U. S. Has Indestructible Force, Ike Tells Nation

By JOE F. KANE
WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States has forged an indestructible force as an anchor of free world security, President Eisenhower has told the American people.

The defensive might is ample for today and constantly is developing to meet the needs of tomorrow, Eisenhower said Sunday night in a nationwide radio-TV address on the eve of his departure for a 15,000-mile Latin-American goodwill tour.

"Today, in the presence of continuous threat, all of us can stand resolute and unafraid," the President said.

In an indirect reply to critics of the U. S. defense program, Eisenhower said: "We have created a great deterrent strength—so powerful as to command and to justify the respect of knowledgeable and unbiased observers here at home and abroad."

Most of the defense criticism has come from announced or potential candidates for the Democratic presidential nomination. Some military officers, both active and retired, also have protested what they called inadequate or misdirected defense policies.

Two announced candidates for the Democratic presidential nomination had more to say Sunday on the defense program.

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn.) told a Democratic meeting at Green Bay, Wis., that the United States is far behind the Soviet Union in missile strength. He said "The scoreboard in 1962 is expected to show an even greater point spread."

Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.) said in a television interview "When men who have the same information that the President has come to exact opposite conclusions and say we are moving into a position of peril, I would err on the side of caution."

A third presidential possibility, Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo.), said in St. Louis, Mo., Saturday night that this country is no longer "the strongest, most respected and most admired country in the world. We're not adequately prepared to back up our many commitments around the world."

Symington restated on a radio-TV program Sunday night his contention that the administration has misled the public on U. S. defense strength.

But Eisenhower set forth a different idea. In backing up his own appraisal of American power, the President referred to:

1. Hundreds of Air Force bombers deployed around the world, each capable of "unleashing a frightful destruction." He said they constitute a force far superior to any other in numbers, quality and strategic location of bases.

2. A powerful nuclear force in aircraft carriers and in a host of widely deployed tactical aircraft.
3. Advanced types of missiles. He said "we have literally leaped forward in accomplishments no less than remarkable" in longer range ballistic missiles.
4. The Polaris missile-firing submarine, which he described as an almost invulnerable weapon.

Collectively, the President said, "this is a force not unduly dependent upon any one weapon or any one service, not subject to elimination by sudden attack, but pressed by an industrial system unmatched on earth, and unambiguously supported by a vigorous people determined to remain free."

"Strategically, it is far better situated than any force that could be brought to bear against us," Eisenhower said he hoped to make clear on his journey that U. S. military programs at home and abroad have been designed for one purpose only—the maintenance of peace.

Snow Moving Into State; Cold Forecast

By The Associated Press
The Weather Bureau forecast snow for the Texas Panhandle Monday night, spreading into other northwest Texas points Tuesday.

The Oklahoma City Weather Bureau predicted heavy snows for the Oklahoma Panhandle adjoining Texas. But Texas forecasters said present indications are that the snow will not be heavy south of Oklahoma.

The Weather Bureau said the Oklahoma Panhandle can expect 4 inches or more of snow and advised stockmen and travelers to be wary.

Scattered showers and colder temperatures were forecast for the remainder of Texas.

The cold front hit Dalhart, at the top of the Texas Panhandle, about 11 a.m. Temperatures dropped to 28 degrees and winds were 13 m.p.h. from the north. Amarillo, south of Dalhart, reported 41 degrees just before the wind started to shift.

Heavy clouds moved in with the cold front.

AF Denies Reformer's Vice Cry

NAHA, Okinawa (AP)—A Methodist temperance leader's charge that the airman's club at Kadena Air Base is a center of "regimented vice" has brought vigorous denials from the U.S. Air Force.

Maj. Gen. Dale O. Smith, 313th Air Division commander, declared he had found "nothing unsavory or anything illegal" at the club.

Dr. Caradine R. Hooton, general secretary of the Methodist Board of Temperance, who made the charge, said in Washington he had sent letters to President Eisenhower and other officials asking the recall of Smith and a full explanation.

Hooton's blast was inspired by an article in Time magazine reporting cut-rate food, liquor and entertainment at the club financed by the club members.

Ike In Puerto Rico On First Of Tour

Calls Islanders Example To World

On The Go

This was one of the odd vehicles participating in a "crazy rally" held in Amsterdam in connection with an auto show. It's one man's version of a mobile desk. Complete with phone, five wheel job also includes wastebasket, typewriter, lamp and hors.

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico (AP)—En route to South America, President Eisenhower paused in Puerto Rico today and told the islanders they provide a lesson to aspiring peoples of the world.

"We are happy that Puerto Rico is a proud, free, self-governing commonwealth, joined to the United States by her own choice," the President said. "Puerto Rico is truly unique."

"To other people now struggling to realize their aspirations and ambitions, the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico has demonstrated that courage, persistence and faith in one's fellow men and a God-given destiny can open up ways through barriers and obstacles that might appear to be insurmountable."

As he arrived from Washington, one band of demonstrators at the airport was clamoring for complete independence for this commonwealth while another carried banners calling for statehood. But Eisenhower did not see them.

"To other people now struggling to realize their aspirations and ambitions, the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico has demonstrated that courage, persistence and faith in one's fellow men and a God-given destiny can open up ways through barriers and obstacles that might appear to be insurmountable."

After the exchange of greetings, the President and Munoz Marin went into conference briefly at the airport, bypassing the demonstrators with their banners. They were at the other side of the airport.

The President's big jet airliner gleamed in the Caribbean sun as it landed, after a 3-hour 4-minute flight from Washington. The temperature was in the 80s.

A crowd of about 5,000 — held down by tight security precautions — was on hand. Thousands more tried but were unable to get into the guarded grounds.

Eisenhower was greeted on the steps of his plane by Munoz Marin, who had arrived about 35 minutes in advance.

Some of the crowd on the observation platform of the modern airport carried signs reading "Welcome Mr. President" in English and "Bienvenido" — welcome — in Spanish.

Political advocates of making Puerto Rico the 51st state of the Union had an automobile caravan moving in front of the airport administration building.

The demonstration recalled two Washington episodes in which Puerto Rican nationalists figured — a 1950 assassination attempt on President Harry S. Truman and the 1954 burst of gunfire in the U.S. House of Representatives.

Today's demonstrators for independence were a small but militant crowd. They concentrated at the airport and near Ramey Air Force Base, where Eisenhower arranged to spend tonight.

Leaders of the movement said they were appealing to Latin

A cluster of top U.S. officials seeing the President off was headed by Vice President Richard M. Nixon, with several Cabinet officials on hand. Mrs. Eisenhower, however, remained at the White House.

Eisenhower talked about the soupy weather with Mrs. Christian A. Herter, wife of the secretary of state. Herter is accompanying the President on this tour.

DIFFERENCES
In welcoming the President, Gov. Luis Munoz Marin — who likes Puerto Rico's present status as a commonwealth of the United States — said: "You will find among us differences of opinion as to the form that our free union with the United States should develop. But so far as the great majority of our people are concerned, you will find no differences of opinion as to the fact that that union should be permanent."

Week Of Decision For Finch, Carole
LOS ANGELES (AP) — This may be the week of decision for Dr. R. Bernard Finch and Carole Tregoff, accused of murdering his pretty socialite wife.

Their trial resumes Tuesday with final arguments by defense and prosecution. Then follow the court's instructions to the jury, and the jury's deliberation.

"Everything that had to be said was said," Dr. Finch said in an interview at the jail Sunday. "All we can do is hope the jury realizes we told the truth. But you can't tell how they'll decide. That's the frightening part. Not knowing."

Rain-Plagued Ride Continues
WALLER, Tex. (AP) — Rain-plagued horsemen taking part in the 1960 salt grass trail ride—1,700 strong—struck out today on the second lap of their annual 90-mile ride from Brenham to Houston.

Thick mud hampered wagons and took a toll in stragglers in the first 30-mile lap Sunday. The group camped here overnight.

The trail ride is a prelude to the 1960 Houston Fat Stock Show, which opens Wednesday.

Latins Expect U. S. Concern To Grow After Ike Journey

By MORRIS W. ROSENBERG
RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP)—Latin Americans expect the United States to show more active concern for their problems following President Eisenhower's visit to Brazil, Argentina, Chile and Uruguay.

Brazilian President Juscelino Kubitschek as recently as last November said, "The United States gives evidence of lessening interest in Brazil and South America generally."

"We cannot hide our worry when we observe that in the United States there is a lack of understanding for the justified ambition of our people to accelerate the speed of development to recover great distances lost."

Kubitschek will be the first South American leader to play host to Eisenhower, who is arriving in the nation's future capital, Brasilia, on Tuesday.

Venezuela's President Romulo

Belmont, whose country is not on Eisenhower's itinerary, observed last week that the U.S. leader would find that Latin American countries have social development problems "just as acute as European, Asian and African countries to which the United States has been dedicating its attention almost exclusively for the past 10 years."

The independent Rio de Janeiro newspaper Jornal do Brasil commented in an editorial Sunday that Brazilians will welcome Eisenhower with affection and happiness. But it added, "North Americans shouldn't think these demonstrations mean we find the United States now entirely understands its responsibilities and duties to Latin America."

It is time, the paper said, for the United States to rid itself of myths of Latin American indolence, that private investment is sufficient for Latin American needs, that Latin America needs military aid.

The problems facing the continent are economic development and political stability.

Latin Americans point to political progress in ousting dictatorships and establishing democratic governments. But they say that without economic assistance to meet the accelerating needs and demands of the people, stability will be threatened.

As the Latin Americans desperately seek capital to finance industrial growth and lessen dependence on raw material exports, the Soviets have been moving in with offers of credits at low interest and tempting trade deals. This is evident in all four countries Eisenhower is visiting.

Last December Brazil signed a three-year, 200-million-dollar trade agreement with Moscow calling for exchange of coffee for Soviet petroleum products, oil, machinery and wheat.

Argentina has received a 100-million-dollar Soviet credit to purchase Soviet oil and industrial equipment. The Soviet Union has been a major buyer of Uruguay's chief export, wool. A Chilean commercial mission visited Moscow and other East European capitals this month to promote trade deals.

Two months from now, even with only part of the physical layout complete, President Juscelino Kubitschek is moving his capital here from Rio de Janeiro, 600 miles to the southeast.

There are mixed feelings about the shift. Critics call the project "Juscelino's folly" and say the cost is swollen with graft and will go beyond half a billion dollars. But Kubitschek calls Brasilia a symbol of hope for the nation. He sees it as a means of developing the vast Brazilian interior, much of it virgin land.

The job of moving the capital of a nation of 60 million people is about as complex a peacetime project as one can imagine. Brasilia started from nothing; hundreds of miles of new roads had to be built to the site.

Thousands of officials and clerks, judges and tradesmen must make new homes far from familiar surroundings. Stores and movie houses, school and electrical plants must be set up.

ON IKE ITINERARY

Brazilians Make Dream Come True

BRASILIA, Brazil (AP)—Here on a cool plateau, President Eisenhower will see Tuesday how the dream of generations of Brazilians is coming true in a new capital city hewn from the wilderness.

It is a dream only half run: Some of the luxurious, modernistic buildings are completed. Skeletons of others rise out of raw red mud. Other buildings are still only blueprints.

Two months from now, even with only part of the physical layout complete, President Juscelino Kubitschek is moving his capital here from Rio de Janeiro, 600 miles to the southeast.

There are mixed feelings about the shift. Critics call the project "Juscelino's folly" and say the cost is swollen with graft and will go beyond half a billion dollars. But Kubitschek calls Brasilia a symbol of hope for the nation. He sees it as a means of developing the vast Brazilian interior, much of it virgin land.

The job of moving the capital of a nation of 60 million people is about as complex a peacetime project as one can imagine. Brasilia started from nothing; hundreds of miles of new roads had to be built to the site.

Thousands of officials and clerks, judges and tradesmen must make new homes far from familiar surroundings. Stores and movie houses, school and electrical plants must be set up.

At the site of a new U. S. Embassy, President Eisenhower will lay a foundation stone—chipped from a mountain peak called the Finger of God—for a new residence and office building. It will serve as temporary headquarters for the U. S. Legation until plans for a new embassy building are fulfilled.

The U. S. President will spend the night at the clean-cut palace of marble and glass that is the new official home of Brazil's President.

This 400-ft building in Brasilia gave the viewer a sense of airiness and movement. They are somewhat reminiscent of the United Nations buildings in New York.

The presidential palace itself is a tribute to things three million dollars can buy from the imagination of modern architecture. Walls on the long sides of the long building are glass from floor to ceiling, with many movable panels opening out to the outside. The ground floor ceilings are 22 feet high.

On the second floor are living quarters. Eisenhower's suite will overlook a blue lake still filling from a dammed river. Three miles away lie the main buildings of Congress and the Supreme Court, and 10-story buildings for such ministries as finance and aeronautics.

Eisenhower will look upon a city planned for a population of 500,000 or more in a motor age. There are no intersections—overpasses keep traffic moving.

Royal Family's Joy Is Dimmed By Death Of Kin

LONDON (AP)—The royal family's rejoicing over Queen Elizabeth's new son was dimmed over the weekend by the death of Countess Mountbatten, Prince Philip's aunt and one of Britain's best known women.

The 58-year-old countess—wife of Britain's defense chief, Adm. Earl Mountbatten—died in her sleep Saturday night at Jesselton, North Borneo. She was on a tour of Far Eastern units of the St. John Ambulance Brigade, which she headed.

The cause of death was not announced. She had complained of a headache Friday, rested Saturday morning, attended functions in the afternoon, and made a brief appearance at a dinner in her honor that night.

The body was to be flown to London by Royal Air Force plane. Queen Elizabeth ordered the royal family into a week of mourning, canceling their social engagements and putting the members of the family and their personal staffs into black. The Queen decided against formal court mourning, which would have applied to all her representatives at home and abroad.

Odessa Man Is Hurt In Crash

L. B. Peirce, 31, Odessa, suffered injuries to his neck when the car in which he was a passenger was struck from the rear by a GMC tractor-trailer one and a half miles west of the city limits on Sunday afternoon. He was admitted to the Big Spring Hospital for examination.

Highway patrol officers said that that truck, loaded with produce, was traveling toward Big Spring. Driver was James L. Bryant, 23, Mine, Miss.

The 1955 Pontiac in which Peirce was riding, was driven by Joseph Oral Branum, 41, Odessa, oil field driller. It was also traveling east.

Branum, with three members of his drilling crew, was en route to their jobs.

The accident occurred at 3:25 p.m. The big truck smashed into the rear of the sedan, according to highway patrolmen. The car was damaged extensively. The truck was not seriously damaged.

Graham Speaks To Mixed Crowd

BULAWAYO, Southern Rhodesia (AP)—Billy Graham today carried his crusade to Salisbury, the capital of Southern Rhodesia, after pushing aside long-standing traditions of racial segregation in the British territory.

Nearly 20,000 black and white Rhodesians sat and stood side by side to hear the American evangelist preach "God doesn't look at the color of your skin" at a meeting Sunday night. A crowd of 9,000 came out Saturday night for Graham's first multiracial service in Bulawayo.

Racial partnership is the official policy of the Central African Federation, but there has never been such a mingling of races at a religious service here before.

LAREDO (AP)—Laredo's annual Washington birthday celebration ends tonight with a dance and a fireworks display.

Crowd Due For Ag-Business Day

Big Spring Chamber of Commerce officials said Monday that it was indicated their estimate of at least 250 attendance at the Big Spring Agri-Business conference Tuesday still stood. The Chamber of Commerce stressed the importance of business and agriculture representatives attending the all day session which is slated to open at 9:30 a.m. at the Howard County Junior College.

Speakers to be featured on the program are O. (Dooley) Dawson vice president, Bank of the Southwest, Houston; Henry LeBlanc, Farm Placement Division, Texas Employment Commission, Austin,

Negroes Off Voting Lists But No Skulduggery Seen

Editor's Note—A survey by The Associated Press showed only one county in the South having more registered Negro voters than whites. The following is an account of an on-the-spot inquiry which led to discovery that the voting list had been revised, and most of the Negro names removed.

By PERRY MULLEN
HINESVILLE, Ga. (AP)—Revision of voting lists has cut 1,000 persons, mostly Negroes, from rolls in the only county in the South having more Negro than white registered voters.

But voting board registrars in Liberty County in southeast Georgia, say Negroes of the rural county face loss of potential political dominance through lack of interest in voting, not through discrimination.

Negro spokesmen agree their race is permitted to register with a minimum of restrictions.

A survey by The Associated Press showed the Georgia county, 35 miles from Savannah, is the only one in the South with more Negro than white registered voters. Nine Southern states reported 131 counties with larger Negro population than white. Georgia has 36 counties in which there is a white minority.

Liberty County, predominately

Negro, registered 2,472 Negroes and 2,128 white persons for the 1958 state Democratic primary. The 1950 census placed the Negro population at 5,100, the white at 3,200.

The specter of possible Negro political dominance frequently is advanced in hot political campaigns in the South.

Liberty County officials were unanimous, however, in declaring that this fear had nothing to do with trimming voting lists. One who would not be quoted intimately some incumbents in the county solicit votes of Negroes, encourage them to register and remain in office through their support. One incumbent agreed with this, saying a vote, Negro or white, is a welcome vote.

Under Georgia law, persons who fail to vote over a two-year period are removed from the rolls. Lucille Wood, chairman of the registrar board in Liberty, said letters are sent out every two years to persons on the list who have not voted in that time. The letter warns that they will be dropped if they do not appear and request that their name be kept intact.

"If they do not appear we drop their names and that's all there is to it."

After the revision, registration for two special county elections brought the rolls up again. Mrs. Wood estimated current figures balanced white and Negro voters at about 2,150 for each group. A Negro spokesman, however, contended his race now has 200 more eligible voters registered than the total of white voters.

Mrs. Wood and Negroes say there has been no concentrated drive to register, that registration of more Negroes is due to their larger population.

There has been some discussion by Negroes about entering a candidate for a county office but none has offered for election. Several of those interviewed are engaged in business or hold jobs by appointment. One said he did not care to jeopardize his business by becoming too active in politics.

Ralph W. Quarterman, 41, Negro sawmill operator who is president of the county chapter of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People, said the main ambition of Negroes is to obtain proper representation.

He was among those who agreed there had been no complaints by Negroes over voting privileges. He also agreed with others that relations between the races are good.

Most of the residents work in lumber or pulpwood industries and many are employed at Ft. Stewart, a 30-acre reservation for training anti-aircraft and tank crews and National Guardsmen.

Mrs. Wood said there was some evidence of bloc voting when Negroes first began balloting 12 years ago, but that is not generally practiced now. A possible exception was in the election last year of Bob Sikes, 31, as sheriff to succeed his father who died in office after holding the post 22 years.

A Negro woman carted auto loads of her friends to the polls in that election. Later she was overheard commenting that "we certainly put that over."

Asked to explain, she said: "Didn't you know we were working for Mr. Bob? I nursed him and worked for his mother many years before he was born."

Missile Blown Up

A satellite rocket Discoverer X explodes above Vandenberg Air Force Base, Calif., as it was destroyed deliberately because it was veering off course and over populated areas. The air base was showered with debris, some pieces as big as an automobile, but no one was hurt. The missile appears as a brilliant white light, upper left, at the instant of explosion. It expelled streamers of fire like a roman candle as it plunged to the ground in a thousand pieces.

and J. G. McIlaney, extension economist Texas A&M college.

Dr. Gerald Thomas, dean of the school of agriculture, Texas Tech, Lubbock, will be presiding officer. Cliff Fisher, president of the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce, will welcome the visitors.

Earl Sargent, farm director KWFT, Wichita Falls, Joe Bell, editor of the Colorado City Record and J. B. Frazier, member of the Howard County Junior College faculty, will also on the program.

A barbecue dinner will be served to all attending at noon. The dinner will be in the HCCJ Student Union Building.

Barefoot Look Revived In Shoes For Spring

By DOROTHY ROE
AP Women's Editor

Barefoot girls with shoes on will be prominent in the spring and summer fashion picture of 1960. After several years of covered-up shoe styles, open toes, heels and pumps are back with a bang. New shoe styles represent the most drastic change since the arrival of the Italian needle-toe, ruffled-heel pump. New women who like to wiggle their toes in the open may do so to their heart's content.

The open-air silhouette is achieved in various ways. For street wear you'll be seeing many sling pumps, with open back.

Other styles have open shanks, with closed toe and heel. Toes may be partially or completely bare. Pumps with closed toes and heels are likely to have perforations or vamp cutouts.

Slack-heel walking shoes, many unlined, often are open at shank or heel. Others have open toes.

The new open shoes manage to appear graceful and flattering to the shapely foot, chiefly because of their slim, tapered lasts. Choices in silhouette are offered in spring shoe styles.

Women who are tired of the needle-pointed toe may choose a squared-off toe known as the nipped point. Also available is the elongated square, the angled oblique and the long, flattened oval called the round peg.

Toes are given further accent by contrasting trimmings. A suede pump may have an asymmetric band of luster calf across the toe. The nipped-point toes of a patent leather pump have a strip of zebra-striped black-and-white calf extending along the vamp. Toes may be banded, buckled, stitched or trimmed with fabric.

The stiletto heel remains top favorite for evening, but for street wear a woman may choose stacked leather heels in various heights, diminutive French heels, sculptured wooden heels or sensible, medium-height wedges.

Stripping sandals for evening are as near barefoot as possible, webbing the foot with narrow strips across the vamp. Also present is the high-heeled barefoot thong sandal.

For the conservative, the closed, classic pump will still be present and popular for street wear, but the open look makes the foot news this spring.

Barefoot

The open shoe and the stacked leather heel are combined in this new thong sandal by Margaret Jerrod. Unique shaped sole is squared off above diamond stacked heel.

Airy Look

This open-shank-and-heel walking pump has a medium high, triangular shaped stacked heel, designed by Nick Parker. Of pearl gray cobra, it has stitched band across toe.

Sling Pump

This red patent pump has an open sling back and a mother of pearl button on the nipped-point toe. Designed by Herbert Levine, the sling strap is elasticized and shirred.

For Cocktails

This sandalized pump designed by I. Miller is in soft green calf with a stiletto heel. Narrow straps in varying tones of green form lattice over the cutout vamp.

Open Shank

Newly hared for daytime is this laced T-strap shoe with open shank extending deep into heel and quarter, keg-shaped leather heel, designed by Rodi Gerreich.

Home Decoration Will Feature Varied Cottons

It's almost spring again — and as always the freshest relief from gloomy winter and the gayest approach to a wonderful season is cotton.

New patterns and new textures are found in glorious profusion —

Hats For Spring Have Bulk, Beauty And Many Flowers

Hats will be hats this spring, with no half-measures. Beanie, bands and scraps of veil may take to the woods. You can see the new hats coming.

The vanguard of the Easter parade features both height and width in square-crowned cloches, puffy berets, off-the-face Bretons, tall pillboxes, turbans, toques and fezzes.

Many of the new toppers have architecture — inspired silhouettes — the spiral lines of the new Guggenheim Museum, the towering lines of the new skyscrapers. Yet with all the bulk at the top, spring hats have a light and airy look.

There are many light-weight, lustrous straw braids, novelty straw bandings, gauzy horsehair braids, chiffons and stitched sheer fabrics. Flowers bloom on wide-brimmed picture hats as well as on head-bugging shapes.

The new bulkier hats complement the fashionable spring dress and suit silhouette, which features width at the top, above tapering, stem-like skirts. The pale gold, cream and ivory tones of new straws echo the predominance of pale beige and gray in spring suits.

ranging from the boldest of modern designs in vivid abstract patterns to a great renaissance of provincial prints.

Early American stylings are of utmost importance this year with many reproductions of cross-stitch sampler patterns, patchwork quilt designs, Pennsylvania Dutch motifs and every variety of early Colonial themes including miniature scenes printed on cotton against a fresh, crisp open background.

White, off-white, beige and brown dominate the solid color picture. And polished cottons are becoming enormously popular in lavish floral prints.

Mixing of periods is widespread, with versatile Americans blending beautifully into a French Provincial setting. Woven solid cottons combine with prints that reflect the contemporary influence of Scandinavian and Belgian art.

Added to the glamour of the new colors and prints, cotton is queen of the house with its wonderful qualities of easiest care and complete washability.

Used for upholstery, drapes, rugs and wall covering, we'll literally be using cotton from floor to ceiling this spring!

Members of the Council of Big Spring Garden Clubs will meet Wednesday morning at 9:30 in the home of Mrs. J. W. Trantham, 1319 Stadium, instead of the address originally listed. Members are urged to attend the session, at which plans for the tasting tea will be discussed.

Winter Spray Steps Up War On Scale Pest

Nature's panzer divisions, the scale insects that drain vitality from trees, are stilled for the winter and are vulnerable to chemical attack from now to bud-breaking time in spring.

The forays of these sap-sucking pests on major shade trees and ornamentals seem to have been stepped up in recent years. It is good planning to wage an early blitz via dormant sprays to control this scourge, advises Dr. Carl Hansen, entomologist for the Davey Tree Expert Co.

When the scale population gets out of hand, infested trees and shrubs gradually decline and eventually may die. A highly refined oil is the medium to be applied on any clear day when the temperature is above 40 degrees.

Scale insects clustered on twigs and trunks, are bathed in the oil that cuts off the supply of air to partly grown adults and eggs beneath the protective scales.

Two valuable trees should be excluded from this spray program. These are the sugar and Japanese maples. Both are highly susceptible to damage from the oil. They can be protected in summer during the scale crawler stage. Then a good contact insecticide, such as malathion, does the trick before the insect develops its armor.

Home owners awaiting the advent of springlike weather should not apply the dormant spray when leaves unfold. They will have to wait for crawlers to be susceptible to the contact spray.

Saturday Night At The Zoo

Every morning is Saturday night for Bertie, a hippopotamus at the Denver City Park Zoo, who enjoys a hose-type shower when keeper Tom Sherrill fills the hippo pool each morning. Then to show she has no preference between showers and tubbing, she spends the remainder of the day just soaking.

National Freedom Awards Given Out

By LEE LINDER

VALLEY FORGE, Pa. (AP)—Sen. John L. McClellan (D-Ark), Secretary of the Army Wilber M. Brucker and Maj. Gen. John B. Medaris won top awards today from Freedom Foundation.

They were among 864 persons, organizations, businesses and schools honored on this 228th birthday of George Washington at this historic site.

The non-profit, independent foundation, in its 11th year, awarded recipients "for the things they have written, said or done that have brought about a better understanding of the American Way of Life and the continued maintenance of the responsibilities inherent with our freedoms." Prizes totaled $100,000.

McClellan, chairman of the Senate rackets subcommittee which has exposed corruption in labor and business, received the foundation's highest honor, the George Washington Award, at special ceremonies at the Valley Forge Military Academy.

He was cited as "a man of integrity and courage who has assailed the battlements of communism and corruption and laid bare their insidious secrets."

Nine men and women received "special freedom leadership awards." Among them were Brucker, Cmdr. William R. Anderson, Washington, and Lt. Cmr. Donald M. Hanson, San Diego, Calif.

Others were Hollywood actors Ward Bond and Bob Hope; Armand Penha, Fairhaven, Mass., former FBI undercover agent; author Ann Hawkes Hutton, Bristol, Pa.; attorney Elwood Fouts, Houston, Tex., and Dr. Ian Stuart, Birmingham, Ala., author and educator.

Medaris, who last month retired at 58 as the Army's top missile man, won the foundation's prize as the best essay writer in 1959. With it went $1,000.

Medaris, quitting as head of the Army Ordnance Missile Command at Huntsville, Ala., said the Eisenhower administration's attitude toward space is leading the United States to disaster.

Anderson, cited for exemplifying on behalf of all Navy men "the highest level of competence and patriotic devotion, commanded the world's first atomic submarine, the Nautilus, on its trip under the North Pole. Hanson was commended for creating the Navy's "Operation Handclasp" program under which packages of food, medicine and clothing are sent to refugees fleeing communism in Asia.

Top school awards went to Euclid, Ohio; lower Providence Township school district, Eagleville, Pa., and Tulsa, Okla. In all 203 schools were honored for outstanding Americanism programs.

Not For The Birds

BALTIMORE (AP)—It looks like a big piece of hard candy left on a shelf to gather dirt.

The nose is almost gone. The eyes are so weathered they are hardly perceptible. There are dark stains in the folds of the clothing.

This is a statue of George Washington in Baltimore, the town which likes to call itself the Monumental City. Standing in Druid Hill Park, it is probably the most ignored statue of Washington in the city.

It has been spared one humiliation; a niche protects it from passing pigeons.

DEAR ABBY

DRY CURES

By Abigail Von Buren

DEAR READERS: The following letters came in response to the letter from EXHAUSTED MOTHER whose sons, aged 11 and 14, wet their beds. I received hundreds of letters from readers everywhere. Each assured me that his method worked. Naturally, I can't vouch for any of these suggestions, but I give them to you for what they may be worth.

ABBY

DEAR ABBY: My daughter wet her bed until I thought I would go out of my mind. A friend of mine told me to give her a nickel box of raisins every night before she went to bed. I did, and believe it or not, it worked like magic.

MRS. K. (Honolulu, Hawaii)

DEAR ABBY: A retired Army officer told my husband about this sure cure for bed-wetters. Sew a wooden block in the back of their pajamas so they can't sleep on their backs. I don't know why it works, but it does.

D. D. (Stroudsburg, Penna.)

DEAR ABBY: Our son wet the bed every night until he weighed more than his father. Neither of us could carry him, so we walked him to the bathroom every three hours. Our doctor advised us to cut off his liquids after four o'clock in the afternoon, and give him a little honey before bedtime. It cured him.

MRS. T. (Hillsborough, Calif.)

DEAR ABBY: For goodness sakes, have EXHAUSTED MOTHER look through the catalogues for one of those electric devices (there are several on the market) that rings a bell and awakens the child at just the right moment. It worked with mine.

MUCH HAPPIER NOW

(Boston, Mass.)

DEAR ABBY: I suppose this will sound like voodoo, but if that mother really wants to help her boys get over bed-wetting, tell her to try this recipe an old Indian woman gave my grandmother: Boil up magnolia blossoms with swamp root and chestnuts. Strain through a cheesecloth and drink the juice.

MRS. N. B. (Wahoo, Nebraska)

DEAR ABBY: When I read about that poor lady whose boys still wet the bed at their ages, my heart went out to her. My son had the same trouble until he was about 15 and, believe me, it was no joke. A neighbor of mine told me to raise the foot of his bed about six inches. I had something to do with pressure on the bladder. Anyway, I followed her advice and it worked. Tell that lady about it, please.

MRS. D. H. (St. Louis, Mo.)

DEAR ABBY: I think bed-wetting is just a matter of pure and simple laziness. My kids started that foolishness and I just lined them all up before they went to bed and told them that anyone who had this kind of an "accident" had to wash his own sheets. Never had another "accident" since.

GRANDMA (Casper, Wyo.)

DEAR ABBY: Do let EXHAUSTED MOTHER know about the value of swimming lessons for children who can't control their bladders at night. There is something about that type of exercise that strengthens the proper muscles. Sincerely,

J. M. (Dallas, Texas)

GIs Push Church Of Christ Missionary Work In Korea

ABILENE (AP)—Church of Christ members among American soldiers in Korea often put aside their rifles to work as missionaries among the Korean people.

Their work was described today by a missionary who also told of carrying a tuberculosis-stricken young Korean on his back and down a mountainside to see that he got medical treatment.

L. Haskell Chesshir, who will return to his missionary work in Seoul this year, took part in the annual Bible Lectureship at Abilene Christian College. The lectures continue through Wednesday.

Chesshir said "The story of carrying the young man on my back down the mountain reached Pusan 300 miles away within a few days" and the incident created "extreme good will." The young man recovered and "is now in training to be a preacher," he added.

American soldiers with training in agriculture saw that Korean farmers were losing livestock by improper care and taught them how to care for them. Others established Bible classes. "We have had as many as five Bible classes going at the same time in Seoul," Chesshir said, "taught by the men and women of the Armed Services."

Heavy Snowstorm Blankets Midwest

Another heavy snowstorm left an extensive blanket of white across the Midwest today but it appeared to have lost most of its punch as it moved into the snow-covered Northeast. Snow continued during the night in the Great Lakes region and the upper Ohio Valley but falls were light. The snow belt spread eastward across Ohio, Pennsylvania, northern Virginia, Maryland and Western New York—areas hammered by stormy weather last week. The same storm dumped up to eight inches of snow in Midwest areas Sunday as it swept across the midlands from northeastern Kansas and Nebraska into the Great Lakes region. Gusty winds fashioned huge drifts in many areas and highway travel was curtailed. Milwaukee had 20 inches of snow on the ground, including a fresh fall of more than six inches. Falls ranged from three to eight inches throughout the storm belt. Snow removal operations were under way in the Midwest and in many other parts of the country.

Skies cleared in some sections of the freshly hit storm zone. It was near zero in parts of Kansas, Iowa and Nebraska and temperatures dropped to near freezing in most of Texas. Readings in the teens and 20s were general throughout the middle part of the country. Sections of the Northeast still were digging out from last week's stormy weather. A new snowstorm developed in the northern Rockies. It spread snow across broad areas of Montana, Wyoming, Utah, western Colorado, Nebraska and South Dakota. Major highways were opened Sunday in snow-stricken sections of central and western New York and other northeastern areas. The Pennsylvania Turnpike, hit by storms from Thursday through Saturday, again was open for traffic. Hundreds of motorists were marooned along the super-highway Saturday night. In the South, also hard hit by stormy weather last week, rain fell across the southeast but southerly winds fanned warmer weather to Florida and the south Atlantic coastal areas.

Scouting Religious Ties To Be Discussed Tuesday

A top official in religious relations of the Boy Scouts of America will meet Tuesday noon with ministers in this area. E. C. Hogan, assistant national director of Protestant relations, will be the featured speaker at a luncheon in the Dora Roberts Student Union Building. Indications are that a score of ministers will be on hand to hear Hogan in one of his two appearances in the Buffalo Trail Council this year. He is speaking today in Monahan. He will stress the church awards in the Boy Scout movement and will answer other questions about promoting effectiveness of scouting as part of the sponsoring churches' youth program. Also taking part on the Tuesday program will be Dr. R. Gage Lloyd, First Presbyterian pastor, the Rev. Al Seddon, St. Paul Presbyterian minister, and the Rev. Clair Widdershof, St. Paul's Lutheran minister. Joe Pickle, public relations chairman for the Lone Star district, urged all ministers to attend the luncheon as guests of the council. A dozen and a half have returned cards of acceptance, and he asked those who had not sent back cards to come if they can.

Humphrey Continues His Wisconsin Trip

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn.) continued to stump through Wisconsin today, stressing domestic issues. His chief democratic rival saw foreign policy as the dominant issue of 1960. The rival, Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.) told a weekend audience in Hartford, Conn. that the Eisenhower administration has "sadly depleted this country's international credit balances of good will."

Humphrey and Kennedy have entered the April 5 presidential primary in Wisconsin. The state will have 21 votes at the Democratic National Convention in Los Angeles. Humphrey, who concludes his four-day tour of Wisconsin today, outlined his "bill of rights for 1960." He told a Milwaukee meeting Saturday the nation needs more social security, more government housing, and more federal aid to education. As President Eisenhower prepared to leave on a tour of Latin America, Kennedy had this to say of the last goodwill mission to Asia: "The parades through the streets of Karachi, New Delhi and Kabul are not substitute for policy."

Guard Wins Praise For Special Alert

Top officers of the 36th Infantry and the 49th Armored Division praised the more than 18,000 National Guardsmen who went on a special practice alert Sunday morning. Spokesmen said the operation was a complete success. "I'm highly gratified at the result of our alert," Maj. Gen. Carl Pinney, commander of the 36th Division said. "This alert came as a complete surprise to all but a few of my staff at the division level. It proves that our alert plan is successful and that we are capable of fulfilling our mission as minute men of the United States." Brig. Gen. Harley West, assistant commander of the 49th, said the exercise was a success and showed the need for such tests at least once a year. The alert began at 5:15 a. m. and within two hours the 36th reported 90 per cent of its personnel had reported and the 49th said 85.5 per cent of its personnel were on duty. The alert was designed to test the efficiency of the two divisions in mustering their members in case of an actual alert. Big Spring National Guardsmen fell out an hour after receiving Sunday's surprise practice alert. Capt. Elton Wallace, commanding officer of Battery A, 3rd Rocket Howitzer Battalion, 132nd Artillery of the 49th Armored Division, said he was pleased with the attendance record. He added it would have been better, but several men are away on active duty. The local unit set up positions in the Colorado City vicinity and carried through problems as though the practice alert was a national emergency. The alert was rounded here at 6:24 a. m.

Rehearing To Be Sought On Reversal

Hartman Hooser, attorney for Edgar L. Meeks, Big Spring radio and television repairman, said Monday he would file immediately a motion for rehearing of his client's case. An Eleventh District Court of Civil Appeals ruling reversed and rendered a 118th District Court judgment here in favor of Meeks over the Texas & Pacific Railway Company for $38,000 damages. Action of the appeals court in "reversing and rendering" in the appeals case held that Meeks was not entitled to a judgment. In other words, it ruled for the T&P and against Meeks. The opinion written by Judge Cecil Collins held that the district court had erred in submitting issues concerning discovered peril. It also ruled that the defendant railroad had no time to take any action to avert the collision (over which the suit developed) at the time the peril was discovered. Hooser said that if the motion for rehearing is overruled, he will appeal the case to the State Supreme Court. Meeks was involved with a T&P switch engine and a short train of box cars in a collision on April 18, 1958. The accident occurred one and a half miles west of Big Spring where a spur line serves Webb AFB. As a result of this collision, Meeks filed suit for $40,000 damages against the railroad. The case was tried in April 1959 and a judgment for $38,000 was awarded to Meeks.

Talking Burglars Involve Chicago Cops In Trouble

CHICAGO (AP) — More talking burglars have jolted the scandal-stricken Chicago police department anew with fresh charges that more than 20 policemen were involved with a gang specializing in swank Gold Coast robberies. Acting Commissioner Kyran Phelan said Sunday night that evidence found by Irvin Cohen, head of the mayor's investigation office, and Lt. John Neurauter, head of the burglary detail, linked the policemen—hitherto untouched by the scandal—to the ring. Phelan said the investigation indicated that the newly involved officers allegedly accepted bribes—at least one of $1,000—to protect members of the gang. Those newly involved, said Phelan, were attached to the Summerdale District, scene of the early scandal, and the burglary detail. The evidence was uncovered, Phelan said, after Cohen and Neurauter went to Stateville Prison in Joliet and questioned four convicted burglars. He identified them as Harry Mefford, 34, Richard Aloia, 31, Richard Kelley, 25 and Casimir Boniakowski, 31. They are serving terms ranging from 1 to 6 to 4 to 10 years after pleading guilty last November to burglarizing a department store. Neurauter said the four had committed several hundred robberies, most of them in the well-to-do Gold Coast. This is the third time that burglars' accusations have jarred the force in five weeks. Richard Morrison, 23, touched off the scandal Jan. 15 when he accused eight policemen from the North Side Summerdale District of aiding him on his looting forays. He charged six others had accepted bribes from him. Police Commissioner Timothy J.

O'Connor resigned and a special grand jury was called to probe the charges. Already 48 policemen have been suspended on civil service or criminal charges. Last week another four-man burglary ring implicated several policemen from the Damen District in a scheme to receive stolen goods. The Damen District is adjacent to Summerdale. The convicted burglars told Neurauter that in April 1959, while free on bond pending the outcome of one burglary case, they were apprehended by Summerdale policemen with the loot of three other burglaries. One convict said he paid $1,000 to a policeman to change the testimony of the arresting officers. Cohen and Neurauter said that further statements implicated more than a score of former members of the burglary detail.

Guilty Pleas In Prospect, Says Burns

Wayne Burns, county attorney, said that he believed several defendants listed for trial this week on the Howard County Court criminal docket, will enter pleas of guilty Monday afternoon. Burns said that Judge Ed Carpenter was to sound the docket at 1:30 p. m. The county attorney said that attorneys representing a number of the persons listed on the docket have informed him their clients will enter guilty pleas. A listing of all of the other cases which are ready for trial will be made when the docket has been announced. A jury panel will report to the County Court on Tuesday morning. Jury trials will be scheduled for the remainder of the week through Friday. Twenty-three cases have been set down for disposition this week. Burns said it was possible some of these cases, those which have been on the docket for a considerable length of time, may be dismissed.

Three charges of DWI were filed in Howard County court Monday morning. Richard Jacob Winnik was released on posting $500 bond. Thomas Wayne Savell was also free on bail in the same amount. Luther Walker had not posted bond at noon.

Senete Rights Up In Air Until House Takes Action

WASHINGTON (AP) — Party leaders may decide this week whether to push ahead with a Senate version of a civil rights bill or wait for a House-passed measure. This issue remains up in the air — with the Democratic and Republican leaders divided over it — as senators begin their second week of talk about a series of proposals aimed primarily at guaranteeing Negro voting rights. Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas obviously believes that more practical progress could be made by delaying Senate action until the House passes a bill sometime after March 10. This course would involve acceptance by the Senate of the measure in the form the House

Two Cases Are Set For Trial

Judge Ralph W. Caton and Dist. Atty. Gil Jones plan to call the Rosa Bustamante sanity hearing as the first item on the agenda of the 118th District Court next Monday. The sanity hearing for the woman, accused of murder with malice, will not require more than three or four hours to try. Jones told the court. He said the question of the woman's present mental status and her mental condition at the time she allegedly caused the death of her young daughter in 1957 can be cleared out of the way by mid-afternoon on the first day of the docket. He plans to go to trial on Tuesday with the Juan Sanchez murder case. Sanchez, now 17, is indicted for killing Larry Arrio Vierra, also 17, to death on the night of Oct. 31, 1958. At that time, Sanchez was but 16 years of age and, under the law, a juvenile. He was sent to the Gatesville State Training School where he remained until he reached the age of 17. He was then indicted for the murder. Vierra was slain as climax to a juvenile gang fight on the parking lot south of the Ritz Theater.

Burglars Break Into 3 Schools

Burglars entered three Big Spring schools during the weekend, breaking door latches in each case. They broke into soft drink machines and police say very little money has been reported missing. Entered were the Park Hill, Airport and Washington Place buildings. About 30 cents is missing from the machine at Washington Place. Burglars taped the glass before breaking it, an officer said.

Flurry Of Minor Thefts Reported

A flurry of minor thefts was reported during the weekend, one of them involving post signs. Police said four post signs are missing from the Gollad Junior high school area. City street markers in this area are frequently hauled off, an officer said. Daniel Flores reported four hub caps and two fender skirts were taken from his car while it was parked at 300 NW 4th. A M. Hecker, 1903 Alabama, said two fender skirts were taken from his car some time Saturday night.

Methodist Men To Hear College Prexy

Dr. Gordon Bennett, president of McMurry College, will be in Big Spring Tuesday for the district report meeting of building finance campaign. Members of the Big Spring district will gather at 7 p. m. in the First Methodist Church. Reports are to be made regarding progress of the fund-raising campaign for the Cook Memorial Building on McMurry campus.

It Seems To Me

By DON RIDDLE

Twenty-one years ago this spring a tall skinny kid stepped into the batter's box in Boston's Fenway Park, assumed a left-handed stance and whacked Yankee twirler Red Ruffing's first pitch against the right field wall for a double. Ted Williams had his first major league hit.

Today at 41 he is known as "The Thumper" and his name fills the record books.

Because of his quick rise to success, Williams found it hard to adjust to the baseball life and drew much personal criticism from writers and fans.

But Ted's big bat still did the loudest talking and the Red Sox cash register echoed its utterances. Whether Bostonians came to see the splendid splinter send 'em over the wall or just to watch him go into tantrums when the crowds booed is immaterial. They all paid their $2.50.

Writers and fans disliked the rash rookie mainly because of his bountiful egotism. A news writer is reported to have asked Williams point-blank, "Did you tell Manager Joe Cronin that you were the best hitter in baseball?"

Ted's reply caused quite a commotion. "No, I don't think so," replied The Thumper. "I don't know how he found out."

Ted relates one of his greatest thrills was the All-Star game in 1951. The Nationals were ahead 5-3 going into the bottom of the 9th and Arky Vaughan was the big gun, having hit a pair of two-run homers for the senior circuit.

The AL pushed across one run. With two out and the score 5-4, Williams came up. He hit the fourth pitch into the right field bleachers for the winning 7-5 margin.

Ted looked far from the egotist he was put up to be that day. When he saw the ball disappear into the seats he jumped high in the air, clapping his hands. And as he rounded third not only did he tip his hat to the crowd, he waved it at arm's length above his head.

Such antics are rarely seen of Ted these days. He seems to resort to the reserved attitude of a craftsman simply doing a day's work.

In 20 years of action, no honor has escaped him. He has won every title accorded major league hitters; the runs batted in championship, the home run leadership, the batting title, the triple crown in hitting, and a 40% batting average.

Even today when the Beantown Beller steps in to take his cuts in the batting cage, a hush comes over those present. Everyone seems to sense the feeling that the master has taken over.

Bearcats End Season

Ponies Host Texas A&M

A three-way tie in the South-west Conference basketball race is due to be broken Tuesday night when two of the leaders, Southern Methodist and Texas A&M, clash at Dallas.

Texas, the other top squad, meets Baylor at Austin Tuesday night. A loss by the Longhorns could give the winner of the Aggie-Mutang tiffin undisturbed leadership.

All three squads have 8-2 conference records. Baylor and Arkansas are tied with 5-5 marks while Texas Tech (3-7), Texas Christian (2-8) and Rice (1-9) bring up the rear ranks.

Arkansas and Rice open this week's play at Houston Monday. TCU and Tech will face Fort Worth Tuesday night.

Friday the Aggies journey to Lubbock to engage Tech while Texas plays host to Arkansas.

The three leaders won handily in their Saturday night games. Texas slammed Texas Tech, 74-61; A&M defeated Arkansas, 82-61; and SMU crushed TCU, 90-67.

In the individual honors, Jay Annette of Texas clung to the scoring lead with 381 points. Carroll Broussard of A&M is second with 365 and Steve Strange of SMU is third with 352.

As the season enters its final two weeks Texas appears to be in the best position to make the NCAA playoffs. Should Texas wind up in a tie for the championship with SMU it would get the spot since it beat SMU twice this season. A tie with Texas A&M would mean a 1-game playoff since the teams split their series.

Should Texas, Texas A&M and SMU wind up in a three-way tie Texas would get the playoff spot in the event there was not time for a 2-game playoff. The conference season closes March 3 and if the league representative has to play an at-large team in the NCAA it would have to be March 8. In that event there would not be time for a 2-game playoff.

If there wasn't time for the playoff Texas would get the bid since it was in the NCAA the farthest away. Both Texas A&M and SMU have been in the NCAA playoffs since Texas.

An announcement is expected shortly on whether an at-large-team will have to be played.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

After HCJC's basketball troops had beaten Amarillo College in Amarillo for the third time this season, Coach Bob Carter of the Badgers' local mentor, and Travis the local mentor, remarked: "Well, you deserved to win this one."

The defeat was by a margin of 21 points. Earlier, the Hawks had bombed the Badgers by 31 and 18-point margins.

Carter apparently was of the opinion that the officiating had hurt his club in the two previous encounters. Both games were played here, by the way, but officials were imported from out of town for each contest.

The Badgers went on blitzing all opposition until they arrived here Feb. 12 for a West Zone encounter. Since that time, they haven't been able to beat anyone. They dropped five zone games in a row.

In the deer country up in Manitoba, Canada, a few weeks ago, a rookie game warden stopped by an old pickup truck and spotted someone back in the bushes, acting as if he were trying to hide.

The warden yelled at the furtive individual and called for him to come to him. The hunter moved over and proved to be an elderly person. He had on a coat that was quite bloody.

"Look's like you got your deer. Where's your license?" "I can't remember," replied the hunter.

He got a lecture from the warden, who stressed the seriousness of hunting without a license.

"I suppose we'll have to take you and the deer in," the warden stated. "Where is it?" "About three miles thataway," the weary-looking nimiral said, pointing.

"It was a long, back-breaking task, but with the warden doing most of the work, they finally got the deer up to the road. The warden started loading it into his station wagon.

"You might as well put 'er in my truck," the older said. "I just remember about my license. It's right here. Much obliged for the help."

Don't be too hard on the basketball officials, who must try to maintain order in enclosed areas when two people screaming can often sound like 30, where both benches can be antagonistic and both coaches are apt inclined to lend solace in the most trying moments.

Most coaches will tell you their department is not exemplary when a game goes right down to the wire and a field goal will swing the issue either way. They're apt to say things they uncomfortably think about later.

A few years ago, one of the South's best known arbiters stood in a lonely official's room of one of Dixie's largest arenas and confessed frustrations unknown to 13,000 fans who had witnessed the game.

"It's like this," he said, on the verge of tears. "That coach chews me out before 13,000 people upstairs and I am called every name in the book and booed for five minutes.

"Just a few seconds ago, he came and apologized to me... in this small room where we were alone with only the four walls to hear us. Only he and I know that he was wrong; 13,000 people think I was the culprit."

Squaw Valley Show Pays Off For The Promoters

A threatened fiasco has turned into a booming success for the American organizers of the eighth winter Olympics.

The only element lacking now to widen the Yank smiles here is a gold medal. But the Americans probably will have to wait until Tuesday to collect one of those cherished prizes.

Once again it will be up to the girls. That means Carol Heiss, the queen of the figure skaters from Ozone Park, N. Y., and those daring New England skiers, Penny Pitou of Gilford, N. H., and Betsy Snite of Norwich, Vt., in the giant slalom on Tuesday.

Sunday's medals went to Sweden's Kias Lestander in the biathlon (cross country skiing and shooting) with a time of 1 hour, 33 minutes, 21.6 seconds; Switzerland's Roger Staub in the giant slalom in 1:46.3; and the Soviet Union's Lidija Skoblikova in the women's 1,500 meter speed skating. The 20-year-old Soviet student broke the world record by three-tenths of a second with a time of 2:25.2.

The speed skating triumph plus solid placings in other events sent the Soviet point score soaring to 634. The Soviet athletes have the unofficial team title all but sewed up again. Sweden was second with 29. Germany with 23 and the U.S.A. fourth with 16.

Miss Heiss, the four-time world champion and 1956 Olympic silver medalist, had piled up a commanding lead after four compulsory figures in the figure skating championship.

The 20-year-old, honey-haired blonde cuts her fifth and final school figure today. By the time the judges get through counting, she should be so far ahead that no one will be able to catch her in the free skating finale Tuesday morning. She had 626.00 points to 580.5 for her closest rival, Sjoukje Dijkstra of Holland.

When it comes to free skating, the four-minute exhibition to music, Carol is the greatest of them all now and perhaps of all time.

Clear and sunny weather—the perfect kind that lured 32,000 spectators here on Saturday and 47,000 more on Sunday—was expected to attract another throng of 25,000-plus to this tiny, festive valley cupped in the High Sierra.

The United States routed Australia's green hockey team, 12-1 Sunday, and advanced to the final six-team championship tournament. The other five teams in the round-robin are the Soviet Union's defending champions, Canada, Sweden, Czechoslovakia and Germany.

Midland Will Host Austin

MIDLAND (SC)—Midland will host El Paso Austin in bi-district basketball play here Tuesday night.

Midland won the right to hold the game when coach Bob Todd of the Bulldogs called the coin toss correctly in a meeting with Austin officials at El Paso over the weekend.

The winner of the game contests the survivor in the District 3-4A-4A playoff.

Austin clinched its title Friday night by defeating El Paso Tech, 80-50. Austin finished conference play with a 14-2 win-loss record. Overall, the Panthers were 22-4. The team is coached by Paul Stueckler.

Eddie Machen To Oppose Billy Hunter On Friday

Eddie Machen and Ingemar Johansson will be in town this week, but not in the same ring. Ingo knocked out Machen in one round in 1958 in Sweden to near his shot at Floyd Patterson's heavyweight title.

Johansson is due back to make TV appearances and do some more talking about a rematch contract with him, is boxing Billy Hunter on Friday night at Madison Square Garden.

Machen lost his last start to Zora Foley in a dull bout, Jan. 18. Once tied with Foley as the No. 1 challenger, the Redding, Calif., heavy now is No. 5 in both the National Boxing Assn. and Ring ratings. He has won seven out of eight since the Johansson disaster for a 34-2-1 record.

Hunter has been climbing fast on the strength of a knockout and decision over Alex Miteff and a knockout of Tony Anthony. The Detroit scrapper is No. 7 in the NBA and No. 6 in the Ring ratings.

The bout will be carried on network (NBC) radio and television.

Ace Armstrong, the Elizabeth, N. J., middleweight, will try to get even for the only defeat in his 19-month career, when he meets Dick Tiger, the British Empire middleweight champ from Nigeria, in a Chicago Stadium match Wednesday (ABC-TV).

Tiger, an active fighter since he was brought to America, is rated No. 8 by both NBA and Ring. Armstrong is No. 9 with the NBA but unranked by Ring.

In their latest starts, Armstrong whipped Rudy Ellis in 10 rounds, Dec. 17, and Tiger won over Holly Mims, Dec. 30.

Sonny Liston, the Philadelphia Negro, with designs on Ingemar Johansson's heavy title, boxes Tuesday at Miami Beach against Howard King of Reno. Nev. Davey Moore, the world featherweight champ, strays far afield to Caracas, Venezuela, Monday where he meets Sergio Caprari of Italy in a nontitle bout.

The jinxed match between Bob Olson and Ellsworth (Spider) Webb is off again.

Webb, the No. 1 contender to champion Gene Fullmer in the NBA middleweight ratings, will box Roryah Calhoun of White Plains, N. Y., a sub for Olson who "ran out" according to matchmaker Benny Ford. Webb is the only man to knock out Calhoun. They will box Friday at the San Francisco Cow Palace.

State Tourney Starts In Hawk Gym Monday

Champions and runnersup of the four zones composing the Texas Junior College Basketball conference will converge upon Big Spring next Monday to open play in the annual State Tournament.

Play is officially ticketed to get under way at 1:30 p.m., one week from today. The meet will be concluded the following day.

HCJC of Big Spring, a member of Zone Four or the West Zone, as it is more popularly identified, is assured of a spot in the meet. If the Hawks beat Lubbock Christian College here tomorrow night, they will oppose the Zone One runnerup.

Zone One is composed of Lee JC of Baytown, Lutheran, San Antonio, South Texas, Temple and Schreiner Institute.

Right now, San Antonio, South Texas and Schreiner appear to be the best bets to compete here.

Here are the remainder of the pairings:

Zone Three champion vs Zone Two runnerup, Zone Two champion vs Zone Three runnerup, Zone One champion vs Zone Four runnerup.

Zone Two is composed of Blinn, Cisco, Navarro and Ranger. Zone Three consists of LeTourneau Tech, Panola, Allen Academy, Decatur and Weatherford.

Zone Four, of course, has seven teams. In addition to HCJC, they are Frank Phillips, Amarillo, Odessa, Lubbock Christian College, South Plains and Clarendon.

Frank Phillips has already won the other spot in the meet and has an outside chance at tying HCJC for first place.

Competing teams don't go beyond the state level in this tournament.

However, all clubs have a chance to try for trips to the National meet at Hutchinson, Kansas, in the state's two Regional tournaments, one of which is held in Amarillo and the other in East Texas.

Teams entered into Regional play are picked off their overall records, rather than conference play.

Big Spring will be hosting the state tournament for the first time in history.

BERTHS AWAITING CHAMPS

By DON WEISS Associated Press Sports Writer

Until the major conference races straighten out, officials of the National Invitation (NIT) and the NCAA will have to sit on their hands waiting to wind up the fields for the two big post-season college basketball tournaments.

The way it looks now, the straightening out will take the better part of two weeks—leaving the tournament committees up in the air until only a few days before both get under way.

The NCAA championships, made up of 14 major conference representatives and either 11 or 12 at-large selections, begin preliminary play March 7.

That—just to give you an idea of the importance of the conference muddles—could be two days before the champion of the powerful Missouri Valley Conference—top-ranked Cincinnati or Bradley, ranked No. 2 nationally—is crowned if a league playoff is required.

The NIT, opening in New York March 10, has eight teams selected and waiting for the results of the Missouri Valley, Skyline and Middle Atlantic conference races to complete its field.

It will take the runner-up in each conference, and perhaps the Mo. Valley's No. 3 team, strong St. Louis. So far, none of those appears in line for quick settlement although the Skyline favorite could be established this week when Utah and Utah State, tied for the lead, meet at Utah State Saturday.

Stamps In The News

By SYD KRONISH
AP Wirephotos

One of the most prosperous little islands in the world has just issued a new set of stamps featuring 15 varieties of birds. The Falkland Islands, British colony in the South Atlantic about 480 miles northeast of Cape Horn, has released these stamps which also depict a portrait of Queen Elizabeth II and the St. Edward's Crown.

After difficult beginnings, the settlers, mostly Scottish (today more than 2,500), grew steadily more prosperous from the proceeds of their sheep herding until by 1885 the colony became entirely self-supporting. Today, claim the British, it is a land with no unemployment.

Postmaster Arthur E. Summerfield announces that a 4-cent "Famous American" stamp honoring Andrew Carnegie will be issued Nov. 25 in New York City. It will be similar in design to others in the series issued intermittently since 1940. The date of issuance coincides with the 50th anniversary of the founding of the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace.

Summerfield also announced that the 50-Star Flat stamp will be first placed on sale at Honolulu, Hawaii, on July 4. Details of this stamp will be given in this column as soon as they are received.

Minkus Publications has issued five new and up to date albums in their line of Individual Country Albums. Each space in the albums includes catalogue numbers. The new albums are Belgium and Colonies; Netherlands and Colonies; Japan; Panama, Colombia & Canal Zone; Tunisia, Libya & Morocco.

Austria has announced that, due to the increase in its postal rates starting Feb. 1, many new stamps will be issued. The first are part of the Austrian "Buildings" series. Included are a 1.40-schilling showing a building in Klagenfurt, 1.80-S depicting a hall in Tyrol, 3.40-S displaying Krens on the Danube, 4.00-S Hainburg, 5.50-S Feldkirch, 6.00-S Graz, 6.40-S Innsbruck.

If you collect United Nations stamps or are about to start such a collection, you can obtain an album for these issues for only 10 cents (to cover the cost of postage and handling). The pages are standard size, punched to fit any three-ring binder and contain spaces for all U. N. stamps up to and including 1959. The album also contains helpful tips on U. N. stamp collecting. Just write to U. N. Stamp Album, New York Stamp Exchange, 79 Wall Street, New York 5, N. Y. and enclose the dime.

Miami Death Ruled Suicide

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—The shooting of a Miami Beach divorcee, who was a friend of James M. Cox Jr., president of the Miami News, has been ruled a suicide by the county medical examiner.

Cox told police Anita Rogers, 37, shot herself Sunday during a loud discussion. Police said the shooting occurred at the home of Mrs. Rogers' mother, Mrs. Frank Gabriel. They had attended a funeral and had eaten dinner at a friend's home before coming to Mrs. Gabriel's home.

Cox told officers he and Mrs. Rogers were having a loud discussion about her step-father's funeral and about her friends when she became very emotional. "You're doing me wrong," he quoted her as telling him. "You should have married me — you're no good."

Mrs. Rogers had been divorced for several years. Cox is married now but has been twice divorced. Cox said before he realized what she was doing, Mrs. Rogers pulled a gun from her purse, put it against her left chest and shot once.

Cox married Betty Lippitt Jr. in March 1958 after a divorce from Jan Sireate, former Miami News employe. His first marriage was to Helen Ramsey, in 1930. They were divorced in 1951. Cox, son of the late James M. Cox, former governor of Ohio and 1920 Democratic presidential nominee, heads the Atlanta Journal, the Atlanta Constitution, the Dayton Daily News, the Dayton Journal Herald, the Springfield, Ohio, Daily News and the Springfield Sun.

Also part of the Cox properties are television stations WSOC-TV and radio station WSOC in Charlotte, N.C.; WSB and WSB-TV in Atlanta, WJHO and WJHO-TV in Dayton and part ownership of television station WCKT and WCKR radio in Miami.

Police said Mrs. Rogers was arrested five days ago on a charge for trespassing at the Cox home. Last February Cox filed a Circuit Court complaint that the woman was trying to break up his third marriage.

Olympic Scenes Destroy Illusion

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — CBS' live coverage of the Olympic winter games has, if nothing else, destroyed one great illusion.

By careful selection of material, at least two generations of motion picture newsreel cameramen have fostered the impression among hearth-bugging Americans that nine out of 10 skiers land in plaster casts instead of on their feet.

By my count, only three out of more than 60 contestants took spills during Sunday's slalom and 60-meter jumping events at Squaw Valley. One broke his ski. No one was hurt.

The events were fascinating to watch. Interest flagged only when the cameras turned from the slopes to the experts.

Andrea Lawrence, a champion girl skier turned CBS girl commentator, for instance, knew how to ski better than how to explain the slalom.

The CBS staff men on the scene acted as if they had never seen snow before, much less a ski slope. It would be more effective just to give us the vital statistics and let us draw our own conclusions about the competition.

"Shadow of a Soldier," NBC's Sunday American Heritage drama was a superficial, once-over-lightly treatment of the career of Gen. U. S. Grant.

The play was based on the thesis that Grant fought his greatest battle writing his memoirs in a race against cancer. But this used only as a springboard for some flashbacks to his Army career.

At the end it was obvious that Grant was a gentle hero and an incomparable general but that was about it.

Liquor Law Snags Actor

BOMBAY, India (AP)—Fredric March and his wife were free on bail today after their arrest in Madras state on charges of violating India's liquor prohibition laws. The veteran actor described the incident as "unfortunate."

Police arrested March, his actress wife, Florence Eldridge, Dr. Burrill Crohn of New York and his wife, and two others Saturday after finding four ounces of liquor in the physician's medicinal case. March pointed out it was normal procedure for doctors to carry small amounts of liquor.

The party was returning from a visit to a game sanctuary in Kerala state when authorities stopped them, contending their car was operating as a taxi without a permit.

After the liquor was discovered, the group was taken to a magistrate's court 32 miles away. A travel agency representative posted bail of $16,840 and was authorized to represent the group in future court proceedings. March and his companions went on to Ceylon, continuing a Far Eastern tour.

Prohibition is enforced in many parts of India, but tourists usually are allowed to keep specified amounts brought with them.

The actor said the incident was an unfortunate end to a "very pleasant" month-long tour of India.

Spears Charges Police Shakedown

DALLAS (AP)—Robert Vernon Spears, questioned about the possible bombing of an airplane in which 42 persons died, has charged members of the Los Angeles Police Department with a shakedown in connection with an abortion ring.

Spears, a 65-year-old Dallas naturopath who faces abortion charges in Los Angeles, told his wife a well-known criminal attorney served as middleman between abortionists and Los Angeles police, the woman said Saturday.

She made the statements in a recorded interview with Eddie Barker, news director of KRLD-TV and KRLD radio in Dallas.

Spears was recently convicted of car theft and sentenced to five years in federal prison.

The search for the National Airlines plane that crashed into the Gulf of Mexico Nov. 16 is to resume shortly, officials said.

The Navy will resume its search at the request of the Civil Aeronautics Board which wants to inspect the plane to determine if a dynamite explosion caused it to crash. A search for the plane was abandoned earlier this month.

Mrs. Spears said her husband told her police officers involved in the abortion payoff "were people who had connections in the Los Angeles Police Department whereby one of the officials and those that worked under him did and would accept bribes."

She said her husband had no fear of going to jail in Los Angeles because of the abortion charge against him.

Mrs. Spears said the names of the officers "have been given to the authorities and I'm sure they'll check them out."

Julian Blodgett, chief investigator for the Los Angeles District attorney's office Saturday said "We have developed no evidence to substantiate the allegations at this time."

Spears bought a $100,000 life insurance policy in September and purchased a ticket in Miami to board the airplane that crashed. It was later learned that a friend of his used the ticket.

Spears disappeared after the crash and was arrested by the FBI in Phoenix, Ariz., Jan. 20, on charges of car theft.

Mrs. Spears told newsmen her husband wanted her to collect the insurance money so she and their two small children would be able to live comfortably.

William A. Turka, at whose Spears stayed in Arizona, said he found a case of dynamite in a small building near his home after Spears left.

7 Children Die In Fire

BERLIN, Ohio (AP) — Seven children were buried to death Sunday night in a flash fire which ripped through two bedrooms at the rear of a one-story frame home on the south side of this college town.

Fire department officials said the flames were fed by oil from a faulty heater.

Two four-year-old boys and three adults escaped unharmed. The adults, Lucille Isom, 24, and Mary Malone, 20, sisters, were with their mother, Sylvia Malone, in the front part of the seven-room home.

The victims, all Negroes, were five Isom children: Sheila, 8, Linda, 5, Dennis, 3, Marshelle, 1½, and William, 6 months; and two Malone children, Diane, 3, and Martin Jr., 2.

Lyndon Slaps Castro Regime

DALLAS (AP)—The Communist conspiracy to invade the Western Hemisphere "took its biggest step forward" recently "right at our doorstep," Sen. Lyndon Johnson told Texans Sunday.

Johnson, speaking over radio, spoke about a recent trade agreement between Cuba and Russia.

He said the trade pact was "more than a simple commercial agreement."

"There is a question of economic penetration," the senator said.

One of the most interesting facts, he said, "is that (Anastas) Mikoyan made it clear at a press conference that the $100 million loan would be accompanied by Soviet technicians who would help the Cubans."

Mikoyan is Russia's second-ranking communist.

Under the Russian-Cuban trade agreement Russia will buy a million tons of Cuban sugar each year and will lend Cuba $100 million at 2½ per cent interest, payable over 12 years. The agreement was signed in Havana last week.

Johnson said the agreement was one of the classical patterns of communist penetration.

"There is nothing new in the story except for one very basic and important fact—it has happened right at our doorstep."

The trade agreement said Cuba would buy "equipment, machinery and materials" from Russia.

Mikoyan told reporters the agreement could include the sale of jet fighters to Cuba, Johnson said.

Poage Thoroughly Enjoys Tilts With Farm Chief Benson

By TEX EASLEY AP Special Service WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Bob Poage of Waco, born and reared on a farm in Throckmorton County, enjoys the continuing scrap that he and other House Democrats wage with Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson.

It is obvious from Poage's performance on these occasions that he thoroughly enjoys bearing the Cabinet member.

Few things Benson has done have met with Poage's approval, and the public appearances of Benson on Capitol Hill sometimes have provided a chance for the two to air their conflicting views face to face.

As chairman of a House Agriculture subcommittee, Poage set the tone on farm legislation hearings by declaring that the administration's policies since 1952 have been eliminating farmers instead of surpluses.

Among bills pending before the subcommittee is Poage's own "Family Farm Income Act of 1960," a measure designed to do away with surpluses. It would provide for acreage control of crops and "payment in kind" out of existing government-owned stocks of commodities, which then would be marketed.

3 Bodies Found In Plane Wreck

ALPINE, Tex. (AP)—A cowboy found the wreckage of a plane Sunday containing three bodies in a deep canyon in this isolated area of the Big Bend country near the Mexican border.

The bodies were identified as Wert Love and Jim Harrington, both 28, of Marfa, Tex., and a Mexican national, Fred Gado.

Darrell York spotted the wreckage in a canyon as he worked cattle on the Clovis Moore Ranch, four miles west of Sawtooth Mountain.

The plane had been missing since Jan. 4 when it left here en route to Presidio, Tex.

Burro Club, composed of some 200 male assistants to Democratic members of Congress.

Jim is administrative assistant to Sen. Ralph Yarborough.

A former government teacher at Arlington State College, Boren is but the last of several Texans who have presided over the Burro Club in recent years.

Directors of the club have included Craid Raupe, (Rep. Jim Wright, Fort Worth); Larry King (Rep. J. T. Rutherford, Odessa);

Ed Brooks, brother of Rep. Brooks and member of a House committee staff.

Olin Teague of the Bryan-Coriscana district, a postal employee before election to Congress, is impressed by the latest developments in mail distribution demonstrated at a recent convention here of postal clerks.

Returning to his office, he wrote the National Federation of Post Office Clerks and told them he would support a pending bill giving clerks additional compensation for learning latest "schemes" designed to speed up delivery.

A bill to declare old Ft. Davis a national historic site has been introduced by Rep. J. T. Rutherford of Odessa. He proposed that the National Park Service restore the fort which was built in the Big Bend country in 1854 when Jeff Davis was Secretary of War.

Hill Midwife Is Dead At 113

MANCHESTER, Ky. (AP)—Aunt Josie Jackson Sizemore, legendary midwife who roamed the mountains on horseback for 40 years, is dead, apparently from old age.

She said she was 113, had 500 descendants and had delivered 5,000 babies "up and down them hollows and branches" in the Kentucky and Tennessee hills.

At a celebration in her isolated mountain cabin last September, Aunt Josie told thousands of well-wishers: "Come back next year. I'm gonna have another birthday."

Funeral services are pending. Many of the persons she helped into the world—often at no payment—flocked to her annual birthday observances.

Strike Fund

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Telephone workers are setting aside three days salary to establish a strike fund in case the contract negotiations fall through and a walkout is called next March.

BETTER-BRAKES...BUICK '60

BRAKES HATE HEAT! Buick's fin-cooled Aluminum Drums get rid of heat quicker so you're safer!

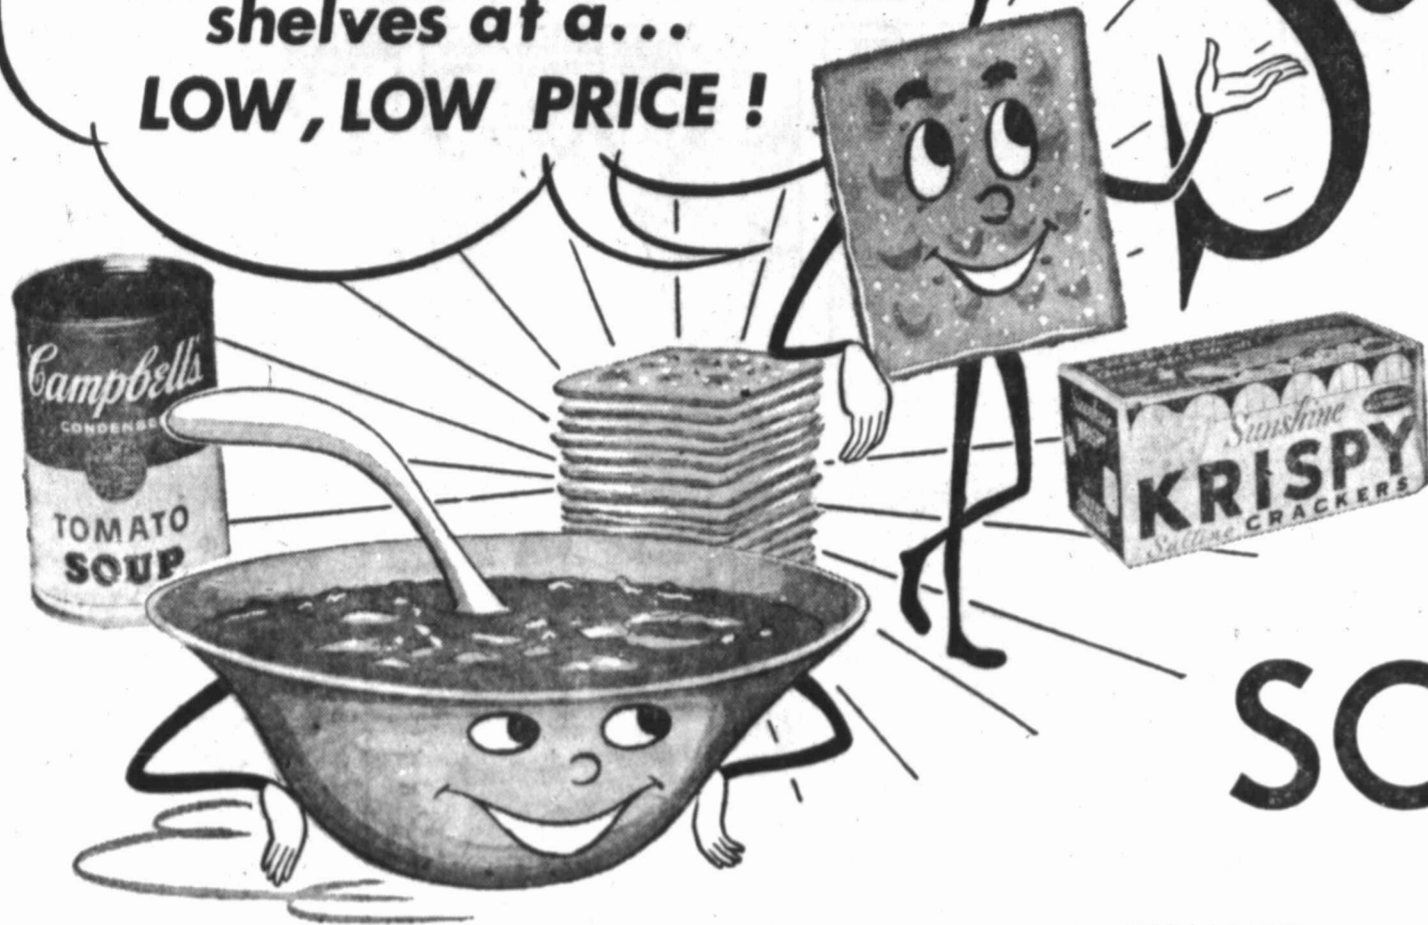

Brakes generate their own worst enemy—terrific heat. Excessive heat is bad because it may cause brakes to lose part of their effectiveness. So the faster you can dissipate it, the better off you are.
