Dock Strike Is Now 'Up To President'

BULLETIN

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP)—President Eisenhower today invoked the Taft-Hartley Law in the docks strike opening the way for government to seek an 80-day back-to-work court order.

NEW YORK (AP)—A federal mediator says the six-day-old longshoremen's strike is now "a matter for the President."

The official has declined to schedule further talks with either side in the dispute.

His announcement came Monday, along with a statement from Presidential Press Secretary James C. Hagerly at Palm Springs, Calif., that "the matter of the dock strike is now before the President and the White House."

Also Monday the government took its first limited step to curtail the strike, but union chiefs threatened by implication to expand the walkout to include seamen.

In New Orleans, a federal judge issued a restraining order against two union locals whose walkout touched off the mass strike by 85,000 longshoremen Oct. 1. Seven other New Orleans locals were not affected by the order.

The National Labor Relations Board sought the order at the request of New Orleans shippers, who maintain the IILA failed to file a required 30-day advance notice of the strike.

Officers of the two locals instructed their men to obey the order but members of other locals in New Orleans and elsewhere continued to picket, and the docks remained idle.

The way appeared cleared for possible federal intervention through the Taft-Hartley law with the announcement here of total stalemate in negotiations.

After brief talks with both sides, Deputy Federal Mediation Director Robert H. Moore announced no more meetings were scheduled.

"This is a matter for the President," he declared. "The President is taking a personal interest in labor disputes of this character. So long as the parties maintain their present situations, there can be no collective bargaining or hope of a settlement."

The union insists it will not return to work until a contract is reached.

Shippers claim the IILA violated an agreement to extend their contract to Oct. 15 and declare they will not consider any talks until work resumes or until after that date.

At Palm Springs, Calif., President Eisenhower called the strike detrimental to the American people and urged a swift settlement. He had no comment on possible intervention.

In their meeting Monday, the Longshoremen's Executive Board, representing locals from Maine to Texas, voted unanimously to "hold the line."

The board also won support from leaders of two sailors' unions—the National Maritime Union and the Seafarers' International Union—who indicated seagoing workers might quit their ships.

They charged that ship companies were creating unsafe conditions by using unqualified employees to handle baggage and cargo and operate winches.

"There will probably be a lot of accidents on these ships," said Joseph Curran president of the National Maritime Union. "Speaking for myself, I say that the NMU people will not work on any ship where there are unsafe conditions."

"I can speak for my members and I will go along with that," added Paul Hall, president of the Seafarers.

The number of cargo ships stranded in ports mounted well past the 200 mark. The problems handling passenger baggage from luxury liners grew more pressing.

At issue in the strike are work control clauses and pay provisions.

Ship Radioman Is Indicted in Ocean Death

BOSTON (AP)—A Suffolk County grand jury has indicted a handsome ship's radio operator, charging him with murdering a vivacious passenger in the climax of a shipboard romance.

The grand jury returned a murder indictment Monday against Willem Van Rie, 30, of the Netherlands, after hearing only six witnesses.

The 20 men and three women on the jury reported Van Rie "by assault and beating did kill and murder" Lynn Kauffman, 23, a brunette divorcee.

Her battered and semi-nude body was found on the shore of an island in Boston harbor Sept. 19, the day after the SS Utrecht left here on its six-week voyage from Singapore to New York.

The pretty divorcee was a passenger on the cargo-passenger vessel. Van Rie, the ship's radio operator, had admitted to police that he carried on a romance with Miss Kauffman during the voyage, but denied he killed her.

Boston police went to New York with papers today to facilitate the return of Van Rie to stand trial in Boston. He was lodged in a New York jail cell after the Utrecht arrived in New York.

Among the witnesses the grand jury heard was Mrs. Stanley Spector, wife of Dr. Spector of Washington University, St. Louis, who had employed the victim three years as a research assistant.

Mrs. Spector and her three children were on the steamer with Miss Kauffman.

Miss Kauffman, daughter of a Chicago industrialist, was divorced from a St. Louis attorney.

Street Damage Is Extensive

Big Spring street crews were still wrestling this morning with the aftermath of the heavy rains of last week. A. K. Steinheimer, city manager, and Bruce Dunn, director of public works, were taken on a tour of the worst areas this morning by Street Forestry, street division superintendent.

In most instances, the officials were trying to work out plans that would prevent similar washouts during future rains. Areas in the northwest of the city, particularly in the Banks Addition, were given extra attention. Dunn said the streets that were recently stabilized with an asphalt covering, stood up well under the raging waters.

Other streets are being earmarked for future stabilization and permanent paving will probably be suggested for streets carrying larger amounts of drainage.

Forsyth said every man and every piece of equipment in the street and sanitation division has been pressed into service in order to hurry-up the cleanup program. Crews were working in the west end of town this morning and work is to proceed eastward across the city.

State Road Conditions

AUSTIN (AP)—The Highway Department reported these roads closed today: (by districts): Fort Worth: State 193 closed Gordon to U.S. 100 by washout at Barton Creek. Farm 730 closed Decatur to Boyd at West Fork of Trinity River. Both closed until further notice.

Dallas: Farm 875 closed in Ellis County.

San Angelo: Ranch 2134 closed at Colorado River.

Del Rio: Closed: State 613 33 miles north of Comstock at Devils River. State 85 and State 76 at Nueces River. Farm 1433 and Farm 190 at Nueces River. Ranch 187 at Sabinal River, 11 miles south of Sabinal. Farm 1025 at Nueces River spillway. Farm 582 at Nueces River spillway. Farm 383 at Turkey Creek.

Waco: Closed: Bosque County, State 22 Meridian to Cranfills Gap. Coryell County, State 236 at the Leon River and Farm 1829.

Tyler: Closed: Farm 47 at Sabine River north of Willis Point. Farm 17 at Sabine River between Grand Saline and Alba.

Austin: Closed until further notice: Ranch 965 and Ranch 648 in Gillespie County.

Cox, Bribe Case Figure, Free Man

CONROE (AP)—Former Rep. James E. Cox, convicted in a sensational legislative bribery case, left prison today a free man.

He served 11 months and 2 days on his 2-year sentence for accepting a bribe.

He received no clemency from Gov. Price Daniel, who repeatedly has said he will show no mercy to state officials convicted of wrongdoing.

His time served is about normal for those with good prison conduct records.

A jury convicted Cox of agreeing to accept a $5,000 bribe in return for withdrawing an anti-naturopathic bill he had introduced.

CAR-SCOOTER CRASH INJURES AIRMAN ... Misdemeanor charge filed in incident

AIRMAN INJURED Charges Filed In Car-Scooter Crash

A Webb AFB airman was in serious, but not critical, condition this morning in the base hospital as the result of a traffic mishap late Monday. He is Thomas M. Willette.

Willette was riding a motor scooter when in collision at Scurry and 10th with a car driven by Paul Liner Jr., 1408 Scurry. Sgt. Stanley Bogard filed charges of aggravated assault with a motor vehicle in county court this morning against Liner.

Witnesses said Willette was moving east on 10th and Liner was driving north on Scurry when the mishap occurred. Willette was thrown over the hood of the car by the impact. He received a brain concussion, fractures of the right kneecap and sacrum, lacerations of the forehead and right knee, and multiple contusions and abrasions. Attendants said he is responding well to treatment and his condition is not considered critical.

Six other accidents were reported during the last 24 hours, however there were no injuries or major damage resulting.

Lavonia Walker, Rt. 1, and Clarence Eubanks, 603 Circle Dr., were in collision in the 600 block of E. 3rd. Wanda Horn, 1011 W. 7th, and George Thomas Bieda, Coahoma, ran together at 5th and San Jacinto.

The wreck at 11th and Owens involved Austin Ferguson, Rt. 2, and Jenie Medford, 1801 Morrison. Noe Barras Abreo, 106 NE 9th, and Johnnie Clay Moore, 404 E. 22nd, were involved in a crash at 8th and Goliad.

Bonnie Spoles, 1614 Settles, and Harold Elmer Grasberger, 1504 Johnson, were involved in a collision at 7th and Gregg. Willie Thomas, Lamesa, and James R. McKinley, Lamesa, were involved in a mishap in the 1100 block of Lamesa Dr. Ines Mendoza Alonzo, Big Spring, and Camilo Ramirez, 203 N. Goliad, were in a crash in the 300 block of NW 4th.

Student Claims Quiz Show Rig

WASHINGTON (AP)—College student Herbert Stempel testified today he was given questions and answers in advance when he appeared on the now-defunct TV quiz show "Twenty-One" in late 1956.

Stempel, a graduate student in history at New York University, was the opening witness at a four-day inquiry, before the House subcommittee on legislative oversight, into charges that some of the big name television quiz shows were rigged.

The subcommittee viewed a film of one of Stempel's initial matches with Charles Van Doren, one of the first big money winners of the quiz program.

Thea Stempel told of being coached and rehearsing his performance.

Stempel, who charged last year that "Twenty-One" was rigged, has said he finally lost to Van Doren purposely, by agreement.

Families Exit Flooded Area At Ft. Worth

By The Associated Press

Floods from heavy weekend rains chased 25 families from their homes above Fort Worth on Eagle Mountain Lake and water in the reservoir crept higher by the hour.

Far to the south, 60 houses still were in water along Turkey Creek in the Crystal City area south of San Antonio. The water was receding swiftly, however, and no further flooding was expected.

Estimates of flood and tornado damage rose into the millions.

Fort Worth rescue squads were on a standby basis at Eagle Mountain Lake. The reservoir was 4.14 feet over the spillway. Ben Hickey, general manager of the Tarrant County Water Control District, said the lake level won't rise higher than 5 feet above the spillway.

The water was rushing in from Big Sandy Creek. Forecasts of fair weather through Wednesday gave lake watchers a brighter outlook.

The rising water threatened homes at Camp Dido near Azle. Trucks and rescue crews from Carswell Air Force Base joined police and civilian volunteers in moving families to safety Monday night after water reached several shore homes.

Water was reported well over the spillway at Lake Bridgeport upstream from Eagle Mountain on the Trinity, but there was no word of damage.

Downstream, the Trinity went out of its banks in Dallas, but stayed well below the top of levees which protect the city.

Flood threats lessened in South Texas, where heavy rains sent the Frio and Nueces rivers and Turkey Creek on the rise Sunday and Monday.

Zavala County Sheriff C. L. Sweeten said waters which lapped around dozens of houses in Crystal City began dropping steadily Monday. Skies were clear in the area and no further flooding is expected, Sweeten said.

At its peak, Turkey Creek spread over a two-mile area, marring five oil well drillers at a rig for 6 to 8 hours before they were rescued by an Army helicopter.

The rains were a mixed blessing to farmers and ranchers.

Some stockmen reported whole herds drowned. Others were exultant over what the week-long downpours will do for pastures and feed crops.

County agents in the Lower Rio Grande Valley said citrus and vegetables got a big boost from soaking rains.

But the Crystal City area onion and oat crops and the remnants of the cotton harvest were considered virtually a total loss, the State Department of Agriculture said.

LONDON (AP)—Moscow Radio reported that Lunik III completed its movement around the moon at 9:16 a.m. (EST) today.

The radio said the spaceship made its nearest approach to the moon at a distance of 7,000 kilometers (about 4,375 miles).

At least a limited revelation of what the Lunik sees is expected to be disclosed within the next 24 hours. Even if not detailed, it may at least say that man's new space-eye has registered a view of the hitherto unseen part of the moon.

Soviet scientists said the "complete automatic observatory" — as they termed the space traveler — would begin sending back electronic data immediately. They said the central Soviet computing station will correlate the information, making most of it public.

Scientists believe the electronic signals will produce pictures of crater scars similar to those on the side of the moon exposed to earth.

They are just as interested, if not more so, in what information the satellite will accumulate on its scheduled return glide into a vast, cigar-shaped orbit around the earth. Soviet observatory teams are set up to track the 614-pound laboratory on its trip back.

A Soviet scientist, Prof. I. A. Khvostikov, said the space vehicle reported on radiation and magnetic fields on its way up to the moon. It is expected to do the same on the way back, providing a check on whether radiation and magnetic intensities are constant or fluctuating.

The satellite reached an initial velocity of 6.83 miles a second after its launching Sunday. Later in its 238,857-mile trip the speed dropped to 1.24 miles a second.

Tass explained that this speed—slower than the first two Soviet moonshots last month — was necessary to prevent the satellite from escaping the gravitational pull of the moon, which must send it curving back toward earth.

Otherwise, Tass said, it would fly off into orbit around the sun — the fate of the January moon shot.

Soviet scientists emphasized that the most interesting achievements of the moon probe were that an automatic space observatory had been built and was operating in space and that it was sending radio signals to the earth.

Signals from the satellite's two transmitters are sent for periods of two to four hours daily. The flying laboratory stores up its information on tape for relay when the Soviet radio signal again switches on the transmitter.

Britain's giant radio telescope at Jodrell Bank tracked the new Lunik for an hour and 32 minutes Monday. Dr. J. G. Davies, the senior lecturer at Jodrell Bank reported the satellite was very close to the position predicted for it by the Soviets and could be considered on course.

West Accused

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The Western Union accused the Westery Powers today of aggravating the cold war by refusing to support Communist Poland for a seat in the U.N. Security Council.

directly involved in the negotiations have told McDonald that the industry negotiating committee, headed by R. Conrad Cooper of U.S. Steel, has complete authority to reach an agreement.

When President Eisenhower got the negotiators together after an earlier break up in New York he gave them until Thursday to show signs of progress.

The alternative, the President implied, would be Taft-Hartley action. That could mean a federal court injunction to send the workers back to the mills for an 80-day cooling-off period.

The fruitless efforts of days of bargaining became evident when the wage policy committee formally rejected the latest company offer Monday morning. The committee called the offer completely unsatisfactory.

Steelworkers Refuse To Call End To Walkout

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The United Steelworkers Union, saying it has erred a fair settlement, pledged today to continue the 84-day strike "until justice is done."

The union's 170-member wage policy committee issued a statement reaffirming the union's rejection of an industry settlement offer classed by the union as "totally inadequate."

David J. McDonald, union president, said no further meetings were scheduled with the industry. Talks collapsed Monday night. McDonald proposed a meeting with top executives of five leading steel firms, but they did not reply immediately.

With negotiations completely broken off prospects increased that President Eisenhower will invoke the Taft-Hartley Act with its 80-day bar against the strike. Heads of the 12 steel companies

Scout-Cub Training Aim Is The Moulding Of Men

The little boy helping a sweet old lady across the street is part of Scouting all right, but the moulding of stalwart men is the main objective.

Last year in the Lone Star District, 1,451 boys were subjected to influences which are destined to strengthen their character and train them as participating citizens. They learned about the flag and the glories of this nation's history, about the responsibilities of freedom, the necessity for men to be able to do things for themselves and to take care of themselves and others in times of emergency.

And while they learned about knot tying, camping, first aid, thrift, cleanliness, reverence, how to use a compass and an axe and even the lesson of a good turn by helping the little old lady, Boy Scouts also got vocational guidance for their merit badge and other programs. The little Cubs (738 of them) began to learn to do things for themselves in conjunction with their parents. At the other end, the Explorers (214 of them) began to learn how adults carry on a program of service through organization.

The Lone Star District is part of the 18-county Buffalo Trail Council. The council plan of operation cuts down tremendously on administrative costs with one top organization to serve 10 districts. Through it the staff of professional workers is sustained, but essentially Scouting is a volunteer organization. The ratio of professionals is one to 500 volunteers. The program itself is carried out through institutions in a community who use their boys and their men on a program that has been proven the world over. How well it has succeeded here is reflected in a doubling of the membership within the past five years, plus the intangible of hundreds of boys who will be better Americans, better citizens, better churchmen, better fathers.

At issue in the strike are work control clauses and pay provisions.

New Airport Is Dedicated

On hand bright and early for the dedication ceremonies today at the Howard County Airport were Dell McGuire and his 4-year-old son, Gordon Ray. They were among earlier arrivals at the airport where the dedication exercises were in progress all Tuesday afternoon. Highlighting the ceremonies was the arrival of the All-Texas Air Tour, "fly overs" by Webb AF planes and a dedicatory address by Hon. George Mahon, congressman from the Big Spring district. The airport has been constructed at a cost of $800,000. Half of this cost was borne by the county and the remainder by the Federal Aviation Agency.

A Devotional For Today

A new commandment I give unto you. That ye love one another; as I have loved you, that ye also love one another. (John 13:34.)
PRAYER: Our Father, teach us to love as Christ loved us — with an unselfish, pure love, always present, always lasting 'til the end. By this path lead us to know that we live in Him. In His name. Amen.
 (From The 'Upper Room')

An Instrument Of Progress

Today we dedicate the new Howard County Airport as an instrument for progress of this area.
 This venture has been underwritten by taxpayers who believe that a modern airport is an essential ingredient for a balanced transportation system. Like highways and lateral roads, airports have come to be a public charge which in time may become self supporting through the revenues that they generate. But like highways they have come to be one of the bases upon which the general progress of a community projects itself.
 For a time following World War II we saw the fruits of an exceptionally good airport with ample facilities. For several years we have experienced the lesson of how civil and commercial aviation can be choked in the absence of suitable facilities.
 It is abundantly clear that the development of civil aviation — in the air age — requires all-weather, lighted runways with storage and service space handy. By the time the airport opened for business here, virtually all the T hangar space was taken by private owners of airplanes. Cadden immediately erected a large hangar and offices at the field to handle its fleet of planes. The sale of fuel the first month was far in excess of expectations. All of this simply points up the fact that civil aviation now has a chance to do some real growing here.

 As for commercial aviation, our only real chance of revival in that field is in new, adequate and entirely separate facilities than those now used jointly with the military at Webb. Only one carrier had the right to go in at Webb, except by special arrangement, and getting in and out of the base to board the plane is unhandy if not downright discouraging.
 Perhaps when the CAB shakes us off the merry-go-round of fewer and worse schedules and provides a realistic, utilitarian feeder schedule, we shall see commercial aviation come around again.
 The county airport is a splendid facility that is destined to play an increasingly important role in the life and development of our area.

Fire Prevention For Your Protection

This is Fire Prevention Week in the United States and Canada — and in Abilene, Anson, Big Spring, Baird, Sweetwater, and every other community in these friendly neighbor-nations.
 Always it is set for the week containing Oct. 9, anniversary of the great Chicago fire of 1871.
 The people of any community make their own fire insurance rates, by the way they observe the rules of commonsense in taking precautions against fires.
 If they had had last year's record, the results are reflected in the premiums they pay for fire insurance. If they compile a poor record, they pay higher rates.
 Simple as that. And fair enough.
 For the protection of your own life and property, appoint this week to go over your premises and eliminate all the fire hazards you can find. Clean out waste paper, old rags and other junk wherever you can find it — and you'll be surprised the places you find it.

 Be sure your household electric circuits aren't overloaded. Every time you put in a new gadget the load on your service wires is increased just that much. Overloaded wires get hot, and hot wires cause fires.
 Throw away those rubber hose connections on gas appliances and put in a safe tubing. Be sure no curtain comes near an open gas or wood fire.
 Be sensible. Be watchful. Don't take chances on your life and property.

Marquis Childs Old Pros Of Diplomacy Are Pessimistic

WASHINGTON — Scratch a diplomat in this town today and you are very likely to find a pessimist. President Eisenhower's breathtaking adventure in personal diplomacy in his meeting with Premier Khrushchev has left much of the diplomatic corps sizzled and gloomy over the future.
 One reason may be a professional distrust of person-to-person encounters at the highest level and the uncertainty of the verbal agreements that come out of such encounters. They fly in the face of the canons of diplomacy, which demand that agreements be tied up in precise, lawyer-like language.
 But more than professional jealousy is back of the mood of skepticism and doubt reflected by many diplomats with whom this reporter has talked. They are almost all in agreement that the Khrushchev visit was necessary and even desirable. It was an inevitable development growing out of the crisis over Berlin.
 What troubles them is the prospect that the Soviets will in the end get their way with the West yielding on Berlin and other major issues. The visit, interpreted in many parts of the world as a concession, will be followed by other concessions to the unremitting pressure of communism over the years.
 This is by no means, however, a unanimous opinion. What is striking is the way the pessimists and the optimists divide over the future in the era of a better atmosphere (about which almost no one disagrees) that has now been opened up. Here are the two perspectives — the viewers with alarm and the viewers with at least moderate hope.
 The Pessimists:
 In the long higgly-haggle of negotiation over months and years the West will in effect yield on Berlin. Some form of the Communist "free city" will be established and the rights of the West Berliners will be whittled away. The effect will be to weaken the North Atlantic Alliance and encourage the spread of neutralism.
 On disarmament the sweeping Khrushchev proposal before the United Nations will be seen for what it really was — a propaganda gesture. When it comes to actual negotiation for disarming in the 10-nation committee the same old tactics of stalling on minor points of inspection and control will prevail. Ultimate failure will be blamed on the West and the Russian people will be told they cannot have the consumer goods promised them because the Western Powers refuse to disarm.
 During his 16 years of confinement he had studied law, passing the bar examination, read theological books and served as superintendent of the prison Sunday school. He seemed to have reformed completely, but when moving to El Paso he drifted back into some of his old ways. He was shot in the back of the head by an El Paso lawman in 1895.
 Hardin is a controversial figure. Some biographers describe him as the coldest killer of them all. Others, such as Lewis Noyd, claim he was victim of bad "press agents."
 In either case, Hardin was a gunman without equal. He killed his first victim before his 15th birthday and added six more "notches" on his first trip up the Chisholm Trail. He married Jane Bowen and attempted to settle down, but shortly was involved with the Texas State Police and the Sutton-Taylor feud. He was tried and convicted for the murder of Charles Webb, deputy sheriff from Brown County. He was handsome, courtly in manners and in his autobiography denied ever killing anyone without cause. But he had over 30 notches on his gun and supposedly was the first six-gun expert to master the "roll."

pressured during his tour of the United States.
 In Red China, Khrushchev attended the 10th anniversary celebration of the Communist takeover. What went on appears to have moved some in the West to speak hopefully of a Soviet-Chinese cleavage.
 But now much of what it hears about this can the West afford to trust? From outward appearances, there would seem to have been some coolness between the Soviet chief and the Red Chinese leadership. However, assessing this, one finds it difficult to forget that the men now ruling the Communist world spent most of their lives in the school of deviousness and subterfuge.
 Possibly there are some points of conflict between Khrushchev and the Red Chinese. Perhaps there are ruffled Chinese feathers. But the evidence indicates a broad area of collaboration in foreign policy between Moscow and Peking.
 The Soviet leader's Peiping trip coincided with a meeting of top-ranking Communist leaders and delegations from all corners of the earth. The Peiping celebration, as similar occasions in Moscow have done, provided a convenient excuse for a Communist international session.
 It would be naive to believe all that took place in Peiping was broadcast or published, or, indeed, that anything was made public which was not in the interests of the Communist movement. One must assume Khrushchev gave world Communist leaders his view of how his U.S. tour fitted in with Communist world designs.
 It might be comforting to think Khrushchev's American visit resulted in aggravations between Moscow and Peking. A superficial glance at what took place in Peiping might give rise to such a conclusion. But perhaps that is what the Communists want the West to believe.
 By stating it would be unwise to test the durability of the capitalist world by force of arms, Khrushchev put himself in the clear. If anything happens now in Asia, he is responsible in any way? Did he not warn against it?
 The initiative for creating international crisis still is in the hands of the Communists. They can do so when they wish in Berlin, on the borders of Asia, in the Formosa Strait, in Southeast Asia, on the India frontier, or a number of other places.
 The Communists have deliberately provoked crises in the past. Why? Obviously because they had need for crises at those moments. The need will arise again, sooner or later, and the Communists will pull the rug from under those who have been dreaming of a future free of tension.
 When the time comes, Khrushchev can easily tell his own people he tried his best for peace and was thwarted. He can blame the other side.
 Evidence of a Soviet-Chinese rift over Khrushchev's American performance is far too flimsy to be relied upon. Until there is an incontrovertible proof of it, the West must assume there is close collaboration between the two big Communist partners — and that they are up to no good.

Attics For Magpies

NEW YORK (AP) — The best investment a young man can make is to buy a house with a big attic.
 For he will find marriage turns a bride into a magpie. He is likely to find marriage will make a magpie of him, too. Both, for example, may want to scoop up as souvenirs some of the rice thrown at their own wedding.
 The need for an attic is imperative the moment you leave the altar. Where else will you store those eight silver-plated serving trays every young couple receives as wedding presents?
 Also, aging relatives on both sides begin sending the bride and groom precious old family memorabilia they cannot bear to destroy — a faded photograph of great-grandmother in her first communion dress, a rickety old walnut table hand-made by a great-great-uncle during the Civil War.
 The young couple also return from their honeymoon with new-bought bric-a-brac, already haloed by their own sentiments, which they will want to pass on to a wry grateful posterity. Each later trip they take will swell the accumulation.
 Now, there is nothing at all wrong with all this if the young couple has an attic to store things in. As the years pass, they add grandmother's favorite rocker. They add their receipted bills, baby's shoes, the children's outgrown toys, old sweaters or shoes of their own they loved too much to throw away.
 In this time attic becomes the family treasure vault of memories. Parent or child likes to go there alone, or together, and paw through the layers of debris that tell the family history as rings do for a tree. They know the excitement of reliving the past, of feeling through these heirlooms, useless to anyone else, a link between the warm dead past and the warm living present.
 They lead an ordered life in the ordered rooms below, and dream in the cluttered attic above.

THE GALLUP POLL

Nixon Popularity Soars With GOP

PRINCETON, N. J. — Vice President Nixon's popularity for the 1960 Republican nomination among his party's rank-and-file has risen to a new high.
 The latest Gallup Poll check on the Vice President's political standing finds 68 per cent of Republican voters across the country wanting Nixon to head their party's ticket in the Presidential race next year.
 One month ago, the comparable figure was 65 per cent; the month before that, 61 per cent.
 Nixon enjoys greater support for the GOP nomination today than at any time since the 1956 election.
 The Vice President's gains, in the last two months, have not come particularly at the expense of his nearest rival for the nomination, Gov. Nelson Rockefeller.
 Governor Rockefeller is in the No. 2 spot at present with the support of about one Republican voter in five. This is about the same degree of popularity he has had since May.
 Together, Nixon and Rockefeller dominate the field of potential GOP candidates tested — polling close to nine out of ten of all votes cast by Republicans.
 As they have at periodic intervals over the last two-and-a-half years, Gallup Poll reporters across the country put this question to a cross-section of Republican voters:
 "Here is a list of men who have been

Around The Rim

How Not To Spend A Saturday Night

Governor Price Daniel, Senator Lyndon Johnson and I were trapped by the Pedernales River Sunday after those 18-inch rains hit the Fredericksburg areas.
 Of course they were in Lyndon's ranch home near Johnson City, with their dry-soaked feet hoisted onto hassocks (which no doubt had "LBJ" monogrammed on them) with "Ladybird" wheeling trays of hot tea back and forth.
 They probably were discussing how to be president without running, and Lyndon was probably adding a few words on the need for (1) water conservation and (2) compromise.
 I was pacing in the rain on U. S. Highway 87 just south of Fredericksburg, where the bridge usually crosses the river.
 This time the river crossed it.
 "They oughta have a high water bridge over this road," I complained to the highway department worker holding back traffic.
 "Man, this is," he said, as trees hurded the bridge railings and went tumbling end over end in muddy waters rushing through the bottomland.
 Some 50 cars and trucks were parked on the road's shoulder in the darkness, as steady rains clinked upon their roofs, and ever - so - often a hailstone plummeting through the night changed the tune to a clank.
 Occupants of some cars joined forces for impromptu parties, and others slumbered alone, while truckers huddled in the rain to speculate.
 Occasionally a car's lights came on and its motor roared disgustedly as a driver gave up and reversed his field to Fredericksburg.
 Their headlights, and those of still more cars arriving, the stern red blink from the state truck, and jerky beams from flashlights kept the scene as alive as a city, and the river's roar added to the sense of activity.
 Then the waters dropped below the bridge, and trees, limbs, and other debris

Inez Robb

Lily-Livered Inez Goes To The Dentist

Like Margaret Fuller, "I accept the universe" and to any latterday Thomas Carlyle who may parrot his "Gad! she'd better!" I accept my time and condition and am simply glad to be alive.
 There is only one constant prediction that occasionally makes me wistful in the belief that I was born 50 years too soon. That is the recurring dental forecast that dental decay will "soon" be nonexistent.
 Dr. Willard C. Fleming of San Francisco, dean of the School of Dentistry of the University of California, is the latest prophet in the vein. To justify this beautiful statement that "no child need ever lose a tooth from decay," the good doctor added:
 "Some dentists currently in practice may witness dental caries (decay) joining typhoid, smallpox and other preventable diseases which have been conquered by man."
 Naturally, I rejoice for future generations, but I cannot help but hanker for some of that surcease from the drill, the only legalized instrument of torture still recognized in the civilized world.
 "Teeth, eyes and feet cause more people more discomfort than anything else," Dr. Dudley J. Morton of New York recently reported. Amen! Only what a milk-toastque term "discomfort" is for the tortures of the damned!
 In recent years I have been making up for all the years in which the dentist, every six months, looked at my molars and said, "Go in peace." Now he says, "Say and be my guest, on the regular piecemeal basis."
 Only pride keeps me from fleeing his office, screaming with fear. All my life I have thought of myself as a lily-livered coward in the face of the dental command, "Open wider, please." I sit there in that awful chair and "am acquainted with sad misery as the tann'd galley-salve is with his oar."
 Or at least I thought I was lily-livered. Now I am beginning to have second thoughts on the matter. For all I know I may be lion-brave. Dr. Philip Sutton of Melbourne University says that persons with blue eyes can bear more pain, at all ages, than persons with dark eyes. Blue eyes are what I have, all right. But my problem, doctor, is getting my teeth to understand that fact and live up to it. My teeth act as if my eyes were dark brown. Shucks, as if they were jet black. Dr. Sutton, writing in a medical journal, "Nature," says persons who belong to dark-brown eyes can't stand a fraction as much pain as I can.
 Ah! that's what he thinks. It is true that I don't kick and scream or bite my dentist. But it isn't because I don't want to. What I wouldn't give to nibble the end of the finger probing that throbbing lower molar! What I wouldn't give to take a swing at the big bully when he cheerfully says, "This is going to hurt a little."
 A little, my blue eyes! And is there a law that says he has to be cheerful about my teeth?
 The National Bureau of Standards has just gotten into this discussion, too, with the development of a high-speed, water-powered dental drill with less vibration and more speed than the old rotary drill. But it hurts just as much, because my dentist, drat him, has one of those.
 As I enter my dentist's door, he picks up the Novocain. He says either I take it or he does, on the theory both of us can't hit the ceiling simultaneously. So nothing is ever going to convince even my eye-teeth that they're true blue. My teeth darn it, are color blind.

THE GALLUP POLL

Nixon Popularity Soars With GOP

PRINCETON, N. J. — Vice President Nixon's popularity for the 1960 Republican nomination among his party's rank-and-file has risen to a new high.
 The latest Gallup Poll check on the Vice President's political standing finds 68 per cent of Republican voters across the country wanting Nixon to head their party's ticket in the Presidential race next year.
 One month ago, the comparable figure was 65 per cent; the month before that, 61 per cent.
 Nixon enjoys greater support for the GOP nomination today than at any time since the 1956 election.
 The Vice President's gains, in the last two months, have not come particularly at the expense of his nearest rival for the nomination, Gov. Nelson Rockefeller.
 Governor Rockefeller is in the No. 2 spot at present with the support of about one Republican voter in five. This is about the same degree of popularity he has had since May.
 Together, Nixon and Rockefeller dominate the field of potential GOP candidates tested — polling close to nine out of ten of all votes cast by Republicans.
 As they have at periodic intervals over the last two-and-a-half years, Gallup Poll reporters across the country put this question to a cross-section of Republican voters:
 "Here is a list of men who have been

1960 Buick Line Features New Styling, Roominess, Roadability

Buick's 1960 line of cars featuring all-new sculptured styling, increased roominess and improved roadability and performance will be on display Thursday at McEwen Motor Co.

Passenger comfort in all 19 models has been improved by lowering the transmission hump and floor in front and raising the seats to chair-height levels. Redesigned shock absorbers incorporated with toughened front stabilizer and rear track bars further enhance Buick's traditionally easy riding and handling qualities.

"These 1960 models are the most reliable Buicks ever built," said Edward D. Rollert, general manager of Buick and vice president of General Motors. "Quality in manufacture, plus our sculptured styling and fresh new features, make these the most outstanding cars we ever have produced."

New features include a single transverse muffler which serves both dual and single exhaust systems, an adjustable instrument panel that can be tilted to any position for easier reading, and independent heater controls for both the front and rear seats.

A massive front end design, with twin headlights horizontally abreast at the ends of a new concave grille, complements the sculptured body styling. The twin headlights are set outboard of the grille in simulated jet-pod hous-

Bevan Would Find Foreign Ministry Tight

By ALVIN STEINKOPF
LONDON (AP)—Aneurin Bevan, expected to become foreign minister of Britain if the Labor party wins Thursday's election, has for years been one of the country's most provocative leaders on the left wing of politics.

The foreign ministry would be a fine personal triumph for this politician who came up from a miner's hut in Wales. But many of his associates believe the responsibility for guiding Britain's foreign policy is not exactly the job he would choose for himself.

He would prefer to be prime minister, wielding sweeping authority in the domestic affairs which have been his chief pre-occupation since he first entered Parliament in 1929.

I KNOW IT'S TRUE... I READ IT TODAY IN BIG SPRING DAILY HERALD

This is the picture of a man who's sure he's right, because his facts are recorded in print, in a medium he respects for its care in reporting the facts—his daily newspaper.

Most people are convinced, and rightly so, that newspapers are reliable, because they know that newspaper people are trained and experienced in painstaking, impartial treatment of everything that's written and printed. This makes your daily newspaper as accurate a record of the day's events as is humanly possible to present.

Another thing—newspapers are a permanent record. Facts in the newspaper don't get twisted and confused because people don't hear them quite right, or because they fade from memory in time. They're put into permanent print, where they can be saved for future reference, and checked for reliability again and again.

Readers have confidence in their newspapers. This is one of the biggest reasons why newspapers produce such consistent results for advertisers.

For honest forthright reporting, for accurate knowledge of local, national and international affairs... and for the daily advertisements that help you live better, read and subscribe to:

URBAN RENEWAL Revitalization Of Cities Is Essential To Survival

Cities will consume themselves with malignant blight unless they devise some means of revitalizing themselves.

Urban renewal, whether privately or publicly undertaken, is one approach to the problem, R. C. Robinson, Fort Worth, head of the regional Federal Housing and Home Finance Agency's urban renewal field group of citizens here Monday evening.

Approximately 50 turned out at the Settles Hotel to hear Robinson at a meeting called by the Chamber of Commerce housing committee. Following the recent referendum in which public housing was rejected, the committee invited Robinson here for an explanation of urban renewal as one possible approach to the problem of upgrading blighted and slum areas.

Although there are certain federal aids available, the urban renewal is primarily a private undertaking, Robinson declared. For the most part, it must have sanction by a public vote.

SUBSIDIZATION NEEDED

Robinson said there is a natural reluctance on the part of many to subsidize property, but in the case of slums or deteriorating properties they are subsidized locally through low tax revenues and higher costs for serving them with health, fire, police and other services. Good property pays six times the share of bad property in taxes.

No program of urban renewal or revitalization can succeed unless it has citizen participation, Robinson asserted.

The program, he explained, is three pronged: 1) to conserve values and standard living conditions; 2) restore areas which have begun to go downhill; and 3) reclaiming or replacing sections which have become sub-standard or slums.

Elements of a renewal plan are first to have a workable program, legal authority (which includes the right of eminent domain or power to condemn) and financing.

First of all the problem has to be approached on area instead of a piece by piece basis, he continued. The city must enter the picture with a willingness to have and enforce suitable building, health housing and similar codes.

There needs to be recognition that the privilege of ownership does not include the right to reduce a neighbor's values through letting your own property go to pot. There needs to be an analysis of the neighborhood, there must be coordination of activities by the municipality, adequate practical finance, some provision for developing housing for persons displaced for any reason.

DEAR ABBY THEY SHOULD HAVE

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am a working mother. I am heart-broken to find out that my 16-year-old daughter would pretend to go to school, in fact, she would return home with her boyfriend. Now they are fixed into marriage because she is pregnant. What makes me sick is that now that everybody knows about it, all my so-called friendly neighbors tell me that they could see what was going on all year. Don't you think they should have told me?

HEARTSICK MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: Yes, in my opinion, the neighbors who considered themselves friends of yours should have told you long ago. I don't approve of petty tale-bearing or meddlesome gossip, but in this case, had someone informed you earlier, the whole unhappy situation might have been prevented.

DEAR ABBY: My sister has been supporting her husband for eight years now. Art claims he is writing a book and spends most of his time at the library. He quit his job three months after she married him and hasn't earned a dollar since.

My mother is miserable about the whole thing. My sister loves her husband and they have no children so we can't tell her that her place is at home. Still, we feel she is getting shabby and poor. Should we have a talk with her, or Art? Or should we keep quiet as we have been doing for eight years?

SISTER

DEAR SISTER: Keep quiet, of course. "When ignorance is bliss,

DEAR ABBY

"is folly to be wise." Your sister's ignorance must be bliss, or she would have done something about it long ago. There is no problem here.

DEAR ABBY: My husband is retired and is home all day. So am I. Yesterday (at almost noon) the young married woman who has the apartment next to ours appeared at our door in nothing but her nightgown! She claimed she stepped out to get her morning paper and her door slammed shut and locked her out.

My poor husband was so embarrassed he couldn't look her in the face. He went for the janitor to let her in. There are two old maids living across the hall. Why didn't she rap on THEIR door? I am so nervous thinking this may happen again, I don't want to live my apartment. What should be done about it? NERVOUS

DEAR NERVOUS: If I were you, I'd forget about it. Your locked-out neighbor was probably just as embarrassed as your husband. Don't fret about an incident that is not likely to occur again.

CONFIDENTIAL TO 13-YEAR-OLD-BOY: The current headlines disturb me, too. If you want to read a terrific book in which the hero is a teen-aged boy, for a change, get JOHNNY TREMAIN, by Forbes. Your public library has it.

What's your problem? For a personal reply write to ABBY, in care of the Big Spring Herald. Enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Desk And Derrick Members Hear Austrian Exchange Students

Desk and Derrick Club members met in the Hospitality Room of Texas Electric Service Company Monday evening, when they heard two exchange students from Austria.

Horst Strayach told the group of the schools in Austria, and Gottfried Plachetsky discussed oil development in that country. The two are spending four months working with Cosden Petroleum Corporation to learn the oil business.

The club was told that there are

In a discussion of the oil business,

Drive For Members In P-TA Ends

Announcement of the winner in the Vealmoor P-TA membership drive was made at a meeting of the group Monday evening at the school.

The room made up of the first, second and third grades, taught by Mrs. William Harrell, won the prize of five dollars for enrolling the largest number of members.

M. B. Maxwell opened the session with a prayer.

Plans were made for a Halloween Fiesta, to be held at the school. Appointed as a committee to make arrangements for the affair were Dwan Williams, Hubert Green, Carl McKee and Calvin Bryce. Guests at the carnival will be expected to wear costumes.

The regular meeting of the P-TA will be at the school Thursday at 3:30 p.m.

P-TA Board Plans For Carnival

At a meeting of the executive board of Boydstun P-TA, plans were further developed for the carnival to be given on Oct. 29.

The session was opened with a prayer by William Irwin. A discussion was held of delegates for the district meeting slated for Colorado City, Oct. 15, and for that to the state convention. This will be held in Dallas, Nov. 18-20.

Announcement was made that 284 have joined the P-TA up to the present time.

Missionary Program Given Baptist WMS

Hong Kong, Macao, I Give Myself was the opening program for the new year of the WMS of the First Baptist Church Monday evening. The Maye Bell Taylor Circle presented it.

Against a background of hanging Chinese lanterns, the interest table held Chinese dolls, prints, umbrellas, and a collection plate on bamboo mats.

An unusual feature was an easel holding letters from missionaries to the area, and during the program the letters were removed and voices were heard from behind a screen impersonating the missionaries as they wrote the letters.

Those participating in the program were Mrs. Bill Johnson, Mrs. Luther McDaniel, Mrs. Johnny Shortes, Mrs. David Edmonds, Mrs. Paul Rice, and Mrs. James Biggs.

The group decided to send used clothing to Hong Kong. Mrs. Inez Lewis received a gift certificate for her work on the year book. Mrs. Clyde Angel, who served as president for the past three years, was presented with a sterling silver cake server.

Gold chrysanthemums and fall leaves centered the table for the refreshments that followed the meeting. Mrs. Angel served cake and Mrs. B. T. Faulkner served coffee and tea.

Donna Dement Is VIC Sweetheart

Donna Dement was elected sweetheart of the VIC members when the group met at high school Monday evening. Planned was a scrap iron drive for the purpose of increasing the treasury.

Sam Copelin was named sergeant-at-arms for the coming year. Two guests, Cherry Plant and Jan Gregory, were present for the meeting, which ended with a scavenger hunt.

HD Council Will Go State Fair In Group

Texas' State Fair in Dallas will be the destination of a chartered bus bearing members of the Home Demonstration Council. The group will leave Oct. 19, it was decided at a meeting of the council held in the agent's office Monday afternoon.

Mrs. E. R. Williamson brought the devotional program to the group from Proverbs 16.

Three delegates to the state convention held in Galveston, Mrs. L. M. Deifer, Mrs. Ray Shortes, and Mrs. D. L. Dannheiser, gave brief resumes of the meeting.

Presbyterians Meet

Members of St. Paul Presbyterian Church One met Monday evening in the home of Mrs. C. M. Wozencraft to plan the church dinner which they will host at a date to be announced. Mrs. Al Seddon brought the lesson, based on a study of Peter, for the five attending.

'ROUND TOWN

With Lucille Pickle

Now we know what is so rare as a day in June, it's a sunny day in October after days of wet muggy weather and too many floods over the state.

The heavy, foggy weather was deceptive. Although it seemed to be quite cool, actually it was only a little cooler than usual. Many people stoked up fires in their fireplaces only to find the warmth was too much. One family had to turn on the air conditioner to cool off the house when the fireplace put forth too much heat. Drowsy Saturday did seem to be a good day for a bright fire.

Coahoman Visiting In San Antonio

COAHOMA — Mrs. Frank Lovell is visiting this week with her daughter and family the Rev. and Mrs. Dick Copeland of San Antonio.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Tinner are at home following a three week vacation spent visiting and sightseeing in San Marcos, Houston and Corpus Christi.

Members of the Couples Class of the First Presbyterian Church met in the church fellowship hall Saturday for a covered dish supper and 42 party. Twenty-three members attended with the class teacher, C. H. DeVaney. The Rev. and Mrs. Bill Petmeyer were guests.

Presbyterian Women Elect Group Officers

Women of the First Presbyterian Church elected Mrs. Dalton Mitchell and Mrs. Arthur Pickle to the Presbytery of the Southwest at their meeting Monday afternoon. Mrs. Roland Schwarzenbach and Mrs. Earl Stovall will be alternates for the meeting to be held Nov. 4 and 5 in Lubbock.

New officers were selected with Mrs. Don Farley becoming vice president, Miss Florence McNew, treasurer, and Mrs. A. A. Porter, secretary.

Committee chairmen for the coming year will be Mrs. W. C. Carroll, annuities and relief; Mrs. W. H. Lyon, stewardship; Mrs. Jack Wilcox, spiritual growth; and Mrs. George Neill, historian.

The group decided to host the district conference that will be held here Jan. 28, 1960. Mrs. Joe Moss will announce committees at a later date.

Committee reports were heard from Mrs. Charles Harwell and Mrs. Arthur Pickle. Mrs. W. G. Wilson Jr. reported on the United Council of Church Women.

Margaret Currie Circle will serve the Men's Fellowship Dinner this month, while the Ella Barrick Circle will have the Young People's refreshments.

The resignation of Mrs. W. C. Henley as reporter was accepted. Mrs. Henley has served in this capacity for seven years.

Missionary Program Given Baptist WMS

Hong Kong, Macao, I Give Myself was the opening program for the new year of the WMS of the First Baptist Church Monday evening. The Maye Bell Taylor Circle presented it.

Against a background of hanging Chinese lanterns, the interest table held Chinese dolls, prints, umbrellas, and a collection plate on bamboo mats.

An unusual feature was an easel holding letters from missionaries to the area, and during the program the letters were removed and voices were heard from behind a screen impersonating the missionaries as they wrote the letters.

Those participating in the program were Mrs. Bill Johnson, Mrs. Luther McDaniel, Mrs. Johnny Shortes, Mrs. David Edmonds, Mrs. Paul Rice, and Mrs. James Biggs.

The group decided to send used clothing to Hong Kong. Mrs. Inez Lewis received a gift certificate for her work on the year book. Mrs. Clyde Angel, who served as president for the past

DODGERS CAN SEW UP WORLD TITLE TODAY

By ED WILKS
LOS ANGELES (AP)—The Los Angeles Dodgers, finally reaping a payoff from the promised land, can tack away major league baseball's world championship today and make the Chicago White Sox 40-year wait for a World Series hardly seem worth it.

After taking a 3-1 edge in the best-of-seven series when Gil Hodges' tie-breaking home run beat the White Sox 5-4 Monday, the Dodgers now can end it all by winning today's fifth game. They're favored at 11-10 to do just that.

And it's 5-1 the Sox don't win it ever.

The White Sox, putting runners on base, but leaving 'em to tan there in the hot sun of Memorial Coliseum, picked right-hander Bob Shaw for the must game. He was the loser in the second game, 4-3 at Chicago's Comiskey Park.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Sports dialogue:
CARROLL ROSENBLUM, owner of the Baltimore Colts, after watching his excitable coach, Weeb Ewbank, perform on the sidelines:

"No coach in the NFL should be allowed on the field during the game. They should be confined to the locker room."

PEEWEE REESE, coach of the Los Angeles Dodgers:

"I wonder where we'd be if it weren't for Wally Moon. He got so many big hits, did so many things to win ball games and his hustle rubbed off on some of the other fellows. I'd have to vote for Wally for the most valuable player in the league."

MAX BURNETT, griddler for Rice Institute:

"I'm from Fredonia, which ain't big enough to tie a cow to."

LOU VISCUSI, discussing the upcoming fight between his boy, Cleveland Williams, and Sonny Liston:

"This is it for Cleve. If he wins he'll be right up there among the contenders. If he loses, he might as well go back to Georgia."

HOMER NORTON, former Texas A&M football mentor:

"If football continues its present trend, the sympathies of the average fan will soon be with the favorite... The task of predicting football games is more precarious than ever."

ABE MARTIN, TCU coach, to his team shortly after it had lost to LSU:

"Potentially, you are the greatest team I've ever been connected with. We can stop worrying about being No. 1 now and settle down to win some football games."

KING HILL, former Rice grid great, now in pro football:

"Big Daddy Lipscomb (of Baltimore) knocked me down once, then picked me up, patted me on the back and said: 'Don't you worry, boy, you may get that next pass off.'"

CEDAR RAPIDS, Iowa, newspaper:

"Out of College Station, Texas, comes word that the Texas A&M football coach says something must be done about this transfer business. Seems he is quite indignant about losing three of his prize sophomores to the University of Kansas and a fourth to Lamar Tech, which has a football team, too, we guess. Snapped the coach: 'We need to stop this jumping around. We must have some rules with teeth in them.' All of which must have Iowa State University authorities in Ames in stitches. Why? Well, look who's talking. None other than Coach Jim Myers, the same Jim Myers who jumped a contract at Iowa State to take his present post."

HENRY CHRISTOPHER, SMU end:

"In practice one day last year, Frank Jackson went down and was cutting out. Just as he cut, Don Meredith hit him with a real bullet pass—right on the side of the helmet. It knocked Frank a little silly. Jackson may not remember the lesson, but I did. With Don, you can't ever lose, even when you're not the primary receiver. I guess I've caught as many when I wasn't the primary receiver. With Don, everybody is the primary receiver. He's got real good vision of the field at all times and if anybody gets clear he'll usually flag them."

TWBA Officials To Meet In Executive Parley Here

The executive board of Texas Women's Bowling Association, headed by Mrs. Helen Baetz of San Antonio, president, will be in executive session with members of the City Women's Association throughout Saturday at the Desert Sands Restaurant.

Delegates are expected from such far away places as Galveston and El Paso.

In each state, the state committee serves as the backbone for the Women's International Bowling Congress.

Ronnie Bachstadt, president of the City Women's Bowling Association, heads the group which will greet and meet with the visiting officers.

All members of the City Association are eligible to attend a dinner dance to be tendered the visiting delegates. It will be held at the NCO Club at Webb AFB, starting at 7:30 p.m. Saturday.

Reservations will be $1.80 each. They can be made through Pat Hamilton, telephone number 4-4713; Martha Coffee, 3-2979; or Janice Sursky, 3-4123. Persons planning to attend should call one of those three women by Thursday night.

The Dodgers gave the ball to Sandy Koufax, the sometimes wild, but strikeout-sure southpaw. It will be his first World Series starting assignment. He gets it because manager Walt Alton wants to give lefty Johnny Podres all the rest he needs should the series go back to Comiskey Park again.

It was Podres who defeated Shaw, with relief from Larry Sherry, the right-handed rookie who has put away two saves and was credited with Monday's victory in relief of Roger Craig.

Wildcats Seek Second Victory

ABILENE (SC)—An unsettled argument which began in 1954 may be solved by Abilene Christian College and Memphis State University, Saturday night at Memphis' Crump Stadium.

In 1954 the two clubs battled to a 6-6 deadlock, the only meeting in history between the two schools.

Memphis' Tigers and ACC's Wildcat go into the Saturday night contest with dissimilar records. Memphis is 2-1 for the season while the Wildcats lag behind 1-2.

On a field made slushy by five inches of rain in 24 hours, Abilene Christian fell 8-7, to Lamar Tech of Beaumont last Saturday night Memphis was at the same time taking a 43-0 trouncing from Mississippi.

The Tigers tipped Stephen F. Austin 25-6, and Tennessee Tech, 12-3, in their first two outings. ACC dropped their opener to East Texas State, 21-0, but defeated Chattanooga 9-0.

Chief problem for Coach N.L. (Nick) Nicholson and his Wildcat coaching staff has been an offensive burst when in TD striking distance. The touchdown against Lamar was their first of the year.

Injuries have made two anticipated trouble spots, quarterback and tackle even more critical. Only two quarterbacks returned for ACC this fall, sophomore Don Davis and one-letter senior Bobby Powell.

Davis suffered a broken collarbone in the Chattanooga conflict which put him out of action for the year. Powell, who has also been bothered by injuries, will run the club against Memphis' Frosh Manley Denton called his first collegiate play against Lamar Tech but it was not ready for extensive duty.

First unit tackle Charles Wiseman is still not ready to go after suffering a dislocated elbow in the opening game Junior Herma Phillips has turned in creditable action at the left spot with five unassisted tackles and 21 assists.

Giant end Robert McLeod, 6-5, 225-pounds paces the Wildcat defense. He has 12 tackles and 22 assists in three outings.

ACC came back to threaten but lost the ball on a fumble at the Lamar 27 and the Cardinals ran out the clock.

The losing share should pass the old record, $6,934.34 by the 1956 Dodgers, with ease, however.

The top winning share thus far went to the 1954 New York Giants, who swept Cleveland, then managed by Lopez, four straight.

No series has gone less than seven games since.

The Dodgers, world champs only once—and that at Brooklyn in 1955—blew a 4-0 lead Monday. Sherm Lollar's three-run homer capped a tying seventh against Craig who also was troubled by homers when he lost the opener at Chicago 11-0.

Hodges then sent his eighth-inning homer wide of the steel screen in left center off losing reliever Gerry Staley. It was the 70th appearance of the season for the right-handed veteran, who cracked Ed Walsh's 1906 club record of 66 during the regular season.

Once again the White Sox out-hit (10-9) the Dodgers — but couldn't get the runners home. They've left 20 men on base in losing the two games here.

"We've out-fielded them and out-hit them—but we lose," said Lopez, who shook off a suggestion that his Sox have been playing in bad luck.

"Not when we get all those hits," said Al. "And it isn't because of this park either."

"Hell, on six hits during any game this year we scored a lot of runs. That's been our success all year—getting runs on very few hits."

"But now, we're not."

Bavasi Is Ailing But To See Game

LOS ANGELES (AP)—E. J. Buzzie Bavasi, general manager of the Los Angeles Dodgers, was placed under sedation Monday night after suffering a dizzy spell.

Dr. Robert Woods, team physician, said Bavasi was ill from a form of virus that attacks the middle ear and affects the sense of balance.

"His case isn't really serious," said Dr. Woods, "and I am certain he will attend today's game."

This Drive Was Different, Says Dodgers' Hero

By JOE REICHLER
LOS ANGELES (AP)—Unless you really know Gil Hodges, you've probably no idea how much that home run meant to him.

Hodges has hit hundreds of home runs. Several have given him just as much of a thrill as the one he hit Monday to win a World Series game for the Dodgers. But none has given him greater satisfaction.

Good-natured Gil rarely has much to say. Soft-spoken and quiet mannered, the big Dodger first baseman kept his emotions pretty well hidden as he talked quietly with reporters of his eighth-inning homer that gave Los Angeles a 5-4 victory and a three-to-one edge in the series with the Chicago White Sox.

Later, alone in his cubicle in the far end of the clubhouse, the strong, silent slugger attempted, in his shy, unassuming manner, to describe how he felt when he drove Gerry Staley's pitch deep into the open left field stands of the Coliseum.

"It's always a thrill to hit a home run," Hodges began "but this one was a little different."

"It's kind of difficult to explain," he said. "The homer I hit in Chicago in the final series with the Cubs gave me just as big a thrill. It came in the 11th inning, the last game for us, 5-4, and kept us alive. I remember getting a tremendous kick hitting the last of those four home runs in a game back in 1950 though."

Gil hesitated, making sure he got the right words.

"You know of all the trouble I've had with outside pitches," he said, "especially the breaking kind."

"They've been the bane of my life. Every pitcher in the league is aware of my dislike for that outside pitch and every pitcher makes sure I get nothing but the outside pitch."

"My power, as you can guess, is the inside pitch, but I rarely ever get it. I've seen only two inside pitches in this series."

"I've seen the outside pitch so often, you would think by now, after all these years, I would have learned to hit it. I have adjusted myself to it, but I still don't like it. This year I've been doing a little better against the pitch because I have learned to wait a bit longer on it. Also I've moved up on the plate to protect the outside corner."

Was that what Hodges did when he faced Staley with none out in the eighth and the score tied at 4-4?

"That's what I've been trying to do," said Hodges. "I did neither of those things when I hit that homer off Staley. I didn't dare wait on the pitch because of the bad background here in daylight."

"I didn't move up to the plate because I am still bothered a little by the ankle I sprained several weeks ago. It's the right ankle. The more I move up on the plate, the more weight I must put on the ankle."

Gil stopped. It was the longest discourse he had held in a long time. He was embarrassed. But he had driven home his point.

The homer, you see, had come off an outside pitch—a sinker, low and away—a breaking ball.

Hodges hit it off probably the best relief pitcher in the American League without even waiting and without moving up on the plate. Just swinging the old-fashioned way. This was the same kind of pitch that had been responsible for his having set an ignominious record of no hits in 21 times at bat in the 1952 World Series.

That's what that home run meant to Gil Hodges.

LAMESA GAME AHEAD
Longhorns Engage In Rugged Drill

The Big Spring Steers went through an extended workout Monday, one of their most rugged of the season.

Coach Al Milch said the staff had been prone to be easy on the boys in recent weeks, for fear of getting someone injured. After the Steers' disappointing loss against Sweetwater last weekend, however, the coaches decided to risk injury in order to toughen the boys.

"We'll just have to take our chances," Milch stated Monday. "There is no other way."

Tommy Rutledge, one of the starting ends, suffered an ankle injury and was sent to have it packed in ice. He would be sorely missed in the Steers' upcoming game with Lamesa, because the Steers are shy of experienced players at that position.

Gary Pickle, a starting tackle who has been favoring a pinched nerve in his shoulder, re-injured the shoulder Monday but he'll probably be ready Friday.

John (Red) Schwarzenbach, a sophomore who has been seeing a lot of action at one of the end positions, was out of uniform Monday due to illness.

The Steers have lost three games in a row and will be out to break the streak in Lamesa. Lamesa has had its ups and downs but Big Spring scouts say the Tornados have a solid ball club, long on experience.

After misfiring a couple of times, the Tornados got rolling against Brownfield last week and won, 14-8.

Senior Tourney Scheduled Today

SAN ANTONIO (AP)— Match play in six flights with about 200 golfers taking part started today in the State Senior Golf Tournament.

Jim Hibberd of San Antonio, with a two-over-par 73, took medal honors Monday. He was a stroke ahead of Pete Edwards of Lubbock.

Did Al Lopez Pull A Rock In Using Staley Again?

By TED SMITS
Associated Press Sports Writer
LOS ANGELES (AP)—Gerry Staley is the No. 1 relief pitcher of the Chicago White Sox, yet twice in succession he has yielded hits that cost the Sox World Series games.

Sunday it was Carl Furillo's single through the middle that scored two runs and gave the game to the Los Angeles Dodgers 3-1.

Monday it was Gil Hodges' eighth inning home run that won for Los Angeles 5-4.

Furillo and Hodges are Dodger veterans and they faced Staley many times when he pitched for the St. Louis Cardinals.

Each said after the games they knew what to expect from Gerry—sinks and sliders. And each came through with the big hit.

It wouldn't be fair to second-guess manager Al Lopez for using Staley against men who knew him so well, because on the record Staley is the best he has counted the regular season and the series, it was Gerry's 79th game, but the results, from the Sox viewpoint, have been disastrous.

Monday's game looked like a Dodger victory early.

With two out in the third, and Early Wynn on the mound for the Sox, Wally Moon, Norm Larker, Gil Hodges, Don Demeter, and John Roseboro hit successive singles which mixed in with a passed ball, a bad throw from the outfield to third base by Jim Landis, and an error by the usually flawless Luis Aparicio permitted the Dodgers to score four big runs. Turk Lown ended the inning by getting Maury Wills to ground out.

The Dodger margin held up until the seventh when again two were out, Earl Torgerson, pounced hitting for Billy Pierce, ground out but Landis got a single to left. Aparicio sacrificed him to second, which made the second out.

Then Nelson Fox bounced a single off Roger Craig's glove, sending Landis to third, and Ted Kuzewski singled to left, scoring Landis.

At this stage, with Fox and Big Klu on base, Sherrn Lollar lofted a home run over the famous "Chinese screen" in left field which tied the score.

Staley came in to pitch in the bottom of the seventh and retired the Dodgers in order.

But with one strike on Hodges in the eighth, the big first baseman sent a booming home run deep into the left field stands, clear of the "Chinese screen."

Havana Contest Reset Tonight

HAVANA (AP)—Havana and Minneapolis make their second attempt at a seventh game showdown for the Little World Series championship tonight with the Cubans hoping Monday's rain worked a cooling process on the Millers.

Down three games to one after a loss Friday night, the American Assn. Millers squared the series Saturday and Sunday. Their momentum seemed high enough to carry them through the deciding game but a heavy rain forced a 24-hour delay.

The pitching chores go to left-hander Tom Borland for Minneapolis against Havana's Ted Wiest, a righthander.

30 Gridders Are Sent To Hospital

LEVELLAND (AP)—Carbon monoxide poisoning, relayed into their bus by a faulty exhaust system, sent 30 members of the Corpus Christi University football squad to a hospital Sunday.

All had recovered sufficiently Monday, however, to resume their trip home from Las Vegas, N.M., where they played a football game Saturday night.

Included among the 30 ill were 27 players, two coaches and a bus driver.

Graham Pierce Is Named President

DALLAS (AP)—Graham Pierce of Dallas was elected president of the Southwestern Amateur Athletic Assn. Monday night.

Vice presidents include Sam Trant of Tyler.

The group voted to submit the name of Southern Methodist quarterback Don Meredith to the National AAU as the Texas nominee for the Sullivan Award.

Texas Is Rated 4th In AP's Grid Poll

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer
The team rankings for the still-young 1959 college football season are beginning to beat out the coaches' theory that hard-nosed defensive football is what wins games, even though it doesn't stir the spectators.

Of the top ten teams in the third Associated Press ranking poll of the season, three have uncrossed goal lines and three others have allowed only one touchdown each.

Louisiana State, which features a rugged and eager defensive unit known as the "Chinese Bandits," Northwestern (No. 12) and Northwestern State (No. 13) have allowed one touchdown each.

In three games so far, LSU has allowed only three points, shutting out its last two opponents. Texas, in fourth place, and Mississippi, which slid to fifth in a close vote this week, haven't yielded a point in three games each. Southern California (No. 6), Purdue (No. 7) and Tennessee (No. 8) have allowed one touchdown each.

LAMESA GAME AHEAD

The big exception is Georgia Tech, which squeezed its way up from seventh place to third this week Tech, usually strong on defense, has given up 30 points in three winning games. Northwestern has allowed its two opponents—Oklahoma and Iowa—23 points.

The ratings underwent another big shakeup as a result of last Saturday's games. Iowa dropped from fifth to tenth and Army, Clemson and Notre Dame fell from the first ten clear out of sight. Newcomers to the top ten were Purdue, winner over Notre Dame, Southern California and Wisconsin.

The top 10 teams with first place votes in parentheses:

1. Louisiana State (49)	1,064
2. Northwestern (12)	862
3. Georgia Tech (7)	808
4. Texas (10)	608
5. Mississippi (17)	601
6. Southern California (19)	575
7. Tennessee (15)	444
8. Tennessee Tech (20)	324
9. Wisconsin (21)	321
10. Iowa (22)	322
11. South Carolina (31)	155
12. Oklahoma (32)	132
13. Northwestern State (33)	119
14. Auburn (34)	88
15. Southern Methodist (35)	88
16. Penn State (36)	69
17. Florida (37)	63
18. Air Force (38)	53
19. Arkansas (39)	51
20. Illinois (40)	51
Missouri, New Mexico State and Ohio State had not first place vote each.

After misfiring a couple of times, the Tornados got rolling against Brownfield last week and won, 14-8.

At this stage, with Fox and Big Klu on base, Sherrn Lollar lofted a home run over the famous "Chinese screen" in left field which tied the score.

Staley came in to pitch in the bottom of the seventh and retired the Dodgers in order.

But with one strike on Hodges in the eighth, the big first baseman sent a booming home run deep into the left field stands, clear of the "Chinese screen."

Mexicans Wonder About U. S. Game

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Whether the United States and Mexico meet here Thursday in an Olympic soccer elimination game is still up in the air, a Mexican Football Federation official said Monday.

Joaquin Soria Terrazas, federation vice president said.

"The North Americans are showing no signs of life. We do not know if they are coming to Mexico. There is no communication from the United States Football Assn."

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Gerry Staley is the No. 1 relief pitcher of the Chicago White Sox, yet twice in succession he has yielded hits that cost the Sox World Series games.

Sunday it was Carl Furillo's single through the middle that scored two runs and gave the game to the Los Angeles Dodgers 3-1.

Monday it was Gil Hodges' eighth inning home run that won for Los Angeles 5-4.

Furillo and Hodges are Dodger veterans and they faced Staley many times when he pitched for the St. Louis Cardinals.

Each said after the games they knew what to expect from Gerry—sinks and sliders. And each came through with the big hit.

It wouldn't be fair to second-guess manager Al Lopez for using Staley against men who knew him so well, because on the record Staley is the best he has counted the regular season and the series, it was Gerry's 79th game, but the results, from the Sox viewpoint, have been disastrous.

Monday's game looked like a Dodger victory early.

With two out in the third, and Early Wynn on the mound for the Sox, Wally Moon, Norm Larker, Gil Hodges, Don Demeter, and John Roseboro hit successive singles which mixed in with a passed ball, a bad throw from the outfield to third base by Jim Landis, and an error by the usually flawless Luis Aparicio permitted the Dodgers to score four big runs. Turk Lown ended the inning by getting Maury Wills to ground out.

The Dodger margin held up until the seventh when again two were out, Earl Torgerson, pounced hitting for Billy Pierce, ground out but Landis got a single to left. Aparicio sacrificed him to second, which made the second out.

Then Nelson Fox bounced a single off Roger Craig's glove, sending Landis to third, and Ted Kuzewski singled to left, scoring Landis.

At this stage, with Fox and Big Klu on base, Sherrn Lollar lofted a home run over the famous "Chinese screen" in left field which tied the score.

Staley came in to pitch in the bottom of the seventh and retired the Dodgers in order.

But with one strike on Hodges in the eighth, the big first baseman sent a booming home run deep into the left field stands, clear of the "Chinese screen."

TEXAS GRID RECORD GETS SUPREME TEST

By JOE BENHAM

The University of Texas hasn't lost a game or seen its goal line crossed since last November, but Coach Darrell Royal figures the Longhorns had better enjoy their glory while it lasts.

Sandy Koufax Faces Chicago

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The Chicago White Sox faced Los Angeles' southpaw strikeout specialist Sandy Koufax today, fully aware that unless they beat him they have lost the World Series.

Koufax set a National League record for strikeouts—12—in beating the San Francisco Giants Aug. 31, but he was wild and ineffective in the closing weeks of the pennant drive. Bob Shaw, beaten by Los Angeles 4-3 in the second game of the series, was Koufax's opponent.

The weather man said the thermometer will hit 82 degrees in Los Angeles today, but it may be 10 degrees hotter on the floor of Memorial Coliseum, 30 feet below street level. Another crowd above 90,000 will watch the American and National League pennant winners fight it out.

If Chicago wins, the series resumes in Chicago's Comiskey Park Thursday. If the Dodgers make it four in a row over the White Sox, it's all over.

The Dodgers' manager, Walter Alston, admits his team will be packed and ready for the airport, "just in case we lose." But he said he thinks Koufax may come up with one of his pitching gems, and if he does "it's easy to unpack."

The Dodgers' 5-4 victory Monday was achieved on Gil Hodges' eighth-inning home run into the left field bleachers of Chicago. It was Los Angeles' third consecutive win after the Sox took the opener, 11-0.

Monday's attendance, 92,550, established a new World Series record. It beat a record set in the Coliseum Sunday, when 92,294 turned out.

The first four games of the series have drawn 220,225 persons who paid $1,749,735.53. The players' share was $892,365.04. They do not share in any remaining games of the series.

We've Still Got A Good Chance, Insists Lopez

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Manager Al Lopez still refused to concede the 1959 World Series to the Dodgers, and the good Senator had a few statistics to support his hopes for the White Sox.

"We still have a helluva chance," insisted Lopez. "You still have to take four out of seven in this thing, don't you?"

He added, "We're supposed to be a weak hitting team, but we're outbusting them."

"We just haven't got those hits at the right time."

With Los Angeles now holding a 3-1 lead in the series, the count for four games gives Chicago 41 hits to 31 for the Dodgers.

And pointing up the lack of timely hitting, the Sox have left 31 men stranded on the bases, to 24 for Los Angeles.

In the two games played here, Chicago has had 32 men on base, but the Sox have scored only five runs, and it took a homer by catcher Sherm Lollar to score three of them Monday.

With Alston's Dodgers, today goes nine innings and we finish it here," Sherry said, adding that he might be available for at least an inning if needed.

"We've been doing a cliff-hanging act all season. It gives four games to win the World Series and they haven't won that fourth one yet. Sometimes that's the hardest one."

Bovines Tough, Says OU Coach

NORMAN, Okla. (AP)—Oklahoma football coach Bud Wilkinson describes Texas as a "hard team to beat because they play position football."

Oklahoma and Texas meet in their traditional game in Dallas Saturday with the Longhorns ranked as the No. 4 team in the Associated Press poll.

Wilkinson thought the fact many players who were starters against Oklahoma last year haven't been able to make the starting team indicates the Longhorn strength. Texas edged Oklahoma 15-14 last season for the Sooners' only loss.

The Sooner coach described Coach Darrell Royal's Steers as a team with great overall speed and a stout defense. Texas is unscathed in victories over Nebraska, Maryland and California.

Wilkinson said Oklahoma will be weakened by the loss of two first string halfbacks.

He said that right halfback Brewster Hobby suffered a severe injury to his left elbow against Colorado and "undoubtedly can't play."

Left halfback Jimmy Carpenter was sidelined for the season after re-injuring a leg in the loss to Northwestern.

Dodgers Steal Sox's Script

By JERRY LISKA
Associated Press Sports Writer
LOS ANGELES (AP)—The dashing Dodgers have stolen the script of the Chicago White Sox in the World Series.

The Dodgers have been out-hit, 41 to 31, in the four series games played to date, but the Sox trail three games to one and it could all end today if Chicago fails to stroke some timely hits.

Instead of the larcenous White Sox, it's the Dodgers who are running the bases with abandon, not only outstealing the Sox, 4 thefts to 2, but also getting more mileage out of their hits.

For instance, Monday's first Dodger run came on Wally Moon's scoot from first to third which drew a somewhat inaccurate throw from Jim Landis. The ball nicked Moon and caromed past third baseman Billy Goodman, allowing Moon to scamper home.

This was a typical White Sox play during the regular season.

Manager Al Lopez refused to throw in the sponge as he named Bob Shaw, second series game loser, to tackle the Dodgers in Chicago's "must" game today.

"You play the World Series just like you play any series during the season — one game at a time," said the Senator, not too glum.

"We've been doing a cliff-hanging act all season. It gives four games to win the World Series and they haven't won that fourth one yet. Sometimes that's the hardest one."

NEW FORD (ABOVE) REDESIGNED TO EMBODY LATEST ENGINEERING ADVANCE Falcon (below) to stress economy of operation and of maintenance

New Fords Originally Created For Later Use, Presented Now

The 1960 Ford, on display at Tarbox-Gossett Motor Company on Thursday represents a styling theme originally created for later use but brought forward because of the spontaneous enthusiasm of company management when they first saw the car in advance studios.

"After the car originally planned for 1960 was well under way, the advanced styling office showed us some designs for Ford Motor Company cars even further advanced than our planned 1960 model. We were faced with a crucial decision involving millions of dollars," said Jo Wright, Ford vice president.

"When the engineers pointed out that a complete new car also would enable them to design additional quality features into the vehicle, company management gave the go-ahead.

One of the most important features of the new Ford is that it has been 'comfort-engineered.' There is substantially more hip room, shoulder room, leg room and head room in the 1960 Ford than there was in the 1959 model—which ranked far above its competitors in these vital comfort areas.

With the new body design, the new frame, redesigned suspension and improved power train, the 1960 Ford rides better, handles better and performs better than any Ford in history, Wright said.

Passenger comfort and convenience have been given particular attention in the design of the new Ford cars. New, swept-back windshield pillars have eliminated the troublesome "dog-leg" found in cars with the full-wrap windshield.

Yet the new model Ford has 17 per cent more windshield area than last year's Ford, provides better visibility out over the hood, and has a windshield wiper pattern one-third greater than in 1959.

The 1960 Ford line includes 15 models that offer a total of six different roof lines.

Better stability and improved handling have been accomplished partly through a wider tread, but mostly through the widening of the rear spring base. Two full inches have been added to the front tread width and nearly four inches to the rear tread.

Long a leader in the station wagon field, Ford in 1960 will offer five different models with a longer load space, greater passenger comfort and more versatility than ever before. Ranging from the two-door Ranch Wagon to the elegant four-door, nine-passenger Country Squire with simulated mahogany paneling, the Ford station wagon line has a model to meet any requirement.

All standard Ford engines—both "six" and V-8—are designed to operate on regular grade gasoline, which saves a dollar a tank full. Ford offers four modern, short-stroke engines for 1960, all of which combine efficiency, durability and economy with the added customer savings resulting from quick and easy service. The full-flow oil filter, standard equipment on all Ford engines, permits Ford to recommend an oil change only every 4,000 miles. A new cross-flow radiator, which directs the coolant horizontally, provides improved cooling.

The Ford engine line-up for 1960 includes the economical 145 horsepower Mileage-Maker Six; the 185 horsepower, 292 cu. in. V-8; the 235 horsepower, 352 cu. in. V-8 with two-barrel carburetor, and the 300 horsepower, 352 cu. in. power option V-8 with four-barrel carburetor.

Vertical-Rising Airliner Predicted

BURBANK, Calif. (AP)—An aircraft executive today predicted 5,000-mile-an-hour airliner capable of landing and taking off vertically will be developed in the foreseeable future.

Hall L. Hibbard, senior vice president of Lockheed Aircraft Corp., made the forecast in a lecture at Delft, the Netherlands. His speech was released by his company here.

Economy Is Keynote In New Ford Falcon, With Comfort

Ford expects to build 100,000 of the new Falcon economy cars by the end of 1959.

James O. Wright, company vice president and Ford Division general manager, said the keynote of the Falcon will be economy of operation and maintenance.

"For example," he said, "the Falcon will have gasoline economy 50 per cent better than the largest of the so-called 'compact' cars of American manufacture, and 35 per cent better than the smallest domestic car made by the same producer. Compared with the latter, the Falcon has 35 per cent more luggage space, 70 per cent more windshield area, and a full foot more of rear-seat width."

Replacement parts of a Falcon fender will cost 50 per cent less, a windshield 40 per cent less and a muffler 30 per cent less, he said.

With regard to air-cooled versus water-cooled engines, Mr. Wright said the Falcon's water-cooled, front-mounted engine will require only $1.80 worth of anti-freeze in the winter—50 per cent less than a full-size car.

"It's wheelbase is 8 1/4 inches shorter and its over-all length 27 inches shorter than a 1959 Ford Fairlane, yet it is a full six-passenger car with interior roominess approximating that of standard models," he said.

"For example, front leg-room in the Falcon is only one-tenth of an inch less than in a 1959 Ford and front head-room is actually seven-tenths of an inch greater. Rear-seat passenger space also compares favorably."

Mr. Wright emphasized that the Falcon is "all new from the ground up." None of its parts will be interchangeable with those of standard Ford Models.

Guard Chief Asks Probe Of LeMay Alleged Comments

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—Remarks about the National Guard attributed to the deputy chief of staff of the Air Force, Gen. Curtis E. LeMay, have prompted a demand for a "thorough exploration."

The demand came Monday from Gen. William H. Harrison Jr., president of the National Guard Assn. of the United States.

Harrison asked Gen. Clarence A. Shoop, chairman of the association's Air Affairs Committee, to go into the matter with his group during the Guard's 81st general conference here.

The Army-Navy-Air Force Journal last Saturday quoted LeMay as saying that the Guard is inefficient and "cannot live." It also quoted LeMay as saying the "weekend soldier will not do" and that the nation "cannot afford to man our tremendously costly weapons with part-time help."

Rain Covers Wide Areas

By The Associated Press

Mild temperatures and rain covered wide areas of the Midwest and South today. In most sections, the rainfall was in its second day.

St. Louis, Mo., Quincy, Ill., and Chicago had about 1 inch of rain well into the second day. In some northern and northwestern suburbs of Chicago, the rainfall ranged between 1 1/2 and 2 inches. The Weather Bureau reported.

Rocket Fuel Blast Kills 2 In New Jersey

KENVIL, N.J. (AP)—A half ton of experimental rocket propellant exploded at the Hercules Powder Co. plant Monday, killing two men and injuring five others.

The unexplained blast shook buildings 15 miles away, wrecked a concrete-lined mixing bunker and sent flaming debris hundreds of feet.

The two killed had been mixing the propellant by remote control in the bunker when the mixers exploded.

Albert R. Ely, works manager, declined to say what sort of propellant exploded. He said Hercules had been making it for about a year.

Killed were Vincent Preziosi, about 25, of Dover, N.J., and William K. Brown, 21, of Netcong, N.J., a native of Ishpeming, Mich.

The five others were not seriously hurt. One was only 20 feet from the explosion and Ely said "he was pretty lucky to escape." The bunker was completely flattened.

There were two distinct explosions. Creamy white mushroom clouds rose over the bunker.

The powder plant is about 40 miles west of New York City and has a history of more than 30 explosions. In 1940, a blast killed 51 people. Three died in a 1948 explosion. Hercules maintains its headquarters in Wilmington, Del.
