Texas Crime Rate Hike About Same As Nation's

WASHINGTON (AP)—Crime increased in Texas last year as compared to 1958 in about the same ratio as in the nation as a whole. Figures released today by the FBI showed a 7 per cent nationwide increase in the number of crimes against the person—reflecting a 5 per cent rise in murders and a 4 per cent rise in rapes.

All major crime classifications, except robbery and burglary, increased nationally in 1959 over 1958. In the overall picture of the 7 major crime classifications, there was a 1 per cent increase. While no percentage breakdown by states was available, a glance at the reported actual crimes in Texas cities of 100,000 population and over indicates that the pattern was about the same there as in the nation as a whole.

Each of the 11 Texas cities listed in the report showed a drop in at least one or more classifications of crime. The situation, with the 1959 figure shown first: Amarillo: Murder and non-negligent manslaughter 9, 8; forcible rape 10, 9; robbery 37, 33; aggravated assault 165, 156; burglary 449, 462; larceny over $50, 595, 451; auto theft 267, 174. Austin: Murder and non-negligent manslaughter 6, 11; forcible rape 12, 15; robbery 45, 26; aggravated assault 280, 260; burglary 976, 954; larceny over $50, 259, 202; auto theft 267, 320. Beaumont: Murder and non-negligent manslaughter 16, 9; forcible rape 10, 6; robbery 39, 56; aggravated assault 329, 303; burglary 718, 899; larceny over $50, 243, 322; auto theft 197, 238. Corpus Christi: Murder and non-negligent manslaughter 8, 6; forcible rape 10, 9; robbery 84, 76; aggravated assault 369, 470; burglary 1,234, 1,324; larceny over $50, 454, 381; auto theft 339, 387. Dallas: Murder and non-negligent manslaughter 91, 82; forcible rape 49, 40; robbery 349, 403; aggravated assault 798, 594; burglary 4,216, 4,297; larceny over $50, 1,038, 898; auto theft 1,947, 1,630. El Paso: Murder and non-negligent manslaughter 19, 10; forcible rape 21, 20; robbery 103, 122; aggravated assault 147, 139; burglary 1,748, 1,889; larceny over $50, 726, 558; auto theft 1,179, 1,142. Fort Worth: Murder and non-negligent manslaughter 47, 42; forcible rape 30, 38; robbery 235, 294; aggravated assault 168, 114; burglary 2,911, 2,913; larceny over $50, 521, 899; auto theft 960, 887. Houston: Murder and non-negligent manslaughter 115, 117; forcible rape 100, 71; robbery 529, 597; aggravated assault 1,539, 1,130; burglary 7,425, 7,790; larceny over $50, 2,877, 2,993; auto theft 3,014, 2,394. Lubbock: Murder and non-negligent manslaughter 13, 12; forcible rape 18, 7; robbery 63, 63; aggravated assault 74, 113; burglary 4,695, 4,299; larceny over $50, 2,136, 1,603; auto theft 1,902, 2,264. Waco: Murder and non-negligent manslaughter 5, 7; forcible rape 17, 18; robbery 30, 51; aggravated assault 289, 192; burglary 895, 946; larceny over $50, 199, 186; auto theft 166, 143.

Search Begins For Killers Of 3 Women

OTTAWA, Ill. (AP)—A knarled, bloodstained tree limb and pieces of red cord were objects of intense scrutiny today as police spurred efforts to solve the grisly slaying of three women on a holiday trip to one of Illinois' most scenic resorts. But investigators admitted they still had little to go on. "It's anybody's guess," said Sgt. William Hall of the State Police. Troopers picked up two men on an anonymous tip late Wednesday night but they were released a short time later. Officers continued their questioning of homeowners and motel owners in hopes of stumbling onto a new lead. The women, wives of prominent Chicago business executives, were found by a search party Wednesday on the floor of a cave in a towering sandstone canyon in rolling Starved Rock State Park, 100 miles southwest of Chicago. Their heads were bloodied and battered. Bruises covered other parts of their bodies. Two women were naked from the waist down; the third still wore a girdle. A fingertip was missing from one victim.

FLOOD OF FLATS PLAGUES LOCAL USED CAR LOTS

There was a lot of air turned loose in Big Spring last night. And vandals—not the elements—did it. A total of 152 flats was reported from three car lots in the 900 block of West 4th. Pete Harmonson, Raymond Hamby and Raymond Gillihan car lots reported the flat tires. Harmonson's lot reported a total of 104 flat tires and the other two had 22 each. Police said the valve cores were removed from tires parked on the car lots. Hub caps were a favorite of thieves during the night. Jimmy Ashcraft, 307 Galveston, reported four taken from his car. Jimmy Hayworth, 1507 Lexington, said four hub caps were also taken from his car. Viola Coyle, 609 NE 11th, said one was stolen from her car.

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower called today for a broad liberalization of immigration laws including a sharp breakaway from the present national origins system for fixing quotas. He ran into immediate and stern opposition. In addition to revision of the quota base, Eisenhower asked for admission of 308,000 immigrants a year, which is twice the present number. He also asked special provision for political refugees, and abandonment of the present tight limit on Orientals. By the time the plan was formally received in Congress Francis E. Walter (D-Pa) of the House Immigration Committee was out with a statement saying it "has no chance."

St. Pat Not Irish History Records

By SAM BLACKBURN St. Patrick, whose legendary birthday is March 17, and whose memory is enshrined in the heart of every true son of the soil and green isle, was not an Irishman. This statement may cause all of the Callahans, the Murphys, the Gallaghers to rise in holy wrath but there's competent and authoritative evidence to support it. The official handbook of the Irish Republic—Saoorstair Eireann—is the authority. This book, published in Dublin by the Talbot Press in 1935, is regarded as a pretty reliable source of information on Ireland and the history of the Irish. The book says that St. Patrick was a Roman Briton. His name originally was Patricius. He never saw Ireland until he was in his 16th year and his visit then was through no choice of his own. In 401 A.D., an Irish raiding party hit Roman Britain. The raiders carried several thousand captives back to Ireland to be sold as slaves. Included in the captives was 16-year-old Patricius. He served as a slave for six years. Sometime around 407-08, during the Vandal invasion of Gaul (now France) Patricius escaped from slavery.

At the same time, the book records, he "dedicated his life to Christianity." He spent some time in the famous monastery at Lerins and afterward, was in the monastery in Auxerre where he was made a priest. In 431, Palladius was sent out from Rome as the first Bishop of the Church to "the Irish believing in Christ." A year later, Palladius died. Patricius was selected as his successor. Sometime in 430-39, Rome sent three other bishops to join Patrick (as he was then called) in serving the spiritual needs of the Irish. By 443, Patrick had made great progress in Ireland. He was able in that year to establish his metropolitan see at Armagh and the Christian religious belief was rapidly spreading over the island. Patrick died in 461. For a long time, St. Patrick was more or less in the same category with King Arthur of British folklore. In more recent times, study and research has brought forth historical evidence of his reality—that he is no myth but the actual founder of Christianity among the Irish. He was probably instrumental in initiating the first schools in Ireland. As early as 450—while he was still alive and functioning as a Bishop—there was a thriving school at Armagh. Whether St. Patrick drove the snakes from Ireland is subject, one supposes, to considerable debate. Suffice it to report the Encyclopaedia Americana reports tersely "there are no snakes nor toads in Ireland." However, it adds another statement—"animals once found here and mentioned in the ancient literature, as the deer, bear, wildcat, wolf, beaver, cattle peculiar to the island, and certain wildfowl, including the garafowl, have all disappeared. Therefore, the absence of the snakes and toads is really not exceptional."

THE DAWNING OF SPAWNING

Fishermen and boaters were put on notice this morning that Moss Creek Lake will be closed for about 30 days beginning about the middle of April. Bruce Dunn, director of public works, said the lake is closed annually for about a month for the fish spawning season. No boats or fishermen will be allowed on the lake during this period, warned Dunn. After the spawning season, lake workers will fertilize the lake, providing food for the little fish. The exact dates of the closing will be announced later, he explained.

Dixie Battles Referee Plan

WASHINGTON (AP)—Southerners campaigned in the House today to try to confine powers of voting referees to elections of federal officers. The provision now in the pending civil rights bill provides for a federal court and referee enforcement system for Negro and other minority voting in all kinds of elections—from president to minor local offices. Backers of the provision won two major test votes Wednesday over the hard-fighting Southern House members.

AF Jet Crash Kills 2 Fliers

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP)—An Air Force T-33 jet trainer flamed out as it circled Weir Cook Municipal Airport after missing its first approach and crashed into two houses late Wednesday, carrying two officers to their deaths. The victims were Maj. Dowd F. Cooper, 38, Wheatland, Ore., and Lt. Lloyd Cogdill, 27, Clovis, N.M.

RAPE PROSECUTION

State's Atty. Harlan Warren said all indications pointed to rape, too. State Police Superintendent William Morris, who headed a three-man team of troopers from Springfield, agreed it was a sex crime, "one of the worst in my 19 years as a policeman." The victims, all socially prominent in the western Chicago suburb of Riverside, were: Frances Murphy, 47, wife of R. W. Murphy, 47, president and general counsel for Borg-Warner Corp. Mildred Lindquist, 50, wife of Robert Lindquist, vice president of the Harris Trust and Savings Bank. Lillian Oetting, 50, wife of George H. Oetting, general supervisor of internal audits for the Illinois Bell Telephone Co. They had checked into the all-year resort Monday for a few days of rest and hiking along the trails which have made the 1,436-acre park along the Illinois River famous.

SEARCH BEGUN

They were not missed until Wednesday when Murphy telephoned the lodge to check up. A search was organized and a group of boys from a state correctional camp discovered the gory scene after trudging through heavy snows. The bloodied tree limb was picked up, about six feet from the mouth of the cave in St. Louis Canyon, a box canyon with sheer walls reaching to 150 feet. "This could have been used to kill them," Asst. State's Atty. Craig Armstrong told a newsman. He pointed to the jagged knobs and sharp edges of the limb, about three feet long and 10 pounds in weight. The pieces of red cord were found around the wrists of two of the victims. Investigators theorized that the assailant or assailants tied the two together while they attacked the third. Then in a desperate effort to avoid a similar fate, the women pulled apart. Both objects were being checked by crime lab experts.

TO MELT SNOW

Searchers also plan to use a weed burning machine to melt snow in the canyon, figuring some clue might lay beneath the wintry blanket. The women had started on the hike shortly after checking into the lodge. A snowstorm swept the area Monday night, obliterating footprints. The battered opera glasses and the camera were found near the victims. The camera strap was broken, and perhaps lies under the snow. A pair of spectacles also was found. The bodies of two women lay side by side, almost touching each other. The third was four feet away. All were face up.

Scout Training Sessions Set

Two training sessions for Scout and Cub leaders are scheduled this weekend. Scoutmasters and other unit leaders are being urged to take part in an advanced camping training session at Camp Ed Murphy. Leaders are asked to be at the camp on the north shore of Lake J. B. Thomas at 6 p.m. Friday. Newell Hughes, Midland, will be in charge of instruction for the course which continues through 4 p.m. Saturday. Food will be supplied from a central source and leaders will prepare their food by patrols. W. T. McRee, Scout executive, will seek to confirm reservations. Maj. Robert Mitchell will be in charge of the concentrated dose of Cub leadership training Saturday at 1 p.m. Between that hour and 5 p.m. he will seek to complete the basic training normally spread over three sessions for Cub leaders.

Negroes Applying Economic Pressure

Negroes throughout the nation were urged not to spend their money in chain stores that refuse to let Negroes eat at lunch counters alongside white customers. The element of economic pressure was introduced Wednesday by the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People as hundreds of Negroes in half a dozen Southern cities faced fines and jail terms for demonstrating against segregated eating facilities. The development came on the heels of mass Negro demonstrations and a statement by President Eisenhower that there is nothing improper or unconstitutional about orderly marching in the streets and peaceful assembly by groups seeking to show their desires for equality.

12-YEAR-OLD EXPERT

Lucy Thornton Walks Away With Grand Champion Honor

Lucy Thornton, 12-year-old blonde livestock expert, walked away with the coveted grand championship ribbon for the best steer at the 23rd Annual Howard County 4-H and FFA Fat Stock Show Wednesday afternoon. The youngster, three years in 4-H Club but making her first year's debut showing steers, showed a 971-pound medium weight steer which came from the Shannon Hereford Ranch at Whitney. It took first honors in its own weight division and then went on to win the grand champion of the show for all weights. The traditional buyers barbecue and sale is set for this evening. Norvin Hamlin, Big Spring Future Farmers of America Chapter, won the reserve championship with his 1,070 pound heavy entry. He also won the special award for showing the best steer in the competition bred in Howard County. His animal came from the Creighton herd. Fred Wilkerson, county agent of Crane County, was judge. He began work at 2 p.m. watched by a gallery of more than 200.

CLOSE COMPETITION Light weight steer division was won by Bobby Pierce, Coahoma FFA. His steer weighed 855 pounds. Miss Thornton, first year student at Ruppels Junior high school, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jess Thornton. She has had good luck with the steer which was awarded the championship here Wednesday. It was first in its weight division earlier this season at Abilene. It also placed ninth at the El Paso show. She was given a close race for top honors with her steer in the medium weight contest by her sister Mary Thornton. Mary took second honors in the division. The same sort of situation developed in the heavy-weight division. Norvin Hamlin's nearest competitor for top honors in that weight division was his brother, Esco, whose steer was second in the contest. Freddie White, who won last year's grand championship made a good showing this year—he wound up second in the lightweight division. BARBECUE AND SALE Steer judging terminated activities on the second day of the show. Thursday's program is blank until 6 p.m. At that time, a big barbecue dinner for sponsors, buyers and others connected with the event will be served at the fair grounds. Closing event is the auction which begins at 7:30 p.m. Randall Sherrid is to be the auctioneer. All 25 steers entered in the show will be sold tonight. The 38 capons will also be offered. Approximately 80 of the 110 lambs will be on the block. This is the closing show.

many thousands of persons who are refugees without a country as a result of political upheavals and their flight from persecution." Eisenhower also called for a revision of the whole basis of quotas, to relate them to the number of persons from a given area admitted between 1924 and 1959. The basis now is the percentage of the total U. S. population, in the year 1920, represented by persons of such origin. The shift would admit many more from such countries as Italy which always oversubscribe quotas, and cut down the allotments for England and northern Europe which do not fill quotas. The President's proposals face uphill going in Congress. Eisenhower has been trying without much success since 1953 for liberalization of the immigration quota system. "The strength of this nation may be measured in many ways—military might, industrial productivity, scientific contributions, its system of justice, its freedom from autocracy, the fertility of its land and the prowess of its people," Eisenhower's message said. "Yet no analytical study can so dramatically demonstrate its position in the world as the simple truth that here, more than any other place, hundreds of thousands of people each year seek to enter and establish their homes and raise their children." Eisenhower called for action at this session of Congress, saying it is urgently needed. In urging that the number of immigrants be doubled over the annual quota of 154,000, Eisenhower called specifically for removal of the ceiling of 2,000 on quotas within the Asiatic-Pacific triangle—an area which includes such countries as Japan and nations of eastern Asia. The effect would be to place these countries on the same basis as others around the world so far as immigration to the United States is concerned. The program also calls for: 1. Basing the overall immigration limitation on the 1960 census figures as soon as they are available, instead of on the 1920 census as at present. 2. Annual acceptance as immigrants of one-sixth of one per cent of total U. S. population. That amounts to roughly 300,000. 3. Abandonment of the concept of race and ethnic classifications within U. S. population for the purpose of computing the proposed new quotas.

Colonel Chewed On Son Incident

MANNHEIM, Germany (AP)—The U. S. Army has chewed out the colonel whose 9-year-old son chewed out some of his father's troops during an inspection. The Army announced Wednesday that "letters of admonition" were sent to Col. K. E. Jurgens, 47, of Washington, D. C., who commands the 77th Support Command in Germany.

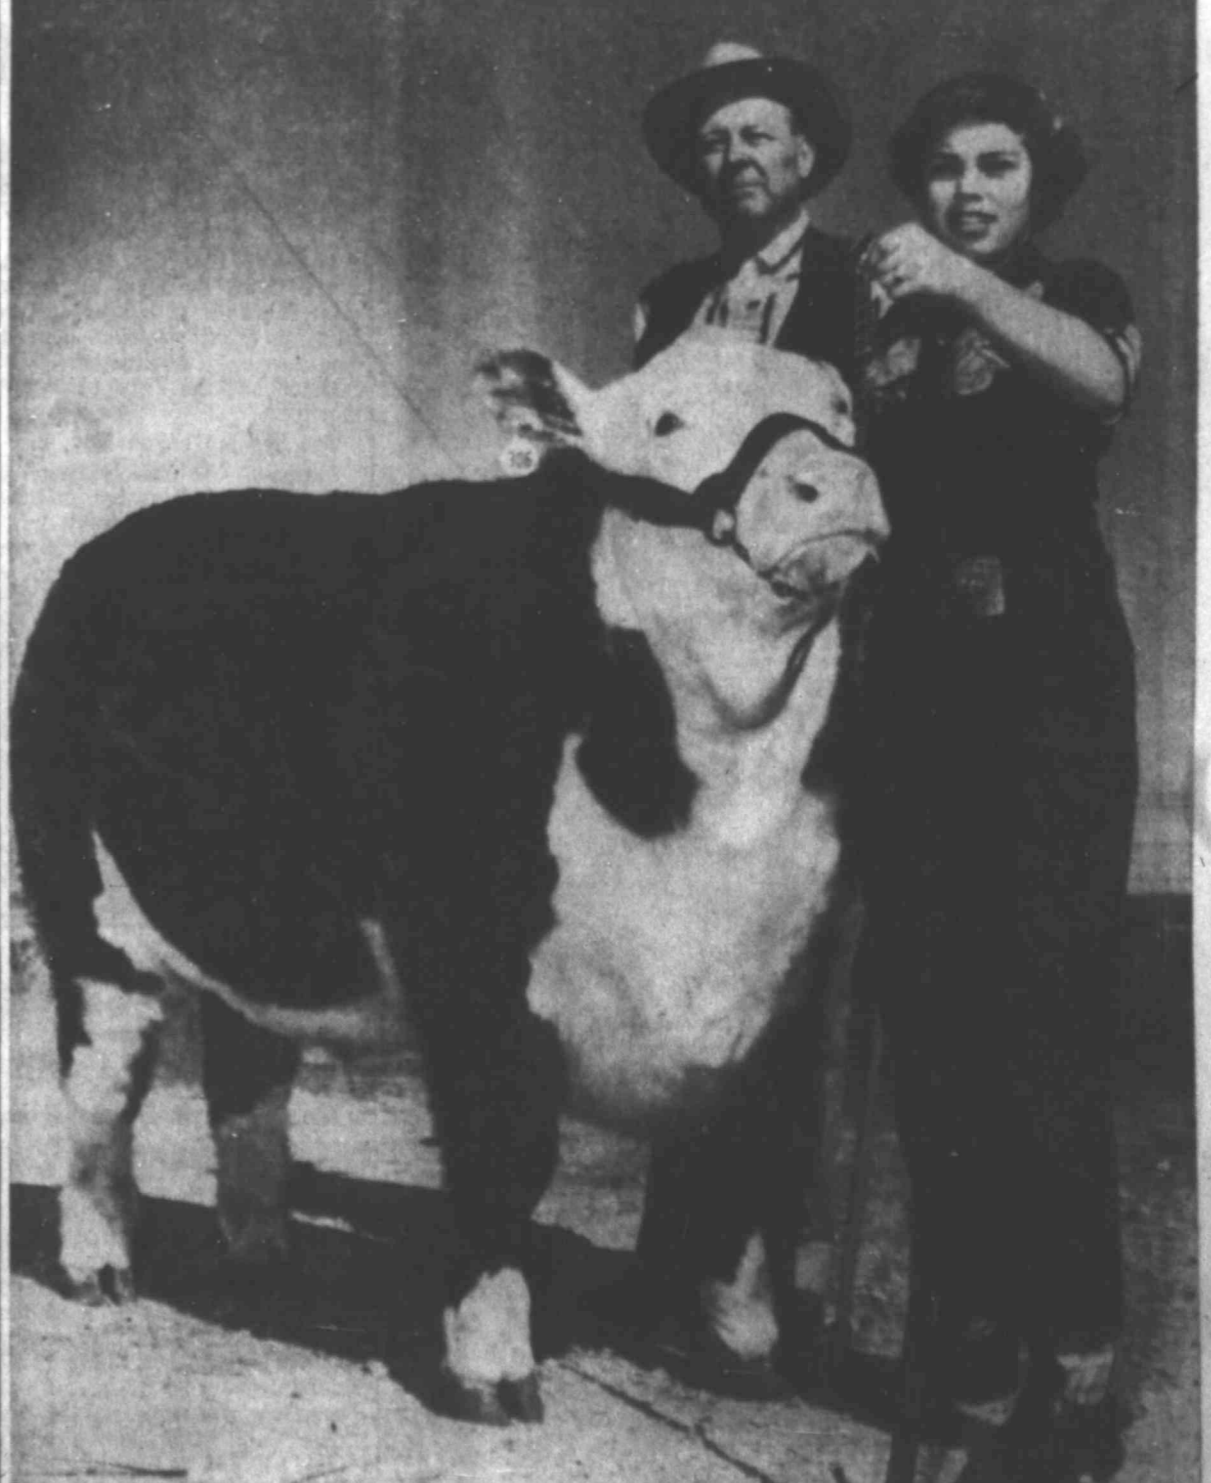

CITY BUDGET—4

10 Cents Of Every Dollar For Capital Improvements

(This is the fourth article in a series on the city budget.—Ed.) Ten cents of every dollar expenditure in the fiscal budget will go to pay off debt for capital improvements, one of them approved back in 1926. Going into the new year, the city has outstanding tax and revenue bonds of $2,498,500. Of the total, tax money is used to pay on $1,189,500, and revenue from water and sewer is used to pay on the remaining $1,309,000. In the new budget, the commission has set aside $217,498.75 for payments of principal and interest on this outstanding indebtedness. Big Springers are currently paying off four revenue bonds. Payments during the fiscal year are $52,000 principal, and $38,840 in interest and commissions for total payments of $90,840. REVENUE BONDS On a breakdown of the revenue bonds, residents approved the first one in 1951 for a total of $600,000. It, like the other three, was for water and sewer line extensions and improvements. This bond has a balance of $460,000, and the payment will be $17,000. In 1953, taxpayers approved a similar bond of $650,000. The balance on this bond is $540,000 and the payment will be $20,000. Again in 1955, residents approved a $900,000 bond issue. The current balance is $720,000, and it has a $90,000 balance with a payment of $10,000 this year. The final issue was approved by voters in 1957. It totaled $50,000 and has a balance of $40,000 with a payment scheduled of $5,000. TAX BONDS The city currently has 14 outstanding tax bonds which includes the $150,000 paving program approved last week. Total payments in the budget are $67,500 for principal plus interest of $39,158.75. The total tax bond expenditure will be $126,658.75. The bond breakdown includes a paving bond approved in 1926 which has a $9,000 balance. The paving payment will be $1,500. Another paving bond approved in 1927 has a $7,500 balance and a payment of $1,000. In 1930, voters approved three bonds, one for street improvement, another for waterworks improvement and the last for sewer improvement. The street bond has a $6,000 balance and $1,000 payment; the waterworks bond has a $40,000 balance and $3,000 payment; and the sewer bond has a $64,000 balance and $4,000 payment. Residents returned to the polls in 1931 and approved a city hall improvement bond, on which the balance is $72,000. Payment in the new year is $8,000. REFUND RETIRED Another water improvement bond was voted in 1936 and it has a $90,000 balance with a payment of $10,000 this year. The final issue was approved by voters in 1957. It totaled $50,000 and has a balance of $40,000 with a payment scheduled of $5,000. ## W. T. Baptist Churches Place In Architecture

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Six architectural firms and six Baptist churches in Texas have won honors for outstanding architectural design.

More than 75 individual entries in six categories were exhibited here at a conference sponsored by Southern Baptist Convention's Sunday School Board.

The conference was designed to stimulate new ideas for church construction, design and layout. First Baptist Church of El Campo, Tex., won the top award in auditorium design. Ralph M. Buffington of Houston was the architect.

First Baptist Church of Bonham placed third in the total church building category. Buffington also planned this building.

Houston's Willow Meadows Baptist Church took second place in the educational and activities building division. Smart and Whitehead of Houston were the architects.

Second place in the master plan and plot development went to Kingston Baptist Church of Odessa, and third place to Wilshire Park Baptist Church of Midland. Peters and Fields of Odessa designed both churches.

In the category for models, Second Baptist Church of Lubbock received third place. Brasher, Spencer and Goyette were the architects.

Coming Events Cast Their Shadows

Only 11 days remain in which to obtain 1960 automobile tags. Motorists shown here at the county tax assessor-collector's office were staying ahead of the game. Only within the last few days has the traffic increased after a sudden lull in the wake of a big rush when tags were first available in February. Mrs. Viola Robinson, county tax collector, urged car owners to get tags as soon as possible, for always the deadline on April 1 finds long, long lines at the windows. Cars can't be driven after April 1 without the new tags.

Father Of Local Woman Succumbs At Coleman

COLEMAN—John B. Avant, 411 W. Pecan, died March 16 at 11:15 p.m. in a local hospital. He was born July 11, 1881, in Coleman County.

Mr. Avant lived his entire life in Coleman and Brown counties. He was a retired farmer and a member of the First Church of Nazareth, Brownwood.

He is survived by his wife, five sons: Thurston and Austin, of San Angelo, Floyd, Brownwood, Troy, Coleman, and Warnell, Dallas. Mr. Avant is also survived by four daughters: Mrs. M. C. Smith, Abilene, Mrs. E. J. (Bud) Smith, Big Spring, Mrs. John Willis, Brownwood, Mrs. Arthur Davenport, Brady; 25 grandchildren and 21 great-grandchildren.

Services will be Friday at 2:30 p.m. in the First Church of Nazareth in Brownwood. The Rev. Perkins, pastor of the church, will officiate and the Rev. Mack Hamm will assist. Burial will be in the East Lawn Cemetery in Brownwood.

TWO IN A ROW

Bobby Kelly Keeps Cotton Honors In Martin County

BOBBY KELLY

Bobby Kelly made it two in a row for Martin County when he was named winner of the Texas Cotton Ginners' Assn. award for excellence in cotton production. Last year's winner was Craig Beckmeyer, who recently got a $3,200 Anderson-Clayton Cotton Company scholarship.

The $100 ginners award is made annually by the association to encourage a closer working relationship of youth with cotton handling, ginning and marketing; to encourage the production of better quality cotton and stimulate interest in efficient production and to acquaint 4-H Club members with the 7-Step Cotton Program.

Floyd Lynch, state 4-H Club leader, said Bobby would receive the award during the annual meeting of the association in Dallas, April 4-5.

Bobby is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Owen Kelly, Route 1, Stanton, and has completed nine years of 4-H demonstration work and is a Gold Star winner. He has been producing cotton since 1952. His demonstrations consisted of five acres each year until 1959 when his crop was increased to 18 acres. His production has ranged from 600 pounds of lint an acre in 1950 to two bales an acre in 1958. His 1959 yield was 21 bales from 18 acres. His cotton has been grown under irrigation.

EARLY PREPARATIONS
The award winner, in describing the methods used on his 1959 crop, said preparations were started around the first of the year. Stalks from the previous crop were shredded and 200 pounds per acre of 11-48 fertilizer were applied. The land was then plowed to a depth of eight inches. The land was listed in March and planting of an acala strain was started on April 6. No irrigating was done until August because rainfall was ample. Frequent cultivations were used to control weeds and it was also hoed.

He said thrips and aphids were

Besides his cotton demonstration, Bobby has fed and exhibited several prize winning beef calves and hogs. He also is a breeder of Shetland ponies. Whatever he undertakes, he first lays out a plan of action.

He has held an office in his 4-H Club since 1952 and served as council vice chairman. Bobby Johnson, his county agent, describes him as a leader with a purpose. Bobby played football, represents the senior class on the student council at Stanton High, and is on the yearbook staff. He also is active in the Stanton Church of Christ. For recreation, he likes to take part in rodeos. In the junior rodeo in Big Spring he has won the goat roping and boot scramble.

Right now he's thinking about college. Naturally, agriculture is his goal.

numerous enough to warrant control measures by the time the cotton had reached the eight-leaf stage and was continued until the insects were under control. Because of heavy rains in early July, the cotton began to shed its fruit, and later as it was recovering, bacterial blight became a problem. Potash was used in the irrigation water in an effort to control the disease.

BIG YIELD
Picking was started in mid-September and nine bales were harvested the first time over. A month later another nine bales were harvested and still later an additional three bales were harvested. He said the grades were good as were the prices.

Bobby has rented some land from his grandfather and will have 20 acres in cotton this year, plus some additional for a feed demonstration.

"I've got it listed and am waiting for planting time now," he said.

Quick Decision On Trinity Seen

AUSTIN (AP)—Four and a half months of arguments over two proposed dams on the Lower Trinity River ended Wednesday.

The State Board of Water Engineers called for legal briefs by 5 p.m. Monday. It indicated it will have a quick decision over the controversial applications from Houston and the Trinity River Authority.

The hearing began Nov. 2. Some of the state's best, and highest salaried, water attorneys and engineers took part in the hearing. There were unofficial estimates that the supporters and opponents of the applications spent between one and two million dollars gathering and presenting testimony and evidence.

"This planned development is unparalleled in the 47 year history of the State Water Board," said Victor Boudin, attorney for Houston, in his final arguments. "It is the first time for a plan for a project to take into account the valid and reasonable interests of everyone else in the watershed."

Houston and the TRA want to build a 40 million dollar dam at Livingston and a five million dollar salt water barrier at Wallisville to divert a total of 1,200,000 gallons daily, principally for future industrial uses in the fast growing Harris County area. The applications ask that the permits be made subordinate to announced plans for upstream development of the Trinity.

The sole opposition at the end of the hearing came from a group of landowners whose property will be covered by the proposed reservoir at Livingston. The San Jacinto River Authority at first opposed the plans but withdrew when Houston agreed to increase its present purchases of San Jacinto River water by 25 million gallons daily and agreed to use Trinity water only for industrial uses.

Walter Dickinson Is On Rice Honor Roll

Mrs. A. A. Collins, 1605 11th Place, has just received word that her grandson, Walter Dickinson, has made the Dean's list at Rice Institute.

Dickinson graduated from Big Spring High School in 1957 and is a pre-med student at the Houston school.

Legion To Plan Saturday Party

Final plans are to be completed at 8 p.m. today for the annual reunion of WWI veterans at the meeting of the American Legion.

Each year the Legion Post sponsors the reunion in conjunction with the celebration of the birthday of the organization. This year observes the 41st anniversary.

Veterans of World War I, whether a member of the Legion or not will be honored guests at the barbecue supper. Their wives and other early day members of the Auxiliary are also invited.

Post Commander Foy Dunlap has requested attendance of as many members this evening as possible for the Saturday celebration...

Lions Host Derby Entries

A hundred champions — all of them confident now that they may win this year's Soap Box Derby — were hosted at lunch Wednesday by one of their sponsors.

Virtually all of this year's record crop of entrants were guests of the Downtown Lions at an annual entry recognition party at the Settles.

Each boy was recognized by the group as his name was called by James Tidwell. Most of them were transported from their schools by the bus, and others were brought by Lions.

In addition, George Archer, Gay Hill, Merritt Romans, Foran, Russell Howell, Elbow, and Buster Pitts, Ackerly, brought entries from those areas to the luncheon.

Special guests included Lefty Morris the first winner in 1954; Jerry Hill Hutchens, 1955; Henry Hendricks, 1956; Blake Talbot, 1957; David Spradling, 1958; and Tommy Welch, 1959.

Pete Cook, Lions president, and Eb Boullion staged a special race to the delight of the boys. Cook announced that there would be an ice cream supper for the boys and their Dads at Tidwell Chevrolet Company at 7 p.m. Tuesday.

Garbage Charges To Begin In April

Newly annexed residents will be charged for garbage service on their March water billing. Bruce Dunn, director of public works, said this morning. Tuesday was the final day for residents to apply for self-haul permits.

City garbage collection is available in all the new areas, Dunn said. Residents should place their cans in the alley, on in front of the house where necessary, for twice a week collections.

WTCC Water Chairman Says Hearing Altered Commission

West Texas has half of the state's water with only one-fourth of its runoff. It is necessary that special consideration be given of the water problem. The urgency is multiplied by the unprecedented rate of growth.

Spence said that he thought that the element of priorities of water under Texas law, to which Frank Kelley of Colorado City called attention, was vital.

The commission is already co-ordinator of the salt pollution problem, but Spence said that as a result of the hearing here Tuesday, greater attention may be focused on this matter.

Practically all this area is situated in the extreme upper end of the Colorado River shed, Spence reminded.

"This means that we start with absolutely nothing on our runoff," he observed. "We can't locate dams upstream because there simply isn't any substantial water upstream. We have to seek per-

DEAR DEAR AI you think n there." She a year ago she spent who'd lister sad to be le her 38 ha her husban nancial sha Lately ery day rit bus. S driver and this is her seen this b very annoy

DEAR ABBY

BUS STOP

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Please tell me if you think my mother-in-law is "all there." She lost her husband about a year ago. The first six months she spent crying to everyone who'd listen to her. (I know it is sad to be left a widow, but she did have 38 happy married years, and her husband left her in good financial shape.)

Lately she has spent almost every day riding around on a certain bus. She sits behind the bus driver and talks to him. She says this is her only pleasure. I have seen this bus driver and he acts very annoyed with her.

Do you think it's right of my mother-in-law to force her company on a poor defenseless bus driver? Or shouldn't somebody tell her to leave him alone?

DAUGHTER-IN-LAW: It seems to me that there are rules about passengers needlessly talking to bus drivers. (Their duties require their undivided attention.) Stay out of it. Maybe the bus driver will tell her where to get off.

DEAR ABBY: Have you a solution for neighbors who use your phone more than you do? They have a habit of walking right in. We can't lock our door because of the kiddies running in and out. It starts early in the morning and we have had them coming in as late as midnight to use the phone. We can't even use our own phone in private because they will come in and stand in the same room with you until you hang up.

TELEPHONE OWNERS: DEAR OWNERS: Some people have to be told bluntly that they are abusing a privilege. Tell these clods that you have a one-party line — and you're the party!

DEAR ABBY: My husband caught me in a lie once. (Nothing serious. I told him I was going to a movie with my mother, but instead I went to a bar with an old flame. Nothing happened.)

Anyway, ever since then he has been checking up on me. It is very embarrassing. He calls my mother and sisters and wants to know where I am every minute I am away from home. That lie he caught me in happened two years ago, but he can't seem to forget it.

How can I prove to him once and for all that I can be trusted? NOT TRUSTED

DEAR NOT: It won't be easy. Trust is built on actions, not words. Behave as a woman and not a moth and one day your husband will realize that checking up on you is a waste of time. Then he'll quit.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "THE NEW GIRL": Wait until he tries it again. When you are sure his intentions are strictly dishonorable, let him have it with the paper-weight.

"What's your problem?" For a personal reply, write to Abby in care of the Big Spring Herald and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

For Abby's pamphlet, "What Every Teen-ager Wants to Know," send 25 cents and a large self-addressed, stamped envelope in care of the Big Spring Herald.

Bidder Announced For Area Roads

McElroy Transport Co., Fort Worth, was apparent low bidder on 184 miles of seal coating for Interstate 20 in Howard and adjacent counties. It was announced by the State Highway Department on Wednesday. The bid was one of those opened for work on 136 miles of farm roads and 747 miles of federal highways. Total for all the Texas jobs will run near $34 million.

Big Spring (Texas) Herald, Thurs., March 17, 1960 5-A

April Oil Flow To Show Less Tax Results To State

AUSTIN (AP)—April's oil production will be more than nine million barrels below this month with a corresponding tax loss to the state of about $1,200,000.

Texas wells will go back to a nine-day schedule next month with the daily allowable set at 2,814,252 barrels. This represents a cut of 123,029 barrels from March. The Texas Railroad Commission's proration order Wednesday will result in an estimated production of 70,513,690 barrels, some 9,121,390 barrels below March.

The state collects a tax of about 13 cents a barrel.

In hopes of wiping out pipeline proration instituted in Texas and 10 other states by Indiana Purchasing Co. and Standard Oil of Indiana, independent producers lined up for a drastic cut of more than 300,000 barrels.

This would have resulted from an 8-day pattern, the recommendation by a major of the oil buying companies. Excessive stocks of nearly 60 million barrels was cited as another reason for a drop. But the commission, feeling that a reduction in Texas probably would not result in a cut by other states, compromised with the smallest daily chop that could be fixed under the state's system of production day patterns.

Chief executives of the nation's 22 largest oil companies answered 85 questions detailing inventories of their company, their estimates of the desired level nationwide of crude and products, and their forecast of domestic demand. All agreed the demand for petroleum would go up this year. The composite average indicated a 3.4 per cent boost.

The desired level of crude stocks for April 1 should be about 249,200,000 barrels compared to actual stocks as of March 4 of 252,700,000 barrels. The estimate a year ago of the desired level was 242,400,000 barrels.

Some evidence was offered that unusually cold March weather will reduce the heating oil surpluses.

W. Spahn Reveals No Signs Of Slump

By BEN OLAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

A few problems before the Braves open the National League baseball season next month. But there's one fellow he has little to worry about—Warren Spahn.

Spahn will be 39 next month. Yet, he shows no sign of slipping. He has won 257 big league games. He joined Sam Jones of San Francisco, Early Wynn of the Chicago White Sox and teammate Lew Burdette in the 20-game bracket in 1959.

Spahn shared the star roles with Pittsburgh pitchers Bennie Daniels and Jim Umbricht in Wednesday's exhibition action. He hurled five scoreless innings as the Braves handed the White Sox their first setback 4-2.

Daniels and Umbricht, both right-handers, combined for a no-hitter in Pittsburgh's 5-0 victory over Detroit. Daniels worked five innings and Umbricht four.

In other games, the New York Yankees downed Washington 1-0, Kansas City walloped Baltimore 8-1, San Francisco edged the Chicago Cubs 7-4 on Hobie Landrith's 11th inning homer and the Boston Red Sox, led by Frank Malzone, whipped Cleveland 8-2. The Los Angeles-Cincinnati and St. Louis-Philadelphia games were cancelled because of bad weather.

Red Schoendienst, who Drennon hopes will solve his second base problem, got his first hit of the spring for Milwaukee. It came during a three-run second inning off Barry Latman.

The Yanks-Sonators game was called after eight innings because of rain. Two walks and an error by third baseman Harmon Killebrew enabled the Yanks to pick up their run in the second. Johnny James, up from Richmond of the International League, struck out seven in four innings.

Kansas City got some neat pitching from Ned Garver, Bud Daley and Dick Hall who combined to hold Baltimore to seven hits.

Landrith got his game-winning homer off Jim Brewer, who had just come on in the 11th. The Cubs scored three times off Ramon Montant in the first, but the Giants rebounded to tie the score in the eighth when Bob Anderson's wild pitch sent Filipe Alou home.

Malzone batted in four runs with three hits in three at bats as Boston won its fourth in a row. Tom Sturdivant, Frank Sullivan and Ted Bowsfield combined to hold Cleveland to nine hits.

Trades Talked

SARASOTA, Fla. (AP)—Get set for more talk of a Roy Sievers trade now that Washington is here to face the Chicago White Sox today. While the Sox still are eyeing the Nat's slugger, another rumor has bounced up involving Sox hurler Dick Donovan and catcher Earl Battey to Detroit for pitcher Paul Foytack, who posted 14-14 last year.

Jayhawks Oppose Virginia At 6:00

HUTCHINSON, Kan. (SC)—HCJC of Big Spring, stunned by Arkansas State in the opening round of the National Junior College Basketball tournament Tuesday, tries its back in consolation play against Virginia, Minn., at 6 p.m. today.

The game will be broadcast in its entirety over radio station KBST Big Spring 1490.

Virginia lost its first game to Cameron, Okla., after leading most of the way.

In all, six games are on tap today and tonight.

Two semi-finalists were determined Wednesday night. They are host Hutchinson, which won easily over Lindsey-Wilson of Columbia, Ky., 91-71; and Tyler, Tex., 103-80 victor over Marianna, Fla.

Arkansas State returned to play at 7:45 o'clock this evening, opposing Cameron, Okla., for the right to play in the semi-finals.

Pueblo, Colo., edged past Phoenix, Ariz., 82-81, in a loser's bracket contest last night. Pueblo turned the tide in the final 25 seconds.

In other games, Parsons, Kan., edged Broome Tech of Binghampton, N. Y., 63-59; and Grand View of Des Moines, Iowa, slapped down Lewisburg, N. C., 92-65. Both were first round contests.

The tournament continues through Saturday night.

Red Lewis Takes HC Team To Abilene Meet Friday

Howard County's Jayhawks journey to Abilene Friday to enter a quadrangular track meet beginning at 3 p.m.

HCJC will compete against the Abilene Christian freshmen, Tarrant and Brooks Medical Center.

Coach Red Lewis says it looks like another dismal afternoon for Howard County. "We haven't got that bad a team," says Lewis, "but we're just not at full strength."

"ACC has about four or five entries in each event and none of them are pushovers. That's going to make it tough for any of the others to even place."

"Maurice Burnett, one of our two best sprinters, is definitely out of action with a bad knee. He's been nursing that thing since before the meet in Fort Worth. That's going to hamper us greatly in about three events."

Lewis states that ACC has two tremendous milers and will likely finish one-two in that event. He added that Howard County's best bets to place are Eugene Franklin in the high jump and hurdles

Four Footballers Sign With SMU

DALLAS (AP)—SMU said Wednesday it had four star schoolboy football players recruited but that Texas Tech had landed a Dallas Hillcrest prize, end Jim Potter.

Signing letters of intent at SMU were halfback Jimmy Reeves and tackle Jack Sanders of Corpus Christi Bay, 200-pound center Hardy McAllister of Wichita Falls and Wayne Hullett, Mesquite end.

Small Fry Talk

CHICAGO (AP)—A review and discussion of rules and policies are on the agenda of the International Congress of Little League Baseball in a three-day meeting opening today. More than 5,400 leagues in 22 countries will be represented.

Olympic Star On Way Home

By JACK CLARY
NEW YORK (AP)—Jack McCartan left for his St. Paul, Minn., home today, satisfied that he had done a good job as a four-game goalie with the New York Rangers of the National Hockey League.

"Actually, I can't say I'm a bit disappointed, except for last night's game," said the goalie who helped lead the United States to its first hockey gold medal in the recent Winter Olympics.

The Boston Bruins stayed in the race for a Stanley Cup playoff berth, beating McCartan and the Rangers 3-2 at Madison Square Garden. It was his only loss after a victory and two ties on home ice, during which time he allowed only seven goals.

Dick Meissner's clincher in the third period was the only solid shot he let get through.

"They play the best hockey in the world up here," he said. "Everybody's so good that you've just got to stay alert and never let up or you'll be in trouble. That was the biggest thing I learned, outside of getting actual game experience."

"I would say Toronto or Chicago was the best team I faced, though I would like to have played against Montreal. But I want to get home and see my wife and 7-week-old son before I go back to the Army next week," McCartan replied.

The former University of Minnesota standout, on leave from Ft. Carson, Colo., said he wanted to come back and play for the Rangers next year but wouldn't discuss it further.

He is due to leave the Army in July.

Gra-Y Meet Set For Mar. 26

Big Spring's Gra-Y track meet will be held March 26 at Memorial Stadium.

The meet will have 91 individual entries from nine different grade schools.

Competition will begin at 9 a.m. and will be concluded by 3 p.m.

Grade school boys will be competing in 15 track and field events: the most populous being the broad jump where there are 38 contestants.

Boys from Airport, Bauer, Boydston, Cedar Crest, College Heights, Marcy, Parkhill, and Washington Place grade schools will enter the meet.

Baylor Gets Two

WACO, Tex. (AP)—Two more schoolboy football stars have signed letters of intent to enroll at Baylor University, officials said Wednesday. They are Bobby Biles, all-district end from Arlington, and Woody Brewton, all-district tackle from Mineral Wells.

Howard County won the Junior College division of the Border Olympics in Laredo two weeks ago and still looms as the cinder giants for the state JC title.

If Shiry can come around after basketball season, and if Burnett gets back in shape after his bout with the ailments, HCJC can possibly be contenders in the National Juco meet here, May 20-21.

Jeffrey Defeated In Chestnut Bout

By FRITZ HOWELL

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—Articulate Leroy Jeffrey of Detroit figures he learned enough Wednesday night from wily Ike Chestnut to reverse the 10-round decision he lost to the veteran New Yorker in a televised (ABC) fight.

The two featherweights, last-minute substitutes in the main event as a knee injury to Mike DeJohn of Syracuse crased his bout with Zora Polley of Chandler, Ariz., put on a whale of a scrap. Both weighed 130.

Promoter Larry Atkins, in a frantic last minute effort to keep the show on the road, contacted Ike and Leroy Wednesday morning. Ike flew in from New York, but Jeffrey—despite a wind-blown snowstorm raging in the Lake area—elected to drive from Detroit.

But the 23-year-old ex-collegian almost won it all. He sank a left hook into Ike's mid-section in the seventh, bringing a combined white and moan from the New Yorker who backed away holding his hands over the injured spot.

Jeffrey tore in, landed two more to the same spot, and Ike was down for a six count.

Cats To Concentrate Strictly On Business

By ALAN CLINE
SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Cincinnati's top ranked basketball team, all business on the eve of the NCAA basketball championships, won't see much except their hotel and the Cow Palace on this trip to California.

"We didn't come here to sight-see," Coach George Smith said Wednesday night when the Bearcats arrived by charter plane. "We've got a job to do."

The plane was late getting in, but Smith hustled his troops, led by All America Oscar Robertson, to the new University of San Francisco gym for a workout. Dinner could wait.

Ohio State, Big Ten champions and New York University, the sleeper in this basketball spectacular, arrived today and will work out in the evening on the Cow Palace floor.

The two squads meet in the opener Friday night.

Then comes the Cincinnati-California game. Both teams have 27-1 records. Cincinnati, whipped by the defending champion Bears in the semifinals last year, wound up the season ranked the best team in the nation. California was rated No. 2.

The NCAA has refused to permit local television on the semifinals, but has okayed a live, local telecast of the Saturday championship game.

Misfortune struck Ohio State Wednesday when starter John Havlicek, 6 foot 5 sophomore, injured his hand on a towel rack.

Kelley Expects Tougher Competition At Odessa

By DON RIDDLE
Steer tracksters trek to Odessa Friday as they enter the West Texas Relays.

The preliminaries begin Friday and the finals will be run Saturday.

Coaches Curtis Kelley and Chop Van Pelt plan to take their entire squad for the prelims, but state that only those who qualify will remain overnight for the finals.

Big Spring placed third last week in the Canyon Reef Relays in Snyder, where R. L. Lasater set a new record in the century with a 9.7 clocking. Lasater also led for high point honors with Snyder's Jimmy Woolver with 12 1/2 points.

Kelley figures the Odessa meet will be much tougher than the one at Snyder, due mainly to the fact that Andrews will be entered. Andrews is a AAA school but still is in competition with all schools, until the district meet.

"They've got a kid over there named Ted Nelson that would give Lasater a good battle in the 100," Kelley says. "But he runs the sprint relay, the 880 relay and the mile relay for them."

"We don't worry about anything but the sprint relay because that's our big race. Of course we have a great sprint relay, but with that Nelson boy, Andrews will be putting the pressure on."

Big Spring has been working on the 880-yard relay for about two weeks now and may give the speedy Andrews quartet a close match.

Van Pelt says he is pleased with the performance his weightmen gave in Snyder last week. "We took second and third in the discus behind that big Henson kid from San Angelo. He's left handed and from that angle, the wind was giving him every advantage."

"The wind has a lot to do with how far that discus goes. If a boy gets the wind blowing into him at just the proper angle, it will augment the spin of the discus and add, sometimes, up to 20 feet to the distance."

Gary Walker threw the discus for second place and Robert Phelan was right behind in third place to give the Steers five points in that event.

Mac Alexander took fourth spot in the shot over in Snyder. He had the second best throw until the last round when two other boys topped his mark.

Kelley states that although Big Spring is strong in only five events, the program outlook is promising. "I've got a couple of sophomore hurdlers that may develop into outstanding contenders. We also expect good results from these sophomore quarter-milers. They may give us a potent mile relay team before they graduate."

"But right now our strength lies in the two sprints, the sprint relay and the two field events. We may not win many of these practice meets due to the fact that we're strong in so few events. But, boy, in those we are strong in — we cause the excitement."

Anytime You're Ready, Coach

Miller Leroy Smith and half-miler Bill Engle get set for a few brisk laps around the cinders against Coach Curtis Kelley's stopwatch. Engle is a senior at Big Spring High School and has been an occasional point getter for the Steer tracksters this season. Smith has another year and Kelley says the lad just might turn into an outstanding competitor in the mile run.

TV Fights Set For A Switch To Saturday

By JIM KENSIL
NEW YORK (AP) — There will be fewer Saturday nights out for busy boxers and hopeful housewives come Oct. 8.

That's the date televised professional boxing switches to Saturday nights.

And there will be a little less lawn cutting and car washing on Saturday afternoons come April 16.

That's the date a fifth major league game-of-the-week, featuring the San Francisco Giants, starts on network television.

The American Broadcasting Co., bankrolled principally by the Gillette Safety Razor Co., announced the changes in the Sports TV Wednesday in a followup to Tuesday's purchase of the college football TV rights for the next two seasons.

Gillette, a longtime leader in sports TV sponsorship, said it has invested $1 1/2 million dollars in the new fight series, baseball and college football. And a company spokesman said this would cover half the cost of the rights and air time, bringing the over-all estimate of the three-sports-program to 17 million dollars.

Only the recently completed 20 million dollar five-year contract between the major leagues and the National Broadcasting Co. for the World Series and All-Star games rights exceeds that figure in the history of sports TV.

Gillette said it will continue sponsorship of these events and the Rose Bowl football game on NBC but that it will no longer sponsor the triple crown horse racing series on the Columbia Broadcasting System.

The "Friday Night Fights"—TV's oldest continuous program—will disappear from both NBC radio and TV on June 24. Gillette has been its sponsor.

Six years ago, there was only one baseball game-of-the-week. Now NBC and CBS have one each on both Saturdays and Sundays. The ABC baseball, however, will not be in direct competition as it will start at 4 p.m., two to three hours later than the others have started in the past.

The Giants, with 13 Saturday daylight home games, will form the backbone of the series. Washington and Kansas City also have agreed to participate and schedule their games for a later start than usual. At least one other team is needed to maintain an unbroken 25-week series.

There will be 50 Saturday night fights, with next Christmas Eve and New Year's Eve left open. Madison Square Garden will promote the fights and approximately 30 of them will originate in New York.

Jowers Honored

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Southwest Texas State Coach Milton Jowers, whose team won the NAIA basketball championship, will be one of two coaches for the NAIA entry in the Olympics cage trials. His partner will be Bob Davis, coach at Georgetown (Ky.) College.

Steer Golfers Win

Mitchell Malouf's Big Spring High School golfers swept to another victory Wednesday at Webb Air Force Base, subduing Lamesa and Snyder in a triangular match.

Led by Ronnie Carlson and Emmett Kent Morgan, who carded 42's, the Steers used up 172 strokes on the nine holes played to 180 for Lamesa and 192 for Snyder.

The Longhorns go to San Angelo this weekend for a tournament. They have matches carded with Midland Monday and Lamesa Wednesday.

Par at Webb is 37. Medalist for the day was Lamesa's Bethell, who came in with a 41.

Snyder's low man was Pickering, who wound up with a 42.

Individual scoring: BIG SPRING (172) — Jimmy Patterson 44, Ronnie Carlson 42, Richard Atkins 44, Emmett Kent Morgan 42.

LAMESA (180) — Bethell 41, B. Addison 44, G. Addison 47, Bryant 48.

SNYDER (192) — Pickering 42, Lamb 45, Reed 52, Nail 53.

"Worst roads in the world, but this new Chevy takes all the roughness out!"

Out near Wathena, Kansas, farmer Milt Rounchy tends 800 acres with only one helper—his 1960 Chevrolet pickup. The truck almost never runs on Kansas' fine state highways—instead it averages about 2,500 miles a month on unimproved back-country trails or on hauls into the fields, off the road. "In my book, these are the worst roads in the world," Mr. Rounchy says. "But this new Chevy takes all the roughness out. It doesn't fishtail or whip around like other trucks — I can steer it with one finger!"

They're speaking right up, these owners of '60 Chevrolets. Everywhere you go, they're giving out glowing reports on a revolutionary new truck ride that leads to a bigger day's work at less expense; prising truck power that knows the most about saving money. It's Chevy's total newness they're talking about. And you'll be talking, too, once you turn a new Chevrolet loose on your money run. Your dealer can get you started, right away!

It takes Chevy's new Torsion-Spring Ride to smooth out a road like this!

Howard Payne's Democracy Forum Set For April 4

BROWNWOOD—Eight speakers and the world-famous United States Navy Band will participate in the fifth annual Democracy-in-Action Week at Howard Payne College.

Concerts by the Navy band are scheduled at 1:30, 3 and 7 p.m. in Mims Auditorium April 4, opening day of DIA Week.

Speakers for the week will include John B. Conlan Jr., young Illinois attorney who worked with the judge advocate general's office while in the Army; Dr. J. M. Dawson, Austin, first executive director of the Joint Committee on Public Affairs for the Baptists of the United States; Cartha D. DeLoach, assistant director of the FBI.

The Rev. L. Gerald Fielder, Southern Baptist missionary to Japan; George M. Mardikian, owner of the Omar Khayyam Restaurants in California; Helen Poe, Dallas, lecturer and traveler; Dr. Samuel DeWitt Proctor, president of Virginia Union University, and Dr. Kenneth D. Wells, president of the Freedoms Foundation, Valley Forge, Pa.

The Howard Payne Democracy-in-Action program was given the principal award in the Thomas Jefferson category for college campus programs in Americanism by the Freedoms Foundation at Valley Forge in February.

Rescued

Mrs. Horace Cumble, 28, of Anchorage, Alaska, down in a snowstorm and spotted after two days. Ground and helicopter rescue teams brought out the five persons aboard, including Mrs. Cumble's 6-year-old son Randy and her mother and father.

CARD OF THANKS
We wish to express our sincere appreciation to all our friends for their many deeds of kindness, the flowers, food and words of comfort. May God's richest blessings be with each of you.

U.S. Asks Space Weapons Ban

GENEVA (AP)—U. S. delegate Frederick M. Eaton asked the 19-nation disarmament conference today to agree at once on the banning of weapons in outer space.

He also called for auditing of missile flights and a halt in production of nuclear materials for arms.

Eaton told the delegations that such steps would give an impetus to their work in seeking general disarmament. He warned that the final banning of all weapons would not be accomplished all at once like the legendary birth of Venus Anadyomene from the sea.

He said he believed the conference could take steps now to deny the use of outer space to weapons of mass destruction forever.

A reporting of missile flights to some center which would keep track of them would ease the chance of miscalculations that might start a war, he said.

The Western powers say they are seeking a disarmament pact before scientists can develop nuclear-armed space satellites.

Speaking in the two-hour session working session, Eaton said the conference should move at once into the problem of nuclear material.

He said something should be done about the vast production of these materials and added that if production was stopped a way would be open to moving on to the transformation of these materials for peaceful uses.

He warned the five Communist powers—the Soviet Union, Czechoslovakia, Poland, Romania and Bulgaria—that it is futile for them to believe the United States would ever enter any general disarmament agreement which failed to contain central elements of control.

He criticized the four-year deadline in the rival Soviet plan. It would be impossible, he declared, to accomplish responsible disarmament while working against such a deadline. He said Western powers are prepared to move ahead as fast as an agreement can be arranged.

Butler Spurns Humphrey Demand That He Resign

NEW YORK (AP)—Democratic National Chairman Paul M. Butler says he has no intention of resigning—as demanded by Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota.

After that declaration, Butler said he would make "no further comment about Sen. Humphrey's remarks, though it distresses me to have those remarks come from a person I so greatly admire."

Butler also denied at a news conference Wednesday that he had used his party position to favor Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts, one of Humphrey's rivals for the Democratic presidential nomination.

Butler, however, refused to deny or admit that he predicted last Monday that Kennedy would win the nomination on the first convention ballot. The chairman was reported to have made the prediction anonymously to a group of reporters at the National Press Club in Washington.

Wednesday's news conference followed remarks by Butler to newsmen earlier in the day.

Butler insisted that he had "not evaluated at any time for public information any candidate."

Sen. Humphrey Says Vote Will Halt Kennedy

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn.) predicted today results of the Wisconsin presidential caucus will halt the "psychological blitz," he said Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.) is trying to engineer.

Although Humphrey accused Democratic National Chairman Paul M. Butler of "aiding and abetting" this blitz, the Minnesota senator indicated he will pursue no further his contention that Butler has outlived his usefulness.

That had been Humphrey's initial reaction to reports Butler told a group of reporters that Kennedy looks like a winner in Wisconsin's April 5 primary and an early ballot victor at the Los Angeles convention in July.

Butler said in New York Wednesday he has no intention of resigning. He promised that he would not use his office "to the benefit or detriment of any candidate."

Humphrey said Butler has a duty "to be as impartial as a judge and as cooperative as a bishop" to all of the presidential hopefuls in the arrangements he makes for the convention.

"I have no doubt he will be fair about the convention proceedings," Humphrey said. "He is a good chairman, I am just sorry he got himself into the position of aiding and abetting a psychological blitz."

"This blitz is not going to succeed in Wisconsin, I am feeling better every day about my chances there."

Humphrey promised some fireworks of his own in the May 10 West Virginia primary, where he and Kennedy collide again in their contest for the Democratic presidential nomination.

Humphrey said in an interview, however, that he will not raise any religious issue in West Virginia "because so far as I am concerned there is no religious issue and there ought not to be."

Kennedy is a Roman Catholic and politicians have pointed to West Virginia, a strongly Protestant state, as a possible testing ground for voter reaction to his church affiliation. Humphrey, a Protestant, is Kennedy's only opponent in a popularity contest not binding in its results on the state's 25-vote convention delegation.

Convicted
Larry Lord Matherwell, 42-year-old construction worker, sits with clasped hands in a Downsville, Calif., courtroom after hearing a jury convict him of murdering Mrs. Pearl Putney. Matherwell fluids himself the target of prosecution efforts to send him to the gas chamber by also proving he murdered his second wife and child as well.

Mitchell Range Lands Reseeded

The seeding of range grasses by district cooperators of the Mitchell County Soil Conservation District is now under way. A. V. Sheppard, soil conservationist, has announced.

The Ellwood and Towle Ranches have finished seeding 392 acres of root plowed rangeland to a mixture of native and introduced grasses.

John Beal, Ackerly, is planning to pit and reseed 95 acres of rangeland this spring as a part of his complete coordinated soil, water and plant conservation plan.

The rangeland will be pitted with an eccentric disc and a mixture of sideoats, blue grama, K. R. bluestem and Prairie bristlegass will be drilled following the pitting operation.

"I am very well pleased with the results that I received when I pitted and reseeded 280 acres in 1958. I want to get these other acres to producing," Beal said.

Irvin Grant plans to seed 75 acres of Conservation Reserve land to a mixture of native and introduced grasses in a sorghum litter that was grown in 1959.

The purchasing of good quality locally adapted grass seed is very important, Sheppard stressed. Not only should the highest quality seed be selected, but landowners should plant grasses that are native in this general area, and where they are grown should be demanded.

It has been found that it is difficult to grow successfully many grasses that are moved from their climatic area. A good rule of thumb—grasses should not be moved more than approximately 200 miles north or south.

What? Dublin Dry On The Saint's Day?

By COLIN FROST
DUBLIN, Ireland (AP) — St. Patrick's Day 1960 and the old town is dry as a bone.

That, at least, is the government's hope, since no Dublin bar is allowed to open to help Irishmen drown the shamrock.

Nonetheless, the shamrock can be drowned. The thirsty can get a drink at the dog show at Ballsbridge Show Grounds. But will there be any room left for showing the dogs?

Next year, the official St. Paddy's Day drought should end. A new liquor act is before the Dail, Parliament's lower house, and the 1961 celebration likely will be as wet as the river Liffey that runs through dear old Dublin.

This time it was St. Paddy's eve that echoed with the celebrations. And the most resounding of the lot was staged by the Gurrriers' Tankard Club.

STOUT AND RACES

The Gurrriers' club is devoted to the destruction of stout and the preservation of horse cars.

In pursuit of these objectives, the club members set out on a weekly horsedrawn course through Dublin, stopping at the many pubs along the way to refresh their horses.

The club president is Brendan Behan, reigning Irish playwright, and the vice president is Josef Locke, the reigning Irish tenor.

A horse cab and Dublin and mist along the Liffey have a magic all of their own. And after a few of the old rebel songs as only Behan and Locke can sing them, the whole town soon is on the trail, cheering its throbbing head off.

So St. Patrick's Day in Dublin almost amounts to a morning after.

But not for Behan.

"I'm off the gargle," he roared as the procession set off from Bailey's bar with a banjo furnishing accompaniment.

LASTED OUT NIGHT

And despite temptation in every liquid form, the usually unruly playwright lasted out the night on a couple of glasses of stout washed down by a sea of tomato juice.

Work is responsible for this uncharacteristic temperance. Brendan's writing a new play on the Dublin underworld and is keeping a clear head to speed his pen.

Industry also was the theme of today's parade, bigger and better than ever. Irish industry is proud of a year of useful growth.

President Eamon De Valera sent a message of greetings to "Ireland's children across the seas" and to "friends of Ireland everywhere."

The message said:

"I trust the celebrations in honor of Ireland's patron saint will strengthen further the ties by which you are linked with us and your determination to continue support of the motherland's just claims to unity of her national territory (meaning Protestant Northern Ireland, still held by the British).

"To friends of Ireland everywhere I wish contentment and happiness and pray that communities in which they live may enjoy God's precious gift of peace in the years ahead."

Latin Hero To Be Feted

DALLAS (AP)—A slightly-built Latin American worker, ex-school teacher and former government employe will be feted at a luncheon here today and given a $1,000 check.

About 150 persons, including a delegation from Dell City in West Texas, will honor Manuel Corral, 42, for saving the life of a child near Dell City last Dec. 24.

The child fell in a well and Corral was lowered head-first into the 16-inch casing to pull the tot to the surface.

Rescue witnesses said Corral wedged four times while being lowered about 75 feet with an improvised cable made of bits of rope and wire tied around his ankles.

J. C. Cantrell, executive secretary of the Baptist Foundation of Texas, for whom the child's father works, will present Corral with a check for $1,000.

Charges Filed In Negro Beating

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Local police have filed felony charges against Ronald Gene Erickson, 18, in the March 7 beating of Felton Turner, 27, a Negro.

Turner told officers four masked white youths forced him into a car as he walked home that night. He said they beat him with chains and hung him from a tree by his feet after scratching two sets of "KKK" on his chest and stomach.

Conviction on the felony charge of disfiguring could lead to a $2,000 fine and two to five years in prison.

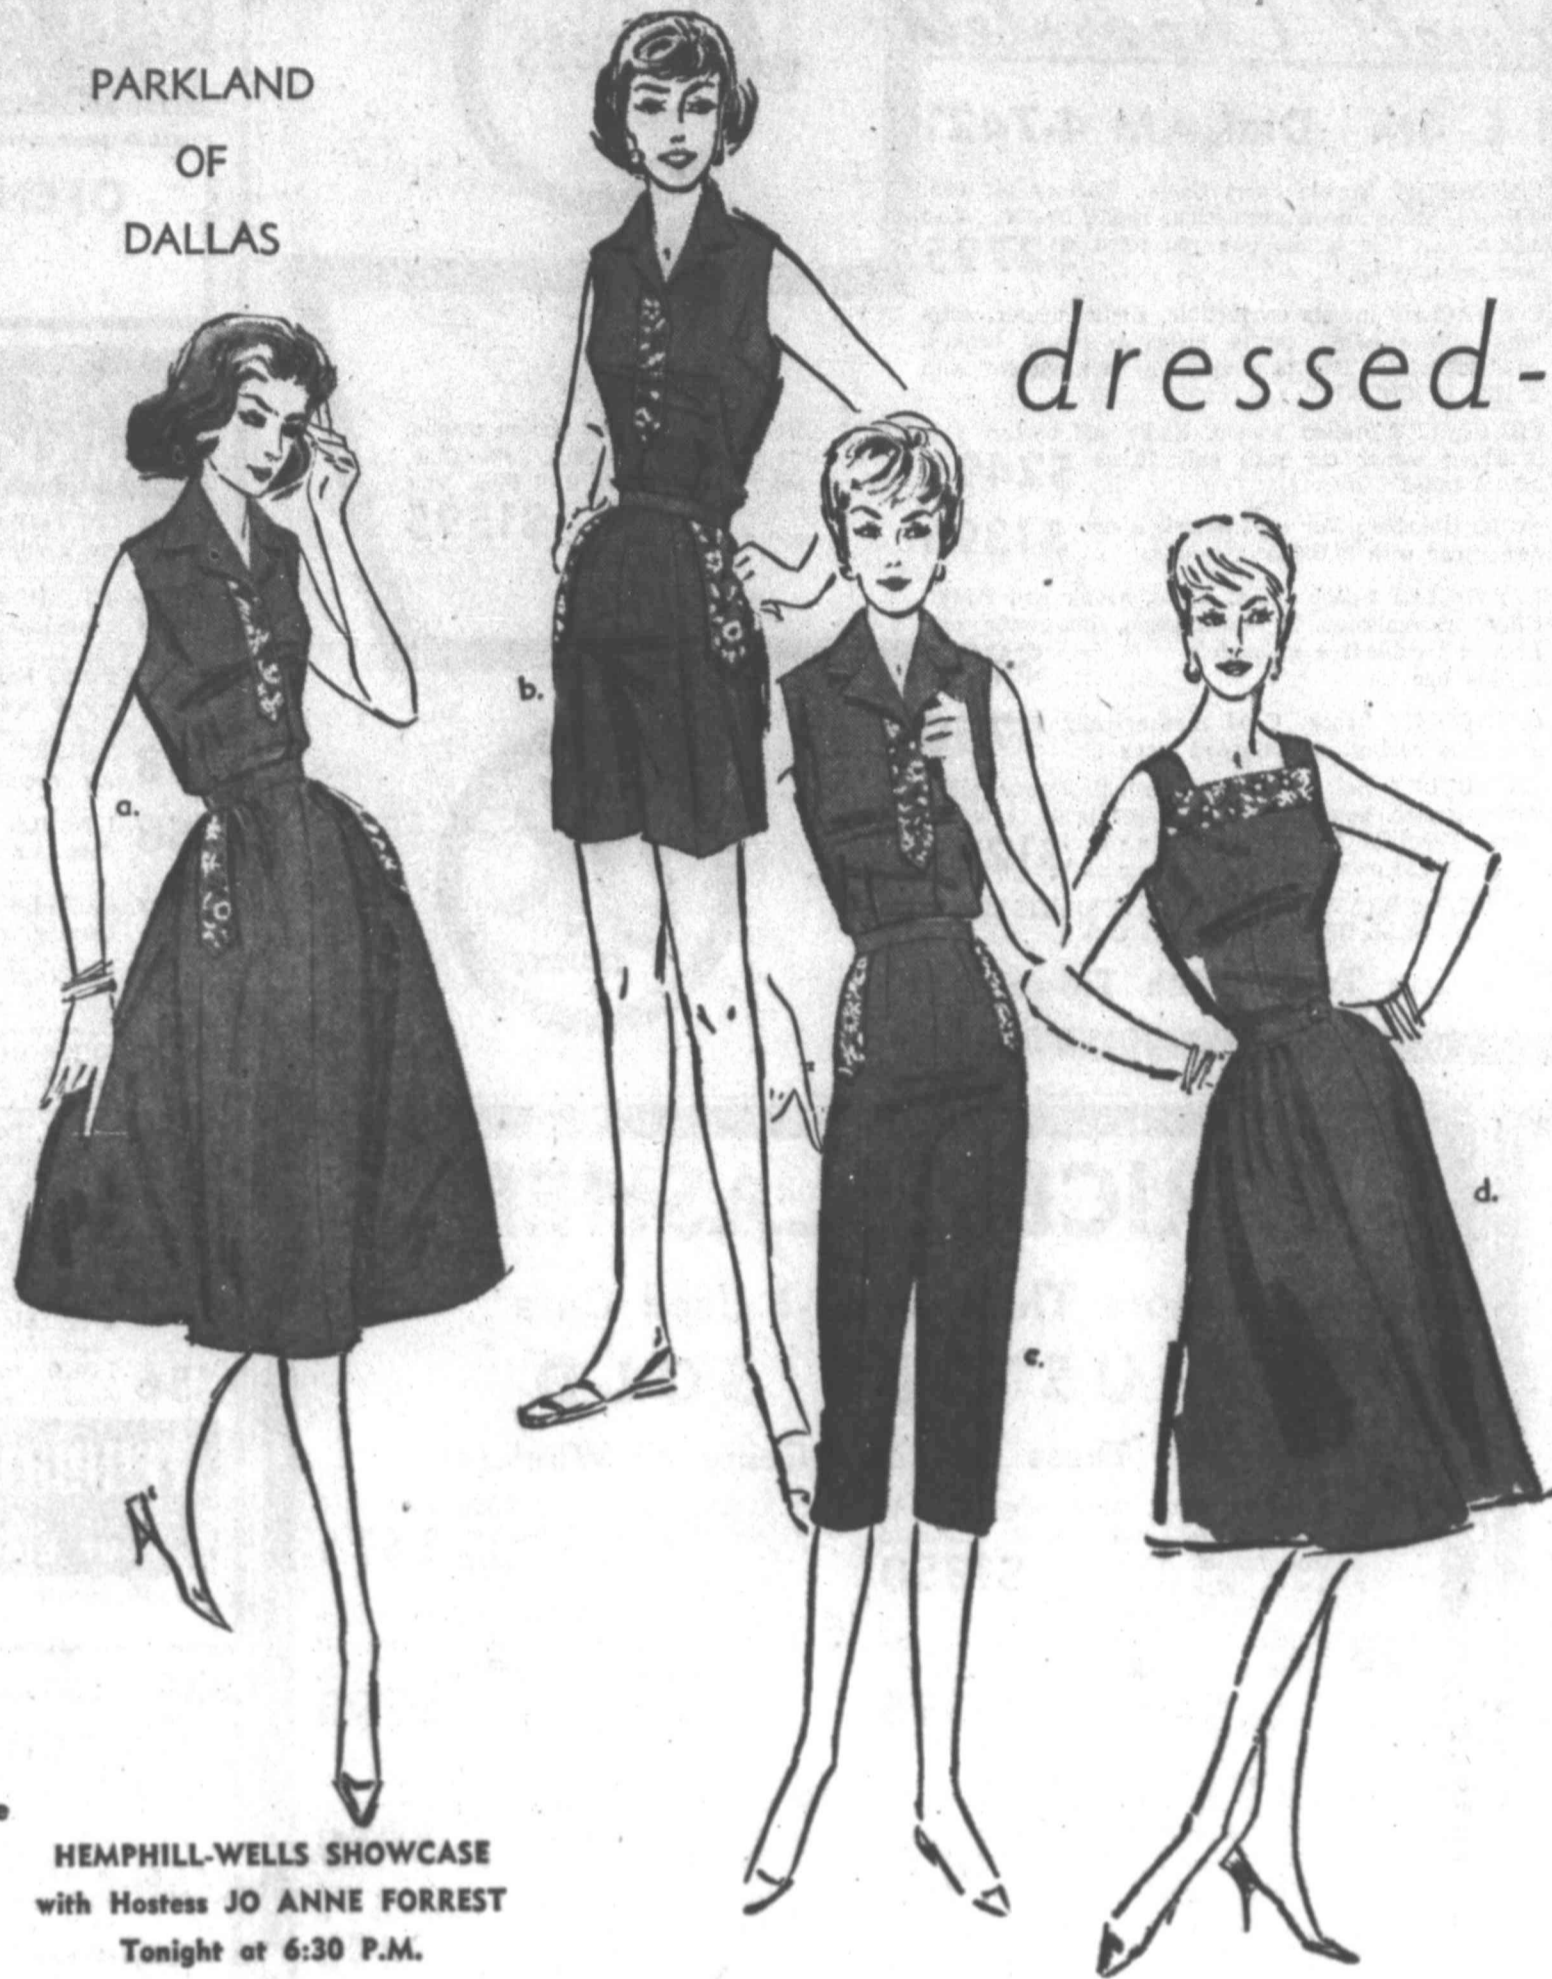

Three other white youths are being sought in the case.

Turner was not seriously hurt.

Lt. Col. Thomas Simpson Draws Hawaii Assignment

Lt. Col. Thomas S. Simpson, commander of the 3560th Pilot Training Squadron at Webb AFB, will depart Travis AFB, Calif., on March 29 for a new assignment at Camp Smith, Hawaii.

Col. Simpson, a command pilot, came to Webb in July 1957 to take the staff position as wing inspector. He was assigned as commander of the 3569th in 1959.

His job in Hawaii will be unusual in that he will be working with Army and Navy personnel in the Joint Pacific Command. He will be called the Air Force assistant for the combined exercise section, operations division.

Mrs. Simpson and sons, Thomas Jr., Frederic, and Laurence, will travel by air with the colonel to his new station. The family has made its home in Webb Village.

Col. Simpson has headed the base rifle team and has been one of its top shooters.

He attended aviation cadet flight at Kelly AFB in 1941 and was assigned to Corsicana for primary in 1942. He took his basic in the old BT-13 at Goodfellow Army Air Base at San Angelo.

He went overseas for special duty with the Chinese Air Force

LT. COL. T. S. SIMPSON

as operations officer of a B-25 squadron in 1943. On Aug. 4, 1944, while on a combat mission over the Mogong Valley, Burma, he was shot down by ground fire and forced to land in enemy occupied territory. After 12 days in the jungle, along with his Chinese crew, he made his way to friendly Chinese troops. As a result of this action, he was awarded the Silver

Campaign Fund

DALLAS (AP) — Will Wilson, seeking re-election as attorney general, said Wednesday that loan sharks are raising a fund to try and defeat him.

Star and the Chinese Medal of Honor

He has a total of nearly 5,000 hours flying time, the majority of which is in B-25s and C-47s. He attended the jet qualification course at Craig Air Force Base during the latter part of 1956. Col. Simpson received his command pilot wings Aug. 6, 1957 after having been a rated pilot and senior pilot for a total of 15 years.

Clouds, Rain Weather Items

By The Associated Press

Light rain fell Thursday morning at San Antonio, Laredo and along the Lower Texas Coast while the rest of Texas was covered with clouds.

Freezing temperatures gripped the Panhandle while readings of 60 degrees were recorded at Brownsville.

Dalhart had 21 degrees, Amarillo and Wichita Falls 25, Childress 27, Lubbock 28, Mineral Wells 30, Abilene 32, Texarkana 30 and Dallas and Fort Worth 31. Other readings were mostly in the 40s.

Amarillo and Harlingen had traces of rain Wednesday—the only moisture reported in Texas for the day.

High temperatures Wednesday ranged from 63 at Laredo to 47 at Sherman.

Family To Bury 5 Fire Victims

MALVERN, Ark. (AP) — Mr. and Mrs. Charles Williamson prepared today to bury five of their nine children.

The youngsters, aged one to six, died Wednesday in a fire which destroyed the family's rural home. Four older children were at school.

Tasty Irish Tribute

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
AP Newsfeatures Food Editor
 Irish indeed will your table be on St. Patrick's Day if you serve that old-country dish called Colcannon. A simple combination of potatoes and green cabbage, it won't convert years ago in Ireland, Scotland and America. Whenever we give the recipe, it continues to charm.

Over 100 years ago Mrs. Hannah Widdifield featured the dish in her "Widdifield's New Cook Book or Practical Receipts for the Housewife" published in Philadelphia. But Mrs. Widdifield called the dish Kals Cannon, even though she specified that it be made with cabbage.

Her name is understandable because kale is a Scottish word derived from "coles"—a term used early in culinary history for cabbage as well as any other plant of the cabbage tribe. In Irish recipes we've come upon, kale (as we know it) sometimes displaces cabbage in Colcannon.

"The best cook book in existence... every lady should get a copy... worth a dozen times its price" were some of the accolades conferred on Mrs. Widdifield's 1856 cook book, and no wonder. That lady knew how to make a dish rich! To a dozen boiled potatoes and a cabbage she added a pound of butter and a gill (half a cup) of cream. "This is very nice to eat with cold meat," says Mrs. W., and it's easy to imagine why.

Our modest recipe for Colcannon for eight diners is made this way. We cook 2 pounds (6 medium-sized) pared potatoes in a small amount of boiling water with 1/2 tsp. salt. After draining we mash them until smooth with a couple tbsps. of butter and the same of cream or milk. Meanwhile we shred enough green cabbage on a coarse grater to make 3 cups packed down and cook it until soft in a small amount of boiling water with 1/2 tsp. salt; after draining, this is added to the mashed potatoes with a small onion that's been minced and cooked in a few tbsps. of butter until it's wilted and golden. Next salt and freshly-ground pepper to taste go in. We reheat the mixture, or keep it hot, over boiling water. If the dish is dry, more butter and cream are beaten in.

To garnish Colcannon for St. Patrick's Day, cook an extra medium-sized potato and after the spuds are mashed, save out one-half cup. Mix a drop or two of green food coloring into the reserved potato and put through a decorator tube in the shape of a shamrock over the cabbage and potato mixture in its serving dish. If you're having a buffet, and own a chafing dish, you'll find it's perfect for Colcannon.

RICE CREME SHAMROCK
 .... green Creme de Menthe sauce blends with bland custard.

Food Fit For Any Irishman

Here is a bland rice custard, shaped like a shamrock from your own molds, that is spiced with bright green Creme de Menthe sauce. It is a dish any family, whether they are Irish or not, will enjoy.

RICE CREME
 2-3 cup packaged pre-cooked rice
 2 1/2 cups milk
 1/2 tsp. salt
 1 envelope (1 tsp.) gelatin
 1/4 cup cold water
 1 egg, slightly beaten
 1-3 cup sugar
 1/4 tsp. nutmeg
 1 tsp. lemon juice or vanilla
 1 cup whipping cream
 Creme de Menthe sauce
 Combine packaged pre-cooked rice, 1 1/4 cups of the milk and the salt in large heavy saucepan. Mix just to moisten all rice. Bring to a boil and boil gently, loosely covered, 15 minutes or until milk is absorbed, fluffing rice occasionally with a fork. Remove from heat.

Meanwhile, soften gelatin in cold water. Combine egg, sugar, nutmeg, remaining 1 cup milk and stir over low heat until mixture coats dry metal spoon. Remove from heat. Add lemon juice. Chill until slightly thickened. Whip cream and fold into rice mixture.

Bring Springtime To Refresh Your Table

You can bring springtime indoors even before the season of outdoor dining begins.

Now is a good time to brighten up table settings, to be in tune with the new season. It's easy to do on your sewing machine, with the aid of some pretty fabric and a dash of imagination.

Leaf place mats will dress your table up for spring. Local sewing center experts suggest leaf-shaped mats of green linen or any crisp fabric such as Indianhead cotton, with stems curled over to form built-in napkin rings. Back the fabric with green lawn or organdy.

To assure uniform size and shape for the mats, draw a paper pattern on brown wrapping paper or even newspaper, allowing a half-inch for seams and sufficient stem length to make the napkin rings.

Stitch around outer edges of the leaf, using a pyramid stitch on your automatic sewing machine or on your zigzag attachment. Set the machine for a narrow satin stitch to outline the stem and to trace leaf veins through the mat. When stitching is completed, trim away excess fabric around outside of leaf and stem, cutting around stitch pattern.

Napkins may be simply finished with a narrow satin stitch. Here again, when stitching is completed, excess fabric is trimmed away.

These leaf place mats make an effective table setting when combined with pale green dishes and sparkling crystal. A centerpiece of spring flowers completes the picture. These mats are perfect for any luncheon party indoors, and may be used later for your outdoor table.

Once you've started, you'll find it's fun to invent decorative place mats, shaped like flowers or fruit, to color out any table color scheme you may fancy. For an Easter table, Easter egg mats are gay and easy to make—egg-shaped ovals in varied pastel colors. For any spring occasion, yellow-and-white daisy mats are effective. And for all the special holidays of the year you can have appropriate place mats—red, white and blue for the Fourth of July, pumpkin shapes for Halloween and Thanksgiving, holly leaves with embroidered red berries for Christmas.

Give your imagination full play, and have the gayest table in town.

Chuck Roast Leads Best Bargains In Weekend Buying

By The Associated Press
 Chuck roast, long a bargain favorite among food shoppers, is featured by many supermarkets and neighborhood groceries this weekend.

This offsets the effects of recent heavy snow storms which caused delays in the shipping of live animals and processed meats, thereby creating lower supplies and higher prices.

Other favorites this week include fryers (down 2 to 6 cents a pound), halibut and—because of St. Patrick's holiday—corned beef. Cabbage prices are marked up a bit because of the added holiday demand, although plentiful supplies keep the vegetable on the best buy list.

Eggs advanced again—by 3 to 14 cents a dozen—and now are about even with last year's prices in the New York metropolitan area.

Iceberg lettuce prices were reported at bargain levels this week, joining carrots, endive, escarole, celery, mushrooms, yellow onions, potatoes, radishes, rhubarb, spinach and sweet potatoes on the best buy list among vegetables.

Beets, broccoli, cauliflower, parsley and peppers rate as good buys, while you'll have to pay more for artichokes, asparagus, snap beans, cucumbers, eggplant, peas, green squash and tomatoes.

Fruit counters list avocados, grapefruit, oranges, Cuban pineapples, bananas and somewhat timeworn fall apples as their outstanding buys. In the good buy class are lemons, limes, coconuts and western pears.

Americanized Version Of A Glamorous French Fancy Food

Certain dessert recipes catch on. A rule that has been making the rounds is the French mousse au chocolat. Rich as Croesus, it's a combination of eggs, chocolate and sugar with sometimes the addition of butter or whipped cream.

But Americans have a way of taking foreign recipes and adapting them. That's what has happened to mousse au chocolat. One cook wants it sturdier than the original, another likes it blander.

A spanking-new addition to culinary shelves, "The General Foods Kitchens Cookbook" (Random House) has its own version of the dessert, adding gelatin and coffee. Here's the recipe, as it is given in the cook book. One word of warning, influenced by our testing of this rule in our own kitchen: use large eggs or your dessert may not be high and elegant.

5 egg whites.
 First, butter a 1-quart casserole or soufflé dish with straight sides. Then cut a strip of waxed or brown paper about 4 inches deep and long enough to encircle the dish with a slight overlap. Tape the strip securely around outside rim of dish, letting the paper stand about 2 inches above the rim to form a collar. Brush inside of strip with oil or melted butter.

Sprinkle gelatin over cold water. Add softened gelatin and instant coffee; dissolve over very low heat.

Combine egg yolks and sugar in top of double boiler and place over boiling water. (Water should not touch top section of double boiler.)

Beat constantly with an egg beater until egg yolks double in bulk and mixture begins to thicken. Add chocolate mixture gradually, beating constantly. Remove from boiling water. Beat egg whites until stiff peaks will form; fold into egg-yolk mixture. Pour into a 1-quart casserole or soufflé dish (prepared as directed). Chill mixture until firm—about 3 hours. Loosen paper; peel away gently. Top soufflé with whipped cream, if desired. This makes 6 to 8 servings.

Note: The sweet cooking chocolate called for comes in 1/4-pound packages and has 18 squares (each 3/4 inch) marked off; as you will notice, in this recipe the whole package is used.

If we made Gladiola Flour for Kissimmee, Fla...

we could get by with lower quality

...but we make it for you

We make just enough Gladiola Flour for our near neighbors—in Texas and a little bit beyond. These ladies are the best home bakers in the U.S.A.—and the sharpest judges of flour quality.

That works out fine for us. We know precisely what our customers want, and precisely how to make it. That's why snow-white Gladiola Flour outsells every other brand, every day, every year.

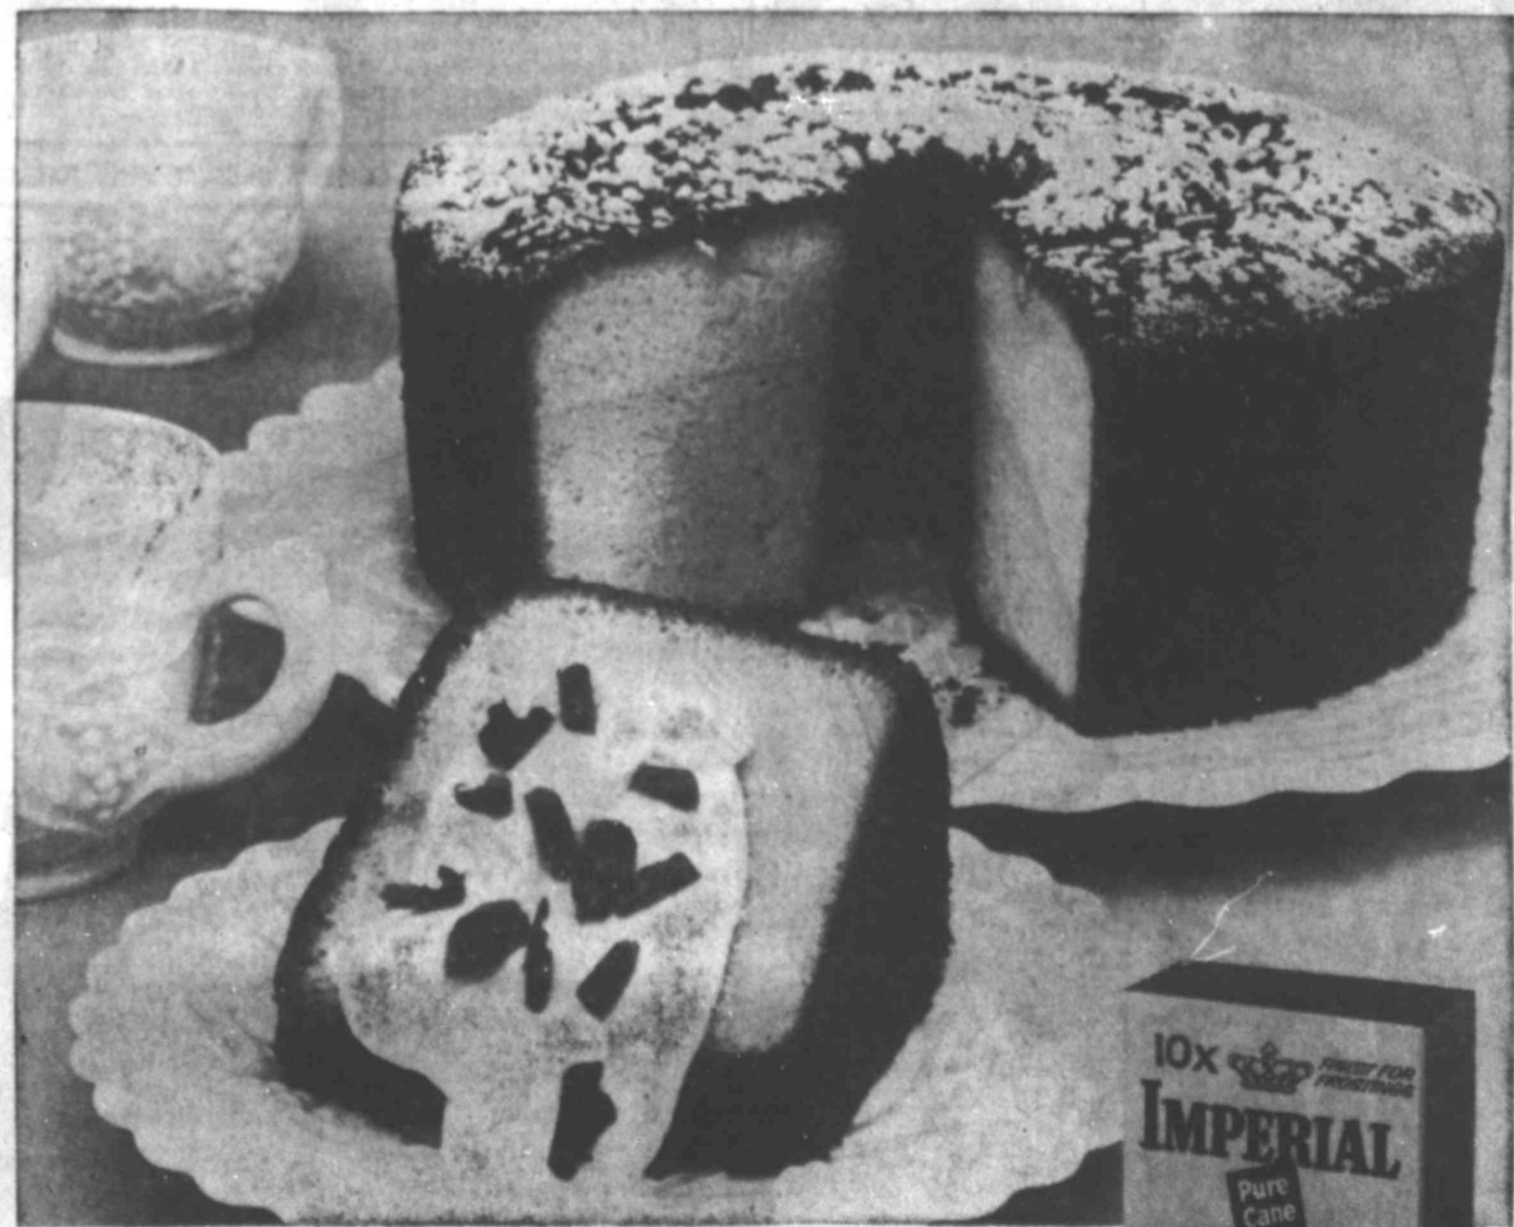

The women-folk in Kissimmee, Fla., just can't bake biscuits, cakes and pies like yours. They don't have Gladiola Flour. Only you and your neighbors can buy it. And, for the average family, it costs only about 1/2¢ a day more than the cheapest flour made.

TWO WAYS TO BAKE THE WESTERNER

GOLDEN WESTERNER Delicately flavored, fresh-tasting cake homemade with Imperial 10X Powdered Sugar.
 AMBER WESTERNER Rich 'n moist with a lustrous taste that comes from Imperial Brown Sugar

GOLDEN WESTERNER CAKE

- 3 sticks (1/2 lb.) butter or margarine
- 1 1-lb. carton Imperial 10X Powdered Sugar
- 6 eggs
- 1 Imperial 10X Powdered Sugar carton full of sifted flour
- 1 teaspoon lemon juice
- 1 tablespoon vanilla

Have eggs and butter at room temperature. Cream butter; add Imperial 10X Powdered Sugar; beat till fluffy. Add eggs, one at a time; beat well after each addition. Sift flour 3 times; add gradually to batter. Add flavorings and mix well. Bake in 10" greased and floured tube pan at 325°F. 1 1/2 hours. Cool 4 minutes, then invert pan. Wonderful served plain, with whipped cream, fruit or ice cream. If you wish, spoon Imperial 10X Powdered Sugar lightly into ridges on top of cake.

AMBER WESTERNER CAKE Use one 1-pound carton of Imperial Light or Dark Brown Sugar instead of Imperial 10X Powdered Sugar in the recipe above. Measure the sifted flour in the empty carton of Imperial Brown Sugar.

Added Zip Given To Green Beans

New flavor for green beans with chicken bouillon.

SAVORY HOT GREEN BEANS
 1 can (about 1 pound) French-sliced green snap beans
 2 tbsps. butter or margarine
 2 tbsps. flour
 1 chicken bouillon cube
 1 tsp. sugar
 1 tsp. lemon juice

Drain beans well in a strainer over a measure. You will need 1 cup bean liquid; if there is not enough add water to make this amount.

Melt butter in a medium-sized saucepan over low heat; stir in flour. Add 1 cup bean liquid and bouillon cube; stir over moderately low heat until boiling and thickened, making sure bouillon cube dissolves.

Stir in sugar and lemon juice; add drained green beans. Reheat. Makes 4 servings.

Good Care

Unless housekeeping equipment is given sensible care, it can't give good service. Instead of just emptying the dirty water out of your scrub pail, wash the pail with clean hot soap or detergent suds and rinse.

Curry Adds Good Spice To Chicken

This curried dish may be as mild or as hot as you like!

- CURRIED CHICKEN AND GREEN BEANS
- 2 tbsps. flour
  - 1 can (12½ ounces) chicken broth with rice
  - 1 to 3 tbsps. curry powder
  - 1 tsp. instant minced onion
  - 1 cup diced cooked chicken
  - 1 cup drained cooked cut-up green beans
  - 1 can (6 ounces) sliced broiled mushrooms

Put flour in a 1½ or 2-quart saucepan. Gradually add the chicken broth (not the rice), stirring until smooth after each addition; now add the rice, curry powder and onion. Cook and stir constantly over moderately low heat until thickened and bubbly.

Add chicken, beans and well-drained mushrooms. Reheat. Serve with rice. This is a thin sauce; to make it thicker, add ½ tablespoon flour. More chicken or beans may be added. For a really hot curry, add the 3 teaspoons curry powder.

Weight Watcher's Fancy

Versatile Dessert

Three ways to use a pineapple chiffon dessert: as a pie filling, a cake topping or a light and airy pudding. Made with whipped nonfat dry milk, this sweet treat will appeal to weight-watchers.

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
AP Newsfeatures Food Editor

The art of illusion belongs to the kitchen as well as the theatre.

With weight-watchers expected for dinner, we tried a recipe for a chiffon dessert calling for whipped nonfat dry milk and produced a dish that looked as if it might contain whipped cream.

To use this Pineapple Chiffon as a cake topping, fold waxed paper into several thicknesses 4 inches wide and long enough to overlap generously around an 8- or 9-inch cake layer. Attach the paper to the cake with sealing tape, making the collar 3 inches high. Turn in the Pineapple Chiffon, after the whipped milk is added, and chill until firm; remove the paper. The dessert may also be turned into an 8- or 9-inch baked pie shell.

PINEAPPLE CHIFFON

- 1 2-3 cups crushed pineapple with syrup (just as it comes from can)
- 1 envelope unflavored gelatin
- ¼ tsp. vanilla
- 2½ cups Whipped Milk
- ½ cup flaked coconut.

Drain pineapple; there should be about ¾ cup syrup. Add enough water to syrup to make 1 cup; heat gently in a small saucepan with gelatin, stirring constantly, until gelatin dissolves. Mix in drained pineapple and vanilla. Chill until slightly thickened. Fold into whipped milk with coconut. Turn into dessert dishes; chill until firm. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

In a bowl mix ¼ cup nonfat milk with ¼ cup ice water; beat until soft peaks form (3 to 4 minutes). Add 2 tbsps. lemon juice; continue beating until firm peaks form (3 to 4 minutes). Gradually beat in ¼ cup sugar.

A 13½-ounce can of crushed pineapple will give the exact amount of fruit and syrup needed in this recipe.

Luscious Roast Good For Guests

Extra-special fare for guests. SEASONED ROAST BEEF Prime ribs of beef (buy first 3 ribs weighing about 8-pounds with short ribs removed)

- 1 large clove garlic
- 1 tbsps. flour
- 1 tsp. salt
- ¼ tsp. pepper
- ½ tsp. paprika

Place beef on waxed paper. Insert slivers of garlic wherever possible without making knife slits in meat. Mix flour, salt, pepper and paprika; rub into entire surface of meat and fat. Place fat side up in a shallow roasting pan so ribs keep meat off bottom of pan; insert meat thermometer. Roast in a slow (325 degrees) oven to desired doneness. If desired, meat may be placed in an extremely hot (500 degrees) for the first half-hour of roasting.

Like Part Wool

If a garment to be stored has only a small part of wool in it, the treatment in storing must be the same as with an all wool garment. Moth larvae will get to the wool content and can badly damage the fabric in doing so.

Chase Away Breakfast Blues With New Dish

What's for brunch? Do you ever ask guests to this wonderfully lazy weekend meal when it's delicious to relax over good food and coffee?

If you're the cook, you can take it easy before brunch. Bake eggs in toast cups! They go into the oven and you join the company.

A cheese sauce to accompany the eggs may be prepared ahead and heated gently over hot water. BAKED EGGS IN TOAST CUPS For each serving—1 thin slice white bread, 1 tablespoon butter (melted), 1 egg, salt, white pepper, 1 tablespoon grated Parmesan cheese, paprika.

Cut crusts from bread. Brush both sides of bread with melted butter. Press bread into a 6-ounce heat-resistant glass custard cup (3¼ inches across the top). Bake in a moderate (375 degrees) oven until very lightly toasted—3 to 10 minutes. Reduce oven heat to 350 degrees. Break the egg into the toast cup; sprinkle with salt, pepper, Parmesan and paprika. Return to oven and bake until the egg is firm—15 to 18 minutes. Remove carefully and serve with Savory Cheese Sauce.

SAVORY CHEESE SAUCE

- ¼ cup butter
- ¼ cup flour
- ½ tsp. dry mustard
- 2 cups milk
- 1 cup (¼ pound) grated sharp cheddar cheese.

Melt butter in a 1-quart saucepan over low heat; blend in flour, salt, a dash of pepper and mustard. Add milk; cook and stir constantly until thickened and bubbly. Stir in cheese just until melted, keeping heat very low. Makes plenty of sauce for 8 Baked Egg Toast Cups.

COOKBOOK CORNER

The first meal of the day gets new attention in "Breakfasts and Brunches" by the editorial staffs of Sunset Books and Sunset Magazine (Lane). Spiral-bound with a colorful, attractive wipe-proof cover, this cook book includes breakfast menus for family and guests, for holiday entertaining and large groups. An ample supply of well-chosen and tested recipes accompany the menus.

"The Good Egg" by Loretta White (Rand McNally) treats leftover egg whites and egg yolks. The egg white recipes are printed on white paper, the yolk recipes on yellow! The recipes are pleasant homey ones that a family with simple but discriminating tastes would enjoy. Spiral-bound with a washable cover, clear type arrangement and charming black and white illustration, this volume should fill a real gap for cookbook collectors.

Betty Lou Keim tells how she corrected adolescent acne in today's Hollywood Beauty. "A bad skin condition your personality and ruins your life," she says. Betty Lou is a regular member of the NBC-TV "The Deputy" cast.

HOLLYWOOD BEAUTY

Corrected Diet And Cleared Complexion

By LYDIA LANE
HOLLYWOOD — "A bad skin may be considered par for the course if you are an adolescent," Betty Lou Keim declared, "but parents should not treat this lightly because when you are ashamed of the way you look, it affects your whole life. I tried every remedy I ever heard of, but finally my skin got so bad I went to a doctor. He told me that I couldn't clear my complexion without correcting my diet and he gave me a 'taboo' list."
"The list consisted of almost all of my favorite foods, but I was so desperate I was ready to eat whatever the doctor told me. He explained that my skin was too oily and that I couldn't eat anything oily such as nuts, mayonnaise, spare ribs, peanut butter, anything fried, no potato chips, yellow cheese, salad dressing, and I couldn't have ice cream or chocolate. And no iodized salt because iodine is bad for acne."
"He told me I could eat angel-food and sponge cake, fruit sherbet fresh fruit, vegetables, tossed green salad with lemon juice, lean meat, broiled chicken and sea food not in shells."
"Mother helped by not having anything around the house that was on my 'taboo' list. In getting my skin back into condition I lost 14 pounds in one year."
"I went from a size seven to a size five, and because I lost weight slowly, it stayed off."
"Oh, yes, as you know, acne can be aggravated by dandruff and oil from the hair, so my doctor told me to shampoo my hair three times a week during the time I was correcting my complexion."

"No one would ever know that you'd had a skin problem," I said.
"Well, just to be on the safe side, since I've been working in 'The Deputy' before TV lights all the time, I've been using a non-allegic make-up," Betty Lou said as we parted.

Child Discipline Easy So Says This Bachelor

By DOROTHY ROE
AP Women's Editor
The most efficient and understanding "mother" I know is a 28-year-old bachelor named Steve Meyer.
Although he has had no previous experience in the field, Steve finds taking care of 10 children a breeze.
"Anybody who takes the trouble to understand a child should have no problems of discipline," says this pleasant and good-looking young man. "I just remember that kids are people, and act accordingly."

As assistant stage manager of the Broadway musical hit, "The Sound of Music," Steve has charge of the seven children of the cast and their three understudies, ranging in age from 8 to 16.
He also has to cope with their mothers, and this, he admits, is not so easy. But during the months of rehearsal and five weeks on the road, he learned to cope even with stage mothers by the time the show opened in New York.

"No mothers are allowed backstage during performances," he says. "This rule is simple to enforce, because there just isn't room. We have four little girls and four dressers in one dressing room, two boys and two dressers in another. The oldest girl dresses with the grownups."
"But there's no room for mothers. So we have a room in the basement fixed up for mothers and understudies. The kids watch TV and do their homework and the mothers sit and plot how to get more attention for their offspring—but it all works out okay."

"These kids are professionals," says Steve. "If there's any real problem of discipline, I just say 'Call the understudy,' and order is restored."
The children, who portray the famous Von Trapp family singers, are: Evanna Lien, a veteran actress at 8, who made her singing and dancing debut at 3 and has played in three top movies; Mary Susan Locke, 9, who was playing Shakespeare at 6; Kathy Dunn, 12, who has made more than 100 appearances in theaters and ballrooms and is a Girl Scout; Marilyn Rogers, 12, who left a featured role in "The Music Man" to join the cast of "The Sound of Music"; Lauri Peters, 16, who has been in two previous Broadway shows and plays the oldest of the Von Trapp children; William Snowden, making his Broadway debut at 13, and Joseph Stewart, a veteran of TV, movies and the stage at 12.

"They get along together fine," says Steve. "There haven't been any serious fights or rivalry. But at Christmas all of the kids got identical terry robes, and a little later one showed up with "The Sound of Music" embroidered on the back. Next day another appeared with the same thing and in addition all the other shows in which he had appeared. Now they all have a list of billings on the backs of their robes. If they start embroidering press clippings, they're just going to have to get bigger robes."

Mrs. H. V. Crocker, 1767 Benton, will host the next meeting, slated for April 20.

Interior Doors

Last year, a new idea was introduced in the hanging of interior residential doors. It involved hanging the doors over the wall openings rather than in them. The latest thing in this line is bi-folding door hardware for closet openings. This hardware allows the doors to be folded back so that the entire closet archway is clear, resulting in easy access to the entire interior.

Mrs. Parsons Gives Review For Hyperions

"The First Easter" by Katharine Marshall, was reviewed for members of the 1905 Hyperion Club when they met at Cosden Club Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. J. H. Greene was hostess.

Mrs. Floyd Parsons, reviewer, told of the first time Mrs. Marshall saw her future husband, which was when he was preaching one of his Easter sermons. She learned that he spent more time on these sermons than on any other, the speaker said.

During their married life, Mrs. Marshall collected and edited the Easter sermons, which tell the story from The Last Supper to the time that Christ arose from the dead.

To open the meeting, Mrs. W. A. Hunt read a poem, "Call to Order." Mrs. Chris Watson was introduced as a new member.

For the tea hour, Mrs. Hunt presided at the coffee service on a table covered in green linen cut-work. A white footed bowl held an arrangement of white gladiol and spring flowers.

Twenty members were joined by two guests, Mrs. H. G. Towle of Snyder and Mrs. Joe Pond. Mrs. Lee Hanson will be hostess for the club on April 20, it was announced.

Help For Menu Planning Is Just A Dial Away

HACKENSACK, N. J. (AP)—"Tip-O-Phone," set up by the Bergen County Agricultural Extension Service, has made menu planning easier for the harried housewife. All she has to do is dial a telephone number to get the service's bi-weekly food and marketing message, which includes shopping information and menu suggestions.

The Service says some 500 calls each week attest to the success of the project, the only one of its kind in New Jersey.

And as a further benefit, the organization provides gardening information in springtime by using the same type of tape-recorded message.

Spring Decor For Coffee

Spring was the theme of the table decorations for a coffee Wednesday morning for members of the Downtown Lions Auxiliary in the home of Mrs. Lloyd Curley.

Joining Mrs. Curley as hostess was Mrs. Jimmy Ray Smith. Mrs. Louis Carothers poured coffee at the table which was covered with a white damask cloth. The centerpiece was a large arrangement of yellow gladioli and white daisies; napkins were white with a green shamrock decoration.

During the short business meeting, Mrs. Avery Falkner reminded the members to contribute to the Crippled Children's Fund and announced a coffee for April with Mrs. Schley Riley and Mrs. John Dibrell as hostesses.
Seventeen members were present.

Mrs. Hunt Reviews Book For Methodists

"Dear and Glorious Physician" was the book reviewed by Mrs. W. A. Hunt Tuesday evening for members of the First Methodist WSCS. The novel, written by Taylor Caldwell, deals with the life of Luke.
Coffee and cookies were served to 125 members and guests. Serving were Mrs. George Neill and Mrs. Jordan Grooms.

Daughter Of 'Auld Sod' Now Lives In Big Spring

By SHERI WEBBER

A wee bit of Ireland has been transplanted to Big Spring — and she isn't a female leprechaun, though with her dark hair and twinkling eyes you might mistake her for a modern-day pixie.

"I can remember how green the grass is in Ireland," says Mrs. Chester L. Frazier. "It didn't seem so green while I was living there, only when I went back for visits."

Fran Frazier was born Frances Iris Murphy. She spent the first 14 years of her life on a farm outside the village of Whitehall in county Roscommon, located in Western Ireland.

"We lived seven miles from a movie house," relates Mrs. Frazier with a slight trace of Irish brogue. "so we only got to go 'once in a blue moon.' The folk entertained in their homes. Families would give dances and parties, and each Sunday the men would go to the pub to meet all of their friends."

The Irish colleen remembers that it took hours to go somewhere on the green island. "Nobody's in a rush there. You would see two people talking by the road as you went into town, and when you came back hours later, they might still be there talking!"

In western Ireland the older people speak Gaelic, but Fran's understanding of the language is like most of the younger generation's — what she learned in school.

As a teen-ager Frances Murphy left Ireland to join her mother who was working as a nurse in England. She went back to Ireland only on vacations.

During the five years she spent in Kingston-on-Thames, England, Fran met a young man from Missouri. Miss Murphy worked in the PX at the base where S.Sgt. Chester L. Frazier was stationed.

MRS. CHESTER L. FRAZIER
... an Irish colleen

Love was a rocky road, the couple discovered after they decided to marry. It was impossible for Fran to get the sheath of data required of foreign brides filled out and to Frazier before he was shipped to another spot and the papers were out of date. Finally, while he was in Germany, Fran left England in January and together they were able to cut through the red tape. The Fraziers were married in May of 1957.

Mrs. Frazier arrived in Big Spring Jan. 17, 1958. Twenty-two months ago a new Texan arrived on the scene — Charles Anthony Frazier, Chuck, as his parents call him, has the same dark-hazel eyes as his Irish mother.

Our Shamrock Lady isn't entirely by herself in this land that she "likes very much." Two of her four brothers and three sisters have migrated from the auld sod to the United States. Jerry and John Murphy are living in Chicago.

In fact, there is only one true Irishman in the whole Murphy family. One of her brothers still lives on the colorful Irish island; others live in England, the U.S.A., and Germany.

Jaycee-Ette Officers Are Selected

Jaycee-Ettes will hold an installation service and dinner at Carlos Restaurant on April 20 it was announced at a meeting Wednesday evening. The group met for dinner at Cokers Restaurant, where new officers were elected.

Mrs. John Jones will be installed as president; Mrs. Bill Lucas, vice president and Mrs. Wayne Graham, secretary - treasurer. Mrs. Chubby Jones will be the reporter.

The group voted to send an underprivileged boy to a summer camp sponsored by the YMCA. Plans were discussed for the installation banquet; 14 were present, including five guests.

Family Gathering, Open House Mark Birthday Anniversaries

LAMESA — Children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren of Mrs. T. M. Latham gathered at her home Saturday night for a surprise party. The affair honored Mrs. Latham on her 90th birthday anniversary.

The group enjoyed informal singing and visiting before coffee was served with pieces of the traditional birthday cake baked by one of the honoree's granddaughters, Darlene Mitchell of Lamesa.

A native of Coryell County, Mrs. Latham made her home in the Gatesville area until she moved to Lamesa in 1924. She is quite active, attends worship services of the Northside Baptist Church of which she is a member, and does some of her own housework.

Although her eyesight is failing some, she reads a bit, and is presently piecing a quilt to help "pass the time."

Five of her seven children are living. They include S. M. Latham, Mrs. Nina Timmons and Mrs. W. W. Beeman, all of Lamesa; Mrs. M. C. Garren of Gatesville, and Estee Latham of Hamilton. There are 18 grandchildren, 18 great-grandchildren and one great-great-grandchild.

greeted friends at her home Sunday afternoon at an open house which honored her on her 81st birthday anniversary.

Born in Mason County March 14, 1879, Mrs. Self moved to Kent County as a bride in 1899 and to this area in 1924.

Mrs. Self no longer serves her fellowman in this capacity, but she remains alert and well versed on current events.

She is faithful in her attendance at the Klondike Baptist Church where she is a member, watches television, and still reads as much

Ivey Home Scene Of Farewell Coffee

A farewell coffee was a courtesy Tuesday morning for Mrs. Wilbur Hall in the home of Mrs. Ford A. Ivey. Mrs. Glenn Clarke joined in the hospitality.

Chaplain and Mrs. Hall will leave Webb AFB soon for the base in Alamogordo, N. M., where he is being transferred.

A gift was presented to Mrs. Hall by the guests, who are members of the Wing Headquarters Group.

GIA To The B Of LE Holds Business Meet

Mrs. D. C. Pyle presided at the Thursday morning meeting of the GIA to the B of LE in the absence of the president. The group met in Carpenter's Hall.

It was announced that the state meeting of the group will be in Houston March 21, 22. It will convene at the Ben Milam Hotel.

'ROUND TOWN

With Lucille Pickle

It sounds so good to hear our birds that have come back again and are present each morning to bring in the morning with a song. There is always one or more mockingbirds that keep us interested with the variety of sounds they bring forth. We like the clear skies for a change, too. Also, to make us happy and feel very green-thumbish, our tulips are coming up. This may sound awfully late for some folks but to us, getting something we planted ourselves to come through the ground is a moral victory. ... blooming is purely incidental.

We have new neighbors, and the distaff side is a real gardener. MR. AND MRS. JOHN BALCH have moved into their new home at what I suppose would be 200 Cactus Drive. If our part of town had street signs and house numbers we could tell people in a more accurate manner where we live, but we are continuing to direct them by where to turn and how many houses down from certain signs.

Incidentally, Mrs. Balch who is one of the hostesses for the pink tea Saturday says guests aren't expected to wear something pink unless they want to, of course.

MRS. CLAUDE MILLER is back home at 213 Circle after undergoing surgery several weeks ago. She came home Tuesday at 11:20 a.m.

Back here after living in San Angelo for the past year is MRS. C. A. JOHNSON SR. Mrs. Johnson suffered a slight stroke recently but is doing well. She is in Mrs. Sunshine's Rest Home at 908 E. 15th and would be happy to

Stain Removal

Some greasy stains can be removed by regular washing in soap or detergent suds — either by hand or by machine. Other greasy stains need to be pre-rubbed with suds, then rinsed with hot or warm water.

That's Poetry?

Webb's first authentic beatnik party was staged during the weekend by personnel of Air Base Group with 36 guests attending. Seeing reading beatnik poetry is CWO James M. Green; while providing background music is 1st Lt. Charles Tarochone. Mrs. Edward Aiken (far right) boasted the best costume of the party—a one-piece black dress, long stockings, black sneakers and tam. In her hand is a mug of espresso-beatnik coffee. The other "beatnik" is the victor in Mrs. Green, who was mainly responsible for the program. She also did some reading. (Photo by S. Sgt. Estil Miller).

Produce Supplies Good Despite Cold Weather

By The Associated Press

Extreme weather in many growing areas beclouds the fresh produce picture this week with shipments to Texas food markets running smaller than normal, the Agricultural Marketing Service reports.

Yet grocery shoppers this weekend will find an abundance of cabbage, carrots, lettuce and greens from South Texas fields at attractive prices. Of these, cabbage and carrots are priced even lower than last week despite shipping difficulties.

Also rating the "good buy" label on the basis of wholesale prices are apples, especially winesaps; bananas; avocados; oranges and grapefruit; celery; old-crop onions; potatoes, especially round reds; sweet potatoes and rutabagas.

Fresh shipments of new-crop onions all but disappeared this week. Potatoes are some higher and can be expected to cost more until new-crop receipts increase. Snap beans and sweetcorn from Florida are averaging lower but still fairly high.

Oranges are some higher, as are apples, cucumbers, tomatoes and rutabagas. Shipments of Mexican cantaloupes and watermelons are increasing and prices are some lower than last week. Strawberries also are showing up more generally.

Among processed foods, substantial supplies are available of canned freestone peaches, cranberry products, raisins and peanuts and peanut butter. Cheese and lard are plentiful. Watch for

GS Troop 299 Has Court Of Awards

A Court of Awards for Troop 299 climaxed Webb's observance of Girl Scout Week Saturday evening at the Girl Scout Little House. Feature of the evening's program was the upgrading of Cindy Thompson and Gene Ann Peacock to First Class Scouts—the highest rank attained by any member of the troop organization.

The troop also advanced two girls to second class; they are Roselyn Hall and Donna Wiener.

Proficiency badges given at the Court of Awards amounted to 30. Cindy Thompson topped the troop as she collected seven; Gene Ann Peacock followed with six; Donna Pendergrast received five; Freddie Kay and Pam Lutting, three apiece; and Jan Ferry and Donna Wiener each got two.

Westbrook Class Will Plant Tree

WESTBROOK—Members of the Ruth Class of the First Baptist Church met Tuesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Charles Hanne for their monthly social and business meeting. Devotion was by Mrs. T. E. Lewis from the 12th chapter of Romans; a prayer was by Mrs. Rex McKenney.

Final plans were made for planting the shade trees on the parsonage lawn. Secret pals were revealed and names drawn for the next three months.

Plans were made to help a needy family in the community. Refreshments were served to 18. The next social will be April 19 with Mrs. T. O. Robinson and Mrs. Herman McCartney as hostesses.

RECIPE
NEW EASY CALIFORNIA TUNA BAKE

1 1/2 cups soft bread crumbs
2 cups milk, scalded
3 eggs, slightly beaten
1/2 teaspoon powdered marjoram
1/2 cup finely chopped onion
1 1/2 tablespoons grated lemon peel
1 tablespoon fresh lemon juice
1/2 teaspoon dry mustard
Dash freshly ground black pepper
2 (5 1/2-ounce) cans STAR-KIST TUNA, chunk style
Pastry for 9-inch pie shell, unbaked
1 SUNRISE lemon, unpeeled, sliced

Pick bread into soft crumbs. Pour scalded milk over crumbs in bowl. Stir well and blend in remaining ingredients except tuna. Flake tuna into large pieces; fold lightly into mixture. Pour into greased 1 1/2-quart baking dish. Cut pastry to size of dish, making a circle mixture. Brush with milk and place on top of tuna heat to 300° and bake 20 to 25 minutes. Remove from oven. Decorate with halved lemon slices and a few sprigs of parsley. Cut into serving-sized pieces and serve piping hot. Simply delicious. Makes 6 servings.

RECIPE
CREAMY TUNA

two 6 1/2-oz. cans STAR-KIST Tuna
two 10 1/2-oz. cans condensed cream of mushroom soup
1/2 cup milk
1 cup peas
1 tsp. grated onion
2 tbsp. chopped pimientos (if desired)

Heat all ingredients together. Pour over piping-hot Bisquick Cheddar Drop Biscuits. Serves 4 to 6. P.S. Other biscuit variations... add 1/2 cup chopped parsley or chives to dough, instead of cheese. Or drop each biscuit into a bowl of crushed potato chips before baking, for new crisp texture and flavor!

RECIPE
CREAMED TUNA NOODLE CASSEROLE
(Makes 4-6 servings)

1/2 cup boiling water
1/2 cup grated cheese
1/2 cup grated Swiss cheese
1/2 cup grated American cheese (about 1 1/2 pounds)
2 cups grated Swiss cheese
1/2 cup sliced pimientos-stuffed green olives
Paprika

1/2 teaspoon pepper
1/4 cup chopped chives or green onion tops
2 cups (2 1/2-ounce cans) tuna
1/2 cup sliced pimientos-stuffed green olives
Paprika

Add 1 tablespoon salt to rapidly boiling water. Gradually add noodles so that water continues to boil. Cook uncovered, stirring occasionally until tender. Drain in colander. Combine Carrotion, chives, paprika and chives. Cook over low heat, stirring frequently until cheese melts and chives wilt. Drain in buttered 1 1/2-quart shallow baking dish. Arrange noodles, tuna and olives in buttered 1 1/2-quart shallow baking dish. Top with cheese sauce and sprinkle with paprika. Bake in moderate oven (350° F.) 30 minutes.

A Devotional For Today

For thou, Lord, art good, and ready to forgive; and plenteous in mercy unto all them that call upon thee. (Psalm 86:5.)
PRAYER: Dear Lord, we ask Thy forgiveness for sins of omission as well as forgiveness for our misdoings. Help us to uproot any fault in ourselves that may hinder another person from seeking Thy kingdom. In Jesus' name we pray. Amen.

(From The 'Upper Room')

Bravery Of Manuel Corral

Manuel Corral, a Mexican national farm laborer, was made an honorary citizen of Texas in community ceremonies at Dell City, Tex., last Sunday. He is to receive $500 from the Baptist Foundation of Texas and the Rural Farm and Ranch Safety Council heroism reward in ceremonies at Dallas Thursday.

What did Manuel Corral do? A three-year-old child fell in an irrigation well for about 200 feet, until the sides of the well caught and held him. It was a small well, and Manuel is a small man. He insisted that other rescuers lower him head-first into the well on ropes so he could pull the child to safety. They did, and the rescue was made.

It would be difficult to imagine a feat calling for more sheer courage. Our Mexican neighbors and friends, as well as American citizens of Mexican descent, have plenty of what it takes. In two world wars it is probable U. S. soldiers of Mexican descent won more Congressional Medals of Honor, for their numbers, than any other racial group — including the heroic soldier of World War I for whom old Camp Barkley was named, whose father was American and his mother of Mexican descent.

If Manuel Corral doesn't already have American citizenship, he shouldn't have any trouble getting it if that is his desire. He is a credit to his race, and would be a credit to any race.

Impertive Need Of Unity

It is regrettable that scarcely any businessmen turned out for the U. S. (Water) Study Commission hearing here Tuesday. Perhaps they had not received a personal invitation, but on any subject so vital as water, an open meeting ought to be sufficient invitation.

We mention this because there were at least a few developments of prime importance to this vicinity which cropped up in the hearing. One is the possibility that downstream interests may be set to resist the application of the Colorado River Municipal Water District for a permit to impound a new lake on the Colorado River in southern Mitchell County.

There seems to be some vague notion that downstream users have a prior claim on water above them. Actually, if and when the new lake is impounded, every drop of it will have to be pumped uphill to the intended users. This is the hard way of doing things, but in West Texas you have to get water the hard way.

Another thing which was made apparent as a result of the hearing was that this portion of the state is anticipating not only substantial but great population increases within the next half century. This will mean tremendous gains in water demands, for the per capita consumption will gain right along with population.

Bearing this in mind, it becomes clear that all the ground waters and the surface waters in the area may not be enough to sustain the unhampered growth of the area. Hence, when the time comes to seek formal action on a permit for the new lake, it is imperative for all cities which might benefit by reason of the available water supply to unite in militant support of the permit. This is our last best hope for a major source of water.

David Lawrence 'Other Side' Of Civil Rights Issue

WASHINGTON—Much has been heard lately from the so-called "liberal" side about the need for "balanced programming" on television, but something happened the other day which indicates that maybe the broadcasters are doing better than the press in the "balancing" technique.

Just a week ago Sunday, for example, many persons heard a dramatic and informative debate on "The Press" over the National Broadcasting Company's TV network and watched Sen. Herman Talmadge of Georgia, Democrat, do a masterful job in presenting his viewpoint on the "civil rights" issue. But how much of it was printed in most metropolitan papers of the North? Virtually nothing.

ed that, according to the U. S. Civil Rights Commission, there were 22 Georgia counties where less than 5 per cent of the Negro population believed to be eligible was registered. He replied that there were adequate remedies, and added:

"First, any citizen who thinks that he is being illegally deprived of the vote can go into the federal court, he can get an injunction, he can recover damages against the registrar.

"SECOND, THERE IS A criminal law. He (the registrar) can be indicted, he can be convicted and sentenced to the federal penitentiary and fined. And, third, there is the Civil Rights Act of 1957 that authorizes this group to have the attorney general of the United States of America file a suit in the name of the United States of America as their taxpayer-paid private lawyer to enforce their rights. Now, if those remedies aren't sufficient, there are no laws on the face of the earth that will be."

"Here are 17 pages of federal laws that guarantee every citizen in America the right to vote . . .

"Now, in my own state we have approximately 175,000 to 185,000 Negroes who are registered and who do vote. They have elected officials within my state. Frequently they are the balance of power in mayor's races and local races of all kinds. The Negroes in Georgia do vote in very substantial numbers. In some counties in Georgia we have a greater percentage of Negroes registered than we have of the white population. In three counties in Georgia we have more Negroes registered and voting than there are white people . . .

Then why did the attorney general write a letter this week urging the House of Representatives to restore the section of the "Civil Rights" bill that was voted down by the Senate a few days ago. The answer is that politics is back of it all.

THE MOMENT Sen. Lausche of Ohio, a courageous Democrat, proposed that the principle of "equal justice under law" be applied so as to provide criminal penalties not just for violations of court orders on school desegregation but also for violations of court orders relating to picketing and violence in labor disputes, a Northern group of senators promptly voted against it. They were plainly afraid of the reprisals from the labor-union vote.

The attorney general, moreover, in his latest communication to Congress, writes that, while the right to vote is of fundamental importance to the Negro, "this thought should not lull anyone into forgetting that, meanwhile, the federal government has a responsibility in other civil rights matters, including the duty to enforce court orders in school desegregation cases."

ALL CITIZENS WHO are qualified have been encouraged to vote. We can't help it if some citizens don't exercise that right. My colleague, Sen. Russell, inserted in the Congressional Record this past week a statement by the leader of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People in Cleveland, Ohio, which stated that only 25 per cent of the Negroes in Cleveland were registered, and of that 25 or 26 per cent only about 25 or 26 per cent of them voted. Now, we have a much higher percentage than that who are registered in Georgia and a far higher percentage vote in Georgia.

The Georgia senator was then reminded

THE ATTORNEY GENERAL then makes an unhappy reference to what happened at Little Rock in 1957, and declares that the section deleted by the Senate and now up for passage in the House is designed to prevent a recurrence of the situation which, he says, required the use of federal troops. He adds:

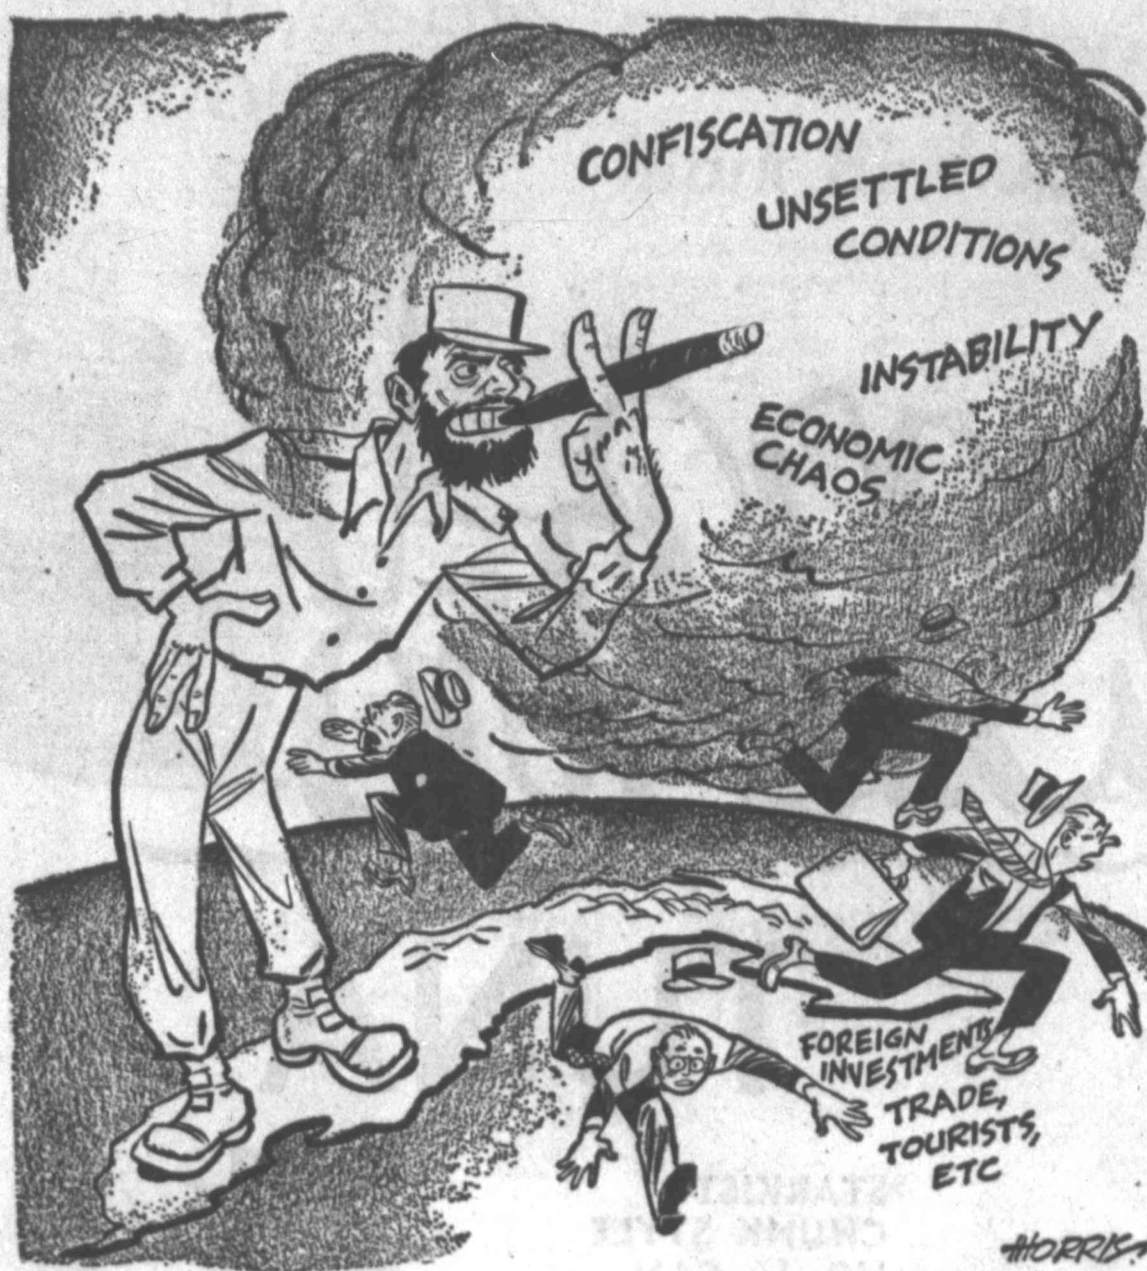

"At the present time, when state officials fail to maintain law and order, the federal government, as a practical matter, has no certain or very effective way to deal with mob violence except by the use of federal troops."

Is this really so? The state of Arkansas did order its militia to maintain order and prevent mob violence, but the federal government obtained a court injunction which ordered the governor to withdraw the militia. Then mob violence did ensue.

WHAT THE ATTORNEY GENERAL is saying about the need to enforce court orders on school desegregation would be received with more enthusiasm if the Department of Justice had not remained strangely inactive in recent months when labor-union pickets were refusing in many strikes in Northern states to allow non-union workers and management personnel to enter plants where they were wanted to work. So long as there are these examples of hypocrisy in government, there will be little tendency to regard the present ruckus about enforcing court orders in "civil rights" cases as little else than a brazen attempt to win an election by wooing Negro votes in the North.

SMOKED OUT

James Marlow Beware The Ides Of March

WASHINGTON (AP)—The middle of March—the Ides of March, the oldtimers used to call it—is a happy, lucky time for Vice President Richard M. Nixon. Or maybe it's just a coincidence.

But at least it's the middle of March—in a campaign year—when President Eisenhower suddenly warms up publicly to the vice president.

In the early weeks of the 1956 presidential campaign year Eisenhower was quizzed repeatedly as to how he felt about having Nixon running again for the vice president on the Republican ticket with him.

For some reason Eisenhower always avoided a direct answer until March 14. Then at a news conference he got enthusiastic and said he'd be "happy" to have Nixon as his running mate again.

The years pass. It's now four years later, 1960, and again it's a presidential campaign year. Eisenhower himself can't run again. But at this moment there's no one in sight to challenge Nixon for the Republican presidential nomination.

STILL UP TO NOW, Eisenhower has avoided saying anything directly that looked like his full blessing for Nixon. Then Wednesday, March 16, four years and two days later, it came again.

At his news conference Eisenhower made it clear he wants Nixon to be elected president. It was, in effect, the full Eisenhower blessing.

While Nixon thus is right on schedule in getting Eisenhower's approval, the vice president is far ahead in another sense. He's been living practically a charmed life in the campaign year. That's a lot different from 1956.

By this time four years ago he was being denounced by Democrats who took it for granted, without waiting for Eisenhower's approval, that Nixon was going to be the president's running-mate.

The bricks he got hit with weren't made of sponge-rubber. Adlai Stevenson was calling Nixon a "hatchet" man and former President Truman was complaining Nixon had called him a "traitor." Nixon insisted he hadn't, really.

But the worst — although it turned out to be hardly more than a puff of wind — was yet to come. A little later in 1956, before the Republican convention, Harold Stassen, a longtime presidential hopeful himself, tried to block Nixon's renomination.

Hal Boyle What Chance Has A Smith?

NEW YORK (AP)—At least one out of every eight living Americans is connected by birth or ancestry to a small island across the sea called Ireland.

On St. Patrick's Day they like to wear the green again in prideful acknowledgment of their heritage—all 20 million of more of them.

Many a man who sports a shamrock on his lapel today is unfamiliar with Ireland's long struggle for unity and self-rule. But a bit of Irish history is mirrored in scores of family names now common in America.

Here are the meanings of some well-known Irish names:

Barrie—One who came from the height; one who was diligent.
 Begley—Grandson of the little poet.
 Bolger—Light-complexioned; one who made leather bags.
 Bourke or Burk—Dweller near the stronghold or fortified place.
 Brady—Spirited.
 Brennan—Grandson of the raven.
 Brody—Fragment; one who came from a muddy place.
 Callahan—Contention.
 Carey—Grandson of the dark-complexioned man.
 Cassidy—Curly haired.
 Cavanaugh—Comely.
 Clancy—Ruddy warrior.
 Connell—High or powerful.
 Deegan—Black head.
 Dempsey—Proud.

Dennehy—Humane.
 Dever—Successful one.
 Dillon—Spiller.
 Donovan—Grandson of the little brown poet.
 Doyle—Grandson of the black foreigner.
 Duffy—Black.
 Egan—Son of fire.
 Enright—Unlawful.
 Fallon—Ruler.
 Finnegan—Fair.
 Finnanagan—The little ruddy man.
 Gaffey—Rich in cattle.
 Gary—Hound or hunting dog.
 Gillespie—Servant of the bishop.
 Gleason—The little green man.
 Haggerty—Unjust.
 Hallahan—Handsome or beautiful.
 Halloran—Stranger from beyond the sea.
 Kane—Warrior.
 Keenan—Ancient.
 Kelleher—Spouse-loving.
 MacArthur—Valorous.
 McCarthy—Loving.
 McDermott—Free from envy.
 McEvoy—Yellow-haired lad.
 McGrath, McGraw—Grace, prosperity.
 Maguire—Pale or light-complexioned.
 O'Day, O'Dea—Good luck.
 O'Donnell—World mighty.
 O'Grady—Noble, illustrious.
 O'Hara—Bitter or sharp.
 Reardon—Royal poet.
 Riley—Royal sportive.
 Whelan—Little wolf.

To Your Good Health Surgery For Some Cases Of Lymphedema

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.
 "Dear Dr. Molner: I have a condition called lymphedema, but several kinds of treatment have not helped. I still have swollen legs. Recently I have read of an operation for this but I was advised against it. I am anxious for your advice.—N. T."

This is a rare condition. The swelling is caused by some interference with the drainage of the lymphatic system.

John Hopkins University surgeons recently wrote on the subject, pointing out that surgery could be considered if the circumference of the limb increases, if use of the limb is impaired, if there are significant skin changes, or if there are repeated or chronic infections. Such surgery is a major procedure; the considerations are technical and you must be guided by progressive changes, if any, and your doctor's advice. Surgery should be attempted, obviously, only in cases that give some promise of success.

"Dear Dr. Molner: Could the extraction of two teeth, with the inevitable swallowing of a little blood, cause the formation of a blood boil under the arm, and after that healed, and anal abscess? My doctor thinks not.—R. S."

Your doctor is quite right. The swallowing of a bit of blood is in no way harmful and would have nothing to do with the "blood boil." If the extracted teeth were infected (that could have been the reason for removing them) the extraction could have been accompanied by a release of germs which localized and caused a boil before the body completed the process of conquering the germs.

"Dear Dr. Molner: Please explain the correct way to determine the fertile and sterile days of a menstrual period. The cycle is usually 28 days, but sometimes it varies from 26 to 34 days. Is a douche harmful during the menstrual period?—F. G."

Usually the fertile period is in mid-cycle (14th to 16th day) but when the cycle varies you may well have to resort to a daily record of body temperature. A small but abrupt rise (half a degree or thereabouts) signals the fertile period since it coincides with the time of ovulation. (One must, of course, be careful not to confuse a small rise in the temperature due to some infection, such as a cold. Second question: a douche is not harmful at the time you specify. Nor is it ordinarily needed except for special medical purposes.

"Dear Dr. Molner: Are alfalfa pills good for arthritis? A friend of mine claims her fingers became straight and without pain after taking these pills a short time.—D. E."

I don't know of any reason to expect such pills to help this. But periodically I am bombarded with claims that somebody knows somebody who had such results. That's as close as I have ever gotten to any solid facts.

If you don't know this friend well enough to observe that kind of wonderful results occurred, then do this: Ask her how long she took the pills. Then take the pills for the same length of time, and see. I don't know of any reason why alfalfa pills (if they are just alfalfa) should hurt you. Neither have I ever found any reason to think they will help. So — try them, and let me know what results you get, if any.

Afflicted with arthritis? You may find relief if you follow the advice given in my pamphlet, "Don't Quit Because of Arthritis." To receive your copy, write to me for it in care of The Big Spring Herald, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 5 cents in coin to cover handling.

Around The Rim You Don't Pull A Budget Out Of The Air

Preparation of the city budget did not begin with the final paring and decisions of the Big Spring City Commissioners. It started on Jan. 4 when City Manager A. K. Steinhilber sent out worksheets to all department heads and asked them to list their expected expenditures.

For this reason, the budget can be described as a product of all city employees. Many of them had an opportunity to make certain requests for new equipment, repairs and salary increases.

THIRTY DAYS AFTER the worksheets were handed out, they were returned to Steinhilber for study. From the first, it was evident the budget would have to be pared considerably if the city was to keep expenses low enough to match revenues. Gathering all the worksheets together, Steinhilber faced a budget $150,000 higher than anticipated revenues.

It was then a question of deciding which requests were the most important, where could savings be found. Until the end of February, he worked with the mass of figures, taking something out in one place and even adding a few items. In all, he sifted $118,000 out of the original requests. At the suggestion of city commissioners, he brought the preliminary budget for their study, still considerably higher than could be adopted. In this way, the commission decided what items would be cut and which ones would be included.

BEFORE THE COMMISSION began a marathon of late hours and Sunday time on the budget, many city employees had already spent their evenings and Sundays doing the same. And for the initial offering, Steinhilber, Assistant City Manager Roy Anderson, City Secretary C. R. McClenny and Bruce Dunn worked many hours getting it into shape and printed for commission study.

"I feel everything requested by the department heads were important and necessary," Steinhilber said. "But we just didn't have that much money." He explained it was not a matter of cutting out unnecessary requests as there were few of them. "Some requests were more important than others and these were set aside for commission decision.

STEINHEILBER AND other department heads also worked side-by-side with the commission through those long hours when final figures of various department budgets were approved. At every corner, department heads explained various needs and defended inclusion of salary increases, equipment purchases, etc. They also suggested ways to reduce expenses.

In its final form, the budget is an attempt to give the most service to the taxpayer for his tax dollar.

When Men Admired The Jersey Lily

Just before everything went black in Hollywood and the Kliegs went off, one of the major movie companies announced that it was preparing to film the high life and times of Lily Langtry.

If researchers for the script are interested, perhaps I can add one small scene. My mother, father and Uncle Frank all had distinct, if differing, memories of the famous Jersey Lily, whose fervent admirers included the late King Edward VII.

BEFORE THE TURN of the century, when my mother was a young girl and Papa and Uncle Frank were handsome bachelors, the Jersey Lily and a current admirer, Freddy Gebhardt, bought a cattle ranch next to that owned by my mother's father.

Both spreads were in Lake County, California, about 80 miles north of San Francisco, in country distinguished for its beauty. Now, my Grandfather Asbill, as far as I can see, ran the first dude ranch in the United States — only for free.

Mama remembered that the big farmhouse rocked with guests, especially after my uncles matriculated at the University of California and started bringing stagecoach loads of friends home during vacations. (That was before the day of automobiles, but young gentlemen with an indulgent father, as was my grandfather, kept riding horses at the university.)

SUCH WAS GRANDFATHER'S extensive hospitality that three basic fixtures of the Sunday menu were always a big roast turkey, a ham and a rib roast of beef. Mama recalled, and neighbors were welcome. All that is, save Miss Langtry and Mr. Gebhardt.

As far as the ladies of the community were concerned, they were beyond the pale. No feminine member of the neighborhood ever called upon, received or spoke to either.

The type of flagrant fracturing of decorum that today only consolidates an actress' acceptance and popularity with the public was not tolerated or condoned by ladies in those far-off days.

But if the ladies ignored Lily, not the men of the community. Uncle Frank remembers that when she drove her high-stepping matched pair into Middletown, a tiny village and the community's shopping center, the women on the main street simply disappeared, leaving the field to Lily and the men.

UNCLE FRANK SAYS that it was just as well that the women went home and left more room on the wooden sidewalks for their husbands, brothers and sons. The latter stood about in admiring silence (the wolf whistle had not yet shattered chivalry) and tipped their hats as she passed by. Papa was always more discreet; the only admission into which he could be trapped was that he had seen her.

But Uncle Frank says she was a sight for sore eyes, and no mistake. But, naturally, no lady could receive her. Mama added that the Lily, whose beauty was so overwhelming no one expected her to be an actress on stage as well, never lacked for company. Coaching parties were always driving up "from the city" (San Francisco) and her house was as crowded with guests as Grandpa's.

HER GUESTS, MAMA used to say with Victorian delicacy, were "fast" people and they "kept to themselves." (Mama thought Edward VII was "fast," too, and no credit to his poor mother.)

Perhaps this excursion into mores and morals in California in the 'Nineties is too small-time for the movies. But with costumes and background provided by Cecil Beaton, it could be a delicious five or six-minute sequence, especially the scene of Lily raising the dust on Main Street, as the ladies, their chins and convictions held high, head for home and their menfolk in the opposite direction.

WHAT MAKES THE PLAN so appealing is the effect it would have in dramatizing the technological progress of the West. Its propaganda value in all of Asia would be almost as great as the practical value of making India virtually self-sufficient in food. This would offset some of Soviet Russia's highly propagandized feats in science and space.

The agricultural surpluses that have piled up in a huge multibillion-dollar mountain in this country are an advertisement of the American revolution in agriculture, albeit an embarrassing advertisement. Under Public Law 480 the mountain has been somewhat chipped away, with surplus foods sent to various countries and sold for local currencies which have also accumulated with some embarrassing consequences.

The Gallup Poll Proposal For Feeding Poor Countries

WASHINGTON — For three and a half years America's surplus again has fed 10,000,000 hungry people in India and under an expansion of the surplus foods program this may go to 20,000,000. What disturbs many policy-makers and others who are all for this program is that, as India struggles vainly to keep ahead of her swiftly expanding population, she may come to rely permanently on these surpluses.

That is one reason an idea being generated here has stirred so much interest. It is for a big-scale program of fertilizer plants for India that would expand food production beyond the needs of the foreseeable future. If it were carried out it would with dramatic suddenness alter the whole balance between hope and despair in the vast experiment in democracy now being undertaken in India.

WHAT MAKES THE PLAN so appealing is the effect it would have in dramatizing the technological progress of the West. Its propaganda value in all of Asia would be almost as great as the practical value of making India virtually self-sufficient in food. This would offset some of Soviet Russia's highly propagandized feats in science and space.

The agricultural surpluses that have piled up in a huge multibillion-dollar mountain in this country are an advertisement of the American revolution in agriculture, albeit an embarrassing advertisement. Under Public Law 480 the mountain has been somewhat chipped away, with surplus foods sent to various countries and sold for local currencies which have also accumulated with some embarrassing consequences.

THAT, AT ANY RATE, is the claim of the author of the plan, Jonathan Garst, an agricultural specialist from Berkeley, Calif., and a member of the remarkable Iowa family that has done so much pioneering in the revolution in agriculture. It is this revolution in machinery and chemical fertilizers that has increased production anywhere from 30 to 50 per cent in a short span of time. One brother is Roswell Garst of Goon Rapids, Iowa, who last September showed Premier Khrushchev what a combination of hybrid seed, machines and fertilizer could do.

In brief, what Garst proposes is that India build one 100,000 ton nitrogen-urea plant per month for 36 months to produce a total of 3,600,000 tons of nitrogen a year. Because these plants would be standardized throughout, Garst believes the whole job could be done for about $600,000,000. In India's upcoming third five-year plan it is proposed to spend $622,000,000 for fertilizer plants but this would mean less than a million tons of nitrogen capacity.

THE PLAN WOULD BE financed on an international basis, with the United States putting up about one-fourth of the total. This last could come to less than the cost of handling and shipping the grain surpluses under the current program.

Senator John Sherman Cooper of Kentucky, who has taken a lively and constructive interest in India and the underdeveloped countries since he was Ambassador to New Delhi, immediately saw the potentialities in the Garst plan. With Sen. Thomas Kuchel of California he took Garst through a conference with Under Secretary of State Douglas Dillon. Dillon, too, is said to have done the dramatic possibilities of ending the threat of hunger that hangs over India's 400,000,000 people.

But bureaucracies move slowly and ponderously. India must first ask for a mission that would later make a formal recommendation for such a program. Working out the international financing would in itself be no small undertaking.

WHAT MAKES THE PLAN so appealing is the effect it would have in dramatizing the technological progress of the West. Its propaganda value in all of Asia would be almost as great as the practical value of making India virtually self-sufficient in food. This would offset some of Soviet Russia's highly propagandized feats in science and space.

Under Public Law 480 the mountain has been somewhat chipped away, with surplus foods sent to various countries and sold for local currencies which have also accumulated with some embarrassing consequences.

INDIA HAS PAID THE EQUIVALENT of $676,700,000 in rupees for shipments of grain up to last September. But the net cost to the United States Government has been $946,000,000 because of the difference between support prices here and the world price.

Spain is another country with a population problem that has received a large volume of American surpluses. The total through the end of January was valued at $384,855,700 at world prices, including the cost of shipping.

Farm state members of Congress might oppose any program to use American aid to create self-sufficiency in agriculture. But, on the other hand, there is a general realization that somehow the fantastic accumulation must be brought under control, since it depresses the agricultural economy and is a constant drain on the Treasury.

Grim Timeliness Reflected In Video Drama Exploring Facets Of Suicide

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television - Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—With grim timeliness, CBS' Circle Theater Wednesday night explored some facets of suicide in "The Desperate Season."

apparently trivial chain of circumstances. It was a gripping case history, with Alexander Scourby convincing as the sick man. But it was also illuminating. In addition to providing some insight into a not-uncommon situation, there was specific information. It was a fine program.

THE FRONT ROW

By Bob Smith

Came across some old magazines lately, and I found them quite fascinating.

There were a few movie magazines in the stack, all of which were dated at or near June, 1941. This, you will recall, was just six months before Pearl Harbor.

The ads were different then. The ideal girl, for example. The hair was long, the figure was slimmer. Even the face was different, with emphasis on the long narrow type of face, with a high thin nose, like the old Petty girl.

The heavy bust and hips had not yet come into full favor, although the trend had started. The ideal girl was also tall, something like Ann Sheridan.

Faces in the ads, a reflection of America's general taste in femininity, lacked variation as they do now. In fact, the old ads lacked imagination and were more stilted.

The articles seemed to suffer likewise, with headlines of not quite so spectacular a quality.

"Stirling" Hayden (he spells his name differently now) was having a romance with Madeleine Carroll.

Hollywood was still grinding out war films of World War I vintage, with plenty of juvenile gung ho, Clark Gable looked young and handsome in his mustache and washpan-type campaign helmet.

Carole Lombard, in a Lux ad: "She's famous... She's beautiful... etc." Later she was to die in a plane crash while on a War Bond tour, and her husband, Clark Gable, was to shave his mustache, drop his career, and serve in the Air Corps without fanfare or publicity.

Veronica Lake was still on top, but director Preston Sturges had put her hair out of her eye.

An ad for a movie: "Yes, boys and girls, it's Betty Grable!... In love!... In Miami!... In a bathing suit!"

Were we really that square? A romance was cooking between George Raft and Betty Grable. She was later to marry Johnny Stompanato.

Judy Garland was 18, and described as "a healthy, normal girl in every way," and she was a living doll.

Ann Rutherford (remember Judge Hardy?) was ready to break out of her Pollyanna roles for more glamour—and oblivion.

Marlene Dietrich, 10 years after "Blue Angel," was on a comeback to pure sex appeal after a steady deterioration into glamour and tinsel, with side trips into comedy.

Remember the Lane sisters—Rosemary and Priscilla? They had just bought a house and presented it to their mother.

Claudette Colbert was still riding high, and Mary Martin was about to make an abortive try at the movies. And Greer Garson was young and lovely and on top of the world after her immortal "Blossoms in the Dust."

"Man Hunt," with Walter Pidgeon, was the true tale of a man who could have killed Hitler—how little did we know.

Deanna Durbin got married and stepped out of films. Margaret Sullivan hadn't yet gone to Broadway; she was shy of the photographers, and even then had a look of tragedy about her.

A visiting Cuban musician and an American comedienne were going steady. Name of Desi somebody, and Lucy something-or-other.

Susan Hayward and Vivien Leigh were having a fuss, and Rita Hayworth made a luscious cover girl.

Some movies you may remember from 19 years ago: "Citizen Kane," "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde," "Sergeant York," "Blood and Sand," "Blossoms in the Dust," "Shepherd of the Hills."

We had a couple of visitors during the recent HCJC drama festival, and we may be hearing more from them a few years from now. They were Glenn Davis and Bill Peters, from Temple, who brought their guitars along.

Specializing in folk songs, and their own guitar accompaniment, their voices blend perfectly and their guitar playing blends well into the vocal. Their rhythm and arangement are varied. Their talent is at this time mostly potential, but that potential is great.

Another talent that popped up to entertain visiting drama students at the reception was local Frank Dunlap, public school worker, gave a short skit based on sound effects created strictly with vocal equipment—like that famed cartoon character, Gerald McBoing-Boing.

The imitations of such things as speeding cars and breaking glass were tops, but Frank's narration was too slowly paced and too loosely strung together.

But we could be hearing more of Mr. Dunlap if he continues developing his talent, and works out a quicker narrative.

And speaking of the drama festival—it was an afternoon and evening of rare entertainment which a lot of people missed.

I was impressed by four of the productions—"Whistle, Daughter, Whistle," by the Corsicana group, a comedy of two romantically minded mothers that was fast paced, well acted and expertly directed—besides being highly amusing; the same might be said for Odessa's "The Rivalry," and Temple's "The Wonder Hat."

A good indication of what is yet to come was given by HCJC with a cutting from "The Petrified Forest." If the play shapes up even as well as the cutting, the college group will give one of its finest performances. With production still a few weeks off, it should be even better than that.

some modicum of talent, to entering the contest is that a person be amateur, Dunlap emphasized. There is no age restriction, and acts from neighboring towns are welcome. Already, there are listings from as far away as Lamesa and Snyder.

Dunlap will host and perform, as well as head the show. Helping will be 36 DE Club members acting as ushers, ticket takers, backstage, etc., and the Max Alexander Combo will take a supporting role.

Dunlap pointed out the importance of the support — to get the audience and the judges in the mood so that the first acts will not suffer from comparison with the rest.

Proceeds will go into the DE Club fund, for activities in general, and particularly for the annual employer-employee banquet.

In addition to the talent contest, there will be a second contest among the DE students — with a cash prize going to the top ticket salesman.

Entrants in the West Texas Talent Show, if they are unknown to Dunlap, must first go through an audition. He averred he won't be hard on potential talents, but added they must achieve a certain minimum level to qualify.

Listed prizes show four places — a $25 savings bond, and three cash awards of $15, $10 and $5. Plus a lot of fun and publicity.

Dunlap is now busy rounding up a panel of judges.

LOGAN, W. Va. (AP)—Numb from nine days and nights of worry and mourning, relatives today prepared to bury the first of 16 men who suffocated from a mine fire.

Two men still were missing somewhere deep in Holden 22 mine. Families and rescue workers have given up hope they will be found alive, but work teams continued the search.

Finch Defendants Return To Court

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The defendants in the Finch murder trial return to court today for a round of arguments about the date of their second trial.

New accusations have been made about what went on in the jury room during the first trial. A Negro juror says there was racial friction. Another juror denies it.

Dr. R. Bernard Finch, 42, and his red-haired sweetheart, Carole Tregoti, 23, had been on trial for more than three months when the jury reported itself hopelessly deadlocked last Saturday. They are accused of murdering the doctor's wife, Barbara Jean, 36, last July 18.

The jury reportedly voted 10-2 to convict Dr. Finch and 8-4 to acquit Carole.

Carole's attorneys said they would offer pleas today to free her on bail, dismiss charges against her or grant her a separate trial. The prosecution has indicated it would oppose all three motions.

Juror Eddie Lindsey, 28, a postal worker, said it was he who threatened to throw a woman juror out the window. He said he did it because of racial insults he contended were cast at him by "at least two women jurors" during deliberations.

After the second day of deliberation, Lindsey said, two women jurors referred to him as "Sambo" and "Buster Brown."

Lindsey said one of the women jurors also called juror Debra Jaimet, a man of Mexican-American descent, a "Spic."

Lindsey said the racial slurs ended after he suggested "I might throw someone out the window."

Genevieve Lang, who charged that one of the two dissenters threatened to throw her out the window, said: "There was absolutely no racial prejudice shown by anyone. We all treated each other with respect."

The district attorney's office also will investigate a report that a male juror made immoral propositions in notes to two women jurors.

Firemen Advised On City Talks

AUSTIN (AP)—Representatives of Texas firemen Wednesday were told they should deal directly with city governments instead of asking the Legislature to improve their pay and working conditions.

The advice came during a meeting of Texas State Firemen's Assn. and Texas Municipal League leaders.

"It is one thing to come to Austin and ask the Legislature to take action which local governments themselves must raise the money to pay for," TML Executive Director Steve Matthews said.

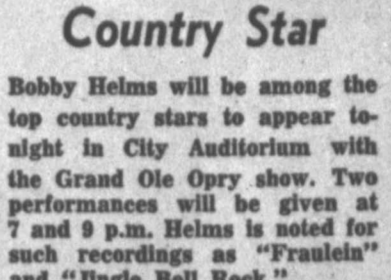

"It would be quite another thing, however, to come to Austin and ask the state officials to raise additional revenue to finance the increase in benefits for any one group," Matthews said.
