Jovial Khrushchy Talks Turkey On Farm Tour

Enrollment At HCJC Is Nearing 500

Registration at Howard County Junior College passed the 400 mark Wednesday on the eve of first classes.

There were good prospects that the figure would be up around 500 by the time that the second round of signing by night students gets under way at 6:30 p.m.

After freshmen and Webb AFB students had signed Tuesday, 309 had cleared the business office. At 11 a.m. Wednesday sophomores, late freshmen and others had added another 103 to the total. The aggregate figure was 412.

Of course, many more were due during the afternoon.

First classes will meet through Sept. 29, but Dr. W. A. Hunt, president, urged prospective students to enroll as soon as possible so as not to miss more class periods than is absolutely necessary.

Every day brings some additions to the number of dormitory students. Dr. Hunt said that as word goes out concerning the exceptional quarters available in the new buildings that more area students are enrolling. The cafeteria service has started at the SUB and is going smoothly.

Urges Peace, Leaves For U.N.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Bouncy and jovial, Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev told Americans today they and the Russians would be better off if they concentrated on peaceful pursuits—such as raising fine turkeys.

"If we don't give a capitalist turkey and a Communist turkey a passport, no one can tell the difference," quipped the beaming boss of world communism during a tour of the Department of Agriculture's huge experimental farm at nearby Beltsville, Md.

If Khrushchev was in a gay mood, his host, President Eisenhower, displayed a more somber outlook. The President told two White House callers this morning he hoped the Khrushchev visit might do some good toward easing world tensions.

Khrushchev, nattily attired and apparently none the worse for wear after the long first day of his historic trip, showed his usual ebullience at the experimental farm. His comment on turkeys came as he looked over an exhibit of prize white turkeys.

The visit to the farm preceded the Soviet Premier's scheduled major address before an audience of newspaper writers. The Communist boss, exponent in his own country of thoroughgoing agricultural reform, was told at Beltsville by Agriculture Secretary Ezra Taft Benson that capitalism helped the American farmer develop food production to a degree unequalled anywhere in the world.

After the Beltsville exchange, Khrushchev re-entered a black limousine with Henry Cabot Lodge, U.S. ambassador to the United Nations and official guide for the Soviet chief's tour.

President Eisenhower had about two hours of private conversation with the Soviet leader late Monday. The talk had been described as candid, and today the President was expressing some hope of results.

DO ANY GOOD? Judge Walter E. Bastian, of the U.S. court of appeals in Washington, and Carl B. Hyatt, executive director of the National Conference on Citizenship opening here Thursday, saw the President and asked him about the Khrushchev visit.

"He said he hopes it does some good," Bastian said. Khrushchev dropped a hint of his primary theme Tuesday night. In an exchange of toasts with President Eisenhower during a White House state dinner, the Soviet leader noted that the United States and the U.S.S.R. are too strong to permit quarrelling between them.

He added: "If we were weak countries, then it would be another matter, because when the weak quarrel, they are just scratching each other's faces and it takes just a couple of days for a cosmetician and everything comes out right again. But, if we quarrel, then not only our countries can suffer colossal damage, but the other countries of the world will also be involved in a world shambles."

This is the note the Soviet leader sounded long ago—that if the Soviet Union and the United States, as the two most powerful countries on earth, could settle their differences, the whole world's problems could be solved.

ALLIED SUSPICION It was this idea which apparently caused some suspicion among the United States' Allies: that the two great nations might come to an agreement at their expense. But Eisenhower has repeatedly emphasized, as he did in welcoming Khrushchev, that "we shall not be negotiating any issues affecting the interests of other countries."

About 200,000 persons lined the streets to watch Khrushchev's entry into the nation's capital. The crowds generally were quiet, undemonstrative, sometimes even cold to the visitor although polite waves of clapping greeted him at times. There were a few boos, but no major disturbances.

In no way did the reception approach the million-person outpouring for example, which greeted the visit of Queen Elizabeth of Britain in 1957.

The lack of public enthusiasm, however, appeared to have little effect upon Khrushchev. The 65-year-old, apparently indefatigable Communist leader topped his busy day with a bouncy performance

AF Housing Experts Visit At Capehart

High-ranking Air Force housing authorities from over Texas and the U. S. visited Webb last night for a detailed inspection of the new Capehart housing area.

Heading the large delegation from headquarters USAF, Washington, D. C., was George S. Robinson, deputy special assistant for installations to the Secretary of the Air Force. Air Force installations man Oscar L. Gardner represented the Dallas office, and delegates from headquarters Air Training Command, Randolph AFB, were Col. Wayne D. Dunn and Maj. W. H. Clisham, engineering staff officers.

A large party of Webb housing officials and other members of the staff met the party from Randolph at the flight line at 5 p.m. and took them on an immediate bus tour of the huge new 460-unit area, now almost completely occupied.

The home of Capt. Keith W. Matson, executive officer of Installations Group, was selected to demonstrate a typical house interior, and Mrs. Matson was hostess to the whole bus-load of callers.

After seeing the housing development, the officials were given a thorough briefing at wing headquarters, on current status of the project and problems which have been encountered during the construction period.

Col. Donald W. Eisenhart, Webb commander, was host to the visitors at dinner at the Officers' Club. The party left at 8 a.m.

Police Seek More Dynamite In Aftermath Of School Blast

HOUSTON (AP) — Police searched for more dynamite today after a time dynamite triggered a suitcase of explosive and killed his son, himself, two adults and two other children Tuesday.

Paul Harold Orgeron, 47, pressed a detonator button minutes after enrolling his red-haired son, Dusty Paul, 7, in the second grade.

Police Capt. Weldon Waycott said it is possible Orgeron left the dynamite in a room he rented Monday. He appealed to the public to help them locate the room.

Two children of the 18 persons hospitalized after the blast on the playground of Edgar Allen Poe Elementary School remained in critical condition. Two children suffered leg amputations.

Mrs. R. E. Doty, 64, school principal, was hospitalized. Waycott said the suitcase Orgeron exploded did not contain "nearly the amount of dynamite purchased" in Grants, N.M., presumably by Orgeron.

The school opened this morning. "A man walks across the street with a bomb and kills children," cried W. S. Hawes after identifying the body of his only son, William S. Hawes Jr., 7, shortly after the explosion.

In addition to young Hawes, the blast killed Orgeron, Dusty, another pupil, a teacher and a custodian.

The 18 persons hospitalized included the principal, Mrs. R. E. Doty, 64. Four children remain in serious condition with leg amputations and internal injuries.

William Hawes and John Cecil Fitch Jr., 8, died as they ran ahead of the class when they were released for recess.

Jennie Kolter, 54, a second-grade teacher, and James Montgomery, 56, school custodian, died while aiding Mrs. Doty in trying to persuade Orgeron to leave the school grounds.

Two incoherent notes were found on the playground but police and the FBI could find no specific reason why Orgeron, a former convict, set off the explosion.

Orgeron and Dusty entered the school and stopped Mrs. Doty in a hall to inquire about the son enrolling. Mrs. Doty sent them to the office to talk with a clerk, Juanita Weidner.

He told Mrs. Weidner he had just moved into the area from New Mexico, that he was a tile contractor.

"He did not appear to be angry at all," Mrs. Weidner said, "but he did talk rather fast and loud."

A few minutes later, the father and son appeared on the playground where about 100 pupils were playing.

Patricia L. Johnston, a second-grade teacher, said Orgeron approached her, handed her two notes and asked her to read them. She said he kept mumbling something about God and "having power in a suitcase."

She said he was carrying a small, dark suitcase and the little boy was carrying a little brown bag.

"He kept on urging me to get the children in a circle," Miss Johnston said.

She said she showed her his suitcase and a button he was holding in his hand. The button "looked like a doorbell."

Miss Johnston passed the notes to Mrs. Kolter, 54, and another teacher, Julia Whatley.

The teachers summoned Mrs. Doty, who arrived minutes later with Montgomery.

"I told him that he had to leave the school grounds," Mrs. Doty said. "He kept telling me over and over: 'I have to get to the children, I have to follow the children to the second grade.'"

"That is the last thing I know. There was a terrific explosion. I was standing near him talking to him."

Mrs. Orgeron said she had seen her former husband last week for the first time since April. She recalled him telling her "I have done so many things to hurt you but I'll never hurt you again because I have found God." He kept repeating "I don't have much longer to live."

The man and the boy had been inseparable companions since the

Benson Tells Niki Freedom Made U.S. Farmers Richest

BELTSVILLE, Md. (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson told the head man of world communism today that capitalism helped American farmers develop an agriculture "unequaled anywhere in the world."

Benson made the remark in welcoming Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev to the Agriculture Department's huge experimental center here.

Khrushchev has laid heavy emphasis on agricultural development, Communist style, in his own country, and has boasted the Soviet Union will provide its people with a diet above the high American standard. He made this farm science center the first item on the look-see part of his American visit.

Benson was on hand when Khrushchev arrived at 9:40 a.m. to take him on a tour and show him how America does it.

The Soviet visitor was accompanied by his wife on the 40-minute drive here from the government guest house in Washington where they are quartered.

Also in their sleek black limousine was Henry Cabot Lodge, U.S. ambassador to the United Nations whom President Eisenhower has assigned to guide Khrushchev on his travels.

The Premier, hat in hand, shook hands jovially with Benson and posed for photographers. He smiled and waved his hands.

In the Benson party were Benson's son, Reed Benson and the latter's wife, and Benson's daughter, Beverly.

A crowd estimated at upward of 500 watched the greetings from a roped off area across the road.

Benson told Khrushchev: "Our farmers are free, efficient, creative and hardworking. I like to call them 'the salt of the earth'—truly good people."

Benson said American farmers welcome new ideas and are quick to adopt them.

"In putting these discoveries into practice, our farmers transformed American agriculture under our capitalist free enterprise system. They have developed an agriculture unequaled anywhere in the world in total efficiency, productivity, and prosperity."

Benson and top department scientists arranged to show the visitors latest developments on control of weeds, regulation of plant growth, and the recent discovery of a pigment in plants that may allow man to tailor food and fiber crops to his needs.

Another item to be shown was the popular Beltsville small white turkey developed by poultry breeders at the research center several years ago.

Accompanying the Russians was Henry Cabot Lodge, U.S. ambassador to the United Nations whom President Eisenhower has assigned to guide Khrushchev on his travels.

The Premier, hat in hand, shook hands jovially with Benson and posed for photographers. He smiled and waved his hands.

Bergman Returns, Learns TV Lesson

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Ingrid Bergman back here on her first visit in 10 years, learns fast. On her first night in New York, Miss Bergman dedicated herself to watching television and fell asleep, just like a seasoned viewer.

The Swedish-born, Paris-based film star is here to make her TV debut. In spite of the succession of problems complicating her private life, Miss Bergman looks radiant and is excited about attempting what is, to her, a new acting medium.

"I am a little nervous about it," she confesses. "But I love acting in the theater. I love making motion pictures. I think I shall love television because it seems like a combination of the two."

The modern miracle of tape recording and a new adaptation of Henry James' classic ghost story, "The Turn of the Screw," persuaded Miss Bergman to make her debut on television via NBC's Oct. 20 Ford special.

"It is going to be very hard work, and I don't see how we can do it with so little rehearsal time," she says. "But I am happy to try it. I've had many offers to do live television shows of course, but I've always turned them down because I was afraid it wouldn't be good—there was no way to take it back and do it over."

Miss Bergman, who lives with her three young children and her new husband on a big place outside Paris, does not have a TV set in her home.

She says: "I did not want the children to neglect their studies by watching it. So I have seen very little too."

During her three-week stay in New York, Miss Bergman will rehearse for 2½ weeks in a rehearsal hall and for another four days in the studio. Then the show will be taped in 90 minutes—and the star jets home to Paris. With a lot of American money.

Nikita Khrushchev is TV's star of this day, this week, this month and possibly this year. Never in the history of broadcasting has there been such concentration on one man. CBS radio alone plans a total of 298 newscasts on him. NBC has chartered a plane to keep a part of their special news staff with the Soviet visitor. If Nikita is as smart as reported, he'd better play his appearances shrewdly: over-exposure will kill a TV personality faster than anything, they say. The way the networks have been focusing on his visit, he is over-exposed now as far as this viewer is concerned.

ABC reports gleefully that a Trendex study of Sunday night viewing gave the fall premiere of "Maverick" a 22.9 audience rating compared with 11.1 for the second half of NBC's new "Riverboat." The lead later increased to 30.5 against Ed Sullivan's 16.1 for Chet Huntley's think-show on Africa.

Peter Lorre Saved By Old Blood Lore

By JAMES BACON
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Peter Lorre is alive today because a Spanish doctor resorted to the ancient medical practice of bleeding.

That's the word from Michael Todd Jr. and Jack Cardiff, producer and director of "Scent of Mystery" the movie Lorre was making when he suffered a cerebral hemorrhage last May.

"When I heard what the doctor did," says Todd, "I thought it was absolutely barbaric. But there's no doubt but that is what saved him—and, in a way, us too."

The picture, made in Todd's new Smell-O-Vision process, is the first picture ever made to smell on purpose. It was half finished when Lorre suffered his attack. He had been in every scene.

"We got five of the top heart specialists in Spain there immediately," says Cardiff. "They all shook their heads and said death was just a matter of hours."

"All of us were in the bedroom. Peter's breath came in short pants, a death rattle, if I ever heard one. His eyes were rolled back in their sockets. We were just waiting, expecting each breath to be his last."

"Then our company doctor cut him and let him bleed. He said it would reduce the blood pressure. It did."

Lorre was back before the cameras in less than two weeks and finished the picture. Had Lorre died, Todd would have dropped much of a million dollars already spent on the production.

It will be premiered in Chicago during the Christmas holidays.

Todd said it costs about $17,000 to equip a theater with the special equipment that will enable the audience to smell as well as see and hear the movie.

In one scene, a pair of binoculars is focused on a gypsy campfire. As the binoculars bring in a steaming pot close up, the smell of garlic pervades the theater.

The Smell-O-Vision process works by individual seat with the smells being piped in synchronization to the action of the film. Todd says it's all done automatically and has worked perfectly in test runs.

Texas Dairy Interests Unite

KINGSVILLE (AP)—Dairy interests of the giant King Ranch in South Texas and Ben E. Cabell, Dallas, are being merged into a new processing and distributing firm.

Robert J. Kleberg Jr., president of the King Ranch, Inc., announced the deal Tuesday.

Cabell will be president and general manager of the company. Coast Dairy Foods, Inc., and Kleberg will be chairman of the board. The new firm will occupy a Kingsville milk processing plant formerly operated by Jersey Products Co., a King Ranch subsidiary.

Associated with Cabell in the merger are L. H. True, president of the Magnolia Pipe Line Co.; D. E. Blackburn, chairman of the Victoria Bank & Trust Co.; Dennis O'Connor and D. H. Braman, Victoria businessmen; J. H. Rauscher, president of Rauscher-Pierce & Co.; Carl King, president of Kingsford Oil Co.; R. L. Thornton, chairman of the Mercantile National Bank of Dallas; Marvin L. Brown of Dallas, and Gen. G. P. Cabell, Deputy Director of Central Intelligence in Washington, D. C.

Expected to attend are Gov. Price Daniel, Atty. Gen. Will Wilson, Agriculture Commissioner John White, Oil Commissioner of the Railroad Commission, S. Perry Brown, chairman and executive director of the Texas Employment Commission, TEC Commissioner Maurice Akers of Austin and U. S. Rep. Joe Kilgore of McAllen.

Thieves Did Homework

TORONTO, Ont. (AP)—Officials expressed belief today that knowledge of the Toronto Art Gallery's burglar alarm system enabled thieves to make off with $640,000 worth of masterpieces.

"There were literally dozens of times when someone who didn't know how the system operated would have set it off," said the gallery director, Martin Baldwin.

During Monday night's robbery, one of the thieves tried to cut the center panel out of a fire door, apparently aware the alarm system would go off if the door was opened.

The thieves worked through the night, hacking six masterpieces from their frames and damaging two others.

Stolen were two Rembrandts valued at $150,000 and $250,000, two Frans Hals paintings worth $120,000 and $80,000, one Rubens at $20,000 and a Renoir at $2,000.

Women Trapped

CINCINNATI (AP)—Two emergency cars and four police cruisers were sent in a hurry to a home Tuesday night after a terse telephone report to police that "a woman was trapped."

One officer with a small cutting tool easily freed Mrs. Marie Brady, 75, whose finger had stuck in an oil can.

Von Braun Says Money Snag For U.S. Moon Shot

HUNTSVILLE, Ala. (AP)—The rocket scientist Werner von Braun says the Army got only about half the money it requested for work on the giant Saturn rocket.

The Saturn is under development as the United States' first moon rocket carrying a payload comparable to the Soviet's successful moonshot.

Von Braun told a news conference Tuesday the Saturn probably is one to three years away from a moonshot.

As the space race stands today, Von Braun said, he believed the United States could catch the Soviet Union in two or three years if the Soviets quit work.

TV Does All Right By 'Fibber McGee'

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Old friends of "Fibber McGee and Molly" must have been relieved Tuesday night to find that the Wistful Vista couple have been moved intact and without violence from radio to the television screen.

Bob Sweeney fits neatly into this viewer's mental picture of Fibber and Cathy Lewis is perfect as Molly. Tuesday night's NBC show was a classic Fibber plot—he wants a two-wheel cart but buys a $9,500 trailer. It was an extremely pleasant half-hour.

Earlier, "Laramie" an hour-long Western, also made its debut on NBC. This is a good professional show but like most TV horse operas seems to have an unnecessary amount of shooting and slugging.

Tonight's top ratings almost certainly will go to "The Arthur Godfrey Show"—CBS, 10-11 p.m. Eastern Daylight—a special marking the performer's return to broadcasting after convalescence from lung cancer surgery last spring. Godfrey has been working on the show for weeks, taping some portions in Hawaii, others at his Virginia farm and still others in New York. If his first special comes off, says Godfrey, there will be three or four others.

Maybe, now that the premiere season is in full swing, NBC could discontinue those total television commercials and go back to using public service announcements in its unsold time. The new shows it has shown us so far have been pretty pedestrian. Mary Frances Crosby, 6 pounds, arrived just in time to provide her father with some new joke material—at last. Bing, father of five boys, will open his Sept. 29 special on ABC singing "Thank Heaven for little girls."

Broderick Crawford, firing blasts from England, obviously wants out of "Highway Patrol." But there's no cause for alarm: all of this year's show have already been filmed.

Dinah Shore who has spent part of her European vacation collecting a high-style TV wardrobe, will start showing it on her first NBC fall show Oct. 4. First designer featured will be Paris' Pierre Balmain.

CBS had a documentary show set for Nov. 1 on man's efforts to reach the moon but has moved it up to next Sunday's Twentieth Century show—6:30-7 p.m. Eastern Daylight—in view of last weekend's Soviet rocket landing.

Former President Harry S. Truman is doing more TV work than his career-minded daughter. First he taped a Jack Benny show, and now he'll discuss the "Prophecies of Woodrow Wilson" on a special ABC show on Sept. 20. Another former White House resident, Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, has her own TV show again—a syndicated series on international affairs.

Trinity Water Hearing Delayed

AUSTIN (AP)—Another delay puts off a public hearing on water permits for Trinity River water until Nov. 2.

The Board of Water Engineers unanimously approved the third delay Tuesday.

The Trinity River Authority and the City of Houston, whose applications were to be heard, first opposed then agreed to the postponement.

At the same time, they announced they will back a joint application to develop the Livingston and Wallisville sites as agreed to in their 70-30 compromise last week.

The San Jacinto River Authority and Southern Canal Co. were major protesters, but numerous others popped up at the brief, confusing hearing. They also asked for postponement.

The TRA and Houston agreed to file a joint application to simplify the hearing.

Farmers Preview Khrushchev-Visit

COON RAPIDS, Iowa (AP)—Several thousand farmers from a five-state area are getting a preview this week of what Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev will see and hear in Coon Rapids Sept. 25.

These farmers are attending an annual week-long open house sponsored by a seed corn company of which 61-year-old Roswell (Bob) Garst is half owner.

Garst will be Khrushchev's host here next week.

Out Of The Khaki, Into The Classroom

FT. KNOX, Ky. (AP)—Orie P. Gruelle, A.B., M.A., Ph.D. and M.Sgt. will return to teaching next year when he retires from the Army.

For 17 years Gruelle, 70, was a Kentucky educator. Part of that time was spent as superintendent of two county school systems. In 1942 the World War I veteran enlisted in the Army.

"With my Army retirement pay," he explains, "I can return to teaching in Kentucky secondary schools." There is no mandatory age limit for school teachers in Kentucky unless they are covered under the voluntary teachers' retirement system.

When World War II started Gruelle tried to enlist in every branch of the armed forces. "But I was 53 and they thought that was too old," he says.

Finally he managed to get into a newly formed military police battalion for handling prisoner of war camps. Soon he was overseas, where he joined a military government unit administering occupied towns in Italy.

Gruelle rose to the rank of captain, but took a reduction to master sergeant during the military reduction of forces in 1947.

Now he's assigned to the education center here as head of the records room. But he describes himself as a jack of all trades, doubling as teacher, counselor, "and anything that needs to be done."

Another Vets Land Chapter Is Closed

EAGLE PASS, (AP)—Another chapter in Texas' Veterans Land Program scandals closed here Tuesday when the state won a judgment of $151,054 plus six per cent interest against two San Antonio land promoters.

Defendants H. S. Lebnan and C. V. Wyna did not contest the civil suit.

The state claimed Lebnan and Wyna entered into an illegal and fraudulent agreement with former state land commissioner Bascom Giles, who was paid $9,000. Giles later was sent to prison after being convicted in Veterans Land Program swindles.

The state maintained the 712 acres of land divided into 22 tracts was sold to the state for resale to veterans at long term loans with low-interest rates. The state said that the price of $151,054 paid by the state was "greatly in excess of the market value of the land."

Prayers For Niki

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—William Powell, general secretary of the Greater Council of Churches, says prayers will be offered throughout the United States for the stay in the United States of Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

Many member churches of the council held special services Tuesday, the day Khrushchev arrived in Washington.

Death Spurs Hunt For Rabid Wisconsin Bats

BLUE RIVER, Wis. (AP)—On a cool August night a bat flew through an open window and bit sleeping Louis Ashmore on the ear. Ashmore killed it. The next day he joked about it.

Less than a month later he was dead of hydrophobia.

The death of the 44-year-old farmer was the first attributed by the Wisconsin Health Department to the disease, usually transmitted by the bite of a rabies-infected animal or rodent. It creates madness in animals.

A U.S. Public Health Service team has been ordered here to begin a search for infected bats. The PHS operates a rabies control center at Poyette, not far from this southwest Wisconsin village of 425 persons.

The PHS said there were only six hydrophobia deaths in the United States last year. The disease usually is fatal, once symptoms develop. Skunks are the most frequent carriers of rabies, but there have been reports of infected bats.

Ashmore was bitten Aug. 8. It was his only known contact with a possible rabies carrier.

The next day he laughed with his wife about the incident. On Aug. 29, Ashmore complained of a sore ear and stiff neck. He didn't connect it with the bat bite and kept at his chores.

Four days later he entered a hospital, partially paralyzed. The next morning he was taken to the state's medical center, University Hospital at Madison.

On Sept. 5, Mrs. Ashmore remembered the bat bite.

Her husband died the next morning.

Demos Talk Of Compromise On Butler Voting Proposals

WASHINGTON (AP)—Democrats talked of compromising today a proposal by National Chairman Paul Butler to revise the state-by-state vote on the nomination of their 1960 presidential candidate.

Butler, whose ouster has been demanded by some Southern critics, called the national committee together to consider not only the voting change but approval of a party loyalty rule for next year's Los Angeles convention.

Despite renewed demands that he resign, Butler appeared confident he could overcome any ouster move.

Southerners seemed likely to challenge a proposed revision under which the 1960 convention would cast 1,475 votes in picking its nominee. This would compare with the 1,372 total vote in 1956.

Butler has proposed changes in the basic rule which gives a state two votes for each senator and one for each House member—plus a whole series of bonuses that have grown through the years. Instead, he wants each state to get three votes per senator, 2 1/2 for each House member and 1/2 vote for each national committee member.

While the 11 Southern states would gain a net of eight votes, the influence of the Dixie area on the outcome would be diminished proportionately by the over-all increase of 103 convention votes.

Even before Butler sent his two proposals to committee members for study, some Southern members were demanding his ouster because of his insistence on a strong civil rights plank in the 1960 platform. They pumped new steam into their demands when the two proposals were distributed.

Some Northern members like Gov. David Lawrence of Pennsylvania and Col. Jacob Arvey of Illinois also have opposed Butler, but for other reasons.

Lawrence told a news conference in Harrisburg Tuesday that "a big element of the party is dissatisfied with him," and added that if he were in Butler's position he would resign.

But Lawrence declined to call

Callas, Onassis In Surprise Move

ATHENS, Greece (AP)—Maria Meneghini Callas and Aristotle Onassis made a surprise appearance in a Greek night club early today.

The 35-year-old diva whose marriage to Italian industrialist Giovan Battista Meneghini, 62, went on the rocks last week, arrived Monday with 55-year-old Onassis off Glyphada, a fashionable resort near Athens, aboard the Greek millionaire's yacht.

Let Kellogg's All-Brans help you, too. This whole bran cereal gives you all the natural bulk you need for youthful regularity. Just a half-cup a day, with milk, does it.

Eisenhower, Khrushchev Set Modest Goals For Their Talks

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower and Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev have set modest goals for their talks here by proclaiming an agreement "to seek ways to achieve a better understanding."

But the question which hung over their two-hour conference Tuesday, as it will dominate their talks in the days ahead, is whether a better understanding can be translated sooner or later into practical agreements for ending the conflicts that make up the cold war.

On this basic question there is deep skepticism among high officials in the United States government.

The hard fact, as these officials see the situation, is that the quarrels and conflicts which divide the world today are not produced by misunderstanding.

They spring from basic clashes of national purpose expressed in Khrushchev's frequent predictions of a Communist triumph throughout the world and in the declared determination of Eisenhower and other Western leaders not to let that happen.

Statesmen faced with problems which appear to them insoluble almost invariably hoist the banner of better understanding over their conferences. It advertises a minimum hope which they can jointly express without sacrificing anything of value. But the tough realities of their differences are thrust forward, nonetheless, by events.

Such an event coincided with Khrushchev's arrival here Tuesday. It grew out of the continuing Communist effort to take over power in the little southeast Asian country of Laos.

Last week the United States voted with a majority of the United Nations Security Council members to send a fact-finding mission into Laos. The Soviet Union opposed the Security Council action. On Monday about the time Khrushchev was leaving for the United States Moscow proposed in effect that the matter be taken out of the hands of the United Nations and turned over to a special conference of interested Western and Far Eastern powers.

At the moment of Khrushchev's airport welcome Tuesday the State Department issued a statement denouncing the Soviet proposal as "unnecessary and disruptive."

In sum, while Eisenhower and Khrushchev seek better understanding their two governments are unable to develop the agreement necessary to restore peace at least minimize the fighting and give the world the facts about the situation in Laos.

Laos is one of half a dozen issues which Khrushchev and Eisenhower touched on briefly when they held their first private discussion in the President's White House office late Tuesday.

It was the joint statement put out following that meeting which said their talk had been friendly and frank and they should continue discussions "in this spirit to seek ways to achieve better understanding."

The next talks will be held in the President's quiet mountain retreat, Camp David, in nearby Maryland from Friday evening of next week until Sunday noon. Eisenhower and Khrushchev agreed that they would then debate in detail the subjects they listed Tuesday.

They instructed Secretary of State Christian A. Herter and Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko, meanwhile, to lay the groundwork for dealing with these issues, in meetings beginning today.

In addition to Laos, the issues, as brought up Tuesday, include the dispute which Khrushchev started last November over continued protection of West Berlin by Western forces, the future of divided Germany, disarmament, suspension of nuclear tests, the U.S. system of foreign bases and over-all U.S. Soviet relations, including trade.

None of these is a new problem. Persons in a position to know indicate that neither Eisenhower nor Khrushchev introduced any new proposals Tuesday. If any exist on either side they probably will be put into the discussions at Camp David at the end of next week.

Temperatures Remain Warm

By The Associated Press

Temperatures remained warm under clear skies through most of Texas again Wednesday, but the Weather Bureau warned of cooler weather on the way.

Long-range forecasts issued Wednesday called for temperatures to drop by the weekend in all sections of the state. In the meantime, East and Central Texas can expect readings 2-4 degrees below normal for this time of year. West Texas temperatures will be about normal.

Clear to partly cloudy weather for all parts of Texas was forecast for the next two days.

Red Astronomers Note Rocket Hit

MOSCOW (AP)—Soviet astronomers said today they sighted a "certain light effect" at the moment the Soviet lunar rocket dropped on the moon.

Nikolai Barabashov of Kharkov Observatory said the light was detected in the exact area of where the rocket was expected to land.

He wrote in the trade union journal Trud that "the nature of this light effect and its connection with the rocket's landing will be established only after careful visual and photographic observations."

Friendly Talk

MOSCOW (AP)—The West German Ambassador said today Ambassador Hans Kroll had a friendly hour-long talk Tuesday with Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian Zorin. The conference was the second Kroll had with Zorin since publication of Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's letter to Chancellor Konrad Adenauer Aug. 18 charging that West Germany wanted to win back what the former Reich had lost in World War II and exact revenge.

Padre Island To Be Among Shore Areas

WASHINGTON (AP)—Padre Island will probably be one of the three national shoreline areas if legislation for their creation is approved, Secretary of the Interior Fred A. Seaton has revealed.

Seaton made the statement in letters to Texas senators and representatives who had urged him to recommend legislation to establish a Padre Island national seashore area.

Other areas reported most likely to be favored are the Oregon Dunes and Cape Cod.

Court Order Bans Violence

GALVESTON (AP)—A court order entered Tuesday forbids union strike violence at the American Oil Co. refinery in neighboring Texas City.

Dist. Judge L. D. Godard issued a temporary injunction after the company and the Oil, Chemical & Atomic Workers union agreed to a judgment designed to prevent harm to non-union employees.

About 1,250 members of OCAW Local 4-449 struck July 1 in a dispute over job classifications and union security. Company spokesmen say the refinery, manned by supervisory employees, has kept production around 75 per cent of the pre-strike level.

The company had asked an injunction prohibiting terror tactics by union personnel. It cited several acts of violence during the 78-day-old strike.

Judge Godard's temporary order forbids pickets, other union members and their officers from stopping, following or threatening persons who enter and leave the refinery.

Congress Voted Peacetime's Biggest Appropriations Bills

WASHINGTON (AP)—The 1959 Congress voted the biggest peacetime appropriations total in history.

In only four previous years — two during World War II and two during the Korean War — has the money total exceeded the $81,975,368,332 Congress approved in the session ending Tuesday. The amount exceeded by a small margin the previous peacetime record of $81,119,818,276 voted in the 1958 session.

Even so, the legislators cut President Eisenhower's requests this year by $1,881,000,000 or slightly more than 2 per cent of the total.

The Democratic-controlled Congress succeeded in whacking something off every money bill of the 1959 session but one, in an effort to blunt Republican charges the Democrats are wild spenders. By far the biggest cut was the $1,204,950,000 slashed from foreign aid, the program which Eisenhower made the strongest effort to save from heavy reductions. This included 500 million in development loan funds for the year starting next July 1 which was denied, but which will come up again next year.

The only years in which the appropriations total exceeded 1959 figures were 1942, when 147 billion was voted, 1943, with a 115-billion total, 1951, with 101 billion, and 1952, with 86 billion.

This year's allotments continued the upward trend of every year of the Eisenhower administration except the first and second. During those years Republicans controlled Congress Appropriations totaled 65 billion in 1953, dropped to 58 billion in 1954, and have mounted steadily since.

Despite the cuts made in 17 of the 18 money bills this session, Budget Director Maurice H. Stans has said he expects no reduction in spending for the current fiscal year, 1960, which ends next June 30.

Stans said this would be so because the cuts mostly affect long-range construction items taking two or three years to complete, such as foreign aid projects, while the increases will be effective at once.

The one bill raised over the budget this session, the Health-Education - Welfare Department measure boosted by 259 million, will have an immediate effect on the spending budget. All of the increase was for health research and hospital construction grants to the states.

The spending figure for the 1960 year is several billions under the appropriations total voted. The explanation is that much of the appropriations approved for a given year actually are spent in future years. This is particularly true for complex military equipment which takes two or three years to complete.

The $81,975,368,332 total for this year includes nine billion dollars of so-called permanent appropriations not carried in any of the 18 bills.

The great bulk of this, 84 billion, is for interest on the national debt, an item that now amounts to more than 10 per cent of the spending budget and has reached the highest total in history.

Top Soviet Agents With Khrushchev

WASHINGTON (AP)—Three of the Soviet Union's top intelligence agents are traveling with Premier Nikita Khrushchev's official 70-man party, keeping a trained and watchful eye on everything around them.

Informants who disclosed this said that perhaps the most important is Vladimir Pavlovich Burdin, a gun-toting, 6-foot-2 Muscovite who has the role of a security agent assigned to protect Khrushchev.

The other two are Nikolai Stepanovich Zhakarov who is listed as a "special assistant" to Khrushchev and Vasily Fedorovich Grubyakov, 48, an official in the Foreign Affairs Ministry who once served with the Soviet Mission to the United Nations.

Burdin, 37, seems to be the most interesting to the Western diplomatic officials who keep a vigilant check of the Soviet's far-flung intelligence network.

Far from being a simple policeman, Burdin is reported to be one of the most important officials, perhaps the chief, of the big American section of the Soviet foreign intelligence directorate in Moscow.

Burdin is a handsome, rugged man, who dresses in flawless Western fashion. He has the self-assurance of a movie star on tour. He can always be found directly behind Khrushchev, carefully checking everything about him.

He speaks English fluently, as well as French, and in a pinch can serve as interpreter for his boss. But his main task with Khrushchev, as it was when he accompanied the deputy premiers, Anastas Mikoyan and Frol Kozlov, during their American tours, is to collect intelligence data about the United States.

Burdin actually is outranked in the official party by Zhakarov, who is a major general in the Soviet state security service and is head of the KGB department charged with protecting Soviet party and government leaders.

Zhakarov is a 50-year-old native of Novgorod, a former deputy minister of internal affairs with the MVD in Latvia in 1945. Zhakarov has risen swiftly in the secret police and intelligence ranks but has concentrated more on strong arm intelligence than undercover work.

Grubyakov, an intelligence operative who speaks French, English and Turkish, served as an intelligence officer in Turkey before World War II while posing as first secretary in charge of the Soviet Embassy press section.

A Georgian by birth, Grubyakov gives the impression of a thoughtful, pleasant man with a good sense of humor. He sometimes has shown up in the role of assistant to Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko.

British Papers See Cool Welcome

LONDON (AP)—British newspapers today described Nikita Khrushchev's welcome to Washington as chilly.

The Soviet Premier's arrival in the United States was blazoned wide and high on the front pages of almost every national newspaper.

Many British newspapers have been placing high hopes on Khrushchev's meetings with President Eisenhower.

Putting Bite On Khrushchev

NEW YORK (AP)—New York City was all set to fete Nikita Khrushchev at the plush Waldorf-Astoria ballroom—until 832 firm-jawed dentists lowered the boom.

But what about the menus, gasped flustered officials? And the guest lists? And the security arrangements?

Tough luck, said the dentists. Now the Soviet Premier, city officials and 1,000 other luminaries who looked forward to the Waldorf luncheon Thursday will have to go elsewhere.

Neither veiled pressures nor appeals to civic virtue could budge the American Dental Assn.

They had booked the Waldorf's grand ballroom four years ago for their convention, they declared, and they weren't moving for anybody—not even Mr. K.

It wasn't a question of politics, they said, simply convenience.

The whole squabble "could have been prevented by proper planning," said Dr. Percy T. Phillips, ADA president.

The Khrushchev luncheon was transferred Monday from the Waldorf to the ballroom of the Commodore Hotel, nine blocks away.

The menu will be the same, but the guests will be a bit more crowded and the elaborate security precautions will have to be rearranged.

More Integration For Little Rock

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—The Little Rock School Board has proceeded with its plan for limited integration in the city's high schools by assigning three more Negroes to once all-white Central High.

School Board President Everett Tucker Jr., said the three Negroes probably will begin classes at Central Friday. They will join a Negro boy and girl who have been attending integrated classes.

Tucker said Tuesday no additional Negroes were assigned to Hall High, where three Negro girls have attended classes since Aug. 12.

Fifteen other Negroes who asked for reassignment to Central from Mann were turned down. Nineteen of 22 white students who asked to be transferred between Central and Hall were granted reassignment.

Ex-Con Admits Slaying Of Wife

SAN ANGELO (AP)—A blast from a .16 gauge shotgun killed Mrs. Reynaldo Ferguson, 19, an expectant mother, at her home in the Knickerbocker community southwest of here Tuesday night.

Her husband, 26, an ex-convict, told sheriff's deputies he fired the fatal shot because "she was bad." Ferguson did not elaborate. Officers jailed him in San Angelo on a murder charge.

New Mail Carrier

One of the new mail carriers for the Big Spring Steers, now that the celebrated Wayne Fields had graduated, is Jerry Dunlap. He sparked in last Friday's game with Edison of San Antonio, breaking completely away once only to be overhauled from behind. Here he is skirting an Edison defender on the way to a nice gain. Other backs looked to advantage, too, and coaches point out that the offensive operation this year will be spread more evenly instead of depending on one man to pick up the yardage. Steers Working On Defense In Attempt To Dull Snyder's Speed

Although they may be in the stands Friday night instead of on the field, the Big Spring Steers aren't getting any relaxation in drills this week.

In an effort to adjust to the exceptional speed of Snyder, who the Steers face a week hence, Coach Al Milch and his aides have been working with the boys—particularly the backfield—on how to float out in proper defense patterns.

At the same time line coaches Curtis Kelley and Chop Van Pelt have been drilling the line on ways which might help bottle up Snyder's sparking quarterback, Dick Hayes, touted as one of the state's best.

Complicating matters, Snyder splits the end opposite the flanker to open up the defense. Hence getting ready for this type of attack is no easy task. Much point-out.

There have been bright spots in the drills this week. Tommy Rutledge has been the surprise package. He's been looking better daily at his left end slot. Robert Carr is still taking it easy after getting a severe charley horse in his thigh in the Edison game.

The only other injury was Al

Cobb, who caught a knee in the back. He's all right but extremely sore, and coaches have told him to take it easy for a few days.

Two others are out with the flu, Denny Marsalis, tackle, and Donny Everett, quarterback.

Much of the work this week has been on fundamentals with an ample amount of hard blocking and tackling. Pass defense has been given a lot of attention Friday evening. Snyder plays Andrews at Snyder and Milch may take his boys over to get a personal look at their next opposition.

Roden, Mrs. Jones Win In Country Club Putting

Jack Roden and Mrs. Gil Jones won the putting contest honors at the Big Spring Country Club on Tuesday evening.

Roden's 68 was the best of the field of 16. Red McCullah and Gil Jones tied for second with a 69 and then Jones nailed down second in a playoff. The fourth man was J. W. Atkins with a 70.

Betty Jones paced the women's division with a 72, edging Virginia Pickett.

Only one round remains in the putting contest. Next Tuesday's event will terminate it probably until next spring, said Shirley Robbins, pro.

Robbins is going to the Valley next week for the PGA tournament which will be played at Mission and McAllen on Sept. 28-29-30, Oct. 1-2-3.

He Rode The Double And Then Came Trouble

Jockey Willie Shoemaker looks at a picture showing him booting home the winner in the first race at the opening of the new Aqueduct race track as he sits up in bed in Physicians Hospital in New York. Willie, leading rider in the country, also won the second race to win the daily double before he was thrown from his mount, Amber Morn, in the fifth race. X-ray examinations showed that he had suffered no fractures. He will remain in the hospital several days with a slight concussion and facial contusions. (AP Wirephoto.)

Fast Offense Due In Best Weekend Tilts

By JACK CLARY
Associated Press Sports Writer

Quarterbacks Harvey White and Lowndes Shingler of Clemson won't get a chance to ease into their offensive grooves this year. They start pitchin' for a possible Atlantic Coast Conference title and a probable bowl bid right off the bat Saturday against North Carolina.

Coach Frank Howard has nominated this pair to lead his two offensive platoons that will play half of each quarter. White, a senior, is the more experienced, but Shingler was second in total offense a year ago when Clemson won the ACC title and went to the Sugar Bowl.

Clemson and North Carolina figure as the ones to beat for the conference crown.

Both teams polished passing attacks Tuesday with Tar Heel quarterback Jack Cummings working out in light togs because of a heavy cold.

Mike Ingram, switched from guard to fullback by Ohio State Coach Woody Hayes, took over the No. 2 post behind Len Fontes. First stringer Bob White, out with a leg injury, is not expected back for a week. Terry Hansley replaced soph Bob Ferguson as the No. 1 left halfback.

Charles Pollard took over as first team right end for Rice, and Johnny Stephenson was promoted to No. 1 left half as the Owls prepared for Saturday's national TV game against defending national champion Louisiana State.

Center Jim Andretti, tackle Gene Gossage, halfback Ron Burton and fullback Mike Stock were elected co-captains at Northwestern, the first time the school ever had four players in the job. The two backs will handle offensive duties and the linemen will be defensive captains.

Tarheels, LSU, And A&M Favored In Week's Games

Associated Press Sports Writer
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Here's the season's first whirl at trying to separate the winners from the losers on the gridiron.

North Carolina over Clemson; The Tar Heels have dedicated this game to the memory of their late coach, Jim Tatum. That should be decisive. It is not improbable that the ultimate champion of the Atlantic Coast Conference will be decided in this game.

Louisiana State over Rice; LSU makes one of its rare daytime appearances so that TV fans can get a glimpse of Billy Cannon and his Bengal buddies.

Purdue over UCLA; The Big Ten team's defensive veterans know all the answers. This is a Friday night affair.

Mississippi over Houston; Ole Miss has experienced personnel everywhere.

Penn State over Missouri; Rickie Lucas gives the Pennsylvania Lions the edge.

Navy over Boston College; Too many sailors.

Georgia Tech over Kentucky;

Tech has the better defense.

Maryland over West Virginia; Tom Nugent gets off on the right foot as head coach at Maryland.

Southern California over Oregon State, Texas over Nebraska, Friday night.

San Jose over Denver, Detroit over George Washington, Florida over Tulane.

Monte Bradley Is Top Golf Rookie

EL PASO (AP)—An unsung Texan, who has won nearly $5,000 this year, is one of the three best rookies on the golf tour.

He's Monte Bradley, a 28-year-old former carpenter from Hillsboro. He's making a name for himself in his first try along the PGA circuit that comes to El Paso for a $20,000 open tournament starting Thursday.

And unlike many other young players in tournament golf, he is doing it strictly on his own. He has no backers or sponsors. He doesn't even have a sporting goods company connection. Nor is he connected with a country club.

He and his English-born wife, Connie, joined the tour in February at the Texas Open in San Antonio.

Typhoon Sarah Rakes Ryukus

TOKYO (AP)—Typhoon Sarah roared into the East China Sea today after raking the southern Ryukyus with 145 m.p.h. winds. Unless it veers it will hit the Korean Peninsula Thursday.

There was no word from the American base at Okinawa but it was within range of 50 m.p.h. fringe winds.

The Shanghai area of Red China was within range too.

Center winds of the typhoon missed Formosa Tuesday, although it was deluged with rain and buffeted by 50 m.p.h. winds.

Five persons were reported killed and 33 injured in southern Okinawa.

Machen Has Work Cut Out In Match With Besmanoff

PORTLAND Ore (AP)—The stakes will be high for Eddie Machen and Willi Besmanoff when they meet tonight in a scheduled 10 round nationally televised ABC 10 p.m., EDT) heavyweight bout here.

Machen, Portlander, is rated No. 4 among the heavyweights. He wants a return bout with World Champion Ingemar Johansson, who knocked him out and handed him his only defeat.

Meanwhile, Besmanoff, a German-born fighter out of Milwaukee, Wis., wants national rating. He could gain such a rating by beating Machen, once the leading heavyweight challenger.

Machen was expected to tip the scales at about 195 at the weigh-in, scheduled today. Besmanoff said he will be 210.

Machen will seek his sixth straight victory since his loss to Johansson.

Besmanoff will be 77 Sunday—the same age as Machen. Tuesday night when he decided Bobby Bell of Youngstown, Ohio, in a 10-round fight.

Munoz was given four rounds, five were called even and Bell was credited with one—the third when he scored the only knock-down of the fight.

Munoz weighed 126 pounds, Bell 123.

Parilli Is Cut Loose

By The Associated Press

Vito (Babe) Parilli, the former Kentucky star who was a prize grab for the National Football League pros in 1951, is out of a job.

He was cut by the Green Bay Packers Tuesday as all the NFL teams trimmed their rosters to 38 players. Two more must be cut by the opening games next weekend.

Parilli, who never had his "big year" while playing with the Packers, then the Cleveland Browns, and back with the Packers again, wasn't the only pro veteran to be cut.

The Baltimore Colts lopped off halfback Lenny Lyles, who was on their 1958 championship squad, and Detroit cut six-year veteran halfback Gene Gedman. Highly-touted rookies Bobby Newsum, the former Washington State quarterback who was San Francisco's No. 2 draft choice last winter, and 1957 All America tackle Bob Reitsnyder of the Los Angeles Rams via Navy were let go.

Sox Practically In As Cleveland Loses

By The Associated Press
He won't admit it, of course, but the only real problem Manager Al Lopez of the Chicago White Sox has today is a choice between Early Wynn and Billy Pierce as his opening game pitcher in the World Series.

Who the White Sox will meet when the Series opens in Comiskey Park September 30 is still anybody's guess, although the National League race could bust wide open with the two-game series opening at San Francisco today between the first-place Giants and the Milwaukee Braves.

The Giants regained a two-game edge with a 13-6 job on Cincinnati yesterday while Los Angeles jumped back into a second place tie with Milwaukee by beating the Braves 8-7 in 10 innings.

Glum Gordon Says Hitters, Not Pitchers, Failed Him

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer
BOSTON (AP) — Joe Gordon, manager of the Cleveland Indians, sat at his dressing room desk and talked of many things, even baseball now and then.

But he skirted any mention of the American League pennant race, in which his second place Indians now trail Chicago 5½ games with only a handful of games remaining.

In the other AL games, Baltimore defeated Detroit 2-1 in 11 innings and Washington split a two-night pair with Kansas City, the Senators winning the opener 1-0 behind Camilo Pascual's three-hitter, then losing 6-2.

St. Louis beat Philadelphia 6-4 in the only other game played in the NL Pittsburgh's game at Chicago was postponed because of cold weather.

Currie Filly Ties Track Record

Debonair Dandy, a 2-year-old filly owned by Jerry Currie of Big Spring last Saturday tied the 5¼-furlong track record at Ruidoso, N.M. The classy colt streaked home in 1:05.2 with C. Detiege up to tie a long-time record tacked up by a much more mature horse. At left is Jess Wilbanks, Big Spring, Gene Hensley, president of Ruidoso Racing Association, Mrs. Clayton Toliver, Toliver, who trained Debonair Dandy, and of course the filly.

Revived Giants And Braves Tangle In Crucial Series

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer
The stage was set for the big series today as the National League's only 20-game winners, Milwaukee's Lew Burdette and San Francisco's Sam Jones, clashed in the first game of the season's most important two-game set.

The Giants, apparently free of their hitting doldrums, were comforted by the knowledge that even should the Braves knock them off in both games, the best Milwaukee could do is tie them for first place.

The Giants' lead today was two games, made possible by Tuesday's 13-6 conquest of Cincinnati coupled with Los Angeles' spectacular 8-7 comeback victory in 10 innings over the equally stubborn Braves.

Champs Tangle At Abilene

ABILENE — Two conference champions from the 1958 football campaign, Hardin-Simmons University and North Texas State, will help initiate the 1959 season against each other here Thursday night.

The Cowboys of Hardin-Simmons, last year's Border Conference winners, face a much stronger North Texas State Eagles team and Coach Sammy Baugh's Abilene crew will be the underdog against the Missouri Valley Conference titlists. The game, beginning at 7:30 p. m., will be played in the shining new Public Schools Stadium on the West Texas Fair grounds east of the city before an expected home-opening record crowd.

Coach Odus Mitchell's Eagles possess one of the finest North Texas aggregations in the history of the Denton school while the Cowboys are faced with the problems of inexperience due to the loss of 15 lettermen and eight starters off the 1958 championship team.

Amateur Play In Third Day

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP) — It's work day for the champion, the congressman, and just plain Joe Hacker in the third day of activity in the 59th U.S. Amateur Golf tournament.

Defending champion Charley Coe of Oklahoma City and three former champs were among the 64 players entering the third round over the 7,010-yard, par 36-35-71 Broadmoor course in the shadow of the Rocky Mountains.

Two 18-hole rounds were on today's card.
Coe, who knocked out James Mallory, Spokane, Wash., 6 and 5, with a steady game, met capable Robert Batdorf II of Hershey, Pa., in the third round. Batdorf continued to play well in eliminating Louis Rosanova, Niles, Ill., 7 and 6 Tuesday.

Fleeman Downs Simms With TKO

EL PASO (AP) — Donnie Fleeman, Midlothian, Tex., 175, won a TKO in the 6th over Tommy Simms, Haerne, Tex., 170, Tuesday night.

Fleeman, the Texas light heavy champ, downed Simms for an eighth count in the first round. Referee Eddie O'Brien stopped the fight after 1:38 of the 6th when Simms was knocked into the ropes.

Al Lopez Has No Preference

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — If Al Lopez has any preference about his World Series opponent, you'll never find out from him.

One baseball author tried it Tuesday after his Chicago White Sox had won a 4-3 squeaker from the New York Yankees to inch closer to the pennant.
"How you going to pitch to Willie Mays?" he asked.
"Haven't given it a thought," said Lopez. "I really mean it. I haven't thought about any of them."
"Which team would you like to play, San Francisco, Los Angeles or Milwaukee?" the same fellow tried again.

"All I'm worrying about is winning this thing," said the Chicago manager. "We've got Hollis Thurston looking at the Dodgers and Giants and Bill Norman scouting Milwaukee. When the time comes, if it does, we'll worry about things like that."
"You sweat this out, one game at a time. I'm not thinking about the National Leaguers. All I am worried about is tomorrow's game."
A visitor asked Lopez if he knew the "magic number" for clinching the pennant.
"All I know is that every time we win we get closer," he said. "Right now I feel a lot better than I did Monday."

And The Driver Lived

President Eisenhower, hat over his heart, and Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev are serious during the playing of the U.S. and Russian national anthems after Khrushchev's arrival at Andrews Air Force Base near Washington.

U.S. Reaction To Niki Like Wife, Salesman At Door

By SAUL PETT
WASHINGTON (AP)—The visible reaction of Americans so far to Nikita Khrushchev resembles the attitude of the housewife who finds that a salesman somehow has poked one foot in the door. He talks. She listens. But she isn't buying.

Khrushchev talked, smiled, waved, hugged little girls, winked at photographers. But, among the people at the airport and lining the route into Washington Tuesday, he got little applause, only scattered waving in answer to his own waving, and mostly a grim, curious silence.

The leader of the proletariat was friendly, smiling, cooperative. He even allowed himself to be transported in a big, black capitalist Cadillac. But on one point, he refused to be contaminated.

The invitation to Tuesday night's White House dinner clearly said, "white tie." Khrushchev would have none of it. He wore the same black business suit he had on when he arrived in America.

Unlike most visitors, Khrushchev was lucky his first day here; his wife resisted the impulse to shop.

But Mr. K got in some sight-seeing. For half an hour he flew with the President in his helicopter, seeing Washington and the Maryland and Virginia suburbs.

The only other Khrushchev to tour the town was Sergei, the Premier's son. By car, he visited the Washington Monument and Jefferson Memorial. At the tidal basin he took pictures of some Negroes fishing. What do you suppose he'll tell the folks back home about that picture?

Just as Khrushchev's Cadillac was pulling away from Blair House for the first time, a street car got in the way. It was quickly rushed off.

If the Soviet Premier wanted to know how real Americans really live, they should have let him wait behind that street car for awhile.

Former Siamese Twin Turns 8, But Can't Play

FERRIS, Ill. (AP)—Rodney Dee Brodie, separated from his head-joined twin brother shortly after birth, was 8 years old today. But he wasn't able to run or play games.

Early this year he broke both legs, and only within the last month has his frail 48-pound body been free of casts. Gradually, he is learning to walk again.

Rodney gathered his four sisters and brothers around a lighted birthday cake Tuesday but he couldn't stand up to blow out the candles. His face beamed as he tore open dozens of cards, many sent by well wishers who have read of his struggle.

De Gaulle To Tell Algerian Peace Plan

PARIS (AP)—President Charles de Gaulle tonight discloses his master plan for ending the nearly five-year-old Algerian rebellion—France's top problem.

De Gaulle prepared his statement behind a cloak of secrecy at his country estate at Colombey les Deux Eglises. This morning he was to read it to his Cabinet and later broadcast it over radio and TV.

Little officially is known of what De Gaulle will propose for ending the rebellion, but it has been disclosed he will "affirm the principle of self-determination."

This has been interpreted to mean Algeria's nine million Moslems will be able to vote on how they wish to be covered. Nothing official has been reported as to De Gaulle's timetable for bringing this about.

To achieve maximum attention, the French President has ordered radio and TV channels cleared in France and Algeria to carry his statement. The speech, expected to last about 15 minutes, will also be heard throughout the vast French community embracing 12 semiautonomous states in Africa and Madagascar.

De Gaulle's words will also be broadcast in Arabic and Berber, the main languages of Algeria, as well as several other foreign tongues.

Throughout France and in parts of Algeria De Gaulle's televised image will accompany his works.

The President took unusual measures to guard the secrecy of his statement before it went on the air. Carefully screened radio and TV technicians were to make the recording in De Gaulle's Elysee Palace, then keep the tape and film sealed until a few minutes before the broadcast.

Of major importance to France will be the American reaction to De Gaulle's statement. De Gaulle gave President Eisenhower a run-down on his proposals when they met recently.

France hopes for U. S. support when the Algerian question comes up in the current session of the U. N. Assembly.

Top Algerian leaders gathered in Tunis to study De Gaulle's statement and pass along to their troops any changes in orders. Tunisia is the main rebel supply and training base for the Algerian fighting.

De Gaulle's policy announcement finds a French army of 400,000 men engaged in combat virtually all over Algeria.

Despite recent successes in western Algeria, and in the Kabylie Mountains east of Algiers, a major French military victory in Algeria still appears remote.

L.A. Is Bidding For Beauty Contest

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Los Angeles is bidding for the Miss Universe beauty contest.

City council Tuesday adopted a resolution urging that the pageant be moved here. Councilman Ransom Callcott said the new sports arena would be an ideal site.

The swim suit company which owns the pageant is pulling it out of Long Beach, Calif., because of a disagreement with the local producers.

HOUSTON (AP) — A New York oil executive said today there is indication sizeable shortages of heavy fuel oil will develop under existing import allocations.

to remove wellhead prices of natural gas from federal controls. Another speaker at the convention's concluding session said it is time the public fully understand the extent of taxes being levied on the nation's principal source of energy.

Wright said heavy fuel production east of the Rocky Mountains dropped from 945,000 barrels daily in 1948 to 695,000 a day in 1958. In the same period, he said, refineries boosted their operations nearly two million barrels a day.

Members of the oil industry who are in the heavy fuel oil business anticipate a difficult time in supplying their customers this winter.

He said nearly one-third of the retail sales price of petroleum is a direct tax.

Texas Party Peace Looms Leaders Say

AUSTIN (AP)—Vital changes in the 1960 political calendar will be emphasized at this week's State Democratic Executive Committee meeting in McAllen.

It will be a build-up, not a tear-down session, said J. J. (Jake) Pickle of Austin, state director of organization for the party.

He said prospects for party peace are better in Texas than they have been since the big blow-up in 1944 between New Deal and conservative Democrats.

Elements such as the Eisenhower candidacy and the anti-Truman feeling that kept the feud going are not present now, Pickle said.

Official action on Mrs. Randolph would have to come at the June state convention.

He said the committee will spend most of its time in workshop sessions including party leaders from over the state.

High School Activities Schedule Is Announced

Activities for the high school student body for the ensuing school year were announced on Tuesday by the High School Student Council.

A report submitted at the Tuesday meeting of the Council by Jane Cowper, social and ways and means committee member, outlined the following schedule of activities:

Missile With Frogs, Mice Fails To Go

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — A Jupiter missile carrying 14 pregnant mice and two frogs exploded today 10 seconds after launching.

The shot was to have been a test of the effects of space flight on the tiny animals and several other biological samples packed in the nose cone.

The would-be space travelers met a fiery death when the Jupiter blew apart about 1,000 feet in the air.

Pieces of the vehicle fell back on the launching area but no one in the area was hurt.

The Department of Defense announced that the range safety officer deliberately destroyed the big missile when his instruments detected a malfunction.

tendance at the council meeting. Mr. and Mrs. Don Green, sponsors, were also present.

U.N. Fact-Finders Begin Laos Job

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP) — United Nations fact-finders began their investigations today amid reports the royal government has captured prisoners to support their charges of Communist aggression in Laos.

A U.N. source reported that Laotian officials said they had caught five Red soldiers to supplement circumstantial evidence against Communist North Viet Nam.

Judge Upholds Ban On Married Pupils

DALLAS (AP)—School boards have the right to ban married students from participating in school extra-curricular activities, Dist. Judge Claude Williams ruled Tuesday.

The judge upheld the action of the school board in nearby Garland after Jerry Kissick Jr., 17, sought a court order to permit him to play football at Garland High School.

In announcing his decision, Judge Williams said "You cannot operate schools without reasonable rules. The Garland board is not keeping students from getting an education. This requirement (ban on extra-curricular activities for married students) is not discriminatory nor retroactive."

Building Falls

BARLETTA, Italy (AP) — A five-story apartment building based on the foundation of what was once a one-story garage collapsed today, killing at least 14 persons. The upper floors were added about six months ago. Apparently the weight was too much for the foundation.

Thiokol Puts New Rocket Facilities On For Display

MARSHALL (AP) — New facilities calculated to help overcome this country's lag in the race to explore outer space went on public inspection today.

Thiokol Chemical Corp. unveiled additional buildings and machinery to build and test rocket motors at the Army's Longhorn Ordnance Works. Thiokol operates the big installation for the government.

Formal dedication of the new facilities and rocket firing demonstrations were on the program. A missiles authority working for Thiokol, Dr. H. W. Ritchey, conceded in advance of the ceremonies that Russia's feat of putting a rocket on the moon indicates the United States "is considerably behind" in outer space competition.

He said this country could have hit the moon with a small rocket as early as 1959, "but apparently we didn't care enough to spend the money."

The Soviet achievement, Ritchey said, is both a propaganda triumph and evidence the United States lacks rockets "anywhere near as large."

He speculated, in reply to interviewers' questions, that manned flight to the moon and back remains 10 years in the future.

"But if we can believe the Russians," said the American scientist, "they may try to do that in the next two or three years."

Ritchey, 47, is a former Navy man who worked for several corporations and taught at the U. S. Naval Academy before joining Thiokol as a vice president and technical director of its rocket division. The next step in this country's missiles program, Ritchey said, is to put a satellite in orbit around the moon. This may be attempted next month, he said.

MRS. CALVIN LEE DANIELS

Gardner-Daniels Wed With Double Ring Vows

In a wedding ceremony Tuesday evening Anita Roberta Gardner and Calvin Lee Daniels repeated double ring vows in the Gardner home.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Gardner, 1600 Owens, and Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Daniels, 1301 College.

Dr. Gage Lloyd, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, read the nuptials.

English ivy covered Grecian columns on either side of a double window as altar decoration. The bride's father gave Miss Gardner away as recorded organ music played.

The bride's gown, designed by her grandmother, Mrs. Joe Millaway, was made of white Skinner satin. It had a pleated waltz-length skirt with a fitted bodice. Short sleeves were attached to a circular yoke accented with self-piping. From a Dior bow of white satin, fell a tiered veil of illusion. She wore white satin pumps and short white kid gloves.

The bridal bouquet was a cascade of white asters with white satin ribbons and leaves.

Something old was a silk handkerchief from France; something new was the bridal gown; something borrowed was the 1891 Indian head penny, and something blue was the friendship garter that has been worn by 14 previous brides.

Martha Johnson of Stanton, cousin of the bride, served as maid of honor. Her mauve satin dress was designed like the bride's gown, and she wore matching pumps, gloves, and Dior bow headband. Miss Johnson carried a bouquet of pink asters with matching ribbon.

Preston Daniels of Big Spring served as his brother's best man.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Daniels are graduates of Big Spring High School and Howard County Junior College. They will make their home at 1807 1/2 North Congress, Austin, where they will continue their education at the University of Texas.

RECEPTION

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held in the bride's home. The refreshment table was covered with a beige lace cloth. The centerpiece was an arrangement of English ivy in a bowl of antique white and gold with gold tapers.

For her wedding trip to Austin, Mrs. Daniels wore a red shirt-waist dress with black velvet accessories.

Out of town guests were Annie Mae Culwell, Midland; Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Millaway and Joe Allen of Odessa, and Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Johnson of Stanton.

Showers Compliment For Local Bride-Elect

A miscellaneous shower in the H. P. Wooten home was a pre-nuptial compliment for Gerry Girdner Tuesday evening.

Miss Girdner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Girdner, South Haven Addition, will become the bride of Buddy Crawford Mayes on Saturday at the First Christian Church. The prospective bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Mayes of Spraberry.

Joining Mrs. Mayes as hostesses were Mrs. Neil Norred, Mrs. Floyd White, Mrs. Johnny Griffin, Mrs. C. A. McElreath and Carrol Letcher.

A white linen cloth of Italian drawwork formed a background for the central arrangement of white carnations and fern. The flowers were held in a container that was flanked at either end with slender white tapers entwined with small carnations.

Miss Letcher served refreshments and Mrs. C. A. Girdner of Muleshoe registered the guests.

Thirty friends, including some from Midland and Forsan, were present.

Miss Girdner was honored Monday evening in the home of Mrs. J. L. Bailey in Spraberry, when friends presented her with miscellaneous gifts. A color scheme of green and white was followed in the decor and tea table delicacies.

A Devotional For Today

I am come that they might have life, and that they might have it more abundantly. (John 10:10.)
PRAYER: O God, our heavenly Father, we give Thee thanks for the Lord Jesus Christ. Help us to trust and love Him more. Lead us to give ourselves fully to Him, so that He may fill our lives and remake them as He wants them to be. In His name we ask these things. Amen.

'Stunts' Get The News Play

Evidence that the Soviets have put a space projectile on the moon is entirely presumptive, though few if any of our own scientists question the authenticity of the feat.

It had not been expected that there would be any visible indication that the rocket had landed, but even if that had been hoped for, Moscow neatly side-stepped the issue by saying an "over-cast" had closed in on its observation posts at the moment the impact was expected.

As this was written the only indication of a successful moonshot was that the radio devices in the projectile had blacked out at the moment the impact was scheduled, thus indicating the 800-pound projectile had broken up on contact.

This involves a bit of puzzlement for the laymen trying to understand even the rudiments of this project: for some American scientists hail the project as offering some valuable data on lunar conditions by means of the instrumentation aboard the projectile. Now if all the electronic devices were smashed on impact, where would such information come from?

However, hitting the moon with an earth-launched rocket is well within the scope of modern scientific development, so it is entirely possible the project was successful. If so, the Russians beat us to another scientific "first," and the fact that the feat was accomplished on the eve of Khrushchev's departure for the United States is a propaganda achievement of the first magnitude.

That, of course, was precisely what it was intended for. If it hadn't succeeded, or hadn't the appearance of succeeding, we never would have heard a word about it. (It is known that the Reds fired three unsuccessful shots last week.)

We had tried it ourselves, but missed. Those responsible for our own space development are fond of saying we try for perfection, for complete sophistication in our missile development projects, leaving the impression that Russia's firsts with the Sputniks and now with the moon strike were more or less stunts.

Stunts or not, they have been highly effective propaganda devices and in that field the Kremlin has scored again. They were meant to impress upon the world, and on us, the scientific community of the Russians. It would be folly compounded to brush them off as mere stunts.

The Fairest Of All

For the second year in succession the State of Mississippi comes up with a Miss America—a young lady from Natchez described as a perfect 36-24-36 with brown hair and green eyes.

Well, then brownies are cool, real cool, and along with green eyes they're irresistible.

We note that all the seven young American Air Force, Navy and Marine Corps volunteers being trained for the first venture into outer space—husbands and fathers all— all qualify as blonds.

All have brown hair except one, and he's a redhead. Three have brown hair and blue eyes, two have brown hair and brown eyes, and the redhead and one brownie have green eyes, like Miss America.

All of which proves nothing, except that Americans tend to run to brown or red of various shades in the hirsute department, and brown, blue or green eyes—also in various shades.

The seven astronauts are of various heights and weights. The tallest is 5-11 and weighs 160 pounds and the shortest 5-7 and weighs 155. The heaviest, 185 pounds, stands 5-10. Six of the seven bear Anglo-Saxon—or Scotch-Irish-English—surnames.

Judging from their interviews with Life magazine, each of the seven is eager to be chosen first for the venture into space, and while none of them is what you would call a flag-waver, it is refreshing to note that most of them confess to a feeling of patriotism, a desire to see their country get that fastest with the mostest.

God be praised, it may again become fashionable for one to avow one's love of country with unabashed force and sincerity.

Issue Of Self-Determination

WASHINGTON — The American people are entitled to know the game Soviet Premier Khrushchev is playing.

It is a game of diversion—rockets to the moon, protracted conferences on disarmament and nuclear tests and "summit" talks that, if carried on for years, are intended to make the American people grow weary of international tension and finally to accept the unmoral and unlawful conquests of millions of peoples now enslaved.

There are two instruments of power in the world today that can affect the peace of mankind. One is military, and it is designed to act as a deterrent to physical aggression. The other is moral force which when developed to full strength can influence whole nations and cause them to rise against their oppressors.

Khrushchev's game is to make it appear that, by exchanges of visits, by expansion of trade, by constant talk of "peaceful coexistence," Americans are abandoning their dedication to moral force. This is expected to discourage revolt behind the Iron Curtain. For, if America becomes indifferent, the captive nations, it is presumed, will lose all hope.

Khrushchev's game is based on a belief that Americans are influenced only by selfishness and materialism—solely by the desire of businessmen for more trade—and that such idealism as remains can be anesthetized by wearisome and exhausting negotiations, or by implied threats of war through emphasis on missile and rocket development.

Khrushchev's game reaches a climax in propaganda intensity this week as he visits the United States. The dispatches and radio reports from America telling of enthusiasm for him, official honors paid and courtesies extended, together with news pictures of high American officials fraternizing with Khrushchev, will be displayed throughout Eastern Europe and behind the Iron Curtain, generally, as meaning approval of Communist policies by the people of the United States and their government.

What can the American people do about it? Various types of protests have been planned for the next two weeks and will be publicized widely. These devices are effective psychologically to some extent abroad, but it is here in Washington that the biggest opportunity has been missed.

The Congress speaks for the American people. It should have decided to stay in session throughout the Khrushchev visit to allow for an extensive debate on the "cold war" issues. This would have told the world in unequivocal terms that the American people have not forgotten what happened in Hungary and East Germany.

For moral force is potent when it effectively expresses a nation's ideals, and when it seeks by debate and discussion to underline and emphasize the basic principles of human freedom.

Actually there is only one issue. It is the self-determination of peoples everywhere—the right of the people to vote in free elections and choose their rulers. In the Soviet Union, only one party can vote and military duress is applied to suppress free speech and debate. Just the other day, Khrushchev himself publicly told a group of Soviet writers that they were overstepping the bounds in their criticism, and that he might have "to shoot a few of you, and my hand will not tremble."

Moral force means a constant emphasis on the right of peoples to govern themselves.

Moral force means the exercise of the right of free speech persistently, without regard to the inhibitions of official courtesy. For, while the President and high officials of our own government must follow the amenities, this does not bind the American people. There must, of course, be only peaceful demonstrations and never the slightest encouragement of disorder.

For the "butcher of Budapest" and the man who is responsible for the murder, exile and imprisonment of tens of thousands of people in Eastern Europe, cannot be allowed to believe that his crimes have been forgotten.

Today tens of millions of people in the world are in bondage. Many of them are being tortured daily in concentration camps by the two big Communist regimes—in Moscow and Peiping. It is time to show the deepest sympathy for the oppressed and to speak frankly to the visiting ruler who has earned the doubtful distinction of having by his acts become the cruelest man in the world today.

Prayers are in order—prayers to the Almighty to give courage to the faltering and to find ways to bring the criminally guilty to the bar of justice. Peaceful co-existence should mean freedom for everybody, and not a world half-slave and half-free.

Together? Not In Election Year

WASHINGTON (AP)—Togetherness in Washington is a political oddity. This was an odd year, although it wasn't supposed to be. Next year should be more normal. It's an election year.

The Democratic-run Congress, which ended its 1959 chores this week, got along so well with President Eisenhower it already has been accused of running obediently every time he whistled.

But even controversy between Northern and Southern Democrats was kept pretty much to a minimum. There are some pretty good reasons for the strange quietness which enveloped the Capitol all year.

The Democratic leadership in Congress let Eisenhower call the tunes and it postponed until 1960 the most inflammatory issues, like new civil rights legislation, federal aid to education, and others. Because the Democrats got overwhelming control of this Congress in the 1958 elections, they had been expected to impose their thinking on Eisenhower who up till then had shown a very un-aggressive leadership.

He fooled them. Right from the start he put them on the self-conscious defensive by accusing them of wanting to spend too much money at a time when the country was recovering from the 1958 recession. He said big spending wasn't needed.

To show that he meant what he said, he vetoed one bill after another and made all his vetoes stick except one at the end simply because enough Southern Democrats deserted their party's ranks to join Republicans in upholding the President.

If the two Democratic leaders—Sen. Lyndon Johnson and Speaker Sam Rayburn, both of Texas—had wanted to assert more leadership of their own and make a fight of it, they could have given Eisenhower a rougher time. They chose to play along.

The result was a lot of legislation but it was of a basic kind, and not very controversial. Still, quiet as it was, this session of Congress once again demonstrated one of the myths in American politics—the idea that there are really only two political parties: Democrats and Republicans.

In the first place, despite their talk of differences between them, Democrats and Republicans see so much alike on major issues, differing mostly on details, that a foreigner would have a hard time distinguishing between them.

In the second place, there are really three political parties—Democrats, Republicans, and Southern Democrats—any time the Southerners want it to be that way.

Any time they disagree with the thinking of the Northern and Western Democrats, they can and do split off as a large bloc to line up with the opposition Republicans.

They showed their power in teaming up with House Republicans to pass a tougher labor control bill than the rest of the Democrats had in mind but which Eisenhower wanted.

They showed it repeatedly by splitting off—at least enough of them to be effective—to join the Republicans in upholding Eisenhower's vetoes, with one exception.

But next year Congress—in addition to civil rights and federal aid to education—faces legislation on farming, minimum wages, broadening of Social Security, aid for depressed areas, and possibly income tax changes.

Any one of those problems creates heat. If the Democratic leadership tries to pass civil rights legislation with real teeth in it, the Southerners will fight.

While the Democrats will have to woo the vote of minorities—and a strong civil rights bill is attractive to Northern Negro voters—the leaders have to think of something else: how not to split their party in an election year.

A rough and tumble on civil rights alone—if it led deep scars—could hurt the Democrats as a party in the presidential election.

So this year's togetherness, between the Democrats and the White House, was more like a reprieve before a brawl than it was a lasting companionship.

WHAT OTHERS SAY

No wonder there's so much rubbing alcohol being produced these days. Taxpayers are using it on their sore backs.

United States Census Bureau figures on fiscal 1958, just compiled, probably will send taxpayers rushing to their medicine cabinets.

During that period, said the bureau, Americans paid $98,300,000,000 in federal, state and local taxes. That averages $568 per person.

But that brain-numbing sum still wasn't enough. The public debt at all levels of government increased $11,800,000,000, to a total of $34,400,000,000. Of this, nearly $300,000,000, is federal debt.

The debt load per person rose to $1,930, of which $1,595 was federal and $335 was state and local.

Just think, every baby that is born in this country has a debt of nearly $2,000 hanging over his head.

Third Time's Charm

CHEYENNE, Wyo. (AP) — Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Schiel broke the habit of having twins in April. Twins LeRoy Jr. and Laura were born April 2, 1956, and twins Francis and Heidi were born April 25, 1957. But twins Jean and Joan picked January, 1959, for their arrival.

Around The Rim

What Are We Coming To?

The crazed bombing of the Poe Elementary School in Houston is so sickening that it almost defies any other reaction. How a grown man could be so twisted in his mental processes that he could walk on to a school ground and into the midst of children and teachers and detonate a bomb is beyond comprehension. Hate, misunderstanding, prejudice, warped imagination—whatever the ingredients—are as deadly as the bomb this maniac packed.

Piece by piece the details, now shrouded in the panic of catastrophe, will be fitted together. Someday someone will meticulously prepare a chronicle of the imponderables which went into this senseless tragedy.

There is no excusing such wanton devastation of the right to live. There may be some contributing factors but never any justification. This New London disaster—and thank God it did not begin to approach the East Texas school tragedy which erupted from a gas accumulation. That blast may have resulted from a lack of care in physical properties, but this was the deliberate concoction of a mind. And in that respect it is more terrible than unintentional disaster.

Perhaps one of the worst things that will come out of this is the realization that some other mad fool could somehow see in it a chance for notoriety. If so, we may expect that there will be despicable characters who will make anonymous calls and threats for sheer perverted enjoyment.

What are we coming to? A 9-year-old child clubs a 4-year-old youngster to death because he wants to see him kick and squirm like some of the tyke's playmates. A quiet, moody young man goes berserk and guns down a neighborhood. An estranged husband kills his family and in-laws. A mother drowns her children. A young punk coldly slaughters a dozen or more people in a mad escapade. A disgruntled teen-ager kills his parents because he couldn't have the family car. A ne'er-do-well blows an airliner.

Allow for the current perfection of communications that spreads the word of these and you still are compelled to acknowledge that this crazy business of snuffing out life as though it were so many candles is on the increase. It is on an alarming increase.

Something has to be wrong with the mental processes of individuals who commit such acts, but we can ill afford to brush it aside with an assumption that all the perpetrators are mentally incapable. How do people get that way? How are we failing to inculcate into every individual the sacredness of human life, that no man has the right to take that which is utterly incapable of being restored or created? Are we doing anything in our media of communication and entertainment which conveys the cheapness of the right of others to live? Are we totally devoid of moral teaching in the home?

We had better buckle down to the serious business of finding some answers to these questions—and fast. —JOE PICKLE

Joyeux Noel! Dig Those Bargains

It is no news that we live in an age of specialization, right down to His and Her bath mats, and Mine and Yours overnight containers for false chompers.

But no facet of the good life has been more thoroughly or recently specialized than travel. A tripper today just doesn't get on a ship or a plane and go to Europe, Asia or South America to sightsee and browse in the old-fashioned, sloopy Baedeker way.

No, indeed! Motivational travel is the ticket today. No matter what a traveler's vocation or avocation, there is a tour tailor-made to his interests.

Are you a Sunday painter? Then you sign up to "do" Europe with fellow amateurs under the guidance of a professional painter who will help you get the Venetian sunset or a Paris model on canvas.

Or are you a garden clubber? Then there is a tour that will keep you and other mulch-maniacs ankle deep in peat moss from Madrid to Moscow.

And so it goes—doctors, lawyers, Indian chiefs—there is a togetherness tour for each and all, including mountain climbers, auto racers, antique hunters and pinocchio players.

So I don't know why I was surprised the other day when I received a brochure singing the praises of four journeys—to Barbados, Trinidad, Brazil, Uruguay and Argentina—poetically advertised as "Christmas Shopping Cruises." That is an obvious development of the travel trend. If gardeners and gourmets can get together, why not shoppers who can shoot the works in spendthrift harmony?

"Relax, for once," the advertisement of the Christmas Shopping Cruises reads. "Here's a way to get lovely and distinctive Christmas gifts and get yourself a rest in the bargain. Wonderful buys right on board your ship in the tax-free Good Neighbor Shop. Good shopping in every port!"

There is an honest, straightforward, no-nonsense approach in the whole Christmas cruise pitch. Barbados and Trinidad are recommended for British woolsens and china, Liberty silks and cashmere sweaters. Native baskets and crafts.

Never mind that Trinidad is the most colorful and polychrome of all the islands of the West Indies. Just lift that china; tote those cashmere sweaters.

In Rio de Janeiro and Sao Paulo the fact to keep in mind is that Brazil mines much of the world's supply of topazes, aquamarines, tourmalines and other semi-precious stones; sets them in 18-carat gold.

With all those semi-precious stones to choose from, let's have no nonsense about it: time out for Rio's spectacular harbor, or a cable car to Sugar Loaf or the funicular to Corcovado. Fill those Christmas socks with Rio's rocks.

In Buenos Aires, the shopper is advised to take advantage of "luxuriously thick and soft winter coats and stoles priced at a fraction of their cost at home," it says. "Vicunas, too; stunning suede coats, bags, gloves, belts, alligator goods, Gaucho blankets."

Sure Buenos Aires is one of the world's most beautiful cities with an opera house guaranteed to knock your eyes out. But let us not waste time on sightseeing when the nutria and the alligators need comparison shopping!

These Christmas Shopping Cruises are ideal, all right. No aching arches; no cathedral fatigue. Just buy baby, Santa's comin' to town. (Copyright 1959, United Features Syndicate Inc.)

'I Am Not Privileged . . .'

The presence of Premier Khrushchev in the United States is a reminder of an American blessing of which the average person is probably unaware. This is the free flow of financial information about the dollar. What here is published as a matter of course is, in the Soviet Union, a state secret.

When, three years ago, I interviewed the president of the Soviet Central Bank in his conference room in Moscow, I asked: "How much gold do you have in the Soviet Union?"

He replied, "I am not granted the privilege of giving out that information."

I followed that with the question, "How many rubles do you have in circulation?" He replied with the same stilted formula: "I am not privileged to grant you that information."

So, the average Soviet citizen does not know how many rubles are being printed. He does not know how much gold is back of the ruble. All he knows is that the ruble is legal tender. That's what's written on the back of it. Perhaps that is why a black market in rubles can't be suppressed in spite of stringent penalties.

When I was there, the legal rate was four rubles for the dollar. Yet, you could get anywhere from eight to 13 rubles to the dollar, depending on how hard you bargained.

Today, the U. S. tourist in the U.S.S.R. gets 10 rubles for the dollar. The legal rate is four for the dollar. But the black market rate goes as high as 50 for the dollar. Usually, the bargaining starts at 20 to the dollar.

Many articles have recently been written about the weakness of the U. S. dollar, the threat of inflation in the U. S., Treasury. In the Soviet Union—ne-ye-lyayn—that is prohibited. The information is not available for discussing such matters. It's significant that the U. S. dollar isn't blackmarketed. In the Soviet Union, France, and other countries it is hoarded.

The status of the dollar is an open ledger. Data are available for judging its strength or weakness. We know it is backed by $19,600,000,000 of gold, but that the U. S. stock of gold has been declining. At the end of 1957, gold holdings amounted to $22,800,000,000.

We get regular reports on how much money—coins and bills—is in circulation in the U. S. This is the money issued by the Treasury and the Federal Reserve Banks. This is the money you and I carry around in our pockets of (if we're foolish) stuff in mattresses or sugar bowls. At present, it amounts to approximately $28,000,000,000.

In addition, banks hold another $4,000,000,000 in cash to meet the day-to-day demands of their depositors—merchants, manufacturers, individuals—for currency. This is called vault cash.

We also get regular reports on how much check money exists in the U. S. This consists of deposits of business firms to meet payrolls, purchase inventories, etc., deposits of state and local governments, and deposits of individuals.

This check money—called demand deposits—adjusted—is a regularly published statistic of the Federal Reserve System.

Any American citizen who wants to know can learn that since the recession, currency outstanding has risen from $28 billion to $28.3. The increase has been necessary to meet demands for more pocket money. More jobs, more spending, and higher prices require more do-re-mi. At the same time, demand deposits (check money) rose from $105 to $111 billion.

All in all, the money supply advanced from $132 to $139 billion.

Thus, Americans are able to judge the central bank—the Federal Reserve System. You and I can see that the money supply is not rising as rapidly as business. In this same interval, the gross national product advanced 13 per cent., as against 5 per cent for the money supply. The Reserve Board is tethering the money supply in its effort to curb inflation. The facts are yours and mine—for praise or blame.

What happens to the dollar here—how it's managed—is not a state secret.

DEAR ABBY

DIZZY ARITHMETIC

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I have been married almost twenty years to a man who was married before. His first wife died about 30 years ago. Next month my husband would have been married to his first wife fifty years if she had lived. But she didn't live, you understand. She died.

My husband wants us to celebrate his 50th wedding anniversary. I told him it was not proper as we have been married to each other for only 20 years. He said 50 years of married life was 50 years of married life and it didn't matter who he started out with. He was finishing up with me. How can I stop him from making a fool of himself? We've been quarreling about this all month.

When questions arise, ask an experienced adult (perhaps a parent or teacher) to guide the discussion and answer questions. Then you'll be sure the information is correct. There is nothing wrong with teen-agers discussing sex in the presence of an enlightened adult.

DEAR ABBY: I am a respectable woman, 26, who had the misfortune of marrying the wrong man when I was 19. My marriage lasted only one year but it seems that I must carry the stigma of this disgrace forever.

I've been going with a young man for the past two years. He has put off introducing me to his family until finally he ran out of excuses. He finally admitted that his mother wouldn't like me because she is against divorce.

I love this man, Abby, and I know he loves me. But I want to get married. What is a divorcee supposed to do? Kill herself?

DEAR CONFUSED: YOU are not "confused". . . your HUSBAND is "confused." A wedding anniversary marks the number of years people have been married to EACH OTHER. If you can't convince your husband on this fact, perhaps your clergyman can. Celebrate your 20th. The anniversary may not be golden—but your silence will be.

DEAR SANDRA: Is divorce against the religious principles of this man's family? If so, you are fighting a losing battle and you would be wise to give him up. If this is not the reason, your friend is simply not adult enough to face his mother with the facts, in which case you are lucky to know it now.

DEAR ABBY: My boyfriend and I are both 15. Lots of people think we are too young to talk about sex. Others think it isn't proper for a boy and girl to discuss sex at all. But, Abby, we feel it is a big problem for lots of teen-agers and it should be discussed together. Please give us your opinion. Are we right or wrong?

CONFIDENTIAL TO "TRYING HARD": You married a man who is emotionally in knee-pants. But he is your husband. Lead him—do not push him.

DEAR R. or W.: A discussion of "sex" can be wholesome, illuminating and constructive only when an authority contributes to it. Two 15-year-olds cannot learn much in a discussion of this kind.

For ABBY's pamphlet, "What Every Teen-ager Wants to Know," send 25 cents and a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope to this paper.

Nudist Camp Operator Is Fined; Will Appeal Case

BONHAM (AP)—W. R. Campbell, 24, operator of a nudist camp, was fined $100 and court costs Tuesday after being convicted of obscene and indecent exposure.

Don Gladden, Fort Worth attorney who represented Campbell, said the conviction will be appealed.

The jury of four men and two women returned the verdict after deliberating 17 minutes in county court.

A key point in the case was the legal interpretation of the phrase "in public" used in the complaint accusing Campbell of indecent exposure.

Tibby Wright, Fannin County attorney, won his main argument as County Judge Choice Moore ruled "in public" meant the display of a nude human body before other persons. Moore held that this did not necessarily mean in a public place.

Five witnesses testified they saw Campbell "in his birthday suit," as Texas Ranger G. W. Burks put it, last June 21 at his Cedarvale camp 12 miles northeast of here in North Texas.

About a dozen other persons—men, women and children—also wore no clothing, Burks and the others said.

Campbell said during the trial the future of his camp, near the New Hope community, rested on the court's final decision. Since his arrest in June, he said he has halted improvement work, including construction of a swimming pool.

Washington police estimated the crowd who greeted the Soviet leader at 200,000. American reporters described the reception as polite but restrained with a large measure of silence along the parade route.

Moscow radio and the official Soviet news agency Tass gave a play-by-play report of Khrushchev's historic crossing of the Atlantic.

The tone of the publicity and the attention to personal details of the Khrushchev junket—unprecedented in the coverage of the movements of a Soviet leader—seemed designed to emphasize that the Soviet leader was going to great trouble to come to terms with the United States.

Izvestia said there was only one cloud in a clear sky—Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

"Nixon," the government organ said, "tries to draw a cloud on a clear day with confusing statements to the effect that 'one must not believe the Russians.'"

The newspaper added "however strange it may seem the vice president tried to combine his not very impressive excursions into the field of science with bad smelling policy when he permitted himself to attack the Soviet Union."

Khrushy Pickets Must Keep Distance

WASHINGTON (AP)—Anybody who wants to picket Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev will have to keep his distance.

No picketing will be allowed on Pennsylvania Avenue in the two adjoining blocks on which the White House and Blair House, the official guest residence, are located.

Russian Papers Say Niki Got Wild Welcome

MOSCOW (AP)—Moscow newspapers told readers today Washington's welcome to Premier Nikita Khrushchev was the greatest in the history of the American capital.

Stories appearing in Pravda and Izvestia said the Soviet leader was greeted by "friendly shouts" and "stormy applause" from a smiling crowd so big "there was not even a place to drop an apple" on the street.

"Not even the end of World War II brought such a sea of people onto the streets of Washington," said the Communist party organ Pravda.

"About 300,000 Americans met the Soviet guests, people stood on rooftops and balconies and many climbed monuments or trees," Pravda said that the "leader of the great Soviet state comes with open heart and most noble intentions."

The Soviet government newspaper Izvestia, edited by Khrushchev's son-in-law Alexi I. Adzhubel, 35, who is traveling with him, gave an even more enthusiastic account.

"Everywhere there were smiles and raised arms," said Izvestia. "There were outbursts of applause. The streets of Washington from the most distant outskirts were packed with people."

"Work stopped and school lessons stopped as a solid wall of people lined the sidewalk. There was not even a place to drop an apple. Washington had never before seen anything like this. You heard friendly shouts at Khrushchev."

"There was waving of handkerchiefs and flags. The bulk of the Washington population are employees of the government and private firms. There are very few workers."

Much Marriage, Many Troubles

FORT WORTH (AP)—Troubles kept piling up for a marrying taxi-cab driver.

He had a non-bondable contempt of court charge added to his woes Monday as he stayed in jail with three other charges against him, including bigamy.

Bonds for David Grissom, 23, were set at $2,500 each on main-ing and bigamy charges plus another $1,000 on a charge of aggravated assault.

The contempt of court warrant kept him in jail. Lillian Grissom, who divorced him May 14, claims she has received no child support for their eight-month-old son.

Shirley Grissom, 21, filed a maiming complaint against Grissom Saturday. She said he blacked her eye and knocked out a tooth for her Friday night.

Elnor Grissom filed a bigamy charge. She said she married

Grissom here June 10, just a week after Grissom married Shirley in Ardmore, Okla.

Elnor had filed a complaint earlier. She told police Aug. 3 that Grissom put a foot on her chest and struck her with his fist.

Martha Hyer Finds Wolves With New Line

By JAMES BACON
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Martha Hyer, one of Hollywood's most beautiful bachelor girls, is wrestling wolves who have switched a well known wolf line.

"They all want to see my etchings," confesses the blonde Texan, who lives alone in a beautiful hilltop house.

She has art she says is worth $500,000 hanging in the house, including originals by Gauguin, Dufy, Renoir, Utrillo and Lautrec.

A magazine did a layout on the collection and the wolves descended.

"Some of them previously had been interested only in comic book art or the nudes in the girlie magazines," says Martha. "Now they are junior grade Picassos."

Martha has been earning well over $100,000 a year playing unsympathetic other woman roles on the screen. Earlier this year she issued an edict to her agents that she wanted no more cold, unsympathetic parts. "Ice Palace," the film of the Edna Ferber novel, marks the emergence of the new screen Martha Hyer.

Her art and other investments have made her financially secure. Looks, wit, breeding and money make her one of the best catches in town but Martha has no husband plans at the moment.

"I'm having too much fun looking for a husband to worry about catching one," she declares.

Her work keeps her so busy that she has to fight to get time for herself.

"I'm a very happy girl the way I am now," she says. "I love to be surrounded by beauty."

"As for the paintings, I get more than my money's worth out of them. Money lying in a vault is not beautiful, except to a miser. I have all my money hanging on my wallet in great works of art."

"When I come home at night, I look at my money and it gives me great joy. If I ever get broke, I can always sell a painting and keep the other kind of wolf away from the door."
