Christmas Tree Jinxed?
Civic Leaders Wonder

By BILL BRYAN
Has somebody or something jinxed our Christmas tree?
After two years of tree trouble the local Chamber of Commerce is beginning to wonder.

made. Quimby said to get a community sized tree for the courthouse lawn. Special arrangements were made with the Lions Club of Ruidoso, N. M. for a big one.

This year chamber officials took no chances. A special call went through to a ranger of the National Forest in New Mexico. He personally supervised the cutting of a giant tree for Big Spring.

Spilled Drink Quarrel Is Cause Of Sunday Gun Fight

A spilled drink touched off an incident on the North Side early Sunday that sent two men to local hospitals, one of them in serious condition.

Tucker is an employe at the compress and also lives there. Price surrendered himself to police about 30 minutes after the shooting. No bond has been set in his case. He was still in city jail at noon Monday.

LOST DAY FOR CHEER FUND

Sunday might have been the day for people to remember the need of the poor at Christmas time. But the CHRISTMAS CHEER FUND didn't receive a single contribution today.

This is the Fund that means toys, good food and — through the year — medical help for children in the most destitute circumstances. It is handled by the city firemen, in cooperation with The Herald and the public health nurse.

Cotton Quota Vote Slated For Tuesday

Persons interested in cotton production during 1959 will vote Tuesday on whether they favor marketing quotas for 1960.

Polls will open at 8 a.m. in four places, said Gabe Hammack, administrative officer for the County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation office. They will close at 6 p.m.

Balloting may be done at the Farmers Co-operative Gin at Knot; at the Planters Gin in Luther; at the Acuff Gin at Coahoma; and at the county ASC office at 403 Lancaster in Big Spring.

Any person directly interested in cotton production — owner-producers, tenants, landlords and wives of the actual producers — are eligible to cast ballots.

If the quotas are favored by a two-thirds majority, producers then will have a choice between plan A which carries smaller acreage but higher parity payment, and plan B, which offers more acreage but less support guarantee.

Should the quotas fail (on a nationwide basis) to attain a two-thirds approval, then acreage allotments will not be in effect. However, those who stay within their normal acreage allotments would qualify for a 50 per cent of parity support.

Interest in the referendum is believed by observers to be at the highest in years, possibly the highest since the farm program came into being. At the root of this is a recent ruling (Dec. 3) by the U. S. Department of Agriculture, that farmers no longer can count skip row (two rows of cotton planted and four fallow, or four rows planted and four rows fallow) as either one-third or one-half planted to cotton.

AUSTIN (AP)—The State Board of Health approved today two applications for federal aid hospital funds and deferred action on all other pending applications.

These were approved: City-County Public Health Center, Amarillo, $200,000. Robert B. Green Hospital San Antonio, $23,650.

C Of C To Join In Protest On New Cotton Rule

The Chamber of Commerce here will join the rising flood of protests against the new cotton planting rule set up by the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Manager Bill Quimby said this morning that chamber officials are working on a strong-worried protest against the new ruling which will be sent to government officials.

Biting Cold May Be Menu For Holiday

The holidays may be perked up with a coat of white if today's weather forecast holds true. A light rain or snow is predicted for tonight with the low about 30 degrees.

Gusty winds now have buffeted Big Spring for the third consecutive day. Weathermen at Webb Air Force Base said their instruments have recorded gust between 27 and 30 miles per hour.

France Criticizes Twining's Remarks

Horse Falls And City Man Gravely Hurt

Curtis Driver, prominent Big Spring businessman injured when his horse fell on him Sunday, remained unconscious at noon Monday.

A specialist from Lubbock was en route here to confer with his physicians at Big Spring Hospital. The exact extent of his injuries had not been ascertained because it was deemed inadvisable to move him to X-ray.

Driver, who owns the Driver Implement Company, was riding in a pasture in the Silver Heels area when his horse tripped over a piece of old cable and fell on top of him. He was knocked unconscious in the fall.

Driver is a member of the Colorado River Municipal Water District board of directors and is a former member of the Big Spring City Commission.

CHRISTMAS CALENDAR

Here's a quick rundown on this week's Christmas activities scheduled for Big Spring. Entries accepted in Home Decoration Contest through today, tomorrow, and Wednesday, judging scheduled for Thursday night. A new category "multiple living units" has been added. Call AM 4-4641 for information and to enter.

Religious theme Christmas Parade starts at 6:30 p.m. on Wednesday. Eighteen churches are participating in this year's parade. Floats will depict, as far as possible, the Christmas story.

Santa Claus arrives in Big Spring Thursday morning for pre-season visit. Joint sponsors are Webb AFB, city and schools, and Chamber of Commerce. More than 2,400 students of the first, second and third grades will see Santa this year beginning at 9 a.m. Thursday.

Hosts Miffed On Herter Visit

PARIS (AP)—France called "excessive and dramatic" today critical remarks made about this country last week by Gen. Nathan F. Twining, chairman of the U.S. Joint Chiefs of Staff.

Twining deplored delay by most West European members of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization in accepting U.S. atomic weapons and stockpiles and in integrating air forces into one air defense structure. He made it clear the United States feels France is the chief offender.

Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville expressed the French position on the Twining view to U.S. Secretary of State Christian A. Herter. French sources said Couve de Murville "expressed his extreme surprise at the revelations by the American press of remarks made in the military committee, whose debates are, in principle, secret." Couve de Murville also said Twining's remarks were of an "excessive and dramatic character," that the manner in which the problems were presented was out of proportion to the importance of the problems themselves.

Herter called on Couve de Murville at the start of nine days of concentrated Western talks aimed at shoring up NATO and preparing a summit-level meeting with the Soviet Union.

Herter had appointments with Paul-Henri Spaak, secretary-general of NATO; Gen. Lauris Norstad, the supreme Allied commander in Europe; and British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd.

Other top ministers from NATO countries were arriving in Paris for the ministerial meeting which opens Tuesday. Most of them were engaged in private talks with their counterparts from other countries. Out of these preliminary talks will come the line to be followed in the NATO meetings.

The U.S. secretary of state welcomed recent relaxation in world tension on his arrival Sunday, but warned: "It remains to be seen whether the Soviet Union is prepared to negotiate seriously to reach equitable settlements of major issues. It would be a grave error to base our plans for the future on a more optimistic appraisal than is warranted by the facts."

On the economic front, U.S. Under Secretary of State Douglas Dillon wound up five days of economic talks in London, Brussels, Bonn and Paris.

He was pictured as certain that a trade war can be avoided between Europe's rival blocs. Dillon's main concern was to protect U.S. trade from competition between the six-nation Common Market and the seven-nation European Free Trade Area.

A highly placed informant said Dillon found both sides eager to avoid a commercial battle that could have political repercussions within the Atlantic Alliance.

Dillon also was reported to have won a promise from West Germany for immediate payment of 300 million marks — 190 million dollars — on its postwar debt. This was aimed at helping to ease the deficit in the U.S. balance of payments.

U.S. Reds End Meeting

NEW YORK (AP)—The Communist party of the United States elected Gus Hall, 49, its new leader today.

Hall, former Midwest chairman of the party and an ex-convict, replaced Eugene Dennis.

Hall was chosen general secretary early today in the windup of the party's 17th national convention. The week-long session was held at a hotel in the heart of Harlem.

A party spokesman attributed Dennis' replacement to a stroke suffered last week.

But Hall's elevation followed a burst of criticism Sunday against the party's old leadership.

County Commission Buys $43,000 Road Machinery

Howard County Commissioners bought nearly $43,000 worth of road machinery on Monday morning.

The court considered bids on a new bulldozer-tractor and on a new road maintainer.

submitted by machinery companies, the court awarded contract to Treanor Equipment Co., Odessa, for a new catcylinder tractor. The company offered to provide the tractor for $20,500 plus certain used equipment the county desires to trade in on the deal.

Western Machine Co., Abilene, offered to provide a grader for $15,611 and a new tractor for $21,000. It also offered a used tractor for $15,000 and another for $16,000.

Ike Lauds Iran For Firm Stand

TEHRAN, Iran (AP)—President Eisenhower lauded Iran today for refusing to stand on the sidelines in the free world's fight against communism.

Grady Randel at the U. S. Experiment Farm said the station sidewalk was wet but the instruments showed nothing.

A light sprinkle was also seen at various other parts of town — enough to mix with dust and dirty auto windshields.

There is a possibility that a real rain will fall here tonight or tomorrow as the cold front moving through the Panhandle continues its way across the state.

The forecast for this afternoon calls for cloudy, windy and colder with light rain or snow to-night and Tuesday.

Greeks Cheer U. S. President

ATHENS, Greece (AP)—Working a 20-hour schedule, President Eisenhower said goodbye to India today and won rousing welcomes in Iran and Greece, both under the protective fold of U.S. military aid.

Here in Athens hundreds of thousands of Greeks turned out to cheer and wave. King Paul greeted the President enthusiastically at Athens' Eilennon airport, saying the Greek people had watched his journey so far with deep emotion.

In reply, Eisenhower noted the long history of Greek culture and said Greece's steadfast devotion to democratic principles has won the admiration of the world.

The President's big orange and silver jet landed at a seaside airport after a six-hour stop in Iran that marked the halfway point in his 22,000-mile goodwill tour, saying "with the enthusiasm inspired by the personality of our visitor and the significance of his mission."

The President's 10-mile route into Athens lay along a broad four-lane highway beside the blue waters of the Bay of Phaleron, then past the temple of the Olympian Zeus and the great arch of Hadrian.

Thousands of U.S. flags and the blue and white banners of Greece dotted the route, flying between pepper and orange trees. "Welcome Eisenhower" posters were plastered on hundreds of buildings.

Tonight, in honor of the occasion, the floodlights will be turned on such historic monuments as the Acropolis and the Parthenon.

Even the Communist-line EDA party joined in. It urged a warm welcome for the President, ignoring for the moment the role American aid played in crushing the Communists during the Greek civil war in the late 1940s.

The President will get his best look at the city Tuesday when a helicopter takes him to the U.S. cruiser Des Moines, anchored in Phaleron Bay. The Des Moines will carry Eisenhower to Tunis, the next stop on his tour.

Eisenhower left New Delhi, India, after a spectacular four-day visit that brought an overwhelming display of affection by millions of Indians.

Indians See Ike Visit As Rebirth

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Foreign News Analyst
NEW DELHI, India (AP)—Indians today professed to see in President Eisenhower's visit a re-appearing of American idealism of the sort that appeals to educated Asians seeking directions for their struggling countries. Many hailed the visit as a landmark of U.S. relations with India and all of Asia. Eisenhower's triumphant stay in the Indian capital was interpreted as a sign of a new direction in U.S. policy, a trend strongly emphasizing the futures of the restless, underdeveloped overpopulated Asian continent. Indians will be a long time assessing the results of the visit. Actually, in terms of tangibles, there is little they can put their fingers on. There were no decisions, no broad sweeping conclusions. But such things had not been the purpose of the Eisenhower visit. What the President showed the Indians was a glimpse of America and what it purports to stand for. The term "new American approach" is being used here to describe the principal result of Eisenhower's visit—an American approach toward Asia based upon an attempt to understand how Asian attitudes came about and why Asians think as they do. "Asians, particularly Indians, like to think that the hectic four days in which Eisenhower was the object of vast admiration of India's masses had a close relationship with what will happen in Paris when the Western heads of government examine their positions in preparation for the summit meeting on world tensions with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev. They like to think also that the visit means the United States is ready to apply its great strength, enormous wealth and respected moral force to the goal of world betterment. Eisenhower told India the welfare of the United States inevitably is bound up with the welfare of India. One of his most important messages stressed the need for what he called a noble world war against hunger. He also spoke of the need for vastly increasing the exchange of students. He indicated the United States is ready to give sympathetic help where needed. His approach was soft, implying the United States has no intention of meddling in Asia. His voice was nonbelligerent, although he implied the United States is ready to come to the aid of any friend against the threat of aggression. But above all his message dwelt on the over-all goal of freedom for all men. This came from a man Prime Minister Nehru hailed in advance as a "messenger of peace." It was an important message at what Nehru repeatedly referred to as "this special hour." It is an hour when India is menaced by the truculent Chinese Communists.

By The Associated Press
Death stalked weekend travelers in Texas, underscoring a grim official warning that the Christmas holidays will take an even bloodier toll. Twenty-eight persons died—five in one crash—in 20 auto accidents between 6 p.m. Friday and midnight Sunday. Fires claimed six lives and other causes swelled the violent death count to 38.

Rockefeller Finds Tropical Political Weather In Midwest

By RELMAN MORIN
MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP)—Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, touring the wintry Middle West today, is running into unexpectedly warm political weather. In some places, it turned almost tropical toward him. He drew overflow crowds in South Bend, Ind., and St. Louis, Mo. The majority of Republican chiefs in both states are reported favoring Vice President Richard M. Nixon as the nominee for president. But as one of them put it, after seeing Rockefeller, "You have to take a good, long look at this guy. I was pleasantly surprised." Again and again, rank-and-file Republicans in St. Louis said to him, "I hope you make the race." A woman said, "Governor, you've got to run now after so many of us stood in line this long." Most significant, a number of people who shook Rockefeller's hand told him they are Democrats. GOP strategists are painfully aware that, being outnumbered in registration by the Democrats, their presidential candidate must pull votes from the opposition party, along with independent votes, to win. Last month, Rockefeller went to the West Coast. The present trip across the Great Plains will be his last, he says, before he announces whether to try for the Republican nomination. He says he would like to be able to make it before Jan. 6, when the New York Legislature convenes. NIXON TERRITORY On both trips, he invaded states where Nixon's strength is supposed to be overwhelming. In both cases, there were clear indications that Republican leaders began having second thoughts after talking with him and seeing him in action. An Indiana judge said, "People around here have seen Nixon several times. They had never seen Rockefeller. I think he has changed some minds." Sen. Homer Capehart (R-Ind) offered to bet that Rockefeller would have half the state's 32 convention delegate votes if he makes the run. Capehart, alone among Indiana's top Republicans, is openly favorable to Rockefeller. "I've been for Nixon for many years," said Missouri state chairman H. Kenneth Wangelin, "But I'm glad to see a good Republican like Rockefeller here. This reception shows great interest in him." He referred to the biggest, noisiest, warmest welcome Rockefeller encountered on either trip. Some 4,000 people pushed and shoved through a hotel ballroom to meet Rockefeller Sunday afternoon. "It's the biggest Republican turnout in 15 years," said Homer Cotton, a coal operator and party worker. Rockefeller gave the crowd a peppy, jut-jawed fight talk first. The room thundered with applause. "I think we're in business now," said John J. Schroeder, St. Louis GOP leader. He said he meant the Republican party in Missouri, which hit a low point last year when it elected only one congressman and no state officials. SOME COMMENTS Then, for nearly two hours, Rockefeller stood, shaking hands with people. Some told him they came from distant points in Missouri, others from nearby Illinois. Here are some word-for-word comments: "I sure hope you run."

Demos May Choose Counter To Mr. K

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower's peace crusade may influence Democrats to pick as a 1960 presidential nominee the man the party believes best qualified to deal with Nikita Khrushchev, two Democratic senators said today. Sens. Mike Mansfield (D-Mont) and A. S. Mike Monroney (D-Okla) expressed that view after some pulse feeling in connection with next year's presidential election. Mansfield, the assistant Senate Democratic leader, said that Eisenhower in his appearances in Asiatic and European nations is making a tremendous impact on the neutral areas of the globe in behalf of the free world's objectives. Mansfield said Eisenhower is achieving triumphs "as President of the United States and not as head of the Republican party." But he added that the success of the tour is bound to be reflected in political thinking at the time of the party nominating conventions in July. "We have five candidates for president, any one of whom is qualified to deal with Khrushchev," Mansfield said. "It will be up to the convention to decide which one it wants." While he did not name them, he obviously referred to Adlai E. Stevenson and Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts, Stuart Symington of Missouri, Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota and Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas. Monroney said in a separate interview he thinks the convention will choose as its nominee the candidate most delegates think can compete best for the "peace vote" with the man the Republicans nominate. Both Democrats said their party will have difficulty in defeating either Vice President Richard M. Nixon or New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller. They agreed that Democratic strength has declined since the party's sweep in the 1958 congressional elections. They attributed this to Eisenhower's activities. Mansfield said he has no doubt that Eisenhower can do some effective campaigning simply by telling the voters he regards the 1960 GOP nominee as the man who knows best how to carry on his peace crusade. Mansfield said that while peace may be the paramount issue next year, the Democrats are not going to overlook domestic problems.

Just Natural Born Ham

LANCASTER, Pa. (AP)—Even though she got no billing on the printed program Sunday night, Sally stole the show. It wasn't her acting that was impressive. She was only a walk-on. But she threw her weight around plenty and gave everybody a tough time. The presentation was a Christmas dream pageant held by the First Reformed Church. The script called for Sally's presence on stage during part of the pageant, featuring children in costumes of Biblical times. But she balked at the church door and had to be carried in by two handlers. It took about 15 minutes to get her down the aisle and behind the footlights. Once on stage, however, she played the part to a hilt. She nuzzled against the child actors and took bits of crackers and cookies from them. The reviews were good. Sally's analysts were at a loss for an explanation—except perhaps she is just stubborn as a donkey. Sally, you see, is a donkey.

Not Easily Upset

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)—Newell E. Foreman is a man who doesn't get upset easily. Duval County Patrolman C. M. Hopkins and D. A. McLeod said Foreman lost control of his car, plunged across the highway, hit a utility pole, smashed through a sign and bounced off a speeding train. The patrolmen rushed to the battered car and pulled open a door. Foreman was calmly peeling a tangerine.

Both Democrats said their party will have difficulty in defeating either Vice President Richard M. Nixon or New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller. They agreed that Democratic strength has declined since the party's sweep in the 1958 congressional elections. They attributed this to Eisenhower's activities. PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—A lightning bolt nipped the aerial on an American Airlines DC6 carrying 50 persons Sunday and the plane was swapped for another at Phoenix. Only radio communications were damaged, said District Manager Milt Atkinson, and passengers were unaware the plane had been hit. He said the big airliner, bound from San Francisco to El Paso, Tex., took the shock about 15 minutes out of Phoenix. The 45 passengers and five crewmen went aboard another plane, he said, and continued the flight which makes a normal stop at Phoenix.

New Cigarette Shown Lowest in Tar, Nicotine
Washington, D.C.: The United States Government has just received a special report which shows that a new filter cigarette—today's new Life—has achieved the least tar and nicotine ever attained. This report, filed with the government in the public interest, supersedes all previous ratings. Achieves Least Tar, Nicotine Following accepted research practice, the table shown at left omits all brand names except the one lowest in tar and nicotine—new Life. One of the scientists who developed new Life, Mr. Thomas Wade, said in an interview: "This new advance was largely due to one factor—the super-absorbent Millecol Filter developed for Life Cigarettes. With this new filter, Life has been able to achieve the least tar and nicotine of any cigarette made, as shown by the filter ratings on file with the U.S. Government." Report to Government Welcomed Life has set a new standard of tar and nicotine reduction. Life scientists have also developed new taste enrichment which delivers full flavor never before possible in a filter cigarette. Smokers, acting on the new ratings filed with the U.S. Government, are changing to new Life... for the least tar and nicotine in history.

President To Find The Sailing Smooth

ATHENS (AP)—President Eisenhower will run little risk of either sunburn or seasickness when he boards the cruiser Des Moines Tuesday for a sail to Tunisia and France.

The weather probably won't be good. But the heavy cruiser rides smoothly.

A 3-day Mediterranean cruise aboard the sleek, gray flagship of the U. S. 6th Fleet was scheduled to give the President a brief rest at sea between his talks with government leaders and his appearance at the Paris Western summit session.

Then it was announced he would meet Tunisia's President Habib Bourguiba for talks aboard the Des Moines. Later the President decided to spend four hours ashore in Tunisia before moving on to Toulon, France.

The fleet's weather experts say December is squall time in the usually sunny Mediterranean. It's sun today and storm tomorrow.

Sunbathing is unlikely. But ship's officers say seasickness is unlikely too. The 21,600-ton heavy cruiser rides as smoothly as such big liners as the America or the Constitution.

When the President boards the 6th Fleet flagship there will be a 21-gun presidential salute, and the unusual formality of "manning the rail" which the U. S. Navy reserves for chiefs of state.

Every five days the Des Moines passes from Athens until the President leaves the ship at Toulon harbor Friday will render the same honors.

As Eisenhower boards the cruiser the three-starred blue flag of Vice Adm. George W. Anderson Jr., 6th Fleet commander, will come down from the mainmast. The President's flag will go up in its place.

Like will stay in Adm. Anderson's quarters. These are comfortable, but not plush. They compare with a suite in a first-class hotel.

Eisenhower knows the cruiser. He was aboard, at Naples, when he was commander of NATO's European forces after the war.

The Des Moines has been host to other notables among them, Queen Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh.

Surviving him are his daughters, Mrs. Wesley Morris, Big Spring; Mrs. O. D. Newton, Brownsville; two sons, S. D. Sullivan Jr., Florence, and Henry Sullivan, Bertram. He also leaves 10 grandchildren and two nephews, including A. M. Sullivan.

From there, he went to Fort Mounmouth, N. J., where he spent several months before being shipped to Germany in January, 1958. He, too, was assigned to duty with the Medical branch of the Army and currently is stationed at the 75th Army Hospital near Stuttgart, Germany.

For the last six months, Donald Ray has been an assistant to the chaplain at the base.

His enlistment will be up shortly after the first of the year and he is planning to return to Big Spring. Before entering the Armed Forces, he was employed by the R & R Theatres here for eight years.

Four accidents, one involving a truck belonging to the Colorado River Municipal Water District, were reported during the weekend.

The CRMWD truck was parked at 402 Birdwell Lane when struck by a car driven by Gordon R. Hickman, Big Spring. T. C. Richardson is driver of the water district truck.

Leslie B. McNeese, 3611 Conally, and William Gilbert Carter, Gail Rt., were involved in a fender-bender in the 3600 block of Conally.

C. L. Atwell, 906 Bell, and Mary K. Cunningham, Midland, were in collision at 2nd and Main. Tom Cleveland, 502 NW 6th, collided with a utility pole near Lakeview school.

Members of the Rainbow Girls sold bangles for the Howard County Tuberculosis Association on Saturday, and they plan to repeat the performance this week-end. Mrs. Louise Hamilton, sponsor, said that a larger number were expected to participate in the sale of the little red plastic twin crosses. All proceeds go to the association's fund for preventative and curative campaign against the tuberculosis.

Physicians put him under an oxygen tent after the frail old soldier developed pneumonia Dec. 6. It is his fourth such attack in six months.

The selection committee for Texas meets in an all-day session Wednesday at Southern Methodist University in Dallas to interview the 20 applicants from over the state and will name a selectee and an alternate from Texas that evening.

Then these students will be among those considered at the meeting of the Gulf District Committee (Texas, Okla., Ark., La., Miss., Ala.) in New Orleans Dec. 19, and the four students selected by this district committee will go to Oxford in Oct. 1960.

Members of the Texas Rhodes Scholarship Selection Committee, besides Dr. Chapman are: SMU President Willis M. Tate, chairman; George C. McGhee of McGhee Production Co., Dallas; Ewell E. Murphy Jr. of Baker, Botts, Andrews & Shepherd, Houston; Dr. Thad N. Marsh, assistant to the president, Rice Institute, Houston; and Dr. J. Ross MacDonald, director of Solid State Physics Research, Texas Instruments Inc., Dallas.

Highway patrols are being increased to cut down accidents during the holiday season, officials said today. Federal routes are being patrolled to enforce speed limits.

A jury panel was in the court at 10 a. m. to serve in trial of the civil cases.

Indian Guides have heap fun. Hear! Report of tidings make report to all confederacy — to tribes, to parents.

Indian Guides have heap big festival over weekend. Warriors of Cheyenne tribe gather at Bob Bright house, 1708 Yale, when sun is in western sky on Sun-day.

Heap punch, cookies. Have games.

Big Chief J. R. Redden Jr., him dress like Santa Claus. Ride fierce North Wind from North Pole. Hand out gifts which braves exchange.

Gifts also for Honeybees, sisters of brave Cheyenne warriors, guests at big feast.

Only one bad event — white man's law don't allow taking of scalps. But heap fun anyhow.

Lived In Car For Five Months

Mrs. DeLores Louise Zamojcin and her daughters, Adele, 7, left, and Carmen, 6, rest in an apartment in Detroit after living for five months in a 1953 automobile. Their plight was discovered by police who stopped Mrs. Zamojcin for speeding. Overdue rent caused their eviction and a boarding home held the children's clothing for a $25 debt. A club of business and professional men moved in to pay the family debts, re-rent the apartment, stock the cupboard with food and get Mrs. Zamojcin a job. Her divorced husband has disappeared.

McGrath & Smith and Texas American will dig the No. 3 Clark as a Clark (Glorieta) field project about 10 miles northwest of Water Valley and 330 from south and west lines of section 33-11-SPRR survey. It is on 20 acres and slated for 1,600 feet.

3 Local Delegates At Teacher Meeting

Big Spring had three out of the 383 delegates at a state conference on teacher education and professional standards at Dallas on Saturday.

The group favored, after considerable debate, a provision which would permit superintendents to hire the best qualified person, even though uncertified, in cases of emergency. At the same time, they also suggest that TSTA membership requirements, now open to anyone interested in improvement of education, be raised so that only those making a career in education would be eligible. The conference was termed "Operation Bootstrap," symbolical of the intent of the profession to elevate its standards.

Attending from here were Mrs. Mary Arnold Heffley, member of the state board; Mrs. Rena Yandell, Classroom Teachers Association president, and Mrs. Roy Green, chairman of the teacher education and professional standards committee.

Services for Mrs. Annie Morrow, 87, will be held at 10 a. m. Tuesday in the Nalley-Pickle Chapel with the Rev. Cecil Rhodes officiating. Burial will be in Trinity Memorial Park.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Hank Watkins, who is interested in the head coaching job at the local high school, has also been offered the line coaching post under Chuck Moser at Abilene High School.

Moser is losing his aide, Wally Bullington, to Abilene's new high school. Watkins is still affiliated with the University of Houston but there is every indication he will depart the post.

Watkins is still affiliated with the University of Houston but there is every indication he will depart the post.

Pitzer, incidentally, was re-hired the past season, so still has three seasons of eligibility ahead of him at Houston.

Three of the area's better known Class AAA coaches are interested in the local job but all want to be invited to talk about it.

One of those who has stepped on a few toes and may get bounced, even though he has experienced moderate success with his teams.

One reason college football recruiters look for big, speedy full-backs: They can easily be converted into ends, tackles, guards or centers — and many are.

It's not easy to understand how the District 4-B (eight-man) football selection committee could have overlooked Forsan's Sammy Barnett when it came time to pick an all-conference defensive unit.

Barnett made a total of 116 tackles over the season, which averages out to more than 10 a game.

That's only nine fewer than the team's leading tackler, Dewey Howard, made Howard was an all-conference selection.

Both linebackers will be back for Forsan next fall, so Barnett still has time to impress those who were looking the other way this time.

Incidentally, Coach James Blake is counting heavily on Guy Dobbs, a 175-pound ineligible this year. Dobbs attended junior high school in Big Spring.

Reliable reports say the American League has given the Washington Senators permission to move their franchise to Minneapolis in 1961.

Owner Clark Griffith has been trying to move the club three years without success.

If the Senators hit the road, the National League possibility will move into the territory—and do much better by the long-suffering fans.

Warren Cantrell, who has been hired to design the new Country Club layout here, recently was named treasurer of the Professional Golfers Assn. for the third straight term.

There were two other candidates for the job but the names of both were withdrawn.

Sunland Park in Anapra, N. M., expects to have a pari-mutuel handle exceeding $7,000,000 for the current season, which is very good for an inaugural campaign.

The average daily handle has exceeded $150,000.

Don Ury, the one-time Cleburne grid great who is now at West Point, was recently named to the all-conference football team chosen by University of Oklahoma players.

no-title affairs and none will be seen on television.

Robinson, idle since he beat Carmen Basilio in Chicago 21 months ago, takes on Bob Young of Providence, R.I., at the Boston Garden. This is a tune-up for defense of his New York and Massachusetts — recognized middleweight crown against Paul Pender at the same arena, Jan. 22.

Pender, of Brookline, Mass., is fighting on the same card tonight. He takes on Gene Hamilton, one of Robinson's old sparring partners, in the co-featured ten.

JOHN UNITAS IS MAN WITH GOLDEN ARM

By MIKE RATHET Associated Press Sports Writer

Johnny Unitas, Baltimore's man with a golden arm, has pitched the defending National Football League champion Colts to their second consecutive Western Conference title with one of his gilded passing performances.

The cunning 35-year-old quarterback rallied the trailing Colts for a 21-point blitz in the final period Saturday that carried Baltimore to a 45-26 victory over Los Angeles and into the NFL championship game against the New York Giants, Dec. 27 at Baltimore.

The situation was anything but bright for the Colts when Unitas decided personally to toss the league's youngest entry another crown.

Losers of seven straight and playing their last game under Coach Sid Gillman, the Rams led 26-24 in the fourth quarter with 65,238 partisan fans in Los Angeles Coliseum cheering their every move.

Unitas calmly reared back, spotted rookie Jerry Richardson and fired a nine-yard touchdown pass to put the Colts out front to stay. It was Unitas' third scoring play of the game, giving him 32 for the season and extended to 37 straight his TD-game streak. Both are NFL records.

The Eastern Division champion Giants, who'll be seeking to avenge a 23-17 sudden death loss to Baltimore in the championship game last year, warmed up Sunday by defeating Washington 24-10.

Cleveland wound up tied for second place in the Eastern Division with Philadelphia by whipping the Eagles 28-21. The runner-up spot in the West went to Chicago's Bears, who ran their winning streak to seven games—longest in the league this season—by beating Detroit 25-14.

Green Bay won its fourth straight, thumping San Francisco 36-14 and tied the 49ers for third place in the West. Pittsburgh whacked Chicago's Cardinals 35-20 in the other game on the windup program.

After Unitas' clinching TD, the Colt defense took over. Dick Szymanski went 15 yards with an interception for one score and Carl Taseff tied an NFL mark by running back a missed field goal try 99 yards for another.

The Rams (2-10) had built their lead on four field goals by Lou Michaels and TD runs of four and 27 yards by Joe Maroonia and Jon Arnett. Touchdown passes of two and seven yards from Unitas to Ray Berry and a 53-yard run by Mike Sommer kept the Colts (9-3) within striking distance.

Charlie Conerly fired two touchdowns against the Redskins (3-9) and Frank Gifford set a club rushing record as the Giants became the first Eastern team to win 10 games since Cleveland in 1953. Gifford gained 84 yards for a career mark of 3,347. New York's Pat Summerall kicked one field goal and three conversions to finish second in the league's scoring race with 90 points.

Jiminy Brown, used mostly as a decoy in the early stages, plunged short yardage for two touchdowns in the final period as the Browns came from behind to overtake the Eagles. Both finished with 15 TD passes for 246 yards and one touchdown. Brown again was the league's ground gaining champ with 1,329 yards in 200 carries.

Howard has said Clemson will be playing the nation's second best team when it meets the Frogs in the first annual Bluebonnet bowl game.

"I don't think he overrated Abe Martin's team one bit," Norton, coach of the 1939 national champions and Houston Post football analyst, wrote today.

"I saw Syracuse crush UCLA on television, and from where I was sitting the Orangemen did nothing that TCU can't do as well. By late November, TCU in this book was the equal of any team in the land."

"The team that Clemson meets next Saturday has these assets: Depth, size and greatness at three positions."

"That would be Don Floyd and Robert Lilly at tackles, and Jack

ROCKETS DECISION McCAMEY, 78-62

McCAMEY (SC) — Roosevelt Brown won their fifth game in six basketball starts here Saturday night, trouncing McCamey, 78-62.

The Rockets' host Midland Wednesday night.

Although he fouled out in the fourth quarter, Luther Louis Brown led the Big Spring club in scoring with 22 points. Eddie Lee Wright came through with 21 and Johnny B. Wright had 20 on Lakeview's behalf.

McCamey was paced by William Benson, who had 26 to his credit.

The girls' teams representing the two schools played to a 47-47 deadlock.

Big Spring beat the McCamey crew badly from the field but McCamey came through with 25 free pitches. One girl, R. M. Evans, made 18 at the penalty line.

The Lakeview girls currently have won-lost-td record of 3-2-1. Big Spring also won the boys' B game, 51-27, for its fifth success in six starts.

Roland Williams tossed in 13 points to lead Big Spring while Charles McCamey was led by Charles White, who had 11.

WHITMIRE AND SON GET SECOND DEER

John Whitmire and his son, John L. III of Gall returned home this morning with a deer gained on a hunting trip this weekend near Junction.

They were guests of James E. Smith and his son, James, near Lamesa.

This was the first deer hunt for young John, 11 years old; nine-year-old James shot a four-point buck during the Thanksgiving holidays.

Baptists Quits Win Loop Opener

In first round YMCA Church Basketball League games played the past week, Wesley Methodist, 38-29; and Temple Baptist outlasted Church of the Nazarene, 36-28.

J. Patterson led First Baptist to victory, tossing in 12 points. Bob Hamilton proved Wesley's pace setter, with ten.

Les Sherrad had a big hand in Temple Baptist's victory, with 21 points. Strickland tossed in 21 points for the Nazarenes.

Homer Norton Says Purple Nation's 2nd Best Team

Spikes, the peerless fullback and linebacker. For a specialist, they have a game-cracking runner in Harry Moreland, the little halfback who can't block or tackle but who knows where home is."

Norton pointed out that one of the plays Clemson must stop is a power play with Moreland carrying either inside or outside of the end. It was off this run that Moreland scooted for touchdowns of 56 and 47 yards against Texas and Southern Methodist.

"Elsewhere, the Frogs are only average," he continued. "But their manpower is endless, and none of it is below average. I have seen the second unit look as good at times as the first."

The Frogs' passing game, he says, can't be disregarded. They can do everything and do it well.

"To beat TCU you have to stop the wide stuff. Spikes might beat you up the middle, but not as fast as one long run by Moreland. At least Spikes beats you inside, it will be slow and painful."

Odessa Permian Is Tourney Winner

RICHER FUTURITY

RUIDOSO DOWNS, N. M. (SC) — They said it couldn't be done when Ruidoso Downs announced they were going to run a $50,000 Quarter Horse Futurity here a couple of years ago.

Gene Hensley, director of racing, said, "maybe not, but we'll give it a good try!" A race of this size would be the biggest quarter horse feature in the whole world.

Quick response of quarter horse men — nationwide — to this proposed feature proved they were ready for an event of this magnitude.

Now they had something worth running for and sales value of promising speedsters immediately skyrocketed. In the last two major quarter horse sales the value of eligibles for this year event tripled dollar wise.

Labor Day '59 witnessed the inaugural running of their All-American Futurity worth $129,686.85 — richest race per yard in the world.

Continued interest in this stake has already insured the same lucrative purse for 1960 while nomination blanks for the '61 running have just been released.

The 'Downs' gained five racing days and are breaking a week earlier for their '60 season. Opening day is scheduled for May 20 — getway day Sept. 11, with racing every Friday, Saturday, Sunday and holidays throughout the summer.

Their well-planned purse program exceeds $1,000,000 and many additional improvements will be finished come spring.

A stakes book highlighting their 1960 racing program will be released soon and both the thoroughbred and the quarter horse condition books will be available by the middle of March.

Aggies Going Great Guns; One Of Two Unbeaten 5's

Other teams have top individual scorers but Texas A&M has a flock of guys of about equal ability, which probably is the reason the Aggies lead the Southwest Conference basketball campaign.

Not an Aggie is to be found in the 10 leading scorers, but six of them have been doing a satisfactory job of hitting the basket.

Texas A&M and Texas are the only undefeated teams left in the league with two weeks gone, and it will probably stay that way this week.

The Aggies play only one game, Houston Thursday night. They beat the Cougars by 18 points when they played before.

Southern Methodist began to make passes last week, indicating the Mustangs again will be the team to beat. The Methodists whipped Oklahoma City University 67-56 and swamped Vanderbilt 86-67.

Texas A&M also won two games last week, lacing Houston 67-49 and Midwestern 70-43. The Aggies haven't yet met somebody capable of giving them a game.

Four Ex-Champions Still In Contention

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF Associated Press Sports Writer
It's showdown week in the long and weary Texas schoolboy football race with four championships on the line and four former champions trying for three of them.

Wichita Falls, seeking its fifth title in 18 years and riding a long winning streak, battles unbeaten, undefeated and confident Corpus Christi Ray in the big game.

They clash in Austin at 2 p.m. Saturday for the Class AAAA crown. It's the only final in the state matching undefeated teams.

Wichita Falls, the defending champion, has gone through 25 games without losing. Corpus Christi Ray, in the finals for the second time, has won 13 straight.

Other championship struggles are: Class AAA—Breckenridge vs. Cleburne at Breckenridge, 2 p.m. Saturday.

Class AA—Stamford vs. Friday at San Angelo, 8 p.m. Friday.

Class A—Sundown vs. Katy at Brownwood, 2 p.m. Saturday.

Breckenridge is a four-time champion and is seeking a repeat. Cleburne played Houston Heights to a tie in the first championship game of the Texas Interscholastic League, in 1920.

Stamford three times has been king of Class AA.

Corpus Christi Ray returns to the scene of its first try for the state championship — Austin. It was there in 1956 that Ray took a 14-0 licking from Abilene. This time the Texans may be favored to end Wichita Falls' reign.

They are two powerful versatile teams—Wichita Falls with its great 1-2 punch of Dickie Turner and Travis Reagan. Ray with its great running tandem of Jerry Rogers and Johnny Williams.

Breckenridge, which looks even stronger than last season's AAAA kings with its dangerous combination of runner Dick Rogers and passer Jerry Gibson, will meet a Cleburne team accustomed to playing on foreign fields.

Cleburne had to hit the road in each of its three games of the state playoffs. The big, tough Yellow Jackets have been well up to it, too. Nobody has been quite able to handle the passing of Jimmy Doerr and the running of Buck McCall.

Stamford, like Wichita Falls, has gone through 25 games without a loss. It takes a 14-0 record for the season into the big one.

Brady, runnerup in the state twice and loser to Stamford in the 1958 final—has a 12-2 record but in its last five games has looked like a whirlwind. The Bulldogs have romped to 500 points and are the second highest-scoring team in the state.

The team with the most points is Sundown, which has a 13-1 record and has rolled up 359 in 14 games.

Friday night Baylor meets Mississippi State in the Murray, Ky., Invitational Tournament. Southern Methodist visits New Orleans for a game with Tulane and Texas is at Oklahoma City University.

Pat Foster of Arkansas leads the scorers with 93 points.

U.S. Security Council Edge To Be Pared

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The effective United States majority of 10-1 on the U.N. Security Council probably will dwindle to 8-3 on most votes in the new year. This will be the result of elections held in the General Assembly for terms on the 11-nation council starting Jan. 1. The Assembly wound up its 14th session early Sunday by electing Communist Poland to a council seat. The election was the last of three East-West compromises that were among the session's high points. Poland and Turkey had been deadlocked in a three-month race that ended when the United States and the Soviet Union agreed to let them split the two-year term. Poland will resign at the end of 1960, and Turkey will finish out the term.

POLAND IN

In addition to Poland, Ceylon and Ecuador were elected to succeed Canada and Panama. Poland takes the seat held by Japan. The outgoing three voted, with the United States in the last test Sept. 7, when the council overrode Soviet opposition and voted 10-1 to send a subcommittee to investigate charges of Communist intervention in Laos.

Of the incoming three, only Ecuador can be counted on to support the United States on cold war issues. Poland will vote with the Soviet Union, and neutralist Ceylon most likely will abstain. An 8-3 majority is just one vote over the margin of safety, for seven votes are needed to pass any proposal. It used to be that a 10-1 vote was only a moral victory for the United States, since the single negative vote was a Soviet veto.

But the veto was circumvented in the Laotian case when Egido Ortona of Italy, serving as council president that month, ruled that setting up a subcommittee was a procedural matter not subject to a veto. A majority of the council upheld him.

TAKE TURNS

This device can be used by the West only when the president will issue such a ruling. But council delegates take month-long turns in the chair in their countries' alphabetical order. With Ceylon, Poland and the Soviet Union on the council, there will be two and probably three months out of the year when the plan cannot be used.

Remaining on the council will be Britain, Nationalist China, France, the Soviet Union and the United States, in permanent seats, and Argentina, Italy and Tunisia, whose two-year terms have a year to run.

In another 11th hour action, the Assembly endorsed a Soviet-American compromise setting up a 24-nation permanent committee to study ways to keep outer space peaceful. Membership is split equally between Western Allies (12) and Communists (7) and neutrals (5). The Communists and some of the neutrals boycotted a temporary committee set up last year because the Western Allies outnumbered them 12-6.

TO COMMITTEE

A third result of private Soviet-American negotiations was the Assembly's referral of all disarmament proposals to a 10-nation East-West committee meeting in Geneva in February. But the resolution contained four references to "general and complete disarmament"—a phrase used by Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev when he addressed the Assembly Sept. 18.

The Assembly failed in attempts to modify the adamant stand of France on two issues. It adopted a resolution asking France to cancel its plans for a nuclear bomb test in the Sahara, but the French said they would go ahead.

The French also boycotted the Assembly debate on Algeria, and maneuvering by France and her allies blocked passage of even a watered-down compromise asking for peace talks to stop the Algerian war.

The Assembly also voted three more years of relief for Palestine refugees; endorsed independence in 1960 for the U.N. Trust Territories of Italian Somaliland and French Togoland in Africa; deplored Communist disregard of past resolutions on Soviet intervention in the 1956 Hungarian revolt; appealed for respect for fundamental human rights in Tibet, and adopted a Declaration of the Rights of the Child.

A few days before the session ended, Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld told U.N. correspondents it had shown "a new will to find common ground." The Assembly president, Victor Andres Belauende, hailed it as the "Assembly of peace" as he brought the session to an end at 4:11 a.m. Sunday.

Tuesday Rites For Little Girl

The Study Of Religions Continued By Hyperions

In a continuation of the year's theme, Evolution of Man's Thinking, members of the 1959 Hyperion Club heard a program based on the subject, The Heritage of Judaism, Saturday afternoon.

Gay Christmas Party Courtesy For Altrusa

Adding to the festivities of the season was the Christmas luncheon and party given Sunday by Mrs. J. B. Apple and Mrs. Hous-ton Cowden in the Apple home.

SS Class Meets For Christmas Banquet

The Crusaders, young adult class of the First Church of God, had its Christmas banquet Saturday evening in Fellowship Hall at the church.

Mrs. Florence Jackson, teacher, extended the welcome, and a quartet, composed of Linda Horn, Rita Hickson, Linda Hickson and Wanda Harvey, accompanied by Marlon Rucktschel, sang several selections.

Barbara Franklin told the story of "Ruth and the Star," and the film, "Bible on the Table," was projected. Several carols were sung.

John Hickson was master of ceremonies for the party, which was held against a Christmas setting with red poinsettias as centerpieces.

Mrs. Findlater Is Speaker For AAUW

Mrs. John Findlater presented a program for members of the American Association of University Women at their luncheon Saturday at Cokers Restaurant. Her topic was the history of the winter festival.

Hostesses were Mrs. Glenn Coates and Mrs. Bruce Dunn. A Santa Claus and a Christmas tree were flanked by red tapers to form a centerpiece for the table at which 13 were seated.

The next meeting is slated for the music building at Howard County Junior College at 8 p.m., Jan. 12.

Yule Luncheon Given For Delta Kappa Gamma

Members of Delta Kappa Gamma met for a Christmas luncheon Saturday at Cokers, where they heard a symposium conducted by Mrs. Ray Cantrell.

Taking as their topic, An Appraisal of the Teacher Training Program, the panel discussed various phases of the work. Making up the group were Mrs. Virgil Smedley, Mrs. Rudolph Brewster, Mrs. R. F. Davis and Mrs. Bob Craig.

Velma Blagrove presented a session on the idea of "Do You Know?" in which members discussed duties of chairmen, traditions and customs of the organization and the manner of wearing the sorority pin.

A contribution to the International Scholarship Fund was voted by the group, and Agnes Currie presented a scholarship to Howard County Junior College, to be used by a future teacher. This was in memory of the late Mrs. Ladonia Cook, a former Big Spring teacher.

A check is to be presented to the state hospital for the Christmas party, it was decided. Plans were discussed for the tea to be given in March, 1960 for the Texas State Teachers Association.

Betty Joyce Gray was elected representative to the international convention to be held in Florida in 1960.

Miss Pieper Honored At Breakfast

LAMESA — Mrs. Carson Echols and Mrs. Donnell Echols were hostesses for a breakfast to honor or Jeanne Pieper, bride-elect of Donnie Bryant of Big Spring at Turner's Caprock Room.

Three tiered candles, entwined with blue grapes and love birds were nestled in white flock and silver Christmas ornaments to form the centerpiece for the table.

The hostess gift to Miss Pieper was a singing tea kettle. Plates were laid for the honoree and her mother, Mrs. H. E. Pieper; her future mother-in-law, Mrs. Orville Bryant of Big Spring; Kay Mosley of Lubbock; Letta Cope, Linda Hamilton and Mrs. Charles Warren, Mrs. Bill Ellyson, Mrs. Sammie Moore, Mrs. Doyle Archer, Mrs. Jimmy Robinson and the hostesses.

Miss Pieper and Donnie Bryant of Big Spring are to be married Dec. 18 at First Baptist Church here.

A leave of absence was granted to Mrs. J. Y. Robb, because of illness in her family.

Mrs. H. C. Stipp reviewed several projects under consideration by the city federation, among them the beautification of the city; a welcoming affair for newcomers; provision of leaders for youth activities.

Mrs. Maurice Koger, state federation counselor, distributed booklets dealing with art appreciation. Mrs. Toots Mansfield was introduced as a new member.

A donation of 50 dollars to the state hospital for the Christmas party on Dec. 22 was voted by the club.

Mrs. Keaton was assisted by Mrs. Patterson and Mrs. Stipp in serving refreshments to 17.

Hunts Have Yule Party

Open house at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Anthony Hunt was a courtesy for the faculty and members of the board of Howard County Junior College Sunday afternoon.

Assisting the college president and his wife in receiving guests were Mrs. Jack Hendrix, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Johnson, Dr. Marvin Baker and B. M. Keese.

Red candles were grouped with silver balls on silver styrofoam to compose the centerpiece for the tea table where Mrs. J. A. Coffey and Mrs. Horace Garrett served. A tea cart in Christmas decor was tended by Mrs. Keese and Mrs. Baker.

An out of town guest present for the event was Mrs. Joe Bagwell of Borger.

Lamesa Rebekahs Elect New Officers

LAMESA — Mrs. Ina Mae Beal was elected noble grand of Rebekah Lodge No. 90 for the coming term, when the lodge met in regular session at IOOF Hall on Monday night.

Slaton Mother, 2 Others Die In Auto Crash

LUBBOCK (AP)—A young Slaton mother—being rushed to a Lubbock hospital to have her baby—her husband and a third person died in a thundering car crash early today just south of the Lubbock city limits.

The victims were Mr. and Mrs. James Arthur Hogue, their unborn child and a man identified by the Highway Patrol as Juan Vela Frusta. Hogue was 23 and his wife 24.

Mrs. Hogue's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Grady Halliburton, also of Slaton, notified by their son-in-law that he was taking his wife to the hospital, were following in their own car a few minutes behind and passed the scene of the wreckage without realizing who was involved.

They were waiting in the delivery room at Methodist Hospital when their daughter was brought in, dead on arrival.

When the Halliburtons passed the crowded wreck scene, Mrs. Halliburton told her husband "Maybe we should stop and see if it could be them."

"That couldn't be them," her husband answered reassuredly. A 4-year-old son of the Hagues had been left with relatives in Slaton.

The collision left one car unbelievably disintegrated and partially burned. The other stopped upside down in the depression in the divided four-lane highway.

Engines of both cars were ripped out.

State police said Frusta's car entered the highway from a farm road shortly before the crash. Parts of Frusta's car caught fire burned until Lubbock firemen arrived. Frusta, although apparently killed at once, was badly burned.

The expectant mother, carrying in her suitcase baby clothes for the child, apparently flew through the air a short distance. Then her body started skidding across the highway, finally coming to a halt about 15 yards from where she first struck.

Kilgore, Oil Law Pioneer, Is Dead

DALLAS (AP)—John E. Kilgore, 67, who helped write statutes putting an end to wasteful production of oil, died Sunday.

Industry leaders recognized him as a pioneer who played a key role in setting up proration programs to conserve oil resources in Texas and other states.

Kilgore, a Dallas lawyer, became ill at his home and died at a hospital a short time later. He had made his home here since 1943.

As a member of the Texas Conservation Committee, Kilgore drafted measures for four special sessions of the Texas Legislature in 1932-33 which halted unlimited oil production.

He likewise helped write, as a member of an industry committee, the federal government's Connally Hot Oil Act. This is the measure forbidding movement in interstate commerce of oil produced in violation of state laws.

"John Kilgore was a great citizen and good friend during those sessions of the Legislature," recalled Ernest O. Thompson, chairman and veteran member of the Texas Railroad Commission, which regulates oil production.

"He was a pioneer among lawyers of Texas in oil and gas law, and he did more than his part to see that a wise waste prevention statute was adopted."

Commenting in similar vein, Railroad Commissioner Olin Culbertson said:

"John Kilgore was a tower of strength in getting the proration laws for Texas. He was an early pioneer in the proration movement and added tremendously to the effort for passage of the laws."

The Dallas attorney likewise was secretary of the National Petroleum Council's import committee and helped prepare a recent report by that group.

A native of Hayneville, Ala., Kilgore moved to Texas as an infant with his parents. He was a son of Dr. James Kilgore, a Methodist minister.

He took his law degree at Southwestern University in Georgetown, started practice in 1912 at Huntsville and served as county attorney before World War I service as an Army officer in France.

After the war he was a lawyer in the Cisco office of The Texas Co., where he developed what owners of oil acreage know as the producer's 88 lease form. With few modifications, that form is still used throughout the nation's midcontinent area.

Kilgore established a law office in Wichita Falls in 1920, remaining there until he came to Dallas 23 years later.

He leaves his widow; a son, John E. Kilgore Jr. of New York City; a daughter, Miss Lillian Kilgore of Dallas; two brothers, James A. Kilgore, who was his law partner, and Dr. Donald G. Kilgore, both of Dallas, and four grandchildren.

Arrangements for the funeral service had not been completed.

Cold North Air Brings Moisture

By The Associated Press

Cold air rode a norther southward off the Central Rockies into the Texas Panhandle Monday, and forecasters looked for rain mixed with snow in the upper Panhandle by nightfall.

Dalhart, fanned by a wintry 14-m.p.h. wind, shivered in 31-degree weather, before dawn.

Southerly breezes helped keep most other sections of the state warm. Early morning temperatures elsewhere ranged from the lower 40s in the Panhandle-Plains into the lower 60s over extreme South Texas.

The Weather Bureau predicted occasional rain in all areas of Texas through Tuesday.

Forecasts promised temperatures by early Tuesday of 28-32 degrees in the upper part of Northwest Texas and 32-42 in lower stretches of that sector. Continued mild readings were in prospect for other sections.

Top marks Sunday varied from 57 degrees at Dalhart to 77 at Presidio. The only measurable rain Sunday was .12 inch at Alpine in far West Texas.

Pope Names 2 Americans As Cardinals, Hits Birth Issue

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope John XXIII today named two Americans to be cardinals of the Roman Catholic Church and at the same time pointedly restated the church's opposition to artificial birth control as a means of limiting hungry populations.

The two American prelates—Archbishop Albert Gregory Meyer and the former bishop of Fargo, N.C., Archbishop Alois J. Muench—were among eight new princes of the church named by the 78-year-old pontiff in a secret consistory held in the Vatican's Consistorial Hall.

The Pope in his reference to birth control made no mention of the current controversy kicked up by the opposition of American Catholics to possible use of U.S. aid funds for foreign birth control programs. But his linking of birth control with the "problem of hunger" and his statement in connection with an event of wide interest in America left no doubt of his intention.

"For a great part of humanity," the Pope said in his Latin allocation naming the new cardinals, "the problem of hunger is still grave. To avoid this very grave calamity, in no case can erroneous doctrines be adopted or lethal methods of limitation of births."

The cardinals were not present at the secret consistory. Instead they waited at various points in Rome or Vatican City for the official notification from the Pope's messengers.

The two Americans waited at the Pontifical North American College on Rome's Janiculum Hill.

The secret consistory will be followed by a great public consistory in St. Peter's Basilica on Thursday at which the new cardinals will receive their galeros, the broad-brimmed red hats symbolic of their rank.

The Pope's action brought the total membership in the College of Cardinals to 79, highest in the history of the church. It gives the United States a total of six cardinals, the most ever allotted to the United States.

In addition to the Americans, the new cardinals are William Theodore Heard, Scottish dean of the Holy Roman Rota Tribunal; Agostino Bea, Jesuit confessor of the late Pope Pius XII; Francesco Morano, 87-year-old secretary of the Ecclesiastical Tribunal; Gustavo Testa, 73-year-old nuncio to Switzerland; Acadio Larrona, Spanish secretary of the Vatican's Congregation of the Religious, and Paolo Marcella, the Vatican's 64-year-old nuncio to France, who was to receive his notification in Paris according to an old custom between the Vatican and France.

Three of them were along the ridge of the Santa Monica Mountains, causing firemen to move from canyon to canyon until all were controlled.

The top story on one expensive, two-level home was burned and flames endangered numerous others—including the unfinished mansion of actor Charlton Heston.

The canyon fires consumed a total of 136 acres.

Just when firemen were beginning to ease up, a fourth fire started on the Palos Verdes Peninsula in southwest Los Angeles County. It blackened about 75 acres of brush before crews got the upper hand.

The two Americans waited at the Pontifical North American College on Rome's Janiculum Hill.

The secret consistory will be followed by a great public consistory in St. Peter's Basilica on Thursday at which the new cardinals will receive their galeros, the broad-brimmed red hats symbolic of their rank.

The Pope's action brought the total membership in the College of Cardinals to 79, highest in the history of the church. It gives the United States a total of six cardinals, the most ever allotted to the United States.

In addition to the Americans, the new cardinals are William Theodore Heard, Scottish dean of the Holy Roman Rota Tribunal; Agostino Bea, Jesuit confessor of the late Pope Pius XII; Francesco Morano, 87-year-old secretary of the Ecclesiastical Tribunal; Gustavo Testa, 73-year-old nuncio to Switzerland; Acadio Larrona, Spanish secretary of the Vatican's Congregation of the Religious, and Paolo Marcella, the Vatican's 64-year-old nuncio to France, who was to receive his notification in Paris according to an old custom between the Vatican and France.

Three of them were along the ridge of the Santa Monica Mountains, causing firemen to move from canyon to canyon until all were controlled.

The top story on one expensive, two-level home was burned and flames endangered numerous others—including the unfinished mansion of actor Charlton Heston.

The canyon fires consumed a total of 136 acres.

Just when firemen were beginning to ease up, a fourth fire started on the Palos Verdes Peninsula in southwest Los Angeles County. It blackened about 75 acres of brush before crews got the upper hand.

MEXICO CITY (AP)—The newspaper Excelsior said Sunday that Mexican fishing fleets are negotiating with the Guatemalan government for permission to operate in Guatemalan waters after paying required taxes.

New York, N.Y. (Special)—For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain—without surgery.

In case after case, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place.

Most amazing of all—results were so thorough that sufferers made astonishing statements like "Piles have ceased to be a problem!"

The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne*)—discovery of a world-famous research institute.

This substance is now available in suppository or ointment form under the name Preparation H.* At your druggist. Money back guarantee.

A Devotional For Today

Depart from evil, and do good; seek peace, and pursue it. (Psalms 34:14.)
PRAYER: O God our Father, open Thou our eyes to see. Gird our spirits to do our part in the coming of peace. By our forgiveness, restitution, love, and Christ-like living, help us to pave the road that leads to world peace. This we ask in Christ's name. Amen.
(From The 'Upper Room')

Drylanders Get It In The Neck

Cotton producers and others have until Friday to lodge a protest with the Department of Agriculture in Washington concerning the regulation which would practically eliminate the practice of skip-planting of cotton.

Conceptually this regulation, if allowed to remain on the books, could cost our region as much as 40 per cent of its cotton production. Cut that in one fourth as an absolute minimum and you still would have Howard County suffering by nearly a half a million dollars a year. Dawson, even on a minimum basis, would suffer four or five times as much loss.

This regulation is a simple device to inflict upon dryland farmers the burden of cutting cotton production. A long established policy has permitted farmers to plant four and skip four rows (four being the maximum number of rows that can be skipped), or to plant two and skip four. Plants (particularly on rows next to the skip) could send roots out under the fallow area and grow stronger and more productive because of the moisture and fertility there. This is of crucial importance to dryland farmers, for they cannot turn on irrigation wells and pour on fertilizer, or depend on the heavens to send another timely rain. They have to take and conserve what moisture comes their way. Skip-planting has enabled them to make maximum use of the rain that did fall.

All the breaks have been in the direction of the irrigated and rain belts. Several years ago producers were permitted to transfer dryland acreage to irrigated farms, something that helped the farmer with water but not the dry-land farmer.

It requires no genius to know that the dryland producer is the one who has a hard fight with a short stick. It would be the height of injustice to heap coals of fire upon his head by permitting this new regulation to remain on the books. It would not only bring ruin to many of these producers (who incidentally make up practically all of the cotton producers in this area) and severely damage the economy of the area.

Businessmen should join farmers in protesting this move. A good place to start is by contacting the West Texas Chamber of Commerce in Abilene, for that organization is helping to spearhead the fight.

We Must Raise A New Voice

A national magazine (The Saturday Evening Post) devotes its editorial page to the subject of moral decay in the United States, making the point that the much publicized miscreants on television and in the news are unfortunately not alone. Doctors, lawyers, journalists, businessmen and many, many other professions swallow their consciences and piously ignore unethical conduct so long as the dollar is involved.

Now morality is not dead, nor will it die if it is right and it is a part of truth. But we have stressed satisfaction of selfish wants, and we have promoted status based on things until morality is choked and paralyzed by the weeds of materialism. These sensual values have sapped the strength of our morality.

In an address to a convocation at Texas Tech on Wednesday, Adm. Hyman G. Rickover warned that we must get rid of the illusion that a high standard of living guarantees political and military supremacy. In a struggle for survival, a high materialistic standard of living may become a liability because of misuse of natural resources. Adm. Rickover has a point, but an even greater danger is that a high standard of living is measured in terms of materials and comfort. When the chips are down people will not sacrifice and fight for them as they will standards of morality and freedom. Somewhere, somehow, we must raise a voice for principles.

Ike Happily Was Man For The Job

WASHINGTON — Who could better have represented the United States on a goodwill trip to Asia than Dwight Eisenhower?

The man who commanded, in behalf of Western Democracy, the biggest armed force in history in a triumphant war against autocracy is known today as a man of peace. He is dedicated to a cause that grips the heart of men and women throughout the world — the cause of peaceful settlement of disputes lest nuclear war decimate mankind.

The unprecedented cheers and applause given to Mr. Eisenhower are a tribute to American motives and ideals. His magnetic personality is known, of course, to the officials and diplomats of governmental circles everywhere but hardly to the millions who give vent to spontaneous demonstrations of approval as they crowd around his car in country after country.

So, while it is a personal achievement for Mr. Eisenhower, it is at the same time an even greater achievement for the United States of America. It is proof that the Eisenhower doctrine of peace and goodwill have been widely publicized.

For many months now the stories have been current that Americans abroad are disliked, that America itself fosters materialism and is not the idealistic country it claims to be. Much of this is propaganda promoted by the Communists, but not a little of it has been poured into the American press by those politicians who seem to think political capital can be made by disparaging what a Republican administration has tried to do abroad. Calls have been repeatedly made for "bold and imaginative ideas" or "policies that will look forward" as if the existing administration has not been face to face with the realities of world problems ever since it took office.

There cannot have been a bolder or more imaginative idea than President Eisenhower's decision to go to 11 countries in Europe, Asia and Africa, subjecting himself to the strains and hazards of an overseas journey covering 22,000 miles in less than three weeks.

Mr. Eisenhower's tour is unprecedented in scope and circumstance, but it is to some extent comparable to the mission of President Woodrow Wilson in 1919 when, in connection with his attendance at the Paris Peace Conference at the end of World War I, he made side trips to England, Belgium, Italy and the Vatican. This correspondent recalls the dramatic ride of Mr. Wilson down the Champs Elysees in Paris and the cheering throngs whose emotions were expressed in the phrase, "the coming of the savior of Europe." The gratitude of the French people was unmistakable. They hailed Mr. Wilson as the living symbol of American sacrifice in their behalf. In England there was less demonstration but a marked cordiality. In Italy the crowds were somewhat restrained. Already there were fears expressed that America might not side with the existing Italian government in its desire for some of the spoils of the war.

All in all, the great applause that greeted Mr. Wilson at the outset faded away in the weeks thereafter as bickering between the "Big Four" ensued. After months of vexing negotiations, a compromise settlement was reached that unhappily sowed the seeds of the Second World War by failing to deal sensibly with the problem created by dividing up German territory.

Mr. Eisenhower, on the other hand, has the good fortune today not to be burdened by any mission that calls for concrete settlement of any disputes between nations, though he has had ample opportunity to become entangled in the relations between India and Pakistan and between India and Red China.

Mr. Eisenhower's decision to devote the remaining months of his administration to personal diplomacy is born of a first-hand knowledge of the destructiveness of a so-called conventional war as well as a familiarity with the potential power of nuclear weapons.

The President has benefited by the fact that he did receive Soviet Premier Khrushchev in the United States last September and promised to go to the Soviet Union next spring. Under the circumstances, the Communist propagandists, who under other circumstances would have stirred up hostile demonstrations with their "Yankee-Go-Home" signs, have outwardly at least been conforming to the spirit of the occasion as their party followers perfunctorily join in the applause.

The psychological effects of the Eisenhower trip are incalculable. Americans can well be proud that a man of Dwight Eisenhower's winning personality happens to be President of the United States. His important quest for the solidarity of peoples is aptly epitomized in the phrase he repeats day after day: "Peace and friendship — in freedom."

Chicken Troubles

CASHTOWN, Ohio — Carl Kirk's trouble is tied indirectly to his neighbor's chickens.

The chickens run loose through a number of neighborhood yards, Kirk told sheriff's deputies, but he doesn't much mind that. It's the bullet holes in his garage from other neighbors' shooting at the wayward chickens.

Stop Guessing On Politics

WASHINGTON (AP)—One way to find time for other things is to stop guessing about the 1960 elections and the presidential candidates until 1960 is half over.

There are too many unpredictable factors between now and next summer when the political parties open their conventions. For instance: in what Congress does and in what happens in foreign affairs.

Democrats and Republicans in their 1956 campaign platform pumped out promises far more elaborate than their performance.

Three years later neither party is in position to much boasting.

Both parties, therefore, will be under political compulsion to build up a record they can cite to the voters in 1960.

The Republicans, because President Eisenhower is in charge of foreign affairs, have an advantage in that field—if the performance is good.

The Democrats, since they have a majority in Congress, might seem to have an advantage there for claiming things accomplished. But not quite.

Eisenhower will be in a position to dilute any claims they make if he dominates Congress, as he did this year, and proposes programs which have voter-appeal and are acted upon.

Probably the 1960 elections will be more influenced by what happens in the foreign than in the domestic field, Eisenhower has a busy schedule next year in foreign affairs.

Right now, as a result of his meeting with Premier Nikita Khrushchev, there is a little less frigidly in relations with the Soviet Union. Next spring he has a summit meeting with the Soviet leader.

If there is any real achievement there, the Republicans will take credit.

In Congress, which comes back to work in January and will try to finish before the conventions, Democrats and Republicans are pretty much agreed on acting in at least a couple of fields which have political importance.

Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, leader of the Senate Democrats, and Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, the Senate Republican leader, are agreed on bringing up a civil rights bill around mid-February.

Dirksen and Sen. Mike Mansfield of Montana, assistant Senate Democratic leader, both have said Congress is likely to pass a general farm bill.

Johnson, considered a conservative by northern Democratic liberals, may endear himself to them a little more if the civil rights bill has any meaning at all.

It also is possible that the Democratic party — through the anger of Southern Democrats — will suffer as a result of a Southern fight against civil rights.

If it's much of a fight, it may carry over into the Democratic convention, where the last thing the party wants is a split.

The farm bill has a special significance of its own, since the Democrats have been banging away at the Eisenhower farm program for years and the Republicans in 1960 are anxious for the farm vote.

THIS DAY IN TEXAS

By CURTIS BISHOP

Huge Milam County, one of the original 23 counties of Texas, had a big piece of its area lopped off on this day in 1837 to form the new county of Robertson.

At the time of its creation in 1836 Milam County had embraced all the territory claimed by the Robertson Colony. This first division in 1837 gave all of Milam east of the Brazos River to Robertson County; from annexation until 1861 the county suffered one reduction in size after another in the creation of Burleson, Williamson, Bell, McLennan and Falls counties. The setting of the Bell-Milam County line in 1861 left the boundaries of Milam as they exist today. In all, either all or parts of 36 counties were carved out of Milam territory.

First county seat of Milam County was Nashville, laid out about 1834. During the days of the Republic settlers in the upper parts of the county wore out their wagons fleeing to that settlement to escape from Indians. A blockhouse guarded by a cannon donated by the ladies of Nashville, Tennessee, afforded them protection. The town went into eclipse when Cameron superseded it as county seat in 1846.

Smiths Have Landed

BIRMINGHAM — Pretty soon the Marines will be saying the Smiths have landed. Sgt. Charles F. Smith in the recruiting office here signed up three of them in two days — Richard C. Smith, Richard H. Smith, and Charles E. Smith.

Clock Watchers

TOLEDO, Ohio — Two clock-watching patrolmen, Charles Hunt and Melvin Young, were suspended for three days after they stopped their investigation of a collision promptly when their tour ended at 3:10 p.m., leaving a traffic jam behind them.

Slip In Legibility

TUCSON, Ariz. — Irving Davis, 28-year-old salesman, pleaded guilty of forging a narcotics prescription after making a fundamental error.

A druggist said he became suspicious because the doctor's signature was too easy to read.

Around The Rim

Mr. Ruark Making A Lot Of Noise

I see where Mr. Robert C. Ruark, the columnist, has trained his journalist guns on Adlai Stevenson.

You probably know Ruark or about him. He's written several books, a couple of which he has sold to Hollywood.

He spends a great deal of time in Africa, where he picked up some knowledge of the Mau-Mau.

He had himself photographed with trusty gun alongside the remains of some African wild game and had it widely reprinted, as if he were afraid some of the reading public would associate him with Walter Mitty.

He associated himself with that "hairy-chested" type of literature made famous by Ernest Hemingway and some of his more vocal critics accuse him of patterning his style after that of Papa.

HE PROFFERS TO SEE great glory in the sport of bullfighting, which Hemingway didn't invest but has done much to promote.

He has hied himself to Spain to take up residence, professing great and lasting love for all things Hispanic. Some of those not smitten with his deathless prose or who have been scalded by his vitriol insist his move was just a dodge to beat the demands upon his income by the Internal Revenue Department.

From his distant perch, he shouts that Americans should not lose faith in America.

The prospect of Stevenson's name being bandied about in the upcoming Democratic convention was simply too much for him.

He accuses Mr. Stevenson of shooting off his mouth again and, as he puts it, "seeing bugaboos under the bed."

"THIS MAN, LIKE OLD BARKIS," writes the inimitable Mr. Ruark, "is about to be willin' again."
"It is certainly true that Stevenson was not involved in the TV scandals, because they were not using comedians on the rigged quizzes," he continues. "But if this darling of the liberal housewife is not a comedian I will cite you the record. I never heard him say anything yet that didn't sound like it was written by a New Deal brain-truster and delivered by Bob Hope as a warmup."

I've got news for the esteemed Mr. Ruark. Mr. Stevenson is a far more original comedian than Mr. Ruark is a writer — and a far more refreshing one.

Now that Ruark has taken up residence in Spain, I would say there are many things closer to home with which to tilt. Like Francisco Franco, for instance. There is a difference between being fearless and foolhardy, though. Franco doesn't fight back with the typewriter.

Not so many columns ago, Ruark came out with an unqualified endorsement of Richard Nixon as the president of the United States, reassuring one and all that Nixon had proved himself in the tomato-throwing incidents in South America and while promening in Europe.

I take it that he is not only planning to vote Republican but is quite willing to pitch in and help sway the masses for Nixon.

That being the case, I suggest he let the Democrats run their own show. They'll do it anyway.

Full Of Resentment—And Poetry

If United States senatorial investigations sometimes fill the voter with skepticism, with a feeling that they are staged mainly to focus attention on individual senators rather than on grave national problems, well, that's the way some investigations are conducted.

It is too early to judge the value of the Senate subcommittee hearings on the problems of the aged and aging, presided over by Sen. Pat McNamara and his band. But this is one hearing that I hope will not trail off in pious fulminations, and nothing more.

Ever since I wrote a column last April questioning the wisdom of putting "oldsters" on the shelf, when they're still full of bounce and beans, my mail has been filled with anguished, indignant and despairing letters from "senior citizens" who despise that term as much as I.

THE MOST SHOCKING ASPECT of this mail is the number of men and women who write that age 45 they are "too old" to qualify for jobs, either white or blue collar, in an ever-larger segment of American industry. This is especially true for women.

The fact that science has increased the life span amazingly in the past 50 years — and the fact that the number of older citizens in our society is rapidly increasing — is not nearly as problematic as the undeniable fact that the threshold of "old age" is constantly being lowered.

"Old age," a purely arbitrary boundary, is beginning earlier and earlier in our society that worships youth and regards the teen-ager as the summit of creation. I hope that Sen. McNamara will give careful thought to the fact that 45 is now the thin edge of old age in our industrial order. It is no longer 65 or 70, as it was in my salad days.

IF THE LETTERS I RECEIVE are any criterion, what older American men and women want more than anything in the world is to be useful. They do not want to be regarded as finished or as a problem to be pensioned off or, more cruelly, to be swept under the civic rug.

The attempts of social workers or "life engineers" to herd the elders together, willy-nilly, in special reservations is bitterly resented. The best expression of this resentment comes from Mrs. Jocile Webb Pearson, 91, of Marengo, Iowa, who sent the following note to me:

"Hark, from the tombs a doleful sound: Senior citizens, gather round— Leave your kitchen—music room. Lay down the palette, brush and broom. No more clubs, or social teas. No more brisk activities. Old age is here; You're seven-tee!

No use protest, cry or moan. The flat's spoken: 'An Old Folks' Home.' A shady corner, a rocking chair; We can do our moaning there; Where 'no one hears, and no one cares.'"

IF THERE IS BITTER resentment by older men and women over their classification as "senior citizens," there is wild despair that they are denied the right to earn more than $1,200 annually, if they are drawing Social Security payments. I hope devoutly that Sen. McNamara will recommend that this silly proviso be stricken from the law of the land.

Let me end this with a quatrain from Mary Howard of Union City, Tenn., who expresses it in the dash and vigor that society has no right to drain from its older citizens:

"When I was 56, I thought I was old enough to die— Then when I was 53, I stretched my wings to fly; Now that I am 60, my petticoat is red. And I hope when I'm a hundred, I still won't be dead!"

Uncle Sam Has A Best Seller

A Christmas turkey or ham from your employer need not be treated as taxable income. But cash, gift certificates, and other items readily convertible into cash are (Page 34).

A home furnished a clergyman is not income to him if he is duly ordained, licensed, or commissioned as a minister of the gospel (36).

If you are injured and unable to work, your wage or salary up to $100 a week is immediately exempt from tax (38). If you are sick and go to a hospital, only for a day, ditto. But if you stay at home, the exemption doesn't begin for seven days (37). Pregnancy is not sickness, unless, on advice of a physician, you remain home because of danger of miscarriage (38).

A youngster in your household, pending adoption, entitles you to a dependency deduction (25).

YOU MAY CONTINUE to claim a father- or mother-in-law as an exemption even though you're divorced, provided, of course, you're still supporting him or her (same page).

Form 1040W, a two-page simplification of 1040, is available for the first time this year (12). It's useful to homeowners, whose deductions for interest, taxes, charity, etc., often exceed the standard allowance — 10 per cent of adjusted gross income, or $1,000, whichever is lower.

You can corroborate the above, and find out how to handle termite damage, tuition fees, casualty and theft losses, etc., for 40 cents in cash and several hours in time, from the Treasury's 1960 edition of "Your Federal Income Tax."

This year's taxpayer's helper is a 144-page, 10½ by 8½ inch paperback. It has a true-blue cover bearing the 50-star American flag (five six-star and four five-star stars), which becomes official promptly when their tour ended at 3:10 p.m., leaving a traffic jam behind them.

A SEVEN-PAGE INDEX tells where to look for guidance on such complexities as how to deduct worthless securities; where and when to file returns; treatment of vacation expenses; Social Security benefits (are they taxable?); schooling for the handicapped; absence; moving expenses; directors' fees (yes, they must be declared); gambling winnings (yes, they, too, are delectable, but not losses except to offset winnings).

The book is useful now, in the closing days of the calendar year. It's still possible to lower this year's taxes by taking capital losses or bringing in expenses where possible this year and possibly by delaying income. However, you don't have full discretion in shifting income or expenses from one year to another. See page 32.

Such an official guide to taxes as "Your Federal Income Tax" has become a "must" in the U. S. We're all partners in an $80,000,000,000-a-year business. Through taxes we chip in for government services—national defense, building roads, providing credit for housing, helping farmers administer justice, regulating commerce, industry and labor, and so on, and so on.

FOR 1958, SOME 60,000,000 individual returns were filed. Of these, 14,188,000 were 1040A short forms (for incomes of less than $10,000), 45,818,000 were 1040 long forms. However, an estimated 17,000,000 taxpayers might have used the 2-page 1040W form, had it been available. And more might have used 1040A's had they known of them. In addition, 3,500,000 farmers and 6,700,000 business firms filed 1958 returns.

Sales of the 1959 edition of "Your Federal Income Tax" exceeded 600,000. The Revenue Service provides another booklet, "Tax Guide for Small Business," also 40 cents. The year's sales came to 198,716. Both booklets can be purchased at any Internal Revenue office or from the Superintendent of Documents, Washington 25, D. C. A third, "Farmers' Tax Guide," is available from County Farm Agents, or Internal Revenue offices. About a million per year are distributed—free.

Taxes have become so pervasive that the booklets are bound to be in demand. The more distributed, the better for taxpayers and the Revenue Service: Fewer family returns, fewer queries, and greater mutual understanding between taxpayer and tax collector.

Violent Death In Denver Rag Town Ends Demo Chief's Revel

DENVER, Colo. (AP)—Violent death in a ragged part of town early Sunday ended a night of revelry for banker George F. Rock, 52, Colorado Democratic national committeeman for seven years. His body, the clothes blood-stained and pockets turned inside out, was found in a tiny park—littered with wine bottles and beer cans. An autopsy showed he died of a skull fracture.

Detective Sgt. Keith Morris said Darlene Gresham, 29, a Negro, told him Rock, who was white, fell down the stairway of her apartment.

Morris said the woman related she called a Negro cab driver and with the aid of another Negro woman placed Rock's unconscious body in the cab and drove to the park eight blocks away where they dumped Rock's body.

The detective said William Franklin Tribmel 28, a cab driver, admitted he made the trip. Police are holding the Gresham woman, Trimble and another Negro, Clarence McGroom, 32. No charges have been filed.

The Gresham woman was quoted by Morris as saying she met Rock outside Romolo's, a downtown Denver restaurant and bar, opposite the Cosmopolitan Hotel.

Rock had attended a stag party for the Jesters, a Shriners' fun society, at the Cosmopolitan Saturday night. About midnight he left there with two friends, Joseph J. Marsh, automobile dealer, and Clifford Price, owner of an auto glass company.

The trio went to Romolo's and when the bar closed at 2 a.m. they departed, each heading for his own car, Marsh said.

Marsh told officers Rock cashed a $100 check at the hotel and repaid him $20 which Rock borrowed earlier in the evening. Officers said Rock's wallet was empty when they found it in the park and an expensive wrist watch was missing.

Rock was president of the Bank of Denver. He was prominent in the city's civic life, and belonged to many professional and social organizations.

He leaves his widow, Marie Kathleen, and three children, George F. Rock III, 22, Eugene, 17, and Linda Mae, 11.

Rock was active in the Democratic party all his adult life. He was born at the old mining camp of Telluride, Colo. After his education at Rutgers University and Westminster Law School in Denver, Rock settled in Denver.

DEAR ABBY

OK WITH IKE

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I are the proud grandparents of three adorable little grandchildren. I don't mind being called "Grandma"—but my husband says he is only 55 years old and he is too young to be called "Grandpa." He asks the grandchildren to call him "Earl."

I think it sounds terrible for those little youngsters to go around calling their grandfather EARL. My husband says that if it is all right for President Eisenhower's grandchildren to call him EARL, I'd like to know if President Eisenhower's grandchildren really call him IKE?

EARL'S WIFE
DEAR WIFE: I wired the White House and received the following message:

DEAR MISS VAN BUREN: IN REPLY TO YOUR TELEGRAPHIC INQUIRY, THESE ARE THE FACTS: THE PRESIDENT'S GRANDCHILDREN CALL HIM "IKE" AND ALSO "GRANDDAD-DY IKE."

WITH BEST WISHES,
MRS. A. W.
Associated Press Secretary to the President.

DEAR ABBY: From my kitchen window I can see a certain laundry man go into a lady's back door. He keeps the engine running in his truck, but he stays in there for about forty-five minutes. It can't be business because he goes in with nothing and comes out with nothing and I happen to know that this lady does her own laundry because I see it on her line. This woman is married and has children in school. There has been some talk about her, too. I am sure the lady and the laundry man are not just holding hands. What do you think?

STEADY READER
DEAR STEADY: Hold your tongue. Whether he is there for business is not MY business—nor is it yours. I think you ought to send your mind to the laundry.

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of a girl who married young, had a baby, divorced her husband and has now turned her baby over to her mother to raise? "Daughter" lives at home. She won't even make her own bed or rinse out her own stockings. She dresses for dates every night, whoops it up, comes home late and sleeps 'till noon.

Her parents are disgusted with her but are afraid to say anything to her because they love the baby and fear that if they don't let "Daughter" live the way she wants to, she'll move out and take the baby with her. What can be done?

FRIEND OF THE FAMILY
DEAR FRIEND: Question: Should an innocent child who is loved by its grandparents be raised by them or by a selfish, irresponsible mother? The law is on the side of the mother. But the law is not immutable. I would advise the grandparents to ask for legal adoption of the children and then hope that the mother will some day earn back the rights of motherhood.

What's your problem? For a personal reply, write to ABBY, care of The Big Spring Herald. Enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Lyndon Sees Opportunity In Hills Of Surplus Food

DALLAS (AP)—Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson said Sunday that so-called surplus foods in this country should present an opportunity, not a problem, to Americans.

The Senate majority leader recorded the broadcast for radio stations in Texas while making a tour of the Midwest last week. Johnson said a better word than "surplus" to describe the food in question was "wasted."

"It seems to me," he said, "that American ingenuity should be equal to the task of getting this 'wasted' food into the hands of those who need it."

"We have within the heartland of American the abundance of food — and the necessary production know-how — which hungering millions of the world's free people now seek."

Johnson described "the bounty-ful harvest" as something that Americans are privileged to enjoy. He said it could be a lasting instrument of peace as well as strong power.

"The responsibility is ours," he said, "to determine how it should be used."

Johnson praised the knack of people in the Midwest for hard work, imagination and efficiency in producing the abundance.

"Kansas and Iowa," he said, "are being penalized for too much efficiency."
