U.S.-Cuban Relations Low, Not Hopeless

HAVANA (AP)—Foreign Minister Raul Roa said Thursday night that U.S.-Cuban relations have reached a critical point but that the Castro regime is still willing to negotiate for an end to differences between the two governments. Roa, in a television address, repeated a previous statement that negotiations with the United States would have to be based on mutual respect and U.S. recognition of Cuba's sovereignty. However, he did not repeat Cuba's previous demand that, before negotiations, the United States must guarantee to take no action harmful to the Cuban economy. The United States rejected that condition, which obviously was intended to forestall any cut in U.S. purchases of Cuban sugar at premium prices. Whether Prime Minister Fidel Castro's government has abandoned this requirement for negotiations was not clear. Roa said his government is willing to discuss all aspects of the problems between the two countries "without reservations of any kind." He denied reports published in the United States that Cuba had shown no serious desire to negotiate since the return to Havana of U.S. Ambassador Philip Bonsal last Sunday. Roa said he and Bonsal discussed Cuban-American relations at their one meeting since the envoy returned. The minister blamed U.S. officials and newspapers for the state of Cuban-American relations. He read a string of anti-Cuban remarks by U.S. congressmen and other public figures and specifically denied charges by Secretary of State Christian A. Herter and Allen W. Dulles, head of the Central Intelligence Agency, that there is Communist influence in Cuba.

Experts Think Next Recession Won't Come Before Year 1961

By STERLING F. GREEN WASHINGTON (AP)—The next recession won't come before 1961 at the earliest, government economists predicted today. Officials reported privately that national output in this quarter has reached the rate of about 50 billion dollars a year, the largest gain in any quarter since 1950. This was an advance estimate of the actual figure, but officials said the preliminary studies indicate the final report won't be far off the half-trillion dollar mark, one way or the other. This would represent an advance of roughly 16 1/2 billion dollars since the last quarter of 1959, when the economy was still beset by the steel strike and its after effects. The gain, largest since the outbreak of the Korean War, was accomplished without price inflation and in the face of a February slowdown in steel and auto production. Much of the first quarter gain was attributed to industry's race to replace inventories depleted during the 115-day steel shutdown which ended early in November. This inventory replacement took less time than was expected and a slower rate of accumulation is expected from now on. Nevertheless, continued gradual production gains through the year were foreseen by government experts interviewed privately. They did not share the uncertainty in financial circles which has been reflected in recent stock market slumps and a rapid easing of credit. The government analysts are relying on a substantial rise in industry's outlays for new plants, machinery and equipment to keep the economy expanding. Corporations have notified the Commerce Department and Securities and Exchange Commission of plans to increase such outlays this year by 14 per cent over 1959. The rate in the second half of the year is scheduled to reach a record 38 billion dollars annually. Some officials believe it will go higher. They think expansion and modernization outlays may rise to a rate of 39 or even 40 billion dollars annually by fall. This buying force may diminish in 1961, as the companies taper off their expansion outlays to let demand catch up with their new capacity. Then would be the time to look for a recession, one highly placed official said. But as for 1960, he continued, "a recession is conceivable this year only if the automobile industry goes sour." The Washington economists profess to be unworried by the recent sharp slumps in stock prices, the simultaneous rise in prices of government bonds, the general easing of credit and the decline of interest rates. Although these are symptoms which frequently have indicated that business expects a recession, the government men found three explanations which they consider sufficient to account for the shift in business psychology. The first is the indication of price stability, discouraging market speculation. The second is that the government, running a good budget surplus, is paying off debt instead of borrowing new money, thus leaving substantial amounts of private funds seeking other investments. The third is that corporation profits are breaking records. Companies therefore can finance their plant and equipment expansion very largely by using retained earnings instead of borrowing for that purpose.

THIS DAY IN TEXAS

By CURTIS BISHOP

On this day in 1935 the State of Texas finally held undisputed title to the ground occupied by its capitol and other state buildings.

For on the previous day the 39th Legislature had inserted an item in its appropriation bill, and had speedily approved it, providing for payment of claims brought by Mrs.

Kate Chambers Sturgis and Mrs. Stella J. MacGregor. They were the only children and heirs at law of General Thomas Jefferson Chambers.

Payment of these claims ended the litigation against the state because of conflicting land grants in Austin.

The Chambers claim was based upon an eight-league grant made to him by the State of Coahuila-Texas. The town of Waterloo had been founded in innocent contradiction of Chambers claim and the Republic of Texas had purchased the Burleson claims. Reportedly Chambers secured his claim for serving as judge of a court which never met.

Mac May Ask Ike For Pact On Arms

WASHINGTON (AP)—British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan is expected to urge President Eisenhower to agree to a modified version of the Soviet proposal for banning nuclear weapons tests. Macmillan, who will meet with Eisenhower next week, is understood to favor a time limit of about two years on the proposed moratorium on small underground tests. Eisenhower administration leaders, in contrast to the British view, have so far decided only that the United States should not flatly reject the Soviet plan, it is understood. A major difficulty facing the President in his forthcoming talks with Macmillan is that some of his chief advisers on the Defense Department and the Atomic Energy Commission feel another series of underground nuclear weapons tests must be held some time in the relatively near future, perhaps late this fall. Agreement on any moratorium would bar such tests. Macmillan is due in Washington late Saturday for probably two days of talks with Eisenhower beginning Monday. They may be held here or at Camp David, the President's Catocin Mountain retreat, or at his Gettysburg farm. The best informed authorities here believe that Eisenhower and Macmillan may spend much of their time, together with their advisers, in trying to figure out some kind of reply to the Soviet proposal which would be acceptable to both the Western Powers and positive in dealing with the question of a prohibition on nuclear tests. The Soviet proposition was put before Britain and the United States in three-power talks at Geneva. These talks have been under way since the fall of 1958. Until February they were aimed at producing a treaty which would prohibit all testing of atomic weapons with a system of inspection to prevent cheating.

Bundy Charges Churches With 'Smear Campaign'

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—Maj. Edgar C. Bundy Thursday night charged the National Council of Churches with a smear campaign against himself and others who have spoken out about what he called Communist infiltration of the churches. Bundy cited articles by J. Edgar Hoover, head of the FBI, inflating of Communist plans to infiltrate churches. He also cited testimony of Herbert Philbrick, former FBI agent who posed as a Communist, before investigating committees. The speaker told of a 1959 Southern Presbyterian church, U.S., pamphlet which he said stated a person could be a member, or officer, of the church and belong to the Communist party without harming his church position.

He said Edwin T. Dahlberg, NCC president, wrote a preface to a book written by a man Bundy said "has had 118 front organizations follow his name." He drew scores of "amen" comments from the audience when he said he wanted to "pay tribute to Homer Hyde," the civilian employe at Lackland Air Force Base, San Antonio, who wrote a manual charging Communists have infiltrated America's churches. The Air Force has withdrawn the manual. Hyde's manual was "one of the greatest services for the country in 30 years." The NCC's attack on the manual was the "cry of a guilty conscience," Bundy said. Bundy criticized Dr. Eugene Blake, past president of the National Council of Churches, for involving the man second in command of the Russian Orthodox Church to the United States. He said a group of NCC officials went to Russia as guests of the same Russian leader. Bundy cited articles by J. Edgar Hoover, head of the FBI, inflating of Communist plans to infiltrate churches. He also cited testimony of Herbert Philbrick, former FBI agent who posed as a Communist, before investigating committees. The speaker told of a 1959 Southern Presbyterian church, U.S., pamphlet which he said stated a person could be a member, or officer, of the church and belong to the Communist party without harming his church position.

Sharp Heels Spike Prom

LOUISIA Va. (AP)—Those sharp little heels the girls wear these days are threatening to wreck the junior-senior prom at Louisa County High School. Principal W. D. Meredith and the faculty ruled the girls can't wear such heels at the prom in the gymnasium. They dent the floor. All right, said the girls, kicking up their heels—we won't go to the prom. Meredith, hard put to visualize a girl-less prom, took his knotty problem to the school board Thursday. The board walked skittishly around the issue. Exercise "due diligence" in care of the gym floor, said the board. That's all. Board Chairman J. C. Whitlock said in his view "the big question is how women stand up on those heels. If they can stand the shoes, I don't think we should have any objection to their wearing them. Perplexed, Meredith said he and the faculty would study the question again next Thursday.

White Men Freed In Rape Of Negro

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Three former policemen are free today after a white male jury acquitted them of charges they raped a Negro woman. The state called for death penalty for Anthony Saitamacchia Jr., 23, Ronald Raymond, 23, and Peter Callan, 29. All are white.

Southern Senators Seek To Revise Rights Section

WASHINGTON (AP)—Southern senators appeared today to be banking on revising one section of the House-passed civil rights bill and thus delaying its passage indefinitely. This hope was pointed up by Sen. Richard B. Russell (D-Ga.) as senators at the other end of the scale in the civil rights battle vowed to try to strengthen the House measure. Indications were, however, that leaders of both parties looked to a majority of the Senate to accept the Senate bill passed by the House Thursday by a vote of 311-109. A trimmed-down version of the Eisenhower administration's civil rights program, it provides in its key section for court-appointed referees to prevent discrimination against Negroes seeking to vote. Atty. Gen. William P. Rogers said enactment of the House bill "would represent an historic step forward in the efforts of the United States to make constitutional guarantees fully effective for all citizens in all areas of our country." If the House bill is passed by the Senate without change, it will go directly to President Eisenhower for his approval. Should the Senate adopt any amendments, the measure would have to go back to the House. This would give Southern opponents there, particularly on the pivotal House Rules Committee, a chance to block any action for weeks or even months. After receiving the House bill Thursday, the Senate voted 86-5 to refer it to its Judiciary Committee for consideration, but fixed a Tuesday midnight deadline for its return to the Senate. The action was taken on motion of Majority Leader Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex.) after the Senate rejected, 72-19, a move by Sen. James O. Eastland (D-Miss.) to send the bill to the committee without any deadline. The committee will meet Monday, but there was no indication what action, if any, it will take on the bill at that time. Meanwhile the Senate put aside the broader civil rights legislation it had been working on since Feb. 15 and started clearing out a logjam of appropriation bills and other measures before returning to civil rights on Wednesday. Russell, leader of the Southern senators fighting the legislation, said they will attempt to modify the House bill and expressed doubt it would be accepted by the Senate without change. He referred particularly to a section which would make it a federal crime to interfere by force or threats with court orders against school segregation. The Senate, in acting on a virtually identical section of its own bill, voted 68-19 on March 11 to make such interference with any court orders a crime. Then the

HOLLYWOOD BEAUTY

Her Problem Is One Many Would Like

By LYDIA LANE
HOLLYWOOD actress Marilyn Lovell believes that it is harder to gain weight than to reduce. "It's not becoming to me to be too thin, but I have trouble gaining. I don't like to eat a lot, and my favorite foods are not fattening, so every once in a while when I drop below 115, I have to put myself on an eat-more diet."

We were chatting on the "Tight-rope" set, and one of the players, hearing us, laughed and said, "How can you call that a problem?"

"But it is," Marilyn protested. "I take dancing lessons every day and I'm very energetic. I suppose I just burn up everything I eat."

"I think a sweet tooth is a matter of environment," she went on. "My father didn't have one, so we never had any fancy desserts — just fruit and cheese."

"Another problem I had was my height," Marilyn confessed. "When I was 13, I shot up to 5-foot-8. I was the tallest girl in my class and taller than most of the boys. It gave me a complex. I really was very self-conscious about my height until I met my husband. I'm taller than he is but he is in the least concerned about it. He feels that it is a matter of insecurity that keeps a man from dating a tall girl. He has made me realize that if the inches don't bother me, they won't bother a well-adjusted man.

"When I look back on it, I suffered unnecessarily," Marilyn declared. "If fate hands you something you can't change, you might as well learn to live with it."

"You have to concentrate on those things that develop your personality and your individuality. Someone once told me, 'Don't worry about competition because no one can beat you at being yourself.'"

"And I think that's very wise advice," Marilyn observed. "A lot of people are frightened by competition in business or social life. They try to imitate someone who is successful or look like someone they admire. They would go further if they would work at being themselves."

NEED TO GAIN WEIGHT?
As Marilyn Lovell points out, it's sometimes a struggle to keep from getting too thin. Often it's harder to gain weight than lose it. To help you with this problem is Leaflet M-10, "So You Want to Gain Weight." In it are six days of high-calorie menus and a seven-point program for relaxing. For your copy of this important leaflet, send only 10 cents and a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Lydia Lane, Hollywood Beauty, Big Spring Herald.

"Altrusa, Yesterday and Today" was discussed for members of the Altrusa Club at their luncheon meeting Thursday at Wesley Methodist Church.

Mrs. Hart Phillips brought the club a review of the history of the organization, telling members that the 43rd anniversary of the founding will be celebrated this year. She discussed the goals and purposes of the club and explained the three keys to good club membership.

Celtics Win, 119-117; Await Playoff Finals

By The Associated Press
History didn't repeat itself. The Boston Celtics won the National Basketball's Assn.'s Eastern Division playoffs in six games instead of the seven it took them last year, and the Minneapolis Lakers failed to eliminate St. Louis in the Western playoffs in six games as they did a year ago. The Celtics nipped Philadelphia 119-117 Thursday night and won the best-of-seven finals in six games. St. Louis forced the Lakers to a seventh game with a 117-96 victory. Last year, Boston had to go the limit beforeouncing Syracuse while the Lakers surprised everyone by eliminating St. Louis, the Western champs. The surprises ended there when Boston won the NBA title in four games.

Tom Heinsohn's tip-in shot in the final nine seconds broke a 117-all tie for Boston's victory Thursday night. Bill Sharran, held to only 10 points, got his last two just prior to Heinsohn's winner to tie the score after fouls by Wilt Chamberlain and Paul Arizin had sent the Warriors ahead. Two missed fouls by Guy Rodgers helped Boston gain possession of the ball and go for the winning basket.

Bill Russell led Boston's balanced attack with 25 points while Heinsohn had 22. Rodgers paced all scorers with 31 and Warrior teammates Willie Sauberry and Chamberlain each had 26.

THREE TEAMS TIED SC Swimmer Sets 200-Yard Record

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Lance Larson, the Southern California swimmer, had shown his wares with a record-smashing 200-yard individual medley and Michigan, Yale and Southern California were tied for first place as the NCAA swimming meet entered its second day.

Larson, the tall blond who cuts through the water like a sword fish, carved out a 2:03.2 in winning the individual medley by three lengths Thursday night. It smashed the existing meet, American and NCAA records by a wide margin. The American and NCAA records were 2:06.5, set by Tony Harrison of Michigan last year. The meet record was 2:06.7, set by George Harrison of Stanford in 1959.

DEAR ABBY NEEDS BRAIN WASH

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I hope you can help with this problem because it is getting me down.

My husband and I have been married going on 20 years. In all that time he has had only two baths. Once when he was injured on the job and they bathed him while he was unconscious in the hospital. And the other time when he was inducted into the Army. The last bath was in 1944.

Abby, our marriage is beginning to suffer. I can't sleep with him any more and I am tired of fighting with him. The children have complained, too. He dresses immaculately and changes his underwear regularly, but he is very dirty underneath. Can you suggest something?

GIVING UP
DEAR GIVING: A man who must be rendered unconscious or forced by law in order to be bathed is indeed sick upstairs. He can change his underwear all he wants, but it is his brain that needs washing.

DEAR ABBY: I recently learned that my husband's sister has been writing to him at his place of business instead of at his home. I know of no good reason for this. I always felt that I was on good terms with her. My husband does not know this. (A woman who works in his office told me.) Should I ignore it, or demand an explanation?

PUZZLED
DEAR PUZZLED: Speak to your husband about it. And be sure to tell him who told you. Every man should know who the troublemaker in his office is.

DEAR ABBY: What is your opinion of a hostess who will invite people to dinner and put out her good china dishes for the adults but for the children she puts out chipped and cracked dishes not fit for dogs to eat from? This is my sister-in-law.

She says she got her good china dishes on sale and that the pattern was discontinued, so if anything happened to them she could not replace them. The dishes my children (4 and 7) must eat from are so chipped and cracked I'm afraid they'll get glass in their food.

My husband says for me to quit griping and to bring my own dishes for the children. Do you think it would hurt my sister-in-law's feelings?

WONDERING
DEAR WONDERING: Bring your own dishes. Don't worry about hurt feelings. Anyone as insensitive as your sister-in-law seems to be wouldn't know the difference.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "ON THE FENCE": If you're thinking about divorce, don't advertise it. Many people go through with a divorce only because they are ashamed to eat their own words.

"What's your problem?" Write to Abby in care of The Big Spring Herald. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

For Abby's pamphlet, "What Every Teen-ager Wants to Know," send 25 cents and a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope in care of The Big Spring Herald.

Order Of Nuns Going Modern

PITTSBURGH (AP) — A new Pittsburgh order of nuns is going modern—in dress.

The Order of the Byzantine Catholic Sisters of Christ the Teacher will be founded Sunday when four young nuns will take their vows of poverty, chastity and obedience.

The sisters will wear a navy blue two-piece suit with a flared skirt, white blouse, tailored coat, pill-box style hat, pump-style shoes and dark gloves.

This modern dress will be distinguished by an emblem of their order on the coat, jacket or hat—a white cross with the Greek words "Icxc Nika"—Jesus Christ Conquers.

The sisters will be the first nuns of modern garb of the Byzantine Catholic Church. The new order will be comprised of Sisters Matthew, the former Julia Kastura of Detroit, Mich.; Mark, the former Eleanor Haisness of Wilkes-Barre, Pa.; Luke, the former Julia Hopko of Mahoney City, Pa.; and John, the former Helen Semon of New York City.

CAPT. PAUL E. SMATHERS

Capt. Smathers Joins 331st

Capt. Paul E. Smathers, formerly a flight commander at Egan Air Force Base, Va., has been made a commander of the B flight with the 331st Fighter Interceptor Squadron at Webb AFB.

He came here after the 37th FIS disbanded. Capt. Smathers has a record of 220 hours in the F-102 Delta Dagger, which stands him in good stead during the transition by the 331st from F86's to the 102s. He also has 1,016 hours flying time in other craft.

Capt. Smathers studied industrial engineering at North Carolina State College where he received a regular Air Force commission upon his graduation as a distinguished AFROTC cadet in 1952. After receiving his pilot's wings in December 1953, he went to advanced gunnery school at Nellis AFB, Nev. He also acquired Air Training Command experience for three years prior to May 1957 during which time he was an instructor at now-inactivated Greenville AFB, Miss., where officers underwent basic flying training as they do at Webb.

Subsequently, Capt. Smathers gained overseas experience in fighter-bomber tactics with the 69th Fighter Bomber Squadron at Osan, Korea, where he flew the F-86F for one year. In May 1958 he was reassigned to Egan Air Force Base where he has been for the last year and a half.

He gained experience in all-terrain intercept tactics in the F-102. Capt. Smathers, a native of Canton, N. C., where his parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. Delaney Smathers, live at 122 Piggab Drive. Mrs. Smathers is the former L. Margaret Howard, Knoxville, Tenn., and with their son, Paul Edwin, they reside at 21 Albrook.

Correction!

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex. (AP)—Frank Joseph Fletcher Jr., said Wednesday the information listed on his new driver's license is not correct.

His name is not Frank J. G184325 Jr. The expiration date is not 3-8-6, his weight is not 5 pounds, the color of his hair is not 3, his eyes are not 795, and his sex is not 4.

Fletcher said he plans to send the license back to the Department of Public Safety and request a new one. It seems the machine that automatically prints the information on the license was out of order at the time his was printed.

Newsman, City Officials Set College Meet

AUSTIN (AP)—Newspapermen and city officials meet here Monday and Tuesday for the first Public Affairs Reporting Conference sponsored by the Texas University School of Journalism.

Luckman now is director of the Bunker Hill renewal program for downtown Los Angeles.

The conference is devoted to problems Texas cities can expect if the state's population grows by another two million or more people in the next 10 years as the Census Bureau predicts.

Also on the program will be Joseph Timan, Tucson, Ariz., president of Horizon Land Co. The company owns 107,000 acres of pasture near El Paso and has announced plans to start construction of a new "Horizon City" this year. The development would be Texas' first planned city and could house a million people, Timan said.

More than 60 persons have signed up for the conference. Luckman will address a joint banquet of conference delegates, Central Texas architects, and Austin businessmen Monday night in the Stephen F. Austin Hotel.

Dr. Dewitt C. Reddick, director of the school, said the conference will provide a background for future sessions devoted to Texas problems and the role of newspapers in providing community understanding.

Newsmen to take part in the conference include: Robert M. Jackson, Corpus Christi Caller-Times; Bill Reddell, San Antonio Express and News; Robert Akers, Beaumont Enterprise and Journal; Staley McBrayer, Grand Prairie Daily News-Texas; C. A. Schulz, Temple Telegram; Tommy Thompson, Amarillo Globe Times; Ed Hunter, San Angelo Standard-Times; Bill Do-

Housewives Urged To Report Social Security Taxes

The Odessa social security office reported Friday that many housewives are not reporting household help for social security purposes.

"As little as $4 per week in cash earnings total more than $80 a quarter and should be reported to the Director of Internal Revenue," manager H. P. Thomas said.

Thomas explained that reporting is easier than many housewives think. Upon request, Internal Revenue Service mails a report form each calendar quarter as a reminder. The report has the form of an envelope. The housewife enters the worker's name, social security number and total cash earnings. She puts a check or money order in the pocket to cover the social security tax and mails the sealed envelope to the address already printed on it.

The tax rate for 1959 was 2 1/2 per cent for employe and 2 1/2 per cent for employer. This rate increased to 3 per cent on Jan. 1, 1960.

No detailed bookkeeping is required. The fact that a household worker is also reported by another employer makes no difference in reporting responsibility.

der an arrangement whereby the men can earn a modest amount of spending money. This helps them to take a trip home or supplement the family budget, explained Carlton Carr, chief of special services at the hospital.

Carr praised the Poppy Stamp program, now in its second year, as helping to bolster the funds for rehabilitation work for veterans or their survivors. In addition, it has considerable therapeutic value to the patients.

The Poppy Stamp project was instituted last year with academy students doing the bulk of the work. This year the entire mailing of 100,000 pieces (which meant handling 400,000 items) has been done by hospitalized veterans throughout the state.

The program here was under the direction of Mrs. H. D. Bruton, American Legion Auxiliary representative, with Mrs. Carl L. Flock, Odessa, coordinating the work schedule. Mrs. J. A. Lakeman, El Paso, state supervisor of the project, installed the program here last January and returns each month for consultation and supervision.

Let-Down Chart Gadget Attracts Wide Interest

Webb is receiving Air Force-wide recognition as a result of a let-down chart holder designed by Capt. G. W. Vaughn, engineering officer of the 3561st Flight Line Maintenance Squadron.

Capt. Vaughn made the new gadget as an aid to pilots landing during cross-country flights. The new device gained attention when an article written by Maj. A. A. Adair of M&S Group, appeared in the current issue of Flying Safety Magazine, a national publication.

Since then letters have come from as far away as Japan requesting samples of the new holder.

Lt. Gen. James E. Briggs, ATC's commander, heads a list of interested Air Force individuals as he flew to Webb recently and picked up one for himself. Transient pilots (many of them colonels) have asked for plans to take back with them to SAC, TAC and ADC bases.

So far, letters have been received from Headquarters Command, USAF; Andrews AFB, Wash. D. C.; Sacramento Air Materiel Area, Calif.; Tyndall AFB, Fla.; Fairchild AFB, Wash.; and Tachikawa AFB, Japan.

Capt. Vaughn's let-down chart holder is mounted to the canopy rail of T-33 aircraft, and appears feasible for other types of aircraft. This enables the pilot to select the required page in the let-down book, mount it before starting his flight, and set it in place before reaching his check point or destination.

Easily detachable from its mount on the railing, the chart assembly does not block any essential instrument from the pilot's view. The oxygen blinker and pressure gauge are not entirely visible, Maj. Adair explains in the magazine article, but they can easily be seen if the pilot leans slightly forward.

Landings can be made with the holder in place, without any difficulty, and it does not hinder ejection. If the pilot should hit it during ejection, the whole assembly would fall easily out of the way.

Now using the let-down chart holders on their T-Birds are the commanding general of ATC, Webb's wing commander, the commander of Lackland AFB, and the commander of M&S Group at Webb.

DONNA WARREN NEW SPELLING CHAMPION OF DAWSON COUNTY

LAMESA—It took just 50 minutes and 265 words to determine the new spelling champion of Dawson County.

She is Donna Warren, 14, an eighth grade student at Union and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Warren. Within half an hour after the start of the contest at South Elementary School, the field of 13 had been spelled down to Miss Warren and Della Faye Riddle, 11, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Riddle, route B, Lamesa. Twenty minutes later Della stamped her spelling toe and became the alternate. She is a sixth grade pupil at South Elementary.

The champ goes to the regional meet in Lubbock on April 9. Last year, Olivia Beaman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bernice Beaman, Klondike, went on from Lamesa to win the regional title.

Dallas Museum Paintings Now On Display At HCJC

Paintings from the actual collection of the Dallas Fine Arts Museum are on display at Howard County Junior College.

Showing under the title of "Nineteen from Texas," the paintings are all by Texas resident artists, including Jerry Bywaters, director of the Dallas museum.

Paul Vagt, librarian for HCJC, said that he felt there is such a variance in technique and type that out of the group viewers are bound to find something to please them.

Among the paintings and the artists are "Fight in the Corral," by Terry Nichols; "Hog Killing Time," H. O. Kelly; "On the Range," Bywaters; "Survival of the Fittest" (impending fight between a road-runner and rattlesnake), Fred Darge; "Molten Skies," Merritt Mauzey; "The Devil's Garden," Otis Dozier.

The paintings may be viewed during any weekday or evenings Monday through Thursday, said Vagt.

Six candidates for patrolmen posts in the police department made passing grades on the examination given Thursday morning, Chief C. L. Rogers announced Friday.

He said 13 applicants took the 2 1/2 hour exam, which will be one basis for naming the new patrolmen. Rogers was authorized six additional men in the 1960-61 budget and two other vacancies will also be filled.

He said all men taking the test would be notified of their score and be asked to come in for an interview. Each of them must also pass a physical examination.

SLEEK & SOLID

Sleek describes what meets the eye. Solid covers the hidden virtues. For sure, you want the beauty. For sure, you want the brawn. Add the Fury V-8 power plant and you get the best of all in the sleek, Solid 1960 Plymouth.

Sleek means several things about the 1960 Plymouth. Neat, trim lines. Styling that says "no wasted metal, no wasted motion." The sure way this car dagers through the wind. Solid fits, too. It means the strength and durability built into Plymouth's one-piece welded Unibody. It means the steady stance of Torsion-Aire Ride. It means the surging V-8 power up front.

This just might be your car. Best way to find out is to see your Plymouth dealer. This week's a good time. He'll supply the sleek, Solid Plymouth for your once-over. You can supply the rest of the words.

A Chrysler-engineered product, built a new solid way to give you solid satisfaction.

See "THE STEVE ALLEN PLYMOUTH SHOW" Monday nights, NBC-TV. Solid!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Day	Book	Chapter	Verses
Sunday	Luke	1	1-38
Monday	Luke	1	39-80
Tuesday	Luke	2	1-40
Wednesday	Luke	2	41
Thursday	Luke	4	1-44
Friday	Luke	5	1-39
Saturday	Luke	6	1-49

Think back, grown-up! There haven't been many joys in life that compare to the thrill of being read to. Remember—we came to know most of those stories by heart—and we loved them more each time we heard them.

Robin Hood and Little John—King Arthur and Sir Launcelot—they became old friends. And the heroes of our Bible stories—David and Daniel and the Boy Jesus in the Temple—they lived before our eyes as though the centuries had melted away.

Those stories helped to mold our lives. They taught us courage and faith. We sought to be like the heroes we loved.

Today, grown-up, your child needs the right stories. Are you taking advantage of the Church's program of religious education for youth? Are you giving your youngster the best start in life by making yours a worshipping, a church-supporting home?

NTSC Band Earns 3 Local Encores

North Texas State College's Concert Band, touring Texas, Kansas and Oklahoma, gave Big Springs a performance Thursday night in City Auditorium, and the locals demanded three encores from the group.

Under the direction of Maurice McAdow the band played 13 selections including the Grecian Theme and Dance which was written by John Cacavas and dedicated to McAdow and the N.T.S.C. Concert Band.

Doug Wiehe, band director at Big Spring High School and a personal friend of McAdow, was asked by McAdow to conduct the band as it played Tango For Band by Glen Osser.

Norval Crews, a senior student from Fort Worth, played the saxophone solo as the band played Adagio and Samba for Saxophone by Maurice Whitney. Jerry Voorhees soloed as the group played Concerto for Bassoon by Mozart. National Rudimental Drum Champion Joe Pullis performed with a drum solo, American Legion Champion by Mott.

Tulsa, by Don Gillis, was the final scheduled piece on the program but not until McAdow responded with three encores, including Sousa's Semper Fidelis and Stars and Stripes Forever, did the final curtain come down.

The group goes next to Odessa and Andrews and will complete its tour March 31. North Texas' Concert Band is a part of one of the outstanding Schools of Music —DON RIDDLE

'Petrifified Forest' A Play With Ideas

Robert Sherwood was the kind of playwright who had deep and strong beliefs.

The result is well illustrated by "The Petrified Forest," which was staged last night by the HCJC drama department. The play has an idea and a message.

The idea: That man thinks he has conquered nature, with his test tubes and machines and big power dams, but that nature cannot be conquered and is hitting back at mankind with full-scale neuroses that result in wars and revolutions and injustices.

The message: That America, in her pioneering days, allowed men to be real men, but that we are losing our sterling qualities to the forces of mediocrity.

These ideas are expertly woven into "The Petrified Forest," and there are lesser concepts which are used as string to tie the package—two themes, of unselfish love, and of fantasy in a harshly real environment.

IDEAS APPLY NOW

Sherwood's ideas are even more applicable now than they were in 1934, when the play first saw the boards on Broadway, in the midst of the Great Depression and world-wide revolutionary movements.

When the curtain opened in HCJC Auditorium last night, the old gray heads got a shock of reminiscence—there were two customers in an isolated Arizona cafe, year 1934, arguing the merits of that new thing called communism.

The excellent setting combined with the shock of ideas for a good opening scene, with only two minor points to detract. The actors in this scene lacked vocal expression, as if they were reading their lines instead of speaking them, and thus made Sherwood's script sound like a preachment—which it was, of course, but originally designed as ordinary conversation.

And the place was obvious in the painted backdrop where it had been ripped out during rehearsal to un-muffle the backstage speaker for some organization's meeting.

GOOD EFFECT

But the overall effect of the set was good—and the small touches, especially stage actions, made it seem real. The backdrop, looking out over the desert, made it appear to be the hot day the script called for.

The main criticism that could be made about the acting was the lack of expression in the voices. There were few who did not commit this sin. But there were few who did not have good moments when their rendering of lines made it sound like actual conversation.

Best performance was given by Sherry Coates, the waitress, and excellent supporting roles were done by Harold Henson, Maurice Burnett, Kay Loveland and Reece Bevers.

Others who showed up well included Toby McClendon, Mickie Stewart, Joe Cook and R. D. Ross.

Miss Coates went through her lines like she was living them, and her stage actions were wonderfully thought out and executed.

BROODING CHARACTER

Henson was brooding, cold and malicious, yet somehow human and forgivable, as the invading gangster. Burnett, as a member of the gang, created a picture of a Negro in frustrated protest against a society that would not let him be human. Bevers and Miss Loveland, as captive tourists, touched off sparks between themselves and all others with whom they came in contact.

McClendon gave a reasonable interpretation of an old, nostalgic man. Mrs. Stewart was cute as the French cook, and Cook had a believable swagger as a desert bum. Ross' nervous reactions and trigger happy finger were what one would expect from a jumpy gangster.

The story was that of a group of people trapped in the isolated cafe by a mob of fleeing thugs. The drama is created from the interweavings of characters and sub-plots, including love interest between a wandering writer, played by Lefty Morris, and Miss Coates, and the final explosive bargaining of the tourist couple's marriage troubles.

WELL PACED

Except for some embarrassing interludes, the play was well paced, even over the inevitably slow first part which afflicts all plays. There was some dropping of lines by actors who spoke while the audience was laughing at previous lines, or by scuffling chairs, or by gunfire.

A word about the gunfire—it was loud and explosive, none of those weakling pops spouted by ordinary stage guns.

The audience was not always as polite as it could be—there was scuffling and coughing through some scenes, and some inane murmurs when the colored members of the cast came on. Fortunately, these people were a minority.

To sum it up: "The Petrified Forest" did not reach the dramatic heights of HCJC's "The Glass Menagerie," but it was far above the flaccid of "Manana Is Another Day."

Certainly, "The Petrified Forest" is worth seeing.

The play continues tonight and Saturday, curtain time 8:15 p.m., in HCJC Auditorium.
