Providence Closes Book On Civil War Conflict's Last Soldier Dies At Age 117

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Walter Williams, honored as the last surviving veteran of the Civil War, died quietly in the arms of two relatives Saturday.

He simply stopped breathing, worn out after a fourth attack of pneumonia since June. Death came to the old Confederate—he gave his age as 117—at 3:20 p.m. (CST) in the arms of a son-in-law, Ed Bielamowicz, and a grandson, Sydney Boyd.

He joined the Confederate army in the fading hours of the South's battle. He was 22 at the time. His pension application stated he joined the army at Blue Mountain, Tenn., a place name that cannot be identified today.

Williams was born in Itawamba County, Miss. His later stories placed the date as Nov. 14, 1842. He joined the Confederate army in the fading hours of the South's battle. He was 22 at the time.

Williams moved to Texas about Sept. 15, 1870. His first wife died a few years later. They had seven children. Williams then married Miss Ella Mae Holliday of Franklin and they became parents of 12 children.

His second wife was 31 years his junior. When they both became ill, they moved to the home of

Willie Mae Bowles, a daughter, in Houston. He died at her home. SEVERE BLOW

The second Mrs. Williams died Nov. 2, 1957, after they had been married 64 years. Her death was a severe blow to her elderly husband and he weakened noticeably.

His deterioration became very evident in November 1958, when he cancelled a planned ride in the Veterans Day parade, annual joy to him. But he rallied this year and rode in the Armed Forces Day parade.

He received $300 a month from the Texas Confederate Pension Fund and a special $135.45 pension from the federal government.

U. S. Gives In, Won't Change Planting Rules

WASHINGTON (AP)—Proposed changes in regulations governing planting of cotton, peanuts and tobacco won't be made, the Agriculture Department announced Friday.

The department earlier proposed the changes which primarily would have affected farmers who practiced "strip crop" or "skip row" planting of allotment row crops of cotton, peanuts and tobacco.

The department said that it decided not to put the changes into effect after a study of the data, views and recommendations from farmers and others.

Under current regulations, a farmer could plant one, two, three or four rows, consecutively, but was required to leave a minimum skip space of 8 rows.

A department official had said the proposed change was under consideration because strip planting has the effect of increasing yield per planted acre.

Police Round Up Syndicate Thugs In Touhy Murder CHICAGO (AP)—A roundup of hoodlums known to be associated with the Chicago Crime Syndicate was ordered Saturday by top police officials as they strove to find the killers of onetime gang leader Roger Touhy.

Police admitted they had little to go on in their efforts to find out who killed the diminutive, 61-year old prohibition era gang lord just 23 days after his release from Stateville Penitentiary where he had served nearly 26 years for kidnaping.

Touhy was gunned down Wednesday night at the doorway of his sister's home on the city's West Side. Torn by blasts from shotguns wielded by two assassins, Touhy died within an hour.

Heading the list of hoodlums sought for questioning about the ambush is Sam Battaglia, 51, who reportedly heads the Crime Syndicate's gambling operations on the West Side.

News of the Department of Agriculture's decision to continue skip plant practices was received with relief here Saturday. Earlier estimates had been that a rule change going away with skip planting would have cost Dawson County $2,500,000 as a minimum in a normal year.

Police said the erring knight, Edward Lucas, 33, roamed the streets Friday terrorizing the populace with a long rapier. Spotting the swordsman, Detective Sgt. Patrick Christopher pulled out his own weapon — a blackjack—and moved in. Lucas lunged forward without so much as an "en garde."

The sergeant leaped aside and riposted neatly with the swishing, flexible blackjack, knocking the man down. Christopher's seconds then carried the foiled Lucas to the Yonkers jail where he was booked for assault and possession of a dangerous weapon.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Democratic Advisory Council recommended Saturday an extension of the U. S. ban on nuclear weapons tests beyond the Jan. 1 expiration date.

The council said pressure is mounting to resume testing but that to do so now would diminish hopes for disarmament and spur a runaway arms race.

The council approved a statement by its Science Advisory Committee opposing resumption of tests as long as current negotiations in Geneva "indicate progress toward reaching agreement on a satisfactory inspection system."

Nuclear test explosions have been suspended since Aug. 22, 1958. Among those who have urged that the United States resume testing is Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York. He said Oct. 26 that this country cannot afford to fall behind in advanced techniques of the use of nuclear material.

The last word on Eisenhower administration thinking on the question came Nov. 22 from Chairman John A. McCone of the Atomic Energy Commission. McCone opposed any prolonged extension of the present test ban, saying such action should be taken on a week-to-week basis.

The Democratic council, a 31-member adjunct of the Democratic National Committee which includes Harry S. Truman and Adlai E. Stevenson in its membership, recommended: "A. Extension of the ban on atmospheric nuclear tests as long as the existing test suspension is continued by the Soviet Union. The technical apparatus for monitoring such a test ban is in existence and is in operation. "B. Temporary extension of the ban on underground nuclear tests on the condition that agreements be reached soon for adequate monitoring of such tests under an international inspection system.

"C. Review from time to time of the suspension policy, especially in the event of tests by other nations."

The council's science committee said no nation will vault into a position of technical superiority on the basis of a single or even several low-yield nuclear tests conducted below the earth's surface.

"It has required approximately 200 tests of devices and weapons under ideal conditions and at full power to produce the present arsenal of nuclear weapons," they added.

"A majority of these tests has been conducted by the United States, and even if the Soviets succeeded in conducting a small number of nuclear tests illicitly, the United States security would not be significantly affected."

San Angelo Woman Dies By Drowning LLANO, Tex. (AP)—Justice of the Peace E. B. Morrison has ruled death by drowning in the death of Mrs. Lea Aldwell, 53, of San Angelo.

The verdict had been withheld pending tests conducted by laboratories in Austin. Mrs. Aldwell's body was found Nov. 25, on the shore of Lake Buchanan a short distance from the Aldwell summer home on the lake.

Salvation Army Still Needs $700 For Christmas Fund

Somehow between now and Thursday, the Salvation Army must raise another $700 for its Christmas fund. That was the bare minimum for necessary funds, said Capt. James Jay, after tabulating collections which were slightly over $1,400.

At that time he would have been in his late 80s, and a few variations between the facts he gave then and his later stories could be laid to his elderly state.

One newspaperman, Lowell K. Bridwell of the Scripps-Howard group, investigated the records and questioned that Williams served in the Civil War.

By the time the questions arose, the frail, silver-haired Williams

Postmaster Elmer Boatler said Saturday that the volume of mail was running on a par with last year, perhaps slightly higher. He anticipated a decline from now until Christmas of outgoing mail. But there were indications that incoming mail had yet to peak.

Saturday there were tons of it—including multiplied thousands of Christmas cards and other first class mail. So far workers have been able to stay abreast of the floodtide of mail, dispatching or delivering items on the day they hit the office. This has been due to long hours and a vastly expanded work force for the holidays. Boatler said that 24 workers, about half the number of the normal working force, had been added to handle the Christmas rush. In addition to the regular equipment of the post office, trucks have been loaned by Webb AFB, the U. S. Experiment Farm and by the Veterans Administration hospital in order to deliver parcels promptly.

The volume has been so heavy that the accounting department had not caught up as yet. From Dec. 1 through Dec. 16, the last day tabulated, the office had handled 1,521,638 pieces of mail as compared with 1,459,014 the same period a year ago, or up by 4.2 per cent. Receipts for the same period had totaled $32,674.65, as compared with $30,524.65, or up 7 per cent. Last year the peak day was on Dec. 17 when 177,000 pieces went through the office. This year on Dec. 16, the last day tabulated so far, the total reached 176,660.

Decision Received Here With Relief

NEWS of the Department of Agriculture's decision to continue skip plant practices was received with relief here Saturday.

Earlier estimates had been that a rule change going away with skip planting would have cost Dawson County $2,500,000 as a minimum in a normal year.

The structure will be contemporary adaptation of Spanish renaissance and will match the prevailing architecture of other buildings on the campus.

Tech To Retain Design On Library

BEAUMONT (AP)—An agreement to retain the architect's design for the new $2,500,000 library at Texas Tech in Lubbock was reached here Saturday at a meeting of the architect and the college's board of directors.

L. W. Pitts of the firm of Pitts, Mebane and Phelps, said following the meeting that the original plans, except for a slight modification in the top of the roof, have been approved and that work will proceed on final details.

Reviewing The Big Spring Week With Joe Pickle

The Christmas season hurried to a record climax, and it looked like a real shopping drive down to the wire on Thursday. The parade got rained out, of all things, on Wednesday but proved to be a colorful, impressive spectacle the following day.

Balmy weather gave way to blustery northerners with cold misty rain, followed by soaking downpours. After skies cleared, it all added up to 1.5 inches, more for the area, leaving pastures in the best shape for this time of year in many seasons.

Here's something to think about, James Eubanks, executive secretary of the Citizens Traffic Commission, said that National Safety Council figures, applied to local traffic accident records, show that Howard Countians have lost $1,375,550 in seven years.

Wyatt Eason feled the Coffee Club with his annual Christmas smoked salmon dinner last week. Earlier, when he was going salmon fishing, all the members heckled him and put in requests for salmon. Wyatt figured up cost of the trip and the weight of the fish

Outgoing Mail Lessens, But Postal Workers Face Influx

COMMUNITY EFFORT

Christmas Parties For State Hospital Tuesday

Christmas will come early this year for patients of Big Spring State Hospital. Christmas parties in all wards will be held Tuesday night.

There are 60 patients. The party will be held in the Ward dining hall.

There are 55 patients in this ward. Ward 10B's party, with 110 patients, will be held by the Women's Forum and Altrusa Club in the ward day room.

Christmas parties in all wards will be held Tuesday night. Mrs. Ira Thurman, volunteer worker coordinator, listed some features of this year's parties.

The Rotary Club will sponsor and hold the party in Ward Four which has about 65 patients. It will be held in the ward day room.

Parties in Wards 9A and 9B will be presented by the ABC Club of Big Spring and Jaycees from Big Spring and Midland. There are 95 and 113 patients respectively in these two wards and the party will be held in the day room.

Gifts to 870 patients. The individual gifts, which will be presented to some 870 patients, have been bought through a gift fund donated by more than 100 clubs, civic groups, and other organizations.

Older (geriatric) men patients will receive body powder and lotion and socks in their holiday-wrapped packages and the elderly women patients will receive body powder and lotion and pretty hankies in their packages.

The hospital parties are being held Tuesday so that none of the patients who wish to attend will have to miss them on account of holiday furloughs. Mrs. Thurman said she added that a large number of patients are given a holiday furlough to visit their homes each year and that most of these will begin their visits on Wednesday.

Younger female patients will receive wrapped gifts of scarves, cosmetics, house slippers, and bath powders. Younger men will receive comb and brush sets and shaving lotions and powder.

All of the younger women will receive a bottle of Mist Cologne which is a gift of Lanthier Co. and the younger men will receive Suave hair cream, a gift from Helene Curtis Co.

Ward 6 party will be held in the large dormitory. It is sponsored and presented by Big Spring Rebekah Lodge 284, Midland Volunteers, and Planters Garden Club.

Sponsors for each of the wards will provide refreshments which will include hot chocolate or coffee, punch, cake, candy, chewing gum and cigarettes.

Mrs. Thurman said the generous donations from numerous organizations to the gift fund has made it possible to bring a true personal Christmas spirit to all patients of the mental hospital. She said the whole hospital staff and volunteer workers join with her in thanking the generous people who have helped make these parties possible.

Parties for the old folks will begin at 7 p.m. and for the younger patients at 7:30 p.m. Mrs. Thurman said that friends and relatives of the patients are invited to attend their parties. She added that all volunteer workers in each ward are especially requested to attend.

Fireworks Dealer Ordered To Abide By City Ordinance

A fireworks stand in the Western Hills area will be shut down before the owner has an opportunity to get his wares out for sale.

A. D. Meador, Big Spring Fire Marshal, said he planned to tell the owner that the area is within the city limits and fireworks cannot be sold.

MEADOR EMPHASIZED that due to a new city ordinance, approved in August, residents cannot explode fireworks in the city without facing a fine of up to $200.

Police Chief C. L. Rogers has joined with the fire marshal in urging Big Springers to keep fireworks out of the city. The ordinance prohibits the sale or discharge of fireworks inside the corporate limits of Big Spring.

Salesmen are prohibited by state law to sell the explosives to youngsters under 10 years old, Meador said. And they cannot be sold to persons under the influence of intoxicating drink.

The fireworks stand that was to be closed is located on Wasson Road near Chub's Driveway. This area was not within the city limits until the last meeting of the city commission.

NEW PART OF CITY But final reading was given the annexation ordinance at the Dec. 8 meeting, placing the area off limits to fireworks.

The stands normally cluster around the city, just beyond the city limit lines. This line was changed on the south and east edges of the city.

The city limits extend to beyond the Lockhart Addition on Wasson Road and down the west side of U. S. 87 to the Big Spring Hunting and Fishing Club lake area.

On the east, the line runs beyond the bowling alley almost to the Marcy Dr. intersection.

A meeting of the city commission Dec. 28 or 29 will also change the west city limits, putting the line beyond the truck stop. However, the stands will be allowed in this area until the final reading of the annexation ordinance on that date.

Poultrymen Call Back Treated Hens

WASHINGTON (AP)—Poultry dealers have complied promptly with the government plan to withdraw from the market poultry treated with stilbestrol, a hormone found to cause cancer in test animals.

Secretary of Health Arthur Flemming gave that report Friday to congressmen who had asked how the withdrawal program was working.

Flemming said he feels justified "in again assuring consumers as I did on Dec. 10 that they may buy the poultry now on the market with confidence that it is safe and wholesome."

Only a tiny portion of the poultry supply had been treated with stilbestrol, which induces more growth. These birds were easily identified, the department said, because they sell for a premium price.

DEAR ABBY

BELATED ACTION

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My 15-year-old son has been going steady with a 13-year-old girl since last May. He practically lives at her apartment. Her mother is home but that doesn't make any difference. They still lay on her bed listening to records with the door shut. I saw it myself when I walked over there at 11 p.m. to tell him to come home. They have sat on our front steps in broad daylight with her crawling all over him and running her fingers through his hair and around his ears. It made me sick.

When I talk to him he hums and tells me to save my breath. His school called and said they are ready to throw him out because he cuts classes to go to her school and walk her home. I am half out of my mind with this problem. How does a mother handle a son who is bigger than she is when his father is dead?

DEAR HEARTSICK MOTHER: You are desperately searching for the fire hose after the house is in ashes. You didn't wake up one morning to find your 15-year-old son "out of control." He got out of control by inches. And you gave in an inch at a time. A 15-year-old boy who is all wrapped up in a 13-year-old girl, has no respect for his mother and defies the rules at school in a sitting duck for double trouble. If it isn't too late for a clergyman or an understanding teacher to straighten out this boy, the law will do it eventually — the hard way.

DEAR ABBY: I was born a third degree breach case and everything has been backwards for me ever since.

I had to quit school at 16 to help out at home because my mother was sickly. When I should have been having fun I was stuck at home. Mother died. At age 29 I took a business course which led to a good paying job. Then they moved our offices way out in the sticks and decided to employ only local women. I'm no Miss America but uglier girls are getting married every day.

How does a respectable woman my age meet a respectable man? Or aren't there any left?

DEAR BACKWARDS: Get interested in some outside activities. Church, choir, adult study groups, volunteer work or politics to name a few. Respectable people are found in respectable places. And be sure to let your friends know that you are interested in an eligible man your age. Almost everyone has a cousin, brother or visiting fireman.

What's your problem? For a personal reply, write to ABBY, care of the Big Spring Herald. Enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

DEAR ABBY: Here is my story and every word of it is true. Eight years ago I married a man who said he loved me so much he couldn't live without me. From the day I married him I have worked like a dog both at home and on split-shift waiting tables. He makes good money himself, but I have yet to see the first quarter. All these years he has never taken me on a vacation. But he goes himself every summer for three weeks. He has bought himself hunting guns, fishing tackle, and an outboard motor for cash. But he owes me $1,100. I buy all my own clothes, pay my own doctor bills, insurance and automobile. It looks like I married him for the privilege of sleeping with him. Is it worth it? FRANCES

DEAR FRANCES: I don't know, is it?

Legislator Hits Insurance Plan

AMARILLO (AP)—Sen. Grady Hazlewood of Amarillo has bitterly attacked the incoming state automobile insurance rate plan and called for a hearing to change the rules.

He charged that "the deputy constable becomes the judge, jury, and executioner" in destroying safe driving insurance benefits. And he predicted "insurance companies will get filthy rich."

Hazlewood's attack was made in letters mailed during the weekend to the State Board of Insurance Commissioners with copies to members of the Legislature.

He particularly attacked penalties for all moving traffic violations regardless of whether an accident results, and retroactive features whereby drivers are penalized for violations taking place before the law becomes effective Jan. 1.

FOR SAFE DRIVERS
The new law is aimed at easing the insurance load on safe drivers who in the past have paid equally with bad drivers. The new law and the commission rules penalize drivers who receive moving violation tickets.

Hazlewood's letter predicted that each county will require "100 justices of the peace to try the cases that will be stacked up for trial, because no man in his right mind will ever hereafter pay a fine when he knows he is walking into a trap of this kind (higher insurance rates)."

"My further prediction is that it will be a field day for the lawyers and insurance companies, and a 'Pearl Harbor' for the poor devils who drive the automobiles," he said.

"Worse still, you increase this rate for this driver who accidentally straddles the stripe on a one-way street—not just 20 per cent for one year, but for three years."

He also pointed out that a salesman or other person driving 100,000 miles a year is in 10 times as much peril of losing his insurance credit as a person who drives 10,000 miles annually.

He said that although persons driving many miles each year may be driving their own car on business, the insurance debit applies to their family automobile.

NOT SAFER CITY
He reasoned that this does not mean Lubbock is a safer city, since his figures show 21 traffic deaths in that South Plains city compared with 7 in the Panhandle in the 10-month period. Lubbock accidents totaled 443 compared with 379 in Amarillo.

Hazlewood asked the commission to call a special hearing to change and modify the rules.

Texas Enjoys Ideal Weather

By The Associated Press
Ideal weather, fair and cool, embraced every part of Texas Saturday.

The Weather Bureau said the same was in store for the weekend, the last of autumn. Early afternoon temperatures usually were in the 50s, but dipped to 41 at Amarillo and rose to 66 at Brownsville.

Virtually every cloud had been chased from the sky, except at the extremities of Texas—the El Paso area, upper Panhandle and Brownsville section.

Abilene Proves Its Mall Idea A Success

ABILENE (AP)—Abilene has proof now that its downtown revitalization program is a success.

A huge shopping center covering almost an entire block and with an air-conditioned interior mall, is to be built in the business part of Abilene.

Several Texas cities have such integrated, retail centers. Dallas recently announced plans for its second, to be called Bazaar Northwest. Amarillo and San Antonio will have similar centers.

But in most cities the integrated centers are built on the outskirts and are obvious evidence that the downtown district, where all shoppers once congregated, is dying.

Abilene's new shopping center is to be at Pine and Walnut, a block from the downtown hotels.

The man who heads the downtown center project says he would never have considered it had Abilene not completely replaced downtown streets and sidewalks. It was precisely for that purpose—to win back retail trade being lost to the suburbs—that Abilene repaved all streets, widened these too narrow for diagonal parking, replaced high curbs that discouraged parking, and built a railroad underpass to ease traffic.

The downtown development program cost more than 3½ million dollars. Taxes paid part of the cost but most of it was borne by downtown merchants themselves. They acted after a committee said it was act or die.

One of the problems left unanswered—where to put the cars which would come flocking downtown—is answered in part by the new downtown center. On the roof of the 10-store center will be parking for 350 cars.

The center is planned by downtown Abilene Markets Inc., a corporation headed by Claude Stewart Jr., a one-time Nazarene preacher. Stewart has further hopes of taking over an adjacent block, building a second center, and connecting it with an over-the-street bridge.

He plans to call for bids on the first center in January. The building will have about 130,000 square feet of sales and storage area on the ground floor and in the basement, which customers will reach by escalator. Customers will be able to drive in, leave their cars with attendants who will park them on the roof, and then visit any or all of the 10 stores without being out of reach of the central air conditioning and heating.

Work Brings Praise For Negro Woman

DALLAS (AP)—Texas civic leaders this week honored a Negro woman who helped found and has guided for 30 years an East Texas school for underprivileged children of her race.

A handsome leather book with letters of praise from Gov. Price Daniel and many others was presented to Mrs. Alice Smothers, principal of St. Paul Industrial Training School in Malakoff, Tex.

Conoco Makes Huge Oil, Gas Purchase

HOUSTON (AP) — Continental Oil Co. announced Saturday a 10 million dollar purchase of New Mexico oil properties and the completion of a 3 million dollar Louisiana refinery expansion program.

Continental purchased oil producing properties and an interest in a gas repressuring plant in the Maljamar Field in Lea County, N.M., from Kewanee Oil Co. of Philadelphia.

L. F. McCollum, president of Continental, and John Church, first vice president of Kewanee, said Kewanee will receive 3 million dollars from Continental and 7 million dollars from the sale of a production payment to others. Kewanee also retained an additional production payment of 25 million dollars.

BS Exploration Has Discovery

Big Spring Exploration, Inc. has an apparent discovery in its No. 1 Eardley in Dimmit county. Operator set 4 1/2-inch pipe at 2,641 feet with 96 sacks and was waiting on cement to set. Heavy shows of saturated gas were logged in the zone from 2,468-90 feet and operator may complete as a gasser. The test was seeking pay in the Olmos sand.

In Hockley County, Big Spring Exploration No. 1 French, which has perforated and treated from three zones pumped 137 barrels in 19 hours from perforations 4,630-40 feet. It also has perforated and washed with acid from 4,687-70 feet and from 4,714-30 feet.

Operator plans to lower packer subsequently and test the other zones in the San Andres. The well is a diagonal offset from the discovery well of the Marinel pool.

The operator's No. 1 George Slaughter, a wildcat in Cochran County, was resuming operations after moving in a drilling rig.

Two Of Three Completions Logged In Howard County

Three field completions were reported in this area Saturday morning. In Garza County, Cosden Petroleum Corp. has finished the No. 1-D K. Stoker as a Rocker A (San Andres) field well with an initial pumping potential of 66.32 barrels of 35.9 gravity oil per day. The depth is 3,110 feet, the top of the pay zone is 2,490 feet, the seven inch casing goes to 3,110 feet and perforations are in nine intervals between 2,490 and 2,716 feet.

Outpost Planned In Dawson County

Amerada Petroleum Corporation No. 1-A Miles will be drilled as a five-eighths mile northwest outpost to the same operator's No. 1 R. C. Moore, a recently completed discovery well in the Lamasa West (Mississippian) pool in central Dawson County.

FROM COAHOMA

Magnolia Honors Retired Employees

Two veteran employees who recently retired from Magnolia Pipeline Company were honored Thursday at a district Mobil meeting in Midland.

They are Barrrell Cramer and Pete West, both of Coahoma and both of whom put in 32 years of service. They were honored with a program that took the "This Is Your Life" theme and at the conclusion they received gifts from the company. Accompanying them to Midland were their wives and children.

Cramer is a native Coahoman who started work with Magnolia at Otischaik (it was Chalk then) and worked there for 15 years. Later he was assigned to Sudan and then Midland, returning to Coahoma in 1946 to finish out his tenure.

He was married to the former Ruby Lee Drake and they have two daughters, Mrs. Harold House, Midland, and Donna, who is a junior in Coahoma High School. They have three grandchildren. The Cramers are active in the Methodist Church.

West came here from Pineland 17 years ago and spent the remainder of his time in various places, including seven years in Saretta, La. He and his wife have two sons, Bobby of Coahoma, and the Rev. Paul West, who is pastor of the Baptist church in Lenora.

The Wests are members of the Coahoma Baptist Church. Among those who went to Midland for the affair were Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Mayfield and Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Lindsey. Both Cramer and West will continue to make their homes in Coahoma.

Oil Never Wears Out, But It Still Needs Changing

The oil that courses through the engine of your car is as perfect as modern science can make it—so perfect, in fact, that it can't wear out. But, an auto maintenance expert warns, you're asking for trouble if you don't have the oil changed from time to time.

Leonard M. Van Noppen, vice president of Universal C.I.T. Credit Corporation, says too many motorists erroneously believe that today's carefully blended motor oils never need changing. Van Noppen supervises the operation of a fleet of 1200 company cars.

Unlike the motor oils of yesterday, modern automotive lubricants won't break down under the severest driving conditions. But they do become diluted with acid and sludge which in time will ruin the engine. Even the most efficient oil filters won't remove these corrosive impurities.

Van Noppen cautions, even if you change the filter frequently you still run the risk of incurring major repairs unless you change the oil.

How frequently should you change the oil? It depends on how you drive. Acid and sludge accumulate faster in "stop-and-go" driving than on high-speed turnpike trips. Your best bet, Van Noppen says, is to follow the car manufacturer's recommendations.

Surplus Has Major Role In Future Planning

By MAX B. SKELTON HOUSTON (AP)—Oilmen say existing excess capacity will play a major role in programming future oil operations.

The excess facilities will permit cutbacks in capital expenditures without impeding operations or expansion.

Lessons learned from the recent recession have taught oil operators they no longer need as much spare capacity as was previously believed essential for effective, expanding operations.

One major company executive believes the effective utilization of existing excess capacity will be a vital factor in the intense competition anticipated within the industry in the years ahead.

"Throughout the world at present, surplus capacity exists in all functions of the oil industry," said M. J. Rathbone, president of Standard Oil Co. (New Jersey).

"This is an important change from the more balanced supply and demand situation that prevailed the first 10 or 11 postwar years. Rising consumption will tend gradually to reduce this surplus, but its existence will make for continued intense competition for business during the years immediately ahead."

3,500,000 EXCESS

Recent statistical reports indicate the United States oil industry currently has nearly 3,500,000 barrels daily of excess crude and natural gas liquids productive capacity. Excess refining capacity approximates 1,700,000 barrels a day.

In a recent letter to stockholders, Rathbone said Jersey Standard has brought about in an orderly fashion a substantial lowering of the level of capital expenditures and related exploration costs. He estimated 1959 expenditures will be at least 400 million dollars below the 1957 peak of 1.4 billion dollars. He predicted such expenditures probably will remain at a lower level the next few years.

He said total volume, however, will be expanded by bringing into play existing excess capacity.

"Moreover, through improvements in operational programming and other measures, we anticipate getting along with a considerably smaller margin of spare capacity than we previously felt was necessary to meet fluctuations in the business," he said. "This will result in substantial saving in capital and an increase in the rate of return on existing investments."

Rathbone's letter was published in the fall edition of "The Lamp," a quarterly publication distributed to Jersey Standard shareholders and employees.

He said there also has been a change in the thinking behind Jersey's investments aimed at future return.

TARGETS SHIFTED

"Apart from the reduction in total spending, a significant shift has taken place in the targets at which this year's spending and that of the next few years will be aimed," he said.

"Until recently a large part of our new investments has been concentrated on projects designed to assure the long-term growth of the company. Now, with our strength in this respect well established, we can concentrate a greater part of our spending on projects that should produce more immediate profits.

Rig Count Climbs To Winter Peak

The working rig count in the Permian Basin took a 27 unit leap in Reed Roller Bit Co.'s weekly survey Friday.

The tally reported a total of 372 working rotary operations, the highest since 386 were counted June 26. Last week, only 345 rigs were reported making hole.

The immediate eight county area had a seven rig increase. There were 34 rotary rigs working this week and only 27 on the count last week.

Borden County had the largest jump in this area, counting 12, compared with five last week. Howard County climbed to seven from five. Lea County, N. M., still holds the lead. The county had 64 at work Friday, compared with 54 the week before.

The completed count, with previous totals in parenthesis, includes:

Adams 32 (40), Bailey 1 (1), BORDEN 12 (5), Cochran 2 (1), Coke 2 (2), Chaves 5 (6), Crane 11 (16), Crockett 3 (1), Crosby 2 (0), DAWSON 1 (5), Dickens 1 (2), Ector 25 (28), Eddy 15 (14), Fisher 3 (3), Gaines 19 (15), GARZA 5 (4), GLASSCOCK 1 (1), Hale 1 (1), Hockley 5 (6), HOWARD 7 (5), Irion 1 (1), Kent 0 (2), Lamb 0 (1), Lea 64 (54), Loving 5 (6), Lubbock 2 (2), Lynn 2 (1), MARTIN 4 (4), Menard 1 (1), Midland 12 (10), MITCHELL 3 (2), Nolan 3 (3), Otero 1 (1), Pecos 21 (12), Reagan 8 (3), Reeves 3 (3), Roosevelt 2 (2), Runtels 4 (4), Scurry 4 (5), SCHLEICHER 1 (1), Stonewall 6 (1), Sutton 2 (2), Terrell 2 (2), Terry 1 (2), Tom Green 3 (3), Upton 12 (11), Ward 15 (14), Winkler 18 (16), Yoakum 14 (14), TOTAL 372 (345).

Wilson Predicts Favorable Tidelands Decision In '60

AUSTIN (AP)—Atty. Gen. Will Wilson predicted Saturday that Texas will get a favorable U.S. Supreme Court decision in its tidelands fight early in 1960.

The forecast was made in an utterance summarizing 1959 activities of his office.

The tidelands case, stemming from a Department of Justice suit challenging Texas' title to submerged lands between the three-mile mark and 10 1/2 miles out in the Gulf, was argued before the Supreme Court last October. Federal attorneys contend Texas' claim is good only to the three-mile mark. Four other coastal states are similarly involved.

"Just as a matter of prophecy there is a fair chance of all Gulf states winning," Wilson said. "If this doesn't happen there is an excellent chance of Texas and Florida winning."

"The last briefs filed by the government have not been convincing and we have finished strong," Wilson said Texas already has

Firemen In Toyland

Hundreds of refinished and expertly repaired toys await new owners at the Big Spring firemen's storage center at 3rd and Johnson. Fire Chief H. V. Crocker, left, and Fire Marshal A. D. Meador survey part of this toyland. This room contains over 100 bicycles and several hundred other wheel toys that will be given to underprivileged children on Dec. 23 and 24 by the Salvation Army staff. Another room of the building is crammed with smaller toys, which include electric trains, dolls, overstuffed children's furniture, and just about every toy manufactured. These toys were collected and repaired by Big Spring firemen at all four of the fire stations. Crocker said it was one of the largest collections of toys the firemen have ever repaired. Saturday, the firemen were still racing against time to get the last of the collection ready to be delivered to new owners.

Cuban Firing Squad Kill 2

PINAR DEL RIO (AP)—Ex-Cpl. Luis Lara Crespo and ex-Sgt. Jose Morffi Reyes were executed by a firing squad Saturday morning at a shooting range at Ruis Rivera Army Camp here.

Both men were sentenced to death Monday for promoting an uprising against Prime Minister Fidel Castro from hide-outs in the mountains of eastern Pinar del Rio Province. They were the first to be executed in Cuba since last June.

Lara, 21, had been under an earlier death sentence as a war criminal. He escaped but was recaptured.

Morffi was 34 years old. The executions, first since suspension of firing squads last summer, brought the unofficial total of such shootings by the Castro regime to 557.

Housewife Fined For Holding Line During Emergency

MILLBURN, N. J. (AP)—A magistrate has fined a housewife $210 after ruling her guilty of refusing to interrupt her party line telephone conversation to let a doctor make an emergency call.

Magistrate Milton Freiman levied the fine Friday against Mrs. Peter Zelinski. No final action was taken on a codefendant, Jeanette Hausler, of Springfield.

Dr. Marvin Becker testified he tried five times to get the women to hang up Nov. 11 so he could call an ambulance to aid an elderly heart patient. He said the women told him "to go to hell."

Mrs. Zelinski testified she had called her husband to the phone when Dr. Becker came on the line and that he told her to hang up. She said she did within seven or eight seconds.

Becker said he finally got the wire after about 15 minutes by threatening to call police.

P. O. HUGHES

P. O. Hughes Again Seeks County Post

P. O. Hughes announced Saturday that he would be a candidate for the office of county commissioner of Precinct No. 1.

In seeking re-election, he submitted his name subject to the action of the Democratic primaries. Hughes had this statement to make in connection with his announcement.

"In asking for a second term as county commissioner of Precinct No. 1, I would first thank you for the privilege of serving you for the last three years.

"I have made an honest effort to do and advocate those things which are good for Precinct 1 and Howard County.

"My home is in Big Spring, and I think of Big Spring as an important part of Howard County. I have put in my time on the job of being commissioner, and I have no other occupation. I have never missed a Monday meeting of the Commissioner's Court, working in cooperation with the other members of the court and under the unit system of road improvement, we have had the most successful year in Howard County's history. More miles of hard surface roads have been built in Howard County than ever before in one year. More than twice as many miles of hard surface roads have been constructed in Precinct No. 1 in 1959 than was ever accomplished before in one year."

"The present Commissioner's Court is working hard to give Howard County an honest, economical and businesslike administration. I hope you will make no change in Precinct One. I want to thank you and I will talk to you personally before the election."

Aims At Senate

AUSTIN (AP)—Hugh Wilson, frequent candidate for statewide election, said Saturday he will run for the Senate against Senate majority leader Lyndon Johnson. Wilson lives in Port Arthur.

Bearish Report Sets Off High Trading In Soybeans

By GIL MAYO
AP Business News Writer
CHICAGO (AP)—A bearish government report this week set off a record volume of dealings in soybean futures for one day on the Board of Trade and ended all hope of a tight supply of that commodity this year.

The report which some traders described as a shock—the more conservative called it a surprise—was the Department of Agriculture's final estimate of the year for soybean, corn and grain sorghums yield.

It opened up the heaviest flood of liquidation for any commodity on the board this year and crumpled prices as much as nine cents a bushel at times in one day. The losses were reduced, however, before trading ended but they still ran to six cents or more.

For the week, nearly all prices ended below those of a week ago as commercial influences came along only in minor spurts. Wheat was 1/4 cents a bushel higher to 3/4 lower, December $1.96 1/2-3/4; corn 1/4 lower to 1/2 higher, December $1.09-08; oats 1/2-1 1/2 lower, December 76 1/2-1 1/2; rye 3 1/4-4 1/4 lower, December $1.24 1/2; soybeans 3 1/2-5 1/2 lower, January $2.09 1/2-10.

Bebet Recording Tells Life Story

PARIS (AP)—Soprano saxophonist Sidney Bechet, who died last May, left his own life story on two newly issued phonograph records, embellished with some of his best known numbers. The story goes, "... Well, I was very small when I went to school. I took with me my guitar, made from an old cigar box and rubber bands. Later on, I took a clarinet which was hidden in a drawer... and played it under the house."

Wife, Boarder Charged In Death Of Her Husband

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A woman and a boarder in her home were charged today in the murder of her husband whose body was found in the basement of the home.

Mrs. Evelyn Newman, 30, and Felix W. Horner, 34, were booked after being returned here from near Harrisburg, Pa. They were traced there after the body of Donald Newman, 36, was discovered Friday.

Police said Newman was shot to death in his bedroom late Monday night or early Tuesday. The Newman's three children, seven years of age and under, slept through the noise although in an adjoining room.

Police quoted Mrs. Newman as saying she was in love with Horner, who was divorced. They said she told them her husband threatened to kill her if she left him. Horner and Newman were life-time buddies.

The investigation quoted Mrs. Newman as saying she was awakened by the sound of a shot in her bedroom and found Horner with a gun standing by the bedside and her husband lying on the floor. Then, police quoted her as saying, she saw Horner fire three more shots at her husband.

Horner backed Mrs. Newman's statement she had been asleep when the shooting started.

$10,000 Bail In Death Case

Jess Slaughter, justice of the peace, set $10,000 bond in the case of Melvin Price, 28, accused of murder with malice in the death of Claude Tucker, 32.

Tucker was fatally wounded in an affray in a club in the Negro American Legion Hall on the north side last Sunday morning. He died of his injuries on Friday morning.

Price has been jailed since that time on an assault with intent to commit murder. Bond was set at $3,500 in that case. Price had never been able to post the bail.

Stock Market Advances For Fourth Straight Week

By ED MORSE
AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market advanced for the fourth straight week and mounted an assault this week on the historic highs reached last August.

Once again, it was an irregular advance. Losers outnumbered gainers as they did a week ago but enough pivotal stocks rose to give the popular averages a fairly good boost.

This divergence between the averages and the over-all market statistics has given some Wall Street analysts cause for alarm. Of the 1,444 issues traded during the week, 717 declined and 576 advanced. New highs for the year totalled only 85 to 126 new lows.

The most significant event of the week for those who follow the Dow theory occurred on Tuesday when at the end of the first hour the Dow Jones industrial average stood at 678.54, topping the historic closing high of 678.10 reached last Aug. 3. This did not constitute a new record because the average slipped for the rest of the day and closed with a loss.

For the week, the Dow industrials kept a net gain of 6.15 to close at 678.65.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks rose $1.60 to $229.30 and remained appreciably below the record high of $235.90, reached also on Aug. 3.

Vanished Jet's Wheel Found

CHICAGO (AP)—A wheel from an Air Force T33 jet trainer that vanished Nov. 26 with two men aboard has been recovered from Lake Michigan.

The plane disappeared after a night takeoff from the Glenview Naval Air Station north of Chicago. It was found near Waco, Tex., with Capt. Cecil C. Crockett Jr., of Fort Worth, Tex., and Airman D. J. McDermott of Berkeley, Ill., aboard.

The wheel was found last Sunday on a beach near South Haven, Mich., where it had been washed up.

News of the find was withheld until Saturday, the Navy said, because earlier it was not known definitely that the wheel was part of the missing plane.

An aerial search of Lake Michigan after the plane vanished had failed to disclose a trace of the plane or its occupants.

Police officers investigated two accidents in the city Saturday. No major damage or injuries resulted.

Vickie Diane Dee, 909 E. 16th, was in collision with the highway signs at the Marcy Drive-Gregg St. intersection. The signs were knocked over, but not seriously damaged.

At 10th and Gollad, Malcolm Stewart, Lenora, and Floyd Moss, 1207 Ridgeway, were involved in a collision.

Hams Push Fund Raising Project

Pressing for completion of the fund-raising project, the awarding of a hi-fi set, the Big Spring Amateur Radio Club will meet Monday.

The session is called for 7:30 p.m. at the clubhouse at the former Baptist encampment grounds.

Rocky Heads Candidates As He Seeks Clues To Decision

Rockefeller ripped through seven states in seven days, searching for evidence on which to base his big decision—whether or not to battle for the Republican presidential nomination.

Nixon's luck for the weekend of shooting in Georgia was not reported.

Rockefeller's luck for the week of soundings in Indiana, Missouri, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Oklahoma, Texas and Florida could only be conjectured.

He found the weather, meteorologically and politically, ranged from partly cloudy to sunny before it began raining, both ways, in Oklahoma.

Rockefeller was flying through Nixon territory, at least as far as the GOP leadership in each state is concerned.

The ever smiling tourist from New York repeatedly nixed suggestions that he accept second place on the ticket.

While Rockefeller roved, Nixon returned to the capital to speak of the impact Eisenhower has made on his overseas mission and to receive friendly visitors.

The vice president, who has been letting Rockefeller do the talking, was encouraged by two reports.

On the other side of the White House trail, Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.) was almost announced by someone else.

CTC Plans Monday Meeting

The Citizens Traffic Commission will meet in classroom of the police department Monday.

James Eubanks, executive secretary of the organization, said the meeting will start at 5:15 p.m.

Killed In Crash

TEMPLE, Tex. (AP)—James Mitchell Creel, 12, son of a Temple physician, was killed Saturday in the crash of a motorcycle and an auto.

Young Creel was riding on the motorcycle driven by Bobby Bland, who suffered multiple injuries but whose condition wasn't considered critical.

to Jamaica, a letter came to light which had him saying he would make known his candidacy on Jan. 2. The senator's office said the letter wasn't authentic, was merely one of a number drafted to cover all eventualities.

Two other Democratic potentialists took sharp cracks at the Eisenhower administration.

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota told a farm meeting in St. Paul that failure to dispute the policies of Eisenhower and Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson would cost Nixon or Rockefeller support in the farm belt.

The farm belt figured prominently in the week's politics. Morton said in Chicago that three members of the Republican National Committee had suggested Benson resign.

Morton, back in Washington, said it was the Democrats who had made Benson a whipping boy.

Morton hailed the victory of Republican John Kyl in a special Iowa congressional election as a sign of GOP rejuvenation in the farm country.

TAKE THE 'TOUR'—SEE THE YULE DECORATION WINNERS

DOORS — Mrs. Elmer Lyster, 1902 Alabama; Mrs. J. D. Elliott, 201 E. 6th; Mrs. Jimmy Morehead, 1509 Vines.

WINDOWS — Mrs. W. R. Campbell, 1551 1/2 1st; Mrs. J. R. Hensley, 519 Edwards; John F. Page, 156-A Fairchild.

YARDS — Mrs. Jimmy Morehead, 1509 Vines; Mrs. Dick O'Brien, 101 Lincoln; Sgt. Dale McCombs, 1800 Alabama.

Sgt. McCombs was also declared winner of the over-all prize. A large number of people have been making the circuit to inspect these and many other decorations each night.

K Tells Adenauer Now Is Time For Disarmament

MOSCOW (AP)—Premier Nikita Khrushchev has told Chancellor Konrad Adenauer that if West Germany favors disarmament, now is the time "to throw its influence into the scales on the side of forces seeking a solution."

Germany together with its Allies, asked the Soviet Premier to resume negotiations with the West on controlled disarmament in both the nuclear and conventional weapons fields.

The note followed Adenauer's talks with Eisenhower in Bonn and the reported reports that he and the President desired a detour around Berlin and German reunification by seeking in disarmament the progress Eisenhower demands before going to an East-West summit meeting.

The Factor kidnaping was not the only snafu of which the Touhy raid, Touhy, Schaefer, McFadden and Willie Sharkey, another member of the gang, were tried and acquitted of the 1933 kidnaping of William Hamm Jr., St. Paul brewer.

In addition to bootlegging and kidnaping, the "terrible Touhys," as the gang came to be known in its heyday, engaged in vice, bank and mail robberies.

Collins Construction of Austin had men's acceptance of a widening of a total of 42 feet paved area from Big Spring south to the Glasscock County line at a cost of $496,632.

Noting that his U.S. tour had strengthened his belief that "an end to the armaments race is the most ardent desire of the people," Khrushchev expressed the hope Bonn would support "the specific Soviet plan for total, all-encompassing, controlled disarmament."

Khrushchev conceded that the disarmament problem did not depend solely on Bonn but added that the "renunciation of atomic arms by the German Federal Republic would be one of the best proofs of the peaceful aspirations of the West German republic."

Side. He had been living there since his release from prison.

OUT OF THE DARKNESS

Two men, wielding shotguns, stepped out of the darkness. Without uttering a word they opened fire, pouring slugs from six shells into the bodies of Touhy and his companion.

Miller was critically hurt. The kidnaping for which Touhy and three other members of his mob received 99 year sentences was that of John (Jake the Barber) Factor.

Factor a former convicted swindler and now a wealthy Beverly Hills, Calif., real estate dealer, in 1933.

During his long legal battle to win freedom from prison, Touhy maintained that the kidnaping never happened. He claimed it was a hoax perpetrated to prevent Factor from being extradited to England, his native land.

Factor settled for $1,800,000 the civil claims of Britishers who claimed he had defrauded them, and the British government gave up its efforts to return him to England for trial.

In this country, however, Factor was convicted of a million-dollar whisky warehouse receipt fraud and served 6 years of a 10-year sentence, commencing in 1947.

Touhy and four of his gang were tried for the kidnaping. In addition to Touhy the other defendants were Schaefer, Albert (Polly Nose) Kator, Basil (the Owl) Banghart, and Edward McFadden.

Of the four who went to prison, two are still alive. They are Schaefer and Banghart, who still is in Stateville. McFadden is believed to have died some years ago. Kator died in prison.

Big 4 Will Invite K To Summit Conference

By WILLIAM L. RYAN

PARIS (AP)—The Western Big Four decided Saturday to send an invitation at once to Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev to a summit conference, probably in April.

They pledged themselves to devote Allied efforts in the intervening four months to forging a solid Western front for the summit conference.

The decisions were taken at the second of two Western summit meetings, capping a day that included a private talk between President Eisenhower and French President Charles de Gaulle.

The two talked frankly about issues threatening pre-summit Allied unity, and there were reports that at least some of the friction in French-American relations had been lessened.

Eisenhower applied all his powers of persuasion in an attempt to break down De Gaulle's stolid opposition to an integrated command for the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, on which the United States is insisting.

White House press secretary James C. Hagerty told a news conference after the Western summit session that relations between Eisenhower and De Gaulle, former comrades-in-arms of World War II, showed no evidence of strain despite the blunt talk.

White House press secretary James C. Hagerty told a news conference after the Western summit session that relations between Eisenhower and De Gaulle, former comrades-in-arms of World War II, showed no evidence of strain despite the blunt talk.

He added the two probably would meet again privately before Eisenhower leaves here Monday for Spain on another leg of his spectacular three-continent tour. No set appointment was fixed, however.

The French-American troubles loomed large as Eisenhower and de Gaulle sat down with West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan around an oval table in a glittering gilt and white chamber of the Elysee Palace.

The four apparently concentrated their attention on the problems of an approach to the summit.

NO DATE SET

Before Eisenhower leaves for Spain Monday, a formal invitation, approved by all four, will be issued to the Soviet Union. But, any specific date in the invitation, probably leaving some leeway for Khrushchev.

Geneva was generally considered the likely site.

American spokesmen said the Big Four leaders had avoided agreement on specific negotiating proposals to be offered Khrushchev. They have turned this job over to a four-power team of diplomatic experts, whose assignment in the next few months is to work toward a solid Western Allied front.

U. S. Assistant Secretary of State Andrew H. Berding told newsmen the four did agree in general terms on the problems to be proposed for discussion. These include disarmament and the twin problems of divided Germany and the future of West Berlin, far inside Communist East Germany.

ATTITUDE HARDENS

There can be little hope for summit progress on reunification of Germany, and on the Berlin question Adenauer has been pictured as more and more set against any concessions to Moscow.

The Americans and British are interested in talking about Berlin to the extent of trying to extract from the Russians a guarantee of their positions in the occupied city. Khrushchev demanded a year ago last month that the British, U. S., and French garrisons pull out of Berlin, but he since has avoided setting any deadline.

Eisenhower meets again with the three other leaders Sunday and Monday. Probably some time before his departure he will talk privately again with De Gaulle on the French president's opposition to a unified chain of command for NATO forces.

As the Big Four meeting began, Khrushchev issued a blast at Adenauer.

K INTO RIFT

Khrushchev accused Adenauer of working against better East-West relations by accepting rocket armaments and making rocket bases available to West Germany's allies.

In Paris, however, the center of attention was the question of U.S.-French relations.

Some of De Gaulle's annoyance with the United States may have been eased as a result of his 55-minute talk with Eisenhower.

In their talk, the American President was reported to have backed to the hilt Secretary of State Christian A. Herter in his contention that an integrated European defense system is the basis upon which American troops are kept on the European continent.

Informed sources said France is willing to let the planning and building of installations go forward while the principle itself is being threshed out.

But on the matter of principle, De Gaulle was in a position from which it would be difficult either to retreat or to maneuver.

He has told his own armed forces in the most emphatic terms that he believes the defense of France must be French.

The big question, then, was: Could either De Gaulle or Eisenhower back away from his public position to evolve some face-saving formula?

Atlantic Pact Allies Move To Meet Economic Threats

PARIS (AP)—The Atlantic Pact Allies are moving toward a master plan to combat the Soviet Union's economic penetration around the globe.

This was reported Saturday by reliable informants who said the campaign was launched at the three-day conference of NATO ministers here earlier this week.

The prime movers in a program to set up a watchdog NATO economic body were reported to be Paul-Henri Spaak, NATO secretary general, and Christian A. Herter, U. S. secretary of state.

Spaak was said to have told the alliance partners that the cold war is heading into an era of intense economic competition and that NATO must make a massive effort to prevent Soviet gains in uncommitted areas.

Herter took the same general line. He proposed that this question be given intensive study in working out a 10-year plan that would expand NATO into nonmilitary activities.

Informants said the line that seemed to be emerging was this: The NATO partners would step up sharply the amount of money they are now spending for direct aid and technical assistance to underdeveloped countries.

NATO would set up a watchdog body to keep a close watch on the Soviet Union's economic offensive wherever it turned up, among neutral countries or among nations allied with the Atlantic pact in the Far and Middle East.

As soon as the watchdog group pointed the finger at a sensitive spot, the word would go out to the international financial organizations and money would start flowing to that country.

C-C Directors To Meet Monday

Chamber of Commerce directors will meet Monday noon at the Settles to consider important proposals affecting the board's election and the mode of nominating officers.

The executive board Friday gave its blessings to suggested changes in the constitution. These would reduce the board membership to less than half of what it is now, and would set up the past presidents as a nominations committee.

If directors sanction the proposals, they will be submitted to the membership for adoption or rejection.

Reports on Christmas activities also are expected to be made at the Monday parley.

Triangle Death Plot Is Foiled

DALLAS (AP)—Officers said Saturday they had foiled a bizarre plot of a young lover who, they said, hired a man to kill the husband of his sweetheart.

They said a 21-year-old man signed a statement admitting he plotted to have the woman's husband murdered. He said he offered another man $1,000 to do the job.

The woman, however, denied in a statement that she had ever consented to a plot to kill her husband.

The situation came to light this week after the intended victim learned of the plan and called the sheriff's office.

Ironically, the husband had been arrested Sunday for carrying a concealed weapon as he lay in wait for the young lover, should he try to see the wife.

China Builds Dam

TOKYO (AP)—Red China claims the lower Yellow River has been freed from flood danger with completion of a 1,200-foot dam at Weishan. It will irrigate more than six million acres, Radio Peiping reported.

Airman Arrested On Assault Charge

Police arrested a Webb AFB airman Friday and turned him over to Webb authorities. The arrest was made following an assault investigation.

The airman's wife was taken to the base hospital. Attendants said she had a broken nose and possible internal injuries. The incident occurred in the 1000 block of West 6th.

Cotton quotas won by a 3-1 margin here Tuesday. The majority is still imposing, but in recent years it has come down from 10-1 to its present ratio. Incidentally, all the burling over the rule to abandon skip-row planting got results. The agriculture department backed off it.

Someone asked Nat Shick how many times he handled those tin can lids on his Christmas tree at 510 Gregg. He got to figuring and it turned out around 20,000 or 30,000 times. If we put that much tin to a tree, we'd put it in moth balls.

The Big Spring YMCA was honored with selection of Gordon Dickenson to be the West Texas nominee for Youth-in-Government governor nominee next February.

Tom Amerson stepped down as a T&P locomotive engineer last week after 47 years. Nobody stopped to figure how many miles he had run in that space of time. But it's probably close to a million and a half.

Dirty drifts of heavy snow still keep their grip on cars of a few of the 800 motorists who were trapped in Vaughn, N.M., on the little cowtown's main street.

Ike Lands In France

Vernon Walters, and his son and daughter-in-law, Maj. John and Mrs. Barbara Eisenhower. At right foreground, hand extended in greeting, is French naval chief of staff Adm. Henri Nomy.

Mother Finds Watch Hazard

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—A San Antonio mother Saturday unearthed another of those Swiss watches that may be radioactive. She found it near the South Pole.

Mrs. Grove C. Potter read Friday in San Antonio Express that 600 Swiss wrist watches imported by a New York firm showed enough strontium-90 to present a "possible long-term health hazard to the wearer."

Because of the special features of the watch, Mrs. Potter readily recalled that her son, Navy Lt. Jack W. Potter, a flight surgeon, recently obtained one.

It wasn't likely Lt. Potter would know about the danger. The lieutenant is quartered in at McMurdo Sound with an American expedition in the Antarctic.

Mrs. Potter contacted R. S. Land, a ham radio operator. Early Saturday morning, Mrs. Potter reached her son via Land's radio set.

She described the watch to Potter and he found it was one of the watches suspected of being radioactive.

He's now shipping it back to the New York firm for checking.

Haskell Precinct Wet Or Dry? It's A Big Legal Tangle

HASKELL (AP)—They're trying to figure out whether Haskell County's Justice Precinct 24 is legally dry or still wet despite a 24-year recess from beer selling.

County Atty. Curtis Pogue has asked Atty. Gen. Will Wilson for an opinion on the matter at the request of several constituents.

In June, 1935, residents of the precinct voted to legalize beer. Then the Texas Supreme Court ruled that a wet precinct in a dry county was contrary to local option laws.

Now the higher courts have reversed this interpretation, raising the Haskell County question.

Claude Tucker Services Today

Funeral services for Claude Tucker have been set for today at 3 p.m. in the Church of God in Christ, Rev. T. O. McGee will officiate and interment will be in City Cemetery.

Tucker died early Friday as the result of a gun shot wound he received last Sunday in a North Side cafe. Murder charges have been filed against Melvin Price, 28, who was involved in the incident.

Survivors include his mother, Mrs. Mittie Tucker; Big Spring; one son, Claude Tucker Jr., Big Spring; two sisters, Mrs. Jessie M. Nelson and Miss Juanita Tucker, both of Big Spring and one brother, Rufus Crockett, San Francisco, Calif.

IN MEMORIAM

These are the names of Texas men and women who, in their Last Wills and Testaments, have left bequests to the Hospital. Their names have been carved in the panels of the Memorial Statue pictured below. Other names, as they become eligible, will be carved on the new panels now being provided around the base of the Statue.

List compiled September 26, 1939.

The Need

There are more than 5,000 children in Texas, each year, who are either born with some tragic deformity; or, who are crippled by disease or accident. Of this total number, more than 3,000 are from families not financially able to pay for corrective treatments at pay hospitals. Therefore each year, 3,000 new cases are created needing medical and surgical treatments such as are provided by the Texas Scottish Rite Hospital for Crippled Children. These services are made available to the needy Texas crippled children through gifts from generous Texans. These gifts come to the Hospital in the form of cash and as bequests made in Last Wills and Testaments (see list herewith.)

The departed whom we now remember have entered into the peace of life eternal. They still live on earth in the acts of goodness they performed and in the hearts of those who cherish their memory. May the beauty of their life abide among us as a loving benediction.

SUPPOSE that this boy and girl were your children. Suppose that the boy had been incapacitated by a crippling disease; and that the girl had been born with club feet. SUPPOSE, too, that you were not able financially to pay the hospital, surgical and medical care necessary to rehabilitate your children. THEN, ALL OF A SUDDEN, the services that would be available to you through this Hospital would become as a wondrous miracle for you... and you would, most likely, become one of the first to say...

"GIVE Them THIS DAY. Their DAILY BREAD..."

Obviously, Bread symbolizes all of the physical requirements for normal, healthy living. It encompasses, for example, everything that is provided at and through this Hospital for the day-to-day care of, and the rehabilitation of Crippled Children:

- Food
- Hospital Housing
- Nursing
- Medications
- Surgical Operations
- Braces and Fittings
- Physical Therapy
- Occupational Therapy

This is a big order. Everything from the food to the convalescent therapy is highly specialized. Yes, "Their Daily Bread" represents a gift of great price per child! And such a gift is made effective only through the combined giving of thousands upon thousands of Texans.

Here are Five Ways to Give

- Living Trusts can be established to benefit the Hospital during your lifetime by naming the Hospital Board, or any other person you designate, as your Trustee over the property, money, securities or other assets you set aside for that purpose.
- Bequests in your last will and testament will convey to the Hospital whatever gift you may desire to bequeath. (In connection with living trusts and bequests it is important to consult an attorney.)
- Life Insurance can aid the Hospital through either a new policy, or by making the Hospital beneficiary on any existing policy.

Memorials in honor of loved ones through a gift to the Hospital result in both the names of the donor and that of the memorialized one being permanently recorded in the Hospital's memorial records.

Cash Today! Gifts of cash today provide the Hospital with the all-important current operating revenue that makes possible the day-to-day activities of the Hospital.

These Texans as Trustees and hospital officials have dedicated themselves to the service of the Crippled Children of Texas

Mr. Hines' Little Men Must Not Like Our Town

By BILL BRYAN
Duncan Hines Institute treats Big Spring lightly.
The new issue of Hines' famous "Lodging For A Night" and "Adventures In Good Eating" almost passed us up.
Three establishments—one for sleeping and two for eating are in the 1960 issue. Mayo Ranch at 1202 E. 3rd St. made the hotel-motel book. Two eateries, Coker's Restaurant at 4th and Benton and the Desert Sands on Highway 80 West, are listed in the second volume.
The late Mr. Duncan's staff, apparently liked Midland and Odessa a trifle more than Big Spring. Midland contains two listings in the eating book and four listings in the motel-hotel directory. Odessa is listed for two and two.
The two books, which cost $1.50 each, will soon be on sale throughout the country. They are published by the Duncan Hines Institute Inc. of Ithaca, N. Y. The first issue, the publishers say, came out 25 years ago.

25 YEARS AGO
That first issue became famous as a traveler's guidebook to where to eat. Twenty-five years ago there were few places which served meals, no regular sanitation inspections of those which did, and seldom more than one hotel of sorts in most towns. The guidebooks, which listed not only special dishes prepared by restaurants but also locations and prices, were a welcome addition to the meager information available to travelers.
The book became an overnight success and has continued in popularity until the past few years. During the years since the end of World War II several things have changed.
STANDARDS HIGHER NOW
County and city health boards have continued to raise the standards of eating establishments by more stringent inspections and regulations. Hotels and motels have entered fierce competition for the tourist buck. As a consequence, both eating places and lodging places have grown bigger, cleaner, newer, and more numerous.
The yellow pages of this year's Big Spring phone book lists 52 restaurants and 15 hotel-motels. These are only the ones who paid for a listing in the yellow page section. An actual count would probably show twice this number.
Publishers of the Hines books state in bold type across a front page that "no advertising is ever accepted" and "no place listed ever pays for a listing." The establishment "earns the honor" of being listed, the publishers say "by exemplifying the qualities which the traveling public has come to associate with the Duncan Hines name."
The eating book claims to contain 4,000 of the what it rates as the best places to eat all over North America and the lodging book says it lists 5,000 of the best places to spend the night. Altogether, that's 9,000 eating and sleeping places.
The books also contain some rather startling facts in a roundabout way. There are less than 40 persons, all told, on the editorial and inspection staff.
With 9,000 places in which to eat and sleep each year that comes to 225 visits per person. That makes the Duncan experts a mighty busy bunch of eaters and sleepers.

Unitarians Visit Midland Services

Unitarian Fellowship members will join the Unitarian Church in Midland this morning for services. This will take the place of the usual evening service.
Service begins at 11 a.m., with an adult forum at 10 a.m. The children have a two hour program that begins at 10 a.m.
For further information interested persons may contact the John Findlaters, 1202 Douglas.

Youth Knives Laredo Man, Political Power

LAREDO (AP)—A youth lurking outside his home stabbed County Treasurer Edward Leyendecker in the abdomen Friday night when Leyendecker went outside and accosted him.
Leyendecker, a power in the Independent Club which is the dominant political faction in Webb County, was in fair condition Saturday. The knife penetrated his liver.
The family was watching television about 10 p.m. when Mrs. Leyendecker saw someone peeping through a window. Leyendecker, about 50, went outside to investigate, saw a youth hiding in the bushes and asked him what he was doing.
"I'm hiding," the youth said. Leyendecker asked whom he was hiding from and the youth replied that he didn't know.
"Come out here where I can see you," Leyendecker ordered.
Instead the youth jumped out and stabbed the officeholder.
Chief of Detectives G. G. Galan said several youths were questioned but no one was held. He said the assailant was believed to be about 18 and, dressed in a khaki cowboy jacket.
Leyendecker is part-owner of the City Lumber Co. of Laredo. It was the second mysterious act of violence in Laredo during the night. Sylvia Perez, 14, was shot in the left cheek and left thumb as she combed her hair in her bedroom. Police said the bullet evidently was fired from a revolver at close range. Miss Perez was believed not seriously hurt. Police questioned a number of young men.

Three Wrecks Reported Friday
Three automobile mishaps were reported by police officers Friday. Damage was minor and no injuries resulted.
Elizabeth Stroup, 106 Dixie, and Viola Adams O'Daniel, 1704 Harvard, were in collision at 11th and Owens.
At Lexington and 14th, John Gilbert, 204 Dixie, and Janelle Postier, 1507-B Lexington, were drivers involved in a crash.
Wilford Anderson, 406 McEwen, and Richard Yarbar, Gail Rt., were involved in a wreck at 3rd and Goliad.

Danger Around The Tree, DPS Holiday Note Avers

AUSTIN (AP)—There's danger around the Christmas tree, the Department of Health says.
A special warning from the department Saturday pointed out: Mistletoe is deadly if brewed into a tea.
Holly berries produce "violent nausea and central nervous system depression" if eaten.
The fluid in bubbling Christmas tree lights—usually methylene chloride—can be lethal if enough is swallowed or inhaled.
Metallic salts used to create multi-colored flames in fireplaces can make youngsters severely ill if eaten.
The gas used to spray artificial snow is toxic if inhaled in sufficient doses. The snow itself is harmless plastic and fatty acids.

The cleaning fluid for tracks of toy trains is deodorized kerosene which is dangerous if swallowed.
The Department of Health warning ended on a cheerful note.
"Don't be too concerned if the kids eat a few icicles off the tree," the special memo said. "In their metallic form they're practically insoluble and therefore poorly absorbed. Those smoke pellets for toy trains, while not recommended as a steady diet, probably are not dangerous either. They do contain potentially toxic ingredients, but is unlikely a youngster could eat enough of them to be poisoned."
"Merry Christmas," the department added.

Clemson Shocks Frogs, 23 To 7

By MAX B. SKELTON HOUSTON (AP)—Clemson's underdog Tigers broke loose with a three-touchdown surge in the fourth period Saturday to come from behind and defeat Texas Christian, 23-7, in the inaugural Bluebonnet Bowl.

A crowd of 55,000 earlier had seen TCU, Southwest Conference co-champions and the nation's No. 7 team, break open the stout Clemson defense by taking to the air after having been held to a net gain of eight yards rushing the first quarter.

TCU had entered the nationally televised game as an eight-point favorite over a Clemson team that was ranked No. 11 in the nation. The record crowd for an major bowl game inaugurated included Syracuse University's national championship team and Govs. E. P. (Fritz) Hollings of South Carolina and Price Daniel of Texas.

PRO GRID REMATCH HAS THE FANS IN A TIZZY

By GEORGE BOWEN Associated Press Sports Writer BALTIMORE (AP)—The Baltimore Colts and New York Giants will be rematched next Sunday in a football game creating a tizzy of excitement reminiscent of the Dempsey-Tunney fight.

were trailing San Francisco by two in the Western Division. But the Colts roared through their last five games, including two victories by the impressive scores of 45-14 and 34-14 over San Francisco.

The Giants also lost their second game of the season, and in their seventh and eighth games their offense disappeared. Three field goals by Pat Summerall beat the Chicago Cardinals 9-3, but the Pittsburgh Steelers took them with two touchdowns.

The sports world has been wondering since if the Colts could do it again. Similar arguments went on for years after Gene Tunney got off the canvas in a so-called long count in 1927 and decided Jack Dempsey for the second time.

However, the scoring punch returned in a 30-20 triumph over the Cardinals, 45-14 and 24-10 over Washington, and 48-7 against Cleveland to give the Giants the Eastern Division title again.

Clemson's second unit moved 62 yards to set up Armstrong's field goal, which came on the second play of the second period and after George Ury had tacked on another four yards to the 5.

Cleburne Ties Breck, 20-20

By JOE BENHAM BRECKENRIDGE, Tex. (AP)—Cleburne, led by a passing and running demon named Jimmy Doerr, clawed from behind twice Saturday to tie Breckenridge 20-20 for the Class AAA state schoolboy football title.

Doerr spun over for the score with 58 seconds left. Then he rolled out to the left and cut back in with the conversion that deadlocked the game 20-20.

Cleburne made a strong bid to pull the game out after Cleburne attempted an on-side kick. When the ball simply fell off the tee as Doug Shouse kicked futilely at it, Breckenridge took over on the Cleburne 40 but Doerr grabbed still another Gibson pass and returned it to the Cleburne 49 to end the threat.

Doerr slammed across on runs of 3 and 6 yards, hit halfback Cecil Evans on a 56-yard scoring pass play, ripped across with the tying conversion, and intercepted a pass to set up the last Cleburne touchdown.

Gibson's touchdowns — which ran his season's total for scoring to 108 points — came on runs of 5 and 2 yards. His scoring pass to halfback Billy West covered 28 yards. Breckenridge grabbed a 14-0 lead in the first period and the early moments of the second. Gibson fired a pass to West on the 10 and watched the shifty footed halfback spin past Cleburne defender Buck McCall into the end zone 4:49 deep in the game.

First Baptist grabbed the lead in YMCA Church Basketball league competition the past week by defeating Baptist Temple, 57-25. In the other game, Wesley Methodist turned back Church of the Nazarene, 34-25.

Sands Triumphant In Own Tourney

ACKERLY (SC) — The Sands girls won championship honors in the annual Sands Invitational Basketball Tournament here Saturday night, defeating Ira in the finals, 18-7. Janice Bearden scored 22 points for the Mustangs while Jeanette Ray tallied 14 and Brenda Woods 12. For Ira, Anita Patterson led with 21.

The drive began when Gibson carried a Cleburne punt down the sidelines to the Yellow Jacket 18, where a personal foul penalty moved the ball on to the Cleburne 9. Evans, showing the nearest footwork in an afternoon of sharp running, put Cleburne into the game for the first time when he took a pass from Doerr on the Buck 40 and carried it all the way.

JAYHAWKS DEFEAT BUTTONS, 86-74, FOR NINTH VICTORY

BRIEFS FROM LAKE J. B.

Spirit Of Christmas Is In Evidence At Thomas

By JOE PICKLE
The water was clear and placid at Lake J. B. Thomas on Friday, and for the past week that's about the way the fisherman traffic has been. Around two inches of rain had fallen during the week and washed off everything. For a time it had the lake stirred, but not nearly so much as the high winds which preceded it. But Friday was such a pretty day that almost every place reported several fishermen out again to try their luck. Here and there were reports of catches, particularly with crappie. A couple of fine black bass were hooked, and there was one report of some fair catfish catches. On some of the cabins around the lake, Yule decorations are in evidence, and some have wreaths and banners proclaiming "Merry Christmas." That was the tip off for what people were thinking, and their mind wasn't on fishing, but over the holidays and even on Christmas Day, the traffic is due to pick up.

Here in the way it looked around the lake:
JINKEN'S GROCERY AND BAIT SHOP - Jinkens Moreland thinks Christmas Day will see the fishermen get with it. The past two Christmases have really been busy times. Maybe it's just getting Christmas spirit, and maybe it's trying out new rods and reels, boats and other presents for Christmas. Last year at Christmas the fishermen started coming in about the middle of the morning and he didn't get to eat until that night.
Among those fishing there Friday were Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Dorman, Tahoka; Hi, Purcell, Lamesa; Mr. and Mrs. Walter Vaughn, Tahoka; and Mrs. Mattie Lester, who lives at the lake. Mrs. Lester, who is 89, qualifies in Jinkens' judgment as about the fishiest person in these parts. She hardly misses a day, and one day last week, when it was raining, she was perched under an awning and still fishing. She generally comes up with some nice catches.
BROWNE'S GROCERY - Friday brought out several fishermen, but it has been pretty quiet for the past fortnight, and particularly during the past week when the weather has been acting up. There were reports of a few crappie catches.
SPORTSMAN'S PARADISE - J. W. Jennings, Midland, came in with a beauty of a 3-pound bass, enough to set many a fisherman on fire. Friday there were a number of fishermen stopping by for minnows. C. O. Nalley, one of the most intrepid fishermen, had been out Wednesday, but the high winds finally drove even him to shelter.
LAKEVIEW GROCERY - Winds and rains had put a quietus on most of the fishing, but Friday there were several calling by the place to pick up bait. Hartman Hooser and Frank Sabbato of Big Spring, stopped by for hamburgers and looked over the lake, which was smooth and pretty as a mirror.

SHADY GROVE - Homer Smith was busy scrubbing up the boats, which were messed up a bit by the rains. He had around an inch and a half at his place on the upper channel. Jack Anthony and Dee Scott, Lamesa, had good luck earlier. Anthony landed 11 crappie and Scott nine. John McGregor, Knott, boasted 20 crappie and a channel cat weighing better than a pound.
Buckshot White, Lovington, N. M., had the best luck, however, with 30 crappie and two catfish, one of them weighing three pounds. His prize catch, however, was a 5 1/2-pound black bass landed on minnow bait.
LEM'S BAITHOUSE - Most of the fishing was off the pier, and there were a few reports of good catches of crappie. For instance, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Mackey, Brownfield, reported catching 40. Mrs. W. F. Veasy, Mrs. Arch Hefner and Charles Veasy, Lamesa, had a nice catch of crappie. J. H. Stalcup and Dan Dumas reported fair fishing for crappie with minnows, as did J. P. Asplin and Ed Louderdale, Lamesa.
Preston Stokes and his party from O'Donnell reported two good days with crappie. They would have streaks where the crappie were biting like mad, and then suddenly would stop in about 30 or 40 minutes they would start in again.
Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Holland, Snyder, reported 17 crappie and one black bass.
BOYD'S LODGE - Every day has seen from six to 12 fishermen in the barge house, even during the worst weather. G. I. Board, retired Magnolia pumper, Bill Bryant, and their companion, known only as Slim, fished Tuesday night, all day Wednesday and until noon Thursday, but when they left they had a tow sack more than half filled with crappie from 1/4 to a pound. They were using minnows. Among others fishing were Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Hill, who operate a tourist court in Denver City. They spent Thursday night and caught a mess of crappie.
S&L GROCERY - Henry Nichols, who is retired and lives at Ira, came in with five catfish weighing up to 6 pounds and totalling 20 pounds. He hooked them on shiners and waterdogs. Speaking of waterdogs, O. F. has more than 200 of these creatures on hand, and they are finding considerable favor with the catfishermen.
The group from the McCleskey Truck Company stopped by to get minnows and came back to report several crappie from a pound to a pound and a half.
Ross Smith hooked two nice crappie one day and then returned the next to take 14 in fishing off the dock in about an hour and a half.
LAKE THOMAS LODGE - Fishing has been a little slack, said V. L. Hogue, for the wind had been high. One day the waves kicked up so much that the barrels, marking fishing spots, would disappear in the troughs. Friday, however, it was easy to see the fish, which Hogue figured were feeding white bass, striking out in the glassy lake. He figures things will begin to pick up steadily after the holidays.

ABILENE (SC) - The Howard County Junior College Jayhawks, playing their delayed game to perfection in the waning moments, defeated the H-SU Buttons, 86-74, here Friday evening.
The win was their ninth in 10 starts this season. The Hawks will be idle until the Howard College Tournament, which starts Dec. 31. The Buttons, who hadn't lost to a junior college this season prior to Friday's game, led only once during the contest. They grabbed one-point advantage with nine minutes to play.
However, the Hawks began to hit on their layups after that and started to pull away.
The Big Springers, who led by a mere three points at half time, hit a rather remarkable 67 per cent of their shots from the field in the final 20 minutes of play.
Tom Garrison played a HCJC while Kenneth Day, a freshman, showed to advantage once he was assigned to guard H-SU's hottest player, Barry Oxford.
Oxford, who wound up with 25 points, oddly enough, was originally destined to attend HCJC. He is a 5-10 freshman from Fort Worth.
Harold Henson, who is still feeling the effects of an illness, led the Jayhawks in scoring with 25 points while Larry Cruise tossed in 19 and Bobby Shirey 10 for the HCJC club.
H-SU had lost only to North Texas' freshman this season and that time by one point.
Nicky Wilson, a 6-1 lad from Lipan, tallied 16 points for H-SU while Jackie Barron, 6-6, of Granbury, wound up with an even dozen.
The Hawks lost Jimmy Evans and Garrison on fouls during the contest.
In their first 10 games this season, the Hawks have yielded a decision only to Navarro and that by one point. That occurred in the first round of the Temple Tournament.
Coach Buddy Travis, who is busy assembling trophies for the upcoming HC Tournament, plans to take his family to Amarillo for the holidays but will be gone only a couple of days. He will be back in his office Dec. 26, according to present plans.
HCJC (M) - Cruise 5-19; Henson 10-5; 25; Garrison 3-10-14; Shirey 2-10; Evans 6-12; Edwards 6-5; Day 2-4; Totals 26-28-4.

Jerry Rhome Top Player In Texas

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP) - Jerry Rhome, quarterback of Dallas Sunset, has been named the top football player in Texas high schools. He heads the 5-man group that placed on the All-Southern high school squad.
Travis Reagan, Wichita Falls; Harold Phillip, Olney; Fred Meider, Nederland; and Scott Appleton, Brady, were the other Texas players on the squad.
Putt Powell of the Amarillo News and Globe-times, who is Texas chairman for the All-Southern, picked the 175-pound Rhome, a star passer, for the honor.
"Byron Rhome has coached many fine players but his own son turned out to be the greatest," said Powell.
"Jerry gained more than 2,000 yards in 10 games. He completed 90 of 155 passes for 19 touchdowns and 1,493 yards. He carried the ball for 550 yards."
"He was the best blocker on the team, kicked extra points and punted."
Six Texans were given honorable mention. They were Geary Taylor, Amarillo; Tascosa; Gordon Beaumgard, Borger; Robert Smith, Corpus Christi; Ray fullback; Jim Linnstaedter, Brenham; and Billy Gannon, Dallas Highland Park.

G. Wilson Plans A Few Changes

DETROIT (AP) - George Wilson, with a new contract to coach the Detroit Lions again next season, may do some shuffling on his coaching staff for the 1960 National Football League campaign.
The Associated Press learned today Wilson is contemplating a change involving one of his assistants.

Stay Single, Tiger Star Tells Gridders

By JACK OWENS
BATON ROUGE, La. (AP) - Marriage helped All-America Billy Cannon, but mixed with college football and pre-dental studies at Louisiana State, it made things "mighty rough."
Cannon, most honored individual player in college football in 1959, advises college athletes that being single is better for them, their schooling and the game.
His coach, Paul Dietzel of Louisiana State, agreed it's better for the athlete to be single but said marriage "didn't effect Billy one way or the other."
"We thought he was going to be a fine one when he was single," Dietzel said, "and when he got married he still was a good one."
Billy's 21-year-old wife Dorothy said, "I think it helps him."
Dorothy married Billy after his freshman football season and has borne him three daughters. She said she would do it again if given the choice.
"I don't see him much," she said, but she loves football and wants Billy to go to dental school and be willing to go through another four or five years of college marriage.
The 22-year-old Cannon, whose No. 20 is being retired after the LSU-Mississippi Sugar Bowl game, plans to play professional ball with the Los Angeles Rams next year. He wants to divide his time between the game and dental school.
Cannon said his wife is most unusual.
"She lets me study if I say I need to sleep, she lets me. She gets up with the young-ones in the night and doesn't let them cry. Some others might say, 'They're half yours so you can help take care of them' but she doesn't."
"She has settled me down a whole lot," Billy said. "Some boys are out running around. I have to get my rest, train and think more about my business... my studies."
The biggest problems, Billy indicated, are financial and personal adjustments and managing to study.
"It's a different life than what you are accustomed to," he said. "There are a lot of things to adjust to. A lot of boys just don't adjust as fast as others."
When they return to practice, Billy said, they don't have their minds 100 per cent on football.
Billy's financial problems are eased by his grant-in-aid scholarship and help from his parents and Dorothy's parents.
There are little things the parents do, like keeping the babies at times. But there also are big ones, like the elder Cannon, moving out of his home for Billy and Dorothy and taking a nearby apartment.
The father owns the home in North Baton Rouge, and "between the two of us, we scrape up money to pay the rent" on the apartment.
In studies, Billy has a 1.9 average in a system where 3.0 is perfect.
He is wavering between a "C" and "B" over-all, an LSU spokesman said, since "the rigors of the football season began to take over... if he had been able to attend classes regularly, he could make a B-plus average hands down."
Dietzel, himself married when all-star center for Miami (Ohio), said whether a man is married has little effect on his ability to play football.
"Some boys are greatly helped," the LSU coach said. "Some are not. I don't advise boys to get married because it adds to their problems. I would prefer to have them remain single."

OVER CHARLEY SCOTT
Kid Paret Stock Booms In Upset
By MURRAY ROSE
NEW YORK (AP) - What a difference just one fight can make!
Friday afternoon Cuba's Benny (Kid) Paret was a so-so fighter hoping to make good against Charley Scott, the top-ranking welterweight contender, in order to get a few more paydays in the ring.
Friday night, following his decisive upset decision over the 3-1 favored Scott in the television 10-rounder at Madison Square Garden, Paret was hollering for a shot at welterweight champion Don Jordan.
Scott, a 23-year-old Philadelphia, had won six straight and was clamoring for a shot at Jordan. Now he's hoping to get a return fight with the unranked, 22-year-old Cuban.
"No more Scott," said Manuel Alfaro, Paret's manager. "Benny beat the No. 1 once, that's enough. We want Jordan, title fight if we can, or non-title."
Matchmaker Teddy Bremner said he would try to get him Jordan, Scott, middleweight Jose Torres or Frederico Thompson, the Argentine champion who knocked out Jordan in a non-title fight recently. A return bout with Scott, despite what Alfaro said, probably is the most likely.

Stamford Bulldogs Retain AA Crown

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
SAN ANGELO (AP) - Stamford whipped Big Spring 19-14 Friday night to post its fourth Class AA football championship in five years.
Then it took stock of itself and found it would lose virtually its entire first team, including the great Tommy Lovorn, who ran for two touchdowns and passed for the other in the triumph over Big Spring.
However, there are plenty of capable reserves left to go with Ronald Kelly, starting tackle, and Wayne Bates and Ronnie Gerloff, alternate halfbacks, when the season starts next fall.
The game Friday night was a thriller-diller that kept 8,000 fans standing all the way. Brady put on a great comeback in the last half, with sophomore Charley Reynolds bombing Stamford with its southpaw passes. And it appeared for a while that Brady would catch up with the Bulldogs.
Two intercepted passes — one by the ever-present Lovorn and the other by tackle Bobby Gambelin shut off Brady's last hopes.
Stamford took the opening kickoff and surged 63 yards to a touchdown, then gave Brady a classic licking throughout the first half.
The Bulldogs led 13-0 at intermission and were just a half-yard from a touchdown as time ran out.
Lovorn made the first touchdown with an 11-yard run and got the second with a 2-yard.

Brady took the kickoff opening the second half and whipped 63 yards in 13 plays for the touchdown that brought its followers back screaming. The touchdown came on a 23-yard pass from Reynolds to Orville Wright but Billy Cavin failed in an attempt to run over the conversion and Stamford still led, 13-6. Duane Lindsey had kicked the extra point after the first Stamford touchdown.
Stamford figured, however, that Brady had gone far enough. So it took the kickoff, which Mark Hinson ran back 54 yards, and got the touchdown that put it out of Brady's reach. Lovorn passed to Lindsey for 16 yards and the score. Charley Helmer, who ran for 72 yards for Stamford, tried to take the ball across for the 2-point conversion.
Scott Appleton, Brady's 200-pound guard, intercepted a Lovorn pass to set up the final touchdown. Reynolds made it with a 1-yard smash. He then passed to end Charley Hanson for the conversion.
Brady was thwarted in its third bid for a championship in four years.
Hinson was the leading ground-gainer with 79 yards. Lovorn passed for 97 yards, Reynolds 96.

BILL LILLARD

Famed Bowler Is Due Here

Bill Lillard, the first "triple crown" winner in American Bowling Congress tournament history, will appear in a special bowling-A-Rama at 2 p.m. Sunday, Dec. 27.

Harold Fischer, manager of the local lanes, said Lillard will also be available for free instructions to local bowlers that afternoon.

Lillard's history-making feats in the ABC tournament came in 1956 when he shared the team title with the Chicago Faststuffs, added the doubles co-championship with Stan Gifford and claimed the individual all-events crown.

That same year, he swept to victory in the BPAA All-Star tournament and, to nobody's surprise, was named the nation's Bowler of the Year.

A native Texan, Lillard piled up the Dallas and Texas all-events titles in 1951 before moving to Detroit, Chicago and later to St. Louis where he now rolls with the famous Budweiser team.

During 1958, Lillard helped the Budweisers win the BPAA Five-Man team championship and set a new world record of 3858 pins in a team league series.

Sub For Lucas Is Star In Victory

By JACK HAND Associated Press Sports Writer

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Galen Hall, a sturdy sophomore sub for the injured Richie Lucas, led Penn State to a 7-0 victory over Alabama Saturday in the first Liberty Bowl game.

Hall's pass to Roger Kochman, another sophomore, on a fake field goal was good for 18 yards and the touchdown on the last play of the second period. Sam Stella-tella added the extra point by placement and that was the ball game.

A chilled crowd of 36,211 left via the stadium in the 100,000-seat Philadelphia Stadium, normally jam-packed for Army-Navy games. But the turnout for this inaugural game was regarded as encouraging.

Fumbles plagued both clubs, each team losing the ball four times. In addition, Alabama recovered three of its own. The rash of fumbles was attributed to the 42 degree temperature that seemed colder because of a brisk 15-mile wind.

Penn State completely dominated the first half, but fizzled on three scoring chances before finally breaking through. The Nittany Lions fumbled and lost the ball on the Alabama 8 in the first period.

In the second quarter, they got to the 1, but Hall's fourth down pass misfired. A field goal attempt by Stella-tella from the Alabama 12 was blocked by Billy Richardson.

After a 4-yard punt against the stiff wind by Tommy White, Penn State had one more chance on the Alabama 22 with less than a minute to go. They ran off one play, gaining four yards, and then came Hall's scoring pass to Kochman.

This was the trickery Coach Rip Engle had promised. It was Penn State's first fake field goal of the season.

Hall took over early in the second period after Lucas left the game because of a hip injury. Penn State's talented triple threat quarterback never got back into the ball game. While he was in, Lucas gained 54 yards in nine carries and completed one of four passes for 23 yards. He was the leading ground gainer.

On the fake field goal, Hall appeared to be ready to hold the ball for Stella-tella's kick. Instead, he bounced up and pitched to Kochman, who made his way through the startled Alabama defense.

It was Alabama's first defeat since its opening loss to Georgia, and Penn State's ninth victory in 11 games.

Hall, a 5-9, 193-pounder from Williamsburg, Pa., directed the play with finesse after Lucas had to leave. He had been Richie's fill-in all season, starring in the West Virginia game.

This was a close-to-the-vest game with only four passes completed, two by each side. Penn State cracked Alabama's vaunted defense for 278 yards rushing. The Crimson Tide had ranked fourth in the nation in total defense and No. 1 in pass defense.

Alabama gained only 30 yards rushing in the first half, but picked up in the second and finished with a total of 104 yards.

Two beautiful quick kicks by Gary O'Steen that carried 61 and 64 yards with the help of a following wind kept Penn State penned up most of the first period. Still the Nittany Lions managed an 89-yard march to the Alabama 7 before Don Dochran, who recovered two fumbles, pounced on a ball jarred loose from Kochman.

Jay Huffman, still another Penn State sophomore, was named the outstanding lineman of the day for his fine centering play and excellent linebacking.

Engle's Penn State club, which has used a variety of formations in a successful season, leaned heavily to the unbalanced line with both ends on the same side of the center.

Alabama advanced to the Penn State 27 in the first period after Cochran recovered Dick Hoak's fumble. The Tide reached the Penn State 37 before losing the ball on downs in the third and got there again in the fourth before Richardson fumbled and Earl Kohlhaas recovered.

Little Marlin (Scooter) Dyess proved to be an elusive scabback for Alabama although his total net yardage was only 35 yards. Pat Trammell, Alabama quarterback, was limited to 39 yards.

In the dressing room, Alabama Coach Paul (Bear) Bryant had this comment: "We just got a good old sound thrashing."

With the addition of $100,000 from television revenue, the total gate was expected to hit close to $290,000. The two colleges get 75 per cent of this evenly divided. That would give each a little more than $100,000.

It was Penn State's first bowl victory in three attempts.

In the dressing room, Coach Engle smiled as he said: "We beat them at their own game — defense."

Coahoma Girls Are Favored In Garden City Tournament

GARDEN CITY (SC)—The Coahoma girls are favored in their division of the Dec. 31-Jan. 1-2 invitational basketball tournament here but the fight in the boys' division appears to be wide open.

The Coahoma girls, coached by Mrs. Jean Wynn, play Bronte in their first game at 6:45 p.m. on Dec. 31.

The B teams, representing Sterling City and the host school, have entered teams in the boys' bracket.

Tournament finals are scheduled for 8:30 p.m. and 10 p.m. on Jan. 2. Consolation finals are down for 5:30 p.m. and 7 p.m. that day.

The pairings: Boys' division: Stanton vs Forsan, 2 p.m.; Grandfalls vs Garden City B, 5 p.m.; and Coahoma vs Sterling City B, 8:15 p.m., all game on Thursday, Dec. 31; Sterling City vs Garden City A, 9 p.m., Friday Jan. 1.

Girls' division: Sterling City vs Rankin, 12:30 p.m.; Stanton vs Grandfalls, 3:30 p.m.; Coahoma vs Bronte, 6:45 p.m.; and Garden City vs Forsan, 9:45 p.m., all games on Thursday, Dec. 31.

A Pat on the Back

For MRS. NINA JAMES

Mainstay and ever-present help for the members of the Indoor Sports Club is Mrs. Nina James.

Formed by the Business and Professional Women's Club about 12 years ago, the club is composed of the physically handicapped. Mrs. James heads an auxiliary group, the Good Sports.

It is the project of the Good Sports to assist with all meetings of the club, and Mrs. James can always be found at the sessions, preparing refreshments, helping with games or the business procedure and in other ways making the gathering run smoothly.

She is one who furnishes transportation for the members, not only to local meetings, but to out-of-town conventions of the club or to board meetings.

Three special parties, the birthday anniversary of the club, the Thanksgiving and the Christmas dinners give extra pleasure to the members, partly due to the efforts of Mrs. James and her willing helpers.

Fund-raising projects of the club, bake sales and the annual stew supper, are more activities in which Mrs. James lends a hand.

An employe of Cosden Petroleum Corp., Mrs. James has been in Big Spring about 3 1/2 years; she has worked with the Indoor Sports for about three years.

She is a member of the Desk and Derrick Club, the B&PW, and the Big Spring Rebekah Lodge. Her address is 807 Johnson.

TEXAS A&I SCORES 20-7 UPSET VICTORY

By JACK SIMMS
ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)—Texas A&I rode the passing of sophomore quarterback Jarrell Hayes and the all-around play of freshman halfback Butch Pressley to a 20-7 triumph over Lehigh in the Holiday Bowl football game Saturday. It gave the Texans the National Assn. of Intercollegiate Athletics championship.

The Wild Hogs scored with ease on three passes by Hayes, a 185-pound performer from Belton, Tex. Pressley caught two of the passes and was the top runner in the A&I attack.

The Texans scored on a 32-yard pass play the second time they got the ball. Hayes faked a handoff, then threw to the 175-pound Pressley who had drifted 15 yards downfield.

Pressley made a leaping catch stumbled for three steps, recovered his balance and raced over for the touchdown untouched.

A&I added another touchdown on an electrifying 77-yard pass play in the second period.

This time Hayes pitched a bulls-eye 31 yards downfield to end Dick Watson, a sprinter on the track team who wasn't listed on the roster. Watson dashed into the end zone.

Hayes and Pressley teamed up on another touchdown pass midway through the third quarter. The play covered 57 yards. Lehigh's touchdown came in the closing quarter when second team halfback Tom McClamrock rifled a 25-yard pass to end Dick Lage at the goal line.

Thrills In Sports To Be Televised

NEW YORK (AP)—Sports fans will get a real red-ribbon Christmas TV treat Friday in a neatly packaged half hour tagged "Sports Highlights of 1959." The filmed show will replace the regular televised fight at 10 p.m., EST, on the NBC network. Larry Sherry, the guy who made Christmas in October for the Dodgers, will be seen hurling Los Angeles to the World Series victory over the Chicago White Sox.

Swift Named Coach

WASHINGTON (AP)—Bob Swift, 44, former coach for the Kansas City Athletics, Saturday was named pitching coach of the Washington Senators.

Olympic Story Is On TV Dec. 27

"The Olympics," the story of the world's leading sports spectacle, with a look at some of the incredible feats that have made it so, will be presented on "The Twentieth Century" Sunday, Dec. 27 (5:30 p.m. Big Spring time) on the CBS Television Network.

Aim Very Good

Doyle Irwin Jr., 12, son of M.Sgt. and Mrs. D. W. Irwin, 138-B Dow, Webb, killed these two deer last week on a ranch near Sonora on his first deer hunt. He is a 9th grade student in Gollad. His father went with him on the trip but Pop didn't get any deer. The animals dressed out at 155 pounds. One was 8-points, the other 3-points. The family has been here 2 1/2 years, and came here from a 5-year hitch in Japan. The father is with 356th Light Line Maintenance at WAFB.

Rocky's No Swelled Head

New York Governor Nelson Rockefeller models a stockman's hat in Dallas that turned out to be too large. He was presented the hat and a pair of boots by Dallas banker Fred Florence, at right. Florence said they had talked to Mrs.

Rockefeller by phone to get the size and she told them that he had big feet and a large head. As it turned out, Rockefeller said, "It wasn't quite as large as I thought."

Justin Holmes Is Elected President Of Business Club

Justin Holmes was elected president of the American Business Club at the organization's regular luncheon at the Settles Hotel Friday.

Holmes succeeds Tom Conway, who has served for six months. Conway automatically goes on the board of directors, along with Don Anderson, former president. Other officers named includes Dr. Robert Johnson, first vice president; James Underwood, second vice president; Bob Rogers, third vice president; and Bill Kuykendall and Wayne Basden, sergeants-at-arms. Other members of the board of directors selected included Ken Perry, Bob Hickson, Doyle Thomas and John Jones.

Dr. O'Brien To Conduct Rites In Eastland

Dr. P. D. O'Brien, pastor of the First Baptist Church, will conduct the last rites for Clyde L. Garrett, former congressman, at Eastland today at 3 p.m.

Because of this assignment, he will exchange hours with the Rev. Frank Pollard, associate pastor, and will speak at the 8:45 a.m. worship today while the Rev. Pollard will preach at the 11 a.m. worship. The parents of Dr. O'Brien and Mr. Garrett had been neighbors and friends, and Mr. Garrett was the county clerk of Eastland County who issued the marriage license to Mr. and Mrs. O'Brien.

Newspaper Revolt Gives Judges Pause

DETROIT, Mich. (AP)—A U.S. District Judge said Saturday he and three colleagues "haven't decided what we are going to do" about a newspaper's direct challenge to cite its editor for contempt.

The challenge was made in a page-one editorial Friday by the Detroit Free Press and afternoon Times in printing names and details involved in a civil case which the judges had ordered kept secret.

Both the Free Press and News previously had termed the written rule adopted Wednesday by the judges "a gag." It allows any district judge, at an attorney's request, to suppress all information regarding a pending suit.

The four judges who signed the rule met twice Friday. Two other district judges are absent and did not participate in drafting the rule.

After Friday's meeting, Judge Clifford O'Sullivan, who acts as secretary to the district panel, told newsmen: "We haven't decided what we are going to do. We are considering the whole situation. Our order stands. We feel it is a sound order."

The newspapers all reported that the suit involved a Detroit architectural and engineering company. They said it involved the president and former president, their differences and division of fees, among other things.

All three also pointed out that the former head bookkeeper of the company had been arraigned in state courts last week on a charge of embezzling more than $100,000 and that she had left in 1957 about the time there was a change in the presidency.

The suppression rule was promulgated by Chief Judge Theodore Levin and signed by Judges Ralph M. Freeman, Thomas P. Thornton and O'Sullivan. Judge Levin said the court had acted under its "inherent power" in writing out a suppression rule.

Fendall W. Yerxa, executive editor of the Wilmington (Del.) News-Journal and chairman of the Freedom of Information Committee of The Associated Press Managing Editors Assn., joined others today in supporting the stand of the Detroit newspapers against the suppression rule.

Local Homes Shout 'Joyous Noel'

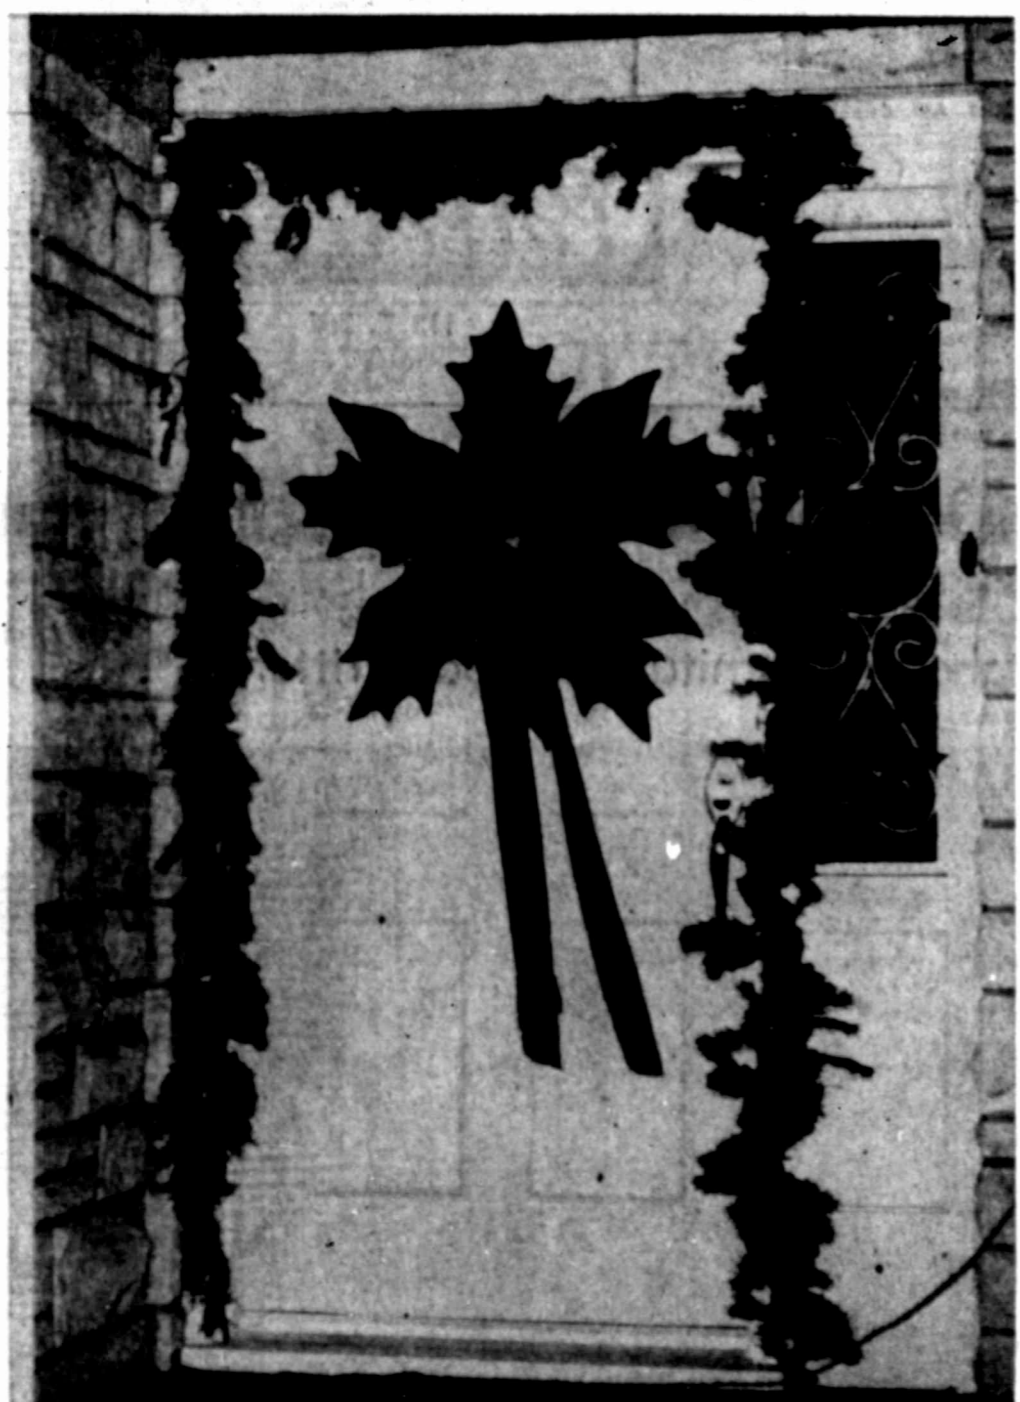

OOPS! HOLD ON, SANTA! This, at left, happened at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Miller, where the reindeer, led, no doubt by that rascal, Rudolph, got out of control and tipped over the sleigh. Here they have spilled not only Santa, who has caught a small panda in the fall, but all his toys and other presents which are scattered about over the rooftop. Evidently everything turned out all right, because, as you can see from another picture on this page, the Herald photographer snapped Santa in good condition and happy.

SO NATURAL-LOOKING you can almost warm your hands by the flames in this fireplace made entirely of foil at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Aultman Smith, 3216 Cornell. Placed cozily in a nook between the garage and front door, the grouping uses red brick-pattern foil for the fireplace; as a border, silver foil on each side is dotted with red and green snowflakes. A background of green foil shows flames of golden foil and stockings are hung in readiness for Santa. These belong to the three Smith children, Michael, Susan and Robert Eric. The door nearby holds a Christmas tree arranged of foil. Photo by Keith McMillin.

HO-HO-HO! MERRY CHRISTMAS TO ALL, Santa, above, seems to call from his spot in the yard of Mr. and Mrs. Bobo Hardy, 1702 Morrison Drive. Lights outline the suggestion of a Christmas tree, topped by a star and surrounded by interesting looking gifts. To aid Santa Claus in the filling of stockings, the three Hardy children, Mary, John and Pat have hung their felt stockings on the outside wall. At night, the entire scene is spotlighted to wish a Merry Christmas to all passers-by. Photo by Keith McMillin.

MRS. ROBERT GENE MITCHELL

Big Spring Man Takes Bride In El Paso Rite

Double ring vows were read Saturday evening in El Paso for Lee Dunn and Robert Gene Mitchell in St. Mark's Methodist Church. The Rev. Murphy Duncan, pastor of the church, performed the ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Mitchell, 1310 Wood, are parents of the bridegroom; the bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James W. Dunn of El Paso.

Two seven-branched candelabra and greenery, with containers of cream-colored chrysanthemums, formed the background for the bridal party.

Traditional nuptial selections were chosen by C. M. Irvin, organist, who also accompanied William B. Jennings as he sang The Lord's Prayer and Bless This House.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a gown of white peau de soie, with full skirt extending into a chapel train. The fitted bodice was trimmed with seed pearls at the square neckline, and long sleeves came to points at the hands.

The fingertip veil, which had been worn by her cousin, Mrs. C. M. Irvin Jr. of El Paso, was held in place by a small pearl-encrusted half-hat. The bridal bouquet was of white carnations.

The bride's attendants were Mrs. Donald C. Soukup, Anthony, N. M., matron of honor; Mrs. Irvin and Judy Mitchell, sister of the bridegroom, were bridesmaids.

All were identically frocked in golden velveteen princess style cocktail dresses. Flowers were bouquets of champagne and tangerine carnations.

Jim Hock of Colorado City served as best man; ushers were Edwin Burt of Anthony, N. M., and James W. Dunn Jr. of El Paso.

brother of the bride, Richard Burt was taper lighter.

During a reception, held at the home of the bride's parents, the couple was assisted in greeting guests by the Mitchells, the Duns and the feminine attendants.

Ecru lace over yellow satin covered the tea table, which was centered with a five-branched candelabra entwined with ferns and champagne carnations. Yellow frosting roses trimmed the double wedding cake, which was centered with tiny fresh yellow roses.

Sally Burt and Perry Thompson alternated in registering guests. Others in the house party were Mrs. R. S. Moore of Houston, sister of the bridegroom; Mrs. Mary Frances Burt, Mrs. W. T. Hanson, Mrs. J. A. Dick, Mrs. J. A. Dick Jr., Mrs. Rayburn Lovelady and Mrs. Marian Robertson, aunt of the bride.

Also present from out of town were Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Cook and Mr. and Mrs. Lee Cook of McKinney, grandparents of the bridegroom.

For a trip to New Orleans, La., the bride chose a wool suit of ice green trimmed in matching leather; her accessories were in avocado shade.

Upon their return from the trip, the couple will make a home in Lubbock, where the bridegroom is a senior at Texas Tech. He is a graduate of Big Spring High School. Mitchell is a member of Kappa Sigma Fraternity and the Saddle Tramps.

The new Mrs. Mitchell was graduated from an El Paso high school and attended Texas Western College and Texas Tech; she is a member of Zeta Tau Alpha Sorority.

Sewing Club Joins Welfare Work, Fun

Members of the Eager Beaver Sewing Club were quite busy Friday with their regular meeting and with a party at which their husbands were entertained.

At the morning session, the group assembled clothing, bedding and other supplies to be taken to a Latin-American family. Included in the presentation was a decorated tree and gifts from the pupils in the sixth grade at College Heights.

Mrs. L. D. Patterson was hostess for the meeting.

Friday evening, when couples met, Mr. and Mrs. Denver Yates joined the group as guests. Games of 42 were the diversion and a gift exchange added to the merriment.

Mrs. J. L. Swindell, 1000 E. 20th, will be hostess for the Jan. 8 meeting.

Noel Party Given For Girls Auxiliary

WESTBROOK — Members of the Girls Auxiliary of the First Baptist Church were entertained with a Noel party in the home of Mrs. C. E. Baune Mrs. Don Henderson was cohostess.

Games for the Thursday evening affair were directed by Judy Baune. Gifts were exchanged around a Christmas tree before refreshments were served to 11 people.

Cookbooks Are Ideal For Santa To Bring

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

When Santa stuffs a cook's stocking this Christmas he might put a thick paperback in it: "The James Beard Cookbook" (Dell). Jim Beard has eaten and cooked his way around the world; he knows just which international recipes will most please Americans, and which of Uncle Sam's old favorites should go into present-day kitchen repertoires. Cooks will find these dishes practical and delicious.

A series of letters to young housewives precede the recipes in "Cook, My Darling Daughter" by Mildred O. Knopf (Knopf) because this book was inspired by the author's married daughter. Any cook who was delighted by Mrs. Knopf's previous "The Perfect Hostess" will be even happier with this latest compilation of recipes for all the courses of a meal. These rules are ones that were enjoyed by a family of discriminating taste and are written with clarity so that other families may benefit.

Luncheon Is Given For Organization

A luncheon featuring the traditional turkey was held in the home of Mrs. D. C. Pyle for members of the GIA to the B of LE.

Christmas candles surrounded by greenery and colorful Yule balls formed the centerpiece of one of the tables, while a styrofoam reindeer standing surrounded by Christmas balls decorated the other.

Gifts were opened by the 20 members and one guest, Mrs. Hettie Trustee of Corpus Christi, sister of Mrs. Pyle, around an aluminum tree.

Andersons Hold Reunion

WESTBROOK — Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Anderson were hosts Saturday night to the annual Christmas gathering of the children of the late A. E. Andersons.

Attending the reunion were Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Harrison of Odessa; the Fred Kelleys of Morton; Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Anderson of Lubbock; the K. G. Blalacks of Snyder; the C. A. Andersons, and Mrs. David Anderson of Westbrook; Mrs. Perry Anderson of Odessa, and Mr. and Mrs. George Blalack of Colorado City.

Chief Gerald Anderson, son of the A. G. Andersons, has been transferred from a naval base in Pittsburgh, Calif., to Buffalo, N. Y. After attending a seven-week school there, he will be sent to Ethiopia, Africa. His wife and children will remain in California.

Miss Kelly Selected County Rodeo Queen

STANTON — Carolyn Kelly has been selected to serve as Martin County Rodeo Queen at the Sandhills Hereford and Quarterhorse Show rodeo January 4-9 in Odessa.

The Martin County Rodeo Queen is sponsored by the Martin County Chamber of Commerce.

Miss Kelly, who is the 16-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Kelly, is a sophomore in high school.

Home Ceremony Unites Miss Stokes, J. Hancock

LAMESA — Standing before a draped window at the bride's home, James Lee Hancock and Laquetta Stokes repeated wedding vows at 6 p.m. Saturday. The officiating clergyman was W. T. Hamilton, minister of the Church of Christ.

MRS. JAMES LEE HANCOCK

From a large white satin bow above the window, satin streamers led to candelabra at either side of the window and baskets of red and white shredded carnations.

The bride, who will be a mid-term graduate of Lamesa High School, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Audrey Davison of Route C. She was a student at Rutherford-Metropolitan School of Business in Midland during the summer months.

Hancock, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Hancock of Route C, is a graduate of Lamesa High School and is employed by Southwestern Bell Telephone Co., Kermit.

Audrey Davison gave his stepdaughter in marriage. The imported lace bodice of her wedding dress was fashioned with rounded neckline and below the elbow sleeves; the skirt of bridal satin fell softly from the princess waistline and had appliques of lace. A sequined headress held her illusion veil, and she wore a single strand of pearls, the gift of the bridegroom. Her bouquet was of white shredded carnations with a white orchid in the center.

Honor attendants for the couple were the bride's sister, Linda Stokes, and Harold Hancock of Monahans, brother of the bridegroom. Miss Stokes wore a dress of red velveteen styled similarly to the bride's and she carried white shredded carnations. The bride's cousin, Jerry Meeks, was candlelighter.

At the reception held in the Davison home, those registering were from Dimmitt, Amarillo, Monahans, Tahoka, Lamesa, and points in California and Oklahoma.

The newlyweds will honeymoon in the Davis Mountains. For traveling the new Mrs. Hancock selected a fitted dressmaker suit of cinnamon wool accented with black and beige hat and brown lizard accessories.

The couple will establish residence at 316½ N. Ash, Kermit, about Jan. 1, 1960.

Ruth Class Meets

Mrs. Roy Black was hostess for a Christmas party Thursday evening when members of Baptist Temple Ruth Class gathered in her home. Included in the activities were a gift exchange; a devotion by Mrs. Wayne Tate and prayers by Mrs. Joe Pendleton and Mrs. E. T. White. Eight were present.

Coffee Time

Friends gather for a coffee break after meeting each other by chance once again at Webb AFB. Pat Belote pours coffee for Betty Dougherty as her husband, Ferrald, and Charles Dougherty prepare to enjoy theirs. The Belotes are native Texans, while the Doughertys are from Oregon.

Accidental Meeting Finds Former Friends

About eight months ago two young men met in a pre-flight training session at Lackland AFB in San Antonio. After a month of friendship they parted ways, one going to Florida and the other to Georgia.

Farrald Belote and his wife, Pat, met while in high school in Garland. After a courtship of six years, during which he was graduated from Texas A&M with a major in math and she was graduated from Texas Christian University with a major in home economics, the two were married.

Charles L. Dougherty actually hails from a little town in Oregon named Molalla. His friend, Farrald G. Belote Jr., isn't so far away from home in Big Spring, for he is from Garland, a town right outside Dallas.

Onits were opened by Girl Scouts of Troop 340 when they met Friday in the home of Mrs. Lee Burklow. Refreshments were served to 14 girls, and a new member joined the group, Nancy McEvers.

Donald E. Bryant Weds Miss Pieper In Lamesa

LAMESA — The Rev. Milo B. Arbuckle, pastor of First Baptist Church, officiated for the double ring service in the chapel at 7:30 p.m. Saturday when Donald Edward Bryant of Big Spring took Cynthia Jeannene Pieper as his bride.

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Pieper of 405 21st Place are parents of the bride; Mr. and Mrs. Orville Bryant, 1010 Howell, Big Spring, are the parents of the bridegroom.

Woodwardia palms at the altar were interspersed with basket arrangements of white gladioli and white mums, pedestal candelabra and white cathedral tapers.

Julie Rainwater of Big Spring was organist, and Early Peltier soloist for the program of wedding selections.

The bride was escorted and given in marriage by her father. She wore a gown of silk mist taffeta combined with Alencon lace which featured a decolletage neckline of lace encrusted with pearls. The molded bodice had long sleeves which tapered to petal points and the skirt, highlighted by a flat paneled front embellished with scattered motifs of Alencon lace, had two panel puffs in center back that flowed to the length of the chapel sweep.

Her fingertip veil of illusion floated from a Juliet cap dotted with seed pearls, and she carried a cascade bouquet of white roses and stephanotis. She wore a gold bar pin belonging to her maternal grandmother, Mrs. G. P. Addison, which had once belonged to her mother. The bridegroom's gift, a diamond drop, was worn by the bride around her neck.

Leta Gene Cope was maid of honor, and bridesmaids were Kay Mosty of Center Point and Linda Hamilton. They wore identical dresses of romance blue satin fashioned with scooped necklines with bell sleeves complemented by short gloves; the bouffant skirts were caught at center back by large flat bows. Circular nose-pipe veils were held by matching bows to complete their costumes, and they carried single long-stemmed mums with silvered foliage and ribbons.

The bride's cousin, Randy Addison, was ring bearer. Candlelighters were Donald Lovelady and Lewis Porter of Big Spring. Best man was Arthur Mayhew of Midland. Groomsman were Jerry McLahen and Glen Whittington of Big Spring, and ushering duties were shared by Don Anderson of Big Spring, Bob Fletcher of Cisco, and Jim Stowe of Abilene.

MRS. DONALD EDWARD BRYANT

Guests extended best wishes and felicitations to the couple at the wedding reception held in the church parlor.

Assisting in the houseparty were Mrs. Elmer Cope, Mrs. Carson Echols, Mrs. Bill Warren, Mrs. Roland Hamilton, Mrs. W. D. Phillips, Mrs. Donnell Echols, Mrs. Charles Warren, Mrs. Bob Johnson of Houston; Mrs. Carey McAdams of Grooms; Joan Osborne, Beverly Brewer, Wanda Addison and Romelle Addison.

The serving table and the registry for the reception carried out the blue and white wedding colors in their decor of wedding bells and beauty berries mingled with blue and white flowers.

Guests were registered from Big Spring, Pecos, Lubbock, Brownfield, and Carlsbad, Jal and Lovington, N. M.

The new Mrs. Bryant is a graduate of Lamesa High School and attended Texas Tech for two years where she was a member of Delta Delta Delta sorority. Her husband, who graduated from the Big Spring schools is a junior at Tech; he is affiliated with Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity.

When the couple left on a wedding trip to San Antonio, the bride was wearing a cocoa brown wool flannel suit with mink collar. Her hat was mink and her shoes and bag of brown alligator.

The newlyweds will reside at 1725-A 22nd St., Lubbock, after Dec. 26.

Bridal Gown Is Made By Mother Of Bride

Wearing a wedding gown which her mother had made, Jonita Evans became the bride of Jimmie Carl Daniels Friday evening in the Hillcrest Baptist Church.

The single ring ritual was read by the Rev. H. L. Bingham, pastor of the church, before a background of sunburst arrangements of snow stock and pompon mums accented with white satin ribbon.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Evans, Sterling City route, are parents of the bride; the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Daniels, 1615 E. 18th.

Mrs. Deane Simpson played the wedding music and accompanied her husband as he sang Whither Thou Goest and Because.

The father of the bride gave her in marriage. White satin was used for the empire style bridal dress, with a sweetheart neckline and soft pleats at the back of the skirt. A white lace jacket was made with long tapering sleeves, buttoned at the wrist.

Satin streamers, enhanced with pearl rings, cascaded from the bride's bouquet of frenched white carnations centered with a gardenia, which she carried on a white Bible.

The Bible had been borrowed from a friend, Mrs. Bill Waldo; the wedding attire was new. The bride wore a blue garter which had been made by the mother of the bridegroom, and in her slippers were pennies bearing the birth years of the couple. Something old was a string of pearls that had belonged to her grandmother, the late Mrs. D. S. Bruce.

Glenda Rutherford, maid of honor, chose a short version of the bride's gown in turquoise taffeta and lace; her corsage was of frenched pink carnations.

Preston Daniels attended his cousin as best man; guests were seated by Butch McMurray, a cousin of the bridegroom, and Tom Evans, brother of the bride.

After the ceremony, guests assembled in the home of the bride's parents, where they were received by the newly-married pair and their parents.

Sarah Foster was at the bride's book.

A lace cloth covered the table which held a three-tiered cake with a miniature bridal couple on top. The white of the frosting and silver decorations were repeated in the floral arrangement of white carnations and silvered fern.

The newlyweds will live in Big Spring, where the bride is a senior in high school; the bridegroom, who is a graduate of BSHS, is employed by the West Texas Sand and Gravel Co.

Guests here from out of town were Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Robertson of Odessa; Mr. and Mrs. Howard Lowe of Clyde; Mrs. Jim Brown and Thurman of Cloud; Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Maxwell of Midkiff.

Virginia Young, Alvin Geiger Wed

WESTBROOK — Mr. and Mrs. Albert Young of Westbrook announce the marriage of their daughter, Virginia, to Alvin Geiger, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Geiger of Colorado City.

The couple was united in marriage in Albuquerque, N. M., Friday at the Height Baptist Church. The Rev. James Abernathy performed the wedding ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Geiger will reside in Midland.

Reeders Hold Open House

Adding to the festivity of the yule season was the open house held by Mr. and Mrs. Roy Reeder Friday evening.

Friends called throughout the evening to linger and chat. Assisting with the greetings and serving were Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Stipp, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Merrill Creighton, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stripling, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Johnson.

Also, Dr. and Mrs. J. E. Hogan, Dr. and Mrs. P. W. Malone, Dr. and Mrs. Roscoe Cowper, Mr. and Mrs. John Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Angel and Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Nalley.

A handmade cloth of white net covered the buffet table; sequins, Christmas bells, holly and other holiday motifs added interest to the covering.

In the center of the table was a madonna in a silver bowl of red carnations with sprigs of holly, sprayed silver and white. The flowers and foliage were repeated on flanking silver candelabra.

Red carnations made the corsages for the house party and decorated the rooms of the home.

Turkey Supper Is Class Highlight

Turkey supper with all the trimmings was the highlight of the Christmas party of the Friendship Class of Wesley Methodist Church Friday.

Twenty-five members gathered in the recreation room of the church to hear a devotion by Mrs. Arthur Pickle, a guest. Mrs. Frank Arner and Mrs. Weldon Nuckolls entertained the group with songs, accompanied by Frank Arner.

A playlet depicting the birth of Christ was given by five class members before gifts were exchanged.

MRS. DOUGLAS RAY CLARK

Clark-McCarley Vows Are Taken In Lamesa

LAMESA — Wedding vows were exchanged by Jimmie Carol McCarley and Douglas Ray Clark in a ceremony at 7 p.m. Friday in the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. C. R. Jamison, 203 N. 19th St.

Mr. and Mrs. F. C. McCarley are the parents of the bride; Mr. and Mrs. Lee Clark are the bridegroom's parents.

W. T. Hamilton, minister of the Church of Christ, read the double ring service.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a street length dress of white velvet with scoop neckline and short sleeves. Her small white veil had held a shoulder length veil.

Change Is Announced In Duplicate Bridge Date

At a meeting of duplicate bridge players Friday afternoon at Cosden Country Club, a change in the meeting date was announced.

Sponsors of the games, the Ladies Golf Association of Big Spring Country Club, told the group that, due to Christmas Day falling on Friday, games will be played at Cosden on Dec. 29.

Sessions are open to anyone wishing to play, regardless of membership in either of the clubs; fee per afternoon is 50 cents. Proceeds go into the fund of the golf association.

Winners in Friday's games are as follows: north-south, Mrs. Myrtle Lee and Mrs. W. J. Garrett, first; Mrs. Charles Tompkins and Mrs. Truman Jones, second; Mrs. E. L. Powell and Mrs. Elmo Wasson, third; Mrs. J. L. LeBlau and Mrs. Ova Mae Edwards, fourth.

Playing in east-west position, Mrs. George McGann and Mrs. B. B. Badger were first place winners; Mrs. Tom South and Mrs. J. T. Morgan, second; Mrs. J. H. Fish and Mrs. A. Swartz, third; Mrs. J. W. Atkins and Mrs. Guil Jones, fourth.

Nine tables were needed to accommodate the group.

Stanton Lodges Join In Having Yule Party

STANTON — The annual Christmas party of the Stanton Rebekah and Odd Fellow Lodges was given Thursday night at the IOOF Hall.

A lighted Christmas tree with gifts to be exchanged was the Christmas motif.

Mrs. Billy Coggin played Christmas music on the piano with arrangements for singers.

Forty-two and dominoes were enjoyed by the group. Refreshments were served to approximately 35.

Mrs. Roy Linney and Mrs. Charlie Christopher were Midland visitors Wednesday.

Mrs. Walter Graves and Mrs. Eula Eubanks visited in Big Spring Thursday.

Mrs. C. S. Bevers and Charlene visited overnight in Odessa Friday.

Mrs. Mary Bridges and sons of Big Spring recently visited in Stanton with Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Bridges.

Callihans To Celebrate Anniversary

A family gathering today will mark the observance of the marriage, 50 years ago, of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Callihan, 406 Nolan.

The couple, who met at a school in the Moore Community, was married on Dec. 19, 1909, and Callihan remembered that there were nine inches of snow on the ground that day.

"Worst snow I've ever seen," he remarked. "They were really winters we had in those days."

Mrs. Callihan is the former Salie Hogue, daughter of the T. J. Hogue, who lived in the Moore Community and in whose home the couple married. A Baptist minister, the Rev. Mr. Wilson, read the ceremony.

Callihan was a farmer until 1947, when he moved to Big Spring, where he was employed by the Big Spring State Hospital. He worked there for 17 years until his recent retirement.

Four children, Leon, Ross, Mrs. Sam Brown and Mrs. C. M. Roberts, live in Big Spring and will be present for the dinner. There are five grandchildren, with one great-grandchild, Terry Sutton.

Spices Add Flavor To Chocolate

CHOCOLATE NUTMEG COOKIES

1 cup sifted flour
 1/2 cup nonfat dry milk powder
 1 tsp. double-acting baking powder
 1/4 tsp. salt
 1/2 tsp. cinnamon
 1 tsp. nutmeg
 1/2 cup shortening
 2-3 cup sugar
 2 squares (2 ounces) unsweetened chocolate (melted)
 2 eggs
 1/2 cup water
 1 cup rolled oats (quick-cooking)
 Sift together the flour, dry milk powder, baking powder, salt, cinnamon and nutmeg. Cream shortening and sugar. Mix in melted chocolate well. Beat eggs slightly and stir in with water.
 Gradually add sifted dry ingredients to chocolate mixture, blending well after each addition. Mix in rolled oats thoroughly. Drop by rounded teaspoonfuls onto a greased baking sheet.
 Bake in moderate (350 degrees) oven until cake tester inserted in center comes out clean—12 to 15 minutes. Remove to rack to cool. Store in tightly-covered container. Makes about 6 dozen small cookies.

Fresh Fruits And Vegetables Can Help Lower Food Budget

Homemakers continue to find a wide assortment of attractively priced fresh fruits and vegetables at Texas food stores this week, the Agricultural Marketing Service reports.

These are highlights of the government agency's weekly summary:

Supplies are mostly from Texas and California, as shipments from Florida have been curtailed by heavy frost.

Ruby red grapefruit, and oranges from South Texas are abundant and prices a bit lower. Shipments to California Valencia oranges are heavy and prices favor heavy consumer use.

Apples are featured in most fruit bins. Avocados are abundant and prices unusually low.

Huge stocks of cranberries are unchanged in price.

Economy buys in vegetable bins include potatoes, onions, lettuce, sweet potatoes, turnips and cabbage.

Items slightly higher than a week ago are green beans, green peppers, radishes and tomatoes. The California tomato supply is running short and Mexico is furnishing only a trickle.

Broiler prices are higher because fewer birds are being marketed. Egg prices are about unchanged in most Texas areas.

All cuts of pork remain plentiful at budget prices, especially pork loin and shoulder roasts. Beef chuck roast, short ribs, stew and ground meat also are good meat buys.

Hensleys Hold Open House

Gold and white sparkled throughout the J. R. Hensley home at the open house held Saturday evening.

A white snowman, set in the midst of antirrhinum lilies, centered the buffet in the dining room.

Punch and coffee were served in the family room from a table covered with a Belgium lace cloth. Here a miniature snowman was surrounded by red garnet roses.

Houseparty for the 8-10 p.m. affair included Dr. and Mrs. Arch Carson; Dr. and Mrs. G. T. Hall; Dr. and Mrs. Roscoe Cowper; Dr. and Mrs. J. E. Hogan; Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Tidwell; Mr. and Mrs. K. H. McGibbon; the Harry Hurts; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Middleton;

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Angel; the Horace Garretts; the Lorin McDowells, and Mr. and Mrs. Obie Bristol.

The Hensley children, Randy, Bill and Kandy, were also in the houseparty along with Kay McGibbon and Jeanette Hefflin.

Greeting guests were Mr. and Mrs. Hensley and her mother, Mrs. H. D. Munal. The guest list included 150 couples.

Mrs. S. P. Jones will head the Rook Club for the coming year, having been elected Friday at the home of Mrs. W. A. Underwood.

Members of the club met for a luncheon at Coker's Restaurant and gathered in the home of Mrs. Underwood for the remainder of the afternoon.

Mrs. A. C. Bass was elected vice president, and Mrs. D. C. Sadler, reporter. Mrs. Felton Smith will serve as secretary-treasurer.

Secret pals were revealed in an exchange of gifts, and members presented remembrances to each other.

The next meeting is slated for the home of Mrs. T. J. Walker, 1708 Donley, on Jan. 15.

Disagreement Of Designer, Husband Is Her Good Omen

ATLANTA (AP)—Simonetta, the noted Italian Couturiere, never asks her husband for his opinion on a design, although he too is a dress designer.

"Generally the dress he doesn't like is my best seller," she says. "Every time he doesn't like it, and I believe in it, it has always been my hit."

Her husband is the equally famous Fabiani. Simonetta says, "We discuss business at home, but not fashion ideas. Neither of us wants to be influenced. The first time he sees my new collections are at rehearsals about four or five days before the collection is shown."

Simonetta, a striking brunette with brown dancing eyes, was in Atlanta for a fashion showing. She intends to take back with her some clothing for her 12-year-old daughter. "The children's clothes here are divine," she says.

Simonetta's look for fashion is simple by day: long suits, big stoles, and the double-breasted effect.

Her evening wear? "It is all based on movement. The figure is well shown in front. But there are big panels in back that move when you walk or dance."

Big Spring C-Club Has Three-In-One-Party

A cocktail party, a dance and breakfast was festive holiday occasion for members of the Big Spring Country Club and their guests, who gathered at Cosden Country Club Saturday evening.

Preceding the dance, guests were greeted by the incoming officers of the Ladies Golf Association and the outgoing president, Mrs. R. H. Weaver. Included in the new slate are Mrs. E. L. Powell, slide; Mrs. Lloyd Wasson, vice president; Mrs. Guil Jones, secretary; Mrs. Charles Tompkins, treasurer.

Gold and white were used on the cocktail table, which was laid in white felt, while carnations surrounded a golden ornament as the centerpiece, and gold serving appointments were used.

Following the dance, a breakfast was served at 1 a.m.

McKinney, Mrs. Wasson, Mrs. Tompkins and Mrs. Jack Cook. The club's social committee is composed of John Turner, chairman, Mrs. Elmo Wasson, Mrs. Harold Talbot, Mrs. Tom South and Mrs. McKinney.

Homemakers Hear Christmas Story By Mrs. Thomas

Mrs. Angie Thomas, a guest, brought the story of The Kneeling Man for members of East Fourth Baptist Church Homemakers Class Friday evening.

Mrs. T. B. Clifton, who was hostess for the social and business meeting, brought the story of the birth of Christ as recorded by Luke. Mrs. T. S. Hill opened the gathering with prayer.

Pam Thomas gave some Christmas readings for the group, which joined in singing carols. Gifts were distributed, and secret pals were revealed by presents. New names were drawn for the coming year.

A box to be presented to a loyal family was assembled by the 10 members, who entertained seven guests.

Yule Plans Made By Knott Residents

KNOTT — Recent guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Lewis were the Harold Holders of Denver City and the Pat Rudeseal of Ackerly.

Harts' Golden Anniversary To Be Marked At Open House, Dec. 27

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. (Gus) Hart will observe 50 years of married life with an open house at the home of their daughter, Mrs. John W. Garrison, 807 E. 13th Street, next Sunday.

MR. AND MRS. A. C. (GUS) HART plan Dec. 27 open house

The hours will be from 3 to 5 p.m. All friends have an open invitation to drop by. No written invitations have been mailed out.

Actually, the Harts were married Jan. 2, 1910, but the date of the observance has been moved forward so that a son, O. C. Hart, and family of Houston, can attend. The Harts also have a mother son, Tommy, of Big Spring, who will be present for the anniversary.

The marriage of A. C. Hart and Minnie Ola Westernman took place in the middle of a country road northwest of Cross Plains in Callahan County.

Rites were read by the Rev. Cal C. Wright, a Methodist minister, who was performing his first marriage ceremony and who, himself, had been married but six days.

The Rev. and Mrs. Wright are expected to attend the anniversary. He retired from the ministry about two years ago and now makes his home in Colorado City.

When the marriage ceremony was performed, Hart and his bride-to-be were sitting in a horse-drawn buggy. They knew that Rev. Wright had gone into the country to take lunch with friends and meet him on the way back to Cross Plains.

The Harts lived in Baird for a year after their marriage but have resided in Big Spring continuously since 1911, with the exception of five months spent in Roscoe.

Mr. Hart was born near Athens, Tenn., the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Jefferson Hart. Mrs. Hart is a native of Callahan County and was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Clay Westernman.

Mr. and Mrs. Hart have made their home at 504 Bell Street since 1923.

The husband and father was in engine service with the Texas and Pacific Railway for 42 years, before going into retirement a decade ago.

He took his retirement just about the time the T&P graduated to the use of diesel engines. He estimates he has ridden in the cab of an engine over 1,000,000 miles.

In addition to their three children, there are eight grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Attending her sister as maid of honor was Celia Grant; Katie Bess Morgan was bridesmaid.

Jimmy Hayworth was best man; groomsman was Kerry King, and ushers were Gary Grant of Levelland, Bobby Grant and George Ryan.

Following the ceremony, the couple received guests at a reception in the church parlor.

Serving was done by Mrs. Alden Ryan, Mrs. Lucille Daniel and Mrs. Haskell Grant. At the bride's book were Joyce Davidson and Sue Grant.

After a trip to points in New Mexico, the couple will make a home in Big Spring, and the bride will continue her studies in Big Spring High School.

The bridegroom, a graduate of BSHS, is employed by Truman Jones Motor Company.

MRS. GEARLD DAVIDSON

Wedding Vows Are Read By Kin Of Bridegroom

The Rev. Curtis Tomlin, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, read the double ring vows for Linda Kay Grant and Gearld Davidson Saturday evening in the Prairie View Baptist Church.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Jim Grant, 3210 Drexel, and Mrs. Leola Davidson, 1413 Wood.

Baskets of white gladioli enhanced the altar before which the bridal party stood.

Wedding music was by Mrs. Carl Hammack, pianist, and Mrs. W. C. Fryar, soloist, who sang "Whither Thou Goest."

White lace over taffeta fashioned the bride's gown, with its square neckline and long tapering sleeves. A shoulder length veil was attached to a tiara of pearls, and the bride carried white roses on a white Bible.

Attending her sister as maid of honor was Celia Grant; Katie Bess Morgan was bridesmaid.

Jimmy Hayworth was best man; groomsman was Kerry King, and ushers were Gary Grant of Levelland, Bobby Grant and George Ryan.

Following the ceremony, the couple received guests at a reception in the church parlor.

Serving was done by Mrs. Alden Ryan, Mrs. Lucille Daniel and Mrs. Haskell Grant. At the bride's book were Joyce Davidson and Sue Grant.

After a trip to points in New Mexico, the couple will make a home in Big Spring, and the bride will continue her studies in Big Spring High School.

The bridegroom, a graduate of BSHS, is employed by Truman Jones Motor Company.

COSDEN CHATTER

Yule Spirit Is Early For Cosden Employees

Christmas checks inspired even brighter smiles among the Cosden personnel Friday. To each employee went $25, "the cost of a Christmas dinner." And many a check stub bore a personal greeting from the president, R. L. Tollett, who has made this feature a tradition.

Also distributed among the personnel were red, green and gold lapel pins, bearing the Cosden banner.

Special pins and holiday checks went, too, to the retired employees who are receiving pensions.

Dan Krause, senior vice president, Refining Division, returned Thursday from Paris, France, where he spent a few days on business.

George Grimes, E. B. McCormick, and Jerry Jenkins were business visitors to Cambridge, Mass., early this week.

Mrs. Milton Cox entertained the girls in the Credit Department Wednesday evening at her home.

days with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Morgan.

Mr. and Mrs. William B. Crooker of New York are spending the holiday season with their son and family, the William B. Crookers Jr. It is the New Yorkers' first visit to Big Spring.

Jo Ann Ebling, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Ebling, will enjoy the holiday visit with homefolk here, and is planning to attend the Cotton Bowl classic on New Year's Day. She is a student at the University of Texas.

The girls in the Credit Department feted Marion Washburn with a birthday party Wednesday morning.

Betty Guthrie has arrived from Sherman, where she attends Austin College. She will spend the holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Guthrie.

Mr. and Mrs. Gene Green and family of Odessa were weekend guests of his brother and family, the Leslie Greens.

Photographer Finds Remedy For Cold Nose Lies In Hat

Maria Monk, noted fashion photographer, suffers from a cold nose in winter. Since her work takes her outdoors in all kinds of weather, this is a serious handicap. Says she:

"I remember a cold, windy fall day when I was photographing models in bathing suits at a beach near New York City. I was colder than the models. My nose got numb and my eyes started to water so that I could hardly see to focus the camera."

This will happen no more, says Maria, because she has just returned from Paris with a turban designed to protect her nose in zero weather. She designed it herself, and took the plans to designer Pierre Cardin for execution.

Cardin made up the turban in wool jersey, draped in many folds, cleverly concealing a visor-like mask which can be lowered to protect the nose, ears and forehead.

Looks Hard But It's Easy-For Her

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — For 17 years Ann Duncan, 35, has been shoved in front of careening autos, pushed off cliffs and otherwise threatened with mayhem.

The petite, 104-pound movie stuntwoman doesn't mind. The pay is good and most of her work really is not as dangerous as it looks, she claims.

Timing and coordination are the keys, she says. But the easy looking ones often are the most difficult.

"You can be hurt more easily in a fall from a standing horse than from one that's running," she points out. Ann lists as her hardest stunt a leap from the roof of a one-story building to the back of a horse. She made it on the first try.

Ann took up her hazard-filled career in 1942. Earlier attempts at legitimate singing and acting were not exciting enough, she said.

Injuries have been infrequent for Ann. Among those who have stepped aside for her are Helen Hayes, Barbara Stanwyck, Kathryn Grayson, Merle Oberon and Ann Blyth.

MRS. RICHARD E. ROGERS

Sandra Love Is Bride Of Richard E. Rogers

LAMESA — Midway Baptist Church was the scene at 6 p.m. Saturday for a double ring wedding service for Sandra Love and Richard E. Rogers. The Rev. Paris A. Barton, pastor of the church, was the officiating clergyman.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vesper Love, is a senior at Lamesa High School and a member of the National Honor Society. Rogers, who attended the schools in Keyes, Okla., is a service station operator at Midway. He is the grandson of Mrs. Grace W. Farris of Tahoka.

Candlelight illuminated the altar, which was covered in white and decorated with baskets of red and white carnations.

Mrs. Beachy Barron was pianist, and Mary Jane McCord of Tahoka, soloist, for the wedding music. Miss McCord sang "Because," "I Love You Truly," and at the close of the ceremony, "Wedding Prayer."

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore an original model wedding gown of white imported Chantilly type lace over net and satin. It was designed with portrait neckline framed with scallops of lace which caught folds of nylon tulle; the bodice of lace had long tapering sleeves and terminated with point at center front waistline; from this flowered a waltz-length skirt of ruffled tulle with a peplum of scalloped lace extending to points in center front and back.

Her illusion veil was secured by folds of tulle dotted with seed pearls framing a Juliet cap. The bridal bouquet was of white carnations.

Mrs. Gerald Heald was matron of honor. She wore a sheath of red brocaded taffeta with red tulle overskirt featuring a Sabrina neckline which terminated in a V at center back, and below-the-elbow sleeves. She carried white carnations.

The bridesmaids, Karen Blair and Mrs. Grant Lee Holiday, were dressed identically to the honor attendant.

Best man was Don Young of Tahoka. Assisting guests to their seats were the bride's brother, Donald Love, and Johnny Wheeler, Harvey Grayson, Joe Young and Hubert Yandell of Tahoka.

A niece of the bride, Marcella Love of Lubbock, was flower girl, and the candles were lighted by her niece and nephew, Dorothy Sue Kidd and Bobby Love of Dallas.

Decorations for the reception held at the church carried out the holiday wedding colors, red and white. Assisting in the house party were Patsy Wallace, Reba Rogers, Vicky Roberts, Mrs. Lloyd Adams, Mrs. Vocial Tenneyson, Mrs. Garland Maxwell, Mrs. Herman Wheat, Mrs. Edward Lauderdale, Mrs. Conley Esmond and Mrs. Alec Dean.

For traveling the bride wore a black jersey dress fashioned along sheath lines with white fur collar and black and white accessories.

Upon their return from a wedding trip to various Texas cities, they will live in the Midway community.

Piano Recital Given In Wiehe Home

The home of Mrs. Douglas Wiehe was opened Saturday morning for a Christmas recital of her piano students.

Guests were parents of those appearing on the program.

Included in the musicians were Sherry and Jan Stroup, Peggy Richer, Linda La Lile, Jimmy Lookey, Paula Williams, Candy Manely, Carolyn and Brenda Lou Hooser, Louise Havins and Jane Ellen Cudd.

Pupils of two student teachers, Miss Cudd and Brenda Hooser also appeared in the recital. Christie Price, Curt and John Clynne and Sandra Ivie are taught by Miss Cudd.

Miss Hooser's pupils are Penny Peurifoy and Laurie Parks.

During the tea hour which followed the recital, the two student teachers assisted Mrs. Wiehe with the serving done from a table laid in a white Christmas cloth. Gaily colored Christmas trees formed a border on the cloth, and a centerpiece was fashioned of yucca, sprayed silver and hung with bright balls.

Carolyn Hooser greeted guests and distributed programs.

To Wed In February

Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Logas of Lamesa have announced the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Susan, to the son of Mr. and Mrs. Olin York, Lamesa. The couple plans to be married Feb. 6 in a ceremony at the First Baptist Church. The Logas are former residents of Big Spring.

Big Spring To Be Home Of K. Dodds

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Dodd will make a home in Big Spring following their marriage in Midland Friday evening.

The bride is the former Janice Potts, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Morris of Midland, former residents of Big Spring. Dodd is the son of Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Dodd of Terrell.

Vows were exchanged in St. Paul's Methodist Church before the Rev. Cleves Beights, pastor of the church.

White lace over white silk was chosen for the bridal dress, and flowers were a corsage of white orchids.

Mrs. Jerold Cox, matron of honor, wore a dress of pale blue lace and carried pink accessories; her corsage was of pink carnations.

Serving as best man was Leonard Porter of Big Spring; guests were seated by Jerold Cox and Glyndon Montgomery, both of Big Spring.

Out of town guests present for the wedding and for the reception, which followed at the home of the bride's parents, were Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Ward and Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Massingill, all of San Angelo; Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Hayworth, Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Hayworth and Debra, Mrs. Franklin Kirby, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Montgomery, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Rowland and Mrs. David Fewell, all of Big Spring, and the father of the bridegroom.

The bride attended Midland High School. The bridegroom, who was graduated from Big Spring High School, is now employed by Clyde McMahon Concrete Co.

Candy Makes Cookies A Special Treat

For children who are cookie fans, and what child isn't? These cookies using a new lemon-flavored candy product will be a big hit.

LEMON CANDY COOKIES
 1 1/2 cups sifted flour
 1 tsp. baking powder
 1/4 tsp. salt
 1/2 cup shortening
 1/4 cup sugar
 1 egg
 1 tbsp. lemon juice
 1 pkg. (6 ounces) lemon-flavored candy pieces
 1/2 cup chopped walnuts
 Sift together the flour, baking powder and salt. Cream shortening and sugar; beat in egg well, then lemon juice. Stir sifted dry ingredients into creamed mixture. Mix in candy pieces and nuts. Drop heaping teaspoons of the mixture onto a lightly greased cookie sheet, about 1 inch apart. Bake in moderate (375 degrees) oven 12 minutes — bottoms of cookies should be lightly browned. Cool about 1 minute before removing with wide spatula. Makes 4 to 5 dozen.
 Note: The lemon-flavored candy pieces are a new product; they are the same shape as semi-sweet chocolate pieces and come pack-

'Tis Season For Unusual Hairdos

When it comes to Christmas coiffures, be prepared for the unusual.

At an evening party recently, a girl who was complimented on her attractive hairdo announced triumphantly that it wasn't her own hair, after all — it was a wig. What's more, she expects to dye it fiery red for Yuletide party fun.

'Tis true that the wig can get the most treatment from a hair-dresser while its owner does the laundry or tends the small fry. And it is fun to change the color of your hair at whim.

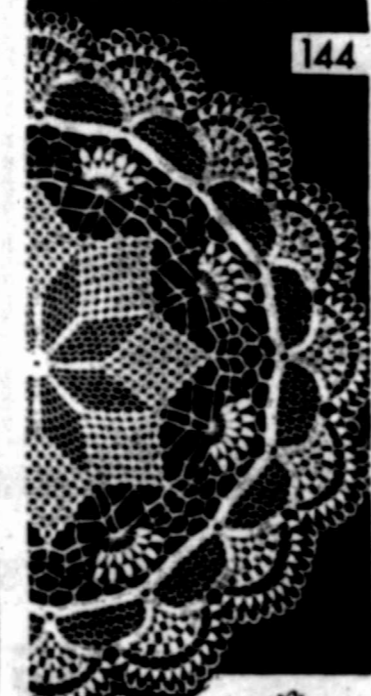

But chic hairdos are so much a part of the scheme of the small hairdressing salon these days that we should all look like Fairy Queens come the holidays—with our own hair, and after a short spell at the beauty parlor.

Classic puffed hairdos shown by Charles of the Ritz in New York recently featured little puffs of hair coiffed toward the face and caught at the side with sparkling hair clips or brilliant tailored ribbons. These are supposed to be reminiscent of the hairdos of the 30's worn by some of the popular movie queens of that era. Their bloused fashions suggested the mid-neck casual hair length.

There were lowering hairstyles in the collection of coifs that resembled Toulouse-Lautrec posters, and these give a delicately carved look to the face. And that seems to be the effect you want this year, touted by most top hair-dressers.

There is emphasis on softly chiseled features created by saucy restless hairdos — a French puff, twist, high pompadour or straight hair pulled back behind the ears, offset perhaps with an interestingly diverted hair part and a slight rise at the crown of the head.

But even the straight-haired look takes a slight permanent wave to give some body to the small lifts of hair required to give an air of distraction to the hairdo.

Furniture Group Spans Centuries In Various Design

Eighty-two pieces of furniture of mixed origin made their debut at a number of coming-out parties around the country recently, and the reception was good. The furniture is different.

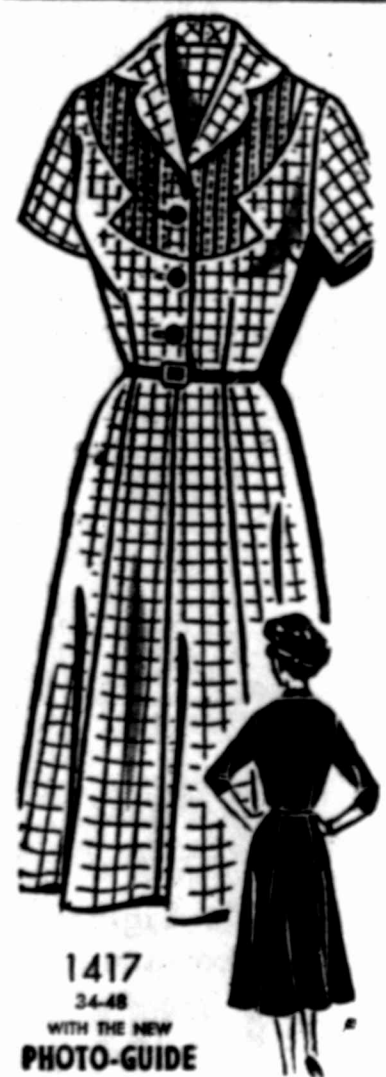

The designs of this group were executed to be formally traditional or casually country depending on the mood of the moment, ageless to accommodate the most elaborate or least likely setting.

The designs were inspired by a number of European countries, spanning four centuries from the Renaissance to the 19th Century say the designers who put it together.

Beds, chairs, tables, sofas, desks, case pieces are in the lineup. European identifications such as hunt board, commode, bombe, escri-toire, etagere, panetiere, armoire label certain pieces with their ancestry.

The hunt board stands high on iron legs. A dining room table is a combination of forged iron and wood supporting plain or parquet table tops. Brass and wood spindles are used to embellish the backs of chairs and sofas.

Nine woods including butternut, boxwood, rosewood, yew and pecan are used in the line. There are painted finishes available—muted red and white. Case pieces are lined with wallpaper or fabric. Marble graces many case piece tops.

Site Of First Construction

J. Y. "Ike" Robb Jr. points out the first construction area for the mammoth Highland South subdivision. This map is the master plan drawing of the planned development which includes 960 acres and possible sites for over 2,000 homes. A proposed 30-35-acre lake is shown in the upper left corner and the proposed shopping center spreads out along the north shore. The dark areas in the center and east edge of the subdivision represent future school and park sites.

BUILDING BIG SPRING

Highland South Planned As Biggest City Suburb

By V. GLENN COOTES
"One of the most beautiful sites for a subdivision in West Texas." "I could make a million dollars subdividing that mountain if it was in Midland."
These are quotes of Odessa and Midland developers who have seen Big Spring's South Mountain. Regardless of the financial considerations, most developers agree that it is one of the best building areas around Big Spring.
HIGHLAND SOUTH
"Highland South" is the name given to the area which is bounded approximately by FM 700, U. S. 87, Birdwell Lane and on over the edge of the mountain.
J. Y. "Ike" Robb Jr. has discussed his long range "master plan" for subdividing this area, with the Big Spring Planning and Zoning Commission and the City Commission. He speaks for the property owners, which includes himself, W. S. Dawson, Mattie Bell, H. B. Robb Jr. and J. Y. Robb Sr.
This master plan covers 960 acres, some of which will be on top of the mountain. Two existing streets, Goliad and Birdwell Lane, will be extended through the area and climb the face of the escarpment.
If present plans are followed, Big Spring will gain its first lake within the city limits. The plans show this lake to be in the northeast section, opposite U. S. 87 from the Big Spring Hunting and Fishing Club lake.

Robb estimates it will cover 50 to 55 acres, and will be created by damming up Big Spring Creek on an earlier damsite near Goliad St. which washed away.
COMMERCIAL AREA
Commercial property is planned along U. S. 87 and will cover about 22.7 acres. A huge 40 acre shopping center is scheduled for the Marcy Dr.—Gregg St. intersection.
Ultimately, this shopping center will park 1,234 cars and have 203,600 square feet of shopping area. The center will be constructed and enlarged as the area and the city feels a need for it, Robb explained.
Robb plans the same time table for the entire area. "We have faith in the growth and future of Big Spring," he said, and plan to pace the development of this subdivision with the city's growth.
The plan sets aside more than 12 acres for a school site and 32.4 acres in four locations have been marked for future parks.
First development of the area has already started. It is a 40 acre plot on Goliad St. and will contain 100 lots. Goliad has been cut through the area to the base of South Mountain. Clearing the land has started and the city en-

Murder Case Will Be Tried Jan. 11

STANTON — Johnnie Lee Mackey, 23-year-old Lubbock Negro, who has been held in the Martin County jail since Oct. 25 will be arraigned Monday in 118th District Court. He is charged with murder in the shotgun slaying of Vernon Lee Jennings, 23, another Negro, on that date.
John Richard Coffee, Big Spring, has been appointed by the court to represent Mackey. Judge Charlie Sullivan appointed Coffee last week.
Gil Jones, district attorney, said that Mackey will enter a plea at the hearing Monday. It is probable that a special venire will be called. Tentative date for the trial has been set for Jan. 11. Ralph Caton, who will become judge of the 118th District Court on Jan. 1 will preside at the trial.

Coffee said Saturday that his client will not plead guilty and that it was possible a motion for change of venue will be presented Monday.
Mackey is accused of shooting Jennings to death in a dispute over the affections of a Negro woman. The shooting occurred in cotton pickers quarters on the Jim Brown farm, near Lenorah. Both men were cotton pickers employed on the farm and were sharing a room in the quarters. Mackey left the scene and drove to Big Spring, under the impression that the town was the county seat of Martin County. He surrendered to Howard County officers and was turned over to Martin County authorities. He has been held in jail since that time in Stanton.

Poisoning Part Of Campaign Against RFE, Says Official

MUNICH, Germany (AP)—The head of Radio Free Europe said today the attempted mass poisoning of his employees was not the first time Communists have tried to sabotage the organization's work.
"There have been many such attempts to disrupt or discredit RFE's work in Europe," Erik Hazelhoff, RFE European director, said in a statement.
"These have ranged in severity from attempted kidnaping to the strewing of tetrahedron nails near vehicles of our employees and the forging of documents and directives."
U. S. Army headquarters at Heidelberg said Friday that a Czechoslovak consular official had supplied the poison found in salt shakers at the radio station's cafeteria Nov. 21. An agent whose identity was withheld tipped off the authorities about the alleged plot.

November Retail Sales Declined

AUSTIN (AP)—The Bureau of Business Research said Saturday that Texas retail sales in November lagged behind October but the 1959 total is expected to top 1958.
Whether a sharp decrease in the sale of new cars due to the steel strike will offset increased Christmas buying is the big question, the University of Texas agency said in its report on retail trade.
Total retail trade in Texas in November was $1,096,400,000, about 10 per cent below October. The January-November sales are 7 per cent above 1958.
"Based on sales in January-November, total 1959 Texas retail trade volume is expected to be approximately $13,554,000,000 or about 8 per cent greater than in 1958," the report said.
Car sales were down 23 per cent from October to November, although 21 per cent above last year.

Ethel Merman, Husband Break

NEW YORK (AP)— Broadway singer Ethel Merman admits she and her airlines executive husband, Robert F. Six, are at odds.
"We have amicably agreed to go our separate ways," Miss Merman said. "I don't think there is going to be any reconciliation."
Friends believe that long separations due to their work are factors in the parting.
Six is president of Continental Air Lines, which operates west of Chicago. They married six years ago in Mexico.

Two Local Men Named Pledges

Two men from this immediate area are among the 17 pledges announced by Alpha Phi Omega, national men's service fraternity at Texas Tech.
They are Cliff M. Epps, freshman mechanical engineering student, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Epps, 507 Edwards Blvd., Big Spring; and Lyndell S. King, sophomore mechanical engineering major, who lives at 308 N. Ave O in Lamesa.

Blood Money

LONDON (AP)—A letter from the Battersea City Hall arrived for 19-year-old Victor Brooker on the day after his funeral.
It demanded payment for sand used in cleaning up bloodstains after an auto smash.
Victor's widow collapsed when she read it. Her husband was killed in the accident.

Favorites, Beauty Are Named At Formal

By TERESA SMITH

Santa Claus is coming! Even all the rain we have had this week has failed to dampen the Christmas spirit that enveloped the campus. Christmas carols being sung in Spanish, Latin, French and English could hardly have kept anybody from being caught up in all the gaiety.

Assemblies seemed to be a regular part of the daily schedule during the week. On Tuesday the Steer basketball team was given a sample of our pep and enthusiasm at a pep rally which was held for the Steer-Snyder game. Treating the Steers to a variety of songs, the Lighter Dust Dough Boys entertained on Wednesday morning in the auditorium. Old St. Nick (Mr. G. T. Guthrie) visited the Longhorns in the assembly Friday. Following that, Charles Dunagan, Student Council prexy, introduced the Rev. Frank Pollard, associate pastor at First Baptist Church.

Tuesday night the Shorthand Club feasted at the Howard House for a Christmas party. Mrs. Don Green, shorthand teacher, was presented with a gift from both classes.

Candy really flew in all of the Spanish classes on Friday. Along with all of the fun and frolic, the group sang carols in Spanish. There were five pinatas (a parrot, a bull, a basket, a cake with candles, and a house) which were used in the fiesta.

It was announced in the Corral who the publications' editors will be for next year. Mary Locke Crossland will be the editor of the yearbook and Lynn Clawson will head the school's newspaper staff. Lynn's associate editor will be Ann Horman, and Kay Crowover will be Mary Locke's associate editor. Next semester, these girls will be in training to better prepare them for the work ahead of them.

The Christmas Needy Drive sponsored by the Student Council netted approximately 1,200 food items. Each class that had 100 per cent participation received a walk Thursday morning, first period. Doyleene Wadkins was in charge of the drive.

Friday night was the big night everyone was waiting for. Who's Who had been announced that morning, and there was really a lot of excitement over the announcement of the popularity contests. At the Christmas formal as it neared 10:00, low whippers were heard asking who got favorites, school beauty, and best-all-around. Finally the zero hour arrived and the royalty was presented by Principal Roy Worley.

Sophomore favorites were Anthony Rhodes and Karen Koger, Junior favorites were Larry Moore and Wanda Boatler. Luan Phillips and Charles Dunagan were named senior favorites, and

20 Students In Who's Who In Senior High

Twenty junior and senior students at Big Spring Senior High received the honor of being elected to Who's Who on Friday. To be eligible, students must be outstanding in scholarship, leadership and character, and they are chosen by the faculty.

Many Activities Held As Holidays Begin

By ELLABETH STORY

FORSAN—The FHA girls in Forsan High School have climaxed their Christmas activities by making candy for their parents. The girls made beautifully decorated Christmas boxes in which to place the candy. Last week each girl made a Christmas wreath of nylon net. These were decorated in the festive Christmas symbols. The entire school had an opportunity to see and admire the wreaths, as they were placed in a display case in the main hallway.

CHRISTMAS PARTY

Friday afternoon at one o'clock, the high school students met in the cafeteria for the annual Christmas party, sponsored by the Student Council. St. Nicholas, assisted by Student Council members distributed gifts to the high school students and faculty members. Those that had been good all year. Everyone enjoyed themselves and departed in a gay mood for the Christmas holidays.

It's really nice to be a senior in Forsan High School. The seniors had a Christmas party instead of an English class Friday morning. The girls brought the refreshments, candy, cookies, and the boys furnished the Cokes. Everyone seemed to enjoy the party more than they do English. Maybe there'll be a question on the midterm exam about the party.

FACULTY SCATTERED

The faculty in Forsan High School is going to be scattered this Christmas. Mrs. Zimmler Boeker will spend Christmas in San Antonio; Mrs. Dunagan plans to be at home in Elbow; Mrs. Sybil Moreland and her family are going to Graham; Mrs. Cleo Bailey plans to stay at home for Christmas; Mrs. Claire Conger and her family plan their Christmas in Stephenville and Fort Worth; Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Ferguson are going to Wingo and Big Spring; Mr. and Mrs. Tom Spell are to be in Jefferson with Mrs. Spick's mother and father; Coach Blake and family will be in Brownwood;

Celia Grant and Benny Edwards were announced as best all-around. Crowned school beauty was Judi Simpson.

Many of our students and teachers will be on the highways for the holidays. I want to urge everyone to please drive with care, and as Deanna O'Brien said: "Have a Cool Yule and a Frantic First!" See you in church.

Christmas Formal Biggest Event Of HCJC Fall Term

By KAY LOVELAND

It was a glad day for everyone when their last classes on Friday were over and the two weeks' Christmas holidays began. Some of us were lucky and got out Friday morning while others had to sweat through afternoon classes, but by late afternoon the campus was almost deserted.

The biggest event of the week and of the semester took place Thursday night when Rocca Rocca Hanna sponsored the Christmas Formal. Decorated with red and green crepe paper across the ceiling, paper bells, cedar and many colored balls, the Formal was quite beautiful and festive. An oil derrick borrowed from Conden with Christmas lights and icicles hanging from it sat in one corner of the room; while at the end of the room was a fireplace. There was a good crowd dancing to the music of the Hi-Fi's.

A platform reading of "Star Song" was done Wednesday morning at the Christmas assembly. The cast included Jacques Hew-

Top Records Spinning In Big Spring

Ever so often it's fun to look at the records that are selling fastest in Big Spring over the weeks. Many times they coincide with the nation's taste, and at other times, they are very far removed. According to the Record Shop's sales, though, here are the singles and albums doing best in nearly all fields.

In the classical department, Van Cliburn's recording of "Rachmaninoff's Concerto Number 3" is the number one seller. The "1812 Overture" on Mercury with an actual cannon blast, "Grand Canyon Suite," "Ravel's "Bolero," "Nutcracker Suite," and "Sleeping Beauty" are also doing well.

"Tennessee Ernie's album, "Hymns and Spirituals," and "Sweet and Low" by the Robert Shaw Chorale are doing well in their respective religious categories.

In opera, "Aida" with Maria Callas is far-and-away the best seller. Gilbert and Sullivan's operetta, "The Mikado," is holding its own.

Turning to the pop field, we find a number of top-selling albums. Among them are "The Kingston Trio," "Belafonte at Carnegie Hall," "Open Fire, Two Guitars," by Johnny Mathis, "The Student Prince," with Mario Lanza, "Gigi," "South Pacific," "Outside Shelley Berman," "Gypsy," the Broadway show starring Ethel Merman, "Blue Hawaii," by Billy Vaughn's orchestra, "My Fair Lady," "The Late, Late Show," with Dakota Staton, "Songs by Ricky," "Still More Sing Along," by Mitch Miller, "Quiet Village," by Martin Denny, "The Music Man," "Porgy and Bess," and "No One Cares," by Sinatra.

Among the singles doing well in rock 'n' roll and pop are "Sitting in the Back Seat," by Paul Evans, "I Want You Forever," by Brook Benton; "Lonely Street" and "Summer Love," by Andy Williams; "Put Your Head on My Shoulder," Paul Anka; "Dog, You Know," Della Reese; "Mack the Knife," Bobby Darin; "Mr. Blue," the Fleetwoods; "Unforgettable," Dinah Washington; "Danny Boy," Conway Twitty; and "Love Potion No. 9," the Clovers.

IT'LL BE 'MEGAPHONE'; NATALIA DIAZ WINS $20

Well, kids, this page will soon be known far and wide as "The Megaphone." That's the name for the general news about young folks and their school and social affairs that was selected by a group of Herald editors.

And the winner of the $20 for submitting the selected name is Natalia Diaz, 17, a BSHS student and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Pedro Diaz, 215 N.E. 8th. The Herald's check for $20, along with congratulations to the winner, has been mailed to Natalia.

A special hearing for the page will soon be devised by artists and engravers, and Herald editors hope that young people in and around Big Spring will be looking forward every week to items of interest in "The Megaphone." Several hundred entries came in, and The Herald is grateful for the fine response to its request for a name for this page. Sorry not everyone could win.

Decorations Are Judged In Stanton

By MARSHA BRISTOW

STANTON—This week our halls have taken on a festive air. All the clubs and classes have decorated doors. The Student Council organized this activity and arranged for the doors to be judged. The judges were Mrs. L. C. Hazelwood, president of the local Garden Club, Mrs. Arthur Wilson and Mrs. G. R. Phillips, representatives from the club. The doors were judged on four features, most original, most beautiful, most appropriate and all-around best door. The most original doors were those decorated by the paper staff and the Spanish Club. The paper staff door featured a winter scene with dwarfs and Merry Christmas written in Spanish, Feliz Navidad. This greeting arose from two burning tapers.

The most beautiful doors were decorated by the junior and sophomore classes. The junior class had a styrofoam violin encased in a shower of angel hair on a green background. The sophomore class door featured a Christmas tree made of blue angel hair surrounded by a tinsel rope on a blue background. The senior class and the band entered the most appropriate door decoration. The senior class door depicted Bethlehem with a star over it. The band door was wrapped as a Christmas package in gold foil with green ribbons and miniature musical instruments. The best all-around doors were decorated by the junior, sophomore and senior classes.

Christmas parties are in full swing. The National Honor Society held their party Monday night. The school party was held after assembly Friday. The Student Council is in charge of the assembly.

Amid all the festivities our basketball teams haven't slacked off. The girls' second team has a tournament at Garden City. The boys' second team will play a tournament at Sands. The boys' first team played Big Lake and won 63-35. The second team lost.

Wednesday night the band, choir and speech department combined and staged a depiction of the Christmas story. It was very good.

I would like to wish everyone a very Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year!

Connie Ford Chosen Miss Coahoma High

By ROSALIE DEVANNEY

COAHOMA—Just four more days until Christmas, that doesn't leave much time for shopping so if you aren't through, you had better get busy.

Monday's activity period consisted of FHA and FFA meetings. The FHA girls discussed their summer trip to Mo Ranch. Their reservations for May 27 through the 29th have been confirmed, so now the girls really have something to work for. They also decided to fix a Christmas box for some needy family in Coahoma. This was an all-school project to make some family happy on Christmas.

The FFA boys set the date for their annual stock show, which is January 23. Billy Carl Reid was elected as show superintendent. Each class of stock has its own superintendent. Aubrey Ray Darden was elected superintendent over the calves, Doyle Warren over the sheep and Ellis Smith over the hogs. The team that went to state in Huntsville last weekend made reports on their trip. It was reported that the team won fourth in the state, which was very good considering they are the fourth best over several thousand teams in the state. Congratulations boys, Coahoma's proud of you.

The Junior class was especially proud of Miss Connie Ford, who was chosen the Miss Coahoma High School of 1960. Connie is a beautiful blue-eyed junior who just came to Coahoma this year and, I must say, has done quite well for herself. Her pretty smile is admired by everyone. There was a tie for second place for the title between Glenda Haney and Margie Appleton. Glenda is a junior this year and was second place Miss CHS last year also. Other titles that Glenda has held are as follows: Cheerleader '59-'60, class secretary and treasurer, FHA treasurer, in the pep squad and is assistant editor of the annual staff. She is also a forward on the basketball team.

Margie Appleton, a brunette, is a sophomore and has held the following honors: Class president, class secretary and treasurer and is an FHA officer, on the student council and in the pep squad. Zena Kay Robinson was chosen third place. She is a senior and this was her first year to be in the contest, she has been class reporter in the FHA, pep squad, on the Bark staff and played basketball three years. She is the senior class favorite. Congratulations to these beauties! Ginger Richters and Sandra Nichols were also in the finals.

The honor roll was posted this week and those with a 90 or above average in five subjects, not including band and physical education, are Marco Westmoreland, a senior; Margie Appleton and Sandra Nichols, both sophomores. Those with 90 or above average in four subjects not including band or PE are Patsy Greenfield, senior; Glenda Haney, Lydia Harrington, Johnnie Lou Nichols, Edward Reeves and Jerri Nell Thomas, all juniors and Paul Camp, a freshman. These students should really feel proud of themselves.

The girls' basketball game proved to be a victory over Garden City Monday night. The score was 63 to 34. The boys "B" team won, and the "A" team won by a 48 to 45 score. This was an overtime victory. On Tuesday night the teams went to Ira and girls won 57 to 41. The boys lost 40 to 37.

The juniors are planning a bake sale on Wednesday December 23 at Piggy Wiggy in Big Spring. Sure hope they sell all their coke sand pies so that they can give the seniors a nice banquet, and I'm sure they will!

The homemaking classes treated the whole school with refreshments Friday as their Christmas gift to the school. They asked each study hall to come to the homemaking living room for a punch and cookies in a very Christmasy atmosphere. Thank you girls, it was very nice.

The annual all school Christmas party was held Friday at 2:15. Immediately after the party, school was dismissed until Monday, December 28. Hope everyone has a very merry Christmas, but let's keep in our minds and hearts the real meaning of that glorious day, "The birth of our Saviour."

lett, Jackie Thomas, Reece Bevers, Corine Nance, Marie Nichols, Jerome Crumpton, Sherri Coats, Kay Loveland and Ann Steinheimer. A very sparse crowd was on hand to view it, but many good comments were overheard. The lighting effects and a mural of the nativity scene added to the effectiveness of the reading, and gave it a simplicity which can be highly dramatic at times.

JAYHAWKS WINNERS
Both our basketball teams won again. The Jayhawks zoomed past Tarleton State 80-59 in their game, and the freshman team beat Good-fellow Air Force Base 73-67. Friday night the Jayhawks journeyed to Hardin-Simmons for a game. Beginning Dec. 31 through Jan. 2 the Howard County Junior College Tournament will be held. Activity tickets don't count for the tournament games, so be sure to buy your tickets.

The Lass-O Club party held Tuesday night at Mrs. Harold Vail's was well attended. Pictures were taken of the group for the annual, gifts were exchanged and cakes and cookies were served. The club will soon begin planning for the annual Sweetheart-Valentine dance to be held in February.

The Jayhawker is now working on meeting their second deadline, which is the 15th of January. They have been busy taking pictures of the various clubs.
Did you get your copy of the Christmas edition of El Nido? Hope so. It was a special six-page edition.
We want to say "eGt Well" to Ben Lockhart and Jerry Sorrels, both of whom were in the hospital last week. That Aggie Club must be getting them down!
Good luck to Jackie Thomas, who leaves Jan. 5 for Florida to try out for the Boston Red Sox. Hope "ol' dame fortune" sees fit to smile on him.

THANKS
I think we owe Mrs. Kenneth Sewald a vote of thanks for the fine way she has been running the SUB since becoming Student Union director. She made the building very cheerful for the Christmas season with a huge tree in the foyer. I'd also like to thank her for the good music she has been playing.

Week Filled With Parties, Assemblies

By PAT LOUDAMY

The annual Christmas assembly program at Runnels opened Friday morning with singing of Christmas songs by the entire student body. The choir sang the Fred Waring arrangement of "Twas the Night Before Christmas." Then the Christmas story was told in scripture tableau and song. Mr. E. A. J. Seddon, the guest speaker, told the story, "The First Christmas Tree" by Van Dyke.

The faculty members in charge of the program were Mrs. Griese, Mrs. Gambill, Mrs. Batterton, Miss Moss, Miss Davies, Mrs. Carter and Miss Secrest. The choirs presented their directors, Mrs. Griese and Mrs. Gambill, with corsages in appreciation of their fine leadership.

Honorary Coke parties were held Friday during the last period before school was dismissed for the holidays. There will be two weeks vacation with school resuming Monday, Jan. 4.

A canned food drive was conducted for needy families. At a noon dance students brought a can of food for admission.

Faculty members enjoyed a dinner at Coker's Restaurant, Wednesday night. The dinner was courtesy of the Student Council.

ATTENDES CONVENTION
Mrs. Florence Lenox, our homemaking teacher, recently participated in the annual American Vocational Association of Teachers Convention in Chicago as representative from this district. The convention included teachers from all states.

Dr. Conart, a well known educator, was one of the main speakers at the convention. The main topic covered was the new book, "New Directions in Home Economics." The book will enable the teachers to give a more complete course in home economics.

TEAMS CHOSEN
Mrs. Pat Drake, volleyball coach at Runnels, has chosen the girls for the volleyball team. Members of the ninth grade team include Peggy Barraza, Benina Barrera, Mary Alice Chavarria, Joyce Davidson, Sara Beth Homan, Rosemary Horn, Mildred Kinman, Virginia Mancha, Kathleen Morton, Floydine Moss, Carol Odum and Martha Thompson.

Mary Aguirre, Margie Arista, Anita De Leon, Linda McDonald and Gloria Govea are members of the eighth grade team. Other girls on the team include Aspene Olguin, Louisa Palomino, Lupe Sotopato, Floyd Timmons, Mary Thornton, Clydette Williams and Jane Womack.

The Yearlings met the basketball teams of Edison of San Angelo, Thursday night in the senior high gym. The ninth grade score was 42 to 37 in their favor. Our eighth grade was victorious with a score of 25 to 14.

A special 10-page Christmas edition of the Round Up was sold Thursday.

'The Christmas Rose' Presented At Goliad

By DE MASON
The Christmas holidays are truly upon us, and I'm sure that anyone visiting Goliad last week could have told you that the Christmas spirit was definitely not left at home when the students came to school.

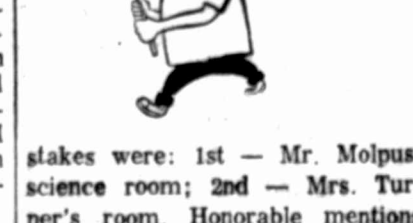

Along with the gaiety and good cheer at school, we are also saddened. Why? Because we are losing a person who has always been a real friend to all students and teachers. Our counselor, Miss Bille Harrel is leaving us. We will certainly miss her, but we wish her the best of luck in everything.

ASSEMBLY HELD
Thursday during the fifth and sixth periods an assembly was held. In it Mr. Apffel's speech class presented their Christmas play "The Christmas Rose." The theme was sung by Pat Baker and the rest of the cast did an excellent job. The play showed the real true meaning of Christmas, which each year is often forgotten by many people.

Then the band, under the direction of Mr. Tommy Fry, presented their Christmas concert. They played selections of carols and a few marches.

Also, at the assembly Miss Harrel was presented with a gift from each grade. Presenting the gifts were Karen McGibbon, vice president of the ninth grade; Baxter Moore, president of the eighth grade; and Sue Grant, president of the seventh grade.

ROOMS JUDGED
Wednesday a panel of judges judged the room decorations. The winners of the door division were: 1st place — Mrs. Logan's room; 2nd place — Miss Beasley's library; 3rd place — Mrs. Tatum's science class. In the transmog division were: 1st — Miss Clinton's room; 2nd — Mrs. Blair's art room; 3rd — Mrs. Albright's science room. In the sweepstakes were: 1st — Mr. Molpus' science room; 2nd — Mrs. Turner's room. Honorable mentions were given to shop, 1st place; and the Curtain Club display in the main show case.

In the canned food drive which ended this past week, 801 cans of food were collected from the 811 students in Goliad.

Thursday evening a P-TA meeting was held, and from reports quite a few attended. After the meeting, the Christmas play was presented again for the parents and other who wished to see it. FACULTY BEATS FRESHMEN
Friday was probably the busiest and most mixed-up day since the first day of school. Friday morning the regular schedule was followed, but in the afternoon no regular classes were held. The student body watched the game between the freshmen and the faculty. The faculty won, but the freshmen surely played a good game.

Thursday all three teams journeyed to Andrews to play. The scores were 7th grade, 34-26; 8th grade, 36-30; 9th grade, 63-40. Friday afternoon students returned to their homerooms for their Christmas parties. School was dismissed at 3 p.m. Merry Christmas and Happy New Year. See you next year.

Favorites And Beauty

Friday night was an important night for eight of these fine people, for it was the night they were announced as favorites of their classes in BSHS. It was also an exciting and thrilling night for Judi Simpson (center), who was chosen school beauty. Pictured above from left to right are Anthony Rhodes and Karen Koger, sophomore favorites; Luan Phillips and Charles Dunagan, senior favorites; Judi Simpson, school beauty; Wanda Boatler and Larry Moore, junior favorites; Celia Grant and Benny Edwards, best all-around.

The pensive looking people above are eighteen of twenty senior high school students who were chosen for Who's Who this year. Elected by the faculty, these students are outstanding leaders and scholars in the school.

A Devotional For Today

Behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy which shall be to all the people: for there is born to you this day in the city of David a Saviour, who is Christ the Lord. (Luke 2:10, 11. ASV.)
PRAYER: God and Father, as shepherds and wise men of old sought the Christ Child that they might worship and honor Him, we also draw near to Him. Help us to express our love for Thee by glorifying His name in all that we do. Thine is the kingdom, and the power, and the glory forever. We pray in Christ's name. Amen.
 (From The "Upper Room")

Is It Worth It?

Thousands upon thousands of words will be written in an effort to dissuade us from carelessness which will bring death and unhappiness to our homes during the holidays.
 Perhaps more will result from it than we realize, for the cumulative effect of appeals by word, print and pictures will create in the mass mind a consciousness of the dangers of holiday traffic.
 The weakest — and often the missing link — in this chain is the failure of each of us to remember that this means us. So won't you keep that uppermost in your mind if you are obliged to travel on the highways during the next two weeks. If you are tempted to hurry or are provoked into taking those little chances, ask yourself: "Is it worth it?"

 If a few minutes are a good gamble against possibly an eternity, or even a time of suffering and pain, then go ahead and take the chance. If not, take it easy and stay alive and stay happy.

One Key To A Happy Season

The tragedy of Christmas is that we deny ourselves of its inner joy, peace and serenity.
 Most of us get caught up in a progressively increasing tempo of projects and parties, of shopping and socials. Not infrequently those who profess too piously or protest against commercialization of the season are among those who press other promotions, however worthy, which in their own way tend to leave no room in the soul's inn.
 Much is said about the true meaning of Christmas, and it is doubtful if finite mind is capable of discovering or grasping the whole truth of the meaning.
 For the Christian world, Christmas is first and foremost the reminder of the birth of a Savior, the Son of God who came to "seek and to save that which was lost." Hence, Christmas is a time of renewal of the great hope of salvation, and of opportunity for reconciliation of man with God.

 The spirit of Christmas, however, has overflowed the bounds of Christendom, and others of many creeds are caught up in its majestic sweep. There is really no mystery in this, for "God so loved the world that He gave His only begotten son," and in this we find the universal expression of love and its fruits.
 "God loved enough to give dearly so that man might be blessed. Men are never so near to God as when they also love enough to give dearly. In this those who are helped are blessed and those who give are twice blessed. It is when we take time to reflect on this great example of God that we capture the peace and joy of Christmas."

Individual Conscience As The Guide

WASHINGTON — Supposing Sen. Kennedy runs ahead of all other aspirants for the Democratic presidential nomination and goes to the national convention with about 500 delegates' votes, and nevertheless is turned down, would this stir resentment among Catholics who might feel that the Massachusetts senator was being brushed aside because of his religion?
 This is the question which Sen. Kennedy himself now is reported to have discussed in conferences with political leaders in Pittsburgh. He is known to have talked about it among friends in Washington. The story is that, if he is defeated in the primaries of various states, he will feel that such a decision would be on its merits—the greater popularity of other candidates.
 It will be recalled that in 1924—when the famous contest at Madison Square Garden took place between Gov. Al Smith of New York and William G. McAdoo, former secretary of the Treasury, and there were more than 100 ballots before John W. Davis was selected as a compromise—the feeling of many Smith supporters was that religious bias played a big part in keeping the New York governor from getting the nomination. This hurt the Democratic party in the election race that followed and led to the overwhelming acceptance of Al Smith as the candidate at the convention in 1928.

law of God, one must answer yes. A Catholic president or any other aspirant, must act in accordance with his conscience. For any man who has a religion, this means doing what he considers right according to the law of God.
 "If there should be a conflict between the American public interest and church dogma, which would be considered paramount?
 "A. The question seems to me ambiguous. I understand the conflict in the hypothetical American president. If this is the sense of the question, then I believe it involves a gratuitous assumption. There can be no such conflict of conscience in a Catholic or in any other religious man. Why? Let us understand 'dogma' here as the revealed moral law of God, proposed by the church. Secondly, let us suppose a society in which men sincerely differ concerning law, interpreted differently by various churches.
 "Obviously, among such men there can be a sharp clash of opinion as to what is the real American public interest in a particular case. But any man, Catholic or not, must hold firmly that in doing right according to his conscience, he is serving the best interest of his country."

"PUBLIC DEBATE AND THE DEMOCRATIC process take for granted such sincere differences of opinion. It would be absurd to identify one opinion with 'American public interest' and to insist that a Catholic opposing such an opinion for reasons of conscience is simply in conflict with American public interest.
 "It would be unfair, undemocratic, and un-American to discriminate in such a way against Catholic freedom of conscience in American public life. Such discrimination may begin with the attempt to discredit and disqualify the Catholic candidate for high office. Carried to its logical consequences, it would attempt to exclude Catholics not merely from the presidency but from all public office, ultimately from the right to vote."
 The so-called "Catholic issue" in politics is being widely discussed in America today—due largely to conceptions that never would have an opportunity of being clarified if there were no public discussion such as is going on today among the voters.

"A plague o' both your houses." The steel dispute has dragged for so long that most people have lost contact with the issues.
 People know that automobile production had to be cut back, that unemployment instead of dropping sharply in October and November, stayed stubbornly above the 1957 level (see chart), that the dispute overhangs an otherwise cheery 1958 outlook.
 People feel toward the United Steelworkers Union and the steel companies much as Mercutio in "Romeo and Juliet" toward the Capulets and the Montagues. They are exasperated, even as President Franklin D. Roosevelt in the bitter "Little Steel" strike of 1937. Roosevelt declared that a majority of people are saying, "A plague o' both your houses."
 When the present dispute started, President Eisenhower laid down one stricture: No inflationary agreement. Inference: No price rise. Now, so weary have most of us become, the price-wage issue has become secondary to a settlement. Anything to get the dispute out of the way.
 RESIGNEDLY, we await the next phase in this long battle. The companies and the union are set to see the Taft-Hartley process through to the last-offer vote. A strike may recur after Jan. 26.
 The companies have circulated workers on the terms of their latest offer, hoping to win a high acceptance vote. The union counters by word of mouth and through its publications.
 The industry and the union don't even agree on arithmetic. The companies calculate their last offer as 30.8 cents in hourly costs over a three-year span. "The workable issue is to be submitted to arbitration." The union knocks this down to 22.3 cents, and argues that Kaiser Steel offered 22 cents for a 20-month contract. Here's a summation of the difference:

Public Apathetic To Both Sides Of Steel Issue

"A plague o' both your houses." The steel dispute has dragged for so long that most people have lost contact with the issues.

Here's a summation of the difference:

contract akin to that with Kaiser or the can companies. The industry says this would bring the three-year price up to McDonald's original demand, 45 cents.
 The president of one major company, frustrated and fatigued, summed up his position up thus: "We've made a fair offer. We think it is one the workers will want to accept. Anything more will have to be shoved down my throat." Inference: Nothing short of an administration or Congressional order will get the company to raise the ante.
 Time has eroded the original battle positions of both sides. The companies insisted any wage increase would ripple through the economy — set the pattern for other industries. "We ought to lower prices," said Roger Blough, chairman of United States Steel. The union countered: The companies can afford a wage boost out of record-1959 profits.
 Recently completed wage settlements have passed steel by — rubber, can companies, Armour in meat-packing, copper. McDonald has worked to present a fair accompani in aluminum. Then, before the vote, he could tell the Steelworkers: "Others have given wage boosts, why not steel?"

THE STRIKE WASHED profits out of the picture. Nine-month earnings of leading companies are well below 1957 and, in four cases out of eight, barely above those of 1958, a recession year, as you can see:

Company	Change	From 1957	Per Cent
U. S. Steel	minus 22	plus 6	minus 37
Republic	minus 41	plus 5	minus 88
Jones & Laughlin	minus 30	plus 8	minus 73

Busy Publisher
 WASHINGTON — The aerospace industry claims that it is the nation's largest book publisher and its stack of technical manuals exceeds the combined output of all the commercial book publishing houses in the nation.
 Planes, the official publication of the Aerospace Industries Assn., says that though these manuals will never reach the "best seller" list, the cost to produce them is astronomical—the Air Force alone spends some 250 million dollars a year for technical manuals.
 The publication adds that the aerospace industry is attempting to cut the mounting cost through a program of manual standardization. A plan to accomplish this act has been submitted to the Defense Department.

Beetle Life Recorded

CORVALLIS, Ore. — Scientists at the Oregon Forest Lands Research Center eavesdropped on the Douglas fir bark beetle with microphones and discovered a story of beetle family life.
 At 9:10 p.m. the first day, papa arrived home and a rhythmic cricket-like chirping, began, mixed with irregular, sharp, staccato noises.
 The scientists could not determine if it was a family fight because Mr. Beetle got home late or if it was the usual beetle welcome.
 At 9:35 all sound stopped.
 At 9:55 there was some occasional scratching, which researchers said could have been the female excavating or preparing dinner.
 At 10:15 vigorous chewing began, indicating the family had sat down to dinner.
 Next day sounds like lusty singing as the beetles cleaned house were heard by the scientists. The mike picked up the noise of sweeping and every now and then bark dust was pitched out of a hole in the log.
 The scientists said they knew the difference between male and female bark beetles because the one doing all the housework was always the female. As might be expected, the one making all the grumbling noises was invariably the male.

Just Keep Papa Out Of The Way

Nobody, but nobody, ever asked me to write a Christmas poem. Some of my most esteemed counselors have even advised against it. But by golly I've been writing a poem (?) for every Yuletide, and I ain't gonna quit this year. A poor rating doesn't scare me—much.
 So what we have here is a piece entitled "The World Would Keep Turning If It Weren't for Papa, But It Wouldn't Turn As Fast."
 'Twas the week before Christmas
 Like it or not;
 And Father had decided
 It's all a mean plot.
 Not so his fair spouse
 And all the offspring:
 To hear them tell it,
 Santa is king.
 That's because they were ready
 When the season began,
 And wished and looked and shopped
 Again and again.
 While Pop, watching football
 And taking a nap,
 Never dreamed that The Day
 Was right in his lap.
 All of a sudden he rouses
 And goes into motion;
 But what to do about it,
 He hasn't a notion.
 A tree, he thinks,
 Has been neglected;
 (Not knowing that one
 Is already selected).
 He wonders if it's time
 To get decorations,
 And learns then that Mama
 Has made preparations.
 For the children he would buy
 Things bright and gay;
 Mama already has them
 In that Plan Lay-Away.
 He asks about Uncle Joe
 And favorite Aunt Lou;
 Sure enough, Mama
 Has bought for them too.
 What about turkey
 And cranberries and peas?
 Oh, they're all ready
 And in the deep freeze.
 Should friends be asked
 For an evening of fun?
 Of course the date's set,
 All planning is done.
 And is he needed for Tying and wrapping?
 They'd rather he went back
 To his TV napping.
 That a good man should do:
 Purchase the gift
 For his wife good and true.
 So he starts asking
 And hoping for clues;
 All unaware that his mate
 Her own gift does choose.
 She's already ordered
 What's close to her heart.
 Just paying the bill
 Is old Papa's part.
 And that is why Christmas
 Is never for males;
 When the bills pour in
 You hear nothing but wails.
 But breathes there a man,
 When all's said and done,
 Who won't admit later
 That Christmas was fun?
 —BOB WHIPKEY

Norman Vincent Peale

The Emperor Of The World

Marcus Tullius Cicero, Roman senator and greatest of Roman orators, awoke one morning with a distinct memory of his dream of the night before.
 He had seen, in this dream, the god Jupiter come to Rome to declare the son of one of the great Roman families chief ruler of the city. Cicero had been asked to call the city's outstanding young men into the temple of Jupiter. Curious citizens stood around outside the temple as the youths, wearing their formal robes, gathered.
 Finally the doors opened, and the young men entered to be inspected by the god. None of them seemed to meet his requirements until one of the very last in line. To him, Jupiter stretched out his hand and proclaimed him the future ruler of Rome.
 The name of Caesar Augustus is in many books. But there is one book, however, that carries only one line with his name. It is by that line that he is now best known to us: "It came to pass in those days that there went out a decree from Caesar Augustus that all the world should be taxed."
THE PASSAGE GOES ON TO SAY: "And all went to be taxed, every one to his own city." So it was that, in an obscure, faraway corner of Augustus' domain, a man named Joseph and a woman named Mary arrived one night in Bethlehem in Judea because of this decree. There she was delivered of a Child.
 Caesar Augustus, "Emperor of the World," never saw this Child, never knew him, never heard of Him. Yet isn't it curious that we remember him today largely because in a year that we now designate from the birth of this Child, Augustus signed a decree that sent a young couple on a journey during which was born the One who might rightly claim the title, "Emperor of the World."
 Merry Christmas to all, then, in the name of an Emperor who, in the words of the hymn, will reign forever and ever and of whose kingdom there shall be no end.

The Gallup Poll

Kennedy Slips, Johnson Gains

PRINCETON, N. J.—Sen. John Kennedy has lost ground slightly during the last month in the race for the Democratic nomination.
 Along with former Gov. Adlai Stevenson, however, Sen. Kennedy remains one of the top choices of Democrats across the country for the 1960 nomination.
 The small drop-off in Kennedy's strength since November has been accompanied by a similar upswing in the popularity of Senate Majority Leader Lyndon Johnson who is in third place today.
 Kennedy meanwhile holds a substantial lead over the other possible contenders in terms of the 1960 preferences of Independent voters.
 Since mid-summer, in fact, the Massachusetts senator's popularity with this important voting group has grown markedly.
 Gallup Poll reporters across the country put this question to a representative cross-section of Democratic voters:
"HERE IS A LIST OF MEN who have been mentioned as possible presidential candidates for the Democratic party in 1960. Which one would you like to see nominated as the Democratic candidate for president in 1960?"
 Other than Stevenson, Kennedy and Johnson, the men on the list were Gov. Edmund "Pat" Brown, Sen. Hubert Humphrey, Sen. Estes Kefauver, Gov. Robert Meyer, Sen. Stuart Symington, and Gov. G. Mennen Williams. Here is how Democratic choices today compare with those recorded one month ago:

CHOICE OF CANDIDATES (Independents Only)	Today July
	Per Cent	Per Cent
Kennedy	33	25
Stevenson	20	22
Johnson	9	11
Kefauver	9	11
Symington	6	8
Humphrey	3	5
Others	12	14

Worms From Logs

PORTLAND, Ore. — Fishermen seeking worms have found a paradise in big cut peeler logs.
 Crewmen bring in the huge logs that have sound, well-seasoned wood in their interiors, but the exterior sections are full of fishing worms.
 Worms really begin to fly when the lathes start peeling off this worthless exterior to get down to the sound wood.
 The happy fishermen go home with a canful every night.

Prairie Dog Law Called Into Action Once More

GARDEN CITY — An old state law, enacted in 1915, and seldom called into use in these days has been reactivated in Glasscock County to cope with prairie dogs, according to Sheriff Buster Cox. Cox explained that prairie dogs are relatively scarce now as compared to the old days but that there are occasional prairie dog towns still flourishing.

STILL IN EXISTENCE

Several such communities exist in the ranching country of Glasscock County, particularly to the south and west of Garden City. The rodents do extensive damage when they become numerous. They pose a danger to livestock which they holes and they tend to increase erosion. They also strip pastures of grass and shrubs.

Cox said that ranchers generally keep the colonies inactive by destroying the prairie dogs.

A few days ago, Charles Cox, who has a ranch 20 miles south and west of Garden City, appeared before the Sterling County Commissioners. He complained that he kept his own particular land free of prairie dogs but that colonies on adjoining property, owned by out-of-county owners, were never bothered. As a result he said the efforts he put forth to destroy the pests on his own ranch were wasted. He wanted something done about it.

The commissioners passed the buck to Sheriff Cox.

Cox recalled vaguely there was some sort of state law dealing with the control of prairie dogs. He conferred with Gil Jones, district attorney, and Jones checked out the law.

And sure enough, back in 1915, the Legislature had enacted a statute making it mandatory that landowners keep their land free of prairie dogs. If they failed to do so, the sheriff can be instructed by the Commissioners to go on the land and do the job. Costs of the extermination are assessed as lien against the property.

OWNERS ARE WARNED

Cox said he had sent registered letters, special delivery, to the owners of the land on which the prairie dog colonies are flourishing. He warned them of the law's provisions and notified them they have 30 days in which to comply.

At the end of 30 days, he said, if the landowners have not acted, he will set about destroying the prairie dog villages and the costs will be assessed against the landowners.

Cox explained that the extermination is accomplished by putting carbon tetrachloride into the holes and then closing the openings.

He said that some of the villages in the area under discussion have from 150 to 200 prairie dog holes and probably the related colonies will cover a section or more of land.

It has been a great many years, it was said, since there has been any need to resort to the 1915 law to cope with the prairie dogs.

Temco Engineers Killed In Crash

DALLAS (AP)—Kenneth Spencer, 36, of Arlington was fatally injured Friday when a company plane crashed with him and another Temco engineer.

The crash at Temco's Garland plant also seriously injured Robert Paschal, 33, of Garland. Witnesses said the plane went into a nose dive soon after it took off.

Rebels Loot Village

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP)—Rebel bands swooped down on West Java settlements Thursday night, looting and burning homes and killing at least 11 persons, dispatches to Jakarta said today.

Youth And Government Is Topic At Hi-Y Meet

Youth and Government was the topic of discussion at the regular Hi-Y Council meeting Monday night. All clubs were to elect their representatives. It was announced in connection with this that the fee deadline for the representatives is Dec. 31, at which time they must pay their $16.50.

The council was reminded of the World Service money that was due prior to election of delegates to the convention. Delegates to the meeting will be senior boys: Gordon Bristow, senator; Benny Edwards, and Charles Dunagan, representatives; senior girls: Jane Cowper, senator; Shirley Terry and Gloria Coker, representatives.

junior girls: Judy Pearce and Lynn Clawson; sophomore boys: Gil Jones and Bob Moore; sophomore girls: Rachael Phelan and Carolyn Lewis.

Following the elections a Christmas party was given by the Chi Rho Tri-Hi-Y in the sanctuary of the First Methodist Church.

At a regular meeting of the Gollard 9th Grade Tri-Hi-Y the minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved.

"Joy to the World" and "Silent Night" were led by Daria Moore. Linda Parker gave the program on evaluation.

Next meeting of the group will be Jan. 4.

Reds Blast Rocky For Preparedness

MOSCOW (AP)—Pravda today printed a new attack on Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York and other Americans who have been warning the United States not to drop its guard against the Soviet Union.

An article in the Communist party organ said Rockefeller had "used all his eloquence to frighten Americans with a mythical Communist menace."

"This noisy anti-Communist clamor was needed by Rockefeller in order to persuade Americans that it is necessary to continue the policy of 'positions of strength,'" Pravda said.

WET YEAR BUILDING

engineering department is finishing up the plans.

Robb obtained the approval of the planning and zoning commission and the city commission for this specific area. The city commission has also annexed this section into the city.

START IN 1960

Construction of homes will probably start sometime during 1960, Robb said. "We do not plan to build houses in the area ourselves," he explained. "Our plans are to put in utilities, pave the streets, then sell lots to individuals or builders who want to build homes."

Certain restrictions will be placed on the construction, Robb said, but they have not yet been formulated.

For a city continuously plagued with drainage problems, few are seen for this development. Water falling on the mountain edge will probably drain south, away from the development.

Ravines at the foot of the mountain will probably carry water to Big Spring Creek, a natural drain for this section. Robb said a high water bridge would be constructed at the Gollard crossing to insure year round automobile access.

Highland South, as presently outlined, is the largest single development currently planned for Big Spring. On the basis of 100 homesites to each 40 acres, more than 2,000 lots could be carved out of the area.

"We plan to build a subdivision that the residents of Big Spring will be proud of," Robb said.

1959 Rainfall Is Ahead Of Average

There's a good possibility that 1959 will go down in the record books as the wettest year Big Spring has had since 1945. Two weeks left, the year has piled up the most rainfall of any year since 1944 with two exceptions. There is a good chance that the remainder of December could push the precipitation total for 1959 above at least one of these exceptions and even past the second.

23.04 INCHES

Total rainfall this year so far comes to 23.04 inches. The only marks to top that since the whopping 23.31 inches of 1945 is 23.09 inches set in 1957. If more rain falls at all this month it is almost certain to set a new 15-year record.

Records compiled by the U. S. Experiment Station here indicates that December has never been a wet month. Rainfall this month has totaled 1.49 inches on the station gauge. This is higher than any year since 1943 (2.76) and more than twice the 50-year December average of .74 as compiled by Grady Randel at the experiment station.

Three months of this year have had more than 3 1/2 inches of rain and one of these was just a trifle under five inches. Rainfall in May was 3.80 and in July was 4.46. June's 4.97 inches was just under the second highest mark of 5.03 set in 1940 and more than half of the 8.28-inch mark set in the freak year of 1919 when Big Spring got 34.01 inches of moisture.

FEW 30-INCH YEARS

Thirty inch years have been few and far between in the Big Spring area. Since 1900 these included only 1905, 1919, 1932 and 1941. Counting this year, there has been only 17 years in the past 59 when rainfall here went over the 23-inch mark.

This year's 23-plus inches was substantially ahead of the annual average of 18.87 inches for the first 50 years of this century.

High rainfall this year may indicate that the area is on the wet side of the dry-wet cycle which seems to appear regularly on a nine year basis. If this is true, next year may well turn out to be a 30-plus season because the records show that this much moisture either comes at the end of a two or three year buildup or at the beginning of a two or three year slackoff.

This will be the third year in a row that rainfall here has been equal to or above the 50 year average in January.

George Bair Is Named President Of Shrine Club

George Bair was elected president of the Big Spring Shrine Club at the regular meeting Friday at the Sands Restaurant.

Other new officers are Raymond River, vice president; C. R. McCleary, secretary; and Roy Lee, treasurer. Directors are E. C. Smith, Dr. W. A. Hunt, and Dr. Clyde Thomas Jr.

The new officials will take office in January.

AP Editors To Hold Meeting

LUBBOCK (AP)—Managing editors of Texas newspapers which are members of The Associated Press will hold their annual meeting in Lubbock Jan. 23-25.

William Steven, executive editor and vice president of the Minneapolis Star and Tribune, will speak. Ed Wischamper, managing editor of the Abilene Reporter-News; will preside. Wischamper is president of the Texas AP Managing Editors Assn.

Certificates and cash prizes will be awarded to winners of annual Texas APME contests in news writing, Page One makeup, headlines, editorials, photography and community service. Vick Lindley, managing editor of the Bryan Eagle and contest chairman, said winners will be announced on the opening day.

Lyndon Clubs Now In 175 Counties

AUSTIN (AP)—Lyndon Johnson-for-president clubs have been organized in 175 Texas counties. Larry Blackmon, state executive director of the organization, said Saturday.

Blackmon predicted clubs would be set up in the rest of Texas' 254 counties early in 1960. Blackmon said out of state clubs already are organized in Kansas and Oklahoma. He said inquiries about possible organizations have been received from Alabama, California, Colorado, Florida, Idaho, Illinois, Kentucky, Massachusetts, New York, Washington and Wisconsin.

World War I Ace Dies In Britain

WINCHESTER, England (AP)—Wing Cmdr. Gerald Constable Maxwell, 60, a World War I ace who shot down 30 German planes, died Friday.

Maxwell, who held three awards for bravery, battled daily with the crack pilots of Baron von Richthofen's "Flying Circus" in 1917.

He commanded a night fighter squadron in World War II.

3 Big TV Stars In Single Movie

For the price of a single admission, fans will be able to see three of TV's biggest stars in the same motion picture, Warner Bros. Technicolor production, "Yellowstone Kelly," at the Jet Thursday through Saturday.

For this epic story of a mountain man who tries to save the U. S. Cavalry from slaughter by Sioux Indians and falls in love with a beautiful Indian maiden, Warner Bros. has chosen its cast from among its most popular television personalities. Clint Walker, Edward Byrnes and John Russell, all of whom are stars of their own particular series.

Walker, who plays the title role in "Yellowstone Kelly," rose to fame as the star of "Cheyenne," while John Russell has a huge following on the small screens for his portrayal of the quiet, understanding town marshal in "Lawman." Edward Byrnes has won TV stardom as the jive-talking parking lot attendant in "77 Sunset Strip," and now gets some 3,000 fan letters a week from all over the United States.

Although "Yellowstone Kelly" is a Western, it offers a great change-of-pace for Walker and Russell, in spite of their respective Western series. Walker, for example, is a wandering cowpoke in "Cheyenne," while in this production he is rough, tough trapper and scout, feared by both Indians and glory-hunting cavalry officers.

The TV fans of these stars now have an opportunity to see all three together in completely different roles — on a big screen and in Technicolor.

'Beloved Infidel' Stars Peck, Kerr In Story Of Fitzgerald

"Beloved Infidel," Jerry Wald's production of the story of the love of famous writer, F. Scott Fitzgerald, for columnist Sheila Graham, will be seen Sunday and Monday at the Ritz. Starring Gregory Peck as Fitzgerald and Deborah Kerr as Miss Graham, from whose autobiographical best-seller the film was made, the motion picture was directed by Henry King and co-stars Eddie Albert.

The Alfred Hays and Sy Bartlett screenplay follows Sheila Graham from her arrival in New York with her titled English suitor, through her successful efforts to become a newspaperwoman, her assignment to Hollywood as a correspondent and finally to her meeting with the brooding, alcoholic genius whom she came to love.

From the moment these two passionate, talented people meet they are caught up in a whirlwind of emotions and conflict which are detailed in the picture: Fitzgerald's attempts at rehabilitation; his education of Miss Graham who reveals herself to be not the British aristocrat she had pretended to be, but an untutored orphan; their fights and their magical moments of love; Fitzgerald's disappointments with his later writing attempts, and with his suicide attempt.

However, the main aspect of the film is centered on the loving moments these two beautiful people shared, and with the effect upon Miss Graham's life of her love affair with Fitzgerald.

There are the moments that have become a part of the romantic American legend, the times of closeness they shared on the beautiful, desert California beaches, the gay moments in Mexico and the Hollywood highlife and parties which they attended.

GREGORY PECK & DEBORAH KERR
Fitzgerald's genius wasn't apparent

Eddie Albert, as a sort of prototype Robert Benchley character, adds a special spice to the film, while recreating a true role from Miss Graham's book.

In one hilarious scene he greets guests at his famous Garden of Allah bungalow immaculately attired, but wearing only undershorts instead of his suit pants.

This was a famous Benchley gimmick which amused the great and the infamous in Hollywood for years.

"Star Song," a Christmas-theme skit, waited over the PA system at the state hospital Thursday.

It marked a first for any state hospital, and Fred Short, of the HCJC drama department, was responsible.

Short recently joined the community's volunteer workers in efforts to make life more livable for patients. He set to work with a cast of patients to produce radio-type dramas over the hospital's speaking system. The laudable result was heard Thursday.

His cast members wanted to know if Short would be back after the holidays to continue his good work. "There is my reward," Short opined.

He was never more right in his life.

Dallas' million-dollar Theatre Center is going all-out for its grand opening Dec. 30. That is the evening Mr. and Mrs. Charles Laughton will arrive for "Of Time and the River," first Theatre Center production.

And while we're on the subject, we note the death last week of Robert D. Stecker, Theatre Center president, just 12 days before the grand opening.

Billy Evans of Big Spring was named second-place winner in the annual Shreveport, La., Symphony Orchestra auditions last Saturday in Shreveport.

A sophomore piano major at North Texas State College in Denton, he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl C. Evans, 2410 Johnson.

Boy-Dog Story At The State

"A Dog's Best Friend," at the State Sunday and Monday, brings to the screen a story of how an embittered orphan boy finds home, loving parents and, incidentally, helps to uncover the identity of a ruthless murderer.

The starring roles are played by Bill Williams and Marcia Henderson, with Roger Mobley in the role of the orphan. The supporting cast is headed by Roy Engel, Charles Cooper, Dean Stanton, Jimmy Baird and Terry Ann Ross. A presentation of Premium Pictures. "A Dog's Best Friend" was produced by Robert E. Kent and directed by Edward L. Cahn.

Sieve Reeves and a feminine companion are shown in a scene from "Goliath and the Barbarians," another in a series of Italian-made movies produced for U.S. import. The film is at the Ritz Tuesday through Saturday.

Actors Find When Reds Wave, It's With A Gun

Any doubts about the reality of the Hungarian border near Vienna were dispelled for Robert Morley and E. G. Marshall while the actors were in Vienna for the filming of "The Journey," in which they appear with Deborah Kerr and Yul Brynner.

During a leisure period, Morley and Marshall took a cab out to the border to walk around and have a look. When a Russian in a watch tower waved at them, they waved back and walked closer. The Russian, they noticed, had disappeared from the tower. Just as they stood against the wooden barrier of the border, out he came. This time, he was waving, too — but with a machine gun! Morley and Marshall beat a hasty retreat to their waiting cab and from then on confined their sightseeing to Vienna proper.

"The Journey" plays Sunday at the Sahara.

CINEMA COMMENT

By Bob Smith

The Christmas season sees some good offerings, in the local movie houses.

"Goliath and the Barbarians" is another Italian-made movie with a biblical theme.

Three big-name TV stars whump up a Western spectacular in "Yellowstone Kelly."

Comedies, perhaps more fit for the Christmas season, include Disney's "Snow White," "The Shaggy Dog," and "Peter Pan."

In pure drama, there is a good offering in "Beloved Infidel," Sheila Graham's story of the last days of that literary genius, F. Scott Fitzgerald.

The musical score is the strongest point in "Beloved Infidel," Hollywood's version of the life of F. Scott Fitzgerald's last days.

Both the score, composed by Franz Waxman, and the title song, by Francis Webster, are inspiring.

The film's weakest point is perhaps inevitable — the failure of mortal actors to portray genius.

I was reminded most of the mugging and strained expressions of Richard Burton when he tried to bring Alexander the Great alive on the screen several years ago.

Genius is the most difficult of all human traits to portray — that rare quality has no physical expressions that can be seized upon by an actor; it is reflected only in the life and works, in toto, of the intellect in question.

After all, if you put them in modern dress and mixed them in with a Yuletide shopping crowd, what would be so notable about Franklin D. Vinci, Shakespeare or Einstein?

But otherwise, Hollywood has done a creditable job with "Beloved Infidel." Sy Bartlett did an intelligent job on the screen play and Henry King's direction was apt.

Gregory Peck, although he does not succeed in portraying the sharp mind of Fitzgerald, is admirable in his portrayal of a formerly great man driven by failure to the bottle. Deborah Kerr, as Hollywood columnist Sheila Graham, renders a sensitive performance.

The story is based on Miss Graham's autobiography, co-authored with Gerald Frank.

HOOK TASTES GOOD

Smiling Croc Zany Hero In 'Peter Pan'

A smiling crocodile — the zaniest creature that ever swam the cartoon seas — is the comic quahero of Walt Disney's "Peter Pan."

Such a cheerful, fearful mock-monster as only the inventive humor of Disney and his animators could create, the Crocodile is the nemesis of the infamous Captain Hook in one of the most fascinating adventures the master of animation ever has put on the screen.

Hook is that very bad pirate who tries to overcome Peter Pan, his little girl friend, Tinker Bell, Wendy Darling and her brothers, during the latter's escapades in Never Land. With a sinister grin on his phiz and the clock of doom ticking in his belly, the silly saurian chases the buccaneer all over the bounding main and keeps him in such fright that Peter can defeat this menace of the wondrous isle. The chase will go down in movie history as one of the high hilarities of all time.

The all-cartoon Technicolor feature, re-released by Buena Vista, is keyed to broad comedy, high adventure and that poignant emotional charm which has kept "Peter Pan" universally appealing for half a century. Out of its melée of fun and thrills, the smiling Crocodile will be long remembered among Disneyfied creatures of delight.

"Peter Pan" will play at the State Sunday and Monday.

'Snow White' Comes Back To Delight Again

High drama, pathos, excitement and music are woven into Walt Disney's feature-length production, the famous "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs," which is now being welcomed back to the screen to repeat its original triumph.

The story is that of the oppressed heroine of the Grimm Brothers' fairy tale, of whose beauty the Queen is so jealous that she retreats to her dungeon laboratory to brew spells against Snow White. Then in the guise of a Witch, she makes a victim of Snow White after tracing her to her refuge among the hospitable Seven Dwarfs. Excitement becomes redoubled when the Dwarfs (Dopey, Sneezy, Grumpy, Bashful, Happy, Sleepy and Doc) chase the Witch into the mountains where, just as she is about to roll a great boulder down upon them, a bolt of lightning takes care of the situation.

The Dwarfs, believing Snow White is dead after her experience with the Queen, build a glass coffin for their friend, small animals and birds taking turns guarding it. But romance comes along in the person of a young Prince. He kisses Snow White, breaks the spell, and the two ride away to happiness.

"Snow White" plays Tuesday and Wednesday at the State.

Keeping Up With The Dog Was Big Problem For Actor

Fred MacMurray confesses he hasn't worked so hard in years as he did for Walt Disney in "The Shaggy Dog." But the slavedriver in the feminine lead, Tunesmiths Jimmy McHugh, Jay Livingston and Ray Evans were inspired to write the song after an accidental meeting with Miss Carere.

"I don't know how I happened to think of it," says Evans, the lyricist of the team, with a perfectly straight face. "We'd planned to do something about eyes or lips."
