COMMANDER KIGHT

331st Squadron To Be Put Under New Control

Early next year the 331st Interceptor Squadron at Webb AFB will move under control of the 34th Air Division (Defense) at Albuquerque, N. M.
Currently the squadron is under the 33rd Air Division at Oklahoma City and Commanded by Col. John T. Fitzwater. Col. Richard T. Kight is commander of the 34th, which is yielding defense responsibility for Arizona but adding three radar stations and the 331st unit at Big Spring.

COL. RICHARD T. KIGHT

Mrs. L. C. Bates, president of the Arkansas chapter of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People, sent Eisenhower a telegram Thursday. She said her pleas for aid from local authorities were futile.
There was no immediate comment from officials at the temporary White House in Gettysburg, Pa.

BULLETIN

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—A giant Titan missile exploded on its launching pad today as it lifted off on its first fullpower test flight.
There was no immediate announcement from the Air Force on what caused the explosion. Approximately 60 technicians in the blockhouse 50 yards away escaped injury.

Killing Was Pleasure, Man Tells Police

ISLIP, N. Y. (AP)—A husky former convict who told police he derived pleasure from killing was held today in three brutal robbery-slayings in which he got about $400.
"If I had had more bullets I would have shot more people," 27-year-old Francis H. Bloeth was quoted as saying.

Bloeth has a psychiatric record dating back to early childhood. He loved to strangle cats even as a child, it was said.
The director of a correctional institution for youngsters, in which Bloeth once had been confined, said: "It was impossible to do anything with him. He once told us 'I get a thrill out of killing. I love to strangle.'"

Robert Walsh, 21, an ex-convict pal, put the finger on Bloeth early this week. Walsh said he sold the revolver to Bloeth six months ago and the automatic to him only four hours before the third slaying—that of Mrs. Irene Currier, 50, of West Yaphank, slain Aug. 8 in a diner she operated at Westhampton.

"In the face of all this," she said, "we have begged for protection by city and county law enforcement authorities—but to no avail. In all the assaults on our home there never has been a single arrest of any offender or suspect."

One of the Negroes arrested was Ellis Thomas, 48, father of Jefferson Thomas, a 16-year-old senior and the lone Negro at Central.
Only a few persons stood around outside Central when Thomas attended Thursday. Four white youths were arrested for carrying weapons in the vicinity and disobeying police orders to move. Four others were questioned but released later.

$130,00 SHORTAGE

Women Employes Of Bank Talk With U. S. Attorney

By RAYMOND HOLBROOK
JACKSONVILLE (AP)—A chic, grey-haired ex-bank executive and a hefty bookkeeper in a cotton print dress talked with a federal attorney today about a $130,000 bank shortage.
The bank's losses had occurred over the past eight years.
One source said dormant accounts—those on which checks rarely were drawn—were involved.

"We were advised by all supervising authorities to refrain from making any statement until some action was taken," Acker said.
No charges have been filed and neither of the suspended employes was willing to discuss with reporters what became of the money. Under Texas law, publication of their names is prohibited unless a criminal complaint has been filed.

Budget For City Schools Approved

Big Spring Independent School District's $2,750,820 budget for 1959-60 was given final formal approval by the board of trustees last night.
No school patrons showed up for the public hearing on the budget. There were no criticisms or suggestions received regarding the matter.

He explained that the formula by which the federal funds were made available to the district for the Marcy school has been changed. As a result, there is a change the federal agency in charge might grant the district the difference between the sum provided by the old and the new formulas.

Tommy Welch To Try Luck In Derby's Second Heat

By BOB SMITH
AKRON (SC)—It was the tiny hand of a little girl that put Big Spring's Soap Box Derby contender, Tommy Welch Jr., into the second heat of Sunday's national race.
The child drew the ticket Thursday afternoon in the ballroom of Akron's Sheraton Hotel, where 170 Soap Box Champions first learned in which heat they would be guiding their slender, homemade racers. Heats will be run in three-car combinations.

the number four set of wheels. The official set — the only part of Soap Box racers furnished the boys — will be attached to Tommy's racer.
Drawing the second heat kept Tommy from gaining an honor of some sort — that of being in the first heat which is to be flagged by Vice President Richard Nixon in the opening race.

Gives Good Advice

Nicole Maurey visits Lydia Lane in Paris and they discuss clothes and perfume. She is soon to be seen in "The Jayhawkers" for Paramount.

HOLLYWOOD BEAUTY

French Actress Has Word On Perfumes

By LYDIA LANE PARIS—Nicole Maurey, blonder and more poised than when I first met her, came to my hotel for a visit. It was a pleasant surprise, and we reminisced about the first time we met, when she made her American debut with Bing Crosby in "Little Boy Lost." Since then she has perfected her English and made a number of pictures for the United States, the latest of which is Paramount's "The Jayhawkers." We chatted about our respective countries.

"I believe there is less difference between nationalities than most people think. I have friends from many countries, and we are attracted by each other's temperament and a reaction of life. The difference comes with habits and education," Nicole offered.

"The young girls in the United States are given many more privileges and are often blasé at the age French girls are having their first dates. In France, a girl in her teens is not considered interesting. A woman is just becoming a woman when she is 30, and she is desirable to men much longer than she is in your country."

"The talk turned to French fashions. "Finally the designers have decided that women should look like women again," Nicole exclaimed. "There are very few women who can afford to follow every fashion change. I feel that every skirt length should be worn where it is becoming."

"I was pleasantly aware of Nicole's perfume and told her. "You have to be patient until you discover the perfume you want to live with," she declared. "I use the same fragrance in soap, bath powder, cologne, sachet and, of course, perfume. Everything in my room and in my closet carries this scent. It has become a part of me. There are some scents that are very attractive at first which don't hold your friendship. Some popular perfume will not make much of an impression on you. Then one day you hit the jackpot; you'll find the scent you'll feel happened to me."

"How long do you go steady with one perfume?" I asked. "This time it has been over three years," Nicole confided. HIDDEN CHARM OF PERFUME Do you know how to buy perfume? Where to apply it for best effects? Would you like to know the perfumes worn by such famous stars as Marilyn Monroe, Doris Day and many others? This information can be yours when you send for safflet M-78, "The Hidden Charm of Perfume." Your copy will be on the way when you send 10 cents AND a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Lydia Lane, Big Spring Herald.

show at the fair, and was on hand for a week after the opening. "We had an Intourist guide, a Russian girl named Nina, for the time we were in Moscow," he said. "The first day Nina was shy and seemed somewhat unfriendly. But before the week was over we were all fast friends. Mrs. Daroff gave her some lipstick and a compact, which at first she refused to take. Finally, however, we persuaded her, and the last few days of our stay she showed up wearing the lipstick, pleased as punch, and looking prettier than it had seemed possible.

"When we left she went with us to the airport, and really broke down and cried when it was time to say goodbye. I know there is one Russian girl who has been converted to the idea of American friendship."

Russian women wear no cosmetics, says Daroff, who also observes that apparently foundation garments are unknown in the Soviet Union. "Big hips seem to be a measure of feminine beauty in Russia. If a girl doesn't occupy two chairs when seated, Russian men say she is too skinny," he said. If Soviet women are badly

"Even in the best hotels and night clubs, the men wear sports shirts and pants — no ties or jackets, except among the official groups," he said. "Our American group was entertained by the Moscow Board of Trade at a luncheon, and there the men wore suits and ties. But almost everywhere else we went the standard dress for men seemed to be shirtsleeves—and sports shirts at that."

Nation's Top Homemaker Has Her Problems, Too

AP Newsfeatures What's home life like for the nation's top homemaker? Mrs. Clark Priebe of Des Moines, Iowa, who recently won the Mrs. America crown at Fort Lauderdale, Fla., lives in a 12-year-old typical story and a half Middle West brick home.

It has three bedrooms and two baths but is a tight fit for Mr. and Mrs. Priebe and children Margie, 14, Gregory, 9, Doug, 7, and Karen Jane, 3½. The Priebe are thinking about moving to a larger house but hate to leave their ideal location. "We're near the park and swimming pool," Mrs. Priebe says, "with walking distance of elementary and junior high schools and there's even a lake nearby where the children can go fishing. The bus line is around the corner."

Just now the Priebe home is furnished mostly with mahogany but the pieces gradually are being replaced with cherry. "Mahogany shows the slightest speck of dust," the blue-eyed, black-haired homemaker explained.

Mrs. Priebe has no maid. The older children make their own beds and help with other household work. Big sister Margie is the family baby sitter and can cook a meal as well as her mother. Margie is good at sewing, too, a task her mother dislikes. The three younger children must be in bed by 8:30 p.m.—regardless of television temptations. "Anyway, they aren't much interested in TV," Mrs. Priebe says. "They'd much rather be outdoors playing."

Margie, a ninth grader, hasn't had a date yet. Her parents and those of her friends have agreed that supervised parties are to be the rule for the time being with no pairing off in couples. The Priebe had been considering a kitchen remodeling project but now are glad they didn't undertake it. One of Mrs. America's prizes was a complete new kitchen.

Cosden Club Plans Social Calendar

A battery of forthcoming social events was planned by the Cosden Women's Association, when the group met for luncheon Thursday at Cosden Country Club. Heading the calendar is the come-as-you-are dance to begin at 9 o'clock tonight at the club. August 28 is the date selected for a teen-age dance for members and their guests. The following night, the CWA will sponsor a barbecue at 7 p.m. Tickets, obtainable at the door, will be $1.25 for adults, 75 cents for children. Guests may linger afterward for dancing.

Margie's Dress Shop is to provide back-to-school styles for the fashion show which will be a feature of the women's luncheon Sept. 10. A gift certificate will be a special prize. Twenty were seated around a table centered with yellow gladioli and spotted tiger lilies. The flowers were awarded to Mrs. Helen Brown.

Fruit Soda

A good drink for thirsty children after school is a couple of scoops of ice cream put in fruit juice and mixed to a creamy consistency.

Vacationers

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Stephens, Susan and James Howard are vacationing in New Mexico and Colorado. They will return in a week.

Sports and Mrs. Nina James from the Good Sports, The Business and Professional Club will sponsor the group.

It was announced that this is the first time for a Texas town to be host to the national organization. Registration will begin Tuesday morning, with a reception slated for that evening. Headquarters will be at the Herring Hotel.

General sessions will be held during the days; open house Wednesday evening will be a get-acquainted affair. Thursday evening the group will be entertained with a barbecue and western party. Wheelchair square dancing will be an event of the entertainment on Friday evening, and the meeting will be climaxed with the installation banquet on Saturday evening.

Curiosity Over Handful Of Dirt Leads To Anti-Biotic

By BILL ANDERSON
CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP)—The life of James Burns has been changed favorably by a handful of dirt.
One day four years ago, while playing with his two daughters in the backyard, Burns dug his fingers into the ground, then watched the soil dribble from his hand.
As a researcher on bacteria, he knew important medical discoveries, including some wonder drugs, had been made in recent years by the isolation of certain organisms from certain soils.
These soils, however, were for the most part from some little known places, spots with exotic names, ones he never expected to see.
CAUSED HIM TO WONDER
"What's in this handful of dirt?" he recalls wondering.
Burns decided to see. The next day he took a sample with him to the hospital laboratory where he worked.
After four years of research, working with Dr. D. Frank Holtman at the University of Tennessee, Burns has isolated an organism from plain backyard soil and produced an anti-biotic that is reported to attack fungus diseases successfully.
The organism, he says, is one of the streptomycete group and has been officially named streptomycetes chattanoogensis.
The antibiotic is called Tencenecetin.
Both Burns and Dr. Holtman, of the S. E. Massengill Co. of Bristol, Tenn., which has been doing research to determine its practical uses, have great hopes Tencenecetin will be highly important in fighting fungal diseases in humans and animals and possibly to agriculture.

A representative of the Massengill firm says Federal Food and Drug Administration approval is expected soon, which would lead to marketing of the product.
Burns says some of the common types of diseases being treated experimentally over the country with Tencenecetin include ringworm, thrush, athlete's foot and several types of serious skin and scalp infections.
Since the discovery, Burns has been appointed head of the bacteriology department of the city's largest hospital and next month he will receive his doctorate from the University of Tennessee.

His story seems filled only with success, but there is a tragic side.
His wife, a registered nurse, worked at her husband's side through the lean years, giving him moral encouragement, and helping with family finances while he studied.
Then, just as it appeared they were on the high road, Mrs. Burns became ill. She died not long ago, just six weeks after the birth of their third daughter.
"I regret that my wife did not live to see the successful completion of our work," Burns says. "However, I'm dedicating my thesis to her."

World War II Ended 14 Years Ago Tomorrow

TOKYO (AP)—Fourteen years ago Saturday (Japanese time) World War II ended with the surrender of Japan. What would have happened to America if Japan had won?
The United States reduced to its original 13 states?
Alaska returned to the Soviet Union?
California taken over by Japan?
Compulsory Japanese education in American schools?
Execution of American war leaders?

These and other possibilities were explored in the Japanese magazine Shukan Bunshun this week in what it said was a reprint of an article that originally appeared in the magazine Senden three months before the fighting ended in 1945. Shukan Bunshun, one of Japan's most popular publications with a circulation of 600,000, called the article "foolish writing."
The author of the 1945 article, whose identity was not disclosed, had titled his article, "A Proposal for the Punishment of America." It was written shortly after the death of President Roosevelt and during the great B29 fire bomb raids on Japanese cities.
"There isn't one among us who doesn't long for the day when Japanese planes will be bombing the American mainland," the article said.
Japan should bring America to its knees and then impose numerous reforms, it continued, and predicted: "U.S. presidents will not be allowed to remain in office more than two consecutive terms. Those like Roosevelt, who was elected four times, should be punished. But since Roosevelt is dead, his family will be punished instead."

"America will compensate for damage inflicted on Japan... iron, oil, flour, shrimp... lumber for homes in Tokyo to be rebuilt."
The author said Hollywood movies had poisoned Japan so Hollywood would have to be shut down. He called for the execution of Gen. Curtis LeMay, whose planes were bombing Japan, and the punishment of former U.S. Ambassador Joseph Grew, Adm. Chester Nimitz and Gen. Douglas MacArthur.
"America's greedy world ambitions were caused by inadequate education in the moral and spiritual fields," the article continued. "Therefore Japanese educators must be sent to the United States to teach."
"Japanese language courses will be compulsory in all levels of education."
The writer said all American territory taken from Mexico would be returned to that nation.
"But California and Hawaii will come under Japanese jurisdiction," he said. "This will prevent these people from reviving any ambitions in the Pacific."
The author concluded it would be best not to impose too harsh conditions.
"Americans have their vulgar and inferior points," he said. "But they, too, have the ability to contribute to the future welfare of mankind. One should not think of exterminating them."

Airman Sues For Loss Of His Leg

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—An airman who knew he was trespassing sued the Southern Pacific Railroad Thursday for $200,000 for loss of a leg under a freight car in a Reno, Nev. freight yard.
Airman C.C. Nathaniel Woodruff, 22, now at Travis Air Force Base, filed the suit in U.S. District Court.
He said he fell asleep under a box car and his leg was run over when the car was switched.
His suit, filed by attorney Manuel Furtado of Hayward, Calif., said the railroad knows people frequently fall asleep in switch yards and has a duty to trespassers to be careful while switching cars.

RETIRED MAN BREAKS LAXATIVE DRUG HABIT

If lack of food bulk is causing constipation, do what Albert C. Lehr, Leisure City, Fla., did:
"I can hardly remember when I didn't have to take laxatives," he writes. "Several weeks ago I tried Kellogg's All-Brans and since then have discontinued all laxatives. Results are perfect."
There's a simple reason why Kellogg's All-Brans works for millions. It is an appetizing bulk-forming cereal food. A small serving (a half-cup) with milk gives you all the good food bulk you need for daily, natural regularity.
Try Kellogg's All-Brans for 10 days—see if you don't get the relief you want.
"Americans have their vulgar and inferior points," he said. "But they, too, have the ability to contribute to the future welfare of mankind. One should not think of exterminating them."

Runaway Car Is Event To Break Street Monotony

SHELTON, Conn. (AP)—Everything was fine on Tuxedo Avenue Thursday until a car went by.
It was a car like any other, except that the driver, John Fabozi, was running after it instead of sitting behind the wheel.
After his runaway romped through a fence and knocked down some shrubbery and a coach lamp, Fabozi told this story to police:
His car wouldn't start, so he came up from the rear with a truck and gave it a little push. He planned to jump out and catch the car while it was still rolling so he could start the motor by putting it in gear.
As it turned out, the car was pretty good at rolling. Better than Fabozi was at running, anyway.

OREGON TRAIL

Wagon Train Ends Wearisome Trip

INDEPENDENCE, Ore. (AP)—The Oregon wagon train will circle for its last bivouac in a field near this small western Oregon town tonight.
Saturday it will roll through Independence in a triumphal parade, but the end of the trip — the long road from Missouri — is now at hand. There is only a mile left for Saturday. Two thousand miles are behind.
"I'd go tomorrow for another trip just like this," said Roy Brahm, wagon builder and driver, his 60 years resting lightly.
But the man who rode horseback the whole way as security officer had another view. Said Gil Carnine, 61, "Once in a lifetime is enough."
The party of nearly 30 rode out of Independence, Mo., on a chilly, misting day last April. Former President Harry S. Truman started the train with a slashing sweep of his hat that so startled a mule it tried to climb back into one of the wagons.
Mules and horses steaded down the day followed day on the road. The people had less chance for that. The party was scarcely across the line into Kansas before a mock Indian party swept over the hills and attacked. That sort of thing went on for four months.
The trip was made to publicize Oregon's 100 years as a state. Seven covered wagons, herded along the highway by horsemen at front and rear, were served as well by motorized equipment. A truck became a mobile hay barn and there was a water tank and a kitchen unit. These solved a problem that might have been vexing: where to find feed and fuel beside a modern highway.
Despite the modern touch, the wagon train caught people's imagination. Thousands came to see it at overnight stops, motorists drove miles out of their way to catch a glimpse of this old way of travel.
Schools were dismissed along the early route.
Communities feted the travelers at barbecues. The curious probed for their stories.
"Talk?" said 57-year-old Ben Griffith. "It's like I'd been vaccinated with an Edison needle."

Mexican Cyclists To Enter Contest

MEXICO CITY (AP)—The Mexican motorcycle team to compete against a Laredo team next month is almost completed, says Enrique Romero Leon of the Federation of Mexican Motorcyclists. Leon said the 30 riders are expected to include Alfonso Sotomayor and the Rodriguez brothers.
Last year the races were held in Mexico. President Adolfo Lopez Mateos presented equipment then to aid the Mexican team. This same equipment will be used this year, Romero said.

Faith Of Cuban People In Castro Amazing To Watch

By WILLIAM L. RYAN AP Foreign News Analyst

HAVANA (AP) — The development of Fidel Castro's revolution in Cuba has its hopeful side.

The touching, unquestioning faith of the campesinos—the little people of the countryside—in their leader must be seen to be believed.

To them the revolution means only hope, and they—not Havana—represent Cuba. They are people who, like the vast majority of Cubans, depend on the land for a living.

Many now live in hovels, eking out an existence for their families. They have been told this is their revolution—a revolution of the farmers. If the promises are not fulfilled, their disillusion will be terrible.

The peasants place great hopes in the future of agrarian reform and cooperative farming. Competent economists say there is no reason why the program shouldn't succeed with careful, intelligent direction.

The National Institute of Agrarian Reform has outlawed the huge federal landholdings and is intent on chopping up the big farms into smallholders' plots for distribution among the landless tenants, sharecroppers and squatters.

The landholders, however, have given up with anguished protests coupled with dire predictions about the future of Cuba's economy, which depends mainly on sugar.

Proponents defend the law, pointing out that such measures have worked in other countries—including Japan under the U.S. occupation.

Agrarian reform undoubtedly has a tough, uphill path. So far the institute has equivalent of 20 million dollars recovered from associates of former President Fulgencio Batista and 13 million from voluntary contributions. Much more is still needed to pay for expropriated lands and finance prospective cooperatives.

The experiment is unquestionably a big job for the new, inexperienced regime. But if the enthusiasm of the peasants means anything its prospects are good.

Land redistribution is only one of the many enormous economic problems facing a nation pillaged by its former regime.

Uncertainty under Fidel Castro's revolutionary government has led to a sharp drop in private and foreign investment. This has led to a near standstill in the construction industry and to consequent unemployment. Roughly half a million Cubans are jobless out of a total work force of 2,400,000.

To take up the slack, the government has embarked on a public works program and deficit spending. This is a political necessity and probably will be difficult to stop when it becomes necessary for Castro to ask his people to tighten their belts in an austerity program later on. He is reported only recently aware of the dangers of inflation in the current situation.

The critical time for Castro is still months ahead—perhaps, in 1960. That's when his promises fail due.

As one habanero put it, "Fidel has shown us roses, but unless he waters the plants they'll die."

The people have been promised thousands of new housing units by the end of 1959. The peasants have been promised their first land before the end of the year. The government has promised jobs for all.

Cuba's present economic picture is spotty, but it is not yet frightening, and there is a more than even chance it will pull through despite gloomy predictions.

The road ahead, however, is not easy. If the Cuban revolution is going to succeed, Fidel Castro will have to climb down off that cloud and go to work in earnest.

Driver Charged With Murder

NEW YORK (AP)—Barry Goldenberg, 16, has been accused of deliberately running down a 13-year-old boy during a wild auto ride.

The victim is Peter Ramos, who suffered a broken pelvis, broken leg and internal injuries. His condition was described as "still critical but slightly improved" today.

Police gave this account: Goldenberg borrowed the car of a relative, Arnie Geller, Thursday, rounded up six friends, and set out to find some youths who recently beat up two of Goldenberg's friends.

Patrolman Kevin Pettus said that while cruising around, Goldenberg deliberately swerved the car toward a group of children at play.

After the child was hit, the car sped off. Pettus commandeered another car and crowded Goldenberg's auto to the curb. Geller was given a summons charging him with permitting an unlicensed person to operate his car. Goldenberg was charged with felonious assault, leaving the scene of an accident and driving without a license.

WANTING RAIN

Successful Cotton Crop Is Now Dependent On Weather

Howard County's cotton crop — considered one of the best in years only a month ago — is in need of a rain, the county agent noted this week. And that rain — or lack of it — could mean the difference between a bumper crop and just a regular yield.

Jimmy Taylor, the county agent, said that the heavy rains in July were partially the reason why the cotton is declining now. The abundance of rain brought about shallow roots on the cotton stalks, and now, Taylor said, the stalks don't have the length to reach into the deeper moist soil.

The earlier cotton is especially in need of moisture, the county agent added. With a good rain, it would make heavily, but some late cotton could make a bale to the acre with a rain in the next few days.

Taylor estimated that a rain in the near future — or lack of it — will mean a 15,000-20,000 bale differential on the crop in Howard County.

Taylor said that very little poisoning is going on in the county at the present time, and very few boll worms are being found. Cabbage loopers and leaf worms are being found in fields, and the leaf worms could cause plenty of damage if they get more numerous.

Should they become more prevalent, farmers will have to poison.

The county agent said that some early maize is already being cut, and quite a bit of ensilage is also being cut.

Pastures over the county, just as city lawns, are also burning some as a result of the dry spell which came on the heels of a wet period.

Land Auction

WASHINGTON (AP)—The sale of 397 acres of surplus government owned land at public auction on Sept. 11 was announced yesterday by the General Services Administration. The property is part of old Camp Fannin, nine miles north of Tyler.

There were 81 automobile accidents occurring in Big Spring during July, seven of them involving injuries, according to a report prepared by James Eubanks, executive secretary of the Citizens Traffic Commission.

Apparently auto accidents are on the increase here as there were only 50 reported in June and 69 in July, last year. These figures do not include minor accidents where no report was made or mishaps that occurred outside the city limits.

Over half of the total accidents occurred on three city streets, Third St. had the most accidents with 16, but 15 more occurred on Gregg, Fourth St. placed third in the list with 12.

Intersections hold the lead in accidents with 50 of the total occurring at cross streets. The other 31 occurred in the middle of blocks.

There were four hit-and-run smashes reported.

GOOD OLD SUMMER TIME

Summer TV Has More Of Old Than Good In It

By CHARLES MERCER
NEW YORK (AP)—They call it the good old summer time, but network television has more that's old than good in the coming week. However, to be as optimistic about it as possible:

The Dodgers play the St. Louis Cardinals on NBC Saturday afternoon. Again on Sunday, same network, the same teams will play again.

Gov. David L. Lawrence of Pennsylvania will "Meet the Press" on NBC Sunday. Conquest rebroadcasts on CBS an open heart operation on an 8-year-old girl at the University of Minnesota hospital.

Later on NBC Chet Huntley Reporting makes some suggestions on what Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev should be shown on his visit to this country. Some of the items: food surpluses in the West, the building boom in New York, the "mile of brins" along the Charles River at Cambridge, Mass.

A new show and probably the best of the week will be the hour-length dramatization of O. Henry's "The Ransom of Red Chief" on NBC Sunday night. William Bendix and Hans Conried play two confidence men who kidnap the son of a local citizen, played by Mickey Rooney's 9-year-old son, Teddy, in an effort to make money for one of their fraudulent schemes.

Bold Journey repeats a cold journey in hot weather on ABC Monday night when it climbs high into the Himalayas to observe the life and trading methods of Tibetan tribes.

Guests on the Andy Williams Show over CBS Tuesday night are singers Eydie Gorme and Mel Torme and comedy-magician Mr. Ballantine.

Wednesday night, on CBS, Armstrong Circle Theater repeats its documentary drama of the nuclear-powered submarine Nautilus on its crossing under the North Pole.

Playhouse 90 repeats "The Velvet Alley" on CBS Thursday night. Art Carney stars in this drama about a writer who loses his sense of values in Hollywood.

CRMWD Revenues Higher Than For July In 1958

Revenues of the Colorado River Municipal Water district ran slightly ahead of a year ago, July reports reflect.

However the water consumption (actually for the month of June and paid for in July) was down due to unseasonable rains.

Water sales for July amounted to $153,902 compared with $147,417 the same month of last year. Gross revenues aggregated $159,336, up from the $151,350 of July 1958. Through the first seven months of the year revenues have amounted to $1,045,892, well above the $916,564 expected. Part of the seven months gain is due to water sales increase and part is due to an adjustment in rates as witness the July figures.

July figures show $79,144 coming from Odessa, $33,310 from Big Spring, $9,291 from Snyder, $21,433 from SACROC, $3,600 from Lion Oil, $4,875 from Sharon Ridge, $1,169 from Texas Gulf Producing, $1,077 from rural users. Recreation revenues stood at $5,453.

Expenditures for the month included $5,094 for maintenance, $48,446 for operation ($37,485 power and $8,836 labor), $2,672 water royalties, $10,329 administration and general expense, $2,779 recreational.

Steel Worker Admits Murder

PITTSBURGH (AP)—A 28-year-old Lone Star Steel Co. employee from Pittsburgh has admitted shooting to death Mrs. Glenis Lee Gandy, 25, in her home here early Thursday.

Camp County Sheriff H. H. Loveless said that the man is being held in county jail awaiting charging for murder.

The woman was found shot in the head in her bedroom about 6:15 a.m. when officers arrived. The suspect was arrested shortly afterward.

Mrs. Gandy was an employee of Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. in Mount Pleasant.

Youths' Trail Left In Shells

FORT KENT, Maine (AP)—It didn't take much sleuthing skill for state police to solve a break at an Eagle Lake restaurant.

As a result Ronald Morneau, 18, Alfred Dube, 20, Ernest Roy, 18, and Donald St. Germaine, 20, pleaded guilty today to breaking, entering and larceny and were held for Superior Court action.

Police explained: The youths stole eight pounds of pistachio nuts and ate them on the way home. The shells led to Morneau's driveway.

Up And Down

COLDWATER, Mich. (AP)—Police and firemen rushed to a tall silo here. A boy, about 10, was on top.

Employees said the youngster had climbed up, apparently became panic-stricken and couldn't get down.

Officers climbed up. The boy was gone. He'd climbed down the other side.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Wings for a journey...

Vacation time—a trip; magic words, excitement! We study a map, read travel books, and listen eagerly to others who have taken the same journey. We anticipate seeing new places, new people, and unusual things. The routine of everyday will be forgotten.

But sometimes a trip is impossible, and we must accept the hurry and anxiety of everyday living.

Then it is that we need to plan a journey of mind and spirit—one that can lift us out of the ordinary into peace and communion with our God—one that refreshes and strengthens.

For this journey we do not need an airplane. Instead, we use the powerful wings of prayer, of praise and trust.

Come to Church and find these wings of the spirit, not for a brief journey—but for all eternity.
