Festival Nearing At C-City

COLORADO CITY — The Sons of the Pioneers and Pat Brady arrived in Colorado City Wednesday to complete final plans for their three shows at Colorado City, Thursday and Friday.

The shows will be held in conjunction with Colorado City's other high ranking state officials as well as others from the West Texas area.

The first show will be held Thursday at 8 p.m. in Colorado City high school gymnasium. In addition to the musical program, 29 local beauties will make their first appearance to compete for the Miss Tumbleweed title. Friday at noon the Chamber of Commerce and local civic clubs will host Governor Daniel, with the Tumbleweed Festival parade set for 2:30 p.m. The Tumbleweed floats will present the work of Harry Snyder, owner of the Tumbleweed Company, Inc., and will represent something entirely new in float material.

The Russian thistle commonly known as the tumbleweed, has been made into dozens of colorful and unusual designs.

BIG PROGRAM Several high school bands, area riding clubs, the Teal Wing Indian dancers of Dallas and Texas Tech's Air Force Sabre Drill team and Angel Flight Drill Team will take part.

On Friday night Miss Tumbleweed will be chosen. The winner will receive a scholarship in the Powers Modeling School and will be eligible to compete in the Miss Universe contest.

The Texas Highway Patrol will have 20 extra patrolmen in Colorado City Friday to handle Festival traffic.

The tumbling tumbleweed — the scourge of the West for nearly a century — attains respectability and employment today in one of the biggest celebrations ever staged here.

The two-day celebration is one of the biggest since the 1880s when a 45-piece orchestra from St. Louis was imported for the cattle-men's ball. Those were days when Colorado City was the terminal of the Texas & Pacific Railroad.

It was also an era when Colorado City was considered quite a metropolis, with 65 telephones, saloons, a race track, and a gambling district.

But with the farmer came the tumbleweed—Russian thistle that found its way to this country in contaminated flax seed.

WASHINGTON (AP)—A jobless Houston man, broke after a radiation accident three years ago, tearfully told of his plight to the Atomic Energy Commission.

An AEC official told the Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee yesterday after Jackson E. McVey and his wife pleaded for help.

"My health is impaired and I cannot work," McVey said. "People shun me when I ask for a job."

Dwight Ink, an AEC assistant general manager, said the McVey case had been discussed by members of the commission recently.

McVey was involved in an accident at the South Houston plant of M. W. Kellogg Co. March 13, 1957.

He told the committee a capsule of highly radioactive iridium dust broke open, contaminating him and the laboratory.

McVey said he did not realize that the dust had gotten into the locker where his street clothes were kept so that he took the radiation home with him and contaminated his family.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government proclaimed martial law today following an outbreak of student rioting against Premier Adnan Menderes.

At least four persons were reported killed as thousands of students broke through police lines around the University of Istanbul and swarmed through the city demanding Menderes' resignation.

The demonstrations were sparked when the Menderes government ordered a three-month ban on all political activities.

About 5,000 students rushed through police lines around the university and headed for the center of the city. Forty students and police were injured in fierce fights.

Witnesses said they saw three students and one policeman killed in the crush in front of the uni-

Damage Claims Are Mounting

Roofs and automobiles were hard-hit in Tuesday's hail and rainstorm.

Check of the insurance adjusters offices here on Thursday indicated that perhaps as many as 2,000 claims for storm damage have been filed and claims were still being received.

General Adjusters Bureau estimated it had 1,500 claims on file early Thursday. Batjer's Adjuster service had 140 on file and others being processed.

Insurance agencies which handle their own adjustment claims reported the same general rush of damage reports. The exact number of claims is difficult to ascertain since the spread of the storm seems to have been city wide.

However, the reports indicate that heavier battering occurred in the airport section of the town. Car damage was reported especially heavy in this area.

Adjusters said that roof damage seemed largely confined to older composition roofs. Newer roofs did not suffer from the storm. Car damage was largely limited to minor dents and chrome damage.

Several convertibles, caught in the storm suffered severely if it was reported.

Some water damage reports have been received. However, it was pointed out that insurance does not cover "rising water." In other words, if the flooding such as occurred in lower parts of the town, developed as a result of water level climbing to a point where it poured into houses and business places, the insurance policies in general make no provision for reparation.

Inspection of the cars and residences reported damaged will get under way in a few days, it was said.

Ex-Prof Freed In Slaying

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP)—Dr. George H. Mickey, former dean of Louisiana State University's graduate school, today was free of murder charges.

Dist. Atty. St. Clair Favrot yesterday withdrew a murder warrant that charged the 50-year-old scientist with the January bludgeoning slaying of his long-time associate, Dr. Margaret Rosamond McMillan.

But a grand jury could recall Mickey if new evidence is uncovered.

The district attorney's action came shortly after it was disclosed Mickey had voluntarily resigned from LSU.

University President Troy Middleton had relieved Mickey of his duties as dean after he was jailed. Later, the geneticist was demoted to a professorship but kept on the payroll.

Mickey, reached at his home where he has lived practically in seclusion since his release on $10,000 bond, declined to comment on his plans.

A grand jury took no action after hearing evidence in the case, leaving the murder charge hanging.

Mickey's attorney, Robert Klempner, said he thought the withdrawal of the warrant was the "fair thing" Favrot to do. He said the action, in effect, closes the case.

Favrot said the warrant was recalled to release Mickey's bondsmen and free Mickey to come and go as he pleased in seeking other employment.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House said today the federal government has provided "very material assistance" in helping destitute families throughout the country.

The statement—and a detailed report on one of the states—was prompted by a question put to President Eisenhower at his news conference Wednesday.

May Craig, representing the Portland, Maine, Press Herald, told Eisenhower: "For more years than you have been in the White House the pitiful children of the West Virginia unemployed coal miners have been starving for proper food. We do give them whatever surpluses we have. While you and Congress talk about helping the needy in foreign countries, isn't there something you could do for needy Americans in this rich America of our own?"

The President replied that he thought the government had been providing aid for such needy persons. He promised to check up and report on the matter.

In a statement today, the White House said "there has been a great lack of information and understanding" regarding federal assistance to destitute families, not only in West Virginia but throughout the nation.

Dealing specifically with West Virginia, the White House statement said in part that:

1. The federal government in the 12 months ending June 30 will have contributed $1,437,000 in cash for local food purchases in West Virginia under the national school lunch program. The statement said 176,000 West Virginia children participate in this program. It added that under the special milk program for children the state also is receiving $421,000 in federal funds this fiscal year.

2. Children who are unable to pay the full cost of a meal under the school lunch program receive their lunch free or at reduced cost. More than 25,000 West Virginia children receive free meals.

Schools will have a "take cover" program and state and federal offices will be evacuated to outlying sites. The command headquarters will be established in the Big Spring police department.

Berry said motorists should stop their cars and find cover in adjacent buildings. Police, highway patrol officers, sheriff's deputies, firemen and Liquor Control Board agents will combine forces to provide communications and handle traffic.

The official Conelrad radio station in Big Spring will be KBST, 1490 kilocycles. The other two stations will be off the air. Residents will receive all official information through the Conelrad facility, Berry said.

TEHRAN, Iran (AP) — A new heavy earthquake today struck the ruined city of Lar, adding five more deaths to the 300 persons known to have perished in Sunday's quakes, the Iranian Red Cross said.

Three of the victims were caught while searching the ruins of the southern city for bodies of missing relatives and for personal effects.

The Red Cross said two others were walking in the street when the earthquake sent shakily mud-brick walls crashing down on them.

Most of the area's 17,000 inhabitants are housed in tent cities or simply living out in the fields.

Each received a "Living History of America" award from the Research Institute of America, the sponsoring organization. The institute, a private, industry-supported business advisory organization, is celebrating its own 25th anniversary.

Some 1,500 other guests applauded the celebrities as the television screen and narration showed how each had made history. The photographs were selected from among hundreds of pounds of pictures in the files of Life Magazine and The Associated Press.

At a reception before the start of the dinner, a casual glance showed:

Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt in an ivory gown of lace, sitting in a corner. Next to her on one side was Dr. Leo Sillard, the man who shares the patent with the late Enrico Fermi for developing the first sustained nuclear chain reaction. Sillard, who has cancer and has been told he has not long to live, was given special permission to leave a hospital to attend.

On Mrs. Roosevelt's right, sat Judge Learned Hand, author of "The Spirit of Liberty" and acclaimed as one of the nation's great jurists.

Standing nearby was Gen. Mark Clark, let far from him Fleet Adm. Chester Nimitz.

BABY FALLS INTO ARMS OF STROLLER

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP)—Richard Taylor and a friend were strolling back to work after their coffee break Wednesday when a baby dropped out of a third-story window, right into Taylor's arms.

"Best catch I've made in a long time," the father of three told the tot's mother.

Taylor and David Fitzgerald usually have their coffee in the Seattle public schools' administrative and service center, where they both have desk jobs. But Wednesday was a warm, sunny day so they decided to go out.

"On the way back, said Taylor, "I heard a baby complaining, but good."

They looked up, and there was Richard Hudson, 16 months, clinging to the window sill.

"Fitz and I ran over," said Taylor, "and I caught him! I can't believe it."

Richard's mother, Mrs. Irvin Sullivan, checked with her daughter, Vicky, 2½, and reported:

"Vicky pushed Ricky. She told me she did."

State Requests Improvement Bids

Sealed bids will be received by the State Board of Control at 201 E. 14th, Austin, until 11 a.m. on May 11 for one improvement owned by the Texas Highway Department here.

Presumably the improvement is the house on the former KBST transmitter site. Previously, the State Board of Control had asked for bids on May 4 for an improvement which the highway department identified as the former KBST transmitter. Information on the sales may be obtained from Vernon Thomas, TRD appraiser, who usually stays at the Settles Hotel when in Big Spring.

Parts Of South Plains Affected

By The Associated Press

The Weather Bureau forecast Thursday a new found of violent weather and possibly tornadoes on a strip of the eastern Panhandle and South Plains of Texas.

The alert, from 2 to 8 p.m., was for a 120-mile wide area from Dodge City, Kan., to 20 miles west of Wichita Falls.

The violent weather tore through more than a 200-mile section of the state from the Abilene area in North Central Texas to north of Waco in McLennan County.

Hail piled up hip deep north of Walnut Springs in Bosque County destroying the oat crop, said Mrs. L. D. Hensley. The town itself had hail a half inch in diameter ankle deep.

The hail covered the ground at Morgan, Bosque County, and in the northern McLennan County towns of Ross, Tokio, Mart, Axteell and Elk.

Two Ross residents saw a tornado which one of them said touched ground. Trees at Ross and Tokio were stripped of all leaves.

Ray Bell, reporter for The Waco News Tribune, said the countryside in that area looked as though it were winter time.

LEAVES GONE Mrs. Hensley said every leaf was torn off trees and plants in her yard.

A band of small hail crossed the McLennan County line to Ben Hur east of Waco. But at Ben Hur itself the hail ranged up to the size of baseballs and caused heavy damage to roofs, smashed windshields of cars and dented their tops.

Sid Chadwell, an insurance man at Ben Hur, said every window on the north side of homes was broken.

Fields of corn, where the crop was one foot high, were destroyed. Winds at Axteell and Elk in McLennan County tore tin roofs off sheds.

The Texas Highway Department said hail a foot deep fell on Farm to Market Road 310 which runs through the town of Vaughn in Hill County. Vaughn was destroyed by a tornado last year.

A grader was called out to clear the road.

Hail and strong winds hit Lake Whitney, 40 miles northwest of Waco, sinking a boat dock and causing injury to Mr. and Mrs. Otto Northern of the Brandon community. They were taken to a Hillaboro hospital, but neither was thought to be seriously injured.

They were fishing at the dock when it sank, throwing them in the water. Other fishermen saved them.

ROOFS DAMAGED Hail damaged roofs at Lake Whitney and piled up to a foot deep in some areas. Elmer Hutman and Jim Parrish said hail destroyed their grain members. All politically independent, they include a noted surgeon, an educator and two bankers.

Still vacant is the key post of minister of defense, as well as the agriculture and communications ministries.

Four more members of the National Assembly, all members of Rhee's Liberal party, resigned today. The Assembly had demanded that they quit, charging they were involved in rigging the March 15 elections which named Rhee to a fourth term and Lee Ki-poong to the vice presidency.

Earlier Huh's government issued warrants for the arrest of the former home minister, Choi In-kyu and six others charged with responsibility for the voting frauds.

Charges of fraud, intimidation and police brutality during the election set off the six-week revolt that overthrew the Rhee regime.

Waiting

Convict-author Caryl Chessman is shown as he talked to a reporter in San Quentin Prison's death cell visiting room. Chessman, convicted 12 years ago on kidnap-robbery and sex charges, is scheduled to die in the prison gas chamber May 2. California's Gov. Edmund Brown said he is "constitutionally now prohibited from extending clemency." He noted the State Supreme Court twice has refused to recommend clemency for Chessman.

Chessman Is Calm But Busy

By MOE RAISER
SAN QUENTIN, Calif. (AP)—How is Caryl Chessman spending his final days awaiting his ninth scheduled execution May 2?

The convict-author is a calm but busy man—with mixed emotions. One moment he is hopeful. The next he believes his 12-year fight for survival will end in the green gas chamber next Monday.

Many of Chessman's daytime hours are occupied by newsmen and photographers from many parts of the world.

They visit him in a small room and one question invariably asked is, "How do you feel about your coming execution?"

When I saw Chessman this week he commented:

"If you ask me how I feel about my approaching execution, let me say I do not believe I can project my feelings to anyone."

"I have been through this so many times that I just can't say how I feel."

"If I should live, I would like to drop back into complete anonymity. This life in a goldfish bowl is not pleasant."

Chessman was convicted in 1948 as the Los Angeles "Red Light Bandit" who forced sexual abuses on two women victims.

He has steadfastly denied the charges. He has refused to "finger" or identify a man he says was the bandit. Although all of his judicial appeals are exhausted.

Chessman's eighth scheduled execution was last Feb. 19. A 60-day reprieve by Gov. Edmund G. Brown saved him then.

Chessman described his nearness to death as terrifying.

"It's almost as though you're walled off from the living. There is an awareness, hard to describe, that pours in on you, like waves pounding against a beach."

He will face the same ordeal again soon. He sits in small cell at night and waits, and reads until late in the morning. He sleeps only five hours, eats sparingly.

His typewriter is stilled. From it flowed countless court appeals, short stories and four books, including "Cell 2455, Death Row," a best seller.

Chessman still has things to do before May 2. He must arrange for disposal of his estate, which he said is small. And for his own funeral.

DEAR ABBY

GROW UP, SON!

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: What kind of housework do you think a husband ought to do? I resent having to do a woman's work. It hurts my masculine pride.

The wife asks me to set the table, dry dishes and bathe the baby. I think husbands should do men's work and wives should do women's work. How do other husbands and wife combinations solve this problem?

ALL MAN DEAR ALL MAN: In homes where the husband's help is needed, a "real" man pitches in and does whatever is necessary to lighten his wife's load. (There are plenty of women who chop wood, haul trash and put up storm windows, and THEY don't whine about the injury done to their feminine pride.) It takes a REAL man, who has no doubts about his masculinity, to don a ruffled apron and bathe the baby.

DEAR ABBY: My problem is unusual. I am interested in a boy who will not ask me out because his parents disapprove of his dating a girl of a different religion. We are both mature college students. I feel that this boy's parents are exercising too much authority over him by trying to choose his friends.

How can I make him realize that the difference in our religions doesn't matter to me? I think a person's character is what is important—not his religion. His parents have no right to stand between us. Or am I wrong?

SERIOUS COED

DEAR COED: You are wrong. Even though the religious difference doesn't matter to you, it obviously matters a great deal to him. Yes, character is important—but if he defied his parents' wishes, he would not have the character you admire. Find a young man of your own faith with character and don't encourage this one to go against the wishes of his parents.

DEAR ABBY: We have a son who is six years old. He is at the age where he likes to play cowboys, but his father will not permit it. He says it is wrong for a boy to point a gun at people, and he will not allow toy guns in our house. When we get together with people who have children near the age of our son, they all play cops and robbers and our little boy has to sit in the corner. My husband's mother says that when my husband was little, that's all he played. Is my husband right or wrong?

MRS. S. DEAR MRS. S.: Your husband's theory is not practical. (I wish it were, but let's face it, it isn't.) Causing a child to feel "different" or "left out" often does more damage to his emotional growth than playing with toy guns.

DEAR ABBY: I disagree with your decision that a fellow should carry a girl's bowling ball. If a female is strong enough to play golf, tennis, ski and bowl, she is strong enough to carry her own bowling ball. Besides, if the gentleman bowler carries HIS ball and shoes (16 pounds) and HERS (15 pounds), how is he supposed to open the door? With his foot?

Negro Preacher, Badly Hurt In Storm, Example Of Faith

FRANKSTON (AP) — Five years ago a tornado chewed a path of destruction across the southeast portion of this East Texas town.

Among the homes demolished was that of Jesse Brooks, Negro preacher and shoeshine stand operator.

Neighbors carefully lifted the wreckage and pulled Brooks free. He was hurried to a hospital in nearby Jacksonville.

were broken. Doctors shook their heads in resignation. If he lived, they said, he would never walk again—barring a miracle.

But Brooks, a former prize fighter and a man of determination, was not resigned. He believed he would live, would walk, and would preach again.

This month the 63-year-old ex-fugitive recalled his experience in a sermon to his congregation at Mt. Olive Baptist Church.

broken bones long mended, as he read from the first chapter of Jonah.

"But the Eternal flung a furious wind..."

Many of his friends, both Negro and white, heard him give thanks for his recovery and cite his experience as an example of God's help. He recalled that he learned to read 25 years ago so that he could preach the gospel.

If his recovery was a miracle, it was a miracle wrought by faith.

Makes Wife's Clothes

Shown in Lubbock at his sewing machine is Nathan Rogers. He has been making his wife's clothes since they were married and Mrs. Rogers, shown at right, says she hasn't bought a dress in three years.

Lubbockite Sews Wife's Clothing

LUBBOCK (AP)—Men who find clothing bills are nicking their pocketbooks, and most of them do, might take lessons from a young man named Nathan Rogers.

"My sister had the best-dressed dolls in the country," he said in a recent interview. "After doll clothes, I graduated to shirts, then dresses and drapes."

"If Nat hadn't sewed my clothes right after we married, we would never have made it," said Mrs. Rogers, a statuesque redhead who wears her husband's creations with a flair.

Rogers is an engraver. They married when he attended Sam Houston State College in Huntsville, Texas.

"I had made my shirts for a long time, but when Barbara and I married, I had made only a couple of dresses for my sisters."

Rogers said he learned to sew by "just picking it up."

"I never spent more than two days making anything. If it took longer than that to make, I would lose interest and put it up. That white suit? No it didn't take long. It went together like a dream. I finished it in a day."

The white suit was Rogers' idea. "I had always thought a white suit impractical and I never could have cut into that expensive material," said Mrs. Rogers.

"The first thing people ask when I wear something new is where I bought it," she says. "They never ask if I make it."

She hasn't bought a dress in three years.

Rancher Adjudged Insane At Trial

AUSTIN (AP)—Brady rancher Rolfe White Ledbetter has been adjudged insane and will not be tried on a charge of murdering his wife until, and if, he is found sane.

Judge Charles Betts Wednesday committed Ledbetter to a mental institution after a Criminal District Court jury took 64 minutes to return an insanity verdict.

After spending seven full days in picking a jury, the sanity hearing came as a surprise. He is charged with killing his wife by placing poison in a highball knowing she would drink it.

Defense lawyers were joined by the prosecution in asking for an insanity verdict.

Defense attorneys had made it clear during questioning of prospective jurors they would raise the issue of Ledbetter's soundness of mind, but they had not indicated they would ask for a full sanity hearing prior to start of testimony.

When the 12th juror was sworn in Wednesday morning the defense withdrew its plea of innocent and filed an affidavit of insanity.

Brownwood Dist. Atty. Gordon Griffin Jr.—in charge of the prosecution—agreed to the hearing.

The state charged Ledbetter killed his wife in April 1958, by mixing strychnine in a bottle of whisky. The case was first moved to Mason and then transferred here after failure to get a jury at Mason.

Ledbetter, who wore dark glasses throughout proceedings which began a week ago today, appeared unconcerned as Betts committed him.

Principal sanity hearing witness was Austin psychiatrist David Wade. The state offered no contradicting testimony.

Dr. Wade described Ledbetter as a "paranoid type schizophrenic" with a "split in his personality" and "delusions of persecution."

Griffin, in whose jurisdiction the case arose, told the jury that late last week he instructed a sheriff and a Ranger to seek witnesses in the Brady area who could refute an insanity claim.

Griffin said the two officers returned with word that they could find no one who would testify Ledbetter was of sound mind.

"My conclusion was that without a doubt the defendant is insane," said Griffin.

Defense Attorney Earl Smith, of San Angelo, told the jury Ledbetter was not capable of understanding the nature and consequences of his acts and could not comprehend the seriousness of the charge against him.

The defendant's brother-in-law, V. L. (Pat) Ryan of Brady, testified Ledbetter had returned from military service telling stories of shooting down bombers with a rifle and dressed as a master sergeant although his highest rank was buck private.

Forsan Teacher Resigns Place

FORSAN—Mrs. Edna McGee, English teacher in Forsan High School, tendered her resignation to Joe Holladay, superintendent, Tuesday afternoon. The resignation was to be effective immediately.

Mrs. Barbara Gandy was named to continue Mrs. McGee's classes for the remainder of this term. This was her second year at Forsan.

Mrs. McGee broke her leg in a fall some weeks ago. She is still in a wheel chair and had attempted to continue her teaching duties despite this handicap. She told Holladay that she found the task too difficult and asked to be relieved of her duties at once.

On Constitution Borderline, Sit-Ins Confuse Many Opinions

By PERRY MULLEN
Associated Press Writer

LeRoy Collins is Democratic governor of the state of Florida, whose white citizens are heirs to a long tradition of racial segregation. He might be expected to deplore the current rash of lunch counter sit-downs by Southern Negro college students.

But when his state capital, Tallahassee, was hit by student demonstrations against segregation of department store luncheon facilities, Collins said:

"If a man has a department store and he invites the public generally to come into his store and trade, I think then it is unfair and morally wrong for him to single out one department and say he does not want or will now allow Negroes to patronize that one department."

Harry S. Truman is the former Democratic president of the United States from the border state of Missouri. He championed strong civil rights legislation while in office. He might be expected to support the lunch counter demonstrators.

TRUMAN BALKED

But Truman declared: "If anyone came into my store and tried to stop business I'd throw him out. The Negro should behave himself and show he's a good citizen. Common sense and good will can solve this whole thing."

Thus it was Truman who surprised and pleased the segregationists, Collins who lent a measure of comfort to the integrationist as a new racial debate stirred the country.

The demonstrations started Feb. 1 in Greensboro, N.C., when four Negro college students staged the first lunch counter sit-down at a segregated Southern eating place. They spread to many cities of the South, with sympathy picketing of branch stores in the North.

Church representatives were drawn into the widening debate.

Gov. Collins' own Episcopal pastor in Tallahassee, the Rev. Jeffrey Alfriend, differs with the governor.

He said: "I am very tired of hearing it said, 'This is a matter of Christian conscience.' With me, it certainly is not. It is a matter of biological expediency and ordinary common sense."

QUESTION MOTIVES

"And finally, I question the motives or the intelligence or good judgment of any who encourage demonstrations which obviously will lead to increased racial tension and probably violence."

J. Dean Fleming, secretary of the Baptist laymen of Alabama, declared: "The objection to close association between white persons and Negroes stems from the lack of a moral standard on the part of the Negro and the belief that close association will bring intermarriage."

"The agitators are always referring to what other countries will think of the United States. We are not a bit interested in what they think of us."

To which, Roy Wilkins, executive secretary of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People, replied: "Close association hasn't brought about intermarriage in the North. Why do Southerners get so excited when the Negro wants to eat a hamburger at a lunch counter? What they are saying is that if we give the Negro equal rights under the Constitution, then white girls are going to marry them. That's an insult to white women."

SOLONS IN DEBATE

Congressmen, of course, have gotten into the debate, along predictable geographic lines.

Sen. Jacob Javits (R-NY) said: "The South must make concessions in the struggle to lessen discrimination—and do so with all deliberate speed."

Sen. Richard Russell (D-Ga.), leading the fight in Congress against civil rights legislation, told the Senate: "In the simplest terms, it is claimed that if a person refuses to do business with a Negro, the Negro has the right under the 14th Amendment to take possession of the business of such person and he has no legal remedy."

"If the Constitution is to be distorted in this fashion in one section of the country, no person in any other section can feel secure in his property rights."

The Constitution is likely to loom large as, increasingly, the NAACP's fight against segregated Southern lunch counters centers on the courts. More than 1,000 Negro student demonstrators have been arrested on a variety of charges.

The NAACP is prepared to argue in their appeals that use of public force against the demonstrators constitutes discrimination in violation of the 14th Amendment.

Meanwhile, what do the young Negro demonstrators hope for?

One of them, Clement Carney, 21, jailed in Tallahassee, replied: "Desegregation of restaurants, theaters, bus stations and all other public places. And even the jails if we have to go back. White prisoners in the segregated section across the hall showed less discrimination towards us than people on the outside."

What do white Southerners intend to do to thwart these ambitions?

The Tallahassee City Commission has warned it will tolerate no more demonstrations. The argument has become an issue in the Florida gubernatorial campaign.

Alabama has threatened to cut off state funds to Negro schools that harbor demonstrators.

Several Southern cities are following President Eisenhower's suggestion and setting up bi-racial groups to work for smoother race relations.

But Wilkins has his own estimation of the future.

"There will never be peace until the principle of desegregation is accepted," he says. "It likely won't happen next week."

A's Making It Tough On AL Opponents

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Kansas City Athletics, a gang of guys other than the ones they could do without, have been able to keep it up, but they've been making it tough on the big teams in the American League race.

After eight games with the defending champion Chicago White Sox, Cleveland and hot-running Detroit, the A's are tied for third at .500, just 1 1/2 games behind the first place Tigers. They got there by beating Detroit 3-1 last night on a six-hitter by ex-Tiger Ray Herbert, a two-run single by Harry Chitt, a one-time Chicago Cub, and a home run by ex-New York Yankee Bob Cerv.

It was the second straight setback for the Tigers, who won their first five, but they stayed a half-game ahead of the Yankees, beaten 5-4 by Washington, Baltimore beat Boston 8-3 in the only other game scheduled in the AL.

In the National League, the first place Pittsburgh Pirates won their sixth straight, longest streak in either league, with a 3-3 decision at Philadelphia that put them a game ahead of idle San Francisco. Los Angeles defeated the Chicago Cubs 9-4 and Milwaukee rapped Cincinnati 8-5.

Herbert (2-0) walked just two and struck out five while putting away his second one-run game for the A's by blanking the Tigers on three hits over the last seven innings. Detroit scored on singles by Rocky Colavito, Chico Fernandez and Lou Berberet in the second. The A's, without a single product of their own farm system in the line-up, beat southpaw Hank Aguirre (0-1) in the fourth inning, when Chitt's single followed a single by Cerv and a double by Dick Williams. Cerv then homered in the eighth off reliever Bob Bruce.

Washington (5-5) tied the A's for third with a four-run eighth inning, capped by Jim Lemon's two-on homer, against lower Whitey Ford (1-1). Rookie Don Mincher also homered for the Senators.

gained his first major league victory with a save by Pete Ramos. Kaat allowed just three hits, one Bill Skowron's solo homer in the seventh, walked two and struck out four before being lifted for a pinch-hitter in the eighth. The Yanks got their other runs, all unearned, in the fourth.

Arnie Portocarrero (1-0) had a two-hit shutout for seven innings and finished with a six-hitter for the Orioles in his first 1960 start. Jim Gentile drove in three runs for the third consecutive game for the Orioles. He was credited with one in the first inning against loser Frank Sullivan (0-1) when he grounded out, and then hit a two-run single that triggered a clinching, four-run third.

LT. JAMES W. HARPER
Breaks Up Civilian Monopoly

Webb Man Wins Rifle Trophy

Lt. James W. Harper, Webb AFB officer, has become the first serviceman ever to win the 34th Annual Southwestern Small Bore Rifle Match, in Dallas.

Harper was competing with four other officers and rifle team members in the matches at Dallas Trinity Rifle Club, on April 23-24.

The Webb marksman won overall first place in the individual division of the match which is designed for, and consists mainly of civilian personnel. He fired a 3185 score out of a possible 3200 and about 200 exes of a possible 320.

Together, the five Webb team members brought home four trophies and 11 medals from the Dallas gathering. They plan to enter the Air Training Command matches, at Lackland AFB in May, and also the national matches which will be held the first part of August.

The other three Webb team members are Capt. Ramon C. Dial, Capt. Neyland F. Allen and Lt. Edward E. Harrison.

Miears Whiffs 17 Batters As Pirates, Eagles Win

Gery Miears struck out 17 men and Frank Sabbato clouted a four-run homer Wednesday night, as the Pirates bombarded the Cabots in American Little League action, 14-2.

Sabbato's clout came in the big third inning when the Pirates scored nine tallies. He added a single in four trips to the plate. Teammate Gary Rogers swatted a double and a single in two trips.

The Cabots avoided the horse collar in the final inning when Bob Baker doubled, his second safety of the evening, and Allen Daniels homered.

The only out besides a strikeout for the Cabots came when Baker tried to stretch his single into a double and got thrown out by the right fielder.

American Minor league action Wednesday night saw the Eagles put together five hits for five runs in the third inning, to topple the Bears, 7-5.

R. Walling collected the win for the Eagles and Johnson suffered the loss. Walling slammed a two-run safety for the winners in the third.

Gregg Pate Hurls Vets To 2-0 Win

Gregg Pate set the Braves down with one out in the VFW Veterans' hurlers of a no-hitter. Only one other Brave batter reached base. He was second baseman Mike McCrary, who walked in the first inning.

Pate struck out nine in the six inning contest.

The Vets combed the offerings of Soldan for six hits and scored both their runs in the third inning. In that round, Lonnie Clanton reached base on an infield bobbie and Pate brought him home with a single. Lerry Moore then singled to score Pate.

The Veterans left six runners stranded, the Braves two. The game was reeled off in just an hour and five minutes.

The Yankee-Dodger league contest, which was rained out Tuesday night, will be played at 10 a. m. Saturday.

In minor league action, the Aces nosed out the Red Caps, 9-8. A five-run outburst in the third inning turned the trick for the Aces. Benny Dixon, Bob Parks and Dickie Wright delivered hits in that round.

Billy Cannon Contract Was 'To Sell': Adams

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — K. S. (Bud) Adams, owner of the Houston Oilers of the American Football League, said today Billy Cannon signed a business contract with him personally Dec. 29, 1959.

"This contract had nothing to do with the Oilers," Adams declared. "It was merely a contract to sell our petroleum products in the Louisiana area."

The Los Angeles Rams of the National Football League, who are claiming the Louisiana State All-America halfback, charged that this was a contract to play professional football. Adams said he signed Cannon to the personal services contract because of his tremendous following in the Louisiana area "and if there's anyone who could sell gasoline it would be the Billy Cannon service stations."

Answering the Rams' charges, Adams declared that "Cannon signed a second contract, one with the Houston Oilers, on Jan. 1, after the Sugar Bowl game."

Concerning the Adams contracts which supposedly include payment of $100,000 at $33,333.33 per year; a $10,000 bonus, a 1959 car for Cannon's father, and half interest in an oil company, the owner of the Oilers said:

"If I hire a man his salary is strictly confidential. We never volunteer that information on any of our employees. We consider that a matter of personal nature."

Adams said Pete Rozelle, former general manager of the Rams and now NFL commissioner, went back on his word twice in the Cannon case.

"He told Cannon his contract would not be binding until it was presented to and approved by the commissioner after the Sugar Bowl game. He said it would save time and save him a trip to Baton Rouge if he signed in Philadelphia Nov. 30," Adams asserted.

Adams said Rozelle told Paul Dietzel, the LSU coach, he wouldn't sign Cannon until after the Sugar Bowl game.

Hoosiers Again In NCAA Doghouse For Violations

ATLANTA (AP) — Members of the National Collegiate Athletic Assn. Council headed home today after slapping Indiana University with one of the stiffest penalties on record—four years probation for six recruiting violations.

"It's a terrible blow," said University President Herman B. Wells at Bloomington, Ind.

Phil Dickens, Indiana football coach, called it "a dad-burned shame. We thought we had done everything possible to avert anything like this."

The punishment means Indiana is ineligible for NCAA championship competition, cannot make postseason appearances such as bowl games and cannot appear on televised sports programs of the NCAA.

The Council, NCAA policy-making body, charged that an $800 bonus and monthly payments of $50 to $75 were offered a Virginia football player by an Indiana alumnus working with an assistant coach.

Another athlete was recruited by a telephone caller using a fictitious name who offered up to $100 as a bonus and free transportation, it was charged.

NCAA rules permit a maximum of $15 a month for incidental expenses plus tuition, room, board and books to be offered a prospective athlete.

Free vacations, clothing and cash were offered in other cases, all involving football players, the council said, and an assistant coach was charged with using an alias in at least two recruiting efforts. He was later dismissed, the Council said.

The Indiana case was the only one acted on by the Council. The members voted against looking into complaints of dirty play in the Cotton Bowl game between Texas University and Syracuse.

There was no move to lift any previous probations.

Palmer Is Heavy Houston Favorite

HOUSTON (AP) — Arnold Palmer was a heavy favorite for today's start of the $35,000 Houston Golf Classic despite a final practice round 65 by Jay Hebert.

Palmer, with the Masters and four other 1960 titles already recorded, was a 4-1 favorite to win the second tournament here within three years.

Quoted at 8-1 were Ken Venturi, winner of the Bing Crosby Invitational, and powerful Mike Souchak the 1955 Houston winner who likes the long fairways at the 7,122-yard, par 72 Memorial Park course.

Jack Burke Jr., the defending champion and gallery favorite, and Billy Casper, National Open champion, drew 8-1 odds.

Until Tuesday, Palmer had not played a round of golf since winning the Masters nearly three weeks ago. He warmed up Tuesday with a 70 and followed Wednesday with a 72.

It Seems To Me

By DON RIDDLE

Jayhawk track and field coach, L. L. (Red) Lewis, says that if a coach had a team full of Bobby Shireys, he wouldn't even have to come to the workouts.

Lewis states that Shirey works out hard on his own and thrives on competition. "If the boys all worked like him," claims Lewis, "the whole team would be in shape before the season started."

SHIREY
Shirey is the star of the state AAAA regional meet in Dallas. His previous best was 9.7.

The Highland Park Scotties look like a strong contender for the AAAA schoolboy track and field championship, May 6-7, but probably won't be able to outpoint the Abilene Eagles.

Highland Park boasts the state's top sprinter in Curt Newberry. Newberry has stepped the century in 9.5 this season, but the effort was wind-aided. He turned in the mark in last Saturday's regional meet in Dallas. His previous best was 9.7.

Garland fields the sturdiest 220 man in the state AAAA rankings in the person of Bill Hill. He earned his berth in the state meet by winning the 220 yarder in regional action Saturday with a time of 20.5 seconds.

Big Spring's R. L. Lasater has qualified for the Austin meet in both events. His best time in the century is a 9.7 mark, which he runs consistently. In the 220 yard dash, Lasater has rarely been pressed, therefore posting no outstanding times.

At the regional meet in Odessa last week, he injured a groin muscle and nearly stopped, but finished the race dragging one leg. He turned in a respectable 31.6 figure in winning the race and various spectators indicated they thought Lasater might have been well under the 21 second mark had he not had the accident. He had gotten one of his best starts of the year.

Abilene Plays Steers Today

Abilene still looms as the AAAA favorite in Austin. The Eagles boast two of the top high jumpers in their division in Bob Beck and Jerl Franklin. Both cleared 6 feet, 3 inches at the regional meet. Corpus Christi's Beckman has also cleared that height. He performs for Ray High School.

The Eagles also claim the best half miler in the state in Larry Rhodes. He has tacked the distance in 1:52.3 this year and that is well under the state record at 1:53.4. Rhodes stands a chance to break the national schoolboy record which reads 1:52.3.

Abilene also posts a speedy 3:20.7 mark in the mile relay. Midland has a best time of 3:17.5 but the Bulldogs have not beat the Abilene foursome this year.

Big Spring posted an unofficial 42.4 mark in the sprint relay earlier this year and the best AAAA mark in that event has been turned in by Highland Park at 42.5. It looks like a close race in the state AAAA sprint relay between these two schools.

Howard County Junior College's Jim Evans has stated that his choice of senior college schools has been narrowed to three. Texas Western, Lamar Tech and Howard Payne are the schools he's deciding on.

Of the five Jayhawk cage starters of the past season, no one received less than seven scholarship offers to senior colleges.

Midland track coach, Edwin Nixon, has decided to take his Bulldogs to Hobbs, New Mexico this weekend instead of going to the Red Raider Relays in Lubbock, as is the custom.

He says his boys have been competing under pressure all year and he wants to give them a mental rest before the big Austin gathering.

His mile relay team got "up" for the Andrews Relays and ran a surprising 3:17.5 but the following week, they finished second to Abilene who only ran a 3:20.7. He says he would rather have his boys avoid the pressure at Lubbock and get "up" again for the state meet.

RACING SEASON NEARS

C. Tolliver Heads Trek To Ruidoso

RUIDOSO, N. M. (SC) — The way Texans are leaving their state this week, you'd think the Lone Star was going out of style! (The Texans, however, are Texas horsemen with expensive, smartly-groomed race horses, who have as their destination the Ruidoso Downs Race Track on Highway 70 in the heart of New Mexico's Billy-The-Kid land. (On May 20th, Ruidoso Downs, home of the fabulous $150,000 All American Futurity, will crack its gates for 54 big days of horse racing. More than 300 Texas Quarter Horses and thoroughbreds will be vying (with some 700 sprightly sprinters from 36 other states) for a healthy share of an estimated $1,000,000 in purses offered this season at the famous mountain track.

An arm-long list of Texas horsemen, owners as well as trainers, is topped by Clayton Tolliver of Sonora, Texas. The wiry veteran trainer, bringing in 25 head of racers, has been leading trainer at Ruidoso Downs for the past two seasons. In his stable is Debonair Dandy, a steady winning three-year-old thoroughbred filly entered

Dottie Eisenhart Wins Golf Trophy

Eighteen golfers took part in the Webb AFB-Country Club women's matches at the Country Club here Tuesday afternoon.

Dottie Eisenhart of the Webb team won one prize outright while Jodie Sabbato and Ellen Fisher tied for the other. They didn't get to play it off for the trophy due to the rain.

The next round of competition will take place at Webb around May 24.

Bowling Owners Gather Tuesday

DALLAS (AP) — The new National Professional Bowling League will perfect its organization at a meeting here next week.

Franchise owners, prospective owners and representatives of the major bowling equipment and supply companies will attend the meeting Tuesday morning.

Dallas, Los Angeles, Chicago, Houston, Fort Worth, Atlanta, Omaha and San Antonio already have franchises.

Bucs Year Late But They Lead

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

They're a year late, but the Pittsburgh Pirates, a bunch of battling Bucs who have made their slim pitching pay off, are riding a six-game winning streak atop the National League standings.

Last year was supposed to be the Pirates' year, after finishing second in 1958. But they lost their first five, never got higher than third and finished fourth. And that's where they were generally figured this year.

Now, with Bob Skinner driving in two runs and Vern Law winning his third without defeat in a 3-2 victory at Philadelphia Wednesday night, the Pirates have a full-game lead over idle San Francisco.

The Los Angeles Dodgers stayed within two games of first by beating the Chicago Cubs 9-4. Milwaukee held fourth, defeating Cincinnati 9-5 in the only other game scheduled in the NL.

Skinner, one of five Bucs batting over .350, was 2-for-2. His sacrifice fly gave the Pirates a run in the third against loser Jack Meyer (0-1), and then he brought the clincher home in the fifth with a single after Dick Groat (.354) had doubled.

The Phils scored on home runs by Bobby Del Greco and John Callison. Their other five hits were harmless singles off Law, who walked two and struck out six. It was Law's third straight complete game.

The Dodgers, who won Tuesday at Chicago with a four-hit job by Don Drysdale, swept the two-game series behind the four-hit pitching of Roger Craig. It was the first start and first decision for the big right-hander.

Craig had a perfect game until the sixth, when Del Rice doubled with one out and scored on Tony Taylor's single. Wally Moon was 3-for-4 and Gil Hodges drove in three runs with a homer and sacrifice fly for the Dodgers against right-hander Dick Drott (0-3).

Craig had a perfect game until the sixth, when Del Rice doubled with one out and scored on Tony Taylor's single. Wally Moon was 3-for-4 and Gil Hodges drove in three runs with a homer and sacrifice fly for the Dodgers against right-hander Dick Drott (0-3).

Law Burdette, 1-1 as a starting pitcher, added his second save in relief for the Braves, blanking the Reds on one hit for three innings after taking over for winner Carl Willey (2-0) and reliever Don McMahon. Hank Aaron, 4-for-6, hit a home run and Johnny Logan added an RBI double in a two-run fifth for Milwaukee that beat southpaw Jay Hook (1-2).

Logan, Billy Bruton and Del Crandall each drove in two runs for the Braves.

Thomas Luck

Calvin Dorman (above) of O'Donnell had great luck in landing the two bass he holds here on a recent fishing trip to Lake J. B. Thomas. One weighed six pounds and the other eight. He caught them on rod and reel with minnows in the northwest part of the lake.

Whitney Again Tries For Derby

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — C.V. Whitney, making his 14th try for a Kentucky Derby victory with no success so far, sends Tompon saddled under derby weight today in the Blue Grass Stakes at Keeneland.

Tompon, the 2-1 favorite in the derby winter book, will carry 126 pounds, including jockey Willie Shoemaker in the mile and an eighth test against three other 3-year-olds.

Victoria Park, owned by the Windfields Farms, also will tote 126 and will be piloted by Bill Hartack, the nation's leading rider.

Also in the field for the $25,000-added race are T. A. Grissom's Lurullah and Mrs. L. P. Tate's Come About. If all four go, the race will gross $30,900 with $19,535 to the winner.

All the starters except Come About are eligible for the May 7 derby at Louisville.

Lakers May Move To Los Angeles

NEW YORK (AP) — The National Basketball Assn., threatened with being beaten to the lucrative West Coast by the newly approved transfer of the Minneapolis Lakers to Los Angeles.

There was only one "if" in NBA President Maurice Podoloff's announcement Wednesday. It was "providing a satisfactory schedule can be drawn." League schedule meetings will be held in New York May 9 and 16.

The NBA also plans to operate in Chicago in 1961-62, when the league will be increased to nine clubs. Chicago dropped out of the NBA after the 1950 season.

IN FRIDAY GAME

Exes Will Boast Edge In Height

The Exes' starting lineup, composed exclusively of boys who forged the greatest record in the history of HCJC the past season, will have a slight height advantage over the 1960-61 team in a benefit basketball game to be played at 8 p.m. here Friday.

Starting for the Exes will be Tom Garrison, 6-9; Harold Henson, 6-3½; Larry Cruise, 6-3; Jimmy Evans, 6-2; and Bob Shirey, 6-2.

Joe Cook, 6 feet, will also be ready to play for the Exes.

Probable starters for HCJC will be Ronald Weeks, 6-3; Charles Knotts, 6-6; Bill Edwards, 6-4; Kenneth Clearman, 6-1; and either Preston Hollis, 5-10; or Kenneth Day, 5-10.

Admission prices will be 50 and 25 cents. Proceeds will be used to outfit the athletic department of the college with an automatic washer and dryer.

A preliminary attraction, scheduled to begin at 7 p.m., will be a girls' volleyball game between HCJC and Abilene Christian College.

The Jayhawks have been working out regularly, whereas the Exes have engaged in but few drills.

Last season's team ran up 34 victories in 38 starts and eventually won consolation laurels in the National Juco meet at Hutchinson, Kan.

The game will afford local fans the last chance to see the school's All-America performer, Henson, in action.

Pete Cook and James Tidwell will team up to serve as game officials.

Dallas, Houston Win Wednesday

A veteran and a rookie played starring roles Wednesday night as rain and cold weather combined to halve the American Assn. baseball schedule.

The veteran, Ray Jablonski, tripled in two runs in the 10th inning to break up a pitchers' duel and gain Dallas-Fort Worth a 3-1 victory at St. Paul. And 19-year-old Ron Santo homered for two runs in a 6-3 Houston triumph over Indianapolis.

Young Pugilist Dies After Bout

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP) — Michael Golubiff, an 18-year-old reformatory inmate, died of an apparent brain hemorrhage Wednesday night after he collapsed in the shower room of the institution after his welterweight bout in a supervised boxing tournament.

"It was pretty obvious that he was going to die by his condition when I arrived a few moments after he collapsed," said Dr. Karl Icks, the head physician at the nearby state reformatory.

Dr. Icks said an autopsy would be performed today to pinpoint the injury. Dr. Icks said that Golubiff, thought his death was caused by a brain injury, showed no evidence of a head injury. He said there is some question whether the hemorrhage developed from the excitement of the competition or a blow.

Iowa Park Favorite In State Track Meet

Iowa Park will be a heavy favorite to win the Class A school-boy track and field championship at Austin next week.

The relays count twice as many points as individual events and Iowa Park should get 32 points out of the 440-yard and mile relays. It has the best time in the state in the latter—3:30.1.

Tony Waters had the fastest 100-yard time in the regional meet with 10.0. Bobby Gilbrath had the third best time in the 440 with 51.2. Waters had the second best time in the low hurdles with 19.8 and Don Thompson ranked near the top in the 220. Gilbrath led the broad jumpers with Waters second and Lyndell Glenn was second in the discus and third in the shot put.

It has been within a tenth of a second of the 440-yard record of 50.2 and Henry Pickett of George West lacks only a tenth of a second reaching the record of 19.3 in the 180-yard low hurdles.

Pickett is the leading hurdler with 14.5 in the highs and 19.4 in the lows, and is among the top 100-yard dashmen.

PGA Officials Grant TV Rights

HOUSTON (AP)—Backers of 27 PGA sponsored tournaments have assigned their television rights to a new 1961 series, "Live TV Golf of the Week."

Recommendations of the executive committee of the International Golf Sponsors Assn. were approved Wednesday by the PGA tournament committee.

Television rights were assigned to Martin Enterprises of Chicago. The first telecast is scheduled for the January 4-7, 1961 Los Angeles Open.

Anahuac, with the fastest 440-yard relay team and third in the mile relay, appears Iowa Park's chief challenger.

Weimar, defending champion, qualified only in the mile relay for the state meet.

At least four divisional records appear in danger. George Roman of Marfa has vaulted 12 feet 1½ inches, 1½ inches better than the record. Bobby Evans of Thorndale has thrown the shot 57 feet 3½ inches, which is better than three feet over the state record.

Los Angeles Signs Two Baylor Exes

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Two teammates at Baylor University have signed playing contracts with the Los Angeles Rams for the 1960 pro football season.

They are tackle Paul Dickson and quarterback Buddy Humphrey. Dickson signed for 1960 and Humphrey for 1960 and 1961. The Rams have two other Baylor alumni, and Del Shofner and tackle Charlie Bradshaw.

New Du Pont LUCITE® House Paint Adds Years of Beauty to Your Home...Can Save You Real Money

New Paint Serves as "Lucite" Protective Shield for House

"Lucite" Makes the Difference... and Only Du Pont Makes "Lucite"

For years, Du Pont research chemists have been working on a formula for a longer-lasting house paint.

"Lucite" acrylic resins proved so successful in the highly durable "Lucite" automobile finishes that they paved the way for the discovery of this amazing new longer-lasting, weather-resistant finish, called Du Pont "Lucite" Acrylic House Paint.

New "Lucite" is the only house paint made from "Lucite" acrylic resin. Used according to directions, it grips properly prepared wood and masonry surfaces tightly; dries to a hard, low-sheen finish. And, because its surface is extra-hard, heavy rains wash dirt right off. But "Lucite" won't chalk and run down to discolor adjacent walls and masonry. The tough acrylic resin in the finish helps resist rain, snow, baking sun, deteriorating elements of all kinds.

"Lucite" Gives Whitest White; 16 Smart Colors

Because of the crystal-clear acrylic resin in "Lucite" House Paint, colors are wonderfully true and beautiful. The tough resin protects colors from fading in the sun and also from weathering. The white is a true white, and reflects sun heat, keeping your house cooler in the summer. Not only does it last longer than other whites, it won't turn yellow. In addition to longer-lasting white, "Lucite" comes in 16 lovely colorfast colors.

"Lucite" Paint System 100% Superior Over Yellow Pine

Paint manufacturers have long recognized that one secret of durability is a good primer. Du Pont laboratories developed Blister-Resistant Primer to give maximum protection from ugly, destructive blistering over any kind of wood—including yellow pine.

This new primer contains DULUX® alkyd resins and special solvents to assure deep penetration. It gives excellent adhesion over yellow pine—actually 100% more effective than any other primer. It also offers maximum resistance to unsightly moisture-blistering, cracking and peeling when used over new or unpainted wood, followed by two coats of "Lucite" House Paint.

"Lucite" Paint Does Wonders for Both Masonry, Stucco

New Du Pont "Lucite" Acrylic House Paint does wonders for stucco, cement block, brick or stone. On new, unpainted masonry, apply directly two coats of "Lucite" for 50% greater durability. On masonry surfaces previously painted with oil paint that is definitely firmly adhering, two coats of "Lucite" should last 50% longer. For recoating other surfaces, be sure to follow label directions.

"Lucite" is so easy to apply! It flows on evenly and dries to a smooth low-sheen finish that hides surface imperfections. Its glasslike smoothness wards off dirt, grime and destructive weather. Because of its hard surface, heavy rains actually wash away surface dirt and grime. Available in 16 fade-resistant colors and white.

Now You Can Paint After Heavy Dew or Sudden Showers

With new Du Pont "Lucite" Acrylic House Paint, you don't have to wait for the house to dry after heavy morning dew or sudden showers. New "Lucite" goes on just as easily over a damp surface as it does over a dry one! This can be a mighty big time-saver during periods of uncertain weather.

Also, you can cool down hot wood or masonry surfaces with a hose, and immediately start painting. No danger of unsightly blotches, either, because "Lucite" sets up quickly to resist water spotting.

Remember, however, that the Blister-Resistant Primer is an alkyd base product, and should always be applied over a dry surface.

Outstanding Durability, Easy Application, Superior Blister Resistance Make "Lucite" the Greatest House Paint Discovery in 30 Years

"Lucite" is Easy to Apply, Easy to Clean Up— And it Dries in 30 Minutes!

Never before has an exterior house paint been so easy to apply. New "Lucite" Acrylic House Paint slips on over the primed surface without effort, and gives a uniform low sheen. What's more, "Lucite" stays where you put it... won't run or sag.

Another big advantage of "Lucite" is its fast drying time. You can actually put on two coats in one day! Because the first coat dries in 30 minutes, you don't have to move ladders, staging or scaffolds.

By the time you finish painting a section, it will be ready for a second coat. Lap marks don't show either. And "Lucite" dries before dust or bugs can damage the surface.

Clean-up is a cinch when you use "Lucite". Fresh paint spots wipe right off with a damp cloth. To clean brush, roller or hands, just use warm water under the tap. No irritating, smelly solvents. No mess or bother. And if you need a thinner—just use water!

Wilmington, Del.—Du Pont announces a new house paint that can save homeowners hundreds of dollars in painting costs and make it necessary to paint your house only once a decade.

Called "Lucite" Acrylic House Paint, this amazing new paint discovery is made with "Lucite" acrylic resin, similar to the acrylic resin used so successfully in the longer-lasting "Lucite" auto finishes.

Tested for Years

Du Pont scientists have tested "Lucite" House Paint for years, in all parts of the country. These tests prove new "Lucite", applied according to directions over properly prepared wood or masonry surfaces, will last 50% longer than conventional house paints. The same tests show "Lucite" provides excellent resistance to moisture blistering, long a chief headache of homeowners.

new wood or old wood from which the previous coats of paint have been completely removed. Such bare wood surfaces should first be primed with Du Pont's specially formulated Blister-Resistant Primer, followed by two coats of "Lucite".

Performance over previously painted surfaces will be determined largely by the condition of the old paint. It is not possible to assure complete freedom from blistering, cracking, flaking or peeling unless the old finish is completely removed. If the old finish is definitely firmly adhering, with little or no chalking, you can expect good durability provided you use one coat of Du Pont Blister-Resistant Primer, followed by two coats of "Lucite". However, if the old paint is in really poor condition (badly eroded and blistered), it should be completely removed by burning or power sanding. Then proceed to finish as you would new wood.

How to Make Your House Paint Job Last 50% Longer

To gain the maximum benefits of extra durability and blister resistance from the use of this wonderful new house paint, you should start your painting from a bare wood surface. This may be either

Save Hundreds

When you figure the total cost of painting and repainting your house over the years, it's easy to see how you can save hundreds of dollars by using this remarkable new paint that lasts 50% longer. And the nice thing is, you'll pay just a few dollars more for all the "Lucite" House Paint needed for most houses.

Paint Blister Problem Now 90% Solved with New Du Pont "Lucite" House Paint

Blistering, long a major problem of homeowners, now gives way to the chemical research that created Du Pont "Lucite" Acrylic House Paint. Used over new Du Pont Blister-Resistant Primer, on new wood or old surfaces from which the paint has been removed, it resists unsightly blister damage.

Blistering is usually caused by moisture vapor from inside the house—from the shower bath, the laundry and from cooking, or from rain entering through cracks and other openings in the siding. This vapor sometimes works its way through the wood. Ordinary paint on the outside of a house forms a film that moisture can't get through. Because moisture is trapped inside, it often pushes the paint away from the wood and causes the paint to blister.

This new Du Pont Paint system prevents blistering in two ways:

1. The new primer penetrates deeply and adheres to the surface exceptionally well.
2. "Lucite" is porous enough to allow the moisture vapor inside the wood to escape without causing blisters.

Laboratory Blister-Test shows how regular house paint, on upper panels, blisters under abnormal moisture conditions. Panel, lower right, painted with "Lucite" over Du Pont Blister-Resistant Primer, shows no sign of blistering.

If the present paint on your house is blistering, the old paint film must be completely removed and the bare wood thoroughly sanded. If this is not done, blistering is apt to recur on those sections where the old paint has not been removed.

Apply Blister-Resistant Primer and two coats of "Lucite" Acrylic House Paint. Thorough testing by Du Pont proves that this finishing system solves the blistering problem in 90% of the cases.

When you next paint your house (or a portion of it), be sure you buy or specify "the paint that's worth the work": "Lucite" Acrylic House Paint.

Whatever You Paint... Use the Right Du Pont Paint for the Job

"Lucite" works such wonders on wood and masonry that it deserves to be used properly. If you're planning to apply new paint over old, remember this: the durability of your paint job will depend considerably on what happens to the old paint underneath. This is true of any paint you apply. If the old paint film breaks away from the wood or masonry, or is so old and powdery that the new paint can't penetrate to a sound foundation, your new paint job probably will not last long. If you use "Lucite" according to directions, you can expect a bonus of many years of extra durability. We realize that circumstances may prevent you from going to this additional effort. If this is the case, we'd like to suggest that you use one of the other fine Du Pont House Paints listed below. Your Du Pont Paint Dealer will be glad to recommend the proper one for your job. For years, these fine products have earned the praise of painters and homeowners, because they consistently afford maximum durability and good appearance.

Even professional Texas tall-tale tellers will have to admit that this was a pretty fair rattlesnake. The snake measured a mere 6 feet and 7 inches, which put him almost in the python class.

Precinct conventions for the Howard County Democratic party are slated for 8 p.m. on May 7—an hour after the polls close for the first primary election. She was rushed to the Physicians Hospital but died minutes later at 4:38 a.m. Services have been set for 4 p.m. Friday at the First Methodist Church with the pastor, the Rev. Dawson Officials Post Library Funds

LAMESA — Dawson County Commissioners entered into an agreement with the Texas State Library system recently in order to provide improved library facilities for rural areas. The county group authorized expenditure of $5,000 per year, beginning July 1, 1960 in order to participate in a multi-county program to improve rural service. In return for the funds, the library system agreed to furnish, on indefinite loan, books for use in rural areas. The number and type of books furnished is determined by the amount of cash involved. The action came after the commissioners had organized as a board of equalization, took the oath of office, then recessed until May 23. A regular meeting of the group as commissioners will be held on May 9, but the equalization board will not convene until two weeks later.

State Ready For U.S. 87 Project

John Roberts, district engineer for the Texas Highway Commission, told the Howard County Commissioners Court the state is ready to award a contract for the improvement of 10 miles of U. S. 87 as soon as right of way easements are available. Roberts urged that the commissioners close deals with the property owners involved as quickly as possible. The project begins at Fairview and extends north to the Martin County line. County Judge Ed Carpenter said that the commissioners have contacted all of property owners along the route of the road and that the larger owners have indicated willingness to sign easements. FFA Junket Due Friday

Big Spring's Future Farmers of America Club leaves at 4 p.m. Friday for a three-day fishing trip on the upper end of Buchanan Lake. Approximately 35 boys and 100 adults will go on the trip. They plan to camp out and engage in fishing, boating and water skiing. The fishing junket has been an annual affair for the FFA Club for 11 years and all boys who have attended 70 per cent of the monthly meetings are eligible to go on the trip. The group will leave in separate cars and pickups Friday and will return Sunday afternoon. Truett Vines, sponsor of the club, says some of the boys will take boats and motors and others will rent them at the lake. A new feature has been added to this year's outing, in that a cook has been hired to buy and prepare all the food during the campout. Each person going pays $5 which will cover his food bill and also will pay for the cook. The group will stay outdoors in the public camping grounds and there is no charge for such use of the park.

Yarborough Raps Ramsey In Campaign Here

Don Yarborough brought his campaign for lieutenant governor here Wednesday evening. On a hurried tour through West Texas with the May 7 primary date looming rapidly ahead, Yarborough is seeking to unseat Ben Ramsey, whom he termed a dictator of the Texas Senate. Yarborough was in San Angelo on Wednesday and pressed on to the Midland-Odessa area today. From there he'll go to Lubbock, and before he's through he will make a swing to El Paso. Talking earnestly about his campaign, Yarborough said that he felt the future of Texas rests heavily on the outcome of the lieutenant governor's race this year. "No law can be passed in Texas without the approval of this dictator of the Texas Senate," said the 34-year-old Houston attorney. He charged that Ramsey is "the captive of the general sales tax lobby and that the chief of the sales tax boys, none other than Preston Wetherred, is the behind-the-scenes manager for Ramsey."

REV. W. M. DOROUGH

Nazarene's Revival Opens

The Church of the Nazarene began its spring revival Wednesday with the Rev. W. M. Dorough as evangelist. Mr. Dorough is completing two years of ministry as pastor of the local Church of the Nazarene. This coming June the Rev. Dorough will have completed 15 years of pastoral ministry in the state of Texas. He completed his theological studies at Bethany, Okla., in 1945. He has served as president of the youth group of his district for the past eight years. Music and singing for the meeting is under the direction of Cotton Mine, local director of music. Mine has planned special music for each service, which will include quartets, trios; duets and solos by local talent. The meeting will continue through May 8 at 7:30 each evening. The public is invited to attend.

District Court Civil Suit Being Tried Before Jury

A jury was hearing testimony in 118th District Court Thursday morning in the compensation suit brought by J. Q. Carroll against the Hartford Accident Insurance Co. One other civil case, a retrial of the damage suit of Jodie Colbert against Ellis Eubanks which was reversed by the appeals court, is left on this week's docket. However, it was believed the present matter will not be completed in time for any further cases to be called. The court is closed down on Saturdays. It will probably take all of today and most of Friday to settle the matter now before the court. The case was started at 1:30 p.m. Wednesday. It will probably be the final case to be presented to a jury at the present term of the court. The panel of jurors serving at this time is the final one of those drawn for the term.

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — Methodist bishops, in their episcopal message to the church's quadrennial general conference Wednesday night, said that "even among Protestants, with our traditional emphasis upon sobriety, social drinking appears to be on an upward trend."

Death Sentences
RABAT, Morocco (AP)—Death sentences were handed out Wednesday night to five Moroccan merchants for selling adulterated cooking oil that paralyzed 10,832 persons. They used jet flushing oil bought at a U.S. Air Force surplus sale and mixed it with peanut and olive cooking oil to gain bigger profits.

HOLLYWOOD BEAUTY

Advices Naturalness For Attraction

By LYDIA LANE
HOLLYWOOD — Sonya Wilde played in Los Angeles to such fine notices in Leonard Bernstein's "West Side Story," her first musical, that she won the leading role in "I Passed for White," her first movie.

When I went to visit her at Allied Artists she confessed, "I really am lucky. But my good fortune should encourage girls who don't feel they are glamorous or the type for obvious sex."

"I feel sex appeal is something more than a tight dress or low-cut blouse. It is the kind of impression you give others that counts and you won't make a good impression if you aren't natural. It is a big mistake to try to copy an actress who is on top or be like someone you admire. I believe in experimenting to find out if it is right for you but when it isn't, don't stay with it."

"I am self-conscious the minute I am uncomfortable with my appearance. Once, in order to make people notice me, I wore a tight black sheath, long black gloves and too much make-up. I had an idea I would be glamorous but it didn't work out that way and I learned my lesson."

"I can't tell you how many people wanted me to cut my hair," she pointed out, "but having it long has helped me get two important jobs."

Sonya's hair is naturally black and shining. Her secret lies in the shampoo.

"I never had compliments on my hair until I used a certain detergent that we use for dishes," she revealed.

"A friend kept telling me how great it was so one day when I was out of shampoo, I got out this bottle of detergent and used it. And I've stayed with it ever since. I like it so much and it certainly hasn't hurt my hair. When I was on the road with 'West Side Story,' I had to shampoo every day, because the make-up got into my hairline."

"Don't ever let anyone tell you that just washing your hair every day is bad for it," Sonya declared. "My hair has never been in better condition."

The board presented their hostess with a brass chafing dish.

PRIDE OF HER PARENTS

... Tammy Sue with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Trammell

The James Trammells Focus Attention On Daughter, Tammy

COLORADO CITY — The James Trammells—always busy with outside interests—have found a new focal point for their attention in Tammy Sue, their 11-month-old daughter.

Brunette Mrs. Trammell quit her job with Sun Oil Co. to take care of Tammy, and even James, usually busy with his duties as agriculture instructor for Colorado City High School, finds time to baby sit now and then.

Romance first started for the Trammells when they attended Wylie (Texas) High School. And though James went to Texas Tech while his future wife chose McMurry, the couple still dated. They were married nine years ago.

For the past eight years the Trammells have made their home in Colorado City. Here James has served the county as associate agent and the school system as both second and top man in the vocational agriculture department.

Since Mrs. Trammell has become a full-time housewife she has taken an interest in club work. The young mother is the incoming corresponding secretary of the Zetaghian Club and next year's president of the local Beta Sigma Phi chapter.

Despite her many interests, the homemaker still takes time to prepare some of the favorite dishes of the couple. The recipe for Longhorn Cheese Salad came originally from a Lubbock friend.

Another favorite of the Trammells is Prune Cake. "This stays moist and has mellow goodness," says Mrs. Trammell.

LONGHORN CHEESE SALAD
1 pkg. strawberry gelatin
1 cup cold water
1 No. 2 can crushed pineapple, drained
½ cup sugar
1 cup grated longhorn cheese
1 cup chopped nuts
1 cup whipped cream
Dissolve gelatin in cold water. Bring to a boil the drained crushed pineapple and ½ cup sugar. Add this to the gelatin.

When mixture sets, add cheese, chopped nuts, and whipped cream. Congeal in molds or in a loaf pan. This may be served as a salad or with sugar cookies as a dessert. Makes 8 servings.

PRUNE CAKE
2 cups sugar
1 cup shortening
4 eggs
1 cup chopped prunes
3 cups flour, sifted
1 tsp. soda
1 tsp. each of cinnamon, allspice, cloves, ginger, and vanilla
3 tps. baking powder
1 cup prune juice
1 cup sour milk
Cream sugar and shortening; add beaten eggs and mix well. Add prunes.

Put in dry ingredients and liquids alternately. Beat mixture thoroughly. Bake in four layer pans at 350 degrees.

FILLING AND FROSTING
2 cups brown sugar
½ cup butter
6 tps. milk
Boil ingredients together for 10 minutes. Add 1 tsp. vanilla; cool.

Beat until mixture is consistency to spread between layers and on top and sides of the Prune Cake.

Exotic Touch Adds To This Good Bread

For a homemade bread with an exotic touch try this unusual recipe for:

QUICK RYE CARAWAY BREAD
2 cups flour
2 tps. double-acting baking powder
1½ tps. salt
½ cup dark brown sugar, firmly packed
1½ cups stone-ground rye flour
1 tsp. caraway seeds
1 egg
1-1½ cups milk
2 tps. butter or margarine, melted

Into a medium-sized mixing bowl sift together the flour, baking powder, salt and brown sugar. Stir in rye flour and caraway.

In a small mixing bowl beat egg enough to blend yolk and white; add milk and beat enough to combine. Add to flour mixture with melted butter; stir only until dry ingredients are thoroughly moistened.

Turn into buttered loaf pan (9 by 5 by 3 inches). Bake in a moderate (350 degrees) oven 1 hour or until cake tester inserted in center comes out clean. Loosen bread from sides of pan with spatula; turn out on wire rack; turn right side up; cool.

Bread will have a few cracks on top; it tastes delicious the same day it is baked but slices best when stored overnight in a tightly covered container.

Learn How To Make New Gumdrops

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
AP Newsfeatures Food Editor

You can have all the fun of making a fancy cake without being adept with a decorating tube. Latest rage in artless cake garnishes is the candy flower. Fancy cooks use the simple gumdrop to fashion a springtime surprise that is amusing, colorful and good to eat.

A pretty front deserves something extra-good under it. Be whole-hearted: Bake a real butter cake to go with the garnish. This recipe is none other than the delicious old-fashioned 1, 2, 3, 4 butter cake less a couple of egg yolks saved to use in the frosting.

FLOWER WREATH CAKE
3 cups sifted cake flour
3 tps. double-acting baking powder
½ tsp. salt
1 cup (½ lb.) butter
2 cups sugar
1 tsp. vanilla
¼ tsp. almond extract
1 cup milk
2 egg whites
Butter and flour a 3-quart ring mold. Sift together the flour, baking powder and salt. Cream butter, sugar, vanilla and almond extract. Beat in egg yolks thoroughly. Stir in dry ingredients alternately with milk, beginning and ending with

Flavor Of Peanut Is Favorite

Kids love peanut butter, and they'll really go for these:

DOUBLE PEANUT COOKIES
1 cup sifted flour
½ tsp. baking soda
¼ tsp. salt
½ cup butter or margarine
½ cup smooth peanut butter
1 cup light brown sugar (firmly packed)
1 egg
½ cup chopped roasted peanuts (medium course)

Sift together the flour, baking soda and salt. Cream butter, peanut butter and brown sugar; beat in egg well. Add sifted dry ingredients; stir to blend. Stir in peanuts.

Drop level tablespoons, 2 inches apart, onto buttered cookie sheet. Flatten with back of dessert spoon; press down once with fork tines. (Flour spoon and fork if necessary.)

Bake in moderate (350 degrees) oven until lightly browned around edges—about 10 minutes. Remove from oven and allow to stand about 1 minute; remove with spatula to wire racks to cool. Store in tightly covered container. Makes 3½ dozen.

Pepitoria Fine Company Dish

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

If you enjoy chicken and rice you will do well to look to Spain. Taking our own advice, we've borrowed an utterly delightful Spanish recipe—Pepitoria of Chicken—that deserves to be as well known as that country's Paella and Arroz con Pollo.

For the Pepitoria, the chicken is browned in olive oil and then cooked in an enchanting sauce made with onions, zeffirion and other seasonings, almonds, hard-cooked egg yolks and ham. We find it can be prepared ahead and reheated successfully.

PEPITORIA OF CHICKEN
1 broiler-fryer, about 2½ lbs ready-to-cook weight
1½ cups water
Salt
3 tps. olive oil
1 large onion, finely chopped
½ cup ham, sliced
¼ cup unblanched shelled almonds
2 medium-sized cloves garlic
1 tsp. minced parsley
2 hard-cooked egg yolks

Have chicken cut into 12 pieces; wash and drain. Place wing tips, neck, giblets and extra pieces of skin in water with a little salt; cover and bring to a boil; simmer about 30 minutes; strain and reserve stock. Meanwhile brown remaining chicken pieces in olive oil in 10-inch skillet; remove. Add onion and ham to oil in skillet and cook gently, stirring often, until onion is softened but not brown. Remove chicken and onion mixture. Brown almonds in olive oil left in pan; add a little more oil if necessary. Pound almond, garlic, parsley and ½ tsp. salt with a pestle in a mortar until paste-like; mix in egg yolks; gradually stir in 1 cup of the strained chicken stock. Return chicken and onion mixture to skillet; add sauce. Finish cooking chicken by simmering, covered, about 20 to 30 minutes or until tender. Serve over hot cooked rice. Makes 4 servings.

NOTE: If you do not have a mortar and pestle, you can put the unblanched almonds through the fine blade of a food chopper or a rotary-type grater, then crush the garlic with the salt and work almonds, garlic and parsley together. If you do not have a garlic crusher, mince the garlic fine then mix it with the salt and crush with the heavy blade of a knife until it disintegrates. A few shreds of saffron may be dissolved in the chicken stock and added.

Place a framed mirror on the floor near baby's play pen so he can see himself. Chances are he'll be content in the play pen much longer than usual.

If your hammer handle is loose, soak the head of the hammer in engine oil for a few hours. The oil swells the wood and doesn't dry out.

An Intriguing Treat: Veal Cordon Bleu

by CECILY BROWNSTONE
AP Newsfeatures Food Editor

Certain recipes gain converts. Let a guest who's also a cook taste Veal Cordon Bleu at our house and the chances are he or she will ask for the preparation rule.

What exactly is it about this dish that intrigues eaters? Flavor and texture, yes, but probably its most compelling feature is the way it's put together.

What looks like a breaded veal cutlet appears on your plate. Nothing very startling about that, you may think. But fork and knife do their work and then there's a delightful surprise. You find a filling of ham and Swiss cheese—two foods that are beguiling partners for the tender veal.

This dish comes from Switzerland and our guess is that some cook—plain housewife or haute-cuisine chef—first dreamed it up as a good way to use the country's famous cheese. Its name, Veal Cordon Bleu, testifies that it probably was first made, or became popular, in a French canton of Switzerland.

We like to serve this dish to company because all the preparation but the last minute cooking can be done ahead. Then into the skillet the stuffed veal goes to fry quickly—just a few minutes on each side—before diners sit down. If you have an electric skillet you will find it's great to use for Veal Cordon Bleu.

VEAL CORDON BLEU
12 very thin slices even-size boneless veal, about 1½ lbs.
Salt
Pepper
6 slices Switzerland Swiss cheese, ¼ in. thick
6 thin slices baked or boiled ham
¼ cup flour
2 large or 3 small eggs, slightly beaten
¾ cup fine dry bread crumbs
¼ pound (½ cup) butter

Have veal prepared as for scallopine; sprinkle lightly with salt and pepper. Have cheese and ham cut a little smaller in length and width than the pieces of veal. Place a slice of cheese and one of ham on each of 6 slices of veal; cover with remaining 6 slices of veal. Seal meat by pressing together. Dip in flour, then in egg, and finally in bread crumbs. Heat half the butter in a large skillet and add as many pieces of meat that will go in one layer without crowding; brown quickly on both sides. Add butter as needed and cook remaining veal the same way. As a rule it takes only 3 to 5 minutes to cook each side of the veal.

Quick Dessert
Quick dessert: Roll cookie dough very thin, form over inverted muffin tins and bake. Fill cookie cups with fresh or frozen fruits and top with whipped cream.

Quick Remedy
Material from under a pocket may be used for mending a patterned skirt. Replace the hole under the pocket with other material.

Handy Trick
Cover a hole in a window screen with mosquito netting, applying two coats of shellac for an effective patch.

Plastic Containers
Wash plastic pill bottles and use them as containers for mustard, catsup and dressings you take on a picnic.

Turn mixture into 1½ qt. casserole and bake at 350 degrees for 25 min. Sprinkle at once with confectioners' sugar and slice under broiler to caramelize. Serve with cream or half and half. A Devotional For Today

He will command his children and his household after him, and they shall keep the way of the Lord. (Genesis 18:19.)

PRAYER: Our Father, we pray that Thou wilt come and dwell in our home. Be with us at every meal. Enrich our homes by Thine everlasting presence; through Christ, our Saviour, the Redeemer of the world. Amen. (From The 'Upper Room')

This Would Be A Serious Mistake

The City Commission soon may be asked to call an election for the purpose of deciding whether to amend the city charter in such a way as to make the chief of police elective.

Under the city charter, all offices, save the commission, are appointive. The city manager is the chief executive officer responsible directly to the commission for the functioning of the governmental machinery and for the administration of policies adopted by the commission.

This is the same sort of arrangement which is applied to the operation of a large business firm under a general manager who is responsible to a board of directors. Just as the directors are responsible to stockholders, so are our commissioners to the public.

The effectual operation of a business could well be hampered by a rule which said that the general manager would be responsible for the operation of the business and could name all his department heads except one. He could even name all the employees in that department, but because he lacked the power to replace, he could not effectively deal with the operation of that department.

What the amendments, as proposed in the petitions, would do is to make the manager responsible for a police department, and yet deprive him of the real means of responsible administration.

We think this is a completely erroneous conception. It is wrong in principle and would be even more wrong in practice.

The strength of the council-manager form of government is that it fixes a chain of responsibility and removes public servants so far as possible from politics. To adopt the proposed amendments would be to cast a major branch of the city's government directly into politics.

The best might easily become that of who is the best campaigner and best politician. No system is perfect, but our present one has much more to recommend it than a piecemeal elective process for a department head. The means is at hand for a change at any time; if it becomes necessary in the opinion of the manager and the commission, a change can be made promptly and does not have to wait a year for an election.

If it is logical to elect a police chief, it is equally logical to elect a water superintendent, a fire chief, a city attorney, or any other department head.

By singling out this one post, the petitioners confirm that the move is a punitive one against one official. The fact of the matter is that this is an outgrowth of some recent personnel upheavals. Regardless of the merits of the action, there is no justification for chewing away at the foundations of our municipal machinery. It would be a sad, sad mistake to adopt such an amendment.

Mixed Blessings Of The Storm

Tuesday afternoon's wild thunderstorm brought mixed blessings.

While some farm areas were given elating moisture, the rain was not general in its scope. Moreover, severe washing resulted in some areas. Pastures were helped, although the rain generally was so intense that it had little time to penetrate. Certain localities were blessed with a sharp increase in their stock water supplies.

In town had inflicted substantial damage. Some roofs were battered, although not severely as in times past. There also was some paint damage to automobiles. High clouded downpours and backed up enough water to rise over flashings of a few buildings.

The worst harm was to the hopes of people who had seen fruit trees and vines along with pretty flowers come through the threat of freezing only to be battered and all but stripped by the hail. Most people are mainly agricultural in their instincts, and there's something peculiarly sickening about seeing plants beaten down and dispossessed of their fruit and flowers. Oh well, there's always next year.

A Question For The World Court

WASHINGTON—Nikita Khrushchev has upon the occasion again. He declares in his latest speech that, if the Soviet Union chooses to sign a peace treaty with the East German government, this could lead to the loss by the Western Allies of their rights of access to West Berlin "by land, water or air."

This is a renewal of a threat made some time ago but, coming as it does now after a period of "peaceful co-existence" and exchanges of visits between the top men of the West and East, it raises a question as to what has been really resolved.

THE SOVIET PREMIER may have had a tactical reason for expressing again his warning to the West. The "summit" conference is due in the middle of May at Paris, and it might be assumed that no participant government would, publicly at least, recede from its viewpoint before such a meeting takes place. But it is significant that Mr. Khrushchev now questions the validity of the Allied agreements themselves which ended World War II. If one ally can ignore the signatures of other allies to a contract and, by the simple device of recognizing a government in a portion of what was previously occupied territory, thinks it can deprive the conquering nations of their rights, then international contracts or agreements are meaningless.

This is what is known as a "judicial" question. It can be settled by a court of international law. Such a tribunal exists today at The Hague with the sanction of the United Nations. It is known as "the International Court of Justice." Certainly there could be no logical reason for refusing to accept the jurisdiction of such a court to answer one question — are the rights of the Allies separable. Can the rights of one be forfeited as a result of the acts of another signatory?

THERE HAS ALWAYS been a dispute as to whether the interallied agreement which provided for four zones of occupation in Europe did provide for access to the Russian zone in Germany. It is true nothing was specifically spelled out in the document on the subject of access primarily because it was not deemed necessary. Here were the military representatives of the three principal governments—the Soviet Union, the United States and Great Britain—drawing up arrangements to occupy what had been enemy territory. It would be absurd to contend that failure to mention a specific right of access meant a denial of such a privilege between the occupying armies.

But the right of an army of occupation, acting in concert with other armies of an alliance, is something that international law has dealt with in principle many times before. What the present controversy amounts to, in fact, is an effort to demolish the entire agreement by the withdrawal of one of the signatories. Certainly a nation can withdraw from an occupation some any time it pleases, but it cannot impair rights obtained by its allies.

SINCE THESE ARE legal questions, it would appear that they might well be considered by the Court of International Justice if agreement by direct diplomatic negotiation should prove unsuccessful.

There was a time in world history when settlement of international disputes by legal tribunals was widely advocated. It was frequently asserted that, while questions of "national honor" couldn't be adjudicated, there was every reason why questions of a "justiciable" nature should be submitted to tribunals of law.

MANY QUARRELS of an international character have been submitted to special commissions of arbitration. The United States has often been called upon in the past to settle boundary disputes between Latin-American nations when those nations agreed to submit such controversies to a commission composed of members of the Supreme Court of the United States.

The existence today of an international court at The Hague which accepts cases from all countries, irrespective of whether they are members of the court, is fortunate. For a ready-made machinery is available to all sides provided they are really sincere in their desire to solve international disputes without resort to military force.

BACK OF THE DEADLOCK between the Soviet Union and the Western countries over the status of West Berlin has been a threat of one-sided action. The threat to deprive the Western Allies of their rights in West Berlin, by assuming that the East German republic would decline to recognize them, implies that military force might be invoked.

It is clear now that the Western Allies do not intend to give up West Berlin and that any attempt to take away their rights would be met by military resistance. Nikita Khrushchev knows this and hence, if he is only talking for propaganda purposes, no one will be disturbed. But if he means to fulfill his threat of unilateral action, then the idea of using the World Court to settle the legal points involved affords an honorable formula for the solution of the dispute.

Don't Expect Much At The Summit

WASHINGTON (AP) — The American people are being prepared not to expect much more from the Paris summit meeting May 16 than a pleasant get-together between the West and the Soviet Union.

Is anything going to be solved there? Probably not.

President Eisenhower Wednesday and French President Charles de Gaulle last week played down the idea of solutions and played up the hope the summit would produce better relations with the Soviets.

A great deal of time, a number of meetings, and a lot of visiting back and forth by heads of state and their foreign ministers have gone into the preparations of the Western Allies for the Paris conference.

WHAT THEY SEEM to lack is new ideas. They seem to have been rigidly. If all that the statesmen and diplomats have said in speeches, statements and communique—could be wrapped into one tight bundle this would be it.

They are determined to stand solidly together in resisting Soviet demands; they haven't talked of making demands of their own.

At his news conference Wednesday Eisenhower was asked about his hopes for the summit session with De Gaulle, Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev, and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan.

"I think the most we can hope for, at this time," he said, "is ease of tensions, so some evidence that we are coming closer together — sufficiently so that people have a right to feel a little bit more confident in the world in which they are living and its stability.

"Now, how this might come about I don't know. There is, of course, the subject of ceasing of tests, and with a controlled system for that, for developing some step in disarmament, and for greater contacts, particularly cultural contacts. I think that there are a number of ways in which this might happen. And that's about all you can say."

THIS WAS PRETTY much an echo of what De Gaulle had said repeatedly at different places on his visit to Washington last week.

He told a National Press Club luncheon that the matter of relations between East and West is the question with which the summit conference "primarily must grapple."

He said this would create the atmosphere for handling other problems like disarmament, Germany, and aid for underdeveloped countries. He said solutions for the question with which the summit conference "primarily must grapple."

He said "what is paramount" is to begin the easing of relations between the Soviet Union and the Western Allies.

It takes four to dance to this tune and since Khrushchev is the fourth member of the quartet, everything depends on whether he is in the mood for dancing.

The last time he was heard from—over the weekend in Baku—he sounded like a man in a very foul mood, indeed. He seemed to be threatening the West, like this: You'd better talk business at Paris, or else.

Eisenhower Wednesday declined to take Khrushchev's weekend beligerency very seriously. "It's just more of the same," Eisenhower said.

The Little Things In Life

NEW YORK (AP)—It's the little things that stand out in a life.

The scientists may invent atom bombs and moon rockets, and the statesmen crap-shoot for the world at summit meetings. Rebels may arise and earthquakes come and go. Your average man is more likely to remember the day they came out with a new kind of beer bottle cap.

The big glories and big disasters find a page in human history. But it is the small glory, the little disaster, that write the history of the individual human heart.

Our memory—which is our life — is a summary of unforgettable personal moments which had no impact on the world at large but which changed us forever. Add these moments up and what do you have? Yourself.

One man's mental album, for example, might contain such landmark moments as:

Stabbing your toe as a barefoot child and reaching the philosophic conclusion, in the midst of excruciating pain, that you could not be physically immortal, or you wouldn't hurt so.

Staring at yourself in the mirror as a small boy until your mind reeled at the mystery, "Who am I? What am I?"

The thrill of pride when you finally learned to whistle through your front teeth. Later, after you got your upper plate, you had the problem of learning how not to whistle.

The thrill of pride when you saved up enough money to buy your first pair of long pants and felt at last you were a man.

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.
One of the strangest things about stomach ulcers is that while we know how to treat them we don't know what causes them.

This phenomenon is close to being the exact opposite of most of the things which plague us healthwise. Usually we don't know much about treating an illness until we find out what causes it.

So that is why an article in the Journal of Diseases of Children carries such interest. The Journal is one of the several publications of the American Medical Association.

The article, by three University of Chicago physicians, Drs. Roberto Romas, Joseph K. Krishner and Walter L. Palmer, comments that such ulcers (either ulcers of the stomach itself or of the connecting duodenum) should "not be considered rare" when they are discovered in children.

Several years ago it was pointed out by experts in this field that children, even babies, sometimes were discovered to have such ulcers, and when I say "babies," I mean just that. There are occasional cases when such ulcers have been detected in infants only a few months old.

The probability is that these "rare" instances represented only the exceptional cases in which the condition could be discovered or suspected. After all, a very young baby cannot point to a spot and say, "It hurts there!"

And since the presence of an ulcer in a child so young is uncommon, the "cross baby" is not very often suspected of having an ulcer. There are other things which more often are responsible!

However, the University of Chicago study of adults with ulcers shows that about two per cent of them had symptoms in childhood (as young as four years old) which fitted the symptoms of a gastric or duodenal ulcer. This doesn't mean they HAD such ulcers, but it is a reasonable supposition.

We can be sure that ulcers in such little ones weren't caused by "the pressure of business worries," and they weren't caused by liquor, or smoking, or eating too highly-spiced foods. We don't know WHAT caused them.

So what use is this information to us? Just this: While we don't know what causes such ulcers, we do know that if we avoid the things which irritate them, we have a very good chance of letting them heal. Or at least of letting them heal to the degree at which they don't annoy us.

After all, what is an ulcer? It's a sore. And if we can calm our nerves, avoid eating highly-spiced foods, quit smoking, keep drinking at a minimum, and perhaps use medications which prevent the stomach motion from being too vigorous, the ulcers in the majority of cases stop bothering us.

So — in this case — don't ask your doctor what caused the ulcer. Just go along with his best advice about the things that keep the ulcer from bothering you.

"Dear Dr. Molner: What can be done to dry up an ear that has been draining for 40 years intermittently?—R. B."

After such a period surgery (to clean out the focus of infection, usually in the mastoid area) may be necessary to stop drainage. Simpler treatments, in cases of this duration, are usually futile.

"Dear Dr. Molner: Do citrus fruit juices irritate the pains of arthritis?—Mrs. J. C."

No.

Leg cramps and foot pains? Both can be stopped! To learn how, write to me in care of The Big Spring Herald, requesting my pamphlet, "How To Stop Leg Cramps and Foot Pains," and enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 5 cents in coin to cover handling.

Around The Rim

That Extra Means A Lot Of Extra Work

Few newspapers publish "extras" any more. I suppose it is because of the high cost of publishing and the fact that television and radio now give the populace the immediate announcement that something of great portent has occurred. Long before I first entered the business, the "extra" edition was almost a thing of the past.

But I had an opportunity to get out an "extra" once. The circumstances were a bit different, and it occurred while I lived in that far-away land of Ohio. And the newspaper, of course, was a weekly.

The regular publishing time and date of the paper was Thursday, 8 p.m. We normally tried to get out a little head of that exact time, but it was well nigh impossible. On the Herald, there are over 50 people who sell the ads, gather the news, write the stories, set the type, run the press and distribute the paper. In Ohio, there were my good wife, Joyce, and I.

SO IT TOOK US FOUR days to get out the paper, and sometimes we didn't make it at that.

As I have mentioned in this space before, the school consolidation issue was the most important thing in the public eye since the town turned out to support the Spanish American War effort. Factions were holding meetings practically every night suggesting that the school board members would be suitably attired in tar and feathers.

I normally attended all of these meetings, except when they were slated after lunch on Thursdays. The meeting that resulted in my "extra" occurred on Friday. The businessmen, about 20 in all, met for a sales meeting which quickly turned into a "cuss the school board" fest. They decided to condemn a recent action of the board concerning consolidation.

AS MOST OF THE businessmen were well-known and respected, it was a black-eye for the school board to lose their support. Thus it was a big story for those environs, as it would be in Big Spring. But alas, the paper did not come out again until the following Thursday. It would be history by then and the county seat paper would already have the story roped and tied.

Nothing to do but put out an "extra." I announced the decision which drew applause from the businessmen and they quickly volunteered to purchase three full pages of advertising. The other page had the story of the meeting and its action. Across the top of the page were the huge letters, E X T R A, in the biggest type I had.

JOYCE AND I WORKED into the night getting those four pages printed and we had the paper in the mail box before the 8 a.m. pickup the next morning. This insured that all our readers got the issue in the Saturday mail.

The county seat paper, a daily, had the story Monday and also noted that we had published an "extra." Unfortunately, we did not use carrier boys, so I missed having a youngster running down the street yelling "extra" at the top of his lungs.

But that experience taught me one reason why newspapers consider sobriety before getting out an extra. It is a lot of work that gets tiresome when it stretches past midnight.

Old, New, Interesting Items In Tucson

TUCSON, Ariz. — Something decidedly new, something decidedly old and something decidedly interesting have been added to this mushrooming community in the few days I have been here.

The something new, just announced by Uncle Sam, is an $80,000,000 Titan intercontinental ballistic missile base. The something old, so priceless that no real value can be placed on it, is a gift by the Samuel H. Kress Foundation of 26 paintings by the 15th Century Spanish artist Fernando Gallego to the University of Arizona.

AND THE SOMETHING decidedly interesting is a grant of $114,900 by the National Science Foundation to the university to "further its attack on the problem of controlling clouds." That term, boiled down for us peasants, means the problem of rain-making.

The rain-maker and his abracadabra go back to the dawn of time. He has been the butt of much credulity and an equal amount of mirth. But science, the deus ex machina of the 20th Century, has been getting further and further into the act.

Now, the National Science Foundation is willing to the tune of $114,900, to back the studies, over a three-year period, of the modern rain-maker. In this instance he is Dr. M. L. Corrin, physicist of the University of Arizona, who has already made a pilot study of the project.

THE UNIVERSITY'S Institute of Atmospheric Physics has already had a gift of $250,000 to examine the nature of clouds and the possibility of changing them, i.e., of squeezing more water out of them, particularly with silver iodide.

"This is the type of research where you follow your nose," says modest Dr. Corrin. But if Dr. Corrin's nose leads to more rainfall in this and other desert lands, grateful desert rats will erect a statue to his honor.

THE LATEST KRESS gift to the University of Arizona, for which the state has constructed a special building, is the famous retablo of the Cathedral of Ciudad Rodrigo. It is regarded as the climactic work of the Hispano-Flemish school. It is a special treasure in a community marked by Spanish and Mexican influences.

Rush Kress, 82, who succeeded his late brother as head of the foundation, presided at the ceremonies attended upon unveiling the prodigal gift. Mrs. Kress, a University of Arizona alumna, was also on hand to applaud the enrichment of her alma mater.

The Gallego retablo extends the previous gift of Renaissance art from the Kress Foundation to the university. This university, which boasts a rodeo as well as a football squad, owns a gallery of mouthwatering masterpieces by such artists as Tiepolo, Ribera, Cranach, the Elder, Del Sarto and Tintoretto, thanks to the Kress Foundation.

NOW THE UNIVERSITY is embarked upon a new and commendable venture. It is planning to take a portion of its splendid collection to small communities throughout the state. Like the bookmobiles or traveling libraries that are a fixture of the American scene in thousands of small and rural communities, the university's artmobile will take masterpieces of painting to the people, instead of books.

The details of this project are not yet worked out, but it is probable that the exhibit will travel at first in two station wagons. Then the pictures will be hung temporarily in any hall available in the community.

HOWEVER, THERE is talk of a specially equipped van in which, eventually, the pictures could travel and be shown, but it is the decision of the university to take its art on the road for the enjoyment and edification of small communities that I find so noteworthy. More noteworthy even than an $80,000,000 ICBM base. If man has the sense God gave geese, the art will be here long after the base has been forgotten.

Religious Prejudice Rears Its Head

WASHINGTON — In Senator Hubert Humphrey's home state of Minnesota there is a salutary example of how little religion means in voter choice. It has relevance to the West Virginia primary where ugly manifestations of prejudice threaten more than the fate of one candidate or the other in the Democratic contest.

Senator John F. Kennedy seems to have been saying, until his speech to the American Society of Newspaper Editors, that the citizens of West Virginia owed it to themselves to vote for him to prove they were not bigoted. Some of his more ardent supporters have been trying to make it appear that a vote for Humphrey is a vote for the Ku Klux Klan. This is bound to harm Kennedy at least as much as it may Humphrey.

WITH THE INTERVENTION of West Virginia's egregious Senator Robert Byrd, Humphrey is embarrassed by the implication that he is merely a stalking horse for the "stop Kennedy" movement. By defeating Kennedy he will open the way to a compromise choice at the convention.

Eugene McCarthy is the other Senator from Minnesota. He was the first Catholic elected in a statewide election as Governor or Senator.

In Minnesota the proportion of Catholics to the population is about 30 per cent. It is not true, according to McCarthy, that more than half the Democrats in his state are Catholics. What is striking about McCarthy's election in 1958 is the small part that religion played in a state in which the Lutheran population is in many counties well over 50 per cent.

CONGRESSIONAL QUARTERLY has done a careful and detailed statistical analysis of the Minnesota returns that show just this. While independent analysts who were asked to go over the CQ material found that a Catholic "pull" toward McCarthy did exist of approximately twice the Lutheran "drag," it was a minor factor in his defeat of the Republican incumbent, Senator Edward J. Thye. The CQ conclusions, based on their analysis of the returns county by county, are so significant that they are quoted here:

"The foregoing evidence of the play of religion as a factor in the voting in the McCarthy-Thye race should not cause sight to be lost of the impressive fact that despite any Catholic 'pull' and despite any putative Lutheran 'drag,' McCarthy still trailed behind the Lutheran Congregationalist Humphrey in all but a few of the heavily Catholic districts and that he led the popular Lutheran Thye in many of the heavily Lutheran counties.

"THUS ALTHOUGH there seems to be evidence of a religious influence on the voting, it is to be measured at most in the swing of two or three percentage points.

"In this respect the study tends to confirm the thesis that religion as such is one of the lesser influences on voting behavior."

In short, in Minnesota McCarthy was chosen on his personal merits and on party preference. It was a choice made in the American tradition. In that tradition religious prejudice has, except for sporadic outbreaks of violence, played little part.

In five terms in the House McCarthy had established himself with a majority of the voters who cast their ballots for him without respect to religion.

MCCARTHY HAS GONE into West Virginia to speak for Senator Humphrey as co-chairman of Humphrey's national Presidential campaign committee. But he is concerned over more than the outcome in that primary. He sees the increasing bitterness threatening not only both candidates but their party as well.

This last might be, as it was in 1924 and 1928, an incidental effect of the political wars with no lasting damage. But the fear this time is that it could create a new and deep schism in American life, and just as unity of national purpose is more vital than ever before in our history.

Jeff Hunter Takes Christ Role In Shadow Of Ghost

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Film-land legends die hard, and the one about H. B. Warner is returning to heckle Jeffrey Hunter. The 33-year-old actor has signed to play Jesus in "The King of Kings," a new treatment of the Christ story to be filmed by Samuel Bronston in Spain, Italy and the Holy Land for six million dollars. Jesus has often been portrayed fleetingly in films, but this is the first important biography since Cecil B. De Mille made his silent "King of Kings" in 1927. Lean, fragile-looking Warner played the title role for De Mille, and his acting career was blighted for years thereafter. During one of his comebacks, the actor told movie producers could see him in nothing but religious roles. Athletic Hunter realizes the danger.

"I know there are certain risks involved. But I'm willing to take them because the part is so great," Hunter said.

"I'm not worried about getting typed. Gee, I've played so many kinds of roles in my career, that I don't think this one could stop me."

Hunter was playing a widely divergent role when we talked. He stars in "Hell to Eternity" as Guy Gabaldon, Los Angeles Marine who captured 2,000 Japanese on Okinawa.

"When I got back from the Okinawa locations, they sent me the script," he said. "I thought it was great and asked what role they had in mind for me. 'Like maybe Jesus Christ,' they said. I answered 'Sure.'"

The actor isn't certain how he was chosen. He has done no Biblical roles, didn't even test for the film. He hasn't even talked with the film makers: Bronston, director; Nick Ray and writer Phil Yordan, who are getting ready to shoot in Spain.

The only hint he has is that Ray and Yordan both worked on "The True Story of Jesse James," in which Hunter played the bandit's brother Frank.

Citizens Warned Of Poison Danger

AUSTIN (AP)—Toddlers don't know the difference between poison and soda pop, the State Health Department reminded parents today.

"That's why gasoline or kerosene should not be put in an empty soda pop bottle, the department said. Such habits are a major cause of poisoning.

Children one to two years old are involved in 65 to 70 per cent of all cases reported to poison control centers.

Race Threat In Methodist Structure Eyed

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
Associated Press Religion Writer

DENVER, Colo. (AP)—A racially partitioned church structure, which enabled Northern and Southern Methodists to unite 20 years ago, today loomed as a possible wedge that could drive them apart again.

This was the crucial issue faced by the nation's largest Protestant denomination, as the quadrennial Methodist General Conference went into its first session on the matter.

On the eve of the test, bishops of the church said Wednesday night that the outcome will have a greater effect than any other conference decision on the present and future strength of Methodism in America and beyond.

Up for consideration was a complex, explosive report on racial policy, drawn up by a 70-member commission in a four-year, $200,000 study that involved public hearings in 24 cities across the country.

It recommends continuance of a separate administrative jurisdiction for Negroes, arguing that this gives them the strongest voice in top echelon of the church. But the system is keenly opposed by some Northerners as a "symbol of segregation."

On the other hand, the report also proposed linking jurisdictional affairs, both white and Negro, more closely with the overall church government. This feature is strongly protested by some Southerners as an invasion of regional autonomy.

The 74 bishops, in their keynote episcopal address, commended the "general method and spirit" of the report, and said no course "will be acceptable that disregards the rights of any major segment of the church."

But they also reminded the 800 voting delegates of the church's official stand against any "racial discrimination or enforced segregation."

"Our problem is not a new pronouncement but to bring our actions into line with our professions," they told the church's supreme governing body.

In Alabama and Mississippi, some Methodists in resistance to any scrapping of the jurisdictional setup, have backed passage of state laws authorizing them to withdraw church property from the denomination. A similar law is being pushed in Delaware.

Churchmen, North and South, have said the unity of the 19-million-member denomination rests on this solution.

Charles C. Parlin, New York attorney and chairman of the study commission, defended retention of the separate Negro jurisdiction as giving Negroes higher representation—16.7 per cent—in top church agencies than their numbers—3.7 per cent—could command if placed in white jurisdictions.

He's No Angel

Jim Skinner, the tyrant of the family, has harsh words for Deniece Nicholson, would-be fiancée of Skinner's nephew, in this scene from "My Three Angels," being staged tonight and Friday by the Court Jesters. The three "angels" in the title are actually three convicts who come to the aid of the beautiful girl. Curtain time is 8:15 p.m. in the high school auditorium, and admission prices are 50 and 75 cents.

Cops Keep Klan Target From Chasing Hoods Away

By The Associated Press

Ku Klux Klansmen picketed the mansion of a wealthy Georgia real estate man who rented an apartment in a white Macon neighborhood to a Negro family.

The real estate man, Chester Burge, marched out of his home Wednesday night with a pistol, but police sent him back with a threat to arrest him for carrying a weapon.

Georgia KKK Grand Dragon Lee Davidson said the demonstration was aimed at persuading Burge to move the Negroes out of the two-unit apartment where they live alone in a poorer section of the city.

At Tuskegee, Ala., a Negro leader sought to allay fears of white politicians that they might lose control in Macon County, where Negroes outnumber white residents 6-1.

"The idea that our people want to take over the government is simply not true," said Charles G. Gommilion, president of the Tuskegee Civic Assn. and faculty member of Negro Tuskegee Institute.

At another Negro school, Southern University in Baton Rouge, La., 16 Negro students charged with disturbing the peace in recent sit-in demonstrations will seek to have the charges dismissed at a hearing Friday. They contend they were denied rights guaranteed by the 14th Amendment.

Attorneys for five Little Rock Negroes indicated they will appeal the maximum sentences they drew for participating in a sit-down demonstration. The five, all Philander Smith College students were fined $500 each and given 60-day sentences by Circuit Judge William J. Kirby.

Rocket, Shoe-Box Camera Take X-Ray Picture Of Sun

By FRANK CAREY
Associated Press Science Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Using schoolboy "shoebox camera" techniques in a space rocket, the Navy has obtained the first picture of the sun by its own invisible X-ray light.

Dr. Herbert Friedman of the Naval Research Laboratory reported the development today in a paper prepared for the annual meeting of the Academy of Sciences.

X-rays from the sun help at times to bedevil radio and other communications on the earth. And the new experiment conceivably will help in the effort to combat them, the report indicated.

Friedman said the unique photo of the sun was taken last week from a rocket soaring 130 miles above New Mexico. The experiment used a camera based on the pinhole method familiar to a lot of do-it-yourself amateur photographers.

This is a method in which a pinhole is poked into one end of a shoebox to admit light, while a tiny square patch is cut in the other end of the box and covered with tissue paper to serve as a viewing piece. The image on the tissue paper appears inverted and its size is proportional to the length of the box. The finer the pinhole, the sharper the image.

In the Navy's rocket camera, Friedman said, the pinhole was only five thousandths of an inch in diameter and the camera was only six inches long. Thus, visible light was blocked but X-rays from the sun got through.

These X-rays do not penetrate the earth's atmosphere below a height of 60 miles, but the high-flying rocket-borne camera — as evidenced by a photo Friedman displayed — caught the sun in sharp array.

The photo shows the sun circled by a bright X-ray "halo" — and several intense spots of bright X-ray emission are distributed over the sun's disk.

Actually, the X-rays come directly from the great crown-shaped corona which constitutes the thin atmosphere of the sun and extends millions of miles into space from the sun itself.

But the corona presents an outer reflection of the sun. The corona can be seen visually only during times of total eclipse of the sun, but Friedman's photo presents it — and therefore the sun's surface — in terms of its tell-tale X-ray component.

In another phase of his report, Friedman said the Navy is planning to attempt mapping of a hydrogen halo that surrounds the earth to a distance far greater than 1,000 miles.

A rocket shot to 1,600 miles altitude last January made a preliminary survey, Friedman said. The plan now, he explained, is to mount in an earth satellite a special telescope capable of surveying the halo by means of the ultra-violet light it emits.

Dick Clark In Payola Link

WASHINGTON (AP) — Three House members said today they have little or no doubt that Dick Clark is involved in payola.

Clark, a network TV disc jockey, says he has not taken undercover payments or favors for promoting records.

A witness testified Wednesday that Clark had received $31,575 for advising a record firm on what tunes would sell well. He also said Clark was allowed to buy a one-fourth interest in a Philadelphia record firm for $125—an interest he said Clark sold last year for about $15,000.

Rep. John E. Moss (D-Fla.), a member of the House subcommittee which is looking into broadcasting practices, said today "it appears Clark took a very profitable form of payola."

Methodist Panel To Build Hospital

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — The Southwest Texas Methodist Conference called for bids today on the first unit of a 20 million dollar hospital designed to withstand an atomic or hydrogen bomb blast.

Addison Placed Under Injunction

DALLAS (AP)— Federal bankruptcy referee Elmore Whitehurst Wednesday appointed a receiver for the assets of uranium promoter John Milton Addison and placed Addison under an injunction.

Whitehurst acted after Addison declined to give testimony about his assets.

Addison has borrowed more than a million dollars from persons in many states to promote his uranium upgrade, which he says can make profitable ore out of low grade ore. The bankruptcy proceedings were brought by several of his creditors.

Lester May, one of Addison's attorneys, said a petition for review will probably be filed.

The injunction prohibits Addison from disposing of any of his assets under penalty of a contempt of court citation if he does.

Addison also must post a $50,000 bond while a decision is being considered by Federal Judge T. Whitfield Davidson.

Housing Bill In Race Tangle

WASHINGTON (AP) — An amendment to bar racial discrimination threatened new trouble today for backers of a billion-dollar housing bill.

The measure, which may come to a vote in the House today, is opposed by most Republicans and many Southern Democrats.

One of the opposing Republicans, Rep. Clarence J. Brown of Ohio, served notice that the racial issue would be raised. He said the proposed amendment would deny use of the bill's billion-dollar mortgage buying fund for housing in which there is discrimination on account of race.

Such an amendment would put Northern Democratic backers of the bill on the spot. To vote against it might impair their civil rights records, but to vote for it would imperil the bill.

On the first test vote Wednesday, the question whether to consider the measure at all, enough Southern Democrats left the Republican-Southern coalition to give the bill a favorable preliminary vote of 214-158. But a provision against segregation in housing would probably solidify Southern opposition.

The main provision of the bill is the billion-dollar fund with which the Federal National Mortgage Assn. could purchase at face value government-backed mortgages on low and moderate priced homes.

That goes considerably beyond what President Eisenhower recommended.

Minister Moves Into Marshall

MARSHALL, Tex. (AP) — A white minister moved into Marshall Wednesday night in his avowed crusade against segregation.

The Rev. Ashton Jones, 63, from Los Angeles, went directly to the campus of Wiley College, one of two all-Negro schools here.

He spoke to an estimated 70 students, from which a number joined in demonstrations against segregated lunch counters here last month.

Newsman saw no sign of peace officers and there were no incidents.
