PATRICK AIR FORCE BASE, Fla. (AP) — Eleven Air Force men, some burned and in shock, and three bodies were plucked out of the Atlantic ocean today after a disabled tanker plane was ditched 40 miles east of here.

Old Man March, on his last legs, was doing his best Thursday to get things in shape to go out Friday as a big sandy lion. He mustered a stiff southwesterly wind which whipped up a fair backdrop of sand and dust and tinted the countryside lionish color.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—A flaming six-engine jet bomber exploded over Little Rock today and rained debris and death in its plunge near the Capitol.

The dead were identified as M-Sgt. Joseph M. Pheis, 38, of Bloomington, Ill.; T-Sgt. Frank E. Bence, 34, Bay Minette, Ala., and S-Sgt. Shirley D. Renner, 27, Shelbyville, Ill.

Forecast for tomorrow offered him a chance to make good in his effort. Today and tonight, the U.S. Weather Bureau said will be partly cloudy, windy, dusty and warm; Friday will be cooler and windy.

At least five persons, including three crewmen, were killed. Two civilians were known dead.

House Panel Bans Insurance For Retired

T-Night For Howard; Census Folk Fan Out

Daniel Orders Probe Of Red In Sit-Downs

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Ways and Means Committee today turned down a plan for government-paid health insurance for retired persons.

This is "T" night. Beginning at 5 p.m., the 1960 census will officially swing into action in Howard County and across the nation.

AUSTIN (AP)—Gov. Price Daniel said today he has been advised that a longtime member and officer of the Communist party played a role in the sit-down demonstrations in Marshall.

By a 17-8 vote, the tax-writing committee refused to include the plan in a general bill revising the Social Security system.

First to be counted will be guests in hotels which have 50 or more rooms. Therefore, the first persons who will be enumerated here will be the transients registered at the Crawford, Settles and Howard House Hotels.

He said he had been advised that Dr. Doxey Wilkerson, who joined the Bishop College faculty last September, had a part in the demonstrations in Marshall.

Rep. Aime J. Forand (D-RI) told newsmen that despite the committee action he will try to force a house vote.

The transient count continues to 11 p.m.

The governor said he has asked Homer Garrison, director of the Department of Public Safety, to investigate Wilkerson's alleged participation.

Forand, author of the health insurance bill, said he will seek signatures of a majority of the House members to bring to the floor a separate bill calling for hospitalization, surgical and nursing home benefits.

Bright and early Friday, the general nose count across the nation begins. The enumerators are being provided with maps, forms and other supplies today. They are in the final session of a four day intensified training program on procedure and operation.

Survivors picked up by the Sullivan were Sgt. Luis E. Ramirez, Maj. Walter C. Birge Jr., Lt. Richard M. Weinberg, Sgt. Charles J. Hefner, and Lt. Col. George C. Jermain Jr.

The 10 Republicans on the committee were reported to have voted solidly against the plan, which is opposed by President Eisenhower's administration. They were joined by seven Democrats on the key vote.

They do not meet at any central point on Friday morning. Each enumerator will go directly to his assigned territory and begin ringing doorbells.

Dr. Milton Curry Jr., president of Bishop College, said Wednesday he had asked Wilkerson to resign.

The American Medical Assn. opposes the Forand plan. A number of powerful labor organizations favor it.

Harrington and Stallings urged the help of every citizen in speeding up the count. The importance of the census to the community and to the nation is vital.

MacDill officials listed the five crew members and six passengers who survived as Capt. Richard A. Geiger, Wilmington, Del., aircraft commander; Lt. David P. Hensma, Grand Rapids, Mich., copilot; Lt. John R. Rogers Jr., Wilmington, N. C., navigator; Sgt. Charles J. Hefner, Tampa, Fla., engineer; Sgt. Johnny W. Owen, Memphis, Tenn., radio operator.

Mac Returns

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Harold Macmillan returned home today from his strategy talks with President Eisenhower and Washington consultations on Europe's trade rivalry.

Dr. Doxey Wilkerson, a professor at all-Negro Bishop College here, was fired by the college president Wednesday night. The professor is an admitted former Communist. He denies participation in the demonstrations.

MacDill officials listed the five crew members and six passengers who survived as Capt. Richard A. Geiger, Wilmington, Del., aircraft commander; Lt. David P. Hensma, Grand Rapids, Mich., copilot; Lt. John R. Rogers Jr., Wilmington, N. C., navigator; Sgt. Charles J. Hefner, Tampa, Fla., engineer; Sgt. Johnny W. Owen, Memphis, Tenn., radio operator.

Each fourth house to be visited in this census is classified as a "sample." This means that the occupants of such residences will be asked a great many more questions than are asked at the other houses visited.

Survivors picked up by the Sullivan were Sgt. Luis E. Ramirez, Maj. Walter C. Birge Jr., Lt. Richard M. Weinberg, Sgt. Charles J. Hefner, and Lt. Col. George C. Jermain Jr.

Dr. Milton Curry Jr., president of Bishop College, said Wednesday he had asked Wilkerson to resign.

Both Wilkerson and his wife were in a store at the time of a sit-in demonstration but the professor said it was a coincidence.

The city remained outwardly calm today except for movements of scores of police and other officers.

Both Wilkerson and his wife were in a store at the time of a sit-in demonstration but the professor said it was a coincidence.

He has absolutely no reason to believe he has departed from his break with the Communist party since he has been with us," said Curry.

Officers held 30 of the demonstrators under technical custody for a time yesterday, and prepared warrants for the arrest of 35.

Dr. Doxey Wilkerson, a professor at all-Negro Bishop College here, was fired by the college president Wednesday night. The professor is an admitted former Communist. He denies participation in the demonstrations.

The officers appeared to center their activities Wednesday night on preventing any racial battles between cruising white youths and Negroes at two colleges here, Bishop and Wiley.

2-Time Pulitzer Prize Winner To Address Press Association

AMARILLO (AP) — Reiman (Pat) Morin, two-time Pulitzer Prize-winning special correspondent for the Associated Press, will address the Panhandle Press Assn. here April 9.

Morin's acceptance was announced today by S. B. Whittenburg, publisher of the Amarillo Globe-Times. The association's 51st annual convention will be held April 7-9 at the Herring Hotel.

An Associated Press staff member since 1934, Morin has headed the AP bureaus in Tokyo, Paris and Washington. He has traveled the world for the news service reporting events ranging from the coronation of Queen Elizabeth II to the Korean conflict.

He was among the first correspondents at the front in Korea, where his reporting earned him a 1951 Pulitzer Prize. His accounts of school integration troubles at Little Rock won him a second Pulitzer Prize in 1958.

Court Upholds Nudist Case

AUSTIN (AP)—The Court of Criminal Appeals upheld Wednesday the indecent exposure conviction of Fannin County nudist camp operator W. R. Campbell of Arlington.

Campbell attacked the conviction and $100 fine on grounds the state failed to prove that he "designedly exhibited" himself and that the alleged exposure was in public.

"The fact that he designedly did so is obvious from the fact that he set himself up in business running a nudist camp at a place where he might reasonably expect to be and was in fact seen by persons on property not his own as well as those who were gathered there at the camp," Judge W. A. Morrison said in the opinion.

Morin has been a high-level executive for the Associated Press but prefers the calling of a reporter. To encourage more young people to take up reporting he has written a six-part series currently appearing in Editor & Publisher, newspaper trade magazine. The series describes some of his most exciting experiences.

As soon as Morin recovered from his imprisonment by the Japanese he volunteered for more foreign assignments and went to London, Africa, Italy, Paris, Korea and other trouble spots.

Major activities on the association's first convention day will include the president's annual address by Wayne Lanham of the Berger News Herald.

Speakers on April 8 will include Roy Appleton Jr., general manager of the Denton Record-Chronicle, W. E. Garets, head of the Texas Tech Department of Journalism, will moderate a panel on "We've Learned About Newspapering." Three Texas Tech journalism students will make up the panel.

Olin E. Hinkle, professor of journalism at the University of Texas, will speak April 9.

Texas Candidates Quicken Pace, Ramsey Sets His Sights

By CLAYTON HICKERSON
Associated Press Staff Writer

Office seekers stepped up their activity Thursday, but Lt. Gov. Ben Ramsey—opposed for reelection by Don Yarborough—let it be known he hasn't started yet.

Ramsey's headquarters in Austin said he was making plans for an active campaign later.

Yarborough spoke Wednesday before an electric cooperative group and said "Equality with private power is a must for Texas' REA co-operatives if they are to meet the expanding power needs of our modern farms and ranches."

Yarborough told his Bellville audience that Ramsey has "blocked every worthwhile bill the REA co-operatives have attempted to have passed."

House Speaker Waggoner Carr told supporters in Commerce, in Northeast Texas, that revision of the State Constitution is a must. His statements followed by less than 24 hours demands from the League of Women Voters for such revision.

Carr, candidate for attorney general, paid tribute to the League for "effectively working on constitutional revision."

Atty. Gen. Will Wilson, seeking reelection, toured the Lower Rio Grande Valley and crossed paths with Bill Allcorn, seeking reelection as land commissioner.

Wilson said "professional gambling and vice unquestionably sap the economic strength of any community where they are permitted to flourish."

"Unfortunately," Wilson added, "... there are always a few people who subscribe to the theory that a little racketeering can be a great community asset."

Jerry Sadler of Palestine was due in Corpus Christi and vicinity Thursday in his campaign to unseat Allcorn. The latter attended a McAllen reception Wednesday and was expected in Corpus Christi Thursday.

Bob Looney's campaign for attorney general pepped up Wednesday. In Austin, supporters of Looney carried signs in front of his headquarters that declared: "Looney unfair to corporation candidates."

"What's good for corporations is good for Texas," says Waggoner.

Morrison noted the camp was operated as a club in which 52 families — most of them from Dallas and Fort Worth — paid $52 per year for membership. Activities included volleyball and horse-shoe pitching.

"These people were not members of his family and were therefore members of the public," Morrison wrote.

Girl Claims Protection Of Friend Was Death Cause

ALICE, Tex. (AP) — Donna Dvorak slept restlessly. Finally she awoke at 3 a.m., tormented by fears for a friend's life. Then she reached a painful decision.

She slipped through her darkened home to where the family kept a .22 target pistol. She put it in her school bag.

And Wednesday she arose from her seat in the back of a classroom at Dubose Junior High and shot and killed Bobby Whitford, 15, sitting 25 feet away at the front of the class.

This was the story the petite, blonde 14-year-old told Deputy Sheriff Bob Miller and reporters. Friends called the girl quiet when with people, but tomboyish. She is an expert with firearms.

Her lawyer, Homer Dean Jr., issued a statement that "in her 14-year-old mind" the girl thought she "did the right thing in protecting a friend."

Donna's story related that young

Whitford and Kate McCoy, 15, dated for a time. Then Kate broke off the romance.

Whitford went to the McCoy home and declared: "If Kate won't go out with me, she won't go out with anyone."

Donna, a close friend of Kate, told officers she considered the statement a threat against Kate's life.

Donna ducked behind her desk and placed cartridges in the weapon moments before she fired.

The shooting occurred during a science class with about 20 pupils in the room. Teacher George Frank took the pistol from Donna without a struggle.

She was charged with being a delinquent juvenile, the only charge that can be placed against a person of her age in Texas. Donna was committed to the Martineau Juvenile Hall in Corpus Christi, Tex., pending a hearing April 6.

DEAR ABBY

THINK TWICE

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I don't get along at all. We have a 3-year-old child and I am expecting another. I want to divorce my husband but I can't manage on what he could pay me weekly. When the new baby comes, we'll have more expenses and the same income. Do you think giving up my baby as soon as it's born would be so horrible? I am young yet and want a better life for my son and myself. I could manage with one child but not with two. If I decide to give up my baby, do I need my husband's consent? Please help me, Abby. I feel so lost and mixed up. I am 20 years old. LOST AND MIXED UP DEAR LOST: A lawyer can tell you whether you need your husband's consent to give up your baby. But your conscience should tell you that you have a moral obligation to consider the father's wishes. If you feel lost and mixed up, I urge you to talk to your clergyman, or get in touch with your Family Service Association. You need to find yourself and straighten out your thinking before you make a decision as lasting and important as this one. DEAR ABBY: Your answer to "ONLY A WIFE" was ridiculous. The lady said her husband never attended the funerals of his aunts or uncles, but he drove half-way across the country to bury his dog. She asked you if you thought her husband was crazy and you replied, "He's dog-gone normal!" How can anyone in his right mind think more of a dog than he does of his kin? If your answer expresses your true feelings, then maybe you and that nut ought to get together. You have a lot in common. LOVER OF MANKIND DEAR ABBY: Bless you for sticking up for the man who loved his dog enough to drive a thousand miles to lay him to rest. I know how he felt because I loved my dog like that. He was only a mongrel, but I raised him from a pup, and he gave me more unselfish affection than most people I knew. When I was a boy he'd comfort me by letting me cry my troubles into his fur. He proved his devotion to me when a burglar came into my store. My beloved dog was killed when he intercepted the bullet that was meant to kill me. I would have WALKED from Oregon to Arkansas to pay my dog last respects. No one can realize what a dog means to a man unless he has loved one, too. Abby, I'll bet you have a dog, haven't you? DEAR DOG LOVER: You guessed it! CONFIDENTIAL TO A.W.K.: Sorry the letter signed FAITHFUL WIFE shocked you. I have since been informed that the conjugal visit is allowed at the Mississippi State Penitentiary at Parchman, Mississippi. This information came directly from Mr. William Harpole, the superintendent. "What's YOUR problem?" For a personal reply, write to Abby in care of the Big Spring Herald and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Car Dealers Show '60 Models In 'Open House' On Sunday

Want a real close, relaxed, unhurried, "unpressured" examination of 1960 automobiles — a chance to poke around, and check qualities to your heart's content? You'll have it, come Sunday, with seven of the new car franchised dealers in Big Spring joining in a cooperative "open house" at their places of business. The occasion marks the opening of National New Car Dealer Week, a U. S.-wide event in which dealers over America are pointing up the great transportation values available this year. Local dealers enlisted in the event have determined that the public shall have its full opportunity to view cars as they like; in the old-fashioned way, with Mother and Dad and the kids all invited to have a look-see. The seven dealers will be open especially for callers from 1 to 6 p.m. Big Spring families are invited to "make the tour" and see first-hand what attractive offerings there are in the automotive world; what inviting cars there are to answer the spring appeal for better and more comfortable motoring. There is no obligation involved in calling at any dealership. There is no charge. There will be no gimmicks. Said a dealer spokesman: "Perhaps too many people have not had the opportunity to have a real close look at 1960 cars. We want them to come by our places and have this look. We think they'll see a lot more automobile — of every brand — than they dreamed was available. The latch-string is out. This is just an old-time 'Open House.' We hope everybody feels free to call on us." Dealers who will be open Sunday afternoon for the open house: HARMONSON FOREIGN MOTORS, 911 W. 4th — Rolls Royce, Jaguar, Austin Healey, MG, Morris Minor, Volvo, Triumph. JONES MOTOR COMPANY, 101 Gregg — Dodge, Dodge Dart, Simca. TRUMAN JONES MOTOR COMPANY, 403 Runnels — Continental, Lincoln, Mercury, Comet, British Ford, Jeep. LONE STAR MOTOR, 600 E. 3rd — Imperial, Chrysler, Valiant, Plymouth. MCWEEN MOTOR COMPANY, 403 Scurry — Cadillac, Buick, Opel. TARBOX-GOSSETT, 500 W. 4th — Ford, Ford Falcon, Thunderbird. TIDWELL CHEVROLET, 1501 E. 4th — Chevrolet, Corvaire.

New Political Star Arising

BUENOS AIRES (AP) — Ricardo Balbin, a colorless political veteran, is Argentina's new man of the hour and a likely presidential candidate again in 1964. Balbin's People's Radical party soundly trounced President Arturo Frondizi's Intransigent Radicals in the midterm congressional elections Sunday. Frondizi came out with a small majority in the House of Deputies, thanks to holdovers who were not up for re-election, but the government party's popular vote was swamped by votes for Balbin forces and the blank ballots cast by adherents of the outlaw Peronist and Communist parties. Balbin, eyes glittering behind rimless glasses, says he is not too happy about the victory—with more campaign funds and less government interference, his party could have done better, he said. Balbin, 55, is the father of three children, a longtime foe of ex-dictator Juan Peron and a former friend of Frondizi.

Clocks Turn Home Charm To Chime

DENISON — The H. E. Sistrunk home between Denison and Sherman becomes musical on the hour and half hour. This is because Mr. and Mrs. Sistrunk have about 30 clocks scattered about the white, two-story home. There are 13 in the family room alone. So they can enjoy the chimes better, the Sistrunks have their clocks set a minute or so apart so each one has its own chance to be heard. The family is not disturbed by all the striking clocks, but it does not always work for visitors. "Our son-in-law, B. J. Stallings, slept downstairs one night, and the next day we asked him about the clocks," Sistrunks related. "He said he slept fine until midnight, but after that he just could not seem to get back to sleep before time for another striking session." Sistrunk began his clock collecting seriously about five years ago when he inherited his parents' strike. He sometimes pays up to $80 for a clock, but usually they cost less. A number of his clocks have been given to him by persons who found them out of order and stuck them back in an attic corner. He has found most of his clocks by simply keeping his eyes open for them and also on tips from friends. After acquiring a timepiece, Sistrunk has it refinished to bring out the beauty of the wood, and usually the mechanism needs repairing. Texas Senators Okay Rights Tag WASHINGTON (AP) — Both Sens. Lyndon Johnson and Ralph Yarborough of Texas Wednesday voted for an amendment to the House Civil Rights Bill making obstruction of all Federal Court orders a federal crime. The amendment eliminated a restriction confining the criminal provisions to integration-segregation questions only. The amendment passed 69-20.

Dowdy Most Vocal In Rights Argument

By TEX EASLEY AP Special Service WASHINGTON — It was noticeable that Texas congressmen figured little in the House fight over civil rights. On the 331-109 final passage of the House bill four Texans voted for it. They were Reps. Paul Kilday, San Antonio; Joe Kilgore, McAllen; Homer Thornberry, Austin; and Jim Wright, Fort Worth. Some observers professed to see in the vote a changing attitude of Texans, perhaps in the interest of Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson's chances for the Democratic presidential nomination. The most vocal of all Texans in Congress in opposition to civil rights legislation was Rep. John Dowdy (D) of Athens, whose East Texas district has a close interest with the Old South. As a member of the House Judiciary committee, which approved the bill sent to the House floor—over the protest of Dowdy and some others—the Texas has more privileges to speak on the issue than colleagues not on the committee. Dowdy offered amendments designed to cripple if not render the legislation ineffective. Like his Deep South colleagues, he lost but went down swinging. "We find members of Congress

Steer Sprint Relay Team Rated At Top

By DON RIDDLE

Big Spring's speedy sprint relay foursome has taken the No. 1 AAAA ranking in that event in the state.

The locals moved up in the standings this week after their best time of 42.9 was finally recognized. Andrews owns the overall top state ranking in the 440 relay but they are a AAAA class. Big Spring is second in the overall standings.

Coach Curtis Kelley has been working five boys on the relay this spring. "I have five good boys for the job and I always want to have someone ready in case of injury or illness."

"Ken Kesterson is one of the faster of the five but I took him a while to learn the technical points of baton passing. He's now got his handoffs down pat and has moved into the starting lineup.

"Kesterson replaces Roy Burkolow in the starting four and will run the second leg of the event."

Kelley indicates that he still plans to work five men at the job in order to keep injury from preventing the locals a trip to the state meet in Austin.

Chop Van Pelt, weight coach, has three boys who have been adding points to the Steer card all season and who stand a chance of qualifying for the state meet, also.

Mack Alexander throws the shot upwards to about 50 feet. With a good effort in the district and regional outings, he could make it. Gary Walker and Robert Phelan have the discus for Big Spring and both are almost certain for a berth at Austin.

Walker has been the more successful of the two so far this spring and if he can come through with a good showing in Austin, the Steers will come in close to the top in the final state rankings.

Kelley says that the Big Spring team stands little chance to win the district or regional title because Midland will score too many points with their depth.

"Midland will kill us in the district with all those thirds and fourths. And in the regional, too, Midland and Lubbock will bring in lots of points with their depth."

"But now, in the state meet, I think things will be a little different. The way the points are split up, with so many teams cutting one another, a couple of first places and a few points in a second or third will likely win the meet."

"We've got the potential to take first in the 100 yard dash, in the 220 and in the sprint relay where the points are. A first in the relay gets about 20 points and with (R. L.) Lasater running the two sprints and with our discus and shot men adding a few, I think we have a good chance at the state crown."

Lasater is the sixth ranking sprinter in the nation and is the best bet to win the century in Austin. The 220 is run on a straightaway, thus giving him a good chance to win that event.

Big Spring goes to Brady Saturday and will compete against a fine sprint relay crew from Brownwood. Kelley says he's looking for some good weather and hopes to turn in a good enough time in the relay to best Andrews' 42.6 mark and take over the overall spotlight in the state sprint relay teams.

May Miss Hurdles Action

Stanton's hopes of a first place finish in the Sand Hills Relays in Mesquitas Saturday ride heavily on the shoulders of senior Norman Donelson. The tall speedster runs on the Buffalo sprint relay team and tears the 130-yard low hurdles. Donelson may miss the hurdles action this week, however, due to a pulled muscle. Coach John Bailey says that if Donelson doesn't work out the soreness, he doesn't want him to chance more serious injury; the district meet is just a week away.

He hurt the left one in the first round Wednesday night, and his right during the second — the round in which he stunned the heavier Sandy with three successive punches.

Sandy's trainer Syd Martin and Referee Dan Leslie had words twice during the bout. Once Martin protested, because Leslie warned Sandy against hitting low. Another time Leslie cautioned the fighter against using his thumbs.

Asked to compare Stich with some of Sandy's other opponents, Martin snapped:

"He'd be the champion if he'd take the referee along with him to a fight."

Leslie said Sandy committed "every foul in the book."

The New Yorker came in at 154 1/2 pounds to 140 for Stich.

Sawyer Hopeful Jim Owens Will Be A Big Help

CLEARWATER, Fla. (AP) — Now that Jim Owens has changed his mind about quitting the Philadelphia Phillies because of a $600 fine for an after-curve brawl, Manager Eddie Sawyer hopes he settles down and helps hoist the club out of last place.

The 28-year-old right-hander is one of the most promising pitchers in the National League. He finished with a 12-12 record and a 3.22 earned run average last year in his first full season with the weak-hitting and fielding Phillies.

Angered over the fine owner Bob Carpenter leveled against him for a barroom fracas with a busboy, Owens announced Wednesday he was quitting the team and going home to Gifford, Pa.

But he had a change of heart after a one hour conference with General Manager John Quinn.

"Mr. Quinn talked to me very nicely," Owens said, "and told me I'd be foolish to throw away a promising career. I guess I have to agree with him."

Quinn said "I'm glad Jim's going to stay with us. He was mad but he's over it now."

Quinn added the fine would stand.

Owens said what gripped him about the fine was that teammates Joe Koppe and Bobby Gene Smith, also involved in the March 5 altercation in a Clearwater bar, were assessed only $100 each. Owens said he became angered when he got punched in the month.

Rudell Stich Shades Sandy

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Rudell Stich nursed a pair of sore hands today, the result of his 10-round unanimous verdict bout against New York middleweight Randy Sandy.

Stich, the classy Louisville welterweight ranked second among contenders in this class, planned to have X-rays to determine the damage to his hands.

He hurt the left one in the first round Wednesday night, and his right during the second — the round in which he stunned the heavier Sandy with three successive punches.

Sandy's trainer Syd Martin and Referee Dan Leslie had words twice during the bout. Once Martin protested, because Leslie warned Sandy against hitting low. Another time Leslie cautioned the fighter against using his thumbs.

Asked to compare Stich with some of Sandy's other opponents, Martin snapped:

"He'd be the champion if he'd take the referee along with him to a fight."

Leslie said Sandy committed "every foul in the book."

The New Yorker came in at 154 1/2 pounds to 140 for Stich.

Cowboys Triumph

HOUSTON (AP) — Oklahoma State whipped Rice 10-1 Wednesday in a package of home runs and 6-hit pitching by Vic Soergel.

NFL Will Continue Video Policy Despite Rivalry

CHICAGO (AP) — The National Football League will continue its past television policy of each club arranging its own program despite the possible package deal set-up by the new American Football League.

Ending a two-day meeting Wednesday the NFL agreed unanimously not to negotiate any TV package "in view of present uncertainty of the legal interpretation of applicable federal laws."

Commissioner Pete Rozelle said serious consideration had been given to package TV because of financial benefits.

"It was argued that such an arrangement by a league or association involved exclusively, and allocation of areas, and in view of the present uncertainty of the legal interpretation of applicable federal laws, no risk of violation should be taken until this matter is clarified," he added.

The AFL announced last week it had a 56-game TV package for sale to either the National Broadcasting Co. or the American Broadcasting Co.

AFL Commissioner Joe Foss said Wednesday night in Dallas he had not discussed a package with the networks and sponsors.

Urbina Is Signed For Coast Fight

MEXICO CITY (AP) — California's matchmaker George Pananus Wednesday signed Mexican Alfredo Urbina for a fight next month against Venezuela's Carlos Hernandez.

It was reported Urbina was granted a $10,000 guarantee for the April 21 fight at the Olympic Auditorium of Los Angeles.

Wynn Won't Play In Puerto Rico

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — An attack of the gout probably will keep pitcher Early Wynn off the Chicago White Sox traveling squad leaving here today for San Juan.

The Sox joined Philadelphia for the trip to San Juan for a three-game weekend series opening Friday night.

Wynn reported the chronic ailment has settled in his left hip and thigh. He was treated by a physician Wednesday.

Art Wall To Pass Up Famed Meet

HONESDALE, Pa. (AP) — Art Wall Jr., golf's leading money winner in 1959, said Wednesday he won't defend his Masters title at Augusta, Ga., April 7 because of an infected right knee.

Wall, resting at his home here, said the infection apparently was caused by a kidney ailment.

This Is Shakeup Season For Philadelphia Club

BY JACK HAND

Associated Press Sports Writer

CLEARWATER, Fla. (AP) — This is shakeup year for the Philadelphia Phillies. Manager Eddie Sawyer is toying with a lineup that would include only two of last year's regulars.

"We're going to go with the kids as much as possible," said Sawyer. "We got rid of a lot—Richie Ashburn, Willie Jones, Gene Freese, Ray Semproch, Chico Fernandez, Carl Sawatski. Most of the new players are kids, except for Alvin Dark. You need experience of the right kind in an infield."

One of Sawyer's key experiments has been using Pancho Herrera (.329 at Buffalo) at second base. Although he is 6-3, 225-pound converted first baseman, he hasn't been doing a bad job and is hitting over .400.

Eddie Bouchee (.285) is the first baseman. If the Herrera experiment fails, George Anderson (.218) would return to second. Joe Koppe (.261) at short and Dark (.264) at third will be the infield with Ted Lepcio (.280 at Boston and Detroit) as a spare. Only Bouchee and Koppe were regulars last year with the Phils.

Bobby Del Greco (.286 at Buffalo), who has flunked previous trials with several clubs but still is only 26, may be the center fielder. Johnny Callison (.299 at Indianapolis), the Chicago White Sox's touted rookie of last year, might displace Harry Anderson (.240) in left. Wally Post (.254) is a third 1959 regular who may have his old job in right field but he has competition from Bobby Gene Smith (.217 at St. Louis), Dave Philley (.291) and Tony Curry (.314 at Williamsport).

Jim Coker (.287 at Buffalo) was farmed out a year ago for steady work with the idea that he would be the No. 1 catcher this year. Dick Farrell (1.6) probably will head the relief corps with Jack Meyer (5-3), Humberto Robinson (2-4) and rookie Hank Mason (12-3 at Buffalo).

The 1959 Phils were last in the standings, last in batting and last in fielding. No wonder Sawyer is shaking them up.

Next—Milwaukee.

Black Hawks Try A Big Comeback

CHICAGO (AP) — The Chicago Black Hawks try to pick themselves off the floor tonight and avoid a complete shutout by the Montreal Canadiens in the Stanley Cup hockey semifinal playoffs.

The Canadiens, striving for an unprecedented fifth straight cup title, have taken the first three games and can sew up the best-of-seven series with a sweep by winning at the Chicago Stadium tonight.

That would pit them against the winner of the Toronto-Detroit series, which now is locked 2-2 and resumes Saturday on the Maple Leafs' home ice.

Head Coach Dies

AUSTIN (AP) — Eddie Collins, 42, head coach of Huston-Tillotson College here, died Tuesday night of a heart ailment.

Collins, a member of the coaching staff for 12 years, had been head coach in all sports since 1952.

Azalea Tourney Opening Today

WILMINGTON, N. C. (AP) — The $15,000 Azalea Open Golf Tournament, which has been gaining a reputation as a conditioner of Augusta Masters champions in recent years, opens today.

The 72-hole tournament runs through Sunday over the par 72 6,651 yards of the Cape Fear Country Club course.

Arnold Palmer, the year's leading money winner, and Mike Souchak, are passing up the Azalea in favor of practice at Augusta.

Art Wall, who won here last spring and followed with an Augusta victory a week later, has been shelved with a bad knee. But most of the other top pros are in the record field of 150.

In nine of its 11 previous years the tournament here has come a week ahead of the Masters. Four times players in the top 10 here went on to win at Augusta.

Speedy McMurtry Team To Austin

ABILENE (SC) — A fast-stepping sprint relay crew, a freshman jumping jack, a strong mile relay quartet and a winning shot-putter will top a card of McMurtry College entries in the Texas Relays this weekend in Austin.

The sprint relay foursome of John Dale Lewis, Mike Stell, Bill Miller and Bruce Land dipped to a 41.5 in the East Texas Relays at Commerce. The record is a new school mark.

Freshman broad jumper Bill Miller also rewrote another school record when he jumped 23-9, his best season, to dethrone East Texas' NAIA champ, James Baird. Miller won the Class AA State Broad Jump title last spring, and has a career leap of 24-8.

Miller's leap is considered exceptionally good this early in the year, and the fact that he's only a freshman.

Tracy Byrd will attempt to add another feather to his bonnet in the shotput. Byrd tossed out his farthest heave last Saturday, 52-1, in the gigantic East Texas Relays.

The Indians' mile relay team, which owns a 3:16, also will be running in the Austin meet.

In the sprints, Coach Grant will have a pupil Bruce Land in the 100 along with John Dale Lewis and possibly Mike Stell. The addition of Stell will strengthen the sprint corps. Stell was injured slightly in Laredo and didn't run again until last week at Commerce. He turned in a good leg of the winning sprint relay crew.

Track's Top Names Are Due At Austin

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Some of the great names in track and field, including five Olympic performers, go into action here this weekend in the 33rd Texas Relays.

The record entry list of 1,378 individuals—93 more than last year's—includes seven of last year's individual champions and relay teams from all but two of the schools which took first places in the baton-carrying events.

The Friday night and Saturday afternoon finals are expected to draw more than 20,000 spectators into the University of Texas' big Memorial Stadium.

Non-official team champions will be sports writers who keep their own totals expect Kansas Michigan and Abilene Christian to take home more ribbons than anybody else in the university-college competition.

Bonus Babe May Win His Spurs

By JIM KENSIL
Associated Press Sports Writer

At age 18, Dave Nicholson pocketed $102,000 and the keys to a new car. Then he left his St. Louis home to play baseball for the Baltimore Orioles, he hoped.

That was in 1958, and the husky bonus outfielder still hasn't won a job with Baltimore.

First it was Knoxville, then down to Class B Wilson, N.C. and finally to Dublin, Ga. of the Class D Georgia State League in 1958.

He started 1959 at Double A Amarillo, but after 13 games he was hitting only .222 and it was on to Aberdeen of the Northern League where he finished out the season with a .288 average, 35 home runs and 114 runs batted in.

Now the 20-year-old right-handed power hitter is at Miami in training with the Orioles, and he seems to be closer than ever to Baltimore.

In an exhibition game against the Cincinnati Reds Wednesday, Nicholson homered, singled and had three runs batted in, although the Orioles lost 12-9.

In other Florida games, the St. Louis Cardinals defeated the New York Yankees 6-3 at St. Petersburg, the Los Angeles Dodgers whipped the Milwaukee Braves 7-2 at Vero Beach, the Chicago White Sox shaded the Pittsburgh Pirates 4-3 at Sarasota, and the Washington Senators outlasted the Philadelphia Phillies 11-10 at Orlando. Kansas City and Detroit were not scheduled.

Whether Spot Or All Your Carpet, Product Cleans It

An American tradition as old as apple pie though not as palatable is spring housecleaning. This is the time of the year when the woman of the home puts on her apron to dress up the house. So often the major problem in making rooms look bright and new again is the task of cleaning carpets and upholstery. It is no longer necessary to take those lovely carpets off the floor for cleaning and renewing the beauty of their colors. A new product called Blue Lustre Carpet and Upholstery Cleaner has been developed especially for home use. This amazing product provides a simple—sure and effective method of cleaning care at very little cost.

Blue Lustre is a special concentrate that is mixed with water to create a billowy foam. This foam is then applied to rugs or carpets with an inexpensive long handled brush or it can also be used in any type of rug shampoo applicator. The action of Blue Lustre foam makes original colors spring back to life like new again—leaves pile open and fluffy and carpets stay cleaner longer because there is no oily, gummy residue to cause rapid resoiling. It works in spots as well as the entire area. It's safe to use on the finest oriental rugs and cleans upholstery beautifully. It comes in a variety of sizes at Big Spring Hardware.

Linen Care Made Easy

Cafes, drug stores, beauty shops, barber shops and food stores use a lot of towels, aprons, uniforms, napkins and similar drapery. Operators of these establishments make no effort to buy and launder their own linen. They know it is much more economical and convenient to depend on the Big Spring Linen Service. This home-owned and home-operated establishment, located at 121 W. 1st St., serves scores of establishments in the area and has gained a high reputation for its quality service.

If you glance at the napkin which you find on your table at your favorite restaurant, you'll probably discover it is the property of the Big Spring Linen Service. The establishment maintains a vast stock of the many assorted linens needed for the numerous business places. It has a working arrangement with its regular customers — the truck brings a new supply and picks up those to be laundered on regularly scheduled days.

Are you planning to carpet your home this spring? A great many families are making such plans. Nothing so adds to the attractive appearance and comfort of a home than wall-to-wall carpeting. And it is refreshing to know that in these days it can be accomplished at much less expense than you might have believed possible. Further, in these modern times there are so many new eye-catching patterns for you to consider. No matter the color scheme you have in mind, there's a very good probability the carpet is here which exactly fits what you have in mind.

Time For Concrete

Spring weather and warmer temperatures are luring the do-it-yourself gardeners and builders outside with visions of home betterment in the minds of the energetic. Other than green-thumb chores, some Big Springers will be looking to building a walk, adding on a room, or putting in a driveway. The budget-minded will try to do a lot of this work themselves. For all things concrete, the best friend of the do-it-yourselfers is Clyde McMahon Concrete Co., 605 N. Benton. Concrete is never better than the mixture of cement, sand and water used to make it. And improperly mixed concrete sometimes is the downfall of an amateur home modernizer.

McMahon takes this problem out of any job, for the amateur or the professional builder.

Butane And Propane Again Prove Their Dependability

The gas twins — butane and propane — have for many years demonstrated their dependability in various parts of the world by coming through in numerous disaster areas as one of the few fuels that really produced in an emergency. Nowhere were the sources of energy better proved than in some northern and eastern cities the past winter, when heavy snows marooned some families in remote areas. Yet they came through the crisis uncomplaining. The fact that their homes were equipped with butane or propane gas had much to do with their survival.

An agent for butane and propane fuel here is the S. M. Smith Butane Company, main offices of which are located on the Lamesa Highway, just within the north city limits. The sturdy, economical heating units installed by employees of the S. M. Smith concern has brought heating comfort to many, many homeowners.

Uncle Sam's Counters Set For T-Night Across U. S.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Tonight is T-Night, the kickoff of the 1960 census. If you're away from home overnight this is when you'll probably be counted.

"T" stands for transient and T-Night means that guests in all the larger hotels and motels will be contacted and asked to fill out a special questionnaire.

The regular door-to-door census begins Friday morning. It will continue for several weeks and will employ 170,000 temporary workers.

Uncle Sam is spending about 118 million dollars to make the census. The result will be a statistical portrait of the nation that will help government agencies and private businesses make plans for the future.

The T-night operation will involve all guests of hotels and motels with 50 or more rooms and a minimum daily charge of $1.25 or more. There are about 10,000 of these and at least one census taker will be stationed at each.

If your room costs you less than $1.25 a night, the Census Bureau says you're in a flophouse and will be counted next month during a special canvass of tramps and hoboes.

Even if you're never contacted because you're away from home, you'll probably still be counted. One of the regular census questions, to be asked at every dwelling, involves members of the household who were away on April 1. All census information is reported as of April 1.

Gas Station Blast Kills 5

AUBURN, N.Y. (AP)—A gasoline station blew up Wednesday night, killing five people.

The blast was so violent that all that remained was the cinder-block building had stood was a large pit filled with debris.

Two women, residents of an apartment building next door, were injured.

Three of the dead were firemen who had been summoned to the station in downtown Auburn because of a gasoline odor. They and two employees were inside the building when it disintegrated. The five bodies were recovered.

Firemen said employees of the station had been using gasoline to wash a grease rack. However, firemen said it had not been determined what set off the explosion.

The dead firemen were Lt. Alfred Murphy, 52, John Searing, 27, and Anthony Contrera, 36.

Also killed were Walter Ockenfels who operated the station for the R. J. Connor Oil Co., and John Bell, a Conner employee.

Dawson Court Invests Funds

LAMESA—Dawson County Commissioners authorized savings deposit of $228,594 on a short term basis and made three appointments in a regular meeting held here this week.

The total deposit was from eight separate funds and was made with the First National Bank.

The court authorized the funds deposited from the following accounts: Hospital fund—$25,594, indefinite period; treasurer's account (two)—$84,000; lateral road fund—$25,000; and four precinct funds totalling $132,000. None were deposited for more than 180 days and all will draw 3 per cent interest.

L. D. Echols was reappointed as a member of the Medical Arts Hospital board and C. A. Eiland, one of the founders of the facility, was named to succeed Bob Crawley, both terms are for a period of four years.

Arthur L. Stander was named to succeed the late Earl Goen as Pct. No. 1 Justice of the Peace by unanimous decision of the court. Stander was the first of four candidates to file for the post after Mrs. Goen declined the job here Monday.

City Commission Vote Set Tuesday

Big Spring voters will elect three members to the Big Spring City Commission Tuesday. The polls, in the central fire station, will be open from 8 a. m. to 7 p. m.

Three incumbent commissioners, Mayor Lee Rogers, John Taylor and George Zachariah, have no opposition in the election.

C. R. McClemy, city secretary, said all residents living within the city limits, who are qualified voters, may participate in the election. There has been some question concerning voting privileges of newly annexed residents.

McClemy said these residents could vote if they are qualified county voters.

Pope Confers Red Hats On New Catholic Cardinals

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope John XXIII today conferred the red hats symbolic of their rank on eight cardinals of the Roman Catholic church.

In a public consistory in St. Peter's Basilica the flat, broad-brimmed galero was held over the heads of seven new princes of the church and Paolo Cardinal Marella, former apostolic nuncio to France, who was named last December.

The new cardinals include the first Negro, Japanese and Filipino named to the church senate, two Italians, a Dutchman and a Frenchman.

Thousands packed St. Peter's for the ceremony, including pilgrims from Africa, the Philippines and Japan.

Cardinal Marella was the first to receive his galero.

The great basilica was hushed for the solemn words of the 78-year-old Pontiff as each cardinal knelt before him.

But when Bishop Laurian Rugambwa of Tanganyika approached the papal throne, applause broke out for the first Negro cardinal. The 6-foot, 47-year-old African prelate, whose diocese spreads for 4,000 square miles on the shore of Lake Victoria, knelt humbly before the Pope with his head bowed. He was the next to last to receive the galero.

The actual ceremony lasted only about seven minutes.

These raised the membership of the Sacred College of Cardinals to 68—the highest in history. Besides Bishop Rugambwa, the eight other new princes of the church are:

Peter Tatsuo Cardinal, 67, Archbishop of Tokyo; Rufino J. Cardinal Santos, 51, archbishop of Manila; Bernard Jan Cardinal Alfrink, 59, archbishop of Utrecht, Netherlands; Joseph Cardinal LeFebvre, 67, archbishop of Bourges, France; and Luigi Cardinal Traglia, 64, and Antonio Cardinal Ciriaco, 64, Italian members of the Vatican Curia.

Club Honors Local Boy

Gary McNew, 11 son of Mr. and Mrs. Rube McNew, 1960 Settle, was honored by the Abilene Kiwanis Club on Wednesday.

Young McNew, a first-year member of the Howard County 4-H Clubs, showed the champions Southdown lamb at the Abilene Regional Fat Stock show last January. He was also declared the champion lamb showman of the exposition. He was presented with a plaque in recognition of his achievement by the Abilene Kiwanians at their luncheon meeting.

Bill Sims, assistant county agent, was with young McNew at the meeting.

He had never shown a lamb until this year, Sims said.

Flood Threat Holds Grip On Midwest

By The Associated Press

Flood danger held an ominous grip across the Midwest today as damaging spring overflows kept thousands from their washed-out homes and threatened further evacuations.

At the same time, minor flooding erupted in some eastern areas as more rain added to the load of many rivers and streams that were running nearly bank full with melted snow.

In five states—Nebraska, Iowa, South Dakota, Kansas and Missouri—the Red Cross estimated 4,000 persons have been driven from their homes by flood waters. Several hundred others were made temporarily homeless in other sections of the Midwest flood zone, which covered Illinois, Wisconsin and Minnesota.

Rain ended in the Midwest and colder weather spread across the region, which was hit by the floods last weekend by the melting of the huge snow covering.

But in the East, rain continued and temperatures were mild. The wet belt covered the Ohio Valley and the mid and north Atlantic states. Possible flooding, although not considered major immediately, appeared likely in parts of Pennsylvania, Ohio, West Virginia and New York.

The floods in the Midwest have caused at least seven deaths, including 3 in Nebraska, 3 in Missouri and 1 in Illinois. Property damage was expected to run into the millions of dollars.

Although no new major floods developed in Nebraska and Iowa, two of the states hardest hit by the high water, several communities were on the alert for possible flooding.

In eastern Nebraska, the Platte River, which has caused the most damage, headed for crests at Ashland, Louisville and South Bend. The Big Blue was expected to reach its crest at Beatrice.

In northern Iowa, about 2,200 persons returned to their homes in the eastern section of Sioux City when the crest of the Floyd River passed without spilling over the levees. However, the city faced another crisis when the crest of the Big Sioux River passes the western section.

Orphans In Possible Mixup

Two of four Greek orphans that arrived in Houston, are met by their adoptive parents at the airport. At left Mrs. John B. Patella of Houston hugs the child she received. At right another orphan is greeted by Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Guenther of San Antonio. Mrs. Patella later said she thought she had the child intended for the Guenther and they had hers. Officials said they'd check legal descriptions of the children and if a mixup is confirmed the Greek embassy in New Orleans will arrange a legal exchange.

Country Boy Impressed By Valuable Gems

By FRANCIS STILLEY
NEW YORK (AP) — It was quite a sight for an old country boy—one million dollars worth of jewels right in front of me.
There must have been a jillion carats, all told, and every one sparkling and flashing, kind of like a sky full of fireworks on the Fourth of July.
A lot of oldtime fairytales didn't have even that many diamonds, rubies, emeralds, sapphires and what not. And yet you could put the whole million's worth in an Oklahoma cawgitt's hat and still have lots of room left over. Probably only a Texan could afford to try, however.

There was one big little diamond ring worth about $150,000. Another smaller one was tabbed at about $85,000—most likely for people who don't want to show off too much.
For everyday wear, there were such things as $50,000 emerald rings, a $45,000 ruby and diamond necklace and a very modest emerald bracelet for a mere $20,000.
Mighty impressive, all of it.
A lot of people around the world who want to—and can—buy such things will get their chance at an auction starting at the Parke-Bernet Galleries next Wednesday.
Beginning today the general public can drop in to take a look. Next Monday, dealers and experts get their chance.
Anyone can go in and actually take any piece into his hands for a close look. The Parke-Bernet people are trusting souls. Standing by, though, will be a number of special guards who aren't.

The collection is from the estate of Mrs. William R. Timken, widow of the cofounder of the Timken Roller Bearing Co., who died last October. Under her will, proceeds from the auction will go to six charitable and service agencies.
Parke-Bernet says it is the most valuable collection, from the standpoint of the number of pieces and their individual quality, ever to be sold at one time in this country. There are 158 items.
More than 1,000 persons, many from abroad, are expected to jam the auction room.
I don't reckon I'll be among them. Still too much an old country boy, I guess.

France Lifts Ban Near Atomic Site

PARIS (AP) — France lifted a ban on flights near her atomic test ground in the Sahara today a few hours before Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev was due back in Paris for a final round of talks with President Charles de Gaulle.
The flight ban, necessary prelude to France's second atomic test explosion, was in effect for only 3 hours and 5 minutes. A spokesman for the French Defense Ministry said there had been no test blast, but he would not clarify whether one had been planned and canceled or whether the aircraft warning was only a practice alert.

Monitor Will Appeal

WASHINGTON (AP) — Lawrence T. Smith, fired after he refused to resign as a court-appointed Teamsters Union monitor, says he will appeal his ouster to the U.S. Court of Appeals.
Smith said he knew of "no conceivable reason" for his dismissal and added he could be removed only for cause. He has been voting against Monitor Chairman Martin F. O'Donoghue on methods for cleaning up the Teamsters Union headed by James R. Hoffa.
U.S. Dist. Judge F. Dickinson Letis Wednesday ordered Smith's immediate removal as a monitor. He gave no reason, but said he acted after Smith rejected the judge's request that he resign.
Smith, a New York attorney, has taken the position that the monitors were focusing almost all their attention on steps aimed at removing Hoffa from the union's presidency.
Smith contended that as a result the monitors have neglected other work—especially complaints from union members about the way their officials have conducted union affairs. He said O'Donoghue's methods "will let Hoffa and the worst hoodlums escape justice."
O'Donoghue, who declined comment on Smith's ouster, has maintained that the monitors can accomplish little until Hoffa is out of office.

Ike Looks To Strictly Private Talks Among World's Leaders

Editor's Note: At his news conference Wednesday, President Eisenhower expressed some ideas on how to accomplish things at a summit conference. John M. Hightower, veteran AP reporter who covered the 1955 Geneva summit meeting and various subsequent international conferences, discusses those ideas in the following interpretive article.

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower is looking forward to a different kind of summit conference at Paris next May.
He wants some sessions to provide for strictly private conversations among himself, Prime Minister Harold Macmillan of Britain, French President Charles de Gaulle and Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

The President's interest in getting the Big Four to "explore each other's minds" emerged at his news conference Wednesday. His statements to reporters also developed another intriguing prospect for the future.
The Eisenhower administration seems destined to become increasingly in its closing months a kind

THIS DAY IN TEXAS
By CURTIS BISHOP

The State Legislature on this day in 1921 voted $2,500 for a monument to the memory of Texas pioneers who lost their lives when Fort Parker was captured by the Comanche Indians on May 19, 1836.
A monument was placed in Glenwood Cemetery, near Groesbeck. The Glenwood Cemetery Association raised a like amount to complete the memorial fund.
Several surveyors were slain in the Fort Parker massacre, but this Comanche outbreak is better remembered because of the three prisoners taken by the red men. Mrs. Rachel Plummer was later restored to her people but the story of Cynthia Ann and John Parker was not completely unraveled until after the Civil War.
Fort Parker was one of the earliest outposts north of Austin, and its destruction served to delay settlement of Central Texas for almost another decade. Lost in the raid were the records of the various land surveyors, contributing an unavoidable confusion to some land titles in the Groesbeck neighborhood as locations of land certificates were destroyed and the lands were later awarded to other owners.

Slayers Meet
Perry Smith, 31, right, smiles and turns to make a comment to Richard E. Hickok, 28, back to camera, as both men leave the courtroom at Garden City, Kan., following their conviction. A jury found them guilty of first degree murder and condemned them to death for the slayings of Herbert V. Clatter, Holcomb farmer, his wife and two children.

Slayers Meet

of caretaker government. Eisenhower did not use any such terms as that but in replying to a question about the possibility of a second summit conference late this year, he noted that more and more questions would arise about his ability to make commitments running beyond the end of his term next January.
ACT IN CRISIS
At the same time, however, he left no doubt that if a crisis should arise he intends to take whatever measures are necessary to meet it.
Whether the President has already discussed with others of the Big Four his ideas about the nature of the talks to be held at Paris was not clear. But it seemed almost certain that this had been one of the many matters he discussed with Macmillan at Camp David early this week. Macmillan left Washington Wednesday night.
During the summit conference at Paris and Eisenhower's subsequent visit to Moscow in June, major attention especially abroad will still be focused on Eisenhower, however strong his own sense of limitation in dealing with the future may be.
But Eisenhower's own concept probably means that at the Paris conference he will be looking for ways to solve only the more immediate East-West problems and in such a way that there would be little doubt of his successor's interest in carrying on.
SERIOUS QUESTION
Whether from a practical point of view there are such possibilities, with respect to the long deadlocked issues of German reunification, the future of West Berlin and the major problems of disarmament, is a serious question which only the four men at the summit can answer.
It seems likely that another effect of the terminal date on the President's powers may be to inhibit the administration from embarking on any bold new course or trying any fundamentally new initiative in negotiations with the Soviet Union.
The last summit conference was held at Geneva in 1955. At that time Eisenhower could see a long time ahead in which to carry out his plans and commitments. It was there that he proposed the open skies plan for mutual aerial inspection of the two great powers. Nothing came of it but if the Soviet Union had accepted the idea on the spot Eisenhower would have been able to see it into operation.

The meetings at Geneva were larger than those the President would like to see at least on some occasions at Paris.
ADVISERS NEARBY
While the leaders of the United States, Britain, France and the Soviet Union met informally at Geneva and sometimes talked casually over a drink, their business discussions were all held in the presence of at least some of their advisers.
Eisenhower deplored this kind of arrangement Wednesday, saying that when the meetings are held in a room crowded with people the four leaders are "talking at everybody else, instead of talking with them... they are talking to their own constituents... doing as good a propaganda job as they can."
What he prefers is "four men sitting around the table with their interpreters and, without anybody having any checks of any kind, (trying to) see if they can, by exploring each other's minds (find out) what do you really want to do? what could we do?"
One speculation is that this kind of a meeting will in fact be arranged by De Gaulle who is also understood to favor small private sessions of the Big Four. He may take Eisenhower, Macmillan and Khrushchev to his chateau at Rambouillet, many miles outside Paris, for a part of the meeting at the summit.
Whether in the end the four men will go without their foreign ministers is debatable, however. This kind of highly informal talk among individuals who are accustomed to having other people keep their records and record their conclusions for them gives diplomats the jitters.
The situation could easily lead to misunderstandings later on and the probability is that on the part of the Western Powers, at least, the advisers will urge their leaders to have their foreign ministers present.

Whether from a practical point of view there are such possibilities, with respect to the long deadlocked issues of German reunification, the future of West Berlin and the major problems of disarmament, is a serious question which only the four men at the summit can answer.
It seems likely that another effect of the terminal date on the President's powers may be to inhibit the administration from embarking on any bold new course or trying any fundamentally new initiative in negotiations with the Soviet Union.

Earp Family Feud Erupts

FAIRFIELD, Calif. (AP)—Gunslinger Wyatt Earp wouldn't have to go far to find trouble these days. There's a feud raging right in his own family.
The fuss is over TV quiz show winnings of Wyatt's nephew, Virgil Earp, who also served as a frontier marshal. Virgil died in Vallejo last November at the age of 80.
Alice Mae Earp Wright, Virgil's daughter, filed suit in Solano County Superior Court demanding $13,500 from Jean McKenzie, Virgil's niece.
Mrs. Wright said she didn't get anything from her father's will but he bequeathed $19,000 to Mrs. McKenzie.
Mrs. Wright said her father promised her half his winnings when he won $32,000 on the quiz show, the $64,000 question, in March, 1958.
As old Wyatt might have said, she never expected her father to cut her off at the pass book.

Machine Gun Bill Irks State Solon

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — A bill legalizing machine guns in Michigan met defeat Wednesday in the State Senate.
John Lesinski of Detroit introduced the bill on behalf of a group of gun collectors. One gun fancier, a funeral director, got several fellow morticians to write letters to the Senate.
But Sen. Charles Blundy of Detroit protested:
"It's an outrage. They're not killing people fast enough so the funeral directors want a bill to legalize machine guns."

Tall Tumbleweed Talk

Colorado City's tumbleweed "lycoon," Harry Snyder (right) discusses with Rex Felker, (left) Chamber of Commerce manager, and Eldon Mahon, chairman of the Tumbleweed Festival plans for converting the famous West Texas tumbleweed into a novelty. In the background is a building Snyder has leased for his operations.

Colorado City Goes Tippy Over Tumblin' Tumbleweed

By TOM JAY GOSS II
COLORADO CITY—They've finally found a use for the pesky things—tumbleweeds, that is. And it took a Yankee from Ohio to do it.
Harry Snyder, Cincinnati novelty manufacturer, is setting up a plant in Colorado City to bale and process the weed into uses and shapes entirely unplanned by nature. He plans to make stars, crosses, Christmas and Memorial wreaths, and store decorations from the spikey plant.
Several weeks ago, Snyder asked his Chamber of Commerce in Cincinnati to write to towns in the west asking for samples of the "tumblin' tumbleweed." One of the letters found its way to Colorado City and to Rex Felker, manager of the Colorado City Chamber of Commerce. Felker obliged with a box of tumbleweeds. Snyder became excited after experimenting with the things and decided to come to Texas to see how they grew.
In Colorado City, Snyder listened to members of the Chamber of Commerce and others "and after two days," he chuckled, "I said

I don't want your money, fellows, I just want your interest and whole-hearted cooperation."
PLAN A WHING DING
He got it. Colorado City got just about as excited as a hiccupping youngster on a pogo stick. Local citizens began planning a whingding that would rival a "lot sale" or a "railroad rally" at the turn of the century.
A Tumbleweed Festival was set for April 29th and Gov. Price Daniels was invited. He accepted. Attorney Will Wilson will be here. The Sons of the Pioneers, top Western music makers, are to be in Colorado City April 28-29.
A parade with floats and marching bands, is planned. The floats will be built by Snyder, are to be purchased by local merchants and organizations, and will all feature the tumbleweed theme. The local Jaycees will supply Snyder with weeds for the floats.
TUMBLEWEED QUEEN
A tumbleweed queen will be named on April 29th.
Snyder, executive vice president of the Gem Floral Company in Ohio, admits that things have been moving fast since he came to Texas. He says that the countrywide response to his tumbleweed idea has proven amazing. It is also apparent that his plans for his "Colorado City Tumbleweed Factory" haven't fully jelled yet.

After looking over the area, he says, his first thought was to set up a station at Colorado City to process the weed with his secret solution, bale it and ship to Cincinnati. Later thinking, including consideration of freight rates, has led him to consider the possibility of warehousing some of his products in West Texas; and the possibility of doing part of his manufacturing in Texas, both of tumbleweed products and his other novelty items.
In all the hurry burly, the tumbleweed market set steady at exactly zero. Snyder says he hasn't had to buy a tumbleweed yet. "The people in the area have brought them in." The Chamber of Commerce too, has supplied him with weeds for his present needs, steady supply of the tumbleweeds in sufficient quantity still lies in the future. Maybe a good sandstorm will blow in enough.

GREAT BEND, Kan. (AP) — The 2,221-mile U.S. Highway 281 was dedicated Wednesday as the National American Legion Memorial Highway.

The event was held at Great Bend, mid-point of the route from Canada to Mexico.
Texas was the first state officially to name U.S. 281 as a Memorial Legion Highway.
The highway is marked with a blue, gold and white emblem with the Legion designation.

Traveling Teacher Gives Science Lesson New Twist

LAMESA — Charles E. Compton wound up and let fly with a good round house curve, giving a new twist to science teaching here.
Compton is travelling out of Oklahoma State University under a federal grant as part of the traveling science teacher project. The program began three years ago at Oakridge, Tenn. when six teachers went from school to school, staged an assembly program, then moved on to the next one.
Now the program is nationwide, and each traveling science teacher spends a week in each of the schools assigned him, lecturing and helping to coordinate science programs. Compton has spoken to 50,000 pupils this year and when he completes his circuit he will have covered 25,000 miles in visiting 30 schools.
Addressing a student group interested in science and math, Compton disproved the age-old theory that "you can't fit a round peg in a square hole" by introducing three dimensional figures to his audience in a demonstration. With a table full of items likely to be found in any household trash can, Compton delighted the high school math and science enthusiasts with demonstrations which illustrated velocity, centrifugal force, torque and air pressure as it is applied in everyday existence.

The forces with which the gyroscope operates were demonstrated as well as its resistance to force. Compton told students that the principal of the gyroscope is now on hundreds of drawing boards figuring in plans for practical application in the world of tomorrow.
"Science fiction today will be science tomorrow," he said. He recalled that 20 years ago jet planes and ballistic missiles existed only in the "world of Buck Rogers yet today they are realities."
Science and math are important subjects for students, Compton pointed out; however, others are equally so. "We must have command of the English language, other languages, of history, of the humanities and other things as well," he stated.

To curiosity and imagination as ingredients of learning, he added leadership as driving force. This nation can't settle for second place, he said. Compton holds degrees from Central State College in Edmond, Okla., Sul Ross College at Alpine and has done graduate work at Wyoming and Oklahoma universities.

Dallas School Case Postponed

DALLAS (AP)—An April 4 hearing in the Dallas school segregation case has been postponed indefinitely by Federal Judge T. Whitfield Davidson.
Davidson last summer called for the hearing. But in the meantime, the 5th Circuit Court of Appeals in New Orleans ordered the Dallas School Board to present an integration plan by May 1.
The board plans to ask the appeals court to reconsider its order. Judge Davidson said his court will not have jurisdiction until the appeals court acts on the reconsideration motion.

Uncle Sam Gave Cupid Big Boost In Youngs' Romance

By SHERI WEBBER

There were 3,200 miles between Bernice and Norman Young originally, but as the saying goes, "love will find a way."

In their case Cupid got a little help from Uncle Sam.

Bernice comes from the colorfully named town of Welcome, Md. Her husband, a staff sergeant at Webb AFB, is a native of Gold Beach, Ore.

Uncle Sam and Cupid are the rascals who caused Norman to be stationed in La Plata, Md., a town just 12 miles from Welcome, and a three-month-long romance.

Bernice was working as a nurse's aide in a La Plata hospital during the summer with plans of entering nurses training when the fall semester rolled around. After meeting Norman in early June her plans suddenly changed—she was married September 6.

Nursing still continued to be a main interest in Bernice's life after her marriage. She worked for three years as a psychiatric aide when the couple was stationed with the U. S. Army in Pennsylvania.

After Norman's discharge from the Army he had been a civilian for one and a half years when the Korean conflict began. Young re-enlisted, this time with the Air Force.

Big Spring has been the home of this Air Force couple for the past seven years.

"It seems unbelievable that we have been able to stay here so long," says Bernice with a faint trace of "Yankee" accent. "This is home now!"

Five years ago a Texan joined the Young family. Blue-eyed, brownette David is already capable of walking in his cowboy boots like a natural son-of-the-range. Nothing thrills him more than 30 minutes on the back of a riding stable horse.

More subdued activities interest blond Mark, who will be 2 next month. "He enjoys playing with my vacuum cleaner more than any toy in the house!" relates his mother. When the telephone rings and he knows his mother can't reach him, the fair-complexioned little boy heads immediately to the closet that houses the cleaner. When Mrs. Young gets off the phone and scolds her mischievous son, he merely watches his mother's antics with solemn blue eyes.

Mrs. Young's housekeeping is the envy of her friends. "I enjoy housekeeping," says the young homemaker. To her there is a challenge in cleaning, and the Young home on Dow Drive is always neat.

Bernice has discovered housekeeping is easier for her if she follows a routine. So on Mondays and Fridays she tries to wash, though with two small children it is sometimes necessary to run a load in between times.

Children are a love of both the Youngs, and at the First Assembly of God Church Mrs. Young teaches a Sunday school class of 6-year-old primary children. The junior boys are instructed by S.Sgt. Young.

Another love of the Young family—especially the three men—is cake. Norman taught his young bride to make her first pineapple upside-down cake. He has since "retired" from the cooking business, but his protégé has become an excellent baker.

Frostings aren't well liked by the Young family, so the recipes that Bernice has selected are those that are just as good without a topping. The one frosting that is enjoyed better than the rest is given by Mrs. Young.

Spoiling For Spuds? Try This!

My, what a good cook can do with the strictly American potato. Yes, even if in 1719 a group of Irish folk did bring us the spud, it was not indigenous to that country; it had traveled to Ireland from its original home in South America.

The potato's very blandness has virtue. It makes a fine base for savory additions.

Fried any potato pancakes lately, crisp and golden-brown around the edges, melting-soft inside? Raw potatoes grated fine, medium or coarse—according to your own taste specifications—are needed for these along with egg, salt, pepper and a suspicion of flour and maybe onion. Serve them hot from the griddle with applesauce for an easy Saturday lunch or Sunday night supper. Only one caution: have plenty!

Know what certain herbs can do for the plain boiled new-crop spud? Dill, parsley, chives or mint mingle with melted butter over these; served with meaty steaks of halibut or salmon they're company fare. Save yourself a serving dish at this meal and add bright green peas, sweet and tender, for a two-in-one vegetable.

How about the almost lost art of oven-browning potatoes along with the roast, basting them lovingly with the flavorful meat drippings? Once upon a time these were given the fancy name of Franconia, but call them pan-roasted and they still taste wonderful.

One of the best modern cooks wise into 1/4-inch slices; there should be 6 cups. Separate onion slices into rings. Boil potatoes and onions rapidly in boiling water with 1 teaspoon of the salt until just about tender—about 5 minutes; drain. Turn into a buttered 2-quart baking dish (about 8 by 10 by 2 inches). Melt butter in saucepan over low heat; stir in flour, remaining 1 teaspoon salt and pepper. Add milk; cook and stir constantly over moderately low heat until bubbly and thickened. Stir in cheese over very low heat until melted. Pour sauce over potatoes; sprinkle with paprika. Bake in hot (400 degrees) oven 20 to 30 minutes. Makes 8 servings.

Lenten Dish

Serve up potatoes with a golden cheese sauce and a shower of paprika. They'll be relished at a party buffet or the family table.

Fresh Vegetables Are Now Plentiful

By The Associated Press

Spring weather has put more fresh vegetables on Texas dinner tables.

Especially noticeable, the Agricultural Marketing Service reported Thursday, are greater abundance of greens, cabbage, sweet corn, iceberg lettuce and new-crop onions.

A weekly review by the agency gave these other highlights:

Texas markets are receiving heavy supplies of carrots, celery, old-crop onions, grapefruit, lemons and oranges, especially Valencias from South Texas, at reasonable prices.

Irish and sweet potatoes continued to provide much food value at low cost, although prices have risen somewhat. Apples and avocados remain on the "good buy" list.

Dealers also report brisk trade in onion sets and cabbage plants as fields and gardens warm up and become ready to work.

Wholesale prices are noticeably lower this week on cabbage, corn, lettuce, onions and strawberries. Asparagus prices have dropped a bit. Cantaloupe shipments increased but prices are unchanged.

Items higher than last week include beans, broccoli, cauliflower, cucumbers, potatoes and tomatoes.

Purple-hull crowder peas from South Texas showed up in light supply this week. Prices are still fairly high.

Many Texas stores are featuring canned, water-packed blackberries as the East Texas industry encourages wide use of last year's huge pack. East Texas normally has about one-third of the nation's cultivated blackberry acreage.

Canned freestone peaches, raisins and peanut products also are plentiful.

Casuals Boost Hawaii's Stock In Fashion World

By HENRY HARTENBUSCH
 HONOLULU (AP)—Hawaii long famed for its sun-drenched beaches, softly swaying palms and comfortable pace, is rapidly becoming an international fashion center for casual wear.

"In the not too distant future," says Richard T. Goodwin, "it will be a source of international fashioning similar to the popularity Italy acquired after World War II."

Goodwin, styling director of Alfred Shaheen, Hawaii's leading house of fashion, garment manufacturer and exporter, believes Hawaii some day may even out-Paris, New York or Rome in fashion.

"The accent of women's wear in Hawaii is casual—and the trend is toward further informality," Goodwin says. "Suburban living—the trend all over the United States today as well as several foreign countries—requires functional casual wear."

Fashion today ranks third after sugar and pineapple among Hawaii's exports. The industry, growing at a rate of about 15 per cent annually, reached 15 million dollars last year. Gov. William F. Quinn predicts it will top 70 million dollars in 10 years.

Over 4½ million dollars worth of clothes—sundresses, lounge costumes, sarongs and women's as well as men's beachwear—were sent to the United States mainland and several foreign countries in 1959.

Goodwin, a 36-year-old bachelor from Belfast, Ireland, who once was destined for a British foreign service career, says his main job is to develop a fashion in the smart casual field. A cross-roads of the Pacific and the melting pot of exotic Eastern cultures, Hawaii has proved a fertile field for fashion.

"Inspiration for design is drawn from the various Oriental cultures blended here with a touch of Polynesian mixtures," says Goodwin. "It's a tremendous field. You have the great arts and crafts of Asia and Australia, the South Sea Islands, the Pacific Ocean itself and Hawaii's own Polynesian archipelago."

Shaheen, who first set up a textile print plant in a quonset hut in 1951, today is the only garment manufacturer in Hawaii to do its own fabric printing. Among their designs are "Canton," "Luau," "Kyoto," "Joss Sticks," "Rolling Surf," and "Geisha."

The "Canton" fabric is heavy on plume branches with bright blossoms and soft shadows. "Luau," as the name indicates, is a native Hawaiian feast complete with roast pig, tropical fruits, fish, nets and torches drawn in bold line and colors on backgrounds of red, turquoise, grey or yellow. "Kyoto," a bit of old Japan, has a white chrysanthemum motif. Chinese ceremonial incense wands enhanced with Oriental calligraphy are blended into "Joss Sticks." And "Rolling Surf" depicts graceful little fish swimming through breakers of the great barrier reef off Australia.

Goodwin says the "Geisha-Set" outfit, popular for casual entertaining, can best be described as a contemporary American function.

"Inspiration of the cut came from the Japanese," he says. "The flower motif print is Hawaiian, and treatment of the print design a Van Gogh. It's a box top with long pants."

Popular among Honolulu women for casual entertaining are the "Bora Bora Sheath"—a simple sheath of white; "Temple Set," box top and long pants patterned after ancient Chinese brocades; "Tahiti," a strapless top with a full skirt; and "Paradise Sarong," the traditional garment of the Polynesian woman.

Lately, a fitted version of the "muu-muu" called "Holomuu" has been worn at formal dinners. The muu-muu is a shapely, loose-fitting, nightgown-like dress, usually worn floor-length that originated in the 1820's when missionary wives put Mother Hubbard's over the Polynesians to cover their nakedness.

The "Holomuu" has a waistline, sometimes puffed short sleeves, and has a wide following among residents and tourists alike. Its appearance at formal functions shows that Hawaii's trend toward further informality is continuing.

The 1961 graduating class of Knott High School had a reunion recently in the home of MR. AND MRS. BILL STOVALL (Jewell Smith). Only one of the group who was unable to attend was MRS. BOB SLATER (Mary Pirkle) who is with her husband at his station at Eglin AFB in Florida. Others present were JO ANNE GAY LIGHT, San Diego, Calif.; MRS. BILL MORRIS (Jane Hopper), Midland; MRS. F. E. PEUGH (Nila Shaw), MRS. BILL HOWELL (Geneva Jones); the ALVIN DITTOES, the MELVIN GIBBS, the BUD NICHOLS, the JACK MYRES, and the class sponsors, MR. AND MRS. LAMBERT MISEK.

Back from a visit in Dallas are MRS. J. C. HURT and HELEN HURT who spent several days with friends.

Guests in the Midland home of MR. AND MRS. JOE BLACK are MR. AND MRS. GERALD LIBERTY who live at Big Bear, Calif.

Seamstresses Have A Ball

BEATTYVILLE, Ky. (AP)—When Mrs. Elmer Pfeiffer goes into a store that sells sporting goods, the first thing she does is to examine the basebells.

"I just have to look and see if they're stitched right," she says. "Automation hasn't extended yet to the stitching of basebells, and each one must be painstakingly sewed by hand."

Mrs. Pfeiffer is one of a number of Eastern Kentuckians who do the sewing.

She and Mrs. Leonard Rogers get together almost every day at one of their homes at Leeco, near here, and do the work.

They use two needles threaded with waxed string and turned and crossed swords position away from them. The ball is held in a clamped rack with the dampened cover material held on by glue and staples.

After the sewing, the ball is finally shaped in a press.

Mrs. Pfeiffer and Mrs. Rogers average one finished ball every 12 minutes. The two of them sew 24 dozen covers each week.

New Grandson

Goodhearted Tailor Sews For Charity

ATLANTA (AP)—Ben Bailey, a tailor, sews on hundreds of buttons a year without profit.

When a customer reaches in his pocket to pay, Bailey nods toward a little jar on a counter: Whatever the customer gives goes to an Atlanta Children's Hospital.

"A quarter is the smallest anyone ever dropped in," Bailey says. "A lot of people put in a dollar. It amounts to about $10 or $12 a month for the hospital."

Improves Skin

Claudia Barrett tells how she solved her bad skin problems. "I learned that how you clean your face today makes the difference in how it is going to look tomorrow," she says.

HOLLYWOOD BEAUTY

Correct Care May Solve Skin Problems

HOLLYWOOD—The first time I met Claudia Barrett she was under contract to Warner Bros. and was having quite a time trying to find out what was making her skin break out. The other day at lunch, with the sun streaming in on our table, I found her complexion fresh and flawless.

"I consulted a doctor and discovered that an acid condition was one of the causes of my trouble. I love oranges and pineapple but I have to be careful about eating them because they are acid-forming."

"I learned that how you clean your face today makes the difference in how it is going to look tomorrow. I used lots of creams until I found they were clogging my pores and made my face break out in pimples. Now I cleanse my face with an unperfumed soap. I work in a very rich lather with my fingertips and rinse it off with lots of lukewarm water, followed by cold water."

"I use a non-allergic greasless lotion to keep my skin from being dry. This routine has worked so well I don't have to wear make-up," Claudia exclaimed.

"Do you like to make resolutions?" she asked suddenly. "I do. And one of mine has been accomplished today."

She beamed as she showed me her belt and said, "I've taken in one whole notch and it still isn't tight."

"I resolved to have a smaller waist before the year is out and here it is only spring and I've taken off one inch. My favorite exercise is to stand with my hands on my hips and slowly rotate my waist around and around—first in one direction and then in the other. I work for 10 minutes every single day."

"My big trouble used to be that I'd make such an ambitious plan

Grandiflora Roses Make Ideal Plants For Landscaping

If you want rose bushes to brighten certain drab areas of your property, or as specimen plants for color, try the comparatively new grandiflora class, advises the American Association of Nurserymen. The plants are vigorous and they have many blooms for cutting.

Since this class only recently has been established, there are about nine varieties so listed. These include: Carrousel (dark red), Queen Elizabeth (clear pink), Montezuma (orange scarlet), Starfire (cherry red), Buccaneer (deep yellow), Dean Collins (light red), Roundelay (dark red), Gold Coast (yellow), and June Bride (white).

In considering rose plants for their landscape effect, don't neglect the floribunda and climbing rose classes.

Climbing roses grow big, wide and handsome when supported by an arbor, fence or lattice-work, or fastened against a wall. Many floribunda roses, too, grow to considerable size. When massed they provide colorful emphasis.

Cosmetic Cape

Hate to throw anything away? Here's an idea: when your plastic raincoat becomes too shabby for wear, cut it to waist length, shorten the sleeves, and use it as a "cosmetic cape" while you wash your hair, apply make-up, or do any chore which requires a bit of protection. Keep it clean by wiping with a sudsy sponge.

Convention Wives Are Considered In Plans

By MARY CAMPBELL
 CHICAGO (AP)—The day when Pop left Mom at home while he whooped it up at a convention is fading fast.

Nowadays he works hard at a convention and he brings along his wife who has a lot of fun.

Making sure the little woman has the best time possible in Chicago while her husband listens to speeches is the job of Miss Josephine Mutter.

She operates a one-woman business dedicated "to providing a program for the woman which I would like were I the wife of a visiting postmaster."

Miss Mutter mentions postmasters because, in arranging for their convention in Chicago several years ago, they were the first to ask, "What do you have planned for the girls?"

A hotel gave her the job of entertaining the postmasters' wives and from then on, in letters soliciting conventions, the hotel advertised itself as the only one in Chicago with a woman on the staff to direct entertainment for the ladies.

For the last 14 years, Miss Mutter has been on her own, taking care of distaff groups in all Chicago convention hotels.

A typical schedule for a three or four-day convention where the ladies are under Miss Mutter's direction would include a sightseeing tour of Chicago or a yacht ride on Lake Michigan, a fashion show, a tea, a matinee and lots of time for shopping.

Breakfasts are late, letting the wife nap after her husband has left for his first meeting, and luncheon menus are all planned by Miss Mutter. She counts calories, mindful of banquets on the convention schedule.

Miss Mutter always sees that a matronly model appears in the fashion shows, provides a map of the shopping areas and has tickets to radio and television programs. She often is called on to provide corsages and favors for the women.

While she admits one Washington association hired her, as they put it, "to keep the gals out of our hair," Miss Mutter sees her job as more than that. "I like women and I like service," she says. "And that's why I enjoy my work."

Leftovers Inspire Chinese Fried Rice

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
AP Newsfeatures Food Editor

A reader asks how to prepare Fried Rice, often enjoyed in Chinese restaurants.

Although there are innumerable variations of this dish, soy sauce and onion or scallions (or both) always season the rice.

A search of our dozen or so Chinese cook books reveals that roast pork and chicken are the meats most usually added to the rice and seasonings, but sometimes ham and beef go in. One New York restaurant features Fried Rice with Mixed Meat. Shrimp and lobster are popular seafood additions, but crab is another candidate.

When it comes to vegetables, we have found recipes with the following (besides onion and scallion) in various combinations: celery, celery cabbage, bean sprouts, green peas, water chestnuts, bamboo shoots, mushrooms, green pepper.

Pick 10 additions from these meats and vegetables, and you can correctly label your dish Fried Rice Subgum.

Unless your cooked rice is firm, you are likely to have Fried Rice Mush! Converted-type or long-grain rice cooked in a minimum amount of water to the proper stage for this dish will be done through but not soft.

Chinese Fried Rice recipes usually include egg and there are a couple of ways of adding it. We think you'll be most successful with the method given here.

ROAST PORK FRIED RICE
2 tbsps. peanut or other salad (not olive) oil
1/2 cup diced roast pork
2 cups firm-cooked converted-type or long-grain rice (chilled)

1-3 cup diced green celery
1-3 cup diced green pepper
2 scallions (sliced thin cross-wise with green tops included)
2 tbsps. soy sauce
Egg strips

Slowly heat a 10-inch iron skillet until very hot; add oil and heat. Add pork and brown lightly. Add rice and heat rapidly, tossing. Add celery, pepper, scallions and soy sauce; continue heating rapidly. Garnish with egg strips. Serve at once. Makes 2 large or 4 small servings.

Egg Strips: Heat 1 teaspoon oil in a 6-inch skillet; add a lightly beaten egg; cook until firm on bottom, drawing egg away from edge of pan so rest of egg can run over when pan is tilted. Turn and cook other side. Turn out and cut in strips.

Add Gaiety To Dessert

Festive cherry gelatin dessert.

DOUBLE CHERRY GELATIN

1 can (1 pound and 1 ounce) dark sweet pitted cherries in heavy syrup

Water

1 large pkg. (6 ounces) cherry-flavored gelatin

1/4 cup dry red wine

Drain cherries thoroughly over a measure; halve cherries and reserve. Add enough water to cherry syrup to make 2 cups; heat to boiling; add to gelatin and stir to dissolve.

Stir in 1 1/4 cups cold water and the wine.

Chill, stirring occasionally, until slightly thickened. Fold in drained halved cherries. Turn into a 5-cup mold. Chill until set. Unmold; if you like, serve with a garnish of whipped cream. Makes 8 servings.

Dates, Nuts Spice Quick, Easy Bread With Health Foods

This quick bread has an interesting texture.

DATE-NUT HEALTH LOAF

1 1/2 cups sifted flour

2 1/2 tps. double-acting baking powder

1/2 tsp. salt

1-3 cup dark brown sugar, firmly packed

1/2 cup pre-sweetened wheat germ

1/2 cup sliced dates

1/2 cup chopped walnuts (medium fine)

1 egg

1/4 cup milk

1 tbsps. butter or margarine, melted

Sift together the flour, baking powder, salt and brown sugar; stir in wheat germ, dates and nuts.

Beat egg until thick and lemon colored; beat in milk; stir in melted butter. Add flour mixture; stir just until moistened. Turn into buttered 8 by 4 by 2 1/2 inch loaf pan.

Bake in moderate (350 degrees) oven 45 to 50 minutes or until cake tester inserted comes out clean.

Turn out on wire rack to cool; to slice bread thin, wrap tightly in transparent plastic wrapping and leave overnight.

Vegetables Combine To Give Added Touch

An engaging vegetable combination that is new.

SPECIAL PEAS AND TURNIPS

4 medium-sized (1/2 pound without tops) white turnips

1 large new potato

1 pkg. (10 ounces) frozen green peas

1/2 cup boiling water

1 tsp. salt

1 to 2 tbsps. butter

Pepper

If peas are solid pack, allow to stand, package opened, at room temperature about 30 minutes to defrost enough to separate.

Pare turnips and potato; cut in 1/4-inch thick slices; cut turnips into about 1/2-inch long pieces and potatoes about 1/4-inch long.

Cook turnips and potatoes together rapidly and covered in water and salt just until tender — 8 minutes or so; watch so turnips keep their shape.

Add the peas and cook about 5 minutes longer, or until all vegetables are tender. Drain; add butter and white pepper to taste. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Soup Quickie Is Hearty Lunch

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
AP Newfeatures Food Editor

With springtime round the corner you may find some soup-and-salad lunches a boon. They're easy on the cook and nutritious for the family.

The soup can be a hearty one with home-brewed flavor, even if it's not a made from scratch. This recipe we concocted fills that bill. We used a new condensed canned soup, tomato-rice, as the base and added crabmeat for substance along with other flavorful additions.

Asparagus — whether it's fresh, frozen or canned — makes a fine salad after the soup. To our way of thinking, the perfect way to treat asparagus to be served cold is to marinate it. For the marinade we like to use olive oil, vinegar, salt, pepper, prepared mustard, a suspicion of sugar, salt and pepper. The asparagus ought to stay in the marinade for at least an hour.

If you want to add to the salad, tomato, cucumber, canned pimiento and hard-cooked eggs are all compatible flavors. If eggs are used they may be forced through a fine strainer over the asparagus to give a charming mimosa effect.

TOMATO CRABMEAT CHOWDER

- 2 tbsps. butter or margarine
- 2 medium-sized onions (cut in thin strips)
- 1/2 of a large green pepper (diced)
- 2 cans (10 1/2 ounces each) condensed tomato-rice soup

- 2 cups water
- 1/2 tsp. garlic powder
- 1 can (6 1/2 ounces) king crabmeat

Melt the butter in a medium-sized saucepan; add the onion and green pepper and cook gently until wilted and onion is yellowed. Add undiluted soup; stir in water gradually; add garlic powder. Heat slowly. Remove cartilage from crabmeat, keeping large pieces as intact as possible. Add to soup and reheat. Serve some of the large pieces of crab in each bowl. This makes a richly flavored thick soup; more water may be added if desired. Makes 4 servings.

For The Seashore

What you'll see by the sea this summer is a fashion paradox. There'll be less to some swim suits but more to others. For the daring, there will be the bikinis... for the demure, tank suits, seaworthy beach dresses, and the maillet. Popular fabrics in all styles will include cotton knits and twills, piques, gingham, ticking... even flower-splashed cotton satins and brocades. The suits... most of which come with modest cover-ups in matching fabrics... keep their shape in the water, dry quickly.

Save Those Bones

Freeze know-how: save bones from meat roasts — ham, pork and beef — and then use them all together in one rich soup base!

If we made Gladiola Flour for Sweet, Ida...

we could afford to relax a little

...but we make it for you

The best home bakers in America live in Gladiola Land (it's just a mite bigger than Texas). To make flour that's good enough for these ladies, you really have to keep your nose to the grindstone.

We don't mind, though. Every day, year after year, snow-white Gladiola Flour outsells every other brand. For biscuits, pies and cakes with a nationwide reputation, no other flour will do.

As for Sweet, Ida., ladies—they'll never know what you know about flour quality. This, for instance: Gladiola Flour costs your family only about 1/2¢ a day more than the cheapest flour made.

Bake and be Glad—with

A Devotional For Today

If thou doest well, shalt thou not be accepted? and if thou doest not well, sin lieth at the door. (Genesis 4:7.)

PRAYER: Dear Lord, help us to hate sin. Help us to avail ourselves of the pardon and cleansing that are offered by Christ, the great sin-bearer. In the name of Him who taught us to pray, "Our Father who art in heaven, . . . Amen."

(From The "Upper Room")

Careless Writing, Not Phony Picture

An hour-long TV show whose whole theme revolved around the claim that the famous photograph of the flag-raising on Mt. Suribachi on Iwo Jima was a phony brought a quick reply from the Associated Press, whose photographer, Joe Rosenthal, took the shot, that it was not a rehearsed or posed picture.

The story's protagonist was a Pima Indian, Ira Hayes, who was one of the Marines taking part in the flag-raising, and relates the dissolution and death of Hayes some years later. It is made to appear that Hayes' unhappy postwar life was a consequence of his conviction that the celebrated picture was a phony.

Louis Lowery, a staff sergeant at the time, now photographic director of the Marines' Leatherneck magazine, says he took a picture of the first flag raised on Suribachi. But it was a small flag, only 54 by 28 inches, and could not be seen from many parts of the island.

So it was decided to put up a bigger flag, and one measuring 8 feet by 4 feet, 8 inches was secured from the LST 779. A Marine squad, accompanied by Rosenthal, climbed Suribachi—Japs were still holed up on the slopes, and had to be beaten back by hand grenades—and planted the flag as Rosenthal shot his magnificent picture.

It was not "posed" or "rehearsed"—the flag went up on the first try. Rosenthal had spotted the flag party and followed it up.

No effort was made to suppress the knowledge of the first flag-raising. The Associated Press reported both incidents at the time and it has been mentioned in magazine articles. The TV drama apparently tried to leave the impression this was news. It wasn't. But, the warped bit of writing in the script was shoddy and slanted.

The Least That You Can Do

Saturday in Big Spring, as well as in Coahoma, Forsan, Knott and other school districts of the county, voters will go to the polls to select trustees for the local districts, for the county board and for the Howard County Junior College board.

Next Tuesday the voters of Big Spring will go to the polls to elect three members of the city commission.

In each and every instance it is the solemn obligation of voters to take the time to go to the polls.

In each and every instance they should consider carefully what the offices demand and then fit their votes to candidates accordingly.

These are not honorary posts. Let no one be under the delusion that all these public boards do is to meet briefly and bless the work of administrators and go home. Far from it. For instance, the Big Spring school board members meet on an average of 10 hours per month in scheduled sessions. They put in more than that amount of time in either called sessions, or on special committee and study assignments. Their contribution is something on the order of half a regular work week to a full work week in each month. The pay is the satisfaction of service.

If anything, the time requirements of those who serve for city commission are even greater. The commission actually meets most every week although there are only two regularly scheduled meetings. Many weeks there is something going on every night. For instance in this week there have been meetings Monday and Tuesday and Wednesday—and there could be one other before the week is out. In between are committee assignments to be performed.

Trustees and commissioners alike spend many hours each month listening to the suggestions, the ideas, the complaints—and once in a great-while the thanks—of their constituents.

The whole point is that local public service is an exacting job and not one to be decided or entered upon lightly. Those who are willing to put untold hours in each year in faithful service are entitled to at least the few minutes it requires you to go to the polls and vote.

David Lawrence Uncertainties In Medical Care Plan

WASHINGTON—Inflation may be temporarily checked, but the bill for past inflation is now up for payment. The American people are about to be asked, for example, to pay in increased taxes the cost of higher medical expenses for the aged.

Naturally, union-labor leaders, who have been in large part responsible for the inflationary wave of prices in the last few years, are sponsors of the new program of medical care to be paid by the government out of new taxes. But the largest number of citizens who may have to foot the bill is to be found among the self-employed and the farm and city workers who are not members of labor unions.

THE UNION-LABOR leaders want the social security tax base to be increased from $4,800 a year to $6,000. This means that employers would have to pay an additional $420 million, while workers and self-employed would have to pay $320 million. But there are only 8,000,000 workers with incomes between $4,800 and $6,000 a year, and they would pay about $300 million a year, whereas the 8,000,000 workers with incomes above $6,000 a year would pay an increase of more than $320 million.

This would mean a reduction in weekly "take-home" pay and, of course, it could result in new demands by the unions for increased wages from employers in order to take care of this "cut" in wages for those who have to pay the higher tax. Incidentally, under the labor-backed plan, about 57,000,000 persons with incomes of $4,800 a year or less—including most trade-union members—wouldn't pay an increase in social security taxes but would eventually receive the benefits, and so would their aged relatives now.

UNDER THE RHODES plan proposed by Rep. Forand of Rhode Island, Democrat, however, the social security base would stand at $4,800, but the tax rate would be increased for everybody paying social security taxes. Workers would pay $570 million more, and employers $590 million more, or a total of $1.1 billion more per year. All of the 73,000,000 persons, therefore, now subject to social security taxes and employers of 66,000,000 hired workers would pay more in taxes than at present.

All this is supposed to be for "medical care for the aged." Nobody knows just how much the program is really going to cost eventually but, once the scheme for adding to social security taxes to absorb the medical costs gets going, the increases will come as the medical costs continue to rise.

It so happens that over the last week-end some interesting figures were announced by the U. S. Department of Labor about the increase in the nation's living costs for the month of January. The reasons given for the rise were twofold: "Higher interest rates and higher medical costs."

AS FOR THE RISE in medical costs, these are due to the increased expenses at hospitals and medical institutions which are, in turn, largely due to inflation. Many of the co-operative private agencies that issue insurance policies for medical care have recently had to increase their premium charges because of the higher cost of medical service.

It is not surprising that President Eisenhower has come out against the plan to increase social security taxes and favors instead a plan by which the expenses would be met out of general revenues. The outlays, moreover, would be confined to those who are in need. The administration program is described as "voluntary medical insurance plan for the needy aged."

There has been some talk about the whole problem becoming an issue in the coming presidential campaign. It should be.

For the American people are going to have to decide sooner or later whether or not they want a "cradle-to-the-grave" welfare program, with certain taxpayers providing the money for everybody, including those who are well able to take care of the medical expenses of their parents and grandparents. The issue, of course, lends itself to political misinterpretation.

ACTUALLY, AT THE end of 1958, a total of 17,000,000 persons already had major medical insurance, as compared to 100,000 at the end of 1951. Also, the figures for the year 1959 are expected to show a further big increase in the amount of medical insurance among those who are 65 years or older.

The problem can be handled for the most part by the citizens themselves, through insurance programs at small fees per month. As for the needy, the federal and state governments are necessarily obligated to bear that cost. But it will be small compared to the welfare programs being proposed in Congress today to be paid for through various devices that call for increases in social security tax rates.

Meters Freeze Up

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The coldest March weather in St. Louis history brought a suspension of parking meter enforcement in sections of St. Louis County. Police decided motorists were having enough trouble fighting the elements. Besides, the parking meters had frozen.

UNCLE SAM WANTS YOU

James Marlow How Is Nixon Different In His Views?

WASHINGTON (AP)—At least a couple of things seemed settled—but not quite—in this otherwise rather quiet political week.

On Monday Vice President Richard M. Nixon told a Nebraska audience he would not run for the presidency on the record of the Eisenhower administration alone but would have an expanded program of his own.

And Wednesday President Eisenhower told a news conference Nixon would be "absolutely stupid" to try to run on his administration's record alone. But what remains unsettled is this:

1. Just how far can Nixon depart from Eisenhower's view of things—since too much difference might look like criticism—and still expect vigorous support from the President in the campaign?
2. Just what kind of program of his own is Nixon going to think up? He is trying to get a farm program different from the administration's, or so it seems. And he has listed some points he says will be issues in the campaign.

BUT THERE IS still a haze—although it's too early to expect him to get specific yet, with the campaign still months away—over how he is going to make his thinking look new or different from Eisenhower's.

Nixon himself said last January at a Chicago dinner that, "great as are our domestic problems," national security and foreign policy transcend them all. Then he proceeded to defend the Eisenhower performance in both fields.

Since the Democrats have been continually critical of Eisenhower's vision in national defense, Nixon should be in a bit of dilemma saying much that is different from the President in this field. He can't join the Democrats in their criticism and he can't very well propose what the Democrats suggest without appearing to agree with them.

He outlined to the dinner five areas of the administration's record which probably will play a major role in his campaign although exactly what his position on each will be is something he has to figure out.

Education: The American system is the best in the world, he said, "but inadequate classrooms, underpaid teachers and flabby standards are weaknesses we must constantly strive to eliminate."

THAT'S ALL BEEN said before. The question is: How? And right there Nixon seemed to follow the Eisenhower line. He cautioned that federal programs must not infringe upon state and local responsibility.

Agriculture: On this he said "there is no higher legislative priority than a complete overhauling of obsolete farm programs under which the prices farmers receive for major farm production continue to go down and the costs to the taxpayers continue to go up." But Nixon still hasn't come up with his own farm program.

Unemployment: He called for programs in which "areas of chronic unemployment can be restored to healthy, productive units of our economy."

Only Wednesday a special Senate committee of Democrats and Republicans said unemployment is a grave national problem requiring comprehensive remedial action. But they disagreed on how to handle it.

Social Security: Nixon said there is need for "more adequate methods for protecting the aged, the unemployed and the disabled."

Wednesday Eisenhower opposed any compulsory insurance system to provide medical care for the aged. In this field Nixon may break away from Eisenhower's thinking. But that's for the future to show.

Labor-management disputes: Nixon said these must be dealt with "so that the public interest may be more adequately protected but without controls which would stifle the productivity of our free enterprise system."

This will require some neat doing. Figuring out how ought to take up a lot of Nixon's time.

Hal Boyle Candidates For Heroism

NEW YORK (AP)—Every era produces its own heroes, those sons of time and destiny who stand out from the crowd.

In our caveman past, the man of the hour was the guy who could bluff a saber-toothed tiger in the nose with a club and make it purr like a kitten.

In days of old, when knights were bold, it was the fellow on horseback who could stick his iron lance into a charging dragon and convert him into a chunk of smoking shish-kebab.

During World War II it was the GI Joe who could serve four years in the Army—and never do latrine duty.

But who are the shining heroes of our civilization today?

Here are a few unconventional nominees:

Any man who can catch a common head cold and keep it a secret.

Anyone with the courage to defy the mob by saying, "No, I don't hate cocktail parties. I like them."

The wife who can zip up and unzip her dress without crying for male help.

The fat man bold enough to eat a nut-topped fudge sundae without whining. "My psychiatrist says I need sweets to bolster my sense of security."

Any mother brave enough to spank a naughty child in public.

Any father sensible enough to back such a mother up.

Any fellow smart enough to figure a way to beat the races, considerate enough to let the rest of us in on his system.

The first taxpayer who finds an honest way to cheat the government.

The first politician who announces, "What this country needs is a good five-cent hot dog" and produces it.

One wife—one single, solitary wife—who would break up with her husband if he even started to use the phrase, "I told you so."

One husband—one single, solitary husband—who could truthfully complain to his wife, "Darling, why don't you talk to me anymore?"

The first doctor of 1960 who buys himself a new horse and buggy.

To Your Good Health Don't Force A Four-Year-Old To Eat

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M. D.
"Dear Dr. Molner: Is it all right to force a child to eat? My four-year-old grandson isn't underweight, but sometimes he refuses food. Frequently his father makes him eat, and the child gets sick all the while. —M. A."

A child should not be forced to eat.

There are a few simple logical rules and tricks to keep a child eating the RIGHT things, but no good can be accomplished by forcing him to eat. Instead harm will usually result.

Hunger is one of the basic drives of life. If children are hungry and ready for food, they will eat. This is true from babyhood on.

As they get a little bit older they get frisky. Child psychiatrists tell us that four is a very capricious age. Four-year-olds try out ideas of their own and develop a MIND of their own.

They still have all the basic drives, and always will. When hungry, they'll eat. But try to force them, and they'll rebel. They quite often, under such circumstances, throw up what is forced down. Why shouldn't they?

Wouldn't you?

Let 'em eat if they're hungry; let 'em not eat if they aren't. And so, RULE 4: When they've had enough (or said they've had enough) let them get down from the table.

BUT, RULE 5: NO MORE EATING until the next meal. No snacks, no candy. It will take them joint two trials of this (unless you've let them get into bad habits, and then it will take longer) to understand that they eat what they want at mealtimes; they don't fuss, and then get goodies afterwards or between meals.

And now RULE 6: No eating BEFORE meals, either. Let a small child have a candy bar, a cookie, a bottle of soda pop, or whatnot, a little before dinner and naturally he won't eat his meat and vegetables. Would you?

If you are going to give the sweets, do it sparingly, but above all, do it AFTER the child has eaten a good lunch or dinner.

Another tip: Youngsters often are fickle. One day they "don't like tomatoes," and the next they do. Ignore this inconstancy.

Mid-afternoon or mid-morning snacks, or "tea parties," or whatever you choose to call them, are fine for children. But this should be a regular routine. It does NOT mean giving in to a wail of "I'm hungry" 30 minutes after a child has refused to eat.

Just wait a few years. The same child will be at the stage

Around The Rim Problems, Problems—City Problems

Many have commented on the sudden burst of attention given to city parks, with the added comment that it is long overdue. Jimmie Greene, former Chamber of Commerce manager, once commented that Big Spring should be proud of its fine City Park—advertisements.

I agree and hope that other park sites in Big Spring are to be developed. One site in the Washington Place area is only a vacant lot.

The monkey cage change in City Park is an example of what can be done at a minimum of expense. It was converted to a "jungle gym" at very little material cost and is becoming the most popular feature in the park. I understand a unique slide for youngsters is also in the planning stage.

All of it is money well spent.

City crews are beginning to tackle the job of mosquito fighting, in the hope of wiping out breeding places.

During last year's losing struggle, the immortal words of one city worker may well be the battle cry for this year's fight. He was driving the truck carrying the fogging machine, and was frequently immersed in clouds of insecticide.

It is reported that he threatened to quit "unless the city gives me something to keep the mosquitoes away."

It is sometimes difficult to justify a large expenditure in the city budget for a school program. But there is one in the forthcoming budget that is important and I feel fully justified.

It is the plan to send Lt. Stanley Bogard to the Northwestern University traffic school. Bogard is the only city employee now working with traffic problems directly, since the Citizens Traffic Commission has been re-organized and James Eubanks is now in other work.

As a result, his training is of exceptional importance to the city, and you and I. He is an outstanding police officer who is making the Big Spring police department his life's work. The small cost is well worth what we will get back.

Last summer, a small flurry of controversy arose over the formulation of a "subdivision ordinance." Subsequently, a citizen's committee was named to work out a satisfactory ordinance which was returned to the city commission for action.

The commission has discussed the matter several times, but recently has been too hard pressed by other matters to give it much attention. Still, subdivisions and city officials have expressed the need for such an ordinance. If it was important last summer, how much more important is it now?

A two-member commission committee was also named to work out a personnel policy for city employees. The committee has not reported back to an open meeting of the council, and it apparently has not worked on this important problem. Recent employ relations point up the urgent need for a clear-cut policy of this type.

Personal property taxes, "wheel" taxes, and several others have been suggested to the city commission as sources of revenue. Frankly, it seems to me that we have enough different taxes now.

Rather than increase the number of taxes, a reduction appears more in order. Precious little we buy today escapes the tax bite from some direction.

Mayor Lee O. Rogers pointed out Tuesday that no matter where the levy is placed, the money comes from about the same pockets.

The fewer places the levy is lodged, the fewer places we have to keep our eye on. I, for one, like it that way. You can't beat simplicity.

What Has Happened To Personal Sin?

If, from the vantage point of the 'Sixties, some publishers were to ask me to turn Tompbee and write a history of the 20th Century, my thesis is already as polished as a first-grader's apple.

The great watershed of our times or civilization, I am convinced, is not the staggering impact of the split atom, with its threat of world destruction by hydrogen blast.

I would unhesitatingly write that the 20th Century novelty or invention guaranteed to destroy man before the bomb has a chance is the abolition of sin.

MAN, IN MY LIFETIME, has been deprived—"relieved"—is the popular word—of the moral responsibility to and for himself and his neighbors. The steady popularization, misinterpretation and commercialization of Freudian theory, of psychoanalysis and psychiatry has led to man's complete absorption from all sin.

Man's moral basis, the essence and core of his being, has been jerked out from under him by the claptrap that society in general and not man in particular is full of sin and there is no health in it.

Under this handy-dandy theory, man under no circumstances must bear the responsibility or burden of guilt for his naughty deeds. Society alone is at fault. (And I would only expose my unmitigated squeamishness if I referred to his deeds as "immoral" rather than "naughty.")

EVIL TODAY IS THE result not of moral collapse or decay but of maladjustment, thumb-sucking, sibling rivalry, an Oedipus complex, an anti-Oedipus complex, bottle-feeding, maternal or paternal rejection, trauma induced by any kind of childhood behavior correction, too early or too late toilet training, or the loss of a little red sled.

And now if you are wondering what has triggered the above diagnosis of the fatal flaw in our century, I shall quote

Marquis Childs Agreement Possible On Nuclear Tests

WASHINGTON—While a rear-guard action by the die-hard opponents of any agreement of any kind with the Soviets cannot be discounted, there is a current of cautious optimism in this capital that a nuclear test ban with a verifiable inspection will be approved.

It will not finally be nailed down until the heads of government meet at the summit in Paris in mid-May. An examination of the transcript of the exchanges that have gone on within the nuclear testing conference at Geneva since the Soviets came forward with their latest proposal makes this clear.

IN THAT PROPOSAL THEY agreed to ban all tests except those below a threshold of an earthquake reading of 4.5 (19,000 tons of TNT equivalent) and with this would go a voluntary moratorium on the smaller explosions while a joint scientific force worked to perfect a detection system. To many who have followed the long and complex negotiations this seemed a big step toward the American position that there can be no agreement which leaves any area free of verifiable inspection.

If a compromise can be worked out, and Prime Minister Macmillan's presence is an encouraging portent, another area of major disagreement will remain. This is on the number of on-site inspections to be permitted on the territory of each nation.

THE RECORD FROM Geneva shows that chief delegate, Semyon Tsarapkin, when pressed on this matter last week, said with great emphasis that the Soviet delegation meant to adhere firmly to their position that this must be a political decision. In other words, the number of on-site inspections is not to be determined by the scientists. In short, the decision from a news story about a young and murderous punk, Hubert Sherrill Jackson Jr., 16. He is the Gadsden, Alabama, Nazi who threw a homemade fire bomb at the Beth Israel Reform Synagogue of Gadsden and then pumped rifle bullets into the congregation as it tried to leave the synagogue.

THE QUOTE FOLLOWS: "He made a mistake, but he's still just a child," the boy's stepfather, Walter Hunt, told police.

Well, don't ask me to break down and weep for this "child" who is old enough to make fire bombs and gravely injure a member of the Beth Israel congregation with rifle fire.

At 16 years of age, the moral — if you will pardon my old-fashioned phraseology — character of the individual is formed. Period. I will go so far as to say that the child of 10 who does not know basic right from wrong is retarded. The youth of 12 who is unable to recognize it is a moron. And the young man or woman of 16 who can't tell the difference is an idiot or a criminal, not a juvenile delinquent playing pranks.

BUT I AM CERTAIN that the welfare and the social agencies of Gadsden and vicinity, as they would in a similar case in New York, will gather around Hunt, a vicious anti-Semite, and cry, with his stepfather, "He's still just a child."

Where did this "child" learn his rabid anti-Semitism? Since the abolition of sin in our time, it is obvious that Hunt learned it at home or in the community, or because he lost his little red sled or wasn't breast-fed. With the abolition of sin, the guilt is communal and Freudian, not individual.

Undoubtedly, the abolition of individual sin and guilt is a triumph of the 20th Century. But is it not a great and terrible price to pay for the loss of man's moral stature? (Copyright, 1960, United Feature Syndicate, Inc.)

will be made by Premier Khrushchev himself at the summit.

But those who favor an agreement interpret this as a face-saving device for the Russians. Having in effect agreed to a scientific determination of the threshold below which explosions cannot be detected with accuracy, they must stand firm on the right of a political determination in the other disputed area. There is confidence here that at the summit Khrushchev will, after a great deal of haggling, approve 20 inspections, which is the Western figure.

LEADER OF THE implacable opposition is Chairman John McCone of the Atomic Energy Commission. He has never wavered in his determination to see testing resumed. Again and again in conferences at the State Department he has dramatically invoked the Chinese-Russian Communists hordes who will sweep away Western civilization unless they are deterred by troops equipped with tactical atomic weapons for use in limited nuclear war.

Only through more testing, he has argued with his massive assurance, can such weapons be achieved. Once or twice in these heated conferences it has been pointed out that the Russians could also resume nuclear testing and development and equip the Communist hordes with small nuclear weapons.

That would restore the advantage to numbers and invalidate the McCone argument. The distinguished physicist, Hans Bethe, who favors a compromise agreement, makes a good case that if the West had accepted the Russian proposal to stop testing in 1955 the advantage today would be much stronger, since the Russians have used the interval to catch up. LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Coed Sandy Cherniss, whose 41-24-37 measurements distracted male students at San Francisco City College, is getting a chance to prove her distraction is an attraction.

The Sahara Hotel is putting her in the chorus line on a week's tryout basis.

If she measures up—talent-wise—she gets the $250 a week job permanently, a hotel spokesman said.

Sandy drew national notice recently when San Francisco City College officials complained her natural endowments were diverting male students from their studies.

THE FRONT ROW

By Bob Smith

The wisdom of hiring Doug Wiehe as our high school band director is beginning to show.

Just this last week, the band in contest in Odessa took a record number of first places, and a few weeks previously had garnered five seats in the All-State Band in Austin. Big Spring's band is at an all-time high of efficiency and the outlook is for something better yet.

All this, of course, is not to detract from the equally fine pioneering work being done by Tommy Frye at Goliad Junior High School and Jimmy Yancey Rannels. Actually, it takes close coordination between the three to produce championship bands.

Wiehe is reluctant to describe the technical level of the band when he first came here three years ago. He likes to look to the future. But the band needed some shaping; recruiting was a problem; and there was little or no training in the pre-high school level.

There were some good musicians around at the time, and some good sections, such as the cornets and clarinets. But other sections were woefully lacking.

Frye arrived soon after Wiehe, and they instituted scale and other technical requirements, with Frye overseeing the junior high development. Recruiting was pushed, creating more competition and thus more incentive for the students.

The plan itself is simple. The kids are recruited into band work while in junior high, and they arrive fully equipped in high school, where Wiehe takes over without the necessity of teaching basics. He can concentrate on the advanced training made possible by Frye and Yancey.

The high school band should eventually pass the 100 mark in membership, in which case a B band will be formed. The requirements will be stricter for the A band, and the quality naturally will go up.

The training the bandsmen get now is exacting, for Wiehe strongly believes that hard work makes Johnny play better. Each member must participate in a minimum of 30 minutes of supervised practice daily. This time limit is extended when contests and concerts are in the offing, to 45 minutes or an hour daily. Some students, those in the solo and ensemble brackets, practice as much as three hours daily as concert events approach.

All this is in addition to the regular full-band rehearsals of one to two hours daily, with individual attention during practice periods and concentration on the scales.

The Enid trip comes up May 4-8, annually the biggest event for the Big Spring High School Band. Expenses will be partially paid by the school, the rest being made up by the Band Boosters Club and individual students.

No one connected with the school, understandably, is going to say anything, but this reporter doesn't mind in the least saying what he thinks.

We have a championship band in the making, and there's no justifiable reason the school can't pay the kids' expenses as fully as the costs of the athletic teams are defrayed. And that, of course, goes for all student contest activities, including the band, the athletic team, the debaters and actors, and what-have-you.

I shouldn't have to make this next point, but human nature intervenes: This is not a treatise favoring de-emphasis of the athletic program. I love a good football game—something I may get to see for a change—and physical training is fully as important as any other kind.

But let's not be one-sided, school board?

Annual notices were mailed Saturday to patrons of the Dallas opera season. The Metropolitan is the big news, and scheduled are "The Marriage of Figaro" May 13, followed by the annual artists ball; "The Gypsy Baron" and "Faust" May 14; and "Il Trovatore" May 15.

Those not on the mailing list, and wish to be, may write to the Dallas Grand Opera Association, 1315 Elm Street, Dallas, Tex.

Pianists have a new channel to success in the first annual Linda Babits competition, to be held Nov. 16 in Salt Lake City. Contestants must be equipped to play the Western Star Concerto, by Miss Babits, and other native music.

Further information may be had from Linda Babits Free Competitions, Salt Lake Philharmonic Orchestra, 68 South Main St., Salt Lake City 1, Utah.

Correction: It's Mrs. James E. Green, not Jasper Green. And that choral drama she's presenting to the Officers Wives Club April 7 is "From Plains to Plains," not "From Plains to Plains."

I blame my source of information, and the abbreviations in the phone book.

Brucellosis Lab Is Held Over For Week

Eighteen of 269 herds of Howard County cattle tested in March for brucellosis have been found to be infected with the disease. Forty-one head of cattle have been proved as reactors. Forty-eight other cattle are listed as suspect.

A total of 4,957 cattle have been given blood tests during the month. Under the system employed by the team from Texas Animal Health Commission, a herd can comprise any number of cattle from one head up.

Two of the infected herds included in this total are Glascock County animals. One rancher owns two of the herds where reactors were found.

If the commission rules that these herds must be counted the percentage of infected herds in the county is 67 per cent of the total. This would be 1.7 above the minimum herd infection which can be tolerated if the county is to be declared as a Modified Brucellosis Control Area. The purpose of the tests is to establish this condition in the county.

The tolerance allowance of individual infected animals is 1 per cent. The county, with only 41 infected animals out of 4,957 actually tested, is well under this average. The problem now is to reduce the percentage of herds in which brucellosis reactors were encountered.

TEST MORE HERDS
The testing team and agricultural leaders think this can be accomplished provided a large number of herds which are known to be untested can be included.

If the herd percentage figure cannot be reduced to 5 per cent a complete retest of all cattle in the county will have to be attempted.

In order to give every cattle owner a final chance to have his herd tested, the mobile blood-testing laboratory which has been in the county all of this month will remain here through part of next week. It had been planned for the laboratory to move Friday to another county. However, it was said it would remain in order that any herds which have not been reported will have opportunity to be tested.

All cattle owners whose animals are untested—those who own one or two and those who own larger numbers—are urged by the testers and by the ranchmen of the county to call immediately either the laboratory (Phone 3-3136) or Jimmy Taylor, county agent (Phone 4-6671). Arrangements will be made for the testing team to be at the cattle owners' place and run the samples.

There are far more than 4,957 head of cattle in Howard County. While the tests were run on all dairy cattle and on all registered animals, only 20 per cent of range herds were tested. This means that of the larger herds, only one animal out of five was checked. It was estimated the total cattle in the county will probably exceed 11,000 head.

The laboratory wants calls today and tomorrow to arrange a work schedule for the testers on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. Insofar as possible, these schedules are drawn to minimize travelling and, more particularly, to avoid trips which double over the same routes.

Cattle owners are warned that they must submit their stock for testing. Since the ranchers and cattle owners of the county petitioned the state to declare Howard County a Modified Brucellosis Control Area, it becomes mandatory on all cattle owners to have their stock tested.

Suspect In Forgery Case Being Held

A 27-year-old Andrews man, now in jail at Lamesa, has been identified by local store operators as one of two young men who cashed $475 in forged payroll checks here on March 4.

Fern Cox, deputy sheriff, Wednesday filed forgery charges against James Seal, who is now in the Lamesa jail. Cox said that if Seal makes bond in Lamesa, he will be taken in custody and returned to Howard County. Cox was told that more of the forged payroll checks have been cashed in Lamesa and in other West Texas towns. In all more than $1,000 was involved in the operation, he said.

The name of the other man was not announced pending his arrest. He is 24 years old. Cox said that the checks were forged copies of payroll checks by the Sharp Drilling Co., Midland. One of the two men worked for Sharp briefly, it was reported. The checks, carefully prepared, were convincing in appearance, Cox said. They were cashed at all of the larger food stores in Big Spring and all were handled on March 4. They ranged from $129 down to $54. In each case, the two men entered the store, picked up a small amount of groceries and then presented the checks. The charge against Seal has been filed in Walter Grice's justice of peace court.

Cubans Launch Mexico Campaign

MEXICO CITY (AP)—The Castro regime contributed a $46,311 bank check for the start of a campaign last week against the Mexican government, the newspaper Ultimas Noticias said Wednesday. The paper said the president of the Banco Nacional De Cuba, Ernesto Guevara, issued the check to the name of Delito Canto Canto, who received it in Merida, Yucatan.

Canto Canto and other prominent Mexican Communist intellectuals, the paper added, operated an illegal radio station through which insults were voiced against Mexican authorities.

Leader Urges Return To God

FORT WORTH (AP)—A Baptist leader said Wednesday night that "science has not so much fought against God as it has been allowed to displace God."

The speaker was Dr. A. V. Washburn of Nashville, Tenn., secretary of the Sunday School Department of the Southern Baptist Convention. He also is director of the nationwide Southern Baptist Sunday School convention being held here.

He said Bible study is needed to restore a correct conception of God and also is needed to reveal a wholesome concept of man.

Sunday schools are not failing but neither are they doing all they can and must do to make God's word known, loved and lived, Dr. Washburn said.

About 10,000 persons have registered for the convention. The group held a series of study conferences today to discuss Sunday school work. The final session will be held tonight.

Dr. Ramsey Pollard, Knoxville, Tenn., president of the Southern Baptist Convention, said missionary zeal must not only include far away lands. He said it must also include the man, woman and child who live around the corner from the church building.
