Starkweather Pays With Life For Brutal Murder Rampage

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP) — Mass killer Charles Starkweather, calm and self-controlled to the end, paid with his life today for a brutal blood letting 17 months ago.

One ironic hitch marked the electric chair execution: The prison physician who was to have pronounced Starkweather dead, suffered a heart attack and died.

Dr. B. A. Finkel, 75, was stricken just a half hour before the mid-night execution. Alternates carried on.

The finale to the story of the ne'er-do-well ex-garbage hauler blamed for 11 knife and gun killings came at 12:05 a.m. (CST) in white painted basement execution chamber at the Nebraska State Penitentiary.

The 29-year-old killer had no last words. At 12:01 a.m. he walked unassisted into the chamber, glanced at some 35 assembled witnesses, managed a kind of smile and ambled up to the bulky, wooden execution chair.

His head was shaven of its red hair and a trouser leg had been cut off to accommodate the electrical contacts.

A curtain was drawn in front of the witnesses as Starkweather was strapped in the chair.

The curtain opened. A half mask covered the killer's face.

"Is there anything you would like to say?" asked Deputy Warden John Greenholtz. Starkweather shook his head negatively.

An eye mask was affixed and the executioner, out of sight behind a partition, got the signal.

At the 2,200 volt charge, Starkweather's body strained against its bonds.

The execution followed a day of frantic effort by Starkweather's family and Washington attorneys to stave off the appointment with death.

All hope gone, Starkweather's mother, Mrs. Guy Starkweather and other family members made a final call on the killer, then left by a side gate to escape some 25 newsmen and photographers milling about the main entrance.

Guy Starkweather, the father, who had handled the last ditch reprieve tries here, stayed away. He said he had "work to do," but did not elaborate.

Greenholtz said Starkweather spurned a final steak dinner and settled instead for some cold meat cuts. He did some painting, some reading and visited with Prison Chaplain Robert Klein as the end neared.

His last words as officials went to fetch him for execution: "What's your hurry?"

Starkweather, five-foot-five and bow-legged, vaulted into notoriety in January of 1958.

Accompanied by his 14-year-old sweetheart, Carl Ann Fugate, he set out on a killing spree. Nine victims in and around Lincoln and one in Wyoming were counted in three days as authorities sought the teen-age fugitives.

Starkweather, following capture near Douglas, Wyo., admitted an earlier unsolved slaying in Lincoln to bring his death count to 11.

He was tried specifically in the shooting of Robert Jensen, Bennet, Neb., schoolboy whose body and that of his girl friend, Carol King, were found in a storm cave about 20 miles from Lincoln.

Juries rejected an insanity plea and recommended death.

Carl, tried six months later, was convicted of first degree murder for aiding and abetting Starkweather, and drew a life sentence.

Magistrate Milton Solomon asked, "did you kiss him back?"

"I must have," answered the girl, a round-faced, heavy-set youngster with short-cropped brown hair.

She testified the boys beat her on the arms and legs. She said another of the six boys, John Rich, 16, also raped her and that two others fondled her. She identified these two by pointing at them in the courtroom. They were Edward Jacobs, 17, and Henry Stokes, 16.

Magistrate Solomon adjourned the case until Friday.

The two youngest boys involved, 14 and 15 years old, were not involved in Wednesday's proceedings. Because of their age they can be charged only with juvenile delinquency. They appeared Tuesday in children's court where psychiatric examinations were ordered for them. Their names were not disclosed because of their age.

Girl Testifies Of Pledge To Accused Rapist

NEW YORK (AP)—A 14-year-old white girl has testified that she promised intimacies to one of six Negro boys accused of raping her.

The girl, whose name has not been made public by authorities, took the witness stand Wednesday in Queens Adolescent Court to tell what happened last Thursday night outside a Corona, Queens, school after a recreational program.

Under questioning by defense counsel, she said that three nights before one of the defendants, Jacob Bethea, 16, had "kissed, hugged and squeezed" her at junior high school 16 where she is a student.

She described Bethea as a former student at the school and said that the kisses took place while she was showing him around during an evening recreation program.

Magistrate Milton Solomon asked, "did you kiss him back?"

"I must have," answered the girl, a round-faced, heavy-set youngster with short-cropped brown hair.

She testified the boys beat her on the arms and legs. She said another of the six boys, John Rich, 16, also raped her and that two others fondled her. She identified these two by pointing at them in the courtroom. They were Edward Jacobs, 17, and Henry Stokes, 16.

'Involved' Minister Marriage Revealed

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—The Rev. W. S. McBirnie, former pastor of Trinity Baptist Church, and Mrs. Wilma Jean Durham were married in Alamogordo, N.M., June 8, the day after the minister resigned his pulpit here in an unscheduled meeting with the church's board of deacons.

The marriage came one week after McBirnie divorced his wife, Jane, in Nuevo Laredo, Mexico. Mrs. Durham's two children, Exa, 12, and Tommy, 15, were with the couple for the ceremony, performed in the courthouse by Justice of Peace Howard Beacham.

Witnesses were "a couple of girls here at the courthouse," Mrs. Ruth Roberts, deputy county clerk, said. They were Tessie Hansen and Mrs. Richard Yearley.

Mrs. Roberts said the couple had requested the marriage not be announced.

The couple indicated they would go to California.

Mrs. Roberts said she and others who met them knew who the couple was. "He seemed like such a nice man," she said.

The minister's career here came to an abrupt end after 10 years of outstanding success when he confessed to his church that he had become improperly involved with a woman member of the church. He never publicly disclosed the name of the woman but her identity had been common knowledge.

Even after the admission, there was strong sentiment in McBirnie's favor. He appealed to the church to replace him, saying he did not intend to resign.

His divorce followed but that action was kept secret for about a week. Later he did resign.

Mrs. Durham was divorced from Carl Durham, business college operator, in April.

Thief Does A Good Turn

LONDON (AP)—The thief who stole Jim Scott's rundown automobile did him a good turn. When the auto disappeared from outside salesman Scott's home a week ago, it was black. There was a hole in one side of the hood. The fenders were buckled. The engine was missing on one cylinder. Police telephoned Scott to say they had found his car. He gaped when he saw it. It had been sprayed maroon. The fenders were new. The busted hood had been repaired. And it went like a bird. Police explained how it happened. The thief abandoned Scott's car five miles away—directly behind another auto of the same make. The owner of the second car had arranged with a garage to have his vehicle picked up for repairs. A mechanic arrived and drove off in Scott's auto by mistake. The error was spotted only after a $224 rejuvenation had been carried out. Scott won't be asked to pay, said a garage spokesman. And the auto that was left standing in the road? It was stolen.

Algerian Rebel Force Is Routed

ALBIERS (AP)—The French army claimed complete control again today around the eastern port city of Bone after crushing the largest rebel assault ever made on a big Algerian city. The rebels' aim appeared to be psychological rather than military. French troops, planes and tanks surrounded the rebel band on the outskirts of Bone near the airport. A communique reported 31 rebels killed and 15 captured during more than 12 hours of fighting Wednesday. The French reported six of their soldiers killed. Prisoners said the band had been dispatched as reinforcements to the Kabylie mountain area in central Algeria from nearby Tunisia, where the rebels have their main training ground. The Algerian attackers were specially uniformed and equipped with automatic weapons. In attacking the heavily fortified city of 150,000, they apparently were trying to show the world, the French and their own people that the 4½-year-old rebellion is still flourishing despite French claims to the contrary.

Cabbie Gets The Bird

NEW YORK (AP)—Why did the chicken cross the road? To get to the other side of busy Fifth Ave. in the heart of Manhattan. The fowl slipped out of a crate on a truck Tuesday. Squawking and screeching, it dodged honking autos and fluttered to a sidewalk. A cab driver picked it up and tried to hand it to a patrolman. He declined custody because he was too busy unsnarling the traffic jam. So the cabbie drove off with the bird.

Shock Victim

DALLAS (AP)—Lee W. Bartlett, 50, a plumber in the suburban Farmers Branch community, died last night apparently the victim of accidental electrocution. Investigators said an extension cord under a house where Bartlett was repairing a water leak apparently caused his death.

PATTERSON 4-1 PICK IN CHAMPIONSHIP GO

By MURRAY ROSE
 NEW YORK (AP) — Heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson, grimly determined to win the public's full acclaim, and Ingemar Johansson, just as eager to become Sweden's first world boxing champion, clash tonight in a weather permitting—in their long-awaited title fight.

The 24-year-old New Yorker, making his fifth defense of the crown, was a strong 4-1 favorite today to beat back the challenge of the undefeated, 26-year-old European champion in the 15-rounder before 35,000 at Yankee Stadium. Starting time is 8:30 p.m. Big Spring time.

With the bout outdoors, the weather was the main concern of the principals as they headed for the weigh-in ceremony at a midtown hotel. The forecast was for increasing cloudiness and a chance of showers in the afternoon and evening. If a postponement is necessary the fight will be held Friday night.

"It will take a helluva downpour for me to put it off," said promoter Bill Rosenzohn. "I've been waiting for nine months to put this on and I want to get it over with."

"We went over the $500,000 mark (this break-even point)," he said. "And I'm confident we'll go over $600,000."

With the closed circuit, coast-to-coast radio (ABC) and the movies thrown in, Patterson figures to make between $400,000 and $500,000 and Johansson from $150,000 to $200,000.

The financial reports gladdened Johansson, a solid businessman with varied interests, but he was more concerned with his ring business with Patterson.

The lopsided odds, the picks of most of the experts for Patterson, and criticism of his unique training methods—did not, however, dampen his confidence. "I feel his 'thunderbolt' right once—apparently hasn't dismayed Ingemar."

"If I hit him with my right—and I am confident I will—he will go down and out," said the optimistic Swede. Johansson speaks of his right hand as if it was not part of him but a gun instead.

"I haven't been waiting for any fight since I knocked out Archie Moore (in five rounds, 1956) to win the title," said Patterson. "He is the No. 1 contender and I want to beat the best."

The champion has been vicious and sensational in his workouts as Johansson has been tame and dull. Floyd has left no doubt that he hopes to win quickly. For the first time he has shown signs of being irked by criticism of the calibre of his title opponents. And for the first time he has become mean and sure, according to his trainer, Dan Florio.

Johansson has been idle since he flattened Californian Eddie Machen in the first round at Goteborg, Sweden, last Sept. 14. That made his record 21-0, including 13 knockouts.

Even if he has that great right, Ingemar may have trouble landing it squarely against the elusive, fast-moving, bobbing and weaving champion.

Johansson, a strong, 186-pounder, is accustomed to fighting the standup, classic style fighters of the British-European school. They don't go in much for body punching. Patterson's style is vastly different. He holds his gloves in front of his face, peek-a-boo style, and his forearms protect his body. From that position he strikes out with flashing fists, aiming searing combinations to the body and head.

This observer believes Patterson will cut down his rival with these punishing body blows in one round. They will be blowing the thin, six-ounce gloves, instead of the eight-ounce Patterson used against London.

Johansson would have to nail Patterson square and quick. But he doesn't have the speed and finesse to match the champ.

Although heavyweight fight fever gripped the city little betting action was reported on the Broadway bourse. What wagering was done was mostly on knockouts. It was 3-1 that the fight wouldn't go the route, 2-1 that Patterson would win by a KO, and 6-1 against Johansson stopping Patterson.

Scoring of the fight will be by the rounds system. A supplementary point system also is used to break draws. The winner of each round gets from 1 to 4 points, the loser none.

The fight will be aired over KBST Big Spring.

One Winner in Group
 This threesome teed off together in Wednesday's one-day Women's Invitational Golf tournament at the Big Spring Country Club and Twila Webster (left) of San Angelo won with low net honors in the title fight. Mrs. Webster's net tally was 74. With her, left to right, are Eliza Turner, Big Spring; and Nancy Irish, Lubbock. A total of 52 women, 30 of them from out of town, took part.

Justine Kerr of Lubbock also won a prize in that flight by finishing with the second low net, 76.

Other winners included: FIRST FLIGHT — Lois Slaven, Lubbock, formerly of Big Spring, low gross, 92; Eileen White, Lamesa, low net, 72. Hellen Fisher, Big Spring, second low net, 74. SECOND FLIGHT — Ann McComb, Big Spring, low gross; Betty Jones, Big Spring, low net; Faye Morgan, Big Spring, second low net. THIRD FLIGHT — Virginia Wright, Big Spring, low gross; Joan Mund, Big Lake, low net; Lil Lurting, Big Spring, second low net. Tahoka entries dominated the nine-hole flight. Freda Towns had the low gross, Abby Wharton checked in with the low net while Mary Wright had the second low net. All three hail from Tahoka.

Helen White of Lamesa went home with a prize, too. She finished first in the putting contest.

C's Again Use Bunt To Destroy Indians

By ED WILKS
 Associated Press Sports Writer

There's something about a Baltimore bunt that makes Cleveland's Tribe a bunch of dead Injuns. Remember when the Orioles gained a share of the American League lead two weeks ago? They did it when the Indians goofed twice on a bunt that scored three runs.

Wednesday night, the Orioles were at it again jumping into second place, a half-game behind the front-stumbling Indians, when an error on a bunt gave them three ninth-inning runs for a 7-4 victory at Cleveland.

It was the fifth defeat in seven games for the Indians while Baltimore, scoring its first four runs on solo homers by Gus Triandos, Walt Dropp, Billy Gardner and Bob Nieman, leap-frogged the Chicago White Sox with its sixth victory in eight games.

The White Sox skidded to third with a 4-2 defeat by Washington, their sixth loss in eight games.

First Federal used a slugging pitcher to walk over Cosden, 13-5, here last night in the Teen-age Baseball league.

Dexter Pate tossed for four innings and left a 10-5 headstart to his reliever, Joe Ramirez. The Federal team scored 10 runs in the first three innings.

Pate had two of the dozen hits. First Federal had. Both were home runs in the second and third innings.

Cosden had five hits, including one double by John Rzaas.

Olmedo Meets Indian Again

By STERLING SLAPPEY
 WIMBLEDON, England (AP) — Alex Olmedo gets his chance for revenge today.

The United States Davis Cup star from Peru meets Ramana-Krishnan of India, probably the best non-seeded player in the tournament, in the third round of the All-England Tennis Championships.

Last week Krishnan whipped Olmedo in three sets in the semi-finals of the London Championships at Queen's Club. The quietspoken Peruvian has vowed it will not happen again, especially at Wimbledon where he is seeded No. 1.

But Krishnan went into the match saying, "I've got nothing to lose. I'm going for everything and I might beat him again."

The 23-year-old Olmedo had all his strokes working Wednesday as he polished off 17-year-old Rodney Mandelstam of South Africa, 6-1, 6-3, in 55 minutes. Krishnan, a year younger than Olmedo, disposed of Bob Phillips-Moore of Australia, 6-2, 6-2, 6-2.

While rain interrupted play in this 32-year-old tournament seven times Wednesday, causing a re-vamping of the schedule, many of the 20,000 fans turned to the discussion of Olmedo's chances and the sparkling play of 18-year-old Earl Buechholz of St. Louis.

It was a question which was the most important — the victory of America's top young prospect, the triumph of Olmedo or the defeat of Kurt Nielsen of Denmark.

Before, between and after the showers, Buechholz defeated Gordon Forbes of South Africa 3-6, 7-5, 11-9, 10-8 although suffering from a slightly strained stomach muscle.

DODGERS FIND KEY AT HOME

By ED WILKS
 Associated Press Sports Writer

It begins to look as if the Dodgers finally have forgotten cozy Ebbets Field and have accepted the Coliseum, their freakish ball yard, as a home.

Ebbets was no model of what a major league ball park should be, of course, but the Brooklyn bandbox fit the Dodgers like a Bardot sweater. It was there that they put away their best string of pennants, winning four in five years from 1952 through 1956.

Last year they shifted to Los Angeles and barely played 500 ball while finishing seventh, missing the first division for the first time in 14 years.

That was last year. At the moment they're 22-16 at the Coliseum for a 579 percentage that ranks second only to Milwaukee's .636 (21-12), and the Braves are leading the National League any way you look at it anyway.

The Dodgers swept their third straight from Philadelphia Wednesday night, 9-6. That tightened their grip on third, just a game behind San Francisco and only three short of first place Milwaukee.

The Braves retained their two-game lead by beating St. Louis 4-0, in a game ended in the seventh inning by rain, after San Francisco had defeated Pittsburgh 4-3. Cincinnati whipped the Chicago Cubs 5-0.

A two-run homer by Wally Moon, extending his hitting streak to 17 games, broke a 6-6 tie in the sixth inning for the Dodgers, who had blown a 6-1 lead. Don Demeter drove in three runs for Los Angeles with a double, triple and his 15th homer, Roger Craig now 2-0 since his recall from the minors last week, was the winner, but needed Clem Labine's four-hit, shutout relief.

Wally Post and Valmy Thomas homered for the last place Phils. Don Cardwell (1-5) was the loser in relief.

Joey Jay, Milwaukee's young right-hander, gave up eight hits and three walks, but gained his first victory since May 19 after Hank Aaron belted his 20th homer, with two on, in a four-run first. Jay, now 3-5, had lost four in a row. Rookie Dick Ricketts (0-3) lost it as the Cards dropped back to seventh place.

Right-hander Jim Brosnan (3-3) blanked the Cubs on four hits for his second shutout in the majors. His other shutout came back in 1956, when he was pitching for the Cubs.

The Reds backed him with a four-run first against loser Dick Drott (1-2) when two were out. Ed Bailey's two-run homer capped it.

A bases-loaded error by center fielder Bill Virdon, whose single had given Pittsburgh a 3-3 tie in the top of the frame, gave the Giants the winning run in the ninth. Virdon dropped a bloop fly by pinch-hitter Leon Wagner after colliding with second baseman Bill Mazeroski. Mike McCormick (5-7) was the winner, with Bennie Daniels (4-6) the loser, both in relief. The Buca's Dick Stuart and San Francisco's Willie Kirkland swapped 400-foot-plus home runs off starters Johnny Antonelli and Bob Friend.

Alpine Triumphs But Hobbs Loses

By The Associated Press

Alpine, the South Division leader, kept on winning Wednesday but Hobbs, the Sophomore League's North Division leader, dropped a tilt.

Alpine crushed Odessa 15-3 while Carlbad walloped Hobbs 13-5. Artesia got Plainview 5-2 and Midland nipped Roswell 6-4.

Thursday night Artesia is at Plainview, Odessa at Alpine, Carlbad at Hobbs and Roswell at Midland.

Odessa pitchers struck out eight Alpine batters, but they allowed 14 hits, 7 walks and committed 7 errors.

Letty Harold Gelein pitched three hit ball for Midland to beat Roswell. He gave up a first inning single to Ron Brand and eighth-inning hits to John Mason and Bill Montgomery.

Al Correa held Plainview to six scattered hits for Artesia's victory.

Jim Pyles hit a home run for Plainview in the sixth inning and drove in the other Plainview run with a single in the third.

Deviils Assume First Place In National Li'l League

The Devils slapped a 7-5 defeat in the face of the Dodgers here last night in the National Little League and thus moved into first place.

The winners now have a 5-1 record, and the Dodgers have dropped into a three-way tie for second.

Keith House came on for Ronnie Anderson in the third inning to get the victory. The Dodgers had taken a 4-0 lead after the second inning.

Nabors And Webb Play In Forsan

Nabors Paint Store, frustrated twice by rain within the past week, will meet the Webb AFB team in a softball double header in Forsan this evening. The first game begins at 7:30 p.m.

Nabors will carry a 7-1 won-lost record on the field. The Painters have lost only to Webb.

Cotton Mize and Troy Wetsel have been nominated to pitch for the Nabors team.

The Painters visit San Angelo Saturday for a pair of contests with the Corner Drug Store club of that city.

It'll Take A Lot

NEW YORK (AP)—In case of rain today Promoter Bill Rosenberg probably will wait until 5 p.m. (EST) before making any decision on whether or not to go ahead with the Floyd Patterson-Ingemar Johansson heavyweight title fight in New York.

"It will take a helluva downpour to make me stop it," said Rosenzohn.

Stars Decision Pigs Behind Victor Reid

The Stars tripped the Pigs, 8-0, here last night in the American Little League to leave both teams sharing a 2-3 record.

Victor Reid was all the way for the winners striking out 11, walking none and hitting one batsman.

Doyle Irwin had a home run in the fourth with two on, the big inning for the Stars who scored five at that point. Larry Helton had a single and a double and Robert Henry had three singles.

Ricky Robertson had three singles in three advances for the Pigs. Randy Thomas was the losing pitcher.

No major league game will be played tonight due to the Soap Box Derby.

Casper Won't Challenge Hedge Again At Chicago

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN CHICAGO (AP)—National Open Champion Bill Casper today returned to the scene of one of his most embarrassing golfing episodes. He and virtually every other pro he beat out for the National Open crown two weeks ago were in a field of 150 players teeing off today in the $57,000 Chicago Open. The 72-hole test over the exacting Glenaeles Municipal. Fee course carries the biggest purse distribution of the summer tourney trail. The winner pockets $9,000.

Casper tried to chop down a hedge. The hedge still is there, and Casper vows he won't go near it again. After starting with an 80, Casper put on one of the greatest recoveries in golf. He shot successive rounds of 64-64-67 to finish with 275, only three strokes behind the winner, Ken Venturi. His 64's stand as the course record. The compact course has tricky greens but it was expected to provide a par-busting frolic for the top-drawer pros.

Venturi is back to defend his title. In addition to Casper, the field includes the season's leading money winner and masters champion, Art Wall; Bob Rosburg and Mike Souchak. Casper's closest pursuers in the National Open; the 1958 top money winner, Arnold Palmer; Sam Snead and virtually every other big name competitor. After 36 holes, the field will be trimmed to the low 50 scorers and ties. It will be cut to 60 and tied for the final round Sunday.

FIGHT RESULTS

Chicago—Bobby Seaman, 135, San Francisco, outpointed Mario Vecchiato, 136, Italy, 10.
Forbes, Wales—Joe Erskine, Wales, outpointed Dick Richardson, Wales, 10, (heavyweights).

Average Golfer Guilty Of Four Mistakes: Sam

By SAM SNEAD AP Newsfeatures Writer
The average golfer makes four big mistakes.
1. He never warms up before getting off.
2. He never plays golf until it's time to take a vacation.
3. He uses the wrong club so many times.
4. On the green he asks which way the ball will break. He usually asks a caddy who sometimes really doesn't know himself. And when the caddy actually knows which way the putt will break, the golfer, having read the green another way, becomes so confused he doesn't listen to the good caddy.

Women's Open Begins Today

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Louise Suggs would like nothing better than to match her 72-hole total of 285 two years ago at Churchill Valley Country Club—scene of today's first round of the Women's National Open Golf Championship. Miss Suggs, two-time winner of the Women's Open and three-time runnerup, posted the 285 with a blistering 2-under par 68 on the final round to win the Ladies Professional Golf title in 1957. Both figures have withstood the challenge of visits of the women professionals at Churchill over the past three years. Miss Mickey Wright, who beat out Miss Suggs by five strokes with a 290 for the title last year, will be shooting for an unprecedented repeat championship. Not even the late Babe Didrikson Zaharias, who won three of these championships, was able to come through on successive years. Betsy Rawls, the only other three-time winner, also will be seeking the title again with three other past champions Betty Jameson, Fay Crocker and Kathy Cornelius.

Wink Tourney Dates Are Set

Local softball teams have been invited to compete in the Wink Invitational tournament, scheduled for July 20-25. Entry fee has been pegged at $25. Those interested should contact Frank Barton, Box 933, Wink. Barton's telephone number is LA 7-3447. Cash totaling $300 will go to the first place team, along with a trophy. The runnerup club gets a trophy. In addition, 12 all-tournament selections will be honored. No strict eligibility rules will be followed. However, any player appearing in the finals must have appeared in at least one previous contest. The field will be limited to eight teams. Managers of teams entering the meet must forward their entry fee and unofficial roster to Barton by July 12.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Buck Francis, the Snyder scribe, drew attention to the fact recently that Snyder golfers do not support their own invitational tournament. Only 25 of the 72 linksters entered in the show held there earlier this month reside in Snyder. Local players do much better by the Big Spring Invitational, timed to coincide with Labor Day every year. Of the 181 players who registered for the tournament here last year, a total of 109 reside here. When the Country Club expands to 18 holes (and that should be inside of two years), the Big Spring Invitational could become the largest invitational tournament around. Of course, golfing regulars at the Municipal course and Webb AFB played helped swell the entry list of the Big Spring meet last year.

The Floyd Patterson-Ingo Johansson Heavyweight championship fight is being televised into theatres of only three cities in Texas (Dallas, Houston and Corpus Christi) but you'll be able to get a blow-by-blow account of it by tuning into KBST Big Spring, 1490 on your dial. Get there early. The thing might not last long.

When Ossie Alvarez, the ex-Big Spring, entered the lineup of the Richmond International league entry, he replaced Fritz Brickell, called up by the New York Yankees. Brickell was the boy who replaced Bobby Richardson in the late innings of that CBS-TV Game of the Week between Cleveland and New York last Sunday.

Raymond Culp, the Austin, Texas, boy who signed a $100,000 bonus contract with the Philadelphia Phillies recently, is being assigned to Johnson City of the Appalachian league, which begins its season today. Culp's teacher-manager at Johnson City will be Ed Lyons. Three of Big Spring Jerry Currie's horses have now won races at Ruidoso Downs this summer. Jar got his nose in front in not one but two sprints earlier this season. Dancing Deedie won the inaugural event at the New Mexico track last Friday, paying $5.50, $3.10 and $3.10. Later in the day, Currie's Debnair Dandy romped home in front in a four furlong thoroughbred allowance race. The horse was well regarded by the backers and paid only $3.00, $2.30 and $2.20. Currie's purses for the day amounted to $868.75, which will help to pay the feed bill. The same afternoon, another horse owned by a Big Spring man—J. T. Dillard's Dixie D, paid a terrific price in winning the fourth race of the day, a four furlong event. Dixie D's return was $48.90, $18.80 and $8.60. Dillard's end of the purse was $447.93.

The Gay Dalton Memorial race at the Raton, N. M., race track, run last Sunday for the 14th time, was named after a horse sometimes called the Mexican Man O'War.

Gay Dalton beat the best of them from all countries after being shipped to Mexico City. He experienced some success at Santa Anita but had an attack of acute indigestion after moving over to Hollywood and failed to recover. The Raton people honor him because he received his early training at Taos, N. M., and won his first race as a two-year-old at the State Fair in Albuquerque.

Bobby Layne, the pro footballer who has been in town to see how the construction of his bowling center is progressing, says the Los Angeles Rams went a long way toward clinching the National Football League title when they acquired Ollie Matson from the Chicago Cardinals. The Rams gave up nine players for Matson.

Charley Powell, the big Negro who lost to Roy Harris in a Houston fight ring recently, started boxing on the advice of Archie Moore, the venerable Lighthweight champion.

WITH A 73 Frog Koger Leads C-C Qualifiers

Frog Koger leads the early qualifiers for the annual Fourth of July Golf tournament, an annual meet that determines the club champion of the Big Spring Country Club. Koger fired a one-over par 73. Of the 23 who have completed 18 holes of qualifying play, 10 are in the 70's and pro Shirley Robbins has predicted it will take less than 80 to rate the title flight of 16. Members of the club have until

Betting OK Would Boost Tax Take

DALLAS (AP) — The Texas Thoroughbred Breeders Assn. adopted a resolution yesterday saying pari-mutuel betting would raise $9 million dollars a year in new taxes for the state. Joe Straus of San Antonio was elected president, succeeding Erwin Glaspy of Ennis, who became chairman of the board.

Vasquez, Urbina To Meet July 25

MEXICO CITY (AP)—A second national lightweight title fight between Bernabe (Baby) Vasquez and Al Urbina has been set for July 25.

Harvey Kuenn Gives Credit To Jim Dykes

By DAVE DILES DETROIT (AP) — Harvey Kuenn, who called Bill Norman's firing a "bum rap," says the man who succeeded Norman as manager has the Detroit Tigers thinking more about winning and less about personal glory. Kuenn's booming bat has been a major factor as the Tigers have bounced off the American League floor and become a first place contender. But the Tiger veteran, the league's leading hitter, gives most of the credit to Jimmie Dykes. When Norman was fired May 2, Kuenn lashed out at the Detroit management. "Bill Norman got a bum rap," Kuenn said. "It's not his fault we're not winning."

At the time, the Tigers had lost 15 of their first 17 starts. And the players were hearing old charges that they were merely fat cats contending with any old spot in the standings. "I still don't think our early trouble can be blamed on Norman," Kuenn said. "Bill is a great guy, and he tried to relay us and lift us up. But it seemed like we kept finding ways to lose." Kuenn said the revitalized Tigers are not so concerned about the home run they missed by inches, or the catch someone made. "Maybe we didn't realize it before," he explained, "but I think we talked too much about the unimportant things. We didn't concentrate enough on winning."

"We know we weren't as bad as we looked early in the season. It's just that Dykes has helped us prove it."

Renegades Capture Loop's Top Post

The Renegades defeated the Hot Shot Hoodies, 2-1 at Clover Bowl earlier this week and took over first place in Under Forty Bowling league standings. In other matches, the Avalanches defeated the Blasters, 2-1; Forked Lightning defeated the Horseshoes, 2-1; and Ray's belted the Four Almosts, 2 1/2-1 1/2. Jeanette Long of the Four Almosts had a 190 game to lead the women. Lavelle Thomas of Ray's posted a 441 for the top series. Ladd Smith of Ray's registered a 170 to pace the men. J. O. Chapman of the Avalanches came in with a 442 for the top series. Ray's posted 566-1715 for the top team scores.

Splits were converted by: R. H. Weaver, Renegades, 5-7; Ramona Harris, Avalanches, 3-10; Gerald Harris, Avalanches, 3-10-7; Frances Dunlap, Four Almosts, 4-7-10; Betty Smith, Ray's 2-7; and Ray Thomas Ray's, 5-7.

Long Assures People That He's Sane

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP)—Gov. Earl K. Long Wednesday night assured the people of Louisiana he is sane and predicted he would win his freedom from a mental hospital in a court test Friday.

In a surprise radio interview taped in the ward where he rests 79 miles from his empty capital office, Long said:

"If I felt for one second that my mentality wasn't equal to the occasion of running the governor's office, I'd resign."

The night also brought a series of unexpected moves.

1. Atty. Gen. Jack Gremlion filed papers reportedly contesting the jurisdiction of the Covington court where Long is to wage his habeas corpus freedom battle Friday.

2. Long's chief counsel, Joe Arthur Sims of Hammond, answered Gremlion's shift strategy by saying: "I'm satisfied we're in the right court."

3. Judge Robert D. Jones of Covington's 22nd Judicial District Court declined to indicate which way his judicial leanings would swing. He said he would comment in court "when and if I am called upon to rule."

Sims said he taped the interview with the governor because of the press of phone calls on Long's health. New Orleans station WNOE broadcast it and then made it available to statewide radio and television stations.

"I've been undermined by my nephew (Sen. Russell B. Long (D-La.)) by my wife, and my supposed cousin, Dr. Arthur Long in Baton Rouge," the 63-year-old governor charged in a high-pitched voice. The three signed Long's original commitment papers and spirited him to Galveston, Tex., on May 30.

The governor called his wife "one of the most jealous women God ever let live." He said the state was in "good hands" under Lt. Gov. Luther Frazier.

Long asked, in the recording, that the people of Louisiana pray for him because "I've gone through quite a bit in the last three or four weeks."

"I'm glad to tell you good people that as far as mentally, I never was any better off in my life than I am today."

But, he added, "after they got through chucking me from one auto to another, fighting me on one street corner after another and put me on stretchers and trying me on stretchers and trying me on stretchers, then I can't tell you that physically I'm as well off as I was."

He added: "When I get to be governor again, everything I do will be done deliberately with the advice of friends and people well informed."

Quad Parents Face Eviction Threat

NEW YORK (AP)—Alex and Bessie Kajouras, parents of newborn quadruplets, face eviction next Wednesday from their five-room Brooklyn apartment.

Kajouras, 30, said philosophical: "We can't worry about that now. We've got the kids to think of. Something will work out."

The eviction notice reportedly stemmed from quarrels with the landlord over repairs.

The quads, three boys and a girl, born Wednesday, were reported in fine condition. The quads were the first children of the 26-year-old mother.

Washburn Trial Witness Paroled

AUSTIN (AP)—A witness who testified that Harry Washburn had admitted to him the car bomb slaying of Mrs. Harry Weaver has won a parole from his life sentence.

The Pardons Board granted a parole yesterday for Andrew Nelson, key state witness who was co-indicted for the slaying of Mrs. Weaver in January 1955 at San Angelo. She was Washburn's former mother-in-law.

Industrial Foundation Is Checking On New Leads

Without fanfare, the Industrial Foundation is systematically following leads which may result in additions to the city's industrial family.

With its site on U. S. 80 east completely paid out, the IF is able to talk turkey with prospective plant operators.

Right now it has a couple of good prospects, although in neither case would IF officials figure that they have an inside track. Rather, they assess their position as probably second in the running.

Some other miscellaneous negotiations are underway, but none of these have reached the serious stage.

Most of the leads turned up so far have been furnished by local businessmen and industrialists.

The foundation has been contacted by promoters, and one in particular offered a supposedly red hot deal in return for a substantial contribution. It turned out that this was the promoter's fee.

While IF directors balk at this sort of connection operation, they do consider legitimate investment proposals.

Having the site paid for opens the way for local participation in some new venture on a sound footing. Local interests are not unkind that most of the nation's industrial development is home-grown.

DEAR ABBY

NOT NEEDY

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Most of our relatives live in the city but we live on a farm. We make a decent living but our relatives feel that since we live in the country and have five kids we are real hard up or something. They keep sending their children's worn-out clothes to us. They don't fit our kids and aren't decent enough to wear anywhere.

I unpacked a mess of these old rags this morning and just took them out and burned them. Should we write to them and tell them to quit sending us boxes or just keep quiet? The stuff they send is not worth the postage.

COUNTRY SISTER
DEAR SIS: Write your relatives and thank them but suggest that they give their boxes of (don't say "worn-out" — say "outgrown") clothing to a local rummage sale or charity.

DEAR ABBY: A girl who works in our office has a PAST . . . and I mean a real PAST. She started out young and has really been through the mill. And she's not ashamed to tell people about it. She is very popular with the men because she tells them dirty stories.

Everyone says she is a "good sport" and her past hasn't seemed to have hurt her. In fact, I think it helps. I wonder if it wouldn't pay me to get a past?

NO FAST
DEAR NO: Don't envy a girl with a past. She attracts only men who are hanging around in the hope that history will repeat itself.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I have been married four years. He is 25 and I am 24. We have four wonderful children.

We have never had a honeymoon or vacation together. We take the children everywhere we go.

This summer my mother, who lives in another state, wants to take the children for two weeks. Am I being unfair for wanting to go someplace without the children?

My husband thinks we should spend our vacation with our children. I love the children but, Abby, I could sure use a two-week rest. I'd appreciate your opinion.

KIND OF TIRED
DEAR TIRED: Everyone needs a vacation without the children occasionally. It's good for the parents, and good for the children. By all means, accept your mother's generous offer.

DEAR ABBY: Get a load of this: I am too young to wear nylon stockings or heels or lipstick but I am old enough to do the dishes, make beds and stay with my seven-year-old brother. I am too young to go to a night movie with a girlfriend but I am old enough to go to the store after dark for lunch meat my mother forgot to get. One minute I am a "child" and the next minute I am an "adult." What am I supposed to be anyway? I am 12 years old.

DON'T KNOW
DEAR DON'T: You are "supposed to be" a child who is learning to accept adult responsibility. Maturity is being able to face up to your responsibility without grumbling. Patience.

CONFIDENTIAL TO GERTRUDE: The "candlelight" routine will never work. What he needs is a hotfoot!

"Why don't my parents trust me?" For What Every Teen-ager Wants to Know, send 25 cents and a large, stamped, self-addressed envelope to ABBY, care of the Big Spring Herald.

For a personal reply, write to ABBY in care of the Big Spring Herald. Enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Texas Demos Favor Lyndon

DALLAS (AP)—The Dallas Morning News said Wednesday in a story by Allen Duckworth that Texas Democratic leaders believe Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson could whip either of two leading Republicans for the presidency.

Duckworth's story said 99 per cent of Texas Democratic leaders polled by The News believe that Senate majority leader could beat either Vice President Richard Nixon or New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller.

The story continued that 80 per cent of those polled felt that people in their regions of the State of Texas favor Johnson for the Democratic nomination.

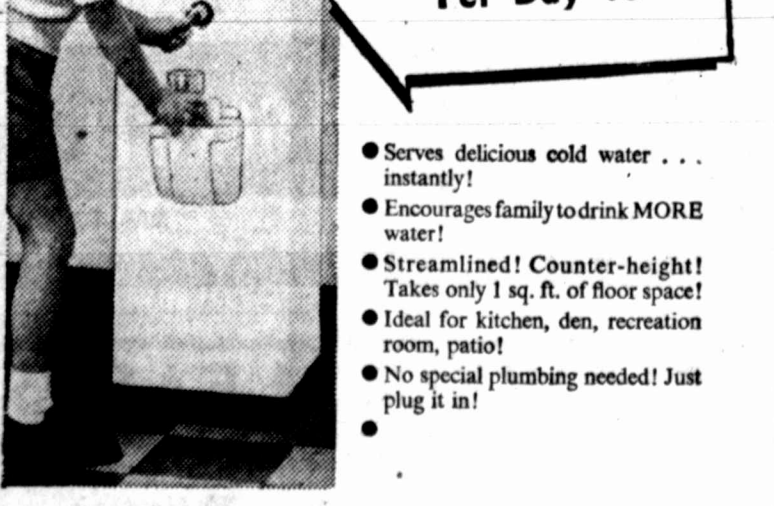

The News polled by mail and received a substantial response, it said, from Democratic State Executive Committee members and Democratic county chairmen.

"While Sen. Johnson apparently

Farm Legislation Prospects Uncertain Now, Says Mahon

The farm legislation prospects are uncertain and hardly rosy, Rep. George Mahon says in a newsletter to his constituents.

Some railroads have instituted action to reduce freight rates on cotton, he noted, and Rep. Mahon said he had joined with others in asking that this benefit be passed on to cotton farmers. He proposed that this be in slightly higher purchase and loan rates than those announced by the Department of Agriculture. It could mean about a million dollars to West Texas producers.

The congressman said he had voted against government loan limitations because he believed they would adversely affect the over-all operations of all farmers. Quite a large number of West Texans would be hit directly. Some sort of limitations may be imposed, he said, but they may be less stringent than the arbitrary proposals of $35,000 and $50,000.

Acceptable wheat legislation may not be agreed upon because the president has indicated a veto for any increase in the support level even if acreage is cut. The House had killed a bill to raise parity loans from 75 to 80 per cent and to cut the acreage 20 per cent.

There is still no limit on grain sorghum plantings, but the announced support level is 60 per cent of parity, 10 per cent—or 31 cents per c.w.t. — less than last year.

There is no likelihood that Congress will pass at this session any pending bills fixing minimum wages for farm labor, according to Rep. Mahon. However, the Secretary of Labor advocates minimum wages for such workers and takes the position that he can, under existing law, fix minimum wages and establish standards of em-

Seek 'Woman' In Murder Case

MEXICO CITY (AP) — A dispatch from Tijuana said today police are hunting a doctor who posed as a woman for over five years to escape arrest in connection with a murder case.

It said Dr. Antonio Pina Reyes left Mexico in 1953 when police wanted to question him about a death and showed up later in several Baja California towns, with long hair and makeup, as a woman doctor, Graciela Nava Pina.

A year ago, the dispatch said, he moved to Rosarito Beach, 26 miles from Tijuana, and set up an office in a trailer.

He joined a women's club and soon had a good practice. At times he even entertained police officials. But it was because he had some fashionable women patients that his masquerade was made known.

A nurse with whom he was friendly became jealous and tipped off the police, said the Tijuana account. But the doctor fled before they could catch him.

Texas' Growth Needs Are Cited

EDINBURG (AP)—The executive vice president of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce says that to support Texas population growth it takes about 50,000 new jobs a year.

Fred Husbands was one of three regional chamber executives who spoke at the annual Edinburg Chamber of Commerce banquet.

Husbands said there were no new jobs being created in agriculture and the mining and mineral industry has lost ground.

"This leaves only one major source of new jobs—in manufacturing," he said.

Huge Preparations Shape For Martin's 75th Party

By BOBBY HORTON
STANTON (SC)—The pangs of finding the right-sized people for the limited-sized costumes pained Stanton volunteers as rehearsals began for the Martin County Diamond Jubilee pageant Wednesday night.

Three of the 16 scenes of the pageant, "Jubilarama," will be rehearsed tonight. The presentation relates Martin County and Stanton history.

Mrs. Jendo Turner, who heads up several of the 61 different committees, was frustrated.

"I've got to find 30 younguns and they all must be 5 feet, 2 inches tall. Here I've got only 14 rounded up," she said. "I'm thinking about borrowing some at the Fort Stockton centennial."

200 COMMITTEEMEN
 Jendo, known by director Lehr Knowles and her companions as one of the hardest workers, is among the more than 200 Stanton and Martin County citizens doing jobs for the 75th anniversary celebration July 10-18.

Martin County judge Jim McCoy lauded everyone for pitching in to help. He heads up six committees, too, and has a position on the executive committee.

He and Jendo work in the Court House larger than the one "What committee work I don't have, he has," she quips.

"Yes, it all ends up in the court house, one way or the other," McCoy says.

As many as 300 are to be in the pageant which will be staged on a 300-foot platform at the football field, J. T. Davis, Stanton carpenter, is leader of the committee to build the stage.

He has donated materials lined up and will stake out the huge area today. Actual building will start Friday or Saturday — when volunteer workers are corralled—and the platform is supposed to be ready by July 1. All material will be salvaged and returned after the pageant.

Curdy, Sandra Kelly, Josephine Landers, Nina West, Shirley Hanson, Nancy Johnson, Patricia Miller, Delzee Comer, Dorothy Hull, Sandra Shipp, and Fran Britton.

Tabulations to name the winner will start July 11. The queen will be named Monday, July 13.

MASSIVE PAGEANT
 The pageant, its 16 scenes linked by narration, begins with the introduction of the Miss Martin County Diamond Jubilee and her court.

In the first scene of Stanton history is depicted a tribe of Comanche Indians who once roamed this territory. Next the railroad workers of the T&P come through surveying and have trouble with the tribe at a waterhole, showing the difficulty there was in the moving west.

The original settlers then are seen arriving by rail. Father Anastasius Peters and four other Germans. The settling of the Marlenfeld (Stanton) site progresses in the fourth scene in which wagon trains bring in the Mundlocks and Konz's.

LAW AND ORDER
 As the town grows a more accurate survey is made and the town is laid out. Drunken cowboys are squelched by irate citizens and the need for law is defined; organized law results.

The first county officials are characterized in a scene describing the organization of the county government in 1884. Early education in the first school, the zeal of the old camp meeting, and the addition of passenger service to the railroad is described.

Cotton becomes the major crop, and in two scenes, life turns frivolous in the Gay 90's. The pageant closes after views from two World Wars, with the grand finale bringing out the entire cast in a panorama of past achievement, a vision of the future space age and a dream of universal peace.

Safety And Control New Unit Targets

By GLENN COOTES
 Five men will be transferred to the newly created traffic division of the police department, Chief of Police C. L. Rogers said Thursday.

The Big Spring City Commission voted to set up a traffic division within the department at the regular meeting Tuesday evening. Due to a lack of manpower and budgetary provisions, the division is to be set up in skeleton form with hope of expansion during the next fiscal year of the city's planning.

Rogers said the new division brings the total to four divisions within the department. Prior to the commission's action, the department had a patrol division, a detective division, and an identification division.

TRANSFER FROM PATROL
 Five men will be taken from the patrol division to man the new group, Rogers said. The traffic division will consist of a sergeant, an accident investigator and three motorcycle patrolmen.

The sergeant will be responsible for the operation of the division, Rogers said, and will handle the traffic matters for the department.

The division will have two motorcycles which will be in operation 16 hours per day. A traffic car will also be in the division and will go to the scene of all accidents within the city.

Rogers said the car will carry first aid equipment, a fire extinguisher, as well as other emergency equipment. The division will also handle the radar equipment of the city and the majority of the escort work done by the department for military convoys, funerals, and ambulances.

"However," Rogers said, "the patrol division will not be relieved of its work in traffic. Nor will the traffic division be free from all patrol work. They will help when and where needed."

SHIFT ASSIGNMENTS
 Rogers said one motorcycle officer would work the first shift from 7 a.m. to 3 p.m. Another traffic officer will ride the same machine from 3 p.m. to 11 p.m. A third man will work from the second motorcycle during the busiest hours of the day, 12 noon to 8 p.m.

The accident car will work from 7 a.m. to 10 p.m., and then will be used by the other divisions when not in traffic division service. The accident investigator and sergeant will operate from the car.

One important phase of the new division's work will be traffic safety control, Rogers said. "We plan to keep records of all accidents with particular attention to the location," he explained.

REVEALING RECORDS
 One example of the use of the records is that they can point out intersections where accidents most often occur. This information will be used by the city engineering department for study. Recommendations may be made for different traffic arrangements at accident-prone corners and closer en-

I had one scene in which I wore dancing-girl tights. "The part is yours," director Howard Hawks told me, "providing you lose weight." There wasn't much time, but I went on a strenuous diet, and in three days I lost six pounds.
"Taking off weight and keeping it off are two different things," Angie remarked. "I had to be very sure that I wouldn't gain during the picture, so I had a massage three times a week and I watched my calories."
I wanted to know more about this diet.
"I happen to be one of those people who retain water in the tissues, so I was allowed no salt and only limited liquids. I had the same meal three times a day for three days, but I fortified myself with vitamin supplements.
"For breakfast, lunch and dinner I had two boiled or poached eggs, one fresh tomato and half a grapefruit. I was allowed only a pint and a half of liquid in the form of water, tea, coffee or skim milk.
"This was some months ago," Angie pointed out, "and I haven't gained back a pound or an inch. I now wear a size 8 instead of an 11.
"I went through a period of transition," Angie continued. "I called it my tapering-off diet, where I was very strict about not eating sweets, desserts or any bread. But since my metabolism has adjusted to my new size I don't have to be so strict."
Angie was a secretary when she won a beauty contest and a chance for a Hollywood career. When she decided to become an actress she continued as a part-time secretary until she felt she could support herself by acting.
"I suppose a term contract was always your dream?" I asked.
"Yes," Angie agreed. "But I knew I would have to get it without compromising and having no fear of failure was a tremendous help. I always knew I could earn a good living being a secretary once again."

A family picnic will be staged at 7:30 p.m. August 14 in the Ross Hills' back yard.

'ROUND TOWN

With Lucille Pickle

It's not too surprising that so many people are able to take European tours what with the organized tour plans and easy (for some) financial arrangements—what is astounding to me is the fact that American women can be told how many articles of wearing apparel and what type they may take for a given number of days. The way women change clothes for each occasion when they vacation in the states and dress for local social affairs, it hardly seems possible they could stay so long with so little.

The latest Big Springers to take off for foreign shores are ARAH PHILLIPS AND ANNA SMITH, who left Midland by plane Wednesday morning for Montreal, Canada. There, on June 26, they will board the SS Ivernia and expect to land in Southampton, England, eight days later. They will be members of an organized tour that will see London, Luxembourg and Paris. In Essen, Germany, they will attend the Church of God World Convention. Here they hope to meet Miss Phillips' nephew, COY THOMAS, who is stationed near Munich. After the convention the party will continue to Italy, Greece and Cairo, Egypt, and into the Holy Land.
The pair will be away 54 days and they were allowed two drippy dresses, two skirts, five blouses, one sweater and one suit. They have three pair of shoes, one of which they carried in their tote bags. They also took along enough film and flash bulbs to last, they hope.

MRS. LUIK KING is in Hutchinson, Kans. with her mother who has been hospitalized following a heart attack. In a telephone conversation with Mr. King Wednesday, Mrs. King said her mother was slightly improved. The family is at Mount Hope, Kans.
MR. AND MRS. R. H. SNYDER, JERRY and DICKIE, are in New York City to attend sessions of the Lions International convention. Mr. Snyder won the trip.
Also in the Big City for the meeting are PRESIDENT-ELECT AND MRS. PETE COOK.

FRANK RICE, who has been working in Billings, Montana, since the office of Continental Trailways was closed here, is visiting his family.
DR. AND MRS. MARSHALL CAULEY LYNN AND RICHARD, plan to leave Saturday for Comanche where they will visit

Drapers Will Have California Trip
FORSAN — Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Draper and Verna plan to leave Friday for their vacation in Oakland and Indio, Calif., with relatives.
Mrs. H. H. Story and Nancy Lou were in Dallas recently on business.
Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Sanders plan to be in Dallas and Garland this week.
Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Monroey of Vealmore were here with Mr. and Mrs. Bob Cowley and Brenda.
Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Walker and children have moved to northern Arkansas.
Russell Wayne Fairchild of Odessa is here with his grandparents, the M. M. Fairchilds.
Karen Jane Breithaupt of Odessa is spending several days with her grandparents, the J. H. Cardwells.
Mrs. Price Stroud, who has been with her mother, Mrs. W. B. Wiggins in Ardmore for the past two weeks, returned Wednesday.

in the home of his mother. After their stay there is completed the family will spend some time in Lubbock visiting her relatives.

MRS. J. R. HAYNES and SUE former residents, are spending part of their vacation here with friends. They now reside in Baytown.

A.I.C. AND MRS. PAUL HOLDEN and their five months old daughter, Renee, are visiting relatives here on leave from his duties at Portsmouth, N. H. His parents and sister, Beverly, have been guests in their New Hampshire home and they all returned here together. This is a busy time for the baby who has a wealth of grandparents. In addition to the Holdens, the maternal grandparents are MR. AND MRS. C. K. WILLIAMS. Great-grandparents are MR. AND MRS. J. W. HOLDEN and MR. AND MRS. J. V. TURNBOW, all of whom live in Big Spring and none of whom had seen the baby before.

The ears of the LUTHER BEAN family were still popping Wednesday from the sudden descent from the Colorado mountains to home. Mr. Bean had been taking a week of special work at the University of Utah in Salt Lake as a government pharmacist, so the family, Susan and Jenny, Mrs. Bean and Mrs. Ina V. Bean of Eastland, joined him. When the study was completed they toured Yellowstone National Park and visited Colorado Springs.

MRS. MARY EZZELL, whose span of residence in Big Spring probably exceeds that of any other living resident, will celebrate her 86th birthday Friday. The pioneer woman, who now lives at 508 East 13th, has been bedfast since January, 1957, when she was injured in a fall at her home, 311 Bell.

Set For Baby

Cute kittens and floral sprays—in easy embroidery—make this an especially nice set for the new arrival. No. 149 has tissue; hot iron transfer; sewing and embroidery directions.

Newlyweds Are Guests Of Honor At Shower

FORSAN — A group of women collaborated to host a shower Tuesday evening honoring newlyweds, Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie Howard, Big Spring. Guests gathered in the music room of the Forsan school.

The bride is the former Brenda Barr, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gus Barr of Big Spring. Howard is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Roland Howard, Forsan.

Table decor focused on a center reflector, where a tiny bridal couple stood under an arch sheltered by a white parasol. Wedding rings and white bells were in clusters. Silver and crystal appointments were used with the lace cloth. Lynda Camp and Janet Gooch served the guests.

Lace cloths adorned the display tables where mixed garden flowers and roses reposed.

Numerous guests came from Big Spring. Among them were Mrs.

Novelty Hostess Idea

Brighten up the social scene among your friends with a luncheon or dinner featuring one country from among those alluring travel posters. Germany is the choice for the table shown here, laden with delicacies inspired by the country so popular with tourists. You will find the recipes in the accompanying story.

Plan Company Dinner To Feature One Country, In Decor And Menu

Those healthy complexions and sparkling eyes of the Germans didn't arrive by accident—they were fed.

How about adding to your own sparkle as a hostess by giving your guests a Cook's Cruise to Germany. Return with mouth-watering secrets of their cuisine prepared in your own kitchen.

Suggest the featured country in a centerpiece favoring objects of art and the dishes you serve will leave no doubt as to the focus.

Here are the recipes:

VEAL STEAK WITH ONIONS
 4 tbsps butter
 4 large onions, sliced thin
 1 tsp. paprika
 1 tsp. salt
 2 lbs. veal steak or cutlets
 In a skillet melt butter, add onions, paprika and salt. Cover pan and simmer about five minutes, or until onions soften. Top with veal, cover pan and simmer about 30 minutes or until veal is tender. Makes four servings.

DUSSELDORF SPINACH
 1 10-oz box frozen chopped spinach
 2 strips bacon, cut into bits
 1/4 cup onion, diced fine
 2 tbsps. flour
 1 3/4 cup cream
 Salt

Pepper
 1/2 tsp. fresh nutmeg.
 Thaw and drain spinach, reserving liquid. Using a low flame, fry bacon in a covered skillet until browned. Remove bacon bits and add onions to bacon fat. Cover pan and simmer about five minutes, or until onions soften. Add flour and stir constantly to make a smooth paste.

Cook over a medium flame, stirring occasionally, until flour mixture browns. Stir cream in gradually to avoid lumps, and continue stirring until sauce bubbles in center. Stir in drained spinach and reserved spinach liquid to desired thickness. Add salt, pepper, and nutmeg to taste, and garnish with bacon bits. Makes three to four servings.

SAUERKRAUT RELISH
 1 lb. raw sauerkraut
 3 cloves garlic, diced and crushed
 2 tbsps. caraway seeds
 1 cup commercial sour cream
 Drain raw sauerkraut and squeeze with hands to remove as much juice as possible. Combine sauerkraut with garlic and caraway seeds and let stand about 1/2 hour. Fold in sour cream. If desired, garnish with additional sour cream and caraway seeds. Will keep at least five days in the refrigerator.

RHINELAND BUTTER CAKE
 1/2 lb. butter, softened
 1/2 cup granulated sugar
 1/4 cup brown sugar
 1 egg
 2 1/4 cups flour, sifted
 1/4 tsp. salt
 Grated rind of 1 lemon
 Almonds
 Candied lemon rind
 Cream butter. Add granulated and brown sugar gradually and beat until light and fluffy. Add eggs and beat well. Mix sifted flour with salt and lemon rind and add to butter-sugar mixture, beating only until flour is incorporated.

Spread in a 9-inch pie tin and decorate with almonds and candied lemon rind. Bake in a preheated 365 degree oven about 35 minutes, or until no batter clings to a cake tester inserted in center. Cut in very narrow wedges to serve.

Coffee Adds Interest To Gelatin

Fond of coffee? A little goes a long way in desserts such as gelatin and cream combinations. With only two tablespoons of the instant brew, you can transform this creation into something extra special.

Try your luck with this recipe:

COFFEE CREAM
 1 envelope unflavored gelatin
 1/2 cup sugar
 4 tsp. salt
 4 egg yolks
 2 cups milk
 2 tbsps. instant coffee
 1 tsp. vanilla
 1 cup heavy cream

Mix together thoroughly gelatin, sugar and salt in top of double boiler. Beat egg yolks and 1 cup of the milk; stir into gelatin mixture with remaining milk. Place over boiling water and cook and stir constantly until gelatin dissolves and mixture thickens slightly — about 6 minutes. Remove from heat.

Add coffee powder and vanilla; beat just until coffee dissolves. Chill, stirring occasionally, until mixture mounds slightly when dropped from a spoon. Whip cream and fold in. Turn into a 4-cup mold; serve with mixed salted nuts. Makes eight servings.

Chicken Offers Flavor, Nutrition And Economy

Variety, flavor, nutrition and economy. That's a big order to ask of any single food item. Yet, broiler-fryers can fill it.

Nutritional and taste factors of chicken are legend. Retail prices of the tender, 1 1/2 to 3 1/2-lb. birds emphasize the economy angle. Supply is plentiful these days, so prices are down.

What about variety? Though they are called broiler-fryers, they can as well be roasted, baked, smothered, stewed, barbecued, steamed or poached. That opens the gate to variety—almost unlimited.

Because they are young and tender, broiler-fryers cook quickly. If your finished dish requires golden circles of chicken fat, add yellow vegetable coloring or commercial chicken fat or stir in butter or margarine just before serving. Saffron added to rice also imparts an appealing golden hue.

If your recipe calls for cooked, boned chicken, broiler-fryers will do the job. Here's how: Place the chickens—whole, halved, quartered or in parts—in a large cooking vessel. Cover with water and add desired herbs, discreetly. Include giblets or use them later. Affix tight-fitting cover. Simmer slowly until meat is easily removed from bones. Remove chicken from broth; discard bones; cut meat into slices or cubes and return to broth for about two hours to absorb stock. Grind any meat that cannot be sliced or diced attractively and use in gravies or chicken fillings. Use the stock for soups or gravy.

Here are some USDA-tested recipes that will help provide a wide world of chicken variety:

STEWED CHICKEN
 Use the old bean pot. Dredge disjointed chicken in seasoned flour, brown and place in bean pot. Add 1 1/2 cups water and bake until chicken is almost tender. Add favorite fresh vegetables in bite-size morsels and more liquid if needed and continue cooking until vegetables are tender. Thicken if desired. Serve with cabbage slaw and hot biscuits.

Boil, Bake Or Fry Okra But Cook It Rapidly

These are okra days! If you haven't discovered the goodness of this tropical vegetable, there is no better time than right now to do so. It is one of the many spring-fresh vegetables presently so abundant.

Okra, often called "gumbo" is native to Africa. It is believed the French colonists in Louisiana brought it to America in the early 1700's.

Long popular in French cooking, okra became a favorite vegetable in soups and stews and also as a separate dish, in many southern homes. By 1748, okra was grown as far north as Philadelphia and since 1925 it has become common in many northern markets.

Okra is available all year, but heavy marketings begin in June and reach a peak in July and August.

Amount of okra produced each year is difficult to determine because much of it is grown and sold on a local basis. The plant grows so rapidly in some areas that only two months elapse between planting and harvest.

Okra may be boiled, baked or fried. Some folks dip the sliced pods in cornmeal and fry them. The tender pods combine well with other vegetables, especially tomatoes.

If you've tried okra and did not appreciate its "pastiness," give some thought to your cooking methods. Don't break the pods or subject them to long cooking. Whether boiled, baked or fried, rapid cooking will preserve the flavor and prevent pastiness from developing.

Fish Take To That Outdoor Grill, Too

With summer here, it's cook-out time again. So dust off the outdoor barbecue grill and join the swing to outdoor eating—America's number one summer pastime. Here's a chance for Mom to sit back and relax while Dad shows off his culinary talents.

Home economists of the Bureau of Commercial Fisheries suggest seafood barbecue for a delectable change. To round out the meal, wrap potatoes and vegetables separately in heavy-duty foil and cook them on the grill, right along with the fish. Add a cool, refreshing beverage.

FLOUNDER DINNER
 2 lbs. flounder filets or other fish filets, fresh or frozen
 2 green peppers, sliced
 2 onions, sliced
 1 tsp. salt
 Dash pepper
 1 tsp. paprika
 2 tbsps. lemon juice
 1/4 cup butter or other fat, melted

Thaw frozen filets. Cut into serving-size portions. Place each portion of fish in the center of a 12-inch square of heavy-duty foil. Top with green pepper and onion. Combine salt, pepper, paprika, lemon juice, and butter. Pour over fish. Bring edges of foil together and seal tightly.

Place packets of fish on preheated barbecue grill about four inches from moderately hot coals. Grill for 1 hour or until the fish flakes easily when tested with a fork. Serves six.

Here's Menu For That Wedding Reception

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
 AP Newsfeatures Food Editor

Stop tossing in your sleep. Mother of the Bride. You may be responsible for the food at your daughter's wedding, but you can plan an up-to-date menu and take it easy.

Gone with the wind are overlaid tables. Modern guests like something to quench the thirst, something to enjoy nibbling. Is the reception to be a small at home one in the afternoon or evening? Then these menu suggestions may be used for 50 or more guests—whether they are invited from five to six o'clock in the afternoon or after an 8:30 ceremony in the evening.

First something old: assorted tea sandwiches. These the old standbys of chicken or turkey, ham and cheese mixtures. Or small squares of hot cornbread split and sandwiched together again with slivers of Smithfield ham.

Something new? Deviled almonds and pickled mushrooms. The first is nothing more than buttered almonds given wonderful flavor with an all-purpose herb seasoning salt. The second, tiny raw mushrooms steeped in a marinade of olive oil, wine vinegar and spices.

Something borrowed? The punch recipe. That punch is always a worry to mothers of brides. What combination of ingredients to use? How much to prepare? Will the friends who want a non-alcoholic refresher really like it?

The following punch recipe we can vouch for: it's a combination of flavors we've used (in smaller quantities) many times for summer parties. But this large rule we borrow from the fine spanning new "Abingdon Basic Cookbook" by Mary L. Chenault (Abingdon Press).

Every recipe in the book has been tested and retested in the author's foods and home management classes at Watkins Institute, an adult education center in Nashville, Tennessee. These classes have been attended by hundreds of girls and women and a few brave men; teacher and pupils shared their experiences and their choice recipes. The book itself would make a fine gift for a bride.

WATKINS PUNCH
 2 cans (46 ounces) unsweetened pineapple juice
 2 cans (46 ounces) sweetened orange juice
 4 cans fresh lemon juice (2 dozen fresh lemons or possibly less)
 6 cups sugar syrup (2 cups sugar dissolved in 6 cups water)
 1 cup strong tea (made by steeping 5 tea bags in 1 cup freshly boiled water)
 2 large bottles ginger ale
 2 large bottles sparkling water
 1 quart or more of orange sherbet (optional).

Mix first five ingredients together. Just before serving, add ginger ale and sparkling water and stir gently in large glass jar or bottle. Pour over large block of ice in punch bowl and spoon sherbet over top. This amount will serve at least 110 punch cups.

Ice may be molded in fancy pudding mold. A large piece of ice is better than cubes or lump ice, which make it harder to serve.

Try Potato Salad A La Francais

Think of picnics and you invariably think of potato salad. Next time you have to bring a dish to a supper or outdoor fete, surprise the guests with a French version of the old favorite:

FRENCH POTATO SALAD
 1 1/2 pounds new potatoes
 1/4 cup olive oil
 2 tbsps. wine vinegar
 1/4 cup minced parsley
 1/4 cup finely chopped scallions (some green tops included)
 Salt
 Freshly grated or coarse black pepper

Cook potatoes in their skins in salted boiling water; peel and slice into thin rounds. Beat olive oil and vinegar with a fork; add hot sliced potatoes, parsley and scallion. Mix in gently salt and pepper to taste.

Better Shortcakes

Next time you make biscuit for shortcake, try sprinkling the top of the dough, before it goes in the oven, with sugar and cinnamon.

The Public Wants Action

Some members of the Legislature in both houses chewed out the press pretty thoroughly, smarting under allegations that the second special session to pass a deficit-lifting tax bill was costing the taxpayers $300,000 every day.

That figure had been mentioned more than once by Governor Daniel, and had been duly quoted to that effect by the press. Some members said it was not true. Senator Secret of Terrell, himself a hard-working member, said it "has done irreparable harm to this legislative body," that it was "completely misleading," and that the hullabaloo over it had "come about because of the governor's figures."

While this reaction was taken out on the press, it is possible the motivation of it came from another source. After all, the press is accustomed to criticizing the Legislature; it is an old custom, and ordinarily the members grow used to it and either shrug it off or ignore it entirely as part of the game.

But according to their own testimony, the members have been hearing from "the folks at the fork of the creek" in consequence of their failure to produce an answer to the multi-million-dollar deficit. Criticism from the press they can take in stride. Criticism from the voters is something they are not much accustomed to, and when it does descend on them they are understandably shaken.

There are hard-working, honest, sincere and devoted members in both houses of our Legislature, trying their best to do a good job in spite of constant pulling and hauling from all directions. The life of a conscientious legislator is no bed of roses. He earns the pittance the people see fit to award him many times over, and in all too many cases he serves at a sacrifice of his own professional or business interest, not to mention the wear and tear of having to maintain one home in Austin and another in his home district for a great part of the time.

But after all is said and done, there was no real excuse for a first special session to perform duties that could have been performed at the regular session, and still less excuse for a second special session. Unfortunately, the good and conscientious members must share part of the blame for this along with the comparative few who didn't do their best.

The people of Texas are alarmed at the mess the state's finances are in, and quite properly they are letting their people at Austin know how they feel about any further unnecessary delay. There is the one voice the Legislature respects.

Fundamentally The Same

In the current Texas Parade Lewis Nordyke tells of a recent visit with the cowhands of the Pitchfork Ranch in King and Dickens counties. The Pitchforks still use a chuckwagon, pulled by four buckskin mules, and everything else is pretty much the same around the wagon and around the bunkhouse.

Few of the boys now smoke Bull Durham, he reports; most of them go for filter tip tailor-made. And guess who they watch and listen to on the electronic waves? Yeh—Westerns. They also read Westerns in their off moments, which is exactly what they were doing as far back as our memory runneth not to the cowboy used to get a double kick out of the Westerns: the thrill of a rattling good story, and a great deal of quiet amusement out of the bloopers pulled by the authors—most of whom had never been west of Yonkers—in dealing with Western materials.

Lewis notes that the chuckwagon has undergone some slight changes. It is now supplied by a pickup truck, and supplies include ice for tea, which Lewis avers is now the most popular beverage at meal-time. If the boys have their mouths set on fresh beef, which cowboys usually do, they kill a yearling, put one quarter aside for immediate use, and stash the rest away in a freezer for future reference.

We are glad to have this report on modern cowboys, for we were afraid modernity had overtaken and had altogether overwhelmed them.

But apparently not. They are still pretty much as they were forty and eighty years ago—hard workers when there's work to be done, hard players when it's time to play, full of pranks and good-natured hurrahing, and sporting the most colorful and spectacular jargon known to mankind. Long may they wave, these first and most typical of Texans.

Court's View On Newsmen's Rights

WASHINGTON—Much controversy has arisen in recent months about the "right to travel." Newsmen have disputed the right of the Department of State to deny them passports to Red China and other trouble areas. On the one hand it has been argued that the right of travel could not be constitutionally restricted while, on the other hand, the government has insisted that its right to designate travel areas stems from the rights of the executive branch of the government to conduct the foreign relations of the United States.

These conflicting viewpoints have been resolved in a persuasive opinion by the U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals here which completely vindicates the position taken by the late Secretary of State John Foster Dulles. But it is unfortunate that what the unanimous court of three judges said has not been widely reproduced. For it constitutes a fundamental lesson not only in constitutional government but in the rights of the individual as balanced against the interests of the nation.

"The right to travel," says the court's opinion, "is a part of the right to liberty, and a newspaperman's right to travel is a part of the freedom of the press. But these valid generalizations do not support unrestrained conclusions."

"For the maintenance and preservation of liberty, individual rights must be restricted for various reasons from time to time. In case of a clear and present danger to the national security, even so generally unrestricted a right as speech can be restricted. In case of a reasonably anticipated threat to security or to law and order, many acts by individuals can be restricted. An assembling mob bent on disorder can be dispersed. A man with a contagious disease can be locked in his house. Potentially dangerous actions must be restricted in order to prevent harm to others. So we have sanitation, fire, building and speeding regulations."

"Liberty itself is inherently a restricted thing. Liberty is a product of order. There is no liberty in anarchy or in chaos. Liberty is achieved by rules, which correlate every man's actions to every other man's rights and thus, by mutual restrictions one upon the other, achieve a result of relative freedom. The mere day-to-day maintenance of the order which insures liberty requires restrictions upon individual rights. Some actions, neither harmful nor potentially dangerous, must be restricted simply for the sake of good order in the community. So we have parking, traffic and zoning regulations and rules of court."

"Freedom of the press bears restrictions. It does not include the right to publish what another has registered with the copyright office. Merely because a newsmen has a right to travel does not mean he can go anywhere he wishes. He cannot attend conferences of the Supreme Court, or meetings of the President's Cabinet, or executive sessions of committees of the Congress. He cannot come into my house without my permission, or enter a ball park without a ticket of admission from the management, or cross a public street downtown between crosswalks. He cannot pass a police cordon thrown about an accident, unless he has a pass from the police. A newsmen's freedom to travel about is a restricted thing, subject to myriad limitations."

"The peace-loving have rights. Those who recognize the fundamental necessities of liberty as a delicate product of order have power to protect themselves and their liberty. . . . Such a threat may easily arise from conditions in foreign lands. The people have a right to protect their liberty, no matter whence the threat."

"Indeed it is quite clear that those who cry the loudest for unrestricted individual freedom of action would be the loudest in bemoaning their fate if their plea were granted. The same release from constituted authority would set free persons so powerful, so ruthless, so bent on automatic control that no newsmen would have any liberty whatever. The customary prompt transformation of unrestrained liberty into dictatorship is one of the poignant lessons of history."

"The court summed up the constitutional argument with this statement. 'History establishes that either the behavior or the predicament of an individual citizen in a foreign country can bring into clash, peaceful or violent, the powers of his own government and those of a foreign government.'"

The executive branch therefore is upheld in its feeling that it can preserve the national interest and perhaps prevent a war by limiting the right to travel not only of the press but of any citizens who may wish to take risks in the trouble areas of the world.

When Berlin Creeps Out Of The Rug Again

WASHINGTON (AP)—Time, like an old lady with a broom, has swept the Berlin crisis under the rug. But it's still there and pretty soon it will have to be faced again.

Strangely, although everybody knows how the crisis started, nobody seems to know why even though it's been examined and talked about for almost seven months.

It was last Nov. 27 that Premier Nikita Khrushchev warned the Western Allies to get their troops out of West Berlin although they've had them there since World War II days.

Since then most Western thinking has been occupied with wondering whether Khrushchev was determined to force a showdown with the West or whether he could be negotiated out of it.

But the why of what he did remains a mystery. So does his yearning for a summit conference, which began about the same time. Secretary of State Christian A. Herter, who told the nation Tuesday night about his troubles with the Soviets, negotiated six weeks with them at Geneva to reach some understanding about Berlin.

Then the West and the Soviet Union decided to take a breather. They recessed until July 13 when they'll meet again in Geneva. At the rate they've been going, the summer may be over before they reach an agreement or break off altogether.

So the crisis, out of sight at least until mid-July, must be faced again.

The Soviets, who have striven hard to keep their satellite world tight and intact, must consider the Western troops in West Berlin, and even the city itself with its inhabitants linked to the West, as a cancerous condition.

The city, 110 miles inside Communist East Germany, is an island of two million free people right in the heart of the Communist world. And their interests and allegiances are turned westward.

Khrushchev could have had several reasons for precipitating this crisis with his Nov. 27 warning:

1. He may have felt that the Soviet Union—for whom the West Berlin situation has long been a sore spot—is now sufficiently powerful to force a showdown with the West, in the hope the latter would let the city go.

2. He may have felt this was as good a time as any to test or try to shake the solidarity of the United States and West European alliance. Would some of the West Europeans, or even the United States, be willing to face the war over Berlin?

That's a question which must have been in the Soviet mind a long time. Khrushchev may have decided it was time to look for an answer. One thing is certain: If the West backs down on Berlin, reaching an agreement which would leave the city and its people open to Communist absorption, the whole Western alliance is weakened and may be ruined.

That would be a wonderful bargain for Khrushchev at very little expense. The only expense would be the time and the wind he used up in making the threat.

These are exactly what they appear to be. Guesses even though they look like obvious ones. But no one can pretend he has the positive answers. And because the West doesn't have the answer it is to that degree involved in a guessing game.

That alone puts it at a disadvantage in trying to negotiate a settlement with Khrushchev. In the end the only way open to the West to overcome this disadvantage may be to end negotiations and tell Khrushchev:

"You made the threat, now make good."

If the West reaches that point the crisis will be here in earnest.

That Awkward Age

NEW YORK (AP)—My son, nearing 14, had his first date the other night. His parents are still trying to recover.

The occasion was a dance for the junior high school graduating class. They didn't have such things back in Tecumseh, Okla., when father was a boy, but never mind. Times change.

To start with, Master Brennan Turner Stillely didn't hanker to attend the dance at all. It wasn't because he didn't know how to dance. He does. They teach it in schools here nowadays.

For days mother scurried about. New shoes, new shirt, new tie. Letting out the coat sleeves of his one good suit to cover his gangly arms. Getting the suit cleaned and pressed.

The great night finally arrived. Mother gave son an endless review of previous instructions in the social graces.

Father did likewise, taking the lad aside to slip him a five-spot for running expenses. The budding Lothario also was urged not to make a nitwit of himself by abandoning his date at the dance to gather and gab with the other yaps.

Father tied son's tie, combed his hair and loaded him into the family car with another boy to pick up their dates and transport them. The dates, who happened to be twins, were escorted out of their dwelling and what did the boys do?

Climbed into the back seat and left the girls standing. Dad had wanted to hustle out, open the door in embarrassment and put them in the front seat.

Sonny boy had said not to wait up. Said he could walk his girl home and make it back to the old homestead without any help. Nevertheless mother, as mothers do, waited up.

About midnight the young swain ambled in. His mother simply couldn't resist. "How did the dance turn out?" was the way she put it.

"My feet hurt," was all the reply she got.

We Can Have A James Miley Tonight

James Miley lives in Muncie, Ind. In August of 1957, Miley set out to build a championship-class Soap Box Derby racer. He didn't know it at that time, but he was to build one.

For in August of 1958—a year later—he sailed down the Derby Downs track at Akron, Ohio, to take the Derby title and with it a $5,000 scholarship.

Tonight, a group of 50 Big Spring youngsters will culminate hours and hours of work by racing in the local Soap Box Derby. One of them will be crowned champion and receive a free trip to Akron in an attempt to step into James Miley's shoes.

To that one, the hours and hours of tinkering with his racer will seem worthwhile. But to the others, the time might seem wasted.

I doubt it.

More can be gained by spending a few hours creating a racer than loosing around the drive-in or playing a pin ball machine. Our nation was built on men willing to experiment and keep experimenting until they found what they were looking for—not on drug store philosophers or loafers.

James Miley didn't find it easy to build a world's championship racer—nor did David Spradling find it easy to create the car which won the local Derby.

The Old Game Ain't Worth Much More

In one way or another, it is impossible for old Homo Sapiens to keep up with the O.H.C. of L. (the Outrageously High Cost of Living).

During the past 30 years, in which the ordinary necessities of living—housing, food, clothing, transportation, entertainment—have risen in price from 100 to 1,000 per cent, the basic value of man himself has risen by only a mile more than 20 per cent.

In my school days, it was hammered into my head that man's ultimate value, once you had inventoried the chemical contents of his carcass, was a scant 98 cents. And that was in Coolidge, or hard money. It was humiliating, in a way, to realize that man assayed so low. But there it was—98 cents, take it or leave it.

It made a man, if he stopped to think of it, feel like two cents, if I may resort to prehistoric slang. And, with inflation over the years and the rapid erosion of the dollar, that's just about what his chemical worth added up to, if he faced his price index realistically.

It has taken a long time for someone to get around to reevaluating man's basic chemical content. The economic experts have been too busy hiking the price of steel (101 per cent at wholesale price over the past 10 years), oil, autos, meat, spuds—you name it, and it's kited—to re-evaluate man.

But at last an instructor of chemistry in Texas Southmost (oh, yes, that's really its name; I checked to be sure) College has, with inflation in mind, made a new appraisal of man on the hoof. It is a mighty discouraging admission that the price of man isn't tied to steel, or autos, or rent, or even prime hamburger.

While the price of all these commodities has been going up like a ram-jet, the worth of Homo Sapiens in his socks has slowly risen over the years by only slightly more than 20 per cent. Today his chemical value is estimated as $1.17 by Tom Keller of Texas Southmost. In the past 30-40 years, Homo has increased in value only 19 cents, not quite the price of two cups of coffee at the Corner Coffee Pot.

However, I doubt that this will surprise Homo. But it may further humiliate him to realize that his current value is pegged in Eisenhower currency. If figured in Coolidge coin, man's chemical worth at the moment is about 39 cents, or the cost of a good 1928 ten-cent cigar in today's market. There is a moral there somewhere, something about ashes to ashes—

A few years ago, when I was marveling at the elephantine price of a new Ford automobile, I said to the Head of Clan Robb that I could remember when a $500 bill would buy a shiny new Tin Lizzie.

"Think harder, dear," said this cruel realist; "any year you can remember when it could be bought with $350."

Well, I refuse to remember that I can remember that far back. But my husband, an auto buff, can, and he also recalls that man's chemical price even then was 98 cents. But one thing I know for certain: I paid as much for a pound of prime ground round steak the other day as man's current evaluation of $1.17.

It's hard to tell whether man is undervalued or everything in the world he needs and uses is overvalued. But one fact can't be denied: there's a mighty price gap between what he is worth and the price of everything he buys. And that's what makes Sammy run.

18 Months Of Political Deadlock?

WASHINGTON—In all the millions of words written and spoken when the dispute was at its height and now in the aftermath of the Lewis Strauss case, little has been said about what it reveals of the nature of the American system of government.

It is a classic example, and will so go down in the textbooks, of what can happen when the executive branch is held by one party and the legislature by another. The division is invariably accentuated in the closing phase of an administration. With the lines of battle drawn in the Strauss case the prospect for the next 18 months is fairly grim.

Perhaps more than any other appointment President Eisenhower has made, Strauss drew the line between the businessman, the executive accustomed to giving orders and seeing them carried out, and the politician who knows his decisions must be referred back to the voter for approval or disapproval. Strauss has never appealed to the voters to elect him to any office. The Senators before whom he appeared felt that he scarcely concealed his contempt for them as politicians responsible to the electorate.

This is the familiar American conflict between legislators who are part of the process of representative government and executives who are not and who never have been, in any direct sense. As the executive branch spends ever vaster sums of money the legislature feels its power diminished and its frustration increased. It would be interesting to see how many Cabinet officers in the past 30 or 40 years, when executive government has grown so big, had ever held elective office.

At his last press conference President Eisenhower, with his customary hesitant circumlocution, suggested that the parliamentary system of government might be more workable than ours. He had been persuaded, he said, to put aside this thought. But it must haunt any President who finds himself in the dilemma that confronts Eisenhower in these fading months of his last term.

The Strauss Case could not happen under the parliamentary system in England. Able and successful businessmen in the Conservative party such as R. A. Butler, have proved themselves at the polls. Butler after World War II gave his party a program that matched the times. And when he failed to become Prime Minister he continued to work hard as deputy and party organizer, Downing Street and the House of Commons are one and the same thing.

With the battle lines sharpened over the Strauss rejection it is said that nevertheless the two parties agree on foreign policy. The word unity finds its way into WHEAT RIDGE, Colo. (AP)—Mrs. Clarence Williams is a junior high school gym teacher who never had an art lesson in her life.

That didn't stop her when she decided she'd like a "great, big picture" in a basement recreation room. She went to work with paints and when she was done, she had a mountain mural 25 feet long.

HOUSTON (AP)—The Texas Restaurant Assn. yesterday named Mack Eplon of Abilene president. Others elected at the association's annual convention include these new directors: Charles L. Langford, Abilene; Leon Gillespie, El Paso; John D. Smith Jr., Lubbock; Loyse Caldwell, Pampa; Dennis C. Nix, Andrews; Charles H. Sitton, San Angelo and Neil Fry, Abilene.

Ike To Board Royal Ship, Tour Seaway

MONTREAL (AP)—President Eisenhower, who shuns the U. S. presidential yacht, will board Queen Elizabeth's plush Britannia Friday and cruise with the Queen along 31 miles of the St. Lawrence Seaway.

The two chiefs of state will meet here to formally open the seaway, the joint U. S.-Canadian project that can bring three-fourths of the world's ships to the heartland of America.

A cruise aboard the six million dollar yacht Britannia will take them to Beaubarnois, Que., from the seaway entrance at St. Lambert. They will go through the first two in a series of locks, the liquid stairways which lift shipping 224 feet from the St. Lawrence River into Lake Ontario.

Seaway authorities are still ironing out kinks. But two months of operation have proved the system works. More than 1,500 ships have used the waterway since it opened April 25.

Friday, in less than 12 hours, the President will fly, walk, motor and sail about 1,000 miles.

Flying from Washington, Eisenhower will land in his plane Columbine III at the St. Hubert Air Base. This jet fighter center eight miles east of Montreal is a unit in the North America Air Defense network that maintains contact 24 hours a day with NORAD headquarters at Colorado Springs, Colo. About 17,000 persons, some of them Americans, work at St. Hubert.

Elizabeth will meet the President there.

Runaway Truck Causes 3 Deaths

DULUTH, Minn. (AP)—A semi-trailer grain truck speeding out of control down a hill without brakes hit a car and smashed into two homes Wednesday night. Three persons died and four others were injured.

The impact sent the truck's heavy load of grain through the wall of the first house and into another, around the corner.

Killed were Ralph Redlin, 50, Elendale, N.D., the truck driver and his wife, Ruby, 33, and Martin Cich, 26, Superior, Wis., whose car was struck by the truck.

Seriously injured were Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Widell, occupants of the second house hit by the truck. They were in their living room watching television when the truck smashed into the front of their home.

Also injured were Mr. and Mrs. Earl Hayes, who live around the corner from the Widell home. Mrs. Hayes was struck in the back by an oil drum carried with the plummeting grain through their house. Hayes suffered an arm injury.

"It sounded like an explosion," said Mrs. Robert Anderson, whose home was the first hit.

"I ran into the bedroom for the baby and ran out the back door. I didn't even look into the living room I was so scared I went to a neighbor's house and just sat with the baby until I quit shaking."

Mrs. Anderson's husband was not home. The truck swept away the front of the Anderson home, including a sun porch, then hit the front of the Widell house. The truck's trailer landed on top of the cab, hurling its load of grain through the Widell house across the back

Headon Crash Kills 4 People

AUSTIN (AP)—A two-car head-on collision killed four persons near here yesterday. Three were from one family.

The Department of Public Safety said three others were injured critically in the accident about 2 miles west of Oak Hill, a community outside of Austin on State 71.

The Department said the dead were: John Wiley Johnson, 26; his wife, Elizabeth Lucille, 20; and their 3-year-old daughter (name unknown). They lived in Lovington, N.M.

The fourth victim was in the other auto. She was Mrs. L. M. Ricketson of Anahau, wife of a deputy sheriff there.

Injured were these children riding with Mrs. Ricketson: Hal Ray Wall, 10, lacerations and other injuries, and his sister, Sherry, 13, head and other injuries, of Baytown; and their cousin, Janie Bertling, head and other injuries, of Marble Falls.

yard into the garage of the Hayes home. Mrs. Widell was carried with the grain and was dug out of a pile of grain in the Hayes' back yard. Mr. and Mrs. Hayes were in their kitchen drinking coffee when the grain hit their garage like a projectile. It ripped through the garage, through the kitchen and into their living room. Dr. Cyril Smith, St. Louis County coroner, said the truck left a trail of oil down U.S. Highway 61 before striking Cich's car from the rear. Redlin apparently was bringing his load of grain to the Duluth port for Great Lakes shipment.

Patman Scores Bank Audits

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Wright Patman, the Texas Democrat from Texarkana, suggested yesterday that the Philadelphia Federal Reserve Bank doesn't read its own audit reports.

Patman cited the bank's own audit report as evidence the bank was lax in destroying old currency.

Last Sunday, the congressman quoted from the 1957 report as one instance of alleged Federal Reserve management deficiencies, lavish spending of Federal Reserve funds, and laxity of operations.

A first vice president of the Philadelphia bank, Robert N. Hilkirk, replied that there was "one instance of a single $1 bill mutilated but not completely destroyed in the very complicated furnace."

Patman, in a statement placed in yesterday's Congressional Record, then quoted from the 1957 report by the Federal Reserve's own auditors, which said in part: "Upon inspection of the furnace feeding mechanism, 18 unburned bills were found in the trap and 20 bills in the belt feed mechanism. This is a common occurrence, in view of which the belt and trap are inspected weekly by the section head and the designated witnesses."
