Award To The Top Man

2nd Lt. Orin I. Knutson displays the engraved silver "Commander's Trophy," which he received as top man of Class 60-F, to his wife, Joy.

No Substitute For Man, Speaker Tells Graduates

There is no substitute for man, the thinker, Col. Robert E. Kendig, told graduates of Class 60-F at Webb AFB here Monday evening. Col. Kendig, director of operations for the technical training center at Amarillo AFB, predicted that someday man would travel at the speed of light. This would be the equivalent of 7 1/2 times around the earth in one second. "I can't say how we shall do it; I only say that we shall," he declared. Col. Kendig addressed 50 members of the class and their friends and relatives from all parts of the nation. "Until we can find a suitable substitute for man—his brain being the equivalent of eight billion electronic tubes—there will be no other choice but to utilize him in manned space vehicles, on satellite stations and on launching platforms," said the speaker. All developments surrounding the complex space machinery are centered around man the pilot and man the navigator, he emphasized. Someday, he added, weather may be regulated from space stations. The graduation ceremony, which took place in the Base Chapel, was presided over by Webb's commander, Col. Donald W. Eisenhart, and was attended by graduates' friends and relatives who came from all over the country. Chaplain (Capt) Eugene M. Clemens gave the invocation and benediction, and Col. Charles H. Pierce, Pilot Training Group's commander, presented the diploma. Distinguished officer graduates of the class were 2nd Lt. Orin I. Knutson of Des Moines, Iowa; and Lt. Kenneth L. Atkins, Amarillo, and 2nd Lt. Brian H. Currie, Sacramento, Calif. Lt. Knutson was also winner of the "Commander's Trophy," awarded by Lt. Gen. James E. Briggs, commander of Air Training Command, for his overall rating flying training at Malden Air Base, Mo., and basic here at Webb. He leaves for Basic Instructor School at Craig AFB, Ala., and will return here to join the instructor staff in Pilot Training Group. Also picked for duty at this base, upon completion of BIS at Craig, are 2nd Lt. James W. Hurt III, Indianapolis, Ind.; and 1st Lt. Ronald E. Storz, Portsmouth, N. H. Some of the new pilots will crew up with B-47 outfits at McConnell AFB, Wichita, Kans.; some will receive advance interceptor training at Moody AFB, Valdosta, Ga.; or F-100 gunnery training at Luke AFB, Ariz.; while the rest will join C-130 units at Sewart AFB, Tenn., or at Evreux, France. Two Turkish Air Force officers are among the successful students—2nd Lt. Aydin Ustun and Ergin Celasin. U.S.A.F. officers of the class are: Capt. Thomas D. Erwin, 1st Lt.

Milton L. Bertrand Jr., Seth J. Butterfield, Daniel T. Grimes, John D. Montzingo, Clifford H. Rees Jr., Peter J. Sapatis, David E. Frazer, Don A. Lott, William J. Murphy, Robert H. Sturdevant, Bobby J. Ratledge, Ronald E. Storz. Second Lt. John R. Arlt, James F. Beaumaster, Gregory J. Fyten, Frederick J. Gardner, Glen P. Goffin, Ronald R. Green, James W. Hurt III, Joseph P. Johnson Jr., Norman C. Bauer, Jon C. Kahl, Charles T. Kochi, Ferdinand J. Luciano Jr., Phillip C. Montagano, Morris H. Reed III, Joseph M. Senyk, Jerry M. Swain, Marvin L. Trice Jr., Gary L. Alden, Kenneth L. Atkins, Jacob J. Caldwell Jr. Also Benjamin D. Crane, Daniel H. Craven, Brian H. Currie, Lowell G. Fathera, Jacob F. Goble, Lloyd S. Hedden Jr., James E. Northup, Wendell L. Springston, Darrell G. Hatcher, Mark J. Heller, Orin I. Knutson, Adam Krivosia Jr., Lee H. Lovejoy, Charles A. McComas, and Edward W. Wyatt. Three of the officers received their wings Friday morning in the wing commander's office and left Webb that day prior to the assignment exercises. Lt. Sapatis and Northup went to Sewart AFB, Nev., whence they will go later to Sewart AFB, Tenn., for training in C-130 aircraft. Lt. Senyk went to Castle AFB, Calif., for training in the KC-135 jet tanker school. Later he will report to Minto AFB, N. D., for permanent assignment.

CAB Begins Hearings, Will Publicize Cause Of Disaster

WILMINGTON, N. C. (AP)—The Civil Aeronautics Board prepared today to make public for the first time all the information it has gathered on the dynamite explosion that ripped an airliner apart near here last Jan. 6. Thirty-four persons were killed. CAB member G. Joseph Minetti, on hand to open a formal hearing on the tragedy, assembled a panel of seven safety investigators and engineers to report on their long weeks of exhaustive investigation. Primary interest lay in the many clues that point directly to a dynamite explosion near a seat occupied by a 32-year-old New York attorney, Julian Andrew Frank, whose life had been insured for more than one million dollars. After routine preliminaries, most of the new information is expected to come out Wednesday, when testimony will center on autopsies on Frank and the nature of particles removed from his body. The tenor of that evidence was indicated by CAB Chairman James R. Durrine in a Feb. 23 report to the Senate Aviation subcommittee. Durrine reported "evidence that a dynamite explosion, initiated electrically by a dry cell battery, occurred within the aircraft cabin in the vicinity of the seat occupied by Julian Frank." Some members of the inquiry panel have visited a hangar at Wilmington Airport in which wreckage of the airplane has been assembled and hung over a chicken wire frame in an amazing complete reconstruction of the wrecked airliner. A most noticeable feature of this mockup is a huge gap forward on the right side, where Frank was believed to be sitting. A large piece of the airplane wall still is missing. Other small pieces still are being recovered. The airliner pilot sent his last routine position report while he was 18,000 feet over Wilmington at 2:31 a.m. Jan. 6. Later investigations showed that over Kure Beach on the Atlantic coast south of Wilmington, the explosion tore out the plane's right front side and hurled out one body—that of Frank. The body was found three days later on the muddy bank of the Cape Fear River near Kure Beach. Parts of his legs were missing, as though he had stepped on a land mine. From Kure Beach the shattered plane took an agonized curving course inland for five minutes and crashed on a farm near Bolivia, N. C., almost 20 miles from Kure Beach.

Nabs Motorist

Mrs. Marie Cirle, 32, a New York City policewoman, and her husband, Sidney, a pilot, are shown in court after she captured a fleeing motorist. Mrs. Cirle, off duty at the time, pursued the motorist after his car sideswiped hers on the East River Drive and captured him after some gunfire and a three-mile chase. The driver, Romulo Aldomovar, 28, was charged with drunken driving, dangerous driving and leaving the scene of an accident. The Cirles are parents of a six-year-old girl.

Boycott Threat Looms Over Negro Protests

By The Associated Press. Convictions were coming faster than arrests in the eighth week of Negro sitdown demonstrations aimed primarily at segregated eating facilities and libraries. A number of courts had a backlog of cases as a result of the arrest of more than 1,000 Negroes since Feb. 1. Threat of boycott crept into statements of some Negro leaders while in the North picketing of variety stores appeared to be gaining strength. Thirty-seven Negroes were convicted of disorderly conduct in heavily guarded city court at Memphis, Tenn., Monday. Thirty-six were fined $25 each for staging a sitdown at a white public library and a Negro newspaper editor was fined $50 for talking to them.

BOYCOTT PLEDGED. Later a rally of about 2,000 Negroes pledged a twice-a-week boycott of Memphis stores, especially during the Easter shopping season. Eleven Negro students were arrested at Savannah during continuing sitdowns in that Georgia city.

W. W. Law, Georgia president of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People, called for a boycott of Savannah stores refusing to serve Negroes at lunch counters. Several Negro youths stood outside one store and asked Negroes to shop elsewhere. Negro leaders of the Petersburg (Va.) Improvement Assn. informed the management of a local variety store that unless lunch facilities were made available "without regard to racial identity" Negro patrons would be asked to stay away.

THREATENING NOTE. The Rev. Wyatt Walker, a Negro minister active in anti-segregation demonstrations at Petersburg, told police a bottle containing a threatening note smashed a window at his home Monday night. At Tallahassee, Fla., an official of the Congress of Racial Equality, said sitdown demonstrations would continue in that racially troubled city. But Len Holt of Norfolk, Va., did not set a date for the resumption of activities. At Hartford, Conn., the New England regional conference of the NAACP set Saturday as the day for peaceful demonstration picketing of New England variety stores. An official said the picketing would be followed next Monday by a boycott of the stores by Negro customers.

Attendant Held On Swastika Count

SAN BERNARDINO, Calif. (AP)—Police say it was an attendant at a state mental hospital who painted swastikas on San Bernardino's only synagogue. They said Robert E. Bowles, 24, also wrote "Rabbi Go Home" on the walls in incorrect German. Police arrested Bowles Monday after a two-month investigation. They said they found at his home a collection of hand-drawn swastikas, a German automatic pistol, Nazi war medals, photographs of German soldiers and a black shirt from a German Nazi uniform. Bowles was released on $1,500 bail pending arraignment on four counts of malicious mischief.

NTSC BAND DUE THURSDAY

Members of the North Texas State College band will arrive here Thursday between 4 p.m. and 4:30 p.m. Band Booster officials said today. Residents who have volunteered to have the musicians as guests in their homes overnight are asked to be on hand to meet them at that time at the Municipal Auditorium. The band is scheduled to present a benefit concert for the local bands at 8 p.m. Thursday at the auditorium.

Peacemaker Is Beaten, Slain By Teen-Age Gang

ARLINGTON, Mass. (AP)—A man attempting peacemaker's role was stabbed to death in this quiet Boston suburb Monday night as he sought to avert a clash between teen-age gangs. Police rounded up four youths in neighboring Watertown and said all admitted a part in the killing. Detectives sought six or eight more to be shown to witnesses in a police lineup. All those involved, including the slain man, are white. The victim was Franklin K. Theall, 26, an unmarried tree surgeon, left dying in a gutter 100 feet from his home. Police said Theall's death appeared to be the climax of a series of battles between a gang

CENSUS CONTEST ENTRIES ARE COMING IN; $100 TO WINNER

First entries were coming in today in the "How Big Is Big Spring" contest—a $100 prize affair connected with the 1960 federal census. Everybody (excepting only official census workers and employees of contest sponsors and their families) is urged to submit his own idea of the number of people in the Big Spring corporate city. The figure closest to the official census figure wins $100. Rules are simple: Submit your figures on a U.S. government postcard (no other form of mail will be accepted). Mail it to "How Big Is Big Spring" Contest, Box 1391, Big Spring. Deadline is a postmark of Sunday, April 10. In event of tie, earliest postmarked entry will be the winner. So, get your estimate in right away. Sponsors of the census check are The Herald, and Radio Stations KBST, KBYG and KHEM.

Benson Cites Beef In Freedom Views

AUSTIN (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson said today the cattle industry has shown—through its resistance to federal controls—that freedom for farmers pays the best dividends. In a talk prepared for the 83rd annual convention of the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Assn., Benson said it is far better for farmers to make adjustments in production than to depend upon the government to try to do it for them. "You can see that," he said, "when you compare your situation with that of producers struggling along under controls and price-fixing."

Sharp Drop In Stomach Cancer Noted

By FRANK CAREY, Associated Press Science Writer. WASHINGTON (AP)—A sharp and surprising drop in stomach cancer in the United States in recent years was reported today by the head of the government's National Cancer Institute. However, he said lung cancer has shown an offsetting increase. Dr. John R. Heller said stomach cancer is rapidly decreasing both in the number of cases and deaths for both men and women. The drop is "more spectacular in men because it was the greatest killer in men until one cancer is conquered." Heller said. "It has diminished in some areas to the point that it has been difficult for surgeons in some of our studies to find enough stomach cancer cases to run a complete series." "Offsetting this decrease in stomach cancer, and parenthetically we do not know why this decrease has occurred, has been an increase in lung cancer—a disease which has been increasing about as fast as stomach cancer has been decreasing," he said. "While overall, our cancer rate is slightly decreasing," Heller said. "This means that our survival rate—we speak of survival rates rather than cures—is modestly increasing." Research activities of his institute, Heller said, "have brought us substantially closer to the goal of full and effective control over this awesome threat to the health and welfare of people everywhere." He presented to the committee a statement prepared by officials of the National Cancer Chemotherapy program. "Within the past decade, the idea that cancer might one day be cured by drugs has changed from what might be called a scientific pipe dream to a targeted objective of medical research," the statement said.

Police Again Fire On Mobs

JOHANNESBURG (AP)—Police fired on Negro mobs today as rioting against South Africa's white supremacy laws broke out for the second consecutive day in the black Langa settlement near Cape Town. Langa is one of two districts where police Monday mowed down angry demonstrators, killing at least 64 and wounding 250. The other is Sharpeville, near here, where thousands of police, backed by armored cars, were reported enforcing an uneasy peace. The disorders in Langa erupted again as firemen fought blazes set by the rioters Monday. The firemen were fighting eight fires, two of them in churches, when rioters appeared and stoned them. Firemen had to retreat under the first attack but returned later under escort of police and armored cars. There also were reports of new rioting in the Nyanga West Negro settlement near Cape Town. There Africans tried to set fire to an electrical department building and police fired on them, reports said.

NEW CLASHES. Police reinforcements and armored cars rushed to the scene. The new clashes occurred as Negroes pressed their campaign for abolition of passes which the nationalist white government requires them to carry. Meanwhile the Johannesburg newspaper "Vaderland" published an unconfirmed report that 82 Negroes perished in the first day of rioting. It said many victims died in hospitals during the night. In both Sharpeville and Langa, 900 miles to the southeast, police opened up Monday with sub-machine guns and rifles, mowing down men, women and children. Jet planes and armored cars were thrown into action, scattering the demonstrators. There were no reports of any whites killed. Some Africans were said to have used guns in Langa, where several police were injured. The violence shocked the country and brought repercussions in Parliament, dominated by the Nationalist party which sponsors the apartheid (strict segregation) policy.

NO ORDERS TO FIRE. Prime Minister Hendryk Verwoerd said in a statement the police had not been ordered to open fire. He charged the main purpose of the Pan-African party was to go against the whites and declared they were prepared to commit "extreme deeds." South Africa's three million whites and many of her 10 million blacks kept their doors bolted Monday night. Many whites slept with guns under their pillows. Even the Pan-African sponsors of the anti-pass campaign were stunned by the violence. Their could appoint referees to hear complaints. The referee's findings would be the basis of court orders directing that qualified persons be allowed to register and vote. Backers contended the legislation authorizes the referee to see that the orders are carried out. The first of several Southern amendments to be disposed of would require that referees be versed in federal, state and local voting laws. Backers of the bill have shown they have the votes to beat amendments they consider crippling. One, to limit the referees' jurisdiction to elections in which federal officers were contested, lost by 20 votes Monday. An earlier version had been defeated by only three votes. The Senate planned a test vote on a voting rights plan combining two alternatives—the court referee procedure and a system of federal enrollment officers named by the President. This proposal, sponsored by Sen. Joseph S. Clark (D-Pa) and a dozen other senators, was debated Monday but a showdown was put off until today.

Arsonist Hunted In Frightened City

INDIO, Calif. (AP)—Special patrols moved through this fire-frightened desert city today as edgy citizens wondered where an elusive arsonist would throw his next next. There have been three major fires in six days and one estimate places damage at more than a million dollars. The third of the fires broke out Sunday in a movie theater, sending 50 patrons into the street. The theater roof later caved in. The City Council Monday declared a state of emergency—placing the fire and police departments on standby status—and asked Gov. Edmund G. Brown to make a similar declaration.

House Sets Vote On Referee Plan

WASHINGTON (AP)—While the Senate considered alternative plans, the House prepared for a final vote today on a proposal that court-appointed referees be authorized to help assure Negroes the right to vote. Action on that key provision would put the House in position to pass its civil rights bill Wednesday and send it to the Senate. Leaders of the three major House groups agreed the key vote would come late today, barring unforeseen delays. That opinion was expressed by Reps. Emanuel Celler (D-NY) of the Northern Democrats; William M. McCulloch (R-Ohio) of the Republicans supporting civil rights legislation; and Edwin E. Willis (D-La.) of the Southerners opposing passage of any civil rights bill. But Southerners still had pending several amendments to modify the referee proposal, which is essentially the one proposed by the Justice Department. Under it, a federal court which had found a pattern of discrimination in voting against Negroes or other minority group members

Shy Man Returns As Ceylon Leader

COLOMBO, Ceylon (AP)—A shy, unassuming man has returned to the job of Ceylon's prime minister, a post he once voluntarily resigned.

Dudley Shelton Senanayake became prime minister Monday after his United National party—UNP—won the largest bloc of seats in the Parliament. But it had only 50 of the 151 seats and will have to depend on support from other factions to govern.

The UNP is a moderately conservative group drawing its chief support from the business community and small landowners. It is dedicated to free enterprise but espouses some socialistic welfare programs.

"We don't like to be called a conservative party," says the 48-year-old prime minister. "Conservatism is a dirty word in underdeveloped Asia today. We prefer to be considered progressives."

The party generally supports the West in little island nation of almost 10 million persons should remain neutral in the struggle between the West and the Communist bloc.

The UNP was founded by Senanayake's father, another D. S. Senanayake, who was a leader in the movement for independence from Britain.

Dudley—many Ceylonese politicians are known by their first name—was born June 19, 1911. Although Buddhist, as are most Ceylonese, he attended a Protestant school in Colombo before going to Cambridge.

Dudley graduated with honors in natural sciences, then was admitted to the bar and returned to Ceylon to practice law. In 1936 he was named to a state council which exercised some powers of self-government.

He was minister of agriculture and lands under his father, who was independent Ceylon's first prime minister from 1948 to his death in 1952.

Dudley was offered the prime minister's job as an honor to his father. He accepted, but his heart never really seemed to be in it.

After public protests at the high price of rice led to violence in August 1953, Dudley resigned, pleading of stomach trouble. He was treated in England for a chronic amoebic illness. In 1956 he announced his retirement from politics.

Later that year the UNP was smashed at the polls. Another party leader, J. R. Jayewardene, was named to the new Cabinet and began rebuilding the party.

In 1957 Senanayake resumed party leadership and started preparing for the election last Saturday.

Despite his retiring nature, Dudley fought a hard political campaign. His speeches were full of fire and wrath, leavened by humor. Many Ceylonese felt he had at last grown out of his father's shadow.

Senanayake has never married, although his name has been linked with a number of women. He likes to spend his leisure listening to Western classical music or taking photographs. He is moderately wealthy from family rubber plantations and mining interests.

Brain Finds Old Axiom Has Truth

BALTIMORE (AP)—A Johns Hopkins University professor says there is scientific truth in the old proverb, "Two's company, three's a crowd."

When three persons are thrown together, two pair off in a closer relationship and the third is sort of left out in the cold, according to Dr. James S. Coleman, associate professor of social relations.

Dr. Coleman said an electronic brain determined this to be the case, even if all three persons are alike in personality and temperament. The machine didn't say why.

Mishap Near Snyder Is Fatal

SNYDER (AP)—Dewayne Derwood Carter of Gregory, died Monday when his car smashed into a house being towed on the highway.

Highway Patrolman Ivy Daniels said Carter pulled onto the road shoulder when a car in front of him slowed. Carter's car spun and smashed under the house. Carter was thrown from the car.

The accident happened 10 miles north of Snyder.

The truck pulling the house is owned by W. K. Bigham and Son of Snyder. Driver was C. H. Bigham.

Sam Makes History, But He's Skeptical Of Profit

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Shufflin' Sam is skeptical.

He is happy over the distinction of being the only person for whom the United States Supreme Court upset two $10 fines in a police court case.

"Well, yes and no," said Sam Thompson from his cell.

Sam currently is serving a six-month sentence on four other misdemeanor charges, so the news brought no immediate relief.

Besides, Sam allowed all this publicity might make him the target of future arrests, and Sam, who is 46, has had enough of that. He has been arrested more than 70 times in 22 years.

It was the one that happened Jan. 24, 1959, that caused all the stir.

Sam was doing a shuffle dance in the middle of a cafe floor while waiting for the bus. For no reason at all, to hear Sam tell it, the police hauled him in for loitering and, when he put up an argument, disorderly conduct.

Sam's lawyer took the case all the way to Washington, and the nine austere justices, intrigued over Sam and his shuffle dance, decided Monday there was no evidence to support the charges.

The fact that Sam Thompson was the subject of Supreme Court argument failed to impress Shufflin' Sam much.

When the case was first argued Sam was doing 30 days on a public drunkenness charge and couldn't have cared less.

He claimed the reason he was picked up in the cafe in the first place was because he had hired a lawyer to defend him on a previous rap instead of pleading guilty, like always.

This, he felt, made the police sore at him.

Sam fingered a sheaf of newspaper clippings sent to him from all over the country.

He decided to say nothing. It could make it worse, he indicated, all this notoriety. He believed he'd rather not have his picture taken.

Besides, he said, he needed a haircut.

LETTER

Ask Help For Paper Boys

DEAR EDITOR: Just how much does the public appreciate the paper boy? I can answer that: Not quite 50 percent of the customers. This letter is concerning the ones who like their paper on time no matter what kind of weather, but who have the boy come back time and time again because it isn't convenient to pay on time. Or maybe they get a couple or three weeks behind and then fuss because they are behind and then make nasty remarks and insinuate maybe the records aren't right.

Just as people depend on their paper to be delivered and put in the screen rain, sleet, snow or sand, paper boys have a right to depend on customers to be just as prompt, don't they?

Perhaps some don't know that the paper boy pays for his papers, but he can't get his money back, let alone make his profit, until his customers pay him.

Thank goodness they are many who give the boys a word of encouragement and thank them. This gives them the courage to go on and overlook the rest. Most of these boys come from Christian homes, and if they do make a mistake, it is an honest one. So please talk to them in the right spirit and they will be glad to correct their mistakes.

Rockefeller Warns Of False Choices

NEW YORK (AP)—Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller urges the nation to beware of false choices.

In the current issue of Foreign Affairs, a quarterly magazine, Rockefeller wrote that false political alternatives lead to false decisions.

"And I fear that we have often posed to ourselves just such false choices—as if our alternatives, for example, lay between negotiations and military strength, between the economic development of new nations and the fiscal stability of our own nation, between arms control and an armament program, between making commitments to other nations and preserving our own independence of action," he said.

"This, then, is probably our first task—to get the choices straight and not to confuse things complementary with things competitive."

Rockefeller last December took himself out of the race for the Republican presidential nomination. However, he said he would continue to speak on national and international issues.

The magazine described his article of more than 8,000 words as his most extensive discussion of world affairs "since entering active politics."

"Our grave danger in such a time is to fall into a purely defensive posture, a fending off of perils, a kind of fretful and hesitant sparring with history," Rockefeller continued.

"The risk is that a people can become so obsessed with what they are against—that they may fail to articulate—perhaps even to know—what they are for."

"Hundreds of millions of people clamor and fight for fulfillment of new needs and wants, from food to freedom. The great conflict of our time is not capitalism against communism, it is freedom against tyranny."

"The freedom we have inherited must be reclaimed, redefined, rewon and extended by each generation. We have sometimes acted as if we, as a nation, thought that a 'nominal state of world affairs' meant a static one, as if we imagined that all unheavals were temporary and each sporadic crisis called for an essentially technical response."

"Even our most creative acts—such as the Marshall Plan—tended to be undertaken in this spirit, suggesting that we imagined that, once the immediate need had been met, the world would return to some passive and accommodating state requiring no further creative effort on our part."

Discussing arms control, Rockefeller wrote: "An arms control scheme, to be really effective, should not be confined to the United States and the Soviet Union. It should include NATO, the countries of the Warsaw Pact and indeed the rest of the world. It cannot be effective without Communist China."

Texas Gaming Probe Planned

AMARILLO (AP)—The Texas House General Investigating Committee will begin Wednesday a probe of gambling in Potter and Randall counties, its chairman said.

Rep. H. J. Blanchard said the committee started Monday a check-up "a breakdown in law enforcement."

Blanchard said intelligence agents of the Department of Public Safety had subpoenas for 31 persons to appear before his group.

He said the committee wants to find out if there are any links between gamblers and peace officers in the counties and if such is the case testimony before the committee will be turned over to grand juries.

Subpoenaed were Curtis Travis, chief deputy in the Potter County sheriff's office and one of five candidates for sheriff; Dick Bufkin, another Potter deputy; Randall County Judge Joe Stevens; and Ruby Ferguson, Stevens' secretary at the Randall County Court House in Canyon.

Korean Vet Widows May Pass For Loans

A reminder has been issued by Ray Boren, contact representative at the Big Spring Veterans Administration Hospital, that the widow of a World War II or of a Korean Conflict veteran may be eligible for a GI loan if the veteran's death was service-connected.

The fact that deceased veterans might already have obtained a GI loan does not affect the widow's eligibility for one. However, if the widow herself is an eligible veteran, she accrues no additional GI loan rights because of her husband's death.

GI loan applications from such widows of World War II veterans must be filed by July 25, 1960. Korean conflict eligibility extends to Feb. 1, 1965.

THE LARK HAS BIG PERFORMANCE. Take your pick: hustling Six or 180 hp. V-8. Both famous for combining zip with outstanding gas economy.

THE LARK GIVES YOU BIG SAVINGS. The Lark has been proven to save up to 33% on fuel bills and up to 23% on maintenance (loads of saving facts on request).

THE LARK HAS BIG PROOF. More than a billion owner-driven miles. Proven also in over 1000 business and governmental fleets.

THE LARK HAS BIG VALUE. Official used car guides prove that The Lark consistently holds its value better than the average low-priced car.

THE LARK HAS THE BIGGEST SELECTION... unquestionably. Six stunning styles: 2- and 4-door sedans, 2- and 4-door station wagons, hardtop, convertible; two proven engines (V-8 or Six); three transmissions; seven axle ratios; optionals like Twin Traction, Hill-Holder, head rests, reclining seats—a list as long as your arm.

Honored For Heroic Act

Manuel Corral, 42-year-old farm worker from Juarez, Mexico, far left, holds Randy McKinley, 3, as he receives a Texas Baptist Foundation award from Carr P. Collins, right, at Dallas. Corral was honored for saving the boy's life after Randy fell into a 70-foot well. Corral was lowered head first into the well and pulled the boy to safety. In the center are the parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. McKinley of Dell City.

Chicago Chinatown Youth Behavior Laid To Family Life

CHICAGO (AP) — Unlike many other areas, Chinatown here has virtually no juvenile delinquency. Why? One answer is that Chinese children are instilled with a special sense of duty toward their parents.

It's a matter of family honor and pride to behave, and they do. "That's right," said Lt. John L. Sullivan, commander of police in the area.

Chinatown is just across the tracks from the Prairie Ave. police district. In the most recent listings of the Chicago Crime Commission, the Prairie district ranked first in rapes and third in murder, manslaughter and aggravated assaults among the city's 38 police divisions.

Such surroundings have had little influence on Chinatown. "If it's (delinquency) there, they're taking care of it themselves," said Capt. Michael J. Delaney, head of the Police Youth Bureau.

Chinatown, centering around 22nd and Wentworth on the South Side, is five blocks long and two blocks wide. It is crowded, well to wall, with two and three-story business buildings and apartment houses.

It's much like any other time-weathered big city neighborhood. There are stores, restaurants, Oriental trade agencies, laundries, two cocktail lounges, two funeral parlors and a scattering of clubs and lodges, including Chinatown Post 1003 of the American Legion.

There are two churches — one Protestant and one Roman Catholic — but no temple of any Asian faith.

The growing population of about 2,500 includes an estimated 800 children of teen-age and younger.

The congestion leaves little room for off-street recreation. There is a small playground on the property of the Chinese Christian Unity church, a religious center maintained by nine Protestant denominations.

The St. Therese Chinese Catholic Mission has a small library, a TV set, table tennis equipment

Texans Listed On Crop Loans

WASHINGTON (AP)—A number of Texas growers were included in a list made public Monday by Rep. William Avery (R-Kan) in a blast at the Commodity Credit Corp.'s loan method.

Avery placed in the Congressional Record a list of 1959 crop price-support loans of this nature totaling more than $50,000. He said his information came from the Agriculture Department. The amounts shown, Avery said, represented loans made, without regard to whether they have been repaid or will be repaid before maturity.

The Texas loans included:

Grain sorghums: Massey and Harper, Robstown, $137,207; Guetersloh Ranch, Plains, $56,788; Clarence Martin, Friona, $55,850; Bert Williams, Farwell, $52,366; and Fred Fegel, Amarillo, $51,805.

Rice: E. J. Steoesser, Dayton, $125,438; Koop Bros., Edna, $116,300; Chocolate Bayou Rice and Canal Co., Alvin, $78,019; L. Ranch Duncan and Cory, Ganada, $75,234; A. L. Clark, G. A. Jennings, B. B. McCarn, Port Lavaca, $55,994; Golden Rod Corp., El Campo, $55,077; N and M Farms, Anahuac, $53,243; and Dugat Bros., Winnie, $51,535.

Wheat: Thomas Moran, Dumas, $219,327; Mrs. M. W. McClay and Sons, Morse, $63,373; C. J. Kuper, Delhart, $56,285; Claude Johnson, Delhart, $52,017; and John Bergner, Stinnett, $51,612.

$25,000 Bond

LAREDO (AP)—Bond of $25,000 was set Monday for Kenneth Ray Lawson, 32, Tennessee prison fugitive who was arrested in Mexico City and handed over to FBI agents here.

Westex Firms Win National Brands Promotion Awards

Two West Texas business institutions which serve Big Spring have been honored with a coveted retail award, the title of "Brand Name Retailer-of-the-Year" for 1959.

These are Pinkie's Liquor Stores, in the alcoholic beverage category, and Furr's Inc. in the food stores category. Both topped all other finalists in the 12th annual competition for the title, awarded each year under sponsorship of Brand Names

Foundation Inc., of New York City.

Another West Texas enterprise, Grammer-Murphy of Midland, won a runnerup Certificate of Distinction in the specialty stores category.

Winners were advised this week by Henry E. Abl, president of the Foundation, who congratulated the stores for outstanding presentation of manufacturers' brands during 1959.

Representative of the firms will accept the awards at a dinner honoring the nation's leading merchants to be held at the Waldorf-Astoria on May 6. More than 1,500 business and civic leaders are expected to attend the function, a climax of the nation-wide observance of Brand Names Week.

Firms receiving the awards were chosen by a panel of judges composed of top award winners in the prior year's competition. Decisions were made primarily on the firms' 1959 brand advertising and promotional campaigns, as well as their education of customer and personnel about the basic policy of featuring manufacturers' advertised brands.

A number of other Texas firms were cited with Certificates of Distinction. These included: Building materials dealers, AA Lumber Co., of Waco; Drug stores, Mading Drug Stores Co., of Houston; Farm equipment dealers, Sherry-Barbee Implement Co., Weslaco; Food stores, Tom Thumb Stores, Inc., Dallas; Men's wear stores, Rodney's of Houston.

Schoolgirl Flabbergasted By Niki's Reply To Letter

NEW YORK (AP) — The most flabbergasted girl in town is Gail Bartley, 14.

She has a 200-word cablegram from Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev, wishing her and her 2,000 schoolmates "best health, success in your studying and happiness in your lives."

It was delivered by the Soviet information chief at the United Nations, Nicolai I. Borouov.

Last December the student yearbook editors at Bronx Junior High School 142 got up a list of famous men whose greetings on the theme "reverence for life" they wanted to print.

Besides Khrushchev, the names included President Eisenhower, British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan, Prime Minister Nehru of India, Israeli Premier Ben-Gurion, New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller and Dr. Albert Schweitzer.

Gail drew Khrushchev's name, spent three days composing her request and figured she'd be the last to get a reply if she got one at all.

So far, Khrushchev is the only one to reply in person.

Early last month Borouov showed up at the school, met Gail, had a tour, ate lunch and left.

He came back with the message from his boss.

"I'm flabbergasted," exclaimed Gail, a Negro, Monday. "I didn't really expect a reply. Maybe from his office, but not from him directly."

This is what the Soviet leader's message said:

"Dear American school children:

"On receiving your letter I was moved deeply. I thank you for your greetings and in my turn I wish you best health, success in your study and happiness in your lives.

"You say in your letter that about 2,000 boys and girls of various nationalities and faiths study at your school. I hope this doesn't prevent you from studying together, playing together and singing songs merrily. I would like you to know that in our country people of many nationalities live and work together joyfully and happily. They are united in their aspiration to live in peace and friendship with all the people throughout the world.

"Our country, the Soviet Union, is doing its best to enable the children of all lands to live, grow up, study and play happily and to let all the people on earth work in peace without giving a single thought to the threat of a new war, without fear for your future.

"I wish that you and the whole rising generation of America as well would learn what war is like from history books only, without ever seeing it with your own eyes. Once again I wish you much happiness and a (sic) very good luck."

Hampred Jury Indicts Weatherman

BENTON, Ky. (AP)—The Marshall County grand jury, hampered in its investigations earlier this month by record breaking snows, has indicted the weatherman.

In a true bill signed by Commonwealth's Atty., James M. Lassiter, the jurors accused weatherman John Doe of "maliciously visiting upon Marshall County a blizzard of monumental proportions."

Cotillion Club In Costume Dance

Monday evening at Cosden Country Club, beatniks could be seen dancing with Indian maidens, while Victorian ladies cavorted with scarecrows. It was the costume dance given by the Cotillion Club for members and their guests.

Responsible for the arrangements was the "tribe of Cherry-Keys," all of whom wore Indian dress with a cherry and a key added around their necks.

Members of the tribe included the Paul Shaffers, the Bill Neals, the Toots Mansfields, the Milton Talbots, the Daryle Hohertzes, the Bob Johnsons, the Jim Bill Littles, the Bill Simses, the Ken Perrys, the Jerrie Curries, the E. H. Bouliouss Jr., and the Kimball Guthries.

Prizes awarded for the best costumes went to Mrs. Jack Little for her period dress and to John Taylor, who came as a scarecrow. The best-costumed couple prize went to the Pete Harmonsons, who were attired as beatniks.

'ROUND TOWN

With Lucille Pickle

It won't be long before all the peach trees in town take on the appearance of pink popcorn. The warm days are bringing out the best in plant life. The willows have the soft green on their switches that give the illusion of a lovely ball of swaying tulle.

Speaking of pink, the lady with the pink hair at the Pink Tea Saturday was quite a sight. Most of us being so concerned with just keeping a semblance of natural color in our somewhat faded hair just couldn't look upon such a creation without a certain sense of shock. Try to picture a social outing some evening with the ladies with hair of pink, blue, green, purple or chartreuse. I can only think of the expression "Lawy, how gaudy!"

Such gorgeous gathering of hats and dresses the guests displayed! Two of the most beautiful hats there were worn by good friends, one of whom had purchased hers here, and the other was bought in Austin. They met face to face with identical hats and were good enough sports and friends to get a good laugh. They also sat on the same bench at church, which shows they both have good taste.

MRS. GENE FLETCHER, so pretty in a pink cotton lace frock with a perky starched peplum, looks more like her six children's sister than their mother. MRS. WADE CHOATE who was also in the houseparty, wore a pink chiffon that was attached to the back neck and continued to the hemline. It was belted at the waist.

Sailor hats, one dressy and worn straight on the head, the other with a ribbon down the back and perched on the back of the head were worn by MRS. FELIX JARRETT and MRS. HAROLD CANNING. Mrs. Jarrett's had a wider brim and was trimmed with the popular brown band; it was worn straight. The black shiny straw of Mrs. Canning's chapeaux had a more narrow brim. Both were perfect styles for their wearers.

Pretty PENNY FRAZIER came with her mother, MRS. BRUCE FRAZIER, and her younger sister. The resemblance of Penny to her aunt, MRS. DAVID BARLOW (Cornelia Frazier) is outstanding.

A happy trio was made up of three sisters, MRS. DELAINE CRAWFORD, MRS. ELMER TARBOR and MRS. RALPH GOSSETT. Other attractive sisters were two of the hostesses, MRS. DUVAL WILEY and MRS. MARY WRIGHT who don't look like sisters at all.

A suggestion for improvement in the parker of the S.T.B. at the college. Drape the upper windows against the afternoon sun. There gets to be an area during the late afternoon when no one can face the west if standing where the sun shines in.

Wednesday is the 25th anniversary of the marriage of MR. AND MRS. H. A. DAVIE, 1107 N. Gregg but their daughter, MRS. DOUGLAS KOHOUT, Mr. Kohout and little granddaughter, Tana Kay, planned a party for them Saturday night. The affair, held at the Davie home was an informal gathering of relatives and close friends.

MR. AND MRS. ROBERT STRIPLING are in Oklahoma City on a business trip. The CLYDE ANGELS have returned from a flying trip to Houston to visit the ROBERT ANGELS.

MR. AND MRS. A. M. RIPPES have received word of the promotion of their son, James L. Rippes, Lee's Summit, Mo., to the rating of electronics engineer with the U. S. Weather Bureau. He is engaged in bureau construction work throughout the Midwest.

There's probably a great deal of fizzing around going on in the household of MR. AND MRS. HENRY FEHLER, 404 Benton. Their children, the CARL MENZINGS, whom they haven't seen in three years, called Sunday evening that they had arrived in Seattle, Wash., after a tour of duty in Alaska.

S.Sgt. and Mrs. Menzing and their two children, Rickey and Debra Kay, will be guests in the Fehler home this weekend on their way to Charleston, S. C., where he will be stationed.

Study Sessions Held By Baptist Circles

Members of the First Baptist WMS met in homes for study among various circles on Monday morning.

LUCILLE REAGAN
Mrs. B. T. Faulkner discussed training in leadership for the members of the Lucille Reagan Circle when they met in the home of Mrs. Horace Reagan. She also read the missionary list and offered a prayer for those listed. Five were present.

MOLLIE HARLAN
The Mollie Harlan Circle met in the home of Mrs. G. J. Couch for a two-chapter review from the book, "The Bible and Prayer" by R. G. Lee. Mrs. J. C. Pickle brought the review.

Mrs. Lee Jenkins opened the session with prayer; Mrs. V. W. Pugaar gave the devotion. The month's project for April is to assist a needy family, it was decided by the six present.

JOHNNIE O'BRIEN
Two new members, Mrs. C. S. Berryhill and Mrs. J. W. Stewart, were welcomed into the Johnnie O'Brien Circle, Monday morning in the home of Mrs. F. W. Bettie. Mrs. W. B. Younger offered a prayer for the missionaries on the birthday calendar. Mrs. J. T. Earhart brought a devotion on the topic, "Missions."

Work of the Baptist church in Brazil was described by Mrs. C. H. Yater, who was in close contact with the activity during her residence in that country.

Mrs. Dean Dixon reported on the work of the Y.W.A. and Mrs. J. E. Brown reviewed the activities of the circle along lines of community missions. Dismissal was by Mrs. C. O. Hitt; the hostess served refreshments to 12. Mrs. Brown, 1606 Wood, will be hostess to the circle on April 11.

Third Study Held By Wesleyans

Third in the series of studies on "Lake's Portrait of Christ" was held Monday evening by the Martha Wesleyan Service Guild of the First Methodist Church.

Mrs. Lina Flewellen gave the devotion on "The Beatitudes" with responses by Mrs. Ruby Rowe. Director of the study, Mrs. Bert Affleck, discussed "Christ and the Kingdom" while Mrs. W. E. Moren told of "Healing and Forgiveness."

Mrs. John V. Cherry's topic was "Citizens of the Kingdom." This developed into a general discussion of present-day conditions.

The concluding subject, "Coin of the Realm," was given by Mrs. Affleck.

As benediction the 29 attending repeated the prayer, Discipleship. Mrs. Alice Riggs and Mrs. N. M. McCleskey served refreshments at the intermission.

A membership contest dinner will be held April 1 in the home of Mrs. C. Meeks. The winning side of the contest, led by Mrs. L. D. Chrane, will be guests of the losing side, led by Mrs. Herbert Johnson Jr.

Plans were made by the group for delegates to attend the District 11 convention in Tahoka, Saturday.

The capsule prize was won by Mrs. Coy Nalley. Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. L. D. Chrane and Mrs. Melvin Choate.

tary, and Mrs. Melvin Ritter, corresponding secretary.

The treasurer is Mrs. Betty Price; delegates to the sorority council are Mrs. Ray Pipes and Mrs. Darel Highley.

A program was presented on nature study, with gardening as the principal topic; Mrs. Charles Weaver was the speaker.

Plans were discussed for the sorority's fund-raising project, which is the Suzari Marionette Show; it is to be presented on April 8 at 4 and 8 p.m. in the city auditorium. The play will be "Aladdin and The Wonderful Lamp."

Tickets are priced at 50 cents for children and 99 cents for adults. Proceeds will go into the fund for the Society for Crippled Children and Adults and also to the Gonzales Warm Springs Foundation.

Eleven were present for the meeting; Mrs. Pipes, 1605 Kentucky Way, will be hostess for the session on April 4, it was announced.

Sixth Birthday Is Noted With Party

Nine little guests attended a party on Friday afternoon given in honor of Susan Balzer on the occasion of her sixth birthday anniversary. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Balzer, 1900 S. Monticello.

Favors were small Easter chickens and Easter eggs; games were played and movies were taken of the activities.

The birthday cake was made around a doll and was fashioned to represent a ballerina's skirt.

Cox, Hat In Ring, Calls For School Sales Tax

HOUSTON (AP)—Governatorial candidate Jack Cox unveiled his plan for a temporary two per cent sales tax for public schools Monday night after receiving former Gov. Allan Shivers' warm, personal endorsement.

The ex-state representative from Breckenridge proposed the Legislature adopt the tax on a two-year basis. Then, he said, the public should vote on a Constitutional Amendment and say whether it should remain permanent.

Shivers, breaking his three-year political silence, introduced Cox at the fund-raising dinner. He said Cox had "the intelligence to make sound decisions and the character to act upon them."

Cox, former executive secretary of Freedom in Action, is Gov. Price Daniel's lone opponent. Daniel's organization is committed to a moderate or middle-of-the-road course.

Shivers spoke out strongly against what he called "moderation" in his warm praise of Cox. The former governor retired after setting a record in his length of time in the office.

GOOD FRIEND
He called Cox "one of my best friends, personal and political" and said the candidate "will stand up and fight for what he believes."

Shivers did not mention Daniel, with whom he has often been aligned as a conservative, by name. "To have Allan Shivers introduce me and in such a warm and encouraging way is a high honor, indeed," Cox replied.

"I am glad this great man and former great governor is willing to stand up and be counted with Jack Cox. There is no other man

I would rather have on my side." Cox told the rally his tax plan would relieve the state general fund and bring out a balanced budget. He was sharply critical of Daniel's financing programs which he said would "continue to prove inadequate."

Supplementary needs of the state's public schools, including a pay raise for teachers, will call for up to 300 million dollars, he said. "In my opinion, the proposed educational improvement tax will do the job."

DON'T WANT TO PAY
"Price Daniel and the labor bosses who have endorsed him claim the people of Texas don't want to pay for educating their children. I think they are wrong," Cox continued.

Daniel, he said, has defaulted in his role of leadership in state administration, legislation and party affairs. "I charge that Price Daniel is playing a game of political football with the future of Texas—and that the school teachers are the football."

Shivers told the crowd Texas Democrats should line up along liberal-conservative lines and not "mingle haphazardly in a gaseous, foggy, all-pervading cloud of moderation."

Daniel's policies follow those of U.S. Sen. Lyndon Johnson, whose "moderates" whipped Shivers conservatives in a battle for control of the Texas delegation to the Democratic National Convention in 1956. The latter two long have been at odds.

"I have asked him (Cox) to do a great many things for me" in the 15 years they have been acquainted, Shivers said. "He has always done them. If no other reason existed, I would support Jack Cox for governor out of sheer personal gratitude."

LEARN ISSUES
Shivers said he did not encourage Cox to run but that "Jack Cox can win this race if enough Texans are given the opportunity to learn the issues."

"I believe in voting for the best man, whatever his chances. I believe it is better to make a fight for principles in which you believe, and lose, than to let the race go by default," Shivers continued.

Cox, he said, is an "enlightened conservative... who believes with all his heart in free enterprise as distinguished from socialism... in individual responsibility as in keeping government close to home as contrasted with centralizing control."

Cox said that in advocating a sales tax "I suppose I am proving once and for all that I am not a professional politician. But neither am I a demagogue."

A Mynah Difficulty

Justice of the Peace Bill Richburg, center, orates while an audience of three listens in his Dallas court. James M. Guynes, left, claimed that the unnamed Mynah bird, center in cage, he bought from pet shop operator Woody Gibson, right, wouldn't talk. Gibson countered that the bird was not properly cared for by Guynes, who asked for his $50 back. The case ended when Gibson agreed to buy the bird back for $75. And the Mynah bird just screamed and screeched.

Vatican TV Show Had Long List Of Red Tape To Be Cut

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television - Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—The easiest part of getting the first TV cameras inside the Vatican's Sistine Chapel was obtaining permission.

Alan Neuman, producer of "Person to Person," thought many Americans would appreciate a look at the chapel with its famed Michelangelo murals. But he knew that the interior had rarely — never successfully — been filmed because of a ban on the use of heavy lighting.

He figured modern TV tape cameras could do without brilliant lighting. He also decided that Lent would be an appropriate time for the program to visit Archbishop Martin J. O'Connor, rector of the North American College there and a resident of Vatican City.

One telephone call to Archbishop O'Connor, followed by an explanatory letter won unprecedented permission for the visit.

His problems started, however, when the "Person to Person" crew arrived in Rome to tape the show.

"We thought we'd lost the show the night before we were scheduled to start shooting," recalls Neuman. "A monsignor said we couldn't go into the chapel because a small maintenance committee insisted there was a regulation in Vatican City that required only its own electric power to be used. We must use our own power because we use so much of it."

With the archbishop's help, the problem was ironed out. Then they had the problem of adding some light to the dim chapel.

"We were not permitted to string lights all over — we were only allowed to light the chapel from one side," Neuman says. "That regulation about stringing lights stems from a danger of marring the paintings."

They had troubles, too, with various Vatican authorities as they rumbled in with trucks and Norval Crews will be alto saxophone soloist for the concert by the NTSC Band scheduled here Thursday evening. He is a senior music education major and a graduate of Waxahachie High School. He has played alto saxophone for 12 years and has also studied clarinet, flute, and trumpet. Crews also serves as a student teacher for alto saxophone classes at NTSC and gives private instruction. He is a member of the NTSC Marching and Concert Bands and Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia fraternity.

started stringing cables around and over buildings.

"We had to square things with endless committees, with the Swiss Guards, with plainclothesmen, with the fire department, sanitation department, the water, gas and electric departments," Neuman says. "But we did the show."

The 30-minute program, which visits the archbishop in his residence and then takes viewers on a tour of the Papal City, will be shown April 1 on CBS.

Recommended tonight: Playhouse 90, CBS, 8-9:30—"The Hiding Place," World War II story with James Mason, Trevor Howard and Richard Basehart; "Dear Arthur," NBC, 8:30-9:30—adaptation of a Molnar comedy with Rex Harrison and Sarah Marshall; Arthur Murray Party for Bob Hope, NBC, 9:30-10—second part of the star-studded "roast" of the comedian.

Author Is Smoke Victim

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Best-selling author Tom T. Chamales, 35, due to appear in court Monday to answer charges that he beat his wife, singer Helen O'Connell, died Sunday in a violent end to a violent life.

He died in his smoke-filled apartment despite a desperate effort to find his way to safety. Firemen said he was asphyxiated while trying to escape. Smudged hand-prints on the wall showed where he had sought to feel his way to a door or window.

Miss O'Connell was in a state of shock after she was told the news.

Survival Course Offered Explorers

More than 50 Explorers are to participate in a survival course being offered at Webb AFB.

Lt. Clarence Webb is the Explorer project officer for the three sessions which will be held Wednesday, then on March 30 and April 6. The fourth and final part of the course is a bivouac on some remote spot on April 9-10 when Explorers will be on their own.

Mrs. Dean Philpott, working mother, tells how phones often save three hours a day for her family

MRS. DEAN PHILPOTT

Mrs. Dean Philpott leads a busy life managing her home, raising two children and working at a full-time job.

How does she find the time to do it all? She relies on her telephones. She was not surprised to find that she and her family used their two phones 62 times in a week. "If all our calls had to be made in personal visits, we'd probably waste three hours a day in driving time alone," she says.

A glance at the calls on a typical Saturday, a day off for Mrs. Philpott, shows she and her family are getting the most out of their phones. Are you?

DEAR ABBY

SAME OLD GRIND

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Please tell GRINDER'S WIFE she is not alone. I married one of those grinders 18 years ago and he is still grinding. I'll never forget the first pair of hand-embroidered pillow cases I ever owned. They had the nicest little crocheted edges on them. In one week my husband had chewed all the crocheted work off the pillow cases.

I later found out that all his sweetness, kindness and generosity was just an act. He was really mean, selfish and stubborn. And he showed it in his sleep by grinding his teeth. One of these nights I'm going to knock his teeth out.

"GRINDER'S WIFE NUMBER TWO"

DEAR ABBY: I was surprised when I read in your column that a woman signed "Grinder's Wife" asked what could be done about a husband who had been grinding his teeth in his sleep, and you replied, "Nothing... get used to the same old grind."

Abby, that condition is commonly known as bruxism and can be corrected by a competent dentist. An appliance is made to fit over the teeth and will eliminate the grinding. It is worn at night only. A.F.H. (D.S.S.)

DEAR ABBY: My wife used to grind her teeth in her sleep and it just about drove me buggy. When I'd tell her about it in the morning, she'd say I was crazy. I finally went to the sports equipment store and bought one of those mouthguards like the boxers and football players use. I got her to wear it one night. In the morning it was all chewed up. That settled it! Now I don't let her in bed until she puts that mouth guard in her month. This has improved our marriage 100 per cent. THE WINNER

DEAR ABBY: I used to grind my teeth at night and here's how I cured myself. I'd put a piece of tough penny bubble gum in my mouth at bedtime. I'd chew and chew and chew. Guess I just tired my jaws out. Anyway, after a while I quit grinding. EX-GRINDER

DEAR ABBY: Teeth grinding is just a habit. When my husband used to grind his teeth in his sleep, I'd give him a good poke in the ribs. He'd wake up and

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Sports dialogue: ZORA POLLEY, the heavyweight boxer: "My name makes me somewhat uncomfortable at times. It sounds like a cross between a sideshow and the name of a crazy inventor, but it's mine and I have to live with it."

ALLIE REYNOLDS, former New York Yankee mound great: "When Jackie Robinson tagged me for a home run in the World Series one year, I brooded about it all winter. I couldn't understand it. I'd thrown a slider and placed it exactly where I wanted. He'd hit a homer off a perfect pitch and that bothered me. Then I ran into Bobby Morgan and we got to talking. He asked me if I didn't realize that Jackie hits a breaking pitcher better than anyone in the National League. I filed that away in the back of my mind."

JACK KRAMER, former tennis great: "There's only one way to beat Pancho Gonzales. You must get the first serve on his backhand and keep volleying back to his backhand until you get a chance to put the ball away. This means, of course, that you must have a good second serve to maintain the pressure if you miss the first. He's going to kill all the weaker. Then, maybe you could slip a passing shot by him. It's sort of like a fighter going five or six rounds without doing anything, just trying to slow down his opponent for the kill. Pancho Segura understands this strategy in beating Gonzales, but it backfires on him, and Gonzales wears him down instead."

DICK CULLUM, Minneapolis writer: "Incident by incident, the evidence piles up that there is a movement toward de-emphasis of football in the Big Ten. This reflects a faculty attitude. Perhaps, however, some of the blame should go to those who have nudged the faculties into this attitude."

DARRELL ROYAL, University of Texas football coach: "I don't believe there's any No. 1 team in collegiate football. There are usually four or five teams in the country that are superior. I don't believe you can pick THE best. I'm inclined to think Mississippi was a better team than Syracuse last year, though. I'm pretty familiar with those Mississippi teams. They beat me both times when I was at Mississippi State, then they ravaged Texas in the Sugar Bowl two years ago. I know the kind of material they've got, and I know they do a tremendous coaching job. So when they beat us, they about convinced me they're the best."

RALPH METCALF, former sprint champion: "Temperament is so important. To be a champion, a man must almost be an egotist . . . to respond to the challenge of a record."

COACH ELLIS CLARY, heckling a slow-moving rookie in the spring camp of the Washington Senators: "I've seen horses move faster than you."

HAPPY CHANDLER, former big league baseball commissioner: "Ford Frick is just the man they want for commissioner. They can tell him exactly what to do. They couldn't tell me. Frick and George Trautman are more interested in their jobs than baseball."

STEER LINKSTERS LOSE TO MIDLAND: Midland's Bulldogs shaded the Big Spring Steers in a dual golf meet played at Webb AFB here Monday afternoon. The four-man Midland team used up 165 strokes over the nine holes. Big Spring went around in 170. Par for the course is 37. Bill Munn of the visitors was medalist for the day, with a 39. Newell and Chase each had 41 while Burleson came in with a 44.

STEER LINKSTERS LOSE TO MIDLAND: Big Spring while Richard Atkins wound up with a 43 and Ronnie Carlson a 45. The Steers go to Lamesa for a triangular meet involving Lamesa and Snyder at 3 p.m. Wednesday. On Friday, the locals will be in Snyder for a four-way match, involving Snyder, Lamesa and Sweetwater as the other teams. The Steers were playing their first match under their new coach, Bernard Rains, Monday. He succeeded Mitchell Malouf, who has left the Big Spring school system.

Bayer Winner In St. Pete Links Playoff

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)—George Bayer, who believes in letting the chips fall where they may, saw a four-footer drop into the cup in the sudden death playoff of the St. Petersburg Open Golf Tournament, and is $2,000 richer today.

The Glenegles, Ill., pro tied with Jack Fleck of Los Angeles at 282 at the end of 72 holes Monday.

On the first extra hole, Fleck put his third shot a foot from the pin for an easy par four, but it wasn't good enough as Bayer sent his chip bouncing and rolling into the cup for a birdie.

Williams Bombed Into Oblivion

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Sonny Liston bombed Cleveland Williams into oblivion in the second round Monday night and immediately looked around for another bout—this one with Roy Harris—"because we got to keep busy until we get the big shot."

The powerful Negro from Philadelphia just about wrote "finis" on the career of Williams, the Houston heavyweight contender, when he looped a high left hook followed by a crushing right that sent Williams down for an 8-count.

Liston was on Williams as soon as the Houston fighter regained his feet. A flurry of rights sent Williams to his knees and as Cleveland tried to struggle back to his feet once more, referee Ernie Taylor stopped the fight. It was 2:13 of the second round.

Liston weighed 212½ pounds, Williams 215½. Liston gained his 27th victory in 28 pro fights with 21 knockouts in a row, and he felt he was entitled to a shot at the world's heavyweight championship. His manager, Pepe Parone, said "We'll fight anybody until we get to (Ingemar) Johansson."

Abilene Here For Net Tilt

The Big Spring High School girls' volleyball team can clinch another trip to the State Tournament by defeating Abilene in District 2-AAAA action here tonight.

B teams of the two schools play at 6:30 p.m. while the regulars take the court an hour later.

In the previous meeting between the two teams, played in Abilene, the Steerettes won a 30-25 decision.

Overall, the Big Spring team—which is coached by Bernice Waggoner—has won 13 while losing five times.

One of the brighter spots in the Steerette lineup has been Gloria Greenwood, promoted from the B team not long ago.

Since her advancement, Gloria has made all-tournament teams in the Queen B meet at Odessa, the Big Spring tourney and an invitational at Lamesa.

Miss Waggoner takes her Steerettes to Seminole for a practice game on Friday.

Greasy Neale Is Nominated For Grid Hall

By HUGH FULLERTON JR. Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW BRUNSWICK, N.J. (AP)—Earl (Greasy) Neale, a versatile athlete who once combined major league baseball playing with college football coaching, has been nominated to football's Hall of Fame both as a player and a coach.

Neale, now retired, was one of 61 former players and eight former coaches listed as nominees Tuesday by the National Football Foundation and Hall of Fame.

From these nominations, made by foundation members, nine will be chosen by the 12-man honors court for Hall of Fame membership. They will be inducted at an awards dinner next December, joining 172 players and coaches previously elected.

Neale is the only man nominated in both categories. He played end for West Virginia Wesleyan 1908 to 1910, dropping into the backfield to kick or run from a fake kick formation.

He coached at Marietta, Washington and Jefferson, West Virginia, West Virginia Wesleyan, Virginia and Yale. Then he went with the professionals and coached the Philadelphia Eagles for ten seasons.

An all-around college athlete, Neale joined the Cincinnati Reds as an outfielder in 1916 and played with that club until 1924, except for 22 games with the Phillies in 1921. He was on the Cincinnati team that beat Chicago in the 1919 World Series — the year of the "Black Sox" scandal — and made ten hits in that series.

Other coaches nominated were Lou Little of Georgetown and Columbia, the late Charles W. Caldwell Jr., of Williams and Princeton, the late Jess B. Hawley of Iowa and Dartmouth, Don Faurot, who coached at Kirksville (Mo.) Teachers, Jacksonville Navy, Iowa Pre-Flight and Missouri before becoming Missouri athletic director. George E. Gauthier of Michigan State and Ohio Wesleyan; Lombe Scott Homaker of Maryland, Southwestern University, Baldwin-Wallace and Lincoln College, and Preston (Putty) Overall of Tennessee Tech.

To be eligible for election to the Hall of Fame, a coach must have been retired three years before his nomination and a player must have played his last college game ten years before.

Brown went to a hospital where it was found that he had a "fractured costal cartilage," which, an attending physician said, was "the same as a broken rib."

Brown will be out of action for at least one month and "probably for several more," the hospital said.

It was the first fight Brown lost in 16 months. He last took a licking from Johnny Busso Nov. 5, 1958, but that, too, was an over-weight match.

Brown weighed 136½ pounds, Portilla, 141. A crowd of 1,623 paid $3,350.

Dimming Lights May Tip Need For Wiring Check

Have you ever flicked a light switch and nothing happened? And after checking the bulb, then the fuse box, the light still wouldn't burn?

Then your home needs a check of its electrical wiring. This important part of your home is faulty to be treated lightly, as faulty wiring can start a fire that could completely destroy the house.

Trouble shooting is a specialty of Albert Pettus and his expert electricians. No matter what may seem to be wrong with your wiring, Pettus and his men can root out the difficulty and restore your electrical wiring to a safe condition.

Pettus' office is located at 201 Benton and he is available at all times to answer your needs. The day number is AM 4-4189 and the night number is AM 4-6795. This convenient service is designed to be available whenever you may need it.

Pettus can handle all types of industrial, commercial and residential wiring. His shop also requires magnetos, generators and starters.

And all his work is backed by years of experience. This experience, in turn, is backed up by modern equipment and a complete stock of electrical supplies.

Each of these things are necessary for a complete and safe wiring job in your home or business. Remember the address and tele-

Another Service

Still another quality service you can get at Phillips Tire Company is tire recapping. Jesus Ramirez Jr., left, and Charlie Rodriguez, manager of the recapping department, are both experienced in this specialized field. When Phillips recaps, thousands of miles are added to the life of a tire.

Solved — Carpet Cleaning Problem

Science finally has the answer to carpet cleaning. Blue Lustre, a new development, is mixed with water and brushed into carpet or upholstery. It's amazing the way forgotten colors spring out. The nap is left open and lofty. It's easy to apply. One-half gallon of Blue Lustre cleans three 9x12 rugs. Available at Big Spring Hardware, 115 Main St.

SPEAKERS WITH THEIR COACH, BEDFORD FORREST
Nelson Clemow, Dorothy Wheeler, Lynda Morton, Jim Skinner

Student Speakers Present Talks Before Toastmasters

Toastmasters got a close-up of their ultimate successors Monday evening and had praise for what they heard.
Four high school students participated in a speech contest before the Toastmasters Club with Lynda Morton, speaking on "Young America," and Jim Skinner, speaking on "Impairment of America," nosing out Dorothy Wheeler and Nelson Clemow. Miss Wheeler spoke on "Portrait of America" and Nelson on "Boy Scouts of America."

They were coached by Bedford Forrest, high school speech instructor. Judges were George D. Larson, V. A. Whittington, Bill Schlect, Adrian Randall, Lindsey Marchbanks, Ed Fisher. The critics were Andrews R. M. Clark, Roy Thurston, and Glenn Hancock.
Dr. R. B. G. Cowper was the topic master for the evening. The contest was purely a local affair to afford the students speaking opportunity and the Toastmasters an opportunity to hear young speakers.

Network Drops Confession Policy

NEW YORK (AP)—CBS is dropping its new policy of saying when canned laughter or applause is used on its television programs.
The policy was adopted three months ago as part of a broad network revision that followed the quiz show scandals.
John H. Ream, CBS vice president in charge of program practices, said Monday the network believes that everyone now knows that audience approval can be artificially provided and it is unnecessary to say when it is used.

Commissioners Lay Out Road Program

Howard County Commissioners Monday tentatively outlined plans to build a 21 1/2 miles of paved county road in 1960.

The roads recommended by the commissioners are subject to further study and possibly some revision.

Meantime, Walter Parks, county engineer, has been given the list and will make a study of it. He will report to the commission on any special problems which may develop.

At a later meeting, the commissioners indicated they would formally adopt a schedule of road work for the year.

Each commissioner submitted a list of roads which he recommended be paved this year. This is in accord with a plan adopted several years ago under which the county has endeavored to set up and build approximately 20 miles of paved county road each year. In 1959, Parks said the county crews built 19 1/2 miles of road.

L. J. Davidson, commissioner from Pct. No. 4, asked that the following roads be slated:

Four miles of road on County Road 56, connecting FM 1584 and FM 609. This road would go west from Gay Hill. It would require widening to 80 feet.

Hudson Landers, commissioner from Pct. No. 3 asked for:

Extension of Silver Heels road south to County Road 20, one half mile; east on County Road 20, one half mile; one and a half miles on County Road 23 from U.S. 90 south to Wagon Road; two miles on County Road 25 south from Elbow School at FM 818 to FM 33.

One mile on County Road 14 from the Lomax store and west to connect with FM 818.

Ralph White, commissioner from Pct. No. 2 asked:

Extension of Stanolind road, beginning two miles east of Coahoma south on U.S. 90 for 1 1/2 miles; one mile on County Road 20, beginning at end of Birdwell Lane and extending south; County Road 20, going east from Silver Heels extension for 1 1/2 miles; one-quarter mile from FM 820 west to new school site and on to paved road south of old school in Coahoma.

P. O. Hughes, commissioner Pct. 3 asked:

Three and one-half miles on County Roads 60 and 23, beginning at the northwest edge of the county and going east from Lamesa Highway 2 1/2 miles and then extending for a mile south on FM 1785; three miles of road (to connect with the Fairview pavement) beginning at north end of Moore road paving, going one mile north, one mile west and a mile north.

Jack Smith Is Co-Chairman For Hospital Volunteers

Jack Y. Smith, president of the Big Spring State Hospital Volunteers Council, has been named co-chairman of the Volunteer Service Council for Texas State Hospitals and Special Schools.

He will be the co-chairman in charge of the mental hospital volunteer councils.

The election was announced at a meeting of the council in Austin last weekend. Mrs. Frank O. Hamilton, Dallas, was named general chairman.

Also attending from here were Mrs. Ira Thurman, coordinator of volunteer services, and her associate, Mrs. H. D. Beck. Mrs. Thurman and Mrs. Beck attended additional sessions for the coordinators.

Volunteer council members in Texas brought 140,000 hours of donated services, not to mention thousands of dollars in cash and impressive amounts of clothing and other materials. Mrs. Malcolm R. Gregory, Austin, pointed out that the time given was the equivalent of 63 years of full-time employment for an individual. The volunteers numbered 22,000 and represented 7,200 groups. There is no actual count on the membership of the organizations from which the volunteers came, but Mrs. Gregory estimated it at more than 2,000,000. Although by no means all of these are involved directly in the program, the impact of this many people knowing even indirectly about the work of the hospitals can have incalculable value, she said.

James A. Giddings, assistant executive director of the Texas State Hospitals and Special Schools board, was moderator of the sessions held at Austin. A featured speaker was Dr. C. J. Ruitmann, director of the mental hospitals and health.

You Can't Wish Yourself Well

By HALVARD T. HANSEN, D.C.
Many of us are half sick and half well nearly all the time, grunting along with headaches and wishing for health.

Our newspaper headlines tell us about a famous suicide. Reason — ill health.

One reason you do not read about, but which is found in practically every case of "ill health" is "disheartened confusion." The average sufferer has been diagnosed, treated or operated, and steered from one specialist to another, only to find out that as one ailment is patched up, trouble starts somewhere else. It is both confusing and disheartening when you have spent your money and time on differing opinions and differing drugs in a diligent effort to regain your health, yet nothing seems to help.

Life becomes miserable! Things lose their importance! You lose all faith in all doctors! It is difficult to be a good wife, mother, father, husband, son, daughter or grandparent when one is sick and miserable.

We can't get our message of hope through to all discouraged sick folks, but within a few there remains a small spark of courage that flames into action when they see or hear our message.

Does it give you courage to learn that a retired registered nurse, past sixty, after coming to the Hansen Chiropractic Clinic recovered from headaches, indigestion, constipation, shoulder bursitis, and traces of arthritis that she had been suffering for years. No. 1643.

Perhaps the dramatic and grateful recovery of excruciating pain from a slipped disc and sciatic leg pains experienced by a father in his late thirties, after coming to the Hansen Chiropractic Clinic, will encourage you. No. 1581.

Or, perhaps the rapid recovery of an infant brought to us suffering pitifully from an acute food rash practically all over her tiny body, or maybe the little six and seven year old brother and sister that recovered almost overnight from severe tonsillitis and high temperature, or the equally complete recovery of a nine year old boy from frequent colds, fever, nervousness, asthma, headaches, and leg pains will excite you into action.

Hundreds of records in our files are proof positive evidence that sick people get well under chiropractic care — many times after other methods have failed.

Chiropractic may be your answer, too. You can't wish yourself well. Why don't you take your friends' advice and investigate now. Delay makes any condition worse. Besides, what can you lose except ill health?

Mrs. Amos Takes VN Instructor Training Course

Mrs. Johnnie Chaney Amos, course coordinator at Howard County Junior College, was among 38 nurses who last weekend completed a two-week course for instructors of vocational nurses given at The University of Texas. The workshop was designed to improve the teaching skills of nurse instructors and training coordinators in the licensed voca-ational nurse training program of Texas.

By attending classes all day and doing homework at night the students compressed into two weeks such courses as human relations for supervisors, effective supervisory communications, methods of teaching, coordination of vocational nurse training, problems in organization and management and in the philosophy of vocational education, development of advanced visual aids and instructional materials, and development and use of visual aids.

There were three different levels of course work, and the students attended three workshops to complete all the course. Students actually presented lessons, organized material to be used in classes, and developed and produced training aids.

Mrs. Amos is instructor for the vocational nurses course at Howard County Junior College.

On Honor Roll

Kelsay R. Meek, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. Meek of Big Spring, was listed on the Trinity University Honor Roll for the fall semester. Students must secure a minimum of 30 quality points (A-3, B-2, C-1) to qualify. A junior government major, Kelsay is currently serving as assistant attorney general for the student government.
