BULLETIN

DALLAS (AP) - A severe weather forecast, calling for the possibilities of tornadoes, has been issued for sections of West Texas.

The alerted area takes in part of the South Plains and the west part of North Central Texas. The alert is from 3 p.m. to 9 p.m.

The Weather Bureau says thunderstorms are expected to form in the east part of the South Plains and move slowly eastward.

The bureau said these thunderstorms are expected to become severe, producing tornadoes, large hail and damaging wind.

The alerted area is, specifically, along a 120-mile-wide band centered on the upper end at a point 30 miles north of Ft. Sill, Okla., and on the lower end at a point 50 miles northeast of Big Spring.

Included in the warned area were Wichita Falls, Lubbock, Big Spring, Snyder, Lamesa, Sweetwater, Vernon, Colorado City, Stamford, Seymour and Childress.

Storms Cause Damage

Wind tore the roof off a farm building and hail damaged crops southeast of Austin Tuesday night while hail "covered the streets like snow" on the South Plains.

The roof was blown off a building 7 miles south of LaGrange, southeast of Austin, and 110 inches of rain fell within an hour. Hail that fell during the storm caused heavy damage to young corn and cotton fields.

At Engle, about halfway between San Antonio and Houston, wind ripped two sheets of tin from a roof and toppled a phone pole. Some small hail fell but damage was thought to be light.

In the Texas Panhandle heavy rains fell near Borger, Pampa and Spearman. Borger and Spearman received light hail. Newman Douglas Meador said hail up to one inch in diameter "covered the streets like snow" around Matador, 65 miles northeast of Lubbock.

ROADS HAZARDOUS From 4 to 5 inches of hail fell about eight miles south of Matador, just below the Caprock. Heavy rain in the area was hazardous for a time.

The hail and rain fell during a time when the Weather Bureau had special alerts in force for severe thunderstorms which covered a 120-mile stretch of West Texas and a strip farther north in the Panhandle.

Hail as big as golf balls battered wheat crops east of Midland and south of Pecos around Guthrie, hail up to the size of tennis eggs also caused crop damage.

The Guthrie area received unofficial rainfall amounts totaling up to 2 inches while Matador got .31 inches of rain.

Official rainfall measurements during the 24 hours ending at 6 p.m. Tuesday included: Victoria 1.15 inches; Beeville .35; Corpus Christi .78; Palacios .36; Laredo .11; Galveston .10; San Antonio .09; Cotulla and Houston .05 and Amarillo .02.

High temperatures Tuesday varied from 70 at Beeville, and San Antonio to 94 at Presidio. Most other readings were in the 70s to middle 80s.

Early Wednesday there was considerable cloudiness over the state except in the Panhandle. Temperatures varied from 74 at Brownsville to 50 at Dalhart. Light rain fell at Galveston, Houston, Austin and San Antonio.

The five-day forecast issued Wednesday called for normal temperatures in eastern and central Texas with precipitation generally heavy in scattered mostly afternoon and evening thunderstorms.

Steinheimer Goes To New York For Bond Rating Talks

City Manager A. K. Steinheimer will leave for Dallas and New York City Thursday to negotiate for Big Spring's bond rating.

After conferences Thursday through Saturday with representatives of the First National Bank department in Dallas, Steinheimer and M. M. Hatcher, bank vice president, will go to New York to make arrangements for raising the rating.

Steinheimer and Hatcher will meet with representatives of Standard and Poor's, Moody's and Dun and Bradstreet, investment firms, to get the most favorable bond rating possible. Chase and Manhattan National banks will bid on the bonds.

While Steinheimer is away, Roy Anderson, assistant city manager, will be in charge. The city manager returns from New York May 10.

Miss Big Spring National Guard

Judy Foster has been named Miss National Guard of Big Spring, and members of a battery of the 3rd Rocket Howitzer Battalion, 132 Field Artillery, figure she'll be winning strong for the battalion title on June 1. If she wins there—and you've got a whole battery that says she will—Miss Foster then will be the area representative for queen of the 49th Armored Division, Judy, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Riley Foster, is a senior in Big Spring High School.

Pastors Appeal For Bible Fund Aid

An appeal to churches to meet pledges to Bible class funds was voiced at the meeting of the Big Spring Pastors Association at Webb AFB Wednesday morning.

The fund is in need of about $335 to meet its current year obligations, and outstanding pledges from the churches are sufficient to meet the need, it was reported.

Pastors met at the Webb AFB Officers Club and were welcomed by Col. Donald Eisenhart, commanding officer. Chaplain (1st Lt.) Lewis Dunlap of Webb AFB was introduced as a new member of the association.

Brotherhoods of the various churches will be asked to participate in the raising of a $133 deficit from the citywide laymen's meeting last month.

Dr. P. D. O'Brien, First Baptist minister, reported on the Holy Week noonday meditations and pastors voted to continue the effort in 1961. The Rev. Royce Wornack, Wesley Methodist pastor, reported on the Holy Week services held cooperatively by five participating churches.

Ted Phillips brought the devotions for the meeting and explained the objectives of the Christian Business men's organization. Those were voted to Mrs. C. H. Rainwater for furnishing an organ for the Easter services, to Moorehead Transfer for moving the organ, to Reeder-Huff-Estes agency for covering the instrument with insurance.

Bobo Hardy, YMCA general secretary, explained the problems involved scheduling the Citywide Summer Recreation program, and how the swimming had been put back one week to minimize conflicts with vacation Bible schools.

The association adopted a resolution of appreciation and commendation to the YMCA and the Citywide Recreation Committee.

President V. Ward Jackson of the First Church of God named the Rev. Royce Wornack, the Rev. John Black, the Rev. W. M. Dorrough as the nominating committee to report at the next meeting which will be held as an early morning swim and breakfast in the new YMCA building.

Clouds Threaten But No Moisture Yesterday's severe weather warning seems to have been invalid, in that no rain or extreme weather conditions have been reported around the country.

Although signs have been threatening since noon Tuesday, only a little windy weather was experienced late in the day.

Today's forecast calls for about the same temperatures and the possibility of scattered thunderstorms this afternoon and tonight.

County Jail Prisoner Found Dead In Cell

Fred (Alfredo) Lopez, 30, serving a 30-day county court sentence for shoplifting, was found dead on the floor of his cell in the Howard County jail at 7 a.m. Wednesday.

Walter Grice, justice of the peace acting as coroner, ruled that death was due to injuries to the head self-inflicted.

Dr. Roscoe Cowper was summoned to examine the victim after George Board, jailer, had found him. There were injuries about the head.

Sheriff Miller Harris said that Lopez was in a cell alone. There are four bunks in the cell and the mattresses on these bunks had been ripped and cotton scattered on the floor.

Harris said that Lopez was locked in the cell when the jailer "racked" up the prisoners last night. He said that Dr. Cowper estimated the man had been dead for three or four hours at the time his body was found. It was speculated that Lopez may have rolled off or fell off the top bunk and struck his head on the concrete floor.

Lopez, who has a long record with the city police, mostly for intoxication, was in the county jail when he pleaded guilty on Monday.

Preacher Fined For Vagrancy

MARSHALL (AP)—An itinerant white preacher from Los Angeles, who travels the country to fight against segregation, was fined $200 Tuesday on a conviction of vagrancy.

The Rev. Ashton Jones was arrested Thursday on the campus of Wiley College, a Negro institution, after Wiley officials asked that he be removed from the campus.

Tearful Lucille Ball Gets Divorce From Desi Arnaz

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—Lucille Ball, in tears, divorced Desi Arnaz today with testimony that he was a Jekyll and Hyde who had made her marriage "a nightmare for the last three years."

The orange-haired comedy star appeared in the Santa Monica Superior Court.

From the moment she took the stand her usual jaunty air vanished and she began trying to hold back the tears. The couple had been married 20 years.

"My husband would frequently have fits of temper in front of everyone including the children," Miss Ball testified.

"It got to be so bad that I thought it would be better for us not to be together. These tantrums would happen everywhere. They happened at home, they happened at work; it could be anything that set him off."

"It was a Jekyll and Hyde thing. . . . He would do it in front of friends and relatives. We could have no social life for the last three or four years."

Arnaz did not contest the divorce and was not present.

Miss Ball is 48, Arnaz 43. They have two children, Lucy Desiree, 9, and Desi IV, 7.

They met when Desi was a bongo-beating Latin singer and Lucille a starlet. Their marriage was marked by periodic tiffs.

But arguments resumed and in recent months they were estranged. She filed her suit last March.

A bulky property settlement was presented as evidence to Judge Orlando H. Rhodes. The only specifics mentioned in testimony were $450 monthly payments for support of their children.

Gil Jones, district attorney, said he saw no need for an autopsy in view of Dr. Cowper's report on the cause of death. The doctor said that death was definitely due to a blow on the head and internal hemorrhage.

Lopez was born in Big Spring but the exact date is not known. He is survived by his wife, Mary, and two daughters, Mary Helen and Nora, all of Big Spring; his mother, Mrs. Angelita N. Lopez, and one brother, Joe Lopez, both of Muleshoe.

Funeral arrangements are pending.

Texas Absentee Voting Down From Comparison With 1956

By ROBERT E. FORD Associated Press Staff Writer

Absentee voting for Saturday's first Democratic primary shows a sharp decline as compared with 1956, the last presidential election year.

But no one could say for sure whether the decline is caused by indifference to the statewide races or because of the early primary.

A spot check of many cities showed that absentee balloting totals are less than half this year compared with 1956 except for a few places where local races have spurred interest.

Absentee voting ended Tuesday night.

The fact that Midland County set a record for absentee ballots because of torrid local races, which clouds the theory of some observers that the early primary would reduce absentee voting, but does not discard it.

Those leaning to the early primary theory point out that fewer voters go on vacation in May than in mid-summer, when the first primary generally is held.

The primary was scheduled earlier than usual this year so Sen. Lyndon Johnson could get his renomination out of the way in time for a last-minute drive for the Democratic presidential nomination.

The act turned out to be pointless because no opponent appeared to contest Johnson.

Midland County reported 992 absences, a record and compares with the previous high of 874.

Jim Lindsey, managing editor of the Midland Reporter-Telegram, said the strong vote "principally is because of several county races."

Democratic Chairman Frank Beconi predicts a total vote of 12,000 or more Saturday, compared with the record of 7,931 in 1956.

Another county, Val Verde, reported an increase—185 this year and 82 in 1956. Ima Jo Fleetwood, editor of the Del Rio News Herald, pointed out that there were no local or district contests in 1956.

Here are some of the reports from other cities of their county absentee vote, this year's vote given first and the 1956 first primary record:

Corisiana 227, 525 Dallas 821, 2,494; Galveston 297, 615; Denton 97, 313; Houston 2,663, 4,094; Paris 222, 355; Bryan 202, more than 500;

Abilene 418, 598; Brownwood 403, 408; San Antonio 1,279, 2,740; Victoria 362, 314; Tyler 606, 1,013; Beaumont 926, 2,667; Austin 1,600, 3,105; and Waco 588, 654.

Also Lubbock 343, 825; Sherman 260, 495; Big Spring 300 (1956 not av.); Laredo 375, 1,400.

300 ABSENTEE BALLOTS CAST

Three hundred absentee ballots—33 less than for the first primary in 1956—had been voted in the office of the county clerk when the deadline for this type of balloting expired at 5 p.m. Tuesday.

Bulk of the votes were cast the last two days of the voting period, Tuesday, the deputies in the office of Mrs. Pauline Petty were kept busy serving applicants for absentee votes.

Absentee votes can be cast by electors who are to be out of the county on election day or who are physically incapacitated from going to the polls in person on election day.

In 1958, the last race for governor, the first primary was held on July 26 as compared with the May 7 date set for this year.

Absentee ballots polled in that election totalled 333.

Two Hurt In Wreck

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Worley, San Angelo, were injured early today when their car ran out of control and turned over one-half mile east of Garden City on the Sterling City - Midland road. They were taken to the Shannon Hospital in San Angelo by Nalley-Pickie ambulance.

Worley was reportedly the more seriously hurt. The Worleys, residents of San Angelo for 21 years, were en route to Midland where they had an appointment at 10 a.m. to sign papers.

The Glascock County sheriff's office investigated the accident.

The area concerned is land outside that already controlled by aviation restrictions which were obtained through easements at the time the airport was being built.

House Panel Hears Ike Plan Explained

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Eisenhower administration today proposed a $1,200,000,000 annual federal-state medical care program for the lower-income aged. Participants would pay $24 a year for coverage.

Married couples with an annual income above $3,900 would not be eligible for the program, or single persons with more than $2,500 income.

Secretary of Welfare Arthur S. Flemming outlined the administration plan to the House Ways and Means Committee which is considering a variety of proposals for health programs for the aged.

"We have developed a program that is designed to achieve just one objective—namely, to provide approximately 12 million persons 65 and over who have limited resources with the opportunity of taking steps which, if taken, will enable them to cope with the heavy economic burden of long-term or other expensive illnesses," he told the committee.

STATE PROGRAMS The plan contemplates that the states would work out detailed programs. A state could, for instance, provide for the health care through a private insurance company, or could run its own program.

The over-all costs would be split 50-50 between the federal government and the states.

Flemming expressed belief it would take perhaps two years to get the proposed program into full operation.

He said the cost during the fiscal year beginning July 1 to make ready for the program would be about five million dollars. That would include funds for grants to states to help them develop the plans they would administer.

The secretary estimated the 1961-62 cost would run in the neighborhood of 400 million dollars, half each federal and state, but said there are many factors which could influence the actual cost in that year.

The estimate of ultimate annual cost of $1,200,000,000 with the federal share being 600 million, is based on the assumption that all states participate and that 80 percent of those who are eligible enroll for the program.

TWO OPTIONS Two options would be open to the states:

1. They could set up programs under which they would either be self-insurers, or provide coverage through contracts with Blue Cross and Blue Shield or with private insurers.

The benefits would include 180 days of hospitalization, 365 days of nursing home service or nursing service elsewhere, certain surgical, dental and other services, and up to $350 worth of prescribed drugs.

Benefits would begin to accrue only after the insured had paid the first $250 of medical costs, in the fashion of deductible auto collision insurance.

The federal subsidy would help in payment of no more than 80 percent of the total benefits above the deductible figure.

2. Under the other option the states could set up plans by which individuals would buy private insurance policies of their own choice, with federal-state funds covering half of the cost. The top limit on federal-state payments would be $60 a year.

Each participant with ability to pay would have to put up an annual fee of about $24 a year. States would provide the funds for persons unable to pay.

An all-federal interim program would be provided in states which did not set up their own programs within a year after enactment of the broader plan.

In that interim system the federal government would contract for not more than two years with a state, or with a private carrier, to cover those desiring to participate. Benefits under that program would be about one-third of those under the federal-state program.

Road Brochure Is Ruled Legal

AUSTIN (AP)—The attorney general says State Comptroller Robert Calvert is wrong in questioning the legality of a proposed State Highway Department brochure advertising Texas.

The opinion noted that a Constitutional change adopted by popular vote in 1958 allows the Legislature to appropriate money for the dissemination of factual information about the advantages and economic resources offered in Texas.

Successful Treatment Is Possible For Mental Illness

(Fourth in a Mental Health series—Ed)

Only within the past few years have we begun to emerge from the dark ages in dealing with mental illness. For centuries upon centuries, "crazy" people were jailed or incarcerated. There was virtually no treatment; there was only custodial care. Our answer was to build more, and more hospitals to keep more and more people longer and longer.

Today there is good news for victims of mental illness. It can be treated, most of the time successfully. People can be restored to normalcy, or they at least can return to their homes and live out reasonably useful lives.

Another encouraging sign is that people in general are taking a more enlightened attitude toward mental illness. They recognize that it is exactly as the name implies—an illness, that it is just as possible to be ill in the brain as it is in the stomach; it is just as possible to break down mentally as it is to break a leg.

There are three directions in which we move to treat mental illness. One may be such a simple thing as changing environment so as to alter or remove certain elements which provoke and aggravate the illness. Another direction is to attempt to influence the illness by working with the patient's thoughts and emotions through spoken communication with him. This helps a patient see his problem and, with the supporting help of the therapist, to face up to it in a rational way. A third avenue is to influence the illness by working on the machinery of a patient's actions—his nervous system, glands, muscles—with the aim of altering or correcting the disturbed functioning of these organs.

Treatment methods include individual psychotherapy, psychoanalysis, group therapy, play therapy, sedation, chemotherapy, shock therapy and psychosurgery. Again, please don't let these names bewilder you. Therapy is a word that means treatment.

In psychotherapy, the doctor seeks to relieve the symptoms and help the patient achieve a more controlled, less fearful outlook on life, and to deal more effectively with life's problems. By discussing his experiences, thoughts and feelings with the therapist, the patient is helped to gain an understanding as to the reasons for his troubles. He is encouraged to express his feelings freely and to release "bottled up" emotions. As he analyzes his problems (with help of the therapist), he sees them in a clearer light and is helped to find less painful and more satisfactory ways of handling them. Usually an hour or two a week for several weeks or months will suffice.

Psychoanalysis goes much deeper in that it seeks to rebuild the crippled personality and to restore stunted emotional growth. This may involve going back to the emotional conflicts originating in childhood, or digging these out of the sub-conscious. Once the difficulty is pinpointed, the patient is helped to adopt new, healthy and correct patterns, less fearful and suspicious attitudes, and a greater confidence in himself. But this is usually a slow and tedious process and may require several hours a week over a period of even several years.

Group therapy employs elements of psychotherapy and psychoanalysis by bringing several patients together. They are encouraged to discuss their problems freely with each other, to give open expression to their fears, anxieties, hostilities. Each patient gains from the support and approval of others, and from the knowledge that others have the same difficulties that he does.

Play therapy is employed with children. Since children can't express themselves as well as adults, they are given toys, dolls, miniature houses in which they "act out" their feelings. The therapist becomes an observer and may note a repressed hatred of baby brother when the child takes a toy pistol and shoots the baby doll. Or he may discover the child's innermost feeling when he or she locks the doll up in the house and says "nobody loves this little girl because she is bad and has to be locked away."

Sedation is usually a temporary device to quiet the patient's anxiety, restlessness or agitation. It can be mild or it can be heavy enough to put the patient to sleep. They dull a patient's symptoms temporarily but do not give composure and peace of mind.

Chemotherapy or drug therapy is finding a pronounced place, particularly in use of the "tranquillizers." Instead of merely sedating a patient, they actually make the symptoms like anxiety, agitation and delusion, disappear, leaving the patient in a generally relaxed, clear-headed and peaceful frame of mind. Some patients show marked improvement after treatment with them, others require continued treatment. Perhaps one of the greatest blessings that they offer is in bringing the patient to a frame of state of mind where the therapists can deal with them and effect permanent results.

Sometimes shock will bring a patient out of depression, excitement or withdrawal. Doctors don't know, so much why, as they know that it frequently works. One method of shock is by insulin, which puts the patient into a temporary coma. The most common is electric shock in which a light electric current is passed through the brain for a split second. After shocks, the patient is unconscious for an interval, emerges in a confused state and then likely into a normal or near normal state.

Psychosurgery is the last resort and is used only where the suffering is extreme or where it is the only means of controlling a violently disposed patient. It involves an operation in which a part of the brain is severed.

We are learning more and more about mental illness and how to treat it. The possibilities are exciting, but none is more exciting than the part that people in general can play by understanding that there is no stigma to being sick mentally and that love, care and association with these sick people is one of the most wonderful ways to pull them back into reality.

DEAR ABBY

MIXED EMOTIONS

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: In a fit of depression I told my sister-in-law a lot of personal things that were troubling me. Now I wish I had kept my mouth shut. There were other people involved (men); some are in the family and some are not.

My sister-in-law is not exactly a gossip but occasionally she lets things "slip out." I have been worried sick over it. When I see some of my relatives or any of the people with whom she is friendly, I have the feeling that they know all about me.

My husband travels and he could just as easily work out of another city. Should I ask him to put in for a transfer?

DEAR BLABBERMOUTH: Don't ask your husband to put in for a transfer unless you are prepared to give him a good reason. You would probably be wise to try to put the whole unfortunate incident out of your mind and stay where you are.

DEAR ABBY: Our 12-year-old son has taken accordion lessons for four years and is quite a good little musician. The problem is that when he plays for his father, he insists that he play for them. The boy does it willingly but if he should make a mistake, his father shouts and humiliates him until the tears fall. The guests are ill at ease and I get sick inside. My husband says if the boy practiced more he would make fewer mistakes. But I know he makes mistakes because he is frightened to death of his father. The child is ready to give up the accordion and I don't blame him. Can you offer some helpful advice?

DEAR MOTHER: There is more involved here than according to lessons. Your husband's lack of patience and understanding is tragic. Have the accordion teacher tell Father that public criticism does more harm than good. If he can't keep quiet while the boy plays, he should either leave the room or quit asking the boy to entertain the guests.

DEAR ABBY: A person who is very close to me is now 55 years old. He was recently sent to prison for 15 years. Can he draw his Social Security while he is in prison or not?

DEAR MUST: Social Security benefits to an otherwise qualified person ARE paid while the person is a prison inmate. The checks are mailed in care of the prison. (Of course there may be prison rules with respect to disposition of checks received by inmates.)

Rehearsal For Royal Wedding

The coach in which Princess Margaret will ride to her wedding stands in front of London's Westminster Abbey during rehearsal for the big event May 6.

Honeymoon Yacht Steams Up Thames To Await Royal Tie

LONDON (AP)—Princess Margaret's honeymoon yacht steamed majestically up the River Thames early today and anchored in a city bright with flowers and bustling with preparations for the royal wedding Friday.

The royal yacht Britannia, gleaming after a refurbishing, waited in the shadow of the grim old Tower of London to take Margaret and Antony Armstrong-Jones aboard for a Caribbean cruise after their wedding.

Into the royal suitcases went three new swimsuits for the princess, all one-piece creations, one of them royal blue with detachable straps.

Some of the honeymoon luggage already is aboard the Britannia. British society and visitors here for the wedding ready magnificent gowns for the glittering ball Queen Elizabeth II will give tonight at Buckingham Palace for her younger sister and the ex-photographer she will marry in Westminster Abbey.

The ball will launch a three-day whirl of parties and official functions marking the royal wedding of the decade.

London was in a fever of excitement. Newspapers gave over pages to reports of the wedding preparations.

Thousands of troops got ready to move into the city to line the two-mile route from the palace to Westminster Abbey. Great banks of red and yellow tulips blazed in front of the palace and in Parliament Square.

Final daubs of paint were splashed on a towering, 60-foot arch in the Mall, the stately thoroughfare down which the wedding procession will pass to and from the Abbey.

Thursday night the arch will be covered with 60,000 roses, half of them fresh from the English countryside, the rest artificial. They complement the second name of Princess Margaret Rose.

At the Royal Mews grooms were readying 16 of the Queen's horses that will draw the bridal coach and other carriages in the wedding procession.

Two elegant grays—19-year-old Tedder and 11-year-old Frazer—will take the bride and Prince Philip to the Abbey and bring the newlyweds back to the palace after the ceremony.

Tedder, one of six horses given the late King George VI by Queen Juliana of the Netherlands in 1946, is a veteran of royal ceremonies.

Suburb Point System Told

DETROIT (AP)—"If a Jew belongs to gentle clubs, it's a sign he has been accepted" and he might be able to buy a home in the suburban Grosse Pointes, says Paul Maxon, secretary of the Grosse Pointe Brokers Assn.

Maxon testified Tuesday at a Michigan State Corporations and Securities Commission hearing on a point-system used in rating prospective home buyers in the explosive Pointes.

The hearing was ordered by State Atty. Gen. Paul L. Adams who said the point system was "morally corrupt." Maxon testified in his defense. A score of 50 is accepted as a standard passing grade. A Jew would require 85 points. Negroes and Orientals are not rated at all.

Maxon said a perfect score for both Jews and gentiles is 100 points, but added that the points are spread differently for Jews in order to give more emphasis on churches, clubs and business associations. He said the scoring system was designed for Jews because "they represent a special problem."

Maxon said a Jew who Americanized his name would get a better score than one who hadn't. Eminent figures, regardless of nationality or race, might be allowed to move into the Pointes, Maxon said.

He cited the late Albert Einstein, a Jew, and Dr. Ralph Bunche, a Negro, as eminent persons whose accomplishments outweigh any report on their nationalities or backgrounds.

Splendor Awaits Princess, But She's Accustomed To It

By COLIN FROST
LONDON (AP)—Princess Margaret will take her wedding vows Friday amid a scene of incomparable splendor, a scene familiar and dear to her heart since childhood.

She marries Antony Armstrong-Jones before the high altar of Westminster Abbey, for more than seven centuries the mother church of British royalty. Margaret has known and loved it all her life.

As a wide-eyed child of 6 she saw her father crowned there. At 17 she was bridesmaid at her elder sister's Abbey wedding.

Six years later, perhaps a trifle enviously, she looked on again as her sister was crowned Queen Elizabeth II.

Through the years she has gone to the Abbey for the great services of state, sometimes thanksgiving, sometimes of sorrow.

It was to the Abbey she turned in her own darkest days after the broken romance with Peter Townsend in 1955.

The limousine would draw up discreetly by an entrance hidden in the Abbey cloister. Sometimes alone, sometimes with a trusted lady in waiting, Margaret would slip in by a side door and kneel in prayer amid the carved oak stalls of the Abbey's Henry VII chapel.

Now she goes to the Abbey once more, this time in a glass coach and cheered by crowds along a route thick with history. Strictly speaking, Westminster Abbey is not an abbey any more. The Collegiate Church of St. Peter at Westminster is the correct name.

It is a "royal and exempt peculiar" which means only that it is not subject to a bishop's authority. Its dean is responsible directly to the monarch.

Henry III built it as a burial place for English kings. He built well—yet only a few years ago there were fears that it might fall down.

But the British raised a "Save the Abbey" fund. Complete restoration will take until 1975—and then it may be time to start again.

For the wedding day, the gray stone walls will blaze with color, the setting for a display of magnificence as only the British can stage it.

On the arm of Prince Philip, her face veiled, Margaret will march nearly 500 feet from the immense west door to the altar and her waiting bridegroom.

The procession will pass through a nave lined with gleaming pillars of sandstone and marble climbing to the awesome roof.

The Abbey, packed with 2,068 guests, will be a cavern of sound. Cathedral music is the glory of England and the Abbey's all-male choir is more than ordinarily gifted.

Trumpeters in golden tunics will greet the bride with blazing fanfare. Soldiers in crimson and gold uniforms, unchanged from the days of the first Elizabeth, will stand along the aisle.

Only the nose of an occasional television camera will show that this is the year 1960.

The tiny bride, a shimmering vision in white, will kneel with her bridegroom before the archbishop of Canterbury in his robes of richest red and gold. They will pray together on the spot where through the centuries kings and queens have knelt to make their coronation vows.

As their prayers end, the choir will sing in unison the 121st Psalm: "I will lift up mine eyes to the hills." Henry Purcell's "Trumpet Tune and Airs" will pour forth from the great organ as Margaret leaves on the arm of her new husband.

All the choir and canons of Westminster will escort the bridal couple from the Abbey to the glass coach and the cheering crowds.

He drew the Queen—then Princess Elizabeth—and Philip to their wedding in 1947, and later he took part in Elizabeth's coronation.

The last of the princess' eight young bridesmaids went Tuesday to the salon of couturier Norman Hartnell for her final fitting. She was Catherine de Vesci, Armstrong-Jones' niece. She had been ill and looked pale and shy, but her mother, Viscountess de Vesci, said she would be well enough for the wedding.

Although the marriage was only three days away, there still was no announcement whether the Queen would give Margaret's husband a title. Tony's close friends were betting he would get it.

Court circles point out that unless he is made an earl, marquess or the like, any child of the marriage would be a commoner—plain Mister or Miss Armstrong-Jones.

An alternative would be to make Margaret a duchess in her own right and by royal decree allow the title to pass on to her children. The idea of a commoner husband for the princess appeals to many Britons.

The astrologer for the Daily Express consulted the stars and reported that Margaret will make an excellent mother, and that Tony has a natural gift for handling children.

Henry III built it as a burial place for English kings. He built well—yet only a few years ago there were fears that it might fall down.

Coahoma Practice Called Success

COAHOMA — Evacuation of school students in Coahoma was smooth and complete, according to Roy Black, Civil Defense coordinator in charge of the operation. Students were loaded into buses and moved out of the school area during the nationwide air raid alert practice Tuesday.

Black said the students were clear of the building in 40 seconds after the alert was announced. The practice began about 11:15 a.m. and ended at 11:45 p.m. Previous plans to evacuate the youngsters to Moss Creek Lake were abandoned, Black said.

The coordinator praised law enforcement officers, school officials and city officials on the successful completion of the program.

School Bus-Truck Crash Injures 8

GEORGETOWN (AP) — Eight persons were injured, two seriously near here Tuesday in the collision of a school bus and a pickup truck.

The accident occurred as the bus returned grade school pupils to their homes.

Most seriously injured were Theodore Schaare, 61, of Georgetown, and Bonnie Jo Ischy, 6.

Highway Patrolman Talmor Jackson said the pickup skidded 156 feet before colliding head-on with the school bus. He said the two vehicles smashed together with the pickup more than five feet past the center stripe on the wrong side of the road.

S. Koreans Repel Red Naval Attack Aimed At Spy Landing

SEOUL, South Korea (AP)—A South Korean navy frigate today repelled a North Korean torpedo boat attack which the navy claimed was designed to cover an attempt to land Red agents.

The navy said the encounter was over in less than five minutes and the three attack craft fled into dense fog when the 1,200-ton frigate returned fire. The frigate suffered no crew casualties or material damage, a spokesman said. It was not known whether the attackers were hit.

The Reds attacked 15 miles off the east coast, about two miles south of the truce demarcation line separating North and South Korea, the navy said.

The navy communicate expressed belief the Communists were trying to land spies or saboteurs in South Korea to "take advantage of the April 26 political upheaval."

Such naval clashes have taken place in the past, but it was the first Red attack since the uprising following the March 15 presidential elections forced the resignation of President Syngman Rhee.

The navy gave this account: "Taking advantage of dense fog, three Communist North Korean torpedo boats surrounded and closed in on our PT66 (frigate) and fired five torpedoes and a round of 40 millimeter machine-gun bullets in two attacks.

"Our vessel immediately countered with fierce shelling while zigzagging to dodge the torpedoes and repulsed the three Communist boats."

The navy said it had increased its patrols off both the east and west coasts to block Red attempts to land agents behind the land frontier patrolled by South Korean and U.N. forces.

The navy also moved the northern boundary for east coast fishing three miles to the south to keep South Korean fishermen away from Communist attacks.

The North Koreans again demanded formally that United Nations forces get out of South Korea. The demand was made at a meeting of the military armistice commission called by the Reds at Panmunjom. The U.N. Command as usual rejected the demand.

South Korean students paraded for the fourth straight day through the port city of Pusan demanding election of a new National Assembly. Two thousand high school pupils marched three miles, chanting slogans, until they were dispersed by troops at the City Hall Plaza. Tanks and armored cars were called up, but no violence was reported.

Agitation for demonstrations against the Assembly appeared subsiding in Seoul, and the caretaker government shoved the curfew in the capital back to midnight.

Leaders of the students' revolt in a vote agreed by a slim margin that the present Assembly dominated by Rhee's Liberal party should complete the work of cutting down the presidential powers held by Rhee and giving the Cabinet more power.

Foreign office sources in Tokyo welcomed the South Korean government's announcement Tuesday that it would admit Japanese newsmen to the country and would send home 30 of 47 Japanese fishermen held for violation of fishing waters claimed by Korea.

The Japanese sources noted however, that the caretaker regime has issued no statement on the basic problems blocking normal relations: South Korea's "Rhee line" fishing boundary which Japan does not recognize, Korean property claims against Japan, the status of Korean residents in Japan and ownership of the disputed little island of Takeshima.

Congressmen Like Lyndon

WASHINGTON (AP)—A private newspaper published on Capitol Hill said today a poll it conducted indicates members of Congress and their staffs consider Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon Johnson of Texas the best qualified candidate for president.

The weekly newspaper, Roll Call, said Johnson received 339 votes, or 44 per cent, of 770 ballots cast.

Vice President Richard Nixon ran second with 150 votes, or 20 per cent of the total.

Roll Call said the poll was conducted on a nonpolitical basis, but it noted the over-all vote for Democratic candidates reflected the makeup of Congress, currently 65 per cent Democratic and 35 per cent Republican.

GOP Amazed As Ike Takes Action On Own

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican leaders said today President Eisenhower is showing an increasing tendency to take action on his own as his term nears its end.

They said they were amazed at the extent to which he is personally taking charge of political matters. In the past, some Republicans have felt that Eisenhower too often took a nonpartisan position avoiding political battles.

The latest example they cite involves his surprising appointments of Thomas J. Donegan, a member of the Subversive Activities Control Board, and Paul A. Sweeney, a Justice Department attorney, to the Federal Power Commission.

Republican congressional leaders had been asked to check on the names of four other men they were told were being considered as possible nominees. They said these four were dumped overboard and Donegan and Sweeney named without their even having been notified of the shift.

Because Eisenhower didn't reappoint William R. Connole to the FPC, Democrats who describe Connole as the champion of gas consumers may give Donegan, particularly, a rough going over in hearings.

Beyond his new independence in the matter of appointments, Eisenhower was described as having adopted a no-compromise attitude toward the Democratic Congress.

USE VETO

Eisenhower was quoted as having told the GOP chieftains at a recent White House conference he is going to use the veto to stop what he regards as excessive Democratic spending programs. If this means that no legislation results, the President was reported to have said the people can decide in November who is right.

House Speaker Sam Rayburn (D-Tex.) already has predicted Congress will pass school aid, housing, federal employe pay raise, minimum wage and distressed area bills. Some of these may invite presidential vetoes.

Rayburn accused Eisenhower of trying to write the Republican platform in a special message Tuesday calling for action on various proposals the President has made.

The Eisenhower batting average on these seems likely to slump to a low level.

Democrats have little interest, for instance, in creating additional federal judgeships which Eisenhower could fill with life-time appointees.

His request for removal of the 4½ interest ceiling on long-term government bonds seems likely to be ignored.

There is no current disposition in Congress to increase the federal gasoline tax from 4 to 4½ cents a gallon to raise new money for the interstate highway trust fund.

Beyond possible action to let in additional refugees, there seems little likelihood Congress will liberalize the immigration laws.

Kitchen Worker Commits Hara-Kiri
MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Alex Wojda, 72, a retired kitchen worker, afraid his leg would be amputated because of an illness, committed hara-kiri Tuesday.

Police said Wojda had been dead only an hour when his landlord found him behind his rooming house. He had disemboweled himself with about 20 slashes of a short-bladed boning knife.

Wojda recently willed all his possessions and money—about $8,000—to his best friend, Edward Kochanowski of Miami.

"About two weeks ago he came to my house crying. He said he was afraid he had diabetes and would have to have his leg amputated," Kochanowski said.

Candidates' Fund Sources Become Issue For State

By IRWIN FRANK
Associated Press Writer

Where candidates are getting money to finance their campaigns became an issue Tuesday as politicians worked to line up votes in Saturday's Democratic Primary.

Bob Looney of Austin, one of three men running for the attorney general's office, sought a court order in Houston to enjoin his opponents from "using money obtained from corporations, through corporations, or by corporations" in their campaigns.

Looney said his expenses so far have been $1,705 while incumbent Will Wilson's expenses have been $143,267 and House Speaker Wagner Carr's $51,668.

In a television speech Carr said Wilson "has spent far more than any other candidate for state office."

Wilson spent the day in Houston and the Lower Rio Grande Valley and renewed his charge that Carr has the support of loan sharks.

Gov. Price Daniel, campaigning for re-election against Jack Cox, said this week that backers of Cox are spending a half million dollars against him.

Cox said Daniel bought a $45,000 television hookup Monday when he spoke over a 21-station network.

Jerry Sadler, candidate for land commissioner against incumbent Bill Alcorn, asked Alcorn to explain $15,000 in gifts and loans he said Alcorn got from a Dallas oil man.

Sadler showed newsmen a certified photo copy of Alcorn's campaign expense record from the secretary of state's office which showed a $2,000 contribution from L. O. McMillan of Dallas and a $12,000 loan from L. O. McMillan.

A spokesman for Alcorn said he had no immediate comment on Sadler's statement.

Cox took off a pair of white work gloves before a television camera at San Antonio Tuesday night said that after Daniel's TV talk this week "we still do not know what Price Daniel's five secret tax programs are."

He called the state's fiscal problems "the most serious financial situation since the Civil War." Cox said school teachers should have a pay raise to end what he called a "deplorable situation" in Texas' education situation.

In Dallas, Lt. Gov. Ben Ramsey pledged support for the development of a one million acre controlled public hunting area in four national forests and adjoining private lands in East Texas.

He said he telegraphed Texas members of Congress urging them to back the project.

Some owners of neighboring private lands already have indicated interest in making their holdings available for controlled hunting along with the 658,000 acres of national forest which would be included, Ramsey said.

Wilson told Houston Jaycees that the key issue in the campaign was the fight against loan sharks.

"The elimination of organized racketeers is a necessity," Wilson said.

"We have got to have about 60,000 new jobs a year in Texas so we need a climate of law enforcement to help the business climate."

Don Yarborough, Ramsey's opponent, campaigned Tuesday in Longview.

According to campaign plans filed earlier this week here's where the candidates will campaign Wednesday:

Daniel will be in Tyler, Longview and Kilgore; Cox will visit the Victoria area and then go to Corpus Christi; Wilson will be in Dallas in the morning then go to Midland and Odessa and then to El Paso; Carr will spend the day in San Antonio; Alcorn will be in Austin; and Sadler will be in Dallas and Fort Worth, Houston and the Beaumont-Port Arthur area.

Chessman's Ashes An Issue

SAN RAFAEL, Calif. (AP)—Caryl Chessman's ashes remained at a mortuary here today, the object of a controversy over their disposition.

The convict-author who was executed Monday had directed that his ashes be buried at Glendale's Forest Lawn Memorial Park in Southern California. His mother is buried there.

But a Forest Lawn spokesman, noting that Chessman was "unrepentant and an avowed agnostic," said Tuesday night the ashes would be refused. He said they would "detract from the spiritual values of Forest Lawn."

One of Chessman's attorneys, L. A. Wirin, said in Los Angeles he would recommend to Rosalie Ashler, executrix of the convict's estate and also his lawyer, that a court order be requested requiring Forest Lawn to accept the remains.

Miss Ashler went into seclusion after failure of her last frantic efforts to obtain a stay of execution. She was not present at the cremation at Tamalpais Cemetery. There was no religious service.

A San Rafael newswoman, Bernice Freeman, placed two rosebuds from her garden on the otherwise unadorned coffin.

Mrs. Freeman, who knew Chessman well, said he offered one of his eyes when one of her daughters, Pat Aldridge, was going blind. When another daughter, Bettie Johnson, also began losing her eyesight Chessman made a like offer, Mrs. Freeman said.

Mortician Harry Williams said disposition of the ashes would await instructions from Miss Ashler.

George T. Davis, another of the convict's attorneys, said the execution of the death row author, who was convicted as the Los Angeles red light bandit 12 years ago, was "a regrettable mistake."

Hearing Due For Cheryl

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Juvenile court decides today what to do with Lana Turner's troubled 16-year-old daughter.

Cheryl Crane, who two years ago fatally stabbed her actress mother's hoodlum lover, ran away from a county home for girls last Friday. She and two others surrendered Monday to Cheryl's father, Steven Crane. They said they had stayed at the home of a friend.

ODESSA (SC) — The DKT softball team of Odessa defeated Nabors Paint Store in both ends of a double header here Tuesday evening, 6-4 and 5-4.

Spec Franklin hurried the opening for Big Spring, yielding four hits to the Odestans. He fanned seven and walked only two. His mates got six blows off Bob (Lefty) Schoates. One of those was a home run in the fifth with no one on by Billy Blum.

John White clubbed a two-run triple for Odessa in the third inning.

Cotton Mize hurled the afterpiece for Big Spring. N. E. Stephens was the winning pitcher. Nabors Paint Store now has a 1-3 won-lost record. The Painters meet Webb AFB at Webb in a twin bill on Friday.

Braves Edge Past Cards

Two singles and a double was all the Braves could muster, but it was enough to ease into a 6-5 win over the Cardinals Tuesday night in the National Little League.

The Cards jumped to a 5-3 lead after three innings but being shut out the rest of the way, were overtaken by the Braves.

Leslie Hooper and Kirby Hinton hit doubles in the first inning to get the Cardinal lead. Charles Burdette homered for the losers.

Charles Douglas doubled for the winners. Paul Saldon was credited with the victory and Charles Burdette took the loss.

In a minor league game, the Hawks blasted past the Aces, 18-4. Carter was the winning pitcher, and Glen Cartwright was the loser.

HCJG Wins First Place In State Cinder Show

By TOMMY HART

SAN ANTONIO (SC) — Howard County Junior College of Big Spring bade farewell to the Texas Junior College Conference by winning the track and field championship at the Harlandale High School racing oval here Tuesday morning.

Nine running events climaxed the program started Monday and Coach Red Lewis' Hawks won only two first places Tuesday and just five, all told, but scored in every event but one in running up 69 points.

Blinn College of Brenham was a distant second, with 54 points. Lubbock Christian College wound up third, with 37; while Schreiner Institute of Kerrville was fourth, with 20.

San Antonio placed fifth, with 17; Lee of Baytown sixth, with 11; Amarillo seventh, with seven; Concordia eighth, with six; Concordia of Austin and Navarro of Corsicana in a tie for ninth, with four each; Odessa and South Plains of Levelland in a tie for 11th, with three each; and Temple 13th, with two. Decatur competed but did not score.

Only two records were shattered Tuesday. One occurred in the mile event, final event of the day, at which time Lubbock Christian College's team of Rusty Childs, Ray Hinckle, Jimmy Robbins and Gary Don Rowe was clocked in 3:22.0. The old mark of 3:24.6 was established by Cisco two years ago.

Bowe set the other when he covered the 800 in 1:57.2, beating the old mark by nearly three seconds.

HCJG's Tiffin Stone had broken the discus mark easily on Monday.

The Hawks, no doubt, would have piled up still more points had not their Maurice Burnett run out of his lane in the 220 and been disqualified. He finished second to Bl

Republican Ex-Leader Hit Negro At Joske's Eatery

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—All food service to customers at Joske's of Texas department store ended Tuesday when a white man slapped a Negro man taking part in sit-ins at the huge store.

Both men were booked on charges of disturbing the peace and released on $25 bond.

The vice president of the store, James Shand, said the store would explain its position in advertisements in today's San Antonio newspapers.

The action closes two segregated restaurants and the integrated cafeteria in the basement of the four-story store.

The slapping incident was the first case of violence since Negroes started demonstrating for integration of the two restaurants

April 23.

Authorities identified the white man as Eugene (Mike) Nolte Jr., 47, owner of a private supper club and former Republican county chairman and state committee man. The Negro was The Rev. Earl Graham Jr., 29.

The Rev. Graham was struck seconds after the Negro and six Negro college students blocked the entrance to one of the upstairs restaurants. He did not hit back.

Nolte told police later that "When I went to go through, no-body stops me—I don't care if he's white or black or anything."

Nolte ate lunch at the restaurant and as he was leaving police stopped him. He told officers "There wasn't any disturbance. When I went to go through he (nodding at Graham) stops me. That's all."

The restaurant was closed immediately after the incident. Shand said the basement cafeteria will be kept open for store employees.

Nixon Winner In Indiana Vote

By The Associated Press

After a day crammed with primaries, Vice President Richard M. Nixon sported the most decisive triumph today—victory over Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.) in Indiana.

But, as votes seeped in from Tuesday's balloting, other presidential candidates counted victories, too.

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota won his first Democratic primary in the light-voting District of Columbia. As expected, Kennedy won all Ohio's delegates to the Democratic National Convention, Nixon apparently took all the Republican delegates in that state.

In two nonpresidential primaries, the results focused on issues as well as personalities.

States Rights candidates led Loyalist candidates in Alabama's primary for Democratic presidential electors. In Florida, a moderate won the right to enter the Democratic runoff for governor.

In Indiana, Nixon piled up a huge Republican popular vote, outpolling Kennedy's Democratic vote by a good margin.

HEAVY CHUNKS

The state is traditionally Republican, but Kennedy had campaigned hard and had predicted he would outpoll Nixon.

The two candidates were on separate ballots. Each had what political observers earlier described as minor opposition. But that opposition took heavy chunks from Kennedy's vote.

With returns from 3,665 of the state's 4,261 precincts, Nixon had 359,503 votes and Kennedy had 286,988 votes.

This gave Nixon Indiana's 32 votes on the first ballot at the Republican National Convention and Kennedy's 24 votes on the first ballot at the Democratic convention.

Kennedy's opponents, Lar Daly of Chicago and John H. Latham of Rockville, Ind., polled almost one quarter as many votes as the senator. Daly campaigned in an Uncle Sam suit on an "America First" platform and Latham called for the end of political conventions.

Republican National Chairman Thruston B. Morton called Nixon's vote a "tremendous upset victory." Kennedy supporters, however, said their man had shown he could win the state in the November election.

DECISIVE EDGE

In the District of Columbia, Humphrey had a decisive edge over Sen. Wayne Morse of Oregon in the Democratic presidential preference vote.

With 100 of 142 Democratic ballots recorded, Humphrey had 4,065 votes and Morse had 2,328 votes.

But a Democrat unlisted on the ballot, Adlai E. Stevenson, also showed he had support in the nation's capital.

A slate of convention delegates pledged to him held second place behind the Humphrey slate. There even was a possibility one Stevenson candidate might capture a delegate spot.

But, since the District of Columbia's Democrats vote under the unit rule, Humphrey was certain to have the city's nine votes at the Democratic National Convention in July.

The Republicans had no presidential preference ballot. All their delegate candidates were pledged to Nixon. The District of Columbia will have eight votes at the Republican convention.

LITTLE INTEREST

It appeared that only 35,000 persons voted. Washington, which cannot vote in general elections, has a population of 850,000.

In Ohio, the results of an internal Democratic party battle still were in doubt. But, whatever the outcome, Ohio's 64 votes at the Democratic National Convention will go to Kennedy.

The Republicans also had an internal battle. Former Sen. George H. Bender was running for a delegate spot, pledged to himself. All other candidates were pledged to Nixon.

But Bender appeared to be soundly beaten and dethroned as a power in state politics. Nixon apparently will have the state's 36 votes at the Republican convention.

On the Democratic side, Gov. Michael V. DiSalle's slate of convention delegates was challenged at several points by some dissident Democrats.

With half the returns in, DiSalle's group was running well. But few reports had come from populous CLEVELAND, where the dissidents may have their strength.

In Florida, Farris Bryant and Doyle E. Carlton Jr. won the right to meet in the May 24 Democratic runoff. The victor in that primary will face a Republican candidate in the November election.

Bryant is considered a States Rights advocate and Carlton is known as a moderate on the racial question. They had eight other rivals in Tuesday's primary.

In Alabama, the early returns had States Rights candidates ahead of Loyalist candidates in the Democratic selection of presidential electors.

At stake were the 11 electors who will cast Alabama's votes for president in the Electoral College if the Democratic party, as expected, wins in that state this November.

The States Righters said they would not vote for the Democratic candidate if his policies were hostile to the South's traditions. The Loyalists pledged to support the party and its nominee. Independent candidates also were in the primary.

Early returns had all States Rights candidates running ahead of the Loyalists.

U. S. Sailors Shanghaied In Olympics Prank

SYDNEY, Australia (AP)—University students bombarded the U.S. atomic submarine Halibut with firecrackers Tuesday night and held two American sailors in a dog-house for ransom.

The Halibut is here with the U.S. cruiser Canberra for the annual anniversary observance of the Battle of the Coral Sea. Two years ago students boarded the U.S. carrier Bennington, here on the same mission, and brought the crew to action stations by setting off the general alarm.

Tuesday night the youths rigged a catapult of bicycle tubes overlooking the Halibut's berth and started to bombard at long range with five-cent firecrackers.

All the shots fell short, nobody was hurt, and the students fled with local police in pursuit.

Then a telegram arrived at the Canberra demanding one shilling (11 cents) from each of the 85 officers and 1,350 enlisted men aboard to ransom two kidnaped American sailors, Dick Jamieson of Michigan and Rex Leard from Texas.

University students are collecting money today to help finance the Australian Olympic team's trip to Rome.

Two good-looking girls had "accidentally" met Jamieson and Leard in the city and invited them to look over the university. On the campus male students pounced on the sailors, locked them in an outside dog kennel in the veterinary school and called in newspaper photographers.

After sending the telegram to the cruiser, the kidnapers took their captives off to a party.

Leard and Jamieson were back on the Canberra before their leave passes expired at 11 p.m. The cruiser's duty officer refused to say if the ransom had been paid. He would not give the home towns of the two sailors.

Oklahoma Shoves Oil Average Up

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—A sharp increase in Oklahoma was the main cause of a 44,360-barrel boost to 7,045,155 barrels in national daily average production of oil for the week ended April 30, the Oil and Gas Journal said today.

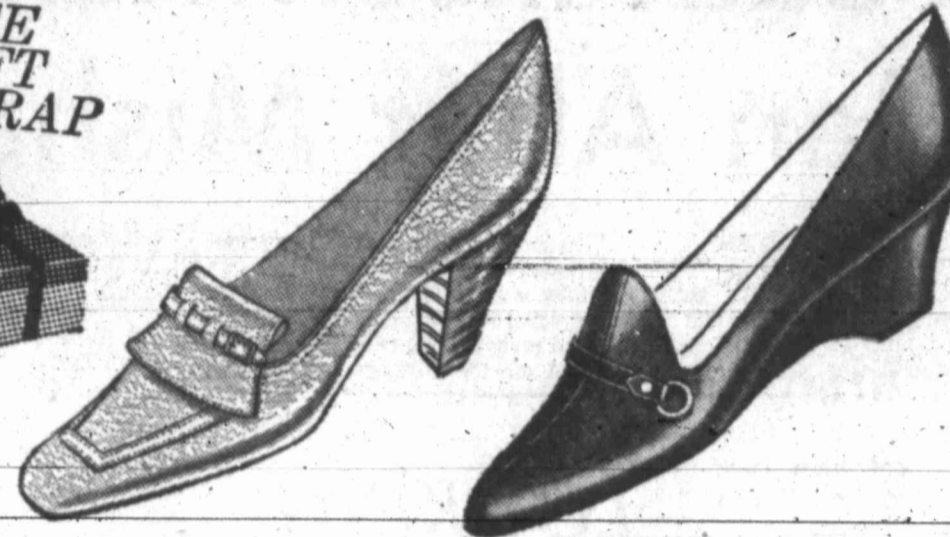

Oklahoma production increased 29,500 barrels per day to 544,400. The increase is about equal to decreases in two previous weeks.

The Journal estimated 1960 production at 866,948,600 compared with 865,885,000 in the same period a year ago.

Production was unchanged in Texas, 2,551,175 and in New Mexico, 312,000.

The "Spectacles", barbershop quartet from Amarillo, will be one of the featured groups on the program of the Lamesa Harmony and Quartet show Saturday. Left to right, they are Dwight Elliot, bass, Wendal Hetny, tenor; Dr. Jess Ghormley, lead, and Wess Graham, baritone. Also slated to appear on the program are the "Hearsemen", Amarillo quartet, and 1955 International barbershop champions. The show will be held at 8 p.m. in the Lamesa High School auditorium.

Capitalist Is Pleased Over Soviet Award

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—Cleveland industrialist Cyrus Eaton says the award to him of a Lenin Peace Prize is new evidence of the Soviet government's interest in "peace for all mankind." Reached for comment at Atikokan, Ont., Eaton, a leading advocate of Soviet-American friendship said he was "deeply appreciative of this high honor."

"Such recognition of a capitalist," he said in a statement, "provides strong new evidence of what I am sure is the sincere interest of the Soviet people and their government in peace for all mankind."

The prizes, officially valued at $35,000 each, were formerly called Stalin prizes. Previous American winners have included Negro singer Paul Robeson, author Howard Fast, Negro editor W. E. B. DuBois, and the Rt. Rev. Arthur W. Moulton, retired Protestant Episcopal bishop of Utah.

In announcing the award to Eaton, the award committee said the Canadian-born magnate has never "lost the ability of taking a realistic view of the prospects for the course of international developments in the atmosphere poisoned by the cold war."

Eaton, 76, has hobnobbed with top Soviet leaders over the years. He met Premier Nikita Khrushchev in Moscow in 1958 and played host to First Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan when he visited Cleveland last year.

Chamber Group Would Outlaw Cans In Front

The civic development committee of the Chamber of Commerce will ask the city commission to prohibit trash cans on city streets. The decision to make this petition came during a regular meeting of the committee Tuesday.

The committee pointed to areas in the city that do not have alleys. Trash cans sitting in front of houses make an undesirable appearance, it was said. The committee suggests that property owners use sunken containers for garbage cans.

Arnold Marshall, chairman, proposed a plan of organization for the forthcoming cleanup campaign. Cleanup Week will be May 28-30, which includes Memorial Day. Members agreed this would give some residents an extra day off to clean up, fix up, and paint up. Cleanup Week will continue through June 4.

The committee selected various subcommittee chairmen who will be asked to serve during the campaign. Complete arrangements for the program will be announced later.

Found Dead

HERMLEIGH, Tex. (AP)—Jack Adams, 38, was found dead Tuesday in his car with a hose attached to the exhaust pipe and running into a window of the car, Justice of Peace W. C. Davidson ruled suicide.

Boy Scout Circus Plans Completed

Plans for the "Golden Jubilee" Boy Scout Circus to be presented here Friday and Saturday were completed at a meeting of directors, planners and committeemen Tuesday.

Some 500 boy scouts, cubs and explorers will gather at the old school stadium to put on the extravaganza as a 50th anniversary celebration of the Scouting movement.

Starting time for the circus is 7 p.m., according to Carl Campbell, chairman of the camp and activity committee in charge for the Lone Star district event.

Acts include stunts by the cubs, with their clowns, dragons and various games, and demonstrations of Scout skills by the older boys.

On tap for excitement is a disaster scene when a "tornado" will sweep through a camp site, Campbell said. About 15 Scout troops will go into action following the big blow, rendering first aid, and demonstrating preparedness.

The Indians will enter the scene to re-live the Battle of the Little Big Horn. After the scalping of General Guster, 10 members of the Order of the Arrow, honorary camping group, will present an Indian victory dance.

Campbell is assisted on the circus committee by Capt. Earl Lohringer Jr., George Foster and Garrett Patton, directors, and Fred Beckham and Dalton Johnston, ringmasters.

Here's Your Biggest Problem With Tomatoes

Several people have asked me what to plant now. This is the usual spring garden planting time and since the recent hail most everyone is planning his or her garden all over again.

There are the usual garden vegetables, but mainly people are interested in tomato and pepper plants. There is usually a confusion about what sort of tomatoes do the best out here in our dry climate, and there are always new varieties on the market. Over the years the best producer, is the Porter. It is the little cherry type tomato, but it seems to thrive in our dry winds and hot summers. Bell peppers and hot peppers should be planted now — and if you like them, eggplants.

There are a lot of other things to plant, but questions come up on tomatoes more than most any other vegetable. Perhaps it is because they are one of our most popular year round vegetables in the stores.

One of our worst problems is blossom wilt. This causes the tomatoes to bloom, but fail to set fruit. The cause is hot dry winds killing the blooms before they can set fruit. As you know the flower becomes the fruit, and when a strong searing breeze hits the delicate flower, it blooms, and withers and falls off the plant, leaving no fruit.

The Porter is resistant to this problem, but even it is not immune under the hottest weather conditions. We have tried surrounding the plants with windbreaks of feed sacks and wetting them with a hose several times a day during the heat of summer. This is more trouble than it is worth, but it sometimes works. Our best crops come from large plants set out early and maturing before the heat sets in and by fall maturing plants. We usually get caught with green tomatoes the night before the killing frost and that always means picking them, and making tomato relish, but after all what is wrong with that?

Write your garden questions to Bruce Frazier in care of the Big Spring Herald.

Trials Of New Yards Pointed Out At Meet

Patience, time and calloused hands are three important things in making a beautiful yard according to Mrs. Jimmie Dee Jones, home demonstration agent, who brought the program for members of the Fairview HD Club Tuesday in the home of Mrs. W. A. Langley.

Principles of Landscaping was the theme of the talk by Mrs. Jones who pointed out three general reasons for putting in a yard. These are to provide a beautiful setting for the home, to enhance the family way of life, and to increase the value of the property.

The speaker said patience and much time would be needed and calloused hands expected during the setting in of the yard beautification. She told the group that trees and shrubs should be selected with care, with long lasting ones taking precedence over others. Lawn planning should be along simple lines with a minimum of flower beds set into it.

The club will join other clubs Friday at 9 a.m. at the Forgan intersection east of Coahoma for the tour of homes.

The Fairview Club has accepted an invitation to attend a book review sponsored by the Forgan Club, May 10 at the Community Club House.

Six Steps

Mary Costa's most repeated compliment is on her beautiful skin. She tells of the six steps in her complexion routine. She is appearing tonight (May 1) on the "Frances Langford Show" for NBC-TV.

HOLLYWOOD BEAUTY Complexion Care Pays Off In Charm

By LYDIA LANE
HOLLYWOOD — The vivacious blonde with the beautiful voice who will guest on NBC-TV's "Frances Langford Show" tonight (May 1) is Mary Costa.

She is wearing a blouse and matching skirt as we chatted in her attractive home in Beverly Hills. I remarked, "You look more like a coed than an opera singer."

"I believe in taking care of myself before I need it," Mary confided. "Lots of girls my age (she is in her twenties) wait until they have wrinkles before thinking about using creams. I started sleeping in a night cream when I was eleven."

"I had a terrible complexion problem when I was in school. I had pimples on and off for a year. This made me realize how important good skin is to your whole life."

"Unlike most adolescents, my skin was unusually dry, but the doctor prescribed pure castile soap three times a day for the eruptions. You have to keep your face clean. But this was so drying he allowed me to use a night cream. Ever since then I have never missed a night using a cream before I go to bed."

"You get more benefit from creams if you rotate them, because you build up a tolerance for the same formula," she pointed out.

"I have three favorites, but I must have tried at least 20 to find them."

"One has been jelly in it, the other hormones, and the third is rich in oils and makes my skin feel wonderful. But the secret of a good skin," Mary continued, "is clean pores."

"I always take my make-up off with an oil that cuts the grease and rinses off with warm water. I found a wonderful soap in Europe, but you can buy it here now. When I am traveling I use it for everything—I wash my hair and even my teeth with it and use it in the shower."

"How unusual! Does that wrap up your cosmetic routine?" I asked.

"No," Mary laughed. "I have a mildstringent that I use every day. It helps to balance the acidity of my skin and keep it from being too dry or too oily, and I like the way it makes my skin feel before applying make-up."

"I have one more favorite," Mary revealed. "That is a grainy meal that rubs off the dead skin cells and helps to keep blackheads away. But I always treat my face gently, for you can make muscles sag by treating them too roughly. That's why I don't believe in facials—I've never had one."

"I am grateful to my mother for showing me a medical chart with the muscle structure of the face, 'always wipe up and out,' she pointed out. 'Pat dry, don't rub.'"

"Another thing that is helpful for the skin," Mary declared, "is breathing correctly. It brings color into your face by stimulating the circulation and even does away with shadows under the eyes. Inhale to a slow count of 10, hold your breath for a count of 10, and then exhale in the same rhythm."

"At first I wasn't able to take deep breaths, but I practiced to learn how to do it. If you are not used to breathing deeply, you may feel light-headed at first. But as your system gets used to a good supply of oxygen, this feeling will go away. I feel," Mary concluded, "that correct, deep breathing should be a part of every beauty routine."

COMPLEXION PROBLEMS
Complexion problems can be solved with time and care and the right treatments. Two simple home remedies are available to Hollywood Beauty readers in Leaflet M-15, "Exercising to Keep a Youthful Face"; Leaflet M-35, "Complexion Magic." For EACH of these helpful leaflets, send ten cents and a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Lydia Lane, Hollywood Beauty, Big Spring Herald.

Field Trip For Junior Gardeners

A field trip to the City Park Rose Garden, sponsored by the Council of Garden Clubs in Big Spring, was the program for the Big Spring Junior Garden Club Tuesday afternoon.

The junior club has donated the Florabunda roses; the pink roses at the entrance and the valentines around the sun dial.

Blake Tollett was received as a new member at the meeting for which Martha Stark was hostess.

The May 17 meeting will be a swimming party, and picnic at 5 p.m. at the Bristow home when installation of officers will be held.

Mrs. Beckham To Present Students

The name of Mrs. Fred Beckham was unintentionally dropped from a list of teachers whose students will play in the National Piano Auditions here beginning Friday. The Herald is glad to make this correction.

Initial organizational meeting of the Howard County Committee of the White House Conference on Aging, will be at the Howard County Commissioners Court room at 10 a.m. Thursday it was announced by Ed Carpenter, county chairman.

He said that the county organization would be perfected at that time. Assignments to committees will be made. The meeting will take the nature of a forum. Judge Carpenter welcomed all persons interested directly or professionally in the health, welfare, housing or other problems of the aged, to attend the meeting.

"We particularly want to interest our senior citizens themselves in taking a part in this study, because they know from personal experience many of the problems of aging," Carpenter said.

He announced the selection of chairmen of the several subdivisions of the conference. They will attend the Thursday morning meeting: Leon Kinney, with the Texas Employment Commission, who will head up the study on employment; Mrs. Hazel Ogg, secretary to the county commissioners, will direct research and training; Miss Mary Cantrell, county welfare officer, will deal with welfare problems; Dr. Marvin Ba-

Probers Finish Hearings In Payola Investigations

WASHINGTON (AP) - House investigators have closed the books on their marathon payola inquiry with a new blast at broadcasting standards and a promise to do something about them.

The parting shot was a congressional report that payola has been a lavish practice affecting the TV-radio industry in all parts of the nation.

The report was coupled with a new barrage at Dick Clark, the disc jockey king, and complaints that television is riddled with trash, inept programming and too much commercialism.

President Leonard H. Goldenson of the American Broadcasting Co. conceded the industry has its problems. But he said things are improving and that next fall will bring more quality programs than ever before.

Goldenson was one of the final witnesses as the House Legislative Oversight subcommittee concluded hearings late Tuesday on the payola inquiry that began last November.

Chairman Oren Harris (D Ark.) predicted action within the next few days on remedial legislation. The subcommittee's parent House Commerce Committee, of which Harris also is chairman, has before it bills to outlaw deception in broadcasting, impose stringent curbs on payola and license TV-radio stations. Only individual stations now are licensed.

Before adjourning the hearings, Harris introduced a report that 130 record distributors across the nation doled out $264,244 in payola in 1958-59.

This information was compiled by subcommittee investigators from questionnaires sent to 230 distributors in 23 cities.

The subcommittee also put in its record an analytical study of the records played on Clark's matinee TV show, "American Bandstand."

The study said Clark "pushed" songs in which he had an interest. Clark had testified he selected records for his show strictly on merit.

Survivors include one son, Mack Phillips, Italy; three brothers, Ross Hightower, Patricia; Ray and Carl Hightower, Garden City; two sisters, Mrs. Rose Calverly, Garden City; Mrs. Loyd Flannery, Waco.

Pallbearers include Jack Cook, Alton Cook, John Lee Parker, Clyde Berry, V. L. McWhirter and J. C. Cox. All are from Garden City.

Thigpen graduates. Thomas Alvin Thigpen, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Thigpen Sr., is among the 266 University of Texas candidates for June baccalaureate engineering degrees. Commencement exercises will be held June 4. Tommy is a candidate for a degree in chemical engineering.

Service Clubs Meet Several Mental Patients

Members of Big Spring service clubs got a close-up of some mental problems Tuesday. Meeting at the Big Spring State Hospital, they were addressed by Dr. Preston Harrison, superintendent, who introduced several patients, mostly in milder categories of mental illness. They freely discussed their backgrounds, treatment and reactions. One patient was of the catatonic schizophrenia type, utterly immobile and totally withdrawn as an escape, Dr. Harrison said, from some great hurt that likely occurred during childhood.

Today one out of every 10 people may be in need of some psychiatric help to solve mental problems, he told the group of more than 100 men, and actually the number who have some mild mental upset may be as great as one in six.

"We've come a long way, in attitudes toward mental illness," said Dr. Harrison. "People don't refer to us anymore as 'that place on the hill.' It's largely because of the support of volunteers and people like you that has given us the status of a real institution such as the college, the schools, the Webb and VA hospitals."

He classed mental health along with spiritual and educational advance as among the most urgent needs of the country today. There are 600,000 patients in mental hospitals, and some 17 million people who need some help with mental upsets.

Members of the Rotary, Evening and Downtown Lions Clubs, Kiwanis, American Business and Optimist Clubs attended the meeting.

YMCA Still Seeks Dance Teacher. Officials at the YMCA still are in need of applicants for the tap-dance instructor this summer. Applications for other instructors' jobs have been made, but no one definitely been named for a post.

Bill McIlvain is Honor Student. Big Spring Bill McIlvain is among 31 Texas Tech students who have been designated as campus honorees and outstanding Tech citizens.

The list, announced Monday, was selected by a special committee on basis of leadership, scholarship and service.

McIlvain graduated from Big Spring High School and is currently president of the Tech Ag Club.

Enrollment Open For Adult Course. Only two persons have signed up for the Around the World course at the YMCA.

This course is designed to present a panel of persons from various countries around the world, giving information on their particular homeland.

The course will be held each Thursday evening at 7:30 p.m. beginning Thursday and lasting six weeks. Members of the YMCA are entitled to free participation and $5 is the fee for non-members.

Huge Balloon Satellite May Fly Thursday

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) - Silent, but shining bright as a star, a huge balloon communications satellite may wheel across the skys Thursday.

The hollow, 100-foot sphere, called Echo, could pave the way for satellite system to provide faster, more reliable and cheaper communications around the world.

A three-stage Thor-Delta rocket is scheduled to blast off at an undisclosed time with the space ball folded in its nose.

If all goes right, the ball will be ejected about 1,000 miles up and automatically inflated.

The balloon will spin about the earth for a month or so as a target for radio signals and voice messages from widely scattered ground stations.

The main experiment will be an effort to exchange signals and messages between Bell Telephone's Holmdel, N.J., laboratories and NASA's jet propulsion tracking station at Goldstone, Calif.

The fully inflated balloon will weigh about 150 pounds. It contains no instruments. But the three-stage rocket casing, which is expected to follow the ball closely in orbit for several days, carries a transmitter to help locate it.

Nixon Drops Hint Rocky Might Be Vice President

NEW YORK (AP)—Vice President Richard M. Nixon said today that New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller has "tremendous support throughout the country for national office among the Republicans." But Nixon declined to give a flat answer whether the governor should be the GOP vice presidential nominee this year.

Asked if Rockefeller should be the Republican candidate for vice president, Nixon said: "That question should be put to Gov. Rockefeller."

Nixon came here to open the annual U.S. World Trade Fair at the Coliseum.

The vice president said he was "rather pleasantly surprised" at his vote in the Indiana primary Tuesday. Nixon had about a 3-2 margin over Democratic presidential candidate John F. Kennedy's vote in the Democratic primary.

Nixon said that he thought it was premature to lay stress on the vice presidential nominee of either ticket until the presidential candidates are selected.

Pressed for a flat answer on the vice presidential question, and Gov. Rockefeller, Nixon said: "I must decline to answer."

He said results of the Indiana primary election, in which he ran ahead of Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.), "raises the question of the reliability of polls."

Turning to New York Mayor Robert F. Wagner, who was standing next to him, in the glare of spotlights, Nixon said: "I agree with that distinguished member of your party, Mr. Mayor, when he says the only poll that counts is the poll that takes place on election day."

Nixon said that all the polls indicated Mr. Kennedy would be a winner.

Thoreau Wins Group's Sympathy

The Great Books group had to make out on one copy of Thoreau's last night, and it showed, but didn't dampen, discussion.

Only one copy of the work, in the H.C.J.G. library, appeared to be available. Anyhow, excerpts from his "Civil Disobedience" and "Walden" were read and discussed.

Members of the group agreed with his thesis that it would be wonderful to get along without governments, but contemporary society lacks a lot of being civilized enough for that.

The next meeting will be May 17 when Tolstoy's "Ivan Ilych" will be discussed. The session will be at the Music Building of Howard County Junior College and anyone interested in free discussion is invited.

Four Crashes Checked By Police

Police had four accidents to investigate Tuesday and Wednesday morning.

Otto Ernest Wolfe, 1410 Rannels, and Robert Lee Curles, 1500 Kentucky, were in collision at West Fourth and Brown streets.

William Cowley Edwards, 1104 Rannels, and Fredrick L. Coleman, Jr., collided at Alabama and Birdwell Lane.

Patricia Ann Wensinger, 205 1/2 E. Sixth St., was in a hit-and-run collision with an unidentified motorist in the 1000 block of Johnson.

Maureen M. Massengill, 3204 Drexell, and Leora Moseley Nixon, 3303 11th Pl., collided at Toby's Drive-In on East Highway 80.

Police Receive 3 Theft Reports

Two bicycles and one auto were reported stolen during the past 24 hours, according to police reports.

THE FRONT ROW

By Bob Smith

The high school band keeps bringing laurels home to Big Spring, if anybody's noticed.

They won sweepstakes awards in last weekend's contest in Odessa, and the judges, who have heard and judged some 250 bands this season, were highly impressed. They called the local group the best band they've heard during the entire school year, and they've been busy judging over a four state area.

All this augurs well for the Enid trip. Under the baton of Doug Wiebe, the high school band has come out of the cellar, just as we are hopeful our football team will begin to do.

Wiebe has instituted a farm system, beginning band training in junior high. He is helped immeasurably by Jimmy Yancy at Runnels and Tommy Frye at Goliad. It's the same system used by ball clubs to train rookies for the major leagues, if you didn't know.

The system hasn't been in effect very long, and our three directors haven't been here long, either. With a few more years, the time it takes beginning students of Frye and Yancey to advance to senior status under Wiebe, the senior band will reach the apex of its present potential. After that, there is no limit.

You'll have a chance to judge for yourselves just how high the school bands have progressed, come May 20. All three bands will present a concert that evening, and the senior band will use many of the pieces it plans to use in Enid.

The band's rapid advance into the higher ranks brings to mind this thought—that someday the school system will foster and subsidize student participation in the arts and sciences as it now treats its athletic program.

It will be a long time before this happens, however. The school board isn't likely to increase expenditures for student trips and other activities (thus raising taxes) until the public is ready to pay for what it wants.

Until that happens, band students, among others, will have to pay their own expenses.

And since we're on the subject of music: Fred Short wishes to add a couple of names to his list of honor students in speech and drama at HCJC—Marie Nichols and Virginia Lile. They are among his most co-operative students.

U. S., Russian Artists Stage Mutual Party

MOSCOW (AP) — Soviet and American entertainers wowed each other today at a post-midnight party given by Soviet artists for the cast of the musical "My Fair Lady."

Lola Fisher, who plays Eliza Doolittle, sang "I Could Have Danced All Night" in Russian she learned in two weeks. Edward Mulhare, who plays Professor Higgins, recited a romantic soliloquy from Shakespeare's "Othello" and Klara and Klauia Kobletz did acrobatic dances that had the Soviets gasping.

The entire American cast brought cheers with a choral number from the musical "Oklahoma."

U. S. Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson drew laughs with the remark that he had been studying Russian for years and never had come close to achieving Miss Fisher's accent.

Red army dancers, a 15-member violin ensemble, a Balalaika virtuoso and singer and a puppet show were offered by the Soviets at the party in Moscow's Artistic Workers' Club. It followed the regular performance of the American musical.

M. N. Danilov, assistant Soviet minister for culture, toasted the Americans. He expressed hope more American theatrical groups would visit Moscow.

Then the Soviets and Americans jiggerbugged under a bust of Lenin to music of a hotel orchestra whose wildest piece was a number called "Optimistic Boogie."
