But any decision would to find a way to end the Berlin still rest with the Big Four. crisis, the West proposed to Russia today the creation of a continuing conference of foreign ministers, with East and West German advisers, to negotiate a German peace settlement.

U.S. Secretary of State Christian A. Herter presented the West-ern compromise offer, after re-jecting a proposal by Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko for formation of an all-German committee to negotiate unification and a peace treaty during an 18-month Berlin truce.

"The purpose of the Soviets in putting forward the proposal is all too clearly to perpetuate the partition of Germany." Herter said in a speech to the Big Four in a for-mal session at the Palace of Na-

He then made the Western counterproposal, which would retain direct big power responsibility for German unification and a peace treaty but would specifically provide for increasing contacts between West Germany and Communist East Germany. Here is the text of the proposi-

are agreed. "The conference may also make special arrangements for the con sideration of particular questions arising out of its terms of reference as defined above.'

Herter, Britain's Selwyn Lloyd and French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville met at U.S. headquarters at noon and put the final polish on a plan for trying to get Gromyko to lower his

The Western ministers planned a strategy meeting this morning, a working luncheon with Gromkyo and a semi-public plenary conference session this afternoon.

The outline of the counter proposal was reached in a strategy session over the weekend held by Herter, Lloyd and Couve de Murville together with West German Foreign Minister Henrich von Brentano.

Western officials called the counter proposal a compromise. But few, if any, expected the Soviets to accept the plan.

The Americans were talking about a fallback position when the Soviets turned down the counter proposal. This would call for the foreign ministers to turn the entire German question over to a committee of deputies, probably at the ambassadorial level.

If no progress develops this week, such a proposal possibly will be forthcoming early next week. United States officials are still counting on a three-week conference, ending around Aug. 1.

Such a fallback position would also call for the Soviets to guarantee "existing arrangements" in Berlin either until German reunification or until the commission of deputies agreed to modify the

The 40-year-old lawyer also said that former President Manuel Urrutia, whom Castro forced out of office Friday, was in no danger in Cuba and probably would remain in the country. Urrutia was at the heavily guarded home of his brother-in-law outside Havana. Dorticos said the guard had been requested by the ex-president.

Castro accused Urrutia of near treason because he had spoken of a Communist menace in Cuba after the ex-chief of the Cuban air force, Maj. Pedro Luis Diaz Lanz. told a U.S. concessional commit-tee that Castro and leaders of his government were Communists. Castro's attack on Urrutia found strong support among the Cuban masses, but the reaction in some middle and upper class circles was adverse. The president, a former judge, was considered a moderate, his departure had removed a

MEMO TO ADVERTISERS Facts as the basis advertising investments

Once upon a time, all business men who advertised were, willing or unwilling, perforce speculators. They couldn't help it, because in those days they had no way of knowing what they would get for their money.

Today, advertising money can be invested on the basis of facts—the information in the reports of the Audit Bureau of Circulations, a cooperative, nonprofit association of nearly 4,000 advertisers, advertising agencies, and publishers. The ABC has established standards for measuring the circulations of newspapers and periodicals, just as there are definite standards for the weights and measures of merchandise.

This newspaper is a member of ABC. Our circulation is audited by experienced circulation auditors. The facts thus obtained are issued in ABC reports which show how much circulation we have, how it was obtained, where it is distributed, and other information that tells business men what they get for their advertising money when they invest in these columns.

A Devotional For Today

God said, Let us make man in our image, after our likeness: and let him have dominion over the fish of the sea, and over the fowl of the air, and over the cattle, and over all the earth. (Genesis 1:26.)

PRAYER: O Father, forgive us for seeking freedom and happiness in that which perishes, in that which brings to us misery and defeat. Help us, Father, to learn that Thou knowest best and therefore to trust Thee fully, as Jesus did. In His name. Amen. (From The 'Upper Room')

Filling Those Human Needs

We have received copies of a reprint from Nation's Business for May, head-ed "Incentives, Not Subsidies, Meet Human Needs.

The article makes the point that today's "most costly question" is: "Don't you believe in meeting human needs?" The magazine remarks that "only the wicked can answer no.

"This." it goes on, "permits those with schemes for spending government money to smear with a nasty stick anyone who dares to challenge their proposals."

Also: "So long as an ounce of emotion outweighs a pound of logic the government can thus be embarked on all sorts of adventures calculated to meet human needs that the people or their state governments have been unable or unwitting to meet.

Madame Roland exclaimed: "O Liberty! Liberty! how many crimes are committed in thy name!"

Such noble words and phrases as human needs, public welfare and even sweet charity are often invoked for ignoble purposes, to cover schemes and stratagems that wouldn't stand the clear, cold light of logic and reason. People and especially politicians fear to call them in question lest they be branded as hardhearted and uncharitable, or lose a few votes. It is easier to float with the tide than to swim against it. Of course there are genuine human needs without number, many of them painfully obvious and heart-rending. They should not be confused with questionable socio-economic experimentation and pro-Fiscal solvency is indispensable to stable government among all peoples. Public insolvency falls first and hardest on those genuinely in need of help.

The Origin Of Labor Reforms

After two and a half years of intermittent hearings the Senate rackets committee has produced a record replete with proof of wrongdoing by James Hoffa and his aides in the Teamsters Union, declared Chairman John L. McClettan (D-Ark.) in a formal statement at the close of another round of testimony by Hoffa himself. But if anything is done about cleaning up that union it will have to be done by Congress and the courts, since "no reform, cleanup or improvement of these conditions can be expected" as long as Hoffa runs the union.

Much of the wrongdoing, the chairman said, was at the expense of rank-and-file Teamster members.

Reforms are "positively necessary to restore honesty and decency" to the union, but they can never come through Hoffa, the chairman concluded

The alternative is that Congress will have to assert itself with legislation to protect the rank and file of labor, as well as the well-being of the nation as a whole.

And Congress probably will not act unless public pressure forces it.

The citizens of this country who feel that remedial legislation in labor affairs is in order ought to be so advising their senators and representatives, without delay and without equivocation

Khrushy's New Version Of World War II

WASHINGTON — Nikita Khrushchev has again undertaken to rewrite history. Sensitive to the charge that Stalin and the Communist party, by an alliance with Hitler in 1939, made World War II possion Dec. 7, 1941." ble, the Soviet premier now brazenly tells the people of Poland that the Soviets did all this "just to buy time."

Millions of Russians and Poles lost their lives because Stalin chose to make Hitler his ally and thus, by protecting the Eastern front for the Nazis, gave them a free hand on the Western front against France and Britain in the first years of World

But Khrushchev now says he was present when Stalin committed his act of perfidy in making an alliance with Hitler and that this action was fully justified. One wonders how the Soviet premier dares to say this today to the very people of Poland who, as a consequence thereof, lost their independence.

Just why Khrushchev brought up the Soviet-Nazi alliance at this time isn't clear, but it seems probably that he is smarting under the charges made earlier this year by the United States government in an "official analysis" of the Nov. 27, 1958, note from the Soviets about Berlin. The Soviets had alleged that, prior to World War II, they had "displayed operation with the other powers with the object of resisting Hitlerite aggression," and that "if the Western powers had not been shortsighted in their hopes of turning Hitler eastward and had co-operated with the U.S.S.R., millions of lives would have been saved.

The Department of State, in answering this fantastic distortion of the facts of history, said:

From 1930 to 1933 the Soviet Union through its international Communist arm, the Comintern, directed the German Communist party to collaborate with the Nazis and other extremists in undermining the German Weimar Republic. "In April, 1941, the U.S.S.R. signed a neutrality pact with the Japanese ally of Hitler, thereby clearing the way for the Pearl Harbor attack on the United States

While Nikita Khrushchev is rewriting history during his trip to Poland, it may not be amiss to remind him and the Polish people of these exultant words that Molotov—Stalin's mouthpiece—uttered on Oct. 31, 1939:

"However, one swift blow to Poland, first by the German and then by the Red Army, and nothing was left of this ugly offspring of the Versailles Treaty which had existed by oppressing non-Polish nationalities.

Foreign Minister Molotov went on to say tthat "Germany is in the position of a state that is striving for the earliest termination of the war and for peace, while Britain and France, which but yesterday were declaiming against aggression, are in favor of continuing the war."

But Great Britain and France did go to war to uphold their agreement to guarantee the integrity of Poland. Likewise. when Stalin was warned of the Hitler game, he ignored the warnings of Britain and the United States, Here's what the American document of last January says on this point:

"In March, 1941, the United States on two occasions warned the U.S.S.R. that it had received authentic information that Nazi Germany planned to attack the Soviet Union, and Prime Minister Churchill warned Stalin to the same effect in late April. But the U.S.S.R. had just shown its continued solidarity with Hitler by signing, on April 13, 1941, a neutrality pact with the Japanese partner of the Berlin-Rome-Tokyo axis, thus clearing the way for Pearl Harbor.'

What sort of "time" was Stalin buying between September, 1939, and June, 1941? He himself never withdrew from the pact with the Nazis. He was forced to abandon it soley because Hitler decided to attack Soviet Russia after the Nazis had conguered France and were in military control of the European continent. The people of Poland at least ought to be given the facts over the radio while "Czar" Nikita is touring their land.

SAN JUAN, P. R. (P)-The 18,-000 students at the University of Puerto Rico are working to help bring needed industry to this Caribbean island.

As part of their required college curricula, the students are making economic surveys on the profitability of industries locating in various communities. Students turning in the five best reports will win scholarships to top United States universities.

The surveys, suggested by leaders in the industry-seeking Bootstrap Program, aid in attracting factories to employ 80,000 out-ofwork Puerto Ricans, as well as make college students more aware of their civic responsibilities.

The Bootstrap Program's goal is to attract 2.500 factories by 1975. Since 1949, 573 United States companies have opened plants in Puerto Rico, creating 40,000 jobs.

(For Inez Robb, who is on vacation) WASHINGTON - They came - the crowds that trailed out into the Rotunda outside the caucus room-to see a duel between the two bitterest adversaries born of the Senate Rackets Committee.

This was a personal showdown between these two enemies-Robert F. Kennedy and James R. Hoffa, There were other implications which could affect the future course of the Teamsters International and thousands of industries, and the welfare of millions of individuals.

But what the crowd wanted to see was the sunburned boy with the tousled yellow hair try to knock down the smirking ogre of the Teamsters. Both had come into the glare of this ring in the center of the tall marble pile with wits honed to an edge that could surely cut through the thickest hides. Counsel Kennedy was backed up by a dozen staff investigators and eight senators-including a man who could be our next president, his brother John. Mr. Hoffa had a tier of lawyers that stretched across three rows, three chairs Neither man made much use of his seconds. Mostly, it was a two-man show. Kennedy's tactics were clear from the beginning. First, wear out his opponent frazzle his patience, make him wait and wait and wait. And Mr. Hoffa waited. itching to get to Miami, while his chartered plane stood hour after hour at National airport.

One entire day the little Teamster bigshot cooled his heels behind the hot seat. And when he finally got into it, they kept him there for four hours and 15 minutes-right through the lunch hour -without giving him even a few minutes to visit the bathroom.

The Kennedy plan was to keep punching the Teamster tyrant with embarrassing queries which implied things like misappropriated union funds and association with Communists. And Mr. Hoffa's counter-plan was the constant smart-alecky jabbing with retorts of his own making to put Bob Kennedy off balance. Sample: Kennedy asked whether Hoffa had a conversation with an alleged Communist Kennedy: Did you?

Hoffa: Did I? Kennedy: Did you? Hoffa: Did I: I don't recall . . .

The "I-don't-recall" bit was usually Hoffa's last resort. The main maneuver of the finger-pointing, knuckle-thumping, pint-sized labor leader was rambling wordyism. He'd try to confound his adversary by "wording him to death.' At one point, young Kennedy tripped Hoffa badly with a sneaky havmaker. He picked up an editorial from the Teamster magazine and implied vaguely that it may have been written by Dave Beck. It told about the threat of Communism in unions Hoffa flushed into a tirade about the article, denouncing its contents in a cloudburst of words that dried up only when Kennedy asked: "Do you know who wrote that, Mr. Hoffa?" Said Hoffa haughtily: "Dave Beck, I suppose. Smiled Mr. Kennedy in sweet triumph. "It was," he said, pausing for effect, "James Riddle Hoffa."

At last, James R. Hoffa sat wordless . . (Copyright 1959, United Features Syndicate Inc.)

J. A. Livingston Just Who Is "In" The Stock Market?

What puts this stock market up? What makes people wish that they had got into Wall Street three years ago, or year ago, or six months ago? What is it that generates "I-bought-Thiokol" conversation in barber chairs, beauty parlors, and at bars? What is this force that propels upward American Telephone & Telegraph, General Motors, du Pont, and International Business Machines Corp? Barron's magazine published an article in its June 15 issue indicating that you and I and that fellow over there are still the dominant influence in Wall Street. The authors, Robert R. McKenzie and James N. Bray, of the Bureau of Business and Economic Research at the University of California at Los Angeles, poohpoohed the power in the present market of pension funds, insurance companies. investment trusts, etc. They developed statistics to show that institutional holdings had increased from only 28.9 per cent in 1951 to 30.3 per cent in 1958 of total market value

Thus, individuals — you and I, etc. still owned 69.7 per cent of the market value of outstanding common stocks. Inference: The institutional investor is not a controlling market force. Barron's asks: Has Wall Street exaggerated the importance of institutional in-I think not. Statistics developed by the Securities & Exchange Commission put the institutional investor in a more positive and proper perspective. Remember this: If the market were free of any news, good or bad, the normal tendency of stocks would be to decline. Why? Because every year corporations sell additional stocks. These preferred and common stocks must be absorbed by investors - pension funds, investment trusts, other institutional buyers, and you and me - individuals. If these issues aren't absorbed, prices drop. Now, let's see what the SEC says happened in 1958. All told, four billion dollars in new preferred and common stocks were offered to investors. (I'm omitting bonds from this analysis.)

Here's where the four billions of new money came from : Corporation pension funds added to their net holdings of common and preferred stocks $1,200,000,000 (exclusive of market appreciation) Investment companies added to their net holdings $1,100,000,000.

Other institutions and foreigners added $300,000,000 to their holdings. That adds up to $2,600,000,000. We have $1,400,000,000, more to account for. It came from individuals - you and me. But look how we - the individual investors - invested!

We purchased $1,500,000,000 of investment company securities. We sold $100,000,000 of other securities.

Thus, we delegated our net purchases of securities to the specialists, the investment companies. We didn't do it ourselves, we did it through mutual funds. Not only did institutional investors buy 4 billion of newly-issued shares, but also 100 million of stock sold by individuals.

We still have much to learn about the stock market - about who buys and who sells, where the money comes from, where the stocks that are sold come from. But we know that mutual-fund salesmen are out preaching the gospel of common stocks, even as life insurance sales-tion. The rising market, itself, preaches a seductive sermon. It could be that in this period, so-called sophisticated individual investors are getting out of stocks, but so-called unsophisticated individuals are getting in, by turning their money over to mutual-fund men preach the gospel of family protecsalesmen. The SEC evidence supports the theory that instituional investors dominate the present market. Their intake of new money last year was more than enough to absorb the pressure which came from new stock floatations.

Cottons Will Aid Travel Budget

Nobody looks better dressed than the American working girl on vacation. She has learned how to stretch the budget for those two-weekswith-pay to cover travel and hotel expenses plus a smart but thrifty vacation wardrobe.

For the trip, she is likely to wear one of the new dark cotton suits or dresses, which shed wrinkles, are easy to wash and need little or no ironing.

In her suitcase she will carry some cotton knits, now being made in new firm textures which don't sag or stretch and come in a full rainbow of colors - these for shirts, pullovers and perhaps even a swim suit. She'll have an assortment of gay, well-cut and budget-priced shorts and cotton skirts, to mix and match, and a couple of dressy cotton chiffons or cotton taffetas for dinners, dates and dancing. If she's a typical, fashion-wise career girl, she'll be equipped for every occasion with the right clothes, at a cost that makes only a small dent in her budget.

Luke Thompson, the Big Spring youth who is now in the Armed Forces, will probably look back on 1959 as a memorable year.

Reports have him getting married to an El Paso girl shortly and becoming a golf pro upon his discharge. He's due to depart the Army about September.

He's the defending champion in the Big Spring Invitational, which winds up every year on Labor Day, Chances are he'll be on hand here to defend his title before he joins the play-for-pay ranks. Luke, they say, could have had a good job as the assistant pro at Another horse fell in front of Debonair Dandie and cost the Currie pride precious seconds in the $33,000 race.

Many racing fans will recall Dillard's Equichall, the 11-year-old mare who is now in foal at the Dillard farm north of here. She enriched the Dillard purse to the extent of something like $60,000. Equichall was regarded by some as the Silky Sullivan of Southwestern racing circles or perhaps she set the pattern for Silky to follow. Racing at a mile and a sixteenth at Omaha a few years ago, the mare was 27 lengths behind at the half mile post and won by a length and a half.

It was a finish some of the racing fans around the Nebraska track still talk about.

LOOKING YANKEES KNOCK LID OFF THEIR COFFIN

Associated Press Sports Writer

Just when you get ready to count the Yankees out, they pop right back into the thick of the American eague fight. A week ago, after losing an entire 5-game series in Boston, they were dead. On Friday morning they were very much alive with a series sweep over Cleveland.

The magic of Early Wynn and Bob Shaw gave Chicago the first two games of an important weekend eries. Once again they were ready to hang the crepe on Casey Stengel's office door.

But the Yanks knocked the lid off the coffin Sunday by sweeping two from Chicago. The explosion knocked the White Sox out of first place. The Cleveland Indians, who had been eased out of the lead by the Yanks, regained "control" by .001 percentage. New York is 51/2 back.

This should teach people a lesson. From the looks of things at this stage, nobody is going to romp off with this American League pennant until late September. Each club has a vital weakness. Stengel found help from unexpected sources in his Sunday sweep, ending a streak of eight straight Sunday defeats dating back to June 7. In the first game it was 43-year-old Enos Slaughter, oldest active player in the majors, hitting a pair of two-run homers in a 6-2 victory for Whitey Ford. In the second it was Eli Grba, a 6-2, 200-pound rookie from the Richmond farm, turning back the White Sox 6-4. Ryne Duren helped out both Ford and Grba, but Chicago did not score an earned run and sliding around Yankee Stadium in the late innings, gummed up things at Boston.

The Red Sox nipped the Indians in the opener 6-5 on Frank Malzone's double with two out and the bases full in the last of the ninth. Cleveland grabbed first place by taking the second 5-3, a game interrupted and finally called because of rain as Boston came to bat in the ninth.

Washington's Camilo Pascual won his seventh straight 7-0 by holding Kansas City to five hits in the first game but the Athletics took the second 6-5 in 10 innings on Hal Smith's home run, Not even Harmon Killebrew's 32nd homer and Bob Allison's 25th (his second of the day) could save the Senators in the second.

Baltimore got three-hit pitching rom Billy O'Dell, who developed blister on his pitching hand, and Billy Loes for a 2-1 decision over Detroit. It was the Tigers' 14th defeat in their last 17 games despite Charlie Maxwell's 21st hom-

U. S. Coach Warns Of Needs In Track

PHILADELPHIA (49) - American track and field supremacy is in jeopardy, veteran coach Frank Potts ntimated today. Potts, coach of the triumphant men's team in the past weekend's big international meet against the So-iet Union, tempered victory thus: "We must improve in distance running and the walking event at the same pace the Russians have been mproving in field events and sprints or we'll be in trouble.

"The time is coming when we are really going to have to improve our over-all program. We are strong in the field events and runs up to and including 1,500 meters. We need walkers and distance men." The University of Colorado coach was pleased with his team's 127-108 victory over the Soviet men, but said he couldn't help but think in terms of the future.

"This meet," said Potts, "served as a refresher course for me. It proved once again our weakness and our weakness but not enough.'

Potts declined to speak for the American women's team, which as expected was trounced by the Soviet gals, 67-40. He said the wo-

Underwood Wins Over R. Mitchell

LEVELLAND (SC) - James Lee Underwood of Big Spring, who is well on his way toward being a lawyer, shocked Lubbock's Ross Mitchell, 4 and 2, in the scheduled 36-hote finals of the Levelland Invitational Golf tournament here Sunday.

With his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alton Underwood of Big Spring, in the gallery to cheer him on, James Lee grabbed the lead as early as the second hole against Mitchell and never let up.

He was five under par and three up after the first nine holes and went to lunch with a five-hole lead. Mitchell won only one hole against him in the morning 18. James Lee continued to apply the pressure after play was resumed, increasing his edge to six holes at the end of the 27th. Mitchell made a brief rally when the two started on their final nine, winning the 28th and 29th with birdie and a par but Underwood withstood the challenge and halv-

The Big Spring youth won the second hole of the first nine with a birdie, the fourth with a bird and the seventh with a bird in putting together his scintillating 31. Mitchell made the turn in 34. Mitchell lost the 12th to Underwood's par three but won his first hole of the afternoon with an eagle on the 14th. Underwood immediately made amends with a winning par on the 15th. James Lee went farther with a par on the 16th, then ended a fine morning of activity by winning the 18th with a birdie three. That gave him 66 for the

The pattern for pre-censorship of movies was designed in Chicago in 1907. On Nov. 4 of that year, the police were empowered to deny a permit to any movie which "is immoral or obscene, or por-trays depravity, criminality, of lack of virtue of a class of citizens of any race, color, creed, or religion and exposes them to contempt, derision, or obloquy, or tends to produce a breach of the peace or riots, or purports to represent any hanging, lynching, or burning of a human being . . .

Under this code, the censors were able to ban a newsreel which showed police attacking strikers at a Southern Chicago steel plant in 1935, an ol dmovie based on a life of gangster Al Capone, a portion of a Walt Disney movie showing the birth of a buffalo. It was in Chicago that the fivefoot kiss was invented. This was a rule that a movie kiss could not last for more than five feet of film, or approximately three

In the 1920s, faced with a noisy outcry for national censorship, the movie industry decided to tend to its own house and named a czar, William Harrison Jays. The organization, now known as the Motion Picture Assn. of America, was popularly called the Hays Office. It subsequently set up a code of standards. In recent years, the code has been relaxed.

Those opposing censorship agree with those favoring it that there must be some kind of control. But

Singer Alice Lon and orchestra leader Lawrence Welk have ended their long association. She said she couldn't take it any longer because it wasn't the same happy family she joined six years
