Chessman Loses Plea For Stay

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—Convict author Caryl Chessman today was denied a stay of execution, scheduled Feb. 19 in the San Quentin prison gas chamber.

Judge Richard Chambers, chief justice of the U.S. Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals, also refused to issue a certificate of probable cause for appeal.

This would have granted Chessman a hearing before the full Court of Appeals in an effort to reverse U.S. District Judge Louis E. Goodman's refusal to grant a writ of habeas corpus.

Chessman now is expected to appeal again to the U.S. Supreme Court, which has considered the case 13 times.

Should this effort fail, an appeal for clemency probably will be made to California Gov. Edmund G. Brown.

Chessman was sentenced to death in 1948 on charges of kidnapping, robbery and perverted sexual assaults against two young women. He has been in death row for nearly 12 years and has escaped seven earlier execution dates through various legal moves.

Atty. George T. Davis based the application for appeal on three main grounds:

1. An act of God, brought about when the court reporter at the original trial died before completing transcribing his notes, had denied Chessman equal rights and protection.
2. Chessman had been subjected to cruel and unusual punishment by being kept on death row so long.
3. Section 209 of the California law under which Chessman was sentenced to death has been changed.

Judge Chambers heard Chessman's latest application for a stay of execution in Tucson Friday.

A. L. Wirin, counsel for the American Civil Liberties Union, said an immediate appeal for a stay of execution will be made to the U.S. Supreme Court.

"We have not yet decided whether we will appeal to the entire court or to a single justice," he said.

"We will appeal on three grounds, two of which Judge Goodman said were impressive. The first will be that Chessman's detention in San Quentin death row for 11½ years constitutes cruel and unusual punishment.

"This is a novel point, never directly passed upon by the Supreme Court."

"The second will be that Chessman was denied due process of law because Judge Fricke (the judge who presided at the original trial) instructed the jury that no physical movement was necessary to commit a violation of California's federal Lindbergh law."

He said the law has since been changed by the California Legislature requiring that a person be transported before kidnapping applies.

The third point will be the frequently made claim that the record of the original trial is inadequate due to the death of the court reporter before his notes were transcribed.

"This deprives Chessman of due process of law guaranteed by the 14th Amendment of the U.S. Constitution."

"I have always tried to be frank — and sometimes to a fault, my friends tell me — and I am the first to admit that I will be totally green at this business. But I am going to depend on the advice of the good, solid citizens who have built our cities and communities and who are responsible for our progress."

Milch said that when he weighed an issue and took a stand, his

Anderson Quits Demo Post In Borden; In New Party

A Borden County political leader, John R. (Rich) Anderson, Monday announced he is stepping out of the Democratic organization, and will devote his time and efforts in behalf of the Constitution Party in Texas.

Anderson sent a letter to Alton Milklin, Democratic chairman in Borden County, submitting his resignation as a member of the Borden Committee. A copy was sent to the press for publication.

Anderson's letter follows:

"This letter is to inform you and the other members of the Democratic Committee of Borden County of my resignation from that body.

"It is a tradition in Texas that we have supported Democrats in order to obtain responsible Constitutional government, regardless of the National Democratic Party platform or policies. That, in my belief, has been proved a costly mistake. We now have the greatest national debt, highest taxation, largest peace-time budget and deficit, least capacity for defense, decreasing international prestige, and the lowest moral and spiritual strength with less personal liberty and responsibility than at any time in our national history. This has come about in the last 30 years while the Democrats have been in the majority in Washington.

"In 1932 the hopes of conservatives all over the nation and world were here with the Republican Party and its platform of economy and anti-Communism. We now know that this was double-talk in order for the Modern Republican to climb on the gullible taxpayers back along with the Democrat who was already there.

"I believe that the only possible hope is through a new party with well enunciated Constitutional principles, giving voters a clear choice between platforms rather than personalities. I have now decided to devote my time and efforts to the Constitution Party in Texas in hopes that through this party something can be done to salvage some of our freedom that we have so willingly or carelessly turned over to those that would lead us further down the road to Socialism or Communism."

For God and Country,
JOHN R. ANDERSON

Milch Formally In Legislature Race

A positive and forthright approach to the problems of the state were promised Monday by Al Milch in his formal announcement as a candidate for the state legislature.

Milch filed for a place on the Democratic primary for 1961 legislative district representative and today made his statement of candidacy.

"I have always tried to be frank — and sometimes to a fault, my friends tell me — and I am the first to admit that I will be totally green at this business. But I am going to depend on the advice of the good, solid citizens who have built our cities and communities and who are responsible for our progress."

Milch said that when he weighed an issue and took a stand, his constituents need have no fear of his being wishy-washy.

"I'm going to do what I honestly believe is the best and what is right. I may be wrong, but I won't be fluttering back and forth."

At this stage, he said, there is one area in which he had established a course, and that was in behalf of education.

"I am for the teachers and for a strong school program," he said. "I believe firmly that our progress, our standard of living and our way of life are tied closely to the quality of our education."

"I am interested in farm and ranch problems, too, for we have a small place of our own."

Milch is a native of San Angelo. His parents died when he was a lad and he was reared by an aunt and uncle. He worked while attending high school and waited on tables while going through Schreiner Institute. He also worked while he was earning his degree at Hardin-Simmons University where he also was a star football player.

He has taught and coached at Roscoe, Arlington State, Hardin-Simmons, Sul Ross College and Big Spring. He volunteered as a Marine private in World War II and spent 2½ years of service in the Southwest Pacific, emerging as a captain. Returning to H-SU, he earned his masters degree and has 12 hours additional graduate work. He is a member of several professional organizations such as NCA, TSTA, NEA; is a member of the Rotary Club and College Baptist Church. He and Mrs. (Marigene) Milch have three children, Larry, Merrill and Suzanne, and own their home at 1731 Yale.

Mrs. Milch is a member of the Big Spring High School faculty as a typing teacher.

Several Distributive Education pupils placed in area contests by DE Club members in San Angelo over the weekend, Frank Dunlap, co-ordinator, said today.

The next activity is participation in the state meeting at San Antonio on Feb. 25-27. Dunlap will take Richard Ellis, Nancy Wicks, Jack Richbourg and one other to be chosen.

At the area meeting, Nancy Wicks placed second in job interview; Richard Ellis fourth in sales demonstration.

Third in window judging was a team made up of Richard Ellis, Jackie Richbourg, Anita Wilemon and Bryon Boeckl. Fourth, fifth and sixth places went to Jack Dyer, Jeanne Ward and Sheila Holder, while fifth place in business speaking went to Barbara Teague.

Lunch Counters Re-Open, But Service Limited

GREENSBORO, N.C. (AP)—Two beleaguered variety stores reopened here today, but planned only limited stand up service to white and Negro alike at their snack bars.

The stores, object of a week-long demonstration by Negroes who claimed they got service only while standing were closed abruptly Saturday.

Officials said both were closed after a telephone bomb threat and when the tension between the Negro demonstrators and their white hecklers became too great.

Saturday night, the Negroes, most of them college students, agreed to a two-week cooling off period "to allow for negotiation and study."

Officials of the F. W. Woolworth and S. H. Kress stores did not indicate how long their lunch counters will remain closed.

The Negroes, most of them from North Carolina A & T College and Bennett College, paraded after the closing of the stores Saturday, calling it a victory. Many whites, some carrying Confederate flags, were restrained from following by police. The civilian auxiliary police force later was called out.

Adm. Burke Sees Threat In Russ Subs

WASHINGTON (AP)—Adm. Arleigh Burke says the Soviet Union has cut down on submarine production, but the Soviet submersible fleet poses "one of the gravest military threats we face."

It is known that some Soviet submarines can fire missiles, the chief of naval operations told a House Appropriations subcommittee. He did not elaborate in that portion of his testimony made public today, but he said the Soviet threat extends both to sea communications and to U.S. cities.

Burke's testimony also supported current U.S. intelligence estimates based on Soviet intentions as well as Soviet maximum capabilities.

"We have made gross errors in the past by using the old system," he said.

Burke cited what he said were estimates that the Soviets could build "hundreds and hundreds of long-range bombers," but said they did not actually do so.

He went on: "They actually built submarines in 1956. They had the capability to continue, but what did they do? They got a large number of submarines and then they stopped and they went into new production, but their new production is much less."

"They will build submarines at some lesser rate to replace probably the submarines they now have and keep their submarine force about level. You can get a capability on a crash program and be completely misled."

Burke's published testimony contained no estimate of present Soviet submarine strength. Earliest estimates have ranged around 500 new or recent craft.

2 DJs Claim No Laws Broken

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two former Cleveland disc jockeys, preparing to testify at the opening of the payola hearing today, contended they were paid as consultants and not for plugging songs.

Through their attorney, Wesley Hopkins and Joseph Finan said they have broken no laws "or even our contracts." Both are former disc jockeys on Cleveland radio-TV station KYW.

The two, with attorney Donald Zimmerman, spoke to reporters outside the hearing room as the House Legislative Oversight subcommittee began behind closed doors its probe into alleged under-the-table payments for plugs on the air and other radio-TV practices.

The closed session was ordered at the request of another former disc jockey, Norman Prescott, employed until recently by Boston stations.

Prescott was the first witness heard by the subcommittee.

Subcommittee Chairman Oren Harris (D-Ark) said the opening-day closed session was arranged at Prescott's request.

Harris read the House rule permitting witnesses to be heard initially in executive session when testimony might "tend to defame, degrade or incriminate" anyone.

He said the committee felt it must grant Prescott's request, made earlier in a telegram from Palm Beach, Fla.

At a brief open session, Harris said rumors that the subcommittee investigation will center on a few individuals, stations or localities are "wholly unfounded."

"It is not the subcommittee's objective to single out any single area, group or individual," Harris said.

He said hearings this week are only the beginning of a look into "representative situations which will reveal the nature and scope" of the problem of alleged under-the-table payments for plugs on the air and other forms of commercial bribery or improper practice.

The subcommittee later will hear witnesses about cases "in Pennsylvania and many other parts of the country," Harris said.

Sharp Fuss Over Airlift State Bared

WASHINGTON (AP)—A sharp disagreement between the Army and the Defense Department over the adequacy of emergency airlift facilities was brought into the open today by the House Appropriations committee.

It included:

1. An assertion by Army Chief of Staff Gen. L. L. Lemnitzer that the Defense Department is "woefully and hopelessly unprepared" for the type of emergency airlift it might require.
2. A charge by Secretary of the Army Wilbur M. Brucker that Gen. Lemnitzer "is not getting all the cooperation he ought to get" from the Joint Chiefs of Staff.
3. A statement by Rep. George H. Mahon (D-Tex.), chairman of the Defense Appropriations subcommittee, that lack of an adequate airlift "is one of the weakest links in our defense chain."

The airlift controversy was aired by the committee during recent closed-door hearings on the 1961 defense budget. A censored transcript was made public today.

Lemnitzer disagreed with a statement by Gen. Thomas D. White, chief of staff of the Air Force, that the airlift now available "meets the criteria established by the Joint Chiefs of Staff."

Bob White and Lemnitzer are members of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

Lemnitzer told the committee the chiefs are in agreement on airlift requirements in a general way but do not agree on needs for a limited war. He said there are not enough special troop carrier planes to land necessary troops and equipment quickly in an emergency.

"We may be confronted on short notice at any time with a requirement to move a force from one battle group to two divisions by airlift," he said. "If we did not have warning to assemble aircraft from all over the world into one place, I believe we would not be able to meet a requirement of moving a two-division force."

Garbage Service For New Areas

All of the areas annexed to the city in December are receiving garbage service.

Bruce Dunn, director of public works, said all residents of the Kennebeck Heights—Western Hills area, the Lockhart Addition and the Cedar Ridge area are getting regular garbage service.

All residents requesting garbage service in the Airport - Settles Heights area are receiving it, Dunn added. "We hope to expand service in this area to everyone," he said, "but for the present, only those asking for garbage pick-ups receive it."

Demo Executive Group Backs Lyndon, Then Sets Ballot Fee

Howard County Democratic Executive Committee went on record today as unanimously endorsing the candidacy of Senator Lyndon Johnson for the Democratic presidential nomination.

The motion was made by W. D. Berry and adopted without discussion.

The meeting was called primarily to establish assessments to be levied against candidates for expenses of the primary election.

The committee approved the plan drawn by Frank Hardesty, chairman, under which county and precinct candidates in races where there is a contest will be assessed 3 per cent of the annual salary of the office sought.

The candidates who have no opposition will be assessed 4 per cent of the annual salaries.

The assessment must be in the hand of the county chairman not later than Saturday of this week. Failure to post the assessment fee by that time will result in the candidate's name being omitted from the ballot.

The committee members present were Hardesty, Avery Deel, George Melear, Martin Binder and Berry.

Hardesty pointed out that at the last primary election, assessments were based on 1.5 per cent of the annual salaries. However, in that election there were more candidates filed which brought in the amount of money needed to pay for the primary.

He estimated this year's primary election costs at more than $3,000. With the smaller field of assessment had to be increased.

The breakdown of assessments follows for each candidate:

District Judge $400; district attorney $300; Sheriff $198; County Tax Assessor Collector $198; County Attorney $264; County Commissioner $135; Justice of the Peace, Precinct 1, Place 1, $145; Constable, Precinct 1, Place 1, $126; Constable Precinct 2, $63.

Kennedy, Johnson Seek West's Votes

By The Associated Press

The prize of 271 Democratic nominating votes lured presidential hopefuls into a weekend of Western politicking. Sens. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.) and Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex.) seemed most active at trying to lasso the votes.

Kennedy supporters reportedly approached California party officials Sunday and proposed terms under which he would stay out of the state primary. The terms were calculated to help Kennedy pick up convention votes.

Meanwhile, Johnson supporters, milling about the Western Democratic Conference in Albuquerque, N.M., claimed Johnson already had more than 200 of the West's 271 convention votes. Kennedy forces looked on the claim as Texas boasting.

Besides Kennedy and Johnson, Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn.) showed up at the Albuquerque conference. In a speech, Humphrey lashed out at the Republicans, calling them great wasters of resources, including human resources.

The Republicans were not absent from the West. Vice President Richard M. Nixon, who has a clear field to the GOP presidential nomination, spoke in Los Angeles Saturday and backed up the administration's defense policy.

"At the present time," Nixon told the California Newspaper Publishers Assn., "our present course seems adequate."

"The complex of strength—considering missiles, bombers with their Hound Dog missiles, Polaris submarines that will be coming along and all the other force—what counts," he said.

The Kennedy terms were given to Roger Kent, California Democratic state vice chairman, and Elizabeth Smith, national committeewoman.

The senator's supporters told them Kennedy would stay out of the June 7 primary if Gov. Edmund G. Brown, the state's favorite son candidate, would promise to release his delegates after the convention's first ballot.

One of the senator's staff explained there was concern that Brown might hold his state's 81 votes until it was too late to help Kennedy's chances for nomination.

So far only Kennedy and Humphrey are announced candidates for the Democratic nomination. But Johnson, in Indianapolis Saturday, seemed to leave the ranks of those candidates who won't admit it.

For the first time, he talked about his "candidacy." He told newsmen he expects to be chairman of the Texas delegation at the July convention "and I hope it will be committed to the support of my candidacy."

In Baker, Ore., Humphrey attempted to use the identical forum as President Eisenhower and outline what the Democratic party stands for.

Last month, the President had answered a letter from Shirley Jean Havens of Arvada, Colo., by telling a nationwide audience what he thought the Republicans stood for.

Humphrey told a Baker dinner meeting that he, too, had written to Mrs. Havens. He said he told her: "The Republicans have a very restrictive idea of what can be done for the country. On the other hand, the message of the Democratic party is the message of service."

While the weekend of speech-making flourished, the final stage was set for the nation's first presidential primary. Filing for the March 8 primary in New Hampshire closed Saturday with Nixon unopposed in the Republican preference poll and Kennedy opposed by Chicago pen manufacturer Paul C. Fisher in the Democratic poll.

In another section of the primary—the election of convention delegates—the Republicans had an overflow of Nixon candidates plus some favoring Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York, U.N. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge, Dr. Milton Eisenhower, and Lar Daly of Chicago.

The Democratic delegate race included many Kennedy candidates plus some for Sen. Stuart Symington of Missouri, Humphrey, and Adlai Stevenson, the party's candidate in 1952 and 1956.

Resigns

H. J. (Jack) Porter, above, Houston oil man who was among the early leaders in the 1958-59 drive to nominate Dwight Eisenhower for president, resigned from the National Republican Committee. Porter told the committee he did not feel "physically able to discharge the duties" of the office during the coming year. Porter is shown here as he testified at a Senate hearing in 1958.

Texas GOP Will Name New Chief

AUSTIN (AP)—Texas Republican leaders today faced selection of a new national committeeman, confident that the job can be done with harmony.

They will act on the surprise resignation of H. J. (Jack) Porter, Houston, who has held the job since beating down the Old Guard organization in 1952. Porter said he is stepping aside because of his health.

Porter, one of Texas' original Eisenhower backers, said that this year's presidential campaign would put too much strain on his physical resources. He asked the State Executive Committee chairman, Thad Hutcheson, to submit the resignation at the committee's meeting here today.

Hutcheson, himself not a candidate for the committee post, said Sunday night he did not anticipate a fight over the job. He said he expected a harmonious decision and predicted that all party members would give full support to Porter's successor.

Front runner in speculation over Porter's successor is Albert Bel Fay of Houston, wealthy oilman and rancher who is chairman of the GOP State Finance Committee.

The names of Ed S. Mayer of San Antonio, Carlos Watson of Brownsville and Joe S. Sheldon of San Antonio also figure in the speculation.

However, there has been no organized support apparent for any of those mentioned as possibilities.

In addition to selecting a new state national committeeman at its session today the State Executive Committee will also select the site for the party's nominating convention and otherwise plan election-year activities.

Republicans this year are expected to follow their pattern of recent elections of trying to win some contests in selected areas where they have shown strength in the past and also put up candidates for major state offices.

Texas Republicans have had three national committeemen since the early 1920s. The late Col. F. B. Creager of Brownsville was committeeman for a quarter of a century and ruled the party in Texas with an iron hand until his death. Henry Zweifel of Fort Worth succeeded Creager in 1950.

Porter, who spearheaded a revolt against the party Old Guard, ousted Zweifel in 1952. Porter, riding the Eisenhower high tide, held the office until he announced his resignation.

Spring Touch May Linger

By The Associated Press
That touch of spring across Texas Sunday may linger for awhile, the Weather Bureau promised Monday.

Maximum temperatures ranged from Sherman's 53 to Brownsville's 73 Sunday and forecasts said there will be no important temperature changes. The Dallas-Fort Worth area expected highs Monday near 70.

Skies before dawn Monday were partly cloudy over the state with some patches of fog along the middle and lower coasts. The fog was expected to clear by mid-morning.

An extended forecast, issued by the Weather Bureau Monday, called for near normal temperatures in east and central portions of the state through Saturday. West Texas at the same time was expected to have temperatures 2 to 4 degrees above normal.

Precipitation for the remainder of the week was expected to be light or none.

Finch To Relate Flight From Scene

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Dr. R. Bernard Finch was expected to testify today that he fled in panic from the spot where his estranged wife lay dead—shot, he says, by accident. The rich surgeon testifies for the fourth day in his fight against the gas chamber. He and his mistress, pretty Carole Tregoff, 23, are accused of murdering socially prominent Barbara Jean Finch, 36, outside the fashionable Finch home in West Covina last July 12. Dr. Finch's account left off Friday at the long trial's most dramatic moment so far—the moment his wife died. As he knelt holding her hand and sobbing, he said, his wife murmured: "Take care of the kids." Tears streamed from several jurors' eyes. The jammed courtroom held its breath, straining for every word.

Invalid Houston Family Gets Taste Of Kindness

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Things looked much better to the Glen Longs today. People started dropping in at their trailer camp Sunday after a newspaper story told how the unemployed watch repairman and his wife and baby daughter were about to be evicted. Things had been tough a long time for Glen, 21, and Barbara, 23. They worried that their 10-month-old daughter faced hardship, too. Both are wheel-chair invalids. It was pretty touching to newsmen when Glen tried to sell Tokey, the couple's dog, for rent money. Long lost the use of his legs in a highway crash when he was 15 and lost his job when his employers went out of business last November. Barbara was stricken with polio at 12. Western Light Called Meteor

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah (AP)—Most experts believe a light that flashed across western skies early Sunday was a meteor. Hundreds saw it, most of them in Utah, Idaho, Montana and Wyoming. A meteor astronomer Floyd Rickores, Hollywood, Calif., said he tracked a red ball in the sky for nearly five minutes, after a "bright flash lighted the room." He said the ball was brighter than anything else in the sky and he guessed it was several thousand miles up. "It seemed to stay stationary between two stars for three or four minutes," he said, "then took off with fantastic speed and disappeared." Richard Below, piloting a Western Airlines plane 11,000 feet over southwest Montana, said the light was "fantastically bright. It lit up everything in the cockpit and cabin and the entire sky outside."

Latin Ships, Planes Seek Mystery Sub

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP)—Argentine warships and planes searched today for a mystery submarine believed lurking off the coast of southern Argentina. Newspapers claimed the submarine has been bottled up in the Golfo Nuevo, a strategic 30-by-40-mile inlet 650 miles southwest of Buenos Aires. There was no indication of its nationality. Navy Secretary Gaston Clement confirmed that a widespread hunt is under way but described some of the press reports as "absolutely untrue." He refused to discuss stories saying the submarine had been hit by depth bombs dropped by planes.

The Navy secretary complained that the sensational treatment of the operation "has created a false atmosphere."

The official cold water did not dispel public curiosity. Thousands flocked to the beaches around the Gulf to wait for action.

The newspaper Democrazia said the trapped submarine had been damaged and two other submarines quickly moved into the area to divert search forces so the crippled craft could slip away. It said the unidentified, submarines were nuclear-powered.

The Argentine destroyer Cervantes and two patrol ships reported locating a submarine in the Gulf but it got away.

More Argentine warships, including an aircraft carrier, were rushed to the area.

Clement told newsmen that Naval electronic devices had detected strange objects, presumably submarines, several times lately. But he likened some of the current newspaper accounts to the stories of Jules Verne, the French science fiction novelist.

The present search is in the same area where Argentine warships reported attacking an unidentified submarine with depth charges a year ago. That submarine escaped.

The government never identified the submarine, but Naval sources speculated then it was a Soviet craft.

Bodies Of 3 Tech Students Found

SILVERTON, Tex. (AP)—The bodies of three Texas Tech students, missing four days, were found in rugged country near here Sunday by a search party.

The trio last Wednesday told friends at the Lubbock, Tex., college, 80 miles southwest of here, that they planned a field trip into the canyons along the Cap Rock escarpment of northwest Texas.

They said they would collect wildlife specimens and return that night. But a snowstorm swept the area Wednesday night and continued into Thursday. The snow quickly melted.

All three of the youths died of exposure, but County Judge J. W. Lyons, acting as coroner, said John P. Arden, 21, of Waxahachie, Tex., suffered a fractured skull in a fall from a cliff before dying.

Merchant Ship Missiles Muddled

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Navy is contemplating installing launchers for its Polaris missile in merchant-type ships as well as submarines.

It still resists Air Force suggestion that the flying service should have over-all strategic command of all missile systems, including the Polaris submarine.

AUSTIN (AP)—Firemen looked today for bodies of three men feared drowned in the swift water below a low water dam being built on the Colorado River here.

Police Capt. Henry Heiling said Manuel Chappa, 25; Albert Chappa, 20, and Oscar Catillo, 22, borrowed an eight foot boat and outboard motor Sunday afternoon. They did not return.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart
Harold Davis, the former HCJC cage mentor who is now at the helm of the Texas Western College basketball team, reportedly is interested in the head basketball job at North Texas State College.

Davis is an alumnus of the Denton school and probably stands a good chance of eventually landing the position.

Charles Johnson now holds the North Texas post but he may step down. Albert Oglesby, the one-time Forsan athletic star, helps Johnson.

North Texas competes in the Missouri Valley Conference, one of the toughest basketball leagues in the country and thus far has been the doorman of the circuit in that particular sport.

However, recruiting possibilities in that part of Texas are probably much better than they are in the El Paso area.

J. C. Southworth Sr., co-medalist in the third annual Big Spring Invitational Golf tournament — way back in 1913 — recently completed 40 years of service as a rural mail carrier for the Sweetwater post office.

He is not on the verge of retiring, however.

E. C. Nixon tied Southworth for medal honors in the '33 tournament here and E. C., then of Colorado City but now of Hobbs, N. M., went on to lose to Shirley Robbins in the finals, 3 and 2.

Robbins, of course, is now general manager of the Big Spring Country Club.

Southworth was among the area's better amateur golfers for several years. He went to the finals of the 1933 Invitational here, before losing to Big Spring's Eddie Morgan, 7 and 6.

Davey Williams, one-time second baseman for the New York Giants, is manager of the Buckner Lanes bowling center, which opened in Dallas recently.

Dick Musial, only son of the St. Louis Cardinal great, Stan Musial, will study to become a dentist. He's now a sophomore at Notre Dame and doesn't play baseball.

Emmett H. McKenzie, new head coach and athletic director of Big Spring High School is author of the article, "Nederland Students Pull The Parcais," appearing in the February publication of the Texas Outlook.

The Outlook is the official publication of the Texas State Teachers Association.

The poll was conducted not to determine the parents' political favorites but to obtain the community's reactions and feelings regarding certain school activities.

Gene Henderson, who quit the head coaching job at San Angelo Lake View recently to become an assistant manager at Odessa High (at a higher salary), formerly served as McKenzie's aide at Nederland.

Henderson says he expects McKenzie's teams here to be "real tough" to beat.

Admission prices for the upcoming National Junior College track and field meet, which will be held here in May, will be $1.50 for adults and $1 for students.

The tickets will enable the holders to see one or all three sessions of the big track carnival.

There will be a disputed, split decision after it is all over. When he lost to Florentino Fernandez, the critics thought he really won. When he got the decision over Honolulu's Stan Harrington Jan. 8, they thought he lost. In the meantime the sad Indian keeps banking the TV dollars.

Griffith is supposed to be a real comer with a 15-1 record. He lost to Randy Sandy. In his only 1960 start he won a Garden semifinal over Bobby Pena, Ortega's stablemate.

California rings will see two ranking boxers in action this week. Paolo Rossi, No. 1 light-weight challenger in Ring (No. 2 NBA) meets Art Ramponi of Oakland on a Tuesday show at Sacramento. Joey Giambra, still listed among the top 10 middle, appears Thursday at Fresno against Ray Greco of Whittier, Calif.

Off the TV team at the Boston Garden, Tom DeMarco will be making a comeback against Denny Meyer of Portland, Ore. DeMarco, former world welter champion, has been out of action since last April. Before that he took two brutal beatings from Virgil Akins. DeMarco is supposed to be getting a $10,000 guarantee.

Moyer is a promising youngster who had a shot at Jordan's title last year but lost. In his last two bouts he outpointed Virgil Akins and stopped Pat Lowry.

Gaspar Ortega makes the TV league again on Friday at Madison Square Garden as an opponent for Emilio Griffith, a 22-year-old New Yorker.

If Ortega fights true to form

Arnold Palmer Wins With 65

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP)—The 1960 golfers' gold rush in California was over today, with Arnold Palmer, winner of the final, the $100,000 Palm Springs Desert Classic.

As the nomadic professionals headed for the next stop, the Phoenix Open, Palmer was richer by $12,000 — the largest purse in the 15 major tournaments he has won during five years on the circuit.

All told, in the five California tournaments, the pro collected $227,500 — not counting the $50,000 for a hole-in-one scored here by Joe Campbell.

Palmer wrecked par 36-35-71 for the Thunderbird country club course Sunday with a 65 and breezed in to win the tournament by three strokes.

The previous high purse won by the 30-year-old pro from Ligonier, Pa. was the $11,250 he received for his greatest victory — the 1958 Masters.

Palmer's 90-hole total was 338, with rounds of 67-73-67-66-65. Runner-up, and winner of $6,600, was lanky Fred Hawkins of El Paso, Tex., who matched Palmer's 65 Sunday.

Veteran Johnny Palmer of Tulsa, Okla., who led the way into the final round by one stroke over Arnold, took a 70 and tied with Bob Goalby for third place at 342.

Each won $3,350.

Ken Venturi, Jay Hebert, Bill Johnston and Jack Fleck tied at 344, worth $2,387.50 apiece, while at 346 were Gene Littler, Tommy Bolt and Al Besselink.

2/LT. JAMES M. POWELL Expects To Add To His Record

Powell Expecting To Boost Record

An Air Force officer from Webb has been selected to join the all-Air Force track and field team which will begin training at the end of this month for the 1960 World Olympics.

He is 23-year-old 1st Lt. James M. Powell, a graduate of Maryland State College. Webb's assistant statistical services officer, Powell is the current Air Force hop-step-and-jump champion. The Air Force hopeful will be competing at Oxnard, Calif., for about 130 days.

Formerly a track man and broad jumper at Maryland State, Powell decided to try the hop-step-and-jump last summer (for the first time in his life, competitively) at the Air Training Command meet at Denver, Colo. Without any training whatsoever, he taped 43 feet, 7 inches to win the Command title. He then took the AF Worldwide event with a 48 feet 6-inch leap, and went on to finish second in the AAU finals at Boulder, Colo.

For the lieutenant it will mean a lot of hard work, for the U. S. record is over 53 feet, while Russia's Oleg Ryabokovskii jumped 54 feet 5 inches in 1958.

"The Air Force will have top-notch coaches at Oxnard," Powell remarked, "and I know they will be able to do a lot for me."

Powell believes that by helping him to improve his style, they'll add at least four feet to his best performance, which is 48 feet, 6 inches.

So far, half a dozen service and invitational meets have been lined up for the Air Force's "special troops," before they go to the National AAU at Stanford University early in July, and to the Olympic Trials later in that month.

The Rome Olympics will be in August.

Second Lt. John E. Zeitman, a recent West graduate who also was named to the Air Force squad, recently was transferred to Stead AFB, Reno, Nev.

Aggies Face Rugged Task

The Southwest Conference basketball race sails past the halfway point this week with Texas A&M and Southern Methodist tied for the lead and likely to stay that way until they meet each other.

Texas still is a strong threat and some of the second division teams are capable of knocking off the front runners. But if form is followed the title should be between the Aggies and Methodists.

Texas A&M doesn't relish having to host Arkansas on its home court Tuesday night. The fact that Southern Methodist, the team that beat A&M at home, had to go into overtime to whip the Razorbacks 72-70 indicates the task ahead for the Aggies.

Southern Methodist meets the Texas menace Saturday at Dallas. Texas won at Austin early in the campaign — the only conference defeat the Methodists have absorbed.

Texas only one game back of Texas A&M and SMU, will have a lot to gain provided it gets by Texas Tech at Austin Monday night. A defeat by Tech would virtually run Texas' chances at the title.

Tech is a hot-and-cold outfit. The Red Raiders first tumbled well rated Arkansas 82-79 last week but took a terrific 89-59 licking from Texas A&M.

Lakeview High School swept both ends of a basketball doubleheader from Vernon here Saturday and finished second in District 1-A behind Sweetwater.

In the "B" game Lakeview dropped Vernon, 45-37. Lonnie Ransom took top honors for the Rockets with 15 points and teammate Roland Williams pumped in nine. R. E. Miller tallied 17 for the losers.

Lakeview varsity jumped to an early lead and coasted through the second half to down Vernon 56-40. Johnny B. Wright was the big pointgetter for Lakeview with 18 points. Luther Brown was next with 16, and Harvey Foster added 12.

Joe Davis was the big gun for Vernon with 23 points.

Chamberlain Can Eclipse Scoring Record Tuesday

Wilt (The Stilt) Chamberlain, the gangling freshman producing points at a record clip for the Philadelphia Warriors, can eclipse the National Basketball Assn. single-season scoring record Tuesday night.

The fabulous 7-foot-1 Stilt, who graduated to the pro ranks after earning All-America honors at Kansas University and then toured with the Harlem Globetrotters, needs only 13 points—25 under his average—to surpass Bob Pettit's record of 2,105.

Chamberlain has 2,093 points in 55 games going into Tuesday's encounter with the Detroit Pistons.

Pettit, the frontline ace of the Western Division's leading St. Louis Hawks, established the standard last season over the full 72-game schedule while averaging a record 29.2 points a game.

The Stilt, who will finish the season with about 2,700 points if he continues at his record pace, was unable to lead the Warriors to a victory Sunday despite scoring 38 points.

Paced by Pettit, who matched Chamberlain's output, the Hawks scored 21 points in the first 4½ minutes and wound up with a 130-108 thumping of Philadelphia.

In other games, New York upended Eastern Division leader Boston 143-135 behind the sharpshooting of Kenny Sears and Richie Guerin; Syracuse made it 13 losses in succession for Cincinnati by defeating the Royals with 104-97.

Los Angeles, 104-97.

Coming Fast

Rex Appleton (above) has been a pleasant surprise on the Big Spring High School basketball team, which has a chance to clinch second place in 2-AAAA standings in Tuesday's game with Abilene here. Rex is a fine dribbler and a good defensive player.

Sky Is The Limit For Bearcat Star

By JACK CLARY
Associated Press Sports Writer
Just how far can Oscar Robertson go with these scoring feats that are rounding out his brilliant collegiate career? Perhaps 3,000 points? Additional scoring records? Why not?

Actually, the sky is the limit for Robertson now that he has become college basketball's all-time point producer. He begins improving on his present mark of 2,600 tonight when his Cincinnati Bearcats, the nation's No. 1 team in The Associated Press' poll, take on Missouri Valley chum North Texas State.

Robertson has eight regular season games remaining, plus an unknown number of postseason tournament contests. If he keeps his 35.8 per game average, he will hit 2,886 points at the end of the season, and only four postseason games would surpass the 3,000 point mark. A successful NCAA or NIT tourney could do it.

He will have a little more opportunity now to concentrate on scoring since the Bearcats have their top defensive ace, Bob Weisenhan back after a month's absence with an ankle injury. Weisenhan played in last Saturday night's 67-55 victory over Houston.

In the past month, Robbie has been a jack-of-all-trades, taking up the defensive slack, much of the rebounding and general quarterbacking. And all the while, he has been breaking records like he had nothing else to do.

His 2,600 points is also the three-season record. The previous all-time record was set in four seasons by Dick Hemric, who finished with 2,587 points. The three-year mark that Robertson, a senior, broke last week was Frank Selvy's 2,538.

He has a few more in sight too: Career average—32.5 by Selvy; Robby has 35.4 to date.

Most field goals—Elgin Baylor's 866. Oscar has 910.

Most free throws—Hemric's 905. The Big O has 778.

He also can become the first ever to win the major scoring title three years in a row.

But Robertson's scoring feats, which also get a test Friday at St. Louis, are the least of the worries for most of the top teams this week. Bradley, ranked second nationally and tied for Missouri Valley leadership with Cincinnati after beating North Texas 101-61 Saturday, plays Houston tonight and Drake Saturday.

California, which leads the Big Five though it was idle last Saturday, has a tougher Thursday teaching freshman composition at the University of Illinois while studying for his doctor's degree.

Among the other Olympic hopefuls 18-year-old John Thomas of Boston University tied his world indoor high jump mark of 7 feet, 1½ inches and Bob Backus bettered the recognized 35-pound weight record with a toss of 67 feet, 1 inch.

On his third try at 7 feet, 2½ inches, Thomas cleared the bar with his body but the lumber shuddered and fell amid the groans of 13,465 fans.

"I'm disappointed but not discouraged," Thomas said. "I didn't hit the bar with my trailing leg on the last jump or I would have felt it."

Other winners: Bob Brown of Penn State, 50-yard dash (5.3-second meet record); Lee Calhoun of Durham, N.C., 45-yard hurdles (5.8); George Kerr of Illinois, 600 yard (1:11.8); Tom Murphy, New York AC, 1,000 (2:09.8); Lt. Max Truex, U.S. Air Force, 3-mile (13:56); Don Bragg, pole vault (15-1).

Los Angeles, 104-97.

with Southern California which handed the Golden Bears their only loss in 18 games. Third-ranked California must also face tough UCLA on Saturday. Ohio State, (15-2 and No. 4), a 77-58 winner over Northwestern Saturday, leads the Big Ten with a 7-0 mark but has Wisconsin tonight and rugged Iowa Saturday.

Utah State, ninth-ranked and winner of 11 straight after whipping New Mexico 86-59 Saturday, meets Brigham Young this Saturday. Utah, No. 7 and a game back in the Skyline Conference, plays Montana the same night.

Gloria Greenwood Is Named To Team

SPTS 18 GLORIA GREENWOOD Monahans Lobos took both divisions in the Permian Basin Women's Volleyball Tournament in Odessa Saturday.

Monahans dethroned Big Spring who had dominated the tourney for two years straight. The Lobos took the A division title by dropping Andrews in the finals, 15-13, and 11-9.

In the B division, Monahans had to win the last two of the three-game series from Big Spring to take the title. Scores in the final contest were 8-10, 10-4 and 15-9.

Third place in the A division went to Crane and Pecos topped Seminole for the consolation crown.

Kernit took third in the B bracket and Pecos again copped the consolation title.

Gloria Greenwood was the only Big Spring participant to take all-tournament honors. Greenwood was a member of the B team.

Chamberlain Can Eclipse Scoring Record Tuesday

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Wilt (The Stilt) Chamberlain, the gangling freshman producing points at a record clip for the Philadelphia Warriors, can eclipse the National Basketball Assn. single-season scoring record Tuesday night.

The fabulous 7-foot-1 Stilt, who graduated to the pro ranks after earning All-America honors at Kansas University and then toured with the Harlem Globetrotters, needs only 13 points—25 under his average—to surpass Bob Pettit's record of 2,105.

Seven Prisoners Moved To Huntsville To Begin Terms

Seven prisoners in the Howard County jail were removed to the Texas State Penitentiary at Huntsville today.

Five of the seven were defendants who had entered guilty pleas in 118th District Court last week and received sentences.

Two others were prisoners already under sentence from other courts.

One was William Raymond Daugherty, under a pair of 75-year sentences in Haskell for armed robbery and kidnapping.

He has been held in the Howard County jail for sometime while officers investigated his possible connection with a local crime but he was not tried here.

The other prisoner was under a sentence imposed in Midland.

Local defendants taken to the prison are Joe Mendez, William Stewart Moon, James H. Nichols, Marvin C. Jones, Howard Luther Williams and Herbert Lee Nelson.

Tommy Cole, deputy sheriff, was in charge of transporting the men to Huntsville.

Show officials said 300,000 persons attended the show proper with 102,000 attending the rodeo during the 10-day run.

The champions were: Bareback bronc—Walt Mason of Tucson, Ariz., who earned 175 points with a fine re-ride after his mount acted up the first time out of the chute. Mason's final money was $1,031.

Calf roping—H. W. Fowler of Irving, Tex., who put together times of 16.1 and 14.1 to win the two-calf average with 30.2 seconds. He earned a total of $2,175.

Steer wrestling—Bill Fedderson of El Reno, Okla., who scored 141 seconds on two steers to take $1,626 in final money. Fedderson's total earnings were more than $2,550.

Barrel race—Wanda Harper Bush of Mason, Tex., who averaged 18.6 seconds on six trips around the barrels for a total time of 111.7 seconds.

Saddle bronc—Jim Rosser of Rosser, Idaho, who will take home $1,223 in final money.

Colony Death Clues Sought

COLONY, Okla. (AP)—Officers looked today for the first clue in the mystery slaying of pretty Mrs. Patricia Davis.

Washita County Atty. E. N. Sasseen says the killing is characterized by "unusual brutality," and "certainly looks like the work of a mad person."

Sasseen said Sunday night there was still no evidence to connect any person with the death of the young mother.

One was William Raymond Daugherty, under a pair of 75-year sentences in Haskell for armed robbery and kidnapping.

He has been held in the Howard County jail for sometime while officers investigated his possible connection with a local crime but he was not tried here.

The other prisoner was under a sentence imposed in Midland.

Local defendants taken to the prison are Joe Mendez, William Stewart Moon, James H. Nichols, Marvin C. Jones, Howard Luther Williams and Herbert Lee Nelson.

Reds Charge Strip Teases Tempt Guards

VIENNA, Austria (AP) — Strip-tease on the river banks by Western bathing beauties is plaguing susceptible border guards of Communist-ruled Czechoslovakia.

The Slovak Communist newspaper Smena charges West Germany is doing this unfair thing—releasing the news in midwinter, apparently after stewing over it since the last bathing season. Reported Smena:

"The Bavarian brook is a rendezvous of girls. They remove their clothing, piece by piece, and uncover their bodies until they are only in their swim suits. But they do not go into the water of the stream, as one might expect. Oh, no. They walk toward the barbed wire where our uniformed guards are at their posts. The girls move so as to show off their half-naked breasts. They know only a few words of our language, but the rest they say with their bodies..."

The Communist paper claims the river sirens are "paid for this body talk." It implied they were dispatched to lure susceptible Communist guards into deserting to the West.

Hits Are A Habit

NEW YORK (AP)—Two of the most successful producers on Broadway are Robert E. Griffith and Harold S. Prince, who have five musical hits in a row.

They learned the hard way—as stage managers before they became impresarios to present such theatrical gold mines as "Fiorello," "The Pajama Game," "Damn Yankees," "New Girl in Town," and "West Side Story."

Prince was born within a few blocks of Broadway, but became interested in the theater as a student at the University of Pennsylvania. Griffith was born in Methuen, Mass.

'Rawhide' Actor Lost 2 Bets, But Won Anyway

By BOB THOMAS
AP Staff - TV Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Quick to take chances, Eric Fleming made two important bets in his life. He lost both, and yet he appears to have won.

The first came in wartime, when he was serving with the Seabees at Seattle. A buddy was trying to lift a 200-pound steel counterweight into the structure of a refrigerating system.

"I'll bet you 10 bucks I can put it up there," said Fleming. A well-built 6 feet 3½, he struggled mightily and almost had the steel block in place. But a protruding nail stopped it. The weight slipped and fell toward him.

"It was amazing how long it seemed to take to fall," Fleming remembers. "I could see that it was coming right at my face."

The other Seabees looked at Fleming's smashed face and figured he was dead. He knew he wasn't, but when he realized the condition of his face, he wished his buddies had been right.

He was fortunate that a plastic surgeon was visiting the base. The doctor offered to try some new techniques in putting the young sailor's face back together.

After four operations and 31 stitches, Fleming ended up with the face that TV fans see on the "Rawhide" series, in which he plays trail boss Gil Favor. It is ruggedly handsome, and Fleming says it is entirely different from the face he had before.

The other bet? That came when he was picking up a date at a drama class. She was doing a scene with an actor who failed to impress Fleming.

"I'll bet $100 I could do a better job than that," he bragged. The actress called his bluff.

"I lost the $100," he admitted, "but it was the best thing that happened to me. I got hooked on the acting business. It's been mighty good to me since."

Niki, Gronchi Run Into Lodge

MOSCOW (AP) — Nikita Khrushchev took President Giovanni Gronchi of Italy to the Bolshoi Ballet Sunday night and ran into another distinguished visitor to the Soviet Union, Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge.

The chief American delegate to the United Nations talked briefly with the Soviet Premier, who was entertaining Gronchi on a state visit. Lodge is on a private tour.

Bendix Has Spurs But He's Still Riley

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — William Bendix is dressed up in a dirty ten-gallon hat and shooting pistols at the Indians these days. But don't let it fool you: It's still old Riley underneath cow country getup.

NBC's new entry in its 7 p.m. Sunday spot made its bow Sunday, and, in spite of Bendix, promises to be just another horse opera.

The first episode certainly dropped some fancy Wild West names: Cole Younger was the villain; Belle Starr was his companion in crime. Next week, Bill will vanquish the James boys.

"Overland Trail," apparently, will be a two-man operation—Bendix, the superintendent of a stage line, and Douglas McClure as the young handsome stage driver.

It probably will be a successful series — it's got everything the other successful Westerns have, plus Bendix.

Tony Webster had something to say about loneliness and alcohol in "Call Me Back," which Art Carney did a few weeks ago. He was the author of a comedy, "After Hours," Sunday night, and apparently was just off on a writer's frolic.

The NBC Sunday Showcase offering was heralded as a spoof on psychiatry. It wasn't particularly witty or even very funny play.

The plot is one of those mistaken identity things. It starts with a bright young man sent by his company to a psychiatrist. It seems that he wants to quit his job after 12 years so he won't have to go to the office Christmas party.

The bright young man was played by Christopher Plummer in a voice that sounded exactly like Edward Everett Horton's. He's all right, but the psychiatrist is mixed up.

First thing you know there's a pretty girl (Sally Ann Howes) who thinks Plummer is the psychiatrist. He lets her think so and pretty soon of course she's in love with Plummer, and not in love with her fiancé.

It all ends well and psychiatry will probably survive, too. TV now could do with a play about a psychiatrist who is not all mixed up. It could be a riot, or anyway, a switch.

Leonard Bernstein and the New York Philharmonic opened their CBS series of young people's concerts Sunday. It was a pleasant and interesting program even for us older people.

Bernstein has an unpretentious way with words and a light touch. "I think Gustav Mahler's music is terrific," he remarked, and went ahead making it sound delightful.

Catholics Study Marital Problem

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP) — The American Guild of Catholic Psychiatrists, at a meeting starting today, will consider whether psychological factors should be recognized by the Roman Catholic Church as grounds for marriage annulment.

Dr. John R. Cavanagh of Washington, D.C., said the church now places much emphasis on the physical aspects of the inability to consummate a marriage.

Local Dealer Gets Award For Driver Training

McEwen Motor Company, local authorized Buick dealership in Big Spring has been awarded a certificate of merit for lending an automobile in the junior high school driver education training program.

The Texas Automotive Dealers Association, statewide association of factory-authorized new car dealers whose members have for the past 11 years loaned cars to high schools for "behind the wheel" driver education, made the award. Dealers loan cars without charge as a public service.

The local company loaned an automobile to the Big Spring Independent School District for use in current program at both junior high schools. Both schools have instructors qualified to teach both classroom theory and actual in-car fundamentals of driving.

C. B. Smith, Austin, president of the association, pointed out that safety authorities forecast 6 million drivers on Texas roads by 1970. He emphasized the need for ever increased efforts by all citizens toward the goal of highway safety. He commended dealer members for their outstanding contribution and said, "the new car dealers of Texas realize the need to participate in worth while community endeavors and are more than willing to do everything within their power to help train our youth to be safe, careful drivers."

Diets Wisely

Margo Moore, one of the new beauties added to the contract list at 20th Century-Fox, tells of her experiences with a starvation diet. She is soon to be seen in "Wake Me When It's Over."

HOLLYWOOD BEAUTY

She Is Opposed To Strenuous Dieting

By LYDIA LANE HOLLYWOOD — Margo Moore with a contract with 20th Century-Fox because her photographs attracted the attention of a talent scout. "The reason I was a successful model in New York was because I was able to make myself look different," she said. "So much can be done with hair, make-up and an attitude. In one month, five magazines received letters from Hollywood wanting to know who I was. All the letters were from 20's; they hadn't realized that I was the same girl. "High fashion is the goal of every model in New York," Margo continued. "But it is too hard on one's health to stay as thin as desired. I'm five - seven and weighed 120 when I went to New York, and the first thing I was told was to lose 10 pounds. I put myself on a very strenuous diet with no salt and no liquids and I lost two pounds a day. "In the morning I had a cup of black coffee and half a grapefruit. For lunch, half a pound of steak or lean ground meat and sliced tomatoes. For dinner the same as lunch. "In one week I was down to 110 but I didn't feel well and I was irritable and tired all the time. I felt I would ruin my health if I had to stay this thin so I soon changed my career. I entered the television medium doing commercials, which pay very well and don't demand I stay on starvation diets. "Now I have no trouble keeping my weight at 118 because I've gone on a health kick. My experience in New York made me realize what I eat and the way I look and feel are closely related. One of the easiest ways to keep my weight stable is to have breakfast, but one is only 90 calories. To do this, every morning I have a big vitamin-shake of protein powder made from milk. In this I put a raw egg, banana and honey. I'm never hungry until lunch. "My doctor told me that a ripe banana is as almost perfect food. I try to have one every day. I used to think they were fattening, but one is only 90 calories. They give your body the kind of starch that it needs for a balanced diet. Baked potatoes are a valuable part of a diet, too, and you can moisten them with the juice from a roast or use yogurt and chives instead of sour cream," she concluded.

Gray Hair Can Be Striking

By VIVIAN BROWN AP Newsfeatures Writer Gray hair is taking on an air of distinction. So many women have dyed their hair in the new colors of the season that the loveliness of gray hair is chic and fashionable. Along with it, the gray-haired woman who wants to achieve an air of sophistication will play up her mature beauty. Charm and dignity are what she likes to achieve, if she wants to leave an impression. She does it with the correct jewelry — a string of pearls, small gold chain, a good pin or clip, a trim watch, avoiding the garish and flamboyant if she is not the type. Most older women are not. She wears her clothes with dignity. Her skirt length is ideal for her age. Her shoes are neat and conservative but not without accents of color that lift her morale and liven up her costume. She must be impeccable. People expected it of her. She can't tolerate runs in her stockings as teen-agers might, and her shoes should be shined. Her hair shouldn't have those tell-tale marks of age — dryness and drabness, whether gray or not. It should be soft, silky to the touch and bright. Older women need just the little curl that they can get, perhaps, with the home permanent wave. It is easy to do and special ones are available for those all-over curls. These home permanents are so simplified that one may be given whenever it is necessary, without too much trouble. Just apply waving lotion to clean, damp hair and wind on the curlers. Saturate again with the lotion that remains. Wait 15 minutes and spray rinse with hot water. Tie a bath towel over your curls, turban style, and wear it for half hour. The hair can then be neutralized to lock in the curls. It's a good idea to use rinses if white hair shows signs of yellow streaks. Gray hair should not be worn long or in the fashion of younger girls — the wild hairdos that are basically straight. A gray haired woman however should avoid frizziness, cork screw curls and that "set" look that puts the aged stamp on a head of hair. Matron of honor was the bridegroom's sister, Mrs. Jackie Pachall. Designers Give Up On Sack Fashions, -All But One

By NADEANE WALKER PARIS (AP) — Fashion designer Pierre Balmain today showed a "Greek column" line, slim and semi-slack at the waist in his presentation of what women will wear for the spring. Balmain's styles were a far cry from the sack. When belts were used they hugged the top of the hips, thus lowering the waistline. Hemlines just covered the knees and tube coats were tunic-length with split backs. Daytime necklines were modest curves or straight across. Materials were light and drapery, in soft tones of pink and blue, beige and grey. Sleeves were three-quarter tubes. There were skirts in small knife-pleats, and flounces of pleats appeared on sheath skirts. True suits had short, slack blouses in silk slanting. While Balmain's dresses were not in full, sexy style, they were a great distance from the sack that hid feminine charm. Battle lines between sex and sack were drawn at openings Monday. Fatou was the proponent of slinky sex. Pierre Cardin sneaked back with the sack. A few of his creations were fitted at the hip, and some fitted at the knee. But the rest were in the bag.

Workers Await Free Food

Three lines of migrant farm workers point to a single entrance in the National Guard Armory at Homestead, Fla., as they wait for food to be passed out by county and church relief organizations. Thousands of the workers were stranded without work and means to make a living when tender crops were killed by frost and near-freezing weather.

Texans Set To Give Testimony On Dam

WASHINGTON (AP) — More than 40 Texans from up and down the Rio Grande were ready today to give their views on the proposed $60-million-dollar Amistad (Diablo) Dam, between Texas and Mexico.

So large was the group that the House Foreign Affairs Subcommittee on Inter-American Affairs moved temporarily into the more spacious House Agriculture Committee room to get more space for witnesses and spectators.

President Dwight D. Eisenhower and Mexican President Adolfo Lopez Mateos jointly have endorsed the proposed dam. One hitch is the concern of Texans along the Lower Rio Grande Valley for their water rights. "They're not against construction of the dam," said Rep. Joe Kilgore (D-Tex.). "They simply want to make sure that water to which they are entitled is not taken away from them when new lands are put under irrigation farther upstream after the dam is completed." Kilgore said he personally is in favor of the dam.

India Plans Rival To Kruger Park

BOMBAY, India (AP) — India soon will have a rival for South Africa's Kruger National Park where tourists armed only with cameras may mingle with lions and other fauna, large and small. It is a 500-square-mile jungle preserve at Gir, on the Kathiawar Peninsula 300 air miles from Bombay, habitat of the last of Asia's lions.

Maugham Laments Era Of Rickshaw

SINGAPORE (AP) — Somerset Maugham, back here after a quarter of a century absence, laments the passing of the rickshaw. "The rickshaw puller," says the 86-year-old author, "had a charm of his own." The picturesque two-wheel carts disappeared under criticism from both Communists and anti-Communists holding that man is degraded when serving as a beast of burden in the shafts.

Really Continental

NEW YORK (AP)—Ed Kenney, young leading man of the Rodgers and Hammerstein musical, "Flower Drum Song," is a versatile talent for this lyrical picture of San Francisco's Oriental neighborhoods. With an Irish name, he is really part Chinese, part Hawaiian and was born in Honolulu. He studied first at the University of Oregon, then at the American Theater Wing Professional Training Center on Broadway.

Sarah Churchill Takes Up Painting

LONDON (AP) — Sir Winston Churchill's oft-troubled actress daughter Sarah has taken up her painting hobby at his suggestion—for relaxation—and says she loves it. "My paintings," says the 45-year-old redhead, "are all rather tiny and the people in them look a little wonky. Daddy calls them postage stamps — says I'm too timid. But we are very cordial about each others' work."

Standing Room

NEW YORK (AP)—"The Sound of Music" is playing to $75,000 a week capacity at Broadway's Lunt-Fontanne Theater. It is also doing $619 a week standing room, all that fire department regulations will allow. In addition to playing, singing and dancing the starring role, Mary Martin is benefiting from the box office. She is part owner of the production.

Final Link

PANAMA (AP) — Panama and Colombia have agreed on the official route through their jungles for the final 465-mile link in the 18,000-mile Pan-American highway. Panama will meet the Colombian highway network at a border point known as Palo Delas Eltras under an agreement worked out during a recent visit here of Colombia's public works minister, Virgilio Barco Vargas.

A Devotional For Today

Whoever shall do the will of my Father which is in heaven, the same is my brother, and sister, and mother. (Matthew 12:50.)
PRAYER: Our Father, give us the wisdom to desire for others that which we desire for ourselves. Help us all to make the Golden Rule the governing rule of our lives. In Jesus' name we pray. Amen.
(From The 'Upper Room')

We Don't Seem To Be In A Hurry

You read of what this or that military figure tells Congress about our military potential. The testimony is confusing, for one man—military or civil—may throw out an estimate on this or that as to time, quantity and quality, and ten minutes later another man equally well qualified gives a differing set of figures.
Opinion gets confused with facts, with cold figures, with estimates. Even though he is testifying under oath and conscientiously, one man can look at a set of facts and reach a conclusion that differs from another man's conclusion regarding the same facts. In short, opinions differ.
We could be spared all this pull and haul about the state of our national military capability were we a dictatorship, in which one man, or at most two or three, decided everything—and that was that.
But we are not a dictatorship, and one of the reasons we are spending billions of dollars to make ourselves militarily potent is to avoid becoming a totalitarian dictatorship.
So Congress holds hearings, and gets conflicting testimony from men who should know what they are talking about. There are so many angles involved, so many factors, so many ways of looking at the same thing, that it is small wonder even able men are confused at times.

One man will say our deterrent power isn't great enough to scare Russia off from a sneak attack. We need more of everything as fast as we can get it. Take ICBMs. We have now fired 17 Atlases in succession without a failure. How many Atlases do we have? Well, enough to test-fire one of them every week or so. What is our output? Seven a month, according to one press report, but that could be increased to 15 a month if we'd start working on them in three shifts. Why aren't we working on them in three shifts now? Well, where would we put them? We are just now getting around to building firing emplacements for them, and that'll take a year from the ground-breaking.
Are we working as hard as we should on the over-all job or holding off the Russians? We are not. Instead of doubling and redoubling our efforts we seem to be easing up, putting off, cutting back, reducing rather than expanding. Why?

The Great Danger

Traditionally and logically, those in journalism have been leaders in the fight for freedom of the press. They have taken up the editorial cudgel to oppose secrecy in government and to combat the tendency of officials and those in bureaucracy to cover up or withhold news. They have cast a jaundiced eye on the great justifier of secrecy—security.
Sometimes it looks like a losing battle, but knowing the penalty of failure, the press fights on with a sense of mission. Blows from the opposing forces are to be expected, but when writers who are supposed to be among the most erudite minds in the business wistfully pine for a little secrecy of convenience, it makes you wonder.
For instance, David Lawrence in today's

David Lawrence Is There A Way To Disagree In Private?

WASHINGTON—Another general speaks up in dissent. He is a former member of the Joint Chiefs of Staff. Since he now is retired, he can talk freely. He has long held the view that there is a nuclear stalemate in the world and that the next war will be fought on the ground. So he wants to see more money spent for mobile ground forces.
These views, expressed by General Maxwell D. Taylor, until recently head of the U. S. Army, serve to emphasize the kind of problem that nowadays faces the President of the United States as the commander-in-chief of our armed forces.

General Taylor, like Gen. Power of the Strategic Air Command of the U. S. Air Force, is sincerely dedicated to the defense of the United States. The ideas and advice of both generals have previously been laid before the Joint Chiefs of Staff, the Secretary of Defense and the President. So they are not new. But what is new is the prodding of such generals by Democratic leaders in Congress who seek to publicize an impression that the defense of the United States is imperiled, even if it means telling the enemy more details of our defense preparations.

ONE WOULD THINK THAT in a matter of such vital concern to the nation the orderly way would be for the committees to receive testimony in private, and for the committee chairmen thereafter to express themselves to the secretary of defense or to lay their view in confidence before the President. But the trouble with that procedure is that it would not get the headlines so necessary to assist Democrats in their efforts to discredit the administration.

What Gen. Taylor says about the need for ground forces, on the theory that nuclear war will never be fought, is of course, realistic. It is something the highest military advisers of the President took into account a few years ago when they favored the "new look." A decision had to be made as to how the available funds would be spent. The policy finally laid down by the President called for a massive retaliatory power, with manned bombers, missiles and nuclear weapons of all kinds, to deter any aggression by a potential enemy.

GEN. TAYLOR, HOWEVER, feels that the real danger lies in a possible encroachment by the enemy on our allies by land operations. This is what is called "limited war." It can be readily conceded that such a contingency might arise. The nat-column suggests that there ought to be some way to sweep the testimony of certain generals under the rug when it doesn't agree with the announced position of the administration. It might give the Russians some false notions, he blandly says, and anyway the recalcitrant generals are only generating fodder for the Democratic political mill.

There's either a short-circuit in Mr. Lawrence's thinking or a short-sightedness in his vision. The right to speak out and the right of the people to know are one of the wonderful perils of a democracy. The danger of creeping secrecy is as great or greater than the possibility of Russian miscalculation. It is just barely possible that Russia's intelligence system is a little broader than press reports.

IF HE FEELS THAT tensions have been relaxed for a while and that an airborne alert, for instance, isn't needed 24 hours a day every day in the week, he may be taking what is called a "calculated risk." But that's his responsibility. The generals, on the other hand, have no diplomatic duties or over-all responsibility for the economic welfare of the nation. They are concerned only with the tools they think they need to carry out every possible task in war.
So the debate continues about alleged weaknesses and inadequacies, and the importance of each category of weapons in every kind of military strategy. The President of the United States gives reassuring statements constantly that, in the judgment of the highest military officers on the Joint Chiefs of Staff, America is safe and has sufficient deterrent power to prevent an enemy from attacking us. But all this is brushed aside while the criticism is aired.

MAYBE DEMOCRACY WILL someday learn how to function without allowing controversial questions of defense policy to be dragged into politics. Maybe Congress will someday take testimony in private and then consult with the officials of the executive branch. Maybe the chief executive, who gets intelligence reports about what the enemy is planning and doing, will be able to share them with the leaders in Congress. For in time of national emergency, like that involved in a cold war, such delicate questions can be handled effectively in the public interest only in the privacy of government councils, as is customary in wartime, but an orderly procedure of this kind in peacetime apparently can come only when selfish ambition no longer rules the day.

Has Higher Goals
CLOSTER, N. J. — Peter Palmer, the husky star of both the stage and screen versions of "Li'l Abner," has loftier ambitions than playing a Dogahtch hill-billy.
He is a tenor and is studying opera, with a goal of singing at the Metropolitan Opera within three years. He feels he has one distinct advantage: most tenors are short but Palmer is 6 feet 4, good for heroic opera roles.
Palmer lives here with his wife and four children.

Old Friends Reunited
ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. — Anthony R. Mazullo was looking through the Atlantic City Press when he saw a photo of a man and his wife celebrating their 50th wedding anniversary. The man looked vaguely familiar.
A phone call confirmed Mazullo's suspicions. He and the man in the photo, Michael Aluse, had been childhood friends in Philadelphia but had not seen or talked to each other in 60 years.

HOW CAN A GUY CONCENTRATE

James Marlow Keep Both Eyes On Lyndon

WASHINGTON (AP) — Keep your eye—both eyes, in fact—on Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson all the way up to next summer when the Democratic convention picks its presidential candidate.
He wants the nomination all right but until this past weekend he's been as coy as Alice-blue-gown.
Sens. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts and Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota, both out-and-out candidates, can't but heads in state primaries and caucus states the country, looking for support, until their tongues hang out.
That's not Johnson's way.

THIS TALL TEXAN is a real, behind-the-scenes operator. He is one of the best maneuverers and compromisers who ever served as leader of the Senate Democrats.
The reason he can get so much legislation through the Senate with a minimum of brawls and nosebleeds is that he is a master of detail who knows exactly how many votes he can count on before he moves.
There is one other factor in his smooth operation there. Like President Eisenhower, he seems committed to the belief that name-calling is a hindrance in getting what he wants. It just creates enemies and opposition.

But until this weekend Johnson was like a man working out quietly in a political gymnasium to build up his muscles. While he denied he was a candidate, his supporters were busy bees, trying to line up support.
THEN SUDDENLY, Johnson apparently thought his muscles were strong. He stopped being completely coy about his candidacy.
Last Friday in New Mexico he was still being quoted as saying he would not seek the nomination.
Then on Saturday night in Indianapolis he told reporters he expected to be chairman of the Texas delegation to the Democratic convention "and I hope it will be committed to the support of my candidacy."

So he finally came out with it, to the surprise of nobody. The only question about this was when he'd admit it.
There's good reason to believe that Johnson will try to build up in this session of Congress a record of legislation that will offset some of the Northern liberals' opposition to him as a conservative and Southerner.
The evidence is in the almost astonishing performance of the Senate in the past week.
Within a couple of days the Senate approved two highly controversial issues—a federal aid to education bill and an anti-poll tax amendment to the Constitution—with hardly a murmur.
In times past either one of those issues would have produced weeks of debate and, in the case of the anti-poll tax amendment, probably a Southern filibuster. This year a Southerner introduced the amendment.

Johnson, however, is faced with an almost magical tightrope act: how can he get through legislation that won't turn the Southerners against him and still please the Northern liberals?
More Tree Farms
WASHINGTON — The idea of growing trees as a farm crop spread during 1959.
Some 2,814 new tree farms were added to the American Tree Farm System, according to American Forest Products Industries, Inc., sponsor of the conservation program. The number of tree farms in the United States now stands at 16,749.
Tree farm acreage was increased 2,905,686, bringing the total to 51,335,137.

Army To Rescue
DULUTH, Minn. — The Air Force called on the Army to help get it off the ground at nearby Alden Lake.
A large Army helicopter was summoned to airlift an Air Force helicopter to its Duluth base after the smaller Air Force craft damaged a rotor blade and partially broke through the ice in a landing.

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M. D.
Ever since I wrote the column about nursing babies, I've been bombarded with letters, pro and con. Mostly the letters have agreed with me that Nature knew what she was doing when she equipped mothers with what it takes to nurse their babies.
Some letters have argued the contrary. While I haven't kept score, the "for" have outnumbered the "against" letters by a strong margin.
An outstanding "for" letter follows. As you can see, the writer of it has the gift of expressing herself well.
"Dear Dr. Molner: I agree wholeheartedly about nursing babies. I'm 30 years old and have five children. The youngest was five weeks old last Monday, and I have nursed all five of them.
"You mentioned mental health—not only for the child but the mother, too. I get great satisfaction out of nursing my babies, aside from this being about the only time I can sit for very long at a time!
"And if any of the women I know worry about the harm (that) to the shape of their breasts, it has improved mine. When I was married seven years ago I wore a size 32-A brassiere, and now wear size 36-B. So???"
"The last time I was in the hospital I was in a five-bed ward. There was a turn-over of three patients, so I had seven different roommates. I was the only one out of seven who was breast-feeding a baby. There were 16 beds at the end of our hall, and there were only two women, besides myself, who were breast-feeding the baby.

"I believe it's more economical, too—and just think, no bottles to warm up or formula to make on a cold winter night! Thanks for giving me some of your time.—Mrs. R. C."

"P. S.—I try to convince all the women I know to try breast-feeding instead of bottles. I especially stress the satisfaction you get from it, for trying, even if it doesn't work out.
"Most of the women in our neighborhood comment on how healthy our four oldest look, and I believe it's partly because they got mother's milk instead of a formula.
"As a mere man, I can't say anything about the satisfaction. As a doctor, I can say that the percentages most positively favor the breast-fed baby.
"As to the cost, or the trouble of making formula on a cold winter night, I don't think that really matters much one way or the other.
"Frankly, I don't really expect to win any argument over to your good health

Most Women Prefer To Breast-Feed Babies

is. If a mother won't, she won't, and I don't suppose anything I say will change her mind.
But I will say this: The letters favoring breast-feeding have come almost universal from women who have done it. The letters in opposition have come largely (although not entirely) from those who haven't.
"Dear Dr. Molner: My brother, who is past 70, has what he calls a fistula on his hip, and it is draining matter. He refuses to see a doctor. Can you tell me if this sore will heal of its own accord?—Mrs. A. J."

A fistula that is infected or is draining an infected area will NOT heal by itself. It can't! If only your brother will see his doctor, I'm willing to stick my neck out and predict that he will find the treatment to be far easier on him than contending with that constant drainage. And his health cannot help but be improved.
"Afflicted with arthritis? You may find relief if you follow the advice given in my pamphlet, "Don't Quit Because of Arthritis." Around The Rim Raising Kids, Traffic Lights, Etc., Etc.

ONE THING AND ANOTHER:
The Houston Police Department has placed into circulation a leaflet it calls "Twelve Rules For Raising Delinquent Children."
Consider them:
1. Begin with infancy to give the child everything he wants. In this way, he will grow up to believe the world owes him a living.
2. When he picks up bad words, laugh at him. This will make him think he's cute. It will also encourage him to pick up "cuter" phrases that will blow the top of your head off later.
3. Never give him any spiritual training. Wait until he is 21 and then let him "decide for himself."
4. Avoid use of the word "wrong." It may develop a guilt complex. This will condition him to believe later, when he is arrested for stealing, that society is against him and he is being persecuted.
5. Pick up everything he leaves lying around—books, shoes and clothes. Do everything for him so that he will be experienced in throwing all responsibility on others.
6. Let him read any printed matter he can get his hands on. Be careful that the silverware and drinking glasses are sterilized, but let his mind feed on garbage.
7. QUARREL FREQUENTLY in the presence of your children. In this way, they will not be too shocked when the home is broken up later.
8. Give a child all the spending money he wants. Why should he have things as tough as you had them?
9. Satisfy his every craving for food, drink and comfort. See that every sensual desire is gratified. Denial may lead to harmful frustration.
10. Take his part against neighbors, teachers and policemen. They are all prejudiced against your son.
11. When he gets into real trouble, apologize for yourself by saying, "I never could do anything with him."
12. Prepare for a life of grief. You will be likely to have it.
FAR BE IT FROM ME TO try and rock the boat, but I think the traffic lights down town conspire to work against the people who live here.
Most of the businesses are located on arteries that run north and south. For that reason, the traffic runs that way. The traffic signals, however, are designed to get transient traffic through the city.
Why not pay more attention to the people who pay the freight?

Inez Robb Enough To Make You Want To Hang Yourself

Honestly, for years I've thought the kind of unfortunate who persists in telling the story of a movie—any movie—ought to be quietly and kindly, but firmly, put out of everybody's misery.
But stand back, please, while I tell you the partial plot of a teevee show I saw the other evening that set a responsive chord twanging in my bosom. ~~That was~~ this central character, see (have patience, friends), played by Ed Wynn. Now for the past six years this old gaffer—he was 72—has had to earn his crusts and coffee as a messenger boy.
Only the day before, Ed had opened one of the messages he was delivering. And that, for Ed, was the living end. He discovered he was wearing himself to a nubbin running around with invitations to a cocktail party in honor of a brassiere! Not even a person. Just a brassiere.
THAT HIS SUNSET YEARS should be in such ignominy was too much for Ed. As the play opened, Ed in a derby hat was preparing to hang himself. He felt the derby gave the proceedings a classy air of distinction. Me, too.
It was right then and there that I became one with Ed. For six years, unbeknownst to him, he had been delivering that tripe. And suicide seemed better.
But what of me, who has for countless years been on the receiving end of such asinine trivia?

I can tell Ed right now that an invitation to a cocktail party for a brassiere is upper-echelon stuff. If Ed had been reading the messages in the six-year interim, he'd have donned his derby much sooner! Undoubtedly in his day, he had carried invitations to breakfast, luncheon, cocktails, dinners and suppers for everything from Lovable Dog Food to filter-feed-back plumbing fixtures.
THE EDS OF THE WORLD deliver to my door from one to four invitations daily to wine and dine with everything from Ike-Like Golf Clubs to The Home Beauty Permanent for Shoes in Six Popular Shades. Such soires are an aged but beloved gimmick of press agents. I often wonder who goes to them. I own an antique waste basket.
But at least Ed was spared one humiliation. He never, as far as I could learn, had to carry an invitation for a luncheon in honor of a ground hog. Such an invite, opening dizzy new windows on a rich social life, came my way 10 days ago.
There is a small town in Pennsylvania whose fame rests, apparently, on a local family of distinguished ground hogs whose weather predictions have been tops with other ground hogs for generations. It was decided that the current prophet is ready for bigger things.
ANYWAY, THE GROUND HOG was brought—first class—to New York to perform on Feb. 2. A breathless press agent informed me of the event and followed it with a message inviting me to lunch with the ground hog, at one of New York's most fashionable restaurants.
Also, the journey to New York had something to do with the fact that recently a group of the town's gentlemens has written either "A Cook Book for Ground Hogs" or "A Ground Hog's Cook Book." I can't remember. It is possible that in some sections of Pennsylvania ground hogs do cook and there is a sale among them for a tasty gourmet guide. That seems a more logical explanation than that there are sufficient ways to cook a ground hog to justify a book on the subject.
However, the point is that both the p.a. and the noted ground-hog prophet are furious with me, stamping all six feet, because I positively refused to get mixed up in such a fashionable melange. In an election year, I got enough troubles just eating with presidential candidates.
So while I sympathize with Ed, I hope he will understand when the day comes that I ask him for the use of his rope and derby.

Soviets Can't Afford To Dump Gold

The unknown terror is the worst of tyrannies. It lights foreboding in men's minds. Often I hear: "Wouldn't it be disastrous if the rulers of the Kremlin suddenly dumped their huge supply of gold on the world market? It would create chaos in America. It would break Fort Knox. The $19,500,000,000 of gold we have cached would be worthless."
The conjecture is illogical. If the Soviet Union had a large stock of gold, it could not afford to bust the price. On the contrary, it would be prompted to get the price boosted, say, to $40 an ounce.
In 1958, Deputy Premier Mikoyan aligned himself with the Union of South Africa, acknowledged to be the world's largest gold-producing country. He said $35 an ounce was "artificially established" and a form of "tribute" to the U. S.
AND, OF COURSE, IF THE Soviet Union has not stored up a large hoard of gold, dumping would be futile—if the purpose were to demoralize international monetary exchanges. The gold would be snapped up readily at $35 an ounce.
John Scott, a contributing editor of Time magazine, deflates estimates of Soviet gold in his just-published book, "Democracy Is Not Enough." He writes:
"For several years some bankers in the West have been apprehensive about Moscow's intention to use its allegedly huge gold reserves to upset Western currencies. After comparing notes with other students, I concluded to my own satisfaction that estimates of Soviet production and reserves of gold have been exaggerated. I put the former figure at about 280 million dollars a year, the latter at not more than three billion dollars."
SCOTT BASES HIS estimates on conversations he had with several Soviet officials and economists. As a journalist, he made deductions from what they said, how they said it, and what they didn't say. He acknowledges that "other students of Soviet economics have opinions quite different from mine."
Oscar Altman, an adviser in the research department of the International Monetary Fund, comes up with a higher estimate—$4,000,000,000 to $6,500,000,000.
Statisticians who do detective work on U. S. S. R. gold start with September, 1935, the date of the last official figure—$839,300,000. On top of that, the detective-statisticians make stabs at current production of Soviet gold.

THEY HAVE A SOUND basis for estimating that $270,000,000 was mined in 1936 and $220,000,000 in 1937. They deduce that production fell sharply during the war. However, they know that the gold reserves in the ground are substantial and that the mining potential has been estimated at $400,000,000 per year.
Moreover, tabs have been kept on Soviet sales of gold in London, Switzerland, and elsewhere by the London bullion house of Samuel Montagu & Co., as follows: $70 million in 1935; $150 million in 1936; $262 million in 1937; $210 million in 1938. The 1939 estimate is about $270 million. By subtracting annual sales from estimated annual production, the gold detective can guess at the annual accumulation.
However, estimates of annual gold production vary by as much as $100,000,000 to $150,000,000 a year. That's why most statisticians, such as Altman, use a range in estimating the U. S. S. R. gold stock.

Since the Soviet State Bank is not part of the international banking community, it does not use its gold to keep the ruble convertible into dollars, francs, marks or pounds.
This is clear. The Soviet gold stock, large or small, does not threaten Fort Knox. Soviet leaders may be inexplicable, stubborn and ruthless, but they're not fools. They don't destroy their own assets. They won't dump gold when they can use it to buy products needed to meet Khrushchev's economic goals.
Meanwhile, the mystery of Soviet gold keeps capitalist economists and statisticians occupied in guesstimating.
What's In A Name?

MADISON, Wis. — C. W. Threinen and his Wisconsin Conservation Department crew have little sympathy with folks who have trouble thinking of names for their offspring.
Threinen has been given the job of naming all of Wisconsin's unnamed lakes. The latest check shows there are 4,770 such lakes.

Stamps In The News

By SYD KRONISH
AP Newswriter

The seventh in the U. S. Conservation series of stamps, stressing the importance of water conservation, will be issued April 18 at Washington, D. C. The three-color design is the work of Elmo White of the Department of Agriculture.

There is no conservation of subject material on the stamp. The Left portion features a close-up view of a drop of water falling from a leaf symbolizing watershed influence upon water supply. To the right is an actual watershed panorama, with a town and farm in the foreground depending upon the water above with its well-managed farm and forest lands and small dams for flood prevention and water storage.

Quite an amount of material for one small stamp. Collectors desiring first day cancellations of the 4-cent Water Conservation stamp may send addressed envelopes, together with remittance to cover the cost of the stamps to be affixed, to the Postmaster, Washington 13, D. C., prior to April 18. The outside envelope should be endorsed "First Day Covers 4 cent Water Conservation Stamp."

The Canal Zone commemorates the 50th anniversary of the Boy Scouts of America by issuing a 4-cent stamp. The stamp is the first multi-colored stamp ever issued by the Canal Zone. The central design is the "First Class Badge" of the Scouts. The colors are red, white and blue.

Israel will issue three new air-mail stamps, reports the Israel Philatelic Agency in America. They will be in the new agrot currency and will be dedicated to three ancient towns of Israel. The 15-agrot in mauve and black is dedicated to Zeta (Safed), 20-agrot bright green and black for Asqelon and the 65-agrot in blue and black is for Tiberias.

A special 10-cent stamp to commemorate the coronation of the Sultan of Johore has been issued by the Federation of Malaya. The multi-colored stamp features a portrait of the Sultan in full dress military uniform together with the Johore State Crest.

Pakistan has issued a set of commemorative stamps of 2-annas honor the "Centenary of the Birth of the Red Cross." Featured on the adhesives is the Red Cross symbol, the Pakistan Red Crescent, the dates 1859-1959 and the word "Pakistan" in English, Bengali and Urdu at the top.

New Member In Crosby Clan

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Most of the Crosby clan turned out to watch young Lindsay marry Las Vegas showgirl Barbara Frederickson.

Attending the Catholic Church ceremony Saturday in Westwood were father Bing, his wife, actress Kathryn Grant; his mother, and Lindsay's three older brothers. Brother Philip was best man. The other two brothers, Dennis and Gary, were ushers. Television actress Mina Vaughan was maid of honor.

Lindsay was the third of Bing's four grown sons to take a bride. Only the eldest, Gary, remains single. The newlyweds, both 22, were to honeymoon briefly in Palm Desert, Calif.

Texas Ex-Con Grabbed Before He Can Use Gun 'Or I Would Have Used It'

CINCINNATI (AP) — Police grabbed him before he could reach his loaded revolver, but Walter E. Jones, 22, a former convict from Texas, said:

"If I had the chance I would have used it."

After his arrest Sunday night in a downtown movie theater, Jones admitted a string of robberies and burglaries in recent weeks in Cincinnati. No charge was filed at once.

Japanese Cherry Trees To Brazil

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP) — A shipment of 110 cherry trees is due from Japan Feb. 20 for a try in Brasilia, Brazil's new capital deep in the interior, so Brasilia, like Washington, may have its cherry blossom season. But nobody knows yet whether the trees will grow there.

Police said Jones may be involved in other holdups with a friend, Raymond Kahney, 23.

Detectives said Jones, from Waco, Tex., admitted recent robbery of a drug store, a market, two service stations and a Kentucky encountered in a movie washroom, and said he burglarized a market. The loot ranged up to $500.

The arrest of Kahney by detectives probing a $450 pharmacy holdup led to Jones' arrest. Officers said Kahney denied any part in the holdup, but said Jones was in on it.

Police said they think Jones and Kahney may be also involved in two supermarket robberies Jan. 22 that netted $1,300 from one store.

Police said a 22-caliber revolver similar to the one carried by Jones was found under the seat of the car in which Kahney was arrested.

Jones and Kahney were cell-mates, investigators said, at Florida State Penitentiary at Raiford. Both had been sentenced to 10-year terms after admitting 30 larcenies in the Florida area. Both were paroled July 2.

Jones asked what he did with holdup loot here, said, "We lost most of our money gambling in Newport (Ky.)."

Rayburn Makes Rare Remembrance

By TEX EASLEY
AP Special Service

WASHINGTON (AP) — Speaker Sam Rayburn, who seldom reminisces, made an exception when he received an award commemorating the late Cordell Hull.

In accepting the award, presented by the Committee for a National Trade Policy, the 78-year-old Texan said 42 years of his life were warmed by his close friendship with Hull. The Tennesseean served in Franklin D. Roosevelt's Cabinet as secretary of state.

"He was one of the first close friends I made after I came to Congress on March 4, 1913, the day Woodrow Wilson became President of the United States," Rayburn said.

"I lived in the old Cochran Hotel as did many other members of Congress, including Cordell Hull.

"Each night after supper most of these men would pull their chairs together at the end of the big old lobby and for several hours they would explore . . . the great issues of the hour . . . I have often thought that this was the best school of political science I ever attended."

Perhaps because he, like Hull, was a native Tennesseean with similar views, they became close friends, said Rayburn.

"When the Underwood Tariff Bill was taken up by the House of Representatives in 1913, it included (a provision for) the first constitutional income tax.

"Cordell Hull was the author of this tax plan. During that debate, I made my maiden speech in Congress in support of the bill. This tax plan has been the cornerstone of our fiscal policy from that day to this."

DEAR ABBY

DEVELOP A HEADACHE

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Before accepting an invitation, is it proper to ask, "What have you planned for entertainment?"

Last night my husband nearly blew his top. We were invited to some friends' home for dinner. They served cocktails at 7 p.m. and then proceeded to show us some colored "slides" of their trip to Estes Park.

At 11 p.m. there was no sign of dinner and they were still going strong with slides of their trip and all the strangers they met on the way. (One half-hour of some old fool from Tulsa smooching his young, new wife.) At midnight we had eaten every peanut and pretzel in sight. My husband was seething.

At 1 a.m. they served spaghetti and meatballs and we got home about 3 a.m. My husband isn't speaking to me. How can we avoid a situation like this in the future without offending our hostess?

MRS. R.
DEAR MRS. R.: You can't. When one accepts an invitation, he must suffer through the evening like a good soldier, unless he can beg to be excused early with a "headache." And in this case one could hardly have been blamed for having developed one.

DEAR ABBY: My husband was arrested seven months ago for armed robbery. They have now charged him with murder, too. He says he is innocent, but that's beside the point until it is proven. His trial comes up sometime next year. My problem is this: Can it be arranged for a woman and her husband to have relations while personal interest," wrote Eisenhower.

"This is the only formula which can lead us, a responsible people, to the fulfillment of our goals."

Chief Judge Marvin Jones of the U. S. Court of Claims, a former Texas member of the House, has been named "Man of the Year" by the Federal Club. The 40-year-old organization is composed of high level government officials and scientists.

Corpus Christi Congressman John Young has solved the health problem attached to his habit of inviting visiting constituents to join him in a cup of coffee in his office.

"We keep a pot brewing all the time," he said. "I have my secretary serve our guests out of that, while fixing myself up a quick cup out of a decaffeinated coffee mix. I just couldn't take some 18 cups of coffee a day."

Rep. Clark Thompson (D-Tex.) is sponsoring a bill similar to one offered by Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson. The bills would authorize a water storage reservoir on the Colorado River near Columbus. The Reclamation Bureau would build the Columbus Bend Dam and water users eventually would repay the cost which has not yet been estimated.

French Moslems May Gain Voice

ALGIERS (AP) — President Charles de Gaulle may give Moslems a stronger voice in the administration of Algeria as a result of the European settlers' uprising, government sources said today.

Informants said it was too early, however, to determine whether there is enough Moslem enthusiasm for De Gaulle's self-determination policy to create a genuine Moslem "third force" between the European settlers who want to keep Algeria French and the nationalist rebels who are fighting for independence.
