We Want To Help, Too

"We want to help, too," these youngsters seem to say as Bill Daves, second from left, presents a $440 check to Horace Garrett, United Fund campaign chairman. This represents 40 per cent of the school children's own United Fund. Daves, Marcy principal and a former YMCA secretary, was the school UF chairman. Garrett was overjoyed at the effort, declaring that so much of the United Fund is to help children, but here were children helping the United Fund. Supporting Daves were Jimmy Johnson (Washington) Pamela Siefly and Freddy Overhold (Marcy).

Campaign Leaders Touch Off New Fire Under Stymied UF

More than 50 campaign leaders and workers Monday touched off a new fire under the lagging United Fund campaign. Results were immediate, and campaign officials headed by Horace Garrett, general chairman, were cheered with prospects that a formidable deficit can be chipped away. At noon Tuesday, the campaign total had risen by some $3,000. Instead of 32 per cent on Saturday when the drive almost stalled out at 32 per cent of its $96,800 quota, the mercury column Tuesday was 55.9. After a ringing appeal for down-to-the-wire support from Dr. W. A. Hunt, Howard County Junior College president, R. L. Tollett, Cosen Petroleum president, said that many subscribers to the United Fund had not raised their gifts when the budget was upped seven per cent. "Cosen will raise its gift 15 per cent and I'll raise my personal gift by the same percentage," he said. Dr. Hunt announced he was raising his personal gift, and Garrett said he would, too. And he did, by 33 1-3 per cent. Tuesday Tollett was assisting Doug Orma, big gifts chairman, in contacting prior donors with an appeal to increase last year's gifts if they have not done so. As the town has grown, most businesses have been blessed and can afford to invest more in the humanitarianism of the United Fund, Tollett said. Only a handful of contacts remained to be made in the big gifts division. There were some three dozen hanging fire in the special gifts divisions, and these did not include refusals by several whom UF workers felt should share a part of the community responsibility.

Power Failure Hits Town But All Is Well

WORTHINGTON, Minn. (AP)—No one panicked. When it was all over, the 9,500 people of this southwestern Minnesota town acknowledged they had friends.

Within minutes after an explosion ripped out all the city's power and much of its heat, in sub-zero weather, offers of help began to roll in. Portable generators were rushed from neighboring towns and set up at nursing homes, the city's three water wells and some schools. Even a greenhouse got one.

The municipal hospital switched to its own power units and was not affected. Repair crews quickly provided power for the Southwestern Minnesota Crippled Children's Hospital-School.

Civil Defense Director Ray Schisler said "We needed all the help we got and we got it before we could ask."

The power was lost at 9:40 a.m. Monday when an explosion ripped wires between plant turbines and the distribution system.

Capt. Henry Fauske of the National Guard turned in the alarm after a manhole a block from the power plant blew up in front of him.

Fauske never made it home from the police station. Gov. Orville Freeman ordered out the local Guard unit after he had been advised of the situation. Six patrols of 50 Guardsmen roamed the darkened streets to check possible pillaging and fires.

There were no serious casualties but two power plant workmen—John T. Anderson and Gerald Post—received flash burns about the face and arms and were taken to the hospital.

With repair crews working through the day and most of the night, complete power was returned early this morning.

Emergency quarters set up for chilled residents at the army, an elementary school and two churches attracted only a few persons.

Many residents crowded into five outlying motels and a downtown hotel, served by steam heat.

Howling Norther Whips Over State

Strong northerly winds whipped freezing air over Texas Tuesday as a howling norther covered the state.

It was 13 degrees at Amarillo and scattered light rain and drizzle fell on coastal sections.

The Weather Bureau promised slightly higher temperatures in Texas Wednesday.

The cold front that hit Texas the first of the week Tuesday blew out over the Gulf of Mexico and into Mexico.

Temperatures were expected to drop to 15 degrees in Northwest, North Central and portions of East Texas Tuesday night.

The high Monday in Texas ranged from 26 at Dalhart to 76 at Junction.

Light rain fell Monday with Brownville getting .05 of an inch, Harlingen .04, Lufkin .01, and Sherman, Dallas and Fort Worth a trace.

Rocky Looks More Like A Candidate

Editor's note: Continuing on-the-spot coverage of presidential hopefuls by The Associated Press Pulitzer Prize-winner Reiman Morin sees up Nelson A. Rockefeller's position after covering the governor's Far West swing.

By RELMAN MORIN NEW YORK (AP)—Is Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller going to take the big plunge for the 1960 Republican presidential nomination?

He says he hasn't made up his mind. But he returned to New York Monday from a four-day swing through the Far West, obviously buoyed by what he found there.

As a result, he looks much more like a potential candidate today than he did a week ago.

Information he received on the trip has given him a new insight into the political picture in the West.

Rockefeller spent two days in Vice President Richard M. Nixon's home state, California, and one in Oregon, where Nixon appears equally as strong. He stopped briefly in Washington and Idaho.

In California and Oregon, the governor expected to find, and did find, blocs of Nixon backers as solid as anywhere in the United States.

Houston Ship Channel Open

HOUSTON (AP)—The 50-mile Houston ship channel was open to traffic today for the first time since the Amoco Virginia burned early Nov. 8.

The crippled oil tanker was towed down the channel Monday to the Todd Shipyards at Galveston.

Some 24 ships began leaving the port. As the outbound traffic cleared the channel, the first of about 40 inbound vessels began their journeys upstream after anchoring near Bolivar Roads in Galveston Bay.

"There are about 40 ships waiting to come in and dock space for only 25," said R. J. Evans, the port captain. "It's going to take a few days."

Gasoline leaking from the wrecked tanker had posed a threat to channel traffic after the 18-hour fire was extinguished, causing the eight-day shutdown. Eight died in the fire.

WARMING UP DUE TO SHOW ON WEDNESDAY

A light respite is in store from the intensely bitter cold of Monday night but it will still be top coat weather.

Last night showed a low of 16 recorded at the U. S. Experiment Station. The promised sleet or light snow did not develop and the cold was one of the "hard" variety given an occasional boost by chill biting winds.

The high seen for today in the noon forecast is 36; tonight will see the mercury go down to a cold 22 degrees. A little warmer weather is foreseen for Wednesday.

Stiff Winds Push Cold Over U. S.

Stiff northerly winds fanned arctic air across the nation's mid-section today, dropping temperatures to record low marks for the date from the Great Lakes region to northern Texas.

It was nearly freezing as far south as San Antonio, Tex., and Amarillo, Tex., shivered in 14 above temperatures. The mercury edged toward the zero mark at Chicago and Milwaukee and it was below zero at Minneapolis.

The cold Canadian air headed into the East and dipped southward toward the Gulf.

The Weather Bureau in Chicago in a special bulletin this morning posted cold wave warnings for New York, Pennsylvania and West Virginia, with freezing conditions likely in many of the Gulf and southeastern states tonight.

Near or zero weather was the rule in most of the north central region while readings of 5 to 10 below were the rule in the Dakotas and northwestern Nebraska.

The icy weather was expected to continue today with some moderation Wednesday.

Montana reported a warming trend, but it still was the coldest part of the country.

NASA Chief Silent On Items Talked

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—President Eisenhower put in 70 minutes today going over space problems and the budget for space exploration with Dr. T. Keith Glennan.

Glennan is administrator of NASA, the National Aeronautics and Space Agency. He flew down from Washington to back up NASA requests for additional funds for the 1961 fiscal year starting next July 1.

The President received him in his temporary office at Augusta National Golf Club at 8 a.m. Glennan left at 9:10, relaying word to newsmen there was nothing he could discuss with them.

The space conference out of the way, Eisenhower got his daily briefing on intelligence reports from White House staff secretary Andrew J. Goodpastor. The two also discussed more details on the President's December trip to 11 European, Asian and African nations, a spokesman said.

Then, with an eye on the weather, the President hurried onto the golf course for his sixth round in six days he has been here. The weatherman predicted rain for later in the day.

One bit of business was the dispatch of messages to President Celal Bayar and Prime Minister Menderes of Turkey saying he is looking forward to visiting Ankara next month and paying his respects to the government and people of Turkey.

Bayar had written the President that the latter's trip "constitutes a new proof of the great efforts which you display for the strengthening of the solidarity between the free nations and the realization of the ideals of peace and security."

NASA is the civilian agency with full responsibility—the military no longer has any—for perfecting huge space rockets.

One NASA project is Saturn. The goal: a booster rocket with 1 1/2 million pounds of thrust. This would double the push which sent a Soviet rocket around the moon and it would be a big step toward getting a manned rocket aloft.

Congress already has put up $4 million dollars for Saturn.

Car Falls Off Embankment, Carries 5 Youths To Death

LONGVIEW, Wash. (AP)—A car carrying six teen-age boys, all neighborhood chums out on a drive, plummeted off a 25-foot embankment and overturned into a swampy slough Monday night. Five of the six drowned.

The dead included two pairs of brothers. The survivor, Francis Hughes, 16, told officers he did not know how the accident occurred.

Hughes was sitting in the front seat between two other boys when the car missed a turn at an intersection four miles west of here. The machine landed upside down in about 20 feet of water.

"I was grabbing for the door handle," Hughes said. "I don't remember much."

He made it to shore, struggled up the bank and flagged down a passing truck.

City Man Is Charged In Midland Gun Fray

A Big Spring man is being sought today in connection with a shooting affray and alleged kidnaping in a Midland motel on Monday night. The incidents stemmed from a high-stakes poker game played Monday, Midland police say.

The man sought in the shooting is Harold Letcher, 55. His address is listed as 1701 Kentucky. A warrant alleging assault with intent to murder has been filed against him. He is charged with having shot and seriously wounded Clyde Rhodes, 35, Roswell, N. M.

Howard County sheriff's deputies said they had not been asked to look for the man but that they made a check and were told that Letcher is en route to Midland to surrender himself to officers there.

He and two other principals in the weird case disappeared last night. The only persons held are Rhodes, and Mrs. Oma Coleman, 58, Pecos, who claims that Letcher abducted her.

Here is the way Detective Capt. Isidro Trevino pieced the case together from talking with Rhodes and from evidence left in the motel room where the shooting took place:

Letcher, Rhodes and a man identified by Rhodes and material in his handbag as E. H. Thorne, Roswell attorney, held an all-day poker game in the motel.

Rhodes said $15,000 to $20,000 was in the game. Police found marked cards in the room.

The shooting victim would only say the gun play stemmed from an argument. A bullet struck him in front, traveled around his ribs and lodged in his back. His condition was good.

Mrs. Coleman, believed to be wealthy, said she heard a commotion and went to the door of her motel room, and Letcher forced her into his car, saying, "Tell me how to get out of here." He took her three miles from Midland and released her on a highway.

She told police she had not seen any of the men involved previously. However, the detective captain quoted Rhodes as saying Mrs. Coleman and her sister, Mrs. Betty Jones, 32, of Tucson, Ariz., had been in and out of the poker room several times during the day.

CONFERENCE REPORT

Money Is Primary Problem In Bettering Schools Here

Five letters capture the essence of a Community Conference on Education report session Tuesday evening. They are:

M-O-N-E-Y. By no means all the suggestions and recommendations thus far advanced were direct appeals for money, but in most areas the further improvement of the educational program was tied inexorably to financing.

LENGHTY SESSION. For more than an hour and a half, chairmen of five key sub-committees touched on findings and suggestions of 10 days of intensive studying. Next Tuesday they will assemble at 5:15 p.m. in the high school auditorium.

Dan Krause, member of the school board, observed Tuesday at the report session in the Goliad School cafeteria, that virtually all the recommendations would be dependent upon financing for their execution.

"I don't believe the people of Big Spring will settle for mediocrity in education," he declared. "I hope that the finance committee will come in with some definite recommendations for more money."

Marvin Miller, chairman of the finance section, said that when the time comes for the final meeting, the committee indeed would have recommendations. Earlier, he had touched on studies which indicated that a minimum of some $100,000 more per year would be needed; that it would take a quarter of a million dollars more to suggest a moderate amount of the suggested improvements; and that half a million dollars more per year will be needed to achieve the most desired program. He touched on the possibility of budgetary shifts, and upon problems such as 22 per cent of the children coming from low income groups which contributed little or nothing to school support.

12-MONTHS OPERATION. From the plant division came a suggestion that serious study be given to utilization of the plant 12 months instead of nine months out of the year. (Miller's committee also alluded to this possibility).

Dr. J. E. Hogan, chairman of the plant panel, said buildings erected since the war were functional and mostly in good condition. Lakeview elementary and the older section of Kate Morrison elementary schools were singled out as targets for replacement or improvement. This group also suggested a study of the feasibility of converting Lakeview into a junior high for all the northwest area in order to justify a well-rounded program, and ultimately send high school students to the central high.

A need of master planning is as important for schools as for cities, said Dr. W. A. Hunt, chairman of the program committee. His group expressed the hope that someday the district could move to the basis of planning program and then plants to fit the programs. An undergirding program for the slower and for the unusually talented was suggested. Other needs cited included programs for stimulating creative thinking, more remedial specialists, educating for world citizenship.

The personnel committee, headed by Cliff Fisher, had the 1960-61 school year as its theme. (See SCHOOLS, Pg. 6, Col. 1)

Searchers Seek Cause Of Airliner Disaster

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Was there an explosion aboard the National Airlines DC7B liner that crashed in the Gulf of Mexico Monday with 42 persons aboard? If there was, did it come before or after the crash?

Members of the party hunting in the shark-infested waters for bodies believe there was an explosion. But they don't agree on when it occurred. There apparently were no survivors among the 36 passengers and 6 crew members to supply the answers.

The bodies of nine of the victims have been recovered. A Coast Guard cutter arrived at Gulfport, Miss., earlier today with them and debris from the wreck. A team of postal inspectors also was aboard the cutter. They had several sacks of mail.

The bodies were taken to Keesler Air Force Base Hospital in Biloxi, Miss.

Lt. James L. Sigman, executive officer of the Coast Guard air detachment at New Orleans, said the wreckage was spread over a comparatively small area of two to three miles. This indicated to him, he said, that the explosion came after the plane hit the water. But two Air Force fliers who spent four hours over the scene said because the wreckage was so scattered it seemed to them the plane exploded in the air.

The two were Capt. Raymond M. Griswold, pilot of an SA16 Albatross amphibian search and rescue plane, and Capt. Peter Palazzolo, the navigator.

"If the plane had been in a large piece or pieces when she hit the water, the wreckage would have been more concentrated. It wouldn't have covered a five-mile area," Griswold said.

Panel Readies Payola Probe

WASHINGTON (AP)—A House subcommittee is ready to subpoena papers and documents to find out how extensive the payola racket is in television and radio.

Payola is a show business term for bribes or other inducements to disc jockeys to get them to play and push new records. It also covers the practice of some performers who work in free plugs for products on their shows in return for an undercover payoff.

A special FBI disaster investigation unit also is helping with the identification.

George Clark of Fort Worth, Tex., in charge of the CAB salvage probe, said it may be hard to locate the sunken wreck.

DEAR ABBY

SOMEBODY'S DREAM

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My boyfriend is getting on my nerves. He is the type who would rather eat burnt toast in a restaurant than make a fuss by complaining about it. He is steady and dependable. He hasn't missed a day's work or been late in four years. He is so conservative I could scream. He makes his own hair tonic and shaving lotion and says I am foolish to buy cologne when he would make me some. He works in a plant where everything is made with an alcohol base. He is so good he is boring. My parents want me to marry him. Do you think he would make a good husband?

BORED WITH HIM

DEAR BORED: He would make a wonderful husband — but not for you. If his patience irritates you, his thriftiness annoys you and his steadiness bores you, turn him loose. There are plenty of girls who are looking for a man with his qualities. One girl's nightmare is another girl's dream.

old girl with a rare problem. I can't stand old people. I don't even like to be near them. They are very repulsive. The other day when I was on a bus this old lady got on and sat next to me. She was all wrinkled up and drooling and humming. I suppose she couldn't help it, but she made me feel so crawley I couldn't wait to get off the bus. How can I get over this feeling? Do you think I will outgrow it?

FEELING GUILTY

DEAR FEELING: The fact that you are "feeling guilty" indicates that you realize your attitude is wrong. This is half the battle. With maturity will come understanding, patience and respect for others. Elderly people are not always attractive (neither a young people) but it is up to the younger ones to give them a pleasant minute, or hour or day. Who knows how many more they will have?

DEAR ABBY: I am a 15-year-

Daily Average Oil Production Rises

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—Daily average production of domestic crude oil and condensate increased 6,470 barrels to 6,922,790 barrels during the week ended Nov. 14, the Oil and Gas Journal's survey showed today.

The narrow advance continued the gradual upward trend started in August.

Biggest contributor to the net gain was Utah, up 13,300 barrels to 102,300 barrels. Kansas rose 5,900 barrels to 323,400.

The week's largest loss was in Oklahoma, down 9,500 barrels from revised figures of the previous week to 323,700 barrels.

The Journal estimated 1959 production at 2,238,233,450 barrels compared to 2,115,667,920 a year ago.

Increases were reported also Colorado, up 700 to 127,500; the Eastern Fields, 500 to 42,500; and Arkansas, 20 to 52,620.

Production was unchanged in Texas at 2,323,200 barrels and New Mexico, 294,150.

Rail Runaway Sabotage Is Called Possible

NEWARK, N.J. (AP) — The Jersey Central Railroad says its runaway locomotive may have been sent off deliberately by some one trying to sabotage the line.

The FBI also said it had entered the case to determine if there had been any violation of a federal train wreck statute.

A Central spokesman said Monday "It looks like some one maliciously sent the engine off. It's extremely unlikely the engine could get going by itself."

The 123-ton diesel-electric engine slid out of the Central yard in Jersey City Thursday night with no one aboard and highballed 22 miles down the tracks toward the Jersey shore before it was intercepted.

Video Shorthand Makes Endless List

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Once it was easy to tell the heroes from the villains in the television Westerns: The white hats were the good guys and the black hats were the bad guys. Good old Hopalong Cassidy was the exception.

This simple method of establishing horse operas has long since bitten the dust.

But shortcuts to characterization are still in use, so often that we viewers scarcely notice them.

For instance:

Liquor cabinet with whisky in decanters in foreground, grand piano in background—these people are rich.

Cocktail party with women smoking—these people are sophisticated and the host is probably a book publisher, a corporation lawyer or an advertising executive.

Girl in an evening gown or cocktail dress made of shiny material—this woman is fast!

Woman wearing simple frock, single string of pearls and gloves—a lady.

Man wearing sleeveless sweater, smoking pipe, sitting in front of open fire—a happy husband.

Unshaven man—he has a hang-over, has been shot and seriously wounded or has lost his way in the desert.

Girl in dress with Peter Pan collar preparing coffee in an expensively furnished and beautifully decorated apartment — this is a secretary living in the usual working girl's one-room flat.

There are lots of other examples of TV shorthand. Look closely and make your own list.

did Arthur Godfrey. Obviously, they think they have found him in Red Rowe, who Monday made his network debut at 10 a.m. Rowe not only is reported to have red hair, but plays a guitar (it looks like a big ukelele) and sings agreeably, talks soothingly, informally and with mild humor.

He comes to us with a bunch of regulars—a girl singer, a boy singer and a small orchestra. Red wanders around making mild jokes and general pleasantries with them and everybody on the show laughs uproariously. If it all sounds familiar, it is—a carbon of the old Godfrey show.

Boy Dies After Blood Protest

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — A 14-year-old boy died Monday night, two days after receiving a blood transfusion despite the objections of his parents, who said it violated the family's religious beliefs.

Clare L. Barrett was admitted to University Medical Center last Wednesday with cystic fibrosis, a disease which causes internal bleeding.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Barrett of Temperance, Mich., refused to allow physicians to give him a blood transfusion. The Barretts, members of the Jehovah's Witnesses sect, said it violated their beliefs.

When the boy's condition became worse Saturday, medical center officials obtained a court order making Clare a temporary ward of the state and clearing the way for a transfusion.

Barrett, father of seven other children, gave permission for an autopsy to determine cause of death.

"God is the judge," said Barrett, he said he bore no ill-will toward anyone despite the court order and transfusion.

Could Have Been 'Bundle Of Rags'

NEWARK, N.J. (AP) — Joseph Matthews, 43, picked an odd place to take a nap Monday—between the rails of a track inside the Pennsylvania Railroad's Waverly yards.

A 25-ton yard engine passed over him.

Matthews suffered a scratch on his cheek. He was arrested and charged with trespassing on railroad property.

Engineer G. T. O'Toole told police he thought the sleeping man was "a bundle of rags."

Widow Wins Dance Suit

WICHITA, Kan. (AP)—Julia W. Hinman, 69, a widow, won a $45,149 damage verdict Monday from a dance studio which sold her $18,000 worth of lessons.

The jury's award included $15,000 actual damages and $25,000 punitive damages. Mrs. Hinman sued for $200,000, saying she had suffered great mental anguish.

Defendants were Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Bebb, owners of the Evan Charles dance studio in Wichita, and Bud Stewart, 28, former manager.

Testimony showed she contracted for 4,000 lessons at $4 apiece, paid more than $6,000 and took about 250 lessons.

More Missiles, Less Men Emerges In Defense Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — More missiles, less manpower is what emerges from the Eisenhower administration's 1961 military budget.

The President gave tentative approval to this concept Monday at Augusta, Ga., after a four-hour meeting with top Pentagon brass and government budget planners.

Spending will remain at about the present 41 billion dollars for the year starting next July 1.

Secretary of Defense Neil H. McElroy said the Navy and Air Force had volunteered to cut their manpower requirements a little in 1961. To offset this loss they can look forward to more and better missiles and more atomic-powered submarines. A second nuclear-powered aircraft carrier for the Navy failed to get approval.

The Army and Marine Corps resisted pressures to cut their forces.

McElroy, foreshadowing the new shape of war in the missile age, said the nation must face some time in the future the question of calling back some of its troops overseas. No cut in these forces is in prospect for the next 18 months.

In concert with McElroy's thinking, the Air Force chief of staff Monday told the meeting of NATO parliamentarians here to expect cutbacks in conventional forces, including manned aircraft, in the future.

Gen. Thomas D. White told the NATO group other changes are in prospect, such as a rearrangement of military forces now in Europe and creating of a fast-striking combat unit based in the United States but ready for action anywhere.

White's views dovetailed with the forecast made by McElroy to newsmen in Augusta and on his return to Washington.

McElroy said the 1961 defense budget could be cleared with the National Security Council within 10 days and get Eisenhower's final approval before he takes off Dec. 3 for a good will mission to 11 nations.

Military manpower now is about 2½ million. Just where and how many will be pared was not disclosed.

The Air Force for the current year agreed to accept a lower authorized strength of 845,000, and actually has operated below that ceiling.

Under the new budget the Air Force will lose several of its 102 wings of aircraft, most likely in B47 medium bomber units. It will continue to build up the bigger B52 bombers to a scheduled peak of 700 planes.

The Air Force now has operational control of the intercontinental ballistic missiles, the weapons of the future.

The Navy, under the new budget, will have to retire a few of its 864 active ships, and probably operate the remaining ones with smaller crews.

But the Navy's number of atomic submarines, each capable of launching 16 Polaris ballistic missiles, is slowly growing. It currently is building nine Polaris subs, and will ask money to start at least three more next year. The new Navy budget might even be stretched to provide for five more.

Dies In Plane

FORT WORTH (AP)—Bing G. Wong, 46, Marana, Ariz., died Monday when his private plane broke up in the air and crashed in a residential section.

Soviet Film U.S. Success

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Soviet exchange film "The Cranes Are Flying" is a boxoffice success in Washington and has been held over after its opening week.

An official of the Dupont Theater predicted today the Soviet World War II romantic drama may run as long as 10 weeks.

It has been drawing capacity audiences in the 450-seat theater since its first night premiere last Tuesday. The film has grossed about $10,000 and nearly 9,000 persons have seen it so far, a theater spokesman reported.

Meanwhile, the American film "Marty" is being shown in Moscow under a cultural exchange agreement signed between the U.S. and the U.S.S.R. last year.

"The Cranes Are Flying" has to make money here to keep running. It is strictly a commercial venture for U.S. film distributors.

The theater spokesman said most Americans viewing the film "are thrilled by it." What's more, he said, they are "surprised and amazed that the Soviets can make a picture as well as this."

"The Cranes Are Flying," like "Marty," is a prize-winning black and white production that has received international acclaim. It has English subtitles that were put in here with Soviet approval.

HOUSTON (AP)—Seotaro Okamatsu, chairman of a Japanese trade mission visiting here, said Monday a Japanese consulate will be opened here next month.

Brick Wall Falls, Kills 3 Workmen

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — A brick wall collapsed Monday killing three men who were helping raise a one-story building in downtown Kansas City.

It took more than five hours to dig out the bodies of Fred Smith, 49; Giles Arnell Holloway, and Willie Brown, 40. Two other workmen escaped.

A Devotional For Today

It is required in stewards, that a man be found faithful. (I Corinthians 4:2.)
PRAYER: Our Father, help us to realize that Thou art the giver of everything we have. Grant us the grace to use all for Thy glory and for the good of others. Teach us to be faithful stewards. In Jesus' name. Amen. (From The 'Upper Room')

Reds Not Up But Gaining Ominously

Uncle Sam's top intelligence chief, Allen W. Dulles, has told a Senate-House economic subcommittee that Nikita Khrushchev has been stretching the blanket in bragging that the Soviet Union would overtake the U. S. in production and living standards by 1970.

But he had a warning, too. Dulles said that unless the U. S. makes a better showing with its annual production increase of 4.5 per cent over the last few years, the Soviets will climb to about 60 per cent of the U. S. level by 1970.

The Kremlin's announcement of special efforts to increase consumer goods, Dulles said, means only "a trickle of further benefits." While many items in the current Soviet Seven-Year plan will be achieved, he sees no chance that the agricultural goals will be approached. But there is one thing we should keep in mind: the lag in the Soviet over-all economic program is due to the Kremlin's determination to subordinate everything to industrial and military production.

It would be well for Americans to remember that the ruthless dictatorship of the proletariat insists on, and inexorably practices, a subordination of living standards and creature comforts to the demands of military production. By way of contrast, we Americans complain of the burden of taxation to maintain even a reasonable posture of military defense, and insist on high living and a reckless live-it-up attitude toward everything.

If that attitude continues too long and becomes even more pronounced and intense, the bare-bones economy of the Soviet Union might indeed overtake us by 1970, and so far exceed her military potential that there would be no contest.

The luxury-loving, high-living Romans fell like ten-pins before the half-savage, hungry Goths.

We're Confused Enough Already

David Sarnoff, board chairman of the Radio Corporation of America, says man had reached such a state of scientific perfection that he could develop an electronic "dashboard" for home use that would register blood pressure, pulse rate and other health data and even sound the alarm when a doctor was needed.

There are no technical reasons standing in the way of such a device, General Sarnoff declared in a New York speech, when he was given an award by B'nai B'rith, the Jewish service organization.

We do not doubt the feasibility of General Sarnoff's claim, but we hope never to live to see the day when a "dashboard" of such surpassing sensitivity is put on the market.

What a nightmare a device of that kind would turn the average household into! Even the "thermometer complex" sometimes invades the healthiest and happiest home, and turns it into a place of nagging fear and constant uproar. The thermometer addict doesn't stop at taking her or his own temperature every time she or he feels a little fever or looks a little peaked; he insists on using it on everybody else at the slightest sign of discomfort.

Now if the thermometer is multiplied by five or six other instruments you can see what might happen. There would be no time left to perform the normal household chores. And we don't have enough doctors there's a shortage already, and in 10 or 20 years it will become a real national problem—we don't have enough doctors to answer all the calls broadcast by such a device as General Sarnoff envisions.

We do not deride a proper concern for one's physical wellbeing, or that of one's family, but hypochondria is as old as human nature and the more scientific we get the more the ailment spreads and takes hold.

A device to enable ordinary people to take their blood pressure (and eventually their heart count too—why not?) would give additional tens of millions of people an obsessive concern for their bodily machinery and its functions, and turn half our population into a self-diagnosing, self-doing and frightened people.

No thank you, General Sarnoff. We have enough problems as it is in this complex and fouled-up world of 1959, without opening any more vistas of confusion and terror.

William S. White Going On The Road Has Its Pitfalls

WASHINGTON — A sour note must be raised amid the chorus of happy hurrahs surrounding President Eisenhower's "goodwill" trip to 11 nations scattered around the globe.

No doubt the general response here has been "golly, that's swell!" Most of the outer world seems to approve, too—but most of the outer world is not really familiar with the intricacies of the American Presidency and the various limitations that go with its vast powers.

In plain fact, there are dangers in this extraordinary journey. More responsible people here than might be supposed are fully aware of it. They do not speak out for fear of being called pessimists or, maybe, "opposed to peace."

Though every American wants it to go off beautifully, the public is entitled to know the serious objections to this kind of breathless, jet-airliner diplomacy. They are several.

ON THE ROAD

1. The President is breaking with the spirit and practice of a century and three-quarters. This practice has been that the President, the heart and mind of the whole American government, is not wisely "put on the road." It has been felt that such perambulations would lessen the dignity of the office and thus decrease its unique influence.

All previous Presidents who have gone abroad have gone for specific, clearly definable reasons. Usually they have gone only either in wartime for Allied talks or in early postwar periods for urgent Allied peace conferences.

It is true that "the world has changed." But it does not automatically follow that the carefully reserved posture so long maintained for the office should now be cast aside for what is vaguely called "good will."

2. Once a President visits one country he will be under unbearable pressure to visit more and more countries. (Already, two stops have had to be added, in a single day's time, to Mr. Eisenhower's scheduled Spain and Tunisia.) It is quite as easy to promote goodwill as goodwill when country X is honored and country Y is snubbed.

TAXING PACE

A case can be made for Presidential visits to great powers, like those recently to Western Europe, for perfectly plan Allied objectives. It is not easy, however, to make any non-sentimental case for calls on little countries simply because they would like to be called on.

3. Any President's real—and irreplaceable—place is Washington. This is true under the Constitution and it is true as a practical matter. The shop simply will not run as well while the boss is away. If it would, there would be less reason to have a boss.

4. Such crowded itineraries as President Eisenhower's—11 countries in 19 days—are bound to be taxing. This, surely, is true of a President who, at 69, is happily in excellent health now but has twice been gravely ill in office. Moreover, it is hard to believe that in such a hurried journey a President can have time to reflect usefully on all the problems of his office plus the added problems posed in meeting so many foreign people so quickly.

TOUGH SPOT

5. Even though formal diplomatic "negotiations" will surely take place all the same. For example, foreign dispatches already show Mr. Eisenhower will be expected to mix himself into India's frontier troubles with Red China. One of the main reasons why our tradition has kept the office of the Presidency out of such matters is this:

A President calling on another head of state as his personal guest is unlikely, in human nature, to be able to take quite the nonsense line of two diplomats meeting strictly as professional negotiators. When you go to a man's home for the weekend he can make it far harder for you to say no to his proposals than would be the case if your agent met his agent in a business office and without social obligations on either side.

They Want The Answers

IRVINGTON, N. J. — Detectives in this area are taking course in hypnosis, interrogation, lie detection and amnesia-breaking.

Harry Arons, director of the Ethical Hypnosis Training Center, says he expects hypnotic techniques to be useful even though evidence obtained with them is not admissible in court.

Bombs Away

GRAFTON, Ill. — Carl Pittinger's squirrel hunting trip started out well enough.

He bagged two squirrels. Then he aimed at a third but this squirrel had a weapon handy. It dropped a hickory nut squarely in Pittinger's eye.

Pittinger, 40, was treated at a hospital for a minor eye injury.

Squeaks To Victory

ST. LOUIS — Marvin Terrace has won his battle to stay on the map.

A group of residents, bent on incorporating the tiny village, narrowly missed getting the signatures of three-fourths of its registered voters—required for a petition to disband the town.

Another group including many city officials, a month later gathered the signatures of more than one-fourth of the registered voters.

This settled the question, at least for the time being.

IN PLAIN ENGLISH

James Marlow Budget Not Exciting, But Important

WASHINGTON (AP)—Not even a national prize for fancy phrasing could make the word budget sound exciting. But it will be one of 1960's major sore spots and talking points.

Last month the Senate Republican Policy Committee predicted budget balancing would be the big issue in Congress next year and then later in the presidential campaign.

And because government economy, or lack of it, will hold such a high place in the national consciousness in 1960 you, who pay for the budget with your taxes, have practically no hope for a tax cut next year.

For Republicans, budget-balancing is both a rallying post and a tender point.

In the 1952 campaign President Eisenhower was pretty optimistic about reducing government spending. He hasn't always succeeded. In the last fiscal year the government went 12 1/2 billion dollars in the red, a peacetime record.

For that fiscal year—started July 1, 1958 and ended June 30, 1959—Eisenhower proposed spending 74 billion dollars. He was off on his estimate because the 1958 recession sent government income down and expenses up.

This year—for the 1960 fiscal year beginning July 1, 1959—the President asked for 77 billion but spending may hit over 79 billion. That does not necessarily mean a deficit, because government income has picked up.

No wonder that Eisenhower—remembering the deficits, his early hopes of cutting down spending, the need for economy in dealing with inflation—went after the Democrats like a man with a mallet.

He did more than just appeal to Congress for economy. He went on TV to get public support and pressure on Congress. He kept hanging away on the same theme all through the 1959 congressional session.

One effect of all this was to make the Democratic-run Congress so self-conscious about spending that it pretty much ate out of his hand. He can be expected to do no less next year, his last full White House year.

He has been subjected to criticism, of course, for not pumping more money into defense and other areas to keep abreast of the Soviets or to surpass them.

This year, since relations with the Soviet Union seem a little warmer and Premier Nikita Khrushchev is calling for world disarmament, Eisenhower has some added ammunition to use against those who believe he is not making the maximum effort.

It may be rather comforting to all sides in a dispute over government spending that they can't see 10 years into the future. It may take that long to prove who is right and who is short-sighted now.

Very possibly, since economy and government spending will be a presidential campaign issue, the Democrats may trot along beside Eisenhower in keeping down the budget.

But that won't prevent about six months of yipping and yapping on both sides during the congressional session.

Monday Eisenhower tentatively okayed part of the budget he will offer Congress in January — 41 billion dollars for the military forces—which was just about what he asked this year.

That might indicate he has in mind the same kind of total budget for next year: 77 billion.

Even if the politicians of both parties were stricken speechless in 1960 there would still be an awful budget rumper if only from the Army, Navy and Air Force, each of which always wants more money than Eisenhower says they need.

THIS DAY IN TEXAS

By CURTIS BISHOP

The citizens of Cincinnati, Ohio, who assemble on this day in 1833 contributed the money which sent "the twin sisters" to Texas.

They were the cannon which reached Gen. Sam Houston in time to be turned on the Mexicans at San Jacinto. They were manufactured in Ohio and shipped down the Mississippi River, thence to Texas.

In 1840 the historic guns were removed from Houston to Austin, where they were shot off in honor of Sam Houston's second inauguration. However, these are not the cannon gracing the entrance to the present state capital.

The "twin sisters" were turned over to the U. S. Army when Texas was annexed to the Union. They fired their last historic shot in February of 1847 when the Stars and Stripes were raised at Austin. The cannons were shipped to Louisiana along with other Texas public property and stored at Baton Rouge. Confederate authorities returned the "sisters" to Texas about 1862.

The guns were badly damaged, and their role in the Civil War is doubtful. So is their final fate. According to most accounts, the cannons were buried near Harrisburg in August, 1865, by five of Gen. J. B. Magruder's discharged soldiers.

Hal Boyle Let's Form A Committee

NEW YORK (AP) — One test of a successful man today is how many committees he can serve on without shortening his life.

We live in an age of togetherness, and our lives are largely ruled by committee-made decisions.

To have an active social life today, you almost have to serve on a committee dedicated to one cause or another. One's importance in the community often is indeed measured by the number of committees one serves on.

But committee work is a thing a fellow has to learn by personal experience whether he can take in stride or should leave strictly alone.

Serving on too many committees undoubtedly has killed by aggravation and overwork many men in their middle years who might otherwise have lived to a graceful and serene old age. They had become addicts. They didn't know how to handle it.

Haunting indeed are the sordid stories of those who tried to raise their social status by joining a committee, then found their lives ruined as one committee led to another, until finally there was no stopping.

Here is one man's story: "The neighborhood Assn. asked me to serve on a committee to improve the beach. I said yes. Then I joined a lodge and a church, and they both soon put me on committees.

"We were invited to a lot of parties, and it seemed like at each party they organized a new committee, and I was always asked to join, and I did. I joined a committee to get rid of covered bridges.

Annexation Webb Village Is Urged

The Chamber of Commerce board of directors Monday threw its weight behind a move to include Webb Village in the corporate limits.

The board adopted a resolution in support of this plan provided that it would not impose undue responsibilities upon the City of Big Spring. Webb Village is a small community and would continue to be federal property and hence not subject to normal municipal responsibilities. Jack Wallace said in presenting the matter. He was of the opinion that the move would involve neither the services and administration of Webb Village nor the city, but that it would enable to city to include the Webb Village population in the community in which they reside and trade.

A joint committee of Webb and City of Big Spring officials is exploring the matter.

Backing of the chamber in the downtown effort to save the United Fund from falling short of an increased campaign goal was also voted. The board urged all businessmen and other citizens to give unstinted support to the all-out effort to avoid penalizing the 12 agencies depending on the U.F.

On behalf of the chamber, President Clyde McMahon presented a number of awards to Ernest Hensling as airman of the month. He has been given a trip to the Carlsbad Caverns with hotel and meals courtesy of the Settles Hotel; a credit card from Cosden with 50 gallons of gasoline and an oil change already credited to the account; a night on the town with a car and chauffeur furnished by Tarbox-Gossett; a show at the R&R Theatre; a meal at the Desert Sands; a gift from Elmo Wasson's men's store; and a carriage for his date from Quigley's.

Several reports were heard, among them: A successful Air Force-Education Day at Webb last Friday; the Community Conference on Education sponsored by the chamber's education committee; the impending bi-district 9-man football championship game here Thursday between Gail and Forsan; the civic development committee's educational campaign on a suggested juvenile program. Guest speaker at the meeting was John McCadden of the United Fund staff.

Turning Out Appeals For Health

Letters which will go to several thousand residents of the Big Spring area asking for an investment in health are checked here by three members of the Cosden Petroleum staff. They are Tito Arce, Mrs. J. E. Smith and Danny Valdes. The letters will accompany sheets of Christmas seals, the traditional symbols of the fight against tuberculosis. Special impetus is being placed on this year's appeal, for the dreaded "white plague" is on the increase once more.

Jury Trial Is Demanded In Police Court Matter

A jury trial is scheduled for the Big Spring city court Wednesday morning, only the third such trial since 1953.

Albert Rodriguez and Helen Deandra are defendants in a breach of peace lawsuit. Sally Garcia is the complainant.

Attorney Carroll Smith will represent the defendants in City Judge Grover Cunningham's court. John Burgess, city attorney, will prosecute the case.

This misdemeanor charge carries a maximum fine of $200.

Burial Rites For Mrs. Miller

Graveside rites will be said at 2 p.m. Wednesday in the City Cemetery for Mrs. John Thomas Miller, 94, former long-time resident of Howard County.

Mrs. Miller died at 2 a.m. Monday in San Angelo after a long illness. Rites will be said at the Johnson Funeral Home in San Angelo at 10 a.m. with the Rev. Paul Terry, Trinity Methodist pastor, officiating.

Mrs. Miller was born Mary Florence Stevenson on March 19, 1865 in Caledonia, Miss., and was married Oct. 16, 1884 to J. T. Miller. They came to Howard County in 1908 and farmed in the Moore community until his death in 1933. She resided here until 1948 when she went to live with a daughter in San Angelo.

Surviving are three sons, O. L. Miller, San Angelo, H. M. Miller, Dallas, J. C. Miller, Ferman; a daughter, Mrs. Lillian Hart, San Angelo; a sister, Mrs. Eonia Andrews, Columbus, Miss.; seven grandchildren, including Mrs. R. B. Abernathy and Leonard Miller, Big Spring; 10 great-grandchildren, including Mrs. Walter Parks, Big Spring, and five great-great-grandchildren, including Richard, Thomas, Jerry and Robert Parks, Big Spring.

suits of a questionnaire returned by five of every six teachers in the system. From these, the committee pondered the need of more funds for in-service training, salary increases (possibly with a recommendation for merit increases), the alleviation of a seeming imbalance between classroom and specialized instructors or supervisors. Moral and democratic atmosphere of faculty generally were good, the committee reported.

No immediate recommendations came from the extra-curricular committee, but Arnold Marshall, chairman, said that there were notable weaknesses in some of the arts in secondary levels. There was some debate about the over-emphasis of some of the programs to the deprivation of others, and the committee might have specific recommendations in this field next week, he said. About 50 attended the meeting.

Shoplifters Are Foiled

Two Latin Americans were apprehended at Anthony's Wednesday afternoon and merchandise valued at $130 was taken from them by store employees.

The men fled before police officers arrived. Employees said the men had 18 pairs of trousers in a paper bag when stopped.

Mrs. Weldon Mears, 1218 Sycamore, reported the theft of a bicycle. Walter Channing reported two hub caps taken from his car while parked at 1006 W. 6th.

Welfare Officer To Make Report

Mary Cantrell, Howard County welfare officer, will be a guest at the meeting of the joint juvenile committee at 7:30 p.m. today in the Chamber of Commerce conference room. She will touch on the relationship of juvenile delinquency to welfare, child support and other costs.

Dies

Mrs. Hugh Roy Colles, who with her late husband gave away more than 150 million dollars for education and health work, died at her home in Houston, at the age of 74.

Water-Sewer Group Here

The Permian Basin Water and Sewer Authority will meet in Big Spring today at 6:30 p.m.

The association meets monthly in one of 12 member cities. The meeting today is the annual visit to Big Spring.

One of the city commissioners will welcome the members to the city following the dinner meeting in the central fire station. Members will move over to the city auditorium for the business session.

Houston Woman Beaten, Slain

HOUSTON (AP)—An attractive 45-year-old woman died Monday night after being beaten about the face and shot twice in the chest.

The body of Mrs. Wilma Selby, a grandmother, was found in her home by her husband, Joseph F. Selby Sr., 51.

Selby told detectives he found his wife on the floor outside her bedroom in their fashionable home.

He said he and his wife had eaten dinner at a private club and his wife drove home in her car and he followed in his automobile. Selby said he stopped for a cup of coffee and a pack of cigarettes.

When he arrived at his home he found his wife dead.

"I have no idea what could have happened," he told officers.

Mrs. Selby was fully dressed and her keys and a pair of gloves were found near the body.

Tax Assessor Gets More Room For Auto Activity

Applicants for car tags or persons seeking to change registration on their motor cars are now being served in the county tax assessor's new special automobile offices.

The old library wing of the Howard County Court House has been changed into a department to handle all automobile tax matters. The department has been moved out of the regular quarters of the tax assessor and established in the old library rooms.

Entrance is through the lobby at the north doorway to the courtroom.

Mrs. Viola Robinson, assessor-collector, requested that she be allotted the vacant space pointing out that more room was needed in her old offices.

New counters were installed and the deputies in charge of car tax matters moved into their new quarters on last Friday.

Flemming Reveals Cranberry Statistics On Contamination

WASHINGTON (AP)—Of the 3-1/3 million pounds of cranberries tested so far, 80,000 pounds have shown traces of a weed killer that causes cancer in rats.

Those statistics came from Secretary of Welfare Arthur S. Flemming Monday night. But at the same time he announced action had been started to seize 25 tainted cases of canned cranberries grown in Wisconsin and shipped to Nashville, Tenn.

"The great majority of the tests for the weed killer has shown no contamination," Flemming said. "This is encouraging, and a trend that I hope continues as the testing proceeds."

Flemming is meeting with cranberry industry leaders Wednesday. He said he is extremely hopeful the growers can come up with a plan to make it possible to segregate contaminated from uncontaminated berries on a large scale than is now possible through laboratory testing.

Already, he said, Ocean Spray Cranberries, Inc., has voluntarily withdrawn several million pounds of berries from the market to await analysis by government chemists. Ocean Spray is a cooperative of growers that handles 75 per cent of the nation's cranberry crop.

The Nashville shipment was the second batch of Wisconsin cranberries found to contain the weed killer, aminotriazole. Previously, the only tainted berries found were grown in Washington and Oregon.

Food and Drug Administration officials said the shipment of 600 pounds to Nashville was made by a Chicago wholesaler whom they didn't identify. Samples were tested at a government laboratory at Cincinnati and found to be contaminated.

The Illinois agriculture director, Sullman J. Stannard, has banned sale of cranberries in that state until further notice. He said most of the berries used in Illinois come from Wisconsin and he had been informed that 25 per cent of the Wisconsin crop had been exposed to aminotriazole.

The Massachusetts Department of Public Health reported Monday that cranberries from that state are free of contamination. Massachusetts grows nearly half of the total output.

Cranberry growers generally have denounced Flemming for starting the big cranberry scare. They contend that even if there is some aminotriazole present, it won't harm humans. Flemming has stood his ground, saying it was the kind of information his department couldn't sit on.

A number of congressmen, some of them Republicans from cranberry-growing districts, have criticized Flemming's actions. U.S. Rep. Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr. (D-Calif.) commended the secretary.

Speaking in Denver, Roosevelt said, "There are many of us in this country who do not condemn him but honor him for taking what action he did."

Flemming said as of last Monday FDA laboratories had tested 337 lots of cranberries, with 324 proved free of contamination. Four lots definitely were tainted, and the others are being rechecked.

Of the lots with a clean bill of health, Flemming said, 159 came from Massachusetts, 53 from Wisconsin, 44 from New Jersey and 27 from Washington. The origin of the other 41 lots has not been established.

Brucellosis Control Plan Hearing Is Slated Friday

The declaration of the county as a control area will be automatic and effective as of Jan. 20.

Assuming that the order issues, a team of state specialists will be in the county on that date to begin a county wide test of all registered cattle in the county, all dairy cattle and 20 per cent of all range cattle. There is no cost to the cattle owner for these tests. All he has to do is round up the stock to be tested and lend a hand in the operation.

Taylor said that there is no brucellosis in the county as far as is known. However, the disease is fairly prevalent in East Texas.

Under a control program, movement of cattle will be strictly regulated. Only stock with proper certification can be brought into the county or taken out of the county. Transfer of stock within the county from one section to another will require the same clearance. There are certain exceptions. Stock destined for immediate slaughter; cattle under 30 months of age which have been vaccinated; spayed heifers, and steers are exempted and require no certificates.

There are some other exceptions but in a general way, proclamation of the county a control area will regulate closely the flow of stock in and out of the county and within it as well.

Four Mishaps On Police Check List

Four minor accidents, one involving three vehicles, were reported in the city Monday.

C. Y. Clinkscales, 705 W. 18th, and James W. Shaw, Midland, ran together on E. 3rd, at Miller's Cafe, Georgia Rose, 1203 Pennsylvania, was in collision with B. J. Kilpatrick, 1401 Robin, in the 300 block of Scurry.

The three car collision occurred at 3rd and Goliad. It involved Stella Haley, 1005 Scurry, Thomas Standefur, 506 Birdwell, and John W. Codzow, 705 Douglas. Walter Bialock, 707 E. 15th, and Reta Earl Wilson, 104 Roberts, were in collision at 11th and Owens.

Marriage Formula

LONDON, Ky. (AP)—Richard Elam offers this formula for a long and happy marriage: "Be good to your wife and feed her good."

Elam, 92, has had considerable experience. He and his wife will celebrate their 72nd wedding anniversary Wednesday.

"Married life is what a body makes it," says Mrs. Elam, 90. The Elams have lived on the same farm near here for 69 years. They still are active in farming and gardening. Two of their six children are living.

Chunk Of Ice Falls Thru Roof

WHITTIER, Calif. (AP)—A piece of ice, believed to have fallen from an airplane, smashed through the roof of a house here Monday.

It left a hole the size of a football in the roof of Mrs. Floyd Berg's home and loosened plaster below. Five chunks of ice, each the size of a fist, were found melting in the attic.

Sheriff's officers, who estimated the chunk at 25 pounds, said ice frequently falls from planes when loosened by de-icing gear.

Legates Quit

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Foreign Office sources said today that Guillermo Jimenez and Antonio Aguilar Grimaldi have resigned as ambassadors to Chile and Ecuador.

Colorado City To Honor TESCO On Wednesday Night

COLORADO CITY—Rex Felker, manager of Colorado City's Chamber of Commerce, reported today that plans were nearing completion for the second in a series of "Appreciation Dinners," to honor local business and industry.

The dinner, to be held Wednesday night, will honor the Texas Electric Service Co., which operates the big Texas Electric generating plant five miles southwest of Colorado City and owns the two big man-made lakes in Mitchell County—Lake Colorado City and Champion Creek Lake.

The dinner, sponsored by local civic clubs, spearheaded by the Chamber of Commerce, will be held at Civic House at 7:30 p.m. Joe Bell, editor of the Colorado City Record, will speak. District Attorney Eldon Mahon will be master of ceremonies.

On Wednesday, the TESCO plant will hold open house, from 1 p.m. to 6 p.m., with the public invited to inspect the plant. School buses will take high school students from Westbrook, Colorado City and Lorraine to the plant shortly after lunch, and the groups will be conducted through the plant.

The 11-man Texas Electric board of directors will hold a meeting at the Baker Hotel Thursday morning, the first ever held away from Fort Worth. Directors include Charley Thompson of Colorado City, W. A. Bonnar, Beaman Fisher, J. P. King Jr., W. K. Stripling and J. B. Thomas, all of Fort Worth; J. L. Rhoades, Odessa; G. L. MacGregor, Dallas; and J. S. Bridwell, Wichita Falls.

Two Wildcats Are Paying Off In Big Spring Area

Two wildcat strikes were reported this morning, one in the Spraberry in northwest Howard County and the other in the Gloriaeta-Clear Fork in northwest Mitchell County.

Two projects in the area were pronounced dusters. Davison and Pembroke No. 2 Lee Brownfield is Welch field abandonment in Dawson County. Penrose No. 1 Hazelwood is a Grayburg failure in Martin County.

Bob Dean No. 1 Powell is the Mitchell County discovery, finding a pumping potential of 133.45 barrels of 25 gravity oil with 10 per cent water in the Gloriaeta and Clear Fork formations. This wildcat is 5 1/2 miles northwest of Westbrook and is a mile northeast of production in the Turner-Gregory pool.

Basin Oil Co. finished the No. 1 Cates as a Spraberry discovery with a daily pumping potential of 181 barrels of 28 gravity oil per day with 10 per cent water. This wildcat is two miles southeast of Ackerly in the extreme northwest corner of Howard County.

New Bracero Approach Urged

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—A farm spokesman says agriculture needs a whole new approach to labor problems, but he recommends continued use of imported Mexican labor until those problems are solved.

Fred Heringer, vice president of the California Farm Bureau Federation, told a legislative committee Monday that there isn't now a substitute for foreign labor.

The Senate fact finding committee on labor and welfare heard suggestions on the Mexican farm worker program, ranging from thorough overhaul to outright abolition.

Union Recognized

MEXICO CITY (AP)—The second big Mexican airline, Compania Mexicana de Aviacion, Monday recognized the Asen of Aviation Pilots as a collective bargaining unit.

Capt. Florence G. Riley, daughter of Mrs. Opal S. Riley, 607 W. 18th, has reported for duty in the 331st Fighter Interceptor Squadron, Webb Air Force Base, Big Spring, Tex., in the 33rd Air Defense Division.

Capt. Riley, a veteran of 11 years in the Air Force, served overseas in Germany for three years. She has been awarded three service medals and the Air Force Longevity Service Award ribbon with one Oak Leaf Cluster. She is the adjutant in the 331st FIS.

The 33rd Air Defense Division, of which the 331st is a subordinate unit, is responsible for the aerial defense of Texas, Oklahoma, Louisiana and Arkansas. Col. John T. Fitzwater is commander of the division, which has aircraft control and warning squadrons and fighter-interceptor planes located throughout the four states.

Army PFC Borden B. Dees, son of Mrs. Mildred Morgan, Route 1, Big Spring, recently participated with the 8th Infantry Division in Exercise Heaven Sent, a field training exercise in Germany.

The 8th Infantry Division, a major element of the NATO shield of defense in Europe, conducted the training, which included a mass parachute jump, to insure the combat readiness of the division. Dees' is assigned to Mortar Battery of the division's 505th Infantry in Mainz. He entered the Army in

Labor Rackets Punch Aimed By Government

WASHINGTON (AP)—A knock-out blow is being aimed at labor rackets by all three branches of the federal government — executive, judicial and legislative.

Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell said the new labor law passed by Congress and administered by his department already is beginning to rid unions of corrupt elements. He said it also is giving union members a full voice in running their organizations.

Court-appointed monitors today charted a speedy new cleanup drive of the big scandal-ridden Teamsters Union.

The Supreme Court refused Monday to set aside lower court decisions arming the monitors with sweeping reform enforcement powers. Teamsters President James R. Hoffa said the union, though disappointed at the ruling, will "live up to the court's decision." But he said it still may challenge individual reform orders.

Martin F. O'Donoghue, monitor chairman, said his watchdog group now will move on a variety of fronts, including charges that could result in removal of Hoffa as president.

"We can move very fast now because the last legal roadblock is out of the way," O'Donoghue said before a strategy meeting with his two fellow monitor board members.

Mitchell, reporting on the first two months of operation of the anticorruption provisions of the new labor law, said some union officials with criminal or Communist backgrounds already have quit union office. He said nearly 100 complaints are under active investigation and some will be turned over to the Justice Department for prosecution.

Mitchell disclosed that the president of an independent Passaic, N.J., local quit during a Labor Department investigation into whether the official was continuing to serve despite a new ban against criminals or Communists holding union office.

Mitchell did not identify the individual. The secretary said a number of Teamsters officials have similarly been ousted.

"Reports from around the country indicate," Mitchell said, "that rank-and-file members of unions which have been mismanaged in the past are pleased with the results of the new law."

Mitchell said eight local unions which had been under trusteeship of their national unions have been returned to local control.

German, British Leaders Begin Talks

LONDON (AP)—British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan and West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer today began three days of talks aimed at ending a year of bickering between their countries.

Both leaders expressed confidence the meeting will lead to an era of harmonious British-German relations.

"Germany is our joint partner and ally," Macmillan said Monday night at a London banquet. "Our aim is the widest and most fruitful association of European countries."

Adenauer said last month he was optimistic that the talks would bring the two nations "into full unity and harmony."

The visit brought a mixed reaction from the British press, frequently critical of Adenauer. The empire-minded Daily Express urged British leaders to treat the West German leader warily. It criticized both West German economic and rearmament policies.

The London Times, however, said Adenauer "can count on good will and a genuine desire for understanding."

Topics expected to dominate the conference—in addition to British-German relations—are the proposed summit meeting with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev and possible trade rivalry in Europe between the British-led group known as the "Outer Seven" and the six-nation Common Market that includes West Germany.

Relations between the British and West German governments reached a postwar low early this year.

British newspapers, and officials privately charged Adenauer with being stubbornly inflexible and trying to block Macmillan's efforts to improve relations between the West and the Soviet Union. There was also talk that Adenauer and French President Charles de Gaulle were ganging up on Britain in an effort to reduce her influence on the European continent.

Officials in Bonn were highly critical of the British, accusing Macmillan of going soft toward the Soviets and being willing to abandon West Berlin and the long-standing Allied aim of German reunification. Adenauer even publicly accused British officials of inspiring an anti-German campaign in the British press.

Adenauer now has received assurances from Macmillan that Britain will continue to support the Allied position in West Berlin and will oppose any idea of "disengaging" Western and Communist forces in Western Europe.

Soldiers Buy Girl A Horse

UMATILLA, Ore. (AP)—Men of the 2nd Battalion of the 2nd Armored Cavalry Division, stationed in Germany, read that Susie's Captain was dead, shot in the side with a double-barreled shotgun as he grazed in a pasture.

The gentle stallion, whose sturdy legs took the 10-year-old crippled girl to school and out to play, was gone and a child was terribly lost. Why was her friend dead?

The men didn't know why either — but all of them knew the solution.

Susie's mother, Laverne Hams, got this telegram at the Hams' modest eastern Oregon home: "The officers and men have read of the tragic loss of your Susie's Captain. If acceptable, we desire to replace Captain with another horse. Please advise soonest. Regards, Capt. Theodore Cohen."

Mrs. Hams said Susie had received "Oh, so many letters, some of them containing money with which to buy another horse."

She said a little Minneapolis, Minn., girl, Candy Crabtree, wanted to give her horse.

Mrs. Hams said she thought and thought — and prayed for the right thing to do.

Then she wired Capt. Cohen: "Your gift would be wonderful and gladly accepted. Thank you."

LETTER TO EDITOR Takes Exception To Letter Criticizing Retiring Judge

To the Editor: I was humiliated, but not surprised, at the letter of W. N. Blansit in the Herald Sunday, Nov. 15, so critical, and in my opinion, unfair to Judge Charles Sullivan in regard to the now famous decision of the school integration case which came up in Judge Sullivan's court here. The Supreme Court of Texas sustained Judge Sullivan in a final verdict of the court, which is strong evidence that Judge Sullivan was right.

It took courage to take the position which Judge Sullivan pursued in this case, but courage, firmness, fairness and ability always have characterized the official actions of Judge Sullivan. He may have made some mistakes, but in my opinion, the case referred to above was not one of them.

When Mr. Blansit criticizes the Supreme Court of the United States as "screwballs, dictators, ignoramuses and abominable," this is strong language for anyone to use. He assumes to know the constitutionality of the law as interpreted by the Supreme Court, which is assuming and presuming a great deal—too much, of course.

His statements in the letter to the Herald Nov. 15 and in others he has written about the Supreme Court decision reminds me of the village school master in Goldsmith's Deserted Village. Goldsmith says of him that "still the wonder grew that one small head could carry all he knew."

Yours truly,
J. B. Pickle

Tatums Rites For City Man

Funeral services for Ellis Hollins, 40-year-old Big Spring Negro, killed early Monday in a car accident east of Stanton, will be in Tatums, Texas. His body is being sent from River Funeral Home here to the People's Funeral Home in Longview. Services in Tatums are pending.

Hollins died when his car plowed under the rear of a big cattle truck early Monday morning.

He was born April 24, 1919, in Gilmer. He had made his home in Big Spring for 10 years. He was a civilian employe at Webb Air Force Base. The Hollins lived at 701 Wyoming.

Survivors include his wife, Onita, one daughter, Helen Marie Hollins, Tatums; two step-daughters, Frances and Billy Sherman and one step-son, Joe Sherman, all of Big Spring; three sisters, Mrs. Irma L. Kindle, and Mrs. Georgia Nolly, Dallas, and Mrs. Annie B. Wilkes, Longview. There is one brother, Robert Hollins, Houston.

Sleep Masks Aid To Good Education

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The class of basic essentials of foreign languages at the University of San Francisco came to order and everybody put on slumber masks, but not to go to sleep.

"The masks allow a student to give all his attention to the drill," said the Rev. P. Carlo Rossi, S.J.

Father Rossi conceived the idea on a plane trip when he was handed a mask so he could sleep during daylight. It only set him to thinking. "I found that all distraction was gone. I was able to concentrate."

FRIENDLY FOLK

Vienna And Austria Bidding For Tourist Dollar Payoff

By HOUSTON HARTE PARIS—Vienna and Austria appear to be on the verge of getting a real slice of the tourist dollar in the near future. Austria needs more hotels and a lot of motels. Tourist travel is certain to go to the motor car in the years to come. You see very little from the trains, good as some of them are, and nothing from the air. Airline fares are much higher in Europe than in the U. S. European governments own the airlines. It is like lowering taxes for the government to lower airline fares, especially with 30 per cent of the traffic American.

The Austrians are among the most friendly people in Europe. They have had nothing but trouble and it has softened them. They are not trying to conquer the world and seem happy to win back some of the nation's old prosperity and to get to enjoy their beautiful country. No matter where you go or what simple transaction you make in a store or shop in Vienna the clerk, the waiter, the cashier and the proprietor, if he or she is around, always thank you and as you depart says: "Auf wie der-sehen!" (Till we meet again). And they say it like they mean it. You have wanting to meet the people in the store, the whole Austrian nation, again.

TRAFFIC IS PROBLEM Traffic is just beginning to be the No. 1 problem of the European cities, just as it is with us. These medieval 12 to 30 foot streets, the lack of any off-street parking anywhere, has caused the municipalities to permit all-day parking up and down these little streets until there is literally no place for pedestrians and cars and buses on the same street.

Vienna is fortunate in the utilization of the ground once occupied by the ancient city wall, its moat and the access areas behind the wall. In the 1860s Emperor Franz Joseph ordered the wall torn down, the moat filled with debris from the wall and a wide boulevard created from this space. Named Ringstrasse, the boulevard formed a ring around the old city area which provides a wide sidewalk, with a row of trees at the curb, a two-lane outside ring highway going to the right, a 30-foot parkway with two lines of trees and two lines of streetcar tracks going each way around the ring, then another 30-foot parkway and another two-lane highway for inside traffic or opposite direction traffic. The street is approximately 200 feet wide and the ring is about five miles in circumference.

It makes Vienna an easy city to get around in, for if you miss your street you can drive on around the Ring and in a few minutes get your correct street. The main intersection with the Ringstrasse is at the Opera corner where Kartnarstrasse crosses the Ring between the Opera and the Bristol Hotel. Underneath this intersection the city has created an underground shopping center. Six double escalators carry the traffic down under the street and up on the other side.

CURBS FENCED OFF The curbs are fenced off so pedestrians must use the escalators. There are probably 40 to 50 shops underground. This traffic provides the top locations for a cafe in the center of the intersection, a barber shop operating 14 to 18 hours a day and dozens of tourist-attracting gift shops. Traffic is not controlled in European cities by lights but by men on stands.

PARIS TRAFFIC WORSE Traffic in Paris is worse than New York or Los Angeles, if such a thing is possible. The number of motor cars in France appears to have been multiplied by five in the last seven years. The congestion

Saudi Arabian King Wants U.N. Force To Leave Gulf

Editor's Note — Saudi Arabia admits reporters from outside only on rare occasions. Wilton Wynn, Associated Press correspondent in Cairo, recently was allowed to visit the Arabian kingdom. This is one of his dispatches, delayed in transmission.

By WILTON WYNN RIYADH, Saudi Arabia (AP) — King Saud wants the United Nations Expeditionary Force withdrawn from the Aqaba Gulf area and the restoration of the Arab ban on Israeli shipping in the gulf. The King's political counselor, Jammal Hussein, made this statement on behalf of the Saudi Arabian monarch to three American correspondents in the royal palace. The newsmen had sent the King a set of questions. After discussing them with Hussein, he authorized his counselor to reply in his name.

Saudi "opinion of United States, Arab policy in general is a very good one. The question of the existence and support of Israel is the only source of misunderstanding between the Arab-Muslim world and the United States," Hussein said. But Hussein said President Eisenhower promised Saud in 1957 that no aggressor in the 1956 Suez war would be allowed to annex any territory, and "we are still waiting and urging that this promise be fulfilled."

Houston Ship Fire Suits Are Filed

HOUSTON (AP)—A law firm Monday filed four federal court suits totaling $125,000 for seamen allegedly injured in the explosion and fire aboard the Amoco Virginia Nov. 8. Eight men died as a result of the fire and explosion and 25 were hurt. The firm of Mandel & Wright filed the suits in behalf of Joseph Daley, Seattle, an ordinary seaman; John M. McCabe, Baltimore, a wiper; Nick Cambourakis, Houston, a wiper and Leonard C. Crisp, Hampton, Va., an oiler. Daley asks $100,000 in damages, McCabe and Cambourakis each ask $10,000, and Crisp asks $5,000. The complaint was filed with the U.S. District Court. It said the men were crewmen on the Amoco Virginia when "through the negligence of the defendant, and/or because of the unseaworthiness of the SS Amoco Virginia, the plaintiffs were injured." The petition said as the result of the injuries, the plaintiffs have been so disabled that their earning capacities have been and will in the future be materially diminished and impaired.

ican correspondents in the royal palace. The newsmen had sent the King a set of questions. After discussing them with Hussein, he authorized his counselor to reply in his name.

"Until now United Nations forces are still in Sharm el Sheikh to ensure the free passage of Israeli shipping in the Gulf of Aqaba," he continued. He said the King feels that the U.N. force should withdraw from Sharm el Sheikh and has written Eisenhower several times officially and privately to this effect, although not lately. The Gulf of Aqaba is Israel's only exit to the Red Sea. Because the United Arab Republic bars Israeli shipping from the Suez Canal, it is also Israel's only direct water route to her markets in East Africa and the Far East. Prior to Israel's Sinai campaign in 1956 and the arrival of the U.N. force along the gulf, U.A.R. guns on the west bank and Saudi Arabian positions on the east prevented Israeli shipping from using the Aqaba waterway. The King, his aide continued, regards Israel and Zionism as a cancer in the body of the Arab world, and "there is no medical treatment except its removal." But he is not advocating the use of force to destroy Israel.

Ex-Resident Wins Prize With Stock

Nathan J. Allen Jr., who ranches north of Clayton, N. M., won the grand championship on a group pen of 20 head of Hereford heifer calves at the Dalhart Feeder and Stocker sale recently. He and his wife were presented with a silver tray. Foy Proctor, Midland, who was one of the judges, bought this fine bunch of calves. Recently Ira Parker of Tucuman, N. M., bought eight head of registered bulls from Allen. The grazing conditions are tops in northeastern N. M. at this time, said Allen, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Nate Allen, Big Spring.

Revolt On The TV Range Is A-Brewin'

Editor's Note — There's an uprising among riders of the TV range. Warner Bros. pasture. The actors say they're overworked and underpaid. The studio counters it made them what they are today and they should be grateful. Bob Thomas discusses this unusual situation in two columns. This is the first.

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The whole town's talking about the Burbank mutiny.

Never have so many actors been so unhappy as in the Warner Bros. TV productions.

Wayde Preston (Colt 45) has walked off the lot and gone into the airplane business, complaining that his contract was "an equitable as a lynching party."

Edd Byrnes (77 Sunset Strip) refused to report for work until he got a raise. He gets $400 weekly, says he takes home only $284.

James Garner (Maverick) and Clint Walker (Cheyenne) are bitter about their contracts. Says Garner: "I feel like a slab of meat hanging there; every once in a while they cut off a piece."

Peter Brown (Lawman) is trying to get a new contract.

Will Hutchins (Sugarfoot) says he feels like a "peon actor."

Jack Kelly (Maverick) is not mulling revolt but feels he is working "in an area of servitude."

Ty Hardin (Bronco), who once threatened a walkout, now appears content. So are Elyse Zinn and Roger Smith, the sleuths of "77 Sunset Strip," and John Russell (Lawman).

Of course, it's not unusual for actors to complain; it's chronic with their craft. Nor is Warner

Bros. an unfamiliar battle ground. But there has never been such a mass uprising as among the cowpokes of the TV range. The situation even reached the point of an official complaint from the Screen Actors Guild. A hasty meeting of Guild and studio officials reached an agreement to rectify certain working conditions.

The actors claimed they were due money in six figures for alleged contract violations, mostly involving overtime.

But the settlement hasn't stopped the beefs. The battle is an old one, between the studio which feels it created stars from nothing and the stars who feel they are misused. It is aggravated because of the immense volume of work required for TV, plus the fact that the new medium creates stars so fast.

The studio's official reply to the restless actors comes from William T. Orr, television executive producer and himself once an actor.

"Warner Bros. contracts have made it possible for many players to develop from complete unknowns in a brief time. These contracts, signed in good faith by both parties, have opened the door to opportunity and advancement," Orr said.

Tomorrow we'll hear from the actors.

Littlefield Negroes Set School Meeting

LITTLEFIELD (AP) — Littlefield Negroes will meet tonight to decide whether to request construction of an elementary school in their area.

A group of Negroes last week asked for the school so their children wouldn't have to cross railroad tracks to get to an integrated school and to provide a center for community activities. Another group of Negroes opposed the proposed school.

Both groups emphasized they are not asking for re-establishment of a segregated school. Littlefield schools have been integrated several years.

Bus Accident

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP)—A school bus with failing brakes turned over today near Baker, on the northern outskirts here, injuring more than 60 parochial school pupils.

THRIFTY ELECTRIC COOKING

When you cook electrically, you'll appreciate the many economy features of your electric range. Electric surface cooking units put heat into utensils by direct metal-to-metal contact for best cooking efficiency and least heat loss. The fully insulated electric oven keeps heat where it belongs, inside the oven and out of the kitchen. And, once the oven reaches the temperature you select, the oven heating elements operate less than half of the cooking time.

In addition, an electric range provides you accurate heat control that assures uniformly excellent results. And, with clean electric heat, your kitchen stays bright and new-looking with a minimum of cleaning and redecorating expense. See your electric range dealer soon.

Thrifty electric cooking is a feature of all Live Better Electrically Medallion Homes.
