First Bale Of 1959 Cotton Is Ginned Monday

Howard County's first bale of cotton was ginned Monday evening, opening what promises to be a bumper season. D. S. Phillips, Coahoma, was the grower, and Cecil Long at Acuff Gin in Lomax ginned the first bale. How the first bale was raised one mile north of Coahoma and ginned all the way across the county at Lomax is a story. So are the tribulations connected with getting that first bale. But none of these mattered Tuesday morning as Malcolm Patterson, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce agriculture committee, handed Phillips a check for $500. This was the premium subscribed by nearly two score business firms and individuals for the bale which opened the 1959 season. Phillips, who has been relatively inactive due to ill health, was delighted. "I want to express my appreciation to all the businessmen and others in Big Spring and area and the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce for making this prize possible," he said. "I never dreamed I'd get the first bale, but I'm all the more happy about it."

5 Men Burned In Oil Well Explosion

LAMESA — Five men were seriously burned, one suffering severe second-degree burns on the face, when an oil and gas well exploded into flame 15 miles southwest of here early this morning. The rig is in extreme northern Martin County about five miles southwest of the Patricia community. Fire departments from Midland, Andrews, Seminole and Lamesa fought the blaze. Some firemen and police officers were still on the scene at mid-morning but the fire appeared to be under control. A. O. Dry, 36, Andrews, was in a critical condition after suffering second degree burns of the face, and possibly burns of that degree elsewhere. He was burned over 70 per cent of his body. Still in serious condition in Medical Arts Hospital in Lamesa were four Midland men: Floyd Stokes, 19, Johnny Thompson, 34, Thomas Montgomery, 29, and Earl V. Campbell, 35. A sixth victim, J. A. McCullough, Midland, was treated for his injuries and released. The burns of the men were confined, for the most part, to exposed parts of their bodies. All were brought to Lamesa hospital by residents of the area who heard the blast. Members of the Sharp Drilling Co. crew for Pan American believed sparks from an engine caused the explosion which occurred at 3:30 a.m. Thompson, a driller, said he was working on the sub-structure about 25 feet from the ground when the explosion came. The flames roared up into his face and the blast hurled him from the rig, he said. The other four members of the crew were also knocked from the rig. Montgomery fell into the slush pit and the other three to the ground. The critically burned man, Dry, is assistant superintendent of the drilling firm. The well, No. 2 E. L. Turnbough, is in the Breedlove Field just over the Dawson County line. It is in Labor 10, League 259, Borden CSL. The well was drilling at 11,100 feet when gas from the Strawn section issued and ignited. The fire was put out at 8 a.m. but for a time gas continued to spew. At noon the rig was being dismantled. Repairs will be made and drilling resumed.

PLANS SCALED DOWN

Chamber Of Commerce To Endorse Capehart Project

Chamber of Commerce directors Monday reaffirmed support of a scaled-down Capehart application by Webb AFB. A year ago the chamber had adopted a resolution supporting an application for 377 additional Capehart units to care for a portion of the estimated influx of base personnel. Since then, because Webb had asked the Air Training Command to assign as many single men as possible to the base, and because the present Capehart project, plus local builders and upgrading by owners of existing units, the request had been scaled down to 220 additional units. Col. Galen A. Stell, commander of the 3560th Air Base Group, and Maj. Marvin E. Lindeman, Supply Services officer, told directors Monday that by standards set by the Defense Department, 867 Webb military families were in inadequate housing. Maj. Lindeman said that this was not to infer that all were sub-standard apartments or houses, but that in some respect they did not meet all the requirements set out by the Defense Department. Col. Kyle Riddle, before leaving his post as commander of Webb AFB, had requested on Aug. 3 that the chamber reaffirm its support of the project, but on scaled-down basis. The executive committee had recommended approval to the board, and it was on the committee's recommendation that the board passed favorably and unanimously Monday. Maj. Lindeman said that contrary to a popularly held idea, the number of private homes owned by base personnel in Big Spring was steadily on the increase. In 1957 there were 25 military connected people who owned homes here; a year later there were 79; and in May of this year there were 275. Base personnel has been steadily on the increase. The 1,861 in 1957 increased to 2,279 last year and recently was pegged at 2,851. Unofficial estimates project the figure to approximately 3,060 in 1960 and around 3,360 in 1961. Some long range estimates, also unofficial, are for 4,200 by 1962 and about 4,300 the following year. Clyde McMahon, chamber president, said that the projected increase within the next two years, which would be as soon as a project could be planned and executed, more than justified the application. Moreover, he said, communities which have failed, either through private, Capehart or

Wherry units to meet housing needs have invariably lost facilities to communities where they were provided. McMahon also called the board's attention to another growth factor — that of schools. He also serves as vice president of the school board. Last spring the schools here graduated 190, and this autumn it is anticipated that 750 first graders will enter school. Even without any in-migration of

16 Known Dead In Montana 'Quakes

FRIDAY IS FINAL DAY FOR FREE TRASH-WEED PICKUPS

Friday is the last day for free trash and weed pickups by the city. Bruce Dunn, Big Spring Director of Public Works, said all requests for trash and weed pickups after Friday would be charged at the rate of $3 per truck-load or portion of a truck-load. The pick-ups are available to residents who have cleared a vacant lot or yard of weeds and trash and wish to have it hauled off. The service comes as a part of the new ordinance requiring all lot owners to keep their lots clear of such debris. The ordinance gives the city the authority to require all lots be kept clean and to assess owners for the cost of cleaning them in the form of a lien against the property. Dunn has set specific charges for cleaning various size lots throughout the city and crews will do the work at the request of the owners.

Scores Marooned By Earth Slides

HELENA, Mont. (AP) — Earthquakes hit the Northwest from British Columbia to Wyoming Monday night and early today, leaving a mounting death toll over Southwestern Montana. The shocks were so severe a big Montana dam was damaged and a mountainside toppled into a river. Sixteen deaths were reported. Six deaths were reported to Sheriff Lloyd Brook at Virginia City, by a helicopter pilot who flew over the scene. The Idaho State Police in a radio broadcast said there had been eight deaths. A radio station executive who got into the area said he learned that two people had been buried by a landslide in the Madison River Canyon below the big slide area. He theorized more might be dead. There was no way, Civil Defense headquarters here said, of determining whether there is duplication in the reports. The report of the people covered by the slide came from Richard D. Smiley, president and general manager of radio station KXXL at Bozeman, Mont., who got into the stricken area as far as the big slide. He said he was told that three boys escaped the same slide. The helicopter pilot told Sheriff Brooks he had counted the six bodies during a flight over the scene. The chief of the Montana Highway Patrol, Alex B. Stephenson, was quoted by State Civil Defense Director Hugh Potter as saying between 100 and 150 people apparently were marooned between the dam and the slide. Sheriff Donald J. Skerritt and Pilot Al Newby, after an early morning flight over the area, said "a mountain slid into the river." They estimated the slide is 200 to 300 feet high. They reported the 35-mile long Hebgen Reservoir was "rippled askew" by the quake with the north shore dropping from 6 to 15 feet and the south shore rising as much. They said a giant fissure has opened up the length of Hebgen Lake on the north side all the way to West Yellowstone. A campground in Madison Canyon was completely buried by the slide, the sheriff and pilot reported, and bits of wreckage which appeared to be part of tents and trailers were littered about in the debris. Sheriff Skerritt theorized that the damage to Hebgen Lake probably was caused by an earthquake near midnight. The quakes shook Yellowstone National Park, filled with summer tourists. Dean Stone, managing editor of the Maryville-Alcoa (Tenn.) Times, was among the tourists routed by the quake. He said the hotel and Mammoth Hot Springs rumbled for several minutes and that at least one auto was trapped inside the park by a rockslide. Dr. W. A. Melther, manning a hospital in Ashton, east Idaho town, said he treated half a dozen minor injury cases from West Yellowstone. Three or four of the people, he said, were pretty badly shaken up. He said there is a general exodus from the western gateway of the park, 57 miles northeast of Ashton. The assistant chief ranger at Yellowstone Park, Frank Sylvester, said most west side roads were closed by slides but tourist travel was carried on through other entrances. A water main broke in the eastern wing of Old Faithful Inn. He reported there appeared to be no damage to Old Faithful and other famed geysers and scenic features in the park. He said the last heavy tremor in the park was in 1924 and that the geysers also escaped damage. He reported roads closed by rockslides included south from Mammoth, Norris Junction to Madison Junction and from Old Faithful to Madison Junction. Most of the residents of Ennis, Mont., about 50 miles downstream from Hebgen Dam, were evacuated in the predawn hours but about a hundred remained. The evacuation was ordered when it appeared the third of a million acre feet in Hebgen Lake might pour down on them. The evacuation was called off when the mountainside blocked the river so tightly it shut off all the stream's flow. Many of those who left Ennis went to nearby Virginia City, famed in Western lore as the birthplace of the Vigilantes. The first quake struck at 11:30 p.m. (MST). All tourists staying in the town were awakened at 2 a.m. and were advised to get out. The same advice was given to tourists at Three Forks, several miles downstream. Civil Defense Director Potter (See QUAKE, Page 8, Col. 6)

Ike To Make Public Facts Relating To Steel Strike

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower and Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell decided today to make public basic facts behind the steel strike in hopes of speeding negotiations and a settlement. The information gathered by Mitchell as Eisenhower's personal fact-finder, will be made public for Thursday newspapers. Mitchell said they will cover wages, prices, productivity, profits and a few related matters. The secretary told a news conference the information covers a major part but not all of the facts

Kansas City Blast Fatal To 4 Firemen

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — A group of oil storage tanks were ignited by a fire from a filling station today and exploded, killing four firemen. At least 42 others were injured. In addition to the 42 injured, at least 40 more firemen were treated at the scene. Fire Chief Francis Daugherty of Kansas City, Kan., said all the victims were from the Kansas City, Mo., department. Most of the dead and injured were engulfed by a mushrooming ball of fire which enveloped the area as the tanks exploded. The fire sprang up in a filling station where two men were filling a gasoline truck. As it spread, four 25,000-gallon storage tanks exploded. One of the large tanks spewed flaming fuel into a group of firemen. After the blast the flames subsided quickly. The truck driver, James Mitchell, suffered an arm burn. Mitchell said he did not know how the fire started.

STRUCK BY TRUCK

E. E. Morris, Highway Worker, 11th Traffic Victim Of Year

Eppy Edward Morris, 47, was killed instantly Monday when struck by a tanker truck about five miles west of Big Spring on U.S. Highway 80. The tragedy occurred about 3 p.m. Morris was stepping out of a State Highway Department truck, which was parked on the apron of a roadway, when an Eagle Transport Co. truck, driven by Melvin Coe, 38, struck him. He had been employed by the highway department since July, 1953. Robert Schooling, 23, who worked with Morris, was standing to the rear of the highway department truck when the accident occurred. He lives at 1008 E. 20th. The mishap was the 11th traffic fatality for Howard County this year. Five of these have occurred in the city; six on rural highways. Morris lived on the Sterling City Rt. and he and Schooling did maintenance work on the highway right of way from Big Spring to the Martin County line. Coe lives at Sand Springs and he said he had known Mr. Morris for 15 years. The door of the state highway department truck was crumpled. Morris was thrown about 15 feet. Mr. Morris was born Nov. 3, 1911, in Rusk County. He had been a maintenance employee of the Texas Highway Department for seven years. In 1928 Morris came to Big Spring from Abilene, and married Mrs. Lorene Perry here in June, 1939. He had only recently returned from the funeral services of his mother. Services will be at 10:30 a.m. Wednesday in Nalley-Pickel Chapel, with the Rev. Ronnie Allen, pastor of Trinity Baptist Mission, officiating. Interment is to be in Trinity Memorial Park. Survivors include the wife, Mrs. Morris; a daughter, Mrs. Don Johnson, Abilene; a step-son, Billy Perry, Las Cruces, N. M.; five brothers, H. L. of Big Spring, Pete of Tye, Scott of Tye, P. J. of Winters and Togo of Gallup, N. M.; two sisters, Mrs. Earl King, Abilene, Mrs. Don Prather, Abilene. Pallbearers will be Roy Bates, Jack McKinnon, True Dunagan, A. B. Johnson, D. R. Bates, M. A. Dunagan, Wayman Burns and Clint Kent. All employees of the local Texas Highway Department will be honorary bearers.

Two Fires In City Monday

Two fires were reported in the city Monday and early this morning. James Morgan was taken to Cowper Hospital after a blaze at the Morgan residence, 1500 Scurry. Attendants said the burns on his hand were not serious. He was also treated for a cut on his arm. Apparently the fire was caused by a cigarette which caught a mattress on fire. Damage was limited to the mattress. The floor and wall at the H. H. Morris residence, 2104 Nolan, was damaged by fire. Firemen said the blaze was started by a hot water heater.

Farm Trailer Rulings Asked From The Attorney General

Opinions will be asked from the attorney general on two laws affecting farm trailers. County commissioners said Monday they would ask County Attorney Wayne Burns to request rulings on whether farm trailers must all be licensed and have certificates of titles. Another ruling will be requested on clarification of laws requiring lights on farm trailers. Trainers succeeded in getting a bill through the Legislature requiring certificates of title and registration of trailers, but the law had a clause exempting farm trailers. In sending out instructions for enforcement of the new laws, the Department of Public Safety made no mention of the exemption for farm trailers. C. H. DeVaney, vice president of the Texas Farm Bureau, said that this was called to the attention of the DPS during the session. The Farm Bureau sought unsuccessfully to spell out the exemption in a separate act during the last special session. The trailer light law required burning lights, but again an exemption has been made to the extent that farm trailers may use reflectors. Instructions to enforcing agents do not include the latter, hence, the request for a ruling from the attorney general.

Police Wounded

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Five policemen were wounded in a clash with a group of soldiers Monday. The soldiers, after drinking at a cantina, started firing their guns in the air and molesting persons on the street. Police intervened when they started to assault a couple sitting in a car.

Interest In Favorite Recipe Contest Continues To Gain

Interest continues to mount in the Herald's favorite recipe contest. Every day brings a greater volume of letters containing recipes which have been proven in the kitchens of this area. Some one of them will be picked as the best recipe and its supplier will be given $100. Best of seven divisions such as salads, desserts, main dishes, breads, etc. will each receive $10. But what is most important of all, the recipes submitted will be collected and published in one volume as a Herald supplement Sept. 20. There will be a world of good eating coming from it. Any persons may submit as many recipes in as many categories as desired, so long as they are on separate sheets of paper. The recipes may not be of the box top or mix varieties.

Forgery Count

Bond has been set at $3,000 for James W. Taylor, charged with forgery and passing a forged instrument. Bond had not been posted at noon Tuesday.

Charges Of Car Theft Dismissed

A felony complaint of car theft lodged with Justice of Peace Jess Slaughter on Monday against Preston Mack Clinton has been dismissed. Fern Cox, chief deputy sheriff, advised Slaughter that evidence would be insufficient and recommended that the case be dismissed. Clinton and a companion had been held in Longbeach, Calif., on advice of officers here after a car and a sum of money was reported missing from the City Body Shop.

Light Showers Fall In County

Isolated parts of Howard County got a light sprinkle to good summer showers Monday, following the spotted rains of Sunday. Porter Hanks, grocer at Vealmoor recorded 2 inch and farmers about seven miles southeast got about an inch of moisture. The best rains were apparently along the southwestern Howard-Glasscock border. The Lawrence Adkins farm in Lomax community received 2, and about four miles farther north almost an inch fell. Rains appeared to increase toward south into Glasscock. Lamesa received .35 in the early morning.

San Angelo Church Is Scene Of The McKee-Daunis Nuptials

SAN ANGELO (Sp1)—Lake View Baptist Church was the setting for the Saturday wedding of Arlie McKee and Charles L. Daunis.

A senior at Southwest Texas State Teachers College in San Marcos, the bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Claude C. McKee. She was born and reared in Dawson County and attended the Harmony schools before moving to San Angelo. After graduation from Lake View High School, she attended San Angelo College where she was affiliated with Sigma Alpha Chi and Future Teachers of America. She will teach in the San Angelo schools this fall.

Her husband, a graduate of San Angelo High School and SAC, attended West Texas State College, Canyon, and Southwest Texas State Teachers College.

The ceremony was read by the Rev. Bryan Ross and music was presented by Mr. and Mrs. Dean Cope, Mary Claire Lacy and Sue Burgess.

McKee gave his daughter in marriage. Her dress of white embroidered tulle featured a bouffant skirt of soft pleats extending into a chapel length train. She wore a fingertip veil of silk illusion, attached to a crown of pearls and sequins. On a white Bible she carried a bouquet of white roses and pink sweetheart rosebuds.

Feminine attendants were Mrs.

Hot Sandwich Has Friendly Flavor Mix

If you've run through your sandwich repertoire right in the middle of the picnic season, you'll enjoy this new version of a hot and hearty sandwich. Its recommendations? A savory filling of cheese and ham with California sauterne to blend the flavors; h-blowed-out rolls to make serving and eating more convenient; a simple system of heating the rolls in waxed paper or foil.

For a patio supper, serve these hot sandwiches with a crisp, cool salad.

PATIO SUPPER ROLLS (Serves 6 to 8) 1 (8 oz.) package process American or Cheddar cheese 12 pimiento-stuffed olives 1 small onion 1 cup ground or minced, cooked ham or canned luncheon meat 4 tbsps. California sauterne or sherry wine 3 tbsps. salad oil 1 tsp. Worcestershire sauce 6 large or 8 medium-sized French Rolls Put cheese, olives and onion through the food grinder. Combine these ingredients with the ham, wine, salad oil and Worcestershire sauce; blend thoroughly.

Cut a thin lengthwise slice from the top of each roll; hollow out the inside to form a shell. Fill hollowed-out rolls with the ham-cheese mixture; replace tops. Wrap each roll securely in waxed paper or foil. Arrange wrapped rolls on a cookie sheet or in a shallow baking pan; bake in a moderately hot oven (375 degrees F.) for 20 to 25 minutes. Remove paper and serve piping hot.

OVERWEIGHT? New 24-Hour Diet Takes Pounds Off Big Eaters

Big eaters now can lose 10 to 20 pounds and more and still enjoy big meals of fine food... thanks to the Swedish Milk Diet. It is an on and off diet. Eat today... eat everything just like you now eat. Then tomorrow you diet for 24 hours taking Larson's S.M.D. with milk... that's all.

No calorie counting. No exercise. No mechanical massage. Yet not only do the pounds and inches of horrid looking fat melt away but more important, those bulges disappear in the right places from all over the body the same way. It's quickly noticeable how much weight is gone from chin, back, neck, arms, legs, stomach, bust, backside, hips and thighs.

So even if you are a true gourmet when it comes to fine food and big meals, start the Swedish Milk Diet. Automatically thousands of fat building calories are eliminated. Energy goes up... weight goes down. Once again you're slim and there's no underfeeding. This is the reducing plan you've seen published in Harper's Bazaar, Glamour, Vogue and other authoritative fashion magazines.

You can get Larson's S.M.D., the complete Swedish Milk Diet, at better drug stores. Also featured by many leading department stores... ask at the cosmetics counter. You have your choice of this filling, energy-packed food either regular or in chocolate flavor or in handy condensed food tablet form. Satisfaction is guaranteed or you need only return empty package to store where purchased for purchase price refund.

British Miss Is Not Eager To Go Back To England

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The willowy dark blonde who came to Hollywood as England's entry in the Miss Universe beauty pageant doesn't want to return home. "English producers are afraid of glamour," she explained. "Here in Hollywood they aren't." But Pamela Searle's mother and the sponsor who paid for her trip to the international beauty contest in California want her home. Especially the sponsor, who threatens to sue. Miss Searle, now a budding actress, said "Why, in England a beauty winner like me wouldn't have a chance of getting into films. I can only get into more beauty contests."

Appeal Made For Funds To Aid Diabetics

An appeal for support of the Southwestern Diabetic Foundation as means of helping affected children stay alive was made here Monday to Jaycees by Max Bentley, Abilene. He spoke at the weekly luncheon at Coker's.

Bentley, a director of public relations for the foundation which headquarters in Gainesville, and has a large camp nearby, pointed out that more than 80 per cent of the youngsters who come to the camp pay little if anything toward their care and support.

And even if everyone paid the $250 tuition and treatment fee, there would still be a big operating deficit were it not for people who contribute to the foundation, he said. Some reasons are: Rising costs and increasing enrollment, not to mention that the scholarship fee covers however long the doctor thinks the child needs to stay. Stay at the camp varies from one month to three.

Camp Sweeney, founded by and named for Dr. J. Shirley Sweeney, Dallas, one of the nation's leading diabetic specialists, is located on a 403-acre tract fronting on Lake Dealy, a 23-acre spring-fed body of water. Children are taught how to administer the proper amounts of insulin for themselves, how to achieve an exact diet, how much exercise they can and should take. In addition, there are all the other activities which go with the conventional camp.

Today Camp Sweeney is the largest camp in the world exclusively devoted to diabetic children, Bentley told the Jaycees. The outstanding doctors who periodically serve at the camp all do so without charge.

In Texas most Jaycee chapters have taken on fund campaigns for the camp as part of their activities, Bentley continued. Since 1951 Texas Jaycees have given it their blessings, and now Oklahoma, Louisiana and Arkansas have joined and New Mexico is due to endorse it actively this year.

Yacht In Trouble Sends Help Call

HONOLULU (AP) — A yacht, with nine persons aboard and a leak-flooded engine room, sent out a distress call Monday off the island of Hawaii. A plane dropped a pump that got the boat out of danger. The Coast Guard reported the 62-foot schooner, owned by Cliff Johnson, formerly of San Diego, Calif., headed into Kailua-Kona, Hawaii, 38 miles east for repairs.

A Devotional For Today

The Lord shall be thy confidence. (Proverbs 3:26.)
 PRAYER: Our heavenly Father, we thank Thee for hearing and answering our prayers. Forgive our shortcomings and weaknesses. Today we ask Thy help and strength and healing of mind and body and spirit; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

Fall Is In The Air

One day near the middle of last week, we all woke up feeling autumn in the air. This feeling was indescribable, but unmistakable and quite real.
 Day or two later the atmosphere in these parts took on a smoky, almost opaque thickness through which the bright thunderheads had a hard time getting themselves looked at.
 The lawn grass, which had grown unbelievably fast from mid-July to August 1, quit growing as if someone had turned off a secret source of power. The grass grew ten times as fast from July 15 to August 1 as from August 1 to 15, in spite of the rains.

The dog days were manifesting themselves. The stubborn retreat of the aphrophyl was under way.
 If we had been predicting the weather for the weekend just past, which we didn't (fortunately), we would have passed up any thought of rain and announced a probable cold front instead, based on the peculiar aspect of the sky and the rapid drop in plant growth.
 The autumnal equinox is more than a month away, but the transition from summer to fall isn't waiting on the calendar. It has already begun.

Uttering Of Platitudes

On Jan. 16, 1958, a Washington newsman asked a great American statesman what Premier Khrushchev hoped to gain by meeting President Eisenhower, and his reply was:
 "The great gain (for the Russian premier) is to have a meeting which will utter platitudes about peace. 'We're going to work together. We're all going to be friends. We're going to end all world tensions. And, therefore, there is no need any more to have this military preparation to pay taxes in order to have a mutual-security program,' and the like."
 "If he can get that, that would be the greatest triumph of his career, or indeed the career of almost anyone, because the people would no longer be willing to support the military programs, the economic-assistance programs, the inconveniences of alliances which require people to coordinate their policies with each other—all these things could be thrown away because peace has been proclaimed."

 "And the Communist Party will go right on."
 Who said that? Well, Secretary of State John Foster Dulles said it.
 He was still saying it in one form or another, right up to the time he died, not many weeks ago. Not by any slightest word or deed did he ever leave the impression, before he died, that he ever thought otherwise.
 Well, the bipartisan foreign policy which Mr. Dulles so courageously implemented has taken a different tack, and we now have the one thing he warned us incessantly against—letting Khrushchev get his foot in the crack of the door.
 We will need to be alerted to platitudes and to take them for what they are.

Things Working Out Well For Ike

WASHINGTON (AP)— Things worked out neatly for President Eisenhower.

Now he can fry a couple of kinds of fish—by mixing business with courtesy—when he goes to Europe later this month. The courtesy part used to bother him.

Some of Europe's crowned and government heads have visited him these past few years. Naturally, if he went to Europe, he would be expected to repay the visits.

But to make the rounds might keep him as much as six weeks away from the United States, or so he thought.

Then he got tangled up with Premier Nikita Khrushchev and things straightened out.

First, there was French President Charles de Gaulle, who looks upon himself as a symbol of French dignity and is forever worrying about preserving it.

For some time Eisenhower had wanted to meet the Frenchman in an effort to settle some problems but there was no sign De Gaulle would come here.

Eisenhower doesn't worry as much as De Gaulle about protocol—or the question of who visits whom first.

But then he ran into his problem: If he set foot in Europe he would have other visits to repay and they would take time.

While this was going through Eisenhower's mind, the President worked out his deal with Khrushchev for an exchange of visits, starting in mid-September.

This created another problem.

An Eisenhower-Khrushchev visit is the kind of thing that might jigger American allies with visions of secret deals, since their two countries dominate the Communist and non-Communist worlds.

To make sure the allies got no such notion, Eisenhower decided to go to Europe and reassure them.

His arrangements call for Eisenhower's leaving here Aug. 26 and getting back before Khrushchev arrives Sept. 15.

So while he was in Europe, Eisenhower could repay some of the courtesy visits but, since he'd have to be back fairly soon to meet Khrushchev, his courtesy calls wouldn't take those six weeks he used to have in mind.

He will fly first to West Germany to see Chancellor Konrad Adenauer and President Theodor Heuss. Both had called on him here, Adenauer in 1957, Heuss the next year.

Then the President will scoot back to London, fly to Scotland to see Queen Elizabeth who visited him in 1957. This will be a brief session.

The President goes back to London then for meetings with British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan who called on him last March after visiting Khrushchev in Moscow.

From London Eisenhower goes to Paris to confer with De Gaulle. This may last several days. The two men have a lot to talk about. De Gaulle isn't easy to talk to.

The President probably won't have time for other stop-offs to repay visits by Belgian King Baudouin, by Sweden's Prince Bertil, and by Norway's Princess Astrid.

It is possible Eisenhower, after visiting Khrushchev later this year, will find time for some other stops on the way back.

He has been talking of making goodwill visits in other places around the world before his presidency ends in January 1961.

Staunch Democrat

MANGUM, Okla.— Miss Ura Foster, a teacher at Mangum's Edison grade school, noticed that one youngster, David Kirley, was not taking part in the morning flag salute.

"What's the matter, David, don't you know the words?" she asked.

"Yes, ma'am," the 10-year-old replied, "but I'm a Democrat and the flag salute says, 'I pledge allegiance to the flag of the United States of America, to the Republicans for which it stands.'"

Magnolia Buzzes

MAGNOLIA, Ala.— Motorists driving through this south Alabama section frequently stop and check under the hood when they hear a strange buzzing sound.

But the residents of the area are quick to explain—it's just the latest crop of locusts hatching.

WHAT OTHERS SAY

The House Ways and Means Committee has been in something of a deadlock over the financing of the federal road program. Some members still want the Government to float some bonds to help pay for the program which runs to more than $17 billion.

But there seems to be growing support for the idea that maybe we ought to pay for these roads as we go along rather than to pass the debt on to future generations.

Representative John Byrnes of Wisconsin is backing a hike in the Federal gasoline tax. Maybe Congress will pay some attention to what President Eisenhower had to say about building pay-as-you-go roads. "Americans should not insist that their grandchildren pay for highways being built now."

Unless, of course, Congress collectively thinks, as some individual Congressmen apparently think, that Mr. Khrushchev was a far-sighted man when he told us that all of our grandchildren would be living under socialism. It would be hard to build a faster road to travel in that direction than piling up debt now for the coming generations to meet.

Man With Too Many Thumbs

I do not question the importance of the thumb on the human hand.

I know that it probably spells the difference between man and animals of a lower order. Man learned how to employ the thumb and improve the usability of his hands. From that came the skill he has in the use of tools to lengthen his arms, strengthen his muscles and improve his condition.

I do not think it is nice to have five thumbs on each hand.

I have been of the impression today that I had swapped my four fingers on each hand for an equal number of thumbs. As a result, I have successfully generated an amazing clumsiness which has made everything I have had to do about three times as difficult as it should have been.

Besides, this is one of the days when those invisible little gremlins show up inside my typewriter. They take great delight in seeing it that the letters I punch on the key board do not respond. Instead, they push up other letters, making what I am trying to write look like some mysterious sort of code.

They also tie three or four keys together inside the typewriter and jam them so tightly that I spend half my time untangling them.

Another set of the little boogers has been busy all day hiding my notes, mislaying my pencil and concealing beyond all possibility of location numerous gadgets I have to use in my trade.

All in all, it has been one of those days when I would have been better off if I had just stood in bed.

No one has ever been able to explain why such days come around, but I believe they are the occasional lot of all mortals.

You can't pin it down on your health, always. The chances are you feel perfectly all right. You ain't sick—you're just butter-fingered and muddle-headed for some reason.

You shouldn't get all worked up about it, either. It doesn't do a bit of good. Indeed, getting all shook up generally seems to accelerate the difficulty rather than diminish it.

If you are a strong philosophical bent and one of these thumbsy days shows up, the thing you should do is take it all in your stride.

If the gremlins jimmy up your copy—just calmly rewrite it. If they jam the keys—placidly unjam them. If you lose a pencil or a ruler or some important notes—just shut it off.

Yes, that's what a person with a strong philosophical bent would do. Unfortunately, I seem a little shy on strong philosophy these days.

I know what I should do—I just ain't got it in me to do it.

Recommended Reading For Mr. K

New dispatches out of Moscow say that Nikita Khrushchev is doing a lot of reading in preparation for his American tour. Of course, he could be brushing up on the Communist Manifesto to reassure himself.

Deponent knoweth not whether the Red czar is reading Bryce de Tocqueville, Freeman, De Voto, Franklin, Jefferson, Beard, Whitman or Sandburg. But my nomination for required reading for Mr. K. before he embarks on his journey to the West, is a complete set of Horatio Alger.

The Russian boss has repeatedly made it obvious that he believes no one in the U. S. A. who wears a white collar ever did a lick of hard work. It would be interesting to learn how Mr. K. thinks we acquired those white collars, in the first place, and how we all got to be big, bloated capitalists, in the second place.

Most of us have earned our callouses, but not from sitting down, waiting for mana to fall into our laps. The vast majority of us have had to spit on our hands, roll up our sleeves and pitch into whatever hard work came to hand.

It is one of Mr. Khrushchev's favorite gambits, when American VIPs visit him in the Kremlin, to sneer jowally and demand, "What do you know about hard work?" He was just doing what comes naturally when he put this question to Vice President Nixon.

Surely, one of the greatest delusions under which the Kremlin leader operates is his obsessive conviction that in the U. S. A. no one works except enslaved laborers. Granted that Mr. K. has had extensive experience with slave labor, still and all the Communist yardstick will tell him nothing if applied to America.

This particular delusion of Mr. Khrushchev, always accompanied by a chestthumping declaration that he, Mr. K., worked like a bonded beaver in his past, has aroused President Eisenhower's disapproval.

The President wants the Premier to stop off at Abilene, Kan., where Mr. Eisenhower's contemporaries can tell the Russian just what hard physical labor the Chief Executive did in his youth.

But the real point is that Mr. K. doesn't have to make a special stop in any particular community to learn about the background of heavy labor that is part and parcel of the success story of almost any American leader, great or small, the Russian will meet on his tour. This story is ubiquitous.

Let the Americans who meet Mr. Khrushchev put a flea in his ear by telling him the real life story by which they, too, got ahead. Not over dead bodies, but by hard, often back-breaking, work.

Let Mr. K. know that there is in this country an annual Horatio Alger award for the 10 or 12 youngest men who, by their own hard work, have made a success in business—'tween a business started on hope in the merican way and a thin dime. Let him know that there are always so many persons eligible for these awards that it is difficult to narrow the list down to a dozen persons.

Other nations often accuse Americans of making a fetish of work, and charge us with driving ourselves at a killing pace. The head Russian, on the other hand, chooses to believe the opposite. Does he think we are fed by the ravens?

We are all familiar with the biased traveler who goes to far places merely to confirm his prejudices and misconceptions. It will be mighty interesting, and perhaps crucial to world history, to find out whether Mr. K. is coming to the U. S. A. to learn—or to confirm.

Preparation For Propaganda Defeat

WASHINGTON—The tunnels are being dug preparatory to starting new underground tests of nuclear weapons after Oct. 31. Because the preliminary steps require several months the Atomic Energy Commission has ordered this done, although no final decision on testing has been taken.

Even among those who are urging the need to start the tests again it is readily conceded that to do so will constitute one of the worst propaganda defeats this country has ever had to take. That could provide the justification for President Eisenhower to intervene, although it is widely assumed that the tests will be renewed when the deadline of Oct. 31 has passed.

The United States announced a year ago that it was prepared to forego weapons tests for one year from the Oct. 31 date when the U. S., Britain and the Soviet Union were to meet at Geneva to try to agree to a permanent test ban. Ever since the conferees have been involved in a controversy so complicated as almost to defy understanding on the nature of the control system to be imposed.

Moscow has kept up a constant and powerful propaganda on the need for a permanent ban. Against this background the American decision will have worldwide repercussions. In Western Europe and in Asia, particularly in Japan, the fear of radioactive fallout is much greater than it is in this country. In certain countries it has become a major political issue.

Twice recently in response to British anti-bomb groups Premier Khrushchev has declared that the Soviet Union would not be the first to resume testing. The Khrushchev letter to Canon L. Collins, president of St. Paul's Cathedral in London, was cleverly phrased to make it appear that the Soviets had been striving at Geneva to get a test ban against the constant resistance of the two Western Powers.

The underground tests do not pollute the atmosphere. While insisting that the Western position is for an over-all ban on tests, Britain and the U. S. have urged as a beginning that atmospheric tests can be prohibited. Moscow has several times said no to this proposal.

At the same time that underground tests are resumed plans are going forward to carry out further tests in the upper atmosphere. The upper atmospheric tests add little or no radioactive material to the atmosphere around the planet.

Here is the argument of responsible officials such as Chairman John McCone of the Atomic Energy Commission who makes the case for more tests.

While it is true that the United States has fully developed nuclear weapons for battlefield use, they can be greatly improved by testing. Military men argue for testing under battlefield conditions which would pollute the atmosphere. But virtually the same results can be achieved by underground tests.

The upper atmospheric tests are necessary to perfect weapons systems. This is particularly true as a result of the Johnston Island tests in the Pacific last August. They showed that a high-altitude nuclear explosion could interrupt radar and other communications and thereby endanger the warning system that is an essential part of rocket and missile development.

But the pre-test argument goes beyond the practical and into the ideological. To yield on an over-all test ban is to take the first step toward what is the real goal of the Soviets. That is to do away with all nuclear weapons and thereby leave the West open to the vastly superior manpower of Communist Russia and China. As proof this sentence in the letter to Canon Collins is cited:

"I wish to assure you that in advocating the immediate and permanent cessation of nuclear tests, the Soviet Union considers this only as a first step on the road to the final goal—the complete prohibition of atomic weapons, the withdrawal of these weapons from national armaments and the destruction of all existing stocks."

Within the government in Washington there is another and sharply opposed view. A recent confidential memorandum circulated by the State Department cites the concessions the Soviets have already made at Geneva as proof of their willingness to accept a control system along with a ban on testing.

Khrushchev is coming to this country on September 15. He will in all probability want to talk about the test ban. In view of this, certain pertinent questions arise:

Will the President be prepared to talk from a knowledge of the complicated background of this dispute? Will he know that there are two viewpoints within his own government? What will he tell his visitor about America's intentions on testing after October 31? The answers to these questions can have an important bearing on whether the Khrushchev-Eisenhower exchange will mean much or little.

'Peaceful Picketing' In Two Conflicts

WASHINGTON—Blazoned across the first pages of many newspapers in the last few days were the pictures of how demonstrators at Little Rock were handled by police, who wielded clubs and hustled participants off to jail. "Law and order" presumably must be preserved, even if it means quelling oral protests by citizens near a school building. In labor-union disputes, however, this form of protest would be called "peaceful picketing," and the police usually do not interfere.

There is, moreover, a certain hypocrisy revealed in the enthusiasm with which "token integration" is being hailed by those who say the Supreme Court of the United States laid down the "law of the land" in its 1954 desegregation decisions.

The highest court actually did not rule in favor of "token integration." It didn't call for special privilege to just a few Negroes. It spoke in behalf of all Negro children and said explicitly that unless every Negro child is given an opportunity to mingle in a classroom with white children, educational opportunities are not equal.

The argument for "token integration" is that "this makes a start." But what about the other Negro children? How can they be told convincingly that the "law of the land" applies only to a few children in a community or state? The so-called liberals often give praise to North Carolina as having met the test. Yet less than 20 out of a total of 320,000 Negro children in that state have been admitted to "desegregated" public schools. Actually, five times more Negro children have been attending integrated schools in Arkansas during the last few years than in North Carolina.

With the newspapers printing pictures of how law and order is being preserved in Little Rock, one looks in vain for similar pictures and news articles reporting how the police are dealing with local disturbances where labor unions and their "pickets" are involved.

There is one notable exception. In an editorial in the Wall Street Journal one finds a big news story on the subject. It comes in the very week when Congress is debating labor-reform legislation. The Journal prints a San Francisco edition, so the excerpt which follows is evidently based on accurate information obtained at first hand:

"Well, in San Francisco right now there is a Teamsters' strike. This strike was called last week against member companies of the California Trucking Assn., and the San Francisco Drymen's Assn., which include a good many but do not mean all of the companies that do trucking in the bay area. Some 1,500 members of the Teamsters Union itself are not directly involved in this labor dispute and independent truckers, and their drivers, have nothing to do with the dispute at all.

"But no matter. The Teamsters who drive trucks for the non-involved companies aren't driving either. Nor are the independent trucks moving very far.

"We've got 20 trucks loaded, ready to go, but we can't get them out," reports a dispatcher for S&W Fine Foods. Drivers of trucks for Zellerbach Paper Co. and several other firms started out both Monday and Tuesday but soon were back again, cargo undelivered.

"The reason is a familiar one. The striking Teamsters on Monday threw up a road block on the Bay Bridge and halted truck traffic. All over the city and on the access roads roving bands of Teamster pickets were pulling uncooperative drivers out of the trucks. One independent-minded driver reported that four carloads of roving goon squads tried to run him down.

"The threat of a few bashed heads, a few wrecked trucks, a few lost cargoes are pretty good persuaders for the uncooperative.

"Now you mustn't suppose that the civilized city of San Francisco has no laws against hijackers, thugs, street-fighters, disturbers of the peace or perpetrators of assault and battery. Nor that the city authorities would allow just any person to block off the highways and tell law-abiding citizens they can't drive. But this is a labor union.

"Of course the police haven't been wholly idle. They had a conference the other day with representatives of management and the union to see what could be worked out. But as one truck line owner explained afterwards, "The police told us they couldn't take sides."

"A simple story, one that has been told many times across the country. The local police don't want to take sides when one man is bashing another man's head in over a labor dispute. They've stood aside on the docks of New York when unions applied the economic pressure of dumping cargoes into the sea and on the I-10 highways when the pressure was applied to farmers by dumping milk on the ground. Put a union picket tag on violence and the police look the other way.

Local authorities stand aside because for a generation our national policy has made of labor unions a privileged society."

The so-called liberal papers are carrying the banner nowadays for the labor-union bosses who say that all reform legislation merely hurts legitimate unionism. True liberals are always interested in human rights irrespective of race or creed or color or labor-union campaign contributions.

WHAT OTHERS SAY

Although there recently has appeared all too little that is new on the alleged French tortures of Algerian intellectuals arrested in Paris some months ago, this question seems bound to become more troublesome to the de Gaulle regime.

Reports from Washington indicate that French diplomats are now preparing to press the United States for its support in the United Nations' expected fall debate on the Algerian problem. Americans will find it hard to associate themselves with the French policies on Algeria as long as they are suspected of relying partly on Gestapo methods and as long, indeed, as these methods set Frenchmen not only against Algerians but against each other, as they are reliably reported to be doing.

The French Government should set the record straight either by correction of the methods of de Gaulle's subordinates or by proving, through maximum exposure of all available facts, that the charges are unfounded. Until it does so the Communists in France will be able to exploit the humane feelings of Frenchmen and their friends in other nations to the confusion of France and of the allied Western peoples.

Expert Says Venus Is Fat Pig

NEW YORK (AP)—"The Venus de Milo was a fat pig," said Henry Plehn, a man with all the figures on women's figures.

"When I went to the Louvre, I found she really had only a moderate-sized bust. But she was far, far too full-waisted.

"She may be the Greek classic ideal of feminine beauty. But she doesn't by any means have what the present day would call a perfect figure."

Plehn is a kingpin in the nation's 750-million-dollar foundation garment industry, which expects to hit the billion-dollar mark in another few years.

There is more to the brassier figure than meets the eye. Foam rubber, for example.

"Last year the industry used 10,200,000 pounds of foam rubber said Plehn.

"About 65 per cent of American women now wear falsies, or contour cups—as we prefer to call them.

The desire for a larger bustline is by no means strictly a U. S. phenomenon. It has become a worldwide obsession, according to Plehn, who distributes his products in 44 countries from Finland to South Africa.

"Some psychologists see the fuller bosom only as a sex symbol. But there is much more to it than that. A large bosom always has been a symbol of security, and that's why I feel it is more popular now. We have never lived in a more insecure world."

A tall, handsome man with graying hair and bright blue eyes, Plehn has toured the globe, presumably with tape measure, to make a first-hand poll of the shape women are in.

Here are a few of his conclusions.

"The average U. S. woman has the best figure in the world—when she's dressed—because she spends more money on it and spends more time making it better. She buys seven brassiers a year.

"Actually she has only about a 33-inch bust. She says publicly she'd like to have a 34-24-34 figure, but in her boudoir thoughts she yearns for at least a 36-inch bust.

"In Sweden, Germany and Italy the girls do have 36-inch busts, but they tend to look heavy-waisted because too few of them wear girdles.

"French women have the smallest busts in Europe—about 29½ I'd say. The Oriental women wear the smallest brassier size of all—30."

Plehn has learned so much about women he is a bit disillusioned.

"They're phonies," he said, cheerfully. "They all say they dress to win the approval of other women, not men.

"That may be true of their underwear. But when it comes to make themselves more attractive to men."

SHOWER FOR BIRDS

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: We'd like your opinion of a "COME AND GO STORK SHOWER." This is where the guests come and drop off their presents and then go. They can't stay because there are so many people invited that there is no room for them to sit down anywhere.

There is a punch bowl and cookies and everyone helps themselves. We think it takes all the pleasure out of giving a gift if we can't stay to watch the guest of honor open them. The last one I went to netted 106 gifts from neighbors, relatives and friends. It lasted seven hours, and people were coming and going with gifts all day long. Please print your answer as a lot of us are interested.

FLORENCE DEAR FLORENCE: In my opinion, anyone who would come to a shower like the one you describe should GO have her head examined. Showers are getting to be an out and out racket. This type (and I've never heard of it before) takes the cake!

DEAR ABBY: Please print this for unwed mothers who are undecided about whether to give their babies up for adoption. I had a baby out of wedlock, and was so mixed up I let them talk me into "selling" it. I was married a few years later, and my husband and I tried to get my baby back. We fought it in court and believe me, we went through plenty of money and misery, but we couldn't get her back. Girls, don't make the same mistake I did. Keep your baby and hope for the best.

ONE WHO KNOWS DEAR ABBY: I am the illegitimate daughter of a mother who was too selfish to give me up for adoption. Instead of giving me a home where there was cleanliness, love and all the advantages of life, my mother kept me and raised me like an animal. She had to work and was never home. I was tossed from one relative to another and had to bear the shame all through school. I don't think my mother was fair to me by keeping me. It would have been better for both of us if she had let a respectable couple adopt me. I am 19 years old, and am serving time in a women's corrective institution and if they let me mail this letter I hope it does somebody some good.

"NO BREAKS" DEAR ABBY: I have a neighbor who does her laundry on Sundays as she works six days a week to support an invalid husband and four school-age children. But Sun-

Tiny Train In Trouble With Truck

WILLITS, Calif. (AP) — Mendocino County's little pet railway, the Skunk, is a one-coach, narrow-gauge train which shuttles daily over an old logging line between here and Fort Bragg on the coast, 40 miles down a crooked canyon.

It is beloved of tourists, camera fans, and antique railway aficionados. Monday a big truck-trailer rig was rolling down a street in the middle of Willits when its driver, Grady Harris of Ukiah, looked down out of his cab and saw the Skunk's nine-foot diesel engine about to ram the rear of his truck, loaded with 38 tons of wood.

There was a crash. The Skunk was derailed. Ten passengers were released after hospital treatment of minor injuries. A crane lifted the Skunk back on the track.

Young Hero Is Modest Over Deed

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Richard Beardslee, 14, was the hero of his neighborhood after rescuing another boy from drowning in a St. Louis County lake.

"Aw, it wasn't much," he said. "I was kinda afraid mom would be sore about me going swimming, though."

Richard had gone fishing with his brother, Don, and a friend, Paul Wunderlich. Then a boy began shouting for help.

"He had stomach cramps and was going down when I got him," Richard said. "The guy sure was pooped and woozy, so I sat on his back and started pumping his arms like I saw on TV. Pretty soon he felt better so I got on my clothes and rode my bike back home."

The boys didn't bother to learn the identity of the rescued lad.

Champ To Win Contest By Hair

DENVER, Colo. (AP)—All year long Coloradans have been urged to grow beards to help celebrate the "Rush to the Rockies" centennial.

Now the Denver Centennial Authority is putting its weight behind a campaign to make the whiskers disappear. It announced a beard-shaving contest Sept. 12 at the Pioneer Village in Civic Center.

The man who shaves the quickest and cleanest will get a prize.

No-Roach Is Best Bet In Bug Killing

A housewife really has to be a detective these days to investigate just why she can't seem to get rid of troublesome cockroaches. Although the chlorinated hydrocarbons — DDT, chlordane, and lindane — still are effective against the American roach, this is the large roach which breeds in the open and in some localities is called the Palmetto bug; these chlorinated hydrocarbon insecticides are no longer effective against the resistant German roaches. The German roach is the small gray roach, generally no longer than a finger nail, which frequents kitchens and indoor locations. This is the little roach which is giving such trouble now all over the country.

The only insecticides which are effective against this resistant roach are those of the organic phosphate family which have been derived from the nerve gases developed by the Germans during the Second World War. The most effective and least toxic of these organic phosphate insecticides is malathion and it is this chemical which is the active ingredient in NO-ROACH. NO-ROACH is the most effective insecticide against these nearly ubiquitous roaches. When a housewife uses NO-ROACH, she does not have to move dishes or breathe harmful sprays, and in using malathion, formulated to make a long lasting coating effective for months, she is much more likely to be completely satisfied with her purchase than if she buys any insecticide containing the ineffective chlorinated hydrocarbons. Eight oz. bottle or pint is available at Safeway, Piggy Wiggly, Hull & Phillips, Newsoms, Bud Green, Cunningham & Phillips, and your local drug or grocery store.

Wagon Wheel Restaurant Is Meeting Place

"Let's go to the Wagon Wheel" has long been a popular statement in Big Spring and it was started back when the restaurant at 803 E. 3rd was the only location with that name. Today, there are three locations by that name and they are still operated by H. M. and Ruby Rainbolt, who have always taken a personal interest in their eating facilities. Besides the fine restaurant, long renowned here for excellent food and a pleasant atmosphere, there are two drive-ins. The first one was built at Birdwell Lane and Fourth Street. The other is located at 2011 Gregg.

Regardless which one you decide to visit, you are assured of food tastefully prepared by expert chefs and served up by efficient and courteous waitresses. A friendly atmosphere at all three locations makes dining a pleasure when the big sign out front says Wagon Wheel. The reputation of the Wagon Wheel is not limited to the immediate area. Tourists for almost two decades have planned their stops at the Wagon Wheel. For good reason, the Wagon Wheel restaurants are recommended by Duncan Hines and the American Automobile Association.

Ticket Fuss Victory For Paul Butler

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The ruckus over tickets has ended in a complete victory for Democratic National Chairman Paul Butler — and Los Angeles will keep the 1960 party convention.

Butler threw the prestige of his office into a showdown over seating with wealthy oilman Edwin C. Pauley. The dispute almost cost this city its first major political convention.

Pauley bowed out Monday as finance chairman of the host committee and the old committee was disbanded.

Pauley had insisted the committee was promised 5,000 tickets a day to the July convention in return for its $350,000 guarantee to the national committee. He later offered to compromise and accept 3,133. Butler refused him on both counts.

A new sponsoring group was formed. It agreed to underwrite the guarantee and accept Butler's top ticket offer—1,500 tickets a day. Butler had threatened to pull the convention out of Los Angeles unless his terms were met.

The new group agreed to another key Butler demand, opposed by Pauley: transfer of all advertising revenue from the convention program to the Democratic National Committee.

The five-minute meeting of Butler and local officials ended a five-month dispute climaxed when Butler threatened to move the convention to another city.

The old committee was replaced with one headed by Republican Mayor Norris Poulson as chairman and Dan A. Kimball, president of Aerojet General Corp., as executive chairman. Kimball was secretary of the navy under former President Harry S. Truman.

Mark Boyar, wealthy real estate developer and financial chairman of the Democratic National Committee in Southern California, replaced Pauley.

He said new financial support would be solicited from the business community, as well as loyal Democrats.

"If there should be any more convention problems," he said, "none of them will be financial."

In announcing his resignation, Pauley said: "There was no way to honorably bridge this impasse without jeopardizing the integrity of Los Angeles and the contractual, moral obligations of the host committee."

Boyar said Pauley had been invited to join the new committee, but had not replied. Butler refused to comment on Pauley's silence.

As for the ticket dispute, he said: "I don't consider it a fight. It was an unfortunate misunderstanding."

Aged Rebel Vet Weaker

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Walter Williams, 116, the Civil War's only surviving veteran grows weaker by the day, his daughter says.

"He took a little liquid nourishment during the day but he keeps getting weaker," said Mrs. Willie Mae Bowles late Monday night.

The Confederate veteran has been on the critical list for more than a week.

Negro Attorney Sent To Hospital

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—U. Simpson Tate, 59, a Negro lawyer, has agreed to a 90-day commitment in a Dallas mental hospital.

A mental illness petition asking for his commitment was filed by his wife last week with Probate Court Judge F.W. Barlett. Mrs. Tate in her petition said her husband had been working too hard.

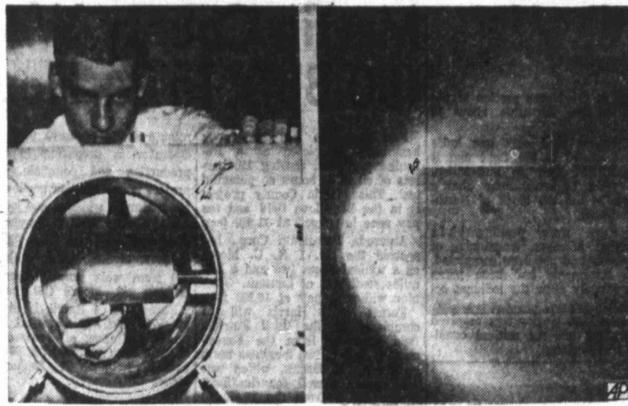

Tate, former regional counsel for the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People, has been undergoing psychiatric treatment for the last few weeks.

Dog Days Bring Discomfort To Sweltering Folk Of U.S.

By The Associated Press

Summer's dog days, the season of high temperatures, excessive humidity and short tempers, had a lot of people barking and growling today—about the weather.

Midsommer's stiffest one-two punch took a lot of zip out of millions as the long spell of muggy weather held a sticky grip across the country.

The oppressive heat has held fast for a week and longer in many areas. Temperatures daily have soared into the 80s and 90s and above 100 in some sun-baked regions. Little or no relief comes at night, with high humidity showing the discomfort index to the point of "miserable."

Showers and rainstorms have afforded temporary relief. The wet weather has been a daily fixture on the nation's weather map, mostly in the form of showers during the afternoon and evening.

Some violent thunderstorms and heavy rains also have occurred during the heat wave.

Monday's weather was typical.

Thunderstorms broke out in all of the Southern states from Dagelet, Calif. and Las Vegas, Nev., eastward to Georgia and Florida during the afternoon. The heaviest activity was in the warm humid air flow from Texas to southern Michigan eastward into the Appalachians and extended into the Atlantic coastal areas by night time.

Little change in the heat, humidity and showers was indicated for the southern plains and most areas east of the Mississippi River.

It was a scorching day in most of the East Monday with readings in the 90s along the Atlantic seaboard as far north as Maine.

The mercury bubbled up to 96 degrees at Washington, one degree above the record for the date set in 1938. Most of New England sweltered in 90-plus readings for the fifth day. It was a collar-willing 95 at Boston.

New York City puffed and panted in 89-degree heat and high humidity. The worst power failure in the city's history added extreme discomfort and inconvenience to millions. Service was knocked out to some 300 square blocks of homes, apartments, hospitals, museums and business places.

Mrs. Rockefeller Makes Sure Wedding Is All Set

SOEGNE, Norway (AP) — Mrs. Nelson A. Rockefeller set out today to check on her son's wedding plans and make sure the bride and groom haven't forgotten anything in the world-wide excitement generated by their romance.

The Lutheran Church has been selected for Steven Rockefeller's marriage to Anne Marie Rasmussen. The attendants have been chosen, and the reception is organized.

Saturday is the big day for joining the scion of Rockefeller millions with the blonde daughter of a simple, proud Norwegian family.

Mrs. Rockefeller, who comes from Philadelphia's Main Line, indicated she especially wants to see the church and then the reception hall.

The reception will take place at the Businessmen's Club in nearby Kristiansand, known as "The Club" or "The White House" to distinguish it from nearby buildings weathered under North Sea winters.

Steven's mother arrived Monday after an overnight jet flight from New York. Gov. Rockefeller is due here Friday.

Mrs. Rockefeller's first evening here was spent at dinner with the Rasmussens. She knows no Norwegian, and the bride's family knows no English—so Anne Marie interpreted.

"A wonderful girl!" said New York's first lady of her son's fiancée, who once worked as a maid in the Rockefeller's New York home to improve her English.

The Rasmussens treated their future-in-laws to a lobster dinner. There were no cocktails. The hosts are teetotalers like many others in this Bible belt of southern Norway.

TV Star Used Fists, Doctor Tells Police

NORTH HOLLYWOOD, Calif. (AP)—On television screens Peter John Breck is a gun totin' lawyer, but Monday he used his fists in a scuffle with a doctor.

Police booked him on suspicion of assault with a deadly weapon. Dr. Thomas C. Nelson complained that Breck knocked him down when he sought medical aid for a showgirl friend, Diane Bourne.

Breck, star of the "Black Saddle" TV series, said he became angry when the physician insisted on taking a medical report before admitting Miss Bourne. He insisted that Dr. Nelson swing first.

Breck's brother, George, also was booked on the complaint of two nurses, who said he shoved them around. The Brecks were released on $1,000 bonds.

Miss Bourne was admitted for treatment and Breck visited her after his release from jail.

By MARK T. SHEEHAN NEW YORK (AP) — Lights flickering off in hospital operating rooms. Elevator service knocked out in huge apartment buildings...

The Consolidated Edison Co. labored to repair the damage to power lines, apparently caused by a record demand made by refrigerating and other cooling devices.

In all, 3,000 extra police were sent into the blacked-out section. Hours later, as power began to come back on, police reported only one burglary and one assault case.

Mrs. McGuire Dies At Lamesa

LAMESA — Mrs. Francis McGuire, 80, widow of Judge Gordon V. McGuire, for years residing here, died in the Lamesa Nursing Home here at 11:50 p.m. Monday.

Mrs. McGuire had been ill for several months. Services were held tentatively for 10 a.m. Wednesday at the First Presbyterian Church with the Rev. Walter G. Horn, pastor, officiating.

Burial will be in the Lamesa Cemetery under the direction of Higginbotham Funeral Home.

Mrs. McGuire was born Oct. 31, 1878, in Meridian and came here in 1915 with Judge McGuire. She was a long time member of the Presbyterian Church.

Surviving her are one son, Gordon V. McGuire, Lamesa; one daughter, Mrs. Betty McGuire Stark, Lamesa; four grandchildren and 10 great-grandchildren.

Hardy Rites On Wednesday

Sidney C. Hardy, 72, resident of Big Spring for more than three decades, died in a hospital here at 7:05 p.m. Monday.

He had been in ill health for several years and seriously ill for the past seven weeks. Funeral has been set for 4 p.m. Wednesday at the River Funeral Home with the Rev. V. Ward Jackson, First Church of God pastor, officiating.

Mr. Hardy was born Sept. 11, 1868, in Longview and as a young man taught school. One of his pupils was Miss Ollie Dickenson, to whom he was later wed on Dec. 11, 1900, at Longview.

Mr. Hardy saw service for his country during World War I, and 31 years ago he moved to Big Spring and set up a real estate business. Until he became ill he operated this and other interests.

He was a Methodist and a member of the Staked Plains Masonic Lodge. Masonic rites will be observed at the graveside and Mr. Hardy will serve as pallbearers.

Surviving him are his wife; one son, James H. Hardy, Big Spring; three sisters, Mrs. M. E. Williams, Brownfield, Mrs. M. R. Robinson, Shreveport, La., and Mrs. Ida Tutt, San Antonio. He also leaves three brothers, C. A. Hardy and Harmon Hardy, Longview, and C. L. Hardy, Oak City.

Minor Mishaps

Two minor accidents were reported Monday in Big Spring. No injuries were reported and the damage was called minor.

Francis Kobley, Big Spring, and Angela Macias, 203 S. Scurry, were in collision at 2nd and Lancaster. W. C. Jackson, Rt. 1, and Philip Meisinger, Albuquerque, N. M., were drivers involved in a crash on E. 4th near Coker's Restaurant.

"The Cowboy of Fifth Avenue," that's Eugene Holman, chairman of the board of Standard Oil (New Jersey) and the brother of Mrs. Theo Andrews, 505 Lancaster, according to the Saturday Evening Post.

The blacked-out section stretched across the island of Manhattan, from the Hudson River to the East River. On the West Side it ran the length of Central Park, from 59th to 110th Sts., and on the East Side from 74th to 110th.

450 Boys To Join Scouts

About 450 boys are expected to come into the Big Spring scouting program in the next three months, members of the Big Spring Extension Committee were told Monday.

The committee, under the chairmanship of Sam Anderson, met in the Wagon Wheel Restaurant.

Purpose of the meeting was to make plans for the fall membership round-up. A cub scout rally has been scheduled for Sept. 17. Boys and their parents will be invited to attend their local school for a discussion of organizing a pack.

The Boy Scout rally will follow the same pattern and schedule for Sept. 24.

Organizers assigned to the various schools include Paul D. Meeks, Washington Place; George Bass, Boydston; Paul Soidan, College Heights; Bennett Brook, Park Hill; Capt. Earl Lothringer, Marky; Bill Grave, Bauer; Nick Nicholson, Cedar Crest; and George Rice, Airport.

Burial Rites For John M. Riddle

Services were held Saturday at Hillside Church in Rose Hills Memorial Park at Whittier, Calif. for John M. Riddle.

Mr. Riddle was the brother of Mrs. Bernice Slater, who is a fourth grade teacher at Washington Place School. Mr. Riddle had operated an appliance business at Alhambra, Calif. for 10 years and was a member of the Lions Club in that city.

Survivors include his wife; five sons; two daughters, including Mrs. Puckett; 17 grandchildren and 13 great-grandchildren. He also left a brother and four sisters. Among the pallbearers was John Ennis Puckett.

Infant's Funeral Conducted Tuesday

Services were held at 2 p.m. today for the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Jim D. Matlock.

The child was stillborn in a local hospital this morning.

Dr. P. D. O'Brien, pastor of the First Baptist Church, officiated in graveside rites at City Cemetery. Interment was in City Cemetery.

Survivors include the parents, Mr. and Mrs. Matlock, and a brother, Glenn, Big Spring; paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Matlock, Westbrook; and maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Igelhart, Westbrook.

MARRIAGE LICENSE DELAY

3-Day Waiting Period For Younger Couples In Force

A mandatory three-day waiting period for issuance of marriage licenses, if either party is below age limits, is included in a new state law.

HB No. 48, which tightens requirements for parental consent for under-age contracting parties, takes effect on Oct. 15, Pauline Petty, county clerk, said Tuesday.

Any male below the age of 21 years and any female below the age of 18 years may not be issued a license to wed unless written consent is provided by the parent or guardian. The parent or guardian must appear in person before the clerk to supply consent, and if prevented for reasons of health from appearing, must furnish an affidavit accompanying a signed statement of approval of the marriage application.

A three-day lapse in time expiring in filing the application and issuance of the license is specified.

If a minor does not have a parent or legal guardian, the county judge may sign the consent. The judge also has the power to waive requirements.

In making application, contracting parties must furnish full names and ages, the latter substantiated by a birth certificate, or by a chaffeur's license, voters registration certificate, current passport of visa, or other official documents requiring attested statement of age.

Women Hospitalized In Knife Fight Monday

Two women were taken to Big Spring hospital late Monday for treatment of knife wounds.

Maxine White and Leslie Mae Wesley, the latter more seriously injured, were involved in an altercation in the Negro portion of the flats on the northside about 10 p.m.

Witnesses said only one knife was involved in the fight and it was turned over to authorities. The fight occurred near Shaw's Place, in the 500 block of North-west Third.

Charges were pending this morning; however, questioning of witnesses had not been completed. Two statements had been taken immediately after the incident occurred.

Leslie Mae Wesley was reported in serious but not critical condition this morning.

Appealed for helicopters to aid in the rescue and asked the U.S. Forest Service to send in a smoke-jumper equipped with a radio to help organize the people. A smoke-jumper is a parachutist who jumps into forest fire areas to fight blazes.

The search and rescue coordinating center of the 4th Air Force at Hamilton Field, near San Francisco, said it is musing helicopters to try to rescue the marooned persons. The copters are being rounded up from Hill Air Force Base, Utah; Malmstrom Air Force Base, Montana; and the Army at Ft. Lewis, Wash.

Varied reports came out of the condition of Heben Dam, the Montana Power Co., which owns it, said it was damaged at the top and that it "could go." At various times through early morning hours crews were reports it had "gone out."

The tremors centered their wrath in the area in and around Yellowstone National Park.

They were felt in varying intensity from British Columbia to Oregon, across Washington, Idaho, Montana and parts of Wyoming.

A park spokesman said it was possible Old Faithful and many other geysers had been altered by a possible shift in the subterranean cavities.

Just west of Yellowstone, Heben Dam was threatened with collapse by the fury of the original quake at 11:30 p.m. (MST) and a series of now-sharp, now-mild, tremors that followed.

Northward along the Madison River that flows from the 44-year-old concrete dam, officers alerted hundreds of residents to prepare for immediate evacuation. The nearest city is Ennis, Mont., 45 miles north, with an estimated 600 residents.

Mr. John Puckett's Father Buried Sunday

Last rites were said Sunday at Gateville for John Franklin Thompson, 87, father of Mrs. John O. Puckett, Big Spring.

Mr. Thompson, a farmer, died Saturday at his home near Gateville. He was a member of the Church of Christ.

Survivors include his wife; five sons; two daughters, including Mrs. Puckett; 17 grandchildren and 13 great-grandchildren. He also left a brother and four sisters. Among the pallbearers was John Ennis Puckett.

Death Claims L. W. Butler

Louis W. Butler, 70, passed away today at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Earl Hollis, 603 George. Death came at 3:15 a.m.

Mr. Butler had been in ill health since December.

Born in Weakly County, Tenn., on Nov. 22, 1888, he moved with his family to Texas in 1889. They settled in Eastland County where he married Miss Permitta J. Morton on Aug. 7, 1904.

He moved to Hobbs, Texas, in 1919 and to Big Spring in 1928. He farmed in the Centerpoint community until the death of his wife in 1950. Since then he had been making his home with his daughter, Mrs. Hollis.

He had been an active member of the Methodist Church for 60 years and in his earlier years was instructor in music and singing for his community. He was the author of numerous gospel songs.

At different times, he served as president of the Howard County Singing Convention.

Services will be Wednesday, 2 p.m., in Wesley Methodist Church. The Rev. Royce Womack, pastor, will officiate with assistants, the Rev. Joe McCarty, Park Methodist pastor, and the Rev. Cecil Rhodes, West Side Baptist.

Interment will be in City Cemetery beside his wife, under direction of River Funeral Home.

Surviving him are two daughters, Mrs. Earl Hollis, Mrs. John Appleton, both of Big Spring; one son, T. W. Butler, Big Spring; four brothers, the Rev. R. L. Butler, Sweetwater, the Rev. C. V. Butler, Waco, A. Butler, Dallas, and M. H. Butler, Spur; two sisters, Mrs. Otis Driggers, Spur, and Mrs. Buddy Florence, Lampasas.

There are 11 grandchildren and five great-grandchildren. Pallbearers will be Jack Morton, John Appleton, M. Y. Butler, Pat Lamb, James Hollis, and Eudonald Butler.

Route Carrier Loses Billfold

Bill Darrow, 14-year-old Herald paper carrier, has lost his billfold. It contained earnings he has made delivering copies of the Daily Herald to customers on his route.

Should someone find the billfold, however, he would appreciate getting it and some important papers back, if not the money.

He passed his driver's test last week and values his newly-gained driver's license more than cash.

Call at his home, 609 W. 17th, or telephone AM 4-5319, if you please.

Safecrackers Raid Safe In Cameron Lumber Co.

The Cameron Lumber Co., 700 Scurry, was hit by burglars during the night with a small amount of money taken from a soft drink machine and a safe.

Officers said the burglary was probably committed by amateurs and an investigation was being conducted this morning. Capt. N. Standard said a pinch bar, found on the premises, was used to break open the safe and soft drink machine.

Entry was made to the building through a rear window. The burglars took three doors, which the lumber company keeps in stock, up to the office area and used them to shield his work at the safe.

Mrs. Ed Johnson, 607 NW 12th, reported some shoes were stolen from her mail box. She said the shoes had been ordered by mail and someone took them out of the wrapper.

The family is expected back here Wednesday or Thursday and plans are pending for the Disneyland trip.

Brass Gets Big Problems Today

By JOE REICHLER
 NEW YORK (AP)—At least five basic problems were slated to be thoroughly discussed today when the brass met with organizer William A. Shea on the projected third major league.

1. Where Does this unborn Continental League plan to recruit the necessary 20 players?
2. What would be left of the minor league structure if the new league were to raid the ranks of the national League, American Association and Pacific Coast League?
3. How many cities actually could produce stadiums of major league quality and capacity?
4. How would the Continental League maintain the interest of the players and public without World Series incentive?
5. What would the new league propose to compare favorably with the major league players' pension plan?

Commissioner Ford Frick, head of the seven-man major league committee, acknowledged he was eagerly waiting to hear the answers. Shea, the New York lawyer and guiding spirit of the still unborn Continental League, admits he'd like to know some of the answers himself.

Shea, however, insists his league has no financial, personnel or park problems.

"I know there are some who scoff at us and say it can't be done," said Shea. "They're wrong. A third major league is inevitable. We have the men and the money to provide it. So why not get on with it?"

"All we need is the complete cooperation of the major leagues and we are proceeding on that basis."

Shea has backers for five teams lined up. The founding five are New York, Houston, Minneapolis-St. Paul, Denver and Toronto. It is believed he has applications for membership from San Diego, Portland, Seattle, Buffalo, Miami, Montreal, Dallas-Ft. Worth and San Juan, Puerto Rico.

LOOKING 'EM OVER
 With Tommy Hart

SPORTS DICTIONARY
 SONY LESTON, rising Heavyweight boxer: "Ingame Johansson cannot punch. The shape he had Floyd Patterson in, he should have killed him. I know Patterson would never get up the second time if I caught him. Who do I want to win in that return fight? If Patterson wins, I won't get to fight him. If Johansson wins, I'll get a shot for the title because they want the best man in there to bring the championship back to this country. Before, I was on Gus D'Amato's 'black list.' Now, he says I'm not. I wasn't on it because of this IBC thing. . . it was because I could knock Patterson."

BILLY HERMAN, Milwaukee baseball coach: "Not too many players today know what kind of pitch is coming. The United States must produce a program of 'fast national management' to hold its place in international athletics. We are losing the battle. Our men won the recent dual meet with Russia but the handwriting is on the wall. I suggest that the president's council bring integrating community committees in a nation-wide summer program winding up with a major television spectacular."

RUBY GOLDSTEIN, well-known boxing referee: "When he was at his best, Sugar Ray Robinson was the best fighter I've seen in my 30 years around the ring. . . I remember Archie Moore against Bobo Olson. I had heard that Olson was a good fighter but I didn't know Archie came out feeling him and, having been a fighter, I couldn't help but notice that, after a few, Olson starting shifting his hands in expectation of the feinting punch. 'Uh, oh,' I said to myself, 'something is going to happen.' In the third round, it did. Moore feinted. Olson shifted his guard and Archie knocked him out with a single punch."

JOE KUCHARICH, Notre Dame football coach: "I won't make up my mind on the balance between running and passing until after the third game this fall, when we see what the boys can do. George Izo is good as a long passer, but his short passing needs improvement and his footwork and ball-handling must get better."

BABE PINELLI, former big league umpire: Fred Haney of Milwaukee is the "Old Rock" of the managers, as solid as they come. In tense moments, Haney controls his bench with a look. He strolls out with his hands stuck in his pockets and mildly asks what's wrong. He'll argue facts, but he won't give you any half-baked excuse. He'll even tell a funny story to help avert trouble. The umpires swear by him."

SID FLAHERTY, well known fight manager: "I'm not too much of a believer in a man going into the ring to slug. These sluggers last a year or two—and then you never hear of them again. A good boxer can be a top-flight contender or champion for ten years, easily."

GRID TICKETS READY MONDAY
 Season football tickets, priced at $7.50 and good for five home games, will go on sale at the School Business Office here at 9 a.m., Monday, Aug. 24.

Persons who owned season tickets last year will be the only ones able to purchase them for that week, however. The remainder will be made available to the general public starting Monday, Aug. 24.

Persons who owned season tickets last year will be the only ones able to purchase them for that week, however. The remainder will be made available to the general public starting Monday, Aug. 24.

It will facilitate matters, a spokesman for the business office stated, if last year's ticket holders will bring their old stubs when they make their new purchases. An estimated 800 were sold in 1958.

47 Boys Drilling
 AMARILLO (AP)—Forty-seven schoolboy football stars worked out today for the annual Panhandle Classic scheduled here Saturday night.

Marconi, Lamar Lundy, Clendon Thomas and the men figure to make the points.

And to hold down the opposition, coach Sid Gillman can look to such veterans as Gene Brito, Lou Michaels, Les Richter, John Baker, George Strugar, Jack Pardee, Don (Blade) Burroughs, Will Sherman, Jack Morris, Jimmy Smith and the others.

Still to be finally graded are some nine rookies. The roll includes Michigan State's Sam Williams, who is to be groomed as an offensive end but not overlooked as a defensive lineman; linebacker John Guzik from Pittsburgh; defensive halfback Ed Mesador from little Arkansas Tech; Tom Frankhauser from Danville; Bob Reisinger from Navy; and quarterback Buddy Humphreys from Baylor.

The Rams will carry five line-backers. Eight are bidding for a berth, and all could help any other NFL club.

Gillman will go with three quarterbacks, Wade, now in his sixth year; Frank Ryan, starting his second; and rookie Humphrey.

Some Ram followers are concerned that the defensive secondary might be relatively weak, and the club will suffer from the loss of offensive tackle Ken Panfil and kicking specialist Paige Cothren.

Rickey Named League Prexy
 NEW YORK (AP)—Branch Rickey today was named president of the Continental League, the embryo third major baseball league.

Rickey, 78, chairman of the Pittsburgh Pirate baseball club's board of directors, said he accepted the job as a challenge and promised that the new league would be in operation in 1961.

He will sell his 958 shares of Pirate stock back to the club for $200,000. The arrangements were approved by Ford C. Frick, commissioner of baseball.

William A. Shea of New York said he would continue as chairman of the founder's group.

Shea said that the Continental League would pay Rickey $50,000. Rickey has been general manager of the St. Louis Cardinals, Brooklyn Dodgers and the Pirates. He regularly is recognized as the father of baseball's farm system.

New York City is expected to be the heart of the new league. Other cities lined up by Shea are Houston, Minneapolis-St. Paul, Denver and Toronto. It is believed he also has applications from San Diego, Portland, Seattle, Buffalo, Miami, Montreal, Dallas-Fort Worth and San Juan, Puerto Rico.

Laredo And Randolph Rack Up Wins In Tourney Play
 Laredo AFB and Randolph Field won first round games in the Air Training Command's Southern District Softball tournament here Monday night.

Laredo came from behind with an electrifying rally in the final inning to topple James Connally AFB of Waco, 8-7.

Laredo trailed by two runs going into the last inning.

Randolph Field topped with Harlingen in the final contest, winning by a score of 9-0.

In action today, Laredo tangles with Lackland at 3 p.m.; Randolph opposes Webb at 5 p.m.; Harlingen AFB challenges the loser in the Laredo-Lackland imbroglio at 7:30 p.m.; and Connally tries the loser in the Randolph-Webb engagement at 9:30 p.m.

Webb and Lackland drew first round byes.

Giants Add To Advantage As Willies Come Through

By The Associated Press
 A bunch of Willies-come-lately these San Francisco Giants, what with Willie Mays, Willie McCovey or Willie Kirkland coming through in the late innings to keep 'em out front in that National League pennant chase.

Since taking over first place on July 30, the Giants have won 12 of 17 games—and in 9 of those victories they didn't score the clincher before the seventh inning. Fact is, in the 9 late comebacks, two were won in the seventh, three in the eighth, two in the ninth and two in extra innings.

Kirkland's done the job three times, Mays and McCovey twice each.

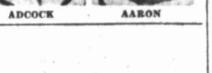

It was that way again Monday night as the Giants came from behind with five runs in the last three innings for a 6-3 victory over Cincinnati that gave San Francisco a three-game surge.

Dauphin Picks 'Dogs Roscoe In Dist. 6-A

By BOBBY HORTON
 STANTON (SC)—Football Coach Harlin Dauphin of Stanton picks Roscoe and Coahoma to finish in that order in the District 6-A scramble this season. Don't, however, sell Dauphin's club short—he's got 31 lettermen back in the fold.

Forty-three Stanton prospects rolled out for 7:30 a.m. drills Monday, probably the largest number a 6-A school fielded the first day of practice.

"Roscoe, I think, will be the team to beat. Of course, the finger has been put on Coahoma. Although Roscoe (defending champ) lost its quarterback in an accident this summer, it had 40 boys out last season and they were heavy," says Dauphin.

Rotan has a choice nucleus returning, too, he adds.

Dauphin figures to improve on his 3-7 record of 1958.

"Our boys came out in good frame of mind. Morale is high; we've got a new scoreboard from the Quarterback Club and our field is in a fine shape—that helps."

Dauphin has three long, rangy ends, three of the swiftest backs in this area and an above-average-weight line and backfield.

His man-under, third year starter, Dauphin's running attack may yield yards to spare.

In the backfield—which could average 160 pounds per man—there will be three boys who can clock at least 10.5 in the 100 yard dash.

Buzzy Brewer, 170-pound senior and top offensive hand, Chad Koonce, 145-pound junior halfback and Tommy Newman, 145-pound junior, were members of Stanton's sprint relay team in track last season.

Newman, ineligible last year because of grades, and Donelson each broke the district record in the 220.

Brewer and Thompson, senior captains, and Jerry Baugh, 160-pound senior center, were honorable mention all-district players. Baugh can't be in action until mid-September because of a recent appendectomy, although he's been authorized to run by his doctor.

It is possible that Robertson will fill that position in the meantime. He came from out-of-state and was ineligible in 1958. Dauphin labels him the best on defense, with Newman the hardest-hitting secondary man.

Also in the line will be sophomore tackle Jerry Polson, 198, who started a few games; twins Orville and Arnold Fincher, 145 and 140, or A. L. Watts, 150, juniors for guard positions; and Tommy Davis, 160-pound junior who played much last year, at the other tackle slot.

With his ample supply of talent, Dauphin may be able to use several reserves in starting assignments for defense, including fullback Darrell Hamby and halfback Bob Sale. Hamby, a 130-pound junior, started in half the games last season and Sale, 145, was used frequently on defense. Herb Sorley, a 135-pound back, is a good secondary defender.

Porky Britton, a 170-pound senior, has been switched from halfback to tackle. He's able on defense, too.

Almost a dozen freshmen round out the roster.

PERHAPS FOR 8 DAYS
 White Sox Suffer Big Jolt When Pierce Is Sidelined

By ED WILKS
 Associated Press Sports Writer
 The Chicago White Sox managed to hold their American League lead without Dick Donovan, but can they do it without Billy Pierce?

With Donovan still a question mark after a three-week layoff because of an ailing shoulder, the White Sox pitching staff was handed another jolt Monday when Pierce was sidelined for from five to eight days. The stubby southpaw pulled a back muscle last weekend.

That puts more pressure on Early Wynn, a wonder at 39, Bob Shaw and Barry Latman, their only dependable starters, and relievers Turk Lown and Jerry Staley for what figures to be 10 tugging days for the White Sox.

Chicago plays 11 games in those 10 days, then plunges into a four-game series at Cleveland against the second-place Indians, still 3 1/2 games behind after dropping a three-game series to Detroit.

The Indians, blowing 3-0 and 4-3 leads, lost 5-4 to the Tigers in the only game scheduled in the AL Monday. It was a quick make-up game for Sunday's rainout at Detroit, which wiped out a 5-0 Cleveland lead.

Pierce (12-13) hasn't contributed as much as expected to the White Sox drive, winning only four of seven decisions since they blasted off from second place, two games behind Cleveland, for a 27-10 record beginning July 8.

But now the little lefty figures to miss two or maybe three starting assignments against Baltimore, more New York and Boston—three clubs that have provided more than half of his total victories. He's 2-1 against the Orioles, 3-3 with the Yankees and 2-1 against the Red Sox.

For the record, while Pierce and Donovan have contributed only a 6-4 record between them in the White Sox' 27-10 push to the top, Shaw has a 5-0 mark, Wynn 5-2 and Latman 3-2. Lown is 4-0 in the spurge, Staley 3-0, and the two firemen also picked up five saves between them.

The Indians built a quick lead at Detroit yesterday, scoring three in a second inning triggered by Rocky Colavito's 35th home run. But the Tigers battled back behind the eight-hit pitching of Paul Foyack (11-10), the right-hander Cleveland bombed Sunday. He gave up only four hits over the last seven innings.

Mr. And Mrs. G. Marchant Win Archery Meet Prizes
 Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Marchant were the big winners in the first annual Big Spring Open Archery tournament, which took place at the Western Sportsman's Club shooting range northwest of town Sunday.

Each of the Marchants won trophies as the outstanding archers in the meet, which attracted an entry list of 260.

Marchant earned his trophy with a total score of 530 while his wife came in with a 264.

Among the men, Lt. Paul Wagner won a medal in the field round with a 193. Marchant was second, with 178; and Delton DeMott third.

Mrs. Marchant also earned a medal with a field round score of 93. June Vaughn was second with 85.

Among the junior entries, Jim Hanes won a pair of binoculars with a score of 288, Charles Hoover a belt quiver with a 267 tally, Glenn Allen two Flu-Flu arrows, with 251.

In field round competition, L. R. Sanders copped two hunting arrows with a 193 score, Allen a Paper Mate pen with a 76 and Hoover two ball-point pens with a 73.

In an election held following the shoot, Marchant was named president of the sponsoring organization, the Nock and Feather Archery Club, succeeding M.Sgt. Harold Kain.

Elevated to the office of secretary-treasurer was A.J.C. Tom Chandler of the 331st Fighter Interceptor Squadron, replacing Irving Elliott, who is leaving the service.

The Marchant home will be the scene of a business meeting of the club on Aug. 29. The organization plans monthly shoots and is working toward an invitational meet.

Prizes for Sunday's tournament were donated by local merchants.

Nelson Rockefeller Colorful Character

By CHARLES DUMAS
ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — What sort of governor is Nelson Rockefeller?

There is no simple answer for those who hear Rockefeller touted as a good Republican candidate for president and wonder what sort of record he has made in Albany.

It depends on personal evaluation of a bouncy extrovert who thinks and acts big.

After Rockefeller's first six months in office, Republican State Chairman L. Judson Morhouse appraised him thus: "He has proved that he is a leader of principle and performance as well as personality. He has made monumental progress."

Democratic Chairman Michael H. Prendergast, delivered this judgment: "The Rockefeller Republican administration has shown uncanny ability to misrepresent the people. The Rockefeller failure has been monumental."

They agree only on the adjective monumental.

That's not so surprising because Rockefeller appears to have the drive of his billionaire grandfather, the late John D. Rockefeller.

The 51-year-old governor does things in the grand manner, with sweep, daring and imagination. He has lived up to his campaign billing as a man of action. This image is imprinted clearly on his developing record as governor.

Rockefeller's first budget certainly could be described as monumental. Few taxpayers are likely to forget it.

error proposed the first two-billion-dollar. He called for the greatest million-to finance it.

round of tax increases ever—$77 took a firm stand for pay-as-you-go financing and clung to it stubbornly through weeks of battling until he won his point.

When state spending overtook revenue, Rockefeller's Democratic predecessor, W. Averell Harriman, balanced his budget by dipping into reserve funds and floating bonds. Rockefeller conceivably could have avoided tax increases by more of the same.

As it was, he had to use 147 million in bonds and reserves, but he drew the line there. His plan, he said, was to return to pay-as-you-go, partly this year and—hope—completely next year.

"I know this is not a popular budget," he said, "but I have a duty to the people. To continue the old policies would invite fiscal disaster. We would be mortgaging the future of our state."

"Rocke" showed the same tough-mindedness in one of his more recent programs—a highly controversial plan that would require people to build atomic radiation shelters in their homes.

The more politically minded have suggested that the program should be put on a voluntary basis, rather than mandatory. But Rockefeller rejected this idea.

"It won't work unless everybody has one," he protested.

Rockefeller's record is studied with studies. He likes to appoint committees and "task forces" to tackle government problems.

Since taking office, he has ordered at least 28 major inquiries. Some of them paid off promptly.

A quick study of the plight of financially distressed railroads and bus companies led to a major tax-relief law enacted at last winter's legislative session. Rockefeller says a healthy transportation is vital to a sound state economy.

Probably because of his stature in the business community, Rockefeller has been able to attract top-caliber executives to conduct these studies and to serve in his administration.

As governor, Rockefeller has broken some precedents and set a few new ones.

In an attempt to put across his fiscal program, Rockefeller gained permission to deliver his budget message personally at a joint session of the Legislature.

He has used his personal fortune for what is essentially state business. Although Harriman also was a millionaire, he did not believe this was a desirable practice.

Rockefeller started out by picking up the tab for a truly spectacular inaugural ball, featuring three big-name orchestras and a ballet troupe. He uses his own plane for trips. He reached into his own pocket to pay for landscaping work at the executive mansion.

Rockefeller has set the most rigorous code of personal ethics for himself and his administration that Albany has ever seen. His "no gifts" policy is followed so closely that even a dime sent by school children was returned.

So far, Rockefeller has drawn little personal criticism. Democrats have concentrated their heaviest fire on his fiscal policies.

They have suggested that he imposed more taxes than necessary this year so he possibly could offer cutbacks in 1960—the presidential election year.

Rockefeller already is at work to regain ground he has lost. He is assembling a 1960 fiscal-legislative program aimed at doing the trick.

New Yorkers may or may not like the program. But they can't help that it will show daring, sweep and imagination. It will be the last one before the presidential nominating convention.

Ping Pong Ball Fatal To Child

BELLMAWR, N. J. (AP)—Larry Weisenbach, 2, suffocated Monday when a ping pong ball became stuck in his throat.

The boy was rushed to West Jersey Hospital in Camden after a fire rescue squad had removed the ball with forceps.

Three doctors opened the boy's chest and massaged his heart. After nearly two hours, they pronounced him dead.

Exports Fall Off

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Mexico's cotton cloth exports fell 87 1/2 percent in the last seven years, the National Bank of Foreign Commerce said today.

Foreign sales, which amounted to 8,057 metric tons in 1951 dropped to 1,083 tons last year, the bank said.

MERCER TO RETIRE

Columnist Winds Up Four Years As TV-Radio Critic

By CHARLES MERCER
NEW YORK (AP)—This is the last column from my typewriter on the subject of television and radio.
In four years I've written around 600,000 words at this job, mostly concerning television, because there's so little to report about radio these days.
This space soon will be taken over by Cynthia Lowry, an energetic, excellent reporter and a friend of many years. I'm sure you'll enjoy reading what Cynthia writes.

Personally, I'm going to work for myself as a free lance writer. It is an interesting—even a fascinating—way to go broke. It also will help me recover my amateur status as a television viewer.
I'm walking off the field a little bit tired. But I'm not going away mad. That is, I'm not going to stop watching TV. During the coming season I'll be watching occasionally with the other amateurs — and reading the newspapers to learn whether the professionals agree with me.
The World Series, a good football game sometimes, tennis always—these things will appeal to me. So will the nightly news reports of Chet Huntley and David Brinkley on NBC. I've always found many of the late Sunday afternoon shows on CBS and NBC stimulating—and I'll continue to find them so.

The new specials Goodman Ace is preparing for CBS sound interesting—and what will "Playhouse 90" come up with? The new "Sunday Showcase" will find me at its window on NBC where I'll also sample the Friday and Tuesday night specials.
There will be other good things. There will also be slop, as there always has been—but I won't have to look at it.
After I walk off the field in a few minutes I'll miss friends in

Ulcer Acts Up; Robber Gets Nabbed

NEWARK, N.J. (AP) — It's a fast-moving world we live in—our robbers are getting ulcers.
Police say they were able to catch one such afflicted bandit Monday, who suffered an ulcer attack after an $8 holdup.
Taxi driver Robert Laird told authorities he had picked up two young men who beat him up and took the money. Police learned that one of the robbers had collapsed nearby, apparently with stomach cramps.
Then came a quick check with Martland Medical Center. The hospital said it had just treated Philip Kennedy, 20, for an ulcer attack.

Police went to Kennedy's house and found him sleeping on his front porch. They say he admitted the robbery and implicated his next-door neighbor, Robert Allman, 22.
Ulcer-plagued Kennedy and his companion were charged with assault and robbery.

the office and in television too. I'll miss letters from sincere and honest people in far parts of the country. But I'll have amusing memories.
Much of what I forecast failed to come true. There were a few small triumphs. I said that Dinah Shore could carry an hour show—and she certainly could. I said that Dick Clark would be a big hit—and he is. Every time Jack Paar lost a job I'd say he was bound to succeed some day—and he has.
I liked to write about talented newcomers on whom I enjoyed strewing prophecies of stardom. Few have yet become stars, but I won't retract a word. For time is on the side of youth and talent.

Then, too, I had days of agony when the arrant commercialism of television weighed me down. Foolishly I once thought I might try to help change some of that. But I couldn't and I didn't.
I've come to believe that the importance of the medium looms too large to a so-called professional because he understandably wants to feel that this job is important. But the amateur sees it more clearly simply for what it's worth to him.
So save me a seat in the bleachers.

Gunman Seized

View looking up between two buildings in the Fillmore district of San Francisco shows beserk gunman Antonio Gutierrez, 22, being lowered by policemen from a rooftop into the arms of waiting officers after he wounded two men on the street below with rifle fire. Gutierrez blamed "girl trouble" for his brief reign of terror. He surrendered after the rifle was shot out of his hands. His first victim, a passer-by on the street, was creased in the forehead. The second, an ambulance steward, was shot in the chest. (AP Wirephoto)

Hugh O'Brian Man With Big Mission

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — A man with a mission is Hugh O'Brian, recently returned from a pilgrimage to Dr. Albert Schweitzer in Africa.

TV's Wyatt Earp has long been a student of the life and thought of Schweitzer, the philosopher-theologian-musician and medical missionary.
O'Brian was profoundly moved by Schweitzer's stand against further pollution of the world's atmosphere by nuclear tests, as printed in the Saturday Review. He asked editor Norman Cousins if he could presume to visit Schweitzer in Africa to learn more of the great man's views. It was arranged.
"On Sunday I finished a Shrine circus in Winnipeg," O'Brian recalled. "On Tuesday morning, I was in Africa talking to Dr. Schweitzer."
O'Brian was paddled up the river by five natives, whom he discovered to be lepers. The actor, well-tailored in a Brooks Brothers suit, grabbed a paddle and worked along with them. But they made him stop as they neared the hospital landing.
"The doctor wouldn't approve—because of the intense heat," Hugh explained. "There was enough to do without caring for a sick visitor."
Schweitzer was on the landing, a thin, erect figure all in white. He greeted O'Brian warmly and insisted on carrying his bag up the hill. "Imagine, this saint carrying my bag!"
The best part of his stay was the evenings, he said. The hospital staff gathered for dinner, after which Schweitzer played Bach on an ancient, lead-lined piano and all sang a hymn in German. Then he read a chapter of the Bible and discussed it. O'Brian spent three nights talking with the doctor.
He came away with a new feeling of urgency about the need to avoid nuclear testing and warfare. "I don't want to quote Dr. Schweitzer because he worries about being misquoted," the actor said. "But the gist of his message was that the people of the world have to renew their individualism. They must find out more about nuclear matters and make their feelings heard."

Ballads For Him

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Rock 'n' roll singer Tommy Sands says he's going to switch from rhythm and blues to more serious ballads. "Somebody has got to do it—kids nowadays don't know what the serious songs sound like," he told reporters Monday.
Sands, just turned 21, went to the county clerk's office to collect $15,650 savings a judge ordered in approving a movie contract for him.

Fatally Hurt

DALLAS (AP) — Frank Dean Richardson of Mesquite was fatally injured here Monday when his pickup truck and a passenger automobile collided.
