

NATO Shield Looks Great On Paper, But It's In Patches

By REM PRICE
 FONTAINEBLEAU, France. (AP)—On paper 21 1-3 divisions constitute the North Atlantic Treaty Organization's shield for the protection of Central Europe. These divisions supposedly are in full strength, well-equipped and combat ready—425,000 men. A reporter touring Allied commands, however, finds it difficult to believe the Allies could muster more than 250,000 troops, some in different pieces, against an attack.

Under NATO police this land force would meet any Soviet aggression as close to the frontiers of the 750-mile long Iron Curtain as possible and hold them there until the rest of Europe could mobilize.

In discussing NATO policy a briefing officer at Supreme Headquarters, Allied Powers, Europe (SHAPE), said, "We have no offensive plans at this headquarters." In response to a question, he added, "We do have counter-offensive plans."

The job of these 21-1-3 divisions is to guard the three main invasion routes into the heart of NATO from the east—the North European plain, the Mittelgebirge Gap in central Germany and the Danube Valley in the south.

The shield force consists on paper of five U.S. divisions, 14 from the United Kingdom, 10 from France, seven from Germany, two from Belgium and one from the Netherlands, plus one-third of a Canadian division.

But paper strength does not win battles. How many of these divisions actually are ready for modern combat?

Gen. Jean-Etienne Valluy, who has been a French soldier for 42 of his 60 years, is commander in chief of the Allied forces in central Europe with headquarters at Fontainebleau.

In an interview, Gen. Valluy said that if he had to undertake a land war in Europe tomorrow there would be three divisions he could not commit immediately—one each from France, Belgium and the Netherlands.

Could the British really muster four divisions? "The British could muster three," Valluy replied.

The general then was asked, "Do all the divisions assigned to your command really exist?" An-er a moment's reflection, Valluy said, "All the divisions exist but not at full strength."

This by Valluy's reckoning the shield force for central Europe now is 17 combat divisions ready for action, but that is not the whole story.

The seven German divisions exist, but four are essentially training divisions. The other three are heavily armored, highly mobile units of 9,000 to 10,000 men each.

If the German training divisions are removed from the list of the combat-fit units, Valluy's land forces are reduced to 13 1-3 divisions, but again that is not the whole story.

Gen. Valluy noted that the British and Belgian forces contain large numbers of foot soldiers. In these days of atomic battlefield weapons and mechanization, the walking soldier may be an anachronism.

Valluy was asked what he considered his major problem. "My main fear and worry is the feeling of moral disengagement some nations seem to have toward NATO."

In February 1957 Britain formally advised her allies that a strained economy was forcing her to reduce her NATO commitment in Germany from 80,000 troops to 50,000. France notified NATO of a similar intention.

Gen. Lauris Norstad, SHAPE commander, called the cuts dangerous.

Aside from the economic angle, Britain said she felt the development of missiles and rockets had reduced the manpower needs of NATO.

As for the French, nearly all of the nation's first line troops are committed to the suppression of the Algerian rebellion. Once France had five divisions in the NATO shield. Now she has two—neither at full strength, according to an American source.

Nixon's Trip Sparks Study Of Its Impact

By LEWIS GULICK
 WASHINGTON (AP)—The end of Vice President Richard M. Nixon's historic trip to the Soviet Union touched off today an intense appraisal of its impact on the cold war.

President Eisenhower and Nixon banked on the vice president's tour and the forthcoming swap of visits by Eisenhower and Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev to help thaw a dangerous East-West freeze.

The administration policy was admittedly a gamble, taken against advice from some U.S. strategists who favor continued isolation of the Reds as the surest way to promote the free world.

The hope was that the exchange of visits would impress Khrushchev with America and keep East-West discussions going in the face of the collapse of the Geneva talks on Germany. But Nixon's trip brought no expectation of any immediate turnaround in Kremlin policy in the cold war, which the administration figures could last another 25 to 50 years.

Nixon, who already had cabled back lengthy reports during his two-week tour of the Soviet Union and Poland, made a personal report to Eisenhower during a 75-minute conference at the White House Wednesday.

He will review the trip again at a Cabinet meeting Friday.

There was no immediate plan for a public address to the nation, but Nixon spoke informally on a national radio-TV 1 1/2 hour broadcast after he had arrived from Warsaw Wednesday.

He told of friendly receptions he had received among the people of the two countries, and said they want peace. He urged also that Khrushchev, when he visits this country, be received courteously and without hostile demonstrations.

Nixon hurried to the White House after a roaring airport welcome. Eisenhower was not at the airport, but among the police-estimated throng of 3,500 greeters were administration and Republican bigwigs and the ambassadors from the Soviet Union and Poland.

GOP boosters waved a big sign: "All America is proud of Pat and Dick."

The first welcome was little Julie Nixon, 10, who raced up the airplane ramp to hug her father and mother. Her sister Patricia, 13, was at home with a sprained back, suffered while playing.

Acting Secretary of State C. Douglas Dillon, head of the official greeting party, thanked the vice president for a "tremendous job" in representing America to the Russian and Polish peoples.

Nixon, looking fit despite his arduous travels, responded that the "demonstrations of friendship" from the Russians and Poles had been accorded really not to him but to the American people.

"They desperately want peace just as the American people want peace," he said.

Then in somber tones he called on Americans to treat Khrushchev with courtesy when he tours the United States next month.

"I realize that a great majority of the American people like myself find many issues on which we disagree very strongly with Mr. Khrushchev," Nixon said.

"I realize that there are many Americans, notably our Hungarian refugees and others, who have very strong reason to be bitterly resentful of some of the policies of that government."

But he urged a courteous reception here for Khrushchev "in the interests of the peace with justice that we all want."

"I do not say this because I believe that being courteous to him is going to convert him from his belief in communism or change his strong advocacy of his positions on certain foreign policy issues on which he disagrees with us," Nixon added.

"But I do say that as the President meets with him and has discussions, we at least should provide for the President and for him the best possible climate for those discussions. . . . They could have a great bearing on this great issue of peace. . . ."

Thor In Flight
 CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—The Air Force fired its versatile Thor missile on a 1,500-mile test flight Wednesday night in a prelude to an approaching satellite shot.

The launching appeared perfect. Not far from the launching pad, a 99-foot Thor-Able rocket stands poised to hurl a 142-pound radiation satellite into an orbit about the earth. The attempt is expected in the next few days.

Injured, Lies Helpless 5 Days

SAGINAW, Mich. (AP)—Mrs. Sadie Rublewski, 71, cried for help when she fell in her apartment and fractured a hip.

She called at intervals for five days. Nobody heard her, a widow.

Mrs. Rublewski lives alone and the apartment below is vacant.

Finally, a neighbor called police after noticing an accumulation of milk bottles on the elderly woman's porch.

Officers found Mrs. Rublewski in a semiconscious state. She had not had food or water during her nightmarish ordeal.

DEAR ABBY

THE HARD WAY

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: One of our co-workers is a lovely, intelligent, decent girl but she has started to run around with a married man who works here. Her eyes follow every move he makes. Anyone can tell she is in love with him. She knows he is married and has children but the romance continues just the same. The man has had several such affairs right in this office, but this girl thinks hers is different. How can we stop a respectable, highly-principled, decent girl from ruining her life over this man? OFFICE GIRLS

DEAR GIRLS: You are mistaken. No "respectable, highly-principled, decent girl" would date a married man in the first place. Girls who take a romantic interest in married men are asking for trouble—and they are rarely disappointed. Your co-worker is destined to learn the hard way.

DEAR ABBY: I am 14 but I am big for my age so I told this guy I was 17. He picks me up at my girlfriend's house because my parents don't want me going in cars with boys. He is 18 and I hate to tell you this, but I think I am too young to be parking with a boy his age. I feel so guilty and mixed up. Half of me wants to see this fellow again and half of me doesn't. Please tell me what to do. MIXED UP

DEAR MIXED: Use the half of you with the brains in it to convince the other half to stay away from this character. He has none.

DEAR ABBY: I wonder if I am the only woman who faces such a problem? When my husband and I go out to buy something (or have something repaired) he is never satisfied with the fixed price. He has to bargain. Oftentimes he gets the price down, but I get so embarrassed I don't know what to do. We have been married 28 years and he has been this way always. Is there any hope of changing him or not? FREDA

DEAR FREDA: After 28 years,

Mexico No Longer Penny Wise Paradise

By JACK RUTLEDGE
MEXICO CITY (AP) — Foreign residents find Mexico exotic, colorful, different. But it is no longer a penny pincher's paradise.

Prices have tripled in the last few years. A major reason is the emergence of a middle class. Another is the country's blossoming prosperity.

Pepe Romero, Mexico's best known English language columnist, quotes his wife Del to the point.

"When I came here as a blushing bride in 1951, a servant earned 100 pesos — $8 — a month," she said. She now gets 300 up, and a half-way decent cook gets 500.

"Rents have skyrocketed accordingly. Meats, fruits, and vegetables no longer are the same."

"But the biggest change I've noticed is the emergence of a middle class. Not too long ago one servant in 10 was literate. Today most girls under 20 can read and write reasonably well."

The good old days for foreigners have become the good new days for Mexico's poor, emerging into a middle class.

"One scarcely recognizes the skyline any more," Pepe commented. "For example, look at all the new hotels, the 44-story skyscraper on San Juan de Letran and Madero, the scores of exciting, ultra-modern buildings."

"Gone are the cargadores—men who carried on their back everything from furniture to freshly butchered bulls—always so much a part of this city. Street vendors are almost no more. The old markets, picturesque and dirty, such as La Merced and La Lagunilla, have been replaced by new, sanitary and unimaginative, strictly functional market stalls. The city, like an octopus, has spread its tentacles—out to Pedregal to the south, past Barrilaco to the west, with new real estate developments such as Satellite City. Modern speedways and viaducts criss-cross one end of the city to the other. And the old cactus plants along main thoroughfares, or circles, and boulevards have been replaced by myriads of multicolored flowers and gushing fountains."

Mexico City has mushroomed into one of the world's largest cities, with a population estimated at some five million.

It is as modern as Manhattan in many ways. But a few miles outside the city limits Mexicans still live in adobe huts with dirt floors, dress in the old rebozos, live on tortillas, beans. During the transition Mexico is truly a country of contrasts.

Hot Rumors

SANTA CLARA, Calif. (AP) — "Look," patiently explained grocer Sam Re to customers who tried to tell him Wednesday his roof was on fire. "There's no fire. The roofers are working up there."

When six more passers-by rushed in to tell him there really was a blaze, Re went outside and looked.

It took 15 firemen and six pieces of equipment to extinguish the fire but damage was slight.

The roofers had left.

Stock Inspection Bill Killed As Dead As Mule In The Yarn

By TEX EASLEY
AP Special Service

WASHINGTON (AP) — Judge Joe Montague of Fort Worth wowed a congressional committee recently with some tales from his colorful past.

He appeared before the House Agriculture Committee as counsel for the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Assn. in opposition to a bill to increase the government's seizure authority over animals which become sick while in shipment.

Judge Montague said the bill would give innumerable federal agents the right to seize and kill any kind of sick animal. He said he was concerned that some officials so empowered might NOT know much more about diagnosing communicable livestock diseases than he did as a lad.

"I reckon I'm the only man in this room who ever killed a mule," drawled the big Texan.

Then, puffing on a big black pipe, he told of an incident that occurred when he was nine years old and living on a ranch in West Texas. The grownups, he said, had gone a day's ride away to the railroad spur and only he and a brother about a year older were on hand when a prized mule got sick.

"We figured we ought to doctor him," Montague continued.

"We knew there was a bottle of some kind of medicine in the barn. After tying up the mule's legs, my brother pulled out his tongue and I poured the contents of that bottle down his throat.

"Well, sir, in about five minutes that mule shuddered and shook and then was still. He was deader than a door nail. We learned later the label on the bottle said for external use only."

Although the seizure bill had passed the Senate, by the time Montague got through testifying before the House Committee it was as dead as the mule. He had cited some up-to-date if hypothetical cases in which improper administration of the quarantine laws, if amended as proposed, could cause great harm.

When Rep. Bob Poague of Waco, acting committee chairman, asked a man in politics can't make everyone happy.

As chairman of the House Veterans Affairs Committee he gets the bulk of the credit and criticism for various pension bills that go through Congress. (There is NO special Veterans committee in the Senate.)

An occasional commendatory message arrives, such as one telling of the recent adoption of a resolution by the North Carolina Disabled American Veterans praising Teague for his work.

Teague, incidentally, is one of the most decorated World War II veterans in Congress. Wounded three times in combat against the Germans in Europe, he has received 11 awards, including the Silver Star with two clusters, the Bronze Star with two clusters, the Infantryman's Badge, and French Croix de Guerre with Palm. A 1932 Texas A&M graduate with a reserve commission, he rose to rank of colonel by the time the war was over.

Congressman Olin E. (Tiger) Teague of the Bryan-Corsicana district knows, if anyone does, that legends, present development and future, is being written by Bob Lingle of Carlsbad, N. M., engineer-manager for the Pecos River Commission. He has been here for conferences on long range planning for the river that courses a large area of New Mexico and Texas.

Paris in Capitol

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Daniel J. Flood (D-Pa.) wants to bring a little bit of Paris to the Capitol. He suggests that an outdoor restaurant be built on the west terrace of the Capitol, which looks down on the Mall and the Washington Monument. It would serve both congressmen and the public.

Guest Of Honor At Tea

Mrs. Kyle Riddle, honoree for a farewell tea given Wednesday afternoon at Webb Club Lounge by the Officers Wives Club, pauses briefly to admire the tea table before the first guest arrives. Pastel shades of pink and green were blended with white for the party decor.

Officers' Wives Host Tea For Mrs. Riddle

Mrs. Kyle Riddle who, with Col. Riddle, will leave Monday for Laon, France, was complimented with a farewell tea Wednesday afternoon at the Webb Club Lounge. Hostesses were members of the Officers Wives Club, with Mrs. Stanley Grant, Mrs. Donald Barr, Mrs. Paul Leming and Mrs. William Puckett sharing hospitality duties for the group. Mrs. Leroy Bruffat, OWC president, presented the guests to the honoree, whose dress was enhanced with a corsage of gardenias. Pink net over white graced the tea table, its twin six-pronged silver candelabra studded with pink candles. Carnations tinted pale green and pink-sprayed fern clustered in a silver bowl at the center. Napkins advanced the pink tones. About 250 were included in the guest list. The Riddles will travel to Europe by ship, Col. Riddle, who has been commander of Webb AFB for the past two years, will assume command of the 66th Tactical Reconnaissance Wing, based in Laon.

'ROUND TOWN

With Lucille Pickle

If and when Mr. Khrushchev arrives in Texas, he should come on out to our part of West Texas for the people here to tender him a real cooked-over-the-pit barbecue. This should be the kind that a liberal amount of sand and other varieties of dirt has been accidentally kicked onto. With this fare should come pinto beans that have been cooked overnight and son-of-a-gun. In my opinion, this latter dish would either completely clear the air or sever relations permanently.

Big Spring is entertaining the West Texas Press Assn. this weekend, and it is a pleasure. These are the type of people that need no red carpet rolled out for them. They tend to their business and have a good time not because they are royally feted, etc., but because they honestly enjoy being with each other any time, especially at the summer gathering. It's rather a family get-together.

The family of MRS. J. C. EBERSOLE has gone its separate ways after spending several days here preceding and following the wedding of Rosalie Ebersole to Donald Reed, Sunday. Mrs. Ebersole's mother, MRS. E. O. CHRISTIAN was honored on her 76th birthday anniversary with a dinner at the Ebersole home. Her big gift was the fact that all five of her children and their families were present. Her home is in Darlington, Mo. Twenty-five were here for the affair.

Parents and wives do things that sound strange to their friends and families but when it means seeing a son or a husband it seems rather normal at least to the parents and wives. MR. AND MRS. J. W. FORRESTER and MRS. J. W. (FROSTY) FORRESTER JR. went 2500 miles for a two-hour visit with Frosty recently. Frosty, who married early in the summer, is in nuclear science school of the Navy stationed at San Diego. His wife stayed in San Diego with friends, hoping to get a visit with him occasionally. He is rated as a yeoman.

MRS. JAMES McENTIRE of Sterling City is here today visiting in the home of Mrs. Roger Hefley who is entertaining her sis-

Informal Brunch Fetes Miss Smith

Friends gathered in the home of Mrs. K. H. McGibbon Wednesday morning as a compliment to Jacqueline Smith, who is to be married to Lt. Louis Guinn McKnight of Del Rio on Aug. 15 in the First Baptist Church. Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Jack Y. Smith, 208 Washington Blvd., and Mr. and Mrs. Harold McKnight of Henderson. Greeted informally by Mrs. Smith and Jacqueline, guests were served from a table following the green and white chosen by the bride-elect. A white organdy cloth, hand-painted in green, served as a background for an arrangement of white caladium leaves, marked with green, and white mums. Over the floral centerpiece hung a large white wedding bell.

About 40 were included on the guest list for the party, with Mrs. Ray Fesmire of Odessa, aunt of the honoree, as an out of town guest.

Other in-honor affairs planned for Miss Smith included a kitchen shower on Saturday afternoon, a bridesmaids luncheon and the rehearsal dinner.

On California Trip

Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Bohannon, with their niece and nephew, Leeland Dale and Wanda Kay Porter, left by car this morning for a two-week vacation in southern California. They plan to visit Catalina Island, Hollywood, Long Beach and Disneyland, among other points, and will continue up into Washington to visit Bohannon's mother in Longview.

Woodes Have Guests

Guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Woods, 2007 Johnson, are their sons and families, Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Woods of Houston and Mr. and Mrs. Odell Woods and Linda of Morrison, Ill. A daughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Rayermann of Fort Worth, are expected to arrive Friday for a visit.

Smalls Will Live Here

Mr. and Mrs. William H. Small are at home at 109 Sycamore following their Saturday evening marriage in the home of the Rev. A. C. Hodges.

The bride is the former Louise McDonald, daughter of Mrs. Frank McDonald. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Emerson Polster of Waldorf, Md.

For her wedding, the bride was attired in a white satin street length frock with round neckline and short sleeves.

Mrs. Jim McCurtain attended her sister as matron of honor, and her husband was the best man.

After the wedding, guests assembled in the couple's apartment for an informal reception.

Farewell Party

LAMESA — Mr. and Mrs. Danny Richardson and children, Danny and Debbie, who are moving to Fort Worth this week, were honored at a lawn party Monday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Clancy. Members of the Young Married People's class of the Assembly of God Church presented the honorees a farewell gift, a chafing dish.

HOLLYWOOD BEAUTY

Each Age Has Its Own Kind Of Beauty

By LYDIA LANE

MUNICH — Lili Palmer is one of the most popular actresses in Germany. When I lunched with her at the fashionable Humpmayer's restaurant, she was given the red-carpet treatment.

Miss Palmer was in Hollywood this winter to play Clark Gable's wife in "But Not for Me." This was the first time she had been there in eight years.

"I was amazed how young everyone looked since the last time I met them," Lili exclaimed. "I didn't notice anyone looking older."

"I'm sure they said the same of you," I said, admiring Miss Palmer's trim figure and fresh, radiant skin.

"I've never been in a panic about age," she went on. "and I don't believe I ever shall. Something Alexander Korda told me when I first started in the theater made quite an impression. I was 18, and felt this was the most perfect age. My face was round and unlined, and I felt pretty. But Korda said, 'Don't worry about how you look now, but think about what you'll be at 40.'"

"It is true, with a mature face there is a different bone structure and the marks of living are seen. The King of England did not give up his throne for a girl of 18. This world-shattering romance was inspired by a mature woman."

"I think it is so much wiser to take an attitude that you are going to become more attractive with each increasing birthday. I'm fortunate that my mother was an example of this. She was beautiful, and she never worried about growing old. She seemed to enjoy every year of her life. That is the way it should be," she exclaimed. "What a waste! Anxiety over departing youth!"

Miss Palmer ordered a three-course lunch and ate slowly, with a connoisseur's delight for good food.

"How do you keep such a nice figure?" I asked.

"I'm very active. I swim, ski and play tennis, and I adore riding. I don't overeat. I've never had a large appetite, and I don't care for white breads, anything fried, sweets or any of the usual fattening foods. Fortunately, I've never had to diet, but if I had to I would."

I asked Miss Palmer the secret for her extraordinarily lovely skin. "I believe in cold water and ice. You can preserve things in ice. Animals trapped in glaciers are in perfect condition centuries later. I believe it firms, and that is the reason I use it. But I use hot water first to open the pores and then wash my skin with soap. I like creams to keep my skin soft. There are many interesting experiments in cosmetic chemistry, and I believe in taking advantage of these, but this cream routine doesn't have a desperate hold on me."

"The secret of youth is enjoying life; the day is never long enough for me."

Miss Palmer spoke in glowing

Warsaw Farewell

Hogg Story Should Be Read By All

By DAVE CHEAVENS
AUSTIN (AP)—Robert C. Cotner's biography of James Stephen Hogg should be required reading for one group of Texans, recommended reading for another.
Hogg, the first Texan to become governor, set an example for integrity, forthrightness, and political courage that present day politicians might well emulate.
The book should be required reading for all legislators, district attorneys, even judges and members of Congress.
In the recommended reading class would be all Texans interested in public affairs. Students with an eye on future state service, should study it, along with members of Republican and Democratic county and state executive committees and campaign managers.
Cotner's book is the product of more than 10 years of painstaking research into the personal and public life of Gov. Hogg. Hogg made his name in Texas history as the foe of landgrabbers and securities crooks. He fought discriminatory rate and other practices by the powerful railroad interests of the 1880-1900 period of Texas growth. Hogg brought the railroads under state regulation and was the father of today's railroad commission.
Hogg has become almost a legendary figure in Texas government and politics. Cotner has spiked some of the legends and by careful documentation traced his career from through days as a farm hand, country editor, justice of the peace, prosecutor, state attorney general and finally gov-

Rains Fall In W. Texas

By The Associated Press
Thundershowers which poured up to two inches on far West Texas Wednesday boomed again over the El Paso area Thursday. Thundershowers sprinkled the Corpus Christi area.
Partly cloudy to cloudy skies over the Panhandle, San Antonio and Houston hinted at a little relief from the heat that accompanied clear weather earlier in the week.
Prospects for general rainfall remain exceedingly slim, however. Long-range forecasts call for nothing wetter than scattered showers and thunderstorms through the first of next week.
A two-inch rainfall was reported on the George Jones ranch 18 miles north of Marfa and reports of heavy rain west of Marfa came from travelers in the area.
Marfa had .30 inch from the showers.
Presidio had .05 inch and Alpine .04 for the 24 hours ending at 6 p.m. Wednesday.
Wednesday's high temperature was 107 at Presidio. Other readings ranged down to 90 at Galveston. Wink had 101 and 100-degree readings were reported at Childress, College Station, El Paso, Laredo, Mineral Wells and Wichita Falls.

Town Takes Khrushchev Visit News In Its Stride

COON RAPIDS, Iowa (AP)—This little town in west central Iowa apparently is taking in stride the news that Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev may come here to visit farmer Roswell Garst next month.
"I've heard very little comment from the townspeople," said one of the leading citizens, Thomas Rogers, who edits the local weekly newspaper, The Enterprise.
"There's no indication so far that anyone is getting overly excited about it."
In talking to newsmen in Moscow Wednesday, Khrushchev said he had been invited by an American farmer named Garst to stay with him and that he probably would.
Garst lives in a big place on the outskirts of this town of about 1,700. His specialty is growing seed corn. He has visited the Soviet Union, has talked with Khrushchev

EL PASO PRECISION-BLENDING
OFFERS YOU

EXACT FUEL FOR YOUR CAR

It's the thriftiest way to buy gasoline ever invented! Here's why: Two-pump or three-pump systems, offering only regular and premium grades, force the motorist to choose a low price, and perhaps sacrifice performance, or to choose performance and pay too much. But El Paso-Dixie stations offer 7 great new gasolines of gradually increasing octane quality. You buy only the octane your car can use... pay only for the quality you need.

HOW IT WORKS

The unique Precision-Blending pump draws fuels from two underground tanks. One tank contains El Paso Red Flame Super Premium, a gasoline of ultra-high octane. The other contains El Paso 400, a premium-quality fuel. The pump blends these two gasolines in any of six different proportions. These six premium blends, plus Dixie 390, which is dispensed from its own separate pump, give you a choice of SEVEN grades of gasoline—meeting exactly the octane requirements of ANY and ALL cars on the road today!

Mediators Seek Peace

NEW YORK (AP)—Federal mediators are trying to persuade the steel strike negotiators to stop their barrage of public statements accusing each other and to concentrate on real bargaining for a new contract.
Joseph F. Finnegan, director of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, says: "Anytime parties get together and quit laying down publicity barrages and go at things in a workmanlike way, it's progress."
Finnegan, who maneuvered Wednesday for less blasting in public, said he saw "no indication of any change by either party on any economic issue."
Joint negotiations continue today with the aid of the federal mediators.
The new technique of the mediators Wednesday involved a secret meeting between David J. McDonald, president of the striking United Steelworkers of America, and R. Conrad Cooper, chief industry negotiator and executive vice president of the United States Steel Corp.
While the McDonald-Cooper conference went on, other negotiators discussed contract terms. Finnegan said both sides appeared to be acting "in a more workmanlike way."
The strike of 50,000 members of the union is 23 days old. It has shut down almost 90 per cent of the country's steel production and has idled approximately 107,000 employees in allied industries.
The union's principal demand is for a wage increase of about 15 cents an hour in each year of a new contract, plus fringe benefits. The industry contends that any increase in labor costs would force a rise in steel prices and spur inflation. Pre-strike wages averaged $3.10 an hour. The union contends its demands could be met out of profits and increased productivity without a steel price rise.

New Post Office To Be Dedicated

WESLACO (AP)—Weslaco's new post office will be formally dedicated next month, and Pat Gathright of Harlingen will be a special guest at the ceremony.
The Marine Corps plans to give the post office an oil painting of the World War II flag raising after Marines battled to the top of Mt. Suribachi on Iwo Jima.
Gathright, a former Seabee, put together the flagpole for the Marines. He witnessed the flag raising from close by.

We put the light in Your window

Had you come 25 years ago young fellow, your light would have been a kerosene lamp. But your Dad and a lot of other folks like him organized an electric cooperative and built their own electric system. It was the only way we could get electricity in our rural area.
Now you are going to have to help guard it. Some people would have you think the government built the system and gave it to us. That isn't true. We borrowed the money and we are paying back our loan with interest. Our cooperative is a business managed, tax paying partnership and we are happy to welcome you as a member. Because the Cooperative brought electricity to your farm you'll lead a healthier, happier life.
Grow strong young fellow. You'll want a light in the window some distant night when your son comes into the world.

BUZ SAWYER

ANY QUESTIONS, SAWYER?

YES, SIR. JUST HOW DO YOU PROPOSE TO HAVE ME, AN AMERICAN, WELCOMED ABOARD A RUSSIAN TRAWLER OPERATING OFF OUR COAST SECRETLY?

GOOD QUESTION. WE'RE GOING TO MAKE THEM WANT YOU ABOARD, SUPPOSE YOU WEREN'T JUST AN AMERICAN, BUT A NOTED NUCLEAR SUBMARINE EXPERT LOST AT SEA IN A PLANE CRASH.

WE'LL PUT YOU IN A LIFE RAFT IN THE PATH OF THE TRAWLER, FILL THE AIR WITH RADIO MESSAGES ABOUT WHO YOU ARE, THAT WE'RE SCOURING THE SEA LOOKING FOR YOU. THEY'LL MONITOR THE MESSAGES. THEY'LL WANT TO FIND YOU... QUESTION YOU... GET IT?

YEAH, SIR! NEXT STEP, MOSCOW!

DIXIE DUGAN

ARE WE GOING TO SPEND THE WHOLE EVENING YAPPING AT EACH OTHER? WE'VE AGREED YOU DON'T LIKE ME—AND I DON'T LIKE YOU—RIGHT?

YOU HAVE A GOOD POINT ABOUT THE ONLY ONE A WHOLE BAGGEL WE HAVE DATE JUST TO PLEASE YOUR MOTHER AND MINE.

BLESS 'EM—THEY WOULD LIKE TO SEE US GET MARRIED. WHAT A LAUGH!

YOU KNOW SOMETHING, GEORGE? I'VE JUST GOTTEN AN IDEA!

NANCY

BRRRRRRRR

EVER SINCE HE GOT THAT MODEL PLANE

--- ALL THE BIRDS ARE WALKING

L'IL ABNER

WE'LL FIND THE METROPOLITAN MUSEUM AND THE PHILHARMONIC ORCHESTRA WITHOUT YOU, FOSDICK!!

I MUST GET MY MIND OFF SERIOUS MATTERS, SO I'LL CALL ON MY FIANCEE, MISS PRUDENCE PIMPLETON!!

HOW WOULD YOU LIKE A DELICIOUS STEAK DINNER, AND A BRACING TRIP TO THE SEASHORE?

I KNOW WHAT THAT MEANS!!

YOU'LL Gobble UP ALL THE STEAK IN MY FREEZER, THEN YOU'LL WALK ME TO THE DOCKS—RIGHT, FOSDICK?

RIGHT, MY DEAR!!

BLONDIE

DAGWOOD, THE BOSS WANTS YOU IN HIS OFFICE—HE'S RAVING AND RANTING

OH, GOLLY—I'LL GET IT! THAT MORLEY ESTIMATE

STEP OVER HERE—I WANT TO SHOW YOU SOMETHING I LEARNED ON TELEVISION LAST NIGHT

GUESS WHAT I WATCHED

SOMETIMES I WISH HE'D JUST FIRE ME

ANNIE ROONEY

GOODBYE—GOODBYE—MR. LEED AN HIS MEN WERE TERRIBLE GRATEFUL TO YOU FOR SAVING THEIR LIVES—THEY EVEN WANTED TO PAY YOU

SURE—BUT I DIDN'T WANT NO PAY

YUP—THEY WAS—BUT YOU NOTICED I WAS KEERFUL NOT TO TALK TO 'EM NO MORE—I HAD TO—

—I KNEW I'D LOST OUT IN THE POPULARITY PARADE ROUND HERE, AN' GITTIN' CHIMNY WITH THEM LUMBERMEN OUTLANDERS WOULDNT' A HELPED MY SIT-DAY-ATION WOULDNT'—NONE—

I SEE WHAT YOU MEAN—

SNUFFY SMITH

YE BETTER WATCH YORE STEP NOW, SNUFFY—OL' SHERIFF TAIT GOT BACK FROM HIS VACATION TODAY

YEP—HE WUZ TELLIN' ME ABOUT ALL TH' SIGHTS HE SEEN AN' TH' GOOD TIMES HE HAD

THAT'S WHAT I NEED—A DADBURN VACATION

GRANDMA

REMEMBER ME, GRANDMA? I MOWED YOUR LAWN LAST WEEK.

I'VE COME T' COLLECT!!

AN' IF YA DON'T MIND, I'LL TAKE MY PAY...

...IN COOKIES!!

DONALD DUCK

PEANUTS

HOW'S GALLY CHARIE BROWN?

SHE'S FINE, THANK YOU.

I'M GLAD YOU MENTIONED HER BECAUSE SHE DID SOMETHING KIND OF CUTE YESTERDAY AND I'D LIKE TO TELL...

JOE PALOOKA

YOU HAD NO RIGHT TO GO TO MY FILE, GREGORY.

WELL, WILLY WEEKY LOOKED LIKE A CROOK TO ME?

WHY DID YOU HIRE A MAN WITH A PRISON RECORD, PALOOKA?

I USED MY OWN GOOD JUDGEMENT, SIR... I THOUGHT THAT'S WHAT YOU ARE PAYING ME TO DO.

WILLY SERVED HIS TIME—HE DESERVES A CHANCE TO MAKE A NEW START—I'VE SENT FOR HIM... HE CAN SPEAK FOR HIMSELF!

MR. PALOOKA—WILLY WEEKY WAS DISAPPEARED!

MARY WORTH

SORRY I COULDN'T PHONE YOU, ARROW! THEY SENT ME TO UPDATE THIS MORNING! ... I CAME RIGHT IN FROM THE AIRPORT!

I WAS SO BUSY ALL DAY I DIDN'T EVEN THINK ABOUT ... ADVERTISING, TONY!

MIND PULLING OVER AND STOPPING FOR A MINUTE I'VE SOMETHING TO SHOW YOU!

I WAS IN A LITTLE BELGIAN COMMUNITY—WHERE THEY DO BEAUTIFUL NEEDLEWORK...

... AND I THOUGHT YOU MIGHT LIKE THESE...

REX MORGAN

WHAT DO YOU THINK OF DR. MORGAN, COLLETTE?

A VERY HANDSOME MAN, MADAME... AND VERY NICE!

YOU WILL MAKE A MOST CHARMING LOOKING COUPLE!

YOU'RE A FOOL, JUNE! IF YOU DON'T BECOME MORE AGGRESSIVE, YOU'RE GOING TO WIND UP LIKE ME... A SPINSTER!

TSO Observing Its 24th Anniversary
Texas State Optical, which had its small beginning with one office in 1935, is celebrating 24 years of continuous growth. It now serves an area reaching from border to border, north, south, east, and west over the state of Texas.
Today, the fast-expanding firm, owned and directed by Beaumont Optometrists, Dr. S. J. and Dr. N. Jay Rogers, has 70 offices either established or under construction. Plans for further expansion in some areas are under consideration.
Each of the Texas State Optical offices is staffed with Doctors of Optometry, Opticians, Frame Stylists, and clerical personnel, trained to meet the rigid personal service and quality requirements of the firm, according to Dr. S. J. Rogers. He noted that in recent months many more patients are being fitted with contact lenses.

Nixon Backers Are Confident Of Support By Governors

By JACK BELL
SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico (AP)—Richard M. Nixon's backers remained confident today that a majority of the nation's Republican governors support the vice president for their party's 1960 presidential nomination.
The GOP state executives generally were reluctant to express press public preferences during the 51st Annual Governors' Conference, which wound up its business here Wednesday. But the impact of New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller on his party colleagues was obviously less favorable than Nixon's friends had feared it would be.
Rockefeller edged somewhat closer to contesting for the 1960 GOP nomination in public and private utterances here. At times he had the appearance for a man who is being convinced that he ought to make a try for it. At others he was as hesitant as he has seemed to be for months.
The word now is that Rockefeller will decide about Nov. 1 whether he ought to take on Nixon. And he will do that only if he is convinced that the vice president seems likely to be defeated by a Democrat and that he, Rockefeller, has a better chance to keep the White House in Republican hands.
Rockefeller impressed his fellow chief executives as a forceful, alert man, willing to take on any comers who challenge his political philosophy.
He did this with Illinois Gov. William G. Stratton, another Republican, in a sharp verbal exchange over federal intrusion into gubernatorial authority. There was no umpire available to judge who won the argument. But it seemed safe to say that if Rockefeller should become a candidate for the presidential nomination, his brush with Stratton did not improve his chances of getting the support of the powerful Illinois delegation.
Some Republican governors seemed to feel, a bit resentfully, that Rockefeller was preoccupied with weighty issues and had little time to fraternize with them. His admitted charm, however, was reflected in favorable comment from others.
Outspoken Gov. Harold W. Handley of Indiana contended that Nixon had held his ground and possibly had improved his prospects somewhat, although the vice president had no staff representative at the conference. But Handley and one or two other Republican governors openly plugged Nixon at every chance.
The conference produced little enlightenment on the position of Democratic presidential hopefuls.
Govs. Abraham Ribicoff of Connecticut and Foster Furcolo of Massachusetts beat the drums for Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.) but seemed unable to find any responsive echoes.
Their theme was that Kennedy has strong support in all sections of the country. There seemed little argument with that, but it also was apparent that not many of the Democratic governors want to wet their political feet in Kennedy's pool yet.
Gov. Edmund (Pat) Brown, whose hefty California delegation is a prize target, displayed surprising signs that he may be considering himself as something of a major candidate for top place on his party's ticket.

More is likely to be known about that when Western governors meet at Sun Valley, Idaho, in mid-September. Brown obviously would like to form a Western voting bloc for next year's convention. But whether other state executives will enlist under his banner in such an enterprise remains to be seen.
The potential candidacies of Govs. G. Mennen Williams of Michigan and Robert B. Meyner of New Jersey got no new recruits out of this conference. If there was sentiment for Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo.), it did not surface to any extent.
Gov. Price Daniel of Texas, might have plugged for Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, did not even attend the conference.
In their closing session Wednesday the governors adopted a resolution inviting to the United States the heads of the five Soviet republics that a delegation from their group had visited on a recent tour of the Soviet Union.
Gov. Ernest F. Hollings of South Carolina fought the proposal. Several other governors praised Hollings' stand, which gave them a chance to make speeches against communism.
The governors also approved a resolution calling on President

Eisenhower and the Democratic-controlled Congress to compromise their differences over financing the interstate highway program.
The state executives decided to send a committee to visit Latin American countries before their next year's conference. They also called on industry and labor to settle the steel strike, urged stepped-up civil defense activities, additional atmospheric research, maintenance of the National Guard strength at 400,000 men, and state support of the Inter-American Development Bank.
The conference named Gov. J. Caleb Boggs of Delaware its new chairman and agreed to meet next year in Glacier National Park, in Montana.

Girl Left Behind Better Stay There
TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—Nationalist China's Parliament is trying to see that the country's servicemen keep the girls they leave behind at least until they get home. A new law approved by the Yuan — parliament — prohibits the wife of a serviceman from seeking a divorce or the girl friend of a bachelor from breaking off an engagement while the soldier is at the front or on other "difficult" duty.

Charity Shares Benedum Will

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Half the estate of Michael L. Benedum, multimillionaire oil wildcatter who died last Thursday, went to charity, religion and education. Two Texas nephews also were named.
In his will, disclosed Tuesday, Benedum left half his estate to the Claude Worthington Benedum Foundation. It was named for the wildcatter's only son who died while serving with the Army in World War I.

There was no immediate estimate of the Benedum fortune, but it was known he had poured millions into the foundation for religion, charity and education.
One of the wildcatter's close business associates said an estimate of the estate at 100 million dollars "can't be far wrong."
Another 25 per cent of the estate was willed to Benedum's nephew, Paul G. Benedum of Pittsburgh. The remaining quarter is to be divided equally between J. Clayton Benedum of San August-tine, Tex., and Darwin Benedum of San Antonio, nephews, and Mrs. Clara Masburn of Albany, N.Y., a niece.

Benedum's palatial home and its contents also were left to the foundation. A quarter of a million dollars went to trustees to benefit nine members of the family of his wife, who died in 1951.
Benedum left his personal secretary, Chris F. Weller, 2,500 shares of Plymouth Oil stock and 1,500 shares of Ohio Oil stock.
Each employe at his home received $150 for each year of employment.
