Back In Action

Senate leaders—Everett Dirksen, Illinois Republican, and Lyndon Johnson, Texas Democrat—pose before the 86th Congress convened for its second session.

Demo Leaders Pushing Civil Rights Action

WASHINGTON (AP)—Democratic leaders worked today against some handicaps to get the party-splitting civil rights issue out of Congress early in this election year by passing a middle-of-the-road bill.

House under conditions as favorable as possible to the Southerners. HEARINGS PLANNED In the Senate, meanwhile, Chairman Thomas C. Hennings Jr. (D-Mo) said the Rules Committee will hold hearings within a month on legislation to provide for appointment of federal voting registrars.

Father Held After Deaths Of 3 Children

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—A mother returned home this morning from taking an older daughter to work and found her three other children fatally beaten with a hammer.

The children sprawled on the living room floor. One was dead when the mother found them and the other two died shortly thereafter.

Police said the father, whom they identified as Frank Robinson, 66, fled the house when his wife returned. Officers arrested him without a fight soon thereafter on nearby railroad tracks.

David Robinson, 4, was dead when police arrived. Amos, 10, and Linda, 8, died in a hospital.

The screams of the mother could be heard throughout the neighborhood. But police would not permit reporters to talk with her immediately, and they prevented newsmen from entering the house.

Mrs. Robinson told police that when she arrived home she met her husband in front of the house and he told her something had happened to the children. Then he left.

Robinson is a retired butcher. He is heavyset and crippled with arthritis.

A daughter, Miss Mary Helen Coy, could not give a reason for the attack. She said her stepfather had always been kind and cheerful toward the children.

Rep. Owen Enters Race

EL PASO, Tex. (AP)—Frank Owen III, president pro tem of the Senate and thus the third ranking Texas official, has announced for reelection to the Legislature.

He is seeking his second full term in the Senate after having served in the law making body since 1950.

He was elected this year, in 1952 and 1954. He ran for both the Senate and House in 1954 when the Senate post became vacant and was elected to both, but resigned from the House.

Owen won his first full term in the Senate in 1956. As the last session closed, the El Paso area named president pro tem, which places him immediately behind the governor and lieutenant governor in line of succession.

The El Paso area is 33 years old and comes from a pioneer farming family. His grandfather is credited with being the first to irrigate cotton in the El Paso area.

Lamesa Woman Is Badly Burned In Explosion

Mrs. Vivian Bissey, Lamesa, who was badly burned in an explosion Wednesday, was reported in serious condition, but "doing well" this morning by hospital attendants.

With her husband, M. G. Bissey, the woman was in Guy's Lounge, West Highway 80, when the explosion occurred and she was injured.

Home Ward, city electrical inspector, said the explosion was caused by a perfume dispenser in the ladies' rest room of the cafe. Apparently, the dispenser had leaked its contents behind the walls of the building and when Mrs. Bissey attempted to light a cigarette, the explosion occurred.

Electrical wires were scorched by the explosion and one wall was jarred loose. However, firemen estimate the damage to the building as minor.

A River ambulance carried the woman to Malons - Hogan Hospital.

Witnesses on the scene said nylon garments the woman was wearing were melted by the explosion. She received, according to hospital attendants, second and third degree burns over 36 per cent of her body.

Officials first guessed the explosion was caused by sewer gas or natural gas collecting behind the leaking dispenser and the cause was nailed to it.

Sandburg Notes 82nd Birthday

FLAT ROCK, N.C. (AP)—Despite good health, and the usual quick wit, Carl Sandburg passed his 82nd birthday at his home in this western North Carolina mountain community. A reporter came to call Wednesday on the occasion of his birthday. The white-haired Sandburg, with a gleam in his eye, put a sheaf of telegrams on a table and said, "There's a small segment of the American population who don't hate me."

Main Points In Ike Speech

WASHINGTON (AP)—Here are the main points covered in President's Eisenhower's State of the Union message today:

The Soviet Union—Has expressed interest in reducing perils of war, but we must not "be misled by pleasant promises until they are tested by performance."

Economic Outlook—"1960 promises to be the most prosperous year in our history."

Space—U.S. expenditures will be practically doubled in 1961; military program not suffering from lack of big rocket engines needed for deep exploration of space; development of large rocket engines is being pressed forward.

Free World—Other prosperous countries should join the United States in giving urgently needed help to developing nations.

Defense—Long-range bombers are being supplemented by Atlas missiles, missile submarines; but the United States will never turn loose this destructive power except in self-defense.

Strikes—The President will encourage discussions between management and labor to consider public interest and avoid crippling strikes such as the steel strike.

Agriculture—The President urges Congress to enact legislation to reduce surpluses and increase farm income.

Civil Rights—He hopes Congress will consider his civil rights recommendations in last year's message as well as additional recommendations by the civil rights commission; says right to vote is one of the strongest pillars of a free society.

Inflation—"No persons, city, state or organized group can afford to evade the obligation to resist inflation. I shall present to the Congress for 1961 a balanced budget."

Education—The administration has proposed a program to stimulate classroom construction by encouraging state and local efforts.

Congress—Although faced with the opposition party in power again, the President said he looks forward to a close and constructive association.

They Didn't Come For Hair Of Dog, Cause They Were

By JACK STILLMAN BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — It all started when Mozart Coleman got a toy piano for Christmas.

Mozart started tinkering with the piano. He liked to show off. And to show off, it takes a party.

So Mozart gave a party and it was a fur piece from the conventional. Mozart is a French poodle and all his guests were French poodles.

And if you don't think the party was a howling success, you're barking up the wrong tree.

Mozart is the pet of Mrs. John S. Coleman. Like his illustrious namesake, Mozart plays a mean piano. He was the life of the party.

The occasion, announced earlier this week, created quite a howl. The Birmingham News received some complaints and additional complaints were voiced on a radio program that permits telephone callers to air their opinions.

But at least one caller spoke in Mozart's behalf.

"Perhaps he has a talent which should be cultivated," an unidentified woman said.

Wednesday's party was the highlight of the poodle social season. Some of the guests arrived in chauffeur-driven limousines.

Cherie and Missey (owned by Mrs. Charles Greer) arrived in limousines. Cherie had a white, with velvet collars.

Vonde Hum (owned by Miss Susan Shook) wore a wing collar, black tie, red barrette and a red evening cape.

The engineer's log, found in the 25-foot nose section of the wreckage, bore a notation that the flight had checked with the Wilmington Airport at 2:07 a.m. Twenty-four minutes later the crew reported the flight was south of Wilmington, thus beginning the 550-mile leg over the Atlantic to Florida.

A stopped watch on one of the victims, and eye witness reports, set the time of the crash at 2:45 a.m.

But it was some four hours later before the location was reported by Richard Randolph, owner of the 82-acre farm where the wreckage was strewn. Shortly after daybreak, Randolph walked into his field and saw the debris.

"I yelled, 'hey! hey!'," he said. "But nobody answered."

PLANS RENEWED At a conference today in the Texas Highway Department offices on South Gregg, attended by Ben Wilkinson, supervising resident engineer of the Big Spring area, Joe Smoot, who is to be resident engineer for the construction project, Bryant Collins, the prime contractor, and his staff, plans for the start of the job were reviewed.

Also discussed at length were methods of handling traffic on the road while the job is in progress. Safety to the travelling public and a minimum retardation of traffic flow will be sought. Jimmy Parks, state highway patrol officer, was on hand to confer with the group on methods and problems.

Wilkinson explained that traffic will be routed through the construction area.

USE CAUTION Wilkinson pointed out that adequate barricades and warning signals will be prominently displayed, but motorists should be extremely cautious in passing through the area as it will be heavily traveled by large highway construction equipment.

The construction area will be zoned for a maximum speed of 10 miles per hour for the protection of motorists and workmen alike. The entire length will be patrolled to minimize inconveniences to motorists. Cooperation of the public is requested in obeying all traffic signals, warning signs, and speed zones, Wilkinson said.

State Of The Union Message Optimistic

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower predicted today that 1960 will be the most prosperous year in America's history. And he declared the world is entering a vast new technological age which can "make poverty and human misery obsolete."

He also expressed guarded optimism about better relations with the Soviet Union. "We must strive," he said, "to break the calamitous cycle of frustrations and crises which, if unchecked, could spiral into nuclear disaster; the ultimate insanity."

In his annual State of the Union message to Congress, the President personally told a joint session of the House and Senate the nation is armed with enormous defensive military might which must be meticulously maintained until the Soviet Union agrees to effectively safeguarded disarmament.

Eisenhower predicted no nation ever will risk general war against the United States if this might is maintained. He announced special Gratified Over Steel Settlement He expressed gratification over settlement earlier this week of the marathon steel dispute, and said both management and labor must make every effort to increase productivity and thus avoid price increases.

To the newly convened Congress sprinkled with presidential hopefuls, Eisenhower—posting he is beginning his last year in office—appealed for harmony in relations between the White House and the Democratic-controlled Congress.

"Every minute spent in irrelevant interbranch wrangling is precious time taken from the intelligent initiation and adoption of coherent policies for our national survival and policies," he said.

The President, who has had to work with a Democratic-run Congress the last five of his seven years in office, remarked that nevertheless "we have weathered the storms." And he pledged in his final year to "devote my full Texan Was Aboard Discovered Plane VALETTA, Malta (AP) — One Texan was among 10 American servicemen aboard a U.S. plane, the wreckage of which was reported Wednesday by British Naval Headquarters to have been sighted in Libya.

He was identified as Sp. 4.C. George W. Hightower, son of Chesley A. Hightower (Route One, Box 7) Waskom, Tex.

A U.S. search plane found the wreckage 75 miles south of the Libyan port of Benghazi, destination of the plane on a flight from Wheelus Airfield in Tripoli. A spokesman said there was no sign of life. The plane disappeared Tuesday.

U. S. 87 Road Work To Start Work of rebuilding U. S. 87 from south of Big Spring to the Glasscock County line will be started on Jan. 14. The $496,000 job, which calls for complete reconstruction of the highway, is to be completed by July 15.

Collins Construction Co., Austin Texas, contractors for the project said that work will start work at the Glasscock County line and extend northward. Included in the plans will be widening of the present slab to 26 feet, addition of eight foot shoulders to either side, reconstruction and widening of existing structures and in some places changing the grade. Structures—21 in all—will be rebuilt and widened as the initial project.

The road is being built along the present right-of-way and no additional land for this purpose is needed.

Hunt For Missing Odessan To Resume At Lake Concho SAN ANGELO (AP)—A search for the body of Jim Edward Williams, 31, Odessa auto salesman, was to be resumed in the North Concho Lake today.

Williams has been missing since leaving his Odessa home Tuesday night after telling his wife he planned to have his boat repaired and then sell it.

The boat was found Wednesday after it apparently crashed into the lake dam. A 22 pistol was found in the water, attached to a string from the boat. The pistol conserved seven unfired shells.

When her husband failed to return home, Mrs. Williams phoned Don Campbell, a former employee of Williams at a San Angelo auto firm. Campbell went to the lake and found Williams' pickup truck and trailer.

A letter in the pickup was addressed to Mrs. Williams. Its contents weren't disclosed.

Mrs. Williams came to San Angelo, talked to Sheriff Cecil Turner and then returned home.

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower told a cheering Congress today his new budget will call for a $4-200,000,000 surplus, which he wants applied as a reduction of the national debt.

tacular new advances in precision use of this country's Atlas intercontinental ballistic missile.

The President also rejected criticism that the Soviet Union's development of superstrut rocket engines threatens America in the military missile field. The U. S. program in the field "does not suffer from our present lack of very large rocket engines, which are so necessary in distant space exploration," Eisenhower said.

energies to the tasks at hand, whether these involve travel for the promoting of world understanding, negotiations to reduce international discord, or constant discussions and communications with the Congress and the American people on issues both domestic and foreign.

The President's State of the Union message sketched the administration's 1960 program in only broad outline. The details will be set forth in his Jan. 18 budget message which he announced formally today will call for balanced spending and income in the new fiscal year, starting July 1.

The reported scheduled spending figure is a peacetime record — about $1 billion dollars.

Eisenhower said that despite the long steel dispute, marked by a 116-day strike and then a back-to-work court order, the budget for the current fiscal year ending June 30 will show a surplus of about 200 million dollars.

No Surprises On Legislation The message contained no real surprises in the field of legislation. Among other things, he called for continuance of foreign aid to bolster the free world against communism; for enactment of the civil rights program he recommended last year, particularly with respect to protecting the right to vote; new farm laws—also recommended previously—to replace "an outmoded system which has failed to protect farm income" and a school aid program with federal incentives to encourage state and local classroom construction.

Alluding to the threat of the free world from communism, Eisenhower said: "With both sides of this divided world in possession of unbelievably destructive weapons, mankind approaches a state where mutual annihilation becomes a possibility."

He said recent Soviet department and pronouncements "suggest the possible opening of a somewhat less-strained period in the relationships between the Soviet Union and the free world."

Eisenhower cautioned free nations against being "misled by pleasant promises," but he said the United States intends to deal with the Soviet Union with the utmost seriousness.

Eisenhower made it plain he does not expect the Soviet Union to touch off an all-out war.

"It is my studied conviction that no nation will ever risk war against us unless we should be so foolish as to neglect the defense forces we now so powerfully support," he said.

"It is worldwide knowledge that any nation which might be tempted to attack the United States, even though our country might sustain great losses, would itself promptly suffer a terrible destruction."

Atlas Missile A Destructive Weapon In sounding this warning, Eisenhower disclosed this about Atlas intercontinental missiles now becoming operational:

"In 14 recent test launchings, at ranges of over 5,000 miles, Atlas has been striking on an average within two miles of the target. This is less than the length of a jet runway—well within the circle of total destruction," he said of the Atlas missile.

The President said the nation's striking power in manned bombers is unmatched. He added that increasing numbers of nuclear submarines, some armed with deadly Polaris missiles, will be entering service.

In this presidential and congressional election year, with Republicans sure to hammer at peace and prosperity campaign themes, Eisenhower said:

"We must fight inflation," he said, "as we would a fire that imperils our homes. Only by so doing can we prevent it from destroying our salaries, savings, pensions and insurance, and from gnawing away at the very roots of a free, healthy economy and the nation's security."

Another of the "nagging disorders" that must be dealt with, said Eisenhower, is in the field of civil rights.

"In the long perspective of history," Eisenhower said, "the right to vote has been one of the strongest pillars of a free society. Our first duty is to protect this right against all encroachment. In spite of constitutional guarantees, and notwithstanding much progress of recent years, bias still deprives some persons in this country of equal protection of the laws."

Conservative Dies WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Richard M. Simpson (R-Pa.), for years one of Capitol Hill's leading apostles of conservatism, died today. He was 59.

3 Rows Of Plane Victims In Gym Await Identification

BOLIVIA, N.C. (AP) — Three rows of shrouded bodies, victims of 1960's first airliner crash, lay in the Southport High School gymnasium today awaiting identification by relatives and an FBI fingerprint team.

Thirty-four persons were aboard the National Airlines DC6B which apparently disintegrated in the air and cast wreckage and bodies over a 20-acre area early Wednesday. None survived.

Searchers found 32 bodies by nightfall in the plowed fields and marshy piney woods where the New York-to-Miami flight fell.

Darkness and foul weather delayed the search for the remaining two victims overnight.

C. Lester Trotter, an assistant director of the FBI, came here from Washington with a 4-man team to help identify the 29 passengers and five crew members on the plane.

Relatives also began arriving to identify and claim their dead. Another federal official, David L. Thompson of the Civil Aeronavics Board's New York area office, was dispatched to direct the investigation into the cause of the crash.

The plane "apparently disintegrated in the air from an unknown cause," said John L. Morris, a National Airlines vice president. "The plane was in good order and was in the hands of a veteran crew. There was nothing from the pilot prior to the crash that would indicate any malfunction."

However, the altimeter in the wreckage of the cockpit showed an elevation of 1,500 feet. And instruments indicated the right wing may have been down as if the plane was banking.

It appeared that the crew and passengers may have known the plane was in difficulty. A National Airlines spokesman said, "Judging from the fact that some of the victims had on life jackets, it can be presumed that the captain had informed the passengers of an emergency situation and was trying to make an emergency landing."

Four bodies were vest-type lift jackets and several victims were strapped to their seats with safety belts. An inflated 25-man life raft was wrapped around some pine trees. But it may have inflated itself automatically.

There also were indications that the pilot might have been seeking a refuge in the murky, rainy night.

A chunk of metal was found at Kure Beach, 25 miles east of the crash scene, or about five minutes away at the plane's normal cruising speed. The craft's southbound route would not have crossed both Kure Beach and Bolivia.

"It was very definitely part of the aluminum skin of an airplane, presumably this plane," said an NAL spokesman about the Kure Beach discovery.

Another indication that the aircraft may have been off its course and coming back was the recollection of residents at the crash site.

Mrs. Richard Randolph, 37-year-old mother of 11, said the noise of the descending plane awoke her.

She first heard it from a direction generally south of her home, and later heard an explosion to the north. And Clyde Galloway, who lives about half mile north of the site and who described himself as a light sleeper, said he heard nothing.

The engineer's log, found in the 25-foot nose section of the wreckage, bore a notation that the flight had checked with the Wilmington Airport at 2:07 a.m. Twenty-four minutes later the crew reported the flight was south of Wilmington, thus beginning the 550-mile leg over the Atlantic to Florida.

A stopped watch on one of the victims, and eye witness reports, set the time of the crash at 2:45 a.m.

But it was some four hours later before the location was reported by Richard Randolph, owner of the 82-acre farm where the wreckage was strewn. Shortly after daybreak, Randolph walked into his field and saw the debris.

"I yelled, 'hey! hey!'," he said. "But nobody answered."

DEAR ABBY

LAUGH A LITTLE

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I have been married only three weeks and we have already had a very serious fight. Here's how it happened: The proofs of our wedding pictures came and unfortunately there were only two pictures that were any good. There was one where I looked good but my husband looked terrible. In the other one, my husband looked good but I looked terrible. The photographer said if he took them over we would have to pay for another sitting and that is out of the question.

Family Delays Death Verdict

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—A verdict in the death of a farmer beauty queen was being withheld today by medical examiner Robert Hausman.

An inquiry into the death of Mrs. David Davis, 30, was conducted Tuesday by Dr. Hausman. Mrs. Davis, who was Miss San Antonio in 1949, died of head injuries suffered in her home Sunday night.

Her husband, city health officer of suburban Castle Hills, said his wife tripped in a bathroom at their home and fell backward. Dr. Davis said her head struck a tile cosmetic bar in the bathroom.

U.S.-Russ Apple Cross Is Praised

MOSCOW (AP)—Soviet scientists say they have crossed American and Russian apples to produce a new variety that can be "preserved fresh for 570 days."

The Soviet news agency Tass said the variety, called the Gared hybrid, resulted from a cross between the American Superb, which it said can be preserved 225 days, and the Russian Grushovka Verenskaya. It said the new apple averaged 4 1/2 ounces.

Scientists at the Kirghiz Academy of Sciences in the mountainous Kirghiz republic, where the Gared hybrid was developed, said it can thrive at altitudes up to 6,000 feet.

Water District Gets U.S. Loan

WASHINGTON (AP)—A $2,700,000 loan to the White River Municipal Water District in West Texas for building a dam and reservoir was approved Tuesday.

Cities to be served by the project given Federal Housing and Home Finance Agency approval are Spur, Ralls, Crosbyton and Post. The cost, including conduit, is estimated at four million dollars. The Texas Water Development Board is to make $1,300,000 of the loan available to the district.

Suit To Break Ben Franklin Will Denied

BOSTON (AP)—A trust fund of 1,000 pounds sterling established for "young married artificers" in 1790 by Benjamin Franklin must be held and allowed to grow until 1991.

The Massachusetts Supreme Judicial Court so ruled Tuesday in refusing to terminate the trust fund which now has grown to $1,578,090.

The entire amount will be divided between Boston and the Commonwealth "for public works" as Franklin directed in his will. It was established to provide loans, at 5 per cent, to "young married artificers under age of 25 years" for establishment of their own shops.

Franklin willed that the original 1,000 pounds given to Boston and Philadelphia be allowed to grow for 100 years when payments for public works were to be made to both cities.

The remainder, Franklin stipulated, must be retained for another 100 years and then be abolished and the money divided between Boston and Massachusetts.

The Franklin Technical Institute in Boston was founded in 1891 with a share of the funds.

The Franklin Foundation of Boston had sued the Commonwealth, the attorney general and the city of Boston, asking the city and state be authorized now to pay the funds to the Franklin Technical Institute.

The suit contended it no longer is practicable to carry out Franklin's original plan.

The court, in an 11-page decision written by Chief Justice Raymond S. Wilkins, denied the plea.

Sen. Thurmond's Wife Dies At 33

WASHINGTON (AP)—Mrs. Jean Crouch Thurmond, 33, wife of Sen. Strom Thurmond (D-SC), died Wednesday.

She underwent surgery last September for removal of a brain tumor after partial paralysis of her left side. A second brain operation was performed Tuesday at the clinical center of the National Institute of Health in Bethesda, Md., near here.

Doctors said she was afflicted with a rapidly progressing malignant brain tumor.

The Thurmonds were married Nov. 7, 1947, while he was governor of South Carolina. She had been his secretary. He was 44 at the time and she was 31.

Old Manuscript Tells Scalp Danger In Early Texas Days

ROCKPORT (AP)—A history of old Lamar, written by a granddaughter of the second settler, tells of a time when "no man could hunt, fish, cut a tree or do anything without peril to his scalp."

The history, recently discovered, was written 30 years ago by the late Mrs. Ella McRae Clay, whose grandfather, Archibald McRae, settled at Lamar in 1838.

The first settler there was Capt. James Byrne, who named the town.

Archibald moved to Lamar from Pensacola, landing at Indianola, and going overland.

Mrs. Clay, as a little girl, heard her grandmother tell about the early times.

In 1839, Lamar consisted of 20 houses and underwent its Indian raids.

"My grandparents were so frightened when they saw the Indians coming," said Mrs. Clay, "that they hurriedly boarded their boat and crossed over to Live Point where Col. James Power lived. There they stayed until all danger was past and then returned home."

About 10 years later, Mrs. Clay wrote, "One of our neighbors, Mrs. Eve Kroeger, had a terrible experience with the Indians. When a child she and her sister were looking for the milk cows about sundown. Their father saw the Indians coming, so he blew a horn for the girls to come home, but the Indians knew what the signal meant, so they circled and captured both."

"But an old squaw could not make Mrs. K. stay on her horse, so they left her on the prairie thinking she would die, as they scalped her and left her full of arrows. Her brother, John Thomas, found her next morning. They took the other little girl to the Indian Territory. Later she was rescued and lived to tell the story to her grandchildren."

One of the first school houses in the area was built about 1840 and part of the building still stands between the Catholic chapel of "Our Lady Star of the Sea" and Goose Island State Park.

Smoke Tax Pays, Liquor Fees Off

AUSTIN (AP)—December cigarette tax collections increased from November while liquor tax collections dropped slightly, the state treasurer's office reported Tuesday.

State taxes on cigarettes, at a rate of eight cents a package, totaled $6,738,896 while liquor tax collections totaled $1,154,041. In November, the tax on cigarettes brought in $6,662,702 and the state received $1,215,724 from the liquor tax.

The collections compared with $4,429,983 for cigarettes in December 1958 and $990,314 for liquor.

2 New Banks

AUSTIN (AP)—The Department of Banking said Wednesday charter applications by two proposed state banks have been received.

One is for the First State Bank at Wichita Falls, with proposed capital $250,000, surplus $250,000, reserves $100,000.

Proposed directors are Robert Seabury, Fred Stephens, Lloyd Thomas, Luke Grace, Tom Foley, Howard Fry and E. B. Clark Jr., all of Wichita Falls. Foley is projected as board chairman.

The other is for the First State Bank of Farmer's Branch in Dallas County.

U.S. Water No Criterion

BALTIMORE (AP)—A federal judge has ruled that use of government water does not make a housing development a public agency within bounds of the Constitution's ban on racial discrimination.

U.S. Dist. Court Judge Roszel C. Thomsen Tuesday dismissed a suit filed by Dr. Brentie E. Hackley Jr., a Negro chemist at the Army's chemical center, Edgewood, Md.

Hackley claimed he was illegally denied a home at Edgewood, Meadows, near the center, because of his race. Under an agreement between the developers, the county and the Army, the development will be supplied with excess water from the post. Judge Thomsen said the developers are "private corporations legally entitled to deal with whom they please." He found the Army and the county did not authorize any discrimination.

Observatory Is More 'Texan'

AUSTIN (AP)—McDonald Observatory, owned by the University of Texas but operated in large part by the University of Chicago, is becoming more Texan.

The observatory houses the world's fourth largest telescope. It is atop 6,791-foot Mt. Locke in the Davis Mountains of far West Texas.

A new program recently started by the two universities is drawing Texas students, teachers and researchers into a joint department of astronomy.

Depending on his needs, a graduate student now may begin astronomy studies either at Austin or Chicago, spend a year at Chicago's Yerkes Observatory at Williams Bay, Wis., and one or more years at McDonald with trips to another large observatory to be built soon in Chile for southern hemisphere viewing.

Upon graduating the Texas student will receive a joint degree from the two schools.

TOP ASTRONOMERS

Teachers and scientists in the new department are among the world's top astronomers. Chairman and director of McDonald Observatory is Dr. Gerard P. Kuiper, considered by many the world's foremost authority on the solar system.

When most of Texas has bedded down for the night, Dr. Kuiper opens the doors to the giant five-story dome and begins his watch on the zodiac, the pathway in which the planets, the moon, and the sun cross the heavens from east to west.

An imaginative public knows Dr. Kuiper best for his 15-year study of Mars. The 53-year-old Dutchman believes most of the red planet's surface is a vast, wind-swept, yellow-ocher desert devoid of the famed canals but supporting lichen, the moss-like growth found on rocks of the earth.

MARTIAN LIFE-GIVER

It was Dr. Kuiper who established that Mars' atmosphere had a small amount of carbon dioxide, a necessary element to plant life as we know it.

He has also announced that Pluto is not a planet but probably a former satellite of Neptune which has strayed.

In 1948 he discovered Miranda, the fifth satellite of Uranus which he named after a Shakespeare character in "The Tempest."

Dr. Kuiper also determined that the rings of Saturn are composed of snow or ice-covered particles which account for their beauty.

Assistant chairman of the joint department is Dr. Frank N. Edmonds Jr., who has been teaching at the main campus in Austin since 1952.

Missing Prof Search Target

BEAUMONT, Tex. (AP)—A search has been launched for a 47-year-old Texas college professor and his wife who failed to return from a Christmas trip to Florida.

Dr. Benham M. Ingersoll, mathematics professor at Lamar Tech College, and his wife failed to return to Beaumont for the resumption of classes at the college Monday.

They told other members on the faculty that they were going to the Isle of Pines off the south coast of Cuba. Mrs. Ingersoll's father received a card from the couple, mailed in Tampa, but nothing has been heard from them since that time.

Colleagues say the Ingersolls may have sailed with some friends in a private boat for the island. Dr. Ingersoll was described as being an outdoors enthusiast.

Immigration authorities in Miami and the State Department office in New Orleans were called by college officials.

Dr. Ingersoll had been on the Lamar faculty since 1958.

Sun Chases Blizzard

Bright skies and rising temperatures Thursday helped to drive out of Texas the chill of a mid-week blizzard.

There was still snow in the Panhandle from Tuesday's blizzard that dumped up to 10 inches of snow and sent temperatures down below zero. But it was expected to melt rapidly in Thursday's predicted warmup.

Early Thursday skies were clear over the state with the exception at points along the coast and the eastern border. Pre-dawn temperatures ranged from 16 degrees at Brownsville, 44 degrees at Brownsville, 25, Dalhart and Junction 27, Mineral Wells 28, Wichita Falls 29, Tyler, Austin, Wink and San Antonio 30, College Station, Waco, Dallas and Fort Worth 31, and Longview 32.

Portions of the upper Panhandle stayed frozen Wednesday. At Amarillo where the mercury plummeted to 4 degrees below zero before dawn the temperatures did not get above 30 degrees during the day.

The high reading in the state Wednesday afternoon 58 degrees at Laredo.

The forecasts called for partly cloudy weather over most of the state with slowly rising temperatures Thursday and Friday. The outlook for Texas was mild weather Saturday but the five-day forecast predicted colder weather Sunday and Monday.

Banks In Most Texas Cities Start Year With High Deposits

By The Associated Press

Banks in almost all Texas cities started 1960 with their deposits at the highest mark in history. There were a few cities at which deposits were slightly down from a year ago but, in the majority of reporting cities sharp increases were shown in statements asked by the comptroller of currency and the State Banking Department for condition of banks as of Dec. 31.

In Dallas County banks had total deposits of $2,548,957,756, a record and a slight increase from the $2,542,917,268 a year earlier. Dallas city banks had deposits of $2,471,908,336, down from $2,474,234,404, but banks in the county outside the city increased from $69,551,657 as of Dec. 31, 1959 to $76,149,420 as of last year.

Crowd Watches Killers' Arrival

GARDEN CITY, Kan. (AP)—A curious, quiet crowd of about 500 watched the arrival Wednesday night of two men charged in the Clutter family slayings.

Two cars carrying ex-convicts Richard Eugene Hickock, 28, Perry Edward Smith, 31, and their police escorts were quickly surrounded by 21 officers.

Hickock and Smith, handcuffed, then were hustled from the courthouse square into the Finney County Jail. There was no demonstration from the crowd.

The men are charged with murdering four members of the well-known Herbert W. Clutter family—Clutter, 48, a prominent farmer; Mrs. Clutter, 45, a daughter; Nancy Mae, 16, and a son, Kenyon, 15. The bodies—bound, gagged and shot—were found in the Clutter home near Garden City Nov. 15.

Hickock, 28, of Edgerton, Kan., and Smith, 31, were picked up Dec. 30 in Las Vegas, Nev. Both have confessed the killings, County Atty. Duane West said.

First Trinity Water Case Phase Ends

AUSTIN (AP)—The first phase of the hotly argued hearing over two proposed dams on the lower Trinity River was completed today.

Sponsors of the dams—Houston and the Trinity River Authority—rested their case late Wednesday after 16 days of testimony and presentation of exhibits. The hearing opened Nov. 2.

Two previous witnesses, Houston Mayor Lewis Cutrer and Houston Utilities Director James Nagle, were recalled today for cross examination. They testified Nov. 3 that Houston must have Trinity River-Water to attract new industry and to keep existing factories.

After the appearance of Cutrer and Nagle, the opponents of the applications will offer direct testimony and evidence.

The hearing is expected to recess today until Monday. Tempers were short Wednesday as the final witness for the proponents, Dallas Engineer James A. Cotton, was cross examined. Victor Boudin, attorney for Houston, protested questions to Cotton about future water needs of Dallas and Fort Worth.

OVERRULED
"Fort Worth and Dallas are not complaining," Boudin said. "What concern is it of the San Jacinto River Authority?" The objection was overruled.

Alex Pope, SJRA attorney, also questioned closely testimony given by B. I. Thorfgren, Houston industrial water expert, that Trinity water will be acceptable to industries.

"We're going to show that by the time they treat Trinity water to where it can be used it will be too expensive to use," Pope told the board. He said the opponents will present their own expert on water quality.

Houston and the Trinity River Authority want permission to build a 40 million dollar dam at Livingston and a five million dollar salt water barrier at Wallisville that will furnish up to 1,200,000 gallons daily for industrial and irrigation use. The plans call for locks and facilities in the dam and barrier to accommodate a long-planned barge canal up the Trinity.

The opponents—SJRA, the Southern Canal Co., some landowners in the Livingston area, and some upstream water users—claim the proponents are overestimating the quantity and quality of Trinity water, are underestimating the cost of treating the water for industrial use, and are making the dam larger than necessary to provide facilities for the barge canal.

Several cities in the upper Trinity watershed, including Dallas, Fort Worth and Denton, dropped original opposition to the applications provided their present and future water needs are respected.

Congress Fight Renewed On Aid Benefits

WASHINGTON (AP)—A congressional fight was renewed today to add hospital, surgical and nursing home services to social security benefits.

The move was pegged to expected House action on a bill repealing present requirements that disabled workers, covered under social security, must be at least 50 years of age to be eligible for social security disability benefits.

Chances appeared slim, however, that social security health and hospital legislation can be passed this session despite the election-year practice of Congress to liberalize the law.

The bill to repeal the age limitation on disability payments was introduced Wednesday by Rep. Burr Harrison (D-Va.), chairman of a House Ways and Means subcommittee which handles the subject. It had the tentative backing of Democratic leaders.

BROADEN BILL
But Rep. Aime J. Forand (D-R.I.) said he would lead efforts—backed by organized labor—to broaden any social security bill to include federal hospitalization insurance and other provisions.

The Ways and Means Committee is expected to consider a one-package approach to a number of proposed amendments to the Social Security law. These include possible extension of coverage to some groups now excluded and the payment of monthly benefits to wives and widows who are permanently disabled.

None of these proposals would require an increase in the existing social security tax rate. With the support of the AFL-CIO, Forand first introduced his proposals in 1957 for health and hospital insurance. They would provide 60 days prepaid hospital care each year, cost of surgical services, and 120 days nursing home care.

The cost would be met by an increase of 1/4 per cent in the social security payroll tax on employees and employers alike. Both the Eisenhower administration and the American Medical Assn. have opposed federal hospital insurance.

NEW YORK (AP)—The University of Oklahoma, already smarting from its worst football season in 13 seasons, now faces a period of indefinite probation imposed by the executive council of the National Collegiate Athletic Assn.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

It went almost unnoticed, due to the competition for space in the newspapers with the bowl games, but Pampa High School's Harvesters finally had their basketball skin ended by Denton.

Denton won the game New Year's night, 77-63, in Pampa. The Harvesters came back the following evening to even the score with a 50-38 success.

Cliff Prather's Sands girls are now being ranked fourth by the Texas High School Girls Basketball Coaches association.

Bowie, a Class AA team, is rated fourth in that division by the TSHSBCA while Granbury was considered the tenth best in the same division of the state.

Over 11 million customers paid admissions in 1959 to watch over 2,500 drivers compete for $1,250,000 in cash prizes in auto racing.

Two new tracks, one in Atlanta and the other in Charlotte, N.C., are being completed.

Billy Willingham, who has been the line coach under Elwood Turner at Sweetwater High School, is moving to Canyon to become one of Joe Kerbel's assistants at West Texas State College.

Chuck York, Brady's very able football mentor, is among the latest who have expressed interest in the local coaching job.

York has been at Brady, a Class AA school, for the last eight years. In the past five seasons, his teams have won 56 games while losing only 12.

The past season, he carried his team to the state finals before it lost a close one to Stamford.

Others who have made inquiries about the job include Clinton James Webber, head football coach at Arkansas City Junior College, Kansas; John Ulrey, one-time Big Spring athletic star who is now at Pasadena; W. C. (Dub) Wooten, head coach at Marshall High School; Waldon Mize, Ralls; Joe Turner, Olton; Jay V. Davis Jr., Odessa Ector assistant, and Hugh Cochran, Odessa High assistant, still an other one-time Big Spring athlete.

Wooten has been at Marshall one season. Prior to that, he was at Gainesville.

Webber's teams at Ark City have won 22 and lost 23 in five years. Turner, who has also had coaching tenures at Tahoka, Nocona and Olney, has experienced better than average success everywhere he's been.

Since 1955, his teams have won 28 and lost 23. The Rigby, the Alice mentor, is not a formal applicant but it is believed he would come if invited.

Jim Acree of Bonham, who had formally applied, hired out as the head man at Corsicana earlier this week. His teams have won the district championship (Class AA) two years in a row.

Up to this week, a total of 42 men had tossed their names in the hopper here. There is quality as well as quantity to the list.

Boys Learn Fast, Says South Coach

MOBILE, Ala. (AP)—Players in Saturday's 11th annual Senior Bowl all-star football game must learn their plays in less than a week but South Coach Ewbank says his team doesn't need that much time.

The coach of the world champion Baltimore Colts said his squad has already mastered the plays worked out by him and Asst. Coach Charley Winner.

"It's remarkable how fast they have picked up our offense, especially when you consider the fact we have given them more in three days than we would the Colts in two weeks," Ewbank said. The North team, of Coach Jim Lee Howell of the New York Giants is not lacking in brainpower either. Howell introduced his squad to the last of his plays Wednesday morning and by noon the team was running them without missing any assignments.

Senior Bowl practice began Monday. The 50 players will be going for the $600 which each member of the winning team will receive. The losers will get $500 each.

Kickoff for the televised game is set for 2 p.m. (CST).

Rickey Would End Majors Farm Systems

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP)—Branch Rickey is gambling on another revolutionary baseball move—a common player pool aimed at equalizing team strengths—to put the new Continental League in business.

It would mean the virtual rejection of individual team farm systems that Rickey himself pioneered when he ran the St. Louis Cardinals.

The 79-year-old president of the proposed third major league detailed the plan Wednesday as part of a personal sales campaign to beef up enthusiasm for the Continental in Minneapolis-St. Paul, a territory still smitten by the hope of acquiring an existing major league franchise.

"I don't think the Washington Senators ever will come in here," he told Twin Cities via a news conference. "I admit obtaining an existing National or American League franchise is the fastest way to get into the big leagues."

But, he said, if Minneapolis-St. Paul does decide to hold out, for an American League franchise shift, it might be getting a team "that would stay in the cellar indefinitely." The Twin Cities have a Continental franchise.

Rickey and Continental League backers are planning not only a player pool but also a pool of all television, radio and exhibition receipts that would provide for player pensions and meet other common expenses.

The idea, he said, is to prevent wealth from dominating the game. He described current bidding by the major leagues for untried talent as "ruinous."

Under the Continental plan, the league would maintain a staff of scouts who would provide league headquarters with the names of prospects. These would be placed in a pool, subject to thrice-yearly drafts by all teams on the basis of a draw.

Into it also would go players made available by the American and National League under agreements Rickey hopes to arrange.

He wants the Continental to have a crack at players not retained by the American and National Leagues on their lists of 40 active players.

He also wants the existing majors to liberalize draft policies at another means of providing the Continental with talent.

Rickey said he hoped the Continental would be permitted to go into operation without the need for congressional action. But he made it clear it would seek such action if it is not convinced there is a deliberate attempt to wreck this league.

Trainer Glenn Bamford, who saddled Creech to win the $10,000 Texas Derby, and Bobbin, winner of the Sun Bowl Futurity, wound up with training honors.

Bamford, with 14 winners, was two victories ahead of George Adams.

Highlight of the meeting was the presence of the big name riders who competed against the local jockey colony. The Valenzuela brothers, Milo and Angel, Johnny Longden, the world's winningest jockey, and the five time national riding champ, Willie Shoemaker were all in silks at Sunland.

Maria Bueno Is Named Fem Athlete Of Year By AP

ADELAIDE, Australia. (AP)—Maria Bueno's usually solemn face broke into a broad grin today when she was told that she had been named female "athlete of the year" in the year-end Associated Press poll.

"That's wonderful but I don't deserve it — it's too big," said the 19-year-old Brazilian girl who last year won both the Wimbledon and U.S. women's tennis championships.

Miss Bueno, a one-time school teacher from Sao Paulo, received 126 votes from the 288 sports writers and broadcasters who participated in the poll.

Manager Rampages After Redl Loses

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN
CHICAGO (AP)—There was as much action in the Chicago Stadium ring after the fight Wednesday night as there was during it.

Unbeaten Carl Hubbard of Philadelphia was awarded a seventh-round technical knockout over Stefan Redl, a former refugee from Hungary who now lives in Passaic, N.J.

The decision had chain reaction. Redl's manager, husky Lou Duva, made a bull-like rush into the ring, frantically protesting to Chairman Frank Gilmer of the Illinois Athletic Commission, sitting at ringside.

The sudden ending sent the 470 fans into fits of boos.

Redl had been knocked down in the sixth round with a wild Hubbard left and took a mandatory eight count while on his knees.

When he arose, he waded into Hubbard with lefts and rights,

Philadelphia, home of the Liberty Bell, a kite-flyer named Ben Franklin, a n d good basketball teams, has another couple of roundball dandies this season in Villanova and LaSalle.

Representing 50 per cent of the nation's skimpy list of four major unbeatens, both fattened their streaks Wednesday in a double-header at the Palestra.

Villanova, maybe the tougher of the two, made it eight in a row with a 67-65 rout of Duquesne after LaSalle had run its unbeaten streak to seven by drubbing Canisius 82-68.

Add Temple, Penn and St. Josephs (Pa.), the latter beaten only by top-ranked Cincinnati, and you have five good reasons why the Philadelphia Story of basketball is a strong one again.

At Severance at Villanova is back with the junior season version of a sophomore-dominated club that posted an 18-7 record last year and earned a spot in the National Invitation Tournament. Duddy Moore's LaSalle team also has a goodly number of lettermen back from a squad that was 16-7 in 1959-60.

Sophomore Hubie White scored 25 points and junior Jimmy Hugard added 20 in Villanova's victory Wednesday night. Joe Heyer and Bob Alden set the pace for LaSalle, which coasted after breaking loose on a 21-10 spurt for a 41-31 halftime lead.

Ed Diddle got his 701st coaching victory at Western Kentucky, 86-65 over DePaul; Dayton won its ninth in 12 starts 54-51 over Xavier (0); Temple (9-3) whipped Pitt 82-74 and Holy Cross (7-2) downed Massachusetts 82-58. Marquette romped 86-64 over St. Norbert (Wis.) and NYU crushed Fairleigh-Dickinson, 82-44.

Maine won its 10th without a loss 73-53 over Bowdoin, and Virginia "nailed" its second straight Southern Conference victory, 73-65 over Richmond.

Toledo (8-1) whipped Kent State 73-68, and once-beaten Army and Navy won again—the Cadets over Colgate 91-86 and Navy over Gettysburg 64-61. Virginia rerested an 83-71 thumping of VMI. Syracuse (4-2) handed Fordham its fourth straight loss, 84-65 as Sandy Salt hit for 18 points and Pete Chudy 17. Fordham's John Coleman led scorers with 26.

Georgetown (DC), with five players in double figures, upset George Washington 86-82, and Seton Hall dominated Baltimore Loyola 69-59.

The local press covering the meet proved themselves good sports by voting Vic Mon, "Horse of the Meet" after the "screwball" as he was affectionately called had upset their form charts with his clowning.

Wildcats To Run At Des Moines

ABILENE, Tex. (AP)—Coach Oliver Jackson said Wednesday his Abilene Christian College track team will enter the Drake Relays next April 29-30 at Des Moines, Iowa.

ACC will pass up the Dallas Invitation Track and Field Meet, where it has competed the past two years. No reason was given.

Major events on the Abilene school's schedule include the Southwestern Recreational Meet March 12 in Fort Worth, a triangular meet here March 26 with Texas and Michigan, and Texas the North Texas Relays April 9 at Denton, a five-way meet here April 16 with Kansas, Houston, New Mexico and North Texas, Houston's Meet of Champions June 10, the NCAA championships June 17-18 in Berkeley, Calif., and the NAAU Championships June 24-25 at Bakersfield, Calif.

AT SUNLAND PARK

Average Turnout Came To 6,099

ANAPRA, N. M., (SC)—Sunland Park, America's newest turf center, closed out its inaugural racing season January 3 with records shattered on 9 of its 10 races, clearly demonstrating that the great Southwest wanted big time racing and was eager to support it. At all time handle and attendance high was established as 10,750 racing enthusiasts poured $270,021 through the mutuels.

As Chuck Whitlock, Sports Editor of the El Paso Times so aptly put it, "The story of the day was the story of the fans who wrote such a gigantic finish to the first racing season in the city's modern-day history."

Total handle for the last six days was more than $1,100,000. The daily average amounted to $161,918, the estimated average attendance was 6,099. Total handle for the 46 days amounted to $7,448,297 of which $2,277,775 was returned to the public through winning tickets. The horsemen received $466,700 in gross purses.

Jockey Jack Brown climaxed his brilliant season with a quadruple for the day, his third of the meet. His total 46 victories were five ahead of second place Bob Scharnow. Brown's biggest win came New Year's Day when he won the $10,000 Sun Carnival Handicap aboard Osacrem. Larry Spraker was the top "bug" boy, closing the meet with 21 winners.

Trainer Glenn Bamford, who saddled Creech to win the $10,000 Texas Derby, and Bobbin, winner of the Sun Bowl Futurity, wound up with training honors.

English Will Use U. S. Ball

LONDON (AP)—Britain is going to hold a revolutionary — or British — golf tournament next August. Every player will use the larger American ball.

Nothing like that has happened in 100 years of competitive golf in Britain.

The British ball measures 1.62 inches in circumference compared with the American ball's 1.68.

The tournament idea stemmed from a remark made by Dai Rees, captain of the British Ryder Cup team, after his team was beaten by the Americans in this year's competition.

Rees said "I know we were as good as they were from tee to green but around the greens their bigger ball was easier to handle. They beat us there."

Other British critics have suggested that British golfers play the larger ball.

So a British sponsor announced the new tournament today. It will be played at Wentworth, near London, Aug. 18-19-20. Prize money will be $15,400 with $3,500 going to the winner.

Sponsors said they hoped leading American golfers would compete against British Commonwealth stars to help decide the big ball vs. small ball controversy.

Who Gets Rich? Railroads, Unions Point Some Fingers

By ROGER GREENE
Associated Press Staff Writer

"Who's getting rich?" That's the challenge raised by the big five railroad unions when the industry sets up a howl about engineers and firemen getting four or five days' pay for a day's work.

The industry, for example, says a typical case is the 1,034-mile run between Chicago and Denver which a fast passenger train covers in 16 1/2 hours.

Since pay is based on a long-established rule of a day's basic pay for each 100 miles, the railroad has to pay 10 1/3 days' pay for each engine crew position on the Chicago-Denver trip.

"All right," says the unions, "if that's the way you want to play, let's analyze it. Let's see who is getting rich on all this fabulous pay."

The Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers says it investigated the following case history:

During the first half of July 1958, engineer M. E. White drove the Burlington Zephyr over the 162-mile stretch between Lincoln, Neb., and Creston, Iowa, on the Chicago-Denver run, averaging 2 hours 51 minutes per trip. For this he received $32.11 a trip on the mileage-pay basis.

TOO MUCH?

In 15 days, White spent 210 1/2 hours on duty or laying over at the far terminal between trips, and he received $481.63, or $2.29 per hour for the total elapsed time he spent in service.

"Is that too much for a highly skilled worker?" the union asks. "Let's take another look at those figures," an industry spokesman replies.

"What the engineer actually got paid was $481.63 for 15 trips totaling 42 1/2 hours of work, or $11.26 an hour. That means he gets paid at the rate of $90.08 for an eight-hour work day or $450.40 for a 40-hour week. No wonder the railroads are taking a licking!"

Union: "What about his layover time at the far terminal? And remember, he doesn't get paid for away-from-home expenses—hotel room and meals—nor does he get paid a differential for night, Sunday or holiday work."

Railroad: "Are we supposed to pay for the time he's sleeping at the far terminal between runs? What company pays its employees for sleep time?"

Ticking off other points raised by the unions, the industry says that in World War II the five train-operating unions accepted a special award of five cents an hour to compensate them for away-from-home expenses. The award remains in the present pay structure.

As for premium pay for working on holidays, the industry says Presidential Emergency Board 116 denied extra holiday pay to trainmen because their mileage-pay rules put them "in a much more favorable position, earnings-wise," than nonoperating employees.

HOLIDAY WORK

Yard engineer, says the industry, get either extra pay or higher hourly rates for working on holidays.

Commenting on the unions' observation that few if any railroad employees are "getting rich," the industry says one reason is the unions' own spread-the-work rules, which set a limit on the number of miles train crews may work and hence restrict their earnings.

The industry says passenger train engineers received an average salary of $10,000 a year in 1959, with a maximum of $14,000 a year. Firemen averaged $8,687.

"But the unions, quoting Interstate Commerce Commission figures, say railroad employees—excluding executives—averaged only $2.47 per hour in mid-1959, compared with $3.10 for steel workers, $2.69 for auto industry employees and $3.23 for soft-coal miners.

So it goes.

Some union officials concede privately that mileage-pay and some work rules are obsolete, based on conditions which prevailed half a century or so ago, and that both need a general overhaul.

BUT NO FIRINGS

But they insist that any revision must not result in the firing of thousands of employees.

The 100-mile formula for a day's basic pay—or "unit of work," as the unions prefer to call it—was born in the days when it took considerable sweat and hustle to drive a pokey coal-burning locomotive 100 miles. It wasn't, unusual, in those days, for a brave fireman to shovel 10 to 12 tons of coal in a day's run.

Today, powerful oil-burning diesels zip over the tracks twice as fast as the old iron horse, and the fireman, with no furnace to feed, serves chiefly as an extra lookout for possible danger.

Thus the railroads contend they are being forced to perpetuate jobs as outmoded as the chief whip tested in a buggy whip factory. They say it costs them 230 million dollars a year to provide surplus firemen in freight and yard service alone.

But the unions insist the fireman is just as important to railroad safety as the co-pilot of an airliner.

THE BLIND SIDE

Far from twiddling his thumbs, the unions say, the fireman must keep a constant safety watch on the blind side of the cab—keeping tabs on wayside signals, speed zones, track obstructions, hot-boxes, and highway traffic at crossings.

In addition, he acts as standby pilot in case the engineer suffers a heart attack or stroke. Even the famed "dead-man's throttle," they say, doesn't always work.

Industry: "We're not asking for removal of the fireman as 'copilot' on passenger trains—only in freight and yard service."

Unions: "What if the freight engineer dies and the dead-man's throttle fails? Who wants a 200-car freight train running wild?"

Industry: "It wouldn't run wild, even under those circumstances. You forget, the head-end brakeman also rides with the engineer on all freight trains."

At this point in the argument, Grand Chief Guy L. Brown of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers makes a mildly ironic concession:

"It is true," he says, "that the fireman has no rugged physical labor to perform on a diesel. For that matter, a railway president doesn't perform any physical labor, either."

"Maybe railway presidents are obsolete, too,"

Kennedy's Father Credited In Steel

NEW YORK (AP)—David J. McDonald, head of the United Steelworkers, today credited former ambassador Joseph Kennedy with an important role in settling the steel strike.

He was interviewed on a television program, NBC "Today."

McDonald said Kennedy, father of Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.), was one of the "most influential" men behind the scenes in bringing about a contract agreement.

The older Kennedy, McDonald said, did a great deal down in Wall Street to bring about this settlement. He talked with the bankers time and time again, and we were in constant touch with one another."

McDonald said he thinks Vice President Richard M. Nixon deserves "some credit" for the settlement, adding: "I think Mr. Nixon brought both the industry and the union face to face with the facts of life."

Mexico To Handle Bracero Insurance

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Life insurance for Mexican braceros working on U.S. farms will be handled by this country's Social Security Institute beginning Feb. 1, according to a presidential decree published in the official journal.

The insurance previously was handled by U.S. insurance companies. The change was provided for in the last modification of the migratory worker agreement between the two countries.

Stanton Club Backs Cecil Bridges For Lions Post

Stanton Lions have tossed the hat of Cecil Bridges into the ring as a candidate for governor of district 2A-1 of Lions International.

He is serving currently as deputy governor for region V of the West Central Texas Lions district and served as the charter president of the Stanton Lions Club. He also has been a zone chairman on two occasions.

His home club endorsed a resolution supporting his candidacy at the meeting Tuesday evening. Members quickly pledged their individual support in an all-out campaign.

Bridges is scheduled at the District's annual convention to be held April 23-24 in Brownwood, J. W. (Bill) Jones of San Angelo, currently is serving as governor of district 2A-1, which covers a 25 county area.

Bridges was transferred to Stanton from Crane in 1942 as manager of Texas Electric Service Company's Stanton operations. He also is a charter member of the Crane Lions Club. He holds both the membership and master keys of Lionism.

The district governor-nominee is a director of the West Texas

Much Travel Piled Up By Lamesa Police

LAMESA — Lamesa City Police patrolled a distance equal to six times the circumference of the earth while solving 50 per cent of their reported investigations.

The patrolmen traveled 152,506 miles in the department's vehicles during the year and investigated 279 automobile accidents. The department handled 6,121 complaints ranging from animal complaints to felony issues.

The department handled at least 17 calls per day, exclusive of delivering messages, ticketing traffic violators and performing other miscellaneous services.

Six of eight robbery cases and five of 19 forgery complaints were solved by city police, but in contrast, only 55 out of 116 cases of theft under $50 were disposed of.

Building In Lamesa Booms In Past Year

LAMESA — Building in Lamesa barely fell short of the all-time record set in 1958 as total figures on 1959 building permits soared to $2,975,000, the second largest year ever recorded here.

The boom was a continuation of the 1958 year when a total of $3,158,831 was listed in construction starts at City Hall.

Both the 1958 and 1959 total surpassed the record set in 1951 when permits were issued in the amount of $1,956,500.

May was the peak month during 1959 with a total of $683,540 in permits; January was the second highest month with the permits totaling $337,211.

February and October were close with $286,140 and $285,150, respectively. Other monthly totals were March, $172,150; April, $213,954; June, $273,500; July, $63,362; August, $60,000 (the lowest month of the year); September, $202,060; November, $159,150; December, $230,400.

'Uncle Henry' Dies In Austin

AUSTIN (AP)—Henry Blair, 91, chief porter of the House who as "Uncle Henry" was a friend of 18 congressmen and too many legislators to tally, died today.

Uncle Henry, a kindly sage whose predictions of what course the Legislature would take on controversial subjects were more often correct than not, was a porter in the House for 53 years.

Blair, a tall, stooped figure in his old age, became ill during the last session and was in the hospital for several weeks.

He recovered enough to come back to his job as head of the staff of porters in the House but he moved about with great difficulty.

Uncle Henry said he remembered well every governor since C. A. Culberson in 1895. His death came from the infirmities of old age.

Red China Purging Party Undesirables

TOKYO (AP)—Red China is waging a mass purge of "counter-revolutionaries and undesirable characters who have wormed their way" into the Communist Party.

An Tzu-wei, longtime confidential secretary to Mao Tse-tung, has confirmed widespread speculation that the 27,000 peasant communes and party committees are being overhauled from top to bottom.

An, a member of the ruling Communist Party Central Committee, sounded the call for mass action against "rightist opportunists" and "individualists" in the Peiping Peoples Daily.

A translation of his article in the Dec. 17 issue reached Tokyo today.

A Leading Banker Speaks About Better-than-ever U.S. Savings Bonds

"The American Bankers Association has once again pledged vigorous support of the U.S. Savings Bonds program as an essential part of good Federal debt management. The encouragement of thrift, in all forms, is to the direct advantage of every financial institution and of the nation. America needs more savings, more thrifty families.

"The nation's bankers have long appreciated the value of the Bond program, and have given it consistent support. We approve the new, more liberal terms which apply to both new Bonds and old. We will continue to help our country, our customers and our communities by promoting and selling U.S. Savings Bonds—now better than ever.

"We bankers value our customers' faith in our financial judgment and, therefore, exercise extreme care in giving advice. But we need never hesitate to advise our customers to buy and hold U.S. Savings Bonds."

'THE BAD SEED'

High School Play Opens Run Tonight

Whether criminal instincts can be inherited, particularly by a child, provides the controversial basis for the three-act drama, "The Bad Seed."

The play, sponsored by the Big Spring High School Junior class and produced by the Court Jesters, opens a two-night run in the high school auditorium tonight. Curtain time is 8:15 p.m.

The plot of "The Bad Seed" revolves around a little girl who, it develops, not only kills a fellow student but admits earlier deaths, and kills several more before the play is over.

It also develops that the murderous child is the granddaughter of a Lizzie Borden-type ancestor.

The dramatic situation, with this basis, grows around the child's activities and their effects on the people about her. The play was a hit on Broadway, later being made into a motion picture.

Chief roles are filled by Jill Mason as the young killer, Ilameta Carr as her anguished mother, and Nelson Clemow as the equally-evil janitor who sticks his neck into the child's affairs a bit too far.

Periphery roles include Dorothy Wheeler as a family friend and amateur psychologist, and Lida

Fivash as a murdered boy's mother, turned into an alcoholic by her anguish and grief.

Others in the cast include Everett Sproles, Kennard Lawrence, Mary Jane Engstrom, Tommy Wilkinson, Edward Day and Gary Pickle.

The play is produced and directed by Bedford Forrest, high school drama instructor and sponsor of the Court Jesters. Miss Engstrom is student director.

The production staff includes: Stage manager—Jerry Kincaid. Stage crew—Tommy Burleson, Kennard Lawrence, Dale Phillips. Costumes—Sharon Gary, Barbara Bahn, Jeanette Lott.

Publicity—Janet Thorburn, Dale Phillips, Rachel Phalen, Mary Helen Yater, Edward Day, Lida Fivash, Linda Morton.

Set—Susan Zack, Linda Morton, Edward Day, Diana Hughes, Everett Sproles, Nelson Clemow. Makeup—Fran Napier, Jan Vagt, Sue Brown.

Lighting—Jerry Kincaid.

Schools Get The Birds

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP)—Officials of the Youngstown Board of Education and Youngstown University complain they are getting the birds that Otto Standke, the Kansas bird expert, is chasing out of old haunts in downtown Youngstown.

Standke, who started his war on starlings last Saturday, says he scared the birds off the Mahoning courthouse but denies these are the birds that are flocking to buildings on the northern edge of the downtown district.

"The air was literally black with starlings Tuesday night," said Dr. J. Fred Essig, superintendent of schools. "We had a few before. Now we can count them in the thousands."

Standke, who keeps his method secret, would say only: "If you know birds' habits like I do, you'd know they don't change buildings. They leave town."

'Creative' Most Abused Word In TV Business

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—The most used—and certainly abused—word tossed around television circles probably is "creative." But the sad truth is that in the exciting medium, creativity follows closely the famous description of weather: It's something everybody talks about but nobody does anything about—not much, anyway.

The result is that most program fare consists of dreary copycat versions of somebody else's successful show; musical variety shows, so similar in content and decor that it is hard to tell what show you are looking at, and an everlasting succession of successes of other year's Broadway hits and movies.

Where are the bright new writers of original scripts? Where are the young authors, full of ideas, who will grow up in television?

"They're out selling insurance or tending gas pumps," says Tony Webster, who does write TV plays. "Who's going to quit selling insurance to write originals when there's practically no place on the schedule to produce them?"

Webster, of course, is touching a TV sore spot. At this moment, television drama is in poor shape. NBC's Startime occasionally—but only occasionally—dips into originals and its Sunday Showcase is interested in all manner of other types of programs. Playhouse 90 on CBS has become a sometime thing—a drifting, special without a regular weekly niche of its own. Steel Hour has never been interested in developing this type of show and Studio One is dead.

A graduate comedy writer, Webster has suddenly emerged as the bright new writing star of the season. He is the author of the forthcoming one-man show, "Call Me Back," which Art Carney will do on NBC Jan. 16, and of another original, "After Hours," which will be presented Feb. 7 on Sunday Showcase. Webster, however, is doing TV shows because he wants to and because, after years as a highly-paid comedy writer, he can afford to.

Webster insists wryly that he abandoned comedy writing because, although he has shared in three Emmy awards, he wants to win one all his own—"so that they can refer to me as 'award-winning Tony Webster.'"

Homemade Kidney Saves A Life

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla. (AP)—A homemade artificial kidney constructed by a 27-year-old doctor is keeping a 41-year-old patient alive, attendants at Mercy Hospital said today.

The patient was reported rational for the first time after the kidney was put to use. Dr. Bill McCullough built the apparatus from equipment discarded from open heart surgery and spare parts purchased from the dime store, plumbing and hardware shops.

Dr. McCullough tested the precision of the kidney on animals earlier and used it for humanitarian purpose Wednesday.

The doctor said it is believed the patient swallowed a toxic agent which caused a kidney shutdown and that he was in danger of complete kidney failure which would cause death.

Raul Castro
Cuts His Ponytail

HAVANA (AP)—Raul Castro reportedly has shed his ponytail—the revolutionary badge he grew instead of a beard.

A Havana radio station said the Prime Minister's younger brother, who is minister of the armed forces, got a haircut in fulfillment of a promise to trim up once Cuba's land reform program became a reality. The broadcast said the shearing ceremony took place in eastern Cuba's Oriente Province, where bearded Fidel Castro launched the revolt that overthrew Dictator Fulgencio Batista on New Year's Day 1959.

Maid Tells Of Day Of Violence As Finch Trial Progresses

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The state's key witness, a slim, 19-year-old Swedish housemaid, burst into tears on the witness stand after describing Barbara Finch's violent last moments of life.

As Marie Anne Lindholm testified softly in broken English, Dr. R. Bernard Finch leaned forward intently at the counsel table, straining to hear every word.

Near the handsome surgeon, his onetime receptionist and mistress, Carole Tregoff, sat next, her brown eyes flashing from witness to prosecutor and back.

Finch, 41, and Miss Tregoff, 23, are charged with murdering his 36-year-old estranged wife so they could marry and retain community property valued by Mrs. Finch at $70,000.

Miss Lindholm came to this country in September, 1958, to study English. A girl acquaintance found her a job with the Finches. She told a six-man, six-woman jury and a packed courtroom on direct examination Wednesday of the hectic night of July 16 at the Finches' swank home in suburban West Covina.

This was her testimony: She heard Mrs. Finch scream, ran to the garage of the $65,000 Finch home, and saw the pretty, tennis-loving socialite unconscious on the garage floor.

Dr. Finch smashed Miss Lindholm's head against the garage wall, then brandished a gun and ordered her into the family car. The doctor made Mrs. Finch—who apparently had revived—get into the car. Mrs. Finch fled. The doctor pursued her.

The maid said she heard a shot and a scream—"help!"—a moment later.

Mrs. Finch was found shot to death on the lawn next door. Finch and Miss Tregoff were found by police the next day in Las Vegas, Nev.

After the maid finished testifying for the state, Grant B. Cooper, Finch's attorney, cross-examined Miss Lindholm. He asked about a statement she gave West Covina Police Capt. William M. Ryan the morning after the murder.

Cooper noted that Ryan's report said Miss Lindholm ran to the garage and saw Finch brandishing a pistol. On the stand she said she didn't have the pistol until a little later.

"Is it as you told Ryan," asked Cooper, "or is it as you testified here?"

The blonde maid began to lose her composure.

"At this time I didn't know Mrs. Finch was dead," she began. "After you get to court you have to tell the truth and you think about things."

"But you knew he (Ryan) was

The two defendants, charged with the slaying, were taken with the jury and court officials to the slaying scene at the Finch home in West Covina, California. Some of the jurors, left, stare at the defendants. Standing next to Miss Tregoff is one of her attorneys, Donald Briggold.

"a policeman, didn't you?" asked Cooper.

Miss Lindholm dropped her face into her hands and sobbed.

"Honey," Cooper asked consolingly, "would you rather take a recess at this time?" She nodded.

Superior Judge Walter R. Evans recessed the trial—and the cross-examination of Miss Lindholm—until later today.

In her testimony for the prosecution Miss Lindholm said Mrs. Finch's screams in the garage had brought her running to the scene.

The prosecution contends that the maid interrupted Finch in the commission of a murder long plotted by him and Miss Tregoff. Miss Lindholm, who has a $100,000 damage suit pending against the physician for injuries sustained the night of the murder, told the jury that Dr. Finch smashed her head against the garage wall so hard that it stunned her for several moments and broke a hole in the plasterboard wall.

Afterward, she said, "for the

MEN IN SERVICE

Jackie H. Cottongame, seaman, USN, son of Mrs. Mary E. Cottongame of Big Spring, serving aboard the attack aircraft carrier USS Essex, witnessed the 95,000th arrested aircraft landing Dec. 16, while the carrier, accompanying the heavy cruiser USS Des Moines with President Eisenhower and his party aboard, was en route to Tunis.

The Essex's total landings to date falls a little short of the Navy's all-time record set by the old aircraft carrier USS Saratoga. The Sara's 97,549 landings were made before 1948 when she was sunk by the U. S. in A-Bomb tests held at Bikini.

After the Essex returns to the states early in 1960, she will be converted to an anti-submarine aircraft carrier.

Army Pfc. Stanley D. Menix, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Menix, Route 2, Lamesa, is a member of the 5th Transportation Battalion's Headquarters Detachment which sponsored a Christmas party for 30 members of a home for the aged in Langendiebach, Germany.

Clothing, canned goods and other necessities were given to the residents of the home and later they were entertained by a male chorus made up of battalion personnel.

Menix, an operations clerk with the battalion's Headquarters Detachment in Hama, entered the Army last January and completed basic combat training at Fort Riley, Kan. He arrived overseas last July.

A 1938 graduate of Ackerly High School, Menix was employed by the Spangenberg Gin Co. before entering the Army. His wife, Wanda, is with him in Germany.

EL PASO, Tex. (AP)—The trial of Lyman Moody Bennett, Marfa area rancher and cotton farmer, on charges of assaulting two U.S. Border Patrol officers with a deadly weapon has been set for Jan. 25.

U.S. Dist. Atty. James E. Hammond said Wednesday the case will come up in Federal District Court here.

Bennett, 40, was indicted by a federal grand jury on two counts. The patrol inspectors, Thurston McCutchen and Carey Whitman, went on to Bennett's land Nov. 13 to question Mexican laborers.

There was an exchange of gunfire in which McCutchen's horse was killed and Bennett was shot in the hand.

Defense Attorney Ward Sullivan contends the trial court erred in refusing to change the site of the trial. He also asserts details of Mrs. Duncan's life designed to show misconduct should not have been allowed as evidence.

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Murder charges were prepared today against a jiving teen-ager who admitted pumping four bullets into the head of Wade Strickland, 28, of El Paso.

Deputy Bob Dorn identified the hip-talking youth as Lewellyn McGee Jr., 19, of Riverside, Calif. He was arrested about 12 hours after Strickland's body was found near U.S. 60-70 about 50 miles northwest of Phoenix.

McGee said he was hitchhiking near Banning, Calif., when Strickland picked him up. He was driving, he said, when he pulled the revolver from his jacket and fired into Strickland's face.

"Man, when you shoot somebody in the head three or four times they just don't say too much," McGee was quoted as replying when Dorn asked if the victim said anything after being shot.

Officers in Riverside, Calif., said McGee is wanted for questioning in the kidnaping of Katherine Newson, 19. She told officers she was compelled at gunpoint to accompany McGee on a trip of several days to San Diego and El Centro, Calif.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex.) and Vice President Richard M. Nixon were picked as the presidential candidates for their respective parties in an informal poll of congressmen here Wednesday night.

Los Angeles (AP)—The California Supreme Court hears arguments today in Elizabeth Duncan's appeal from a death sentence for the murder of her daughter-in-law.

Also to be heard are the appeals of two men she hired for the slaying — Agustine Baldonado and Luis Estrada Moya.

All were sentenced to die in the gas chamber for killing Olga Duncan, 30.

The prosecution contended Mrs. Duncan, 54, was so jealous of the pretty Canadian wife of her son, Frank, 30, that she engaged the two men to kidnap the younger woman from her Santa Barbara apartment and kill her Nov. 18, 1958. Baldonado and Moya confessed.

Defense Attorney Ward Sullivan contends the trial court erred in refusing to change the site of the trial. He also asserts details of Mrs. Duncan's life designed to show misconduct should not have been allowed as evidence.

Circuit Supervisor To Visit City Witnesses

The Big Spring congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses at 800 Donley St. is making preliminary plans for a week's visit by their circuit supervisor Russell F. Armacost, Jan. 12-17.

The purpose of this visit, said J. W. O'Shields, presiding minister, is to provide Bible instruction and a better understanding of prophecy, to enable witnesses and others to apply Bible principles more fully to their everyday lives and to train them for more efficient ministerial activity.

The program for the week stresses to call upon the homes of the people in our locality to bring them the good news of God's Kingdom and to stimulate interest in reading and studying the Bible, he said.

Tuesday, Jan. 12, beginning at 7:30 p.m. the Bible classes will be conducted. The first is to improve speech and speaking ability with practice sermons given by the students enrolled. The other is a ministry improvement class where problems of the ministry are discussed.

Saturday, Jan. 16, at 8 p.m. Armacost will give a Bible discourse and conduct a special feature on "New Things Learned From the Bible."

On Sunday, Jan. 17, at 3 p.m.

RUSSEL F. ARMACOST

Armacost will give the Bible lecture entitled "Walking Wisely in a Wicked World." Following this the Watchtower Bible Study Class will be conducted, and then a final discourse by the circuit supervisor.

Has Beauty, Brains

Felicia Farr is a rare combination of brains and beauty and takes courses at UCLA between motion picture contracts. She feels that a girl's best friend is a fool-proof diet. She is soon to be seen in Universal-International's "Hell Bent for Leather."

HOLLYWOOD BEAUTY

Keep Interest Alive For Young Outlook

By LYDIA LANE
HOLLYWOOD — "One of the most difficult aspects of being an actress," Felicia Farr told me, "is being idle. I have just finished 'Hell Bent for Leather' for Universal-International but I have no idea when I'll be called again. 'But I have a theory,' this beauty from New York explained, 'that inactivity is destructive. When you stimulate your mind, when you learn something new and interesting, your whole outlook is different. Your face takes on a radiance—you know, beauty is much more mental than the average person seems to realize. When you worry and fret over small things, it shows around the mouth and forehead in frown lines."

"This was illustrated," I agreed, "in the case of a young mother who went into a state of shock and 20 years later, with no recognition of time or worries, she still looked like a girl of 20."

Officers Installed

LAMESA—Mrs. C. V. Ball was installed as president of the Central Home Demonstration club when 11 members gathered for the club's regular meeting Tuesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Rush J. Barnett.

Other officers assuming their duties are Mrs. Mary Boardman, vice president; Mrs. R. L. Bennett, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. Frank Liddell, reporter; Mrs. Roy Harbison and Mrs. M. G. Riggan, council delegates.

Jo Crabtree, home demonstration agent, presented the program on parliamentary procedure and announced that Corine Stinson of the AAM Extension Service will conduct a leader workshop at 2 p.m. Friday in the Chamber of Commerce office.

It was also announced that the Multi-County Bookmobile librarian, John B. Greer, will show a movie at the Jan. 20 meeting of the HD Council. The next meeting for the Central Club will be at 2 p.m., Jan. 19, in the C. V. Ball home, 207 N. 19th.

Members drew new secret pals for the year.

The weather didn't keep people from the local sales, the right one of each being very gaudily decorated with sequined butterflies. This particular one happened to have as its special attraction a talent show. If anything can keep parents, grandparents and aunts away from the little ones on stage, I've been scooped.

MR. AND MRS. LLOYD WASSON were tending their little grandchildren. Will and Kim Guthrie, Kim was part of a piano duo. She is probably a little older than her mother was when she made her semi-public appearance on an impromptu stage at kindergarten as a frog. Her mother had carefully fashioned the costume and had sat patiently waiting for Sue's appearance. Finally she came forth hopping; she hopped across the stage and sat down. There she sat during the performance, at the conclusion of which she hopped out.

Another pianist at the show was MARTHA DAWES, daughter of the W. R. DAWSES, who plays beautifully already. She has much talent and accomplishment preceding her—her mother and father being talented musicians. I remember the Dawses family from years back and all were musically inclined and trained. I always was delighted with Martha's Aunt Nancy who could play such difficult numbers while I struggled with a simple scale.

We enjoyed seeing the children perform, and were impressed with the lack of stage fright. At least if they were frightened, they were good enough not to let the audience see it.

Speaking of being on the stage, I make it a point to see the play "The Bad Seed" that opens tonight at the Big Spring High School auditorium.

Music Makers

Mrs. C. J. Stocks and daughters June, 5, and Judy, 11, enjoy music. Judy is the piano player and in the family. Mrs. Stocks admits she attempted to learn how to play, "but I finally gave up and left it to Judy." She sings instead.

Busy Young Mother Enjoys Housework

"Believe it or not, I like housework!" says Mrs. C. J. Stocks. Tasks about the house, working in the garden, making planters and cornice boards are but a few of the things Jerrie Stocks considers as hobbies. A 15-year resident of Big Spring and native of West Texas, the blue-eyed brunette will soon be planning the decor of her fifth house.

"The first house we built was exciting for me," says the homemaker, "but on the fifth one you begin to run out of color schemes." Her husband's hobby seems to be housebuilding. Mrs. Stocks explains that he, a Corden employe, likes to try out new floor plans. This could be an inherited trait for Joe's father, R. C. Stocks, is a long-time builder in this area. Judy, an 11-year-old who attends Washington Place School, and June, a 5-year-old who started kindergarten this year, take up most of Mrs. Stocks' time when she isn't at work. She is employed in the bookkeeping department of Cowper Hospital.

Another interest in Jerrie's life is the Spaders Garden Club. She is a reporter for the group. Music is a family interest for the Stocks women. Judy plays the piano, and Mrs. Stocks, who sings alto, sings at church. She is a member of the United Pentecostal Church, and started her singing career there in a quartet with her three sisters. Energetic June's future as a singer or piano player hasn't been decided yet.

Four of Mrs. Stocks' favorite recipes are offered here. The first, New England Raisin Bread, was her entry in the annual tasting tea of the Council of Big Spring Garden Clubs.

NEW ENGLAND RAISIN BREAD
Mix together:
1 1/2 cup lukewarm milk
1/2 cup sugar
1 tsp. salt
Crumble into this 2 cakes of yeast. Stir until dissolved.
Stir in:
4 eggs
1 box seedless raisins
1/2 cup soft butter or shortening
6 1/2 to 6 cups sifted flour
Place mixture in greased bowl, cover with damp cloth and let rise until double in bulk, 1 1/2 to 2 hours. Punch down, round up and let rise 30 minutes again. Divide in two parts, place into two greased loaf pans. Brush with butter and sprinkle with sugar. Let rise about one hour. Bake at 350 degrees for about 50 minutes.

SPICY STEAK
1/2 cup flour
1 tsp. salt
1/2 tsp. pepper
2 lbs. round steak cut 1/2-inch thick
3 tbsps. shortening
1 cup catsup
1/2 cup water
1 onion, thinly sliced
1/2 lemon, thinly sliced
1/2 green pepper, thinly sliced
5 whole cloves
Combine flour, salt and pepper. Pound into steak. Melt shortening in heavy skillet and brown steak. Place in baking dish.
Blend water and catsup; pour around steak. Add onion, lemon and green pepper. Stick cloves into steak. Cover with foil and bake one hour at 350 degrees.

24 HOUR SALAD
2 eggs, beaten
4 tbsps. butter
4 tbsps. vinegar
4 tbsps. sugar
Put in double boiler. Cook until thick and add to this fruit mixture:
2 cups orange or peach cubes
2 cups light or dark canned cherries
2 cups pineapple, cubed or crushed
2 cups miniature marshmallows

1 cup whipped cream
Let stand 24 hours before serving.
ORANGE JEWEL PIE
Mix together:
1 cup sugar
1/4 tsp. salt
6 tbsps. flour
Stir in:
1 cup warm water
1/2 cup fresh orange juice
Cook over moderate heat, stirring constantly until thickened. Boil one minute; cool.
Add:
3 egg yolks, beaten
1 tbsps. butter
1 tbsps. fresh lemon juice
2 tbsps. finely grated orange rind
Place in baked pie shell. Serve with whipped cream on top.

Oatmeal Base Used In Bread, Muffins

Oatmeal is a delicious, healthful, and, most of all, a versatile food. Here are two recipes that any family will enjoy that employ this inexpensive ingredient.

OATEN BREAD
2 cups sifted flour
1/2 cup sugar
2 1/2 tbsps. baking powder
1/4 tsp. soda
1 tsp. salt
1 cup oatmeal
1 1/4 cups buttermilk or sour milk
2 tbsps. melted fat
1 cup diced, drained, cooked prunes
1/2 cup chopped nuts
Sift together flour, sugar, baking powder, soda and salt. Add oats and mix thoroughly. Combine buttermilk with slightly cooled fat. (To make sweet milk sour, add 1 tablespoon vinegar to 1 1/4 cups of sweet milk.) Add to flour mixture with prunes and nuts, stirring just enough to moisten the dry ingredients. Batter should be lumpy.

Southern Cornbread Baked In A Ring
Southern cornbread in an uncommon way. Spiced by minced onion, it is bound to be a success with your cornbread-loving family.
CORNBREAD RING
1 cup sifted flour
1 cup enriched yellow cornmeal
1/2 tsp. salt
4 tbsps. baking powder
1 tbsps. minced onion
1 egg
1 cup milk
1/2 cup soft shortening
Sift together the flour, cornmeal, salt and baking powder. Add minced onion, egg, milk and shortening. Beat with rotary beater (hand or electric) just until smooth—about 1 minute; do not overbeat. Pour into well-greased 1 1/2-quart ring-shaped baking pan. Bake in hot (425 degrees) oven until cake tester inserted in center comes out clean—20 to 25 minutes.
Loosen sides of cornbread ring with spatula; turn out. Serve at once. Center may be filled with creamed finnan haddie, topped with hard-cooked egg and garnished with parsley sprigs.

Favorite Snack Leaves Out Garlic
This version of a favorite snack is, by request, without benefit of garlic powder!
CEREAL CRISPS WITH FILBERTS
1 box (6 oz.) bite-size shredded rice biscuits
1/2 cup butter
1/2 tsp. salt
1/4 tsp. celery salt
1/2 tsp. onion powder
6 tbsps. freshly-grated Romano cheese
1 cup salted toasted filberts
Remove cereal shreds so they won't soak up butter; divide biscuits in half. Melt half the butter in a heavy 9-or 10-inch skillet over low heat; stir in half the salt, celery salt and onion powder. Add half the biscuits.
Toast, stirring often, until lightly browned—5 to 10 minutes; remove from heat. At once sprinkle with half the cheese and some paprika; stir carefully but well. Dump onto brown paper.
Clean skillet and prepare remaining butter and seasonings the same way. Mix both batches with filberts. Store in tightly covered container. Makes enough for 12 servings.

Spice That Pumpkin Pie For Delectability
Like spice in your pumpkin pie? Then here's your recipe!
PUMPKIN PIE
1/2 cup light brown sugar (firmly packed)
2 tbsps. flour
1/4 tsp. salt
1 1/2 tbsps. pumpkin pie spice
1 egg
1 cup undiluted evaporated milk
2 tbsps. dark molasses
1 cup canned pumpkin unbaked for an 8-inch pie.
In a medium-sized bowl stir together thoroughly the brown sugar, flour, salt and spice.
In a small bowl beat egg just until yolk and white are combined; add milk and molasses and beat to blend. Add to dry ingredients with pumpkin; stir until blended. Pour into pastry-lined pie plate; have pastry turned under and edge fluted.
Bake in moderate (375 degrees) oven on center rack 40 to 45 minutes; knife will not come out entirely clear when tested in center but filling will get firm as it cools. Serve with vanilla ice cream or whipped cream.

Novelty Breads Brighten Meal
Novelty breads highlight any meal. Your family will appreciate warm loaves right from the oven that they know have been baked by you.
Here are four recipes that feature breads with nuts and fruits in them:
RAISIN-RYE BREAD
1 cup sifted flour
3 tbsps. double-acting baking powder
1/2 tsp. salt
1 cup stone-ground whole rye flour
1 large egg
1-3 cup firmly-packed dark brown sugar
1/2 cup plus 1 tbsps. milk
1/2 cup coarsely broken walnuts
1/2 cup seedless raisins (rinsed in hot water and drained)
Sift together the flour, baking powder and salt; stir in the rye flour. Beat egg and brown sugar together thoroughly; beat in milk. Add dry ingredients; stir until moistened; fold in walnuts and raisins.
Turn into well-greased loaf pan (about 8 by 4 by 3 inches); allow to stand 20 minutes. Bake in slow (325 degrees) oven 50 minutes or until cake tester inserted in center comes out clean.
Turn out on wire rack; cool. If stored overnight in tightly-closed container loaf may be sliced thin. Delicious spread with cream-style cottage cheese. This bread does not crack on top.
WALNUT PAN BREAD
1 cup sifted flour
3 tbsps. baking powder
1/2 tsp. salt
1/2 cup enriched yellow cornmeal
1 1/2 cups ready-to-eat bran
1 cup milk
1/2 cup golden shortening
1/2 cup dark brown sugar (firmly packed)
2 large eggs
1 bag (3 ounces or 3/4 cup) walnut pieces
Sift together the flour, baking powder, salt and cornmeal. Add bran to milk and soak until milk is absorbed.
Cream shortening and sugar; beat in eggs thoroughly, one at a time. Stir in soaked bran, then flour mixture stirring just until dry ingredients are moistened.
Break walnuts into uniform pieces (about the size of green peas) and fold in. Turn into buttered baking pan (9 by 9 by 1 1/2 inches).
Bake in hot (400 degrees) oven

Honey Touch Delightful Taste Treat

Honey blends with peanut butter to form an unusually delightful roll that all members of your family will enjoy.

PEANUT BUTTER HONEY CRESCENTS
2 packages active dry yeast
1/2 cup warm water
1/2 cup scalded milk
1/2 cup shortening
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 tsp. salt
2 eggs
4 1/2 cups sifted flour
Peanut butter honey filling
Butter or margarine (melted). Sprinkle yeast over water; stir until dissolved. To hot scalded milk, add shortening, sugar and salt; cool. Add to yeast mixture with eggs.
Add 1 cup of the flour and beat (at least 60 strokes) until mixture is thoroughly combined. Continue to beat in flour, 1/2 cup at a time, adding enough to make a dough that clings to itself in a ball. Cover bowl and refrigerate 24 hours.
Divide into-fourths. Roll out each piece on a floured board into an 11-inch circle, 1/4-inch thick. Cut each round into 8 pie-shaped wedges. Spread with peanut butter honey filling. Roll starting from wide side and bend to form crescent.
Dip each roll into melted butter or margarine and set two inches apart on greased baking sheet. Cover and let rise until doubled in bulk (1 1/2 to 2 hours). Bake in hot (450 degrees) oven 10 to 12 minutes. Makes 2 1/2 dozen.

PEANUT BUTTER HONEY FILLING
Blend 2-3 cup peanut butter, 2-3 cup honey, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/4 teaspoon allspice and 1 teaspoon cinnamon; spread on crescent wedges.

brown Cheddar cheese rolls spell out real southern hospitality at lunch or dinner, and are outstanding with meat, fish or salad.

Here are some success-tips-for Dixie Rolls and your other kneaded bread recipes: Mixing dough thoroughly in bowl makes soft doughs easy to handle. Dough will be less sticky, and less flour and kneading will be needed on the board. Snipping dough with kitchen shears prevents tearing of gluten strands, making nicer textured, more tender rolls.
Here is the recipe for this light, fluffy creation that almost melts in the gourmet's mouth:

DIXIE ROLLS
1 cup warm-water (not hot—110 to 115 degrees)
1 pkg. active dry yeast
1/2 cup sugar
1 tsp. salt
1 egg
3 1/2 to 4 cups sifted flour
2 cups grated sharp cheese
In mixing bowl, dissolve yeast in water. Stir in sugar, salt and egg. Add half of flour. Beat until smooth. Mix in rest of flour and cheese with hand until dough pulls away from sides of bowl. Knead on lightly floured board until smooth and a few small blisters appear. Cut off small pieces of dough with kitchen shears. Shape into 1 inch balls (3 for each greased med. muffin cup). Let rise in warm place (85 degrees) until double, 1 1/2 to 2 hr. (If kitchen is cool, place dough on a rack over a bowl of hot water and cover completely with a towel.)
Heat oven to 375 degrees (quick mod.) Bake about 15 minutes. Remove from pan immediately; brush top with butter. Makes about 1 1/2 doz. rolls.

A Devotional For Today

Lord, teach us to pray. (Luke 11:1.)
PRAYER: We thank Thee, our Father, that Thou hast given us the privilege of prayer. Help us to open our minds to Thee this day that we may receive needed spiritual power. We pray in the name of Jesus Christ, Thy Son and our Redeemer. Amen.
(From The 'Upper Room')

Good Principle—Faulty Angle

The principle of rewarding good accident-free driving by granting a cut in insurance premiums is a good one. Texas, effective last week, now embodies that principle in its insurance regulations.

In some remarks last week we objected to a single feature, in particular, in the new rating system, holding that it was unjust to the driver charged with a moving violation in which no harm was done to man or machine, who had paid his fine and squared himself with the law. But he takes further punishment, in a sort of double-jeopardy reaction, at the hands of the insurance company, which makes him pay the manual rate instead of the cheaper rate available to those who were lucky enough not to get caught with a violation, or decided to fight the charge and came clear.

We still believe quite strongly that this single feature will impose additional difficulties on traffic officers and traffic courts by making it worthwhile for the accused to fight the case all the way through, whereas if no additional penalties were involved he would pay his fine and be done with it. Most motorists, if the offense resulted in no damage or injury of any kind, would elect to fight a case that might cost, in addition to the fine they would be willing to pay as much as $75 to $100 additional in insurance penalties.

We repeat, the principle of rewarding good driving is sound. It is unfortunate that the Texas regulations contain a clause that most assuredly will cause all sorts of public resentment unless it is taken out or greatly modified. It will hinder, not help, traffic law enforcement in Texas.

Walking Is A Lost Art

The art of walking is becoming a lost one in the United States, thanks to all sort of motorized devices such as automobiles, scooters, buses and other means of rapid movement.

In our childhood practically everybody walked to school, which could mean a round-trip of anywhere from two to five miles. We never thought of it as anything unusual; indeed, it had its pleasurable aspects. It was good for the muscles, mind and morale.

What had to be done, had to be done; and if kids had to walk to school, why, they had to walk to school, period.

Today's children are hauled to school, instead, either by tax-supported buses, or in the family car. They are strangers to the joys of walking.

It is undoubtedly the best form of physical exercise there is, and its widespread employment would add a great deal to our national health and well-being.

For walking not only exercises the leg and chest muscles, but clears the cobwebs from the brain and sends the blood coursing through the veins and arteries like a whirlwind.

In the old days people use to stroll through the autumn woods just for the sheer pleasure of getting as close to nature as possible. Boys built their own traps and deadfalls, and maintained regular routes through the woods and fields to gather up birds and small furry creatures. Nowadays about the only ones who practice hikes are Boy Scouts, and they are all the better for it.

The Die Has Been Cast For Inflation

WASHINGTON — The die has been cast. The steel settlement means more inflation. It could mean a devaluation of the dollar sometime in the 1960's.

For years to come, the "agreement" just reached under pressure of a variety of forces, some of them political, will plague the management of American industry as well as the unions, and, because of this very defeat of the public interest, state control of wages and prices may someday spell the end of the voluntary system of negotiation between labor and management. Another costly strike, such as has just occurred in steel, would surely settle the issue in the direction of state control.

The inside story of what happened in the final hours of the steel negotiations should not come as a surprise. When economic power wielded by two major groups faces government pressure, there is a tendency to abandon extreme demands and accept a "compromise."

BUT THE REAL ISSUE in the steel controversy was not what wages should be increased or what prices should be raised. It revolved around the basic question of whether management should have the right to say how many workers should be allotted to certain duties in a plant.

In effect, the right to manage. The employers didn't lose out entirely on this issue. For there now are vague promises in writing in the new contract that the subject will be studied and some reforms will be instituted on work rules. But the so-called "past practices" provisions stayed in the contract unchanged. On this, the unions won a victory, and the American people lost. In the future prices will have to be raised to cover these extra costs of inefficiency and unproductive labor.

For the time being, the companies will not increase prices. They will try to absorb the added costs. But the steel companies buy many products from other industries, and, if the wage-price spiral continues, it is only a question of time when the steel companies will find it necessary to increase their prices. This may be months off, but it seems inevitable for the future, despite what is being said to the contrary today by the companies.

"WE'LL HOLD OUT as long as we can against a price increase," said one steel man, "but we can't tell how long the people from whom we buy will hold the line on prices. If they exercise statesmanship and prudence, maybe they will benefit by the fight we have made."

The settlement reached does call for a substantial wage increase. It doesn't solve the inflation problem. It doesn't bring the hoped-for stability. Other industries now will find themselves compelled to grant wage increases of similar proportions. In the end, the whole price structure will be affected. The net result over the next five or six years will be a steady diminution in the purchasing power of the dollar.

Could anything have been done to prevent the inflationary settlement of the steel strike? The politicians say nothing could have been done. They argue that, if the strike were resumed, Congress would have been compelled to enact restrictive legislation, possibly along the lines of compulsory arbitration or its corollary — wage and price control. This possibility had its influence on both labor and management representatives in the steel conference. Presumably the fear of what Congress might do prompted the two sides to agree. But basically it was something else — politics.

THUS, TODAY, AS THE presidential and congressional campaign is about to be fought, it is obvious that labor unions have a considerable strength in Congress because a majority of the candidates depend to a certain extent on the campaign contributions furnished through labor-union efforts.

The companies had hoped that the election among the union members, scheduled to take place under the Taft-Hartley Act procedure and based on the "last offer," would at least reveal a considerable opposition to the leadership of David McDonald. But while this might be true in some companies — according to the private polls taken — it wasn't in others. The result was that both sides came to the conclusion that the election ought to be avoided if possible. The labor leadership, for instance, didn't like the idea of a company-by-company vote in the election, because this might reveal the weaknesses of the present officers of the steel unions in certain areas.

ALL IN ALL, BOTH SIDES had logical reasons for coming to an agreement. But the public interest was not served. Although the steel managements did wage a dramatic fight to emphasize the relationship between the wage-price spiral and inflation, this is not something the steel companies could be expected to carry on indefinitely by themselves. They now have, in effect, transferred the responsibility to the public as a whole.

So it must be recorded that the unions have won a victory, and the public has lost the first round in the big battle of the 1960's to save the purchasing power of the dollar from being further devalued.

Congress And Ike's Indian Sign

WASHINGTON (AP) — This is the Democrats' last chance to throw off President Eisenhower's Indian sign. But they probably won't. He's had it on them for years.

Three times in a row since 1954 the country has watched the extraordinary spectacle of a Republican president dealing with a Democratic-run Congress, a situation made to order for brawls and bruises.

INSTEAD THE Democrats got into few quarrels with Eisenhower, didn't call names, were mostly docile and, particularly last year, moved like sheep under prodding. This was most remarkable last year when Democrats, as a result of the 1958 elections, outnumbered Republicans in Congress by the greatest majority since early New Deal days.

They complained about Eisenhower's lack of leadership. But they showed scant aggressiveness of their own. Their most consistent quality throughout these years has been a healthy respect for the popular Eisenhower.

It was almost as if he had them hypnotized or they felt it was the better part of political wisdom not to antagonize the voters who seemed highly pleased with Eisenhower, as they showed by electing him twice.

The result last year was a mediocre congressional performance, with Democrats joining with Republicans in shoving under the rug until 1960 legislation which could have been tackled in 1959. Civil rights and aid to education, for example.

THERE WERE SOME practical political reasons for the showing, of course: This is both a presidential and congressional election year and the closer to election day popular legislation is passed the more apt the voters are to remember. Still, while there is talk in the new session of Congress about big and bold performances, the rest of the country can calmly maintain a "show me" attitude until talk becomes a reality.

It will probably be Eisenhower who does the punching this year, as he did last, by banging at the Democrats to keep down spending. Arguments about the budget will occupy most of the year.

There will be political entanglements, for sure, since, with the exception of Adlai Stevenson, the only would-be presidential candidates now in sight in both parties are concentrated in the Senate.

Even if the Democrats want to kick over the traces by belittling Eisenhower's presidency, he'll probably still be able to keep them in a trance by playing up the peace theme, supplemented by his journeys in search of it.

The Democrats would be in an awkward spot if they try to play rough with a President who, although nearing 70 and retirement, is working more strenuously than at any time since entering the White House.

It seems a good guess that 1960 will be a busy year but not a rambunctious one, at least in the Democrats' dealings with Eisenhower. Last year he piped and they danced. This year he can be expected to call the tune again.

THIS DAY IN TEXAS

By CURTIS BISHOP

One Jarvis Hubble and his associates were incorporated into the Pecos Bridge Company on this day in 1860, and the construction of the first span across that stream's deep southern canyon was launched.

The bridge planned by Mr. Hubble and his partners was not, of course, the fantastic "high bridge" which the Southern Pacific Railroad was forced to construct before their rail line was complete, but was several miles upstream where the depth of the canyon was not as formidable.

However, this enterprise of the Pecos Bridge Company attracted a number of Irish and Chinese laborers to the vicinity. And a few years later, when the railroad started its bridge, those laborers, perhaps, and others like them made good customers at a saloon opened on the Pecos River Bank by a Texas man of vision and originality.

The saloon keeper won greater renown, however, in another medium. His "Law West of the Pecos" and the "Jersey Lillie" saloon spread the fame of the little town of Langtry into the far corners of the earth. His name, of course, was Roy Bean.

Thanks, Just The Same

BALTIMORE — A slip of the typewriter at the Baltimore Yacht Club sent a dance invitation to Baltimore County Executive Christian H. Kahl and Mrs. Grady.

Kahl fired replied he would rather escort Mrs. Kahl, with all due respect to the wife of Baltimore Mayor J. Harold Grady.

Triple Trouble

BIXBY, Okla. — Highway trooper Bob Harshaw stopped a woman motorist who was driving over a closed road. He gave her a ticket for that violation and another for having an expired driver's license.

The impatient lady raced the car's motor while he wrote. Harshaw stopped, listened, then wrote out a third ticket. There was no muffler on the car.

Free Postage

SIoux FALLS, S. D. — Twelve-year-old Barbara Brown was disturbed when she remembered she had forgotten to put a stamp on a letter. It didn't matter, Barbara had written "God bless our postman" across the envelope and the post office stamped it for her.

Out They Go

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio — Keeping pace with the times, the post office here has moved mail boxes from corners where they obstruct motorists' view.

Robert J. Tarentine, post office safety director, said most complaints came from sports car drivers.

Discovery As Much Fun As Going

Dewey Murray was his name and he was a preacher's son who lived next door. Dewey was my only competitor for the small shelf of books that constituted the library of our small country school.

But our race in the fourth grade to read all 11 of those books is not this particular story. Somewhere between gulping down the contents of those books and a fast game of marbles under a pear tree, Dewey introduced me to the world of stars.

He first mentioned to me the astounding fact that up in the sky there was a place called Mars and little green men lived there, digging canals. We got on the subject because television had not been invented and there was nothing to do after supper, before bed-time, but lay in the front yard and look at the stars. We also had not discovered girls at this time.

SO HE POINTED OUT constellations which I had never before seen because of the stars. He differentiated between the solar system, the universe and the galaxy. He explained that our Moon is not "the" Moon, but "a" moon, more properly called a satellite.

He could even name all nine planets and the number of satellites each one had. And he told me that the Sun is really only a star, a rather insignificant one, at that.

But my imagination was trapped in the maw of the knowledge that there may be little green people on Mars. He added that even Venus may have people.

I REALIZE THAT ALL of this sounds

rather prosaic now. But in the 1930's, it was unsafe to walk about the streets proclaiming the fact that people lived anywhere else but right here. It could land a fellow, even a young one, in a straight jacket bound for some padded compartment.

Adults would laugh at our conversations and ask for possible reasons why anyone would want to go to the moon. After all, there was plenty of cheese right here on Earth.

But we persisted in our studies and even built telescopes. We found out there star clusters, nebulae, and all the myriad of other things that inhabit the universe.

We discovered that light travels at 186,000 miles per second and that at that high speed, it requires light from Proxima Centauri over four years to get to Earth. And that star is the closest one.

RIGHT NOW THAT SOUNDS like the most useless fact I know. But to Dewey and me, it was more important than the name of the street we lived on. I can't for the life of me understand why.

I got to thinking about Dewey the other night when I saw a regular half-hour television program dedicated to explaining future voyages of the U. S. Air Force to the Moon. Green cheese or not, the government apparently plans to send men into space.

Undoubtedly, the trips will be filled with adventure and excitement. But I doubt that any man making the trip will be any more excited than two boys discovering the facts and fancies of the universe for the first time from the safety of their own front yard.

Parties Need Our Financial Support

Now is the time for all good men to come to the financial aid of the political party of their choice, if they would keep it reasonably honest in this election year.

Toward this noble goal, my husband is about to dispatch a contribution to the Republicans and I to the Democrats. We take our contributions out of the same till, each with the lofty hope that it will not only keep the party unspotted but help defeat the other fellow.

No matter how divergent our views on candidates and platforms, we are agreed that it is far more healthy politically for the average run of voter to help support his party than for the party to be always dependent upon the contributions of big business and big labor.

IF EVERYONE WHO VOTES in local, county, state or national elections would chip in a few dollars annually to his party, it wouldn't be necessary for both parties to go, hat in hand, to contributors in either the business or the labor camps — where all parties to the transaction understand the rule of quid pro quo.

If the average voter would ante up on a regular basis, as he pays dues to his golf or pinocchio club, his party wouldn't be forced to pay off the big contributors with shady, or silly, or embarrassing political favors. Sometime (speed the day!) the victorious party might even be able to appoint competent, career diplomats to the big, all-important posts instead of the socially ambitious donors who are responsible for large sums in the party war chest.

IT'S AN ODD QUIRK in THE American character that from childhood we are taught to support generously our churches, schools, research, medical foundations and an infinite variety of charities. But nothing is ever said about contributing to the support of the political parties that operate under the voters' mandate.

When I was a child, I was taught to give my pennies to every cause from that of medical missionaries to earthquake victims in Japan. But no one, either at home or in school, mentioned the importance of financial support of his political party by the individual.

"THE INTERESTS," whatever they were, took care of the political parties and paid the bills, and the average voter had done his duty when he went to the polls and cast his ballot. Everyone thought the interests were naughty and got as good as they gave. But that was the system. And even if it wasn't very satisfactory, no one questioned it too closely.

It is only in comparatively recent years that the financial responsibility of the voter for his party has begun to creep into the political consciousness of the nation.

As big business and big labor have vied in their political contributions, both equally equipped with beseeching wampum, there has been widespread discontent with such cash-and-carry wavings of political favor. There is more and more talk of saddling Uncle Sam with the cost of national political campaigns, by a flat Congressional appropriation of an identical number of millions to each party in election years.

WELL, I FAVOR KEEPING both parties honest at all costs, but not at cost to Uncle Sam, who is already staggering under his financial burdens. If man is a political animal, as he boasts, let him support his party and his beliefs with something more substantial than hot air. Let him lay it on the line with cash as well as conversation.

Frankly, I don't think either the Republicans or the Democrats have made even a half-hearted campaign to raise money from their rank and file. Certain-ly, they've made no effort comparable to the Red Cross, the Heart and the Cancer funds. The money is there at the grass roots, all right, if the party chieftains will cultivate the lawn and clip it.

Settling A Strike But Not A Dispute

Once again the massive prestige of the federal government has been used to settle a steel strike.

National politics — the Presidency — took precedence over politics within the steel industry.

David J. McDonald, president of the United Steelworkers, got most of what he wanted.

R. Conrad Cooper, chief negotiator for the steel companies, did not get what he and the steel companies wanted — (1) a test of McDonald's power within his own union and (2) binding arbitration of the work-rules dispute.

President Eisenhower and Vice President Richard A. Nixon would not let the Taft-Hartley procedure run its course. They wouldn't tolerate another walkout. They thwarted the industry.

THE STEEL COMPANIES were willing to take a strike. They wanted a vote on their last offer.

Even if the union members voted overwhelmingly to reject the offer, steel executives wanted to test McDonald. Would he dare strike again?

Steel executives persuaded themselves that the men hadn't wanted a strike in the first place, that they were in no shape, financially, to stage another walkout, that, therefore, at the last moment McDonald would lower his asking terms.

McDonald's passionate declaration at the final hearing of the Taft-Hartley Board of Inquiry hinted at his political dilemma within the union. He said: "The Taft-Hartley Act can tell us when we get to strike. It cannot tell us when we will strike — or whom."

HE ENCOURAGED THE inference that he'd use a divide-and-conquer strategy by striking one or two companies. Conjecture among labor-management persons in Washington was that he'd pick U. S. Steel and perhaps Republic.

Tina rode with McDonald and against the steel industry. First, Eisenhower and Nixon were unwilling to chance another steel setback in an election year. It would puncture their Peace-and-Prosperity balloon.

Second, the withdrawal of Gov. Nelson

A. Rockefeller as a Republican presidential candidate endowed Nixon with new prestige in his mediation effort. Roger M. Blough, chairman of U. S. Steel, couldn't say a flat "no" to the man who had a 50-50-or-better chance to be the next President. He had to lean over backwards to be agreeable.

Moreover, Nixon couldn't ram a settlement down McDonald's throat. He wants to pedestal himself as a friend of labor. He would want McDonald's neutrality, if not active support, in a political campaign.

BUT NIXON DIDN'T HAVE to court Blough and other steel executives. Most of them are dyed-in-the-wool Republicans and have been consistently treated by this administration as part of the family!

Third, economics went against Cooper and Blough. The rubber and meat-packing settlements established a 10-cent per hour wage and fringe package. Then, the Kaiser Steel settlement topped this. After that came the aluminum, can, and copper settlements. Blough and Cooper were surrounded by 12-to-15-cent packages, depending on who reckons.

Fourth, the cost-of-living index worked for McDonald. It advanced slowly and steadily during the toilsome dispute from 124.0 in May to 125.6 in November, and added four cents an hour to steel wages — based on the expired contract. So, what might have been a 10-cent-an-hour package — the deal Dr. George W. Taylor, chairman of the Taft-Hartley Board of Inquiry, was hoping to achieve — was "procrastinated" upward.

BACK IN JULY, McDONALD said to me: "I can tell you this. They could have settled this without a strike — settled easily. Now it's going to cost them more, much more, before this thing is over. They'll pay for it."

McDonald was right. The steel companies failed to estimate the power of presidential politics. They played for stakes in steel. Eisenhower, Nixon, and Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell, a vice presidential aspirant, were playing for the White House.

How To Shake The Girls

NEW YORK (AP) — Nothing worries bachelors more than leap year.

"Many girls take it quite seriously," one complained. "Some get unbelievably aggressive. I wish I knew a sure way to fend them off."

Actually, there are a number of methods by which a wily bachelor can remain carefree and single even in the face of the most determined girl's marital campaign in the months ahead. But it does take ingenuity.

Here are a few tested tips on how a resourceful single man can ward off the most persistent wooer:

1. If you have a girl friend named Veronica, send her a box of candy on Valentine's Day and enclose a card saying, "To Mabel, forever yours!" Veronica will put you immediately on ice.

2. The next time you go to your girl's house, bring along your laundry.

3. Always go out on double dates. If a girl can't get you alone, she can't very well ask you to marry her.

4. If she asks you over for a good old-fashioned home-cooked meal, show up carrying a stomach pump.

5. Quit your job and become a hermit for the rest of the year. Hermits get fewer marriage proposals than anybody.

6. Pick a fight with a cop and go to jail.

7. Keep asking your girl how well she is doing at her job and what her prospects of advancement are.

8. Tell her — as if it were a big joke — what an odd and fickle family you spring from.

9. No matter how late she shows up for a date, you always show up at least 15 minutes later. No woman can stand being kept waiting by a man in public.

10. When you go into a revolving door together, wait and let her make the first push. Nothing infuriates a civilized woman more.

11. Take up martini drinking. Any man powerful enough to say "yes" to a fourth dry martini is strong enough to say "no" to any number of women.

12. Beware of borrowing money from an altar-goaled girl. To do this could be your greatest possible mistake during leap year.

Fun In Geography

SHAKER HEIGHTS, Ohio — Youngsters get a geography lesson while playing outside Mercer School, thanks to efforts of the local Parent-Teacher Assn.

PTA members painted a 42-foot map of the United States on playground pavement. The states are painted blue, yellow or pink, and names and outlines are in black. The youngsters use the map for relay races from state to state and other geography-type games.

Strike It Rich

ZANESVILLE, Ohio — Three holes in the ground have enabled Hopewell School here to expand its campus area from 12 to 52 acres.

The holes are oil wells, drilled when a pool of oil was found. The first ceased production some time ago, the second was dry, and the third has now been capped. They brought the school district about $3,000, enough to acquire additional land.
