Hear Convention Report

Mrs. George Creagh told of the Jaycee-Ette convention held recently in Fort Worth, when members of the local group met for dinner Wednesday evening at the Wagon Wheel.
 Mrs. James Cape was elected reporter for the club.
 A Coke party was planned for June 6 with Mrs. John Jones as hostess. She will entertain at her home, 604 Birdwell.
 Six attended the dinner.

Last Program Of Year Is Heard By 1905 Hyperions

"All mankind is standing at the crossroads now, between total destruction and great prosperity." With this statement, Dr. P. D. O'Brien launched into a discussion of Christianity, "the kind of religion the world needs."
 The presentation was the concluding facet of a year-long study of the world's great religions, by the 1905 Hyperion Club. They gathered at the home of Mrs. Clyde Angel, Wednesday afternoon, for the program.
 The speaker pointed out that Communism is the complete antithesis of Christianity or any other religion because it is a purely human concept without divinity.
 Dr. O'Brien noted it had been said that the perfect religion for the future is a combination of the best that is in all the religions of the world; for example, Buddhism would contribute spirituality, Hinduism separation, Islam aggression, Confucianism morality, Shinto beauty, Judaism law, and Christianity love. But if one examines each of these contributions carefully, continued the speaker, he will find that all of them already exist in Christianity.

 During the business session, Mrs. Rogers Hefley and Mrs. Ben Johnson reported on two recent Federation Council meetings. Mrs. Norman Read told about the spring district meeting and of the selection of Mrs. Lucy Franco of Presidio as the District's Mother of the Year. She stated that Mrs. Franco, the wife of a Mexican farm laborer, had reared eight children; provided college education for all of them; subsequently had earned her own college degree and now teaches in the Presidio schools.
 The group agreed to purchase a sustaining membership in the Citizens Traffic Commission Mrs. W. A. Hunt was presented as the club's new president.
 Garden flowers were featured in arrangements throughout the home. Refreshments were served

'ROUND TOWN

With Lucille Pickle

Good news has come to MR. AND MRS. EARL C. EVANS. Their son, BILLY, has telephoned from Denton to say he has been granted a full scholarship at North Texas State College. The talented pianist will be a junior at the college next year.
 From Irving comes word of the A. W. Dillons telling of a heart attack suffered by Mr. Dillon on April 19 while he was in New Orleans attending the Air Force Reserve Training school. Following the attack he was taken to the Carswell AFB hospital in Fort Worth but returned to his home last Wednesday. The address is 1835 Pilgrim Drive in Irving.
 Incidentally, Patricia Dillon, who has been teaching in Brownfield, has accepted a teaching position at the Ladd AFB school in Fairbanks, Alaska.
 MR. AND MRS. GRADY STEVENS and their daughters who have been residing in Abilene for the past few years plan to be in Big Spring over the weekend and will be guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Worley.
 Expected from Dallas are MR. AND MRS. TONY HALE and his mother, MRS. R. C. HALE who will visit in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ross Boykin.
 PHILIP RAY SWEENEY of Amarillo has been visiting his aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sweeney, while here on business. The Sweeneys entertain ed with a barbecue for him Tuesday evening.

 MR. AND MRS. GRANVILLE GLENN are vacationing in Bryan with their daughter and her family, Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Stevenson and their daughters. The party planned a weekend at New Braunfels during their stay. The Glenns will also go to Corpus Christi to visit Mrs. Glenn's mother.
 MR. AND MRS. GLEN SMITH will be in Decatur this weekend to visit their son, Glen Smith and his family. Also joining them will be Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Smith and Elizabeth of Austin. Mrs. Smith hopes to bring her three little granddaughters from Decatur back home with her.
 MR. AND MRS. ELI JACOBS spent the past weekend in Jal, N. M., with Mr. and Mrs. Dean Bailey. Another daughter, Mrs. Robert Roberson, and her husband, came over from Lubbock for the day.
 Here from Bremen, Ind., are MR. AND MRS. LAROE CAROTHERS who are visiting in the home of their son, Louis D. Carothers, and Mrs. Carothers. The couple plans to be here until next week.
 MR. AND MRS. H. C. STIPP are to be in Bryan this weekend where they will attend graduation exercises for their son, Louis, at A&M College.

Texas Jobless Pay Down Again

AUSTIN (AP)—Jobless benefit payments dropped again last week the Texas Employment Commission says. It reported yesterday $4,194 unemployed workers received $1,029,374 in insurance benefits the week ending May 14, compared to $6,977 and $1,035,718 the previous week.

Miller Installed As Church Leader

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP)—A man who grew up on a farm and now is minister of one of the largest churches in his denomination will preside over affairs of the United Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A. for the next year.

Dr. Arthur L. Miller, senior minister of Denver's Montview Boulevard Church, which has 4,000-plus members, was elected and installed Wednesday as moderator of the largest Presbyterian body in the United States.

He was elected over Dr. Herman L. Turner, Atlanta, Ga., and Dr. Henry S. Randolph, New York City and Tionesta, Pa. Miller received 498 votes on the first ballot, Turner 223 and Randolph 222. Miller's election was made unanimous on the motion of Turner.

The new moderator is proud of his rural background. On May 31—the Sunday after the 171st general assembly, over which he was presiding today, adjourns—he will preach in the old Presbyterian church at Gettysville, Ind., where he spent his boyhood. He also will spend a few days visiting two brothers and three sisters who still live in the region.

Dr. Miller was born 59 years ago on a farm near Gettysville, Pa., about 50 miles north of Indianapolis.

He went to Indiana University, dabbled in journalism and became editor of the Daily Student, campus newspaper, before his graduation in 1922. Then he went on to Princeton (N.J.) Theological Seminary and later was graduated from McCormick Theological Seminary in Chicago.

At a news conference after his election he spent as much time discussing his early days in Indiana and his family as he did church and world affairs and his more recent experiences as world traveler.

He has served on numerous denominational committees and boards; is on the boards of Hastings and Parsons colleges, and is president of the board of trustees of Beirut College for Women in Lebanon. He held pastorates in four other states before going to his present church 12 years ago.

Dr. Miller spoke with pride of his wife, Lova, their one daughter and two sons, and six grandchildren.

He told newsmen that airplanes stewardesses often ask whether he is the playwright Arthur Miller whose wife is actress Marilyn Monroe, and he always replies: "No, I'm a preacher, and my wife is much more beautiful than Miss Monroe."

Dr. Miller, still as tan as a Hoosier farmboy, said: "Reconciliation is the great task facing the church today. The church must help people to understand each other... in the home... between races... and between nations."

Longest Wet Spell Continues In East U.S.

By The Associated Press
The season's longest spell of wet weather, with violent storms in some areas, showed no indication of a general break today in the Eastern half of the nation.

Severe wind storms hammered areas in the nation's mid-section and parts of the South Wednesday. One tornado struck a rural area in southern Iowa, injuring five members of one family. Funnel clouds were spotted in central and eastern Kansas.

Tornadoic winds lashed sections of Kansas, Iowa, Nebraska and Missouri. Torrential rains caused floods in some sections of the Midwest wet belt, including Iowa, Illinois, Wisconsin and Nebraska.

Winds ranging up to from 70 to more than 80 m.p.h. swept across the midlands as thunderstorms erupted with the clashing of warm and cool air. Hail fell in many areas.

The storms caused extensive property damage. Parts of Florida were soaked by heavy rain. Nearly 5 inches fell in the Jacksonville area and a three-hour downpour at Ruskin measured 4 inches.

In the Midwest, Lake Mills, Iowa, reported 3.36 inches of rain in an hour. Flash floods were reported at Spencer, in northwest Iowa, after more than 6 inches of rain.

Youngest Crosby Is 'Mystery Man'

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "Here comes the Phantom."

That's the way the older Crosbys greet their baby brother, Lindsay. He has earned the handle by his air of mystery. While the comings and goings of the other three are fairly predictable, Lindsay is always hard to locate. Here's how the brothers describe him:

Gary: "He's like the old man (Bing). He's more quiet than the rest of us, more sly with his humor."

Phillip: "He's the coolest one of us. He has a great disposition." Dennis: "Lindsay just exists." Lindsay differs in looks, too. He is the darkest of the four, with curly brown hair and heavy eyebrows, a slim, handsome face with cleft chin. At 21, he seems amazingly mature.

Gary and the twins were only a year apart. Lindsay came three and a half years later, and he recalls being an unwelcome tag-along during his boyhood. After Dixie died, Bing dropped his career to spend most of a year with Lindsay. They toured Europe, where Lindsay pursued his interest in art.

The lad attended a semester at Williams College in Massachusetts, then dropped out to serve his Army duty. "I liked Williams, but I didn't think I was getting anything out of it," he says.

Most of his Army service was at Ft. Ord, 300 miles north of Hollywood. It was during this time that he decided on a show business career. He emceed an Army show on a Los Angeles TV station and sang for teen-agers at roller rinks and dance halls.

"One night I looked down at all those kids watching me and I discovered I was enjoying myself," he says.

Recently out of the Army, Lindsay shares a two-bedroom hillside home with singer Jimmy Boyd.

He has made some records with fair success — "But they wanted me to sing rock 'n' roll and my voice is too low for that." Jerry Wald feels he has great promise as an actor and wants to cast him in "Hound Dog Man." But Lindsay insists that nothing will interfere with the brother act the Crosbys are preparing for a nationwide tour.
