Broadway Blackout Is Expected

NEW YORK (AP)—A blackout of all Broadway shows seemed certain tonight.

Producers began closing theaters after Actors Equity forced cancellation Wednesday night of the hit play "The Tenth Man."

A million-dollar damage suit by producers against Equity was set to be filed today.

Further negotiations were scheduled, but both sides appeared gloomy.

The cast of "The Tenth Man" attended a union meeting at curtain time instead of reporting backstage at the Booth Theatre.

The producers, represented by the New York League of Theaters, said the actors' failure to appear for the performance constituted a strike.

Late Wednesday night the league said notices will be posted on bulletin boards of all 22 Broadway houses informing the cast.

"Productions are suspended and will remain suspended until Equity tells us these stoppages will cease."

REPORT TO WORK
The union said it was directing actors to report for work at all theaters tonight half an hour before curtain time.

If the playhouses are closed, an Equity spokesman said, the actors will consider it a "lockout."

Closing of "The Tenth Man" was in line with Equity's announced plan to close one show at a time for one night at a time — unless new contract demands are met.

The old three-year contract expired at midnight Tuesday. Negotiations far past the deadline failed to end in any agreement.

The greatest stumbling block has been the union's demand for a pension plan.

The producers have said that if the union closed one show for one performance, all Broadway plays would close.

After performances of eight plays Wednesday night, cost members said they were notified that their shows were being suspended until further notice.

SUSPENSIONS TOLD
The actors said suspensions were announced at "The Best Man," "Five Finger Exercise," "West Side Story," "Take Me Along," "Once Upon a Mattress," "Dues of Angels," "Sound of Music," and "La Plume de Ma Tante."

Off-Broadway houses, road shows and summer theaters are not affected in the dispute. The league originally said shutdowns would apply to road shows, but reversed its position Wednesday night. Also not involved is the New York City Center Theater, which operates under a special Equity contract.

Equity, with a membership of about 11,000, has 1,000 members working on Broadway. Shutdowns also mean no work for 5,000 stagehands, electricians, musicians and others in allied stage trades.

Although Paddy Chayefsky's "The Tenth Man" was sold out for Wednesday night's performance, only about half the 809 ticket holders appeared at the theater. They were given a choice of taking refunds or using their tickets at any one of 13 other shows that were not sold out.

Two hours in advance of curtain time, contract talks between Equity and producers bogged down. Mayor Robert F. Wagner made a futile last-minute effort to produce an agreement.

Following are the principal issues:

Pensions: Equity seeks a plan financed by 1 per cent of a show's weekly payroll starting next October and rising each year until it reaches 4 per cent in 1965. The producers offer would make no pension contributions during the first year, with 1 per cent contributions the second and third years and 2 per cent for the succeeding three years. The offer would exclude all salaries over $500 a week.

Minimum pay on Broadway: Equity seeks $115 a week. The producers have offered $110. The present minimum is $103.50.

Minimum pay on the road: Equity seeks a raise from $135 to $160. It is asking $150 in the first year and $160 for the second and third years.

The producers have offered $145 a week.

Rehearsal pay: Equity seeks to raise the present $75 a week minimum to $100 the first year, $110 the second year, and $120 the third year. The producers are offering $80 the first year and $85 in the second and third years.

Second issue settled: Equity's demand for a boost in per diem living expenses outside New York. The producers have agreed to raise this from $7.50 to $10 a day.

How About It, Skipper?

Lana Lewis, one of the 34 hopefuls in the Miss Big Spring and Junior Miss Big Spring contest, holds up a Skipper pin which the contestants are selling. The pin entitles the wearer to special rates at the movies, the swimming pools, and special buys from local merchants, during the Aquennial today, Friday and Saturday. The girls are strategically placed at points over the city, so if you want to buy a Skipper pin you could hardly miss.

House Accounts Ordered Reopened

WASHINGTON (AP)—House expense account records were ordered reopened for public inspection today as a crackdown on improper spending went into effect.

The short-lived secrecy order was countermanded by Speaker Sam Rayburn (D-Tex.) in the wake of disclosure of apparent irregularities and indiscretions on the part of a few members in charging for expenses of "official business" trips.

Rayburn tied several conditions to his order to House Clerk Ralph R. Roberts that the expense records again be made available to newsmen. Hereafter, he directed, the records may not be photographed and may not be physically removed from the official files.

In addition, a representative of the clerk must be present while they are being examined.

Rayburn said these precautions were taken to protect the records. He emphasized that no attempt would be made to prevent newsmen from copying the records verbatim if they wanted to.

Roberts' order paddocking the files was issued about a week ago after a weekly magazine photographer was detected photographing them. Some of the files was seized but enough of it was retained to cause some congressional embarrassment when pictures from it were published this week in the magazine and a number of newspapers. Until that incident, the records had been available for inspection for years.

They disclosed, among other things, that House funds had sometimes been used to pay bar bills, hotel expenses for congressional wives, and the cost of parties at the expense of the taxpayers. Some of the records showed signs that the purpose of the expenditures had been altered.

The disclosures brought from Rep. H. R. Gross (R-Iowa) a new demand for consideration of his bill to require a detailed accounting of all spending of House expense funds. The bill has been bottled up in the House Administration committee.

Gross' proposal appeared to have little chance of getting anywhere.

To prevent a recurrence of abuses of House spending, chairman of committees soon will be told by Rayburn to scrutinize expense accounts more closely. The present system requires chairman to okay all expense accounts of traveling committee members and requires members to certify that the expenses were legitimate. Normally, a committee chairman accepts expense statements at face value and approves them.

Lyndon Bares Niki's Letter

WASHINGTON (AP)—Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev has written four Democratic leaders that the present U.S. government follows a "doctrine of aggression and provocation" which "was not created by the American people."

Khrushchev wrote that the Soviet Union will carry forward with a policy of peaceful coexistence.

"The present government of the U.S.A., unfortunately, has shown that it seeks not to improve the relations between our two countries but to destroy those positive results which were achieved in Soviet-American relations within the last year and especially as a result of our meeting and talks with President Eisenhower during my visit to the United States last September," he wrote.

"We know, however, that the doctrine of aggression and provocation now proclaimed by the government of the U.S.A. was not created by the American people, that it is not in line with the great democratic traditions of the American nation, traditions of Washington and Jefferson, Lincoln and Franklin D. Roosevelt."

The Premier's letter, dated May 30, was made public by Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, one of the Democratic leaders who wrote him just as the summit conference was collapsing in Paris May 16.

Johnson told the Senate, in making public the letter, that he regarded it as an "arrogant denial of the facts."

The senator noted Khrushchev in the letter renewed his charge that the United States had torpedoed the summit meeting.

Johnson said this statement came from a man "who walked out of Paris after refusing to negotiate on the basic issues of war and peace."

"The only thing that was 'torpedoed' at the summit conference was any confidence that the free world had in the desire of Communists to put an end to the cold war," Johnson said.

Mamie Reported Well In Hospital

WASHINGTON (AP)—Doctors report Mrs. Mamie Eisenhower is "responding to treatment and coming along quite well" in Walter Reed Army Hospital, the White House announced today.

Mrs. Eisenhower was hospitalized Tuesday with acute asthmatic bronchitis. She may remain in the hospital over the weekend, press secretary James C. Hagerty said.

Hagerty declined to give medical details of Mrs. Eisenhower's illness.

The First Lady has canceled plans to attend with the President his 45th class reunion at the U.S. Military Academy this weekend, Hagerty said.

Hagerty declined to give medical details of Mrs. Eisenhower's illness.

Peril At Summit Was Alert Cause

Elderly Man Ends Mental Ward Eternity

By DON REEDER
LOGANSPORT, Ind. (AP)—Henry Sullivan, sits in a little room on a shady street, looking out at a world he last saw as a free man in 1927.

"They kept me locked up and cheated me of my constitutional rights for 33 years," the 85-year-old man muttered.

And the State of Indiana admits Henry is right. Until his release Wednesday from Logansport State Hospital, Sullivan had been held in various prisons and mental hospitals without ever having been officially declared insane.

What terrible crime did Henry commit so long ago to earn such punishment? He stole $15 worth of brass junk.

A governor now dead many years transferred Sullivan by executive order to a mental hospital after Henry served the full length of his 1 to 14-year term.

Sullivan might be in custody yet, if he hadn't run away from the hospital two years ago and strode into the local courtroom to demand his rights. He finally got his freedom — conditional on a three-month period of convalescent leave spent boarding with an elderly woman who once ran a nursing home.

He'll get a $70 monthly pension, paying $65 of it for his board and room.

Henry doesn't like the strings attached to his release. He wants outright discharge, so that he can sue a railroad for the accidental death of his father in 1923.

But hospital officials think Henry will be back — probably within two weeks. They figure he has lived so long in state institutions that he won't be able to adjust to this streamlined, chrome-plated world of 1960.

Henry disagrees. He made that plain as he shuffled around the hospital grounds preparing to leave. Dressed in a gaudy sport jacket and heavy vest, his short collar turned up in Gay 90s style, Henry was the center of attraction and knew it.

Maybe Henry will make it on the outside. Maybe he won't. "Society has failed Henry and thousands of others like him by giving them only custodial care all those years," said Dr. Ernest J. Fogel, hospital superintendent.

If Henry were to be committed to a mental hospital today in the same condition he was 63 years ago, Dr. Fogel was asked, how long would it take to treat and release him?

"Six months," the doctor said.

Catholics, Red Cops In Clash

WARSAW, Poland (AP)—Roman Catholics and police battled Monday in a provincial capital in a clash set off by government attempts to take over a church building for a community center.

It was the second such outbreak in the Polish provinces within five weeks.

Church sources said Stefan Cardinal Wyszyński, head of the church in Poland, met today with his bishops and other advisers as news of Monday's religious outbreak at Zielona Gora spread.

Zielona Gora, a city of 50,000, before 1945 was the German town of Gruenberg, in Lower Silesia. After Poland took it over in 1945, it was settled by deeply religious Poles from the eastern territories taken over by the Soviet Union.

Roman Catholic sources gave this account of the clash:

Local authorities attempted to take over a building used by the church as a parish hall to convert it into a community center. Workmen were sent to begin remodeling the building Monday morning.

A group of women drove the workmen away.

Police arrived but could not cope with the crowd, which had grown to several hundred persons. The crowd hurled rocks at the outnumbered police.

The disorders continued throughout the afternoon. Police reinforcements from Poznan, 66 miles away, arrived early in the evening. The crowd had grown to about 5,000 persons, and the police had to use tear gas bombs to disperse them.

There were some reports of injuries and arrests.

Gates Acted When Outlook Worsened

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Defense Thomas S. Gates Jr. said today he called a military alert from Paris after he became aware Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev intended to wreck the summit conference.

Gates told the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, investigating causes of the collapse of the summit session, that he regarded his action as prudent.

"I consider the order proper and absolutely essential," Gates said in testimony taken behind closed doors and released after it was scanned by censors.

"In similar circumstances I would take exactly the same action," he said.

TIMING QUESTIONED
Some administration critics have questioned the timing of the alert order. They said the spy plane incident already had made it dubious whether the conference would be held. They added the alert only complicated the situation.

Gates said that on Sunday night, May 15, the U.S. representatives at Paris, headed by President Eisenhower, "were already aware of the sense of the statement Mr. Khrushchev was going to make the following morning."

"The conditions which he had set for his participation in the conference made it apparent even at the time that he deliberately intended to wreck the conference," Gates said. "This communications alert was not an act that was either offensive or defensive in character. It was a sound precautionary measure."

"It did not recall Army, Navy, Air Force and Marine personnel from leave. There was no movement of forces involved. However, I want to emphasize that it did make certain that if subsequent developments made necessary a higher state of readiness, such action could be taken promptly and convincingly."

Gates' testimony was expected to wind up four days of hearings by the Senate committee.

Gates said that because individuals concerned with making military decisions, including the President, the secretary of state and he, were overseas "it was important to check out our military communications."

He said that about midnight, Paris time, Sunday night, he requested that "a quiet increase in command readiness, particularly with respect to communications, be instituted without public notice, if possible."

CALLED ESSENTIAL
"While some commands went further in executing the instructions issued by the JCS as a result of my message than I had anticipated, I consider the order proper and absolutely essential," he said.

Gates said he assumed full responsibility for the alert.

As for the U2 flights, Gates said they had produced some valuable information for the defense program.

He said from such flights "we got information on airfields, aircraft, missiles, missile testing and training, special weapons storage, submarine production, atomic production and aircraft deployment and things like these."

"These results were considered in formulating our military programs."

Gates said the Defense Department gave technical advice on the U2 project, but that no military aircraft and no military pilots were used.

Responsibility for operation of the U2 program rested with the Central Intelligence Agency, he said.

Brothers Die When Stolen Plane Crashes

POMONA, Calif. (AP)—Two young brothers who had read a book on how to fly stole a plane today and flew it for 10 minutes. Then they crashed to their deaths in a screaming power dive.

Their small brown dog was killed with them.

The single-engine plane exploded and burned on impact. It just missed a group of houses, plunging straight into the ground at a school.

Only three weeks ago, police said, the youngsters tried to steal an airplane at the same field from which they took off just after midnight Wednesday. They said then they "would die trying" to fly.

The victims were James A. McDonald, 14, and Thomas, 12. Descriptions of the crash varied.

Police Lt. D.F. Archer said the boy at the plane's controls apparently "gunned it wide open" as it nosed toward the ground. A witness said it sounded as though the engine sputtered just before the fatal dive.

Police could not determine who was at the controls.

The boys were listed as runaways by their father on Tuesday.

On their earlier flying attempt they were caught by deputies as they taxied a light plane down the runway at Cable Air Field in nearby Claremont. Juvenile authorities handled the matter.

One boy said then he had read a book of flying instructions.

Walter Cable, operator of the airport, six miles from the crash location, said private planes left at the field usually are kept filled with fuel.

Work Going Smoothly On New Crippled Children's Building

Work on the new building for the Howard County Society for Crippled Children and Adults is progressing smoothly, according to E. C. Smith. He is coordinating work on the facility.

The concrete foundation was poured Wednesday and workers are waiting for it to set before continuing with brick work.

Meanwhile, more volunteers are coming forth to swell the list of persons participating in the community project. Roy Watkins, president of the International Union of Operating Engineers, said this morning that labor forces throughout the city are committed to put the building up in record time.

Watkins is coordinator of labor's part in the program.

Although no campaign is anticipated to raise money or assistance for the program, so far, it has not been necessary, residents who want to take part in the construction made do so by sending a check made out to the organization in care of the Chamber of Commerce or The Herald.

The walls of the building will probably begin going up Saturday and optimists predict the building will be completed within two weeks.

Added to the list of businessmen and labor forces who are working on the structure are:

Higginbotham - Bartlett Lumber Co., wire for the foundation.

Calco Lumber Co., wire for the foundation.

Curley Lumber Co., steel for the foundation.

Thompson Furniture Co., coordinating the acquisition of furniture.

Texas Concrete Block Co., Midland, donated the four and six inch concrete tile providing the eight inch tile at cost.

Continental Construction Co., ditch work.

Sunbeam Morrison, providing the brick.

Southwestern A-I Termite Control, exterminating work before the foundation was laid.

Texboro Cabinet Corp., Mineral Wells, providing the cabinets.

Davidson Floor Covering Co., lay the floor tile.

Western Glass and Mirror, providing steel casement windows.

Saunders Supply, providing bathroom plumbing fixtures.

Kaufman Roofing Co., laying the roof.

T&T Supply, giving additional brick.

Labor Leaders Plan Work

Checking the list of volunteers who will participate in the new Crippled Children's Building are, from left, Roy Watkins, president of the International Union of Operating Engineers; Frank Goodman, IUOE member; W. T. Roadie, president of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America; John J. Roemer, recording secretary of the Carpenter's Local and Howard County COPE chairman, Frank Parker, seated, is business agent of IUOE. Other labor groups participating in the construction include painters, bricklayers and electricians.

Police Finger Murder Suspect

EL PASO (AP)—New Mexico police believe they have established the identity of a man wanted in the murder of a Louisiana woman.

Sheriff Newell Ramsey of Tucumcari, N.M., said Wednesday an alarm was out in Louisiana for a 40-year-old man believed to be the "Ronnie" sought in the case.

Mei Hayes Jr., 4, told El Paso authorities earlier this week that "Ronnie shot mother and threw her in a ditch."

Mrs. Ruby Hayes of Marrero, La., was found shot to death last Saturday in a creek bed off U.S. 66, about five miles west of Tucumcari. The boy was found a few days earlier in an El Paso store.

Swim Party For Derby Lads Next Monday

Soap Box Derby boys will be treated to a swim party next Monday evening.

Sponsors of the big racing event will have the contestants together at the Cosden Country Club at 6 p.m. on June 6. Refreshments will be served, and the lads can have some fun in the pool.

The occasion also will serve as a check-period on boys' progress in completing their racers.

They are being urged to move along with their work, since preliminary inspection on the cars is set for June 18. That is less than two weeks away. All racers have to pass strict tests for proper construction, safety, good brakes, steering, etc.

The local Soap Box Derby is set for Thursday evening, June 23. It will be run again on the Lancaster Street track, running northward from 15th Street—lighted again this year.

There will be an array of local prizes for winners, and of course the champion carries Big Spring's colors to the All-America Soap Box Derby in Akron, Ohio, August 14, to run against boys from around the world, and try for a $5,000 college scholarship.

Murry Writes Show Biz Book

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The show biz books continue to flood the market. One of the better recent ones is Ken Murray's "Life on a Pogo Stick."

He is no confessional of the "How I Conquered Drink, Dope and Delinquency to Become a Star" school. It is an aptly named account of a comedian-showman's many ups and downs in the entertainment business. He has a natural pride in the ups but doesn't gloss over the downs—he quotes a New York review describing his "Blackouts" as "long, vulgar, unfunny."

The most fascinating part of the Murray saga is his personal life. Ken describes his early years with his beloved mother and pop and older brother Joseph, a stern man home only seldom. Ken was a teen-ager before he learned that mom and pop were actually his grandparents and Joseph, with whom he often argued, was his father.

Joseph was a vaudevillian who didn't want it known he had a growing son. He had been divorced from Ken's mother and figured the boy would have a more normal upbringing with his grandparents acting as his real mother and father. Ken's story of his search for his mother is a poignant tale.

"Jessel anyone?" is the title of a new volume and if your answer is yes, George has a pleasant package for you. The veteran entertainer offers a chatty discourse on a variety of things and throws in a variety of jokes, some old, some new.

The most valuable part of the book is Jessel's advice to public speakers. Having operated over more chickens-a-laying than any living person, he is well qualified.

Mental Health Group To Hear Dr. Southern

Dr. Paul Southern, head of the department of Bible and Religious Education at Abilene Christian College, will be the speaker for the annual membership meeting of the State Mental Hospital Development Association.

The meeting is set for 7 p.m. Monday at West County Park Auditorium in Odessa. There will be an informal barbecue ($1.50 per plate) and reservations should be made through Mrs. Estelle McDonald, secretary, 5164 N. Texas (FE 2-1813), Odessa, not later than Saturday evening. No reservations are necessary for those who wish to hear the speech at 8 p.m.

Dr. Southern will speak on "The Church and Mental Health." Dr. Southern is past president of both the Abilene and Texas Associations for Mental Health and he is immediate past president of the Abilene Council on Alcoholism.

Besides his duties at Abilene Christian College, he also serves as minister of the Woodlawn Church of Christ in Abilene. He manages also to serve as counselor on personal, marriage and family problems.

Methodists Lash Critics, Liquor Lobby

DALLAS (AP)—Delegates to the North Texas Methodist Conference have adopted strongly worded reports condemning attackers of the National Council of Churches and calling on churchmen to fight the influence of liquor lobbyists on the State Legislature.

Delegates heard the most spirited debate of the four-day conference Wednesday night over a report from the Commission on Social and Economic Concerns.

The report was directed mainly against those who have charged that the National Council is infiltrated by Communists.

"We should distinguish between constructive criticism of the councils and the church, always welcome, and the patently destructive efforts of the MacIntires, the Bundys, the Lowmans, and the Landrums—whose apparent aim is not to amend but to ruin," the original report said.

Dr. Lewis Stuckey, Dallas pastor, urged the conference to delete the names and "stick to the issues." He added that it was unfair to call names without giving the persons a fair hearing.

Dr. Bxton Bryant of Dallas replied that most people identified the attacks with certain names. "They have not hesitated to call our leaders by name," he said.

MOTION DEFEATED

Delegates defeated Dr. Stuckey's motion to omit the names from the report. They reconsidered after a warning from Dist. Supt. Henry Moad that a libel suit might tie up all the conference funds through a long court fight.

The conference adopted a suggestion from Dr. Albert C. Outler, chairman of the Commission on Social and Economic Concerns, to place both the original report and the amended report into the minutes.

The report deplored what it called "the foolishly false accusations of defective patriotism and probity of Bishop (William C.) Martin, President (Willis) Tate and Southern Methodist University."

Delegates approved a report from the Board of Temperance against the State Supreme Court's decision which it said allows cities and precincts within a dry county to vote wet. Methodists were urged to seek more favorable liquor laws from the Legislature which, they said, "in the past has been controlled by the liquor lobby."

Dr. Stuckey said "Liquor is as great a threat from within as Communism is from without."

The conference also approved a state-wide capital funds campaign that will give the major share of the proposed $22 million goal to Southern Methodist University and heard a report that the 20-county conference has added 12,249 new members during the last year. This brings the total membership to 140,670.

Texas Projects Get Approval

WASHINGTON (AP)—Legislation authorizing new river and harbor projects in Texas costing $32,158,000 won Senate Public Works Committee approval Tuesday.

New navigation and flood control items and river basin authorizations boosted the estimated total nationwide cost under the Senate-approved measure to $1,547,016,352.

This compares with a $658,310,500 total in an omnibus rivers and harbors authorization bill the House passed last July. It included many projects covered by the Senate measure.

If the full Senate approves, the House still must concur on the scores of additional projects. Texas projects in the bill are: Navigation—Brazos Island harbor $4,381,000; Texas City channel $1,615,000.

Flood control—Guadalupe River basin, Bladders Creek $1,060,000; Big Fossil Creek $1,861,000; Fort Worth floodway $2,241,000. River Basins—Brazos $21,000,000.

CPA Testifies He Dropped Firm Over 'Discrepancies'

DALLAS (AP)—A certified public accountant testified Wednesday that he dropped an investment firm account after he noticed discrepancies between its claim in a stock prospectus and the income tax return for the firm.

Accountant Marcus Wright said the 1955 income tax return for Texas Professional Investment Corp. showed a loss of nearly $14,000 but that their prospectus claimed they "were in good financial shape . . . so I dropped the account."

Wright was one of four witnesses called in the federal court trial of ex-state Sen. Robert L. Proffer, 49, a one-time president of the Texas Teachers Assn. and professor at North Texas State College, and Hollis L. Adkison, 41, a Fort Worth lawyer. The men are being tried on charges of defrauding Texas school teachers of more than $100,000.

According to the indictment, Texas Professional Investment Corp. is one of the firms Proffer and Adkison and five others used in carrying out the alleged scheme.

Four other defendants pleaded guilty Saturday before U.S. Dist.

Judge T. Whitfield Davidson. They are Jim W. Crofford, Memphord M. Winn, J. Ray Williams and Arthur Lee Huntington. They will be sentenced after the trial.

William L. Phillips of Louisville, Ky., the other defendant, obtained continuance until the next term of court.

U.S. Atty. W. B. West III told the jury of 11 men and one woman that the indicted men sold stock in the company on a pretense of making automobile loans to school teachers.

He said that "of the loans they made, 21 were to each other, nine to their own stock salesman, two to their friends. Only seven actually appeared to be to outside borrowers."

The trial is expected to last about two weeks.

'Voice' Told Him To Kill Roomer

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Theodore Shaynick, 40, walked into police headquarters and told officers he had stabbed to death a fellow roomer because a voice commanded him to kill. He turned over a 2 1/2-inch blade.

Officers went to the rooming house and found Paul Hankiewicz, 33, lying dead in a second-floor hall. He had been stabbed 30 to 40 times.

Shaynick was charged with homicide.

Stamps In The News

By SYD KRONISH
AP Newswriters

The 4-cent Pony Express Centennial envelope design will be similar to the commemorative stamp honoring the occasion. Both will be issued on the same date—July 19. The envelope will be first placed on sale at St. Joseph, Mo. The stamp gets first day honors at Sacramento, Calif.

The reason for the difference between the stamp and the stamped envelope is that the envelope is embossed and thus necessitated modification in the placement of lettering. The Pony Express rider nevertheless remains the dominant theme.

Fifty million envelopes have been ordered and will be distributed to post offices for sale (5 cents apiece) on and after July 19.

Collectors desiring first day cancellations of the envelopes may submit their orders to the Postmaster, St. Joseph, Mo., indicating full names and addresses to whom the 4-cent envelopes are to be sent, together with a remittance of 5 cents per envelope.

Brazil honored its new capital city by issuing a set of five new stamps. The 2.50 cruzeiros green shows Alvorado Palace Column, 3.30 or purple National Congress, 4 or blue Cathedral 6.30 or red Brasilia Tower, and 11.50 or brown Brasilia Airport.

For those who collect coins, there is an interesting bit of new emanating from Israel. The latest Israeli commemorative coin honoring Theodor Herzl will be issued in limited quantities. The Herzl coin, fifth in a series of Israeli commemorative coins, will be available in two forms—the regular coin and the proof coin. The quantity issued of the regular coin will be 50,000. But only 5,000 of the proof coin will be made with only 2,000 allotted for distribution in the United States.

France has issued a 20 franc stamp commemorating the 140th anniversary of the first Normal School at Strasbourg. A school teacher and students appear as the basic design of the adhesive.

Luxembourg has issued a 5 franc blue stamp honoring the First European School set up to provide education for the children of the officials of the European Coal and Steel Community. The design features six pupils in the foreground with hands clasped.

Methodists Seek To Establish More Churches

DALLAS (AP)—Methodist churchmen were told Tuesday night that the number of their churches had decreased in 18 years while other churches increased their number.

The Rev. Walter Towner, of the General Board of Education in Nashville, Tenn., told the North Texas Conference the number of Methodist churches decreased 7 per cent. During the 18 years all denominations increased the number of churches by a joint 27 per cent.

Bishop William Martin said Methodists must establish new churches to keep pace with the growing population or the denomination cannot remain the nation's largest.

He said that unless the church carries out its quadrilateral emphasis on evangelism "We're going to confess to ourselves and the world that we've lost the vitality God gave to Methodism."

Dr. E. R. Barcus of Wichita Falls proposed that $100,000 be spent each year for "conference advance" projects in the next four years.

Dr. Barcus, chairman of the conference's administrative council, proposed that $60,000 of the first year's $100,000 be used to provide "adequate support" for retired ministers.

Contrast Is Startling In S. African Life

By SAUL PETT
DURBAN, South Africa (AP)—Durban is a big modern city on the Indian Ocean.

It has tall office buildings and electronic calculators and glassy hotels and cars, hi-fi sets and smart shops and movies and sophisticated night clubs and stately white women (whose children are being cared for by loving African "nannies") hurrying off to the veranda of Claridge's for gin slings and blue-eyed Englishmen and square-faced Afrikaners in crested blazers hurrying off to their "bowls", their tennis, their golf.

Just 30 miles to the south is Zulu warriors who still form war parties as big as 2,000 and fight and maim and kill each other with spears, clubs, knives, smuggled guns and evil spirits.

Just six miles to the west it has one of the world's ugliest urban slums.

The contrast need to be understood in any picture of South Africa's tense racial problems.

10 ACRES TO A FAMILY
South of Durban, I visited the Umlazi reserve, where about 90,000 Zulus live on 200,000 acres. Generally, the natives here work in sugar cane fields, each family being allotted 10 acres by the government. Government officers help with the planting and marketing and the schooling of the young.

The reserve is administered by whites. Punishment for minor theft and simple assault is dealt with by local tribal chiefs. All other crimes are tried before white magistrates.

Fights flare up often, over a girl or a beer or a report that one chap had sent an evil spirit to another. In the last fight, the war parties were summoned by cow horns and marched to the roll of native drums for the attack. In all, 90 huts were burned, five natives were killed and scores slashed.

The Zulu warrior may be relatively uncivilized but he's no fool. He takes his women with him to war. The girls carry the food and the milky native liquid called Kafir beer.

MOST STILL PAGAN
Those who became Christians and married in church have but one wife. But most are still pagan, polygamous and devout believers in witchcraft and medicine men. Many Zulus have five wives each. Some men have as many as 45 children.

The Zulus form little family settlements called kraals on the lush rolling country near the Indian Ocean. They live in round dried-grass huts reinforced by sticks and over the door they hang cow horns to ward off evil spirits. The wives and children share huts. Each husband has his own — to avoid jealousy.

All wives help with the cooking of food—using a corn meal—and the brewing of beer, but all wives take orders from the first wife. The wife must first taste the beer or food she has prepared for her husband. A man can't be too careful.

DOUBLE MEDICINE
They go to white doctors but to be doubly safe they also get animal fat, herbs, dried bats, empty ostrich eggs and a host of other products from medicine men for luck and health. They sacrifice cattle for the dead and to show their appreciation for recovery from an illness or knife wound, they slaughter a white goat or lamb.

The Zulus believe in "Tokolosh," a little invisible man who can be sent from kraal to kraal to punish an enemy. Recently government officials found a Zulu who had been hiding in the sugar cane fields for three weeks because he thought "Tokolosh" was after him.

I talked with Charles Hengwa, 48, a chief who speaks English and lives better than most. He has 20,000 subjects, but only one wife.

"However, I am negotiating for another," said Hengwa, who wore a broad smile, khaki shirt and pants but no shoes. "One wife is not enough. After all, I'm still young. Besides I don't have servants. I need more wives to take care of me."

ODD CUSTOMS

On the next knoll in the next kraal live the chief's brothers and their wives. Each has at least two. The women generally go bare-chested, wear European skirts but bury their ankles and wrists in beads and stiffen their hair into ringlets with animal fat and earth. They like the odor of old animal fat.

The men have beds in their huts. The women don't do so well. In one, which is about 20 feet across, 20 women and children eat from clay pots in the middle of the clay floor and sleep on thin, straw mats.

In another native reserve, I talked with a head man named Madiye Dhlala, who wore sideburns, wildcat tails, a cowhide skirt and huge discs cut into the lobes of his ears.

DIPLOMATIC FATHER

His bare-chested daughters begged for money. Dhlala asked me not to give them any, that if I wanted to make any donation, give it to him and avoid a family quarrel.

The native reserves we visited seemed quiet and peaceful. Then we headed back toward Durban, and just west of the city came on the terrifying slum called Cato Manor.

Here 50,000 urban Zulus live in incredible filth and congestion. The government has tried to clean it up, build new housing, but it has a long way to go.

Natives live here in piles of metal sheets thrown together to form tiny shacks where 8 or 10 human beings may share a house no bigger than 10 by 15 feet. There are no lights, no plumbing, no pavements.

Goats, chickens, dogs, pigs, cows vie with humans for space in the narrow dirty alleys. The odor of animal, human and decaying vegetable waste rises in an oppressive cloud. Over it all, the constant noise of human and animal traffic rises in a steady loud hum and cater-wauling like the cacophony of a restless menagerie.

VISTA OF TERROR

But the visitor can't help thinking that one day these Africans may rise from all the Cato Manors, all the good and bad native locations of South Africa, and march on the whites and there won't be enough armored cars to stop them and the white man will go down in a long, black night of screaming, unimaginable terror.

29 Teen-Age Volunteers Participate In VA Program

through the Red Cross, the Gray Lay organization, personal interviews at the high school and newspaper publicity. Thus a program which began as sort of an accident last year, swelled in size by seven times this year, and the program is now used in all Veteran's Administration Hospitals, totaling 173.

DEPARTMENTS The various department heads and their topics were Bessie Love, chief nurse, Nursing Service; Gwynn Molzahn, staff dietitian; Dietetics; Mr. P. Hanigan, chief of Registrar Division, Registration of Patients; Rex Bishop, chief of Corrective Therapy, Physical Medicine and Rehabilitation; Tolford H. Durham, chief of Social Work Service, Social Service; Mrs. Ara Cunningham, director of volunteers, Volunteers - Responsibilities Services.

WORKERS ASSIGNED The junior volunteer workers are assigned to assist regular workers in one of several divisions. They are eligible to work in Nursing, either on the wards or in central supply. Dietetics, Occupational Therapy, Corrective Therapy, Recreational Therapy, Social Service or the office of Registrar, where they keep records on eligibility of patients and do secretarial chores.

ENTHUSIASTIC Officials at the hospital are highly enthusiastic about the teen program. In the words of Manager V. J. Belda, "Young people are like a breath of fresh air. They have a great deal of enthusiasm for the work. Many of them want to go into some branch of medicine or social service, and here they gain valuable experience in these fields. They are giving of their time freely, and the good they do the patients is invaluable. They deserve to be recognized for it."

PROGRAM EXPLAINED In their orientation and indoctrination program on Wednesday, the group learned about the hospital's care and treatment program for the patients and they were told of the part they play in the program. Discussions by heads of the various hospital departments told them of the proper approach and attitude necessary in working with the patients and the rules and regulations which they must observe as volunteers.

Steaming Orioles Add To Lead With 4-1 Win

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Staff Writer
Those bustling Baltimore Orioles have a 2½ game lead in the American League, the biggest bulge of the season in the majors, now that old pappy guy Hal Brown has shown the kids how it's done.

The lean right-hander permitted just one hit—Mickey Mantle's first-inning home run—while beating the New York Yankees 4-1 Wednesday night. It was Brown's first one-hitter in a 10-year career, and rookie Ron Hansen's three-run homer in the fifth inning made it pay off for the Birds' sixth victory in seven games.

Baltimore gained half a game over the second place Cleveland Indians, who were rained out at Kansas City, and stayed 3½ games ahead over Chicago's defending champion White Sox. The Sox whipped Detroit 6-0 behind southpaw Frank Baumann, who gave up four hits in the first shut-out of his six-year career. Boston's two-night doubleheader with Washington was rained out. Brown, now 4-1 with his second victory over the Yankees, walked

Cruise Is Signed To Denton Letter

DENTON, (SC) — Jimmy Coaker of Corsicana and Larry Cruise of Howard County Junior College and Pampa have signed basketball letters of intent to enroll at North Texas State in September. Cruise, a 6-3 guard who played high school ball at Pampa had a 15-point average with Howard County, a team that gained the national junior college championship tournament. Cruise will join the varsity next season as a transfer.

two, struck out three and was perfect over the last 5 2-3 innings. He gave up both walks to Mantle and Yogi Berra, in the fourth inning, but escaped by getting Bob Cerv to hit into a doubleplay, the 55th by the Birds.

The Orioles, who also have won 10 of their last 12 and 15 of 21, managed only four hits off loser Duke Mans (0-1) and reliever followed a walk and a throwing error by Maas. The 22-year-old shortstop also scored the other run after getting a walk in the seventh. He came around on Gabler's wild pickoff try and a single by Marv Breeding.

Baumann, now 6-0 lifetime against the Tigers, failed to strike out a man, but walked just one and faced the minimum 12 men over the last four frames while sending Detroit to a fifth straight loss. Gene Freese drove in four runs for the White Sox, three with a homer in a four-run ninth against reliever Tom Morgan.

They had only three hits in eight innings off loser Jimunning (1-3) but clumped three of them in the fifth for two runs on singles by Minnie Minsos and Freese that sandwiched Stern Lohr's double. Earl Torgeson also homered in the ninth.

Charles Burdette and Kirby Horton combined to pitch the Cardinals to a 7-1 National Little League victory over the Devils here Wednesday night.

Burdette, who worked the first three innings on the mound for the Cards, received credit for the win.

Burdette had two of the Cards' four hits while Horton and Jimmy Winn accounted for the others. In the minor league game, the Hawks, went on a rampage, winning by a score of 27-9 over the Cubs.

Pirates Stall Cabots Wednesday

A last-inning surge toward victory fell short Wednesday night for the Cabots as they fell to the Pirates, 9-6 in an American Little League contest.

P. Bartlett and W. Ballou also had a pair of hits for the losers. Frank Sabbato led the Pirates' 13-hit attack with two singles and a double. Bellamy stroked a single and a homer for the winners. David Lambert was the winning pitcher.

Bengals Oppose Nederland In State Baseball Tourney

AUSTIN (AP) — The State Schooel Baseball Tournament began today with a game between two rookies in the meet, Seguin and Kilgore.

Nederland plays Snyder in the second Class AAA game and the big cities compete tonight with Fort Worth Paschal against undefeated San Antonio Harlandale and Midland against Houston Belaire in Class AAAA.

Fred Neely, with a remarkable 15-0 season record, will open for Nederland, a slight favorite for the title. Neely, a 5-foot, 9-inch righthander, made the all-tournament team last year as a first baseman. Catcher-pitcher George Devries is slugging at a .494 clip.

Pitcher-outfielder Ronnie Jones leads the Snyder attack with a lustrous 453 batting average while sophomore outfielder Spencer Dyer has a .349 average. The Tigers have four strong pitchers in Jones, Norman Gladson, Fred Miller, and Charles Gladson.

Six of Snyder's 13 losses were to Class AAAA foes. Seguin, winning its first district title in any sport in years, has been a clutch club all through the playoffs and the later stages of its district race. Coach Bill McEldeuff will send righthander Charley Hartenstein in the opener.

Big hitters for Seguin are first baseman Joel Tigert (.480), catcher Yank Camarillo (.333), shortstop Robert Kramer (.348) and third baseman K. Doerr (.265). Seguin ousted defending state champion South San Antonio in hi-district.

Kilgore sports fine clutch pitchers in Bob Schuman, who hurled a two-hit regional victory, Jimmie Carpenter, Jimmy Crouch, Max Beck and Tommy Tilton. Leading hitters are catcher John Skeeters (.441), shortstop Roger Minor (.346) and second baseman Dickie Welch (.328).

Last Of Installations For Olympics To Open

By DOMENICO GIORDANO
Associated Press Sports Writer
ROME (AP) — The modernistic new Olympic Sports Palace will be inaugurated Friday, marking completion of all major installations for the summer olympics.

The round, glass-enclosed palace—situated on a hillside south of Rome—is one of the most spectacular of many spectacular sports plants erected in Rome for the Olympics.

It will be the main site for the basketball and boxing events of the games opening Aug. 25. About 15,000 spectators will be able to watch the games and matches in air conditioned comfort.

The palace is considered by the Italian organizers as the main Olympic installation after the big Olympic stadium, which was completed almost 10 years ago—even before Italy knew for sure that the 1960 games would be held here. Italy's Olympic Committee has spent more than $30,000,000 on the games so far, and a tenth of the amount has gone into the sports palace.

The opening of the sports palace gives the committee something to celebrate. Every major sports center undertaken for the games is now in working condition. Besides the sports palace, these include:

The Olympic Stadium: with its capacity of 100,000, it will be the scene of the opening and closing ceremonies, the track and field events and probably the soccer final.

The Swimming Stadium: this is a $1,200,000 installation complete with swimming pools surrounded by pine trees, and terraces and restaurants.

The Little Sports Palace: Another modernistic indoor sports plant seating 3,500. It will be used for weight lifting events. It is an unusual concrete structure, looking like a saucer turned upside down.

The Flaminio Stadium: A 50,000-seat stadium built especially for soccer matches. It has been in use for more than a year. The Olympic Velodrome: This 20,000-seat stadium for bicycle events has a high-speed wooden track. It was opened earlier this year.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Big Spring's fleet R. L. Lasater finished fifth in the 100-meters run in the Gulf AAU meet at Houston last Saturday night. Quite probably, he would have fared better had he tightened one of the blocks off which he exploded.

As it was, his foot gave way in his takeoff and the uneven start might have influenced his entire run. Even so, both his coach, Curtis Kelley, and Bob Grosschloss, the Abilene mentor, clocked him in 10.3, well within the time needed to qualify for the Olympic trials.

Even with the uncertain start, Lasater had a slight lead at 90 meters and was only three yards back at the finish. He was working under a handicap, too, because he had worked out only three times after the May 6-7 State Meet. More so than any other athlete, perhaps, a sprinter must stay finely tuned.

Stone Johnson, a Negro lad from Grambling College, La.; Jimmy Weaver, who ran in that Race of the Century here against Dave Sims and Bobby Morrow two years ago; Andy Anderson of Houston; and Pat Garrett, running unattached, finished ahead of R. L. in that order.

Lasater was featured in a four-column feature in one of the Houston papers prior to the meet. He was projected as "The Bobby Morrow of tomorrow" by Art Casper, the writer.

The Kick Gauge, the starting-block device being manufactured by Elmer Tarbox of Big Spring, was given credit for bringing Lasater to the fore as a sprinter. R. L. long was a notoriously poor starter but the Kick Gauge, which Tarbox will market throughout the world, gets him away in a hurry.

The Big Spring High School junior has shaved an average of about .2 of a second off his timing in-the-century since switching to the Kick Gauge. Tarbox, by the way, was on hand to watch Lasater run in Houston.

Another viewer from the stands was R. L.'s sister, who came over from Louisiana to see her kinsman test his wings against the college boys.

The state of California may have to dig up upwards to $250,000 to pay for all the bills still outstanding against the Winter Olympics, staged at Long Beach, Valley.

Many an observer warned the state in advance that the games should never have been booked for so remote a place. Jan Loudermilk, the Big Spring basketball player attending SMU, probably will spend the summer in construction work in St. Paul, Minn.

His mother and younger brother reside there. At 220 pounds, Gary Pickle will be the biggest Big Spring High School footballer in camp next fall. Tom Roberts and Bill Gillespie are other local gridgers who will hit 200 pounds or more.

The Steers will spend a lot of time on their own this summer practicing agility drills—moving out in any direction in a hurry. The inability to break fast seemed to be their chief weakness in their intra-squad game here the other night. If they learn to explode at the right time, they could be hard to handle this fall.

Owners of the Oakland AFL (football) team reason they need a paid attendance of 32,000 a game next season to break even, financially.

Late Rally Wins For T-Birds

Trailing 8-7 going into the final frame, the T-Birds put on a 10-run rally Wednesday night to drop the Rockets, 17-8, in an International Little League battle.

Johnny Mercer blasted a three-run homer and Billy Hornberg had four singles to lead the winners' attack. James Young and Ronald McPherson had two-baggers for the T-Birds.

Gary Leath and John Rzaza led the Rockets' assault with a pair of doubles each. Mercer was credited with the win.

Rugged Road Trip Ahead For Pittsburgh Corsairs

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer
Bob Friend, a 22-game winner in 1958 and a 19-game loser last season, definitely is back in business with Pittsburgh. But the big question now is whether the Pirates can stay in business on a 17-game, three-week road trip.

Friend won his sixth, putting away his third shutout with a three-hitter, as Pittsburgh defeated Cincinnati 5-0 Wednesday night. It was the fifth straight success for the Pirates and left them 1½ games ahead of San Francisco in the National League race as they closed a 104-home stand.

Now all the Pirates have to do is to keep rolling on the road trip that opens at Philadelphia Friday night.

2-Year-Old Races On Tap At Ruidoso Downs Friday

RUIDOSO, N. M. (SC)—With the nation's top quarter horse and thoroughbred two year olds gathered at the Downs for some of the world's richest races, Ruidoso has carried a sparkling array of two-year-old races for Friday with the juveniles nominated for the All American Futurity well-sprinkled throughout the program.

Nearly 200 of the finest two-year-olds in the racing world have assembled at the Downs this year for Kansas Futurity; the New Mexico Futurity; the Ruidoso Quarter Horse Futurity; the Ruidoso Thoroughbred Futurity and last but not least, the world famed All American Futurity, all scheduled for the summer season.

More than $200,000 in purses will be offered in just these races alone. Already many of these youngsters have successfully campaigned in Arizona, California, Texas and in previous races this year at the Downs.

While Friday's card may find many first starters parading post-ward in both the thoroughbred and quarter horse events, any devoted racing fan is sure to recognize the merit of even the most inexperienced by their fine breeding and the racing stables from which they are starting.

So well balanced are many of these races it would be seemingly impossible to single out an individual thoroughbred or quarter horse to call a stand-out in a race. The thoroughbred feature, the Rio Ruidoso, finds seven of the better middle distance sprinters competing at the seven furlong route. Dancing Deedie, with a pair of brackets to show for her last outing, looks like a sure favorite in this short but select field. While the 116 lbs. she has drawn put her among the top weighted horses in the race, the distance seems to her liking. Floor Girl from the stable of E. L. Jones, must draw some consideration for her two wins this year while Idle Rumor, another winner of two in 1960 must be considered.

The Pirates beat ex-mate Bob Purkey (3-2) with two runs in the first, when Dick Groat doubled between singles by Don Hoak and Rocky Nelson. Roberto Clemente doubled home two more in the third. Hoak, Groat and Bob Skinner singled for the final run in the seventh.

The Giants stayed close with a 2-1 decision over Chicago's Cubs, breaking a 1-1 tie on winning pitcher Sam Jones' two-out double in the ninth. Milwaukee regained third from Cincinnati with a 6-3 victory at Philadelphia. St. Louis rapped Los Angeles 5-2.

Friend, who has lost two, struck out six and walked just one while giving the Pittsburgh staff its first complete game in a dozen tries. All of the Reds' hits were singles.

The Pirates beat ex-mate Bob Purkey (3-2) with two runs in the first, when Dick Groat doubled between singles by Don Hoak and Rocky Nelson. Roberto Clemente doubled home two more in the third. Hoak, Groat and Bob Skinner singled for the final run in the seventh.

The Giants had a 1-1 tie, but had only two hits off losing lefty Dick Ellsworth (2-2) with two out in the ninth. Then Bob Schmidt singled and Jones, after watching his mates leave seven men on base, ended it with the two-bagger. Jones (6-4) allowed five hits and struck out seven, losing a shutout in the fourth when Ernie Banks singled and Ed Bouchee tripled.

Milwaukee, 6½ games behind the Pirates, scored the clincher against Robin Roberts (1-7) on Wes Covington's solo home run in the sixth inning. Covington and Joe Adcock, who regained the NL bat lead from Clemente at 356 with two hits, each drove in two runs. Bob Buhl (4-2) gave up 10 hits.

Ken Boyer upped his major league leading home run total to 13 and drove in two runs for the Cardinals. His single and Daryl Spencer's two-run double brought St. Louis from behind in a three-run fifth against loser Sandy Koufax (1-6). Winning reliever Bob Duhba (3-2) and Lindy McDaniel blanked Los Angeles on six hits after rookie Ray Sadecki gave up two runs.

Kent Oil Shades Campbell's, 13-3

Kent Oil won its ninth game in 11 Texas Little League starts by defeating Campbell's 13-3, here Wednesday night.

Ronnie Roberts pitched the win, giving up only four hits to the losers.

Fred Jara combed the offerings of Ben Montabaz, Campbell's hurler, for four hits, including a double. Pat Martinez, Cat Sotelo, Mike Murphy and Rodney Buchanan each had two safeties for the winners.

Campbell 3, Abilene Kent 13. Beauties Get Wet As Pageant Activities Week Continues

CLEO THOMAS

It was a busy day Wednesday for the beauty contestants.

Besides selling Aquatennial skipper pins and training for the pageant Saturday night, several went on the Aquatennial caravan to neighboring communities, and eleven attended the swimming party at the Mayo Ranch motel.

Coming in groups of one, two and three — and leaving the same way — were Rosalie DeVaney, Shirley Rudd, Freddie Bonfield, Suzanne Compton, Wanda Boatler, Joan Bratcher, Caroline Wilson, Sandra Baker, Lillian Burnett, Dianna Hughes and Kathleen Soldan.

The swim party was tied in with the Aquatennial, in that it was a demonstration by swimming pool and aqua lung firms. Comedy diving demonstrations entertained the pool gatherers and insured that the guest beauties would get wet.

The girls apparently enjoyed the dip; there was the same joking and horseplay one finds in most other pools. And all got wet.

Miss Soldan decided she wasn't going in — "I can't get my hair wet, and I have to be at church at seven," she protested.

Her friends, Misses Burnett and Hughes, took the hint dropped by a bystander, and Miss Soldan went in. The result was that all three got wet, and this reporter got splashed — which was probably poetic justice, since I was the guilty bystander who had put them up to it in the first place.

One thing led to another, and soon Miss Burnett had gone in with her glasses on, and Miss Hughes ended up so soaked she decided to try out the aqua lung.

Miss Compton dived in with a sloppy hat embroidered with the words, "cha cha cha," and soon found the brim blinded her.

The first arrivals — Misses DeVaney, Rudd, Bonfield and Compton — found themselves eyed by a lens. It was a gas company official taking publicity pictures with his gas lights in the background.

Ted Snider drove up in his KEST mobile unit, a mike in his hand and a sailor's cap complete with skipper pin on his head. The girls lined up at the pool's edge waiting to be interviewed, but Snider turned his attention to Jerry Worthy, who was showing off one of his pools for the Aquatennial.

The girls never did get on the radio.

Snider reported the Aquatennial caravan has been "most successful" and that the area cities had been covered, including Sterling City, Garden City, Stanton, Lamesa, Gail, Snyder, Roscoe, Lorraine, Colorado City, Westbrook and Coahoma.

Miss Rudd's sister, Irene, showed up. She is now Mrs. Joe M. Henry, and was in the senior division of last year's pageant. Their uncle, Neill Rudd, brought along 4-year-old Priscilla, who declared that she'll be aiming for the Miss America title in a few more years. She might make it, too.

It has been said that the annual beauty pageant, because its rules allow only single women to enter, helps keep young women from the oft-times tragedy of teen-age marriage. Miss Wilson might be an example of this. Drying her hair by the pool side, she said she wants to get her education while she still can, and that scholarship sure looks good. She and her fiancé both agreed that college first is wisest.

CAB Clarifies Local Rulings

WASHINGTON (AP)—The scope of its proceeding on local air service was further outlined Wednesday by the Civil Aeronautics Board.

Pinpointing the Southwestern area, the board:

1. Refused to expand the area to bring in the issues of service between Memphis, Tenn., and Little Rock, Ark., and other points such as New Orleans, Lafayette and Alexandria, La. Service between Little Rock and Magnolia, La., Hot Springs, Ark., Shreveport, La., and points in Texas already are involved in the proceeding.

2. Required that at least two intermediate stops be imposed in the Denver-Tulsa local service market and between El Paso and Oklahoma City and Tulsa, and three intermediate stops in the Denver-Oklahoma City market.

3. Included Colorado Springs with Denver, in restrictions on service to and from major cities in Colorado.

4. Added to the proceeding the applications for service of Perryton and Pampa, Tex., two towns near the northern border of the area involved.

5. Refused to permit National Airlines to intervene. National is seeking a route extension from Houston to Dallas-Fort Worth by way of Austin, or from New Orleans to Dallas-Fort Worth by way of Houston and Austin. The CAB said "We do not feel that National has shown an interest which warrants granting leave to intervene."

Wants Husband Declared Dead

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The last time she saw her husband was April 14, 1953—as he was being kidnaped at gunpoint from his home by a man later executed with Barbara Graham.

So states Olivia Shorter, 49, in petitioning to have her long-missing mate, Baxter Shorter, declared legally dead. Shorter, then 43, was to have been a state witness against Mrs. Graham, Emmett Perkins and Jack Santo, who were later convicted of murdering wealthy widow Mabel Monahan. All three were executed.

Shorter was never seen again. Mrs. Shorter identified Perkins as the gunman.

Mrs. Shorter asked the decree to win title to an $80,778 estate she now holds as trustee for the missing man.

She said the estate came mostly from the sale of an apartment house they owned in Los Angeles.

Texas Legal Powers Extend 10.5 Miles Out

AUSTIN (AP)—Atty. Gen. Will Wilson says the tidelands decision means Texas' governing powers, including authority to tax and to enforce criminal laws, now extend 10 1/2 miles seaward.

Powers of most other states stop at the nation's three-mile boundary.

The U. S. Supreme Court held Tuesday that because of agreements made when the Republic of Texas was admitted to the Union, Texas' tidelands extend to the three league (about 10 1/2 miles) mark.

"The victory is of a great deal more magnitude than we thought possible," Wilson said Wednesday. "We started out to establish our historical boundary at three leagues to get control over the minerals and a property right to the area past the three-mile limit. What we got is immediate authority for governmental purposes clear out to the three-league mark."

Wilson said example of extension of governing powers would be enlarged authority for the Game and Fish Commission, enforcement of criminal laws to 10 1/2 miles instead of the three-mile limit, and authority to tax out to 10 1/2 miles.

He said he believed the boundaries of each coastal county would be extended to the three-league mark also although there might be exceptions.

Wilson said he does not see "any threat of losing this authority by any future act of Congress."

DEAR ABBY

SPEAK UP

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: This may be a free country, but I am living under a dictatorship. Whenever my husband and I go anywhere, he tells me what time we are going to leave before we even get there. He says, "We are going to stay ten minutes!" (Or however long HE wants to stay.)

When the time is up, he jumps up and doesn't even ask me if I'm ready to leave. He starts for the door and says, "If you're coming with me, you'd better hurry up."

It is so humiliating to have act this way in front of my friends and family. I've talked to him about it, begged and practically gotten on my knees, but he's so hard to change. What can I do?

HUMILIATED
DEAR HUMILIATED: Get off your knees and stand up for your rights. When your husband TELLS you how long he intends to stay, YOU tell HIM you might want to stay longer. If he doesn't want to come back for you later, get a ride home with a friend (and pick a nice-looking one) or take a taxi.

DEAR ABBY: I agreed to take my block to collect for the Cancer Society. I skipped the house next door because I knew that the husband of the lady living there was in the hospital with cancer. I just couldn't ring her bell.

When my husband came home I asked him if he thought I did the right thing. He said no, I was wrong because for all I knew those people probably wanted more than anyone else to give toward conquering cancer.

I still have my doubts, Abby. Would you, had you been in my place, have had the nerve to ring this lady's bell under the circumstances?

UNDECIDED
DEAR UNDECIDED: No. But I would have left the information in her mailbox so that she could have quietly made her decision and contributed if she wanted to.

DEAR ABBY: I read a letter in your column concerning elderly parents who were neglected by their children.

I don't want to seem heartless, but it is my experience that people usually get back what they give. Just because people happen to be parents doesn't entitle them to kindness in their old age that they haven't earned.

I know a widow who cries all over town that her children ignore her. Actually, she is to blame. All her life she made trouble for them. Her evil imagination and wicked tongue almost broke up the homes of two of her sons. Now they want nothing to do with her.

Be fair, Abby, and print this to show the other side of it.

OLD NOT NOT LONELY

CONFIDENTIAL TO HAD IT: Any husband who will lock his 25-year-old, attractive, immaculate, affectionate wife out of the bedroom is either physically or mentally sick. (Or both.) Before you see a lawyer, insist that he see a doctor.

"What's your problem? Write to Abby in care of this paper. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Abby's best-selling book, "Dear Teen-ager", is on sale at all bookstores.

Communism Puts Vows On Rocks

LONDON (AP)—"This marriage," said Divorce Court Judge John Flowers, "began to go on the rocks when the wife became obsessed with communism."

Before him was Sheila Bellinger, 33, tall, brunette and pretty. The judge said Mrs. Bellinger often stayed out until 2 and 3 o'clock in the morning—talking politics.

"But they may also have discussed free love," he added.

Mrs. Bellinger's husband, Stanley Bellinger, 43, said that she admitted to him that since joining the Communist party in 1957, she had been unfaithful several times.

The judge commented that he believed the husband did no such thing.

The judge said Mrs. Bellinger had been married 12 years when she became friendly with the secretary of the Finsbury Park Communist party and his wife.

"From that time on she was largely under their influence," he said.

At the end of the case—which was heard Tuesday—the judge gave the husband a divorce.

Lyndon To Meet N. J. Delegation

NEWARK, N.J. (AP)—Sen. Lyndon Johnson Friday meets with New Jersey's delegation to the Democratic National Convention.

Johnson, accompanied by his wife, is scheduled to land at Newark Airport at 3:30 p.m. A news conference will be held at 4 p.m. and then the Senate majority leader will meet the delegates at the Robert Treat Hotel from 5 to 6:30 p.m.

The schedule is identical to the one followed by three other Democratic senators who sought the New Jersey delegation's 41 convention votes for the presidential nomination.

The Johnsons will dine with Gov. and Mrs. Robert B. Meyner at the executive mansion in Princeton before flying back to Washington Friday evening.

CLEAN UP WEEK

Debris Is Factor In City's Health

By LIGE FOX
Senior Sanitarian in the Big Spring-Howard County Health Unit

Why clean up? We all see rubbish, trash and piles of debris. Do these things cause disease? Not directly, yet they are factors in our community health. Any accumulation of trash offers harbor or breeding places for insects and rodents. These insects and rodents are, in turn, carriers of many of the ills which beset mankind.

Organic matter provides food, shelter and reproduction media for flies and roaches. These are our natural enemies from pest and health standpoints. So long as any of these conditions exist, our community health stands in jeopardy.

The public health reason for any clean up effort is to improve the sanitation of our environment. The proper storage and disposal of all garbage and trash is the basic requirement for health protection.

As long as over one half of our garbage cans are not covered we will have children contracting filth borne diseases. Until we refuse to provide homes and food for rodents and insects we will have these disease vectors with us.

Sanitary living is not accom-

plished by a once a year clean up campaign. To be effective, sanitation must become a daily habit.

If every one will do what he knows should be done we will have a cleaner, healthier community to live in and to enjoy.

Lake Thomas Residents Urged To Enter Clean Up

The Colorado River Municipal Water District is getting into the spirit of the spring clean up.

Letters have gone out from R. A. Schooling, lake superintendent, urging cooperation of all cabin owners at Lake J. B. Thomas to not only keep their premises clean but attractive.

"We are aware that most cabin owners meet the requirements of the ordinances (of the district) and have developed their lots and made them attractive through planting of trees, grass, etc.," he said.

"This is to compliment you for your efforts as well as to ask the cooperation of others to keep their cabins not only in a sanitary condition but in an attractive one as well."

Schooling added that it is the duty of the district to enforce rigidly the ordinances pertaining to sanitation that might in any way affect the quality and purity of water stored in Lake J. B. Thomas. Beyond that, however, the district is anxious for the lake to be as attractive a place for recreation and living as possible.

Worth Is One Factor

A veteran's net worth is one of the factors used in determining his eligibility to receive a pension under the new pension law which becomes effective July 1, 1960.

This means, according to Ray Boren, contact representative at the Big Spring Veterans Administration Hospital, that pensions will not be paid to veterans having sizeable estates. The word estate, confusing to some persons, means in this connection, the property, stocks and bonds, cash deposits or other items of value owned by the veteran that would make his net worth greater than is usually the case in pension eligibility.

Since circumstances alter cases, what might seem to be an ample estate might still leave the veteran in need, Boren said. Thus there is no hard and fast rule but each case will be considered separately on its own merits.

In each case the VA will consider the type of property owned by the veteran, the veteran's age, his life expectancy, his state of health, the number of persons dependent on him, his income and similar pertinent facts.

Midland Newsman Dies In Dallas

DALLAS (AP) — Howard G. Cates, a Midland newsman who had worked for newspapers in several other cities, died of a kidney ailment Wednesday at a Dallas hospital. He was 39.

Cates joined The Midland Reporter-Telegram five years ago. He wrote a Sunday farm and ranch column for the paper. Previously he was a staff member of The Vernon Daily Record and The Hillsboro Daily Mirror in Texas and The Shreveport, La., Times.

He leaves his wife, who is executive secretary of the county Red Cross chapter at Midland; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Cates of Merced, Calif.; and a brother and sister, Damon Cates and Mrs. Earl Hamilton, also of Merced.

The funeral service will be held at 2 p.m. Friday at Vernon in the First Methodist Church.

Cates, a native of Duke, Okla., saw five years' service in the Navy during World War II. He was a graduate of Texas Christian University.

Satellites Help Weather Control

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The time may be coming—thanks to rockets and satellites—when man can finally do something about the weather.

So states Prof. Morris Neuberger, chairman of the department of meteorology at the University of California at Los Angeles.

He said the release of dust in the upper atmosphere or beyond might block enough radiation from the sun to counteract weather changes due to solar variations.

Neuberger, in a paper released Wednesday, told how rockets or satellites could be used for releasing the dust.

"If the particles were released in the stratosphere," he said, "the winds would quickly spread them over the earth and global effects would be attained."

40 Squares Expected For Friday Dance

Approximately 40 squares of the Western Square Dance Association will take part in the giant square dance exhibition during the Aquatennial festivities.

The attraction will take place between 3rd and 4th on Main Street Friday and will begin at 9 p.m. The exhibition is being sponsored by the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce in connection with the Aquatennial.

Dusty Randall, who will be master of ceremonies and square dance caller along with Harold Graves, estimated that about 30 or 40 squares would participate and added that anyone who is capable of doing all the dances is welcome to enter the action. Owing the "skipper" pin is not mandatory in order to participate.

The music will be furnished by Jim King and his Cosden Cowboys.

Randall said that the square dance association covers the areas west of Abilene, practically all of West Texas. Anyone who is interested in learning to square dance may attend the lessons at the Webb AFB service center on Thursdays beginning at 7 p.m.

Unproven Lands Under State Rules

AUSTIN (AP)—The Third Court of Appeals held Wednesday that leased land in unproven oil territory is subject to the state's conservation rules.

In effect the appellate upheld the Railroad Commission in denying the application of M. D. Richards for a permit to drill a well on a two-acre lease in the Poesta Creek Field in Bee County.

The court's opinion said a two-acre tract created by dividing a larger tract "is not entitled to separate development under the rules of the commission."

The decision reversed the decision of Travis County District Judge Jack Roberts who held that state oil well spacing rules (Rule 37) allow the drilling of at least one well on each tract, no matter how small.

Herald Adding Famed Comic Features In Sunday Section

There'll really be a "new look" to The Herald's colored comic section, beginning Sunday.

In the biggest changeover of features effected in many years, The Herald is coming forth with what its editors believe to be one of the most appealing sets of comics that can be accumulated in an eight-page section.

Most of the more popular features that have been in the paper will be retained, but there are several new—and famous—ones. The list will include:

DICK TRACY. Rated as probably the top comic feature today. It may take a few days to "catch up" in the current episode of this famous detective, but there will be plenty of excitement in the Dick Tracy stories.

BLONDIE. The Sunday episodes are being added. The Herald has had the Blondie feature in the daily columns for a long time.

MOON MULLINS, SMITTY, FERD'NAND, GASOLINE ALLEY, LOUIE, LITTLE ORPHAN ANNIE, TERRY and the PIRATES and SNUFFY SMITH are among the other new features to be seen in the Sunday section.

The changes come about principally because of a new contract effected with the Chicago Tribune Syndicate, which has control of many of the nation's top comic features.

Among the old favorites being retained in the Sunday paper are BRENDA STARR, NANCY, PEANUTS, GRIN AND BEAR IT, PENNY, DENNIS, BEETLE

BAILEY, FRITZI RITZ, ALLEY OOP, OFF THE RECORD and L'L ABNER.

Some of the features which will not be in the Sunday section will be continued in the daily comic pages, and the continuity will not be lost.

Several of the outstanding features which will be in the Sunday section also will appear daily. This list will include DICK TRACY, TERRY, GASOLINE ALLEY, and ORPHAN ANNIE.

Tempted By Snacks

When Jean Hagen gave herself a vacation from work, she discovered the temptations of snacking. "I found I have to stay active to stay thin," she says. Jean is a popular actress on NBC-TV.

HOLLYWOOD BEAUTY

Staying At Home Is Downfall For Diet

HOLLYWOOD — Jean Hagen feels that it takes more discipline for a housewife to stay thin than for a career girl. When she decided to leave the Danny Thomas Show, she had her first vacation since graduating from high school. "I slept late, relaxed at home," she said, in telling me about it. "And with the ice box within easy walking distance, I found myself snacking. Then the children would come home from school and ask me to make them something and I would eat again."

"The combination of eating more and doing less was pleasant," Jean observed, "until one day I discovered I couldn't get into my clothes."

"My body not only was out of shape but I felt out of touch with life. If you are going to stay young, you must have activity and interests. You have to care terribly about things outside the family, whether it is a sport, charity or a hobby."

"I do believe that is why some marriages have gone on the rocks. It takes time for the breach to widen. But if the husband is active and around stimulating people and he comes home to a wife who has let herself get shut in by a little world of domesticity, he is bound to find her dull."

"We were chatting on the set of 'Wagon Train' and Jean's figure looked so slim I asked how she had got back into condition."

"I took my mind off food. I went back to work, and in two months of no snacking, I lost what I had put on in six months. I don't think those get-thin-quick diets are good for your health."

"When I first met Jean, she had a major studio contract and shocked everyone by coming into the commissary in blue jeans and a boy-shirt."

"That was a hangover from my 'sloppy-joe' days at college," she explained. "Grooming is a habit I never formed in my youth. But I am happy that today the pendulum has swung to a neatness trend and that teen-agers, whom the pre-teens copy, are interested in their appearance."

"To encourage my daughter, I have put a shampoo and nail kit, hand cream and all her own cosmetics for the bath in her cabinet. One day let her take care of you-self, the habit is effortless," Jean concluded.

'ROUND TOWN

With Lucille Pickle

With school out only a week one gets a clearer and more appreciative view of an elementary school teacher's nine months work. Now we know why she or he must work out that lesson plan; why a plan for activity must be thought out 'way in advance. The children miss it, too. They squeal with joy when 'the teacher lets the mules out' but a few days away from the 25 or 30 classmates, and they begin to talk about when they were in school. They do start calling mothers by a name other than the teacher's by this time.

MR. AND MRS. R. T. WINN are in Dallas where Winn is to undergo open heart surgery Friday at Baylor Hospital. He was admitted to the hospital Wednesday.

Watermelon Eaters Will Like This News

By The Associated Press
Have your watermelon knife ready.

That's a suggestion from folk who check Texas fruit and vegetable markets every morning. They note increased shipments of Charleston Greys from Florida. The crop estimate for the Florida melon crop is 15 per cent more than last year.

The Texas summer melon acreage is 21 per cent larger than in 1959. Prices are adjusting to the larger shipments.

Huge supplies and economical prices continue on cabbage, carrots, celery, greens, lemons, lettuce, okra, onions and green onions, blackeye and other peas, Potatoes and yellow crookneck squash. That's on the basis of reports from the Agricultural Marketing Service.

Apples, avocados and grapefruit carry higher prices. New-crop seedless grapes are appearing but they still are in the luxury class.

Among high-protein items, peanut butter is especially abundant. Pork and broiler-fryers are plentiful and economical. Beef slaughter is running higher than a year ago. A good selection of fish, canned and frozen, is available in most markets. Dairy counters are filled with wide variety and economical nutrition.

HCJC Dorms Get Fencing

The men's dormitory at the Howard County Junior College is having a fence erected around it. This structure will protect the yard area around the dormitory and will prevent cars from being parked on the projected lawn area, said Dr. W. A. Hunt, president. The dorm has paved parking area at the east end.

Demo Hopefuls Tread Each Other To Keep In Public Eye

Democratic presidential possibilities were almost treading on each other's heels today keeping themselves in the voter's eye, each in his own way.

Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts flew to Chicago to speak to a Textile Workers Union convention, then planned a few hours of political sounding out with Michigan's Gov. G. Mennen Williams before taking off for Denver.

Wednesday night Kennedy and Sen. Stuart Symington of Missouri appeared on the same platform at a San Francisco testimonial dinner for California's Gov. Edmund G. Brown.

Stevenson has made no open efforts to get the nomination, but has indicated he would accept a draft.

In the Republican camp, word came from Cooperstown, N.Y., Wednesday that Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller is almost certain to head New York's 96-member delegation to the Republican convention next month.

Rockefeller said previously he would not go unless he was assured he wouldn't be pressured to accept second place on the ticket behind Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

needs in schooling, research, health, housing.

California's 81-vote delegation is pledged to Gov. Brown. Kennedy told a news conference in San Francisco he didn't know how many votes he might have among the delegates and didn't know whether Brown was in his corner.

Symington again spoke out critically on the administration's handling of the events leading up to the summit collapse.

Power Sliced In West Texas

ABILENE (AP)—A power plant generator failure Wednesday interrupted electrical service to a large section of West Texas.

A spokesman for the West Texas Utilities Co. said the 115,000-kilowatt generator in the No. 5 unit of the Texas Electric Service Co. Permian Basin plant at Monahans failed in trying to take up the slack, the 125,000-kilowatt plant of West Texas Utilities at Paint Rock then was knocked out of service by the resulting overload.

Power was off in Abilene from 11 a.m. to 12:25 p.m. and in other cities power was off for periods ranging from five minutes to 1½ hours.

Hospitals used emergency power for operating rooms and police used standby power for radio equipment until service was restored. Some elevators in buildings stalled between floors.

Also affected, along with surrounding rural areas, were San Angelo, Sterling City, Wall, Eola, Christoval, Tankersley, Ballinger, Cross Plains, Cisco, Albany, Stamford, Anson, Haskell, Hamlin, Rotan, Knox City, Spur, Sweetwater, Roscoe, Colorado City, Snyder, Seymour, Bomarton, Andrews and Lamesa.

Arrested Man Admits Taking Electrical Wire

A former Stanton man, held in San Saba on another offense, has signed a statement admitting the theft of electric wire from several Martin County farms.

Sheriff Dan Saunders said at Stanton Thursday he will obtain custody of the man in time for him to appear before the grand jury when the next session of 118th District Court grand jury is held this month.

The suspect also is wanted on charges at Brady and Hamilton.

The thefts reported here were from the property of the Cap Rock Electric Cooperative. Most of the wire stolen was in service lines from the system's transmission lines to tenant houses.

Saunders said that the man worked for an electric contractor and apparently knew which unused buildings had been wired. Once the wire had been cut down, the insulation was burned off and the metal sold for scrap.

Each one of the thefts was for a modest amount, but the aggregate of the losses to Cap Rock may run into several thousand dollars.

City Puts Four Trucks To Work

City clean-up got under way today with four trucks gathering rubbish for hauling to the city dump grounds.

Bruce Dunn, director of public works, said that the campaign to clear the city of all trash would probably take about two weeks.

Plans call for combing the entire city during the clean-up period, Dunn said.

Extra help has been put on the trucks for the work, including five high school boys. Dunn said that some men had been called off of their city projects to handle the clean-up.

150 Expected For HCJC Classes

Registration for the first six weeks of summer school at HCJC has a good chance of exceeding 150, it appeared Thursday.

Dr. Marvin Baker, director of the night school, said that several indicated Wednesday evening that they would sign for classes. Already there were 135 enrolled. The 26 reported from Webb AFB also may be swelled by the end of the week.

Enrollment will continue past 8:30 p.m. today and during Friday. After this week, class sections will be closed.

Socialists Hit

TOKYO (AP)—Japan's major newspapers today strongly criticized the threat of Socialist members to resign from Parliament in a desperate effort to knock out the U.S.-Japan mutual security treaty.

THIS DAY IN TEXAS

The State of Texas on this day in 1853 granted 38,400 acres of land to Henri Castro, one of the colorful impresarios who introduced colonists under contracts with the Republic of Texas.

Castro, an Alsatian, located his people south and west of San Antonio, in the vicinity dominated by such present-day towns as Castroville and D'hanis.

The bounty lands from the state only partially compensated him for his great effort in bringing 485 families and 457 single men to Texas during the 1840's. Castro claimed to have spent $50,000 on the project, helping his European emigrants survive the first Texas winters and sow their first crops. Certainly he spent all he had on his proteges, for a public auction of his estate brought only some $3,700, not near enough to satisfy his creditors.

Castro came to Texas as a friend of Count de Saligny, the French envoy. His purpose was to arrange an agreement by which the Texas Republic borrowed money from the French banking firm of Lafitte & Company and gave to a French company virtual monopoly of unsettled lands along the main rivers of Texas. A further condition of this proposed agreement was that France would build and maintain 20 forts at strategic locations.

This proposal received serious consideration in the Texas Congress, but was abandoned about 1842, when De Saligny left the Texas capital in a huff. Then Castro submitted his impresario's proposal. Texas accepted and he launched his ill-fated scheme to settle the Medina River country.

Farmers Planting Following Rainfall

Jimmy Taylor, county agent, said that a large number of farmers who have already planted their cotton, would probably have replanted if the rains Tuesday morning had been just a little heavier.

As it is, he said, a great many farmers, who have fair stands from earlier seedings, will probably elect to let the situation go rather than replant.

The stands may not be as heavy as they would like but it seems a better gamble to let the present planting go than to risk a new round.

However, hundreds of acres of cotton land have not been planted. Owners were waiting for moisture before starting work.

He anticipates that planting will be in full swing by today. Wednesday was a little too soon after the rain and the big swing to the tractors actually began Thursday.

Sorghums will be planted in the next two weeks, Taylor predicted. He said there is a possibility not as many acres will be seeded to sorghum as in the past. The explanation is that even with a good crop the money return is not all that could be desired.

"Don't misunderstand me," he said. "There'll be a lot of sorghum planted. And we'll have a lot of it harvested."

"It's just that a great many farmers prefer to use all of their acreage for their cotton allotment, allowing more spacing between rows, rather than plant grain."

Torch Blamed

FARGO, N.D. (AP) — Sparks from a welding torch were blamed for an explosion which killed three workmen as it ripped through an industrial building here late Wednesday. Eight others were injured, some critically.

Romantic Story Comes To An End

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Two years ago actress Andra Martin and cowboy actor Ty Hardin were warned not to marry. Marriage might hurt their careers, agents and publicity experts said.

They married anyway. And their careers flourished—she won starring film roles, he was briefly "Cheyenne" of the TV series, then moved to the lead in the "Bronco" series.

But their marriage failed. Wednesday she filed suit for divorce, charging extreme cruelty. She said she was convinced Hardin no longer loved her.

Annual Audit Reflects Water District Progress

Nine years ago the Colorado River Municipal Water District got off the ground.

Actually the time is a little less than that, for it was not until the February meeting of 1961 that contracts were let for first work subject to marketing of the district's $11,750,000 in bonds. Two years passed before the district began to reap revenues.

Since then, the district—which had no operating history and which was largely an act of faith on the part of three West Texas cities and the underwriters who purchased the bonds—has retired $2,026,000 in bonds.

To the $11,750,000 originally floated was added another $4,600,000 in 1958 to provide for additional improvements including more terminal storage at Odessa and a parallel supply line from the Martin County pump station to Odessa. The gross original debt of $16,350,000 has been reduced to $14,324,000.

These are some of the figures brought out in the annual audit of the district's books. Others include $2,371,514 construction in progress; $1,732,190 revenues from water during 1959 plus $27,981 net revenues from recreation; operating expenses (which do not include bond and interest payments) of $384,554.

The district finished 1959 with a balance of $56,805 in its 1958 construction fund, $7,618 in the contingency fund, $131,445 for improvement and extension, $261,521 for retirement of bonds and $122,917 for the revenue fund.

The reserve fund, required by bondholders as a cushion, now stands at $1,087,547, according to the report of Clyde Hollingsworth, auditor.

Would Give Island To Red China

LONDON (AP)—Field Marshal Viscount Montgomery came home from Red China Tuesday advocating that the Communists be given Formosa.

"I believe there should be one China and not two," the former NATO deputy commander told reporters, "and that China is the one which has its government in Peiping."

Sheepmen Dislike Tariff Ruling

SAN ANGELO (AP)—Sheepmen were disappointed Wednesday at a Tariff Commission ruling against increased tariffs on lamb and lamb carcass imports.

L. M. Stephens of Lometa, president of the Texas Sheep & Goat Raisers Assn. left for Washington to confer with Sen. Lyndon Johnson and other members of Congress.

"We're not giving up," Stephens said.

Penrose Metcalfe of San Angelo had bitter comment. "This follows the normal trend of our present government," Metcalfe, vice president of the National Wool Growers Assn., said. Metcalfe said the government was prone "to discriminate against home industry in favor of foreign countries."

Similar disappointment and bitterness was expressed by ranchmen around the San Angelo stock yards.

Eight Candidates Try For Rodeo Queen Title

Eight communities have registered candidates for Queen of the Big Spring Rodeo, June 9-11, and one other has indicated that it will have an entry.

Those registered for competition are Ada Lee Riggs, Sanderson; Linda Maule, Scurry County; Janice Helmers, McCamey; Temple Ann Foster, Sterling City; Nancy Beal, Borden County; Barba Balenger, Midland; Kathryn Hart, Odessa; and Carolyn Kelley, Stanton.

Colorado City has not as yet selected a candidate.

HEADQUARTERS

Headquarters for the contest is the Chamber of Commerce offices in the Permian Building, and local hostesses are Wanda Boatler, Frankie Cherry, Judy Brown, Linda McNew, Claudine Bales, Joan Davis and Modesta Simpson. The hostesses, all members of the Big Spring Mounted Patrol, will be in charge of entertainment for the visiting queen candidates and will provide lodging.

The Chamber of Commerce has prepared name banners for each contestant and stalls, with the names of the candidates placed above them, will be provided for their horses. A page in the souvenir program will be devoted to the contestants.

JUDGING

Judging in the contest will be based on poise, appearance, personality and horsemanship, each counting one-fourth of the whole. A total of 10 points will be deducted for non-participation in candidate activities.

The winner will be awarded a trophy, presented after the grand entry and introduction of officials Saturday night, June 11. The two runners-up will receive silver belt buckles.

Requirements of the contest provide that each contestant must ride in the parade and in each grand entry. They must appear in the arena once at each performance at the request of the announcer. Participation in candidate activities is required.

SCHEDULES

Activity schedule for the candidates will include a get-acquainted social Thursday from 1 to 4 p.m. in the Chamber of Commerce offices, the official Rodeo Parade at 4 p.m., a barbecue at the Rodeo Grounds after the parade, and the rodeo at 8 p.m.

Friday, candidates will meet at the Chamber of Commerce at 9:30 a.m. and then go to the Cosden Country Club for a swim party at 10 a.m. At 11:30 a.m., there will be a hamburger luncheon at the Cosden Club.

That afternoon, candidates may attend a theatre party or go bowling. At 5:30 p.m. they will go to the KEDY television station for a program, and at 8 p.m. they will once again participate in the rodeo.

PARTY

Saturday morning, a coke party will be held at the home of Frankie Cherry. The afternoon is left open. At 6 p.m., there will be an informal dinner at the Desert Sands Restaurant. That night the winner will be announced at the rodeo, climaxing the activities. In the tentative planning stage at this time is a dance which will be given by the hostesses for the candidates and their escorts.

Three trophies other than the queen's will be awarded Saturday night to the first, second and third place sheriff's posse as chosen by the judges.

Seaton Speaks At Twin Buttes

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Interior Fred Seaton has accepted an invitation to speak June 22 at groundbreaking ceremonies for the Twin Buttes Dam near San Angelo.

A delegation, consisting of Rep. Clark Fisher (D-Tex.), Mayor Paul Hudman of San Angelo and former Mayor M. D. Bryant extended the invitation.

An $11,500,000 contract for construction of the dam, known locally as Three Rivers Dam, was recently awarded by the Reclamation Bureau to H. B. Zachry Co. of San Antonio. It is the major feature of the $2 1/2-million-dollar multi-purpose San Angelo project.

Two Cooks Make Soup Better At The Rossers

By SHERI WEBBER

Two cooks don't spoil the soup at M. Sgt. William Rosser's home. There his wife Fran and her mother, Mrs. R. H. Hickman, who is visiting, combine their talents in putting out tasty dishes.

Mrs. Hickman, who will be joining her electrician-husband in Honolulu next month, claims Houston as her home town. Her daughter, Fran, feels that Atlanta, Tex., is her home stomping grounds. It was here that she met and married her husband.

When the National Guards mobilized during World War II, Bill was put into action—leaving his wife and three children in Texas. In August the master sergeant will mark 20 years of service.

The Rosser family—with the exception of one—is a complete Air Force family. Their oldest son, Richard Drew (Dickey), was killed in an AF airplane crash over French Morocco.

Ruth Alice is married to S. Sgt. Fred Manchester, and the couple is now stationed at Charleston, S.C. Their one child, 3-year-old Tammy Jean, is a source of pride to her grandmother.

"Corkey"—William, Hodge Rosser III—is the other originator of Grandmother Rosser's beams. The 3-month-old boy is the son of Bill Rosser Jr. who makes his home here. Bill Jr. is the only member of the Air Force family who is a non-service man.

Mrs. Rosser has many hobbies that keep her busy since her children have left home. The artistic lady teaches a hobby course in ceramics at Howard County Junior College during the long school session, and an arts and crafts class at the service club. During the summer she will teach at the service club two nights a month.

In the arts and crafts class Mrs. Rosser will instruct in oil painting, leather work, copper tooling, making plastic plants and, later perhaps, textile painting.

Ceramics seem to be Fran's first love, for her home in Webb Village is filled with objects she has made—large lamps that appear both modern and traditional, vases, bowls, a chocolate set, a set of four mugs made like men's heads, various sizes of plates, and a ceramic horse pulling a buggy filled with plastic flowers.

One of the more recent experiments Mrs. Rosser has entered has been making plastic flowers. She recently filled all the planter boxes at the service club—a job that required 200 plants and about 30 days of work.

"We had plants all over the place," recalls her mother, Mrs. Hickman. "It looked like a jungle in the living room."

The plants look so realistic one of their neighbors wouldn't believe they were plastic until Sgt. Rosser showed him the little wires used to make the leaves stand up.

Painting is another form of expression for the talented Mrs. Rosser. Over two years ago she painted a 4 by 6 foot oil entitled "Our Lord of the Airways." It showed Christ with His arms outstretched over a view of Webb AFB's runway. The picture was given to the Air Force base in memory of the Rosser's son, Dick.

A "first" in painting happened recently when Fran painted a 4 by 8 foot scene of the River Jordan for a baptistry in Kildare.

Mrs. Hickman doesn't claim to be as talented as her daughter, but she occasionally tries her hand at ceramics.

"I love to cook, though," says the youthful-looking great-grandmother. When World War I broke out Mrs. Hickman, just a young girl at the time, had to quit school and go to work. She lived in a small town then, and the money she could find was in a cafe.

"I used to watch the cook make pie crust. One day I asked him how to do it, and he told me to use two cups of flour to one cup of shortening and just enough water to make it stick together.

"Every since then I've always used the same proportions, I haven't read in recipes to see, because the crust is always good!" says the experienced cook.

Of the recipes offered, The Banana Cream Pie and Tuna Casserole are given by Mrs. Hickman, while Mrs. Rosser offers the Tossed Salad as one of her favorites.

BANANA CREAM PIE
Make a 9-inch pie shell with your favorite recipe and bake. Filling:
2 1/2 cups sugar
3/4 tsp. cornstarch
1/2 tsp. salt
2 1/2 cups milk
3 egg yolks, slightly beaten
1 tsp. vanilla
1 1/2 bananas
Combine sugar, cornstarch and salt in top of double boiler; stir in cold milk. Cook over boiling water until thickened, stirring constantly. Cover and cook 15 minutes longer.

Stir a little of the hot mixture into the egg yolks; add to mixture in double boiler and cook 2 minutes.

Cool mixture. Add vanilla and sliced bananas. Pour in baked shell, cover with meringue and brown in oven.

TUNA CASSEOLE
1 can tuna fish
1 can mushroom soup
1/2 cup grated onion

Different Salad

When you are having company for supper and you don't want to serve a salad, have a bowl of water crisp, carrot curls or strips and black olives instead.

Puffs, Eclairs Come Easy Now

Fascinating trifles, the cream puff and eclair! Watch diners look over a tray of French pastries: the airy desserts with their fillings of whipped cream and thick custard are sure to be chosen.

French chefs whip up pate a choux—the pastry base for cream puffs and eclairs—at the drop of a white toque. The pate a choux is placed in a pastry tube fitted with a large plain tube and forced onto a baking sheet.

Puffs wanted? The mixture is forced through the pastry bag into small mounds. Then, holding the bag at an angle, each mound is cut off with a quick circular twist of the wrist.

Is it eclairs you cherish? Then force the pastry into strips, about four inches long and almost an inch wide; pull back at the end of the strip and, holding the bag obliquely again, cut off the flow with a quick movement.

Chefs make their own pate a choux. But lucky you, you can use a cream-puff mix that comes packaged.

No pastry bag? Or slightly scared to use one? Drop the mixture with the help of spoons. Our mother was past mistress at this, her puffs equal size, coming out of the oven perfectly shaped, puffed and golden. We remember back to when we were very young, watching her preparing to serve them, cutting off the tops, filling them with the classic sweetened whipped cream. Then our small fingers were allowed to replace the tops. Next came showering them with confectioners' sugar, in fabulous snowy drifts, and last but not least—licking our fingers!

But we grew to be school-age, and came the day when we insisted this treatment of the cream puff was old-fashioned! Chef fashion, my mother began to fill them with creamy custard—like eclairs—and cover the tops with glassy-smooth chocolate frosting.

Next the teen-age do-it-yourself stage. The puffs must be filled with vanilla ice cream and served with a thick chocolate fudge sauce. To have the sauce a sure-fire success, we often used condensed milk, and here's one way of making this accompaniment.

CHOCOLATE SAUCE
1 can (13 ounces) sweetened condensed milk
2 squares (2 ounces) unsweetened chocolate
1/2 tsp. salt
1/2 cup (or more) hot water
1/2 tsp. vanilla

Pour sweetened condensed milk, chocolate and salt into top of double boiler. Cook over rapidly boiling water, stirring often, for about 10 minutes or until thick; remove from heat. Slowly stir in water, amount depending on consistency desired. Cool; stir in vanilla. Serve with cream puffs filled with vanilla ice cream.

Carrots Get Glamorized

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

No doubt about it, you can treat vegetables in such interesting ways that family and friends will gobble them up.

Take the carrot. Serve it with an elegant French sauce and it becomes positively glamorous.

The sauce? It's a variation of the classic Hollandaise that ought to be better known in this country. Called Maitaise, it adds orange juice and rind to the basic mixture and achieves delightful flavor.

One direction for the sauce intrigues us. The late Louis Diat, who was chef of New York's Ritz-Carlton Hotel, said that Maitaise Sauce should be pink and added a few drops of red food coloring. We did just that and found that coupled with the carrots it achieves a notable effect.

France's famous gastronomic dictionary, Larousse, gets even more exotic. You may, it suggests, substitute tangerine juice and rind for regular orange and then "perfume" this sauce with a few drops of the orange-flavored liqueur, curacao.

Larousse says that Maitaise is used for "legumes bouillies"—boiled vegetables. Louis Diat served it with asparagus. We've tried it with both vegetables but—much as we revere Diat—we are convinced that Hollandaise is the superb sauce for asparagus while Maitaise is superlative with carrots.

This version of Maitaise Sauce is strictly up-to-date; it uses the new corn-oil margarine with fine results.

MAITAISE SAUCE
1/4 lb. (1 stick) corn-oil margarine
2 egg yolks
1/2 tsp. salt
Cayenne pepper
1 tsp. lemon juice
1 tsp. orange juice
1 to 2 tps. grated orange rind
Divide margarine into sixths.

Place egg yolks, salt, a dash of cayenne, lemon juice and orange juice over very hot (but not boiling) water until mixture is just heated; stir constantly with a whisk. Add one piece of the margarine, whisk constantly until it blends with other ingredients; add remaining pieces of margarine the same way. Add orange rind. Continue to cook, whisking constantly, until sauce is thick enough to mound slightly when dropped from whisk. Serve at once.

TOSSED SALAD
2 tomatoes
1 cucumber
1 small bell pepper
3 green onions
6 radishes
1/2 small head of lettuce
Dice tomatoes, cucumber and bell pepper. Slice green onions and radishes. Cut up lettuce.

Place ingredients in a small bowl and chill. Toss with French dressing, salt and pepper to taste, just before serving.

Meat Relish

Drained crushed pineapple and grated lemon or orange rind may be added to prepared whole cranberry sauce and used as a relish for poultry or meat. Chill after mixing and before serving.

Boiling water
1 tsp. sugar
Pare carrots; cut in half crosswise; cut into quarters lengthwise. Arrange in two layers in 10-inch skillet; add boiling water to a depth of one inch and sugar. (Sauce supplies enough salt.) Boil gently, covered, until just tender—about 12 minutes. Drain and serve with Maitaise Sauce.

Chili Can Be Made In Jigtime!

For the Sunday you do not want to prepare a big meal try this:

JIGTIME CHILI
2 tps. butter or margarine
1 lb. lean-ground chuck beef
2 tps. chili powder
1 can (17 ounces) red kidney beans
1 can (1 pound) stewed tomatoes
1/4 tsp. salt
1 tsp. cumin seed
1 glove garlic (crushed)

Cook beef in butter in 10-inch skillet until it loses its red color, mashing with a fork.

Add chili powder, beans (including liquid in can), salt, cumin and garlic.

Simmer, stirring occasionally, for 1/2 hour. Makes 4 servings to be served in wide soup plates.

English Muffins Are Slightly Sweet

The English bake and enjoy these muffins because they are only slightly sweet.

DEE'S MUFFINS
2 cups sifted flour
2 1/2 tps. double-acting baking powder
1/2 tsp. salt
2 tps. sugar
1 egg
1/4 cup butter or margarine, melted and slightly cooled

Sift together the flour, baking powder, salt and sugar. Beat egg until thick and pale colored; beat in milk; stir in melted butter.

Add sifted dry ingredients; stir only until moistened; do not beat until lumps. Turn into greased muffin pans, filling wells two-thirds full.

Bake in hot (425 degrees) oven until cake tester inserted in center comes out clean—about 25 minutes. Remove at once from pans; serve hot with butter. Makes 12 medium-sized (about 3 inches across top) muffins.

TRADITIONAL PATTERN . . . is put into Scottish shortbread before it goes into the oven.

Men: Shortbread May Be Your Special Dish

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

Men who do distasteful cooking a favor and occasionally prepare a favorite dish usually have their specialties. How and why they arrived at these is anybody's guess.

A man we know is an expert on meat croquettes. Other acquaintances have taken these for their province: Beef birds, Caesar salad, Roquefort dressing, gazpacho, spaghetti sauce, yeast bread, Hungarian goulash, artichokes, pear cobbler and crepes.

Now a reader writes that he yearns to bake shortbread, but wants the recipe to bear the strong imprint of its Scottish ancestry.

A delicious matter to delve into! For comparison purposes we tasted various brands of imported shortbread and looked into Scottish cookbooks. One of the books gives no less than six shortbread recipes; the following rule is based on one including cornstarch because that product, used widely in the British Isles, helps to give a desired texture. This American version is a reasonable facsimile of the real thing.

SCOTS SHORTBREAD
1 1/4 cups sifted cake flour
1/4 cup cornstarch
1/2 cup (1/4 lb.) butter
1-3 cup sugar

Sift together the cake flour and cornstarch. Cream butter and sugar until the consistency of whipped butter. Add sifted dry ingredients gradually until dough is stiff. Knead in remaining dry ingredients until well blended and dough forms a ball.

Shape into a round cake (about 7 inches in diameter) on a cookie sheet. With a knife score almost through to make 8 pie-shaped wedges; with fork lines prick in an even pattern and flute edges or press.

Bake in a slow (325 degrees) oven for 15 minutes; reduce heat to 275 degrees and continue baking for 30 minutes. Allow to cool about 5 minutes before removing from cookie sheet.

When thoroughly cool wrap in waxed paper and store in airtight container. For lengthy storage put container in refrigerator; cookies may be reheated in slow oven, then allowed to cool and re-crisp.

GARDEN TALK

You Can Do Something About Those Mosquitoes

Dr. J. E. Hogue called in asking if there is something that can be put in air conditioners to kill the mosquitoes. He said it is a shame that with a climate as ideal as ours usually is during the summer we can't fully enjoy our outdoors because of the mosquitoes. In spite of the fact that the city does a constant job of control with the fogging machine, the mosquitoes sometime stay ahead of control.

Well, it is true that one source of new mosquitoes is our so-called "Mosquito Trap" type of evaporative air conditions. Wherever the climate is relatively dry these coolers do a fine job of conditioning, but they must have the tank of water in order to operate. This source of available water provides breeding place for mosquitoes and a constant nursery for the wigglers.

There are several things that can be done to stop their using these coolers machines for breeding. The best method probably would be a periodic draining of the water tanks, and allowing them to completely dry before refilling them. Another method would be the addition of a water soluble insecticide, but not of an oily nature. Oil on the surface of ponds and ditches, where water stands, has been a treatment for mosquitoes for a long time, but this won't do your air conditioner any good.

DDT in the water would help control them for a time, or so would chlordane. Any of these insecticides won't foul up the evaporator pads and will control them for a time. Occasional spraying into the coolers with household spray will give some temporary control, but all these methods require repeated application. The main problem is remembering to treat and then getting your husband to climb up to wherever the cooler is mounted and then treating the water. Some enterprisers have suggested putting minnows in the tank.

Besides being a bother, mosquitoes carry a number of diseases. You see, in order to bite anyone they insert the proboscis and then force saliva into the wound. This creates pressure enough to force body fluids, and blood up into the mosquito's mouth. In this method of feeding the mosquito carries germs for one disease or another from host to host. Some of us are highly sensitive to this saliva and the bites cause discomfort of swelling and itching.

To stop this problem, we will all have to look to the air conditioners in our homes and businesses as well as keep up the work of the fogging machine and the household spray. Fortunately, cooperative effort could give near complete control of mosquitoes. It is up to us each and every one though.

If you have a garden question, write it to Bruce Frazier in care of the Big Spring Herald.

U.S. To Protect Defense Pledges

WASHINGTON (AP)—A spokesman asserted today the United States will live up to its defense pledges to nations menaced by Soviet rocket threats.

State Department press officer Lincoln White accused Soviet Marshal Rodion Y. Malinovsky of trying to "intimidate governments which are absolutely blameless" in connection with U.S. spy plane flights.

Malinovsky declared in a speech Monday that he had ordered Soviet rocket forces to blast any base from which a foreign aircraft might violate the borders of the Soviet Union or its allies.

White also said the State Department has not had any success yet in having some official in the U.S. Embassy in Moscow interview Francis G. Powers, the captured pilot of the U2 aircraft which went down in the Soviet Union May 1.
