South Wind, In Gusts Of 66 M.P.H., Unsettles Big Spring

No Rain Falls In Hard Blow

A roaring south wind, puffing in gusts up to 66 miles per hour, buffeted Big Spring for better than two weary hours Thursday night.

Aftermath Of An Angry Wind

BULLETIN

Big Spring is on the south edge of a squall line predicted this afternoon by the United States Weather Bureau.

One of these was at 14th and Park and the other at 4th and Gregg.

Severe weather conditions with wind gusts to 60 miles per hour are predicted for the area 60 miles on either side of a line from Wink to Childress.

The wind had parted utility lines. One of these was at 14th and Park and the other at 4th and Gregg.

A power line pole at the corner of the Harris-Lusk Service Station, 610 Lamesa Highway, was toppled.

Despite the cloudbank, there was little lightning or thunder accompanying the blow. And, there was little or no moisture.

Church Merger MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP)—Three Lutheran denominations merged today. With pomp and solemn prayer, they formally constituted their new unified church.

Tornado Hits Town Near Fort Stockton

A tornado and hail the size of baseballs battered a rural community near Fort Stockton Thursday night smashing a dozen buildings and hurling two men about 250 yards.

The tornado twisted the roof off a house but a mother and her five children found refuge under a bed and were not injured.

Strong southerly winds kicked up dust Friday in some sections of the South Plains and the Panhandle. The southerly winds brought an increase of moisture from the Gulf of Mexico and early Friday considerable low cloudiness and some fog covered the southeastern half of Texas.

Heavy dust cut visibility to six miles at Midland and at Lamesa dust cut visibility to almost zero during the early morning hours.

Car Hits Rear Of Heavy Truck

Charles Ralph Carnes, Midland, was injured at 11:10 p.m. Thursday when the car he was driving collided with the rear of a truck about three miles west of Big Spring on U. S. Highway 90.

Carnes' automobile was heavily damaged but the truck, driven by Ruben Carl McCormick, Rankin, was unmarred. The truck was owned by The Western Company.

Under the new system six Air Force bases will concentrate on the full range of aviation training. They are Webb, at Big Spring, Tex.; Reese, at Lubbock, Tex.; Vance, at Enid, Okla.; Craig, at Selma, Ala.; Moody, at Valdosta, Ga.; and Williams, at Chandler, Ariz.

Tactical Air Command operations now conducted at Williams will be absorbed by Luke Air Force Base at Phoenix, Ariz.

De Gaulle Is Like Guest In U. S. Capital

WASHINGTON (AP)—French President Charles de Gaulle flew into Washington today to receive a warm welcome from President Eisenhower, and open four days of summit strategy talks.

He is expected to make a new bid for a bigger French voice in Allied decisions on global strategy in the conflict with Soviet communism, but not to press the point particularly in his talks with the President.

Eisenhower personally headed the welcoming party which waited in a warm sun at National Airport as De Gaulle's special Air France flight from Toronto, Canada, came in.

De Gaulle, whose wife is accompanying him on this American visit, spent four days in Canada. After a stay here, they will visit New York, San Francisco and New Orleans before leaving the country.

Eisenhower and De Gaulle met most recently last December when Eisenhower visited Paris for a conference of Western leaders. It was at that time that the Western chiefs decided to meet with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev in Paris this spring.

The East-West summit session will begin in the French capital May 16. This visit is De Gaulle's first to Washington in 15 years.

The 69-year-old French general and political leader was greeted as he stepped from the plane with a display of full military honors rendered by units of the Army, Navy, Air Force and Marines.

Within a few minutes after his plane stopped cannons began booming out a 21-gun salute and a military band sounded four ruffles and flourishes, followed by the playing of "The Marseillaise" and "The Star Spangled Banner."

From the airport, De Gaulle's route across the Potomac River and into Washington was by way of 14th St. and New York Ave. Along the flag-decked parade course, thousands of sightseers, citizens and government employees gathered to see the famous French leader make his ceremonial trip into the city with Eisenhower.

Vehicles traveling south on Gregg Street viaduct may now turn left onto First Street, according to Bruce Dunn, director of public works.

A no left - turn sign, prohibiting such turning since last summer, was taken down Thursday.

LIE TESTS Suspects Quizzed In Teacher Death

MALLEN (AP)—Police questioned suspects today in an effort to solve the rape-slitting of a dark-haired beauty queen whose partially-clothed body was found floating in a canal Thursday.

The badly beaten body of Miss Irene Garza, 25, missing for six days, was pulled from the canal about a mile from her home and less than a dozen blocks from the busy downtown section of this Lower Rio Grande Valley city.

The autopsy showed the teacher died from blows on the head before being tossed into the small canal.

Authorities estimated she had been in the water since Saturday night, shortly after leaving home in the family car to attend church. The car was found near the church Sunday.

Police and the Hidalgo County Sheriff's Department gave suspects lie detector tests.

While police investigated, schools in the city delayed classes until 9 a.m. so the many school friends of the slain woman could attend a requiem mass. The funeral was to be held at 3:30 p.m. today.

Local teachers made plans to subscribe to a memorial fund.

Police Chief Clint Mussey said four persons took lie detector tests Thursday and added more would be tested today. Results of the tests were not disclosed.

Just don't have a strong lead to go on right now," Mussey said.

The body was found shortly after Mr. and Mrs. Nick Garza, offered a thousand dollar reward for information leading to their daughter's whereabouts.

Miss Garza, a frequent winner in local beauty contests, was voted "Miss South Texas" in a contest in 1958.

Lyndon Moves Within Sight Of Making His Formal Bid

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex) moved closer today to the moment when he will join fellow senators in admitted quest of the Democratic presidential nomination.

Johnson almost did it here Thursday and it was plain to all present at a news conference that the tall, tanned Senate majority leader will be—and is—a candidate for the big job.

"I have served my country in every capacity in which I have been asked to serve," the Texan said. "I would not shirk my responsibility."

Johnson, when the moment he deems proper arrives, will join fellow Sens. Wayne More of Oregon, John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts, Stuart Symington of Missouri, and Hubert F. Humphrey of Minnesota in the drive for the Democratic standard bearer's position.

State Bar Moves To Oust Judge In Panhandle Probe

CANYON, Tex. (AP)—A move to disbar former Randall County Judge Roy Stevens and a one-time associate, Joe P. Black, was launched Thursday by the State Bar of Texas.

Stevens, a key figure in the Amarillo hearings in March, is charged on 12 counts with malpractice, fraud and dishonorable conduct.

Absentee Votes

Thirty-one absentee ballots had been voted in the office of Pauline Betty, county clerk, through voting closes on May 2.

Life Sentence For Riley Gunn

STERLING CITY — Riley Edward Gunn, 33, Odessa oil field worker, was found guilty of murder and his punishment set at life imprisonment by a Sterling County District Court jury late Thursday.

The jurors evidently did not believe Gunn's story that a red-haired man, not otherwise identified, was the real slayer of Cecil Edward Riley, 29, on Jan. 15.

Gunn testified in his trial in 15th District Court that he, himself, was beaten into unconsciousness by this mysterious third man; that when he came to, Grady and the red-haired man were both gone from his car.

Riley's body, badly battered, was found in the ditch beside a lonely oil field road in Sterling County. The state contended that he had been slain by Gunn.

DEAR ABBY

TREAD SOFTLY

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My daughter is 13. She's been going with a boy who is 21 for about a year. She attends college here in town and he works out of town. He writes to her regularly.

I am not the kind of mother who snoops through her daughter's things. But yesterday, while cleaning her room, I saw a letter from the boy lying open on her desk. I read it. Abby, it made my face turn red. He wrote things that only a man would write to his wife. Now I am wondering how long this has been going on. I can't let my daughter know I read that letter, yet I feel I should talk to her about its contents. Should I write to the boy and ask him to explain himself to me? I can't sit back and do nothing. I could just cry. I need your advice.

RED - FACED MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: You shouldn't have read the letter. But since you did—tell your daughter. This is no time for a battle or a long lecture on how "bad" she is. If you show yourself to be a truly understanding mother, it can strengthen the relationship between you and your daughter. Tell her, with love and kindness, that one step down calls for another, and if she wants the respect of a worthwhile man, she will control her emotions . . . and demand that the boy do the same.

DEAR ABBY: I've spent 26 years as a service dependent. First as a daughter and now as a Marine wife. I've been in eleven countries and in most of the 50 states, and nothing bothers me more than the women who can't wait for their husbands to shove off so they can run around.

In Navy towns you can tell which ships are at sea by who's wife is in the local bars. These gals make up only about 2 per cent of the service dependent population but they give us all a bad name.

For the most part we are proud of our men. They are as important as doctors and lawyers for they are defending life and justice for all of us. Please print this to wake up the disgusting 2 per cent.

A PROUD MARINE WIFE

DEAR WIFE: And a 21-gun salute to you—and the 88 per cent.

DEAR ABBY: At the moment I am going steady with a boy I can't stand. I know for a fact I could get a cuter boy, but nobody will ask me out while I'm going steady with this creep.

I have been trying to keep from accepting any more dates with my steady, but I can never think up a good excuse fast enough. I have hinted like mad but nothing works. Got any ideas?

CHICKEN

DEAR CHICKEN: Just gather your courage, take a deep breath and say, "Oscar (or whatever his name is). I think we had better break up. I want you to date others, and so will I." And don't wait around for an argument or you'll get one. Then tell one or two girl friends, and you won't have to put an ad in the school paper.

CONFIDENTIAL TO SAN MATEO SWEETHEARTS: Marriage between first cousins is permitted in the state of California. Good luck!

Mrs. De Gaulle Is A Quiet, Self-Effacing First Lady

By GODFREY ANDERSON
Associated Press Staff Writer

France's first lady, known affectionately as "Aunt Yvonne," has spent nearly 40 years of marriage in the shadow of her famous husband.

Naturally shy and self-effacing, she accepts the publicity which is now hers as President Charles de Gaulle's wife. But in the glided splendor of the presidential Elysee Palace in Paris she dreams of their next quiet weekend in their manor home at Colombey-les-Deux-Eglises.

It is said that when De Gaulle became president in January last year, he promised her they would spend at least one weekend each month at home. So far they have managed to do so, despite their rigorous official schedule.

The story of the De Gaulles is the typical one of a young provincial girl who met and fell in

Arabs Taunt De Gaulle As He Leaves For U.S. Visit

By MAX HARRELSON
*TORONTO (AP)—*French President Charles de Gaulle ran into the first unfriendly demonstration of his four-day tour of Canada on the eve of his departure for Washington.

About 75 Arab immigrants supporting the Algerian rebels assembled on top of the Toronto Airport Terminal and as De Gaulle arrived held aloft banners reading "Algeria for the Algerians"; "Stop the Killings in Algeria"; and "Get Out of Algeria."

De Gaulle, receiving a cordial welcome below from Ontario Premier Leslie M. Frost, gave no sign that he saw the banners.

The 69-year-old French leader toured Toronto's business and financial district. Crowds gathered at the Royal York Hotel, where the visitor was spending the night, but the reception could not compare with the enthusiasm for De Gaulle Thursday in Quebec, capital of French Canada.

At a dinner given by the provincial government, De Gaulle said his stay in this country has brought him a "very comforting feeling" of reliance on Canada.

"Two major reasons for his visit, De Gaulle said, were to reassure himself that the ties between France and Canada "are still living" and to ascertain whether "Canada in this difficult world today is a great power on which we could rely."

"I have a deep feeling that Canada is a strong country and, having defended freedom before, will do it again if necessary," he said.

"In working for peace, I have the feeling that Canada is a companion of France."

State Candidates Hit Many Issues

By IRWIN FRANK
Associated Press Staff Writer

Living wages for teachers, corrupt unionists and state sovereignty were just some of the issues raised Thursday by candidates seeking victory in the May 7 Democratic Primary.

Candidates moved from city to city to get their message to Texans.

The voice of Waggoner Carr was heard in Houston—via a tape recording—and in Dallas where he spent the day.

Carr, who seeks Atty. Gen. Will Wilson's office, said Wilson had what he called a "soft attitude" toward corrupt unionists.

"For the first time in Texas political history," Carr told supporters, an attorney general has public endorsement from the state's organized labor.

In Houston Carr said Wilson voted for a disputed bank charter sought by a political leader who is now supporting Wilson.

Wilson told Victoria home builders that "the preservation of a good business climate in Texas depends on preserving a free enterprise."

Gov. Price Daniel, opposed by Jack Cox for re-election, spent Thursday in Houston where he took part in ceremonies at the San Jacinto battleground.

"States rights and self government are in grave danger today," he said. He urged the thousands attending the ceremonies to maintain constant vigilance against those who advocate surrendering local governmental rights to central government.

Cox said in Amarillo he would make a statewide telecast Friday night over 24 Texas stations.

He said he would "discuss some of the biggest names in Texas politics."

Names he said he would mention included former Gov. Allan Shivers, who is backing Cox; Mrs. Frankie Randolph, Democratic national committeewoman from Texas; Sen. Lyndon Johnson and, perhaps, Daniel.

Lt. Gov. Ben Ramsey, who visited San Angelo and Abilene, said "We must recognize the need for a sensible and practical tax policy and a long range adequate water conservation policy."

His opponent, Don Yarborough, said in El Paso that Ramsey "has had 10 years to accomplish as a fact the things he now makes political promises to do."

He said Ramsey "must take the major burden for the failure to cooperate in helping Texas school teachers receive a decent living wage."

Jerry Sadler campaigned for the office of land commissioner against incumbent Bill Allcorn in Wichita Falls. He said the state is the biggest land dealer in Texas and "is also the loosest, most haphazard and most neglectful" in handling its land.

Cox will be in El Paso Friday, Daniel will be in Beaumont and San Antonio, Wilson tours Galveston and LaMarque, Carr campaigns in Abilene and Borger and Yarborough goes to El Paso and Houston.

Charges Filed For No Sticker

Seventeen motorists have been charged with operating motor vehicles without proper inspection stickers since the deadline for such stickers on April 15.

Fourteen of these cases have been filed in the justice court of Jess Slaughter and three in Walter Grice's court.

No disposition has been made of any of the cases as yet. The offender can be fined in any amount from $1 to as much as $200 in addition he must pay the costs of the suit which will run $15.50.

Highway patrol officers report that a large number of motorists are operating vehicles which do not bear the 1960 inspection sticker. The 17 already cited to appear in court will be joined by others, the officers warned, since the patrol has instructions to pick up all such offenders.

Three charges of operating motor vehicles with expired license plates have also been filed since April 15. Two of these are filed in Slaughter's court and one in Grice's court.

'Wondering' Boy Admits Sex Death

HOUSTON (AP)—Police said a 16-year-old boy who wondered what sex would be like admitted stabbing to death Thursday night a young girl who refused to enter some woods with him.

Linda Ruble, 13, was stabbed with a hunting knife about a half block from her home at 7:30 p.m. as she walked toward her home from a grocery store.

Police Sgt. R. L. Ramirez said the boy, a high school junior, signed a statement in which he admitted plunging a knife into the girl when she screamed for help as he tried to force her into the woods near her home.

Two boys, who attended the same high school as the 16-year-old boy, heard the girl scream and tried to capture the youth. One of the boys, Michael Leitch, 16, suffered stab wounds in the back and left side and was taken to a hospital for treatment. The two youths were able to identify the boy for police.

Ramirez said the youth who attacked the girl fled to his home after fighting off the two boys.

Lamesan Named Chairman Of Tech Engineering Show

LAMESA — Billy N. Norris, senior electrical engineering student from Lamesa, is general manager of the 28th annual Science and Engineering show which will be held today and Saturday at Texas Tech College in Lubbock.

The show is sponsored annually by Tech students and will have exhibits from each department in the School of Engineering, Arts, Sciences and Air and Military Sciences. Armed Forces participation includes exhibits of an Air Force Bomarc missile, an Army

In his statement, Ramirez said, the boy stated that "about six months ago I began to get the urge to go out with girls."

The statement continued: "I have heard the boys in school discuss sex problems with girls which made me wonder what it would be like. I have always had the feeling that if I asked a girl to go out with me she would turn me down, and I just did not want to be turned down."

Ramirez said that in the statement the boy told of seeing the girl for the first time in a grocery store Thursday night. The boy said he took the groceries he bought home to his mother, got the knife from his car and walked back toward the store.

The youth saw the girl walking down the street, pulled out his knife and ordered the girl to go with him, the statement said.

When the girl screamed, "I stabbed her in the back. After I stabbed her the one time I got excited and stabbed her several more times. But I do not know where I hit her those last times. "She just kind of screamed and dropped her bag of groceries and ran a little way and fell. I then started to run for the woods," he said.

It was then that the two other boys tried to grab him.

The youth was arrested at his home a short time later.

Ramirez said the boy threw the knife away and officers were searching for it.

Police Keep Races Apart As Klan Erects Electric Cross

A cordon of policemen kept Negroes and white persons separated in Macon Thursday night while robed members of the Ku Klux Klan, Inc., erected a red-bulbed electric cross at a house occupied by three Negro families.

The Klansmen were protesting renting to the Negroes of a converted brick store building in the previously white neighborhood.

The meeting was orderly and no incidents were reported. Several hundred persons—white and Negro—assembled to watch the demonstration.

Antisegregation demonstrators were on the march again Thursday in Atlanta and Greensboro, N.C.

Twenty neatly-dressed students, white and Negro, paraded for an hour in front of Rich's, Atlanta's largest department store. They bore signs decrying the store's separate, but equal, eating facilities.

Police arrested 43 Negro students and two white girls for refusing to leave a variety store lunch counter in Greensboro, N.C. All were photographed, finger-printed and released for trial Wednesday.

In Little Rock, Arkansas Judge Quinn Glover fined and sentenced eight Negro college students for sit-in demonstrations against segregated lunch counters at two main street department stores. All filed notice of appeal and remained free on bond. Each was fined $250 and given 60 days in jail for violating a new state law against peace disturbances.

Cliburn Gives Chopin Recital

DALLAS (AP)—Pianist Van Cliburn drew praise for his performance at an all-Chopin recital Thursday night before a capacity house for the benefit of the Dallas Women's Symphony League.

The young Kilgore, Tex., artist gave the same program he will play during a tour of Poland at the request of the State Department to commemorate the 150th anniversary of Chopin's birth.

Dallas Morning News Music Critic John Rosenfield said "Cliburn's is husky Chopin. Pushed to the tolerable limits of marked accents, rubato and the capacities of the modern piano."

Rosenfield said it was a "cunningly-wrought design to give Chopin maximum dramatic expression, and to probe his slow sections for emotion rather than sentimentality."

"It was stirring and provocative most of the time with no loss of refinement in this draining off of all elegance."

Cliburn was "highly effective, except for a tense and restless moment in the first movement of the B Flat Minor Sonata. Then he settled down to have his considerable say, showing insight and imagination both musical and poetic."

"Cliburn's playing, while faithful to the markings, was beyond mere conservatory correctness. It had the power to stir a crowd to wildest enthusiasm. It was artist-listener communication with the exercise of a brilliant but never self-serving technique."

A white jury in Raleigh, N.C., convicted two Negro students on trespass charges. The students had sought service at a variety store lunch counter reserved for white patrons.

At Durham, two North Carolina college students were convicted in Recorder's Court as a result of incidents occurring during the past week.

An organization claiming representation of 4,000 students at Negro Atlanta University Center, said it is launching an economic boycott. It called for public support of its so-called selective buying campaign. The attack will be directed, the committee said, at stores engaging in discrimination against the races — both in employment and service.

Zachariah Urges Seal Purchases

George Zachariah, Big Spring civic leader and board member of the Texas Society For Crippled Children, sounded an urgent plea today for all persons who have not as yet contributed to the Easter Seal Campaign to do so without loss of time.

Zachariah, who was to attend the semi-annual meeting of the state board this week in Austin, pointed out that the state drive for $400,000 set for the campaign is lagging badly. He said that it should be remembered that crippling strikes one family in five each year and that the funds given to this drive are used to aid any one who is or becomes crippled.

"Since Easter Seal services are available to all persons luckless enough to become crippled," Zachariah said, "a donation made to the fund is always a possible investment in helping yourself or your own family."

Forty-nine Americans are injured every minute every day, he observed, from accidents alone. Thousands of others are born crippled and other thousands are left crippled as result of diseases.

The board at its meeting on Friday, will draft plans for a general follow-up campaign to raise the goal set.

Unless Big Spring and the other communities in the state give more support to the follow-up efforts than they have to the recent Easter appeal, Zachariah noted, the society may have to sharply curtail its services for crippled children of Texas in the next year.

Seal Girl

Six-year-old Cindy Inman, Sherman, born without arms and legs, is Texas' 1960 Easter Seal girl. One of more than 6,000 crippled Texans served in 100 local Easter Seal programs and 32 treatment centers. Cindy is taught to use her artificial limbs.

Pioneer Stockholders OK Two For One Stock Split

Shareholders of Pioneer Natural Gas Company at their annual meeting this week approved an increase in the authorized common stock from 1,000,000 shares of $7.50 par value to 5,000,000 shares of $3.75 par value, pursuant to a recommendation of directors that the stock be split on a two-for-one basis.

The company had issued and outstanding on March 11, 1960, 1,670,932 shares. Each stockholder will continue to hold the certificate or certificates representing an equal number of shares will be mailed on or about May 6, 1960.

The company has announced that it is the intention of the management to recommend a dividend rate applicable to the split shares which will represent an increase of approximately 10 per cent. Recent dividends have been at a quarterly rate of 40 cents per share. All directors were re-elected.

Market Has Sinking Spell But Strong Dividend Pulse

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Business news this week is as changeable as the April weather.

You can be a pessimist or an optimist depending on which item you choose to give the more weight. Or you can balance them and wait and see.

The stock market continues to have its sinking spells—and recoveries—as traders react to the sweet or the sour in the day's news.

That many think the market is in for further declines is shown by the rise in the short position for the second straight month. It now totals 3,165,538, the highest number of shares sold short since last November.

SHORT TRADING

A trader goes short when he sells borrowed stocks. He expects the price to fall so that he can replace them at a lower cost, and thus pocket a profit.

But a high volume of short sales can help the market, too. It means that when prices fall those who sold short sooner or later will buy to repay their loans. This guarantees a market, or a cushion to the fall.

The mixed character of corporate business these days is being reduced to figures as the earnings reports for the first three months flow in. Record profits by some companies contrast with declining net income of others.

Scattered through the reports are a growing number of those who operated at a loss in the first three months of what was acclaimed as the dawn of the Golden Sixties.

GOOD DIVIDENDS

But dividend payment totals continue to rise. In the first three months they ran 7 per cent ahead of the first quarter of 1959. In some cases the gains were from increased dividend rates. In others the increase came from paying the same rate on more shares outstanding.

The faltering in some lines of business after a brisk start couldn't stop the Gross National Product from rising to a record high. This is the dollar volume of all goods and services in the nation.

But even the record of 498 billion dollars, on a seasonally adjusted annual rate, shows some scars of the slowdown in business. The prediction before the slowdown was that the GNP would be even closer to the half-trillion mark.

GNP FACTORS

Biggest factor in boosting the total to a new high was the build-up of inventories at an annual rate of nine billion dollars, a pace that was noticeably slackening in the final weeks of the quarter.

State and local governments did their bit by boosting their spending by 1 1/2 billion dollars at an annual rate. That old economic standby, the consumer, increased his outlays by 3 1/2 billion dollars at an annual rate.

The consumer managed this although the annual rate of total personal income increased by less than 1 1/2 billion dollars during the period. Payroll totals were down, reflecting rising unemployment and shorter work weeks.

Individual industries also have their optimistic and pessimistic news to report. Automakers note that better weather has meant greater new car sales, but with dealers' stocks still high.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Day	Book	Chapter	Verses
Sunday	Psalms	15	1-5
Monday	Hebrews	2	13-15
Tuesday	Mark	7	14-23
Wednesday	John	14	1-14
Thursday	John	8	12-18
Friday	Philippians	1	4-11
Saturday	John	16	25-33

Pretty as a picture, isn't she? She looks "downright" angelic. Yet, five minutes from now, she may be a little bundle of fury!

Children change faster than the wind. They haven't learned to hide their feelings. But while grown-ups may present a better camouflage to the world, there are few of us without inner conflicts. And these conflicts can be serious.

It would be a lonely world if we had to keep all our problems to ourselves. We don't. God never intended that we should have to solve all our difficulties single-handed. Remember, He established His Church on earth for us. In that Church we will find understanding fellowship, and the faith to work out our own destinies.

Take your problems to Church. Pray that you will find a solution to them. Talk them over with your minister. And what seems a maze today may become a straight road tomorrow.

Show Of The Month Ends Season On A Pleasant Note

By CYNTHIA LOWRY AP Television - Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—CBS' Show of the Month wound up its season Thursday night on a pleasant, if minor, note. The play was "Years Ago," a 90-minute dramatic adaptation of Ruth Gordon's dramatic memoir of about how, in 1912, she set out from Wollaston, Mass., to become an actress.

The slight story was full of warm touches and gentle humor. Sandra Church, although a bit mature to be a convincing 16-year-old, was a determined and completely stage-struck young Ruth Gordon Jones. Robert Preston, whose vitality is a bit overpowering when confined within a small TV screen, played the salty and loveable father. Peggy Conklin was just right as the sentimental and affectionate wife and mother.

More vignette than comedy, "Years Ago" provided a gentle and sweet interlude in the week's output of assorted mayhem.

Two of TV's most intelligent, brightest women stars can find regular network employment only by panel-sitting on games shows. It seems curious that CBS and NBC can't find a spot for a daytime show for either Ariene Francis or Faye Emerson. Ariene is such a skillful hostess that she, more than anyone else, is Jack Paar's vacation-time replacement. And Faye, who has been sitting in recently for Dave Garroway on the "Today" show, has put seasoning into what was degenerating into a rather drearily predictable morning stew for the viewers.

That crazy Western with the jazz theme, "Shotgun Slade," now is seen over 200 TV stations—and it isn't a network, but a syndicated show, "Gunsmoke," with one of the biggest network line-ups in the business has 202 stations.

Johnny Desmond, the singer, will be host on NBC's "Music on the Truth" has a chance to build its audience ratings when it moves into a better time spot (10-10:30) on Thursday nights during the warm weather.

Recommended tonight: "Mark Twain's America," NBC, 8:30-9:30—based on source materials; Playhouse 90, CBS, 9-10:30—"Journey to the Day," a play about mental health, with Mary Astor, Janice Rule, James Dunn.

DeMille Reminder
Mrs. Cecilia Boughdady, granddaughter of the late Hollywood director Cecil B. DeMille, holds the crown of thorns used in DeMille's classic film, "The King of Kings."

DeMille's Works, Dreams Live On

By JAMES BACON AP Movie - TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—It's more than a year since Cecil B. DeMille died, but his impact on Hollywood—even from the grave—is something to behold.

The famed director's staff has moved from the Paramount lot he helped build to his rambling house at 2010 DeMille Drive on the edge of Hollywood. But there's no lessening of the work load.

One big task is answering fan letters, many written as if he were still alive. Even the publicity staff is at work because somewhere a DeMille movie is being shown.

His "King of Kings," made nearly 35 years ago, has never been out of release. His latest, "The Ten Commandments," probably will have the same type run.

I recently toured the DeMille home with Mrs. Cecilia Boughdady, his pretty granddaughter.

It is half home and half museum because of the many honors conferred on DeMille.

But that's not the main reason for the museum-like atmosphere. "Grandfather never threw anything away," explains Mrs. Boughdady. "After his death, we looked in the drawer where he kept all his socks. There was a memo, dated 1912, to call Mr. Russell. He had to move it every time he put on fresh socks."

His copies of London Punch—every issue—go back to 1905. The National Geographic to 1908.

There are memorabilia from each of the 70 movies he made. Hollywood, talking about a movie museum, could get a good start in DeMille's house.

The camera used to make "The Squaw Man" in 1913, along with that historic film's first shooting script, are there. That was DeMille's first movie.

Gifts and honors, no matter how trivial, are kept. One Christmas a member of his publicity staff, frustrated at what to choose, sent a

Jazzy Ambassador Stirs Up Birdland

NEW YORK (AP)—Ghana's ambassador to the United Nations dropped in at Birdland with his jungle drums Thursday night—and nearly started a behind-the-scenes riot.

The diplomat, Alex Quaison-Sackey, 36, a jazz buff, was smilingly unaware of the ruckus caused by his visit to the so-called jazz capital of America.

The hassle was touched off after the ambassador and two of his countrymen played a jump arrangement of "Caravan" with jazz drummer Buddy Rich, who is white.

Another performer, Negro drummer Art Blakey, got in a heated argument with Rich in the kitchen, accusing him of "making a fool out of the ambassador" by cutting up on the drums behind the ambassador's back.

Rich denied he was being disrespectful, and added: "I had nothing to play."

"Why didn't you get off then?" demanded Blakey.

Later, the two drummers nearly came to blows and had to be separated.

Blakey's group, the Jazz Messengers, trade off on the bandstand with Rich's sextet. Blakey also said no one had asked his band to pose for pictures with the ambassador.

It took considerable coaxing by Rich before the ambassador and his two countrymen finally consented to perform.

The diplomat—a colorful sight in his toga-like costume—told the 300 jazz fans that he would like to compare the native rhythms of West Africa with modern music.

He also put in a plug for the world jazz festival, to be held here in June. Quaison-Sackey is festival chairman.

Then the ambassador got behind a big odd-shaped drum called a Boma. Francis Cann, a member of Ghana's mission to the U.N., grabbed a "talking drum" — played by squeezing under the arm. Peter Nuama, another Ghana official, played another small drum.

After several pulsating, table-thumping native numbers, Rich and the originator of the world jazz festival, clarinetist Owen Engrig, joined them in "Caravan." Birdland had never seen anything like it.

Then the roof fell in backstage. The musicians were angry at the publicity man. The management was angry at the musicians for disturbing the patrons. And nearly everyone, was miffed at clarinetist Engrig, who originated the whole idea of the ambassador's visit.

Art Show Opens Here

The annual Las Artistas regional art show opens Saturday. Deadline for entries is 6 p.m. today, with some 150 art works expected.

Judging will take place sometime Saturday morning, and at noon the show will be opened to the public. The exhibition will continue all day Sunday.

The show will be held in the Howard County Junior College gymnasium.

Judges are Mrs. Anita Brookins, director of art for Odessa public schools, and J. Brad Bodkins, Odessa College art instructor.

The expected 150 entries will vie for 10 citations, the citation winners going to Austin's Laguna Gloria for state competition under auspices of the Texas Fine Arts Association. There were more than 200 entries in last year's show.

Cosden Corp. is offering a $100 purchase prize, and the college is offering a one-man show to winning paintings. Other prizes also are offered.

White Collars On Picket Line

NEW YORK (AP)—A handful of white collar workers, including some girls on the picket lines, tied up the vast port of New York for ten hours Thursday.

The demonstration was called off after a representative bargaining election was set for next Thursday.

It was a case of about 90 office workers, half of them women, keeping some 20,000 dock workers off the piers. The dockers, members of the International Longshoremen's Assn., refused to cross picket lines.

An ILA spokesman said in late afternoon: "All the men will be back to work tomorrow morning."
