Disastrous Country Club Fire

Here's general view of the smoldering ruins of the Big Spring Sunday. A bolt of lightning is blamed for the fire which broke out storm.

Country Club after it had been swept by an early morning blaze in the midst of a deluge of rain and during a vivid electrical storm.

LIGHTNING BLAMED

Damage Up To $100,000 In Fire At Country Club

The worst fire in many years destroyed a building at the Big Spring Country Club early Sunday morning. The damage has been estimated as high as $100,000.

Firemen blamed a lightning bolt hitting the air conditioner as the cause of the blaze. Mrs. Shirley Robbins, wife of the club professional, said they heard a loud noise about 5:30 a.m. and discovered smoke coming from the lounge and men's locker room. Sparks and fire were seen shortly after.

Firemen arrived at the club about 6 a.m. and fought the blaze for three hours with two trucks and about 18 men. There are no water taps in the area and the fire trucks were pulled up on a practice green near the swimming pool and water was pumped from there to squelch the blaze. Firemen used 950 feet of water hose. The lounge and men's locker room were gutted by the fire and the ball room was damaged beyond repair. The building and furnishings were insured for $65,000. Neil Hilliard, club secretary, said a temporary replacement for the building would be found.

It was the second major fire in the city this year to be caused by lightning. A cleaning establishment on West Third was destroyed last month by fire that was started by a lightning bolt.

The heavy rains had made the ground soft around the club and both fire trucks were mired down in the mud. A wrecker was called to remove the trucks after the fire was out.

Lightning Sunday morning also struck the top of the courthouse, breaking loose some stones. A Texas Electric Company pole was hit in the 500 block of Northwest Seventh.

Rains Of Up To 4 Inches Hit Area, Higher Toward South

Rains, accompanied by one of the most spectacular demonstrations of lightning seen in several years, pelted the area early Sunday left the county with measurements of up to four inches.

The precipitation was even higher south of Howard County.

The storm built up suddenly with rolling thunder and hit Big Spring shortly after 4 a.m. It continued in lesser degree until about 8 a.m.

The official measurement at the U. S. Experiment Station was 2.40 until 8 a.m. After that, the reading was .03. Heavier amounts were recorded about the city, however. Webb AFB found 2.70 inches of rain in its gauge. Near the VA Hospital, however, 1.9 inches was measured.

TESCO gauged 2.65 at its Big Spring plant, and a gauge in the Douglas Addition showed 2.2. In the Cosden refinery area, the measurements were from 1.7 to 2 1/2 inches.

Ed Friendly, who lives southwest of Webb AFB, got 3.25 inches. A light hail accompanied the one-inch rain in the Vealmoor area, and in the Fairview area, 1.4 inches of rain fell.

In the southwestern part of the county, the rainfall was widely varied. A. J. Stallings, in Lomax, got 1.6 inches, while Rexie Cattle got 2.7. Hudson Landers got four inches not far away.

Forsan received 2.28 inches, and an inch fell at Moss Creek Lake.

At Coahoma, Ralph White recorded an inch, while at Luther, a gauge showed 1.75. County Judge Ed Carpenter at Vincent recorded only .6.

The heaviest rains fell in Glasscock County, although Garden City had only an inch. The Lorin McDowell Ranch, southwest of Garden City, got 5.55 inches, and the Lucian Wells place in the same general area got an even five inches. Northwest of Garden City, the measurements were from 1-1 1/2 inches.

East of Garden City, two inches were measured, and in the vicinity of Lees Store, the rainfall varied from 2 1/2 to four inches.

High waters blocked the Garden City-Big Spring highway until about 11 a.m. Sunday. This was at the Joe Carter Draw. The Garden City-Sterling City road, which is now under construction, was muddied considerably by the rains, and traffic was slowed.

Colorado City received 1.96 inches of rain, according to Tom Goss, but the TESCO plant there reported 1.18 inches. At Morgan Creek, TESCO got .90, and the Otischalk gauge showed 1.6 inches. The rainfall at Lake J. B. Thomas was 4 inches.

Ex-Sen. Blakley's Condition Same

DALLAS (AP)—The condition of former U. S. Sen. William A. Blakley remained unchanged yesterday, hospital attendants reported.

Blakley—financier, oilman and rancher—suffered a heart attack Friday. He remained in critical condition under an oxygen tent, but was reported "resting much more comfortably."

Slick Fingers, Green Thumbs

CORPUS CHRISTI (AP)—Thieves really made away with some long green here yesterday. According to R. S. Gray, they got off with a 60-foot strip that was 3 1/2 feet wide—all of it dug from his front lawn.

No Senate Action For Compromise

Airman Dies As Result Of Wreck Injuries

A.2.C. Sidney E. Kelley Jr., 20-year-old airman at Webb AFB, died shortly before noon today as result of head and internal injuries sustained in an auto accident near here early Sunday.

Another airman was hurt, but his condition is not considered serious. Kelley's parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Kelley Sr., live in Barnstable, Mass.

The incident occurred 3.4 miles east of the city limits on U. S. 80 as the pair were returning to Big Spring about 1:45 a.m. from Moss Creek Lake, the highway patrol related.

The base reported that Kelley's companion, A.3.C. Charles Perkins, was only slightly hurt, Kelley, 20, sustained severe head injuries, while Perkins was only bruised and cut.

According to the highway patrol, Kelley was driving the 1952 Plymouth. The car left the road and turned over. Both airman were thrown from the vehicle, highway patrolmen said.

Seven Mishaps Week-End Score

Seven accidents were reported in the city Saturday and Sunday, one involving an ambulance making an emergency run to a hospital. It was the second time in three days that an ambulance has been involved in a traffic mishap.

It occurred at Johnson and 4th about 8:20 p.m. Sunday. Jimmy Martin, the Nalley-Pickle ambulance driver, was transporting a patient to the hospital from a mishap near Ackerly. Martin was hospitalized but injuries were not considered serious. Driver of the other car was U. S. Buckley, 611 Runnels.

Pedro G. Ferreria was the patient in the ambulance. He had fallen out of a pickup truck at the intersection of U. S. 87 and Farm Road 2002. Jewell Franklin was driver of the truck. Ferreria, a bracer, refused treatment at Big Spring hospital. This mishap occurred about 7:40 p.m.

Other mishaps during the week-end included:

Donald Carl Rallsback, 606 Scurry, and Donald Wayne Mills, 1603 Donley, were in collision Sunday about 9 p.m. at Gregg and 22nd.

This morning in the 300 block of Runnels, Enoch Gerald Kennedy, 1003 E. 10th, and Walter A. McElroy, Fort Worth, ran together about 9 a.m.

Saturday about 9:30 p.m., a wreck at Douglas and West Fifth involved Billy Gene Greenfield, 1109 Syracuse, and Laura H. J. Johnson, 710 E. 15th.

In the 200 block of North Gregg about 10:45 p.m., Sgt. Leo Marvin Jones, Webb AFB, was in collision with a police car. The car was driven by Wayne Tollet and Sonny Wimberley.

An Army man stationed in Odesa received a dislocated shoulder Saturday when he fell out of a parked truck at Sterling City. He was brought to Malone and Hogan Hospital here for treatment. He was identified as SP3 Edward A. Lemmus.

INFLATION HITS PRISON EXITS

CHEYENNE, Wyo. (AP)—When the Wyoming Legislature passed a bill increasing from $15 to $35 the cash payment given prisoners discharged from the state penitentiary, Rep. Oscar Hall had a logical explanation. He attributed the increase to "the high cost of leaving."

Russ Dogs Back Safe From Space

LONDON (AP)—The Soviet Union rocketed two dogs into space July 10 and brought them back to earth, Moscow radio said today.

The broadcast said the dogs were carried aloft in a ballistic rocket weighing 2,200 kilograms—4,845 pounds.

Quoting an official Tass dispatch, the radio said a quantity of equipment was also parachuted back to earth.

The first announcement gave no details of the height attained by the rocket.

One of the dogs, Daring, was making its fourth ascent into space, Tass said.

Daring, another dog named Snowflake and a rabbit named Marfooshka (Little Martha) were shot up in a 4,009-pound rocket on July 2 and were recovered, the Russians announced a week ago.

"Information is reported to have been obtained on the entire range of the research program," Tass said.

The agency described this program as including "measurements of infra-red radiation of the earth and the earth's atmosphere, photographing of clouds over a vast territory, a simultaneous analysis of the ion and neutral composition of the atmosphere and a measurement of the electrostatic fields."

One Dead After Church Shooting

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—A burst of automatic gunfire broke the Sunday calm at the Tulsa Baptist Temple. One person was killed and three were wounded.

J. R. Swarb, 34, a self-service laundry operator, threw down his .25 caliber automatic pistol when cornered by a traffic policeman.

The berserk gunman fired at least six shots into the congregation just before the start of morning worship. Services resumed with a visiting minister in the pulpit.

Police Commissioner Robert L. Mawhinney said Swarb tried to kill his ex-wife's husband, Kenneth Starnes, 33. Instead he fatally wounded his ex-wife's mother, Viola M. Bridges, 49.

Starnes was critically wounded. His wife, Earlene Starnes, 31, was shot in a leg. Cornelia Bragg, 58, wife of the U.S. commissioner in Tulsa, was also wounded in a leg.

Kozlov Is Now An Expert On America

By WILLIAM L. RYAN AP Feature News Analyst Frol Rornovich Kozlov can turn the results of his two-week tour of the United States to a useful purpose. He is now in a position to advise his boss, Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev against any fatal miscalculation regarding the strength and intentions of this country.

It was the Soviet first deputy premier's first venture in his totally indoctrinated adult life outside the Communist orbit. It would have been difficult for him not to be impressed by what he saw in the United States.

To a news conference on the eve of his departure for Moscow he insisted his trip did not change his mind about one thing: that the United States someday will live under a Soviet-like system. But Khrushchev will be interested in his notions about the timetable for this.

It is likely Khrushchev will want as factually a report as possible, to compare it with the findings of First Deputy Premier A. I. Mikoyan, who made the same trip early this year. Between the two reports Khrushchev may believe he can get an idea of what sort of resistance the U.S. government and public might put up to further Communist expansion.

The two men probably will differ in interpretation of the things they have seen. Mikoyan is an old Bolshevik revolutionary with a highly cynical outlook toward things as they seem to be. Kozlov is a born bureaucrat, representative of the new generation of Soviet functionaries who know nothing of revolution first hand. He was only 8 years old when the Bolsheviks seized power.

Because he was an old Bolshevik and one-time confidante of Stalin, because he has the look of a reckless Armenian bandit, because he is a man of colorful personality, Mikoyan's visit aroused much more attention than that of Kozlov.

Tax Pressure Back On House

AUSTIN (AP)—The Senate put the pressure back on the House today by taking no action on the House request for a new conference committee to work on a tax bill compromise.

Sen. Wardlow Lane, Center, sponsor of the tax bill and member of the Senate Conference Committee, said he had no plans to ask for another compromise effort.

"It would be a physical impossibility to work out another tax bill before the session ends," Lane said. "Those five House members couldn't agree on a bill themselves before Thursday."

The compromise bill was approved 24-7 last week by the Senate but rejected 81-64 by the House in a Saturday session.

The Senate action, or lack of it, added weight to an effort in the House to get representatives to take back their Saturday vote.

Those backing the bill—including forces of Gov. Price Daniel, Speaker Waggoner Carr and a number of lobbyists—organized to ask reconsideration of Saturday's 81-64 unfavorable vote.

However, the showdown was postponed when Carr laid out for debate the controversial measure (HB11) upping student fees at state colleges.

The student fee bill came up after Rep. H. J. Blanchard, Lubbock, tried to recess the House until 10 a.m. tomorrow.

Rep. James Cotten, Weatherford, wanted the House adjourned until tomorrow. If the House recessed until tomorrow a majority vote could reconsider Saturday's tax bill decision. If it adjourned a two-thirds majority would be needed. After a long conference with numerous House members, Carr refused to put either motion to an immediate vote.

In the midst of debate on the student fees bill, motions to recess and to adjourn until tomorrow were made again. This time Carr accepted them, explaining how each motion would affect last Saturday's vote.

"I don't want anyone to vote ignorantly," he said. "If you adjourn you cut off one of the avenues of solving the tax problem."

The House defeated both motions. The motion to recess lost 111-28 and to adjourn 73-64.

SUSPECT IN JAIL

Murder Charged In Gomez Slaying

Murder charges were filed Sunday morning in Justice of the Peace Walter Grice's court against Nichio Villarreal, 27, in the fatal shooting Saturday night of Alberto Gomez, 22-year-old northside bartender.

Police Capt. Walter Eubanks signed the complaint.

Gomez was pronounced dead on arrival at Big Spring hospital about midnight Saturday. The shooting occurred at the Jalisco Cafe, 305 N. Bell, about 11:45 p.m. Officers said the bullet appeared to be a .38 caliber. Gomez was hit in the chest and apparently the slug hit his lungs and the main artery to the heart.

Police officers arrested Villarreal after questioning a large number of witnesses at the cafe. Capt. A. N. Stannard and Detective Jack Jones took Villarreal to Lubbock Sunday for lie detector tests. Police Chief C. L. Rogers said this morning that further tests may be made in Austin.

The shooting at the cafe was preceded Saturday by a disturbance which led to the police being called. This was about 11:30 p.m. When officers arrived, they were told that Gomez had argued with a subject who had brandished a gun. Apparently officers said the man returned and fired the gun a number of times in the street outside the cafe. Witnesses said Gomez went to the door to investigate the gun fire and was shot while standing in the door. When officers arrived, Gomez was lying on the ground outside the door. Funeral services were held at 9 a.m. today for Gomez in Sacred Heart Catholic Church. Father Francis Beasley officiated and burial was in the Catholic Section of the City Cemetery. River Funeral home was in charge of arrangements.

Gomez was 22 years old and made his home at 308 NE 6th. He had lived in Big Spring for seven years.

Survivors include his parents Mr. and Mrs. Alexandro Olivio, one brother, Joe Olivio, two sisters Mary and Ramona Olivio, all of Big Spring.

Butler Claims Replacement Plot

WASHINGTON (AP)—Paul M. Butler says some Democrats want to replace him with a member of Congress as Democratic national chairman so they can control the party's 1960 convention. He doesn't think they will succeed.

Butler said he will continue to urge a more "positive and aggressive" legislative program in Congress. He considers it his job, he said, to express "what I feel to be the majority point of view."

In a news conference Saturday and in a television interview Sunday, Butler insisted he's only reporting the sentiment he finds and not directly criticizing such leaders as Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas and House Speaker Sam Rayburn (D-Tex.).

Son In Chains

Deputy U. S. Marshal Jesse Wheeler fastens a restraining chain on Karl H. Meyer, 22, after the youth was arrested for violating probation. Young Meyer, son of Rep. William H. Meyer (D-VL) was one of a group of pacifists who pleaded guilty to trespassing after trying to enter a missile base project at Mead, Nebraska. Ordered to stay away from the site, the young man appeared again and was taken into custody.

Ike Plea Renews Steel Talks, But Walkout Still Threatens

NEW YORK (AP)—Stalled steel negotiations got under way again today at White House bidding but with scant prospect of an agreement to avert a strike at midnight Tuesday.

The union promised to make "an all-American try" at negotiating a strike-saving settlement.

R. Conrad Cooper, chief industry negotiator, threw cold water on settlement prospects and showed irritation in posing with union President David J. McDonald for photographers.

Cooper said there was only one possible way a strike could be avoided—for the union to again extend its contract. The bargaining talks had broken off Sunday with no further negotiating sessions scheduled.

President Eisenhower this morning urged both sides to resume the meetings to try to reach a strike-saving solution.

McDonald, however, ruled out any further delay in a showdown. The union earlier had granted a two-week truce but it expires at midnight Tuesday.

Cooper said the union already has caused the industry injury by the fact that many firms have had to close down some facilities in the costly preparation for an orderly industry shutdown.

Three days are normally required for a big steel plant to make an orderly shutdown without damaging equipment.

The Steelworkers Union rejected a renewed proposal by the industry that the contract be extended beyond Tuesday midnight. After President Eisenhower had intervened, the industry and union agreed to a two-week extension beyond the original June 30 expiration date.

McDonald said, "The industry does not want to negotiate and does not want to make an agreement." In view of that, he said, a further contract extension would be pointless.

The industry said a new and indefinite contract extension would be "the only practical way" to prevent a strike.

Only a dramatic change in position on the part of the industry or union could alter the situation.

The industry refused to grant any wage or other concessions unless the union agreed to give the firms leeway to make cost-cutting work practice changes.

The union offered to engage in an industry-union study of questioned work practices but it refused to make any such trade.

Easy Way To Save Your Car's Finish

Johnston's Polishshampoo, remarkable compound for removing fume and dust stains from your car, is remarkable, too, for the remarkable ease with which it can be used. Putting fine polish on your car is easy if you use Polishshampoo. Try it on your car.

Polishshampoo Gains Favor

Johnston's Polishshampoo is a scientific formula made only for car washing . . . made to help you maintain the beauty and value of your car. It not only removes every last particle of dust, dirt, grit and grime, but actually renews the brilliant gleam of the original car polish.

Polishshampoo is so easy to use that a small child can do it! All you do is pour an ounce of Polishshampoo into a bucket and fill with water. The rich Polishshampoo suds do the washing for you. Apply by sections, simply rinse off. Car dries quickly without rubbing or wiping.

Thousands of car owners are now giving their cars the quickest, easiest, best washes they've ever had with new Polishshampoo. It's really inexpensive . . . 8 oz. 8 shampoos 98 cents; 16 oz. 16 shampoos $1.79.

Available at Piggly Wiggly, J. O. Newsom, J. E. Greens, Jacks Drive-In, Tobey's Drive-In, Hull & Phillips and your local grocery store.

Don't let dust and dirt from the roads ruin your car's beautiful appearance. Try Polishshampoo just once. See how it rids the finish of your car of grime and dullness. Notice how the original bright colors are restored.

One trial of Polishshampoo will sell you on its merits. Once you have used it, you'll never change to any other brand.

Friendliness And Best Service Harland Motto

Want a road map? Or a check on the pressure in your car's tires? Or maybe a check on the water in your vehicle's battery or radiator?

You can get all those things without spending a dime at Harland's Magnolia Service Station, located at 1000 Lamesa Highway in Big Spring.

Of course, Grady Harland, owner and operator of the concern bearing his name, would like to have your business. His establishment specializes in complete vehicle servicing, which means it gives the best in the changing of crankcase oil, greasing and washing of vehicles.

You don't however, have to buy anything when you stop in the driveway of the Harland station.

Grady, however, reserves the right to try and make a regular customer of you if you do call on him. He thinks he can do it by using plain, old West Texas hospitality, a factor on which he has built his business.

Whether you want some of Magnolia's premium products, need a fan belt or simply would have to have your car's windshield cleaned, Grady Harland wants you to make it a practice of calling on his concern.

Harland, of course, maintains a vehicle for emergency service. That service is available to any motorist who might be stranded within the immediate area. For that reason, Harland's service is as close as the nearest telephone.

Family Wash No Problem

It's too hot these days to do that family laundry — especially when you can send your clothing to the Ideal or City Laundry for so little money. Further, you can be sure the Ideal or City will return your garments to you shining clean and finished expertly.

All you need to do is pick up the telephone. Call AM 4-6231 — that's the Ideal Laundry — or AM 4-6801, the City Laundry.

In no time at all a pickup truck will be at your door and your dirty clothes on the way to the laundry. In an amazingly short time they'll be back — clean and perfectly finished.

You'll be happy at how little this all costs you. And you'll be even more happy that you have been relieved of the drudgery of washing when the temperature is unpleasantly high.

Modern laundry machinery, skilled personnel, up-to-date methods — these are the factors which make the laundry services of Ideal and City Laundries so widely and favorably known in Big Spring.

Campbell Is Specialist In Handling Concrete

Have you wished that vacant space in the back yard, maybe under a big shade tree, had a patio under it? Or perhaps there is some other concrete work around the house you have been intending to have done.

Now is a good time to get the work started. A good number to remember is AM 4-2407, Charles Campbell, concrete contractor.

No matter what you have planned, Campbell and his men have an excellent reputation for concrete work and they have the necessary tools to do the best job for you. Whether a new driveway, a walk, some curbing, or a fence, the job will be economically and attractively completed by Campbell.

Throughout Big Spring, there are businesses and homes that have been attractively remodeled by Campbell with fine brick and stone.

Anything from a small curb to a complete remodeling job can be handled by Campbell and the quality of the final job is sure to please. Remember the number when you are ready to start work, AM 4-2407.

Nearly every home in Big Spring needs some sort of concrete work. Many homeowners have put off doing these jobs largely because they are uncertain as to a good dependable firm with which to place the assignment.

There is no need to wait if this is what is holding you away from doing whatever it is that needs doing. Campbell's reputation is such that any householder can turn over a job to him and know the work is going to be done exactly the way it should be done.

Often times, just a little job, left undone, tends to mar the appearance of the entire place. If that's your situation — telephone Campbell.

MRS. JAMES ASHBY McMULLAN JR.

Miss Ratliff Is Bride In Wedding At Eldorado

In a Sunday afternoon wedding, Miss Ratliff, became the bride of Dr. James Ashby McMullan Jr. in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Thomas Ratliff, Eldorado. They are the uncle and aunt of the bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Harrison Ratliff, Modesto, Calif.

The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Ashby McMullan of Ozona and the late Mr. McMullan.

The single ring vows were taken before the Rev. Morris Bratton, pastor of the First Methodist Church in Ozona.

An improvised altar was formed of the fireplace mantel which was backed with greenery as a base for candles. On each side of the fireplace stood baskets of flowers.

Ratliff gave his niece in marriage. Ivory peau de soie made the ballerina length wedding gown that featured a basque waist topped with lace which extended into brief sleeves. Gaunlets of peau de soie covered the forearms.

A fingertip veil of illusion was attached to a pearl crown, and the bride carried a white, yellow-throated orchid on a white ribbon.

Bridal attendants were identically frocked in melon silk organza, frosted, with bodices completed with melon lace. They all carried colonial bouquets in the shade of their dresses.

Sara Grace Sandlin of Mount Pleasant was maid of honor; bridesmaids were Sara Esther Keys of Big Spring and Gretchen Gerlach of Corpus Christi.

Ronnie McMullan of Big Lake served as his brother's best man, while another brother, Joe Mc-Mullan, Ozona, and Dr. Bill Lilly of San Saba, were groomsmen. Tapers were lighted by Shannon Ratliff, a cousin of the bride.

At the reception, held in the Ratliff home, tiny bags of rice were distributed to guests by Rebecca Ratliff and Betsy Humphrey.

Refreshments followed a yellow and white theme, with the bride's cake of three tiers topped with an orchid.

At the guest register was Mrs. Marshall Montgomery of Ozona. Members of the house party were Mrs. Bill Holland of Rock Springs; Mrs. Lee Carpenter of El Paso; Mrs. Jack Wilkins, Mrs. John Lee Henderson Jr., both of Ozona, and Mrs. Ronnie McMullan.

The bride attended the University of Texas, where she was a member of Zeta Tau Alpha, serving as historian of the sorority. She was also a member of the Ashbel Literary Society. Until her marriage, she was an employe of Cosden Petroleum Corporation.

The couple will make a home in San Angelo, where the bridegroom, a graduate of Texas A&M College, is a doctor of veterinary medicine.

Even A Queen's Wardrobe Comes In For Plenty Of Criticism

By FRANCES LEWINE
Associated Press Staff Writer

A little girl in Chicago looked at Queen Elizabeth and lamented: "But mommy, she's not wearing a long dress."

A Toronto woman in her 80s raised an eyebrow at the Queen in a cool, gray and white checked outfit and said with surprise: "She looks like a little girl."

From the very young to the very old, Britain's Queen Elizabeth II is fair game for the fashion critics.

Nobody is quite sure what a 20th century Queen should wear. But getting drama into her daytime dresses seems to be the big problem.

Pedestrian, girlish, unimaginative is the way some newspapermen and women traveling with the Queen have described her daytime wardrobe in the first weeks of her tour across Canada.

They have applauded the gay colors—jade, bright pinks, yellows and especially becoming turquoise blues—and the glamorous full-skirted "every inch a queen" evening dresses.

But the shirtwaist type, pleated skirt, undramatic daytime designs are criticized as not doing justice to the attractive 33-year-old 5-foot-3 Queen. Some feel more should be made of the Queen's trim waistline.

For her Chicago visit, a high spot of the tour, the Queen stepped ashore in one of her dressiest, morning costumes and made a hit. "Overdressed as a tourist, but not as a Queen," the Chicago Tribune commented.

The Queen wore a full-skirted oyster white lace dress, retrimmed in shades of brown and accented with a beige and brown taffeta cummerbund sash. With it went a matching wide brimmed hat, white accessories, a triple strand of pearls, small pearl earrings and a diamond pin at the left shoulder.

The dress was by Hardy Amies, who with Norman Hartnell, another London designer, has provided the Queen's royal tour clothes.

Unlike a fashion model who can just stand and pose, the Queen has a rather vigorous role.

It has been pointed out that she likes to be comfortable in her clothes as she walks parade grounds, stands in a jeep to review troops or in the cockpit of the speedy royal barge coming into dock.

Her handbag is always one with straps to be held on her arm so she can have her hands free for ceremonial duties.

Hats, provided by Claude St. Cyr, a Parisian milliner, and Aage Thaarup, a Dane who works in London, have been cloche and toque styles with organza and draped chiffon, and some pert straws. Her shoes, mostly white and beige on this tour, have been open-toed and sling-backed, with a moderate heel. As one fashion writer put it, "a bit stocky by current stiletto standards."

Like any other woman, the Queen suffers from wind-blown skirts and hats.

Often she is seen holding onto her hat with one hand as she rides in an open car on a windy parade ground.

When the Queen's taffeta dress billowed up above her royal knees in Toronto, a British newspaperwoman moaned that it had not been properly weighted and said with a laugh "heads will roll."

Once, the Queen changed her hat after a morning of worrisome wind.

It is reported she gets a choice of three hats to go with each daytime dress.

Toastmistresses Fete Out-Going President

An informal tea was a courtesy extended to Mrs. Donald Barr Saturday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Kenneth Tucker.

Mrs. Barr is the out-going president of the Tall Talkers Toastmistress Club, and guests were members of the club. Included were two new members, Mrs. Walter Bosselmann and Mrs. Harley Snyder.

Refreshments were served from a table laid in a copper shade and centered with an arrangement of yellow gladioli, mums and daisies. Crystal holders supported triple candles on each side of the flowers. A cake was inscribed with frosting to give best wishes to the honoree.

Incoming officers are Mrs. Hubert Thornber Jr., president; Mrs. Tucker, vice president; Mrs. Gregg Smith, secretary, and Mrs. Hollis Smith, treasurer.

Mrs. Leroy Tidwell is membership chairman; Mrs. Glenn Hartwell, club representative, Mrs. J. C. McVeigh, hostess, and Mrs. Leonard Einstein, chairman of publicity.

Avocado Mold Is Accent For Fish

A choice accompaniment to light meals, particularly those featuring fish, is this Avocado Mold. It's pretty as well as delicious.

Here is the recipe:

AVOCADO MOLD

1 envelope unflavored gelatin
1/4 cup cold water
3/4 cup boiling water
2 tbsps. lemon juice
3/4 tsp. finely grated onion (pulp and juice)
1 1/2 cups finely mashed avocado
1/2 cup mayonnaise.

Sprinkle gelatin over cold water in a medium-sized mixing bowl to soften. Add boiling water; stir to dissolve gelatin. Stir in lemon juice, onion, avocado and mayonnaise.

Turn into six 1/2-cup size individual molds. Chill until firm. Unmold. Garnish with carrot curls. If indented mold (similar to Mary Ann pans) are used, place carrot curls in indentations. Makes six servings.

Fig Dessert

In his book, "Esquire Culinary Companion," Charles Baker Jr. tells of a mouth-watering dessert enjoyed in Spain. Ripe figs are dusted with confectioner's sugar and a bit of cinnamon, then moistened generously with oloroso sherry. Marinate overnight, if possible, serve garnished with whipped cream.

Miss Lindley Honored At Bridal Tea

COAHOMA — Delores Lindley, bride-elect of Marcus Stanley, was honored Friday evening at a bridal shower in the home of Mrs. Boone Cramer. Serving as cohostesses were Mrs. Fred Adams, Mrs. Forrest Appleton, Mrs. L. F. Anderson, Mrs. Weidon Weaver, Mrs. P. F. Sheedy, Sharon Finley and Glenda Denton.

The refreshment table was covered with a lace cloth and centered with an arrangement of yellow and white flowers. Miss Findley and Mrs. Weaver presided at the table, and Mrs. Adams registered guests.

Miss Lindley, who is the daughter of Mrs. C. T. Lindley, Big Spring, and the late Mr. Lindley will be married to Marcus Stanley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Nolan Stanley on Friday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Bates left Sunday for North Dakota, where they will join their son, Billy Bates and family and return to Coahoma with them. The younger Bates have been residing in North Dakota for several months; on their return here they plan to go into business and make their home in Coahoma.

Mr. and Mrs. Mutt Robinson and family attended the funeral of his brother who passed away in Electra last Friday.

Guests From Dallas

Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Rainey, Lockhart Addition, have had as their guests, her sister, Mrs. Jewel Toland, and a niece, Mrs. Charlie Scott and Juanita, all of Dallas. The guests also visited in the home of the Rainey's daughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Hull, Ellis Homes.

Settles Baptist WMS

Mrs. J. T. Grantham will bring the lesson on Ways of Witnessing for members of the Settles Baptist Mission WMS Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock at the church. Mrs. R. Fitzgerald will be in charge of the social hour following the study.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

By TOMMY HART

Johnnie Frankie, the Rice Institute basketball coach who stepped in here the past weekend to check on Bill Thompson, the Big Spring all-district player he signed to a letter-of-intent some time back, says his arduous task of recruiting has been completed.

He's signed about seven athletes, two of whom reside in Illinois. He's counting on Bill to play regularly for the Owlets next season.

Bill and the other freshmen can and will start working out immediately after arriving at the Houston school but league rules dictate that Frankie must remain away from the drills until Oct. 15.

Johnnie, who has been bringing the Wharton Junior College game team to the Howard College tournament every season, says he is hired for the Rice job "almost overnight." He was invited in for an interview with Jess Neely, the head man in athletics at Rice, and asked for ten days "to think it over."

Jess told Johnnie he couldn't wait that long, however. He is officially hired on a Saturday night and went to work the following Monday morning.

The Frankies still reside in Wharton, by the way, but are on the verge of moving to Missouri City, a suburb of Houston. He'll be about 12 miles from his work. It'll take him about 16 minutes to get to and from work each day.

Mrs. Frankie paid Big Spring a long, overdue visit with her husband on this trip west. She started up this way for the Howard College tournament one time but became ill en route and had to return to Wharton.

Thompson's schoolboy coach here, Vernon Harton, was a well-known cage official in East Texas before he came to Big Spring.

He recalls he was refereeing a game in which one of Frankie's teams was involved a few years ago and found himself endorsing a verdict his co-worker had made and which Frankie challenged as an incorrect call.

Vernon reasoned to himself the other whistle tooter might have blown the play. He had no alternative but to back up the decision, however, and he found himself "under the gun" when Frankie pressed his point.

He slowed but didn't stop Frankie's charge by calling a technical foul on the coach, then signaled another to blunt Johnnie's explosive tirade for once and for all.

Johnnie, of course, is well known for his sideline antics around here. He is always in good voice when his teams are in action. His chatter was not bitter invective, however, and he always leaves the game in the gym. He never holds a grudge against anyone.

He should become one of the most popular and colorful figures in Southwest Conference basketball.

Johnnie, whose alma mater is Rice (he was a senior there back in the '30s when Big Spring's Olie Cordill was a freshman), should be able to remain at the Houston school as long as he likes. Rice treats its hired hands well. Fact is, it has dismissed only two coaches since Neely arrived on the scene and neither was a head coach, Don Suman, Frankie's predecessor, quit coaching of his own accord. He's still with the school, however.

LI'L LEAGUES LAUNCH CITY PLAYOFF GAMES

Little League City playoffs get under way in all four local parks this evening, with 22 teams poised to bid for the title.

The Yankees of the National League, which won the crown a year ago, are long-shots, at best, to finish on top. The Yanks finished fourth in their own circuit.

The Jets of the American League, masterminded by Pat Patterson, rule as slight favorites to win it all. However, the Dodgers of the National League should be able to give the Jets a run for their money and could win it all.

Two of the games this evening will start at 5 p.m. In one, the Pigs of the American League challenge Campbell's of the Texas League in the American Park.

In the other, Reef Oil of the Texas League opposes the Yanks in the National League park.

Another outing is set for a 7 o'clock start. That sends Cabot Carbon of the American League against National League, in the International league stadium at Webb AFB.

These three games are scheduled for 7:30 p.m.

TEXAS PARK — Stars of the American League vs. Kent of the Texas League.

AMERICAN PARK — Cosden of the Texas League vs. Jets of the American League.

NATIONAL PARK — Dodgers of the National League vs. Sabres of the International League.

The Odd Fellows of the Texas and the Braves of the National League drew first round byes and vie at 5 p.m. tomorrow in the American League park. The Cubs of the American League drew a bye in the first round and challenge the survivor in the Pigs-Campbell's game Tuesday in the National League stadium.

VFV of the National League, another lucky team in the first round draw, doesn't play until Tuesday, at which time it opposes the Reef-Yankee survivor in the National League park.

The Rockets of the International League don't play until Tuesday, at which time they challenge the winner in the Stars-Kent engagement in the Texas park.

The Cornets of the International League were assigned a first round bye and challenge the survivor in the Devils-Colts imbroglio in the International park.

Other teams drawing byes include the T Birds of the International circuit, who oppose the winner of the Cosden-Jet contest in the American park; and the Locals of the Texas League who await the outcome of the Dodger-Sabre battle for a second round game. The locals will see their first action in the Texas park Tuesday night.

The American League stadium is situated on the H.C.C. campus. The International park is at Webb AFB. The Texas League stadium is on the Snyder highway at 12th Street while the National League park is just off San Angelo highway south of town.

A single loss eliminates any team from the tournament.

Indian Star On Rampage

Look out Harmon Killebrew. Forget about Babe Ruth's home run record for the time being. The guy to watch right now is Rocky Colavito.

The Bronx-born slugger of the Cleveland Indians major league home run lead by banging his 27th and 28th of the year Sunday.

The pair of four-baggers, Colavito's fourth since the All-Star break, helped the Indians gain an uphill victory over Detroit and a split in their doubleheader. The Indians won the second game 8-4 after losing the opener 6-2.

The split left Cleveland with a one-game advantage over Chicago's White Sox, who swept a doubleheader from Kansas City 5-2 and 9-7. Baltimore's third place Orioles defeated Washington 5-1 and Boston made it four in a row over New York with a 7-3 triumph.

In the National League, Milwaukee whipped San Francisco 4-2, and Cincinnati defeated Los Angeles 4-3. Pittsburgh edged St. Louis 6-5 in 10 innings of the first game of a doubleheader and led 5-4 in the ninth of the second game, halted by curfew. Philadelphia defeated Chicago 4-1 after the Cubs had won the opener 7-6.

A Cleveland crowd of 54,727 saw Colavito smash two home runs in the second game, his second coming with two on in the sixth inning to overcome a 4-2 Detroit lead. Killebrew, whose 30 home runs in Washington's 83 games match the pace on Ruth when he slammed his record 60 in 1927, went hitless Sunday.

Colavito has 28 in 81 games. Last year, the Rock walked 27 of his 41 homers after the All-Star break.

Rocky's four pitchers batted in helped relief pitcher Jim Perry gain his fourth victory in five decisions. The rookie right-hander relieved starter Al Cicotte in the third and allowed no runs and four hits in 6 innings. Paul Foytack, helped by Harvey Kuenn's two-run homer, won the opener for the Tigers with a six-hit performance.

Jackie Jensen drove in four runs with a home run and two doubles and relief pitcher Bill Monbouquette relieved five-hit ball through 6 1-3 innings as the Red Sox won their sixth game in eight starts under their new manager, Billy Jurges. The defeat dropped the Yankees under the 500 mark again with a 41-42 record.

Hoyt Wilhelm finally won his 10th game. The knuckleball specialist, who lost four straight after winning his first nine games, hurled a four-hitter for the Orioles. Billy Gardner and Joe Taylor homered off loser Russ Kemmerer and Baltimore outfielders Gene Woodling and Willie Tasby collected three hits apiece.

Rookie outfielder Jim McAnany hit bases-loaded triples in each game to lead the White Sox to their double victory over Kansas City. He capped a five-run first inning of the opener with a base-clearing wallop off Bud Daley and duplicated the feat in the fifth inning of the second game to give the Sox a much-needed 9-0 lead.

The Athletics scored two runs in the sixth, three in the seventh and two more in the ninth to make the second game close. Bob Shaw was credited with his eighth victory against three defeats in the nightcap. Ray Moore won his second game in the opener.

Don Sol triumphed in Ruidoso Race. RUIDOSO, N. M. (SC) — Don Sol, owned by Doyle Vaughn of Big Spring, Texas, won the inaugural race of the day here Sunday, a six-furlong event, with E. Minchey in the saddle.

Don Sol paid $9.60, $4.60 and $3.80 and beat Jane's Agent to the wire.

Third was Dancing Deedie, owned by Jerry Currie of Big Spring. Dancing Deedie paid $4.30.

The daily double payoff on Don Sol and Arctic Rose, winner of the second race, was $31.60.

Don Sol was clocked in 1:14.8. The pari-mutuel handle for the 12-race program was $348,245. The attendance was 6,500.

Bob Wright Sixth In Golf Tourney. PLAINVIEW (SC) — Bobby Wright of Big Spring placed sixth in the Plainview Invitational Golf tournament here Sunday with a 36-hole medal score of 145.

The winner was Bobby Nichols of Midland, who finished at 131.

Roland Adams of Lubbock was the championship consolation winner with a final 70. He finished ahead of Bobby Bluhm of Big Spring, who had a 71.

Moss Creek Catches

Roy Pickle, one of the area's most enthusiastic fishermen, is shown with two catfish he caught with a rod and reel and Moss Creek Lake recently. He was using red china minnows as bait. The larger fish weighed 25 pounds, the smaller one 11. It took Pickle 25 minutes to bring in the 25-pounder.

Souchak's Game Improved When He Shed 20 Pounds

By CHARLES WELCH PITTSBURGH (AP) — Shed pounds and save strokes says golfer Mike Souchak.

The 196-pound hard hitter from Grossinger, N.Y., says the fact that he has trimmed off 20 pounds in recent weeks was a big factor in his Western Open championship. He won it Sunday by a single pressure-packed putt on the eighteenth green on the Pittsburgh Field Club. Picking up the $5,000 check made the careful dieting well worth while, he observed.

Actually, the difference between winner and runnerup was more easily measured in inches. Souchak putted accurately from four feet on the final green for a brilliant 65, five shots under par, a 72-hole total of 272.

His closest rival, Arnold Palmer of Ligonier, Pa., missed his putt from two feet and had to settle for a shaky 71 round that wadded out his lead at 54 holes and left him all alone in second place with 273 strokes.

The difference amounted to $2,500. Palmer got just half as much as Souchak.

The duel of the two fairway stars was a dramatic climax to a par shattering tournament which was, surprisingly, a substantial failure at the box office.

The course records were set at the Field Club, first at 65 and Friday at 63 strokes, the latter by Dutch Harrison, of St. Louis. Souchak and Palmer played together Sunday with Palmer holding a 5-shot edge at the first tee. Souchak caught up at the eleventh, then they matched stroke for stroke with a birdie and five pars to the 220-yard uphill eighteenth.

Third money of $2,000 went to big George Bayer, from Lemont, Ill., who finished with 274, six under par and a stroke better than Ted Kroll, Sarasota, Fla., who won $1,500.

ABILENE (SC) — The Abilene A's twice defeated the Nabors Paint Store team of Big Spring in softball exhibitions here Saturday night, 1-0 and 4-2.

The second game went two extra innings and was determined when Joe Williams clubbed a home run with Boots Betty on base. Spec Franklin was the pitching victim.

Roy Weeks shaded Franklin in the mound duel, striking out ten

Lad, 13, Heads Safari For Dr. Schweitzer

NAPLES, Italy (AP)—The sergeant's son didn't go through channels. He wrote direct to the general.

As a result, 13-year-old Bobby Hill will be off Tuesday at the head of an airborne safari carrying about $400,000 worth of medicines to Dr. Albert Schweitzer in French Equatorial Africa.

Lt. Gen. Richard C. Lindsay, commander of NATO's air force in Southern Europe — personally will see the Negro boy off.

Bobby's father, Staff Sgt. Henry Hill of Waycross, Ga., is stationed here at Lindsay's headquarters. Last month Bobby got to thinking about the men waging the battle for peace. He remembered his father often spoke of the "peaceful purposes" of NATO. He remembered reading about Schweitzer, the Nobel prize-winning philosopher who has worked in Africa as a medical missionary for almost half a century.

Bobby put these thoughts in a letter to Lindsay.

"I want to help Dr. Schweitzer," he wrote. "I have asked my father to buy some medicine. He told me he would buy me as much as he can if a way is found to have it delivered to Dr. Schweitzer."

"As I have not succeeded in finding any other solution, I think that your planes, if they go where Dr. Schweitzer is, could deliver the medicine for me."

"Maybe other persons also will feel what I feel and will offer medicine too."

Bobby closed the letter with an apology for not going through channels—through his father, that is.

Lindsay was impressed by the letter.

An Italian officer on his staff told the Italian state television network about it. An appeal went out over the network.

Gifts of medicine for Schweitzer started to pour in. Some persons sent bottles of aspirin.

An Italian pharmaceutical firm dispatched $350,000 worth of supplies, a NATO spokesman said.

French and Italian air force officers arranged for two flying freighters—one French, one Italian—to carry the 9,000 pounds of medicines to Schweitzer.

The medicines purchased with Bobby's contribution were packaged separately in a shoebox-sized container.

Bobby and about 30 officers and newsmen will go along. They will reach Libreville, in French Equatorial Africa, Friday. Then they will go by truck to Schweitzer's hospital at Lambarene.

Schweitzer is expecting them. He already has sent his thanks to Bobby and Lindsay.

Firemen Get Rest From Brush Fire

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Confident that the brush fire has been completely controlled, the fire department has pulled its equipment and men out of the blackened Laurel Canyon area.

The department withdrew its 20 fire companies Sunday and public works crews moved into the hillside residential area to begin restoring services and clearing roads.

Battalion chief Walter C. Runyan said there was little danger of a new outbreak in the sector where 38 homes were destroyed by flames and two others were damaged.

The Red Cross said the average loss per home was about $22,000.

Roof Falls In

MEXICO CITY (AP)—The roof fell in and buried two families living in a tenement yesterday. Two persons died and three were seriously injured.

14 Passports To Local Folk During Month

Fourteen passport applications were received by the district clerk during June, one more than was received during May.

In all, 72 passport applications have come in this year.

Most applications came from dependents of armed forces personnel, and a majority of the passports are for passage to Europe. Other applications are for the Far East and also Central and South America.

Two of the east-bound citizens, George Larson and William Hensley, are in the All-America Choir making a tour of Europe.

The entire list for the month: Dorothy Jane Knouse and children, Libya; Dixie Louise Lauderdale and children, Japan; Juanita Brown and children, Okinawa, Japan; Philippines, and Hong Kong; and George D. Lawson, Canada and 10 European countries.

Also Maureen Ellen Holmes and children, Germany; Esther Simpson and children, Brazil; William Munal Hensley, 10 European countries; Roberto Galindo, Mexico, Guatemala, and El Salvador; Betty Marion Montgomery and children, France; Thomas Edward Ernest, Europe; Beverly Ann Bower and children, England; Cordella Belle Benedum and children, Germany; Melba Gay Mickle and children, France; and Louisa Humphrey and children, England.

Big Quarter Horse Show Slated Here For Aug. 1

Entry blanks have been mailed to over 400 quarter horse breeders concerning the 1st Annual Quarter Horse Show to be held here Aug. 1, the county agent announced.

Most of the entry blanks were dispatched by Ralph Dye, secretary of the West Texas Quarter Horse Assn., but a few were sent

Vagrant Caught

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (AP)—The vagrant led police quite a chase after he was spotted in a room at the Maple Hotel.

Later he was captured in another room by police who took no chances. They slipped a noose around his neck.

The raccoon was locked in a clothes hamper until officials decide what to do with it.

Travelling Texans Continue Tour

ROME (AP)—A group of Texans touring Europe planned to leave here early today for Genoa, with a stop en route in Pisa.

The tour is sponsored by the Fort Worth Star-Telegram.

Yesterday the Texans ended a three-day visit in Rome. The 24 members of the party were in St. Peter's Square when Pope John XXIII appeared at a window of his private apartment and gave his blessing to all persons below.

Bomb Shelter Honeymooners Keeping House

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—The nation's first bomb-shelter honeymooners kept house today in fortress-like privacy 10 feet under Miami's sun-baked flatlands.

Melvin Mininson, 28, and his bride, Maria Rodriguez, 27, of Tampa, hope to spend two weeks in their room-sized, steel and concrete bower to publicize bomb shelters and civil defense. If they stick it out, sponsors of the stunt promised them a second honeymoon in Jamaica.

The Mininsons inched down a hatchway ladder into the shelter about 5 p.m. Sunday. At 9:30, telephone callers reported, they were asleep and none too happy over being awakened for a check on their well-being.

"They said they were very tired," said Cecil O. Barnard, president of Bomb Shelters Inc.

which arranged the subterranean honeymoon.

Barnard said Mininson reported the shelter's temperature had dropped appreciably from 89 degrees registered before they climbed into it. "It's cooling off. We're feeling very comfortable," Mininson said.

"Have the people all gone?" pretty, dark-haired Mrs. Mininson wanted to know. She was told they had.

There were people galore—including pickets—topside as the couple recited their vows in wedding finery and went underground.

Five placard-carrying women identified themselves as members of the Greater Miami Committee for a Sane Nuclear Policy. One said the underground honeymoon was "a promotion for financial gain that prepares people psychologically for war."

The couple's quarters are 8 feet wide, 14 feet long and 7 feet, 7 inches high, equipped with cooking and toilet facilities, food, electricity and a telephone-unlisted. They have a radio but no TV set.

"We wanted to keep conditions close to what they might be in an emergency," Barnard said.

Texas Church Leader Is Dead

PARIS, Tex. (AP)—A Texas Presbyterian leader, Dr. Jasper Manton, 67, Dallas, died yesterday after a heart attack.

Dr. Manton was vice chairman of the General Council of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church, U.S.A. He also was director and treasurer of the Synod of Texas Presbyterian Foundation and of the Synod Receiving Agency of the United Presbyterian Church, U.S.A.

He retired in 1956 as pastor of Trinity Presbyterian Church in Dallas.

Dr. Manton was born in Paris, son of a Presbyterian minister.

He had pastorates in Chicago, Ill., Hillsboro and Sherman before going to Dallas in 1931.

Sweet Vandals?

HOUSTON (AP)—Baker Everett Newton told police yesterday he thought striking bread truck driver-salesmen dumped sugar in his automobile's gas tank while he was at work at one of seven struck bakeries.

Newton said he found a sticky substance in the carburetor and fuel pump of his car after it stalled while he was en route home from work. He has been an employe of the bakery for 17 years.

House Panel May Have Labor Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House Labor Committee may complete work this week on a labor-management control bill.

This was reported today by committee members after a month of wrangling behind closed doors over details of the bill already passed by the Senate.

The faction-split committee this week tackles the major controversial provisions of the Senate measure—the "Bill of Rights" for labor, and amendments to the Taft-Hartley labor relations law.

Although the big fight still is to come, Chairman Graham A. Barden (D-N.C.) has won an agreement from a majority of the committee to try to wind up bill-drafting sessions by Friday night.

Completion of a committee bill this week could clear the way for House action possibly by Aug. 1, thereby removing one barrier to adjournment by Labor Day.

A number of factors are seen as improving chances for a committee windup this week.

One is the conviction of House leaders that Congress must enact some labor legislation this session.

Another is the evident belief among many members of the labor group that regardless of what kind of a bill they draft, a floor fight for wholesale revision of the committee version is inevitable.

Already there are indications that efforts will be made on the floor to use the bill as a vehicle for major changes in the Taft-Hartley law. This is opposed by leaders, who want to avoid a Taft-Hartley fight if at all possible.

When it went into closed door sessions a month ago, the committee bypassed the main points of controversy and concentrated first on what it felt were general areas of agreement.

It has now completed work on the Senate bill's requirements for reports by unions and their officers, provisions covering union trusteeships, and sections protecting the election rights of union members.

While more than 60 amendments have been written into the Senate bill on these less controversial sections, the effect has been more to change the language than to make major revisions.

DEAR ABBY

SOMETHING FIGURES!

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am 28 and my husband is 29. We've been married for nine years and have two children. A well-built neighbor girl started coming to our house in her bathing suit. (There's no place to swim within 20 miles of here.) She is 17 and very cute and likes to horse around with my husband. She asks him to drive her to the grocery store which is within walking distance. He jumps at the chance. I don't like the way he looks at her. Am I silly to be jealous? He never gave me cause to worry before. I wish you could tell me what to do. I can't figure it out.

of the child is supposed to support the child or help out in any way. We don't want to start any trouble if there is nothing to gain.

TROUBLED PARENTS

DEAR TROUBLED: Go to your Family Service Association. They will tell you what the laws in your state provide for your daughter. Your local Legal Aid Society can also help you. Do not let this important matter go by without acting on it at once. Good luck!

DEAR ABBY: Will you please print something about people who take vacations to visit their relatives? I am a RELATIVE, not a VACATIONER.

My husband's sister comes with her husband and three small children and they stay all summer. She sits around while I do all the work.

All the unemployed relatives come from miles around to see "Sister." I am cooking and cleaning up from 7 a.m. until 11 p.m. My husband says I shouldn't complain because he'd do the same for my relatives. He knows he's safe. I have one brother in Formosa. How can I put a stop to these summer vacations? BEAT DEAR BEAT: You'll never discourage your guests by giving them the Waldorf treatment. MAKE IT A DO-IT-YOURSELF VACATION: If your sister-in-law doesn't offer to help—ask her to. People who let others impose on them in the name of hospitality deserve the aching back that is sure to follow.

DEAR ABBY: I am writing this in defense of all beauty operators who have to put up with gabby customers. You printed one from a lady who signed herself STANDING APPOINTMENT who has to put up with a gabby hairdresser. When some women go to a beauty parlor they take their hair down in more ways than one. We beauty operators would love to let them "relax" but how can we when they are forever talking about their husbands, neighbors, sickness and bills? They shove snapshots under your nose and blow smoke in your face. We even have to play nursemaid to their children and dogs while they're reading a magazine under the dryer.

I'll be disappointed in you, Abby, if you don't print this to show both sides of the story.

BEAUTY OPERATOR

DEAR ABBY: I have an 18-year-old daughter. She is expecting in October and is not married. We know who the father is. There are no plans for marriage and there aren't going to be any, under the circumstances. We are wondering if the father

A Devotional For Today

An angel of the Lord appeared to Joseph. (Matthew 2:13.)
PRAYER: Our dear heavenly Father, we thank Thee for godly fathers. May we, in turn, be helped in our homes, so that our children may see in our lives Thy loving hand and guidance. In the name of Thy Son Jesus. Amen.

Job Still To Be Done; Let's Get Together

While the immediate issue of a Public Housing project was disposed of in the special city referendum Saturday, there remains before Big Spring the demand and the challenge to proceed with a workable program that can, indeed, help bring about better living conditions in various distressed sections of the city.

The verdict Saturday ought not to be taken by anyone — principally those who opposed Public Housing as a specific — to mean that the community can continue to ignore the need for vast improvement.

The Herald repeats what it has said before — that men of good purpose who make up the Big Spring Civic Improvement League deserve commendation for focusing attention upon a situation that certainly ought to be corrected. While this newspaper questioned the real efficacy of Public Housing, it certainly does not question the need for a concerted, broadly planned program to accomplish just what the League wants to accomplish.

While interest is still high in the general situation, it is time that the leadership of the community band itself together for a course of action.

Perhaps it would be well to look at the possibilities and potentialities of urban renewal — another federally-sponsored program that covers territory not reached by Public Housing. Perhaps definite steps could be taken toward extending water, sewer, paving and other utilities to areas not now adequately served. Perhaps a close look could be taken at city building code requirements, to bring about housing improvements. Perhaps there are better ways to bring about real enforcement of health and sanitation regulations.

All of these are factors: all need to be encompassed in a community study. If we have a "master plan" for the entire community, why not some special planning for the blighted areas, for the underprivileged? We think one of the first good steps that could be taken would be for the leaders on both sides of the Public Housing question as debated last week to sit down together and review the whole problem. They campaigned without rancor, and there's no reason why they shouldn't look at a new approach in harmony. We're all citizens of the same city, all have a desire to better it.

Out of such a conference might come a new unity of leadership, a new cohesion, a new force not to be denied.

Promises Have A Hollow Sound

Nikita Khrushchev told visiting American governors recently that "Soviet Russia has no desire to export communism and no desire for expansion." He added that if a disarmament agreement could be reached his government would cooperate with the United States in helping underdeveloped countries.

These promises have a hollow sound, not only because Khrushchev uttered them and they are therefore suspect per se, but because they echo what was said twenty years ago by a fellow named Hitler.

After the rape of Austria and the partitioning of the Sudetenland, Hitler solemnly affirmed that he had no further "territorial ambitions."

It is doubtful if any responsible statesman really believed him, but these lying words had their effect. At the time the U. S. was having the devil's own time with the Nazi Bund, just as we were having trouble with Communist cells and fronts in this country then as now.

Words and promises are meaningless when uttered or given by totalitarian dictators bent on world conquest.

Actions speak louder than words. History repeats.

David Lawrence Moral, Legal Aspects Of Segregation

WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower really said nothing novel when he explained at his press conference last week that he favors "equality of opportunity in both the economic and the political fields" for all citizens, and that, if a Catholic happened to be "really a qualified, responsible individual running for office, my vote would never be changed on the basis of his religion."

The President has always made it clear that he favors equal opportunity for all citizens where governmental action is concerned. What the President was careful to omit from his comments was any intimation that the individual citizen has lost his right to discriminate on social or personal associations with other citizens. This right is called "freedom of association," and it has the backing of the latest decisions of the Supreme Court of the United States which, time and again, have drawn a line between the right of individual choice where private schools or clubs or other organizations are concerned, and the citizen's rights in public facilities of any kind.

portunity is still affected by the right of the voter to discriminate in his selection of public officials. He need give no reason for his vote, which is secret.

As for the use of public facilities, on the other hand, the theory that the government itself may not discriminate has been a subject of lengthy controversy. The courts have not always defined "discrimination" in the same way.

It is this combination of social and educational factors which has really caused the bitterest controversy, as well as given rise to expressions on the part of many lawyers and jurists that the Constitution was properly interpreted years ago when it was held that the states, and not the federal government, should decide who shall or shall not be admitted to a particular public school.

In a sense, Dr. Ralph Bunche, prominent Negro who is a United Nations official, recognized the other day the legality of private discrimination. While conceding that a private club may exclude whom it pleases from membership, he went on to denounce as "shocking in New York City" the refusal of the West Side Tennis Club to grant membership to himself or to his son. Dr. Bunche has every right to take his case to the court of public opinion, but, followed to its logical conclusion, there can be no conformity by coercion.

If discrimination is to be abolished in every human relationship, it must come from the voluntary acts of individuals. This, to be sure, brings out deep-seated differences of viewpoint about social mixing and its effects in such controversial fields as intermarriage. It is quite possible that the Supreme Court of the United States someday may strike down as invalid those state laws which today prohibit intermarriage between the races. But the right to discriminate in picking one's mate will hardly be taken away by law, inasmuch as the Constitution, as interpreted by the Supreme Court, guarantees "freedom of association."

Our New Peril

James Marlow Butler And His Double-Think

WASHINGTON (AP)—Paul Butler, Democratic national chairman, has had a severe case of double-think. Five years ago, he says, he did not consider segregation a political issue. Now, he says, he does.

This may seem incredible to those Democrats in Congress already mad at him for criticizing them. The question of civil rights, which includes segregation, has been a political issue many years. It gives them a chance to ask: "Mr. Butler, you've been in politics 32 years but where have you been?"

Life has not been exactly jolly for the peppery, 54-year-old Indiana lawyer since he became his party's chief of staff in 1954. He has pot-shot at the Republicans ever since. Last week he fired on his own troops.

He said the Democrats in Congress are not doing enough and are playing too much ball with President Eisenhower. They responded in various ways, including the suggestion he shut up or get out.

Over the weekend he cut loose with more of the same criticism of Democrats and also accused Eisenhower of saying too little on segregation.

Eisenhower has never said whether he thinks the Supreme Court's 1954 ban on public school segregation is good or bad. Last week he said he thinks segregation is immoral when it interferes with a citizen's political or economic opportunity.

This is another way of saying when it interferes with a Negro's right to vote or earn a living. But Eisenhower still left unsaid whether he thinks the principle of segregation itself is immoral.

At a news conference Butler said Eisenhower didn't go far enough. He said: "Segregation is immoral period."

He was then asked about a story in the Atlanta Constitution, which reported that Georgia's Democratic chairman, John Sammons Bell, has a pledge from Butler, written on the back of an envelope, that he would not try to make segregation a national issue.

Butler tried to brush aside the story as "old political business." He said he signed the paper in 1954 when he was elected Democratic chairman; that segregation then was a legal matter "and I did not see any reason to make it a political issue."

He said that was the way he felt about the Supreme Court's ban on public school segregation of May 1954. He was named chairman in December 1954. But he added: "Through the force of circumstances" integration has become a major social interest.

"Any problem that affects any segment of the population must become the concern of a political party," he said.

This is where Democrats angry at Butler could point out that by his reasoning — since the Negro segment of the population has been affected by the segregation problem for generation — it has been a political problem a long time.

They could point out—just taking the past 10 years—that it has actually been a very real and explosive political problem particularly in the Democratic party, although Butler didn't seem to think so until recently.

For example: The Southern Democrats' filibusters against civil rights legislation. Their opposition to President Truman's civil rights program which asked a ban on racial discrimination in voting and employment, the two fields in which Eisenhower says segregation is immoral.

The split in the Democratic party in 1948 when Southern Democrats walked out of the convention because of the party's platform plank on civil rights which proclaimed the right of racial and religious minorities to live, work, vote and get full protection of the laws.

Butler could also be reminded of 1952 when he was an original supporter of Adlai Stevenson for president and how the party's platform that year also proclaimed a civil rights plank.

By the time the 1956 presidential year came around Butler was condemning the Eisenhower administration for not doing enough on civil rights and promising the civil rights plank in the 1956 Democratic platform would be stronger than in 1952.

Pondering The Future

Around The Rim

What's Ahead: A Bug-Proof Patio

The biped known as man — and you wonder about his mental processes at times — has spent 2,000 years trying to set his table beyond the reaches of the ants and the flying insects.

So what has he been doing the last few years? He's bought himself a redwood table and built himself a barbecue pit in his back yard. And those who haven't succumbed to the trend are accused of living in times removed.

The return to the great outdoors is so pronounced there's more than a few of the thunderous masses who scratch out a living by writing about the mass migration. In fact, entire magazines have turned over their entire layouts to the endeavor.

Time was when the front porch and the ice box were the most important parts of the home, especially in the summer time. You sat in the swing, with a fan clutched in one hand and the fingers of the other mitt wrapped around a cold glass of tea, if you were inclined toward the latter.

These days, however, everyone retreats to the back yard for their coffee and cakes — probably by way of the side gates. They might have invested a bundle of boodie in their 20-room bungalow but perish the thought of them staying indoors any more than they have to.

The next step obviously is the construction of Indian-type tepees and I think that's coming, if the households can find a way to have the mailman deliver their dividend checks to them without trampling the verbenas planted down the sides of the house.

It's not unlikely the exodus will become so complete, the family will turn the house itself over to Prince Jasper of Ogg (the pedigree's Lap dog).

I hope to have a large patio eventually, operating on the theory that the larger the patio the smaller the watering bill is going to be.

Said patio will, let it be said, be armed with jets jutting from the ground wherein insecticide could be aimed at the bugs, bees and nosy birds flitting within the boundaries of the project — complete with a central operating system.

Come to think of it, maybe the bugs are peculiar to my neighborhood. Some parts of our fair community must be entirely free of them. Else why do they stage a convention at my place every time the sun goes down?

Inez Robb

One Teamster Who Bucks Hoffa

By ED KOTERBA

(Writing for Inez Robb, who is on vacation.)

WASHINGTON — Jim Luken of Cincinnati got a call from the undertaker. The mortician told him, "I'm supposed to come by and pick up your body."

At the same time, Luken's brother was receiving flowers for the funeral.

Mr. Luken is a maverick Teamster official, 37 years old, a milk truck driver, and the father of four children. And he still looked alive when I saw him testify before the Senate rackets committee.

Those ghastly happenings, he told Sen. John McClellan (D., Ark.) were coincidences — coincidences while he was successfully bucking the Jimmy Hoffa crowd out in Ohio.

The young, hard-driving milk man was — and still is — president of the Teamster Council No. 26 in Cincinnati. His success since taking over in 1955 has been so enviable that twice the big chiefs of the international headquarters sent men to disrupt his union. One man was run out of town and the other ended up in the penitentiary for false pretense.

About those coincidences... Mr. Luken, philosophical, scrupulous, articulate and calm, said they started right after he won the election, over the opposition of William Presser, who is Ohio's No. 1 Teamster boss and Hoffa's yes-man.

"I got about 100 phone calls," he said. Sometimes the voice on the other end would say, "Get out of town," or "All right, get your bags packed." But mostly they were ghost calls — only silence on the other end.

But what really jarred him were the anonymous calls to his wife. "Your husband's running around with other women," they said.

That was similar to what happened to one of his elected officers last March, he told the committee. A woman accused the man of immoral assault. The grand jury, however, refused to indict him.

Later, the accuser came around to the Teamster office and admitted the charge was false, that she was put up to it by the Teamster hierarchy.

For this she received $195. If the man would have been indicted, Mr. Luken reported she said, she was to get $1,000 more from "the great white father in Washington." Mr. Luken assumed she meant Jimmy Hoffa.

Sen. McClellan wanted to know if Hoffa and Presser may have been the cause of all these strange coincidences.

The free-talking Teamster said carefully: "I will say they wouldn't have happened if I hadn't opposed Hoffa or Presser."

Sen. McClellan smiled through his chronic scowl. He called that reply "a negative way of saying yes."

All these startling events the man from Cincinnati related as a person immunized to surprise. Like the calm way he described his last election.

It was so important to James Hoffa that he sent one of his men over to keep an eye on the balloting, which was done on newly-installed voting machines. "A fair election," the overseer chortled.

But when it was discovered that Mr. Luken won, the international headquarters called another election — this time to vote on taking out the voting machines.

Mr. Luken won that contest, too.

Somehow, I get the feeling that Mr. Hoffa and Mr. Presser don't like Luken.

Call It What You Will, It's Inflation

Nathaniel Polster, business editor of the Morning News and Evening Press of Savannah, writes that he is a "bit confused" about "inflation" these days.

So many modifiers are used — wage-push inflation and demand-pull inflation and administered - price inflation and monetary inflation — that Mr. Polster asks a single question: What is inflation? A sensible question deserves an answer.

We all know inflation when we meet it in the grocery store — in higher prices of meat or butter or strawberry preserves.

We feel it when we get our doctors' bills or buy medicines at the drug store or purchase gasoline for automobiles.

We recognize it in the jump in letter postage from 3 to 4 cents or in the advance of telephone rates or in our monthly utility bills.

We discern it when we get our television sets repaired or that leak in the shower stopped.

We see it in the cost of clothes and shoes and house furnishings.

Inflation is human behavior translated to prices.

Some prices may fall; some may stand still; but most go up. The cost of living goes up. That's inflation, to imply that business men and workers gang up on the consumer — cost-push inflation. And there's buyers' inflation when consumers buy like crazy — demand-pull.

Inflation, like boolee, is still itself, no matter what you call it. It's a price rise. We're all parties to it, as beneficiaries and victims. Most of us like it while it lasts. Let him who is without sin cast the first stone.

The companies have oligopolistic (semi-monopolistic) power over prices. Again, this is a casual, or a propagandistic, definition of inflation. Big bad business men are the big bad purse-snatchers.

Monetary inflation or money and credit inflation occurs when the Federal Reserve Bank unleashes so much credit that banks make loans or investments freely. This pumps up the money supply. Too much money chases too few goods.

Deficit inflation. When the Federal Government borrows money to pay salaries, purchase defense materials, make loans to foreign nations, it creates a super-charged demand for goods, and prices advance. Private companies, by borrowing, also cause deficit inflation.

Markup inflation. During an industrial boom, sellers discover that the "traffic will bear" higher markups than previously charged. So they boost their profit margins. This is sometimes described as "profit inflation."

Speculative inflation occurs when business men or individuals purchase real estate, or raw materials, or inventories, or stocks, in expectation of further price advances. There's also tax inflation or cost inflation as sellers pass on taxes or higher costs into their prices. There's also sellers' inflation, to imply that business men and workers gang up on the consumer — cost-push inflation.

Inflation, like boolee, is still itself, no matter what you call it. It's a price rise. We're all parties to it, as beneficiaries and victims. Most of us like it while it lasts. Let him who is without sin cast the first stone.

Tabernacle Choir Notes 30th Year

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
NEW YORK (AP)—In the face of broadcasting's high mortality rate, it is refreshing to report that next Sunday one group of performers will celebrate its 30th anniversary on the air. It is the Salt Lake Tabernacle Choir, composed of 375 Mormon volunteers.

Actually, the choir is 112 years old. It was started when the first Mormons reached Utah and now is the largest permanent choir in the world. By a long shot, it is the oldest network musical program around, radio or TV.

Some members of the choir have sung with the group for more than 40 years; one family has three generations of members among the singers. All serve without pay and the program is a real community effort.

Membership is based on vocal and musical ability, but also on exemplary character and willingness to attend all rehearsals and performances.

The choir, which sings old and new hymns in eight part harmony has a repertoire of 1,000 songs. It has sung all through Europe, performed twice at the White House and won a Peabody Award.

The anniversary show will be heard on CBS Radio, July 19, from 11:30 a. m. to noon, EDT, except New York where it is scheduled from 10:30 to 11 p. m.

Daytime TV viewers have a confusing time of it this week. The heroine of NBC's Monday-through Friday soap opera, From These Roots for many years has been Ann Flood. She played Liz Fraser, an unmarried young journalist. Well, sir, Ann Flood really is Mrs. Herbert Granath, and she retired from the show last week to await the birth of a child. Usually, when members of a series cast must be absent from a show, it is customary to write them out of the plot for a time. But they couldn't do that with Liz. So this week there's a new face with the old name.

Susan Brown has taken over Ann Flood's part.

Change is always a problem in a continuing series.

Hope Emerson, who plays Mother in NBC's "Peter Gunn" has been signed for a big role in CBS' forthcoming Dennis O'Keefe series.

As a consequence, it is reputed something drastic is going to happen to cause Mother to disappear from Gunn's life. Nothing unpleasant, we trust, for it isn't fair to knock off a lovable character in a crime story.

A lot of us were pretty upset when it became necessary to kill off James McIntyre in "Naked City." McIntyre just wanted to go back to California to live and work, but they had to kill him to make room for a new top dick, Horace McMahon.

Aldine School Board Drops Members, Harmony Seen

HOUSTON (AP)—Feud-weary Aldine school patrons, split for months in a squabble which led to bankruptcy of their treasury, looked forward today to harmony with a new school board.

Court action Friday removed a three-man board minority accused of pushing through a tax rate which fell far short of budgeted expenses. Two leaders of a majority faction quit Saturday night.

It sincerely hope that we are closing the door on an era at Aldine that has been marked by turmoil, confusion and dissension," Board President Richard Cass said in submitting his resignation. The suburban district's 9,000 students got a three-week vacation last spring when the schools ran out of money and teachers walked out. Sheriff's deputies were called to break up a riot at one board meeting held in an effort to solve the dilemma. Only two trustees elected last spring remained of the seven members who split on financial and administrative matters.

Dist. Judge Thomas Stovall named three new members Friday to replace those ousted and the new board elected two Saturday night to replace Cass and Jack Buckley.

Stovall removed trustees Robert Whitmarsh, Harry Ammons and Carl Tautenhahn after a jury found them guilty of misconduct and incompetence in office.

The three led a majority which last August set a $1.35 tax rate to support a budget which called for expenditures requiring a rate of $1.59 per $100 valuation. The Legislature authorized the district to issue $200,000 in time warrants after it went broke last April. But a bank tied up proceeds from the warrant sales when the two factions were unable to agree on who was entitled to sign checks.

A Texas Education Agency representative helped work out a truce for disbursement of funds. Whitmarsh, Ammons and Tautenhahn claimed Cass and Buckley were not qualified to serve on the board because they live in areas annexed by the Houston School District.

Judge Stovall named John Wallace, owner of a publishing firm; Joe Bailey, feed and hardware store owner, and Floyd Hoffman, a graphic arts designer, to replace those removed by the court.

Trustees elected Ivan Carlson, manager of an overall service, and Royce Owens Jr., telephone company employe, to succeed Cass and Buckley. Then they named Wallace president.

Friends Subdue Youth On Catwalk

ROBY, Tex. (AP)— Friends helped subdue yesterday a youth who threatened to jump from a catwalk 80 feet up a water tower.

The youth, 19, spent three hours perched on the catwalk, threatening to jump. Finally, two friends talked him into letting them go up to him. They held him and two power company linemen went up and brought the youth down.

The youth gave no reason for his actions.

'Ignorance, Confusion' Charged In Near-Disaster Of Airliner

NEW YORK (AP)—"Ignorance and confusion" ruled at Idlewild Airport while a crippled jet airliner with 113 persons aboard circled the field, the city fire commissioner charged.

Fire Commissioner Edward F. Cavanagh Jr. said Sunday that city firemen got little or no cooperation from Port of New York Authority personnel who run the airport. Instead, he said, they encountered an arrogant attitude.

The Pan American World Airways plane, which dropped part of its landing gear just after taking off for London, circled the field for four hours before making a safe emergency landing early Sunday.

Austin J. Tobin, executive director of the Port Authority, responded hotly to Cavanagh's criticism. He said the fire commissioner had made an attempt "to besmirch a magnificent feat."

The rescue efforts were severely hampered by thrill seekers thronging to the airport by car and on foot. Some tramped across the meadows. Some went across Jamaica Bay by boat.

Airport authorities said there were 50,000 of them, knocking over barriers, spilling onto the field, jamming roads so fire equipment couldn't get through.

Meanwhile, the pilot circled, a mile up in the night sky, waiting to make an emergency landing. He worried about the more than 100 tons of airplane, with a landing speed of 150 miles an hour, crunching down on the broken landing gear.

He was afraid the plane might slew off the runway, or catch fire as the broken gear struck sparks from the concrete.

He circled to burn up fuel and to give firemen time to spread antifire foam over the runway.

He didn't know it at the time, but a greater danger awaited him on the ground. At least 4,000 persons lined the runway.

Officials said that the 200 airport and city police on hand were helpless. "It would have taken 10,000 policemen to keep the field clear," an airport authority said later. At one point hoses were turned on the crowd.

Traffic backed up bumper to bumper. All roads leading to the airport were tied up. The jams stretched for miles.

"People decided to make a Roman holiday out of it," said James B. Leggett, chief of city detectives. City firemen, with 40 pieces of apparatus, finally reached the scene, but were delayed half an hour getting out on the field.

Truck-Scooter Collision Fatal

BROWNWOOD, Tex. (AP)—A collision between a motorscooter and a truck yesterday killed two newsboys.

Jimmie Horner, 13, of Brownwood, died instantly. Bobby Corley, 13, of near Brownwood, died several hours later.

The collision occurred early Sunday two miles north of here as the boys delivered papers.

Gordon Woods, Cisco, driver of the truck, was unhurt.

Asthma Formula Prescribed Most By Doctors—Available Now Without Prescription

Stops Attacks in Minutes... Relief Lasts for Hours!

New York, N.Y. (Special)—The asthma formula prescribed more than any other by doctors for their private patients is now available to asthma sufferers without prescription.

Medical tests proved this formula stops asthma attacks in minutes and gives hours of freedom from recurrence of painful asthma spasms.

This formula is so effective that it is the physicians' leading asthma prescription—so safe that now it can be sold without prescription—in May tablets called Primatec®.

Primatec opens bronchial tubes, loosens mucous congestion, relieves last nervous tension. All this without taking painful injections.

The secret is—Primatec combines 3 medicines (in full prescription strength) found most effective in combination for asthma distress. Each performs a special purpose.

So look forward to sleep at night and freedom from asthma spasms at Primatec, at any drugstore. Only 98¢—money-back-guarantee. © 1958, Whitall Pharmaceutical Company

Language Inflation

SALT LAKE CITY (AP)— Police officer David Westley thinks inflation has hit the English language.

Westley, who remembers when people used to say, "for two cents I'd"—and so on, was writing out a ticket for a 19-year-old motorist Saturday night when he distinctly heard him say: "For 15 cents I'd sock you in the nose."
