And Christmas Is Still A Month Away!

Arlinda Alexander, 311 West 4th, loaded down with gaily wrapped Christmas packages, was one of a small army of similarly laden shoppers on the streets Saturday. The sight of buyers with arms filled with obvious Yuletide gifts is becoming common on the streets. Merchants are both pleased and amazed at the early-buying interest being displayed. Miss Alexander explained her activities by the logical explanation that Christmas is much nearer than most realize and that it's easier to buy now before the grand rush begins. And there's the added thrifty argument, too — the selection now is complete and hasn't been "picked over" as it will be later on.

Cactus Jack Garner Readies 91st Birthday

By DAVE CHEAVENS
 UVALDE (AP) — Former Vice President John Nance Garner at 91 Sunday takes another steady step toward the century mark with birthday honors from hometown friends.
 Cactus Jack's hair is only a shade whiter and wispier than a year ago when a crowd of Texans and national figures, including Harry Truman, helped him observe his 90th birthday.
 Garner sat at his desk in the little white house on Park Street on the eve of his birthday, proudly exhibiting a letter from President Eisenhower. It was a "thank you" for a gallon of Uvalde County honey sent him by Garner.
 "I'm prouder still that Mamie also wrote me," he chuckled.
 Garner asserts officially he will be satisfied if he lives to be 92 so he can say he spent half his life in public service.
 "Well, do you think you will make it to a hundred?" he was asked.
 "Cap," he replied, "I just don't know for sure when I'm going to cross the creek. I'm taking care of myself and I hope so."

 Garner's bristly white eyebrows are still the dominant feature of his craggy face. He shows age, but not much more than a year ago when he could have passed for a man 20 years younger.
 Not since October a year ago has he taken a drink or smoked a cigar. Giving up these lifelong habits, eating less, getting more sleep and taking certain pills when needed are concessions to medical advice.
 "I was always my own doctor and I sure had an idiot for a patient," he quipped.
 "Am I looking forward to my birthday party?" You know damn well I am," he said.
 Rancher Dolph Briscoe who ramrodded the big birthday party for Garner a year ago and his committee have set up a quieter affair this year.
 Briscoe will present Garner with a framed Associated Press Picture taken last year at the celebration. It includes Garner, Truman, Speaker Sam Rayburn and Sen. Lyndon Johnson in a laughing, informal pose. It is one of Garner's favorites.
 The birthday cake is a pastry replica of the log cabin where Garner was born in Red River County.
 Another gift will be a transcript of everything said at Garner's last birthday party, made by A. R. Sams, Uvalde court reporter. And if Garner wants it, the committee will show movies of the big blowout held on his 90th birthday.

 Garner's son, Tully, of Uvalde, and two great-grandsons, John Garner Currie, 15, and Tully Robert Currie, 12, will be on hand.
 Until a few years ago, Garner celebrated his birthday whenever, possible with a deer hunt but advancing years forced him to rack up his rifles for good. Now he is interested in what luck his great-grandsons have in their hunting in this rugged southwestern section of Texas.
 Garner's once-crusty front has softened a great deal in recent years. At his party last year, he said, "I love everybody." He repeats this now.
 "It is my religion," he says. "I am not much of a churchman, but my religion is the religion of love."
 Joining with Briscoe in arranging the birthday party were Harry Hornby, publisher of the Uvalde Leader-News; Bill Kessler, Tully Garner; Ross Brumfield, his old hunting companion; Eric Bredcroft; Bob Wellborn; Tom Purdum; and Pete Knowles.

Reviewing The Big Spring Week

This will be the crucial week for the United Fund. Thanks to some great efforts by leaders and workers, the goal has been 92 per cent pledged now. One big Cleanup Day is slated this week, and if everyone will pitch in to work or give, we can come close to the goal.
 Thanksgiving rolls around Thursday, and after that the bars will be down on the Christmas shopping season. Decorations will go up on the streets this week; merchants will be dressing up and stocking heavily for what promises to be a record Yuletide. For best selections, you'd better shop early.
 Martin County got credit in the statistics, but Big Spring lost a citizen when Ellis Hollins, 40, an employee at Webb AFB, collided with the rear of a cattle truck 5 miles east of Stanton last Monday. He was killed instantly.
 We had better luck when 2nd Lt. Clarence H. Lindsey ran into trouble with his T-33, which stalled out at about 15,000 feet 30 miles north of here. He battled it until the craft had slipped to 7,000 feet, then ejected himself and parachuted to safety. It's always cause for rejoicing when the pilots walk away from one of these crashes.

UF Pushes Closer To Coveted Goal

A week of hard campaigning Saturday had halved a 20 per cent deficit on the United Fund.
 There were no late audited figures, but unofficial reports put the total raise and pledges so far at something over $80,000.
 The goal for 12 agencies depending upon the United Fund for support is $96,000. To whatever degree the campaign might fall short of that point, the agencies will have to trim their budgets accordingly.
 Some, if not all of them are operating on such close margins that this would be crippling, said Horace Garrett, fund chairman.
 There are still cards out in several of the divisions, said Garrett, and Monday an effort will be made to either get a final report on them or have new cards made in their place.
 Campaign headquarters will remain open all week in the Robbins Building, and workers are urged to report there as promptly as possible.
 Raymond River, UF president, and D. M. McKinney are mapping plans for a United Fund Cleanup Day—a whirlwind effort to reach

CASTRO TACTICS

Cuban Interference Perils Phone Co.

By HAROLD K. MILKS
 HAVANA (AP) — This is the story of what happened to one American-controlled company here worth 125 million dollars under "intervention" management—of Prime Minister Fidel Castro's government. Some U.S. experts say it's a typical situation.
 On March 4, a group of young revolutionaries backed by heavily armed troops marched into the 10-story building of the Cuban Telephone Co., of which the American International Telephone & Telegraph Co. owns 65 per cent. The delegation leader was Rigoberto Lastres, a former installation department employee who told the U.S. vice president in charge of operations, I. W. Gleason, the government was "intervening" in the company from 30 to 45 days ago and Lastres was boss.

 Now, nearly eight months later, the young revolutionaries still hold complete control of the firm.
 Gleason's four U.S. assistants have been sent home, the company's cash reserves have been exhausted, dividends to Cuban and U.S. stockholders have been skipped, the company owes 25 1/2 million dollars in loans—7 1/2 million to the Import-Export Bank, and the government directorate is seeking a 15-million-dollar loan locally to meet operating expenses.
 A government spokesman said one reason for the intervention was that under ex-President Fulgencio Batista the company had obtained rate hikes which were "robbing the people."
 One of the first acts of the government was to reduce telephone rates to the level of those existing in 1909, when the company started business.
 At the same time, local experts on the subject said, the intervenor and his associates, backed by the Castro-controlled Union of Telephone Company Employees, began packing the firm with unneeded workers.
 When the government took over, it kept Gleason at his 10th floor desk, isolated from all direct authority. Some of his associates suggest he was retained because he is the one man with board of director authority to sign checks and notes for loans.

Youth Problems Will Be Aired

AUSTIN (AP)—Problems confronting youth and their solutions will be aired here Dec. 5 at a statewide workshop meeting preceding the 1960 White House conference on children and youth.
 Gov. Price Daniel called the conference Saturday and said he hoped recommendations will be made for putting the plans to work on the local level.
 "The fact-finding and recommendations . . . are only the beginning. Our main goal is translating these into action on the community level," Daniel said.
 Mrs. Horton Smith of Austin, president of the Texas League of Women Voters, is chairman of the meeting.

U.S., Russia Sign New Cultural Exchange Pact

MOSCOW (AP) — The United States and the Soviet Union Saturday signed a new and broader cultural exchange agreement. It calls for cooperation in peaceful use of atomic energy and radio-TV appearances by government leaders, artists, and other public figures.
 Both sides said the original pact signed in 1958 had worked out well and expressed the hope the new one will improve relations between the two world powers. The new pact is for two years.
 The years 1960 and 1961 will see possibly thousands of Americans and Russians exchanging visits in the fields of art, agriculture, education, industry, science, and sports.
 Frederick Merrill, who headed a State Department team negotiating the agreement, said he regarded as one of the most important sections providing for cooperation in the peaceful uses of atomic energy.
 Merrill told a news conference Nov. 20 that the agreement was signed by Chairman John A. McCone of the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission and V. S. Emelyanov, his Soviet counterpart, will be incorporated as part of the agreement.
 McCone and Emelyanov, now visiting in Washington, proposed that the two countries swap teams of scientists to study peaceful uses of the atom in each other's laboratories. They also proposed to explore the possibilities of joint atomic projects.
 Chairman Georgi Zhukov of the Soviet State Committee for Cultural Relations, said he considers important the agreement on exchanges in the fields of radio and TV. Both countries agree to participate in getting exchange programs for the following:
 1. At least two radio broadcasts of 10-20 minutes each a month.
 2. One documentary or entertainment film for a 30-minute telecast each month, plus two newsreel films of 37 minutes each.
 3. Personal appearances over and TV by government leaders, artists, and other public figures.
 Other provisions of the pact encourage an increase in tourists, and provide for an exchange of specialists in industry, transportation, construction, trade, agriculture, medicine and education.

Singer Faces Morals Charge

DETROIT, Mich. (AP)—Singer Johnnie Ray, 32, Saturday was ordered to stand trial Dec. 1 on a morals charge of accosting and soliciting a policeman.
 Ray was released under $500 bond after he pleaded innocent at his arraignment in Detroit Recorder's Criminal Court. He had been held overnight in jail.
 The singer paid a $25 fine when he pleaded guilty in the same court to the same charge June 4, 1951. In each instance a policeman accused him of making an indecent proposal.
 "I can only say that the whole thing is a complete misunderstanding," Ray told newsmen after his plea had been entered by one of his two attorneys.
 Ray was arrested as he left a downtown Detroit showbar, the Brass Rail, which features a striptease show along with its drinks.
 Plainclothes Patrolman Eugene Caviston, 28, is the complainant against Ray.
 "I was sitting at the bar signing autographs when this man came up and asked me to autograph his handkerchief, which I did," Ray said. "Then we talked and had some drinks."
 "All of us were going over to the Statler (Hotel) for a night-cap, and I asked him if he wanted to join us guys. The fellow said he did, and walked out with us."
 Caviston said he presented his handkerchief for an autograph, when Ray asked if he'd like one. Then the policeman said they struck up a casual conversation in which he identified himself as a traveling salesman.
 Shortly after, Caviston said, Ray made his proposition and followed him and two other plainclothes vice squad officers outside, where the arrest was made.

AF Misses Catch When Satellite Falls

VANDENBERG AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP) — The Air Force failed Saturday in a speeded-up attempt to snatch the Discoverer VIII satellite capsule from the air.
 Hope of recovering the 300-pound capsule now rests with an air-sea search of the Pacific Ocean southeast of Hawaii.
 The Air Force said indications were that the capsule was ejected from the orbiting satellite about 4:30 p.m. (EST), some 26 hours after the space vehicle was launched from this West Coast missile base.
 This was the fifth attempt to recover, from a Discoverer satellite, a capsule that had been in orbit around the earth. The four previous attempts failed.
 The original plan was to eject the capsule from the satellite by means of a signal from a station in Alaska, on the vehicle's 17th orbit around the earth.
 However, Discoverer VIII went into such an eccentric orbit that the capsule ejection attempt was made on the 15th pass around the earth.
 The Air Force had two satellite recovery ships patrolling the area in which the recovery was to have been attempted. Search planes also were in the area.
 Eight C119 planes were to have attempted to recover the capsule in the air, as it descended by parachute.
 These planes carried special trapeze apparatus, suspended below, with which they would hook the parachute and reel the capsule aboard.
 The capsule is 27 inches long and 28 inches in diameter. It contains equipment for advanced engineering research, which scientists are eager to recover.
 The capsule has enough buoyancy to float in the water, and has radio equipment designed to transmit signals for up to 10 hours after the package is in the water.

Mexican Battle Of Cotton 'Won'

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Alberto Salinas Ramos, manager of the Federation of Farm Organizations, said Saturday Mexico appears to have won the battle of cotton. He said only 200,000 bales remain on hand from the last crop. It had been feared Mexico would have difficulty disposing of its cotton this year at prices not ruinous to growers. The government cut export duties and also helped in bartering off part of the cotton.
 This support seemed designed to rob the Soviet Union of a procedural argument when the Assembly's 21-nation Steering Committee meets Monday to take up the matter.
 The likelihood of a procedural debate had been raised by something a leading member of the delegation said.

Rockets Could Brighten Ike Trip

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — Uncle Sam is prepared to celebrate the holiday season by attempting to propel a trio of "wrapped in America" packages into outer space. The first could be a "turkey shoot" at the moon on Thanksgiving Day.
 Also on schedule are a mid-December attempt to orbit the sun and an earth satellite about Christmas-time.
 The first two, if successful would coincide nicely with President Eisenhower's forthcoming 11-nation goodwill trip. The moon shot is set for a few days before he leaves, the sun orbit during the trip.
 During Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's recent visit to the United States, he backed in the limelight of the Lunik III rocket that heralded his arrival.
 That rocket hit the moon. Since then, Lunik III, in a wide orbit about the earth and moon, has transmitted the first pictures of the moon's hidden face.
 If all goes well, the United States will be the first to put a satellite into orbit about the moon.
 The most favorable time for the lunar launch is a four-day period starting Thanksgiving Day. If the rocket doesn't get off in that time, the shot will be postponed at least a month.
 It is estimated the Atlas-Able will cover the approximately 225,000 miles to the moon in 62 hours.
 The 375-pound satellite contains a television scanning device to photograph the moon's surface. U.S. scientists hope it will send back more detailed pictures than

Hungary Debate Request By U.S. Stirs Russian Ire

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — An American request for a U.N. debate on Hungary Saturday prompted a Soviet charge that the United States was trying to "aggravate the international atmosphere" and undermine cooperation in ending the cold-war fashion.
 The U.S. request that the General Assembly discuss that question supported a similar and earlier bid from Sir Leslie Munro of New Zealand. U.N. special representative on Hungary.
 This support seemed designed to rob the Soviet Union of a procedural argument when the Assembly's 21-nation Steering Committee meets Monday to take up the matter.
 The likelihood of a procedural debate had been raised by something a leading member of the delegation said.
 Soviet Delegate Arkady A. Sobolev told a newsmen Friday his delegation would object because Munro had no legal authority to ask the Assembly to put anything on its agenda.
 Munro has argued privately that he has that right because he is a subsidiary organ of the Assembly, and subsidiary organs do. But Sobolev said Munro was nothing of the sort.
 The U. S. move was made in a letter from Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge to U. N. Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold dated Friday and published Saturday.
 The Assembly named Munro last year to report on "significant developments" having to do with the carrying out of its past resolutions on Hungary.
 These resolutions call for the withdrawal of the Soviet forces that put down the 1956 Hungarian uprising and for the restoration of independence and human rights in Hungary.

BY SECRET BALLOT

Bar Association Vote On Judge Appointee Planned

Members of the Howard County Bar will vote by secret ballot on the men they feel best qualified to serve as district judge of the 118th District Court.
 This was decided at a luncheon of the bar on Saturday at the Waggon Wheel.
 Gil Jones, prominently mentioned as an applicant for the post until he publicly withdrew from the lists last week, told the lawyers:
 "I believe that this bar should exercise its influence as individual lawyers in connection with the selection of Judge Daniel may make of a successor to Judge Charlie Sullivan as judge of the district court.
 "I feel it is a responsibility of a lawyer to so express himself in a matter concerning a judicial office and I do not think the bar should shirk its responsibility.
 "I have talked to a large number of Big Spring and Howard County citizens and they feel that it would be beneficial if this bar would voice its view on the man best fitted for this important post."
 He made a motion that all attorneys of the bar, including those from Martin County, who desire to be considered as available for the post advise Carroll Smith, bar president, not later than tomorrow afternoon. When these have been listed, a ballot will be prepared bearing the names of those who have declared themselves as aplicants, and this ballot mailed to all attorneys in the district.

 The lawyers are to vote their choice (or write in other names) and return the ballots to Jack Little, secretary of the bar, who will poll the vote. The ballot may be returned by Dec. 2.
 The bar president will then advise Governor Daniel, and each of the three senators whose territory is included in the 118th Judicial District of the results. The outcome of the vote with the individual number of votes each potential choice receives will be submitted to the senators and the governor.
 Jones went on to say that similar action was taken by the Ector County bar when a judge was to be selected for a court in Odessa. He said the outcome of the vote would be a "confidential" matter and given only to the governor and the senators.
 Any attorney of the local bar who wishes to be considered as a possible choice is urged to advise Smith of the fact at once.
 Judge Sullivan, who has served 10 years as judge of the 118th District Court, has notified the governor he wants to retire effective Jan. 1. The governor will appoint a successor to serve from Jan. 1 through the general elections in the fall of 1960.
 The bar association has approximately 25 members. All but two are residents of Big Spring. The successor to Judge Sullivan will be chosen from the bar.
 Earlier at the luncheon, the bar voted that resolutions of appreciation and respect to Judge Sullivan be prepared. The resolutions will express the regret of the bar at the decision the judge has made to step down from the bench.
 A committee composed of Wayne Basden, Wayne Burns and R. H. Weaver was named to nominate a slate of officers for the bar association. The committee is to report at the December meeting of the bar and an election will be held at that time.

Need Appointment To See Capital

By GARTH JONES
AUSTIN (AP)—If you want to see the sparkling new skyscrapers your tax dollars are building on the state Capitol grounds here you had better make an appointment. The state says it can not afford to open the towering pink granite containers of governmental operations to the public except during work hours. The eight-story courts building, the 11-story state office building, and the six-story Texas Employment Commission building are locked tight on nights, Saturday afternoons, Sundays, and holidays. Any weekend, bewildered tourists can be seen trying to get a flat-nosed glimpse of the much-discussed, ornate Supreme Court chamber through the barred doors of inch-thick glass. They can only wonder what happens on the other side of the bright orange curtains barely seen over the granite balconies of the Supreme Court justices' chambers. The gaping corridors of the 71-year-old Capitol building are available for inspection at any time, but not the Senate and House chambers, the governor's reception room or other offices. "I drive 200 miles to see state government in action and all I can do is feed the squirrels on the lawn," said one recent weekend tourist. Some visitors are thrilled by the sudden emergence at dusk of a cloud of bats from the corners and crevices of the corridors and the dome. The official lockout works both ways. Some officials and employees who prefer or think it necessary to work early in the morning or at night are unhappy by the 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. curfew. "I'm sorely tempted," said a locked-out Supreme Court Justice, looking at a fist-sized hunk of concrete near the courts building's glass doors. "I could have had half a day's work done while I've been waiting out in the cold for the little man with the key." Supreme Court justices don't have keys either. In the new buildings, officials and employees who want to work at night must sign a name out to register giving a reason for their nocturnal labor. "Nobody's business what I'm doing in my office," protested a sedate judge. "We have to know who is in the buildings at night," said Frank Allen, state buildings manager. "Suppose there was a fire or an explosion. We need to know if there is anyone we should try to get out." At last count there were 4,360 state employees in Austin with 10,000 expected by 1960. However, only 32 employees have been spared to guard the Capitol and the new courts and office buildings. The TEC hires its own night-watchman.

Rig Accident Breaks Legs Of San Angelo Man

Within 10 minutes after Gene Terhune, 29, San Angelo, employe of the R&R Tester Co., Snyder, had walked on the derrick floor of the McNamara No. 1 Edna Wade Friday night, he was on his way to Big Spring with two broken legs. The young tester, called by the operators to the well to determine its potential, was in Malone-Hogan Hospital Saturday. His condition was satisfactory. Both legs are broken below the knee. Terhune said that a drill collar fell from a catwalk and smashed across his legs. He said that he had just arrived at the well and was preparing to begin testing. He was brought to Big Spring by one of the drilling rig crew in a private car. River Ambulance had been dispatched to the scene but missed the car in which Terhune was riding. The accident occurred about 9:55 p.m. Friday. The well is located near Moss Creek Lake. It is a wildcat test and has been coring and testing for production for two days. Saturday it prepared to drill deeper.

Texas Insurance Plan Awards Safe Drivers

By ED OVERHOLSER
AUSTIN (AP)—A revolutionary insurance plan of rewarding safe drivers and cracking down hard on careless ones becomes effective Jan. 1. No other state has anything quite like it, except California. Your motoring sins of the past will come back to haunt you when the time comes to renew your auto coverage. Did you run a stop sign while hurrying to get to the next red light? Or swap fenders unintentionally with another vehicle? Besides the repair bill and fines, if you've been caught with a moving traffic violation since 1957 your auto insurance costs will climb next year. The premiums may double if you've made too many mistakes. When renewing your policy, you will have to fill out an application listing the accidents and traffic violations for yourself and members of your family who drive the car. You must sign a statement acknowledging that a material, willful misstatement of fact may void coverage and subject you to the penalties of fraud.

PROBLEMS LISTED
Several problems are created by the program. H. C. Smith, DPS manager of license issuances and driver records, estimates that only about 75 be up to the motorist to be reported to the DPS. The big cities invariably make accurate reports while in rural areas the reports are spasmodic. The result penalizes the big city motorist more than his country cousin. And it's easier to smash a fender or run a red light in a city than a village. If the motorist bangs a bumper in Shreveport, La. or Lawton, Okla., the DPS will never learn about it. The department receives only accident and conviction reports occurring in Texas. It will be up to the motorist to "remember" the violation and absorb the penalty. When a Dallas motorist finds out, for example, that two $10 speeding tickets will ultimately cost him $66 indirectly in higher insurance premiums the automatic guilty pleas will be a thing of the past. Appeals are expected throughout the state and the volume may snarl the judicial procedure.

POINT SYSTEM
A "point system" is used to calculate the differentials between what a motorist now pays for coverage and what his renewal will be. With no points or accidents the premium is 80 per cent of the rate otherwise applicable. With one point, the rate remains as is. With two points it becomes 120 per cent of the current policy and increases by 20 per cent until reaching 300 per cent with 6 or more points. Two points are assigned for accident resulting in property damage over $25, in bodily injury or death. Three types of violations call for four points; driving while intoxicated or under influence of drugs; failure to stop, render aid or disclose identity when involved in an accident; and negligent homicide while driving under the influence; or aggravated assault arising out of the operation of the vehicle.

He said investigators could never confirm persistent reports that the couple sold marijuana to Garland students.

A Pat on the Back

H. V. CROCKER

Put a beard on H. V. (Burr) Crocker, and you'd have Santa in the flesh. For nearly three decades now he's been instrumental in getting tens of thousands of toys in the hands of poor kiddies on Christmas Day. In between Yuletides, he's busy doing many things for many folks who need help. For instance, what is left after Christmas from the Firemen's Cheer Fund (which the Herald sponsors every year) is spent for medicines, special foods, etc. for people who can't be served by any other agency. Then works all year long, too, with Bo Bowen to administer the Milk & Ice fund to save the day for many sick and indigent people. Anything else that comes along that needs a friend somehow finds Burr Crocker responsive. As fire chief of the City of Big Spring, he has always taken a leading role in seeing that the Firemen's Sunday School Class keeps going. Now, with George O'Brien as teacher, there is a class at the central fire station and at Birdwell and Eleventh Place each Sunday morning. H. V. Crocker came to Big Spring from Lufkin in 1929 when only the late Bob Fields was on the force. The two operated a 750-gallon pumper and a 1928 Chevrolet pickup with two 30-gallon tanks on it. With spare time, he and Fields started in 1931 at the depth of the depression, repairing toys for poor kids. People responded with cast off playthings, and Shine Phillips gave a big supply of toys damaged by fire. The thing has grown every year, particularly since the war. Now firemen lay in a big store of spare parts for repairs and have grown so proficient and specialized that they have one man who does nothing but paint in the fancy stripes. How big this Christmas good turn has become is illustrated by last year's volume. Merchants appraised the wonderland of wagons, bikes, tricycles, dolls, buggies, games, trains, etc. and estimated they had a retail value of $35,000. As always, these are turned over to the Salvation Army for distribution to parents who need help to bring a Merry Christmas to their children. No wonder Burr has a good feeling when he settles down with Mrs. Crocker and the children, H. V. Jr., Malinda, Johnny, and Anne (Mrs. Bill Miller) when she is home from Columbia, Mo.

Stamps In The News

Britain's Prince Philip, Duke of Edinburgh, will be featured on a new stamp by Ghana to honor his scheduled 5-day visit at the end of November.

The 3-pace stamp in magenta and black will show Ghana's coat of arms and a profile portrait of the Prince. The design was selected in an international contest.

In last week's column it was erroneously stated that the 4-cent Ephraim McDowell "Famous American" stamp would be placed on sale Dec. 3, 1960. The issuance date, of course, is this year, 1959.

Two important new catalogs are now on the philatelic market. Minkus Publications has released its new World Wide Postage Stamp Catalog, 1960 edition, Volume III, Europe and Colonies.

Tabulated are all the nations of Europe except Great Britain (which appears in the 1960 edition of Volumes I and II). In the 1,200 pages more than 80,000 entries and 25,000 illustrations appear. Over 27,000 price changes are noted, mostly upward. It sells for $7.95.

Volume I of the 1960 Scott Catalog contains United States, United Nations, British Commonwealth and Latin America. The book has 947 pages and sells for $5. Noted are 16,165 price changes and 900 new stamp listings.

Finland honors the 100th anniversary of the birth of Eino Oihonen Kallio, pioneer of Finnish women's physical education by issuing a new stamp commemorating "Finnish Women's Gymnastic Activities."

The value will be 30 markkaa.

Surinam, the new dominion within the Dutch Commonwealth, has issued a colorful set of four stamps to honor the inauguration of the modern new general post office in Paramaribo, its capital.

Each stamp features the map of South America with Surinam outlined plus examples of local art work.

A new commemorative stamp has been issued by Brazil to honor Wing Week. The 3.50-cruzeiros blue stamp depicts a symbol of winged flight against a sky background including an early model airplane and a present day aircraft.

Also reported from Brazil is the issuance of a 6.50-cruzeiros green adhesive in honor of "World Championship of Snipes."

San Marino has issued an 8-value commemorative stamp marking the International Philatelic Exhibition "Sicilia 59." The exhibit honored the centenary of Sicily's postage stamps.

10 Men Score Certificates In First Aid

Ten men have been qualified as American Red Cross instructors, six of them for the first time.

The 15-hour course of instructor, conducted by H. H. Gilliam, Brownwood, first aid and water safety representative of the ARC was completed Thursday evening in the police classroom.

The 10 men are authorized to conduct classes in junior, standard and advanced first aid within the jurisdiction of the Howard-Glasscock counties chapter. A pre-requisite for the instructors certificate is 30 hours of instruction in standard and advanced courses, which means that the instructors have had a minimum of 45 hours training in first aid.

This is the first instructors course offered here since 1950. Obtaining their original certificates were Fred Beckham, Hollis E. Grifford, Paul F. Soldan and Dwayne Williams, all of Cosden, Lester W. Goswick, State Highway Department, and Phil J. Hines, Webb AFB. Renewals went to Clarence W. Humnicut, Webb AFB; Curtis J. Lamb, Continental Oil; William M. Romans, Forsan High School; and Leslie Snow, T&P Railway Company.

Soon after the first of the year, instructors and chapter first aid officials are planning an organizing an instructors mobile unit.

Phenix City's Clean But Fear Of Vice Backsliding Grows

By DAVID SWIT PHENIX CITY, Ala. (AP) — Is the reformed Sin City ogling its bawdy past?

That's the big question now in Phenix City.

Stores and offices have replaced honkytonks where jukeboxes once blared and B-girls beckoned.

Five years ago the word was "anything goes" for the hordes of soldiers, who descended on the town for wide open weekends of booze and betting.

Like the wildest mining camp of gold rush days, Phenix City had gambling, strippers, gaudy entertainers—name it, and you could have it. Prostitutes operated from trucks directed to customers by two-way radio.

After the slaying of a crusading attorney who had pledged to clean up vice, a reform wave swept through town. The National Guard took over on orders of the governor. Later a clean-up city administration was elected.

Since then a new boys club and a Catholic youth center, hundreds of new businesses have sprung up.

Liquor sales by the glass are banned; new taxes are raising funds for civic projects. But the reform faction recently was voted out of power. The future of Phenix City has become a matter of speculation.

Townpeople in general, from minister to ex-gambler, say the city will never again tolerate organized vice and is cleaner than the average community of the same size. The city's population is now 27,000—up 15 per cent since reform.

However, some citizens worried over the election of Dr. W. B. (Billy) Mims as a city commissioner, over former Mayor Leonard Coulter.

Coulter, a furniture dealer, blames his defeat partly on his anti-liquor stand.

Mims concedes he had unsolicited support from former vice lords, but he says "They were voting more against the reform candidate than for me."

UNCLE NO LINK Mims, 37, an obstetrician whose uncle resigned as mayor when the cleanup started five years ago, adds: "People connect me with the past because of my uncle, but he's no closer to me than any other uncle. I hope I can prove we're going to stay clean."

The ruling city commission now consists of Mims, John W. Barbee, last of the reform faction commissioners, and Mayor Jim Putnam, the first anti-reform candidate elected to the commission.

Explaining the election outcome, observers say people seem to feel as long as there is no organized crime there is no need to worry about who is in office.

The lid was clamped on Phenix City after the gunshot killing June 18, 1954, of Albert L. Patterson, 60-year-old crippled lawyer. He had just been nominated for state attorney general—tantamount to election in this Democratic state—on his anti-vice campaign.

Today at Ft. Benning, across the Chattahoochee River in Georgia, the provost marshal, Lt. Col. H. J. Michau, says the base's 30,000 soldiers "consider Phenix City a dead town."

Ed Seymour, clerk of the county commission and a reform faction supporter, says: "We're not a reform government now, but we can't shake the reform tag. Reform means a group of dictators saying you can't drink, or gamble or anything else you want as an individual."

"We don't care what they do as individuals. We only want to stamp out organized crime."

PHENIX CITY IS PROUD OF ITS ACCOMPLISHMENTS during the past five years. Nearly 1,200 new homes have been built since the cleanup. Builder J. C. Jarrelson, who estimates he's constructed about half of those homes, says: "It is the result of people getting

5 In Family Die In Fire

BAY SHORE, N.Y. (AP)—Five members of a family were burned to death today when a flash fire swept their two-story home in Suffolk County community on Long Island.

The only survivor was William Mayo, 25, who discovered the blaze on the first floor at about 3 a. m.

Dead were Mayo's wife, Barbara, 23, their two children, Corinne, 15, and William Jr., 3 months; a niece, Catherine Fiske, 11, and Mrs. Mayo's mother, Catherine White, 59.

After discovering the fire, Mayo said, he awakened the others. With the flames mounting the stairway, Mayo ran to a window and jumped to the ground. He called to his family to come to the roof and jump into his arms.

As the women and children got to the roof, it started to collapse and they went inside. The roof then caved in, trapping the occupants.

Doctor's Dream Led To Midland Skyline

MIDLAND, Tex. (AP)—About 80 years ago, Dr. John R. Thomas proposed to build a six-story "skyscraper" which would be the wonder of West Texas.

"They told me around the bank I was just plain crazy," the 81-year-old retired doctor chuckled.

"They told me I not only would lose my money but would damage the value of other rental properties as well."

"For a while I wasn't sure but what they were right."

Nowadays, an incredible and improbable skyline towers over these broad West Texas plains which once knew only the silhouette of the windmill, the ranch house and the mesquite.

Midland's Wilco Building of brick, steel and glass pierces 22 floors into the sky as the tallest such structure between Fort Worth and the West Coast.

Fourteen other buildings of six floors or more—six are at least 10 floors—form a backdrop for this skyline.

Midland's more than 10,000 office workers ride to their jobs in a total of 47 elevators or on one of the city's half dozen motor stairs.

ONLY 60,000 And all of this is in a city which had only an official 21,000 residents in 1950 and today cautiously claims no more than 60,000 population, pending the results of next year's federal census.

Its 1,315,000 square feet of office space—another 185,000 square feet are under construction—make it Texas' fifth largest city in this respect. The buildings house the offices of many of the more than 700 oil companies and affiliated concerns headquartered here.

So it is no wonder that the Chamber of Commerce urbanely describes this oasis of office buildings as "magnificent Midland."

Dr. Thomas built his building and today it is the Leggett, the granddaddy of Midland office buildings, which make the city the administrative headquarters of the vast Permian Basin empire.

Want A Genuine English Butler?

LONDON (AP)—Frederick Maunsell, 61, a former Royal Navy officer, has left Britain to find a position with an American family looking for a "genuine English butler."

Maunsell said he has two reasons for going: "I've had experience as a butler, and I've always wanted to see the United States." His wife and daughter hope to find jobs as a cook and mother's helper, respectively.

of West Texas and southeast New Mexico.

A year or so later, the late T. S. Hogan came up with an even bolder scheme.

He has an unshakable faith in Midland's future and he translated that faith into plans for a 12-story building.

LONG TIME EMPTY The building became a reality three decades ago but for a few years it stood practically empty when the discovery of oil in East Texas dampened Midland's then budding oil industry.

But the petroleum building was ready and waiting when oil men came back and it served as the principal lure to major companies and independent operators for a place from which they could operate.

Today the petroleum building houses the Midland area headquarters of the Shell Oil Co. Across the street is the 12-story Petroleum Life building, and a block distant the beautiful nine-story Midland Tower.

The last decade has witnessed a frenzy of activity in construction circles as one office building after another has kept Midland's skyline changing constantly.

And a man named Jack B. Wilkinson, son of a pioneer West Texas ranching family, had the biggest impact on this skyline.

Wilkinson plunged into the building business, almost on a dare. At a country club party one night, he jokingly told a friend—an oil company official who desperately was looking for office space—that he'd just built him a building.

GET STARTED The next morning, the friend came around and told him to get started.

So the six-story Wilkinson-Foster building came into being, and so did Wilkinson's career as a builder.

He next came up with the 14-story V and J Tower and, before it was completed, he was selling leases to space in his 22-story Wilco building, then on the drawing boards.

Again, they thought Wilkinson was crazy to tackle such a project, but he only chides himself for "not thinking big enough."

Since the completion of the Wilco building in 1957, enough additional office space has been constructed to have sent that building on up to 82 floors.

As the construction tempo picked up—more than 110 million dollars in new construction has been undertaken in the last three years, alone—additional office buildings rose from the ground. The Midland National Bank occupies a 10-story home and the First National Bank recently moved into its magnificent new eight-story $3,000,000 building.

Oil men Joseph I. O'Neill and Joseph W. McSpadden, who had bought a corner lot in downtown Midland as an investment, built the new 14-story Midland Savings and Loan Building, occupied only a few months ago.

The Humble Oil and Refining Co. recently added another three floors to give it a handsome six-story headquarters building.

A four-story addition to the Pan-American Oil Corp. building now is nearing completion, and work has been started by Wilkinson on a three-story building for the Texas Electric Service Co. The Honolulu Oil Co. is enlarging its downtown office building.

Also nearing completion is the new 15-story Gulf building, being erected by R. E. Dumas Milner of Jackson.

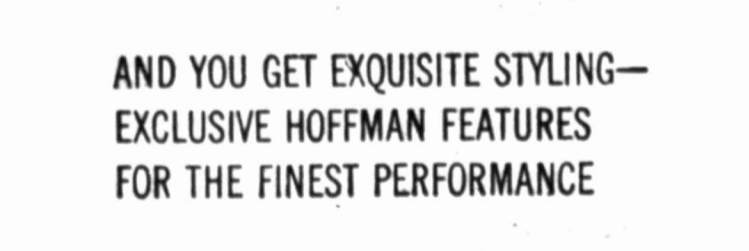

And, even with all this construction, Midland's skyline will continue to change during 1960 with construction scheduled to begin on a proposed 15-story oil center building by mid-summer.

JOHANNESBURG (AP)— Detective Jan A. Kotze did a double take on a culprit whose handprint showed six fingers. Sure enough, the suspect had an extra finger and as he was convicted of bootlegging, police headquarters racked up the handprint in its curio display. "You'd have thought," said Kotze, "the guy would have become a pickpocket."

Change In Climate Brings Snake Season

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—A resident of suburban Dellview was startled one morning to find a large nonpoisonous rat-eating snake curled up in his carport.

Three hunters who went on a weekend to cleanup their hunting lease in Wilson County before the deer season opened spent almost as much time killing big, sleek rattlesnakes.

In one day they killed 60 rattlers. They fired two boxes of shotgun shells and finished off the slaughter with sticks.

Startling? Not at all, says Fred Stark, director of the San Antonio zoo, it just proves again the tendency of nature to balance itself. Texas, and especially that part of South Texas around San Antonio, has had an influx of hucky rattlers.

A year ago farmers reported the great increase in mice and rats were a menace to cotton and other field crops. Some hunters reported fields so filled with rats the grass itself appeared to shimmy.

Rodents provide 90 per cent of the diet of snakes, so says Stark, it is not surprising that as rats and mice multiplied so did snakes.

The snakes became so abundant that one rancher in Wilson County provided his cowhands with special snake sticks—a long metal rod with a hoe-like end. The cowhands carry the sticks on their saddles as they once carried carbines.

Another rancher pays a bounty on each snake head turned in. Near Uvalde the snakes were so thick they clogged a threshing machine with their bodies this summer.

Stark warned people to be wary around piles of rubbish, lumber, brush and trash, and around clumps of cactus and old logs. They are favorite snake hideouts.

U.S. Chamber Thinks Rising Prosperity Aims At New High

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rising prosperity throughout 1960, to a record rate close to $25 billion dollars by the year-end, was forecast Saturday by the United States Chamber of Commerce. Rapid gains in the next several months as the economy rebounds from the steel strike will be followed by slower progress next fall, said the Chamber's research director, Emerson P. Schmidt. Schmidt summarized and amplified reports from six major sectors of industry, delivered at the Chamber's annual business outlook conference. The business experts predicted: "Statistically speaking, another recession could start next October. The steel strike is likely to postpone the date of the next downturn, possibly to sometime in 1961." Some deflationary forces will be at work next year, Schmidt said to moderate recovery from the 118-day steel shutdown. He named lower net farm income, a 5 to 10 per cent decline in housing starts, slower expansion of consumer credit, and a continued oil on federal spending.

Martin County Grand Jury To Meet Monday

STANTON — Martin County grand jury has been notified to meet Monday to consider the murder case filed against Johnnie L. Mackey, 23-year-old Lubbock Negro, Oct. 28. Gil Jones, district attorney, said that the Mackey case and possibly the case of a man held in the Martin County jail on a forgery charge, and unable to post bond, will be the only matters to be taken before the grand jury at this special called meeting. There are several other matters pending, he said, including the felony case filed last week against L. E. Tipton, Flower Grove school English teacher. However, Jones pointed out that he and Judge Charlie Sullivan of the 118th District Court feel that handling the murder charge and possibly the forgery case will better serve the court's ends at this time than to take up all pending felony charges. Mackey has been in jail since the night that Vernon Lee Jennings, 23, Waxahachie, was shot to death in the cotton pickers quarters on the Jim Brown farm near Leonard. Mackey has made a statement to the officers admitting that he shot Jennings to death with a shotgun as climax to a quarrel over the affections of a woman. Mackey left the scene of the shooting and drove to Big Spring, where he surrendered to local officers. He said he thought that Big Spring was the county seat of Martin County.

Jack Hackney Plans To Get Back On Beat

Jack Hackney, city police officer, shot in the knee last Sunday morning by a Latin-American he was questioning, said Saturday he plans to go back to work on Monday. A 22 bullet, allegedly fired by Jack Hackney, 34, struck Hackney dead-center in the kneecap. The officer said that his injury is re-sponding to treatment and that he will not have a stiff leg as a result of the wound. "Folks sure have been nice to me and my family this week," said Hackney. "It makes a man feel real good to know there are so many nice people in his town and county." Meantime, Mendez, charged with assault with intent to murder and also with robbery by assault, is held in the Howard County jail, bond of $5,000 in each of the cases has been set but the defendant has not been able to raise the bond. Hackney was shot as he broke up a difficulty back of a building on the north side of town early on the morning of Nov. 15. The man he was questioning, a man who fled, firing with a .22 pistol as he ran. One of the shots struck the police officer in the knee.

FOUND: KEY TO PRESS BOX; YOURS MEBBE?

It may be a clue but officers are puzzled how to make it fit into the picture. Harvey Fryar, Howard County farmer, discovered Saturday morning that prowlers had been around his barn. While he didn't find anything missing, there was plenty of indication that someone had been meddling in the building. Searching the area, Fryar came across a key beside the barn door. A small brass key, rather well worn, to which was attached a small circular disk. On this disk was inscribed, "To Press Box." Fryar turned the key into the sheriff's office. It was not known Saturday what "press box" it unlocked nor who had lost it. The owner, of course, is invited to come by and get his key. He may be asked to explain how it got where Fryar found it, though.

THE WEEK

(Continued From Page One) day evening, and the Steers finally caught fire in the fourth quarter of the game against Permian at Odessa. They had gotten too far behind to catch up, but they provided the brightest moment of a long season with their terrific rally. And while on the subject of football, the loss of coins Saturday favored Ames as the representative of its district (Snyder and Sweetwater were tied). We're mighty happy over this since both Snyder and Sweetwater have not only represented the district since Lamesa but have also played Breckenridge (the bi-district opposition this season). Those Tornados are getting tougher as time goes on and they just could make it mighty interesting for the Buckaroos.

Berserk Youth Kills 3 Friends

TROY, Mo. (AP)—A young St. Louis laborer, brooding because his girl friend had broken off their romance, drove to a farm home Friday and shot to death three friends, officers said today. Authorities said the three victims apparently had nothing to do with the broken romance. "All we can discern at the present time is that he went berserk," said Deputy Sheriff Jack Stewart. Charged with murder in each of the slayings is Alfred Officer (Pat) Corradi, 18, who led officers to the scene of the slayings. A cousin took Corradi to public in Jennings, a St. Louis suburb, after Corradi told him of the killings. The dead were Leroy Albert Kappel, 25, employee of a St. Louis manufacturer; his wife, Mary Sue, 18, and her sister, Rosetta Willis, 17, of East Prairie, Mo. They were slain in the small farm home the Kappels were remodeling about 60 miles northwest of St. Louis. Mrs. Kappel was shot 16 times, her sister four times, and Kappel twice, Stewart said. Officers said five guns, three rifles and two pistols, were found in Corradi's car parked outside the home. Apparently only the pistols were used, officers said.

Jack Hackney Plans To Get Back On Beat

Jack Hackney, city police officer, shot in the knee last Sunday morning by a Latin-American he was questioning, said Saturday he plans to go back to work on Monday. A 22 bullet, allegedly fired by Jack Hackney, 34, struck Hackney dead-center in the kneecap. The officer said that his injury is re-sponding to treatment and that he will not have a stiff leg as a result of the wound. "Folks sure have been nice to me and my family this week," said Hackney. "It makes a man feel real good to know there are so many nice people in his town and county." Meantime, Mendez, charged with assault with intent to murder and also with robbery by assault, is held in the Howard County jail, bond of $5,000 in each of the cases has been set but the defendant has not been able to raise the bond. Hackney was shot as he broke up a difficulty back of a building on the north side of town early on the morning of Nov. 15. The man he was questioning, a man who fled, firing with a .22 pistol as he ran. One of the shots struck the police officer in the knee.

U.S. Chamber Thinks Rising Prosperity Aims At New High

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rising prosperity throughout 1960, to a record rate close to $25 billion dollars by the year-end, was forecast Saturday by the United States Chamber of Commerce. Rapid gains in the next several months as the economy rebounds from the steel strike will be followed by slower progress next fall, said the Chamber's research director, Emerson P. Schmidt. Schmidt summarized and amplified reports from six major sectors of industry, delivered at the Chamber's annual business outlook conference. The business experts predicted: "Statistically speaking, another recession could start next October. The steel strike is likely to postpone the date of the next downturn, possibly to sometime in 1961." Some deflationary forces will be at work next year, Schmidt said to moderate recovery from the 118-day steel shutdown. He named lower net farm income, a 5 to 10 per cent decline in housing starts, slower expansion of consumer credit, and a continued oil on federal spending.

Martin County Grand Jury To Meet Monday

STANTON — Martin County grand jury has been notified to meet Monday to consider the murder case filed against Johnnie L. Mackey, 23-year-old Lubbock Negro, Oct. 28. Gil Jones, district attorney, said that the Mackey case and possibly the case of a man held in the Martin County jail on a forgery charge, and unable to post bond, will be the only matters to be taken before the grand jury at this special called meeting. There are several other matters pending, he said, including the felony case filed last week against L. E. Tipton, Flower Grove school English teacher. However, Jones pointed out that he and Judge Charlie Sullivan of the 118th District Court feel that handling the murder charge and possibly the forgery case will better serve the court's ends at this time than to take up all pending felony charges. Mackey has been in jail since the night that Vernon Lee Jennings, 23, Waxahachie, was shot to death in the cotton pickers quarters on the Jim Brown farm near Leonard. Mackey has made a statement to the officers admitting that he shot Jennings to death with a shotgun as climax to a quarrel over the affections of a woman. Mackey left the scene of the shooting and drove to Big Spring, where he surrendered to local officers. He said he thought that Big Spring was the county seat of Martin County.

Legislators Pack For Special Session

By GARTH JONES AUSTIN (AP)—Texas legislators began packing their bags this week for another trip to Austin, probably in January. The bags might get unpacked, but the odds for another special legislative session grow stronger daily. The definite word may come Thanksgiving Day. State senators and representatives are mulling over letters from Gov. Price Daniel, wanting to know how they feel toward a special session. Daniel said he mailed the questionnaire because he wanted "to know in advance whether there is a reasonable probability of success in a 30-day special session, especially on the public school and teacher salary program." The last technical block to a January session was cleared this week when Daniel called special elections Jan. 9 to fill one vacancy in the Senate and two in the House. Atty. Gen. Will Wilson had warned Daniel that the three vacancies should be filled before any special session is called. Wilson noted that technicalities required a call of the special elections before Thanksgiving if a special session is to convene early in January. Wilson also noted that "filling the vacancies is especially desirable of no taxation without representation." V. W. Miller, president of the Texas State Teachers Assn., has a date to talk with Daniel early in the week. Miller said Friday he would ask Daniel to call a special session to consider teacher pay raises, then go on to San Antonio to report to the annual TSTA convention meeting there Thanksgiving Day. The TSTA has staged an extensive campaign for a special session on teacher's pay raise and other school improvements. However, Miller said the powerful teachers' organization would not make a specific recommendation to Daniel and the Legislature on methods of financing the $405 a year pay raises. C. B. Smith, president of the Texas Automobile Dealers Assn., protested today the proposed levy of an additional one cent state

Parcel Post Rates Up Feb. 1

WASHINGTON (AP)—Parcel post rates won't go up until Feb. 1, well after the Christmas mailing rush is over. Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield announced Saturday the effective date for the increased rates that will average 17.1 per cent and net about 88 million dollars a year. The Interstate Commerce Commission had approved the increase Friday. Summerfield asked for the increase a year ago, reporting an annual 88-million-dollar rate boost was needed to cover the costs of handling parcel post.

Soviet Union Grants U.S. Kin Permission To Leave

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Soviet Union has granted permission to four Russians to join relatives in the United States, Vice President Richard M. Nixon said Saturday. Nixon said his information had come from the State Department. At the same time, Nixon made public a letter from Soviet foreign minister Andrei Gromyko stating that consideration would be given to requests by other Russians who wish to be reunited with relatives here. "Their requests will be considered with proper attention as is always the case in consideration of such affairs," Gromyko said in a telegraphed letter to Nixon as made public by the vice president's office. Such "consideration" includes clearance by Soviet police. Nixon's office said the four already granted permission to leave the Soviet Union are: Karl Alstrauts, husband of Armlida Alstrauts, Rochester, N.Y.; Julianna Nicols, mother of Valentine Nicols Avotins, Chicago; Natali Yaris, wife of John Yaris, Hollywood, Fla.; and Anne-Reet Norm, daughter of Armlide Norm, Detroit. In a letter to Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev last Aug. 1, Nixon listed the names of more than 100 persons in the Soviet Union who wished to join their families here. The list was compiled by the State Department from its files. The list included the names of the four now granted permission to leave the Soviet Union. A spokesman for Nixon said he assumed the four would take up permanent residence in the United States. The spokesman also said the names of 11 U.S. airmen who the United States says were shot down in the Soviet Union near the Turkish border in September 1958 were not on the list of 100 names. There has been no word from the Soviet Union as to the fate of the airmen.

Accountant Faces Murder Charge In Death Of Wife

HOUSTON (AP)—Police filed a second complaint Saturday night charging a dignified accountant with murder in the slaying of his wife. They said graying Joseph F. Selby, 51, accused earlier of conspiring to have her killed, has signed a statement confirming details of a $2,800 death plot barred by Mrs. Lillie Ree Tillman, 23, Houston Negro. Selby, described as the executive type by friends, found the body of his wife, Mrs. Wilma Selby, 48, at their home in Houston's fashionable Afton Oaks district Monday night. Police Capt. Weldon Waycott said Selby told questioners that after Mrs. Tillman failed to carry out an agreement to find someone to kill Mrs. Selby, he paid another Negro woman $750 to hire a killer. Selby said he understood the slayer was brought here from Cuba, Waycott related. Police did not disclose immediately whether they have identified the slayer or the woman who engaged him. FORMAL CHARGE Waycott and Dist. Atty. Dan Walton formally charged Selby earlier with conspiring to murder his wife after taking a sworn statement from Mrs. Tillman. She said Selby paid her $2,800 to have someone kill his wife. Mrs. Tillman denied any knowledge of the slaying. She said she obtained the $2,800 with no intention of carrying out her end of the conspiracy. Her statement said: "In April of this year, Selby came to my apartment and said he had no had anything to do with his wife for five years and he was tired of her and wanted to get rid of her. I asked how did he want to get rid of her, and he said kill her." Mrs. Tillman said that between April and September she received from Selby payments of $750, $1,500, $500 and $250. Selby was arrested after being awakened at the home of a son, Joe Selby Jr., 29. Mrs. Selby died from bullet wounds to the chest. Police said she had been struck twice by bullets. The murder weapon has not been recovered.

FOUND BODY

The body was discovered by Selby about a half hour after he and his wife had left the downtown area in separate cars. The accountant said he found the body on a hallway floor when he arrived home after stopping at a drug store for coffee and cigarettes. Police at first said there had been a robbery attempt but they later found $600 in cash in a purse that was near the body. Mrs. Tillman's statement was supported by a sworn statement made by her husband, Willie Tillman, 37, a taxi driver. Tillman said he gave $100 of the $2,800 to his mother and used the rest to buy a new car. Tillman made his statement after taking a lie detector test. The charge against Selby was filed after police Capt. Weldon Waycott and Dist. Atty. Dan Walton studied the statements made by the Negro couple. "TAKE HIM FOR A FOOL" Mrs. Tillman said she had been acquainted with Selby before he came to her apartment in April. "He told me to find someone to kill his wife and he would give $1,500 to do it," the sworn statement said. "I told him I would try to find someone." Mrs. Tillman said she and her husband talked the offer over and decided to play the accountant "for a fool" by taking the money but without any effort to find someone to carry out the slaying. "Me and my husband talked it over and he said for me to tell him that I had found somebody and get the money from him," Mrs. Tillman said. "The next day Mr. Selby came back and asked me if I had found somebody and I told him that I had and he could give me $750 and the other when it was finished." Her statement then related details of the alleged $1,500, $500 and $250 payments. "After this I had my phone number changed so he couldn't get in touch with me," she said. "Since that time I have not seen Mr. Selby. The first I knew of his wife's death was when my husband brought the paper in. I do not know who killed Mr. Selby's wife."

Prominent Lamesa Business Man Dies

LAMESA — Funeral services for Joe Sidney Randals, 45, prominent business and civic leader of Lamesa, are to be at 3 p.m.

Trinity Hearing Resumes Monday

AUSTIN (AP)—The State Board of Water Engineers resumes Monday its hearing on plans for 40 million dollars worth of dams on the lower Trinity River.

The Trinity River Authority and Houston propose to pump more than a billion gallons of water per day from lakes formed by a 35 million dollar dam at Livingston and a five million dollar salt water barrier at Wallisville.

The San Jacinto River Authority, Southern Canal Co. of Houston and landowners at the Livingston dam site are the chief opponents.

Denton and the North Texas Municipal Water Authority, operator of Lake Lavon on the east fork of the Trinity, also have filed objections.

Lamesa Will Appeal Suit For Damages

LAMESA — The City of Lamesa will appeal a jury verdict of last Thursday in which a widow was awarded $30,000 damages from the municipality for the death of her husband.

The city council in a special session Friday instructed City Attorney Stansell Clement to appeal the holding of a 19th District Court jury awarding Mrs. Myrtle Hutchinson damages in the amount of $30,000.

It was said by spokesmen for the city, that while the municipality has the amount of money on hand, all available cash is already budgeted.

The municipality carries no insurance to protect it against such judgments.

Mrs. Hutchinson had asked for $35,000 to compensate her for the death on Nov. 14, 1958 of her husband, H. B. Hutchinson. Hutchinson was killed while helping to get a stuck city truck freed from the mud at the city dump ground.

He had crawled under the vehicle to free a portion of it from the mud when the truck rolled over him. He was an employee of the city at the time.

The jury in the trial of the suit deliberated for more than three hours. It brought in a verdict granting Mrs. Hutchinson $29,000 damages for the loss of her husband and $1,000 for suffering and distress.

Minister Sentenced After Conviction Of Blackmailing

YANCEYVILLE, N.C. (AP)—A Baptist minister who photographed his nude wife in bed with another minister was sentenced on a conviction of blackmail here Friday.

Superior Court Judge W. H. S. Burgwyn sentenced the Rev. J. T. Swinson, 51, to 24 months in prison for blackmail, conspiracy, assault with a deadly weapon and larceny.

Mrs. Swinson, 38, accused of luring a family friend into her bed so he could be photographed, was convicted of blackmail and conspiracy. A mother of two children, she was sentenced to 19 months, suspended.

Judge Burgwyn praised the jury's verdict, but he had stern words for the Rev. G. A. Hamby, 59, Yanceyville, who testified that Swinsons blackmailed him into buying them a car after Swinson snapped a picture of Hamby and Mrs. Swinson, both nude and in a compromising position in bed.

The judge said Hamby "violated every moral law," but he added, "I know of no criminal law he has violated."

Christmas Mailing Season At Hand, Post Office Says

"It's time to start those Christmas mailings!" Postmaster E. C. Boatler said today. "On the calendar Christmas is a month away, but here in the Post Office it's Christmas every day from now on."

Holiday Date For Concert

Because the program of Fred Waring and his Pennsylvanians, a presentation of the Big Spring Concert Association, falls on a holiday—Thursday—association officials have asked members who will be unable to use their tickets to make them available to members with out of town guests.

Maj. Vincent Brophy, president, said that if those who will not be here Thursday evening will call him (AM 3-3424) between 5 p.m. and 7 p.m. Monday and Tuesday, or Mrs. Floyd Mays during the day hours Monday and Tuesday, they will relay the information to those needing tickets for out of town guests.

Only those with membership cards will be admitted, for there are no single admissions sold for any of the concert series.

Maj. Brophy suggested that local people be in their seats by 7:30 p.m. to 7:45 p.m. Snyder's concert group has reciprocity with Big Spring (as Big Spring does with Snyder), and a number of guests are expected from there. Efforts will be made to provide some additional, temporary seating if needed, Maj. Brophy indicated.

Dawson County Is Near 145,000 Bales

LAMESA — The total bales of cotton ginned in Dawson County approached the 145,000 bale estimate this week according to a report from the local Texas Employment Commission Office.

A total of 142,637 bales were reported in figures compiled from all gins in the county.

At a similar period last year, only 114,206 bales had been ginned.

Electric Rails

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union announced an extensive program is being undertaken to electrify railways, including a 3,800-mile stretch of the trans-Siberian line from Moscow to Irkutsk.

that should be done this week," the postmaster pointed out.

"Don't take chances on mailing poorly wrapped packages," he said. "Use sturdy corrugated mailing cartons, plenty of heavy brown wrapping paper, and be sure that every package is tied with strong cord. Cartons containing several gift packages should be well stuffed with tissue or old newspapers to cushion the contents."

He said further, "if you have articles of unusual size or bulk, better check with the Post Office before attempting to mail them—the limits on size and weight of packages vary, depending on where you mail your packages from."

PRECAUTIONS CITED As an extra precaution against loss, Postmaster Boatler advised placing both your return address and the recipient's address on an extra label inside the carton or package before it is wrapped.

If you use Christmas stickers or seals, put them on the back of your Christmas card envelopes so that they will not conflict with the address on the front.

Before you mail your gift packages be sure that proper postage is firmly affixed to each.

It's always a good idea to place a piece of transparent cellophane tape over the address portion of the label to prevent defacing it in transit. Most important of all, be sure to include the recipient's full name, street address, city, zone and state on your labels.

Here's some other helpful suggestions from Postmaster Boatler. Always send your Christmas cards by First Class mail. They will be delivered quicker and they'll be forwarded or returned, if it becomes necessary. Christmas cards sent by First Class four cent or seven cent Air Mail may carry written messages; whereas, cards sent with Third Class three cent postage may only have a written signature and will not be forwarded or returned.

RETURN ADDRESSES It is always advisable to include your return name and address on each Christmas card envelope because this helps your friends to keep their mailing lists up-to-date and insures correction of your own list if the card is returned as undeliverable.

The postmaster warns that the entire Christmas mailing period is primarily a battle against time. If you delay now in getting your Christmas cards and gift packages to the Post Office, dreaded pile-ups are bound to occur, causing unavoidable slowdowns in deliveries as the holiday approaches.

All mail going long distances should be sent well before Dec. 10th. Christmas packages for local delivery should be mailed by Dec. 15th, and be sure to mail Christmas cards for nearby destinations at least a week before Christmas.

4 Drown On Night Ride

GAINESVILLE, Fla. (AP)—Five students from a state school for the mentally retarded slipped away from a group of campers Friday night and went boat riding. Four drowned when the boat capsized.

A spokesman at the Sunland Training Center said a group of three teen-agers and two adults had left their beds after lights out and set out for the ride on Lake Crystal near a camp about 25 miles from here. One of the teen-agers was rescued.

The school identified the victims as Noah Stanley, 15, of Apopka; Charles Griffith, 15, of Mount Dora; James Lewis, 31, of Jacksonville; and Thomas Elmore 21, of Marianna.

Clarence Armstrong, 17, of Highland View, Fla., was saved by Jimmy Roach, 15, who was handling the boat.

Dr. C. H. Carter, medical director for Sunland Training Center, said young Roach, son of the caretaker at Camp Montgomery, had told him he was at the boat dock when the five walked up and asked for a ride.

The boy said he had taken them out a short distance and was turning back to shore when one of them suddenly opened the throttle of the outboard. Immediately one of the others—he did not know who—jumped up and tipped over the boat.

tendent, Assistant General Manager, General Manager, Vice Presidents, and President. How many millions of the Public's dollars does it take to maintain and staff these "Party Cars." Mr. Association? Is it not a fact this expenditure is charged against "Passenger train car repair" account—sort of a "phantom deficit," wouldn't you say?

ADD IT ALL UP, MR. ASSOCIATION. AND YOU HAVE FOUND YOUR $500 MILLION DOLLAR FEATHERBED — THE ONE YOU ARE NESTLED DOWN IN. THE ONE YOU PLUCKED FROM "COCK ROBIN PUBLIC." — MR. ASSOCIATION, don't you quit screaming at your employees and cease squandering the Public's money on such SMEAR SHEETS as your September-October issue and spend just a LITTLE of it to meet Competition. The Honorable Arthur E. Summerfield, Postmaster General, in a letter addressed to the Honorable George A. Smathers, Chairman, Subcommittee on Surface Transportation, said — "Indeed railroads frequently request the Department to remove mail in advance of petitions for abandonment in order that the unprofitability of the remaining service can be more easily demonstrated, and in such cases it is the policy of the department to do so!" End quote. — W-H-Y?

EXAMINE Railroad Commission Docket No. 1464-RO. Mr. Association, you will note where one of your dues-paying carriers testified under cross-examination that the passenger trains proposed to be discontinued had not been advertised through any medium, that they had not solicited business for these trains but they were there for the public to use and if they did not, it was not their fault. Some attitude, eh—in this day of the highly competitive business of transportation.

WE CAME TO YOUR RESCUE IN 1958 and fought side by side with you in Washington, Mr. Association, in order to get you relief from some unfair taxes and relaxation from some I.C.C. rules to set up a standard of fair and equitable competition. It was a tough fight, and when your fleet of highly polished business cars rolled into Union Station in Washington, and the big chiefs in the striped pants stepped off saying they were broke, did not help our cause. Mr. Association, but we fought and we won.

It was more or less understood that after we helped you, that you would not oppose our bill in Congress for a meager 10 per cent increase for our retired folks. But what did you do, Mr. Association? You slipped us the BIG DOUBLE CROSS and fought our bill with every ounce of energy you could muster — and then, in your September-October smear sheet you have the intestinal fortitude to talk about cooperation of Unions and management. WE CAN'T TRUST YOU ANY LONGER, Mr. Association.

NOW, MR. ASSOCIATION EDITORS — We know you have only printed the material you are furnished by the "soap opera boys." We can accept the fact that you edit what your "dues payers" like to read. Let's keep it straight for the Public though, Editors. — You are "RAILROADERS WHO NEVER RAILROADED." You would have no idea, would you, of all that is like to swing a lantern switching boxcars on the midnight shift in all types of weather — sitting in an engine cab at high speed not knowing what you might encounter at the next curve—being in a caboose behind 250 cars with the slack running in and out which statistics show is the reason for an increasing number of neck and back injuries, these are just a few of the hardships you try to distort and turn into a Featherbed—but no matter how hard you try, with your fancy words and phantom figures, you can't change facts—it's still the same old job, "RAILROADING."

We had to call your hand, Mr. Association, because we know the public wants to know the FACTS. Those mentioned herein are just a few. We have others we can use if you persist in your "smear campaign," which is costing the public many millions.

Ad Paid for by Railroad Operating Employees

OUR ANSWER

Texas Rail-Ways, a publication published bimonthly by the Texas Railroad Association, has used its September-October issue as a SMEAR SHEET, filled with distorted propaganda, in an attempt to influence its readers into thinking that Railroad employees are a group of underworld characters, holding a gun at the head of management to enforce what they term as "Featherbed Practices" to the tune of $500 million dollars a year.

This smear sheet charges, among other things, that the public pays 235 million dollars annually for firemen on freight diesel engines for an obsolete job. That many crews earn a full day's pay for runs as short as two hours. That a freight train pulling into a yard was instructed to move two hundred feet more after stopping so cars could be added to the rear end and that the crew received another day's pay. —LET'S ANSWER, MR. ASSOCIATION.

Now, Mr. Association, you seem to be so chucked full of facts about railroading, but in your sty way you only tell part of the story.—Why? The public knows a fireman no longer stokes a fire. Why is it you did not go further and say that he is an Assistant Engineer, that he supervises the production of power of locomotives, which in many instances is 5 and 6 diesel locomotives coupled together, where previously there was only one Locomotive. That he is a very valuable safety element. That he will one day be the engineer, from what other source could a man be taught to operate a locomotive than that of Fireman?

WHAT? Mr. Association, were the conditions surrounding this road crew, moving their train in the yard. Was some official attempting to use them as a yard crew after they had completed one or perhaps two days' work on the road. Are we so different from other crafts who find it necessary to WORK for a living. Does a carpenter build an entire house after finishing his work, by laying the brick, doing the concrete work, plumbing, plastering and painting or—do other crafts perform certain parts of the work. No Mr. Association, we can't buy the HALF-TRUTH FORMULA used by you any longer.

GIVE THE PEOPLE ALL THE FACTS—Mr. Association, when you make the stark statement, "Many train crews earn a full day's pay for runs as short as two hours." Truthwise, you picked a very rare case, did you not, Mr. Association. — But even so — How long was the crew gone from home? Paying their own expenses at away-from-home terminal. What was the excessive rate of speed they were required to operate this high-speed train over a track which had not been maintained properly? How much has this same crew increased the operating efficiency of the carrier you speak about? How much more money is this crew earning for this carrier than it did ten years previous?

THEN — MR. ASSOCIATION, why is it you did not tell your readers about the other 99 per cent of the train and engine crews? Why did you not tell the public crews were away from home from eight to twenty-four hours and more on each run, without receiving one this dime for away-from-home expenses such as bed, meals, etc. WHY did you not tell your readers that these crews work many times as long as 14 hours without receiving any overtime — what other craft does that, Mr. Association? WHY — did you not tell the public that these crews do not receive time and one-half for Saturdays and Sundays — as do other crafts for their work? WHY — did you not tell your readers that these crews do not receive any differential pay for night work as do other crafts? WHY — did you not tell your readers that these crews were subject to call twenty-four hours in each day? What other crafts have this responsibility? WHY — did you not tell the public that the on-the-job injuries sustained have been and are on the increase—that safety engineers class their work as very hazardous.

YOUR SMEAR SHEET, Mr. Association, says "Railroad workers," themselves, realize it. A recent Nation-wide Gallup Poll showed that union member families are four-to-three against "Make Work" rules. WHAT? was the story told to these people, Mr. Association. We, as Railroaders of the operating crafts have no knowledge of the existence of so-called "Make Work" rules. Did the Gallup Pollsters tell these good people that "Make Work" rules existed in their husband and/or father's work day? OR did they say, "Would you be against 'Make Work' rules if they existed?" WHO did they poll, Mr. Association? Second and third cousins — or wives, mothers, and fathers.

continue a MOTORCAR operation, when there is also present a large official staff—when, in fact, no such application has ever been denied since the inception of the Commission. How much did this cost, Mr. Association? WHO — is it that gives its officials from the Chief Clerk to and including the President a GRATUITY at time of Retirement so as to guarantee him a pension for life equal to HALF his salary at time of retirement, coupled with Railroad Retirement Act benefits. HOW MUCH of the Public money does this cost? WHO — is it that spends Millions in propaganda to the public, attempting to humiliate and cast poisonous reflections on their employees. HOW MUCH of the Public's money did you use for this? HOW MUCH — Mr. Association, of the Public's funds did you charge to your so-called charges of "time paid for but not worked." Column, when in truth—this is the column accounting for vacation allowance of all officials and employees and Holiday pay for non-operating employees. These are just a few of such items, Mr. Association. HOW ABOUT — that huge fleet of palaces on wheels, Mr. Association — A Railroad Business car for each Superin-

Howard Explorer Deepens After Test Yields No Oil

A southeastern Howard County wildcat Saturday drilled ahead after failing to get recovery on a drillstem test.

Sawnie Robertson No. 4-B Reed completed for 40.61 barrels of oil as a Howard-Glasscock producer.

J. B. McNamara of Midland No. 1 Etta Wade, 660 from the south and east lines of section 30-31-1s, T&P, drilled below 6,355 feet in line Saturday afternoon. Earlier operator had taken a core from 6,250-310 feet with part of the core showing oil. Another core was taken from 6,310-50 and then a drillstem test was run with the tool open 45 minutes. There was no recovery reported.

This venture is nine miles southeast of Big Spring and a mile west of Moss Creek Lake. Operator has been seeking pay in the Wolfcamp, which produces three miles to the north in the one-well Hutto field.

Cosden No. 14 O'Daniel set 5 1/2-inch casing at 2,666 feet and waited on cement to set before drilling in to complete. This test is 990 from the south and 2,310 from the east lines of section 29-30-1s, T&P. Earlier No. 13 O'Daniel completed for 57 barrels of oil and No. 16 O'Daniel for 67 barrels.

Sawnie Robertson No. 4-B Reed, 1,650 from the south and 330 from the east lines of section 14-33-2s, W&NW, bottomed at 3,160 after topping pay at 2,880 and setting the 4 1/2-inch string at 3,160. The casing was perforated from 2,880-2,900. In addition to the initial production of 40.1 barrels of 30-gravity oil a day, the test made five per cent water. The hole was fraced with 20,000 gallons.

Gulf Oil staked a Howard-Glasscock location, its No. 12 H. R. Clay, 990 from the north and 1,650

Borden Wildcat Completes As Strawn Strike

Rowan Drilling Co. and McElroy Ranch Co. No. 1 Bertram Price has completed as a Strawn discovery in northeastern Borden County.

Operator now is testing to attempt completion also in the Ellenburger.

The Strawn section was potential at the rate of 23 barrels per hour through 20-64th choke for a calculated 34-hour total of 632 barrels of 40.9 gravity oil. The flow was through perforations from 8,238-42 during a 10-hour period. There was 1.0 of one per cent basic sediment, tubing pressure was 250 and gas-oil ratio 629-1.

Total depth is 8,596 feet, and the Ellenburger test is to be from open hole at 8,527-36.

Location of this strike and potential dual-discovery is 660 from the south and 700 from the east lines of section 41-37-1s, T&P, eight miles northwest of Stanton, was making hole Saturday at 9-163 feet in line.

Conoco Chief Says Companies Too Easy On Wage Demands

HUNT, Tex. (AP)—The president of Continental Oil Co. said Saturday night that business managements have not resisted recent excessive wage demands strong enough and have let consumers pay the price.

Leonard McCollum of Houston spoke at a regional assembly sponsored by the University of Texas and the American Assembly of Columbia University. The theme of the meeting is "wages, prices, profits and productivity."

"In some periods in our economic history, we were unduly slow about granting well-warranted improvements in wages and working conditions," McCollum said. "In recent years, however, I am inclined to believe we have erred in the other direction and have been partially responsible for the fact that labor has sometimes been able to capture more than its fair share of productivity gains."

NO RESISTANCE

"To put it bluntly, we have not exercised sufficient power and determination in resisting wage demands when we have known them to be excessive."

McCollum said that business men in a large number of corporations are sometimes caught in a "painful dilemma," particularly in times of strongly rising demand or in firms sheltered by government controls.

"A management may know it can recoup a wage increase through higher prices, at least temporarily," he said. "In such cases, should the management risk a strike and thereby jeopardize the shareholders' profits, and the management's profit performance record, even though it knows the demand is not justified by the trend of productivity increases?"

"All too frequently in recent years, soft managements have yielded under the pressure of such circumstances and have let the consumer pay the price."

McCollum said that industry must find better means of handling employees displaced by the introduction of labor saving devices.

"The resistance of some labor groups to technological developments which reduce jobs is not hard to understand," he said. "Business managers themselves are likewise resistant when opportunities for the elimination of top management positions arise as a result of a merger, reorganization or fundamental changes in the character of a company's business."

Six Col-Tex Veterans Given 30-Yr. Diamond Service Pins

COLORADO CITY — Fifty-one men, each with at least 20 years of service to Col-Tex Refining Company, met for the annual award dinner Friday evening at the new club room of the Baker Hotel.

The event, a stag affair, is a major occasion on the calendar of Col-Tex, which is a division of Cosden Petroleum Corporation.

Diamond-studded pins bearing the Col-Tex emblem were presented by D. M. Krauss, Cosden's senior vice president, refining division, to six 30-year employees. The group included I. J. Pierce, treasurer in the Colorado City refinery;

M. T. Bryant, operator, crude unit; Ell May, pumper; Lee Lavender, maintenance foreman; L. H. Brown, operator, thermal cracker; J. M. Hutchison, supervisor, pipeline department.

Cosden's president, R. L. Tollett, made the presentation of wrist watches from Col-Tex to the two 25-year employees, Richard Lange, mechanic, and Grady Beech, operator, thermal cracker.

Following tradition, the two also received diamond-studded emblem pins, handed by George Grimes, general superintendent of the Big Spring refinery.

Newcomers to the 30-year category were Charles Mann, stillman at the crude unit, and Sidney J. Jones, district gauger, pipeline department.

No Substantial Changes In Drilling Rate In Basin

Rotary drilling in the Permian Basin remained static last week with 344 rigs turning. This was precisely the number the week before and was up from the Nov. 6 total of 322.

Lea County, N. M., continued to lead with 50 rigs going, trailed by Andrews County, 35. Ector was third with 28. There were no substantial changes in any of the counties.

Here is the way the county looked by counties on Nov. 20 (with Nov. 13 figures shown in parentheses):

Andrews 35 (39), Borden 10 (8), Cochran 2 (2), Coke 2 (2), Chavez 6 (5), Crane 20 (19), Crockett 0 (1), Crosby 1 (2), Dawson 6 (5), Dickens 1 (1), Ector 28 (29), Eddy 16 (15).

Former Resident A. E. Chester To Retire From Mobil Oil Position

A. E. Chester, manager of production for the Dallas division of Mobil Oil Company, will retire on Jan. 1 after 40 years of service.

For several years he directed Magnolia operations here in the late 20's when the Howard-Glasscock boom was under way. To his many friends, he has remained Andy Chester through the years.

Chester joined the Magnolia Petroleum Company in 1919 after release from duty in World War I as a pilot. He worked in the Desdemona area for several years and was made a foreman.

He served here and in other Permian Basin points and then in the Panhandle and Mid-Continent area before coming to Dallas in 1944 as assistant production manager. On Jan. 1, 1948 he was named vice president, director and manager of production for Magnolia, the position he held when the firm was combined with Mobil Oil.

Economies Up Profits Prospectors Are Slated

By MAX B. SKELTON

HOUSTON (AP)—The nation's three largest oil companies are reaping benefits from economy drives started in the recession of 1957-1958.

Officials of all three firms have credited economy efforts with playing major roles in net income gains recorded the first nine months of 1959.

Eugene Holman, chairman of Standard Oil Co. (New Jersey), said a 21 per cent gain in earnings resulted from increased sales and efficiency of operations.

Augustus Long, chairman of Texaco, said continuing emphasis on increased efficiency and strict control of expenditures contributed materially to record profits exceeding 261 million dollars.

Gulf Oil Corp. officials reported a 12 million dollar increase and credited higher crude production and reduced operating expenses.

The July-September third quarter was a bit disappointing for most oil operators but most major companies placed January-September net incomes well ahead of year earlier earnings.

The major exception was Standard Oil Co. of California, which blamed decreased income from Eastern Hemisphere operations.

Excessive product inventories, shaky product prices, and the steel strike drew the blame in most cases for the weak third quarter. About half the major companies reported declines.

There were notes of optimism for the fourth quarter.

Henderson Sapples, Jr., president of Atlantic Refining Co., said imports controls, reduced domestic production, and cutbacks in refinery operations should cut inventories to realistic levels and stabilize prices.

Atlantic was among those reporting a third quarter decline, its per share earnings amounting to 80 cents compared to $1.24 the same 1958 period. Nine-month profits of $2.52, however, compared with a year earlier $2.02.

Joining Texaco with record nine-month incomes were Phillips Petroleum and Continental Oil.

K. S. Adams, Phillips chairman, predicted a record 1959. He credits increased sales of oil, products, natural gas, chemicals and uranium.

Value Of Bridges, Highways Told

KIRBYVILLE, TEX. (AP) — Bridges and highways which open undeveloped areas add untold wealth to the state, Marshall F. Formby, former Highway Commission chairman, said Saturday.

He spoke at a bridge dedication near this Southeast Texas town.

"Everywhere in Texas folks are looking for more tax revenue," Formby said. "Maybe we're overlooking important sources. When an area is opened up by a new highway, or when a big stream is bridged properly for the first time, new land is available for agriculture, dairies and small industries."

"Towns grow, huge tracts of lands are divided into small farms—everybody benefits."

Formby, a Plainview attorney, retired as chairman of the commission last March.

Three Check Out of Suit

GALVESTON (AP)—An attorney for a group of refinery workers who are suing a union for $75,000 said Saturday two plaintiffs have dropped out of the suit because of anonymous telephone threats.

The men are former American Oil Co. refinery workers at Texas City. The plant has been struck for months but still operates.

One of the 17 who filed suit, J. M. Brown of LaMarque, said he also was withdrawing from the suit because he had been misinformed as to the purpose. He said he would not cross picket lines.

The attorney, J. Saccomanno of Houston, would not identify the two who dropped out on the grounds of threats.

Negotiations were broken off Friday after no progress was made in settling the dispute between the company and the Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers Union.

Union officials said a counter suit would be filed against plaintiffs in the damage suit.

Saccomanno said he had received calls from seven of those who filed the damage suit that they intended to report for work at the plant Monday.

The 17 in the original suit alleged that the union had prevented them from going back to work at the struck plant.

The secretary-treasurer of Local 4-449 of the union, A. F. Grosgron, said the counter suit will be filed because the union feels the damage suit is intended to hurt the good name of the union and to prevent a lawful strike.

The main issue in the strike is job classification.

Cosden Spuds New Wildcat In Coke

Cosden Petroleum Corporation has spudded its No. 1 Millican, a wildcat seven miles west of Robert Lee in Coke County.

Saturday the venture, which is seeking reef pay, had drilled to 700 feet after setting surface casing.

Completions Now Past 10,000 Mark

AUSTIN (AP)—The Railroad Commission said Saturday drillers brought in 245 oil and 29 gas wells during the week.

For the year, 10,291 oil wells have been completed compared with 11,090 a year ago. The 1,668 gas wells for 1959 compare with 1,916.

Wildcaters drilled 10 oil wells and no gas wells. Drillers plugged 221 wells, including 143 dry holes, 69 oil wells and 9 gas wells. For the year, 8,397 wells have been plugged compared with 8,779.

The daily oil allowable increased 7,846 barrels to 2,791,079 a day.

DRILL OR FORFEIT Cuba Puts New Pressure On Operators For Exploration

By ROBERT BERRELEZ

HAVANA (AP) — The Cuban government today aimed another blow at foreign business interests by passing a stiff law that will force oil exploration and exploitation companies to work their claims or lose them.

The legislation, which follows a tough new minerals law, also sets production quotas for petroleum refineries. Affected primarily will be three big foreign operations—the American-owned Standard Oil and Texaco companies and the British-owned Shell, Ltd.

During a seven-hour session, Prime Minister Fidel Castro's Cabinet met.

—Ratified a ban on the immigration of Chinese and non-Chinese Asians.

Drill Or Forfeit

Created a new tourist institute with authority to start proceedings to expropriate any property deemed necessary for tourist development.

Approved a decree giving prosecutors in military tribunals the right to appeal the decisions. The Cabinet recently re-established Army tribunals to combat growing opposition to the revolutionary government. When the tribunals were active during the first six months of Castro's regime, 555 persons were sent to death before firing squads.

Government sources said the new petroleum law will put an end to the practice of issuing exploration concessions which carried no requirement to work claims. They said the practice resulted "in plain landholding and in the use of property for purposes other than exploration."

Exploration and exploitation companies are required by the law to show proof that actual drilling is under way at their concessions. If they can't, they lose the concessions.

The law imposes a 60 per cent royalty on production based on commercial rates. Concessionholders are required to turn over to the newly created Cuban Institute of Petroleum all information on their operations.

Exploration concessions will be limited to about 19,000 acres, which is far under the acreage held by several companies.

National Drilling Gains Slightly

National rotary drilling has gained slightly, according to the Nov. 18 tabulation by Hughes Tool Company for the American Association of Oilwell Drilling Contractors.

On that date there were 2,159 rigs going, up from the 2,111 on the previous week, the 2,028 a month ago and the 2,115 a year ago. Western Canada dropped from 165 to 148 rigs.

Texas picked up 30 operations during the week and Oklahoma 17 for the greatest changes.

THE REAL SPIRIT

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Already the stores are showing gifts for Christmas. It is a blasphemy to preach that December 25th is the birthday of Jesus...

no girl should be compelled to shower with other girls if she doesn't want to. Yours is not the first letter I have received from a girl protesting mass showering...

DEAR CHRISTIAN: The real Christmas spirit is "Peace on earth, good will toward men." If people wish to exchange gifts at Christmas time they need no commandment from the Scriptures...

DEAR ABBY: I know a young woman who is 36 years old and is still wearing her sorority pin. Everyone laughs at her because she wears it on every dress and suit she owns...

DEAR ABBY: What do you think about girls having to take showers together? After every gym period we have to take showers which, of course, we should...

DEAR ABBY: To each her own. If your friend wants to wear her sorority pin on her nose, let her. Don't permit the other girls to stick you with the job of wisening her up.

Midland Shooting Case Is Continued

Grand jury in Midland, called to consider a charge of assault with intent to commit murder filed against Harold Letcher, Big Spring, failed to complete its work and the matter has been passed over to the next grand jury on Jan. 25.

Rowell, suffered a heart attack soon after the episode of last Monday in which Rhoades was shot. His doctor said he could not come to Midland to testify.

The continuance in the investigation was brought about by inability of the state to obtain the testimony of two material witnesses. Only one witness was before the grand jury.

Letcher, alleged to have been with Thorne and Rhoades in an all-day poker game in a Midland motel cabin, is charged with having shot Rhoades as climax to a disagreement over the game last Monday. He is also alleged to have seized Mrs. Coleman, who was a tenant in another cabin, and forced her to guide him out of Midland. He let her out of the car four miles west of Midland, she said. He came to Big Spring and the following day returned to Midland with his attorney. He was released on posting $5,000 bond.

Mrs. Coleman was admitted to a Midland hospital on Wednesday for observation. The district attorney was informed, it was said, that she was able to testify and she was brought to the Midland County Court House Friday. While waiting her turn before the grand jury, she fainted and was removed to the hospital in an ambulance.

Midland spokesmen said they did not know if Letcher appeared before the grand jury Friday. He will continue at liberty on bail until outcome of the Jan. 25 action of the grand jury is known.

Teachers To Tackle New State Recommendations

Big Spring teachers Monday will tackle recommendations of a state commission pertaining to curriculum.

Police in Midland said the poker game over which the shooting allegedly developed, involved stakes running $15,000 or -20,000.

It is all part of a series of studies which will lead to an evaluation locally of the state recommendations sometime in January. Elementary classes will be dismissed at 2:45 p.m. Monday and teachers in the elementary level will meet at 3 p.m. in the Park Hill auditorium with Sam Anderson, assistant superintendent, presiding.

Letcher formerly operated package stores here.

Secondary classes will dismiss at 3 p.m. and will convene under the direction of Supt. Floyd Parsons at 3:15 p.m. in the senior high school auditorium.

Candy's Not Sweet To Mick; 15-Year Sentence Looms

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Stripper Candy Barr was in jail Saturday on a fugitive complaint. Her troubles developed over love, or a lack of it, for onetime gambling kingpin, Mickey Cohen. Cohen had guaranteed $15,000 for Candy, assuring she would return to Dallas to face a possible 15-year sentence for possession of marijuana. She is appealing. Cohen said he was in love with the blonde stripper and wanted to marry her. When Candy arrived here for a night club appearance, she said: "He bugs (bothers) me. I never want to see him again." Then attorney Melvin Bell, who put up the bond for Miss Barr, lofted it. Texas authorities asked Las Vegas sheriff's officers Friday to arrest her. Said Cohen: "Bell guaranteed the bond to the people in Texas, and I guaranteed it to Bell." He added Bell "don't like her attitude. He says, if she don't want no part of me, he don't want no part of her."

How To Get Grasses Started

Getting native and other grasses started is one of the big problems in this area. In 1957 Bence Brown seeded this old cropland field with 15 pounds of cane per acre. Then the crop residue was shredded and left on the ground as a dead cover for grass mixtures containing sideots grama, blue grama, King Ranch bluestem and buffalo grass which was planted in the spring of 1958. This picture shows how the grass came on to an excellent stand in the rows following the shredding.

Union Service Marks Holiday

LAMESA — The annual community Thanksgiving service, sponsored by the Lamesa Ministerial Alliance is to be conducted at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday, Nov. 25 in the sanctuary of First Presbyterian Church. Special music is to be by a quartet and by John Fraser, minister of music at First Methodist Church. Speaker for the service is to be announced by Rush Barnett, president of the Ministerial Alliance which sponsors the annual service.

ager for the Fair Department Store in Fort Worth, told the Big Spring Credit Executives Club at Coker's Restaurant that consumer debt is now nearing $50,000,000,000.

And it's going to get a lot bigger than that in the next decade or two. The firm that goes after the accounts of those entitled to credit will be the firm that grows and prospers.

Credit cards may play a big role, too, for today even some super-markets are using credit cards. Businessmen will have to be aggressive in seeking good credit accounts, for being progressive toward credit will not be enough. As a straw in the wind, he cited the cases of F. W. Woolworth, W. T. Grant and S. H. Kress Companies — firms which are dipping their toes into the credit waters. The significant thing about the amazing expansion of consumer credit today is that most of the individuals are paying what they obligate themselves to pay. Assuming that credit managers have the good judgment to grant credit to those entitled to it, selling credit will become as important as selling merchandise, said Ashby.

To do this, stores will have to pay more attention to public relations, to creating a favorable image of themselves in the public mind. The chief ingredients of this will be maturity and integrity.

All of this ties back into people, and nothing happens in business until someone sells — even credit, said Ashby. He was introduced by Kenneth Huff, president of the local club. The organization voted to hold only one meeting next month, that on Dec. 8, and then go on a semi-monthly schedule of the first and third Tuesdays of each month.

Earp Kin Dies At 80

VALLEJO, Calif. (AP)—Virgil Earp, survivor of many an Old West shooting scrap, has died peacefully in his sleep at the age of 80.

Virgil was a nephew of famed Western lawman Wyatt Earp and the only living offspring of Wyatt and his five brothers. Virgil's father was Newton. Virgil died Friday at the home of a niece, Mrs. Frank McKenzie of Vallejo. He is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Alice Wright of Kelseyville, Calif.

In 1958 he appeared on television's "The $64,000 Question." He won $32,000 answering questions about the Wild West. He was asked recently during the uproar over rigged television quizzes whether he had been coached. Earp snorted an indignant "no," and asked, "Who could tell me anything about the West?"

He was a sheriff at 18 and had three notches in his gun—for three men killed—at age 21. FORT WORTH (AP) — Mrs. Martha Duffey of nearby Newark, mother of four, died Saturday when her car struck a utility pole. She was 21. The accident was on U.S. Highway 81 just north of here.

Permian won the game, 35-7, but the contest was one of personal triumph for the little junior.

ODESSA, (SC)—An electrifying 89-yard touchdown return on a kickoff by Junior Ronnie Clanton of Big Spring featured a District 3-AAA football game between the Steers and Odessa Permian here Friday night, won by the home town Panthers, 38-7.

Permian notched the win without a great deal of difficulty but the mercurial running of young Clanton, enjoying his finest hour in a Big Spring uniform, kept the Permian bench jittery and the Odessa fans on edge.

Clanton crossed the goal line three times for the Steers, who suddenly grew muscles in the fourth period and scored three times, after trailing, 38-6, at one point.

Although the Steers lost ten straight games over the season, and thus set an all-time record for defeats, they did have the satisfaction of running their scoring aggregate for the campaign to 57 points and leave the 1958 Steer team with the distinction of having scored the fewest number of points in one year.

Three touchdowns have been scored in one game by Steers backs before but never, perhaps, in the manner Clanton went about it. He developed a new technique in running, that in butting heads with the opposition, retreating for more running room and then opening full throttle when his blockers cleared the way for him.

Ronnie scored his first TD with 7:51 to go in the second period when he took a kickoff on his 11, maneuvered skillfully behind his screen of interference and raced up the sidelines to the pay window. Big Spring trailed at the time, 15-0.

ball while running from his own 49 but Gene Ross, the Panther quarterback, handed off to the Longhorns' Gary Pickler rather than one of his own players and the Steers came into possession on the Panther 47.

A fourth down gamble paid off for the Bovines and they hurried on down to the two, from which point Jerry Dunlap barreled across for Big Spring's third tally. Five minutes of play remained when Dunlap crossed the double stripes.

Odessa took the kickoff but could get nowhere and punted to Big Spring's 62. From that point, Tucker flipped a screen pass to Clanton. Ronnie played his blockers well and scooted 58 yards to the promised land, with 2:53 showing on the clock. Dunlap then booted the point to make the score 38-7.

Permian scored its first TD with just 21 seconds remaining in the opening period when Richard Keller moved 24 yards up the middle.

Roland Gladden kicked the PAT to make it 7-0. That particular march moved 85 yards.

Wolverines Trip Buckeyes, 23-14
ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP)—Michigan reached into its storied past for some old-fashioned power and dazzle that tumbled Ohio State 23-14 Saturday before 90,000 chilled spectators.

With 8:08 to go in the second, the Panthers counted again when Ross circled left end from three yards away at the conclusion of a 64-yard offensive.

Odessa was penalized on the try for point but Ross passed to Gary Crain and Permian had two more points to make it 15-0.

Clanton then took the kick off and ran all the way to score Big Spring's sixth TD of the season.

Permian came back to get another six-point before time ran out. Crain going the final 21 yards up the middle, after which Gladden booted the point. On that series, Crain did some nifty running.

The Tabbies were hammering away at Big Spring's two times when the gun sounded, ending hostilities momentarily.

Carroll Golden hurried around left end for three yards and Odessa's fourth tally with 4:56 to go in the third after the teams had traded fumbles in Permian territory. Ronnie Nelms, who played a creditable game on defense for Big Spring, recovered a fumble on the Steers' behalf at the Big Spring 23 but the Longhorns had to kick, after which Clanton started a 53-yard surge for a TD.

Abilene Upset By San Angelo

SAN ANGELO, (SC)—The San Angelo Bobcats sprang one of the great upsets in District 3-AAA football history by blanking previous unbeaten Abilene, 13-0, here Friday night.

The story was told in the lines. Bob Harrell's rugged defense stopped the Eagles' running game cold, yielding a net of only 45 yards to the opposition.

San Angelo gained 250 yards on the ground and an additional 13 in the air.

The loss was the first in conference play for Abilene since 1952, when Chuck Mosser began his tenure as the Eagle mentor.

Tommy Ford scored San Angelo's first TD, going 13 yards through the left side of the Eagle forward wall in the second period. End Ronnie Stephens booted the PAT after San Angelo led, 7-0.

BADGERS GRAB BOWL BID WITH 7-3 WIN

By JIM KLOBUCHAR
MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP)—Dale Hackbart's fourth-period heroics drove Wisconsin to the Big Ten football championship and an all but inevitable Rose Bowl date Saturday in a thrilling 17-7 victory over Minnesota.

Before the brawny Badgers could claim their first undisputed conference title in 47 years they were forced to produce one final proof of their right to it—a grim goal line stand that smashed a Gopher upset bid in the last four minutes.

Coupled with Illinois' defeat of Northwestern, the Badger victory, achieved before a national television audience and a Memorial Stadium crowd of 53,467, left Wisconsin at the top of the closing Big Ten pileup with a 5-2 record. Michigan State finished with 4-2 and Northwestern toppled among the also-rans with 4-3.

Hackbart, a rangy quarterback, rallied the stumbling Badgers in the fourth period on an 89-yard touchdown drive that put Wisconsin into the lead after teammate Karl Holzwarth, a 245-pound tackle, had broken a modern NCAA record with his seventh field goal of the season.

Started by a 57-yard Gopher scoring pass in the opening two minutes from Sandy Stephens to Arlie Bostad, the Badgers set one power drive after another against the bitterly fighting Gophers but couldn't break through until Holzwarth's field goal from the 13 in the third period.

Hackbart scored from the 1 with 8:41 left of the fourth quarter. His 51-yard pass to end Al Schoonover consumed most of the distance in the Badgers' payoff march.

Illini Shatter Wildcat Dream

By JERRY LISKA
CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP)—Inspired Illinois scored in every period to shatter Northwestern's Big Ten title and Rose Bowl bid 26-0 Saturday, climaxing the 18-season Illinois coaching career of Ray Eliot.

The Big Ten title went to Wisconsin with its 11-7 victory over Northwestern.

Fullback Bill Brown scored two touchdowns in a one-sided victory which marked Illinois' second successive triumph over a conference championship contender. Last Saturday, the Illini scored on the last play of the game to defeat Wisconsin 9-6.

Although the Rose Bowl normally goes to the conference champion, Eliot's Illini with a final 4-2-1 league record could be considered in the bowl battle to be announced Sunday.

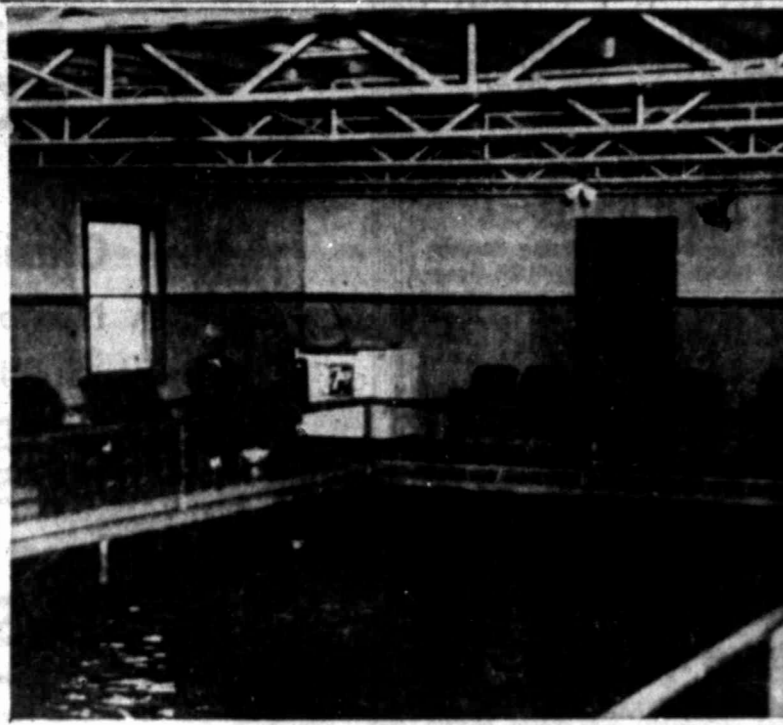

Eliot, who has said he'd retire as coach at the end of this season, was carried off the field on the shoulders of his jubilant players.

Northwestern, after winning six successive games, bowed in three consecutive Big Ten games, losing to Wisconsin, Michigan State and Illinois to blow a championship chance.

In the first two periods, Illinois produced touchdowns on one-yard plunges by quarterback Johnny Easterbrook and Brown. In the third period, speedy halfback Johnny Counts scored on a 17-yard run.

Illinois 7 0 0 0-6
Northwestern 0 0 0 0-0

Moments later Minnesota's Roger Hagberg bolted 22 yards to Wisconsin 26 and teamed with Dave Mulholland to carry the last-place Gophers to the 6. But Wisconsin broke up two Minnesota passes from there.

Bowl Minded Penn State Loses To Pitt, 22 To 7

By JOE BRADIS
PITTSBURGH (AP)—Fred Cox, Bob Clemens and Jim Cunningham—Pitt's three "C" boys—wrecked bowl-minded Penn State 22-7 Saturday with their hard running. This trio now has collectively scored 64 points in the last three games with successive victories over Boston College, Notre Dame and the Nittany Lions.

Seventh-ranked Penn State, which previously had lost only to top-ranked Syracuse, has been invited to be the host team in the new Liberty Bowl Dec. 19 at Philadelphia. Whether the loss to Pitt would have any effect on the invitation remained to be seen.

The Panthers dominated the game from the start, jumping off to a 9-0 lead in the first period on a safety and a touchdown by quarterback Ivan Tonic on a one-yard plunge.

Clemens then scooted 35 yards in the second quarter and Cox raced 86 yards in the third for touchdowns.

Clemens picked up 101 yards in 16 carries Cox 129 in 13; Cunningham 37 in 30. Cox and Clemens are sophomores; Cunningham is a junior.

Dick Pae, a junior from Dauphin, Pa., scored Penn State's lone touchdown in the third quarter on a nine-yard burst off tackle after the Lions recovered a Pitt fumble on the Panthers' 37.

The Pitt line, led by Mike Dittala, Regis Costillack and Larry Vignali, killed off every Penn State offensive threat except the one after the fumble recovery in the third period.

Richie Lucas, Penn State's star quarterback, couldn't get going with his passing nor his running against the first top Pitt team. He threw 14 passes and completed 5 for 45 yards. One was intercepted. He gained only nine yards on the ground in 14 carries.

Both teams have made a habit of knocking each other off at crucial times, and this 59th game in their annual series was no exception.

Last year Pitt had a possible Gator Bowl bid riding on the outcome of the game with Penn State, but wound up on the short end of a 25-21 score.

AMARILLO (AP)—Amarillo whipped Amarillo Palo Duro 21-0 Saturday and will meet Wichita Falls in the bi-district round of the Class AAAA schoolboy playoffs.

The Amarillo Sandiers powered two touchdowns in the second quarter and added another in the third period. Fumbles cost Palo Duro two scoring threats.

Quarterback Currie Bechtol sneaked the final yard for Amarillo's first tally on a push from the Palo Duro 37, where the Sandiers got the ball on a short Palo Duro punt. End David Richardson kicked the extra point.

Kentucky Rips Tennessee 11 By 20-0 Tally

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP)—Halfback Calvin Bird romped for two first-quarter touchdowns and added another just after halftime as Kentucky upset traditional rival Tennessee 20-0 Saturday.

The victory was Kentucky's first in seven Southeastern Conference games this season and virtually erased Tennessee hopes for a conference title.

Bird led a Kentucky drive early in the first period which began on the Tennessee 40 and plunged over from the 3. He also kicked the extra point.

After Kentucky's kickoff, the Volunteers' quick-kick attempt on second down was blocked and the Wildcats moved in for another score with Bird going over from the 1, only 2:43 after the first touchdown. Bird's 62-yard punt return early in the third accounted for the other touchdown.

Tennessee generated only two drives, one in each of the last two periods.

The first Volunteer march began at Tennessee's 21 and ate up 61 yards before the Kentucky line stopped it at the 18. Late in the fourth period, Tennessee began at its 35 and moved to the Kentucky 20 before being pushed back.

After a first period that was all Kentucky's, neither team could move in the second quarter although Kentucky advanced slightly with superior kicking—a weak point all season.

The third period was hardly under way when Bird grabbed a Tennessee punt and dashed 82 yards into the end zone. Guard Jimmy Johns was rushed into the game and added the conversion from placement.

Kentucky, halted by a pair of penalties, never moved again in the third quarter, which ended with Tennessee's drive faltering on the Wildcats' 18.

Kentucky seemed stopped early in the fourth but a penalty against the Vols for roughing the kicker gave the Wildcats another chance and they moved to the Tennessee 18 before a fumble gave the Volunteers the ball.

reil picked a Gordon Speer fumble out of the air and blasted 55 yards for the touchdown without a hand being laid on him to cap the scoring.

R. E. Dodson of TCU kicked every extra point.

Rice got its only score in the third period. Bill Bueck, Rice's No. 1 quarterback, shifted to left halfback and he, Speer and Jon Schnable led the way in a 43-yard drive for the touchdown with Bueck passing to Wyatt for the score.

The Texas Christian line proved much too tough for Rice, despite the fact that the Horned Frogs used the first string sparingly.

Don Floyd, Jimmy Gimore and Ray Armstrong repeatedly smashed through to throw Rice backs for losses.

Speer and Bueck were the big guns for Rice, but the Owls just didn't have enough horses on either defense or offense. Besides the touchdown, Rice got inside the 30 just twice. Once the Owls were stopped on downs and the other time on Terrell's fumble pickup that resulted in the final TCU touchdown.

Spikes, TCU's top hope for All-America honors, showed his power time after time on good gains, driving forward although hit hard.

The 11-week course included instruction in all basic military subjects and infantry weapons.

Upon completion of training new Marines are assigned to a unit for further infantry training or to one of the many Marine Corps schools.

Death Claims Floyd R. Hyer

Funeral for Floyd R. Hyer, brother of Fred Hyer, will be held Monday at the Davis Funeral Home in Okmulgee, Okla. The exact time of the service has not yet been fixed.

Mr. Hyer, who visited his brother here frequently, died unexpectedly Friday in the St. John's Hospital in Tulsa, Okla., three days after undergoing surgery. Like his brother, he was an independent oil operator and made his home at 1230 E. 8th in Okmulgee.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Anne Hyer; his brother, Fred Hyer, Big Spring; a sister, Mrs. Ethel Klester, Los Angeles.

4 Children Die In Fire

SANTA FE, N.M. (AP)—Four small children perished Saturday when a fire swept through the two bedrooms in which they were sleeping.

Four other members of the family escaped. Smoke and flames blocked rescue efforts for the four youngsters.

The victims were Joseph Lury, 2; Rose, 3; Patrick, 4 and Christine, 6. An uncle, Charles Lury, 19, smelled smoke, got out of bed and ran for help. Two sisters of the victims, Josie, 10 and Anna, 8, escaped from the burning house and firemen carried the grandfather, Robert Lury, 81, to safety.

The mother of the children, Vyn Lury, was not home. She told firemen one of the small children had started a fire early Friday in the family car parked in the garage adjoining the house. She said she thought she had put out the fire but that it apparently broke out again during the night.

Hospital Aide Denies Posing

NEWARK, N. J. (AP) — John Willie Covington has denied that he posed as a medical student to get a hospital job, and police say they can find no law he has violated in this respect.

Covington served six weeks at Marlard Medical Center aiding interns and performing a number of suturing tasks.

Marlard claims he originally stated he had studied at several universities. He was fired when the hospital learned otherwise.

But Covington insists that Marlard required only an oral examination before he was accepted there. The only credentials asked, he said, was proof that he had applied to be a medical student.

Covington, a 23-year-old Negro, is being held by police for an entirely different charge—that of passing a $10 bad check. Police say he passed the check Oct. 24 to rent a dinner jacket so he could appear with a church choir.

B.B.'s Boss Wants Acting

PARIS (AP) — Brigitte Bardot who rose to stardom in the movies by taking off her clothes, has run into a crisis in her young career.

Her producer thinks the time has come for the "sex kitten" to put the accent on acting instead.

Miss Bardot doesn't like the idea. "I shouldn't step out of the roles that the public likes," she purred to an interviewer.

The actress, now taking time out from film-making to have a baby, says she is confident "there will be a reconciliation" with the producer, Raoul Levy.

Levy, who has guided her career so far, says he is only taking a long-range view.

"I want to gamble on B. B. as an actress," he says. "I think that she could have 10 years of success as an actress, and not as a strip teaser. I know that I'm right."

October Retail Sales At New High

AUSTIN (AP) — October retail sales reached a new high which should make 1959 a record year for business in Texas, the Bureau of Business Research said Saturday.

The bureau estimated retail sales at $1,221,200,000 — 10 per cent above the September total and 9 per cent higher than the October 1958 figure.

Sales through 10 months were estimated at $11,174,400,000. The bureau said this is 7 per cent above the total for the comparable period in 1958.

The figure matched the national picture, where total sales volume reached a record high and sales ran 9 per cent above the same month last year.

Department store gains were led by Beaumont, up 45 per cent, Waco 33, Corpus Christi 23, Fort Worth 18 and Dallas 12 per cent.

Airline Expands

CAIRO (AP) — Misral, the Egyptian airline, will add three British jet Comets to its fleet of Viscounts and Vikings and extend service to some undisclosed European countries, the Middle East News Agency reports.

Kids-Eye Views Of Thanksgiving

Through cutouts and colors, pupils of the local schools have expressed their ideas of Thanksgiving, past and present, as well as events leading up to the day set aside for expressing gratitude.

Students were given free rein to draw or assemble a picture of any kind along the theme, and here are some of the results, taken from third grades over the city, along with pictures of "the artists".

VARIOUS REASONS FOR BEING THANKFUL occurred to Sherry Lynne Shafer, who catalogued them neatly. A pupil in Park Hill School, Sherry Lynne is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bryan Shafer, 408 Dallas. She is a pupil of Mrs. Frank McDonald, one of the teachers of the third grade.

A PRAYER OF THANKS is offered by the Pilgrim woman as shown in the art of Zane Neal, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Neal Jr., Allendale Road. Zane is eight years old and is in Mrs. Dick Fielder's class of third graders in Washington Place School.

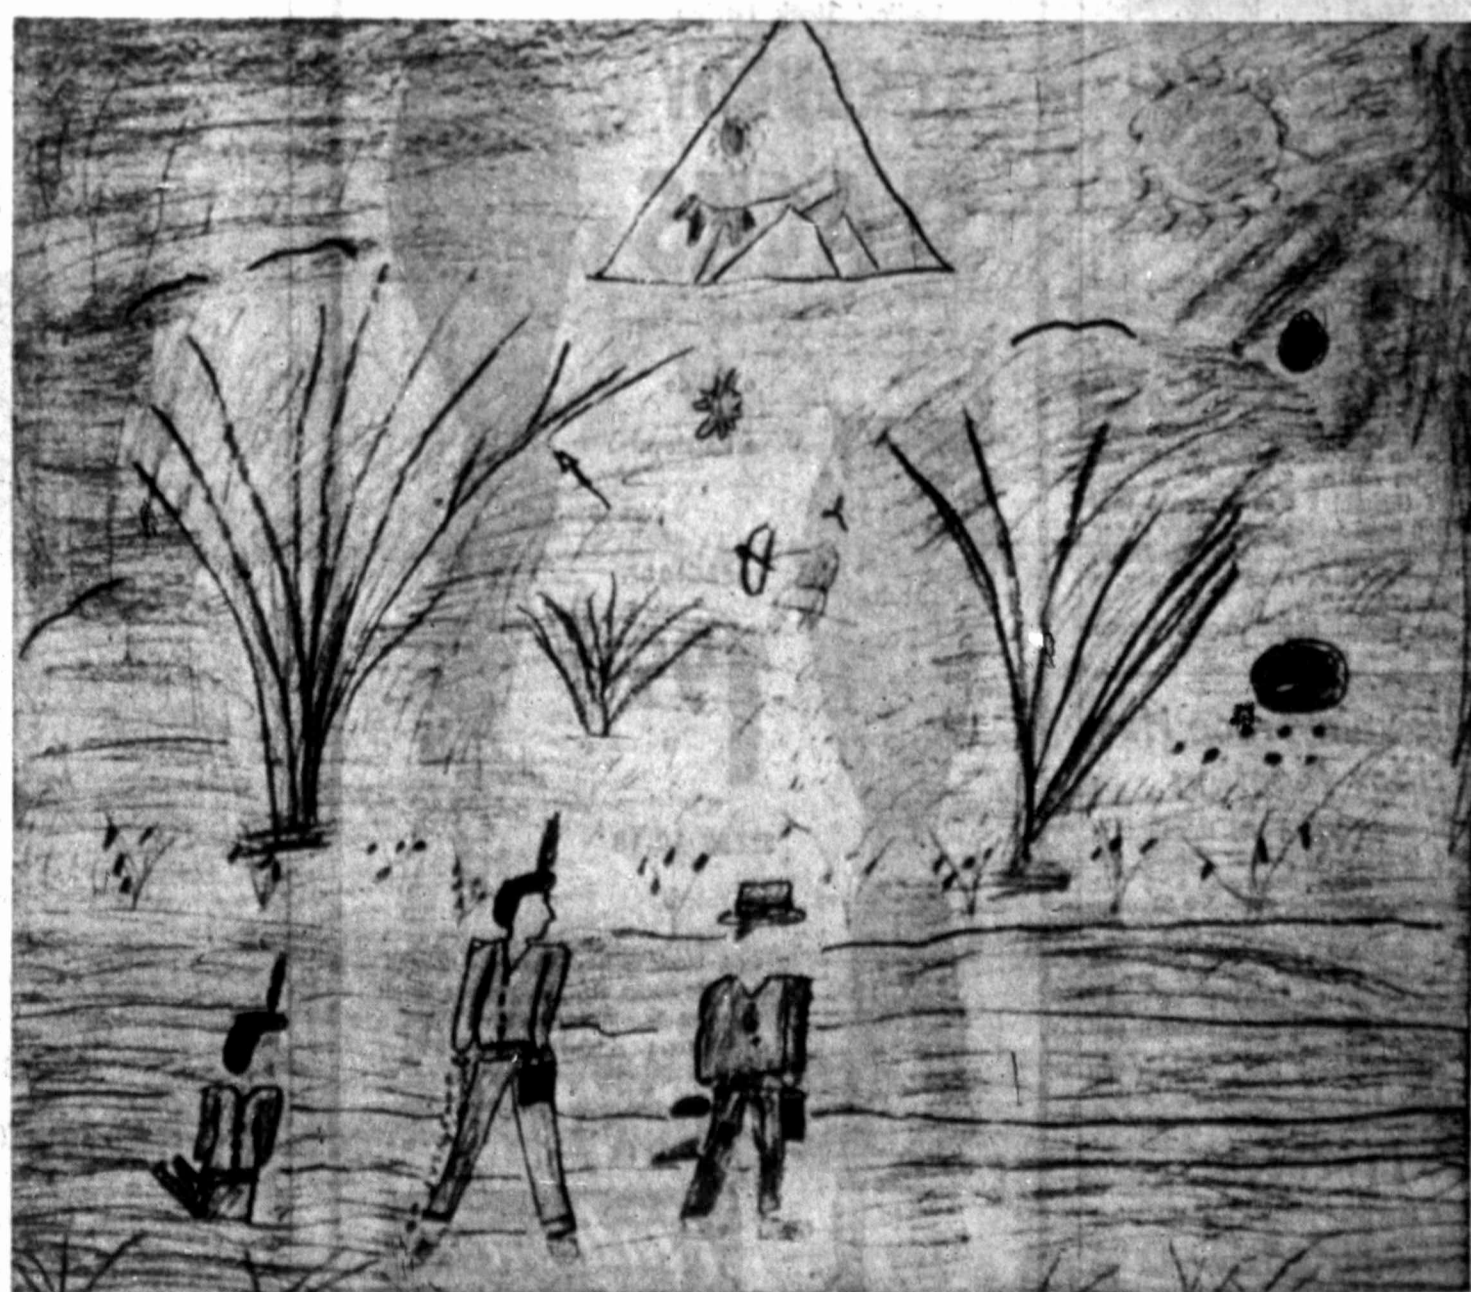

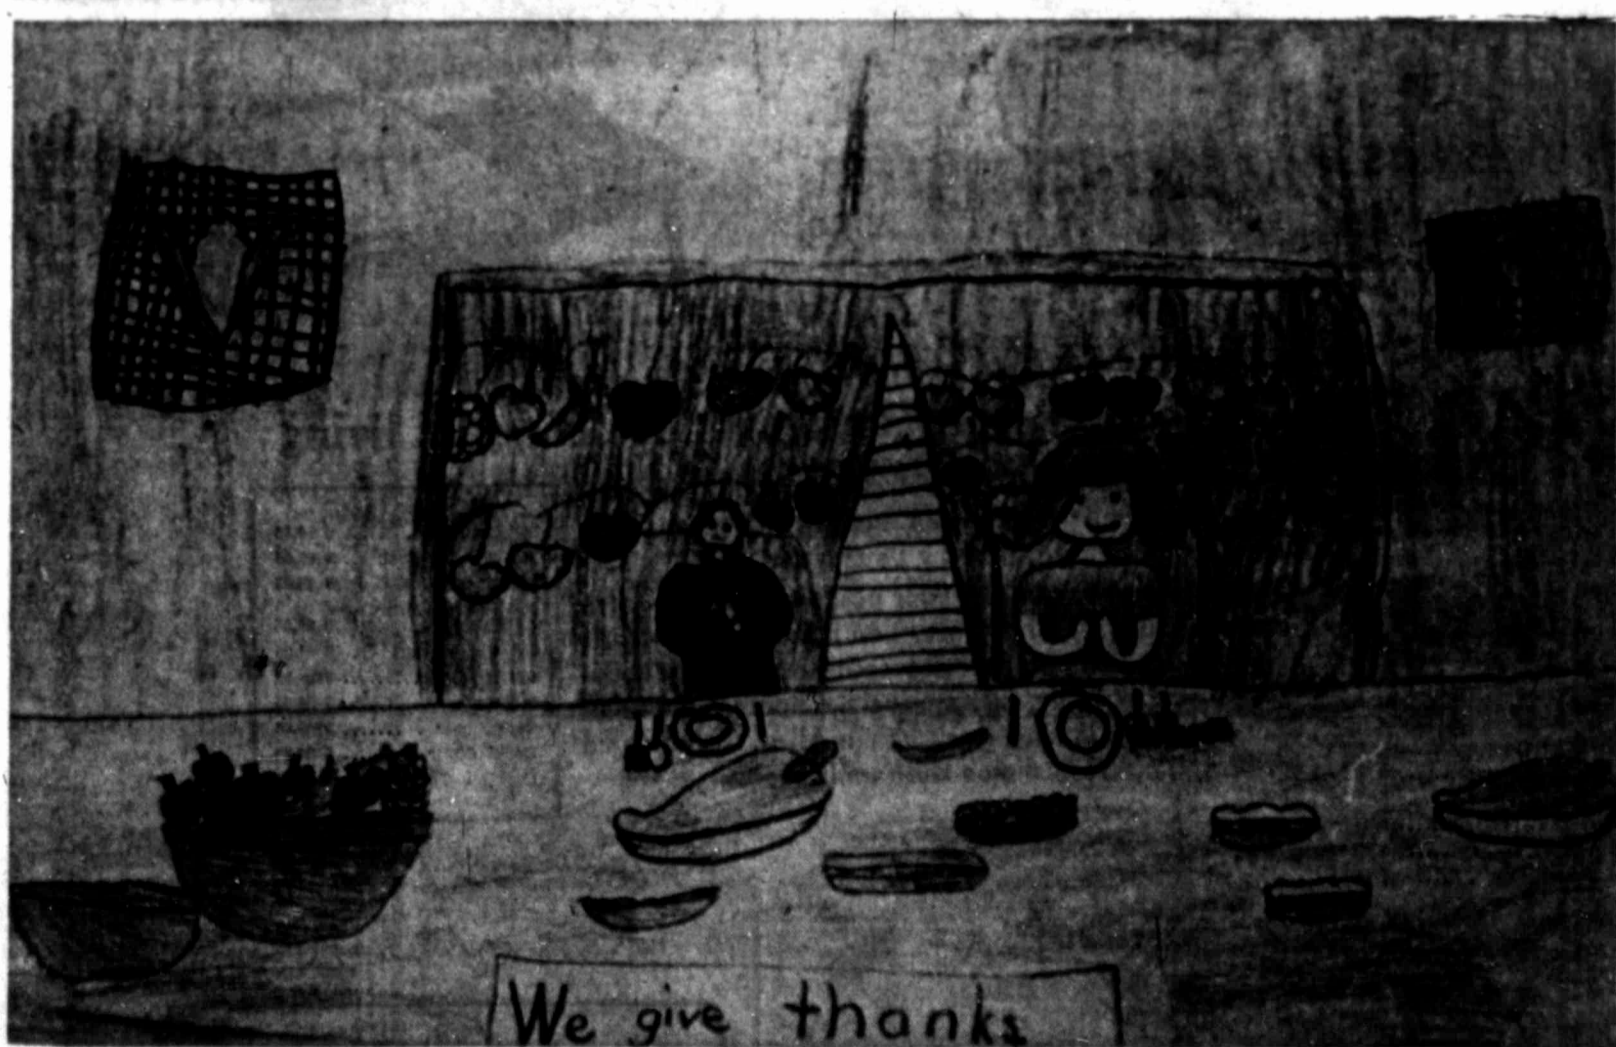

A FESTIVE MEAL is spread before the couple pausing to express thanks, as drawn by Ava Caldwell, third grade pupil in Boydston School. Ava, who is in the class taught by Mrs. Ray Cantrell, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Caldwell, 108 Circle Drive. She is almost nine years old.

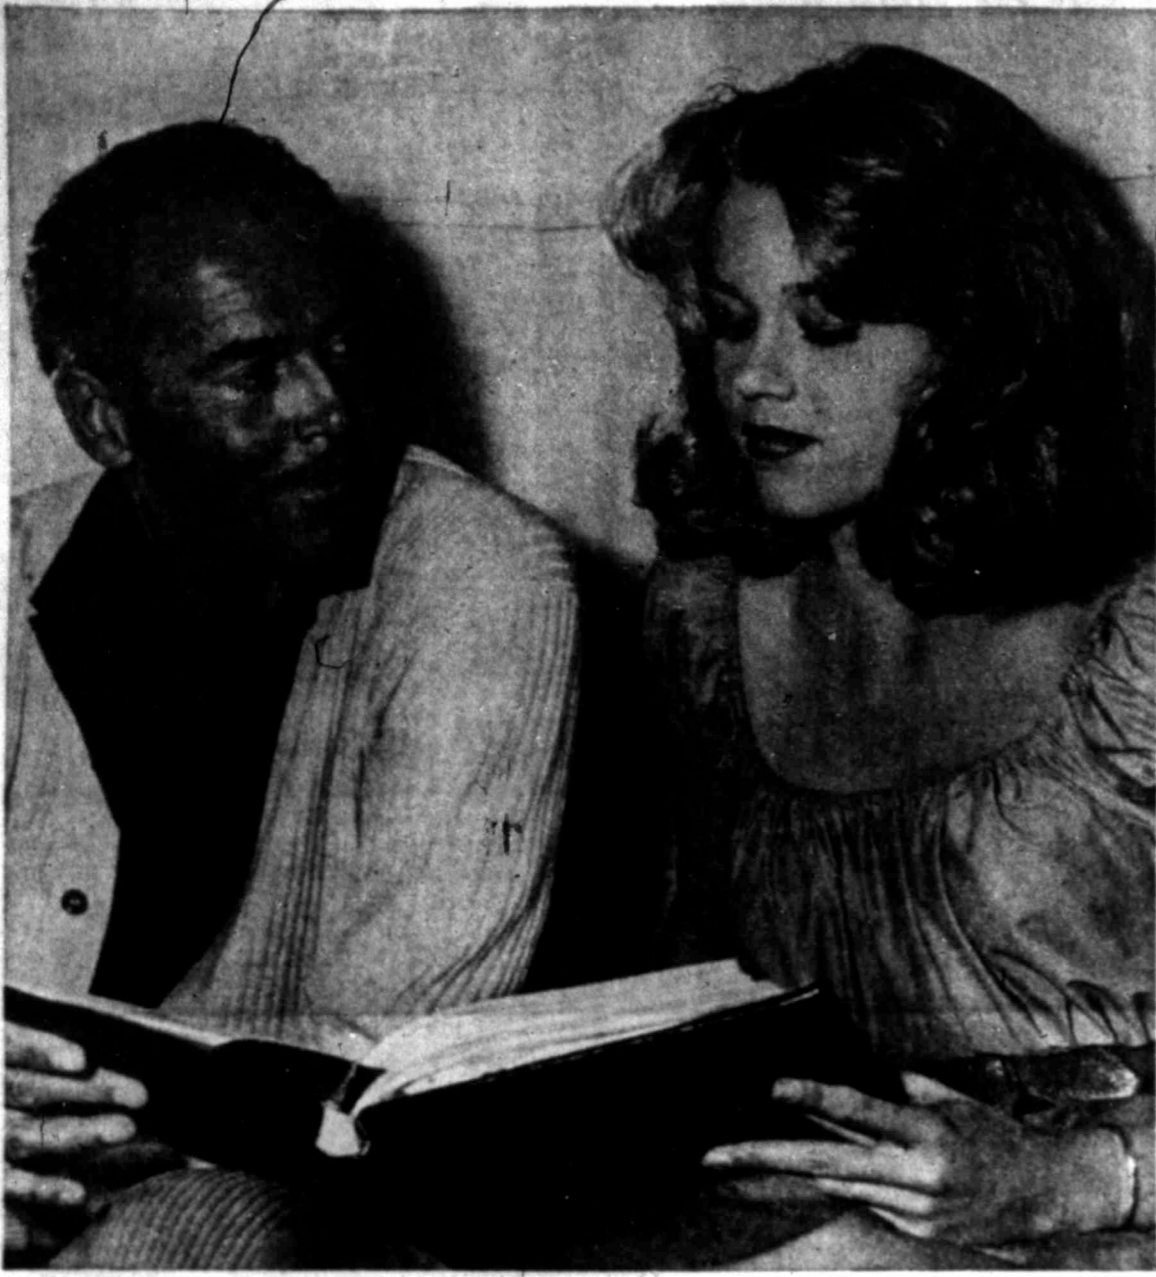

THE "FRIST" THANKSGIVING reads the poster assembled from cutouts by Scott Pruden, a pupil in the third grade at College Heights. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Pruden, 204 East 22nd, and is in the room taught by Mrs. James R. Hale.

PLANTING CORN is the title given this picture by Dale Lawson, at right, third grade pupil in Airport School, who portrayed the lesson in agriculture given to the white men by the friendly Indians. Dale is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Lawson, Ellis Homes; his teacher is Clara Bollinger.

Give Personality Pointers

Henry Fonda and his daughter Jane in an exclusive interview with Lydia Lane discuss discipline, character and what makes a girl attractive to a man. Jane is making her Hollywood debut in "Tall Story" for Warner Bros. and Henry is starring in a new TV series, "The Deputy."

HOLLYWOOD BEAUTY

H. Fonda, Jane Give 'Growing-Up' Tips

By LYDIA LANE
HOLLYWOOD — Talent is inherited in Henry Fonda's family, for his son has been getting fine critical notices in his stage debut, and daughter Jane is being starred in her first picture, "Tall Ones."
"You've done a fine job with your children," I said to Mr. Fonda when I visited him at CBS where he was filming a sequence of his "The Deputy" TV series.
"I am a lucky man," he said modestly.
"Having happy family relations is more than luck," I insisted.
"I'll wager your children were brought up with respect for discipline."
"Discipline is something children need to lean on like a sturdy oak. They will rebel against it, of course, but without it they're lost," Fonda replied. He feels very strongly about the lack of it in many homes. "But," he cautioned, "it can be overcome. Use no more than is needed."
"Children are imitative," he continued, "and integrity in the home is like osmosis." He feels that from family life one should absorb character traits and habits to serve throughout life.
"In my home we had respect for authority, consideration for others and a habit of reading the classics..." Fonda looked at me and added: "You don't analyze those things. They are there as a typical and normal part of daily living."
"Parents are to blame for their children's prejudices," Fonda went on, "when I found that my children were picking up a false sense of values, were expressing prejudices I didn't wish them to have, I moved to another environment." This wasn't easy, but Mr. Fonda preferred it to such unhealthy friendships.
Later, in her dressing room at Warner's I told Jane how much I had enjoyed meeting her father.
"He is the greatest man I know," she beamed. "Dad doesn't have an actor's temperament and we were brought up in an untheatrical atmosphere."
I mentioned to Jane what her father had said about discipline.
"He set a wonderful example. Dad has more discipline than I will ever have—that's why he is such a good actor. Concentration comes with discipline." As Jane rose to get an ash tray for me she let out an "Ouch."
"I thought I was in great condition until I rehearsed those cheer leading scenes," Jane confided, "because I exercise every day to stay limber."
We talked about Jane's screen test.

M. D. Harter Takes Bride In Tennessee Ceremony

Prayer Baptist Church in Memphis, Tenn., was the setting for the double ring ceremony which united in marriage Merl Dean Harter of Big Spring and Linda Barton of Memphis, Tenn., Saturday evening.
Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Harter, 109 W. 11th St., and Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Barton of Memphis.
Vows were exchanged before a background of white gladioli interspersed with carnations of a deep rose shade. White tapers burned in candelabra which were interlocked with white satin ribbons and greenery.
The Rev. P. O. Davidson, pastor of the church, read the ritual following the nuptial music by Mrs. Marie Petreman, vocalist, and John Hester, organist. They selected Always and Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life.
Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a gown of white Chantilly lace over satin. The neckline followed the lace scallops; the hemline also featured points of the lace with alternating panels of re-embroidered flowers bearing pearls.
She carried a white orchid on a white ribbon.
Attendants were Patricia Young, who served as her sister's maid of honor, and Beverly Anderson, bridesmaid. Taffeta overlaid with nylon and with satin trim fastened the dresses of the two, who chose deep rose and blue, respectively, in corresponding shades.
Flowers carried by the attendants were carnations to match their dresses.
The bridegroom's father was his best man. Ushers were Hershel South and Dewey Barton; they also served as the taper lighters.
During the reception, held at the church, the couple, assisted by their parents and their attendants, received guests. Judy Barton was at the guest register.
The bride's table was laid in pink satin with overlay of white, scalloped, and enhanced with pink roses. The three-tiered cake, decorated in pale pink bells and white roses, served as the centerpiece, while silver candelabra at each side held pink tapers.
When the couple left for a wedding trip to New Orleans, the bride wore a suit of light brown with beige accessories. To her jacket she had pinned the white orchid from her bouquet.
The new Mrs. Harter is a graduate of Frayser High School and has been employed at Campbell Clinic and Hospital.
Harter, who was graduated from Big Spring High School, is now stationed with the United States Navy in Guantanamo Bay, Cuba.

The Truth About Hormones To Make Skin Look Young

As I write this article, I can look through the doorway and see a woman of 45 waiting in the outer office. The light is good and I see her clearly.
She looks 10 years younger today than she did a month ago. What brought about this amazing change? Estrogenic hormones. Reams have been written about hormones. Will they make a woman of 75 look 16 again? Absolutely not. Will they make women of 60 feel like they are 20 again? Only in a way I shall explain later.

To know the truth about hormones you need to learn just two simple facts: 1. The beauty of a woman's skin starts breaking down as signs of menopause begin, because the female organs fail to supply enough estrogenic hormones to feed the skin—less and less as you grow older. 2. Estrogenic hormones can be supplied to the skin by rubbing on a penetrating formula containing the hormones.

Here is a test reported in a scientific journal, one of many that showed similar sensational results: Twenty-five women applied hormones to one side of the face and neck, and to one hand. On the other side and the other hand, a similar preparation containing no hormones was applied. These are the reports in simple words:
Skin lines (or wrinkles) quickly dimmed or disappeared from sight as creases and hollows filled out. Blistches and "old-age freckles" faded on hands, face and neck. Skin was softer, clearer, seemed to lose its chronic dryness, and take on revived freshness and vitality.

All these amazing things happened on the side where the hormones were used. Meanwhile no changes occurred on the other side. The same withered, lifeless complexion.
Still another scientist reports in effect, improvement in the skin of women past menopause was striking. These women looked like the years had been turned back toward their youthful "pre-change" appearance.
I've seen this myself. I have seen the improvement so rapid that in just two days women looked younger. And what a lift to the spirits! I cannot truthfully say that women of 60 felt like they were 20 again. But I have seen the light come back into their eyes—their chins raised with proud confidence—the rest for living returned—because—I presume—to look younger is to feel younger.

Now to select a good estrogenic hormone preparation, here is what you need to know: the strength of the hormone preparations must be treated on spots that need it most because Hormonex Beauty Serum is so powerful a drop of it gives skin over three times as many hormone units as a dab of cream. Wonderful about the eyes and mouth, on the throat.

CAPTAIN FLORENCE RILEY
... plays record on German-built phonograph

Lady Captain Is Seeing United States, Europe

Often the expression is heard "Join the Air Force and Travel." Capt. Florence Riley, Adjutant of the 331st Fighter Interceptor Squadron is a member of this branch of the service who has done just that.

Miss Riley joined the Armed Forces in December of 1942, just a year after Pearl Harbor changed the course of history. She originally came from Martinsville, Ind., a small town outside Indianapolis.

A sense of family duty motivated Capt. Riley's entrance into the Women's Air Force. She had a brother who was unable to serve in World War II, so she filled the gap for her family.

"I served in Germany during the occupation," the officer relates, "and although I visited other European countries during my tour of duty there, this was my favorite."

The career woman recalls that

German people love flowers and grew them wherever possible in profusion.

"You would see a workman in threadbare clothing walking down the street with a little bouquet of flowers in his hand," she remembers.

"Germans called America the Land of the big PX," the woman relates with a laugh.

During World War II Captain Riley was stationed in Amariillo where she worked as an administrator and recruiter. She was discharged in January of 1946 then recalled in October, 1951, at the beginning of the Korean conflict.

After she was recalled, Miss Riley was stationed in Pennsylvania before being moved to Tinker AFB in Midwest City, Okla. From there she came to Big Spring.

Capt. Riley's mother, Mrs. Opal Riley, lives with her and has accompanied her to Germany and various other places where the officer has been stationed.

In the duplex living room of 8-B Albrook is a German-made radio and record combination.

"I don't like rock and roll or long hair," says the captain. "I like the music that is somewhere in between the two." Her record collection includes many albums by Perry Como, and spirituals by Tennessee Ernie Ford and Pat Boone.

The most fascinating hobby Capt. Riley has, however, is collecting dolls. The officer has 120 dolls from all over the United States and several foreign countries including Holland, Belgium, Luxembourg, France, Italy and Spain.

"Like everything else around here," said the much-moved WAF officer, "they are still packed away."

Lamesa Hospital Will Dedicate Chapel Today

LAMESA—The chapel at Medical Arts Hospital, which has recently been furnished by the Medical Arts Hospital Auxiliary, will be dedicated in services from 2 to 4 p.m. Sunday.

The chapel, which had been used as a room where families of the critically ill might have privacy, has been carpeted; drapes have been installed; a large Bible on an open stand is at the worship center along with a book of remembrance and symbols of the various religions.

The first dedication service is to be held at 2 p.m., and the services will continue at intervals throughout the two hour period conducted by the ministers of the various churches of Lamesa. In charge of arrangements is the Rev. W. C. Emberton, president of the Ministerial Alliance.

More details regarding the dedication services will be made from the various pulpits of the churches at their 11 a.m. worship services Sunday, it is announced.

Simple Games Are Staging Comeback For Whole Family

Simple games are in style again. Maybe it's the effect of television. Maybe it's just the swing of the pendulum. Whatever the reason, the Gay Nineties custom of parlor games is back again full force.

The new game crop for this season is long on games intended for the whole family rather than just the children. Competitive interest is scaled to fit the abilities and interests of both parents and small fry.

Some are based on popular television show formats. And the popularity of the game endures even after the TV show is off the air. After all, nobody is going to accuse a family circle of "rigging" a quiz game.

One new game, a top hit throughout the country, is based on concentration and memory. It is a streamlined new version of rebus puzzle solving, a favorite family game in great-grandmother's day. An ingenious roll-note puzzle changer, providing 30 feet of rebus wit challenges gives an up-to-the-minute touch. Players compete for fabulous make-believe prizes such as mink coats, diamonds and cars, represented by pictures.

Other currently popular games are based on Wild West adventures, often tied in with a television show cast. Some of these Western thrillers include Restless Gun, Wells Fargo, The Rifleman, Cheyenne and Sergeant Preston.

Still another revival of family games of long ago is the current popularity of mazes. The object is to roll a small ball from one side, in and out of an intricate maze, to the other side of a clear plastic box.

Clear plastic score cards give another modern touch to versions of old favorites. A wipe-off target game, for example, bases play on tracking down missiles and provides each player with a radar screen.

Sneed-Fuqua Wedding Rite Read In Odessa

The home of Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Johnson in Odessa was the setting for the wedding of Jean Fuqua and F. L. Sneed Saturday evening. The bride is the sister of Mrs. Johnson.

Parents of the couple are Mrs. Marcella Fuqua, 205 Owens, Paul Fuqua of Odessa and Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Sneed of Seminole.

The double ring pledge was read by the Rev. G. W. Wolf, pastor of the Southside Methodist Church, Odessa.

For her wedding, the bride chose a frock of lace over satin in winter white. Her tiny hat was a winter white satin clip encrusted with seed pearls, and she carried small white roses on a white Bible.

As something old, there were 2 cups diced cooked turkey, ¼ to ½ cup flour, 1-3 cup salad oil.

Place water, onion and salt in saucepan and bring to a boil. Sprinkle in cereal so boiling does not stop. Cook, stirring constantly until thickened. Cover and let stand in warm place 10 minutes. Stir in mace and diced turkey. Pour into slightly oiled loaf pan (8 by 4 by 2½ inches). Chill overnight. Cut into 8 to 10 slices. Dip in flour and brown 4 slices at a time in a skillet in oil or bacon fat; reserving ½ of the salad oil for the second frying.

Stir in mace and diced turkey. Pour into slightly oiled loaf pan (8 by 4 by 2½ inches). Chill overnight. Cut into 8 to 10 slices. Dip in flour and brown 4 slices at a time in a skillet in oil or bacon fat; reserving ½ of the salad oil for the second frying.

Jeannene Pieper Is Complimented At Bridal Luncheon

LAMESA — Jeannene Pieper, bride-elect of Donnie Bryant of Big Spring was in the honor spotlight when a luncheon was staged in the home of Mrs. Tammy Gibson Thursday to compliment her. Mrs. C. H. Midgley was cohostess.

Blue and white, the colors selected for the holiday wedding, were carried out in the decorations with blue lights illuminating a white tree on the buffet, which was laid with a royal blue cloth under white lace. Single lapers formed the nucleus of the blue and white arrangements for the quartet tables where guests were seated.

Favorite recipes of each of the guests were presented in a recipe cabinet to Miss Pieper.

Beautiful skirt treatment! Marcy Lee's fan-skirt shirtdress makes a fine point of fabric as a basic part of design. Blowing out from blue or beige top, Milton C. Blum's woven Roman stripes in a silky blend of cotton and acetate. Proving again that it's penny-wise and fashionable to say "Show me Marcy Lee." Sizes 8 to 18.

Entertain With Holiday Brunch

LAMESA — Heralding the approach of Thanksgiving week and welcoming the holiday season, a Thanksgiving brunch was held Friday in the Delphin Club House.

Descending gilded autumn leaves along the club house walls and on the sextet tables set the decorative theme. On the stage a gilded tree, hung with tangerines, was flanked by ceramic pheasants; the club house mantle was banked with fruits of the season.

Centering each of the sextet tables where guests were served was a pilgrim couple, dressed in black and white and mounted on styrofoam.

Sharing hostess duties were Mrs. Carroll T. Beckham, Mrs. Rex Dunn, Mrs. George Hansard, Mrs. C. H. Midgley, Mrs. Ray Renner, Mrs. Wesley Roberts and Mrs. Glenn White.

Give 'Em Money In Different Ways

AP Newsfeatures

One gift that's always sure to hit the spot is plain old money.

People who get gray hairs worrying over the Christmas gift list would save time and trouble by simply sending a check and letting the recipient decide how to use it.

There are new and imaginative ways to send a gift of money this year. Banks throughout the country now have special-occasion gift checks, available at almost any bank. These may be enclosed with your regular Christmas card or in a seasonal envelope, also supplied by the bank.

Another bright idea is to open a bank account in a friend's name, and send the passbook in a gift envelope. This is especially good for small fry.

For a grown-up you could open a checking account and send a checkbook with his name and address imprinted on each check. Just go to his bank to place the order.

Or, as an off-beat gift, pay a year's rent on a safe deposit box for a friend who is careless about his valuable papers.

Great idea, money. Everybody appreciates it.

Elvis McCrary; cohostess was Mrs. Jack Johnson.

Presenting the program were Mrs. J. G. Lewis, who demonstrated wrapping packages, and Mrs. Lucian Jones, who discussed the origins of gift-making and wrapping.

An unusual note on the meeting was that the entire membership was present at the gathering.

Mrs. Escot Compton presented a report from the recent meeting of the city federation.

Selected as a project for the coming year is a fund for awarding a nursing scholarship; to raise money for the project, members will sponsor book reviews, it was decided.

The club will assist with the Christmas party to be given at the Big Spring State Hospital on Dec. 22. The club party is scheduled for Dec. 11 in the home of Mrs. Merrill Creighton, 208 Washington Place.

Mrs. Marshall Cauley and Mrs. Lonnie Coker were welcomed into the club as new members.

Family Parties Make Entertaining Easier

Family parties are the rage again. Bigger families created the trend, for how else can you entertain in a tiny house? Shut the youngsters up in a room? Perish the thought! Small fry will surely become mischievous and a nuisance, and why shouldn't they rebel? It is their home, too.

The easiest way to have fun during the holidays and see your friends too, is to invite them and their children. Maybe the house will take a beating, but that's to be expected.

The open house idea for holidays, popular generations ago, is a wonderful and inexpensive way to entertain. You can serve simple fare, exhibit your choice silver, decorative china and glassware.

One family uses the two-table buffet technique, one table for small fry, one for adults. If you'd like to experiment with it, keep everything on the tables pretty much the same.

The cloths could be bright green or red felt or linen. The punch bowls could be the same. Hand crafted punch bowls look traditional, even though contemporary.

Children could have a punch or fruit juice or a creamy milkshake. Parents can take their traditional egg nog with cognac.

The menu on that day should be simple—small sandwiches, cakes, cheese, crackers. After all it's the get-together that counts, and if done between meal times, it will be fun no matter what is served.

The children's table could have small bowls of lollipops, candy canes, balloons to keep their interest alive. The eldest child in the household could be appointed host or hostess at the table, a good way to teach them the ways of gracious entertaining.

A gay grab bag filled with tiny inexpensive gifts that will keep the youngsters busy for a while can start the party off right—all the children might disappear with coloring books, things to build or push, and let the parents have fun. It's a good plan, and sometimes it

For Family Fun

The small fry table should be as near like Dad's and Mom's as possible, with matching milliglass bowls holding fruit punch for juniors, eggnog for the adults. Table cloths can be decorated to suit the season—fruits and vegetables for Thanksgiving or any of the variety of Christmas motifs for the yuletide.

works. A small record player in the children's area can hold their attention for a brief period.

If you have a large circle of friends, this party can be duplicated throughout the holidays. Once you have the essential decorations and table settings organized, there is nothing more to do but supply food and clean the house when the party is over, a much easier way to entertain than at a sit-down meal.

A great many clever hostesses do all their entertaining during one period. Once you have invested in a big cleaning chore, fresh flowers, new clothes, perhaps, why not entertain all your friends at a series of parties, and relax for a long time. It's one way to pay off a lot of debts with a minimum of effort and expense.

Coffee Given By HS Class

FORSAN — A coffee was held in the homemaking living room of Forsan High School for mothers and friends of the second year home economics class Friday morning.

On display was furniture that the girls had refinished, and the interior decorating recently completed in the living room. The serving table was covered with an ecru lace cloth, and centered with an autumn arrangement of dried materials.

Dolores Parker and Leonilda Webb served as hostesses for the occasion, assisted by their classmates, Jan Stockton, Lana Fulbright, Jackie Whetsel, Billie Blankenship, Sandra Griffith, Olga Rodriguez, Darla Dunagan, and Joyce Shoultz.

Thirty guests attended the affair.

Tourists May Be Forgetful, But The Majority Is Honest

ORMOND BEACH, Fla. (AP) — They leave their children and pets behind but they're honest and naturally Merrill Ellnor loves them.

Ellnor means tourists — and tourists mean his living. He operates 650 villas housing as many as 3,200 guests a night. Since he opened in 1949, he has cashed 120,000 checks and only $316.12 of these proved worthless.

"Right off hand," says Helen Lovell, the operator's chief housekeeper, "I can't think of anything that hasn't been left behind at one time or another."

An out-of-state couple traveling with their five children checked out one afternoon and, as usual, two maids were sent to prepare the villa for the next occupants.

The maids found a 5-year-old lad on the living room floor reading comic books. "Hasn't your family gone?" he was asked. He waved his hand and said without looking up, "Oh they're around."

His parents returned in an hour to get him. Another family left their pet pooch tied to a bed post for three hours—and they said when they came back it might have been longer if one of their children hadn't suddenly noticed the absence.

Miss Lovell says many guests inadvertently carry off items but the majority is returned. She says such a case is typical:

"Dear Mr. Ellnor: Enclosed find frying pan . . . The pan of heavy cast iron had been carefully wrapped and sent first class mail—the postage far more than the pan was worth."

SHRIMP SAUCE
A cup of mayonnaise mixed with a quarter cup of French dressing plus catchup or chili sauce, horseradish and Worcestershire sauce makes a delicious sauce for a shrimp cocktail.

SECRET GARDEN
Bride's 3-piece place setting (place knife, fork and teaspoon) $19.50
Standard 6-piece place setting $36.75

Jot It Down
Worth knowing: When you use a candy thermometer, make absolutely sure that the bulb does not touch either the bottom or the side of the pan in which you are cooking the candy mixture.
Know the "stiff peak" stage when you are beating egg whites? To determine it, lift the beater slowly straight up; the whites should stand straight up in points or peaks.

ADD 'SPASH' WITH COLOR
Don't neglect the bathroom if you are refreshing your home for the coming season. Even if the permanent fixtures and tiles are in good condition, many of the smaller accessories undoubtedly will need some attention.
Check over your linen supplies first. Replace those that are thin and getting ragged. If a large number need replacing, this would be the time to introduce a fresh color scheme to the room.
It isn't difficult. Since many wall areas are being done in neutral or soft tones now, your accessories could easily establish the predominant color theme. Today, guest and bath towels, face cloths, mats and shower curtains come in a wide selection of colors to meet various decorating plans. They are being color coordinated, too.
After choosing the larger accessories, consider the colors for your bathroom and facial tissues, tumblers and other holders. These are important, little articles that will mark you as a discriminating home decorator. Fortunately, even here you will find it easier to coordinate your color scheme.
Because of the growing demand for this, bathroom tissues now can be had in leading decorator colors of aqua, pink, yellow, as well as white. Facial tissues, tumblers and toothbrush holders also come in these popular shades.
Remember, though, no single color need be carried out in all of the accessories. Bathroom decorating trends today lean toward the two-tone effect in small rooms, one dominant and the other a soft pastel. In larger bathrooms you can successfully combine three colors.
Cheese Biscuits
Sprinkle biscuit dough with cheese and shape jelly-roll fashion; cut off slices and bake in a hot oven. Good with creamed fish.

Lomax Community, HD Club Have Luncheon
The Lomax community joined members of the Lomax Home Demonstration Club Thursday for a Thanksgiving luncheon at the community center.
It was a family affair, with turkey furnished by Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Long and women bringing covered dishes to fill in the remainder of the meal.
Announcement was made that there will not be a regular meeting until January, but two Christmas parties are in store for members.
The group will attend the HD Council holiday party, set for Dec. 9 in the old student union building at Howard County Junior College.

Mrs. Waymon Eichson will be hostess for the club party on Dec. 14, which will be a covered dish luncheon. There will be a gift exchange and secret pals will be revealed.
One member will be at the concession stand for the Herford Show on Dec. 14, and four pies are to be furnished by the club.

Jot It Down
Worth knowing: When you use a candy thermometer, make absolutely sure that the bulb does not touch either the bottom or the side of the pan in which you are cooking the candy mixture.
Know the "stiff peak" stage when you are beating egg whites? To determine it, lift the beater slowly straight up; the whites should stand straight up in points or peaks.

Don't neglect the bathroom if you are refreshing your home for the coming season. Even if the permanent fixtures and tiles are in good condition, many of the smaller accessories undoubtedly will need some attention.
Check over your linen supplies first. Replace those that are thin and getting ragged. If a large number need replacing, this would be the time to introduce a fresh color scheme to the room.
It isn't difficult. Since many wall areas are being done in neutral or soft tones now, your accessories could easily establish the predominant color theme. Today, guest and bath towels, face cloths, mats and shower curtains come in a wide selection of colors to meet various decorating plans. They are being color coordinated, too.
After choosing the larger accessories, consider the colors for your bathroom and facial tissues, tumblers and other holders. These are important, little articles that will mark you as a discriminating home decorator. Fortunately, even here you will find it easier to coordinate your color scheme.
Because of the growing demand for this, bathroom tissues now can be had in leading decorator colors of aqua, pink, yellow, as well as white. Facial tissues, tumblers and toothbrush holders also come in these popular shades.

Spring Swimwear In Extremes Both Ways

DOROTHY ROE
AP Women's Editor

There's maximum exposure in the 1960 California swimwear lineup — and also maximum coverage.

The controversial Bikini is present and accounted for, but it usually is adjustable and almost always is accompanied by a cover-up beach coat, jacket or stole. Drawstrings on legs and bra of the Bikinis permit the wearer to adjust it for as much or as little exposure as she desires, depending upon her mood and the audience.

The cover-up idea is an important note throughout the California spring collections. With jackets or stoles accompanying many bare-top sun-dresses and dance dresses.

Swim suits may have matching skirts as well as jackets and tops, so that a girl may arrive at the beach correctly dressed for the street, and by a mere process of subtraction be ready for the surf. When she's ready to go home she simply slips the skirt and jacket over her suit (after adequate drying-off, of course) and is ready for cocktails or what-have-you.

Black and white are important in the 1960 beach scene, as well as in the general fashion picture. Black-and-white prints rate high in all categories, and solid black or white swimsuits are among the most popular in the lineup.

There also are many high colors, however, in the California tradition of hot pastels, so effective beneath the western sun. For girls whose figures or modesty can't take the exposure of the Bikini there are many other more covered-up styles, ranging from one-piece knits to dressmaker suits with brief pleated skirts. And of course there's the big news in "surfers" — the beach outfits with tight pants reaching to the calf of the leg, worn with separate tops.

Baptist Choirs To Present Program Of Season In Lamesa

LAMESA — The four graded choirs of the First Baptist Church will present music of the Thanksgiving season at the regular morning and evening worship services of the church.

At 11 a.m. the Church, Chapel and Carol choirs will combine with a brass ensemble to present the anthem, "Praise to the Lord, the Almighty." Approximately 100 voices are in the three choirs, and the brass ensemble members are Bill Petteway, John Boswell, Linda Currie, Donald Wilton, Donald Bethel and Ronnie Huddle.

Muffins Make Little Gobblers

Here is an idea in muffin decoration that will thrill your little ones Thanksgiving Day. Let them each have their own little muffin turkey gobbler.

- MUFFIN GOBBLETS
Yield: 15 muffins
- 1-3 cup sugar
 - 1 cup fresh cranberries
 - 2 cups sifted flour
 - 3 tsp. baking powder
 - 1-3 cup sugar
 - 1/4 tsp. ground cinnamon
 - 1 egg, slightly beaten
 - 1/4 cup milk
 - 1/4 cup melted butter or margarine

Wash 1 cup fresh cranberries thoroughly removing all stems. Place in a small saucepan with 1-3 cup sugar. Cover and heat to boiling. Continue heating for another 2 to 3 minutes or until berries are soft and some have popped.

Sift dry ingredients together into a bowl. Combine egg, milk and butter. Add this liquid along with the cooked cranberries to the flour mixture. Stir just enough to mix ingredients. Fill well-greased muffin tins about 3/4 full of batter. Bake in a hot oven (400 degrees F) for 25 minutes. Turn muffins out of tins immediately and place on a rack.

To make turkey tails, string wooden picks with four raisins, alternating dark and light raisins. Top each with a whole fresh cranberry. Place four raisin-cranberry picks side by side on the top edge of each muffin. To make the turkey heads, string three cranberries on a wooden pick. Push into muffin on opposite side of tail. Serve warm with holiday turkey.

STRIPPERS TAKE OVER

Cotton Crop Near Finale Of Harvest

Dawson County is within two per cent of having its 1959 cotton harvested. Howard County, with 28,776 bales ginned out of an estimated crop total of 32,000 is 90 per cent completed.

These counties lead other West Texas cotton counties in quantity of cotton now in bales.

Texas Employment Commission, which has been making weekly cotton surveys since the season began, estimated Saturday that three more weeks would see an end to the harvest. No additional surveys will be made after that date and the final report will be posted around the first of the year.

Strippers are much in evidence in the offices served by the Sweetwater county of the TEC. Fewer of the mechanical pullers are being used in the other cotton counties.

More than 260 strippers are in the fields in Nolan, Fisher, Scurry and Mitchell counties. Nolan, with 83 per cent of its 13,500, has a large number of the machines working. Fisher County, where only 73 per cent, or 27,806 of a crop of 38,000 bales, has been gathered, has 10 strippers at work. Fisher's crop total has been revised 3,000 bales up by the TEC. Scurry County has 22,296 of its 30,000 crop ginned. Eighty strip-

Christmas Seals Battle Tuberculosis

Intradermal tests, such as is being administered by Mrs. Jennie McEvers, nurse, to Madeline Joyce Hildebrand, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Hildebrand, indicate the presence of dread tuberculosis and provide opportunity to destroy it before it becomes dangerous. Such tests are provided with funds from the sale of Christmas Seals such as those pictured in the upper right of this photograph.

Agricultural Census Will Begin Field Work Monday

Field work on the 1959 federal census of agriculture will begin Monday.

For the past three days Ivan J. Barber, Colorado City, has been supervising an intensive period of training for area census takers, including four for Howard County. They are Mrs. Bama DeVaney, who will canvass the area north of Coahoma; Mrs. Frances Zant, who will be in the Luther area; Mrs. Ruby Cheatham, who will handle the northwest area of the county; and Mrs. Macil Vines, who will canvass the south part of the county.

The training course covered the use of the census questionnaire, census definitions, suggestions for interviewing and map reading. Emphasis has been placed this year on the precise location of every farm and in obtaining complete and accurate information.

QUESTIONNAIRES MAILED

Farm census questionnaires have been mailed to all farm operators. Census takers will visit all the farms to collect the questionnaires, and if needed, assist the farmer in filling out the report form.

The 1959 census of agriculture is the 17th in a series of national

Scholarships Are Available

HOUSTON (AP)—The philanthropic foundation formed by the late Jesse H. Jones, former publisher of the Houston Chronicle, has established 50 new $500 scholarships for Texas high school graduates.

Houston Endowment Inc. made a $25,000 grant to the Texas Interscholastic League Foundation. Ten scholarships a year for five years will go to participants in the league's literary and academic contests.

Those receiving the scholarships, to be known as the Jesse H. Jones Interscholastic League Foundation Scholarships, will have to go to the University of Texas or Texas Western University.

The grant is the first to be secured from outside sources by the foundation, which was organized by a group of school administrators last June. The group decided to seek additional scholarships for league literary and academic winners. It said ample college scholarships are available for participants in the league's athletic program.

John T. Jones Jr., president of the Houston Chronicle and a member of the board of trustees of Houston Endowment, said the new scholarship program is designed to aid students in smaller cities.

Recipients therefore must graduate from schools smaller than those in Class AAAA.

Applicants must be regional or state winners in debate, declamation, poetry reading, original oration, extemporaneous speaking, journalism, number sense, slide rule and ready writing contests.

Huxley Sees Aid As Birth Control Tool

NEW YORK (AP)—Sir Julian Huxley, British biologist, says United Nations' assistance to underdeveloped countries should be limited to those reducing their rate of population increase.

Sir Julian spoke Thursday before the Planned Parenthood Federation of America, which tendered him its annual Albert Lasker Award.

Report From Japan

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Only when the present wave of economic-materialism breaks in Japan can a major turn to religion be expected, says the Rev. Thomas W. Takahashi, a Maryknoll Roman Catholic missionary home on furlough.

A Devotional For Today

I will give thee, thanks in the great congregation: I will praise thee among much people. (Psalms 35:18.)
PRAYER: O Lord, we would prove our thanks to Thee for all Thou hast done and are doing for us. Help us to do this the best way we can — by dedicating ourselves in service to Thee. Our Redeemer is Christ, and in His name we pray. Amen.
 (From The 'Upper Room')

Try To Be Deliberately Safe

This has nothing to do with the international situation, inflation, missiles or cranberries. It is simply an appeal to you to be consciously more careful with your driving for the next 45 days.
 During that period we will have crowded in three holiday seasons plus a mighty busy Christmas shopping period.
 We all will be under one or more kind of pressures—pressure to hurry home from the store or office in order to hurry on to a holiday social engagement.
 Or pressure to hurry from one town to another.
 Or pressure to make up lost time on a busy highway or street.
 There will be a hundred little annoyances and reasons to make us ignore our safety learning and the voice of common sense.

 The only way to beat the temptation to take a chance is to be conscious of the temptation building up to take that chance.
 In other words, we need to deliberately set out to be more careful during this 45-day period—to drive just a little slower, to allow just a little more for the possibility of error by the other fellow.
 Of all the seasons of a year for a tragedy to occur the holiday season is the one which will probably perpetuate it longest in memory. Let's all work hard at keeping it a happy time unclouded by hurt or loss

This Ought To Help

The City of Big Spring is due to start this week on the cutting and cleaning of a drainage ditch along the T&P tracks in the western part of town.
 Earle Reed has given right-of-way for this purpose, thus making a very helpful project possible. In so doing he has contributed to the health and possibly the safety of parts of the city.

of the draw from the west end of town to the eastern extremities.
 The water just won't flow fast of its own accord; it has to have a head to carry it along. By cutting the ditches and then maintaining them so that grass and weeds will not impede and stall the flow, the city will help an orderly flow. While this will not prevent flooding in times of exceptionally heavy downpours, it will make for complete drainage when the worst has passed.
 Right now the inability to get the water out of the area has resulted in stagnant conditions in the lowlands, and during the past summer we had an almost critical mosquito infestation. Health authorities are convinced that the new ditches will help alleviate this situation and perhaps minimize the mosquito problem next summer.

Good Idea—But For All

WASHINGTON—"Failure to prosecute" has, in effect, become a moral, if not a legal, defect in Mississippi, according to Attorney General Rogers. But will the sins of omission of New York State also be exposed to the same klieg lights of publicity? And who is now to monitor the cases dropped by the department of justice here?
 Possible it was thought that it would be good politics nationally to point publicly to the failure of a county grand jury in Mississippi to render any indictments in the lynching of an accused rapist. The Federal Bureau of Investigation, according to Mr. Rogers, was ordered into the case and spent about $80,000 in the investigation, although it was later decided that no federal law was involved.
 Should federal money, therefore, also be spent to investigate the strange behavior of the New York State authorities in the TV scandals? It is openly admitted that, although scores of persons led before the grand jury more than a year ago in New York County, only one person has been indicted there for perjury.
 "I believe in states' rights," says the attorney general, "but I also believe in state responsibility."

empaneled on the jury which convicted him. The attorney of Mack Charles Parker, the accused rapist, announced that he would seek the same relief for his client—one which the Supreme Court has often granted in recent years. Governor Coleman of Mississippi, who has repeatedly condemned lynching, has said that it was this possibility—that the accused Negro would go free on a technicality—which probably precipitated the lynching.
TECHNICALITIES OFTEN interfere with effective prosecution. Thus, for instance, residents of the national capital were reading Wednesday on the front pages all about Mr. Rogers' interest in the Mississippi lynching case, while on another page was an item revealing that a federal judge here in the District of Columbia had blocked the use of certain evidence against a suspected rapist who happens to be a Negro.
 The episode concerns a 33-year-old Negro woman who was forced into a garage, raped, and robbed of her purse. Two police officers went to the home of the arrested suspect and asked his mother if they could search the house for the woman's purse. They said she gave her consent, and they found the billfold belonging to the raped woman. Now Federal Judge Youngdahl says this evidence cannot be used in court. He pointed out that higher courts have ruled that such consent must be "freely and intelligently given," and said that the mother admitted the officers because she thought she had a duty to do so. The judge added:
 "It is difficult to believe that this particular woman understood the significance of what the officers told her; it is quite implausible to believe she was aware a search warrant was a prerequisite to a valid search."

MR. ROGERS called a special news conference Tuesday to say it was clear to him "if the states are going to disregard responsibilities to the extent of not even calling witnesses" in such a case as the Mississippi lynching, "then the federal government must consider something else."
 There are many things the federal government will have to start considering if this view of state responsibility is maintained.
 One thing needed is a study of what causes lynchings and the extent to which technicalities in the law have been used to permit persons accused of crimes to escape punishment.
 In the Mississippi case, for example, feeling ran high in February 1959 when a 23-year-old Negro, Mack Charles Parker, was arrested for raping a pregnant white woman in the presence of her four-year-old daughter, but there were no incidents while he was being held for the grand jury, which indicted him, or thereafter until just before his trial was to begin in April 1959. At about the same time unrest rose throughout the state about another case, in which Robert Lee Goldsby, a Negro given the death sentence in 1955 for murdering a white woman, again had had his execution stayed and had been granted a new trial by the federal courts. The reason was that no Negroes had been

THIS IS THE KIND of technical argument that is often invoked as a means of ruling out important evidence in criminal cases. Another species of technicality which is supported by decisions of the Supreme Court of the United States rules out any confession made by an arrested suspect when there has been an unnecessary delay in arraignment him before a magistrate. But how long a time can elapse before an arraignment must be made has never been determined by the Supreme Court.
 Attorney General Rogers is to be commended for opening up the whole subject of why state grand juries or state prosecutors do not always prosecute. Incidentally, he might look into the shortcomings of law-enforcement agencies in various cities and towns in those states where steel plants are located and where the supervisory personnel of the companies were in recent months forcibly prevented or threatened with bodily harm when they tried to enter their own offices during the steel strike.

Multiplies Fish
EAST CAMDEN, N. J.—The care and feeding of two small zebra fish is simple. But problems can develop when the number grows to between 500 and 1,000.
 Jeffrey McLaughlin, 14, won the two small fish on a bet, and began his hobby as an amateur ichthyologist with an ordinary fish bowl.
 Now he has eight aquariums, with five additional tanks in reserve in the basement.
 He has added representatives of 20 varieties of fish and so far has run into only one real problem.
 He can pick out and identify each breed—but he has trouble spelling the names.

MR. BREGER
 The annual amount—$100,000 to $200,000,000 a year—will help only slightly to reduce U. S. balance-of-payments deficits—$3.5 billion in 1958 and perhaps four billion this year. But the decision flashes a yellow light. Secretary Anderson is telling Japan, Germany, Great Britain, and other nations that they ought to share the burden of helping countries less advanced than themselves—and not leave the whole job to the U. S. If an underdeveloped country wants to buy German or French or British machinery, then Secretary Anderson should extend helping-hand credit.
 But Anderson is criticized: This is a big step backward to achieve a small gain forward.

Dollar 'Gap' Has Now Become A Dollar 'Surplus'

What is this "Buy-American" to-do all about? How is it that suddenly the arms-across-the-ocean, free-trade Eisenhower Administration is accused of protectionist reversion to 17th Century mercantilism?
 You can blame it on success—success of the Marshall Plan. When World War II ended, the nations of the world, particularly western Europe, were short goods of all kinds—food, clothing, machinery. They had but one nation to turn to—the United States. But what were they going to use for money?
 The Marshall Plan filled what was known as "the dollar gap." And today, a month after Gen. George C. Marshall's death, that brilliant conception has created a new problem: A "dollar surplus."
 No longer does Great Britain, or Western Germany, or France, or Italy have to scrimp, scrounge, and scramble to earn funds to purchase American supplies. They have dollar leeway. A change for the better has come over the world.
 How did this come about?
 In the last nine years, the United States has run a $17,700,000,000 "balance-of-payments deficit." Our exports and our services to other countries (which they pay for) have consistently run below our imports, our travel account, our loans, gifts, and military outlays (which we pay for).
 We met this deficit by letting loose of $5,000,000,000 in gold. We paid out to foreigners $12,700,000,000, which they kept in American banks and used to buy short-term U. S. securities, usually Treasury bills and certificates.

 Our gold holdings, which at one time exceeded $23,000,000,000, have fallen to less than $19,000,000,000. Belgium's holdings have increased from $700,000,000 to $1,300,000,000; Western Germany's from next to nothing to $2,700,000,000; Great Britain's from $1,800,000,000 to $3,200,000,000.
 This shift in gold is good. It marks the end of the postwar economic era of dollar stringency. It signifies that European countries are able to stand on their own economic feet without Marshall props.
 As gold holdings of other countries rose, so did dollar claims against the U. S. Today, they amount to $19,000,000,000. That's more than this country's stock of gold.

WHAT'S BACK OF TIE-IN LOANS?
 Secretary Anderson wants to stimulate purchases in U. S. to stop outflow of gold and dollars.
 "Reduce tariffs," we say, "get rid of quotas, let currencies be freely convertible. Freedom permits maximum exchange of goods; it enables countries to buy in the cheapest markets, sell in the dearest. This helps consumers all over the world. It raises living standards." Now the principal preacher has changed the gospel. Horror!
 When these points are made, Secretary Anderson paces up and down his office like a lion with a thorn in his toe. He can't bear the "buy-American" tag that has been pinned on him. He protests. Did he not sponsor doubling of quotas for the World Bank and the International Monetary Fund and setting up the International Development Assn. as a "soft-loan" adjunct to the World Bank?
 He answers:
 "America is still very much free-trade minded—against quotas, tariffs, and other restrictions. But the dollar has become the reserve currency of the world. All nations depend on it. If foreigners lose faith in the dollar, there'd be a run on the world's banks. There'd be international panic. The way to avoid this is to slowly but surely correct the imbalances in our balance of payments. As Walter Bagehot wrote in his famous 'Lombard Street' 66 years ago, 'Money will not manage itself.'"
 Therefore, we have to increase our exports if we are to continue to make large grants of foreign aid. We have to tell other countries: Accept our goods even as we accept yours, and don't expect us to be the sole grantors of easy credit. You're big boys now, join in.

THIS DAY IN TEXAS
 By CURTIS BISHOP
 Death came on this day in 1887 to Randolph Barnes Marcy, who spent much of his U. S. Army career blazing trails through uncharted West Texas.
 A Massachusetts native, Marcy graduated from West Point and came to Texas in 1845 with Zachary Taylor's Army of Occupation. He fought in the Mexican War, then in 1849 escorted emigrants from Fort Smith to Santa Fe.
 On his return journey he abandoned the Santa Fe Trail to lead his troopers across West Texas. In 1851 he served as commander of the escort of Gen. William G. Belknap, who was selecting sites for West Texas military posts.
 The next year Marcy led an exploring expedition to the headwaters of the Canadian and Red Rivers. He published a report of his journey, "Exploration of Red River of Louisiana in the Year 1852."
 The publication and the markings of the Marcy Trail formed the basis for later expeditions as well as military post locations.
 Marcy also wrote "Prairie Traveler," "Thirty Years of Army Life on the Border," and "Border Reminiscences." He married Mary A. Mann in 1833; they raised three children despite the father's long service on the Texas frontier.
 Marcy retired from active service as a brigadier general in 1861.

Just Leave Everything To The Nurses
 You just can't hardly talk about an illness (which was promised, you know) without bringing doctors and nurses into the picture.
 But, as any stupe can plainly see, doctors can jolly well take care of themselves, so that leaves us with the nurses, a much more pleasant circumstance.
 Without any intent at all to belittle the medical profession, it is now my private conclusion that it's the nurses who really are responsible for the physical well-being of the nation.
 Nurses come in assorted packages.
 Some of 'em are tall, some are short, some are slender, some are well-endowed, some are young, some are old, some are a little less young; some are pretty, some are single, but a surprising number of them are wives and mothers. Some are dark, some are fair; some have a better line of blarney than others.
 Yes, they come in assorted packages, but they are all alike in one respect—a very zealous devotion to the job at hand, which is helping the patient. This goes even for cantankerous patients, and I should know.
 I don't know exactly what is the LVN program (I cleaned vocational nursing up, but I don't know what it is), but I have better than a few prayers of thanksgiving at regular intervals for the LVNs. As I understand it, they are trained under a program which does not meet all the Registered Nurse requirements, but their license indicates that they can do what's to be done, generally speaking, around a hospital. There has been for years, of course, a shortage of RN's. The LVN program helps to overcome this.
 Nurses do a lot of things. While I was around trying to get my money's worth out of the hospital, one was a Thermometer-Jabber, content to walk in and stick the instrument in my mouth; one was a Pill-Bearer; one was a Bath and Bed-Changer; one was a Blood-Taker who, I thought, punctured my arm with unnecessary glee; one was—and we might as well come around to it—a Bedpan-Bringer. (This infamous indignity to mankind—the pan, not the nurse—could merit, and may do it, a column all by itself.) Back to nurses, one was a Looker-Inner, to make sure I hadn't jumped out the window to evade my bill. Then there was a Night Looker-Inner, who appeared in the wee small hours, poking flashlights into patients' faces to see if they were asleep. I sure fooled that one. Every time she trained that light beam in my eyes, I was awake!
 Well, one nurse couldn't be expected to perform all these chores. There are many things to do around a hospital, and believe it or not, I wasn't the only patient demanding services, accommodations. The ploy of it was that with so many attractive ladies coming into the room it was impossible to work up a private love affair with any one. I would decide one day to be in love with Miss Thermometer-Jabber; the next day I'd be in love with Miss Pill-Bearer; the next day I'd be in love with Miss Blood-Taker. It was a time when Miss Blood-Taker was a favorite; and certainly I wanted to make up to Miss Bedpan-Bringer. I even tried to get Miss Night Looker-Inner to turn out her flashlight.
 But she wouldn't do it. Turned out that I was too old a patient to be holding hands with nurses, but danged if I didn't fall in love with every one of them!

The Blessings Of This Life
 On Thursday, Americans all over the world will again be observing our great national day of Thanksgiving. The purpose of Thanksgiving Day is to remind us to be grateful for God's bounty, which has permitted us to grow as a nation from humble, threatened and often starving settlements on the shores of New England and Virginia to our present size and prosperity.
 But there are other important aspects of Thanksgiving of which we should also be reminded. One is to cultivate the attitude of gratitude for personal blessings. Just suppose you did not have them! I remember Dale Carnegie told me he had once tried an experiment of deliberately imagining that he had lost everything: his health, his job, his family, all his friends. Mentally he pictured that he had lost everything. Then in his thoughts he dwelt upon the sad state of affairs into which he had fallen. And the more he thought about it the more unhappy it all seemed.
 Then, he said to himself: "The wonderful truth is that I do have all these things. I haven't lost them at all. I do have my health. I do have my job. I do have my family and my friends." Instantly he felt a great burst of happiness and realized how grateful he should be. He became intensely thankful for the everyday blessings he had been taking for granted.
 Actually, it is excellent psychological procedure and I recommend it to you when you get to feeling that life is treating you badly. It is a good exercise for Thanksgiving Day. Take your own inventory of your everyday blessings, either mentally or even in writing, and then consider how terribly bereft you would be without them. Then remind your-

The Gallup Poll

Rockefeller Has A Long Way To Go
PRINCETON, N. J.—Gov. Nelson Rockefeller has a long way to go if he hopes to overtake Vice President Nixon for the 1960 Republican nomination.
 As for the governor, who is not yet an avowed candidate, steps up his public appearance schedule across the nation, he trails the vice president by a wide margin among Republican voters as their choice for 1960.
 At present, 67 per cent of Republican voters interviewed by the Gallup Poll say they would like to see Nixon be the party's standard-bearer next year; 19 per cent say they would prefer Rockefeller.
 The situation today is little changed from that of one month ago when Nixon's popularity for the nomination with the GOP rank-and-file had risen to a new high point.
 The present standings do not reflect the full impact of the New York governor's recent trip to the Pacific Coast. Just what effect that and subsequent public appearances might have on his popularity will be measured in future Gallup Poll "open primary" tests.
 AS THEY HAVE AT PERIODIC intervals over the last two and a half years, Gallup Poll reporters put this question to a cross-section of Republican voters:
 "Here is a list of men who have been mentioned as possible presidential candidates for the Republican party in 1960. Which one would you like to see nominated as the Republican candidate for president in 1960?"
 Included on the list were the following men:
 Vice President Nixon, Governor Rockefeller, United Nations Delegate Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., former Presidential Assistant Harold E. Stassen and Sen. Clifford Case (N. J.) and Barry Goldwater (Ariz.).
CHOICE OF CANDIDATES (Republicans Only)

	Today	Oct. 1959
Nixon	67	18
Rockefeller	19	18
Lodge	6	4
Stassen	3	4
Others	1	1
None, No Opinion	4	5

Vice President Nixon is particularly strong among younger voters in the Republican party where he is the choice of three out of four for the 1960 nomination.

Another week's gone and Thanksgiving looms closer. All of the college students will be home to visit during the holidays, and everyone will have some time to really relax.

Jackie Hitt, ventriloquist provided entertainment. DeLores Howard discussed the theme of the meeting, the Christmas Pageant. The club has really been working on the Pageant to be presented in the early part of December. Mrs. F. C. Gambill is working with the choir along with Mrs. J. O. Johansen who is directing the Pageant. Two of the main parts, those of Mary and Joseph, will be portrayed by Linda Greene and Rayford Harrison.

SCHOOL SPIRIT

How's this for an example of school spirit? Coach Mitchell Malouf's biology classes have been answering roll call beginning with the first week of school with a phrase to beat the opposing team of that Friday night's game. Following this, all of the students would yell for fifteen seconds. All of this was done without any prompting on Mr. Malouf's part; strictly student's. Each student feels that the few seconds taken at the beginning of the period was well worth the time. Keep up the good spirit!

The Bible Club met at the home of Sally Pachall Tuesday evening. Group singing was led by DeLores Howard and Sally. For a program, a scripture was read

New NHS Members
The twenty-nine young people above are very elite people in Big Spring High School. They are the newest members of the National Honor Society organization in the school. In order to be chosen for membership in the group, a person must be outstanding in scholarship (90 or above average), leadership, service and character.

29 New Members Are Inducted Into NHS

The Big Spring chapter of the National Honor Society held its first induction of the season on Wednesday, November 18. It was conducted in a regular school assembly by the student body called witness it, Jane Cowper, president, presided over the induction which was the first of its type held in Big Spring High. Janet Thorburn, Shirley Terry, James Kinman, Mary Jane Engstrom, and Mack Green gave speeches on Service, the Torch, Character, Scholarship, and Leadership. Following the speeches, Mr. Roy Worley, high school principal, read the names of the candidates. Each person was escorted to the stage by an old member of the Society. None of the candidates knew they had been selected to be in the honored group until their name was called. The 29 new members are Sharon Agee, Iameta Carr, Lyn Clawson, Kay Croweover, Annette Harris, Jane Harrington, Louise Plew, Cleo Thomas, Sandra McCollough, Deanna O'Brien, Barbara Moelling, Larry Moore, Nancy Wicks, Jenna McCarty, Mickey Kenney, Zeke Munoz, Mary Locke Crossland, Gary Walker, Ross Reagan, Judy Lynn McCrary, M. Dianna Harris, 9th grade candidate, was crowned Harvest Queen at the Harvest Carnival Dance at Runnels Friday night. Ninth graders really got behind Dianna and raised over $30 for their nominee, thus making her the winner. The two other queen candidates were Peggy Spier for the 7th and Mary Thornton, 8th. The Carnival started Friday evening at 6:30 and ended at 11 when the dance was over. Each grade sponsored booths, and the money made in these booths counted as votes for the queen nominees. The ninth grade sponsored the Food booth, Beatnik booth and Dunking booth. The eighth grade had the Tunnel of Love, the Spook Room and the Cake Walk. Seventh grade had charge of the Dart Booth, Ring the Toe booth and Fortune Teller booth.

FFA Donkey Ballgame Held Friday Night

By ROSALIE DEVANEY
The Donkey Ball game between the FFA boys and the Lions Club Friday night was quite a sight to see. I'm sure there were really some sore muscles Saturday morning. A large crowd attended this ball game, sponsored by the Lions Club.

Our basketball girls played HCJC in a scrimmage game on Tuesday afternoon. We lost by four points, which wasn't bad at all. Let's stay in there girls, and show 'em that Combona is on the map! Their next game is Tuesday night with Sands.

Wow! Was everyone happy to see this week come to an end! Thursday and Friday were spent taking those terrible six weeks tests. Sure hope we all made it okay.

Clarence Massey and the former Deloras Rich were married last weekend. This came as a surprise to everyone. Best wishes to them.

We missed Coach Spann who was out of school all last week due to the death of his father-in-law in Alabama.

Royce Aberger returned from a deer hunting trip on Wednesday. He didn't get a deer... wonder if he got a DEAR?? Max Kenner left Friday to see if he could get one.

The American Legion helped the seniors by letting them help sell tickets for their annual banquet which was held in the cafeteria Friday night. We want to say "thank you, Legionnaires." And we are sorry that we didn't sell more.

The seniors had two boys in the hospital last week; it's good to see them both "up and at it" again. Harold Aberger evidently needed a rest after the game Friday, and the hospital was the handiest place. He was released Saturday afternoon. Deaton Long didn't think Monday was enough, so he stayed almost a week. It's good to see that you're both doing fine.

Monday morning that they be given charge of the Christmas food project for needy families. If they are given permission, they intend to put three banks in various spots for depositing money of any denomination. They will also put up a food stand for anyone wishing to bring canned food. Food and money will be turned over to the Salvation Army before Christmas. Goal is to feed two families.

At a meeting of the Engineering Club on Friday morning, Clifton Bellamy, local engineer, spoke to the group.

Volleyball Schedule
The volleyball schedule is almost completed, reports Miss Anna Smith, coach. Practice gets under way Dec. 1, and the girls are eyeing the National Volleyball Tournament which will be held at SMU in Dallas on May 12, 13 and 14.

Some returning lettermen to the squad are Wanda Armstrong, Phillips; Jo Ann Howard, Lamesa; Pat Hudgins, Loraine; and Wynona Yarbrough, Canyon. Other girls on the team include Lena Zeitler, Joan Woodbury, Claudene Pyle, Peggy Hammit, Mary Ruth Ashill, Wanda Moore and Bobbie Collins.

In the girls' regular physical ed. classes, a lot of girls are learning the meaning of sore muscles for the first time. They are working on an achievement rating scale, which includes having to do five pull-ups, sit-ups for one minute, and arm-cross, stationary trot and double time rope jumping.

It's too bad that the members of Rooca Rocca Hamma who went on that field trip to Waco last weekend didn't get to go on their fossil-hunting expedition due to the weather. They all came back very disappointed (ha, ha). Didn't I tell you they really went to look over the Baylorites? Another trip is planned for Dec. 5.

Don't forget the assembly Monday morning in the auditorium to elect favorites.

DON'T LAUGH
Guess that's it for this week. Say, if you should see anyone walking around with a pacifier in his mouth or smiling and frowning marks hanging around his neck, don't giggle or smicker. It's just a part of initiation into Delta Psi Omega, the honorary drama fraternity. Other requirements needed to join are, knowing 12 lines from Shakespeare, learning the Greek alphabet and participating in one major production or two one-act plays, either backstage or on stage. That really is it! Have a nice Thanksgiving beginning Thursday. Bye.

League Gets $500 Grants
HONSTON - J. O. Webb, Houston, chairman of the Texas Interscholastic League Foundation, has announced the receipt of a $25,000 grant from the Houston Endowment Corporation to provide 50 new $500 college scholarships for high school graduates. To be known as the Jesse H. Jones Texas Interscholastic League Foundation scholarships, are the first to be secured from outside sources by the newly formed Interscholastic League Foundation. 10 per year will be given for the next five years.

CAMPUS CHATTER

National Or Bust Dance Kicks Off HCJC Basketball Season

By KAY LOVELAND
Ah, so it's the end of another week. And a busy week it has been, although not so active as some.

I guess the biggest activity on the campus this week was the National Or Bust Dance held Friday night from 8 to 11 p.m. in the SUB. This was to kick off the basketball season which opens Monday night, Nov. 30. Dancing was done to the music of the juke box, and the affair was most successful.

The "Cleanup the SUB" campaign being waged by the SGA has gotten under way with a poster or two being placed in the SUB. Do try to be a little more neat about paper cups and napkins. It would help the appearance of the building so much. (And I'm one of the greatest offenders. Need to practice what I preach.) Members of the SGA are contemplating very seriously having a "Dress Up Week" on the campus. It would be something entirely new around here and it wouldn't hurt a few members of the opposite sex to get out of levis for a week. Anyway, that's not definite, but it is an idea.

TO DO ONE-ACTS
Last week I announced that the members of the Footlight Club were reading for parts in the next college production, "The Male Animal." Well, it seems as if after a lot of agonizing decision-making, Mr. Short and members decided to postpone the three-act production and stage four one-act plays before Christmas. Three productions are definitely set. Those certain to be on the program are "Hello, Out There" with a tentative cast of Jerry Crumpton, Sherry Coats, Jackie Thomas and Glenda Mahoney; "Afraid of the Dark," which has an unusual Christmas theme and will probably include in the cast Chuck Worley, Jacques William (Bill) Hewlett, Reece Beavers, Robby Allen (in his second Mexican role), and Jerry Crumpton; "Suppressed Desires," a psychological comedy, with Glenda Mahoney, Kay Loveland and Robby Allen. Two others are being considered for the bill. They are "Overtones," also a comedy and "Star Song," a Christmas story set at the time of Christ's birth. Time set for the plays to be given will probably be Dec. 14, 15 and 16.

Speaking of drama, four of the members of the group and Mr. Short went to Lubbock on Friday to see Texas Tech's production of "Blood Wedding," a 15th century Spanish tragedy. Going were Bill Hewlett, Reece Beavers, Jerry Crumpton, and Sherry Coats. (Hum, Sherry always seems to find a way to be the only girl going on a trip with a bunch of boys.) They returned Friday night after the play. A member of Tech's speech department, Dr. Sylvia Mariner, attended the college's production of "Manana Is Another Day" a few weeks ago and enjoyed it.

SPEECH TOURNAMENT
The Speech Department is hoping to send a few members to a speech tournament in San Marcos on Dec. 6. As yet no real plans have been made for entering competition, but feel sure that by the time Bill Hewlett, Jerry Crumpton, Robby Allen, Sherry Coats, Glenda Mahoney and yours truly arrive at the tournament, some vague ideas will have formulated as to what we might do in the meet. I think everyone is trying to get into the poetry reading contest because they're lazy and don't want to learn a speech. Formal initiation of the two new members of Phi Theta Kappa, Jo Dell Shelburne and Marie Nichols, will be held on Tuesday in the SUB parlor. Members are selling cakes as a money-making project. The Circle K boys are going to the request at the ICSG meeting on Monday morning that they be given charge of the Christmas food project for needy families. If they are given permission, they intend to put three banks in various spots for depositing money of any denomination. They will also put up a food stand for anyone wishing to bring canned food. Food and money will be turned over to the Salvation Army before Christmas. Goal is to feed two families.

At a meeting of the Engineering Club on Friday morning, Clifton Bellamy, local engineer, spoke to the group.

Volleyball Schedule
The volleyball schedule is almost completed, reports Miss Anna Smith, coach. Practice gets under way Dec. 1, and the girls are eyeing the National Volleyball Tournament which will be held at SMU in Dallas on May 12, 13 and 14.

Some returning lettermen to the squad are Wanda Armstrong, Phillips; Jo Ann Howard, Lamesa; Pat Hudgins, Loraine; and Wynona Yarbrough, Canyon. Other girls on the team include Lena Zeitler, Joan Woodbury, Claudene Pyle, Peggy Hammit, Mary Ruth Ashill, Wanda Moore and Bobbie Collins.

In the girls' regular physical ed. classes, a lot of girls are learning the meaning of sore muscles for the first time. They are working on an achievement rating scale, which includes having to do five pull-ups, sit-ups for one minute, and arm-cross, stationary trot and double time rope jumping.

It's too bad that the members of Rooca Rocca Hamma who went on that field trip to Waco last weekend didn't get to go on their fossil-hunting expedition due to the weather. They all came back very disappointed (ha, ha). Didn't I tell you they really went to look over the Baylorites? Another trip is planned for Dec. 5.

Don't forget the assembly Monday morning in the auditorium to elect favorites.

DON'T LAUGH
Guess that's it for this week. Say, if you should see anyone walking around with a pacifier in his mouth or smiling and frowning marks hanging around his neck, don't giggle or smicker. It's just a part of initiation into Delta Psi Omega, the honorary drama fraternity. Other requirements needed to join are, knowing 12 lines from Shakespeare, learning the Greek alphabet and participating in one major production or two one-act plays, either backstage or on stage. That really is it! Have a nice Thanksgiving beginning Thursday. Bye.

GOLIAD NEWS

Winners Are Announced

By DE MASON
Students returned to school Monday after an extended weekend of three days. This school week will consist of three days because schools will dismiss Wednesday afternoon for the Thanksgiving holidays. Class will resume Monday, Nov. 30.

Students have been asked to keep up with their possessions when they bring them to school. The lost and found department is to the point of overflowing: They are especially asked to keep track of their school books. To promote this idea, a locker check was held Thursday during homeroom period. Books were checked for covers and owners. During the day book numbers were checked in each class.

Winners of the contest for essays and posters on Fire Prevention, sponsored by the Student Council, were announced. Prizes for the posters were $3, $2 and $1. The winners of the prizes were Diane Hayden, 1st place; Linda Shower, 2nd place; and Sue Smith, 3rd place. Winners of the essay awards were Terry Caudle, Mary Lee Dibrell and Bobby Daves — 1st, 2nd and 3rd, respectively.

The Student Council met and voted to sponsor a room Christmas decoration contest. President Ronnie Crowover appointed a committee to meet with S. A. Walker, principal, to decide upon materials that can be used for decorations.

The eighth graders will have a skating party Monday. Only eighth graders will be admitted to the party.

A Christmas play is to be presented by the Goliad Junior High School Curtain Club in December. The name of the play is "The Christmas Rose," by Pauline Phelps. It will be directed by Mr. R. Glen Apffel. Cast includes Kenny Crane, Velma Marlin, Guy Talbot, Carolyn Marsalis, Diane McEwen, Robert Goodlett, Carron Gradel, Larry Sage. The crew is composed of Pat Baker, Arlene Schneider, Loraine Schiffer, Baxter Moore, Micki Lawson, Sharon Smith and Larry Jones.

Comic 'A Hole In The Head' Returns To The Jet Screen

Frank Capra has come back to the land of the big screen after a five year absence for the comedy "A Hole in the Head," Thursday through Saturday at the Jet.

The cast includes Frank Sinatra, Edward G. Robinson, Eleanor Parker, Carolyn Jones, Thelma Ritter, Keenan Wynn, and introduces the child star of the Broadway hit, "The Music Man," Eddie Hodges.

This is the story of Tony Manetta (Sinatra) a broke Miami hotel operator who loves two things: A happy-go-lucky carefree life, and his boy, Ally. Sammy Davis Cites 'Misunderstanding'

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "This is all a terrible misunderstanding," said Sammy Davis Jr.

The entertainer last week sent a check for $1,129.50 to an Atlantic City hotel which recently sued him for that amount on an unpaid hotel bill.

Davis explained: "I thought my hotel expenses were being taken care of by the 500 Club where I was appearing. I'm sorry."

Dorsey Ex Claims Insurance Spent

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Actress Patricia Dane, 37, divorced wife of the late Tommy Dorsey, says she has spent nearly all of a $25,000 insurance policy he left her.

Injuries to her foot and leg in a 1956 boating accident have kept her from working, she told Commissioner Betty Jo Sheldon.

Miss Dane was summoned for inquiry into her ability to pay a $6,347 judgment against her in behalf of the bandleader's estate. The judgment was obtained by Dorsey's widow, Jane New Dorsey, to cover taxes on the insurance paid by the estate.

THE FRONT ROW

By BOB SMITH

Some of the city's civic clubs apparently are taking cognizance of the Civic Theatre's workshop movement.

Requests have come in from various clubs for one-act plays at their functions during the Christmas season. President Bill Sandefur passed on the request to the theatre's workshop, headed by Hugh McCauley.

Some one-act already are in the process of formation. Sandefur and John Findlater have volunteered to direct two plays, and at least three others are expected to do so.

Casting and first rehearsals will be accomplished at 7 p.m. Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Mary Denham, 308 Andree.

Workshop, incidentally, is a good way for theatre-minded people to join the Civic Theatre. Another way is to attend a regular business meeting of the organization. Workshop is the classroom theatre, and one may have a ball as well as learn something.

Planning is nearly complete on the first phases of Playhouse renovation. Water and gas lines and new wiring are to be furnished the Playhouse by the city. The Playhouse, located in City Park, is community-owned and was leased to the Civic Theatre by the city commission.

Actual work on the Playhouse is to be done by theatre members, with expenditures out of the theatre's building fund.

A deadline of Jan. 16 has been set for completion of stage and risers, besides utilities.

Script for the Easter Pageant is complete, and work on the production is expected to begin soon, although actual rehearsals are still far off.

The script was written by The Herald's critic, with research by Mrs. Jessie G. Thomas, Mrs. Pat Highley and Mary Jane Engstrom. Sandefur was to appoint a director for the pageant this weekend. A producer is yet to be named. Two posts are already filled — John Findlater will do the set design, and Jack Hendrix will handle music and music research.

It takes a really dedicated artist to exhaust a subject so thoroughly as did Alyce Hart, Lamesa painter, at last week's Las Artistas meeting.

Mrs. Hart showed slides of her Biblical paintings, based on the Book of Revelations. The originals are not for sale, but reproductions have been screened at many church meetings, including some overseas.

Her picturizations were literal, balanced, highly colorful and many times dramatic. Only on closeups and particularly in anatomical closeups did she weaken.

Mrs. Hart is now working on another series, based on the last days of Christ. She showed preliminary sketches of the Last Supper, but did not have available preliminary on the whip-lashing (scourging) that Jesus endured.

The Lamesa artist's sketches showed the same general strengths and weaknesses found in her Revelations paintings, but she stated she is concentrating on a study of anatomy.

With her obvious painstaking research, Mrs. Hart probably will overcome her present lack and go on to produce a really interesting series on the last days of the Messiah.

Odd bits about the Fred Waring troupe, here Thanksgiving Day:

Soprano Patti Beems began her career at the age of 4, quit to begin kindergarten.

Leonard Kranenconk, when he's not singing, is a Pennsylvania farmer. He's been with Waring 20 years.

Violinist Joanne Hayward, now married and mother of two children, was a child prodigy. She appeared on "The Children's Hour" at the age of 3.

Angela Marlo, the singer-dancer, got her first big publicity break through an accident. Performing with partner Howard Keel at a Las Vegas night club, she kicked a shoe loose, which struck Keel in the face.

The boss' daughter, Dixie Waring, has a fondness for unusual pets. She owns three skunks and a cat.

Chuck Nelson was fired before he was hired. Waring, at an audition, told young Nelson to go back home and finish school — then, come back and audition again. He did, and Waring signed the lad immediately. Nelson says he's never regretted the boss' advice.

Betty Ann McCall not only is an award-winning accordionist, pianist and twirler — she's a beauty, besides. She won the Miss Minneapolis and Miss Minnesota competitions in 1957 and 1958.

Remember the gravelly voice of Popeye the Sailor Man? Inspiration for that voice came during a Waring concert back in 1923, when tenor-drummer Poley McClinock got stage fright, a result of which his voice changed. McClinock grew up next door to Waring, and has shared the leader's rise to fame from their beginning with the Boy Scout Pipe and Drum Corps in Tyrone, Pa.

Mike Driscoll really fell for show business. At the age of 10, Driscoll shared an improvised treeshack stage with several companions, singing for an audience of neighborhood kids. The stage gave the audience got crumpled, and Driscoll got a broken arm.

Gordon Goodman knows a good job when he sees it. He has been a truck driver, milkman, iceman, miner, cab driver, smelter, construction worker, lumber jack, wheat stacker, oiler on a cargo ship — and with plenty of singing jobs in between. He's been as far as Pago Pago. But now he's settled down to a permanent job with the Waring group.

They took out a marriage license last week.

The couple said the wedding will be at the immaculate Heart Club in Beverly Hills. Hickman's brother, Wayne, also an actor, will be best man.

Hickman is 28, Miss Lincoln 22.

'Cordura' Is Film Study Of Heroism And Cowardice

Starring Gray Cooper, Rita Hayworth, Van Heflin and Tab Hunter, the William Goetz production of "They Came to Cordura" plays Thursday through Saturday at the Ritz. In CinemaScope and Eastman Color, the new Columbia drama is set in the time before World War I, when a U. S. expeditionary force had swept into Mexico in pursuit of Pancho Villa and his men.

Cooper plays a U. S. Army officer who, because he believes himself a coward, is obsessed with the need to learn what makes a man or woman brave. He himself had escaped court-martial for cowardice only because his father had been a famous general. Relieved of his combat command, Cooper in further punishment is given the assignment of selecting, and bring-

Role's The Thing, Says Award-Winner

Teresa Wright, who co-stars with John Saxon and Sandra Dee in "The Restless Years," has no qualms about hiding her age—for better or for worse—if the part demands it.

"I have no particular desire to appear younger than I am," Miss Wright stated. "In fact, I'll play grandmothers if the role is superior."

Playing the juicy role of the mother in "The Restless Years" was far more important to Teresa than the way she looked, the wardrobe she wore — or the age portrayed. Only the drama of the part mattered, in this story of a mother's problem with teenage love in a town with a "dirty mind."

Navajos And Their Customs Discussed

Customs and conditions in the Navajo Indian tribe were detailed in interesting fashion Thursday evening for members of the Big Spring Personnel and Management Association, in a dinner meeting at Webb AFB.

Speaker was Father Howard Meyer, OFM, Catholic priest now of San Angelo, who spent two and a half years doing mission work with the Navajos in the Four-Corners section of New Mexico and Arizona.

Father Howard pointed to problems arising from the rapid increase of Navajo population (about 80,000 now as compared to 8,000 in the 1860's, when their reservation was established) and the fact that the tribal people remain completely to themselves.

Health, education and religion are grave problems, said the speaker, and few of the tribe get past the literacy stage in education; few of them really turn from their old tribal religious beliefs despite efforts of Christian missionaries; and medical care is most difficult because of limited transportation and communication.

The Navajos excel as silversmiths and in weaving, said Father Howard; and their economy is based on these factors, plus the raising of sheep and goats. They continue mostly to follow the old barter system at trading posts. While the tribe as such has considerable wealth (thanks to oil, gas and uranium), the individuals still live in conditions inconceivable to the average American, said Father Howard. He felt the Indian problem will not be changed to any degree until the people are brought out from their reservation living and mingled into the ways of other United States citizens.

Father Howard was introduced by Warren E. Farrow, L. K. Miller presided for the association's business meeting.

Theft Reports

Two minor thefts were investigated by police officers during the day. L. C. Laudermilk, 810 E. 14th, said a tire and wheel was taken from his car. Doyle Hooper reported a hub cap missing.

Bonds Posted In Two County Cases

Robert L. Myers, 50, Lamesa, has been released on $500 bond after being charged with DWI. He was picked up Thursday night. Robert Woolridge, accused of non-support of minor children, posted $1,000 bond and has been released from sheriff's custody.

TESCO Honor Dinner Slated For Tuesday

Veteran employees of Texas Electric Service Company from Big Spring, Lamesa and Donnell will be honored Tuesday night at the annual Quarter Century Club dinner at 6:30 o'clock at the Cosden Country Club at Big Spring.

J. B. Thomas, president of the electric company will address the group of approximately 275 employees and their guests. There are now nine members of the company's Quarter Century Club in the Big Spring area.

Guest speaker at the dinner will be Dr. William H. Bill Alexander, pastor of the First Christian Church of Oklahoma City. Also attending will be company executives and department heads from Fort Worth.

R. L. Beale, district manager of the electric company, will be master of ceremonies.

Retired Folk Right To Work Ruled Important

If you want to work after retirement age and forfeit some or all of your social security checks, that is your personal concern. If you lose some or all of your checks because you do not understand the requirements, that is a matter of concern to the Social Security Administration.

Harold P. Thomas, manager of the Odessa social security office, stated that such a situation is possible. He urged all beneficiaries who are working or intend to work to inquire about the new provision in the social security law pertaining to earnings after retirement.

Under the present law, you can still earn up to $1,200 in a year and receive all of your social security checks. The major change in 1959 is that if you are working for wages and earn over $1,200 in a year, you will not lose a check for any month in which you do not earn over $100.

Thomas emphasized the point that any beneficiary who has net earnings from his business or total wages of less than $2,000 in a year should contact his nearest social security office, as some benefits may be due.

Builders Of Southwest Are Memorialized In New Book

LUBBOCK—Biographies of 66 pioneers and a half dozen companies who have helped develop West Texas are recorded in a new book published by the Southwest Collection at Texas Tech.

Thirteen authors wrote "Builders of the Southwest," which is designed to give background on Southwestern history through the reflections of individual personalities.

There are several consistent themes running through the lives of the persons recorded in the book, according to Dr. Seymour V. Connor, who edited it.

"None were born to fortune but all attained it in varying degree," he explained. "Most suffered some form of adversity in their childhood or youth. Most of those who entered professions, and of necessity acquired initials after their names, worked their ways through school."

"Characteristically, they carried with them through their lives a belief in the virtues of hard work and a determination to see a thing through."

Dr. Connor added that the repeated occurrence of these concepts is "a curious accident of chance since the book was not planned nor the biographies selected to illustrate these particular points."

Biographies in the book were chosen by a committee who screened nominations. Dr. Connor said nominations were carefully restricted to persons or business firms in West Texas whom the committee believed had made a positive contribution to the social, cultural, or economic development of communities.

Dr. Connor emphasized that, in addition to being of historical value, the book is a fund raising project for the Southwest Collection and that families or friends of the nominees did make the publishing possible.
