Four Area Wildcats Show Oil In Testing Operation

Four area wildcats reported oil shows during various testing operations on reports this morning. In Dawson County, Amerada No. 1 Moore recovered 120 feet of heavy-oil-and-gas-cut mud below the sub and 70 per cent oil on a drillstem test in the lower Mississippian. The tool was open four hours.

Cities Service No. 1 Nail, Martin County explorer, recovered six feet of fine grain sand from a core with vertical fractures bleeding oil and gas in the lower Spraberry. Garrett and Sabre swabbed 44 more barrels of oil in 10 hours, making a total of 71 barrels of new oil, during swabbing operations. Operator is still swabbing at the Howard County project.

Shell No. 1 Shell-Weyman, Glasscock County test, has swabbed 22 barrels of new oil, then swabbed dry, for 227 barrels of new oil recovered from under the sub. Perforations are between 3,526-618 feet.

In Gaines County, Cosden Petroleum Corp. has plugged and abandoned the No. 1 H. E. Ford. It was a duster at 9,250 feet from a ground level elevation of 3,522 feet. In the Southeast Hobbs (Devonian) pool, it was in section 24, block A-10, PSL survey.

Borden
Cabet No. 1 Clayton and Johnson is making hole in redbeds at 265 feet. The 1 3/4-inch casing was set at 265 feet. This wildcat test for the Ellenburger is 510 from south and 1,830 from east lines of section 29-31-6n, T&P survey. It is nine miles northwest of Gall.

Dawson
Amerada No. 1 Moore is drilling in lime at 11,461 feet. Operator took a drillstem test of the lower Mississippian through perforations between 11,271-448 feet with tool open four hours. He used a 2,340-foot nitrogen blanket, bled off three barrels of oil then reversed out nine, plus one barrel of heavily oil and gas cut mud, 50 per cent oil.

Recovery was 120 feet of heavily oil and gas cut mud from below the sub and 70 per cent oil. Gravity of the oil was 37.5 degrees. The flowing pressure was 1,015-1,405 pounds and the 30 minute shut-in pressure was 4,800 pounds. This wildcat is 2 1/2 miles south-southwest of Lamesa and 660 from south and 1,080 from west lines of section 14-36-5n, T&P survey.

Glasscock
TXL and U. S. Smelting No. 1-41 TXL is installing the pumping units. This wildcat is C SW SW SW of section 41-34-3s, T&P survey. It is 4 1/4 miles northwest of Garden City.

Shell Oil Co. No. 1 Shell-Weyman is swabbing. Operator made 22 barrels of oil before swabbing dry. Then 227 barrels of oil was made from under the sub. Perforations are between 3,526-36, 3,540-42, 3,548-50, 3,558-64, 3,578-88, 3,610-18 feet. They were washed with 500 gallons of mud acid, 2,000 gallons of regular acid and fractured with 15,000 gallons. This wildcat is C NW SW of section 14-36-3s, T&P survey. It is 15 miles northwest of Garden City.

Howard
Garrett and Sabre swabbed 44 barrels of new oil in 10 hours. This totals 71 barrels of new oil the operator has made. He is still swabbing. This wildcat is 990 from south and 1,650 from west lines of section 26-34-1s, T&P survey. It is eight miles southwest of Big Spring.

Martin
Cities Service No. 1 Nail is bottomed at 8,566 feet in shale and running logs. A core from 8,548-56 recovered six feet of fine sandy shale with vertical fractures bleeding oil and gas. The rest of the core was sandy black shale. The core is identified as the lower Spraberry. This wildcat is 1,320 from south and west lines of section 28-38-1n, T&P survey.

Borden
Pan American No. 2 Snell, Breedlove field location about 16 miles southwest of Lamesa, is drilling ahead in lime and chert below 11,590 feet. It is 660 from south and 1,980 from west lines of labor 2, league 269, Borden CSL survey.

Tidelands Hearing Ends After 4 Days

WASHINGTON (AP) — Four days of argument before the Supreme Court over ownership of the submerged Gulf Coast lands beyond the three-mile limit ended Thursday. The next step is the court's decision. Presumably it will come before the court ends its present term next June. Here's the issue: Five Gulf Coast states—Texas, Alabama, Florida, Louisiana and Mississippi—contend that their state boundaries extend three leagues or 10 1/2 miles, into the Gulf. The government says no. The limit, it argues, is three miles. That, it says, is the historic boundary claimed by the government and therefore no state boundary may exceed it. In short, the government's attorneys told the court, the federal seaward boundary must be consistent—it cannot jut in and out. The interest in the question is not an academic one. It's the valuable oil and other minerals that lie in the submerged lands that have generated the years-long dispute. Much argument before the court was based on historic contentions; Alabama, Florida and Mississippi say their claims to an extended boundary go back to the days before the American Revolution. Louisiana says its boundaries were fixed when it was admitted to the Union. Texas reminded the court that at one time it was an independent nation, and that its extended Gulf Coast boundary stems from that fact. But the government's lawyers—headed by Solicitor General Lee Rankin—remained adamant. Regardless of what King George III of England or anyone else might have proclaimed, they argued, the boundaries of the five states automatically conformed with the boundaries of the United States when they became a part of the

A Devotional For Today

The heavens declare the glory of God; and the firmament sheweth his handiwork. (Psalms 19:1.)

PRAYER: Our Father, we thank Thee for Thy creative power, Thou who art the God of the rising and setting sun, of seedtime and harvest. Be present with us as we worship Thee. In the name of Christ, who taught us to pray, "Our Father who are in heaven . . . Amen."

(From The "Upper Room")

No Change Of Attitude Noted

If Nikita Khrushchev's recent visit to the United States changed his attitude toward the West in general and the U. S. in particular nothing he has said or done since indicates as much.

In a speech to his people this week, calling on them to overfulfill the seven-year economic plan, the premier said: "Who said that a Soviet man must eat only a half of what an American does? I think that if necessary—unless the stomach disagrees—we can provide five American rations for every Soviet citizen."

He spoke of a "beginning thaw" in East-West relations, but accused some "warlike leaders in the United States" of plotting to retard the thaw.

In the United Nations Assembly, the Soviet Union—naturally—has led the campaign to give Poland a place among the six non-permanent members of the Security Council. The U. S. had proposed Turkey, and several ballots resulted in no decision, but the U. S. position was weaker than ever before, and when voting is resumed next week quite likely Poland will win.

Yet some commentators criticize the U. S. for proposing Turkey in the first place, implying that we should have stood aside and let the Soviet have its way without a fight.

Since when has it become bad policy for the U. S. to put up a fight in the U. N. in behalf of a steadfast friend, instead of standing aside and letting a Soviet satellite carry off the prize without a struggle? We can be as militant for our friends as can the Soviet for their satellites.

They Keep Aiming At The Mark

Newspapers are practically the only familiar institution in Western civilization that have shown a steady decline in numbers over a period of several years, yet the combined circulation of dailies is greater than ever before, and the advertising income is somewhere near an all-time high.

This National Newspaper Week finds only about 1,700 daily newspapers in this country now, a great drop from the peak. Many of the country's major cities have been reduced to two-paper towns, where once there might have been six or seven.

Why? Economic pressure. The cost of everything going into the production of a newspaper has soared in recent years, along with almost everything else. Newsprint and printing ink, especially the former, have ascended steadily, and newsprint happens to be a very large item in production costs. So have wages, taxes, cost of distribution, postage rates, and what-not.

But rising prices of the raw materials—a newspaper is essentially a manufacturing plant—are only part of the story. Printing machinery and techniques have undergone an amazing revolution in recent years. New and improved machinery, indispensable in caring for increased circulation and an improved product, are out of this world. Under such economic pressures many world-famous American dailies have gone down the drain, and consolidations have become commonplace in every major city of the country, including New York, San Francisco and Chicago in recent months.

An alert and free press is part and parcel of our American heritage, from the earliest day down to this.

A newspaper is only so good as the service it renders its community. We believe an overwhelming majority of editors and publishers realize this, and act accordingly. Its first obligation is to the people who buy it on the street, or get it by home or mail delivery.

Newspapermen are as human as the next person and as prone to err in judgment, but most of them take a deep pride in what they consider a sacred obligation to look out for the public good. They may miss the mark occasionally, but they eternally keep aiming.

Marquis Childs Pat Brown Just Isn't Running

LOS ANGELES — The Democrats in their search for a Presidential candidate—a search that is beginning to look more and more like a hunt for treasure long lost—are turning to this state and its governor, Mr. Edmund G. (Pat) Brown refuses to make any of the conventional noises for a candidate.

He is just what he is—an able, decent, hard-working citizen who happens to have made his career in politics. If you encountered him behind a door marked sales manager or personnel director he would look entirely in character.

With every evidence of sincerity, Gov. Brown says that he is surprised to find himself where he is today, the governor of what the next census will show is the second largest state in the Union, victor over his Republican opponent by more than a million majority, carrying in with him a Democratic legislature that has enacted a far-reaching program and, therefore, a Presidential possibility. Just as it seems that his stock is about to soar on the Presidential stock market, Brown deflates his own boomlet.

He had been scheduled to make an extensive swing around the Pacific this fall and perhaps come home by way of Europe, thereby advertising his familiarity with the issues of foreign policy. But he has called off the trip and will settle for possibly two weeks in Osaka, Japan, where a conference of city officials of nations bordering the Pacific is to be held. The governor says he has too many problems here at home and he is too busy to leave California for a month or more.

Certainly, the problems here are many and diverse. Some 10,000,000 or more people are living in the southern half of the state where 50 years ago a million would have been considered excessive for the visible resources of land and water.

Brown succeeded in getting through the legislature a water diversion plan calling for the eventual expenditures of $1,750,000,000 to be raised through state bond issues. Never before have the southern and the northern halves of this Western empire been able to agree on how to allocate water.

What is contemplated is a vast undertaking that, if it succeeds, will achieve what no other civilization has ever achieved. Hitherto peoples who have made the desert flower through great man-made works of irrigations and river diversion have invariably overplayed the game. What with overpopulation and wars, the system has broken down and the desert has claimed its own. This has been the history of one great civilization after another in the Middle East.

Water must be moved from the north over the Tehachapai Mountains to the Los Angeles area if the phenomenal growth rate of the state is to be maintained. About 450,000 people a year are coming into California, most of them in the South. This will somehow have to be stopped in another four years if the water project is not begun. It is estimated that it will take until 1975 to get substantial amounts of water, now being lost as it flows to the sea, across the mountains.

This is only one of the problems that the governor in his quiet and unassuming way is wrestling with. The concentration of ownership in a part of the area to be benefited by the new water project is such that one per cent of the people own 47 per cent of the land. Brown has been trying to do something to improve the lot of the agricultural laborers hired to work these vast holdings. In so doing he has incurred the wrath of the farmers who suspect him of encouraging the establishment of farm workers unions.

On the basis of the present school population, not counting the continuing influx of people, the state must build three new universities as big as the University of California, which with all its campuses is the largest in the world. Each one would cost an estimated $100,000,000 or more. Just as Gov. Nelson Rockefeller has to do in New York, so Brown persuaded the California legislature to raise taxes by more than $200,000,000. This was distributed between various sales levies and an increase in the tax on incomes over $10,000 a year.

THIS DAY IN TEXAS

By CURTIS BISHOP

An El Paso newspaper on this day in 1885 announced the birth of a son to Mr. and Mrs. Sam Hing of that city. He was the first Chinese baby born in Texas.

The first death of an Oriental-born immigrant made more impress on a Texas story. He was Ong Wuee, a Chinese laborer on the Southern Pacific Railroad. Sometime about 1884 he was stabbed or strangled (accounts vary) and his assailant brought before Judge Roy Bean for sentence.

"Hell's fire," declared Bean (or words to that effect), "there's no law in the whole book that says it's any crime to kill a Chinaman."

The authority for both incidents is Bob Casey's "The Texas Border," one of the most enjoyable books about Texas yet. This feature will relate Bean stories, but not claim eyewitness knowledge.

Only a drizzle of these Chinese immigrants came to the Lone Star domain either to work on the building railroads or to set up their establishments at "end of track" locations. The most sizeable ingress of Orientals came in the 20th century. The colorful Pancho Villa threatened the extinction of all Chinese merchants in northern Mexico towns, claiming them hostile to his "revolutionary cause."

The United States troopers plodding after Villa under the command of John J. Pershing found it necessary to protect Orientals from Villa's wrath. Many Chinese families moved to Texas under U. S. Army protection. Most of the emigrants settled in San Antonio, where their descendants are still prominent in commerce.

Minority Troubles For Mr. K.

The Soviet press has just disclosed a shakeup in the security apparatus of some Soviet republics bordering on other Asian countries. The development hints at rising resentment among minority peoples in the Soviet Union, which may yet give Premier Nikita Khrushchev serious trouble.

The reason for the shakeups was internal. The announced changes came in Kazakhstan, Turkmenistan and Azerbaijan, each of which got a new Russian security chief.

For all his promises to minority nationalities, Khrushchev still exhibits a passion for pan-Slavism, meaning domination by the Great Russians over the minority peoples in other Soviet republics.

Kazakhstan, a sprawling province bordering Red China, seems to have been having serious troubles. Only recently the central theoretical magazine of the Soviet Communist party, Kommunist, complained of "bourgeois nationalism" in the Kazakh province.

The term means any sort of opposition to Russian domination. The magazine flayed those elements opposing the study of the Russian language and of Russian culture.

In Uzbekistan, another Central

Asian province, there have been hints that some opposition may have been violent. About a month ago, the central Moscow government gave a posthumous award to a member of the Young Communist League of Uzbekistan who had been "tragically murdered while standing guard over public order" in an Uzbek town.

In Turkmenistan the ruling Russians seem to have been having more and more trouble with the indigenous Turkmen people, who are kin to the Persians. Around the beginning of this year the party in the province underwent a thorough purge.

The first secretary of the Turkmen party, a local national named Babayev, was fired. Clearly his sin had been that of taking too seriously Moscow's promises of greater rights for the local nationalities. He had been slowly "de-Russifying" his organization.

The party organization went to work and denounced what it called a tendency to "pit cadres of indigenous nationalities against cadres of other nationalities." This, the party warned, was an "exceptionally harmful" approach.

Khrushchev long has been noted for his pan-Slavism. For him, as well as for the rest of the leaders among the Great Russians, resistance to Russification is matter of international security. In Kazakhstan, the resistance may have assumed serious proportions.

Moscow sent a big man to Kazakhstan to take over the job of security, Konstantin Fedorovich Lavey, the new security chief, has been deputy chairman of the central government's KGB (Committee of State Security), which succeeded the Stalinist MVD police organization. He was on the judicial board which approved the execution of Stalinist police boss Lavrenty Beria. The Kazakhstan job must be a big one to require the talents of such an expert.

Khrushchev himself has just concluded a tour of some of the provinces. He may have been a bit shaken by bold questions asked by ordinary people. When he wanted to know, would consumer goods prices go down? Khrushchev replied by asking them to be "realistic."

When would there be better goods, better housing? Khrushchev replied that the question was legitimate enough, but he was no miracle man and couldn't produce these things overnight.

Nobody was bold enough to ask Khrushchev when there might be a letup in the Russification and the extension of rights to local minorities he had promised. But the security system shakeup indicates Khrushchev knows the question is being asked behind his back.

Lady, Lend An Ear

NEW YORK (AP) — "Lady, don't object if your husband wants to talk about his business with you."

"Listen to him and be glad he wants to share his problems with you."

Mrs. Helen Dorsey, president of the world's largest baby pants manufacturing firm, has a heartful personal reason for giving this advice to wives.

"The fact I had listened to my own husband proved the only saving circumstance in my life when he died suddenly," she recalled. Her husband, Dave, an ex-appliance salesman, founded his own children's wear firm in a garage 13 years ago with only $5,000. The postwar baby boom boomed his business rapidly.

"He was the kind of man who lived his business, and loved to talk about it at home," said Mrs. Dorsey, a former professional pianist.

"I didn't feel abused, although now and then at Sunday breakfast I did feel an inclination to put my fingers in my ears. But I was interested in what my husband told me, and he came to value my opinion more and more."

In May 1957, her husband returned from a business trip, died that night of a heart attack in the bedroom of their Los Angeles home.

Mrs. Dorsey, a gray-eyed, slender, handsome woman in her early fifties, had to step into the breach at once and take over control of the firm. She did so with eminent success. The company will turn out 18 million pairs of baby pants this year, do a business valued at $5,000,000.

What was the biggest difficulty in her emergency transition from sheltered housewife to woman executive?

"In business, before you get one problem solved, they pile two or three more on you," she said, smiling. "In keeping house you are more of a master of your own time. You can finish one problem before turning to another."

But she now firmly believes a woman can run her home well and have an outside career as well.

What Will Man Find On The Moon?

With the moon just a missile's throw away, people begin to ask, so what?

What do we expect to find there besides a chunk of rock? And what mysteries does the moon hold, anyway?

Well, there are quite a few mysteries about our nearest neighbor. And the only way to solve them is to put a man there, and let him walk around and look.

Astronomers are pretty sure that the craters were made by impact of meteorites, and laboratory experiments have produced model craters of similar dimensions—yet, no one can say for sure until a man stands in a lunar crater and examines the rock for the evidence. Besides, there are minority opinions which hold the craters to have been blasted into existence by volcanoes, among other things.

Some craters have ray systems, some do not. Some theories have it that metallic meteorites, vaporizing during impact, left trails of shiny dust-sized particles leading outward from the craters. Stony meteorites would have left no visible trails.

But, if so, why in rays? Why did the particles not expand and settle onto the surface in clouds, or in concentric circles?

And then there are the rills. These are cracks in the surface, long and narrow and deep. They aren't like valleys or canyons or river beds, or any other known feature of earthly geology. The rills do not follow outlines of lunar geology, as they should—they march straight across valleys, mountains, craters, plains. They bisect lunar formations at random and make about as much sense, geologically, as a vandal's knife slash across a poster.

And the individual mysteries: The crater Plato, years ago, turned dark at high noon. Now its floor is lit by the sun like any other crater. Escaping gases with light-absorbing qualities? Lunar vegetation?

Another crater sometimes has greish cloud-like formations which change shape and position slowly—as if they were some strange sort of weed being given birth and being killed off by the boiling sunlight.

A reliable astronomer once saw a phenomenon on Mount Pico which he reluctantly described as like a snow storm. Other observers are convinced that they saw an active volcano in the midst of one of the broad lunar plains.

We will solve these mysteries when we put a man up there. But we may expect to uncover an even larger number of mysteries after we get there.

It's a fascinating universe our grandchildren will inherit.

Smokies - Sawed-Off Switzerland

NASHVILLE, Tenn.—We all are deep in the heart of Dixie, all right. For the past 100 miles, the homemade signs advertising endless roadside eating establishments (if such they really be) have stopped all nonsense about hamburgers, hot dogs and barbecue.

"Catfish, Hush Puppies and Turnip Greens" the signs, as one, advise. And just to emphasize that we are in Tennessee, the home of mountain dew, a poster near Knoxville advised us to "Stop at Moore's: See Real Moonshine Still." (No free samples.)

On this gold-and-blue autumnal day, drowsy with peace, we crossed a bridge over a placid stream, only to glimpse a river baptism with the preacher and his converts, robed in white, hip-deep in the quiet waters—only a holler from a road marker pointing northward and reading "Sixteen Miles to Oak Ridge."

I suppose it is impractical to suggest that every parent of schoolchildren stop what he or she is doing at the moment, load the kids in the car and see America first. But it is a temptation to do so, if only on the theory that such a journey is the best instruction in American geography and history.

In a single day, our journey has encompassed the gloriously beautiful Great Smoky Mountains and a vast, to the left, the home of Andrew Jackson, warrior, President and, not least of all, devoted husband.

We took the Blue Ridge Parkway out of Asheville over and through the Smokies to Gatlinburg, a community so wholly devoted to tourism that I was afraid to get out of the car lest I be taken alive and forced to buy a hush puppy, a bouquet of straw flowers or a handhooked rug with the legend "WELCOME."

The Blue Ridge Parkway through the Great Smokies is one of the most beautiful drives in the U.S.A. The whole area reminded us of a sawed-off Switzerland, heavily wooded, except for the white, emerald meadows and constantly laced with fast, white mountain streams.

Sixteen green peaks in the Smokies rise above 6,000 feet. Whichever way one looks, the mountains roll away in ridge beyond ridge to the horizon. A car here, a cut there in the mountains reveals a noble, far-flung vista at every curve in the excellent highway.

More than 461,000 acres of this national treasure in beauty is forever protected as a national park. It is a joy to drive through it and find none of it defaced by billboards. How glorious 't' must be in spring when the redbuds, dogwoods, the laurel and the rhododendrons are in blossom.

"Warning, Do Not Feed the Bears. Play Safe" is a discreet warning posted by the National Park Service throughout the Smokies. For some reason, had thought this warning was reserved solely for Yellowstone Park. But there are bears in the Smokies, beggars all. I kept my eyes peeled for them but alas, apparently yesterday's visitors had left them to safety and they were sleeping it off.

The Hermitage, home of Old Hickory, is a bonus award on this trip. I had not realized we would pass it on the way to Nashville. What a delightful and handsome old plantation home it is! Just what a dandy Yankee thinks such a house should be—warm, gracious and full of delightful mementos. I especially pointed out to my Republican husband a ring given Rachel Jackson by her adoring husband—a ring set with diamonds, emeralds, amethysts and rubies to spell "DEAR." No wonder he was a fine President.

Khrushchev Admits Crushing Hungary

WASHINGTON — Nikita Khrushchev has just made a confession of the international crime the Soviet government committed in Hungary. He probably did it unwittingly. For he never has completely understood the case that the free world has been making against communism as an international conspiracy. The confession about Hungary is in an excerpt from the speech which the Soviet premier made last week in a Siberian city, as released in the last three days by the official news agency in Moscow.

"When the forces of counterrevolution in Hungary attempted to overthrow the popular system, we considered it our international duty to satisfy the request of the revolutionary workers' and peasants' government of Hungary to help the Hungarian working class, to smash the counterrevolution."

To understand the full significance of this utterance, it is necessary to be sure what is meant by the terms counter-revolution and the popular system. Hungary was put under Soviet occupation by force after the close of World War II. The elected government was ousted by the Communists in 1947, and a puppet government was established without affording any opportunity then or subsequently for free elections. But Mr. Khrushchev calls any government imposed by Moscow the popular system.

Actually what happened in the autumn of 1956 was that the people of Hungary, resentful of the tyrannical regime which had been ruling them and particularly of Soviet domination of their country, rebelled and set up a free government under Imre Nagy. Several thousands of the Soviet troops stationed in Hungary at the time went over to the side of the people of Hungary and allowed Soviet tanks to be used to help resist the Communist forces.

But the Kremlin order to crush the rebellion prevailed as an overwhelming number of troops was sent into Hungary by Mr. Khrushchev, even while Moscow was negotiating with the Nagy government for the withdrawal of all Soviet forces from Hungary—the major demand of the Hungarian people.

The Soviet government not only overthrew the government in Hungary but later ordered the arrest and execution of its premier, Imre Nagy, after he had been lured by a promise of safety from the Yugoslav embassy in Budapest, where he had been given asylum.

The United Nations authorized an inquiry but lacked the courage to threaten to expel the Soviet Union for failing to let the U.N. investigators do a fact-finding job in Hungary. The U.N. General Assembly did vote in September 1957 to condemn the Soviet Union for aggression in Hungary.

Again and again since the tragic events in Hungary, the Soviet government has insisted that it was complying with principles of international law and that it was merely aiding an established government at its request. This argument is the basis usually given by the Soviets as justification also for controlling all the other captive states such as East Germany, Poland, Czechoslovakia, Lithuania, Rumania, Estonia, Latvia and Bulgaria.

For Mr. Khrushchev to confess now that he considers it an "international duty" to come to the aid of ideological elements sympathetic to communism within any country is to assert anew the doctrine of international communism which has been rightly described in many official documents by the United States and other free governments as communist imperialism.

Many misguided persons on this side of the iron curtain repeatedly declare that communism is just a belief or a philosophy of politics. The Supreme Court of the United States in its dicta has often accepted this concept. But the true distinction is that, in embracing a political philosophy, the subversives go farther and pursue virtually all the objectives of a foreign government which believes in infiltration or revolution by force of arms to gain its ends within other countries.

Nikita Khrushchev's speech in Siberia is a surprise. But he may have been emboldened as a consequence of the visit he made to the United States and by the polls which show that many millions of persons in America fell for his deceptive tactics. For what the Soviet premier wants more than anything else is acceptance of what is called the status quo—the idea that what has happened is final and that it cannot be changed.

But, in that same speech in Siberia, the Soviet premier drew attention to the fact that the communist bloc is growing in size and power and that all communist countries help one another. So the war goes on—the war to infiltrate Europe, the Middle East, Africa, Southeast Asia and Latin America. The pledge is given to come to the assistance of any communist group which gets into power in any country. This is the crux of the "cold war," which Mr. Khrushchev in his Siberian speech now says will go on with the Soviet objectives unchanged.

D'Orsey Blasts Celler On Stand

By JIM KLOBUCHAR
MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — Congressional criticism today heightened the discord over a possible shift of the Washington Senators to Minneapolis.

Lee D'Orsey, a former Senators director and currently an adviser on financial matters, met Thursday night with Minneapolis business leaders and members of the city's Major League Committee. Later, he left for Washington.

He said he will tell Senators President Calvin Griffith today whether he should stay where he is or come to Minneapolis. "I'm not telling anyone but Griffith what my recommendation is."

Top Hands For Stanton

Harlin Daughlin, coach of the Stanton High School football team, rates these two boys his best defensive men. Down with a grinning look is A. L. Watts, a hard-to-manage guard, and behind is Tommy Newman, a rugged secondary defender who became eligible and developed into a swift track sprinter after mid-term in 1958. The Buffaloes seek their seventh victory in Rotan tonight. Rotan is the defending District 4-A champion but Stanton is favored.

D'Orsey said, "If he wants to follow that, it's okay with me. If he doesn't, that's his business."

Before he left, D'Orsey blasted Rep. Emmanuel Celler (D-N.Y.) for Celler's suggestion that a Griffith move would bring down the wrath of Congress and a result in tough antitrust law aimed at baseball. "Such a statement is ridiculous," D'Orsey said. "Celler is only trying to make Griffith a scapegoat. What did Celler do when the New York Giants, Brooklyn Dodgers and Philadelphia Athletics decided to move? Nothing. Is Griffith's case any different?"

Under the court rules and decisions we can do anything to change the situation and if Washington wants to move to the Twin Cities, we have no authority to oppose," Judd said.

Minneapolis Tribune sportswriter Dick Cullum asked in his column, "What right does the congressman have to threaten one out of 16 major league club owners who undertake to exercise the same freedom of operation that the 15 others have?"

Griffith and the Washington board will decide soon whether to ask American League permission to shift to Minneapolis, where business interests have agreed to guarantee an average annual attendance of 750,000 for the first five years.

Former Bulldog

William Allen Tindol, (above), son of Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Tindol of Coshoma, Texas, is no stranger on the Sul Ross State College Lobo football team. He played for the Lobos in 1956 and 1958. Tindol, age 22, 5' 9", 165-pounder is a candidate for a halfback position on the Lobo squad this season.

Wagering Men May Shift Odds

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah (AP) — Champion Gene Fullmer's year-old decision over Spider Webb might be taken lightly by bettors when the two meet Dec. 4, in a middleweight title bout in Logan, Utah.

Fullmer, of nearby West Jordan, and the Chicagoan signed here Thursday for the 15-round match. It will be Fullmer's first defense of the National Boxing Assn. crown he won in a battle with Carmen Basilio in August.

Fullmer battered out a 10-round decision over the sharp-jabbing Webb here in September 1958. Webb then was unable to get anything permanently damaging past Fullmer's wrap-around crouch.

If Webb has mapped a route past Fullmer's arms, he could come out of the next clash owning the crown.

Ken Soles Shines In Forsan's Win

FORSAN (SC) — The Forsan Junior High School footballers seek their fourth straight victory in a return game with Garden City here next Thursday.

The Junior Buifs smashed Garden City Tuesday, 28-0 in Garden City. Ken Soles scored 24 points for Ronnie Gandy's team while Harry King and Mac Henderson each counted two points.

Mrs. Jedd Roe Is Women's Leader

HOUSTON (AP) — Representatives from San Antonio and El Paso were to tee off today in the finals of the 1959 Texas Women's Senior Golf Tournament.

Mrs. Jedd Roe of San Antonio gained the finals Thursday with a 1-up victory over Mrs. W. K. Powell of San Angelo, the defending champion. She will meet Mrs. C. D. Lee of El Paso, who beat Mrs. Dan Lebow, Waco, 6 and 4 in the semifinals.

Raiders Tough In 4th Period

LUBBOCK (SC) — Texas Tech, with two streaks snapped, still has one mark to preserve against Baylor's Bears in Waco Saturday night.

That's to hold their opponents scoreless in the fourth period. Texas Christian, with a 14-8 decision, tumbled the Red Raiders out of the nation's undefeated and also because the first school to intercept any of the aerial-minded Raiders' passes this season.

But the Horned Frogs, with 14 points in the third period of the opener, has scored on Tech in the second half. Meanwhile, the Raiders have been outscoring their opponents, 45-14, in second half play.

Making this feat the more remarkable is the fact that Tech has had only 36 players at the most available for action in any game. Trainer Don Sparks attributes Tech's second half strength to "the best condition of any team I have seen."

Tech's second half offensive nearly won the game for the Raiders, who gave away 12 pounds a man in the line, 23 per back. Evidence of Tech's comeback is shown by the statistics.

SCOTTIES, RAY VIE INGRID HEADLINER

By WHITEY SAWYER — Associated Press Staff Writer — A non-conference clash between undefeated, untied schoolboy football powers — Dallas Highland Park and Corpus Christi Ray — highlights a weekend generally given over to conference play.

All but three of the 58 teams with undefeated, untied records see action. Class AAAA lost one team with a perfect record Thursday night when Dallas Samuel trippeled Dallas Adams 14-7.

Class AAA, with seven teams sporting perfect records left, is highlighted by the match between Littlefield and Kermit. That's another non-conference tilt between clubs without a blemish.

STERLING HOME TO BEARCATS

GARDEN CITY (SC) — Coach Al Lange takes his Garden City Bearcats to Sterling City tonight to do battle with J. R. Dillard's rough and ready Eagles in a District 4-B (eight-man) clash.

Sterling City, unbeaten now in five starts, is favored but Garden City is especially of springing a surprise, especially if the Garden City team finds ways and means of slowing Danny Gonzales, the Eagles' leading threat.

The Bearcats have defeated Flower Grove, 36-0, and Smyer, 24-20, while losses have come at the hands of Wellman, 22-14; and Jayton, 32-0.

Class AA lacks a game match but there's a conference clash in Dist. 31 of Class A where Bishop plays Tulo-Midway in a battle of undefeated teams.

Goliad Seventh Grade 11 Wins Over Snyder, 28-6

Goliad teams broke even with Snyder-Lamar contingents in two football games unreel here Thursday evening.

The Seventh Grade Mavericks won by a score of 28-6, after which the Eighth Graders lost, 38-0 in the Seventh Grade outing.

Cougars To Seek Second Victory

HOUSTON (SC) — Off to their worst start since 1950 and without their ace running back, the University of Houston Cougars make their first daylight start of the 1959 season Saturday at Stillwater with a 2 p.m. kickoff against Oklahoma State.

Rickie Earle scored the first Maverick TD on a ten-yard run up the middle in the opening period.

Miffy Kaese Top Punter In NAIA

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Miffy Kaese of Texas Lutheran College leads the National Assn. of Intercollegiate Athletics in punting and it's quite decisive.

Statistics show Kaese kicking for an average of 48.2 yards, two yards per boot better than the second place kicker.

Runnels To Seek Fourth Victory

Robby Zellars' Runnels Eighth Graders of Big Spring play host to Levelland at 3:30 p.m. Saturday.

The Yearlings will be seeking their fourth victory in five starts. The locals have defeated Lamesa, 20-0; Midland, 38-0; and Big Spring, 34-0. Their only loss came at the hands of Snyder and that by a score of 16-0.

Al Lopez Selected As Pilot Of 1959

NEW YORK (AP) — Al Lopez blended the Chicago White Sox speed and good pitching with his own managerial experience and know-how to end the four-year American League pennant domination of Casey Stengel and the New York Yankees.

Lopez, 51, is not accustomed to one-sided victories. In his nine seasons as a big league pilot, he has had more "seconds" than a starved boarding house tenant.

The past season Lopez utilized the Sox' speed to their best advantage. He recognized the unexpected pitching ability of Bob Shaw, who won 18 games; maneuvered his bullpen specialists, Turk Lown and Gerry Staley, with excellent results and kept the club morale at a high level.

Eyeing Game With Gail

The Sands Consolidated School's Mustangs (above) will be idle this weekend but Coach Marlin Dodds doesn't have to remind his charges the Ponies have a big game coming up with Gail next week. The game will be played in Gail and Sands will be seeking to halt a Coyote winning streak that has been uncheck in three years now. In the above picture, left to right, front row, they are Bill Smith, Bob Smith, Billy Rasbury, Johnny Hope, Billy Metcalf, Dean Newsum, Jimmy Schulke and Ike Wasson. Second row, Mike Kemp, Johnny Lewis, Jerry Merrick, Loy Ditto, Pete Hanks, Doug Henson and David Bearden. Back row, Lynn Tarbet (manager), Weidon Mennis, Eugene Clanton, Jerry Ide, Dan Shortes, Lammis Taylor, Larry Hall, Paul Wasson, Lin Ingram, Eugene Coleman and Dougan Hans (manager). Coach Dodds is in the extreme back.

STEERS GIVEN BEST CHANCE AT VICTORY

Well aware that this outing affords them their best chance for victory this season, the Big Spring Steers will try to carry the fight to the enemy in an 8 o'clock engagement with the El Paso Austin Panthers here tonight.

Big Spring is winless after four games—having lost to San Antonio Edison, Snyder, Sweetwater and Lamesa in that order.

Austin has beaten only El Paso Tech and that school by a score of 27-6.

Since then, the Panthers have dropped verdicts to Tascosa of Amarillo, Odessa High and San Angelo. If the Longhorns were in tip-top physical condition, observers would perhaps give them an excellent chance against the El Pasoans.

However, the locals are in wretched shape. Of the backs, only three sophomores — David Maberry, James Gilbert and Jerry Tucker — are prepared to play 48 minutes of football.

The situation is equally critical along the line. Mack Alexander has missed practice part of this week because of the flu. Bud Bridges, Alf Cobb, Gary Pickle, Tommy Rutledge and Robert Carr are others who have been on the shelf for repairs from time to time.

The Longhorns have displayed excellent spirit in their last two workouts, however, seem determined to end their losing skid. Their coaches reason they are capable of playing some great football, if only they can get a few breaks.

Austin will prove no easy hurdle. In Johnny Jimerson, an end, the visitors boast one of the outstanding pass receivers in the state.

Phil Boswell, a 160-pounder, is the back the Steer coaches fear most. The young man, who was a regular last year, has compelled respect and exacted praise from all opponents this season.

Others who must be watched include end Gilbert Gonzales, tackle Robert Glover, guard Charley Pearce and end Delgado, all of whom were regulars last year.

Outstanding newcomers on the Austin squad this year, in addition to Jimerson, are the 175-pound Billy Harrison, a guard; and Larry Cano, 175-pound quarter back.

This will be the final game for Al Milch's District 2-AAAA in Abilene next week.

Lamar Tech Has Unbeaten Mark

Lamar Tech is the only undefeated team left in the Lone Star Conference but you wouldn't think so if you looked at the statistics.

East Texas State tops in team offense with 348.5 yards per game and in defense, giving up 143.3.

Southwest Texas State leads in most of the individual categories.

Bob Lewis is No. 1 in passing with 26 completions in 52 throws for 514 yards, Willard Dearing leads in rushing with 370 yards on 50 carries and Don Hardin tops in pass - receiving with 14 catches for 269 yards.

Sam McCord East Texas' Little All-American tops in total offense with 649 yards on 77 plays.

Shorthorns Shaded By Midland, 62-8

MIDLAND (SC) — The Midland reserves swarmed all over the Big Spring High School B team here Thursday night, winning, 62-8.

The Shorthorns looked to advantage in the first period and trailed only by a score of 14-8 at that stage. It was all Midland in the final three periods, however.

Johnny Cone scored Big Spring's lone TD on a 15-yard run around left end while Benny Piltzer added the two extra points on a run.

Danny Everett looked good for Big Spring on defense. He plays end. Midland led at half time, 23-8.

TCU Wogs Shaded By Eagle Frosh

DENTON (AP) — TCU's Donny Smith turned in scoring runs of 91 yards and 62 yards, but North Texas came back to win the freshman football game Thursday 20-13.

Smith scored on a 91-yard opening kickoff return and a 62-yard run for scrimmage.

Cecil McFarlin scored from the two, Frank Rice from the three and Merle Boyd from the 39 for North Texas.

Ponies, Frogs Are Selected In SW Battles

By HAROLD V. RATHIFF Associated Press Sports Writer

The Southwest Conference reaches the first of its multiple climaxes this week as Texas and Arkansas battle to see which becomes the only undefeated team.

The winner of this game will start talking about the Cotton Bowl but they will be cautious words. Plenty can and probably will happen in the last half of an always upsetting football race.

Texas and Arkansas clash at Little Rock Saturday night with each boasting a winning streak of four games.

Texas A&M makes its conference start at Fort Worth, meeting once-beaten Texas Christian in the only day game on the schedule.

At Houston Southern Methodist and Rice will be playing the first conference game for both.

At Waco Baylor tackles Texas Tech, a conference member not playing for the championship.

Texas is a handy favorite to beat Arkansas everywhere except in the conference, where past performances mean little.

The Aggies have made a fine recovery after losing their opening game to Texas Tech, beating Michigan State, Mississippi Southern and Houston in succession.

Baylor is the general choice to tumble Tech but on the basis of the season record this one looks like a tossup.

A total of 150,000 will watch the four games with $5,000 at Houston, $4,000 at Little Rock and Fort Worth and 20,000 at Waco.

With five winners and one tie last week, the average went up appreciably. Confidently: Texas-Arkansas-Texas has the most manpower.

Rice-SMU—In late October all Owls get tough but SMU is getting stronger, too. SMU by a touchdown.

TCU-A&M—TCU may be slow and lack spirit but there are too many for the Aggies to stop; TCU by a touchdown.

BAYLOR-TECH — Baylor by a squeak but no surprise if it's Tech.

Pro-Am Opens Links Play

DALLAS (AP)—A pro-am event involving area professionals and Dallas Golf Assn. members opened Texas Cup match activity today.

The matches begin Saturday with five doubles matches. They end Sunday with singles play.

Byron Nelson, captain of the pro, announced his lineup. No. 1 is Bobby Morris of Dallas, followed by Earl Stewart of Dallas, Jackson Bradley of Houston, Elroy Marti of Houston, Doug Higgins of Midland, Ross Collins of Dallas, Dick Turner of San Angelo, Ray Gafford of Fort Worth, Nelson and Sam Speer of McAllen.

The amateur squad was listed by Charles Coody of Stamford as Dick Crawford of University of Houston, Coody, Jacky Cupit of University of Houston, Hal McCommas of Dallas, Spec Goldman of Dallas, Don Massengale of Jacksboro, John Farquhar of Amarillo, Dudley Wyson of McKinney, John Paul Cain of Sweetwater and Bill Eschenbrenner of Fort Worth.

Strange Is Fired As Seattle Boss

SEATTLE (AP)—Alan Strange, who took over as field manager for the Seattle Rainiers of the Pacific Coast League in mid-season last summer, was notified today he will not be retained for 1960.

Strange succeeded Fred Hutchinson July 8 when Hutchinson was named manager for the Cincinnati Reds. Seattle was in last place then and in seventh place at the season's end.

Fran Curci Leads Miami In Navy Go

By JACK CLARY Associated Press Sports Writer

Fran Curci, a mosquito boat size football player compared to Navy's "22 skidoo" battlewagons, leads the Miami (Fla.) Hurricanes against the Middies tonight in the Orange Bowl to open a king-size college football weekend.

Curci, a 5-foot-9 senior, is the hub of a Miami team that has won two of three games, losing last week to Louisiana State, top-ranked team in the Associated Press poll.

The 152-pound quarterback is also the main hope for a revival by the Hurricanes. They won only 2 of 10 games in 1958.

Navy, now 2-2 after winning its first two games, relies on quarterbacks Joe Tranchini and Jim Maxfield to lead its two-planet attack.

Utah is at Denver in another game tonight.

Saturday, the major unbeaten begin a battle for survival. At least five are good bets to fall.

Five games pit 10 unbeaten, including Texas' game with Arkansas. Southern California's battle with Washington and Air Force's encounter with Oregon.

In addition, eighth-ranked Syracuse meets Holy Cross and unscored-upon Yale travels to Cornell.

Texas, third-ranked after last week's 19-12 victory over Oklahoma, will send an attack headed by halfbacks Jack Collins and Rene Ramirez against a defense as tough as its own.

Arkansas, like Texas, has given only two touchdowns. Both have run up 40 records.

Southern Cal (No. 7) brings its 3-0 record to Washington (4-0) headed by its mammoth line that tops the conference defensively.

Utah, winner of its last two, and an attack that lags only in passing offense. The Huskies will counter with quarterback Bob Schiroed and halfback Don McKeta, its 1-2 punch to date.

Syracuse, tops nationally in defense, will have its equally high-powered offense tested by a stout Holy Cross line that has given only one touchdown in three games. Both have 3-0 records.

Top-ranked Louisiana State begins defense of its Southeastern title at Kentucky, facing a Wildcat team that has lost all three SEC games and has beaten only Detroit. LSU is 4-0.

Other SEC games featuring top-ranked teams finds Georgia Tech (No. 4) going against Auburn. Unscored-upon and unbeaten (4-0) Mississippi, ranked fifth, meets Tulane, winner of its last two.

In the Big Ten, second-ranked Northwestern faces Michigan but must go without halfback Ron Burton, out with a sprained ankle, and with a quarterback situation that is in the hands of reserves after Dick Thornton's injury two weeks ago.

Purdue (2-1), ranked sixth and tops defensively in the Big Ten, meets Ohio State. Iowa (No. 9) sends its high-powered aerial game against Wisconsin.

Tenth-rated Penn State, unbeaten in four games, plays Boston University.

Nazre Dame travels to Michigan State in the Television Game of the Day. Unscored-upon Penn (3-0) plays Brown in an Ivy League game.

Sweetwater Is 32-12 Winner

SWEETWATER (SC) — Sweetwater's Ninth Graders finally wore down Big Spring Goliad, winning, 32-12, here Thursday night.

The Mavericks played inspired ball the first half and the score was tied until the final play of the second quarter when the Colts threw a touchdown pass that made it 12-6.

After three periods of play, Big Spring trailed by a score of 23-12.

Right halfback Tommy Young scored Goliad's first TD on a five-yard run off right tackle after setting up the tally on a 50-yard sprint around end. Big Spring had taken over the ball at midfield on downs.

Guard Vernon Jackson counted Big Spring's other TD in the third when he recovered a Sweetwater fumble in the end zone.

The defeat left the Mavericks with an 0-4 record. They play Sweetwater in a return game in Big Spring at 7:30 p.m. next Thursday.

Jack Eisenhart, an end, played a tremendous game on defense for the Mavericks. Eisenhart is a 150-pound, six-footer. Jackson's play also glistered on defense.

Others who showed to advantage for the Mavericks included John Trego, right tackle; and Dan Cone, center.

The Mavericks advanced to Sweetwater's five-yard line in the opening period but a penalty at that point killed their chances.

Sweetwater counted all but one of its touchdowns on long runs.

Dodgers And Sox Slice Up Record Swag For Series

NEW YORK (AP) — The Los Angeles Coliseum, maligned as a poor excuse for a baseball plant, was looked upon more kindly today by the champion Dodgers and the Chicago White Sox.

The vast structure was the major reason for the World Series rivals splitting a record series' melon of $893,301.40, with each of the three games there producing progressively record crowds of 92,000 plus. The players shared only in the first two of those games.

The Dodgers voted each of 29 players a full share of $11,231.18. The White Sox voted 31 full shares, each man getting $7,275.17.

The previous record for a full share to a winning player was $11,147.90, set by the New York Giants in 1954. The Brooklyn Dodgers of 1956 held the previous high of $6,934.34 for a loser's full share.

The Giants and Cleveland, due to the seating capacity of Cleveland's Municipal Stadium, split $881,783.72 in 1954, which was the previous high for the players' share. The players participate in the receipts of only the first four games.

The split of the players' cut in series' receipts includes 70 per cent for the two participating teams, 15 per cent to the second place teams (Milwaukee and Cleveland); 10 per cent to the third place teams (San Francisco and New York); and 5 per cent for the fourth place teams (Pittsburgh and Detroit). Of the money to pennant winners, the Dodgers got 60 per cent and the White Sox 40 per cent.

Jon Mason Stars But A & M Loses

COLLEGE STATION (AP) — The Texas A&M freshmen scored first on a 93-yard kickoff return by Jon Mason, but the Baylor Cubs fought back for a 7-6 victory Thursday.

Center Butch Maples blocked the extra point kick after Mason's touchdowns.

In the fourth period, tackle James Moore fell on Ronnie Brice's fumble on the Fish 14 to recover for Baylor. Four plays later Ronnie Goodwin of Odessa scored and Carl Choate kicked the winning conversion.

Lion Star Is Out

COMMERCE (AP) — Don Malone, starting right halfback and leading scorer who hurt his knee in practice a week ago, is out for the season. East Texas State coaches said Thursday.

Busso Is Koyed By Mexican Star

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Mexico's rabid fight fans had another hero to worship today in Raymundo Torres.

The 18-year-old fighter from Reynosa, Mex., scored a spectacular knockout in the second round Thursday night over fourth-ranked lightweight Johnny Busso of New York before a hysterical crowd of 10,200 at Olympic Auditorium.

Running his winning streak to 27 and his knockout string to 21, Torres decked the 25-year-old Busso twice in the first round and twice in the second, the last one for keeps after 41 seconds.

Torres weighed 135 and Busso 137.

A lightning left hook to the head spelled ruin for Busso. It was the first clean knockout scored against him in 46 fights.

Matchmaker George Parnasus announced he would guarantee lightweight champion Joe Brown $100,000 to fight Torres for the title.

DEAR ABBY

HE'S RIGHT

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My brother has a newspaper route and he has a lady on his route who is 82 years old. She gets lots of nuts and candy and a bushel of apples from Seattle at Christmas and she has no teeth so she gives this stuff to my brother. Only she gives it to him in June or July. The chocolates are wormy and melted and the nuts are not crunchy any more and the apples are rotten. Then she asks my brother how it was and he has to lie and say fine.

My brother says she forgets she has this stuff, so I said he ought to remind her in January. He says it is bad manners. What do you say?

DEAR SIS: Your brother is right. It is bad manners to remind a person to give you something. Your brother should accept what she offers, when she offers it. Pretend to be pleased. And then take it home and throw it out.

DEAR ABBY: I have a problem mother. If a letter comes for me when I am at school it is always opened by the time I get home. Mother says that Jimmy opened it before she could stop him. (Jimmy is my four-year-old brother.) Or else she says she tore it open before she looked to see who it was to. I have nothing to hide, but don't you think a girl my age deserves some privacy? I am 14.

DEAR NO: No mother can't use these excuses too many more times without making herself appear very foolish. Ask her please to sort the mail carefully and put yours out of Jimmy's reach. Wise mothers build better relationships with their daughters by respecting their privacy.

DEAR ABBY: I am a married woman. I hope you won't think my question is too silly to answer. But I have looked in the etiquette books and can't find the answer to my question anywhere.

When you are invited to a party, is it proper to ask, "Who else will be there?" I would never think of asking such a question, but I have had a number of people ask me who else will be there when I have invited them for a party. Thank you, kindly.

MIRIAM

DEAR MIRIAM: The thoughtful hostess, when extending an invitation, might volunteer this information along with what kind of a party it will be to give in her guests on what to wear. But it is never, never proper for one who is invited to a party to ask, "Who else will be there?"

DEAR ABBY: I am a widower, 67 years old. I have been keeping company with a lady 10 years younger than myself for the past four years. I think a great deal of her and she of me.

I am afraid to ask her to marry me because people might think I am an old fool to get married at my age. What do you think?

LONELY

DEAR LONELY: I think if you DON'T get married because you are afraid people might think you are an old fool, you will prove that you ARE.

What's your problem? For a personal reply, write to ABBY in care of the Big Spring Herald. Enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

TV Expose Merely Hikes Fascination

Editor's Note — In the wake of the current congressional probe into the television quiz shows, AP's staff writer, in a column, pointed out a filmed copy of NBC's now defunct Twenty-One and persuaded it. Some witnesses before a House subcommittee said they were coached by the show's staff. The article, published in the Herald, found the program even more fascinating than before.

By SAUL PETT

NEW YORK (AP)—In the opinion of this drama fan, the television networks ought to rerun the old quiz shows.

They could title the series, "Find That Fix."

Recent testimony about rigged shows, handy answers and coached emotional responses give the old quiz games more excitement than they held originally.

For example, Twenty-One, on the night of Dec. 5, 1956. It was on this show that Herbert Stempel, according to his recent testimony, took his dive to Charles Van Doren, the campus charmer. His downfall, Stempel said, was all planned down to the last puzzled scratch of his chin.

I have just studied the film of that show. It's fascinating.

If both Van Doren and Stempel were acting — as Stempel implied — I'd have to give the nod to Van Doren as the better actor. He had the biggest emotional scenes — the worried looks, the knitted brows, the chin scratching, the face patting, the indecision, the tension, the anguish.

AWARDS EARNED

On face-patting with a handkerchief, I'd say Van Doren was ahead by at least 3-1. On hair rumpling, Stempel led by at least a dozen strands.

But Stempel's gestures lacked spontaneity. When he scratched his chin in what was supposed to be deep, tense thought, his index finger came up tentative, groped, then slowly settled on his chin without much conviction.

And at the very end, when Stempel had just lost $20,000, he failed to build his scene. Van Doren seemed more shaken. Stempel appeared about as disconsolate as a man who had just lost an old bus transfer.

The scoring throughout was stirring.

Stempel, the defending champ, grabbed an early lead, 16-0 in points. Then Stempel stumbled while Van Doren closed the gap to 11-10. And suddenly, by the show, it was tied up at 21-21. Then, with only minutes to go in a new game, Van Doren grabbed an 8-point lead, held it stubbornly and streaked home the winner — breathless, modest but victorious.

LOSING QUESTIONS

Stempel lost on two widely spaced questions — the answers to which, he has since testified, he knew as well as his own name. In the first, after a long pause, he failed to identify "Marty" as the Oscar-winner of 1955.

The death blow came when Stempel had 11 points at $2,500 a point riding on a single question. It went this way:

Barry: "for 11 points, the toughest of them all. One of the most revered names in American journalism was that of a Kansas newspaper publisher who died in 1944. Tell us this man's name, the name of his paper and the title of the editorial he wrote which made him and his paper nationally known."

Stempel: (pause) — The name of the editor is William Allen White.

Barry — That is right! Stempel — He published the Emporia Gazette.

Barry — THAT IS RIGHT! And finally for 11 points . . .

Stempel — I would have to think a little bit.

Barry — Herb, you go right ahead.

(Long pause while Stempel scratched chin)

Barry — The title of the editorial . . .

Stempel — I don't know, I don't know.

Barry (solicitously) — No idea? Stempel — It just won't help to guess.

Barry — I beg your pardon? Stempel — It just won't help to guess, I don't know.

Barry — I'm afraid I'm going to have to give it to you then, Herb. The title of the editorial was "What's the Matter with Kansas?"

MIXED MATH

A few minutes later, Van Doren decided to stop the winner by eight points and $20,000. It was all over. Jack Barry got a little mixed up in his arithmetic.

Barry — And you, Charles Van Doren, win $20,000! Congratulations. (music up) Herb, I want to say you've had a tremendous run here. You had $60,500 when you started. You lost $20,000. You still go home with $40,500, which is a big sum . . . Herb, in the few brief moments we have, what are you going to do with the dough?

Stempel — Well, Mr. Barry, this all came so suddenly . . .

And then he said he would use the money to outfit his family (Stempel later testified that he was not poor to start with, that he had married into a wealthy family) and that he would put the rest of the money into the bank except for a "small contribution" to the city college fund (which turned out to be $250).

Stempel closed: "And I would also like to thank you, Mr. Barry, and the members of your staff for all the kindness and courtesy you've extended to me."

Barry closed: "Herb, I want to say one thing. We may have a lot of contestants in the future but I doubt anybody will ever dispute the knowledge and fighting spirit and courage that you have on this program."

Stempel — I would have to think a little bit.

Barry — Herb, you go right ahead.

Truman Begins 3-Day Jaunt Through Texas

By CLAYTON HICKERSON

A three-speech Texas tour by former President Harry S. Truman, coupled with appearances before newsmen and television cameras, was to start Friday.

Truman's three-day Texas sojourn will be climaxed in Dallas Saturday night at a statewide Democratic party rally, with the former president himself as the principal speaker.

The Truman Dallas appearance caused widespread conjecture among political observers, Democratic and Republican. It also plunged the former president into local party strife.

Truman was due to arrive in Lubbock Friday at 3:25 p.m. after a two-hour and 15-minute stop-over in Dallas during which he was to meet the press and have lunch with friends and members of the Truman Rally Committee.

Speaker Sam Rayburn, Sen. Ralph Yarborough, Dan Patton Jr., chairman of the rally group; William L. Kirtrell, party stalwart from Dallas, and City Councilman Joe Geary, representing Mayor R. L. Thornton, were to meet the former president.

TRAVELING AIDES

Accompanying Truman to Lubbock were Arch S. Underwood, financier and long-time Democratic party backer, Rayburn, Dallas attorney Bill Cooper and Joe Bailey Humphreys and Alan Maley Jr., secretary-treasurer for the AFL-CIO in Dallas.

Sen. Yarborough predicted Truman Saturday night "will toast the Republican administration for highjacking the American people by forcing higher and higher interest rates."

The junior senator, who will be on the platform with Truman, also said, "As Harry Truman says, he doesn't give the Republicans hell. He just tells the truth and they think it's hell."

Yarborough said "Thousands of Texans from all sections of the state are planning to attend" the Dallas speech.

The rally committee made no official prediction of the crowd but persons close to the group said a crowd in excess of 10,000 was expected. Tickets sold for $2.50.

Truman's Lubbock speech was billed as non-political and was to mark the 14th anniversary of the United Nations Charter which he signed as President.

SYMINGTON QUESTION

Part of the conjecture surrounding the Saturday night rally in Dallas concerns Truman and his backing of Sen. Stuart Symington of Missouri for the Democratic presidential nomination.

Is Truman about to drop Symington, his former Secretary of the Air Force, for Texas' Lyndon B. Johnson? Symington himself in a recent Texas speech lauded the Senate's head man as a great leader.

Speaker Rayburn will introduce Johnson Saturday night. Johnson, in turn, will introduce the former president.

Another pre-rally ruckus has Dallas County Democratic Chairman Ed Drake not attending the big blowout. He says it's just an expanded convention of the Democrats of Texas, liberal organization headed by Mrs. R. D. (Frankie) Randolph of Houston. The DOT holds a Dallas meeting Saturday prior to the rally.

Police Quiz Death Suspect

MONTERREY (AP) — Police questioned a Fort Worth man today in a double murder which aroused this city.

Police said the man was captured late Thursday at Allende, heading toward the border at Piedras Negras, across from Eagle Pass.

The man, they said, entered Mexico at Nuevo Laredo under the name of a brother, the owner of the auto he was driving.

Killed Monday were Marta and Juan Manuel Perez Villagomez. They were riding with another sister, Hilda, 18, and a brother, Dr. Raul Perez Villagomez, all of Monterrey.

The auto developed trouble and the brother went for a tow truck. Hilda, who was badly wounded, said a man who didn't appear to speak Spanish stopped and offered a ride. She said when the girls refused to leave the stalled car he fired into it.

The man arrested at Allende, police said, fits the general description given by Hilda.

Several men have been questioned and cleared, including a San Antonio businessman and two Texans who were picked up at Miguel Aleman.

New Report On Drilling Ready

AUSTIN—The University of Texas Petroleum Extension Service has published a new report on "Improved Drilling Technology and Economics," written by Dr. H. H. Power, university petroleum engineering professor.

Dr. Power presented first copies of the publication to oilmen at a university-sponsored School of Drilling Technology in Odessa this week. He was a featured lecturer at the school for oilmen from the U. S., Mexico, Venezuela, Austria, Scotland, Germany and Formosa.

Additional copies of the publication (at $2 each) may be obtained from the University Petroleum Extension Service, Austin 12.

Red Tide Leaves Trail Of Dead Fish

VENICE, Fla. (AP)—The menacing Red Tide has left its mark of dead fish on beaches here and biologists predict more will wash ashore.

Trick patches of rotting fish along a 25-mile front brought stinging fumes to this area Thursday.

City inspector Guy Kerwood said crews have removed several truckloads of fish from the city-owned beach but "gas fumes were so strong the workers had to quit several times to get fresh air."

Red Tide is a marine micro-organism that turns the water a rust color and is fatal to fish under certain weather conditions.

Judged Sane

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—Phil Dycus, 15, was judged sane Thursday and ordered confined to the State Boys' School at Gatesville. He confessed shooting his parents to death.

Cotton Clover To Speak At Kiwanis Club Ladies Night

Cotton Clover, Texas-Oklahoma District Kiwanis Club governor, will be guest of honor at a ladies night dinner next Thursday at the H.C.J.C. Student Union Building. His home is in Odessa.

COTTON CLOVER

The dinner set for 7 p.m. will be an interclub event and each Kiwanis Club in this division, (of which Floyd Parsons, Big Spring, is lieutenant governor) will have delegations present. Sherman Smith, president of the Big Spring club, said the local organization will be host and asked that all members and their wives make special efforts to attend.

Marvin Baker, president-elect and program chairman for this year indicated there would be other features at the dinner. President Cotton's address will be the highlight.

He has appeared here at other Kiwanis Club meetings in the year he has served as Texas-Oklahoma Kiwanis governor.

Big Spring is a member of Division 22 of the District organization.

Announcement of the ladies night party was made yesterday at the regular noon meeting of the club. It was said the club will forego its usual noon luncheon on next Thursday.

Program for yesterday's luncheon featured Capt. James Jay, local Salvation Army commandant, and a member of the Kiwanis Club. He spoke of his organization and of the work it performs.

It came into being, he said, in 1865 in England and was at its outset entirely evangelical. Later, it dawned on its leaders that spiritual messages were extremely difficult to make register when the hearer was hungry and cold. From this realization came the idea that the Salvation Army follows to this day—spiritual help to the masses and aid and assistance for the needy and distressed.

The Salvation Army functions today in 85 countries—it was in 97 countries until the Communists spread their control. It was established in the United States in 1889 and this country was the first outside of England in which the movement was planted.

The program covers a wide field. Capt. Jay said. He cited the wide activity field of the Salvation Army which includes, in addition to its local efforts which are well known, operation of homes for girls in trouble; camps for boys and girls; hospitals and many other enterprises.

He invited the Kiwanians to come to the local citadel at any time and acquaint themselves with the work the organization does here.

Jay praised the advisory council of citizens who assist him in his program. He also said that the Salvation Army is a staunch believer in the United Fund plan and is affiliated with this movement in Big Spring.

He explained, however, that because of its far flung endeavors, supplementary solicitation of additional funds to aid the budget had to be carried out each year.

Mrs. Pat Douglass, vocalist, accompanied by Jack Hendrix, sang two selections from "The King and I."

Orientation Program At State Hospital Monday

Big Spring ministers will attend a one-day orientation program at Big Spring State Hospital Monday. The Rev. Marvin A. Berkeland, chaplain supervisor at the hospital, said the purpose of the meeting is to acquaint local ministers with facilities and therapy at the hospital.

"We hope that a large number will come out for this meeting to tour our facilities," said Chaplain Berkeland.

"With the emphasis today on religion and psychiatry, it is becoming increasingly important that the minister and the physician work closely in treating not only the mentally ill but the ill person of any kind."

The ministers will confer with Superintendent Dr. Preston Harrison and clinical director Dr. Frank Williams. Chaplain Berkeland will discuss changing concepts in religion and mental health.

Sonny Johnston, son of Mr. and Mrs. Owen Johnston, of Coahoma, is home on his Navy recruit leave, having completed his nine weeks of recruit training. Sonny entered the Navy July 29, as airman recruit, and upon expiration of his leave, will report to the Naval Air Training Center, Memphis, Tenn., for schooling in naval aviation.

Sonny has the rate of airman apprentice. He was enlisted in the Airman Recruit Training Program, using his high school diploma as guaranteed a school.

Troy Nelson Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Troy Nelson Sr. of Coahoma, has completed his Navy recruit training, and is home on his 14-day recruit leave. Troy, a graduate of Coahoma High School, entered the Navy July 29, 1959, and upon expiration of his leave will report to Navy Hospital Corpsman School, San Diego, Calif., to commence his training for rating as a hospital corpsman. Troy was guaranteed this field of training before enlisting.

Danny Wyatt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Travis D. Wyatt of 1713 Purdue, has enlisted in the Navy, and for the next nine weeks will be undergoing recruit training, at the United States Naval Training Center, San Diego, Calif.

Danny entered the Navy as airman recruit, and will be in some branch of naval aviation, upon completion of his recruit training. The aviation branch of the navy has many interesting jobs and duties available to young men. The field is limited, however, and only a few men are allowed to enlist in this program each month. Young men interested in this or any other program in the Navy, should visit the Navy Recruiter in the Post Office Basement.

St. Paul Presbyterian Church will hear their newly installed minister, the Rev. Al Seddon, speak on the subject Serving Tabes Sunday morning. He has chosen the topic The Responsibility of Hearing for the evening service.

7th Day Adventist

Services of the Seventh Day Adventist Church will be at 2:30 and 3:30 p.m. Saturday.

Pentecostal

Services of the United Pentecostal Church have been announced by the pastor, the Rev. O. F. Viken. Sunday school begins at 10 a.m. with morning worship starting at 11 a.m. Sunday's evening worship service is 7:30. Mid-week service is held Wednesday at 7:30 p.m., and Young People will meet Friday evening at 7:30.

Unitarian

The Unitarian Fellowship will meet in the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Findlater, 1802 Douglas, at 8 p.m. The steering committee will meet earlier at 7 p.m.

Webb AFB

The Parable of the Good Samaritan, Luke 10:29-37, will be the sixth in a series of ten sermons on the parables of Jesus to be delivered by Chaplain Wilbur C. Hall. Evening services will be held at 7:30 under the direction of Chaplain Eugene Clemens. Confessions will be heard Saturday from 7:30 to 8:30 p.m.

Sharing the Living Christ

WITH CHRIST'S HELP, PETER HEALS A LAME MAN

Scripture—Acts 3.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL
"NOW Peter and John went up together into the temple at the hour of prayer, being the ninth hour."—Acts 3:1.

The Rev. Dr. Wilbur M. Smith, editor and commentator of Peloset's Select Notes, writes: "These are the two disciples who had been companions before the Pentecost, and were often together in the apostolic Church. They did not go up to the temple to offer a sacrifice, for all Christians had found Christ Himself to be the perfect and final sacrifice, but they did go at the hour of prayer."

"They saw a man lame from birth who was carried daily (by his friends) and laid 'at the gate of the temple which is called Beautiful, to ask alms of them that entered into the temple.'—Acts 3:2.

Seeing Peter and John about to enter the temple, he asked alms from them. "And Peter, fastening his eyes upon him with John, said, 'Look on us. And he gave heed unto them, expecting to receive something of them."

"Then Peter said, Silver and gold have I none, but such as I have give I thee: In the name of Jesus Christ of Nazareth rise up and walk. And he took him by the right hand, and lifted him up; and immediately his feet and ankle bones received strength. And he leaping up stood, and walked, and entered with them into the temple, walking, and leaping, and praising God."—Acts 3:5.

All the people saw the man walking and praising God, and they were filled with wonder and amazement at that which had happened unto him. And as the lame man which was healed held Peter and John, all the people ran together unto them in the porch that is called Solomon's, greatly wondering."—Acts 3:9-11.

"And when Peter saw it, he answered unto the people, Ye men of Israel, why marvel ye at this? or why look ye so earnestly on us, as though by our own power or holiness we had made this man to walk?"

"The God of Abraham, and of Isaac, and of Jacob, the God of our fathers, hath glorified His Son Jesus; whom ye delivered up, and denied Him in the presence of Pilate, when he was determined to let Him go."

"But ye denied the Holy One and the Just, and desired a murderer to be granted unto you; and killed the Prince of life, whom God hath raised from the dead; whereof we are witnesses. And His name hath made this man strong, whom ye see and know; as though by our own power or holiness we had made this man to walk."

Mother Seton Is Nearer Sainthood

By TOM HENSHAW
AP Religion Writer

Mother Elizabeth Ann Seton, who took another step toward canonization last week, is still a long way from becoming one of the many thousand saints on the Roman Catholic calendar.

The announcement by Pope John XXIII that the American-born nun has "passed the 'antepreparatory' stage" means she is somewhere in the middle of the canonization process, with the highest hurdles ahead.

The Catholic Church doesn't take sainthood lightly. Mother Seton, who could be the first native American saint, died in 1821, but canonization proceedings did not get under way on the lowest official level (the Baltimore diocese) until 86 years had passed.

Four years later, the documents painstakingly collected and examined in Baltimore were forwarded to Rome to a "postulator," a sort of clerical attorney who would plead her case before the Congregation of Rites.

Further examination by a commission in Rome, delayed by World War I, lasted another 29 years. It was not until 1940 that her cause was formally introduced and she was being considered for beatification.

Apparently these three points have met approval: She has a reputation for sanctity; she has not been venerated publicly; and her writings, even personal letters, express the saintly ideals. She can be pronounced beatified — and bear the title "blessed" — only after the church has satisfied itself that two miracles can be attributed to her intercession. Church spokesmen say it is unlikely that beatification can be considered and approved until 1960 or even much later.

Canonization, the final step to sainthood, is achieved only after the church proves to itself that her intercession has brought about two more miracles since her beatification.

This final step can take years or even decades. Thus, the church's investigations of sainthood have come a long way since the informalities of the 19th century, when St. Peter of Castelnau could be canonized less than two months after his death.

The elevation to sainthood of Pope Pius X in 1954 required an examination period of 30 years, a mere drop in the bucket of time as the canonization process goes.

St. Jeanne de Valois, one of eight canonized in 1950, died in 1594. She had to wait 446 years. St. Margaret of Hungary, elevated in 1943, had been dead 673 years. So far the United States has had only one citizen saint—St. Frances Xavier (Mother) Cabrini, canonized in 1946. She was born in San Angelo di Lodi, Italy.

Give God A Chance—God Will Open Doors For You!

CROSSROADS

Here's what happens when four super-highways meet—a far cry from that simple "plus mark" we used to call an intersection!

Life is becoming more complex, isn't it? No longer is it simply a matter of finding the right road. Today you can't even get on the right road until you find the right approach. And you had better be mighty sure of the direction you want to go, or you'll find yourself speeding away from your destination on a turnpike that permits no U-turn.

As life has become more complex, the value of a deep abiding religious conviction has become more evident. Against a background of confusion and uncertainty the confident assurance of Christian faith is sharply silhouetted.

And the millions who have turned to the Church for truth and guidance have made a thrilling discovery. The Way of Christ is still just as clear, direct, and inspiring as it was to those who heard it first by the Galilean road.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Bomber, Tanker Crash In Mid-Air

HARDINSBURG, Ky. (AP) — A nuclear-armed B52 bomber and its refueling tanker collided Thursday night in a fiery blast which lit the sky for 150 miles. At least four men were killed. Four members of the B52 crew were unhurt or suffered only minor injuries. They parachuted to safety after the planes came together while refueling.

Four others were reported dead or missing. One of the rescuers, Dr. John A. Kinchelow, said two men who parachuted from the B52 told him the first they knew of the collision was when everything suddenly lit up in flames. "I don't think any of them got out of the little plane (the tanker)," he said.

Strategic Air Command headquarters at Omaha, Neb., which issued the statement on the nuclear weapon, said the accident was the first of its kind since SAC began its round-the-clock air refueling program nine years ago.

Scout Leader

NEW YORK (AP) — Joseph A. Brunton Jr. of New Brunswick, N.J., has been selected as the next chief scout executive of the Boy Scouts of America. He was elected Thursday night by the organization's executive board to succeed Dr. Arthur A. Schuck, who retires next August.

The B52 came down in pieces on a farm about 12 miles south of here and three miles north of where the tanker crashed on another farm. The B52, its wreckage scattered over a wide area, was still blazing four hours after it crashed.

It looked like the whole world — the whole sky — was on fire," said one witness, Eliza Robertson. The Air Force said the bomber carried a "conventional nuclear weapon." In ordinary terminology this would mean that the plane carried a nuclear bomb. The Air Force said there was no danger of an explosion and no need to evacuate the crash area.

Thames Making Rapid Recovery

Henry Thames, now of Searcy, Ark., but for 20 years in business in Big Spring, is now off the critical list in a Searcy hospital, Tommy Cole, his nephew was informed last night.

Thames was crushed under a tractor several days ago and gravely injured. Cole was called to his bedside. He said the former Big Spring electrician was working on a pit silo on his farm when the tractor he was operating toppled over. He was pinned under the machine.

He operated the T&T Electrical Co. here for many years before moving to Searcy.

Little Rain Hope Held

By The Associated Press
Clouds hovered over the Gulf Coast and as far north as San Antonio Friday, but the Weather Bureau held out little hope of rain. Forecasts call for clear to partly cloudy weather in all sections of the state through Saturday.

Long-range predictions specify a few showers over the weekend in West Texas and along the coast. Temperatures should run 2 to 5 degrees below normal through the middle of next week, the agency said. The state was almost devoid of rain Thursday. High temperatures ranged from 69 a Hartlingen to 84 at Pinedo.

Lanza's Body Lies In State In Hometown Before Burial

PHILADELPHIA, Pa. (AP)—Thousands of persons will view the body of tenor Mario Lanza tonight in this city where he hitched his wagon to a star and went on to fame and fortune.

A Requiem Mass will be held Saturday in St. Mary Magdalen Roman Catholic Church, just around the corner from the apartment house where Lanza was born. It was in this church, too, that Lanza sang the "Ave Maria" for the first time as an 18-year-old choir boy long before he recorded it as a singing sensation. The record was one of his all-time best sellers.

While thousands will be paying their last respects to the man whose voice carried him from the south Philadelphia streets to earings of six million dollars, his last movie, "For the First Time," will be showing in a Center City theater.

After the Mass Saturday, Lanza's body will be shipped to Los Angeles for burial. His parents and widow live in California. A Requiem Mass was held in Rome Oct. 10, three days after he died in a clinic there of a heart attack. He was 38.

Lanza's grandfather Salvatore Lanza, 83, who was with Mario in Rome during his last days, said that he felt one of the main contributing factors to his death was "losing weight, so much—so fast."

Preacher Villain Due Film Version

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie - TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Recently a studio head told me: "The main reason the Protestants are up in arms about movie morality is one picture — 'Elmer Gantry'." This is denied by Protestant sources, who say their current criticism of sex and violence in films is based on moral reasons alone. But it is apparent that the 22-year-old novel by Sinclair Lewis is destined to stir up another storm of protest.

"Elmer Gantry" was Lewis' attack on sawdust evangelism of the Billy Sunday school. Now director-writer Richard Brooks and star Burt Lancaster are realizing a long-cherished ambition of putting Elmer on the screen.

"Most of our critics don't even know what we are doing with the production code office," Brooks said. The code states: "Ministers of religion, or persons posing as such, shall not be portrayed as comic characters or as villains so as to cast disrespect on religion." Brooks' answer to this is that Gantry is not portrayed as an ordained minister, as he was in the book. "He was a religious scoundrel in the book," Brooks said. "In the movie he is merely a scoundrel."

In keeping with code requirements, Gantry will be punished for using religion for his base desires. The tabernacle he has created burns down at the end of the film and he sees the error of his ways. This is another way the film differs from the book.

Protestant leaders are by no means unanimous against the film. Says Dr. Robert W. Strick, vice chairman of the Broadcasting and Film Commission of the National Council of Churches: "I am sure our ministry has enough validity and integrity to withstand his (Gantry's) classic caricature. Indeed, it might be very good for us, in a time that oversentimentalizes the minister, to have such a caricature shown."

'Untouchables' Is Smooth, Fast-Paced

By CYNTHIA LOWERY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Nostalgia being a popular theme, The Untouchables, an hour-long crime-fighter series which started on ABC Thursday night, is a good, commercial premise for a show. The idea of the series is to take a band of federal agents and turn them to cleaning up just about all the prohibition era crime. The opening show concerned itself —

Harpers Ferry Marks Date

HARPERS FERRY, W. Va. (AP)—Historic Harpers Ferry today marked the 100th anniversary of John Brown's attack on the federal arsenal. Brown, violent foe of slavery, led 18 men in a Sabbath night attack which he hoped would rally Negroes to rebel against their masters.

J. E. B. Stuart of New York, a grandson of the Confederate cavalry leader of the same name, spoke at a luncheon today. Saturday, spectators will see a mock attack by a company of Marines on a reconstructed fort resembling the one where Brown was captured.

Brown was tried at nearby Charles Town and went to the gallows Dec. 2, 1859. But Brown's vigorous fight against slavery helped fire emotions that led to the Civil War.

more or less factually — with the struggle to fill Al Capone's chair when the big man went to prison for income tax evasion. In the course of it, real names of dead hoods were dropped in among the fictitious ones.

It was a smooth, fast-paced show with a course — considerable violence. Nehemiah Persoff, as the gang bookkeeper, turned in an especially effective performance. Robert Stack played Elliot Ness, fictional leader of — I quote from a network publicity release — "a band of incorruptible 'untouchable' federal crime fighters."

By the time we are at mid-season with the show, I suspect it will begin to strain our credulity that one federal man gets all the meaty assignments. But, I suppose that's show biz: you've got to have something to tie a series together. Next week, they'll bring Ma Barker and her bad boys to justice.

One drawback to the show is its enormous number of sponsors. The commercials turned up so often they interfered with the continuity.

Benno Parks Cab, Returns To Painting

By IRISH DONNELLY
NEW YORK (AP) — The taxi-driving days of artist Benjamin G. Benno, once a Picasso protege, may be permanently over.

"I hope so anyway," says the wispy, wistful little man. Benno cloaked himself with the independence of a cabbie more than five years ago and disappeared from the art world in rebellion against compromise. "I felt that as a cab driver I retained my identity," he explains. Once before, in his youth, he chucked it all and went to sea. There he found time for painting. Not so with hacking from dawn to dusk in Manhattan.

Sensing what he hopes may be a better climate for artists — pricier and otherwise — Benno has parked the cab and resumed painting his specialty, cubist pastels.

Some new work as well as specimens from his earlier art days are on exhibit at the Collector's Gallery, and things are looking good. Considerable critical interest has been stirred by the return of Benno.

This is not surprising for back in the 30s Benno had works displayed at the Guggenheim and Whitney museums, and was exhibited in Europe alongside Picasso and other renowned artists. "He was the only one who ever understood what Picasso was doing," said Gertrude Stein of Benno. "Some time am sure when everybody is dead lots of his will be sold as Picassos."

Benno today calls himself a "personal expressionist." Ideas for his still lifes, he says, come from nature. Once inspired, he figuratively stands aside, and lets the colors transmit themselves through him to the easel.

A difficult thing, he agrees, if you are also handling a hack.

VA Hospital Man Speaks At Odessa

Philip F. Hanigan, registrar at Big Spring Veterans Administration Hospital, outlined benefits and services at the facility to Veterans of World War I and its ladies auxiliary last night in Odessa. Hospital Manager Dr. J. H. Friedlander said Hanigan was guest speaker at installation ceremonies of the group in Ector County Library.
