CLEANEST CAT IN ALL WEST TEXAS
... Anthony Wayne Brown and His Durable Feline Friend

Troy Is Probably Cleanest, Most Durable Cat In Town

By SAM BLACKBURN

Troy (or perhaps it's Becky) has two distinctions.

He is: (1) the cleanest cat in all West Texas; (2) he is probably the most durable feline in the entire Southwest.

Troy, who is about three months old, was dunked into the automatic washing machine along with the family wash last Saturday. He rode out the full 25 minute cycle—nine minutes of being sloshed about in the hot suds, the proper intervals for being rinsed and re-rinsed, and the dizzying spin which closed the operation.

CAME THROUGH OK

And Troy came through it all with flying colors, fluffy fur and the cleanest catskin to be found anywhere.

It all happened when young Anthony Wayne Brown, 3, son of Mrs. Loretta Brown, 603 Bell, decided that Troy (or Becky) needed a bath. (Anthony Wayne calls his kitten "Troy" part of the time and "Becky" on other occasions.)

Mrs. Brown was doing the family wash. The washer was loaded with clothes and Mrs. Brown had just lowered the lid. Anthony Wayne, a young man of sudden impulses, no doubt, picked up the kitten, opened the washer and dropped him in.

The washer proceeded through its full cycle.

MACHINE MEWED

When it cut off, Mrs. Brown heard plaintive mews emerging from the cat. She couldn't believe that the cat was in the machine but she lifted the lid.

And there sat Troy, stop the now almost dry washing. His hair was fluffed out and he was completely dry except for one little wet place on the back of his neck. He was a bit wobbly on the legs when she lifted him out and placed him on the porch floor.

"He just sat there for a few minutes borching deeply," Mrs. Brown said. "Then he wobbled off."

No bad results followed. Monday afternoon, when a photographer wanted to take his picture, Troy was sound asleep under a bench on the porch floor. When Anthony Wayne picked him up and held him over the washer for the picture, he didn't like it. How-

Seven Officers Apply For Chief's Position

Seven applications have been received to date for the position of police chief in Big Spring, City Manager A. K. Steinhilber reported today.

Applicants are Capt. Thomas W. Jones, Webb AFB; Ona James, San Angelo; Howard M. Hazelwood, San Antonio; Jay Banks, Dallas; S. E. Thompson, Lubbock; Everett Scott, Grapevine, and J. E. Bennett, San Antonio.

Capt. Jones, the only local applicant so far, has had 12 years law enforcement experience in the Armed Forces.

Experience of the other applicants range from three years up to 30 years. Banks has served in the Department of Public Safety for 22 years, Scott served in the DPS 12 years and has been police chief at Grapevine since April.

Hazelwood served with the military police three years and was with the San Antonio Police Department seven months. James listed eight years experience in law enforcement.

Thompson served five years with the Abilene Police Department and two years as policeman at Lubbock. Bennett is a retired safety engineer with the Metropolitan Police Department at Washington, D. C.

ever, he was persuaded to pose. ORDEAL OVER

Once the ordeal was over, he placidly crawled back under the bench and resumed his interrupted nap.

Mrs. Brown said that it was the second narrow escape from death for Troy in the last few days.

IN CRITICAL PERIOD

Johnson Calls For Calm Inquiry To Preserve Unity

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas called today for a calm inquiry into the summit collapse to preserve national unity in a critical period.

Johnson told the Senate that such unity "does not require sweeping facts under the rug—no matter how unpleasant those facts may be."

"But it does require treatment of the facts coolly, calmly and in an objective vein and I think that the nation will be served if we proceed in that spirit," he said.

SENATE EXPLOSION

Johnson's statement obviously was aimed at reducing the heat generated by a Senate explosion Monday in which Sen. Hugh Scott (R-Pa.) called on Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass) and Adlai E. Stevenson to clear themselves of suspicion of being appeasers.

Kennedy replied that he is no appeaser. He said he was quoted out of context on a statement he made in Portland, Ore., that a way might have been found for President Eisenhower to apologize to Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev for the spy plane incident. What he said, Kennedy added, was that the President might have expressed regret in an effort to keep the summit meeting going.

Johnson gently took Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois to task for assailing Stevenson on the basis of a Paris newspaper interview Stevenson has disclaimed.

OBJECTIVITY

The Democratic leader said he thinks the Senate Foreign Relations Committee and a government operations subcommittee will maintain objectivity in probing into the administration's summit actions and policies.

"I do not think this is the time to anticipate the work of these committees by coming to conclusions on the basis of alleged newspaper interviews which may well have been garbled in translation or which through improper emphasis, may have changed a thought," Johnson said.

Both sides in the row disclaimed any political motives but the blowup still promised a foreign policy battle lasting through the presidential campaign.

SURPRISED

Sen. J. William Fulbright (D-Ark) expressed surprise at what he called a "violent partisan attack" in the Senate on Sen. John F. Kennedy.

Chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, Fulbright said he thought the hearings would last "only a matter of days."

He said they would be patterned along the lines of the Senate inquiry in 1951 into President Truman's dismissal of Gen. Douglas MacArthur from his Far Eastern command.

In the MacArthur hearings, security experts screened the testimony and censored transcripts were made available to newsmen.

Midland Gets Census Recount

MIDLAND (AP)—A census recount will give Midland a population count of 82,279 instead of the 59,552 announced earlier, a Census Bureau official said Monday.

William Moore was quoted by the Midland Reporter-Telegram as saying he was inclined to agree with Midland officials that a mistake had been made in the figures.

Midland was said to have 59,222 persons and Midland County 67,322 in a preliminary report.

A dog got hold of him and was within seconds of snuffing out all his allotted lives when he was rescued.

"He's used up at least two of his nine lives," Mrs. Brown said. "I don't think he has more than seven left."

INQUIRY SET ON U2 INCIDENT

F. Kennedy (D-Mass) and Adlai E. Stevenson.

The Senate Foreign Relations Committee headed by Fulbright decides today whether to conduct closed-door hearings on the events leading up to collapse of the scheduled Big Four summit meeting in Paris last week.

Subject to expected committee approval, Fulbright invited Secretary of State Christian A. Herter and Allen W. Dulles, head of the Central Intelligence Agency to appear later in the week. He wants them to explain, among other matters, why an American spy plane was sent over the Soviet Union shortly before the scheduled opening of the Paris meeting.

Inquiry Set On U2 Incident

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Foreign Relations Committee voted unanimously today to conduct a "full and bipartisan inquiry" into the spy plane incident and events leading up to the collapse of the summit conference.

The inquiry will get underway Friday at 9:30 a.m. (EST) with testimony from Secretary of State Christian A. Herter.

It will be conducted at closed sessions, but edited transcripts of testimony will be made public after being censored for security reasons.

Chairman J. William Fulbright (D-Ark) told reporters he thought the hearings would last "only a matter of days."

He said they would be patterned along the lines of the Senate inquiry in 1951 into President Truman's dismissal of Gen. Douglas MacArthur from his Far Eastern command.

In the MacArthur hearings, security experts screened the testimony and censored transcripts were made available to newsmen.

U. S. Fires Spy Satellite On Orbit Around Earth

Will Provide Instant Warnings

CAPE CANAVERAL (AP)—The United States hurled an experimental Midas "spy in the sky" satellite into orbit about the earth today.

The 2½-ton satellite—called Midas—is designed to test the feasibility of establishing a network of satellites to provide almost instant warning in event of a ballistic missile attack.

Two hours after the launching the Air Force announced the satellite, 22-foot long and five feet in diameter was in orbit.

The launching, coinciding with the United Nations spy plane debate, underscored a United States desire to develop measures to protect the free world from surprise aggression.

A powerful Atlas-Agena rocket boosted the 5,000-pound satellite aloft at 12:37 p.m. EST. The entire Agena second stage, 22 feet long and 5 feet in diameter, was intended to go into orbit in a nose-down position. The instruments are located in the nose.

The 85-foot rocket climbed smoothly into a clear sky on the 360,000 pounds of thrust generated by the Atlas booster.

Because of a low orbit of 150-200 miles was sought the vehicle arched quickly toward the southeast. The bright flame of its first stage engine was visible for more than three minutes before vanishing high in the sky.

Word on whether the satellite achieved orbit was expected in about two hours.

Test officials announced 12 minutes after launch that the huge second stage separated and ignited successfully.

The Air Force, which conducted the launching, emphasized that this is only a test vehicle—a forerunner of a series of satellites planned to spin about the earth on constant patrol for enemy missile activity. They will carry infra red sensing devices to spot the heat trail of a hostile rocket as it is fired.

The alarm would be flashed immediately to the United States, which then would have about 30 minutes to brace for nuclear bombardment, to send retaliatory planes and rockets on the way, and get as many people as possible into shelters.

The launching is almost certain to have repercussions in the U.N. debate. The Soviet Union demanded Monday that the U.N. condemn the United States as an aggressor for spying on Russian territory with the U2 plane down on May Day.

Midas and a sister satellite system, Samos, will extend high altitude spying deeper into space.

Samos is a reconnaissance satellite designed to photograph troop installations and movements, airfields, war plants and missile bases. Once Samos detects enemy missile sites, Midas will keep an eye on them for signs of a firing. Both are expected to be whirling over the Soviet Union by the end of the year, with a fully system in operation by 1962.

The Midas launched today was not aimed at a course which would take it over Russia. Its practice assignment was to test its detection equipment on a giant flare to be set off at Edwards Air Force Base, Calif., and on missiles fired at Cape Canaveral and Vandenberg Air Force Base, Calif.

The plan was to ignite the flare on the ground at Edwards in a few days. Brighter than any missile exhaust, the flare will be visible at a distance of 50 miles from the base, the Air Force said.

Midas will be able to differentiate between missile and other heat-producing sources.

TOLL MOUNTS

Tidal Waves Slam Japan

By The Associated Press

Japan today bore the brunt of quake-born tidal waves that raced across the Pacific from Chile. Hundreds of miles of Japan's east coast were battered.

The international tidal wave toll of dead and missing reached 354. Combined casualties of the Chilean quakes and the tidal waves were 526 dead and 898 missing.

The Japanese counted 90 dead and 75 missing from the tidal waves.

Thirty-three persons were killed and 23 missing in Hawaii. The waves claimed the lives of three Okinawans.

TOLL MOUNTS

Of Chile's quake-tidal wave toll of 400 dead and 800 missing, 130 were reported lost in the high seas that broke on coastal communities late Sunday. The rest of Chile toll was presumed due directly to the quakes that started last weekend.

French possessions in the South Pacific were hit, but reports reaching Paris said there were no deaths and little damage. Coastal roads of Tahiti were temporarily submerged.

Pacific coasts of the United States, the Philippines, Australia, New Zealand and Formosa were hit in varying degrees.

The tide hit as high as 30 feet at some points in Japan. The average was six or seven feet. Warnings were not broadcast until after the waves began pounding the coast. Weather Bureau officials said there had been a slipup in the warning system.

Tokyo and Yokohama, sheltered by Tokyo Bay, were spared direct blows. The greatest damage was along the northern 200 miles of Honshu's coast. Villages there became a tangled mass of shattered buildings debris and ships washed ashore.

Disaster crews moved into Hilo, Hawaii's second city, where 33 persons were known dead, 23 missing and 53 injured in the wake of the Hawaiian island's worst disaster since 1946. Damage was estimated unofficially at up to 56 million dollars.

Four massive waves pounded a mile-long area in Hilo, a city of about 26,000 population on the Island of Hawaii. The waves—12 feet—struck the other Hawaiian islands as well, but damage was small compared to the chaos in Hilo.

THOUSANDS FLEE

Thousands of panic-stricken villagers on the Philippine east coast fled to higher ground, and at least three provinces reported towns under water. But there were no immediate reports of casualties.

A wave peak of 15 feet was recorded at one point on the east coast of New Zealand. Dozens of small boats were swept away. Harbor storage sheds were lifted from their foundations. Seaside roads and gardens were flooded.

A running four-foot tide hit eastern Australia, ripping dozens of small craft and barges from their moorings in Sydney Harbor and washing away maritime beacons.

High tides also battered the north Formosa port of Keelung and broke up a timber raft which collapsed a 75-foot bridge spanning a canal.

CALIFORNIA

The California coast was hit from Los Angeles to Oregon. Three persons were reported injured at Crescent City, in Northern California, where a wave pushed water three blocks into the town.

A wave 12½ feet high rolled in at Crescent City at 12:07 a. m. (PDT) today, smashing two fishing boats against the dock and flooding the dockside area with debris. Two other fishing boats were capsized.

Collins Named Chairman Of Demo Confab

NEW YORK (AP)—Gov. Leroy Collins of Florida was selected permanent chairman of the forthcoming Democratic National Convention and Sen. Frank Church, of Idaho, was chosen keynoteer at a meeting of the convention arrangements committee today.

The selections were made within 1½ hours after the 14-member committee opened its meeting. Committee members disclosed the selections.

Formal announcement was expected later today by national party Chairman Paul Butler at a press conference.

From the start, Collins had been regarded as having the edge.

He is regarded as a moderate among Southern Democrats on the subject of civil rights.

Some committee members favored Rep. Hale Boggs of Louisiana. But he is a Roman Catholic and it was felt by some that his selection might give the convention management a top-heavy Catholic tinge. National Chairman Paul Butler is Catholic and so is Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts, front runner for the party's presidential nomination.

The likely keynoteer is Sen. Frank Church of Idaho, 35. The only other candidate mentioned for the job was Gov. Gaylord A. Nelson of Wisconsin.

Ike Presides At Security Meeting

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower presided today at a two-hour special meeting of the National Security Council. It was held one day in advance of Eisenhower's planned public report on the summit conference collapse.

The White House declined to provide any information as to what was discussed.

However, Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said Monday that he assumed that the meeting would deal in part with Eisenhower's television-radio report to the nation Wednesday evening on the summit conference in Paris.

Soviets Release Downed Transport, Crew Members

WIESBADEN, Germany (AP)—The U.S. Air Force announced that Soviet authorities today freed a C47 that strayed into Communist East Germany last Friday and the nine Americans aboard it.

The Soviet high command in East Germany issued a vigorous protest against the twin-engine transport's flight and declared the American command in West Germany would have to take full responsibility for the incident.

A Soviet statement said the Soviets forced down the plane to protect the frontiers of East Germany as a member of the Warsaw Pact, a Soviet-led Communist military alliance.

A U.S. Air Force spokesman said the plane with its occupants—eight Air Force men and a woman—had taken off from East Germany and was en route to Air Force headquarters at Wiesbaden. But a short time later the spokesman withdrew this and said he could not say exactly when the plane would arrive.

Then came a U. S. Army announcement that a delegation from the U.S. military mission in the Soviet zone "will meet with the nine passengers and crew... to determine whether the plane is in condition to fly them out or if it will be necessary to evacuate the personnel by other means."

The Soviet protest was directed to Gen. Clyde D. Eddleman, U.S. Army commander in Europe. Eddleman had asked for release of the Americans and their plane in a message Saturday to Col. Gen. I. I. Yakubovskiy, commander of Soviet forces in East Germany.

PROTEST

The East German news agency ADN announced the protest in Berlin.

It reported that Eddleman was told: "Soviet fighters on duty repeatedly gave the border violator the established signal to land. However, the latter did not react, which resulted in the Soviet fighters taking justified decisive action."

It was not officially specified whether this action included warning shots.

The protest concluded with a statement that Yakubovskiy was ready to turn over the plane, crew and passengers to a representative of Eddleman whenever the American found it convenient.

TO DENMARK

The C47 transport was forced down when it got over the border into East Germany while on a flight from Copenhagen Denmark to Hamburg, Germany.

The plane landed near the East German town of Grundshagen, about 20 miles from the West Ger-

9 ABOARD

Five crewmen and four passengers were aboard the plane when it was downed.

The crewmen are Capt. James Palmer Lundy, 41, pilot of Findlay, Ohio; Capt. George A. Jordan, 37, copilot, West Lafayette, Ind.; Capt. William Thomas Frewen, 36, a third pilot, Galveston, Tex.; Sgt. Leon Porter, 26, radio operator, Russellville, Ala.; and Sgt. Chester Kenneth Slicer, 33, engineer, Galway, Saratoga County, N.Y.

The passengers are Capt. Paul K. McCash, 25, of Atlanta, Ga., a U.S. Air Force doctor; his 24-year old wife, who is a nurse; Airman James P. Garvin, 25, of Woodbine, Iowa; and Airman James A. Morrison of Richmond, Va., and Cleveland, Ohio.

EVERY INCH IN PICTURES

HAMBURG, Germany (AP)—U.S. reconnaissance planes have photographed "every square centimeter" of the Soviet Union except some steep areas and inaccessible mountain areas, the West German news magazine Der Spiegel reported.

The magazine said the work was done by 12 U2 jets in about 150 flights over a four-year period.

MASTER PLAN

Planning Earmarks Future Land Use

EDITOR'S NOTE—This is the second in a series of articles on Marvin Springer's first phase work on the Master Plan.

Planning for expansion and growth of Big Spring brings up the question of what will be done with the additional acreage. Will it be residential, or parks, or business areas, or other urban development? To plan the future use of areas into which the city will grow, the first step is to determine the present use of acreage within the city limits. There are standards to estimate the percentage of total area necessary for various uses of area within a city. It is this yardstick which Marvin Springer has applied.

ZONING ORDINANCE

Once the use of city acreage has been determined, the next step is a zoning ordinance, which is a law to establish certain uses for specific areas.

First, Springer looks at the existing uses of land in Big Spring. He notes that the city is divided into four quadrants by the arrangement of business and commercial operations along U. S. 80 and U. S. 87. The preponderance of residential development is in the southeast quadrant. The preponderance of industrial and commercial land use is closely associated with the T&P Railroad.

Springer also points to the retail development on Eleventh Place at State St. as a tendency to develop commercial plants in neighborhood areas. He anticipates further dispersment of this type and remarks that some development is already beginning in outlying areas.

COMPARES FAVORABLY

On a percentage basis, Big Spring compares favorably with other cities in the way city acreage is used. The city planner compares the city's existing land use specifically with Midland, pointing out the similarity.

Of a total area of 6,689.9 acres in Big Spring, 58.5 per cent is developed and 41.5 per cent is classified as vacant.

Single family residences occupy 1,300 acres, which is 33.5 per cent of the developed area. Amazingly, 1,299.4 acres of the developed area is in streets and alleys. This is 33.2 per cent of the total, almost as much as single family residences.

The next category is public and semi-public uses such as churches and schools. This use accounts for 12 per cent of the total, 468.2 acres. The other uses include two family residences, 153.1 acres, 3.9 per cent; multi-family residences, 33.4 acres, 0.9 per cent; trailer residence, 8.6 acres, 0.2 per cent; retail, 122.5 acres, 3.1 per cent; commercial, 137.9 acres, 3.5 per cent; light industry, 30.5 acres, 0.8 per cent; heavy industry, 54.1 acres, 1.4 per cent; parks, 126.1 acres, 4.1 per cent; railroad, 131.8 acres, 3.4 per cent.

NO CHANGE

Springer sees no significant change in these relationships for the future, though he expects a larger percentage to be devoted to industrial use. He estimates single family residences will continue to dominate the housing picture, but larger homesites in the South Mountain area will probably increase the amount of area needed for this use.

Although he feels improved subdivision design will reduce the percentage of area used for streets and alleys, he notes that a major thoroughfare system and the new Interstate system will offset any street savings.

Relating "land use" to population, Springer points out that Big Spring presently devotes 4.42 acres per 100 persons to single family dwellings. He points out this is higher than the average used by most cities. By 1980, he suggests this will change to 3.2 acres per 100 persons.

In other categories, Springer estimates the following changes in acreage, all based on 100 persons (projected figures in parenthesis): Two-family dwellings, 0.52, (0.50); apartments, 0.14, (0.20); retail, .42, (0.50); commercial, light and heavy industry, 0.85, (1.0); railroad, no change; public and semi-public areas, 1.59, (1.50); parks, 0.55, (0.50); streets and alleys, 4.40, (4.50); vacant and agricultural, 9.41, (3.0).

AREA TO DOUBLE

Big Spring, at present, comprises a little more than 10 square miles. Springer estimates that it will include more than 20 square miles by 1980, based on projected population growth and other figures.

Again he points out the necessity of containing municipal services within as small an area as possible. "It is important to the future economy of operation and maintenance of municipal services and to the order and convenience of the city that the required future land area be carefully delineated."

With this statement, he recommends specific uses for certain areas within the confines of the proposed new city limits as described in a previous article. Significant features of his proposed land use plan include:

FEATURES OF PLAN

Residential expansion will be heavy to the south with modest expansion to the north. All of this expansion can be handled by the present sewage disposal plant at its present site or farther down Beal's Creek.

Construction of Interstate 20 will cause some changes in the north part of the city, stimulating growth north of North 12th.

Substantial area is designated for industrial use east of the Snyder highway, extending from the T&P Railroad tracks to the Howard County airport.

A second industrial area is designated for the area between U.S. 80 and the T&P Railway tracks.

FOUR CENTERS

Four principal shopping centers are designated south of present development, and another is slated north on State Highway 350 with one on U. S. 80 near Webb AFB. Springer warns against too many such areas. However he suggests minor service areas should be allowed where there is sufficient economic evidence that they are necessary.

As Gregg and Scurry may become one-way streets, the planner indicates both for commercial use.

He urged that the central business district should be retained as the heart of the community.

He delayed recommendations for future park sites as this study has not yet been made.

He opposes urban development along the approaches to Webb AFB and Howard County airport. (Next: Zoning).

Nursing Home Seminar Starts Wednesday

Operators of nursing homes and old-age homes will gather in Big Spring Wednesday and Thursday, May 25-26, for a State Health Seminar.

The meeting is being sponsored by the Texas State Department of Health and by the Howard County Health Department. It will be held in the Big Spring Police Building.

Classes will be offered to nursing home operators of 14 counties in the West Texas area. Lige Fox, senior sanitarian at the Big Spring Health Department, estimates that 60 people will be in hand for the instructions and discussions.

Various state authorities on health and care for the aged will speak to the group. Movies will be shown and discussions held.

Developing more desirable menus for the patients will be one major area of concern as will the problem of raising the standards of nursing homes.

The first activities of the seminar will begin at 9 a.m. Wednesday and the final discussion, led by Fox, will be completed by 4 p.m. Thursday.

Market Mixed

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market opened mixed in active trading today.

U.S. Steel was off 1/4, Radio Corp. off 1/8 and American Telephone was unchanged. My foot went to sleep and gave way when I stood on it.

HCJC Holds Commencement Thursday; 47 To Graduate

Forty-seven graduates will receive diplomas from Howard County Junior College at the annual commencement banquet set for Thursday evening.

This by no means represents the total completing two years of study. Many others have done this but have not satisfied the required combination of hours for the Associate in Arts degree.

BUSY WEEK

This activity will conclude a busy week which was set in motion Sunday with the baccalaureate service, highlighting the sermon by the Rev. V. Ward Jackson. The rites were held in the college auditorium with Dr. R. Gage Lloyd, the Rev. Donald Hungerford, the Rev. Jack Strickland, and the Rev. John Black assisting in the ceremonies. Jack Hendrix played the processional and recessional.

Thursday evening's ceremonies will be presided over by Dr. W. A. Hunt, president. Dr. P. W. Malone, board member, will word the invocation and the Rev. Frank Pollard, the benediction. J. W. Coffey, vice president of the board, will extend the welcome and Harold Henson, student body president, will respond. Mrs. Don Newsom, accompanied by Hendrix, will sing two selections, and Kathleen Wood, piano student, will play a Chopin work.

Following the commencement address by Dr. Thomas Spencer, president of South Plains College at Levelland, Dean Ben F. Johnson will certify graduates and Horace Garrett, board president, will present the diplomas.

CANDIDATES

The candidates are: Wanda Sue Armstrong, Audrey Faye Arnold, Thelbert Clovis Asbill, Roy Edward Brown, Thomas Edwin Buckner Jr., Jim Bob Cary, Thomas Luke Cooke, Dixie S. Even His Leg Went To Sleep

SAN JOSE, Calif. (AP) — The meeting of the county supervisors was dull and a spectator, apparently bored, got up to leave.

Suddenly he slumped to the floor. A county official called an ambulance and the fire department resuscitator squad.

"Nonsense," said the 73-year-old gentleman. "I didn't have a heart attack. My foot went to sleep and gave way when I stood on it."

Italian Arrested For Ike Insults

BOLOGNA, Italy (AP) — A Communist member of the Italian Parliament, Giancarlo Pajetta, has been charged with insulting President Eisenhower.

Police broke up a Communist rally in this north Italian city Saturday night after Pajetta declared that Italy's Christian Democrat government was an accomplice of the United States in "imperialist war-mongering" acts against the Soviet Union.

A police officer went to the rostrum and told Pajetta to stop talking because he had made remarks offensive to the Italian government and to a friendly country. Ten policemen and at least six Communists were injured as club-swinging riot police dispersed the crowd of about 20,000.

The charge of "offending a foreign chief of state" filed against Pajetta carries a possibly penalty of up to five years imprisonment. Pajetta cannot be brought to trial until the Chamber of Deputies lifts his parliamentary immunity.

House Investigators Wind Up Hearings

WASHINGTON (AP)—House influence investigators wind up today hearings which Rep. Oren Harris (D-Ark.) says have produced evidence of improper off-the-record calls on Federal Power Commissioners.
Harris criticized "the way and the manner" in which Washington lawyer Thomas G. (Tommy the Cork) Corcoran visited FPC members while they were pondering a client's case last fall.
That situation, Harris said, was as flagrant as any uncovered in his House subcommittee's investigation of practices in and before the commission.
The subcommittee today called for testimony from Melwood W. Van Scoyoc, a Washington consultant on public utility problems. Van Scoyoc was to be questioned about costs of utility services—which might include big lawyers' fees—used as a basis for determining rates that utilities may charge.
The subcommittee intends to start closed-door sessions Wednesday on legislation to fix standards by which federal regulatory agencies should conduct their affairs.
Gardiner Symonds, board chairman of Tennessee Gas Transmission Co. of Houston, Tex., and its wholly owned subsidiary, Midwestern Gas Transmission Co. testified Monday he knew of no natural gas pipeline company that didn't make personal contact with FPC members.
They are primarily interested in speeding action on pending cases.

Symonds said, as he contended Midwestern was when Corcoran paid his visits last October.
The commission at that time granted Midwestern the right to import gas from Canada at a rate of return to be decided later. Midwestern had been insisting on a 7 per cent return by the third year of operation.
Corcoran, a man of many deeds for the White House in New Deal days, is a 60,000-a-year attorney for Tennessee and Midwestern. He previously testified his conversations were both legal and proper.
Rep. John B. Bennett disputed this. He charged Symonds with "a most high-handed" method of seeking a favorable FPC decision for his pipeline.

Investigators Check Wreck
ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—Investigators examined today the remnants of a new Convair 440 jet plane to see what caused it to crash and burn, killing four Delta Air Line employees.
No passengers were aboard when it took off on a training flight. Witnesses said it was airborne and its landing gear was retracting when suddenly it started rocking and appeared to stall.
The airliner crashed to the right of the runway, broke up and immediately caught fire, sending orange-red flames several hundred feet into the air. The four men died immediately.
The victims were listed as Capt. James H. Longino, and Capt. H. L. Laube, 45, both of College Park, Ga., First Officer Bryan E. Bolt, 31, of Morrow, Ga., and Capt. William F. Williams, 50, of Miami, Fla.

TIC Members Cool Toward Chesser's Labor Program
By ED OVERHOLSER
AUSTIN (AP)—A move by labor to commit the Texas Industrial Commission against the state's "right to work" law has drawn a chilly reception from members.
Commission member Al Chesser of Austin, state representative of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, introduced a package of suggestions at Monday's meeting.
His program, which was not acted upon, included more state educational facilities, a strong safety code for industries, a closer working relationship of labor and management representatives and more detailed studies of natural resources and transportation facilities.
The commission adopted a 14-point program submitted by its chairman, E. B. Germany of Dallas, president of Lone Star Steel.
In general terms, it calls for distributing information about the state's reserves, industrial attractions, financial position, natural resources and business climate.
When Chesser dropped his program on the table, Germany commented that "We can't commit the state to what we don't have. We are to sell Texas as it is. There are many things the Legislature might or might not do to improve the state, but our job is to sell Texas as it is."

Stranded Men Found Safe
ANCHORAGE, Alaska (P)—Alaska's mountain rescue saga ended today with the safe arrival here of the last two men stranded on Mt. McKinley since last Tuesday night.
The Whittaker twins of Redmond, Wash.—James and Louis—were taken to the Elmendorf Air Force Base hospital for treatment of minor frostbite.
The Whittakers came down off the mountain under their own power. They were flown by helicopter to a rendezvous with an Air Force plane, which brought them here.
Still on the mountain were 15 to 20 mountain climbers, who took part in the rescue of the Whittakers, two companions and a very ill woman, who had been a member of another climbing party.

The state's 41 votes are pledged the fourth Democratic presidential hopeful to meet the delegation. The state's 41 vote are pledged to Gov. Robert Meyner as favorite.

2 Women Found Hanged Monday
SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—Two women hanged themselves in the closets of their homes Monday and both were found by their daughters.
Dr. Robert Hausman, county medical examiner, ruled both deaths suicides.
One of the women was Francis D. McAshan, 33, wife of the president of the First National Bank. The other was Frances Duman. Mrs. McAshan's body was found by her daughter, Alice, 15, when the girl returned from school. The 10-year-old daughter of Mrs. Duman found her mother's body in a closet as the girl prepared to go to school.

Senate Labor Committee Set Minimum Wage Meet Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Labor Committee scheduled a meeting today on legislation to boost the minimum wage to $1.25 an hour, but faced the possibility it would be postponed.
Sen. Everett M. Dirksen (R-Ill.) told a reporter he would object to the committee's meeting while the Senate is in session. Dirksen, a committee member, said his duties as Republican Senate leader would require his presence in the Senate.
The Senate arranged to convene two hours earlier than usual to consider President Eisenhower's veto of the depressed areas bill. The labor group's meeting was set for the same hour.
Many committees continue in session while the Senate is meeting but this takes unanimous consent if the question is raised.
Any Republican move to block today's session was expected to bring renewed Democratic charges that GOP senators are stalling in an effort to defeat the minimum wage legislation.
First set for Monday, the meeting was delayed a day at the request of Sen. Barry Goldwater (R-Ariz.).
Republicans have insisted that the big reason for delay so far this year is the many absences of Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.) for presidential primary campaigns over the country. The committee has not met on the legislation since Feb. 23.
Kennedy chief sponsor of the bill, had said he hoped the committee could finish it and send it to the Senate floor in two or three meetings this week.

Prof Critical Of Chores
PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Children of the world, unite. You have nothing to lose but your chores.
So says Professor Dale B. Harris of Pennsylvania State University, who took a verbal swipe today at a cherished American tradition.
Harris told the National Congress of Parents and Teachers there is absolutely no relation between the number and kind of chores a child is assigned, and the sense of responsibility he shows later as an adult.
"Indeed," he said, "from some of our data there is a suggestion that too many urgent and serious duties assumed too early, can have an adverse effect on children."
But what about the many distinguished Americans whose biographies show that heavy responsibilities in childhood led to responsibility as an adult?
A lot of guff, says the professor.
"The truth of the matter probably is that for each such person there is at least another who was discouraged, held back or even broken by too much responsibility too early. But these men do not write autobiographies, nor are accounts of their lives recorded except, perhaps, in the police courts or mental institutions."

Germany calls for new laws. It requests the Legislature to give authority for cities to issue revenue bonds for building industrial plants.
The long range program also seeks establishment of new industries to use available raw materials to help rural communities. It calls for creation of plants to manufacture items to be utilized by other firms.
The goal for 1960 is to secure 254 new industries.
A $100,000 budget, including $50,000 for advertising, was adopted. Most of the budget, which will carry the commission through Aug. 31, 1961, will have to come from private sources.
The Legislature passed an appropriation of only $23,750 a year, about 19 per cent of what was requested.
John Ben Sheppard, former state attorney general, accepted by telephone appointment as chairman of the advisory board to the commission.
Vice-chairmen of the board are Jim West of Bishop, Bill Collins of Midland, Frank Betts of Beaumont and Stanley Crockett of Harlingen. They will represent each of the four regional chambers of commerce in working with the board in the collection of industrial information by areas.

A Devotional For Today

The eyes of all look to thee, and thou givest them their food in due season. (Psalms 145:15. RSV.)
PRAYER: O Father, we are grateful for the assurances in the Bible that Thou wilt provide for our daily needs. Recall to us these words when we find ourselves too concerned over material things. In Jesus' name. Amen.

Studying The Studies

A series of articles is being carried this week on some of the initial observations and recommendations of Marvin Springer, the city's long range planner.

These are designed to capture the essence of his report on what he terms as the "first phase" of long range planning. As you follow them, it is to be hoped that you will be stimulated into further study of the initial proposals.

It is well to bear in mind that what Mr. Springer is doing is to establish some projected goals or to point activities in certain directions. He simply recommends or suggests. It remains for local groups and local official bodies to shape the final form of action.

Mr. Springer makes a number of good points, among them that there are some key factors of growth, among them Webb AFB and our petro-chemical complex as represented largely through Cosen. Another is that there is a maximum area which the city can prudently undertake to serve with utilities. To go beyond those confines raises the cost unnecessarily and thus burdens the consumer.

All of these merge into other problems, such as land utilization, zoning, thoroughfares, etc. We have paid and will pay out substantial amounts of money for these planning studies; citizens should be stirred to have a look at them.

Why Repeal The Buffer?

A drive is on to repeal the Connally Reservation to the U. S. ratification of the International Court of Justice, an instrument of the United Nations. The American Bar Association has endorsed repeal, and so has President Eisenhower and Richard M. Nixon, whom he hopes will be his successor. But since it would take a two-thirds vote in the Senate to make the excision, little hope is entertained that the repealer will get anywhere this year.

The Resolution of Ratification was introduced in 1946 by Sen. Morse, then a Republican, since a Democrat, State Secretary Stettinius had assured the Senate that no state (nation) would, upon accession, forfeit its sovereignty so far as the various agencies of the United Nations were concerned, unless it voluntarily chose to do so. There was a proviso in the article of ratification which said that this country's acceptance of the World Court's jurisdiction "shall not apply to disputes with regard to matters which are essentially within jurisdiction of the United States."

Last domestic matters get involved in this international sue-or-be-sued swap-out, and to clarify its meaning beyond cavil, Sen. Tom Connally proposed the addition of six pregnant words following "jurisdiction of the United States," thus: "... as determined by the United States."

These six words were approved overwhelmingly, and they have been in there ever since. The repealer would take them out.

If they are taken out, the World Court, which includes among its 15 member nations the U.S.S.R. and Communist Poland, would decide whether the issue at stake was of a domestic nature or international. To take them out would be to surrender some part of our national sovereignty.

Why all the big build-up for repeal of the Connally reservation, which was introduced as Senate Resolution No. 94 by that staunch internationalist, Sen. Hubert Humphrey?

Well, there is perhaps a hint in the June issue of Reader's Digest by William Harl, advocating repeal, who writes: "Vice President Nixon has pointed out the constantly expanding network of treaties regarding American investment and American trade in foreign countries. Those treaties need protection, the most authoritative protection possible. Mr. Nixon wisely proposes that the United States and every country with which it makes any such treaty should pledge themselves jointly to take the interpretation of that treaty to the International Court of Justice for final and binding judgment."

In short, if the Connally Reservation to protect full sovereignty of the United States is getting in the way of investment and trade, why—take it out of there. We mustn't interfere with investment and trade.

Incidentally the Texas Bar Association has gone on record against repeal of the Connally Reservation.

Spy Plane Taints Ike's Reputation

WASHINGTON (AP) — The charmed part of President Eisenhower's life is over. For years the respect given him has been one of the miracles of American politics and international affairs. Premier Nikita Khrushchev changed all that in a few days with one of the most ferocious attacks ever made by the head of one government against the top man in another.

Eisenhower was held in such high esteem at home and abroad that when something went wrong with his administration, the tendency had been to blame some subordinate, not him.

TRUE, he has been criticized from time to time on such charges as lack of leadership or too much time spent playing golf or avoiding a firm stand on some issue. But these were not personal attacks. By following a rigid rule of never attacking anyone else that way, Eisenhower made it almost impossible for anyone to mount a personal attack on him.

Even Khrushchev, when he wanted to blast what he called American warmongers or aggressive capitalists, went out of his way to absolve Eisenhower.

The late Sen. Joseph McCarthy, no respecter of persons, stepped around Eisenhower gingerly even when he was attacking Eisenhower's administration.

THEN came the spy-plane incident. Even in its early stages Khrushchev was willing to absolve Eisenhower. Then the State Department stumbled over its feet, led, then told the truth, and said Eisenhower had approved the aerial spying.

Before Khrushchev's vituperation was over he had likened the President to a thief and called him a fishy friend.

It was a mark of Eisenhower's emotional maturity that he was able to remain calm in Paris when the Soviet leader was trying to degrade him.

PERHAPS Eisenhower, because he has a great backlog of personal discipline to call upon, can remain calm to the end and, through more alertness, prevent any more clumsy fumbling by his administration.

But now that the dam has been broken by Khrushchev, Eisenhower's remaining months in office may be increasingly unpleasant.

Others who have been restrained in dealing with Eisenhower may now feel free to cut loose. And the President may have more of a tendency to strike back at his critics.

Legend Of The Water Cooler

NEW YORK (AP) — Early one morning the following notice appeared on the office bulletin board of the giant Acme Tiddlywink Co., Inc.:

"Owing to long complaints over the operation of the old office water cooler, it will soon be removed and replaced by a new water cooler, costing $5,000.

The new type, known as 'The Miracle Ration-Jet Water Cooler,' has certain advantages over the old model, and will add to office efficiency.

"The management is pleased to make this investment in the welfare of its employees."

Fifteen minutes later—just as President Phineas Foogle expected—was visited by the office water cooler grievance committee, led by its chairman, Roscoe Bloop, a 35-year man.

"What's this about getting a new water cooler?" demanded Bloop.

"Well, I just got tired hearing you boys holler about the old one," said Foogle. "I was just trying to do you all a favor."

The grievance committee left, faces flushed with victory.

At lunch Tom Hopful, Foogle's young assistant, asked, "What was all that rumpus about?"

"Why, there's no such thing on the market as a Miracle Ration-Jet Water Cooler," said Foogle modestly. "I've found you never have any trouble getting along with people if you give them what they want. The only thing is—you have to make sure they want only what you intend to give them in the first place."

"All right, boys, I bow to your will," sighed Foogle. "I was just trying to do you all a favor."

The grievance committee left, faces flushed with victory.

At lunch Tom Hopful, Foogle's young assistant, asked, "What was all that rumpus about?"

"I've found you never have any trouble getting along with people if you give them what they want. The only thing is—you have to make sure they want only what you intend to give them in the first place."

"And just how will this so-called new Miracle Ration-Jet Water Cooler make things better?" asked Bloop.

"It will be connected to a red light in the center of the office," explained Foogle smoothly. "Every minute on the minute, the red light will come on and stay lit for exactly 30 seconds.

"The water cooler works only when the red light is lit. It will be on for 30 seconds, off for 30 seconds.

"This will end the need of congregating around the water cooler. When the red light flashes an employ will rise, go to the water cooler, refresh himself and return to his desk. A minute later, when the red light flashes again, another employ can take his turn. This will save time for all concerned."

The grievance committee members looked at each other in utter disbelief. Bloop demanded and received a one-hour recess.

Sixty minutes later the committee was back and Bloop announced crisply: "The staff doesn't like the idea of drinking water by signals. We have voted 98 to 4 to picket the place at 2 p.m. today unless management agrees to cancel its order for the new so-called Miracle Ration-Jet Water Cooler. We insist the present water cooler be retained."

"All right, boys, I bow to your will," sighed Foogle. "I was just trying to do you all a favor."

Don't Worry About 'Chemicals' In Food

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

When I was a small boy, some bright green and red candies were colored with different derivatives of arsenic.

The amounts, to be sure, were slight. Likewise it was hard enough to get a penny or two (much less nickels and dimes) so that I didn't eat very much of the candy.

The colors remained but the arsenic disappeared when I was still quite small because the federal government prohibited its use.

All of this is just a personal way of relating the sort of things which took place when the pure food and drug laws first came into being, a development which has been growing gradually for more than half a century.

Naturally, when these laws first began to have some teeth, there were candy-makers who felt that the government was unduly "interfering" with them. Nobody thinks so now.

Today I think we may, in some areas be verging on the opposite extreme.

Some people are TOO suspicious of ANY material which may be added to food—whether the food is penny candy, or bread, or fruit, or vegetables, or anything.

I have, for example, a letter from a reader who says that he is "suspicious of any food which a chemical has made unacceptable to bacteria."

This is the opposite swing of the pendulum. It is one thing to prohibit the use of things which (like arsenic compounds) can be dangerous. It is another to oppose the addition of anything that has an effect on food.

Let me add another thought. When I was around high school age I encountered a teacher who—when I made some reference to "chemicals"—asked me what a "chemical" was.

The question floored me.

The teacher pointed out that every material is a chemical. Everything we know about is composed of some of the hundred-odd elements now known to science. Common salt is a chemical—sodium chloride. Sugar is a chemical—a compound formed of a certain pattern of carbon, hydrogen and oxygen.

All things are chemicals. All foods are chemicals. They may be good or bad. Salt, for example, has been used for centuries to preserve meat. Yeast for making bread is a complex chemical. Water is a chemical.

So let's not fret about chemicals in food. Let's just see to it that only beneficial ones are used. And how will we do that? By depending on the pure food laws. If anything, the food and drug administration is being excessively fussy these days. Remember the recent "cranberry scare"?

"CONCERNED GIRLS": These "fine boys," as you describe them, are not honestly trying to be helpful by distributing these books on sex. Your own common sense will be a perfectly reliable guide for you. And that business about a nudist colony helping "normal development" is nonsense. I'm not interested in getting into any arguments one way or the other about nudists, but I think you and I can agree that such colonies aren't "necessary." So use your good sense and don't be misled by glib arguments.

Are you bothered with ringing in the ears? If so, send for my booklet, "Ear Noises—Their Causes and Cures," enclosing with your request 10 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Dr. Molner welcomes all reader mail, but regrets that due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

Around The Rim

Entertainment A La Free

My Boss was a do-gooder of the top grade. He was a great hand to promote things to make people happy. There were two stipulations in his promotional efforts, however.

One, he didn't want to have to do personally whatever work was involved in the enterprise. Second, he had a distinct allergy to spending any of his own or his company money on the deal.

One of the cute things he dreamed up was something he called "community meetings." It was a simple little thing—he proposed a weekly free-for-all public program of entertainment on each Tuesday night during the summer. The hours-plus-programs were to run the gamut in the field of entertainment, Anything from opera to stringbands; magicians to tightrope walkers.

But the entertainers were to get nothing except the heart warming applause of the audience in the way of pay.

GUESS WHO GOT the job of arranging the programs, enticing the shows, providing any needed properties? Me—that's who.

There was a park near the center of town — one block square. At the end of World War I someone had promoted what's called a "memorial" to the war dead—the memorial taking the form of an open air stage with a small storage-room area at the rear.

Out in front, there was room for three or four thousand folk to stand or sit on the grass.

I staged those shows for nearly 15 summers. I wangled programs out of Chambers of Commerce from nearby towns on the plea that they were "good will" developers. I horsewhipped little dance combos into playing concerts on the theory that it was "good advertising." I used everything but kidnapping and blackmail to get singers, dancers, humorists and ventriloquists to appear.

THERE WAS A YOUNG fellow in a community nearby who was a telegrapher for the railroad. He played the guitar and sang. Folks who had heard him said he was pretty good. I talked him into coming over for a program. He was pretty good — the crowd liked him. I managed to wangle two or three appearances out of him. Then he got a bid to appear at another show in another town. The chairman of that program gave him a check for $10. That was his final appearance on my stage.

This same young fellow was sitting out on the platform of the depot in that little town plunking a guitar and singing one night. A stranger who got off the train to stretch his legs came by and listened for a few minutes.

"Why don't you go out to Hollywood?" asked the stranger. "You'd do good out there. Come and see me when you get there. Maybe I can help you. My name's Will Rogers."

So Gene Autry took the stranger's advice and he did do pretty good.

I HAD ALL KINDS of entertainment. Some was pretty dreadful. Nevertheless the crowds kept coming. Tuesday night after Tuesday night, the park was jammed. Traffic was blocked in the adjacent streets. I blackjacked the city commission into buying what in its time was the highest priced public address system available. This augmented the attendance. I tried everything in the books. Sometimes when I couldn't line up anything else, I'd advertise "amateur night." And everyone who had a yen to be on the state would show up. I used to go home pretty sick to my stomach.

The end came to the Community Meetings with World War II.

When the war was over my boss began walking around the office with a distant look in his eyes.

Why not start up the community meetings again? he asked.

I just plain revolted. Go ahead, I said, but get another boy to do the work.

He couldn't find another boy, I guess. Anyway, the Community Meetings were not revived.

French Telephone Finally Worked

PARIS—Not even the man-eating shark in our time has come under such constant and savage attack as the French telephone system. Millions of tourists, no less than the French, after tackling the vagaries of the native telephone, have predicted the decline and fall of this great nation. It has unhinged women and made strong men weep.

ALL ALONE by the telephone in the Russian Embassy, figuratively speaking, sat Nikita Khrushchev, determined to wreck the summit unless the United States and President Eisenhower acceded to his humiliating demands, and grovelled.

He would attend no "summit" meeting, as such, until his specifications were met. He would only attend a "preliminary" meeting to the summit, such as the roundhouse bout at which the Russian ravished the President and the U. S. A. last Monday.

Figuratively speaking again, on the other end of the line at Elysee Palace sat Ike, determined not to give an inch, surrounded by President DeGaulle and British Prime Minister Macmillan. They hopefully awaited a reasonable Khrushchev. They had gathered for a 3 p.m. summit meet to which President DeGaulle, as host, has issued invitations that morning for a gathering.

IT WAS 2:55 P.M. when the French phone came into its own. Just as President Eisenhower and Mr. Macmillan arrived at Elysee Palace, the phone rang. And, miracle dictu! It was the right number! Incredible! The call was from the Russian Embassy.

An unidentified spokesman asked, in behalf of Khrushchev, if the proposed 3 p.m. meeting was a "preliminary" bout or the main attraction, a real bona fide summit gathering.

If, the U.S.S.R. spokesman continued over the still purring phone, the meeting was a prelim, would the other three heads of state postpone it until say 5 p.m.?

That would give Chairman Khrushchev time to eat his luncheon. He had just returned from a jaunt in the country with his shadow, Marshal Rodion Malinovsky, and was wolf-hungry.

AT 3:30, as the Western Big Three tried to settle down to work around the table, the phone rang again. Another right connection! Ah, miracles never cease! This time the Russian Embassy wished to know, and no nonsense, if the meeting in progress was "preliminary" or "summit."

At 3:25 p.m., the phone, still in fighting trim, converted a call from Elysee Palace to the Russian Embassy, requesting M. Khrushchev to reply in writing, as had Eisenhower and Macmillan, to DeGaulle's morning invite to the afternoon meeting, now in progress.

At 4 p.m., the phone, in a frenzy of unaccustomed efficiency, triumphantly trilled again in the palace. The U.S.S.R. Embassy was calling. It pressed for an answer to Khrushchev's conditions and questions, apparently just as Khrush was tucking into the sashlik.

AND SO IT WENT. With the French phone, as pathetically misunderstood as the average husband, performing like a champion.

The telephone performed with such dazzling and uncharacteristic perfection that the Big Three meeting to solve the knotty problems of international harmony could get little work done.

Finally, the Big Three, even as you and I when the phone drives us out of the house, gave up by 4:45 p.m. The phone had done what Khrush had not been able to do—it had licked the Big Three.

They adjourned the meeting.

There is no thought of sabotage in the sudden efficient performance of the French phone; there is only general pride that this French institution rose so superbly to the historic challenge. There are rumors that the Croix de Guerre will ultimately be conferred upon it.

The Gallup Poll

Nixon Heavy Favorite With GOP

PRINCETON, N. J.—Despite the fact that Vice President Nixon has trailed Sen. John Kennedy in Gallup Poll-tests over the past few months, there has been little disposition for Nixon's Republican followers to turn to other possible candidates of their party.

The Vice-President is the choice of three out of four Republican voters to head their ticket this year in the latest Gallup Poll "open primary" test.

The No. 2 choice of GOP voters is Gov. Nelson Rockefeller.

ALTHOUGH ROCKEFELLER has repeatedly stated that he is not a candidate — and recently announced that he would not attend the GOP convention this July—one Republican in eight would like to see the New York Governor as the 1960 GOP nominee.

There has been speculation in recent weeks about the possibility of a Rockefeller "draft." Vice-President Nixon himself said that he did not think Governor Rockefeller should be ruled out as a candidate for the Republican, presidential nomination.

In an attempt to find out just how popular Rockefeller is at present among his party's voters, his name was added to a list of prominent Republicans which Gallup Poll reporters handed to GOP voters when asking this question:

"HERE IS A LIST of men who have been mentioned as possible presidential candidates for the Republican party in 1960. Which one would you like to see nominated as the Republican candidate for President in 1960?"

Here are the latest standings:

| CHOICE OF CANDIDATES (Republicans Only) | |

| Governor Rockefeller | 13 |
| Dr. Milton Eisenhower | 4 |
| UN Delegate | 4 |
| Henry Cabot Lodge | 2 |
| Others | 3 |

None of these,
No Opinion 3
Others on the list included Sen. Barry Goldwater, Rep. Charles Halleck, Secretary of State Christian Herter and Secretary of Labor James Mitchell.

ROCKEFELLER is not as strong among GOP voters at present as he was when he was regarded as an active candidate last fall. Here is a comparison of the latest test with one taken just previous to the Governor's announcement that he would not seek the nomination:

Despite his not being a candidate, the New York Governor has maintained the support he had from the Independent voters of the nation before his withdrawal. More than one Independent in five would like to see Rockefeller head the GOP ticket this year, Nixon, in first place, is the choice of 48 per cent of the Independents to be the Republican nominee.

Here is a comparison of the December standings among Independents with the latest preferences of this group:

Great Emptiness After Summit Failure

PARIS—As the four heads of government go their separate ways in the aftermath of the explosion at the summit—or just below it—one conclusion is inescapable. They are all without exception reduced in stature.

Each nation has begun in its own way to develop a rationalization, a justification, for what happened and for the role that the nation's leader played or failed to play. While this may do for national consumption, to assuage wounded pride and save hurt feelings, it is not good enough.

THERE IS A GREAT void, a vast and somewhat ominous emptiness, in which only a few persons can join the chorus of "I told you so." Among them are critics such as former Secretary of State Dean Acheson who have consistently scorned summery as an exercise opening the way to precisely the kind of storm to which President Eisenhower was subjected and to a painful disillusion putting the cause of peace back to a new low.

It is too early to know how each of the four so dissimilar men will react in the void that has been created. President Eisenhower will go on traveling, receiving as in Portugal the massive acclaim that has come to mean much to him. It is probable that his Asian tour will be extended to take in Formosa, the Philippines, Thailand and other beneficiaries of American aid.

HIS FAR-FLUNG travels have in some instances, notably India where there has been an effective follow-up, been of great value. But, as in Latin America, their usefulness is questionable, since their stir expectations that cannot or will not be fulfilled. And as Eisenhower reaches the end of his authority these ceremonial progresses with all the appurtenances of vast cheering crowds and triumphal archways have less and less value.

On the eve of his departure it was characteristic that Prime Minister Macmillan should express to those who talked with him about the future a concern for Eisenhower and what it had meant to him to take such insults from Khrushchev. After all, as the Prime Minister remarked with the urbanity, the worldliness, that is his hallmark, a President of the United States, and particularly this President, "is unaccustomed to the kind of rough exchange that is the staple of life for those of us who grow up in the House of Commons." How will he react? What will he do?

The Macmillan watchword is restraint, caution, wait and see. Above all, no hasty action from the West, since there is no evidence that the Communist line out of Moscow is about to undergo a radical shift.

ON THE DAY that the heads of government left Paris for home the leading commentator on the state-owned radio, which in France under the DeGaulle regime has become virtually an instrument of propaganda, said with something like proud complacency that the U.S. proved the wisdom of the De Gaulle policy of refusing to submit control of France's fleet and air force to NATO. This was an example of what could happen if one's allies were not consulted. That is, of course, untrue, since, no matter what the agreed extent of consultation, such an act as the espionage flight would never have come within its compass.

If this is to be the line, then DeGaulle's nationalism and his determination to build, regardless of cost, an independent nuclear deterrent for France is reinforced. The tragic folly of that course—its impossibility in relation to French resources—has been evident enough to others, but within the country it is given a glowing color by the dream of grandeur of which DeGaulle is both symbol and progenitor.

AS FOR the fourth man, we know too well what his course is to be. It is to cause the utmost trouble and uncertainty in the West without provoking a war. Or, at any rate, the assumption despite the summit explosion is still that Khrushchev wants to stop short of war.

If the recent past is a precedent, the tragedy will be to find the West in the newly created void reacting to the actions of the Communist leader. Except for piecemeal instances, some of them important enough, the West has not taken a major independent initiative since the Marshall Plan. That fact should sober even the hottest of hot-heads who now seem determined to react with a bigger and bigger chip on the shoulder to the Russian aggressiveness. The Marshall Plan saved Western Europe from communism and it has stood through the years as a symbol of what the West can do in unity. It is a lesson, a profoundly important example, if anyone is in the mood to discover what to do in a void.

Youngsters Urged To Build Racers For Soap Box Derby

Boys, who will have the best chance at rewards in the Soap Box Derby, are those who are "sticking with it" in building a sleek coaster. All of the lads who have signed up are getting words of encouragement—and some positive help when they hit construction problems—from members of the Lions Club.

will make the race when the Derby is held here June 23, said E. H. Bouillon Jr., chief of the inspection teams for the Lions Club. This organization, with The Herald and Tidwell Chevrolet, sponsors the biggest amateur racing event in the city.

Bouillon said many boys are making good progress in building racers, but that others are lagging a bit. He urged once again that contestants who have not gotten sets of official wheels should get these at once. It was suggested that boys who signed up for the Derby, and since dropped out, should go ahead and take the wheel sets since they were handled on special order.

STREET WALKING

Brown Plans Personal Poll

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Gov. Edmund G. Brown is going to "walk the main streets of California" to learn for himself whom the people would like to see win the Democratic nomination for president.

The Democratic governor announced plans today for the unusual political safari.

It came on top of arrangements by the California Democratic Council to poll 2,500,000 of the state's 3,600,000 registered Democrats on their presidential preference.

"Polls have their place," Brown said, "but I have long since found that the only way I could really find out what people are thinking is to listen to them myself."

He indicated that his soundings would help guide his slate of delegates to the Democratic National Convention.

Brown said he had decided not to make any formal campaign in behalf of the 81-vote delegation pledged to him as only a nominal candidate.

He is opposed by a rival Democratic slate in the June 7 primary committed to George McLain, Los Angeles pension promoter.

Brown, who used the street corner technique in his 1958 campaign for governor, plans to begin his informal walks in downtown Los Angeles Wednesday morning, and move to Long Beach in the afternoon.

He will make similar appearances elsewhere. His office said no timetable has been arranged but that he would fit the walks into his regular schedule.

"I will continue to make a normal number of public appearances," the governor said in a statement. "But since I am not a candidate myself, I have no intention of making a personal campaign."

"I am interested in getting out among the people of the state, however, and hearing what they have to say about the various serious candidates.

"Our free and uncommitted California delegation may very well have a decisive vote in the 1960 convention, and we want to be able to truly represent the wishes of the people of California."

Brown ignored McLain in his statement. Instead, he brought in Vice President Richard M. Nixon's name to make a pitch for his delegation.

He said California Democrats are determined that Nixon shall not become the next president, adding: "I hope they will make that clear by giving the broad, cross-section Democratic delegation headed by me a good, strong vote in the primary."

Death Penalty May Be Asked

JERUSALEM (AP) — Israeli legal experts today said the death penalty may be asked for Adolf Eichmann, former Hitler official charged with the extermination of six million Jews.

Israel Monday announced the 34-year-old war criminal's arrest after a hunt of more than 14 years and said he would be tried here. He was brought into a Jaffa court and arraigned.

Premier David Ben-Gurion told Parliament Eichmann would be tried under terms of Israel's law for the trial of Nazis and their collaborators.

The Premier gave no details of the arrest of the man who was a top aide to Heinrich Himmler, boss of the dread Nazi Gestapo. Eichmann vanished in the confusion at the end of the war and was subsequently reported in several Latin American countries, in Australia, in Switzerland and last October in the Middle East. The British hunted for him, and he was also wanted for murder in West Germany.

Although no details were released on Eichmann's arrest it was learned he had been caught in Israel. The Ministry of Justice said he readily admitted his identity and asked for legal counsel.

Tiner Playing Final Chess Game By Mail

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—A man sentenced to die in the Alabama electric chair is playing a game of chess he may never finish with a Houston geologist.

Cecil Lewis Tiner, 28, received his death sentence for the Aug. 5, 1957 shooting death of J. Cuthbert Woodham, an Alabama sheriff.

His opponent, who opened the game of postal chess in April by moving his white king's pawn, is Milton Blumenthal, 39, president of the Houston Chess Club.

Tiner, a native of Dallas, Tex., was convicted Nov. 7, 1957 and sentenced the next day. He appealed for a new trial more than a year ago but no ruling has been made. No date is set for his execution.

Tiner wrote Rhodes Cook, Houston Club secretary, from his cell at Kilby Prison Farm in Montgomery, Ala. He said he could play chess but was just a beginner. He asked for an opponent and some magazines on chess.

Cook turned the letter over to Blumenthal, who sent the magazines and started the game. The men have completed six moves each.

Blumenthal mailed a card stating his seventh move about a week ago. He expects an answer this week before he flies to Canada on a business trip.

Collins' Play Proves To Be 'Ornate Old Chestnut'

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Wilkie Collins, the father of the modern suspense story, wrote "The Woman in White" 100 years ago.

NBC's Hour of Great Mysteries adapted it to television Monday night. Wisely it allowed it to show its age.

It proved to be a gloriously ornate old chestnut, chock full of once spine-tingling situations which have since become dramatic cliches.

The play opened in a misty cemetery—inhabited by a mad wraith. It closed with the evil forces dead—one accidentally by his own hand, the other shot by his wife—and virtue rewarded. In between we had the helpless heir wed to the brutal schemer, the revealing diary, the convenient eavesdropper, the drugged, kidnaped heroine—oh, we had everything; including 1860 costumes and candlelight.

However, Siobhan McKenna, Walter Slezak and company somehow worked their way brightly and entertainingly through the Victorian clutter to provide a delightful and amusing hour.

The three networks covered both the Andrei Gromyko and Henry Cabot Lodge addresses to the United Nations. NBC's Pauline Frederick provided the most intelligent and helpful commentary on the situation.

Something pretty rare in the way of a TV special turns up tonight on NBC: an hour-long show with exactly two minutes of talking—plus, of course, those unavoidable commercials.

The program is "Sing Along with Mitch," the Mitch being host Mitch Miller, an indefatigable bearded records company executive who leads a double life as regular radio interviewer. Recently Miller hit the jackpot with a series of record albums consisting of a male chorus singing familiar old songs. The idea is that the listener sings along with the chorus. The public has been buying the $4.95 records as if they were nickel candy bars.

"During the last 12 minutes of the show," promised Miller, "we'll play 32 old songs. And we'll flash the words on the screen. We hope everybody will open their windows and sing out to make the biggest chorus in the world."

Recommended tonight: "Sing Along with Mitch," NBC 8:30-9:30 p.m. — home-audience participation show, featuring old, familiar songs; Arthur Murray Party, NBC, 9:30-10—with three comedy guest stars, Hermione Gingold, Ann B. Davis and Alan King.

Koufax Pitches One-Hit Game For Dodgers

By ED WILKS

Associated Press Sports Writer

Success has come slow of late for Sandy Koufax. But when he's sharp, Sandy's spectacular.

And he never has been sharper than he was Monday night, sloping his hitting Pittsburgh with the first one-hitter of his major league career as the Los Angeles Dodgers defeated the National League-leading Pirates 1-0.

It was Sandy's first victory since he tied the major league strikeout record with 19 in a 5-2 decision over San Francisco last August 31. He had lost six in a row since then, four this season.

The bushy-browed lefty, a Brooklyn kid with speed and a curv, struck out 10 and was perfect over the last 6 1/3 innings. It was the Pirates' first shutout of the year and trimmed their lead over the San Francisco to one game.

In the only other NL game, Chicago's Cubs beat Cincinnati 7-6 in 13 innings on George Altman's home run.

Just one game was scheduled in the American League and the New York Yankees won it, sweeping a two-game series at Kansas City with a 4-3 decision.

The only hit off Koufax was a second-inning single by losing pitcher Bennie Daniels. It came between a pair of walks that loaded the bases with two out but Koufax escaped by getting Dick Groat to hit into a force out.

Sandy walked six in the first 19 2/3 innings, then retired the final 19.

The Dodgers had four hits, all off Daniels (1-2), who gave way to a pinch-hitter in the seventh. Daniels had a two-hit shutout until the seventh, when he gave up the run on a leadoff double by Norm Larker and a two-out double by rookie Tommy Davis—who had been hitting .138. Roy Face finished the seventh, when he gave up the run on a leadoff double by Norm Larker and a two-out double by rookie Tommy Davis—who had been hitting .138. Roy Face finished the seventh, when he gave up the run on a leadoff double by Norm Larker and a two-out double by rookie Tommy Davis—who had been hitting .138.

Koufax, 24, now has 43 strikeouts for 38 2/3 innings this season, good for third behind teammate Don Drysdale (77) and Bob Friend (57) of the Pirates. He fanned Don Hoak and Bob Skinner twice. Bob Clemente, the NL batting leader (.372), was among the other strikeout victims and was held hitless for only the second time in the last 19 games.

The Black contingent is apt to be composed of Robert Carr, 160, and Tommy Rutledge, 165 ends; Butch Vaughn, 175, and Chap Smith, 175, or Ricky Hodnett, 185, tackles; Alf Cobb, 165, and Johnny Case, 140, guards; Bill Gillespie, 205, center; Tommy Whately, 170, quarterback; Jimmy Madry, 170, and Johnny Freeman, 158, halfbacks; and Jack Irons, 160, fullback.

Emmett Kent Morgan, 135, will have Whately with the quarterbacking chores on the Black team while Dexter Pate, 170, will serve in a similar capacity on the White squad.

The team has shown good progress on offense, according to McKenzie, but still has a long way to go in mastering defensive maneuvers.

The Big Spring Quarterback Club is helping stage the game and will sell the programs at the gate. Donations will be accepted to help with the booster organization's projects for the 1959-61 school year.

Although the Yankees staged an eight-run rally in the bottom of the fifth, they couldn't overtake the VFW team Monday night as the Veterans pounded out a 16-9 National Little League win.

Bill Moser clouted a homer and a single for the winners and Simon Terrazas also stroked a round-tripper. Larry Moore and John Watkins added two hits each to the winners' cause.

Eddie Crittenden swatted a double and a single to lead the Yankee attack. Gregg Pate was credited with the win.

The Red Caps trounced the Ramblers, 12-4 in minor league play.

Cash, Prizes Awaiting Bass Tourney Winners

By DON RIDDLE

Bass fishermen from all over West Texas and New Mexico are expected to convene on Lake J. B. Thomas next month as the First Annual West Texas Bass Tournament begins activities and over 100 dollars in cash and prizes will be given to the winners.

The tournament, sponsored by the Big Spring Herald, will begin Tuesday, June 14 and continue through June 19. The first five days of the tournament will be termed as qualifying days and on Sunday, June 19, the finals of the tourney will be held.

Top 50 per cent of the daily catches will be named as qualifying catches and these competitors will fish for the tournament championship on Sunday.

Entries will be in the form of a two-man, male or female, team which will fish together from one boat. Their combined catch of bass will be listed according to total weight. Top bass catches each day will win $10 worth of merchandise from the retail equipment houses around the lake.

Sunday's tournament winner will be awarded $30 in prize money from the Big Spring Herald. Second place winners will receive $20 worth of merchandise and third place winners on Sunday will receive $10 in merchandise.

It is possible for a team to win on one of the qualifying days and then again on Sunday. A team can enter the preliminary competition only once and no one will be allowed to fish in the Sunday finals unless they have qualified during the week.

No entry fee is required for the tournament but each contestant must have a $2 sales slip from one of the eight officials of the tournament. Officials are the owners of the lodge or retail houses around the lake.

Winners will be determined by the best combined bass catch of the two team members for the two days they fished. Weight and not number will be considered.

TOURNAMENT RULES

- 1. Dates for the tournament are June 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, with a grand finale on Sunday, June 19.
2. All entries will be in the form of a two-man (male or female) team which will fish together in one boat and will enter their combined catch...
3. Each team must register with one of the tournament officials before beginning its participation...
4. Top 50 per cent of teams (according to catch during tournament) will be classified as qualifiers...
5. All persons entering must have a sales slip totaling two dollars ($2.00) from any of the tournament officials...

TOURNAMENT OFFICIALS INCLUDE:

- Clyde Montgomery, Lakeview Grocery; Claude Hodnett, Sportsman's Paradise; Jack Morland, Jack's Grocery and Bait; Halley Brown, Brown's Lakeview Grocery; Lem Gresham, Lem's Bait House; R. J. Boyd, Boyd's Lodge; L. V. Dent, R. & L. Grocery; Guy Coon, Lake Thomas Lodge.

Intra-Squad Go Ends Grid Work

The Big Spring Steers wind up 31 days of spring football work in an 8 o'clock intra-squad game in Memorial Stadium tonight.

The public gets a chance to see how much they have progressed under the new coaching regime, headed by Emmett McKenzie. In all, 44 boys—23 equally divided as McKenzie and his aides could do it will be in uniform.

Probable starters for the White team are Mike Hughes, 175 pounds; and John (Red) Schwarzenbach, 200, ends; Tom Roberts, 235, and Gary Pickle, 218, tackles; Ronnie Holland, 140; and Bobby Pryor, 156, or Bill Case, 133, guards; Richard Atkins, 182, center; Jerry Tucker, 160, quarterback; Jimmy Madry, 170, and Johnny Freeman, 158, halfbacks; and Jerry Dunlap, 180, fullback.

The Black contingent is apt to be composed of Robert Carr, 160, and Tommy Rutledge, 165 ends; Butch Vaughn, 175, and Chap Smith, 175, or Ricky Hodnett, 185, tackles; Alf Cobb, 165, and Johnny Case, 140, guards; Bill Gillespie, 205, center; Tommy Whately, 170, quarterback; Jimmy Madry, 170, and Johnny Freeman, 158, halfbacks; and Jack Irons, 160, fullback.

Emmett Kent Morgan, 135, will have Whately with the quarterbacking chores on the Black team while Dexter Pate, 170, will serve in a similar capacity on the White squad.

The team has shown good progress on offense, according to McKenzie, but still has a long way to go in mastering defensive maneuvers.

The Big Spring Quarterback Club is helping stage the game and will sell the programs at the gate. Donations will be accepted to help with the booster organization's projects for the 1959-61 school year.

Although the Yankees staged an eight-run rally in the bottom of the fifth, they couldn't overtake the VFW team Monday night as the Veterans pounded out a 16-9 National Little League win.

Bill Moser clouted a homer and a single for the winners and Simon Terrazas also stroked a round-tripper. Larry Moore and John Watkins added two hits each to the winners' cause.

Eddie Crittenden swatted a double and a single to lead the Yankee attack. Gregg Pate was credited with the win.

The Red Caps trounced the Ramblers, 12-4 in minor league play.

Kent Oil clinched the top spot in the first half of the Texas Little League Monday night as they eased past the Reef team, 5-4.

The win guarantees Kent of a playoff with the second half winner for the league title.

Kent took a 5-2 lead going into the last frame and a two-run Reef rally gave the Oiles a threat but Kent twirler, de la Garza bore down and forced the final batter to ground out to him.

First baseman Roby lined out three hits for the winners and teammates Mike Murphy and Lopez both had a pair of singles.

Valdez had a double and a single for the losers.

Comets Take First In International

The Comets took their first international victory Monday night as they defeated the Sabres, 3-2.

Both teams boasted 5-3 records for league play and Monday night's game tied the knot.

David Barker clubbed two singles and a double for the winners and Mike Moseley had a double and a single in two trips.

Charles Richardson lined out two singles for the losers. He was also robbed with the loss. Mike Moseley was the winning pitcher.

Pirates Bomb Jets, 20-6

The Pirates improved their chances at a first place finish in first half standings in the American Little League by winning a wind-swept 20-6 game from the Jets here Monday night.

The Comets started early and often. They started with a three-run first and were blanked only in the second frame.

Frank Sabbato and Bruce Beljany each drove out three hits for the winners while Rod Roberts, Gary Rogers and David Lambert each collected two. One of Beljany's blasts went for four bases.

The Jets collected eight hits off the winning hurler, Lambert, and three of those were by Kenny Patterson. Bill Davis had two bingles for the losers.

R. L. Lasater Entered In Houston AAU Meet

Big Spring's sensational sprinter, R. L. Lasater, will get a chance to show what he can do in the Southwestern AAU Track and Field Meet in Houston this weekend.

The fleet junior, perhaps Texas' best known high school track athlete, will leave with his coach, Curtis Kelley, on Thursday for the meet.

In order to become eligible for the meet, Lasater had to be certified by the State AAU. That matter was taken care of the past weekend.

The Big Spring school system is sending Lasater and Kelley and R. L. will represent it in the meet. In the AAU show, Lasater will compete against some of the athletes who are sure to make serious bids for the 1960 U. S. Olympic team. Most of the athletes running at Houston are in college now.

The spotlight of the track world turned on Lasater last week when he ran the 100-yard dash in a record-tying 9.3 seconds in an AAU meet at Garland. He had a 12-mile an hour wind at his back at the time.

At Houston, he may run in both the 100 and 200 meter dash events. Another West Texas high school boy who may appear in the meet is Ted Nelson of Andrews, who has beaten Lasater on one occasion this year.

One More Sponsor Needed For Teen-Age Baseballers

Officials of the teen-age baseball league met Monday night and began plans for the summer playing schedule.

The Big Spring league will consist of six teams and each team will play 18 games during the summer. The first game will be played Tuesday, May 31, at the teen-age park.

All games will start at 8 p.m. and only one game will be played each evening. The league plans to stage six games per week with each team playing three times.

Lloyd Duncan, teen-age commissioner, says that only five sponsors have been obtained for the youngsters and one team still needs support. "We have already ordered the uniforms," said Duncan, "for all six teams. The team without a sponsor will get its uniforms along with the others, but no name has been put on the shirts."

Duncan also said that the Cactus Paint Company donated enough equipment a few years ago to fix the outfield fence. But now the wall needs another overhauling.

"We have some lumber, and we have already patched the holes in the wall," said Duncan, "but we need some more paint to complete the job, at least enough to paint the center field fence green so as to give the hitters a good background."

Duncan also said that the Cactus Paint Company donated enough equipment a few years ago to fix the outfield fence. But now the wall needs another overhauling.

Westbrook Classes Hold End-Of-School Parties And Trips

WESTBROOK—Members of the freshman class enjoyed a picnic at Col-Tex Cabin on Lake Colorado City Thursday afternoon after classes were dismissed for the season.

Farewell gifts were presented to Carol Stone, who is moving to Midland, and Gerald Phillips, who is moving to Merkel. A gift was also presented to the teacher, Travis Livingston.

The boys, with Mr. Livingston, remained at the cabin for a night of fishing and slumber party. The girls attended a slumber party at the home of Mrs. Edward Blakely.

Members of the junior class held a picnic and swimming party at the Rev. Joe McCarthy's cabin on Lake Colorado City Thursday evening.

Members of the senior class left Sunday morning at 6 o'clock for the annual senior trip. Points of interest to be visited are Bandera Ranch, Corpus Christi and Brownsville. They plan to return Saturday. Sponsors are Principal R. C. Hutchins, Mrs. Rozelle Dohoney, Mrs. N. J. McMahan and the bus driver, Coach Cunningham.

'ROUND TOWN

With Lucille Pickle

This is the week.

Nine months have gone by and with it all the joys and sorrows, trials and tribulations of the school year that is now drawing to a close. And it isn't easy. Every school class in the local system and those in the area have some sort of end-of-school activities. On the secondary level students are taking tests and making a brave attempt to act nonchalant. The college kids don't make any pretense: those quizzes and finals are real tough stuff. Anyway, to parents it's a good-time-with-looking-forward to having the ones who have been away back again and to have the local ones on a relaxed schedule. Oh happy end of school!

An entertaining weekend was enjoyed by MRS. CHARLES S. DUNNAM who accompanied her sister and brother-in-law, MR. AND MRS. DOUG GRAY of Odessa on a trip to Dallas where they saw "Ben Hur" and "Can Can." These movies will have to be reprocessed before they can be shown on the average movie screen and will probably not for another year.

CAPT. AND MRS. HARRY HON and CAPT. AND MRS. GREGG SMITH were among the Big Spring members at the Shrine ceremonial of Suez Temple held in San Angelo over the weekend.

Former residents MR. AND MRS. FRED MILLER of Amarillo were here Monday for the funeral of Rube Martin.

LESLIE SNOW, who was transferred to Fort Worth to convalesce after emergency surgery he had to undergo soon after reporting for work there. The family had stayed here to complete the school term.

MR. AND MRS. JAMES RICE and Donnie returned home Monday after spending a week vacationing. They visited his parents in Lamar, Okla., and with other relatives in Oklahoma City. The family held a reunion and enjoyed fishing, but not many fish.

MR. AND MRS. HOWARD WOOD and their children, Lonnie and Lana, visited the DON RASBERRYS recently. They are moving to Eden after having lived for nearly two years in Kermit.

During a two weeks vacation from which they returned Friday, the DON RASBERRYS visited two families who formerly made their homes in Knott. The David Smiths live in Meridian and the Gilmer Becks make their home in Lewisville.

In Comanche County the couple had visited numerous relatives and then went to Stephenville where they were guests of Dr. and Mrs. C. J. Bailey. In Cleburne they visited in the C. L. Graham home and in Fort Worth they were with another brother and his family, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Graham.

Climax of the Raspberries vacation was a visit in Wichita Falls with their son, S. Sgt. Curtis Rasberry, and his family. During the visit the family took a drive to the Wichita mountains near Lawton, Okla., where they saw paintings on the mountain sides done by the Indians many years ago. The children enjoyed taking pictures of the buffalo herds.

MRS. W. D. McDONALD and MRS. F. S. GRAY have returned from a trip to points in Mississippi and Alabama. While Mrs. Gray visited in Mississippi, Mrs. McDonald was in Birmingham to be with her brother, Dr. B. F. Tingle, who is seriously ill.

Who Has Influence? Girl Behind Counter

By DOROTHY ROE AP Women's Editor

Who are America's most influential women?

You might name a movie star or a woman senator, an educator or an ambassador.

All wrong, says J. Warren Kane, a New Yorker importer of French perfumes. The women who most influence national tastes and customs are the girls behind the counters of American stores.

"If you want to find out what's new, ask the girl behind the counter," says Kane. "She's onto every new fad before it starts. She knows who is buying what and why. She has her hand constantly on the public pulse. She can suggest a new scent, a new makeup, a new table setting, a new dress style, and the first thing you know it has become a fashion." Kane credits American sales girls for much of his success as a French perfume expert, a vocation which flabbergasted his seafaring father, Capt. John W. Kane, of Blue Hill, Maine.

"I was just out of college when I met a man who asked me if I wanted to go into the perfume business," says Kane. "I took him up on it, and I haven't been sorry. But my father fumed like a spouting whale. Couldn't understand why the son of an old salt would go into such a sissy-sounding business."

"They started me out to sell perfumes on the road, and it was here that I discovered how important it is to know the girls behind the counters. They taught me more than I ever learned in college about how to tell what the public wants."

Kane also has had a big assist from another influential woman, his wife, Helen, whom he met behind the perfume counter of a store in Kansas City, Mo. She now helps him in his business, and subjects each new scent to the judgment of her highly discriminating nose.

Mission Locations Shown Baptist WMU

Using a large world map, Mrs. W. F. Taylor located mission fields served by missionaries whose names are listed on the prayer calendar for the First Baptist WMU at the meeting Monday.

Special prayer for those serving in the mission fields was offered by Mrs. V. W. Fuglar for the 34 members present for the business meeting.

Mrs. J. C. Pickle chose "Christ Has The Answer" for the devotion based on J. Edgar Hoover's assertion that to save our civilization and preserve our democracy we must return to the basic beliefs upon which our nation was founded and practice the profound truths preached by the Man of Galilee.

During the business session Mrs. M. F. Ray reported community projects of the circles that include providing clothing and food for needy families, visits to shut-ins in private and rest homes, cookies to the state hospital and refreshments to youth organizations.

Mrs. F. W. Beitle, jubilee chairman, stressed the importance of the leadership training course for all members. Mrs. T. K. Price, publications chairman, called attention of collectors of first editions to the mission books as well as magazines.

Mrs. C. H. Yater was elected YWA director to replace Mrs. Dean Dixon who is moving to Abilene.

Three missionary round tables are now operating according to Mrs. C. O. Hitt. This is a special reading program.

Joining the group as a new member was Mrs. R. L. Dodd. Dismissal prayer was offered by the president, Mrs. B. T. Faulkner.

Doesn't Worry

Paula Raymond has a new outlook on life and a radiant beauty since she licked the worry habit.

HOLLYWOOD BEAUTY

No Worry, Keep Busy For Important Tonic

By LYDIA LANE

HOLLYWOOD—Paula Raymond was put under contract at MGM because of her close resemblance to Myrna Loy. "I don't know why studios do that," Paula exclaimed. "At Columbia studios, there was a blond with a strong resemblance to Kim Novak. No one wants to be a look-alike. It's bad for your ego."

"I wasn't happy with my career," Paula confessed, "and when my long-term contract at MGM was over I decided to go to USC. Among other things I studied cinematography."

"Being busy is the best beauty tonic I know," she enthused. Paula could have sat around mooping because her big break hadn't come, but she didn't. She used her energy constructively. It gave a spark to her personality. TV talent scouts discovered her and in the past year Paula has worked every week with the exception of a short vacation.

"If you keep active, you don't have time to worry about what may happen, what didn't happen or what you want to happen. I don't believe in worrying and you can't practice what you don't believe in," she declared with twinkling eyes.

"I'm thinking of organizing a 'Worries Anonymous' club. Worry is a destructive force. At one point in my life I got myself into such a nervous state that my hands had the shakes. I love the piano, and I remember I started to play when I saw my fingers trembling and stopped. That did it. Shortly afterward I decided to forget about agents and my next job. I enrolled in college."

Paula doesn't wear any make-up base. Her skin was so clear that I asked about her complexion routine.

"I think make-up gets tired-looking at the end of the day, so I don't wear any," she replied. "I wash my face with an imported soap that is non-drying, after I take off the city dirt with a liquid cleanser. And I help nature keep my skin young with a cream that contains vitamins, hormones and a moisturizer. This is never greasy and seems to agree with my skin."

"I also use a mask, once a week, that contains almond meal, tincture of benzoin and honey. This is wonderful for my complexion," she concluded. Below is Paula Raymond's formula for her facial mask.

FORMULA FOR FACIAL MASK
2 tbsps. of almond meal (or plain old-fashioned oatmeal)
3 drops of tincture of benzoin
Enough honey to make a paste (about 1 teaspoonful)
6 drops of 20 volume peroxide
or 6 drops of witch hazel
Mix together well and spread over the face. Leave on until almost dry, then remove with warm water. Splash with cold water.

Jo Ann Howard Is Shower Honoree

MIDWAY (Sp.) — A Bridal shower honoring Jo Ann Howard, bride-elect of Donald Ritchey, was given at the Midway Baptist Church Friday. Miss Howard and Ritchey, students at Howard County Junior College are to be married next month.

Receiving guests with the honoree were her mother, Mrs. Thomas Howard; her future mother-in-law, Mrs. R. D. Ritchey of Loraine; her sisters-in-law, Mrs. Thomas Howard Jr. and Mrs. James Howard, and her aunt, Mrs. Emory Bean.

Decorations on the tea table carried out the wedding colors, green and white. Laid with a white lace cloth over green, the table featured a center arrangement of white carnations and greenery.

Guests were registered by Mrs. Wayland Holladay, and Claudine Pyle and Lena Zeitler presided at the serving table.

Hostesses were Mesdames J. D. Nix, Eva Gibson, Evelyn Holladay, Viccal Tennison, Sid Stanfield, Curtis Woodward, Keith Molt, Glen Esmond, Sol Cleveland, Wayne Smith, Clifford Beard, Roy Love, Howard Roberts, Arthur Riddle, Benchy Barron, Odie Williams and Billy Love.

Rainbow Theme Is Used At Westbrook

WESTBROOK—"Rainbow in the Sky" was the theme for the eighth grade graduation exercises here Thursday night. Those attending were welcomed by Louise Lewis. The class history was given by Donna Henderson; class prophecy by Don Bird and class will by Jessie Watson. "Under the Rainbow, We Go" was the address of Jamie Putnam, valedictorian. Presentation of diplomas was by Superintendent Herman Parsons. The principal, R. C. Hutchins, presented awards.

Visitors Attend Sands Baccalaureate Services

ACKERLY — End-of-school activities have attracted many visitors to Ackerly as well as visitors in the homes of relatives and friends.

Baccalaureate services at the Sands High School were attended by Jessie Ingram of Lamesa, who was visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Ingram.

Also present at the Sands ceremonies were Mr. and Mrs. Edd Criswell of Lamesa. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Clemmitt and son of Lamesa visited in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Curtis White.

Mr. and Mrs. Pete Grigg and son of Midland have been guests of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dolph Raspberry and Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Grigg.

In Lamesa for a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Ruben Vaughn have been Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Cozart. The Cozarts have had as their guests Mr. and Mrs. R. Z. Cozart of Dublin.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Middleton of Mesa, Ariz., have been the guests of Mrs. Myrtle Sikes and Mrs. Lillie Haworth during the past week. Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Glasscock and Jimmy of San Angelo have been guests in the home of the A. H. Smiths. Glasscock is presently superintendent of Tom Green County, but at one time was superintendent of the Ackerly schools. Other guest of the Smiths was Mrs. Hugh Mellon of Sherman. Mr. and Mrs. Junior Rhea and children of Denver City visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. F. Rhea recently and accompanied them to Odessa where the group visited the Morris Rhea family. Douglas Rhea returned to Ackerly to spend a week with his grandparents. Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Crain visited their daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Parker, in Stanton Sunday.

The Crains and Mrs. J. Archer attended funeral services Saturday in Big Spring for Mrs. Mary Reynolds.

Florida Voters Pick A Governor Today

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Florida voters decide upon a new governor today in a Democratic primary runoff election in which retiring Gov. LeRoy Collins' moderate approach to the racial problem was a key issue.

An estimated 800,000 Floridians were expected to turn out to choose between former House Speaker Farris Bryant, a firm segregationist, and State Sen. Doyle E. Carlton Jr., a moderate. Collins, who is expected to be named permanent chairman of the Democratic National Convention, made an election eve pitch for Carlton in a statewide TV talk in which he charged Bryant would lead Florida down the road of "reaction, retreat and regret."

The governor, ineligible to succeed himself, declared Carlton was best equipped in "attitude and dependability" to serve the people of Florida.

Bryant replied that Collins remarks about him were "ill-advised, ill-timed and untrue."

Bryant, 45-year-old Harvard-educated attorney from Ocala, was rated a slight favorite on the basis of solid strength in north and west Florida and strong support in such major cities as Jacksonville and Orlando.

Carlton, homespun 37-year-old Wauchula rancher, based his hopes on a strong turnout in this populous lower East Coast area and in the Tampa Bay area.

The winner of the Carlton-Bryant battle will take on Republican nominee George Petersen of Fort Lauderdale in the November general election. In Florida, Democratic nomination has been tantamount to election.

Kentucky Votes Today

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Balmly weather and short ballots greeted Kentucky voters today. But the congressional primaries lacked political luster and a light turnout was expected.

Most interest was in the race between Keen Johnson and John Y. Brown for the Democratic nomination for U.S. senator.

The winner likely will face Republican incumbent Sen. John Sherman Cooper, who faced only token opposition from Thurman J. Hamlin.

Observers viewed the Johnson-Brown race as the first political popularity test of Gov. Bert Combs' administration.

Johnson has Combs' backing; Brown has the support of the governor's political foe, former Gov. A. B. Chandler.

Brown, a prominent Lexington criminal lawyer, has close ties with organized labor, especially in the eastern Kentucky coal fields. Johnson, known for his frugality as Kentucky governor from 1939-43, is an executive of Reynolds Metals Co.

Dr. Morris Is UD President

DALLAS (AP)—Dr. Robert Morris, 45, New Jersey Republican, Monday night was named president of the University of Dallas by the school's board of trustees.

He is the second president in the four-year history of the Catholic institution which will graduate its first class this month.

The university's first president, Dr. F. Kenneth Brantley, resigned last year.

Morris, twice unsuccessful candidate for the Republican U.S. Senate nomination from New Jersey, was to fly to Dallas today. He has devoted considerable time to government service. He was chief counsel for the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee and was also minority counsel for the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

Morris taught Latin, Greek and government at St. Peter's Prep School in Jersey City from 1936 to 1939, when he was admitted to the New York State Bar.

Montgomery Visits

TOKYO (AP)—Field Marshal Viscount Montgomery arrived in Peking today to probe Communist China's role in world affairs. Peking radio reported he was greeted at the airport by Gen. Wang Shu-sheng, vice minister of national defense.

Caught!

With a police officer holding a gun on him, a burglar suspect dangles his legs from a hole in the ceiling of a Kansas City supermarket. The suspect, one of the three surprised inside the store, entered the building through a hole chopped in the roof, and tried to hide from police inside the false ceiling area.

Austin Couple Charged With Child Neglect

AUSTIN (AP)—Police Monday charged a young University of Texas couple with neglect in keeping their daughter in what one officer called "almost unbelievable filth."

Mr. and Mrs. S. V. Yocum, in their early 20s, were charged with failing to provide proper parental care and supervision for their 18-month-old daughter, Susan.

Yocum is studying for a doctor's degree in chemistry and his wife is working in one in mathematics. Charges were filed in Juvenile Court to enable the Probation Department to retain custody of the child while an investigation is made to determine if court action will be taken to terminate parental rights to the baby.

The apartment was in a state of complete disorder and filth. Garbage was piled up around the kitchen and the odor was such that it was difficult to breathe without becoming nauseated. Detective Conrad Wisian said in his report.

Chief Probation Officer Bill Anderson said officers who talked to the couple found them "emotionally dull" to the situation.

Police found the child in the darkness of the kitchen. Her clothes were covered with dirt and her hair matted with a collection of food and filth, said Anderson.

"The parents didn't seem aware of the circumstances," Anderson said. "I suspect the university students are under a great deal of emotional strain."

Anderson said the child was taken to Gardner House, the child care center of the Juvenile Department. She was given a bath and was found to be in good physical and mental condition.

MENTAL PATIENT

Steelworker Flees After Killing Two

COOPERSTOWN, Pa. (AP)—A steelworker recently discharged from a mental institution shot and killed his wife and a male neighbor early today near this hamlet about 100 miles north of Pittsburgh.

Armed with a 30-30 rifle, he then fled on foot into a nearby wooded area, touching off a widespread search.

State police said the dead were Vera Rose Shuffstall, 47, of Cooperstown, R. D. 4, and Harold DuPont, 42, also of Cooperstown R. D. 4.

State police were searching for Lloyd Shuffstall, 51, a part-time farmer. They said Shuffstall was discharged as a patient last Tuesday from Warren State Hospital.

State trooper Charles E. Scottson of the barracks at Franklin said a man phoned him early today identifying himself as Derald Shuffstall, a son of Shuffstall's.

The voice said: "Someone has been shot up in our house. Some of my relatives but I don't know who. You'd better send a car up here."

An ambulance was sent to the scene. The driver and his helper found Mrs. Shuffstall dead on the first floor of her farm home. DuPont's body was found lying beside his car on a muddy, dirt road about a half mile away.

The driver said someone fired a couple of shots at him and he drove off without picking up the bodies. The bodies were later recovered.

State police said Shuffstall laid logs across the rural road and shot DuPont when he stopped his car. He then went to his home and shot his wife.

Two Shuffstall children were in the house during the shooting. Neither was hurt.

Some 60 armed troopers, policemen, volunteer firemen and others searched for Shuffstall through the night.

Tornado Alerts Cause No Damage

By The Associated Press

Tornado alerts covered much of Texas Monday night but one by one the alerts were lifted without any damage reported.

A drenching 3.48 inch rain hit Beeville in Southwest Texas during a six-hour period and a vast hailstorm battered the sparsely settled range country north of Langtry on the Rio Grande about 80 miles southwest of San Angelo. No damage was reported in the area.

Highway Patrolmen and Texas Rangers said the hail piled up two feet deep in some places near Langtry.

Early Tuesday skies were cloudy in Central Texas and portions of Southwest Texas. The rest of the state had clear skies. Temperatures ranged from 81 at Daltart to 75 at Corpus Christi, Brownsville and Laredo. No rain fell early Tuesday.

Temperatures Monday hit 104 at Presidio and the low maximum was 80 at Corpus Christi, Less than 10 inch rain fell Monday at Childress, San Antonio, Victoria, Fort Worth and Palacios before 6 p.m.

The alerted areas Monday included wide sections of North Central and West Texas and for a time included the Dallas-Fort Worth region.

Thunderstorms were reported in areas near Wichita Falls and Childress and lightning flashed west of Denison.

Rocket Meeting

HEIDELBERG, Germany (AP)—A German rocket and space flight research convention opened Monday night with scores of scientists from East and West participating. Among the American participants are several scientists from the U.S. Army's Ballistic Missile Agency at Huntsville, Ala.

Cubans Report More Arrests

HAVANA (AP)—Cuban authorities reported early today a number of persons had been arrested near Matanzas on charges of plotting against the Castro government. Matanzas is about 60 miles east of Havana.

The reports said one of those arrested was a former captain in Castro's army, Arturo Castro Revillo.

Government sources said the counter-revolutionaries were all well armed and were captured in a cave about 20 miles southeast of Matanzas.

'Nervousness' Not In Text Books, Curable

By HALVARD T. HANSEN, D.C.

Gynecology textbooks are concerned with the diseases of women but you will search in vain for that disorder so common among women and generally termed "nervousness."

"Nervousness" is a word that means a general debility that affects not only the entire body, but also changes the personality and habits of the unfortunate man, woman or child suffering from its debilitating influences.

Our regular spinal analysis and X-rays located nerve interferences in her spine which resulted in faulty function of several organs.

After completing the required period of adjustments, she said, "Sleep okay now, tightness gone, stomach and bowels back to normal, and all other symptoms gone. Feel fine." This was several years ago... she is still enjoying good health. No. 217

Burns Works On County Zoning Law

Wayne Burns, county attorney, said that he would probably complete work on the new zoning ordinance for the Howard County Airport sometime today.

The zoning ordinance, which deals with the height of structures which can be erected on lands in the general area of the airport, was adopted by the Howard County Commissioners Court Monday.

The ordinance does not concern itself with the nature of buildings or other structures other than in connection with their elevation, Burns said. It differs from municipal zoning ordinances in this particular.

The Federal Aviation Agency, which cooperated with the county in building the airport, specifies that structures must not exceed certain altitudes in the vicinity of the airport. This ordinance is designed to comply with FAA requirements.

Dallas Has Big Increase

DALLAS (AP)—The population of Dallas and Dallas County increased more than 50 per cent in the past 10 years, the Dallas Morning News reported today in a copyrighted story.

The official Dallas population count is slightly in excess of 674,000 and Dallas County's population is just above 943,300, the News said. A few hundred persons remain to be counted.

The figures represent more than a 50 per cent growth for both the city and county since 1950.

In 1950 the city had 334,462 residents and the county had 614,799.

With the latest count, the News said, Dallas firmly entrenched itself as the second largest city in Texas.

While no preliminary estimate has been released by Houston's census bureau, Houston's Mayor Lewis Cutler has been told his city's population will "exceed 900,000."

San Antonio's preliminary total for 1960 is 534,471 and Fort Worth's is 356,140.

Cotton Nations Meet In Mexico

MEXICO CITY (AP)—About 500 representatives from 34 cotton-producing countries, gathered here for the 19th meeting of the International Cotton Advisory Committee, selected Mexican Secretary of Agriculture Julian Rodriguez Adame to preside over their talks.

Officially, the work of the conference is to start today when President Adolfo Lopez Mateos makes the inaugural speech.

Farley Offers Advice To Demos

LAWTON, Okla. (AP)—James A. Farley, former Democratic national chairman, has a word of warning for his fellow Democrats—don't get involved in a platform fight at the national convention.

Farley told a news conference Monday voters will elect a Democrat president if the party can avoid a fight over its platform at the Los Angeles convention.

The New Yorker expressed no preference among candidates for the Democratic presidential nomination, but said the New York delegation would probably vote for Sen. John Kennedy (D-Mass) Farley will be a member of that delegation. He predicted the nominee will be Kennedy, Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo) or Sen. Lyndon Johnson (D-Tex.).

Promoter Released

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—Boxing promoter Ralph Smith, 54, charged with assault to murder in the Sunday shooting of Ernest Broadway, 37, was freed on $2,500 bond Monday.

Polaris Goal Eludes Navy

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—A major goal of the Polaris submarine missile test program—a completely successful shipboard launching—still eludes the Navy.

A source reported the 28-foot rocket fired Monday was ejected successfully from the USS Observation Island and both stages burned normally, but that certain minor goals were not achieved.

Band Conductor's Brother Is Soloist At Local Concert

Thursday's school band concert will feature as guest soloist one of the leading trombonists of the country.

He is Lawrence Wiehe Jr., brother of Doug Wiehe, the Big Spring High School band director. Lawrence is trombone soloist and featured performer with the U. S. Navy Band in Washington, D. C.

He began his work with the trombone at the age of 4, and studied with the noted blind teacher, Mr. Hubert, in St. Louis. Lawrence was competing with high school students when he was still in elementary school.

His education was at NTSC, from whence he went into the Navy.

Doug's brother was a member of the musical expedition that accompanied President Eisenhower's South American trip, and was almost caught in the tragedy that thinned the ranks of the Navy Band. He was assigned to a contingent that stayed in Buenos Aires while the rest of the bandmen took off on the ill-fated plane for Rio.

Lawrence Wiehe's styling is officially classic, although he also is an accomplished jazz artist. For his program here, he plans to render a traditional version of "Believe Me If All Those Endearing Young Charms," a difficult piece for a trombone.

He will fly from Washington to Midland Air Terminal where Doug and his wife Donna plan to pick him up Wednesday. The guest will conduct a brass clinic Friday for students in the West Texas area, and will return to Washington Saturday.

This summer would be a good time, it seems to me, to organize the Big Spring High School Jazz Quartet.

Doug Wiehe usually holds summer band clinics which could be a springboard for such a quartet, and it could be sponsored by the band. Of course, strict auditions would be necessary if a jazz group is not to degenerate into a rock and roll combo. We have plenty of those around already, good enough for their purpose, but not designed for the art form that jazz has become.

How about it, Doug?

Ira Schantz has been telling it around that we badly need a public school choral program beginning in elementary school and carrying on into HCJC without a break.

He's absolutely right. We have a few public school music teachers already at work, but their efforts can only be spotty under the present setup. Doris Gambill, at Runnels, does some fine work, but the four-year lapse between junior high and HCJC negates practically everything she can teach her kids.

LAWRENCE WIEHE JR.

It is no secret, although not generally known, that Big Spring is loaded with talent. The community, in fact, has been the subject of at least two quiet and scholarly studies by sociologists, and one point that amazed these people was the ridiculous gulf between potentiality and reality.

Big Spring has contributed more than its per capita share of talent already, mostly in theatrical work, but the amount of wasted, undeveloped talent that passes by each year is tragic.

Mrs. Gambill tells me she will volunteer an hour a day at the high school if no choral director for BSHS is hired next year. The spirit is fine, but the effect is weak when spread between two schools.

There is still time to get in on the writers' conference at Corpus Christi, June 4-7.

This annual affair brings writers and would-be together with editors and publishers, as well as established authors, and is one of the biggest helps to beginners (and old hands) in the field. Information may be had from Dee Woods, 308 Katherine Drive, Corpus Christi, Tex.

It's been a long time since I heard "The Big Rock Candy Mountain."

As a young teen-ager, I used to wander off with a few cronies down to the hobo jungles in McCamey and Brady and hobnob with the travelling men. There, by the railroad tracks or under a bridge or behind an abandoned warehouse, we absorbed the wisdom of the road and stored away memories of a way of life that has gone its way.

There was the hobo who died of pneumonia, with a last request to hear "The Big Rock Candy Mountain" when he felt death was upon him. A colored man with a style of singing that went back into the ages took up the song, and his listeners wept as the singer closed his eyes and poured his soul into his music.

The dying hobo, suffering from hallucinations brought on by fever, rose up on his elbows near the song's end and repeated the phrases, "the jails are made of tin," "the women outnumber the men," and then collapsed, smiling, as if he had actually seen the legendary mountain.

The styling of the latest hit recording of "The Big Rock Candy Mountain" startled me, as if the platter's artist, Dorsey Burnette, had been there, too, nearly 20 years before.

And Dorsey Burnette, it seems, is a good example of the result of a long trend—a trend that began with the scattering of adventure into new musical forms, and the eventual recombination of new forms with contemporary, semi-classic and classic forms.

Burnette shows evidences in his singing of a strong Spanish Flamenco styling, combined with ancient Negro and modern jazz; and his accompaniment reflects a recombination of Latin American rhythm, various forms of jazz, and Flamenco guitar.

There are dozens of new songs coming out that reflect this trend in new styling. Most of them, naturally, are destined for eventual obscurity, but the artistry shown in some would indicate to the educated observer that American music has started on a pioneering mission that may create a world of music of which Bach and Beethoven never dreamed.

Kudos to the Tri-Tones, a talented combo which appeared at this month's state hospital party. The musicians received more applause from the patients than any group which has ever played there.

Time nears for the annual Big Spring pageant, and as usual, the girls are being coy.

For the benefit of those girls who might be unsure of entering, may it be duly noted that the rules have undergone some changes.

The personality interviews with the judges and emcees have been done away with, and the contest is now based on talent, poise and beauty. Three main sections of the revue remain—the talent exhibitions, the evening gown competitions, and the swim suit contest.

The point system is now arranged so as to give about 50 per cent of the gradings to talent.

A word here about the talent section. Practically anything that takes most any kind of talent is acceptable. Girls have won the Miss America title on the strength of cooking and sewing, as well as the usual song and dance routine. One Miss Texas winner's talent was horseback riding.

Many of the girls who entered last year's contest, and are still eligible, haven't entered this year. This is bad. What these girls apparently don't realize is that things change—there will be different judges, and the girls themselves continue growing both in beauty and in talent.

Dr. Teller To Teach, Research

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP)—Dr. Edward Teller, a key man in the development of the H-bomb, has resigned as director of the Lawrence Radiation Laboratory to devote full time to teaching and research.

He will become a professor at large in the statewide University of California, a post shared by another distinguished scientist, Dr. Harold Urey, now at U.C.'s La Jolla campus.

Succeeding Dr. Teller will be Dr. Harold Brown, 32, deputy director. The change is effective July 1.

Gideonse Urges Realistic View

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—It is high time we stopped talking about the good old days that never were and take a realistic view of education in this rapidly changing world, a college president said today.

Dr. Harry D. Gideonse of Brooklyn College told the National Congress of Parents and Teachers "our national weaknesses today are real and terrifying but they can be remedied in short order by crash programs if the will and the purpose can be found."

But, he said in a prepared address, "we are not dealing with the past that never was. We are dealing with a present that is even if some people are trying very hard not to see it."

For instance, he said, it is naive indeed to assume that education is only that which goes on in the school.

"Much more than in the past," he added, "Education is what goes on in the American culture as a whole." He cited "competitive advertising in the press and magazine and radio and television. Sadistic and violent dramatic sketches for six and eight-year-old children. Advertising designed to create a discontent with what you have, to make you reach out for more than you can immediately hope to attain."

Gideonse said "we have neglected our capacity for strength in defense so flagrantly that we would be unable to carry out an airlift to Berlin or fight a Korean war if any aggressor chose to test our national determination in that manner."

This weakness, he said, does not arise from the strength of the Soviets; it is our deficiencies that make the Soviets strong.
