Judge Charlie Sullivan, Mrs. Ralph Caton and Judge Ralph Caton

CATON SWORN IN

Young Attorney New Judge Of 118th District Court

Ralph Caton, 35, became judge of the 118th District Court at 9 a.m. today.

In a brief ceremony in the court room, he was sworn into office by his predecessor, Judge Charles Sullivan, who relinquished the bench effective today.

Present for the occasion were a dozen attorneys, friends and on-lookers. Also on hand and deeply interested was Mrs. Caton. The induction of Judge Caton was the only official business at the building today. All of the other offices were closed.

Judge Caton actually begins work on Monday.

Judge Sullivan's plans are a little uncertain, he said. He plans to travel some and to do a lot of fishing. First of all, he said, he intends to rest.

He has served 10 years as judge of the court. He was appointed as the first judge when the 118th District was created in 1949 and has been re-elected consistently. He was re-elected at the last election with no opposition.

Although three years remain of Judge Sullivan's present term, Caton's appointment by Gov. Daniel is effective only from this date to the first general election. This will be in November. Hence, Judge Caton will have to begin campaigning for re-election almost simultaneously with his elevation to the bench.

Top Business Year, Balanced Budget Seen By U.S. Officials

WASHINGTON (AP)—The prospect of a record business year and the possibility of a balanced budget despite last year's steel strike were held out today by government officials.

In world affairs, it will be a year of challenge to the United States and its hopes for peace, Secretary of State Christian A. Herter commented.

Declining to characterize his New Year's statement as either optimistic or pessimistic, he said there is "a new atmosphere of hopefulness for the solution of world problems," but added there has been no real change in Communist intentions.

Secretary of Commerce Frederick H. Mueller added a few ifs also to his prediction that the national output will reach the rate of 500 billion dollars a year within the next six months and continue upward during the year.

"Should there be excesses in credit, severe inflation and stubborn selfishness in strike deadlocks," Mueller cautioned, "then prosperity could be checked."

The revived talk of a balanced budget was more a hope than a prediction, but Treasury officials said that even if it isn't achieved the deficit will be smaller than they had feared a couple of months ago.

September estimates of a 95-million-dollar surplus for the year ending next June 30 had all but been abandoned as the steel strike dragged on. There was talk of a 500-million-dollar deficit.

But barring a resumption of the strike late this month, officials said there still is a good chance of breaking even.

The next official estimate of the situation is due Jan. 18, when President Eisenhower sends to Congress his budget proposals for the next fiscal year.

Two minor developments Thursday dampened further the prospects of any quick steel settlement, despite the increased

CAGE TOURNEY SCHEDULE

San Angelo will meet Clarendon at 7:30 p.m. and the Howard County Junior College Jay-hawks will tangle with Amarillo at 9:30 p.m. today in the semi-finals of the eighth annual Howard County Basketball Tournament.

Other games pit Panola versus Decatur at 5:30 p.m. in a consolation match. This morning Schreiner whipped Wharton in a 63-57 thriller. Odessa was leading Sayre by a paper-thin 36-35 at half-time in other consolation games.

Three Boys Quizzed In Civic Theater Burglary

Three youngsters, accompanied by their parents, were being questioned by police today. Several boxes of Roman costumes, used in the annual Easter pageant, were also at the station. The investigation deals with the part the boys may have in connection with the costumes.

Detective Jack Jones said the trio has admitted burglarizing the Big Spring Civic Theatre building in city park during the Christmas holidays. The boys are between 12 and 14 years old.

The parents asked, this morning, to be taken out to the building to see the damage at first hand. Officers showed the group pictures taken by police after the burglary was discovered.

The Big Spring Civic Theatre, Inc. is a non-profit organization.

prodding of administration officials.

The United Steelworkers Union prepared a new court action saying the companies are not providing reports required under the old contract. It also took issue with some of the companies' advertising statements.

The union contends the Taft-Hartley law injunction under which its members are working temporarily reinstated all terms of the old contract. It says the companies are not making the required reports on union-management unemployment funds. It proposed court action to force compliance.

It was not clear how much the union's new actions reflected the bitterness developed during the long negotiations, and how much was a part of the jockeying for member and public support.

Mueller obviously was considering the steel strike and other possible adverse conditions in his New Year's caution that prosperity could be checked.

"But if national interest prevails," he added, "the next year will be a period of record-breaking business activity and high employment. There will be more money, more spending, more profits and more jobs."

He accompanied his forecasts with some 1959 statistics. The old year's total output, he estimated, was about 478 billion dollars, or 6 per cent over 1958 even when inflation is discounted. Employment averaged 65 1/2 million for the year, up 1 1/2 million from 1958, and consumer spending was up 5 per cent in terms of goods purchased.

Most Nations Set Record In Gay Rites

A high-hearted world cheered in 1960 today with buoyant hopes that good days lie ahead.

In most countries, it was one of the gayest celebrations in years. Many national leaders saw prospects for mounting prosperity, and a more stable peace.

In such a mood, millions made merry with shouts, songs and shenanigans, while church bells tolled and bands played.

Thousands turned New York's Times Square into a reveling sea of humanity. In Rome, showers of pots and buckets cascaded into the streets at midnight.

Auto horns blared on the avenues of Paris, and fireworks banged a salute in German cities. Scottish bagpipes wailed. Champagne flowed in the restaurants of Vienna.

It was a spirited farewell to the old decade, and a glad greeting to the Sixties. Optimism was the dominant note.

British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan, in a special message, looked forward in 1960 to "relief from the heavy burden of arms."

U.S. Secretary of State Christian A. Herter noted, despite unaltered conflicts, "a new atmosphere of hopefulness for the solution of world problems."

In both East and West, there were predictions of economic health and growth. The projected spring summit conference underlined the outlook for peace.

President Eisenhower, recently returned from his memorable world tour, observed the holiday with friends and family at his Augusta, Ga., retreat.

Across the nation, communities welcomed the new year with traditional festivities, frolic and church services. Parades and football games were the highlights in several places today.

For the Soviet Union, the celebration was mostly in homes, but Moscow's streets were crowded and sparkled with decorations.

Premier Nikita Khrushchev toasted in the new year at a Kremlin party with government officials, scholars and artists.

A Moscow radio commentator said in a broadcast beamed to North America: "1960 is dawning under happy auspices. Although the path to peace may be rough and thorny, mankind is nevertheless marching forward along the path with steady strides."

WEST TO HOLD
West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer predicted Western strength will hold firm, and said the "acute threat to Berlin, has been beaten back for the moment."

French President Charles de Gaulle foresaw "expansion and progress" as the keywords of 1960.

Even in trouble spots, there was jubilation. Every amusement place in Taipei, on Formosa, was packed. All was quiet on the offshore islands, the Chinese Communist guns silenced for the holiday.

In Cuba, despite government warnings of a possible year-end invasion attempt by anti-revolutionary forces, the country was in an exultant mood.

It was the first anniversary of the banishment of dictator Fulgencio Batista, and Havana's plush casinos and night spots swarmed with celebrants.

In Tokyo, Japanese launched the new year by scrubbing their streets and stepping out in new hairdos and dress—a tradition symbolizing a fresh start, in body and spirit.

First-Child Claim

DALLAS (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. Roy L. Thornton of Dallas believe their new baby boy was the first child born in 1960 in the Central Standard Time zone.

Doctors at Baylor Hospital here said the 7-pound, 12 1/2-ounce boy was born at one second after midnight this morning.

Professor Dies

DALLAS (AP)—Dr. Walter Reddick, 60, professor of internal medicine at the University of Texas at Southwestern Medical School, was found dead at his home Thursday from a heart attack.

BIG SPRING'S FIRST 1960 BABY
Norman Leroy Gary and his mother, Mrs. Junell Gary

Norman Gary Is First Baby Of Year

Master Norman Leroy Gary, who made his debut at 3:57 a.m. today at the Base Hospital at Webb AFB, is Big Spring's Mr. 1960 — first baby born this new year.

Norman is the son of T. Sgt. and Mrs. Junell Gary, 806 Ohio He weighed in at 7 pounds 12 ounces and according to the father, was 19-inches tall.

HAS THREE BROTHERS
He joins his three brothers, Bobby, 11; Michael, 10 and Kent, 3 1/2, as a member of the Gary family.

Norman was the annual first baby derby in Big Spring by a margin of a little less than one hour. In second place was the 8 pound daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Juan Hernandez, 708 NW 8th, who signed in at 4:35 a.m. at Cowper Hospital and Clinic.

No other births were reported in the city over night.

Norman's timely arrival will bring him a stack of presents offered by Big Spring business houses.

Included in the "loot" he collected by being the first 1960 baby: one pair baby shoes from J&K Shoe Store; 30 quarts of milk from Gandy's; a case of baby food from Furr's; a table lighter

Year's Rain Total 23.14

December terminated with a total of 1.65 inch and 1959 wound up with 22.14 — identical with the total for 1957, according to the records of Grady Randel, U. S. Experiment Station.

Drizzle and light showers of Dec. 31 aggregated .16 inch for the 24 hour period which ended at 8 a.m. today. None of the rain fell after midnight, however, and the .16 inch is credited to December.

High temperature on the last day of the year was 32 degrees. Coolest of the night was 31 but this was replaced at dawn with a 43 degree reading.

This was the wettest December in 26 years. December 1931 registered 8 inches.

TWO MEN KILLED Fatal Crash Of Plane Checked

LAMESA — Civil Aeronautics Board investigators from Fort Worth were in Dawson County today checking on the cause of a plane crash which took the lives of the mayor of Spur and of a 24-year-old passenger with him in his airplane.

Dead in the crash and burned beyond recognition were J. R. McNeill, 58, mayor of Spur, Herbert Heimer, 24, also of Spur.

The accident occurred at 3:50 p.m. Thursday on the farm of Virgil Addison, in the Welch Community. The farm is 13 miles north of Lamesa.

The plane was owned by McNeill according to papers salvaged from the wreckage. It is believed he was the pilot. Cause of the crash has not yet been definitely ascertained but it was indicated that the craft was flying at low altitude due to heavy overcast.

Possibility seemed that it approached a highline as the pilot was attempting to make an emergency landing on a farm-to-market road. The pilot may have gunned the engine in an effort to clear the powerline and the plane stalled out.

The airplane was a Piper Comanche 180.

Graham Addison, high school student and son of the owner of the farm, said he first sighted the plane flying low over the place.

"First I saw smoke and then fire," he said. Immediately afterward, there was an explosion, young Addison stated, and the cabin was ripped apart.

Sam King, a neighbor of the Addison's added that the plane "came right straight down and dug into the earth about 20 yards from the road."

VICTIMS TRAPPED
Fred Rainey, who also lives near the scene, was the first person to reach the blazing wreckage. He was able to pull a brief case from the debris but he could not reach the bodies of the victims. Both were strapped in their seats.

The plane seems to have struck

Few Traffic Deaths Mar Texas Holiday

Highways and streets were wet and hazardous but there were surprisingly few fatal traffic accidents at the start of the New Year's holiday in Texas.

At mid-morning New Year's day only four persons had died in traffic accidents. A shooting and a stabbing pushed the violent death toll to six.

The Associated Press holiday death count began at 6 p.m., Friday and was to end at midnight Sunday.

Texas' First Day Of The Year Dawns Wet, Drizzly And Cool

By The Associated Press
Clouds, fog and drizzle soaked large portions of Texas New Year's Day as a storm in the Rockies aimed snow for the state's Panhandle by nightfall.

Snow swept across a band of extreme North Central Texas on New Year's Eve, and rain or sleet fell nearly everywhere else over the state.

Drizzle and heavy fog shrouded Dallas before dawn as Cotton Bowl football crowds flooded the downtown hotel areas with merriment and New Year's cheer. A damp day seemed in store for the football fans — and 75,000 plus were expected to jam the big Cotton Bowl stadium.

Police and safety officials warned of slick streets and highways as thousands converged on Dallas for the big game. Seven deaths already had been attributed to the siege of bad weather that started Thursday afternoon.

Four persons were killed in a head-on collision 18 miles west of Weatherford on rain-slicked U.S.

80. A woman was killed near Brenham in a two-car crash that occurred during a blinding rainstorm. And two persons died in fog at Corpus Christi in a one-car smashup.

The Weather bureau warned of blizzard conditions in Oklahoma, New Mexico and Kansas with heavy snow in Colorado as the storm worsened during the afternoon.

Light snow and sleet fell in some Texas Panhandle points Thursday. Paris, in Northeast Texas on the Red River, had snow Thursday night with flakes as big as a dollar reported. Gainesville had heavy snow for an hour that melted as rain followed. Sulphur Springs reported rain, sleet and snow in a wide belt in the Northeast Texas area. Dallas and Fort Worth had rain, drizzle and some sleet.

As the sun came up Friday, fog and drizzle covered all of Texas except the extreme West Texas area around El Paso-Marfa-Wink, where clear skies were evident.

needfirst burying the propeller those feet in the earth. The craft then settled back on its wheels. The fire was restricted largely to the cabin which was consumed. Tail section and the nose of the plane did not burn.

A brother-in-law of McNeill's supplemented identification of the bodies as did the sheriff of Crosby County.

The charred remains were taken in charge by Higginbotham Funeral home and later removed to Spur.

The relatives said that McNeill and Heimer were en route from Phoenix, Ariz., where they had been on a business trip.

U.S. Motorists Take Caution; Deaths Down

The nation's motorists appeared to have started the New Year weekend at a safer pace than in the first hours of last week's Christmas holiday period.

Travel was lighter on New Year's Eve and in the early hours of 1960 than for the comparable period at Christmas. Early reports showed traffic deaths running about 50 per cent lower.

But police throughout the country planned all-out accident preventive measures during the long holiday period which started at 6 p. m. (local time) Thursday and ends at midnight Sunday.

The vigilance stemmed from the heavy accident death toll during the 78-hour Christmas holiday period. The final count showed 493 persons killed in traffic accidents.

The National Safety Council estimated 320 persons may lose their lives on the highways during the New Year holiday. During the changeover last year from 1958 to 1959, a four-day period, 377 traffic deaths were reported.

The record for traffic fatalities in a three-day New Year holiday was 364 at the end of 1955 and the start of 1956.

The Council's estimate of 320 was lower than the count in an Associated Press survey during a non-holiday weekend covering the same three-day period Dec. 10-13. The survey showed 324 traffic deaths in the non-holiday period.

No freezing weather was reported in pre-dawn tabulations by the weather bureau. Texas temperatures ranged from Wink's 35 to Brownsville's 67 just before sunrise. Most stations reporting had thermometer readings in the 40s.

Forecasts called for generally colder weather over the state Saturday with precipitation continuing.

Central Texas and the upper Texas coast received the heaviest rains for 24 hours ending 6 a.m. Friday.

Victoria had 1.62 inches, Waco 1.10, Dallas 1.13, Houston 1.19, Brownwood 1.13, Hico 1.11, McGregor 1.39, Corsicana 1.28, Waxahatchie 1.31, Ferris 1.21, Trinidad 1.18, Burleson 1.90 and Crandall 1.27. Lighter rains fell in all sections except the extreme northern Panhandle and in the El Paso area 34 Fax West Texas.

Minimum temperatures Friday morning varied from 35 at Amarillo to 63 at Brownsville.

Broadcasters Face Dose Of New Laws

WASHINGTON (AP)—The new year prospect for the much-investigated broadcasting industry today was a dose of federal law against such things as payola and quiz rigging.

A sterner enforcement of present laws and regulations appeared an even more immediate probability.

A day after President Eisenhower made public a special report he had asked from Atty. Gen. William P. Rogers, most discussion was not about whether laws against fakery are needed, but how sweeping they should be.

In general, Rogers recommended some additional law but principally more vigorous enforcement by the Federal Communications and Federal Trade Commissions.

Several congressmen who have played prominent parts in last year's investigations said, however, they are ready now to go well beyond Rogers' recommendations for changes in the communications and criminal laws.

IRON IS HOT

"The iron is hot now," said Rep. William L. Springer (R-Ill.). "I hope we get promptly into such things as better programming and control of objectionable advertising."

Rogers advocated two immediate changes in existing law:

New Trial Is Asked In Case

LAMESA — Karl Cayton, defense attorney for James L. Anthony and Rubel B. King, Lamesa men who pleaded guilty to an aggravated assault charge here Monday morning in county court, has filed a motion for a new trial in their cases.

The motion was filed in county court and asks that a new trial be granted on the grounds that the court heard unsworn testimony. The motion also contends that the parents of the two youths were denied entry into the courtroom while the session was in progress.

The two youths were arrested by Texas Highway Patrolmen Ralph Ward and Kenneth Wilson last Saturday night following a chase when the officers attempted to flag them down for a traffic violation. They offered some resistance when arrested.

In addition to the assault count, the youths were also charged with contributing to the delinquency of a minor, but pleaded no guilty to that count. They had two juveniles in the car when picked up Saturday night. They pleaded guilty to the assault charge Monday morning and were fined $100 and costs and sentenced to serve 30 days in the county jail. On their not guilty plea to the contributing charge, bond in the amount of $1,000 was set.

Both were released on Tuesday, on $500 appeal bond each.

MAY LOSE CROP

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Loss of a 20-million-peso ($1.6 million) tobacco crop in Veracruz is threatened because of lack of funds for harvesting.

FOR THE NEW YEAR

New Planes, Men And Home For 331st Squad

The 331st Fighter Interceptor Squadron is gaining a new home, new aircraft, and a new Sector with the coming of the New Year.

A change in command places the Webb AFB stationed squadron under the command jurisdiction of the Albuquerque Air Defense Sector, formerly the 34th Air Division, headed by Col. Lewis W. Stocking.

The 331st will sever ties with the Oklahoma City Air Defense Sector, formerly the 33rd Air Division, which it has held since August, 1958 when the squadron arrived at Webb and came under the direction of Col. John T. Fitzwater.

Both sectors remain under the Central Air Defense Command headed by Maj. Gen. Wendell W. Bowman, Richards-Gebar AFB, Kansas City, Mo.

NOT TO MOVE

The change will not involve a physical move from Webb AFB by the 331st. Lt. Col. Dick M. Crowell, commander, said.

A series of conferences between the Air Defense Command, the Air Training Command and the Air Materiel Command preceded the anticipated change of command and resulted in major policy decisions regarding manpower, physical facilities, logistical support, budget, and other lines of responsibilities.

The decisions assure a smooth relocation of the 331st to its new home in the newly completed Air Defense Complex site at the north-west corner of Webb AFB.

In addition, the decisions involved the receipt of Convair's F-102 Delta Dagger, a new all-weather, supersonic, delta wing single seat fighter interceptor plane. The aircraft is to arrive here in May, 1960.

About 100 additional personnel will boost the strength of the squadron.

FASTER AIRCRAFT

The new aircraft have a speed of 850 miles per hour and a range of 550 nautical miles. They are 38 feet wide across the wing tips and 68 feet long. These planes have been in service since October, 1953. Armaments include missiles and rockets.

Col. Fitzwater, on losing the 331st, said "I am reluctant to see you leave us. I thank you and all members of the 331st Fighter Interceptor Squadron for a job well done and extend my best wishes for success in your new command."

Col. Stocking, a 1939 graduate of West Point and arrived in Albuquerque in 1958. He is a native of Rockford, Ill. and graduated from flying school in 1942 at Bonham, Tex. He has commanded the 642nd Light Bomb Squadron, and was deputy commander of the 509th Light Bomb Group.

He served as commander of the Pilot Training Group, Randolph AFB, Tex. in 1949 and later named director of Flight Training for headquarters, ATC. He served a tour of duty as deputy commander of the 11th Air Division in Alaska before taking the present post.

Col. Stocking graduated from the Air War College in 1953. He and his wife reside at Kirtland AFB and have three children.

Lt. Col. Crowell has commanded the 331st since July 8, 1959.

COL. LEWIS STOCKING    LT. COL. DICK CROWELL    COL. JOHN T. FITZWATER

Sudden Death From The Skies

Mrs. Jane A. David, 32, was burned to death when a 1,750-gallon fuel tank fell from a B47 bomber on takeoff at Tucson, Arizona. A burning bicycle which the woman was riding is in the foreground, and her body can be seen at the rear. Flames from the explosion covered the area and reared to a height of 200 feet. The pilot of the plane knew he was in trouble and banded the plane so the tank would not fall in a densely populated area.

T. A. ROGERS RETIRES

Half Century Of Work Ends For Veteran TESCO Worker

If T. A. Rogers stayed in bed longer than usual today and took his own good time about breakfast, none could blame him.

For the first time in about 50 years he didn't have to get up and get to his job. Thursday afternoon he turned over his duties as power plant superintendent for Texas Electric Service Co. to A. E. Deel and took his retirement. Deel has been with TESCO at the Big Spring plant since 1943.

Mr. Rogers, now 68 and looking much younger, is going to "catch up" on his fishing and visiting, and then he'll tackle his yard at 1002 Wood. This has been a hobby of his for many years.

DIDN'T WANT TO FARM

Rearred on a farm, he decided early in life that he didn't want to farm. He began working at various jobs and in 1914 he was hired to Jewel Gilbreath at Haskell, where both had lived for many years. The following year Mr. Rogers joined the Haskell Ice and Light Co. and stayed with them until Aug. 8, 1918 when he began his power company career with the Texas Power & Light at Gainesville.

While there, he met a number of men who became key figures in Texas Electric and his treasured friends, too. Among them was a young engineer who was "grunting" (doing relief work) for the district engineer. Another was D. M. McKinney, now assistant to the district manager here; A. C. McClelland and many others.

He had a way with Diesel power plants, and he became operating engineer at Gainesville and was sent to Paris in 1927 in the same capacity. Soon, however, he had the task of dismantling the plant and then reassembling it at the tiny town of Odessa in the summer of 1927. With this job completed, he moved on to the Diesel plant at Sweetwater, and finally to Big Spring on Jan. 9, 1930.

LOCAL GENERATORS

Prior to that time most of the power company generating was done in the town where the current was needed. There was one transmission line through Big Spring then, and most of that current was needed elsewhere. The Big Spring plant cared for local needs plus most of the Otischalk load. But all that has changed with big modern, highly efficient steam generating plants (such as Morgantown Creek) taking over the Otischalk expanded system. The Diesels long since have been held as standbys for emergencies, and the plant at Big Spring is probably the largest such on the TESCO system.

As remarkable as the increase in demand for electricity has been, Mr. Rogers thinks that the golden era is still ahead.

"When I came out here and heard gasoline engines pop-popping as they worked oilfield pump jacks, I said then the time was not too far off when all this and more would be done by electricity. Few things we do now are done without electricity. It won't be too many years before built-in radiant units or heat pumps will keep our houses warm or cool by electricity."

Mr. Rogers was a charter member of TESCO's Quarter-Century Club when it was organized in 1948. Recently he was honored at a luncheon given by plant employees, supervisors in the Big Spring area and from the general office.

HARD TO SAY GOODBYE

"The hardest thing I ever had to do in my life was to face those guys and say goodbye," he admitted.

Giving up his day-by-day TESCO associations wasn't easy, either, for it has been "my kind of a company; all the officials and supervisors were real down-to-earth folks and they didn't expect the impossible, and they didn't cut you off just because there happened to be nothing much to do at a particular moment."

Mr. and Mrs. Rogers have a son, Leon H. Rogers, who lives in Pensacola, Fla.; and 11 daughters, Mrs. Johnny (Helen) Stewart, Big Spring and Mrs. R. C. (Nell) Flynn, Carlsbad, N. M. They also have four grandchildren, Susan Kay, 12, Margaret Flynn, 9, Allen, 16, and Beverly Rogers, 13. The Rogers hope to get to see them a lot often now that he's free.

Debnam Rites Are Held Today

LAMESA — Novis Debnam, 79, died about 4 a.m. Thursday at Medical Arts Hospital following a lengthy illness. A resident of Dawson County for 42 years, the family farm home is located on Route B.

Mr. Debnam was born April 19, 1880, in Tennessee, and was a member of the Methodist Church. Funeral services were held at 3 p.m. Friday from the First Methodist Church with the Rev. J. Lloyd Mayhew, pastor, officiating. Interment will be in Lamesa Cemetery under the direction of Higginbotham Funeral Home.

Survivors include his wife; a daughter, Mrs. Pink Scott, Lubbock; four sons: R. W. Gardena, Calif.; I. S. Omaha, Neb.; Delbert, Lubbock, Texas; Lamesa; four sisters: Mrs. Cody Custer, Lubbock; Mrs. Britt Miller, San Angelo; Mrs. Vida Christopher, Washington State; Mrs. J. E. Edgar, Carlsbad, N. M.; three brothers: J. E. Lamesa; B. M. Lubbock; W. R. Phoenix, Ariz. 18 grandchildren, 26 great-grandchildren.

City Firemen Battle Fires

A rash of three fires swept across the city during the night causing considerable damage.

The first one, about 7:30 p.m. Thursday, was at the L. C. Gibbs residence, 2906 Runnels. Firemen said the interior of the garage was damaged by the blaze. Firemen blame electrical wiring as the cause.

The front and roof of Gregg Street Cleaners, 1700 Gregg, was extensively damaged as fire swept the building early this morning. Electrical wiring is listed as the cause of the fire and smoke damage was reported to contents.

Heavy damage to the rear of the house was reported by Mrs. Ina Monteith, 107 W. 22nd. Firemen could find no apparent cause for the fire that occurred about 3 a.m. today.

All three blazes were covered by insurance, coincidentally by the Tate, Bristow and Parks firm.

WEATHER

Nevada Sinking Decided Texan On Nuclear Life

By TEX EASLEY
AP Special Service

WASHINGTON (AP) — When the USS Nevada was sunk in the Pacific by a submarine after atom bomb testing at Bikini left her a shattered hulk, Texas-born and reared Tom Bryce decided where the best future in naval service lay.

The Bikini testing marked the beginning of his interest in nuclear power and submarines.

A native of Electra, 39-year-old Thomas Alan Bryce attended public schools there, in Amarillo and in Wichita Falls, where his parents still live. His father, Alan Thomas Bryce, is in the real estate business.

In June 1945 Bryce graduated from the Naval Academy, to which he had been appointed by former Rep. Ed Gossett of Wichita Falls. Bryce was assigned to the Nevada and boarded the giant battleship while it was in Philippine waters.

After his commissioning in New London, Conn., the Washington and its crew of 100 officers and men will be busy for several months in shake-down cruises in the Atlantic. It carries the 1,500-mile range Polaris missile, which can be fired with equal effectiveness from the surface or submerged.

Bryce, who is confident nuclear submarines will constitute a great portion of the Navy's future strength, has been preparing himself for years for his present job position.

Late in 1946 he came to Washington to train in radiological defense.

Friday Rites For Lamesa Man

LAMESA — Funeral services were conducted at 10 a.m. today from the chapel of Higginbotham Funeral Home for Tapsey Eugene Buttrill, 96, who died at San Angelo early Thursday morning.

The late Mr. Buttrill was a long time resident of Dawson County. He was a retired farmer and carpenter, a member of the Church of Christ and the Masonic Lodge.

He had been living with a daughter in San Angelo for nine months prior to his death.

Survivors include four daughters: Mrs. Edna Ansley and Mrs. Florence Aldridge, San Angelo; Mrs. Thelma Thomas, Watsonville, Calif.; and Mrs. Joe Hancock, Lamesa; one son, J. W. Buttrill, Sabinal; one sister, Mrs. Julia Cherry, Houston; 15 grandchildren, 22 great-grandchildren and one great-great-grandchild.

Cameroon, Former Colony In Africa, Now A Nation

YAOUNDE, Cameroon (AP) — The new African nation of Cameroon was born today under a sign of uncertainty and in the wake of violence that claimed 30 lives.

Terrorist bands poured into the country's largest city, the Atlantic port of Douala, less than 48 hours before the new year brought independence. Several Europeans were killed.

The outbreaks were blamed on the Communist-line Union of Cameroon People — UPC — which took to the hills in 1955 to fight for independence.

The UPC's exiled leader, Dr. Felix Ukpokwu, claimed the elections which installed Premier Ahmadu Ahidjo were rigged. He wanted new elections prior to independence.

A large number of foreign dignitaries were present in this gaily bedecked capital for the opening of four days of independence celebrations. They included U.N. Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld; Henry Cabot Lodge, head of the U.S. delegation to the United Nations; and French minister of State Louis Jacquinot.

The country of eight million on central Africa's Atlantic Coast is the first African territory under U.N. trusteeship to gain sovereignty.

A German colony until conquered and partitioned by the British and French in World War I, it was ruled by France under the League of Nations, then under the United Nations.

Three Injured In Car Mishaps

Three persons were injured in a series of year-end car accidents in the county and city Thursday.

One suffered a fractured leg but injuries to the other two were reported as slight.

Ronnie Burgess, 14, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Burgess, is in Big Spring Hospital with a broken leg. His mother was admitted to the hospital for bruises and cuts at 5:15 p.m. Thursday. Their car and a pickup driven by Bert Matthias, 40, collided at the intersection of Salem Road and U. S. 80 east.

Nalley-Pickle Funeral Home took the injury to Big Spring Hospital. Highway patrol officers investigated the crash.

A 10-year-old Latin American boy was struck by a motorist Thursday in one of four accidents police officers investigated on the last day of the year.

In the 400 block of Ayfford, Tempie W. Holder, 407 Ayfford, and Roy Dudley Chemister, 1601 Robin, were drivers in collision.

Mary Lancaster, 101 Mesa, and Freddie Odell Roman, 1701 Morrison, were in collision at Barnes and S. Monticello.

Burglars Hit Rainbow Inn

Burglars entered the Rainbow Inn, East 3rd, as a New Year's celebration.

Police officers this morning said the music machine and cigarette machine were stolen. Some candy, beer and 12 steak knives were missing.

Police said an undetermined amount of money was taken from the two coin operated machines.

Larry Usery, Big Spring, told officers that four hub caps were stolen from his car.

Store Loses Its Shirt

DETROIT (AP) — The men's wear department at a local department store lost its shirt Thursday.

Someone walked off with a $5.45 payroll.

Supervisors were calling at the cashier's windows to collect pay envelopes for employees in their departments.

A man stepped up and said, "I'll take Men's Wear and Men's Hats." He signed the name of the supervisor, took the $5 pay envelopes and left.

Three hours later the real supervisor went to get the pay and the theft was discovered. The employees received their pay. The firm is working out a new distribution system.

Woman Dies, 5 Hurt In Crash

BRENHAM (AP)—One woman was killed and five other persons suffered injuries Thursday when two cars collided in blinding rain near here.

Mrs. W. W. Long of Socorro, N. M., was killed. Her husband, 58; their son, William, 21, and Mrs. Long's mother, Mrs. Ray Kirkpatrick, were injured. Mrs. Kirkpatrick critically.

Also injured were the occupants of the second car, Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Davis of (906 Ave. L.) Houston.

Dr. O'Brien To Speak At Kiwanis Club Ceremonies

Dr. P. D. O'Brien will be guest speaker at the installation ceremonies on Thursday night of the new officers of the Big Spring Kiwanis Club.

The installation, to be made by H. I. Berman, new lieutenant-governor for the 22nd District Kiwanis International, will be in the Settler Hotel dining room. A dinner will be served at 7 p.m.

Berman is from Colorado, Big Spring as lieutenant-governor. Dr. Marvin L. Baker is the president elect of the Big Spring Kiwanis Club. He will succeed Sherman Smith.

Sam Blackburn will be toastmaster for the evening.

Smith said that all Kiwanians are urged to be present and bring their wives.

Yanks' Family To Escape Reds

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—The year 1960 holds happiness for John Armas, 54, and his daughter Donna, 24.

His wife, Barbara, and their son, Johnny, 19, have started the first steps on their way from behind the Iron Curtain to the family home in nearby Wickliffe.

Donna, who hasn't seen her mother in 11 years, received a cablegram Thursday from the Lithuanian village of Pasvalys.

"I filled out the forms for myself and the boy for getting exit visas," it said.

Mother and son have been trapped in Europe since 1940. Both were born in Lithuania, and were detained there after World War II by the Soviets.

Donna appealed directly to Nikita Khrushchev when the Soviet Premier was in Pittsburgh last September. He assured her she could expect her mother and brother soon.

Houston Man Dies In Plane Crash

HOUSTON (AP) — Albert L. Burns, 67, president of Gulf Printing Co., died in a plane crash in the crash of his small private plane.

Burns and relatives were en route to Houston from a deer hunt in the Brackettville area. A son-in-law, Ralph Earhart, 36, of Dallas and a grandson, Bruce Earhart, 10, suffered minor injuries.

Blizzards Hit West With Arctic Fury

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — Blizzards whipped the West with Arctic fury today as the new year dawned bleak and cold across a dozen states. At least seven persons died in the first assault of the massive storm front.

Clouds heavy with snow spilled down from Canada and eastward along the southern end of the Rockies in a giant pincer.

Stockmen and travelers... were warned of blizzard conditions today in parts of New Mexico, the Dakotas, Western Kansas and Nebraska and Oklahoma. Heavy snow warnings were issued for Utah, Colorado, Wyoming and North Texas.

Two civilian pilots and their light planes vanished in the cold gloom Thursday. A Denver engineer, Warren Radine, 33, disappeared after advising the Chadron, Neb., airport he was about to make an emergency landing.

Rain and snow contributed to highway accidents in which five persons died in Texas. A plane crashed in rainy weather near Lamesa, Tex., taking the lives of Mayor J. R. McNeill, 58, of Spur, Tex., and Herbert Heimer, also of Spur.

Two feet of fresh snow buried the southern Colorado Rockies and closed several mountain passes along the Colorado-New Mexico border. Durango, Colo., had 10 inches of snow on the ground.

From 4 to 12 inches of snow hit Utah, 10 inches fell at Luna, N.M., near the Arizona border, and from 4 to 18 inches were reported in Arizona.

Great Falls, Mont. had 5 inches of white stuff. Winds whipped up three-foot drifts that closed highways in Arizona, New Mexico and Colorado.

State Highway 64 to the east rim of the Grand Canyon was closed in Arizona, where 8 inches of snow crowned Mt. Lemmon, only 35 miles north of Tucson.

U.S. Highway 86 was closed east and west of Albuquerque because of drifts and poor visibility. Traffic was halted along U.S. Highway 550 between Durango, Colo., and Artec, N.M. Other roads blocked by snow included U.S. Highway 88 between Santa Fe and Las Vegas, N.M., and U.S. Highway 90 from Socorro, N.M., west to the Arizona border.

Roads throughout Utah, northern New Mexico and southern Colorado were made hazardous by snow and ice.

Temperatures plunged near zero throughout the mountain region.

DEAR ABBY OVERRULED

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My 17-year-old daughter would be a living doll if she had her nose fixed.

She wants to do it and I want her to, but her father objects. Maybe if I could hear from some of your readers who have had their noses fixed and were satisfied, it might help me convince my husband.

Please help me, Abby. I am enclosing a picture of my daughter. Cover up her nose with your finger and you'll see how beautiful she is. Can you recommend a doctor for this kind of operation?

MRS. RSVP: Ask your family doctor to recommend a competent plastic surgeon. If you and your husband and daughter go to the surgeon he will explain what the operation involves. If a conspicuous nose has been a problem to your daughter, plastic surgery is well worth exploring. It has brought amazing self-confidence to many. Your daughter could win by a nose.

DEAR MRS. RSVP: When we make something in cooking class at school, don't you think we should be allowed to eat it?

MARY NELL: ALLOWED? You should be COMPELLED to!

DEAR ABBY: My wife and I have had our names listed with several reliable adoption agencies for almost five years (we can't have our own). I am 34 and she is 30 and we are desperate.

We have a chance to get an 8-year-old boy. He is a ward of the state welfare. His parents are living, but we can adopt him legally. We've never seen him. Only pictures.

My wife is all for grabbing him, but I am not. I am afraid that this boy (through no fault of his own) has already formed too many bad habits which will make him hard for us to raise. I think we should hold out for an infant or nothing at all.

We would like your opinion and the opinions of others who know something of this problem. We are on the fence. MR. AND MRS. K. DEAR MR. AND MRS. K.: You surely will be invited to examine the record of this lad, disclosing his habits, personality-traits and capacity to learn. Or perhaps even a trial period will be allowed. Before rejecting the boy, meet him and judge for yourself.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "MAC": A 33-year-old man does not need his mother's permission. Ask the girl to marry you and when you tell your mother the news don't be surprised if she files off her broomstick.

What's your problem? For a personal reply, write to ABBY, Big Spring Herald, Enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Recent Foods Action Lashed By AMA Editor

CHICAGO (AP) — The government's recent action against sellers of cranberries, chickens and products colored with charcoal was criticized today by the editor of the Journal of the American Medical Assn. as causing undue alarm.

Dr. John H. Talbot said in an editorial on aminotriazole, the cancer-causing herbicide that prompted the government to halt the sale of cranberries shortly before Thanksgiving.

"If turnips and cabbage were included among the vegetables served or mustard was used as a condiment, minute quantities of aminotriazole might have been ingested by the Pilgrims. Yet 18 months later the implication that the chemical could cause cancer prompted another government department to ban the sale of cranberries.

"Little stress was placed on the well-documented evidence that aminotriazole occurs naturally in vegetables, notably cabbage, turnips and broccoli, as well as in mustard or that the antihydrolytic action is described in current textbooks of botany," wrote Dr. Talbot.

He said carbon black was recorded in the Federal Registry Dec. 9, 1958 as a permissible food adulterant but omitted a year later. He added:

"A fortnight after this action a supplementary document by the Food and Drug Administration permitted the processors and the users of charcoal in food-grade candles a three-month period of grace to produce evidence that burned toast is harmless."

He said chickens (iatrogenic capons) were under suspicion for a few days last month because about 1 per cent of the chickens eaten in the United States had been given stilbestrol as a fattening hormone.

However, neither poultry producers, manufacturing chemists nor the chickens themselves had violated any federal regulation.

"When next fall rolls around, we hope that cranberries will be permitted for the festive dinners, that licorice and jelly beans will be for sale at the candy counter, and that Southern fried chicken will be a permissible menu item."

Censorship Probe Panel May Disband

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rumors circulated on Capitol Hill today that the House subcommittee created four years ago to investigate secrecy in government is about to be disbanded.

Chairman John E. Moss (D-Calif.) said in Sacramento, Calif., he knew of no such move and added: "It definitely is an unconfirmed report. I'd classify it strictly as a rumor."

A subcommittee aide also branded the rumors as false. "We've been hearing the same thing periodically ever since the committee got under way," said Samuel Archibald, staff administrator of the special Government Information subcommittee.

However, Rep. Dante B. Fascell (D-Fla.), a member of the three-man subcommittee, indicated that the rumors may have some substance.

"I feel the subcommittee has reached a point of major decision," he told a reporter.

He contended the group "has more than proven its point" — a contention that government agencies and federal officials have repeatedly withheld information from the press, the public and Congress without legal authority to do so.

"It's my feeling," Fascell added, "that we now must either move into the legislative field and recommend some major course of action to correct the problem or just sit back and continue to document these cases of secrecy."

He indicated that he doesn't advocate a continuing watchdog role for the subcommittee. He said if the group succeeded in getting a tough anti-secrecy bill through Congress the subcommittee's reason for existence would be at an end.

Rep. Clare E. Hoffman (R-Mich.), the subcommittee's lone GOP member—and easily its least enthusiastic one—was largely non-committal. He indicated, though, that he went along with Fascell's position.

Any decision probably will rest with House leaders after Congress convenes next week.

One House member said privately that the subcommittee hasn't managed to generate much interest among the public, and indicated this might affect the decision on whether to continue the group.

"I agree freedom of information is a vital subject," he said, "but I think you'll agree it's something that's awfully hard to get the public aroused about."

Atwell Joins Auto Protest

DALLAS (AP)—State Rep. Ben Atwell joined Thursday in a storm of protest against the new Texas automobile insurance plan.

Minor traffic violations and retroactive features of the law should be dropped, the Dallas legislator asserted.

In a strong letter to the State Board of Insurance, Atwell said the plan should not go into effect until the suggested changes are made.

The plan, effective today, is designed to reward safe drivers with no moving traffic violations or accidents in the past three years through a cut in premiums. Other lawmakers, including Sen. Grady Hazlewod of Amarillo, have recently blasted the law.

Atwell's letter said the law now "penalizes the average citizen. He said he thinks the law is unconstitutional.

"I believe the retroactive part about accidents in the last three years is at least unfair to the citizens of Texas," Atwell said. "And I think it is wrong to penalize drivers for minor moving violations the same as the DWI (driving while intoxicated), reckless driving and negligent collision offenders."

2 Young Climbers Keep Calm, Survive Marooning

GORHAM, N.H. (AP)—"We just made ourselves snug and waited for help."

That was how two young climbers saved their lives when a snowstorm marooned them for four days in a cabin near the top of 5,326-foot Mount Madison in the White Mountain National Forest.

The storm, blowing since Sunday night, covered the Appalachian Mountain Club hut with two feet of snow.

Richard Bonier, 27, Watertown, Mass., and Harold Karagozian, 25, Cambridge, Mass., graduate students at Michigan State University were found in excellent condition Thursday by a search party led by Robert Prescott, Lexington, Mass., a U.S. Weather Bureau observer on a day off from his job on the summit of 6,288-foot Mount Washington.

The Presidential Range, of which Mount Madison is a part, has claimed 45 lives in the past century. Most of these were climbers trapped by fierce weather or by injury. But Bonier and Karagozian, by making themselves snug and waiting for help, cheated the mountains.

They said they required no medical attention and immediately started for home in their own cars.

Lonely Christmas Ends With Death

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla. (AP) — A Christmas tree with tinsel trimmings stood just outside a railroad culvert here Thursday. Inside the culvert on a bed of newspapers police found a body.

Officers identified the man as Aulie G. Keese, 44. All he left behind was the Christmas tree.

Neighbors said Keese came here just before Christmas and worked at odd jobs.

Wednesday night, one man reported, Keese returned to his culvert home with the tree, apparently salvaged from a rubbish heap. He set it up with fresh decorations.

A coroner's report attributed death to natural causes.

A Devotional For Today

Come now, and let us reason together, saith the Lord: though your sins be as scarlet, they shall be as white as snow; though they be red like crimson, they shall be as wool. (Isaiah 1:18)

PRAYER: Loving Father, help us not to be afraid as we step into this new year. Teach us to look to Thee for guidance. If into our lives comes sorrow or joy or storm, lead us, O God, safely through. Help us to see Thy light through any gloom. Help us to trust Thee. We pray in Jesus' name. Amen.

Crutch For A Tense Age

The price of tranquilizer drugs will come under study of Sen. Kefauver's Senate Antitrust and Monopoly subcommittee when it reconvenes its hearings on Jan. 21. The committee suspects there has been a huge mark-up in the price of these drugs by the manufacturers to the jobbers and retailers, hence to the consuming public.

Sen. Kefauver notes that these tranquilizers are not only used in the treatment of mental disorders, but are prescribed for and used by "large segments of our population living ordinary lives, but suffering from anxiety, tensions and emotional disorders."

In the latter case it's true — all too true.

Some other body, either of scientists or legislators or both, might well spend a little time finding ways and means of discouraging the millions who use such drugs to ease anxieties, tensions and emotional disorders, with or without medical prescription, from abusing such palliatives.

Not all of them are habit-forming, but their unnecessary use can become a habit to the hurt and detriment of the users. They encourage sanctuary in relief rather than in solution.

We can't concede, offhand, that our forefathers were subjected to fewer or less disturbing pressures than their descendants — long before the tension-relieving drugs were thought of. But they managed to survive and keep their feet under them, perhaps by main strength and awkwardness.

Great people, our forefathers. They had what it took.

A New Year For Good Or Ill

Today, a new year begins. The name of the first month comes from the Roman Janus, the god of gates and doors, therefore of all beginnings.

Janus was a two-faced god, looking backward into the past as well as forward into the future — and who would say the hard-boiled Romans didn't have a poetic side to their nature?

The new year, A. D. 1960, is upon us for good or ill.

Most business indices are optimistic in tone, with high employment, great activity in most lines except agriculture and home construction, and a gross national product that could reach half a trillion dollars. The year in general is expected to improve steadily and to reach new heights in spite of the disturbing presence of a presidential election year.

But there are ifs. The biggest "if" is the steel strike, which may resurge later this month unless a settlement is reached. Both sides appear to be unyielding, and many observers expect the deadlock to continue right up to and beyond expiration of the Taft-Hartley breathing period, but it seems incredible that union and industry leaders would be so absorbed in contemplating their own navels that they'd risk a crippling blow to national prosperity and incur the wrath of country and Congress by shutting down again.

Neither industry nor union would like what Congress might do by way of more powerful laws should their intransigence continue beyond the deadline. This much is certain: if a settlement isn't reached by the deadline, something drastic will have to be done to avert what could become a national calamity.

Nineteen sixty will be a great political year, all the way from constable to President. It will be the first time in history in which the incumbent President is forbidden by the Constitution from seeking more than two terms. It is quite possible a good many Republican politicians who lobbied the no-third-term through as a slap at F. D. Roosevelt will come to realize to the full how nice it would be if Ike could have another go at it.

May the next 12 months deal kindly with you and yours. May all your legitimate dreams come true. May the fish bite for you. May the ball roll right up to the cup and fall in for a hole-in-one.

David Lawrence Are Reds Behind Anti-Semitism?

WASHINGTON — The anti-semitic outburst in West Germany has all the earmarks of having been artificially contrived by the propagandists of the Soviet Union. Its obvious purpose would be to impair Chancellor Adenauer's position in the western world and alienate, if possible, the good opinion which has been developed toward West Germany in recent years.

Demonstrations of anti-semitism in West Germany have been denounced by the Adenauer government, and there is every indication that the German people deplore such evidence of religious bigotry. But the same cannot be said of the Soviet government. Here, for instance, is a revealing dispatch from Manchester, England, which came over the wires of Reuters News Service on Dec. 24 but was not widely noted in the United States:

"The Manchester Guardian, a liberal newspaper, today said that anti-Jewish feelings in Russia 'are being encouraged both by newspaper articles and by administrative measures.'"

"The Guardian cited recently published reports that in Malakhovka, 15 miles from Moscow, the synagogue was set on fire in October as well as the cottage of the caretaker of the Jewish cemetery, whose wife died in the blaze.

"Such outrages may be acts of hoodlumism, rather than of deliberate policy," the Guardian said. "But there is no evidence that the authorities are taking energetic steps to stamp out this evil because it spreads."

"The newspaper said that synagogues were being closed and Jewish cemeteries requisitioned."

Just a few hours after the Manchester Guardian article appeared, the news wires were telling of the desecration of a rebuilt Jewish synagogue in Cologne, West Germany, which Chancellor Adenauer had helped dedicate last September. On Christmas Eve, swastikas and slogans saying "Germans demand that Jews get out" were smeared on the temple walls in red and white paint, and black paint was splashed over a nearby monument to victims of Nazism which bears the words: "This memorial recalls the most shameful period of German history."

The Adenauer government has been energetically conducting an investigation and has made several arrests. A statement from the local government authorities says it is "almost certain" that leaders in the Cologne office of the extreme right-wing German Reichs party knew about the plan to desecrate the synagogue. One of the persons arrested is known to have Communist ties.

Undoubtedly there are still anti-semites in Germany, and the Communists know how to utilize some of them to advantage. Indeed, there is reason to believe that the Moscow government has stipulated some of the former Nazis who reside in Argentina and in the United States to foment friction between religious groups.

It will be recalled that in this country not so long ago synagogues in widely separated parts of the West and South were smeared with paint, and then there were anonymous telephone calls which were couched in typical Communist phrases such as now are emerging in West Germany. There are reports, too, that the Moscow apparatus has made use of some Arab residents in America to foment anti-semitic outbursts in the South and other parts of the country.

The technique of the Communists is to seize upon any kind of friction and exploit it for propaganda purposes. The Moscow strategists are not averse to do the talk either. Though atheism is one of the basic tenets of Communism, and Christmas is not celebrated in the Soviet Union, the Moscow radio on Christmas Day hypocritically beamed an appeal to "Christians in the United States." This was said to be sponsored by the president of a small organization of Baptists, and called for universal disarmament, taking the usual Communist line. Likewise, the broadcast made a point of saying that Christmas services were held in all Catholic churches, while carefully omitting mention that only a few such churches are permitted to function in Russia. The reason that these are open probably is related to the desire to use them as a propaganda front in order to refute charges of religious discrimination. But the fact remains that Christian churches have only a token representation in the Soviet Union.

The Soviet propaganda machine disregards all such inconsistencies, however, and at present has apparently decided that it will arouse anti-semitic feeling as a means of currying favor in the Middle East and as a weapon in the West against the Adenauer government.

The evidence is accumulating, on the other hand, that the German people are trying to make amends for Hitlerism. A few days ago, for instance, Alfred Krupp, German industrialist, agreed to pay $1,429,000 to Jews, forced by the Nazis to work in Krupp factories, and a spokesman says that, if this does not cover it sufficiently, Herr Krupp is willing to increase the total to $2,350,000.

The German people, moreover, have by their expressions and acts since the war demonstrated that they will not tolerate anti-semitism. The corrective action by the local authorities and the cooperation of the people of Cologne generally in investigating the persons responsible for the vandalism against the Jewish synagogue on Christmas Eve indicate that the Communist propaganda maneuvers are not going to succeed.

Any erroneous reflection upon the character, standing or reputation of any person, firm or corporation which may appear in any issue of this paper will be cheerfully corrected upon being brought to the attention of the management.

HE'S IN ORBIT Report From The High Seas

Navy Men Call On The Poetry Muse

By DAVID ZINMAN
NEW ORLEANS La. (AP) — Navy men on watch aboard a thousand American ships the world over joined in an ancient sea tradition today.

They wrote poetry. Naval custom says the entry in the log by the first watch of the new year must rhyme.

In New Orleans, while rain whipped the deserted decks of the sea-going tug Navajo, Signalman Charles Dillard, 35, Bowling Green, Ky., wrote:

"As the year comes in
With its noise and din
And lights of the town burn bright
All's happy and gay
In the Vieux Carre
But duty tonight is our plight."

The origin of the little-known ritual is one of mysteries of the sea. Navy historians know only that it began in the early 19th century.

Through the years, Navy men who drew midnight to 4 a.m. duty have faced the prospect of greeting celebrating shipmates from a sober New Year's Day quarter-deck.

Some say the custom of writing the ship's log in verse started as a diversion.

So, lonely Lt. S. H. S. Fleming, aboard the USS Southernland in windy San Diego, Calif., harbor wrote early today:

"Tis the morning of New Year
And all through the ship
Not a radar is scanning
Not even a 'pip.'"

When the log is scanned by shipmates aboard the submarine Dogfish in the Philadelphia Navy yard, many will agree with Lt. C. H. Andrew's age-old complaint:

"Tis really a pity our Navy
No New Year's toast with rum;
Whisky or rye."

Navy regulations say the watch officer must record all nautical details. Tradition says he must put these facts into rhyme.

While moonlight played on the cold decks of the guided missile cruiser Canberra in Norfolk (Va.) naval base, Ens. Martin J. Finerty, 23, Wilmington, Del., wrote:

"Extra bits of wire both forward and aft
Insure the safety of this sea-worthy craft
Maintaining condition of readiness
Canberra is eager to try some new tricks."

Like folk ballads, there usually is a theme running through many of the verses. This New Year's Day, there was concern for the future in a sampling The Associated Press took.

Ens. K. W. Adams on the destroyer Wileie in San-Diego summed it up:

"My thoughts turn to the New Year bright
We are ready if we must fight
But hopes of every heart and mind
Are praying for peace of all mankind."

Not all Navy men are poets. So, Ens. Wayne N. Rauch of the USS Wedderburn in San Diego harbor may have penned the all-time thought for watch officers, chafed to the marrow on the silent deck:

"This watch, says tradition,
must all be in rhyme
Thank goodness, it happens only one time."

THIS DAY IN TEXAS

By CURTIS BISHOP

Born on this New Year's Day in 1813 was George Bernard Erath, for whom a Texas county would be named and who would be prominent in the Texas story for both his surveying and his soldiering.

The native of Vienna, Austria, came to Texas at the age of 21. He became a surveyor in 1833 and when the revolution broke out joined the volunteer force of Jesse Billingsley. After participating in the Battle of San Jacinto he went back into military action as a "minute man" and then with the Somervell expedition.

He was not, however, one of the Mier prisoners.

He represented his county in the Congress of the Texas Republic and then served in the first state legislature in 1846. He continued active as a surveyor, laying out the town of Caldwell in 1840 and the future city of Waco nine years later. There he made his home.

With the Civil War's outbreak, Erath became a soldier again, raising a company of the 15th Texas Regiment. He was discharged because of ill health, but shortly afterward was appointed major of a regiment for the protection of the Second Frontier District.

He was elected state senator in 1874, his last political post. The Austrian who crossed a continent and a sea to settle in Texas died on May 13, 1891, and was buried in Oakwood Cemetery, Waco.

Flunks His Test

WATERBURY, Conn. (AP) — The owner of a coffee shop arrived in the morning and found his German Shepherd watchdog locked in an automobile parked in the rear of the restaurant.

Police said intruders made friends with the dog during the night, and then made off with some cigars, small change, chewing gum and 15 pounds of coffee.

Hot Bite

LIMA, Ohio (AP) — Ohio Power Co. officials had little difficulty determining what time a raccoon wandered into a substation in nearby Lafayette. Every electric clock in the eastern half of Allen County stopped at 3:18 a.m. The raccoon's charred body was found under the power lines it had short-circuited in the substation.

Frees Bird

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — A burglar who broke into the office of Dr. Don H. Simpson couldn't bear the thought of anything being behind bars. Before departing with $113 from a cash box, the thief let Simpson's canary out of its cage.

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — Plans for a new Tucson shopping center include a 700-foot air conditioned sidewalk. It will be enclosed with

Around The Rim Schmoos, French Unity And Other Things

When Al Capp, several years ago, came out with his Schmoos, most of the characters in his comic strip abhorred them. The Schmoos ended up being slaughtered mainly because they upset everybody's appreciate by ushering in the Utopian Age. Then lately, the Schmoos were revived, with much the same result. Everyone turned against them because they were upsetting everybody's appreciate:

I think Omar summed it up succinctly—the Schmoos grasped this sorry scheme of things entire, and shattered it to bits, but it never got it remolded nearer to our hearts' desire.

Ironic, isn't it? Since World War I, France has suffered from a lack of unity. Her weakness brought us near disaster in World War II, and for a time threatened the NATO alliance.

Now, under De Gaulle, France seeks a new day of glory and unity, and what happens? She again disrupts Allied unity.

I often wondered what would come after Togetherness (copyright by McCall's). We now have the word from an advertisement by a mortuary in Los Angeles: Foreverness.

Ike was more than cheered on his trip abroad—indeed, he was adulated. In India, he was given the stature of a native god. But it could backfire. The man who was hailed as a prince of peace might become filled with too much vision so that, in his search for peace, he loses sight of reality.

It has happened to better men. Yankees are repelled by the thought of the Ku Klux Klan, but few people outside Dixie realize that the decent Southerner (which is most of us) are more than repelled—even filled with a smouldering anger whenever it pops up.

The Klan doesn't touch any of us directly, not in these days. But the thought and the memory still evoke emotional responses. The Southerner is touched by this feeling directly, for it is his unwanted heritage.

The present Klan, and the one of the 1920's, is an evil perversion of the original, which began merely as an underground resistance movement against the carpet-bag governments. It counted white and colored in its ranks. But with departure of the carpetbaggers, the Klan's motives and reasons for existence became polluted.

The South lost the war, most of the good things of its heritage, and was left with an overgrown version of the wrong side of its way of life. And the Klan is most representative of that portion of our heritage we have tried to live down. It strikes at the deepest roots of our being.

The Klan is nearly dead now, but its ghost lingers and bobs up in our conscience whenever racial violence occurs. The Southern conservative's inner being may be disturbed by such things as integration but both he and his liberal counterpart are angered and disgusted by the hooded hoods.

—BOB SMITH

Inez Robb The Great Dip Menace

The inherent American belief in the perfectibility of man makes stubborn reformers, if not presidential candidates, of all of us.

In the face of overwhelming evidence that I am getting no place in my life-long crusade to get women out of slacks, lettuce out of sandwiches, cocktail parties out of favor, billboards out of existence and the Gaboros out of print, I dedicate the bright new year and my good right arm to yet another crusade.

In 1960, I am prepared to war to the death on one of the major blights of the 20th Century — that runny, gooey, drippy, disastrous, gustatory mess known as "The Dip."

WHEN I WAS A CHILD, the only known dip was for sheep. Today, it is a health and property hazard wherever people meet to drink and eat. And it's still for sheep, in one woman's opinion. No, not just one woman — in the opinion of many letter writers, including a lawyer in San Antonio, Tex., who is wild because he has to stand up to eat at so many parties and because so much of what his hostesses ask him to eat is dips.

"I don't mind the dip dripping all over my hostess's furniture and rugs," the lawyer writes on the best white bond. "Serves her damn well right. But I resent having to send myself to the cleaner's after every party."

THIS LEGAL BEAGLE makes a Federal case out of the dip and I am inclined to go along. The hostess who expects a guest to scoop up a soggy, semi-gelatinous goo on anything so fragile as a potato chip (the favorite scoop for dips) deserves what she gets, which is a backache or hill for cleaning the premises after the guests depart.

Dips have always been forbidden at Chez Robb, both for sanitary and humanitarian reasons. So I was interested the other day when my sister, in town from Memphis for the Christmas holidays, said that a Memphis hostess who recently loaned her house for a charity function laid down only one condition: positively NO dips!

YET, IT IS IMPOSSIBLE to pick up a woman's magazine without finding at least six more recipes for dips (followed on the next page by "Hints for Household Cleaners"). All begin with the fatal instruction "Take eight ounces of cream cheese and a pint of mayonnaise."

Now I like cream cheese and mayonnaise in their separate states. But theirs is a union doomed from the beginning. It is especially lethal when the next instruction is to pollute the combination with (1) onion soup, (2) minced clams, (3) French-fried grasshoppers, or (4) chopped chutney, minced dill pickles and peanut butter.

I yield to no one in my admiration for onion soup, clams, French-fried grasshoppers, chutney, peanut butter and dill pickles. But one at a time, please. I crave them in their a priori state, pure and undefiled. Cream cheese and mayonnaise only bring out the worst in them. No self-respecting gourmet would touch such noxious mixtures with a 10-foot bread stick, much less a potato chip.

IT DOESN'T TAKE a hostess any longer to prepare civilized, nondrip sandwiches for her guests than it does to ruin cream cheese, upholstery, rugs and dispositions with dips into whose ingredients it is a part of charity and caution not to inquire.

So in 1960, I urge all other reformers to join me in a vigorous crusade to give dip back to sheep from whence it came and where it belongs. And a Happy New Year to you, too.

Marquis Childs Office Subverted To Personality

WASHINGTON — If a picture was worth a thousand words in the China of antiquity, today, as multiplied by television, it must be worth not less than a million words. On this new, updated ratio the Eisenhower administration has operated its extremely effective public relations program.

Surely no President has ever before had his image so widely projected. This is one measure of what has happened to the Presidency under the present incumbent.

More and more the stress has been on the ceremonial side of the office. The President is at his most appealing best when he steps out in "the role of friend of all the world. He is doing what comes naturally for him as a man of action who has always believed that if only people could sit down and talk to each other they could reconcile their differences.

IN 1960 HE WILL BE ON STAGE as head of state in the first six months at least as much as in the recent past. In the first part of the year a series of state visits will mean the round of dinners, lunches and flowery speeches that will go to Europe for a meeting of the Western heads of government, to be followed by a summit conference with Soviet Russia.

Perhaps before that he will work in a visit to Latin America. Brazil has invited the presidents of all the American states to come down for the formal inauguration of the new capital, Brasilia. This may occur in February, President Eisenhower would use the opportunity to stop at several other Latin-American capitals, although obviously he could not visit them all.

There have been reports of a possible flying tour of the Far East. While this has not been definitely ruled out, it is hard to see how the President could go to the larger capitals, such as Tokyo and Manila, without making every stop. To skip some and visit others would give offense. The White House schedule prior to the political conventions does not seem to allow time.

IN JUNE HE GOES TO MOSCOW to return Premier Khrushchev's visit to this country. Granted nothing happens to undo the "atmosphere of Camp Davis," that should be a gala occasion. With the blessing of the Kremlin the natural friendliness of the Russian people will manifest itself in a great outpouring. The pictorial possibilities — the massed crowds, the magnificence of a Kremlin reception — are limitless and particularly if the President takes his grandchildren with him, as Khrushchev urged him to do.

The consensus of most observers is that this is good medicine for the President's party. The peace issue, as symbolized by Eisenhower, will be played to the hilt in the new year by the Republicans. And the principal beneficiary most surely will be Vice President Nixon, who now certainly will be the Republican nominee for President since Gov. Rockefeller's decision not to run.

BUT, WHILE IT MAY BE GOOD for the President and good for his party, doubt must be entered on the score of the Presidency itself. Because he has not elected to use them, the great powers inherent in the office, and this is true particularly on the domestic side, have been diminished. As with an arm or any other part of the body that is unused, the office during the seven Eisenhower years has been impaired.

The classic example, of course, is the steel strike. One can hardly imagine a Theodore Roosevelt or a Franklin Roosevelt or, for that matter, a Woodrow Wilson sitting by without making a vigorous, direct personal effort to end the dispute. If it is resumed in the new year, as now seems likely, Congress will intervene and with consequences that may be harmful to both labor and management in the years ahead. In his statement at the time he invoked the 80-day clause of the Taft-Hartley Act the President, in effect, invited Congress to find a solution if there should be no settlement during the cooling-off period.

THE STEEL STRIKE IS NOT an isolated instance. Again and again the President has interpreted his role as that of friend to both sides, unwilling to risk his personal prestige or the powers of the office by taking a stand.

This may well be one reason for his wide popularity. He has made few enemies. But it must seem at times that while he admirably fulfills the ceremonial role, which is an arduous part of the presidency, he has ignored the other and far more important role, which is to be prime minister as well as constitutional monarch. His successor, preparing to take over the office just one year hence will be giving solemn thought to the relationship between the exercise of power and the show of power and what has happened to the Presidency in the Eisenhower years.

Favorites Survive First Rounds Of HCJC Tourney

Favorites for the most part survived the opening round of the Howard County Junior College Invitational basketball tournament Thursday.

But anything could happen from here on out. Amarillo and Howard County Junior College were matched in a do-or-die semi-final bout today as were Clarendon and San Angelo. Schreiner went into the consolation against Wharton and Sayre against Odessa.

Decatur showed surprising strength in clipping Schreiner 82-57 with Pierson with 17, Whitmore with 18 and Robinson with 16 accounting for 51 points between them. Durbin was brilliant for the losers, hitting for 11 field goals and five from the free-throw ring and a total of 27.

After making it a real contest for a half, Decatur fell before San Angelo in the second round, 78-56. The halftime score favored San Angelo 37-32. Pierson hit 10 and Robinson 17 for Decatur and McCoulsky had 13, Ray 19 and Keel 13 to pace San Angelo.

Panola handled Sayre (Okla.) 64-63 in the opening round. Five men topped 10 points for Panola. Snelling with 17, Powell 14, McKelvy 15, Grimes 12 and Ferrell 10. Whipkey kept Sayre in the ball game with 22 points for third highest of the day, and Cooprier had 11.

But in the second round Panola ran head-on into the rampaging Hawks and fell out 75-57. Henson set a blistering 23-point pace for the day's second highest scoring to lead the Hawks, followed by Shirley with 16 and Garrison and Evans with 11 each. Snelling hit 13 and McKelvy 11 for Panola.

Amarillo got past Odessa with a somewhat wider margin than first anticipated, 70-53. Vanderloon hit nine field goals and seven free throws for 25 points, the day's highest, to pace Amarillo. For Odessa Morris had 17.

Clarendon, considered the team to beat for the tournament title, found Wharton plenty tough but won 64-55. Johnson got 18 points for the winners, followed by Yarborough with 12 and Carter with 11. For Wharton it was Barrones with 16 and Duran with 13 and Marmion with 12.

Box scores of the games are:

HCJC (79)	F	FT	P	T
Garrison	1	2	1	2
Cruce	1	2	1	2
Evans	1	2	1	2
Shirley	1	2	1	2
Whipkey	1	2	1	2
McCoulsky	1	2	1	2

Jimmie Evans leaps high to pass off the ball in the game against Panola as the HCJC Jayhawks went on to win 78-57 and advance to the semi-finals in their own tournament. Evans pulled a fasty on this play, electing to pass off instead of shooting as the defense had figured. Play continues today in the hotly-contested junior college tournament and finals are set for Saturday evening.

TODAY'S BOWLS

It Looks Like Syracuse, Ole Miss, Wisconsin And Georgia

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer
If you believe the odds-makers, Syracuse, Wisconsin and Mississippi and Georgia should be the big winners as the college football season roars to an end in a blaze of bowl games today.

But they were wrong Thursday as New Mexico State's Aggies exploded for three long-distance touchdowns and upset North Texas State 28-8 in the 25th Sun Bowl at El Paso, Tex.

The boys who establish the odds have made unbeaten, untied Syracuse, the nation's No. 1 team a solid 13-point favorite over Texas in the Cotton Bowl at Dallas. Wisconsin, the Big Ten champion, is a touchdown pick over Washington in the Rose Bowl at Pasadena, Calif.

Mississippi is seven over Louisiana State in the Sugar Bowl at New Orleans, and Georgia a 12-point choice over Missouri in the Orange Bowl at Miami.

In two choice games Saturday, the East is a seven-point favorite over the West in the Shrine Game at San Francisco and the Arkansas-Georgia Tech Gator Bowl at Jacksonville is a toss-up.

Six of the nine postseason games can be seen on national television. Some half a million persons are expected to watch them in person. Crowds figure to range from the 100,000 at the Rose Bowl to 12,000 for the Tangerine Bowl at Orlando, Fla. in which Presbyterian (9-1) clashes with Middle Tennessee State (9-0-1) Friday night.

The Sugar looks for 85,000, the Orange 75,500, the Cotton 75,500 and the Prairie View Bowl, at Houston, between Prairie View A&M (8-2) vs. Wiley, Tex. (2-8), 18,000. There is also an All-America Bowl at Tucson, Ariz. Saturday.

Syracuse is out to prove it can win a bowl game. The mighty Orangemen have failed in three previous efforts. Texas (9-1) is an old bowl campaigner. This is the ninth try for the Longhorns who have won five, lost two and tied one in postseason play.

Weather prospects were far from bright. Rain and sleet struck Dallas Thursday and the forecast was for intermittent rain. Kickoff time is 2:30 p.m. CST.

Light rains also were expected in New Orleans, where the AP's Nos. 2 and 3 teams, Mississippi (9-1) and LSU (9-1) clashed in a rematch. LSU beat Mississippi 7-3 in the regular season on All-America Billy Cannon's 89-yard punt return with 10 minutes to play. Kickoff time is 1 p.m. CST.

Wisconsin (7-2) is out to avenge the only Big Ten Rose Bowl loss since 1947. That was in 1953 when the Badgers lost to Southern California 7-0. Game time is 5 p.m. EST.

Walker, Bible and Richards enter Texas Hall of Fame
DALLAS (AP) — The Texas Sports Hall of Fame had three new members today — football immortal Doak Walker, famous coach D. X. Bible and baseball star Paul Richards.

They brought to 23 the number of Texas sports heroes who have been given niches in this house of accolades.

Walker, the All-America football player of Southern Methodist and the Detroit professional Lions; Bible, who coached at Texas A&M, Nebraska and Texas; and Richards, who played in the big leagues, helped win a World Series and now is manager of the Baltimore Orioles, were given their plaques before a crowd of 1200 here Thursday.

John Kimbrough, the All-America football player of Texas A&M in the thirties; Joel Hunt, who was one of the Southwest Conference's greatest players while being coached by Bible at Texas A&M in the twenties; and Fred Wolcott the Rice track great, inducted the three into the Hall of Fame. Kimbrough, Hunt and Wolcott already were members.

The Hall of Fame is a project of the Texas Sports Writers Assn. and it plans eventually to have a special building to house pictures and mementos of its members.

Cincinnati And Cal Point For March 18 Date

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer
Circle March 18. That figures to be the date California's Golden Bears, the guys who do the impossible, try to put the blanket on Cincinnati's Oscar Robertson again in his bid for a second straight NCAA title as college basketball's best.

California, shooting for an at-large berth in the Far West regionals, and Cincinnati, which can get an automatic entry into the Midwest regionals with another Missouri Valley Conference title, look like they'll make it in a breeze for a Western title showdown at San Francisco. Of the two, Cincinnati may have the tougher time, what with St. Louis and Bradley also working in the Mo-Valley. But the Bearcats are the bet.

25 STRAIGHT
California, ranked behind Cincinnati and West Virginia in this week's pretourney Associated Press poll, have won 25 straight. Their ninth this season was a 65-45 walloping of previously unbeaten West Virginia for the Los Angeles Classic title Wednesday night.

The running Mountaineers ran into a bear-hug defense that allowed them only 39 field goal attempts (they hit just 15 of 'em), shackling All America Jerry West with one field goal (with only four minutes left) and eight points, his collegiate low.

It was a run-away rematch of Cal's 71-70 decision over West Virginia for the NCAA championship last March. In the semifinals, the Bears checked Robertson with 19 points — allowing the Big O just one field goal in the second half for a 64-58 decision.

Grandfals clipped the Garden City B team 47-41 to earn a playoff berth at 3:45 p.m. Saturday against the Sterling City-Garden City winner. The Garden City second stringers also almost came off with a big upset, leading 23-16 at the half. In the third period, however, the youngsters cooled off with a mere 7 points while Grandfals caught fire and poured through 21.

Robertson and Pollard led the Sterling City attack over Forsan, getting 13 each, while Jerry Bardwell had 17 for Forsan. Frank Murphy was red hot for the Garden City B team with 21 points while Juan Terin had 15 for Grandfals. E. Smith led for Coahoma with 14 while Jack Ashbill and Coleman tied for Sterling City scoring honors.

Good crowds were on hand to cheer the opening round of the girls' tourney, seeing Sterling City clip Rankin 49-36. Elizabeth Cole had 23 for Sterling and Alta McAden 21 for Rankin. Forsan girls turned back Garden City 34-26 with Janet Cooh getting 16 points while Jo Calverley had 14 for Garden City. Forsan and Sterling meet at 6 p.m. today.

Stanton girls were never in trouble in defeating the Garden City B's 53-26 when Garden City filled in for the absent Grandfals girls. Frances Graves had 18 for the winners as did Pat Saunders for the losers.

Coahoma roared past Bronte, 48-21 with Barbara Ritter setting the pace with 22 points. Dana Eubanks was tops for Bronte with 10. Stanton and Coahoma are due to meet at 7:30 p.m. today.

Underdog West To Take To Air
By JACK STEVENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer
SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Outweighed and outpowered, the underdog West counts on passing to bring victory over the East in the 35th annual shrine charity football game at Kezar Stadium Saturday.

A more-than-full house of 60,000 is expected for the 1:50 p.m. PST kickoff of the nationally televised (NBC) all-star game.

The West's man-of-the-hour could well be Southern Methodist University quarterback Don Meredith for whom a great professional future already is forecast.

Coach Bill Meek of SMU, heading the West's staff, maintains his offense will be about 50-50 on passing and rushing but observers feel it's up to Meredith to keep the Big East's defenders loosened up.

Meek will use a T formation with the right halfback flanked and the left end split, an alignment designed to feature a wide open game.

Receivers for the Meredith tosses include Chris Burford of Stanford, leading collegiate pass catcher of 1959, and Gail Cogdill of Washington State, a speedy end. Also Henry Christopher, who snagged Meredith passes at SMU, will also see duty at offensive end although listed first with the defensive platoon.

The East ranks as a touchdown choice and it's not hard to see why.

Johnson Leads New Mexico To Victory

BY JIM IRWIN
Associated Press Sports Writer
EL PASO, Tex. (AP) — New Mexico State exploded for two touchdowns in a wild, weird final 36 seconds of the first quarter and went on to upset North Texas State 28-8 in the Sun Bowl football game yesterday.

Pervis Atkins, the nation's leading scorer, rusher and punt returner this season, took a Charley Johnson pass from the sharpshooting all-Border Conference quarterback from Big Spring and scampered 37 yards past three Eagles for the opening Aggie score.

Then came the weird one. On the first play following the kickoff, North Texas quarterback Bob Dut' pitched a pass into the flat. It was intercepted by Aggie end Bob Kelly on the Eagle 33. Kelly was all alone running for the goal when he dropped the ball on the North Texas 8.

The ball dribbled into the end zone and escaped the diving grasps of two North Texas stars. In the scramble, the Aggies recovered and tackle Dick Rudzik was given credit for the recovery and touchdown. However, a check after the game revealed that Billy Ray Lockin, another tackle, had recovered the ball.

The Aggies added their third score when Kelly took a pass from Johnson. The 15-yard play capped a 90-yard drive.

Fumbles — six of them — killed North Texas State. The Eagles had five drives cut off by fumbles — four of them within the New Mexico State 24.

Billy Christie, 150-pound Eagle fullback, fumbled three times and twice New Mexico State recovered. But he made up for it in the third quarter, running 51 yards for the only North Texas score.

McNeely To Meet Logan
NEW YORK (AP) — Two new faces will be seen in the Madison Square Garden ring tonight when Tom McNeely, unbeaten 22-year-old heavyweight from Boston, meets George Logan, 23, of Boise, Idaho.

McNeely has been seen in the garden as a preliminary boy, building a 15-0 record that includes 13 knockouts. In his last appearance, Nov. 27, he stopped Lou Jones in the fourth round.

Peter Fuller, his manager, then decided to move him up to the main event class.

Logan, who owns a 13-1-1 record in three years as a pp, was beaten by Hurricane Jackson, Sept. 3, his only defeat.

The main event, will be carried on network (NBC) radio and television starting at 10 p.m. (EST). As usual in New York, two judges and a referee will score it by rounds, using a supplementary point system in case of eye rounds. Chances are they won't have to worry about points or rounds. McNeely has an 87 per cent KO record, Logan 86 per cent.

Big Spring Churches To Feature New Year's Day In Sermons

New Year's themes will be followed by local ministers in their sermons this Sunday.

A week of prayer begins at the First Assembly of God Church, and the First Methodist Church will observe a covenant service. Elders and deacons will be installed at the St. Paul Presbyterian Church, and Bible studies will begin in several others.

Assembly of God

Looking Ahead will be the theme of the Rev. S. E. Eldridge's sermon Sunday morning. In the youth service at 6:30 p.m., Sig Rogers, a layman in the church, will be speaking, and a trio will provide special music.

A week of prayer will begin Monday evening at 7 p.m., and all are invited to come to the church to pray.

Baptist

SETTLES BAPTIST — Pastor Haskell D. Beck will speak on Plain Christianity in the Sunday morning worship service, and The Faith of Our Fathers will be his theme for the evening.

NORTHSIDE BAPTIST — Looking At Our Record, Deut. 30, will be the sermon topic for the Rev. R. B. Murray Sunday morning. The evening service will see the beginning of a Bible study on the books of Timothy.

FIRST BAPTIST — In the absence of Dr. P. D. O'Brien, the Rev. Frank Pollard, associate pastor, will conduct all three services Sunday. James 1:25 will provide the text for the 8:30 a.m. sermon entitled Living Up to the Law of Liberty. A Task for Every Christian will be taken from the text 1 John 1:3. The evening topic will be When a Christian Prays, Matt. 6:9-13.

HILLCREST BAPTIST — Members of the Hillcrest congregation will hear about The Dead Church, Rev. 3:1, Sunday morning. In the evening the Rev. H. L. Bingham will tell of The Greatest Home Run, Luke 15:11-24.

Catholic

Mass will be said at St. Thomas Catholic Church, 605 N. Main, by the Rev. Fr. Beazley at 7 a.m. and 11 a.m. Rosary and benediction are heard on Saturday from 5:30 to 8 p.m. and from 7 to 8 p.m. Catechism classes for grade school children are from 10 to 11 a.m. Saturday and from 10 to 11 a.m. Sunday for high school children.

At the Sacred Heart (Spanish-speaking) Church mass will be held at 8 a.m. and 10:30 a.m. Saturday. Confessions from 5 to 6 p.m. and 7 to 8 p.m. Saturday. Benediction will be at 5:30 p.m. on Sunday.

Christian

The Power to See It Through is the title of the message that will be delivered by the Rev. John Black Jr. Sunday morning. His congregation will hear him speak in the evening on It's Good Cheer for the New Year.

Christian Science
The thought that acknowledgment of one, infinite God and obedience to His commands is essential for the spiritualization and salvation of mankind, will be brought out at Christian Science services Sunday. The lesson-sermon is entitled, God.

Church of Christ

Minister of the Main St. Church of Christ, T. E. Cudd, has announced his sermon topics as follows: Sunday morning he will speak on "Where Are the Nine?" Luke 17:17, and in the evening "What Doth Hinder Me to Be Baptized?" Acts 8:36.

Church of God

Members of the Rev. V. Ward Jackson's congregation at the First Church of God will hear him speak on Is There Anything New? from Ecc. 1:9. In the evening his message will be A Parable of Life, from the text John 7:6.

Episcopal

Schedule of services at St. Mary's Episcopal Church for Sunday: 7:30 a.m., Holy Communion; 10:15 a.m., family service of Holy Communion and Sunday school classes; 7 p.m. Episcopal Young Churchmen's meeting.

At these Sunday services, St. Mary's Church will honor Mrs. Obie Bristow, Mrs. Hudson Landers and Mrs. Fred Doelp for their service to the Sunday school department. Flowers will be placed on the altar in thanksgiving for their service to the church.

Gospel Tabernacle

The Rev. Jack C. Crawford pastor of the Big Spring Gospel Tabernacle, 1908 Scurry, announces the schedule of Sunday services: Sunday school at 10 a.m., worship services at 11 a.m. and 7:45 p.m. Worship services are also held at 7:45 p.m. Tuesday and Thursday.

Jewish

Jewish services are scheduled for 7:30 p.m. Friday at the home of Mrs. Bernard Fisher, 900 Runnels.

Latter-Day Saints

The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints holds services at Webb AFB Chapel annex. Sunday school at 11:30 a.m. Priesthood school at 1 p.m. and sacrament at 5 p.m.

Methodist

FIRST METHODIST — The covenant service will be observed Sunday morning by members of the First Methodist Church. The Rev. Jordan Grooms will speak. Featured speaker in the evening service will be the Rev. George Neill Jr., minister of youth.

PARK METHODIST

Our First Concerns, Ex. 33:3, will be dealt with in the Sunday morning message of the Rev. Joe McCarthy. His evening topic will be What

Can I Do with a Day, Psa. 118:24.

Nazarene

The study of the book of Revelation will be resumed by the Rev. W. M. Dorrough.

Presbyterian

ST. PAUL PRESBYTERIAN — A Glance At Presbyterianism will be the subject of the Rev. Al Seddon Sunday morning as ordination and installation services are held for deacons and elders. Communion will follow. The evening theme will be A Skill More Excellent Way, from 1 Cor. 12.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN — The first quarterly communion service will be held Sunday morning, and the communion meditation that will be brought by the Rev. Gage Lloyd will be Perfect Peace, Mrs. C. E. McStravick will be the soloist for the 11 a.m. service that will be broadcast over KBST. In the evening a study of the sayings of Jesus will begin. The first will be Meek and Lowly of Heart. The children's choir will provide music.

7th Day Adventist

Services of the Seventh Day Adventist Church will be at 2:30 and 3:30 p.m. Saturday.

Pentecostal

Services of the United Pentecostal Church have been announced by the pastor, the Rev. O. F. Viken. Sunday school begins at 10 a.m. with morning worship starting at 11 a.m. Sunday evening worship service is 7:30. Midweek service is held Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. and Young People will meet Friday evening at 7:30.

Unitarian

The Unitarian Fellowship will hold worship service at 7:30 p.m. Sunday at 1202 Douglas. Subject of the sermon will be Constructive Emotion.

Webb AFB

Protestant Sunday school classes will begin at 9:30 a.m. and will be followed by the 11 a.m. communion service this Sunday. The chaplain, the Rev. Wilbur C. Hall, will deliver a New Year's sermon. Catholic mass, under the leadership of Chaplain Eugene Ciema, will be celebrated at 9 a.m. and 12:15 p.m. Confessions are heard Saturday evening between 7:30 and 8:30.

PRAYER POWER

Boy Returned To His Home, Due To Prayers

By HELEN REAGAN SMITH
On Sunday, Oct. 11, 1959, a teen-ager vanished from his home in Norman, Okla. He went to the youth meetings at the church on Sunday evening, then was last seen about 8 p.m. when he gave a note to be given his brother, if he were not back within the hour.

He did not return Sunday night. All day Monday there was no word from him. Tuesday evening Norman Transcript blazed the shocking headlines of the 16-year-old who had vanished into thin air.

Friends of the family called upon the family. A group of neighbors decided that this was something for prayer and agreed to meet each week to thank the Lord for the boy's safe return. Also they would, they decided, lift other needs which had come to their attention.

The prayer for Ronny's return was as simple as if a child had prayed it: "We thank you, Father, for Ronny's safe return, for your care of him, wherever he is, and for his learning whatever lessons you want him to learn where he is. Amen." The day was Oct. 20.

On Oct. 27, a telephone call came from Salinas, Calif. Ronny was all right, but anxious to get home. With shining eyes his mother told us about the call. "It's another proof," she added, "of the scripture: 'Cast thy burden upon the Lord, and He shall sustain thee.'" (Psa. 55:22) is, and for his learning whatever lessons you want him to learn where he is. Amen." The day was Oct. 20.

On Oct. 27, a telephone call came from Salinas, Calif. Ronny was all right, but anxious to get home. With shining eyes his mother told us about the call. "It's another proof," she added, "of the scripture: 'Cast thy burden upon the Lord, and He shall sustain thee.'" (Psa. 55:22)

JUSTICE—NOW LAW

Board Renders Aid To Confused Folk

By TOM HENSHAW
Associated Press Religion Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — The couple stood before the judges uneasily. They were in their 60s; married a couple of years. He was glum and bitter. She seethed with indignation.

The problem was money. Each had brought a small sum into the marriage. Yet neither would trust the other with it. Each thought the other should pay for his or her own living and medical expenses.

It was clearly a case for the Jewish Conciliation Board of America, one of the few religious organizations in the country whose judicial decisions are binding by law under New York State courts.

The conciliation board sits weekly in an upstairs room of the Jewish Educational Alliance on New York's Lower East Side.

The judges are a rabbi, a lawyer and a businessman. There are no lawyers to speak for plaintiff or defendant. There are no witnesses called.

In 40 years, the board has meted out justice with crisp dispatch in more than 10,000 civil cases involving Jews, many of which could have wound up on the already clogged state dockets.

"The key word is justice. In our view, justice must be more than just the settlement of a dispute by the application of the law," says Rabbi Israel Goldstein, the president of the board.

Hence no lawyers to bring up technical points. There is a lot of impromptu heart-to-heart talk between judge, defendant and plaintiff — who sometimes turns out to be co-defendant, too.

The conciliation board was founded during the days of large Jewish immigrations from Europe. Many of the immigrants spoke no English and were confused by even the simplest problems arising in a new land.

A good deal of the board's hearings are still conducted in Yiddish. "Many of our people express themselves better in Yiddish," explains Mrs. Ruth Richman, who succeeded her late husband as executive secretary of the board.

Some cases are referred to the board by regular courts or other public agencies. But most start with a complaint registered at the board's headquarters on lower Broadway.

The first step in bringing a case to hearing is the signing of a submission — a legal agreement to abide by the judges' decision — by both the plaintiff and defendant.

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—The Texas Liquor Control Board said Tuesday that 13 precincts switched from dry to wet in 23 local option elections held in Texas during 1959.

Ten precincts elected to remain dry. One precinct switched from wet to dry.

BARNABAS AND PAUL ARE SET APART FOR THEIR FIRST EXTENDED JOURNEY TO SPREAD THE GOSPEL OF CHRIST

Scripture—Acts 13.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL
OUR LESSON today tells of St. Paul's travels to tell all his people—and the Gentiles, too—of Christ's saving grace. It tells of his magnificent successes and also of the opposition he met in some quarters.

"Now there were in the church that was at Antioch certain prophets and teachers; as Barnabas, and Simeon that was called Niger, and Lucius of Cyrene, and Manaen, which had been brought up with Herod the tetrarch; and Saul" (who is better known to us as Paul).—Acts 13:1.

"As they ministered to the Lord, and fasted, the Holy Ghost said, Separate Me Barnabas and Saul for the work whereunto I have called them."—Acts 13:2.

In Peloubet's Select Notes, the Rev. Wilbur M. Smith tells us that "the Christian Jews he retained the religious custom of fasting."

"And when they had fasted and prayed, and laid their hands on them, they sent them away."—Acts 13:3.

Barnabas: who, speaking to them, persuaded them to continue in the grace of God, and the next sabbath day came almost the whole city together to hear the word of God.—Acts 13:42-44.

"The Jews became jealous when they saw the multitudes attending Paul's service, and they contradicted him and blasphemed. Then Paul and Barnabas boldly said that if the Jews would not believe, 'Lo, we turn to the Gentiles,' as the Lord commanded."

"The Gentiles were glad of this and many were ordained to eternal life."

"And the word of the Lord was published throughout all the region."—Acts 13:46-49.

However, these noble, God-fearing ministers had enemies who had them expelled from their homes. "But they shook off the dust of their feet against them, and came unto Iconium. And the disciples were filled with joy, and with the Holy Ghost."—Acts 13:51-52.

Many martyrs have died since that time for preaching Christ, our Savior, but the work of God still goes on all over the world.

MEMORY VERSE
"Let no man seek his own, but every man another's wealth."—1 Corinthians 10:24.

away.—Acts 13:3.

"So they, being sent forth by the Holy Ghost, departed unto Seleucia; and from thence they sailed to Cyprus. And when they were at Salamis they preached the word of God in the synagogues of the Jews; and he also John to their minister."—Acts 13:4-5.

"And when they had gone through the isle unto Paphos, they found a certain sorcerer, a false prophet, a Jew, whose name was Barjesus."—Acts 13:6.

The deputy of the country was Sergius, "a prudent man; who called for Barnabas and Saul, and desired to hear the word of God."—Acts 13:7.

But this sorcerer "withstood them, seeking to turn away the deputy from the faith." Paul, however, rebuked him severely, and caused him to become blind.—Acts 13:8-11.

After Paul and his company left Paphos, they went to Perga, where John left them to return to Jerusalem. We are not told why John left his companions.

Then the travelers went to Antioch "and went into the synagogue on the sabbath day, and sat down. And after the

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Day	Book	Chapter	Verses
Sunday	Psalms	100	1-5
Monday	Joshua	24	14
Tuesday	Psalms	34	1-4
Wednesday	Psalms	86	9-11
Thursday	Ephesians	5	19-20
Friday	Colossians	3	15-16
Saturday	Revelation	7	9-10

Most of us take hymns for granted—until the eager mind of a child asks, "Why do we sing in Church?" And then we have to grope for the right answer . . .

It isn't that God prefers singing to other kinds of worship. We know He is concerned with sincerity, not melody.

And we don't sing simply because we are happy. In trouble and sorrow we have turned to a favorite hymn for strength.

Nor do we sing in Church merely because we like to sing. That would seem a self-centered sort of worship.

We sing because sacred music has beauty, feeling, reverence. It is a fitting expression of our faith in God. And we sing because the message of a hymn reaches the soul of the singer and the heart of his neighbor—as well as the throne of God.

BEAUTY MAY LOSE SOME BEAUS

DALLAS (AP)—The new Maid of Cotton, here for her first official appearance at the Cotton Bowl football game today, says she has no certain fellow waiting for the end of her year's reign.

Texas Ends Decade Of Political Turmoil, Now Faces A Crossroads

By DAVE CHEAVENS
AUSTIN (AP)—The end of a decade of political turmoil brings Texas to the doorstep of what could be an era of moderation in party affairs but mighty struggles in state policy decisions.

seven of the 10 years were dominated by one man, Allan Shivers, who served as governor longer than any other man in Texas history.

Cotton Maid And Runners Up

Sandra Jennings of Riverside, Calif., center, was chosen 1960 Maid of Cotton in the finals held in Memphis, Tenn. Margaret Abernethy, left, of Okolona, Miss., was named second alternate and Linda Rice, of Savannah, Tenn., was selected first alternate.

EDITOR'S NOTE: In politics and state government trends, there has been a marked change in the past 10 years and where it is headed in the next 10. Capitol correspondent Dave Cheavens of The Associated Press takes a two-way look at the past and future in the following story.

On the state-national political level, the emergency of Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson as an increasingly powerful and significant percentage was the decade's outstanding development. Its projection as Johnson's presidential prospects blossomed could easily be the high point of the 1960's. Should Johnson win the Democratic nomination and the presidency, Texas' already-important role in national affairs would rocket to a new high.

LABOR STRENGTH
Yarborough's victory could well be a hint of growing labor and liberal strength in the 10 political years ahead. While he won with heavy liberal support, Yarborough also counted many moderates in his camp. Generally, he has worked amicably in the Senate with Majority Leader Johnson.

NO OPPOSITION
This prospect in the closing days of 1959 intrigued party politicians to the point that Johnson's plea for moderation was finding almost no spoken opposition. Win or lose in the presidential gamble, Johnson is in a position to give the Democratic party in Texas a degree of unity it has not enjoyed since the liberal-conservative splits began 20 years ago.

Sex Offenders Quizzed In Death
PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Police report they have questioned several known sex offenders but have failed to connect any of them with the sadistic slaying of Maryann Mitchell, 16.

Political Calendar
The Herald is authorized to announce the dates of public office subject to the Democratic primary of Feb. 23, 1960.

STORMY DAYS
Stormy days are ahead in legislative and state office races. The unsolved crisis in financing becomes more acute every day.

OUT OF BALANCE
Texas government entered the 1950's disregarding financial storm signals ahead. Wartime prosperity that brought in more tax money than was needed had kept Texas out of the red since Nov. 22, 1944.

Governors and legislators as well as city governments face the staggering task of keeping government abreast of the exploding population and growth in many other areas of services needed.

Protests Pour Into State Insurance Panel

AUSTIN (AP)—A revised auto insurance plan became effective in Texas today and objections kept pouring into the state insurance board.

Sponsors assert that the plan is designed to lower the liability and auto insurance premiums of careful drivers and raise the rates paid by careless or accident-prone motorists.

The Texas AFL-CIO, Texas Farm Bureau, several state legislators and individuals have criticized the program.

Critics declare motorists who would be penalized under the new setup will simply cancel their insurance, since there is no requirement in Texas that a driver be insured.

The program, termed the "Texas safe driver insurance plan," calls for drivers to be rated on a scale numbered from zero to six.

A driver with no record of an accident or conviction for a moving traffic violation in three years will be given a zero rating and receive a 20 per cent reduction in premiums.

A motorist with one point will be the same rates as in 1958. Higher premiums are in line for drivers with ratings of two through six.

The board agreed to review the plan at Jan. 14 hearing after Sen. Grady Hazlewood of Amarillo attacked the program. Hazlewood, in a Dec. 19 statement, said attorneys and insurance companies will have a field day while motorists face a "Pearl Harbor" as a result of the section calling for penalties for every moving violation, regardless of whether the violation caused an accident.

Hazlewood said lack of uniform enforcement makes the program unfair to individual motorists.

Sen. William Fly of Victoria is a good start toward fair treatment of all motorists.

Highs, Lows In Hollywood 1959 Product

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie - TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—High spots and low points in the 1959 movies—

There were fewer movies from Hollywood last year—fewer good ones, too. Some of the attractions were surefire entertainment, but that was the trouble—they were too sure. There was little experimentation with new techniques, offbeat castings, and the chance-taking that has made movies a vital, exciting medium.

These were the films that comprised the Big Five for this reviewer:

"The Diary of Anne Frank" was a masterpiece from the films' top craftsman, George Stevens. Unfortunately, its subject matter kept it from being a box office hit. Too Jewish, reasoned Variety. But I believe the failure was because people don't like stories that show a family in jeopardy and everyone knew the tragic ending. "Ben-Hur" surprised everyone who expected just another sex-and-salvation movie of Biblical times. The film had its faults, notably overlength, but it was done in William Wyler's excellent taste.

"The Nun's Story" was another triumph of a craftsman, Fred Zinneman. He took a rambling story and molded it into a profoundly moving film.

"Room at the Top," a British-made film, was a frank, hard look at contemporary life. The picture was studded with fine performances.

Fire Tragedy
Mrs. Albert Svoboda sobs as the fire that took the life of her two-year-old son levels her home at Wichita Falls. Roy Moore, a co-worker of her husband, tries to console her. Firemen risked their lives but reached the boy too late. Three other Svoboda children escaped but could not reach the lot, in another part of the house.

Rating Troubles Make Stars Pause

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
(TV) Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—With a number of television shows in rating troubles, a few cancelled and more in touch-and-go situations, a lot of performers are facing a new year wishing they had made some other decision.

Tom Poston, for instance, Tom was a hot property last season as one of Steve Allen's mad men. When the Allen show moved to California, Poston elected to stay on in New York—to do a Broadway play, to have a TV show on his own.

Poston's play "Golden Fleece" has just closed, however, and his day-time TV show, "Split Personality," is likely to be eliminated in a major program shakeup looming at NBC.

Another is Hope Emerson, the veteran character actress who carved a special niche for herself on last season's "Peter Gunn." She moved over to the Dennis O'Keefe show this season with the role of housekeeper in the situation comedy. Unfortunately, the show has never really taken off and Miss Emerson, a woman of great talent, is lost in it.

Some other performers obviously have been expending some futile effort: Darren McGavin has been playing in both "Mike Hammer" and the "Riverboat" series. In spite of the fact that "Mike Hammer" is one of the much-criticized private eye shows, its syndication continues successfully—but the expensive, pretentious "Riverboat" recently lost its sponsor and is due to be shoved into another spot to round out a contract and then scuttled.

Dick Clark is another who probably wishes now that he had just stayed with the younger crowd. His try for the adult audience in a weak panel show called "World of Talent" was one of the first failures of the season. And certainly Goodman Ace, who left a pleasant, high paying writing job with Perry Como for "The Big Party" must wish he had stayed with Perry.

Warner Anderson, who plays Lt. Guthrie on "The Lineup" undoubtedly wishes now that his TV partner, Tom Tully, had stuck with the show as Inspector Matt Greb. Although the show wasn't doing too well as a half-hour police-action drama, it really got in trouble when it was extended to an hour, Tully left and a number of younger, new faces were added to the cast.

Edward Everett Horton makes one of his rare TV appearances with George Gobel on Jan. 3. It's a big year for stories about nuns—Viveca Lindfors now will play one—with Bill D'Orsay as a Mother Superior—on an upcoming episode of "Adventures in Paradise."

Bob Hope is making a Jan. 13 show out of his holiday trip to Alaska to entertain troops.

Gambling Loser Invokes Old Law

PITTSBURGH (AP)—A local man has invoked a 1794 Pennsylvania law in an effort to recover $1,500 he claims he lost in card games.

Henry Scerratore filed the suit Thursday against Alvin Meyers and James Caplan, contending he lost $400 and $1,500 in two card games with the pair last Dec. 23.

The 165-year-old law states that if anyone loses money or any other thing of value in a game of hazard he shall have the right within ten days to sue for recovery of the money or goods.

Dies Of Wounds

HAMILTON, Tex. (AP)—Harry Bunnell, 76, died Thursday night of gunshot wounds suffered earlier in the day.

More Candidates For Appeals Bench

AUSTIN (AP)—The State Democratic Executive Committee said Thursday that two more candidates have formally filed in two Courts of Civil Appeals races.

Jim C. Langdon, El Paso, who is now serving an appointed term as chief justice of the Eighth Court of Civil Appeals, will be a candidate for his first elected term.

Thomas J. Renfro, Fort Worth, filed for re-election as associate justice on the Second Court of Appeals.

Other candidates have announced for statewide jobs but have not formally filed with the State Democratic Committee.

4 Persons Killed In 2-Car Collision

WEATHERFORD (AP)—A two-car collision on rain-slick U.S. Highway 80, 18 miles west of here, killed four persons late Thursday.

The dead were Frank Cook, 47, of Fort Worth; his wife, 42; their son, Rodney, 9; and Teddy Tollett, 21, Fort Worth railroad employee who formerly lived in Ranger.

Highway Patrolman H. C. Tinsley said Tollett, driving alone and traveling west, "was passing a string of cars" when he hit his brakes after sighting the Cook auto. Tollett's car skidded in front of the Cook vehicle.
