CREEKS FATTEN AS RAINS FALL
..... Lake level climbs on heels of deluge

Lake Levels Forced Upward On Heels Of Wide Downpours

Rains moved across this area Tuesday afternoon, reaching the deluge state in northern Borden County. Wednesday morning they settled down to slow, penetrating downpours and moved south from Big Spring into areas that escaped the earlier showers.

From the 8 a.m. reading until shortly before noon, the U. S. Experiment Farm reported .89 of an inch of moisture. From all parts of the county came word of good soaking showers during the morning.

much as 7 inches in northwest Borden. Lake Thomas was beginning to rise and there were indications that the big reservoir of the Colorado River Municipal Water District might catch a substantial volume of water. It had come up approximately 3 of a foot during the morning.

Adenauer Candidate Wins Reich Election

BERLIN (AP)—Heinrich Luebbe, 64, agriculture minister, was elected president of West Germany today. Luebbe was the candidate of Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's Christian Democratic party. He defeated Carlo Schmidt, the Socialist candidate, and Max Becker, who was the choice of the Liberal Free Democratic party.

Center party came under suspicion and Luebbe was jailed for 20 months. During World War II he worked for a Berlin construction company. Luebbe was one of the first members of the postwar Christian Democratic party. He is married but has no children.

However, the main flow had not reached the diversion level although on the farm to market creek was running near bridge level. The Colorado River was running 5 1/2 feet deep at the bridge on the Big Spring-Gail highway several miles upstream from Lake Thomas. During the period from 9:30 a.m. to 10 a.m. it rose one foot in the channel there. Election of the lake was 2,251.70 at 11:30 a.m. a gain of .28 of a foot.

Steelworkers Union Calls Halt To Wildcat Walkouts

NEW YORK (AP)—The United Steelworkers Union today ordered an immediate end to scattered wildcat strikes which erupted Tuesday night and today, idling more than 20,000 of the industry half million workers.

in wages averaging $3.10 an hour in April. Among those hardest hit in the rash of walkouts today was the Jones & Laughlin Steel Corp. plant at Aliquippa, Pa., which employs about 14,000 persons.

At Cleveland, another wildcat walkout spread at the Republic Steel Corp. and curtailed production.

WAFB Money Allocation Wins Senate's Approval

The Senate passed a military construction bill Tuesday which included $2,168,000 for WAFB. Engineers at Webb had no detailed information on what is included in the bill. It was assumed that it is the regular military construction bill for the fiscal year. In that event, the largest portion of the work will be in support of the 331st Interceptor Squadron which is developing extensive facilities on part of the base area.

House Locks Itself In To Finish Revenue Bill

Gov. Daniel: 'A Shame' If Gas Firms Not Taxed

AUSTIN (AP)—Gov. Price Daniel said today it will be "a shame if the gas pipelines go scot free" of any new taxes. He said he was greatly disappointed that the pipeline tax failed in the House yesterday and that he hoped it would reverse its 72-71 adverse vote before sending a bill to the Senate.

"At this moment the matter rests entirely with the House, where the constitution says tax bills must originate. I hope a majority of the House will be able to meet this responsibility without requiring a third special session."

Cool Pup
Cookie, a four-month-old pup, has his own ideas how to beat the hot muggy weather that has sent temperatures soaring into the nineties in Philadelphia, Pa., during the current heat wave.

New Liquor Tax Measure Okayed

AUSTIN (AP)—The House voted $2-64 today to stay and finish the job of writing the tax bill to take the state out of the red and provide needed new revenue. The call on the House means no member can leave the main chamber. The action came after the House killed a proposal to tax newspaper advertising about 80 cents a page.

There went 66 million dollars. The House refused 71-71 and 73-69 to accept either of two forms of a severance beneficiary tax on natural gas. There went at least 12 million dollars more. Then the House voted to wait until today to do any more work on Seeligson's bill or on other tax proposals pending.

Inflation Is Major Campaign Issue, Ike Tells News Parley

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower said today the matter of inflation will be one of the main issues of the 1960 presidential campaign. The President also told a news conference that he not only looks for a balanced budget in the new fiscal year starting today, but expects a start on paying off the 286-billion-dollar national debt.

personal and in no way political. INDUSTRIAL SECURITY —Eisenhower was asked for comment on a Supreme Court decision this week that there is no present authority for the firing of private industrial plant employees on security grounds. He replied that the administration ordered a careful study of that ruling as soon as it was handed down, and that he couldn't say anything further pending completion of that study.

Pilot Cleared In Plane Crash

NAHA, Okinawa (AP)—The pilot of a U. S. jet fighter that crashed into an Okinawan school house Tuesday did everything humanly possible to prevent his burning plane from falling into an inhabited area, the Air Force said today.

The pilot, Capt. John G. Schmitt Jr. of Chalmers, Ind., parachuted to safety. Brig. Gen. Dale O. Smith, commander of the 313th Air Division, said Schmitt could not have brought the plane under control even if he had remained with it.

With 19 of the injured in critical condition, there was a possibility that there would be more deaths. It was one of the Air Force's worst air disasters in the Far East since World War II.

Politicos Hurry To Long Throne

COVINGTON, La. (AP)—Louisiana politicians hurried today into this piney woods town where Gov. Earl K. Long—beset by divorce, income tax and health problems—is busy running for re-election.

They moved in and out of his motel room like worker ants, some on the business of running state government, some seeking a spot on the Long ticket, others merely expressing friendship.

Beck Fails To Show Up In Court On Gift Charge

NEW YORK (AP)—Former Teamster boss Dave Beck failed to show up today for pleading to charges that he accepted $200,000 from two truck firm executives while he was union chief. A federal judge immediately issued a warrant for his arrest.

When Beck's case was called in the court of Judge Gregory F. Noonan, neither the defendant nor his lawyer replied.

Shaw suggested that no action be taken at the time, but that Beck and the lawyer be given another chance to show up later in the day. If they did not appear then, he said, a warrant could be issued.

Senate To Consider Beach Usage Bill

AUSTIN (AP)—The Senate today likely will consider a bill guaranteeing the public's right to use Gulf beaches.

Padre and Mustang Islands extending along the coast from Port Aransas to the Rio Grande River are exempt.

His prediction almost came true on the spot. Sen. George Parkhouse, Dallas, and Phillips, who came at each other at the drop of a hat in Senate debate, leveled off during the hearing.

Police, Fire Dept. Crack Down On Fireworks Sales

Police officers and the fire department were cracking down on fireworks salesmen this morning. A huckster on the north side was advised of the city ordinance prohibiting the sale of fireworks within the city limits.

A. D. Meador, city fire marshal, explained the state law prohibits the sale of fireworks to children under 10 years. Other prohibitions, and churches. It is also unlawful to throw them from cars.

Reagan said that plans for a national seashore park, county parks, unreserved public use plus three causeways had set Padre Island apart from the problems of the northern beaches.

Odessa Presents Plans For Costly Loop Around City

AUSTIN (AP)—Odessa officials presented the Highway Commission Tuesday with plans for a five-million dollar loop around the city to connect with Interstate 20. Delegations from 12 counties made requests. The projects were taken under advisement.

Gerald Fugit, Ector County judge, led the Odessa group. The delegation asked for a loop around Odessa from the intersection with Interstate 20 on the eastern edge of the city to Interstate 20 on the western edge, 21.0 miles.

The cost includes $2,800,000 for grading, drainage, structures base and surfacing, $1,650,000 for five interchanges and $550,000 for right of way.

Also requested was an extension of Farm 2019 south to a point near Penwell. They asked for a connection with U. S. 80 at its intersection with Farm 1053 southwest of Penwell, 14.5 miles. The estimated cost is $225,000.

A Devotional For Today

If we walk in the light, as he is in the light, we have fellowship one with another, and the blood of Jesus Christ his Son cleanseth us from all sin. (1 John 1:7.)

PRAYER: Our Father, we thank Thee for the radiance of Thy love. Help us this day as we try to abide in Thy love. May the light of Thy salvation shine through our lives into the lives of others. In the name of Jesus, who taught us to pray, "Our Father who art in heaven . . . Amen."

(From the 'Upper Room')

Gen. Taylor Retires

General Maxwell D. Taylor retired from the Army today, June 30, after a long and distinguished career which reached the pinnacle of chief of staff before it was over.

In the June Harper's William S. White speaks of General Taylor as the "last great captain of the old hunters . . . the last of the Army's truly dashing commanders."

Contributing Toward Inflation

The country might have received some really meaningful conclusions and recommendations had the President's anti-inflation committee been made up of a cross-section of the nation's business, industrial, agricultural, and trade leadership.

But that would have been too simple, and besides the committee's report might not have reflected the proper content of partisan political sentiment deemed essential to the 1960 election.

As it was the committee, headed by Vice President Nixon, was made up almost wholly of Cabinet members and economic advisers to the President, and the Democrats lost no time stressing the fact and picking holes in its general tone.

The report said that Congress must take "immediately" three steps to avert "the serious risk of price increases."

1. Achieve a budget balance. 2. Reinforce the interest ceiling on government bonds, to avoid the equivalent of "green-back" financing. 3. Make price stability, by law, an explicit goal of federal economic policy.

In a narrow sense, then, it can be argued that the committee merely underwrote what the President had already made a part of his administration's program, so why all the hullabaloo over the report?

There were vague hints that both labor and management might be called more strictly to account, but nothing specific.

Regarding the farm price situation (Secretary Benson was a member of the committee drawing up the report), the group announced it would make recommendations for changes in the farm program to alleviate "the major inflationary effects" of present subsidies and supports.

Prices in general have remained fairly steady for a year now and some have shown signs of leveling off. One source of big inflation has been in the cost the taxpayer must pay in "hiring money" through the instrumentality of government bonds, and obviously the committee favors running this cost still higher by taking off the ceiling.

Boom Go Boom?

James Marlow Ike Finds The Grass Wasn't So Green

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower has found it a lot tougher to cut government spending than he seemed to think it would be when he was on the outside wanting in.

He set a low spending goal he has never been able to get down to. He promised to balance the budget but has been able to do it only twice since he took office.

Tuesday the government wound up the fiscal year with the biggest budget deficit in peacetime history. It reached almost 13 billion dollars.

Back in the 1952 presidential campaign Eisenhower balanced away at Democratic spending and promised to do better, a lot better. He promised that if elected the Republican administration would:

- "First, provide a sound dollar.
- A major step is to reduce government spending (from the then rate of 81 billion dollars a year) to something like 60 billion dollars within four years.

"Such a cut would eliminate the deficit in the budget and would make way for a substantial tax reduction."

What has happened since Eisenhower took office in January 1953? This is the story of the budget, starting with fiscal year 1954 which began July 1, 1953.

For fiscal 1954—budget deficit of $3,100,000; fiscal 1955—budget deficit of $4,200,000,000; fiscal 1956—budget balanced, with $1,600,000,000 to spare; fiscal 1957—budget balanced, again with $1,600,000,000 to the good; fiscal 1958—budget deficit of $2,800,000,000; fiscal 1959, which ended Tuesday—budget deficit of around 13 billions.

In short: Eisenhower managed to balance the budget only twice. Never in that time did government spending get down to the 60-billion-dollar figure he talked about in the 1952 campaign.

Nevertheless, in 1954 the Republican-run Congress of that year made good on one of Eisenhower's expressed hopes of the 1952 campaign. It cut taxes.

But the public debt, which was around 271 billion when he first took office, is now around 285 billion. As for the sound dollar Eisenhower spoke of in 1952, it, too, has lost some ground.

The government uses the years 1947-49 as a base period to show changes in living costs and the purchasing value of a dollar. When Eisenhower took office in January 1953 you would have had to spend $1.14 to purchase what a dollar would have bought in 1947-49.

Now you would have to spend $1.24. But the President has never given up his hope for a balanced budget. He hopes to achieve another in the 1960 fiscal year which started today. He has set a goal—a budget of 77 billion dollars, balanced and with 70 million or more left over.

It will be a tight squeeze, perhaps, but Eisenhower has made a fiscal 1960 balanced budget a personal crusade and is beating the Democratic-run Congress on the head to keep down spending so he can achieve the balance.

Hal Boyle That Dream Of Stardom

NEW YORK (AP)—Every year they troop here—the kids with the big hope.

They all have the same goal—to make a name in show business, to carve themselves a niche in the American theater.

They come from every part of the land, from every kind of background. Some are the sons of laborers, some are the spoiled daughters of the wealthy. Some wear the stamped neatness of the Ivy League, some look like the born beatniks they are.

Many of them share a startling lack of talent. All share a single thing—a vision of stardom, a picture of themselves posturing before an applauding world.

Why does anyone set out to be an actor or an actress? What motivates them? I can never decide whether it is blind ignorance, blind courage, or a blind and mystic compulsion they have no control over whatever.

It can't be sheer ignorance, because most of these kids know what the odds against them are. They know many actors are lucky to make $1,000 a year at their craft. They know the average performer doesn't earn a fifth as much as a plumber, a tenth as much as a dentist. Yet each is sure in his heart, for a time anyway, "I'll beat the odds."

There is something magnificent and tremulous in the way these young people smash against the impossible. It is rather like watching massed infantry march, singing into certain disaster against massed artillery. It inspires you even as it breaks your heart.

In the beginning art is everything with them, and money means nothing. They take all sorts of odd jobs to keep them alive while they wait for "the chance."

Few ever get "that big chance" and even fewer go on to real success. Most of them succumb to these twin eroders of most dreams—time and common sense. They give up and go away.

And the one in a thousand who does come out on top in show business? If he was lonely before, he is now twice as lonely—and three times as fearful.

Success, he finds, is not a perch but a prize fight ring with no rest between the rounds. Finding "the right role" is now even more terribly important than getting "that big break" used to be.

He can't afford to take a chance. He is a big financial human pie, cut into many pieces—for the producer, his press agent, his manager, his family, the tax collector.

But if you asked him why he doesn't get out of the business, he'd say, "Are you crazy? After what I went through to get here!" Why does anyone really want to be an actor? Only an actor knows—and he probably couldn't tell you!

Around The Rim How To Help A Nervous Person

Dr. Walter C. Alvarez recently addressed a national medical meeting on the art of helping a nervous person. What he had to say was designed for physicians, but it has application for all of us.

"Every physician with experience knows how useless it is for him to try to treat a highly neurotic and hypersensitive woman if all he does is to get her angry when he tells her that he hasn't been able to find any organic disease to account for all her aches and pains," he said. "What good will it do to give her a tranquilizer if she leaves his office disappointed, ashamed, let-down, outraged and with the feeling that she hasn't had an examination complete enough to reveal the focus of organic disease which she is sure she has. Often the patient feels that the doctor has insinuated that he or she is a darn fool who is perhaps faking an illness or enjoying symptoms."

Dr. Alvarez suggested that one way to get at the root of the trouble is to have or to develop a liking for people. Another is to talk to patients in plain English. He said he had heard a great heart specialist explain to a farmer that his EKG showed a left ventricular preponderance. Contrasting this, he told Dr. Will Mayo, who was perhaps as busy as any specialist in his day, took time to sit down and explain to a distracted mother that Hodgkin's disease was "a cancer-like disease which could clear up now with X-ray treatment; then, if we are lucky, it will stay away for five or six years; by then, perhaps, we'll have a medicine to cure it. Keep hoping."

Instead of cutting the patient off short for not knowing a medical term, he had explained broadly and had given hope.

Continuing, Dr. Alvarez stressed the need for letting patients talk out their problems. Once a young man with an over-burdening personal problem was on the verge of suicide until the doctor simply took time to listen to him without showing any disgust.

"When there is nothing the matter with a person, our work should begin, not end," Dr. Alvarez declared.

Here is where the physician can take a moment to explain a hypersensitivity which may be very real and even painful; here is where he can explain how symptoms are produced; here is where they may pick up the thread of information which will help him unravel a problem that is as tenacious as though it were functional or organic.

Dr. Alvarez could just as well have been talking with personnel managers, to ministers, to guidance directors, to any of the millions of people who are in supervisory capacities.

The world is full of people who are nervous because of external pressures or because they were born to be that way. They can go through life bearing imaginary crosses which will become real and over-powering through lack of understanding. Many if not most of these people can be helped if some sympathetic soul will simply take time to sit down and evince a genuine interest and warm concern in their problems. When we get too busy to talk and too wise to explain simply, we are kidding ourselves about our importance and our knowledge. What greater thing can anyone do than to pause to help another of God's creatures? —JOE PICKLE

Ike Finds The Grass Wasn't So Green Right Out Of The Women's Magazines

Has any statistician ever made a study of the number of woman-hours spent in reading under the hair dryer? Or attempted to analyze the type of reading matter devoured while the finger waves subside and nail enamel dries? It's a thought for a Ph.D. thesis.

I look forward to those minutes each week as a time of respite in which to do my "womanly woman" reading. Those are the snatched moments I can devote to assaying the fashion and homemaking magazines and similar literary goodies.

In this interim, I can decide whether to raise or lower my heels, how to rearrange the furniture, learn how to transform an orange crate into a regency desk, discover (what, again?) yet new uses for herbs, and what to do for aphids on the petunias.

It is a period in which I can rearrange my whole life and times, as well as the household, in a manner calculated to confound the Head of Clan Robb for the next 73 hours. As a result of this intensive reading, we eat orange marmalade in the diced beefs, put a dash of vodka in the iced tea (christened a "Bloody Mary" by my spouse) and try to discover (what, again?) yet new uses for herbs, and what to do for aphids on the petunias.

And what murder I harbor in my heart for other women dyes who tear an ad or a recipe from such magazines! Intolerable vandalism! Invariably they destroy the final thrilling words on how one woman turned her corner cupboard into a guest room or how a talented husband who built a downstairs powder room out of waste space—

Now, I shall never know where the waste space was or how the miracle was accomplished. But occasionally, just semi-occasionally, a wee bit of doubt over these slick-paper ukases from on high creeps in among the daisies. It is my conviction that a woman should always know when her husband's tolerance point has been reached and the stack is apt to blow.

It occurs to me that there is apt to be some stack-blowing around Chez Robb if I obey the latest fashion dictum in the home-decoration field by taking the pictures off the walls and simply leaning them against said walls with the bottoms of their respective frames resting on the floor.

Pictures have been coming farther and farther down the walls since my childhood. At that time they were hung just under the high ceiling and an art lover's reward was a crick in the neck. But with the pictures resting on the floor, isn't the crick merely going to be transferred to the lumbar?

Or does the art lover throw himself prone on the floor and nuzzle up to the picture? It's all very well for these aloof art experts to demand that Whistler rest on the floor, but it is maddening for a magazine to forget its responsibility to its readers. The least the editors could have done is to summon the etiquette expert and ask the proper stance for scanning a parquet Picasso.

The only clue, and an ominous one, given by the magazine is a lofty sentence: "For the viewer's easy appreciation, art is hung low today, sometimes even at the eye level of a seated person."

That sentence implies a revolution in home decor. It can only foreshadow a house without chairs when pictures rest on the floor. In tomorrow's world of gracious living, we shall all be seated on the wall-to-wall, the better to see Stanley's etching, and never mind the sofa. En garde, gracious livers! Are we men or worms? The Gallup Poll Lower Tariff Rates Get Support

PRINCETON, N. J.—With an ever increasing flow of foreign goods tailored specifically for American markets, interest focuses on the stand the typical consumer takes today on the tariff question.

Obviously, on an issue as complicated as that of tariffs, a large segment of the population has no opinion. From among those with opinions, however, in a nationwide Gallup Poll, these important facts come to light:

1. The weight of sentiment holds that lower tariffs would be an advantageous step for the U. S. to take in order to increase our volume of world trade.

"That way we'd have more export and import trade," reasoned an Indiana welder, "that would bring more volume and more work."

2. While the traditional Republican point of view has been to favor high tariff barriers, rank-and-file GOP members today are on the side of lower tariffs, at least, in principle.

Gallup Poll studies over the last two decades have shown that the low tariff school has been consistently more popular with the public than the "protectionist" point of view favoring higher tariff levels.

Today's first question put to a representative cross-section of voters, sought to determine how many voters were familiar with the tariff issue.

"Some people say that our present tariffs should be increased. Others people say that the U. S. should establish freer trade with other countries by lowering tariffs. Have you heard or read anything about this?"

Here are the replies today compared with an identical survey made four years ago at a time when President Eisenhower's program to liberalize U. S. foreign trade was causing speculation about the tariff question:

HEARD OF TARIFF DISPUTE? Today Jan. '55 Per cent

Yes . . . . . 37 52
No . . . . . 63 48

Although—as indicated by the above question—the public's recent exposure to the tariff issue is not as high as it was four years ago, sentiment among those who have heard or read about the issue has remained basically in favor of lower tariffs.

This is revealed in the results of a second question, put to those who said they had followed the tariff discussions:

"By and large, do you favor higher or lower tariffs than we have at present?"

HIGHER OR LOWER TARIFF RATES? —'Informed' Voters—

Today Jan. '55 Per cent

Higher . . . . . 30 26
Lower . . . . . 40 42
Same as now . . . . . 18 22
No Opin. . . . . 12 10

GOP voters in the current survey, who want to see a change in existing tariffs, tend to agree with voters from the Democratic party in the matter of lower tariffs. Today's vote by party affiliation:

HIGHER OR LOWER TARIFF RATES? —'Informed' Voters—

Today Jan. '55 Per cent

Rep. Dem. Ind . . . . . 28 30 35
Higher . . . . . 30 40 39
Lower . . . . . 22 19 13
Same . . . . . 13 11 13
No Opin. . . . .

Today's first question put to a representative cross-section of voters, sought to determine how many voters were familiar with the tariff issue.

"Some people say that our present tariffs should be increased. Others people say that the U. S. should establish freer trade with other countries by lowering tariffs. Have you heard or read anything about this?"

Ham, Turkey On Week's Bargain List

By The Associated Press

Although supermarkets are a comparatively recent arrival on the American scene they seem bent on establishing traditional marketing patterns. One of these is offering ham and turkey as bargain specials on holidays.

Again this weekend these items are the most frequently advertised specials around the country. Turkeys are an especially logical choice, because marketings are expected to run well above last year through the summer. This is due to last winter's large hatch.
Pork prices are expected to remain under last year's levels, reflecting the sale of the 17 per cent larger crop of pigs born last fall.

Another reason for the ham-turkey combine is the recent advance in prices of frying chickens, which used to be considered a top fourth of July item. Mark-ups of 2 to 8 cents a pound are scattered around the country due to smaller hatchings.

Eggs also continued their upward swing, climbing 4 to 8 cents a dozen, due to the seasonal decline in egg production.

Holiday meals will be brightened by a long list of fresh fruits and vegetables at bargain levels.

Corn, a Fourth of July staple, now comes to market from New Jersey as well as Florida, North Carolina and Virginia. Other best buys are snap beans, cabbage, yellow or green squash, all varieties of lettuce, radishes, green onions and cucumbers.

Bargain fruits include blueberries, bananas, pineapples, mangoes, peaches and cantaloupes, although the last named show a wide range in quality and condition.

End Holiday Meal With Simple Dessert

For that holiday supper on the patio, chances are you are planning a menu that can be prepared ahead of time. One suggestion we offer is to count on a simple dessert.

An extra sweet cookie or an ice make excellent meal finales. These recipes may help:

TEA ICE CREAM

1 1/2 cup loose tea
1 1/2 cup boiling water
1/2 cup milk
1/2 cup heavy cream
1 can ice cream mix
Measure tea in heatproof measuring cup. Pour boiling water over tea leaves; brew 3 minutes. Turn wet tea leaves into top of double boiler; stir in milk and cream; cover. Cook over boiling water 7 minutes. Remove and strain through a very fine sieve or cheese cloth so you have tea extract. Cover extract and cool.

Turn ice cream mixture into mixing bowl; gradually add tea extract; beating with rotary beater. Pour into freezing tray and freeze rapidly. When frozen, break up and spoon into mixing bowl. Beat until consistency of mashed potatoes.

Return to freezing tray and reduce temperature control to maintain desired firmness.

CANDY WAFERS

1/2 cup maple-blended syrup
1/2 cup butter or margarine
1/2 cup sifted flour
1/4 tsp. salt

In a 1-quart saucepan over high heat, bring syrup and butter to a boil; boil hard 1/2 minute; remove from heat. Add flour and salt to hot liquid all at once; stir to blend. Using level teaspoonfuls of the mixture, drop — 3 inches apart — onto a very lightly greased cookie sheet. Bake in a moderate (350 degrees) oven 8 to 9 minutes.

Remove and cool on pan about 1 minute; then remove a wafer with a wide spatula and quickly roll up in tube shape. Place on rack to cool.

Remove and roll remaining wafers the same way; if some harden before they are rolled, return to oven for a few seconds to soften. Store in airtight container. Makes about 3 dozen.

NUT BROWN BARS

1/2 cup butter or margarine
1 1/2 cups firmly packed dark brown sugar
1 cup plus 2 tbsps. flour
1/2 tsp. baking powder
1/4 tsp. salt
1 cup coarsely-broken walnuts

Remove and roll remaining wafers the same way; if some harden before they are rolled, return to oven for a few seconds to soften. Store in airtight container. Makes about 3 dozen.

1/2 cup flaked coconut (lightly packed)
2 eggs
1 tsp. vanilla
Cream butter and 1/2 cup sugar; stir in 1 cup flour. Pat down in buttered baking pan (9 by 9 by 1 1/4 inches). Bake in moderate (375 degrees) oven 20 minutes.

Stir together the remaining 2 tablespoons flour, baking powder and salt; mix in walnuts and coconut. When crust is almost baked, beat eggs and vanilla until thick and lemon colored; gradually beat in remaining 1 cup sugar until very thick; fold in nut mixture.

Turn onto baked crust, spreading evenly. Return to oven for 20 minutes. Cool slightly; cut into bars; remove with spatula. Store in tightly-covered container.

Russian Women To See Examples Of Beauty Culture From America

Helena Rubinstein is about to add another "first" to her long list of achievements. The cosmetic house will be the first and only firm to present a complete service of skin care and make-up to the women of Russia as an integral part of the American National Exhibition in Moscow this summer.

Madame Helena Rubinstein herself will help inaugurate the historic event by participating in opening day ceremonies at Moscow's Sokolniki Park, July 25. While in Moscow, she will visit the Institute of Beauty and meet with leaders of the Soviet cosmetics industry. "Beauty is universally understood and appreciated," she points out. "Through beauty we hope to increase international understanding. True beauty can exist only in a world at peace."

The Beauty Kiosk at the Exhibition will be a miniature version of an American salon and will service—free of charge—numerous Russian women, as well as the American models in the Fashion Industries presentation. The skin and make-up section of the Kiosk will be staffed by highly trained experts from this famous Fifth Avenue Salon, hand picked by Miss Mala Rubinstein, head of all the Rubinstein Salons, for their vast experience and knowledge of face treatments.

Mrs. Rubinstein and her staff will leave for Moscow July 19 to set up the salon and to arrange the cosmetics demonstrations which will be incorporated into the live stage presentations to be given four times a day by the Fashion Industries. In addition, close-up views of the technicians at work will be made available to visitors at the exhibition via closed-circuit color television.

Monitors, placed at strategic areas throughout the exhibition grounds, will carry portions of the work being done in the Beauty Kiosk, and special beauty films are now being prepared to be shown at other times during the day over this closed network.

The specialists will do as many complete face treatments as possible during the six-week duration of the exhibition. Although the preparations are not now available in the U.S.S.R., Russian women will be advised how to help themselves with the products they can obtain. Pamphlets, outlining simple, basic treatments, for all kinds of skin problems, are being prepared in Russian and will be distributed to visitors so that the women can learn how to be their own skin specialists.

The staff will take with them large quantities of skin care and make-up preparations to be used during the treatment sessions. The Russians will see for the first time some of the items that the beauty science pioneer has developed. Medicated skin creams and lotions, protective preparations, depilatories, waterproof mascara and many others. These products, so easily available to every American woman, are expected to be greeted as startling innovations in Russia.

Stricter Transportation Rules For Bracero Labor

All employers of Mexican contract workers in the Southwest have been notified of the tighter safety requirements governing the transportation of Mexican farm laborers to and from the places where they work, Regional Director Ed McDonald of the U. S. Department of Labor's Bureau of Employment Security in Dallas said today.

Copies of the new safety requirements covering short-haul transportation of Mexican Nationals under the Migrant Labor Agreement with Mexico were sent to employers in Texas and Arkansas last week, he said. No other states in the Southwest are using Mexican migrant workers this year.

Under the standard work contract in the Migrant Labor Agreement with Mexico, transportation facilities used in the movement of Mexican Nationals between farm placement reception centers and the place of employment must meet the same safety requirements as apply to common carriers. Under the new requirements, employers also are made responsible for the safe transportation of Mexican workers while they are on the job.

McDonald said that employers of Mexican Nationals must assure that only competent and qualified persons drive vehicles transporting workers; that vehicles and equipment used to transport workers meet reasonable standards of safety; and that proper precautions are exercised to safeguard workers while being transported to and from the places where they work.

Castro Aide Claims Commie Infiltration

HAVANA (AP)—Fidel Castro's government today sought the arrest of Maj. Pedro Luis Diaz Lanz after he resigned his command of the Cuban air force and charged that Communists had infiltrated Castro's armed forces.

The whereabouts of Diaz were a mystery. There was speculation that he had gone underground or fled from Cuba.

Diaz turned in his resignation to President Manuel Urrutia and leveled the Red charges after returning to duty from a month's absence attributed to typhoid fever.

Maj. Juan Almeida, who commanded the air force in Diaz's absence, was named to succeed him. A few hours later Almeida ordered his predecessor's arrest and accused him of desertion, treason, robbery and dealing with members of ex-president Fulgencio Batista's regime.

Diaz in his letter of resignation had accused Almeida of trying to supplant him because of his outspoken opposition to Communist influence on Castro's government and his army.

Almeida ordered Diaz's arrest after conferring with Castro and his brother, Maj. Raul Castro, commander of Cuba's armed forces.

The new air force chief said Diaz had been under investigation for crimes "to which he must answer before revolutionary tribunals." He charged that Diaz had raised the cry of Communist infiltration "when he saw he was unable to continue with his robberies."

Almeida added that, as a result of Diaz's defection, some persons already had been arrested.

Diaz's charge was the first from a member of the revolutionary high command. Castro has repeatedly denied similar charges from outside the ranks of his revolutionary forces.

Meanwhile, official sources said that a police raid on the home of a former U. S. Navy pilot had foiled a plan to invade Nicaragua by air and sea.

The raid on the suburban home of Capt. Paul Hughes of Atlanta, Ga., who had been an adviser to the Cuban rebel air force, led to the seizure of a large arms cache and the roundup of nearly 200 volunteers—most of them Nicaraguans—for the reported expedition against president Luis Somoza.

Two other Americans were reported detained with Hughes. They were identified as Efrén R. Pichardo, a Miami attorney, and Joseph Bardor of Los Angeles, who said he was a movie producer. Police also picked up a British freelance journalist identified as Carl John Wilson.

New Wing Chief Is Assigned To Webb

Col. Glenn A. Stell, former Director of Operations and Deputy Commander of the 3499th Field Training Wing, a tenant organization at Chamblee AFB, Ill., this week assumed command of the 3560th Air Base Group at Webb.

He succeeds Col. Don R. Keefe who is presently at Lackland AFB, Texas, awaiting retirement. A native of Houston, Col. Stell has 18 years of active military service. He has spent a number of tours on foreign soil, to include the Mediterranean Theater of Operations—North Africa, Sicily and Italy—during World War II; Germany, 1946 to 1948; Korea, 1952 and 1953; and Japan, 1953 to 1955.

After leaving Germany, the colonel served four years of Air Force ROTC duty at the University of Wisconsin, and upon return to the United States from Japan, was assigned to the Pentagon, Washington, D. C., where he worked on War Plans for one year.

Col. Stell is married to the former Bobbie Batte, of Houston, and they have two daughters, Joan, 12, and Ruth, 10, and two sons, Bobby, 8, and Jack, 7.

County Airport Operation Contract Has Been Signed

Roy Neal, Lubbock, and Dick Standifer, who is to be located in Big Spring, have signed a contract with the Howard County Commissioners for the new Howard County Airport operation.

The two men appeared before the commission on Monday. The commissioners and the operators went over details of the contract and signed the agreement. It was made operative June 15. Standifer is already on duty at the port. The contract covers a five year period and is subject to one renewal.

The operators agree to pay the county $100 per month rental on the T-hangers at the port and they have already paid rental for the first half of June.

The county agrees to build a combination hangar-administration building at the airport at a cost of not less than $40,000. No work has been started on this building as yet. Plans are still being prepared. Money is available for the construction from the original half million dollars the county provided for the airport. The county likewise agreed to place lights on each of the hangars and it is probably a contract for wiring these will be authorized today.

The operators agree to pay suitable yearly rental equivalent to a sum which would amortize the cost of the hangar-administration building in a period of 15 years. The operators will also pay a royalty of 2 cents a gallon on gasoline and 10 cents a gallon on oil used and used on the airport.

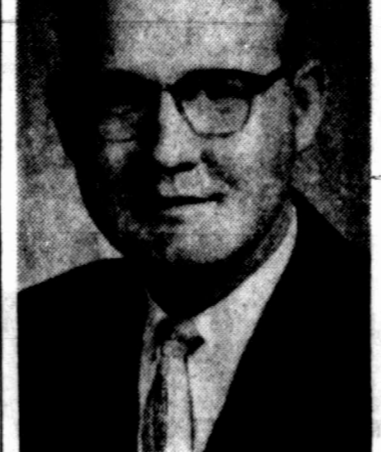

It is stipulated in the contract that the operators are to have free use of the hangar-administration building for a period of six months after it is built. Rental will be payable at the expiration of that period.

Ed Carpenter, county judge, said that both Neal and Standifer are experienced men in the field of airport operation. The commissioners feel, he said, that the county was fortunate in finding qualified operators for the new airport.

Workers have been delayed by bad weather in final work on the airport. Markers are yet to be installed on the runways. Some final touches will have to be added before the job is completed.

Commissioners, meantime, continue their efforts to settle aviation problems relating to approach areas at the airport.

Scout Executive

James Beeman Stephen has been named district Scout executive for the Sandhills and Arrowhead district of the Buffalo Trail Council. He graduated from Kermit High School in 1954 in the area he now serves. He also is a Hardin-Simmons University graduate and completed six months active duty with the Army intelligence branch school at Ft. Holabird and then was assigned to the Pentagon as the adjutant general's office. Recently he completed the national Scout training school.

BOXING GAME LURED INGO AT AGE OF 13

By MURRAY ROSE
NEW YORK (AP)—Ingenar Johansson says he first became interested in boxing when he was 13.

"I read about Joe Louis and I see that he is a big man and getting everything," said the new heavyweight champion.

When he was 15 he started boxing in amateur competition. He left school at the same time.

"I didn't like school. Some of the teachers didn't like me," he added.

One of six children of a stone-cutter and laborer, Ingenar went to work on construction gangs and on the docks. This physical labor hardened his body and broadened his shoulders.

"I had about 86 amateur fights," he said. "I win almost all of them and the Swedish championship. After the Olympics, I felt I was ready to fight the professionals."

Johansson won 11 straight pro fights, six of them by knockouts, through the summer of 1955. He was beginning to create a stir in Scandinavian countries.

On Aug. 28, 1955, Johansson knocked out Hein Ten Hoff, Germany's fading European champion, in the first round. He was ready for faster competition.

He came to the U.S. to take a look at American fighters after the Ten Hoff slaughter. Ingo visited famed Stallman's Gym. He looked at the American style of fighting, did some sparring, and returned to his native land.

"I could see I was not ready yet for this kind of competition," he said.

In 1956 he stopped European champion Franco Cavicchi of Italy at Bologna, Italy in 13 rounds.

On Feb. 21, 1958, Johansson defended his European title against Welshman Joe Erskine, the British champion who was virtually set for a title fight in America with world champion Floyd Patterson.

Johansson stopped Erskine in the 13th round.

Five months later Johansson knocked out Germany's Heinz Neuhaus in the fourth round.

"We knew he was ready for the best now," said Edwin Ahlquist, Johansson's adviser.

Eddie Machen, the undefeated No. 1 contender from California, was imported.

For the first minute Johansson backed away from Machen. Suddenly Ingo's right shot out, crashing against Machen's temple. The Californian crumpled to the canvas at 1:13. He staggered in his feet but Johansson stormed after him. It was all over in 136 seconds.

The mighty upset started the boxing world. Johansson became the No. 1 contender with a 21-0 record, including 13 knockouts. He was matched with Patterson after prolonged, secret negotiations.

NEXT: Johansson's training method. Will it revolutionize training in the U.S.?

Pitcher In Pain

CARY EXPECTED

Demaret May Play In Odessa Meet

ODESSA, Tex. — Jaunty Jimmy Demaret and deliberate Cary Middlecoff, two of golf's greatest personalities, were the big question marks on the Odessa Pro-Am scene this week as the $10,000 event neared its July 16 kickoff.

Tournament Chairman Mac Borling said he expects both to be here but added that he had received no definite word from either. "There's better than a 50-50 chance that both will play," he added.

Middlecoff has played here twice before while Demaret's appearance would be his first in the nation's richest pro-amateur.

Well-regarded tandems already on the official entry list include: (pro listed first)

Bo Winger-Bobby French, Billy Maxwell-Bill Roden, Byron Nelson-Mac Boring, Mike Souchak-Eddie Chiles, Don January-Dick Jennings, J. C. Goswie-Bobby Malone, Doug Sanders-Ray Hudson, Tommy Jacobs-Sleepy Wynn, and Hillman Robbins whose partner has not been announced.

Past champions include: 1949 — Iverson Martin-Jim Simpson, 1950 — Byron Nelson-Bo Winger, 1951 — Harry Todd.

Wallace Winner Of Putting Meet

The biggest crowd of the year turned out for the weekly putting tournament conducted at the Big Spring Country Club Tuesday night and the audience must have helped Jack Wallace.

He fashioned a 69 to win first place in the men's division. Three wound up tied for second place, each with a 70. In the playoff, Jack took finished at the runner-up to Wallace. Darlyle Hoberitz was third and Bill Cheek fourth.

In women's play, Betty Jones was low with an 82. Jean Cook posted an 84, good for second place. In third was Madeline Atkins, who registered an 85.

Richard Atkins led the junior division with a 77. Richard Clark was second, with 79; and Dale Simpson third, with an 85.

Johnny Arrick Gets Credit For Win In Colt Triumph

Johnny Arrick, who came on to pitch the last four innings, got credit for the victory when the Colts felled the Pigs, 7-5, in an American Little League game here Tuesday night.

Tony Butler started the game for the Colts but had to bow out after the second due to league rules. The losing hurler was Bub Bartlett.

The win left the Colts with a 3-4 won-lost record while the Pigs now have won two while dropping five.

Between them, Arrick and Butler fanned eight and walked nine. Two other Pigs reached base after being hit by pitched ball.

Bartlett and Randy Thomas pitched for the losers, fanning none and walking 11 between them. Tommy McMahon had two singles in the game to get more than one safety.

Tonight, the Cubs square off with the undefeated Jets.

Bloop Single Robs Jones Of No-Hitter

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

They call him Sad Sam Jones and he stood with head bowed, hands on knees, when the "hit" signed flashed, snuffing out his bid for a second major league no-hitter with two out in the eighth.

An infield bounce by Junior Gilliam, credited with a controversial single, was the only hit Los Angeles managed against the big right-hander Tuesday night as he pitched San Francisco to a 2-0 victory over the Dodgers with the help of Willie Mays' two-run homer.

It was the second "near-miss" stab at a no-hitter this season by Jones, now 9-8 who had to settle for the first one-hitter of his career while the Giants closed within a half-game of the National League lead. Some of the 59,312 fans in the Los Angeles Coliseum booed the scorer's decision on the bouncing ball, which cleared Jones' head and rolled toward second base. Shortstop Andre Rodgers picked it up, then dropped it. The official scorer ruled that the fleet-switch-hitting Gilliam, getting an extra jump hitting left-handed, would have beaten it out anyway.

Jones' comment: "Can you imagine anyone calling that a hit? They don't want no-hitters thrown around here."

Cincinnati left nothing to the imagination while whipping first-place Milwaukee 8-5 on three home runs. Pittsburgh defeated Philadelphia 4-3, and St. Louis beat Chicago's Cubs 4-1.

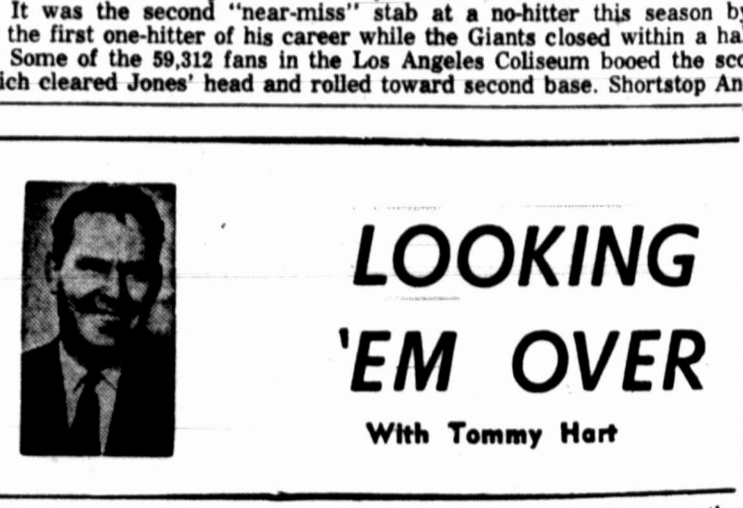

The Dodgers, third, 14 1/2 games back with their second loss in a row after winning seven straight, put five men on base. Three times the runner was Gilliam, who got both of Jones' walks. The other runners made it on a fielder's choice and an error.

Sad Sam retired 22 of the last 24 he faced, putting down 10 in a row before Gilliam walked in the sixth, then getting eight straight before the hit. Gilliam reached second in the eighth on a passed ball, but got no farther as Wally Moon fouled out. Jones got the side in order in the ninth, fanning Gil Hodges for his 10th strikeout and the final out.

Jones, 33, pitched his no-hitter against Pittsburgh when he was with the Cubs, May 12, 1955. Last May 13, he had Philadelphia no-hit until Willie Jones beat out an infield dribbler with two out in the seventh. He finished with a two-hitter.

Mays' winning shot, his 13th home run, followed a leadoff double by Jim Devenport in the third off lower Don Drysdale (8-6), who gave up nine of the Giants' 10 hits as they won their third in a row.

The Reds, who had lost three straight, came from behind against the Braves and lower Lew Burdette (11-7) when an error set up Gus Bell's three-run homer in the third. Vada Pinson nailed it with a two-run shot in the fourth. Bob Purkey (7-9) was the winner with Orlando Pena's three-hit, shutout relief over the last four innings. The Braves' runs came on homers by Ed Mathews, his 24th, and Joe Adcock.

LOOKING 'EM OVER With Tommy Hart

"This will, no doubt, be a memorable year in sports—the year the 'white hope' took over in boxing and the Yankees may lose the pennant.

It even provides a glimmer of hope for such downtrodden teams like the Baylor Bears and the Green Bay Packers.

There hasn't been as much talk about the fistic game since Max Schmeling was in his prime and giving Joe Louis his lumps. That was way back in 1936.

The Heavyweight division dictates the interest in the fight game. When Erard Charles stepped up and proclaimed himself champion in 1949, after Louis had gone into temporary retirement, the sport of many defenses appeared to be in the throes of a death agony.

Charles protested the allegations that he was a "cheese" champion but he did little to dispel such claims and ultimately wound up getting beat by every stumble bum along Bash Boulevard.

Rock Marciano blew life into the corpse but Rocky's talents were suspect, even though he went undefeated in 49 bouts.

Marciano's critics were prone to point to the LaStarras and the Walcotts he was called upon to meet and said The Rock was born with horseshoes in his pocket—he was lucky to come along when he did.

Patterson was largely a myth built up by a magazine and a religious faction, who betrayed shocking weaknesses in bouts against such journeyman fighters as Pete Rademacher and Roy Harris but who, because the field was so devoid of real talent, appeared capable of reigning for a dozen years or more.

Now, Ingo Johansson has arrived, after having studied not only Patterson but the writing fraternity back of Floyd who were quick and easy with the adjective but who really knew little about the fight game.

Racial prejudice is perhaps less apparent in sports than most anywhere but even those associated with the game had long since arrived at the conclusion that the multi-talented and hungry Negro had come to so dominate the endeavor in recent years that he had practically killed off interest among the people who pay the freights.

Until Johansson slashed away Patterson last week, the professional boxing crowds down through the Featherweight division were owned by Negroes and inevitably those challenging for the titles in the various weight classes were of Negro blood.

The Yankee haters have been no less active and vocal this year than the Yankee backers who have been inclined to conclude the opposition would roll over and play dead once the New York club put together a winning streak of four or five games.

Apparently this isn't to be one of those seasons if the Yankees do finally take charge, it appears they will have to hand-fight it all the way.

Nothing better has happened in baseball and particularly in the American League in the past two decades. The National League out drew the junior circuit by something like 3 million paying customers last year, a factor that worried the club magnates much more than they cared to admit. The American League has been so dominated by the Yankees in recent seasons that even some of the Yankee friends began to pull, if ever so gently, for someone else to develop the boldness needed to alter the mould.

The Yankees now find themselves far more popular in defeat than they have been in victory in recent years. Fans are flocking to the Yankee get beat but occasionally turning out for other games, as well.

It's a healthy sign and, as long as the Yankees don't completely collapse, will sell an abundance of tickets.

Nabors Troupe Goes Extra Innings To Down Tarzan

GRADY (SC)—Nabors Paint Store of Big Spring had to go two extra innings before defeating Tarzan Mercantile, 2-1, in a softball exhibition here Tuesday night.

Melvin Byers scored in what proved to be the winning run on a fielder's choice in the ninth after he had reached base on a walk.

Bobby Suggs got the other Big Spring tally on an error in the first after he had doubled with one out.

Tarzan forced the contest into extra innings by scoring in the fourth.

Spec Franklin, who succeeded Troy Wetzel on the mound for the Painters in the fifth, was the winning pitcher. He surrendered no hits in his stint on the mound.

Teen-Age Teams Split Two Tilts

First Federal and the Optimists split a Teen-Age baseball league twin bill here Tuesday night.

The First Federal team came on to take the afternoon, 3-0, behind the one hit pitching of T. Fierro after the Optimists had won the opener, 9-2.

Fierro fanned eight, issued six bases on balls and hit a batter in the second game.

Vandergor, the winning pitcher in the opener, struck out eight, gave up only one base on balls and hit a batter.

Thomas batted in three runs for the Optimists in the first game while Mills and Welch were the big guns for First Federal in the second game.

White, Negro Face Death Sentences

BEAUFORT, S. C. (AP)—A 24-year-old white Marine and a 19-year-old Negro—convicted in separate interracial rape cases—face death in South Carolina's electric chair.

Attorneys for both have asked for new trials. Neither has been sentenced pending hearings Thursday on new trial motions.

In each case, the death sentence was made mandatory under South Carolina law when the jury did not recommend mercy.

Israel Sharpe, a Negro, was convicted Tuesday night by a jury of six white and six Negro men of attempting to rape a young white woman in her home. Attempted rape is a capital crime in South Carolina.

Little more than 24 hours earlier, Marine Pvt. Fred Davis, a native of Atlanta, was convicted by an all-white jury of raping a 47-year-old Negro woman.

Should Davis go to the electric chair, it would be the first recorded execution of a white man for raping a Negro woman.

Judge J. Henry Johnson commented after the jury returned its verdict in the Sharpe case: "The verdicts should establish beyond all doubt that any persons regardless of race, color or creed, can get justice in South Carolina."

"I can't see how any different verdict could have given in either case."

Sharpe was convicted of forcing his way into the home of a Marine's wife while her three small children slept and attempting to rape her.

A neighbor heard her screams and called police. Sharpe was picked up at his home an hour and a half later.

Sheriff J. E. McTeer testified at Davis' trial that the young Marine, an electrician at the Marine Auxiliary Air Station here, admitted to him he attacked the woman.

Davis denied he had admitted attacking the woman. He said she consented.

Unhappy Fiscal New Year For Bureaus

WASHINGTON (AP)—It was an unhappy fiscal year today for more than a score of government agencies.

They started off the new government year of 1960 not knowing where their next million—or billion—dollars was coming from. But they had assurance that they would get it sooner or later, and they had definite plans on how to spend it.

They are the agencies whose budgets for the new year had not been acted on finally by Congress when the old government year faded out last midnight. Among them are some of the biggest spenders in government, like the Defense Department and the International Cooperation Administration.

Rather than leave them technically penniless, Congress rushed to their rescue Tuesday with its traditional "stopgap" appropriation bill.

This provides money for the month of July only, normally at the rate of about one-twelfth of what would be available if the 1960 budget bills were not snagged on Capitol Hill. In the case of the Defense Department, for example, this is a little over three billion dollars and will finance normal activities for one month.

These temporary measures are nothing new. Congress has been enacting them for years when it reached the sudden realization late in June that a lot of bills financing the year starting July 1 were still kicking around.

Tuesday's measure was passed with the customary cautions against excessive spending and with a mild rebuke to the Senate for increasing appropriations voted by the House.

Statistics compiled by the House Appropriations Committee show that the House had cut about $1,175,000,000 from new funds requested by the President for the new year, but that the Senate had added approximately 652 millions to the House figures.

Circus World Museum Opens

BARABOO, Wis. (AP)—The new Circus World Museum opens its doors today in the home of the Ringling Brothers with all the fanfare that formerly surrounded the hallowed days when the "Greatest Show on Earth" came to town.

Circus Day, proclaimed by the Wisconsin legislature, included a gala parade with elephants, bands a steam calliope, floats and circus wagons once used by the Ringlings and official opening of the new museum.

The museum, festooned with brilliantly-colored banners depicting the fresks and curiosities of the old midway, occupies two large Ringling buildings that once housed horses and camels when the circus had its winter quarters here.

Reconstructed famous old circus wagons and floats, a $50,000 miniature circus built to scale of the Ringling colossus when it traveled on four trains, and other authentic items of circus paraphernalia, are on display. There also is a regular circus tent that is occupied by Blance, a 4,000-pound Indian elephant and other animals.

Movie actress Rhonda Fleming, one of the stars of the movie "The Big Circus" was scheduled to ride in the parade, perched atop the head of one of the elephants.

Miss Fleming will appear at the Ringling and Julliard Theaters in the evening for the world premier of "The Big Circus." Proceeds of the showings will go to the museum.

The festivities were scheduled near the yard of the Baraboo jail where in November, 1882, Al. Alf T., Otto, John, and Charles Ringling and others staged the first performance of the "Ringling Classic and Comic Concert Company" with a display of dogs, cats and stuffed squirrels. The Ringling Brothers later joined Yankee Robinson to form Yankee Robins and Ringling Bros. Circus which opened at Baraboo May 19, 1884.

The circus expanded to become the ruler of the outdoor show world.

AFROTC Cadets Mannerly And Neat

The young college men at Webb these days for summer AFROTC training are toting the line—discipline is strict and the regulations to be observed many. Upper photo shows a cadet making certain his bed is made up just to the last fraction of an inch; below cadets at the mess hall watch their manners and abide closely to the stern rules applied to the trainees.

AFROTC GRIND RUGGED

Cadets Find Webb Career Strenuous

By CADET JOHN C. KENNEY
One hundred eighty-five Air Force ROTC cadets sweated, marched, and polished their way past the halfway mark in their four week summer training here at Webb this past weekend. The unit commander, Lt. Col. Herman G. Tillman Jr., gave the cadets their first open base at the close of their second week of training. Many of them streamed into Big Spring for a look at the normal world. They were ready for a change of pace from the compressed dose of discipline and training they are receiving here at Webb.
Loudspeakers blare "First Call" while it's still dark—0445—and most cadets have secretly been up a half hour already, polishing shoes and cleaning their rooms. At 0500 they pour from their rooms shouting as they hit a step at each note of the music. Fifty seconds later the entire group is formed for calisthenics before breakfast.
DISCIPLINE STRICT
Breakfast and all meals mean knife-edge discipline in the dining hall. No talking is permitted. Cadets sit at attention, backs six inches from the back of their chairs. "One hand in your lap, mister!" warns a cadet officer. "Get your feet flat on the floor!" snaps another. One cadet muttered to a buddy on the way out of the chow hall. "My mother will never recognize my table manners again."
The future officers absorb hours of instruction on survival training and air base defense, aircraft and aircrew indoctrination, military fundamentals, officer qualities, security, physical training, weapons familiarization, demonstrations and field trips, and organizations and functions of an Air Force Base.
One highlight of cadet life is the day they command the stick on a T-33 jet trainer and wind around the clouds. They return bubbling over with, "Man, what a plane! Just touch the stick, it rolls over like a barrel in the water." A few cadets return with their brown bag slightly used, but airmanship in these flights is not common.
ENTHUSIASM HOLDS UP
At Webb, enthusiasm among cadets is currently running high. They know their training is designed to separate those who can take it with a grin from those who crack up under stress. Tactical officers are in close contact with the cadets and are looking for the young men who can think fast and accurately under pressure. So, they apply the pressure. Each evening checks off another day of work, sweat, and learning. The young men from schools and universities scattered over the nation are aiming at July 11, graduation day.

T-Patchers Train In Ft. Hood Hills

NORTH FT. HOOD (AP)—The 36th Infantry Division of the Texas National Guard trained in the hills of Ft. Hood today.

Truck convoys rolled into the area and by yesterday afternoon every unit in the field was operating—with tents erected, kitchens ready and radio networks serving as the principal means of communication.

The T-Patchers, with only a weekend break, will be in the field until July 9.

Army evaluators reported to Maj. Gen. Carl L. Phinney, Dallas, that most inspections of training to date have resulted in ratings of superior or excellent.

Ahead of the T-Patchers, who have served in two World Wars, are the firing of every weapon in the division, from pistols to big 8-inch howitzers. Also involved are learning to use new vehicles, operating as new units following the division's reorganization, and developing new tactics to fit atomic age warfare.

By Bob Smith

It was in and out for the Civic Theatre.

Back in February, director John Austin made reservations for use of the auditorium for rehearsals. They were delayed getting onto the HJCJ stage until a week before opening curtain on "The Seven-Year Itch" because of activities had also been written in to the college calendar.

Tuesday evening, the "Night of Jan. 16th" cast got word in the middle of the first act that the auditorium would not be available until July 4. The cast had just moved in Monday.

Austin reported college authorities had misgivings over the electric bill.

The lights went out at 8:45 p.m., and Austin called off rehearsals until further notice.

Heretofore, rehearsals have been held in the Prairie Playhouse.

The Civic Theatre players had their troubles in the Playhouse. Lida Fiveash, in the role of the defendant in a murder trial, was supposed to hop off the witness stand, stamping her feet in a frenzy of dramatic license. Instead, she stepped into a hole in the floor.

Some nights, actors with roles of witnesses didn't show up. So one person takes the stand, testifies, arises, takes the oath again, sits down, testifies again. Perry Mason would call it "The Case of the Bobbing Witness."

One rehearsal was interrupted for the title fight. Lot of bettors got fooled.

Lines get flubbed. Actors start ad libbing. General uproar follows. Dalton Conway, as the judge, grins and raps his gavel, "order in the court!" Startled actors go back to the script.

Little girl falls out of a chair, big sis says, "Now I guess you'll settle down and stop disturbing us."

Local artists carried off a fair share of the honors at a Midland art show last week.

It was the annual sidewalk show of the Midland Art Assn., held Thursday, Friday and Saturday at the Town and Country shopping center in Midland.

Terry Patterson won third in landscapes, second in portraits, first in pastels and second in abstracts. Mrs. Bismark Shafer won third in portraits and third with three honorable mentions in abstracts. Anna Shannon won two honorable mentions in still lifes.

96,851,000 Head Of Cattle In U.S. On Last January 1

COLLEGE STATION — There were 96,851,000 head of cattle in the United States on Jan. 1, 1959, according to John G. McHaney, extension economist. This is a new record and three and one-half million more than on Jan. 1, 1958.

Most of this increase in the cattle inventory was in young beef stock, McHaney said. For example, beef heifers rose 750,000 head, steer numbers rose 750,000 also, and calf numbers were 1,300,000 higher. The beef cow herd increased 1.3 million, however, the number of milk cows were off 800,000 head, leaving the total cow increase at 700,000.

A big expansion in beef production for the market in 1959 or 1960 is not expected because cow numbers are not large, he said. They are still two million below 1955 and this is favorable from a price standpoint, because the calf crop this year will not be large enough to bring about a great increase in slaughter in 1959. Many of the heifers and heifer calves will be retained as breeding stock. However, many young cattle will go to slaughter this year or next, after a period of feeding.

The outlook for fairly stable slaughter and prices in 1959 is based upon favorable range and pasture conditions. Prices during the rest of 1959 should remain good, said the economist. A severe drought, however, would cause more cattle to move to market and you may want to be there first with the most. For this reason, he says, you should watch

Soviet Show A Smash Hit

NEW YORK (AP)—The newest show in town—the Soviet Exhibition—looks like a smash hit.

A dazzling, 10-million-dollar extravaganza, it opened to generally favorable press reviews and played its first performance before a packed house in the New York Coliseum.

There were 1,000 people standing in the hot sun Tuesday when the doors opened. A spokesman for the 42-day exhibition estimated attendance between 40,000 and 50,000.

The aim of the show, like the aim of its American counterpart which opens in Moscow July 25, is to show people how the other side lives.

Newspapers generally found it a good show. But they pointed out that in some departments, such as housing, clothing and automobiles the Soviet goods didn't come up to American standards.

Apparently they were somewhat above Soviet standards, however. Max Frankel, a former Moscow correspondent, wrote in the New York Times: "A visitor can see far more here in two hours than this correspondent saw in two years in the Soviet Union, far more especially of the stuff of Soviet wishful dreams."

"The exhibition projects a glistening Soviet future, but strains some facts of Soviet reality."

Hays Upholds Right Of Court To Rule

FORT WORTH (AP)—Former Congressman Brooks Hays of Little Rock upheld yesterday in a speech the right of the Supreme Court to determine a rule of law.

Hays spoke at the opening of TCU of the Brite College of the Bible's annual institute on "The role of the church in a multi-racial society."

He said he did not agree with the Supreme Court decision on segregation "as far as content" but added "I did acknowledge the authority of the court to make the decision and the duty of the nation to abide by the decision."

Hays, known as a moderate in the Little Rock school integration furor, said he believed in upholding the public school system and making available equality of educational facilities for both Negroes and whites.

"The South is too poor to supply multiple systems of education and insure quality of education," he said.
