LOTS OF FOLK DO

Don't Try To Gyp Parking Meters; Odds Against You

By KAY LOVELAND

Ever try to outwit a parking meter? If you have you're not alone. Several hundred others try it every year as witnessed by the collection of mutilated and foreign coins the city has accumulated in the years parking meters have been in operation in Big Spring.

Once a week L. L. Trantham "robs" the parking meters — collecting the money people have deposited. And every week he is sure to find at least half a dozen coins which are no good. These "coins" run the gamut from buttons, washers, tiddledy winks, tokens, charms, play money, meat point tokens from wartime, even German "pfennigs", English farthings, Czechoslovakian pennies, French francs and Belgian nickels.

Seldom Pays Off

Some people may have outwitted themselves by putting off brand "money" into the meters which was probably worth more than the nickel. There's a German pfennig dating from 1900, an Indian one-fourth Rupee, a Czechoslovakian coin dated 1906 and a coin inscribed entirely in Japanese among the collection. Some of these could be worth a good deal of money to collectors.

Once Trantham has collected the money he turns it into Perry Johnson, tax assessor-collector, who runs the coins through a counting machine. The machine usually catches the bad coins and rejects them, but a few get through to the bank. The bogus coins are in the hands of various people. A. K. Steinheimer, city manager, has a desk drawer full of them, Johnson has several sacks himself. Steinheimer estimates that more than 300 of the coins find their way into the office in a year's time.

"It's amazing the trouble some people go to in trying to cheat the parking meters," said Steinheimer. "Some have cut nickels in half, others have soldered up holes in tokens and old amusement coins."

The new parking meters that have been installed in the city are almost impossible to fool. Once the coin is dropped into the slot, it falls into a block. If it doesn't fit in the block just as it should the handle won't turn any farther. The old meters were easier to gyp. Instead of a block, they felt and weighed the coins once they were deposited and very often this pro-

Blue Skies Over Texas

By The Associated Press

Warm and generally clear weather spread over all Texas Saturday and more of the same in prospect for Sunday.

Patches of clouds hovered around Southeast Texas, notably in the Beaumont and Lufkin areas. A thunderstorm boomed near Galveston.

Otherwise, Texas skies were mostly clear.

Afternoon temperatures ranged over 100 degrees — from 87 at Galveston to 97 at Cotulla.

No where in the state was rain reported.

Webb AF Appropriation Is Now Up To President

The $1,363,961,200 military construction appropriations bill is now up to President Eisenhower.

Included in the bill, which most observers believe will get prompt approval of the chief executive although it is $200,000,000 less than he requested, is $1,897,000 for Webb AFB at Big Spring.

The Senate Friday afternoon approved the conference committee report on this measure, passed earlier in the day by the House. Senators Lyndon B. Johnson and Ralph Yarborough, together with

NEW TWIST IN THIS; MAN IS SHOT BY DOG

GREENWILL SPRINGS, La. (AP) — A dog accidentally shot and killed a man Saturday.

J. B. Fairchild, 62, employed nearly 40 years by the Livestock Brand Commission, was rounding up some cattle at his home near Sandy Creek.

Driving slowly down the road with his two dogs following he stopped to talk to Robert Buhler, a friend, and started to drive on.

Out of sight of Buhler, he noticed his two dogs were not following and stopped to call them.

One, in the habit of riding in the back seat, jumped in as the second dog approached the car. The dog landed on Fairchild's 12-gauge shotgun, discharging it through the open door of the car and striking him below the stomach.

He screamed out to Buhler, "I'm shot" and fell in a roadside ditch.

No agreement was reached at an hour-long meeting of the Senate Banking Committee and, for the time being at least, the matter was left to informal discussions among the members.

Chairman A. Willis Robertson (D-Va.) said that before calling another committee meeting he wanted assurances that a majority of the members could agree on a bill.

The second of two housing bills passed by Congress this year was vetoed by President Eisenhower Friday. The Senate promptly tried but failed to override the veto, falling five votes short of the two-thirds majority needed. The tally was 58-36.

Eisenhower contended that the legislation, although pared down from the original measure he vetoed July 7, was still too costly and would add to inflationary pressures.

While the immediate reaction of some Democrats was to abandon efforts to try to work out a housing bill that Eisenhower would accept, indications at Saturday's committee meeting were that further compromises would be attempted.

Not only Robertson but Sen. John Sparkman of Alabama, the Democrats' chief spokesman on housing, outlined possible concessions. And Sen. Homer E. Capehart (R-Ind.), top GOP member of the committee, advanced a compromise measure.

All three compromise proposals made at the committee meeting would meet one of Eisenhower's major objections by eliminating authority for starting a program of direct federal loans to colleges for constructing classrooms.

In protesting the 50 million dollars proposed for this program, Eisenhower said in his veto message that it would tend to displace private investment. He called it a highly objectionable form of federal aid to education.

2-Cent Reduction In County Tax Levy Indicated In Budget

A two-cent tax reduction is in sight for Howard County taxpayers next year.

The proposed $898,581 budget, on which public hearing will be held Sept. 14, calls for a total rate of $1.02 per $100 assessed valuation, or two pennies less than for the current year. Although a jury levy (4-cents) is being made for the first time in three years, the saving is due to be effected by shaving two cents off each of the three bond funds.

The total budget is $40,965 less than for the current budgeted outlay. Most of the divisions are fairly close to the estimated expenses of this year, but there is some moderation in bond requirements and in capital outlay items.

The proposed budget is predicated on a $57,000,000 valuation and a 90 per cent collection. Last year collections hit 96.22 per cent of the roll and the average for the past five years has been near 96 per cent. Although receipts are pegged at $218,334 under the budget, beginning balances of $34,169 provide for resources of $915,494. The $16,912 cushion plus the expected margin on tax collections makes a safe one as to spread.

Perhaps the biggest item in the budget—though it is assigned to all categories of operation—is salaries, which total $380,523, almost the same as this year. Provision is made for one extra deputy, already in service, and a couple of minor adjustments in other deputy positions.

The proposed budget also includes little less than $125,000 in debt service, of which $82,000 is in retirement of bonds and $39,100 in interest. Currently there is a total of $1,394,000 outstanding in county bonds. The interest and sinking fund carries a total of $16,677 in cash and $51,000 in securities.

Payments aggregating $24,000 for oil and utility valuation, and another $3,000 as the county's share toward the perpetual valuation between county, school and city.

By major divisions resources and projected disbursements are: Jury $28,400 and $27,900; road and bridge $342,000 and $339,900; general $211,000 and $160,687; permanent improvement $26,100 and $11,100; officers salary $139,000 (plus $40,000 transfer from the general fund); and $179,000; interest and sinking fund $138,150 and $125,450; lateral fund, library, law library and airport operating

Fatal Crash

HOUSTON (AP) — Truworth Gibbons, 35, of Sweeny was killed Friday night in an automobile collision near Old Ocean.

Miss Carolyn Haynes, 25, of West Columbia, was injured. Also hospitalized was Johnny Parks, 22, Houston Negro who drove the second automobile.

NO TIME LOST

Paige Family's Friends Are Quick To Come To Their Aid

ACKERLY — Howard and Martin County residents, touched by the tragedy which struck the Jerry Don Paige family on Thursday are rallying solidly to their aid.

The Paiges' 14-month-old son, Rodney, was severely burned and their home and all of their possessions destroyed in a Thursday explosion and fire. Rodney is in Medical Arts Hospital. Full extent of his injuries remain to be determined but the little lad was in great discomfort on Saturday.

Meantime, friends of the young family, lost everything except the clothes that they were wearing. Mrs. Paige even lost her shoes — she rushed from the blazing house barefooted carrying her painfully burned little son. Their household furnishings — which they had just finished paying for — are gone.

A big hospital bill is piling up; a new home has to be established.

Kindly folk decided to do something about it. Saturday Mrs. Cecil Allred, Knott, set out on a little survey to find out what could be done.

At 5 p.m. Saturday she turned over $400.50 to the young father. The cash had come from 92 persons she had contacted. She had only two refusals.

The biggest gifts were $10 — there were several of these — and the average was around $1 and to $2.

"We're not through," said Mrs. Allred.

"Monday the Kemp Store at Ackery, the M&F Store at Knott, the Knott and Ackery gins, the Brown Community gin, and the V. J. Coleman Grainery in Ackery will all be open. They are accepting cash gifts for the Paige fund. Gifts in any amount will be more than welcome.

"Later, when the immediate emergency is out of the way, we will see what we can do about such things as linens, clothing, furniture and the like.

"Right now, the Paiges need cash to tide them over while little Rodney is in the hospital."

The Big Spring Daily Herald announced it would also act as a receiving point for gifts and would relay them to the family.

Mrs. Allred and W. L. Kemp, Ackery, merchant are elated at the initial response to the appeal for assistance.

The Paiges are highly esteemed in their neighborhood. They have been married only about two and a half years. Mrs. Paige is 19 and her husband around 24. He works for Texas Electric Service Co.

GAS VICTIMS

Mother And Five Children Perish

TOWNSEND, Wis. (AP)—A vacation for a mother and her five children ended in tragedy near this northeastern Wisconsin community as leaking fumes turned their one-room cottage into a virtual gas chamber.

John Rovge, 44, a Milwaukee steamfitter looking forward to a Labor Day weekend with his family, battered down the cottage door Friday night. He found his wife dying and the children already dead.

Mrs. Gloria Rovge, 32, died at a hospital in Laona Saturday. The children were Kathleen, 9; Christopher, 7; Cynthia, 6; Kenneth, 3; and Caroline, 1½.

Oconto County Coroner Clarence McMahon said the children, when found in the isolated cottage, apparently had been dead at least 24 hours.

Authorities still had not pinpointed the source of the gas, but McMahon said the deaths apparently were due to coal gas or bottle gas.

All windows of the cottage seven miles northwest of here were closed against the chill night air.

Rovge drove late Friday to Townsend to spend the holiday weekend. He was met with a report that "something is wrong" at the cabin. He and a friend broke in and found the bodies.

He had planned to meet his wife at the Townsend home of friends, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Posselt, and spend the evening there.

McMahon said bottled gas was used for the cabin's refrigerator, combination coal and gas stove, and lights. A small 25-pound bottle of gas was empty.

Yellowstone Feels Tremor

YELLOWSTONE NATIONAL Park, Wyo. (AP) — Labor Day weekend vacationers in the center of Yellowstone National Park were awakened Saturday by an earth tremor — described as the strongest since the disastrous earthquake near here three weeks ago.

But no injuries, rockslides, or major damage was reported.

The dawn tremor, described as the strongest of three since midnight, was not reported felt in any location beyond the resort at Canyon, where cafeteria dishes were broken.

Canyon's general manager, Col. Joseph E. Primeau, a retired Air Force officer, said the quake was the strongest since the big earthquakes which tore western Montana Aug. 17.

Those tremors caused slides which left 28 persons dead or missing in an area just west of the park boundary. The quakes also caused extensive road damage in the park.

Even Long Votes For This Plan

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP)—The Democratic State Central committee voted 93-1 Saturday to force Gov. Earl Long to resign before being allowed to qualify as a candidate for reelection.

Long voted for the measure. The only dissenting vote was recorded by William Erickson of Orleans Parish.

The resolution called for Long to resign as governor by 5 p.m. Sept. 15.

Sale Of KBST To Snider Corp., Announced Here

Application has been filed with the Federal Communications Commission for sale of radio station KBST to the Snider Corporation.

The announcement was made Saturday by R. W. Whiskey, president of the Big Spring Herald Broadcasting Company. The Snider Corporation is headed by Ted L. Snider of Minneapolis, Minn., and the other principal stockholder is B. Winston Wrinkle, also of Minneapolis. Both are native Texans and Snider holds his AB and MA degrees from Baylor University while Wrinkle is a graduate of Arlington State College and

In Missouri, two cars collide killing five and injuring three.

In Iowa, four are killed and six injured in another two-car collision.

That type of multiple death accident during the first 27 hours of the 78-hour Labor Day weekend Saturday ran the death toll considerably higher than that during the first 24 hours of the three-day holiday last year.

It rang an alarm in headquarters of the National Safety Council headquarters.

"The toll is running alarmingly ahead of last Labor Day," the National Safety Council commented.

"If a fire was taking that many lives, everybody would join to put it out. We urge all to join in holding down the toll."

During the 1958 Labor Day period — that holiday always runs three days—420 motor vehicle fatalities were reported.

The council has estimated that 450 Americans will die in traffic accidents during the current holiday that began at 6 p.m. local time Friday and will end at midnight Monday. That's a 78-hour stretch.

The most spectacular accident, the head-on collision, was a factor in the death count.

Crashes of that type killed four Marines near Warrenton, Va., and two women and a man near Point Pleasant, W. Va.

An accident that involved three automobiles near Hicksville in DeLancey County, Ohio, fatally injured three men.

Four persons were killed and seven reported injured in a two-car crash two miles east of Winthrop, Iowa.

Three members of a Butte, Mont., family perished when their car collided with a truck near Bozeman, Mont.

The Associated Press, for purposes of comparison, made a survey of deaths by accident during the Aug. 21-24 weekend. There were 307 deaths in traffic, 15 in boating accidents, 71 drownings that did not involve boats and 76 in the miscellaneous class for an over-all total of 469.

During the recent two-day Independence Day holiday there were 278 traffic deaths, 60 boating deaths, 119 drownings and 65 deaths in other types of accidents for a total of 520.

Reviewing The Big Spring Week

With Joe Pickle

Last week August was going out in a blaze of (in) glory with a record breaking 107 degrees. Unseasonably hot weather persisted all week with temperatures up to 105 as late as Tuesday. This should have brought on thundershowers, but judging from the destruction they wrought elsewhere, it's just as well we missed out.

Naturally the intense heat and drought deteriorated crop prospects and the rosy outlook of a month ago was considerably clouded. Nevertheless it looks like Howard, Martin and Glasscock counties will make 113,000 bales of cotton between them. Braceros by the thousands will flock here within the next two weeks to pick the rapidly opening lint.

That $1,679,600 appropriation for Webb AFB construction appeared assured at the end of the week. Rep. George Mahon and Sens. Lyndon Johnson and Ralph Yarborough wrestled it out in conference when the House slashed it out and the Senate restored it. A note of appreciation is in order for them.

1st Lt. Yukitaka Muramoto made Air Force history last week when he was picked as the distinguished officer of class 90-B. So far as is known this is the first time an Allied Defense pact student has attained the very top honor. This was the first graduation for Col. Donald W. Eisenhart, new commander of the base. 1st Lt. Michael D. Burke was named as an outstanding student.

Friends were rallying to the support of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Don Paige, whose home was destroyed. (See THE WEEK Pg. 4-A, Col. 7)

Mailman McKinney Popular With Air Force Personnel

Robert R. McKinney, of Big Spring, has not in the true sense of the word, joined the Air Force, but if Webb people had their way they would take Mr. "Mac" with them, even overseas.

"Mac" is the mailman in Webb's new Capehart housing project and though an ex-Navy man, the Air Force now seems to be his first love.

"Mac" has been a mailman in Big Spring for 7 1/2 years, all of this time on one route except for 9 months. On his route in the Monticello and Morrison Drive areas were many Air Force families. When the Capehart housing project opened, Elmer Boatler, postmaster, received so many requests from happy customers that he moved McKinney to the Capehart route.

"Mac's" happy philosophy makes his otherwise hard job a pleasant one. He knows most of his people by their first names and no customer worries about his mail going awry when "Mac" delivers it.

McKinney likes people and this sincerity is reflected in the fact that just about everybody likes "Mac."

He comes by his soft spot for service people quite naturally since he is a veteran of WW I and WW II. He was a Chief Petty Officer in WW I, returned to civilian life in 1920 only to be recalled in 1942. He served in Naval Intelligence and was 21 months inland in China during the war.

Though "Mac" could have gotten out, being the oldest man in his outfit, he preferred to stay and was able to secure an age waiver for the Intelligence Branch.

He recalls that, walking a pipeline, 15 or 16 miles a day, put him in pretty good physical condition for his job in WW II. It can now be told that "Mac" and his friends spent 7 months posing as missionaries, completely surrounded by the enemy. There was a $30,000 (American greenbacks) price on each of their heads, offered by the enemy, when the legal exchange rate was 90 to 1.

Mac's membership cards, placed end to end, would almost equal his mail route in length. The civic, fraternal and service organizations of which he is a member vary from "Hump Jumpers and Short Sporters" of WW II to National Deputy Chief of Staff for the Veterans of WW I. He finds time to do volunteer work with the VA Hospital, here, as a life member and Regional Adjutant of the D.A.V.

Mr. and Mrs. McKinney live at 1411 Eleventh Place and their daughter, Joan, age 23, is an employe at Webb. They have one son, Robert R. Jr., and another daughter, Mrs. Roy C. Conder of Oklahoma City.

Mailman McKinney And Friend

Capehart mailman Mr. Robert R. "Mac" McKinney Sr. pauses a second on his route to say hello to little Dick Hutchins, son of Mr. Sgt. and Mrs. Fred H. Hutchins. Mr. Elmer Boatler, Big Spring Postmaster, received so many requests from "Mac's" customers moving to Capehart that he moved Mac along with his friends.

20,000 Mexican Nationals Needed For Area's Harvest

Within a fortnight, and certainly before September is out, more than 20,000 Mexican nationals will move into this area to harvest the 1959 cotton crop.

Requests handled through the Texas Employment Commission offices in Big Spring, Lamesa and Sweetwater total 22,000. Cotton has been opening so rapidly during the past week that the only danger now is realizing the full number of braceros is ability of the contracting agencies and individuals to transport them here.

Some 1,600 are already in Howard, Martin and Glasscock counties, Leon M. Kinney, manager of TEC estimated. Another 4,200 will be brought in as rapidly as five agencies can clear them at the border. Most of them will be on 90-day permits for cotton picking. The outlook is for a yield of 114,000 bales in these counties (Howard 30,200, Glasscock 11,000, Martin 72,900).

At Lamesa G. C. Wilkes, TEC manager, said a total of 15,000 Mexican nationals would be required during September to meet demands. Dawson County alone is looking for 121,000 bales, and added to this will be the ginnings of Gaines and Borden counties.

David E. Harlow, TEC manager at Sweetwater, said that 1,800 workers had been asked for Nolan, Mitchell, Scurry and Fisher counties. Chances are that this is a very conservative figure, for Mitchell County is looking for a 24,000-bale yield and Scurry County for 23,000 bales. Figures on crop estimates of Fisher and Nolan were not immediately available.

For the most part the prevailing wage has been pegged at $2.05 for picking and $1.55 for pulling. Mitchell has a $1.75 pulling rate.

Handling the contracting in this area are the Tarzan Marketing Association of Tarzan with Clarence Airhart in charge; the Basin Growers Association, Stanton, Oscar Fanning in charge; Howard County Farmers Association, Big Spring, James Fryar in charge; and Farm Growers Association, Big Spring, Cecil Leatherwood in charge.

In the Lamesa sector the principal contractors are the Dawson County Cotton Growers Association, the Bolynda Labor Cooperative, the Inter-County Marketing Association, the Farmers Labor Cooperative, the Gaines County Cotton Growers Association and the Loop Labor Association.

Two contractors serve the four-county area around Sweetwater. They are the Mitchell County Farmers Association of Colorado City and the Farmers Cooperative Labor Association of Snyder.

Migrant laborers may be brought in only upon certification by the Department of Labor that qualified domestic laborers cannot be secured. They must be paid the prevailing wage rate and the employer must agree to reimburse the United States for expenses incurred in obtaining and returning the workers to certain centers. Moreover, the employer must meet transportation requirements, provide insurance and standard lodgings at no cost to the workers.

On piece work, such as cotton picking, the worker is guaranteed 64 hours within a two-week period, else the employer must pay a subsistence which is usually three-fourths the minimum pay set out for the workers. The agreement for securing workers requires that Mexican workers shall not be assigned to work in localities in which Mexicans are discriminated against because of their nationality or ancestry.

Final Payment On Old Bonds

AUSTIN (AP)—The state finally got around this week to paying off a batch of ancient bonds, including some issued in the last century to wipe out the frontier defense expenses.

The transaction was a matter of taking money out of one pocket and sticking it in another for state treasurer Jesse James. The $4,297,987 in bonds had been held as investments by various state funds.

"Not only are these legal and just obligations of the state, but also their payment in full will improve the competitive market position of new bond issues," the Legislative Budget Board pleaded with the Legislature.

Lawmakers, needed since 1944 by State Auditor C. H. Cavness and others to retire the bonds, authorized the payments in the current fiscal year which began Tuesday.

The earliest of the bonds was issued in 1890. Several became due in 1920 and the last of the 13 issues matured 4 years ago. The permanent school funds was the biggest investor.

The money secured from the school fund and other permanent funds was used to retire frontier defense debts due then, issue new bonds and to provide ready cash for the demands of the general revenue fund. They bore the signatures of former Govs. James Hogg, S. W. Lanham, T. M. Campbell and James Ferguson.

Add Labor Day Traffic Worry

DALLAS (AP)—Gene de Jere, a Houston magician, arrived Saturday for the state magician's convention and said he drove the 250 miles from his hometown in a hypnotic trance.

He was blindfolded. Ahead of his automobile was another driven by Bill Sirois, also a magician. Sirois said he hypnotized De Jere before the trip and actually gave directions by mental telepathy.

A state police spokesman said the agency permitted the blindfolded trip because they were convinced it was only a trick.

Legion Commander Will Visit W. Texas Districts

Department Commander of the American Legion, Donald I. Peters of Houston, will tour the Fourth Division of the American Legion which is comprised of the 16th, 17th, 18th 19th, and 21st Congressional Districts, during the month of September.

DONALD I. PETERS

Sanderson will be the first stop of the tour on Monday, at which time the Commander and his party will have breakfast at 7:00 a.m. with post officials and members of the post. That evening the Alpine post will be host to the group at the American Legion Home.

El Paso will be the next stop on Tuesday evening, with a meeting to be held in the Green Room of the Hilton Hotel.

On Wednesday evening, Odessa will act as host at a meeting at the American Legion Home.

From Odessa the group will travel to Seminole for a noon meeting on Thursday, then to Brownfield for an evening meeting at the American Legion Home.

Legionnaires in Lubbock will meet in conjunction with the American Legion Home in Plainview.

The 18th District Convention will be held in Dalhart on Saturday and Sunday, September 12-13 and Commander Peters will be a guest of the convention.

On Sept. 14, the noon meeting will be held at Sweetwater and the evening meeting in San Angelo.

The meeting at Brownwood on Sept. 15 will conclude the tour of the Fourth Division. The group will meet with the Lions Club at the Brownwood Hotel at noon.

Hughes Earns DS Honor At A&M

COLLEGE STATION—Roy R. Hughes of 1801 Mittel Ave., Big Spring, has been named a distinguished student for the 1959 spring semester at Texas A&M College. To earn this honor a student must have been registered for 15 or more hours and must have established a grade point ratio of 2.25 or better with no grade less than "C."

Forsan Schools To Observe Holiday

FORSAN — The Forsan schools will observe Labor Day as a holiday on Monday. School will be resumed Tuesday morning, said Joe T. Holladay, superintendent. Enrollment for the first week totaled 162. There were 90 in the grade schools and 98 in the high school.

Reds Send Bid To Rossellini

VENICE, Italy (AP)—Roberto Rossellini said Saturday the Soviet government had asked him to visit Moscow next year and possibly make a movie or two. The Italian film director said he had not decided whether to accept the invitation, which was extended through the Soviet Embassy here.

On Vacation

COPENHAGEN, Denmark (AP)—Chief Justice Earl Warren and his wife arrived here Saturday by air for a four-day vacation after a tour of the Soviet Union and West Germany. They will leave for New York by plane Wednesday night.

Loaded Guns Always Menace, Rogers Warns

Hunting season has started and it brings danger of loaded guns, Police Chief C. L. Rogers said Saturday. Shooting and hunting are popular sports, but many hunters and shooters do not combine caution with their firearms.

The gun that was purchased to hunt rabbits, birds, deer, and other game can easily kill a hunter or innocent bystander, Rogers pointed out. Every year, a large number of hunters are killed by their own firearms that have been handled carelessly, he said. Or worse, an innocent bystander is cut down by a careless hunter.

Rogers pointed to the Ten Commandments of Shooting Safety that were endorsed by the Sporting Arms and Ammunition Manufacturers Institute. Any area hunters and shooters who will follow these commandments have a good chance to get through the season alive. It is the careless hunter who will eventually fall victim to his carelessness.

- The commandments are:
1. Treat every gun with the respect due a loaded gun.
  2. Watch that muzzle. Carry your gun safely; keep safety on until ready to shoot.
  3. Unload guns when not in use; take down or have actions open; guns should be carried in cases to the shooting area.

4. Be sure barrel is clear of obstructions, and that you have ammunition only of the proper size for the gun you carry.

5. Be sure of target before you pull the trigger; know identifying features of game you hunt.

6. Never point gun at anything you do not want to shoot; avoid all horseplay.

7. Never climb a tree or fence or jump into a ditch with a loaded gun; never pull a gun toward you by the muzzle.

8. Never shoot a bullet at a flat hard surface or water; at target practice be sure your backstop is adequate.

9. Store guns and ammunition separately, beyond reach of children.

10. Avoid alcoholic beverages before or during shooting.

Driver Perishes

DALLAS (AP)—Marvin Young, 30, of Ennis died Saturday when his car plunged into a deep ravine from a service road alongside U.S. Highway 75 at Wilmer, 15 miles south of Dallas.

The car landed upright below a bridge on the roadway. Young was driving alone.

Capri Left In Dark By Winds

CAPRI (AP)—A sudden storm of howling winds, rain and hail Saturday plunged this Italian tourist island into darkness and caused panic and damage. The storm tore off hotel and villa canopies and flooded streets. The Church of St. James was flooded with about two feet of water, and windows of an adjoining school were smashed. Children in the building, many of them crying, were escorted to safety.

Unwed Moms On Increase

This is no time to condemn... this is no time to accuse... this is no time to be timid! Who's to blame? The parents who won't listen... or the children who are afraid to tell. Where can it all lead to except to find someone who helps "girls in trouble." The plight of the unwed mother is probed frankly and with utmost compassion in the motion picture, BLUE DENIM. These Ought To Cheer Anyone Up!

Big Spring High School's current crop of cheer leaders, all-set for the opening game of the season, pose on the high school campus. Left to right they are Shirley Terry, Linda Grant, Modesta Simpson, Karen Roger, Celia Grant, Kay McGibbon, and Mary Read.

Enrollment Is Up 6 Per Cent

Enrollment in Big Spring schools reached 6,614 at the end of the first week of school, a 6.3 per cent gain over the same time a year ago.

Within the past two years the increase has been almost 1,000 pupils, or 979, probably the greatest two-year gain on record since the oil boom days of the late 1920's.

The big bulge this year was in the secondary level with a 13.4 per cent increase, while elementary gains — heretofore the booming category, accounted for only 2.1 per cent.

PRESSURE POINTS

Pressure points which showed up the opening of school on Monday continued through the week. Pending the completion of additional units at the Capehart housing project, permanent shuffling to meet these pressures will be slow, school authorities said.

For instance, the first grade sections at Washington are tight, but this is an area where children might transfer to Capehart as houses are occupied in the housing development. The sixth grade is heavy at College Heights.

Generally speaking, enrollments at the new Marcy school (which is being housed at the old Central Ward and College Heights until its new classrooms are completed) and at Park Hill are light. The second grade at Park Hill tends to the heavy side.

MORE COMING

Another upsurge is expected in enrollment on Tuesday when school resumes after the Labor Day holiday on Monday. These charts reflect the comparative enrollments of the past two years and their distribution:

| School                | 1958  | 1959  |

| TOTAL Elementary  | 4,076 | 3,983 |

This year the seventh grade had 633, the eighth 469, the ninth 438, tenth 390, eleventh 361 and 12th 247.

Expense Report Must Be Filed

Employees should keep close records of expenses during 1959 if they are to be charged to their employer through credit cards or otherwise.

Ben Hawkins of the Internal Revenue Service in Big Spring, said that the actual amount of expenses incurred should be reported on the employer's 1959 return, even the employer may later get a discount on the amount charged.

"This is a radical departure from the way such expenses were reported for 1958," Hawkins said. "For last year's income tax returns, employees claiming an expense account deduction were permitted to submit a reasonable estimate of their expenses, which were charged directly to their employer. This leeway was allowed because regulations requiring reporting of such amounts were not issued until August, 1958."

The IRS representative revealed that employers are not required by Federal tax regulations to supply employees a record of expenses charged to the employer. It is the responsibility of the employee wishing to take a deduction for his expenses to substantiate the amounts reported on his return.

Rapid Growth During Decade

Big Spring schools have increased by almost three-fourths during the past decade.

Comparative enrollment figures at the end of the first week of school show 72 per cent greater registration now than in 1950.

The greatest single numerical and percentage surge occurred in 1950 when 734 more showed up for school than in the previous year and accounted for a 23.7 per cent gain.

Here are the comparative totals, gains and percentage increase:

| Year | Enroll-ment | Enroll- Gain Per- cent |

Yearbook Pictures Taken At Runnels

By PAT LOUDAMY
Once again school has started at Runnels Junior High. Smiles and cheerful greetings abounded in the halls Monday morning.

As of close of school on Friday, the enrollment was 645, distributed through the grades as follows: seventh 279, eighth 181, ninth, 185.

The faculty numbers 36 teachers, six of whom are new to the system.

Miss Mary Francis Eaton is our new counselor, and she taught last year at Panhandle High School. Our librarian is Miss Diane Kay Davies. Mr. Dick Rence, our band director, last taught at LaMont, Okla. Math teachers are Mr. Tommy Henry and Mr. Bert Brewer. Mrs. Suzanne Batterton, English teacher, will serve as assistant sponsor of the student council. Mr. Hollis Lloyd is student council sponsor.

The Round Up Staff has been organized for the new year with Meldean Kinman as editor of the newspaper. Jane Smedley is her assistant.

Pictures of the ninth graders and all teachers were taken Wednesday and Thursday. Mrs. Mona Johnson is in charge of the yearbook, El Palomar. The supplements to the El Palomar have arrived, and they contain pictures of such activities as the ninth grade picnic, the spring formal, Twirl Week, the track team and the awards assembly.

Judy Jones, head cheerleader, Kay Foster, Eileen Farquhar, Jan Anderson, Sue Cook and Judy Engle comprise the cheer leader corps, but the seventh grade leaders are to be chosen this week.

Since Monday is Labor Day, we have our first holiday. We haven't been going to school long enough to really appreciate a day off, but we'll gladly take one anytime it comes.

Lamesans To Host Brotherhood Meet

HCJC Due To Have Record Registration

One week separates Howard County Junior College from what now appears to be another record registration.

Pre-registration at this stage is outstanding previous years, said Dr. W. A. Hunt, president. Through Friday at least 80 beginning students had pre-registered, and there were on hand numerous other transcripts of credits which are considered a declaration of intent for attending the college.

Freshman orientation is set for the morning of Sept. 14 at the HCJC auditorium. The next day freshmen will register (or will complete their pre-registration by payment of fees) and on Sept. 16 registration is thrown open to all. First classes will be held on Sept. 17.

NEW DORMITORIES

Meanwhile, a new women's dormitory accommodating 82 and a men's dormitory housing 104 are virtually complete. Most of the furnishings have been moved into place and most of the remaining work is of minor finish nature. The structures have many built-in features and are air conditioned.

As of Saturday, prospects were good that the new dormitories, costing upwards of $600,000, will be at least half filled at the beginning of school. Eighteen women have signed as have nearly three times that many young men. Dr. Hunt is anticipating that many other dormitory reservations will be made this week and that many will come at the time of registration.

This is the first time that HCJC has had dormitory facilities, and after this year, Dr. Hunt predicted, they will be filled.

CAFETERIA CHANGED

Meals will be served at the $25,000 Dora Roberts Student Union building, the gift of the Dora

Roberts' Foundation. Certain changes have been made in the cafeteria to facilitate rapid serving of large numbers. The snack bar in the SUB will be opened on Sept. 14 and on the 15th the cafeteria will be opened. Dormitory students pay one fee which includes lodging and food.

Anticipating a greater student load, the faculty has been increased by three. Dr. Melvin M. Crawford is the physical education instructor; Leslie Kelly is a new English and social science instructor; and Kenneth O. Seewald is geology instructor. James Day has been elected to succeed Ina Mae McCollum, who resigned to return to Odessa, and Buddy Travis has taken over the duties of head coach and athletic director from Harold Davis, who took the head basketball coaching post at Texas Western in El Paso.

The curriculum has been broadened to meet specific demands, though there have been no major changes. HCJC, as for many years, is approved by all the accrediting agencies, which means that its work is transferable on the same basis as all other institutions to other colleges and universities.

Shot To Death

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—Celestino Bustamante, 39, died Friday night with a bullet wound in his temple. Police said Bustamante's wife, Geneviva, said they had been having domestic difficulties.

Stamp Club Will Meet On Monday

The Big Spring Stamp Club is to hold its regular monthly meeting at 8 p.m. Monday in room No. 1 of the Settles Hotel.

Roy Bell, president, urged all interested in stamp collecting to attend the meeting. Bill Bynum, Abilene dealer, will be on hand to answer questions about stamps. R. L. Hampton, Dallas dealer, has been invited to be at the meeting, but no definite word had been received from him, said Bell.

Airman Killed

WALTERS, Okla. (AP)—A serviceman stationed at Shepherd Air Force Base at Wichita Falls was killed north of here early Saturday as he walked along U.S. 277.

Cotton County authorities withheld identification pending notification of kin.

Man Found Dead

SEGUIN, Tex. (AP)—Reyes Gallegas, 40, of San Antonio was found shot to death here Friday at the grave of his wife. A revolver was near the body. Sheriff Phil Medlin said Gallegas had been dependent since his wife died recently.

GOLIAD NEWS

Cheerleaders For 7th Grade Named

By DE MASON
Hi kids:
The bustle and bustle of school started Monday with many new faces appearing around Goliad Junior High.

On the first day, we spent all morning in our home rooms, and in the afternoon we went through the complete schedule. Since then the regular class schedule has been followed.

We have many new teachers who

Widow Scores Court Victory

PLAINS, Tex. (AP)—Mrs. Violet O'Keefe won a $170,000 judgment against a Dallas firm and its general manager Friday in a damage suit over the death of her husband in a highway crash.

Jurors ruled she and five minor children should collect that amount from Higginbotham Land & Cattle Co. and John L. Higginbotham, 69, Dallas.

Lawyers for Mrs. O'Keefe offered witnesses who said Higginbotham was drunk last Jan. 29 when his car hit one occupied by her husband, W. T. O'Keefe, and hurled it into the path of a truck.

The Dallas man, better known in his home town as J. Lanham Higginbotham, denied he was drunk. His lawyers presented experts who testified the Higginbotham and O'Keefe cars did not come in contact.

Jurors allowed $75,000 for Mrs. O'Keefe, $15,000 for each child and $20,000 punitive damages.

Counsel for Higginbotham and the land firm said they will appeal.

The single day's record was set Aug. 4 when 4.2 million gallons were used, and 3.8 millions poured through the taps the following day to set the two-day record.

have joined the faculty since last spring, and to them we express our welcome. Of course, to those returning we have a hearty hello.

Friday there were two assemblies in which two seventh grade cheerleaders and one ninth grade cheerleader were elected. Frankie Cherry and Terry Caudle were selected from the seventh grade, while Sheri Sabbath was chosen from the ninth grade. Sonja Arrick, Virginia Wilson and Karen Kee were chosen at the end of the 1958-59 term to serve this year. Student council and class officers will be elected in the near future.

Also on Friday student handbooks were handed out. These books contain rules and regulations and the do's and don'ts for our school. These are necessary for the proper functioning of our school.

Let's all strive to make this the best and most enjoyable year we have spent. And don't forget to get in touch with us for all your Goliad school activity news.

Heat Blamed For Train Deaths

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Interstate Commerce Commission said Friday that 98-degree temperature triggered a wreck that spilled freight cars off a trestle into a recreation area near Mel-drum, Ga. last June 28. Twenty-three persons were killed.

The heat, the most severe in the vicinity in many days, caused the rails to spread with the result that 16 cars of the 124-car train left the tracks, the commission said.

Some of the cars plunged over the side of the trestle into the Ogeechee River. Two cars loaded with propane gas exploded, sending a flash fire over the recreation area.

Plastic Bag Brings On Death

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—Mrs. Christine Girod, 39, was found dead late Friday, a plastic bag over her head and a gas hose underneath it. She was the wife of a Kelly AFB worker. Girod said he and his wife had recently discussed a divorce.

U.S. Astronauts Ready And Eager For Their Initial Journey Into Outer Space

By ROGER GREENE

LANGLEY AIR FORCE BASE, Va. (AP)—America's seven-man team of astronauts is ready, without a quiver, for the big stab into the sky.

They still have months of exhausting, bone-bruising tests to undergo.

What concerns them at the moment is public fear that it will mean risking almost certain death—some time in 1961—when an 80-foot Atlas rocket blasts one of them into outer space to orbit the earth at 18,000 miles an hour.

If No. 1 makes it and lives to tell what happened, at least four of the other astronauts will follow in successively longer journeys, blazing the way for eventual manned flights to the moon and such planets as Mars and Venus.

The pioneer venture, known as Project Mercury, has been widely heralded as the most dangerous voyage ever conceived in the history of man. The astronauts, in an exclusive interview, made it clear they do not buy that.

Swigging soda pop in their new headquarters here, the lean, hard-muscled young spacemen said they have no feeling of a tension buildup—nothing to compare with the ordeal of Allied troops waiting for the cross-channel invasion of Normandy, for example, in World War II.

"Those people didn't know what to expect on D-Day. We do," said Navy Lt. Malcolm S. Carpenter, 34, Garden Grove, Calif., father of four children.

"And they knew there was going to be slaughter. We don't admit that," said Air Force Capt. Virgil I. Grissom, 33, Mitchell, Ind.

Nor would the astronauts, in discussing perilous journeys of the past, rate the hazards of space flight on the same level with the famed dangers that confronted Christopher Columbus on his voyage of discovery to the New World in 1492.

Navy Lt. Cmdr. Alan B. Shepard Jr., 35, East Derry, N.H., put it this way: "Columbus' engineers told him the world was flat. They said when he sailed to the edge he was going to fall into a bottomless abyss to sure death. Our scientists tell us we won't."

Of the five astronauts at the interview—two were absent on other duties—Marine Lt. Col. John H. Glenn Jr., 38, New Concord, Ohio, oldest of the team, spoke in a more serious vein about the question of danger.

"If we didn't know what to expect, we might be like the Ubangis in Africa, suspicious of everything and afraid of every leaf that stirs," Glenn said. "When you get educated, you're no longer afraid. In this [space] field, there are only a handful who understand, and they are not fearful."

At this point in the interview a lanky, tousle-haired figure in baggy coveralls joined the group and was introduced as Air Force Capt. Leroy G. Cooper, 32, Shawnee, Okla., youngest of the astronauts but a veteran jet pilot with 2,300 hours flying experience.

Cooper, returning from a spin in an F102 jet fighter, agreed with the others that their chances of surviving the first manned flight into space are much better than generally believed.

"Oh, we've got a few problems, all right," he grinned. "What about the danger of exposure to lethal rays from the newly discovered Van Allen radiation belt above the earth?"

As the astronauts' expert on radiation, Shephard answered the question. "The Van Allen belt doesn't begin until 500 or 600 miles up. We're shooting for an orbit altitude of 100 to 120 miles. There may be cosmic rays up there we're going, but not lethal rays."

From the moment of blast-off on a launching pad at Cape Canaveral, Fla., the first man rocketed into space will be pretty much on his own... buffeted by brain-buffing stresses of gravity.

As the space capsule with its human cargo flashes eastward above the equator and nears the California coast, complex "robot brain" centers on the earth will calculate the precise instant for re-entry into the earth's atmosphere to begin the 3,000-mile glide to touchdown in the Atlantic Ocean off Florida.

At that instant, the central ground control station will fire the capsule's three retro-rockets by radio, providing reverse thrust and retarding its speed to about 800 m.p.h. as the capsule dips eastward and plunges through the great heat barrier set up by friction with the atmosphere.

Even though protected by a tough metallic shield, designed to keep the worst heat away from the 23-foot capsule, the spaceship will suddenly be engulfed by temperatures up to 11,000 degrees.

From the ground, the earth-bound capsule will be clearly visible, with the heat shield glowing cherry red.

Many tests with unmanned capsules and finally with a chimpanzee as a passenger will be necessary before the first man is sent up to encounter the heat barrier.

"It is a gross overstatement, and this can't be emphasized enough—that we have solved the re-entry problem," said Lt. Col. John Powers of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration which is in charge of Project Mercury.

"We've recovered missile nose cones after re-entry, but that's a lot different than a man-carrying capsule."

The astronauts, carefully briefed on every development, knew the score on that one, too, but they are quietly confident that NASA's staff of 9,000 scientists and engineers will solve it.

5 Are Hurt In Rash Of Car Mishaps

A rash of traffic mishaps Saturday sent five people to hospitals, three of them Saturday evening. Early reports indicated no serious injuries.

Frank Pierce, 101 Madison, and Jeff Fields, 3622 Hamilton, were taken in a River Ambulance to Big Spring Hospital after their Nash station wagon went off Scenic Mountain Drive at 10:10 p.m. Fields had a broken jaw and bruises and cuts. Early had fractured ribs and bruises. The car apparently rolled and tumbled end over end as it left the escapement west of Canyon Drive and FM 700 intersection.

J. A. Williams was rushed to the Cowper Hospital in a Nalley-Pickle ambulance at 8:38 p.m. when his car struck a bridge abutment on E. 3rd opposite the Westex Wrecking Company. Williams was taken to the hospital with a fractured knee and a head injury. Police said he was turning off the road when he collided with the bridge.

Pedro Amora Jr., 5 1/2 months old son of Mr. and Mrs. Pedro Amora of Knott, was reportedly thrown from the family car when it was in collision with a 1953 Chevrolet driven by Clifford Everett, 199 Scurry at N. 7th and Scurry at 6:01 p.m. He was treated at Cowper Hospital and indications were that he was not appreciably injured. He was due to be released Sunday morning.

Police issued Mrs. Linda Armstrong, driver of the 1953 Ford, a ticket for having no drivers license.

R. D. Hale, 1203 Mulberry, driving a 1950 Chevrolet pickup, and Carol Cunningham Jones, 1623 E. 3rd, driving a 1950 Oldsmobile, were in collision at 5th and Lancaster Streets Saturday morning.

James Johnson, 7, son of Hubert Leon Johnson of Cordell, Okla., was examined at the Big Spring Hospital after his father's 1954 Chevrolet pickup and a 1955 Dodge truck driven by Jack H. Smith, 306 Edwards, collided at 2nd and Benton streets.

At 6:27 p.m. Bobby Thurman reported that a car had struck two others at 4th and Scurry and failed to stop. Similarly, police had a report at 6:31 p.m. that a blue Chevrolet had struck a red Dodge car at 4th and State and had failed to stop.

De Gaulle Plans Visit To States

TURNBERRY, Scotland (AP)—French President Charles De Gaulle notified President Eisenhower today that he will visit the United States "as soon as I can."

Eisenhower warmly invited De Gaulle to come to the United States in a message sent before he left Paris Friday.

De Gaulle's reply was delivered to Eisenhower at his Scottish vacation retreat today.

Byrd Speaks In Favor Of Gasoline Tax

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Harry F. Byrd (D-Va.) urged the Senate Saturday to boost the federal gasoline tax a penny a gallon as a temporary method of financing the highway building program.

Byrd, chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, backed a compromise bill already passed by the House and supported reluctantly by administration spokesmen.

Senate consideration of the bill after it whipped through the finance committee was delayed several hours by objections of Sen. Wayne Morse (D-Ore).

Byrd, in a detailed statement, explained that the pay-as-you-go highway financing plan adopted by Congress in 1956 would be in the red some 300 million dollars by next June with a deficit well over a billion a year later.

He said the decision of Congress in 1958 to step up federal highway spending—a move he opposed—plus higher costs of the vast programs had caused the deficits.

The Senate bill would impose the penny extra tax starting this Oct. 1 and continue it until June 30, 1961. It is estimated that tax boost from 3 to 4 cents a gallon would yield 333-million-dollars prior to July 1 next and about 500 million in the following fiscal year.

When Majority Leader Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex.) finally made it the pending business before the Senate, Sen. Albert Gore (D-Tenn.) immediately presented an alternative plan.

Instead of adding another cent to the three-cent tax already imposed by the federal government, Gore asked that part of the federal excise taxes on new automobiles and auto parts be diverted to the special highway trust fund.

He said this would provide more than a half billion dollars.

Johnson had been working for a Sept. 12 adjournment, but he ran into fiery and knowledgeable opposition from Sen. Wayne Morse (D-Ore).

Angered because he had been forced to cancel a Labor Day speaking date in Salem, Ore., by Johnson's scheduling of a holiday session, Morse denounced the party leader and proceeded to use every parliamentary tactic at his command to slow down the Senate's operations.

When the Senate met at 11 a.m., Morse objected to Johnson's request that the Finance Committee be permitted to continue work on a bill to finance the interstate highway program.

Because the Senate's rules say that none of its regular committees can meet while it is in session, Johnson obtained a recess at 11:05 a.m. That was the beginning of a series of parliamentary maneuverings.

The Democratic leader announced his intention of holding the Senate in session until midnight or later to get action on the highway bill.

When Johnson called the Senate into session again at 12:45 p.m., Morse forced a brief adjournment. The session was resumed three minutes later in what was officially a new "legislative day."

Morse then demanded that the Senate's journal be read. This forced a further delay in assigning a House-passed savings bond interest bill to the Senate Finance Committee.

Clyde W. Massey, Coahoma, was driving this car when it overturned about four miles east of Big Spring on U.S. Highway 80 Friday. He was taken to the Veteran's Administration Hospital in a Nalley-Pickle ambulance where attendants said Saturday morning that he had multiple contusions and abrasions and possibly a fracture of one arm. His condition is considered satisfactory. Massey told Highway Patrolman A. N. Henry that he dozed off just before the car struck a culvert and overturned. The crash occurred about 10 p.m.

Congress Has Fading Chance To End Session This Week

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—Hobbled by a lone member's objections, the Senate stumbled along slowly Saturday in a possibly fruitless effort to wind up Congress' work this week.

With seven major legislative issues still to be acted upon, Senate Majority Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas told reporters that a quitting date "is not in sight."

Johnson had been working for a Sept. 12 adjournment, but he ran into fiery and knowledgeable opposition from Sen. Wayne Morse (D-Ore).

Angered because he had been forced to cancel a Labor Day speaking date in Salem, Ore., by Johnson's scheduling of a holiday session, Morse denounced the party leader and proceeded to use every parliamentary tactic at his command to slow down the Senate's operations.

When the Senate met at 11 a.m., Morse objected to Johnson's request that the Finance Committee be permitted to continue work on a bill to finance the interstate highway program.

Because the Senate's rules say that none of its regular committees can meet while it is in session, Johnson obtained a recess at 11:05 a.m. That was the beginning of a series of parliamentary maneuverings.

The Democratic leader announced his intention of holding the Senate in session until midnight or later to get action on the highway bill.

When Johnson called the Senate into session again at 12:45 p.m., Morse forced a brief adjournment. The session was resumed three minutes later in what was officially a new "legislative day."

Morse then demanded that the Senate's journal be read. This forced a further delay in assigning a House-passed savings bond interest bill to the Senate Finance Committee.

While Edward E. Mansur, the Senate's reading clerk, droned on over the journal, Morse arose from time to time to object that the clerk was skipping pages, that he wasn't reading loud enough, and that there was a lack of order in the almost empty chamber.

Johnson said that since Morse was raising objections to unanimous consent requests, "our work will be delayed."

"I think that the overwhelming majority of the senators, as demonstrated by a check, want to get on with transacting the people's business," Johnson said. "But it is going to take us some time under these circumstances."

"There isn't much we can do about it except to proceed as expeditiously as possible. But I certainly wouldn't be making any immediate vacation plans."

Morse said he is standing by his determination to read a three-volume history of the labor movement at Monday's session to prevent action on any legislation.

"There will be no votes on anything Monday," he announced.

THE WEEK

ed and whose son was burned by a fire at Knott on Friday Saturday evening some $450 had been donated to help meet the emergency. It just wasn't the Paige's day on Thursday when this happened for early in the morning a rattlesnake had been discovered in the clothes hamper.

The Colorado River Municipal Water District lacked up a new peak for deliveries in a single month when it sold 1,171,000 gallons to Odessa, Big Spring, Snyder and other customers during August. This was 33 million more than the previous record.

Another record was established by Big Spring schools with an enrollment of 6,614 at the end of the first week. This was 6.3 per cent more than a year ago. In the past two years Big Spring schools have added nearly 1,000 pupils.

While on the subject of schools, Big Spring lost a faculty member when John Perry Yates was announced as recipient of a $5,000 scholarship from the U. S. office of education. He will study toward his doctorate in guidance at Coppulis.

Webb AFB had two distinguished visitors during the week. The visit of Dewey Short, assistant Secretary of the Army, was unexpected when the plane he was riding developed minor motor trouble and landed here as a precaution. The day before Maj. Gen. John D. Stevenson, commander of the Central Air Defense Command, spent a day checking with ADC's 331st Interceptor Squadron at the base.

Postal receipts of $24,806 took a dive from the $29,515 of the same month a year ago. However, July had shown an unusual gain, indicating some of the receipts swamped months. For the year receipts are $234,142, up by nearly $50,000.

Sports are in the air. The annual Country Club tournament (staged sans a clubhouse) had another whopping field and was off to a great start. Things were otherwise normal, for the home team got clipped in the Hall-Bennett trophy matches. But the big sports blow is scheduled for this week when the Big Spring Steers host Thomas Edison of San Antonio in the football opener. If the crowd turned out for the Quarterback Club barbecue honoring the team is an indication, there ought to be a mighty me tournament Friday evening at Memorial Stadium.

Plans are shaping rapidly for dedication of the new Howard County Airport. Rep. George Mahon has accepted an invitation to be the principal speaker. Webb AFB will participate liberally and a score or more of private fliers will flock here for the event.

The city lost one of its energetic ministers with the resignation of the Rev. Bill Boyd, rector of St. Mary's Episcopal Church. The Rev. Boyd is going to Orange, Va. as rector and will serve as the prominent Woodberry prep school.

Red Is Elected

LONDON (AP)—Prof. Leonid Sedov, chief policy adviser behind the Soviet Sputnik program, today was elected president of the 26-nation International Astronautical Federation. He is the first Soviet to hold the post.

Congress Gets Ike's Applause

TURNBERRY, Scotland (AP)—President Eisenhower is very pleased about congressional approval of the labor reform bill, White House press secretary James C. Hagerty said today.

He said the President, vacationing here after his diplomatic tour of Western Europe, is "very pleased by the action on the bill to protect the working men and women of the United States."

Hagerty added that Eisenhower had sent congratulatory messages to the sponsors of the measure. The bill, passed by the House Friday, is designed to enforce democratic procedures and financial honesty in unions. It would also curb abuses of union power and would exclude from office for as long as five years persons convicted of certain crimes.

Thieves Busy Police Report

Police were occupied with several theft and other minor cases Saturday.

Pat Stanley, 705 Goliad, reported loss of a bicycle.

Officers picked up a woman suspect in connection with shoplifting at Wacker's Store.

Hard on the heels of this, there came a report of "three white males setting a fire." Police investigated and found the culprits to be three young lads, who were remanded to the discipline of their parents.

Mike Hernandez, 508 NW 5th, complained that two white men driving a 1953 yellow and blue Ford had stolen hub caps from his car.

Officers picked up two men who had been suspected of throwing beer bottles at Dorothy Johnson at 909 Ohio, but no complaint was pressed.

Watchmaker Dies

NEW YORK (AP)—S. Ralph Lazarus, 61, president of the Berrus Watch Co., died in Memorial Hospital Friday after a brief illness.

Lazarus and two older brothers, Benjamin and Oscar, formed the company in 1919. It operates plants in Switzerland and in the United States.

Lazarus, born in New York City, was active in philanthropic and community affairs.

Rites Planned

Graveside rites are to be held at 10 a.m. Monday in the City Cemetery for David Marquez, who died at birth Saturday afternoon in a local hospital.

Mahon Is Speaker Airport Ceremony

Rep. George Mahon has accepted an invitation to be the speaker at the Oct. 6 dedication of the new Howard County Airport.

With prospects that Congress may adjourn by mid-September, Mahon told the Chamber of Commerce committee helping to plan the ceremonies that he would be able to be here for the occasion.

Jack Cook, aviation committee chairman, Clyde McMahon, chamber president, and others expressed delight that Mahon would share in the affair.

Ranking second on the powerful House Appropriations Committee, Mahon has been for years chairman of its subcommittee on military expenditures which now account for about 55 per cent of the total budget. He is rounding out a quarter of a century service in the House.

At a meeting of the subcommittee on foods and concessions Saturday morning, arrangements were made for Don Newson to cater the barbecue which will climax the dedicatory program. Tickets will be made available later for the affair.

One of the highlights of the occasion will be the arrival of the All Texas Air Tour at the new port five miles northeast on the Snyder highway just prior to ceremonies. More than a score of private fliers are expected in this entourage.

Dallas Woman Rallies To Support Of Aged Veteran

DALLAS (AP)—A Dallas woman who said her father served in the Confederate Army with controversial Walter Williams came to Williams' defense Saturday.

"I just can't let him die without telling somebody I know he served in Hood's Brigade during the Civil War," said Mrs. G. W. Chambers.

Mrs. Chambers is the oldest surviving child of G. M. Burkhardt, a Civil War veteran who died in 1932 at the age of 90.

"Many's the time my father used to tell me stories about the Civil War," she said. "He had a tin type picture and would show it to us children and say: 'That's old Walter Williams. I wonder if he is still alive and what he's doing.'"

Williams, lying near death at his daughter's home in Houston, is believed to be the last surviving Civil War veteran at 116. His status has been questioned, however, as a result of an investigation by Scripps - Howard staff writer Lowell K. Bridwell.

Texas officials support Williams' claim on the basis of state and available Confederate records.

Half Billion Cut In Budget Means Nothing

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congress now has cut appropriations for the current financial year by 547 million dollars but the director of the budget says these may not reduce federal spending at all.

The cuts topped the half billion mark late Friday when the Senate sent the 14th and 15th money measures for fiscal 1960 to President Eisenhower.

But Budget Director Maurice H. Stans was telling the Senate Finance Committee about the same time that despite the cuts in nearly all the bills, "the net effect will actually be a negligible change—perhaps even an increase—in expenditures for the year."

The reason for this, Stans said, is that most of the significant cuts probably will be in foreign aid and military construction, which usually include long-term projects. Cutting them may not affect expenditures for a year or two, he said.

Fruitless Search For Two Slain Children Goes On

AUSTIN (AP)—A year ago a father picked up his two children to take them for a ride. Within a few hours, he apparently killed them. Later he killed himself.

Deputy Sheriff George Pope of Travis County said "We're still looking for the children's bodies but it's hopeless. There never was anything to work on. We still get tips and we check them out, but nothing happens."

A. J. Campbell, 32, a Fort Worth bricklayer, was found dead early Sunday morning, Sept. 6, 1958, in his car. He had shot himself in the head with a shotgun, leaving a note about his children, Myrisha Faye Campbell, 3, and A. J. Campbell Jr., 11 months.

"It's all over now," he wrote in a note left by his body. It was addressed to his wife of eight years. "I buried both the children today. Maybe I was sick. I hope you and your folks all the happiness and just remember I love you."

The mother, Mrs. Jewell Campbell, 30, Goliad school teacher, was separated from her husband. The divorce was to be final within a month after the incident.

A statewide search produced no evidence of the children's fate. Police gave up hope and within 24 hours, the mother said:

"Yes, I do think he killed them and could have buried them in those 5-gallon lard cans. He was absolutely unpredictable."

The cans were bought by Campbell on his trip from Fort Worth to Goliad. They were never found. Clues of a toy plastic boat and exhaustive digging brought police no closer to finding out what happened.

Campbell's note and a final telephone call gave the only answer. Before he shot himself, he talked to The Rev. James G. Harris of Fort Worth.

"I killed and buried my two children," Campbell told the pastor.

William Randle Jr., 21, Negro bricklayer of Fort Worth, was with Campbell part of the time. He was at a service station and later en route home when the violence occurred.

"They seemed to like their daddy," Randle said. He saw the children briefly. Campbell let him out and came back minutes later without the two.

T. M. Cash, Woodsboro school teacher and grandfather of the children, offered a $500 reward for any information as to what happened. The reward remains unclaimed.

They protrude now since two more teeth have to be extracted before Bobbie can wear them.

Negroes Do Not Want White Man As A Neighbor

JACKSON, Miss. (AP)—A Negro group protested a white man's plan to build a home in a Negro section of Jackson. The Negroes said the white man had three teen-age daughters and "we do not want anything to happen which would cause any trouble."

The petition, signed Friday by 62 Negro residents, added that there were "a lot of young colored boys in this area."

But W. J. Garrett, 62, a storekeeper, went ahead with his plan. He charged that Negro storekeepers in the area were unhappy and behind the protest.

James Johnson, 7, was treated and released at Big Spring Hospital Saturday morning as the result of an automobile accident at 2nd and Benton. He was not seriously hurt.

Drivers in the mishap were Hubert Leon Johnson, Cardell, Okla., and Jack H. Smith, 309 Edwards Blvd.

Another Saturday crash involved Raymond Hale, 1203 Mulberry, and Carol Cunningham Jones, 1823 E. 3rd. The accident occurred at Lancaster and Fifth. No major damage or injuries were reported.

DALLAS (AP)—Temco Aircraft Corp. has received a five million dollar order for building a part of the B52H bomber, the company said Saturday.

It is a subcontract from the Boeing Airplane Co. The contract will carry production into early 1961.

Temco manufactures the 58-foot fuselage sections of the B52G at its Dallas-Grand Prairie plant.

61 More Arrests Made In War On Juvenile Hoodlums

NEW YORK (AP)—New York's desperate action to cope with a rising crime wave involving both youngsters and adults led to 61 arrests of young men along the west side of Central Park Friday night and early today.

Residents and passersby complained to police that they were being annoyed by such persons on sidewalks bordering the park from 66th to 88th streets.

Police squads rushed into action. Between 8 p.m. and 3 a.m.

they nabbed the 61 young men on disorderly conduct charges.

Elsewhere in the city, a 74-year-old man was beaten and robbed, a policeman was stabbed, and a 65-year-old woman was robbed at gunpoint in her home.

Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller and Mayor Robert F. Wagner planned new moves in an all-out battle against an exploding wave of juvenile violence which took the lives of four children within a week and left many injured.

HONORING AMERICAN PROGRESS

A SALUTE TO EVERY WAGE EARNER IN OUR COUNTRY

Today, with such an enormous percentage of our population engaged in an earning capacity... Labor Day may well be thought of as a day when we salute not just the individual worker... but our entire American Way of Life. And it is most certainly a good way of life!

Management and labor, men and women, people of every background work hand in hand... to provide every family, directly or indirectly, with an abundance of the necessities and the enviable luxuries that we Americans are privileged to enjoy every day of the year.

And here in Big Spring where we have approximately 500 members, our people are active in church, civic and other community affairs. Last year they sponsored a Little League team, took part in the United Fund and other agencies, established and maintained a blood bank, and otherwise contributed to a progressive, more liveable city.

CANNON, SMITH AND HOUSTON BLAZE WAY

By BOB HOOBING
Associated Press Sports Writer

All Americas Billy Cannon, Zeke Smith and Jim Houston head candidates bidding for stardom on the threshold of the 1959 college football season.

Cannon, the powerful 205-pound halfback with a 9.4 sprint clocking returns as the chief weapon in Louisiana State's efforts to defend its national championship.

Smith is a fiercely competitive guard who has helped Auburn fashion a string of 24 games without a loss, while Houston returns to captain Ohio State from his end position. The forgotten type player who excels at blocking and tackling, Houston has been called the finest wingman in Buckeye history.

However, fullback may be the position where the battle will be hottest.

Blastin' Bob White, Houston's teammate, didn't lose a yard in 218 carries last season capped by a sensational job in the upset of Iowa. He was named second team All-America.

Oklahoma hangs its hopes for a return to the unbeaten ranks on Prentice Gautt, first Negro in Sooner gridiron history. A steel-hard 200 pounder, Gautt led the Oklahoma in ground gaining last year while displaying exceptional blocking and defensive skills.

Blanche Martin, a Los Angeles Rams draft choice, returns to Michigan State after a year's absence due to injury and his talents are counted on to lift the Spartans out of the Big Ten cellar. South Carolina's John Saunders was the No. 1 ground gainer and blocker in the Atlantic Coast Conference in '58—and getting better.

Charlie Flowers will keep the defense honest with his power running for Mississippi as the Rebels open their attack in an effort to wrest the Southeastern crown from LSU and Auburn.

In the Far West, California's Billy Patton and Ray Smith of U.C.L.A., rated as the Bruins' best since Bob Davenport, are other top flight fullbacks along with Bob Jarvis of Purdue, Don Horn of Iowa, Texas Christian's Jack Spikes, Pitt's Jim Cunningham, Paul Choquette of Brown, Army's Steve Waldrop and Navy's Joe Matalavage.

Bunning Wins 15th Verdict

DETROIT (AP)—Ted Lepcio's two-run homer in the eighth inning decided a home run battle in Detroit's favor Saturday, the Tigers edging Kansas City 5-4 to retain a share of third place.

Lepcio, who started another Tiger flurry with a lead-off double in the third inning, socked his fifth home run off loser Bob Grim when Bunning walked the lead-off man. Burnside retired three straight batters.

Ex-Tiger Kent Hadley hit two of the Athletics' home runs and Roger Maris, the other. The three round-trippers made it 33 off Bunning this season and tied the Tiger club record established by Bunning in 1957.

Maris and Hadley hit bases empty home runs in the fourth and Hadley hit a two-run homer in the eighth behind Bob Cerv's single.

Jim Bunning survived three Kansas City home runs and picked up his 15th triumph, although southpaw Pete Burnside had to bail him out of a ninth inning jam when Bunning walked the lead-off man. Burnside retired three straight batters.

AS DODDS WATCHES Sands Wins First Game In History

By The Associated Press

Wichita Falls sets out in defense of its Class AAAA championship while Breckenridge sallies forth to show it still is king of Class AAA at the upper divisions of Texas schoolboy football open the season full blast this week.

Only a smattering of games was played in Class AAA last week while AAAA couldn't start under the rules.

Wichita Falls will test its new muscles against Pampa at Wichita Falls.

Breckenridge takes on a tougher first crack out of the box. The Buckaroos meet Sweetwater, always a strong one to crack.

Abilene is host to San Antonio

Jefferson, the team that's rated tops in the South. Dallas Jefferson clashes with highly ranked Highland Park.

Other top games send Dallas Sunset to Longview, Houston Lamar to Layton and Odessa to Amarillo.

A feature game of Class AAA will have Athens taking on the power of Class AA—Terrell.

Yanks Rally To Tip O's

NEW YORK (AP)—Elston Howard's pinch single off the right field wall in the ninth inning with the bases full gave the New York Yankees a 3-2 victory over the Baltimore Orioles Saturday.

The Yankees were trailing, 2-1, going into their half of the ninth when Yogi Berra, first up doubled to left center. Bobby Schantz ran for him and was sacrificed to third by Hector Lopez.

Mary Thronberry then singled to score Schantz with the tying run. Gil McDougald followed with another single, both runners advanced on a passed ball. Cletus Boyer was intentionally walked to fill the bases before Howard, batting for Ryne Duren, delivered the game-winning hit.

For eight innings Hoyt Wilhelm appeared to have regained his old mastery of the New Yorkers. He gave up a home run to Tony Kubek in the first inning, but thereafter kept things pretty well under control.

The Yankees collected 10 hits off the Oriole knuckleballer, four of them in the final inning. Jim Coates held Baltimore to four hits in the eight innings he worked, but Duren, who pitched the ninth, got credit for the victory.

Ideal For Fisherman

Shown above is the huge fishing house which will shortly be floated near Boyd's Lodge on the north-east shore of Lake J. B. Thomas. The $8,000 structure is being built by the Boyd brothers and will be ready in about two weeks. It is 45x60 feet and will be heated for winter and air cooled for summer. It will also be outfitted with a television set. It has 208 feet of walkway (six feet wide) around it and contains between 14,000 and 15,000 pounds of steel.

LAKE THOMAS BRIEFS

Gresham Talks Himself Into Some Jury Duty

Lem Gresham, who operates Lem's Bait House on the north side of Lake J. B. Thomas, is moving his belongings — lock, stock and barrel — from Lamesa to a house he is building near his place of business.

After an experience he had recently, Lem doesn't know whether he wants the move advertised or not.

Sheriff Sid Reeder visited Lem recently and, after exchanging pleasantries, asked if it were true that Gresham was "becoming a full fledged citizen of Borden County."

Lem admitted as much and Reeder allowed as how he was glad to learn Lem had placed his homestead on Borden soil.

A short time after that, Gresham opened his mail and found a summons to jury duty at Gall, authored by the same Mr. Reeder.

The heat the past week chased a lot of Lake Thomas' fishermen home but there were many who lingered and counted their blessings on the fish scales.

Here's the way the reports went around the lake:

SPORTSMAN'S PARADISE — Three Big Spring residents — Ronnie Phillips, Troy Coleman and Kenneth Smith — caught several fish, the biggest of which was a ten-pound yellow cat while using perch and minnows as bait.

A Mr. Minton of O'Donnell reported several good catches of Channel cat on a trotline.

Claude Hodnett, operator of Sportsman's Paradise, and Marvin Dupre reported several good trotline catches. The largest of several yellow catfish they caught weighed about 13 pounds. They were using perch as bait.

Henry Robinson of Big Spring, using dough-bait as a lure, caught a sizeable carp while fishing from a boat.

Hodnett reports a Big Spring man will demonstrate a new-type fishing raft by giving free boat rides to the public Monday. The launchings will be from the Sportsman's Paradise docks.

MONTGOMERY'S LAKE VIEW GROcery — Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Billingsly of Lamesa lifted a trotline near here recently and found they had snagged an eight-pound yellow catfish, plus one that weighed seven pounds. They were baiting the hooks with perch.

Clyde Montgomery reports that business has been slack. Even the water skiers are staying home, he says.

H. D. SMITH'S SHADY REST GROcery — Dewey McElreath of Porsano and his two sons caught 22 Channel cat, each weighing from 4 1/2 to two pounds, while fishing with a rod and reel and with two trot lines.

They baited their hooks with shrimp and used Catfish Charley on the trotlines.

Charles Sholle of Channel fish

with a rod and reel, a factor that induced him to return later in the week.

JINKINS MORELAND GROcery — Jenkins is planning another drawing for 6 p.m. Monday for fishermen who frequent her place. Winners do not have to be present in order to be eligible for the three awards.

A Bronson's rod and reel and a Longfield rod goes to the first place winner. The second place winner gets a Fisherman's basket and a dip net while a minnow bucket and a minnow dip net goes to the third place winner.

Jenkins is planning for the next drawing, which will be held around the Christmas holidays. She'll award a set of water skills to some lucky person at that time.

Mrs. Birdie Piper of Lamesa caught a carp weighing 16 pounds, while fishing with a rod and reel.

Aubrey Smith of Ralls brought reports of a 10-pound yellow catfish he had caught, getting it on a trotline while using perch bait.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Earl of Seminole caught 56 Channel cat, weighing up to two pounds each, on a trotline last weekend.

Turner Morrisett of Lamesa, with a trotline not far from the store, caught a string weighing 22 pounds. The largest of which weighed about eight pounds. He was using water dogs as bait.

HALLEY BROWNE GROcery — Mrs. Viola Browne of Seagraves, mother of Halley, caught 29 catfish on Aug. 31, using blood bait as a lure while fishing from the dock.

She was returned to her home by her son on Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Lane of Midland caught 40 Channel cat, weighing from 1/2 to one pound each, on a trotline. Their bait was liver, worms and blood bait.

Mr. and Mrs. Ira Allen of Seagraves got a "few" good Channel cat, fishing from the dock.

A party from Wilson, Texas, whose names were not learned, with a rod and reel, a factor that induced him to return later in the week.

caught 39 crappie during the middle of the week—one of the nicest catches of the year, in the words of Mrs. Halley Brown.

LEM GRESHAM'S—Byron Cabiness and C. L. Jones of Brownfield caught a 16 1/2-pound Yellow cat while Norman and C. W. Dalton and a Mr. McDougal of Lubbock, experienced a good week in crappie fishing and white bass, fishing from the pier.

Bill Williams of Snyder took four white bass, using the 400-series Bomber as bait.

Mrs. B. F. Felton, Big Spring, caught her limit of crappie on the pier.

Turner Morrisett of Lamesa snagged six Channel cat, weighing 22 pounds. The two largest ones weighed between 6 and 8 1/2 pounds each.

J. B. Jones and party of Tahoka reeled in 40 crappie and seven Channel cat which made for splendid eating.

BOYD'S LODGE — The big new fishing house which the Boyds are building themselves is about ready to be christened. Some say it will be ready inside of two weeks.

A Mr. Nichols of Snyder left the lake with 60 white bass he had caught off Boyd's place. He was trolling at the time. Each weighed from 2 to 2 1/2 pounds.

Another Snyder man, whose name was unknown, bagged 27 white bass while trolling. He reported he was catching them "two at a time." He was using a "White Bomber with black stripes and a silver spoon" for bait.

Theina Bishop of Snyder reeled in a 15 1/2-pound Yellow cat.

LAKE THOMAS LODGE—Mrs. Casey Bishop of Snyder took a 16 1/2-pound Yellow cat plus about five Channel cat.

Arvil Cox of Snyder reeled in five Channel cat of good size, weighing up to two pounds each.

Mrs. L. D. Newman of Odessa experienced a good run of 55 crappie all of them "eating size."

Galobar, belonging to Hugh Hunley of Colfax, Washington, is on the improving side — may be partial to a fast track. Joe Bassett's Charge Bar is a two time winner.

This nationally publicized event is going to be well worth watching.

Fleet Sis, belonging to Mr. and Mrs. Bud Tucker of Big Spring, is entered in the second race of the day, a thoroughbred claiming event for three-year-olds and up. The distance is 5 1/4 furlongs.

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The legend persists about the boxer who bounded into the ring, doffed his robe and discovered—along with thousands of others—that he had forgotten his trunks.

Did it ever really happen? Indeed it did. And before an audience of millions.

But let Jack Dillon, director of NBC's "Friday Night Fights," tell the story.

"I'm not saying where and I'm not saying when, except it was in the early days of TV," begins Dillon, the memory still etched in pain on his usually smiling Irish face. "I'm not even saying who the boxer was, but it happened."

"He stepped out of his robe and clasped his gloves over his head in a little victory wave of greeting. The house was in pandemonium, and the guy beaming all over the place at such an unexpected reception."

In 10 years and some 400 fights on the Friday night cauldron circuit, director Dillon has seen strange sights but none stranger than the gladiator Sans Coulotte.

Only two weeks ago at the Von Clay-Sonn Ray fight in Philadelphia, some miscreant made off with the razor used in the live commercial. Luckily Dillon had another razor—his own. And luckily it was the sponsor's make.

The fistuff show, one of TV's oldest and most durable items, goes into some 10 million homes and untold thousands of saloons.

Few fans realize it takes a 10-man crew, a 15-page script, three cameras, a mobile unit full of equipment and four extra fighters, standing by for emergency bouts in case of a quick KO, to stage the weekly event.

We must stay on for a minimum 30 minutes," Dillon explains. "The average 10-rounder takes 47 minutes, then we go off fast to make way for the bowling show that follows. If the ring announcer plays Demosthenes or the ref decides to recite the entire rule book, it can murder us. Fast finishers are even worse."

When Marciano took off Walcott in the first round of their return match, we followed with a six-rounder that also ended in a four-rounder and the same thing happened. It looked like I might have to get into the ring with announcer Jimmy Powers. There were six minutes left, but we squeezed by."

Rotan (SC) — Rotan's Yellow-hammers, one of the favorites in District 6-A football this season, mangled Ranger, 20-0, in their opening football game here Friday night.

Donald Goodrun scored first for Rotan on a 36-yard run. Britton Bradley got the second in the third period on a 35-yard gale. Todd Baugh managed the third on a quarterback sneak from the one in the last period. Bradley ran for the two extra points following his TD.

Sterling Test Has Some Gas

Testing operations were reported at two area wildcats Saturday morning.

Sunray No. 1 McEntire, Sterling County prospector, reported a test of perforations between 8,942-87 feet. The test was open an hour and three-quarters. Operator recovered 200 feet of gas and 800 feet of salt water. He is now drilling ahead. This project is 13 1/2 miles northwest of Sterling City and is 660 from south and east lines, of section 8-23 H&TC survey.

Bakke No. 1-A Williams was making hole Saturday in lime below 6,730 feet. This wildcat is nine miles east of Gall and is 660 from north and west lines, of section 232, block 97, H&TC survey.

U. S. Smelting No. 1-41 TXL, Glasscock County test, is getting set for tests of the Spraberry and Strawn. The hole is bottomed at 10,890 feet and operator is setting the five-and-a-half inch casing at an unreported depth. It is 660 from south and west lines, of section 41, block 34, township 3-south, TIP survey.

National Pace Off

Operations in the United States dropped off during the past week reported by Hughes Tool Company Oil Well Drilling.

The total rotary rigs going on Aug. 31 was 2,107, or 33 less than the previous week. It was on a par with the 2,100 a month ago and above the 1,511 a year ago.

Texas had 748 rigs, a loss of 43 for the week. Louisiana was next with 334, a decline of 11. Oklahoma picked up two to hit 203, and New Mexico gained three in reaching 120.

Among other leaders were California 160 (up 2), Kansas 130 (up 1), Wyoming 73 (down 3), Western Canada 136 (down 27).

Tech Budget Is Approved

LUBBOCK (AP)—Texas Tech directors approved Saturday a 1959-60 budget of $9,827,964, leaving few funds for any expansion.

The 1958-59 budget for Texas Tech, second largest state supported college in Texas, was $9,520,721.

The increase will go for faculty and staff pay increases.

New in the budget this year is $130,000 in research funds provided by appropriation of the Legislature.

In its specially called meeting, the board also approved final plans for a new computer-architecture building. Bids on the new structure are expected to be opened Oct. 8 in time for the board to award construction contracts Oct. 10.

L. D. (RED) WEBSTER

Red Webster API Speaker

L. D. (Red) Webster, vice president (public relations) for the Lone Star Steel Co., is to address the Permian Basin chapter of the American Petroleum Institute in Odessa on Sept. 17.

Webster recently returned from a tour of Russia and he will give his impressions of the things he saw behind the Iron Curtain.

A native of Lubbock, where he was born in 1910, he was graduated from SMU and served as a reporter and sports editor of the old Dallas Dispatch. He later served in the aviation and trucking industries before launching a public relations and advertising agency under his name in Houston in 1948. Two years later he joined Lone Star Steel and became a vice president in charge of public relations in 1943.

Tickets for the barbecue dinner preceding the address in the Ector County Auditorium will be available in oil supply stores in various cities.

Amarillo And Shreveport Men To Receive Oil DS Awards

DALLAS — Charlton H. Lyons, Shreveport independent oil producer who has been a leading spokesman in Washington for Southwest oil producers, and J. Harold Dunn, Amarillo, president of Shamrock Oil and Gas Corp., have been named 1959 recipients of Texas Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Assn.'s Distinguished Service Awards.

The awards, which annually go to a producer and an executive, will be presented on the final day of the association's 40th annual meeting, Sept. 14-16 in Houston. Presentation of the awards will be a highlight feature of the gathering of oil industry leaders, Charles W. Alcorn, president, said.

"The addition of these industry leaders brings to 50 the number who have received this award in recognition of their contributions to the oil and gas industry and their leadership in other fields," Alcorn said.

Although a resident of Louisiana, Lyons has oil production in Texas. He has served as president of such leading petroleum industry organizations as the general Mid-

Continent Oil & Gas Assn., Independent Petroleum Assn. of America, and the Louisiana-Arkansas division of Mid-Continent. He has been a resident of Shreveport since 1921 and is active in civic affairs.

Dunn has been president of Shamrock Oil and Gas Corp. since 1945. He became associated with the firm in 1937 when, as a young engineer, he was loaned by Lone Star Gas Co. to run value surveys on Shamrock properties. In 1939 he was named a vice president of Shamrock.

An expert on natural gas conservation, Dunn pushed research aimed at more efficient use of natural gas in making carbon black, the principal use for Panhandle gas in the 1930's and early 1940's. He is also known for his efforts in building a recycling plant in the Opelika field, East Texas, in 1940 to strip gas of valuable liquids. From 1953 to 1959 Dunn served on the board of Texas A&M College.

Other program features include an address on Sept. 15 by Gov. J. Hugo Aronson, Montana's "galloping Swede" who is chairman of the Interstate Oil Compact Commission. Gordon Simpson, Dallas, president of the Independent Petroleum Assn. of America, is to address the association of Sept. 16.

This project was originally reported completed with a 150 barrel per day potential. Saturday, this was changed to 460.92 barrels per day. The well was originally finished Aug. 18. Pay is from Devonian perforations between 11,950-56, 11,966-72 feet.

Operator traced with 15,000 gallons and the gas-oil ratio was too small to measure. Gravity of the oil is 41.1 degrees and depth of the hole is 12,008 feet. Drill site is 660 from north and west lines, of section, labor 9, league 250, Borden CSL survey.

Corrected Data Filed On Well

A corrected flowing potential for the Martin County project, Pan American No. 2-A Homer L. Shook, was reported Saturday.

This project was originally reported completed with a 150 barrel per day potential. Saturday, this was changed to 460.92 barrels per day. The well was originally finished Aug. 18. Pay is from Devonian perforations between 11,950-56, 11,966-72 feet.

Drilling Operations Again Skid In West Texas Region

Drilling rig operations renewed a summer month slide this week after a one well recovery last week, according to the weekly survey by Reed Roller Bit Co.

The total rigs operating in the Permian Basin dipped to 316, a 11-rig slide from last week's total of 327. There were 359 rigs making hole in the Basin last year on the same date. The total is the lowest mark since June 8, 1958, when 310 were counted.

Lea County, N. M., held the lead with 40 in operation. Andrews County was second with 34 and Ector County reported 25.

Howard County held steady with three rigs, the same as the previous week. Borden County dropped from five to three. Dawson held even with four. Garza dipped from nine to eight, and Glasscock was steady with two.

Martin County reported two, the same as last week, and Sterling County had only one, a drop from two reported previously.

Counties included in the Reed survey, with previous week's totals in parentheses, are:

Andrews 34 (32), Bailey 1 (1), BORDEN 3 (5), Chaves 4 (4), Cochran 3 (4), Coke 3 (2), Crane 13 (14), Crockett 3 (3), Culberson 4 (3), DAWSON 4 (4), Dickens 2 (2).

Ector 25 (28), Eddy 12 (14), Fisher 4 (4), Gaines 19 (20), GARZA 8 (9), GLASSCOCK 2 (2), Hockley 5 (6), HOWARD 3 (3), Kent 1 (1), Lamb 1 (1), Lea 40 (40), Loving 4 (6), Lynn 1 (1), Lubbock 0 (1), MARTIN 2 (2), Midland 9 (9), Nolan 3 (0), Pecos 13 (13), Reagan 3 (2), Roosevelt 3 (2), Runnels 4 (5), Reeves 6 (7), Schleicher 5 (5), Scurry 10 (8), Sutton 2 (2), Stonewall 4 (4), STERLING 1 (2), Tom Green 2 (2), Terry 4 (2), Terrell 0 (2), Upton 7 (9), Val Verde 1 (1), Ward 14 (11), Winkler 16 (18), Yoakum 8 (10), TOTAL 316 (327).

Cosden To Final New Mexico Test

Cosden Petroleum will plug back the No. 1 Maxwell, a Lea County, N. M. project, for completion in the Wolfcamp. The hole is bottomed in the Devonian at 12,346 feet and pipe was set in the Wolfcamp zone at 11,710 feet.

In Crane County, Cosden's No. 1 Waddell is making hole at 4,923 feet. This project is a test for the Ellenburger.

New Firm Opens Midland Outlet

ODESSA—Foreman Brine Sales & Service, Inc., Odessa, has opened a branch office in Midland, A. L. Hickerson, president of the company, has announced.

Joe Ardis, Midland district sales engineer, will manage the new office, located in the Wilco Building.

The company operates brine stations throughout the Permian Basin for servicing the drilling industry, workovers and well completions, and water softening.

NORMAN, Okla. — Twenty-nine copies of "Our National Forests" had to be removed from the University of Oklahoma library because they were damaged by termites.

Oil Tax Situation Analyzed In Book

By MAX B. SKELTON

HOUSTON (AP)—The average motorist in Maine pays a larger portion of his state's tax income than does a vehicle operator in a major oil state.

Fuel and vehicle taxes in Maine account for about 42 per cent of the state's total tax collections.

The same taxes in Louisiana amount to only 18.5 per cent of the state's income.

Crude production and similar taxes paid by producers and oil companies take care of a large portion of the tax bills in the oil states. In most cases this lightens the load of direct taxes levied on the motorist.

Fuel and vehicle taxes, however, account for 25 per cent or more of the total state taxes collected in all but five of 48 states. Along with Louisiana, the exceptions are California, another major oil state, Massachusetts, Washington and New York.

A special study of state fuel and vehicle taxes is in the 1959 edition of "The Oil Producing Industry in Your State." The Independent Petroleum Assn. of America has released a special edition in conjunction with the 100th anniversary of the oil producing industry.

New Jersey motorists carry the heaviest tax load, New Yorkers the lightest.

Taxes paid on fuel and vehicles amounted to 47.4 per cent of New Jersey's tax income in 1957. New York's share was only 18.2 per cent.

Texas ranks 19th among the 48 states—Alaska and Hawaii were not included in the study.

The fuel and vehicle share of Texas taxes was 34.9 per cent. This was practically matched, however, by production taxes and other levies paid by the oil and gas operator.

Texas collected 229 million dollars in 1957 in retail fuel and vehicle taxes. The state picked up another 197 million dollars from oil operators. The operators paid over 128 million dollars in crude production taxes and over 41 million on natural gas.

Total state taxes collected by New Jersey in 1957 exceeded 280 million dollars, with 133 million coming from fuel and vehicles. New Hampshire, another state with no oil production, collected over 33 million dollars, including over 15 million from fuel and vehicles.

WTCC Names 5 To Board

ABILENE — Appointment of five members-at-large of the executive board of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce was announced Friday by R. C. Jordan of Amarillo, president of the regional chamber.

The five are Sam Walk of Del Rio; F. V. Wallace, Amarillo, secretary of Shamrock Oil and Gas Corporation; Frank H. Kelley, Colorado City, district landman of Magnolia Petroleum Company; W. G. Swenson, Stamford, manager of Swenson Land and Cattle Company; and Price Campbell, Abilene, chairman of the board of West Texas Utilities Company.

Appointment of the five completes the 19-member executive board of the WTCC.

Ten members are elected by local directors on a district-by-district basis in the 132-county region served by the chamber. Among the 10 district vice presidents is W. H. Collyns of Midland, editor of Midland Reporter-Telegram, district No. 6.

Oil Servicing Unit Plans For Meeting

Members of the Association of Oilfield Servicing Contractors and those interested in the oilwell servicing industry are reminded to attend the September meeting and dinner of the central Permian Basin chapter at Day's Restaurant in Odessa, on Thursday. The OASC was founded in West Texas in 1956, and has grown from a small Texas group to a national organization of 20 chapters in 12 oil producing states.

ALL MEDIUM DEPTH

Tests Scheduled For South And West Sides Of Basin

Five wildcat locations were reported staked Saturday morning, one each in Loving, Schleicher, Pecos, Ector and Reeves Counties.

Durham Drilling Co. will dig the No. 11 Scarbauer-Edison as a wildcat 11 miles northwest of Penwell in Ector County. It will go to 6,250 feet with rotary tools on 480 acres. It is 1,980 from north and 1,353 from east lines, section 1, Block B-14, PSL survey.

In Reeves, Paul C. Teas will drill the No. 1-State W. W. & W. H. Hammons about eight miles northwest of Pecos. It is 330 from south and 3,070 from west lines, of section 12, block C-19, PSL survey. It will seek pay at 4,500 feet with rotary tools.

Callo Oil Co. will stake the No.

1-5-AL TXL as a Loving prospect about 11 miles northeast of Mentone on 80 acres. It will go to 5,000 feet. Drill site is 330 from south and west lines, of section 5-53-2 T&P survey.

Chambers and Kennedy will drill the Schleicher County wildcat about 22 miles east of El Dorado as the No. 1 Wilson. It will go to 4,700 feet with rotary. Site is 660 from north and east lines, section 44, block 8, TW&NG survey.

Argo Oil Co. will dig the No. 1 J. C. Neal as a Pecos County wildcat about 20 miles northeast of Fort Stockton. It will go to 6,500 feet with rotary tools. Drill site is 660 from north and west lines, of section 42, block OW, TT survey.

'seniors'

MEET THE OF THE COSDEN FAMILY...

This is the 15th in a series of special Cosden presentations recognizing the long and valued services of those employees who have been associated with the Company 15 years or longer. Cosden is proud of the scores of workers who have contributed their efforts through so many years toward the success of the company.

"The No. 1 guy to earn his pay," that's Pedro Diaz his fellow workers commented.

"Everybody at the refinery knows him," they added.

Mr. Diaz has an effervescing personality that has endeared him to all who work around him.

Born in Rio Verde, Mexico, May 27, 1908, Mr. Diaz came to Big Spring in 1917. He was employed by DeWitt Shive on a farm near Coahoma before joining Cosden in May 24, 1944. He is a Mechanic B at the refinery and is usually found washing or greasing any of the company owned automobiles or trucks.

He and the former Natibada Salazar of Colorado City were married Jan. 2, 1932 in Big Spring. They have eight children, Eduardo, Pedro, Inez, Maria, Elvira, Margarita, Natalia and Bivijina.

A member of the Catholic Church, Mr. Diaz likes to hunt duck and other game birds in his spare time.

The Diazes own their own home at 215 NE 8th.

Heavy Duty

Welding the gavel in the House of Representatives is just one of the forms of exercise for Speaker Sam Rayburn. The veteran Texas legislator and Capitol Architect J. George Stewart, left, teamed up in Washington, D.C., in lowering helium-filled, lead-encased copper cornerstone box—weighing 82 pounds, 8 ounces—into place at the East Central Front Extension of the Capitol. Among articles in the box were congressional documents, an old coin found during excavations, photos of the cornerstone laying ceremony and newspapers. In rear is Republican Minority Leader Charles Halleck of Indiana. (AP Wirephoto).

Labor Day Shut Down Is Planned

Big Spring will be shut down tight for Labor Day. Nearly every business establishment in the city plans to present closed doors to passersby. City and county offices will not be open until Tuesday. Federal agencies, the post office and the banks will be inactive. A skeleton crew will keep the mail coming in and going out but no deliveries will be made. Many Big Springers are out of town—taking advantage of the long weekend for trips to other cities. Highway patrol officers, their force augmented by all Department of Public Safety uniformed personnel, were working around the clock in a desperate effort to keep the expected volume of accidents and deaths on the road to a minimum. Schools, which had just really got under way as closed down and kids, freed from their classes, are working overtime to get in full benefits from the extra time off. Highways are reflecting the holiday in stepped up volume of traffic. Bright blue skies on Saturday sent many holiday celebrants to the lakes for fishing, boating and skiing. Golf courses teemed as plodders of the ancient game plodded from hole to hole.

Government Regulates Bulk Of Milk Disposal

WASHINGTON (AP)—The role of government in regulating the sale of milk has grown in 25 years to a point where more than half the commodity sold wholesale by farmers moves under pricing eyes of federal or state agents. The demand for such regulation—largely from producers—has grown so in recent years that officials believe it possible that the great bulk of the milk will come under government control within five years or so.

authorizing regulation of prices. They are Alabama, California, Florida, Georgia, Louisiana, Maine, Massachusetts, Montana, Nevada, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New York, North Carolina, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, South Carolina, Vermont and Virginia. Federal regulation covers markets in which interstate movement of milk is involved. State regulation is limited to sales within the state.

About 40 per cent moves under federal pricing regulations and about 15 per cent under state control. Government intervention into the sale of milk has grown with favor since broad participation was started during the early days of the Roosevelt New Deal to help restore an agriculture flattened by depression. Even today farm groups which seek retreat of government from agriculture's economic life favor milk regulation. Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson has been pushing policies designed to lessen government's role in farming. But he exempts milk regulation. His position is similar to that being followed by the American Farm Bureau Federation. The Agriculture Department regulates marketing of milk in 77 major marketing areas of the country. It sets minimum prices which handlers are required to pay dairymen. But it does not set wholesale or retail prices. These prices are left to competition. In addition, 18 states have laws

The primary purpose for government intervention in the beginning was to help producers get better prices. Often dairymen were at the mercy of a relatively few handlers. Since then there has developed the further goal of trying to assure consumers of ample supplies at all times. In this regulation, government serves as a third person in the determination of prices. The other two are the producer and the handler or distributor. In this role, the government is supposed to look after the interest of the consumer as well as the producer. The problem of regulating milk prices has grown with technological developments. Improved facilities for handling and trucking milk have tended to make milk produced in distant markets competitive in local markets. The effects of government regulation is much broader than the individual markets actually covered. Competitive factors make it necessary that most unregulated markets adjacent to the regulated ones fit their pricing policies to the latter.

Ike's Gift Baby Elephant Dies

BRAZZAVILLE, Middle Congo (AP)—The 2-month-old elephant presented to President Eisenhower died Friday just before he was to be placed on a plane for shipment to the United States.

The elephant was a gift of Fulbert Youlou, premier of this semi-autonomous republic in the French community.

The elephant was a pale gray, not white as reported earlier. It was given to Eisenhower during his stay in Paris.

Red Chinese Are Faking U.S. Money

TOKYO (AP)—Japanese police say Communist China may be flooding the Far East with counterfeit U.S. 20 dollar bills to try to undermine confidence in American currency.

A police source reported today the bills have been found in Japan, South Korea and Okinawa.

He said there is evidence the counterfeit notes would have a face value of $3,200,000. Arrests have been made in Japan, including four crew members of U. S. President Lines ships.

Garage Levelled By Blaze

Only a few charred crossmembers were left standing Friday afternoon, when this garage burned out as a total loss. It belongs to Willard Sullivan, 1504 Johnson. A brisk breeze fanned the flames through the structure quickly and spread burning embers as far as a block away. Firemen arrived in time to save the home, although a few burned patches were reported on the roof. No contents loss was reported to firemen and the report lists the structure as insured. It was surmised that some youngsters playing in the garage may have started the blaze.

McAllen Lad Finds Publishing Success

By B. F. KELLUM
McALLEN (AP)—"I always need advertising so call me anytime you wish."

That's the sentence usually found in the McAllen Tuesday Times, edited and published by Jud Manning.

"Advertising, 10 cents a line." (I will put your name in sort of large letters for no extra charge).

The Tuesday Times is attracting lots of attention in the Lower Rio Grande Valley. The editor and publisher has just turned 16.

Jud established the Times about a month ago and now the mimeographed newspaper has grown to such circulation that the publisher has added a carrier boy to his staff.

Profits for one week were $14 and Jud says he expects to add additional staff, both reporters and carriers.

"I just got bored with nothing to do," Jud, a fifth grader, said. "My mother who used to work on a newspaper suggested that I might start one." He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Manning.

The Tuesday Times, which sells for 10 cents a copy and is usually 8 pages on 8x10 paper, is circulated in a fashionable McAllen district.

The paper's first editions came out once a week. But the future editions are slated for twice a month.

"I had to cut the editions down to twice a month with school coming in so I could get my lessons," Jud said.

The paper keeps readers informed of what is happening to families in the circulation area.

After one family had a little trouble on an outing at Falcon Dam, a headline read:

"Kreidler food stolen on dam camping trip."

Not missing a bet on advertising, Jud sold an ad to a boy who is selling Christmas cards.

Next day he went to the father of the boy and sold him an ad which read:

"Please buy John's Christmas cards so his mother and I won't have to."

News items in the paper are not always earth shaking—but they are written in the editor's original style and carry lots of local interest.

This one for example:

"Stephanie Horgan was running backwards and lost her balance. She fell and sprained her wrist. It was about an average sprain."

Another one:

"David Kuhl was bitten by a dog on his paper route. He was rushed to the hospital. It was not serious so they gave him his polo shot. He was very disgusted about that."

Bronc Rider Sets Record

DENVER — Marty Wood, defending world's champion bronc rider from Bowness, Alberta, jumped to second place in the 1959 championship standings last week after winning the bronc riding at the Colorado State Fair rodeo in Pueblo for the third year in a row.

Wood made bronc riding history in the process. He won the second round at Pueblo with a sensational, highspurring ride on Jake, a twisting, plunging sorrel gelding, that earned a total marking of 196. It was the highest marking scored on a saddle bronc this year and possibly the highest marking ever made.

Wood won a total of $541 at Pueblo to jump from fourth place in the standings to a spot just behind the front running contender for the title, five-time champion Casey Tibbs, Nemo, S. D.

The Colorado State Fair rodeo, which paid a total of $14,875 to the winners in five events, was one of two major cowboy contests last week. The Will Rogers Memorial rodeo in Vinita, Okla., divided $12,015 to the winners in six events there.

MEN IN SERVICE

Army Pvt. Donald E. Pederson, son of M. O. Pederson, 502 Benton St., Big Spring, recently arrived in Korea and is now a member of the 7th Infantry Division.

Pederson, a fire direction control chart operator in Battery D of the division's 8th Artillery, entered the Army last February.

The 18-year-old soldier, son of Mrs. Marguet Palumba, 4107 Herchel, Dallas, attended Big Spring High School.

Army Pfc. Richard N. Cross, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dixie B. Cross, Stanton, recently qualified as expert in firing the M-1 rifle while assigned to the 2nd Armored Cavalry Regiment in Bamberg, Germany.

Cross, a driver in the Howitzer Co. of the regiment's 2nd Battalion, entered the Army in July 1957 and arrived in Europe in Feb. 1959.

The 20-year-old soldier was graduated from Stanton High School in 1957.

James W. Forrester, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Forrester Sr. of 1805 Runnels, and John D. Flynn, son of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Flynn of 1201 Johnson, graduated from recruit training Sept. 11 at the Naval Training Center, San Diego, Calif.

The graduation exercises, marking the end of nine weeks of "boot camp," included a full dress parade and review before military officials and civilian dignitaries.

In nine weeks of instruction, the "raw recruit" is developed into a Navy Bluejacket, ready for duty with the fleet.

Tandy J. Kell, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Kell of 811½ Gregg, Big Spring graduated from recruit training Sept. 4 at the Naval Training Center, San Diego, Calif., after nine weeks of instruction.

Light Agenda On Tap For City Commission

A relatively small agenda faces the Big Spring City Commission at its regular meeting Tuesday. The Commissioners meet at 5:15 p.m. in the Commission room of the City Hall.

The third reading will be given the annexation ordinance bringing the Big Spring Country Club into the city. Consideration of a paving release from the city to Clarence Eubanks is set. And the commissioners will read and consider approval of the 1959 tax rolls.

Auto Rally Set

MONTE CARLO (AP)—The Monte Carlo auto rally for 1960 will start from nine European cities on Jan. 20, it was announced Saturday. The cities are Athens, Glasgow, The Hague, Lisbon, Frankfurt, Paris, Rome, Oslo, and Warsaw.

He'll Stay Busy

WEST JORDAN, Utah (AP)—Gene Fullmer's manager, still fumbling over a this-or-nothing setup for Gene's middleweight title defense, said Friday night the new NBA champion will fight at least twice a year—and won't fight unless it's for the title.

Dottie's Kick Causes Kicks

Dottie Ferragamo, 33, mother of three, has the wrath of neighborhood ladies in Malden, Mass., while male residents of the city look on with smiles. Dottie's physical therapy is dancing—in the backyard of her home. Persistent calls by the women to police protesting her dancing bring the answer that she's not breaking any law. Curvaceous Dottie, 34-25-35, said her 55-year-old mother, Mrs. Mary L. DeMarco of neighboring Revere, Mass., will join her in a series of exotic dances in the backyard. (AP Wirephoto)

Death Verdict Being Delayed

AUSTIN (AP)—Justice of Peace J. H. Watson said Saturday he will wait until an autopsy report is available before giving a verdict in the death of Mrs. Jeanette Hodgson, 22.

The body of the pregnant housewife was recovered Friday about 300 yards from the spot in Lake Austin where she disappeared two days previously.

David Hodgson, a University of Texas student, and his wife were on an afternoon outing on the lake in a rented canoe. Hodgson told police he lost his balance and fell from the canoe.

He said he did not see his wife fall, because he was struggling to take off a pair of heavy lace combat boots that kept pulling him beneath the surface. The husband said he searched vainly near the canoe but never saw his wife. He was taken from the water by a passing boat.

Jake Roberts Slates Monday Meeting Here

Jake Roberts, Abilene, district engineer for the Texas Highway Department, was due here Monday for a luncheon conference with county commissioners court and Chamber of Commerce representatives.

Roberts recently returned from Austin where state highway officials discussed potential programs of work for 1960. Passage of the one-cent federal gasoline tax by Congress also may have some bearing on plans which Roberts may discuss with the group.

Crash Victim Rites Are Held

Mrs. Grace Greeson, 61, mother of Clyde W. Greeson, 311 Princeton Street, was killed Friday morning in a dense fog near Diboll in Southeast Texas.

Her husband, William Greeson, 71, was hurt critically as their car and a school bus collided in the fog. Sixteen school children were only slightly injured as was Lloyd Dewall, 61, driver of the bus. Dewall was making a left turn when the bus came in contact with the Greeson automobile. Mrs. Greeson appeared to have been killed outright. Her husband was rushed to the Lufkin Hospital.

Funeral for Mrs. Greeson was held at 2 p.m. Saturday at the Fogel-West North Side Chapel at 415 Berry Road in Houston. C. W. Greeson left here Friday morning on learning of the mishap.

SO RECENTLY REMOVED from the status of student to the ranks of instructors, this trio naturally gravitated to a favorite campus meeting place—a cold drink machine. In the picture, Jerry Kelley, biology instructor in the local high school, draws a cupful after serving refreshments to two other new additions to the faculty, Billie Holloway, at left, and Theora Calverley, Texas Tech graduate, who will teach American history. The other two are alumni of East Texas State College, Commerce. Miss Holloway will teach French.

COPPER TOOLING is a rewarding hobby of Mary Frances Eaton, at right, after a day spent as counselor at Runnels Junior High. This is not her first year of association with the schools, but she is a newcomer to Big Spring, having recently arrived from Panhandle. Teaching her first year is Diane Davies, librarian in Runnels, who is a graduate of Texas Woman's College.

New Teachers Take A Bow

IT HELPS TO GET AHEAD on the assignments given to pupils in the sixth grade of Washington Place School, according to Covita Jernigen, in picture at left, who is beginning her teaching career this year. A resident of Lepanto, Ark., she was graduated from the University of Arkansas. Hobbies include music, art, golf, bridge and reading.

SPEECH THERAPIST Betty Hilton is a product of Trinity University, where she received her bachelor and master degrees. She came to the Big Spring school system from San Antonio, where she was connected with an elementary school. In the picture Miss Hilton shows picture cards to Janice Boland, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Boland, 2301 Scurry, for assistance in pronunciation of words. Her duties will carry her to various schools in the city.

A GOOD START on his own private team is the group of lively sons in the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Travis Jr., 402 Park. Coming here from Clarendon College, where he was an athletic coach, Travis will be basketball coach at Howard County Junior College. Gary Travis, who is five, seems delighted with the whole idea of a family group picture; David, three, is taking the matter very seriously, and Robin, 22 months old, is not sure that he likes the goings-on.

AN INCENTIVE TO EFFORT is the display of art work produced by pupils in the second grade, which is taught by Averil Harris, another of the beginners in the teaching profession. A former resident of Dallas, Miss Harris is a graduate of Baylor University in Waco. At the present time, she, like all the teachers and pupils in the old Central Ward building, is waiting eagerly to move to the brand new Marcy School, now under construction.

'ROUND TOWN

With Lucille Pickle

Our Town is a beehive to the south with such great interest in the golf tournament being held on the course at the Big Spring Country Club. However, there are many visitors in town to just see their friends and family while others have taken off to other places for the Labor Day weekend.

Being entertained in the home of DR. AND MRS. W. A. HUNT this weekend are DR. AND MRS. RAYMOND CAVNESS of San Angelo, and DR. AND MRS. TOM SPENCER of Levelland. Dr. Cavness is president of San Angelo College while Dr. Spencer is president of South Plains College.

A family gathering will be the big Labor Day event for members of the J. B. Pickle family. JAKE PICKLE and his daughter, Peggy, are here from Austin, and the JONATHAN LANCASTERS with Dede, Meredith and David came from Kermit.

New people in town are MR. AND MRS. HARRISON TINGLE, who moved here from California and are making their home at 204 Eleventh Place. They are cousins of Mrs. W. D. McDonald.

MRS. GOBEL GENE MUSIC and her daughter, Angela Ruth, have completed their visit here in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Brownrigg. Mrs. Music, the former Marie Brownrigg, and Angela were in Abilene Friday to visit her sister and family. Mr. and Mrs. Cleve Cullers, from here, they went to Elk City, Okla., where they met Mr. Music who is conducting a meeting. They will leave soon after the revival is ended for Nashville, Tenn., where he is working on his Ph.D. at Vanderbilt University.

MR. AND MRS. HARVE PORCH of Galveston are guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alva Porch who entertained with a supper for them Friday night. Two sisters, Mrs. Edna Malone and Mrs. T. E. Stringfellow, and two friends of long standing, Mrs. Ruby Frier-son and Mrs. Minnie McMillan, joined them for the occasion.

MRS. CHESTER MATHENY is to return Monday from Lubbock where she is visiting her sister, Mrs. H. R. Pickle, and Mr. Pickle.

MR. AND MRS. LEE PORTER left Saturday for a stay in Dallas before they go on to Corpus Christi where they will visit their son and his family. Mr. and Mrs. Dean Porter and Stevie.

Other visitors at the Dean Porter home about Sept. 13 will be Mrs. Porter's parents, MR. AND MRS. EARL REYNOLDS. The Reynoldses plan to leave here Tuesday and spend several days at points in the Valley. They will then go to Corpus where they will visit several days and bring Mrs. Porter and the baby here with them while Porter is away on business.

Diadra Hinton of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram women's staff, visiting here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph F. Hinton, stopped by The Herald, her old stomping ground, for a visit with the staff. With her parents, she spent Friday and Saturday in Ruidoso and was to leave for Fort Worth today.

MRS. LELAND YOUNKIN who has been visiting her parents in Pacific Palisades, Calif., returned home just before our terrific heat set in and was almost ready to turn around and go back.

MR. AND MRS. JACK HENDRIX with their friends, Dr. Dale Hunsaker and Wilda Drake of Midland have returned from an automobile trip to points in California. They visited in Los Angeles, Hollywood, Long Beach and saw Disneyland, Marineland and Knott's Berry Farm.

Earlier, after leaving Bloomington, Ind., where he is doing work toward his doctorate, Hendrix visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Hendrix, in Lineville, Ala. His wife met him in Dallas.

W. T. McREE is in Lansing, Mich., where he will be until the end of the week attending a school for professional scouters.

MRS. RAY ADAMS, who had planned to be moved to Dallas this week, has remained here while her little 16-month-old son, Andy, undergoes treatment. Adams is already in Dallas where he is employed.

CAROLYN MILLER, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin M. Miller, is now a full-fledged school ma'am. Having completed her degree work at TCU in three years, she was graduated in August. After a quick trip to Palestine to be in a wedding and a flying trip home to get the rest of her things, she was taken to Dallas the first of last week by Mrs. Miller. Carolyn and former classmates at TCU are all rooming together. She is teaching arts and social sciences in the new Macon in north-east Dallas.

GAIL SCHMIDT, Houston, is spending the weekend here as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Pickle, whom she knew when the Pickles resided in San Angelo.

MR. AND MRS. C. O. NALLEY have gone to Wichita, Kan., to spend the Labor Day holidays with Lt. and Mrs. Russell Scott and children. Mrs. Scott is the former Janice Nalley.

Lamesa Baptist WMU

LAMESA — Mrs. Don Burnett was re-elected president of the Northside Baptist WMU when members of the Lucy Belle Stokes and Annie Armstrong Circles met jointly Monday evening at the church for a business meeting and Royal Service program.

Mrs. Ollie Ainsworth brought the devotion for the evening, and following the opening prayer by Mrs. C. C. Gibson, the program was presented by Mrs. Mervie Cornett, Mrs. Howard Miller, Mrs. Violet Ashely, Mrs. J. F. Carpenter, and Mrs. Annie Stains.

Twin Ring Vows Are Said Friday

LAMESA — Friday evening, Marilyn Grace Barron and Johnny Key exchanged wedding vows in a double ring ceremony in the chapel of First Baptist Church.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Son Key and Mr. and Mrs. Beachy Barron.

The Rev. Virgil Barron officiated for the rites after the program of wedding music, presented by Connie Nix, organist, and Barbara Barkowsky, vocalist.

Three baskets of gladoli at the altar stood before cathedral tapers in branched candelabra and a traditional archway entwined with emerald greenery.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of Chantilly lace and taffeta, fashioned with Sabrina neckline, molded bodice of lace complemented by long sleeves and full ballerina skirt accented by a wide band of Chantilly lace embroidered in clusters of sequined medallions.

Her illusion veil, fingertip length, was secured to an upstanding band of seed pearls and sequins. Her bouquet was an orchid showered with stephanotis and satin streamers.

Sue Barron was her sister's maid of honor. She wore a street-length dress of red satin, and her headpiece of red tulle was caught by tiny white flowers and white satin bows. She carried a single long-stemmed white rose.

The bridegroom's cousin, Guy

Kimison, was best man, and Ross and Robert Barron, brothers of the bride, were ushers. Flower girls were her nieces, Debra Dean, Joni Hancock and Cynthia Barkowsky.

Registering guests at the reception held in the parlor of the church was Mrs. Ross Barron, sister-in-law of the bride.

Upon their return from a wedding trip to Santa Fe, N. Mex., the newlyweds will reside in Lubbock.

For traveling, Mrs. Key selected a beige sheath with matching jacket and brown accessories. She attended Lamesa High School where she was a member of a cappella chorus, FHA and the Booster Club.

Her husband, a graduate of Lamesa High School, has been employed by Piggly Wiggly Stores and Edgmon Radio and TV. He will enter Tech this fall.

Miss Barron was honored with a bridal shower at the Midway Baptist Church chapel Wednesday afternoon.

To mark the red and white color theme of the wedding, the serving table was laid with white lace over red, and the centerpiece was an original design featuring red mallee and white wedding bells with the betrothed couple's names on white satin streamers in red letters.

Alternating at the serving table were Sandra, Linda, and Elena Esmond and Vicky Roberts. Joyce Williams registered the 35 guests who attended.

Hostesses were Mrs. Earl Esmond, Mrs. A. J. Taylor, Mrs. Garland Maxwell, Mrs. O. N. Williams, Mrs. Travis Dean, Mrs. Thomas Howard, Mrs. Bill Love Jr., Mrs. W. C. Riddle, Mrs. Conley Esmond and Mrs. Harvard Roberts.

Love Poem Read Before Wedding Rite Saturday

MRS. JIMMY ARDEN ANDERSON (Photo By Bradshaw)

The reading of Elizabeth Barrett Browning's poem, How Do I Love Thee? preceded the nuptial ceremony which united Patricia Nell Rogers and Jimmy Arden Anderson in marriage Saturday evening.

To exchange double wedding ring vows before Thomas E. Cudd, minister of the Main Street Church of Christ, the couple stood before an arch of greenery combined with baskets of white gladioli and as-ters. White tapers in candelabra made the background for the altar arrangement in the church.

Parents of the two are Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Rogers, 1809 Lancaster, and Mr. and Mrs. John B. Anderson of Forsan.

Walter Kreidel, who read the poem, was furnished supporting music by a chorus composed of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Conley, Mrs. V. E. Sorrells, Mrs. Betty Ray Clifton, Mr. and Mrs. David Elrod and Stanley Peurifoy. They also sang O, Promise Me and The Wedding Prayer with the traditional wedding marches. The Lord Bless and Keep You served as the recessional.

The bride's father gave her in marriage. Her gown of white slipper satin, ballerina length, was princess style, with appliqued medallions of lace placed at random on the skirt. Pearls sprinkled the lace. Knife pleats added a back interest, beginning just below the pointed waistline. A short lace jacket with stand-up collar and tapered sleeves covered the bodice with a scooped neckline.

On a white Bible, she carried a white orchid showered with lilies of the valley.

The bridal veil, which was attached to a pearl-encrusted bandeau, was borrowed from Mrs. LeRoy LeFevre; something old was the engagement ring of her mother, and she wore a blue garter. A handkerchief, which had been brought from Belgium by Mrs. Neil Frazier as a gift to the bride, was something new in her trousseau, and in her shoe she carried pennies minted in the birth years of the couple.

Mary Frances Oliphant, who attended the bride as maid of honor was frocked in cream brocade and carried bronze chrysanthemums.

Roy Lee Newsom was best man, and ushers were Sammy and Benny Barnett, cousins of the bridegroom.

Taperlighters were Penny Carol Frazier, niece of the bride, and Nancy Jo Anderson, sister of the bridegroom. The two were dressed in rose cotton satin and wore wristlets of flowers.

The couple's parents assisted them in receiving guests at the reception, which followed in the church's fellowship hall. Mrs. Joe Lloyd Fields was at the register.

White silk marquisette covered a satin underlay on the bride's table, where a grouping of white tapers stood in a base of silver leaves. At intervals on the full skirt of the cloth were individual silver leaves.

A lazy susan held the three-tiered cake, also placed on silver leaves, and decorated with white frosting roses and lattice work. A miniature bride and groom stood at the peak.

Serving in the house party were Mrs. Conley, Mrs. Walter Stroup, Mrs. Gilbert Gibbs, Mrs. D. S. Riley, Mrs. H. G. Caglio of Abilene, Mrs. James B. Frazier, sister of the bride; Mrs. Dan Hayhurst of Weatherford, Kay Coleman and Jane Cudd.

Guests from out of town included Cagle, Hayhurst, Mrs. Winnie Shaw of Dallas; Mr. and Mrs. John Gecho and Mrs. Joyce Wilson of El Paso; Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Hudson of Waco; Mr. and Mrs. V. C. Cagle of Sweetwater and Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Edins of Calipatria, Calif.

For a brief wedding trip, the bride chose a suit of soldier blue cotton with fitted blue and white overblouse. Her half-hat was of white felt leaves and her accessories were black.

The couple will be at home in Big Spring, where the bride is to be employed by Cosden; she is a graduate of Big Spring High School, where she was a member of the National Honor Society, the student council and the Corral staff. She was in the Shorthand Club and Tri Hi Y and was a pep squad member.

A graduate of Forsan High School, the bridegroom will be a sophomore in Howard County Junior College; he was president of the Theatopian Society and the football squad in high school.

REHEARSAL DINNER About 30 attended the rehearsal dinner given Friday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Bruce Frazier. Served in picnic

Londa Coker Is Bride Of W. Wayne Henry

White candles and flowers formed the background for the Saturday evening nuptials of Londa Carol Coker and Wilson Wayne Henry when they were married in the sanctuary of the First Baptist Church.

Dr. P. D. O'Brien officiated at the double ring ceremony for the couple, whose parents are Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Coker, 204 Jefferson, and Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Henry of Shamrock.

Mrs. Ray Dabney, organist, played Ave Maria, I Love You Truly preceding the ceremony. She accompanied Mrs. Jake Douglas who sang Whither Thou Goest and The Wedding Prayer as a benediction.

The wedding party approached the altar down aisles illuminated by wedding tapers accented with white satin bows and green foliage. The white aisle cloth led to a white satin covered prie die.

A graduated arrangement of candle trees trimmed with white gladioli and green foliage, and candelabra holding cathedral tapers were used to decorate the altar along with jewel ferns on the altar.

The bride entered on the arm of her father. She wore a floor length gown of peau de soie, fashioned with a yoke of re-embroidered Alencon lace. The simple lines of the full skirt were beautified with hand-applied panels of Alencon lace.

Held to the snug fitting bodice, the bustle back fell to a chapel train. Sleeves, full at the shoulder, tapered to points over the wrists. A beaded headpiece, designed to match the dress, held a veil of imported French illusion.

The bridal bouquet was a cascade arrangement of white orchids and stephanotis showered with white satin picot ribbon with love knots and bows.

FOLLOWERS TRADITION
Traditionally, the bride carried something old which was a white Bible given her by her grandmother, Mrs. J. Archer of Lamesa; her dress was new as were her pearls, a gift of the bridegroom; a handkerchief was borrowed from Mrs. Buel Fox; the blue garter has been worn by 13 girl friends before her; in her shoe was a sixpence given by Jimmie Lee Dabney of Shamrock, cousin of the bridegroom.

The bride attendants were dressed in identically fashioned frocks of Dior blue silk organza with sweetheart necklines. The sleeves were fully puffed and gathered to a narrow band just below the elbow, and full street-length skirts were attached to fitted bodices. Slippers were matching as were the Dior head bows of horsehair and veilet ribbon. Their arm bouquets were of red roses.

Gloria June Coker was her sister's maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Louis McKnight of Del Rio, Mrs. Charles Johnson of Las Cruces, N. M., Mrs. Milton Davis and Kathy McRee.

The bridegroom's father attended as his best man. Ushers were Jim Hune, Bill Dick and Tommy Simms, all of Lubbock, and Jerry McMahen.

Kay Archer of Ackery and Donna McDaniel, both cousins of the bride, served as flower girls, while Don and Larry Coker, also cousins of the bride, lighted the candles.

When the couple returns from a wedding trip to Lake Altus in Oklahoma, they will make a home at 4005 21st in Lubbock.

The bride's traveling suit was of navy blue wool. The box jacket was belted at the hip line with grosgrain ribbon, and that fastened in a bow in front. Her accessories were matching in color as was her veiveteen derby. She used the orchid from her bouquet as a corsage and wore white clear water pearl earbobs and necklace.

The bride attended HCCJ for one year and was a business major at Texas Tech during the past year.

Henry is a senior at Texas Tech and is a member of Alpha Tau Omega fraternity and plans to enter law school upon completion of his work at Tech.

RECEPTION
The bridal couple, their parents and feminine attendants greeted guests at a reception in the church parlors following the rites. Ann Price of Midland was at the register.

On the bride's table, laid with white net over satin, a centerpiece was made by a candle in a blue and white carnations with blue ribbon streamers was used on the bride's table which was laid with white linen.

Foursome tables where other guests were seated held small bouquets of blue and white flowers.

Miss Coker presented the bridesmaids with the earbobs they wore in the wedding.

Places were laid for 23 by the hostesses who presented the honoree with a chafing dish.

REHEARSAL DINNER
Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Henry entertained for 35 members of their son's wedding party Friday evening at Coker's Restaurant.

Blue flowers were used in the arrangements placed at points on the table.

The bridal pair presented gifts to the attendants at this time.

Out of town guests included Mr. and Mrs. J. Archer and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Archer of Ackery; Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Head, Jim and Kay, and Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Seydler, Abilene; Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Thomas Jr., Debra and Gerry, Lamesa; Mr. and Mrs. Ricky Duiker, Jan and Matt, Amarillo; Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Potter, Roscoe; Mr. and Mrs. Bob Fox and Vicki, Midland; Mr. and Mrs. Ran Henry and Randa, and Mrs. Ollie Woods, Shamrock; Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie Hamilton, Andrews; Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Baxter, Wichita Falls; and Mr. and Mrs. Kirk Baxter, Lubbock; Lt. and Mrs. Frank Chafey, Ricky and Jeanette, El Paso.

BRIDESMAIDS LUNCHEON
Three hostesses joined in entertaining at luncheon for Miss Coker's bridal attendants and other guests at the home of Mrs. J. D. Jones Saturday at 12:30 p.m. Mrs. Roy Reeder and Mrs. Dwain Leonard were cohostesses.

Odessa Meeting
The West Texas Council for Visually Handicapped Children will hold the monthly meeting at 8 p.m. Tuesday, at the Crippled Children's Center, Muskingum at 13th, Odessa. Asher Thompson, of Lubbock, chairman of the State Commission for the Blind, will be the speaker.

Miss Hunt Is Bride

LAMESA — Mary Ann Hunt became the bride of James Edward Cornelius in a ceremony Saturday afternoon in the Lamesa Church of Christ, W. T. Hamilton, minister, officiated for the twin ring rite.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Hunt, and Col. and Mrs. J. E. Cornelius, Rochester, N. Y.

A chorus from the church sang the traditional wedding music and accompanied the soloist, Ronny Acuff. Baskets of white gladioli before palms were tied with aqua ribbon to enhance the wedding setting.

Mrs. Cornelius' father gave her in marriage. She wore an imported silk organza wedding gown over satin, with a moulded bodice and full shirred skirt. Her shoulder length illusion veil floated from a satin headpiece, and she carried white gardenias encircled with roses.

Her only attendant was Nita Fortenberry of Lovington, N. M. She wore aqua crystalline over aqua taffeta styled similarly to the bride's dress, and her flowers were white mums tied with aqua streamers.

Best man was James Hunt, Ushers were Larry Marshall and Don Chiles.

The wedding reception was held at the Woman's Study Club Building.

Mrs. Cornelius is a graduate of Lamesa High School and Abilene Christian College; her husband is a graduate of Edison High School, Rochester, N. Y., and attended the Air University at Gunter Air Force Base.

The couple will reside in Roswell, N. M.

DARING MODESTY

Soft Folds Form The Chief Interest Here

Sleek and svelte with a wonder of a neckline by Ceil Chapman, who has a way with a drape. A soft fold falls across the bosom to reveal a bodice of the same fabric, making the décolleté appear more daring than it actually is.

The wide shoulder drape is part of the same fold which sweeps across the back to form a collar. The waist is finished with narrow cording.

A pleated panel gives ease of motion to the back of the skirt. Silk, shantung, faille, crepe, satin, peu de soie, are suitable materials, or for a simpler version, novelty cottons.

From this size chart select the one size best for you:

| Size | Bust   | Waist  | Hips   | Neck to Waist | 16 1/2 inches |
|------|--------|--------|--------|---------------|---------------|

MRS. EDDIE CARYL PETERSON

Couple Weds In Lamesa; Will Live In Oklahoma

LAMESA — Weatherford, Okla., will be the new home of Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Caryl Peterson, who were married in the Lamesa Church of Christ Friday evening by W. T. Hamilton, minister.

Mrs. Peterson is the former Nancy Clair Bowers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Bowers; she is a graduate of Lamesa High School and Abilene Christian College. Her husband, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Peterson, is a graduate of Lamesa High School, and will be a pharmaceutical student at Southwestern State College this year.

The double ring ceremony was read before a background of wood-wardia palms, baskets of white gladioli and wedding tapers in pedestaled candelabra centered with a flower-entwined archway.

A chorus from the Church of Christ sang the wedding marches and accompanied Ronnie Acuff, who sang the wedding solos.

Bowers escorted his daughter and gave her in marriage. She wore a gown of Chantilly lace and nylon tulle fashioned with sweetheart neckline and long tapering sleeves. The fully shirred skirt fell gracefully from a basque V waistline and featured cascading tiers of nylon ruffles beaming from the redingote style overskirt edged in hand-clipped lace.

A crown of seed pearls secured her fingertip illusion veil and she carried white orchids and roses.

The maid of honor was Bobbie Wright, and bridesmaids were Linda McPhaul and Mrs. H. G. Hancock of Monahans, sister of the bride. The trio wore identical dresses of melon silk organza with shirred bodices, drop shoulder sleeves and bouffant skirts. Their hats were halos of white flowers, and they carried long stemmed white roses.

Best man was Dan Chiles; ushers were Larry Marshall and Kirk Wiggins, cousin of the bridegroom. Wedding guests attended a reception at Woman's Study Club Building.

For traveling, Mrs. Peterson selected a pure silk dress in red and black design fashioned with scoop neckline, bracelet sleeves and full skirt. Her accessories were black.

Candlelight Ceremony Read In Midway Baptist Church Saturday

LAMESA — The Rev. Jesse Casle officiated for the candlelight ceremony Saturday night in the Midway Baptist Church when Woody Wicker of Pecos took Carol Beard as his bride.

The couple's parents are Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Beard of Lamesa, and Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Wicker, Pecos.

Cathedral tapers lighted the aisles of the church and the altar where baskets of white gladioli, a bridal archway and a prayer bench stood before a background of palm trees.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Wittner were vocalists and Sue Barron, pianist, for the wedding music.

Escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father the bride wore a gown of peau de soie designed with a moulded bodice featuring a neckline of peau de ange lace encrusted with seed pearls, long tapering sleeves, and a full skirt which flowed to a chapel train and was embellished by side panels held by clusters of pearls.

The maid of honor was Joe Ann Howard. She wore a blue velvet sheath, with cowl neckline dipping to a low V in back, and blue organza overskirt. Her headpiece was a white velveteen bow, and she carried a colonial bouquet of white carnations.

Dressed identically were the bridesmaids, Sue Green, Sandra Esmond, Linda Esmond and Bobbie Wright.

Harold Wicker of Abilene was his brother's best man. Ushers were Bobby Clement, Larry Marshall, Billy Waters of Pecos and J. P. Schroeder of Austin.

Junior members of the wedding party were Regina Flowers and Geneva Capwell, candlelighters; Danny Furr of Lubbock, ring bearer, and Sheryl Capwell, flower girl.

Guests for the wedding and reception at the bride's home were from Lubbock, Midland, Pecos, Brownwood and Fort Worth.

Mrs. Wicker's traveling outfit was a blue silk sheath with embroidered bodice and a brief jacket which featured a plunge collar and waistline bow. Her accessories were black.

MRS. WOODY WICKER

After honeymooning in Colorado, the newlyweds will reside in Abilene, where Wicker will continue his studies as a senior business major at Hardin-Simmons University.

G-City Pair Joins Games Of Duplicate

Two players from Garden City joined the group of duplicate bridge enthusiasts at the Cosden Country Club Friday afternoon in the games sponsored by the Ladies Golf Association of Big Spring Country Club.

Thirteen tables were required to accommodate the assemblage.

Winners, as announced for north-south, were Mrs. Hudson Landers and Mrs. Morris Patterson, first; Mrs. Bert Badger and Mrs. George McGann, second; Mrs. Bill French and Mrs. Fred Kasch, third; Mrs. Winston Harper and Mrs. Doug Orme, fourth.

Playing east-west position, winners were Mrs. James Duncan and Mrs. R. H. Weaver, first; Mrs. Dan Greenwood and Mrs. J. D. Robertson, second; Mrs. R. R. McEwen Jr. and Mrs. Charles Pierce, third; Mrs. Pete Harmonson and Mrs. Floyd Mays, fourth.

Socials Are Slated By Lutheran Group

A reception and a dinner were planned Thursday evening by the Lutheran Women's Missionary Society when they met at the church parish hall.

The affairs are to be in honor of the new pastor and his family, who are expected to arrive during the latter part of this month or the first part of October.

Films, shown for the group by Chaplain Marvin Berkeland, dealt with the teaching of the Bible to pre-school children and to adults. Hostesses, Mrs. Will Cadin and Mrs. Halvard Hansen, served refreshments to 16, with a guest, Mrs. Donna Allard.

The next meeting was announced for Oct. 1 in the home of Mrs. Kenneth Nellermeo.

Pythian Sisters In Birthday Observance

LAMESA — Seventeen members were present when the Lamesa Pythian Sisters' Temple observed its 17th birthday anniversary following a regular meeting Friday night at KP Hall.

Hostesses were Mrs. Ed Feltz, Mrs. Lynn Corbin, Mrs. Will Veazey and Mrs. Rube Kelley. An all-gold centerpiece was used as the table centerpiece, and the cloth of green was accented in gold print.

Announcement was made that Mrs. Glenda Dunigan of Tahoka, District 12 deputy, will pay her official visit to the Lamesa group Sept. 17. At that time an initiation will be staged.

A farewell gift was presented Mrs. Edith Blackstock, who is moving to Graham to make her home.

College Heights Board Has Meet

Recommendations to be presented to the College Heights Parent-Teacher Association were discussed Thursday when the executive board met at the school cafeteria.

At the meeting slated for Sept. 10, the board will recommend that pins be given all students achieving perfect attendance during the year; each month some member will be given a subscription to the Parent-Teacher Magazine; two outstanding members be given life membership cards; parents volunteer to sit for a teacher during an emergency when she is called from her class.

Announcement was made of a school of instruction to be held at the First Presbyterian Church on Sept. 9 from 1:30 until 3:30 p.m.

Lomax HD Club Has Program On Fashion

A demonstration on fashions for men, women and children was given for members of the Lomax Home Demonstration Club Thursday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Gene Perry. Mrs. Jimmie Dee Jones, HD agent, was the speaker.

Roll call was answered by six members who told of the method for making an emergency dessert. Welcomed as a new member was Mrs. S. R. Parum.

The club will be the hostess group for the HD Council, slated for 2 p.m. in the agent's office on Sept. 14. This is a change in date due to the Labor Day holiday.

Mrs. Ceell Long will host the next club session on Sept. 17 at 2 p.m.

Better Crusts

Chicken fat may be used in a crust for a meat pie; it makes pastry tender and helps the browning process.

Fashions, Dance Set For Cosden

A Back-to-School theme will pervade the fashion show which will be presented for Cosden Women's Association and their guests Thursday at a luncheon at Cosden Country Club.

Styles will be modeled by wives of Cosden employees or by women employees of the corporation. Mrs. Steve Baker of Margie's Dress Shop, sponsor of the show, will be the commentator.

Mrs. Champ Rainwater will furnish organ music for the 25 models, who will display fashions ranging from school wear to after-five attire. A gift certificate will be awarded during the event.

Fort Worth Guests

Guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Wren, 700 East 14th, are their children, Mr. and Mrs. Don Wren, Lesley and Lori, Mr. and Mrs. O. T. Steward, Dee Ann and Jan, all of Fort Worth. The Stewards are also visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Steward.

Tickets, which are priced at $1.50, will be available at the door.

For fun during the weekend, the association is sponsoring a Gay 90's dance Saturday evening at the club, beginning at 9 o'clock. Reservations must be made not later than noon Saturday, it was announced by Mrs. Bill Davis, president of the women's group; tickets will be 75 cents per person. Prizes are planned for the best costumes, and a floor show will be presented. A buffet will be part of the festivities, and there will be orchestra music. Mrs. Davis stated.

The affair is open to members of Cosden Club and also the Big Spring Country Club, along with their out-of-town guests.

CHARGE ACCOUNT!

Designed especially for and available only to high school students

your honor is your credit

Because we have great faith in the responsibility and good judgement of young Americans, we have devised a special way of permitting high school students to charge purchases to their account.

Here's how it works . . . On his or her own signature a TEEN-ACCOUNT customer may charge purchases up to $12.00, payable at $1.00 per week for 12 weeks. As payments are made and the balance owed declines, further charges may be made at any time, as long as the total balance outstanding does not exceed $12.00, the difference will be payable at time of purchase.

Parents . . . Our Teen Accounts are really called Honor Teen Accounts. Parents are not asked to co-sign or be responsible in any way. Teens get their credit strictly on their honor.

This early credit experience will really help teens to a better understanding of the value of money and money-management, and at the same time encourage thrift and develop self-sufficiency.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

| Day       | Book            | Chapter | Verses |
|-----------|-----------------|---------|--------|
| Sunday    | Acts            | 20      | 34-35  |
| Monday    | Ecclesiastes    | 5       | 18-20  |
| Tuesday   | 1 Thessalonians | 3       | 8-13   |
| Wednesday | Isaiah          | 52      | 7-8    |
| Thursday  | Ephesians       | 6       | 5-8    |
| Friday    | Luke            | 14      | 7-11   |
| Saturday  | Psalms          | 22      | 25-27  |

A Devotional For Today

The righteous shall flourish like the palm tree . . . Those that be planted in the house of the Lord shall flourish in the courts of our God. They shall still bring forth fruit in old age. (Psalms 92:12-14.)

PRAYER: Teach us O God, to dedicate our lives to Thee and to Thy world. Use us as instruments in Thy hands to bring help and encouragement to others. Renew our hearts for Thy honor and glory. We pray in the name of Christ. Amen.

(From The 'Upper Room')

The Stranger Within Our Gates

The Texas Employment Commission forecasts that during the next fortnight, some 5,000 Mexican nationals will have arrived in our vicinity.

Actually the number will be much, much greater for the figures are for Howard, Martin, Glasscock and Sterling counties. They do not touch the great farming county of Dawson, nor the considerable farming acreage for Scurry and Mitchell counties.

But even those cleared through the local TEC office constitute a sizeable number—a number that would equal the combined populations of the major communities lying outside of Big Spring in the four-county area.

Virtually all of the Mexican people coming here will be from most humble circumstances. Although there has been considerable to do in the past about the accommodations required for them (and they are certainly entitled to respectable, safe and healthy surroundings), most of the visitors will be moving into a standard superior to anything that they have known. They will be receiving wages exceptionally high for their homeland but legally on a par with those paid for our domestic laborers.

But to provide for the adequate housing and care of these people and to assure them fair wages is not the end of our obligation. We must remember that they are in a strange land and dealing with people who speak a strange tongue. Their customs are frequently different from ours.

We need to go out of our way to assist these people as a gesture of good neighborliness and friendship to our sister republic of Mexico. We should be on the alert to allay their fears and uncertainties, to treat them with dignity and respect, to send them back to Mexico with a new understanding and friendship for their neighbors north of the Rio Grande. Perhaps what they find here may stimulate them to greater advance and further cement the bonds of American brotherhood.

Paying For What We Want

Legislation has been passed adding one cent to the federal gasoline levy. While this may not provide all the revenue needed for all the projects laid out, it will go a long way toward breaking the financial log-jam of the federal highway program.

Naturally, we have an interest in that because of Inter State 20 (U. S. 80) as well as U. S. 87 and their projected improvements.

Beyond this, however, we have an interest in the national picture because the policy was maintained to require revenues before expenditures can be made. In our opinion it would have been a grievous mistake to have taken the easy route of floating bonds against potential yields. The federal debt situation already is precarious enough without going on to the market with a bunch of side issues for specialized programs. Such a policy could in time become chaotic, not to mention being immediately inflationary.

If more of our spending were predicated upon an ample supporting tax, we would find the federal budget coming into balance and progress being made toward decreasing rather than increasing the federal debt. If the people demand a service, they should be willing to pay for it; otherwise they should forego the service.

Last Laugh No Laughable Matter

PARIS—While the principal members of the Western alliance bask in the glow of well-earned harmony on the other side of the world, the stage is set for a tragedy that could undo all the West's careful calculations for peace. What is happening in India, seen in the light of Communist China's vast potential power, overshadows every other event.

This is true at the very time that President Charles de Gaulle of France is trying desperately to bring an end to the war in Algeria, which virtually all Asian and African peoples regard as a colonial war. The longer that war continues the greater is the threat of alienating millions of uncommitted peoples around the globe.

When Madam Vijaya Lakshmi Pandit, wife of President Eisenhower in London she gave him a warm personal invitation from her brother, Prime Minister Nehru, to visit India and her own assurance of what an enormously heartening effect such a visit would have.

Nehru's dilemma could scarcely be more painful. He sees the ruin of his policy which was to maintain friendly relations with the West and with the Communist powers, and particularly with Red China. Those close to him are profoundly concerned for his future and for the future of India.

Critics of Nehru's neutralist policy may feel that they can now enjoy a little academic laughter at his expense. After all, he elected to try to cooperate with the Communist tiger. But recrimination is at this moment a luxury the West cannot afford.

Ever since the Dalai Lama fled from the Communist invaders who had overrun Tibet and took refuge across the Indian border, Nehru has sent one note after another to Red China's Premier Chou En-lai, and there has simply been no reply.

The lake-over in Tibet seemed at least to have a rational motivation, although unjustifiable. Besides its immense strategic value, there is said to be great mineral wealth in a country almost wholly undeveloped by the nomadic peoples who for centuries have lived their own isolated life.

But the attack on the outposts of the northeast frontier seems naked and deliberate hostility. This is wild, mountainous, inaccessible country.

The independent state of Nepal, between Tibet and India, and the Indian protectorates of Sikkim and Bhutan are also reported to be threatened. It is this pattern of hostility, coupled with the silence from Peiping, that has brought Nehru nearer to despair than at any time during the struggle following independence to unite India and raise the abysmally low standard of living. What the Chinese action seems to mean is the beginning of a course of invasion and conquest that must sooner or later threaten the existence of the Indian government.

At the conference of Asian nations in Bandung, Nehru and Chou En-lai worked closely together. Nehru enunciated the five principles deriving from Buddhism and stressing mutual tolerance and the dignity of the individual. Chou En-lai joined Nehru in endorsing the five principles and the two appeared to be friendly collaborators for peaceful coexistence. With a common border of 2,500 miles Nehru believed that the two great Asian powers could live in harmony. His disillusion is all the greater because his hopes had been so high.

At the same time at home oppressive Communist rule in the state of Kerala produced widespread protests and rioting on such a scale that the central government had to intervene. Extensive help for the Indian Communist party has come through the mass sale of books printed in Russia and sold in India for a few cents a copy. In other ways, too, help has come from the Russians, while Premier Khrushchev has said publicly that the Soviet Union has no interest in the Indian Communist party.

Communism, particularly among disaffected and often jobless intellectuals, is also a threat in Calcutta, with its vast refugee population. Calcutta has a large Chinese population of uncertain loyalty. With thousands of refugees sleeping nightly in the streets the danger of an explosion is very real.

Yet, Nehru, according to those close to him, still clings to the belief that it is futile, in the instance of Tibet, to appeal to the United Nations, as the Dalai Lama wants to do. Nehru's reasoning is that since Red China is not a member of the U.N. and, therefore, could not come under its discipline, it would be needlessly dividing the world organization to take the issue to the General Assembly.

As a morale builder President Eisenhower's visit would be extremely helpful. It has been suggested that India would not welcome such a visit coming as a stop after the trip to Moscow. But Nehru himself has sent word that this would make no difference and he would be delighted to receive the President after his journey to Soviet Russia.

The President would get a great welcome in India and he would see for himself the enormity of the task that the Indians confront in trying to move into the 20th Century. He would see, too, that the West, for all its harmony, has no reason to feel the slightest complicity about the state of the world.

Weather Saves Gloria

BLACK RIVER FALLS, Wis. (AP)—Thanks to a change in the weather, Gloria, the Gordon Rudkins' cat, is back with the family again.

Gloria was missing for several days after Mrs. Rudkins stored winter coats and jackets in a zippered plastic bag. When the weather turned cool, a daughter, Rachel, opened the bag in search of a jacket.

Sure enough, there was Gloria—thirsty, hungry and happy about the change in the weather.

Buyer Gets Highly Diluted Offering

By J. A. LIVINGSTON

Suppose a securities dealer said to you: "I can let you in on a deal. Give me $618,750. For it, I can let you have a 31 per cent common stock interest in a company with a net worth of $351,000. After you put up your money, the net worth of the company will be $645,750. So, your 31 per cent would be worth an average $200,000."

Your shrinkage, right off, would be 68 per cent. You'd probably say, "Whoa, man, did I dig you straight!"

Yet, this is a real, honest-to-God Betsy Wall Street proposal pending before the Securities & Exchange Commission.

Great American Publications, Inc., which publishes Car Life, Speed Age, Motor Guide, and Sports Car Guide, and which recently acquired Saint Mystery magazine, is trying to raise a bit under $300,000 to expand operations and pay off a bank loan.

To this purpose, it has entered into a financial contract permitting a Wall Street security firm to sell its common stock to the public at a price which might gross the security dealers more cash than is netted to the company.

The eye-opening proposal as set before the SEC is as follows: Mortimer B. Burnside & Co., Inc., of 40 Wall Street (not to be confused with Willis E. Burnside & Co., of 55 Broadway, New York), has agreed to try to place 185,000 shares of Great American Publications common with investors at a net price to the company of $1.60 a share, or $312,000.

If Burnside succeeds—and note carefully that no commitment is made, only a promise to try—then his firm is entitled to buy 30,000 shares at 10 cents a share, or $3,000. In all, then, the company would realize $315,000 gross from 225,000 shares.

What will the public pay for this stock? That isn't indicated. However, the stock now is traded over the counter at $2.75 a share. At that price:

1. Investors would pay $618,750 for 225,000 shares. And these shares would represent 31 per cent of the 730,500 shares to be outstanding after the financing.

2. Mortimer B. Burnside & Co. would gross a profit of $303,750 as against the company's net receipt of $294,750. The contract calls for Great American Publications to pay Burnside expenses of 9 1/2 cents a share on the first 150,000 shares, 10 cents a share on the next 45,000 shares, and, finally, $1,500 for traveling expenses, or $20,250 in all.

Hawaiians Are Cautioned On Tourist Manners

HONOLULU (AP)—If Hawaii doesn't start treating tourists better, it may start losing them.

This is the opinion of Charles G. Braden, head of the Hawaii Visitors Bureau.

Braden's comments come after mounting number of complaints from visitors appeared in the newspapers here. He called them "potential danger signs for the future."

"Numerically," Braden says, "the complaints are few compared with the volume of tourists. And any time a house is full to capacity like ours, there are going to be gripes."

But, Braden adds, "all the same, I think the situation calls for attention now—before these storm signals develop into real trouble."

Most of the complaints seem to be the result of inefficient reservations for hotels and transportation, he says.

But there are other complaints as well. A La Jolla, Calif., hotelman claimed he was billed outrageously by a Honolulu physician.

A Michigan couple reported that a tour firm on the island of Hawaii overcharged and misrepresented its services.

A teachers' convention contended that a Waikiki night spot turned up its party again because "teachers do not spend enough money."

The warning bell from Braden was sounded in the midst of Hawaii's record tourist boom. A similar word of caution came from radio-TV star Arthur Godfrey when he visited the islands recently. He complained about the inefficiency and lack of discipline among beach hands at Waikiki.

II CORINTHIANS 4:5 "What we preach is not ourselves, but Jesus Christ as Lord." (RSV)

Augustine, one of the early church fathers, was in his early years a self-indulgent student at the University of Carthage. His life was full of complacency and compromise. Of this period he writes: "There sang all around me in my ears a cauldron of unholy loves." Augustine's standards of morality left much to be desired in this period of his life.

One day Jesus crossed his path and Augustine was never the same again. "You took me," cried Augustine, "from behind my own back where I had put myself all the time that I preferred not to see myself. And You set me there before my face that I might see how vile I was. . . I saw myself and was horrified."

That's what Jesus Christ has done for men in every generation, and he is doing it today for everyone who discovers him as the Lord of Life.

Around The Rim

You're Worth More Than You Realize

What with taxes going up, the cost of living climbing to new highs and wages staying amazingly like they have been, it may well be that you sometimes feel a little depressed. I can well understand why you should.

Dollars, so I am told by the pundits, aren't dollars any more. I forget just what they are worth (measured against a vague something when dollars were "normal" and worth 100 cents) but you have my word for it—a dollar just ain't worth that no more.

They're not worth a pittance of what they were in the days when George Washington, according to a story well bruited about, hurled one across the Potomac. I personally never believed that story about George. Not any more than I do the one about the cherry tree. I've read a lot about the first president and throwing a dollar away just doesn't fit his character at all. I'd be more inclined to believe he may have jumped the Potomac to get to the other side having heard someone say there was a dollar laying loose over there.

However, that's all beside the point. I repeat, if inflation, taxes, the hot weather we have been having and all that sort of thing has tended to lower your ordinarily buoyant spirits, I've a bit of information that should cheer you up.

Pal of mine, you're worth more today than you were when dollars were worth 100 cents instead of half as much. Yep, that's the cotton-pickin' truth—you can console yourself if you like, with the philosophical reflection that, come what may, you're a more valuable hunk of merchandise today than you used to be.

Here's how it figures out: Man, when all's said and done, is just a mess of chemicals, metals and salts. The bulk of what we seem to be is water—which has no particular value insofar as this particular debate is concerned. (I know—such a statement is utterly absurd; I, too, got my water bill from the city for the past month.)

But for the sake of this dissertation, let's assume that the water part of your body has little or, at the best, infinitesimal value.

So I repeat, you're a bundle of iron, calcium, sulphur, and so forth. We will not consider the fillings in your back jaw teeth. They were put there by your decision. We are only concerned with the together to produce you.

It has been generally agreed for a long time that the chemicals and metals which make up the human body, if one which make up and bought them would cost the grand sum of 98 cents.

In other words, if you had the trick of it, you could have gone into the market with 98 cents and bought enough materials to make another body such as your own. I'll confess that such information is a little deflating when first encountered but it's been kicked about for so long that it is no longer hurtful. We've just got used to it and accept it as one of the ironies of fate.

Now here's my good news—you could have gone out into the marts of trade a few years ago with your 98 cents and bought enough raw material to make another you. You couldn't today. No siree!

If you went shopping for such stuff this afternoon, you'd have to take along more than any pitiful 98 cents. You'd have to spend $1.17. It would take that much cash to buy enough iron, calcium, sulphur, etc., etc., and etc. to do the job.

So I repeat that you are worth more today, in spite of all the rough stuff that hovers overhead, than you were 10 years ago.

Do you feel better, chum? Oh, yes, I suppose you are right—the difference in 98 cents and $1.17 can be charged to inflation and hidden taxes. Nevertheless, if you buckle right down and try, thinking about it will make you feel a little happier about the whole boomtime mess.

Peace Is Where You Pray For It

It was on a beautiful warm morning when, with great anticipation, we passed through the heavily guarded Mandelbaum Gate into bustling and busy Israel. Along well-paved highways filled with traffic we sped through beautifully cultivated countryside to the amazing city of Tel-Aviv.

Less than 50 years old, the Israeli capital now boasts over half a million people. Its shop-lined streets are thronged and on all sides are evidences of creative enterprise. It is a Western city in an Eastern setting. You could easily imagine yourself in Europe or America as you force your way through the crowds.

And it is truly a melting pot, for to Israel have come Jews from all over the world. Here nearly two million from many countries make their home. I met Jewish people from China, Japan, Germany, Brazil, the United States—everywhere—who have come to dwell in the homeland of the Jews.

We lunched that day at the American Embassy with Ambassador Ogden Reid and his family. Our country is well represented by this capable and dedicated young diplomat.

In his work the ambassador is efficiently assisted by his whole family. He had suggested to his young sons that they try to learn Hebrew from the neighborhood boys. Although they had been there only a short time, they had picked up quite a few words. And the Reid boys had done an even better job teaching American to the neighborhood kids. They had also introduced baseball, and a street version of the American game was in progress in front of the ambassador's residence. One of the young Reids put a fast one over the plate to the delight of the local youngsters. The good neighbor policy was going strong.

After lunch we headed the car toward Galilee. It seemed scarcely possible that at last we were actually to see those storied places where Jesus Christ walked and taught in the long ago.

It was glorious countryside through which we passed on the three-hour motor trip. Every mile was steeped in the history out of which Judeo-Christian civilization developed.

The road wound through the beautiful valley of Esdraelon surrounded by Gilboa, Moriah and Carmel mountains. In those hills of Gilboa, David and Goliath battled, and there the famed Israelite-Philistine wars were fought. Then through the famed Armageddon Valley of the Book of Revelations—that fateful vale where prophecy tells us the last great battle between good and evil will be fought. Mount Tabor rose straight out of the Plain to dominate mile after mile of the route. Some authorities say this was the Mount of Transfiguration of the New Testament.

Then we passed into the Jordan Valley and finally, like a blue gem amidst the brown hills, there lay the famed Sea of Galilee. Down into Tiberias we went over a spiraling road, for it lies six hundred feet below sea level.

As twilight fell the Syrian hills across the lake turned golden, then pink, then blue, and finally a full moon rose red, then turned to silver. Sitting on the terrace of our hotel we could listen to the water softly lapping the shore as it had for centuries. The words of an old hymn came to mind:

"Oh Sabbath rest by Galilee!
Oh calm of hills above!
Where Jesus knelt to share with Thee
The silence of eternity,
Interpreted by love."

The next day will ever live in memory. The New Testament unfolded before our eyes and came alive as our guide, Reuben Ben Dori, a kindly and sturdy man took us to Magdala, Capernaum, Cana of Galilee, Bethsaida, and Nazareth—place names we had known all our lives. He showed us the hill of Beatitudes from which the Sermon of the Mount was preached and the place where the five thousand were fed.

We saw the rock which Jesus compared to Peter—the strong personality and faith upon which He would build His church. We saw where the disciples let down their nets for the draught of fishes, and where they were made fishers of men. There along the shore were little fishing boats and nets drying, just the same, no doubt, as when the disciples fished. And at the evening meal we dined on "Peter's fish" straight from the Sea of Galilee.

Meditating there by the seashore I thought of that storm when Jesus calmed the sea, or more importantly, when He quieted the fear-filled minds of His disciples. His clear voice rang out over the raging waters saying, "Peace, be still." And the New Testament dramatically says, "And there was a great calm."

I actually seemed to feel that calmness, for there was a strong and serene tranquility in that holy spot. Of course, one does not need to journey to far away Galilee to find peace. Wherever you are, if you will simply pray and believe and listen you will hear His speaking peace to your own storm-filled mind. What peace and rest in those mellifluous words, "Peace, be still."

GOP Congressmen Hold The Line

WASHINGTON — It's a good thing that, in the midst of his fateful trip to European capitals, President Eisenhower has not been confronted with unfavorable news from Congress. For, had the President's veto of the $1-billion public-works bill been overridden, the people of Europe, accustomed as they are to a parliamentary system of government, might have construed the roll call as a formal vote of "lack of confidence" in Mr. Eisenhower. This could have had a frustrating effect on the President's mission abroad, where a majority vote against the party in power customarily means a change in executive leadership.

Little consideration, on the other hand, was given here to this point by most members of Congress in their voting on the merits of the public-works bill that the President had vetoed. Since none of Mr. Eisenhower's previous 143 vetoes have been overridden by the necessary two-thirds vote of both houses, dramatic attention was centered on the final roll call.

The margin of one vote by which the veto was sustained may or may not reflect the maneuvers that went on inside both parties. For the issue really turned on what the folks back home would say in those districts where water-power projects and other federal construction proposals had been promoted.

Every member of Congress who had urged federal appropriations that would bring about the building of public-works projects in his own district naturally was on the spot. If he voted against the bill, there was the chance that political capital election by a rival candidate. If the member happened to be a Republican he had to consider the effect on his constituency, especially on the Republican voters, if he deserted the leadership of the President.

Some Republicans, but only a handful, did vote to override the veto. Only a small group of Democrats deserted their party leadership in siding with the President. The issue was decided primarily by a straight party vote of Republicans and Democrats, respectively. The small number who crossed party lines really wielded the balance of power. Maybe if there had been any way to determine in advance exactly how the voting would go, the defenders of the bill might have won out. The last-minute changes indicated that nobody was quite sure of the outcome.

CASE TOTAL CUT

Burns Pleased At Docket's Results

Wayne Burns, county attorney, and Ed Carpenter, county judge, expressed themselves well satisfied with results of last week's criminal jury docket in county court.

Forty cases had been set down on the docket. Twenty of that number have been stricken from the docket — convictions, acquittals, dismissals and pleas of guilty.

Another week's jury session in the county court is set down for Sept. 14. Judge Carpenter will summon another jury panel this week to report on the morning of that date. Some of the cases which were continued from the docket this week will be rescheduled and other cases will be added to make up a new list.

A heavy backlog of cases still remains on the county court criminal docket. Carpenter and Burns have pledged themselves to work steadily at reducing this swollen total and the jury dockets are steps in the program.

Four cases were tried before the jury. Two ended in convictions and two in acquittals. There were 14 pleas of guilty during the week. Four cases were ordered dismissed. Two bonds were forfeited when defendants failed to respond to summons to appear for trial.

Convicted by the juries in the cases tried were Raymond Lee Blackburn, DWI, 10 days and $50 and George Albert McGinn, carrying prohibited weapons, $100 fine. Acquitted was Paul Gail White, DWI and Edgar T. Jones, DWI.

Bonds in the case of Epifanio Ramirez, DWI, and Henry Clinton Mayes, DWI, were ordered forfeited. Judge Carpenter said he proposes to proceed with collection of the forfeited bonds if the defendants do not appear at the Sept. 14 term of court. Guilty pleas were offered and Independent finance campaigns in 30 communities not served by Community Chests or United Funds will be started starting Oct. 20. Buffalo Trail Boy Scout officials have announced.

General chairman of the special campaign is Frank Meyers, Pecos, and Dr. W. A. Hunt, Big Spring, is vice chairman. Champ Rainey, Big Spring, is chairman for the Lone Star district, which includes campaigns in Stanton, Garden City and Sterling City. Objective of the independent campaign over the council is $22,000 of the total budget.

DEAR ABBY

GIVE DAD A CHANCE

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am planning a church wedding. I am afraid to have my father walk me down the aisle because he is a constant drinker and I don't think he could make it.

He lives at home but hardly anybody speaks to him. I know a bride should have her father give her away, but I don't want to take the chance of having him show up drunk and spoiling my wedding. How do I handle this problem? BRIDE-TO-BE

DEAR BRIDE: Alcoholism is a sickness. Your father is sick and his family is certainly not helping him by refusing to speak to him. Perhaps if you told him that you'd be the happiest bride in the world if you could walk proudly down the aisle on his arm, he'd have an incentive to stay sober. Give him that chance — even if you have to have a favorite uncle or cousin standing in readiness as an alternate should your father disappoint you. You'll be doubly blessed for offering to honor your father in God's house.

DEAR ABBY: My husband got a promotion which means we have to move to upper New York State. I am very unhappy about it because I heard from a woman who once lived there that they are a very fast crowd.

She said the neighbors used to throw wild parties. One of their favorite games was for all the men to toss their house keys into accepted in the cases against Mike Equinones, DWI, $50 and three days; Leo Jones, DWI $75 and three days; Lloyd D. Graves, DWI $75 and three days; Melvin Smetzer, DWI $75 and three days; Bob Kirkpatrick, worthless check, $100 fine; Mrs. W. L. Trussell, worthless check, $100 fine (two other cases against defendant dismissed); Mrs. R. E. Schooling, worthless check, $45 fine (second case against defendant dismissed); Doroteo Rivera, transporting, $100 fine; Santiago Sierra Martinez, transporting, $100 fine; Pierce Albert Long, transporting, $100 fine; Sylvester Lara, transporting, $100 fine; Alfred Olivarez, transporting, $100 fine; Jose Angel Luera, transporting, $100 fine and Jack A. Kruse, worthless check, 31 days in county jail.

Cases against Pio Bustamante, aggravated assault, and Damas Galindo Barrera, carrying arms, have been dismissed.

Cases still pending on the docket include: Fred D. Null, DWI; Loydean Paul Hodde, DWI; Scott Cline Patterson, DWI; Dick Bohannon, worthless check; Bobby William Dyer, driving with license suspended; Charlie Beard, sale of beer and possession; Robert Joseph Murphy, transporting; Walter Allen Loving, DWI; Connie Stallard, aggravated assault; Shirley N. Williams, carrying arms; and Oscar L. Hill, driving with license suspended.

Wilson E. Speir, general chairman for the district, said that cost per boy (excluding funds for personal incidentals and possible side tours) will be $182. This includes round trip by air. A $25 registration fee now will reserve a place for the jamboree, he said.

Boy Scout Jamboree Plans Completed

Preliminary arrangements for the national jamboree to be held next July in Colorado Springs, Colo. have been completed by the Buffalo Trail Council, jamboree committee.

Activities begin with a breakfast at 8 a. m., and the assembly programs in the two young people's departments will recognize the emphasis for the day. In the morning service, the pastor, Rev. Milo B. Arbuckle, will recognize 51 young people of the church who go to college.

Students will participate in the evening service of worship and a fellowship hour at the close of the evening service will climax the day.

Membership Meet Set For Scouters

The 12th annual barbecue at the Buffalo Trail Scout Ranch has been set for Oct. 10.

The executive board of the council will meet there on that date as will the annual council meeting for election of officers. Following the barbecue at 5 p. m. there will be a council meeting and the traditional campfire program.

Independent Drives Planned In Council

General chairman of the special campaign is Frank Meyers, Pecos, and Dr. W. A. Hunt, Big Spring, is vice chairman. Champ Rainey, Big Spring, is chairman for the Lone Star district, which includes campaigns in Stanton, Garden City and Sterling City. Objective of the independent campaign over the council is $22,000 of the total budget.

She said the neighbors used to throw wild parties. One of their favorite games was for all the men to toss their house keys into hat. They'd pass the hat and each man would pick out a house key. He would go to spend the night at whichever house he had the key for. My husband says this is ridiculous, but my friend doesn't lie. Whom should I believe? MOVING NORTH

DEAR MOVING: Believe your husband. People who are interested in "games" like this one, wouldn't take a chance on getting their own wives. AFRYD

DEAR ABBY: I am only 22 years old and my husband is 24. Last night he took a radio to bed with him to listen to the baseball game. We have been married only ten months. I am afraid my marriage is falling apart. Can you tell me what to do? AFRYD

DEAR AFRYD: Be glad your "competitor" is a man instead of one woman. Many happily married men like baseball. It doesn't mean your marriage is "falling apart." Don't whine, nag or act hurt. Just stay right in there and pitch. CONFIDENTIAL TO MRS. S. S.: Your friend is wrong. It can happen any time. What's your problem? Annual Dawson Fair To Open Thursday

LAMESA — Plans are nearing completion for the Dawson County Fair to be held at the fair grounds in Lamesa Thursday through Saturday.

L. E. (Stut) Griffin and Mrs. Welton Blair are general superintendents for the fair, sponsored by the Dawson County Fair and Livestock Association, Inc.

The fair starts at 9 a. m. Sept. 10 with judging of dairy cattle, agriculture exhibits and ladies exhibits. Scheduled for 10 a. m. Thursday is judging sheep, poultry and rabbits.

During the afternoon, beef cattle and commercial steer judging will be held, and at 7:30 p. m. a style show will be staged just ahead of the 1959 Fair Queen contest and coronation.

The queen contest was inaugurated last year with representatives from the schools in Andrews, Borden, Gaines, Garza, Howard, Lynn, Martin and Terry counties competing. The 1958 queen was Carol Lee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Lee, a student at Texas Christian University this year.

Friday, swine judging will be held at 9 a. m. and all judging is to be completed before the final day of the fair.

Superintendents of the various divisions are: Livestock—general superintendent, Wayland Cox; cattle, Travis Dean; swine, Harold Hohn; poultry, A. B. Cohorn; sheep, Wendell Edwards, Bantams, E. L. Jones.

Agriculture — general superintendent, Gerald Birt; agricultural exhibits, F. J. McCauley, A. H. Smith, Dewey Drennan and Purvis Vandivere; educational and community agricultural exhibits, Ted Turner.

Women's division—general superintendent, Mrs. Lynn Corbin; educational booths, Mrs. Otis Peterson; textiles, Mrs. H. C. Roberts; culinary, Mrs. O. R. Black; crafts, Mrs. C. V. Ball; 4-H and FHA, Mrs. C. B. Grissom; flower show, Mrs. Charnell Jobe; art, Mrs. George Hart; style show, Mrs. V. W. Crump.

The fair is open to any and all agricultural products and livestock grown and—processed in Dawson, Terry, Lynn, Garza, Gaines, Andrews, Martin and Howard counties. Exhibits must be in place by 9 a. m. Thursday and must remain in place until 10 a. m. Saturday. Exception is livestock which may be removed after 4 p. m. Saturday.

Committees for the fair include: grounds—Wayland Cox, Ted Turner, L. D. Echols; publicity—Pat Ryan, Lee Roy Colgan and Andrew Essary; finance—W. B. Beeson, H. H. Derstine and Tim Cook; catalogue—Mrs. Welton Blair, Andrew Essary, Lee Roy Colgan and L. E. Griffin.

Directors of the fair and livestock association include L. D. Echols, Tim Cook, L. E. Griffin, Dr. C. B. Bucy, Carson Echols, Ben Dopson, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Turner, W. B. Beeson, Wayland Cox and H. H. Derstine.

First Fall Festival Is Planned By St. Thomas

With the addition of booths, games, prizes and a gigantic giveaway, this year the St. Thomas Catholic Church's annual barbecue emerges as the First Fall Festival.

City Park, from 4 to 8 p. m., Saturday Sept. 19 will be the time and place for this event.

A country store, fish pond, cake walk, penny pitch, and numerous other booths and games will give the function all the atmosphere of the old-time county fair, with modern additions.

All these attractions will be open from 4 till 8 p. m. to the general public. Sponsors stress that there will be no charge for fair-ground admission. Tickets for the barbecue, which will be served from 6:30 'til 8:00 p. m., are $1.50 and 75 cents.

Booths are under construction now, directed by C. B. Andries. Plans for all activities are moving forward rapidly.

Another meeting of all committee chairmen with Fr. Francis Beazley is scheduled for the early part of the week.

Co-chairmen are Ed Settles and Mrs. B. P. Huchton.

Lamesa Shows Building Loss

LAMESA—The monthly building permit total in Lamesa hit its lowest mark in many months during August with only $55,500 in new construction starts.

There were only five permits issued; three for residences, one for a business storage and the fifth for a garage.

The monthly building permit total previously hit a low in July with only $63,362 on the books. Last year's August figure at $79,400 was the low in a record-breaking year. Permits totaled $3,158,831 in 1958, the first year building had surpassed the two million dollar mark. This year's total is already above the two million dollar mark with $2,060,046 issued for the first eight months of 1959.

Lamesa Church Plans College Program Today

LAMESA—"Off to College Day" will be observed by First Baptist Church here Sunday.

Activities begin with a breakfast at 8 a. m., and the assembly programs in the two young people's departments will recognize the emphasis for the day. In the morning service, the pastor, Rev. Milo B. Arbuckle, will recognize 51 young people of the church who go to college.

Students will participate in the evening service of worship and a fellowship hour at the close of the evening service will climax the day.

Austrians Are ABC Speakers

Gotfried Plachetack and Horst Stroboch, Austrian exchange students who are studying oil refining methods on a summer assignment with Cosden Petroleum Corp. here, spoke briefly to members of the American Business Club at the organization's regular luncheon Friday at the Settles Hotel.

Both said they had learned more than they would "in a year of college" and would carry favorable impressions of the U. S. and particularly Texas back home with them. They added they were grateful for the hospitality all the people had shown them.

A colored movie on their homeland, supplied by the Austrian embassy in Washington, was shown to the gathering.

Buddy Travis, new basketball coach at HJCC, was introduced as a new member while Chub McGibbon, Mel Ralph, Vernon Harmon, N. M. McMichael and Jerry Hughes were among the guests present.

New Commanders City's Salvation Army Arrive

Captains James G. and Lillian Jay, the new commanders of the Big Spring Salvation Army citadel, are now establishing themselves in their new quarters. They arrived in Big Spring last Tuesday from Lufkin.

The Jays succeed Capt. and Mrs. Fred Overton who have been assigned to Salvation Army posts in Cumberland, Md.

The Jays were married eight years ago in Dallas. They have three children, Carol, 6, a first grader at Cedar Crest; Jimmy, 2, and Kenneth, six weeks. They grew up together in Dallas and were both active in the Salvation Army at an early age.

Both graduated from Sunset High School, Dallas. He attended SMU and they graduated from the Salvation Army School for Officers Training in Atlanta, Ga., in 1955.

As new officers they were assigned to Corpus Christi for a period of 14 months. They then moved to Lufkin, where they were commanding officers for a period of three years until their assignment here.

Capt. Jay is past president of Angelina County Ministerial Alliance, just completing his term before coming here; was on the Board of Directors of the Kiwanis Club in Lufkin; and also on the Board of Directors of the Angelina Senior Citizens Council. Mrs. Jay served as second vice president of the Church Women's Association in Lufkin.

Before becoming an officer in the Salvation Army, Capt. Jay served four years in the Air Force. His entire four years was spent at Lackland Air Force Base in San Antonio where he worked in the Assignment Section.

Bandit Sought

FORT WORTH (AP)—A robber slugged one employe of the Lullaby Diaper Service with a pistol and forced the owner to sack up an estimated $3,600 in cash from a safe early Saturday.

Leon Neil, 27, was bruised and cut on the head.

Atom Power Plant

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Atomic Energy Commission has started development of a new and simplified nuclear power plant for Navy submarines and ships. The work will cost 18 1/2 million dollars.

School Critics Get Together Speak With More Authority

By G. K. HODENFIELD
AP Education Writer
Nearly 36 million American children troop back to school this month. They will find a shortage of about 135,000 qualified teachers and about 13,000 classrooms. Many of the schools they will enter are obsolete; about a third are potential fire traps. Nearly 75 per cent of the nation's high schools are too small to offer satisfactory programs. There is a serious shortage of counselors and guidance officers.

Even so, says Henry Toy Jr., president of the National Citizens Council for Better Schools, "In general, public education is getting better every year." "American parents, in ever-growing numbers, are demanding more and better education for their children. And in most places, they're getting it."

"The routine answer to questions about public education was 'All we need is more dollars.' Now we know that it is more than just dollars alone. What we really need is to get the public to support good public education."

Toy, a former business executive, says he got into education because "I went to a PTA meeting and opened my big mouth." That was in Oak Grove, Del., in 1946. For three years he worked with local and state citizens committees on education, and in 1949 was named president of the newly formed NCCBS.

For 10 years he has had an unusual view of public education in this country. He is devoted to improving it, and works full time at it — but he is a nonprofessional with no ax to grind, no side to choose.

These are some of the good things that Toy sees about public education in this country today. "School boards are becoming more courageous. Teacher morale is better. There is a better relationship between teachers and parents. It is no longer a disgrace to be a 'brain' or an egghead. The kids themselves have a greater respect for learning. We now have specialists in

Old-Style Push Mowers In Slow Demand, Dealers Say

By KAY LOVELAND
Remember the days when mowing the lawn meant getting out the old hand-push-type mower and sweating it out? The pusher got enough exercise to last a week. Seems as if those days are about over according to local lawn mower salesmen.

Midland's Highest Hill Built For Soap Box Derby

MIDLAND (AP)—The highest hill in Midland County is man-made.

Tons upon tons of earth were gouged from prairie lands to build the sloping hill in about six weeks as a track for the Midland Jaycees' soap box derby.

The hill rises 25 feet at its highest point.

Midland Jaycees labored to complete the track before the derby day deadline in July and they almost didn't make it. Rain slowed them. The Jaycees worked on the track until an hour before the first gravity-powered cars were flagged down the 900-foot strip.

The members of the Midland Junior Chamber of Commerce voted last January to sponsor the derby, and to go first class.

To do this, Jaycee leaders, among them Jimmy Allison, executive vice president of the Midland Reporter-Telegram and then president of the Jaycees, decided a man-made track was mandatory.

Other cities use sloping streets and highways as derby strips, but none of Midland's paved thoroughfares had sufficient slope.

So, while other Jaycees rounded up entries, held clinics and talked the virtues of a soap box derby as a youth welfare project, Allison, oil man C. H. Brockett and Bob Huddleston, an office supply company executive and now Jaycee president, concentrated on getting the track erected.

Midland's Highest Hill Built For Soap Box Derby

The City Council authorized building the hill on city park property. Heavy equipment manufacturers and distributors furnished earth-moving machines without cost. The equipment was powered by fuel donated by oil distributors. Other oil companies chipped in cash to meet incidental expenses. Several equipment operators gave of their time.

The Jaycees even induced heavy-equipment owners to send machines from as far away as Abilene, Lubbock and Amarillo.

City and county officials helped on engineering problems and by lending machinery.

On derby day, 78 boys raced down the track in their cars to give Midland Jaycees their moment of triumph.

Craig Neatherlin, 12, a native of Midland, took the top honors, winning a trip to the All-American Soap Box Derby in Akron, Ohio.

The Jaycees are looking ahead to their second annual soap box derby on an improved track. Plans are for a three-lane strip with asphalt surface. The present caliche-surfaced track has only two lanes.

The cost of the hill? Sponsors figure it would have cost at least $25,000 if built by a private concern. The hours of labor volunteered by the Jaycees? Uncountable!

Gasoline mowers are their best sellers too. They've sold approximately 30, nearly all of them in the $75 price range. An $85 electric mower is fairly popular, he said.

Late summer seems to be their peak selling period Shankel says. Looks like push mowers are headed for extinction, just like the Model A and the first airplane, dealers think. Someday our great-great-grandchildren will probably have to go to a museum to see what lawn mowing was like in the "old days."

"I've never been so Completely Satisfied with the Quality and Cost of my Eye Care and Glasses!"

1. "The first time I was fitted in glasses, lowest cost was my main consideration. This was a mistake. My vision was not clear and my eyes were uncomfortable."

2. "Then, I went to the other extreme. The cost of my glasses seemed far too high. Next time, I'd ask some friends about their eye care."

3. "When I felt I needed a change of prescription, several of my friends told me they received dependable eye care and fine quality glasses at TSO... all at reasonable cost."

4. "So, I had my EYES EXAMINED AND GLASSES PRESCRIBED AND FITTED AT TSO. I've never before been so completely satisfied with the quality and cost of my eye care and glasses."

'Blue Denim' Takes Serious Look Into Youth's Problems

"Blue Denim," starring three fast-rising young stars, takes a serious and compassionate view of a few of the major problems many teen-agers face today.

A Boy In Trouble

Brandon De Wilde isn't a member of the switchblade set; he's just an ordinary, decent kid who, out of ignorance, got a neighbor girl in trouble. In this scene from the dramatic and compassionate "Blue Denim," he illustrates the lack of understanding between himself and his parents that characterizes so many homes. His parents are portrayed by MacDonald Carey and Marsha Hunt.

"Blue Denim" stars Carol Lynley, Brandon De Wilde and Warren Berlinger. Produced by Charles Brackett and directed by Philip Dunne, this adaptation of the successful Broadway play by William Noble and James Leo Herlihy will show the Big Spring Sunday through Wednesday at the Ritz.

George Stevens' "Shane." He also received an Academy Award nomination for the role, the youngest actor ever to be nominated. Among his many stage credits Brandon has appeared with Helen Hayes in "Mrs. McTear."

Portraying the young boy who becomes emotionally and romantically involved with Carol, is Brandon De Wilde Brooklyn-born, Brandon was rocketed to theatrical prominence in the stage play, "A Member of the Wedding" and was given the Donaldson Award for the "outstanding debut performance" for that season (1949-50).

motion picture credits include "Teen-age Rebel," based on the play "A Roomful of Roses," in which he also appeared, and "Three Brave Men."

He later won the Redbook, Look and Photoplay magazine awards and the Hollywood Foreign Press Association's Golden Globe Award as the "outstanding juvenile performer" for his dramatic role in Brackets, who was assigned the producer's job of transforming "Blue Denim" to the screen was responsible for "The King and I" and "Titanic."

CINEMA COMMENT

By BOB SMITH

This is not the switchblade set. Here are no black leather jackets and motorcycle boots.

"Blue Denim" is a story of today's young people, caught up by the forces of adulthood they have not learned to cope with.

The film version, although it has been changed slightly (and since when hasn't this happened) retains all the beauty and force of the original.

The scene is Detroit, a middle class family—although it could be anywhere in the country. Young Brandon DeWilde is using the family basement for youthful experiments, such as cold deck poker, beer, all those kicks young men feel they must taste before giving out the last breath of childhood.

The neighbor girl, played by Carol Lynley, wanders over one day, the two find themselves trapped by fate, hormones and ignorance. They are decent kids, but they find themselves unable to control passions they haven't had time to get used to.

The girl, it turns out, becomes pregnant.

The kids desperately attempt to communicate with their parents, and find this is impossible; for this is the basic theme of the story. Instead, the boy ends up stealing his father's money to pay for an abortion attempt.

It's not that the parents are ignorant or stupid. They mean well. But there is a gap between the generations that cannot be bridged. It is here that the story draws its power.

The authors, James Leo Herlihy and William Noble, made an attempt at an honest story, and have succeeded; the script does not exploit a ready-made sex situation.

"Blue Denim's" power lies not only in the excellence of its story, nor in the power and art of its direction and acting; but mainly in the fact that the situation it tells about is all too frequent among the American people.

It is the kind of story no one, neither parent nor teen-ager, can afford to miss.

"The Sheriff of Fractured Jaw" is like a breath of fresh air in a stale room.

It is filled with all the old standard cliches that inevitably inhabit the run of the mill Western, but this time they're there strictly for laughs.

Kenneth More, a gun shy Britisher, arrives in Fractured Jaw, an American frontier town, and is mistaken for a gun fighter.

Sherriffs are so rare that the mayor pins a badge on More before he realizes what he's got into. But More has a special ability, proving that the tongue is more powerful than the sword—or six-shooter. He talks, guns drop.

And it's a good thing; More can't hit the side of a barn.

Having Jayne Mansfield around is a help, seeing as she's really an accomplished comedienne, when she wants to be. Language barriers help create more ridiculous situations which More exploits with

Church Jazz Artist Says Faith A Must

DENTON (AP)—Ed Summerlin, Denton musician whose jazz composition for a Protestant worship service is attracting national attention, says "I've found a man must have faith to function as an artist."

Summerlin has just returned from the national youth convocation of the Methodist church at Purdue University where he and eight student musicians from North Texas State College presented his composition to almost 7,000 persons.

The musical composition, first presented at the First Methodist Church here, was written for a John Wesley service.

Reading the service was Dr. Roger Ortmyer of the SMU faculty.

Reactions to Summerlin's composition at the convocation were varied, he said, as expected. However, he remarked even those who said they didn't like or understand the music seemed to feel the sincerity of his efforts, and expressed the thought that his experiment was good for the church.

Most delegates were of high school and college age.

"I talked to a lot of these young people," said Summerlin, "and the reception was fantastic. They seemed to understand what I was doing and liked it very much."

Summerlin's spiritual philosophy, which he says seems to have crystallized at the convocation, grew out of his close contact with the church. This began last spring when he was commissioned to compose his unique service by Dr. Ortmyer for presentation at SMU.

On returning from the convocation Summerlin said, "I'm convinced the church is the answer for an artist. A man must have faith in something beside himself to function as an artist. Having faith helps you be yourself. I know I've developed an inner calm I've never had before."

"One of the musicians in our group probably explained it best when he said he had previously played to satisfy his own ego. But since working in the church he has come to play to create—and his musicianship has improved because of that. I think that's something we have all experienced. Art and the Creator are closely involved."

Summing up, Summerlin said, "At least I feel, whether my music is worthwhile or not, I have proven that Protestant churchgoers will accept new music."

"And this is good. It has affected others. I've talked to some classical composers who said they wanted to write for the church, but never had because they thought their efforts might not be accepted."

"If something has been done that might stimulate all fields of artistic expression in the church, then my time has been well spent."

THE FRONT ROW

By BOB SMITH

Fred Short feels he learned a lot of useful things on his theatre tour.

He joined 29 other students for a fast-paced circuit of summer theatre across the eastern half of the nation and into Canada.

"It was rough going," Short reminisced. "Often, we'd get up as early as 5 o'clock in the morning to pile aboard the bus, and that same evening, barely make it to the next stop."

He "lived as how he slept through at least one performance, and it wasn't the fault of the actors. And he wasn't the only sleepy head."

In spite of the tight schedule, however, Short absorbed a lot of useful information on the tour. Since it was a regular college course, the tour's instructors held a critique following each performance. The visitors were given the opportunity to converse at length with the actors.

"Surprisingly," Short said, "it was the amphitheatres that were most interesting—perhaps because an amphitheatre is a rarity."

Acting-wise, Short found Canada's Shakespearean theatre topped anything else on the tour. Such was its impact that the H.C.J.C. drama instructor is planning a Shakespearean production for this year's season.

Las Artistas will hold its fall membership show Sept. 18, 19 and 20.

Show place will be in the old SUB building at H.C.J.C. Mrs. Bismarck Schaefer is chairman, and John Findlater is assistant chairman.

Entries will be for members only. The rules for the show are similar to those of last year, although this year's rules must still be finally approved by Las Artistas members.

Foreign news notes: "Star Light! Star Bright!" will be the Oct. 9-25 presentation of the State Fair in Dallas. The McGuire Sisters, noted singing team, will be starred.

Other featured acts will include the Ballet Espanol, flamenco performers; "Somethin' Smith and the Redheads, recording combo; Darvas and Julia, dance duo; and the Manhattan Rockets, precision chorus line of 24 girls.

The Takarazuka dancers from Japan, scheduled to appear in Lubbock Nov. 1, will be featured on the Ed Sullivan show today.

If you didn't see this exquisite Oriental display in the film, Sayonara, you may get an idea of what you missed by watching the TV show tonight. Better still, galivant off to Lubbock to see it in the flesh.

The Air Force band and Singing Sergeants will appear in the Lubbock Auditorium Sept. 25. Area band students are offered special prices. Further information from Lubbock Auditorium, care-of City Hall, Lubbock, Texas.

German Youth Fanatics Seen In 'Verboten!'

"Verboten!" is a story out of World War II, based on history in its re-enactment of the bands of youthful "Werewolves" who roamed Germany right after the close of the war, sworn to kill every foreigner, particularly Americans, even at the cost of their own lives.

The film shows at the State Thursday through Saturday. In "Verboten!" James Best is seen as a young GI who marries Susan Cummings, a young German girl. The romance is worked out against a background of plot and counter-plot making use of many thousands of feet of captured German films. Other important roles in the picture are portrayed by Tom Pittman as a terror-inciting "Werewolf" leader and Dick Kallman as one of his less vicious followers.

Problem

Kirk Douglas (above) is a marshal; Anthony Quinn is his best friend; Quinn's son is a killer, and Douglas must come after him—that's the big problem in the top Western film, "Last Train From Gun Hill," returning Thursday through Saturday at the Jet.

Fractured?

This film will fracture you, man. Ever wonder what would happen if a fast-talking Eastman were plunked down in the midst of a rip-roaring American frontier village? What does happen is "The Sheriff of Fractured Jaw," one of the most refreshing comedies on the Western theme since "Along Came Jones." But that's not the Engelman up there—it's his girlfriend, played by Jayne Mansfield. Sunday through Wednesday at the State.

Randolph Scott Thinks Westerns Are Here To Stay

Randolph Scott says the American public will never tire of westerns because the story of the West is the tale of people's unending fight for freedom.

"Throughout the history of the world," Scott says, "the greatest human dramas were brought about by the migration of people from one land to another."

Randy, who will be seen in "Westbound," considers the westbound, Thursday through Saturday at the Ritz, considers the westward movement of America a period in history when men reached far beyond their grasp.

"That's why," says Scott, "when I play in a western, it's more than just a role to me. I look at it as being more like a portrayal of an historical fact."

In "Westbound," Randy plays the manager of the Overland Stage Lines during the crucial period of the Civil War.
