Lyndon, Symington Official Candidates

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas and Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo.) are official candidates now for the Democratic presidential nomination.

The two presidential hopefuls backed into the race Wednesday with separate announcements they would not withdraw their names from the May 20 Oregon presidential primary. Both still avoided any direct statements that they are candidates.

Johnson said he was too involved in the Senate filibuster on civil rights to give any attention to outside political matters. But he said he has "no plans to act in any way on the Oregon action."

This meant he would not file an affidavit with the Oregon secretary of state to take his name off the ballot. Oregon law requires that all nationally recognized candidates be named. They can withdraw only by filing a statement disavowing candidacy.

Johnson's announcement was interpreted as indicating he has not lost hope he can combine Southern and Western backing in a serious challenge for the nomination.

Johnson's Southern support has been shaken by his action in bringing the civil rights issue before the Senate. Some of his Dixie colleagues have sent word to him they don't think they can hold their state delegations for him if he eventually votes for a debate limitation to end the current Southern filibuster, which he may have to do.

Without strong Southern backing, Johnson may not be in a position to challenge Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.), an announced candidate. Kennedy has been saying recently that Johnson is his biggest rival but that was before the civil rights controversy exploded.

Kennedy's name, put into the Oregon contest by the state secretary of state, will stay there along with those of Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn.) and Sen. Wayne Morse (D-Ore.).

Adlai E. Stevenson, twice the party nominee, already has arranged to withdraw. He also is staying out of the May 3 District of Columbia primary.

Kennedy's strategists say they expect Morse to win the Oregon primary. A respectable race against Morse would satisfy them. If Kennedy could beat Morse on his home grounds, they think that would about cinch the nomination for him.

Kennedy's decision Wednesday not to contest with Gov. Edmund G. (Pat) Brown for California's 81-vote delegation evidently reflected the Massachusetts senator's feeling that he doesn't need to undertake desperation tactics to win the nomination.

Instead, Kennedy has put the big bet down that the April 5 Wisconsin primary will give him the momentum to win the nomination. His friends figure that if he beats Humphrey there, it will help him dispose of the Minnesota senator in their May 10 clash in West Virginia's primary.

Sen. Leverett Stalton (R-Mass.) has a smile of relief as he slips on his moccasin style bedroom slippers while sitting on an improvised bed in his office in the Capitol. All senators were required to remain in the vicinity of the Senate chamber where civil rights legislation continued in 24-hour sessions.

IBM-Minded Broker Charged In Fund Theft

A YEAR WITH NO DEATHS IN TRAFFIC

NEW YORK (AP) — A Wall Street broker with an expert knowledge of electronic business machines and a yen for gambling and high living has confessed all to the district attorney.

"All," according to Dist. Atty. Frank S. Hogan's office, amounted to approximately $700,000, stolen over a period of eight years from Walston and Co., Inc., members of the New York Stock Exchange.

But Frank B. Haderer, 50, an $18,000-a-year Walston vice president, can be charged with only $170,000 of the thefts because of the statute of limitations.

Big Spring has completed an entire year with no traffic fatalities, according to records of James Eubanks, executive secretary of the Citizens Traffic Commission, and Sgt. Stanley Bogard, police traffic division.

It has been 367 days since the last person was killed in a traffic mishap inside the city limits. That one occurred when Dolores Carrillo died in a crash at NW 4th and Trades.

Both traffic specialists urged Big Spring motorists to continue driving carefully and extend the record indefinitely.

Buenos Aires (AP)—President Eisenhower flew north toward home today after a triumphant four-nation South American tour marked by huge, enthusiastic crowds and a smattering of tiny anti-U.S. demonstrations.

The President flew to Buenos Aires in his trusty Columbine III after a 21-hour stay in Montevideo, capital of neighboring Uruguay. He held a brief last meeting with Argentine President Arturo Frondizi, then took off in his Boeing 707 jet for an all-day flight to Puerto Rico and three days of rest before going on to Washington.

U.S. Air Force officials said the flight plan at the time of departure called for a refueling stop in Paramaribo, Surinam, after a flight of nearly six hours. That schedule would put the President in Puerto Rico late this afternoon (4:30 p. m. EST).

Eisenhower was smiling and in obvious good humor as he said goodbye to President Frondizi. They had a final 15-minute talk aboard the sleek jet just before it took off.

persons — including government officials, troops and some bystanders waiting to board commercial planes—looked on.

Walking up a long red carpet to his silver and orange jet, Eisenhower paused to say good-by to Ambassador and Mrs. Willard L. Beaulac.

SHORT CHAT

Eisenhower and Frondizi talked for 15 minutes aboard the jet before its departure.

Though the flight plan called for the refueling stop at Paramaribo, airport officials here said the plane might fly directly to Puerto Rico. They said the decision would be made aloft on the basis of winds and weather conditions.

The cheers of millions along the way through Brazil, Argentina, Chile and Uruguay kept Eisenhower smiling and in high spirits from the minute he reached South America on his historic goodwill mission 10 days ago.

Shrugging off the only hostile display that amounted to anything, in Montevideo Wednesday, he told Uruguayan President Benito Nardone that the jeers of leftist students did not bother him a bit.

The acrid fumes of tear gas fired by police at one group of demonstrators brought tears to Eisenhower's eyes, and spray from disciplinary fire hoses blew across the path of his open car, but he was not ruffled.

Ice, Snow Rip Into East As South Recovers From Blow

By The Associated Press

March storms hurled high winds and staggering loads of snow on the northeastern quarter of the nation today.

The wind-whipped snow closed schools and roads in the East and Midwest. Ice slowed travel in the South. A tornado struck in Florida.

All in all, it was the most widespread outbreak of wild weather of a rough winter.

Deaths mounted to 24. Included were 6 in Texas, 6 in Colorado, 3 in Kansas, 2 in Tennessee, 1 each in Mississippi, Iowa, North Carolina, Maryland, Indiana, Illinois and Missouri.

Damage to timber and power lines climbed into the millions. Snow fell in places as far apart as Portland, Ore., and New York City. It ranged to 9 inches in southern Illinois, 10 in Missouri, 12 in the North Carolina mountains and 20 in the mountainous areas of West Virginia.

Winds with gusts up to 46 m.p.h. drifted 5 inches of snow in Washington, D.C. Automobiles stalled and schools closed. Most flights were canceled at National Airport.

The worst snowstorm of the season shut some highways and most schools in Indiana. Drifts up to six feet clogged highways in the west-central section of the state.

Maryland was burdened by up to a foot of snow. Highways between Baltimore and Washington were virtually impassable because of stalled cars and trucks. State police placed all troops on continuous duty. City and state offices were closed in Baltimore.

Some highways were blocked in West Virginia, where the snow scaled up to more than 20 inches in the mountains.

All public and parochial schools were closed in Philadelphia.

The speed limit on the New Jersey Turnpike and Garden State Parkway was reduced from 60 to 30 m.p.h.

Gale warnings were posted in New York City, where 6 to 8 inches of snow was expected. The Sanitation Department assigned 7,500 men to clear the streets. Sixty-four flights were canceled at Idlewild Airport.

A tornado struck west of Orlando, Fla. At least six persons were injured. The twister demolished a house in Apopka, and overturned a trailer in Groveland.

Texas Exes Meet Today

Former students of the University of Texas will stage their annual Texas Independence Day celebration tonight, a day late, and the dinner meeting will be held at 7:30 p.m. in the Student Union Building on the HCJC campus.

The latter-day program came about because of the tight schedule of the guest speaker, Dr. Harry H. Ransom, provost at the university. He is known as a forceful speaker.

Tickets for the affair, at last report, numbered 85, but officials are hoping to see at least 60 ex-students turn out. Comparison with previous years would show 60 to be a good number.

Gil Jones will emcee the program, which in addition to Dr. Ransom will include annual election of officers, discussion of the scholarship program, a new constitution for the local group, and the singing of traditional "The Eyes of Texas."

This year's scholarship student is Charles (Doug) Burrage, HCJC graduate, and now attending Texas U.

Bitter Cold Follows Wake Of Ice Storms Into State

By The Associated Press

Four-fifths of the East Texas city of Marshall remained without electricity Thursday in the wake of what some called the worst ice storm there in 30 years.

Repair crews worked around the clock but best estimates were that full service could not be restored for several days.

The ice storm which struck Wednesday was part of a continuing siege of bad weather that brought snow and freezing rain. The bitter weather closed schools, disrupted traffic and left thousands of homes without electricity.

By Thursday morning, bitter cold gripped the state almost to the Texas coast. Lowest reported temperature was 4 degrees below zero at Pampa. Brownsville in far South Texas reported 45 degrees.

The freezing line around dawn ranged from just north of Beaumont and Houston through San Antonio.

Equally cold weather is expected for Friday morning, but skies are forecast to be clear to partly cloudy.

Loss of electricity meant that many homes were without heat because most types of central heating require power to operate.

Marshall also reported 100 to 150 telephone lines were inoperative.

The Panola Electric Co-Op which services rural areas in East Texas, said it expected to have the main line serving Harrison and Panola counties and adjacent Louisiana restored late Thursday and full service back by the weekend.

The ice storm came on the third day of freezing rain or snow in the northern half of the state.

Weathermen eyed a new low pressure system in Utah that possibly could bring more snow to the Panhandle by Friday night.

Spearman and Borger reported zero temperatures Thursday morning. Spearman had 3 to 4 inches of snow, Borger 3 inches and Pampa 4 inches.

Marshall also reported 100 to 150 telephone lines were inoperative.

Leach Removed To State Prison

COLORADO CITY — Mitchell County Deputy Sheriff Marcell Sheppard left for Huntsville on Wednesday with David Leach, 34-year-old Colorado Citian, who has a knack for escaping custody.

Leach had strolled from the 32nd District Courtroom here recently while a jury was deliberating his fate on charge of possessing firearms. When the jury returned with its verdict of guilty and a one-year sentence, Leach was long gone. Three days later he was recaptured at Pecos and Judge A. S. Mauzey pronounced sentence.

Leach also was charged with property damage in what county officials described as an attempt to break jail. Officials said that with James Reed, a cellmate, Leach was systematically taking their jail cell apart.

Leach entered a plea of guilty to a charge of willful damage and got another year, but it will run concurrently with his firearms term.

Brotherhood Program Set

Douglas Morris, Fort Worth, West Texas director for the National Conference of Christians and Jews, will be the speaker at the annual Brotherhood Week service club program Tuesday.

The Rotarians, Downtown Lions, and Kiwanis Clubs are meeting jointly for the occasion in the Settles and the ABClub was to act on an invitation at its Friday meeting.

Morris took his B. A. degree from Texas Wesleyan College in Fort Worth and then his D. D. degree from the Perkins School of Theology at SMU. Later he served as pastor of a Methodist church in a trouble spot in Fort Worth, later becoming business manager of the First Methodist Church in San Angelo. Last year he accepted the directorship of the West Texas area for the brotherhood work.

While here he will speak at the Goliad and Runnels Junior high schools, at the Senior and Lakeview high schools.

Dr. D. W. Hunt, president of Howard County Junior College is chairman of the Brotherhood Week activity. Morris comes here from a speaking engagement at Abilene and will go Wednesday to Amarillo for two days.

Injuries In Auto Mishap Are Fatal For Lamesan

LAMESA — Raymond Melvin Crouch, 38, died at 6:30 a.m. Wednesday in a local hospital as a result of injuries sustained in an automobile accident north of O'Donnell Monday.

Crouch had lived in Lamesa for the past 20 years. He was parts manager for the Kelley Implement Co. He was a member of the Methodist Church and also belonged to the Odd Fellows Lodge.

Survivors include his mother, Mrs. Florence Crouch, Lamesa; four sisters, Mrs. E. E. Nix, Ropesville; Mrs. G. C. Nesmith, Lubbock; Mrs. Johnny Thurman, San Angelo; Miss Mamie Crouch, Dallas.

Also included are four brothers, Leonard Crouch, Lamesa; Aubrey Crouch, Clovis, Calif.; Alton Crouch, Alpaugh, Calif.; Leland Crouch, Casa Grande, Ariz.

Funeral arrangements are pending at the Higginbotham Funeral Home.

Heart Seminar Plans Talked

Plans for the regional heart seminar for physicians here April 2 were outlined at a meeting of the local chapter officials Wednesday.

Here for the conference were Richard Dini, representative of the Texas Heart Association, and a Mrs. McPaw, Houston, head of the women's division.

Dr. Hugh Wilson of Southwestern Medical School in Dallas, and Dr. J. Willis Hurs, chairman of the Emory University College of Medicine in Atlanta, Ga. will be the lecturers. They will speak not only at the professional sessions, but also for the layman's banquet in the evening.

The local medical auxiliary, represented by Mrs. J. E. Hogan, is assisting in arrangements for the wives of visiting physicians, and a style show is planned at Cosden Country Club for them.

Working with state association officials on seminar plans are Dr. Josh Burnett, Permian Basin Chapter president, and Mrs. Larson Lloyd, local chairman.

Park Planting Project Ready

The rose garden for the city park will be ready for initial planting by the end of the week, according to Bruce Dunn, director of public works.

He said the walks would be marked out, however they would not be completed. The Big Spring Garden Club Council is to plant the garden. It will be located on the main drive through the park, south of the old pump house.

Water Consumption Gains In February

Water consumption in Big Spring took a jump forward in February as Big Springers opened their faucets for 40,941,000 gallons.

Cosden and Cabot Carbon Co. purchased an additional 33,913,000 gallons making the total take from Lake J. B. Thomas, 114,754,000 gallons of water. Big Spring customers used only 52,137,000 gallons in January and Cosden-Cabot used 34,731,000 gallons.

The total consumption through the first two months of the year is 211,622,000 gallons.

School People In West Texas Area Move In For Convention

School teachers and administrators from scores of schools in 14 West Texas counties will begin moving into Big Spring today for the two day convention of the West Texas Teachers Assn.

This will be the 25th convention of the organization and advance registrations indicate as many as 3,000 teachers may be here Friday.

S. M. Anderson, Big Spring, vice president of the association, said that the house of delegates banquet at 7:30 p.m. in the Hotel Settles is the only activity today. The credentials committee and the executive committee will meet at 4 p.m. at the Hotel Settles.

Anderson said that approximately 150 will be at the delegates banquet. Each school elects delegates to the WTSTA association on the ratio of one delegate for each 25 teachers.

The principal speakers and guests of honor of the convention—Frank Clement, former governor of Tennessee, Dr. James H. Jauncey, El Paso minister and leader in educational and religious activities, and Mrs. Mary Alexander, Palestine, Texas State Teachers Assn. president, will arrive on Friday.

Highlight of tonight's delegate banquet will probably be the report of the nominating committee. Anderson is a probable nominee as president of the association.

Floyd McCrury, Odessa, president of the association, is to be presiding officer at the banquet tonight. Hollis Lloyd, Big Spring, will ask the invocation. Dinner music is to be provided by Joan Bratcher.

Committee reports will be presented by C. W. Tarter, Lamesa; Anderson; Julius Johnson, Odessa; Ross Buckner, Seagraves; Walker Bailey, Big Spring; Tommy Thompson, Kermit; Dr. Herman Newsom, Odessa; and Joe Young, Seminole.

W. C. Blankenship, Big Spring, who was the association's first president 25 years ago, will conduct the necrology. G. L. Trice, Lamesa, with report on the TSTA membership campaign in District IV and George Archer, Gay Hill, on the NEA membership campaign. Frank Wilson, Colorado City, will report for the nominating committee.

Schools here and in the district will be closed on Friday to permit Big Spring teachers to participate in the convention, 41 sectional meetings, eight luncheon sessions and other activities.

General sessions, first of which will be at 10 a.m. Friday will be in the Municipal Auditorium. The second session will be at 4:30 p.m.

Special feature of the morning session will be the appearance of Mrs. Alexander, state president, and the first of two addresses by Frank Clement, colorful ex-governor of Tennessee.

McCrury will preside at the morning session, Anderson, as vice president, will preside at the second session, set for 4:30 p.m. Feature of this meeting will be the address by Dr. Jauncey.

Announcement of the new officers will also be made Friday afternoon.

Girls and boys from the student councils and honor societies of the high school and the junior high schools, under the direction of George Rice and Betty Lou Green, will also act as guides and messengers. Boy Scout troops also will aid.

Congressional Job Not Just Lawgiving

By TEX EASLEY
WASHINGTON (AP)—At one time a congressman's principal and almost exclusive function was to pass laws. Rep. Joe Kilgore (D) of McAllen, says things have changed.

"My responsibility to the people I represent does not end with the performance of legislative duties," Kilgore said in a report to constituents.

"Our federal government has become enormous in size and vastly complicated. Too often the individual feels lost and hopeless in his necessary contacts with this huge governmental machine.

"At times a congressman can help to cut the red tape and expedite action on a matter involving an individual citizen and one of the numerous government bureaus or agencies. When I can properly do so, I never hesitate.

NO PRESSURE

"This does not involve exerting pressure. It is a matter of 'knowing the ropes'—an awareness of short cuts that will help to keep one person's problems from being lost in a bureaucratic maze."

Years ago on the House floor, the late Rep. Luther Patrick of Alabama said: "A congressman has become an expanded messenger boy, an employment agency veteran's affairs adjuster, watchdog for the under dog, sympathizer with the upper dog, cornerstone layer, but it is getting harder every day to properly study legislation—the very business we are primarily here to discharge."

Kilgore, in similar remarks, said: "The people of the 15th District have a right to expect that I, as their representative in Congress, will study proposed legislation, attend carefully to debate in the House, and be present and vote when the time comes. That is what I try to do. This is a duty both to my constituents and to the people of the United States as a whole."

NOTE CONSCIENCE

One old timer in the Texas delegation, asked whether a congressman should vote the way he personally feels on an issue even though it may be entirely opposite the known views of the vast majority of his constituents, said: "Of course. A congressman has the advantage of knowing, or at least being aware of facts in many instances which are not generally known to his constituents. He should vote as he thinks will be in their best interest."

He then cited his vote and that of many others of the Texas delegation in favor of lifting certain neutrality laws prior to World War II, when public sentiment in Texas was against such a vote, because of a more acute awareness here of Hitler's growing menace.

AROUND THE CAPITAL:

U. S. Court of Claims Judge Marvin Jones, the Panhandle District congressman in the 1930s and War Food Administrator during World War II, in a recent speech gave his opinion of the number of people in this country who could capably serve in any post in government.

Alluding to his own experience in the three branches of service—legislative, executive, and judicial, Judge Jones said that in any community of 50,000 or more one could find qualified individuals capable of serving with distinction in any post from the presidency down.

District Scout Meeting Today

The regular monthly meeting of the Lone Star district of the Buffalo Trail Council will be held at 7:30 p.m. Thursday at the Cosden Country Club.

R. L. Tollett, district chairman, said that committee chairmen were contacting their members to encourage maximum attendance. Carl Campbell, chairman of the camping and activities committee, said that special attention would be given to the Round Up, the largest single event in the entire council each year in April, and then the district circus in May.

He said a meeting of the scouts Round Table would follow up on this planning at the old SUB building at HCJC on March 10.

Wives are encouraged to attend the district meeting, and the district chairman said there would be a coffee hour for them.

Scouts Plan For Outing To Plant Camp Shade Trees

Boy Scouts and Explorers are being alerted to a tree-planting campout at Camp Ed Murphy on March 11.

Plans are to pitch camp at the Buffalo Trail Council's aquatic camp site on the north side of Lake J. B. Thomas the evening of March 11 and to spend the next day in planting trees on the camp grounds.

Each boy is asked to bring a tree for planting, and henceforth it will be known as his tree. Some nurseries have agreed to furnish trees at a reduced price. (Mar-Vel has offered saplings at cost.) Boys may secure their trees from any source, transplanting those which may be given them by local residents.

Already friends of scouting have given some 50 trees through donations, and any boy who cannot secure a tree is urged to attend for a tree will be made available to him.

Prosecutor Pictures Carole As 'Lady MacBeth' Of Case

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A prosecutor says Dr. R. Bernard Finch's "whole soap opera was a lie."

And the society surgeon's mistress and co-defendant, Carole Tregoff, the prosecutor said, is a "latter-day Lady MacBeth" who was the "aggressor and instigator" in the slaying of the doctor's wife.

Finch, 42, and Miss Tregoff, 23, have been on trial since Dec. 8, charged with conspiracy and murder in the shooting of Barbara Jean Finch, 36, last July 18. The prosecution continues its final summation today, and the case may go to the jury Friday.

Deputy Dist. Atty. Fred N. Whichello—almost like a father confessor in his cross-examination of Finch during testimony—tore into the doctor Wednesday like a bristling Marine sergeant.

Whichello told the jury that the doctor is "a man without character and a man without principles" who has told "a self-serving piece of fiction in denying he killed his wife."

Furthermore, the prosecutor said, Finch is a man with a "weird, egocentric system of morals" who has told "a long series of lies."

Finch maintains a gun went off accidentally while he and his wife were struggling, but Whichello rejects this as an "obvious absurdity."

The next most absurd thing, Whichello said, was when the doctor declared at one point on the stand that he was "only trying to tell the truth."

Whichello began his denunciation of the doctor's story after the defense completed its three-day summation. Defense Attorney Grant B. Cooper argued that Mrs. Finch concocted stories about being beaten by her husband and spread them among her friends to increase her financial take in a divorce suit she had pending.

Cooper said John Patrick Cody, who has testified the doctor and Carole paid him to kill Mrs. Finch, fabricated his story in the hope of getting out of jail sooner.

(Cody, who said he never had any intention of killing anyone, is serving time in Minneapolis on a bad-check conviction.)

Cooper declared a man of the doctor's intelligence would never have plotted a murder in the manner the prosecution suggests.

"If Dr. Finch is a murderer," Cooper said, "he is the stupidest murderer I've ever come in contact with—a murderer who advertises to his wife in advance how he's going to do it."

This was an allusion to Cody's testimony and to testimony by the Finch, maid that Mrs. Finch once said the doctor threatened to have "somebody in Las Vegas" take care of her.

After Cooper concluded his argument and returned to the counsel table, Finch threw his arms around him and said:

"Thanks, Grant, you did a swell job."

Miss Tregoff sat stoically almost throughout the proceeding.

Teachers Pay Special Session Becomes Gubernatorial Issue

AUSTIN (AP)—Teachers pay raises appeared today as a growing major issue in the two-candidate race for governor.

Gov. Price Daniel and his only opponent, former Rep. Jack Cox, Breckenridge, broke out with a sharp exchange on the question of whether or not the governor has promised to call a special session of the Legislature for school improvements including the pay raise.

Daniel said Wednesday he has made no such promise "unless there was a reasonable chance of success."

"Any statement to the contrary is untrue," the governor said in a statement in which he also kept alive the prospects of such a special session.

Daniel did not call Cox by name. But last week Cox in a statewide television speech said that public school teachers have been "kept in a constant state of confusion" on the pay raise question.

Cox said they had been "promised a special session of the Legislature in September, then in January, and now the talk is about a session after the election in May. In the meantime, the governor checked every possible source available to see if this would be popular."

Daniel's statement Wednesday, which he said was to set the record straight on several matters, apparently was a direct reply to the Cox speech. It marked the first real campaigning of a race which thus far has not generated a great deal of public steam.

Daniel said he would either call a special session on school improvements including the $400 a year teacher pay raise after the May 7 primary, or recommend an even higher boost to the next regular session. The latter would be to "offset the loss caused by delay in its enactment," Daniel said.

The Texas State Teachers Assn., which has been lobbying vigorously for the Hale-Akin school program including pay raises, reacted quickly.

Mrs. Mary Alexander, Palestine, president of the association, said teachers had hoped and worked for earlier action.

"We recognize the problems faced by the governor and the Legislature," Mrs. Alexander said. "We also recognize the acute situation faced by the teachers and the public schools of the state, which requires action at the earliest possible time. In this connection we agree with Governor Daniel that it is far better to take care of the matter in a special session than wait until the regular session in 1961."

Daniel said his contacts with legislators revealed there is no chance of agreeing on how to finance the school program at a special session before the May primary. Most lawmakers believe the job needs to be done, he said, but don't think it can be done in 30 days.

The governor said the 1957 Legislature gave teachers a $400 annual salary raise on his recommendation. More needs to be done now, he added. Texas should do this with state money to sidestep federal controls, the governor continued.

Actor's Latest Fiancee Has Never Seen Him In Pictures

NEW YORK (AP)—Actor Sterling Hayden's latest bride-to-be can't recall ever seeing him in motion pictures.

"But I must have, as a girl," said Catherine McConnell, an attractive 28-year-old divorcee. "He certainly looked familiar when I met him here in New York."

That meeting, about three weeks ago, culminated in their wedding announcement Wednesday.

She said she met the 44-year-old actor through a mutual friend, adding: "Sterling was here to do a television show and he called me for a date. I accepted and we dated during most of the time during his stay. I liked him right away. He was charming, considerate—and handsome."

"He's an individualist, too, and not afraid to say what he thinks. That kind of honesty is rare nowadays."

Mrs. McConnell, a blue-eyed brunette, is the former Catherine Ann Devine of New York City. Her father, James J. Devine, was copublisher of the Clarksburg (W.Va.) Telegram and later a newspaper publishers' representative here.

Her eight-year marriage to Neil McConnell, an investment broker here, ended in 1958 in divorce. She has custody of their son Scott, 8.

Hayden formerly was married to actress Madeleine Carroll and Betty Ann de Noon, the mother of his four children. Both marriages ended in divorce. Hayden's children—in his custody—range from 6 to 10.

The actor, a controversial Hollywood figure over the years, got in trouble last year when he took his children on a voyage to Tahiti in defiance of a court order obtained by his second wife. A judge later let him off with a mild reprimand and a $500 fine.

"I plan on selling my apartment and moving to California—next week I hope," said Mrs. McConnell. She said they'll live in Belvedere-Tiburon near San Francisco.

Hayden's schooner, The Wanderer, is berthed right outside their door, she said.

Is she a good sailor? "I don't know, I never sailed," she said. "But I'll learn."

Korean Campaign Survivors May Refile Claims

Widows and orphans of World War II and Korean conflict veterans whose pension applications have been refused in the past should investigate the feasibility of refile under the new pension system, Ray Boren, contact representative, at the Big Spring Veterans Administration Hospital, said today.

The old pension law required that the veteran must have had some traceable service-connected disability before his dependents were eligible for pension benefits.

The new law becoming effective July 1, 1960, wipes out this restriction and makes it possible that some rejected applicants may now become eligible.

In like manner, applicants who were rejected because they received too great an annual income, may be benefited by the higher income limitations of the new law.

Boren said that full information about both the old and new pension systems can be obtained at any VA office.

More Sign-Up Days Open For The Soap Box Derby

Registration in the 1960 Soap Box Derby has already set a record, and as many as 100 boys may enter the event this year.

Sponsors expressed delight at interest exhibited thus far, as they stressed that other boys can register this Friday and Saturday. As for the past two weekends, all lads between the ages of 11 and 15, inclusive, are invited to register at Tidwell Chevrolet Co. on Friday from 1 to 6 p.m. and on Saturday from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. It is required that a boy's parent or guardian be present and join in the registration.

of the event, said that 74 boys have already signed. He thinks that a couple of dozen more will register this week. Registration is due to be concluded soon.

The local race will be run in June, and boys can start to work immediately on coasters that may carry them to fame and fortune. The local winner, of course, gets a free trip to Akron, Ohio, and opportunity to participate in the All-American Soap Box Derby in August. There, the top prize is a $5,000 college scholarship.

The local race again is sponsored by the Downtown Lions Club, The Herald, and Tidwell Chevrolet.

Hendrix Has Busy Schedule Judging In Organ, Piano

Jack Hendrix, head of the department of music at Howard County Junior College, is much in demand this spring as a judge in piano and organ contests.

On March 5 he is to join with Herbert Colvin of Baylor University and Lawrence Hart of the University of Colorado in judging the eighth annual piano and organ competition at West Texas State College.

Then on April 1-2, for the fifth consecutive year, he will be in Lubbock as a judge in the annual concerto festival sponsored by the South Plains Music Teachers Association. Winners and alternates of each division will be presented in concert with an orchestra.

From June 1-15, he will be in Boise, Idaho, judging auditions sponsored by the National Guild of Piano Teachers. He is a faculty member in the guild and on its national membership committee. The auditions in Idaho will include entrants from Jerome and Caldwell, as well as Boise.

Texas Bases Get Changes In Funds

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Armed Services Committee made a number of changes Tuesday in items asked by the Defense Department for Texas bases. The committee approved a $1,103,907,219 military construction authorization bill for the year beginning July 1.

The committee's changes in amounts asked for by the Air Force, with the department's request in parentheses, include: Amarillo AFB, $1,098,000 ($2,173,000); Lackland AFB, $5,427,000 ($3,022,000); Sheppard AFB, Wichita Falls $928,000 ($1,874,000).

The committee added $432,000 for community facilities at the Air Force Security Service at Goodfellow AFB at San Angelo.

Headache May Be Pain In The Neck

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A neurologist says that pain in your head may be a pain in your neck. Dr. Arnold P. Friedman of Columbia University told a medical student's conference Wednesday that headaches are caused by changes in the blood vessels and the muscles of the head and neck.

He said headaches can result when muscles in back of the neck or head remain contracted for a long time. These are the muscles which contract when a person becomes tense and nervous because of external stresses.

VACUUM-CLEANS YOUR LAWN! The New Toro Whirlwind cuts grass as no other rotary does—with a new "Wind Tunnel" action that freezes each blade of grass upright for a crisp, clean cut... then blows clippings into the bagging attachment. And not only does this revolutionary mower bag your grass clippings, but also leaves, twigs, lawn litter—all are sucked up by the Whirlwind's super-vacuum and deposited in the bag for easy disposal. The secret is inside the Whirlwind's unique housing—an exclusive Toro design. It has none of the indentations and corners that cause ordinary rotaries to form clumps—clippings have a clear track to be blown into the bag or dispersed uniformly over your lawn! 3-season worksaver! Use your new Toro Whirlwind for spring clean-up, summer mowing, fall leaf disposal. Come in for a free demonstration!

DEAR ABBY

DON'T DO IT

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: If my hair isn't put up in pin curls every night, it looks terrible the next day. I plan to be married next month. Can I go to bed with my hair up in pin curls or do you think my husband will be mad? I can't have permanents because my hair is very fine and it will fuz. Thank you.

STRAIGHT HAIR
DEAR STRAIGHT HAIR: If you MUST put your hair up in pin curls, do it in the daytime. Let the milkman see you. Let the mailman see you and let the Fuller brush salesman and the lady next door see you. But — DON'T let your hubby see you looking like a skinned kitten if you can help it.

DEAR ABBY: To TOO NICE, and to all the girls who wonder if it pays to stay nice, may I give my experience:

I was 20 when I started to go steady with the sweetest little girl in town. I had known her all my life. She had no use for necking or spooning as other girls I had known. I went along with her ideas until one dark night while we were sitting under an apple tree at her place I let her know what I expected of a girl I spent money on.

She jumped up in a rage and kicked me in the face, breaking one of my front teeth off. Then she ran into the house and opened the front door and threw out my hat and coat.

I wrote to her twice but she returned my letters unopened. Then I enlisted in the Spanish-American War. I was gone two years. When I returned home she sent word through my sister that she wanted to see me. She gave me another chance and a romance blossomed. Yes, we were married. We had two daughters and a son.

I am the only one left of our family. Abby, and I am soon to be 87. When I want a laugh I recall the many times in our marriage when I'd get out of line and my wife would say, "Calm down, Darling, or I'll kick your other teeth out." Then we were sweethearts again.

OLD-TIMER
DEAR ABBY: I am so mixed up I don't know what to do. My parents accuse me of everything under the sun. Things I wouldn't even think of doing. If I really did those things they would kill me, but I wouldn't mind because I wish I were dead anyway.

My girlfriend and I have been talking about running away. We are both 16. Don't tell me to talk to my parents because they are the reason I want to leave home. I can't stand much more of this.

UNHAPPY GIRL
DEAR UNHAPPY: Children who regard their parents as the enemy are the saddest, most mistaken people in the world. If you can't talk to your parents, find someone else to talk to. Isn't there a favorite relative, teacher or clergyman in whom you could confide? Running away will only complicate matters. Try to develop a better relationship with your parents through the guidance of an understanding adult. Your parents probably can't stand much more of this either.

CONFIDENTIAL TO LOUISE AT THE AIRPORT: Your gay blade is skating on thin ice. If you love him, tell him.

"What's your problem?" Write to Abby, Big Spring Herald. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Boy Who Lost Both Eyes To Cancer Is Getting Along

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — What kind of life has 8-year-old Jackie Foster led since he lost his remaining eye to cancer before Thanksgiving?

For one thing, he has won third prize in a wrestling match at the Overbrook School for the Blind. And his teachers report he is doing well in his third grade courses.

But more important, Jackie is learning to live in a new world where touch and sound must make up for all the darkness.

"I'm going to build a door bell that rings with batteries," Jackie said cheerfully. "I already built an electric magnet."

One of Jackie's favorite games is throwing bean bags. He likes to bear the bag as it hits the board or passes through the bullseye hole in the center.

Doctors removed Jackie's eye Nov. 24. He lost his other eye, also from cancer, when he was 13 months old.

The day after Jackie's operation, his father entered a sanitarium with tuberculosis. His mother, Mrs. Eugene Foster, was left to care for his four younger brothers and sisters. She is expecting another child. She had to go on relief.

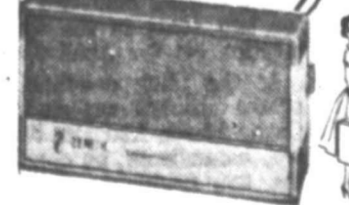

Thousands of persons with no other way to show their sorrow sent Jackie money.

Sen. Johnson Seeks Compromise On Rights

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex.) pressed for a compromise bill today while the Southern filibuster against civil rights legislation gathered momentum.

Sen. Russell B. Long (D-La.) set a new speaking record for the current day-and-night debate even as the Senate Democratic leader began talking up a new bill in conferences with Democratic proponents of civil rights amendments. Republicans also were surveying chances of a compromise.

Long, son of the late filibustering Huey P. Long, spoke for 9 hours and 21 minutes before yielding the floor early today. With a 75-minute break for other Senate speeches, he held the floor from 1:32 p.m. Wednesday until 12:38 a.m. today. His stint included a solid stretch of 8 hours and 23 minutes.

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn.), a civil rights supporter and presidential hopeful, took the floor for nearly an hour then predicted Congress will pass what he called a "reasonable and effective" bill. But he included in his proposals some of the points most strongly opposed by the Southerners.

SPOKE BRIEFLY
Sen. Paul H. Douglas (D-Ill.), another civil rights backer, also spoke briefly before a quorum call signalled the return of the Southern speakers.

During part of Long's talk, Johnson could be observed in the chamber with the rough draft beginnings of a compromise bill. He mixed earnest conversation with Democratic civil rights supporters.

Some of them reported afterwards Johnson had undertaken a drive to find a measure which can win the necessary two-thirds vote of the Senate to limit debate and end the filibuster should that step be necessary.

The senators said Johnson emphasized he was exploring the prospects for bringing out a substitute measure centered around provisions for court-appointed referees to help guard Negro voting rights, and fixing penalties for hate bombings of schools and churches.

Inviting Democratic suggestions, Johnson was looking into a proposal that would drop some other provisions of the administration program introduced by Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, the Republican leader.

GOP MEETING
Dirksen meanwhile undertook separate explorations which carried over into a scheduled mid-day meeting of all 35 Republicans today.

One question likely to be discussed is whether to try to get a two-thirds Senate vote to halt the marathon legislative battle and, if so, when.

Both leaders were reportedly aware of the difficulty of getting such a vote to pass the seven-point Dirksen bill now pending in the Senate.

They are exploring the possibility of eliminating some of the provisions which have brought bitterest Southern opposition. No one expects the Southerners to agree to any civil rights measure, but if they can win enough concessions they might give up their all-out battle. Otherwise, their tactics might alienate other senators favoring a moderate bill and provide enough votes to limit debate.

Sen. Norris Cotton (R-NH), who described himself as a moderate in civil rights matters, said the Southerners are going to lose votes if they keep up their filibuster.

IRRITATED SENATORS
"People get tired and ugly when they are routed out of bed at 4 and 5 o'clock in the morning day after day," Cotton said, referring to middle-of-the-night quorum calls which the Southerners have adopted as part of their strategy.

Cotton said he favors stripping out sections of the administration bill pertaining to schools, and concentrating primarily on guaranteeing Negro voting rights.

Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy (D-Minn.) said in another interview such a bill has the best chance of getting through the Senate at this time. Although he favors various other proposals, McCarthy said this is not the time to try to get Congress to accept them all.

"The main essential at this time is to make sure that any citizen otherwise qualified be permitted to vote," he said.

AUTHENTIC & COSTLY COSTUMES
Greco and 2 aides in "La Castellana"

Greco Troupe's Costumes As Authentic As Dances

A colorful evening is in store for Spanish dance aficionados, when the Jose Greco Ballet performs at City Auditorium Monday. Curtain time is 8 p.m. for the last attraction of the Concert Assn. series.

Next to the performances of Greco and his troupe, perhaps the greatest single source of critical acclaim has been the lavish costuming of the company. The materials used in all the costumes is purchased, usually by Greco himself, in Spain, Italy and the North African countries.

Leading establishments in Madrid make up the costumes from original plates of authentic designs, and the colors as well as the texture of the materials must be authentic for the dances in which the costumes are worn.

Costumes on tour are cleaned and pressed and cared for by the company wardrobe mistress and her assistants, with additional help engaged locally in each city played on tour.

The enormous number of shoes, boots, and other dancing footwear are all custom-made in Madrid, also in Seville. Greco's footwear alone comprises almost 200 pairs of assorted boots, dancing shoes, leather leggings, etc.

New costuming as well as renewal of costumes already in use represents an annual expenditure of some $25,000 for the company.

J. J. Stocks Is Candidate
J. J. Stocks, Forsan, is a candidate for a post on the Forsan-Elbow school board. His name was inadvertently omitted from the list of school board candidates published Wednesday.

No late filings for school board posts were received by the office of the county judge as the deadline arrived at 5 p.m. yesterday. The elections will be on April 2.

Two schools where one member each is to be named to the board, have no candidates in the field. These are Center Point and Vealmore. Write-in votes will determine the member for each of these schools.

Forsan-Elbow, consolidated in an election on last Saturday, will elect a completely new board to serve the next district.

Three members of the county school board of trustees are to be chosen. The three incumbents whose terms expire this year filed for re-election. No opponents developed. They are Truman Jones, trustee at large, Robert J. Cook, Commissioners Precinct 4, and James G. Lewis, Commissioners Precinct 3.

LINAN FREED OF INCEST CHARGE
LAMESA — Deliberating only five minutes, an all-male jury returned a verdict of not guilty in 106th District Court Wednesday night in the trial of a 58-year-old man charged with incest.

The defendant was Santos Linan, Lamesa. The complainant was his 24-year-old daughter, Mrs. Kathryn Sanchez, Lamesa.

Linan was arrested Jan. 25, 1960 after his daughter made the complaint alleging numerous attacks over the past 15 years.

south and 644 from east lines of section 15-35-5n, T&P survey.

Tennessee No. 1-A Dupree is coring. A drillstem test between 11,702-39 feet had tool open four hours. Recovery was 540 feet gas, 8,220 feet of 39.2 gravity oil and 10 feet of heavy oil and gas cut mud. A core between 11,738-63 feet recovered 25 feet of very dolomitic lime with stains and bleeding oil. A drillstem test between 11,736-63 feet had tool open two hours. Recovery was 880 feet of gas, 360 feet of free oil and 160 feet of heavy oil and gas cut mud. A core between 11,763-68 feet recovered 3 1/2 feet of dolomitic lime with good vugosity and bleeding oil and gas. It is 660 from north and 1,980 from west lines of section 41-M-EL&RR survey.

Glasscock
Sun No. 1 Cross is bottomed at 3,900 feet in lime and waiting on orders to abandon. It is 660 from northwest and 1,980 from southwest lines of section 5, R. R. Wade survey.

U. S. Smelting No. 1 Calverley is coring at 7,264 feet. A core between 7,177-227 feet recovered 50 feet of black shale. It is C NW SE of section 44-34-3n, T&P survey.

Howard
Lowe No. 3 Ryan is waiting potential. It is 440 from south and 330 from east lines of section 34-32-3n, T&P survey.

Pope John Names 7 New Cardinals

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope John XXIII today designated seven prelates of the Roman Catholic church to be cardinals. They included the first Negro, the first Japanese and the first Filipino ever elevated to the College of Cardinals.

Their elevation will bring the membership of the church's highest body to a total of 85, the largest in history.

The others chosen by the Pope were two Italians, a Frenchman and a Dutch prelate.

The Negro to be elevated is Bishop Laurian Rugambwa of Rutabo, Tanganyika, in East Africa.

The Japanese is Archbishop Peter Tatsuo Doi of Tokyo. Archbishop Rufino J. Santos of Manila is the Filipino.

The others honored by the Pontiff are Archbishop Bernard Jan Alfrink of Utrecht, Holland; Archbishop Joseph Lefebvre of Bourges, France, and the Most Rev. Luigi Traglia and the Most Rev. Antonio Bacci, both Italian members of the Vatican Curia.

They will be elevated to the purple at a pre-Easter consistory to be held on March 28.

It will be the third such consistory Pope John has called since he became supreme ruler of the church 16 months ago. Each time he has enlarged the college, underlining his determination to bolster the high senate of the church to meet modern problems and to reflect the great growth of the church in recent years.

Previously the College of Cardinals had been limited to 70 members for more than 350 years.

In making his latest cardinal selections, Pope John continued a practice he set earlier of elevating comparatively younger church officials to the college.

Bishop Rugambwa is 47, and Archbishop Santos is 51. Archbishop Alfrink is 59, Archbishops Doi and Lefebvre both 67, and the Most Revs. Traglia and Bacci both 64.

The college now has 31 Italians and 47 prelates from other countries. After the new consistory it will have 33 Italians and 52 non-Italians.

Naming of a cardinal for the Philippines, whose population is almost solidly Catholic, and of the first native Negro cardinal in Africa, where the church has expanded enormously in recent years, did not come as a surprise.

But the naming of a Japanese cardinal was a surprise and injected new interest in the colorful ceremonies that will see the elevation of the princes of the church. Japan's Catholic population is small, and Tokyo, of which the new cardinal is archbishop, has only about 37,000 Catholics.

The nomination of a Japanese cardinal was considered by Vatican sources to indicate the importance that Pope John attaches to the church in the Far East.

Only Incumbents File At C-City
COLORADO CITY — At Colorado City, little interest was demonstrated in a schoolboard election that attracted only two candidates for two seats in the forthcoming election set for April 2.

At the filing deadline Tuesday, school officials reported only Oscar Rhode and Dr. Jene Steakley, incumbents, as candidates for the two positions. Rhode has served six years on the board and Steakley three.

Sweetheart Month Not So Sweet

Twenty-six divorce suits were filed in the 118th District Court during February. Fifteen decrees of divorce were granted. Two cases were dismissed. One annulment was granted.

Wade Choate district court clerk, said that divorces, as usual, led the list in the number of petitions filed in his office each month.

Twenty-two civil suits, other than divorce actions, were filed and seven such suits were disposed of without a jury. Four dismissals were entered.

Twenty-one criminal cases—part of the indictments returned by the grand jury late in January—were disposed of without jury. There were no jury criminal cases during the month. Two criminal cases were sent into Howard County on a change of venue from Ward County. Both of these were later dismissed.

Two adoption petitions were filed. The child support accounts increased by six and three citations for contempt of court in connection with nonpayment of child support were entered. Two tax suits were dismissed.

One petition for a writ of habeas corpus was presented.

The office assisted in the issuance of 12 passports.

Lacik Funeral At Colorado City; Burial In Mangum
COLORADO CITY — Funeral services for Edward Lacik, 57, were to be at 4 p.m. Thursday in Kiker Funeral Home chapel with the Rev. Charles Simpson, of the Methodist Church at Silver, officiating. The body will then be taken to Mangum, Okla., where services will be held at 3 p.m. Friday with interment in the Riverside Cemetery. Kiker & Son Funeral Home is in charge of the arrangements in Colorado City and Greer Funeral Home in charge at Mangum.

Mr. Lacik, a pumper for the Sun Oil Co., lived in Silver. He had been employed by the company for 27 years and had made his home in Silver for nine years. He died at his home Tuesday evening.

Survivors in addition to his wife, include two brothers, Charles of Chico, Calif., and Clabe of Tulsa, Okla.; four sisters, Mrs. Anna York and Mrs. Marie Callaway, Corpus Christi; Mrs. Sylvia Baker, San Francisco and Mrs. Ruth Hale, Houston.

Teachers From Lakeview To Attend Area Session
Faculty members of Lakeview schools will attend the Teachers' Association conference on Friday in Lubbock.

The first general session will begin at 9 a.m. with Dr. Caesar F. Toles, principal of Joseph I. Rhoads School in Dallas, as the guest speaker.

Linan Freed Of Incest Charge

LAMESA — Deliberating only five minutes, an all-male jury returned a verdict of not guilty in 106th District Court Wednesday night in the trial of a 58-year-old man charged with incest.

The defendant was Santos Linan, Lamesa. The complainant was his 24-year-old daughter, Mrs. Kathryn Sanchez, Lamesa.

Linan was arrested Jan. 25, 1960 after his daughter made the complaint alleging numerous attacks over the past 15 years.

Linan was under $5,000 bond at the time of trial. Representing the state was George Hansard, district attorney, and the defense counsel was Willis Gresham.

In other action of the day, Judge Truett Smith ordered bond of $1,000 each for three defendants forfeited when they failed to appear.

Four cases were continued and two more were docketed today. They are the trial of Authenio Rodriguez, theft over $50, and Alfonso Garza for the same charge.

Pleas of guilty were entered by D. G. Howard and his brother R. C. Howard, both of Lamesa, on charges of burglary. They received two-year probated prison sentences.

VFW Film Scheduled

For the ninth year, the Christensen-Tucker (Post No. 2013) of the Veterans of Foreign Wars will project its war film review here Monday.

C. P. Cobb, who has been handling this program for the past eight years, will be in charge of the showings at the Howard Junior College auditorium.

C-City Man Is Taken By Death

COLORADO CITY — S. W. Hardee, 87, for 13 years a resident of Colorado City, died in a Snyder nursing home early Thursday. He had been at the home for several months.

Funeral services for Mr. Hardee will be at 2 p.m. Friday in Kiker & Son Funeral Home chapel with the Rev. John W. Hawkins, retired Methodist minister of Westbrook officiating. Grandsons will be pallbearers, and burial will be in Ira cemetery.

Mr. Hardee had lived in the Ira community for many years and was holder of much land in that area.

Burning Train

Rescue workers swarm over a burning Santa Fe passenger train after it collided with an oil tank truck near Bakersfield, California. Fourteen persons were reported killed in the flaming collision and 72 were injured.

Texas Ranger Captain Quits

DALLAS (AP)—Jay Banks, captain of Company B, Texas Rangers since 1956, Wednesday resigned in an apparent fess with higher state officials.

"Due to the lack of confidence in me by the director and the Public Safety Commission, I hereby submit my resignation as captain of Company B of the Texas Rangers," he said in a telegram to Col. Homer Garrison, director of the Department of Public Safety.

Both Garrison and Banks declined to comment on the resignation.

Banks disclosed earlier that he had been notified by telegram that he would have his Company B affairs in order two weeks hence or by the end of his vacation.

Banks hinted Texas Ranger policy influenced him to quit. He said Ranger policy prohibits direct interference in the affairs of local police except in times of breakdown in law enforcement on the community level or when Ranger assistance is requested.

Relations between Banks and the Tarrant County Sheriff's office were strained last fall after Rangers raided a gambling house near Arlington without the knowledge of the sheriff's force.

The 47-year-old lawman, who was well known in the state, has spent 22 years as a highway patrolman and Ranger, and is entitled to retirement pay from the state, Garrison said.

Turncoats Lose Attempt To Claim POW Payment

WASHINGTON (AP)—Lewis W. Griggs of Jacksonville, Tex., and two other American soldiers who defected to the Communists after being captured in the Korean War lost an attempt Wednesday to collect prisoner-of-war pay.

The petitions were dismissed by the Court of Claims in a divided opinion. The others seeking back pay are Otho G. Bell, Hillsboro, Miss., and William A. Coward, Monticello, Ark.

The majority opinion said: "To allow recovery in these cases would be to put a premium on dishonor and a penalty on courageous loyalty. We do not see how this court, or any court, can construe the law in such a fashion."

The trio sought pay and allowances claimed due them as prisoners of war from the dates of their capture in 1950 and 1951 until their dishonorable discharge from the Army on Jan. 23, 1954. Bell claimed $1,455; Coward $4,991 and Griggs $2,810.

The court also dismissed a government counterclaim for damages.

Braceros Slow

MEXICO CITY (AP)—The government reports signing of braceros to work in the United States is getting off to a slow start this year. Only 6,271 have been contracted.

The court majority said the Army necessarily determined that during the period involved the men did not have a status as prisoners and were not entitled to pay.

Judge J. Warren Madden said in a dissenting opinion that the three men have incurred "the just condemnation of public opinion" but the courts have nothing to do with that judgment.

After the Korean Armistice was signed in 1953 and prisoner repatriation started, the court said, the three men refused repatriation and went to Communist China. All three returned to the United States in July, 1955.

Woman's Body Found In Bay

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A woman's body, strapped in an airplane seat, was found in San Pablo Bay Wednesday. She was identified tentatively as Donna Watson of Eureka, Calif., missing since Jan. 24.

Mrs. Watson vanished Jan. 24 when she and her husband left Oakland in a private plane bound for Eureka, Calif. Her husband, Dr. George B. Watson, and the light single engine cessna 172 are still missing.

Ike Tour Shows Neighbors Hold Good Will Toward U.S.

MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay (AP)—Although ending on a note of turbulence, President Eisenhower's 10-day South American tour demonstrated that Latin America holds a tremendous reservoir of good will for the United States.

But the isolated anti-U.S. incidents that cropped up in each of the four countries Eisenhower visited served as a warning that the United States must keep on its toes if good relations are to be maintained.

U.S. officials agree that a strong follow-through on the tour is needed—and there already are signs that it will be made.

More than any other single U.S. move in recent years, the President's visit to Brazil, Argentina, Chile and Uruguay served to strengthen ties among the 21 nations of the Western Hemisphere. It has created an atmosphere in which the solution of specific and touchy problems could come more easily.

Here is a brief recapitulation of some of the obvious achievements of the trip:

It recemented U.S. relations with Brazil, a traditional ally, and showed the strength of the new friendship between the United States and Argentina, a long-time critic.

It clarified for an important segment of Latin America's population the position of the United States as a supporter of peace, nonintervention, democracy and economic development. This clarification was conveyed by the most direct means possible to the estimated three to four million people who saw the President in person, watched him on TV, or heard him on the radio.

It added new impetus to Eisenhower's hopes of bringing Latin America more closely into the free world alliance. He talked with each of the four countries' presidents on the forthcoming East-West summit meeting.

It emphasized Washington's support of curbs on the arms race in Latin America. Eisenhower stressed repeatedly that savings from such curbs could go for economic development.

It afforded the President an opportunity to reiterate U.S. distaste for dictatorships, whether of the left or right.

It enabled Eisenhower to stress that the United States—contrary to some Latin-American thought—does not have inexhaustible financial resources. He made this point in avoiding as tactfully as possible any formal financial commitments to the host countries. Nevertheless, each of the four chiefs of state with whom he conferred let him know they expect more U.S. help.

Eisenhower admitted, in responding to a critical letter from a group of Chilean students, that some of the charges leveled against the United States may be true. But he said any shortcomings are not due to bad intentions.

"Our heart is in the right place," the President declared.

Among the obvious channels for a follow-up on the trip is the National Advisory Committee on Inter-American Affairs, which accompanied the President. It can report directly to Eisenhower on ways to improve relations.

Another opportunity may develop in the visit to Washington later this month of Brazilian Foreign Minister Horacio Lafer.

Scattered student demonstrations during Eisenhower's tour made clear that Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro is serving as a focal point for latent anti-U.S. feelings in Latin America. Many of the demonstrators mixed their shouts against the United States with pro-Castro slogans. The incidents, however, failed to offset Eisenhower's warm receptions. And they probably outraged the great mass of Latin Americans, who undoubtedly viewed the demonstrations as a rude violation of traditional Latin-American courtesy.

February Rough Month For Pets

There were 118 deaths—of animals—reported in Big Spring in February. Sixty-five of them were on city streets.

These figures are listed in the monthly report from the city dog pound. There were 65 dead dogs and cats picked up and another 53 destroyed.

The dog-catcher picked up 82 dogs during the month. Twenty-seven were sold or redeemed. There were 19 still in the cages at the end of the month.

Fees collected during the month totaled $80. Of this, $24 went for vaccinations, $8 for licenses and $48 for pound fees.

Disguised Fabric

Cotton masquerades as linen in the sheath chosen for Mrs. W. J. Leach to model in the style revue planned for a group of school visitors Friday at Goliad cafeteria. A teacher of elementary music, Mrs. Leach wears a white frock with raised dots of beige. Attractively plain, the dress is complemented with three strands of pearls in varying intensities of brown and beige, bone pumps and beige gloves.

Perennial Favorite

Dress it up or down, the shirtwaist frock is at home wherever you go. This dress, of white cotton splashed with roses in American beauty shade, is pretty enough to make an appearance at any afternoon affair, yet informal for morning gatherings. It is worn by Mrs. Glenn R. Smith, who will be one of the models in the style show planned for a Friday luncheon when dieticians and their co-workers gather at Goliad cafeteria.

Flattering Hues

Misty green and brown of the crisp silk frock is most flattering to the Auburn hair of Billie Harding; she is to model the dress in the fashion show slated for Friday noon at Goliad cafeteria. The skirt is full and tiny buttons mark the wide bands which make the cuffs; sparkly crystal with highlights to harmonize with the brown and green makes the jewelry of Miss Harding, who teaches English in high school.

TSTA Unit Will View Style Show

Highlight of one of the Friday luncheons planned for visitors to the convention of District IV, Texas State Teachers Association, will be a fashion show to be presented by Swartz. Dieticians and their co-workers will be guests at a luncheon to be given in Goliad Junior High cafeteria and will view spring styles modeled by members of the local teaching staff. Commentator for the revue will be Mrs. William J. Boudreaux. Mrs. John Annen and Mrs. Louis Maneely have made arrangements for the entertainment of the group. Speakers for the more than 155 delegates expected are to be Pete Slaughter of Houston and Bill Blake of Dallas. Theme of the group meetings is Food with a Flair.

Herring Fillip

Appetizer tip: next time you serve marinated herring topped with sour cream, add a half-slice of unpeeled red apple. Looks pretty and tastes good!

Brooks Has Leap Year Birthday

H. C. Brooks of Lamesa celebrated his 17th birthday Monday. But Mr. Brooks was a Leap Year baby, born Feb. 29, 1888.

Children of Mr. and Mrs. Brooks gathered in their Lamesa home Sunday to celebrate the "young man's" birthday with a dinner of turkey and all the trimmings.

The couple has two daughters and sons. They are Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Snell and son of Ackery; Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Snell and daughter of Ackery; Mr. and Mrs. James O. Brooks and family; and Mr. and Mrs. Paul T. Brooks and family, both of Hart.

Sweetbreads

Sweetbreads need to be simmered for only 20 minutes or so; then they may be placed in cold water to firm before the outer skin and membrane are removed.

UCCW Sets Prayer Day

Church women of the town will gather Friday morning to take part in the world-wide Day of Prayer, which is sponsored by the United Council of Church Women.

Over the world, meetings will be held beginning at dawn in the Tonga Islands just west of the International Date line and ending on St. Lawrence Island, Alaska, at sunset.

The local observance is scheduled for 10 a.m. Friday at the First Christian Church; Mrs. Knox Chadd is in charge of the program.

On Saturday morning, the children's Day of Prayer will be marked at the Christian Church from 10 to 10:45 a.m. A program is planned which is to be presented by the youngsters.

Theme of this year's observance is "Labourers Together With God" and the material has been arranged by the Women's Inter-Church Council of Canada.

Modern Roses Offer Wide Choice Of Colors

For wide range of color, few flowers of the plant world surpass the rose. New colors are being added each year. There is an outstanding rose color to go with every home if one wishes a single color, while the multiplicity of bright rose shades fits in with and enlivens any landscape scene.

Catalogues carry selections of the choicest roses and a study of them will reveal the home owner's color preferences. Practically every nurseryman also has color illustrations from which selections can be made. The versatility of the rose makes it an attractive plant in gardens, as a border, in containers, as specimen plants, as well as climbers for decorating and brightening porches, fences, garages and other structures.

Plant roses according to instructions usually given with the plant. Dig a hole deep and wide enough to take the full spread of the roots. Add peat moss or similar material to the soil around each plant. Place plant in the ground to the depth of the bud union, or "small knob" noticed on the lower stem.

Work soil in and around the roots so there are no "air pockets," then tamp the soil firmly to anchor the plant well. Water until the soil is thoroughly soaked.

Mulching to a depth of two inches or more, depending on the climate, is advisable.

Modern roses will bloom heavily in the spring and will have blooms all summer, with a heavy blossoming period late in the season depending on the climate. In some areas they'll bloom right up to heavy frost.

Most important in growing roses is sufficient watering during hot summer months. Anyone can have sound success with roses with a moderate amount of care, such as spraying as needed with an all purpose insecticide-fungicide formulation available at any nursery.

Blonde Hair Costly

Asa Maynor devotes much time and money in order to maintain beautiful blonde hair but she feels it is worth the effort. She is seen on the CBS-TV "Perry Mason" show.

HOLLYWOOD BEAUTY

Bleaching Hair Is Worth Cost, She Says

By LYDIA LANE
HOLLYWOOD — Asa Maynor's favorite saying is, "God helps those who help themselves." She was bitten by the acting bug at 13 and gave up all activities to have a small role in a summer stock company. And later, in order to pay for her acting training, she spent weekends working in an ice cream parlor.

When Asa won the best-acting award at UCLA, she attracted the attention of a Hollywood agent and her career was started. "But what gave me the biggest boost," she confessed, "was going blonde. My hair is naturally black. I never would have thought of bleaching it but I had to for a role, and everyone liked it so much I decided to keep it blonde."

"It is in remarkably good condition for bleached hair," I said. "It took a week to bleach it as light as I wanted and I really take good care of it. I have to with such a color contrast. I have it done every week so that the dark roots never show. If you are willing to devote the time and money, I feel that you can bleach without damaging your hair."

"I make sacrifices for it," Asa continued. "If it is a question of a new dress or a conditioning treatment, my hair comes first. The main thing is to keep your hair from drying out, and I use two preparations that work beautifully for me. They have so many new ways of controlling dyes and bleaches today, that it is possible to have very natural shades."

Asa believes that the foods you eat have a great bearing on the way you look and feel. "My whole life changed when I discovered the value of eating nutritional food. When a person is young and full of energy, it is so easy to take health for granted."

"I had very careless eating habits in college. Often no breakfast. A candy bar, on the run, for lunch, but after a while by bad eating habits caught up with me. I was so tired all the time that everything was an effort.

"Now I jump out of bed in the morning full of energy, and I have an optimistic attitude toward life, but I know the underlying cause is that I'm taking care of my health with good meals," she concluded.

Tacky Party Is Scheduled For Girl Scout Leaders

A tacky party, planned for members of Neighborhood 11, Girl Scout leaders, will be given on April 1, it was announced Wednesday afternoon. The party will be at the Girl Scout Little House at 7:30 p.m.

The group gathered in the home of Mrs. B. Broadrick, where they heard Mrs. Helen Costlow, GS official, tell of the overnight outing planned for the leaders, when they meet at Camp Bootbe Oaks on March 25. Various crafts and skills will be taught at the camp; reservations must be in by March 15, it was announced.

Cookies for the sale, which begins Friday, are to be picked up at the home of Mrs. A. L. Johnson, 710 East 15th.

Hyperions Hear Mrs. Cowper

Mrs. Roscoe Cowper was guest speaker for members of the 1953 Hyperion Club when they met in the home of Mrs. Jack Little Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. Bobo Hardy was cohostess.

Mrs. Cowper, member of the local school board, described the accelerated school program and told of the IQ tests being given in the first three grades.

For those with a high intelligence quotient, Mrs. Cowper said, there will be accelerated work in the seventh grade. There is a need, she stated for closer cooperation between student and parents in the new program.

In a discussion period, the idea was brought of the need for supervised physical training in the lower grades.

The group voted to send a five dollar donation to the scholarship fund of the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs.

Minutes were Mrs. John Currie, Mrs. Fred Stittell and Mrs. C. L. Cook. The latter two will be hostesses for the April meeting, it was announced.

'ROUND TOWN

With Lucille Pickle

There are some young ladies (we presume they are young) who were and still are interested in the local bachelors whose pictures ran in Sunday's Herald. Some of the young men have received numerous letters and others have been called on the telephone. Some women really take this leap year thing seriously . . . as a matter of fact getting a man is a right serious business. It's one decision that better be right.

It's getting to be a thing about being ill. If you haven't been down at least once with the flu this winter you are definitely different. MRS. W. W. INKMAN is back at her home at 1407 Rannels after being hospitalized for several days at Cowper's. MRS. EDWARD CRABTREE managed to stay on her feet until her husband was discharged from the Big Spring Hospital and she took over his room. She has just recently returned to work.

MRS. EUGENE GROSS is in Malvern, Ark., with her mother who suffered a heart attack last Friday. She will likely return here Sunday.

Friends here will be interested to know DR. BOBBY JACK GROSS and his family have moved to Pecos where he has bought and will operate a veterinary hospital. He has recently been in Odessa.

MR. AND MRS. JERRY STOUGHTON and their son, David, of Fort Worth are expected next week to visit her mother, MRS. ADA BURTON. The Stoughtons had planned to be here last Saturday but were held up on account of the bad weather. David and his grandmother have the same birthday anniversary, which was last Sunday.

A. L. WREN has returned to his home in Hamilton after a visit here in the home of his brother, Bob Wren, and his family.

MRS. JOHN ANNEN is recovering from surgery which was performed Friday. She is enjoying the cards and flowers from friends. She is in Room 230 at Malone-Hogan.

Today is the day SGT. BOB SAGE takes his leave for a new assignment. He will leave from Charleston, S. C., for Sidu Slimane, French Morocco. His squadron gave him an unusual farewell gift, one to comfort him while he is away, and one that everyone doesn't have . . . a shrunken head. It's those little things that count. Mrs. Sage and the children are to remain here.

CLIFF LAWHORNE, who once toiled in this vineyard, received a $100 award for the best news story written under pressure of deadline in 1959. He now is a reporter for the Corpus Christi Caller-Times and his survey of a local welfare situation proved to be the prize winner. Incidentally, Cliff got married last December.

GS Troop 26 Holds A Court

Plans are being made to sell Girl Scout cookies.

Engagement Is Revealed

LAMESA — Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Patterson of Mart have announced the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Cynthia Ann, to Norris Darrell Bullard, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Bullard, of Lamesa.

Vows will be repeated in a double ring ceremony April 15 at First Methodist Church, Ben Hur. Miss Patterson attended North Texas State College, Denton, and is presently teaching in the Andrews Independent School District. Her fiancé attended the Lamesa schools and recently completed his tour of duty with the U. S. Navy. He is employed with Schlumberger Oil Co., in Andrews.

Colorado Visitors Host Fish Dinner For Local Friends

Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Quigley, Glenwood Spring, Colo. entertained Texas friends of former years with a rainbow trout dinner at Cosden Country Club, Wednesday evening. The trout were a product of their private lake on Spring Valley Ranch.

The table was arranged in Lenten motif with lavender gladioli and purple seafoam statice, flanked by hurricane lamps.

This is Mr. and Mrs. Quigley's fourth year to winter vacation in Big Spring, home of their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. John Quigley.

Guests were Father Francis Beazley, O.M.I., Mrs. Birtus Churchwell, Mrs. Glenn Jordan, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Tollett, Mr. and Mrs. Kent Morgan, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Ramsey, and the young Quigleys.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

I wonder if the committee to name an all-state Class AAAA basketball team (headed by Eddie Mullins of Amarillo) would name Midland's two Mikes, Marsh and Humphrey, if it had it all to do over again—now that Midland has been defeated by Borger in the regional finals and Zay LeFevre of Big Spring has been selected as 2-AAA's Most Valuable Player?

LeFevre received a third more votes within the district than the two Midland players combined for the MVP award.

What kind of a coin could the District 3-AAAA coaches be using, when it comes time to decide the site of their playoff games with the 2-AAAA representatives?

Three years ago, Big Spring went to Pampa. Last year, Odessa had to play in Pampa. Then Borger won this year's coin toss over Midland.

A local party who will take more than a casual interest in this year's Class AAA basketball tournament at Austin is Mrs. D. A. Miller. Her brother plays for the Lamesa Tornados, which beat Brownwood last Saturday night to win the right to take part in the state meet.

Incidentally, Lamesa should field another fine basketball team next season.

Les Williams and Bruce Ashton of the Tornados, first team selections on the 3-AAA all-star team selected recently, along with Kenneth Crouch, a second team choice, will be eligible at Lamesa again next year.

R. L. Lasater, the Big Spring speedster, didn't enter the 220 yard race at Fort Stockton last week because his coach, Curtis Kelley, didn't want him running on a curve.

Lasater has experienced leg trouble in the past after trying to negotiate a curve.

R. L. probably would have run at least a 9.6 at Fort Stockton had he gotten off to a good start.

Lasater got off to Kelley's satisfaction previously but the starter pulled them back because someone jumped the gun, but he was left on the blocks when the race actually began.

He has a better finishing kick than any sprinter in Texas. If he gets his start down pat, there'll be no one around who can keep up with him.

Phillip Yerby, the San Angelo Lake View griddler who was named to the all-district team, was signed to a University of Houston letter of intent recently by Al Milch, who is scouting talent for the Cougars.

Alex Carrasquel, who managed Sweetwater back in the days when both that city and Big Spring fielded Longhorn League baseball teams, recently was suspended for two years in Venezuelan baseball.

However, players throughout the league didn't appreciate the sentence and went on strike. The league then voted to cancel all its remaining games and its championship playoffs.

Winner of the circuit would have become eligible to take part in the Caribbean series.

Carrasquel got in hot water when he swung on Eduardo Moncada, a Pampero club official, and broke his jaw.

Alex is an uncle to Chico Carrasquel.

Steers Launch '60 Season In Contest At Plainview

Tomorrow's baseball game in Plainview between the Big Spring Steers and the Plainview Bulldogs, first of the season for Roy Baird's local nine, has been moved forward to 2 p.m.

It was originally set down for 4 o'clock. Since there will be no school tomorrow either in Big Spring or Plainview, the Bulldog coach suggested that the starting time be moved up.

The Plainview mentor also wanted to play a doubleheader. However, three of Baird's front line pitchers will be in Austin with the basketball team, so he had to decline the invitation.

The hurlers who will be missing are the LeFevre twins, Jay and Zay, and Homer Mills.

Baird can call upon the services of Jerry Phillips, Tommy Whatley, Bob Andrews and Dexter Pate for mound duties.

Andrews is usually an outfielder but he's been working out as a pitcher to take up the slack.

The Longhorns open their home season Saturday afternoon, at which time they host Flop Parsons' Levelland Lobos at 2 p.m. Phillips will probably start Friday's game while Whatley is due to assume mound duties on Saturday.

Baird still has about 35 boys working out and has indicated he does intend to reduce the squad. The Steers have been handicapped by the weather but so has every other baseball team in West Texas.

Vejar, 28, from Stamford, Conn., weighed 154½ and Rodriguez, 149½ for their bout.

Rodriguez, who decked Vejar for a five-count in the sixth round, said Vejar "is the first middleweight I ever fought. I might have knocked him out but he kept clinching with me."

Time Moved Up

LUBBOCK, Tex. (AP)—Texas Tech will begin starting its night football games at 7:30 p.m. when the Red Raiders hold their spring game at Odessa Saturday night.

All Tournament Selections

Hawks Draw Cadets As First Opponent

Howard County Junior College, owner of a glossy 29-3 won-lost basketball record and champion of the Texas Junior College Conference tournament held here recently, has drawn New Mexico Military Institute as a first round opponent in the Region V tournament at Amarillo.

The meet starts Monday and continues through Wednesday. Winner becomes eligible to take part in the National Juco meet at Hutchinson, Kan., later this month.

The Jayhawks will be playing under a handicap. They will be without the services of one of their all-state players, Larry Cruise, who has been declared ineligible for the meet by regional officials.

Apparently, Cruise has been waved to the sidelines because he performed for San Angelo College the first semester in his freshman year.

The Pampa star will be missed. He's one of the leading scorers on the team and a great ball handler. His place will probably be taken by Kenneth Day or Kenneth Cleveland, although Ronald Weaks and

Scouts Flock In For Tournament

The annual Texas Junior College conference basketball tournament held here earlier this week was well attended by senior college scouts.

Among those who showed up for the first day of the meet were Bill Menafee, assistant college mentor at Baylor University; James Richards, aide to Ray Van Cled of Sul Ross College; Alpine; Bill Scott, head basketball coach at Hardin - Simmons University; and Sam Williams, head college mentor at Pan-American College, Edinburg.

Menafee, Richards and Williams all remained over for both days of the tournament.

Williams reportedly wanted John Wedeking of South Texas Junior College, theorizing that the "name" players of the tournament would seek to attend larger colleges.

Harold Davis, former Howard County Junior College coach who is now head basketball coach at Texas Western College, El Paso, came in for the final day of the tournament.

Davis, no doubt, would have come in earlier but for the fact that his team was closing its season Monday night.

Harold was heard to remark that he especially liked the play of Harold Strother, the South Texas star, and Harold Henson of H.C.J.C.

Henson performed for Davis here last year. Both Strother and Henson were named to the all-tournament team here.

Ed Billings, basketball coach at Wayland College, Plainview, also attended the final day of the meet.

Sawyer Out To Finish Job

By JIM KENSIL Associated Press Sports Writer Eddie Sawyer is getting tough again. The Philadelphia Phillies' manager, one-time fatherly boss of the 1950 pennant-winning Whiz Kids, is apparently out to finish the job he lost in 1952.

Sawyer, who admittedly is working on a "win or else basis," Wednesday told the current crop of Phils:

"All you fellows who have a lot of money stay out after 12 and we'll take some of it."

So there is a midnight curfew in Clearwater, Fla., where the Phillies are in spring training.

The last time Sawyer talked that way it was the manager who was eliminated.

Eddie first came to the Phils in midseason 1948. Two and a half years later he had the National League pennant, the Phils' first in 35 years.

But the proud Whiz Kids slipped to fifth in 1951, and Sawyer got tough. Players' wives were barred from spring training. Player discontent grew. People said Sawyer was too easy.

The players lost respect for Sawyer. And by late July Sawyer was out of work.

But the Whiz Kids never recovered and last July the Phils brought Eddie back to run the club.

Only pitchers Robin Roberts and Curt Simmons remain from the Whiz Kids, and Eddie must count on them to help the Phils improve from their last-place finish of 1959.

The American League's last-place team, the Washington Senators, were cheered when Harmon Killebrew, their young slugger, turned up for workouts at Orlando, and hit the fourth pitch over the 385-foot sign in left center field. Killebrew shared the league home run championship last year at 42 with Cleveland's Rocky Colavito.

Colavito arrived at the Indians' training camp in Tucson Wednesday and promptly signed his contract although he had said he wasn't happy over the terms. He was reported to have signed for approximately $35,000, a 25 per cent increase. The Yankees, however, apparently were no closer to coming to terms with their slugger, Mickey Mantle.

From his Dallas, Tex., home Mickey said "I've been waiting on them to call me. I'm going to continue—I guess." Mantle has rejected a contract offering for a $15,000 cut from his $75,000 of last year.

Local Track Teams Go South For Border Meet

By DON RIDDLE

Howard County Junior College and Big Spring High School track teams head south today to compete in one of the top track and field meets in the area; the Border Olympics in Laredo.

High schools from all classes, junior colleges, and Southwest Conference schools will take part in the two-day show.

Big Spring representatives are fighting a handicap this weekend, however. Neither the college nor the high school has been able to do much work this week due to the inclement weather.

L. L. (Red) Lewis, H.C.J.C. mentor, states that his boys were badly needing some workout weather, but the lay-off this week has set them back even farther.

Chop Van Pelt, coach of Steer field events says "We got out on the track a little bit Wednesday for the first time since last weekend. It didn't do us much good though, it was still too cold to do anything but just get a little exercise."

Big Spring took fifth last week at the Comanche Relays in Fort Stockton. The Steers ran a record-breaking 44.7 sprint relay only to take second behind a speedy Andrews crew.

R. L. Lasater had the only first place for the locals as he stepped off the century in 9.7 to tie the meet record he set last year.

"Not only are we handicapped by the weather," laments Coach Curtis Kelley, "but those South Texas teams have been blessed by it. Some of those schools down there are in top shape and have been running for a good while now."

"We'll get our good weather out here though pretty soon and that's when all these West Texas schools will start moving up in the meets."

For H.C.J.C. this is the first outing of the year and Lewis says his bunch is far from being ready, condition-wise.

Jim Bob Thomas and Maurice Burnett are Lewis' only sprinters but the coach quickly adds that their ability takes up a lot of slack in the depth department.

Half-milers Sharon Snow and Jerry Hale along with weightman Tifton Stone, loom to be potential pointers for the Jayhawks this weekend.

March 11 and 12 the Hawks go to Fort Worth to enter the Recreation Meet and the Steers journey to Snyder for the Canyon Reef Relays.

Sands Girls Depart Today For Regional Tournament

ACKERLY (SC)—Coach Cliff Prather and his Sands High School girls' basketball team head for Brownwood today to do battle with Abbott in the regional playoffs, Friday at 3 p.m.

Abbott, located just outside Waco, posts a 25-4 record this year and the Central Texas girls won the Baylor University Invitational Tourney in January.

The Mustangs defeated Barnhart Tuesday night in Forsan for the bi-district title. The victory was the 200th win for Prather's girls teams.

Brenda Woods led Sands in scoring with 18 points and Janice Bearden added 16. Ahead by 13 points at the intermission, Prather pulled his starters for most of the second half.

In other regional games Friday, Hawley, the favorite, takes on Brock, Gorman lacksies Paint Rock, and Meridian will meet Priddy.

Winners will play Saturday to determine the representative to the state meet in Austin.

The squad leaves today at 2:30 p.m. and will stay in the Brownwood Hotel.

Forwards making the trip are Janice Bearden, Brenda Woods,

Abilene Motor Line Changes Its Structure

DALLAS (AP)—Two checks for $2,100,000 each were exchanged today to mark the transition of Merchants Fast Motor Lines Inc. of Abilene from a tightly-knit private type of ownership to public ownership.

Gene Whitehead and C. L. Whitehead, brothers, of Abilene, received the checks from Blyth & Co. Inc., of Los Angeles, heading an underwriting group of 54 firms.

The checks represented proceeds, minus underwriting discounts, from a public offering of 400,000 shares of common stock. The par value of the stock, sold publicly at $12, is $1 per share.

The brothers — Gene Whitehead is president and C. L. Whitehead is vice president — received the checks at the First National Bank to mark the close of the public subscription.

Roy Brandenberger of Abilene, executive vice president, explained that the executives — they or their families still own 56 per cent of the remaining 600,000 shares — sold the stock partly because of tax reasons.

Brandenberger added that another reason was to "prevent the company being merged or sold." He said that this is a day of mergers and the new public type of ownership would help preclude such a possibility.

Much of the public stock offering, he said, was bought by the firm's 750 employees.

Merchants Fast Motor Lines operates 742 tractors, trucks and trailers over 5,400 miles of route within Texas. The company operates 12 freight terminals of its own and uses 29 other terminals.

The Whiteheads acquired the company in 1945. Their base salary has been $40,000 annually in recent years. That of Roy Brandenberger and D. C. Armstrong, another vice president, has been $25,000 annually with provisions for bonuses.

Annual net income since 1955 has ranged from $621,406 to $1,181,946. The company has retained earnings to finance development and paid only nominal dividends since an initial payment in 1955. February this year, however, the company declared a cash dividend of 15 cents per share.

Lubbock County Steer Wins Show

HOUSTON (AP)—An 820-pound Hereford owned by Bobby Rush, 13, of Acuff, Tex., was named grand champion steer of the Houston Fat Stock Show Wednesday.

The steer, Sir John, will compete today against similar open class winners for the grand championship of the show.

Double Attention For Mozart's Birthday

Mozart, a doggone good Boxer dog, was hustled out of his warm bed in Houston to see two birthday cakes baked for him by his owners, Keith Van Dusen, 7, left, and Mickey Van Dusen, 10, right. Mozart, just recovering from a touch of flu, ate both cakes with little effort.

Flight Of Mormons Recalled In Book About Auto Maker

By LEDGERWOOD SLOAN
Associated Press Staff Writer

The flight of 4,000 Mormon colonists from revolt-torn Mexico to El Paso and other border points in 1912 is recalled by Tom Mahoney, a Texas-born writer, in "The Story of George Romney," a biography of the president of American Motors.

The book was published this winter by Harper & Brothers, New York.

Romney, then 5 years old, his five brothers and their mother, who was expecting another child, rode from Colonia Dublin to El Paso in a crowded refugee train.

In all, 2,300 Mormon refugees reached El Paso within three days to become in the later words of Romney "the first displaced persons of the 20th century."

Half a dozen babies were born en route and the mass flight was compared to the exodus of the Jews from Egypt and the hebra of the early Mormons to Utah.

Mrs. Romney and her children arrived at the border with just $25, two suitcases and three bedrolls. They went to a small hotel. Several hundred refugees were quartered in empty lumber sheds. The U. S. Army supplied rations and loaned tents from Ft. Bliss. Mayor C. E. Kelly and city officials joined church leaders in finding homes and jobs for the refugees. Congress voted $100,000 for their transportation and relief.

Led by Junius Romney, an uncle of George Romney, and with his father, Gaskell Romney, as quartermaster, 235 men of Colonia Dublin and adjoining communities a few days later rode to the New Mexico border, fighting a skirmish with Mexican rebels on the way. Junius Romney is now living in retirement in Salt Lake City.

The colonies in Mexico were founded in the 19th century by Mormons, including George Romney's grandfathers, fleeing persecution for polygamy. The practice was abandoned there and elsewhere in 1890 after the U. S. Supreme Court upheld legislation outlawing it.

Preserving their U. S. citizenship, the colonists prospered until revolutionary disorders disturbed their peaceful existence.

Troubles came to a climax in 1912 when the "Red Flag" revolutionists, defeated and hard-pressed by the federals under Gen. Victoriano Huerta, confiscated Mormon supplies, cattle and horses and demanded that the colonists surrender their guns. There were robberies and murders on outlying farms, nine Mormons being killed.

When Mexico became peaceful again many of the colonists returned to their homes. The Romneys did not, but the brick house, erected by his father, in which the president of American Motors was born in Colonia Dublin, still stands.

The biography is Mahoney's fifth book. He was born in Dallas, attended Southern Methodist University and Texas Christian, and worked on Dallas and El Paso newspapers before becoming an editor and writer in New York.

Stuck

Firemen and other rescuers work with jack hammers to free Jimmy Pulley, 4, from a pipe of a house foundation at San Diego, California. Jimmy got stuck proving to his sister Gloria, 6, that he could put his leg "all the way down" the pipe. It took the rescue crew nearly two hours to free the boy.

Brazosport Schools Keep Their Teachers

FREERPORT (AP)—The Brazosport school system is noted for keeping its teachers.

Going back as far as 1915 when there were only three teachers in Freerport and four in Velasco, including the two superintendents, the schools have grown and the communities of Freerport, Velasco, Lake Jackson, Clute, Jones Creek consolidated (1945) into one big district called Brazosport.

Seven teachers and directors have a combined total of 217 years here, and many teachers here have a service record of more than 20 years.

The top seven include, Miss Grace Lazaller of the resource center, 37 years; Dr. Gladys Polk, director of elementary education, 33; Herbert E. Hopper, director of athletics and physical education, 33; Walker L. Stuart, former principal and now with the resource center, 30; Mrs. Theo Desa Davenport, home economics teacher at the Lanier High School, 29; Mrs. Madge Griffith, principal of Lake Jackson primary school, and Mrs. Sallie Key Kendall, social studies at Freerport Junior High School, 27.

The yearly turnover here is low. Many of the women teachers are married. The standards are high and the pay for beginning teachers with B.A. and M.A. degrees ranks among the top five of the 54 larger schools of the state, according to a report of the Texas State Teachers Assn.

Tentative figures show a total scholastic enrollment of 8,307, which is 503 over the count of last year.

Coahoma Cub Meet

A re-organization meeting of Cub Pack No. 45 at Coahoma is scheduled at a meeting set for 7:30 p.m. Friday in the Coahoma school. Mrs. A. D. Stoker, P-TA president, urged parents of boys 8-9-10, together with these boys, to attend the meeting.

Handicapped Award Winner Says Nothing Like Dignity

CHICAGO (AP)—"Neither pensions, charitable assistance nor pity can substitute for the sweet dignity of a productive life."

So says handsome Dwight D. Guilfoil Jr., crippled 37-year-old executive named "Handicapped American of the Year" by the President's Committee on Employment of the Physically Handicapped (PCEPH).

Guilfoil, father of seven, directs the operations of the Paraplegics Manufacturing Co., Franklin Park, a Chicago suburb, from a wheelchair to which he has been confined since 1943.

On May 5 President Eisenhower is to present Guilfoil an award at a meeting of the PCEPH in Washington. The citation is for outstanding help given by Guilfoil to scores of physically handicapped despite his own impairment.

He has received numerous other citations for his efforts over the last 10 years.

An aerial photographer for the Air Force in World War II, he suffered spinal meningitis and polio in service and spent two years in a hospital. Confined to a wheelchair he found it impossible to obtain employment.

In 1950, Guilfoil and about 60 other paraplegics decided to pool their resources and set up their own business.

"We decided from the start that we were not going to weave rugs or make baskets, or indulge in any of the usual workshop enterprises," Guilfoil says.

The group founded Paraplegics Manufacturing Co. in a one-story factory building in suburban Franklin Park. The firm assembles mechanical, electrical and electronic parts.

Guilfoil became president of the company.

Today the company has about 100 workers. Only two are not handicapped. Most of the others work from wheel chairs.

In addition to paraplegics, there are the blind, polio victims, amputees, cardiacs, the deaf and mute, and a number with progressive disabilities such as muscular dystrophy and multiple sclerosis.

With the exception of 1954 and 1955, the company has shown a profit each year. The last several years it has paid dividends on its stock, most of which is held by employees.

Guilfoil says the company now is doing a $750,000-a-year volume of business and expects to reach a million by the end of this year.

Wage scales at Paraplegics

Manufacturing Co. equal those of general industry for like jobs. The productivity and workmanship exceeds industrial norms, Guilfoil says.

"Charity can be a form of slavery," the executive says. "The overwhelming majority of physically handicapped men and women want freedom from charity and the opportunity to develop their abilities to the end that they become self-supporting."

Spectacular Plans For Brine Problem

By CHARLES HASLET

WASHINGTON (AP)—Army Engineers are considering spectacular methods to help solve the Southwest salt pollution problem.

The pollution is making water in some areas virtually unusable.

The Engineers' plans were disclosed by Sen. Robert Kerr (D-Okl.), chairman of the Senate Select Committee on National Water Resources. He has expressed concern over salt content of streams in the Arkansas and Red River basins.

Kerr believes the success of some larger proposed reservoirs in the Southwest may depend on curbing the salt pollution of rivers and their tributaries. He also believes their success may affect use of water for both domestic consumption and industrial purposes.

The public health service has been working in cooperation with the Army Engineers on the problem in Texas, Kansas, Oklahoma, Arkansas and Louisiana.

The administration's budget includes recommendations for appropriation of $400,000 for further studies for the next fiscal year. Although Army Engineers had some funds for the purpose previously, nothing was in the budget for them for next fiscal year.

The Public Health Service said recently that findings indicate heavy mineralization of the streams with sodium chloride "the major cause of the poor quality water in the Arkansas and Red River basins."

The agency said one source of the mineralization originates in natural salt springs located in a narrow area stretching from Paducah, Tex., to Great Bend, Kan. A second source it added are brines pumped to the surface with oil, in eastern Oklahoma, southeast Kansas and North Texas.

Don McBride, projects assistant to Kerr, said Army Engineers are studying among other methods, these ways of curbing the salt pollution in streams:

Diverting the channel of the stream around salt springs and salt beds caused by the springs.

Gathering brine from salt springs, putting it in a compact line, and piping it to the Gulf of Mexico.

Paving over salt springs, which lie in river channels permitting the stream to flow over the pavement.

Injecting cement into the spring, stopping its flow.

Building a dike around some springs, letting them equalize themselves by creating enough static head to stop the flow of the springs.

Gathering up salt water in spring areas and injecting it into underground strata.

Impounding low saturated flows off the channel where evaporation could take place.

McBride said water flowing into Lake Texoma has the annual equivalent of a block of salt larger than the Empire State Building and could, in a few years, destroy fresh water fishing there.

Man Who Set Off Cranberry Fuss Says He's Sorry

MEXICO CITY (AP)—The man who started all the fuss about tainted cranberries says he feels so sorry for the growers "I now drink cranberry juice for breakfast instead of tomato juice."

Dr. B. T. Shaw of the U.S. Agriculture Department disclosed this at a reception Tuesday night where he was honor guest. It was Shaw who first noted that parts of the 1959 cranberry crop from Oregon and Washington were contaminated by a weed killer that can produce cancer in rats.

Shaw said there was no doubt the weed killer was being used improperly but he did not believe it was dangerous.

"Tests proved that a person would have to eat 350,000 pounds of cranberries a day to endanger himself to cancer," he said.

Y Planning Group

The long range planning committee of the YMCA has been convened for a 5:15 p.m. meeting Friday at the Y, according to Marvin Miller, chairman. Miller said that matters pertaining to the building program, plus paving, arrears pledges, etc., would be discussed.

Father Likes Daughter

Especially when she has a pineapple upside down cake. Dorothy Wilkerson shows her father, Clem Wilkerson, who is now 74, the pineapple upside-down cake that is a family favorite.

Favorite Recipes Given By Dorothy Wilkerson

By SHERI WEBBER
Dark-eyed Dorothy Wilkerson received a lot of teasing from her 23 nieces and nephews when the Herald published a page of bachelors in observance of Leap Year last Sunday. Dorothy is the only one of nine children in the Clem Wilkerson family who hasn't yet married.

The attractive brunette is a native of Big Spring who has worked as personnel clerk with W. H. Bacus at the VA Hospital for the past six years. Miss Wilkerson enjoys meeting people, and finds this a pleasant aspect of her job.

Dorothy's interests range over a wide area. "I'm a novice movie camera operator," laughs Dorothy, "but I enjoy trying." Many of her pictures include vacations spent in Georgia, Florida, and Washington, D. C.

Many of Miss Wilkerson's 200 pairs of salt and pepper shakers came from vacation trips, while others have been sent to her by friends.

For two years Dorothy attended Southwestern Bible Institute in Waxahachie, where she studied religious education. Her interest in this field has continued, and she is now in her fifth year of teaching a class of junior girls (9-11 years old). She has done a great deal of work with vacation Bible schools.

Since 1951 she has been the secretary-treasurer of the First Assembly of God Church, and the competent bookkeeper gets teased about "her" bags of money each Sunday.

"I really don't have to cook much," relates Dorothy, who lives with her parents on Austin Street. Mrs. Wilkerson does most of the family's cooking, but her daughter is an able assistant.

The two recipes given by Dorothy Wilkerson are favorites with her large family of nieces and nephews.

EASY PINEAPPLE UPSIDE-DOWN CAKE

- 9-oz. can pineapple
- ¼ cup soft butter
- ½ cup brown sugar, packed
- 2 cups sifted flour
- 1 cup sugar
- 3 tps. baking powder
- 1 tsp. salt
- 2-3 cup soft shortening (part butter)
- 1 egg
- 1 cup milk
- 1 tsp. vanilla

Heat oven to 350 degrees. Grease a square pan (9x9x1¼") or a 10-inch skillet. Mix undrained pineapple, butter, and brown sugar and spread in bottom of pan or skillet.

Sift flour, sugar, baking powder, and salt into a bowl. Add shortening, eggs, milk, and vanilla. Beat 2 minutes, medium speed on mixer or 300 vigorous strokes by hand.

Scrape sides and bottom of bowl constantly. Pour batter over fruit in pan. Bake 45-50 minutes. Turn cake upside-down immediately on serving plate to prevent sticking. Leave pan over cake for a minute.

OATMEAL CRISPIES

- 1 cup shortening
- 1 cup brown sugar
- 1 cup granulated sugar
- 2 well-beaten eggs
- 1 tsp. vanilla
- 1 tsp. salt
- 1 tsp. soda
- 3 cups quick-cooking oatmeal
- ½ cup chopped walnuts

Thoroughly cream shortening and sugar; add eggs and vanilla; beat well. Add sifted dry ingredients. Add oatmeal and nuts; mix well.

Shape in rolls; wrap in waxed paper and chill thoroughly or overnight. Slice ¼-inch thick; bake on ungreased cookie sheet in 350 degree oven for 10 minutes. Makes 8 dozen cookies.

Hamburger Deluxe

An interesting variation for hamburger steaks: Make thin patties and sprinkle half of them with dehydrated onion soup mix just as it comes from the envelope; top each with another thin patty, press edges together to seal; pan-fry in

Pineapple, Yams Make Delicious Dish Everyone Will Enjoy

Fruit from Hawaii's pineapple blends with stateside sweet potatoes for a delightful taste treat that can be enjoyed by all Americans.

PINEAPPLE CREAMED YAMS

- (Makes 4 Servings)
- 1 9-ounce can sliced pineapple
- 1½ cups mashed cooked yams, or 1 can (1-pound) yams, drained and mashed
- ½ cup sour cream
- Walnut halves

Drain pineapple; reserve ¼ cup syrup. Combine pineapple syrup, yams and sour cream; blend. Cut sliced pineapple in quarters; reserve 4 quarters. Arrange pineapple in 4 buttered individual casseroles. Top with yam mixture; reserved pineapple quarters and walnuts. Bake in moderate oven (325 degrees) 20 minutes.

Colorful Dessert

Delicious flavor and pretty color mark this fruit combination.

FLAME FRUIT CUP

- 2 large grapefruit
- ¼ cup grenadine syrup
- 1 cup halved seeded Tokay grapes
- 1 medium-sized red Delicious apple

Pare grapefruit so no white membrane remains; cut pulp away from dividing membranes; cut sections in half. Add grenadine and grapes.

Cut apple into 8 wedges; remove core; slice crosswise thinly; add to other fruit; mix well. Sugar to taste may be added. Chill for an hour or two if desired. Makes 6 servings.

FANCY TWIST

Meat, Potatoes Are Family Meal Hit

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
AP Newsfeatures Food Editor

Husbands and children are notorious for being meat-and-potatoes people, but that doesn't mean they won't welcome interesting presentations of these favorite foods.

A big success at our house is to take frankfurters and mashed potatoes and give them a new look. There's method to our madness because the franks can be stuffed with the potatoes ahead of dinner and then popped into the oven at the last minute.

You can of course prepare your own potatoes for the dish, but when you are short of time or energy you may wish to use the instant flaked potatoes that come in two foil envelopes in a 5½-ounce package. In this particular recipe we've added cheese to the instant potatoes, but here are other flavoring suggestions:

1. Instead of mixing the cheese into the potatoes, sprinkle or pat it over the top of the potatoes after they have been stuffed into the frankfurters, then dust with paprika.

2. Omit cheese and add minced chives to the potatoes.

3. Shred green cabbage and pan-fry in a little butter or margarine and a tablespoon of water, then add to the potatoes. This idea is taken from the famous Irish and Scottish dish called Colcannon.

4. Add finely diced green pepper and drained canned pimiento to the potatoes.

5. Spread frankfurters with sweet brown mustard before adding potato stuffing.

6. Top potato-cheese stuffing with fine dry bread crumbs heated in a generous amount of butter.

POTATO-STUFFED FRANKFURTERS

- 1 envelope (from a 5½-ounce package) instant flaked potatoes
- ¼ cup grated sharp cheddar cheese (loosely packed)
- 8 frankfurters
- Paprika

Make up potatoes according to package directions, then mix in cheese. Sift each 1½-sterter lengthwise but not through bottom; fill with potato mixture. Place on ungreased baking sheet; sprinkle with paprika. Bake in moderate (350 degrees) oven 15 minutes or until hot through. For an extra garnish heat a frankfurter in simmering water and slice crosswise; tuck slices into potato stuffing when they come out of oven. Makes 4 servings — two potato-stuffed frankfurters for each portion.

Leftover Syrup Makes Tasty Treat

When you have syrup left over from canned cherries, you may wish to have this recipe on hand.

CHERRY FLUFF

- 1 cup syrup from canned dark sweet cherries
- 1 pkg. (3 oz.) cherry-flavored gelatin
- 1 cup strained orange juice
- 2 egg whites
- Custard Sauce

Heat syrup from cherries until boiling; dissolve gelatin in it by stirring. Stir in orange juice.

Chill, stirring occasionally, until slightly thickened.

Turn into a medium-sized mixing bowl; add egg whites. Beat with rotary beater (hand or electric) until increased in volume enough to fill a 6-cup mold — 8 to 10 minutes at high speed of electric mixer.

Turn into mold; chill until set. Unmold; serve with Custard Sauce. Sauce may be made from a package of instant vanilla pudding. Makes 8 servings.

Broccoli Tip

When buying frozen broccoli you'll probably get a larger proportion of the head in a package of "chopped broccoli spears" than in one marked "chopped broccoli."

In Serving Soup

Serve piping hot black bean soup by pouring it over a lemon slice in the bottom of the soup bowl.

Baking Know-How

If you have a favorite baking pan that is an odd shape or size, find out how much it holds so that you can judge whether it fits the recipe to be used.

Chef's Salad

Break into salad bowl: 1 head lettuce; add 1/2 peeled cucumber, thinly sliced, 6 radishes, thinly sliced, 1/2 cup sliced celery, 2 medium tomatoes, cut in sections. Toss with 1/2 cup Broccoli Special Dressing (approximately), use enough dressing to coat all ingredients, with none left standing in the bottom of the bowl. Serves 6.

Breaded Pork Chops Make Hit

One of the most delicious ways we know to cook pork chops: BREADED PORK CHOPS
4 rib pork chops (1 1/4 lbs., each about 1 inch thick)
1/4 tsp. salt
1/4 tsp. pepper
1/4 tsp. celery salt
1/4 tsp. paprika
1/4 tsp. onion salt
1 egg, slightly beaten
1/2 cup fine dry bread crumbs
2 tbsps. butter
Cut all but a thin layer of fat away from around chops. Mix flour, salt, pepper, celery salt, paprika and onion salt on waxed paper.
Dip chops, one at a time, in flour mixture, then in egg, and last in bread crumbs. Brown chops on both sides in hot butter in a medium-sized skillet.
Cover and cook over low heat until done through—browning and cooking will probably take 40 minutes. Makes 4 servings.

Lean Steaks

A good trick with very thin steaks with little fat is to dip them into a French dressing or salad oil before broiling or pan-frying.

Fish Formed Favorite Supper Dish For FDR

At the White House, when FDR was president, it was often served from a chafing dish for Sunday night supper and "all the family liked it, especially Mrs. Roosevelt."
It's popular in England for breakfast. In America it has been welcomed at lunch and supper. Scotland appropriated it from India and changed its name. What's the dish? Kedgeree, to use the Scottish way of spelling the Indian word Kitcheri.

The Scottish Women's Rural Institutes Cookery Book gives the recipe: cooked rice and fish, hard-cooked eggs, salt, pepper and cayenne garnished with chopped parsley. England's Mrs. Beeton approves this formula, noting that dried haddock is generally preferred as the fish.

You'll find all sorts of variations of this basic rule, but if these go far afield pay no attention to them. After his recipe for Kedgeree the English writer, Robin McDouall, says tersely: "Some cookery writers recommend a curry sauce but I am dead against it." So are we.

We do, however, use a white-meat fish such as bass in our Kedgeree and serve it with accompaniments, curry-style. The go-alongs? Mango chutney, chopped toasted almonds and our own inspiration — French fried onions.

KEDGEREE, CURRY-STYLE
2 cups flaked cooked fish (firm white-meat variety)
2 cups cooked rice
2 hard-cooked eggs (chopped)
1 raw egg
1/4 cup light cream
2 tbsps. butter
Salt
Pepper
1 can (3 1/2 ounces) French fried onions
Mango chutney
Toasted chopped almonds

In a bowl toss together the fish, rice and chopped hard-cooked eggs. Add raw egg to cream; beat just enough to combine yolk and white. Melt butter in a 10-inch skillet over moderate heat; add fish mixture; stir carefully but thoroughly to heat. Add cream mixture; stir over low heat until grains of rice are slightly coated with the egg. Add salt and pepper to taste. Turn into heated bowl or chafing dish; garnish with some of the onions; pass remaining onions with chutney and almonds. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Note: Have onions heated, according to directions on cap, so they'll be ready to serve the split second the rice and fish are heated through.

Sunday Night Supper

At the White House, in Franklin Delano Roosevelt's day, Sunday night supper sometimes featured a special rice and fish dish. Easy to serve in your home, it is especially delicious with French fried onions.

Give A Western Party

If you have a children's party to give soon, plan to make it a Western Party. It's sure to please the would-be cowboys, Indians and frontier beauties in your neighborhood.

For invitations, cut the shape of a cowboy Stetson from brown wrapping paper and print the message on it. Perhaps the invitation would read: "Come to My Western Party."

Another more time-consuming but effective invitation is to burn the wording into a small, lightweight square of wood, using a child's wood-burning set. Along with the address, give your home a name, something like the Lazy S Ranch or the Bar X Ranch. Children always get a bang out of emulating favorite Western heroes. This enthusiasm can be directed to Western games which will hold their interest. One game that's restrained enough to play indoors is called "Sheriff and the Posse".

Out of the group, select one player to be the sheriff; the rest of the group is the posse. While the sheriff is out of the room, the posse decides upon a place to hide a small bag of pennies.

After the pennies are hidden, the sheriff is called back into the room. As soon as he enters the room, the posse begins clapping hands. The hands clap louder as the sheriff gets closer to the hiding place. When he moves away from the area of the hiding place, the clapping becomes softer.

When the hidden loot is finally discovered by the sheriff, another player is selected to be sheriff and the game continues.

For refreshments, make the Westerner Cake. It's a big cake you can mix in 11 minutes and the recipe can be made two different ways. One is made with powdered sugar for a delicate, fresh-tasting cake—the Golden Westerner. The other, the Amber Westerner, is made with brown sugar for a cake that's rich and moist with a butterscotch taste.

The Westerner Cake keeps well so you can bake it several days ahead of the party. It's particularly good to serve children because it's easily eaten without crumbling. Serve it plain, topped with whipped cream and shaved chocolate, ice cream or fruit.

GOLDEN WESTERNER CAKE
3 sticks (1/4 lb.) butter or margarine
1 1/2 lb. carton Imperial 10X Powdered Sugar
6 eggs

With rotary beater (hand or electric) in medium-sized bowl beat the eggs until thick and lemon color; gradually beat in sugar; mixture will be very thick and ivory color. Gradually sift and fold in the sifted dry ingredients.

Add pie filling and nuts; fold in. Turn into prepared pan. Bake in slow (325 degrees) oven 45 minutes or until cake tester inserted in center comes out clean.

Turn out on wire rack; strip off paper; turn right side up. Serve warm or cold as is or with a tart pudding sauce or whipped cream.

Note: Use the minced fruit pie filling just as it comes from the jar; do not add water.

Outstanding Vegetable Buys Listed For Weekend

By The Associated Press

Recent freezing weather in the Lower Rio Grande Valley may affect future supplies of tender fresh vegetables but there is an abundance of many items in Texas food markets this week, the Agriculture Marketing Service said Thursday.

Rating the "good buy" label are cabbage; carrots; cauliflower; celery; lettuce; and greens like collards, mustard, both smooth and curly, and turnip tops.

Citrus, apparently unharmed by the frost, continues in good supply. Grapefruit prices are unchanged from last week but oranges are a bit higher, says the Agricultural Marketing Service.

Also generally available at attractive prices are good supplies of apples, especially winosap and Rome beauty; avocados; bananas; onions, including new crop from South Texas; potatoes; sweet potatoes; and turnips and rutabagas.

Cabbage and cauliflower are lower than last week. Strawberry shipments are increasing and wholesale prices are a bit lower.

Fancy green beans are higher and in limited supply but poorer qualities are lower and abundant. Higher prices also prevail on cucumbers, iceberg lettuce, peppers, Idaho russet potatoes and tomaatoes. Good-quality peppers are scarce.

Mexican cantaloupes and Chilean fruits are becoming ample in many areas. Prices are lower but still high.

Egg prices remain low, with large sizes the best buy. Some increase in pork prices is noted but most pork cuts favor economy. Shrimp and other fish, fresh and frozen, are in good supply.

Vegetable, Macaroni Is Good Combination For Lenten Season

Meatless main dish adapted from Sicilian cooking.

EGGPLANT AND MACARONI
1 medium-sized eggplant (1 1/4 pounds)
1/4 cup olive oil
1 pkg. (7 ounces) elbow macaroni

1 can (10 1/2 ounces) meatless spaghetti sauce (tomato base)
1/4 pound grated cheddar cheese (1 cup)
1/4 cup grated Parmesan cheese

Peel eggplant; slice into rounds 1/2-inch thick; cut slices in half. Heat half the oil in a large skillet; add one layer of eggplant and brown on both sides; add remaining oil as needed and to brown rest of eggplant. Drain eggplant on absorbent paper.

Meanwhile cook macaroni according to package directions; drain; return to kettle; add spaghetti sauce and mix over low heat. In a buttered 1 1/2-quart baking dish, layer macaroni mixture, eggplant (lightly sprinkled with salt) and cheddar cheese. Sprinkle top with Parmesan.

Bake in moderate (375 degrees) until very hot — about 25 minutes. Makes 5 servings.

Fluctuating Price
Did you know that eggs fluctuate in price during the year almost more than any other food? When planning your food budget if you may wish to use eggs sparingly during a high season and most generously during a low one.

Storage Caution
Blistered, dried or dark skin on frozen duck usually indicates that the freezing or storage methods are inferior; properly cared for frozen duck is as good a product as fresh duck.

Guide To Honey
In buying honey suit your taste by remembering that the lighter the color the milder the flavor; if the floral source is not indicated the honey is probably a blend of different types.

Taste Tang Can Spark Your Yams

The tangy taste of citrus juice sparks this dish of sweet potatoes in such a way that it is bound to become a favorite.

CITRUS YAMS
(Makes 4 servings)
1 1/2 tbsps. butter or margarine
1 1/2 tbsps. cornstarch
2 tbsps. lime juice
1-3 cup orange juice
1/4 tsp. salt

4 medium-sized yams, cooked, peeled and quartered
Melt butter or margarine; add cornstarch and blend. Gradually add lime juice and orange juice and cook over low heat, stirring constantly, until thickened and clear. Add yams and heat to serving temperature, stirring occasionally.

Storage Caution
Blistered, dried or dark skin on frozen duck usually indicates that the freezing or storage methods are inferior; properly cared for frozen duck is as good a product as fresh duck.

TWO WAYS TO BAKE THE WESTERNER

GOLDEN WESTERNER Delicately flavored, fresh-tasting cake homemade with Imperial 10X Powdered Sugar.
AMBER WESTERNER Rich in moist with a butterscotch taste that comes from Imperial Brown Sugar!

GOLDEN WESTERNER CAKE
3 sticks (1/4 lb.) butter or margarine
1 1/2 lb. carton Imperial 10X Powdered Sugar
6 eggs
1 Imperial 10X Powdered Sugar carton full of sifted flour
1 teaspoon lemon juice
1 tablespoon vanilla

Have eggs and butter at room temperature. Cream butter; add Imperial 10X Powdered Sugar; beat till fluffy. Add eggs, one at a time; beat well after each addition. Sift flour 3 times; add gradually to batter. Add flavorings and mix well. Bake in 10" greased and floured tube pan at 325°F. 1 1/2 hours. Cool 4 minutes, then invert pan. Wonderful served plain, with whipped cream, fruit or ice cream. If you wish, spoon Imperial 10X Powdered Sugar lightly on ridges on top of cake.

AMBER WESTERNER CAKE Use one 1-pound carton of Imperial Light or Dark Brown Sugar instead of Imperial 10X Powdered Sugar in the recipe above. Measure the sifted flour in the empty carton of Imperial Brown Sugar.

A Devotional For Today

Therefore, my beloved brethren, be steadfast, immovable, always abounding in the work of the Lord, knowing that in the Lord your labor is not in vain. (I Corinthians 15:58. RSV.)
PRAYER: Our Father, send upon us Thy power that it may move us to action beyond our own power. Help us to be laborers together with Christ that our lives and our work may help and encourage others and bring honor to Thee. In His name. Amen.

Salute To A Great Basketball Team

Howard County Junior College has just won the Texas Junior College basketball championship.
We salute Coach Buddy Travis and his young men for not only a brilliant effort in the state tournament conducted here, but also for consistent performance all during the season. The team has perhaps the most outstanding record ever piled up by an HCJC team, which is saying a lot.
And while we're at it, we also salute the Big Spring High School basketball team, for in any other year but this one when Midland was so bountifully supplied with great talent, the Steers might well have won the district. At any rate they were great competitors and fared much better than most observers believed they could.
But back to the Jayhawks. During the regular season they had only three blenches against their record, and each of these was by a relatively close margin. In at least two instances the Jayhawks avenged themselves two or three times over against the same teams.

HCJC has some splendid performers; any one of the starters might be considered a star in his own right (three of them made the all-state team), but it has been the balance achieved by team effort which has made the squad a great one. An uncanny ability to accommodate patterns to those who were hot on a particular night helped the Jayhawks over many a rough spot. The cool, calculating workmanship with which they attacked their assignment game after game was something to watch. A great bunch of fellows.

Probable Outcome Of A Struggle

The filibuster of 16 deep-South senators to prevent the administration's civil rights bill from coming to a vote drags on 24 hours a day, with the opponents "spelling" each other as the slow hours drag on. Many of the little band, in addition to some dozens of others on the other side, have taken to sleeping on Army cots wherever they can find a place to put them.
There is enough combined Republican and Democratic votes, the latter from the North and from border states, to pass a civil rights bill if the filibuster can be bogged down; but what kind of civil rights bill?
There are two: the administration's and one readied by Senate Majority Leader Lyndon B. Johnson.
At the appropriate moment, very likely, the Johnson bill, considerably milder than the administration's, will be offered as a compromise, and the likelihood is a coalition of conservative Democrats and Republicans will be able to pass the modified bill.

It still won't please the filibusters, but the removal of the harsh provisions of the administration bill and insertion of some of the milder Johnson features may convince the last-ditch Southerners that their fight was not entirely so much wasted effort.
A compromise would enable both major parties to "make a record" on civil rights and thus satisfy the needs of the 1960 election. After all, that was the main purpose in the first place, sit-down demonstrations, breast-beatings notwithstanding. In any year other than an election year, the matter would likely not have gotten to the floor.

David Lawrence

Jewish Skeleton In The Soviet Cupboard

WASHINGTON — The Soviet Union's complicity in the anti-Semitic demonstrations recently in various countries, including West Germany, has long been suspected, but it remained for Dr. Bela Fabian, chairman of the Federation of Hungarian Former Political Prisoners, to reveal what has been suppressed, namely the background of the conspiracy.
It develops that for several months prior to the swastika painting on synagogues in West Germany, the Soviet Union was carrying on an anti-Semitic campaign but the news was not allowed to get out.
Dr. Fabian, writing in "U. S. News & World Report," tells of these occurrences: "In Baranovichi, Bendery, Kishinev, Kiev, Minsk, Voronezh and Wilna, Jewish cemeteries were desecrated and memorials defaced. No punitive actions were taken against the perpetrators, which also shows that they were inspired or encouraged by the authorities."
DR. FABIAN SAYS THAT in the last six months of 1959 a large number of synagogues in various parts of the Soviet Union were closed down. He names 20 different cities, and declares that there now are only 60 synagogues functioning in the entire Soviet Union. He states that in Moscow, where there are 600,000 Jews, only one synagogue is permitted to remain open. The windows in this church building were broken on New Year's Eve and further damage done a few days later. Dr. Fabian adds:
"Discrimination against Jews in the Soviet Union may be seen by the following facts:
"1. Each Soviet citizen has to have an internal passport that serves as a certificate of identity within the country. Ordinary Soviet citizens have only the place of their birth marked on the cards, while those of the Jews are marked by the word 'Evrei' — Jew.
"2. JEWS CANNOT BE CIVIL servants or army officers. Since 1949, no Jews are admitted to Soviet military schools.
"3. The world was shocked that, under the czars, Jews numbering 5 per cent of the student body were allowed to study at Russian universities. Today, there are no more than 1.5 per cent, while at the universities of the Ukraine no Jews are admitted. Today, there are still Jews who practice medicine and are employed as teachers and professors, but now they are excluded from the medical faculty, from training schools for teachers and from training schools for diplomats.

"4. Jews are gradually being pushed out of administrative jobs in industrial plants. Nowadays, they even rarely hold the job of a foreman."
Discussing the anti-Semitic demonstrations in West Germany Dr. Fabian asks:
"Who was interested in compromising the Liberal-Democratic Chancellor Adenauer of Germany before the 'summit' conference? Who would profit by breaking up the united front of the Western Alliance?"
"IT IS OBVIOUS THAT this anti-Semitic campaign did not serve the interest of West Germany — now waging a battle of life and death for Berlin and for the reunification of Germany — as, for this country, not only the support but also the sympathy of the free world is essential. The weakening of West Germany's moral and the disruption of Western unity would profit only one power: the Soviet Union.
"The anti-Semitic campaign would also serve to camouflage the tragic fact that, within the last six months, the Soviet Union is the only country to introduce legally and in practice the Nazi principles of Nuremberg.
"The Jewish question is the skeleton in the Soviet cupboard. As long as silence is maintained, the gradual liquidation of Jewry goes on.
"History may repeat itself. Had the world raised its voice in time — before Hitler sent millions of Jews to the gas chambers, and not after, when there was nothing one could do but lament — millions of lives would have been saved."
THE CUSTOMARY DENIALS are issued by Khrushchev when asked about anti-Semitism in the Soviet Union. He declares that religious freedom prevails and that where Jewish churches have been closed it has been because of alleged anti-Soviet activities.
Perhaps the most curious aspects of this whole business is the readiness with which some of the "left-wing" elements in the United States have been so ready to pook-pook and dismiss as absurd the idea that the Soviet espionage apparatus may have been back of the well-coordinated movement throughout the world to paint swastikas on synagogues.

Triple Hearted Hagfish

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (U) — The hagfish has three hearts.
One has no nerves, and has been kept beating outside the fish for days by researchers.
They have also found, Jeffrey D. Fraustschy, assistant director of Scripps Institution of Oceanography, told the San Diego Propeller Club that pulverized hagfish heart rejuvenates hearts of other small creatures when given as a drug. The hagfish is about a foot long and resembles an eel.

OUR VERSATILE POLITICIANS

James Marlow Not Very Interesting Reading

WASHINGTON (AP)—You can run your own test on how much interest you have in President Eisenhower's present journey to South America and Premier Nikita Khrushchev's present tour of Southern Asia.
Just ask yourself how much attention you've been paying to the day-by-day stories about both men and particularly how much, of all they have said in all their speeches, have you read or even wanted to read.
The answer is probably: not much. And, if this is true in your case, there are three handy reasons:
1. Since they're both on a selling campaign—trying to win good will for their own countries—they are not going to say anything which angers or alienates their hosts. That makes for unexciting speeches.
2. Since both men are going to meet in a May summit conference, neither is likely to say anything so inflammatory it could be interpreted as a deliberate effort to wreck the conference before it starts.

3. We happen to be in a relatively quiet interval which began with the Eisenhower-Khrushchev meeting in the United States in 1959 and will almost certainly extend to the time when the two men face each other again at Paris.
Until they met here last year there had been steadily mounting tension over Berlin—a tension deliberately created by Khrushchev—but he took the heat off and the world returned to calm, waiting to see what Paris produced. Khrushchev on his current tour is speaking out again about Berlin, but he hasn't yet returned to threats or ultimatums and isn't likely to before the summit meeting.

So it's no wonder there has been little or no excitement in anything either man has said.
Something else seems to have happened, too.
There was tremendous interest in Khrushchev's trip to this country and in Eisenhower's trip later in 1959 to Europe, Asia, and North Africa. But this second go-round of trips by both men has taken the edge off their expeditions, in this country, at least.
This is a curious development in international dealings when it is remembered that a tour of nations by an American president or a Soviet premier was unheard of just a short time ago.

THIS DAY IN TEXAS

By CURTIS BISHOP

Hal Boyle

2-Dollar Cigars For Lent

NEW YORK (AP)—"What are you giving up for Lent this year?"
People have been asking each other this question for days. Most of them now are embarked on their annual 40-day sacrifice of some form of personal indulgence.
The fellow down the hall from me has sworn off marjams for the duration. A girl on the floor below has turned her back on tempting chocolate sodas. The old lady on the floor above has abandoned the reading of lurid confession magazines, a harmless source of thrills for her during the rest of the year.
"Everybody ought to give up something for Lent, daddy," said my daughter, Tracy Ann, 6. "Is it all right if I give up bubble gum?"
I told her that was a fine thing to give up and complimented her on her spirit of fortitude because I saw it would be a real struggle. At six you don't give up bubble gum lightly. When the world is going against you at that age, bubble gum can be a real consolation.
"And what are you going to give up?" asked my daughter.
The question stopped me cold. "I haven't decided yet," I told her.

But what can a middle-aged man give up? He can't give up bossing-baiting, wife-beating or cop-fighting. He already has cut out such frivolities long ago.
If he is already on the wagon and embarked on a diet, he can't give up the bottle or the joys of the table. For the time being, these things are part of his past already. The doctor has forbidden him the pleasures most people make such a point of giving up at this period of the year.
When you get right down to it, a middle-aged man or a health kick doesn't have either any vices or joys he is aware of.
In this dilemma I consulted my wife who, fortunately, hadn't decided that for Lent she would give up on giving me advice.
"I can name a hundred things you could still give up," she said, "and, bless her heart, I feel sure she could name 200 if she got really started." "But for one thing, why don't you do the draperies a favor and give up smoking those cheap cigars?"
Well, that's an idea, I guess I will give them up.
That leaves just one problem. How am I going to get her to give me the money to smoke expensive cigars?

Around The Rim Ways To Ferret Out That Black Gold

West Texans live in the midst of plenty... oil that is... but only a few have been able to tap the reserve. Those in the know tell me that all of us could have wealth aplenty, if we just go out and find it.
This fact is obvious to us all, but who has enough money to hire a crew, purchase a rig and all the other impediments necessary to discover oil? On the other hand, who says all of this is necessary?
I have found what may be the answer for those of us who would like to have the oil and accompanying money, without having any money to start with. It seems there are 10 other ways to find oil that do not cost money. And each of them has been proven successful, at one time or another.

FIRST, I'LL LIST THE "divining rod." Don't laugh. One of the best pools in Pennsylvania was opened in 1865 when a "divining expert" pointed out the site for a well that flowed 250 barrels of oil per day. The best procedure is to hire a dowser who has his own twig of witch-hazel or peach wood.
"Spiritualism" is another method. Again, case histories are available of oil found in this manner. To cite one: Abram James was riding across Pennsylvania when he suddenly leaped from the carriage, vaulted a fence and ran into a field. He fell into a trance and on awakening he said a faithful Indian spirit said he could find oil on that spot at 850 feet. He drilled and sure enough, oil was found at exactly 850 feet.

OR WE COULD TRY "CREEKOL-OGY." Early oil explorers believed oil streams underground paralleled water streams and rivers on the surface. This was due to the fact that Colonel Drake found oil on the banks of a stream. When too many dry holes resulted, oilmen switched to high land near cemeteries. Here the relationship had some basis in fact. Cemeteries are usually on high ground and high ground sometimes indicates an "anticline," the common type of oil trap.

An easier way to discover oil would be to find an "oil smeller." These people are said to have a super-sensitive process and by sniffing around the site, can detect oil thousands of feet deep.
In the same category is the "oil tromper." This character is one of the lucky few whose body has a specific gravity attuned to petroleum. When he walks around the ground, his footprints leave depressions twice as deep as normal folks, indicating oil reserves.

AND THEN THERE IS THE "oil flower." It only grows where there is oil. But few folks know what it looks like. Those who do naturally keep it a secret. However, the flower experts say it is an infallible sign of buried oil.
The "soil taster," they say, is a vanishing breed. But he was the fellow who could taste the soil and tell you if it holds oil and how deep it is. This taster also could name the quantity.

"Human reactors" are another type of oil locator, and their actions are wholly involuntary. Like a geiger counter, these folks react when they get anywhere near petroleum. An Ohio man claims the back of his neck bulges up when he is near natural gas. A West African lad was hired in Colorado in 1949 to help prospect for oil. He was called "the boy with the X-ray eyes." As nothing more has been heard, this lad can probably be hired quite inexpensively.

"DOODLEBUGS ARE commonly known around the country as they are slicked-up mechanized versions of the divining rods. They are also called other names, but the editor will not allow such words to be used in the Herald. One of the more interesting of these not only located oil fields, but when properly operated it would issue a printed card giving the extent of the pool, depth of the oil, daily yield in barrels and the specific gravity. It is now being improved to give the operator's age, weight and horoscope.

And last, you can resort to dreams. Any clue that comes to you while asleep is sure to be the straight stuff. Literally hundreds of case histories are available, but I'll conserve space by leaving out the list.

Photographers Are Now Upper Crust

Antony Armstrong-Jones is the first man who ever stormed and took a castle with a camera. And it is my hunch that hundreds of script writers are now busily translating the latest royal romance into soap suds for teevee, stage, screen and radio.
The engagement of Her Majesty's only sister to a working photographer has done more for the profession and its practitioners than any other single event since the invention of the box Brownie. In my profession, a working reporter who is sent out on an assignment in the future with a newspaper photographer won't know whether to uncover or curtsy, or both.

THE ADMISSION OF photographer Armstrong-Jones to the royal family simply completes the status revolution of the profession. But the House of Windsor is not the first royal family into which a photographer has married. Mrs. Jack Kennedy, wife of the Massachusetts mauler and premier Democratic candidate for the presidency, was, at the time of her marriage, an "inquiring photographer" for a Washington, D. C., newspaper.
The advent of what is known as "pictorial journalism" in the past 25 years hath wrought a great transformation in the status of the news photographer. In the old days he played approximately fifth fiddle to the dashing reporter and the fascinating foreign correspondent. The "front page" era of literature was wholly preoccupied with the reporter.

BUT WITH THE SUDDEN growth and popularity of pictorial journalism, the photographer began to inch up the status ladder. He started by swiping the foreign correspondent's trench coat and ended up as the hero of "Rear Window," with Jimmy Stewart as his counterpart. Now, he has it made. The current public image of the heroic correspondent who roams the earth for news is a lad hung with cameras from every pore, rather than a guy carrying an old, best-up mill. That is a far cry from the days when a J. P. Morgan could brandish and threaten a news photographer with his cane! Today, about the only public figure willing to feud with photographers is Mr. Armstrong-Jones's future brother-in-law, Prince Philip, the Duke of Edinburgh, and he isn't running for anything.

THE PRINCE ON VARIOUS occasions has shown slight patience with the attempts of news photographers to preserve His Highness for posterity. When I was in England some 10 months ago there was a grave contretemps, just short of an empire crisis, occupying press and public. The prince was accused of deliberately turning a hose and sprinkler on a few news-photographers assigned to immortalize the royal family, including the Queen, as it attended the opening of the Chelsea Flower Show.
There was such an outcry over the incident that Buckingham Palace finally issued a public denial that Prince Philip had deliberately doused the photographers. But there were dark mutterings and little conviction along Fleet St., London's newspaper row.

SO IT MAY BEHOVE Mr. Armstrong-Jones, who is now moving into Buckingham Palace from his little apartment in the Piccolo section of London, to keep a sharp eye out for hoses and trick sprinklers. Let us hope that her brother-in-law is so delighted, along with the rest of the world, that Princess Margaret is not, after all, to be a spinster, that he will forgive and forget the cameras.

Mr. Armstrong-Jones, well-born and well-educated, looks just the proper hero for a reverse Cinderella story. But who would even have dreamed that Margaret's glass slipper would fit a photographer's foot? Even though today all photographers are Ivy League types with button-down ears or Old Elton types with button-down umbrellas?
But is there anyone who doesn't hope that the princess and the photographer marry and live happily ever after?

GOP's Family Quarrel In New Jersey

WASHINGTON — The Republicans in New Jersey are about to stage a political drama almost as old as East Lynne. It is a repetition of the family quarrel so bruising that the way is opened for the Democratic opposition to walk in to victory in the fall.
What gives this national interest is the way in which it reflects the struggle over the identity of the GOP. And at the same time it points up Vice President Nixon's dilemma as he walks his way way between the extreme right-wingers, whose love he already has, and the moderate or Eisenhower Republicans and independent Democrats, whose support he must win if he is to be President.

SEN. CLIFFORD P. CASE of New Jersey, running for re-election after one term, has a clear claim to the title of moderate or liberal Republican. He has supported President Eisenhower on almost all issues and he has often gone further than the President, being for federal aid to school construction, for help in clearing stream pollution, and other matters where Eisenhower economy comes down hard.
Case is opposed for renomination by Robert Morris, formerly counsel of the Senate's Internal Security subcommittee and one of the most impassioned and sincere crusaders on the Communist-infracture-everything line. He is stumping the state charging that Case favors spending policies opposed by the President. At the same time he is out against repeal of the Connally amendment, which puts limits on American acceptance of the jurisdiction of the World Court, although both Eisenhower and Nixon are on record for the change.

Two years ago Morris was one of three candidates for the Senate seat occupied by a Republican, Sen. Alexander Smith, who was retiring. Opposing Congressman Robert Keane and Bernard Shanley, secretary to President Eisenhower, Morris took the same stern line. He ran third with about 20 per cent of the vote. The winner, Keane, was defeated in November by Harrison Williams, the Democratic candidate.

Visiting New Jersey last fall Nixon was asked about Case. He replied with what could hardly be taken as a ringing endorsement of the senator's record. "I certainly would not criticize his record," he said. "He was extremely effective in his work with the Internal Security subcommittee."

THAT SEEMED TO LEAVE Case in the "Yes, maybe, but" category. That is, to say the least, an uneasy position for a Republican who wants to identify himself with the Eisenhower administration.
But in the 1960 version of this political East Lynne there is a major difference. Gov. Robert Meyner, who has repeatedly demonstrated his vote-getting powers in the Democratic ticket, and the candidate New Jersey will not be at the head of the Democratic ticket. And the candidate Democrats have chosen to run for the Senate, Thorn Lord, has never run for a statewide office and is, therefore, comparatively unknown.
