Javits Says Rockefeller Not Definite

By JACK BELL
WASHINGTON (AP)—A lot of people may be skeptical, but Sen. Jacob K. Javits (R-NY) says he's convinced Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller hasn't made up his mind about 1960.

Javits said Rockefeller's flying trip to Washington Tuesday was a mere scratch-the-surface affair about too much political significance.

In the course of the day, Rockefeller talked with President Eisenhower and other government officials on civil defense matters, and met with GOP office holders both in Congress and in the administration.

Some supporters of Vice President Richard M. Nixon thought the interest Rockefeller showed in primaries confirmed their belief that he already is a candidate—though unannounced—for the 1960 Republican presidential nomination Nixon wants.

Sen. Styles Bridges (R-NH), with whom Rockefeller has been next March's New Hampshire primary, left no doubt he thinks the governor is headed for a contest with Nixon in that state.

But Javits said that if Rockefeller really was set to go after the prize, he doesn't think the world long would remain in ignorance of the governor's intentions.

"I know him pretty well and I sense that he is going through a period in which he is trying to make up his mind," Javits said in an interview. "He may appear indecisive now but when he makes up his mind you won't have to ask him what his intentions are, he'll tell you."

Rockefeller appeared to be bent on making friends—if not necessarily on influencing them—in appearances sandwiched in between business talks with Eisenhower, Secretary of the Treasury Robert B. Anderson and Leo Hoegh, the civil defense administrator.

At a White House conference after his 45-minute talk with Eisenhower, the governor took the opportunity to shake hands with all the newsmen present.

When he visited the Capitol for lunch with Javits and Sen. Kenneth B. Keating (R-NY), some of the gawking tourists might have wondered if a presidential nominee was on the premises.

Rockefeller had a grin and an outstretched hand for everybody, including Republican and Democratic senators who converged on his table. He signed autographs for tittering girl secretaries, shook hands with the Negro waiters and generally acted like a goodwill ambassador for Rockefeller.

But Javits insisted this was merely Rockefeller being himself and not Rockefeller, the incipient candidate.

Judge Asked To Force Schools Admit Negroes

GALVESTON (AP)—U. S. Dist. Judge Ben C. Connally was asked late Tuesday to order admission of two Negro children to an all-white elementary school here this fall.

The children are Patricia Ann and Betty Robinson.

A petition asking an injunction and declaratory judgment was filed in U. S. District Court here by a Galveston attorney, Thomas Dent, and Thurgood Marshall, National Counsel for the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People.

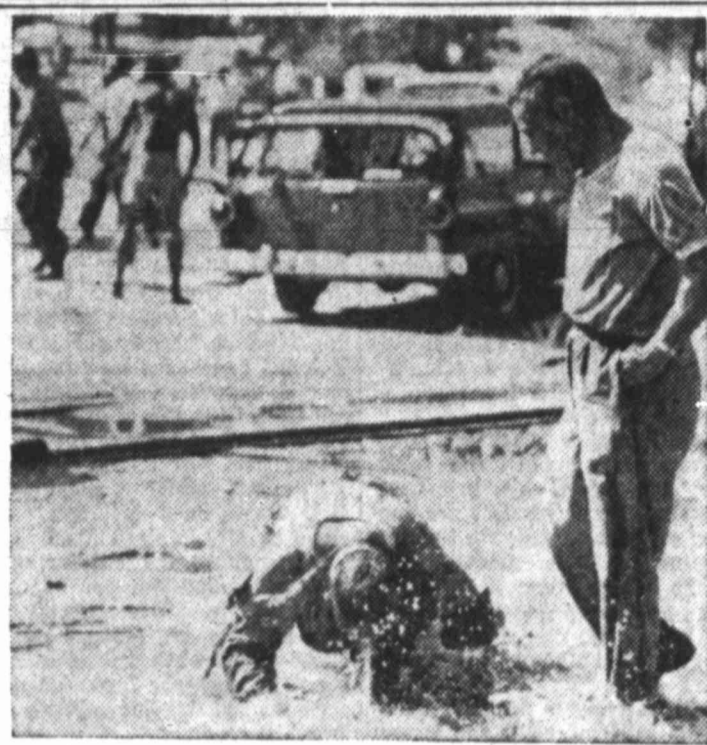

Defendant in the action is Dr. Morgan E. Evans, superintendent of schools.

DPS Patrol To Get Pay Hike Sept. 1

AUSTIN (AP)—The Department of Public Safety said Tuesday highway patrolmen will get pay raises Sept. 1. It also announced new applications are being accepted before Sept. 7 to fill 80 vacancies.

Beginning patrolmen will receive $325 a month compared to the present $300, DPS director Col. Homer Garrison Jr., said. The pay goes to $350 after completion of the three-month school and another increase to $365 and $388 per month after full training is completed.

2 Dead, 17 Critically Injured, In Gas Blast

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP)—A 20,000-gallon gasoline tank exploded and hurtled forward like a giant flame-thrower, engulfing firemen in a blast of fire. That's how Tuesday's gasoline bulk station holocaust took its toll. Two firemen died. They were Virgil L. Sams, 23, and Neal K. Owen, 28. Seventeen others, four of them in critical condition, remained in hospitals today.

Troublemakers In Caribbean Rapped

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP)—Most of the foreign ministers of the Americas hope one of their major actions at their conference here will shame troublemakers in the Caribbean into behaving themselves.

The majority of the 21 ministers made it plain before they ended their Caribbean peace conference here Tuesday that they don't like what's going on in that sea of trouble south of the United States. They left banking heavily on public opinion to bring moral pressure on people who disturb the peace in the Caribbean and elsewhere—at least until more permanent measures can be arranged at the regular Inter-American conference scheduled in Quito next February.

The Santiago conference did not single out any culprits or slap any specific wrists, even though the fight continued at the conference table between representatives of the two major Caribbean antagonists, Prime Minister Fidel Castro of Cuba and Generalissimo Rafael L. Trujillo, dictator of the Dominican Republic.

Housing Bill Sponsors Are More Hopeful

WASHINGTON (AP)—A thumping 71-24 Senate vote for a new $1,050,000,000 housing bill gave its sponsors encouragement today that the legislation finally would become law.

Both the final passage tally and the 66-27 margin by which the Senate refused to send the measure back to its Banking Committee were well beyond the two-thirds needed to beat another housing veto.

Indications were, however, that final congressional action on the bill would not come promptly.

The measure now goes to the House. Congressmen there who handle housing said privately it had been decided to steer the bill into the usual committee channels. Leaders have dropped an earlier plan to take the bill up quickly without sending it to committee.

There was speculation the measure might be sent to President Eisenhower in the closing days of the session on a take-it-or-leave-it basis.

The bill carries authorizations for some new government-financed housing programs as well as for others which are out of funds. It also includes various liberalizations of the FHA mortgage insurance program designed to help private industry.

Flood Causes Three Deaths

NEEDLES, Calif. (AP)—A flash flood has left three dead and one missing on the California-Arizona desert. Forecasters say another cloudburst may be on the way.

The Weather Bureau said it couldn't predict the extent of showers expected today.

A cloudburst Monday night dropped more than an inch of rain in three hours on this farm town on the Colorado River.

The storm washed out major highways, destroyed bridges, stranded hundreds of motorists, flooded Needles stores, ripped up railroad tracks and endangered isolated hamlets.

Massive walls of water poured out of normally dry ravines and sent boulders skimming like pebbles over Highway 66 and 95, virtually sealing off the town. At least eight persons narrowly escaped serious injury as the torrents swept cars off the highways. The three dead were Santa Fe Railway track workers.

BOARD BACKS UP COPS Police Actions At Little Rock Get Official Support

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—The Little Rock Board of Directors Tuesday aligned itself against the segregationist position after almost two years of unyielding neutrality in the integration struggle here.

The board said it could find no basis for segregationists charges that police used brutality and violated a constitutional right of peaceful assembly when they squelched an anti-integration demonstration Wednesday at Central High School.

The seven-member board said it felt officers acted legally to maintain order and protect life and property. It referred to complaints filed by two women segregationists to the U.S. Justice Department.

ment as the proper authority to probe alleged violations of civil rights.

Previously, the board had refused to involve itself in any manner with the integration issue. But it drew segregationist criticism for ordering police to maintain order when schools opened.

The Rev. Wesley Pruden, chairman of the Capital Citizens Council, retorted that the Justice Department was in league with city police and that agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation donned police uniforms and helped repress demonstrators.

An FBI spokesman at Washington said he would not dignify Pruden's statement with a reply.

Women Confess Stealing Bank Cash

Jacksonville Pair Enter Guilty Plea

By RAYMOND HOLBROOK
TYLER (AP)—Two women who dipped into a Jacksonville bank's till for $130,516 pleaded guilty today. A federal judge withheld sentence while he studies their probation pleas.

Each admitted spending many times their income.

Miss Yola Renfro, 59, an executive of the Texas Bank and Trust Co. of nearby Jacksonville, said she spent $625 a month. She was assistant cashier.

Mrs. Weldon Conner, 34, mother of two, said she nicked the bank for $7,200 a year beyond her salary. She was a bookkeeper.

Defense lawyers, seeking probation for their clients, said the women's salaries were small. "That does not give them a right to take money," declared Federal Judge Joe Sheehy.

Attorneys said Miss Renfro averaged about $253 salary a month during the eight years she took money. Mrs. Conner received about $325.

Miss Renfro started work in the bank at $100 a month and Mrs. Conner at $90.

When they were fired a month ago, Miss Renfro earned $325 a month and a 15 per cent bonus, and Mrs. Conner $260 plus the bonus.

Both women were freed without bond pending their sentencing Aug. 31.

Both women were highly respected in Jacksonville, a city of 11,000, until their world crashed when a cashier stumbled on their secret a month ago.

U. S. Atty. William Steger took the case direct to the judge. Thus he spared the women the usual legal processes of arrest, jail, bond and grand jury indictment.

Miss Renfro went through the court proceedings stoically. She answered questions in a low but firm voice. She wore a smartly tailored green dress, but no hat or gloves.

Mrs. Conner sighed frequently, and fidgeted her great bulk in her chair. She wore a brown checked house dress and white ballet-type slippers. Her answers were in a high-pitched trembling voice.

Steger told the judge each woman had taken about $65,000. He indicated they had little with which to make restitution. They own equities only in their homes.

"I'm generally known that for the responsibilities and abilities required, bank personnel are low paid. But that does not give them a right to take money."

The judge studied the probation pleas in detail. At one time he looked beyond the papers at Mrs. Conner and said, "I see you are a mother of two children."

She replied in her high voice, "Yes. They are adopted."

Sheehy asked if adoption was final, and she replied that it is.

Present among the spectators was Mrs. Conner's husband, dressed in a dark blue suit and deep tie. He kept his eyes cast downward throughout the proceedings.

The women slipped into the federal building well before the trial and held a lengthy conference with their attorneys in an unused jury room.

Federal officials, in a pre-trial press conference, said the women worked as a team in bilking the bank.

The officials said each woman wrote hot checks on their personal accounts. Miss Renfro held the checks in her cashier's cage until a sizable amount accumulated.

Then she turned them over to Mrs. Conner, who posted all the bank's checks daily. Mrs. Conner removed sufficient ledger cards on accounts which were inactive to make the bank's books balance.

When Mrs. Conner appeared before investigators, she pulled from her purse 46 such ledger cards. They totaled $127,216.48.

Miss Renfro presented investigators with checks she had held in her cage. They amounted to $3,299.58.

The trial was held here rather than in Jacksonville because Federal Court meets here.

Steger presented five counts against each woman. They charged false entries in the bank's books in 1955, 1957, 1958 and 1959 and conspiracy.

Steger said both women made statements to him before the trial.

Steger said the statements showed Mrs. Conner and her husband had combined monthly incomes of $400. She said family expenses each month were about $1,000. She apparently referred to average income over several years.

She admitted taking about $7,200 each year from the bank for eight years.

Miss Renfro's statement listed her expenses each month at $625. The chic spinster accounted for $14,000 spent on vacations, her hobby of ceramic art and medical bills for her mother who died in 1953.

The women submitted to fingerprinting in the federal marshal's office.

Steger said later that bank examiners found that Miss Renfro withheld a $15,000 deposit slip during a weekend. He said she was unable to account for her action. The bank then changed its procedures seeking to prevent a recurrence.

DEATH TOLL MAY RISE

8 Known Dead In Far-Flung Western Earthquake Areas

WEST YELLOWSTONE, Mont. (AP)—Eight persons were known dead today from a wide-ranging Western earthquake which dealt its most devastating blows in a southwest Montana vacation area.

Officials feared the toll would rise to 13.

Earth slides just west of Yellowstone National Park roared down after the quake, trapping the victims and terrifying other vacationers with a thunder of rocks, earth and trees.

Four of the known dead were from one family. They were F. R. Bennett, 45, of Couer D'Alene, Idaho; his two daughters, Carol, 17, and Susan, 5, and a son, Tom, 11. Bennett's wife and another son were injured.

The death toll could rise. Survivors reported seeing a couple and a crippled boy swept away in their car by an avalanche. At another location, parts of an automobile registered to Thomas Stowe, 31, of Sandy, Utah, were found. Stowe and his wife were reported missing.

Approximately 60 persons were injured, but only 27 remained in hospitals in four Montana towns. Six were reported in critical condition.

Most of the victims were campers enjoying outdoor vacations in the rugged wilks of southwestern Montana, less than 20 miles west of Yellowstone Park.

The quake first struck near midnight Monday at Hebgen Dam and farther downstream in the Madison River valley, famous trout fishing country.

There were an estimated 22,000 vacationers in Yellowstone Park when the quakes hit, but no one was reported hurt there. Earth slides closed some roads in the western side of the park.

Additional light tremors north of Hebgen Dam were felt Tuesday night, but caused no damage.

None of the famous scenic wonders of the huge summer playground were damaged. Old Faithful geyser, about 40 miles southeast of Hebgen Dam, continued to throw its fountain of boiling water skyward on the hour.

Although southwestern Montana got the quakes' most devastating blows, tremors were reported in British Columbia, Washington, Idaho, Utah, Wyoming and both Dakotas.

The quake victims were camped along the Madison River. It flows from Yellowstone Park westward, then northward to join the Jefferson and Gallatin rivers at Three Forks, Mont., to form the Missouri River.

The dam on the river forms a lake holding about 337,000 acre-feet of water.

A 10-year-old boy, Robert Bennett of Cottonwood, Ariz., told reporters he and his family saw a car containing a crippled boy, a man and woman buried by a slide 50 feet from the Bennett car. It could not be determined if the three escaped.

At one time Tuesday night the death toll was given by officials as 19, then revised downward by Montana's civil defense director, Hugh Potter.

But sheriff's officers near the once-white schools for a fifth straight day Tuesday. There were no reported incidents outside the schools and school officials said everything was quiet inside.

Jefferson Thomas, the only Negro enrolled in Central High, said while students have ignored him, Thomas said three Negro girls who attend Hall High told him they were very happy there.

Seven students—three at Central and four at Hall—have requested transfer out of classes with Negroes under a 1958 law which requires school authorities to honor such requests.

Supt. Terrell Powell said the transfers were made under a school board policy of obeying every valid law pertaining to operation of the schools.

Attendance at four high schools continued to climb, reaching a total of 2,656. Average daily attendance was about 3,500 before Gov. Orval E. Faubus closed the schools against integration a year ago.

Police Break Up Gang Fight

BOSTON (AP)—About 30 policemen with drawn guns broke up a threatened street gang war battle Tuesday night with whites on one side and Negroes on the other. Police said the youths were armed with clubs and knives.

Sgt. John Pastore of the Roxbury division, where the outbreak took place, said the near-rumble was the outcome of continuing hostilities.

'Try It, Jim'

And James T. Herndon, Stanton, needs no prodding to try any of his wife's fine cooking. In this instance, it is the fruit pudding-pie which has made her a finalist in Pillsbury's national bake-off. The gigantic recipe hunt is the first contest Mrs. Herndon has ever entered. Now she has already won a $100 check, an all-expense paid trip to California, an electric range and mixer.

Stanton Woman Will Compete In Pillsbury's National Bake-Off

By HELEN HURT

Yesterday started much like any other day for Mrs. James T. Herndon, who lives in Stanton. But by 9 a.m. the house was charged with excitement generated by the announcement that she is eligible to win a $25,000 first grand prize.

With the breakfast dishes still stacked in the kitchen sink, and the ironing board hot from a session at pressing, she was notified that she is one of 100 finalists in Pillsbury's 11th grand national bake-off, the company's annual recipe hunt, co-sponsored by General Electric Co.

As a finalist, she not only received $100, delivered to her Monday by Steve Waters of El Paso, Pillsbury account manager for the area, but will have an all-expense paid trip to Beverly Hills, Calif., where the bake-off is scheduled Sept. 21 at Beverly Hilton Hotel; two additional prizes will be the electric range and mixer which she will use in preparing her prize-winning recipe. The award ceremonies are set for Sept. 22; winners will appear on the Art Linkletter television show the following day.

"I still can't believe it's true," Mrs. Herndon kept repeating in the confusion of well-wishers, newspaper people and friends. And she meant it from more angles than one. She had submitted four entries in the contest, and when she dared hope to win, she was certain the cookie formula would accomplish it for her. But it was a fruit pudding-pie that won the honors, and which she will be making in California. A meat loaf and an upside down fruit cake failed to lure the judges in the preliminaries.

Any woman who cooks to please three men is bound to learn to cook well, avers Mrs. Herndon. In her case the trio includes her husband, who moved to Stanton seven years ago for his health; a son, James T. Jr., who lives with his wife and three sons on the family's ranch in Colcord, Okla.; and Henry McCoy, also of Colcord, whom the couple reared. It was at the homeplace in Oklahoma that

After Five Club Adds To Roster

Mrs. Joe Matthews and Mrs. J. E. Parker were welcomed as new members of the After Five Garden Club, Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Perry Chandler. Co-hostess was Mrs. Ralph Caton.

Each woman brought a flower arrangement for appraisal by two guests, Mrs. D. S. Riley and Mrs. J. B. Knox, both of the Big Spring Garden Club.

Mrs. L. W. Harris, in giving timely gardening tips, noted that September is the last month for rose feeding and the time for the final lawn feeding of the season. Now is the time to plant peonies, she reminded.

The group elected Mrs. Caton as corresponding secretary, a post which was resigned by Mrs. Marvin Wright.

Among the 16 present was Laura Strickland of Midland.

Formula For Life Shared By Circle

As a unique program feature for the Anne Dwyer Circle, First Baptist WMS, Mrs. Welby Jackson shared a cookie recipe. Reading a Bible scripture for each of the ingredients, she paralleled the formula to a guide for Christian living.

Mrs. Donald Hale was hostess to the eight members Tuesday morning at her home. The group elected circle officers, naming Mrs. Jackson as chairman.

As a home missions project, they agreed to help Settles Baptist Mission with their vacation Bible school next week.

In September, the circle will meet with Mrs. D. A. Miller, 610 Steakley.

Neighborhood Picnic

The back yard of the W. G. Mitchell home, Ridgeroad Drive, was the scene of a neighborhood picnic Tuesday evening, which included ten families. This is the second year for the annual get-together. Croquet provided entertainment for the 35, following the buffet supper.

Mrs. Herndon's pudding-pie originated, inspired by plentiful home grown fruit.

The couple's residence at 409 W. Saint Anna doubles for their office too. Paper work for her husband's Rocket Service Co., an oil field construction business, is done by Mrs. Herndon. This keeps her so busy she barely has time to try her luck at gardening and to prepare those all-important three square meals a day. She likes to experiment with new recipes and to improvise her own. Any spare time is claimed by six-year-old Trixie, an alert Chihuahua who seems unaware he is not "people."

If Mrs. Herndon wins the $25,000 first grand prize, the $3,000 second grand prize, or any of the senior division prizes, chances are she will not be as excited or thrilled as she was yesterday. Now the big question is how to get to California. She wants to drive, he wants to fly. Whichever way they go, the couple will at last have a vacation.

Youth Panel Appears For WSCS

Identical programs concerned with Building Christian Character were enjoyed by both circles of Wesley Methodist WSCS, at their separate meetings Tuesday.

The study, centered around children and youth, was developed by a panel of three young people. Claudia Richardson, daughter of the T. C. Richardson, was joined by Val Marlin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Marlin, and Andrea Askins, daughter of the Elmer Askins.

Fourteen members of the Martha Foster Circle gathered at the church for a morning session. The business was conducted by Mrs. Richardson.

Christian Witness Is WMS Subject

Mrs. Bobby Zellars and Mrs. Horace Rankin reviewed portions of the book, Christian Witnessing, for the College Baptist WMS, when the women met Tuesday morning with Mrs. H. W. Bartlett. The two dealt with witnessing in the home and through the church.

Mrs. Robert Travis was introduced to the ten as a new member. Guests were Mrs. Ethel Bartlett and Mrs. Bill Arrant.

Next Tuesday at 9:30 a.m., the WMS will meet at the church for Bible study and a business session.

Selecting Toys Is A Serious Science Now

By DOROTHY ROE

Associated Press Women's Editor
Once upon a time a child was happy with a homemade rag doll or a soapbox scooter nailed together in the woodshed. Those days have gone forever.

Today the business of choosing toys is a serious science, involving expert analysis by specialists in psychology, sociology, physical development and safety.

"You can't just go out and buy any old toy for a child," says Dr. Emma Sheehy, professor of education at Columbia University and a consultant to the Toy Guidance Council for 13 years. "You have to be sure that it's the right toy for his age and interests, that it will give him full play value and develop his talents."

Pursuing this theory, the council recently celebrated its 21st birthday by setting aside one whole floor of its new building in midtown Manhattan as a toy testing laboratory. Children of various age groups are invited in to play with new toys while Dr. Sheehy and other members of the consultant committee watch through a two-way mirror from an adjoining room.

The experts grade toys as to amusement value, mental development value, vocational development value and safety. In the latter category toys must pass various tests: smooth edges, non-toxic surfaces, appropriate size,

Another Garden Club Is Organized

A new garden club was organized Tuesday morning in a session at the home of Mrs. Harry C. Hon. Membership will be recruited from among the Officers Wives Club; those interested in joining are asked to contact Mrs. Thomas Humphries, AM 3-2918, prior to 10 a.m. Sept. 15, when she will be hostess at her home, 63-B Chanute.

The group resolved to meet on the third Tuesday of each month, at 10 a.m. Officers will be elected later, and official representation will be provided for the council of local garden clubs.

Guest speaker was Mrs. Obie Bristow, who defined the objectives of a garden club. In a question and answer session, she supplied suggestions as to the time for planting suitable flowers and shrubs in this area.

OES Honors Grand Officers

Dorothy Driver and Mrs. Pyle Bradshaw, officers of the Grand Chapter of Texas, OES, were honored by their fellow members of Big Spring Chapter 67 with a special program Tuesday evening at the Masonic Hall. Both women are past matrons of the unit.

The presentation, entitled Stars Within a Star, was directed by Mrs. T. J. Allen. A living OES emblem was formed by matrons under whom the honorees had served, the colors of the star points being included in ribbons leading to the pair at the center. Mrs. Paul Carroll traced the life of Miss Driver from childhood through the stages of her OES career, and as holder of several grand appointments.

Mrs. Bradshaw's biography was given by Mrs. Willard Read.

In behalf of the chapter, gifts were presented the pair by Mr. and Mrs. Drew Dyer, worthy patron and matron. Musical climax came with Mrs. Carl Bradley singing "The Way You Look Tonight," accompanied by her sister, DeLores Howard.

New York Blackout Showed Cooperation Lives In City

NEW YORK (AP)—Manhattan's sudden blackout had one surprising and significant effect — it created a spirit of cooperation missing in the garish, neon-lit streets of the city at night. This fact stood out above all others today as officials asked themselves why the sprawling, pitch-black section did not become a jungle of panic and violence. What caused the breakdown that left 500 blocks and a half million people without power for 13 hours was not completely clear. Peak loads caused by sweltering weather and the increased use of cooling devices, burned out the cables. That was the power company's first explanation. An official of the company—Consolidated Edison—said later, however, that a dozen other things, such as rats gnawing on the cables, might have been involved. City and state agencies began investigations to determine the exact cause and take measures against any recurrence. But one thing was clear. From the millionaires on the fashionable East Side to the slum dwellers on the upper West Side, the people in the stricken area refused to panic. When night came Monday, police became alarmed at the possibilities for panic and violence among the shadowy streets and lightless buildings. The area was saturated with police and detectives, but no disorders were reported. The blacked-out area stretched 51 blocks along the West Side, and 36 blocks along the East Side. It reached a mile and a half wide, from the Hudson to the East River. Police Commissioner Stephen P. Kennedy said the police helped to prevent trouble, "but the main reason why the unlighted streets were not turned into a dark and steaming jungle was the reaction of the community." "The people of the area faced a difficult challenge and rose above it," he said. "In the vast majority of cases the emergency was faced with a spirit of understanding and cooperation. In an area with a serious crime problem, the rate of crime actually decreased radically. "It is indeed ironical," he added, "that it took a major crisis such as this to bring out the best instincts of the community. In the dark all men were the same color."

Cause Of Oil Well Fire Is Being Checked

LAMESA (AP)—Investigators sought the cause today of an explosion and fire which injured six men and wrecked a drilling rig at an oil well 18 miles southwest of here Tuesday.

The fire and blast were tentatively blamed on sparks from the drilling rig which may have ignited gas seeping from the well. The blaze was fought from 3:30 a.m. when it blew out until it was brought under control at 8 a.m. A. O. Dry, 29, Andrews, assistant superintendent of the firm drilling the well, was flown to John Sealy Hospital in Galveston Tuesday night for treatment. Dry was the most seriously hurt of the six, with second and third degree burns over 60 per cent of his body and a possible fracture of his right leg. Doctors at the Galveston hospital said early today he "has a pretty good chance." His condition was listed as critical.

Steel Strike Picture Dark Says Mediator

WASHINGTON (AP)—A collection of facts about the steel strike will be released by the government tonight in the hope of budging the deadlocked negotiations.

Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell said he would make public statistics his staff has gathered about wages, profits, productivity, prices and related aspects of the industry.

Mitchell, who announced his decision to release the report after conferring for 45 minutes with President Eisenhower, said he hoped the information would cause both sides to "bargain a little harder and reach a settlement."

But in New York, chief federal mediator Joseph F. Finnegan said Mitchell's announcement had no effect whatsoever on negotiations Tuesday.

"I must say the picture at present is distinctly gloom," Finnegan added.

The strike has lasted 36 days. Half a million steel workers are out and 150,000 in related industries have been laid off.

Man Asleep On Job Ends Up In Court

NORTH BERGEN, N.J. (AP)—Wayne Smith, 25, must show up in municipal court today because he was caught sleeping on the job.

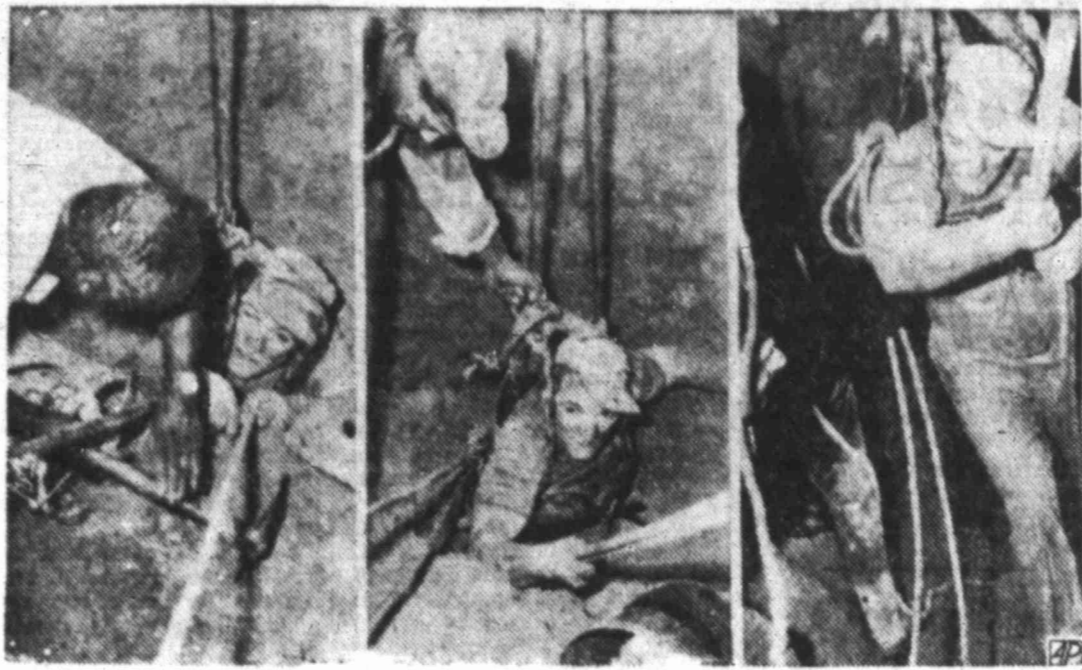

John Riechert said he came home to his second floor apartment Tuesday and found Smith sleeping on his bed.

Police said Smith told them he had climbed a fire escape and entered the apartment to rob it, but lay down on the bed to rest and fell asleep.

Smith, a die maker, was charged with breaking and entry.

Out Of Deadly Trap

Ralph Longo, wet sand and cement clinging to his clothing, is hoisted out of a deadly trap in a sand hopper in New York. He was rescued after a 90-minute struggle, with death appearing only seconds away at times. Longo, 50, was trapped in sliding materials as he descended 15 feet into the sand hopper to get some large stones that had fallen into it. A shovel and bucket brigade saved him, using a strap to pull him up. He escaped injury and wanted to stay on the job but was sent home to rest. (AP Wirephoto).

Ike Considers Vet Aid Measure

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower has before him today a bill that raises veterans pension benefits by 10 billion dollars over the next 40 years.

The Senate completed action on it Tuesday by withdrawing a Senate amendment to which the House objected. That would have given veterans of World War II and later another year to take out National Service life insurance.

The Eisenhower administration has opposed the bill strongly in its present form but there was considerable doubt the President would veto it.

The Senate passed the bill last Thursday by a vote of 86-6 and the House by 226-34 on June 15. Both votes are well over the two-thirds margin needed to pass a law over the President's veto.

The bill concerns only pensions for veterans with nonservice-connected disabilities and their dependents.

Barber Colleges Target For Yeggs

FORT WORTH (AP)—Some burglars apparently are making a career of robbing Texas Barber & Beauty Colleges over the state.

The college's Fort Worth unit was entered Monday night and $2,300 in cash and equipment taken by intruders.

The owner of the entire system, A. B. Heath, said this was the third college robbed in three months. The others were at Dallas, where over $1,800 was taken, and at El Paso, where the loss amounted to about $50.

FHA Reduces Staff Due To Drought Break

Farmers Home Administration will operate its program in Texas this year with 117 fewer employees than it had a year ago at this time according to a statement this week from Walter T. McKay, the agency's State Director.

Since the break of the drought, the agency, statewide, has reduced its force by more than 27 per cent and has discontinued 7 of its field offices on a full-time basis.

The Howard-Glasscock FHA office gave up two workers in the employment reduction — both of them during the drought.

The FHA began personnel reduction a year ago in the curtailment of the emergency program.

Insofar as the employees who lost their jobs, McKay said that in practically every case the training and experience they gained during their employment with Farmers Home Administration enabled them to step into jobs with banks, PCA's and other private and cooperative credit institutions — many of them at salaries better than they had with the government.

In connection with the services available to farm families, there will be no change according to McKay. He said that during the past three years more than 12,000 farmers and ranchers paid their loans in full to Farmers Home Administration, and for the most part had reached or regained a position where private and cooperative sources can now handle their credit needs.

The Howard-Glasscock office has 104 active loans this year. Farmers Home Administration will continue to make loans to eligible applicants for farm and home operating expenses; for the purchase of livestock and equipment needed to put their farm programs on a sound basis and to finance farm real estate purchases and improvements.

Tropical Storm Losing Power

SAN JUAN, P.R. (AP) — Tropical storm Edith lost its punch today as it blew through the Dominican Republic.

All warnings were hauled down for Hispaniola, Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands.

Island and reconnaissance aircraft reports indicated the storm had degenerated into squalls. Highest winds were estimated about 35 miles an hour in heavier squalls. The San Juan Weather Bureau said it expected winds to fall more as the weakened storm moved west-northwest at 23 miles an hour.

Forecasters kept their eyes on the area but stopped issuing advisories.

Distilled Water Bath

Mrs. Ima Glass uses distilled water to bathe her daughter Mary Ann, 10-months, in the Westheimer Gardens section of Houston, Texas. City health department tested 30 wells in the area recently and 60 per cent were contaminated. The Glass family said they spend $25.50 a month for distilled water to use for drinking, cooking and for bathing Mary Ann.

Death Cause Sought In Mystery Of Rich Widow

DOWNVILLE, Calif. (AP) — Experts are seeking the cause of the death of Pearl Ada Putney, 72, whose bones were found scattered in a wooded foothill area of the Sierras a year after she vanished.

The wealthy widow last was seen Aug. 15, 1958 in Marysville, Calif., six weeks after she left her home in Washington, D.C., with an ex-convict on what she called "a last fling." The bones, found Sunday, were identified Tuesday.

Sheriff W. D. Johnson said he understood the FBI had begun a search for the ex-convict, Larry Lord Motherwell.

Motherwell was arrested Jan. 18 in Las Vegas, Nev., for questioning in the death of his 14-month-old mentally retarded daughter in Maryland in 1954. A grand jury declined to indict him in Frederick, Md., in that death and he was released Feb. 6. The widow's parched bones were found by Alma Freeman of Trio Oro, Calif., who was in the foothills hunting pine cones with her granddaughter.

Arm Injury Proves Fatal

GALVESTON (AP)—A winch on a shrimp boat ripped an arm from Donald Burns, 20, Tuesday. He was dead when the Coast Guard got him to a hospital.

Capt. Alfio Castornia of the Vagabond said the Galveston man's glove caught on a line as it went into the winch. The arm was torn off before machinery could be stopped, he said.

'HORRIBLE!'

Terror Walked On Heels Of Quake, Survivors Relate

BOZEMAN, Mont. (AP) — "It was horrible," an earthquake survivor said today.

"The children were screaming for help, crying for their mothers," recalled Mrs. Clarence Scott of Fresno, Calif., who came out of the heavily hit Rock Creek area.

"Husbands begged their wives to answer."

"Someone was screaming for help from anyone who could swim. I looked where there had been trailers and tents. They were gone."

Mrs. Scott was in her trailer when the quake rocked the popular vacation area late Monday night.

"There was a huge noise. It sounded like a thousand winds going through the trees but not a tree was moving."

"Something struck our trailer and pushed it up against a tree. The sides and end of the trailer fell off. My husband was gone. I found him just wandering around. He had been in the mud under a tree and managed to squeeze free."

Ray Painter of Ogden, Utah, told of living through those same moments.

"I could not hear my wife but I could hear the kiddies crying and I knew some of them were alive. I begged someone to help lift the tree off my leg. I thought it had cut my leg off. Finally three guys got it off. I found the kids first, then my wife. She had a broken leg."

Although injured and shaken, the Painters had a comforting reunion—all were alive.

F. A. Bennett, 45, a Coeur D'Alene, Idaho, truck driver, was vacationing with his wife and four children.

Battered and bruised, Mrs. Bennett spoke through swollen lips from her bed in the small, overcrowded hospital at Ennis, Mont.

"There was this great sound," she said. "I found myself rolling along with trees, rocks and water."

"I really don't know how I got out of it. They say my husband and three of the children are dead. But I have not lost faith in God. I know they will be found."

Mrs. Bennett's husband, their daughters, Carole 17, and Susan, 5, and son, Tom, 11, were listed among the dead. Another son, Phillip, was in the hospital with his mother. He is expected to recover.

DALLAS (AP)—The Texas Poultry Improvement Assn. took up egg production today, the second day of a three-day meeting.

The Texas Turkey Federation elected George Draper of College Station president Tuesday. Miss Sharon Braddy, 16, College Station, was named queen of the turkey federation.

San Antonio, Tex. (AP) — The Police department's "Voice of Safety" vehicle and a bicycle collided Tuesday. Paris Flower, 12, riding the bicycle, was slightly injured in the collision with the vehicle which broadcasts safety advice.

A Devotional For Today

They continued steadfastly in the apostles' doctrine and fellowship, and in breaking of bread, and in prayers. (Acts 2:42.)

PRAYER: O God, we thank Thee that Thou art great in Thy goodness and good in Thy greatness. Grant unto each of us that endurance which is the child of determination and the parent of success. Lift us into that realm where Christ is Lord of all, and love is supreme. In the name of Jesus. Amen.

He Knows But Doesn't Believe

Almost every man has his own idea about what should be shown Nikita Khrushchev during his visit to this country. On the theory that Khrushchev is an impressionable, sentimental man who can be (1) charmed into becoming a rabid aficionado of all things American or (2) so frightened by the might and power of the United States that he will immediately go back to Moscow and call off the Communist program of world conquest.

One of the latest American sights suggested for the visiting czar of all the Russias is the Eisenhower home in Abilene, Kan., where Ike and his brothers were brought up. The belief seems to be that if Nikita could see from what humble, unpretentious beginnings like sprang to go on and become President of so great a country, it would inspire in the breast of the visiting notable a feeling of fellowship and at-oneness with his American opposite number.

Well, Khrushchev has been around. Some have the notion that if we show him how kind we are, how simple and unpretentious our comings and goings, how dedicated to the arts of peace, he will immediately soften up and become an enlightened world statesman instead of what he actually is—a dictator bent on destroying our way of life by destroying our country.

The vision of Khrushchev as a man of sentiment who can be diverted from his goal, as an old softy who can be reached and influenced by anything less than total strength and determination, is simply fantastic.

Khrushchev is not only not acquainted with the blessings of freedom and wide-open opportunity according to one's individual abilities and merits, but he doesn't even believe in them.

The Multiplication Of Problems

In the year 1900 the population of Texas was just over 3,000,000. In the last census, that of 1950, it stood at 7,711,194, of which the native-born whites accounted for 83.6 per cent. The Negro percentage in that year was 12.7. In 1980 the white percentage was 68.1, the Negro percentage was 24.7.

Texas has had a remarkable growth since 1950. We have seen no recent estimate of the present population, but the guess is somewhere between nine and 10 million.

It is hard to realize that in the census of 1910—only 49 years ago—there wasn't a single city in Texas with as many as 100,000 people. Dallas, Fort Worth, Houston and San Antonio crossed the 100,000 mark in 1920, just 29 years ago.

Dallas and San Antonio are now well above the half-million mark, while Houston is reaching for and may already have passed the one million mark to become the premier city of the South.

In common with nearly every state, Texas has become thoroughly urbanized. The cities have grown while the farm population has dwindled.

Today the cities have problems they never dreamed of only a few decades ago. To mention only one of many: Vehicular traffic, and how to keep it from choking the central downtown areas to death.

To mention another problem even more serious than traffic congestion: Adequate water supplies to keep pace with growing population and rapid rise in per capita consumption, domestic and industrial.

Then there are health and safety and assorted other services. Some can be solved with adequate money, but for most it takes foresight, planning and money.

Power Of Public Opinion

WASHINGTON — Something of epochal importance happened when the House of Representatives last Friday passed a law aimed at stopping abuses of power by labor unions. It was not merely on the merits of the issue that the vote is a notable record, but it was a demonstration of the power of public opinion to cut through party lines.

The nation had given to the Democratic Party in the 1958 election overwhelming control of the House of Representatives. Yet the President, a Republican, was able to persuade the people that their representatives in the House should support the measure he favored. Not so long ago some writers were cavalierly dismissing Mr. Eisenhower as a "weak" executive because, not being eligible under the constitution to be a candidate for re-election, he couldn't influence Congress by promises of appointments and other favors. But this was a superficial view. It was based on a failure to read carefully the pages of American history.

For Presidents like Theodore Roosevelt led even in the second term because they were able to sway public opinion. Mr. Eisenhower, precisely because he cannot run for office gain, is looked upon as disinterested. For nearly two years now he has insisted that there must be reform legislation to curb abuses in the labor-management field. The Democratic-Party-controlled Congress, influenced to no small extent by northern Democrats who are closely affiliated with labor unions, was hesitant to enact any laws dealing effectively with the abuses exposed by the Senate's investigating committee. A plainly dilatory attitude was manifested by the Democratic leadership in the Senate, which acted in 1958 only when it was apparent that it was too late to get the measure through the House at that session.

But the President, counseled by Secretary of Labor Mitchell, insisted on keeping the issue before the people. A bill was drawn up and presented at the start of the current session of Congress. It was prepared by the Secretary of Labor. Though Mr. Mitchell has been looked upon as somewhat inclined to be a partisan of the labor-union cause—especially because of his refusal to endorse wholeheartedly the right-to-work doctrine—he turned out to be a true friend of both labor and management by persistently urging that a measure be passed to deal with the flagrant abuses exposed by the McClellan committee.

The labor-union leaders who opposed the administration measures never made a bigger mistake. They failed to see that statesmanship really demanded their support of the reform measure. Instead, they cried out that the bill would hurt "legitimate unionism." This was like saying that legitimately operated unions could not function if certain abuses were corrected, and that the country had to pay the price of enduring indefinitely the hardships imposed by the criminal and racketeering element just because of the theoretical objections of other labor leaders.

Too many rank-and-file union members have held the same view. Unions, to them, are sacrosanct—a sort of super-government. Union officers wield the power to tax every employer in a plant and make him pay dues and assessments without his consent. Union officers determine that a worker must be fired if he refuses to join a union. Union officers decide whether dues money shall be used to help elect a party or a candidate that the worker himself may oppose. Many unions do not permit a secret ballot on vital issues.

Such absolutism has not yet run its course, but the bill passed last Friday by the House of Representatives, far from swinging the balance away from unions toward the employer, actually swings it away from the racketeering union leader or the craven employer toward the worker by preserving his civil rights.

The country owes a debt of gratitude to many democrats from the South. It was they who joined with Northern Republicans in a coalition that has managed on other occasions, too, in the last several years to save America from the depredations of a radical and spendthrift bloc of so-called "liberals" who profess to be in favor of human rights but who actually vote to give monopoly powers to special groups which help them to win election with big campaign funds.

Efforts will be made by this same group to water down the labor-reform legislation just passed by the House. But the public will be alerted to the battle and, if the Senate fails to act, the Republicans will go to the country in 1960 with the best issue they have had in years. For the nation once saw laws passed to punish wicked corporations when they usurped power, and it will insist on the same treatment now for those who betray the workers by conducting autocratic unions and setting up one-man dictatorships which brazenly use methods that are plainly violative of individual rights.

WHAT OTHERS SAY

Frequency of wrecks and near wrecks on the North Western railroad of late give rise to some disturbing questions. While the precise cause of some of the more serious accidents has never been publicly reported, circumstances have suggested the possibility that, in the new management's vigorous effort to economize, the maintenance of track, structure, rolling stock and other equipment may have been too much curtailed.

Undoubtedly, the management and many employees, especially those exposed to death and injury whenever there is a wreck, are deeply concerned. The public has every right to be. Not only are passengers and other non-employees involved in many wrecks; wrecks are costly and discourage patronage.

Presidential Candidates Begin Working

WASHINGTON (AP) — This is the time—a few months before the 1960 election year—when would-be presidents try to make running bids like just walking fast.

So it is no wonder New York's Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller didn't actually say he needed more leg room when he climbed out of a political box this week.

On Aug. 3 the governor, a Johnny-come-lately to politics, reportedly told friends that by Nov. 1 he would make up his mind about trying for the Republican presidential nomination in 1960 on the basis of what public opinion polls were saying then.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon, a political pro who has been warming up much longer than Rockefeller for the dash across the White House lawn, would never have let himself get into a box like that for a couple of reasons:

1. Time and events change public opinion. What the polls show Nov. 1 may be the opposite of the pollsters' findings six months later.

2. Polls may be wrong, as President Truman demonstrated in 1948 when the polls showed New York's Gov. Thomas E. Dewey a shoo-in but the disbelieving Truman ruined Dewey's presidential ambitions forever.

Even if the polls showed newcomer Rockefeller more popular, Nixon, the old pro, could still hope his deep and wide connections with Republican party politicians might get him the nomination anyway.

So it was no wonder, either, that on Aug. 14 he said polls wouldn't influence his decision about seeking the nomination. He said: "In one respect I'm like Harry Truman. I believe the only poll that counts is on election day."

Then, also, Rockefeller last week had dinner with Dewey, twice a presidential bridesmaid but never a bride, who was one of the prime forces in helping President Eisenhower get the Republican nomination in 1952.

No one ever accused Dewey of being a dumb political bunny although the way he campaigned against Truman wasn't very bright. He acted then like a man who didn't think he had to try because the polls said he was away out in front anyway.

New York City Can Be Hospitable

NEW YORK (AP)—The world's greatest city prides itself on its hospitality, but outsiders sometimes call it a cold hard city, a city of eight million strangers.

"You could commit a murder in the middle of the street," they say, "and nobody would interfere. Nobody would want to get involved."

It is true New York is pretty much a let-you-alone city. It is teeming with eight million people pursuing almost as many separate dreams.

A city so crowded has to have a leave-you-alone philosophy. Otherwise they'd all be rubbing each other raw, hating each other's neighbors.

But let trouble strike and the world's biggest city immediately becomes the world's biggest town, populated not by eight million strangers but by eight million buddies.

This happened during the famous blizzard of 1958, as the survivors have been eloquently telling us for 71 years.

It happened again during the famous 25-inch snowfall of 1947. Then cheery bus drivers even drove their lumbering vehicles down side streets to let passengers off in front of their dwellings so they wouldn't have to wade through sidewalk drifts.

It happened again this week when a massive power failure for a few hours left 500,000 people in upper Manhattan iceless, lightless, televisionless—and dependent on each other for company.

They shared meals, candles, small talk.

"Everybody was suddenly friendly," said one man wondering, "I never saw anything like it in the three years I've lived here."

"I got acquainted with the fellow who lives in the apartment adjoining mine. Nice guy."

"I went to a bar and sat next to a man I'd seen there a hundred times. All he'd ever say before was, 'Pass the pretzels.' This time he was bubbling over with conversation, and we took turns buying the beers."

"It was a wonderful feeling. Now I think it might be a good idea if they turned off the electricity all over the city one night a month, so people would have to sit down and talk together and get to know each other."

WHAT OTHERS SAY

Project Tepee, the newly disclosed monitoring device that can "look" around the earth and detect rocket launchings and atmospheric tests of nuclear weapons, unquestionably is a major addition to the defense capability of America and the west.

The new system gives us, first of all, a further means of determining what the Russians are up to in the missile and nuclear fields. It supplements and many subsequently replace the radar detection devices in Turkey and other lands close to the Soviet Union rocket launchings. It apparently will not replace the radar lines across Canada that warn of approaching aircraft.

The fact that Tepee stations have been used increasingly for well over a year, with an apparent gain in accuracy, gives credence to recent statements of Defense Secretary McElroy. McElroy has said, for instance, that Russia has encountered some of the same missile problems we have and does not yet have an extensive arsenal of intercontinental weapons.

The fact that Project Tepee might give American an extra 15 minutes' warning of a missile assault is reassuring, if only to a degree. For civilians the 15 minutes might mean relatively little. But the warning time—twice what systems now under construction are expected to provide—would greatly increase the Air Force's ability to mount a counterattack. Any aggressor contemplating a missile attack on America would have to take into account this additional power to strike back.

Average Americans will unquestionably agree with the scientist who says it is surprising "that Tepee works at all." And they will further agree that the fact that it does work "makes all the difference in the world."

Around The Rim

Too Easy To Put Off

The trouble with the beauty of nature is that you can't always put a tax on it, and more often than not you can't put a service charge on it.

Perhaps that's the reason you often find a parks system relegated to hindmost part of the public cost. When it comes to water, well you can always raise the rate to cover the cost of producing a supply or levy a tax to cover the distribution of it. When it comes to fire protection you can—because the state fire insurance commission will surely penalize you if you don't—add additional stations and personnel equipment and additional men. For the savings it reflects in the long run, you also can justify increasing additional policemen—which we certainly need.

If more sewer lines are required or the plant must be enlarged, you can always increase the charge, or even levy a tax to repay capital obligations. The same can be said for garbage collection, for it is a service and thus should bear its own weight. Similarly building permit fees, dog license fees, occupation taxes, cemetery perpetual care charges all are adjustable to help meet the sort of program people expect and will support.

But a parks system is dependent upon whatever tax funds are diverted to this purpose. The smaller the place, the less ordinarily will be appropriated to the cause. As size of a municipality increases, the chances for substantial park expenditures increase if only on a percentage basis. But here there is a tendency to hold to a set amount rather than letting a ratio or percentage factor bring up this type of improvement long with other advances.

Nor is the problem peculiar to our own city or area, for the State of Texas is notoriously niggardly when it comes to providing for its parks. It spends an average of a couple of thousand dollars a year on individual parks in an aggregate that is shamefully small compared with the cost of running the state parks board (which has to be kept operative).

The point is that parks can be put off—and usually are. We have a good starter and a fine potential in our city park, and a modest base in Birdwell Park. Out-side of some landscaped work around public buildings and along at least one boulevard, this is about the extent of the parks program. We need more land for other parks because once the land is utilized for other uses it is too late to recover it for parks.

More space and more improvements will cost more money. Where will it come from? I don't know, but I do know that by comparison with some other cities in the general region we suffer when it comes to parks. Midland, San Angelo, Abilene, Lubbock—being larger—outstrip us considerably and by more than by the ratio of population. Sydney makes us look to our laurels. Our situation won't accelerate unless and until enough people become interested and express themselves. If they really believe that good parks are among the greatest assets a community can possess, they will find a way to muster more financial support.

Quarter Of A Million Dollar Dream

In giving thanks for my blessings from time to time, it has never occurred to me to include my kitchen.

But from now on the kitchen, although it is not apt to lead the list, will be featured. Oddly enough, it is the Commies who have made me conscious of this homely blessing that I have taken for granted all my life.

No aspect of the American Exhibition in Moscow this summer has caused the Communists so much anguish as the $14,000 suburban house that is part of our show. Long before the modest dwelling was even assembled in Moscow it was being attacked as a fake, unattainable to any but rich Americans.

The attacks have only intensified since the exhibition opened and Russians have had a chance to see the housing available to America's workers.

The most recent attack in the Soviet newspaper Red Star declares that the modern kitchen included in the display house would cost $250,000 in the U.S.A. and that such kitchens are beyond the dreams of American housewives.

Well, well! It is understandable that this kitchen looks like a quarter of a million dollars—even a million dollars—to the Soviet housewives who see it. And it may even be all but impossible for them to believe that the kitchen is designed for just ONE housewife when they, the Russian housewives, must often share a makeshift kitchen with from one to four other women.

It was most significant to me that the Russians were careful not to display a kitchen in the four-room apartment they showed at their exhibition in New York's Coliseum, which closed last week.

Oh, sure, one could glimpse kitchen cupboards and a counter through an opening between kitchen and living room. But there was not even a glimpse of a stove, a sink or a refrigerator.

But observant visitors to the Soviet show who examined the new miniature apartment houses on display will remember the two-burner stoves that were standard in the little kitchens. Such stoves, with tiny ovens, were also standard in the model apartment the Russians showed at the Brussels fair and in the model apartments once open to the public in East Berlin's Stalinallee.

Only one Russian refrigerator, to my knowledge, was on display at the Coliseum. It was so small it looked like a shrunken prototype of those advertised here for office use.

Scant wonder a modern kitchen looks like a quarter of a million to the average Russian! My kitchen is very average indeed. None of the women's fancy, slick-paper mags are ever going to come around to photograph it! But I wager it would seem a sensation to my opposite number in Russia.

My refrigerator is nine years old, but a daisy, with a handy, small compartment for frozen foods. The gas stove is a little newer, a fine four-burner job with two large ovens and broilers. I have an elderly electric dish washer, but no garbage grinder-upper as the water pressure on the eighteenth floor won't support one.

My household electric equipment is certainly average: a vacuum cleaner, a floor waxer, a mixer, waffle iron, percolator, steam iron, et al. I do not have a washing machine or dryer, standard in the average American home, because the apartment house provides that equipment in its basement laundry room.

But I can see where a Russian woman would find my kitchen, probably sub-standard in many American eyes, a gorgeous $250,000 dream. And, from now on, I am going to be smart enough to be grateful.

Steel Strike Hurting Construction

NEW YORK — The nation's construction industry mainstay during the recession and bellwether of the recovery—reports some project halted or being delayed by the steel strike.

But the majority of builders and their suppliers say they either have all the steel they need for current projects or have supplies good for one to four months more.

A check throughout the nation by Associated Press reporters, however, reveals wide variations in supplies among firms and a growing fear that some special steel products may run out or that some suppliers or parts may run into trouble and thus grind operations to a halt.

Also some firms are turning to substitutes for steel, paying higher prices for premium steel, or importing from Europe and Japan.

Projects already halted or delayed are largely in the nature of flukes.

One company planning a building in Kansas City ordered structural steel so far in advance that by the time of the strike the building plans had been changed. The company now is offering the steel it can't use to anyone who can.

A small highway bridge near Austin, Minn., is delayed because the contractor ordered the steel early enough but forgot to get it out of the mill before the pickets arrived.

An Orlando, Fla., contractor decided to use precast concrete instead of steel in a department store.

But in most of the country the construction companies are whistling cheerful tunes.

Among those claiming no steel problems at all are Kentucky's state building program directors; Williamsburg, Va., builders at the College of William and Mary; Illinois state project administrators; and Denver school builders.

Three to six months' supplies of steel are reported by: South Florida builders, The Orleans Material and Equipment Co. of New Orleans; Oklahoma City and Tulsa contractors; the Mississippi Valley Structural Steel Co. at St. Louis; and a majority of Texas builders.

The St. Paul Structural Steel Co. says it can last another 10 weeks on present stocks. Baltimore's early steel ordering will carry builders for another two months. Most Indiana firms have plenty now but say another month of strike would hurt.

Seattle says prestrike steel orders will last longer there than some places because most big steel users in Washington were hired before the steel strike by a machinists' work stoppage and because the construction industry has been slowed by its own labor troubles.

And baseball-conscious San Francisco happily notes that its citizens are being lulled into complacency because the 1964-65 beam for the Giants' new park are arriving on schedule.

NEXT: An defense projects endangered? And how about the inflation threat?

Dog-Gone

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Joseph R. Valle told Phoenix police his surplus sales company was robbed.

Stolen were a bolt cutter, some drill bits—and a watchdog.

WHAT OTHERS SAY

The study of the present hurricane warning system promised by the United States Weather Bureau is in order regardless of whether or not the criticism directed against the bureau in the wake of Hurricane Debra is justified.

It goes without saying that some improvement is nearly always possible.

Debra was not, of course, the first hurricane to whip up suddenly just off the Gulf Coast and then move inland, inflicting substantial damage. Nor is it the first time that the Weather Bureau has been charged with providing inadequate warning under these circumstances. In some cases, the critics, usually those who have suffered some loss of inconvenience, are persons who failed to react properly to the warnings.

Sight sometimes is lost, too, of the fact that meteorology still is not a completely perfected science and predicting the behavior of tropical storms at best is a tricky business.

It would be surprising indeed if the Weather Bureau's present operational methods in handling hurricane warnings were not subject to some improvement, and it is to be hoped that it approaches its self-examination with an open mind.

The regular meeting of the Big Spring Civic Theatre has been called for Thursday at the Prairie Playhouse. It is presumed that the membership will discuss the eternal question, "What are we going to do next?"

From the day of its inception, apparently, the BSCT has struggled along from play to play taking what comes with little planning beyond the immediate problem of getting the current play on stage. Judging by two three-act plays I have enjoyed, there can be little quarrel with the end result.

They weren't perfect, but they were creditable. Fred Short, who is currently on a theatre tour across the country, wrote John Austin to say that he had seen many amateur theatre groups and the BSCT is up to any of them. Austin, of course, is president of the BSCT and director of the summer season of three plays produced by the group.

I agree with Short. I have recently had an opportunity to see "little theatre" groups in the northern states, many of which were no better than the local productions. Taking one with another, the BSCT has a strong nucleus from which to grow and establish a strong theatre activity in West Texas. The reputation of the group has been established by a long series of one-act and three-act plays over a period of more than three years.

So where does it go from here. That is one of the questions before the group which should be resolved at the earliest possible moment. Plans are needed for the next several years, not just another season of two or three plays. Each year should be planned in advance to give ample opportunity for all arrangements to be made. A timetable or "master plan" for the theatre as a community enterprise would be a welcome endeavor. And the job is really not as herculean as it first appears. Basically, it would take us back to the original question, "What are we going to do next?"

A timetable or master plan might include many of the problems that face the group today.

1. What is to be done with the theatre building?
2. When is the "workshop" to begin for group members?
3. How often are major productions to be produced?
4. How soon will the group be in a position to hire a full time director?

5. Are "musicals" within the province of a "little theatre?"
6. What about a recruiting program to gain more active participation in the group?
7. The point system has done wonders for many such organizations. Will it work here?

There are still other problems and questions. Certainly these seven points are not original nor likely to be settled overnight. But the answers to these questions may well decide the future and promise of the Big Spring Civic Theatre, Inc.

Suicide Ruled Monahans Case

MONAHANS, Tex. (AP)—Peace Justice F. P. Snelson ruled death by self-inflicted gunshot wounds in the death Tuesday of Mrs. Nooney K. Estes, 55. She was found dead at her home.

Mrs. Estes was the daughter of Earl Vest, pioneer oilman and rancher in this area, and widow of W. A. Estes, also an oil and cattleman.

Boy Invents Computer Of High Quality

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A computer designed and built by a 16-year-old boy which automatically translates typewriter strokes into braille is on exhibit at the electronics convention here.

David E. Milne, San Diego, Calif., said he built the device from surplus parts and hardware store items in 2 1/2 years. He conceived it for his younger brother, Steve, "who can't see too well."

The young scientist is one of 37 future engineers showing projects at the Western Electronics Show and Convention (WESCON) at the Cow Palace.

His "brain" consists of an ancient portable typewriter, a home-made computer and a translator he made by adapting a punch system to an electric feeder. Engineers said it was the only automatic braille known.

Hidalgo County To Rebuild Dam

EDINBURG (AP)—Hidalgo County will spend $1,600 of an estimated $4,000 needed to rebuild the Tidewater Dam at the mouth of the Rio Grande, commissioners voted Tuesday.

The dam was washed out last year. The four Lower Rio Grande Valley counties in Texas will furnish the money and Mexico will build the dam.

Blame It On The Heat
Members of the military guard of honor at the opening of the New South Wales Parliament in Sydney, Australia, stood at attention while two of their comrades, overcome by the heat, lie on the ground. The pair, plus ten others collapsed during the ceremony. Caption accompanying the picture said the area has experienced extra-ordinarily hot weather. (AP Wirephoto).

Woman Leaps To Death Over Brink Niagara Falls

NIAGARA FALLS, N.Y. (AP)—A woman crawled to the brink of Niagara Falls late Tuesday night and dropped over head first as 200 honeymooners and tourists watched in horror.

Minutes later, a policeman lowered himself from Prospect Point with ropes. He said her body, was on a ledge about 30 feet below the brink.

The pounding waters washed her to the bottom of the 167-foot American falls before rescuers with special equipment could reach her.

She was identified from papers in a purse left on Prospect Point as Helen Gorski, 49, of Buffalo. Police said she had been in ill health.

Some of the tourists told police that just as the last of a battery of floodlights was going off at 11:15 p.m., they saw the woman crawling on her hands and knees toward the brink.

They said she looked back over her shoulder at them once and then went over the edge.

Police said it apparently was a well-planned suicide. "She knew what she was doing," they said. "It was a one-way ticket."

Bridge Job And Romance United

HARLAN, Ky. (AP)—Engineer Joe Meagher, 38, came here from Frankfort, Ky., seven months ago to replace wooden towers on a vehicular swinging bridge. He met Kathleen Skelton, a 20-year-old bus station employee.

Saturday traffic will be halted while they are married in the middle of the bridge that brought them together.

Conviction In Forgery Cases

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Alexander T. Chohan, 37, was convicted Tuesday on four counts of forgery involving a Dallas bank.

Chohan, president of Continental Escrow Co., was accused of giving $56,000 in fictitious collateral to borrow $800,000 to finance interim mortgages.

Chohan was freed of charges of grand theft in the transfer of $125,000 from one bank to another. The jury also convicted him of violating the state financial code.

An official of the Republic National Bank of Dallas testified Chohan obtained an $800,000 loan with fictitious and valueless trust deeds.

Bracero Insurance Plan Put In Action

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Interior Minister Gustavo Diaz Ordaz said life insurance for Mexicans going to work on U. S. farms will be handled by this country's social security institute.

The insurance apparently was provided for in a recent revision of the migratory worker contract between the two countries.

Lamesa Fire Victim Flown To Galveston

A. O. Dry, who was seriously injured in Tuesday's oil well fire in Dawson County, was flown to a Galveston hospital in a Webb AFB aircraft. Special treatment was necessary for the injured man and the Webb facilities were offered for the trip.

Pilots in the C-47 were Capt. Roy E. Butz and Keith W. Matson. A-3 G. A. Poteet is crew chief. Capt. Robert R. Smith is the Webb doctor accompanying the man and A-1 E. P. Williams is the doctor's assistant.

USS Wasp Has Serious Blast

NORFOLK, Va. (AP)—20 sailors were killed and about 20 others injured today in an explosion aboard the aircraft carrier USS Wasp 250 miles east of here.

A Navy spokesman here said a fire was started in a hangar bay when the engine of a helicopter exploded.

One man was killed outright. Another died shortly thereafter. The names were withheld pending notification of kin.

Most of the injured suffered burns. Four destroyers stood by the Wasp and helped fight the fire.

The Navy said the Wasp was on anti-submarine maneuvers and was now headed for Quonset Point, R. I.

CTC Considers Labor Day And Traffic Issue

There were 15 persons attending the regular meeting of the Citizens Traffic Commission Tuesday in the Police Department building.

The Commission discussed various recommendations made to the City Commission in the past. Encouragement of the use of bumper strips and litter bags was also discussed for the Labor Day weekend.

The Knights of Pythias was represented by Dr. W. T. Chrane who asked for the endorsement of the CTC on a red flare campaign here. The flares will sell for a dollar and are to be used by residents when parked after a automobile breakdown. The endorsement was given.

A tentative date of Sept. 15 was announced as the possible date of a visit here from a representative of the National Safety Council. Purpose of the visit will be an inventory of the traffic safety activities of the local organization, James Eubanks, executive secretary of the group, said.

Mrs. R. L. Tollett Has Broken Leg

Mrs. R. L. Tollett was resting well Wednesday at the Big Spring Hospital after suffering a broken leg in a mishap at the family home at 606 Hillside Drive Tuesday evening.

In addition to the compound fractured left femur, she sustained bruises and contusions. She fell behind the family car in the driveway as her husband was backing from the drive. She was rushed to the hospital in a River Ambulance.

Clerk's Business Shows Big Gain

Business is booming at the county clerk's office.

Mrs. Pauline Petty, Howard County clerk, reported the filing of the $,000th instrument with her office this morning.

The instrument was a warranty deed filed by W. S. Morrison on behalf of Bledsoe O'Brien, et ux, to Mitchell John Malouf Jr., et ux, transferring Lot 5, Block 5, Douglas Addn.

A year ago the same time there had been 3,290 instruments filed, a gain of 1,710 or 51 per cent.

Driving Offenses Alleged In Charges

Charges of driving while intoxicated (second offense) and of driving while license is suspended have been filed against Richard Matthews.

Matthews was picked up over the weekend and released under $1,000 bond for the DWI case and $500 for the DWLS case. The second offense case was filed with Justice of Peace Jess Slaughter and the license case was lodged in County Court.

CAPT. RUSSELL NELSON

Pilot's Funeral Rites On Friday

Funeral rites will be held Friday at 3 p.m. for Capt. Russell Nelson, 27, a former Webb AFB pilot who was killed Monday when his parachute failed to open near New Boston. His services will be in the First Baptist Church.

Mrs. Nelson, the former Diana Farquhar, and their three children are expected here tonight from Victorville, Calif., where Nelson was stationed at George AFB.

He was on a flight from Eglin AFB, Fla., to Westover AFB, Chicago, Mass., when his fighter plane ran out of fuel.

The children are Barry Douglas, 5, Brenda, 3, and Russell, 2.

Funeral arrangements are being made by Nalley-Pickle Funeral Home, Dr. P. D. O'Brien, pastor of the First Baptist Church, will officiate.

COMMITTEES NAMED

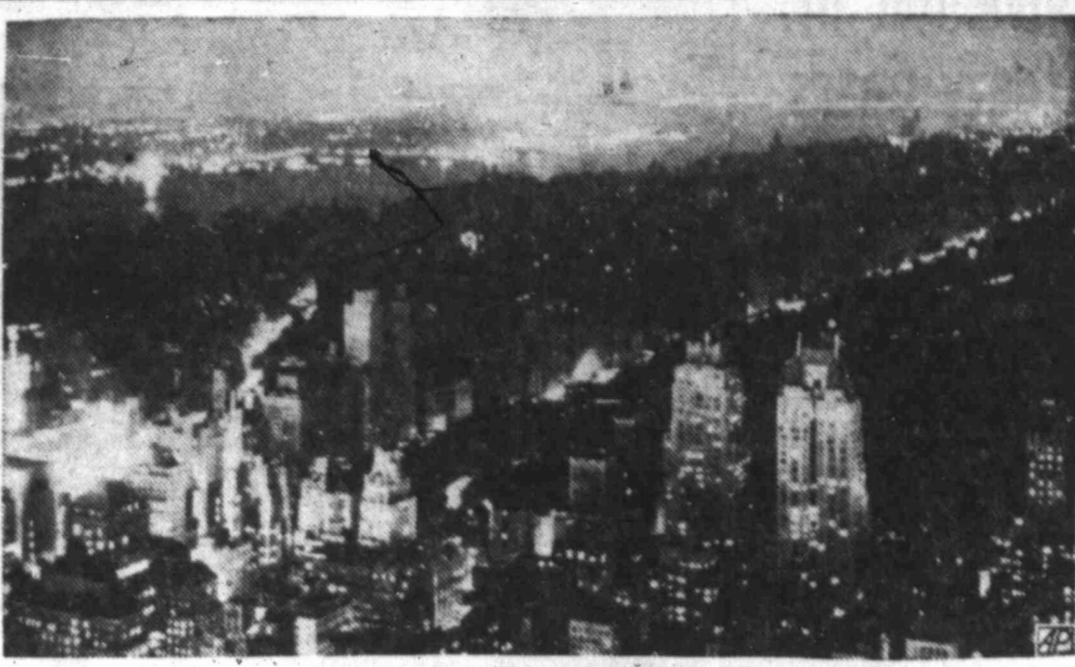

Student Council Meets To Plan Activities For Year

Big Spring High School Student Council members last night heard reports on the conference at Alpine last week attended by some of the local members.

The Council, in its first meeting of the 1959-60 school year, met at the home of Kay McGibbon, 108 Cedar. There were 14 present.

Charles Dunagan, president of the Council, called on Jane Harrington, Gordon Dickenson and Mary Locke Crossland to report on the Alpine meeting of the Texas Assn. of Student Councils. He was also a delegate and listed better ways in which to report council activities to the student body.

Miss Harrington told of the responsibilities of the student council; Dickenson defined a student

New York During Power Failure

This view, made from the top of the RCA Building in Rockefeller Plaza shows the contrast in light and darkness during the New York City power failure. The lights of New Jersey blaze in the background as do those in the lower left in the section of the city where there was no failure. The mass of buildings in the center, between 50th Street and Central Park to the river are mostly in darkness. The strings of lights in the upper right hand corner are those along the George Washington bridge and the lights along Central Park West are from moving vehicles. (AP Wirephoto).

60 Requests For Pickup Of Trash Are Filed With City

Almost 60 requests were received Tuesday from Big Spring, asking for free pickup of weeds and trash from lots in the city, according to Bruce Dunn, Director of Public Works.

The city sanitation division is taking free pick-up of such debris until Friday as the initial steps toward enforcing a new ordinance that gives city authorities control over vacant lots. After Friday, the city will continue to make pick-ups of trash and weeds but a charge of three dollars will be made for each truck load or portion.

The city has also been asked to clear a few lots for residents.

Longtime Employee Of Schools Dies Suddenly

Funeral arrangements are pending at River Funeral Home for J. J. Daily, 81, who died suddenly at his residence, 1101 Sycamore, at 1 a. m. today.

He was to have retired Sept. 1, after working the past 27 years as maintenance employee for the Big Spring Independent School District. Daily had lived in Big Spring since 1923.

A former Baptist minister, he was born July 24, 1875, in Belmont. On Dec. 4, 1898, he married Essie Perry in Goldthwaite. He was a member of the Temple Baptist Church.

The cause of his death was apparently a heart attack.

Daily is survived by his wife, Essie; two sons, Harry and O. H.; Big Spring; three daughters, Mrs. E. J. Davis, Big Spring, Mrs. Grady Nourse, Stockton, Calif., Mrs. Velma Chambers, Stockton, Calif.; 10 grandchildren; 16 great-grandchildren.

Center Point Road Job Progressing, Parks Says

Installation of caliche base on the Center Point road is under way, Walter Parks, county road engineer, reported Tuesday.

About three more weeks will be required to complete the base material for this 4-mile stretch. This may still leave time for topping before the winter season.

The road leaves the Gail road at a point one and three quarters north of the Gail-Snyder Junction. It proceeds east for a distance of four miles, going by the Center Point school and crossing the Snyder highway.

Although it is not a part of the county lateral road program, work is progressing on moving fence lines back on FM 2183, the Hyman road. This route will take off from the county oil field loop east of Chalk and will proceed through Hyman and into southern Mitchell County. Contract for base and paving has been let.

Unemployment Checks Drop

AUSTIN (AP)—Unemployment compensation payments are down about 33 per cent from last year, the Texas Employment Commission says.

Payments totaled $988,568 for the week ending Aug. 12, compared to $676,733 a week ago and $1,328,487 for this time last year.

Jobless workers filing claims numbered 47,872 compared to 48,900 the previous week and 70,015 a year ago. Initial claims were 4,912, down from the 5,696 the week ending Aug. 5.

Ike Signs Two Texas River Bills

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower signed today a bill authorizing a water conservation study of the Salt and Prairie Dog Town forks of the Red River in Texas.

Rep. Walter Rogers, author of the bill, said $90,000 is provided in another bill to start the study. He said the survey will determine feasibility of water conservation projects in that section of the Texas Panhandle.

Wall Street Stumbles To Lower Levels

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market stumbled lower early this afternoon as turnover quickened. Continued liquidation shaved fractions to around a point off the prices of leading issues. A few stocks took even bigger spills.

Losses filtered through all sections of the list. Steels, motors, aircrafts, electronics, metals, chemicals, rails and oils generally retreated.

The slump lengthened the losses of Tuesday when late selling knocked the market for a sharp drop.

Prices moved steadily lower in early trading. After a feeble mid-morning rally petered out, the market resumed its decline.

Short Term Water, Sewer Raise Voted By Lamesa

LAMESA — Lamesa's water and sewer users will have to ante more money for the next six months starting with October billing in order for the city to pay off capital improvements now under way.

City councilmen voted Monday night to increase the minimum water and sewer rates by 50 cents each for a period of six months only. This action is necessary to bring in about $22,000, the amount the city is short on paying for $62,000 contracted in capital improvements in the water and sewer systems.

Action to increase the rates came as the regular session of the council drew to a close. Mayor John Flache saved until the last big question: "How are we going to raise money?"

Flache pointed out that the city has some $32,000 income over expenditures not budgeted, and will receive an estimated $8,000 in addition of revenue from increased tax evaluations. That leaves about Bond of $500 has been set for Don Elmo McKinnon, named on a driving while intoxicated charge lodged Wednesday in County Court. Bond was fixed in the absence of County Judge Ed Carpenter, who is on vacation.

AT MIDLAND

C-C Group Meets Airline Officers

A delegation of Chamber of Commerce and City officials conferred this morning with officials of an airline company requesting to serve Big Spring.

In the party going to Midland for a conference with Keith Kahle, president of Central Airlines, were Jack Cook and Bill Quimby, representing the chamber, and George Zachariah, commissioner, representing the city.

Kahle was in Midland on other business and the local group contacted him at 10:30 a. m. relative to the possibility of his line serving this city.

John Eichner, vice president of Trans-Texas Airlines, is to be here Sept. 9 for a conference with the chamber's aviation committee, city officials and other interested parties. Trans-Texas also has asked for permission to serve Big Spring.

GERALD STALEY NOW SOX'S LOCKUP GUY

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Time was when folks knew Gery Staley as the starting pitcher of the White Sox. Now he is always just a missed being a 20-game winner in the National League.

And while he's paired with Turk Lowman as a two-man relief crew that hasn't been beaten in two months, Staley has become the No. 1 clutch guy of late. He has put away a 4-0 record, plus four saves, and allowed only two earned runs during a 28-10 drive by the White Sox that began July 5, when they were second, two games behind the Indians.

Staley came on in the seventh Monday night with the White Sox, who had blown a 2-0 lead behind Early Wynn, trailing 4-3. A single by Luis Aparicio, Jim Landis' double and a sacrifice fly by Sherrie Green completed the 4-4 against losing reliever Jack Fisher (4-0).

The Sox put it away when Staley walked with two out in the eighth, Aparicio singled for his third hit and Fox smacked the double.

Wynn, who had pitched two consecutive three-hit shutouts, gave up six hits and all four Orioles runs in four-plus innings. Hookie Ken McBride and Staley then combined for a two-hit relief job with Staley walking one, striking out four.

Jim Baxes' 13th home run gave Cleveland a 3-1 lead in the fourth inning, but the Senators then walked across six runs in the sixth against loser Jim Perry (8-5). Lennie Green counted three in his second home run and Roy Sievers scored two with his 7th.

The Senators finished with 17 hits while Russ Kemmerer (7-12), winning his second straight after dropping six in a row, gave up nine hits for his first complete game since June 28.

A two-run homer by Yogi Berra, the 17th, and Hector Lopez' solo 16th wrapped it up for the Yankees in the third against Don Mossi (11-7). Art Ditmar (8-8) won it, blanking the Tigers on five hits until the eighth, when he needed Whitey Ford's relief.

Gene Stephens' sacrifice fly did it for Boston in the ninth after the Red Sox had blown a 4-0 lead. Mike Fornieles (3-2) won with Ray Herbert (10-9) the loser, both in relief.

LOOKING 'EM OVER
With Tommy Hart

The Abilene writer, Fred Sanner, relegates Big Spring to last place in his pre-season District 2-AAAA football selections, even though Odessa High School must split its material with Permian, Midland has a new coach and has to learn a new system and San Angelo was hit hard by graduation.

Sanner also states that Abilene has its finest prospects for a winner since 1956, when the Eagles breezed to the state championship.

Fred sees Midland finishing as runner-up to Abilene, with San Angelo third, Odessa High fourth and Odessa Permian crowding in ahead of the Steers for fifth place.

Sanner is merely going with the record. Big Spring has never won a district ball game since its became a member of 2-AAAA. He is not alone around the circuit in believing that the Steers simply haven't developed that competition edge.

He may be right, but many local patrons are going to be disappointed—perhaps shocked is a better word—if the Steers don't begin to throw their weight around this fall. They'll never have a better chance.

One of the speakers at the Board of Strategy meeting of the Big Spring Quarterback Club last week said they thought season ticket holders here should be entitled to a better break in the purchase of ducats for out-of-town games of the Steers.

Earlier in the day, the Dusters had dropped a 6-5 thriller to Randolph Field of San Antonio.

It's regrettable that Jack Brewer had to step down as head coach at Odessa High School.

Brewer would have been hard to beat. Fact is, he might have taken rank as the greatest coach in Odessa history, in time—the hard drive and know-how so necessary in a great coach.

In other words, the fans who support the Steers at home—win, lose or draw—should get first call on the bloc of ducats offered the school for contests away from home.

He appears to have a point there.

In other games Tuesday, Lackland Field of San Antonio smashed Laredo, 7-0, in a game that went only six innings, while Harlingen benefiting from a tremendous throw to home plate in the final inning by Willis, the left fielder, nudged Laredo, 6-4.

The school board at Odessa must have confidence in Lacy. They extended him a two-year contract at a reported salary of $7,925 annually.

Brewer's decision to give up the position might well have saved his life. His ulcer has required constant care.

James Connally and Laredo have been eliminated from the double-elimination tournament.

Randolph and Lackland are still undefeated while Webb and Harlingen each boast 1-1 records.

The tournament will be resumed at 3 p.m. today, at which time Webb and Harlingen clash in a loser's bracket contest.

Two night games are on tap. Randolph and Lackland will at 7:30 p.m. while the Webb-Harlingen winner returns to play at 9:30 p.m., meeting the loser in the Randolph-Lackland contest.

Bob Milburn, the San Angelo scribe, says W. L. (Diddle) Young, the former Sterling City coach, has accepted a job as head basketball coach at Van Horn.

One report this summer had him going to Grandfalls. He made inquiries about the principal's job at Coahoma earlier in the year.

Buddy Travis, the HCJC mentor, says he has only seven teams lined up for the annual Howard College Basketball tournament, which takes place Dec. 31, Jan. 1-2.

One is 49er Coach Red Hickey. "We'll settle for nothing but the top," he says. Last season, when he was an assistant to Frank Albert, the 49ers settled for fourth with a 6-6 record.

The Washington Redskins' Mike Nixon was the other coach speaking highly of the 49ers. After they beat him 27-24 Sunday in the final seconds, Nixon commented: "They have the makings of a balanced ball club, solid both on defense and offense."

Jack Glendower Is Named Sunland Park Secretary
EL PASO (SC)—A veteran of California and mid-western tracks. Jack Glendower, has been named to the important racing secretary's position at Sunland Park. STILL IN TOURNEY

Webb Edges Past Wacoans, 4 To 2
Webb beat back James Connally's AFB of Waco, 4-2, last night to 'stay alive' in the Air Training Command's Southern District softball tournament.

Earlier in the day, the Dusters had dropped a 6-5 thriller to Randolph Field of San Antonio.

In other games Tuesday, Lackland Field of San Antonio smashed Laredo, 7-0, in a game that went only six innings, while Harlingen benefiting from a tremendous throw to home plate in the final inning by Willis, the left fielder, nudged Laredo, 6-4.

James Connally and Laredo have been eliminated from the double-elimination tournament.

Randolph and Lackland are still undefeated while Webb and Harlingen each boast 1-1 records.

The tournament will be resumed at 3 p.m. today, at which time Webb and Harlingen clash in a loser's bracket contest.

Two night games are on tap. Randolph and Lackland will at 7:30 p.m. while the Webb-Harlingen winner returns to play at 9:30 p.m., meeting the loser in the Randolph-Lackland contest.

Big Newk Slows Giants' Surge

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Don Newcombe is back in business helping the Dodgers along in a National League pennant scrap, even though his paycheck now comes from the Cincinnati Reds.

Big Newk, the big guy of the Dodgers' staff before he was washed up because of arm and back trouble, pitched an eight-hit shutout for the Reds Tuesday night, whipping San Francisco 7-0 and trimming the Giants' lead over second-place Los Angeles to two games.

The Dodgers, winning two in a row for the first time in more than two weeks, closed in with a 7-6 victory over third-place Milwaukee in 13 innings, beating southpaw Warren Spahn the Braves' seventh pitcher, for the fifth time this season.

That left the Braves four games behind the Giants, who open a two-game series in Milwaukee tonight while the Dodgers start a two-game set at Cincinnati against the sixth-place Reds.

Philadelphia defeated St. Louis 2-1 in the only other NL game. Newcombe (11-6), winless for almost a month, walked one and struck out four while beating the Giants for the fifth time in six decisions this season.

The Reds won it quick, skidding the Giants to their fifth defeat in the last seven games by scoring six runs in the first three innings. Gus Bell drove in half of them.

Hogan Bassey Seeks To Win Back Crown

LOS ANGELES (AP)—World featherweight champion Davey Moore risks his title tonight against the man he dethroned five months ago, Hogan Kid Bassey of Nigeria.

The 25-year-old champion from Springfield, Ohio, remained a 3-1 betting favorite to keep the rule of the world's 126-pounders in the United States.

Big Newk Slows Giants' Surge

Moore, with a record of 13 knockouts in his 36 wins in 43 fights, is rated the harder puncher. The "King," as Bassey's countrymen named him on a grand tour of Nigeria last fall, has stopped 20 fights in 67 bouts.

Bassey won the vacant featherweight title in 1956 when he stopped Cherif Hamza of France in 10 rounds. He successfully defended it here when he knocked out Pajarito (Little Bird) Moreno of Mexico in three rounds.

Moore required only one round to shoot down the Little Bird and earn his shot at the title.

Bassey in the first five gruelling rounds held an edge over Moore. But the former national amateur bantamweight titleholder started Bassey bleeding from cuts over the eyes in the third and went on to win.

Moore was from four to seven points ahead on the officials' scorecards when Bassey's manager, George Biddles, had the contest stopped midway between the 13th and 14th rounds.

Inside the ring, the two are rugged gladiators. Outside, both are true gentlemen. Neither drinks nor smokes and both are proud papas—Davey of four, Hogan of two.

Davey's father, a brother and a brother-in-law are ministers in Ohio.

There is no return match agreement. Each fighter gets 30 percent of the gate and television receipts. The first match grossed $65,602.

DEAR ABBY

BACK OUT

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I would like to ask you if the man ever breaks the engagement? I am a man who is engaged to a girl I thought I loved. But I am finding out that she is very selfish, childish and extremely demanding in small matters.

I am beginning to wonder what our marriage would be like.

I know I am not perfect, but her faults are becoming more and more evident as time goes on. She is talking about being married at Christmas.

I'd like to get out of it. But how?

DEAR JOHN: A man breaks an engagement exactly the way a woman does. He simply finds the most tactful way of telling his intended that he's turning in the orange blossoms for a bachelor button. Far better to have a broken engagement than a broken home.

DEAR ABBY: I am writing in defense of the "poorly dressed" minister. May I suggest that those in his congregation who are displeased with his shabby attire buy him a new suit? I am sure this minister would like to dress better but can't do it on his meager salary.

The prayer of many churches is: "Lord, keep our minister pure and we'll keep him broke!" If a pastor buys a nice car or dares to live in a nice home, he is too "extravagant." If he doesn't, he's sloppy.

Medic's Girl Friend Faces Murder Trial

WEST COVINA, Calif. (AP) — The shapely sweetheart of Dr. R. Bernard Finch must stand trial with Finch in the gun slaying of his socialite wife.

Carole Tregoff, 22-year-old ex-model, shook with sobs Tuesday when Municipal Judge William M. Martin ordered her held for trial with her 41-year-old lover. They are accused of the July 18 fatal shooting of Barbara Jean Finch, 33.

Miss Tregoff's attorney said he will file a writ seeking the girl's freedom. He said she is being held illegally on insufficient evidence. He also contended her constitutional rights were violated when she testified at Finch's preliminary hearing without being warned her statements could be used against her.

Deputy Dist. Atty. Fred Wichita replied that Miss Tregoff "took the position of voluntarily testifying against herself." He noted that she originally was summoned as a prosecution witness.

In ordering Miss Tregoff held for trial, Judge Martin referred to a dispatch case which the prosecution termed a "do-it-yourself murder kit." The case, belonging to Dr. Finch, was found near the scene of the slaying.

The judge said there was strong substantial evidence linking Miss Tregoff to the slaying because she carried the case to the scene.

The case contained bullets, a knife, sleeping potions, rope and a hypodermic needle.

Midland Digs Out Of Hail Wind Debris

By The Associated Press

Showers fell along the Gulf Coast and around El Paso Wednesday as the Midland area cleaned up debris left by hail, high wind and heavy rain late Tuesday.

Forecasts call for more thunder-shower activity in East and South Central Texas through Thursday.

North Central, Northwest and Southwest Texas can expect scattered thunderstorms during the same period, the Weather Bureau said.

A small frame business building was demolished and several other structures suffered damage in the blow at Midland.

There were no reports of injuries from the winds that whipped through the city at up to 60 miles per hour, accompanied by hail and an estimated 1.50 inches of rain.

Power and communications were disrupted briefly in some sections when the storm snapped electric and telephone lines.

Other thunderstorms poured up to 2.50 inches of rain on ranch country around Marfa and Alpine. Marfa had 1.75 inches and heavier rainfall was reported within a 35-mile radius of the city. Alpine reported 1.50 inches.

Plainview caught .53 inch from an afternoon shower.

The thunderstorm activity came as Tropical Storm Edith waned in the Caribbean. A hurricane watch posted for Hispaniola came down and warnings were lowered in Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands.

Reconnaissance planes and ships said the storm degenerated during the night into a squally area in the vicinity of Ciudad Trujillo in the Dominican Republic.

Tuesday's maximum temperatures ranged from 87 at Childress to 104 at Cotulla. Laredo had 102 and Presidio 101.

Perhaps another minister knows the answer to this. I do not.

REV. J. L. W. (Minister)

DEAR ABBY: I've been going steady with this fellow for five months. I am 16 and he is 17. We get along very well—except for one thing. About three weeks ago he got fresh with me in a Drive-in. I immediately put a stop to it and bawled him out. He behaved himself for a while but a little later on he started the same thing again. I stopped him once more and told him he had the wrong girl. I like this boy, Abby, and don't want to lose him. What do I do if he tries it again?

GOOD GIRL

DEAR GOOD: (and if you want to stay that way, listen carefully): If he tries it again—you've got the wrong fellow. Three strikes and he deserves to be OUT! And I mean OUT of your life.

DEAR ABBY: What do you do with a husband, 60 years of age, who flirts with any woman or girl who looks at him? It is so embarrassing I hate to be seen with him.

Wherever we go he winks at the wives and guests and even the waitresses. At card parties, he stands up and walks through the crowd looking and winking.

I am tempted to leave him because his flirting is getting me down. He was never like this in our younger days. We've been married 40 years. Please give me some advice.

OLD FAITHFUL

DEAR FAITHFUL: After investing forty years in a marriage you certainly aren't going to leave a man because of a little winking and flirting! The old buck wants to prove to himself that he is still attractive. Bolster his ego a little and remember, if you feed a man well at home, he won't wind up in a restaurant.

Proved Himself Not To Be Coward

MEXICO CITY (AP)—To show he wasn't a coward, Miguel Campos Ortega rammed a knife into his chest.

He told investigators that after he got out of the army recently some acquaintances had been calling him a coward.

He said he wounded himself in front of a group to show them he was not yellow. Wounds were reported fairly serious.

Driver Freed

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Charles Francis Harrel of North Hollywood, Calif., jailed after fatally injuring a boy with his car last Friday, has been released.

A U. S. embassy source said Harrel reported he was freed after a hearing for lack of evidence of responsibility.

Bitten By Cobra

William White, 22-year-old St. Joseph, Mo., father of two, is comforted by his wife after being bitten by a deadly hooded cobra. Anti-cobra serum was flown from Miami by jet to save his life. He was working at a local reptile garden, cleaning the cobra cage, when he was bitten on the left thumb. (AP Wirephoto).

Dick Clark Cult Growth Is Amazing To Consider

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—"Take me to your leader," I said to the teenager, and there I was, talking to Dick Clark.

The Clark cult is something unparalleled in entertainment history. Seldom has any one person wielded so much power over a segment of the population. Since teen-agers practically support the pop record field, Clark exercises vast influence over it through his TV shows.

Obviously, this is a man to be reckoned with. Clark is here to make his first movie, "Because They're Young," and I found him to be a smooth, no-nonsense 28-year-old who knows his field.

But doesn't it bug him to be around teen-agers so much?

"Not at all," he replied calmly. "I get more put out with older people who try to act young. I like kids because they act their age."

He doesn't take his expertise in teen-age matters lightly. "I'm with teen-agers on the average of five and six hours every day," he explained. "It's like working in a bakery; if you're around it long enough, you'll learn how to bake. I've learned how teen-agers act. And I know that most pictures about teen-agers are wrong. They are older people's concept of how teen-agers act."

Clark said he will try to avoid such pitfalls in his film. He is a partner with Columbia in it, so he has plenty of say. But he admitted that it won't be a completely accurate depiction.

"I doubt if there ever can be a truly honest portrayal in films," he explained. "Not all girls are beautiful and all boys handsome, as they are in films. Not all of them have good-looking clothing. Not all schools are freshly painted and whitewashed."

Clark plays a school teacher and he has a romance with the principal's secretary, lovely Victoria Shaw.

The teen-agers in the film will all be normal types, except for two that have a scrape with the police. "The script is fairly true to life," he said. "Most teen-agers are normal."

New Type Of Transistors Are Invented

DALLAS (AP)—Texas Instruments said Tuesday it has produced a series of high-performance, all purpose germanium transistors at 20 to 30 per cent below prevailing prices.

The firm said a new process made the lower prices possible. The transistors include types for general purpose industrial applications and for radio-TV receivers, high fidelity phonographs and tape recorders.

Swimming Pool Is Declared Filthy

FORT WORTH (AP)—Dr. W.V. Bradshaw, city health director, closed a swimming pool where two children drowned Tuesday.

Bradshaw said he closed the pool because it was filthy. Victims were Billy Milam Jr., 3, Fort Worth and Debbie Young, 7, Angleton.

Famed Comic Launches New Show Career

CHICAGO (AP)—Stepin Fetchit stumbled and shuffled through an era when mumbling in dialect thick as cornpone and sporting a floppy, disreputable gray felt hat were staples of comedy.

They aren't anymore, says Stepin Fetchit, who at 46 is out of retirement and launching a new career as a television and night club entertainer.

"The character as I did it is out," he says with no regrets. "This is a new world, do you savvy? The Negro has advanced way past that stage."

"I'll still leave part of the old routine in, see, just for the benefit of those who remember it. But mainly I want to be a white collar comedian. Nowadays, you've got to be able to come out looking like a Negro doctor and get laughs."

The man who made a fortune playing types based on a man with a whopping aversion to work has already won critical acclaim with his new format.

"If you saw me on the Jack Paar show, you know what I mean when I talk about my new act. I did the old routine when I made my exit, but I got just as many laughs before that on straight comedy."

Stepin Fetchit, born Lincoln Theodore Andrew Perry in Key West Fla., got his start in a minstrel show in Montgomery, Ala., more than 50 years ago, teaming with Ed Lee in an act billed as "The Two Dancing Fools from Dixie, Step and Fetchit."

"I guess I got the lazy idea from my partner," he recalls. "He was so lazy he used to call a cab to get across the street. Pretty soon it got so bad he wasn't showing up for performances."

Silent pictures were their Zenith when he got a part in MGM's "In Old Kentucky."

Movies followed movies in rapid succession, "all the top ones—nothing but deluxe." How many movies? "I counted them by dollars worth."

Then, in the early '40s, the bubble burst. He sank a wad into a planned film biography of Satchell Paige, the great Negro baseball star. Step was to play Satch, but he went bankrupt instead.

This time around, the billing is different: "Stepin Fetchit, the former lazybones of the screen."

Moral Issue Being Pushed

NEWARK, N. J. (AP) — Councilman Frank Addonizio has launched a campaign to improve the moral climate around unclothed female mannequins in store windows.

Addonizio said Tuesday he was preparing an ordinance that would make it a misdemeanor for shopkeepers to leave female dummies unclothed in store windows.

There are certain people, Addonizio said, "whose minds can't handle the sight" of unclothed plaster figures. He singled out boys 11 and 14 years old.

"Boys are most impressionable at that age," Addonizio said.

Oil Companies To Select Lease Area

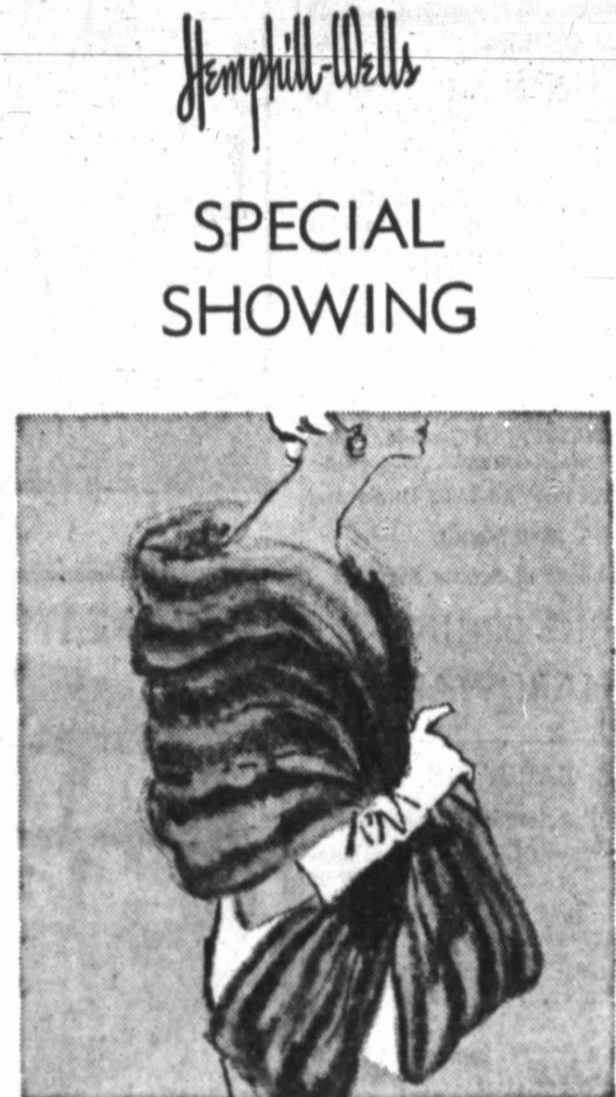

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government has asked oil companies to name areas off the Texas and Louisiana coasts which they want offered for oil and gas leasing.

Nominations must be made by Sept. 25 and may be for any unleased Texas offshore areas in the outer Continental Shelf and for certain areas off the coast of Louisiana.

Seaman Killed

KINGSVILLE (AP)—A truck ran over and killed Melvin A. Erickson, 18, an apprentice seaman from Forest Park, Ill., during a firefighting exercise at the Naval Auxiliary Air Station here Tuesday.
