First Blanket Donated In Pastors' Drive

Dr. P. D. O'Brien, pastor of the First Baptist Church, accepted the first blanket in the local drive that is expected to collect 100,000 throughout Texas on Father's Day. More than a million blankets are needed by displaced persons around the globe, Dr. O'Brien said. New or old blankets in usable condition are acceptable. The collection in Howard County is under the direction of the Big Spring Pastors' Association. Rev. Royce Womack, president. Big Springers are asked to bring a blanket to church on Father's Day. These will be taken to the First Baptist Church Monday for packing and shipment. The blankets will be sent to St. Louis and the World Church Service committee will forward them to needy persons in other countries. Dr. O'Brien, chairman of the blanket committee, urged all residents to participate in the collections.

Cubans Expel Abilene Man

HAVANA (AP) — The Cuban government accused two U.S. embassy officials today of "conspiring with a group of counter-revolutionists" and ordered their immediate expulsion from Cuba. U.S. Ambassador Philip Bonsal promptly protested. A Cuban government announcement said Edwin L. Sweet of Abilene, Tex., and William G. Friedemann of Stillwater, Okla., both assistant legal attaches, were surprised late Wednesday night at a meeting with a group of Cubans. The semi-official newspaper Revolution reported the case under the headline "Two American Diplomats Expelled for Conspiracy." It said both Americans tried to escape but were caught by military investigation agents and held until the Foreign Ministry ordered their release. Bonsal protested the "unwarranted action of Cuban officials in detaining two members of the embassy staff entitled to diplomatic immunity." The embassy said Sweet and Friedemann had been seized with a group of Cubans they were visiting in a residential section of Havana and then released. This is the first such expulsion of American embassy officials ordered since Prime Minister Fidel Castro took over Cuba 18 months ago.

Temperature At Summer's Peak

A searing sun beat down on Big Spring Wednesday to push the temperature to a sizzling 108 degrees and give residents a preview of what is in store. After all, summer, officially, is still five days away.

It wasn't the hottest June 15 in Big Spring history. In 1902 and again in 1956, the temperature reached 110 degrees on that date. However, to all intents, the sample doled out Wednesday was thoroughly convincing.

Clouds which rolled up in later afternoon provided a fair to average electrical display and led to hopes that some areas in the country may have gotten showers. In Big Spring a midafternoon dapping of raindrops fell for a few fleeting seconds. And again during the night, there was an extremely brief shower. No rains were reported in the county.

Around 11 p.m. the winds roared in from the southwest with considerable force. The air was hot, however, and the breeze never succeeded in breaking the back of the heat. The low for the night was 77 degrees and this came well toward morning.

Air conditioners got an oversized workout and sprinklers were on full blast. Water consumers spilled out 10,104,000 gallons in their struggle to safeguard lawns and shrubs from the heat. It was

Tax Hike Protest

NAHA, Okinawa (AP) — Three thousand Ryukyuan demonstrators clashed with club-swinging police outside the residence of Chief Executive Seisaku Ota Wednesday night in a protest against a proposed tax hike. No one was injured.

QUITS JOB, GETS RAISE

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP)—Larkin D. Myers retired this month as this city's expert on electrical traffic controls. He was making $399 a month. Now the city plans to contract with him to do the same job at $490 a month. "He's the only man that understands it," a city official said.

Red Violence Forces Cancellation Of Visit

Japan Is On Brink Of Revolution

TOKYO (AP)—President Eisenhower's goodwill visit to Japan was canceled today under the threat of Communist violence. The U. S.-Japanese defense treaty still was in danger.

The pact becomes law automatically Sunday unless Prime Minister Nobusuke Kishi can be forced to dissolve Parliament before then. The Communist-led mobs have two more days in which to try to bring about the downfall of the Kishi government and void the treaty.

In announcing the Eisenhower trip is off, Kishi told reporters: "Even if there is the slightest bit of doubt about the President's safety in Japan, it makes it inappropriate for him to visit at this time."

Eisenhower, in Manila, regretfully agreed. Like Kishi he blamed Tokyo's left-wing turmoil on a small group of Communist agitators.

Even as Kishi urged Japan to fight Communist mob violence, thousands of left-wing demonstrators marched outside his official residence, screaming for the U.S. aligned cabinet to resign.

Zengakuren, the fanatical Marxist student organization which staged the most violent of Tokyo's five weeks of demonstrations, issued a statement claiming credit for cancellation of Eisenhower's visit.

Zengakuren leaders threatened "unlimited strikes and daily demonstrations until Kishi and U. S. Japan security are thrown out." But Kishi said he will not bow to worldwide Communist demands for a break-up of Japan's military alliance with the United States and resignation of his cabinet.

He said he will not even discuss dissolving Parliament or quitting until the final exchange of ratifications of the new pact providing for American bases here for at least another decade.

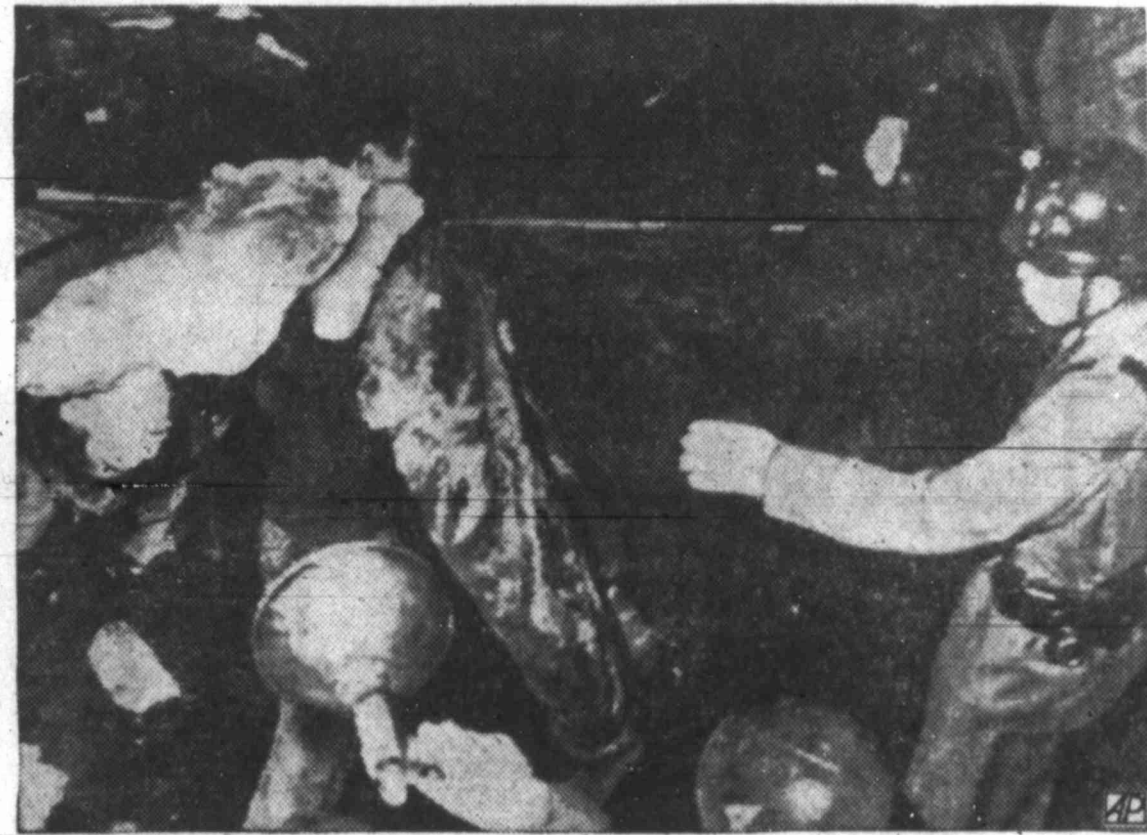

The Japanese government could easily drive the mobs from the streets if it could get some backing from press and public to restore order. But police have been reluctant to use their full powers because they fear the stigma of Japan's brutal prewar police. And the government is even more reluctant to call out troops for fear of acting like Japan's old military masters.

But the opportunity now before the Communist world—a Japan pushed perilously close to revolution by a violent minority—may never come again. It is exactly the type of chaotic situation Communists deliberately foster as the proper setting for a bid for power.

The question remained as to whether the Communists would let this opportunity pass. Kishi was grim-faced as he made the announcement to waiting newsmen after presiding over two emergency Cabinet sessions since midnight.

Kishi, whose government was shaken by prolonged rioting against renewal of the U.S.-Japanese security treaty and Eisenhower's visit, said the demonstrations were "obvious, premeditated violence planned by the Communists."

"To protect peace and freedom and the future prosperity of Japan, we must fight this violence head on," he added.

Injured In Tokyo Rioting

Johnson Says Examination Of Our Policies Warranted

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson today denounced as "pure black-magic" the Communist-fomented rising that led to cancellation of President Eisenhower's visit to Japan.

He told the Senate the Communists "do not want the Japanese people to see an American President representing a nation whose basic desires are for peace."

Nevertheless, the Texas senator said, it can be assumed the decision to call off the trip was wise in the circumstances.

The whole situation, Johnson went on, "raises grave implications. We must consider carefully."

"It is evident that this is a time to re-examine our policies and to determine whether they are effective in penetrating the walls which the Communists seek to build between men," he said. "It becomes more and more apparent that Communism can succeed only by digging deep gulfs of misunderstanding between peoples, and this we must not allow them to do."

Freak Mishap Almost Takes Youth's Life

Alvin Hiltbrunner, 18-year-old youth seriously injured in a freak accident Tuesday evening, was reported resting reasonably well today.

The youth came within less than an inch of death, according to doctors at Malone-Hogan Hospital, when his neck was deeply cut by a piece of sheet metal.

Hiltbrunner, employed at the city water department, was working several miles south of the city when a gale of wind lifted the metal into the air and hurled it at him. The metal struck the youth in the side of the neck, severing tendons and muscles, but missed the jugular vein by a "fraction of an inch."

Crew members at the working site rushed the youth to the hospital where 42 stitches were required. About two weeks must pass before doctors will know whether or not additional surgery is required.

The youth is recuperating at his home. He is the son of Police Captain and Mrs. L. A. Hiltbrunner, 1517 E. 17th.

Rains Stab Thru Heat

By The Associated Press

Thunderstorms moved across North Texas early Thursday, promising slightly cooler weather in the wake of Wednesday's sizzling temperatures.

For East, South Central and Southwest Texas the U.S. Weather Bureau predicted a repetition of Wednesday's high readings but slightly cooler weather was forecast for North-Central and Northwest Texas.

Two small tornadoes did minor damage in the Perryton area late Wednesday after a merciless sun sent mercury soaring to record highs at a number of points.

San Angelo saw the thermometer go to 109 degrees, the highest reading recorded in the history of its Weather Bureau.

Thursday's early morning thunderstorms were mostly in the area between Dallas and Fort Worth. Pre-dawn temperatures ranged from 66 degrees at Dalhart to 89 at Wichita Falls.

Johnson told the Senate, "There have been some serious reservations about this trip from the beginning." And Sen. Fulbright (D-Ar.) said, "Perhaps we should have exercised a little more foresight" in view of worldwide Communist tactics.

Sen. Everett M. Dirksen (R-Ill), the Senate GOP leader, called the story of the Japan trip "a flaming example to free people everywhere... of what Communist ruthlessness and brutality can really do to subvert a people."

"Their next step will be aimed to compel the expulsion of American troops from Japan" he predicted in a Senate speech.

Dirksen said it should stand as a lesson to "some who thought it was an appropriate idea for President Eisenhower to apologize" to Khrushchev for the U2 spy plane incident.

Dirksen said he was glad that Eisenhower had accepted the Japanese invitation in the first place and "I applaud him now as I did when it was announced."

"I cannot alter the facts," Dirksen snapped back.

Sen. George D. Aiken (R-Vt) said he believes the development "does not bode well for the Kishi government."

As for the postponement of the Eisenhower visit, Aiken said it was "absolutely the best thing to do" if the government in Tokyo could not maintain order.

House Speaker Sam Rayburn (D-Tex) said if there was danger of harm to the President "I am glad he canceled the visit."

Rep. Charles A. Halleck of Indiana, House Republican leader, commented: "I'm sure the President exercised sound judgment."

Ike Pledges To Defend Philippines

MANILA (AP) — President Eisenhower wound up his visit here tonight by pledging the United States to defend the Philippines instantly against any armed attack. The promise scored a diplomatic success to match his personal triumph.

Along with gratitude for Eisenhower's affectionate welcome here, his aides displayed relief at cancellation of his trip to Japan.

In a final communique with President Carlos P. Garcia, Eisenhower pledged that any attack on this former American colony "would be instantly repelled."

This was what Philippine leaders have been wanting as a major gain from Eisenhower's 2 1/2-day visit. These islands lie only an hour's jet flight from Communist China and are firmly allied with the West. Filipino officials wanted U. S. defense pledges outlined in black and white to put Peiping on notice.

"This makes our cups brim over," said one Filipino official. The President continued to be the object of popular acclaim and affection in the Philippines. He appeared unconcerned about cancellation of his Japanese visit.

The trip had been planned to start Sunday. White House press secretary James C. Hagerty said Eisenhower's schedule will be revised aboard the cruiser St. Paul as the presidential party heads for Formosa. He is due in the Nationalist Chinese island stronghold Saturday.

Philippines turned out in a light rain to cheer Eisenhower again as he left Manila aboard a Navy launch that took him to the cruiser St. Paul, flagship of the U. S. 7th Fleet, for the trip to Formosa.

In a brief, impromptu departure statement, Eisenhower made no mention of the canceled Japan trip.

He told Filipinos that he had found a "friendly government and a friendly people" who stood with the nations of the free world.

Eisenhower looked weary and grim as he arrived at the American Embassy earlier in the evening to host a farewell banquet in honor of Philippine President and Mrs. Carlos P. Garcia.

He managed a tired smile for photographers as he stepped out of the car and brightened briefly as he shook hands at the top of the steps with Ambassador John D. Hickerson.

Twenty minutes later he was all smiles as he greeted Garcia. His face, however, showed the strain of the last few hours.

In Seoul, South Korea, the government invited the President to advance his visit to South Korea by coming here Sunday in view of the cancellation of the Japanese visit. He had been scheduled to go to Korea after visiting Japan.

Commission Hears Witnesses On Secondary Recovery Wells

AUSTIN (AP)—Two oil company executives told the Railroad Commission today secondary recovery projects on oil wells will equal the primary rate of flow by 1980.

Secondary recovery, a method of artificially stimulating wells through fluid and sand injections to increase recovery, will have to come under proration regulations, the commission heard.

Howard Coch and John Garrett, executives in the production department in Atlantic Refining Co., testified at a special hearing.

The commission called the hearing to determine whether pressure maintenance and water flood operations should be placed on a comparable basis for distribution of allowable and if allowable ceilings should be set on future secondary recovery operations.

RESERVE LINK
Coch said the future water flood allowances should be linked directly to the reserves created by the project, not on either a cost or field depth basis.

"Secondary recovery oil is becoming more and more important and we think now is the time to cope with it before it gets out of hand," said J. W. Stayton, Austin lawyer for Atlantic.

Coch said research shows it is far more important "to get water flood projects started at the right time rather than at the right rate later."

By beginning secondary recovery projects at the proper point the potential loss of 30 to 40 per cent of the oil in place will thus be salvaged, he continued.

Coch said crude oil production will hit a peak of 2 1/2 billion barrels a day by 1980, at which time a rather sharp decline will begin. He said secondary recovery will equal the primary rate by 1980 and then will reach about 80 per cent of the total crude oil production.

PREVENT WASTE
Garrett said the "best way to allocate market demand between fields is in proportion to the reserves in those fields. This is the surest way to prevent waste."

Several hundred oil men attended the hearing.

In announcing the hearing last March, the commission said it desired to develop a plan to "more nearly provide equal incentive and distribution of oil allowable" to these type operations.

At stake is the allocation of market demand to all sources of crude petroleum and related products, including gas liquids.

radical departure would not bring about this result.

S. M. Robertson of Abilene, president of the West Central Texas Oil and Gas Assn., said that while "some revision may be needed to improve the industry's competitive position, the present surplus cannot be charged to exempt allowables any more than allowables granted non-exempt fields."

195,470 WELLS
Latest commission figures show that Texas has 195,470 producing wells and only 88,212 of them are prorationed.

Some 107,258 wells are marginal or exempt and they average 11.13 barrels a day. There are 16,254 exempt wells under waterflood with an average of 13 barrels of oil a day.

The Texas Conservation Group has three major objectives: both flood and maintenance projects need incentive allowables to increase recovery and if pressure maintenance projects were allowed earlier fewer stripper operations would be required.

The group feels operators conducting secondary recovery or pressure maintenance projects should be given lease or unit allowables. In addition, the commission should leave the door ajar for special allowable hearings to protect operators of small tracts.

Friendly Greetings

Briggs was the honor guest at an informal luncheon at the officers club where a number of businessmen and other community leaders came to pay their respects to the ATC head. Responding to assurances of local desires to help undergird the training program, Gen. Briggs spoke briefly of the problems involved in trying to get the greatest values out of a training program. Such a step is the proposed absorption by training bases (Webb included) of primary contract schools.

Air Conditioning May Kill Babies

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Babies and young children coming out of life-saving surgery sometimes die because of a comfort of the adult world—air conditioning. Occasionally in air-conditioned operating rooms, the baby's temperature falls too low during surgery, a Duke University doctor reported to the American Medical Assn. meeting. When that happens, a rare disease sometimes develops — and tissues below the skin harden into an almost stone-like consistency, said Dr. C. R. Stephen. Now a new machine that can monitor the baby's body temperature and hold it at the desired level has been developed by the Duke researchers. As many as four plastic blankets can be wrapped around the young patient entering the operating room. These blankets have tubes running through them, and each blanket carries one quart of circulating water. This is hooked up to a machine that can vary the temperature of the water from 40 degrees to 130 degrees Fahrenheit. Normal body temperature is 98.6 degrees Fahrenheit taken rectally.

CIRCUS REMINDER

Unusual Marker Recalls Tragedy

WAHPETON, N. D. (AP)—A circus tragedy 63 years ago resulted in one of the most unusual grave markers in America.

It is a granite replica of a tent pole shattered by lightning June 10, 1897, and was copied from a photograph taken at the scene.

Two men — Charles E. Walters, foreman, and Charles Smith, a roustabout—were killed when lightning struck the Big Top that day.

Today, circus and carnival groups playing near this southeastern North Dakota city often hold observances in the cemetery, in keeping with an old tradition that "circus people do not forget their own."

Edward W. Williams, 75, of Steele, N. D., still remembers the event. He was a 12-year-old schoolboy working for a free ticket.

Williams was assigned with a group of boys to hoist the main tent. It was soaked by heavy rain, and the foreman, Walters, cut holes in the canvas to lighten the load.

"I was pulling on the rope when one fellow pushed me aside and said, 'This is a man's work!' Williams relates.

Moments later lightning shattered the huge pole, knocking a dozen people to the ground. The roustabout who had taken Williams' place was killed.

Ringling Bros. Circus employees collected $500 to carve the granite memorial, which stands today as a symbol of death under the Big Top.

Student Loans No Longer Need Loyalty Oaths

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate has voted to repeal a requirement for nonsubversive affidavits from college students receiving loans or grants under the 1958 Defense Education Act.

Instead, it substituted criminal penalties ranging up to five years imprisonment and $10,000 fine for anyone who applies for or receives any payment under the act while he is a member of a subversive organization. Past membership within five years also must be disclosed.

Left unchanged was the law's requirement that any student seeking to qualify must take an oath of allegiance to this country. The law provides scholarship and fellowship aid to college students.

Action on the long-disputed repeal measure came suddenly Wednesday night as the Senate accepted a compromise amendment by Sen. Winston L. Prouty (R-Vt.). The original bill by Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.) and others would merely have repealed the affidavit provision.

After hours of sharp debate, the sponsors' decision to accept the amendment came so hastily that many senators were out of the chamber and missed the voice vote passing the measure.

Sen. Spessard L. Holland (D-Fla.), one of these, said he wanted to study the revised version overnight and entered a motion to reconsider. This blocked the bill from going to the House.

Kennedy said he would have preferred the straight repealer, but would go along with the compromise, particularly because he believed it might have a better chance of winning House passage.

Takes Dog For A Walk, Stays

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) — Robert F. Boyle, 19, a trusty at the county jail, took an officer's dog for a walk Wednesday night. Later he took a walk for himself.

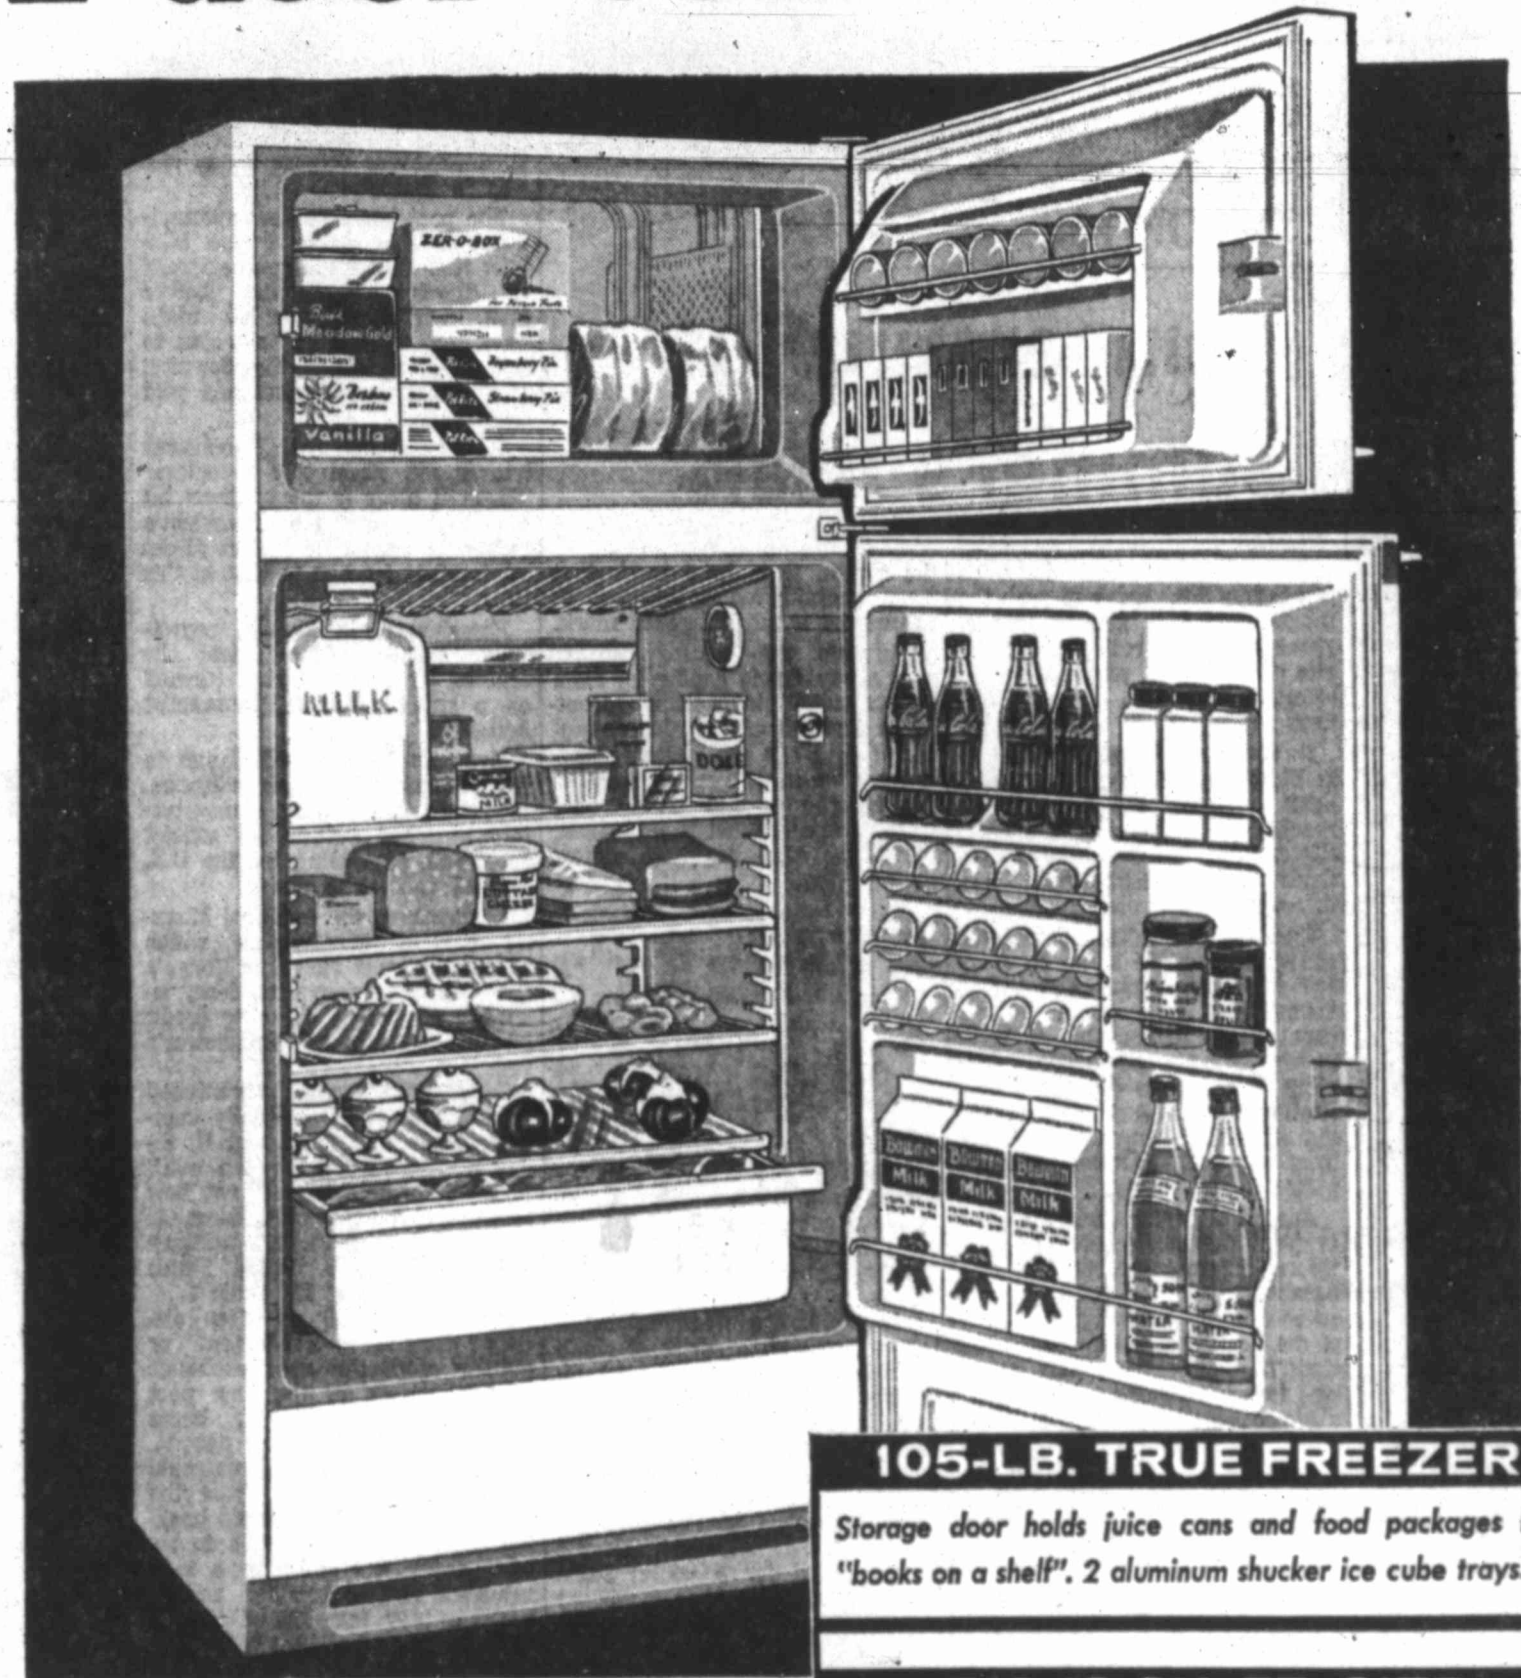

Officers said they thought Boyle may have wanted to see his first child, born shortly after he began a year sentence for burglary Feb. 10.

Mrs. Roosevelt Insists Adlai Wants Nomination

MIDDLETOWN, Conn. (AP) — Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt says Adlai Stevenson, whom she boosts for the Democratic presidential nomination, wants to be president. But, the former first lady said Wednesday night, Stevenson "isn't the type of person who would say he would be better than any other candidate."

Stevenson has said he is not a candidate for the nomination, but has indicated he would accept a draft.

Mrs. Roosevelt made her remarks to newsmen during a visit here to address women's groups at Wesleyan University.

As for Sen. John Kennedy (D-

Mass.), Mrs. Roosevelt said she did not think his primary election victories mean that he is the candidate most Democrats want. She called such primaries "meaningless popularity contests."

She said her son, Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr., played a major role in Kennedy's victory last month in the West Virginia primary.

"My son reminded the voters there of my husband and created a whole new image for Kennedy," she said. "Don't forget, there is still a picture of my husband in nearly every miner's cabin in the state."

Speedboat Will Be Returned

WASHINGTON (AP) — A jet-powered speedboat, which bears a silver plaque on its dashboard reading "to Nikita S. Khrushchev from Dwight D. Eisenhower," will be returned to its maker.

The boat is sitting on the lawn of the American embassy in Moscow. It is a rather bulky and noticeable symbol of the collapse of the Paris summit conference on May 16.

American officials didn't know what to do with it. To give it to Khrushchev was unthinkable after he canceled the President's Soviet visit. After weeks of deliberation it was decided to ship it back to the American factory and get the government's money back.

Rockefeller Is Labeled 'Man Without A Party'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo.) said today Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller has become "a man without a party" because of criticism from his fellow Republicans.

In an address prepared for a luncheon of the Women's National Democratic Club, Symington — a candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination — said: "Those of us who have been trying to show the people the true course of events under the current Republican leadership, were joined last week by a new and powerful voice.

"Like a well-placed scalpel, Gov. Rockefeller's statement opened up this administration and laid bare its policies of weakness, drift, or economic stagnation, of neglect for the aged and the poor, of indifference toward human dignity and civil rights.

"The newspapers said his remarks would stimulate discussion within the Republican party. They were too optimistic.

"The cannons of the Old Guard fired a volley of contempt. When the smoke had cleared, the governor was left standing in the middle of the field, discouraged, disillusioned, a man without a party."

The New York governor, in recent statements, criticized part of the Eisenhower administration's program and asked Vice President Richard M. Nixon to spell out his views on key issues. Nixon in turn, defended the Eisenhower program and stated he had defined his views more clearly than Rockefeller or any of the Democratic presidential hopefuls.

Policeman Is Back On Job

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—A former police sergeant who served six months in prison for embezzlement returns to the force Thursday at his old rank.

The Tampa Civil Service Board ordered reinstatement of Robert T. Harris, 35, who was dismissed in 1956 from duty as a Municipal Court bailiff.

Harris was convicted of taking $200 in bond money which belonged to a defendant and sentenced to seven years in prison.

The State Pardon Board reopened the case after Harris had been in prison a short while. It ruled that evidence was insufficient for a conviction, ordered Harris freed and granted him a pardon.

National Intercollegiate Rodeo Gets Started Today

CLAYTON, N.M. (AP)—Top collegiate cowboys and cowgirls from 16 states will compete here in the National Intercollegiate Rodeo finals beginning this afternoon.

More than 27 competitors will seek championship titles on the basis of the number of points they compile during the event plus those they have amassed in previous rodeos this year.

In addition, eight colleges representing four regions will vie for the team championship in the three day event. The teams will be scored only on the points they accumulate in the rodeo here.

Sul Ross State College of Alpine,

Tex., and Sam Houston State College of Huntsville, Tex., were two top contenders for the team title.

Twenty-one-year-old Ed Workman of Lubbock Christian College, Lubbock, Tex., was far in the lead so far this year in the race for the all-around intercollegiate cowboy. He is a sophomore from Orlton, Tex.

A close match was seen in the competition for all-around intercollegiate cowgirl. The three top contenders are Nathalie Britton, 18, freshman at Lubbock Christian; Mike Settle, 22, senior at West Texas State College, and Karen Mangum, 19, sophomore at Sam Houston (Tex.) State College.

Woman Hopes That Wagon Trip Will Aid Daughter

By DON RIDDLE
It's been 111 years since the great exodus to the West Coast but the motto is still "California or Bust". At least Mrs. Vivian Larsen and her daughter, Sandra, who are pointing toward Hollywood in a horse-drawn wagon, have embraced the slogan.

"I'm doing this in an attempt to get my daughter a college education," Mrs. Larsen quickly explained.

"I have a secret to tell Walt Disney that nobody knows, and I hope that it will make enough money to put my daughter, Sandra through school."

Mrs. Larsen and 14-year-old Sandra left their Canadian home in Moncton, New Brunswick July 24, 1959 and have been averaging about 15 miles per day on the highways.

"We were going on U.S. 50 Highway, but the cold weather forced us down south," said Mrs. Larsen.

BOUGHT ONE HERE
She said that they started with very little money, but through the aid of many well-wishers they had done very well so far. Their horse, Bob, eats a bale of hay every day and in nearly a year of travel they have bought only eight bales of hay for the animal. They bought their eighth bale yesterday here in Big Spring.

Mrs. Larsen and her daughter begin their travel each day around 3 a.m. They sleep in their wagon but never on the highway.

"We always have plenty of people who volunteer their yard or property for us to stay on during the night. It sort of gives us a feeling of security; if we had to stay on the highway, we wouldn't get any sleep at all.

"It's just been wonderful the way people have been so kind to us. Many places sent out a police escort for us to come into town and sometimes the mayor of a city will welcome us personally."

GET MOST MEALS
"Most of our meals are furnished by friendly folks and we've eaten in some of the most elegant homes and restaurants in America."

Mrs. Larsen said that there have been many offers of hospitality but most of them had to be refused because the people lived in town. "We have to try to stay somewhere on the outside of town so that our horse can be taken care of, too," she said.

In a charming and intelligent manner, Mrs. Larsen recalled that she has had very little education and knows no trade.

"I had to borrow the little money that we have in order to make this trip. My husband died four years ago, and I didn't see any way for Sandra to go to college."

"I have another daughter who is now married and who didn't get to go to college. But if Walt Disney can use my secret, I think Sandra can make it."

THAT SECRET
Mrs. Larsen said that some people asked if Walt Disney wasn't sponsoring her and her daughter on the trip.

"I have never written Mr. Disney," she explained, "and he didn't know about me when we left Canada. He knows now though, because the story has been in the Los Angeles papers."

The two said they usually travel right on the main highway and added that passing motorists have been more than cooperative. Mrs. Larsen said that they plan to get to Hollywood sometime in August and that Sandra will have to start to school again out there.

President Slated To Visit Formosa During The Weekend

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—Some call it Taiwan today. But the name the Portuguese gave it 300 years ago — Formosa, meaning beautiful—is still the best description for the island President Eisenhower will visit this weekend.

On the map it looks like a tempting tobacco leaf 100 miles or less from the smoking fires of Communist China.

It is a varied island of mountains and greenery, inhabited by sophisticated Chinese and aborigines, where modern Western philosophies live side by side with primitive superstitions.

It is the seat of government of Chiang Kai-shek, driven from the mainland 10 years ago.

BILLIONS IN AID
The United States has poured in billions of dollars in aid to shore up Formosa's economy, equip its armed forces and strengthen its people against any Communist onslaught.

Formosa has had a bloody history.

Late in the 15th century it was controlled by pirates, Chinese in the south, Japanese in the north. Formosa was ruled by the Dutch for 39 years (1623-1662) and by the Japanese for half a century (1895-1945).

It is separated from southeast China by the Formosa Strait. At the closest point it is only 85 miles from the mainland.

The island, 240 miles long, is almost twice the size of New Jersey. It is spined largely on the eastern or Pacific side by tall, evergreen mountains, with several peaks more than 12,000 feet high.

THIRD CULTIVATED
Only about one-third of the island is cultivated.

Formosa and the Pescadores—63 islets in the Formosa Strait with a total area of 50 square miles—are protected by the United States under a mutual defense treaty.

The offshore Nationalist islands, with a total area of 67 square miles, are outside the treaty zone but an attack on them, if considered by the U.S. President to be part of an on-to-Formosa drive, could provoke American intervention.

The largest of the offshore islands is Quemoy, scene of crisis in 1958 when Red Chinese artillery shelled it for months.

Formosa, the Pescadores and the offshore islands comprise what is commonly known as Nationalist China, formally titled the Republic of China.

Formosa's population is 10 1/2 million not including the armed forces, commonly estimated at 600,000. Four-fifths of the population are native-born Formosans.

The rest are mainlanders, who came from continental China after World War II. The capital, Taipei, has a population of 850,000.

Nationalist China likely would not exist today but for American aid.

From 1946 (when the Nationalists were the ruling party on the mainland) through 1959, the United States gave a total of $3,637,800,000 to the republic. Almost two billions was military aid.

GIANT DAM
The biggest American-aided economic project is the giant Shimen (Stone Gate) Dam being built 18 miles southwest of Taipei at a cost of 66 1/2 million dollars.

The Nationalists, with American support, seek to prepare for the day when American aid is slashed or cut altogether; and to cope with a 3 1/2 per cent a year increase in population.

Main exports of Formosa are sugar and rice. Formosa also exports a number of items which it used to import—textiles, glass, cement and plastics.

More than 10,000 Americans live on Formosa, the majority of them servicemen and their dependents.

The island is liable to earthquakes, typhoons and violent thunderstorms. But it could be a popular tourist center if there were the accommodations and pleasures which the traveler usually seeks.

There is no gambling. A lot of people hesitate to come here because of constant Nationalist talk about the danger of invasion.

Taiwan, incidentally, means "terraced bay." Not quite so expressive as the name Portuguese navigators gave this "Illa Formosa" (Beautiful Island) in the 16th century.

Defiant Balloon Continues Trip

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—The Navy's missing research balloon is believed drifting toward Hawaii.

The balloon's out of radar range but the Navy thinks it is still high in the air and more than 1,400 miles southwest of here.

The helium-filled balloon, launched in Georgia, was supposed to drop a load of cosmic radiation measuring instruments as it floated over Texas.

Something went wrong and the balloon with its instruments went on. No fighters from here tried to shoot it down but failed.

Sawmill Worker Impaled On Board

GREYBULL, Wyo. (AP) — An eight-foot plank was hurled over a sawmill and through the chest of a man standing on the other side of the building Wednesday.

S.H. (Hoot) Grisham, 54, the sawmill owner, was killed when impaled by the plank.

A sawmill worker said the plank somehow caught on the saw and was hurled from his grasp.

IF NOMINATED

Nixon Will Campaign In Some States Twice

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon, as the expected GOP presidential nominee, intends if possible to campaign in every state and several times in some of them.

That word came today from Leonard W. Hall, Nixon's pre-convention campaign chairman and director of the headquarters offices opened here last week.

Hall said Nixon will campaign mostly by airplane, but will use trains occasionally for visits to regional areas.

Asked about Nixon's statement to GOP state chairmen last week that he will use some new techniques in the campaign, Hall said his staff is just beginning to take a look at the extent to which radio and television will be used.

He said there will be a lot of radio-TV spot programs as well as some half-hour coverage of speeches.

Hall was GOP national chairman from April 1953 to February, 1957, after serving 14 years in Congress and a brief term as judge of wills and estates in his home county of Nassau, L.I.

Others on the campaign staff include: James Bassett, California newsman, who is in charge of the scheduling of campaign trips. He directed Nixon's 1952 vice presidential campaign and was publicity director of the GOP National Committee during the 1954 congressional campaign.

J. Clifford Folger, Washington investment banker and former ambassador to Belgium, Folger is the money raiser. He had plenty of experience as national finance chairman of the party in the 1956 campaign.

James Shepley, on leave from Time-Life magazines, in charge of research assisted by John Hamlin.

Space is available also for Nixon's Capitol staff, including Robert H. Finch, the vice president's administrative assistant, and Herbert Klein, press secretary.

Father's Day Gifts Not Limited To Ties

By KAY LOVELAND

Pop will be dressed for leisure and comfort this summer, according to several local retailers reporting on Father's Day buying. "They're really dressing him up this year with bermuda shorts, cabana sets, swim shorts, golf hats and shorty pajamas," said one merchant. Major items being bought by sons and daughters for the special occasion June 19 appear to be slacks and sports shirts, most of them being of top grade silks, cottons and knits. And the long-standing joke that Dad always gets a tie, he will not wear, may not hold true this year. Ties, socks and such small items are not predominant in sales. Shoes and hats are rare gift selections due to difficulty in up after the rodeo and reaches its peak this week.

For last minute items, shoppers get away from the slacks and shirts a little more and purchase such gifts as ash trays, pipe stands, jewelry boxes and cuff links. In addition to regular merchandise, stores usually stock up on novelty gifts which sell in a hurry in the last few days of shopping.

Quite a number of sons and daughters send flowers to their dads. The quantity is not so great as on Mother's Day, but the volume is still surprisingly high, according to local florists. Of course, the flower arrangements are tailored toward a man's taste.

Some of the favorite arrangements the florist designs for men include magazine racks filled with his favorite magazines and a line arrangement of flowers attached. Others include pipe holders, cigar containers, and shaving mugs holding flowers and flowers intertwined with small garden utensils. "This seems to take in just about every type of man, the one who reads, smokes, or likes the outdoors," said one florist.

FLOWERS

Flowers most often sent are carnations, gladioli, chrysanthemums, roses and birds of paradise. And florists consider gold, red, brown and yellow "men's colors." According to one of them, "Men like a lot of heavy-looking gold-sprayed foliage."

But as with every other gift occasion, the important thing is not the gift given, but the thought behind it. Remember Dad on Father's Day, June 19, with a present, but even more, remember him.

Some of the favorite arrangements the florist designs for men include magazine racks filled with his favorite magazines and a line arrangement of flowers attached. Others include pipe holders, cigar containers, and shaving mugs holding flowers and flowers intertwined with small garden utensils. "This seems to take in just about every type of man, the one who reads, smokes, or likes the outdoors," said one florist.

POP GETS LESS CALLS

Mom appears to be a little more popular than Pop. At least, it appears this way based on the number of long-distance calls made on their respective days.

Last year, the local telephone company handled 3,118 long distance calls on Mother's Day and only 1,894 on Father's Day. Of course, many children may have visited Pop, since his day comes during the vacation season. And Mom is getting more popular than ever. On her day this year, there were 3,309 calls placed.

Michigan Demos Boosting Adlai

DETROIT (AP) — Michigan Democrats boosting Adlai E. Stevenson for president said today they would stage a demonstration when delegates to the National Democratic Convention assemble Saturday for a pre-convention caucus.

A motorcade of Stevenson backers will travel from Detroit to East Lansing, Mich. to greet the delegates, said Mary Jennings, manager of the Michigan Stevenson-for-President headquarters.

"We'll have posters, signs and petitions signed by at least 10,000 Stevenson supporters in the Detroit area alone," she said. "We want to impress the delegates that they are free to vote for the candidate of their choice."

The planned demonstration was evidence of opposition to Gov. G. Mennen Williams' efforts to win all the state's 51-vote delegation to the support of Sen. John F. Kennedy, of Massachusetts.

8,000 DADS LIVE HERE

Based on the latest census figures for Big Spring, there are probably 8,000 dads who will be honored by sons and daughters Sunday.

Across the nation, there are an estimated 50 million fathers. Sunday is the day, next to Christmas, when more presents are purchased for dad than any other time of the year.

fitting the man without his knowledge. Some house shoes have been sold, report several store owners.

Many merchants report that people are inclined to spend a little more on Pop for Father's Day than for other gift occasions. However, some merchants place Christmas a little in the lead. The average amount spent on Father's Day gifts in Big Spring is about $10, a little above the national average of $7.

Women buy almost three-fourths of the gifts for Dads—usually buying presents not only for their fathers but also for fathers-in-law. And they usually buy the gifts for children to give Dad, but young married couples usually come in together. "A woman knows in most cases what size a man wears and what colors look best on him much better than he does," one merchant confesses.

VOLUME
Father's Day gift buying began in some stores around June 1. The volume of sales picked

Arsenic Found In Soda Pop

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP) — The Butler County Health Department says it will investigate how arsenic got into a soft drink syrup at a drive-in theater here.

A score of persons became ill early Saturday after consuming the soft drink.

Health Commissioner Alexander Witkow reported tests had shown arsenic in the syrup but authorities have been unable to learn how it got there.

Dr. Witkow said the fact the concentration of arsenic was so great probably saved some lives. He said they became so violently ill they vomited and expelled the poison.

To Be August Bride

Linda Winterrowd, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Winterrowd of Pecos, will become the bride of Chester Collingsworth Jr. in the First Baptist Church of Pecos on Aug. 12. The prospective bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Collingsworth of Merkel. Grandparents of the bride-elect are Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Winterrowd, 955 Runnels, and Mrs. Louise Stroup, 1701 Johnson.

Summer Hostesses Are Named

Hostesses for the remaining summer months were announced when members of the Downtown Lions Auxiliary met in the home of Mrs. B. M. Keese Wednesday morning for coffee.

Mrs. Joe Pond and Mrs. J. H. Greene will entertain in July; Mrs. Wesley Deats and Mrs. Gilbert Gibbs will be August hostesses.

Mrs. Jeff Brown, cohostess, served coffee at a table covered with a white damask cloth. The centerpiece was fashioned from vari-colored pinks with bells of Ireland. Dainties were arranged on a large silver tray.

Fifteen members attended along with a guest, Mrs. Cass Hill.

Contributions were made to a fund for the Crippled Children's Camp, sponsored by the Lions Club.

Four Big Springers Visit Abilene Show

The Abilene Country Club was the scene for a fashion show attended by Mrs. James Wheat, Mrs. Clyde Angel, Mrs. J. E. Hogan, and Mrs. S. M. Smith. Fashions were shown by Bea Haynie. One of the models was Mrs. Joe Hipp, the former Sue Wheat. The Big Spring women also visited with Mrs. Bill Minter.

Table Settings Can Be Key Or Complement

Time was when a woman wanted her home to be purely Swedish Modern, Early American, French Provincial—or some other period.

Today such decor is not unknown, and can be breath-taking in its beauty. But most of us have found it more practical, more comfortable and just as attractive to blend periods.

The periods themselves showed the way. For example, the simple, graceful lines of Early American furniture blend well with contemporary designs, or even with Chinese antique. And then, going a step further, there is the special appeal of a direct contrast. Just as an ornate Victorian table can highlight a contemporary room, so can an out-of-period accessory add interest in any decorating scheme.

Many women have learned this magic through the use of fine china in a pattern which goes with but does not strictly speaking, match their decor. As examples, consider three new dinnerware patterns just introduced.

The first, Beacon Hill, is a delicate rendition of the colonial fruits-and-flowers design. In muted greys and with pure platinum on the edge and verge, Beacon Hill fits in perfectly with Early American furniture. Undoubtedly, the majority of the women who select it will have that in mind. But, in contrast, this pattern is also a delicate counterpoint to the severe lines of contemporary pieces. Further, it offers every woman who loves a feeling of tradition in her home, the color, warmth and decorativeness of an historic theme.

This same principle applies in a slightly different way to another new pattern, Romance. With its delicate encircling wreath of tiny rosebuds, Romance is today's version of the rose theme, one of the all-time pattern favorites. It fits into any decorating scheme and gives its owners—even the most modernly inclined—the opportunity to indulge that universal yearning for a pretty table.

The handsome, sophisticated table is the basic goal of Rondelle, up to the moment with a 24-karat gold print and in coupe shape. Rondelle is elegantly simple. Yet it, too, offers possibilities in other settings. With the more elaborate periods, this pattern becomes a pleasant point of interest. Its simplicity provides contrast—the complement that adds zest to everything in the room.

Mrs. Castle Honored By Knott HD

Mrs. Lee Castle was honored by members of the Knott Home Demonstration Club when they met recently in the home of Mrs. Joe Mac Gaskins.

"This Is Your Life" was given by Mrs. Wally Burchell for Mrs. Castle, who had organized the Knott HD Club and served as the first president.

The devotion was brought by the hostess, Mrs. Gaskins. She read I. Cor. 13, and the members repeated the Lord's Prayer in unison.

Games were led by the assistant recreation leader, Mrs. O. B. Gaskins. The council report was given by the club's delegate, Mrs. Billy Gaskins.

Straw purses were a topic of discussion. Mrs. Joe Mac Gaskins and Mrs. Billy Gaskins will attend the purse workshop to be directed by Mrs. Jimmie Dee Jones, the county agent.

Nine members were present. The group will meet with Mrs. Emmett Grantham on the morning of June 29.

To California

Planning to leave Saturday for California are Mr. and Mrs. Philip Prager, Madeline Prager and Mrs. Neta Prager. They will be accompanied by Steffi Clark, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Clark. They plan to visit points in the West and will return by way of Las Vegas, Nev.

Methodists Organize Church

A new Methodist Church is being organized, with the Rev. C. M. Parmenter as pastor.

The group will meet for the first service Sunday in the old First Church of God at 10th and Main.

Services are scheduled as follows: Sunday school at 9:30 a.m., morning worship at 10:55 a.m., and the evening service at 7:30 p.m. Mid-week service will be held at 7:30 p.m. on Wednesday.

Raymond Hamby will be the Sunday school superintendent and Mrs. Frank T. Almer treasurer, with Mrs. J. T. Gilmore as secretary.

The congregation is making plans to build a church in the future. A site in southeast Big Spring will be selected, possibly in Kentwood.

Make Moving Time A Happy Time For All

By DOROTHY V. WHIPPLE, M.D.

AP Newsfeatures Writer

You are not the only American family who has had to pull up stakes and move to a new city. Americans are a mobile lot and somehow they seem to survive—profit too—by establishing homes hither and yon.

Moving has very special meaning to children and if you want to have a smooth transition, you'd better consider how best to handle the question of moving the youngsters.

First and foremost, take them into your confidence in making the plans both about leaving and about re-settling. A child who is to be uprooted from his school and his neighborhood needs to feel a firm place in his family.

The moved child must depend completely on his family for his feeling of having a little niche of his own in this world.

The more he can share in the family plans the better. A 10-year-old can hardly take part in the decision whether to move or not. Usually Dad's job that brings about most family moves.

But once the decision has been made, be sure to tell the child about it. Tell him about Dad's new job, about how much it means to Dad to get this opportunity. The child will enjoy pride in Dad's promotion, too. But don't ignore what the move will mean to him.

He will think about all the things he has to leave behind, his friends, the Scouts, maybe the little league baseball team. It will be a wrench for him. Be understanding, let him talk out his disappointment at not being able to finish with his gang.

Don't push the virtues of the new place on him until he is ready to listen. Let him know that you understand he is giving up something valuable to him because it's important to Dad. This is the stuff out of which family solidarity is made.

Slowly you will get around to the adventures ahead. Let them sink in gradually so they can be digested.

To start such discussions with a 10-year-old on the assumption that he will be delighted to move will get you off to a bad start. This assumes his feelings don't count, and that he rates no higher in the family than the dog.

However, once the initial shock is over, he is likely to pick up your attitude about the impending move.

If you are looking forward to good adventures he will too. When it comes to the details of the new place let him help plan them. Can you live near the ball park, or a tennis court? Will there be a recreation room, can he have a place to fix up a dark room so he can work on his photography, or a small shop—whatever else he wants?

Talk over with him, Mom, what you hope for—a place with a good light to set up your easel or enough space for your sewing machine. All together make plans and watch his enthusiasm mount.

Wyatt Easons Are Home From Trip

Mr. and Mrs. Wyatt Eason have returned from a vacation trip which took them to various places in Texas and to Arkansas. In La-Marque, they visited their daughter and her family, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Kerst and attended graduation exercises for their granddaughter, Marsha Kerst.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Lowe, former Big Spring residents, were hosts to the Easons in Pineland, and the couple spent two weeks in Hot Springs, Ark., taking the baths and fishing.

Engagement Announced

Mr. and Mrs. Archie Medford of Lamesa, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Glynda Kaye, to J. P. Schroeder, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Schroeder of Elgin. The pair plans to marry Aug. 19 at the Klondike Baptist Church.

'ROUND TOWN

With Lucille Pickle

MRS. DON PAGE and her children of Borger plan to leave Friday after visiting here in the home of her parents, MR. and MRS. G. F. DUNCAN.

Little VICKI ANNEN is visiting relatives in Fort Worth and is having such a nice time she decided to stay longer. When her aunt, MRS. R. F. DAVIS, wanted her to return here last weekend she couldn't persuade Vicki to cut short her stay.

Two enterprising young ladies are KANDY HENSLEY and ALICE COKER who were left without a ballet teacher when Mrs. W. F. Beaudeau moved from the city. Not to be outdone, they have opened a small studio on South Gregg St. and plan to do a little teaching themselves.

That pretty green at the front of the JOHN BALCH home in Western Hills is paint sprayed gravel. The Balches had the area between the driveway and house, filled with the gravel which leaves the space between the drive and street curb for grass. The non-mowing greenery might catch on with the men.

Planning to spend Father's Day in Dallas are MR. and MRS. DAN CONLEY who will visit their son, Jimmy. The couple will also spend some time with Mrs. Conley's sister and her family, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Ticker in Arlington.

MRS. H. C. PETTY, will accompany the Conleys to Arlington to meet a daughter and accompany her to her home in Duluth, Minn., where she will spend the remainder of the summer.

DR. and MRS. M. D. JOHNSON and their children, Judy and Darrell of Tulsa, Okla., will spend Friday and Saturday in the home of his sister and her husband, MR. and MRS. B. M. KEESE.

MR. and MRS. J. O. HARGOOD tried to outfly the stork, but they weren't that fast. They left here Monday en route to England to visit their daughter and son-in-law, Lt. and Mrs. Kenneth Lockmiller, who were expecting their second child. Well, the baby was born Monday at 4 p.m., weighing in at 8 pounds, 4 ounces.

He has been named Kent Dire. The Lockmillers have one other child, Kenda Dee.

MR. and MRS. CLAUDE MILLER figure their family reunion last Sunday at Ira qualified as a king-sized one. There 65 in all who gathered in the Ira Community Center for the occasion.

MRS. THEO ANDREWS, who is still confined to the Big Spring Hospital, may get to return to her home soon. "Miss Emily" is extremely grateful to her many friends for the expressions of friendship, flowers, cards, prayers.

Sewing To Be Taught For 2nd Week

The second week of the adult sewing course offered at the high school will run from Monday through June 24, it has been announced. Hours are from 9 to 11 a.m. in the homemaking department.

A shirtwaist dress will be made with emphasis placed on sewing in zippers, how to set in sleeves and how to make a belt.

Those wishing to take the course are asked to bring a pattern for a shirtwaist dress, material and sewing equipment.

High school girls will be present to care for the small children of mothers who attend the class, it was announced.

For more information call Mrs. Jesse Pharis at AM 3-4659.

How To Attract Men Revealed By Actress

BY LYDIA LANE

HOLLYWOOD—Corinne Calvet decided to leave Hollywood and return to Paris, but before her departure we had a glass of sherry together. "You never have had any trouble in the date department," I commented.

"What advice can you give about attracting the opposite sex?" Corinne liked the question and replied that a girl should never worry whether she is pretty or not because girls with the most beautiful features often are not very popular.

"What a man responds to more than anything else," she went on, "is a woman's attitude. You don't have to say that you are interested in him. He can tell by your eyes.

"Let us say you are at a party and a certain man appeals to you. Stand in back of him so he can't see you and begin to stare at his hairline just above his collar. A concentration of nerve centers is located there. Without knowing why, he will turn around. Look at him with charm and he will come over. This is a trick that always works for me.

"And the one thing that most men like is for a woman to be a good listener. A man appreciates your complete attention, if your mind wanders while he is talking, your eyes will reflect it. The average man feels that a woman talks too much. Be sure that your conversation is not going to bore him. You will always be safe if you let him talk about himself.

"Another point," Corinne generously offered, "is to feel attractive. The thought of beauty is more important than beauty itself. Do something to give yourself a lift. Find a perfume that makes you feel desirable and use it so that you are wrapped in a cloud of fragrance. It may take time to find a scent to suit you, but you will know when you find it by the compliments you receive.

"If I wear a perfume and my date admires it, I always jot it down in my date book so I can be sure to wear the same scent again."

She Knows A Secret

They say the French have a way with men and Corinne Calvet very generously gives some pointers on attracting the opposite sex. She is soon to be seen in "Bluebeard's Ten Honeymoons."

Flee Chilean Flood Threat

Three barefoot children huddle under cover in rain as they await evacuation from Valdivia, Chile, which is threatened with flood resulting from the country's recent earthquakes. Officials feared dams holding swollen Lake Rinihue might break at any moment. Its normal outlet was blocked by landslides. Thousands of residents have fled the city. (AP Wirephoto)

Kennedy, Nixon Invade The Dakotas For Campaign

SIoux FALLS, S.D. (AP) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Sen. John F. Kennedy invaded the Dakota prairie shoulder-to-shoulder this weekend amid a merry hoopla that will include falling paratroopers and a gigantic birthday party.

Their appearances here and in North Dakota promise to make the two farm states an early battleground in the pre-convention duel between the frontrunners for the presidential nominations.

Nixon originally was to make a couple of stops in North Dakota, primarily to shore up the candidacy of Republican Gov. John Davis in the June 23 Senate election there.

Kennedy then got an invitation to appear at a huge birthday party in Fargo, N.D., Sunday for Rep. Quentin Burdick (D-ND), Davis' opponent. That is the day Nixon will be in Fargo beating the drums for Davis.

A third contender, Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo.), got into the act by accepting an invitation to be at the Burdick party.

Both Nixon and Kennedy will appear at Sioux Falls Sunday, a few hours apart, to address the state's American Legion convention.

The 82nd Airborne Division gets the big weekend off to a suitably rousing start with a practice air-drop of several hundred men with equipment Saturday as part of the Legion festivities.

Speeches at rallies, news conferences and television appearances in advance of his talk before the North Dakota American Legion at Williston Monday will give Nixon assorted forums in his campaigning for Davis. The legion talks by Kennedy and Nixon are billed as non-political.

Government To Use Denton If Necessary

WASHINGTON (AP)—The underground defense center at Denton, Tex., is to be started next February and finished in June, 1962.

Texas members of Congress were given this information Wednesday by Welcome Wilson, chief of the Office of Civil Defense and Mobilization's Southwest Regional Headquarters in Denton.

The Denton center will be one of seven to be constructed in the nation.

Wilson told the Texas lawmakers at a luncheon that the Denton center has been designated to become the first alternate seat of government in the event Washington should be obliterated by enemy action.

Thirty-three governmental agencies would be represented at the Denton center.

Wilson said space also would be provided for Speaker Sam Rayburn. The speaker follows the vice president in the succession for the presidency.

The Texas congressmen were told of steps that have been taken to protect the population in the event of atomic attack.

The director of civil defense, Lee A. Hoegh, said shelters to provide protection from radioactive fallout should be constructed in all homes. He said that in event

THIS DAY IN TEXAS

By CURTIS BISHOP

The commission which Thomas Jefferson Chambers received from the State of Coahuila-Texas on this day in 1834 led to litigation which was not settled for over a hundred years.

Chambers was named "Superior Judge of the Circuit of Texas", with a salary of $3,000 annually, payable in vacant lands. Supposedly the court over which he presided never convened. But Chambers did secure a grant of eight leagues of land near the Colorado River in payment for his services.

When Colonel Edward Burleson laid off the township of Waterloo in 1839 he unknowingly encroached on Chambers' holdings. Then came the selection of a site for Austin, and the Republic's commissioners did nothing about the Chambers claim in acquiring quit claim deeds to locations around Jacob Harrell's cabin. Litigation lasted a long time.

Finally in 1935 the 39th Legislature passed an appropriation bill providing for payment to Mrs. Kate Chambers and Mrs. Stella J. MacGregor, the only two children and heirs at law of General Chambers, for full settlement of their claim.

Besides his activities as a land speculator, Chambers also won renown as a "recruiting agent" for the Republic of Texas. In 1837 he raised 1,915 volunteers for the Texan army with money borrowed on 132,840 acres of his own land. He presented the Texas Republic with the two cannons now gracing the main entrance to the state capitol.

would be subject to contamination. Hoegh said the dangerous degree of such contamination would be reduced within 24 hours to the end that it would cover only about 25 per cent of the nation. Thus, he said the ability to escape the deadly radiation for that period of time could result in the saving of

In reply to a question by Speaker Rayburn as to what the ordinary citizen could do to provide a reasonably effective shelter, Hoegh said more and more homes of the future should be built with one room serving as a fallout shelter. He said in existing homes an

Two Replacements Are Winter Grade

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — For some strange reason, television programs which are the summer replacements for winter-season shows have, in the industry's eyes, a rather low status in a status-conscious industry. This certainly is not true of their status as far as the viewer, beset by re-runs and re-broadcasts is concerned. But this summer happily, at least two producers are attempting to provide winter-grade entertainment for the hot-weather audience. One is Henry Jaffe, producer of NBC's hour-long mystery series on Sunday night. The other is Bob Banner, whose "Diagnosis Homicide" series will start July 5 on CBS. Both shows take the place of vacationing variety shows Dinah Shore's and Garry Moore's respectively.

Saturn Passes Test

HUNTSVILLE, Ala. (AP) — Saturn's superbooster has passed its first series of tests with flying colors, says Dr. Werner von Braun, Saturn project director. The last in the series of nine static, or tied-down, tests was held Wednesday at the Marshall space flight center.

The next series is scheduled to begin in August and will be continued up to the time of the actual launching at Cape Canaveral, Fla., in 1961, Von Braun said. Saturn-T, the booster now being tested, will not be flown. This booster will go to Saturn-1, now being assembled at the space center. A third booster also is being assembled.

The booster is the first stage of the planned multistage Saturn space vehicle — this nation's brightest hope to put heavy payloads into space.

Liquor Petition To Be Presented

DENISON, Tex. (AP) — A petition seeking an election to permit sale of alcoholic beverages in Denison is to be presented to the Grayson County Commissioners Court today. County Clerk J. C. Buchanan said he had checked 1,002 names of 1,406 on the petition and found all of them authentic. State law requires 941 names to call the local option election.

Second thoughts on a first run: It is doubtful how much good Tuesday night's "How Tall is a Giant?" did for the Little League baseball movement. The NBC film documentary emphasized strongly the fierce competition and pressures laid on boys aged 9 to 12 and stressed the importance of winning, more than the pleasure of playing the game.

Recommended tonight: "Long Distance," NBC, 8:30-9 — repeat of a tense drama starring Jessica Tandy playing a wife trying to halt her husband's execution; "Spring Festival," CBS, 10-11 — a program of folk music by young American artists.

Two British Sergeants Near Goal Of New Record Trek

CLINTON, N.J. (AP) — Refreshed with their first bath in a week, Britain's walking sergeants tramp, tramp, tramp on the last miles of their transcontinental trek today. Only 52 miles and one river lie between them and their goal, New York, and a new cross-country walking mark. The sergeants, Patrick Maloney, 34, and Mervyn Evans, 33, plan to stop tonight in the New Jersey metropolitan area and then cross the Hudson River Friday via the Lincoln Tunnel into New York.

2,970 MILES
They'll end the long walk at the British Exposition at the New York Coliseum. Behind them lie 2,970 miles of American hills, hills, plains and mountains—and eight pairs of shoes they have worn out in transit.

The sergeants left San Francisco April 12. If they make New York on schedule Friday, they will have been on the road 87 days, cutting 10 days from the old transcontinental record.

They bedded down Wednesday night at a motel in Lebanon, a few miles east of here on Rt. 22. "We sure love this road (Rt. 22)," said Maloney, a Royal Air Force paratrooper instructor. Evans is a British army paratrooper.

They are accompanied by a third sergeant, Roy Rogers, who drives ahead in an auto and a trailer. They reached Lebanon in a misty rain after walking through the rolling New Jersey countryside from Pennsylvania.

The sergeants said that the hills of western Pennsylvania were more of a grind than the Rockies.

Several truck drivers offered the swift-striding sergeants a lift. They declined without breaking stride.

Dr. Barbara Moore, 56, British dietitian who started from San Francisco a day after the sergeants, was far behind, troubled by a stiff ankle.

She made only 22 miles Wednesday, calling a halt for the night at Putnamville, Ind., on Rt. 40. She said she hoped to be in New York within 10 days.

RECORD
The unofficial coast-to-coast walking record of 79 days, 10 hours and 10 minutes was set in 1929 by Abraham L. Montaverde of Mays Landing, N.J.

But a claim by the late photographer Edward Weston that he walked from Los Angeles to New York in 77 days in 1910 is accepted as the record by several authorities.

The sergeants said that was the mark they are trying to better.

In Seattle, Wallace King, 36, a World War II veteran, said he would start out Monday to return the record to the United States.

King quit his job as a civilian ground maintenance man at Ft. Lawton to set out on his Seattle-New York trek.

River Groups Study Water

AUSTIN (AP) — Engineers of river authorities and water districts throughout the state worked today in preparing the ground work for a statewide water planning program.

The conference, called by Gov. Price Daniel and sponsored by the State Board of Water Engineers, began Wednesday with general discussion of water development plans. The technical phase was scheduled today.

Daniel asked the authorities and districts to get their revised master plans completed by Nov. 1 in order that the State Board of Water Engineers might achieve its goal of a statewide plan by May 1, 1961.

Presbyterian Men Meet Near Kerrville

MIDLAND, Tex. (AP) — The annual men's conference of the Synod of Texas, Presbyterian Church, U.S., will be held this weekend at the denomination's Mo-Ranch near Kerrville.

Sessions will start Friday and will run through Sunday. An attendance of 350 is expected.

The Rev. Richard Braun, pastor of Midland's Westminster Presbyterian Church, is conference chairman.

"A Man's Gospel," is the theme of the conference.

Arguments Start In Suit Over Gas Pipelines Tax

AUSTIN (AP) — Attorneys begin arguments today over a suit that has tied up 15 million dollars a year in state revenue from the new gas pipelines tax.

The final decision probably will be made by the U.S. Supreme Court many months from now.

"Another round in the never-ending battle to retain our states' rights," said Atty. Gen. Will Wilson as he and several assistants prepared to face a platoon of attorneys from Tennessee Gas Transmission Co. and six other pipeline firms.

The seven contend the tax, passed by the 56th Legislature after a record-long lawmaking session, is illegal.

Evidence in the highly technical suit was presented in 1958th District Court three weeks ago. Dist. Judge Jack Roberts listened to oral arguments today.

Roberts is expected to announce his decision within a month.

The questioned levy is the so-called severance beneficiary tax of 1 1/2 per cent of market value per 1,000 cubic feet of natural gas at the well head. The tax is aimed at the person or company who has the use or benefit from the production of gas dedicated over a number of years.

While the suit is in the courts the 15 million dollars a year revenue collected under the tax will be held in escrow and may not be spent by the state. Gov. Price Daniel says he will ask the next Legislature to release the funds tied up in court and also to increase the levy to ease a mounting deficit in the state treasury.

"While the issues in this case are many," Wilson said in a pre-trial statement, "the central issue of the right of the state to tax its irreplaceable natural resources is in a sense the most important. "We take sharp issue with the contention of the contesting companies that the tax is unconstitutional as a burden upon interstate commerce because it was carefully drawn to treat interstate and intrastate gas in the same manner."

Baby Recovers From Shock

HARLINGEN, Tex. (AP) — A baby boy was alive today after a quick operation Wednesday to massage the heart back into action from an electric shock.

The 8-month-old child, Joseph B. Powell, son of Lt. and Mrs. Joseph C. Powell of Hazard, Ky., was reported by hospital attendants to have "a good chance of survival."

Three Air Force doctors at Harlingen Air Force Base performed the emergency operation to restore the child's breathing.

The child was rushed to the base hospital after it came in contact with a light plug and apparently completed the circuit by touching a metal gas jet.

The child's father is in temporary duty in Florida.

Foreign Aid Faces Battle Between Cuts, Increases

WASHINGTON (AP)—A $3,384,500,000 foreign aid money bill faced a tug-of-war in the House today between groups wanting to cut it more and to increase it. The bill's total already has been cut 700 million dollars below President Eisenhower's requests. Advance indications were that the measure would go to the Senate late today or Friday in substantially the form recommended by the House Appropriations Committee. The committee imposed the cuts last Monday, despite a last-minute protest by the President that the action would "jeopardize our own security and the defense of the free world."

Senate Considers Huge Defense Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate stepped up its push toward adjournment today with a 40-billion-dollar defense money bill only one of several matters to be considered. With the normal noon opening hour advanced to mid-morning, Sen. Mike Mansfield of Montana, the assistant Senate Democratic leader, said members might be asked to stay late tonight "with numerous roll call votes." In addition to the huge defense appropriation bill, Senate leaders scheduled action to ratify a new security treaty with Japan and a WTPA scholarship student, graduated from Texas Tech this spring and is due to edit the ex-student's magazine there next year.

Yvonne Bredemeyer, 1509 Runnels, Sweetwater was named first alternate. Currently Annette Holman, who is attending McMurry College, Abilene, and Don Jones, who will attend West Texas State College at Canyon, are the only other WTPA scholarship holders. Mrs. Mary Alice Cretzinger, another WTPA scholarship student, graduated from Texas Tech this spring and is due to edit the ex-student's magazine there next year. Lew is the son of Mrs. Vaece Bullion, 2405 Ave. N., Lubbock. He plans to enter Texas Tech in the autumn to major in journalism. In high school he was ranked in the upper fifth of his class and on the Iowa education development tests in his junior year he rated in the upper three per cent nationwide. He was an all-district mention in football and a member of the track team. He held other school honors and was the only student to serve on the staff of both the newspaper, Westerner World, for which he was sports editor, and the school yearbook.

Scholarship Award Goes To Lubbock Youth

Lew Bullion, 18, who has just graduated from Tom S. Lubbock High School in Lubbock, is the 1960 winner of the West Texas Press Association annual journalism scholarship. Announcement of the scholarship award was made by the WTPA Scholarship committee headed by Joe Pickle, Big Spring. Pickle had praise for Lew's application, but added that several others were of unusually high quality. Yvonne Bredemeyer, 1509 Runnels, Sweetwater was named first alternate. Currently Annette Holman, who is attending McMurry College, Abilene, and Don Jones, who will attend West Texas State College at Canyon, are the only other WTPA scholarship holders. Area's Water Demands Rise With Temperature

Water use in Big Spring soared past the 10,000,000 gallon mark again Wednesday as torrid temperatures continued. The Colorado River Municipal Water District, which supplies Odessa and Snyder as well as Big Spring, was reporting soaring consumption figures, too. The Big Spring total was 10,104,000 gallons of water on Wednesday, and it might have been more had not a ruptured water main in the south part of town cut down on the amount of water which could be pumped to one of the elevated reservoirs. The amount compared with 8,234,000 a year ago on the same day. During the past four days, the CRMWD has produced approximately 161,000,000 gallons for the member cities and for oil companies using surplus water from Lake J. B. Thomas. The peak day was 37,938,000 for the three cities on Wednesday, plus 6 million for oil companies. Big Spring peaked out with 11,689,000 (which includes Cabot and Coeden's draw) on Monday, an all-time high for one day. Odessa hit 22,660,000 on Wednesday, barely under its peak of 22.8 million. Snyder hit 5,040,000 gallons Wednesday, which was nearing its all time top of 5.9 million for a single day. From Sunday through Wednesday, Big Spring drew 81,211,000 gallons. Big Spring 44,218,000 (with Casden and Cabot), and Snyder 11,770,000. The oil companies averaged 6,000,000 per day. The district is pumping 31,000,000 gallons a day from Lake J. B. Thomas and the balance from wells.

King died Wednesday night in a local hospital. He had lived in Big Spring for the past 10 years and resided at 24th and Goliad. He was born May 26, 1870 in Johnson County and came to Big Spring from Cherokee County. He is survived by his wife, Martha, three daughters, Mrs. W. H. Norwood, Mrs. M. H. Boatler and Mrs. Ella Rains, all of Big Spring; and one son, Joe R. King, Big Spring. There are 15 grandchildren and 20 great-grandchildren.

Spence Sees Hope Of A Coordinated Water Plan

E. V. Spence, general manager of the Colorado River Municipal Water District, expressed hope today that the governor's appeal for a crash program may help produce a coordinated state water policy. Gov. Price Daniel, addressing a two-day conference he had called on the state's water problems, asked for revamped master plans from all the water basins by Nov. 1. By May 1, 1961, he wants the State Board of Water Engineers to come up with a state water program. Spence complimented the governor and observed: "This is something that should have been done 15 years ago." He reminded the state group

NOT REALLY PEPPERMINT

A barber pole was one of four items reported stolen during the past 24 hours. Russell Johnson told police the barber pole was stolen from his shop at 1312 Scurry sometime during the night. "Thieves may be in for a surprise. It's not really peppermint." Burl Gifford, Abilene, told police a radio was stolen from his pick-up truck while it was parked in the alley in the 200 block of Main. Arthur W. Jones, 709 NW 5th, reported the theft of a tool box and car registration papers.

New Police Chief On Job

Police Chief E. J. (Jay) Banks assumed his duties in Big Spring today after arriving in the city Wednesday night. The former Texas Ranger captain who served in the Department of Public Safety for 22 years said today that he feels highly honored to have been appointed chief of police in Big Spring. "I expect to be chief for all the citizens of Big Spring, not just one group or another," Banks said. The new chief was hired by City Manager A. K. Steinhilber and the city commission Tuesday night to fill the vacancy left by the resignation of C. L. Rogers May 18. Banks indicated no immediate changes in police policy with regard to the city or changes within the department. "I will do my best to work with all other department heads, as well as other law enforcement officers here," he said. Banks' family remained in Dallas and will join him as soon as housing is secured. He and his wife have two daughters, both in school.

Names Of Group Are Clarified

Mrs. Carmen F. Sanchez was one of the three petitioners who appeared before the city commission Tuesday requesting that positive action be used in ridding the flats area of undesirable elements. Others of the committee were Mrs. Mary Garcia and Mrs. Susie Davale. Mrs. Sanchez said that there are two people with this same name, but the middle initials are different.

DEAR ABBY

WOOD CUTTER

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Will you please settle a dispute of long standing? Every time my husband and I drive through Cairo, Illinois, we see a statue standing in the park just off the main highway.

My husband says it is a man cutting wood, and I say it is a man killing a snake. He says, "Whoever heard of anybody putting up a statue of a man for killing a snake? And I say, "Whoever heard of putting up a statue of a man for cutting wood?"

Are we both wrong? I don't have time to look up Cairo's history, I am busy making history myself as we have ten children. Thank you.

KATHLEEN B. DEAR KATHLEEN: Your husband is right. The statue is a very famous one, called THE HEWER, and it is indeed a monument to a man cutting wood.

DEAR ABBY: Had to giggle at the old gal who was so hurt because she was referred to as an "old maid."

Many of my single friends are far happier than my married ones. At least they don't have to put up with some crotchety old grouch after 8 hours at the office. Old maids are luckier than they think.

ONE, TOO.

DEAR ABBY: I am 43 and have been married and divorced and have two children to support. Four years ago I met a married man (he is now 46) who told me his wife didn't understand him, but he'd never divorce her because of their three minor children.

I thought if he wasn't happy with her I might as well have him, so for two years I heckled his wife with mysterious phone calls and letters telling her her husband didn't love her and was stepping out. She finally divorced him last December.

We have been seeing each other constantly, but now that he is free he still won't marry me. I found out he is trying to get his ex-wife back. I would do anything to get this man to marry me, as he is well-to-do and I would not have to work. After being a wife to him every way but legally, can I sue him for not marrying me?

WANTS SECURITY

DEAR WANTS: If you want to know your legal rights—see a lawyer. On second thought, why don't you just head for the rocks and join the rest of the snakes?

CAPT. J. W. BROWNING

Graduate Study For Browning

Capt. John W. Browning, commander of Section IV, 3561st Pilot Training Squadron, is scheduled to leave Webb on Aug. 1 for Purdue University, where he will work towards his master's degree in industrial management.

The captain, who has a B. S. degree in electrical engineering from West Virginia University, will be at Purdue for a year, under the USAFIT (USAF Institute of Technology) program. His wife, Mary Louise, and their daughter, Marilyn, 10, will be going along with him.

The Wheeling, W. Virginia officer began his military career back in 1943. Flying with the 98th Bomb Group in Italy during the war, he chalked up 40 combat missions in B-24 Liberators, for which he was awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross.

On his 12th mission, the captain recalled, his Liberator bomber was shot down.

"Our target was a bridge near the Brenner Pass. After we were hit, we managed to get back across the enemy line and crash-landed right in Allied front lines. The British picked me up and kept me in their field hospital at Rimini for two months before I rejoined my outfit at Lecce, Italy."

Discharged in 1945, Capt. Browning was recalled to active duty in 1952. A senior pilot since August of 1959, he has logged over 2,400 flying hours, mostly in T-33s. The Air Medal and the Purple Heart are among his decorations.

Capt. Browning came to Webb in November of 1957. The family lives at 1400 State Park Drive.

EUGENE, Ore. (AP) — A research team has found that it would be possible to raise food fish aboard space ships, feeding them on materials produced from body wastes.

The fish would grow in water already being used to raise algae or seaweed and no great increase in volume or weight would be involved.

The experiment was reported to the Ecological Society of America Tuesday by Dr. Frieda B. Traub of the University of Washington.

Dr. Traub and her associates began more than a year ago to raise a species of African mouth-brooder in a tank already producing chlorella, a type of algae which produces large quantities of oxygen as well as a type of protein which can be used as human or animal food. Light provides the energy for making the algae grow.

The African mouth-brooder is raised widely in ponds fertilized with human or animal waste matter, and is a food item in some parts of the world. The female fish hatches her young by keeping the fertilized eggs in her mouth. They hatch in about 10 days. The fish grows to sardine size in about three months.

Prices Can Still Climb Despite Reserve Board

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—Prices can still go up despite the belief of the Federal Reserve Board that the threat of further monetary inflation is licked for the time being.

The men who figure out the consumer price index in Washington say there should be little rise in the over-all cost of living for awhile, with seasonal changes in the price of food affecting the index most.

But here and there prices continue to creep higher. And if business activity turns up in the fall as now predicted the trend will have strong support from that.

Higher prices are expected in some areas, notwithstanding the easing in interest rates, the greater and often surplus capacity to produce, the keener sales competition.

Men's clothing is expected to be a bit dearer in the fall. Makers say the prices will reflect wage increases.

The average cost of cars is lower on the official cost of living index. But that is mainly because of the advent of the compact cars and some sluggishness in the used car markets.

Eastern railroads are talking about a hike in freight rates. Railroad wage rates are going up, too.

Costlier freight would hit manufacturers and merchants first, and trickle down later to consumers.

Airlines are expecting to be allowed to hike their fares too, to help them pay for the expensive jets that the traveling public prefers.

Users of steel haven't forgotten that wage increases are set for the end of the year. Many expect to see the price of things made of steel to rise along with it.

Wage scales are expected to rise in several important industries this year, and some increases will be automatic under old contracts.

The most that is now expected for food prices is that they will change with the seasons. But there are bolstering factors here, too. In the case of basic crops, there is government support of prices. And in that big factor in the final price of food—the cost of processing, reducing home labor, and distributing—the trend is still upward.

Tab Hunter Leaves Movies For Career On Home Screen

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—As if things didn't look gloomy enough, here's Tab Hunter with the observation:

"I'm afraid Hollywood is losing its position as movie capital of the world. Everything seems to be shifting toward Europe. The strikes didn't help—both the actors' and the writers'—and production is getting lower and lower."

"But even without the strikes, it looks as though Hollywood is losing out. Movies are making more money in foreign countries than they do in the United States. So why not shoot the pictures abroad?"

"Americans are too lazy to go to the movies as a habit anymore."

"They'll go out for 'Ben-Hur'—that kind of attraction. But otherwise, they'd rather stay home and watch TV."

If Hunter sounds like a convert to TV—he is. And so the movies lose another promising star.

His detractors might argue that Tab never won any awards with his acting. Maybe not, but he is an attractive personality of the kind that Hollywood used to build into household names. He has appeared creditably in top films and has a wide following among the younger set.

Now TV will reap what the movies have sown.

"I like the picture business," he declared. "But an actor just can't rely on it any more. Sure, I could work all the time in cheap pictures or else go to Europe for films. But I don't want to."

"TV is the coming thing—in fact, it's here. So I decided to join it."

He'll be bursting forth on the home channels this fall in a show called the Tab Hunter show. The gimmick has him playing a cartoonist who lives in a Malibu Beach house. It just happens that all kinds of beautiful babes keep trailing or swimming to his door.

Japanese Incident Considered Defeat

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States suffered a humiliating and costly defeat today in the collapse of President Eisenhower's scheduled visit to Tokyo.

The Soviet-Chinese Communist bloc won a victory of menacing proportions. It was the second time in exactly a month that a great international event has gone against the wishes of Eisenhower and along lines charted by the international Communist leadership.

At Paris May 16, Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev killed the Big Four summit conference in its first meeting, leaving Eisenhower and his British and French allies to survey the wreckage of their hopes for some improvement in East-West relations.

DEBACLE
Today's debacle in Tokyo is potentially more damaging to the United States and its allies, and in the long run poses a greater threat to the balance of U. S.-Soviet relations and therefore to world peace, than did the breakdown in Paris.

The immediate problem before Eisenhower and Japanese Prime Minister Nobusuke Kishi, in fact, is how to handle the situation to minimize the injury to U. S.-Japanese relations and to the free world political position and defense structure throughout the Far East.

The great difference between the May 16 breakdown at Paris and the June 16 disaster in Tokyo is this: The explosion of the summit conference coupled with Khrushchev's violent personal attacks on Eisenhower forced the Western Allies closer together and strengthened their resolve to resist Soviet threat and bluster.

Cancellation of Eisenhower's trip to Tokyo threatens to undermine a vital anchor point of the system of anti-Communist alliances in the Far East.

NO CHOICE
Kishi's government, being compelled to confess its inability to maintain order, appears now to have no choice except to resign, which is what the riotous left-wing students have been demanding.

Kishi himself, it was noted here, said he would not quit or dissolve the Parliament until a pending new U. S.-Japanese security pact is ratified this week-end.

The security pact rather than Eisenhower's visit, has been the prime target of left-wing and Communist opposition. By holding Parliament in session, Kishi has the power to win the form of a victory on the issue of its ratification but it may prove to be an empty victory unless new political forces come into play in Tokyo now that the visit has been canceled.

In the present circumstances, opponents of the new security pact appear to have gone a long way toward undermining the U. S.-Japanese alliance and discrediting the whole military-political arrangement between Washington and Tokyo. It is not only the form of a treaty but also the broad political accord which it represents that is vitally important.

RED-INSPIRED
U. S. officials are convinced that the Soviet Union and Red China were behind a ruthless and well-financed campaign to exploit antiwar sentiment in Japan, to turn the student and left-wing labor demonstrations into violent rioting where possible and to overthrow the pro-American Kishi government by any possible means.

If the treaty is now defeated the Communist powers will have strong basis for hope of a neutralist Japan, pulling away from the United States and moving to closer ties with the Soviet Union and Red China. Because of Japan's strategic position with industrial wealth, this sequence of developments would constitute a fatal blow to United States and Allied policies in the Far East.

The repercussions could well extend far beyond Japan. The Soviet-Chinese bloc is waging a long-term offensive not only against U. S. bases in Japan but against the whole system of U. S. defensive bases in Allied countries.

HIGH STAKES
It is because the stakes are so high that Eisenhower has been extremely reluctant, even at the risk of personal danger, to call off his visit to Tokyo. Fears for his personal safety in a city scarred by mob action and for the lesser danger of possible personal embarrassment at the hands of demonstrators have had to be balanced against the potential cost of a decision not to go.

Precisely how much effort Moscow and Peking have put into the violent campaign in Tokyo against the new security pact, President's trip and the Kishi government is not known to officials here. But available evidence, some open and some secret, which is officially regarded as accurate, convinces them that for the Communists it is a major operation.

Such evidence is reported to include the following:
1. About two months ago Chinese Communist leader Mao Tse-tung promised the Japan-China Friendship Assn. that the 600 million people of Red China would be behind a move to overthrow the Kishi government and would provide support.

2. Last fall during celebration of the 10th anniversary of the Chinese Communist regime, a top official of the association reportedly received $100,000 from the Chinese Communists.

3. In recent months there has been a notable increase in the number of diplomatic couriers from the Soviet Union and some other Soviet bloc countries going into Japan, ostensibly on diplomatic business. Officials say there is reason to believe at least some of these couriers carried funds for the Japanese Communist party.

RED CHINA
On the record, Red China has conducted the massive propaganda campaign against the U. S.-Japanese security pact and Eisenhower's Far Eastern tour. Peiping radio has called for demonstration against the President and for the "burial" of the security pact in connection with his tour. It described the Tokyo demonstration as a revolution against American imperialism and confidently predicted the revolution would be successful.

State Department experts say many of the broadcasts can be read as virtual orders to Red agents in Japan to keep Tokyo in turmoil until the treaty is defeated or thoroughly discredited.

Soviet propaganda, though reflecting Khrushchev's post-summit attacks on Eisenhower, has been less preoccupied with the Japanese situation than the Peiping broadcasts. But Wednesday night the Moscow government took a direct hand in the fight by sending a diplomatic note to the Japanese government.

The Kremlin told Japan it risked terrible tragedies if it continued to make bases available to the United States. It assailed the bases as assisting American "aggressive aims against the Soviet Union and the other countries neighboring Japan."

Treaty Approval May Be Delayed By U.S. Senate

WASHINGTON (AP)—Postponement of President Eisenhower's visit to Japan raised prospects today that Senate ratification of the new U. S.-Japanese security treaty may be delayed until action is completed on urgent pending bills.

Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, the Democratic leader, told a reporter the big defense money bill and a federal pay raise bill had priority over the treaty. He explained that both are hurry-up measures this near the end of the session because the money bill has to go to conference with the House to consider changes and the pay raise faces the possibility of a veto which would require further congressional action.

While Chairman J. William Fulbright (D-Ark) of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee had been anxious to have the treaty ratified today in advance of the President's visit to Tokyo, the deferral of the trip removed that urgency.

Fulbright said today that he still feels the treaty should be acted on speedily, but Johnson has not made a firm commitment as to the timing. Johnson told a newsman that consideration of the treaty would have to be fitted in with the other legislation.

Before the presidential visit to Tokyo was called off, Fulbright had predicted overwhelming Senate ratification of the treaty.

331st To Choose Miss Delta Dagger

Webb's 331st Fighter Interceptor Squadron is sponsoring a Miss Delta Dagger contest and the winner will be named June 25 in a pageant on the base.

Entrants in the contest will get a conducted tour of the squadron's area and flight line. Finalists in the beauty contest will receive group pictures, a gold F-102 pin and will be escorted to the banquet and dance which concludes the pageant on the evening of June 25.

Contest winner will get an airplane, a model of the F-102, pictures of the pageant and pilots will honor her by hanging her full-length picture in the Operations Building of the Squadron.

Only bathing suit competition will be conducted and finalists in the contest will be provided facilities in the base homes of married personnel in order to rest and change for the banquet and dance after the contest.

The contest winner will be announced at the dance following a full day of activities conducted by the 331st Squadron.

All entries must be single and must be 18 years old before June 1, 1960. Application blanks for entering the beauty contest can be obtained at the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce. Entries will be judged on poise, personality, charm and beauty.

Preliminaries will be at the Webb AFB Officers' Open Mess at 10 a. m. Deadline for submitting entry blanks is midnight June 20.

Several days ago dog catcher George Helms radioed that he heard voices under the hood of his truck, from the dog pen in the rear and from the sidewalks about town.

Police Chief Ralph Smith said prisoners continually heard voices calling to them from outside the cells.

The mysterious voices disappeared when Martin Dwyer, 42, of Sayre, Okla., was released after working out a fine for drunkenness by helping the dog catcher.

Police learned Wednesday Dwyer was a ventriloquist.

Huh Chung Is Korean Premier

SEOUL (AP)—Acting President Huh Chung today became interim premier under South Korea's new system of government.

The duties of the presidency, now a ceremonial post under a constitutional amendment adopted Wednesday, passed to National Assembly Chairman Kwak Sang-Hoon. He submitted his resignation from the assembly to keep Huh as chief of state also, but the assembly deferred action on the resignation.

Huh will serve as interim government head until elections for a new assembly before July 30.

You Can Look, But Don't Stare

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP) — Men, it's all right to peek at that pretty girl on the sidewalk as you drive past, but don't stare.

"It's all a part of correct eye movement," says William Burnett, Iowa state safety education director.

"A good driver keeps his eyes moving, glancing quickly right and left as well as looking ahead. If your glance happens to catch a pretty girl walking along the street, how can you help it?"

But, added Burnett, married and the father of five sons, staring at an object while you drive—even if it's an approaching truck—can be dangerous.

City Disallows Keeping A Goat
LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — No goats on the railroad right of way behind your house, the City Board of Adjustment told H. M. Prather Wednesday.

But, pleaded Prather, the goats help clear the place of trash and garbage "thrown there by my good neighbors who are complaining."

Prather still lost the case.

Solid Basis For Cooperative Effort

After a month of consideration, the city commission has named E. J. Banks to be the chief of police. A veteran law enforcement official, Mr. Banks comes here with a background of service including a captaincy in the Texas Rangers. Affable and mild-mannered, he is big in stature and fills the mental bill of being the type of one-man detail to quell one mob.

There was no dearth of applications for the position vacated last month by C. L. Rogers, and there were many well-qualified peace officers in the group. It is something of a tribute to Mr. Banks that he was selected out of so formidable a field.

In accepting the responsibility of the post, he said his main ambition was to be in a town where he would be proud to raise his family.

That pretty well sums up the ambition of most of us who are interested in good law enforcement. After all, that is the object of our laws and if they are to accomplish their objectives, they must be justly enforced.

This is a basis upon which cooperative efforts, both on the part of other enforcement agencies and of the citizenry, can be undertaken. Mr. Banks will find solid backing of the solid citizenry in this aim.

The Can And A Food Revolution

The U. S. Steel News notes that a can opener has been standard equipment in homes throughout America for quite awhile now, until today American consumers as a whole use a can opener 115 million times a day to open cans of food, soft drinks, beer, cosmetics, paint, drugs, oil, detergents, sprays and the thousand and one other items now packaged in tin cans.

U. S. Steel News says in addition to the 50,000 workers engaged in turning out the 1958 volume of cans—in that year, 42 billion cans were put out representing a $1.7 billion dollar volume of business—thousands of steel workers were required to turn out the sheet steel and tin plate needed to produce the cans.

The tin can started out as a glass jar or bottle, the Steel News reports. In the days of the Directorate in Paris, 1795, when French armies were on the march almost everywhere, a quick and safe way of preserving food for the armies was called for and a prize offered. One Nicholas Appert, a Parisian chef, brewer, pickle-maker and vintner won the 12,000-franc prize—the packing of food in bottle like wine. An Englishman, Peter Durand, applied for a patent in 1810, he also mentioned "pottery, tin and other metals" Durand has been recognized as calling for the use of glass; but because the father of the tin can ever since. There is no record, however, that he ever manufactured either canned food or a metal container. He sold his patent to others.

Two Englishmen, says Steel News, brought the tin-can know-how to America as early as 1812.

It came in handy—as the American frontier was just opening up in dead earnest, and the tin can played an indispensable part on the gradual conquest of the wilderness.

Now, of course, the tin can has plenty of competition from various methods of preserving food, including refrigeration and dry-packing without number. However, the tin can is still widely in use; in 1958 2,500 different products were packed in cans.

In the past two generations the packaging of foods has undergone a complete revolution. Even as late as 50 and 60 years ago tin cans were incidental rather than universal—at least in the country grocery store, where most of the goods were carried in bulk rather than packaged. Canned oysters, peaches, "potted" meats, Vienna sausages and a few other staples were about all you'd find in cans. And sardines and salmon, of course.

The variety and multiplicity of foods for human consumption can only be fully appreciated by the old-timers, who have lived to see them come on the market almost from scratch.

David Lawrence Rockefeller's Aims For The GOP

WASHINGTON—After listening and watching for two hours on Sunday night a television program in which Governor Nelson Rockefeller of New York answered all kinds of provocative questions, this writer is convinced of the sincerity, earnestness and high purpose of the man who startled the country last week by his challenge to Vice President Nixon.

Granted that it's "too late" for the Republicans to nominate anybody but the vice president—and, indeed, judged by political standards, Mr. Nixon is the man they are in duty bound to choose—the fact remains that Governor Rockefeller unwittingly made a good argument for some other system of choosing party nominees and making party policy than the one in vogue.

IN FACT, Governor Rockefeller was advancing a theory which constituted the most significant aspect of his television talk. For, when all pretense and hypocrisy are thrust aside, it must be conceded that the present system of forming party policy or selecting the best candidate needs revision. Indeed, the whole structure of government has grown so large that in many of the answers that Governor Rockefeller made he reflected to some extent the impatience of the public with political habits as they relate to government in these days of crisis.

What Governor Rockefeller was trying to say, in effect, was that he favors support not for who is right but for what is right. But it is political heresy today to say that anything the opposite party stands for is right, just as it is unorthodox to say that one's own candidate may be wrong on particular issues. The tradition is that before a national convention there can be rival candidates expressing different views, but that, once a candidate is chosen, the party members must rally behind him.

GOVERNOR ROCKEFELLER is ready to support Vice President Nixon after his nomination, but he thinks that between now and convention time policies can be shaped with respect to the future, and then a united party can go before the electorate. This, of course, is not a practical viewpoint.

Judged abstractly, Governor Rockefeller is fighting in a good cause—for a different way of making party policy and choosing candidates. But, as has often been said, "It's a condition and not a theory" that confronts the Republican party today. One factor is the manner in which the opposition party naturally takes advantage of any dissension.

PERHAPS the real trouble is that the vast majority of the voters do not analyze the issues critically, anyway, and that generalities do influence elections—as, for instance, economic contentment or discontent, as well as the possible impact of war or international policies designed to deter the enemy from attacking.

Governor Rockefeller's earnestness, his forthrightness, his modesty, his simple honesty are all refreshing characteristics, but somehow one gets the impression that, due to misguided advisers, he is moving in unfamiliar waters—among the shoals of practical politics.

IT SEEMS too bad that Governor Rockefeller has not had as yet the political experience necessary to achieve the worthy objectives which he is trying to express today. But he is learning fast. He is endowed with the common sense and integrity of an Eisenhower. If the New York governor is willing to give the time and energy to remake his own party in the image of prudent progressivism that he has in mind, he can perform in the next decade a useful service. Like many "liberals," he reaches out for goals designed to improve the welfare of the American people. But he hasn't learned yet that in government, as in politics, the art of adjustment is paramount and what is "possible" to do in legislation or public policy often has to be accepted by those in public office, whereas, only those on the outside can continue to argue for something better.

SEVERAL THINGS are clear. Governor Rockefeller is not a radical, but, at heart, a conservative. He is not fooled by Communist intrigue and is alert to the Communist menace inside and outside America. He is for a balanced federal budget, but he has the temerity to ask that the money be spent for things essential to our defense. Unhappily, such an ideal has to run up against the practical—the votes in Congress for measures on the domestic side. The pressures upon government become the pressures on party. This may be an unsatisfactory system, but it's the way that big government, trying to handle the affairs of nearly 180,000,000 people, does manage to operate these days.

Has Real Winner

LAS ANIMAS, Colo. (AP)—Gilbert Martenson submitted the first entry in the Las Animas Garden Club's beautiful lawn contest.

Martenson claimed his application met every rule—freedom from weeds, freedom from disease, good condition and appearance.

His yard is all concrete and was refurbished recently with green paint. The club's rules said nothing at all about grass.

THE TILLER AND SOWER

James Marlow Grand Illusion May Be Exploding

WASHINGTON (AP)—Until this spring President Eisenhower's last months in office looked like a series of triumphs in a world eager to thank him for helping make it calm. This was the grand illusion.

The world was not calm. The President ran into personal and national disaster. For reasons not yet clear but which need explaining Eisenhower and his administration encountered repeated humiliation.

WHEN Japanese Premier Nobusuke Kishi today called off Eisenhower's trip to Tokyo, under the violence and passionate protests of his people, it was only the latest of the disasters. A few months ago this was the prospect: A summit conference with Premier Nikita Khrushchev and then a triumphal tour of Russia, followed immediately by wild acclaim in the Philippines, Formosa, Korea and Japan.

This is what happened: In Korea and Turkey—two pivotal nations in American military alliances in the East and West—the presidents of those countries were overthrown because they had degenerated into dictators.

THERE IS NO EVIDENCE the Eisenhower administration in any way had been prepared for these upturns or had in any way sought through pressure on the dictators to avoid what happened.

When the American U2 spy plane was brought down over Russia the administration, in which Eisenhower at the time seemed to take no leading or even very active part, began a series of almost incredible stumblings.

First it stalled, then it alibied, then it confessed to the spying. This was all done so clumsily it left the United States embarrassed before the world.

The Eisenhower administration had had four years of aerial spying on Russia to prepare for such an accident as the capture of one of the planes.

WHEN THE TIME came it was totally unprepared.

The handling of the incident by the U. S. government was followed by violent reaction from Khrushchev with this result:

The Russian wrecked the summit conference, humiliated Eisenhower before the world, continued to belittle him later, and called off his trip to Russia.

At this point Eisenhower, or his advisers, could have called off his Asian trip because already thousands of left-wing Japanese—ranging from Communists to radical and neutralist students and laborites—were in violent opposition to the new American-Japanese defense agreement.

NEVERTHELESS the decision to visit Japan remained unchanged. Once Eisenhower set out upon his journey, it was too late, or so it seemed, for him to call it off.

Now he has had to back down without even the free choice of doing so. The bloody rioting of traffic violators arrested out of their own states.

CHICAGO (AP)—The New England States have agreed to guarantee the appearance in court of traffic violators arrested out of their own states.

The Council of State Government says accident and violating information also is sent by each of the states to the motor vehicle administrator of the driver's home state.

If violators do not appear, driving privileges are suspended.

Hal Boyle Mystery Of Junior Executive

NEW YORK (AP)—The mystery man of today's business world is "the junior executive."

Who is he? What he he? Where is he? Few, if any, major firms actually list any such title as "junior executive" on their command roster.

Here are a few definitions of the junior executive, gleaned from a random poll of Manhattan office employees:

"A junior executive is what a guy tells his mother-in-law he is. 'Just what does a vice president do?'"

"He's the fellow who buys a $15 attaché case to carry his lunch in."

"In our office he's the joker who married the boss's niece."

"Anybody for 35 too proud to belong to a union and too poor to belong to a country club?"

"A junior executive is a college graduate who isn't smart enough to demand overtime."

From this sampling, one conclusion is inescapable: Whatever a junior executive is—he is more junior than executive.

is a junior executive?" is about as puzzling as the older business mystery. "Just what does a vice president do?"

To Your Good Health Difficulties From Breast Feeding Can Be Met

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.
Dear Dr. Molner: My first experience at nursing a baby was 13 years ago. I had caked nipples, a hungry and colicky baby. Nipple shields and breast pump left me with a very unhappy memory of the experience.

"Twelve years and four babies later I tried again. This time I fed the baby as long as she was able to nurse. When she tired, I pumped out the rest and gave it to her in an easy, even-flowing bottle. In less than two weeks she was able to empty the breasts by herself—it seems that the milk doesn't start easily from my breasts."

"I had an accurate scale with which I weighed her before and after nursing until I was sure she was getting enough milk, and also had a supply of powdered formula that could be prepared quickly if needed."

"She was a very well and happy baby, never as heavy as the three I'd bottle-fed, but plump and strong, and heavier than the first. One thing bothered me. When it was feeding time and I was away from home or guests were present, I was always careful to keep any part of my bosom covered with a blanket, and the baby's head lightly covered while she nursed.

"Even so, people acted as though they were on needles and pins until I was done. One person who has never instructed her daughter in the proper social graces—impropriety of shorts on Main Street, tight sheath dresses and peek-a-boo necklines, actually made me feel I should banish myself to another room to feed my baby when there was one other lady present."

"Why do people today feel that nursing a baby is an improper procedure?—Mrs. L.C."

As to the medical aspects of your letter, I trust others who consider nursing (and I hope all do) will remember that it is quite normal for the first few days to be difficult for the baby.

When the difficulty continues, as in your case, the method you adopted is very sensible. I'm glad to note that you took pains to be sure the baby really was getting enough food. Congratulations!

As to the second half of your letter, if a lot of people were present, I would think it wise to take the baby to some quiet room for the feeding—but I'm as baffled as you are as to why there is anything "improper" about giving a baby her dinner.

"Dear Dr. Molner: I have heard more than one person state that milk can be harmful if drunk in quantity by an adult, and that it is merely a baby food. I know this is incorrect, but I'd like something from you about it.—T.N."

I've heard it, too.

True, it is possible for some people to be hypersensitive, or allergic, to cow's milk (or almost anything else) but this isn't the rule. It is the exception.

Milk, for one thing, is an excellent source of calcium, and it is amazing how many older people complain of bruising easily, of having muscular cramps, and such troubles which very often can be traced to lack of calcium. No, milk isn't "merely a baby food." It's good for adults as well as for children.

NOTE TO M. E. M.: I know of no reason why nibbling hard boiled eggs should harm the kidneys. For the sake of your reducing diet, however, why not substitute celery, raw cabbage, carrots or other raw vegetables at least half the time when you have the urge to nibble? This will cut the calories!

Around The Rim Another Building Needed

One good thing leads to another. From discussions Tuesday during the construction committee meeting for the crippled children's building, it was mentioned that a new city-county health unit building could be properly built near the new home for the Howard County Society for Crippled Children and Adults.

It is about time someone thought of this. We are continually reminded of the growth of Big Spring and the need for streets, water lines, sewer lines and the myriad of other things that go with growth. But rarely do we hear how this affects the Big Spring-Howard County Health Unit.

THE HEALTH CENTER is a very important part of our community. Its extra duties are reflected by the fact that another nurse will be employed sometime in the near future. Both the city and county commissions have approved this added expenditure.

But the employees are still opening shop in the same old building. True, it has had a few remodeling touches through the years, but it is now hopelessly inadequate.

AS MORE PERSONNEL is added, the space problem becomes more acute. Added to this is the additional people who are being served by the health office.

The health unit is facing the need for more and more employees to serve a growing number of residents. Both of these factors will require more space. There is not enough space in the present building to handle this growth.

Some mention has been made of moving the health unit to the court house. But there is no room available there. And the city offices are also filled to capacity.

ONE ANSWER to the problem is a new building. And the logical place is in the Birdwell land area. The land is available. Present rent payments will probably go a long way toward retiring a mortgage note.

All that appears to be needed is an interested group who will tackle the problem and solve it. All the ingredients are at hand.

That Hole In The Middle Of The House

There are those citizens who believe that the barbecue pit has ruined suburban life beyond recall and will, eventually, lead to a mass return to metropolitan living.

In fact, such adherents are convinced that the barbecue pit will do more for urban renewal than the gradual disappearance of the commuter train service, traffic congestion and Saturday nights at the country club. And these prophets cannot simply be fobbed off as visionaries who are fed up with too much smoke and barbecue sauce on all the vittles.

BUT AS disillusionment with the barbecue pit sets in, a pit of another kidney is rising on the horizon to the sweet acclaim of all those 50-to-75 cent slick paper mags that specialize in gracious living. I refer to the "conversation pit," which is the latest architectural development in home building.

The ne plus ultra in living or drawing rooms today is a pit, say 10 feet in diameter or 12 feet square, smack in the middle of the landscape and sunk from two to three feet below the level of the rest of the living - room floor. (If you are planning on remodeling, any competent bulldozer can handle the job.)

TWO OR THREE steps lead down into the excavation whose sides are usually surrounded by luxurious banquettes, the better to stimulate conversation. (Probably the thoughtful host will furnish a Morsen lung for easy egress.)

Anyway, this is where host, hostess and guest assemble in the home moderne for conversation. Chit-chat is on the upper level. But world affairs, national problems and community matters, such as algae (how to get rid of it) in the swimming pool are discussed in the pit. Such a dedicated spot is no place to rehab bridge games, golf scores or why Lulu is leaving Freddie after having given him the best years of her life.

AS I LOOK BACK over the architect-tural fashions of my time, it seems to me that the "dropped living room," the last word in gracious living just before World War II, was the beginning out of which has grown the postwar split-level look and now the split-level living room.

The old dropped living room was the first sign of the split-level craze, come to think of it. In the beginning, the careless hostess who forgot to warn her guest that the hall or foyer dropped a couple of feet into the living room was apt to be confronted with a guest who flew through the air with considerable ease, made a three-point landing and wrecked both himself and the furniture.

It seems to me that the owner of a conversation pit faces the same hazard. I have seen pictures of a dozen fashionable living rooms with such pits but none boasted a guard rail, which is the most elemental precaution as well as a fine place to hang nylons to dry overnight.

IF I WERE the guest in a home with a yawning (and no aspersion intended in the conversation) pit in the middle of the living room, I am entitled, it seems to me, to expect my host and hostess to equip me with a parachute or else some kind of protective barricade around the hole. Or, anyway, an accident insurance policy.

Can it be possible that all this split-level living, beginning with the dropped living room, is a hidden yen to return to the big, old two-story family house on which Americans turned their back when they embraced the one-story ranch house?

IS THE conversation pit, with two or three steps down into its recesses, just another indication that the United States is ready for the revival or comeback of the old staircase? Who knows — maybe within the next year or so some bright young architect will invent a new wrinkle, the second story, and gather all those split-level steps into a single flight of steps?

Marquis Childs China Ready With Nuclear Bomb?

WASHINGTON—Communist China is so far advanced in the development of nuclear fission that a nuclear device could be set off by Peiping during President Eisenhower's visit to Chiang Kai-shek's island bastion of Formosa this week.

This is the belief of highly informed sources in the government here. In making a careful and detailed intelligence appraisal recently of Red China's progress in the nuclear field majority opinion is not so pessimistic.

THE MAJORITY VIEW is that within a year and a half to three years Peiping can explode a device equivalent to that set off by the French in the Sahara last winter. But at the same time it was acknowledged that past estimates of Communist capability in the nuclear field have always erred on the hopeful side.

The United States detonated its first atomic device at Alamogordo, N. M., on July 16, 1945. The Soviets set off their first explosion on August 29, 1949. Detected by America's monitoring system, it was announced by President Truman on September 23.

BUT SOME OF America's most-knowledgeable experts in the atomic field had said that it would take Russia 20 years to come up with the first device. Others said 10 years. Only a few scientists, such as Professor Harrison Brown of the California Institute of Technology, put the figure as low as three to four years. The Russian explosion was a shock to American complacency and the tendency in some quarters was to attribute the achievement to the "secrets" passed on by agents such as Klaus Fuchs.

No imagination is required to appreciate the shock that would result if the Chinese could achieve an atomic explosion, verifiable by the world monitoring system, at this time. It would be aimed primarily at Japan.

RED CHINA COULD count on a great increase in the neutralist-pacifist sentiment in Japan. If China, so the arguments of Japan's leftists would run, is about to get a nuclear weapons capability, then Japan must certainly steer a neutral course and deny bases in Japan to American bombers and American troops. This is a major objective of Communist propaganda and it finds all too ready a response in a nation deeply divided and with the destruction of Hiroshima and Nagasaki an ever-present reality.

The effect of an atomic explosion would be far greater than what is more likely to happen. That is the shelling of Quemoy and Matsu and the Formosa Straits at the time that the President is on his way to visit Chiang.

WHILE THE ODDS are against its happening, one piece of evidence has caused sober second thoughts. These are the remarks made privately in Moscow not long ago by Professor V. S. Emelyanov whose latest title, according to a Tass announcement of June 3, is chairman of the Soviet Government Atomic Energy Committee. Emelyanov is reported to have said that the Chinese had made much more progress than the outside world suspected, even though the Soviets had given them comparatively little help.

Soviet experts are said to have assisted the Peiping regime with advance nuclear reactors of a sophisticated type. But this was presumably in connection with the peacetime uses of atomic energy. Most of the evidence points to a real concern on the part of the Soviet Union lest the Chinese get nuclear weapons and then proceed to carry out their more or less openly avowed intentions of using them.

EXPLODING A NUCLEAR device, as the French have done, is a long way short of having a weapons capability. But even if the Chinese achievement is a year and a half to three years away it points up the fearful danger in the proliferation of nuclear weapons and the greatly increased chances of all-out nuclear war.

As the latest editorial in Pravda indicates, the Soviets are concerned over the "left-wing" extremists in China who insist that communism and "capitalist imperialism" must inevitably war to the death with coexistence ruled out. Mao Tse-tung has said that China could absorb 200,000,000 casualties and emerge with its vast land mass as the only victor, or survivor, in a nuclear war. And appalling as it may seem to the West, the fanatical, Western-hating Chinese could view this as a reasonable sacrifice.

French Rolls Hold Chocolate Surprise

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
AP Newsfeatures Food Editor

What are little French boys and girls made of? Slabs of bread and sticks of dark chocolate—if their standard after-school fare counts!

This bread-and-chocolate snack has been welcomed in France for years and years. So much so that long ago the custom inspired Gallic chefs to bake the chocolate right into a kind of bun. That's how Petits Pains Au Chocolat were born.

An American friend who grew up in France told us recently that when he thinks nostalgically of these buns he can still savor the remembered taste of the croissant-like pastry. Then he recalled how as a little boy he would carefully and gravely look over a plate of petits pains to choose one that had chocolate oozing out of its sides.

The first American recipe for petite pains that we came across was introduced half a dozen years ago. It was made from a rich baking powder biscuit dough in which water was substituted for the usual milk. The following recipe is made with a yeast dough that is nearest the French original.

All tasters in our kitchen agreed that this American version must be offered fresh and hot from the oven, with the chocolate lusciously soft. Because the French use dark sweet chocolate to enclose in their rolls, we follow suit; the sweet cooking chocolate called for in this recipe has the needed robust flavor.

CHOCOLATE SURPRISE ROLLS
1/2 cup milk
1-3 cup sugar
1/2 tsp. salt
1/4 cup butter or margarine
1/4 cup warm (105 to 115 degrees) water
1 pkg. active dry yeast
2 eggs (slightly beaten)
3 1/2 cups (about) sifted flour
2 packages (1/4 pound each) sweet cooking chocolate
1 egg (slightly beaten) for brushing tops
1/2 cup silvered slightly toasted blanched almonds
Confectioners' sugar.
Scald milk; stir in sugar, salt and butter; cool to lukewarm. Measure warm water into a large mixing bowl; sprinkle in yeast; stir until dissolved. Stir in

Continental Treat

French children consider rolls filled with sweet cooking chocolate a special treat. This American version of Petits Pains, an Chocolat may be served to older folk with tea or coffee.

lukewarm milk mixture and the 2 eggs. Add 2 cups of the flour; beat until smooth; stir in enough of the remaining flour to make a soft dough; mix thoroughly.

Turn dough out on prepared pastry cloth or lightly floured board, cover and let rest 5 minutes; until smooth and elastic. Place in greased bowl, cover with a damp cloth and allow to rise in a warm place, free from draft, until doubled in bulk—about 1 1/2 hours.

Punch dough down and turn out on prepared pastry cloth; roll out into an 18 by 8-inch rectangle. Brush lightly with extra melted butter and cut into 36 2-inch squares (4 cuts lengthwise and 9 across).

Place 1 square of chocolate center-cornered in the center of each square of dough. Bring the opposite corners of dough over the top of the chocolate and pinch together tightly. Place on lightly greased cookie sheet; let rise until doubled in bulk—about 30 minutes. Brush with slightly beaten eggs and sprinkle with almonds. Bake in a hot (425 degrees) oven 12 to 15 minutes. Remove from cookie sheet and sprinkle with confectioners' sugar.

Learn A-B-Cs Of Hot Oatmeal Bread

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
AP Newsfeatures Food Editor

A cook eager to learn to bake with yeast asked for tips. Here are elaborations of the steps in this recipe for a nutritious oatmeal bread.

To scald milk, pour the amount of milk called for in the recipe into a saucepan; heat slowly until just below the boiling point; a thin film will appear over the surface of the milk and there will probably be tiny bubbles at the pan edges.

Cool the milk to lukewarm. Test for this temperature: a few drops of the milk on your wrist should feel neither hot nor cold. To knead, fold the side of the dough that is away from you toward you; with the back part of your palms, gently push the dough away; grasp with both hands and turn one-quarter way around on the board. Repeat this rhythmically, sprinkling board with flour if dough sticks.

Set the bowl of dough to rise in a warm place; that means 90 to 85 degrees. If your kitchen is not this temperature for the first rising, put a large pan of boiling water on the lowest oven rack. Over it, on the next rack in the unheated oven, place the covered bowl of dough. When the water cools, replace it with freshly boiled water.

After the first rising is test whether the dough is double in bulk, gently press two fingers into it; if a deep indentation stays after fingers are removed, dough is ready. After the second rising, test whether the dough is double in size, a slight indentation should remain when the loaf is pressed gently with a finger tip.

OATMEAL BREAD (TWIN LOAVES)

1 cup milk
1/2 cup sugar
1 1/2 tsp. salt
1/2 cup shortening
1/4 cup warm (105 to 115 degrees) water
1 pkg. active dry yeast
2 eggs (slightly beaten)
3 1/2 to 4 cups sifted flour
2 cups old-fashioned rolled oats
Melted butter or margarine

whipped cream. If you prefer, you may serve hard sauce with the dumplings. With either accompaniment this is a hearty dessert—perfect after a soup-and-salad lunch or supper.

OLD-TIME APPLE DUMPLINGS
1 package (10 ounces) pie crust (not sticks)
5 tbsps. heavy cream
4 medium-sized red-skinned baking apples
1-3 cup sugar
1/4 tsp. cinnamon
4 tbsps. butter or margarine
Extra heavy cream

Follow package directions for making pie crust mix, but use the 5 tablespoons cream, instead of water. Roll out on prepared pastry cloth with stockinet-covered rolling pin into a 14-inch square; with pastry wheel cut into 4 seven-inch squares. Pare apples (saving peel) and core; place an apple in the center of each pastry square.

Mix together the 1/3 cup sugar and cinnamon; spoon into apple cavities adding bits of the butter. Bring corners of pastry over apples; press down; pinch edges together; cut a small gash in each of the 4 sides of each dumpling. Place several inches apart on foil lined cookie sheet; turn up edges of foil about 1 inch in case juices run a bit. Brush dumplings with extra cream; sprinkle with extra sugar. Bake in moderate (375 degrees) oven 40 minutes or until apples are tender when pierced with a fork; pastry will not be brown.

Serve warm with Pink Apple Syrup and whipped cream; or with hard sauce. Makes 4 servings.

PINK APPLE SYRUP
Peel from 4 red-skinned apples used for dumplings
1 cup boiling water
1/2 cup sugar
1 tsp. lemon juice.
In a small saucepan simmer peels and boiling water for 20 minutes; drain, pressing out liquid from peel. Measure hot apple liquid; if there is not 1/4 cup add water to make that amount; return to saucepan with sugar; stir over low heat until sugar dissolves. Add lemon juice; boil gently 5 minutes; skim. Pour hot syrup over warm apple dumplings as they are served.

Cobbler Is Best With Rich Cream

Eat this quickly-made fruit-and-batter dessert hot.

BLUEBERRY COBBLER
1 can (14 oz.) blueberries in heavy syrup
1 cup sifted flour
2 tsp. baking powder
1/4 tsp. salt
1/4 cup butter or margarine
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 tsp. vanilla
1/2 cup milk
1/2 cup sugar.

Drain blueberries; there should be about 1 cup less 2 tbsps. syrup. Sift together the flour, baking powder and salt. Cream butter, 1/2 cup sugar and vanilla.

Add sifted dry ingredients, alternately with milk in 3 or 4 additions; begin and end with flour and beat until smooth after each addition.

Turn batter into baking dish (about 10 by 6 by 2 inches); spoon drained blueberries evenly over batter; sprinkle with 1/4 cup sugar. Pour blueberry syrup over fruit and batter.

Bake in moderate (375 degrees) oven 45 minutes. There will be a cake layer on top with fruit at the bottom.

Serve hot with plain or whipped cream. If whipped cream is used, sweeten slightly with confectioners' sugar and add a suspicion of nutmeg.

Makes 6 servings.

Use For Bacon

A veal roast that has not been larded may be covered with strips of bacon.

Young Future Homemaker Is A Student Of Food And Nutrition

By SHERI WEBBER

Cooking seems to come naturally for Beverly Alexander. Brunette Beverly, who has just completed her first year at Texas Tech., decided home economics was the field she liked while in the ninth grade. At that time she took a junior high school class taught by Mrs. Grovay Wiley.

While attending Big Spring High School, Beverly was voted "Outstanding Future Homemaker," received her state homemaker's degree in Dallas, and attended the National FHA convention in Chicago.

Miss Alexander, the only delegate from Big Spring, joined 160 other Texas future homemakers on a train bound for the Windy City. The girls from all over the United States spent a week at the conclave.

After the home economics major completes work on the bachelor's degree level, Beverly hopes to go into the student internship program established at Tech.

Other things interest Beverly, and now that she is home for the summer she has turned her attention to leisure-time activities.

She is now working at Cosden in the mail room and as a secretary, but in July she plans to head for Las Vegas, N. M.

For several years the young lady, who will be 19 in July, spent the summer as a camper at Western Life Camp, a private camp 15 miles outside Las Vegas. This year she is returning, but as an instructor and counselor.

Miss Alexander plays tennis, and has learned to play bridge since going to Tech. "I don't get tired of it at all!" says the enthusiast. The recipes offered by Beverly show a young person's taste, except for the old German sweet bread, Hoska. Although the recipe calls for almonds, Miss Alexander used pecans with great success when making the bread for her family of one sister and four hungry brothers recently.

BUTTERSCOTCH BARS
1/2 cup shortening
1 1/2 cups sifted flour
1 tsp. baking powder
1/2 tsp. salt
1/2 cup brown sugar, packed
2 egg yolks
2 egg whites
1 cup brown sugar, packed
1 cup chopped nuts
1 tsp. vanilla

Combine flour, baking powder, salt and 1/2 cup brown sugar. Cut in shortening. Add egg yolks and mix until crumbly. Pack into a 7x11-inch pan.

Beat egg whites until stiff; add 1 cup brown sugar slowly. Blend thoroughly, then add nuts and vanilla. Spread on top of crumb mixture. Bake in a 325 degree oven for 30 minutes. Cut into bars.

EASY PIZZA
1 loaf French bread cut in half lengthwise
2 tbsps. chopped ripe olives
1/4 tsp. oregano
1/4 tsp. pepper
1/2 tsp. salt
1 tbsps. chopped green onions.
3 tbsps. Parmesan cheese.
1/2 can tomato paste
2 medium tomatoes, sliced
4 slices processed cheese
Combine olives, seasonings, onions, beef, Parmesan cheese and tomato paste. Spread mixture on cut side of bread. Arrange tomato slices over top of mixture and place spread side up in a 400 degree oven for 15 minutes.

Cut cheese slices diagonally and place over tomato slices. Return to oven for 5 minutes and serve piping hot. Serves 6 to 8 people.

PINEAPPLE SHERBET
1/2 tbsps. gelatin
2 tbsps. cold water
1 cup sugar
2 cups buttermilk
1 cup crushed pineapple
1 tsp. vanilla
1/4 cup top milk or one stiffly beaten egg white
Soften gelatin in cold water; dissolve over hot water. Combine sugar, buttermilk, pineapple and vanilla; stir in gelatin mixture, cream or egg white. Freeze. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Calories can be cut by using the egg white instead of the top milk.

HOSKA
(Makes 1 large loaf)
Scald 1 cup milk. Stir in 1/2 cup shortening, 1/4 cup sugar, 1/2 tsp. salt. Cool to lukewarm.

Measure into a bowl 1/4 cup warm (not hot) water. Sprinkle or crumble in 2 pkgs. active dry or compressed yeast. Stir until yeast is dissolved. Stir in lukewarm milk mixture.

Add to combined mixtures 2 beaten eggs and 3 cups sifted flour. Beat until smooth.

Stir in 1/4 cup chopped citron, 1/4 cup raisins, 1/4 cup chopped almonds. Stir in an additional 2 1/2 cups sifted flour.

Turn out on lightly floured board. Knead until smooth and elastic. Place in greased bowl; brush with shortening. Cover. Let rise in a warm place, free from draft, until doubled in bulk for about 1 hour and 15 minutes. Punch dough down and turn out on lightly floured board. Divide in half. Divide one half into 3 equal pieces; roll each piece into a strip about 18 inches long.

Place 3 strips on greased baking sheets. Form into braid. Brush top lightly with melted margarine or butter.

Divide 2/3 of remaining dough into 3 equal parts. Form into a second braid about 18 inches long. Place on top of first braid. Brush top lightly with melted margarine or butter.

Form remaining dough into a third braid about 18 inches long. Place on top of second braid. If necessary, use toothpicks to hold braids in place.

Let rise in warm place, free from draft until doubled in bulk—about 1 hour.

Brush with a mixture of 1 egg and 1 tbsps. water to give the top a glazed look. Decorate with 1/4 cup whole blanched almonds. Bake in moderate oven of 375 degrees about 45 minutes.

Try Cheese For Dessert Change

Cheese for dessert and snack-time, is in fashion.

Americans traveling abroad have discovered how good intriguing varieties of cheese taste when they are served at the end of a meal. Others of us, conscious of a nutrition and calories, like to offer cheese as a snacktime.

One of the most delightful varieties of cheese is Camembert. Although French in origin, it has been made in this country since the last century. Because it's a whole milk cheese, it supplies vitamin A; like other cheese it also offers protein of the best quality, calcium and riboflavin (one of the B vitamins). A small (1 1/3 ounces) wedge of Camembert plus an apple will give you valuable nutrients and together they contain only half the calories of, say, a piece of pie.

If you want to taste this delectable cheese at its best, allow it to stand at room temperature before serving. And be sure to eat its slightly crusty rind—it's edible and delicious. The inner creamy portion of the cheese—almost fluid when fully ripe—has a melting quality on the tongue.

Camembert, like other soft cheese, should be refrigerated until you are ready to serve it. If you buy it in a half-circular box, containing three foil-wrapped wedges, keep it in this covered container during the refrigeration. You'll notice that the box is stamped with a month and a day, with the direction that the cheese be used before this date. That's because Camembert is a "continuously ripening" cheese! Its surface mold keeps ripening it, changing its chalky color to a golden one, softening its texture and developing its flavor.

Stuffed celery with a Camembert mixture will make a big hit with your family and friends. And the combination can do triple duty. You may serve it as a first course with tomato juice or some other beverage. Or you may arrange it on salad greens accompanied by French dressing as your salad course. Or you can serve it along with crackers, fruit and nuts at a snacktime.

CAMEMBERT STUFFED CELERY

1 pkg. (3 oz.) cream cheese
2 wedges (1 1/3 oz., each) Camembert cheese
2 to 3 small stalks of white celery
Paprika
Halved Macadamia nuts
Have cream cheese and Camembert at room temperature; cream together and force through a fine sieve; refrigerate.

Break stalk of celery into branches, wash and dry thoroughly. Trim, but leave some of the leafy tops on the small branches near the heart.

Partly fill celery branches with cheese mixture. Sprinkle with paprika. Garnish with halved Macadamia nuts, pressing them down. Celery may be cut into 3-inch wedges before or after stuffing if desired.

Bake Apple Dumplings!

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
AP Newsfeatures Food Editor

Cooks taste and want recipes! A reader writes and asks us to "please print directions for four apple dumplings for a small family. These were served to me at a luncheon and were delicious."

So here's our recipe for four apple dumplings of old-fashioned goodness, but these made a quick way.

The pastry? Our method is to add heavy cream, instead of water, to pie crust mix. Our tasters applaud this pastry because it is deliciously short.

The apples? We tested this recipe with Northern Spy and McIntosh varieties. The first are tops in flavor so if they are available, by all means use them. When you bite into a Northern Spy, under its blanket of pastry, you find it has a wonderful quality—it bakes soft but still holds its firm shape. The McIntosh bakes very soft—a feature many people enjoy.

Some old-time recipes for apple dumplings call for baking them in a sugar syrup, but we add the syrup after the dumplings are baked along with a topping of whipped cream. If you prefer, you may serve hard sauce with the dumplings. With either accompaniment this is a hearty dessert—perfect after a soup-and-salad lunch or supper.

OLD-TIME APPLE DUMPLINGS
1 package (10 ounces) pie crust (not sticks)
5 tbsps. heavy cream
4 medium-sized red-skinned baking apples
1-3 cup sugar
1/4 tsp. cinnamon
4 tbsps. butter or margarine
Extra heavy cream

Follow package directions for making pie crust mix, but use the 5 tablespoons cream, instead of water. Roll out on prepared pastry cloth with stockinet-covered rolling pin into a 14-inch square; with pastry wheel cut into 4 seven-inch squares. Pare apples (saving peel) and core; place an apple in the center of each pastry square.

Mix together the 1/3 cup sugar and cinnamon; spoon into apple cavities adding bits of the butter. Bring corners of pastry over apples; press down; pinch edges together; cut a small gash in each of the 4 sides of each dumpling. Place several inches apart on foil lined cookie sheet; turn up edges of foil about 1 inch in case juices run a bit. Brush dumplings with extra cream; sprinkle with extra sugar. Bake in moderate (375 degrees) oven 40 minutes or until apples are tender when pierced with a fork; pastry will not be brown.

Serve warm with Pink Apple Syrup and whipped cream; or with hard sauce. Makes 4 servings.

Bowl-A-Rama To Stage Benefit Bowling Tournament In July

The first annual Champion of Champions Bowling tournament, proceeds from which will go to the Howard County Crippled Children's Treatment Center, will be held at Bobby Layne's Bowl-A-Rama July 16-17 and July 23-24.

Deadline for entry is July 11. Both men and women are eligible. First and second place teams in sanctioned leagues, along with championship teams in the Big Spring City tournaments, are eligible to compete for team laurels.

Doubles and singles competition is open to all members of the local bowling association.

Entry fee will be $2 per person per event. That includes $1.35 for bowling fees, five cents for miscellaneous expenses, ten cents for tournament management (which will be donated to the HCCCTC) and 50 cents for the treatment center itself.

The Bowl-A-Rama will donate five cents for every line bowled in the meet to the treatment center fund, along with 45 cents for each all-events entry.

Entry blanks can be picked up at the Bowl-A-Rama.

Zale's Jewelers will donate a championship trophy. Other awards will be presented by Alexander's Jewelers. It will be a rotating prize.

Vince Best and LaVerne Casey, officials in the local bowling associations, will help supervise the meet.

Colts Retain Hold On Lead

The Colts retained their hold on a share of first place in American Little League standings by beating the Stars, 20-6, here Wednesday night.

The Colts, in the process of winning their fourth second half game in five starts, started off with a five-run first inning and wound up by counting 11 runs in the final round.

Johnny Hobbs, the Colt manager, substituted freely during the engagement and nine different players managed at least one hit each.

Distribute This FAST-SELLING Product NO FRANCHISE FEE

If you are experienced in the home improvement field, and/or have a successful business record, this is for you.

Our representative wants to talk to you about becoming a distributor for the Original STANLEY Built-in Cleaning System for new or old homes as the newest idea since built-in appliances appeared on the market. The STANLEY unit does away with heavy, hard-to-move vacuum cleaners. Only the light-weight hose and cleaning unit is moved from room to room. The power unit is tucked away out of sight in the garage, basement or attic.

A factory-trained man will assist you in setting up your selling and service organization. You will be furnished a complete sales promotion, merchandising and advertising program that will start sales moving fast. You pay no franchise fee. All that is required is your ability and $2,400 for inventory. Wire or write today for information about an exclusive territory.

Can't Beat the Odds, But There's Plenty Who Try

By JESS BLAIR

RENO, Nev.—This is a beautiful Sunday afternoon. The sky is clear with a few scattered clouds, and the mountains surrounding the valley are darkened with a blue haze. Back southwest around Lake Tahoe some of the higher peaks have pieces of scraggly snow, but it is almost gone.

Last night I stayed at Doyle, a tiny village 43 miles northwest of here in California, and drove on to Reno about ten o'clock this morning. After the usual round of trying to find a room for less than $8, I found a nice quiet one for $6, cleaned up a bit and went downtown.

For most strangers in Reno, downtown probably means the Casino section, where a half dozen big clubs and several smaller ones are confined to a three block radius. A fellow up the road yesterday told me the Saturday night crowds would be leaving this morning. I don't know what his definition of a crowd is, but at noon the places were so jammed that one could hardly find a slot machine.

Harold's Club is the largest, though Harrah's runs a close second. Then there is the Nevada, the Gold Nugget, Prima Donna and several smaller ones. And quite appropriately located between the gambling joints are a few quick loan companies. They are very accommodating about loaning money on a ring or watch so the unlucky owner can go back and get cleaned out a second time.

EASY GO

I spent an hour wandering in and out of the clubs, not so much interested in gambling as in watching the people. One sees all kinds, from some old girl with three diamonds to the Japanese vegetable worker who comes over on Saturday and drops his week's wages.

No matter what part of the club one is in, he is always within a few yards of a bar. The owners correctly figure that enough liquor will make a big spender out of anyone. And big spenders are always welcome in Nevada.

One old lady was working three slot machines this morning. She would put a dime into one slot, pull the lever, then while the wheels turned she slipped a dime in another. After watching her five minutes, she hadn't hit the jackpot once and had spent several dollars.

"I've often wondered what it is that makes a person tackle impossible odds. They must be at least two to one here. No business man would ever risk his money in such a manner, yet the glamour of the place, the excitement and the liquor causes a person to lose his judgment then his money."

ANGRY MAN

They really do have some nice cafes. At Harold's Club I rode the escalator up to the third floor and got an excellent meal for $1.25. After I started eating, a big, angry man of about 35 sat down at the next chair. He was fuming about some blackjack dealer who cheated him out of $40 a few minutes before.

"This is nothing but a clip joint," he said loudly, trying to catch the ears of a dealer a few feet away. "I've played all over Nevada and always got a fair shake, but not here. The law oughta have an inspection in Reno—clean out the crooks and give people a chance for their money."

I wanted to point out that a fellow who doesn't gamble won't lose, but he was in no mood for debate. About 30 minutes later while strolling around downstairs I noticed a familiar face. It was the angry man who was still angry. This time he was rolling dice—and losing again.

Yesterday afternoon I drove about 300 miles from Burns, Ore., down to Doyle, Calif. That is a desolate, unpopulated strip that runs through sage-covered hills, high valleys and barren mountains. The highway follows a string of salt lakes which are all several times larger than Lake Thomas. The water looks blue, but along the edges one sees the layers of salt gleaming in the sunlight.

SALT LAKES

In some sections the highway runs between the water 50 feet below and high mountains above. Signs warn the motorist to watch out for rock slides. Looking upward, I could see huge boulders precariously balanced almost overhead, while down at the water's edge there were several which had rolled across the highway.

Long ago, according to historical markers, this was a volcanic area. The earth pitched and rolled angrily, pushed up high mountains and left land-locked valleys which later caught water from melting snow. As the centuries went on, the evaporation left the water salty. Now it is much more saline than the seas.

Johnson Rents Caucus Room

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Sen. Lyndon Johnson has rented a theater across the street from the auditorium where the National Democratic Convention will be held.

"We will use it as a meeting room and for caucus," explained Irvin Hoff, local director of the National Citizens Committee for Johnson for President.

The structure is the Figueroa Theater.

An office force of 25 to 30 will move into the Texan's Biltmore Hotel headquarters shortly to prepare for Johnson's arrival one day before the convention starts.

Johnson will live in a suite in the Biltmore during the convention.

CELEBRITIES

This afternoon I'll put out a washing, maybe catch up on some sleep, then go downtown again tonight. After dark is when the floor shows and more movie stars take over. Yesterday Jack Benny and James Arness of Gunsmoke were in town, and tonight George Gobel will be at Harold's Club. I'll probably forego the pleasure of seeing little George. I don't care for him on TV, and I doubt if a personal appearance would be much better.

Tomorrow I'll cross back into California and work slowly southward to the Imperial Valley. But tonight I'll hold tight to my shrinking billfold so I can spend a few dollars on a ball game, if either the Giants or Dodgers are playing at home.

Possibly there are some men who would like to watch the can-can girls (who are also in town tonight) but spending a couple of bucks to hear Jack Benny or George Gobel tell jokes seems almost as foolish as an hour's session with a 25-cent slot machine.

Postmaster Wanted

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Civil Service Commission said Wednesday it will conduct examinations for the $5,815 job as postmaster at Athens, Tex. Applications must be received or postmarked not later than July 12. The examination will determine which applicants are eligible for the job.
