Addison Aides Seek To Deter Injunction

DALLAS (AP)—Attorneys for John Milton Addison asserted today that his promotion of cash for a uranium process does not place him under federal securities acts. They sought to stave off a permanent injunction against his borrowing money to promote a uranium purifying machine...

Grand Jury in San Antonio has returned a series of indictments charging theft of over $50 against Addison and John Nance of Denver. Addison is free under $40,000 bond on the state charges. He also faces an assessment of $124,485.24 from the Internal Revenue Service...

Georgia Prison Hunger Strike Loses Steam

REIDSVILLE, Ga. (AP)—Officials reported that hunger strikers at the Reidsville State Prison dwindled to a mere 250 today and that they are being transferred elsewhere. A spokesman for the State Department of Corrections in Atlanta said that as many as 140 are being removed to the maximum security rock quarry prison at Buford, a distance of some 200 miles...

HERE'S THE BALLOT
... "Yes" Or "No" Decision

Daniel Comment Expected Today

AUSTIN (AP)—Lt. Gov. Ben Ramsey announced the Senate would take up the $11,588,000 budget-balancing tax bill today. "We will get it as quick as we can," Ramsey said as the Senate opened its session. The bill has been printed and members of the Legislature are waiting for it to be assembled and distributed...

Market Bureau Defends U. S. Meat Grading

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agricultural Marketing Service has stepped forward with a defense of federal grading of meat—now under attack in some sections of the livestock and meat industry. The Agriculture Department has under consideration a proposal to end federal grading of lamb and sheep carcasses Sept. 1. This proposal has been advanced by some producer and processor groups...

VOTE SATURDAY Ackerly's City Election Slated

ACKERLY (SC)—All is in readiness for Saturday's first mayor-alderman election here. The city was only recently incorporated and the election will be for more than 30 hours without reaching a verdict. U.S. District Judge Burnita S. Matthews discharged the jury from further deliberations after receiving a note from the foreman, Robert A. Burner, in which he said the jury stood 11-1...

Jury In Conspiracy Case Is Dismissed

U.S. District Judge Burnita S. Matthews discharged the jury from further deliberations after receiving a note from the foreman, Robert A. Burner, in which he said the jury stood 11-1...

Answer To Big Spring Housing Issue Comes In Saturday Vote

WHERE TO VOTE: Central Fire Station, 8 a.m. to 7 p.m. WHO CAN VOTE: Qualified voters (with poll tax receipt) who reside within the corporate limits of Big Spring. What's the opinion of Big Spring's citizens on Public Housing for Big Spring? The answer comes Saturday, when voters go to the polls to say "yes" or "no" to a proposition for low-rent housing. The verdict will be a guide to the City Commission, which has the authority to arrange for agreements for creation of a Public Housing Authority...

Radford To Tell Of 'Influences'

WASHINGTON (AP)—House investigators ask Adm. Arthur W. Radford today just when he had in mind when he said interservice rows were encouraged from outside the Pentagon. Radford is a former chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff who was recalled into part time government service as a defense consultant. He faces questioning by a House subcommittee investigating alleged influences and pressures in weapons buying.

Swimming Class Enrollment Will Open On Saturday

Registration for the third session of the YMCA swimming program will begin at 9 a.m. Saturday, July 11, at the YMCA building. This session will begin July 20 and last through July 30. Registration closes at 5:30 p.m., July 17. Instruction will be offered to beginners, intermediate and advanced swimmers. The fee is a dollar. Bobo Hardy, YMCA secretary, said adult beginning swimmers are also encouraged to take the course. Fee is a dollar for YMCA members and $5 for non-members...

36th Division Review Slated

NORTH FT. HOOD (AP)—The 36th Infantry Division of the Texas National Guard, returned to cantonment areas yesterday and started preparing for today's review. The review was the first in honor of Maj. Gen. Carl Phinney of Dallas, the commander, since the division was reorganized last March. The two weeks summer training ends.

San Antonio Prisoners Riot

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—Screaming, stomping prisoners staged two uprisings at Bexar County jail in a demand for the return of their leaders yesterday. The leaders—trustees who serve as "floor men" or intermediaries between prisoners and jail guards—were relieved of their duties Tuesday on recommendation of a federal jail inspector. In the two tin-cup rattling demonstrations, fourth and fifth-floor male prisoners made known their demands for the return of the "floor men," who help keep things under control and direct routine within the cellblocks. But their action was futile. Sheriff Owen Kilday said he wouldn't recommend return of the floor men. Furthermore, he ordered six demonstration ringleaders to another floor.

Service Station Hit By Burglars

About $10 in merchandise was taken in a service station burglary east of here during the night. Sheriff's deputies investigated the break-in at the Sinclair Service Station six miles east of Big Spring on U. S. 80. The station is owned by Bob Asbury. Officers said that aspirin, cigarette lighter fluid, razor blades, cigarette papers, and other items of merchandise were taken. Entry was gained through the front door. Deputy Jack Hackney reported.

Eight Enroll Driver School

There were eight enrolled in the Driver Improvement School which met for the first time Thursday in the classroom of the police building. Jimmy Martin, Nalley-Pickle Funeral Home, conducted the first lesson. James Eubanks, executive secretary of the Citizens Traffic Commission, said six of the enrollees had been assigned to the course by City Judge Grover Cunningham in lieu of fines for traffic violations. The other two were volunteer students. The school will meet each Thursday and the complete course runs five weeks. Bob Husson, police department patrolman, will conduct the next meeting.

Looked Natural

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—A purse containing $225 in cash and a $150 gold compact was stolen during a party at a Tucson home. Several guests said they saw a young man calmly rifling the purses but thought he was just a son of one of the party guests.

COPS GIVE STRIP COURSE, BUT IT'S IN NAME OF LAW

DETROIT (AP)—Thirty-four exotic dancers gathered at police headquarters Thursday for a post-graduate course on permissible stripping. The course, held at the Detroit Police Academy, attracted such nightclub entertainers as Blaze Fury, Reddi No No Sloan and Senorita Yum Yum. Presiding over the course was Inspector Melville Bullach, head of the Police Censor Bureau. Bullach instructed the girls how to strip in Detroit and stay out of jail. A majority of the city's striptease colony turned out. Bullach warned the showgirls that while sex can be displayed in Detroit night clubs "it can't be used to incite a riot." "I want to see your feet moving," the gray-haired inspector said and gave a demonstration of bumps and grinds which he says are taboo in Detroit. The girls laughed at the inspector's technique. "He was great," said Miss Sloan. Others said Bullach's shams were good but that he really didn't put himself into the bumps and grinds. Bullach explained the course was part of a campaign to prevent the city from becoming a wide-open town.

Hoffa Due Hearing On Racial Issue

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate rackets probe seeks more information today about James R. Hoffa's alleged threat that "it might not be healthy" for Negro truck drivers to haul freight into Detroit. Hoffa, international president of the Teamsters Union, many times has denounced racial discrimination. He has declared his union would have none of it. The committee said it was calling a Negro truck driver to tell of his experiences with a race-color line Hoffa allegedly has drawn around the territory of his Detroit home union Local 299.

Horse-Trading Signs Develop In Steel Contract Bargaining

NEW YORK (AP)—Signs of horse-trading developed in steel contract talks today. Negotiating activity picked up as time grew closer to a threatened industry walkout at midnight Tuesday. The industry and union bargaining teams, which met only briefly Thursday, then recessed to re-examine their positions, repeated the process today. After a brief joint session this morning, the management and union representatives split up with a statement saying "The parties have recessed temporarily to gather additional information needed when conferences resume." A further meeting sometime today was definitely planned but the time was uncertain. The stated admission that "data" was being exchanged could cover many possibilities. It left an encouraging impression. But there was no word the industry had made any wage increase offer. "I don't feel any change in my pulse beat one way or the other," was the way R. Conrad Cooper put it when asked by newsmen what the prospects were. Cooper is executive vice president of U.S. Steel Corp. and the leader of the industry's fight against higher pay demands. Cooper and the industry's bargaining team resumed direct talks this morning with a similar four-man steelworkers union team headed by union President David J. McDonald. Cooper declined to say whether the industry plans to start banking furnaces and tapering off production this weekend in preparation for a strike. But neither side expressed any settlement hopes. Direct bargaining was recessed most of Thursday to let both sides huddle separately to reassess their positions. McDonald announced this morning he has summoned the union's 33-man executive board and 171-man wage policy committee to meetings here Monday. McDonald declined to attach any significance to the meetings, saying he merely wants to bring fellow union officials "up to date on developments, if any." This morning's session lasted only an hour before it broke up with the following joint statement: "The parties have been exchanging data and have recessed temporarily to gather additional information needed when conferences resume probably this afternoon." It was explained another meeting later today is definitely planned but no time had yet been set for it. The union was reliably reported to be banking on a sudden industry offer, or a departure on the part of one or more major steel companies from the solid industry front, to break the negotiating stalemate. The companies have persisted in maintaining that any new steel labor cost increase would touch off a new wage-price spiral. The union claims the industry can afford higher wages and other concessions. Workers presently average $3.10 per hour earnings. Formal negotiations lasted only an hour Thursday, recessing to today to let both sides huddle separately to review their positions. The union was reported to have shaved down its demands to a rock-bottom basis. From both union and industry sources came informal estimates that a 10-cent-an-hour raise in wages and benefits, on a probable two-year basis, could settle the dispute. They are the Consolidated Western Division of U.S. Steel Corp. in San Francisco and Kaiser Steel Co.'s fabricating plant at Napa, Calif. The range of negotiated pay boosts was reported at 9 to 12 cents, plus other benefits. Neither side in the negotiations here would comment as to what effect the California developments would have on the negotiations here.

House To Vote On Beach Issue

AUSTIN (AP)—The House gets a final vote today on a bill setting aside Texas beaches on the Gulf for public use and enjoyment. The measure, tentatively approved yesterday after long arguments, returns to the Senate in a form far different from the bill approved by senators last week. The key vote yesterday was the 74-60 adoption of a substitute bill offered by Rep. Bob Eckhardt, Houston, over another substitute offered by Rep. Sam Bass, Freeport. Eckhardt's bill is similar to a measure that passed the House during the first special session but died in the Senate. Bass' bill was similar to the measure approved by the Senate. The Eckhardt substitute says the beach from the water line to the edge of vegetation should be protected from fences and other obstructions because it is a safety zone for emergency public use. It recognizes the public's right to full, free use of the beach on the grounds of "time-honored usage of the shore." The bill lets the State Highway Commission control traffic on the beaches and protect them from littering, as in roadside parks. Certain areas may be designated as safety and park areas where no traffic is allowed. Remote beaches not accessible to the public by public roads or ferry may be fenced for cattle grazing under special permits. A legislative study committee is authorized to study development of the entire coast, including possible development of national seashore areas.

Shoplifters Busy Druggist Reports

Shoplifters were reported at Elliott's Drugstore about 4:30 p.m. Thursday. They had left the store before officers arrived and clerks said the merchandise was recovered. The shoplifters were identified as four men. Mrs. F. J. Froman, 1110 Runnels, reported a stolen camera from her home. Police said the four boys arrested earlier in the week for burglary of the same house probably also took the camera. The camera has been located at a pawn shop.

DEAR ABBY

BE POLITE BUT FIRM

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: What can be done about telephone soliciting? I get so annoyed when I must run to the telephone in the midst of bathing the baby. Or am awakened from a much-needed nap to hear someone tell of a special offer the cleaners or photographers are having. I have always given a polite reply, but have been tempted to tell them off. If I removed the receiver from the hook, I'd risk throwing my line out of order. Then, too, I might miss an important call. I have considered complaining to the Telephone Company. Is there a solution?

MRS. S. DEAR MRS. S. The next time you are annoyed in this way, tell the party calling you did not appreciate being disturbed. When

Don't Have To Hate Skunks To Keep 'Em Off Your Farm

LOS ANGELES (AP) — "We have nothing against skunks; we just don't want them in our neighborhood."

So spoke Wanita Brewer as she rejected as too cruel a skunk trap offered by the city Thursday. Problem of the exclusive Eagle Rock neighborhood in north Los Angeles: five of the little black and white critters. They've settled in Mrs. Brewer's garage.

A garden hose was no help—when they were squirted with it the skunks deserted the driveway for the garage, good-naturedly.

The Chamber of Commerce was no help. It advised calling the police, who advised calling the humane society. An inspector said:

"If I shoot one, lady, the others will surely raise a—uh—scene." So—that's where things stand.

28 To Graduate At White Schools

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—Twenty-eight seniors graduate from Baptist High School tonight in the last commencement of the year for Little Rock's private schools.

The graduates were among the 3,700 students displaced when Gov. Orval E. Faubus shut the city's four public high schools last September to avoid integration.

Three all-white private high schools were established in October. They took care of about 1,100 students. No private schools were set up for Negroes.

The remaining 2,600 displaced students sought schooling elsewhere.

merchants realize that they are defeating their purpose and building it will, they will discontinue this annoying practice.

DEAR ABBY: This fellow I have been going steady with for three months won't take NO for an answer. He is always wanting to make out. I told him from the start that I have to be careful of my reputation. He said he wouldn't talk. But he has told me about some other girls he made out with. What do you do with a boy who tries to get a girl to break down?

DEAR JANEY: Break up!

DEAR ABBY: Will you please give me your opinion of how a housewife should dress around the house? It is nothing for me to come home and find my wife in the kitchen, cooking supper, wearing a backless, strapless and almost frontless dress that she wore dancing the previous night. Or, a lace sheath with chiffon streamers and a rhinestone choker and long earrings. I'd like to find my wife looking like a real housewife, not like a burlesque queen. I can't tell her—will you?

TALKED OUT DEAR TALKED: If you have told her—she "knows" what she should wear around the house, but doesn't care. Surprise her with some cute cotton cottage aprons or housedresses. If this fails, just thank heavens she is in the kitchen cooking when you come home.

DEAR ABBY: My husband is the athletic type which I like. He plays basketball, baseball and football on the average of three times a week during each season. I wouldn't mind if he'd come right home afterwards. But if his team loses, all the boys go out to drown their sorrows. If they win, they have a few beers to celebrate. Most of the guys are married, but they all act like they're single. I used to go with my husband but with a small baby it isn't easy now. Any suggestions?

ATHLETE'S WIFE DEAR WIFE: It's not "easy" to leave a baby—but sometimes necessary. Get a friend, a relative or a sitter and join your husband. He'll soon get out of the habit of a beer bust after each game.

CONFIDENTIAL TO COLLEGE GRAD: You've been through college, but has college been through you? There is a lot of knowledge that isn't learned in college.

Powder Puff Winner Likes Ladies In Air

SPOKANE, Wash. (AP) — "Women would probably feel a lot more relaxed if they got out of the kitchen once in awhile and up into the air."

That's the opinion of Aileen Saunders, pretty pilot winner of the 1959 Powder Puff Derby—the transcontinental air race for women.

"Flying gets to be second nature after awhile, like sweeping the floors or pinning baby's diaper," remarked the three-time derby veteran. "But even so it's a big thrill to be up there, always invigorating."

"I guess winning this race makes me about the happiest woman in the world. I'm just thrilled to death."

Mrs. Saunders, wife of a California building contractor, flew the 2,470 mile race in a Cessna 142 owned by her husband. She credits him for her victory.

"If it weren't for Walter (hubby) I probably wouldn't even know how to fly. I used to accompany him on business trips, finally four years ago he let me take the controls and now says I'm a better flyer than he is. He's only trying to tease me though."

Some 120 pilots and copilots flew the 13th annual derby in ships ranging from 85 to 300 horsepower.

"Naturally most contestants can't afford to pay for the all that gasoline and some have to rent planes," she said. "That's why we consider ourselves lucky to get a sponsor. Some husbands act as sponsors."

A West Coast equipment company footed Mrs. Saunders' gas bill and other incidental expenses. First prize money totaled $1,300. Winners were announced Thursday.

Mrs. Saunders who is 32, got married at 16. "Now I'm teaching my 15-year-old son to fly."

Derby officials said the Saunders' 145 h.p. ship flew at an average of 111.53 miles per hour. Placement ratings were computed on a handicap basis with capability and elapsed flying time taken into account.

Demo Official Criticizes Butler

TEMPLE (AP)—Texas Democratic National Committeeman Byron Skelton has lined up with Texas critics of Paul Butler, chairman of the Democratic National Committee.

Skelton declared yesterday Butler has outlived his usefulness.

He said Butler's criticism of Lyndon Johnson, Senate majority leader, and Sam Rayburn, speaker of the House, is "unjust, unnecessary and unrealistic." He added "The able statesmanship of these leaders of the Democratic party made possible and resulted in the overwhelming Democratic victories in last fall's elections. I am amazed that Paul Butler does not recognize this fact and give credit where credit is due."

Floods Kill 56

SEOUL, Korea (AP)—National police reported 56 dead and 7,000 homeless today in floods caused by a week of heavy rain. A special relief committee was set up by the cabinet.

The level of Han River, which cuts through the Seoul area, dropped somewhat but police guards were still posted along the banks. A U.S. Army spokesman said there has been no flood damage to American military installations.

Brush Fire Blackens California Hillside

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — A brush fire near the Rose Bowl blackened 100 hillside acres and threatened many fashionable homes before firemen controlled the blaze Thursday.

Deer, rabbits and other wildlife scurried across well-kept lawns as a score of firefighting companies from nearby communities fought the blaze in 102-degree heat. Three firemen were overcome by smoke.

Residents from about 30 homes were evacuated by firemen, but no structures were damaged. The flames came within 50 feet of some houses. Cause of the fire was not determined.

Von Braun Sees Dangerous Trap

HONOLULU (AP) — Wernher Von Braun, Army missile expert, says the United States "can fall into a dangerous trap" in the missile race with Russia "if we persist in looking back to see how fast the other fellow is running."

"It behooves us to run just as fast as we can and let him worry about keeping pace," Von Braun told a meeting Thursday night of the Assn. of the United States Army, an officer organization.

Von Braun said the United States was developing a really big booster rocket larger than "anything the Russians have shown us." He said he was not so sure the United States was behind the Russians in space technology.

ON PUBLIC HOUSING

Check the cost involved in a Public Housing Project (who knows how much?) against the results which are sought (this is NOT a program that will eliminate slum areas or tear down hovels, or automatically "clean up" full sections of the city) and you will find that Public Housing is not the approach for Big Spring at this time.

You cannot force people to move into quarters they don't want (this was tried with one housing project in Big Spring). You do not solve community social ills by merely providing subsidized rents; it is questionable whether people who would share in this subsidy would ever be encouraged to seek better.

There is no Santa Claus in this program. Construction and financing is taken care of by direct federal grant. Federal money is your money, too. And where federal money is spent, federal control is going to be evident. There will be many items of government "red tape" evident in the policies and operation of subsidized rentals.

It cannot be correct to say that no more taxes are involved in this project. Who knows? Utility services must be provided, paving must be done, the city and schools have obligations. If you think these come free, look at your own tax bills.

A good close look at all the complexities of this federally-sponsored program simply will show that here is a door open to more waste of public money; a door open to more community costs; a door open to a social change for some people who are not the ones representing the real problem in our community.

Glimmer Of Hope Over Berlin Talks

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. officials saw a glimmer of hope today that renewed Geneva talks will at last start removing the Berlin crisis as an explosive threat to world peace.

Christian A. Herter pointed to "some possibility" of reaching agreement with the Soviets Thursday in his first formal news conference as Secretary of State.

Herter said he has never been optimistic about successful negotiations with the Reds. But he pointed to a couple of unanswered questions in recent Soviet statements on the German question.

If the Soviets come up with the right answers when the foreign ministers resume their conference Monday, he indicated, then there will be progress instead of the deadlock that featured the first six weeks of the parley.

He said the questions are: 1. Whether Moscow is insisting that in case of a temporary agreement on West Berlin, the Allies forfeit their rights to the Communist-encircled city when the agreement lapses;

2. Whether Moscow is demanding a time limit on such an agreement.

Britain, France and the United States have denounced Soviet talk of deadlines as ultimatums or threats under which they could not negotiate. And they say West Berlin must remain free. The Communists are calling for an end to the Allies' postwar occupation of the city.

Herter flies to Geneva Saturday for the conference reopening after a three week recess. He told newsmen jokingly his feeling about returning to the parley "might be unprintable"—and he hopes not to stay beyond three weeks this time.

A final round of advice on how to deal with the Soviets was due today with the arrival in Washington of W. Averell Harriman, one-time Democratic presidential aspirant and a former ambassador to Moscow who recently toured the Soviet Union.

Harriman has already cabled the State Department that Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev talked tough to him in Moscow. He planned to report in person to Vice President Richard M. Nixon, Herter and the Senate Foreign Relations Committee during the day.

Herter smilingly faced a near-capacity crowd of 190 newsmen in the State Department auditorium. He fumbled a couple of questions during the 40-minute session, but came up with answers on a wide range of topics. Because of arthritis which makes it painful for him to stand for any long period, he sat on a tall stool instead of standing to answer questions.

He promised to hold news conferences more regularly when his duties permit since, as he put it, the secretary of state has the responsibility of informing the public on the issues for foreign policy. Most of his time since he succeeded John Foster Dulles April 22 has been spent at Geneva.

Herter caused some surprise by remarking at one point that he thought the Reds were truly searching for a solution at Geneva instead of just making propaganda. He told the nation when he first returned from Geneva that the Communists had shown no signs of wanting genuine negotiations.

Herter said that when the first round ended at Geneva June 20 the Allies had good reason to conclude that the Soviets were demanding a deadline of 12 to 18 months and forfeiture of Allied rights on Berlin. Khrushchev had just delivered a tough speech in Moscow.

But Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko backed away from this tough line in a June 28 statement, Herter said. He declared the Allies would look into this as soon as the Geneva talks reopen.

Previously the West proposed a subcommittee of 25 West Germans and 10 from the Communist East, because West Germany's population is more than three times that of the East.

In return for this concession, Western officials think the Soviets might agree to freeze the situation in Central Europe, including Berlin. But they are considerably less than optimistic.

"It all depends on whether Premier Khrushchev wants any kind of settlement at all," said a high placed Western official.

In addition to the freeze on the Berlin situation, the other key point in the plan is appointment of a Big Four commission to work

West Plan Would Put Berlin On Ice

GENEVA (AP) —The Western Allies are reported working up a new proposal to put the Berlin dispute on ice for several years and give the Soviet Union a summit conference in the fall.

The foreign ministers of the United States, Britain and France are expected to put the proposal to Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko soon after the Big Four conference resumes here Monday.

As outlined here, the plan contains only one change in previous Western proposals. East and West Germany would be given equal representation on a subcommittee to take preliminary steps toward reunification of Germany.

Previously the West proposed a subcommittee of 25 West Germans and 10 from the Communist East, because West Germany's population is more than three times that of the East.

In return for this concession, Western officials think the Soviets might agree to freeze the situation in Central Europe, including Berlin. But they are considerably less than optimistic.

"It all depends on whether Premier Khrushchev wants any kind of settlement at all," said a high placed Western official.

In addition to the freeze on the Berlin situation, the other key point in the plan is appointment of a Big Four commission to work on plans for reunification of Germany, the end of the Berlin occupation and a mutual security system in Central Europe.

The foreign ministers would get no deadline for the commission and the subcommittee to complete their work. That would be left for the heads of government at the summit conference.

At the end of the agreed period, another foreign ministers' meeting would be held to study the reports of the commission and the subcommittee.

"The virtue of the plan is that it would let both sides get out of the foreign ministers' conference without losing face," a Western source said.

Any proposal to put East and West Germans on a committee in equal numbers is certain to be looked on with disfavor by West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer. The Western Big Three are expected to tell Adenauer the subcommittee will have no powers and will merely report to the Big Four commission.

U. S. Secretary of State Christian A. Herter indicated this line at his news conference Thursday. He said he didn't feel the question of numbers "is an item of too great importance." He pointed out that the earlier Western proposal for a 25-10 ratio also provided for decisions by agreement of three-fourths of the members, in effect giving either side a veto.

"If agreement had to be reached," said Herter, "the numbers on each side are not of primary importance."

House Panel Eyes Gas Tax Increase

WASHINGTON (AP) — A possible gasoline tax increase is one of several ways studied today to keep work going on the national superhighway network in the years ahead.

An increase somewhat less than the 1½ cents a gallon President Eisenhower proposed still was an important part of several compromise plans ready for consideration by the House Ways and Means Committee.

In advance of today's session, Chairman Wilbur D. Mills (D-Ark.) indicated no specific solution was imminent, although a number of alternatives were known to be under study.

Eisenhower proposed last January an increase to 4½ cents a gallon to avoid a threatened deficit in the special federal trust fund from which highway grants are made. House Democrats balked at the plan, and the Senate rejected it as an amendment to another tax measure last month.

Without some assurance of added money, the highway fund will be too small to permit scheduled allocations to the state next month of amounts they can spend in the year starting next July 1. The allocations are made in advance to allow time for the necessary planning. A pay-as-you-go requirement in the highway law limits spending to the amount in the fund.

That requirement was suspended temporarily during last year's recession. Eisenhower has opposed any further suspension or other solution that would draw on regular Treasury funds. But hints of a possible compromise developed this week.

Two major compromise plans now being contemplated would provide:

1. A ½-cent increase in the gas tax to bring in an extra 280 million dollars, temporary suspension of the pay-as-you-go requirement, and a two-year stretchout of the program now due for completion in 1972.

2. A one-cent increase in the gas tax, worth 560 millions, also with suspension of the pay-as-you-go requirement.

The trust fund is financed from earmarked taxes on gasoline, tires and tubes, diesel fuel, trucks, buses and a highway use tax on trucks.

Currently, the trust fund is expected to go into the red about half a billion dollars by the end of the fiscal year ending June 30, 1961.

House Democrats contend a gas tax increase of the size proposed by President Eisenhower is unjustified. They said it would be too much of a burden on the motorist public and the states, which look to their own gasoline taxes for road building revenues.

Mills contends the law as originally planned did not contemplate that the program had to be on a day-to-day, penny-by-penny balance, but only that costs and taxes balance out during its lifetime.

Currently, the trust fund is expected to go into the red about half a billion dollars by the end of the fiscal year ending June 30, 1961.

House Democrats contend a gas tax increase of the size proposed by President Eisenhower is unjustified. They said it would be too much of a burden on the motorist public and the states, which look to their own gasoline taxes for road building revenues.

Mills contends the law as originally planned did not contemplate that the program had to be on a day-to-day, penny-by-penny balance, but only that costs and taxes balance out during its lifetime.

Without some assurance of added money, the highway fund will be too small to permit scheduled allocations to the state next month of amounts they can spend in the year starting next July 1. The allocations are made in advance to allow time for the necessary planning. A pay-as-you-go requirement in the highway law limits spending to the amount in the fund.

That requirement was suspended temporarily during last year's recession. Eisenhower has opposed any further suspension or other solution that would draw on regular Treasury funds. But hints of a possible compromise developed this week.

Two major compromise plans now being contemplated would provide:

1. A ½-cent increase in the gas tax to bring in an extra 280 million dollars, temporary suspension of the pay-as-you-go requirement, and a two-year stretchout of the program now due for completion in 1972.

2. A one-cent increase in the gas tax, worth 560 millions, also with suspension of the pay-as-you-go requirement.

The trust fund is financed from earmarked taxes on gasoline, tires and tubes, diesel fuel, trucks, buses and a highway use tax on trucks.

Chief's Car Burns

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Something was burning. Fire communications chief Pete Thompson could smell it.

"But I didn't know it was my own car until people started to boiler at me," he said.

An engine, siren blaring and red lights blinking, raced to the rescue in downtown Los Angeles Thursday. Thompson summoned it on his two-way radio.

"I didn't identify myself," the red-faced fire official admits. "It would have been too embarrassing."

A wiring short was blamed.

Polish Reds Are Still Uneasy After Riot In Showpiece Town

KRASNIK FABRYCZNY, Poland (AP)—Communist authorities still show uneasiness two weeks after a religious riot in this town in southeast Poland they thought was a Communist showpiece.

Orders are out for more arrests in a roundup to check agitation for construction of a Catholic church. Local persons say at least 300 have been picked up, although officials say no more than 20 are under arrest.

Tadeusz Marx, Communist chief in the town and chairman of the local council, warned:

"Before we build a church, which would cost millions of zlotys we must build more schools which also cost millions."

Roman Catholic officials said the Communists are reluctant to admit that residents of their "model" town prefer a church to other new buildings.

Communist militiamen armed with submachine guns nightly patrol Lublin, the nearest big city, in fear the unrest will spread there.

Marx blamed a band of fanatical women for the riot here June 26. From a wide variety of sources this account emerged:

The town of 11,000 has no church despite a petition signed by thousands and warnings of church authorities that the people were getting impatient.

In 1957 local Catholics built a shrine in a wood. Last month they rooted it with branches and hung religious pictures and linen draperies in preparation for a child's communion June 28. The police sealed off the area with ropes and the state seal.

On June 26 several hundred Catholics came to sing hymns at the shrine and found the draperies gone. As feeling mounted, they decided to march on the town hall and police station. Along the way the crowd swelled to between 1,000 and 2,000.

The angry marchers smashed windows in the police station and Communist headquarters with bricks. The police admitted using fire hoses to scatter the crowd, and townspeople said they also used tear gas. Reinforcements were brought in from Lublin.

Hospital authorities claimed that there were no injured. But it was one of the most violent outbreaks in a European Communist country in several years.

Help Asked In Naming Of Child

TOKYO (AP)—Thousands of Americans in the Far East are being asked to help a U.S. Army couple name their seventh child.

It's not as easy as it sounds. Names of the first six children rhyme, a 15-year family tradition.

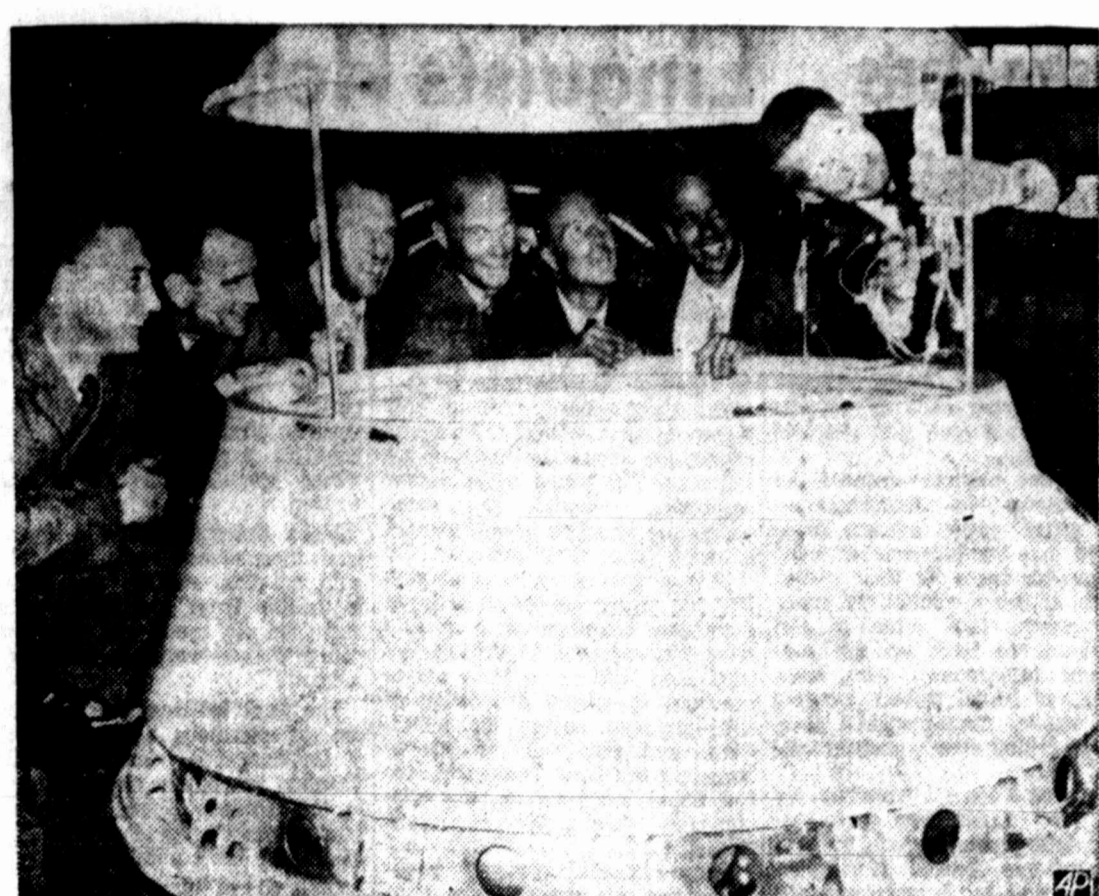

Sgt. Jack Lovett, in Korea, and his wife, back home in Texas, would like to keep up.

The seventh child is due after October. Lovett wrote the military newspaper Stars & Stripes saying they had just barely found a rhyming name for the sixth a year ago.

Stars & Stripes asked its readers to send in rhyming names, keeping in mind the new baby may be either a boy or a girl.

Lovett's wife, the former Geraldine Gravette, is living at 313 Water St., Whitesboro, Tex.

With her are Lindsay Fay, Larry Ray, Garry Jay, Glinda Kay, Brinda May and Winda Gay.

Jupiter, After Successful Test, Ready With Satellite

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—The Army's versatile Jupiter missile, another successful 1,500-mile trip under its belt, now turns its attention to satellite launching.

A 60-foot intermediate range Jupiter roared aloft Thursday night and dumped a simulated warhead on a target area off the downrange island of Antigua.

Just a short distance from the latest launching, technicians are preparing a giant four-stage Juno II rocket for a satellite attempt expected the middle of this month.

A Jupiter forms the first stage of the 76-foot missile.

Riding in the nose cone of the Juno II will be this nation's biggest and most complex scientific satellite to date. It is a 914-pound vehicle designed to perform at least six experiments in space. Among them are a study of the high radiation belt surrounding the earth and several weather probes.

Satellite boosting will be a new assignment for the Jupiter, which has logged 17 successful shots in war weapons tests. It also served as the first stage for space probes Pioneer III and IV and carried monkeys Able and Baker on their historic trip into space and back May 28.

The Army counts only one failure in 21 Jupiter firings.

The missile was declared operational two months ago and Air Force troops are expected to man Jupiter launching sites in Italy late this year as part of the NATO defense force.

The Air Force will take over this Army-developed rocket because of a Defense Department order limiting the Army to missiles of less than 500-mile range.

Earlier Thursday, the Air Force static-tested an intercontinental range Atlas, indicating the suspension of this missile's test program may soon end. Actual firing of an Atlas normally follows a static test within 10 days.

The Atlas firing program was suspended last month after five straight failures, including four explosions. The Air Force had hoped to have the missile operational this month.

Helicopter Helps Snag Truck Driver

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The California Highway Patrol sent out today its first citation for a traffic violation witnessed from a helicopter.

J. R. King, supervising inspector, said he and Lt. Earl Pugh looked down in astonishment last Friday morning at a big truck and trailer rig making a u-turn on a six-lane freeway outside Hayward.

King and Pugh, on a flight testing the effectiveness of helicopter observation of traffic, pursued the truck and noted its identifying markings.

The driver, Eric Tell of Santa Maria, Calif., explained he had forgotten a cargo ticket in San Leandro and turned back to get it.

The citation charges Tell with making an illegal u-turn.

Trucker Narrowly Missed By Beam

DALLAS (AP)—Glen Hargrove, 27, parked his truck downtown yesterday and walked away. Two minutes later a steel beam dropped 16 floors and plunged through the truck.

The 25-foot piece of steel fell from the roof of a building being built. W. E. Barron, contractor, said the beam got away from a worker.

Hoffa's Union To Work Out Single Pact

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Teamsters under President James R. Hoffa plan a meeting in Chicago next summer to work on a single nationwide agreement that would cover thousands of long distance truck drivers throughout the United States in 1961.

Long distance hauling is presently covered by three major Teamster contracts which divide the giant union into three geographical areas. One covers the eastern states, another the central and southern states and the third almost all of the western states.

Hoffa outlined his plans here before a western conference of Teamsters General Hauling Caucus Thursday before he flew to Washington for a date today with the Senate rackets probes.

Under present contracts, Hoffa said, Teamsters union members with valid contracts may be required to drive trucks into areas where other union members on on strike.

With a single master agreement in effect for the entire nation, Hoffa said, no union member would have to cross another's picket line.

Hoffa explained that all contracts covering long distance hauling in the continental 48 states expire within a 60-day period during the summer of 1961.

Hoffa said that if strategy for the master negotiations is successful, the separate agreements will be replaced by one master contract covering all 48 states with a common expiration date, common working conditions and comparable wage rates throughout the nation.

Every union regional joint council will be asked to send two delegates to the Chicago planning meeting.

Within minutes of Hoffa's announcement, 18 union officials were named from nine joint councils in the 11 states of the western conference area.

Kozlov Sees Chicago Fair

CHICAGO (AP)—The barnstorming first deputy premier of the Soviet Union heads for Pittsburgh today and another look at American industry after a stop here occupied mostly by talk about corn and commerce.

In a last minute change of plans, Prof. R. Kozlov, decided he wanted to see the current international trade fair here today. Expansion of trade contacts between the United States and the U.S.S.R. has been one of the main themes of his coast-to-coast tour. The original schedule for his two and a half day stay in Chicago had called for a visit to the International Harvester tractor plant in Chicago.

The party planned to arrive in their chartered DC7B plane at Pittsburgh, about 1 p.m. to be greeted by Frederic Weir, president of the City Council and representative of the University of Pittsburgh.

On the Pittsburgh schedule are a visit to the Homestead works of United States Steel, a dinner to be given by industrial leaders and a Saturday night visit to the nuclear power plant at Shippingport, Pa.

The rest of the original schedule for the Pittsburgh area has been canceled, to permit the chartered plane to take off Saturday night for New York. Kozlov plans to leave early Monday for Moscow in a Soviet jet transport.

Bee Business

Robert Davis inspects one of the colonies of bees he and his father-in-law rent out to fruit growers.

He Has A Honey Of A Bees - Ness

By GERALD MILLER
LEWISTON, N. Y. (AP)—It's not all honey in Howard Myers' business by any means. He's been stung plenty of times.
But by and large the millions of bees he rents out for a living have been good to him and he's grateful.
When pollination time comes in this fruit-growing section of upstate New York, the orchard owners just naturally think of Myers.
Nature doesn't provide enough amateur bees to carry pollen to all the trees in the area, so growers rely on Myers' 35 million professionals.
Myers, 72, has been working with bees most of his life. "I've been eating honey and getting stung since I was a boy of 10," he says.
With a son-in-law, Robert A.

Davis, he runs a bee rental service here in the summer and a beekeeping business in Sebring, Fla., in the winter.
It costs $7 a day to rent a colony of 35,000 bees and the busy little buzzers really put their hearts into their work. They can pollinate an average size orchard in a day. "They literally work themselves to death in four months," says Myers.
In addition to rental fees, Myers and Davis realize about 100 tons of honey a year from their winged employes, marketing it at a wholesale price of $24,000.
With income like that Myers admits that working with bees is a sweet business. "They still fascinate me after 62 years," he says. "Bees have been good to me and they've been good to the human race."

Gov. Long Ready For Vacation Tour

WINNFIELD, La. (AP)—Gov. Earl K. Long visited on his farm here today as his aides apparently took care of last minute details for his proposed vacation tour, he was expected to leave on the trip later today.
Long, continuing to ignore doctors' advice to remain quiet, drove to Winnfield from Baton Rouge Thursday night.
The trip of approximately 250 miles took about 4 1/2 hours. Several state police cars escorted him into town early today. Long went immediately to bed in his tin-roofed farm house.
The governor stopped en route at a restaurant in Krotz Springs owned by State Rep. Frank Diesel.
Ken Lane, news director of radio station WLCS in Baton Rouge, observed Long at Diesel's restaurant but wasn't allowed to question him.
Lane said the governor appeared in good spirits and, contrary to some reports, didn't look like a dying man. Long stayed in the car during his 45-minute stopover at Krotz Springs. He chatted with Diesel, State Sen. B. B. Rayburn of Bogalusa and J. J. Artell, president of the Red River and Atchafalaya Levee District.
Long laughed and joked quite a bit, Lane said.
Rayburn said he expected the governor to take off today on the tour that may reach into Mexico and Canada.
Long's aides did not reveal the exact itinerary. There were indications he would drive to Shreveport today and leave from there for Austin or Fort Worth. The tour is expected to include Tucson or Phoenix, Ariz., Los Angeles, San Francisco, Death Valley, Portland, Seattle, Canada, the Dakotas and back home by way of St. Louis.

Long probably will make most of the trip by air.
The governor still apparently plans to call a special legislative session when he returns. Either Aug. 4 or 10 is considered the likely date for the opening of the session.
Meanwhile, the public has no way of knowing just how sick Long is.
Rep. Lloyd Teekell, whom Long vainly supported for Congress last year, visited the governor at the mansion Thursday.
Teekell described Long as a very sick man who is growing weaker. But the state legislator emphasized he spoke as a layman. He said professional ethics limited the doctors in their reports to the public on Long's condition.
A. A. Fredericks, the governor's executive secretary, and Dr. Robert Heath of Tulane University, one of the top men on the team of doctors that has been checking the governor, disagreed on Long's condition.
Fredericks said Long was so improved the doctors had left him unattended. Heath denied this and said the doctors were sticking by their statement of Wednesday that Long was showing signs of fatigue.

Sight Of Abandoned Body Sparks Recovery

GRINDELWALD, Switzerland (AP)—I had to go and get him down. I could not stand the sight of it anymore.
"For two years I had the vision of the body suspended on the wall before me. Every time my eyes turned toward the Eiger, I had the terrible vision of this abandoned body. It became a kind of obsession with me."
"As a guide and a Christian, I had to do something. That is why I volunteered."
This was Adolf Jaun's explanation of his perilous descent Thursday on a steel cable to remove the body of Stefano Longhi, who died two years ago trying to scale the north face of 13,000-foot Mt. Eiger.
Longhi and another Italian mountaineer, Claudio Corti, went to the Eiger on Aug. 3, 1957, and had climbed together for a week before their fall. Both were pinned to the mountain face, hanging by their climbing ropes.
Ski planes flew winches and steel cables to the top of the Eiger, and a guide was lowered. Corti was hauled up Aug. 11, but a violent blizzard stopped rescuers from going after Longhi. The next day observers scanned the vertical rock wall with telescopes and found the 44-year-old Italian had died during the night.

Attempts then to recover the body were abandoned because of the extreme danger. But the body at times could be seen clearly from Grindelwald and the surrounding valley. A Dutch newspaper offered to finance a new recovery attempt.
Again winches and cables were flown to the peak and set up by a group of 15 Swiss guides. Jaun volunteered and swinging precariously from the steel cable, he made the recovery in a shower of brittle granite. The body had been perfectly preserved by the cold.

Castro Starts First Steps In Expropriations

HAVANA (AP)—Fidel Castro has started putting big American and Cuban-owned cattle ranches under the supervision of government overseers—one step short of expropriation.
The prime minister ordered the move—known as intervention—after small cattle owners complained that the big ranches were underpaying them for their cattle.
Units of the revolutionary army have moved into some of the ranchlands to back up the government intervenors, who have been given broad powers ranging from vetoing management's decisions to taking over complete control.

American-owned ranches on which the government has stationed intervenors include the 56,610 acre San Andres in Eastern Cuba, owned by Sumner Pingree and associates; 20,000 acres of the Texas King Ranch's land in Camaguey, El Indio in Camaguey, and a ranch of Cuban American sugar in Oriente.
Despite the presence of the government personnel, most ranches were reported operating as usual.
One ranching executive said: "There are cases where there is personal friction and managers have been unable to move a single cow. But in most cases intervention has been taken and the managers are able to continue as usual."

All land holdings in excess of 3,300 acres are due for expropriation under the revolutionary government's Agrarian Reform Law.
The government at first was vague about when it would begin taking over the surplus lands. When the cattlemen's association took the lead in opposing the land redistribution program, Castro announced two weeks ago ranch land in excess of 3,300 acres would be seized immediately. But so far only intervention apparently has been ordered.

Long Threatens To Sue 'Time'

WINNFIELD, La. (AP)—Louisiana Gov. Earl K. Long said today he will file suit Monday for damages in excess of two million dollars against Time, Inc., for what he claimed were "slandering articles and pictures" in Time and Life magazines.
He said he expects his attorney, Joe Arthur Sims, to file the suits in 19th District Court in Baton Rouge. The announcement was telephoned to Mrs. Margaret Dixon, managing editor of the Baton Rouge Morning Advocate.
There was no comment on what material in the magazines Long referred to, but two of his legislative leaders—State Sen. B. B. Rayburn and State Rep. Jesse McLain—were upset Thursday night when they read this week's issue of Life magazine.
They were particularly critical of a picture which showed the governor on the edge of a bed in a Covington, La., motel last week in bed clothes and without his false teeth.

Linguists Help In Spread Of Bible

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP)—A young missionary with an ear trained to unknown languages and a fine ability to mimic what he hears approaches the native chief of a savage Amazon tribe.
The chief speaks, perhaps only a few guttural syllables. No facial expression shows the tenor of the remarks. The young white visitor responds, repeating the same sounds he has just heard, without knowing what they mean.
It is as good an opening as any. For the visitor has come to learn unwritten language of a remote tribe and reduce it to writing. His next step will be to train native teachers to spread knowledge of the language among the tribesmen. And finally he intends to translate the New Testament into the tribal language to help missionaries spread the Protestant gospel.

These intrepid pioneers sometimes live for months at a time in South America's wildest jungles. They come prepared for the work by the Summer Institute of Linguistics which is associated with Wycliffe Bible Translators, Inc., of Glendale, Calif.
These linguists in 25 years have spread their work to Mexico, Peru, Ecuador, Bolivia, Canada, Alaska, Guam, Australia, and Vietnam.

They are new to Brazil, where 45 of their most scholarly are working with the Brazilian government's Indian Protection Service. The task is enormous. Brazil has 185 Indian tribes with 40 clearly distinguished language groups already identified. The linguists work only with tribes whose language has never been written.
Many times they are in danger from their savage hosts. They face wild animals, reptiles and threat to health from untreated water and food. In many instances two young women working along form a team.
The work in Brazil has just gotten an enormous boost. The city of Orlando, Fla., donated a PBX Catalina amphibian plane for work in the Amazon Basin. The plane has just arrived and will be used in Brazil, Peru and Ecuador.
Orlando got interested because it has "adopted" the Brazilian town of Goiana, on the central plateau. The plane is named the Condido Rondon, in honor of Brazil's greatest worker with the Indians.
It will add strength to the most remote work of the Institute, which already operates a plane service to places in Peru where no other modern form of transportation is known.

Famed Ship Takes Long Way Home

By STANLEY JOHNSON
GDYNIA, Poland (AP)—The Polish motorship Batory, barred from New York, today placiidly plods the route from Montreal to this Polish seaport.
Most of the passengers are Polish-Americans en route to renew family ties in Poland. The atmosphere of the 11-day trip is that of a prolonged Polish picnic near Cleveland.

This correspondent and his wife were the only passengers with non-Polish backgrounds on her last trip. Although the language heard on all sides was Polish, there was a strong reminder of North America. Ships' employes refuse to accept any currency except Canadian or American dollars.
The 14,000-ton Batory was barred from New York harbor after Gerhart Eisler, wanted for contempt of Congress, sneaked out of the United States aboard her in May 1949. He has since gone on to a career as a propagandist in East Germany.
There was more drama when Capt. Jan Owikinski deserted the ship in England June 23, 1953, with his medical officer and obtained political asylum. Two years earlier they had been a mass flight of eight sailors. These incidents occurred during the worst period of Stalinist oppression in Poland. There are no echoes of this tumultuous past now.

"It's 46 years since I've seen my mother and five sisters," said Mrs. Julia Kuzek of Philadelphia, one of the 807 passengers aboard. Family, not politics or ideology, was the main preoccupation.
Tears streamed down many faces as tugs pulled the Batory into Gdynia. Bands were playing on the pier. An American flag flew above a welcome sign written in English. Thousands of Poles waved greetings.
Then, the realities of life here were brought home to the passengers.
Almost all of them were loaded down with gifts. There were tears again—this time of rage and frustration—as for hour after hour they struggled with customs' officers for the right to bring them in. Meanwhile the trains they hoped to catch to homesteads around the country pulled out, leaving many to wait wearily for the night express.

Fish Prices Cut

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Officials say the cut in prices of fish effective Wednesday tripped seafood sales in the capital.
Prices were more than cut in half on most fish.

THIS IS "POLITICAL HOUSING"

- The tenant pays only a token rent which is intended to cover the cost of administering the project.
- The federal treasury is authorized to provide an additional subsidy taken from the general public to pay off the construction cost and interest on bonds to finance the project.
- The general taxpayer is required to pay taxes to the city to pay for the schooling, fire and police protection, garbage collection and other city services supplied to occupants of the project. The housing project is allowed to pay from nothing to 10% of the shelter rents as a token payment "in lieu of taxes." City cannot attach the property for non-payment.
- Cost of building projects has run as high as $11,000 per living unit.
- Only people with established incomes of a certain level are eligible. Military personnel and elderly people have priority.

"POLITICAL HOUSING" WILL NOT:

- Clear up any slums or remove any unsightly and unsanitary houses.
- Solve the problems for any group or area in Big Spring.
- It will NOT come free!

If you are a small taxpayer carrying your share all these years, and want to continue to maintain property for income, it's to your interest to oppose this program.

What do you know about that?

"What do you know about that?" How often you hear a newspaper reader ask this question! It's largely a rhetorical question, of course, because the newspaper reader already knows ALL about whatever it is.

The primary purpose of the newspaper is to supply the ANSWERS to the questions that most interest and most concern people. Questions as close to home as next year's local tax rate. Questions as far afield as what is happening on the other side of the world . . . which may none the less directly bear on your future.

Your answer to the question, "What do you know about that?" is likely to depend on how closely you read your newspaper . . . for accurate and complete information on everything that it is important for you to know.

"What do you know about that?" usually includes advertising, too. To most people, advertising columns of The Herald are just as important as the news columns. Through advertising, housewives know the best values offered in food stores, the latest fashions offered in smart shops. Dad can keep informed on the newest lawn and garden tools, the advances in automobiles, specials offered by any merchant. To effectively cash in on the desire of the people to be informed, plan your advertising in The Herald. O'S KIDS SHUT OUT SENATORS IN PAIR

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Two pitchers combining for a doubleheader shutout over one club is rare in itself. Occasionally it happens twice in one season.
But it happened twice in the American League Thursday night.
While Chicago's second place White Sox moved within one game of Cleveland by beating the Indians 4-3, Baltimore's kid right-handers, Milt Pappas and Jerry Walker, blanked Washington 8-0 and 5-0 in a two-night doubleheader. And Kansas City's Ray Herbert and Johnny Kucks each pitched five-hitters while whitewashing Detroit's tumbled Tigers 5-0 and 4-0.
The Tigers, who have lost six in a row, hadn't been handed a double shutout since Chicago's Marv Grissom and Joe Dobson did it on May 5, 1952. It hadn't happened to the Senators since Cleveland's Herb Score and Mike Garcia pulled it off Sept. 19, 1956.
The sweep by Baltimore lifted the Orioles out of a third place tie with the New York Yankees, who

Big Spring High School is one of 32 cities in Texas and Oklahoma which will be represented in the Aug. 15 Greenbelt Bowl football game at Childress and one of seven schools which will have two boys in the contest.

Benny McCrary and Ronnie (Chubby) Moser will represent the Steers in the Childress battle.

Other schools with two boys eligible to suit out for the engagement are Wichita Falls, Quannah, Stamford, Ralls, Electra and Borger. The Borger boys will align with McCrary and Moser on the West team. The others mentioned will perform for the East.

Ed Stevens, who got his start in professional baseball here in 1941 and who advanced to the majors eventually, has caught on with Atlanta of the Southern Association. He opened the season with Dallas of the American Association but didn't stick. Memphis is in trouble in that circuit, by the way. Attendance has been so poor at home games of the Tennessee city that losses reportedly have mounted to around $70,000.
The Southern Association may be on its last legs, since Atlanta wants either to check out or get in a league with a higher classification.

Camilo Pascual, another ex-Big Springer, is off to his best season in big league baseball. He could wind up with as many as 15 victories for the Washington Senators.

Glen Crable, an Oklahoman who was assigned to the Houston Buffs of the American Association this season, suffered a wound that required 40 stitches to close when struck by a line drive several weeks ago.

The white-winged dove breeding population this year has been estimated at 38 per cent greater than in 1958, according to the Director of Wildlife Restoration, Texas Game and Fish Commission.

A census conducted in the Rio Grande Valley the second week in June indicates the breeding population for the state this year at about 338,000 birds. Based on findings of previous years, existing breeders usually reproduce a number equal to the number of breeding birds. If a hunting season is ordered, and there is every indication it will be a maximum kill of around 180,000 birds can be expected.

A final ruling on the date and limit of the white-winged dove hunt will be decided July 24.

Phil Cavarretta, the former big league manager who made his home in Dallas for a number of years due to the fact that a daughter suffered from asthma, now resides in Fort Lauderdale, Fla.
Tex Hughson, another ex-big league standout, is currently ranching near San Marcos, Texas. Hughson was at his best while wearing a Boston Red Sox uniform during World War II.

Appointment of Tom Hamilton as commissioner of the new "big school" conference on the West Coast may mean that those schools are ready to discuss seriously the proposed national "airplane conference."
Hamilton has been one of the supporters for the idea of the super league for a long time.

Such a circuit would include Pitt, Notre Dame, Army and Navy, as well as the Coast powers.

Inter-League Schedule Is To Be Discussed Again

By JOE MOOSHIL

CHICAGO (AP) — The proposed inter-league trading rule again will be brought before Commissioner Ford Frick today at a joint meeting of the major leagues.
The measure, passed by both the American and National Leagues last December, was pushed aside when Frick asked the two organizations to reconsider.
Both leagues met Thursday and another vote was taken. Their votes will be announced today. If both again approve the measure, it will become law.
The ruling provides for a period in which clubs from both leagues can trade with each other without getting waivers on a player from other clubs in the league.
In the past, if the New York Yankees, for instance, sought to make a trade with a team in the National League, all the players involved had to be waived on by every club in the league.

Both leagues announced Thursday their opening dates for the 1960 season. The National League will open April 12, the American

The number of places to be paid will be determined according to the total number of entries, officials have announced.

Midland In Pair Of League Wins

By The Associated Press

Hermond Hubbard had himself a time as he led Midland to a twin victory over Odessa in the Sophomore League Thursday night.

Hubbard batted in nine runs and included in his collection of hits were two homers and a triple. Midland whipped Odessa 9-5 and 10-0 with Garnet Stuebing getting the decision in the first game through five hitless, runless innings in relief and Will Souillard pitching a 6-hitter in the nightcap.

Alpine, leader of the South Division, was idled by rain and Midland, in second place, moved within 1 1/2 games of the Cowboys.

Hobbs, leader of the North Division, edged Plainview 4-3 by scoring three unearned runs in the fourth. Dennis O'Melia pitched 3-1/2 ball and allowed one earned run but lost.

Cellar Dwelling Rockets Defeat Circuit Leaders

The cellar-dwelling Rockets upset the T Birds in International Little League play here Thursday night, knocking the T Birds out of first place in the standings. Final score was 9-5.

The T Birds' loss enabled the Sabres to return to the top spot with a 4-3 win-lose record. The T Birds are now 5-4 while the Comets stand at 3-3 and the Rockets are 3-5.

Tonight, a double header is on tap, with the Rockets scheduled to play the Sabres at 5 p.m. while the Comets and the Sabres get together for a 7:30 p.m. engagement.

Tomorrow, the first half championship will be determined in an engagement between the Sabres and the Comets, who tied for first place.

David Martino was the winning pitcher in last night's game, David Roberson the loser.

Martino fanned six and walked two. Harlan Burgess also saw action on the mound for the T Birds.

TEXAS CHAMPIONS OF FREEDOM

GENERAL JOHN BELL HOOD

Defender of States Rights and Self-Determination

In victory and defeat John Bell Hood, the Texas Brigade's "fighting general" of the Civil War, was a dedicated defender of man's right to choose his way of life. Like Robert E. Lee, Hood was a graduate of the U. S. Military Academy at West Point. And, like Lee, he resigned his commission in the U. S. Army to serve his state and the South through the bitter years from 1861 to the surrender at Appomattox Court House, April 9, 1865.

From the time he took command of the 4th Texas Infantry, that—with other Texas and Confederate regiments—came to be known as Hood's Texas Brigade, because of his daring leadership. Victories and promotions came quickly. As Major General Hood he was considered the hero of Chickamauga, where he lost his right leg. As Lieutenant General Hood, commanding the Army of Tennessee, he met crushing defeat at Nashville on December 16, 1864, and was relieved of his command.

But Texas doesn't forget her champions of freedom. A monument in his memory stands within the state capitol grounds at Austin, and Camp Hood established during World War II—now Fort Hood—was named in honor of the "fighting general," loyal defender of his state's rights to self-determination.

Today Texans still demand and get their right to choose the way they want to live. In this vigorous and freedom-minded homeland, "Beer Belongs" and this is why the United States Brewers' Foundation works constantly, in conjunction with brewers, wholesalers and retailers, to assure the sale of beer and ale under pleasant, orderly conditions. Believing that strict law enforcement serves the best interest of Texas, the Foundation stresses close co-operation with the Armed Forces, law enforcement and governing officials in its continuing Self-Regulation program.

Fems' Western Amateur Play In Semi-Finals

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN
Associated Press Sports Writer
CHICAGO (AP) — Two collegians, a dental assistant and a daughter of a newspaper publisher make up a diversified semi-final bracket today in the Women's Western Amateur golf tournament.

In the 1:30 p.m. (EST) opening match over Exmoor's exacting 6,567-yard layout, Marge Lindsay, 34, whose dad is publisher of the Decatur, Ill., Herald-Examiner, meets Barbara Williams, 20, Richmond, Calif., dental assistant and current champion of her state.

Next off are Jo Anne Gunderson, 20, Seattle, Wash., physical education major at Arizona State and 1957 National Amateur champion, against Andy Cohn, 19, Waterloo, Iowa, Northwestern University sophomore and a 1957 Western quarter-finalist.

Two extra-hole battles highlighted Thursday's quarter-finals. Miss Williams was forced to the 21st green before ousting Sherry Wheeler, 18, Glasgow, Ky. Miss Wheeler lost when her second shot splashed into a creek.

Miss Lindsay, former Curtis Cup player and 1951 Western champion, eliminated Judy Bell of Wichita on the 19th hole. Judy missed a 4-foot putt and had to settle for a bogey 6.

Miss Gunderson, outdriving Anne Quast of Everett, Wash., 20 to 70 yards, won by 5 and 4. She hit 12 of 14 greens in regulation and was 1 under-par for the distance, best golf of the day.

Miss Cohn sidlined Nancy Roth of Elkhart, Ind., 20-year-old waitress, 5 and 3.

Campbell Breaks Course Record

By CHARLES WELSH
PITTSBURGH (AP) — Like all the rest of mortal golfers, the professionals make frequent use of that favorite locker room statement which begins: "If only..."

For instance, Joe Campbell, the husky young man from Anderson, Ind., via Purdue University basketball and golf stardom, who now plays out of Knoxville, Tenn. Today he owned a course record 65 at the Pittsburgh Field Club, and the first round lead in the 60th Western Open championship. What was his locker room comment? "If only I had holed those putts on 17 and 18 it would have been the best round of my life."

Thirteen golfers bettered par 70, and eight more matched it. Second place went to Dug Ford, of Paradise, Fla., whose blistering 30 on the incoming nine added up to a 66 that equalled the old course mark set by Chick Harbert in 1953 qualifying for the U.S. Open.

One shot further back for the start of today's second round were Arnold Palmer, of Ligonier, Pa., and Mike Souchak, of Grossinger, N. Y., along with Huston (Paddy) Laclaire, Birmingham, Ala., and Bert Weaver, Beaumont, Tex.

Victoria Builds Lead In Texas

By The Associated Press
An error and rain padded Victoria's lead in the Texas League Thursday night.

The error by Hank Moreno of Amarillo opened the gates for four runs in the eighth as Victoria won 4-3.

Second place Austin couldn't play because of rain, so Victoria's lead was pushed to 2 1/2 games. Southpaw Ron Moeller was great through seven innings as Amarillo led 3-0. But in the eighth, with two out, Moreno pulled a throwing bobble and before Amarillo could get Victoria out since by Jim Williams, John Pfeiffer and Ron Schmitt and a triple by Ramon Conde figured in the scoring.

Dozier And Hale Are Top Scorers

COMEBACK BY CRAIG SPURRING DODGERS

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Maybe you remember Roger Craig, the big right-hander who made his rookie debut with Don Bessent in mid-1955 and gave the Dodgers a double lift to the National League pennant and their only world championship.

ROY FACE

He won 12 in 1956, then lost the touch. So did Bessent, and they wound up in the minors.

Craig's brilliant relief job, outdueled a two-man try by Braves starter Joey Jay and Warren Spahn, the loser in relief. They had blanked the Dodgers after Norm Larker's tying, three-run pinch homer in the third.

WEST SIDE TENNIS CLUB MAY LOSE NATIONALS

NEW YORK (AP)—Officials of the West Side Tennis Club have been asked to appear July 21 before the city's Commission on Inter-Group Relations to answer questions about the club's reported policy of banning Negroes and Jews.

Under secretary for special political affairs and a Nobel Peace Prize winner.

In announcing the July 21 hearing, Dr. Alfred J. Marrow, chairman of the intergroup relations commission, said it was "unthinkable that major international athletic events for which the general public pays admission should be conducted in this city on the grounds of an institution which discriminates in its membership policy."

"We will therefore use every power in our command to change these policies," Marrow added. He said members of the U.S. Lawn Tennis Assn. also might be invited to the hearing.

The commission has no penalty power. The hearing will be closed.

In Washington, Javits said Sens. Clifford P. Case (R-N.J.), Paul H. Douglas (D-Ill.), Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn.) and Thomas H. Kuchel (R-Calif.) had joined him in messaging the tennis association.

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Roger Craig, the big Los Angeles right-hander, considered quitting baseball a year ago. Now he is helping the Dodgers plenty in the National League pennant struggle.

Craig turned in a brilliant 11-inning relief job Thursday night as the Dodgers pushed across a

The 6-foot-4, 190-pounder gave up only three hits in earning his fourth victory since winning a run in the 13th to edge Milwaukee 4-3 and send the Braves plummeting from first to third place.

Larry Alexander drove out a home run with two on for the Dodgers in the fourth inning.

Kenneth Nance scored what actually proved to be the winning run for the Yanks in the fifth when he reached base on an infield error and made it home on a hit by Travis Oliver.

The Ramblers smashed the Red Sox, 16-1, in minor league action.

SNARL TRAFFIC

Yankees Decision Dodgers, 8 To 7

The Yankees snarled the traffic around first place in National Little League standings Thursday night when they toppled the Dodgers, 8-7.

A six-run outburst in the fourth inning propelled the Yanks past pennant contenders.

Keith Bristow, on the mound for the Yanks, was tagged for seven hits but was helped along by lusty hitting on the part of his mates.

Interest Lagging In Junior Play

Interest in the junior division of the YMCA tennis tournament is lagging as the deadline for entries nears.

A total of 13 senior players have thrown their names into the hat, however. In addition, six senior doubles teams have qualified.

Only entry fee will be a new can of tennis balls. The winner in each match gets the unused balls.

Deadline for entry is noon tomorrow. Those planning to play must call at the Y headquarters, Fifth and Scurry Streets.

Coach Thinks U.S. Water Team Can Shatter Record

By JACK STEVENSON
LOS ALTOS, Calif. (AP) — A prominent swimming coach forecast today that the United States team can assemble a swimming relay team capable of breaking the world record for 400 meters.

As the National AAU men's senior championships got under way at the Fremont Hills Country Club here, predictions of fast times came from Willis Casey, swimming coach at North Carolina State.

He was the man who next week will head a 16-man United States squad to Tokyo for a meet with the top Japanese swimmers.

"We have at least five swimmers capable of swimming 100 meters in 56 seconds or less," Casey declared. "With the relay starts, a four-man team should be capable of 3:44 and the record is 3:46.3 by an Australian team last year."

Elroy Face Tough On League Foes

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Pitcher Roy Face of the Pittsburgh Pirates wasted no time in bouncing back from his disappointing show in last Tuesday's All-Star game.

The bullpen ace came on in relief against Chicago Thursday night and won the game, 4-3 for his 13th consecutive victory of the season and 18th straight since May 30, 1958.

Thursday night's victory enabled Face to tie a Pirate record set in 1910 by Deacon Phillips for consecutive wins in a season.

"Anytime you win as many in a row as I have," said Face, "you have to have some luck."

The forklift artist won the extra-inning game after he relieved Vernon Law in the 9th and gave up the game-tying single to Tony Taylor.

Now there are approximately 50,000 each summer."

There will be 16 members of the United States team for the meet with Japan. It will include the winners of the 10 events here plus six others to be named by Casey.

After competing at Tokyo and Osaka, the team will return to the United States for the Aug. 7 tryouts for the Pan-American games. The tryouts will be held at Michigan State.

"I believe the United States has improved more in swimming the past two years than any other nation," the 38-year-old Carolinian told newsmen. "That's the result of a more intensified summer program. Ten years ago we had about 2,000 swimmers in competi-

Rising Traffic Toll Alarming

CHICAGO (AP) — The National Safety Council says it is alarmed at what it called the nation's soaring traffic death toll. Unless the number of deaths are reduced sharply, the council says, there will be 39,800 traffic deaths this year. That is 2,800 more than in 1958.

Howard Pyle, president of the council, told a news conference Thursday that traffic deaths in the first five months are 5 per cent higher than in the same period last year.

"We are alarmed," he said. "If the public could also be alarmed and inspire adequate protective measures, lives could be saved."

The council suggested inauguration of these safety measures at once:

Step-up law enforcement in areas where it is low; inspect high accident locations to remove physical hazards; analyze court penalties to see if they are deterring violations; suspend drivers licenses of accident prone and violation repeaters; more rigid enforcement of drunk driving laws, and step up public education for safe driving and safe walking.

Fast Draw Expert Shoots Own Leg

CORPUS CHRISTI (AP) — City Patrolman D. J. Hudgens stopped his patrol car yesterday to pass the time of day with a man and wife target practicing in sand dunes just outside the city.

Carl Thompson halted target shooting a moment to demonstrate his fast draw to Hudgens.

The shot that followed was 90 degrees off. It hit Thompson in the leg.

Hudgens gave first aid at the scene. The bullet was removed from the lower part of Thompson's leg at a local hospital.

Last Year Was Busiest For Bank Robbers

WASHINGTON (AP) — Bank robbers were busier last year than in any year in history, the FBI reported today.

The report, for the fiscal year ended June 30, showed 764 violations of the federal bank robbery law. They included 445 robberies, 233 burglaries and 86 larcenies.

The total compared with 631 violations in the previous fiscal year and 606 in 1932, at the height of the gangster era.

In a year-end report to Atty. Gen. William P. Rogers, FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover said:

"I want to point out that bank robbery has been, and always will be, a crime of the most serious nature."

"Every trigger-happy bank robber is a potential killer and should be treated as such."

"The only way to stem the tide of bank robberies is for witnesses to assist law enforcement agencies in identifying the robber, and this cooperative action must be followed by swift solution, vigorous prosecution, and the imposition of sentences suiting the gravity of the crime."

Hoover reported 11,719 convictions during the last 12 months in FBI-investigated cases, an increase of 262 over the previous 12 months.

He listed a total of $135,408,100 in fines, savings and recoveries in FBI cases during the 1959 fiscal year, and said bureau agents recovered 16,957 stolen motor vehicles during the period.

A record 5,198 car thieves were convicted in the federal courts.

Mild Storm Still Going

By The Associated Press

The remnants of tropical storm Cindy continued to pick up showers and thundershowers in the central Carolinas and Virginia today. There were a few other wet spots but clear skies were the rule in the major part of the country.

The rains tapered off in the Carolinas after some heavy falls. Rainfall in the Columbia, S.C., area measured 5.82 inches.

Afternoon thundershowers were indicated in the southern Rockies, southern Plateau region, the upper Mississippi Valley and parts of the upper Great Lakes. Rain was in prospect later in the day and tonight in New England.

Temperatures soared into the 90s Thursday in the warm and humid air from the Gulf states into New England. The high at Albany, N.Y., was 91.

Medical Experts Seek Branch Site

AUSTIN (AP) — Three out-of-state medical experts head the University of Texas search for a new medical branch site in San Antonio.

The board of regents yesterday named the committee, instructing them to report by October. The Legislature authorized location of a new school in Bexar County but did not provide any funds.

Dr. Joseph C. Hinsey, director of the New York Hospital-Cornell Medical Center, will head the survey team.

If you're not thinking... GO AHEAD AND VOTE FOR PUBLIC HOUSING

Here Are A Few Things You Should

Think About
Before Voting Saturday

- A vote for Public Housing is a vote to increase our National Debt.
- It will increase the supply of homes and reduce the total value of every homeowner's property in the city of Big Spring.
- It will naturally increase our local taxes.
- It will increase the 4¾% Interest rate our country is now paying for their supply of money to build this project with.
- It could lead to an increase in Federal Income Tax in order to pay this debt off.
- It will reduce the incentive of every person who takes advantage of subsidized rent.

County Airport Dedication Day Program Being Studied

Preliminary arrangements for an all-out show and dedication ceremonies to mark opening of the new Howard County Airport were discussed Thursday afternoon at a meeting of the Chamber of Commerce Aviation Committee.

The dedication date is set for Oct. 6. While the airport should be in operation long before then, the formalities are being scheduled to coincide with a stop-over here on that date of the Texas Air Tour. This will bring in scores of private flying enthusiasts in their personal planes.

The committee is directing a request to the Air Force, through Col. Kyle Riddle of Webb Air Force Base, to participate in the Victim Was Career Man

COPPERAS COVE (AP)—M. Sgt. Chester M. Ovnand, killed by a Communist terrorist bomber Wednesday night in Saigon, Viet Nam, was a former captain and an Army careerist.

His wife is service club director at Gray Air Force Base near here.

Sgt. Ovnand, 43, spent 17 years in the Army. He entered service in World War II, attended officer school and fought for three years in the Pacific with the 716th tank battalion.

In an officer cutback in 1950 Mrs. Ovnand said, her husband elected to take a reduction in rank to master sergeant in order to remain in the Army.

Mrs. Ovnand's home town is El Reno, Okla.

LIBRARY SWAMPED

Big Springers Turn To Books For Relaxation

Big Springers apparently are catching up on their reading after the holiday weekend; the Howard County Library has been swamped with people this week, the librarian said.

Mrs. Opal McDaniel, librarian, said that about 1,500 books were checked out during the first three days of this week.

Total circulation for June was 7,309 volumes, Mrs. McDaniel said, compared with 6,756 for May. No comparison with June of last year is available since the library was closed half of the month. During the 15 days it was open, however, 5,966 volumes were circulated.

Last month, adult fiction check-

Phone Conference Links Many Nations

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—An international party line telephone network was to hook Fort Worth with eight countries today.

A. B. Canning, president of an oil and grease manufacturing company, planned an international sales conference by telephone.

"This will be the first time in history that as many as five foreign countries have been tied to the United States through a long distance conference call," said George Boswell, division service manager for Southwestern Bell.

One call will link Hvidovre, Denmark; Monster, Holland; Trondheim, Norway; Koln, Merheim, Germany, and Bromma, Sweden.

Another call will tie the company headquarters with Konstanz, Germany; Stavanger, Norway; Uzuanch, Switzerland, and Helsinki, Finland.

Chessman Will Continue Fight

SAN QUENTIN, Calif. (AP)—Death row author Caryl Chessman, his gas chamber sentence reaffirmed for the second time, said he will battle all the way to the U.S. Supreme Court for the 10th time.

Chessman, convicted Los Angeles sex terrorist, announced his determination Thursday in a 15-minute television and newspaper interview at this state prison, where he has served since July 3, 1948.

The estate supreme court Tuesday upheld Chessman's death sentence. The U.S. Supreme Court had ordered a rehearing of his complaint that the transcript of his original trial notes was faulty.

He is to be taken to Los Angeles soon for hearing of a new date set for his off-postponed execution. He said he will ask for a rehearing and exhaust all state remedies before turning again to the U.S. high court.

Studies Slated

MEXICO CITY (AP)—The Ministry of National Patrimony has announced a conference will be held here Aug. 16-20 to study ways of better developing Mexico's border and port cities.

Federal officials, representatives of state governments and cities involved and of professional groups will attend.

HCJC Board Meets July 16

Board of trustees of the Howard County Junior College have scheduled a meeting for the night of July 16, it was announced by Marvin Baker, assistant to the president of the college.

He said the meeting will be in the Student Union Building at 5:15 p.m. Routine matters are scheduled for consideration.

All members of the board are expected to attend.

Baker said it was possible that the trustees would set a date for public hearing on the budget as one feature of the session.

Shrimp Boats Head Back To Sea

BROWNSVILLE (AP)—Shrimp boats headed back to sea today after the end of a protest that tied up about 90 per cent of the nation's largest shrimp fleet.

Yesterday it was reported about 90 per cent of the 500 to 600 boats were docked.

Gunner Carlson, president of the Rio Grande Shrimpers Assn., said fishermen decided to go back to work despite a cut of 4 cents a pound for their catches.

Buyers said the cut was forced by a drop in market prices.

FARM BUREAU EVENT 12 Girls Trying For Queen Title

Candidates are still showing up for the annual contest to select the Howard County Farm Bureau Queen.

The competition will be keen and the selection of the queen will provide the judges with a difficult assignment. The contest will be on the night of July 23 at the Howard County Junior College.

A typical candidate for the crown is Miss Cleta Newsom, 16-year-old junior at Forsan High School. Miss Newsom, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Newsom lives south of Elbow.

Another new entry is Margaret Newton, Rt. 1, Knott.

Announcement was made that Joann Forrest will be mistress of

Marshall Dillon's Not Gunned Yet

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Relax "Gunsmoke" fans—those varmints aren't going to kill off Marshall Dillon after all.

Jim Arness, who plays the quick-drawing marshal, and CBS Thursday announced signing a new contract. Arness' old contract was to expire after filming 39 episodes for next season and the show's producers hinted darkly that the marshal might die with his boots on.

Under the new contract, Arness will have his own producing com-

DO NOT LET A SELFISH PRESSURE GROUP HINDER THE PROGRESS OF BIG SPRING HERE ARE THE UNBIASED FACTS

- 1. Is there a shortage of safe and sanitary dwellings in Big Spring? YES! There are at least 1,955 houses in Big Spring that are substandard and should be condemned.
2. What will it cost the Big Spring taxpayer? NOTHING. The money for public housing has already been appropriated from federal funds and is available for the purpose of combating housing problems such as we have in Big Spring.
3. Who is eligible for public housing? Eligibility is limited to families who are living in SUBSTANDARD housing or who are actually without housing. There is NO minimum income requirement to be eligible for public housing. Even families dependent upon Church, state and county welfare are eligible for public housing, even widows and orphans. Eligibility includes families who cannot afford to pay enough to cause private enterprise in their locality to build an adequate supply of decent, safe and sanitary housing for their use.
4. Will public housing alleviate slum conditions? YES. As eligible families are moved from substandard houses these houses can be condemned by the city.
5. What about federal aid? Pressure groups have used loaded words such as socialism and federal aid to obscure a fact that has been known for a long while. Our federal government finances and has financed many of the more worthwhile things in our society. National Defense — exemplified by Webb AFB, education — an example is Howard County Jr. College, the Post Office and many other things. Ask the business and professional men of Big Spring if federal money has helped Big Spring.
6. Will public housing hurt the real estate business? NO. The people who will be supplied with these houses are not at present real estate marketing buyers. It is the purpose of this project to raise the living standards of these people and the possibilities of them becoming real estate buyers would be advanced.
7. Will local tax revenue be lowered by public housing? NO. Ten per cent of the shelter rent will be distributed to local tax agencies in lieu of taxes. This means an increase in local tax revenue for tax will continue to be paid on the property from which recipients of public housing have moved. Thus, public housing will create a new source of revenue for local tax agencies.
9. Will public housing kill the incentive for personal advancement? NO. Certainly personal advancement is just as large a problem to individuals no matter where they live. This is a very complex problem upon which we have nothing but conjecture and should probably be left to psychologists. Granted, the changing of a person's environment will have some influence upon him but surely moving from a small, dirty shack into a decent home can have nothing but a good effect upon most people. Certainly no one will move from a real home back into a shack but is this the individual's fault — or the federal government's? It would be much better and more well directed to lay this at the door of local private enterprise which would keep people in destitute surroundings for a few dollars in its own pocket.
10. Has local enterprise charity in mind? Will local enterprise solve our housing problems? They have done such an excellent job up to now — that is why there are almost two thousand substandard houses in our city.
11. Has public housing ever been tried in Big Spring? NO. At one time in Big Spring some rent houses were built with a loan from the federal government to a private concern. This should not be confused with federal public housing, as it was privately owned and managed. This project deteriorated at a rapid rate due to maintenance problems that the private concern could not cope with. Public housing can cope with maintenance problems because public housing is non-profit. A percentage of rent paid and federal contributions are used for upkeep in these units.
12. Will control of the low-rent housing project be local or federal? LOCAL. Local housing authorities appointed by local commissioners will act throughout as a non-profit public agency. It owns and operates the projects, sets rents, selects eligible families, and takes care of repairs. Surely we have five men in this town that are capable of administering this project.

PRAYER: We thank Thee, our Father, for Christ, the good Shepherd. Lead us through Him into Thy fold. Save us and enrich our lives. Lead us to fuller freedom and joy. In His name we pray. Amen. (From the "Upper Room")

Texas Badly Overdrawn At The Bank

Texas citizen-taxpayers, shareholders in a multi-billion-dollar corporation, will be interested to know they went about $4 million more into debt between June 1 and June 30, while their duly-elected legislators hemmed and hawed through their second special 30-day session and talked of the possibility that a third might be necessary.

Now, of course, state expenditures run above a billion dollars a year, but the sum the Legislature has tied itself into knots over is only a small fraction of that terrific budget.

The Little Taxpayer Has A Stake

Discussion around the city on the Public Housing issue, which Big Springs residents at the polls tomorrow, would indicate that most concern over the long-term results of such a project comes from the smaller property owners.

If it is conceived to be a North Side center exclusively, then it seems to us it becomes a matter of social improvement.

David Lawrence Housing Bill Fuel On Inflation Fire

WASHINGTON — The Democrats who are warring with each other in Congress over the course that should be taken toward presidential vetoes will have a chance to count noses on the issue presented by President Eisenhower's rejection of the Housing bill passed by both houses.

cial requirement that the Federal National Mortgage Association "must buy mortgages at par under its special assistance program, regardless of the price that these mortgages command in the open market," would be inflationary.

James Marlow Herter Says What He Thinks

WASHINGTON (AP) — Christian A. Herter—for a secretary of state—is a very frank man. His feelings as he returns to Geneva for talks with the Soviets, he says, might be unfit to print.

Then one of the 190 newsmen— who crowded into the State Department auditorium to see him perform—where his predecessor, John Foster Dulles, had held forth so often—asked him near the end of the 40-minute conference: "Mr. Secretary, if you could use only one word to describe your feelings as you head back toward Geneva, what would that one word be?"

NEW YORK (AP) — Will the atomic age create a two-headed human race? Will the man of the future have six eyes, perhaps, and three legs and five arms?

Not all such mutations are necessarily bad for a species, of course. They might even improve the breed—make it better able to face the problems of a troubled world.

WAYNE, N. J. — Business is booming for the new Humane Exterminating Co. in Pine Lakes, which traps animals and removes them from such places as attics and cellars on a "no catch, no pay" basis.

Prices range from 10 cents for each mouse caught to 35 cents for squirrel. Skunks, the company says, "will not be handled for any amount."

Around The Rim The Legend Of The Deep Water

There was once a tribe which lived on the banks of a river. They were a water-loving people, for the river was wide and deep and ever-flowing, and the broken terrain through which it coursed provided many pools of many depths and widths.

By midsummer of 1939 it was obvious that the Huey Long machine, four years after the Kingfish's assassination, was not only going to pieces but a number of its members were also going to jail.

J. A. Livingston The Great Change In Buying Habits

Do not confuse the author of Engel's law with Karl Marx's pal and man Friday, Friedrich Engels, who co-authored the Communist Manifesto and prepared for publication the last two volumes of Das Kapital.

Through Socialism, Friedrich Engels (1820-95) sought to save the working man from capitalist oppression. His fellow German, Christian Lorenz Ernst Engel (1821-96), studied how, under Capitalism, subsistence wasn't necessarily the worker's lot.

Ernst Engel observed that poor families spent a larger proportion of their income on food. As families became better off, they diverted a larger share of income to what he called sundries—everything over and above food, clothing, and shelter.

From that, he formulated his law, which can be stated as follows: You can judge the wealth of a country or a family by the proportion of income devoted to food.

Table with columns: Year, Spent For Food, Per cent. Data points: 1874-75: 50; 1901: 33; 1917-19: 27; 1934-36: 23; 1950 (est.): 18; 1956 (est.): 13.

Bold Thieves

GADSDEN, Ala. (AP)—Officers H. K. Downey and J. W. Brock left their patrol car in front of a bank in nearby Alabama City while they made a routine building check.

Still Coming

SUMMIT, N. J. — The Rahway Valley Railroad, only 14 miles long, was founded in 1897 and has made a profit every year except 1934. Fifteen employees keep three diesel locomotives running over the all-freight line between here and Roselle Park.

Knows His Nature

PHOENIX, Ariz. — Jailer Dave Edwards received this note from Alex Maldonado, serving 60 days for petty theft: "I would consider it a personal favor if you would not send me to the jail annex because I think I would try to run away. In fact, I know I would. So I would rather spend my 60 days up here and go out clean."

Traveling Cheepers

IOLA, Kan. — After completing a 1,000-mile trip Carl Hanson heard a "peep, peep" under the front seat of his car. He peered under the seat and found a bantam hen hatching some baby bantams in a nest.

'Voila, See What I Did!'

"Pretty Girl", the appealing white French poodle at right, seems to be eager that all know those six puppies are hers. Louis III of Streetly, the silver grey sire, had a role in the drama too but had just as soon forget about it. The pedigreed canines belong to T/Sgt. and Mrs. Maurice Pelletier whose son, Michel, is already quite a dog-lover. Like their father, the six puppies, who at four weeks look more like tiny cockers, will be silver grey eventually.

BLUEBLOODS

Birth Of Sextuplets Brings Mixed Emotions

By HELEN HURT
Royalty was born in Big Spring recently.
You don't believe it? Well, just ask Sir Louis III of Streetly. On second thought, don't. A more different father there could not be. You would think he'd be proud of his sextuplets. But he didn't even pass out cigars.
With cool disdain he glances at the six cuddly infants, all endowed with beautiful eyes and soft wavy black hair. Their mother may be annoyed with his indifference and ingratitude, but constant vigilance over her first young ones consumes all her time and energy.
The five females and lone male, who made their entrance June 14, will start the Pabulum routine Saturday with Mama "Pretty Girl" still around to comfort them. From there they will advance to sugar and milk, and finally will graduate to cooked hamburger. Like Papa, they will grow up to like liver and rabbit, too. By then their squeals will have grown to howls. But, then, they have a right to howl about their illustrious family tree.

Oh, you've guessed it! These six blueblooded bundles are puppies, the offspring of Cherami's Baby, a four-year-old white French poodle, and Louis III of Streetly, 5½, a regal silver grey poodle and himself the offspring of the champion of a Cruft show in London. The pups have been registered as a litter and will be registered singly as they are sold (at $150 each).

At present, the entire family belongs to T-Sgt. and Mrs. Maurice Pelletier, who helped deliver the babes on the very day they were moving to 215-A Hunter. Mrs. Pelletier, who hails from Scotland, has owned Louis since he was a pup. The couple acquired Cherami's Baby, or "Pretty Girl" by nickname, in April from another Air Force family who was sent overseas.
Sgt. Pelletier's French ancestry made it easy for him to help select names—melodic names such as Charmaine Lady, La Bella Be, Silver Feille and Chere Louise. There is Petite Michele, too, the only solid black pup in the litter. Makes no difference, though, because all the dogs will be silver grey like their father, in 18 or 20 months, says Mrs. Pelletier. The little male, Prince Louis IV, has only a touch of white on his nose and hind feet.

The Pelletiers and their son, 20-month-old Michel, are having great fun with the princely little fellows, but are already dreading the end of the six weeks when they will probably be going to other homes. Poor "Pretty Girl"!

NSA Elects Treasurer

Mrs. Henry Robinson was elected treasurer of the National Secretaries Association at a luncheon at the Desert Sands Restaurant Thursday. She will succeed Mrs. Johnny Dismuke, who is to leave soon for Fort Worth to make a home.

Mrs. Dismuke was presented with the floral centerpiece from the luncheon table where 11 members had assembled. Places were marked with key rings and small notepads and pencils.
The history and purpose of the association was reviewed by Mrs. Harold Kain for the benefit of new members recently admitted to the club.
Announcement was made of the international convention set for Miami, Fla., July 22-26. The local club is not sending a delegate to the meeting this year.

St. Thomas Annual Event Being Mapped
Mrs. Bernard Huchton and Ed Settles met Thursday evening with the committees to help plan the annual barbecue for St. Thomas Catholic Church. The event, scheduled for Sept. 19, will be open to the public.
This year a carnival is planned in conjunction with the barbecue. Such features as a food booth, fish pond, candy store, cake walk and grab bags will be arranged. Proceeds will be placed in the church's building fund.

Bunco Club Meets In Homburg Home

Mrs. John Homburg was hostess for the Three-Six Bunco Club Thursday evening with the winner being Mrs. Thomas Glover, who also won the floating prize.
In second place was Mrs. Albert Roes; Mrs. Vincent Best won third place. The consolation prize was taken by Mrs. Doyle Irwin, a guest, and low was awarded to Mrs. William McHugh.
Mrs. Roger Parry was also a guest. The hostess was assisted in serving by Mrs. McHugh.
The next meeting has been set for Aug. 13 in the home of Mrs. Eudis Gregg, 245-B Langley Drive.

Rules For Work With Boss May Apply To Husband - Managing, Too

By DOROTHY ROE
AP Women's Editor
Now that The Associated Press Managing Editors Association has adopted a code of "ten commandments for dealing with women employees," it seems only fair that women employees should reciprocate with a code for dealing with men editors.

In the beginning every newspaperman should bear in mind that even the toughest editors are merely men and that the cruelest exterior may conceal a shy and sensitive heart. Starting with this basic fact, all the rest is easy. The following ten commandments are not official, of course, but they may serve as a basis for discussion when women reporters get together in a smoke-filled room after the paper has been put to bed.

1. Do not let your own prejudice give you an unfair attitude toward your editor. Remember that some men are as smart as women.
2. Never argue with a male editor. Remember that he NEEDS to have his ego built up at all times. Help to convince him in little ways that he is always right.
3. Even if your editor misses the biggest story of the year, tell him he's wonderful. At a time like this, tenderness and understanding are particularly important to the sensitive male.
4. Never desert your editor in a crisis. Stick around with earshot so he will have somebody to swear at. It is frustrating for a man to have to shout at an empty desk.
5. Always ask your editor's superior opinion before writing a lead or starting an interview. Great-big-he will love to help you little-you if you keep the attitude right.
6. Remember that a man's anger is always greatest when he feels he has been wrong. Be quick to assure him that whatever happened was all your own fault and you'll never let it happen again. Shortly after this is a good time to ask for a raise.
7. Never forget that a man always forgets. Always help him to remember important things, such as the deadline for the first edition.
8. As a woman, it's up to you to provide the strength, the stamina and the drive to see a man through his insecure moments. When he starts showing strain, suggest that there's a situation at the nearest bar that needs his attention. He'll come back beaming.
9. Praise a male editor on every possible occasion. It's rewarding to watch his chest expand.
10. Don't try to treat each editor

Visit In Coleman
Mr. and Mrs. Russell L. Christenson left Thursday afternoon for Coleman where they will spend a few days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Murphy. A nephew, James Bell, accompanied them on the trip.

Cosden Club Plots Social Activities.

Future social events were scheduled by the Cosden Women's Association at their Thursday luncheon at Cosden Country Club. Hostesses for the monthly meeting were the new officers, headed by Mrs. Bill Davis.

Mrs. Kelley Lawrence Jr. and Mrs. W. E. Gibson Jr., first and second vice presidents, greeted the group as did Mrs. Russell L. Christenson, secretary; Mrs. Loy Carroll, treasurer; and Mrs. Richard Grimes, parliamentarian.

It was announced that a barbecue will be served to Cosden Club members and their guests at 7 p.m. July 25. The evening will also include a water show at 8:30 and a dance at 9. Tickets are available from members. The women discussed a style show, which is to be staged in September.
The selection of a project for the year was postponed until September, to allow additional time for discussion.
Mrs. Roxie Dobbins took home the centerpiece, an arrangement of pink carnations.

Circle Brings Toys For Church Nursery
Eight members of the Baptist Temple Training Circle met Thursday evening with Mrs. Bennie Porter, bringing with them toys for the nursery department at the church. The gifts are one of their community mission projects.
Mrs. A. W. Page reviewed two chapters from the book "Christian Witnessing," and a discussion followed.
Mrs. Byron Lipe, 1403 Eleventh place, will be hostess to the circle at 7:30 p.m. next Thursday.

The Cliftons Return From California Trip
Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Clifton returned recently from a three-week visit in California. Their main stop was in Los Angeles, where they were guests of their son, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Clifton. They also spent some time with her brothers in Napa and Vallejo.
Other highlights of the vacation included watching Queen for a Day being televised, Disneyland, Marineland, and a shopping tour in San Francisco.

Ruth Class Helps Church Lot Fund

Instead of exchanging secret pal gifts at a party Thursday evening, members of Park Methodist Ruth Class contributed sums of money to be applied to the purchase of a lot for a new church.

The group met in the home of Mrs. Woodsy Brigrance, with the meeting opened by Mrs. Abbie Anderson's prayer. Mrs. W. B. Grant presented a program of two readings and directed a word game based on Bible passages.
Refreshments were served to eight during the social hour.

Duplicate Bridge Winners Are Named

Mrs. Kyle Riddle and Mrs. James Collins tallied high scores in north-south position, Thursday evening, in duplicate bridge games at the Officers Club. In second place were Mrs. Riley Foster and Mrs. J. J. Havers.
Taking top honors in east-west position were Mrs. R. R. McEwen Jr. and Mrs. Charles Pierce. Mrs. John Stone and Mrs. Ward Hall teamed for second place honors.

76th Birthday Of Methodist Church Here To Be Observed

First Methodist Church of Big Spring will celebrate its 76th birthday on Thursday of next week.

In observance of the event, the church is planning a family night program on Wednesday evening at the church.

Dr. Jordan Grooms said that tribute will be paid on that occasion to wives of former pastors of the church.

Several of the wives will be in attendance will be accorded special recognition.

Dr. Grooms asked that all members of the church and friends of the institution be present for the occasion.

Baptist

"Sin's Deadly Deeds", James 1:15, and "Giving God Our Best", Gen. 22:1-19 have been announced by the Rev. W. A. James as his sermons to Airport Baptist Church.

The Rev. H. L. Bingham, Hillcrest Baptist pastor, will preach on "The Strategy that Wins", Rom. 12:21, and "Mount Tabar and the Transfiguration", Matt. 17:1.

The Rev. Frank Pollard, assistant pastor at First Baptist Church, will preach at the 8:45 a.m. worship service, using the title "When a Boy Follows Jesus", John 6:1-13. Dr. P. D. O'Brien will preach at 11 a.m. on "Why Doesn't God Do Something?" Rev. 6:10. A young people's service will be held at evening worship, with Bill Parsons offering his first sermon; he was licensed to preach in June.

Phillips Memorial Baptist Church will hear two laymen from their own congregation, in the absence of the pastor, Duke Baker will have the morning worship, with Jimmy Law leading in the evening.

Elder R. D. Lee, Birdwell Lane Baptist pastor, will offer messages on "Ark of Safety" and "Why Are You What You Are?" 1 Cor. 15:10.

At Northside Baptist Church, the Rev. R. B. Murray will bring a morning sermon on "A Worker's Plan", Rom. 15:22-29.

The Rev. J. H. McWilliams, pastor of Calvary Baptist Church, plans to preach on "The Mightiest Magnet", John 12:32, and "Isaac, a Type of Christ", Gen. 21:3-23.

Catholic

Mass will be said at St. Thomas

Catholic Church, 605 N. Main, by the Rev. Fr. Francis Beazley, OMI, at 7 a.m. and 11 a.m. Rosary and benediction are at 6 p.m. Sunday. Confessions are heard on Saturday from 4:30 to 6 p.m. and from 7 to 8 p.m. Catechism classes for grade school children are from 10 to 11 a.m. Sunday.

Christian

There will be no evening worship service at the First Christian Church, Sunday. The morning service will have a sermon by Chaplain M. A. Berkeland, of Big Spring State Hospital's staff. His topic will be "The Impossible Becomes Possible", Mark 8:1-9.

Christian Science

The spiritual power of Christ Jesus' teachings and example will be emphasized Sunday at Christian Science services in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Sacrament."

One of the key statements of Jesus to be read from the Bible is this from John (6:63): "It is the spirit that quickeneth; the flesh profiteth nothing; the words that I speak unto you, they are spirit, and they are life."

Church Of Christ

T. E. Cudd, Main St. Church of Christ minister, has announced his sermon subjects: "Who is a Christian?" and "The Blood of Christ."

New Nazarene Leader Named

Rev. Raymond W. Hurn, pastor of the Medford, Ore., Church of the Nazarene, has been appointed superintendent of the Abilene, or Northwest Texas, district of the denomination.

His appointment was made by the board of five general superintendents and approved by the Abilene district advisory board. It was announced today by Dr. G. B. Williamson, of Kansas City, the general superintendent in jurisdiction.

Mr. Hurn and family will move in August to Lubbock where the district parsonage will be located. He succeeds the Rev. Orville W. Jenkins, superintendent since 1950, who accepted a call to pastor the Kansas City First Church.

The Abilene district is one of 64 districts within the continental U. S. It comprises 92 churches, with a total of 5,200 members and a Sunday school enrollment totaling 9,700.

Cooperation

WILLOUGHBY, Ohio (AP)—Presbyterian Sunday School officials, calling teaching staff members to announce cancellation of a meeting, were unable to reach one teacher directly.

However, they did reach a neighbor—the rectory of Immaculate Conception Roman Catholic Church—and the message was promptly relayed.

All 'Banked' In

UTICA, Ohio (AP)—The Presbyterian Church here may be only one in the nation bordered by three banks, residents say. The First National Bank is on one side, the Utica Savings Bank on the other, and in the rear is a kind of branch bank—the bank of the North Fork of the Licking River.

It's Confusing

LYNCHBURG, Va. (AP)—Dr. Bernard E. Bain, superintendent of the Presbyterian Home here tells this one:

Because of a number of disastrous fires he cautioned the children against playing with matches or fire. A few days later a seven-year-old told a teacher in a worried tone that he heard over television that the White House was playing with fire.

Decisions Determine Destiny

MOSES REMINDS HIS PEOPLE OF GOD'S PAST GOODNESS AND BEGS THEM TO OBEY HIM

Scripture—Deuteronomy 29-31.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL MOSES is now a very old man, 120 years of age, he tells his people. That is an age that very few people attain today.

He called all his people together to tell them that he was no longer able to lead them into the land the Lord their God had promised them. Joshua, son of Nun, had been chosen by God to lead them.

And Moses called Joshua to him, saying, "Be strong and of good courage; for thou must go with this people unto the land which the Lord hath sworn unto their fathers to give them; and thou shalt cause them to inherit it."—Deut. 31:7.

Also Moses told Joshua, "And the Lord, He it is that doth go before thee; He will be with thee; He will not fail thee, neither forsake thee; fear not, neither be dismayed."—Deut. 31:8.

Fortified by God's promise as told him by Moses, Joshua must have been proud of his mission from the Lord, and he prepared to go with the aged leader and obey the command of the Lord.

The Lord also said to Moses, "Behold, thy days approach that thou must die; call Joshua, and present yourself in the tabernacle of the congregation, that I may give him a charge. And Moses and Joshua went and presented themselves in the tabernacle of the congregation, and the Lord appeared in a pillar of a cloud; and the pillar of the cloud stood over the door of the tabernacle."—Deut. 31:14-15.

Then the Lord told Moses that after his death his people would not be faithful to Him, who had brought them out of Egypt and given them a land of their own. If they would again turn to the worship of "strange gods," His anger would be such that He would "Hide My face from them, and they shall be devoured, and many evils and troubles shall befall them; so that they will say (at that day): Are not these evils come upon us, because our God is not among us?"—Deut. 31:16-17.

The Lord commanded Moses to write a song and to teach it to the people, "put it in their mouths, that this song may be a witness. Based on copyrighted outlines produced by the Division of Christian Education, National Council of Churches of Christ in the U.S.A. and used by permission. Distributed by King Features Syndicate.

It must have been hard for Moses not to be able to enter this land to which he and Joshua were to lead the people. But, as always, he obeyed the command of his Lord.

So he blessed the tribes of Israel, and "went up from the plain of Moab unto the mountain of Nebo, to the top of Pisgah. . . . And the Lord showed him all the land of Gilead, unto Dan. And all the Naphtali, and the land of Ephraim, and Manasseh, and all the land of Judah, unto the utmost sea. And the south, and the plain of the valley of Jericho, the city of palm trees, unto Zoar."—Deut. 34:1-2.

"So Moses the servant of the Lord died there in the land of Moab, according to the word of the Lord. And he buried him in a valley in the land of Moab, over against Bethpeor; but no man knoweth of his sepulchre unto this day."—Deut. 34:6.

His people mourned for him, but Joshua "was full of the spirit of wisdom," and the people hearkened unto him, and did as the Lord commanded Moses. "—Deut. 34:9.

For Me against the children of Israel."—Deut. 31:19. "Song of Moses" which, if there be time in the class period of teaching, should be read to the pupils in its entirety. If not, it should be brought to their attention to be read later.

After Moses had finished writing the words of the law in a book, he commanded the Levites who bore the Ark of the Covenant to take the book "and put it in the side of the Ark of the Covenant of the Lord your God, that it may be there for a witness against thee."—Deut. 31:25-26.

"And the Lord spake unto Moses that selfsame day, saying, Get thee up into this mountain, Abarim, unto Mount Nebo, which is in the land of Moab, that is over against Jericho; and behold the land of Canaan, which I give unto the children of Israel for a possession: And die in the mount whither thou goest up, and thou shalt be gathered unto thy people. . . . Thou shalt see the land before thee, but thou shalt not go thither unto the land which I give the children of Israel."—Deut. 32:48-52.

MEMORY VERSE "The Lord, He it is that doth go before thee; He will be with thee. He will not fail thee, neither forsake thee; fear not, neither be dismayed."—Deuteronomy 31:8.

MEMORY VERSE "Behold, thy days approach that thou must die; call Joshua, and present yourself in the tabernacle of the congregation, that I may give him a charge. THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Day	Book	Chapter	Verses
Sunday	Matthew	18	1-6
Monday	Psalms	103	1-8
Tuesday	John	3	14-17
Wednesday	Jeremiah	33	9-11
Thursday	Romans	14	19-23
Friday	Psalms	23	1-6
Saturday	Psalms	95	1-6

The sight of a child playing in the sun — a reflection of God's goodness!

At such moments, children seem like echoes of God's love. In their own boundless joy, with their unquenchable enthusiasm, they point the way to truth, love, faith and beauty.

It is a way all of us can follow. By turning to God with a child's simplicity, by seeking Him through the Church, we can emerge from life's shadows and stand again in the full light of eternal truth.

Find your way to church . . . this Sunday.

Texas Skies Look Clear

By The Associated Press
Thursday's thunderstorms and showers gave way to clear weather over much of Texas Friday, but the Weather Bureau warned it probably won't last.

The only moisture reported Friday was in the form of showers which fell along the Gulf Coast near Beaumont and Galveston. Skies generally were clear in the rest of the state.

Rainfall ranging from sprinkles to almost three inches fell Thursday from clouds which covered sections from the Upper Texas Coast to Wichita Falls and Childress on the Oklahoma border.

Beaumont had the heaviest rain, nearly three inches. Another afternoon thunderstorm dumped 1.50 inches on Electra in North Texas.

The Abilene area also reported good rains.

Rainfall totals for the 24 hours ending at 6 p.m. Thursday included .65 inch at Galveston, .59 at Houston, .66 at Palacios, .39 at Longview, .37 at Waco, .19 at Wichita Falls, .15 at Victoria, .11 at Childress, .06 at San Angelo, .07 at Big Spring and traces at Austin, Dallas, Laredo, Midland and Harlingen.

Civic Theatre Successfully Stages 'Murder Trial' Play

"Night of Jan. 16th" saw a successful opening night Thursday, in the second production of the Civic Theatre's summer season.

The curtain was left open and the lights on as the audience filed into HCJC Auditorium. Before them on the stage was an excellent mockup of a New York courtroom, for which stagehands Roy Rosene and Dewey Magee were largely responsible.

Actors taking the part of court officials wandered on near curtain time, and then the lawyers, their staffs, and the defendant. By the time the judge arrived, the audience had the feeling of a courtroom.

The entire action took place at the same scene, the plot being that of a murder trial. Developments during the trial kept the audience guessing as to the guilt or innocence of the defendant, and ending with such a stack of evidence, obscured by the nuances of the trial, that a verdict was difficult to arrive at.

The dramatic technique of the two lawyers was mostly responsible for carrying the play to success, plus the realistic performance of the witnesses, who were stationed for the most part among the audience. But a word must be said for the actors who took non-speaking roles; their busy-looking presence helped establish the proper atmosphere without which the trial would not have seemed so real.

"Night of Jan. 16th" will continue tonight and Saturday, curtain time 8:29 p.m., at HCJC auditorium.

Leading roles were taken by Jim Tom Baker as prosecutor and Mike Maney as defense attorney. The judge was portrayed by Dalton Conway, Lida Fiveash had the lead female role as the defendant. Shirley Bailey portrayed the widow of the murdered man.

Witnesses included Fred Short, Cassie Smith, Doyle Phillips, Jack Boyd, Chuck Worley, Martha Conway, Mary Magee, Gordon Wheeler, John Findlater, Marjorie Havins.

Other roles were taken by Jim Williams, Dick Bailey, Bob Smith, Kay Loveland, Rita Gale and Mollie Henson.

Helping add to the atmosphere was the Big Spring Police Dept., which stationed two patrolmen just inside the auditorium entrance. They were Capt. Lindy Oldfield and Capt. Walter Eubanks.

Director was John Austin.

"Night of Jan. 16" has one gimmick that audiences usually find fascinating. The jury is empaneled directly from the audience, and actually comes forth with a guilty or not guilty verdict.

Called Thursday evening into the panel were Mrs. Dora Eubanks, Capt. Allen Robertson, Deb Davis, John Jones, Glenn Cootes, Mrs. Felix Jarratt, Mrs. Helen Mahoney, Mrs. Carl Griffin, Mrs. Gordon Wheeler, Mrs. Zarah LeFevre, Mrs. Joyce Cootes and a Lt. Peterson.

TV Keeps Movie Industry Kicking

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Here is a capsule report on the new economic setup of the movie industry:

This week 9 feature movies are being made for theaters. And 65 television series are being filmed.

There can no longer be any doubt that TV is keeping the movie industry alive. Every major studio is buzzing with TV activity—Warner Brothers alone has 10 series shooting, and no features. The RKO (now Desilu) and Republic (rented by Four Star) lots are now exclusively devoted to TV production.

The major studios were late to jump on the home-screen bandwagon, but they're making up for it now. The TV profits will be enough to keep them in the riskier business of making theatrical films.

Theater business looks good this summer, now that TV is suffering from re-rutinitis. The lack of new TV programming is sending Americans out of their homes to catch the dazzling display of fresh products in the theaters.

The Pat Boone family will be here through the summer, but they aren't ready to become Californians yet. "I'll have to return to New York for the TV show," the singer says. "We've got a brand-new studio there, and ABC still hasn't built a big enough plant to do the show in Hollywood. They're working on it, but they built the executive offices first."

It was nice to see Eddie Cantor squiring his wife and family around to the Las Vegas shows. The Cantors were hard hit by the loss of their eldest daughter, and both parents have been ailing. Eddie looks his usual spry self, but is taking life easy.

Gordon and Sheila MacCrae play the Kansas City Starlight Theater (7,600) capacity with "Bells Are Ringing" Aug. 3-16. It's the first modern role he has ever sung; his Warners and Rodgers - Hammerstein musicals have all been period pieces.

Charges Filed In Traffic Death

VICTORIA (AP)—Charges of negligent homicide were filed yesterday against Martin M. Acosta, 28, Nuevo Laredo, Mexico, in the traffic death Wednesday night of Eldridge Dobbins, 46, of Edna.

Acosta is accused of parking his truck partially on the highway without proper lights. It was struck by Dobbins' motorcycle.

Businessman Dies Of Bullet Wound

RAYMONDVILLE (AP)—Grady Mercer, 42, Raymondville businessman, died in a local hospital today from a bullet wound in the head.

Mercer was found in critical condition in the driveway of his home last night with a .22 caliber wound in the temple.

No verdict was returned immediately.
