Kennedy Hits Ike's Policies

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.) said today that if Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev hadn't wrecked the summit conference it would have founded on what he called obsolete U.S. policies. Kennedy, a leading candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination, said that if the presidential campaign turns on the issue of who best can stand up to Khrushchev, the American people will lose, no matter who wins in November. His prepared Senate speech coupled a series of foreign policy suggestions of his own with a slashing attack on President Eisenhower and Vice President Richard M. Nixon, the probable GOP presidential nominee. It obviously was intended both to reply to his Republican critics and to counter accusations by some supporters of rival Democratic aspirants that Kennedy, at 43, is too young and inexperienced to negotiate with Khrushchev. Kennedy said the American delegation headed by Eisenhower went to the Paris summit meeting with "no fresh ideas" and only "obsolete policies and meaningless slogans." "Our conferees have consistently gone to the international bargaining table ill-staffed, ill-prepared and ill-advised," he said. "Coordinate efforts — with all agencies and all allies — have faltered without strong direction from the top; and strong direction from the top has often faltered because the President has not been kept fully informed." Because of this, the Massachusetts senator said, it was "fortunate that the violent manner in which the Soviets carried out their determination to wreck the summit made it clear to the world that the blame for the collapse of the conference rests on Mr. Khrushchev." "Our allies and our own people had been misled into believing there was some point to holding the summit conference — that we were prepared to say more than what changes in the status quo we would not accept — that by a miracle of personal charm and public relations the Russians could be cajoled into yielding some of their hard-won positions of strength — that we had some conception of alternative settlements that were both acceptable to us and possibly acceptable to the Soviets," Kennedy said. "But the truth of the matter is that we were not prepared for any such negotiations — that there was no real success which the summit could have achieved."

MAJ. GEN. CHARLES M. EISENHART

Gen. Eisenhart To Speak Here

MAJ. GEN. CHARLES M. EISENHART will be the speaker for the graduation ceremonies today of Class 60-H at Webb AFB. The local base is graduating 51 jet pilots during the program which begins at 7:30 p.m. in the Webb AFB chapel. Gen. Eisenhart is currently assigned to headquarters, Strategic Air Command as chief of plans division, directorate of operations. He is the brother of Webb's commander, Col. Donald W. Eisenhart. A veteran of nearly 23 years' service, Gen. Eisenhart was commissioned in October of 1938 upon receiving his wings at Kelly Field. In December, 1939, he was assigned to the 27th Reconnaissance Squadron which soon moved to Boring Field, Puerto Rico (now Ramey AFB). Here he spent two and one-half years, before he joined the 25th Bomb Group as commander of the 12th Squadron on the islands of St. Croix, Virgin Islands, and Aruba, Netherlands, West Indies. Assigned to headquarters of the First Air Support Command, Charlotte, N. C., in June of 1943, he commanded advanced headquarters in the famous "Tennessee Maneuvers" until January, 1944, when he went to the Command and General Staff School at Fort Leavenworth, Kan. In July, 1944, he took over the 484th Squadron of the 505th Bomb Group which was undergoing B-29 training and was preparing for combat duty overseas. Five months later he went with the unit to Marianas, and in April, 1945, he took command of the group while on Tinian Island. His post-war assignments include: Chief of the Bombardment Branch, Air Tactical School of the Air University, 1946-48; deputy director, public relations, headquarters of USAF, Pentagon, 1948-52; commander of Lockbourne AFB, Ohio, 1953-54; and prior to assuming his present post, he served as commander of the 91st Strategic Recon Wing; chief of staff, Second Air Force; and commander of the 14th Air Division, Travis AFB, Calif. In addition to the Command and General Staff School, the general attended the Armed Forces Staff College at Norfolk, Va., 1948; and the Air War College, Maxwell AFB, Ala., 1952-53. He rates as a command pilot. Among his decorations are the Legion of Merit, the Distinguished Flying Cross, with one cluster; the Bronze Star; the Air Medal, with one cluster; the Presidential Unit Citation, with two clusters; the Pacific Theater Combat Ribbon and the Commendation Ribbon. A native of Culbertson, Neb., he graduated from Nebraska State College with a Bachelor of Science degree. He is married to the former Dorothy Leonard and has two children; Donald, 12; and Marion, 10. The 51 student officers receiving their wings at the ceremony are: First Lieutenants Elbert C. Huffines, Hermann Braun, Charles S. Bruckner, Jerry C. Goodenough, Norman V. Hjem, Jerry H. Miller, Travis O. Rogers, Hugh E. Scott, Eugene D. Stammer, John P. Ohanian, John W. Price, and Norman R. Lindsay. Second Lieutenants Dieter H-J Dolling, Robert C. Evans, Elmer E. Nelson, William R. Platt, Raymond E. Powell, Franz P. Scheuermann, Kenneth R. Shatzer, Dean E. Hedlund Jr., William J. Skokan, Donald E. Terpening, Robert W. Wallace, Albert R. Zimmermann Jr., Farrald G. Belote Jr., Charles L. Dougherty, Richard C. Stevenson, Thomas W. Scott, Jerry L. Zeidler. And James R. Pope, James S. Urbanski, David L. Walston, Joe E. Ward, Franz Josef Schmitz, Fred D. Wolf, Joe L. Byrd, Carl W. Dauber, Ray W. Laird, Philip H. Brawner, Ronald G. Erhart, Hermann Hammerstein, Donald R. Harrell, Charles E. Hughes, Charles R. Stoltz, Charles G. Dudley, William R. Gruetter, Hanns H. Hagen, Robert S. Patton Jr., Thomas M. Reynolds Jr., James E. White, and John S. Kubin.

JOYOUS, SINGING President Overwhelmed With Ecstatic Welcome

MANILA (AP)—A joyous, singing, almost uncontrollable mass of Filipinos today nearly overwhelmed President Eisenhower with an ecstatic welcome. "This land which the United States set free only 14 years ago gave Eisenhower perhaps the greatest tribute he has ever received overseas. One and a half million or more roared their acclaim along a flag-beckoned route showering Eisenhower with a near blizzard of pastel confetti. President Garcia of the Philippines — despite political pressures that sometimes make it expedient to strike an unfriendly pose toward America — was unflinching in his praise of Eisenhower and the United States as leaders of the free world in a quest for peace. Garcia said the Philippines "is and will ever be the staunch friend and ally of the United States." He praised Eisenhower for his "proud, passionate and unflinching quest for permanent and just world peace." Eisenhower, referring to disputes between the United States and its former colony over war claims and trade relations, replied that "no petty difference can ever tear apart" the bonds of friendship between the two countries. In a personal note, Eisenhower also conveyed good wishes from Gen. Douglas MacArthur, who led American forces back to the Philippines in World War II. Eisenhower served under MacArthur as staff aide in the Philippines when MacArthur was military adviser to the Philippine army before the war. The two presidents, sitting side by side in a long convertible, headed into the city. The route wound through tree-lined residential areas and the bustling, modern heart of Manila rebuilt from the destruction of World War II.

Walkout By Liberals Not Yet Certain

AUSTIN (AP)—Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson won overwhelming control today of the state Democratic convention. Johnson's forces rolled over disidentical liberals 75 to 40 in the session's first test vote. It was on a liberal proposal to tighten party loyalty rules. An expected walkout by the badly-beaten minority didn't materialize. Johnson's opponents were mostly on the outside of the hall. It was not immediately clear whether a rump convention would be called. Early in the convention, it appeared that Johnson not only had won control, but also the harmony he wanted to back him up in his bid for the presidential nomination in the national convention. The vote was on a motion to kill a proposal by anti-Johnson forces for an ironclad loyalty pledge as opposed to the Johnson camp's less rigid loyalty declaration. Gov. Price Daniel, taking the gavel as temporary chairman said that anybody who had the nerve to challenge the overwhelming endorsement for Johnson at the national convention "must surely be out of his mind." Daniel drew a roaring cheer when he referred to Johnson as the man who could win the nomination and the presidency. Rep. Jim Wright (D-Tex.) of Weatherford won loud handclaps and repeated cheers in his keynote speech which was 90 per cent in oration in praise of Johnson. Johnson has all that is needed "to lead us to an overwhelming victory in November" Wright told the relaxed delegates. Johnson had offered a double-barrelled loyalty declaration similar to statements adopted by former state and national conventions. The liberals said it was not strong enough. Alex Dickie of Denton, vice chairman of the Democrats of Texas Clubs (DOTC) that have fought Johnson, moved to amend the report of the executive committee by requiring delegates to declare flatly they will support state and national nominees before they can be seated. Cecil Burney, Johnson backer from Corpus Christi, argued that the executive committee's loyalty declarations, based on law, are sufficient to guarantee loyalty. He said they were taking a "holier than thou" position with their delegate pledge proposal. Jack Lee of Mason County seconded the Dickie motion. "We want to send a delegation to Los Angeles which will be effective in his (Johnson's) behalf. It can't be effective when there is a shadow of doubt reflected on our loyalty to the party we represent," Lee said. The Dickie amendment would make the Texas delegation to Los Angeles an illegal delegation because it runs counter to Texas law, said national committee member Byron Skellon, opposing it. The Democratic Clubs of Texas want only to embarrass Johnson. See CONVENTION, Pg. 6-A, Col. 3

BACK NIXON Texas Republicans Have Near Record Turnout

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — Texas Republicans joined in near-unanimous support of the Vice President Richard Nixon in his bid for the presidency today as the state GOP convention opened. Backers of Gov. Nelson Rockefeller of New York threw their support to Nixon after a pre-convention caucus. This left Arizona Sen. Barry Goldwater as the only other figure with Texas support for the nomination. Goldwater has far more backing for vice president than president. Phil Schulze of Houston, spokesman for the Rockefeller organization in Texas, said "in view of the unequivocal statement by Rockefeller that he is not a candidate for president, we are placing our support behind the next president of the United States, Richard M. Nixon." The announcement came just before the convention was called to order to name the Texas delegation to the GOP national convention. The 1,200 delegates to the state convention also will consider nominees for national committeeman and committeewoman and will pass resolutions for consideration at the national convention next month in Chicago. The turnout is the largest for the party in years, leading state chairman Thad Hutchison to predict "this is the time for us to take out after our Democratic opposition and do the job of an effective minority party in Texas."

Explosion Sets Oil Tanks Afire

FREEDOM, Pa. (AP)—An explosion in a large tank at the Valvoline Refinery Co. today set fire to thousands of gallons of oil. Three hours after the blast, flames continued to spew and threatened eight other tanks. Firemen fought the blaze with chemicals. In a precautionary move, firemen built dikes on the road parallel to the refinery to corral any flow of oil should the other tanks explode.

Antarctic Treaty Termed Danger To U.S. Security

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Clair Engle (D-Calif.) charged today the Antarctic Treaty with the Soviet Union and 10 other nations poses "a danger to the security of the United States" and its allies. Engle, asking its rejection, said the treaty would settle "the seal of free world recognition on the return for whatever assurance the treaty offers that the Soviets will not be trouble makers." The treaty, signed in Washington last December, provides that Antarctica shall be developed and used only for peaceful purposes. It recognizes no territorial claims by any individual nation. In addition to the United States and the Soviet Union, countries signing the treaty are Argentina, Australia, Belgium, Chile, France, Japan, New Zealand, Norway, South Africa and Britain. Engle spoke against the treaty in testimony prepared for the Senate Foreign Relations Committee. Sen. Ernest Gruening (D-Alaska) also was listed as an opposition witness. Chairman J. William Fulbright (D-Ark.) told newsmen that if the treaty "runs up against much serious opposition this late in the session, it may have to go over to the next" session. Engle said that for the United States to give up sovereign rights in Antarctica "would be as great a folly as it would have been many years ago to forego purchase of Alaska." "The treaty will give the Soviet Union a position of equality which it does not deserve, and which poses a danger to the security of our allies in the southern hemisphere," Engle said.

TERRY MORRIS STEP NEARER HIS DREAM OF NORMAL LIFE

Terry Lynn Morris is a giant stride near his fondest dream. It is probable now that he will be able to run and play like other boys. Terry, the 11-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. T. P. Morris, 502 Owens, recently underwent open heart surgery at the Texas Children's Hospital in Houston. His mother reports that Terry's surgery has released him to his own hospital room (No. 337). Terry went to Houston two weeks ago. At first an instrument was inserted into the heart to ascertain the exact location and size of a hole between the inner wall of the lower part of his heart. Later blood was by-passed through an artificial heart while his heart was opened and the hole sutured. If his progress continues, he may be able to return home within a week or two. After a few months to gain strength, he may be able to do all the things other boys do—something that has been denied him since he was a baby. Right now, Terry would like to hear from his friends.

Chamber Names Asst. Manager

R. L. (Dick) Kendall has been employed as assistant manager of the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce. Cliff Fisher, chamber president, announced the contract at Monday's meeting of the board of directors. Announcement of the new employee was among the various committee reports made during the regular monthly meeting of the chamber directors. Kendall is 24, married and has one child. He is currently in the U. S. Air Force and due to be discharged Aug. 15. He will be here about Sept. 1. Kendall's experience includes director of publicity and research for the San Angelo chamber, advertising salesman, editor and assistant editor of the McConnell AFB, Kansas, newspaper and he worked for a radio station at Pasadena. He is a graduate of Baylor University and participated in the Baylor Chamber Management course. NEW BOARD MEMBER In another appointment, Fisher named Daryle Hohertz to the board to fill the one year unexpired term of K. D. Hestes. Jack Cook, reporting for the aviation committee, told the directors an open house is planned for June 19 at the county airfield. He said area residents would be encouraged to come out and inspect the new facilities, including the jet display and new terminal building. Free plane rides will be offered during the day, he said. July 15 is the deadline for filing the brief regarding local airlines service. Cook said City Attorney Jim Burgess is preparing the forms. He also pointed out that the committee is working with the Howard County Commissioners in securing various paving strips at the air field. George Zachariah made a report on the progress of the new building for the Howard County Society for Crippled Children. He commended the trade unions for their volunteer work on the structure. OTHER REPORTS It was also pointed out that the clean-up campaign is progressing successfully. R. H. Weaver, reporting for the highway committee said coordi-

WATER USE AT YEAR'S PEAK

Water use in Big Spring topped the 10-million gallon mark Monday for the first time this year, city filter plant records show. Residents used 10,289,000 gallons treated at the plant, the same amount of water received from Lake J. B. Thomas. On the same date a year ago, 7,472,000 gallons were used, with 7,519,000 gallons taken out of the lake.

On Target Once More This embattled residence at 800 Nolan today bore the scars of its latest encounter with a car. A vehicle, a Cadillac belonging to Dr. Louise Bennett Worthing, 1610 Main, rolled out of a parking lot northwest of the Howard County Foundation Hospital about 8:30 p.m. Monday and plowed into the front of the frame house occupied by Lt. Larry Lutz. Damage was estimated by officers at $2,900. A year ago another car rolled off the parking lot into the structure owned by Frank Hardesty.

(AP)—A service station attendant, Kenny Richards Jr., about 19, was shot in the head Monday by two holdup men who fled with $47 from the station. Highway Patrolmen later captured two Negro ex-convicts 37 miles northeast of Pecos in Monahan County. Atty. H. D. Glover said the Negroes, Benny Wilson and Curtis Roberts, both 19, of Midland, admitted shooting Richards. Richards, critically wounded, had one bullet removed and was then taken by ambulance to El Paso, 210 miles west. He underwent more surgery for removal of bone fragments at Providence Hospital. Attendants said he was in good condition. For the present, doctors do not plan to extract the other bullet. Both Negroes were charged with armed robbery and assault with intent to kill. Glover said both served prison terms from Midland for burglary.

Time For Action On Zoning Ordinance, Says Springer

"We have had our discussions—now we need to begin making a decision and adopt a zoning ordinance to replace the one we now have." This Marvin Springer, master plan consultant, launched an explanation of his proposed zoning ordinance to members of the master plan steering committee, city commission, planning and zoning commission and zoning board of adjustment. The group met in the police building Monday evening. The explanation of zoning regulations and discussion carried through the first eight of 12 districts Springer has outlined in his ordinance. The portions were accepted, with a couple of exceptions. All zoned property has been given a minimum lot size, building size, parking regulations, and, of course, usage. REQUIREMENT QUESTIONED The rear yard requirements placed on residential zones are a minimum of 25 feet, which City Commissioner John Taylor indicated might burden some property owners. "The terrain features here sometime make it desirable to build the house to the back of the lot," he said. Springer said he would work out a new regulation in this respect for presentation at a later date. The uses for property permitted in the most restrictive residential zone, IF-1 includes home occupation, a category Springer said is "one of the toughest to handle." Home occupations mean any carried on in the home by family members only and one that does not require any additional equipment or alteration in the building. HOME OCCUPATIONS Dr. J. E. Hogan, chairman of the steering committee, suggested that home occupations not be allowed in this zone but others noted that this such a restriction would knock out piano lessons, voice lessons, artists, etc. Springer said that a person should not be restricted in the enjoyment of his property unless it is annoying and obnoxious to his neighbors. City Manager A. K. Steinheimer pointed out that enforcement almost prohibited trying to do away with the home occupations. The only other regulations which drew considerable dis-

RESUMES TREK

Famed Walker Struck By Car

BRAZIL, Ind. (AP)—State police and Dr. Barbara Moore differed slightly today on how it happened, but the 56-year-old British vegetarian was more interested in hitting the road than in discussing her mishap.

The Russian-born physician said the "big American car" bumped her "just at the wrong moment," interrupting her cross-country hike Monday as she strode toward Indianapolis from the Illinois-Indiana border.

Dr. Moore said she was hit without warning while walking next to the grass divider strip on U.S. 40. State police said she stepped off the grass and into the path of the car driven by Elizabeth M. Kline, 67, of Shamokin, Pa. All agreed the slowly moving car caused a painfully bruised back and a swollen left ankle.

Although she has no chance of breaking the cross-country walking record, Dr. Moore spoke anxiously of resuming her California to New York trek as soon as possible if, for no other reason, than to hurry down under for her cross-Australia march. "And Canada after that."

"I'm feeling better already," she said, sitting upright in her Clay County hospital bed. "I'm an old motorcycle racer, and no stranger to accidents."

Dr. Moore planned to be on her way "sooner than you think." She said her vegetarian diet of more than 40 years had quickened her recuperative powers, and that she might walk "day and night" over the last 700 plus miles of the trip which started 62 days ago in San Francisco.

She passed off an expired accident insurance policy as a twist of fate. When she paid $6 for the policy while crossing through Kansas May 27, she "expected to be in New York before the two-week expiration date."

She seemed more concerned about the worry she had caused her husband, British sculptor Harry Moore, who had warned her about run-ins with American cars. Another bother was the fall had ripped her last pair of torador pants. "If I start tomorrow, I shall have nothing to wear."

Dr. Moore put away a healthy ration of salad, crushed pecans, crushed carrots, strawberries and tomato juice. She told reporters, "you Americans are always tired. Too much meat and too much coffee."

She ordered an early breakfast of honey with crushed bananas. "I want to be ready to resume my grassroots trip through your beautiful country."

Machinists Vote On Convair Benefit Offers

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—Machinists today were voting on an offer by Convair that could ease the missile industry's labor troubles, as strike deadlines neared for 30,000 other workers.

The International Assn. of Machinists began polling 30,000 members Monday night on an offer that involves field wage rates, per diem pay, relation benefits and seniority at Atlas missile bases struck eight days ago.

The strike, stretching from Cape Canaveral in Florida to California's Vandenberg Air Force Base, has tied up the sites that test and fire the mighty Atlas—the United States' only operational intercontinental missile.

IAM spokesmen said, however, that the supplemental offer by Convair concerns only the outside missile sites and does not affect all of Convair's 27,000 employees.

Voting was being conducted at Vandenberg, 165 miles north of Los Angeles; Edwards AFB, Calif.; Cape Canaveral; Offutt AFB, Neb., and Warren AFB, Wyo.

Negotiators continued to meet on an around-the-clock basis in San Diego.

In San Diego the Engineers and Architects Assn. staged a walk-out Monday, causing a heavy traffic jam outside the Convair plant.

The EAA said the strike was 80 per cent effective and that 10 per cent of the machinists respected the picket lines despite a IAM directive that they cross the lines because "the company is getting down to serious negotiating."

The Engineers and Architects Assn. said it plans a walkout every Monday until their wage dispute is settled.

Pay scales in the affected plants range from $1.65 an hour for machinists to $1,090 a month for engineers. The unions seek various fringe benefits and pay hikes ranging from 14 cents an hour from machinists to $65 a month for engineers.

Strike deadlines neared for others in the troubled aircraft and missile industry. Bargaining continued in San Francisco between the IAM and Lockheed. A strike is scheduled for midnight tonight that would affect 10,000 workers at the company's California facilities of Van Nuys, Sunnyvale, Santa Cruz and Vandenberg.

Also bargaining were representatives of the United Auto Workers and Douglas. A UAW strike, too, is set for midnight tonight. It would affect 20,000 workers at the company's plants at Long Beach, Calif., Tulsa, Okla., and Charlotte, N.C.

The National Labor Relations Board obtained an injunction in U.S. District Court in Tampa, Fla. ordering the machinists to stop secondary picketing immediately against five firms at Cape Canaveral.

Plane Burns

DEL RIO (AP)—A two-place plane, piloted by John Casparis, 61, manager of the Alpine airport, caught fire shortly after takeoff Monday and crashed. Casparis suffered critical burns.

GARDEN TALK

Simple Home Remedies Help Get Rid Of Pests

How can I get rid of squash bugs? writes Joe Cole; grape hoppers? Thelma Smedley; snails? Lola R.; dogs in my flower beds? Doris Lamun.

Well, to clear up a lot of questions in a short time, squash bugs usually respond to sabadilla, pyrethrum, or rotenone. None of these remedies are really good, though, because the bugs are very resistant to most insecticides; try picking them off and dropping them in a can of kerosene for a sure-fire control. If there is a young boy or girl handy the going rate is 5 or 10 cents a hundred. It was a long time ago when that was my business and profession, so the rate may be off-ky.

Grape hoppers are another thing. If your grapes are still very small, cotton dust 3-5-40 or 2-10-40 is good. The numbers mean DDT, BHC, and Sulphur, in the amounts indicated. These amounts are really percentages. Also if the fruit is small, Black Leaf 40 is very good.

Snails call for something else. There is a product called Snarl, one called Snarall, and several other trade names, but they all depend on lead arsenate or calcium-arsenate to kill the snails. Paris Green will also do the trick. The problem is to make it tasty enough that the snails will eat it and the children or pets won't. We use slices of Irish potato loaded with small doses of poison. You need not use very much on the potato as a little goes a long way with the snails. Do use care with any insecticide or poison, though, because that skull and cross bones means it will harm you and might kill! Always use caution where children and pets are likely to find it, and ALWAYS store poisons in a locked cabinet.

Now how do you keep the neighbor's dog out of your flower bed without doing Fido bodily harm, or offending your neighbor? This problem was long ago worked out and there are many products on the market that will do the trick. One is Dogs-Off, another is called Scat! They all depend on the fact that dogs and cats don't like the smell of nicotine, so they use nicotine sulfate as a repellent. That is what you find in Black Leaf 40, so use this if you can't find one of the other products. Soak a small sponge in this product and place it where the animals have been a problem. They won't be hurt because they will leave it strictly alone. As a substitute method, use snuff or old cigar butts. They work nearly as well.

If you have trouble with cats and dogs on the chairs and sofas, a pinch of snuff here and there will usually keep them in their place, and with no harm done, unless the man of the house wants to use the sofa for a nap!

Judge May Halt Pilot Walkout Against Airline

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—A federal judge, who has barred the Federal Aviation Agency from Eastern Air Lines strike case, said he would sign an injunction today ordering pilots to cease their walkout.

Also scheduled were hearings on contempt citations against some of the pilots who refused to honor a court order to fly Eastern's planes out of Miami.

The big carrier told U.S. Dist. Judge Joseph P. Lieb that the walkout, which is not union-sanctioned, is costing Eastern 1 1/2 million dollars a day.

An EAL spokesman said only 21 per cent of its planes flew Monday. Eastern normally operates 400 flights daily on routes that extend from Houston, Texas, east to San Juan, Puerto Rico and north to New York.

Preacher Gets Paid For Wedding

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP)—A retired Methodist minister has been paid—35 years late—for a wedding he performed.

At Monday's closing session of the Holston Methodist Conference, the Rev. Carl L. Athearn of Soddy, Tenn., was presented a $35 check by Bishop Roy Short.

The check, from D. D. Daugherty of Ridgedale, Tenn., read: "For wedding ceremony Jan. 4, 1925." Daugherty said he forgot to pay the preacher.

Parr's Attorney Elated With Court's Decision

HOUSTON (AP)—Percy Foreman, famed attorney for the defense, expressed elation at Monday's action by the U. S. Supreme Court which freed political boss George Parr of Duval County of charges of mail fraud.

Foreman said that if the theory advanced by the government in the case had been allowed to stand "there would be no heed for state courts."

"And the theory would make police courts out of the U. S. district courts," Foreman added.

By its 6-3 decision Monday, the Supreme Court reversed a South Texas Federal District Court conviction of Parr and eight other persons charged with using the mails to defraud the Benavides Independent School District in Duval County of more than $200,000 in tax funds.

Parr was sentenced to 10 years in prison and ordered to pay a $20,000 fine by U. S. Dist. Judge Joe Ingraham of Houston.

Lesser sentences were given the others in the case stemming from incidents occurring between 1949 and 1954.

Foreman said the only reason the prosecution had been conceived was that there was no substance to 454 state indictments brought against Parr's Old Party in Duval County.

"Out of those 454 indictments, not one person has been mugged, printed or served a minute in jail," Foreman said. "Some have been convicted, but each case has been reversed," he added.

Foreman said all of the co-defendants with Parr in the case are now doing well in what he termed "The Duke's old domain."

Besides Parr, the other petitioners and the sentences they had received in the district court were: D. C. Chapa, five years; B. F. Donald, four years; Jesus G. Garza, three years but suspended on probation; Santiago Garcia, three years but suspended on probation; Octavio Saenz, three years; Oscar Carrillo Sr., four years; O. P. Carrillo, two years but suspended on probation; Jesus Oliveira, two years but suspended on probation, and a $7,000 fine.

The Texas State Bank of Alice received a $2,000 fine and the San Diego State Bank a $900 fine.

Ruling Allows Parochial Students On School Buses

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP)—The Connecticut Supreme Court of Errors today ruled that a state law permitting transportation of parochial school pupils in public school buses is constitutional.

The state's highest tribunal added, however, that use of money from the Connecticut School Fund for this type of service is unconstitutional.

This means that some communities may have to revise their fiscal housekeeping.

But Chief Justice Raymond E. Baldwin, with three of the other four judges concurring, found nothing wrong with the law permitting non-profit private school children to ride to their classes in public school buses.

The law, they said, "aids the parents in sending their children to a school of their choice, as is their right. It protects the children from the dangers of modern traffic and reduces the hazard of contracting illness in bad weather."

Moreover, the opinion continued: "It is consistent with the present day policy of gathering children in modern schools for better educational opportunities. It primarily serves the public health, safety and welfare and fosters education."

In the light of our history and policy, it cannot be said to compel support of the church. It comes up to, but does not breach, the "wall of separation" between church and state.

The fifth justice Samuel Melitz, disagreed with the portion of the opinion ruling the law constitutional.

He said the question was whether the fact that the town pays for transporting pupils to and from the Roman Catholic school involved in the case constituted support of the school.

He said it did and that this was not constitutional.

The school bus law has produced one of Connecticut's bitterest controversies since it won narrow approval by the 1957 General Assembly after a House vote of 134-133.

The test case involved a handful of school children in Newtown, one of Connecticut's smaller towns.

Stamps In The News

By SYD KRONISH
AP Newsfeatures

The United Nations' third commemorative stamp of 1960 will honor the Fifth World Forestry Congress and will be issued Aug. 29. The Congress will be held in Seattle, Wash., from Aug. 29 to Sept. 9.

The 4 cent will be dark blue, dark green, two shades of blue and orange. The 8 cent will be dark blue, dark green, two shades of yellow green and orange.

Features on the stamp will be a tree design, the FAO symbol and the United Nations emblem surrounded by the words "Fifth World Forestry Congress."

Designer of the stamp is O. Hamann of Denmark, a member of the U. N. Graphic Presentation Office.

Further details about the stamp and instructions regarding purchases of first day covers will be given in this column soon.

Yul Brynner, the noted movie actor, is an ardent philatelist. In fact he has just offered to lend his $300,000 collection of United Nations stamps to any exhibit which will promote work on the United Nations or the World Relief Organization. The star is completing "The Magnificent Seven," which he says is the last movie he will make this year. He plans to devote the rest of 1960 to working for the WRO in Geneva—and on improving his collection.

France has issued three new stamps in May. A 50 centime stamp honored the town of La Bourboule and depicted a view of the town as seen through an open window. The 20 centime stamp for the first normal school at Strasbourg was mentioned here previously. A 30 centime showing the Chateau de Blois is the third of the new issues.

The Philippines has issued a set of two values to commemorate the 25th anniversary of the Philippine Air Force. Each stamp depicts the first plane used in the Philippine Air Force flying below a modern Sabre-jet. The 10 centavos is red and the 20 c is blue.

A new clear plastic stamp mount has arrived on the market. This one, called Showguard, enables a hobbyist or a dealer to custom fit stamps of all sizes into his albums. Freedom for air circulation prevents deterioration. No sealing or folding is necessary and the dark background serves as a display setting.

Ike Lauded For Continuing Trip

LONDON (AP)—Newspapers of Western Europe saluted President Eisenhower's courage in carrying on with his visit to Japan. But many expressed doubt that the trip will prove worth while.

Non-Communist newspapers of France in general described the visit as necessary though dangerous. Those of West Germany took a similar view, though Frankfurt's independent Neue Presse said "Nobody expects this trip to strengthen American-Japanese relations."

The London tabloid Daily Mirror, often critical of U.S. foreign policy, said "You've got to hand it to President Ike. This man has guts."

Corriere d'Informazione of Milan Monday edition of the independent Corriere Della Sera, said the outbreaks in Tokyo may serve a useful purpose by removing illusions about "the complex reality of the Asian spirit."

The Stockholm Aftonbladet recalled that Archduke Francis Ferdinand of Austria in 1914 rejected warnings against his visit to Serbia and was assassinated, thereby setting off World War I.

BY PROXMIRE

Refutation Of Charges Promised By Department

WASHINGTON (AP)—The State Department promised today what it called "a detailed refutation" of charges by Sen. William Proxmire (D-Wis.) that it was guilty of serious irregularities in buying furniture.

Proxmire told the Senate Monday that a firm headed by the son of Secretary of Commerce Frederick H. Mueller had received nine contracts totaling $89,400 for furniture for embassies abroad.

"None of the contracts was awarded on the basis of competitive bids," Proxmire said.

He particularly criticized the purchase of more than $60,000 of furniture for the U. S. Embassy in Caracas, Venezuela, and the shipment of most of it there by plane at an added cost of $30,000.

He rejected as unsatisfactory the State Department's explanation that the decision to ship by plane was made because of a longshoremen's strike. He said the strike ended last Oct. 9 and the embassy wasn't ready for occupancy until Nov. 1.

The State Department said that if the furniture had not arrived by Nov. 1, it would have had to remain in its old quarters for another month at a rental cost of $21,000.

Proxmire recalled that in a Wisconsin speech last November, Secretary Mueller declared "we shall continue to expose (and) strike down every spendthrift claw, reaching for the taxpayer's pocket."

"I suggest," Proxmire said, "he consider some spendthrift waste mighty close to home."

Service Is Good

BOULDER, Colo. (AP)—Manager Claude Meyers declined to say how much money was taken Monday in a robbery at a new supermarket. But he knows the bandit was satisfied with the store's service.

The man stepped into the cashier's wire cage in the rear of the store and directed Opal Switzer, cashier, to put all bills bigger than dollars in a cardboard box. She obliged.

As the robber left, Meyers noticed the big box he was carrying. He asked, "Have you been taken care of, Sir?"

"I sure have," the man replied—and fled.

May Rains Were Unusually Light

AUSTIN (AP)—Rain in May was unusually light, the Board of Water Engineers said Monday in a report on water conditions.

Each of 21 weather stations throughout the state reported May rain below normal.

Rain last month averaged 1.44 inches, compared with a normal of 3.66 inches.

Total conservation storage in major reservoirs, however, was 9,523,290 acre feet in May, compared with 9,481,285 in April. The rise was attributed to localized heavy rains in North Texas.

Mow Lawn, But Be Real Quiet

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP)—Baltimoreans may cut their lawns with a power mower on Sundays if it's quiet and they don't have to push it much.

That was the gist of a two-page opinion by the attorney general's office after Magistrate Frank Saul asked if use of power mowers and the labor that goes with it violated the Sunday "blue laws."

The opinion said a magistrate would have to determine the facts in each particular case, deciding if the mower made "loud and unseemly noises" and if the pushing was hard enough to constitute bodily labor.

MR. and MRS. J. O. HAGOOD left this morning for New York to board a plane for England. They will spend about three weeks with LT. and MRS. KENNETH LOCKMILLER and their family. Mrs. Lockmiller is the former Dolores Hagood. The Lockmillers live in Alconburn, northeast of London. The Hagoods are hoping their visit is timed to coincide with the arrival of the stork to make them grandparents again. They will arrive back in the States about the middle of July and will visit in North Carolina before returning here.

Back from a trip to Houston are MR. and MRS. MANLEY COOK who have visited their daughter, June, and her family. MR. and MRS. JAMES F. BROWN. Brown has just completed his degree work at Texas A&M and is entering the University of Texas Dental College at Houston. En route home the Cooks were called to McKinney where Mr. Cook's father, Lee Cook, had suffered a heart attack. The elder Mr. Cook is making good progress and has returned home from the hospital.

DR. ROBERT O'BRIEN has visited here from Houston with his parents, Dr. and Mrs. P. D. O'Brien.

MISS MAE HODGES of Gunterville, Ala., a cousin of MRS. G. A. BROWN and MISS MATTIE LEATHERWOOD, is visiting in the Brown home. Another guest of Mrs. Brown and Neil Brown has been MRS. D. D. WOOD, who left Sunday night for her home in Texas.

Recent guests of MR. and MRS. JACK HENDRIX were two of his sisters, Mrs. Ben Graben and Mrs. Robert Cole, and a niece, Brenda Spurlin, all of Lineville, Ala. The three left here Saturday.

MR. and MRS. TOMMY McADAMS and their children, Christy and Gary, have returned to their home in Abilene after visiting here in the homes of Mr. and Mrs. Tom McAdams and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Farquhar. McAdams received a BA degree from McMurry College this month.

The arrival of an 8-pound 10-ounce red-haired boy caused a stir in the homes of MRS. JULIA BONIFIELD and MR. and MRS. CARL BARNFIELD. They are the grandparents of FREDERICK LYNDON BARNFIELD who was born Sunday at 6 p.m. to MR. and MRS. CURTIS BARNFIELD in Bryan at St. Joseph's Hospital. Mrs. Barnfield is the former Kay Bonifield. Barnfield is a student at A&M College. Mrs. Bonifield plans to leave Wednesday to stay with the couple for some time.

People are picking on MRS. J. N. LANE'S pretty yard again. This time some sneaky souls have spirited away her miniature wood wheelbarrow in which she had planted hybrid petunias. Last year culprits dug up her petunias and transplanted them somewhere else now they have taken the petunias and the planter.

How To Determine Degree Of Insect Infestation

Appearance of insects in some cotton fields gives added interest to the annual cotton pests situation reports which will be compiled and released by the Lubbock office of the Extension Department of the A&M college.

John G. Thomas, assistant entomologist, has announced the plans for these surveys in all of the counties in this section of Texas. Emphasis will be laid on thrips, fleahoppers and bollworms. Individuals will be assigned in each county as checkers and will send in weekly reports to the Lubbock office. From these information will be compiled on infestation in each of the counties and sent to news media for distribution.

Individuals who want to evaluate the extent of insect damage to their own fields, can follow the general instruction sent to the checkers.

LIGHT INFESTATION

Infestation is measured as light, medium and heavy. In the use of thrips (and it is reported some of these have already made their appearance in this county) the inspector is told to walk diagonally across the fields inspecting a large number of plants at several representative places.

Where the newest unfolding leaves show only slight brownish tinge along edges with no silvering of the underside of these or older leaves and only an occasional thrips seen, the infestation is light. If the newer leaves show more browning and are silvered on the bottom and more thrips are sighted, the rating of infestation is medium. If the silvering of the leaves is readily noticeable, terminal buds show injury, general appearance of the plant is ragged and deformed and many thrips seen, infestation is heavy and dangerous.

In the case of fleahoppers, the inspector is instructed to walk diagonally across the field, inspecting 33 terminal buds approximately 50 feet from each of the two corners and 34 terminal buds in the center of the field. All adult fleahoppers or any nymphs found in the top three or four inches of the plants. One to 10 fleahoppers in 100 terminal buds shows light infestation, 11 to 25 medium and 26 or more heavy infestation.

BOLL WORMS

In the case of bollworms, the terminal buds and several of the lower branches of 100 cotton plants should be examined and the number of worms counted. If only a few small squares show damage, the infestation is light; the trouble is rated as medium when injured squares and bolls are readily noticeable over most of the field. When numerous injured squares and bolls are readily noticed, the infestation is classified as heavy.

Youngsters Are 'Firebug' Prone

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — An arson expert says the firebugs who cause the most damage are youngsters with matches. "One of our big jobs is to catch these kids early," said Sgt. H. B. Hatcher of the Los Angeles sheriff's arson squad. "The little ones, 2 and 3, start fires by accident, but when they get to 8 or more, they know what they're doing." Hatcher is president of the California Conference of Arson Investigators.

TV Networks In Contest On Convention Coverage

By CYNTHIA LOWRY AP Television-Radio Writer
 NEW YORK (AP)—The three television networks are in a giant contest to provide the most complete, fastest and smoothest coverage of the forthcoming political conventions. ABC, however, seems to be out ahead in offering the most luxurious facilities to its commentators and convention delegates. It plans something called a "special room" where weary staff members and tired politicians may repair for a revitalizing whiff of oxygen and a rest in vibrating chairs while breathing negatively charged air—whatever that is. If the networks give us the all-out coverage their plans indicate, it might be better to send out oxygen kits and tanks of negatively charged air for fatigued viewers. Speaking of politics, chairmen of both major parties were among the speakers at a session held by the Academy of TV Arts and Sciences here the other day. They said they do not think TV has brought about any greater public interest in politics, although it has changed campaign techniques. Poll-taker Elmo Roper, another speaker, said he didn't think TV influenced voting much and that it was just another source for those with political interests. Republican national chairman Thruston B. Morton warned against the dangers of over-exposure of candidates on TV, particularly on the half-hour interview shows. Averell Harriman, former governor of New York, however, had some words to say about a panel member of NBC's "Meet the Press": "Larry Spivak is the best possible foil because he looks like a demon, so that the candidate gets the sympathy of the audience. The tougher he is, the more sympathy."

A spell back, this column made lighthearted reference to "The Lone Ranger," and quoted Tonto, the ranger's redskin pal, as saying "Quien Sabe" very often. This grievous gaff has resulted in a spate of mail from Tonto's loyal fans, informing me that what the Indian really says is

Mexican Police Nab Suspect

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Mexico police said Monday they had captured Alfredo Cervantes Martinez, charged with the killing of Jacob S. Floyd Jr., son of a former political enemy of George Parr. Cervantes is accused of being the trigger man in the ambush killing eight years ago. He escaped into Mexico soon after the indictment for murder was returned against him. Another man in the case is serving a life sentence for the crime. Floyd was shot to death as he approached the family garage in Alice, Tex. Mexico police said Cervantes was captured in Tepetitlan, Jalisco. He is a United States citizen but was born in Mexico. Parr, a political boss of Duval County, is head of the Old Party and yesterday was freed of a mail fraud conviction by the U.S. Supreme Court.

Idaho Land Of Spuds, Fine Farms, Expensive Training

By JESS BLAIR
BURNS, Ore. — This little town is somewhere in Central Ore. I drove in after dark to find it filled with cowboys, tourists and Indians. They all look civilized—especially the Indians. I doubt if anyone could find a spot in the world where there is not some bare-headed tourist walking down the street in shorts looking down at the natives over. And vice versa.

Burns is located on a high plateau surrounded by barren mountains. North and west, however, there is quite a lot of timber, which is processed here at a sawmill. The surrounding country is covered with waist-high sagebrush. Hereford cattle and quite a lot of wildlife. This afternoon in coming up the slopes I noticed a half dozen pheasants along the highway. And also some bird that looked like a cross between a quail and prairie chicken.

WONDERFUL FARMS
I spent two days in Utah, two and a half in Idaho, then crossed the Snake River into Oregon today about noon. That valley between Burley and Weiser, Idaho, along the Snake River is one of the best farming sections in America. Land is almost impossible to buy and sells for over $1,000 an acre, but not many owners will sell at any price.

It is an area of small 40 to 160 acre farms, which raise hay, sugar beets, potatoes, onions and some fruit. Farmers cut hay during the summer, fill the feedlots with cattle in the fall and feed them all winter. There are hundreds of small feedlots of from 30 to 150 head of cattle.

There is quite a lot of new country being put in north of the Snake River in Idaho. One man told me that 700 farms were being created, while back south near the Utah-Idaho border there is another new country watered from large irrigation wells.

The big-money crop up here is potatoes. Last year the bigger farmers made from 300 to 400 sacks per acre and sold them at from $2.00 to $3.00 a sack. But expenses are also high, and the people up here seem just as broke as they are in West Texas.

GOTTA BE LOOSE
My most interesting stop in Utah was an hour spent at the Gene Pullmer training camp at West Jordan, which is a suburb of Salt Lake City. I wanted to see how a champion boxer trains, and drove out there shortly after 2:00 p.m. The fighters start working out.

The most amazing thing is how the fighters are protected and the stuff they wear while working out. It makes a baseball catcher look almost undressed by comparison.

When I walked in, four Negroes and two white boys were shadow boxing, dancing up and down and trying to stretch every muscle they had. An ex-fighter sitting beside me called this loosening up, and said no fighter ever boxed without loosening up first.

"Boxing ain't like wrestling," he explained. "A fighter's got to stay loose all over. Like this."

To illustrate he stood up on the bench and starting throwing rights and left as if he were trying to hit a butterfly. I wanted to ask him if a fighter had to stay loose as a goose, but decided against it. Not only were his muscles loose but the mental gears seemed in the same condition.

TOUGH ON PARTNERS
Pullmer, who is middleweight champion, came out about 2:30 p.m. He was dressed in blue jeans and a sleeveless sweater of the same material. He had on a pair of tight-fitting leather shorts, a thick sleeveless leather jacket much like icemen used to wear, and gloves of leather cut off at the knuckles. He also had a roll of thick tape across the forehead to prevent eye cuts.

After he loosened up a bit more, the trainer, Angelo Curley, put on the big 16-ounce gloves, slipped on a leather head piece that left only Pullmer's nose, eyes and mouth exposed. He also had a mouth-piece to protect the teeth.

Gene then climbed in the ring with a big Negro similarly dressed, except for the tape, the bell sounded and they started fighting. There was no boxing about it, as both men rushed forward and tried to knock each other's head off. The first round was almost even, then Pullmer began to hold the Negro with one forearm and pound his face with the other fist. At the end of two rounds the colored fighter had a bloody nose.

Pullmer then boxed two rounds with a white heavyweight and worked him over real good. Then he worked on a light punching bag awhile, and planned to fight two more rounds with another fighter. He is so rough on sparring partners that Mary Jensen, his owner, has six who alternate working out with him.

The ex-fighter introduced me and two other so-called newspaper men to the trainer who stopped long enough to answer a few questions. Gene also walked up, spoke to us but didn't offer to shake hands, which suited me fine. After seeing what those big fists did to the sparring partners, I was willing for him to keep his distance.

COSTLY BUSINESS

Handling a champion is a costly business. The boxing house that Jensen built is two-thirds the size of a high school gym and must have cost $30,000. The five heavy punching bags made of kangaroo leather cost $1,000 apiece. Besides this he had two trainers, six or eight fighters and a few flunkies to keep up. Then if the champion gets his ears knocked off by Basilio, part of that crew may be hunting jobs and there won't be any more big money bouts ahead.

Tomorrow about noon I will turn south to finally wind up at Reno. Been wanting to go back and see if Harold's Club still has that $15 I left with them three years ago.

With the slot machines, dice tables, floor shows and newly-made widows, Reno is a town one does not forget easily. I'll stop over two nights and a day, see the sights and rest up a bit. Maybe I'll have sense enough to keep my head, and at least a part of what little money I have left.

Drivers Argue Over Dead Boy

HOUSTON (AP)—It was "the sorriest and saddest situation I've ever seen."

That's the way Henry Ismode described two ambulance drivers violently arguing Monday over which one would take the body of a 2-year-old boy killed by a car to a hospital.

Ismode, an investigator for the Harris County Medical Examiner's office, said Jose Trinidad Sapien was killed by a car driven by a teen-ager.

He said the men, whose names were not known, argued while the body of the child lay in the street.

FAA Begins First Action On Drinking Limitations

NEWARK, N.J. (AP)—A new rule to limit drinking on airliners is keeping passengers from getting too high in the sky.

Most travelers are accepting the curb on boozing while cruising, a survey at major air terminals showed. But stewardesses say they still have their hands full playing bartender.

The Federal Aviation Agency has begun its first action under the new law against five New Jersey men and two New Yorkers. They are due to go on trial today in Canada under other charges there for their actions on a flight to Montreal.

The FAA, announcing its action last week, said the travelers brought liquor aboard and put on an in-flight pillow fight. The agency charged them with ignoring safety instructions.

The federal rule, which went into effect March 10, requires a stewardess to refuse another drink to anyone who appears intoxicated. Passengers who bring their own bottle must check it off for service by the stewardess. Violators can be fined up to $1,000.

The rule has stirred some controversy in the aviation industry. Airline companies and their crews differ among themselves on whether it goes too far or not far enough.

Talks with passengers and flight crews at two airports serving the New York metropolitan area—Newark and Idlewild—reveal that the only one who isn't putting up a squawk is the air customer.

Most travelers who had heard of the plan just shrugged and accepted the idea.

In the first two months of the new rule, one stewardess said, she found it necessary to enforce the regulation about four or five times. All but one passenger accepted the ruling gracefully, and the exception quieted down when she called the captain.

The stewardess, Anne Marie Castonguay, of Woodside, N.Y., also said she had spotted about 8 or 10 flasks on board and asked the passengers to surrender them.

"I told them, 'I'm sorry, government regulation,'" Miss Castonguay said. "They look surprised, but they know about it."

Only one passenger volunteered a flask while walking aboard, she said. She guessed that perhaps 50 might have got on with flasks without her knowing it.

Soviets Have Spy Network

WASHINGTON (AP)—"The Soviet Union," says Secretary of State Christian A. Herter, "has built the largest of all intelligence machines and maintains an unparalleled network of agents throughout the world."

Herter said, "It has been reliably estimated that within the Communist bloc and the free world some 300,000 trained officers serve in the 27 intelligence and security services of the Soviet bloc states."

Herter gave those figures Monday in a 23-page statement filed with the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, which will meet later this week to consider a report on its recent investigation of the U2 spy plane incident.

Herter presented the statement as a "source of ready reference" on Soviet espionage. It was submitted to the Senate by Sen. J. William Fulbright (D-Ark.), chairman of the committee.

The report gave details of many Soviet intelligence practices. "The activities conducted on behalf of the Soviet Union by members of foreign Communist parties, numbering some four million adherents in the free world, are well known," the report said.

"In recent years, some 360 individuals in 11 different countries of the free world have been convicted of espionage for the Soviet Union. These convictions include: 7 in Denmark, 65 in Finland, 1 in France, 2 in Holland, 1 in Japan, 15 in Norway, 11 in Sweden, 2 in Turkey, 6 in the United Kingdom, 13 in the United States, and 241 in the German Federal Republic, where the Interior Ministry reported on May 13, 1960, that some 18,300 persons had been arrested during the past year in connection with Soviet espionage."

A Devotional For Today

For everything there is a season, and a time for every matter under heaven. (Ecclesiastes 3:1. RSV.)
PRAYER: Dear Father, help us to make in ourselves the changes necessary to give due honor to Thee and to Christ our Redeemer. May His spirit be clearly recognized against the background of our daily living. In His name we ask this. Amen.

Hotbed Of Talent

This year a Texan stood highest in his graduating class at the U. S. Military Academy, West Point—one Charles P. Otstott. He was top man both academically and "tactically" and in all history at the Perot there has been only one other to hold top honors in both categories. He was one Douglas MacArthur.

At the U. S. Naval Academy, Annapolis, top man academically was Alton K. Thompson. There is a coincidence, but probably no accident, involved here. Otstott and Thompson were classmates and graduates of the same high school—Highland Park High School, which is an independent school district entirely surrounded by the City of Dallas, but in no sense connected with the Dallas school system. Highland Park and University Park comprise an independent enclave within the Dallas city limits.

The ratio of graduating seniors to National Merit Scholars is 1,666 to 1. At Highland Park it is 183 to 1. From 1957 to 1959 Highland Park graduated 1,022. Only forty of them did not go on to college. At Southern Methodist University one-fourth of the initiates into Phi Beta Kappa this year were Highland Park grads.

You can perish any notion that the school is soft and sissy. Its record in athletics stands high in the state and kids are started playing football, basketball and baseball in the third grade. Ever hear of Bobby Layne of the Pittsburgh Steelers and Doak Walker former Detroit Lion? They were products of Highland Park. Perhaps the Highland Park case is worth a penetrating study.

Restoring Some Prerogatives

In an effort to repair the damage done in employment-management relations by a decision of the U. S. Supreme Court the field of railway labor, Senator Dirksen, the Republican minority leader in the Senate, has introduced Senate Bill 3548.

This bill seeks to amend the Railway Labor Act, the Norris-LaGuardia Act and the National Labor Relations Act. It is the result of alarm expressed when the U. S. Supreme Court, in a split 5-4 decision last April, gave a labor union virtual veto power over any industrial modernization program by making termination of jobs a bargainable issue.

In the Northwestern Railroad case the road had gone into federal court and obtained an injunction against the telegraphers' union from interfering with the road's modernization plan. It was this injunction the highest court dissolved. In a dissenting opinion Mr. Justice Tom Clark wrote:

 "For all practical purposes, the court is telling the railroad it must secure the union's approval before severing the hundreds of surplus employees now carried on its payroll."

By extension of the philosophy the court majority displayed in this case, no employer large or small could be sure of his ground in laying off surplus workers, unless he first checked with the union. If the union said no, there could be no savings in operating costs by abolishing superfluous jobs or employees according to the high court's decision. Small wonder business and industry are seeking appropriate revisions in existing laws to cover such contingencies. When management can't manage, what reasonable function can it have?

Marquis Childs Give Rockefeller An A For Courage

WASHINGTON. — Twenty years ago in Philadelphia the Republicans held their national convention with all of Europe overrun by Hitler's armies and England on the verge of destruction. The past was erased and the future a blank promising only more horror.

The familiar trappings of the tribal ritual of a national convention were strangely unreal. In the end the delegates put aside the political figures who had begun as the favorites and Wendell Wilkie, who had never before run for public office, was nominated.

IN THE AFTERMATH of the U-2 and the explosion at the summit something like this atmosphere prevails today. It is as though a familiar and comforting political backdrop had been abruptly demolished. And in the new situation Rockefeller has come forward somewhat as Wilkie did two decades ago. A recognition of this is in Rockefeller's statement.

"This is not," he said, "just another election year. The stakes are historically high. The occasional, or frequent, trappings of a political campaign cannot suffice for either party — the resounding platitudes, the hollow clichés, the eloquent evasions, the slick slogans. The time—I do repeat — calls for plain talk."

ROCKEFELLER'S motives are being variously interpreted. In the eyes of old-line Republicans he is merely a brash interloper desperately bent on seizing power. These are the same men, or their spiritual heirs, who regarded Wilkie with scorn and contempt as an upstart.

IN THE same way they consider Rockefeller as no true defender of the Republican faith. He is suspect as having strong New Dealish leanings. On many points of his statement of faith they brand him as a "spender," ready to risk the "fiscal integrity" of the Eisenhower Administration on which they put so high a value.

EVEN MODERATE Eisenhower Republicans have been shaken by the Rockefeller declaration. While in many instances they may agree with what he said they fear it will rock the boat. The ways had been carefully greased to launch the Nixon ship and any obstacle is passionately resented. What is he trying to do, many Republicans grumble, elect a Democrat?

There are at least two important differences between '40 and '60. In '40 the Republicans, out of power for eight years, were confused and divided, with no focus on a single candidate who seemed two months before the convention the inevitable choice. That was one reason the Wilkie blitz could work.

Another important difference is that then the Democrats were in power with a President in the White House who was a master of politics and enormously popular in the country. For this reason the Republican nomination had nothing like the attraction it has today. Franklin Roosevelt could defy tradition and go on to win a third term in November.

THIS YEAR in the pre-convention phase it is the Democrats who seem to be divided and confused as they try to agree on issues and candidates. The Republicans have held the Presidency for eight years and the plan has been for Vice President Nixon, as the heir apparent to President Eisenhower, to slip into the vacant seat as a matter of right and logic with as little fuss as possible.

Rockefeller's demand for a debate on the issues, with Nixon candidly stating his views prior to the convention, cuts across that plan. In effect, he has asked Nixon to stake out new ground which Rockefeller believes to be essential if the Republican candidate is to win. But, as a member of the Eisenhower team, this for Nixon is almost an impossibility. All he can do, as he has already done, is to promise to build on the Eisenhower record after the convention.

TO PUT Rockefeller's declaration down to ambition and expediency is, in the view of this observer, an error. He reached his decision out of an intensely earnest conviction that this is perhaps the gravest time in which mankind has lived; a time in which freedom, the role of the individual, the very survival of civilization, is in the balance. And it is only with the courage to recognize these terrible realities that a candidate has a right to seek the Presidency.

Having gone against most of the powers in his party, Rockefeller cannot be denied that courage. He may have earned nothing more than contempt from his fellow Republicans. But he gives every sign of being ready and willing to accept the consequences.

Truancy Overlooked

EVERGLADES, Fla. (AP)—For every little Indian who goes to school in this part of the Everglades, there is at least one who doesn't. And truant officers have no intention of trying to round up the Seminole hokey players.

The reason, says Collier County Supt. W. D. Reynolds is: "Enforcement would be quite difficult, living the way the Indians do."

The Indians live in the swamps much the same as their ancestors did when the U. S. Army failed a century ago in efforts to round them up for transfer to Oklahoma. In the vast trackless wilderness they call home, it is impossible to follow them without a dugout, airboat, guide and bloodhounds.

James Marlow It's A Great Play On Words

WASHINGTON (AP) — It's the greatest play on words since somebody invented abracadabra. Adlai E. Stevenson and New York's Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller deny they're looking for a job but they don't deny they'd run for the phone if the employment agency called.

FOR A PAIR being shy, they manage amazingly well to keep their names in the headlines. Rockefeller withdrew from the race for the Republican presidential nomination without ever having admitted he was in it. Now he is back in it by saying he would accept a draft while firmly denying he's a candidate. Stevenson won't even agree he'd accept a draft by the Democrats to be their presidential choice. But he doesn't say he wouldn't. The past few days his hat seemed to be in the ring. Then he grabbed it back.

Both men continue to stride across the national political scene, making political speeches and issuing statements criticizing the Republicans and President Eisenhower.

He termed the administration's handling of the spy plane a blunder, at the same time speaking out against partisan fault-finding at this time. Rockefeller criticizes the Eisenhower administration in a number of fields, but says "I think the administration has done a wonderful job."

He shocked the Republicans last week by calling Vice President Richard M. Nixon to come out of the political bushes and say where he stands.

ROCKEFELLER SAYS it is "urgently necessary for Nixon to state his position on the issues but that, even if Nixon doesn't, he will support the vice president if the latter gets the nomination."

The governor says one of the vital signs of national political health is debate within the party. But when Nixon challenged him to a public discussion, Rockefeller didn't accept.

Playing hard to get worked well for Stevenson in 1952. That was the year the Democrats picked him the first time. In 1956 he got their nomination again but that time he campaigned for it.

Last week Eleanor Roosevelt got a telegram from Stevenson which made her finally believe he was a candidate because of Stevenson's wording. He told her: "I will serve my country and my party whenever called upon."

SHE SAID that made it "clear Mr. Stevenson is a candidate." This was too positive for Stevenson who then issued a statement: "I will not seek the nomination for president by the Democratic convention. Therefore I am not a candidate."

But he didn't say he would object if the nomination were offered to him.

To Your Good Health Pills Can't Do All The Work Of Reducing

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M. D.
 "Dear Dr. Molner: In order to curb my weight, my son has been taking a drug off and on for over a year. Are there any bad effects from this? His doctor prescribed the drug—N H."

Similar letters are becoming rather frequent, not only about the drug you mentioned, but other medicines.

In your son's case, the drug is intended to curb the appetite, and its record, so far as safety is concerned, is pretty good.

It ought to be used—the manufacturer gives advice, too—in conjunction with a low-calorie diet. You can't "take a pill" and expect it to do all the work of reducing!

Since your son's doctor prescribed the drug, he will be watching for signs that it is doing any mischief. I presume, of course, that your son continues to consult him at reasonable intervals. The fact that a doctor prescribes a medication does not mean that it is going to be safe indefinitely.

Any drug—and this is a rule to keep in mind—that is powerful enough to do good may be powerful enough to be harmful if over-used. So your son, and anyone else taking medicine on a long-term basis, would do well to ask the doctor how often a checkup is advisable, and whether there are any particular signs that the patient can watch for. (Sometimes there are; sometimes there aren't, the latter being true because in some cases there are signs that the doctor can recognize although they won't be apparent to the patient until after too much damage has occurred.)

In your son's case, so long as he sees his doctor at sensible intervals, there's no cause to worry.

However, there are other "reducing" drugs which are not as safe, and require close watching. As to my basic attitude on use of drugs to reduce—other by curbing the appetite, which is the least risky way, or using the drugs which distort the metabolism—I'm chronically against them.

Drugs are a poor excuse for weight reduction because you can't keep on using any of them indefinitely. They "carry" you as long as you keep using them, and that's all.

Carry a baby all the time and he never learns to walk. Let drugs "carry" you while you reduce, and you never learn to eat properly and to exercise properly. Both of these are necessary to keep your weight correct.

"Dear Dr. Molner: For 10 years I have suffered from what skin doctors say is neuro-dermatitis. The itching is bad. I have had all kinds of lotions, even X-ray treatments, but I still have the trouble. —M.N.S."

The most important thing I know about neuro-dermatitis is that it usually appears in tense, nervous individuals. Your own understanding of this, and your effort to help yourself, may be the most important factor of all. Mild sedation, tranquilizers, and the patient's own effort to avoid becoming wrought up over trifles are usually the most successful treatment. If you are a tense individual, you can't help that. But you can make a persistent, long-term effort not to let small worries upset you. Learn to say, of any upsetting incident, "Well, that's something I CAN ignore. So I will."

Why suffer from sinus trouble? Much can be done to help you, and it is explained in my booklet, "You Can Stop Sinus Trouble." To receive your copy, write to me in care of The Big Spring Herald, enclosing a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 20 cents in coin to cover handling.

Dr. Molner welcomes all reader mail, but regrets that, due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in this column whenever possible.

Around The Rim

Pat Garrett: Post-Mortem Patsy

Back in the late '80's, Pat Garrett, erstwhile sheriff of Lincoln County and slayer of the notorious gunman, Billy the Kid, wrote his own version of the Kid's life and of his death. Probably Garrett didn't really write it—a ghost did the actual writing—but it was published as the work of the sheriff.

The little book may have had rather wide circulation in its brief day. As years passed, it disappeared from the scene. Only a few copies of it remain in existence. They are collectors' items and bring a fancy price when a copy in good condition is found.

A FEW YEARS AGO, the University of Oklahoma Press began issuing a series of reprints of such books. I suppose the pumber now is sizeable but one of the first to be issued was Garrett's version of the life of William Bonney—Billy the Kid. The University Press found a copy of the original book and obtained permission from the owner to reprint it.

The other day, I picked up a copy of one of these paper-bound books you see on sale in so many places. It was a western and made no reference to any source the author may have employed for his work.

The blurb on the cover said the book was the basis for a highly successful western movie. As is the custom of film-land, the movie has a different title from the book.

THE AUTHOR, IT is evident, had gotten his hands on a copy of Garrett's narrative. He took the story, moved the scene from New Mexico to California, changed the names of the characters. Then, so help me, he retold Garrett's version of the fading months of Billy the Kid's life with hardly a variation from the original.

Well, why not? Very few persons around now have ever read Garrett's book. Not too many, I suppose, even read it when it was first printed. Books in that time did not have the wide circulation they enjoy today.

BUT IT DOES OPEN an interesting field of speculation. You want to write a book. You are a little short of invention and need some sort of plot.

Just pick up some out-of-print book which hasn't been circulated for a couple or three generations. Doctor it up just a little. Add a few extra details. Change the description of the characters and move the action to some other locale than its original scene.

And what have you got? A book that sells well, brings you in a pot of royalty money and winds up with your selling the movie rights to a Hollywood producer for a big fat sum.

It's a lot easier, I think, than sitting down and writing the whole blamed thing from scratch and a lot more profitable, too.

Got any old books around the place that might be handy?

—SAM BLACKBURN

Putting Life In The Old GOP Gathering

Dr. Samuel Johnson, a man of wide pontification, once said that "Gratitude is a fruit of great cultivation—you do not find it among gross people."

Just to put myself on the side of cultivation, I am, as a newspaper reporter, deeply grateful to Gov. Nelson Rockefeller for throwing down the gage to Vice-President Nixon. If my enthusiasm for the Governor's challenge is not shared by Mr. Nixon and his cohorts, that is understandable.

HOWEVER, I DO think the GOP as well as newsmen, should be grateful to Mr. Rockefeller for injecting a little life in what looked, in advance, like a moribund convention in Chicago, come July 25. With no visible opposition to Mr. Nixon on the horizon, I feared that the whole convention would simply be ticketed from the beginning as "D.O.A." — "dead on arrival"—the time-honored police tag for whom they have definitely arrived too late to save.

Before Mr. Rockefeller picked up his javelin-sized needle and let fly, the mind boggled before the ingenuity it would require to keep the Republican convention merely going, much less newsworthy, for five whole days.

NO DOUBT ABOUT it, the Republicans just have got to pump oxygen into their convention for five days. When a city such as Chicago, or Los Angeles, or San Francisco or Philadelphia, lays a large sum on the line to lure a national convention to its precincts, its impulse is never purely altruistic.

It anticipates the money in every expectation that convention delegates and hangers-on, such as Presidential and Vice-Presidential aspirants, will spend at least tenfold as much money in the city as the community laid out as bait in the first place.

ONE OF THE time-honored requisites of a convention city is to demand—and get—a guarantee that hotel reservations for the convention will be made for a five-day spectacle to get their money's worth at a convention, and they do.

However, I have attended more than one convention where the actual business of nominating a candidate and writing a platform, plus other chores, could have been briskly accomplished in two days. But such conventions were, nonetheless, dragged out to the full five-day period to make the convention city happy, the delegates numb and the newsmen paralyzed.

THERE WAS NO hope that the Republican convention in Chicago could or would be otherwise until Mr. Rockefeller got into the act with his challenge to Mr. Nixon and the Administration. It is quite possible that Mr. Nixon will still get the plum on the first ballot. But it is also quite possible that Mr. Rockefeller, as head of the big New York delegation, can fight a ripsnorting, finger-in-the-dike delaying action that will pump life into the convention and give us something about which to write.

Even the most ardent Nixon Republicans should cultivate gratitude toward Mr. Rockefeller; for there is nothing so boring as a cut-and-dried political convention. This is, unfortunately, a Republican occupational hazard. The Democrats can always be relied upon for bloody and extensive internecine warfare that makes the massacre at the Little Big Horn seem no more than a routine traffic accident.

THE FIRST THREE days of any Democratic convention are usually devoted to giving first aid to the wounded and the dying. Just a day-by-day roundup of the casualties is news.

The Republicans lack this flair. But Gov. Rockefeller has rushed to the rescue. Even if he is carried out on his shield, it ought to inject a little action into the script and bounce into the convention.

The Gallup Poll Nixon Runs Even With Kennedy

PRINCETON, N. J. — Vice President Nixon neck-and-neck with Sen. John Kennedy in the latest test of the two men's strength with voters across the country.

In a nationwide Gallup Poll conducted since President Eisenhower's May 25 report on the summit breakdown, these are the results:

NIXON vs. KENNEDY		Per Cent
—Post-Summit—
Nixon	.....	51
Kennedy	.....	49

(About one voter in twenty-five did not express a preference.)

This was the question asked by Gallup Poll reporters of voters across the country:

"Suppose the presidential election were being held today. If Richard Nixon were the Republican candidate and John Kennedy were the Democratic candidate, which would you like to see win?"

In the previous Gallup Poll report on the Nixon-Kennedy race—based on interviewing conducted in the weeks before the short-lived Paris talks—these were the results:

NIXON vs. KENNEDY		Per Cent
—Pre-Summit—
Kennedy	.....	51
Nixon	.....	49

Throughout last fall, and up to about the time of the first primary elections this year, Vice President Nixon had been leading Senator Kennedy in Gallup Poll tests. In the early spring, the Massachusetts Senator pulled up even with, then out ahead of, the Vice President.

Both Nixon and Kennedy continue to run well among the rank-and-file of their respective parties.

Kennedy, however, loses about one Democratic voter in five to Nixon's ticket. The Vice President loses about one GOP voter in ten to Kennedy.

Among the "balance of power" voters—the nation's Independents—the Vice President holds a slim edge in the latest nationwide test.

Here is the vote by party affiliation:

KENNEDY vs. NIXON		Per Cent
Republican Voters
Kennedy	.....	51
Nixon	.....	49

Per Cent
 Kennedy ..... 9
 Democratic Voters
 Kennedy ..... 81
 Nixon ..... 19
 Independent Voters
 Nixon ..... 52
 Kennedy ..... 48

In the Gallup Poll's current series on the political impact of the summit collapse, the Republicans appear to have been the chief beneficiaries of the political consequences of that event.

Since President Eisenhower's report to the nation, his popularity with voters has risen sharply—from 62 per cent just before the summit meetings to 68 per cent in the latest test. In addition, a clear majority of voters (58 per cent) believe the Administration, under the circumstances, handled the U-2 spy plane incident well.

In the event another summit meeting should be held next year, voters indicate that they would prefer Nixon to Kennedy or Stevenson as the U. S. representative at such a meeting.

Stalked By Car

LIBERAL, Kan. (AP)—Making his rounds in downtown Liberal early one morning, night patrolman Jack Call heard a noise behind him.

Call looked back to see the small foreign-made car stalking him—on the sidewalk.

The driver, Jim Ulmer, was booked for reckless driving and forfeited $50 bond in police court.

Arrow Lesson

NORFOLK, Va. (AP)—It went against the grain with a policeman when he saw a woman driver backing her car against traffic on a one-way street—to avoid driving around the block to enter a driveway.

Judge Vernon D. Hitchens Jr., imposing a fine, explained that the one-way arrows were to show the flow of traffic, not the direction in which cars were to be headed.

Bluebonnet Girls Take Office

AUSTIN (AP)—Officials of the American Legion Auxiliary's 1960 Bluebonnet Girls State take office today. Appointed by Girls State Gov.

Jean Faulkner were officials including Karen Day of Midland, civil defense coordinator; Bea Ann Smith of Midland, chairman of the Board of Control; and Martha Phillips of Harlingen, chairman of the Department of Welfare.

MAYBE ITS NERVES

By HALVARD T. HANSEN, D.C. When the doctor tells you it's your nerves he may be more right than he suspects, but in a different manner.

Your nervous system is so extensive that its tendrils reach into every nook and cranny of your body.

The nerves themselves are flesh and blood and they get "sick" and inflamed when they are irritated, or weak and lifeless when they are interfered with by pressure.

If a nerve is sick the organ or gland at the other end of the nerve reflects this sickness by becoming inflamed or partially paralyzed and the work that is usually performed by the affected organ or gland suffers accordingly—the chain action then extends to other areas that depend upon the chemical produced by the disabled organ or gland until you are sick enough to take notice.

The next time you think about your ailments being just nerves—think how a correction is possible, much like this actual case from our files, for example:

A twenty-seven-year-old mother of two toddlers who had suffered a complete nervous breakdown, recovered somewhat but was still very nervous, dizzy, unsteady, irritable and despondent. She had a terrific pressure at the base of her skull causing severe recurring headaches. She described it as a tight band extending around her head and lasting for twelve to thirty-six hours, affecting her sight and hearing. Frequent chest pains made breathing difficult. Previous doctors diagnosed her case as female trouble resulting from childbirth. Although she had her uterus suspended and a "cure" shortly afterward, she continued to have prolonged painful periods and frequent urination. Her blood pressure was 140/78 with a pulse rhythm of 96. She had taken regular thyroid shots estrogen and other pills for nearly three years, and when all failed to bring relief, her husband brought her to the Hansen Chiropractic Clinic at the insistence of his father who had previously received his health under our care.

We located defective nerves branching from her spine and spinal X-rays disclosed an old vertebral injury causing the nerve-ve interference that upset her nervous system and altered the function of several organs and glands. This spinal distortion was corrected (realigned) by adjustments and all symptoms disappeared as the cause was removed. Within two months she was hale, healthy and hearty. Her blood pressure returned to a normal 126/84 and her pulse resumed its regular rate of 72, which made a grateful family very happy. No. 213.

Many times, such as in the above case, chiropractic succeeds even after all other methods fail. Investigate for yourself. You have nothing to lose, except your bad health.

Tract Is Re-Zoned As Shopping Area

Three plats were approved and one piece of property was rezoned following a public hearing by the zoning commission here Monday evening.

The Robb property east of Gregg and south of Marcy Drive was changed from A (residential) to an F (commercial) classification. There was no opposition.

Robb indicates a shopping center for the area, to be built in three sections. The first two sections, he said, can be built without disturbing his Jet Drive-in theatre which is in the vicinity.

The three plats accepted by the commission included the Hamby subdivision presented by Fred Stitzell, several lots in Edwards Heights, and lots in College Park Estates.

The Hamby subdivision is in the southeast portion of Big Spring, south of Marcy Drive and east of the Worth Peeler addition.

The lots in Edwards Heights lie between Marcy Drive and Westover Road, northwest of the Veterans Administration Hospital.

Lots approved in the College Park Estates are on the west side of College Park Drive and east of Baylor Blvd. and east of Howard County Junior College, between Kentucky Way and Duke Ave.

The commission also voted to recommend to Master Planner Marvin Springer that blocks 20 and 21 in the College Park Estates east of the junior college be changed from commercial to residential zoning.

LEGAL NOTICE

THE STATE OF TEXAS
To: JEAN VIMON Defendant (s), Greeting
You are hereby commanded to appear by filing a written answer to the Plaintiff (s) Petition at or before ten o'clock A.M. of the first Monday after the expiration of forty-two days from the date of this notice of this citation, same being Monday the 14th day of July 1960, at or before ten o'clock A.M. before the Honorable District Court of Howard County, Texas, at said Court House, said County in Big Spring, Texas.
Said Plaintiff (s) Petition was filed in said court, on the 2nd day of February A.D. 1960, in this case numbered 12,252 on the docket of said court, and styled: LEROY VIMON Plaintiff (s), vs. JEAN VIMON Defendant (s).
A brief statement of the nature of this suit is as follows: To-wit: Plaintiff alleges legal marriage, residence in Howard County, Texas and Texas more than one year. Grounds: Civil treatment of said children or property. Frays for divorce as is more fully shown by Plaintiff (s) Petition on file in this suit.
If this citation is not served within ninety days after the date of its issuance it shall be returned unused.
The officer executing this process shall promptly execute the same according to law and make due return as the law directs.
Witness my hand and the seal of said Court, at office in Big Spring, Texas, this 26th day of May, A.D. 1960.
WADE CHASTE, Clerk.
District Court, Howard County, Texas.
By JO ANN WATKINS, Deputy.

Capsule Picture Of Philippines

By The Associated Press

History—Colonized by the Spanish 400 years before the American flag was planted in Manila in 1898 following the Spanish-American war. Granted independence in 1946.

Geography—The 7,000 Philippine islands stretch a thousand miles from north to south. They cover 115,707 square miles, but only 462 of them are a square mile or more in area.

Population—Twenty-four million people, mostly of Malay stock, but with a heavy sprinkling of Chinese, Spanish and American blood. About 83 per cent are Roman Catholic.

Languages—The official language is Tagalog, a Malay dialect, but about half the population speaks English fluently.

Government—Governed under a constitution adopted in 1935. President and vice president are elected for four years. Congress has a Senate of 24 members and a House of Representatives of 102 members.

U.S.-Philippine relations—Philippines are staunchly pro-American but some think the United States is overlooking them in hurrying to strengthen its former enemy Japan and in granting aid to such neutral Asian nations as India. They point with pride at their World War II fighting record at Bataan, Coridor and American guerrilla campaigns. They want American missiles capable of carrying nuclear warheads stationed in the Philippines.

South Launches Another Sub
PASCAGOULA, Miss. (AP)—The 2,400-ton submarine Bluejack, first such underwater vessel to be built in the deep South since the Civil War, left here Monday to join the Pacific Fleet.

The Bluejack was built by the Ingalls Shipbuilding Corp. here.

About the only resemblance between the Bluejack and the Huntley built by the Confederate navy in Mobile, Ala., in 1863 is the fact both are subs. Even the Bluejack is outmoded. The Navy said it will be the last diesel sub. Future subs will be atomic-powered.

Hospitals, Patients Find Care Costs Are Mounting

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK (AP)—The mounting costs of a stay in a hospital are being learned daily by ailing Americans. The mounting costs of maintaining hospital service at the desired standards are fretting their administrators increasingly. They contend that most costs can't be cut without impairing the care of patients.

But some are making a big effort to cut down the costs of their housekeeping needs, which it is estimated totals around a billion dollars a year.

And about 250 hospitals with a total of 62,000 beds use a nonprofit association to buy such supplies at a saving averaging from 10 to 15 per cent on various items through large volume purchasing and bargain hunting.

These housekeeping needs include such things as drugs, cleaning materials, textile and paper products, furniture and bedding, office supplies and specialized surgical equipment.

The central organization, the Hospital Bureau, Inc., also tries to keep its members hep to local or regional bargains in food and other local products they buy on their own.

It runs a research program to find what products give the best value in relations to cost and quality—and it isn't always the one with the lowest price tag—and to test products against rigid standards that hospitals demand.

The Hospital Bureau has as members voluntary nonprofit hospitals throughout the nation, in small towns and the largest cities. Some are as small as 40 beds. Some as large as 1,500 beds. Membership costs are based on size, and range from 66 cents to $2 a day, covering personnel, operative and research outlays.

Paul E. Widman, chairman of the bureau's purchasing agents committee, explains that the buying is based on contracts, agreements and jobbing arrangements.

The agreements are flexible contracts worked out with manufacturers who guarantee a fixed price for a specific time. Most afford an annual refund, proportionate to the amount of business done, to members buying under those agreements. In 1958, refunds to members came to $273,000.

Fencing Padre Island Beach

Workers began installing substantial barricades at three points on the Padre Island beach near Corpus Christi. One of the barricades will be provided with a gate and persons may pass through by signing a statement in which they say that they make no claim to the beach. The move is an attempt by the Padre Island Land and Cattle Co., to prove that the company owns the beach to the water's edge. (AP Wirephoto).

Birds Checking For 'Humbugs'

CHOKOLOSKEE ISLAND, Fla. (AP)—Whether or not the oversized species of pileated woodpeckers of these parts really are hunting for "humbugs," the electric company is having to replace many of its wooden poles with concrete columns.

The big-beaked birds, about the size of a bantam chicken, pick holes right through the tough, creosoted poles at the 6-inch thick level.

"They drill holes plumb through some poles," said G. Hill, manager of the REA Everglades power plant. "While in others they follow out the inside until the shaft is little more than a shell at that point."

The Rev. Tom Wells, an island preacher, came up with the "humbug" theory. Wells said the birds "hear the humming of the wires, think its bugs in the poles and go after them."

DEAR ABBY TOO MANY CUCKOOS

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My husband, who is with the Army in Germany, sent me a beautiful cuckoo clock. He paid $14 for it and said it would cost about $45 here. All his relatives who have seen it have gone wild over it and want one like it.

Maybe I am selfish but I don't want all his relatives to have the same cuckoo clock I have. It's the only thing in my house that isn't ordinary. Should I tell them I would rather they didn't get one? Or should I say, "O.K., go ahead?" They know how much it costs and that my husband can get it for them because, like a fool, I told them. Now what?

CUCKOO MYSELF

DEAR CUCKOO: Since you advertised the price and availability, you can't very well tell them you don't want them to have the cuckoo clocks (unless you want to be a dirty bird). The damage is done. Order the clocks and every time you visit a relative, the cuckoo will come out to remind you every 15 minutes how cuckoo you were for opening your beak.

DEAR ABBY: Is it often that a patient falls in love with her family physician, because I have fallen in love with mine. Ever since I have known him (three years), I have wanted desperately to kiss him. I don't know why. I'm sure I don't affect him the same way.

I would like to get this feeling over with. Would it be wrong to tell him how I feel about him? Or should I just try to forget it? I am 33 and married.

PATIENT

DEAR PATIENT: Love (the romantic kind) is a mutual thing. What you feel is undoubtedly gratitude and hero-worship, combined with the appeal of forbidden fruit. Don't embarrass him by revealing your feelings. If you can't overcome it—find another doctor. (How about a woman?)

DEAR ABBY: I am writing this for the person who was in doubt

Loot Got Away

McALLEN (AP)—Cops captured three youths because their loot got away. Officials said the three loaded a safe from a gift shop into the back of their car. The car hit a hump in the street and the safe fell out.
