County Board Approves Juvenile Control Plan

Howard County will join the City of Big Spring and Big Spring Independent School District in proposed activation of a Howard County Juvenile Board.

The Commissioners Court voted unanimously this morning to join with the other two agencies in the plan, subject to enactment of special legislation authorizing the creation of such a board.

Under the plan, the county and city would each provide 40 percent of the cost and the schools 20 percent.

The board, when created, would be made up of seven non-salaried members, the county judge, two members of the Howard County Commissioners Court and two members each from the city commission and the school board.

FINAL ACTION
The schools and the city have already accepted the plan. Appearing before the commission to support its acceptance today were Clyde McMahon, president of the Chamber of Commerce and member of the school board; Bill Quimby, Chamber of Commerce manager; Wendell Parks, school board member; John Taylor, member of the city commission; Bob McEwen, business man; Bobo Hardy YMCA secretary and Major Sherrod Osborne, representing Webb Air Force Base.

Ralph White, member of the commissioners court and assigned by the court with Mrs. W. A. Hunt to represent the county in the studies out of which the plan was developed, spoke briefly and said he heartily recommended adoption of the plan. He made a motion that it be adopted by the commission. The motion was seconded by P. O. Hughes. W. D. Berry, was present and identified himself as unofficial spokesman for citizens of the town, whom he said were opposed to the program. He said that "all of the facts about the origin of this plan have not been disclosed; it was initiated by a small group which had some crows (sic) to pick."

He also argued that he did not approve of the "Chamber of Commerce putting pressure on elective officials." He stated that the plan as proposed was not liked by many people but "they did not have the nerve to voice their opposition."

OPPOSES PLAN

He contended the plan might work in counties or towns with large populations but would not work here. The solution, he insisted, was to provide the sheriff's office with additional help and to give A. E. Long, present county juvenile officer, some help, rather than set up the plan as presented to the commission. He praised Long as a hard working man who often worked 16 hours a day. The

SURPRISE-WALL TO WALL OCEAN, AND NO LIVING ROOM

ATLANTIC BEACH, N. Y. (AP)—A strange noise awakened Nat Wynn Sunday. He yawned, slipped on his slippers, tumbled downstairs, and found his living room had vanished.

Where the living room used to be there now was wall-to-wall ocean. Wynn trotted back upstairs, told his wife, Edith, that the living room was gone. She yawned and asked where he thought it might have gone. He said he didn't know. So he called police to report a missing living room.

While Mrs. Wynn and their daughter, Marjorie, investigated in the upstairs front of the stucco house, Wynn and police hunted in the yard. Also vanished: a 60-foot strip of the Wynn lawn, the den, a dock and cabana.

Atlantic Beach is on the west tip of Long Beach, an island just off the coast of Long Island and not far from the New York City limits in Queens. Long Beach is separated from the mainland by Reynolds's Channel, which is where Wynn's living room had gone.

Wynn and the police spotted a huge dredge busy deepening and widening the channel about 200 feet out. The dredged sand was being pumped around to an eroded beach on the Atlantic Ocean side of the island.

Apparently suction from the dredging removed earth from under a sea wall that separated the rear of Wynn's house from the channel. This apparently pulled Wynn's living room floor, the furniture and the rest into the channel. There was no trace of any of it.

The dredging company sent pile drivers to shore up the waterfront.

Cuban Military Tribunals Go Back Into Action Today

PINAR DEL RIO, Cuba (AP)—Military tribunals, swept away in July after sending more than 500 Cubans to firing squads during Fidel Castro's first six months in power, swung back into action today.

Two Americans and 37 Cubans go on trial here in Pinar del Rio in the theater of a military camp on charges of being members of an armed band that tried to overthrow Castro.

The prosecution is asking the death penalty for one of the Americans, Austin Frank Young of Miami, Fla., and a Cuban member of ex-president Fulgencio Batista's army, Fernando Frum Boscot. The government seeks 30-year prison sentences for the other defendants, including Peter John Lambton of Nassau, Bahamas, a British-born American citizen, and two women. Five other persons also are being tried in absentia. The government charges the defendants had two skirmishes with army patrols and that to one of them a soldier was killed. Another military tribunal in Havana tonight begins trying Rafael del Pino on a charge of conspiracy. The government is asking the death penalty.

Forces Form For Big One Day UF Push

Forces were being mobilized today for the Six from Six to Six push on Wednesday—the all-out windup of the United Fund.

All stops will be pulled in an effort to gather in $6,000 between the hours of 6 a.m. and 6 p.m.

That amount will put the 1959 United Fund campaign up to its $6,000 goal needed to finance the minimum requirements of 12 charitable, welfare youth, and character building agencies.

A task force composed of Horace Garrett, campaign chairman, Truman Jones, Clyde McMahon and Adolph Swartz was busy on a special plan of action Monday, and initial reports from this group added to enthusiasm of the United Fund day crash program.

Meanwhile, another group was being lined up for all day duty Wednesday at the Chamber of Commerce where the final day's activities will be headquartered. These men will be in reserve for making contacts on all unreported cards and for other special assignments.

The Jaycees will have a car with two men standing by to pick response to radio and television appeals.

Throughout the day the radio and television stations will release running reports on progress of the big cleanup.

D. M. McKinney, chairman of the cleanup day, urged everyone who has not yet had a share in support of the 12 agency fund, or who will have a larger share to call into the Chamber of Commerce (AM 4-4641). Particular emphasis is being placed on appeals for those who will pledge at least a dollar or more a month to the United Fund.

Biting Dog Is Located

Mr. and Mrs. Garland Land breathed easier Monday after a dog which had bitten their daughter, Joanne, 7, was located.

It turned out that David Lambert, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Y. Lambert, 1300 E. 11th, had picked up the dog on the College Heights school ground and had taken him home as a pet. Subsequently, the little dog also bit David.

The animal now is under observation by a veterinarian, and there is no reason to suspect that he is rabid. However, the only way the Lands and the Lamberts can be sure is to have the dog observed for a required period.

Mr. and Mrs. Land were frantic because they could not locate the dog. After their predicament was related in Sunday's Herald, they received numerous calls, for which they were most thankful. Then the Lambert's pet came to them as they were identifying the dog.

Debate Opens

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—The U.N. opens debate on Algeria today amid efforts to set up Algerian-French talks on how to end the five-year-old rebellion in North Africa.

TOYS NEEDED

Worker Critically Burned In Flash Fire At Cosden Plant

Jesse T. Andrews, 25, was burned critically in a flash fire at Cosden Petroleum Corporation's BTX unit here Monday morning.

Six other sustained burns, most of them not considered serious. Plant damage was relatively minor, but disruption of the electrical system knocked the plant out temporarily.

The BTX plant handles the aromatics in Cosden's petrochemical operations and yields benzene, toluene and xylene.

The mishap occurred about 11:20 a.m. when a gang pulled a valve on a pump, and the valve apparently had not been completely shut in.

A mixture of propane and butane spewed from the pulled valve and immediately flashed.

Andrews, who was from Odessa and who had been working for Cosden about six months, was burned critically. He was rushed to the Big Spring Hospital in a Nailey-Pickle ambulance.

George Harvell, supervisor of the unit, sustained facial burns.

C. A. Flynn, foreman of the maintenance gang on the job, sustained facial and hand burns, as did Jesse Kelley and James Hearne. Hearne was burned more extensively than the others. Alfred G. (Tunny) Goodson, electrician, suffered superficial burns.

and R. A. Swanson, employee of a contractor doing special work at the unit, had burns about the leg.

Dan M. Krause, senior vice president in charge of manufacture, said that the fire was brought under control just as quickly as the source of the fuel could be turned off at another valve. Principal damage was to the electrical wiring in the vicinity, and this will keep the plant shut down until it can be replaced.

Suicide Ruled In City Man's Death

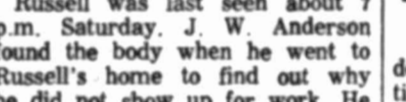

Funeral services for Bill Lee Russell, 25, are pending with the Ballard Funeral Home, Roswell, N. M. Russell was found dead in his home at 2201 Main about noon Sunday. He had been dead for at least 12 hours it was said.

Justice of the Peace Jess Slaughter ruled death was by a self-inflicted gun shot wound. Russell was shot one time in the stomach with a 22 caliber rifle.

Police officers said he apparently attempted to write a note after being wounded. He went from the living room to the kitchen, according to officers. The note was described as barely legible.

Russell was last seen about 7 p.m. Saturday. J. W. Anderson found the body when he went to Russell's home to find out why he did not show up for work. He contacted A. M. Afdahl, another VA hospital employee, who then called police.

Russell's wife and only child were visiting in Roswell, N. M. when the incident occurred. The remains were taken to Nailey-

Panamanian Rioters Jailed

PANAMA (AP)—Thirty to forty Panamanian nationalist agitators were jailed here after a round-up of elements blamed for fomenting an anti-U.S. riot Saturday.

The demonstrators were led by 150 members of a "motorcade of sovereignty" from Chiriqui province in western Panama.

A mob of 300 split away from an orderly independence day rally, burned effigies of Uncle Sam, shouted "Gringo go home," and threw rocks at U.S. soldiers guarding the border of the Panama Canal Zone.

Twelve U.S. soldiers and 19 Panamanians were injured in the fight.

The riot was another manifestation of recent nationalist agitation to establish Panamanian sovereignty over the Canal Zone, taken over by the United States under permanent lease in 1903.

Some observers believed leftists took advantage of the big rally in celebration of the 198th anniversary of Panama's independence from Spain to inspire the riots. The "march of sovereignty" demonstrators started early in the day scattering leaflets denouncing the treaty of 1903.

U.S. authorities praised the Panamanian National Guard for its help in quelling the riot. The United States had complained the Guard was slow to act when a mob tried to invade the Canal Zone on Nov. 3 and subsequently attacked the U.S. Embassy.

Senate Bares Employee Pay

WASHINGTON (AP)—For the first time in more than a decade, the Senate today disclosed how much each senator pays each of his employees.

The secrecy barrier fell with publication by the secretary of the Senate of a report listing the names and the pay of all Senate employees.

Disclosure of the information was required by a resolution adopted by the Senate last summer in the aftermath of news stories about congressional nepotism.

The resolution directed the Senate secretary to compile Senate payrolls and make them available to the public every three months. The first of these quarterly reports, published today, covers the period from July 1 to Sept. 30 of this year.

In addition to the name, job title, and pay of each senator's employee, the report includes similar information on all other Senate subcommittees.

Tug Tows Stricken Ship To Port; 11 Still Missing

GALVESTON (AP)—The ill-fated motorship National Pride arrived today under tow and the Coast Guard began investigating the cause of the disaster that apparently took 11 lives.

The motorship, loaded with 490 tons of obsolete ammunition it planned to dump, left the San Jacinto Ordnance Depot in Houston Wednesday and was found overturned Friday.

No trace of the crew of 10 and an Army inspector was found. The Coast Guard speculated that their bodies may still be in the overturned ship.

Seamen theorized the ship's cargo may have shifted. Winds reached a peak of about 30 miles per hour and small craft warnings were up.

Lt. George Merritt at the Coast Guard Eighth District Headquarters, New Orleans, said that agency would order an investigation today through either its Houston or Galveston office of marine inspection.

The tug Juno took the National Pride under tow after securing a line to her Sunday and headed for Galveston.

Both Parties Hear Tour Explanation

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congressional leaders of both parties pledged unanimous backing today to President Eisenhower on his forthcoming tour of free world nations.

Chairman J. William Fulbright (D-Ark) of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee said Democratic leaders who breakfasted with the President all gave their approval to Eisenhower's forthcoming excursion in "personal diplomacy."

Fulbright said he suggested to Eisenhower that this is "a very propitious time to bring about a settlement of difficulties in India and Pakistan."

Eisenhower will visit both countries on his 11-nation tour. Fulbright said Eisenhower replied he is hopeful he will be able to contribute toward settlement of free world differences.

House Speaker Sam Rayburn (D-Tex) emerged from the breakfast with the comment that the President is undertaking a strenuous piece of business.

LYNDON SPEAKS
Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas said that Eisenhower "will take with him understanding, our prayers and our hopes for a successful journey."

Johnson said Eisenhower indicated to the group that while he does not intend to enter into any negotiations with heads of other governments, he does expect to outline the objectives and purposes of the United States in the present world situation.

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois said the Democrats present at the breakfast expressed unanimous approval of Eisenhower's plans for the trip.

Other Democrats invited to the breakfast session included Chairman Thomas E. Morgan of the House Foreign Affairs Committee, House Democratic Leader John W. McCormack of Massachusetts whom he would not be able to attend.

The Republican list included Vice President Richard M. Nixon, Sen. Alexander Wiley of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, House Minority Leader Charles A. Halleck of Indiana and Rep. Robert B. Chipfield of the House Foreign Affairs Group.

Secretary of State Christian A. Herter, Undersecretary Robert D. Murphy, and White House aides also were invited to sit in.

In his talks with the heads of other free nations and in about 30 public addresses during his tour, Eisenhower is expected to spell out free world objectives for negotiations which may lead to a summit conference with the Soviets next year.

Although he has only a little more than 13 months remaining in office, there is no feeling here that Eisenhower is likely to encounter any lame duck treatment in dealing with European, Asiatic and African heads of states.

Sen. John Sparkman (D-Ala.), a member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said in an interview "I suppose some of these heads of states may have it in the back of their minds that we are going to have a new President they will have to deal with in 1961. But I don't expect the President to make any long-range commitments in these talks."

"As I get it, this tour is designed to show that we want to be a good neighbor to the other nations of the world."

After Fifty Years

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Greene, 427 Dallas, can still wear their wedding attire of 50 years ago, and to prove it, they will don it for the open house which will mark their anniversary. The party is planned for Sunday afternoon from 3 to 5 and will be held in the parlor of the Student Union Building at Howard County Junior College. No invitations have been sent out, but friends are expected to call. Hostess the affair will be their children, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Pond, 1611 Rounsels, and Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Greene of Abilene.

J. H. Greenes Will Mark 50th Anniversary Sunday

By ANNE LEFEVER

"The bride was elegant in an exquisite gown of duchesse satin braided and embroidered with rare lace. The veil was caught with a spray of orange blossoms fastened with a diamond and pearl brooch, the gift of the groom. Both the gentlemen attendants were faultlessly attired in the conventional black."

So read an excerpt from the account of the Dec. 2, 1909 wedding of J. H. Greene and the former Nell Ruddick in Colorado City, as carried by the Colorado City Record.

Mr. and Mrs. Greene, 427 Dallas, will celebrate their Golden Wedding Sunday afternoon with an open house in the parlor of the Student Union Building at Howard County Junior College. No invitations are being sent out, but friends are expected to call between the hours of 3 and 5 p.m. The couple has requested that no gifts be sent.

Hostess the open house will be the Greene children, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Pond, 1611 Rounsels, and Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Greene of Abilene. About 20 relatives are expected to be present as members of the house party.

Appointments for the tea table will be cut glass and silver which were wedding gifts; the white linen cloth, with border of drawwork, which will cover the table, is the one used for the reception following the nuptials 50 years ago. It has also been used in the wedding receptions of two Mrs. Greene's sisters.

Highlight of the tea will be appearance of the couple in their bridal attire, the elaborate gown somewhat yellowed with age, and the 1909 bridegroom's suit just a wee bit snug.

Mrs. Greene was born in Colorado City; her parents were the late Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Ruddick. The couple met at a prayer meeting in the Methodist Church, they recalled, and Greene, who was not a member of that church, said afterward that he "went there to meet Nell."

For a time, he was a furniture dealer in Colorado City; leaving the store in the charge of his business partner, he traveled west to the community of Platano, where he lived out a homestead. The young man became postmaster, express agent and real estate dealer for the group of eager homesteaders in that section before he returned to Colorado City.

The couple bought a home instead of having an extended wedding trip, and the bridegroom of 50 years ago chuckled as he recalled that "Miss Nell" would not come into the store to select their furniture without a chaperone.

OWC Slates Program Of Yule Music

Christmas music from the 12th century to the present time will be presented for members of the Officers Wives Club Thursday at their luncheon in the Officers Club.

Songs from other lands will highlight the program, in which officers and their families will participate; planned are a cappella groups and a choir of children.

Setting for the presentation, under the direction of Mrs. Wilbur Hall and Mrs. L. Short, will be a home scene.

Wives of newcomer officers are especially urged to attend the luncheon, it was announced.

Reservations must be made by noon Tuesday with one of three club members; they are Mrs. R. R. Smith, AM 3-2518, Mrs. W. R. Strahan, AM 3-4209, and Mrs. O. D. Williams, AM 4-4514.

Women May Get Chance At Antarctic

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Navy is studying the feasibility of sending women to the Antarctic during the daylight months.

Until recently, the Navy has skirted the issue, but now it has requests from two women scientists and about 20 women journalists to visit the frozen continent.

"If they go," say a Navy spokesman, "we will probably have to build separate quarters for them."

He explained that just to wall off an area for two or three women in the present facilities would require the bunk space of 30 men.

The visits by women would be limited to the months of October and November, the months when the McMurdo Sound air strips permit easy access by air.

"After about Dec. 1," the spokesman continued, "the air strips become filled with potholes and most traveling then is done by icebreaker. There are no facilities aboard the ships for women."

During the long winter nights the Antarctic is cut off from the world by darkness and storms.

Even if the Navy permits women to go, they will not be the first of their sex in the area. Russian women scientists and journalists have already been there.

The first American women in the area were two Pan American Airways hostesses who landed at McMurdo Sound on Oct. 15, 1957, on a charter flight which carried Seabees to the base.

WCS Sets Last Study Of Africa

Circles of the First Methodist WSCS will meet Tuesday at 9:30 a.m. at the church for the final study in the book dealing with Africa. Title of the program is Conflict in the African Way of Life.

Mrs. Jordan Grooms will be the leader; participants will be Mrs. Frank Matthews and Mrs. Darrell Hulme. All members are urged to attend the session.

Holiday Guests Have Returned To Homes

After a visit during the Thanksgiving holidays, Mr. and Mrs. O. Y. Dixon of Houston have returned home. They were guests in the homes of his mother, Mrs. B. Y. Dixon, his brother, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Dixon, and his sisters, Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Jennings and Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Earley.

Other guests of the families were E. G. Locklar, Mrs. Harold Williams, Kathy and Marcia, all of Odessa.

Postman Sees Spots On Visits To Shows

CANAL WINCHESTER, Ohio (AP) — The mailman sees spots when he delivers mail to Mr. and Mrs. Webster Shaw.

They have a red, blue, green, yellow and black polka-dot mailbox. Mrs. Shaw designed and painted the box, using a jar top to outline the circles.

"Some people like it, and some don't," Shaw says.

Kathy Lewis believes that most people fail to realize the power there is in the voice to repel or enchant. "Physical attraction is established through the ear as well as the eye," says Kathy. She is now appearing in "Fibber McGee and Molly" for NBC-TV.

Civic, Art Club Hosts 11th Anniversary Tea

A silver tea marked the 11th anniversary of the founding of the Ada Belle Dement Civic and Art Club Sunday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Clinton Muse. The hostess is the newly-elected president of the club.

Members acted as a house party, greeting the 100 guests who called during the tea hours. Included in the list were women from Colorado City and Odessa.

A silver metallic cloth covered the refreshment table, which held tapers in a four-pronged silver candelabrum; this was based in pyracantha berries and foliage. Assisting with the hospitality were Mrs. Tommy Biggs, past president of the club, who has served in that capacity for five years; Mrs. Georgia Leach, Mrs. Banana Moore, Mrs. Otis Sanchez, Mrs. Nathan Lankford, Mrs. Oliver Reed, Mrs. Tom Traylor, Mrs. Luella Lewis and Mrs. Henrietta Cooper.

Announcement was made of the installation ceremony to be held Thursday evening, with Mrs. Ora B. Banks as hostess. At that time the new officers will take over their duties.

DAV Party Tonight

Members of the Disabled American Veterans and the Auxiliary will entertain the Lamesa DAV Chapter with a party this evening at 7:30. The affair will be held in the ballroom of the Settles Hotel, with music furnished by Leon Pitts and his band. There will be dancing as well as various games.

WWI Auxiliary

The auxiliary of World War I Veterans will serve refreshments during a coffee break at the VA Hospital Saturday morning at 11 o'clock. It has been announced. The auxiliary met Saturday evening at the Settles Hotel. The next meeting is slated for the Settles on Dec. 12.

HOLLYWOOD BEAUTY

Pay Attention To Voice, Says Actress

By LYDIA LANE
HOLLYWOOD — Kathy Lewis, the new Molly of "Fibber McGee and Molly," is best known for her teamwork with Marie Wilson in "My Friend Irma." This veteran of radio has won five national awards for her voice.

"Women do not pay half enough attention to their voices," Kathy told me, as we chatted set-side at NBC-TV. "I don't think people realize how much they reveal about themselves by the quality represented in their voices."

"What are some of the things which are noticeable?" I queried. Kathy ad-libbed a conversation of a woman who was too aggressive.

"This type of woman is overly forceful in her speech," she explained. "Her lips are tense and she is inclined to talk too loudly. But most women do that," she ad-libbed. "Notice sometime when you're standing in a room with both men and women. The dominating tones will be women's voices. They forget how much a man appreciates a good listener. It is easy to spot egotism in a voice," Kathy continued. "This is expressed by bidding for attention either by talking so low you have to strain to hear or by demanding the floor."

"Whenever you listen to someone talking in a monotone, a voice that is monotonous, you know that their life is dull. It is impossible to stay on that level and be enthusiastic," Kathy declared.

"When you think of the time women spend in the beauty parlor improving their appearances, and the little thought they give to making themselves attractive to listen to — it's amazing," she exclaimed.

"It is helpful to have a recording made of your voice but if you do, you have to be objective when you listen. Look for placement and diction. But," Kathy so wisely pointed out, "your voice reflects YOU and to make a fundamental change in speech you must have a fundamental change in yourself."

EXERCISES TO IMPROVE THE SPEAKING VOICE

You, too, may have a more attractive voice. You can lower it or raise it, whichever your voice may need. You can take out the nasal sounds. You can pitch it where it is most pleasant to listen to. With Leaflet M-6, "Exercises to Improve the Speaking Voice," you will learn these things. For your copy send only 10 cents and a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Lydia Lane, Hollywood Beauty, Big Spring Herald. Be sure to ask for Leaflet M-6.

Costly Jeans

Dianna Wiegler, queen of the Brandon, Fla., rodeo, goes other queens one better—she's wearing cow-poke jeans made of mink and valued at $3,000. Merchants in the city pooled funds and came up with the mink pants, challenging other rodeos to top them.

Assault Type Crimes Show An Increase

WASHINGTON (AP)—Murders, rapes, stabbings and other forms of assault continued to increase during the first nine months of 1959, the FBI reported today. The report, based on crime statistics from police in cities of more than 25,000 population, showed a 7 per cent increase in crimes over the nation as compared with the January through September period of 1958.

The overall crime rate continued at practically the same high level as last year. A one per cent decline was due to a decrease of 7 per cent in robberies and minor decreases in burglaries and auto theft.

Listed in this order—murder and non-negligent manslaughter, forcible rape, robbery, assault, burglary, larceny over $50 and auto theft—the following number of crimes were reported in larger Texas cities for the first nine months of 1959 and the corresponding period of 1958:

Beaumont: This year, 11, 8, 30, 229, 565, 103 and 153; last year, figures not available.

Dallas: This year, 67, 33, 235, 590, 3,061, 703 and 1,419; last year, 156, 32, 309, 427, 3,164, 625 and 1,209.

Houston: This year, 89, 80, 405, 1,135, 5,445, 2,101 and 2,202; last year, 94, 80, 405, 799, 5,819, 1,906 and 2,543.

Lubbock: This year, 10, 13, 48, 50, 755, 493 and 140; last year, figures not available.

San Antonio: 37, 42, 225, 541, 3,494, 1,502 and 1,520; last year, 31, 20, 203, 627, 3,163, 1,105 and 1,815.

Waco: This year, 4, 13, 27, 207, 679, 143 and 129; last year, figures not available.

Fire Takes 5 In Family

BRISTOL, R.I. (AP)—Authorities today sought the cause of a fire which claimed the lives of a father and four children in their 20-room mansion overlooking Narragansett Bay.

Three other occupants, including the children's mother escaped the flames Sunday.

The victims were Barnes Newberry Jr., 36, Eleanor Newberry, 5, her brother Rockwell, 3, and Newberry's stepchildren, Evan, 11, and Stephanie, 8.

The children's mother, Martha Newberry, 37, leaped from a second-floor window, suffering cuts and bruises. She was divorced from Walter Truslow in 1953.

John DeWolfe, 64, and his wife, Helen, 60, who rented quarters in the Newberry home, fled to safety.

Newberry, a Providence realtor and banker, was the grandson of the late Sen. Truman H. Newberry (R-Mich.) who defeated industrialist Henry Ford in 1913 for the Senate. He resigned from the Senate in 1922.

Sterling Hayden Believes U.S. Is In Dire Straits

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie - TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "One day out in the Pacific I sat alone with a book. I looked out on the horizon and I could see — in my mind's eye — the boat I sailed to Tahiti when I was 22. And I remembered all the dreams I had then, and how I had lost sight of them."

This was Sterling Hayden talking about his much-publicized trip to Tahiti with his four children. The rugged idealist was back in Hollywood, but only briefly. He doesn't intend to lose sight of his dreams again.

"I'm taking the kids back up to Marin County, near San Francisco to live," he said over coffee as he paused from errands in his old neighborhood of Sherman Oaks. "I'll put them in school and then get squared away so I can settle down and write. I want to write about not only what has happened to me, but what is happening to this country."

The words come pouring forth from the tall blond actor. Many of them are bitter, but much of what he says makes sense. You get the picture of a rebel with a cause. The cause?

"I hate to see what America has become," he explained. "The philosophy now is 'Gimme, gimme, gimme. I'll take everything I can get as long as I don't land in the pokey.'"

"It's not only in Hollywood. I didn't mean to give that impression when I landed in San Francisco; I was tired and not up to facing a press conference. Hollywood is only an extension of the prevailing philosophy.

"The same thing exists in every industry — television, automobiles, shipping."

Why did he return from Tahiti? "As you know, I didn't intend to go there in the first place," he said he was heading for Scandinavia, but didn't want to risk arrest at the Panama Canal on his former wife's contempt of court case. "Tahiti was not a place I would have chosen to stay. It is strictly for those seeking escape — in the popular use of the word, not the way I see it.

"It was a rare experience for the children. But I didn't want them to stay there. They needed to come back to American surroundings, to have some stability in their lives."

'Grammy' Awards Show Hits A Snag

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
NEW YORK (AP)—Historically, the awards show — the giving of Oscars and Emmys — is a television format which has run from complete fiasco to plain dull.

It would seem, however, that a show where the makers of the year's best phonograph records are given statuettes and also repeat their winning performances would be a natural for a musical show. Unfortunately, the Grammy show on NBC Sunday night ran into the same snags that slowed down and often stopped the earlier ones. They are those awkward moments of presentation.

The Grammy show — "Grammy" is a small golden replica of the old-fashioned talking machine which is awarded by the National Academy of Recording Arts and Sciences — made 34 awards and presented us with a double handful of performing stars.

The producers did a handsome job of dressing up many of the numbers. When Jonah Jones and his quartet were playing "I Dig Chicks," we were shown the feet and legs of Polynesian, Japanese, Greek, Russian and others dancing to American jazz, an adroit and powerful editorial on music as an international language.

When Jimmy Driftwood sang his prize-winning "Battle of New Orleans," he was accompanied by a delightful battle of paper dolls showing the retreat of the redcoats.

But there were also the long, awkward moments. For instance, Van Cliburn mixed up the cards so thoroughly in making some presentations that at this moment I don't know whether Jussi Björling and the Boston Symphony won a statuette or whether it was Roberta Peters and Mozart. Anyway, the Grammy people did stop all that rushing up from the audience and those breathless thanks to all the good people who made it all possible.

If award show there must be the Grammy people did best to date.

Who won? Lots of people, including Ella Fitzgerald for best feminine vocal performance, Bobby Darin for the best record of the year ("Mack the Knife") and the best new artist of the year, and Duke Ellington for the best musical composition of the year ("Anatomy of a Murder").

Conquest on CBS started what seemed like a promising two-partner — "The Deep Search," concerned with a 4,000-foot dive in a Navy bathyscaphe into the Pacific. The first part didn't even get us below the waves. It was mostly concerned with fixing a broken towline, pulling the undersea chamber to the place where — next week, we hope — we will accompany the scientists on their dive and start exploring the bottom of the sea.

Through With Strippers

Former gambler Mickey Cohen, right, waves away a picture of himself and strip teaser Candy Barr as police Sgt. Roger Francis displayed it at a Police Commission hearing in Los Angeles while Cohen was testifying. The pudgy ex-convict refused to look at the picture and said he was through with strippers. Cohen and Candy broke off a romance several weeks ago and she married another man. Cohen was testifying as the commission considered the entertainment license application filed for a restaurant owned by a friend of his. He denied being a part owner of the place.

Balloonists Glory Over High Flight

MANHATTAN, Kan. (AP) — "Anyone could do it," say aerialists Malcolm Ross and Charles B. Moore of their 15-mile weekend jaunt into the stratosphere.

Ross, a commander in the Navy and Dr. Moore, a scientist, rode in an instrument-filled gondola under a huge plastic balloon to 81,000 feet where they took photographs of the planet Venus through a 16-inch telescope.

It is "wonderfully pleasant" up there, they said.

The men ascended from Rapid City, S.D., at 11:16 a. m. Saturday and landed at 3:30 p. m. Sunday in a pasture about 30 miles northeast of Manhattan.

Ross, who had made six previous trips into the stratosphere—once to 86,000 feet—said the landing was ideal until surface wind filled their emergency parachute.

They jettisoned the balloon as the gondola touched ground, but the parachute dragged their seven-foot aluminum sphere a quarter-mile across a rough pasture.

Moore wasn't hurt but Ross was shaken up. Helicopters whisked them about 30 miles to the Schilling Air Force Base hospital at Salina, Kan., for an overnight rest.

They went up to 81,000 feet to photograph Venus because at that altitude the atmosphere is free of dust particles that cause the stars to twinkle.

"It was the most exciting view of the stars I ever had," Moore said.

"The outstanding sight of all was at sunset Saturday," Ross said. "We could see it getting

Texarkana Junior College Head Dies

TEXARKANA (AP)—Dr. H. W. Stilwell, 73, president of Texarkana Junior College and one of the best known educators in Texas, died of a heart attack Sunday. Services will be held here Tuesday.

Stilwell was chairman of the legislative committee of the Texas State Teachers Assn., a post he held for 20 years. He was president of the association in 1932.

His widow, two sons, a daughter and a sister survive.

MEXICO CITY (AP)—A booster station is successfully bringing television to the central state of Aguascalientes, officials reported today.

Dry, Mild And Clear

By The Associated Press
It was mild, clear and dry in Texas Monday and the Weather Bureau promises rising temperatures over most of Texas Tuesday.

Texas basked under a warm sun Sunday and clear skies covered the state.

No rain was reported Monday and none fell Sunday.

Temperatures Monday morning ranged from 23 degrees at Amarillo to 53 at Brownsville.

The Lower Rio Grande Valley had frost and below freezing weather Saturday night for the third time this month. County agents said damage to tender vegetables could not be determined. They believed some tomatoes and peppers were hurt but carrots and cabbage, the big crops, were believed to have escaped damage.

Kennedy Sharply Criticizes Eisenhower Farm Policies

CHEYENNE, Wyo. (AP) — Eisenhower administration farm policies were sharply rapped by Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.) in a talk Sunday to a Democratic rally.

"An administration that consistently refuses to advance a positive program for the farmer will not solve any of his problems," Kennedy declared.

He said Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson said in 1956 that the farm surplus storage problem had passed its peak.

But the facts of the matter, said Kennedy "are that, as price supports were reduced by the administration, surpluses mounted until today they are at a record level of nine billion dollars and still increasing."

Kennedy considered a likely candidate for the Democratic nomination for president next year, said Benson talks about getting the government out of farm surplus storage, "yet after six and one-half years the cost of storage has quadrupled from $300,000 per day to a staggering cost of $1,250,000 every single day."

At a news conference Kennedy said the Taft-Hartley Act should be revised to give the President three or four alternate courses in settling bogged down labor disputes.

Kennedy said if the President is given several choices of action "it will be a greater incentive for labor and industry to reach an agreement themselves."

He described the Taft-Hartley Act as "a one-sided tool which broke the steel strike at the wrong time."

Sailor Gun Victim Dies

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — A sailor shot and abandoned in the California desert last week died at a Las Vegas hospital.

Seaman Kenneth F. Rhoades, 24, of Lakewood, Ohio, had a bullet lodged in his skull above the right temple. He died about 5 1/2 hours after leaving surgery at Southern Nevada Memorial Hospital.

Rhoades was found lying unconscious on an abandoned road off U.S. Highway 66 near Needles, Calif., last Friday. He was taken

Expert In A Mighty Short Time

Rep. Phil Weaver (R-Neb) has been accused of causing grave harm to Philippine-American relations. Rep. Weaver charged that the Philippine government was graft-ridden and was conducting an open program of harassment of American officers and men, that American servicemen are subject to looting, extortion and assault.

Rep. Weaver had spent three days in the Philippines as a member of the House subcommittee on defense appropriations.

Rep. George Mahon, our own congressman and chairman of the sub-committee, has promised an investigation of Weaver's charges. Meanwhile, a spokesman at the Pentagon in Washington said that Rep.

Weaver's views were not shared by the Defense Department.

There may or may not be foundation for what the congressman has claimed, but he would be on sounder ground had he spoken from a base of more than a few days on the islands. Tourists consider it a standing joke that they are "expert" on a country after they have spent a few weeks in it. Rep. Weaver has spent them one better in talking to the press with some pretty strong charges after a visit of three days. Perhaps he figured that such an approach would force an inquiry, and if this was his objective he has succeeded even at the risk of straining relations.

A Commendable Contribution

Business is often pictured as cold and grasping, and advertising is sometimes cast in the role of a conscienceless gadfly eating off the economic body.

It is therefore worth mentioning that the Advertising Council, made up of business interests, made available more than eight million dollars worth of advertising during November, stressing the message: "Find the strength for your life. Worship together."

Religious leaders joined in praise of the advertising campaign which reminded Americans of the value of religion. Council adherents did this at a time when the heart of the nation should be turned back to the eternal values and to eternal hopes.

None of the participants gave the space or time out of any hope of recognition, but it occurs to us that they are due a word of commendation not for the value of the space or time they gave, but for the values they may have reawakened in the life of America.

David Lawrence

Just Let TV Take The Hit Cure

WASHINGTON—What started out as an exposure of deception—mistakenly conceived by the producers of shows as a way to put on a more exciting performance—has developed now into a nationwide discussion of the merits or demerits of television itself.

There are always misguided individuals who hurt any good cause by acts of dishonesty. Hence the exposures have already alerted the television broadcasting companies and producers of shows that this kind of program must not happen again. There really isn't any need for more law or regulation to handle that problem. Regaining the confidence of the public is not something even a new law could by itself accomplish for the television companies.

But what of television's other problems—especially the dissatisfaction with some of the shows that aren't in the quiz line? What shall be done about some of the misleading advertisements that occasionally accompany them?

EXISTING LAWS CAN TAKE care of the misrepresentation of products offered for sale. That's what the Federal Trade Commission was set up to do a few decades ago. While many people do not know much about its achievements, the commission can quite effectively, by the use of "cease and desist" orders, protect the buying public against fraud in advertising.

As for the kind of shows given on the air, this is really at the root of much of the dissatisfaction with television. Lots of the criticism is unfair and ill-informed. For one thing any medium with as big an audience as TV gets cannot even in a decade of time solve all its problems and, of course, any suggestion that the government should begin to censor television shows or tell the stations what kind of programs they should offer is contrary to the spirit and the letter of the constitutional provision governing free speech.

TO SIMPLIFY THE ISSUE—the government has no more right to tell the stage manager of a television show how to work up or ignore dramatic interest than it has to send FBI agents behind the wings of a theatre to find out whether the drink that looks like wine to the audience is after all only a soft drink. What a tragedy it would be to interfere with the art of make-believe in the circus side shows!

The discussion now going on about television is healthy. It will help in the long run. For the amount of constructive criticism poured forth in the last few weeks could not possibly have been induced in many years in the normal course of events.

The latest bit of self-examination in the broadcasting business has been sparked by Sigmund Laron, chairman of the board of Young & Rubicam, a big advertising agency in New York. Mr. Laron has given much of his time to public-service activities, and he sincerely hopes to help the television companies to solve the dilemma. He has suggested that a commission of outstanding citizens be appointed by all the broadcast companies to make a study of the whole problem of programs and the proper relationship of producers and advertisers to the networks. This would be an advisory commission.

DR. FRANK STANTON, president of the Columbia Broadcasting System, says the objective is all right but he fears it will give the impression that the broadcasting companies may be passing the buck to others. Robert W. Sarnoff, chairman of the National Broadcasting Co., likes the idea in principle and thinks such a study would be helpful but suggests certain definitions of the areas to be explored.

On the whole, the move is bound to be useful in stimulating the process of self-examination by all the parties concerned.

But, even granting that a public commission would render some good advice on methods of detecting frauds and on other reforms, especially in programming, this would not in any way reduce the responsibilities of the networks, the producers of programs and the advertisers, respectively. The head of CBS puts his finger on one basic phase of the problem when he says:

"BROADCASTING IS SUPPORTED by advertisers, many of whom feel they must have huge mass audiences. This has led many people to feel that the networks have, in effect, abdicated to advertising sponsors their duty to control what is put on our television screens. The result, many feel, is a catering to the lowest common denominator of public taste to meet the demands of advertisers—including too many westerns, too much violence. This is in spite of the fact that our program schedules include great drama, great comedy, great music, grand discussions of great issues and speedy and thorough presentation of news. This is a matter of program balance which, again, we accept as primarily our responsibility."

How big an audience does the advertiser believe he must have in order to sell his products? It's his money that is at risk. How can any medium be all things to all people? Why is it that a playwright who has a big hit on Broadway falls sometimes on his next try and that the author of a best seller doesn't always click on the next book he writes? These are the questions that no commission of public citizens and no head of any medium of expression can ever solve except by trial and error. There is nothing wrong with television that a few more hits wouldn't cure.

WHAT OTHERS SAY

Sometimes, in the furor of world-shaking events in this uneasy atomic age, a positive little gem of human interest pops up in the news and almost gets lost in the shuffle. Take for example the story of William Sicari, the 11-year-old New York City boy who wanted a football jersey so he could play with his team but who lacked the wherewithal to obtain one.

Young Bill called at the Manufacturers Trust Co. and asked for the vice president. He stated his case and asked for a $5 loan. The deal was closed. Bill pledged his bike and his electric train as security and signed a note requiring him to pay back $1.02 a month in five monthly installments.

Here, for certain, is a youngster who will never go wrong, who will never trouble his parents or the police as a juvenile delinquent. He has acumen and imagination—and daring, too, else he would not have troubled a banking institution with what, to it, would seem a trivial affair. But hats off to the vice president of the bank. He has brought that often missing element—the personal touch—into banking and especially in the mind of a boy who, to all appearances, will go far in life.

PICKETING EVERYONE APPROVES

It's The Other Way Around

WASHINGTON (AP)—The most important result of President Eisenhower's journey to 11 nations, starting Thursday, may not be the impression he makes on them but their impact on him.

When he returns around Christmas he may have become convinced some changes in American foreign policy are needed. It should be remembered Eisenhower is in a new phase of his presidency.

He is more flexible, more active, and perhaps more impressionable in foreign affairs than at any time of his White House tenancy up to now.

He will make 30 talks. He will get the red carpet treatment everywhere. He may create better understanding for America, as he says he hopes to do.

But he will also be getting a better understanding of some of the nations he visits—all friendly, some allied, but some neutral—for he will be seeing them close-up for the first time since becoming president.

Until now he has had to depend for insights into these countries and his knowledge of their needs and predicaments on second-hand information—their diplomats, or American study papers.

Even a year ago, when Secretary of State John Foster Dulles was so completely dominating American foreign policy, a trip like this by Eisenhower might have had no more than ceremonial significance.

But with Dulles' death last spring Eisenhower took over active direction of foreign policy. He became more flexible and apparently more receptive to new ideas as he sought to cope with Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

The result has been a feeling that American foreign policy now is capable of change. Previously it had appeared frozen.

For example: not long ago

Eisenhower was telling friends he was opposed to the meeting of heads of state to settle problems. He preferred, he said, the old-fashioned method of letting foreign secretaries do it.

Since then he made a quick tour of Western Europe, had Khrushchev here, is going to visit him, is making this journey now, will hold a pre-summit meeting Dec. 19, and will later go to a summit conference.

Eisenhower still has a little more than 13 months left in office. It will crown his double career as general-president if, in the time left him in the White House he can initiate, fight for and perhaps push through new ideas or programs which will make the international climate safer for America or safer for everyone.

It would have political value here at home, too, for his own Republican party in the 1960 presidential election.

He will see first-hand not only some of the dilemmas of the countries he visits—social, economic and military—but some of the contradictions in a world dominated by the United States and the Soviet Union.

For example: two nations under the shadow of the U.S.S.R. One is Afghanistan, staying neutral but getting more aid from the Soviets than from this country.

Then there is India, whose vast problems can hardly be imagined here, where Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru, despite all his efforts to stay above the East-West struggle, just got a bloody nose from Red China.

THIS DAY IN TEXAS

By CURTIS BISHOP

Death came on this day in 1837 to Erasus (Deaf) Smith, most celebrated scout of the Texas Revolution.

He has been perpetuated in Texas lore as the buckskin-clad figure straining to hear what Santa Anna told Sam Houston after San Jacinto.

Smith's detail destroyed the bridge over Vince's Bayou, committing Texans to a death stand against the Mexicans.

The native New Yorker was slow to become involved in the revolution, but did take part in the 1835 conquest of San Antonio. Gen. Houston utilized Smith's knowledge of Texas roads and Mexican politics, and Smith responded with cool, brave service.

After San Jacinto Smith commanded the spy company which developed into Jack Hays' first company of Texas Rangers. He resigned in 1837 and moved to Richmond. He died there the same year.

Deaf Smith County was named for him. The house presented him by the Texas Republic is at South Presa and Nueva Sts. in San Antonio.

Runaway Statistic
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A new runway for jet bombers and aerial refueling planes at the Strategic Air Command's Lockbourne base here has enough concrete to pave a four-lane highway, 27 inch thick, from Columbus to Chicago. That's more than 300 miles.

Pays To Advertise
POPULAR BLUFF, Mo. (AP)—George Coch thinks he has hit on a scheme to discourage bad check passers.

In his restaurant he has mounted a number of checks that bounced with the signatures clearly visible. With them is a sign proclaiming, "We cash bad checks."

Around The Rim

The Faith Or The Money?

Think you have the only privilege of rubbing elbows with Old Man Trouble? No one is immune from his visits. There is no inoculation that I know of that can keep him from paying an occasional visit. Regrettably, many of us rush out and meet him more than halfway, without really intending to.

Consider the plight of a Scottish man of the cloth, if you will, well intended and serious fellow who decided to jolt his flock one morning by charging that Demon Rum was causing much of the miseries in the world.

He felt he was on safe ground. Many an accusation has been flung from the pulpit to the effect that drink has driven many a man to disaster. And many a wife has gone home from such a dissertation and poured her old man's "cough medicine" down the drain.

The minister got carried away with his message and proceeded to denounce those who made the fire water, those who unloaded it on the public and those who dampened their gullets with it.

He then called upon the fires of heaven to strike at the merchants of alcohol in his village.

Somebody up there must like him because the next day a thunderstorm visited its wrath upon his community and lightning struck the town brewery, reducing it to ashes.

The preacher must have felt quite satisfied with himself, wondering all the while if perhaps he hadn't made his remarks a bit too acid and pointed.

He continued to feel good, no doubt, until a minion of the law slapped a summons in his hand.

Seems the owner of the snapps factory, by reputation a good Scotsman, decided his troubles all started when the minister had petitioned heaven to take a hand in the matter and was asking the court to collect damages in his behalf.

The preacher is now faced with this problem: He can avoid paying the damages claimed by the brewer but it will involve denying the efficacy of his prayers, thereby disavowing his faith.

Prescription For Gotham-Fiorello

Probably I'm a cockeyed optimist. But recently I have been dreaming that a musical comedy will spark a new fusion political movement in New York and bring back good government to this sorely-tried city.

That musical is "Fiorello!"—a gay, warm and ebullient recap of Fiorello La Guardia's early excursions into New York politics, prior to his election as the most recent, best mayor the city has had in my generation.

Ever since Fiorello left the mayoralty in January '46, after 12 constructive years in City Hall, New York has been afflicted with one inept Tammany hack after another in a political office that is one of the most important in the nation. It is amazing the number of guys that Tammany can scrape off the bottom of the barrel.

In the almost 14 years since Fiorello retired (and since his sad death of cancer in 1947) this great city has gradually run down at the heels until now it is literally walking on its uppers—and I have some reservations about how long the uppers will last.

Why, I can remember way back when the streets of New York were clean; when it was not only reasonably safe to walk the streets of the city but even to stroll in Central Park; when traffic police and white wings were plainly visible, doing their appointed jobs; when mean and petty graft was banished and when big scandal didn't haunt one or another city bureau.

Even my friends who live on Park Avenue, one of the show thoroughfares of New York, were pathetically grateful to Nikita Khrushchev because his visit induced the city authorities to thoroughly clean Park Avenue for the first time in ages!

SO PERHAPS IT IS THE memory of a clean, safe city, with good government in City Hall, that causes audiences at "Fiorello!" to cheer at every performance when the fiery Little Flower denounces Tammany Hall and all its satanic works, and when he cried aloud against municipal graft and corruption.

When the bouncy Fiorello, making his first political speech on stage, tells his followers to take a deep breath and ask, "What is that you smell?" and then himself supplies the answer, "Tammany," the paying customers stop the show. And that's only the beginning.

For years there has been desultory talk of another fusion ticket in the city to drive Tammany into the river. If fusion partisans need any further proof that people want good government again and are fed up with Tammany, let them buy a ticket to "Fiorello!"

OF COURSE, THE LITTLE Flower was an original, and the mold is broken. But the fusionists and the Republicans can't expect to win or form the cornerstone of a fusion movement in New York as long as they continue to nominate nice, pleasant, colorless non-wife beaters who have all the platform magnetism of Caspar Milquetoast.

The GOP needs to run a man, not a martyr—not someone who takes the thankless nomination just for the party's sake. What a successful fusion ticket will need to win is a nominee who is honest, intelligent, uninhibited, colorful, free-wheeling and not afraid to take on his weight in polecat.

It is foolish to hope that a fusion group can come up with even a reasonable facsimile of the Little Flower. But, surely, somewhere in this extraordinary city lurks another outrageous, independent, foxy, brilliant, courageous and honest Donald Duck who can lead us out of the Tammany wilderness. Broadway is showing the way.

Summit Recedes Into The Distance

WASHINGTON—Though it is being played down here and in London, the plain fact is this: The summit conference that was going to be held no later than this spring is receding farther and farther into the distance.

The West is no longer in a panting sprint to meet Soviet dictator Nikita Khrushchev. And every day's delay means a growing possibility that the summit may not come off at all.

The odds are still that it will, though there is much uncertainty in the prospect. But, meanwhile, there is, fortunately, one hardening certainty. If and when the free world's leaders do gather with old Nikita Khrushchev, they should gather in far stronger circumstances than had the meeting come off on schedule.

TO HAVE MET SO EARLY—that is, at any time within the next few months—would surely have been full of danger for us. The bald truth is that Khrushchev scored a monumental propaganda triumph in his tour here of some weeks ago. The bad effects—for us—have yet fully to wear off. Many in both public and private life were at first all too enthusiastic about Uncle Nikita.

They were about ready to sign any document offered by him without looking at the fine print. This happy view is slowly being driven out by the cold, hard facts of common sense. Ultimately, the facts may altogether have overtaken the uneasy hopes of yesterday.

Too, the essential power of the West has actually been on a decline rather than a rising arc. The West's one military shield, the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, is in a bad way. Its most responsible commanders have acknowledged as much in private. NATO's whole strength has lain in the promise that in that alliance it would be all for one and one for all.

ANY HURRIED SUMMIT meeting would have been an unintentional dagger's thrust at this concept of the unity of the small with the large. For any summit conference by definition must mean some degree of exclusion of the smaller Western allies; the whole purpose of summit diplomacy is for talks only between the biggest of powers.

Again, therefore, the longer the fateful summit is delayed the greater the chance to consult adequately with, and possibly to soothe, our smaller allies.

Moreover, the West has other difficulties. Europe has fallen into two competing trade blocs. There is the common market group made of the inner six continental powers revolving around France. And there is the outer seven group, predominantly Northern European, to which Britain has now adhered. This is bread-and-butter competition within the heart of NATO itself. For Europe is, of course, that heart.

THE UNITED STATES, for its part, is trying to check the sharp outflow of dollars by enforcing "buy American" restrictions on foreign countries that borrow our money for their own business purposes. This is not any kind of isolationism. And it makes a good deal of economic sense to people who will listen to what is being done instead of only to what their emotions tell them is being done.

All the same, it has a disturbing influence within the free world, just as does the rivalry between inner six and outer seven.

The obvious need, therefore, is time before the West confronts Khrushchev at any kind of summit whatever—time to restore our defensive military alliance. Time to try some tidying up of the economic rivalries among the Western allies. Time, in short, to attempt to bring the West up to its maximum potential strength before we begin negotiating with a Soviet East that has no trouble at all with its "allies," since all are Moscow's dearly doleful stooges.

Plight Of Typewriter

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP)—If the typewriter could write of its own experiences, oh what a tale it could tell.

Pete Martello, who heads the state office repair service, says he has found beetles, earrings, peanuts, cheese tidbits, cake crumbs and scraps of salami inside typewriters.

The state police, Martello said, rarely drop anything into a typewriter. More often, they drop the typewriter.

Martello's favorite typewriter story concerns an electric typewriter. A man got his tie caught inside the typewriter. The tie was ripped from his body. So was his shirt. And after the battle was over the man found a parking ticket on his car.

Carbons Upheld

CHEYENNE, Wyo. (AP)—The validity of a signed and witnessed carbon copy of a man's will has been upheld by the Wyoming Supreme Court.

The court overruled a district court decision that wills executed by Charles L. Stringer of Gillette in 1952 and 1954 were invalid because they were carbon copies, although duly signed and witnessed.

"There is no special virtue in typing by imprint through inked ribbon than through a piece of carbon paper," Justice Harry Harnsberger ruled.

Dangerous Parking

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—The voice over the restaurant loudspeaker requested the owner of an automobile to move the car. The engineer of a train couldn't get his locomotive past the vehicle.
