112 In Competition For Prizes At Rodeo

Final count of entries for the 26th annual Big Spring Cowboy Reunion and Rodeo this morning revealed 112 have signed to enter the six events.

The producers, Elra Beutler and Buster Morgan, said this was above average for entries this time of the year. The entry list usually falls between 75 and 100, the men said.

The first go-round is scheduled to start at 8 p.m. and record crowds are expected to match the record entry. The cowboys will be riding for $2,700 added to the entry fees in prize money.

A parade to kick off the annual event was set for 4 p.m. this afternoon. It formed at 4th and Goliad, moved through town and terminated at the rodeo grounds.

Visiting Sheriff's Poses, Rodeo Queen candidates and floats participated in the parade. The best three floats will receive prizes of $50, $30 and $20 and the outstanding posse will be given a trophy. A barbecue is planned at 6 p.m. today for the parade participants.

Tickets, priced at $2 for adults and $1 for children, are still available at the Chamber of Commerce, Driver Insurance Co., Alexander Jewelry Co., Ward's Boot Shop, Coker's Restaurant, and Creighton Tire Co.

Police Chief C. L. Rogers urged motorists, visitors and residents to drive carefully and observe traffic regulations. He pointed out that there would be more cars in the streets than usual and extra precautions were needed to prevent accidents.

The second go-round of the rodeo will begin at 8 p.m. Friday with the finals scheduled at 8 p.m. Saturday. The rodeo queen will also be named Saturday night. The Cajun Kid and Junior Meeks will be the clowns for the rodeo. They are provided to amuse the crowds as well as to protect riders in dangerous riding events. The most dangerous work the clowns are called on to do is lead the wild bulls away from fallen cowboys in the bull riding events.

The Big Spring ABC Club is handling the concession stands and programs. Mayor Lee Rogers has proclaimed this as Rodeo Week in Big Spring. It continues through

CAR HOPS GO ALL OUT FOR RODEO

Car hops at Donald's Drive Inn are going western all the way for the annual Big Spring Cowboy Reunion and Rodeo.

They will be taking and delivering orders horseback. From about 4:30 p.m. to around 7 p.m. today through Saturday, two Palomino horses will be used for the car hopping.

Mr. and Mrs. Ennis Cochran, who conceived the idea of a cooperative gesture for the rodeo, figure that will have the horses warmed up for the grand entry parade.

Each evening their daughters, Katie, Lyndia and Mary Kay will ride the Palominos in the parade at the rodeo grounds. They have been training the horses for the past two weeks, getting them used to going near cars.

CANDIDATES ARRIVE

Bashful Benny To Crown Queen

Bashful Benny Reynolds, who parlayed his drawled "yup" and "nope" into a national reputation on television, will crown the queen of the Big Spring Rodeo on Saturday night.

Reynolds, who is a top rodeo performer on a national scale, will present the trophy to the girl selected from the field of 11 candidates for Queen of the Rodeo.

The girls, all from out of town, will be presented for the first time this afternoon as they ride in the big parade. A full schedule of activities has been planned for them during their stay in Big Spring. The climax will be the selection of the winner at 8 p.m. Saturday. Trophies also go to the second and third place contestants.

Bill Quimby, chamber of commerce manager, said the girls are to report to his office starting at 1 p.m. today. They must all be on hand not later than 3:45 p.m. At that time, they assemble at 2nd and Goliad for their part in the rodeo parade which moves at 4 p.m.

The schedule of activities for the queens includes many social events. Tonight they will be guests at the big barbecue which follows the parade. This is at the arena. Friday morning at 10 they go to the Coaden Country Club for a swim-hamburger party. The afternoon will be absorbed with a theater party. At 5:30 p.m. they will be introduced on KEDY-TV. Each night, they ride in the grand entry at the rodeo.

Mrs. Ed Cherry, 1613 Indian Hills, will entertain the girls at 10 a.m. Saturday. At 6 p.m. they will be guests at an informal dinner at the Desert Sands.

At 8 p.m. the decision of the judges will be announced. Reynolds will ride forward and make the presentation of the trophies.

The girls competing are Susan Sorrell, Brady; Nancy Beal, Lindland; Lynda Balleger; Midland; Junior Shirley, Odessa; Judy Cooper, McCarney; Owen Blair, Sterling City; Carolyn Kelly, Stanton; Betty Baggett, Fort Stockton; Nelda Smith, Snyder and Ida Lee Riggs, Sanderson.

Sweetwater will have an entry but her name has not been forwarded to the chamber of commerce.

Teen-Age Wife Of AF Grad Killed In Crash

DURANGO, Colo. (AP)—The teen-age wife of a member of the first graduating class at the Air Force Academy was killed Wednesday in a car accident near this southwestern Colorado city.

Barbara Ann Barnwell, 18, of Denver, was dead when officers arrived. Driver of the auto was her husband, Lt. Lee Barnwell, 23, of Greenville, S.C. Their sports car struck a culvert and overturned.

Patrolman Herbert Luoma said Barbara was dead when he arrived at the scene. Passers-by were tending to her husband. "I'm O.K.," he told the officer. "Take care of my wife."

"She's in good hands," Luoma replied. Barnwell didn't learn until several hours later, in Mercy Hospital here, that his bride of six days died in the crash.

For four months before Barnwell's graduation, he had been confined to the academy grounds near Colorado Springs for breaking regulations on operating a personal car.

Barnwell was punished for driving a personal auto to Denver in order to see his fiancée after a minor operation.

The operation was shortly after they had met in the academy chapel.

LOVE AT FIRST SIGHT
"He took pity on a little girl with a broken foot," Barbara said last week. "I never believed in love at first sight until then, but I do now."

She suffered the fractured foot in a skiing accident. The operation was to correct the injury.

Her fiancée was at her side as she came out from under the anesthetic. He did not tell her he had broken academy rules about driving a car so he could be with her when she needed him.

He didn't see her again until graduation day. They were married the next day in Denver. "I would stand on a hill and wave my handkerchief at him," Barbara said on the eve of the wedding. "He used a pair of binoculars to see me. Those were our dates."

Barbara took hope in April that King Hussein of Jordan would grant amnesty to Barnwell and other errant cadets upon the King's scheduled academy visit. Monarchs traditionally have that privilege when visiting U.S. service academies. But a snowstorm caused the monarch to bypass the academy.

City Temperature Hits 101 Degrees
The temperature equalled this year's high mark Wednesday with a reading of 101 at the U. S. Experiment Station.

It was June 1 when the mercury first topped the 100 mark and the reading on that date was also 101. April 25 was the first hot day of the year when the gauge climbed near the century post. It read 99 on that date.

The forecast for Friday is more of the same with high temperatures expected.

Senate Approves Big Tax Measure

Top Man Of Webb Jet Pilot Class 59-H
Mrs. Nita White, wife of 1st Lt. Otis P. White, pins her husband's silver wings on his uniform as climax to his graduation at Webb Air Force Base on Wednesday night. He was "top man" of Class 59-H. His entire family—mother, father, and two brothers—from Paola, Kans., were in the audience at the ceremonies.

Sense Of Humor, Sense Of Duty Values Told To Webb Grads

Jet pilot class 59-H received its wings last night in the Webb chapel along with some words of advice from one of the Air Force's top pilot training officials, himself a fighter pilot of long years' experience.

Col. Gerald Brown, Director of Basic Pilot Training, Headquarters Air Training Command, spoke briefly to the 58 graduates on "a sense of duty and a sense of humor." "Without the first," he said, "you cannot be worth your salt and without the other, you would not be fit to live with under trying conditions."

Reminiscing of his 33 months as prisoner of war—in World War II and Korea—he said that in his opinion, those men without a sense of humor were those who did not return.

As an example of the times when humor saved the day by taking the thin, maltreated captives' minds off their troubles, he told of the "crazy weeks" with which the prisoners of war enveloped the monotony of prison camp while bawling their captors. By means of unexpected tactics—strange haircuts, weird shaves, unauthorized shifts of prisoners in the barracks, "carrier landing" instructions by Navy pilots on the athletic field, etc.—the prisoners occupied both their own and their jailers' minds.

"A few of us got our lumps," he said, "but it was worth it." In regard to a sense of duty, he reminded the graduates that they are indeed the cream of the crop, that hundreds of prospects have been weeded out for every one who graduates, and that it is of vital importance to our country that the graduates remain in the Air Force.

Pointing out that it seems unreasonable that patriotism is sometimes considered "corny" in the U. S. and not in other countries, he said, "I believe that I am in the finest profession in the world and that it will take me awhile to pay the government back for the money and care spent on my training."

VITAL 10 PER CENT
"If we can keep 10 per cent of our pilot training graduates in the Air Force," he added, "we will consider that we have won the battle." He admonished the new pilots not to expect to "have it easy" in the future and urged them not to be quick to judge their fellows harshly.

The speaker closed by wishing the graduates luck in whatever line they follow, civil or military, and reminded them of the value of a sense of humor and a sense of duty wherever they might be.

Top man of his class was 1st Lt. Otis P. White Jr. of Paola, Kan., who received an engraved silver trophy and letter of congratulation from Commanding General, Air Training Command.

Two other outstanding graduates receiving letters were 1st Lt. Louis L. Hubsmith and Ronald F. Lewis.

Col. Kyle L. Riddle, Wing Commander, introduced the speaker; Chaplain 1st Lt. James E. Leath gave the invocation and benediction; and Mrs. Thomas S. Lane was organist.

A reception for the guest speaker, families and friends of the students, and Webb officials was held at the Officers' Club after the ceremony.

Present for the ceremony, besides his wife, Nita, were the honor student's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Otis P. White Sr., and his brothers, Bill and Jack, all from Paola, Kan.

Ramsey Casts Ballot To Break Tie

AUSTIN (AP)—Lt. Gov. Ben Ramsey broke a 15-15 tie today in the Senate to provide a one-vote margin which passed the record size tax bill for 1960-61.

The vote sent the 151 million dollar bill to the House for concurrence. Rejection would set up a joint conference committee.

The House recessed until 2:30 p.m. without acting on the bill. The Senate recessed until 3:30 p.m.

The Senate voted to adjourn for a few minutes to begin a second legislative day in order to pass the bill today. Otherwise a four-fifths vote would have been necessary.

After the bill had been tentatively approved and the Senate adjourned for five minutes, Sen. Charles Herring, sponsor, was recognized by Ramsey.

Then Sen. Dorsey Hardeman of San Angelo got the senate to cut off further discussion for the second time today by moving "the previous question," 17-13.

"None of us agree with everything that comes out in this bill. It's the best compromise that a majority of the Senate could agree on," Herring said in concluding on the bill. "I hope that the House will act as soon as we can get the bill to them."

TIE BROKEN
Final passage ended 15-15. Ramsey announced the tie and then said:

"The chair votes aye and the bill is finally passed."
The bill will raise enough money to cover the state's needs for the biennium.

Earlier Sen. Crawford Martin of Hillsboro got the Senate to move the previous question before the bill was tentatively approved. The vote was 17-12.

The Senate accepted 18-12 an amendment by Sen. Bob Baker of Houston to triple the retail permit fees for beer and wine dealers and double the fees for liquor store operators.

He estimated this will add $3,300,000 to the bill.
Sen. Wardlaw Lane won a voice vote to chop in half the new tobacco products tax on cigars, smoking and chewing tobacco.

The Senate committee which wrote the administration's bill passed by the House estimated the tax would have brought in $23,600,000 for the two years.

His amendment also included a 1.5 per cent sales tax on all boats and boat trailers which he said would raise from one to five million dollars.

COMMITTEE FIGURE
The changes kept the total on the bill almost identical with the $150,997,000 figure reported by the committee on the original revision.

Sen. Charles Herring of Austin, sponsor of the bill, said he believed a joint conference committee, if needed, could work out a compromise that would be accepted in both houses in one day.

Senators voted 16-14 to advance the bill to final reading.
The bill as amended will raise about 151 million dollars, enough to cover the state's needs for the biennium.

Sen. Crawford Martin of Hillsboro got the Senate to cut off further debate by moving "the previous question." The vote was 17-12.

It had the effect of blocking minority efforts to further delay passage with a filibuster.

Whether the House will accept the Senate substitute for the Administration measure already approved by Representatives is the question.

Saturday Is Inspection Day For Boys In Soap Box Derby

Saturday is an important day for Soap Box Derby boys.

It's the day for preliminary inspection of racers, and every lad planning to enter the big race is instructed to be at the Tidwell Chevrolet Lot on East 4th Saturday, between the hours of 8:30 a.m. and 3:30 p.m.

Cars are to be brought for an official once-over, regardless of the state of completion. Officials will be able to help boys in seeing that final work is done according to the strict rules demanded by the Soap Box Derby. Cars will be handled as they come in during the day, Derby officials said.

Pictures of boys also will be made Saturday while they are in the inspection lines.

Official scales—furnished each year through courtesy of the Toledo Scale Company—have been shipped in, and will be in use Saturday for a check on weights. Boys and cars together can weigh no more than 250 pounds.

Nearly 60 lads, between ages 11 and 15, are expected to run in this year's sixth annual Big Spring Derby. The event is set for the evening of June 25, on the Lancaster Street track, beginning at 8 p.m. As was the case last year, the track will be lighted, and the evening hour is expected to attract a large crowd.

Various merchandise prizes will be awarded to heat winners, and the champion, of course, wins a free trip to Akron, Ohio, in August for the All-American Soap Box Derby. There he will compete against other champions from throughout the nation, with a $5,000 college scholarship as first prize.

Announcement was made today that all local Derby contestants will be guests of the local Texas A&M Club at a barbecue meal on the evening of the 25th. The Aggies are having their annual scholarship-award barbecue the same night of the Derby. Boys will be transported to the park for their meal, then returned to the track in time for the races. The Aggies are planning to conclude their program in time for guests to see the climax of the races.

Perry Again Heads CRMWD

Charles D. Perry of Odessa was re-elected president of the Colorado River Municipal Water District board of directors here today.

Organization of the board was the first order of business for a meeting that later was to develop information on a proposed lake in south Mitchell County.

Other officers elected were R. L. Cook, Big Spring, first vice-president; Dr. John Blum, Snyder, second vice-president; and Joe Pickle, Big Spring, secretary-treasurer. Here for the meeting was S. W. Freese, Ft. Worth, consulting engineer.

Fewer Applying For Jobless Pay

AUSTIN (AP)—The Texas Employment Commission said yesterday the week ending June 4 showed 43,517 individuals filing for unemployment compensation, compared to 45,928 the previous week and 73,528 a year ago.

Negro Coed Testifies Force Used During Alleged Assault

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP)—A slim Negro coed testified softly today that she begged and wept in vain while four white youths raped her repeatedly last May 2.

"I was begging them to let me go," said the girl from the witness stand where the four youths are on trial for their life. "I started crying and they said to shut up."

"There wasn't anything I could do with four men with a knife and a gun but do what they said to do."

Earlier the defense had claimed the 19-year-old university freshman made no protest, and may even have consented.

State Atty. William D. Hopkins asked the girl:

"Did you consent?"
"No sir, I didn't," the girl replied.

The girl whose name cannot be published under Florida law, is a slender youngster of medium height with fragile dark features.

She testified in the soft, fluid accent of her native South while her hands nervously worked a handkerchief.

The coed testified that while she was being raped again and again in a dark stretch of woods her assailants removed the license plate from their car before leaving the area. She added that when they left she was blindfolded and forced to lie on the floor of the car.

ing, timid glance. The four boys stared back intently at the witness during her recital.

The lawyer for William T. Collinsworth, 23, one of the defendants, told an all-male jury in his opening defense statement: "She stated 'you can have it if you want it, if you take me back to school.'"

Atty. S. Gunter Toney added: "It is a close question whether or not consent was given."

The state has accused the four youths of forcibly raping the girl after abducting her at gunpoint from her Negro date of the evening.

As to how the girl ended up in the car with the four white youths, Toney said only:

"Through interplay one of the girls was in the car with the four boys."

Toney told the jury that Collinsworth was insanely drunk when he and the three white companions happened upon the victim parked in the car with her date and another couple the night of May 2. The attorney said the white boys stopped because "someone suggested let's break up this necking party."

DEATH SENTENCE
State Atty. William D. Hopkins said he planned to get right into the major part of his case against the four, who would draw death sentences if convicted without a recommendation of mercy.

The 19-year-old freshman coed at the all-Negro Florida A&M University here stood in a long line of nearly 60 state and defense witnesses Wednesday night to be sworn.

Her eyes swept across the courtroom to the long table inside the rail where the four defendants waited nervously for the court to recess after a tedious first day of jury selection.

Selection of the jury was completed early Wednesday night. It was qualified by Hopkins to enforce the death penalty. A dozen prospective jurors were excused by the court when they said they had conscientious objections to capital punishment.

Circuit Judge W. May Walker said he still was hoping the case could be concluded by Saturday, since the jury was obtained the first day. He ordered the jury locked up for the night and admonished the jurors not to read newspapers or to listen to radio and television reports about the trial.

RACIAL CONFLICT
Many of the elements of the nation's racial conflict were brought forth during questioning of the 56 jurors necessary to get the panel of 12 and two alternates.

Hopkins asked: "Would the fact that two races are involved affect you in any way — would it make any difference that one is colored and the others white — the victim and the defendants?"

Defense Attorney S. Gunter Toney inquired: "Are the facts that the eyes of the nation are on Tallahassee and that organizations of a certain kind may be active in this case bothering you in any way?"

the remainder of this week. He has urged that everyone join in the rodeo spirit by wearing western clothes.

Benny Reynolds, nationally famous cowboy who won a large sum of money on a television program, is among the early entries. He has entered all six events. Other entries include some of the national leaders in the various events as well as the best all-around cowboy title. They are Guy West, Bob Wegner, and Sonny Davis.

Parting May Be Symbolic For 2 Old Friends
WASHINGTON (AP)—Two old friends meet in New York today, share ceremonial honors, review the Atlantic Fleet and fly off—perhaps symbolically—in different directions.

Their meeting would be regarded as little more than routine if it weren't for the certainty that Vice President Richard M. Nixon will seek the 1960 GOP presidential nomination and the speculation that Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York may make a contest of it.

Ahead of Nixon and Rockefeller were schedules aimed at reaffirming old political associations, making new friends and perhaps influencing people.

Prospects Of Labor Action Increased

WASHINGTON (AP)—Prospects of House action on labor control legislation this session rose sharply today as the House Labor Committee began show-down sessions behind closed doors.

House leaders, reflecting new optimism, appeared convinced a bill of some kind now will come out of committee despite the "forlorn hopes" accorded its chances earlier.

After weeks of hearings, the committee faced the difficult task of reconciling clashing and widely divergent views among its members. These ranged from no legislation at all to enactment of rigid restrictions on union operations.

Chairman Graham A. Barden (D-NC) said, however, he expects a compromise will be worked out enabling the House to debate the first major labor bill to reach the floor since passage of the Taft-Hartley Act a decade ago.

But whatever bill the committee recommends could be just a convenient starting point for a floor fight. Many Republicans and Democrats alike expect the final decisions to be made in a legislative free-for-all.

One of the factors which increased chances of House action was a surprise switch by James R. Hoffa's Teamsters union from its earlier stand against enactment of any labor legislation.

Spokesmen for the Teamsters told the committee on Tuesday they not only favor legislative action, but volunteered their own version of a labor "bill of rights."

As a further conciliatory gesture, the Teamsters agreed to send to the committee by next Monday a draft of their own idea of a bill.

Committee sources said they saw little chance the House would accept the bill passed by the Senate April 25 after inclusion of a "bill of rights" for union members.

They indicated the House might follow closely the bill originally introduced by Sens. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass) and Sam J. Ervin (D-NC), to which the Senate attached the bill of rights and other amendments.

The eventual House committee version was expected to drop many of the criminal penalties provided in the Senate measure, and soften the bill of rights provisions. It also would omit many Taft-Hartley revisions desired by business such as bans against secondary boycotts and jurisdictional picketing. The Senate rejected efforts to add these to its bill.

Sen. John L. McClellan (D-Ark.), chairman of the Senate investigating committee and author of the bill of rights written into the Senate bill, was the final witness before the House committee Wednesday.

He said he preferred an even stronger bill than that passed by the Senate, and called the bill of rights section "one of the most vital parts of the bill."

"You are not going to stop Hoffa by a pious code of ethics," he said.

If Congress hasn't the courage to enact a labor bill this year, "then God save the country," McClellan declared.

Church Accepts Pastor Resignation

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—Trinity Baptist Church accepted last night the resignation of Dr. W. S. McBirnie, pastor who admitted "improper involvement" with a woman member of the church.

A recommendation from the deacons that the resignation of the minister be accepted was approved unanimously by the congregation. More than 1,200 persons jammed the auditorium for the meeting.

Dr. McBirnie, 39, made the affair public, saying he felt his conduct was a matter for community concern.

Newsman Locates Missing Family

FORT WORTH (AP)—The George Arthur Buckaloo family was located yesterday a few hours after a major search began when the family's landlady said they had been missing since May 23.

A Fort Worth Star-Telegram newsman located Buckaloo, his wife and seven children and Buckaloo's brother, Tommy, 21, in Lawton, Okla.

The reporter was told that the family decided to spend a week-end in Oklahoma, was involved in an auto accident, and Buckaloo and his wife were hospitalized.

Tarrant County officers began a search for the family yesterday after Mrs. Mark Mahaffey said the family disappeared.

Fewer Braceros

MEXICO CITY (AP)—The Alliance of Agricultural Workers said yesterday it will ask the government to reduce the number of braceros going to work on U.S. farms. The alliance said it will ask this because the farm owners are refusing to sign work contracts for more than 45 days.

Rep. Wright's Voice Beguiles Congressmen On Water Bill

By TEX EASLEY
AP Special Services
WASHINGTON (AP)—When Rep. Jim Wright of Fort Worth decides to wax eloquent, he is reminiscent of former Texas Sen. Tom Connally.

During dull House debate on a bill to extend the Stream Pollution Control Act, involving proposed federal spending of 100 million dollars the next 10 years, Wright let loose with a flow of oratory that beguiled both colleagues and spectators.

He took the floor in opposition to an amendment which would have cut the funds in half and sharply tighten requirements to be met by states and municipalities before they could get any federal money. Wright's mellifluous voice quickly gained attention and as his words registered, real interest was registered by his audience.

"Through a great part of the state which it is my pleasure to represent, courses a stream which is known as the Brazos River," he said.

"When Coronado and his con-quistadores were attempting to find the fabled Seven Cities of Gold, they wandered for days through the sun-baked prairies of New Mexico and West Texas.

"Finally, their water supply exhausted, they faced a stark and terrifying prospect unless they could find water very quickly.

"The leader of the expedition called his band together and asked the priest who always accompanied them as a chaplain to offer a prayer for divine intervention that they might find water to sustain their lives.

"They knelt together there on the dry prairie, and the story is told that following this they proceeded in a direction which seemed 'natural' to them, and, rounding the crest of a gently rolling hill, looked down upon the waters of the Brazos River, then unnamed, in the sunlight.

"When they had slaked their thirst, the leader of the expedition said, 'We were saved by los brazos de Dios.'—by the arms of God. And for many years that river on all the maps was known as El Rio de los Brazos de Dios, or the river of the arms of God."

The 36-year-old Wright, who served in the Texas Legislature and whose name is sometimes mentioned when there is talk about likely U. S. senatorial candidates of the future, spoke without benefit of notes.

His story of the river's discovery having won the attention of his colleagues, Wright then proceeded to reel off from memory facts and figures to show that water is as important to the nation today as it was to explorers of old.

And, in responding to the arguments of those who said the states would do more to solve the pollution problem if the federal government did less, the Texan said, "If you follow that reasoning to its logical conclusion, you would have to say that for the federal government to do nothing in this field would evoke the maximum response from the states."

The problem will become increasingly acute, Wright added, as the population mounts by 10,000 a day for the nation as a whole.

"The entry of the federal government into this field," he continued, "was preceded by a demonstrated unwillingness on the part of the states to act . . .

"I think some of the states are awakening from their Rip Van Winkle slumber. I know my state, for example, is attempting at last to do something in helping to solve this crucial domestic problem in the United States, which is the problem of usable water supply.

Priest Who Returned Relic To Hungary Dies In Crash

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—The crash of a plane flown by an internationally-known Catholic priest killed him and three members of a Dallas family Wednesday.

The victims: Father Ralph J. Diefenbach, 45; Ray J. Lockwood, 45; his wife, Katherine, 42; and their daughter, Patricia, 11.

Father Diefenbach was a chaplain with the late Gen. George Patton's Third Army in World War II. In 1945, the priest was assigned to return a religious relic, the hand of St. Stephen, to Joseph Cardinal Mindszenty in Hungary.

Hungarians believed that no harm could come to their country as long as the hand of St. Stephen, their first king, was in their possession. The hand, removed from the royal palace during the war, was found by U.S. soldiers in a warehouse near Salzburg, Austria. Father Diefenbach was founding pastor of St. Theresa's Catholic church here.

The priest's four-seater plane crashed shortly after taking off from a small airport.

The Lockwoods were flying with him to Galveston for a visit with a relative.

The couple is survived by another daughter, Ann, 17.

The plane crashed on a prairie about half a mile south of Andrau Airport, from which it had taken off.

The bodies were crumpled together behind the plane's engine.

The Rev. Thomas M. Cemon, friend of Father Diefenbach and pastor of St. Michael's Catholic church, administered last rites over the bodies.

Father Diefenbach, a native of St. Louis, was reared in Waco and Dallas. He came to Houston from Beaumont in 1940.

DEAR ABBY

PLAY IT COOL

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am about to break off a friendship of long standing with a very good friend of mine because her husband tried to start something with me when she was called out of town to attend her ailing mother. What I want to know is: Should I tell my friend what happened? She's crazy about her husband and I hate to disillusion her. What excuse should I give her for ending our friendship if I don't tell her the truth?

DEAR ABBY: I'll soon be married 16 months and the man I married believes it's the woman's place to make the living. We were married four months when he quit his job and said he had no intention of working any more. I bring home $68.70 a week and he says that's plenty for both of us. He's sleeping when I go to work in the morning and watching TV when I come home at night. I have to get the supper. I am 41 years old and he is 34. He is very kind and loving. Should I overlook his laziness? HELP WANTED

DEAR ABBY: In 1954 my husband went to a doctor for a check-up. The doctor told him he needed an operation. My husband never went back. It's been almost five years already and my husband says he never felt better. What do you make of this?

DEAR ABBY: I am going with a girl I love very much. She is 16 and thinks she is pregnant. I don't know what to do because I am younger than she is and couldn't support her if I did marry her. She is scared to death to tell her folks and I am more so. Is there any possible way for her to find out if she is pregnant without waiting six weeks? She is tortur-

DEAR MRS. J. H.: Either your husband didn't need the operation in the first place—or he still needs ing herself. Please tell us what to do right away.

SERIOUS TROUBLE
DEAR SERIOUS: You must tell your parents at once and she must tell hers. They are your best friends and the only ones who can help you. DO NOT CONSIDER ANY OTHER SOLUTION!

CONFIDENTIAL TO MARVIN: You're robbing Peter to pay the Paul-bearers. Quit working so hard.

Railroad Section Dropped By Santa Fe

AUSTIN (AP)—Discontinuance of Panhandle and Santa Fe passenger trains between San Angelo and the Oklahoma-Texas line north of Chillicothe was authorized yesterday.

Operation of the trains in Oklahoma was discontinued Sept. 21, 1958. Railway officials testified the Texas section of the line showed a deficit of $92,317 this year with a predicted deficit of $130,000 for the next 12 months.

Hoffa Faces A Tough Choice Over Cleanup

WASHINGTON (AP) — James R. Hoffa faces an unhappy choice today. Either way, his continued rule of the big Teamsters union is in jeopardy. Under a new court order, Hoffa must either lead a thorough cleanup of his union or face a possible jail sentence for contempt.

He told a Teamsters rally in Newark, N.J. Wednesday night that the union would respect the federal court order "although we may not like it in its entirety." But he added: "Be assured, though, it's only a matter of time until we file an appeal to the Supreme Court."

If the tough-talking Hoffa espouses reform, bringing disciplinary and ouster proceedings against some of his closest lieutenants as ordered, he loses support of key men who helped him move to the union's top job.

If Hoffa continues to balk at union reforms — only recently he said there was no Teamsters corruption to investigate—he's bound to run into toils of the federal courts. That is the dilemma facing Hoffa, 46, as the result of a U.S. Court of Appeals ruling Wednesday. The court held unanimously that Hoffa and his union, the nation's largest claiming 1,600,000 members, must knuckle down to reforms recommended by court-appointed monitors. Obedience to reforms may include a union investigation of charges against Hoffa himself. The monitors have been holding off a batch of charges brought by union members against Hoffa, until monitor enforcement powers were cleared up. Hoffa has been cornered before, however, and emerged in two recent criminal trials. Hoffa still could ask for a Supreme Court review of the appeals court decision. He withheld comment on the ruling. The appeals court ordered Hoffa and his union to comply with clean-up orders already issued. This specifically included orders, based on Senate committee disclosures, to investigate Owen (Bert) Brennan, Detroit; Ray Cohen, Philadelphia, and John J. McNamara, New York. All three are powerful Teamsters officials and close associates of Hoffa. The appeals court also outlined a procedure whereby the monitors may force compliance with future reform recommendations through orders of U.S. District Court Judge F. Dickinson Letts. The 84-year-old Judge Letts has been ruling consistently with the monitors, and it was his interpretation of court enforcement powers of monitor cleanup orders that was upheld by the appeals court. Hoffa accepted the monitorship a year and a half ago as part of a compromise settlement of a lawsuit that charged he rigged a Teamsters convention to get himself elected.

THE LONG LONG TRAIL

Assassin's Bullet Brought Close To Stormy Career

Editors Note: Huey P. Long introduced Louisiana to a type of government it had never known when he became governor in 1928. Gov. Earl K. Long, his younger brother who was confined to a Texas psychiatric clinic two weeks ago, is the unaltered master of Huey's inheritance. This second of a three-part series traces Huey's rise to power.

By HUGH A. MULLIGAN
BATON ROUGE, La. (AP)—At night a spotlight beams down from the 34-story Louisiana State Capitol on the sunken garden where Huey P. Long lies buried beneath his massive bronze statue.

By day there are flowers and tourists and an occasional unforgetting friend or foe pausing in remembrance of the incredible era when every man was promised he would be king — and one man almost made it.

But right or day Huey's stocky shadow falls across Louisiana, dividing its people as it has for the past 30 years into two hostile, politically powerful factions: those who revere the late Kingfish as the best friend the poor man ever had, and those who remember him as a ruthless tyrant, petty, vulgar and vindictive.

This is the house that Huey built. His name, his image, his memory stamped indelibly on the electorate. The resulting Long vs. anti-Long alignment of voters provides the state with the South's only equivalent of a thriving two-party system.

When Gov. Earl K. Long, Huey's younger brother, was shot full of sedatives and flown off to a Texas mental clinic after two profane and abusive speeches to the Legislature, Louisiana added another dramatic chapter in the bizarre history of its famous political dynasty.

Speculation continues that perhaps this is the last chapter, that Earl Long, even if he returns to health, can never again pick up the pieces of his badly shaken political empire.

But in the past the Longs have shown amazing comeback power. The dynasty survived impeachment, assassination, million-dollar scandals, several reform waves and numerous interfamily battles without losing its emotional tug on the hearts of the people.

First there was Huey, the founder and still patron saint of the dynasty.

The eighth of nine children of a backwoods farmer in the pine lands of Winn Parish, north-central Louisiana, Huey entered public life as a traveling salesman. Glib, ambitious, gifted with folksy philosophy and earthy humor, Huey peddled a kitchen lard door to door, and studied law in his spare time. Sitting out World War I because he "wasn't mad at anybody," he won election to the Railway Commission, promptly became a hero by championing the "little people" in tilts with the Standard Oil Co., the telephone company and major utilities.

By the time he was 30, the minimum age for qualifying, Huey ran for governor, promising free school text books, free trapping, good roads and reduced gas tax. Rain kept his growing uplands following from turning out in the expected numbers, but four years later he swept in on the wings of bigger and better promises.

Huey kept his promises. He came through with the roads, bridges, textbooks, reduced utility rates, and, true to his threats as well as his promises, sent a New Orleans toll bridge company into bankruptcy by building a free bridge.

Less than a year in office, Huey was impeached and tried. The charges included bribery, misappropriation of state funds, removal of school officials for political purposes, violent abuse of citizens and officials, misconduct in public places, lobbying on the floor of the Legislature, and seeking to arrange the murder of J. Y. Sanders Jr., an anti-Long member of the House.

By adroit manipulation of the Legislature, Huey won on all counts and embarked on a ruthless power grab that soon brought the whole state to heel.

With the help of the National Guard, the state police and a rubber-stamp Legislature that he boasted he "could buy like a sack of potatoes," the Kingfish reduced the apathetic citizenry to a state of political slavery. Shrewdly, he disguised his dictatorship at first by playing the role of rustic clown, marching with the band at Louisiana State football games, receiving a German admiral in green pajamas and indulging in other bits of comic relief that soon wore thin.

Huey the dynamiter moved on to the U.S. Senate without relinquishing his hold on the state. He ran afoul of President Franklin D. Roosevelt, whom he helped nominate, when his share-the-wealth program, promising every family $4,000 for a home, an automobile and a radio by liquidating all personal fortunes over $3,000, boomed him into national prominence. "Every man was a king but no man wore a crown" was the catchy slogan Huey unabashedly lifted from William Jennings Bryan's Cross of Gold speech—and hoped would carry him to the presidency.

Federal income tax inspectors were ready to move in and cut Huey down when an assassin's bullet did the job for them in the marble hallway of the magnificent skyscraper Capitol that Huey built without knowing it was to become his headstone.

Before he died, Huey had a word of advice for his followers: "If those fellows ever try to use the powers I've given them without me to hold them down, they'll all land in the penitentiary."

The warning went unheeded. The following administration, riding the Long dynamite wagon out of control, embarked on a fantastic orgy of kickbacks, deducts, double dips and graft that plundered the state of an estimated 100 million dollars and saw Gov. Richard Leche, President James Monroe Smith of Louisiana State University and several lesser officials go to the penitentiary.

Humid Weather Will Take Starch Out Again Today

By The Associated Press

Warm, humid weather—the kind that takes that starch out of folks and frocks alike—covered Texas again Thursday.

Reports of partly cloudy skies came from most of East, South and Central Texas. North and West Texas had clear skies.

Forecasts called for thunderstorms in isolated sections of South Central and Southwest Texas through Friday, with thunder showers in much of the rest of the state.

The warm weather was part of the general weather picture for the eastern two-thirds of the country. City folks and country people sweltered from the Atlantic Coast to the desert regions of the Southwest, with little or no relief in sight.

Presidio, on the Rio Grande, had the nation's highest temperature Wednesday—a sizzling 112.

Texas readings generally were in the high 80s and 90s Wednesday, although a few points hit or topped 100. Wink had 106, El Paso 102, Laredo and Van Horn 101 and Midland, Dalhart and Big Spring 100.

The mercury zoomed up following Wednesday morning thunderstorms which raked areas north of Dallas, around Sherman and Denison and in the vicinity of Waco, Wichita Falls and Childress.

Denver Boy Wins U. S. Spelling Bee

WASHINGTON (AP) — Joel Montgomery, 12, of Denver, Colo., today won the 32nd annual National Spelling Bee.

He defeated runner-up Robert Crossley, 12, of Center Square, Pa., to become the first boy national champion since 1954.

Joel successfully spelled the word "fanfaronade" after Robert missed it. Then under the rules he successfully negotiated one more word, "catamaran" to clinch the championship.

The last Texan was Elaine Hassell, 13, of Dallas. She tripped in Round 22 on the word "porphyry." Her attempt was "porfire." The word means a rock made of felspar crystals. When she lost, only three spellers remained in the contest.

"Fanfaronade" means swaggering or vain boasting. A "catamaran" is any vessel with twin hulls side by side.

The last boy to win top honors was William Cashore of Norristown, Pa.

The winner gets $1,000, a week-end trip to New York, a trophy and a plaque for his school. All the finalists get at least $25 awards.

A boy also finished in third place. The last to be eliminated before the contest settled down into a two-way tie was Allan Lee Kramer, 13, of Lake Worth, Fla.

He misspelled "ratiocination," placing an "s" where "c" should be. Allan Lee then went out on the 13th round of the morning and the 24th of the two-day bee. His stumbling block word means reasoning or exact thinking.

Robert and Joel gave each other leashes on life in the boy-for-boy duel. To win, the speller must correct any mistake of his rival and then spell correctly an entirely different word.

On his fifth word in the show-down Robert spelled "susurrus," meaning a whispering sound, as "susurus." Joel got that one right but then failed on "vinaigrous," which means sour tempered. He came up with "vinegrous."

Robert then had his chance to go ahead but he missed out by making it "vinaigrous."

The combination of errors put them back on an even footing.

Today's first round knocked out 14-year-old Jeanette McGhee of Jackson, Ohio. It also produced a dispute over instructions from a judge.

Jeanette slipped up on "percentage."

The dispute arose over advice which Dr. Belmont Farley, chief judge, gave to Benson S. Alleman, who reads off the words.

Alleman pronounced the word "capias" to Betty Jo Abel, 14, of North Canton, Ohio. Farley interjected to suggest the dictionary provided one other way. As Farley put it, this pronunciation showed a long "a."

Miss Saralena Sherman, representing the Topeka, (Kan.) Daily Capital, protested that Farley's suggestion had brought out a key letter in the word. Miss Sherman's paper sponsored one of the 11 youngsters who survived the rounds. She is Charlotte Ballard, 14, of Hazelton, Kan.

Arthur J. Keeney, representing Betty Jo's sponsor, the Canton Repository, pointed out that the slim, dark-haired girl had not asked for the judge's additional pronunciation.

The officials decided the word should be cast out and Betty Jo was challenged with another. She got by easily, though, spelling "triumvirate."

Cathy Coates, 13, of Rocky River, Ohio, misspelled "ephebis." Charlotte Ballard missed out on "additament."

Round 15, the fourth of the second day, took out Irving Gordon, 14, of Marlboro, N.H.

Irving a repeater from last year's contest, misspelled "acauld."

Round 16 eliminated Betty Jo Abel who missed out on "cacoleit."

Alleman, announcer, stands beside her. Next in line is Thomas E. Lewis of Albuquerque, N. M., the next speller. Other contestants are in background.

Gov. Long Meets With Aides Again On Sanity Hearing Case

GALVESTON (AP)—The second day of conferences got under way today to determine whether Louisiana's Gov. Earl K. Long will undergo a sanity hearing next Tuesday.

The conferences resumed after three Louisiana doctors and an assistant Louisiana attorney general talked at length with the governor yesterday.

The talks center around the question of whether Long will voluntarily remain in John Sealy hospital here for further mental diagnosis and treatment or whether he will demand a sanity hearing.

Three court-appointed attorneys talked at great length yesterday with the corps of doctors treating Long. Then they went into a two-hour session with the governor's wife.

Mrs. Long flew here yesterday accompanied by Dr. Roy Wright, a nephew of the governor, and Dr. William Cook of Baton Rouge. Dr. John T. Moseley, also of Baton Rouge, joined the group here.

Sources said the three doctors talked for some time with the governor. A source said they discussed with Long the question of his agreeing to further treatment, thus avoiding the sanity hearing.

Late yesterday, Theo Cangelosi, a Louisiana assistant attorney general, arrived and talked with the governor.

A question arose as to whether Louisiana attorneys can represent Long at the sanity hearing. Under Texas law, only attorneys registered in the state may practice before a court.

Adrian S. Levy Sr., spokesman for the three attorneys appointed by the court to represent the governor, said "We discussed the case in detail with the doctors so we could understand the governor's physical disposition."

Levy further said, "We took the logical procedure of initially speaking with the governor's physicians and then his wife before conferring with the governor."

He declined further comment, explaining it was not proper for him to discuss a client's case.

Levy said he and the other two attorneys appointed by Probate Judge Hugh Gibson to represent Long in the hearing may have a statement after a conference with the governor today.

That conference may answer the questions:

1. Whether Long will voluntarily continue treatment, if he does Texas law allows the sanity hearing to be cancelled. If he refuses, the hearing must be held to determine whether he is mentally ill and should be committed to a hospital for treatment.

2. If a sanity hearing is held, whether Long will be represented by attorneys the court appointed. Texas law permits him to attend the hearing and to name his own attorneys.

and should be committed to a hospital for treatment.

2. If a sanity hearing is held, whether Long will be represented by attorneys the court appointed. Texas law permits him to attend the hearing and to name his own attorneys.

Seven applicants for police patrolmen took tests Wednesday. Police Chief C. L. Rogers and Roy Anderson, assistant city manager, conducted the examinations.

Five of the applicants made satisfactory grades, Rogers said. To pass the examinations, the applicants must make at least 70 of a possible 100.

Rogers said two men would be hired of the five applicants. A committee of Anderson, City Manager A. K. Steinheimer, Rogers and another police officer will select the new men, probably next Thursday.

Many Notary Bonds Listed

Over 450 notaries filed their bonds with the county clerk before the Wednesday night deadline.

The count was 453, Pauline Petty announced this morning. Any postponing the fees after the deadline will have to wait until authorization can be obtained from Austin before handling any more notary work.

All late filings must be checked in Austin, and this usually takes about five days, the county clerk said. Fee for the notary work is $2, Mrs. Petty said, and is split evenly between the state and the county.

Mrs. Petty said that she thought there were over 500 notaries in the county. Fees are paid every two years.

The man in jail in Odessa now on charges of stealing checks is a sign painter and worked for Peurifoy Radiator Co. here the day the checks were stolen.

LIONS CLUB PROGRAM

Housing Authority Project Outlined

Public housing is not the answer to all the problems in the overcrowded, ill-housed and under-ferried areas of the city, but it is part of an answer, James Bruce Frazier told the Downtown Lions Club Wednesday.

He was speaking concerning a proposal for public approval of a referendum which would permit the City of Big Spring to establish a housing authority. This would be the first step toward seeking a public housing allotment for low-income family groups, he said.

A survey conducted by the Big Spring Civic Improvement League showed some 2,000 homes with sub-standard accommodations, Frazier said. Several hundred of these are miserable hovels or little better, he declared.

Frazier projected pictures of some of the low grade housing and outdoor privies which exist only a matter of a few blocks from the downtown district. He observed that these matters affected the health of the entire community.

Dr. Fabian Gomez added that aside from the benefits that public housing would bring to the families fortunate enough to qualify for places in the units, the mere presence of a good example could well stir the remainder of the community to try to upgrade its own facilities.

Service awards ranging from 10 to 25 years were distributed to several members, and Joe Pond indicated Rad Ward into the club. Pete Cook, president-elect, and other new officers were installed by Larson Lloyd, zone chairman.

ROCKY ROCKETTS FOUR HOMERS IN O'S PARK

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Maybe you remember last year's All-Star game. There were power guys aplenty. Banks and Aaron and Mantle, Berra, Mays and Thomas, Jensen and Cerv, Skowron, Williams, Triandos and Kaline — yet a record was set when no one got an extra-base hit.

The game was played at Baltimore's Memorial Stadium.

It's the toughest home run park in the majors. In the five years it has been a big league ball yard, only seven visiting sluggers had hit as many as two home runs in one game there. No one had hit three in one game.

Yet that's where Cleveland's Rocky Colavito tied a major league record Wednesday night by becoming the eighth player ever to hit four in one game. He also became only the third to do it with successive shots, tagging drives of 350, 400, 400-plus and 425 feet as the Indians blasted the Orioles out of the AL lead 11-4.

Colavito, 25, now has hit 18 for the season, one behind league leader Harmon Killebrew of Washington. These were his first of the year against the Orioles and they came against three right-handed pitchers. Colavito, a right-handed slugger who should "prefer" lefty pitchers, has hit all but three of his 18 off right-handers.

With Baltimore jolted loose from a deadlock, Chicago's White Sox took a one-game lead in the AL by beating Washington 4-1. New York climbed above .500 for the first time since April 25 by defeating Kansas City 6-4, gaining control of fourth place by one percentage point over Detroit, despite a 10-9 Tiger victory at Boston.

In the National League, Milwaukee's lead was cut to one game with a 5-2 loss at St. Louis while second place San Francisco won 11-7 at Pittsburgh. Cincinnati beat the Chicago Cubs 6-4, and Philadelphia defeated Los Angeles 2-1.

Colavito, who walked in the first inning, drove in six runs and scored five with his 4-for-4 explosion. His homers — for a total of 105 in a five-year career — came in the third with one on, against loser Jerry Walker (4-3); in the fifth (bases empty) and sixth (one on) against Arnie Portocarrero; and in the ninth (bases empty) against Ernie Johnson. Three reached the left field bleachers, the other went over the left-center field fence.

Only Lou Gehrig of the Yankees (1932) and Pat Seery of the White Sox (1948) had hit four in one previously in the AL. Six have done it in the National League with Boston's Bob Lowe (1894), the first, and Gehrig the only one to hit four in succession.

Rocky Colavito, Cleveland Indians slugger, hit four home runs in one game Wednesday night at Baltimore's Memorial Stadium.

Amateur Can Win It, Says Jimmy Demaret

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.

MAMARONECK, N. Y. (AP)—Trying to pick the winner of the 59th National Open Golf Championship starting today is as useless as trying to hit a nut with a peashooter.

There are so many unpredictable factors involved in the 105-man field that such an able and neutral observer as Jimmy Demaret said the 72-hole championship offers the greatest opportunity for an amateur victory since Bobby Jones stumbled in to tie Al Espinosa 30 years ago, then drubbed his pro rival in a 36-hole playoff.

Jones also won the next year en route to his Grand Slam of taking the British and U. S. Open and amateur titles. Since then only one amateur, Johnny Goodman in 1933, has won the Open crown.

No one, least of all dapper Demaret, really expects an amateur to win.

"But I look for an amateur to be in there with a chance to win when they start the final round Saturday," Demaret said. Demaret chose not to compete this year.

"Of course, man against man, you can't pick anyone to beat Hogan and Snead," he said. But Charlie Coe (U.S. amateur champion) is one of the best golfers in the world. And Deane Berman (British amateur titleholder) and Bill Hyndman (runnerup to Berman) are good golfers. They play as much golf as the pros—more than I do—so what's the difference?"

There's the weather, hot and humid, ailments afflicting several star players, and the tightly trapped, 6,673-yard, par-70 Winged Foot west course, which has permitted some amazing scores in practice rounds.

It could be the year when someone smashes Hogan's 11-year-old championship record of 276 or one when a 283 or 284 score is good enough to take the $10,000 first prize.

Coe, had a 65 on the west course Wednesday but called it a freak round in which he was playing badly and driving far out into the rough.

Gene Littler, a favorite of many, had a 66, which he said was his only good score in three days since Sam Snead has clipped 12 strokes off par in six practice rounds.

Some of the other players who have drawn special attention include Mike Souchak, a former assistant to Winged Foot pro Claude Harmon, who know the west course very well; Don Whit, who has been a hot streak lately; 1952-champion Julius Boros, whose skill at playing out of deep traps should count; two-time champion Cary Middlecoff and the defender, Tommy Bolt.

Bin has come home twice this year.

Fourth event on the program is a two-year-old dash that brings out the eligibles for the Futures.

Among these youngsters is Leanne Leo, owned by Oklahomaer R. D. Stanfield. She is a $6500 Penalty Payment nominee in the 1959 All-American Futurity and from her recent sterling introductory performance here, this appears a reasonable investment for a chance at the now $120,000 estimate purse.

The 400-yard Quarter Horse event, holding tenth place on the program, is the supporting feature. Clearduck, owned by Texan J. B. Ferguson, ran well her last start on the West Coast and seems the probable favorite. Askew Arky also ran well his last appearance on the Coast, while Be Glad, leased by Jack Hughes of Junction, Tex., ran well here last year.

The remaining contestants are: Poncho Whiz, No Dancer, Paula Laico, Shippin, Bachari, Custus Bill and Demp Lewis.

Keith House and David Harmonson divided time on the mound for the Devils, limiting the down-trodden Braves to a single hit.

That was a sixth inning one-baser off the bat of James Dunn.

The Devils crowded 10 of their tallies across the plate in the first inning.

Howard Bain hit a home run and two doubles for the Devils.

Paul Soiden and Gene Stormes shared mound duties for the defeated nine.

In the minor league engagement, the Cubs nosed out the Red Caps, 9-8.

The loser was Richard Olson, who yielded three hits, issued four bases on balls and struck out five.

Wilbanks' Condemnation Entry In Friday Feature

RUIDOSO, N. M. (SC) — The "Downs" swings into its third weekend of racing Friday featuring the six furlong "Hollywood Allowance." Hickory Red, owner-trained by Oklahomaer Walter Merrick, will be parading postward the probable favorite.

He has had one out and, should he run back to his Chicago form, can handle this field. No Gal, carrying the hopes of W. L. McDonnell of Artesia, N. M., is likely second choice — was a victim of bad racing luck his last start.

Condemnation, representing Jess Wilbanks of Big Spring, Tex., will well here last year — is a stout finisher and could pick up this field in the stretch.

Braves May Have Made A Mistake On G. Conley

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

For all their pitching depth, maybe the Milwaukee's Braves made a mistake when they ended Gene Conley's rebellion by peddling the right-hander to Philadelphia.

They've lost seven of their last 12 games, with only three complete games from their staff in that span. And Wednesday night they lost their second in a row, 5-2 at St. Louis, reducing their National League lead to one game while Conley was beating Los Angeles 2-1 with a four-hitter.

The Dodgers scored in the fourth when Junior Gilliam singled and came around on Wally Moon's single and a doubleplay.

The Braves continued to stumble, second place San Francisco closed in with an 11-7 victory at Pittsburgh. Cincinnati defeated the Chicago Cubs 6-4.

Conley gave up nothing but singles, walked only one and struck out two in a duel with loser Danny McDevitt (3-6) and Clem Labine. The Dodgers scored in the fourth when Junior Gilliam singled and came around on Wally Moon's single and a doubleplay.

Willie Kirkland and Orlando Cepeda homered for the Giants, who cracked six Pirate pitchers for 19 hits. Winless George Witt lost his fifth. Sam Jones (7-5) won the fourth in a row, but needed Stu Miller's relief help in a five-run seventh.

Solo homers by Roy McMillan and Frank Robinson in the last two innings clinched it for the Reds. Bob Purkey (6-7), beat the Cubs for the first time since 1955. He allowed only four hits, but gave way to reliever Orlando Pena because of a blistered finger in the eighth. Glen Hobbie (6-6) was the loser for the Cubs, who scored on two-run homers by Sammy Taylor, in the fifth, and Ernie Banks, who hit his 15th in the ninth.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

The Big Spring Tigers, who are enjoying their most successful season in many years, will offer a trophy for the leading hitter of this year's team.

The three who grasped the idea for the award were Esequiel Valles, Sonny Dutchover and Mike Franco, who will furnish the trophy.

One of the big league clubs which professed no interest in Raymond Culp, the Austin schoolboy who signed a fat bonus contract with Philadelphia last week, was Milwaukee.

The Braves' birdog in this area is Earle Halstead, so it wouldn't be surprising if Culp goes ahead and becomes the next Robin Roberts of the Phillie staff.

Halstead, a furniture salesman by trade, has never been known for his shrewdness in judging baseball talent.

Ex-Big Springer Billy Maxwell's golf earnings for the year through last week's Eastern Open amount to $12,246.66.

With the $950 poke picked up at Baltimore, Billy slipped in ahead of Jay Hebert in seventh place among the year's money winners—a lofty position considering the fact that Maxwell has yet to win a tournament this season.

Bill leads all Texans on the list. Fred Hawkins is listed 12th, with winnings totaling $10,810.66. Just back of him is Wesley Ellis Jr., at $10,630.10. Ernie Vossler is 14th, at $9,068.67 and Jackie Burke 18th, at $8,454.

Jack Tayrien, who starred in two sports (football and track) at Odessa High School, failed to make his grades at Oklahoma State University.

The University of Southern California began to look to the South-West Conference to fill out its football schedule when the Pacific Coast Conference officially was broken up.

The Trojans play Baylor in 1959, TCU and Baylor in '60, SMU in '61 and the Texas Aggies in '64.

USC athletic officials are disturbed over the manner in which the Rams have captured the fancy of the football fans out that way, so are trying to book the biggest attractions possible.

SC's football revenue was off between $150,000 and $200,000 the past year.

Texas teams always draw well in Los Angeles for obvious reasons—there are hundreds of thousands of former Texans living in that vicinity.

Yippy Rankin, the Midland athlete who picked on Big Spring teams in two sports (football and baseball), is one of the better boys DeWitt Weaver has recruited at Texas Tech this spring.

More than any other individual, Rankin was responsible for Midland's 7-0 victory over Big Spring on the football greensward in 1957.

His father, Walt Rankin, was a Raider fullback in 1938 and '39.

Jerry Arnold, who recently signed a football letter of intent at the University of Houston, is a 6-foot-2, 205-pound good-looking young man who may make a career as a singer and song writer.

He wrote the pop tune, "Little Blue Boy." Another of his ditties, "One Little Word" was due to be waxed sometime this week.

Sugar Hart Eyeing Fight With Jordan After Win

CHICAGO (AP)—Jordan (Sugar) Hart sat in his dressing room, wiping from his face the blood of his latest ring opponent, and set his sights high for his future in boxing.

He wants to meet Don Jordan, the welterweight champion, right away.

"He and I could have a real fine time in the ring. I can whip him," the division's No. 1 contender said Wednesday night after winning a unanimous 10-round decision over Isaac Logart in Chicago Stadium.

"A battle of the Sugars. That would draw a half-million-dollar gate in Philadelphia," Stein enthused. "Otherwise, we'll settle for the winner of the Jordan-Denny Moyer fight, (July 10, Portland, Ore.)," he said. Moyer is ranked No. 4 among the welterweights.

"No, I think I'll hunt," Rocky joked as he headed for the showers.

Tax Men Check Texas U. Land

HOUSTON (AP)—The tax status of University of Texas property in Houston is being checked by city officials.

Councilman Louis Welch said yesterday an opinion by the state attorney general's office indicates that some of the school's revenue-producing property is taxable.

City Atty. Richard Burks and tax assessor-collector Fred Ankerman began a survey of university properties.

Welch said Asst. Atty. Gen. V. Geppert gave an unofficial opinion that revenue producing property not used for education purposes is taxable. The opinion was given in a recent speech in San Angelo before the Tax Assessor-Collectors Assn. of Texas.

Atty. Gen. Will Wilson later said the opinion wasn't to be construed as an official one. Geppert is chief of Wilson's taxation division.

The university has 8 or 9 revenue bearing tracts. Three of the occupants, including two hotels, pay taxes under long term lease arrangements. Several parking lots and some commercial rental property are not taxed.

Herter Seeks Basis For Future Talks

GENEVA (AP)—U.S. Secretary of State Christian A. Herter met with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko today to find out if there is any basis for continuing negotiations for a Berlin agreement.

Taking the lead for the West in the Big Four negotiations, Herter met with Gromyko after consulting with his Western colleagues.

Herter had talked for 30 minutes with Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd of Britain, French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville, and Ambassador Wilhelm Grewe of West Germany.

Gromyko showed some signs of willingness to lower his price for ending the Soviet threat to West Berlin temporarily.

Herter and his colleagues had to find out, however, whether Gromyko was willing to lower the price enough to give further negotiation reasonable hope of agreement.

They were completely opposed to accepting the Soviet suggestion for a one-year deadline on a Berlin settlement, which the Russians could use to prolong the threat of a future blockade.

It was understood that the method of approach was to try to determine whether there were elements in various Western proposals on Berlin, and in the unacceptable Soviet package plan of Wednesday which could be pulled out to provide a hopeful new basis for continuing the talks here.

Failing this, an early collapse of the conference was a serious possibility.

Gromyko denied Western charges that the Soviet proposal is a take-it-or-leave-it ultimatum.

Fired Minister Has Heart Attack

COLUMBUS, Ga. (AP)—A Presbyterian minister dismissed from his pulpit in a dispute having racial overtones is in serious condition today with a heart attack.

Doctors said the Rev. Robert B. McNeill suffered the attack Wednesday night as the result of "the pressure of the past few days."

The 44-year-old minister was dismissed as pastor of the First Presbyterian church here Sunday after months of dissension within the church.

The unrest began shortly after McNeill wrote an article for a magazine in which he advocated a "creative contact between leaders of both races" to ease the South's racial tensions.

Sunday, a judicial commission of the Southwest Georgia Presbytery removed McNeill as pastor.

The head of the commission, the Rev. Frank King of Valdosta, said the racial issue "has merely been used to trigger the explosion," and was not the major problem in the Columbus church.

"The present difficulty is deep and involved and has a history of several years standing," he said.

3 Children Die In Refuse Burner

RAY, N.D. (AP) — Three children burned to death Wednesday in a trailer camp refuse burner into which they apparently crawled while at play.

The victims were Rodney Brecken, 5; his sister, Debra, 3; and Larry Dean Slater, 5.

Sheriff Leroy Lutz said investigation indicated either that the youngsters had set a fire in the metal cylinder with matches or that they embers started the fatal blaze.

The children were missed about 10:30 a.m. and found about an hour later.

The incinerator, made of an old steam engine boiler, is about 12 feet high and three feet in diameter. A door opens into one side.

The burner is about a half block from the nearest trailer. It was a windy day, Lutz said, and cries couldn't have been heard. Parents of the dead children live in the trailer court.

Tax Men Check Texas U. Land

HOUSTON (AP)—The tax status of University of Texas property in Houston is being checked by city officials.

Councilman Louis Welch said yesterday an opinion by the state attorney general's office indicates that some of the school's revenue-producing property is taxable.

City Atty. Richard Burks and tax assessor-collector Fred Ankenmann began a survey of university properties.

Welch said Asst. Atty. Gen. W. V. Geppert gave an unofficial opinion that revenue producing property not used for education purposes is taxable. The opinion was given in a recent speech in San Angelo before the Tax Assessor-Collectors Assn. of Texas.

Atty. Gen. Will Wilson later said the opinion wasn't to be construed as an official one. Geppert is chief of Wilson's taxation division.

The university has 8 or 9 revenue bearing tracts. Three of the occupants, including two hotels, pay taxes under long term lease arrangements. Several parking lots and some commercial retail property are not taxed.

Herter Seeks Basis For Future Talks

GENEVA (AP)—U.S. Secretary of State Christian A. Herter met with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko today to find out if there is any basis for continuing negotiations for a Berlin agreement.

Taking the lead for the West in the Big Four negotiations, Herter met with Gromyko after consulting with his Western colleagues.

Herter had talked for 30 minutes with Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd of Britain, French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville, and Ambassador Wilhelm Grewe of West Germany.

Gromyko showed some signs of willingness to lower his price for ending the Soviet threat to West Berlin temporarily.

Herter and his colleagues had to find out, however, whether Gromyko was willing to lower the price enough to give further negotiation reasonable hope of agreement.

They were completely opposed to accepting the Soviet suggestion for a one-year deadline on a Berlin settlement, which the Russians could use to prolong the threat of a future blockade.

It was understood that the method of approach was to try to determine whether there were elements in various Western proposals on Berlin and in the unacceptable Soviet package plan of Wednesday which could be pulled out to provide a hopeful new basis for continuing the talks here.

Falling this, an early collapse of the conference was a serious possibility.

Gromyko denied Western charges that the Soviet proposal is a take-it-or-leave-it ultimatum.

Nicaragua Demands Total Surrender Of Rebel Force

Missile Sub

The nation's first fleet ballistic missile submarine, the USS George Washington, hits the water after her launching at Groton, Conn. Mrs. Robert B. Anderson, wife of the secretary of the Treasury, christened the vessel, a 330-foot, 5,400-ton craft that will launch Polaris missiles from the depths of the ocean or from the surface.

MANAGUA, Nicaragua (AP)—Nicaragua's government today held out for the unconditional surrender of rebel invaders from Costa Rica after rejecting an offer from 45 of the insurgents to give up if given safe conduct out of the country.

Encouraged by eyewitness reports of rebel disintegration, the commander of Nicaragua's armed forces, Gen. Anastasio Somoza, said he thought the 45 would surrender today. They face trial, with nine-year prison terms the maximum penalty possible.

Two newsmen who visited the rebel band and brought out their spokesman, said 16 of the group refused to give up and marched off into the mountains to continue their defiance of Gen. Somoza and his brother, President Luis Somoza.

According to government reports, the 16 holdouts are the biggest contingent still trying to fight the Somozas. Somoza claims another planeload of about 40 rebels who landed from Costa Rica nearly two weeks ago has been split into groups of twos and threes and is no longer a threat. Rumors of additional invasions have not materialized.

Despite the government claims and the eyewitness report, a Nicaraguan rebel radio heard in Honduras said insurgents killed 86 Nicaraguan National Guardsmen in fighting for the town of Boaco, some 60 miles northeast of Managua. The broadcast added that newly acquired planes were bringing ammunition and weapons to the rebels in the Boaco area.

The newsmen who went by jeep and on foot to reach the rebel band were Mario Bisetti of the Columbia Broadcasting System and Rogelio Caparros of the Havana magazine Bohemia. They found them in the jungle about 100 miles east of Managua.

The newsmen said the insurgents were in pitiful condition, tired, hungry, frightened and eager to give up. They had not eaten for two days and had marched steadily for 21 hours.

Their leader, Pedro Joaquin Chamorro, scion of a prominent publishing family in Managua, let his comrades vote on whether to continue the fight.

All decided to surrender except Chamorro and 15 others, including Luis Gonzaga Cardenal, member of another prominent Nicaraguan family. They dubbed themselves fifth columnists and marched into the mountains.

The rest raised the white flag—a bed sheet on a long pole.

The rebels delegated Father Federico Arguello, a young Roman Catholic priest who had joined them as chaplain, to negotiate surrender terms with the National Guard, Nicaragua's army. The priest told Guard headquarters the men would give up if their lives were spared and they were allowed to leave the country.

Judge Orders New Hearing On Imports

HOUSTON (AP) — Federal Judge Joe Ingraham held a 45-minute hearing yesterday on a suit by a firm asking permission to import more oil. Then he ordered attorneys to return later with a clearer presentation.

Ingraham said he was confused by oral arguments on the suit filed by Eastern States Petroleum and Chemical Co. The company asks that customs collectors be restrained from refusing to permit importation of 1,420,720 barrels of oil.

Approval of the petition would have the effect of doubling the quota assigned the firm under the federal mandatory imports control program.

The company, authorized to import 12,480 barrels daily, claims the quota should be 25,168 barrels. It says an error was made in computing the quota. The difference for the period of March 11 through June 30 is 1,420,720 barrels.

Many Volunteers Aid State Hospital Work

The number of volunteer workers at the state hospital may be at one of its highest totals, says Mrs. LaVada Beck, assistant volunteer coordinator.

Mrs. Beck has served as an aide to Mrs. Ira Thurman, now absent on a six-weeks vacation to Venezuela, since Dec. 3. Mrs. Thurman is expected to return June 15.

Volunteers are serving in every department now. Looking back at figures in April—which is the most recent accurate count for the normal uncompensated assistance—Mrs. Beck shows that:

There were 134 regular service volunteers at that time, contributing some 829 donated hours of labor.

There were 170 occasional volunteers, offering almost half that many donated hours.

Volunteers help in virtually every situation at the State Hospital, she said. The biggest number help in recreational therapy and several in occupational therapy and music.

Others assist in regular ward work, helping to feed patients, bathe them, write letters to relatives and aid in applying make-up.

Eight Latin-American volunteers, she added, are visiting and performing various deeds for the Latin-American group.

Volunteers—some of them teachers, beauticians, secretaries, housewives—offer their services in the fashion shop and help in the charm school where posture, make-up, etc., is taught. Several alternate acting as hostesses in the library, assisting the patients in choosing reading material and encouraging visiting.

Hostesses are used in the recreation hall, and they suggest games and supervise activities.

Mrs. Dorothea Baldwin, occupational therapist, lauds the volunteer workers. She adds that housing quarters for the rehabilitation program, which counts heavily on volunteer aid, will be expanded sometime around Sept. 1 with the completion of work on a converted residence.

Renovator is being done on a barracks on the north grounds and Miss Sandra Sloan, daughter of the former director of the Big Spring State Hospital, Dr. Roy C. Sloan, was named to the State Hospital staff this week.

Miss Sloan and Mrs. Jane Dotson, a former teacher in the Knott school, were added to the staff and will strengthen the hospital's rehabilitation program considerably.

Dr. Preston Harrison, director, and Miss Dorothea Baldwin, head of occupational therapy, were pleased to have the new workers.

Mrs. Dotson will augment the recreational department and Miss Sloan will become director of the music department. Miss Sloan's father left here in 1957 to accept a similar position in Indiana and now is director of a mental hospital in Mt. Pleasant, Iowa.

Mrs. Dotson will work through the summer and teach in a Big Spring school next fall.

The musical therapy over which Miss Sloan will have charge will be most effective now, said Dr. Harrison, because of the addition of the $3,500 public address system which was dedicated April 16.

The community-backed project of Jimmy Greene is now enabling therapy by ear to be an invaluable aid in the hospital work, Dr. Harrison explained.

A hearing on the Gevinson plans is scheduled before the Dallas City Council June 29.

Mrs. Jones Theater, a public library, a private library, a symphony hall and an opera house will be included in plans for the 21.3-acre tract.

The area has been the center of controversy since Dr. Daniel Gevinson of Miami, Fla., announced plans to buy the tract and develop it with multi-story apartments, office buildings and a hotel.

A hearing on the Gevinson plans is scheduled before the Dallas City Council June 29.

City Tax Payments Soar, Report Shows

City tax collections for May were more than $6,000 ahead of the same period for 1958, according to a report by C. E. Johnson, city tax assessor-collector.

The increase is attributable largely to the collection of current and delinquent taxes. Collection of current taxes totals $2,812.32 this year with only $743.40 in May of last year.

Delinquent taxes totaled $4,363.94

this year and only $945.37 last year.

Total taxes received in May was $8,707.16, an increase of $6,455.66 over 1958's $2,251.50.

For the fiscal year to date, the collections are out front by $7,663.46. Through May, the total is $14,395.22. Last year at the same time, the figure was $6,731.76.

East Texas Area Shaken By Rumble

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Rumbling noises in North Dallas and in an area south of Sherman caused a heavy run of calls to police and sheriff's office switchboards last night.

Officers said they were unable to find any evidence of an explosion and theorized the noise came from jet aircraft breaking the sound barrier.

HOUSTON (AP)—An inventory approved yesterday placed a value of $1,195,595 on the estate of the late Mrs. O. H. Davenport of Houston and Victoria.

Mrs. Davenport died March 14, 1958 in Victoria.

Mrs. Kay Van, her secretary and business manager, was named executrix and one of the chief beneficiaries of her estate.

The annual Governor's Day parade and review will be held Saturday. More than 1,000 vehicles, from jeeps to tanks, will take part.

Novel Anti-Vice Plan Is Rejected

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—Mrs. Hsu Shih-hsien proposed to the Formosa Provincial Assembly Wednesday a novel plan for reducing the number of Formosa's prostitutes — let the government arrange marriages between them and retired servicemen. Gov. Chow Chi-jou rejected it. He said the servicemen might not consider the prostitutes ideal spouses, and the prostitutes might not be enthusiastic for marriage.

Sandra Sloan New Member Of Hospital Staff

999 'Beefs' On Police Blotter Here

The Big Spring police department answered 999 complaints during May, according to Police Chief C. L. Roger's monthly report.

In answering various calls, police motorcycles worked 40 days in two shifts covering 3,000 miles. In three shifts, one man units covered 20,340 miles in 339 days and two man units worked 203 days driving 12,180 miles.

The department issued 1,270 traffic tickets during the month, collected $569 in overtime parking tickets and warrants.

Radio operators handled approximately 6,500 calls to and from the station during the month.

The report lists $722.70 spent for feeding prisoners in the city jail. There were 1,314 meals served at a cost of 55 cents each.

Filings Hit New High At Court House

The county clerk's office is handling about half again as many instruments this year as the same time of 1958.

Pauline Petty, county clerk, reported that over 3,560 instruments had been filed for record through Wednesday, well ahead of the same time last year. On June 10, 1958, there were 2,169 recorded documents on file.

The 3,560th instrument of 1959 was not recorded until Sept. 8, Mrs. Petty announced.

Dallas Art Center Urged

DALLAS (AP)—A multi-million dollar cultural and art center and park on the edge of downtown Dallas was proposed last night.

Landscape architect Joe Lambert Sr. said the center would be located on property now occupied by a parochial school.

Lambert said the Dallas Museum of Contemporary Arts, Margo Jones Theater, a public library, a private library, a symphony hall and an opera house will be included in plans for the 21.3-acre tract.

The area has been the center of controversy since Dr. Daniel Gevinson of Miami, Fla., announced plans to buy the tract and develop it with multi-story apartments, office buildings and a hotel.

A hearing on the Gevinson plans is scheduled before the Dallas City Council June 29.

Promising Newcomer

Barbara Nichols is considered one of Hollywood's most promising newcomers—a star of tomorrow. She discusses her good points and her bad while prizing her sense of humor. She is soon to be seen in "That Kind of Woman" for Paramount.

HOLLYWOOD BEAUTY

Tedious Skin And Hair Care Pay Off For Her

By LYDIA LANE
HOLLYWOOD—Barbara Nichols has appeared on several lists of Hollywood's promising newcomers. She came to the West Coast with the Broadway company of "Pal Joey" and stayed to play a striptease in "Miracle in the Rain." Since then she has not only proved herself to be an accomplished comedienne but also a versatile dramatic actress.

"That Kind of Woman," which was made at Paramount gave me my best role," Barbara told me when she dropped by my home the other evening.

During a previous interview with Barbara, she told me how thin she had been as a child and how her parents sent her to dancing school to develop her body and give her poise. We talked of this again, and she told me how much it had helped her.

"It helped so much that when I was 16 I won a bathing beauty contest. After that I knew the stage would be my career," Barbara revealed.

"My first job, with a dancing troupe, sent me to the West Indies. But the conditions were that I bleach my hair a platinum blonde. I remember how quickly it was done in the beauty salon, and when I looked in the mirror I burst into tears.

"I have it bleached once a week. My operator gives me conditioning treatments to keep my hair soft and manageable. She applies a special cream to my hair and then puts an electrically-heated cap over it. The heat from the cap melts the cream and it does wonderful things to my hair. It also keeps my scalp from drying out from the bleach. After leaving the heat on about a half-hour, she rinses the cream out and sets my hair when I go to the steam room at the gym.

"I feel so much better since I've joined a health club," Barbara exclaimed. "When I'm not doing a picture I try to have a workout in the gym every day, and I enjoy the relaxation a steam room gives me.

We were sitting on the patio in the sunlight and I noticed what a clear, fine-grained skin Barbara has. When I mentioned this she said modestly, "It's one of my good points. Fans often tell me I look more attractive off the screen, and I think it is because I would photograph better in a very light make-up. But it's hard to convince a make-up man of that."

I wanted to know how Barbara cared for her skin.

"I think there are two very important things to do. One is to be sure your face is clean—and you can't tell by looking at it. You have to be sure no make-up is left in the pores. I use an oil cleanser. Then I steam my face, with a hot wash cloth, close the pores with cold water and rub it dry. When I'm sure there is no make-up left, I use a moisture cream.

"The second thing I do is to always wear a protective cream when I'm in the sun," she added.

"We spoke of career uncertainties and the competitive life in Hollywood.

"If you're to avoid ulcers and sleeping pills, you have to learn to laugh at yourself," Barbara declared. "Thank heaven I have a sense of humor. I don't brood, feel sorry for myself or look back. I try to believe that tomorrow something really wonderful may happen. But I'm inclined to be nervous."

UPSIDE-DOWN DIET

Program On Horticulture For Planters

Mrs. J. A. Sutherland presented the program for the Planters Garden Club Wednesday afternoon, when she told of the origin, planting and care of chrysanthemums. Having their beginning in China, the flowers were taken up by Japan and then were carried to England, Mrs. Sutherland told her listeners. They were not grown in the United States until after the Civil War, she said.

Mrs. Sutherland recommended pinching back the foliage of chrysanthemums to make them about four to six inches tall. This will make the plant stronger and will produce better blooms. If exhibition blossoms are desired, another pinching back should be done at a later date, she stated.

Mrs. J. W. Dickens was hostess for the group of eight members and four guests, who included Mrs. Tom B. Gorrell, Mrs. L. R. Frost, Mrs. W. C. Carr, who became a new member, and Earline Trantham.

Announcement of the next meeting is for July 8 at the home of Mrs. S. P. Jones, 1206 Sycamore.

Dyers Installed BY Eastern Star As Worthy Patron And Matron

Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Dyer were installed as worthy patron and worthy matron of the Eastern Star in a ceremony held in the Masonic Temple Wednesday evening.

Installing leaders were Dorothy Driver, installing officer; Pyrie Bradshaw, marshal; Mrs. G. B. Pittman, chaplain; Mrs. Royce Womack, installing organist and Mrs. C. L. Richardson, secretary pro tem.

Taking places as other officers were Mrs. J. A. Magee, associate matron; Carlson Hamilton, associate patron; Mrs. W. U. O'Neal, secretary, and Mrs. Charles Graham, treasurer.

Mrs. W. D. Peters was installed as conductress; Mrs. George Bair, assistant conductress. The chaplain will be Mrs. J. P. Watkins, and Mrs. Johnny Stewart will be marshal. Mrs. Porter Hanks will serve as organist.

Placed as the five star points were Mrs. J. D. Thomas as Ada; Mrs. J. C. Pickle, Ruth; Mrs. C. R. McClenny, Esther; Mrs. J. H. Talton, Martha; and Mrs. A. L. Segrest, Electa. Mrs. McClenny will also serve as sentinel.

Mrs. J. B. Langston will be the warder.

For the installation an arch was placed in the east of the hall and covered with roses and ivy. Candelabras held tapers in blue, pink and white, with the theme of the year in silver: Love and Kindness. Emblem of the worthy matron is the open Bible; her flower, the rose; and her scripture, Ephesians 4:32.

Before the altar, past matrons formed an arch of red roses for the two incoming officers to walk beneath, escorted by the junior past matron and patron.

Soloists were J. C. Douglass Jr. who sang Love of God, and Joyce Howard, who sang My Best to You.

A past matrons pin was presented to Mrs. Glen Cantrell by her sister, Mrs. Ed Crabtree; Mrs. J. C. Pickle made the presentation of the past patron's pin to her husband.

Both the Dyers signed the lodge's Bible as part of the ceremony, and a prayer of dedication and benediction was read by Mrs. E. Carrick.

On the refreshment table was a miniature couple dressed as the worthy matron and patron, standing under a silver arch; the grouping was in front of an open Bible.

'ROUND TOWN

With Lucille Pickle

We're always interested in the activities of 'our folk' when they move away, their children grow up, and the general course of events changes with the years.

From Fort Worth and MRS. ARCH CLAYTON comes interesting news of her family. Mrs. Clayton is secretary to Williams B. David who was associated with James Little here a few years before he joined the Canty, Hanger, Johnson, Scarborough and Gooch Law firm in Fort Worth. She has also become an officer in Chapter 673, Order of Eastern Star. 'BUDDY', the 16-year-old son, seems to be going straight up. He played center on Paschal's B basketball team the past season and stands 6-9. TCU coach Buster Brannon has him on his campus crew chopping weeds, watering, etc., just to keep an eye on him. . . . and AAM's Bob Rogers also has noticed him. The senior Clayton is still with Bell Telephone in the division offices which will soon move into the new Telephone building. Daughter Mrs. Dorothy Claire Blackwell and her son David are at present here in BS visiting MR. AND MRS. A. P. CLAYTON and Mrs. C. L. NUMMY. She has recently completed a secretarial course. The Claytons live at 2708 Forest Park Blvd.

From Manila, Philippines, comes a newsy letter which has been sent over the Methodist district from the REV. AND MRS. RICHARD DEATS. The origins, plans when going to the islands were to study the national Filipino language, Tagalog, when they arrived and then go north of Manila 60 miles to begin student work at two colleges, Philippines Wesleyan College and Central Luzon Agricultural College. However, when they arrived they found they had been assigned to begin work in Manila immediately because of an urgent need in the city. Dr. J. B. Holt, the English pastor of Knox Memorial Church, had been home on furlough and decided to remain in Texas. Rev. Deats was asked to fill the vacant pulpit and his work began April 1.

Since arriving in Manila, the family has been living in a suburb in an apartment on the grounds of the Far Eastern Broadcasting Co., an interdenominational group that broadcasts religious programs and religious music as well as classical music and news in many languages to all of Asia. Mrs. Deats is studying Tagalog with several other missionaries. Rev. Deats, although working in town, every day, is auditing the course so he can pick up as much of the language as possible.

While little Mark has been taking a siesta each day whether in Texas or Manila, his folks are just beginning to discover that in the humid climate of the islands, this pause in their day's occupations keeps people on their feet for the next day.

ED FISHER contributes a spicy recipe for pickled black-eyed peas which his mother, MRS. EDITH K. FISHER, sent from St. Louis. She uses 2 cans of dried peas, 1 cup of salad oil, ¼ cup wine vinegar, 1 clove garlic, ¼ cup thinly sliced onion, ½ teaspoon salt and freshly ground pepper.

Drain the liquid from the peas and place in a bowl. Add remaining ingredients and mix thoroughly. Store in refrigerator and remove garlic after 1 day. Store at least 2 days longer. This makes about a quart of peas.

MRS. ODIS WISE of Weatherford is expected to arrive here Friday for a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Rainey, to attend the wedding of her brother Weldon Rainey. Weldon will be married to Lee Ida Mason of Coahoma on Saturday evening.

MRS. IRA THURMAN is slated to return to Big Spring June 15 from Anaco, Venezuela, where she has been with her daughter and son-in-law, MR. AND MRS. BILL THORNHILL and their brand new daughter, MARY ELLEN. Little Mary Ellen was born on May 14 and weighed seven pounds. She was named for her late great-grandmother, Mrs. William Menger.

Members of the Oasis Garden Club and their guests gathered at the Desert Sands Restaurant Wednesday for a luncheon and a discussion on bird - watching brought by Mrs. H. C. Stipp, a guest.

Mrs. M. C. Stulting was named head of the therapy committee at the state hospital, where members will assist with the work from 9:15 to 11:15 a.m. each Monday and Friday.

The Wednesday session is to be the last of the club year, with the group assembling again on September 10 for a patio supper. The affair, at which husbands will be guests, is slated for the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Bratcher, 1906 Aylford.

Guests at the luncheon included Mrs. George Pittman, Mrs. Willard Read, Mrs. Ben Johnson, Mrs. Merle Stewart, Mrs. M. A. Cook, Mrs. R. W. Thompson, Mrs. Hugh Duncan and Mrs. H. B. Reagan.

Miss Barr, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gus Barr, 1707 Harvard, and Howard, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Howard of Foran, will be married in the First Baptist Church Friday evening.

Chosen colors, yellow and white, were repeated in the daisies of the corsages presented to the bride-elect, her mother and her future mother-in-law by the bridesmaids. The group included Mrs. Jack Cook, Mrs. Charles Tompkins and Mrs. James Underwood, who joined Mrs. South in the party for the honoree.

Mushroom Omelet

Cooked sliced mushrooms in butter, add salt and pepper and then spread over an omelet before folding or rolling. A little onion (minced raw or the instant type) will point up the mushroom flavor.

Hint For Pickles

Planning to make pickles this summer? Remember that distilled white vinegar will not impart the brownish color associated with cider vinegar. The latter gives good flavor, however, so you may use it where color isn't an important factor.

Salad Likes Meat

Don't forget that you can put leftover meat in a salad for a summertime lunch. Beef, lamb, veal and pork are all good nominations for this type of salad. Use salad greens and celery with the meat; or add cooked vegetables to it; or you can make it into a Waldorf salad with apple, celery and walnuts.

Time Change Voted By Gardeners

At a meeting of the Four O'Clock Garden Club Wednesday at noon, the group voted to make a time change for the summer months. Sessions will be held at 9:30 a.m. until the start of the regular club year.

Mrs. Jerry Cockrell was hostess for the event Wednesday, which was a salad luncheon and installation of officers.

Serving as installing officer was Mrs. Bill Swindell, outgoing president, who was presented with a gift by the club. New officers each received a red and white carnation corsage.

Hawaiian Influence Now Making Casual Clothes Colorful

The Hawaiian influence now moves into the home sewing field, producing wonderful, colorful casual clothes to wear at home or on the beach.

A bright new idea borrowed from the 50th state is a gay flowered tunic of quilted cotton satin, to wear at home with skinny pants or even on the beach for a swimsuit cover-up.

It's easy to make. You can use a basic pattern for a sheath dress, and adapt it to the tunic look by slitting the seams to hip length, and making the sleeves short. Waistline darts can be adjusted for an easy fit.

It's important to select the correct binding for your tunic. Pima cotton bias tape is best for fine fabrics, since its luster goes with such things as cotton satin.

A rose printed cotton satin tunic can use three shades of binding—pale pink, crimson and black. These three rows of tape can be ingeniously stitched so that no stitches show on the outside. Here is how to do it:

Open one fold of the inner (pale pink) bias binding. With raw edge toward hem of garment and fold line approximately one inch from hem, stitch along fold line and allow tape to fold over naturally.

Follow the same process for the crimson row of tape, catching the bottom of the pink tape in this second row of stitching. Repeat with the black tape.

Finish by hand-stitching black tape in place on wrong side of garment.

Variety In Meats Will Be Feature Of Weekend

By The Associated Press

Hot weather or no, the nation's supermarkets and neighborhood grocery stores will be featuring roast beef, ham and frying chickens this weekend.

With the advent of warm weather many stores tend to feature meats which can be prepared with a minimum of additional heat from the oven, or those which can be adapted to the growing fashion for outdoor cookery.

This week, however, some stores are featuring ribs of beef and top or bottom round roasts. The bargains do not reflect any change in the beef market, meat buyers say. They're described more as periodic specials to give beef-lovers a shot at their favorite meat.

Pre-cooked hams don't add too much heat to the housewife's kitchen and they can be sliced cold.

Eggs continue at bargain levels, with prices marked down 1 to 3 cents a dozen over a wide area.

More fresh fruits and vegetables are fighting for shelf space in produce departments. Locally grown peas, snap beans, squash and blueberries add to the pressure this week.

Best vegetable buys are peas, beets, new yellow onions, new

Fillip For Salads

Program On Horticulture For Planters

Mrs. J. A. Sutherland presented the program for the Planters Garden Club Wednesday afternoon, when she told of the origin, planting and care of chrysanthemums. Having their beginning in China, the flowers were taken up by Japan and then were carried to England, Mrs. Sutherland told her listeners. They were not grown in the United States until after the Civil War, she said.

Mrs. Sutherland recommended pinching back the foliage of chrysanthemums to make them about four to six inches tall. This will make the plant stronger and will produce better blooms. If exhibition blossoms are desired, another pinching back should be done at a later date, she stated.

Mrs. J. W. Dickens was hostess for the group of eight members and four guests, who included Mrs. Tom B. Gorrell, Mrs. L. R. Frost, Mrs. W. C. Carr, who became a new member, and Earline Trantham.

Announcement of the next meeting is for July 8 at the home of Mrs. S. P. Jones, 1206 Sycamore.

Create A Mealtime Mood

It can be done, with imaginative table decor and delightful main dishes. For instance, imagine yourself in Hawaii feasting on pineapples and coconuts, and an exotic concoction combining chicken with a rich sauce discreetly flavored with spices and herbs. This particular dish was created in tribute to June as Dairy Month.

Chicken Hawaiian Is Dairy Month Recipe

The exotic flavor of Hawaii, our 50th state, plus the happy fact of economy are combined in a superb dish called Chicken Hawaiian in time for the celebration of June as Dairy Month. Prepared by the home economists of the Borden Company, this recipe utilizes one of the most plentiful and thrifty foods available now . . . chicken.

Summer is the season of outdoor living, fresh fruit, and lots of nutritious milk—plus easy meals for the busy homemaker. Happily, this recipe combines all of these qualities.

The delicious sour cream and milk sauce can be prepared while the chicken broils. Incidentally, small turkeys also are economical now and may be substituted for chicken. Refreshing dessert of orange-pineapple sherbet would add a cool finish.

Continuing the same mood, fresh

Colorado greens, green onions and radishes are appearing. Arizona and California cantaloupes, grapefruit and corn are reaching markets in volume.

Onion Soup Mix Flavors Tacos

Most people know a little bit about Mexican cuisine. They have heard of tamales and enchiladas and tortillas, even if they have never tasted them.

A tortilla, as you probably know, is a thin corn cake that is literally the bread of Mexico. A tortilla becomes a taco when it is folded over and stuffed with a filling that may be made with a variety of meats.

Here is a recipe for Beef Tacos that would make an intriguing dish

Spinach Undergoes Perkup With Bacon

Did you ever try perkup up spinach with the lively flavor of bacon? It is a good suggestion, one to lure the stand-offs to the vegetable bowl.

Here is how to do it:

- DUTCH SPINACH
1 pkg. (12 oz.) washed and trimmed spinach
4 slices lean bacon
3 tbsps. flour
1½ cups hot water
2 tbsps. sugar
1 tsp. cider vinegar
½ tsp. salt
Pepper

Wash spinach in cold water; drain well; knife-shred into ½-inch strips. Cook bacon in deep 10-inch skillet over low heat until crisp; remove; crumble and reserve.

Over low heat stir flour into bacon drippings; gradually add water, stirring until smooth after each addition. Stir in sugar, vinegar, salt and pepper to taste. Add spinach; mix well. Cover pan and cook just long enough to wilt spinach slightly—this takes only a minute or two.

Serve piping hot at once, topped with reserved crumbled bacon. Makes four servings.

for your next party menu. The beef filling features a convenient package of onion soup mix which imparts a distinctive savory flavor. It is mixed in very handily, right from the package, with the other ingredients.

MEXICAN TORTILLAS

- ¾ cups flour
½ cup corn meal
2 tbsps salt
½ cup shortening
1 cup lukewarm water
Sift flour, corn meal and salt into mixing bowl. Add shortening and cut in with pastry blender or two knives until well distributed. Pour in lukewarm water and blend until dough is mixed. Turn out on a pastry cloth or lightly floured board and knead about 50 strokes.

Divide dough into 12 equal-sized pieces and form each into a ball. Cover with a cloth and let stand 15 minutes. Roll each ball into a round tortilla, 8 inches in diameter.

Cook on a moderately hot, oiled skillet until golden brown in spots, turning once and being careful not to break air bubbled. Makes 12 tortillas.

BEEF TACOS

- 2 tbsps. olive oil
1 pound ground beef chuck
½ cup chopped green pepper
2 tomatoes, peeled and chopped
1 package onion soup mix
½ cup water
1 clove garlic, minced
½ tsp. crushed oregano
1 tsp. vinegar
In skillet, heat oil and brown ground beef. Stir in green pepper, tomato, onion soup mix, water, garlic, oregano and vinegar. Simmer 10 to 15 minutes. Fold hot tortilla in half and then fill with hot meat mixture and serve.

For a crispier, browned taco, saute in oil after filling with meat.

Ice Cream Fancy Molds Are Partified

Know how to make fancy ice cream molds at home? Actually, it's simple. All you need is some of your favorite ice cream and a few unusually shaped molds. The kind used most often for making individual gelatin salads may be employed for these imaginative desserts.

Let pints or half gallons of ice cream stand in the refrigerator or at room temperature until just soft enough to dip. Pack the ice cream into individual molds which have been rinsed in cold water. Smooth the surface over evenly. Place molds upright in your freezer until firm.

To serve, unmold ice cream by dipping molds in warm water for a second or more. Loosen around the edges with a sharp paring knife and turn out onto cold dessert plates.

Cool Gelatin Salad Is Refreshing Idea

Set a lively-colored gelatin salad on your luncheon table, and watch the family flock to it. On summer days the suggestion seems particularly refreshing.

Here is one combining fruit juices, pitted cherries and gelatin:

- CHERRY SALAD
1 can (1 lb.) red sour pitted cherries (water packed)
1 envelope unflavored gelatin
1-3 cup sugar
½ tsp. salt
½ cup orange juice
¼ tsp. red food coloring
1 cup finely diced celery
Salad greens
Mayonnaise-type salad dressing or sour cream

Drain cherries thoroughly, reserving liquid. In a 1-quart saucepan stir together thoroughly the gelatin, sugar and salt. Add reserved cherry liquid. Place over low heat, stirring constantly, until gelatin and sugar are dissolved; remove from heat. Stir in orange juice and food coloring.

Chill until mixture is the consistency of unbeaten egg white. Fold in drained cherries and celery. Turn into a 3-cup mold or into 6 indented ½-cup molds; chill until firm.

Unmold; garnish with greens and salad dressing. Makes 6 servings.

Refreshing

Dilute frozen limeade concentrate according to the directions on the can and freeze some of the drink in your ice-cube trays; add some of the frozen limeade cubes to tall glasses of gingerale. Refreshing!

Leave The Fell

Many good cooks remove the fell—the thin outer covering of lamb—before roasting because they believe it is detrimental to flavor; but recent research indicates that the fell does not affect the flavor of roast lamb.

Juicy Watermelons Are Making An Appearance

If you keep a special long-bladed knife for slicing watermelon, you'll want to get it located and ready for action. It's the only key you need to open the way to a delicious summer treat.

How is the watermelon crop progressing? Nicely, thank you, but don't look for the same record production that prevailed last year.

The forecast for late spring watermelons is one-fourth less than in 1958 but four per cent more than average. Watermelon acreage set for harvest in summer-producing states is 15 per cent below last year, and about five per cent less than average, according to Agricultural Marketing Service estimates.

With more than three-fourths of a billion pounds expected from the late spring crop alone, there is plenty of juicy watermelon eating in store for everyone.

It takes little imagination to realize why watermelons were named as they are. They're actually 92 per cent water. No wonder they're such a fine thirst quencher.

But there is an added bonus to eating the sweet, delicately flavored melons. They contain both vitamins A and C. You'll get only a fair amount of these vitamins, however, unless you eat large portions. Their best quality, nutrition-wise, is low calorie content—a slice ¾ by 10 inches has only 45 calories.

If you buy your melon at a neighborhood store, you usually can be assured of good quality. But if you're in an unfamiliar market, have the watermelon plugged, just to be sure.

Grow Your Own Herbs For Culinary Exploits

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
AP Newsfeatures Food Editor

Get yourself a pot of chives and one of basil and grow two of your own culinary herbs. Each summer we do just this, put them on our terrace, and never regret turning gardener.

Both chives and basil like some sun; they also like their soil evenly moist but not saturated with water. As one real outdoors gardener says, "Herbs resent both desert dryness and excessively high temperatures."

We've also grown rosemary, tarragon and woodruff in pots; and one year we had a tubful of mint for juleps, sauce and garnishing fruit.

The rosemary was extremely successful. But tarragon grows so slowly that after we cooked the famous French "poulet à l'estragon" once we had to wait until the end of the summer to taste the chicken and tarragon combination again!

Our woodruff (the herb used in the German Mai Bowle) made a pretty plant all summer long but lost its fragrance; but don't let that keep you from trying to grow it—we must have mistreated it. Chives first. So many cold soups benefit from these. We like to scatter them on bowls of borsch, cucumber soup and curried cream of chicken. We probably do not need to remind you that they are a must with Vichyssoise—easily made these days from frozen condensed potato soup and chicken broth.

When we first grew basil, we followed the culinary herb books: "Use in any dish containing tomato," they advise. Good advice indeed, but we also discovered that minced fresh basil tossed with crisp greens helps make a superb salad. It's absolutely out of this world when the whole leaves are marinated in olive oil, wine vinegar and seasonings and served with sliced cucumber and tomatoes. It gives verve to scrambled eggs and an omelet.

Some of our friends, epicurean cooks, use rosemary when roasting lamb or allow it to give savor to pan-fried and broiled steak. Tarragon is delightful on platters of cold chicken or turkey, fish and eggs. I like to add the herb to homemade mayonnaise to accompany these foods.

A Devotional For Today

When he (the prodigal son) was yet a great way off, his father saw him, and had compassion, and ran, and fell on his neck, and kissed him. (Luke 15:20.)

PRAYER: O God, Thou hast had compassion on us while we were yet sinners. Help us now to show compassion for the unsaved in our home, our neighborhood, everywhere. In the name of Jesus we pray. Amen.

The Crux Is In No. 3

The foreign ministers' conference in Geneva to work out an agenda for a later summit meeting between heads of state shows some signs of coming to an end later in the week.

Moscow affects to believe the summit meeting is "on," and U. S. Secretary of State Christian Herter read a statement to Soviet delegation chief Andrei Gromyko on Monday indicating the way has been cleared to that end.

There were three main elements in the Herter statement. It affirms:

1. Rights of the U. S., Britain and France to maintain troops in Berlin.
2. Rights of the Allies and of West Berliners to maintain unrestricted air, land and water access to Berlin.
3. The rights of the Allies to protect the economic life of West Berliners if any squeeze is imposed by East Germany.

Number Three is the meat in the coconut. Gromyko a week or ten days ago admitted the legality of Western troops' presence in Berlin, though he contended they should get out anyway.

Number Three is a way of meeting the Russian threat to vacate and turn East Berlin over to the East German Communists, who would then be expected to impose impossible conditions on Western access and occupation.

Nothing doing, says Number Three. The West will exercise all its right and privileges in Berlin regardless of subtleties and evasions.

If the Soviet accepts this particular proviso insisted upon by the West, it will indicate Khrushchev is indeed anxious for a summit conference, and will go to almost any length to get one.

It does not necessarily follow, however, that the Allied terms will be accepted by Moscow. Blowing hot and cold is one of the Kremlin's tactical maneuvers to wear down the opposition and extract the last bit of advantage out of any situation.

And if there is a summit meeting, it will not necessarily be fruitful of any measurable results. Khrushchev has cried "peace, peace" so many times that his people, helpless as they are, may feel that something more than talk is in order.

In a summit conference, without yielding an inch in essentials, Khrushchev can repeat the propaganda show of 1955 at the West's expense, and lead his people and the neutrals to believe that only the stubbornness of the West is standing in the way of progress toward a peaceful world.

The sort of peaceful world Khrushchev envisions is one in which the Kremlin say "boo!" and everybody starts jumping through hoops.

He won't get it this time, but he hopes to ding-dong the West so incessantly and tirelessly that the time will come when the West goes to sleep and slips into the pit of darkness created for its entrapment by the Kremlin.

Back To Earth, Arthur!

Taking off from the deck of a submarine about 100 miles offshore, a Regulus I guided missile landed at the mouth of the St. Johns River near Jacksonville, Fla., delivering 3,000 letters in this manner for the first time in history. Flight time: about 22 minutes.

The letters were written by Postmaster General Arthur Summerfield and addressed to various individuals, mostly stamp collectors. The envelopes bore the inscription, "The First Official Missile Mail."

The time may come when non-ballistic missiles may carry considerable urgent mail between points in this country, and eventually ballistic missiles may deliver it to all parts of the world.

But for the moment, it seems to be the Post Office Department's main task is to maintain a fair batting average in the delivery of mail by more conventional means, including ordinary air mail.

The country could stand an improvement especially in the short-haul, ordinary letter mail, and we suggest Mrs. Summerfield and his chief advisers concentrate on the field of the practical and achievable. There are a lot of earth-bound problems yet unsolved in the postal department.

Marquis Childs Congress By-Passing Biggest Problems

WASHINGTON — If these were normal times—the mid-twenties of the Coolidge era, let us say—the record being set by the 86th Congress would be not only good but brilliant.

Thus far the Senate has voted statehood for Hawaii, a $2.7 billion housing program, a four-year $465,000,000 airport construction bill, a labor-management measure opposed by both unions and organized business which is some indication that it may be on target. Other measures cover the temporary extension of unemployment compensation, railroad retirement and a revised formula for taxing insurance companies. That, as Senate Majority Leader Lyndon Johnson says with heat, is a pretty fine record with the Congress having at least two more months to run.

But the times are not normal and the problems that the legislators are called on to solve look as massive and as indestructible as Pike's Peak. This is the source of the frustration that boils up in Johnson at the goading of Representative Charles Halleck, the minority leader in the House, who is holding the whistle down on the theme of a "do-nothing" Congress.

To begin with there is the vast mountain of agricultural surpluses—$10 billion worth—that is a constant reminder of the insanity of the so-called farm program. The cost merely of storing the gigantic object lesson in how not to manage an economy is rapidly approaching $1 billion a year. Public opinion, and not alone organized farm opinion, is becoming increasingly aware of the folly of what has gone on so long.

If the session ends without a major effort at solution, and failure to reach even a temporary accommodation on the surplus wheat problem is a bad augury, the voters will take it out on those who happen to be in office. Next year is a Presidential year and it is too much to expect anything from Congress with politics to the fore. This would mean that for two years the surplus mountain would grow larger and more menacing.

The current word is that because of the opposition of both labor and management the House seems unlikely to pass a labor bill. Here, too, public opinion is aroused as the uncontrolled power of Jimmy Hoffa strikes deeper into the fabric of American life. Without curb or check or hindrance of any kind or apparently any self-restraint he is out to set himself above law and order.

And now with a message from the White House calling for removal of the ceiling on the interest rate the government can pay on its long-term bonds the Congress is confronted with still another horrendous decision involving the well-being of the country and each and every citizen. President Eisenhower and his Secretary of the Treasury, Robert Anderson, say that they cannot sell the bonds if the rate is kept at 4% per cent unless they resort to means they believe would be dangerously inflationary.

Yet a number of Senators, led by Albert Gore of Tennessee, say they will fight the change to the death. They insist that if the ceiling is removed the rate on government bonds will go to 6 per cent before the end of the Eisenhower Administration, which means that the going bank rate will be 8 or 9 per cent, and this will strangle the housing industry. Last February when Anderson was protesting that the Administration meant to try to avoid asking for a higher rate Gore was predicting the kind of showdown that now seems about to take place.

Senator Johnson's sense of frustration is not surprising. To ask him to get unity even in his own party on the terms of an over-all farm bill is like asking him to square the circle and reconcile the hopelessly irreconcilable.

That is the aspect these overweening problems—inflation, farm production, labor's power—seem to wear. Certainly, as Johnson says, the answer is not the cry of a "do-nothing" Congress.

The other side of that coin is a "do-nothing" President. This is likely to be the challenge the Democrats will take to the hustings next year. To the average citizen a do-nothing Congress and a do-nothing President is likely to be the challenge the Democrats will take to the hustings next year. To the average citizen a do-nothing Congress and a do-nothing President may seem to add up to a do-nothing government and that, in times so plainly out of joint, will not be tolerated for long. In frustration the voter, too, has a point of no return, and it could be reached next year.

Just Like On A Hollywood Set

James Marlow Ike Sticks Needle To Doctors

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower, making a 1959 crusade against inflation, this week stuck a needle in the nation's doctors.

He told them in effect medical services should be kept within reason.

The government's figures show that living costs in general have gone up 108.6 per cent since 1939. Which means: What you could buy for $1 in 1939 would cost you $2.08 today.

In that same time 20-year period the rise in hospital costs eclipsed almost everything else in the various categories which make up the government's total picture of living costs. They went up around 300 per cent.

In those 20 years doctors' fees have climbed 84 per cent. Some of the items in other categories were much higher — in their rise — than doctors' fees, some were lower.

Eisenhower, using his speech to the American Medical Assn. convention in Atlantic City Tuesday night to support the practice of private medicine as against a government medical care program, told the doctors:

"The medical profession, as much as any other, has a vital interest in preventing inflation. Certainly it wants to provide its services for a fee within range of what people can reasonably pay. If the time ever comes when large numbers of our citizens turn primarily to the government for assistance in what ought to remain a private arrangement between doctor and patient, then we shall all have suffered a great loss."

Although in the 20 years since 1939 the government's broad category of "medical care" rose just a little less than the general cost of living — 106.1 per cent as compared with 108.6 per cent — there is a big variation in the cost of the items which go into that category.

Here are some other examples of how living costs have risen in the 20 years since 1939:

In that period food costs — as a whole — have zoomed up 149.7 per cent, the biggest single jump in all the major categories which make up the government's living cost index.

The cost of housing has gone up 69.1 per cent, and this figure includes house purchase, interest, taxes, insurance and upkeep; rent, up 69.9 per cent; gas and electricity, 12.7 per cent; solid fuels and oil, 145.9 per cent; house furnishings, 94.4 per cent.

Here are some other 20-year increases in various things people pay for under the head of living costs:

New cars went up around 125 per cent; men's haircuts, 206 per cent; gasoline, 69 per cent; household appliances, 33 per cent;

newspapers, 124 per cent; and movie admissions, 120 per cent.

Jobs, Spending Begin To Catch Up With Trend

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — Two laggards in the business recovery are starting to catch up with the parade.

Employment may hit a new peak next month after a temporary increase in the number of the unemployed this month while June graduates find work.

And business spending for new or updated plants is perking up at last, even if mainly at the planning and contract letting levels.

The total of the unemployed has been the most distressing and persistent hangover from the recession. Some industries and some localities still suffer.

Re-employment of workers has been picking up of late at better than seasonal rates. This can't comfort the 3½ million who were still looking for work last month. And that number of competitors for jobs may dismay the flock of students in search of summer jobs or permanent ones.

Still, the nation can take pleasure in the word that two million of those who were out of work in June 1958 when unemployment hit its recession peak of 5½ million are now back on the payrolls. They help swell the total employed to 66 million. The record was set in July 1957 when 67½ million were working.

The troublesome spots of unemployment are still to be tackled, however—whether it be hard-hit communities or lagging industries.

For many of these the best hope still lies in the American consumer. And as he steadily increases his total spending, more and more business firms find they can produce more and hire more. This, in turn, increases consumer confidence—and spending.

The second laggard, business spending, feeds on that same confidence. When the consumer spends, in time business increases its spending, too.

During the recession much was made of idle production facilities. For the time being industry seemed to have expanded its capacity beyond the demands of its customers.

But now that business can sniff a new boom on the way, more and more firms are dusting off expansion plans they had put on the shelf during their days of caution.

Many of them are carrying over some of their recession-born thinking—that the best spending would be for new equipment that would help them cut costs.

Those who already had modern equipment in those days were able to pare operating expenses significantly. Their output per man hour of labor rose steadily. In part this kept many of them from rehiring workers.

But now there's evidence that this is changing. Costs are reported rising again with new wage contracts. And more firms as a result are coming into the market for labor saving machinery.

New orders of the machinery and tool industries bear this out. It may be months before these orders are turned into shipments and cash, but the spending plans are firming up.

Expansion through new plants is also being announced by an increasing number of companies. This is based on the belief that their sales will increase in the next few years.

Many consider such plans a better barometer of coming business weather than the stock market.

What's Become Of Rubber Guns?

A great American era is passing—or has passed. Apparently there are no more rubber-gun fights.

If anything exciting developed during my younger days, it was the rubber gun and the battles which were waged with it. For the amount of money expended, no weapon brought as much enjoyment or inflicted more pain than an old rubber gun.

From the end of an apple crate or one-by-four, a clothes pin, and a few rings from an old inner tube, you could fashion a gun that produced hours and hours of fun. These weapons—and I do mean weapons—ran the gamut from small ones of an inch or so (for the young or not-so-daring) to the machine-gun types for the older and more ruthless boys.

A small gun could shoot across the room, but the medium long-range jobs could send projectiles the length of a house and still have plenty of power left. Big guns fired truck tire rubbers and packed the power to put a guy in orbit when hit. These were usually outlawed by common consent—unless you ran in a group of toughs.

I remember one machine gun which could shoot five or six "rounds" with the aid of deep grooves and a strong cord. One round could be fired at a time or a volley of all the rubbers. You might not be able to aim it too well, but I'll guarantee you it was an awesome-looking weapon, and you were inclined to duck when you saw one pointed in your direction. At my age, a .50 caliber machine gun didn't look much worse.

What made rubber-gun fights more authentic—then cowboys and Indians was that when hit, there was little denying it. You could get grazed and maybe pretend you weren't dead. But a solid hit—boy, you felt it! That whelp proved beyond a doubt where you got hit.

Naturally, wells carried from one game to another, and before an afternoon was gone, red spots were legion. I haven't minded one yet, however.

A rubber-gun fight called for strict rules; you just chose sides, got guns and a supply of rubber rings and cut loose. One side hid and then the other searched; they usually found you. Once hit, you were out of that game. You could surrender, too, which was a mercy rule to keep kids from being slaughtered when cornered. When one side was finished, you chalked up a mark for the others and started another game. This continued until everyone was called home by mother or all the rubbers were broken—which was frequent during the Second World War.

Too bad the "toughs" today don't carry rubber guns to play with instead of a .22 or .38 pistols.

Denmark: Delicious, Delightful, Delovely

When I was last in Denmark, four years ago, I wrote that it was "delicious, delightful and delovely." Time and a trip to Russia made it seem doubly so.

After a week in Moscow, it is nothing short of heaven to spend a few days in small, gay, tidy, prosperous, gloriously free and independent Denmark, where every prospect pleases and the men are just dandy, too.

As a Viscount flies, Copenhagen is only three hours from Moscow. But in terms of political freedom and human happiness, it is a million light miles distant. Communism's hideous failure, not in terms of world power but in the creation of decent living standards and freedom for the Russian people, is exposed in all its harshness in Denmark's bright June sunshine.

As I looked about at the handsome, well-dressed throngs in the streets and gazed with pleasure at stores and shops crammed with an endless variety of merchandise, it seemed possible that this small country (16,576 square miles; population, 4,500,000) boasts more consumer goods at the moment than all of the U.S.S.R. (7,777,598 square miles; population 220,000,000).

This pessimism is probably a hangover from Moscow's drab streets, its few gum stores and its one big, drab, state department store (GUM) and the general paucity of consumer goods. The Russian who wants a pair of new shoes at GUM, stands in line until it is his turn at the counter. Then he tells the clerk his size, and points to a style he hopes is available. When the shoes are handed to him, he or she, still standing in line and balancing on one foot like an awkward stork, tries on the new pair for size.

There is far more motor traffic on the streets of Copenhagen, with its population 1,000,000, than in Moscow, with a population officially estimated at 5,500,000 and unofficially at 8,000,000. The prosperity and plenty of the West is ever written in such a simple factor as the enormous number of bicycles in Denmark—more than 2,000,000. I don't remember seeing a dozen in Moscow, while Copenhagen is choked with them.

But best of all is the exhilarating freedom of the spirit that returns the moment one sets foot in the West. It had deserted me completely in Moscow. Now I have shaken Big Brother. Hallelujah!

And oh, by far the best of all is the exuberant friendliness of the Danes. Where the average American tourist cannot hope to get inside a Russian home, the Danes have a nationwide program the sole aim of which is to get tourists to visit Danish people and Danish homes.

"Meet the Danes" this adventure in friendship is called. Any tourist from any country who wants to step a Danish family in its home has only to slip up to the National Travel Association of Denmark and say the word. The association then thumbs through its long file to find a Danish family that speaks the visitor's language. English is no problem; all Danes speak it, I'm sure.

Next, the association tries to pair persons who have a common interest, not necessarily business or professional, either. Maybe fishing, or sailing, or books. Usually the visitors are asked to spend the evening, when the head of the Danish family is home, with his hosts. In 1958, more than 3,000 tourists asked to meet Danish families. Of this number, 82 per cent were Americans.

So far, there has never been a single complaint on either side. Everyone is delighted with the program, even the gay, ebullient Danish hosts who extend such warm hospitality simply for love of their country. Peace, it's wonderful!

Continuing Influence Of Konrad Adenauer

LONDON—The right man at the right time has affected the destiny of many a nation, including our own United States. So today there has emerged coincidentally a man of popular strength in Germany, in France, in Britain and in America, respectively. This reflects not so much a blind faith in personalities, but a fundamental yearning for national stability. It is the basis for the support given to democratically chosen leaders.

To a remarkable extent at the moment, each one of these Western leaders has, in his own way, won the confidence of his people. There may be bickerings among the political parties and an impatience at times as economic cycles interfere with the political progress of the party in power. There may be differences of opinion as to how far the dominance of individuals may affect the democratic process. But the fact is that the emergency makes the man, and realism demands continuity.

Just as the American people in a time of crisis broke tradition and elected Franklin D. Roosevelt for a third and a fourth term in the midst of a world war, so Americans today must judge patiently and realistically the decision of Dr. Konrad Adenauer not to give up the chancellorship of the West German Republic but to continue to serve out the remainder of his term, which runs until the autumn of 1961.

At any time, of course, between now and the election that a majority of the Parliament wants to remove Dr. Adenauer and put a new chancellor into office, it has the constitutional right to do so. This is not likely to happen, because Dr. Adenauer has the support of the people. His own party would not risk the political cleavages that might come from embarking on such a course.

All this having been said, it is important to examine just what has been motivating the Chancellor in his recent maneuvers. First, he announced that he would resign and accept the presidency. He had in mind that, like the case of De Gaulle in France, it might be possible for the powers of the presidency to be enlarged so as to exert a continuing influence on foreign policy. The plan looked good, but Dr. Adenauer had counted on the selection of his finance minister, Franz Etzel, as chancellor. There is harmony of thought and a deep understanding between the two men. Obviously Dr. Adenauer expected to be able to continue to function alongside the new chancellor.

But what went wrong was the upsurge of sentiment among the politicians in favor of Ludwig Erhard, vice chancellor and economics minister as the logical successor. The canvass showed the party of Dr. Adenauer to be split. Nobody can explain just what the differences between Dr. Adenauer and Mr. Erhard really amount to. Some say Mr. Erhard would be too conciliatory toward the Soviets. This is vigorously denied by his supporters. Others say that Mr. Etzel is better balanced than Mr. Erhard and would work much better with Dr. Adenauer.

Whatever the conflicts may be, Dr. Adenauer, as the party leader, has the right to change his mind and stay as chancellor. Originally, because of his advanced age—he is 83 now—it was thought best for him gradually to release the reins so that the party would be able to train a new man in the chancellorship two years before the 1961 election. This is a good argument, but it is outweighed now in Dr. Adenauer's mind by his desire to keep a firm grip on foreign policy in the critical months ahead as a "summit" meeting approaches and the whole future of German reunification is up for momentous consideration.

Dr. Adenauer may change his mind again, perhaps sometime in 1960, and still pave the way for training of a successor before the 1961 election. But today he thinks it is better to stand firm than to permit a change. He is merely adopting an American slogan of political campaigns: "Don't swap horses in mid-stream."

Naturally, Dr. Adenauer's decision reversing an earlier plan of his own has caused some confusion at home and abroad. There is a plain manifestation of impatience on the part of many West Germans. Other European countries have not hesitated through their press to criticize what he has done. But it's strictly an internal matter after all, and as long as Dr. Adenauer is in good health—and he seems to be as vigorous as ever mentally—he will be the acknowledged leader of his country. He represents stability, patriotism, firmness, courage and, above all, the craving of his people for a reunification of East and West Germany.

Valuable 'Penny'

PORT WASHINGTON, Wis. (U) — When supermarket clerk Mrs. Ken Fetzer dropped what she thought was a penny, it made a strange sound.

On one side, the coin carried this inscription: "U. S. 2 1/2 D. 1851." Scratching the surface revealed it to be a gold piece.

1/4 cup lemon juice or cider vinegar
1/4 cup water
1 1/2 tablespoons salt
2 tablespoons sugar

1 1/2 teaspoons Tabasco Sauce
2 to 3 broiler-fryer chickens, split lengthwise, quartered, or breast and leg parts
Ac'cent

For Sauce: Measure Mazola Corn Oil, lemon juice or vinegar, water, salt, sugar and Tabasco into saucepan. Heat to boil. Keep hot and mix thoroughly for each basting. For highly seasoned sauce, increase Tabasco, add mustard and Worcestershire sauce.
Barbecuing Chicken: With halves or quarters, hook wing tip behind shoulder joint onto back. Sprinkle 1 teaspoon Ac'cent over each bird, most of it on flesh sides and rest on skin. Brush with sauce. Place skin-side up on grate 12 inches or more from heat. Cook slowly until tender, turning often, basting each time. Allow 1 to 1 1/2 hours cooking time. With parts, thickest pieces should be fork tender. Before serving brush with any leftover sauce. Important: Cook over glowing coals (not flame) at proper distance from heat.

Star's Former Wife Disinherits Frisco

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Edward G. Robinson's ex-wife has disinherited San Francisco. She is going to give her valuable art collection to some other city.

"I wanted to leave the collection to the city I loved and I thought loved me," Gladys Robinson said Tuesday before driving to Los Angeles in her scarlet Ferrari sports car. "But I got the bumps' rush and I probably never will come back."

The exhibition, containing 54 Renaissance, 19th-century French and contemporary French and Italian masterpieces, opened June 6 at the Palace of the Legion of Honor and runs through July 5.

She charged there was very little publicity, no catalogues and not enough excitement about the collection, which she values at more than a million dollars.

Also, none of the 14 trustees showed up at a pre-opening press party.

Ross Smith, assistant director of the Palace, said trustees never show up at those affairs. As for attendance, he remarked that nobody was breaking down the doors, but it was better than average — 1,500 last weekend.

Smith's boss, Thomas Carr Howe, vacationing at Santa Fe, N.M., said "The museum is distressed that Mrs. Robinson is displeased with her reception. I thought we had done the best we know how."

Portraits by Tiepolo and Tintoretto are included in the collection as well as Pissarro's "Harbor Scene" and Modigliani's "Boy in Green." Twenty paintings are by Giuseppe Gambino, a Sicilian protégé of Mrs. Robinson.

There also is a portrait of her—"Victoria in Red" — done by Capuletti, a modern Italian Salvador Dali.

Mrs. Robinson hinted she may give the collection to Philadelphia, the city of her birth. But she made no definite commitments.

Girls State Begins Learning Politics

AUSTIN (AP) — Bluebonnet Girls State moved today to learn how the state government operates.

More than 400 high school seniors registered yesterday. They were assigned to "Nationalist" and "Federalist" political parties and started campaigns this morning.

Longhorn Party candidates won the top slots in the Boys State political race. Herbert Wade of Harlingen was named governor and Wilson Mason of Beaumont lieutenant governor.

City Abandons Use Of Unmarked Cars

DALLAS (AP) — The Dallas County city of University Park is abandoning the use of unmarked police cars for routine duty after 12 years.

Chief Forrest Keene said patrolmen will roll out next week in standard colored squad cars, identified by red lights, sirens and insignia.

"We felt the use of unmarked cars was a big success, but now we're changing because we want something different," said Keene.

DONNA JO ALEXANDER
Her life's love is the theatre

Pretty Lamesa Girl Begins Stage Career

By VIVIAN LEE
Special Correspondent

LAMESA—Donna Jo Alexander, a slender brunette with sparkling vivacity, left Lamesa Tuesday, flying to New York to devote her energies to her chosen career, the theater.

Donna has been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Alexander, her brother and sister, Ben and Jane, since completing her studies at Yale University School of Drama in late May.

She will play summer stock at a theater, Gas Light Village, on Lake George, N. Y., for three months, and this fall will live in New York and begin seeking roles to further her stage career.

Summer stock is nothing new to the Lamesa girl. In 1957, Donna played at Lincoln, Neb., and last summer at Front Street Theater in Memphis, Tenn. Critics in the southern states were impressed with her performance as Eileen in "My Sister Eileen," and her roles in "Polly and the Boy Friend" and "Louka Arms and the Man."

However, Donna believes this summer's work will offer her different opportunities. Original melodramas and revues are to be produced at Lake George; however, the young actress did a number of roles in originals at Yale, where she was a student for three years.

The university drama school stages four major productions each year at Yale. This year Donna played the lead in "Winterset" by Michael Anderson; she did the role of Patience in Gilbert and Sullivan's operetta, "Patience," and portrayed Lucille in "Dontine's Death."

Captivating Donna admits she's loved the theater ever since childhood, although she never told anyone of her secret ambition. In high school at Lamesa she began her voice training under Orland Johnson, and she chose Stephens College, Columbia, Mo., for undergraduate work because of its exceptional opportunities in the fine arts.

Marriage plans? There are none in sight for her, Donna says. She will concentrate on her career. Asked what type role she likes most, the affable, wholly unspoiled Lamesa girl hesitated and then replied:

"I like both musical and dramatic roles; I'll be doing both this summer, but serious drama is my main interest."

Big Filmtown Headache Is Star Shortage

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The film industry's biggest headache is not television nor the sagging box office. It's the star shortage.

That was underlined again with the cancelling of "Bachelor's Baby," which Dick Powell was to produce and direct for 20th Century-Fox. Reason: the studio couldn't find a female star to appear opposite Bing Crosby.

Bing has long had a policy of insisting on strong names to co-star with him.

One of the few times he agreed to be the sole star of a picture was "Man on Fire." It was a flop, and Bing is more firm than ever in his conviction that he should have one or more top names opposite him.

A British movie about Hollywood? It could happen. Robert Kirsch, book editor of the Los Angeles Times, reports interest from an English film company in his new novel, "In the Wrong Rain." The story is about a business manager for film stars who gets involved in a romance with a young acting hopeful.

James Cagney is submerging his Cagneyisms to portray Bull Halsey in "The Gallant Hours." Says he: "I've had to unlearn all the tricks and shortcuts I've collected over the years. The truth is that Halsey is such a direct, no-nonsense guy that any mannerisms would seem phony."

Steverino Isn't Her Name Anymore

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
NEW YORK (AP)—The problem of having a live animal symbol for a company which uses TV for advertising is well illustrated by the current career of a docile, affectionate young greyhound registered a couple of years ago with the National Coursing Assn. under the name of Steverino.

Steverino's television debut occurred during the commercial on a Steve Allen show two seasons back. Since then the animal has been used extensively in all sorts of promotion devices for the sponsor, a bus company. Last March, however, the company pulled out of the Allen show, and is currently sponsoring special shows — the most recent a Jack Benny hour show on another network.

When it departed from the Allen show, the sponsor asked permission to let Steverino keep the name. It was promptly refused on the ground the name was so closely associated with the Allen show that it would almost constitute endorsement. The sponsor was not even granted permission to use Steverino's name in the process of giving the dog a new one. That was the reason why a lot of viewers were confused during the Benny show commercials when a quiet-mannered and bored animal was enthusiastically named Lady Greyhound. What happened to Steverino?

The answer, of course, is nothing — professionally. Lady is Steverino. Lady in private life is still called Stevo by her co-owners, Lorraine and Bernard D'Essen, heads of a New York animal casting service who raised her, trained her and share their home with her. Personally, if that's the word, Stevo is on the verge of motherhood, a condition which was not permitted during the days when she had to work on a weekly show.

Meanwhile, something had to be done about Stevo's name: she is being re-registered with the National Coursing Assn. as "Lady Greyhound, nee Steverino."

Lorraine D'Essen says that Stevo is not only a well-trained animal but an extraordinarily bright one.

"She knows about 200 words," says Mrs. D'Essen, "so we do a lot of spelling around our house. She's an awful ham, too, and she knows applause, and she knows how she should act backstage."

When not working, Stevo cavorts around the D'Essen house like any other housepet. She lives with a pet llama, a kangaroo, a Siamese cat and her best friend, a Great Dane named Debbie.

"I wish human mothers always got as good care as Stevo's getting now," comments Mrs. D'Essen. "She's a very happy, nice animal. And she loves her work."
