Storms Soak Texas

DALLAS (AP) — The U.S. Weather Bureau today issued a special tornado warning for parts of West, South Central and North Central Texas. A special advisory said: "Scattered severe thunderstorms with hail and damaging winds and one or two tornadoes are expected this afternoon from 1 to 7 p.m. in an area 60 miles north and 60 miles south of a line from 20 miles west of Junction to 50 miles northeast of Waco."

The sector, including the populous Dallas - Fort Worth area, is bounded approximately by a line from Dallas to San Angelo to near Del Rio to Bremond and back to Dallas.

Blustery showers dumped still more rain Monday over scattered Texas areas in the wake of weekend downpours which caused some flooding near Fort Worth and measured more than 5 1/2 inches in South Texas.

There was no immediate return, however, of Sunday's tornadic winds which smashed at Terrell, east of Dallas in North Central Texas.

Winds up to 50 m.p.h. in gusts hit Brownwood in West Central Texas about 9:30 a.m. Monday. Heavy rain, accompanied by hail, sent water gushing over curbs. No damage was reported.

Light hail rattled on the roofs at Mineral Wells, farther north in West Central Texas, earlier Monday.

5-INCH DOWNPOUR
The heaviest deluge was 5.55 inches of rain prior to 6 a.m. Monday at Schulenburg, about midway between San Antonio and Houston. In the same vicinity Warrenton measured 4 inches and Columbus 3.20.

North of Fort Worth nearly 5 inches of rain, by unofficial measurement, sent water rising to waist deep in suburban Richland Hills. Firemen in trucks and boats helped nine families flee their homes as a precaution against a further rise.

At Haltom City, also north of Fort Worth, water blocked several streets for a time and stalled some cars. Hail broke some windows.

Vicious winds at Terrell inflicted heaviest damage in an area just east of town and north of U. S. Highway 90 during a heavy rain and hail storm. Part of the roof was ripped off the two-story Canon Hotel in downtown Terrell.

The winds lashed the municipal airport, unroofing and ripping metal siding from the buildings. Three house trailers were demolished and three others overturned at a trailer factory near the airport.

Two stores were unroofed and several plate glass windows in downtown Terrell were broken. Limbs of trees and television antennas were snapped. Lightning started a fire in a cotton warehouse.

Three miles north of Terrell, winds demolished a house, barn and a number of chicken houses.

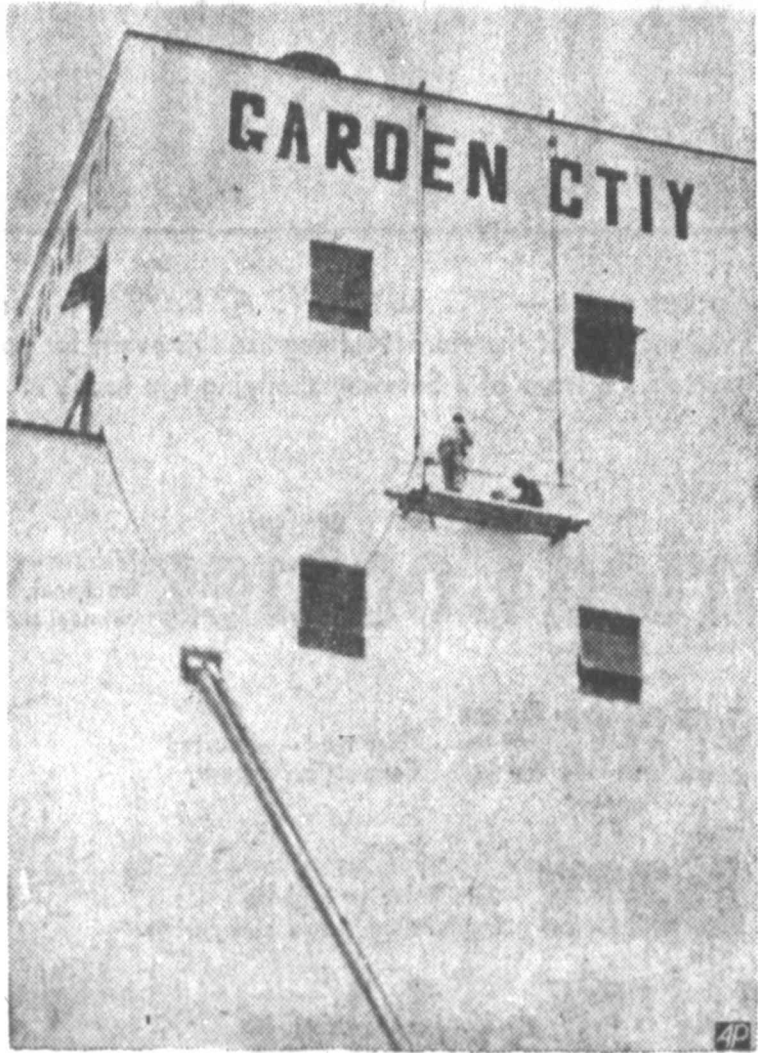

NO FUNNEL
No one reported seeing a tornado funnel and the U.S. Weather Bureau said its radar picked up no evidence of a tornado in the area.

The turbulent weather continued throughout the night in most of North Central Texas. Shortly before dawn hail and light rain hit Mineral Wells. Rain fell at Dallas until nearly dawn and at Texarkana during the night.

The turbulence was set off by a cold front that moved into the state Sunday and that lay on a line from Childress through Big Spring and southward into Mexico Monday morning.

Partly cloudy to cloudy weather prevailed over almost the entire state Monday with morning temperatures ranging from 39 degrees at Dumas to 72 at Alice, Palacios and Cotulla.

Temperatures Sunday afternoon ranged from 74 at Galveston to 95 at Presidio.

How's That Again?

A couple of painters with red faces continue their task of painting a new feed mill building while above them is emblazoned a slight mistake in their man-size lettering of "Garden City". Several spectators on the ground in the Kansas town pointed out the mistake but the painters had to wait until the paint was dry to go back and correct their error.

Lions Meet Here, Bridges Elected

Big Spring was named host city for the 1961 Lions Club 2A-1 convention, and Stanton's Cecil Bridges was elected District Governor Sunday at the Lions Club district convention in Brownwood.

Bill Quimby of the Downtown Club nominated Big Spring for the 1961 site and Bob Walker of the Evening Club made the seconding speech.

In other matters at the convention, Midland's Roy Minear was elected director of the Crippled Children's League and R. L. Lipscomb was named district candidate for the third vice president of Lions International.

Finis Davis, president-elect of Lions International, gave the principal speech at the Sunday luncheon. Other speakers included J. J. (Jake) Pickle, now a district governor at Austin and formerly a Big Spring resident. Bridges, the new district governor, was elected in the closing hours of the three-day convention Sunday. He is currently a board member of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce; board member of the Boys Ranch of West Texas and is the treasurer for the Martin County March of Dimes.

The Big Spring Evening club was represented by Ted Hull, "Squeaky" Thompson, Earl Penner, Cotton Mize, Bob Walker and Virgil L. Perkins. The Big Spring clubs staged a model luncheon Sunday, one of the convention highlights.

Planner Is Due
Marvin Springer, Big Spring's city planner, will be in the city Wednesday morning to discuss building progress with several local subdividers.

A. K. Steinheimer, city manager, said the special trip concerns new development in the southeast part of the city. No official meeting with the city commission or the Master Plan steering committee is planned.

Tear Gas, Gunfire Rock Seoul As Riots Resume
SEOUL, South Korea (AP)—Tear gas and gunfire exploded again in Seoul tonight as Koreans renewed their demonstrations against President Syngman Rhee and his vice president who, many claim, was elected through fraud.

For the first time since last week's riots took 130 lives, crowds gathered in the streets to demand the resignation of the 85-year-old President and his running mate, Vice President Lee Ki-poong.

A crowd of a few hundred students tried to break into the vice president-elect's home, and gunfire broke out. Apparently the shots were blanks, fired either by the soldiers enforcing martial law or the police.

Several persons were injured in this clash. A report that three demonstrators had been killed was distributed by the Hapdong

News Agency, but withdrawn later. Hapdong said the information was not borne out.

Seoul was placed under second-degree "security martial law" during the day, but full martial law was reinstated tonight.

Soldiers with gas masks and fixed bayonets fired tear gas into one crowd of 5,000 students and civilians led by 200 middle-aged college professors who marched on the National Assembly building.

The crowd called for the resignation of Rhee, all Supreme Court justices and all members of the Assembly. It fell back, apparently stunned, when the soldiers used tear gas. Most seemed to have believed the soldiers were on their side. Three medium tanks rumbled into the streets, guns trained on the demonstrators.

Police said they arrested four Negroes driving in a car a block from the area where four Negroes and one white man were shot at 11:50 p.m. They identified the car as a 1957 Ford, 34; Paul Oscar Jones, 32, and George Riley, 33.

Three Negro women said they were wounded by bullets from a passing automobile. The three—Roma Mae Patterson, 34; Levania

MIAMI (AP)—"We're all right. Our captain's shot. They stole our boat."

Those words shouted from the steps of an abandoned Bahama light house, touched off the dramatic rescue Sunday of six persons and recovery of the dead captain's body on Elbow Cay, 106 miles south of Miami.

"When we came in we saw six people on the beach," said Lt. Leonard Korenek, 27, of Angleton, Tex., pilot of a plane from the Miami Coast Guard Station.

Lt. A. E. Midgett, 28, of Grandy, N.C. George Gallagher, 25, of Miami and William Linkins, 25, started paddling ashore in a life raft.

"We started hollering," Midgett said. "They told us they were all right but the captain had been shot. We took the girl (Barbara Table) and two men to the plane. She was very quiet and subdued and had very little to say. All

MIAMI (AP)—Two shipwrecked Americans plundered their rescuers, shot a charter boat skipper to death and made off with his boat in a piratical exploit at a lonely Bahama island Sunday.

The pair fled into Cuban waters while an unarmed U.S. Coast Guard plane hovered overhead, powerless to interfere.

Another Coast Guard plane rescued the wife of one fugitive, a crewman of the stolen Isla Morada, Fla., cabin cruiser Muriel III, and four Pennsylvania sport fishermen who told of being terrorized by the desperadoes' debate over whether to kill all witnesses to the slaying of Capt. Angus Boatwright, 55.

10 PEOPLE WOUNDED

Gunfire Caps Racial Violence In Mississippi

BILOXI, Miss. (AP) — Racial violence over attempts by Negroes to swim at segregated beaches Sunday resulted in gunfire that wounded 10 persons. Four others were injured in beachfront fighting.

The first injured were four Negroes who went swimming in the Gulf of Mexico off the all-white beach in this resort city of 45,000. By midnight both whites and Negroes had been wounded in scattered clashes.

Police patrolled the city today. Mississippi's worst race riot erupted suddenly on this 28-mile man-made beach under a warm sun on a lazy Sunday afternoon. Three bloody chapters followed in confused sequence.

First, about 50 Negro men, women and children gathered across the highway from a white hotel on the beach. Some stepped into the Gulf of Mexico, the signal for a group of whites to show up. Fighting broke out. Whites chased Negroes off the beach.

CROWD BROKEN
Next, four Negro men and about 25 women and children gathered on the beach in front of the New Biloxi Hospital about a mile away from the first fight. A white group broke up the crowd when some of the Negroes stepped into the gulf.

There was no official version of the fighting, but the four Negroes injured in this melee said their attackers hit them with chains, blackjacks and sticks.

Still later, a huge crowd of Negroes massed in front of the home of Dr. Gilbert Mason, Negro physician. Onlookers variously estimated the crowd at 400 and 500.

Dr. Mason tried to break the beach color barrier by swimming in the gulf last week. Police arrested him on a disorderly conduct charge. His case is pending in city court.

Police arrested Dr. Mason again Sunday. The charge was fighting and disrupting traffic.

Before the sun went down, a crowd of Negroes estimated by Mayor Lar Quayle at 300 to 400 roamed up and down Biloxi streets.

SPRAY OF BULLETS
Gun violence broke out at nightfall. Bullets and shotgun pellets wounded eight Negroes and two whites.

Andrew Parker, 17, a white youth, said Negroes shot at him to stop as he drove near a Negro residential area. He stepped from his car and someone shot him, he said. He received a non-serious back wound.

Police said they arrested four Negroes driving in a car a block from the area where four Negroes and one white man were shot at 11:50 p.m. They identified the car as a 1957 Ford, 34; Paul Oscar Jones, 32, and George Riley, 33.

Three Negro women said they were wounded by bullets from a passing automobile. The three—Roma Mae Patterson, 34; Levania

Rankin, 22, sisters, and Enora McNair, age unreported—stood outside a closed grocery at the time of the shooting.

INJURED LISTED
The Negroes injured in beach fighting included Kenneth Thames, 18; his brother, Marzine Thames, 21; Lucell Bullock, 38, and W. B. McDaniel, about 35, an undertaker.

All the injured lived in Biloxi. None was reported seriously hurt. Rumors circulated that more suffered injuries but only the four listed could be positively identified.

In addition to Dr. Mason, police arrested two other Negroes, Joe Lunberger, 18, and Gilmore Fielder, 21. They charged them with fighting.

They also arrested two white men—Leo Rooksk and L. J. DeRouen—and charged them with fighting.

When the shooting broke out, Police Chief Herbert McDonnell closed all white bars in the main business area and all Negro bars. Some white residents retreated to side street bars.

Whisky is illegal in Mississippi but on the Gulf Coast by unwritten consent a person can buy hard liquor openly, either by drink or bottle.

Police attempted to enforce a hastily called curfew, urging people to get off streets.

TEHRAN, Iran (AP) — A giant earthquake has devastated the south Iranian city of Lar, the death toll in Lar and neighboring villages is estimated officially at 1,200 to 1,500. Unofficial estimates range to 3,000.

The quake struck Sunday. Destruction of two school buildings trapped many children in this most ruinous disturbance of the earth's crust since 12,000 were killed in Agadir, Morocco, the night of Feb. 29.

The children had assembled in the schools for children's day celebrations. Rescue workers recovered 380 small bodies from the debris.

One hundred bodies were found elsewhere in a continuing hunt through the city of 17,000. Of Lar's police force of 55 men, only one was said to have survived.

Gov. Nosrat Qarib reported the city destroyed. "The town's strongest building

—my own office—has toppled," Qarib said in the first report announcing the disaster. "Nothing can be seen because of the billowing clouds of dust. Please rush food and tents."

Shah Mohammed Reza Pahlavi ordered quick relief measures. Iranian air force planes parachuted flour, sugar and eggs into the area and set up an airlift to ferry in other food, medicine and tents.

The U. S. government was the first foreign government to pledge aid. It made 100 tons of flour quickly available.

Queen Farah ordered government authorities to bring to her Tehran orphanages all the children of Lar who lost their parents in the quake.

Lar is 550 miles south of Tehran. Special trains and other conveyances moved injured victims to a city hospital in Shiraz, 170 miles north of Lar.

The village of Gerash, 15 miles south of Lar, also was completely destroyed. The village had a population of about 1,000 and "only a few hundred survived," authorities said.

The first shock struck about 4:15 p. m., sending most of the buildings in the city crashing down. Officials reports most persons inside at the time were killed.

A second quake hit about six hours later and reportedly destroyed what had been left standing.

Rescue workers who reached Lar this morning feared the only survivors would be those who were in the open air and away from buildings when the first quake struck.

Seismologists in Norway said the Lar quake registered on their instruments stronger than the quake which shattered Agadir, 1968.

The spendable earnings of factory workers—their after-tax pay—declined an average of 30 cents a week during March to $90.87 a week for the worker heading a family of four.

Reduced working hours, partly because of bad weather in March, caused the earnings decline.

Bond Brochure Being Planned
Representatives of the First National Bank, Dallas, will meet with city officials today to plan a brochure to be used in selling future city bond issues.

City Manager A. K. Steinheimer said M. M. Hatcher, the bank's representative to Big Spring, would be in the city today for the meeting which was to start at 3:30 p.m. Steinheimer and Hatcher are to go to New York City May 8-10 in an effort to get the city's bonds a better rating. If they succeed, it could mean a substantial savings to the taxpayers.

The Big Spring City Commission named the Dallas bank as its fiscal agent from a field of four companies which solicited the business.

MIAMI (AP)—"We're all right. Our captain's shot. They stole our boat."

Those words shouted from the steps of an abandoned Bahama light house, touched off the dramatic rescue Sunday of six persons and recovery of the dead captain's body on Elbow Cay, 106 miles south of Miami.

"When we came in we saw six people on the beach," said Lt. Leonard Korenek, 27, of Angleton, Tex., pilot of a plane from the Miami Coast Guard Station.

Lt. A. E. Midgett, 28, of Grandy, N.C. George Gallagher, 25, of Miami and William Linkins, 25, started paddling ashore in a life raft.

"We started hollering," Midgett said. "They told us they were all right but the captain had been shot. We took the girl (Barbara Table) and two men to the plane. She was very quiet and subdued and had very little to say. All were calm and there was no hysteria.

"We went back for the others and brought the captain's body aboard."

Korenek took up the story there: "The mate (Ken Hokanson) said they left Isla Morada, Fla., Saturday night aboard the 38-foot Muriel III with Capt. Angus Boatwright and four Pennsylvania men for a week's fishing. They saw signal which they thought was a flashing light or the reflection from a mirror. They sighted wreckage. They pulled in shore and the people said they'd been there since the 19th. One man started to swim out to the Muriel III but the captain told him not to come aboard.

"The captain called the Coast Guard in Miami, then the man came aboard and the captain agreed to take them to Cuba or the United States. The captain was suspicious and when the man asked the captain to bring the Muriell III in shore to pick up his wife, Boatwright refused on account of the rocky shoals. The man pulled a pistol and told him 'You'll do it or get shot.'

"The mate said the gunman went to the cabin and the captain whispered to one of the Pennsylvanians to slip him an old shark rifle lying on deck. When the gunman saw the captain had a rifle he shot him.

"The mate said the other man (Table) came out and said 'One is shot, we might as well kill all of them,' but the gunman (William Sees) replied 'One's enough.'"

"The girl said she married Table four weeks ago in San Antonio, Tex., Korenek continued. "They had a makeshift log book—apparently an old address book. The entry for Sunday said: 'Went fishing this morning but didn't catch anything but a cold. Guard cutter celebrated our fourth week's anniversary today with a glass of water.'"

"The other man, Table, swam

Pirates Murder Rescuer, Make Off In Stolen Boat

NASSAU, Bahamas (AP)—Two shipwrecked Americans plundered their rescuers, shot a charter boat skipper to death and made off with his boat in a piratical exploit at a lonely Bahama island Sunday.

The pair fled into Cuban waters while an unarmed U.S. Coast Guard plane hovered overhead, powerless to interfere.

Another Coast Guard plane rescued the wife of one fugitive, a crewman of the stolen Isla Morada, Fla., cabin cruiser Muriel III, and four Pennsylvania sport fishermen who told of being terrorized by the desperadoes' debate over whether to kill all witnesses to the slaying of Capt. Angus Boatwright, 55.

The woman gave her name in Nassau as Barbara Table, 18, and said she was shipwrecked with her husband, Alvin, 23, and William Sees, alias Johnson, 23, Tuesday in a boat the three took from Key West, Fla.

The Muriel III was off Elbow Cay, 106 miles south of Miami, when Boatwright spied mirror signals and saw the wreckage of a boat.

"The skipper was pretty leery of going in close," said Kent Hokanson, 21, mate of the Muriel III. "We thought they might be gun smugglers or Cubans."

"Then this guy (Sees) swam out to us. We let him aboard and he wanted us to go in closer and pick up another man and a girl. There was an argument. He pulled a revolver from his pants.

"Capt. Boatwright got a shark rifle and Sees shot him twice, once between the eyes and once in the chest.

out next. They threatened to kill us but decided not to.

"Table said 'We can't let these guys stick around. They know us.'"

"But the men in the fishing party talked them into letting us radio the Coast Guard that a man was injured and let us swim ashore.

"The four tourists had to give up their identification papers and billfolds. One man lost 450 bucks."

Hokanson said Boatwright was floated ashore on life jackets but died in a few minutes. The desperados sped away in the Muriel III toward Cuba, 30 miles to the south. The Coast Guard cutter Ariadne, ordered to intercept it, was too far away to do so. A Coast Guard amphibian plane from Miami picked up Hokanson, Mrs. Table, Boatwright's body,

Rise May Continue In Summer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's living costs hit a new record in March.

The first rise in food prices in six months edged the Labor Department's consumer's price index to a new peak of 125.7 per cent of the 1947-49 living cost average.

The average price increase over the February level was only one-tenth of one per cent. The March average was 1.6 per cent above the same month last year.

Arnold Chase, Labor Department price chief, forecast that food prices will continue a gradual rise up to July or August. He said the chances are this will carry living costs to still higher levels until late summer.

The March living cost rise brought a one-cent-per-hour pay increase to more than 800,000 employees of the railroad industry. The adjustment means a payroll increase of about 16 million dollars a year.

There were the usual spring up-trends in prices of clothing and gasoline in March and seasonal declines in prices of new and used automobiles and home heating oil.

Chase said he saw no cause for alarm in the fact that living costs have hit a new high. He said prices actually have not gone up as much as experts had believed they would.

"I think this kind of development can be expected in an evenly balanced economy such as we appear to have had in the past several months," he said.

Food prices had been declining since October. They rose three-tenths of one per cent in March.

Most of the rise in food was accounted for by higher prices for meats, chiefly pork and chicken, and for eggs and fresh fruits. Increases for all cuts of pork reflected a seasonal decline in pork production from the winter peak. Poultry prices were their highest level in March since August, 1958.

The spendable earnings of factory workers—their after-tax pay—declined an average of 30 cents a week during March to $90.87 a week for the worker heading a family of four.

Reduced working hours, partly because of bad weather in March, caused the earnings decline.

The Big Spring City Commission named the Dallas bank as its fiscal agent from a field of four companies which solicited the business.

All were flown to Nassau for questioning by British authorities. The Monroe County, Fla., sheriff's office said the Tables and Sees had been sought for a week since a yacht they had negotiated to buy disappeared from Key West.

The trio also was wanted for questioning about checks passed in Key West, Texas, Louisiana and Alabama, the sheriff's office told newsmen.

Table's home town was Torrance, Calif., the Coast Guard said it learned. The girl said she married Table in San Antonio, Tex., four weeks ago.

Tunisia Ired Over Alleged French Assaults

TUNISIA (AP)—Accusing France of new ground and air raids on her soil, Tunisia has served notice any more border attacks will be considered acts of war.

President Habib Bourguiba cut short a tour of the northwest provinces and hastened back to the capital to deal with the crisis.

Bourguiba's government said that the French had launched two attacks in the past week. On April 20, it said, French planes bombed and strafed Ouled Boulaba, and two days later Algerian troops in the service of France thrust into Tunisia near Thala.

The communique said many civilians had been killed in the raids. It also accused French commandos from Algeria of entering Tunisia and placing booby traps to "create insecurity" along the tense frontier.

The French Foreign Ministry in Paris had no comment.

Habib Bourguiba Jr., the Tunisian ambassador to France, was called home for consultations.

Observers here feared the situation was reaching the boiling point along the frontier, where about 10,000 Algerian guerrillas harass French outposts from Tunisian soil. France has accused Tunisia of siding against her in the French to think twice before starting any real trouble along the tense border.

"Any new attack against our territory or any violation of our air space will be considered an act of war and our policy in regard to France will be revised in consequence," Bourguiba declared in a speech at Tebourouk.

If France uses the presence of Algerian rebels in Tunisia as a pretext to make war on Tunisia, he said, "we are ready."

If France keeps up her "aggressions," Bourguiba warned, would no longer be able to assure the security of French citizens living in Tunisia.

Sen. Yarborough Sees Hope For Padre Island Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Ralph Yarborough says "there is a basis for strong hope" that a bill to establish a national seashore area on Padre Island will be passed this session of Congress.

Yarborough pointed out in a radio talk recorded in Washington and broadcast by Texas stations Sunday that Secretary of the Interior Fred Seaton has urged passage of a law setting up the area.

"Within a short time, the Committee on Interior and Insular Affairs will very likely favorably report on omnibus seashore area bill. It will incorporate most of provisions of my proposal, Senate Bill 4, for Padre Island," the Senator continued.

It will provide for the use of 85 miles of Padre Island as a seashore area and will not interfere with oil development in that area. The bill will authorize the secretary of the interior to acquire Padre Island and nearby waters by purchase, by donations or otherwise."

Sen. Yarborough said that nearly 12 million dollars would be invested in the next five years to buy and develop the resort under the current plan.

"This large, full scale development of Padre Island as America's biggest and most beautiful beach recreation spot would attract hundreds of thousands of tourists and millions of dollars of additional tourist trade to Texas each year," he said.

Missing Judge Is Found In Chicago

CHICAGO (AP)—The finding of the body of missing federal Judge W. Lynn Parkinson has climaxed one of Chicago's most famous missing persons cases. Still a mystery is how the 57-year-old jurist met his death.

The discovery apparently resolved the knotty legal problem of filling the judge's seat on the U.S. Court of Appeals.

A passerby spotted the judge's decomposed body Sunday floating face-down in Lake Michigan near the north edge of the Loop.

The body, identified by a cousin, fingerprints and identification cards, bore no apparent marks of violence. An autopsy report today said everything was consistent with drowning, a theory held by many policemen since the judge's spectacles and umbrella were found along a route leading to the Oak Street beach last fall.

An extensive search by scuba divers then failed to turn up clues, giving rise to speculation the judge had met with foul play.

His widow Elsie Ruth maintained that her husband was an amnesia victim.

Judge Parkinson's son, William L. Parkinson Jr., who owns a dress shop in West Lafayette, Ind., said that his father was either "put in the lake or had an accident and fell in."

He ruled out suicide, saying, "Dad wasn't the type to take his own life."

Coroner Walter McCarron said his office would investigate the possibility the judge was robbed.

He said no money or jewelry was found on the body.

The judge, reported by his family to have suffered from low blood pressure, left his office about 4:30 p.m. Oct. 26 to walk to his home a few blocks away.

In the next two hours, he was seen having a few drinks in cocktail lounges. Two men saw him stumble down an underpass near his office, where his glasses later were found.

A cab driver and doorman helped him alight from a taxi at the Drake. Between 6:15 and 6:30 p.m. he was seen lurching dazed down the arcade of the Drake. Then he vanished.

He said he sent the warning to former Ambassador W. Averell Harriman for personal delivery to Stalin.

At his Florida home Sunday, Harriman could not recall delivering the message, adding that he was not in Moscow at the time.

He said the Iranian dispute was being handled by Britain, which had "the strongest backing of Mr. Truman in the matter."

New Lutheran Church Rejoices

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
Associated Press Religion Writer
MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—The newly merged American Lutheran Church went "on the way rejoicing" today, fired with a new song of unity and a new program for spreading the Lord's word.

The song, "Una Sancta" (One Holy Church), an original cantata bursting with trumpet calls, rolling drums and triumphant chorales, was introduced to set the tone for the church's inaugural "year of jubilee."

During the year, the church plans vigorous, nationwide efforts of evangelism and other tasks, including a special two-million-dollar drive to start new churches, expand education and increase aid to missions and the needy.

Theme of it all: "On the way rejoicing."

In a closing session Sunday night of the church's three-day constituting convention, its president, the Rev. Dr. Fredrik Schiøtz, laid out some of its guiding posts and objectives.

He called for greater dedication to Christian unity, racial justice, and to strengthening the country's religious idealism.

In an unusual tack, he urged the church's nine senior colleges to concentrate on producing artists and writers to "pour living water" into arid, godless areas of American cultural life.

He said the new 24-million member church will be conservative in its loyalty to scriptures, but he added: "I hope and believe that it will also be a radical church—as radical in its application of the gospel as one must be if you are under the mandate to love your neighbor as yourself."

On the matter of racial justice, Dr. Schiøtz cited reports saying that in the church's headquarters city of Minneapolis, Negroes were barred from buying houses in some areas by prices hiked above those quoted to whites.

He said the church should lead the way in ridding the city of "this blight" and said, "As long as discrimination exists in our fair land the blood of South Africa's riots besmirches our own hands."

At the close of his address, there was a triple blast from a shofar or ram's horn.

This was the ancient Jewish signal for launching a festival year of jubilee, and it was sounded over the 1,000 church delegates to alert them to their own jubilee year, starting on Pentecost Sunday, June 5.

Then came the premiere of the cantata, written by Paul J. Christensen, director of the Concordia College choir at Moorhead, Minn.

Presented with a full band, organ and a choir of 550 voices from nine Lutheran colleges, the stirring composition stresses the theme of Christian unity, and the various traditions and heritages that go to make up Christ's church.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special)—For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain—without surgery.

In case after case, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place.

Most amazing of all—results were so thorough that sufferers made astonishing statements, like "Piles have ceased to be a problem!"

The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne*)—discovery of a world-famous research institute. This substance is now available in suppository or ointment form under the name Preparation H.*

Truman Relates Threat That Saved Iran From Stalin

NEW YORK (AP)—Former President Harry Truman says that in 1946 he threatened to send the United States fleet if Premier Stalin failed to pull Soviet forces out of Iran.

"He got out," Truman notes. "The episode is discussed in 'Truman Speaks,' a transcript of lectures published today by the Columbia University Press. The talks were given at Columbia a year ago."

In recalling the Iran episode, Truman told a reporter over the weekend: "I also told Stalin I would send troops if he did not get out."

He said he sent the warning to former Ambassador W. Averell Harriman for personal delivery to Stalin.

At his Florida home Sunday, Harriman could not recall delivering the message, adding that he was not in Moscow at the time.

Baseball Executive Slain, Ex-Husband Of Date Held

DURHAM, N. C. (AP)—Charles S. Allen, 60, a banker and baseball executive, was shot and killed by a woman on his front porch, his body riddled by two shotgun blasts.

Solicitor (Prosecutor) W. H. Murdock said Allen, president of the Durham team in the Class B Carolina League, was shot and killed by Forrest Alfred Pollard, 53, former husband of Allen's date Saturday night.

Murdock said Allen, a widower, was asked by friends to escort Mrs. Pollard to a dinner at the exclusive Hope Valley Country Club.

After the dinner, the two stopped at Allen's home to check on his two teen-age children. Pollard, who had been drinking, then arrived, Murdock said, and began to argue and Allen slapped his face.

"I won't fight you in your home, come out in the yard and talk," the solicitor quoted Pollard, a lawyer and former state legislator, as saying.

Murdock said he reconstructed this story from Mrs. Pollard and Virginia Pitchford, Allen's housekeeper.

"Allen followed Pollard out of the house and to the edge of the street where Pollard had parked his car."

"Mrs. Pollard and Mrs. Pitchford heard gunfire. Mrs. Pitchford ran to the door, terrified. She found Allen bleeding and holding his side, staggering up the walk to the stoop. Allen told Mrs. Pitchford, 'Pollard shot me,'" Murdock related.

Mrs. Pitchford took hold of Allen and was assisting him up the steps to the door when she said Pollard raised the gun again and fired another charge into Allen.

Murdock said he planned to ask a grand jury to indict Pollard on a first-degree murder charge. Pollard was held without bond.

The solicitor said there apparently was no romantic interest between Allen and Mrs. Pollard, who divorced her husband two years ago.

Candidates Push Votes

By RAYMOND HOLBROOK
Associated Press Staff Writer
With a scant two weeks left before the May 7 primary, candidates stepped up their drive Monday for votes.

Many were active Sunday. Even those who made "non-political speeches" shook lots of hands.

Jack Cox, seeking the governorship, charged in Houston that Gov. Price Daniel is plotting to force a state income tax on Texans.

"The income tax is the most important of his five secret tax plans," Cox said. "The evidence is plain. When the AFL-CIO bosses held their state convention last year they endorsed two things. One of them was the state income tax and the other was Price Daniel, their old enemy."

Daniel journeyed to McAllen Sunday to help dedicate a new million-dollar civic center. He said Texas must advertise the attractions it has for visitors and tourists.

"It is plain good business to set up a program which will attract tourists to Texas. Their spending helps ease the state and local tax burden. Tourists who come to Texas by automobile spend on the average 530 million dollars a year," he said.

Waggoner Carr, running for attorney general, made no direct reference to politics when he addressed an American Legion meeting in Dallas.

"State and local governments are coming to a period when they must put up or shut up. Either the state and local governments must show, under bold leadership, the ability to meet the needs of the people and the needs of the times, or else the central government will become helplessly burdened by the accumulating deficit of our neglect responsibility," he said.

Atty. Gen. Will Wilson told the Young Democrats of Texas at Houston he is campaigning on his record.

He said his campaign for a third term will "center around our efforts to enforce the laws of Texas against lone sharks, professional gamblers, medical quacks and anti-trust law violators."

Daniel campaigns in the Lower Rio Grande Valley Monday and make a state-wide television talk while Cox goes to Baytown, Freeport, Galveston and Texas City.

Carr will campaign in College Station and Wilson will visit Austin and Lockhart.

SWEENEY, Tex. (AP)—A fire destroyed the Missouri Pacific railway depot here early Sunday. The fire — which left only a wall of the depot standing — damaged a few pieces of second class mail and a few packages. Postmaster E. L. Mickey said.

A package containing census reports was removed from the fire unharmed, but area census crew leader Mrs. Lee Arnold said last night she wouldn't know until Monday if any other census forms were in the building.

"I'll have to check with the Galveston office and see how many packages were sent," she said. The forms had been mailed to Sweeney from Galveston, but Mrs. Arnold declined to say if they were census forms from Sweeney or Galveston.

go back to the base. He went AWOL, so we called his people and here is what we found out: He is married and has a 3-year-old son. He doesn't want the child and neither does his wife, so his parents are raising him. He asked for a divorce two years ago, but his wife wouldn't give it to him.

To think this man gave our daughter a ring and went to church to set their wedding date, knowing all along he was a married man!

Now this will finish you, Abby. After learning all this, our daughter says she doesn't care, she still loves him and will stick by him until his divorce comes through. What can be done about this mess?

DAZED PARENTS
"DEAR PARENTS: You have a badly confused 19-year-old on your hands and it might take the combined efforts of a doctor and a clergyman to rearrange her mental furniture and reconstruct her sense of values. Fortunately, she will probably have a long way before (and IF) this scoundrel is free to marry her. By that time she may be older, wiser and in control of her runaway emotions.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "TWO TEXAS TEEN-AGERS": You are mistaken. A girl must be 18 and a boy 21 to marry without parental consent in Texas. And a blood test is required.

"What's your problem?" For a person reply, write to Abby in care of the Big Spring Herald, and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

For Abby's pamphlet, "What Teen-agers Want To Know," send 25 cents and a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope in care of the Big Spring Herald.

Border Governors Join To Dedicate McAllen Center

By B. F. KELLUM
McALLEN, Texas (AP)—The governors of Texas and the adjoining Mexican state of Tamaulipas Sunday joined in the dedication of a new million-dollar civic center to inaugurate this city's huge open house celebration week.

The celebration marks the completion and purchase of several municipal properties valued at more than five million dollars.

Gov. Price Daniel praised the City of McAllen for its improvements and the "continued spirit of friendship between Texas and its neighboring states of Mexico."

He said that he and Gov. Norberto Trevino Zapata had met seven times during their administrations.

"I have met with this governor more times than I have with any governor of the United States," Daniel said.

In his brief speech, Gov. Trevino Zapata said "Hospitality is found in all of Tamaulipas, bringing closer together the peoples on both sides of the Rio Bravo."

Daniel said two dozen tourists a day in a community contribute to its economy an amount comparable to a new manufacturing plant with a $100,000 annual payroll.

"We want tourists to see our state and join us in bragging about it," the governor said.

"They are also the taxpayer's friend, for they help ease the state and local tax burden," he added.

The governor said a comparatively recent study shows tourists traveling by automobile in Texas spend more than $30 million a year within its borders.

HOUSTON (AP)—Texas Young Democrats passed 27 resolutions and heard from three candidates for state offices Sunday as the group closed out their 1960 State convention here.

The young Democrats heard Atty. Gen. Will Wilson, Attorney General Candidate Bob Looney and Don Yarborough, candidate for lieutenant governor, outline their campaign platforms.

The Democrats — after a weekend of battling between liberals and conservatives — passed the 27 resolutions while vetoing only one and amending just two.

The resolutions ranged from a commendation of Houston's mayor for his bi-racial committee to study segregation problems to the branding as an — American any efforts to resist orderly integration of school systems.

The convention delegates elected Houstonian Bill Kilgartin to his second consecutive term as state president. Another member of the Northeastern Howard Reef Discovery Rates 182 Bbls.

J. C. Barnes has completed the No. 1 Conrad as a Pennsylvania lime discovery in the extreme northeastern corner of Howard County.

On initial flowing test, the project made 181.83 barrels of 46.1 gravity oil in 16 hours. This is a calculated 24 hour potential of 272.64 barrels of new oil through a 14-64 inch choke.

Two new wildcat locations were reported in Borden County this morning. Both will check the Ellenburger formation, but in different parts of the county at different depths.

Dalton Cobb of Midland will dig No. 1 Clayton to 9,900 feet about eight miles northwest of Gail. Trice Production will drill No. 1 Dennis to 8,900 feet about five miles northeast of Gail.

Cosden No. 1 - B Featherstone-Federal is drilling in lime and chert below 9,700 feet. Operator reports some oil shows in samples.

Six Mishaps Are Reported

A number of vehicles were damaged but drivers escaped injury in six traffic accidents over the weekend.

Donnivan Gayle Ward, Midland, was involved in a collision with Charles F. Warbritton, Woodhawn, at Third and Benton.

Dorothy Laverne Carter, 400 Abrams, was in collision with Clayton R. Carlton, 1701 Howard, at 17th and Main.

A collision in the 2000 block of West 80 involved John Kenneth Barnett, Webb AFB, and Horace Wayne Carroll, 406 Donley. Freddie Tom Kasparek, Seymour, and Leahman Foster Brynair, 1602 Tuscon, were in a collision at 17th and Gregg.

Marcus Torres Carter, 1111 E. Curry, was involved in a collision in the 200 block of NW Second with a parked auto belonging to Joe Arnold, 200 block NW fourth.

Frank S. Sherman, 105 NW eighth, collided with a parked auto belonging to Roy Brooks, Webb AFB, at 300 N. Gregg.

Two other cases which may be tried this week if time permits are J. Q. Carroll versus Hartford Accident & Casualty Co., compensation; and Jeedie Colbert versus Ellis Eubanks, damages.

This latter case is a retrial of a damage action heard two years ago. It involves a city police car driven by the defendant. The original verdict in the case was set aside and the case ordered by the Civil Court of appeals for retrial.

This is the final jury docket slated at this term in the court.

Area Scouters Win Award
The Buffalo Trail Council, thanks to a strong assist by the Lone Star District, won the attendance award at the Region IX Boy Scouts of America meeting in Dallas Saturday.

With 63 delegates and 12 wives registered, the Council easily outdistanced Tulsa, Okla., the nearest rival.

Under the leadership of R. L. Tollett, district chairman, the Lone Star district had 21 of the council's delegates at the meeting.

The region meeting at the Statter-Hilton was the largest in history. Among the speakers was Dr. Arthur Shuck, who is retiring as chief scout executive J. L. (Dusty) Rhoades, Odessa, Buffalo Trail council president, was co-chairman of promotion for this year's event. The 1961 meeting will be held in Houston.

The Corps of Engineers at Webb Air Force Base announced Monday that scheduled bid opening Tuesday on an aircraft weapons shelter project for Webb has been cancelled.

The Webb office said the cancellation came out of the Corps of Engineers and did not set a new date or explain why the cancellation had been ordered.

Veronica Sorley Wins FHA Honor
STANTON (SC) — Veronica Sue Sorley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Sorley, has been awarded the state degree in homemaking for her four-year homemaking record in Stanton High school.

Miss Sorley is the first Stanton girl to receive this award. She will go to Austin for the state convention on April 28-30, along with her mother and Mrs. Florence King, her homemaking teacher and advisor.

Athletics Study On Board Agenda
Big Spring school trustees, continuing a policy of hearing more first hand of the problems of various departments, will hear about physical education and athletics Tuesday at 7:30 p.m.

Emmett McKenzie, head coach and athletic director, will visit with the board.

The only business matter scheduled to be considered is a successor for John L. Dibrell, who resigned last month.

Legion Auxiliary Cited At District Convention
Big Spring delegations from the American Legion and the Auxiliary attended the 19th District convention in Brownfield over the weekend. The groups were headed by Foy Dunlap, commander, and Lois Hill, president.

Another member of the Big Spring post, Raymond Andrews, is commander of the district and presided over the sessions.

In Auxiliary activities the Big Spring unit received the district plaque awarded for the unit with most activities. Mrs. Wilfred Stoner, Plainview, district president made the award.

Damage-Claim Goes To Trial

A suit for compensation brought by Marion Woodie Windham against the Standard Accident and Insurance Co. began in 118th District Court at 1:30 p.m. Monday. It was the initial litigation called up for the current jury docket which opened today.

Judge Ralph Caton sounded the docket on Monday morning and four of the cases were announced ready. The Windham matter was first.

Case of Odus Mays versus Traders General Insurance Co., another compensation matter, has been tentatively set to start at 1:30 p.m. Wednesday.

Wife Wounded Husband Held
Luther Walker, 59-year-old Negro farm hand, was being quizzed by Sheriff Buster Cox, Glasscock County, Dist. Atty. Gil Jones and Bobby West, investigator for Jones' office, Monday morning in the Sunday shooting of Walker's 58-year-old wife.

The shooting occurred on the Grady Cross farm in Glasscock County sometime around 3 a.m. The woman was shot in the right knee with a pistol.

She is in the Big Spring Hospital.

Cox said the shooting seems to have developed as climax to an all night drinking party in which the Walkers and other Negroes participated. Despite fact that the woman was wounded at an early hour Sunday, she was not brought to the hospital until near mid-morning Sunday. Walker told the officers that his wife would not let him take her to the hospital.

No charge had been filed against Walker at 11 a.m., but Jones indicated charges would probably be filed.

Trio Of Thefts Investigated
Big Spring police in the past 24 hours had three thefts to investigate.

A theft of bedding at the Key Motel included three blankets, two sheets, two pillows and a bedspread, police reported.

Carlos Gambell, 309 1/2 Mesquite, reported four hubcaps taken from his auto.

Thomas Marquez, 1008 NW 2nd St., told police someone entered his home and stole a radio.

Cumulative thefts amounting to over $200 in the past several months were reported from the Mike Hammer Mobile Homes lot, 3202 West 80.

De Gaulle Declares 'Last Moment' For Disarmament

WASHINGTON (AP) — French President Charles de Gaulle told Congress today that the great powers are facing their "last moment" for making a start on nuclear disarmament. Failure to disarm, he said, would doom mankind.

De Gaulle concluded his summit strategy talks with President Eisenhower shortly before going to the Capitol to deliver his 1,000-word address.

The two 69-year-old Allied leaders spent an hour together at the White House and De Gaulle reported as he left the President's office: "All is very well."

The French leader spoke to the House and Senate members—sembled in the big House chamber—in French. English translations of his speech had been distributed.

MAJOR POINTS
While de Gaulle concentrated on disarmament he made these other major points in his brief statement:

1. The hope for a solution of

C-CITY BEAUTIES PRACTICE FOR MAIN EVENT

Twenty-Nine Lovelies Go Through Festival Paces

Twenty-nine beauties rehearsed over the weekend in preparation for the Tumbleweed Queen contest scheduled Thursday and Friday in the Colorado High School Gym.

The youngsters were being instructed in walking, make-up, grace and poise by Mrs. Joe Gunning, chairman of the Tumbleweed Queen Contest, Mrs. Joe Bell, Mrs. Jim Roberts and Mrs. Austin McCloud. The contestants will appear one night in bathing suits, another night in full length evening dresses.

The list will not be pared until Friday night, according to Mrs. Gunning.

Bands Prep For Contest
All three Big Spring school bands will participate in the regional contests at Odessa Friday and Saturday. The competition, against standards, will be held in Permian high school. Each band entered will be judged on five levels of excellence.

Judges for the contest will be Maurice McAdoo, North Texas State College; Jerry Newman, University of Georgia; Okley Pittman, SMU; Floren Thompson, Eastern New Mexico College; and Weldon Covington, Austin public schools.

Senior high school band director Doug Wiehe will enter his band in the competition Saturday. Friday, the junior high school bands will compete. The Rannels band is directed by Jimmy Yancy and the Goliad band by Tommy Fry.

Rites For Mother Of Local Resident Tuesday At Uvalde
Funeral rites for Mrs. Carley Clendening, wife of Carley Clendening of Uvalde, who formerly lived in Big Spring for many years, will be at 3 p.m. Tuesday in Uvalde.

Mrs. Clendening died on Sunday at her home in Uvalde after a long illness.

She was the mother of Gordon Hickman, Big Spring, who was at her bedside at the time of her death.

Burial services will be in LaPryor, 18 miles from Uvalde. Clendening worked with gins in this county during his residence in Big Spring.

Survivors in addition to the son who lives here are another son, Carley Clendening Jr., Batesville, three daughters, Mrs. Marguerite Carbery, Mercedes, Calif.; Mrs. Jewell Adkins, and Miss Melrose Clendening, both of LaPryor. There are 15 grandchildren and five great grandchildren.

German problems, including Berlin, lies in improving Soviet-Western relations by relaxing tensions. It would be "unfortunate and untimely" if anyone tried to force such issues now, De Gaulle said—an obvious, indirect warning to Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

2. The great powers should join in developing a program of economic aid for Asia and Africa. That is both their "greatest human duty and the most fruitful policy" they could adopt, De Gaulle said.

3. Eisenhower, De Gaulle, Khrushchev, and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan cannot hope to provide solutions for the great East-West problem in the summit conference next month but they may "decide on the road to follow" away from nuclear catastrophe.

The fact is, De Gaulle said, "there is no other hope for the future of our species" than the hope to be found for survival in the destruction of nuclear weapons.

The meeting between Eisenhower and De Gaulle was the third between them in as many days. De Gaulle spent an hour with Eisenhower before going to the Capitol.

White House press secretary James C. Hagerty described today's meeting as "very cordial." De Gaulle sees no hope at the summit for settlement of the Soviet-Western dispute over the future of Berlin. Eisenhower and he are agreed that the Western powers must stand firm on all their

The various fields, and speakers, include: Physical education, Dr. Melvin Crawford, Howard County Junior College; journalism, Joe Pickle, the Herald; music, Jack Hendrix, HCJC; teaching, Miss Arah Phillips, formerly of HCJC; business, Mrs. Dean Box, HCJC, and O. B. Bryan, Caprock Electric; engineering, Mr. McFarland; agriculture, Bob Johnson, Martin County agent, and Connie Mack Hood, Stanton; beauty treatment, Betty Miller; home economics, Mrs. Mrs. Mildred Eiland, Martin County home demonstration agent; medicine and nursing, Miss Bob Bowen, Big Spring-Howard County health department.

Tindol Is Sentenced
James Tindol, convicted of murder with malice, was formally sentenced Monday morning to serve 15 years in the state penitentiary. He immediately gave notice of appeal.

Tindol was found guilty by a District Court jury of the fatal beating two years ago of William Walter Gatlin. Tindol had made an unsuccessful bid for a new trial last week.

He is now serving an 18-year sentence assessed in 1949 against him for rape. He will probably be returned to the state penitentiary from Howard County pending disposition of the appeal in the current case.

The slaying occurred while Tindol was free from the penitentiary on a parole. The parole was revoked and he was returned to the prison. He was brought here for the trial several months ago and has been held in the county jail since that time.

Half A Century Of Real Service

At the ripe, old age of 51 years, the State National Bank of Big Spring is constantly striving to improve and increase its services to the public.

Customers of the concern discover that one of the most pleasing of the new services offered by the bank are free personalized checks.

Whether you have only a few dollars or thousands on deposit at the institution, you can have your name and bank serial number printed on each of your checks, simply by asking for that type of service at any of the teller windows.

Last year, the State National Bank installed an electronic bookkeeping system that not only minimizes the margin for error but greatly accelerates the handling of any client's checking system.

How much money can you afford to lose while on a vacation or a weekend outing? You'd be wise to convert your money into traveler's checks, which can be obtained for a very small fee at the State National Bank.

The traveler's checks are universally accepted and, most important of all, guarantee the owner against loss in event they're stolen or misplaced.

Many customers of the bank have subscribed to the concern's savings plan, wherein interest to the extent of 2 per cent annually is offered on all investments.

For those who need installment loans, the State National Bank is an ideal and reliable place with which to do business. Those in need of a car find the best way to finance it is by obtaining a loan through the State National Bank.

Greek Editor Kidnap Victim

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — The editor of the Greek-Cypriot newspaper Ethniki, which opposes Archbishop Makarios, was kidnaped early today after four attempts to muzzle his newspaper.

Police said Asdonis Pharmakides, 35, was dragged from his home. Bloodstains were found in one of the rooms.

A gang of masked men raided Ethnikis's plant Saturday. It was an apparent attempt to prevent publication of a story saying that Gen. George Grivas, former chief of the EOKA Greek-Cypriot underground, was opposing any climb-down by Makarios, future president of independent Cyprus, in his negotiations with the British for British bases on the island after Cyprus becomes independent.

Hauling Oil And Water Is Specialty Of H. W. Smith

The H. W. Smith Transport Co. furnishes an important service to oil companies and independent drillers in this area. It is that of hauling crude from leases to the refineries.

Many drilling operations are not on established pipelines to processing plants. The only way the crude can be hauled is in special trucks. Smith also has vacuum tanks for heavier loads.

His company has hauled for all major companies and some independents. The firm currently is hauling crude to the Col-Tex and Cosden Petroleum Corp. refineries.

Smith has 10 trucks available for this service, all equipped with two-way radio. This feature means time saved to the operator, who can have a truck routed to his drillsite from any place it may be working.

Smith also does some crude purchasing.

HC Runs In Zone Meet At Odessa

Howard County Junior College goes to Odessa today to try and defend its track and field championship in the annual West Zone meet.

The Hawks warmed up for the cinder show by participating in the Webb AFB meet here last Saturday. Considering the calibre of the competition, the local collegians made a fine showing. They finished third in team standings, back of Fort Sill and Brooke Army Medical Center, who emerged with two first places.

Eugene Franklin raced to an impressive victory in the high hurdles while Willie Carter tied for first in the high jump.

Amarillo College will offer the chief competition to the Hawks at Odessa. All seven schools within the zone probably won't enter teams at Odessa. However, Lubbock Christian and Odessa boast cinder squads, as does Amarillo and HCJC.

The Hawks will be without the services of Jim Bob Thomas, a fine sprinter, who has quit school. Thomas, a Fort Worth boy, accompanied the Hawks to a meet in Denton a couple of weeks ago and didn't return.

The track meet will be directed by Larry McCulloch, the one-time Big Spring High School mentor who is now athletic director at Odessa College.

The meet gets under way at 2 p.m. in Barrett Stadium. The Hawks will go over early, however, just in case preliminaries are scheduled.

Odessa will probably enter a five man team in the meet. Such athletes as Eugene Franklin, Franklin Snow, Johnny Ramirez, Bob Shirey, Jimmy Evans, R. D. Ross, Tiffin Stone, Leon Calley, Willie Carter, Noel Orr and possibly Maurice Burnett will be active for HCJC.

HCJC's golf team, composed of Whitney Reynolds and Adrian de Graffenried, will also make the trip to compete in the annual Zone golf meet.

Golf play will be over 36 holes, starting at 8 a.m. at the Sunset Country Club. Odessa College is heavily favored to win links honors.

Adams Repeats In Tournament

LAMESA (SC)—Roland Adams, a Lubbock plumber, won his second straight Lamesa Invitational Golf tournament crown here Sunday afternoon by defeating John Paul Cain of Texas Tech and Sweetwater, 3 and 2.

Cain turned back Bobby Sharp of Hardin-Simmons, 1 up on the 23rd hole, in his semi-final match.

Adams had to go 20 holes to defeat Vance Moxom, Berger, 1 up, in his semi-final test.

R. S. (Red) McCullah, Big Spring, lost out in the finals of the first flight to Jerry Mobley of HSU, 3 and 1.

McCullah had defeated Ted Triplett of HSU in his semi-final match, 1 up 19 holes. Mobley turned back Jeff Goodin, also of HSU, in his morning match, 2-1.

Dave Lawson won championship consolation by trouncing Ben Alexander of Lubbock and Texas Tech, 2 and 1.

Turman, Moore Meet In Dallas

DALLAS (AP)—Buddy Turman and Sonny Moore meet tonight in a rematch of their heavyweight fight that many thought went the wrong way.

Turman won over Moore last month when Moore was penalized for holding.

MacKay Is Winner Over Australian

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—A powerful Barry MacKay has boosted U. S. Davis Cup hopes by trouncing Australia's Neale Fraser in straight sets.

"I served better than I ever have," said MacKay after defeating the worlds top-ranked player, 7-5, 6-3, 6-4, Sunday to win the 26th River Oaks tennis tournament.

MacKay defeated Fraser in five sets in the 1959 Wimbledon quarterfinals but lost to the Aussie in four sets in Davis Cup play last summer.

The victory for the 23-year-old Dayton, Ohio, star was impressive in that it required only 1 hour and 25 minutes and the powerful service of the nation's No. 2 player was never broken.

It was even more impressive in that just two hours earlier MacKay had completed a delayed semifinal match with top-seeded Bernard Bartenz by taking a 1 hour and 30 minute, thrill packed fifth set.

"That was the best competitive match I think I ever won," said MacKay of the 6-3, 6-8, 14-12, 5-7, 12-10 victory over Bartenz, the national clay courts champion from Dallas. Darkness had hal-

Ticket Selling Mission

Pretty Celia Grant and Vernon Harton were members of an American Business Club ticket selling team that worked out of a booth in downtown Big Spring Saturday. They were offering duets (at $1.50 each) to the May 20-21 National Junior College Track and Field Meet, which will be held here. The ABC club is co-sponsor of the meet. The booth will be in operation each Saturday in front of Zale's Jewelry Store.

Bengals Defeat Sox Again, 7-1

LAMESA (SC)—The Big Spring Tigers won their second straight New Mex-Texas Baseball league game here Sunday afternoon, turning back the Lamesa White Sox by a score of 7-1.

The Bengals started out with a four-run first inning and wound up by counting six times in the ninth frame.

Joe Cadenhead, who pitched the first six innings for Big Spring, received credit for the win. He pitched 7 1/3 innings.

The Tigers failed to score in only three of the nine innings played.

The loser hurler was Lelo Dymas, N. Garza of the Lamesa collected two of the home team's four hits.

The Tigers return to play next Sunday, at which time they meet Levelland in Big Spring.

The Aggies lead the links parade with 23 1/2 points to 12 1/2 for the opposition. Baylor is second with 15-9.

A&M meets Rice Saturday to end the season while Baylor has three matches left. The Bears play SMU and Arkansas this week and Texas Christian next week.

SMU And Aggies Lead In Races

Southern Methodist and Texas A&M hold the top spots as the Southwest Conference tennis and golf races move into the late stages.

SMU, the tennis leader with a 20-4 record, plays Texas A&M this week while Texas takes on Texas Tech. Texas is second in the standings with a 24-6 record and has only six matches left to play.

The Aggies lead the links parade with 23 1/2 points to 12 1/2 for the opposition. Baylor is second with 15-9.

A&M meets Rice Saturday to end the season while Baylor has three matches left. The Bears play SMU and Arkansas this week and Texas Christian next week.

Fraser charged a drop shot and hit the ball right back to MacKay at the net. MacKay somehow got his racket on the ball and volleyed it into the corner to end the match.

"That was the best finishing shot I ever had," MacKay said. "I also hit a couple of half-volley drop shots that were so great I never felt them."

MacKay played 54 games Sunday, 23 against Bartenz and 31 against Fraser. He held his service through the last 53 of the 114 games in the two matches his service was broken only three times, all by Bartenz.

Fraser and his Australian Cup teammate, Roy Emerson, won the doubles championship by defeating Billy Talbert, New York City, and Chuck McKinley, St. Louis, 6-4, 7-6, 10-8, 6-4.

Pittsburgh Bucs Riding Atop National League

By THE HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

"They can't write us off. We were only three games out on the first of September."

Everybody smiled and looked wise when Danny Murtaugh, the Pittsburgh manager, boldly stated his case in March at Ft. Myers, Fla.

Murtaugh's analysis looks solid at this early stage of the National League race. The season is only two weeks old but his Pirates are riding in first place.

The Pirates sneaked into the lead Sunday by knocking off Milwaukee 7-3 while the San Francisco Giants were losing to the Chicago Cubs 9-4. It was Pittsburgh's fifth straight victory and its eighth in 11 starts.

Once again it was Elroy Face walking from the bullpen to save the day. Harvey Haddix had been rolling along with a 7-0 shutout going to the ninth.

A double by Joe Adcock, a walk, a double by Johnny Logan, a sacrifice fly and another double by pinch-hitter Mike Krivich finished Haddix. In came Face to strike out pinch-hitter Charley Lau and end the game by making Red Schoendienst ground out.

The Giants had a 4-2 lead going to the eighth when Billy O'Dell was replaced by Lyle Loebs. When the inning was over the Cubs had seven runs and the ball game. Don Elston was the winner.

Solly Hemus' St. Louis Cardinals won their fourth straight, after losing their first five, hammering Los Angeles pitching for a 7-2 decision. Ken Boyer hit his fifth homer and old man Stan Musial poked No. 2.

Eight homers were hit in the Phillie-Cincinnati doubleheader including a grand slammer by rookie Jim Coker in the Phils' opening 9-5 victory. Roy McMillan hit his fifth and Frank Robinson and Eddie Kasko each added his second of the day in Cincinnati's 10-4 second game triumph.

Fifteen homers were hit in the American, including three grand slammers by Albie Pearson and Billy Klaus of Baltimore and Lou Berbert of Detroit. Detroit remained unbeaten with five straight, trimming Chicago 12-4. New York bombed Baltimore 15-9, scoring eight in its first before a man was retired. Cleveland won its first game 7-0 on Gary Bell's six-hit shutout of Kansas City and Washington outlasted Boston 11-10.

with Camilo Pasqual working in relief.

Smoky Burgess and Bob Skinner hit homers for the Pirates in their sweep of the three-game series from the Braves. Bob Buhl suffered his first defeat.

Loes was the chief victim of the big Cub uprising. Bob Willis' three-run pinch single and a two-run homer by Tony Taylor put the Giants behind the eight ball before Loes was replaced by Stu Miller.

Bob Miller, 21-year-old right hander, was the Cardinal winner although he needed help from Ron Kline and Lindy McDaniel. Johnny Podres was the Dodger loser.

Ted Wiaeand, Cincinnati relief man walked the first two men he faced in the first game with the Phils and then gave up the grand slammer to Coker. Later in the afternoon he was shipped to the Havana farm. Rookie Chris Short won the first for the Phils and Jim Owens lost the second. Bob Purkey was the Cincinnati loser in the opener. Don Newcombe won the second.

Suggs Is Champ In Fem Tourney

DALLAS (AP)—Louise Suggs, the smooth swinger from Atlanta, showed them Sunday how a champion should finish a golf tournament.

She had seen a 5-stroke lead melt to 1 when she double-bogeyed the 11th hole of the final round in the $10,000 Dallas Women's Open.

Then the defending champ pulled herself together and birdied four of the last seven holes to win the tournament by five strokes with a record 281 for 72 holes. She had a 1-under-par 70 on the final round over the rainswept 6,238-yard Glen Lakes Country Club course.

Mickey Wright from San Diego, also shot a closing 1-under-par 70 and finished second with 286.

Abilene Plays Here Tuesday

Zay LeFevre has been named by Coach Roy Baird to charge the hill for Big Spring here Tuesday, as the locals struggle to avoid the cellar in their battle with Abilene.

The Eagles currently own the same record as Big Spring, one win against five defeats, and Tuesday's loser will strengthen its grip on last place in the league.

Zay teamed with brother Jay last Saturday to hurl a one-hitter against the circuit-leading San Angelo nine, but an unearned run cost the locals another setback.

Game time Tuesday is 4 p.m. in Steer Park.

Queens Win Two Tourney Tests

ABILENE (SC)—Wanda Armstrong and Pat Hudgins, Jayhawk Queen netters, teamed up to win the consolation bracket of the Hardin-Simmons University tennis tournament here Saturday.

Howard County's two dropped the first match to Hardin-Simmons in three sets. They then bested Abilene Christian and McMurry for the tournament championship.

West Texas State waded through two doubles teams from Hardin-Simmons and McMurry for the tournament championship. Delores Shelmutt and Monah Mabley were the team members of Hardin-Simmons' runner-up bunch.

The Queens won a dual tennis meet from McMurry College here April 22, on the Webb AFB courts in Big Spring.

Bonnie Collins won her singles match, 6-3; 6-1, and Claudine Pyle bested her opponent, 6-2; 6-2.

The Queens lost the doubles match however, Wanda Armstrong and Pat Hudgins being beaten, 6-1; 7-5.

In a boys singles, match, Howard County's Jay T. Horn outlasted Delmar Day, 6-3; 5-7; 6-3.

placed him among golf's two big money winners today.
The methodical 30-year-old veteran from Tequesta, Fla., blazed in with a 3-under-par 69 Sunday for a 72-hole total of 276, more than enough to break a 19-year-old tournament record.
Finsterwald had a 6-stroke edge over Al Bessellink, whose final round 70 and tournament total of 276 represented the Grossinger, N.Y. belter's best showing in more than two years.
Former PGA champion Bob Rosburg and three others tied for third at 277. Jon Gustin of Gladwyne, Pa., fell next in line at 278 and Dick Knight of San Diego, Calif., was 8th at 279.
Finsterwald picked up a check for $3,500, his first winning effort since the Los Angeles Open last January. But he has been to the pay window often on the present tour and his $25,000 puts him behind only Arnold Palmer's $44,000 for the year.
Just stay out of trouble and you can't miss, is the Finsterwald philosophy. He had only three bogeys in the tournament, a feat one PGA official termed incredible.

For a brief moment Sunday, Finsterwald abandoned his conservatism and turned gambler. His ten shot on the first hole sliced into the woods and fell behind a forked tree. He could have played it safe but chose rather to slam through the opening and the ball dropped on the green 200 yards away, only 15 feet from the pin and his par 4.
NEW YORK (AP)—Baltimore Manager Paul Richards, undaunted by his team's five defeats in its first six games, said today he was more determined than ever to stick with his fledgling Orioles.
"I've got to go with the kids regardless of what our fans might think," Richards said on the heels of a 15-9 lacing by New York Sunday. It was the Yankees' third straight over his charges.
"This is the kind of team that needs a manager's patience and I might add, courage," he said. "It is young and inexperienced but it has a world of promise."
Richards' reference to the Baltimore fans' displeasure stemmed from home town criticism of his fielding what some Baltimore writers refer to as a "junior league team."
Except for such proven stars as outfielder Gene Woodling and catcher Gus Triandos plus veteran pitchers like Hoyt Wilhelm and Skinny Brown, the Orioles are mainly comprised of youngsters fresh out of the minors. Starters Milt Pappas, Jerry Walker, Jack Fisher, Chuck Estrada and Steve Barber are all under 23.

SAM CHRISTY Colorado City's Head Coach

It Seems To Me

By DON RIDDLE

Colorado City's new football coach, Sam Christy, says he plans to continue the wing-T formation which the Wolves have been running previously.
Christy says he has the speed in the backfield to get the wing-T job done and adds that the Wolves will be strengthened with a better-than-average passing attack due to the arm of senior Jerry McKay.
Christy came to the school this past fall as part of Otis Holladay's staff. He took over the head job officially April 12, when Holladay resigned to go to Gainesville.

The new head mentor coached two years in Arkansas before his graduation from the College of the Ozarks, Clarksville, Ark., in 1953. He stayed in the hill country for three years and then decided to move to the Texas pastures.

He tutored in the Panhandle at White Deer for two years and then came to Colorado City with Holladay in 1959. Christy and his abbreviated coaching staff began spring football drills with the sixth graders on April 1. These youngsters are simply being taught the basic fundamentals of the game and practices will continue through April 30.

Christy then plans to begin work with the boys in the seventh through ninth grades on May 2.

Not being a AAAA school, Colorado City cannot engage in spring training on the high school level. Physical Education classes are set up, however, in a way so as to allow all next year's grid candidates one hour per day to work out together. No pads are worn, but the boys work on plays and formations for next year, just the same.
"Most of our work has been in the weightlifting room," says Christy. "We try to build our boys physically, all year long, and the idea has paid off already, we think. Most of the kids have put on some needed weight, and yet they remain in good shape." Cross-country running has also been a key conditioning drill for some of the high school prospects.

The Wolves begin the 1960 season at home against Brownfield, on Sept. 2. Then they play Post in Colorado City. After traveling to Ballinger, the Wolves host Monahans, Winters and Littlefield to complete the non-district schedule.

Sweetwater looks like the favorite in district 3-AAA because it lost only three from the 1959 team which ended in a tie for the district title.
Christy claims that, although the Wolves couldn't do much worse than last year, 1-9, they should be an improved ball club. The team is basically seniors, with most of the starters owning much playing experience.

Red Lemons, a guard in 1959, will probably be moved to a tackle spot this year. The big senior has gained about 25 pounds since last year and now tips the scales at 185.

Alex Campbell, believed to be the best end in the district a year ago, is back, and looks like a stalwart prospect for district honors in 1960.

Don Vest is another standout performer for the Wolves at the fullback post. Vest returns after being named to the 2nd team all-district squad a year ago.

Track coach Curtis Kelley of Big Spring says that although Andrews High School has a fine sprint relay team, he doesn't think the Mustangs could have broken the national sprint record last week without the help of his own youngsters.

"They had lane one and we had lane eight. This means they were running on the inside while we were on the extreme outside. The way the stagger is set, we looked like we were well in front of them, through most of the race."

"When a boy sees others ahead of him, which the Andrews kids did, he runs his very best. As a result, when he comes off that last curve, he's probably in the lead."

"We ran one of our best relays all year, and they had the inside lane to pull off of. I think if we hadn't pressed them so, they might not have broken the record. They only cut one-tenth of a second off as it was."

Odessa Card Has Gonzales, Randall

ODESSA (SC)—The Roy Harris-Sonny Liston fight tonight will be a sellout in Houston at the Coliseum. In fact, Texas Boxing Enterprises, the promoters, have opened the doors to the City Auditorium, with a seating capacity of 4,000, and will show the entire show there on closed-circuit TV, to accommodate the overflow.

In Odessa, the Harris-Liston show can also be seen on closed-circuit TV. In addition, the 10 round battle (live) between Rip Randall, Texas lightweight titleholder, and Odessa's fast rising young Manuel Gonzales, is creating quite a stir.

This fight on it's own would do well at the gate. Coupled with the Liston-Harris brawl to be seen at 9:00 p.m. on a life-sized screen as it happens in Houston, has caused fight fans all over the area to clamor for tickets.

Earl Gilliam, manager of Rip Randall, has maintained that his boys loss to Gonzales earlier this month in San Antonio was a fluke. Gilliam says, "We beefed Rip up to 143, and it slowed him down to a walk and it was Gonzales was lucky to get the win. Now, Rip will probably weigh 137 for the Odessa battle, and you'll see that he will win in a breeze."

Warren Akins, manager of Gonzales, was having no part of this. He says, "Manuel took Randall in San Antonio, he can take him in Odessa, Tyler, Houston, or anywhere else. Let Randall be faster for this fight Monday night, it doesn't matter one bit because Manuel is the better fighter. In fact, there may not be a need for a decision to squawk over—Manuel may just knock him out this time."

Adopted

This orphaned armadillo, deserted by its mother, has found a free lunch counter at the A. O. Kunze's home in Waco. Kitty, the Kunzes' cat, has adopted the little stranger, takes care of it along with her own three kittens. Kunze found mama armadillo and the young one in a barn near China Spring and brought them home, but mama dug out and escaped. Kunze then offered the baby to the cat for adoption, and the cat was willing.

Plane Smashes Car, 4 Killed

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A single-engine airplane plummeted into a moving auto, killing the two occupants of the plane and three in the car in a flaming explosion Sunday.

Three others in the car were injured.

The accident happened as the car cruised on busy U.S. 40 about 17 miles east of downtown Columbus.

Both plane and car burned fiercely while a woman passenger in the auto, Mrs. Dorothy Vingle, 49, pulled three of the dead and injured from the vehicle.

The dead are Mrs. Vingle's son, Jim, 14; her daughter, Rita Cecile Lyle, 20; Mrs. Vingle's sister, Julia Jacques, 58; the pilot, Delbert Charles Stiles, 23, and his wife, Monalee, 22. All were from Columbus.

Surviving besides Mrs. Vingle were her son, John, 22, the car driver, and her niece, Linda Armentrout, 14. They were reported in fair condition.

Bill Colbert, 26, who lives alongside the highway, said the plane was flying low over his home.

After it went by, he said, it circled and headed in the opposite direction, passing over his home again.

"It looked like it was having trouble bucking the wind," Colbert said. "It clipped a power line and fell straight down onto the back of the car."

Carson Lashes Oil Industry Practices

DENVER (AP)—Demands that the oil industry stop "its practices of over-production, excessive refinery runs and senseless marketing practices" have failed to achieve any results in the past year, Navy Capt. M.V. Carson Jr. said today.

The administrator for the Oil Import Administration said the oil trade press has been urging the industry to correct those conditions. "Editorial writers...have tried to sow the seeds of realization, but I'm afraid in many cases those seeds have fallen on unfruitful ground," he said.

Carson, of Hearne, Tex., told the mid-year meeting of the Independent Petroleum Assn. of America that "I suggest to the gentlemen and to the industry, that it's time for some stock-taking, and I am very much gratified that the IPAA is undertaking this very thing and examining other causes of instability in the industry."

"I am sure," Carson said, "that out of the studies on which you are embarking the solutions will be found, and I hope that the industry will listen before the festering sores completely debilitate the body that gives it host."

Referring to the mandatory import control program, Carson said "If all imports were cut off tomorrow, there would still be surplus productive and refining capacity in this country...it wouldn't be long before the old pressures of oil not produced and refinery capacity not utilized would bring the same conditions, unless the industry itself takes corrective action, which so far it has in many respects failed to do."

The IPAA's productive capacity committee reported that the total productive capacity of all petroleum liquids in the United States Jan. 1 was 19,678,000 barrels daily, up 80,000, or about 1 per cent above Jan. 1, 1959. Of the total, 9,708,000 barrels daily is crude oil capacity and 9,970,000 daily is natural gas liquids capacity.

The committee said this productive capacity is defined as the average rate of production from existing wells which could be maintained for 6 to 12 months without further development and with no significant loss in ultimate recovery.

Not Very Wild

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP)—A wild, but not very, mallard duck apparently likes the accommodations of the Milton Katz home in suburban Ladue.

Last spring, the duck took over a window box at the Katz residence and raised a 10-duckling brood.

This year what appears to be the same duck is back again, in the same window box. So far she's laid five eggs.

Africans Want 'Normal' Whites

LOS ANGELES (AP) — An African Negro leader says natives want the white man to remain in Africa "not as a demigod—but as a normal human being."

Kenneth Kaunda, head of Northern Rhodesia's United National Independence party, told a news conference Sunday that "all we want in Africa is to be free to shape our own destiny without the interference of the colonial powers."

Spring Kicks Up Fuss Over Nation

By The Associated Press
Wisconsin and Upper Michigan communities battled floods and a Texas town began picking the debris left by tornadic winds today as spring continued to kick up a fuss in scattered areas of the nation.

Weekend rainfalls of up to 8 inches swelled northern Wisconsin rivers over their banks Sunday. Ramping waters tore away power and communication lines, washed out roads and railroad tracks and chased an estimated 400 persons from their homes.

About 240 residents of the Lake Superior shore community of Odanah, a Chippewa Indian village of 800 on the Bad River Reservation, were forced from their homes by the flooded Bad River. Another 40 were isolated. Wisconsin Gov. Gaylord Nelson declared the affected district a disaster area and ordered out the National Guard to help local officials.

At Hurley, Wis., 25 miles to the east, the flooding Montreal River threatened to wash away one of the two bridges linking Hurley to Ironwood, Mich.

Fierce winds struck the north Texas town of Terrell, about 30 miles east of Dallas, causing extensive property damage. The winds unroofed and damaged buildings at the municipal airport and in the business district and three house trailers were demolished. No injuries were reported.

Fifty miles to the west, near Fort Worth, five inches of rain pushed creeks over their banks, flooding two homes in the suburb of Richland.

A small twister near Cheyenne, Wyo., flipped over a truck, seriously injuring the driver.

While much of the East sweltered under summer-like heat — Baltimore's 83 set a record for that date — snow fell for the third straight day in the northern Rockies and Plateau areas.

POWERFUL NEW PLUNGER CLOGGED TOILETS in a jiffy!

NEVER AGAIN that sick feeling when your toilet overflows

'TOILAFLEX' Toilet ALL-ANGLE Plunger

Ordinary plungers don't seat properly, forcing air and water to splash back. Thus you have a mess and you lose the very pressure needed to clear the clogging mass.

With "Toilaflex", designed for toilets, no air or water can escape. The patented, tapered tail forms an air-tight fit; the full pressure plows through the obstruction and swishes it down. Can't miss!

Death Protest Torch To Be Lit

SAUSALITO, Calif. (AP)—Some 200 Marin County residents plan to touch off an around-the-clock torch tonight in protest against the scheduled May 2 execution of Caryl Chessman.

Robert O'Leary, Corte Madera, spokesman for the Marin Chessman Committee, said the flame is intended to symbolize the group's opposition to "death by the hand of the state in our county." San Quentin Prison, home of the state's gas chamber, is about 10 miles north of here.

O'Leary said the flame, to be fueled by propane gas, will burn until Chessman is executed May 2 or gets a stay.

Seaman Arrested As Texas Fugitive

NEW YORK (AP)—FBI agents arrested a seaman Sunday as a fugitive from Texas.

Charles Taylor of Mobile, Ala., was seized aboard the S.S. Wacosta which was tied up at a Brooklyn pier.

The FBI said he was sentenced to 35 years for murder in Scurry County, Tex., Sept. 4, 1956. The sentence was commuted to 15 years and on Jan. 28, 1959 Taylor was conditionally paroled at San Antonio. The parole was revoked June 16, 1959.

Sweet Celebration

VERMONTVILLE, Mich. (AP) — This central Michigan community calls itself "a bit of New England" because of its rolling hills, white frame churches—and its maple syrup.

But residents and visitors acted most un-New Englandish over the weekend, dancing, parading and sponsoring such goings-on as carnivals, fireworks and the like.

The occasion was the maple syrup festival.

HOLLYWOOD BEAUTY

Healthy, Happy Life Shows In Appearance

By LYDIA LANE
HOLLYWOOD — MGM's back lot looked like a Western town the day I visited when they were shooting "Cimarron." This was a happy set. You could feel it in the air, for their star, Maria Schell, is without temperance.

"They love you," I told Maria, when she returned to her dressing room.

Her face lit up. "I am very happy on this picture, and I am learning more about America."

Something had displeased the make-up man, and he knocked on the door of her trailer with a bottle of fluid make-up in his hand. He dabbed Maria in a few places and left.

"I look horrible in theatrical make-up," she explained. "It gives a heavy mask to my face and covers the bone structure. I have tried going without make-up, but the pink in my skin photographs unevenly, so the studio found this and I'm happier with it."

Miss Schell believes what one uses is less important than how one lives.

"The skin is a mirror of health and happiness. Emotional problems will cause it to break out, and so will rich food."

"Then I suppose I should ask how you stay healthy and happy."

"That is a deep question," Maria said with Germanic seriousness. "But if you are to have a good life, you must find your own answer."

"What makes me happy?" She pinned her thoughtful blue eyes on me. "To love and be loved, to understand myself, to develop and have the opportunity to do something for others. And of course be at peace. Life can bring so much happiness if you make it count. I feel so strongly that you cannot get back the time you waste."

"Everyone has to have a certain amount of superficiality in social life, but the repetition of this can be wasteful. You see people trapped with meaningless activity," she exclaimed. "If only everyone could take 10 minutes every day to sit-to be still, to make some self-discoveries!"

"I am astonished at the number of people who need psychiatrists. It is easy to hand your problems over to someone else, but you can't shift responsibility. You can't run away from your own problems. In the end you have to do it."

"The glow that comes from having your house in order puts warmth, fulfillment and serenity in a face that makes it attractive. No matter how perfect the features are, fear, strain and selfishness can spoil beauty."

"And this applies to any age." Maria admitted that it was a natural reaction to dislike growing old. "But don't try to erase the markings life puts in your face. A wonderful woman told me, 'Always behave five years older than you are, and you will always seem young when you regard your age.'"

"Breath," Maria repeated. "That is the secret of health. One of the greatest doctors in Europe, Ludwig Schmidt, has a clinic where he cures all kinds of ills with breathing. Babies know how to breathe, but children lose this by imitating their environment."

Occasionally we breathe properly, like the deep sigh of relief that comes after a strain. You can live a long time without food but not without breath. Not breathing right causes fatigue and prevents you from riding your body of waste.

"It is a form of passive exercise—it brings oxygen to your blood, stimulates the circulation and improves your muscle tone."

"Dr. Schmidt teaches that the most effective breath is not forced or controlled but comes as a reflex action, and," Maria concluded, "in his books—which I hope will be translated into English—he describes the way to release tension and build health through breath control."

Mom, Son Scooter In Europe

LONDON (AP)—A small son, a job, artistic interests and a Fulbright grant to travel and study in Europe—how to manage them all at once?

That was the problem confronting Jeanne Jerrens, teacher of dramatic art at the Julliard School of Music in New York. She solved it with a motor scooter.

Her son, 5-year-old Danny, looking like a little space man in his crash helmet and billowing coat, is fastened on behind, and mother has been scooting from city to city, studying theatrical techniques in half a dozen countries.

Getting leave from the job was fairly simple, but Danny couldn't be left at home. So Jeanne, Danny and scooter sailed by freight to Lisbon. The scooter took them through Portugal, Spain and southern France, and now seven months of study in France has been completed.

Then on to London, where Jeanne saw 12 plays in 12 days. From there the traveling scholarship is taking her and Danny to Bristol, Dublin, Stratford on Avon and Birmingham, and then the enterprise returns to Paris.

"Having Danny with me, I don't need to worry about what might be happening to him," Jeanne says. "The scooter saves us money, makes us flexible and shows us the countryside."

Jeanne has appeared on the New York stage, playing opposite Michael Redgrave in "Tiger at the Gates" in 1956.

Women Re-Elect

Two local women were reelected to office at the Stokes-Parker district meeting of the Association of Women's Clubs in San Angelo. The convention was held Friday, Saturday and Sunday in the St. Paul A.M.E. Church.

Mrs. Charlie Merritt was reelected as president of the district, while Mrs. Charlie Johnson was re-elected as corresponding secretary.

Theme of the meeting was "Service is the rent you pay for the space you occupy." The Saturday morning speaker, Mrs. Sturgess, of the city federation, followed this theme in her message. She stressed that small services are great in the sight of God.

Mrs. Merritt gave the annual address Saturday evening. Her topic was "The Purpose of Federation."

One hundred delegates attended the convention. A total of $1,609.10 was raised. The local group wishes to thank the Big Spring merchants who have helped support them through their advertisements in the souvenir book.

New Features In Housewares Are Being Offered

AP Newsfeatures
 There are many new improvements in established lines of electric housewares in 1960. A portable food mixer is now complete with a power booster. An electric fry pan has a lid that can be slipped into a slot on the back rim. Many more irons now include sprinkle sprays along with their steam. There are irons with cords attached to accommodate left handed ironers. Coffeemakers are available in more attractive colors such as black, gold and chrome. An electric item that shreds and slices meats and crushes ice has made its appearance. One manufacturer is offering a counter power center that includes three attachments—electric meat grinder, can opener and salad maker.

Reflection Of Beauty

Maria Schell feels that true beauty is built not with externals but as a reflection of a healthy, happy life. She advises you to take 10 minutes a day for self-discovery. The famous German actress is soon to be seen in "Cimarron" for MGM.

ABOUT POINTED TOES

American Women Toeing Back To Slavery Look

By WILLIAM GLOVER

NEW YORK (AP)—American women, says Broadway showman Lawrence Langer, are toeing their way back into a look of slavery.

"The most absurd article of feminine wear these days are those long, pointed shoes and spiked heels," comments the man who recently wrote a documentary volume on human garb entitled "The Importance of Wearing Clothes."

Langer found his research cogent because "the theater has been influencing fashions for had as well as good for a long time."

His protest against milady's current footwear goes like this: "Women spent 25 years finding a shoe they could walk comfortably in. The purpose of these new fashions is to make it difficult for women to walk around."

"That's a throwback to the days when women had no status and binding the feet was done to make it difficult for them to move freely."

"Of course, the feminine kind of woman wants to feel helpless. And that's nonsense, because they are a lot better equipped to protect themselves than men."

The male population also comes in for Langer criticism. He says the damsels are willing to splurge on new looks, but men still wear, virtually unchanged, the clothes they adopted 150 years ago with the arrival of the Industrial Revolution.

"The male resistance is extraordinary," the co-founder of the Theatre Guild notes. "It hasn't anything to do with conforming—it is simply that clothing has always been the sign of status."

"Today's man wants to show his power and authority in the world and that he belongs to the ruling class."

Langer estimates that 400 million buttons are uselessly sewed on men's jackets annually—just because of tradition.

"If you could get 100 men to wear something different you could bring change—but you never will."

Neckties to him are the male's "last bit of individuality in clothes. I'd never want to give them up."

When he started putting his book together, Langer says he was "amazed at how little research has been done on the history of clothing and the major importance of dress in the development of mankind."

Garb is bringing a transition in Russia today, he insists.

"When you have fashions in a country, there's no such thing as classless society," he says. "Khrushchev gets his clothes from Italy. That's a beginning. Soon you will have classes in Russia the same as in other parts of the world."

Local Toastmistresses Represented By Two

Two of the five officers elected to Council 7 positions in the South-Central Division of the International Toastmistress Club are from Big Spring.

Mrs. Hollis Smith, a charter member of the Tall Talkers Toastmistress Club, will serve as chairman of the council. The new officers will take their positions July 1.

Mrs. Smith has held every office in the local club with the exception of secretary at some time during her membership; she holds the term service award. This year she has served the council as secretary. Mrs. Smith is the area contest winner.

Elected as secretary for the council was Mrs. Betty Ray Clifton. Mrs. Clifton is currently first vice president of the council. At the local level she has served as club representative and education chairman.

The new officers were elected Sunday morning, and installed at a luncheon Sunday.

Hostess for the Council 7 meeting held in the Windsor Hotel in Abilene Saturday and Sunday was the Abilene 500 Toastmistress Club. Representatives came from Clovis, N. M.; Altus, Okla.; Amarillo, Lubbock, Midland, and Big Spring.

Two honored guests were Mrs. George Bennett, director of the South-Central region, and Frances Hedgspeth, superintendent of the region. This region covers the area between Illinois and New Mexico. A business session and three workshops were held Saturday afternoon. Workshops were Toastmistress education, effective evaluation, and more parliamentary procedure.

Saturday evening the speech contest banquet was held, with Mrs. Smith placing third with "Patterns." She spoke on how behavior is guided by word patterns.

Second place went to Mrs. Charles A. Percival of Altus, Okla., whose topic was "My Legacy." She spoke of national self-discipline in individual terms. Winning first place was Mrs. Alton Briggs of Lubbock. She spoke of the rise of communism in her topic "Stand Up and Count."

Topic mistress of the evening was Mrs. Don Sackschewsky of Big Spring. Table topics were "Wake Up and Read." The invocation was given by Mrs. Clifton. "Flowers in Bloom" was the theme of the annual meeting. The hosting club provided different spring arrangements for each meeting.

A Devotional For Today

Prepare ye the way of the Lord, make straight in the desert a highway for our God. (Isaiah 40:3.)
PRAYER: Our Father, we beseech Thee to show us that prayer is the safe road home to Thee. Give us the witness of Thine everlasting mercy that peace may come on the earth through us right here, right now. In Jesus' name. Amen.

(From The 'Upper Room')

Rebuke To Syngman Rhee

That is a touch-and-go situation in South Korea, and whether we like it or not we're in it up to our necks.

Widespread riots have resulted in anywhere from 115 to 150 deaths, and the latest development — resignation of the cabinet of President Syngman Rhee — is not believed in Washington to be an adequate answer. Nothing short of the resignation of Rhee himself is regarded in some quarters as suitable.

It is a natural reaction, this far from the scene, to attribute Rhee's troubles to Communist activity, but Washington doesn't think so. Secretary of State Herter's plain-spoken rebuke to 85-year-old Rhee makes it fairly clear the hard-headed old man brought it on himself by what the rioters assert was his "fraudulent" rigging of his recent re-election.

He has run South Korea pretty much as Castro runs Cuba — on a totalitarian pattern. Secretary Herter's rebuke put names to it. Rhee, he said, must strengthen the freedom of elections, assembly, speech and press and give equal treatment to opposition parties. That is good U.S. Constitutional doctrine, and while we've been criticized for tolerating dictatorships in Latin-America, there is no excuse at all for tolerating it in a country that owes its existence to the U.S., as well as its very bread and butter. We have sunk billions of dollars in treasure, and thousands of good American lives, into the enterprise of keeping South Korea safe for democracy, and Syngman Rhee's high-handed abuse of his constitutional powers has made a mockery of much of our hope and desire to give the people of South Korea the kind of government they obviously yearn for.

Since we have a high measure of responsibility for what goes on in that unhappy country, we must bear our share of the blame for letting it fall into disorder and division as a young nation that deserves to enjoy liberty and justice as the fruits of awful sacrifices.

Rhee could not last 30 days if the U.S. decided to shut off his water. The people of South Korea know that very well, and Mr. Herter's rebuke came not a day too soon. To show the slightest sign of yielding to Rhee in his stubborn, stiff-necked anti-democratic policies would make our remaining days as guardian of South Korea intolerable. If we must supervise a new election to insure its honesty and fairness, we should not hesitate to do so — in cooperation with teams from the United Nations.

Principle More Important Than Skins

The dispatch and thoroughness with which Col. Homer Garrison has dealt with the latest deviations of a few state patrolmen is commendable.

When accusations were made that some patrolmen on duty in the Denton area were suspects of irregular conduct in reference to women, the head of the Texas Department of Public Safety didn't sweep the mess under the rug. With characteristic forthrightness, Col. Garrison suspended those suspects, then ordered a complete investigation. And complete it was, for it reached back for more than a year and even touched some who had been transferred from Denton to other posts. But in the end eight patrolmen were dismissed because Garrison insists that his officers conduct their private lives in such a manner that will reflect credit on the department.

He took occasion to praise the hundreds of others who have been faithful and circumspect in their duties and their private lives. Their uprightness as well as the earnestness of the director of the DPS has earned an enviable reputation for Texas patrolmen.

We admire a man and an organization that are more interested in protecting a principle than their skins.

If Big Business Followed Baseball—

Business is too staid. When the top man in General Motors Corp., or Ford Motor Co., or United States Steel decides to improve his executive team by letting someone go, does he use the Frank (Trader) Lane technique? No. Too brash!

Recently, Lane, described by the Associated Press as the "dynamic general manager" of the Cleveland Indians, decided to do without the services of Rocky Colavito, who hit 42 home runs last year, and Herb Score, who was a tremendous pitcher (20 won, only 9 lost in 1956) until he was almost blinded by a line drive in 1957.

AN EXECUTIVE of a major corporation, if asked for an explanation of the change, would have answered politely but firmly, "It's all in the press release. No further comment." Not Lane. He said he was fed up with Colavito and Score. Their departure would mean more harmony on the club. Besides, Score complained that Joe Gordon, Cleveland manager, was not sympathetic. When Herb began looking for sympathy, I knew he couldn't keep him any longer," said Lane.

Baseball is big business. It draws big headlines and copious comment from radio and TV news analysts as well as crowds. If corporation executives adopted Lane's methods, they, too, would pile up lineage in the newspapers and time on TV and radio.

SUPPOSE JOHN J. McCLOY, chairman of the board of the Chase Manhattan Bank, were fed up with his vice chairman of the board, David Rockefeller. McCLOY would slide into Rockefeller's office — it's politer than calling him into his own. Besides, Rockefeller's a major stockholder. McCLOY would suggest artfully:

"Dave, maybe I can get you a post at the First National City Bank of New York. You'd feel more comfortable there. And I'd feel more comfortable here."

The Chase Manhattan publicity department then would get out a discreet announcement: "David Rockefeller resigned because he did not want to be associated any longer with an institution which for many years had been identified with the Rockefeller family and Rockefeller millions. He wanted to be on his own."

IF A NEWSPAPERMAN were to ask McCLOY, "What's the real reason?" McCLOY would say, "No comment."

NOT KEEPING ABREAST

James Marlow A Peculiar Presidential Race

WASHINGTON (AP) — It's a peculiar presidential race.

None of the Democrats is dominant. Their contest is a little balled-up, getting out of focus on religion. Vice President Richard M. Nixon has the Republican nomination almost sewed up but won't stick his neck out on issues — yet.

Adlai E. Stevenson denies he is a candidate but keeps making speeches and apparently would be glad to get the bid.

His supporters have a handy alibi for the fact he is a two-time presidential loser — that no Democrat could have beaten Dwight D. Eisenhower, war hero, in 1942 or 1956. That's strictly a guess. Some other Democrat might have.

SEN. LYNDON B. Johnson of Texas perpetuates the myth he is not a candidate but he is busy campaigning. He may go to the convention with the biggest bloc of delegates. Yet, at this moment, he looks far from a cinch.

He has Southern and Western support. Labor and Negroes in the big cities are said to be dim on him. Still, he is an extremely able Senate leader and more than anyone got through the first two civil rights bills in the 1950s. Since he had such a big Democratic majority, it can be argued he should have produced far tougher civil rights bills. But he would have lost Southern support, and Johnson is a politician.

Sen. Stuart Symington of Missouri, a successful businessman with about 16 per cent record, seems to have the best chance in the negative — as a compromise if the Democratic convention deadlocks on the other candidates.

Then there's Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota, who was given the least chance by observers but keeps running in the primaries as if they were a gymnasium.

HIS VOTING RECORD is just about 100 per cent pro-labor but, ironically, organized labor has refrained from endorsing him. Labor leaders may have decided he cannot win.

Strangest race of all is that of Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts, a Roman Catholic. Before he even started campaigning, his religion was an issue: Would voters elect a Catholic president?

This past week Kennedy himself brought the issue of his religion out in the open, insisting it should not be an issue at all. He faces a major test — with religion as one of the issues — in the May 10 preferential primary in strongly Protestant West Virginia. But even if Humphrey defeats Kennedy there, that would not prove the contention some are making that no Catholic can be nominated.

Any such assumption would be grossly unfair to Humphrey. It would be based on the idea Kennedy lost because he was a Catholic and not at all because West Virginians liked Humphrey better.

Nixon, under President Eisenhower's wing, can't say — or seems to think he can't say — much on his own that is new or different from his boss until he gets the nomination.

Women, Watch Your Men

NEW YORK (AP)—Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

The best way for wives to cut down their years of widowhood is to start taking better care of their husbands now. The average wife at present outlives her husband eight years.

The chances of a woman over 65 finding a new husband in that age bracket are getting slimmer in woodland blazes to build a five-room home every 100 feet on both sides of a road from New York to Chicago.

The cost of cleanliness: A U. S. baby now uses $18 worth of soap from its birth to its first birthday. Hogs cannot sweat. That's why a word for antiseptic is "antiseptism." What is more, they don't want one.

evaporation cools them. So credit mother nature with inventing air-conditioned ham.

Is it good for the nation that each year we have fewer farms and fewer farmers? A Roman statesman and author, Marcus Porcius Cato—234 to 183 B.C.—wrote: "The agricultural population produces the bravest men, the most valiant soldiers, and a class of citizens least given of all to evil designs."

Still ahead: America produces about 30 per cent of the world's mineral products. The Soviet Union about 16 per cent.

Are you a procrastinator? Britain's great sailor, Lord Nelson, once said, "I owe all my success in life to having been a quarter of an hour beforehand."

This probably explains why so few women in history have become famous admirals.

An apology to our readers: Recently we stated there was no Eskimo word for snow. We are now informed there are at least three Eskimo words for snow. However, so far as we can find, the Eskimos don't have a word for antisepticism.

What is more, they don't want one.

Arthritis Often Disappears In Pregnancy

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

"Dear Dr. Molner: What about arthritis that follows pregnancy? Both of my knees swelled up and were painful for about five days every other week, and gradually became better after two years."

After two pregnancies, and two sessions of arthritis, I'm avoiding pregnancy. I still get occasional bouts with arthritis, but nothing like what follows pregnancy — Mrs. G.B.

Concerning your particular question, I must admit that I don't know too much. But I do see or suspect — a couple of factors which, if they aren't the answer for you, may at least be illuminating for others.

You didn't give me some facts which might have helped me. I'm not rebuking or criticizing you, but there are some other factors that might be important, as you'll see in a moment.

This much I DO know. Increased hormone activity has a very vigorous effect on arthritis. During pregnancy, when your body's production of hormones is increased, arthritis often disappears completely — only to return again when the pregnancy is over. I don't know the why and wherefore. However, the reason is doubtless closely allied to the fact that for temporary intervals arthritis many times can be relieved by giving cortisone, which is a hormone. (A steroid hormone.)

Obviously you are reasonably young, or you wouldn't mention "avoiding pregnancy." But young people DO sometimes have arthritis. I'm sorry. I wish nobody ever had it.

But to go on, I do not know of any reason why arthritis should be worse after a pregnancy — with one exception. If you SEEM worse, after the pregnancy has given you surcease from the arthritis for some months, and then it comes back again.

There are two things which might increase the pain of the arthritis. First, if you took on a lot of weight (which some women wisely allow to happen) it is bound to add discomfort in any weight-bearing joints, such as the knees.

Second, during the pregnancy, you may, for a time, have been less active than usual. Also immediately after the delivery of the baby. So when you again become more active, your knees pain.

One of the great unsecret "secrets" of arthritis is to keep afflicted joints moving regularly. I most certainly do not mean over-exercising them. Moving joints to their fullest degree every day keeps them limber. Over-exercising them, straining them, may only make them worse.

As I said, I'm not sure that I've offered any help for your question, but the general information is sound.

"Dear Dr. Molner: Would it be dangerous for a man of 86 to undergo an operation for a prostate gland condition?" — G.M.

A few years ago it wouldn't have been safe. Today it's different. We've learned a great deal. Men older than you have had the operation and come through with flying colors.

Hemorrhoids can be cured! If troubled with fissures, fistulas, itching and other rectal problems, write to me in care of The Big Spring Herald requesting a copy of my booklet, "The Real Cure for Hemorrhoids," enclosing a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 20 cents in coin to cover handling.

Dr. Molner welcomes all reader mail, but regrets that due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

Around The Rim

Diet Habit Starts At Early Age

Most of us who are parents are prone to point, and not without a little pride, that our children are bigger than we were when we were their ages.

It's getting to the point where they jump right from baby clothes to young adult togery.

An Eastern pediatrician named Dr. Margaret Limper says the thought that the modern children come in giant and economy sizes doesn't please her. Obesity, she warns, is a pattern that is often carried over from childhood to adulthood. Halt the trend toward over-weight wherever you can, she suggests.

WE CAN'T EXPECT anything but a nation of fat children, says she, when they: (1) seldom walk if they can ride, (2) don't get enough exercise, and (3) overeat.

Dr. Limper revealed that a study made some years ago, involving autopsies of soldiers who died of injuries, showed the beginnings of arteriosclerosis in many who were in their late teens and early 20's. We're all entitled to eat more, if we exercise more, says Dr. Limper, who obviously is a great believer in controlled caloric intake.

DR. LIMPER WILL get an argument from some experts on the matter. Dieticians who are supposed to know all about the balance of calories are hired to supervise the feeding of children in school lunchrooms.

And the kids of today, perhaps, are bigger than were their parents when they were youngsters because they're (1) eating more sensibly and (2) engaging more in supervised exercise amid healthier surroundings.

NO DOUBT, THE refrigerator is too accessible to all of us — for evening snacks, as well as between-meal raids. But what are we going to do — put combination locks on it and trust each member of the family with only a part of the combination?

As I recall, we had our share of overweight children when I was going to school. Perhaps there are more of them today only because there are more of us. —TOMMY HART

Falling In Love With San Antonio

SAN ANTONIO—This is the morning after the night before, or the week before, in San Antonio. Everyone goes back to work today after a week of giddy fiesta and no sleep. The 65th annual Fiesta de San Jacinto is over, and San Antonians are half dead from a week of continuous pageantry and really magnificent parades, climaxed Saturday night by a great illuminated parade that made all efforts of any Tammany Chowder and Marching Club seem puny and provincial.

BUT IF SAN ANTONIANS are a bit groggy and cautiously feeling their way back to normalcy today, they are also beginning to plan for the 66th annual fiesta. Experienced committees are looking over the masses of artificial flowers used on the floats (the parades are too long and the weather a bit too sultry for real flowers) to salvage what they can for Fiesta 1961. And in many a kitchen around San Antonio, the lady of the house is already beginning to squirrel away egg shells, carefully broken so as to do the least damage to the shell.

Now why should Texans, all as rich as Croesus, save egg shells? Because part of the fun of the fiesta is tossing egg shells filled with confetti, carefully glued together and handsomely decorated, a la Easter, at each other during the carnival jinks. To toss an egg without first removing its original contents would be rude, rowdy and anti-fiesta.

IT PROBABLY will pain my friends in San Antonio if I wonder out loud why their fiesta doesn't have quite the national sheen and repute of New Orleans' Mardi Gras. For once, I guess, Texans haven't tooted their own horn loudly enough, incredible as that may seem.

The fiesta here is lovely and imaginative, with two quite unique features, one solemn, one tres gay.

The first is the opening parade of San Antonians, bearing real flowers, to Texas' most sacred citadel, the Alamo, to be heaped in memory of the heroic men who fought there so grimly and gallantly to the last man.

AND THE SECOND is the delightful river pageant or parade down the San Antonio River that threads its way through this city, giving San Antonio grace and beauty uniquely its own. In this parade, floats really float.

San Antonians have had the great good sense to treasure their river, to beautify its deep and sometimes steep banks and transform them into a long, slender and narrow park throughout the city. Citizens crowd the banks to watch the brilliant river pageant wind its way through the town.

BECAUSE OF ITS RIVER, San Antonio probably has one of the most unusual outdoor theatres in the world. The amphitheatre is on one side of the river, the stage on the opposite shore, and even a much lesser man than George Washington can skim a silver dollar from one side to the other.

One does not have to go to Europe to develop cathedral feet. A tour of the Spanish missions within two to 10 miles of the city will do just as well. Five old missions—those of San Jose, Concepcion, San Francisco de la Espada, Espada Aqueduct and Juan Capistrano — are available for the dedicated sightseer.

Time is up, and I have not even mentioned La Villita, the ancient Spanish quarter. A lovely town, this San Antonio. (Copyright, 1956, New York Herald Tribune, Inc.)

Kennedy Clarifies Catholic Issue

WASHINGTON — A rare spectacle in American politics occurred here last week as a United States senator bluntly and emphatically told the annual convention of the American Society of Newspaper Editors that he would not allow the Roman Catholic Church to influence him if he were elected President of the United States.

Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts, Democrat, made an impressive and stirring plea for the squelching of the "religious issue" in American campaigns.

"I am not trying," he said, "to be the first Catholic president, as some have written. I happen to believe I can serve my nation as president—and I also happen to have been born a Catholic. Nor am I appealing, as is too often claimed, to a so-called Catholic vote. Even if such a vote exists—which I doubt—I want to make one thing clear again: I want no votes solely on account of my religion."

He also has a very strong suggestion that the Democratic party is required to nominate me or face a Catholic revolt in November.

MR. KENNEDY criticized the press for giving so much space to the "religious issue" in connection with the Wisconsin primaries, and for failing to report comprehensively what he said on the farm question, disarmament, taxes, inflation, defense, foreign policy and kindred subjects of political debate. He complained that in West Virginia people who hadn't thought about the "religious issue" now were reading extensive articles about it.

He deplored the emphasis given the question, though he absolved the press of any blame in creating the issue. He said:

"My religious affiliation is a fact—religious intolerance is a fact. And the proper role of the press is to report all facts that are a matter of public interest."

"IS THE RELIGIOUS issue a legitimate issue in this campaign? There is only one legitimate question underlying all the rest: 'Would you, as President of the United States, be responsive in any way to ecclesiastical pressures or obligations of any kind that might in any fashion influence or interfere with your conduct of that office in the national interest?' I have answered that question many times. My answer was—and is—'no.'"

"Once that question is answered, there is no legitimate issue of my religion. But there are, I think, legitimate questions of public policy—of concern to religious groups which no one should feel bigoted about raising, and which I do not object to answering. But I do object to being the only candidate required to answer those questions."

"FEDERAL ASSISTANCE to parochial schools, for example, is a very legitimate issue actually before the Congress. I am opposed to it. I believe it is clearly unconstitutional. I voted against it on the Senate floor this year, when offered by Sen. Morse. But, interestingly enough, I was the only announced candidate in the Senate who did so. Nevertheless I have not yet charged my opponents with taking orders from Rome.

"An ambassador to the Vatican could conceivably become a real issue again. I am opposed to it, and said so long ago. But even though it was last proposed by a Baptist President, I know of no other candidate who has been even asked about this matter."

On birth control, Sen. Kennedy was outspoken. He said that while the prospects of such a bill coming before any President were remote, nevertheless he would "neither veto nor sign such a bill on any basis except what I considered to be the public interest, without regard to my private religious views. I have said the same about bills dealing with censorship, divorce, or relations with Spain or any other subject."

THE MASSACHUSETTS senator's voice rose as he made this point about the effect of "the religious issue" in external affairs:

"Are we going to admit to the world that a Jew can be elected mayor of Dublin, a Protestant can be chosen foreign minister of France, a Moslem can serve in the Israeli parliament—but a Catholic cannot be President of the United States? Are we to tell Chancellor Adenauer, for example, that we want him risking his all on our front-lines, but that if he were an American—we would never entrust him with our presidency—nor would we accept our distinguished guest, General De Gaulle? Are we to admit to the world—worse still, are we to admit to ourselves—that one-third of our population is forever barred from the White House?"

"So, I am not impressed by those pleas that I settle for the vice presidency in order to avert a religious spectacle. Surely those who believe it dangerous to elect a Catholic as President will not want him to serve as vice president, a heart-beat away from the office."

Chief Gets The Bill

MADEIRA, Minn. (AP) — When the damage was added up after a fire at the Arthur Kunz farm, the biggest loss went to Fire Chief Joe Marturano.

Kunz had the fire out by the time the firemen arrived, and his new home suffered smoke damage.

But Marturano's car went off a gravel road en route to the scene, hit a pole and was damaged $300 worth.

How to BUY it...

At it's best, lamb is young—8 to 12 months old or younger. Buy only the top grades of lamb—Piggly Wiggly has the best you can buy. Look for medium red flesh and creamy fat with a slightly pink cast.

How to STORE it...

1. Fresh lamb—remove the wrapper and store in coldest part of refrigerator, uncovered or loosely covered with waxed paper. Storing temperature should range between 32 and 40 degrees. Ground lamb, if it is to be kept more than 24 hours, should be carefully wrapped to exclude air before freezing.
2. Frozen lamb—Store at zero degrees or lower. Cook as soon as defrosted. May be defrosted during cooking, at room temperature or in refrigerator.
3. Cooked lamb—Remove bone, cover to prevent drying and store in refrigerator.

How to PREPARE it...

Roast leg of lamb: Rub well with salt and freshly ground pepper and place on rack in roasting pan. Roast in 325 degree oven without basting until internal temperature reaches 140 degrees for rare—150 degrees for medium rare and 160 degrees for well done. Average cooking time is 1 to 2 1/2 hours, depending on size.

How to SERVE it...

Serve either piping hot or cold—never lukewarm! Serve with roasted potatoes and peas. Braised celery and string beans also go well with lamb—and of course, a crisp salad and custard and cookies for dessert.

Stamps In The News

By SYD KRONISH
AP Newsfeatures

A tiger cat perched on a limb of a tree is featured on the new 8-pence stamp issued by Australia. The latest Australian adhesive, red brown in color, is to be used as the basic postage rate for a surface letter to most foreign countries. It is also recognized as the postage rate for a one-ounce airmail letter to New Zealand.

The design of the new stamp was the work of Miss Eileen Mayo of Neutral Bay, New South Wales, whose designs were also used for the recently issued 1-shilling platypus and the 9-pence kangaroo stamps.

Many of the more than 70 nations issuing special stamps for the World Refugee Year have already announced the designs of their adhesives. Some are overprinting old designs, others are using the uprooted tree as the basic symbol while still others have created special items.

Two in this latter category are Iceland and Vatican City.

Vatican City's set consists of the following values and designs: 60 plus 5-lire—Fra Angelico's "Flight to Egypt," 100 plus 10-l—Masaccio's "St. Peter Giving Alms to the Poor," 300 plus 25-l—Piero Della Francesca's "Madonna of the Mercy."

Iceland's stamps, 2.50 krona brown and 4.50-kr blue, depict a father and child. It is a reproduction of an Icelandic monument by Einar Jonsson.

Surinam has issued a set of five triangular-shaped stamps honoring the inauguration of its New Zanderij Airport outside of Paramaribo. This is the airport where President Eisenhower landed during his South American tour. The five stamps show the types of planes which have landed in Surinam during the past 25 years.

Chile reports that since its currency was changed on Jan. 1 replacing the peso with the escudo, nearly all of its postage stamps and airmails will be reprinted with designs intact. There may be changes in color and equivalent denomination. Coming up on the Chilean philatelic agenda will be a 12-value set to mark the sesquicentenary of Chilean independence.

Lebanon has issued a set of two new airmails in honor of the 25th anniversary of the Friends of Trees Society. The 20-p green and magenta and the 40-p green and brown show hands planting a sapling.

CONNORS

There are a lot of pretty trees that bloom from time to time with much fragrance and color. The mimosa is a hardy tree, and its flattened sensitive plant type of foliage makes it an attractive addition to any landscape.

They are relatively free of diseases and insect pests, too. There is one peculiarity about this tree and that is the color of the flowers. In some years it blooms very brightly and other years the flowers are nearly straw colored. This has something to do with the season and fertility of the soil. Most trees and shrubs bloom better when they are fed a few weeks before flower time.

Another fine flowering tree is the locust. There are a number of different locusts from the honey locust to the purple flowered variety and the pink flowering locust. Most have thorns, though the Moraine Honey Locust is free of them. The redbud trees are noted for flowers, and they are beautiful. This year I think they were the prettiest I have ever seen. The flowering peach and its cousin, the almond, are also noted for their bright colors.

Most any fruit tree can be counted on for flowers as well as a reward for fruit, and really a tree filled with brightly colored fruit is as pretty as one filled with fragrant flowers.

The catalpa blooms with white flowers, and the old fashioned China berry tree has its little bluish blooms. In sandy land one of the acacias may be the answer to flowering tree problems. There is one tree called Grandfather's whiskers that is quite colorful. It is poincianna gallica.

There are a lot of other flowering trees besides these mentioned, but the question that comes up the most in the west is: "Can I grow dogwood trees?" I am sorry to say that these beautiful trees must have moist acid soils to succeed, and these are just another of the plants we must get along without. We do have a native that is nearly as pretty, and it is the buckeye. When these plants bloom they are as pretty as the redbuds, and West Texas is blessed with them. Further west there is the Mescal Bean, and it is as showy as any of the others. It may well be transplanted into our yards if you don't mind running the risk of the children getting tipsy from eating the coral colored beans it produces.

Typhoon Heads For Formosa

MANILA (AP) — Pacific storm Karen blew up into a typhoon today and was reported moving toward Formosa with 85-mile center winds.

The Manila Weather Bureau said Karen was about 100 miles west of central Luzon island, curving to the northwest at 8 m.p.h. Karen zigzagged through the Philippines over the weekend, leaving behind eight known dead and scores of persons unaccounted for. Newspaper reports put the number of missing anywhere from 73 to 110.

Germany's First Colored Graduates

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP) — The first 1,000 German children fathered by American Negro soldiers left school this Easter.

None had to look twice for a job. In a country once notorious for its "master race" claims, appearance of the colored teenagers on the labor market posed no problem. West Germany has its worst labor shortage in history. Vacancies outnumber jobs.

Lyndon Again Denies Campaign

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex) said a visit to Las Vegas Sunday, said the visit was non-political, and again denied he was seeking the Democratic presidential nomination.

But a 10-by-80-foot streamer proclaimed "Johnson for president," Johnson buttons and signs abounded, and pamphlets advocating the Senate majority leader's nomination were handed out at a reception.

Local Democrats said the political equipment came in with the Johnson plane. "If that's so," said Johnson, "I wasn't aware of it."

Heads Legates

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Francisco Gonzalez de la Vega, governor of the Durango, has been designated by President Adolfo Lopez Mateos to head the Mexican-delegation to the World Congress for the Prevention of Delinquency next May in London. He is one of Mexico's foremost criminal lawyers.

TV Mystery Show Unfair— And There Oughta Be A Law

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television - Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — There should be a few rules about the televised mystery dramas. Some, of course, are well-known. The butler should never be the one who did it. It's not fair to knock off lovable characters.

And, even if you are John Dickson Carr, it is not fair to resolve a puzzle involving murder and 17th century witchcraft in a modern suburb by having the villains a witch and a warlock. This isn't cricket even if it's done tongue in-cheek.

That is exactly what happened on NBC's Hour of Great Mysteries program Sunday night. The mystery was "The Burning Court" by Carr and adapted by William and Audrey Roos, who also know the rules better than that.

Barbara Bel Geddes played Marie, the young suburban housewife, mother and pillar of the library fund drive who was really a vengeful French witch burned — unsuccessfully, obviously — at the stake in 1672. George C. Scott, in a get-up that looked as if it had been left over from "Marsquerade Party" played her 1672 lover. They combined to knock off a descendant of the judge who had sentenced them to the stake. The witchcraft angle was wonderful during the first half of the hour when they played it straight. Then everything went supernatural and, worse, cute.

Leonard Bernstein and the New York Philharmonic concluded their season of young people's concerts with a group of very talented young singers from the New York City High School of Music and Art singing Aaron Copland's "The Second Hurricane" Bernstein cut his usual chatter to a minimum. The fine music from the youthful voices was further enhanced by the filming technique. The camera roamed over the singers, focusing first on one earnest fresh face and another.

NBC pulled together a lot of old newsreel clips and still photos of England's Princess Margaret, added a commentary to make it current, and called it "Overture to a Royal Wedding." It didn't shed much new light on the subjects, but it was rather interesting to watch a little princess grow up in the spotlight.

Reds Lose

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP)—Early returns from the Laotian parliamentary election today promised a landslide victory for anti-Communist forces led by former Premier Phoui Sananikone, whose government was toppled by a brief army coup last December.
