Air Crash Kills 50

HOLDCROFT, Va. (AP) — A Norfolk-bound Capital Airlines plane, groping confusedly at ground level in heavy fog, crashed on the side of a marshland ravine near here Monday night. Fifty persons died in the flaming wreckage.

Early this morning, rescuers who had been held back for nearly eight hours by the searing heat finally were able to enter a portion of the bulk to begin removing the bodies of the victims—46 passengers and a crew of four.

Capital reported two of the victims were infants. The first charred body was removed from the plane at 7:50 a.m. It appeared that few would be identifiable. Police indicated a seat plan of the flight would be used to discover which passenger was in each seat and that the seats would then be tagged to assist in identification.

NO TEXANS The passenger list showed no Texans. A crash truck parked near the still smoldering ruins and ambulances stood by to carry bodies to a hospital in Richmond, where the more difficult aspects of identification would be turned over to a medical examiner.

The airline resolved a question as to exactly how many persons were aboard the four-engine plane. It confirmed the presence of another infant, the 50th victim. Aside from the weather there was no immediate hint as to why the plane crashed.

All but five of the passengers had boarded the plane at Washington for the relatively short hop to Norfolk. These five, continuing through from Chicago, had switched planes at Washington to finish their trip.

The big jet-prop Viscount, Capital Flight 20 from Chicago to Norfolk via Washington, plunged to earth like a leaden pancake shortly after 10:30 p.m.—the time she was due in Norfolk.

FIELD NEARBY Only a few hundred yards away was an open field where the plane might have made a safe emergency landing—had the pilot been able to see the field.

"She seemed to come down like somebody pulled a rug out from under her," said Robert H. Tench, whose farmhouse is only about 300 yards from the crash scene near the Chickahominy River. "She came straight down."

Tench said the plane was perilously low and circling, apparently lost in the heavy fog and light rain, shortly before the crash.

"It came pretty near hitting my house twice," Tench said. "The second time it went over it was so low that when I went outside, my whole yard was full of smoke from the engines."

Now We Can Read Both Sides

Arrival was announced Monday of 100 new street signs by Bruce Dunn, director of public works. The signs will replace older markers that have become worn or broken. Dunn pointed out that the new signs will face all directions as opposed to many existing signs that only read one way.

Jap Premier To Sign Pact, Invite Ike To Visit Japan

WASHINGTON (AP) — Prime Minister Nobusuke Kishi arranged to visit the White House today to sign an historic treaty and to invite President Eisenhower to visit Japan.

The treaty would raise Japan, once a U.S.-occupied nation, to the status of equal partner in U.S.-Japanese relations and officially place her in the free world camp.

The invitation for an Eisenhower visit was carried by Kishi from Emperor Hirohito. This year marks the 100th anniversary of the arrival of the first diplomatic envoys from Japan to this country.

The White House has not yet said whether Eisenhower will travel to the Far East this year. The President plans to go to South America next month and to the Soviet Union in June.

Kishi, who arrived in Washington Sunday night for a 3½-day visit, had a 1½-hour morning meeting scheduled with Eisenhower. The arrangements called for lunch at the White House, to be followed by the treaty signing in the East Room of the Executive Mansion—the room where President James Buchanan received the first Japanese mission in 1860.

U.S. diplomats knew of no outstanding problems between America and Japan that Kishi might want to take up with Eisenhower. This contrasted with mid-1957 when Kishi was last here and U.S.-Japanese relations were at a low ebb.

One of the problems then was Japanese distaste for the 1951 U.S.-Japanese treaty, which was negotiated while Japan was a defeated, disarmed and occupied enemy of World War II.

making any major changes in men or weapons based in Japan. Japan pledges to help defend America, but this pledge is limited to Japanese territory because Japan's constitutional renunciation of war is interpreted as banning the sending of Japanese forces outside of Japan.

The treaty, to last at least 10 years and indefinitely thereafter, is welcomed by Washington as a free choice by Japan to join the West instead of adopting a neutral or pro-Communist stance in the cold war.

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Authorities are investigating a report that Julian A. Frank, suspect in the Jan. 6 airliner bombing, knew a man under suspicion in a Nov. 16 crash.

The crashes, both of National Airlines planes, took a total of 76 lives.

Charles S. Collar, Civil Aeronautics Board examiner in Miami, called the acquaintanceship of Frank and Dr. Robert Spears of Dallas, Tex., "a little too strong to be called just a coincidence."

Collar commented after Los Angeles Asst. Dist. Atty. Julian Blodgett told of a statement by Dr. Donald A. Loomis, a Los Angeles chiropractor.

Loomis was quoted as saying Dr. Spears, 64, wanted Loomis to agree to hiring Frank, 32, of New York, as their counsel in an abortion conspiracy case.

Spears has been listed as one of those aboard the plane which crashed in the Gulf of Mexico Nov. 16. Frank was positively identified as one of those who perished in the Jan. 6 crash at Bolivia, N.C.

Loomis was quoted as saying he wouldn't be surprised if Spears or Frank still live and had a connection with both crashes.

Cold, Snow Put State In Deep Freeze

Falls Up To 7 Inches in Panhandle

HEAVY FALLS Northeast Hit By Snow Storm

Texas was one big refrigerator Monday morning with a top freezing compartment that extended all the way down to Houston and San Antonio.

And the coldest spot—as usual—was Dalhart where the mercury plunged to 9 degrees below zero shortly before dawn.

FORECAST Scattered rains and snow flurries were forecast for most of Texas Wednesday. Another hard freeze was predicted for most of the state again early Wednesday.

Other pre-dawn readings Tuesday included Lubbock 14 degrees, Childress 15, Wichita Falls 20, Mineral Wells, Abilene and Marfa 22, Wink, San Angelo and Fort Worth 24, Dallas 26, Lufkin, Junction, Tyler and Longview 27, Waco and El Paso 28, College Station 29, Austin 30, Beaumont and San Antonio 31, and Houston and Cotulla 32.

AUSTIN (AP)—The Department of Public Safety reported today a man had barricaded himself in a house and was shooting it out with Texas Rangers in San Marcos.

Details of the shooting were not available. The DPS said two Texas Rangers, in San Marcos on another case, were involved in the gunplay.

MURPHY RITES Are Pending Funeral services for John Vernon Murphy, 32, were pending this morning at River Funeral Home. He was pronounced dead on arrival at Big Spring Hospital Monday at 5:30 p.m.

Apparently, he had a heart attack while driving near Newsum's grocery on West 3rd. His car struck two parked vehicles before rolling to a halt. They are owned by Merle McKim, San Angelo, and J. W. Taylor, Ft. Worth.

Mr. Murphy has lived in Big Spring most of his life and was a livestock dealer and trucker. He was born in Colorado City Sept. 19, 1928.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Arleen Murphy, Big Spring, five sons, Dwayne Murphy, Fort Pierce, S. D., Charles Murphy, Odessa, W. D., Kenneth and Darrell Murphy, all of Big Spring; two daughters, Mrs. Nelda Allmond, Baltimore, Md., Miss DeLoras Murphy, Big Spring; two brothers, J. O. Murphy, Big Spring, F. V. Murphy, Oklahoma City.

A far-ranging snowstorm that developed over the Texas-Oklahoma Panhandle over the week-end, hammered the Northeast today, dumping heavy falls in many areas.

Northerly winds, trailing the storm, powered cold Canadian air southward from the Rockies across broad areas eastward. It was far below zero in sections of the Rockies.

The Weather Bureau in Boston warned of heavy snow in southern New Hampshire and southern central Maine, with falls of 4 to 8 inches in most areas and up to 10 inches along the Maine coast.

Sleet and freezing rain pelted southern New England, making driving hazardous. A fast moving coastal storm centered near southern Cape Cod during the early morning dumped 2 to 6 inches of snow from Massachusetts northward into southern Vermont and New Hampshire and southwestern Maine.

The snow belt extended from western New York into lower Michigan but westward the snow diminished considerably, with light falls in the upper and middle Mississippi Valley. Snow flurries continued in the Ohio Valley, Pennsylvania, Kentucky, Tennessee and West Virginia. Light showers sprinkled areas from Connecticut southward through Virginia. Some fog also as reported.

The storm was blamed for at least 20 deaths. There were 7 in Nebraska, 5 in Colorado, 4 in Illinois, 2 in New York and 1 each in Texas and Wisconsin. Most of the deaths were in accidents on ice-slicked and snow-covered highways.

Preachers Get Own Medicine FORT WORTH (AP) — About 3,000 Baptist preachers were getting a dose of their own medicine today at the Texas Evangelism Conference.

They sat back in pews and heard speakers point out their weak points. "Sometimes a preacher may be giving a series of sermons on revival when he himself needs to begin one in his own life," the Rev. Vance Havner of Greensboro, N.C., said.

Special citations of appreciation also were presented by the organization to communications media in the city—The Herald, KEDY-TV, Radio Stations KBST, KBYG and KHEM. A special certificate went to Cosden Petroleum Corporation for its unflinching cooperation in JayCee projects.

George Creagh, president, made the awards, and also presented a past president's plaque to Chub Jones, who directed the organization last year.

Creagh reviewed major projects handled by the JayCee unit during 1959, including the annual 4-H and FFA stock show; teen-age Road-E-O driving contest; teen-age golf and tennis tournaments; student speech contest; beauty pageant; agricultural club's swim show; monthly parties at the Big Spring State Hospital; and the annual poll tax campaign.

3-City Teletype Loop Plan Rejected By Commissioners

Howard County Commissioners Court Monday afternoon decided to reject a plan submitted by the city of Big Spring for the county to cooperate in setting up a leg of a three-city police department teletype circuit.

The commissioners declined to join with the city in the installation here, holding that its services would not be commensurate with the expense involved. The commissioners pointed out that if it included a larger number of West Texas towns that its benefits might be worth considering.

Under the plan outlined Monday morning, a receiver-transmitter would be installed in the city police station whereas only a receiver would be installed in the sheriff's office.

The commissioners felt that any participation by it in the plan would not result in sufficient return to justify the expenditure involved. If the plan is changed later on and conditions merit, the commissioners indicated they would take another look at the proposal.

C-C Directors Draw Terms

Members of the Chamber of Commerce board of directors have drawn for terms under the constitutional changes authorized by the membership.

Those who will serve three-year terms are R. H. Weaver, John Currie, J. R. Hensley, Jim Lewis and Rad Ware; two-year terms, Dr. W. A. Hunt, Dan Krause, Randall Palk, Wayne Gound and Ed Fisher; one year terms, Ted Hull, Werklal Parks, Jack Cook, Dr. Carl Mareum and Jack Wallace.

Cliff Fisher, new president of the chamber, announced that Oliver Cofer, K. D. Hestes and Tom Conway would be named as one-year board members.

In addition the board will include Col. Donald W. Eisenhart, Webb AFB commander, as an ex officio member. At the meeting, plans were discussed for the Feb. 5 annual banquet at Goliad gym with Paul Harvey, noted radio commentator and lecturer, as the speaker.

County Feels It's Paying Too Much For Rural Fire Safety

Howard County will pay the city of Big Spring $6,000 for rural fire protection service provided in 1959 and an additional $6,000 for similar protection in 1960.

However, when 1961 rolls around, the commissioners court wants to take a new look at the rural fire protection program and, if conditions remain as they now are, the county does not propose to pay as much as it has in the past.

JayCees Honor Their Bosses

Big Spring JayCees honored their employers, as well as some selected individuals, at their annual "Bosses Banquet" staged Monday night at the college student union.

Other pre-dawn readings Tuesday included Lubbock 14 degrees, Childress 15, Wichita Falls 20, Mineral Wells, Abilene and Marfa 22, Wink, San Angelo and Fort Worth 24, Dallas 26, Lufkin, Junction, Tyler and Longview 27, Waco and El Paso 28, College Station 29, Austin 30, Beaumont and San Antonio 31, and Houston and Cotulla 32.

OUTSTANDING TEACHER — Douglas Whitley of the Big Spring High School faculty, teacher of chemistry and physics and cited for devotion to teaching as well as to special service in handling valuable science equipment for the schools. He has spent many long hours above the regular day in arranging for science work for his students. Whitley has been on the local faculty three years.

OUTSTANDING POLICEMAN — Jim Wade, 28-year-old patrolman in the traffic division who has been with the force three and a half years, and cited for dependability and courtesy. Wade also was recognized in extra-curricular civic activities, especially for work with the Little League.

OUTSTANDING JAYCEE — Dar-yle Hobertz, active in practically all the organization's special projects last year, and particularly recognized for heading up direction of last summer's beauty pageant.

Special citations of appreciation also were presented by the organization to communications media in the city—The Herald, KEDY-TV, Radio Stations KBST, KBYG and KHEM. A special certificate went to Cosden Petroleum Corporation for its unflinching cooperation in JayCee projects.

George Creagh, president, made the awards, and also presented a past president's plaque to Chub Jones, who directed the organization last year. Creagh reviewed major projects handled by the JayCee unit during 1959, including the annual 4-H and FFA stock show; teen-age Road-E-O driving contest; teen-age golf and tennis tournaments; student speech contest; beauty pageant; agricultural club's swim show; monthly parties at the Big Spring State Hospital; and the annual poll tax campaign.

Webb Credit Union Names 3 Directors

Three directors have been elected by the Webb AFB Federal Credit Union.

They are Lt. Col. Thomas S. Simpson, who has been president, Capt. A. R. Robertson and Gilbert E. Webb. They will serve with CWO James M. Green, Omar Williams, M. Sgt. Vincent Best and T. Sgt. Robert D. Eickhoff as members of the board.

Those on the credit committee are M. Sgt. Forrest Kinnett, Capt. Neyland F. Allen Jr., M. Sgt. Glenn Butler, Joe S. Knight and S. Sgt. George Scott. The board named M. Sgt. Leonard Nauman and T. Sgt. John R. Kay as members of the supervisory committee.

At the December meeting of the board a 6 per cent dividend in the amount of $38,221.70 had been voted to the shareholders in the credit union.

At the annual meeting, by-laws changes approved by Congress were approved, including authorization to the board to declare dividends (semi-annually if desired); authority for the board to name a membership officer or officers. This has been done, and the board also has named a loan officer.

Webb AFB Federal Credit Union made 3,504 loans during 1959 in the amount of $1,630,359.68, as against 2,231 for 1958, an increase of 56.8 per cent. At the end of the year there were 1,887 loans outstanding for $954,915.57 as compared with 1,338 for $541,450.31 the year before.

The credit union has 2,691 shareholders who have $675,068.33 in shares. Since organization it has processed 8,380 loans in an aggregate of $3,359,752.89.

Minor Injuries From Car Crash

Mrs. T. L. White received minor injuries as the result of an automobile accident in the city Monday.

She was taken to Big Spring Hospital in a Nalley-Pickel ambulance. Mrs. White was a passenger in a car driven by her husband. It was in collision with a car driven by Troy Eugene Newburn, 1600 Avion, in the 200 block of Main.

Leonard G. Porter, 1306 Barnes, and Mattie Richardson, 1003 Lancaster were in collision at 18th and Gregg.

At 2nd and Runnels, Ellen Crawford, 3707 W. 30, was in collision with Helen D. Green, 301 W. 18th.

A wreck at 3rd and Runnels involved Marjorie Havins, 1004 Lancaster, and Walter Wirth, 700 Douglas.

Two Injured In Auto Accident

Cesarie Ontiveriaz, 32, suffered a broken collar bone and Jose Angel Mata, 31, a cut near the eye, when the car in which they were riding turned over on a curve near the stock pens. The accident occurred Sunday afternoon. Mata was driving the car. Ontiveriaz and his brother Tiva Ontiveriaz, 26, were passengers in the car. Tiva was not injured. The car suffered major damage, according to the highway patrol which investigated the accident.

ORDINANCE SNAFU

Zoning Board Grants Two Changes, Denies Another

Three zoning changes were approved and another—the only one facing opposition—was denied following a public hearing on the issues by the planning and zoning commission Monday.

The hearing was held for the area on the east end of Big Spring, bounded approximately by Birdwell Lane, the T&P Railroad right-of-way, Union Street, and Sixth Street. There were 15 Big Springers on hand to protest one of the zoning changes.

Three zoning changes were approved by the commission as no opposition developed. The area bounded by Birdwell Lane, the T&P Railroad right-of-way, Union Street, and the north side of Fourth Street was changed from Zone A, residential, to Zone G, industrial.

APPROVED The strip bounded by the north side of Fourth, Birdwell Lane, the alley between Fifth and Fourth, and Union Street was recommended to be changed from A, to F, business. This change was approved by a planning and zoning commission in 1955 and the city commission also gave approval. But it was never legally published.

RESIDENTS OPPOSE Fourteen residents opposed the legal change as the owner, Lloyd Curley, plans to build an apartment house on the block. The apartment house would be masonry and have a swimming pool, the only one on the east end of the city.

Wildcat Quits Fasselmann; Deep Hole Set In Sterling

Great Western No. 1 Allen, Martin County project, is setting a bridge to seal off the Fasselmann and begin tests in the Strawn.

There is no confirmed report that the Fasselmann will be abandoned, however the Strawn will be tested before further Fasselmann work is attempted.

An unusually deep wildcat location has been staked in Sterling County, Continental Oil Corp. will dig No. 1 Harris as an explorer about 17 miles south of Sterling City. Operator hopes to find Ellenburger production at 7,700 feet.

In Glasscock County, Hamilton Brothers are staking No. 1-27 Reynolds as an offset to the 1-22 Reynolds, Queen Sand discovery for 109 barrels of oil per day.

The field has been designated as the Clyde Reynolds (Queen Sand) pool.

Borden

Champlin No. 1-A Miller is preparing to test Ellenburger perforations between 8,564-78 feet. Operator set the 4 1/2 inch casing at 8,587.5 feet. This project is C NE NE of section 46-30-J. H. Gibson survey.

Rowan No. 2 Price is drilling in lime and shale below 6,700 feet. This project is 660 from south and 1,980 from east lines of section 39-30-J. H. Gibson survey.

Cosden Petroleum Corp. No. 3-B H. C. Shortes is an Arthur (Sprawberry) field location about five miles east of Ackery and slated for 8,800 feet. Drill site is 1,020 from south and 1,073 from west lines of section 5-33-3n, T&P survey.

Tennessee No. 1-A Dupree is drilling in lime at 6,350 feet. This wildcat is 660 from north and 1,980 from west lines of section 41-M-EL&RR survey. It is nine miles northwest of Lamesa.

Texas American No. 1 Hogg is preparing to perforate and test above 7,915 feet where the 5 1/2 inch casing was set. This wildcat is C NW NE of section 20-34-5n, T&P survey.

Garza Anderson-Pritchard Oil Corp. No. 9 Connell Estate is an Arlene (Glorieta & San Andres) field project. On 960 acres, it is slated for 3,500 feet about eight miles east of Post. The site is 990 from south and 1,750 from west lines of section 63-5-GI&H survey.

Glasscock Hamilton Bros. of Midland will dig the No. 1-27 Clyde C. Reynolds in the Clyde Reynolds (Queen Sand) pool about 10 miles east of Garden City. The site is 660 from north and west lines of section 27-32-4s, T&P survey. It is slated for 1,900 feet.

Howard Fleming Oil Co. and Fleming & Kimbell No. 43-B Snyder is a Howard Glasscock field project about eight miles south of Coahoma. On 640 acres, it will go to 3,200 feet. Drill site will be 2,310 from south and 1,650 from east lines of section 22-30-T&P survey.

Martin Pan American No. 1 A. F. Falkner is a new location in the Breedlove (Devonian and Strawn) field. Stated for 12,800 feet, it is one location northeast of Pan American No. 2 Turnbow which was a Strawn discovery. Location is 660 from south and east lines of labor 6, league 262, Borden CSL survey and 16 miles southwest of Lamesa.

Pan American No. 2 Offutt is bottomed at 12,151 feet. Operator has set the 5 1/2 inch casing on the bottom and is preparing to perforate and test. This Breedlove field project is 660 from north and 707 from east lines of section 3-35-Borden CSL survey.

Great Western No. 1 Allen swabbed Fasselmann perforations 10 hours and recovered .53 barrels of load water and 23 barrels of oil. At the end of the 10 hours, the fluid level was 8,000 feet below the surface. All the new oil came during the last three hours of swabbing. In the eighth hour, operator swabbed 5.83 barrels of oil, in the ninth, 9.23 barrels of oil and in the 10th, 8.15 barrels of oil. Operator has now loaded the hole with water so he can pump the tubing and packer. He will set the bridge plug between the Fasselmann and Strawn, then perforate the Strawn, between 10,382-368 feet for tests. This wildcat is C SE of section 41-37-1n, T&P survey.

Mitchell Cities Service No. 1 Elwood is drilling below 5,802 feet in lime, shale and sand. At last report, operator was having trouble maintaining circulation. This wildcat is 660 from north and 1,980 from east lines of section 30-17-SPRR survey.

Sterling Continental Oil Co. No. 1 Harris Estate is a deep wildcat headed for the Ellenburger at 7,700 feet. This project is 17 miles south of Sterling City and is 1 1/4 miles north of the Tom Green County line. Drill site is 660 from south and east lines of section 102-6-H&TC survey.

Machiavelli To Be Topic

Niccolo Machiavelli's The Prince, for centuries a subject of fierce controversy, is scheduled for discussion at this evening's meeting of the Big Spring Great Books group.

Was Machiavelli a cynical advocate of brutal, treacherous, cold-blooded selfishness which all governments condemn and accuse all others of practicing? Was he an honest historian, merely describing, without pious hypocrisy, the practice of politics in his time—and ours? Is his work a satire? Was he an idealist, a patriot, a democrat? Was he merely the conscientious adviser of princes?

Whatever the answer, the work is as pertinent, as contemporary now as it was five centuries ago.

The meeting, which is open free to anyone interested, will open at 8 p.m. today in the Music Building of Howard County Junior College. There are no requirements for attendance and the discussion will be informal and open to everyone who attends.

YMCA Week Now In Full Swing

Set in motion by a lively carnival staged by Hi-Y and Tri-Hi Club members Monday, the observance of YMCA week was in full swing today.

The gym of the Y building was given a festive holiday appearance Monday evening as all the club set up special displays, booths, etc. Many of their parents and other members of the family turned out for the event.

Today at 4:30 p.m. in the Y Knights of the Gra-Y will stage a big tournament with chariot races, lance contests, Merlin's wand spin and shield judging. There also will be an induction of members of the group at the Y.

Wednesday observance is omitted in order that all members can attend the mid-week services at their churches.

Slick Boatler Honored As 25-Year Man For Cosden

More than two score associates, other friends and relatives of Slick Boatler paid tribute to him Saturday evening as he entered Cosden elite 25-year club.

Besides top company officials and many of the men with whom he has worked over the years, four of his brothers, Elmer and Pat Boatler of Big Spring, Till Boatler, Colorado City and Ermond Boatler, San Angelo, were on hand to help celebrate the occasion with a dinner at Cosden Country Club.

There were several close friends with whom he had been associated in 4-H and livestock activities, among them Jimmy Taylor, county agent, Bill Sims, assistant agent, J. C. Sales, Martin County rancher, John Masters, Bob Middleton, Dr. Floyd Mays and Dr. Allen Hamilton, Big Spring.

Slick Boatler goes by his nickname most of the time and M. H. when initials are necessary. They stand for Marvin Henry, which few people know.

Son of the late Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Boatler, a Howard County ranching couple and grandson of U. M. Boatler, one of the first saddlers to carve a place out of the big open ranch spreads in northern Howard County, Slick has always had an interest in agriculture. In fact, his friends kid him about being a frustrated rancher.

Confederate Vets' Children Not In Line For Pension

False rumors that children of Confederate veterans are eligible for pensions from the Veterans Administration were causing both congressmen and VA headaches Tuesday.

VA had pointed out in a previous release that the great majority of children of both Union and Confederate war veterans are not eligible for pension payments but it apparently was not enough to still the hopes of many aged persons.

Today VA explained again that generally pensions are paid to children of deceased veterans who are unable to win competitions for the all-state band.

Two Big Spring High School students won all-state positions in Odessa previously, and last Saturday, three more placed in auditions held in Lubbock.

5 Students Place In All-State Band

Those winning all-state in Odessa were Wayne Griffith; cornet, and Herman Hodges, French horn. Winners in Lubbock included Kathleen Soldan, bass clarinet, Mary Jane Engstrom, E flat clarinet, and Edward Loveless, baritone sax.

JayCeas Hear Medic Myths

Man's unrealistic dream of forestalling death and recovering youth goes on—and as a result he continues to be fleeced by charlatans to the tune of billions of dollars a year.

This was put forward in a talk on "Medical Myths" given before the Big Spring Junior Chamber of Commerce banquet Monday night, when JayCeas honored their bosses.

The speaker was Dr. William H. Gordon, Lubbock cardiologist, an outstanding civic leader in his community, and prominent figure in medical circles.

Dr. Gordon's lament was that while honest, scientific medical research (in universities and medical centers) goes begging for funds, the American public pours out billions in useless "drugs," in fraudulent mail products, in pseudo-health machines and to out-and-out fakes.

The old nostrums and gadgets that we laugh at as being antiquated are no worse than some still being foisted on a gullible public, Dr. Gordon said. Where there was at one time a "blood vibration machine" there is today an "atomic-powered" box that is supposed to cure what ails you.

The use of the mails to defraud, particularly in the offering of nostrums, is at an all time high, the speaker said. While the Food and Drug Administration is trying to suppress such activities, it makes little headway simply because of the credulity of the public.

"We are always looking for a dramatic, quick cure, rather than to accept the undramatic views of our own doctor," he said.

He cited the great tragedy of charlatans who claim a cure for cancer. He pointed to the great popularity for "food supplements" which are being sold largely door-to-door and offer no real help in diet. Many myths are currently being built up in this field, Dr. Gordon said.

"While we are sophisticated in so many other fields, we remain credulous about medicine," he said. "We are unrealistic in trying to avert the natural laws of aging and death. We are looking for 'magic' the same as generations before us did. There is no magic, and we pay a tremendous toll for our gullibility."

Dr. Gordon was introduced by John Taylor, master of ceremonies for the JayCeas affair held at the HCJC student union.

Three zoning changes were approved and another—the only one facing opposition—was denied following a public hearing on the issues by the planning and zoning commission Monday.

The hearing was held for the area on the east end of Big Spring, bounded approximately by Birdwell Lane, the T&P Railroad right-of-way, Union Street, and Sixth Street. There were 15 Big Springers on hand to protest one of the zoning changes.

Three zoning changes were approved by the commission as no opposition developed. The area bounded by Birdwell Lane, the T&P Railroad right-of-way, Union Street, and the north side of Fourth Street was changed from Zone A, residential, to Zone G, industrial.

Communities Face Big Defense Shifts

By FRANK CORMIER
WASHINGTON (AP) — Important shifts in defense spending, ordered as budget-balancing moves, will have a major economic impact on many American communities in the year ahead.

To hold defense spending to about 41 billion dollars, fiscal planners have decreed that some programs must be scrapped, cut back or stretched out to make deemed more essential.

Just where the reductions and increases will come has not been room for costly new projects spelled out in detail. However, the trend will be toward increasing emphasis on missiles and nuclear ships and cuts in manned aircraft, conventional vessels, ammunition and vehicles.

Communities which have a big stake in programs due for the axe will feel the pinch. On the other hand, those which snag the expanded projects can look forward to new prosperity.

Actually, this sort of thing happened in 1959. Aircraft centers were particularly hard hit as the military canceled out a series of fighter plane programs. The outlook, therefore, is for more of the same in 1960.

The national impact will not be great, however, because cuts in one spot will be offset by increases elsewhere.

The effect of federal outlays on the economy is often measured in terms of spending for goods and services. Goods include everything from paper clips to missiles while services range from laundry charges to the President's salary.

Altogether, Uncle Sam buys more than 10 per cent of all the goods and services produced each year.

In 1960, spending for items in these categories is expected to change very little from the 1959 level—about 53 1/2 billion dollars.

Economists say the 1960 total may hit 54 billion dollars but is unlikely to go much higher. They base this forecast on the determination of the administration to keep a lid on defense outlays, which account for about 90 per cent of the total.

However, the Agriculture Department looks for no increase because much of the added production involves livestock not covered by the support program.

Korean Shaved Heads Awarded Damages By Army

SEOUL, Korea (AP) — Two Korean prostitutes whose heads were shaved as punishment for sneaking into a U.S. Army barracks have been "compensated in full for their injuries."

Two American sergeants clipped the hair of the two women on orders of their commanding officer after they were caught in the barracks of a U.S. tank company

14 miles from the North Korean border. The Army announced earlier that a captain who had issued the shaving order and one of the sergeants had been punished and an apology presented to the Korean government.

Kishi, Ready To Sign Treaty With U.S., Once Defied Tojo

TOKYO (AP) — Prime Minister Nobusuke Kishi will perform one of the most important acts of his political career Tuesday when he signs in Washington a new security treaty binding Japan and the United States.

His fight for the treaty reveals something of the man. Since assuming the premiership in February 1957, he has weathered storm after storm.

Supporters say his tenacity is reminiscent of his courage in defying wartime Premier Gen. Hideki Tojo's orders to resign because of a difference in views.

Kishi, then munitions minister, thought Japan should surrender after the fall of Saipan.

Born Nov. 13, 1896 in Yamaguchi prefecture, southern Japan, Kishi was one of 10 children of a government official named Sato.

He changed his name upon adoption at 15 into the Kishi family. Kishi's younger brother, Eisaku Sato, is finance minister.

Kishi graduated from Tokyo University in law in 1920 at the top of his class. He first attracted attention when he led a group of officials of the Commerce and Industry Ministry in opposing a 10 per cent salary reduction for all government officials.

By 1941 Kishi had a Cabinet post, the Commerce and Industry portfolio in Tojo's government.

For his wartime activities Kishi was jailed three years, but never tried, as a war crimes suspect. When released he got a job from Aichiro Fujiyama, now foreign minister who is with Kishi in Washington.

Kishi's time in prison has not made him anti-American. Since his entry into politics in 1952, Kishi's main foreign policy theme has been the need for friendship with the United States.

He was elected to the House of Representatives, rose in influence in conservative groupings that have now become the Liberal-Democratic party, and became its secretary general in 1955.

He was elected party president, and hence premier, when Tanzan Ishibashi resigned in 1956 because of poor health.

Kishi requested the existing U.S.-Japan security treaty be drastically revised when he visited Washington in June 1957. While it was under negotiation he fought off attack after attack against the American alliance, both from elements within his party and from leftists who want Japan neutralized.

The result is a new pact of indefinite duration capable of being terminated after 10 years upon one-year notification by either side. It requires prior consultation with Japan before U.S. forces can be deployed from Japanese bases for combat purposes or before nuclear weapons can be brought into Japan.

It authorizes the stationing of U.S. forces in Japan. The pact requires that America defend Japan, but not that Japan come to America's aid if American territory is attacked.

Kishi has formed three cabinets, pitched up repeated intra-party squabbles, and won elections in a manner that has made him one of the most durable prime ministers of Japan.

Politicians and Japanese newspapers seldom have anything kind to say of Kishi, but everyone respects his brilliance as a political strategist.

Students Will Attend Lubbock Science Meeting

LUBBOCK — Promising students from junior and senior colleges throughout West Texas will participate in a Collegiate Science Research Conference at Texas Tech Feb. 3-5.

Sponsored by the Texas Academy of Science, 80 undergraduate science students from 16 schools will attend the conference here, Dr. Joe Adamcik, chairman of the Tech conference said. Also attending will be 20 faculty members from the various schools.

Texas Tech is one of four state institutions holding such conferences supported by the National Science Foundation.

"Purpose of the conference is to encourage outstanding undergraduate science students to consider advanced study and to give them an idea of the nature of graduate study in the sciences," Adamcik said.

The students will visit laboratories related to their major science interest, review research project under way at Tech, and discuss various aspects of current research in major natural science fields.

Among those due to attend from Howard County Junior College are Reese Bevers, Sherry Lou Coats, Karen S. Baldwin and Bobby D. Overman. Others to attend are Julia Newman from Coahoma and Lael M. Roberts, Big Spring.

Tech Wins Denver Judging Honors

DENVER (AP)—Texas Tech of Lubbock has captured top honors in the college livestock judging contest of the National Western Stock Show.

The team, coached by Stanley E. Anderson, scored 4,178 out of a possible 5,000 points to defeat 16 college teams from 12 states. Stanley Westbrook of Tennessee, Tex., a member of the Tech team, was named champion individual in livestock judging.

North Dakota Agricultural College of Fargo placed second and Texas A&M College of College Station was third.

Girl, 9, Born Without Leg Bones, Now Running

RIO HONDO (AP)—Nine-year-old La Neva Fambro, born without bones in portions of her legs, can now run and play and is even learning to skate.

"La Neva never stopped running. She was like a bird that had been freed from a cage," said her mother, Mrs. Dewey Fambro, after the child was fitted with artificial legs.

La Neva spent her first five years in the Scottish Rite Hospital in Dallas where doctors tried bone grafts and braces. But they finally gave up and sent her home.

She learned to walk on her hands because it was easier and faster.

Then Marshall French, La Feria businessman and chairman of the Valley Shrine's committee for crippled children, learned of La Neva's plight and arranged for her to enter the Shrine Hospital in Shreveport, La.

There doctors decided the only way to help her was to amputate her legs and fit her with artificial limbs.

She was six then and when she started to school at the age of seven, she was so proud of the artificial legs she showed them to everyone.

An excellent student—"she usually makes 100," her father says—"La Neva not only is perfectly capable of taking care of herself but she looks after her dogs, cats, rabbits and 97 chickens.

DEAR ABBY

QUIT 'CLEAN'

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I have been in love with a married man for over two years. (I work for him.) It isn't what you think. It is a good, clean love. His wife has never understood him. They have been married for ten years and have three children. She is pregnant right now. At first he said he wanted to wait until after the baby was born before breaking the news that he wanted to divorce her and marry me. Now I have the feeling that he is trying to break off with me and go back to her. I won't let him go, Abby. His wife is young and attractive and can get herself another husband. What can I do to hold him?

IN LOVE
DEAR IN: You can't do anything to "hold" a man who doesn't want to be held. His wife is holding all the trumps. If it's a "good, clean love" — give him a good, clean handshake and say goodbye.

DEAR ABBY: My problem is a boy named Michael, but this will kill you, Abby. I nicknamed him "Conceited."

Well, "Conceited" and I go together but not steady as we are only 13 and our parents won't allow it.

There is this "Girl-Ask Boy" party coming up at school and I want to ask "Conceited." But my Mother says I have to ask Nathaniel G. because he asked me to go to the Christmas party. I wanted to go with "Conceited" but that stuck-up Susan S. talked him into taking her instead. Should I ask "Conceited" or should I ask Nathaniel?

DEAR VIRGINIA: Ask Nathaniel, and quit giving "Conceited" so much to be conceited about.

DEAR ABBY: I had a baby in May of '58. My sister-in-law got pregnant shortly afterwards and I lost her all my maternity clothes. She had her baby in May of '59.

Well, her baby is over eight months old and she is STILL wearing my maternity clothes. She's tremendous and makes no effort to get her figure back to normal. The reason I am writing is because I am pregnant again and everything I own is getting tight on me. If I ask her for my maternity clothes, she might-guess why, and I'd like to keep this under my hat as long as possible. How can I get my maternity clothes back without announcing my condition?

UNCOMFORTABLE
DEAR UNCOMFORTABLE: Simply ask her for your maternity clothes. If she guesses — admit it. You won't be able to keep it "under your hat" much longer anyway. (Besides, that's not where you'll be showing.) Perhaps your sister-in-law is in the same boat with you, and is trying to keep it "under HER hat" — and YOUR clothes.

CONFIDENTIAL TO TROUBLED PARENTS: "Train up a child in the way he should go, and even when he is older he will not depart from it." Proverbs 22:6.

Have you read Abby's new, best-selling book, "DEAR TEEN-AGER"?

Don't Get Slipped Up On

The time is now at hand for doing something about that poll tax or that exemption certificate.

You can't vote in 1960 elections, local, state or national — without one or the other.

This is an "on" year in Texas — which is to say that it is a year for electing precinct, county and state officers whose terms will expire at the end of 1960. In addition, this is a presidential year, and anyone who wishes to cast a ballot in Texas for this high office must possess a poll tax receipt or an exemption certificate.

Elderly people (65 and over) who reside within the corporate limits of Big Spring — and bear in mind that practically all the former environs of Big Spring are now inside the city limits — must have an exemption certificate. Those in strictly rural areas may not have to get their certificates if they have once qualified. But if you are over 65 and have been living just outside the city limits, don't get slipped up on by thinking that your status is the same. It isn't — you probably now have to obtain an exemption certificate every year.

Young people coming of age at 21 during the year must obtain their exemptions not later than Jan. 31. This goes for newcomers to Texas.

This is an important year for voters — and don't fool around and cut yourself out of a voice at the ballot box.

The Cities That Will Get Ahead

In a recent address to his constituency, Steve Matthews of the Texas League of Municipalities pointed out that in the decade ahead, more attention would have to be given to things which make a city more livable — things like parks, playgrounds, schools, libraries, colleges, hospitals, etc.

Moreover, more attention will have to be given to making our cities attractive, he says, for the simple reason that cities are going to become more and more competitive. Heretofore cities have enjoyed growth more or less automatically, although in varying degrees, because of the general growth of the state. While most may continue to grow, the rate won't be the same; and the marked difference will favor those which are the more attractive and balanced places to live.

This ties in with the belief that beautification of a community is a sound business proposition, an investment that increases both the volume of business as well as revenue to the municipality.

Planting and beautification can make a tremendous difference in the appearance of a city. Some communities have even gone so far as to have containers of plants on light poles to add a gay look in the downtown districts.

This is the season of the year in which we must get moving if we are going to make any real showing in the summer. So join in the general wave of civic pride and plant trees and shrubs or other plants that will make ours a more attractive city. You'll get pleasure out of it.

The Gallup Poll Ike's Popularity At 3-Year High

PRINCETON — President Eisenhower begins his eighth and final year with the highest vote of confidence from the American people that he has received in nearly three years.

Seventy-one per cent of the people questioned approve of the way Eisenhower is handling his job as President.

The previous high in the measurement of Eisenhower's popularity came in March 1957, 34 months ago.

At that time, 72 per cent of voters across the nation approved of the way Eisenhower was handling his job.

DESPITE THE HIGH SCORE at that time, however, it marked a dropoff of 8 points from a measurement taken two months earlier in January, 1957. At that time, the President had registered one of his two all-time high marks of 79 per cent, following his "landslide" victory at the polls in the previous November election.

The other occasion when the presidential popularity index showed 79 per cent approval was in July, 1955, at the time of the Geneva Summit Conference.

The March, 1957, figure marked the beginning of a steady downward trend in Eisenhower's popularity, a trend which continued during the period of the "battle of the budget" and finally reached an all-time low of 49 per cent in April of 1958, when the country was in the throes of an economic recession.

THE FIGURE FROM TODAY'S survey continues what has been the longest sustained rise ever recorded in Gallup Poll's regular index of presidential popularity.

Since November, 1958, when his party went down to their worst defeat in two decades, Mr. Eisenhower's popularity rating has shown a steady rise, month by month.

As they have at regular intervals over the last quarter century, Gallup Poll reporters measured voters' feelings about the current occupant of the White House with this question:

"Do you approve or disapprove of the way Eisenhower is handling his job as President?"

Following are the latest results, compared with those from January, 1959, and November, 1958.

EISENHOWER POPULARITY

To Jan. Nov. day '59 '58	Per Cent
Approve	71 57
Disapprove	27 32
No Opinion	12 11

As the above table shows, there has been a 19-point rise in the President's popularity since November, 1958, and a

James Marlow Who's Expert On Defense Needs?

WASHINGTON (AP) — The one subject on which the American public knows practically nothing is defense needs. It has become a specialty for experts. And the experts disagree among themselves.

For example, President Eisenhower and Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, former Army chief of staff, don't see eye-to-eye at all although both spent most of their lives in military service.

When Eisenhower asked Congress in his budget message Monday for $1 billion dollars for defense next year, the reaction was as predictable as saying Monday follows Sunday.

THE DEMOCRATS RAISED questions about Eisenhower's defense wisdom and foresight. The Republicans defended him.

It has always been a good arguing point and this year will have a little extra attractiveness since it's a presidential election year.

Eisenhower has set himself up as practically the most expert of experts on defense needs. He told his news conference last week that on this subject he knows more than almost anybody.

Is that so? Gen. Taylor, now a civilian, wrote a book, "The Uncertain Trumpet," to show his disagreement with the defense needs thinking of the Eisenhower administration. It was published this month.

Let's Have A National Week Week

NEW YORK (AP) — Mister, you'd better buy a couple of new white shirts and tell your missus to get herself a new gown.

Whether 1960 is a record boom year or not, moneywise, it is bound to be the celebrating year, culturally speaking, there ever was.

America has a tradition of proclaiming and observing special occasions. It is a custom that goes back to the Pilgrims and their first Thanksgiving Day.

Now every year we find more and more things to celebrate. This year, according to Chases' Calendar of Annual Events, there are some 650 holidays and special occasions of all kinds to observe, or nearly twice as many as in 1959.

The tradition is getting a bit out of hand. For example, if you and your wife conscientiously and consecutively celebrated all the special days, weeks and months now on the 1960 promotion calendar, you'd be making nonstop whoopee for 13 years, 6 months and 5 days.

Among the newcomers this year are National Barefoot Freedom Week, International Carillon Day, and National Mayonnaise and Salad Week.

Here are a few choice items:

It is too late to blow whistles and ring bells for Save-the-Pun Week. Big Brother Week and Large Economy Size Week. They are already over. But you are now in National Guitar Week — National Winter Golf Week — wonder if President Ike has been told, and next Tuesday your wife might want to give a cheer for the start of National Fur Care Week.

February is full of goodies, including National Sickroom Needs

Month, Good Breakfasts Month, National Children's Dental Health Week, and National Pimento Week. And don't overlook Weight Watchers Week, National Pencil Week and Bachelor's Day on Feb. 29.

March, is buttermilk bread month. It also has Return-Borrowed-Books Week, National Peanut Week, Irish Linen Week, and National Smile Week. Don't forget on March 21 to say a kind word to any teen-agers you meet, for that is National Teen-Agers' Day.

April is National Ladder Month, National Rug Cleaning Month, and National Wallpaper Month and contains Let's-All-Play-Ball Week.

Here, picked at random, are a few other events you and your wife surely won't want to miss: May—National Ornamental Iron Month and National Raisin Week, plus National Domestic Rabbit Week.

June—Baking Soda Bath Season begins. Old Maids' Day is on June 4.

July—National Hot Dog Month and the Republican National Convention.

August — National Make-It-Yourself-With-Wool Week, September—100 Per Cent-Pure-Maple-Syrup Week, October — National Father-in-Law Day and National Cleaner Air Week.

November—National Cage Bird Week and National Indigestion Week.

December — This is National Give and Serve Meat for Christmas Month, as if anyone could ever forget that!

Don't tell me you don't know what to do for fun in 1960. If you don't have a good time, it's your own fault.

Around The Rim Tribute To A Great American

SUNDAY WAS THE 25th birthday of a man, who in my opinion, was the most remarkable American ever to be born.

Even if he lived today with all the many amazing changes which have come about in the two and a half centuries since his birth, I will wager he would take them all in stride and in no time at all be just as great a leader now as he was in the days before the United States came into being.

I think it is regrettable that about all most folk know about this wonderful fellow is that he wrote little sermons on how important it is to be thrifty. Like "early to bed and early to rise, make a man healthy, wealthy and wise." Of all the accomplishments which marked his long life, I think that this phrase was the least important and most trivial.

Of course, I am talking about Benjamin Franklin. A man, comparable perhaps, to Leonardo Da Vinci. They were akin in the sense that nature had invested their amazing personalities with so much and so diverse talents that they were masters of nearly any thing to which they put their hand.

in conditions and times. Bi-focal spectacles to use a homely example.

He was a great journalist and a fine editor. He was a writer who held his own with the greatest authors of his day. He was a tremendous organizer, and he lived now and chosen to do so, he would have been an ideal president for a great corporation.

HE WAS A HUMANITARIAN, a liberal thinker, a man possessed of unflinching faith in mankind. He was a great city builder — the kind of city builder who sees to it that his community adds all of those things to its possessions which its people need most to be happy, prosperous and healthy.

He was a staunch advocate of popular education — he created the idea of public libraries, for example. He was the organizer of the American postal system, recognizing in a day when few other men did, the importance of speedier and better communication to a nation.

He brought about the organization and creation of the first fire departments in America. He was a lawmaker and it was his quiet influence which cast the shape of the American Constitution.

He was the first Chamber of Commerce man. He may not have called what he did by the name, but in final analysis, it represented the purpose and aims of modern chambers of commerce.

He was patriot with no ulterior motive to bolster his enthusiasm.

It is a sense, had it not been for Franklin, all the efforts of Washington would have been to no avail. If it hadn't been for Franklin, leaders who brought about the Revolution and the creation of this nation, would never have had the courage and incentive to do the things they did.

Franklin was a strange combination of more abilities and talents than are usually allotted to a dozen men. He was a masterful politician, statesman and diplomat; his success in this field alone would have insured his fame. He was one of the greatest scientists of his time and combined his scientific knowledge to the field of invention. Some of his inventions are still much with us in spite of the changes

WE TALK MUCH OF the debt that Americans owe to George Washington. Great as his contribution was to the formation of this nation, his accomplishments, I think, dwindle into insignificance when measured against the part that Franklin played.

In a sense, had it not been for Franklin, all the efforts of Washington would have been to no avail. If it hadn't been for Franklin, leaders who brought about the Revolution and the creation of this nation, would never have had the courage and incentive to do the things they did.

Franklin was a strange combination of more abilities and talents than are usually allotted to a dozen men. He was a masterful politician, statesman and diplomat; his success in this field alone would have insured his fame. He was one of the greatest scientists of his time and combined his scientific knowledge to the field of invention. Some of his inventions are still much with us in spite of the changes

AND LAST BUT NOT LEAST important of all, he was a human being — a man who loved his fellow men and who never permitted the flood of honors which were heaped on him by the leaders of the world to swell his ego and cause him to lose touch with the people.

Nothing has ever been found which would show that Franklin ever sought to profit unfairly from any achievement he pursued. The sum total of all the things he worked for and believed in were for the good of all men.

Truly, of all our great Americans, this man well deserves to be called the greatest.

Noble Experiment In Television

Will the teevee audience, young and old, sit still while assorted celebrities read the classics, unpunctuated by bullets or commands to reach for the ceiling?

Will it spare 30 minutes while Jackie Robinson reads from Stephen Crane's "The Red Badge of Courage" or Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt from Rudyard Kipling's "Just So Stories"?

Or will they (Mrs. Roosevelt and Jackie) bite the dust while the audience reaches for a private eye or a souped-up Sioux?

Time is going to tell, for the Westinghouse Broadcasting Company, as of Feb. 1, will present a weekly half-hour show in which an assortment of well-known citizens will read aloud.

APPARENTLY WE LIVE in a time in which Johnny can't read and his old man won't. So Westinghouse, in what seems to me a warm, homey and very interesting experiment, has rounded up people to read to other people of all ages. The first program, on Feb. 1, will find Archibald MacLeish, three times Pulitzer Prize winner, former Librarian of Congress and, what is more important in the context of this program, a grandpa, reading aloud 17 poems of Walter de la Mare.

Oh, I shall be there in front of the screen all right, listening for:

"Am, Am!"

Come quick as you can!

There's a fish that talks

In the frying pan."

And for:

"Do diddle do

Poor Jim Jay

Got stuck fast

In Yesterday."

and Cyril Ritchard from "Alice in Wonderland."

Nor is that all the goodies. Garry Moore is to read "The Legend of Sleepy Hollow" and "The Walrus and the Carpenter," complete with tears and oysters. And Richard Boone has been entrusted with the only Western on the program to date, Bret Harte's "How Santa Claus Came to Simpson's Bar."

HOWEVER, IN THIS ELECTION year, I await with special eagerness the fine-side readings of Vice President Richard Nixon and Senator John Kennedy. Interestingly enough, both the Republican and Democratic aspirants for the presidency have chosen to read classics about Abraham Lincoln (who, with the passing of time, presumably has become nonpartisan).

The Vice President has elected to read from Carl Sandburg's "Lincoln Grows Up." Sen. Kennedy will read from Allan Nevins' "The Emergence of Lincoln."

(Westinghouse was stumped when I asked if it was prepared to give equal time to other presidential hopefuls than Messrs. Nixon and Kennedy. Said it hadn't thought about THAT. Well, it better had! I want to hear Lyndon Johnson in selected readings from "Gone With the Wind" and "Brer Rabbit.")

To one whose childhood was made glorious by a father and grandmother who loved to read aloud, this experiment by Westinghouse sounds dreamy. At the moment, Westinghouse Broadcasting Company plans to give the program free to any station that will promise to air it during "prime" time. The station, if it accepts the program for free, must present it free; that is, without sponsorship.

So far, about 50 stations have lined up for it. This is one of the good answers to the harsh criticism of teevee since the payola scandals. It is a noble experiment. But only the viewing public can make it a success.

A New Try At Disarmament Policy

WASHINGTON — The old familiar drama of disarmament is about to open for a new run. Whether it is taken as a kind of cynical poker game with most of the cards wild or a profoundly important—perhaps a final—attempt to lift the nuclear seige of recent years will occupy the stage in the months ahead.

Before the phase of international bargaining is reached at Geneva on March 15 there is an exceedingly difficult operation to be performed here in Washington. That is to try to stake out an agreed Western position valid both in world opinion and as a genuine effort to begin reducing the terrible burden of armaments under a system of inspection and control.

A FIRST SMALL STEP has been taken. A disarmament study group named by President Eisenhower and headed by Charles A. Coolidge has turned in a review with recommendations. It will be combed over by the Departments of State and Defense and eventually will go to the National Security Council for a final policy determination.

But it is already fairly evident that the first step is too timid. In deference to powerful forces in the Pentagon and the Atomic Energy Commission the Coolidge report is said to avoid almost entirely the challenge of nuclear disarmament. This represents the triumph of those, such as Chairman John McCone of the AEC, who believe that the nuclear deterrent cannot be reduced by a single bomb lest the West be opened to assault by the overwhelming manpower of Russia and China.

THE FEAR OF ALL AMERICA'S allies is that the West will end with a position so narrow and cautious that it will be meaningless either for bargaining purposes or for propaganda. Against the background of Premier Khrushchev's demand for total disarmament and his boast of nuclear superiority the West could lose the propaganda battle and at the same time end up in a position of military inferiority.

The West Germans are fearful that the American stand will fail to provide a base for a realistic approach to the Russians. If between March 15, when the 10-nation disarmament commission meets; and May 18, when the summit conference opens, it is already apparent that the disarmament talks are a sham battle of words the Germans will be most unhappy. Chancellor Adenauer puts No. 1 priority on long and serious disarmament negotiations. If there is to be no substance to these negotiations then a Berlin settlement comes to the fore at the summit.

The stand which the British seem likely to take is even more significant since it is related to the stalemate in the nuclear tests talks just resumed at Geneva. The British view is that these talks must succeed even though it means accepting a control system considerably less than perfect.

"THE ONLY THING to do is to get the best possible agreement with the Russians and from that beginning go ahead working to tighten up the inspection and control mechanism."

Custom Remembered

AKRON, N. Y. — A reminder of the popular political campaign custom of pole-raising stands about a mile from here at the intersection of routes 5 and 93.

It's the Grant Club, a 30-foot-high oak pole. In the late 1800s and early 1900s, it was a custom to bring a pole from a nearby woods and hoist it into place while hands played and crowds sang. It usually bore a banner with the candidates' names.

The original Grant Club was erected in 1872, but deteriorated, and another was put up in 1904. It serves now as a guide post on the routes to the village of Akron.

Students Eye Stocks

HARRISBURG, Pa. — The stock market fever has hit the ninth grade at the West Shore Junior High School near here.

Given a choice of investing their money in savings bonds or stocks as part of a business education course, the 65 students chose stocks.

"The idea of speculation caused a great deal of enthusiasm among the pupils," explains teacher John Anthony. "So much interest has developed they plan to buy shares in other stock before long."

Each contributed about 30 cents to buy an $18.50 share in a chemical company.

He Gets Promotion

CHENEY, Wyo. — George, a mannequin at Warren Air Force base post exchange, got his promotion to captain.

A wave of newly-promoted officers cause of shortage of first lieutenant bars at the base. The exchange's supply was sold out.

An enterprising young first lieutenant got his new bars. He spotted the bars on the store dummy and traded them for a captain's insignia.

Doesn't Fit

ARDMORE, Okla. — Herman Nichols quit operating a hotel coffee shop and went to barbering. He gained 30 pounds. Now back again at the coffee shop, with food all around him, he has been losing weight.

To Your Good Health Climbing Toddlers Not Often Seriously Hurt

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

"Dear Dr. Molner: I am the mother of a climbing toddler, and am concerned about head bumps. Just how does a child react if there is any danger of concussion or other serious injury? What areas of the head are most vulnerable if struck, and what treatment should be administered until you can get your doctor?" — Mrs. B.

Probably most mothers worry about this. So do most fathers, although perhaps not as often because they are at work so much of the time and don't see all the bumps that a climbing toddler takes.

However, when a toddler is old enough to climb, he is old enough to begin to understand. He is also old enough to have some of the surprising ruggedness of childhood. A child is a tough little critter. For that, let Heaven be praised.

He'll survive the bumps of falling down, or even falling off the sort of things he can climb. A concussion needs more of an impact than can be caused by an ordinary tumble. It takes the kind of slam which bangs the brain tissues against the surrounding skull. The weight of the body falling isn't going to do it.

For another thing, the climbing toddler may have his share of falls, but he will fall in a relaxed, tumbling sort of way. He'll bump elbows and knees. He'll occasionally whack his head as he lands. He'll make a one-point or multiple point landing on all parts of his anatomy, but he will rarely if ever land full force on his head. A bump on the head is one thing; landing with the full force of the fall on his head alone is quite another.

"Dear Dr. Molner: Is there a cure for a sebaceous cyst other than surgical removal? My daughter, aged 5, has one on her chin, but I would like to avoid surgery because it might leave a scar. I have heard that such cysts sometimes clear up spontaneously." — Mrs. R. B. W.

Sorry, but these cysts usually do not clear up spontaneously. The cyst may grow in size. If it is unsightly, or does grow, I'd consult a plastic surgeon to remove it. However—and here's the good part of my answer — a tiny scar in childhood, for any such purpose as that, is barely visible later in life.

Bed wetting can be conquered! To learn how, write to me in care of The Big Spring Herald requesting a copy of my booklet, "Enuresis—Ten Ways to Stop Bed Wetting," and enclosing a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 20 cents in coin to cover handling.

or some similarly savage blow, then there's nothing you can do until the doctor gets there except keep the child quiet. And if the injury is that serious, the child will be pretty well knocked out anyway. So just don't worry about the tumbles. Kiss the bruises and tell the little fellow that he'll have to watch out when he climbs.

Varied Silhouette For Spring

Spring Fashions Are To Be Good Travelers

By DOROTHY ROE AP Women's Editor There's an international look to 1960 spring fashions, planned not only for a new season and a new year, but also for a new decade. New York designers, currently previewing spring collections, keep the new concepts of world travel firmly in mind in presenting clothes for today's globe-trotting American women. The successful wardrobe of the Sixties must be at home anywhere in the world, because today's jet travel has made every corner of the earth as accessible as the next town used to be.

This is the reason for the easy, classic look of the new clothes, the attention to non-crushable, easily cleanable fabrics, the understatement of line, the correctly casual air of most daytime clothes. Specific changes in the silhouette concentrate principally above the belt, in new shoulder width, new sleeve treatments, new devices for achieving width at the top. Sleeves may be capelike, kimono, dolman or cylindrical, but most of them are cut to give a wider look. Deep armholes are all over the place. New cylindrical sleeves usually are cut off at the elbow or above. Various treatments of the capelet sleeve are in evidence, some with circular cut, some with fine pleating, some with ruffled fullness.

LONGER JACKETS Suit jackets often are longer, sometimes reaching to the hips or below, but there is plenty of choice for the suit fancier. The waist-length, boxy jacket is still present, as is the loose, easy Chanel jacket, never reaching longer than the hipbone. There are many brief, semi-fitted jackets which are slightly shaped in front, loose in back. Many belted suit jackets are seen. The leading spring coat silhouette is the cape back with straight front. Many new coats are collarless, and sleeve treatments are many and varied, with deep dolman cuts and puffy push-up styles in the ascendency. Ribbed cotton fabrics are most popular for spring, both in the perennial black and navy and in light bisque tones. While coats are big news for spring town wear, being shown in light-weight woolen basket weaves and nubby finishes. There also are many oatmeal tweeds and white-ground plaids. Silk coats are seen for late-day wear, some in handsome antique-finish raw silk weaves. SLIM LINES While the predominant suit silhouette has a narrow, tapered skirt, some pleated skirts are shown, and in the dress collections there are plenty of full-skirted models, especially for after-five wear. There's a tendency toward a longer-waisted look in many of the new dresses, and even a hint of returning popularity of the unbelted dress. One new line has an easy long-waisted, blouse top and pleated skirt. Evening fashions are daintily low-cut, with honors shared between the full-length, draped evening gown and the short, full-skirted dance dress. Dinner and theatre suits are still popular.

Church Women Meet In Business Session

Business was the topic of St. Paul Presbyterian women when they met Monday evening at the church. Mrs. Al Sedden led the group in prayer before the executive board made the recommendation that the budget for 1960 be approved. The vote was unanimous in favor of it. Intensive Bible study for the year 1960 will be devoted to the book of Genesis, the 10 present were told. Every fourth and fifth Sunday evening service of the month will be dedicated by the Rev. Al Sedden for the study. Official delegates were elected to the District 20 Conference to be held Jan. 28 at the First Presbyterian Church. They are Mrs. L. E. Edwards, Mrs. Jim Layman and Mrs. Billy Van Pelt. Alternates are Mrs. Henry Dirks and Mrs. A. C. Wilkerson. The Bible Speaks Today is the lesson theme for the year, and from this Mrs. Van Pelt spoke on the subject Come Aboard for Adventure. She then dismissed with prayer.

'ROUND TOWN With Lucille Pickle

It happens every year about this time. It is always at this period the realization comes that again I didn't get those daffodils in the ground when the planting time was right. The right time for daffodils seems such an unright time to put any little thing into the cold, cold ground unprotected. In the flower beds of all my gardening friends who know about these things, little green shoots of the daffy dillies are several inches above the ground. My intentions haven't even gotten out of the store and now it's too late. But I did find a good boy on tulips the other day and I'm hoping to get them in the ground before spring. How can the little bulbs stand it when the weather is so cold to me?

Business Women Will Form Charter Group

A charter chapter of the American Business Women's Assn. will be formed in Big Spring and installed by Mrs. Lucille Stoll, Field Executive of the association. Mrs. Stoll, who recently arrived from the association's headquarters in Kansas City, explains that the purpose of the organization is "to elevate the social and business standards of women in business by uniting them nationally for training designed to make them more efficient, considerate and cooperative." The group is designed to help women advance in the business world. It is non-union, non-sectarian and non-political. It does not overlap other business groups because it is an association rather than a club. Members are admitted on an invitational basis, and membership is confined to women actively engaged in some phase of business. The San Angelo chapter is sponsoring the Big Spring organization. A training program of the association, which has 220 chapters in leading cities across the United States, includes business letter writing, grammar, speech, proper grooming and personality emphasis. The new chapter will hold monthly dinner meetings at a time to be decided upon later, says Mrs. Stoll, who is now holding interviews at the Settles Hotel.

Music In The Bible Discussed For Class

A program of music as related to religion was presented for members of the Emily Andrews Class of First Baptist Church Monday evening. The group met in the home of Mrs. Bob Bradbury, where Mrs. P. D. O'Brien opened the session with prayer. Prospects for visitation were named, and Mrs. Ben Johnson announced that the standard of excellence for classes has been approved by the Baptist Association of Texas. Mrs. C. T. Brooks, who discussed the topic, Musical Instruments in the Bible, told the class that there are 13 instruments spoken of in the Bible, with a full orchestra. Three types of choirs are to be found; the vested, a great chorus of over 200 voices and a military choir, she stated. First mention of singing is in Genesis, she remarked, with the last in the book of Revelation, which brings out the song of victory. Mrs. George Thomas emphasized the fact that Christ may be found in music of various types; she introduced her group of solos with the song, I Can Find Him Everywhere. Telling of the types of music in which He is found, the singer spoke of the spirituals and sang Where Jesus Walked was her example of the ways in which music is used to glorify Christ, and an example of a musical prayer was The Lord's Prayer, which she sang. Bringing out what music can do for a person, she presented the song, It Is Wonderful, Mrs. F. C. Gambill was her accompanist. The next meeting is in the home of Mrs. Ed Cherry. Refreshments were served to 12 members and two guests, Mrs. O'Brien and Mrs. Gambill.

Rehearsal Dinner Is Given By The Walkers For Son

Dinner followed the wedding rehearsal of Linda Lou Leonard and Royce Lee Walker Monday evening at Coker's restaurant. Hosts for the affair were Mr. and Mrs. Shirley Walker, parents of the bridegroom. Miss Leonard is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dwain Leonard. The couple is to be married to-morrow at the College Baptist Church. Approximately 30 guests, the immediate families and the attendants, were present for the dinner. Date Change College Heights P.T.A. has announced a change in dates for the Family Fun Night. It has been postponed to Feb. 26.

Longhorns Bid For 16th Win

Two teams, Big Spring and San Angelo, battle for survival in the District 2-AAA basketball race tonight.

The league chase: The Bobcats lost to both Odessa High and Midland, Odessa beat the Cats by two points while Midland walloped them, 83-58.

Big Spring has won 15 of 21 starts overall while San Angelo has topped 19 while losing eight. The Longhorns have averaged 61.1 points a game this year, compared to 55 for the opposition.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Sports dialogue: ART WALL Jr., goldom's leading money winner last year, when asked what were the most important things for the average linkster to remember:

"First, be patient, and don't expect too much to begin with. Also, a neophyte should have a good memory, because you must remember quite a few things that you are trying to incorporate into your swing. Each shot that you play should teach you something. By this I mean that when you make a good shot, for instance, you should try to remember what you did. And if you come up with a bad shot you should try to remember what you did wrong. This will make the game much more simple for you. It is very important to have good equipment. Having the right shaft in your club is more than half the battle, as far as equipment is concerned. Elderly people, for instance, get better results with a shaft that has more whip in it. Practice, of course, is important. But the average golfer doesn't take the time and when he does he seldom does so with a pro, so it may not be much help. Every golfer, no matter how bad, will do better if he takes the time to hit a few shots before he tees off, even if he doesn't hit more than a dozen."

GONZALES

CHICAGO DAILY NEWS: "Next big basketball shot is the 'baseball' shot—a one-handed line drive at the basket, sometimes banked off the backboard. So says Red Auerbach, coach of the Boston Celtics. He doesn't know how far off the shot is—but some kid with unusually big hands will wind up like a baseball pitcher and throw the ball in. Some of the men in our league are throwing hook shots into the basket now that are more or less 'curve ball' pitches. And a lot of them with big hands—like Cliff Hagan of the St. Louis Hawks—are passing the ball up and down the court with one hand now—as if it were a baseball."

PARRY O'BRIEN, the shotgun champion: "Dallas Long spurred me to new efforts. I really went back to work—strict training and weight lifting—when it looked like he would beat my world record."

PANCHO GONZALES, pro tennis great, who has announced he is quitting the big-time net game: "I'm playing better than I ever played in my life. I only wish some of my upcoming juniors were playing as well. Tennis in America is in terrible shape. You know what? If we play down in Mexico City in this year's zone Davis Cup matches, I think they'll beat us. We're not strong enough, and they have that altitude on their side. Sure, we have Eichel and Mackay, but what kind of player is Eichel when he loses to Gardner Mulloy, 45, at Wimbledon? The Mexicans have Rafael Osuna and the Palafox brothers, and that altitude—"

GEORGE SISLER, Pittsburgh batting coach: "I think the time will come when all major league clubs will place more emphasis on improving the hitting of their pitchers. Of course, there always will be a few pitchers who will never be hitters despite any amount of instruction. But for the most part, you can take a fellow and improve him. Warren Spahn of the Braves is an example of a good hitting pitcher. He likes to go up there and take his swings and he gets results."

FRANK BROYLES, Arkansas football coach: "Our quarterback, James Monroe, got his shoulder hurt in our first conference game against TCU, and he never completely recovered. He can't throw the ball over ten or 12 yards, or we'd have had a better record. Everybody knew we couldn't throw."

Goliad Teams Win Twice Over San Angelo Edison

SAN ANGELO (SC)—Big Spring Goliad's Ninth Graders decided San Angelo Edison Junior High, 32-28, in a basketball game played here Monday night.

The Mavericks, coached by Jimmy Marcus, led all the way and boasted a four-point bulge at half time intermission.

Jeff Brown again paced Goliad with 14 points while Jack Eisenhart, Wayne Bledsoe and George Rice each tossed in five for Big Spring.

Donnie Phillips fouled out toward the end of the game for Goliad. The win left Goliad with a 6-6 win-loss record. The Mavs have now beaten Edison twice this season. The previous win came in the Big Spring tournament by a margin of 52-36.

Richard Moya collected 11 points for Edison.

Big Spring also won the Eighth Grade game, 26-23.

ROY BAIRD in First Drills

46 Boys Out For Drills

Coach Roy Baird issued the first call for baseball practice at Big Spring High School Monday and 46 boys, many of them sophomores, responded.

Unless the Steers field a B team, some of the younger boys likely will have to be cut from the squad.

The Longhorns will be trying to improve upon a 14-11 win-loss record and appear to have a fairly strong nucleus.

Ten letter winners and reserve lettermen were among those who asked for equipment Monday.

They were Jerry Dunlap, infielder; Tommy Whaley, pitcher; James Kinman, infielder; Jimmy Graham, infielder; Dick Combs, first baseman; Bob Andrews, center fielder; Jerry Phillips, catcher; Buford Harrison, outfielder; Buddy Newell, catcher; and Jimmy Roger, catcher.

Another veteran who has indicated he will report in a few days is outfielder-first baseman Donnie Everett.

Several veterans and promising players will not be able to start work until after basketball season. They include the LeFevre twins, Jay and Zay, both of whom pitch; Jerry Tucker, catcher; Rex Appleton, outfielder; James Farris, outfielder; and Homer Mills, pitcher.

Baird will have to build his team without such boys as Chubby Moser, left-handed pitcher; Jackie Thomas, third baseman; Bernard McMahon, second baseman; Wilson Bell, first baseman; Bobby McAdams, outfielder-catcher; Kenny Johnson, pitcher; and Elton Kelley, outfielder.

The initial squad numbers about 16 more than it did last year, which indicates interest in the game on the high school level is at an all-time peak.

Baird has lined up six games with Snyder but will not be able to complete the schedule until the 2-AAAA meeting, which hasn't yet been called. Polly Wells of Abilene is due to call the conference.

The six games with Snyder are on March 11 at Snyder, a double here March 19, April 1 here and a double header in Snyder April 2.

The players were allowed to do no throwing or batting yesterday, nor will they be for some time come. They'll run in shape, until they get their legs in shape.

Big Spring's Zay LeFevre, a front-line candidate for all-district honors, trails Abilene's Jim Bray by only one point in the District 2-AAAA scoring derby.

Bray put together two 26-point efforts for a total of 52 points. Zay rang up 30 points in his opening contest against Midland, but Odessa Permian did a better job of slowing him last week. He managed only 21 against the Panthers.

L. H. Williams of Permian, who enjoyed a good night against Big Spring although his team lost, is third in the race, with 48 points. Big Spring's Homer Mills is at the top 10, with a total of 28 points.

Cincy Still Tops In AP Cage Poll
By JACK CLARY
Despite a one-point loss to Bradley last Saturday night Cincinnati retained its status as the nation's No. 1 basketball team today.

Bradley, whose thrilling last minute 91-90 victory toppled the Bearcats from the embattled ranks, is ranked second by the nation's sportswriters and broadcasters in this week's Associated Press poll.

Cincinnati (13-1) gained 86 first-place votes while Bradley got 17. Cincinnati collected 1,691 points and Bradley 1,527.

Just a shade behind Bradley (12-1) is California (14-1) which drew 22 first-place votes and only 13 points less. West Virginia (15-1) whipped previously undefeated Villanova last Saturday and is fourth after being third last week. California also dropped a notch

COAST BOUT FINANCIAL FIASCO Zora Folley Jabs Out Victory

By JACK STEVENSON Associated Press Sports Writer

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—No. 2 ranking Heavyweight Zora Folley, who kept his word and a secret as he jabbed out a clear-cut victory over Eddie Machen in a lack lustre battle, today hopes for a title shot against Ingemar Johansson.

"I beat Machen before and I'll beat him again," the 27-year-old Folley from Chandler, Ariz., vowed before he climbed into the Cow Palace ring for his 12-round return match Monday night. Their first meeting ended in a controversial draw in April 1958.

The 194-pound Folley was so sure he could beat his 199-pound opponent from Portland, Ore., that he kept secret his troubles with ailing tonsils. The tonsils probably will come out Thursday in Phoenix, said Manager Bill Swift.

Machen, an 8-5 favorite despite his No. 4 rating, took a financial beating too. It cost him about $770 to box the 12 rounds. His manager Sid Flaherty signed a contract for 60 per cent of the net gate—then guaranteed Folley $15,000—win, lose or draw. The net gate for the non-televized fight totaled $24,548.86 and 60 per cent of that is only $14,729.32.

Machen had lost just once before in his 33 previous fights—a one-round knockout when Johansson connected with his right in Sweden a year and a half ago.

Monday night's fight brought repeated boos from the crowd of 5,447 and frequent warnings from referee Vern Bybee to step up the action. Folley's jab kept Machen off balance throughout. Occasionally he followed with crisp right hand shots to the head and left hooks to the body.

Machen tried to bob in under the jab, but even when he did get a combination started he usually missed with his big right or Zora tied him up.

In the ninth, Machen suffered a slight cut near his right eye. Eddie also had a small bruise under his left eye and Folley was brushed over his right eye.

Otherwise the fighters weren't marked and there was nothing close to a knockout. Referee Bybee scored the bout 118-113, Judge Matt Zidich 117-114 and Judge Fred Bottaro 119-114, the same as The Associated Press.

Both Folley, who won victory No. 50 against 3 losses and 2 draws, and manager Swift called for a fight against Johansson.

Billy Maxwell Is Second In Yorba Linda Tourney

By BOB MYERS YORBA LINDA, Calif. (AP)—Some rarely matched moments of pressure golf lingered today as the tournament gypsies headed north for Bing Crosby's annual Clubmaker on the Monterey Peninsula.

Leading the Crosbyville-bound procession was Jerry Barber of Los Angeles, winner in a dramatic victory of the inaugural $20,000 Yorba Linda Open late Monday.

Seidman has a gallery being treated to such theatrics as the final threesome of the day came up to the 18th and decisive hole items:

A pressure putt of 13 feet for a birdie 4 that brought victory to Barber—a stroke that kept the affair from going into a sudden-death playoff.

A sensational 50-yard shot by Billy Maxwell for an eagle 3 and undisputed possession of second place.

A birdie that brought Julius Boros a tie for sixth place. And certain death for the hopes of Harry Weetman of England. The veteran British Ryder Cup

Forsan Buffaloes Edge Bearcats In Overtime

FORSAN (SC)—Forsan shocked Garden City, 58-56, in a basketball game that was decided in overtime here Monday night and moved temporarily out in front in the District 19-B race.

The Buffaloes now have a 4-1 conference record and are 10-7 overall. Garden City brought a 3-0 district record to town and was slightly favored to bump the Bisons.

With only about ten seconds to go in the regular game and Forsan leading by 51-49, Harold Jones scored the tying bucket for the Cats. Sammy Barnett got off a quick shot for Forsan but missed by the proverbial hair.

Jerry Bardwell scored three free shots while Sammy Barnett had two for Forsan. Gerry Harkrider kicked in with a bucket.

For Garden City in the overtime, Dennis Calverley scored a field goal and two Annie Oakleys while Jones had a free shot.

The Bisons hit 34 per cent of their shots from the field the first half and warmed to 50 per cent last half for 45 per cent. Garden City hit 38 per cent the last half after getting 34 per cent the first, half for 36 per cent.

Garden City out-rebounded the Buffs, with Doug Parker capturing 14. Jimmy Childress nine and Calverley nine. For Forsan, Benny Barnett had 12, Johnny Bob Asbury 11 and Freddie Park nine.

Parker fouled out in the fourth period and Childress in the overtime with the maximum number of fouls in the fourth.

In the B game, Forsan won by a score of 34-25 as Rodney Alexander counted ten points, Terry Harkrider nine, Gerry Harkrider and Steve Bell six each and Tommy Evans three.

SWAP PROPOSED

Building Site Sought For Crippled Children Society

Howard County is engaged in a plan to swap a small portion of the land it owns in the vicinity of Boydston school for a similarly sized tract from land now owned by the city schools.

The county wants to give the schools a piece of land it owns on the north end of its tract for a piece of land the school has on the south end.

Object of the swap is to provide the Crippled Children's Society with a site for its building—a site adjacent to the new YMCA. The commissioners court said that the society has been given a building and has asked the county to provide land on which to locate it. The society wants the building near to the YMCA so that handicapped boys and girls can make use of the YMCA swimming pool and any other facilities the Y may have.

The commissioners said that the school is favorable to the trade and that the court is confident the deal will be completed in the near future.

The commissioners also approved a request by the city for certain right of way for new streets to be opened in the Boydston school area. Some of the land needed is a part of that owned by the county.

Extra Deputy Through April For Assessor

Mrs. Viola Robinson, county tax assessor-collector, will be permitted to keep her staff of nine deputies through April 15—which will mean through the rush of new car registrations.

Effective as of that date, the staff will be reduced by one deputy. The collector also forfeits a request she made for $1,000 for employment of extra help during the present year.

The Howard County Commissioners Court reached this decision on Monday afternoon, acting on a plea by Mrs. Robinson that she be permitted to retain the ninth deputy as a full time employee. The deputy has been working in the office about a year, being employed last year after Mrs. Robinson fell ill and had to be out of the office for several months.

Mrs. Robinson told the court Monday morning that she needed even more help rather than be deprived of one deputy.

The court explained that the extra worker was employed with the understanding that she would be let go when Mrs. Robinson returned to the job.

The assessor told the court that the volume of work in her office is mounting at such a pace she has need for this extra worker all of the time and that at peak periods—such as the February-April car registration period and the interval when tax rolls are being prepared—she would need still additional help.

Grice Reports On Year's Activity

Walter Grice, justice of the peace, said Tuesday that his office filed 510 misdemeanor cases in 1959, 84 felony cases and 107 civil cases.

He said that in addition, he conducted 23 inquests and handled 97 small claim matters.

MEN IN SERVICE

Earnest J. Morrison, son of Mr. and Mrs. William R. Morrison, Coshoma, recently was promoted to specialist four in Germany, where he is a member of the 25th Artillery.

Specialist Morrison, assigned to Battery C of the artillery in Stuttgart, entered the Army in October 1958, completed basic training at Fort Carson, Colo., and arrived overseas last April.

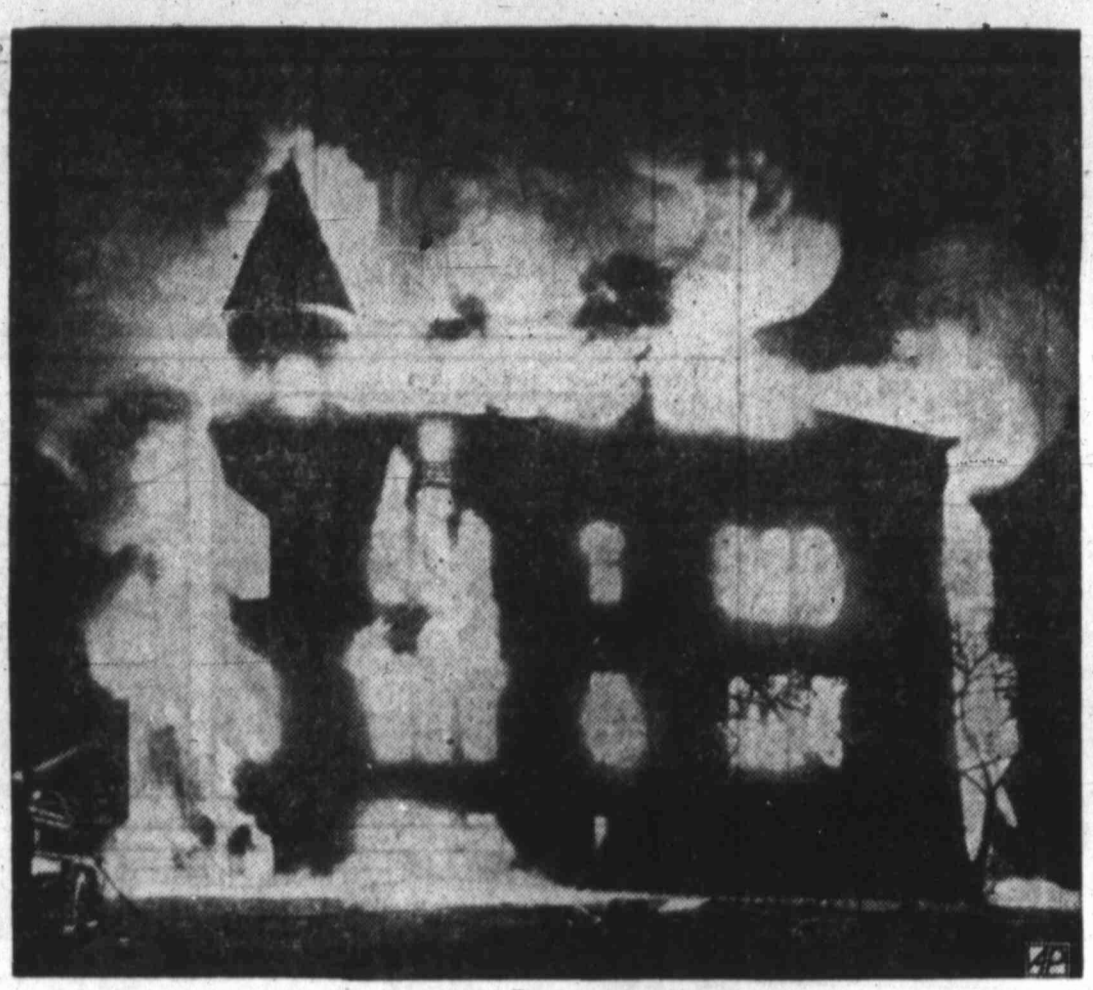

The 23-year-old soldier is a 1955 graduate of Coshoma High School and attended Howard County Junior College and West Texas State College.

Navy Lt. (jg) Elijah J. Cass, son of Mrs. Genevieve G. Cass of 2409 Rumsell St., and husband of the former Miss Gladys W. Nussell of Brazil, Ind., is serving aboard the attack transport USS Rockbridge operating with the U. S. Sixth Fleet in the Mediterranean.

Marine Lance Cpl. Norval R. Perkins, of 1402 Austin St., was promoted to the present rank Dec. 16, while serving with the Third Marine Division on Okinawa in the Pacific.

Killed By Car

ODESSA (AP)—Elaine Sanford, 8, was killed Monday when an automobile struck the go-cart in which she was riding on a parking lot here. The driver of the car said he was sun-blinded as he drove onto the parking lot. The child was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Sanford of Odessa.

These Wonderful 60s Promise A Paradise

By WILLIAM FERRIS
AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—You may work fewer hours, make more money, have more fun in the wonderful world of the 1960s.

That's how economists and business men view the future.

Their forecasts require, of course, a peaceful decade.

Given that, they foresee: Nearly 81 million people employed by 1970. It's a little more than 65 million now.

A work week averaging about 37 1/2 hours. It's a little more than 40 now.

A steady growth in wages with only a little more than 13 per cent of all households having an income of less than $3,000. It's 20 per cent today.

Prophecies are always hazardous. For example:

In October 1959, just before the Great Depression, the Harvard Economic Society concluded no serious recession was likely, and if there were, the Federal Reserve System would take steps to ease the money market and so check the movement.

GRAIN OF SALT

Professor Irving Fisher of Yale, an eminent economist, said just before the stock price break and depression that stock prices had reached "what looks like a permanently high plateau."

So, a prudent man will take his predictions with a grain of salt.

Nevertheless, men of business and finance are almost unanimous in glowing forecasts for the coming decade which already has been labeled the "Soaring Sixties."

"Soaring Sixties" and "Golden Sixties." But some see the expected period of climb interrupted by recessions.

The Committee for Economic Development says:

"If we conduct our economic affairs with intelligence, we can reach a general level of material well being higher than was ever before conceived of as possible."

Says Mills B. Lane, president of the Citizens & Southern National Bank, Atlanta, Ga., the Southeast's largest banking system:

"I expect the greatest 10 years we have ever had. There will be fluctuations, but I look for very strong forward progress. It will be a decade of terrific technological advance."

GENERAL GROWTH

S. Clark Beise, president of the Bank of America, San Francisco: "I share the widely held view that growing population, an expanding labor force, the great increase in family formation, and recent and prospective technological gains will favor general economic growth during the next 10 years."

Ernest B. Marsh, president of the Santa Fe Railroad: "My confidence in the future of American business and the system under which we operate is unbounded. The trends in growth of population and industry should by 1970 produce an economy that will cause all previous records of production and employment to appear insignificant by comparison."

Eastill Heiser Jr., president of the Texas Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Assn., Dallas: "Oil and gas producers are betting billions of dollars annually that by 1970 American industry will be using approximately 1 1/2 times as much energy as it is today."

Secretary of Commerce Frederick H. Mueller estimates the Gross National Product will hit 500 billion dollars by mid-1960.

$790 BILLION

The National Planning Assn. estimates that by 1970 the GNP will be 790 billion dollars in terms of the 1958 dollar. It's about 490 billion this year in this year's dollar, about 473 billion in the 1958 dollar.

Gerhard Cohn, chief economist of the National Planning Assn., expects the economic growth rate in the next 10 years to rise 4.2 per cent a year. It averaged 3 per cent in the 1951-59 period.

The Committee for Economic Development has figured out that, if the growth rate should average 4 per cent a year, average family income in 1970 would exceed $8,500, after taxes. If the rate is 3 per cent, the income would be $7,500, after taxes.

Automation and electronics will provide a fabulous new world. Already an electronic brain is controlling a refining unit of Texaco at Port Arthur, Tex. It is now feasible to run a railroad train without any crew aboard.

The steel industry expects to increase its capacity by 2 1/2 million tons each year of the decade. Its big emphasis will be on foreign markets. Aluminum probably will expand even faster in view of its widening uses.

7.5 MILLION CARS

The automobile industry expects to sell 7 1/2 million cars each year by 1970. This year's total was around 5,600,000.

If you think streets are crowded now with 58 million cars in use, wait for 1970 and 90 million cars. Gas turbine engines will appear in trucks but not in cars. There likely will be more passenger cars with engines in the rear.

The electric utility industry, which has been doubling in size every 8 or 10 years, is expected to do so again in the next decade.

The Bell System, which has 59 million telephones in use, expects to have 93 million by 1969.

There will be a lot more people around. Population will total 214 million with a civilian labor force of more than 85 1/2 million by 1970. The National Assn. of Homebuilders expects to build 1,500,000 to 1,700,000 homes a year by the late 1960s.

Older folks will become an increasingly important part of the teen-agers will total four million each year until 1968, when it will jump to 4 1/2 million.

Robert J. Lampman, University of Wisconsin economist, in a report for the Senate-House Economic Committee, forecasts a steady reduction in the number of low income individuals.

About 26 per cent of the nation was in the low income group in 1947. By 1957 this was down to 19 per cent. By 1977 Lampman expects the drop to continue to 10 or 12 per cent. In 30 years he expects poverty to be virtually eliminated.

Dog's Hunger Brings Idea For New Can

DALLAS (AP)—Rocky obviously wanted food. So Raymond Caproni opened a can of horse meat and dumped it in the dog's food bowl.

Then Caproni became hungry, too. He selected a can of soup and started it through the same can opener he used for Rocky's food.

Caproni is neat and meticulous. He didn't like the idea of opening his own food with the opener he used for dog food, he relates.

From that decision two years ago, the 50-year-old bachelor accountant became an evangelist against the common variety of food can. He found a number of things he didn't like about them.

He decided to invent a new type of can—at least he hopes it is a new type. The patent office, where Caproni has a patent pending, will make the final decision on that point.

The Caproni can simply is one with a slipover lid designed so an opener he invented will open the can on the side by freeing the lid.

The lid then can be lifted off like that of a coffee can, leaving a sterile lip.

"Food companies spend millions yearly to make certain the food inside cans is sterile," Caproni says.

"Then the home owner uses an unsterile can opener which digs into the food, the lid, contaminated by dust, falls into the can, and the householder digs it out with his fingers. Then he pours the food over the lip, which further contaminates the food."

Caproni adds, "You can't open a can without getting dirt in the food, short of sterilizing the can for 20 minutes in boiling water." By "dirt" he means germs that may fall on the can or be placed there in handling.

He has built a model, and offered his invention to several can companies. Their replies show interest.

Judge Moss Loses Cuban Hot Springs

NUEVA GERONA, Isle of Pines, Cuba (AP)—The Cuban government has taken over thermal springs belonging to Paul Moss, a retired judge from Odessa, Tex., according to Moss' attorney.

Leonardo Cano revealed the National Institute of Agrarian Reform had "intervened" Weyler Springs on this island, which Moss had planned to develop. The attorney said the institute presented no authorization for the takeover of the spa which it intends to develop for public baths.

THIS DAY IN TEXAS

By CURTIS BISHOP

A note sent by a German diplomat on this day in 1917 had more than a casual effect upon the story of Texas.

The dispatch was the famous "Zimmerman letter" in which Dr. Alfred Zimmerman proposed that Mexico ally herself with Germany and recover her lost territory, including Texas. The note, addressed to Von Eckhart in Germany, was intercepted by United States Secret Service agents and made public on February 28, 1917.

Resentment ran particularly high in Texas, where the "Plan of San Diego" had already been exposed. This was a fantastic plan providing for the conquest of Texas, New Mexico, Arizona and California. Devised in the Duval County seat, the plot called for the death of every non-Latin white Texan over 16 years of age. Local units would be held responsible for their executions in their respective localities.

Texas Ranger Bishop (no relation) got wind of the plot before it accomplished as much as a single death. The information was turned over to United States government authorities, but it was not taken seriously until after the Zimmerman letter. Then the watch on the Rio Grande was doubled. Airplanes patrolled the Rio Grande, Mexico, of course, completely disavowed Zimmerman's letter.

Probe Into Man's Death

COLORADO CITY—Andrés Hermsillo, 70-year-old Latin American farmer, was found dead at his home three miles south of Lorraine about 8:30 a.m. Monday, according to Mitchell County sheriff Dick Gregory. His body was lying in his bed with a .22 rifle nearby. He had been shot in the left temple.

According to County Attorney Frank Ginzle, assisting in the investigation, Justice of the Peace S. H. Hart of Lorraine has ordered an autopsy and will likely return a verdict later this week.

Gregory said that pending results of the autopsy, a paraffin test, and other checks, he would be unable to return a verdict. He said his office is continuing its investigation.

Hermsillo had lived in Mitchell County for 20 years and lived alone in his little cabin on the Wallace Ranch.

Funeral services will be held from the Lorraine Catholic Church Tuesday at 4 p.m. Burial will be in the Lorraine Cemetery under the direction of the Kiker and Son Funeral Home of Colorado City.

He is survived by five sons, Felipe, Jesus, Ben, Alex and Jose, all of Roscoe; four daughters, Mrs. Jimmy Boquerone, Mrs. Virginia Hermsillo and Misses Magdalena and Frances Hermsillo, all of Roscoe; and a step-son, Alex Martinez of Roscoe.

Liners Delayed

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—An anonymous bomb threat telephone call here delayed two airliners almost an hour Monday. One of the planes held up while luggage was searched was a Delta plane en route from Detroit to Houston. No trace of a bomb was found.

Former GIs Must Keep Up With Own Insurance

While the Veterans Administration seeks effort to assist veterans in paying their insurance premiums on time, responsibility for paying premiums rests with GI policyholders, the Veterans Administration cautions.

Ray Boren, contact representative of the VA office at Big Spring, Veterans Administration Hospital, pointed out that veterans paying premiums each month receive annually a packet of 12 cards from the Veterans Administration. They should submit the appropriate card with each monthly payment. Veterans paying quarterly or semi-annually also receive notices which should be submitted with the payments.

Changes of address should be reported to the Veterans Administration, but even then it is the veteran's responsibility to make any payment which is due. Likewise, if the veteran fails to receive his premium notice, he should make any payment due, furnishing his name, address and policy number.

Daily Average Oil Production Rises

TULSA (AP)—The nation's daily average oil production rose 19,940 barrels to 1,179,330 during the week ended Jan. 16, the Oil and Gas Journal said today. Oklahoma led 4,000 to 546,000 barrels. Arkansas was down 1,500 to 81,650.

The Journal's estimate of 1960 production climbed to 114,569,940 barrels compared to 120,438,209 a year ago. Colorado was off 500 to 129,500 and Louisiana 200 to 1,069,900. Production was unchanged in Texas, 2,665,000 barrels; and New Mexico, 299,400.

Natural Causes Ruled In Death

COLORADO CITY — Earnest Benjamin, 47-year-old Colorado City Negro, was discovered dead at his home south of the Dawson Hotel early Monday morning. Justice of the Peace T. E. Arnold returned a verdict of "death from natural causes" Monday afternoon.

Benjamin was lying on a couch when found and friends looking through a window had seen him lying in the same position Sunday but had thought he was sleeping. He was found when found. Time of his death was not established. His body is at the Kiker & Son Funeral Home in Colorado City. Doyle Kiker, operator of the funeral home, said that Benjamin has relatives in Anadarko, Okla.

Aged C-City Man Dies On Monday, Rites Set Today

COLORADO CITY — William H. Miller, 83, died in the Root Memorial Hospital in Colorado City Monday afternoon after a two weeks illness. Miller was born Nov. 19, 1876 in Kaufman County and had lived in Colorado City for a year and a half. He was a member of the First Baptist Church.

The funeral will be held Tuesday at 2 p.m. from the Kiker and Son Chapel. The Rev. J. F. Selcraig, pastor of the First Baptist Church, will officiate, assisted by the Rev. Clarence Collins, pastor of the First Methodist Church. Burial will be in the Colorado City Cemetery.

He is survived by his wife, two sons, Gordon and Durward Miller, both of Dallas; a daughter, Mrs. Albert Gully of Mexico City and a step-daughter, Mrs. Bruce Campbell, of Colorado City.

Astronaut Really One In A Million

NEW YORK (AP)—The Project Mercury astronaut is literally one in a million.

That means only one in a million American men between the ages of 25 and 35 can shape up to Project Mercury's stern physical, mental and emotional standards.

So Brig Gen. Don R. Flickinger, Air Force bio-astronaut, reported to the American Astronautical Society Monday night.

Automatically adjusts to weather changes

... to assure you home-wide perfect comfort... all year round

ALL-ELECTRIC HEAT PUMP

Now you can enjoy the indoor climate you like best all year round, regardless of outside temperature changes. The Heat Pump does it automatically... does it electrically... with one setting of the thermostatic controls.

On cold days, the Heat Pump extracts warmth from outdoor air (even in below freezing weather) and pumps it indoors to keep you comfortably warm. On hot days, the Heat Pump removes heat from indoor air and pumps it outdoors to keep you delightfully cool. And, during changeable weather, the Heat Pump switches automatically from heating to cooling or back again, as needed, to maintain the temperature you like best.

With the Heat Pump there is no seasonal start-up or shut-down of heating or cooling equipment — no discomfort from unseasonably warm or cold days. And because its all-electric, it's clean, modern, healthful. Phone, write or visit our office for additional information today.

Random Thoughts During The Pitch

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Random thoughts while sitting out the commercials:
The real test of an adult Western is not whether the hero is permitted to kiss the girl. It is whether the hero's horse has a same and personality. Most of us can identify Trigger, Buttermilk, Silver, even Tony, if we're old enough. But who can tell the name of Marshal Dillon's trusty steed, or Paladin's or Josh Randall's?
It's a lucky thing TV was not invented before psychiatry. How on earth could most of those crime shows find villains if it weren't for the emotionally disturbed killers, the schizophrenic burglars, the frustrated bombers?
Commercials don't have to be repetitious bores—sometimes the ones that accompany the Sunday and evening shows are more interesting than the shows themselves. There was a fascinating, educational commercial the other evening showing how explosives are used to blast rivets into place, and another was a demonstration of new equipment now being developed to give an airplane pilot a "road in the sky" to fly on.

Does any other woman viewer worry about the casual way demonstrators leave refrigerator doors open indefinitely when they are showing the well-stocked interiors?
Why do lather and razor demonstrators feel they must act as if shaving were a delightful episode to be savored like sipping aged brandy?
What I'd really like to know now is what the commercials-makers use for Brand X in those sink-cleaner ads.

Hitchcock Is A Sly One; His Film Sex Is Subtle

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — How do you figure this one?
Marilyn Monroe and Tony Curtis do some smooching on a yacht in "Some Like It Hot" and the scene is roundly scored by moralists as being suggestive.
Eva Marie Saint and Cary Grant do some torrid love-making in a train compartment in "North by Northwest" and no protest is raised.
The answer may be in the delicate touch of the sly, masterful Alfred Hitchcock, who directed the latter film. Sex has often found its way into Hitchcock pictures. Recall the Grant-Bergman clinches in "Notorious," the Grant-Kelly fireworks in "To Catch a Thief," the Steward-Kelly romances in "Rear Window."
Yet Hitchcock never seems to get in dutech with the censors.
The thinning maestro — down 22 pounds since Christmas — is again embarked on a sexy suspense saga, "Psycho."
"I haven't the slightest interest in sex," Hitchcock said blithely. "How could I? I have been married to the same woman for 34 years and have never been out with another girl."
"Then why do I put sex in my films? Alas, I must bow to commercial necessity. It is apparently the thing that sells, and I am in the business of attracting customers."
Hitchcock's taste runs to the cooler tomatoes, as evidenced by Miles, etc. There is a reason for this.

"I wouldn't think of casting a Monroe or a Mansfield to play a sexy part," he remarked. "That would be like playing a villain with a long black mustache. It's too obvious."
"Such castings of sexy actresses bring up visions of bosoms and all kinds of suggestions. Sex is more effective when it is subtle."
Hitchcock illustrated his method with a scene from "Psycho." He has a love scene played by Janet Leigh in her slip and John Gavin stripped to the waist.
"The girl says she must get back to work," the director said. "She is obviously an office worker, and that makes the scene more effective than if she were a show-girl."

Garner Joins Lyndon League

UVALDE, Tex. (AP) — Former Vice President John Nance Garner, who has had little to say publicly about politics since he left Washington in 1940, Monday joined the Lyndon Johnson for President drive.
Garner, 91, who in recent years has given his endorsement to only a few candidates, accepted appointment as honorary chairman of the Uvalde County Johnson-for-President club.
Sen. Johnson (D-Tex.), the Senate majority leader, has not announced as a candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination. However, he is considered one of the top contenders for the nomination.

Pegler Sues For Divorce

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — Westbrook J. Pegler, syndicated newspaper columnist, is suing his wife of only eight months for divorce.
Pegler, 65, and the former Pearl E. Doane, 47, were married May 11 in New York City.
In a suit filed in Superior Court Monday, Pegler alleges his wife harassed him, prevented him from sleeping and mistreated him in other ways to such an extent that it affected his health.
Mrs. Pegler was married twice previously, both marriages ending in divorce. Pegler's first wife, the former Julia Harpman, died in 1955.

Author Claims West Germany Is Filled With Nazis

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — "West Germany is overrun with Nazis," says author Harry Golden.
"I have no patience with those who blame Communists for anti-Semitic demonstrations," Golden said Monday night in an interview. "The Communists have enough to answer for. It just absolves the Nazis, and that is a very dangerous thing."
"Swastikas painted on synagogues may be only pranks, but they are symbols of murder," symbols of the darkest period in the long progression of man.

"I do not hold with those who claim Jews are overly sensitive. Why shouldn't Jews jump every time a swastika is painted?"
Golden, author of the best-selling books "Only in America" and "For 2 Cents Plain," also is editor of the Carolina Israelite, a weekly newspaper in Charlotte, N.C. He was in Kansas City to address a civic club.
