Championship Capons And Lambs Announced

Bryans Fitzhugh, Big Spring 4-H Club member, won the grand champion in capon competition at the 23rd Annual Howard County 4-H and FFA Livestock Show Wednesday morning. Kirby Horton, also a 4-H member, was winner of the reserve grand cham-

Three champion lambs were selected. This year's show eliminated the idea of grand champion lamb and reserve champion. Instead, a champion fine wool, champion cross bred and champion Southdown lamb were selected.

Jimmy Mays showed the champion fine wool lamb; Tommy Gilmore, champion crossbred, and Orveta Fryar, champion Southdown. More than 200 spectators-a record number to be present for this phase of the yearly show—were in the fair grounds building during the capon and lamb judging. Attendance is usually extremely light at this part of activities. Steer judg-ing, under way Wednesday afternoon, was expected to bring out an even larger gallery.

Jimmy Taylor, show superintendent, said that the quality of the animals was exceptionally good and that he was delighted at the interest being displayed, He praised the work of W. M. Day Jr., Upton County agent, who was judge of the capons and the Thirty-eight capons were in the competition. One hundred and 10 lambs were entered and 25 steers. Awards for the outstanding showman in each division will be made at the auction sale which is trophy will go to the best showman in the capon, lamb and steer

Slashed; On 9-Day Pattern

AUSTIN (AP)-The Texas Railroad Commission cut today the April stetewide oil allowable by 123,029 barrels per day, fixing the allowable at 2,814,252 barrels per day based on a 9-day production

The commission issued its order in the face of strong demands to slash the allowable to eight days. which would have been a cut of more than 300,000 barrels per day. A majority of the oil-buying companies and the independent oil producers urged the eight-day

Chief executives of 22 of the nation's biggest oil companies answered 55 questions during an extended proration hearing regarding the desirable level of crude oil and crude products supplies. The consensus of the increase in the United States' domestic demand for petroleum this year was approximately 31/2 per cent.

The commission, which has yet to tabulate the statistical evidence offered, may not get all the answers it desires on crude and products. As an example, gasoline stocks now are estimated to be 36,200,000 barrels above the desired level for this time of year as estimated by the chief executives. But the companies, in outlining their own company desired levels, gave evidence that gasoline is only 11/2 million barrels

"After all this testimony, I am perplexed as to just where is the missing 35 million barrels," Commissioner William J. Murray said. Twelve of the companies nominated for eight days and were joined in their recommendations by the West Central and North Texas Oil and Gas Assns, and a group of Dallas oilmen with statewide holdings.

One company, Standard of Indiana, recommended seven days.
This company has, in effect, a pipeline proration order of its own now. Five other firms recommended nine days and two nominated for 10 days.

sented by City Manager R. K. Snethen was $388,892, up $17,366 from the budget figure for the the mine opening. year ending April 30, 1960. Snethen said that the increase was principally due in a 5 per cent salary hike for city employes, the purchase of additional city equipment and the general increase in the cost of supplies.

At the request of the Federation Library Board the council included in the budget $1,200 more a year for salary of the librarian and to employ an assistant. The local public library is operated by the Mitchell County Federated Clubs and the city and county been donating $300 per month toward its upkeep. Hospital Costs May Not Rise

AUSTIN (AP)-Operation of the 18 state hospitals and special schools will cost around 41 million dollars per year-about the same as the current cost-in 1962 and 1963, the State Hospital Board was told Tuesday. Raymond Vowell, executive director of the hospital system, said reductions in the expected operating expenses of the five tuberculosis hospitals will balance out 'some necessary increases" in other areas. Figures include $24,790,000 for mental hospitals in Austin, San Antonio, Terrell, Wichita Falls (including the Vernon branch), Rusk, Big Spring and Kerrville; $6,648,000 for TB hospitals in Kerrville, San Angelo, San Antonio, Tyler and Harlingen, and $10,213,000 for schools for the mentally relosis. Preference Told At News Parley WASHINGTON (AP)-President | lence in any form will not ad-

Eisenhower publicly endorsed Vice President Richard M. Nixon endorsed today as his choice for the Republican presidential nomination. Eisenhower made plain at a news conference that he supports

Nixon, who at this point has no opposition for the nomination. The President was asked about published reports that at a dinner Saturday night he indirecttapped the vice president as his choice to succeed him in the White House.

The reporter was alluding to the annual dinner of the Gridiron Club, an organization of newsmen. Eisenhower spoke there but the club rules specify that "reporters are never present."

Nevertheless, some news writers who did not attend the dinner got word that Eisenhower had in effect endorsed Nixon. They wrote dispatches saying so.

When the matter of these published reports was brought up today, Eisenhower chuckled and said that at the dinner he actually had been referring to geographical areas at the dinner ta-

His suggestion was that he had not actually endorsed Nixon there. NO DOUBTS

Alsops Assay The Democrats

In this week's Saturday Evening Post an associate editor, Stewart Alsop, whose brother Joe writes for our morning editorial page, rates the five principal Democratic presidential aspirants as follows:

John Kennedy: "As the front runner and first serious Roman Catholic candidate since Al Smith, he cannot afford to stumble."

Hubert Humphrey: "He is aware that it will take a series of near miracles to win the presidential nomination." Lyndon Johnson: "The acceptance of the vice presidential nomination by Kennedy is a vital part of the Johnson strate-

Stuart Symington: "The Missouri Compromise-a man who can hold the party together and alienate no important fac-

Adlai Stevenson: "The presidential virus, which did seem to be dead in Stevenson a year ago, has inevitably re-

Alsop says that the key to this whole political year may well be whether or not Kennedy would turn down the vice presidential nomination. If either Johnson or Stevenson should cop the nomination, he goes on, and is to have a reasonable chance of winning in November he MUST have Kennedy as a runningmate.

As we recall it, at the 1956 Democratic Convention, Lyndon Johnson and the Texas delegation led the fight to nominate John Kennedy for vice president in preference to Estes Kefauver, and came within a few votes of carrying the day for Kennedy.

If the 1960 convention comes to the point where it looks like Johnson has a better chance than Kennedy to win the top spot, it is not inconceivable that there could be a coalition of Johnson and Kennedy forces, and Kennedy might accept the second spot. This possibility could be heightened by the valiant fight Texas put up for Kennedy as second to Stevenson 1956.

But the way Alsep sees it, Kennedy would accept the second spot to Johnson if he thought the ticket could win in November, but he would adamantly refuse if he felt the Democrats didn't have a chance to win. Most political dopesters think that if Kennedy wins the top spot, it will have to be on an early ballot, perhaps the first or second; if the balloting goes to a third or fourth round, Johnson, with his solid bloc of somewhere near 400 out of the 761 necessary, would emerge the victor. If Johnson does win, it would take only a nod from him to insure Kennedy as his runningmate, and Kennedy might find it impossible to refuse a "draft."

Muddled Affair Of Air Force Manual

isn't that correct?

Nikita Khrushchev was due in Paris Tuesday, but he will be delayed a week by an attack of grippe. French Communists had placarded the City of Light with welcoming signs, photos and slogans, but the rolypoly dictator, probably a bit rundown by his recent excursion into Southeast Asia, just couldn't muster the strength to put in an appearance.

Anyone who has had the grippe will undertstand, and will forego repeating a familiar wisecrack, "We hope it's nothing trivial."

But there is some suspicion that Nikita's indisposition might be a convenient excuse for not showing up when scheduled. In short, it may be a tactical delay, to suit whatever purpose the Russian premier has in mind.

There may be those

"Again, to stop Communists we must be careful not to attack the majority of faithful ministers and church-goers. We must merely search out those who back Moscow right down the line."

Mr. Arends said to the committee: "In view of the secretary's repudiation of the information conveyed respecting the National Council of Churches of Christ in America, the chairman (Representative Francis E. Walter of Pennsylvania. Democrat) issued a statement to the effect that the leadership of the National Council of the Churches of Christ in the United States of America had hundreds, or at least over one hundred, affiliations with Communist fronts and causes. Representative Donald L. Jackson, Republican, of California, a member of the same committee, charged that some newspapers last Friday twisted the words of Cardinal Spellman of New York into a 'defense" of those who had criticized the Air Force manual. Around The Rim

An Iron Pipe And A Mighty Good Man

On the southeast corner of the Runnels Junior High campus is a heavy pipe standard which rises like a big wicket. This may or may not be the pipe put in the ground three and a half decades ago, but the spot is the same.

The man who first marked that spot for special use was Joe Ward, one of the all-time greats of the University of Texas. Fresh from school and boasting allconference honors in more than one sport, he arrived here to take charge of the a from center, tossed the ball between the football fortunes of Big Spring High EVERYONE KNEW THEY had some thing special in this big, genial fellow, for prospective team members as well as fans and trustees met him at the train. Joe Ward didn't disappoint them.

He scraped out the back side of what was then the high school campus and limed the boundaries for a football field. In the southeast corner of the campus he dug a pit and erected the iron standard from which was suspended a tackling dummy, the latest word in sports equipment. If the players tackled or blocked the dummy hard enough, it was jarred loose from a special catch. This elicited warm praise.

This was a hard chore for that dummy was like rocks, but it turned out this pit was the softest spot on the field. The entire practice area was-moreso than even now-sprinkled liberally with rocks. In addition to the bruises and abrasions resulting from vigorous contact, everyone had strawberries on their knees, hips and

BUT THOSE WERE rugged days and spirit was high, so practice went on without abatement. When time came for the first game it was apparent that Joe Ward's practice regimen, plus his strategy fresh from the Southwest Conference greenswards, was to pay dividends. For the most part his blocking and tackling either ripped the enemy apart or stopped them cold. The great moral victory came when the Steers held Abilene's vaunted Eagles (then perennial state contenders) to a two touchdown victory. Other arch rivals in this area were mowed down.

COACH WARD'S secret weapon was the old hidden ball trick introduced by Frank Bridges. The quarterback, much like the T quarterback, took the snap guard's leg then faked around end behind superb blocking from the backs. Meantime, an end had fallen over the guard's legs to shield the ball until all action had shifted toward the opposite sideline. Then the end picked up the ball and took off for green pastures.

Joe Ward had the athletic fever going at such a fever pitch that he started a gymnasium fund and raised $1,000, a lot of it at $1 a throw. Later when he moved on first to Wesley College, then to Denison and finally to San Antonio, he began making refunds on the gym fund. Many years ago, he checked and it had dwindled to a few dollars.

MEANTIME, HE decided to get out of coaching and into a summer camp arrangement. This appealed to both him and Mrs. Ward. It also opened up a new avenue of service, because he became interested in the YMCA movement and for the past 12 years has been on the Y staff at San Antonio.

Last weekend I saw him at the Southwest Area YMCA council meeting and when I told him I had been a freshman in high school when he started his coaching career, a flood of memories was loosed. He talked eagerly and warmly.

"I want to come back out there someday and see how things have come out," he said with a twinkle in those still-dark eyes. Maybe sometime we could have a Joe Ward night.

Inez Robb Tip For Travelers: Don't Take Clothes

his hat

Travel agencies and allied industries are busy predicting that for Americans and their distant host, 1960 will be the biggest tourist year in history.

It could be by far the most interesting, too, if a sensible suggestion in a recent travel section of The New York Times catches on among travelers going abroad.

Anyone who has ever flown an ocean knows the agonizing reappraisal of raiment that constitutes packing and repacking and weighing and reweighing to keep the luggage weight within authorized limits. And then the subtle satisfaction of concealing knickknacks and oddments on the body beautiful. Anyone who can't secrete an extra twenty pounds on his persons isn't even trying! Why, an adequate assortment of costume jewelry alone can weigh that much.

BUT THE TIMES GOES to the heart of the problem with a dandy suggestion. The whole meat of the matter is contained in the headlines which I quote:

"Making Room for More Souvenirs: One Way to Avoid Excess Baggage In Europe Is to Send Clothes Home. ever made to the American traveler, whose pack-rat instinct is challenged the

PRINCETON, N. J. - The year 1980 will look a lot more like 1960 than George Orwell's "1964" - at least that's the guess of people in 10 nations. The rival economic systems of the two great powers - communism and capitalism - will both still be alive and competing. No great conflict will have occurred in two decades' time to alter profoundly the East-West relationship. If anything, there is hope that there might be a "thaw" in the cold war by 1980, judging by the measure of optimism shown in this survey,

New Economy Car-The Comet-To Be Shown

Newest off the Ford production lines is the Comet, another smaller car, combining economy with tasteful styling. Although it is two to three feet shorter than the standard size cars, the Comet has travel room for a family of six and their luggage. All Comets-the two and four-door sedans and the two and four-door station wagons-are powered with a cost-saving six cylinder engine and are available with either automatic or manual transmissions. The car's 114-inch wheelbase, longest in the Comet's field, gives driver and passengers an excellent ride. The Comet goes on display Thursday at Truman Jones Motor Co.

ruling. Rules now state that three eight-minute games will be played and the team that takes two will be the winner. In the first of three, Sands pounced to a 16-8 decision.

Jeanette Ray had eight points for Sands and Billie Blankenship marked five for Forsan. The second battle was a onesided clash as Forsan won, 17-3.

Omega Ratliff led the locals with seven points while Joyce Schoults and Carla Hughes were at the net. Jeanette Ray served for the three Mustang tallies. The third and deciding bout was an overtime duel with Sands emerging on the big end of a 16-14 score. The victory moved Sands to a 3-0 district mark and left Forsan 2-1 in league play. Forsan's district tourney starts March 24 and the winner will meet the robin champion to determine the district winner. A pie supper will be held during the meet by the community club members and the proceeds will go toward the community center.

WORTH PEELER

BIG SPRING, TEXAS

Tomorrow, at Mercury-Comet dealer's, first compact car with fine-car styling -priced with or below other compacts.

You're looking at the exciting new engine delivers up to 28 miles per value-packed compact-Comet.

NOTE ITS BEAUTIFUL STYLING. No sawed-off, cut-down look, here. The Comet is proportioned like a fine car-long flowing lines, outstanding good looks.

LOOK CLOSELY AT THE EXTRA FEA-TURES. You pay nothing more for dual headlights, front and rear arm rests, door-operated dome light, foam padded front seat. And the trunk holds enough for the whole family on a long trip. YOU'LL MARVEL AT THE ECONOMY.

Comet's new simplified "six"

gallon of regular gas.

YOU'LL REVEL IN THE RIDE. NO choppy steering, no bumpy travelling in Comet. The longer wheelbase (114" instead of 107" in average compacts) gives Comet a smoother ride, yet it turns on a dime.

NOW, CHECK THE PRICE. Comet is priced with or below other compacts like Rambler, Corvair, Lark, Valiant and Falcon.

COMPARE ALL THE COMPACT CARS -and you'll come away with a Comet. It's now at your Mercury-

FINEST COMPACT WAGONS ON THE MARKET. The new Comet wagons go far beyond what you might expect in a compact station wagon of this size. There is over 76 cubic feet for storage-as much room as in some wagons costing hundreds of dollars more; a retractable rear window takes the place of the old-fashioned liftgate. And, there is ample room for six adults with plenty of space left over for baggage. Along with the Comet two- and four-door sedans, there are two- and fourdoor wagons as well.

The program, directed by Mau-rice McAdow of the NTSC School of Music, will include popular and modern marches, some new works for concert band, and a number of Several marches, including some STARTING TOMORROW of the lesser-known Sousa marches, as well as the ever-popular "Stars and Stripes Forever," will be played.

Other featured marches will be "Fiume" by Boccalari, "Porters Catalina Band" by McCaughey, "Barnum and Bailey's Favorite" by King, and many others.

The band will have several arrangements of works by the mas-ters, including "Death and Trans-figuration" by Strauss, "Elsa's Procession to the Cathedral," from "Lohengrin" by Wagner, excerpts from "Manzoni Requiem" by Verdi, and "Procession of Nobles" from Rimsky - Korsakov's "Mla-

Also on the program will be an original work, "Grecian Theme and Dance," written especially for Maurice Adow and the NTSC Concert Band by the Grecian compos-er, John Cacavas. Another composition to be played will be a Spanish march, "El Conquistador," written by James L. Tarver and dedicated to the band and

During the past decade, a number of original compositions have been written for the NTSC Concert Band. McAdow has included as many as possible of the original works in the college band library. On the 1960 tour, some of the originals performed will be "Pageant" by Persichetti, "La Fiesta Mexicana" by Reed, "Tulsa" by Gillis, and "An Original Suite" by McAdow joined the college faculty in 1945 and has built the concert band into one of the out-standing student musical organizations on the campus, Concerts have been performed in Texas, Arkansas, Mississippi, Louisiana, Tennessee, Illinois, Missouri, Okla-homa, Alabama, South Carolina and Kentucky.

For the past 20 years he has served as adjudicator in various Southwest and Midwest contests and has been guest conductor and clinician at many festivals

Teddy Nadler, Broke, Is Seeking Job With Census

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP) - Teddy. Nadler, the St. Louis clerk who won $264,000 on television quiz shows, is trying to get a $13-a-day job as a census taker.

"I'm broke," said Nadler. "I need money.' To get the job, which will last for about two weeks, he must pass a vocabulary and map reading

"I understand it's a tough job and a tough test," he said, "I hope I can pass."

Nadler, who has a photographic memory, ground out answers to difficult questions steadily from 1956 through 1958 on TV quiz shows. His answers sounded as if they were pouring out of a re-cording machine, which is what some persons claim Nadler virtu-

When his television appearances ended, Nadler couldn't find work. He says he has had "a lot of doctor bills and some bad callers who gave me bad advice."

Some time ago, Nadler, who lives in suburban University City with his wife and three sons, predicted he would be broke in short order unless he got a job quickly. The Census Bureau office will test Nadler and 75 other applicants Thursday. Officials described the test as simple.
