Cuba Heads For Crisis

HAVANA, Cuba (AP) —Widespread troop movements were reported today in Cuba with Fidel Castro's government showing concern over mounting counterrevolutionary activity.

There will be a 25-cent admission charge for the Friday preliminaries, and Saturday evening's fees will be one dollar for adults, 50 cents for children.

Lake J. B. Thomas Climbs 2.41 Feet

Lake J. B. Thomas continued to edge upward Friday as the tail end of runoff from midweek basin.

At noon Friday the elevation was 2,253.83, an increase of 2.41 feet for the week. This accounted for 16,400 acre feet of water, or better than five billion gallons.

Oil Depletion Allowance Has Stood 32 Years

WASHINGTON (AP)—The oil and gas industry's tax depletion allowance—which weathered another attack in Congress last week—has stood at a rate of 27 1/2 per cent for 32 years.

That was the rate Congress agreed upon in 1926 as generally approximating the value of capital assets—oil and gas—that are depleted with production of each barrel of oil and each cubic foot of natural gas.

Rep. Frank Ikard (D-Tex), a member of the committee, said many experts, from colleges and universities and research, business, labor, farm and other organizations, will be asked for "an objective appraisal of just how the various provisions of the tax code operate and how they affect the American people."

Deadline Near For Sale Cadet Picnic Tickets

At least 15 more tickets need to be sold to properly finance the big Monday barbecue planned in honor of the 185 AFROTC cadets now completing summer training at Webb. Bill Quimby, manager of the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce said Saturday.

Each $5 ticket sold pays for three cadets and for their host, Quimby said.

Asks Bracero Ban

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—A written minimum wage law for farm workers and a complete stop of the bracero farm labor program in Texas was demanded today by Dr. Hector Garcia, founder and national chairman of the GI Forum.

Oil Depletion Allowance Has Stood 32 Years

WASHINGTON (AP)—The oil and gas industry's tax depletion allowance—which weathered another attack in Congress last week—has stood at a rate of 27 1/2 per cent for 32 years.

That was the rate Congress agreed upon in 1926 as generally approximating the value of capital assets—oil and gas—that are depleted with production of each barrel of oil and each cubic foot of natural gas.

Since then the tax benefit has survived a series of attempts to abolish or reduce it. Producers of other minerals enjoy similar allowances, but the oil and gas business gets the biggest. There is a 23 per cent depletion allowance for one type of sand and gravel. Miners of some ores get a 15 per cent rate. For other ores, including coal and tombstone marble, the allowance is 10 per cent.

The Senate last week virtually wiped out any chances in this session for revision of the oil and gas rate. It turned down, by a 54-21 vote, a proposal by Sen. Paul Douglas (D-Ill) and others to substitute a sliding scale, ranging from 15 per cent on lower incomes to 27 1/2 per cent on lower incomes, for the flat 27 1/2 per cent rate.

But the subject is scheduled for study by the House Ways and Means Committee next fall in connection with a review of the whole tax structure. The committee has set Nov. 2 for starting its all-inclusive studies.

Rep. Frank Ikard (D-Tex), a member of the committee, said many experts, from colleges and universities and research, business, labor, farm and other organizations, will be asked for "an objective appraisal of just how the various provisions of the tax code operate and how they affect the American people."

There has been a "rash of misleading and unfounded statements" recently about the depletion allowance for oil and gas production in the Congressional Record.

He declared the 27 1/2 per cent rate "has done the job Congress expected of it. It is an integral and vital part of the economic structure of the petroleum industry."

"The industry and its many millions of shareholders have been encouraged to risk billions of dollars to perpetuate this essential industry based on this 27 1/2 per cent depletion rate."

Compromise Tax Proposal Studied

RUSSIAN VISITOR

Kozlov Starts 'Infiltration,' Begins 10-Day Tour Of U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Soviet Deputy Premier Frol R. Kozlov left today for a sightseeing tour of the United States with the remark that there is "nothing at all for us to fight about."

Kozlov, his diplomatic mission to Washington completed with no easing of the East-West deadlock over Berlin, took off in a chartered commercial airliner on a nonstop flight to Sacramento, Calif.

Starting a 10-day swing through half a dozen cities, he planned to lunch with California's Gov. Edmund G. Brown. Then it was on to San Francisco for more sight-seeing and meetings with local citizenry.

Even as he was waiting to board the plane at National Airport, Kozlov continued his talks with U.S. officials. His discussions during a 2 1/2-day visit to the capital produced nothing new on the U.S.-Soviet standoff on the German crisis.

Kozlov told Asst. Secretary of State Livingston T. Merchant, who was seeing the Red visitor off, that both the Soviet Union and the United States have great natural resources and made his remark about there being nothing to fight about.

The silver-haired, 50-year-old Kremlin official was all smiles as he formally bade farewell to the people of Washington and started off on what he has jokingly called his "Communist infiltration" of the United States.

Kozlov's diplomatic pursuits wound up Thursday night with a big reception at the Soviet embassy. The sum total: Neither Americans nor Soviets bugged an inch on the Berlin crisis.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon had one more 15-minute private chat with the Communist visitor. "He is a master at being friendly," Nixon reported afterwards, "but that doesn't mean that there was progress."

Secretary of State Christian A. Herter gave a similar account of his hour-long meeting with Kozlov before flying to his Manchester, Mass., home for a holiday weekend.

"Certainly there was nothing too profitable in the conversation we had yesterday; nothing new in it," Herter said.

Showdown On Revenue Measure Due

AUSTIN (AP) — A showdown committee of Texas legislators began work today on a 180-million dollar compromise tax proposal that a similar group recommended in the first special session.

Failure of the joint conference committee to satisfy both houses means a third special session. However, the committee meeting today has 14 days to work out an agreement on 1960-61 taxes while the previous group had only five days. The session ends July 16.

The committee met for two hours this morning then scheduled another meeting at 2 p.m. One committee member said the group planned to continue its meetings throughout the July 4th weekend. He said that all members of the joint conference had agreed that no statements will be made for publication until a final decision is reached.

All sessions of the group are closed to the public. Both houses are in weekend recess today—the Senate until 11 a.m. and the House until 3 p.m. Monday.

The compromise job was handed the joint conference committee late yesterday after the House refused 107-5 to take the latest Senate version of a tax bill.

The senators noted a 111-million-dollar bill that passed the House Wednesday and substituted the compromise bill that the House refused 117-23 to accept just 10 minutes before the second session ended June 16.

The Senate action yesterday took about 26 minutes. Mechanics of getting the 392-page bill typed kept the Senate from acting on the measure until about 2:40 p.m.

The House bill sent the Senate raised 16 1/2 million by increasing motor vehicle taxes to 1.5 per cent, almost 41 million from new and revised taxes on cigarettes and tobacco products, 26 million from new and revised franchise taxes, and 4 1/2 million by increasing the liquor tax from $1.40 to $1.68 a gallon, 10 million from a new tax on bottle clubs and about 3 million in new taxes on pleasure boats and airplanes.

The bill the Senate returned to the House raises 13 1/2 million from a one per cent increase in gas production taxes, 16 1/2 million by increasing motor vehicle sales taxes, 86 1/2 million from a three cent hike in the cigarette tax plus new taxes on other tobacco products, 34 1/2 million from new and revised franchise taxes, 4 1/2 million liquor tax increase, about 3 million from a new tax on boats, 7 million from a new sales tax on radio and television parts and components, and 9 million by increasing the auto driver's license fee from $2 to $4.

After the speedy action on the tax bill the Senate continued work on a bill letting state colleges charge $30 a semester for health care, intramurals, and other student activities in addition to the $50 a semester tuition fee. No final action was taken.

The House Tax Committee met after adjournment to pass out another general tax measure that may or may not see floor debate. It would produce 154 1/2 million dollars from a 1/4 to 1 per cent gross receipts tax on manufacturers, a 1 per cent gas production tax and a 2 per cent sales tax on all items over $50.

Water Business Goes To Pieces

Water consumption in the city Thursday dipped to less than half of the amount used on the same day in 1958.

Thursday, the filter plant reported, 3,461,000 gallons. Last year, the total was 8,395,000 gallons.

New Auto Insurance Rates Due Aug. 1

AUSTIN (AP)—Auto insurance rate cuts that will save an "average" Texas car owner $20 a year will go into effect on new and renewal policies Aug. 1.

Chairman Penn J. Jackson of the State Board of Insurance announced the rate cuts yesterday. Statewide, the reductions are expected to total about 22 million dollars from an estimated annual premium volume of 266 million. Most of this comes from decreased expense (such as commissions) rather than from a reduction in accidents.

The board's projected merit rating for private passenger automobiles will be superimposed over the new schedule, Jackson said. This proposed plan is designed to give lower rates on liability insurance to accident-free drivers, higher rates for those with accident records.

Jackson said that while liability rates will drop under yesterday's order, the larger reductions will come in the physical damage lines: fire, theft, comprehensive and collision insurance.

Comprehensive insurance rates—covering all damage to automobiles except that caused by collision or upset—will drop 15 per cent in the belt of counties adjoining the Gulf Coast, including Jefferson (Beaumont, Port Arthur), Harris (Houston), Galveston and Nueces (Corpus Christi).

The central counties will get reductions of 14 per cent in this coverage. In the extreme western, northwestern and Panhandle counties the comprehensive reductions will be 10 per cent.

Jackson said that this is the first time that comprehensive experience has shown any improvement in recent years. He said that windshield damage continues as a problem and is not likely to diminish since most of the new cars have curved windshields and even larger glass areas than older models.

Rates for $50 deductible collision insurance will drop 14 1/2 per cent in Harris County, 14 in Dallas, Orange, Lubbock, Taylor, Cameron and Wichita counties; 15 in Bexar, Potter and Randall, Travis and McLennan counties; and 16 in Tarrant, El Paso, Nueces, Grayson and Gregg counties.

In other parts of the state cuts will range from 10 to 15 per cent. Private passenger car liability rate reductions will range from $1 to $6 per car in Harris County, $1 to $4 per car in Dallas County, $2 to $6 per car in Bexar County, 2 to $5 in Tarrant County and approximately the same reduction in most other areas, with the exception of Webb and Galveston counties where the new rates will be somewhat higher than at present.

Fireworks Ban Pushed By Police

The police department turned out in force Thursday answering complaints about fireworks. Six calls were made and persons with fireworks were warned about regulations.

Calls were made to West Sixth and San Jacinto, the 1000 block of Stadium, the 1900 block of East 19th, the 900 block of North Curry, 18th and Virginia, and Third and Birdwell.

Officers said citations would be issued where necessary to control the use of fireworks during the holidays.

State laws prohibit the use of fireworks near schools, churches and hospitals. It is also unlawful to fire the explosives near where they are sold. Sale of fireworks is prohibited after midnight July 4.

Arrests Bring Out Story Of High Finance

CHICAGO (AP)—A story of international high finance was unfolded by the FBI in the wake of the arrest of three men in connection with the theft of $4 million dollars in Canadian bonds. The FBI said the theft of the biggest burglary in the world. The bonds, plus cash and jewelry, were taken May 3, 1958, from the Brockville Trust and Savings Co., Brockville, Ont., by a gang of safecrackers using blowtorches. The FBI said men seized Thursday all were involved in attempts to dispose of part of the loot. One of their schemes, said U.S. Asst. Atty. James B. Parsons, was to try to purchase a European bank as a clearing house.

Arrested were three Americans—among five persons named in a suppressed indictment returned by a federal grand jury here June 30. The other two are Canadians still at large. Captured were Sam Mannarino, 53, New Kensington, Pa.; Norman Rothman, 44, Suedde, Fla., who is under indictment in Pittsburgh for running guns to Cuba; and William Rabin, 52, Chicago. Mannarino was arraigned in Pittsburgh before U.S. Commissioner Alex McNaughton and freed on $5,000 bond.

Rabin, a business consultant, was free on bond at the time of his arrest in Miami on earlier charges he received $98,000 in stolen bonds.

Still being sought are Rene Robert and Giuseppe Cotroni, both of Montreal. Three other men had been seized last year in connection with the bonds.

The indictment charges that Rabin put up as security more than $138,000 worth of Canadian bonds at a Chicago bank in September and October 1958. It further charged him with fraud by wire in pledging $140,000 in stolen bonds to a Swiss bank.

Rabin has denied any knowledge the bonds were stolen. The break in the case came, Parsons said, when a Swiss bank learned the bonds were stolen and notified police, who tipped the FBI.

Canadian police have located some of the bonds, Parsons said, and a man he named as René J. Martin has been sentenced to 12 years in jail in connection with the actual burglary.

Gov. Daniel Pleads For Highway Safety

(Editor's note: The following is a personal plea from Gov. Price Daniel in an effort to reduce highway slaughter on the Fourth of July weekend.)

AUSTIN (AP)—All over Texas, people are waiting.

This is the eve of the Fourth of July. A holiday weekend in which it is predicted that 26 persons will be killed and 1,300 injured on Texas streets and highways.

The official holiday is 72 hours long, from 12:01 a. m. Friday to 11:59 p. m. Sunday.

Millions of Texans are planning weekend holiday trips to thousands of Texas resorts and pleasure spots. Hundreds of thousands of vehicles will jam the highways.

But all over Texas, thousands of other Texans are just waiting.

They are waiting at telephone exchanges; they are waiting at police dispatchers' microphones; they are waiting at hospital receiving desks. Hundreds of telephone operators, hundreds of police dispatchers, hundreds of hospital clerks—just waiting.

Other Texans are waiting, too. They include hundreds of Texas Highway Patrol officers, scores of sheriffs and their deputies, thousands of policemen in more than 2,500 Texas towns and cities—just waiting, but with special worry on this first big summer holiday weekend.

They won't have much sleep, they won't be taking their families anywhere during the holidays; they'll just be—waiting.

They do not wait alone.

In hundreds of offices over Texas, still others maintain a like vigil. They are the ambulance drivers, the mortuary attendants, the firemen, the special rescue squad personnel, the Red Cross and other first aid experts, the volunteers who always turn up in time of emergency to help their fellow-men.

And across a thousand Texas towns, a thousand or more garage-men who man the wreckers will be waiting, too.

Remember: The Fourth of July is a time to celebrate Life, Liberty and Freedom, but it will be turned into Death, Destruction and Sorrow if Texas drivers do not slow down, drive carefully, and obey the law. —GOV. PRICE DANIEL

There are just others who wait.

In hundreds of hospitals and clinics, nurses and internes stand by, while thousands of doctors assume that their holiday will be interrupted—and they await the emergency call that moves them on swift errands of mercy or to certify that it is too late for them to help.

And there are still other hundreds—just waiting.

These are the people who will tell the story: reporters, rewrite men, editors, news directors, announcers; those who know no holiday, those on whom you depend for the latest information; your newspaper, radio and TV friends.

And all these waiting Texans wait for what?

For the drivers of Texas to decide on the identity of the 26 Texans whose deaths are officially forecast and on the identity of the 1,300 others whose injuries are predicted as the ghastly penalty for the speeding, the drunken driving, the carelessness, the recklessness, the disobedience of the traffic laws which nearly always feature our Texas holidays and which nearly always turn those forecasts into deadly reality.

You, Mr. Texas Driver, can leave all these thousands of Texans waiting—and they'll be glad to remain at their posts, waiting!—if only you will drive safely, drive legally, drive courteously, this Fourth of July.

Thousands of other Texans will be waiting for the safe return of their families and loved ones. They are the ones who should not be kept waiting.

Remember: The Fourth of July is a time to celebrate Life, Liberty and Freedom, but it will be turned into Death, Destruction and Sorrow if Texas drivers do not slow down, drive carefully, and obey the law. —GOV. PRICE DANIEL

DEAR ABBY QUESTIONS FIRST!

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am a widower who is marrying a widow as soon as we can agree on a date. I have enough money to live very comfortably and I know she has, too. We each have children and grandchildren by our former mates. My lawyer suggested I have her sign papers stating that if I die first I will provide generously for her—but my own children will inherit my money. I am willing to sign a statement stating if she dies first, she can leave everything she has to her own children. Will I insult her if I make this request?

DEAR ABBY: A couple in town invited two other couples to dinner and the theatre on a Dutch-treat basis. He is an executive with a very large and well-known business firm. The "host" and "hostess" charged all the dinners to his company (as a "business expense" I presume) and we learned later that they got the theatre tickets the same way. Then they collected from their "guests" in full. This trick was performed by people who want to assume leadership in our community. How do we show our disapproval and how cheap is cheap? TAKEN

DEAR ABBY: If you have been "taken" you can show your disapproval by having nothing more to do with these people. Nobody knows how cheap cheap is, but sometimes it's pretty expensive.

DEAR ABBY: What has become of the machine permanent wave? I have paid all sorts of high prices for permanent waves and they are no good—any of them—for fine hair. After one shampoo, the wave is gone. Could you advise me, please? DISGUSTED

DEAR DISGUSTED: Occasionally an old-fashioned permanent wave machine can be seen gathering dust in the back room of a modern beauty parlor. Ask the manager if there is anyone who is old enough to remember how to operate it.

Mrs. Klumpp Must Die For Murder

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)—Unless higher courts or the governor intervene, Edythe Margaret Klumpp, 41, must die in Ohio's electric chair for the slaying of Louise Bergen.

Mrs. Klumpp stared stony-faced as the jury of six men and six women filed in Thursday night. She never changed expression as, four minutes later, the clerk read the verdict of guilty of first-degree murder.

Mrs. Klumpp continued to stare downward as the jurors were polled. Two or three women members of the jury appeared to be near tears as they confirmed their decision. The jury had had the case since Wednesday afternoon and had deliberated approximately 13 hours.

When the 3 1/2-week trial was adjourned, Mrs. Klumpp told Bailiff William Wiggertingloh, "Let's get out of here." She was hustled off to her cell.

Mrs. Klumpp, twice divorced and mother of four, was convicted of shooting and beating Mrs. Bergen, 32, to death last Oct. 30. She and Mrs. Bergen's estranged husband William, 30, had been living together for several months. Mrs. Klumpp admitted burning Mrs. Bergen's body at Lake Cowan the following day.

The state claimed Mrs. Klumpp feared Bergen intended to return to his wife and that Mrs. Klumpp needed his financial aid to get a loan on her home to prevent it from being sold at public auction.

Mrs. Klumpp contended the shooting in her car on a secluded park street was accidental. She testified Mrs. Bergen was pointing the gun at her and that it discharged as they fought for it.

Thirty-eight witnesses testified—Mrs. Klumpp herself for nine hours spread over three days. Mrs. Klumpp's divorced husband Robert Klumpp and Bergen were state witnesses.

Electric Brains Damaged As Fire Burns In Pentagon

WASHINGTON (AP)—Electric brain machines that cost millions of dollars bore the brunt of the damage as a four-hour fire disrupted normal activities in the Pentagon.

The fire burned out the heart of the 400-square-foot Air Force statistical center Thursday but was limited to that area of the huge building, the nerve center of the U.S. armed forces.

Key personnel remained on duty, but most of the 30,000 military and civilian employees were sent home when the blaze affected electrical and water supplies. They will return Monday.

In the windowless, ground-level area where the fire burned, the computing machines stood today like the hulks of charred packing crates. Around them were shelves after shelf of film reels which had held about 7,000 rolls of magnetic tape—the "memory" devices for the expensive machines. They contained chiefly personnel data.

Some secret papers also were burned, but Pentagon officials said most if not all the lost data can be replaced.

Official estimates of damage will have to wait until after a thorough investigation.

The Washington Post estimated the loss at upward of 30 million dollars about $200,000 to the building and the remainder to the International Business Machines leased by the Air Force.

Dense smoke overcame about 40 firemen fighting the blaze. Nine needed hospital attention.

The cause of the fire still isn't known. There was speculation that it might have been touched off by defective electrical wiring.

Officials said the area affected through water and smoke damage and in fire-fighting operations to gain access to the blaze covered the equivalent of about four square city blocks. That is only a fraction of the Pentagon's—more than three million square feet of office space.

The fireproof construction of the building kept the flames from spreading to upper stories of the building.

Court Knocks Out Obscenity Law

PHILADELPHIA, Pa. (AP)—Pennsylvania's 20-year-old obscenity law has been declared unconstitutional by the State Supreme Court, thus leaving authorities powerless to combat movies and live performances they believe objectionable.

Police Ready For Slaughter On Highways

By The Associated Press

Traffic safety officials across the nation mustered all their strength and ingenuity today to keep motorists from killing themselves and others over the Fourth of July holiday weekend.

The National Safety Council predicted that 350 persons will die in traffic accidents during the 54-hour holiday period from 6 p.m. local time tonight to midnight Sunday.

The traffic death toll for the three-day July 4 weekend last year was 370.

State patrols prepared for a crushing volume of traffic.

In addition to swarms of patrol cars, plans called for the use of planes, electronic speed detection devices, "ghost" patrol cars strung along highways, roadblocks to watch out for tired or otherwise incapacitated drivers, and, in many instances, arrests instead of warnings for traffic law violations.

Civic and business organizations joined in to help stop the slaughter.

The Alabama Trucking Assn. planned to operate a 20-vehicle courtesy patrol on major highways during the weekend. The cars will carry signs reading "Safety Patrol, Courtesy, Alabama Council of Safety Supervisors." The council is a division of the trucking association.

American Legionnaires at 43 points of entry into Iowa will hand out "Slow down and live" pamphlets to motorists. The Iowa Outdoor Advertising Assn. posted 150 billboards listing speed limits and warning of patrol planes and radar enforcement.

The Atlanta Junior Chamber of Commerce will repeat last year's highway coffee break stands to slow down speeding motorists and wake up sleepy ones.

Connecticut, which boasts the nation's safest highways, adopted a new safety slogan and it's applicable all the time, not just this weekend. The slogan is "Drive safely—the car behind you may be a police car."

"Ghost" (unmanned) police cars will be waiting for the unwary driver on the New York State Thruway. Authorities feel the mere sight of a police car will cause speeders to slow down.

"Troubled with Irregularity"

Mrs. Oscar Potter, Morrow, Ohio, had been bothered with constipation due to lack of bulk. She writes:

"I had irregularity trouble for a long time. Finally I gave Kellogg's All-Bran a try to see if it would work. Believe me, it did!"

There's a good reason why Kellogg's All-Bran corrects irregularity caused by lack of bulk. It is a whole bran cereal—nature's best bulk-forming food. A half-cup of Kellogg's All-Bran with milk each day supplies all the food bulk needed for natural regularity.

Eat Kellogg's All-Bran for 10 days—see if it doesn't work for you, too.

2 Youngsters Die In Fireworks Blast

KALISPELL, Mont. (AP)—Two youngsters left by their parents to tend a fireworks stand were killed Thursday when a fire and explosion demolished the wooden structure.

The bodies of Linda Helseth, about 10, and Richard Street, about 13, were found inside the charred wreckage.

They were the nation's second and third victims of pre-Independence Day fireworks accidents. A 4-year-old Everett, Wash., girl died Monday of burns suffered when a sparkler set fire to her dress.

Coroner Sol Catron said one of the victims here apparently dropped a lighted firecracker among the fireworks.

New Chemical Is Good For Plants

Faster emergence of your favorite seeds and larger blooms are but two of the season-round results from the use of the new plant growth stimulant - Gibrel - according to the latest research reports on the product.

These research finds show three major benefits for plants: It stimulates tip growth in cases where growth has been held back by an adverse growing season; it increases the number of blooms or fruits by causing buds which ordinarily lie dormant to develop, and it induces seeds and seedlings to emerge more rapidly and stimulates dormant seeds to sprout.

Not all plants are responsive. And, responsive plants have certain periods when the application of Gibrel is more beneficial than others.

Mrs. Burnett Speaker For Spaders Thursday

The planting and care of iris formed the study of the Spaders Garden Club Thursday morning at the home of Mrs. F. D. Williams, with Mrs. Earl Burnett as speaker.

Mrs. Burnett told her listeners how the plants are especially well-adapted to growing in West Texas. Now is the time to divide clumps of the rhizomes, she said, and gave directions for planting.

Recommending that the rhizome be placed on a mound with roots spread over it, Mrs. Burnett warned against covering the crown of the plant, since too deep planting prevents blooming. Bone meal should be added to the soil in the planting, she stated.

Foliage should be cut in a fan-shape in the re-setting of the rhizomes, but unless they are moved, the trimming is unnecessary.

Mrs. Williams, as program chairman, reported that tentative yearbook plans call for the development of programs based on the beautification of home and city.

Mrs. Kyle Cauble, chairman of the fall flower show, reported a tentative date of Oct. 29 for the exhibit and also told of the enlistment project of the club.

In telling of the garden council activities, Mrs. Dave Dorchester spoke of the planned organization of two new garden clubs in the Capehart Housing Addition. She also reported the possibility of a new club in Coahoma.

The group was invited to meet for the next session, slated for Aug. 6, at the Lake Thomas cabin of the W. D. Caldwell for a picnic at which families will be guests.

Sixteen were present for the meeting.

carat blue Hope diamond to a lighted niche in the Smithsonian Institution is but a sign-post on the path toward a new function for historic and out-size gems.

Whereabouts of many famed gems are unknown, but it is hard to name more than two famous diamonds which might still be considered "working stones," owned and worn by private citizens. One is the 54-carat Sancy, once property of Elizabeth I of England, and now in the tiara of Virginia-born Lady Astor. The other is the Nassak, a 43-carat stone which turned up in a Hindu temple in India and now the property of Mrs. William B. Leeds, wife of a New York millionaire.

Experts know that the Soviet Union has a fabulous gem collection—but how large and exactly what it contains is pretty much of a mystery. Certain famous stones, like the Orloff diamond, are known to be in it.

King Farouk, a gem collector, managed to take some stones with him on his speedy departure from the throne, but the Egyptian government hung on to the prize of his collection: the 125-carat Jonker.

At the time of the French Revolution, the royal treasury was robbed of many famous, important jewels. Most were never recovered, and for years this or that stone, turning up with a new cutting, has been rumored to have been originally part of the royal loot. However, the Louvre sports an impressive gem collection including notably the Regent, a 140-carat stone considered one of the finest diamonds in the world.

Great Britain, of course, has the biggest, best known and most popular collection of state jewels on earth. They are on view at the Tower of London and seen by almost half a million persons a year. Included in the collection are the huge stones cut from the Cullinan, the largest diamond ever found, and the ancient Koh-i-noor.

In the less sparkling world of stones with few carats, more women than ever are wearing diamonds. One survey recently indicated that 85 per cent of all brides today sport diamond engagement rings—and that 11 per cent of all engagement rings sold are for women who have been married for 10 or more years.

With more and more precious stone wearers in the country, who are the ones interested in the big, famous and historic gems? "They are a constantly changing group," said one student of

They Lead Model Lives

By DOROTHY ROE
AP Women's Editor

Meet two of New York's most famous models, Leonora and Lorell Leiss. They're not sisters — they're mother and daughter.

Both make their living modeling some of the world's most fabulous evening gowns, in the plush showroom of Cell Chapman, who outfits glamor girls of stage, screen and television as well as the general public.

Leonora has been modeling for Miss Chapman for 15 years. Lorell has been at it for five. Says the model mom:

"I guess Lorell just naturally grew into her job. When she was a little girl she used to come into the showroom, and Miss Chapman would say to her: 'Are you going to be a model when you grow up?' Lorell always said yes — and she meant it."

Lorell started modeling when she was 15, and continued during summer vacations from the University of Miami. Now she's working full-time, and is engaged to Buddy Morgan, an engineer.

Mother and daughter are almost exactly the same size — 35-23 1/2-35. Leonora is 5-feet-9 1/2 in heels. Lorell is one inch taller. Some buyers take them for sisters, and some rub their eyes and think they are seeing double.

WEAVER TRIES TOMMY HUTTO

R. H. Weaver and James Lee Underwood are slightly favored to reach the finals of the annual Fourth of July Golf tournament, which will be resumed at the Big Spring Country Club tomorrow and continued through Sunday.

Weaver, the defending champion, takes on rough and ready Tom Hutto over 18 holes Saturday while Underwood, two-times former titlist, challenges R. S. (Red) McCullah.

Weaver has had no easy time of it in either of the matches he has played to date. Gil Jones had him on the ropes in his first match but Hutto, employing a masterful putting touch, rallied to win 1 up.

In his quarterfinal test, Weaver manhandled Bill Cheek, 1 up, but only after a terrific fight.

Hutto has taken out two toughies on his way to the finals and could be ready to make his most serious bid for the championship. He's capable of playing some fine golf.

He beat Jack Cook in his opening match, 1 up, and then felled W. E. Ramsey last Sunday, 2-1.

Underwood, who beat Weaver in the finals of both the 1956 and '57 tournaments, bruised past the tournament medalist, Frog Koger, 2-1, and then sidelined Son Powell in the quarterfinals, 3 and 2.

Accident May Have Helped Deaf Boy

GARDEN GROVE, Calif. (AP) — Two months ago 4-year-old J. Byron Patterson dashed into the street, was hit by a car and dragged 44 feet.

A leg and ribs were broken. He underwent four-hour brain surgery for multiple head injuries.

Yet his mother says: "For his sake, it's the best thing that has ever happened."

Since the accident the boy, almost deaf since birth, has begun to hear.

Now the tinkle of the ice cream vendor's bell, the slam of the car door when his father returns from work, his mother's voice all have become part of his small world.

J. Byron—the J doesn't stand for anything, and he's called "J.B."—is a handsome, healthy-looking youngster who gets his kicks these days out of trying to understand the words family members speak to him.

He wore a hearing aid before the accident. But it didn't help much. He couldn't hear well enough to learn to talk.

"It was in the hospital that we first noticed he was regaining his hearing," says his mother Dorothy. "I took him a picture of the

New Honor For Grandpa

Alice Spaulding Taylor, 15-months-old, reaches for insignia on the uniform of her grandfather, Gen. Maxwell Taylor, at the White House after a ceremony in which the retiring chief of staff was awarded the Distinguished Service Medal by President Eisenhower. Alice is held by John Taylor, the general's son. Ribbons denote earlier awards.

Lubbock Beauty Expert Buries Bracero Axe

LUBBOCK (AP)—The head of a beauty salon apologized yesterday for refusing to serve two women employees of the Mexican Consulate.

Mrs. Jessie Lee Sharply, head of the Hair Design Institute of Lubbock, said it won't happen again.

The incident caused the Mexican Government to blacklist the Lubbock area for braceros.

Mrs. Sharply wrote Miss Cecilia Molina of the Mexican Consulate at Lubbock:

"In the interest of maintaining cordial international relations between the United States and Mexico, we wish to express regret that staff members of the Consulate of Mexico in the City of Lubbock were informed by telephone that they could not be served here."

"You may be assured that we have given instructions to our employees so that incidents of this nature do not happen again."

"I can assure you that it will be the policy of this beauty salon not to establish any difference whatsoever in dealing with our customers for reason of nationality or racial ancestry."

"We are sorry that a misunderstanding has arisen in this matter and I can assure you that we are always happy to promote good understanding and friendship with the people of our neighboring country."

City Manager H. P. Clifton of Lubbock delivered the letter.

The Mexican Foreign Office said no Mexican farm laborers will be allowed in the Lubbock area as a result of the incident. Current bracero contracts were not affected.

2 Shows Do Little To Help Lift Summer Entertainment

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

NEW YORK (AP)—A pair of new NBC shows flicked onto television's summer screen last night, neither one making much of a splash.

Twenty-one Beacon Street is part of the new trend to crime-adventure shows, which seemed slightly reminiscent of both Peter Gunn and 77 Sunset Strip.

The private eye hero—Dennis Morgan—is terribly civilized, urbane, well tailored, and so respectable that the police address him as "Mr. Chase." The girl, Joanna Barnes, is pretty, and there is a lot of scientific information about fake gelatin bullets, sodium pentathol and a very interesting lesson on how to simulate being wounded by a .38 at close range.

This first show of the series was low key and, alas, rather dull.

Who Pays? a very busy and muddled little panel show, is another one of these converted parlor games—one hopes perhaps the last—to be removed from its natural habitat.

Pastor To Pray At Liquor Openings

EDMOND, Okla. (AP)—Dr. M. E. Ramey, pastor of the First Baptist Church here, says he will personally offer a prayer at each opening of a liquor store in Edmond that the store be closed immediately.

Oklahoma voters repealed 51 years of prohibition in April and sales are expected to start about Sept. 1.

The Baptist minister said he will offer this prayer outside the door of every liquor store on opening day: "We pray that this business will have to close before it ever gets started. If the operator does not choose to close it, Lord, will you please see that it is closed any way you will!"
