Drink Costs Lamesa Doctor His License

FORT WORTH (AP)—The State Board of Medical Examiners acted Saturday against three doctors—one on charges of drinking, one for using drugs, and one who allegedly "massaged" women patients.

In day-long hearings, the board: 1—Cancelled the medical license of Dr. Francis E. Seale of Lamesa for "intemperate use" of alcohol after hearing testimony that Seale once looked drunk during surgery.

2—Cancelled the license of Dr. Lawson C. Aday of Houston for "intemperate use" of alcohol after hearing testimony that Aday had requested the cancellation as an aid to his recovery.

3—Refused to renew the license of Dr. Rudolph E. Jacobi of Houston. The board cancelled his license Aug. 20, 1956, for "unprofessional and dishonorable conduct" growing out of "internal massage" treatments to women patients.

In the Lamesa case, the board last August placed Dr. Seale on probation for three years. His license was cancelled Saturday after the board heard testimony that he had continued to drink.

One witness was Mrs. Lois Bischoff of Aspermont, a laboratory technician who used to work for Dr. Seale.

During an operation to remove a lump from a man's chest, Dr. Seale appeared unsteady on his feet and his speech was slurred, Mrs. Bischoff said.

She quoted the doctor as saying he had taken too many barbiturates and had too much to drink. After the lump was removed from the man's chest, Mrs. Bischoff said, Dr. Seale asked her to sew up the patient.

SHE DID THE REST

"I put in the first suture and I did the rest," she testified. Another witness against Dr. Seale was a former partner, Dr. Oliver H. Thompson, now of Aspermont.

Dr. Thompson said, "I incurred the wrath of all the drunkards in two counties" by ordering nurses to run off "all the drunks" from the hospital operated by Dr. Seale—the Seale Clinic.

Thompson said the clinic "had the atmosphere of a country club". Seale's attorney, John Saleh, told reporters Dr. Seale closed the clinic at his suggestion April 5, in an effort to straighten out the bookkeeping.

The 44-year-old doctor has assets of about $600,000 and debts of about $375,000, the attorney said. Dr. M. H. Crabb of Fort Worth, secretary of the state board, expressed amazement that a hospital's books could get in so big a mess that it would have to shut its doors. $50,000-$100,000 A YEAR Testifying in his own behalf, Dr. Seale said his practice and the hospital grossed a total of from $50,000 to $100,000 a year from 1950 to 1956.

He denied ever treating a patient while drunk. Of the operation described by Mrs. Bischoff, he said he had been drinking the night before but was not drunk and did not have a hangover during the operation.

He admitted that he had been out late the previous night and had taken barbiturates. As for Mrs. Bischoff sewing up the patient, Dr. Seale said she

JUST THINK OF PRESIDIO

That was a baking day Saturday, but officially the temperature went "only" to 103. That wasn't as high as Thursday's top reading of 108. But it was enough to wilt plants and keep most people close to their air-conditioners. El Paso had a 108 reading Saturday — the highest reading for that city since the Weather Bureau started keeping records there in 1887. But Presidio still was at the top of the list. Maximum in that border town Saturday was 117.

Checking Those Racers Saturday was inspection day for boys getting their racers ready for the 1960 Soap Box Derby, and here Pete Cook, Lions Club president, explains some adjustments to Peter Einstein, one of the contestants. David Simms of Tidwell Chevrolet looks on. Approximately 40 boys took their cars through the inspection line, and others are being urged to complete work on vehicles. The big Soap Box run is set for Thursday night at 8 o'clock, on Lancaster Street northward from 15th. More stories about the Derby appear on Page 2-A.

Senate Fights Bitterly Over Tax Bill Revisions

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Saturday killed the first of a series of revenue-producing amendments offered to the tax extension-debt ceiling.

The amendment, offered by Sen. Albert Gore (D-Tenn.), would prevent industries from claiming a percentage allowance on a finished product and require that it be figured on the raw mineral value.

Gore said it would wipe out what he termed a loophole which would cost 600 million dollars a year. The Treasury has strongly urged that be done.

The motion to table and thus kill the proposal was made by Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas. It carried 59-26.

Johnson said there was an organized effort by some senators to prevent any votes Saturday and he was determined to get at least one. A motion to table is not debatable.

The decision was far from clear-cut. Johnson had threatened to hold the Senate in session late Saturday night if no votes were taken. He said an earlier quelling time was likely if the Senate acted on the Gore amendment. This appealed to some senators weary after two 14-hour sessions and unhappy over the prospect of working Saturday night.

Another factor which clouded the issue was that the Gore amendment would have ratified the decision of the Senate Finance Committee in voting to repeal the local telephone and travel excise taxes.

Sen. John J. Williams (R-Del.) for instance, said he favored the Gore amendment but did not want to back the excise repealer.

He said these repealer would cost about 750 million dollars in revenue yearly but said the Treasury so far was losing only at a rate of 50 million a year under court decisions permitting depletion allowance to be figured on the cost of a finished product. The government has appealed these decisions to the Supreme Court, which may rule shortly.

Gore announced after the vote he would offer his amendment again later in such a way that it would not be tied to repeal of the telephone and travel levies.

Jap Regime Hangs On For U.S. Pact

New Rioting Fails To Halt Ratification

TOKYO (AP)—Premier Nobusuke Kishi's conservative government survived climactic Communist-led demonstrations and won automatic ratification Sunday of Japan's new 10-year military alliance with the United States.

With that goal reached, Kishi is expected to resign soon. Embittered leftists blocked Kishi's official residence in a Korea-style siege. Thousands of students vowed to keep the residence sealed off until Kishi meets with them just as "Syngman Rhee met with students" in the Seoul uprising that finally drove Rhee from the presidency of South Korea.

By early morning, however, the student crowd had thinned out and at daylight those who had maintained an all-night vigil moved from the official residence to the front of the Parliament building.

After they departed, Kishi left the official residence for his private home unharmed.

Some 400 steel-helmeted police were on the grounds to guard against any attempt to break in. They had water hoses ready and buckets full of water for use in case demonstrators might attempt to set fire to the police riot trucks, as they did earlier in the week.

The student besiegers were among 300,000 demonstrators who had marched, chanted and snaked through downtown Tokyo Saturday night in a final venting of spleen against the treaty.

DAYS NUMBERED

Despite his treaty victory over the left-wingers — who claimed their own victory when President Eisenhower's visit to Japan was canceled — Kishi's days as the chief of the government seem numbered.

The explanation here is that he will resign, perhaps next week or next month, and call a new parliamentary election to heal the bitter aftermath of a mammoth cold-war battle that has divided the nation and damaged Japan's world prestige.

Japan's approval of the treaty, which continues American bases in this island country for at least another decade, became effective a moment after midnight.

But a Socialist orator haranguing thousands of students who milled outside Parliament and surrounded Kishi's residence nearby after the deadline passed shouted: "The struggle did not end at midnight. It will end only when all American bases are out of the country."

Only ratification by the U. S. Senate and exchange of ratification documents, probably later this month in Tokyo, now are required to make the alliance effective.

Red China Hurls Shells As Formosa Greet's Ike

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)— Chinese Communist guns thundered their own farewell to President Eisenhower Sunday, opening up with a new barrage on the offshore island of Quemoy.

Shelling of the Nationalist Chinese island bastion just off the Red Chinese mainland began three hours before Eisenhower was to leave Formosa for South Korea.

The Communists had announced they would fire on Quemoy on the President's arrival and departure here as a symbol of "contempt and scorn" for him.

Friday night they poured a record 85,000 rounds on the island complex, killing eight and wounding 47 persons. Eisenhower denounced the bombardment as a "deliberate and aggressive act."

The Nationalist Defense Ministry said the new rain of shells began at 7 a.m. It reported the firing was continuing but was sporadic.

Half a million Chinese Nationalists roared approval Saturday as Eisenhower condemned Communist China as a tyrannical regime.

Eisenhower got a thunderous welcome to this Nationalist island stronghold and reaffirmed American defense pledges to President Chiang Kai-shek. These included a promise to defend the Quemoy offshore complex against any attack that might be a prelude to invasion of Formosa itself.

JOINT STATEMENT

A joint statement to give new support to these military links between Taipei and Washington was worked out after long talks between Chiang and Eisenhower, a political highlight of the 25-hour visit from Chiang's point of view.

This was the first time the two leaders had met during Eisenhower's two terms in office, although they had met briefly twice before when Eisenhower was a general.

Chiang also used the occasion to praise the Eisenhower policy, first enunciated in 1952, of "liberating the captive peoples" behind the Iron Curtain.

"Thanks to your great policy," Chiang told Eisenhower in a dinner speech, "we have succeeded in building here on Taiwan (Formosa) a base for the eventual liberation of our people on the mainland. . . . We should further strengthen our cooperation and strive harder for the attainment of this noble goal."

"UNFORGETTABLE"

The American chief executive called the huge welcoming crowds — biggest in Formosa's history — "and the gay Oriental pageantry" "magnificent . . . completely overwhelming . . . an unforgettable experience."

In an address to a half million massed in front of the Nationalist Ministry of Defense, the President reaffirmed U.S. determination to stand with the Nationalists "and all our free neighbors of the Pacific against any aggression."

The throng was spread out for blocks before Eisenhower and studded with crimson banners of welcome. It cut loose at that point with a great ovation.

There was another approving roar when the President added: "The United States does not recognize the claim of the warlike and tyrannical Communist regime in Peking to speak for all the Chinese people. In the United Nations we support the Republic of (Nationalist) China. . . ."

Eisenhower went to the big reception immediately after almost two hours of talks with Chiang, his influential wife, and top aides of both government chiefs.

Before the joint statement, White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty told newsmen Eisenhower had not changed "one iota" in his determination to defend Quemoy against any Red Chinese attack that appeared to be a forerunner of invasion of Formosa.

Cuban Officials Told To Leave U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two Cuban consular officials were ordered out of the United States Saturday, apparently in retaliation for the ouster of two U.S. Embassy employes in Havana.

The Cubans were given 48 hours to leave. They are: Carlos Manuel Lazaro Felix Sanchez y Basquet, 35, an assistant to the Cuban consul in Miami, Fla. A State Department spokesman called him the "principal Cuban intelligence agent" in the Miami area and said he was known to be operating a network of agents in this country.

Dr. Berta Pla, cultural attache in the Cuban consulate general in New York. The State Department spokesman, press officer Joseph Reap, accused her of distributing anti-U.S. propaganda and trying to exploit racial dissension.

Their expulsion follows Thursday's arrest by Castro government agents of Edwin L. Sweet of Abilene, Tex., and William G. Friedmann of Stillwater, Okla., assistant legal attaches in the Havana embassy. They were ordered out of Cuba within 24 hours.

The formal U.S. note directing the departure of the two Cubans, delivered about 2:15 p.m. EDT, said they had engaged in highly improper activities incompatible with their status as consular officials.

Pilots 'Sick', Flights Halted

NEW YORK (AP)—Pilots reporting sick caused some cancellations and delays Saturday in Pan American World Airways flights.

The calls came during a cockpit "third seat" controversy that has disrupted Eastern Air Lines service for a week.

Two Pan American flights were canceled and three were delayed at Idlewild Airport.

The canceled flights: A jet that was due to leave at 9:30 a.m. for San Juan, Puerto Rico, with 80 passengers. A piston-driven airliner that was due to leave at 12:30 p.m. for Bermuda with 34 passengers.

Seventy pilots told Pan American by telephone they were too ill to report for duty. Regular stand-by pilots were called to help maintain service.

A Pan American spokesman said he believed the sick calls might have stemmed from pilot objection to a Federal Aviation Agency rule that federal inspectors occupy a third pilot seat on check rides, rather than an extra seat in the rear of the cockpit.

This was the cause of the Eastern Air Lines walkout by members of the Air Line Pilots Assn. The pilots contend that the "third seat" practice is unsafe.

In Chicago, a lawyer representing three airlines asked for a federal contempt citation against pilots who disobey an injunction banning them from interfering with flight service.

Attorney George B. Christensen made the request of U.S. Dist. Judge Julius H. Miner on behalf of Pan American, American Airlines and Trans World Airlines.

The judge deferred action and meanwhile ordered representatives of the airlines and the pilots association to meet with him Monday.

Chinese Commies Plan A-Bomb Test

LONDON (AP)—A British newspaper published a page one story Saturday night saying Communist China will explode its first atomic bomb in a test scheduled for the middle of next year.

The conservative Sunday Dispatch said information to this effect has been sent to Western governments by their intelligence services.

Diplomatic sources here said Britain has received no such information.

Reapportionment Due For States

WASHINGTON (AP)—Almost half of the 50 states will gain or lose seats in the House of Representatives because of the 1960 census.

On the basis of preliminary population figures announced last week, 24 states will be affected. The final figures could change this, but it is doubtful that more than two or three states would be involved in any later shifts.

When the Census Bureau made its most recent estimate 17 months ago, it said 18 states were likely to gain or lose seats. However, an Associated Press computation based on the official formula shows that the preliminary count indicated these changes since the last official estimate:

- 1. Fast-growing California will gain one more seat than had been expected, eight instead of seven.
2. New Jersey, Ohio and Maryland are likely to pick up one seat each, a development not anticipated heretofore.
3. Texas and Michigan probably will pick up only one new seat each instead of two as was estimated by the bureau earlier.
4. Illinois, Nebraska and Kentucky, which were supposed to be unaffected, are likely to lose one seat each.
5. Georgia probably won't lose the one seat that was believed in jeopardy.

The Census Bureau must transmit to President Eisenhower by Dec. 1 the final population figures for each state, together with the bureau's plan for reapportioning the House. Eisenhower will send the prospective reapportionment to Congress early in January, and the changes will go into effect with the 1962 congressional elections. Congress may make changes in the reapportionment plan, however.

Census officials say they expect to send Eisenhower the final figures and reapportionment plan early in October.

California without doubt will be the big winner in the rejuggling of House seats. The Golden State stands to move up from 30 to 38 seats, on the basis of the preliminary census count.

Florida will follow, picking up four seats for a total of 12. As of now, no other states figure to gain more than one seat each.

Big Spring Week

With Joe Pickle

There have been hotter ones, but we'll settle for last week's performance as a heat wave. The thermometer sailed past the 100 mark as though it were merely warming up and finally topped at 108 degrees. Thursday there was a brisk norther that only managed to bring the temperature down to 96. Young cotton and feed were suffering and pastures were crackling.

One immediate effect of the heat and drought was to boost water consumption to new records. Big Spring, not counting Cosden and Cabot, metered 10,801,000 gallons on Thursday, an all-time peak. The Colorado River Municipal Water District (Odessa, Big Spring, Snyder) averaged 43,000,000 gallons a day last week, peaking at 45,000,000.

Big Spring had a distinguished visitor Wednesday in the person of Lt. Gen. James E. Briggs, commander of the Air Training Command. He was guest at a luncheon to which local businessmen and civic leaders came to assure the general of the community's desire to help the ATC program in any way possible. The evening before, another general, Maj. Gen. Charles Eisenhart, brother of Col. Donald Eisenhart, base commander, was on base as the speaker for "Class

Rangers Patrolling Strife-Torn Town

BROWNSBORO, Tex. (AP)—Texas Rangers stroled the streets of this peaceful looking farm village Saturday night. Thursday night's violent school board meeting that left one man dead and six injured.

"We are not taking any chances," said ranger Capt. Clint Peoples. "There are people on the streets, but that doesn't mean a thing," he added.

The captain said he and his men had been assigned to duty here until the tension eased.

Thursday night's riot in which Thurman Jackson, 42, lumber company owner, was shot to death was the climax to a school feud that had been simmering for more than a decade.

The tense situation worsened when the school board fired Supt. H. D. Bass several weeks ago. Bass had been superintendent 23 years.

WHEREABOUTS SECRET

Henderson County officers continue to keep secret the whereabouts of Dr. C. C. Rahm, osteopath and school board secretary, whom they charged with the fatal shooting of Jackson.

Dist. Atty. Jack Hardee also charged two others with assault with intent to murder and seven with assault and battery.

Meanwhile, the school system faces a state investigation with the possibility it will lose its accreditation. Among other things, the investigation would include the firing of 14 Negro teachers.

Funeral services for Jackson were held at 3 p.m. today from the New Hope Methodist Church. Burial was in New Hope cemetery.

One of the pallbearers was Arland Boles, one of those charged with assault and battery after Thursday night's trouble.

LONDON (AP)—Moscow Radio said Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev arrived in Bucharest today to attend the Romanian Communist Party Congress.

Honeymooners Return, But New Home Is Not Ready

LONDON (AP)—Princess Margaret and Antony Armstrong-Jones returned from their honeymoon Saturday to find their home unready and Tony's effigy stolen from Mme. Tussaud's famous waxworks.

For housing, they did what countless other young married couples do—they went home to mother, in this case, the Queen Mother. Their first home, at No. 10 Kensington Palace, will not be finished for several weeks.

As for the kidnaped life-sized model of Margaret's husband, Scotland Yard made that its business. The Yard ordered an all-out search for the effigy, dressed in immaculate evening clothes, standing 5 feet 7 and weighing 165 pounds.

"We are most upset," said a spokesman at the museum, known all over the world for its effigies in wax of famous and some infamous people. "Two people must have been involved in the theft. It would be too heavy for one. And they must have taken it down a fire escape some time last night."

Shouting, cheering crowds greeted the couple from the moment they stepped ashore from the royal yacht Britannia at Portsmouth Saturday afternoon. A Royal Marine band pumped out calypso tunes, which must have sounded familiar. The yacht had been their honeymoon hotel on a Caribbean cruise.

About 3,000 turned up at Waterloo Station to welcome them back to London.

Over 60 Youths Looking To Soap Box Race Thursday Eve

This is the big week for more than three-score boys who will be trying for the biggest award offered in an amateur racing event.

It's the week of the Soap Box Derby.

Seventh annual running of the race in Big Spring will be Thursday evening—starting at 8 o'clock. Track site is the same—Lancaster Street extending northward from 15th, down a good slope.

When the heats are all over, there will be a Big Spring champion, destined to go to Akron, Ohio next month to run in the All-American Soap Box Derby. And several other boys will have received merchandise prizes.

Whatever the outcome, all the lads—there're between ages 11 and 15—will have had weeks of experience in fashioning sound and safe gravity-powered racing machines. They have to follow rigid specifications in getting their racers to the track.

INSPECTION DAY
Saturday was a preliminary inspection day. This week, boys all over the city will be applying last minute touches, making adjustments, and painting on names of sponsors.

All Derby boys are to report at the track Thursday morning at 8 a.m. for final inspection. During the afternoon they will get a trial run, to get the "feel" of the takeoff ramp and the straight-away.

They are to be back at the starting ramp at 5:30 p.m., to be transported to City Park where they will be given a barbecue supper, guests of the local Texas A&M Club.

Races start at 8 p.m., with a heat elimination system operating.

SPONSORS

of the track, including starting, judging, timing, etc.

City police officials will be on hand Thursday evening, to help handle crowds, and a preliminary appeal has been issued for people to stay out of the street and back of the curbs along the course. In years past there have been some collisions, resulting in injury.

The race course will be lighted, thanks to help from Texas Electric Service Co., and this event, with more than 60 boys matched—a record entry list—is expected to draw a record crowd of several thousand. Lions Club members will have refreshments for sale.

FEATURE RACE PITS CO. JUDGE AGAINST WEBB'S COMMANDER

Top civilian against top military—and who's the speediest racing car driver?

The honor man will be established Thursday night when, as a pace-setting feature of the Soap Box Derby, a preliminary race will pit Col. Donald W. Eisenhart, Webb AFB commander, against County Judge Ed Carpenter.

The technicians will be operating special cars built a year ago. Webb mechanics constructed a vehicle, as did mechanics at Cosden refinery. The 1959 race had Cosden President R. L. Tollett matched against Col. Kyle Riddle, then Webb's commander.

Tollett won.

Judge Carpenter will be driving the Tollett car, and Col. Eisenhart inherits the military vehicle. The colonel, incidentally, is saying the score will be evened this year. Rumor is that he already has made a trial run with his racer, and Judge Carpenter hopes to make a test run before Thursday.

Their race, all in good fun, will be the kickoff feature of the 1960 Derby. It is scheduled for 8 p.m. Thursday, on Lancaster Street northward from 15th, under the lights.

A&M Big Feed Set Thursday

The big feed, with its brief festivities to honor a student and a teacher, comes off Thursday evening.

Meanwhile, ticket sales for the annual Texas A & M College barbecue are being pressed by Aggies and by members of the local little league ball clubs.

The four score and more boys who are in the Soap Box Derby this year will be guests of the Aggies in a pre-feed at 5:30 p.m. at the City Park amphitheatre. Immediately after they have feasted, they will be whisked to the Derby site to prepare for their bid for glory.

OTHER HALF

This year the club is recognizing the other half of the team. In some schools the principals, and in others the principals and teachers, nominated a number of outstanding teachers. The list was gradually screened to seven nominees, from whom the final winner will be chosen Thursday.

Tidwell will make the teacher presentation, and Louis Jean Thompson will present the regular scholarship.

Among the chairmen for the event are Hayes Stripling Jr., tickets; John Taylor, publicity; Don Newsom, food and serving.

Tickets will be available at the amphitheatre for those who have not secured them in advance. The charge is $1.50 for all over 12 years of age. Under that age, there is no charge. The barbecue is due to be terminated shortly after 7:30 p.m. so that all who wish to attend the Soap Box Derby may do so.

90th Division Ends Training

NORTH FT. HOOD (AP)—Troops of the 90th Division rolled out of here at dawn Saturday and by night for home stations in 50 Texas cities.

The units of division commander Maj. Gen. Earl Rudder spent two weeks in annual active duty training at the world's largest armored camp.

CARD OF THANKS

To our kind friends, neighbors and relatives, we wish to express our sincere appreciation for sympathetic attention, beautiful floral tributes and other courtesies extended to us at the passing of our beloved husband and father.

Mrs. G. B. Vinson
Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Hobbs Jr. and Family.

Baby Boy Week For BS Police

Last week was "baby boy week" for the Big Spring police department.

Three police officers became proud papas between Tuesday and Thursday. And all three new babies are boys.

The mothers are doing fine and the fathers are comparing the usual notes about the biggest, fattest and the handsomest.

First of the youngsters arrived Tuesday. He is Russell Elbert Ryan, son of Patrolman and Mrs. Elbert Ryan. He is the second child in the family and weighed in at five pounds, 11 ounces.

Next was Kirk Jay Wade, son of Patrolman and Mrs. Jim Wade. He is also a second child and tipped the scales at seven pounds, even. He was born Thursday.

Highest of the lot was Robert Glenn Smith, son of Patrolman and Mrs. Robert Smith. Their first child, the youngster weighed eight pounds, 15½ ounces. He was also born Thursday.

Urged To Attend

The Big Spring Rotarians are shooting for a 100 per cent attendance Tuesday in honor of outgoing president Dr. P. D. O'Brien. George Oldham, attendance chairman, urged all members to be on hand. There are about 80 Rotarians in Big Spring.

Avocado Does Well Inside But Weather Is Bad For It

"I am trying to raise an avocado plant. It is just sticking out of the dirt—could you tell me how much water and sun they need, etc.?"

This request came in on an un- signed post card the other day, and it seems that many people are sprouting avocados these days, so here are the facts about avocados:

The large rather interesting seeds inside these fruit are al- ways a challenge to sprout into something. People start them in several ways, by sticking tooth picks into the seed and placing it in a small glass of water with the pointed end up is most com- mon. Some plant them in a pot of soil, and sometimes they are planted in the garden.

Any way they are planted, they still seem to want to grow, and in time, a shoot starts up and a lit- tle later a white root will start down. In a glass of water one can follow this process rather closely. After a while the plant will send its shoot up to considerable height and finally put on some rather large, attractive leaves. It is sur- prising how high some will grow in a small glass of water. At this point you usually shift it to some sort of pot or tub.

The thing that surprises most gardeners is the fact that this plant is really the beginning of a giant tree. Avocado trees may get nearly as large as a cottonwood or an elm. They grow rather rapidly, and in a short time they have outgrown the glass, a pot, a tub, and sometimes a barrel, and the room you are housing them in.

Finally they just have to go outside, and in most of the United States, with the exception of the southern part of Texas, California, Arizona, and Florida, this is a fatal move. Alas, the avocado is a tropical plant, and the freeze kills it. It is a very determined plant, though, and once I planted one outside where there was some small protection from a brick wall, and it survived three years. It would put out from the root, but finally the weather was too much for it and it died.

I have seen some attractive dwarf trees, and perhaps the avo- cado would lend itself to dwarfing. I have two in concrete urns now, and so in about five more years maybe I'll know how this turns out. If they do well, I may move them to my patio.

All Income Must Be Reported

Veterans with working wives should be aware that all income of their spouse in excess of $1,200 is considered to be available to the veteran by the new pension law that goes into effect July 1, 1960.

Thus, the income of a veteran's spouse in excess of the exempted $1,200 must be reported as part of the veterans' income.

Ray Boren, Contact Representative at Big Spring Veterans Administration Hospital is prepared to explain this point and other questions that may arise concerning choice of the new pension law.

Veterans and dependents now receiving pensions may continue to receive them as at present, or instead, may choose to come under the new pension law. Once this choice is made, the law provides no way that they may return to the present system of pension payments.

The Contact Office in the Big Spring Veterans Administration Hospital is open five days a week from 8:00 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

THIS DAY IN TEXAS

By CURTIS BISHOP

A notice in the "Telegraph and Texas Register" on this day in 1839 advertised the first circulating public library in Texas.

"The subscribers," stated the advertisement in the Houston newspaper, "respectfully announce to the citizens of Houston that they have this day opened their circulating library and are now ready to receive sub-

The first library organization was two years earlier. It had been founded in 1837 when the Philosophical Society of Texas was organized in an "effort to awaken an interest in Science and Literature." Mirabeau B. Lamar and 24 others composed its original membership.

This first public circulating library advertised that it offered patrons their choices of some 1,300 volumes.

Some of Texas' early saloons also offered library services to patrons. The "Star Coffee House and Reading Room" made the latest periodicals available to customers at a charge of $16 per year.

The Texas State Library was established in 1839 also, with the Texas Congress appropriating $10,000 for the purchase of books to be stored in the offices of the Secretary of State. The first purchase was an 18-volume set of the "Edinburgh Encyclopedia" for $250.

There was no further investment in state books until 1848, when the printing of all legislative and state matters was authorized. At present Texas ranks thirty-sixth in per capita expenditure for library services and forty-eighth in total number of persons having no public libraries near them.

Will Specifies Roses, Dollar

LOS ANGELES (AP)—William Bari's will leaves a friend of his $300,000 estate to a trust, provided the friend's wife receives two dozen roses and one silver dollar every day of her life.

The lawyer is Oscar O. Collins, 70, a friend. A further provision is that half of Collins' share will go to charity.

Clara Collins, 62, gets the flowers and the silver dollars.

The will was admitted to probate after Bari's brother Richard Barrett, withdrew his contest suit. Bari, 38, a real estate developer, was killed last Dec. 9 when his private plane crashed near Benson, Ariz. The family name originally was Baruch, but William changed his to Bari when Richard changed his to Barrett.

Clarence Neill Plays In The Graveyard Of Monsters

By SAM BLACKBURN
Clarence Neill, 13, has one of the most fascinating playgrounds of any youngster in Howard County.

A little over a mile from his home on the Donald Lay ranch, he can spend hours at a small eroded hill which appears to be a veritable graveyard of uncounted weird monsters who lived in this area 170 million years ago.

Young Neill, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Neill, and his 17-year-old brother, Tommy, came upon this treasure trove of fossils about a year ago. They were hunting a hootowl nest in a rocky cliff a quarter of a mile southeast of the small hillock. En route home they passed across the base of this little hill and there spread in all directions were scores of bone fragments. A little search brought out vertebrae, rib pieces, teeth and strange toenails.

Extending from one of the eroded red valleys which mark the lower half of this small elevation was a larger piece of bone—a flattish, gray-white fossil.

Tommy dug around the bone and sought to remove it. It crumbled to whitish dust in his hands.

WASHED UP

He and Clarence gathered up a quantity of the fragments and took them to the house. Later, they and their father returned to the scene and gathered up other specimens. Each time it rains, the hill washes and still more pieces of ancient bone are washed to the base of the hill.

Fossils are far from uncommon in this part of West Texas. They are found everywhere. On top of small hills, seashells are picked up. Many remains of ancient elephants have been unearthed. However, a small tract which seems to have been the final resting place for a whole cluster of prehistoric creatures is unusual at any time. And that is exactly what this small hill on the Lay ranch seems to be.

ROUGH COUNTRY

It is not likely to become a place for sightseers. It is isolated from the road and is reached only by walking a considerable distance through rattlesnake-infested ranch land or by the equally hazardous method of plowing one's way to the scene in a sturdy pickup.

The hill is near the western edge of the 9-section Lay ranch which sprawls east and west about 20 miles northeast of Big Spring. The hill is within a mile of the Mitchell County line and is about three miles due north of U. S. 80.

It is about 60 or 70 feet in altitude, topped as are most such prominences, with shattered remnants of broken rock. Half way down from the top it becomes a mass of the readily identifiable clay known as the Red Beds. It is from this point downward to the base that the bone fragments are found. None are on the higher slopes of the mound.

MAYBE OTHERS

A complete bone, apparently from the forefoot of a Buettneria Howardensis was quickly uncovered. Beneath it other bones were sighted.

It is quite possible that not all of the skeletal remains are those of the pre-dinosaur lizard. Other fantastic monsters lived in the Triassic age and it seems likely that some of these must have perished in the same communal graveyard.

The Neill youngsters may lose their playground soon for they are moving from the ranch.

Ward Team Wins Test

FORT WORTH—A Ward County 4-H Club team from Monahan won honors in the Farm and Ranch Management Method Demonstration contest, a feature of the annual Texas 4-H Club Roundup held June 7-10 at Texas A&M College.

Using effective visual displays, the team's 15-minute presentation gave an analysis of the various ways good farm and ranch management can increase agricultural income.

The competition was sponsored by the Production Credit Association of Texas, farm and ranch credit organizations. Corsicana 4-H Club won first place, Wichita Falls placed second and San Augustine took third place.

The Western Production Credit Association serves a 12-county area, including Ward, Ector, Loving, Winkler, Crane, Upton, Reagan, Glasscock, Midland, Andrews, Martin and Howard counties.

The association's general offices are in Stanton, with a field office in Big Spring. The association is owned and operated by farmers and ranchers in the 12-county area. Officers are Jim Franklin of Stanton, president; E. G. Branch of Rankin, vice president; David K. Workman of Stanton, general manager and secretary-treasurer and B. W. Golladay of Midland, Walton P. O'age of Rankin and George Clark of Odessa, directors.

YMCA Board Slates Meet

The regular meeting of the board of directors of the YMCA is scheduled for 5:15 p.m. Tuesday in the Y chapel.

Dan M. Krause, Y president, said that the session had been scheduled because of the many details connected with getting into the new building. This likely will be the last board meeting until September.

Among the reports that directors will receive is that of the membership committee. At the end of May, despite a brisk enrollment of new members, the total declined 52. However, this was due to a youth membership policy during the transition period from the old to the new building which expired 461 youth memberships at the end of May.

Largely offsetting this were 100 renewals of youth memberships, plus 299 completely new memberships. The new memberships included 126 boys and 107 girls, five young men and one young woman, 29 men and 31 women above the age of 30.

J. T. Baird Jr. Gets Harvard Degree

Julian T. Baird Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Baird Sr., 109 Dixie Ave., was among the 65 Texas who received degrees at Harvard University in Cambridge, Mass., Thursday.

This was the 309th commencement for the college and approximately 3,000 received degrees. About 1,000 of these, Baird among them, were young men completing college and receiving the bachelor of arts degree. Others were receiving advanced degrees for graduate study.

Baird, who holds a scholarship to Oxford University next autumn, and who was runner-up in competition for the Rhodes Scholarship in regional finals at New Orleans, was graduated magna cum laude, next to highest level of honors.

The only other West Texan in this vicinity in the graduating class was Hubert H. Strom, 2707 36th, Snyder, who took his masters in business administration.

Castro Planning Visit To Moscow

Cole Selected Regional Head Of Boys' Ranch

Roy A. Minear, of Midland, president of the board of directors of Boys' Ranch of West Texas, has announced that Alvie L. Cole of Sterling City has been appointed chairman of District III-B for Boys' Ranch of West Texas.

Cole had previously been appointed as Sterling County advisory chairman. Cole, a Sterling City ranchman, will be responsible for activities in Coke, Glasscock, Howard, Mitchell, Nolan, and Sterling counties. He will work with the county chairmen in carrying out the Ranch policies and goals.

Cole is a director of the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers Association, and the Quarter Horse Association of Texas. He is president of the Sterling City Roping Club and also is president of the Sterling Lions Club. In 1957, he received the Lions Club award as the outstanding soil conservationist in the North Concho River district.

Cole is married to the former Mildred Atkinson, daughter of Mrs. Will B. Atkinson. The late W. B. Atkinson was a pioneer ranchman of Sterling County. The Coles have one daughter, Diana Lou, age 10.

Cole will work closely with the Ranch in developing Boys' Ranch activities in his district.

Four Men Held In Theft Of Swimmer's Belongings

Four men are being held in the Howard County jail on charges of burglary with intent to commit investigation into the theft of a wrist watch and a wallet from a Moss Creek Lake swimmer.

Fern Cox, deputy sheriff, said that Cecil Rasberry, 1706 Scurry, was at the lake around 4 p.m. Friday taking a swim. He had left his clothing, a watch and wallet on the bank.

When he came out of the water, the wrist watch and wallet had disappeared.

The four men now detained at the jail were standing nearby. They denied any knowledge of the theft. Cox said no other persons were in the vicinity.

When the four men had been arrested, a search uncovered the missing watch. The wallet has not been found. Rasberry said there was only $1 in the wallet and that his concern over its loss was because it contained his driver's license and other important personal papers.

Cox said he planned to talk to the four when they had sobered up and that their charges probably would be lodged against them.

Proposal To Drop Death Penalty

PARIS (AP)—The execution of Caryl Chessman has prompted a new effort to abolish the death penalty in France. Rene Lecocq, a Gaullist deputy, said he had introduced his bill to end capital punishment because of Chessman's execution. Many attempts have been made to retire the guillotine to French museums, but all have failed. This one is not given much chance either.

Buettneria Howardensis Had County For Stomping Ground

One hundred and seventy million years ago, in a period known to geologists as the Triassic, Buettneria was one of the weird creatures which occupied what is now Howard County. His was a large family but the particular type which dwelt in this county was different from his cousins. So much so that today he has added to his family name the special description Howardensis. Literally, Buettneria of Howard County.

Buettneria Howardensis was not pretty. He looked like something out of a nightmare and probably had a temper to match his ugliness. He had an over-sized head which took up more than a third of his body. He had two eyes atop a flat skull and a cavernous mouth rimmed with sharp pointed tusk-like teeth.

He had four toes on his front feet and five on his rear feet. They were tipped with triangular toenails which have survived the passage of 170 million years with much greater success than any other part of his body.

SIX FEET LONG
He was probably coated over with bony scales and his long tapering tail may have been a defense weapon.

He was an amphibian—a lizard-like creature who crawled over the then swampy, teeming countryside. His size varied—he was never over six feet from the tip of his armored nose to the last joint of his alligator-like tail.

He was here before the dinosaur, according to geologists, and he lived out his span of existence in a period which just preceded the appearance on earth of the mammals. He was reptilian in every sense and reproduced himself by laying eggs on the steaming banks of the waterlogged countryside.

He perished, and his bones sank from sight to become deeply embedded in the mounting layers of sediment which built up in the years that passed.

BONES BARED
The swamps he knew disappeared and the countryside became desertland, hot, dry and parched. Occasional rains swept the land and cut ravines. The winds gnawed the ravines deeper. As centuries passed the deep layer of soil which had concealed his remains disappeared. The bones of the ancient Buettneria were brought to the surface.

They were crumbly with age and often fell into tiny fragments. A few kept their shape.

Others, buried shallowly beneath the red clay beds, are still intact. When they are encountered, great care has to be exercised if they are to be removed intact. They generally break into bits when any pressure is placed upon them.

No complete skeletal remains of any single Buettneria Howardensis have been recovered. The one in the Texas Memorial Museum at Austin is a composite—a collection of bone pieces of a large number of individuals. Geologists have travelled far to study the remains of these ancient reptiles. James B. Frazier, Howard County Junior College faculty member, and who identified the bones as definitely Buettneria, said he encountered some Buettneria bones in the British Museum in London. He was interested to read that these fragments had been unearthed near Otischalk in Howard County.

Frazier says there are hundreds of fragments in the county. They are inevitably found in the Red Beds—a product of the Triassic age. These Red Beds are usually near the surface in this part of the world.

Painting Begins

As other construction work is completed, the painters move in to add color to the brick and concrete building of the Howard County Society for Crippled Children and Adults. Representing Local 1431 in this picture are L. R. Mundt, T. W. Alderson, Mack Gamble, Jack Richburg and O. C. White.

Construction On Schedule, May Be Complete Saturday

Work on the new crippled children's building is on schedule, E. C. Smith, construction coordinator, said Saturday. If the work continues at the present pace, the building should be complete by next Saturday, the projected completion date. Painters were on the job Saturday. Most of the other construction has been completed. Carpenters worked through the past week, getting up the roof construction. The Coffman Roofing Company put the roof on toward the end of the week. The H&H Homebuilders, Abilene, donated the sheetrock for the interior, Smith said. The Cactus Paint Company donated the paint and made special mixtures for the color scheme. The local painters' union has volunteered to handle the brush work, as other trade unions have stepped in to handle their particular fields. Carpenters and helpers who handled the work during the week included W. T. Boadle, John Roemer, Marvin Fields, J. M. Johnson, Johnnie Green, Juan Santiago, Floyd Young, L. J. McPherson, Don Allen, Homer Miller, Tobie Purcell, Andy Alconite, Raymond Munoz, Lloyd Nalls, Charles Bailes and Don Smith.

Roy Watkins, Charles Campbell and Smith have been on the job practically every day since construction began. Electricians who have begun electrical work include Art Latson, W. H. Toerck and Doug Beams. Most Big Spring electrical firms are contributing toward the building with materials and labor. Floyd Young, Watkins and Mike Morgan put the seal coat on Friday. From the IUOE Local 826 Friday, workers included O. C. Bailey, Horace Bouden, Cecil T. Berry, Young, George Clinton, T. F. Lowe, T. A. Proctor, and Otis Perry.

MEN IN SERVICE

Local Boys Enlist Together

Three more Big Spring boys have enlisted in the Navy under the "Buddy System". Left to right: Lesley Conner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Conner, 1605 Oriole, Big Spring; Johnny Lochridge, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Lochridge, Route One, Big Spring; and Reid Sweet, son of Mrs. Thelma Sweet, of 1101 Lamar, Big Spring. Conner and Sweet are 1960 graduates of Big Spring High School, and Lochridge attended Coahoma High School.

Randall E. Halbrook, RDSN, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Halbrook, 1800 Scurry, has been given a figurative pat on the head by Rear Admiral Clifton for his part in the saving of some lost aircraft at sea. Halbrook detected and immediately reported an emergency radar signal from aircraft approximately 50 miles away from the USS Gregory. Radio teams and others went to work, reaching the aircraft on an emergency radio circuit. They vectored two lost planes to the Gregory, then sent them home to their carrier, 140 miles away. Adm. Clifton radioed a "well done" to the Gregory teams and to Halbrook. His own division paper noted that "lost pilot's morale increases when wide awake CIC teams save their bacon."

Radarman Halbrook graduated from Big Spring High School in 1958 and entered the U. S. Navy five days later. He soon will help welcome the White Fleet back at San Francisco and shortly after will embark upon another long cruise. Richard F. Bronson was recently promoted to staff sergeant in the Air Force at Weisbaden, Germany. Bronson, now serving his sixth year with the Air Force, has been in Germany two years. He is making the military a career. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Bronson, 102 Canyon Dr. Army Specialist Four Gerald W. Livingston, recently was assigned to the U. S. Army Southern European Task Force in Italy. Livingston, a personnel specialist in Headquarters Company of the force's Special Troops in Verona, entered the Army in September 1953 and received basic training at Fort Benning, Ga. The 23-year-old soldier, son of Mrs. Marion Yoakum, Colorado City, is a 1953 graduate of Pleasant Grove High School in Dallas. Army Pfc. Bobbie L. Henderson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Billie Henderson, 823 E. Sixth Colorado City, recently participated, with other personnel from the 50th Signal Company in Golden Arrow, a joint Army - Air Force field training maneuver in France. Regularly assigned as a message center clerk in the company in Kaiserslautern, Henderson entered the Army in December 1958, completed basic training at Fort Riley, Kan., and arrived overseas last December. The 20-year-old soldier is a 1958 graduate of Colorado High School. Milton Dean Bardwell, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Bardwell, is in Marine boot training at San Diego, Calif. Following his six weeks of boot, he will be assigned for three weeks at Camp Matthews, 10 miles north of San Diego, and after that he will receive advance training at Camp Pendleton near Oceanside. He will then get 16 weeks of combat training before he gets his initial leave home, his parents have been advised.

Open House Scheduled Today Of Airport's New Terminal

Residents of this area are invited to inspect the facilities of the Howard County Airport, five miles out on the Snyder highway, today.

Under the sponsorship of the aviation committee of the Chamber of Commerce, open house will be observed all day at the airport. Private fliers within a 300 mile radius have been invited to visit the port during the day.

There is no set program and visitation is expected to start around 10 a.m. and will continue through the afternoon. At the offices of the Big Spring Aircraft Company, guests will be asked to register and at intervals during the day free plane rides will be given to individuals whose names are selected.

ON DISPLAY
Several private planes are due to be on display in addition to those expected to fly in for the day. The offices of the airport, as well as those Continental Air Lines, will be open.

The new airport was dedicated last October by Rep. George Mahon, who pointed to the increasing importance of civil aviation as well as that of the military.

Life Saving Course Starts Monday

Swimmers interested in learning life saving methods are reminded of the Red Cross lifesaving course which starts Monday at the municipal swimming pool.

Mrs. G. G. Sawtelle, executive secretary of the Howard-Glasscock counties chapter, American Red Cross, said that all strong swimmers 19 years of age or older are welcomed in the class.

Lessons will be conducted by Phil Puckett and will last two weeks, Monday through Friday at 6 p.m. Only cost is the pool fee, Mrs. Sawtelle said.

TAKE BLANKET TO CHURCH

Today is the day to take your blanket to church with you.

Churches throughout the city are participating in the Big Spring Pastors' Association program to gather blankets to be sent to refugee families all over the world. It is estimated that more than a million are needed.

Monday, the blankets will be gathered together for packing and shipment at the First Baptist Church, Dr. P. D. O'Brien is chairman of the committee that is handling the collection. The pastors point out that blankets do not have to be new. They should be clean and serviceable, however.

The new facilities, in which the Federal Aviation Agency participated along with Howard County, include a 5,500-foot north-south runway, a 3,500-foot east-west landing strip, taxi strips, ramps, etc. All are paved. In addition, there is a large bulk storage hangar (80x100) for transients and all-purpose storage. There are numerous plane storage spaces in the T hangars, and Couden Petroleum Corporation maintains a large hangar for its three planes.

PLANES MAINTAINED
Several businessmen and firms maintain planes at the county airport for business purposes. Among them are Jimmy Jones, Leroy Tidwell, Clyde McMahon, Vernon Smith, Gene Nabors, Clayton Bette, Dr. M. W. Talbot, the Webb Aero Club, etc. In addition, more than a dozen private fliers, who use their planes principally for pleasure, are based at the new airport.

Dick Standafer is the operator of the port as well as of the Big Spring Aircraft Company. He is confident that traffic for the new facility will increase steadily as it appears in all the FAA maps which are distributed over the nation. The volume of transient traffic is gradually increasing.

Besides being agent for the Piper planes in this area (Standafer has sold four recently on a lease-purchase arrangement), he also maintains a plane rental or lease business. This permits a wide variety of services such as charter for specific flights, rental for pilots who want to use a plane for a specified short interval, or lease for operators who want planes over a long or continuous period of time.

INSPECTOR
In addition, O. D. Landrum, a licensed aircraft inspector, maintains a full fledged airplane shop at the airport and can handle just about any mechanical or structural service for aircraft.

Continental Air Lines has its terminal facilities at the new port now. Aviation enthusiasts point to the need for paving a short strip to connect the ramp with the paving in front of the terminal. This would permit CAL planes to pull directly to the terminal area even when other planes are parked on the ramp.

Standafer pointed to the increase in private and commercial aviation, and said that the Howard County port put this area in position to stay abreast of the times. During 1958, the last complete year when figures are available, business and commercial aviation accounted for 15,200,000 miles of travel involving 104,000,000 people.

SAFETY RECORD
Yet the record of safety was among the best for all types of transportation. For instance, airline fatalities were only 3.78 per 100,000 hours flown, executive (business) flying only 1.12 and those in light planes only .81. Accident frequencies were approximately one-eleventh that of highway travel, Standafer said, in quoting FAA statistics.

Kennedy Vote Commitment Nearing 400

By The Associated Press
Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.) picked up at least 29 1/2 additional convention votes Saturday from Democratic state meetings in Connecticut and Colorado.

With the addition of Connecticut's 21 votes and at least 3 1/2 from Colorado, the unofficial total of the front-runner for the Democratic presidential nomination climbed to 392 1/2. The total needed for the nomination is 761.

The 42-member Connecticut delegation, with half a vote per member, was instructed to support Kennedy as a unit at the Los Angeles Democratic National Convention which opens July 11.

A proposed amendment to the endorsement urged that Adlai E. Stevenson be supported for the nomination if it becomes apparent that Kennedy won't get it. The move was shouted down on a voice vote although it appeared to have substantial support. The question was not Kennedy vs. Stevenson. It was whether the delegates should be committed to Stevenson in any way.

Johnson Second

Before Saturday's actions, these were the unofficial standings based on primary results, state convention instructions, and Associated Press polls: Kennedy 363, Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, 199 1/2, Sen. Stuart Symington of Missouri 69 1/2, Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota, 51 1/2, Stevenson 26 1/2, favorite sons and others 256, uncommitted 440.

Jim Gibbs Wins Camp Award

Jim Gibbs, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Gibbs, was named the honor camper of the first session, YMCA summer day camp.

Everett Taylor, program secretary, said the first session ended Friday with a family picnic that boasted 190 in attendance. He added that 35 dads, and sons stayed overnight at the day camp site in the city park.

Runners - up for the honor camper award were Pat Weaver, Sammy Rice, Greg Hahn and David Draper.

Three other awards were made. Forest Ray Ward was named outstanding rifleman, Kent Isbel was the outstanding archer and the outstanding tribe was the Black Foot Tribe, Coy Mitchell, counselor.

During the Friday night picnic, each tribe put on a skit, an Indian dance and a song for the visiting families.

The End Is In Sight For Premier Kishi
TOKYO (AP) — The end is in sight for the 3 1/2-year regime of Premier Nobusuke Kishi.
It may come this week or next month or later, but the signs are there.
Even before he was forced by leftist agitation to cancel President Eisenhower's visit, Kishi was slowly being deserted by the conservative politicians who made him the leader of the ruling Liberal-Democratic party.
In disclosing Friday that a parliamentary election will be called soon, Liberal-Democratic spokesman Kosaku Shinoda indicated that in his opinion Kishi will resign shortly after the exchange of ratification documents on the new U.S.-Japanese security alliance, providing for U.S. bases in Japan.

Area Perennial Hazards Taking Toll On Crops

Hot, dry weather, jackrabbits and grasshoppers are taking a serious toll on Howard County cotton farmers.
Jimmy Taylor, county agent, said that the farmers are already waging war on the rabbits and hoppers. There's not much they can do but hope in the matter of a break in the drought.
He estimated that 5 per cent of the cotton in the county still remains to be planted. The rains which fell most recently permitted a large number of growers to seed the infields but some sections of the county did not benefit from the moisture. Now that the heat and drought has developed, the tender young cotton sprouted from the later plantings is suffering badly. Some farmers say that the

Barbara Eisenhower Gets Warm Formosa Welcome

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — Barbara Eisenhower got a warm reception on her sightseeing tour here Saturday.
She visited two temples, the headquarters of the Chinese Women's Anti-Aggression League, a nursery and a kindergarten.

Her one request—for a ride in a predicab, a small two-wheeled vehicle drawn by a man—was vetoed tactfully by Mrs. Everett F. Drumright, wife of the U. S. ambassador here and a companion on Barbara's tour.

Mrs. Chiang Kai-shek, wife of the Nationalist Chinese leader, made a call on Barbara at the Grand Hotel. The meeting, although brief, was extremely cordial. It took place before Barbara had a Chinese lunch with President Eisenhower, her husband, Lt. Col. John Eisenhower, and members of the American community here.

Forks and knives are available, but Barbara chose chopsticks, which she managed well after brief instruction. Barbara, who had arrived in Taipei in a tweed suit, changed for lunch into a dress with a matching jacket of plum-colored flannel print on white.

After lunch she changed into a moss-green suit accented at the neck and on the side by large mother-of-pearl buttons. She wore a white bandeau.

Oney Man Dies In Crash Of Light Plane

LAMESA — Clarence Russell Hopkins, 42, of Olney, was killed instantly Friday evening when his light plane crashed in a demonstration flight just north of the Lamesa airport.

Hopkins arrived in Lamesa about 5 p.m. Friday. The fatal crash occurred about 7 p.m.

The pilot was employed by the Snow Aero Co. of Olney and was demonstrating a crop dusting plane for Ralph Gary and Melvin Fielder at the time of the mishap. Gary owns a crop dusting company in Lamesa.

The men said the plane banked for a left turn, then plummeted nose-first to the ground. On impact, the plane stood on its nose for several seconds, then toppled over.

The cockpit was completely demolished, and the wing struts were torn from the fuselage which was bent and twisted by the crash. Although the propeller was badly damaged, it did not break.

Witnesses said the plane appeared to be functioning properly and apparently was at maximum performance level when it crashed.

The body was taken to Higginbotham Funeral Home. Funeral services will be conducted at Olney with burial at Altus, Okla.

In addition to his widow, Hopkins is survived by a daughter, Karen, four sisters and four brothers.

Kennedy Bids For Support In The West

ABERDEEN, S.D. (AP) — Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts foraged through mountain and prairie country Saturday, an expedition bidding for support for the Democratic presidential nomination.

He pledged Westerners to rebuild natural resources programs and offered a 10-point bill of rights for farmers.

The Massachusetts senator, already the top contender, came away from the Colorado Democratic convention with assurance he had gained additional support in the 21-vote state delegation to the party's national convention at Los Angeles next month.

He winged across the continental divide to Aberdeen, courtship South Dakota's 11 convention votes — uncommitted up to now. At Durango, Colo., Kennedy told cheering Democrats the new administration he hopes will be his must make over natural resources programs he said the Republicans have wasted, neglected and despoiled.

HOUSTON (AP) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon Saturday called for an increase in the exchange programs with foreign nations as a result of the diplomatic disaster in Japan.

Nixon told a news conference that the greatest lesson can be learned from the incidents which led to withdrawing of the invitation to President Eisenhower: "We should step it up (referring to the exchange program) and do a more effective job."

At the same time Nixon defended traveling diplomacy and said that in spite of the defeats at the summit in Paris, and in Tokyo, it was one way for this country to get its story across to others.

Cities' Water Use At New High Mark

The Colorado River Municipal Water District delivered more than a quarter of a billion gallons of water to its customers last week. Sunday through Friday, the district had pumped 250,890,000 gallons of water. Of this amount, 214,890,000 gallons went to the member cities of Odessa, Big Spring and Snyder. The remaining 36,000,000 was taken by oil repressuring units.

During the week Big Spring (including the amounts metered to Cosden and Cabot) established three new daily peaks. The first was 11,689,000 on Monday, then 12,260,000 on Thursday and 12,271,000 on Friday. The city's total for the week was 68,749,000. The daily average was 10,700,000.

Odessa hit a new peak of 23,322,000 on Thursday. Its total for the week was 127,044,000 gallons.

DOCTOR

"liked" to do that and he often permitted her to.
He said he left the room but came back as the sewing was finished.

USED A CRANE
Asked about his drinking during the period from November 1959 to February 1960, Dr. Seale estimated he consumed "a case of whiskey during that time."

He got drunk "two or three times, maybe four" and "had a dozen" other times drank "quite a bit" but didn't get drunk.
Asked if he could quit drinking entirely, Dr. Seale said yes. Asked why he didn't, he replied: "I wish I had."

The doctor said he thought domestic and financial worries rather than alcohol was the primary cause of his trouble.
He conceded, however, he might be called "at least a mild form of alcoholic."

ANOTHER TOWN
In asking to keep his license, Dr. Seale said he intended to leave Lamesa but hoped to establish a practice in another town after taking a long rest.

Seale's lawyer said the doctor has remarried after being divorced. The property settlement is pending with the first wife, the lawyer said.

After completing the Seale case, the board turned to Dr. Jacob's application for reinstatement of his medical license.

The 51-year-old Houston doctor was asked if he was ready to accept "internal message" treatments that got his license cancelled in the first place.
"Definitely," he replied.

Asked if he himself were still sold on the message treatments, the bespectacled medic replied: "It has no more benefit than any other message would be," he said.

After hearing Jacob's description of ailments for which he administered the message treatment on women, Dr. Crab, board secretary, expressed surprise.
"You wouldn't massage my eyebrows to fix a pain in my leg, would you?" he demanded.

Jacob said the massages had been beneficial in some cases. One woman, he said, came in for massages "and other things" for five years.
"Did it ever occur to you that some of these women might be coming in for the pleasure of it?" Dr. Crab inquired.

"No, it didn't occur to me," Jacob replied. "I didn't make any advance toward me—I think this investigation has shown that my conduct was very professional."

It cited, for example, the case of an assistant Soviet air attaché who it said offered $700 to a photographer here to take photographs of New York City that were not commercially available.
The FBI said that after the State Department early in 1955 had placed restrictions on the acquisition of certain types of data by Soviet citizens in the United States, the Russians began subverting American citizens to buy aerial photographs for them.

It said that in secret 1958 meetings in a darkened parking lot in Scarsdale, N. Y., aerial maps of New York City and Chicago were turned over to Soviet employees of the United Nations.
"In this same operation," the report said, "the Soviets attempted to obtain aerial photographs of Portland, Ore.; Seattle, Wash.; and San Diego and San Francisco, Calif."

The FBI said the acquisition of aerial photographs is only one phase of "Soviet-bloc intelligence activity in the United States. It went on to describe Communist recruitment of American agents, industrial espionage, the spy role of Iron Curtain officials in this country, and other facets.

Members of the Armed Forces of the United States, or the Public Health Service, are entitled to re-employment rights after they hang up their uniforms.

Regional Director George Dunlap, U. S. Department of Labor's Bureau of Veterans Re-employment Rights, said that an increasing number of inquiries from employers and servicemen indicated lack of clear understanding on this matter.

But there is no question of such industries, enlistees, re-enlistees, and reservists being protected for re-employment in their civilian jobs with private business by the Universal Military Training and Service Act.

The serviceman must apply for reinstatement in his old job within 90 days from the time of his release from federal service. If he does that, he is protected, Dunlap said.

Furthermore, he is entitled by law to "reinstatement in his pre-service position in such a manner as to give him seniority, status, and pay which he would have enjoyed except for his tour of federal service." There is a four-year limit of service time away from his civilian job.

More information concerning the law or its application in particular cases may be obtained without cost from the U. S. Department of Labor's Bureau of Veterans Re-employment Rights, 1114 Commerce St., Dallas, Texas.

Russian Oil Program Hikes World Surplus

By MAX B. SKELTON
HOUSTON (AP)—Russia's ambitious oil expansion program is aggravating the current world surplus of oil.

There is suspicion the desired immediate objective of the Russians is a needling effect on the oil economy of the free world.

A series of new trade agreements posing threats in some areas to existing markets for free world oil.

The barter agreement proposals have popped up rather frequently the past year. Countries involved include Cuba, Canada, Ethiopia, Brazil and Sweden.

Whatever the desired effect, the situation will draw increased emphasis in Moscow.

The Russians hope to boost crude production of about 3,178,000 barrels a day to 4,500,000 by 1965. They are shooting for 7,000,000 barrels a day or more by 1972.

Coupled with the long-range production goals have been persistent reports of Russian plans for a 160,000-mile pipe line system. Among other things, the system would place the Soviets in a much stronger position to grab a larger share of the Baltic area market.

Recent Russian maneuvers to boost exports may have been bolstered by the reported major oil discoveries in Siberia and the Colga-Ural region. One objective apparently is to boost Russian reserves as rapidly as possible.

An article written by Russian scientists and published last month by the Independent Petroleum Assn. of America said Soviet explorations in new areas last year exceeded development drilling for the first time.

The most recent maneuvers involve Cuba and Canada and, if carried out, would affect oil now coming from Saudi Arabia and Venezuela.

Three refiners—Texaco, Royal Dutch and Esso—have rejected a suggestion by the Cuban government that their Cuban refineries process Russian oil. The suggestion involved over one-third of the combined capacity of about 80,000 for the three refineries.

The new trade agreement with Canada involves about 72 million barrels of Russian gasoline. The proposal has promoted protests from oilmen in Alberta. Government officials indicate no Canadian crude would be replaced but acknowledge the Iron Curtain gasoline would force some Middle East and Venezuelan oil to search for markets elsewhere.

The negotiations in Brazil have hit a snag. Brazil said the Soviet oil is too salty. About 3,500 barrels a day are involved.

Free world oil dwarfs Russian production despite a lower rate of increase in recent years.

In 1951 Russian crude production of only 553,000 barrels a day amounted to only 10.14 per cent of free world output that averaged 8,553,900 a day.

Russia's March output of an estimated 3,178,000 barrels was the equivalent of 18.1 per cent of a free world average of 17,474,800 barrels a day.

Oil reserves in Russia have increased from 5 billion barrels to an estimated 29 billion since 1959. In the same period the United States boosted its reserves from 20 billion to 30 billion.

New Name In Arabic

Halliburton Oil Well Cementing Co.'s planned name change to Halliburton Company will give sign painters a lot of work in the foreign language field. Here, artist Book Stewart at Halliburton's Duncan, Okla., headquarters works with the Arabic version of the company name. Adoption of the new name is expected at the stockholders' meeting June 28.

Active Rigs Total 2,567

Total number of rotary and cable tool rigs active in the United States dropped from 2,630 to 2,567 this week, according to the weekly survey made by the International Oil Scouts Assn.

Texas, which leads all states in number of active rigs, experienced a loss from 908 to 893. West Central Texas, on the other hand, gained six in the weekly survey, from 85 to 92.

Second-ranked Louisiana gained 18 active rigs, with 382 counted this past week, compared with 364 the week before. Louisiana replaced Oklahoma which dropped into third place with a loss from 392 to 353. New Mexico is fourth with 166, and increase of 36 from the last week's count.

Petrochemical Industry Is Important To Southwest

By ROBERT E. FORD

DALLAS (AP)—The petrochemical industry, largely centered in Texas, has expanded six times since World War II. The Federal Reserve Bank of Dallas reports in a survey of the industry.

Petrochemistry means making chemicals from oil and natural gas.

Production of such chemicals is estimated by the bank at a rate of 50 billion pounds valued at six billion dollars.

In 1945, when the war ended, production was only eight billion pounds with a value of less than a billion.

"Residents of the Southwest, now accustomed to chemicals as a basic regional economic foundation, may find it difficult to remember that the Gulf Coast petrochemical industry virtually did not exist prior to World War II," the bank says.

ENTIRELY NEW
"In fact, the work 'petrochemical' could not even be found in a dictionary before the end of the war."

World War II, with its emphasis on synthetic rubber and explosives, first brought petrochemistry from the laboratory to the production plant in a major trend. In all, about 20 major petrochemical plants were built during the war in Texas and Louisiana.

"Private interest rapidly recognized the opportunity and were responsible for most of the postwar growth," says the reserve bank report. The 400 million dollars in government plants were sold after the war for about 250 million to private enterprise.

Investment on the Gulf Coast in the past 10 years approached three billion dollars.

Today, petrochemicals account for about 60 per cent of chemical industry sales.

PLASTICS
Plastics production alone this year may reach six billion pounds, compared with two billion only 10 years ago.

Even where coal or vegetable-based chemicals are near the cost of the same petrochemicals, plant capacity for the older sources are not sufficient to meet growing demands.

Synthetic rubber and synthetic detergents are perhaps the most obvious examples of petrochemical products which have largely displaced older products.

Synthetic rubber now accounts for about 65 per cent of United States rubber consumption. Synthetic detergents now have taken over 75 per cent of the market.

Petrochemicals mean considerable in paychecks. Last year about 35,000 workers were employed by over 100 firms primarily producing or processing petrochemicals in Texas.

In addition, about one-fifth of the total employees at gasoline refineries and stripping plants were engaged in producing petrochemical raw materials.

WAGES
Total wages amounted to a quarter of a million dollars.

Employment in the industry cannot be determined by payrolls, for plant investment per employee is rated among the highest of any industry.

In 1958, chemical and allied products added $1,063,000,000 (B) to the value of chemical products manufactured in Texas, or about 21 per cent of the value added by all major industrial production within the state.

The Texas-Louisiana Gulf Coast chemical complex, which contributes at least 90 per cent of the Southwest's chemical production, consists of a 700-mile strip of coastal land, ranging up to 100 miles inland, from Brownsville, Tex., to New Orleans, La.

100 PLANTS
More than 100 major petrochemical plants are clustered around the following area complexes, listed by the reserve bank in descending order of size:

1. Houston-Freeport, 2. Beaumont-Port Arthur-Orange, 3. Baton Rouge, 4. New Orleans, 5. Lake Charles, 6. Corpus Christi, and 7. Brownsville.

The coastal area is a prime area because of the supply of oil and gas and sufficient water.

Many plants have been established between the major complexes and are connected with pipelines. Victoria and Seadrift already are established chemical centers between Houston and Corpus Christi.

Smaller inland locations of petrochemical development, as listed by the reserve bank are Longview, the upper Texas Panhandle, and the Midland-Odessa-Big Spring area.

"Percentage employment increases in the West Texas petrochemical industry have been impressive in recent years," said the report.

AREA GAINS

Rotary Activity Is Slacking Off

Rotary drilling activity in the Permian Basin area slacked off this week with 247 active strings counted, compared with 256 the week before. Reed Roller Bit Co. makes the survey.

The eight county area, however, picked up five active rotary operations. Dawson, Martin and Garza counties registered gains.

Dawson County had nine rigs working at the end of the week, an increase of two, and in Martin County three rigs were in operation. Last week there were no active rigs in Martin. Garza increased from four to five.

Borden County kept its two active rigs, and Howard County remained on the active list with one. Mitchell County dropped from two to one. Sterling County reports no active rotary operation.

Lea County, N. M., leads the Permian Basin with 37 active rotary rigs, an increase of one from the previous week's count.

The Basin count by counties, with last week's figures in parentheses, includes:

Andrews 21 (27), BORDEN 2 (2), Chaves 1 (1), Cochran 3 (2), Crane 9 (11), Crockett 3 (2), Culberson 1 (1), DAWSON 9 (7), Dickens 1 (1), De Baca 0 (1), Ector 12 (13), Eddy 31 (29).

Working Rotary Rigs Dip To 1,777

The number of rotary rigs making hole across the United States dropped to 1,777 during the past week, compared with 1,847 counted the week before, according to a survey conducted by the Hughes Tool Co.

Texas lost 29 hole-making rotary rigs for a total of 609 this week. West Central Texas also registered a loss, dropping from 176 to 162.

Louisiana is in second place with 291, the same number as the week before. Oklahoma is third with 173, compared with 187 in the previous week's count.

Fisher 1 (3), Gaines 5 (4), GARZA 5 (4), Hockley 2 (3), HOWARD 1 (1), Irion 0 (1), Kent 1 (0), Lea 37 (36), Loving 0 (2), Lubbock 1 (1), Lynn 1 (0), MARTIN 3 (0), Menard 3 (0), Midland 10 (13), MITCHELL 1 (2), Nolan 1 (3), Pecos 14 (14), Reagan 1 (1), Reeves 0 (1), Roosevelt 1 (3), Runnels 3 (2), Schleicher 2 (2), Scurry 3 (4), STERLING 0 (0), Terrell 3 (3), Terry 1 (1), Tom Green 3 (1), Upton 6 (9), Val Verde 2 (2), Ward 10 (5), Winkler 19 (15), Yoakum 6 (8), TOTALS 247 (256).

Oil Recovery May Top Predictions

DETROIT (AP)—Paul Torrey, University of Texas petroleum engineer, forecasts that "the future recovery from existing oil fields in the United States may be as much as 90 billion barrels, twice as much as previously predicted."

Torrey told a section meeting of the Interstate Oil Compact Committee (IOCC) that his estimate was "the result of the fourth study of national oil reserves made by the IOCC secondary recovery and pressure maintenance committee. It was the first in which such newer methods of recovering additional underground oil by thermal and solvent extraction methods were considered."

Future recovery from U. S. oil fields, Torrey said, "could be in the range of 90 billion rather than around 45 billion barrels due to new recovery methods."

MEET THE 'seniors' OF THE COSDEN FAMILY ...

FRED BECKHAM

This is the 5th in a series of special Cosden presentations recognizing the men and women employees who have been associated with the Company 15 years or longer. Cosden is proud of the scores of workers who have contributed their efforts through so many years toward the success of the company.

"When I started to work for Cosden, there wasn't a thing north of the railroad track here at the refinery."

The words came from Fred Beckham, who was reminiscing about his fifteen years with the Company. During that span, the area to which he referred has yielded locations for the towering styrene unit, the polystyrene plant, the BTX, the Reformator, the Unifiner, and other portions of the refining complex.

Working in the lube oil department was quite a change from his previous job as a bakery roulerman, responsible for delivering 200 dozen doughnuts, countless pies and 1,400 loaves of bread daily to the old bombardier school. That erratic workday in the wee hours of the morning called for chain smoking and coffee drinking. He laughingly describes his first day at Cosden—April 9, 1945—as a tormenting stretch of "No Smoking" signs.

Foreman of Lube Oil since 1948, he also became foreman of Roofing Asphalt in 1955.

Beckham, born in Weatherford, attended the Winnsboro schools and in recent years studied at Howard County Junior College. His wife, the former Emilee Ramsey of Westbrook, taught in Coahoma before their marriage on October 21, 1939. They have a son, James, 13, who will begin his second year at Runnels Junior High in the fall.

James shares his father's interest in hunting and fishing, and in Scouting, being a member of Troop 11. Beckham is an assistant district commissioner of the Lone Star District of Boy Scouts, and devotes many of his leisure hours to the endeavor. He is a member of the Masonic Lodge and is a past patron of the Order of Eastern Star, Coahoma No. 499.

It was during his three-year tenure as president that the Western Sportsmen's Club acquired excellent facilities which include a covered firing range and a storage house. Re-loading ammunition is a special interest of Beckham, and so is coin collecting. He is a steward at the First Methodist Church, and an ex-president of its Men's Bible Class.

The Beckham home is at 1107 Sycamore. There is a view of the refinery on the horizon.

Board Favors Improvement Of Stadium Parking Area

Trustees of Howard County Junior College have acted favorably on a proposal to stabilize part of the parking area around Memorial Stadium.

The board, meeting Thursday evening, agreed to go half of the expense estimated at $3,738 for materials. The action is contingent upon similar approval by the Big Spring Independent School District trustees at their July meeting. The City of Big Spring had indicated machinery help would be available.

Under the proposal, the ground on the west side of the stadium would be stabilized to a depth of six inches and then given a protective surface shot. It was not clear if this project would account for treatment of a lesser parking area on the east. There has been a serious water- and wind erosion problem arising out of the parking areas.

HJCJ trustees also authorized Dr. W. A. Hunt, college president, to check with the Federal Housing and Home Finance Agency on the installation of a sprinkler system for the men's dormitory. Some landscaping is being done there and trustees felt that this was a proper charge to the dormitory account. The sprinkler system is estimated in the neighborhood of $1,000.

Passed over without action was the matter of an offer by Pioneer Gas Company to install 75 decorative gas lights on the HCJC campus at a net cost to the college of $2,534.

Purchase of a one-ton air conditioning unit for the supervisor's apartment in the men's dormitory was authorized. The $200 expense will permit conditioning of the quarters without turning on the air conditioning units for the entire dormitory.

The matter of bills submitted by A. P. Kasch and Sons for work in connection with new buildings was passed until a check with the architect was received.

Trustees elected Mrs. Elizabeth K. Martin to be an instructor in English. Mrs. Martin, who now resides in Austin, has been serving as an instructor of freshman English at the University of Texas. She holds her master's degree from the University.

Dr. Hunt was granted leave to attend, at his own expense, a seminar at Tallahassee, Fla. for junior colleges on July 11. He also was granted permission to be a guest lecturer again for a brief period at the University of Houston.

Asked Quick Trial, Got It

LAMESA — Charles M. Toney, Lamesa Negro who earned a hearing in district court by submitting an application for a writ of habeas corpus, applied for the second and probably last time in county court here Friday.

Toney, charged with receiving and concealing stolen property, had the felony offense on the count reduced to a misdemeanor by virtue of his original application for the writ which he wrote on a brown paper sack.

He refused to enter a plea in justice court and sent his second application to County Judge R. F. Spraberry Friday. He demanded a speedy trial and less than three hours later a jury returned a verdict of guilty and fixed punishment at six months in the city jail. Saturday he pleaded guilty to the original charge and was fined $32 and costs. In addition, he pleaded guilty to two misdemeanors or check charges and was fined $25 and costs on each count.

The net results of Toney's efforts: Six months in jail and $68.20 in fines.

Andersons Have Several Visitors

Walter Anderson of Luther, who suffered a stroke a year ago, has had several out of town visitors during the past week, including three daughters and their families.

They were Mr. and Mrs. Roy Eastland and four children of Amarillo, Mr. and Mrs. Rex Scraff and two children from Bartlesville, Okla., and Mr. and Mrs. Norvin M. Smith Jr. and two children from Lubbock.

Mrs. Anderson's sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Creed Thorp, Indio, Calif., and Mrs. Anderson's aunt and cousin, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Anderson, and their daughter, Mrs. Floyd Edwards, of Florence, Colo., were also guests in the Anderson home.

Mrs. Chadd Is Injured In Fall At Y Building

Mrs. G. Knox Chadd was injured painfully when she fell down the stairwell of the YMCA building Friday evening.

At the Big Spring Hospital, where she spent a fairly restful night Friday, Mrs. Chadd was reported to have broken arms, fractured cheek bone, fractured shoulder bone and painful bruises. She was leaving the YMCA, where she had been in an arts and crafts class, at the precise moment that the Y was closing. As she walked on the sidewalk on the east side of the building, Mrs. Chadd unwittingly walked into the stairwell that leads to the equipment room below the building. She apparently fell forward down the stairs.

Charles Driver and Tim Smith, who were leaving the building, heard her and ran to contact Joe Leach, physical education director, who rushed her to the hospital. Ironically, Leach was returning from shutting down the mechanical equipment in the basement and had passed Mrs. Chadd as she emerged from the building.

Rites Today For Mrs. McMullen

LAMESA—Funeral services for Mrs. Z. T. McMullen, 78, will be conducted today at 3 p.m. at the First Baptist Church. The Rev. Milo B. Arbuckle, pastor, will officiate, assisted by the Rev. Bobby Phillips, pastor of the Westside Baptist Church. Burial will be in Lamesa cemetery under direction of Higginbotham Funeral Home.

Mrs. McMullen died Friday evening in her home in Lamesa, after an illness of several months. She was born June 18, 1882 in Hot Springs, Ark., and had lived in Lamesa since 1924. She was a charter member of the Westside Baptist Church.

Survivors include one son, H. B. McMullen, Lamesa; two daughters, Mrs. Herman Fetterway, Lamesa, and Mrs. W. A. Bowman, Carrollton, and one brother, M. O. Bettis, Little Rock, Ark. There are eight grandchildren and six great-grandchildren.

Ambulance In Traffic Mishap

Two minor traffic accidents, one involving an ambulance were reported to police Friday.

Charles Edward Young, 905 Lancaster, driving a Nalley-Pickle ambulance making an emergency run to the YMCA, collided with Janis Oldham Richards, 1706 E. 15th, at 10th and Johnson.

A collision involving two moving cars and one parked car was reported at 4th and Rannels. Pete Woodrow Abbott, 1608 W. 2nd, Karen Anne McKee, Big Spring, Rt. 1, and a parked car owned by Juan Torres Moreno, Big Spring, were involved in the collision.

No Action Taken On Price Cutting

COLORADO CITY (SC) — The 32nd District Court grand jury adjourned here Friday, passing over three matters for further consideration.

One involved an investigation of alleged violations of an obscure Texas statute which makes it unlawful to sell goods below cost for the purpose of reducing competition.

Two others grew out of an embezzlement charge against Dan Kennedy, former employe of Tex Keel. With the Kennedy case ready to go to the grand jury, officers headed by Sheriff Dick Gregory acted on a tip and confiscated 23 dust-covered slot machines from the attic of the Tex Teel Sports Shop, 141 E. 2nd. Two of the total were taken from a garage of the Keel home at 730 E. 7th.

The grand jury, indicated that further investigation would be undertaken in probe of oil companies reportedly selling gasoline below cost. R. L. Tollett, Big Spring, president of Cosden Petroleum Corporation, had testified before the grand jury, reportedly encouraging the probe.

As for the embezzlement slot machine case, Keel told officers who picked up the outlawed slot machines:

"They're just junk. I just forgot to throw the things away."

Wayne Basden, Big Spring attorney, who is representing Don Kennedy, accused of embezzling $114.30 from Keel, was on hand during the raid. Keel told the Colorado City Record he had been warned to withdraw his embezzlement complaint. Basden said he knew of no threat against Kennedy. He said he had talked with Kennedy earlier, expressing confidence in the innocence of his client and that there was no case against him. He also told the Record that he had talked previously with the county attorney about the presence of the slot machines in the Sports Shop and about getting a search warrant because it is against the law to possess such machines.

Keel said that Kennedy knew about the machines when he worked for Keel, and Basden agreed this was so. The attorney had pictures taken of the slot machines at the courthouse.

Kennedy went to work for a Big Spring juke box firm after he left the employ of Keel.

Palmer's 65 On Last 18 Clinches Open

ARNOLD PALMER From Far Back

By HAROLD CLAASSEN
Associated Press Sports Writer
DENVER (AP)—Arnold Palmer came from seven strokes off the pace with a 6-under-par 65 fourth round Saturday and won the National Open golf title as Ben Hogan faltered on the final two holes in quest of his coveted and unprecedented fifth championship.

Never before in the 60-year history of the Open had a man made up more than five strokes in the final round. But Saturday Palmer flamed his way around the seared 7,004 yards of the Cherry Hills Country Club for a total of 290 that brought him the title to go with the Masters crown he won in April.

Palmer, who meets a challenge as an old friend, started the 36-hole windup eight strokes behind Mike Souchak and in a tie for 15th place. A one-over-par 72 in the morning's third round gave no indication of the fireworks ahead.

After lunch he tore through the first nine of the final round in 30 strokes, tying the Open record. He tallied six birdies, two pars and a bogey. Coming home he stayed closer to par as the hardened fairways and greens of the 35-36-71 layout alternately lifted and dropped the chances of the others.

Hogan, grim and determined, was even with Palmer until the final two holes. There the Hawk became the victim of the two water hazards. On the seventeenth he put his second into the mud near the most. After knocking the ball on the green with still a chance for a par, he missed a 10-footer.

On the eighteenth, Hogan collapsed to a three-over-par 7 when he drove into the lake and also encountered the rough and a trap before reaching the green.

Palmer is the first man to win the Open with a subpar total since Hogan did the trick in 1953.

Souchak, the leader through the first three rounds after setting a 36-hole championship record, skidded to 75 and a total of 283.

Jack Nicklaus, the amateur champion from Columbus, Ohio, grabbed second place with a final round 71 for a 282 total. He knocked in an eagle 3 on the 53rd yard fifth, which he reached with two rons and took over the temporary lead at the 63rd hole.

Then he began three-putting. His runner-up position is the best by an amateur in the Open since Johnny Goodman won it in 1933.

NICKLAUS HOGAN

His score of 282 was the lowest ever for an amateur.

Six tied for third place at 283, including the veteran E. J. (Dutch) Harrison, who had a final round of 69. Others in the bracket were Souchak, the leader at the halfway mark by three strokes with a record 135. He ballooned to a 73 in the morning's round and then skied to 75 on the final trip, missing an 18 inch putt on the final hole to complete his collapse.

Others tied for third were Dow Finsterwald, Jack Fleck, Julius Boros and Ted Kroll, who finished with a 67.

Jerry Barber, the mighty mite from Los Angeles, and Hogan were at 284 along with amateur Don Cherry.

Palmer's closing 65 is the best ever and wiped out the previous low of 66 set by Gene Sarazen at Flushing, N.Y., in 1932.

Palmer starts the final round, which earned him $14,406 of the $60,000 first prize pot, with four straight birdies. He drove the 346-yard first hole and got down easily in two and on the second he chipped in from 90 feet away from another birdie 3.

A 30-foot putt on the third meant another birdie 3 and he got his fourth straight with a 40-footer on four. After getting his par on five he resumed his birdie spree on the sixth where he sank another 40 footer and he had only to tap in a 7-footer to get another on the 411-yard seventh.

His only birdie on the homeward nine was the eleventh where a drive and a No. 4 iron put him on the green of the par 5 hole in two.

The new champion will represent the United States with Sam Snead in the Canada Cup matches near Dublin next weekend.

"But before I play there I am going to try and straighten out my game," he said. "Guess I'll read my own book on how to play golf."

Hogan's difficulties on the final two holes, where he was four over par, dropped him all the way to ninth place. His final round score was 73 and the most on the seventeenth ended a string of 34 holes in which he had hit the green on approaches.

Ingo, Floyd To Draw 35,000 In Title Bout

NEW YORK (AP)—Ingemar Johansson, winner of the world heavyweight boxing title in a shocking upset last June, is favored to repeat his triumph Monday night against Floyd Patterson, the man he floored seven times a year ago.

Despite the quick and decisive ending of the first fight and the swirl of investigations surrounding its promotion, the rematch has stirred worldwide interest. Humbert (Jack) Fugazy, managing director of the new promotion group, Feature Sports, Inc., predicts a crowd of 35,000 will pay $800,000 to see the scrap at the Polo Grounds. Only 18,125 paid $470,712 to see the first at Yankee Stadium after one rainout.

Patterson, only 25, is the youngest in the long line of former heavyweight kings who have tried to win back the title. None has succeeded.

Seven times Johansson sent Patterson crashing to the floor in an exciting third round before Referee Ruby Goldstein stopped the slaughter. The first right sneaked between Patterson's hands held high in his peck-a-hoo style and Floyd never knew what hit him. He admitted months later that, when he walked with hands down to a neutral corner, he thought he must have floored Johansson. Instead, he was walking crazily into complete disaster with no defense.

RIGNEY IS FIRED Tom Sheehan New Pilot Of Giants

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The second-place Giants fired Manager Bill Rigney Saturday and turned over the job to baseball-wise Tom Sheehan, with a mandate to get the San Francisco club back into National League contention.

If the 66-year-old head of the Giant scouting system succeeds, club owner Horace Stoneham as much as told him the job was his even into next season.

Rigney's sudden discharge came after the Giants, while only one game out of first, were trounced three times by the National League leading Pittsburgh Pirates.

Earlier, Stoneham indicated the Sheehan appointment was an interim choice until a permanent manager could be found. Later Stoneham said:

"He'll go for four weeks, to the end of the season or maybe even next year—if he wants to and if the club responds to him."

Stoneham then qualified this by adding he and other Giant officials would do some talking about possible successors to Sheehan.

Sheehan, a jolly, 235-pound Irishman, told sports writers:

"I don't know if I can get the Giants moving, but I'll certainly try. I'm happy, naturally, to get the job, but I'm unhappy for Rigney. He is a good manager and my friend."

Sheehan announced he was retaining Rigney's coaching staff of Salty Parker, Bill Posedel and Mac Masterson.

"It wasn't necessarily that Rigney wasn't managing well, but something had to be done," Stoneham told sports writers at a hurriedly called news conference after a flurry of rumors of impending change.

21 Circuit Ricers In Odessa Pro-Am

ODESSA (SC) — Twenty-one players of the professional tour this week were listed among the 46 professionals who had accepted invitations to play in the $15,000 Odessa Pro-Amateur golf tournament here June 23-26.

Tournament director Ted Roden still had four invitations available to bring the field to 70. The final 30 places in the 100-team field will be determined in an 18-hole qualifying round at the Odessa Country Club Monday.

The 21 circuit riders who have accepted bids to compete in this 12th annual tourney are: Miller Barber, Rex Baxter, Al Bessell, Joe Black, Wally Bradley, J. C.

Gosie, Dutch Harrison, Fred Hawkins, Jay Herbert, Don January, Don Massengale, Billy Maxwell, Cary Middlecott, Bobby Sanders, Jerry Pittman, Doug Sanders, Ernie Vossler, Frank Wharton, Johnny Pott, Joe Walser and Bo Winger.

In addition, one of golf's all-time greats—Byron Nelson—will be on hand again.

Of the above, Hawkins, Hebert and Pott will be making their first appearances in the Odessa classic.

Poden still is hopeful that Tommy Bolt, the game's most colorful and controversial figure, will play here this year.

Other professionals who have accepted invitations include Benny Adams, Jimmy Adams, Fred Atkins, Abe Beckman, Jim Bernard, Harold Blaylock, Jackson Bradley, Ed Carpenter, Ben Chandler, Rex Cupit, Jess DeWesse, Ray Dzonowki, Bud Ecton, Gidd Faircloth, Foy Fanning, Vern Farquhar, Doc Forrester, Raymond Gafford, Jimmy Gamewell, Carl Gustafson, J. T. Hammett, Doug Higgins, J. Hook, Boyd Huff, Bunky Johnson, Ned Johnson, Lodie Kempa, Chuck Klein, Lou Kretlow, John Langford, Hardy Loudermilk, Elroy Marti, Jerry Martin, Horace Moore, Moon Mullins, Harvey Parvino, Jimmy Russell, Arlyn Scott, Jack Shields, Sammy Spear, J. D. Taylor, Charles Tims, Harry Todd, Dick Turner and Homer Widener.

The professionals pick their own amateur partners for the four-day, 72-hole, best-ball tournament.

Victory in the Pro-Am serves as a springboard into professionalism for top-drawer amateurs.

Such seems true in looking back at the 11 past Odessa tournaments.

Only Ray Hudson, civilian executive at a San Antonio Air base, and Buddy Branum, independent oil operator in Midland, have remained in the amateur ranks after once being in the winner's circle.

Such well-known professionals as Winger, Maxwell, January, Simpson, Barber, Vossler and Baxter were on winning teams here while still amateurs.

Doug Higgins, pro at the Z Boaz Muni course in Fort Worth, and Branum won the championship last year with a 72-hole total of 255. That represents the third-lowest total posted in this popular partnership event.

Winger and Maxwell set the 72-hole record in winning the 1951 tournament when they posted a 251. That is slightly better than one birdie for each two holes played. Nelson and Winger registered a 254 in 1950 for the second-best total.

The past champions (top listed first): 1950—Nelson and Winger; 1951—Winger and Maxwell; 1952—Harry Todd and Don January; 1953—Doug Higgins and Ernie Vossler; 1954—Doug Higgins and Ray Dzonowki; 1955—Doug Higgins and Rex Baxter; 1956—Ernie Vossler and Rex Baxter; 1957—Jerry Robinson and Miller Barber; 1958—Vossler and Baxter; 1959—Doug Higgins and Buddy Branum.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Big Spring, no doubt, will continue to be well represented on the Howard Payne College basketball team, now that Jimmy Evans has signed a letter-of-intent with the school. . . Al Kloven of Our Town finished up his eligibility there the past season but will stay on as freshman coach, while working on his Master's degree. . . Evans will have only two seasons of eligibility at the Brownwood school, whereas Kloven played for three years — a new Lone Star Conference rule limits junior college transfers to two years' play. . . Kloven could knock the eye out of a beetle at 40 yards with a basketball, whereas Evans' long suit is rebounding and defense. . . However, Jimmy can rise to the heights as a scorer when the occasion demands. . . He's one of the finest 'money players' in the history of Big Spring High School and HCJC. . . He'll, no doubt, be Coach Glen Whitt's type of player, just as was Kloven, who was instrumental in signing Jimmy for the school. . . Alton Bostick, the former Big Spring athlete, is commissioner of the American Legion Junior Baseball League in the Permian Basin this year. . . Harold King, Midland High School's new head football coach, said he was impressed by both San Angelo and Big Spring in their spring football games this year. . . Donald Robbins, Big Spring's new coaching aide, was an all-district center three straight years while attending Breckenridge High School and played in the Greenbelt Bowl game at Childress, Oil Bowl at Wichita Falls and the Texas Coaches Association all-star contest after leaving high school. . . He has several offers of head coaching jobs and is considered one of the brighter prospects in the coaching ranks. . . The "right" offer hasn't yet come along. . . He's not worried, however, for he's only 26 years of age. . . Jack Sharkey, the former Heavyweight boxing champion, picks Floyd Patterson to defeat Ingo Johansson in their upcoming title brawl. . . He says the Swede got "a lucky punch" in their last fight.

Many 2-4A Grid Grads Now In SWC

Only Little Leaguers in the 10-11-12 age bracket and Teen-Agers active in the sanctioned league here will be eligible to attend next weekend's baseball clinic, which is being sponsored by the Big Spring A&M Club. . . A football team composed of Boyd King, center; Rufus King and Jon Markham, guards; Dick Porter and Ken Milliken, tackles; Larry Cooper and Walter Rankin, ends; and Glyn Gregory, Ron Goodwin, Norman Marshall and Gerald Eckert, backs, would be hard to beat. . . All are former players in District 2-AAA schools now in Southwest Conference colleges. . . Bill Rogier, the former all-district hurler for the Big Spring Steers, is now stationed in Kyushu, Japan, with the Army. He expects to be home in eight months. . . Ray Berry, the former SMU gridder who is now a star pass receiver for the Baltimore Colts, watches his weight closer than any Hollywood starlet. . . He weighs himself four or five times a day and carries his own portable scales with him on road trips to make certain he does not scale more than 192 pounds. . . He has other habits that are not considered ordinary. . . He washes his own football pants because he does not think the team's laundry gets them thick enough and he maps the playing field for an hour before the game so he'll have his every detail memorized by the time the contest starts. . . If Big Spring's Richard Pachall gets to take part in the National Public Links Golf tournament in Honolulu next month, he'll play on a course that had no rough until recently, at which time the pro was ordered to let it grow. . . The All Wai layout, since getting the big meet, has been lengthened from 6,392 to 6,585 yards. . . All Wai means "Road by the Water" in Hawaiian. . . The Hawaii legislature recently appropriated $50,000 to improve the course and, in addition, authorized that $1,500 be taken monthly from the course's income to get it in top condition for the invasion of public links players.

Blair Cherry: Tech Job Is Ideal

How time flies! DeWitt Weaver starts his tenth season as head football coach at Texas Tech this fall. . . Blair Cherry, the former University of Texas mentor, says he has the best coaching job in the state "Because it's got everything. The city is sports-hungry and it's not spoiled." . . LeRoy LeFevre, the former Big Spring basketball player, is now working for Dow Chemical and lives in Lake Jackson on the Texas coast. He graduated the year from Texas A&M. . . Glenn Davis, who ran for Ohio State in the ABC Relays here in 1959, is now a mechanical drawing teacher in the Buckeye State and says he's about reached the end of his days as a track athlete. . . ### How About Helping A Good Cause?

Chances are you're planning to attend the Big Spring A&M Club's barbecue Thursday. . . The party offers you a meal at a reasonable rate ($1.50) and gives you the opportunity to help some deserving boy attend school. . . If you are making plans to break bread with the group, why not look up some Little Leaguer and purchase your decals from him. . . The Little League treasury here benefits to the extent of 25 cents for each decal it sells and the small fry baseball program can always put the money to good use. . . If there's not a Little Leaguer in sight, you can call any of these men for reservations: Earl Burnett (4-8916), C. E. (Chuck) Gressett (4-7457) or J. E. Hollis (4-6996).

CLEM LABINE

Labine Learns He Was Tipping His Deliveries

By CHARLES MAHER LOS ANGELES

After 10 years in the National League, relief pitcher Clem Labine has made a discovery of dumbfounding dimensions.

Dozens of the hitters he has faced in fact, more than half the batters in the league in recent years have known exactly what pitch he was going to throw every time he has gone into a full windup.

Since this intelligence has put hitters in somewhat the same position as coached contestants on a counterfeit quiz show, Labine's 70-32 record with the Dodgers begins to assume more heroic stature than the bare figures suggest.

Labine was never aware of his critical flaw until after the Dodgers sold him this week to the Detroit Tigers.

"The next night," he said, "I was down at the Coliseum before the game and a player on another club—I'd rather you didn't use his name—came up to me and said: 'Clem, there's something I've been wanting to tell you for a long time.' Then he told me—

"When I was going to throw a fast ball, I'd hold the ball with my knuckles facing the batter, and if I went into the wind up, when I was going to throw a breaking ball, my knuckles would be facing sideways—toward third base.

"You have to understand this is something that's pretty easy for a pitcher to do unconsciously. You're just getting the ball into position early for the kind of pitch you're going to throw.

"This guy who told me is one of the older players in the league. He said I had been tipping my pitches ever since I came up with the minors. He's been with five clubs and he said every player on every one of them had known just what I was going to throw.

"I must have had pretty good stuff. Think what I could have done if they didn't know what I was going to throw. Actually, though, maybe it didn't make that much difference.

"The player who let me in on it has been a friend of mine for what I was going to throw. We play golf together all the time. When he finally told me the tip, 'You can't imagine how many times I've wanted to let you know but I just couldn't do it because I would be taking something away from my team.' But he said that after such a long friendship

Local Fishermen Do Well In Trips To Lake J. B.

BY DON RIDDLE

High winds and threatening skies have kept the fishermen away in droves from lake J. B. Thomas this week but some of the regulars have made their appearance and have taken some nice stringers away.

The threatening skies have been a welcome sight to most of the folks on the lake, but as yet no rain has pelted the area. The lake is down tremendously due to the long dry period and Homer Smith, Shady Grove Camp, is not even in walking distance of the water. The Shady Grove once was considered the best spot on the lake.

LAKEVIEW LODGE
Clyde Montgomery reported that Cecil Heyden, Big Spring, hauled in a 4 1/2 pound black bass this week along with three nice-sized channel cat.

Paul Sheedy, Big Spring, hooked 13 channel cat that totaled 28 pounds. Vestmoo's G. L. Monroy took home six channel cat weighing up to 2 1/4 pounds.

SPORTSMAN'S PARADISE

Mike and James McDonald, Big Spring, caught 32 white bass and L. N. Brooks, Big Spring managed a 7 pound cat on his trotline.

Big Spring's Harold Broughton tugged in a 6 pound black bass and the Hubert Scruggs party from Odessa caught 25 white bass using plugs and minnows.

Jenkins Moreland, who operates Jinkens' Grocery on the north side of the lake, said that Don Reeves, Jal N. M. and his brother Jim from O'Donnell caught 74 carp and 17 catfish ranging from 2-8 pounds.

The Gene Jones Family from Lamesa spent five days on the lake this week and averaged 30 white bass a day trolling.

LEM'S BAIT HOUSE

Lem Gresham reported that Cary Hardin, Snyder, captured a 14 1/2 pound yellow cat and R. B. Perry and party from Brownfield gathered in 50 nice crappie.

Big Spring's T. A. DuBoise hauled in a 16 pound yellow cat and Dan Thomas and party from Draw came in displaying 16 white bass.

Ernest Rhodes, Lamesa did some profitable trolling and took home a stringer of 16 white bass. Turner Morrisett, Lamesa, had a busy day this week as he struggled with some 50 channel cat weighing between 3/4 pounds to 2 1/2 pounds.

H. B. McCord, Tahoka, also made a fine showing in the channel cat department and the H. T. Griffin family took some nice crappie and white bass from the waters.

Dub McCarty and family, Lamesa, had good luck with the black bass and channel cat. They also caught some sizeable crappie.

Carlos Edwards and Claude Thomas, Denver City, hooked some 50 channel cat.

L. P. Dent, S&L Grocery reported that Norman Gurner and Bob Hart from Snyder did some fancy plugging and brought in

Noor's Daughter Runs At Rudiso

RUIDOSO, N. M., (SC) — A handicap for three-year-olds and upward and a top AAA quarter horse race sprint will highlight the card at Rudiso Downs this Sunday as racing closes out its fifth weekend.

The eleventh race, The South Plains, a handicap contested over a distance of six furlongs will mark the first appearance of the midwestern speedster, Masud, from the stable of Gerald Thompson.

This seven-year-old grey ghost, fresh from three fine wins in Chicago and sired by the great Mahmoud, was Regalia, has drawn top weight of 120 lbs. and the riding assignment goes to Doug Morgan.

Second highest weight of 118 goes to the fine mare, Shamvara, winner of her only two outings here. In her first start, this five-year-old daughter of Noor—Dressed Up turned in one of the best performances of her racing career as she galloped to an easy victory and then returned for another sharp win at 870 yards in her last outing. This was her third consecutive victory for her Glendale, Arizona, owner, Doc Pardee.

With her early speed and ability to hold in the somewhat stretch, she is sure to test the merits of the newcomer from Chicago as well as the balance of the field in this event. Another strong factor in this race is sure to be G. Wells' (Tucson, Arizona) six-year-old speedster, Turkson. Claimed last year for $10,000 in California, this Spyn Spyn—Turky Trot 2nd speedster turned in tremendous performances last year in each of his outings, defeating the best of the Downs had to offer. He will be a prime factor in this event.

Yes More, at 118; Bang's Victory at 115; Glyndon L at 112 and Mr. Eskey at 108, round out this fine field.

The co-featured Quarter Horse event, named in honor of one of Santa Fe's original settlers, celebrating its 50th anniversary, has been tagged the Santa Fe 350, attracting a total of eight to go for the guaranteed $1,500 purse.

Top weight and top support will go to the California speedster, Vandy's Flash, victorious in his only outing here against some of the Downs greatest quarter horses. The Flash is holder of two world's records as a result of his stellar races in California and will carry 126 lbs. Expected to compete with the Flash are: Breeze Bar, 124 lbs., Easter Rose, 124 lbs., Li-Chilla, 124 lbs. and Do It For Me, 124 lbs.

Hubbard Gets Vital Run In Locals' Win Over B'field

A walk to Herb Sorley forced in Roger Hubbard with the winning run as the Big Spring American Legion junior baseball team edged Brownfield, 2-1, in an exciting contest here Friday afternoon.

The local team, now 3-1 in District 19 play, trailed until the seventh when Jerry Dunlap doubled to plate Tommy Young.

Big Spring managed only three hits off Eddie Gutierrez and Johnny Herring. The latter was charged with the defeat.

Brownfield collected six hits off Big Spring hurling, including two each by Woody Harbin and Richard Collins. Bowman Roberts, and Arthur Williams divided time on the mound for the locals. Williams, who took over in the seventh inning and who received credit for the victory, fanned four of the seven batters to face him.

Hubbard reached first base on a bobble by the catcher and advanced to second when Bob Andrews singled. Williams walked with one out to load the sacks. Then Sorley was issued free transportation.

Hubbard also scored a run in the sixth after going in to run for Ronnie Cunningham, who had reached base on a bobble.

The local team pulled a double play in the third, the play going to shortstop Ronnie Suggs to second baseman Sorley to first sacker Roy New.

CLAUDIA RICHARDSON

Claudia Richardson is the type of girl most people would like to have soothe their brow if it were fevered. Blue-eyed and blonde, a little girl (five feet one) with a big heart — Claudia is refreshing proof of the fact that the majority of Big Spring's teenagers are willing and anxious to shoulder adult responsibility.

As one of the VA Hospital's Junior Volunteers, she represents approximately forty young people from the surrounding area who are spending their summer months providing comforts and companionship to patients at the local hospital.

The program began two years ago with only ten young people participating. This summer it has more than tripled. Genuine interest is the main requirement for membership; however, both boys and girls must be either sixteen years old or entering their sophomore school year.

Duties of the Junior Volunteers are many and variable. Last year Claudia was assigned to the recreational department as a movie projectionist. Her mornings now are used doing laboratory odd jobs — typing reports, preparing pitchers of ice water — working at whatever is needed. Afternoons provide opportunity for more personal attention to assigned patients. Perhaps she will visit with someone who is lonely, write dictated letters, attend bed patients who wish to smoke, deliver mail or straighten lockers. Often she is the escort of wheel-chair patients taking advantage of the many services available in the hospital, such as barber shop, dental office and X-ray laboratory.

A career in pediatrics is Claudia's ultimate goal. "I want to be of service to humanity so the field of medicine seemed the logical choice," she said.

Miss Richardson is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Richardson of 402 Birdwell Avenue. Three younger sisters, Rita, Janet and Linda, may help provide her with patients someday. She holds the office of Faith in the Rainbow Girls and is active in the MYF of Wesley Methodist Church.

Present Farm Program Will Face Decision In Election

WASHINGTON (AP) — The coming presidential election holds the fate of an agency that has given aid, advice and encouragement to Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Tamm Benson in carrying out the Eisenhower administration's controversial farm policies.

This is the 18-member National Agricultural Advisory Commission headed for nearly eight years by Dr. W. I. Myers, former dean of agriculture at Cornell University.

Myers had been the foremost proponent of what is referred to in farm circles as the Cornell philosophy that government should intervene little if any in the economic affairs of agriculture.

Democratic presidential candidates have attacked this policy. Vice President Richard M. Nixon, the probable Republican candidate, has shown signs he is shying away from it.

This philosophy is in sharp contrast to policies of the federal government embarked upon in the depression of the 1930s and has followed since to greater or less degree.

The commission has been pictured by critics as being in almost complete support of the policies of Eisenhower and Benson.

It has been claimed by some that the commission has served as merely a yes man for Benson, in support of administration contentions that its policies are backed by farmers.

Many who have worked with the commission say this is an unfair characterization, that the members go thoroughly into the pros and cons of farm issues and that they frequently have influenced modification in administration programs.

The commission, however, is made up of men recommended by Benson and appointed by the President. It was established on a permanent basis by an executive order issued in 1953 by President Eisenhower.

The order requires that the commission be bipartisan, with no more than nine members from any one political party. At least 12 members must be representative farmers from the several geographic sections of the country. Its duty is to review policies and the administration of farm programs and to advise the secretary of agriculture. Members get no pay, only an expense allowance. Some have not taken this allowance.

Twelve members have been appointed for terms carrying over into the next administration. Six have been appointed for terms expiring next July 31, six on July 31, 1962 and six on Jan. 31, 1963.

Obviously a new administration unfriendly to the Eisenhower-Benson farm policies would not care to be saddled with a commission of this character.

This raises these questions: 1. Would the new president ask for resignation of the holdover members so that he might appoint members in sympathy with his own views? 2. Would he issue a new order doing away with the commission itself or, 3. Would he try to get along with the old commission?

Armed Forces Chiefs Talk Vigilance Need

QUANTICO, Va. (AP)—The nation's military leaders concluded their annual stock taking conference today against the background of President Eisenhower's statement in Formosa that there must be increased vigilance in the Far East.

So far as could be learned, no new orders for augmenting U. S. forces along the periphery of Red Asia have been issued.

The high commander of the Pacific, Adm. Harry D. Felt, originally was scheduled to brief the conferees on the situation in his area of command. Friday night it was announced that Felt was remaining at his headquarters in Pearl Harbor and sending his air commander, Gen. Emmett O'Donnell, to make today's briefing.

A Defense Department spokesman said a precautionary alert for the 7th Fleet in Far Eastern waters was normal due to the presence of Eisenhower and "the general tempo of the times in the Pacific and particularly in the Formosan area."

offers more appeal for people looking for a fight.

Incidentally, a nonpartisan Los Angeles group raised more than its goal of $300,000 for putting on the convention and announced in advance:

"This convention will be such a success that both parties will be anxious to have Los Angeles host their 1964 conventions."

One indication of Democratic fights to come appeared in a speech Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas made to his home state party convention.

Johnson is generally regarded as running second to Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts in the contest for the Democratic presidential nomination.

This is the way Johnson put it to his fervent Texas audience:

"Massachusetts will have 82 delegates trying to outrun us and out-buff us."

Maybe somebody ought to warn Massachusetts, Texas will have 182, counting 120 delegates with half a vote each, two members of the National Committee and 60 alternates.

Kennedy continued to sound confident, to a degree he said he expects to win the nomination, but not on the first ballot.

"We'll have the votes reasonably soon or not at all," he said.

Rocky To Stay In Republican Party

WASHINGTON (AP)—Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York quit the Republican party. He ignored them all.

Two were in the nature of compliments from Gov. David L. Lawrence of Pennsylvania and former Gov. Averell Harriman of New York, both Democrats.

The third was a sort of good-rideance push from a conservative Republican, Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona.

Not only did Rockefeller stay in the Republican party — "I'm not going off into any splinter operation of any kind," he said, but he:

1. Conceded realistically that Vice President Richard M. Nixon is going to be the Republican nominee for president, and
2. Urged fellow New Yorkers to put their state in the Republican column next November.

Rockefeller would make a willing target.

The Democratic convention, starting July 11 at Los Angeles, offers more appeal for people looking for a fight.

Cuba To Purchase Oil From Russia

MOSCOW (AP) — Cuba signed an agreement with the Soviet Union Saturday to buy Soviet oil and oil products. Tass reported.

The agreement was concluded between Antonio Nunez Jimenez, head of the Cuban economic mission to Moscow, and Soviet Foreign Trade Minister Nikolai Patolichev.

offers more appeal for people looking for a fight.

Downtown Church Finds A Rich Field For Its Work

DALLAS (AP)—Should downtown churches move to the grassy suburbs to get away from their parents' housing and the steady encroachment of business development?

No, says Dr. W. A. Criswell, pastor of the biggest Baptist church in Texas.

The First Baptist Church of Dallas is sinking its roots deeper downtown in the shadows of skyscrapers.

And it is sending buses into the nearby low-income areas to bring these people to church.

The emphasis is on the youngsters—boys who need haircuts, whose bare feet show through tattered shoes, and girls who look wide-eyed at the beautiful paneled walls of one of the nation's wealthiest churches.

First Baptist is worth about 10 million dollars. The church recently paid an even million for the Burt Building across the street to add to its extensive facilities. These include a gymnasium, bowling alleys, and a skating rink. The church is a haven for the children in the low-rental homes nearby. First Baptist sends buses to pick up the children and their parents. The work is done by the Good Shepherd Department, which has its own minister, minister of music and staff. But much of the day to day work is done by church members, Junior deacons of First Baptist, among them some of the wealthiest men in Dallas, drive the buses.

Dr. Criswell believes downtown areas need churches.

"Pressed against the downtown heart of any city is a large area of declining properties that are rented to the poor," explains Dr. Criswell. "The downtown church has a God-given commission to minister to these people."

In ministering to them, First Baptist Church wins many as members. Some of the unfortunate prefer to stay with the Good Shepherd Department and its minister, The Rev. Johnny Barrett, formerly of Graham. Mr. Barrett is helped by a corps of 70 Sunday School workers in caring for his God Shepherd crowds of 500 or more.

CRMWD Presents Case For New Lake

The Colorado River Municipal Water District, fortified by resolutions of support from several West Texas cities, will present its case Monday for a permit to impound a new lake.

Hearing on the district's application for a permit for 50,000 acre feet annually by impounding 403,700 acre feet in a lake in Southern Mitchell County will be held at 10 a.m. in State Board of Water Engineers office in Austin.

The district, composed of the member cities of Big Spring, Odessa and Snyder, filed an application for a permit with the state board on Aug. 5, 1959. The permit application requests 40,000 acre feet per year for municipal use, 5,000 acre feet for industrial use and 5,000 acre feet for mining.

MEMBER CITIES

Joining with the member cities in support of the application are Midland, Colorado City, Lorraine, Lamesa, Stanton, Mitchell County and the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce. Several of the cities have asked E. V. Spence, general manager of the CRMWD, to present their resolutions. Some of the cities will be represented in person by their mayors or other spokesmen.

CRMWD board members from the three member cities plan to be on hand for the hearing, and Frank Kelley, Colorado City, vice chairman of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce water resources committee, is due to be on hand to make a statement in behalf of the proposal.

S. W. Freese, Fort Worth, consulting engineer for the CRMWD, will present most of the technical testimony in support of the application. Spence will summarize the presentation, reviewing the history of the district as an instrument of helping to meet the area's water problems.

REGIONAL SUPPLY

Most of the resolutions adopted by the cities point to the importance of the proposed lake as a source of regional water supply. The resolutions do not necessarily bind any city outside of the district to the project, if it materializes, but those adopting the resolutions have at previous times asked the district to keep them in mind in its long range water studies.

Location of the proposed dam is on the upper Colorado River, 1 1/2 miles north of the north Coke County line.

Some protests have been filed with the State Water Board, among them Olive Pearl Price and Katherine Price McClellan, Colorado City, who hold an irrigation filing, dated 1914, and who also have land which would be in the basin of the proposed lake;

Mrs. Jessie Ellwood Chappell, whose dam would be located; T. A. Northcutt, Colorado City, whose place is in the basin area.

OTHER PROTESTS

Some irrigators in the rice belt on the coastal plains may also lodge protests. The Runnels County Water Improvement District, which has indicated it will not necessarily protest, has asked for time to appear if desired.

Among those attending from here will be R. W. Currie, H. W. Wright, Ward Hall, all members of the CRMWD board; Spence; J. H. Ivie, assistant general manager-production; and Joe Pickle, board secretary; Bruce Dunn, director of public works for Big Spring.

Dedication Set For Baptists, New Encampment

STANTON — The new Baptist Encampment tabernacle is near completion. It is seven miles north of Stanton, on a 160 acre plot and consists of a 120-foot long tabernacle with unusual diagonal beams holding up the roof. Equipment includes sturdy, but movable, benches; combination dining hall, kitchen and concession stand; two church cabins, each of which will accommodate from 30 to 40 persons; and a caretaker residence.

A six-day camp for intermediate girls is to begin June 20. Baptists of District 8 have set July 4-6 as dates for the dedication of the new encampment grounds.

Dr. E. S. James, Dallas, editor of the Baptist Standard, is to be the featured speaker along with Charles McLaughlin, Dallas, director of the Missions division for the Baptist General Convention of Texas.

Reunion Slated For July 11-12

STANTON (SC) — The Martin County Old Settlers Reunion will be held July 11-12, it has been announced.

Hoop Tom, president, said that O. B. Bryan had been named program chairman for this year's gathering. Dan Saunders, vice president, will handle arrangements for the public address system. Mrs. Morgan Hall is the permanent secretary for the gathering.

On the finance committee are Edmund Tom and Edmund Morrow, while George Shelburn will be in charge of the memorial service. Arrangements are being made now for the barbecue and tickets will be printed soon.

There will be no parade this year since the association last year voted to make this a feature only once every four years.

Shot To Death During Scuffle

Snow Will Be Grave For Victims

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP) — The eternal snow of an Alaska peak will be a permanent grave for 13 of the 14 persons who died when a Pacific Northern Airlines plane plunged into 9,550-foot Mt. Gilbert Tuesday.

The airline and government agencies said no effort will be made to recover the bodies or the mail the plane was carrying because of the danger of avalanches.

The body of an unidentified woman was brought down from the mountain, 60 miles east of Anchorage, by a rescue team Wednesday.

DEAR ABBY

A REAL PROBLEM

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Please give some advice to two families. A 15-year-old girl "in trouble" and her boyfriend (17) before everyone goes mad. The girl is expecting in September. She can't turn to her mother for help because the mother is in the state hospital for the mentally ill. The boy is from a poor, large family. His mother is past 60 and in very poor health and couldn't care for a baby if she wanted to. In addition to which the families oppose the marriage because they are of different religions.

The teen-agers want to marry and want to keep the baby. The boy wants to quit school and enlist in the service so he can have money for the baby's support. But I am wondering what kind of mother this 15-year-old child will make, and what chance will this couple have for happiness? Also, is it fair to the baby? What, in your opinion, should be done?

FRIEND OF BOTH FAMILIES
DEAR FRIENDS: The maturity of a couple at their age, should determine their readiness for marriage. In this case they appear to be far from it. I suggest the girl go to a home for unwed mothers and find a foster home for her child. When she reaches 18 and the baby's father can provide for a family, they can marry (in most states) if they still want to. A hurry-up marriage now would only complicate matters.

DEAR ABBY: I am asking you to please tell me what the relationship is (if any) in this case. My daughter died, leaving a husband and three children. About a year later he remarried, but he kept right on calling me his "mother-in-law". The woman he married has a living mother, so how can he have two mothers-in-law? He certainly can't still be my son-in-law when he is married to a woman who has her own mother and is no relation to me. I hope you can set me straight as this has caused a lot of discussion.

WHO AM I?
DEAR WHO: When your daughter passed away, the "in-law" relationship between you and your son-in-law technically terminated, and when he married again he acquired a legal mother-in-law in the mother of his wife. You are simply his children's grandmother. (But don't worry—that will be close enough if he ever needs you.)

DEAR ABBY: I went with this guy for a month and I really liked him. Suddenly he stopped calling me and dating me. He just seemed to forget I existed.

Then I ran into him accidentally and he told me he was giving up girls for two years. He said by that time he would have a car and a job, and could have a girl.

We are both 16 and I am willing to wait for him. Do you think I should after this treatment?

WILLING TO WAIT
DEAR WILLING: Don't wait. If he really cared for you he'd walk, take the bus or hitch a ride. And he wouldn't tell you that he had to "have a job" in order to have a girl.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "AM WISE": Those who live in stone houses shouldn't throw glass.

"What's your problem?" Write to Abby in care of the Big Spring Herald. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Abby's best-selling book, "Dear Teen-ager", is on sale at all bookstores.

Big Days In The Life Of Father

Photos by Tommy Williams

THOSE FIRST TOTTERING STEPS will always be a highlight in Daddy's life, especially when it's the first baby who takes them. In picture at left, Ricky Lee Touchstone, one year old, starts on the risky business of making the trip from Mommy to Daddy's strong hands. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jackie Touchstone, 1206 College.

IT IS WITH PRIDE that a father watches his son develop from a Cub Scout into a full-fledged Eagle, and Fred Coleman, 506 E. 16th, is no exception. In picture above, he and his son, Freddie examine the group of badges the youngster has amassed in his scout work and take pleasure in the fact that there are just two more to earn; those two are in swimming and life saving—and this is just the season for it.

WITH A TOUCH of sadness and a lot of joy, a father realizes, as he escorts his daughter to the church on her wedding day, "She's really grown up!" Typifying those feelings, are Marvin Miller and his daughter, Carolyn, at the door of their home, 511 Hillside, before her marriage Saturday evening to Lt. Milton Leroy Aston of Fort Huachaca, Ariz., in the First Presbyterian Church.

NOBODY EVER HAD IT SO GOOD as grandpappies, as John A. Coffee, 513 Edwards Circle, at left will tell you. Grandchildren are to be played with and then, when discipline is necessary, turned over to parents. Besides that, on Father's Day, granddaddies have a good chance of getting a double number of gifts. In the group, is one-year-old Michelle, who must be swung by her grandfather; three-year-old Lynette receives help from her daddy, John Richard Coffee, and Karen, who is four, is big enough that she can make the double swing work by herself.

BIG SPRING, TEXAS, SUNDAY, JUNE 19, 1960

MRS. JAN GARLAND TALLY

Miss Huffstetler Is Wed To Jan Garland Tally

Under a white wrought-iron arch, the nuptial union Sherry Huffstetler and Jan Garland Tally were performed by the Rev. Al Seddon in St. Paul Presbyterian Church at 8 o'clock Saturday evening.

The single ring rite was read beneath the arch that was entwined with huckleberry greenery before a centering basket of white stock and gladioli. White tapers were held in candelabra.

"I Love You Truly" and "Because" were sung by Wayne Nance with Mrs. William T. McRee at the piano.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Huffstetler, 1219 E. 18th, and Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Tally, 1201 Pennsylvania.

Mr. Huffstetler gave his daughter in marriage. White Chantilly lace and satin were combined in the bride's attire. The bodice, of lace over satin, featured a V-neckline and long sleeves that came to petal points over the bride's hands. The floor-length full skirt was highlighted with an apron-effect of Chantilly lace. In the back, falling into a chapel train, were rows of lace, a continuation of the lace apron.

BRIDAL VEIL

The veil of white tulle was caught to a tiara of pearls. The bridal bouquet was a white orchid nestled in white feathered carnations.

A pearl pendant set in a circle of white gold was worn by the bride as something new. For something old, she wore a wide gold wedding band that belonged to her grandmother, Mrs. Ruth Huffstetler. Something borrowed were the pearl earrings of Mrs. George Scott. The traditional pennies bearing the couple's birthdates were carried in Miss Huffstetler's shoes.

Sharon Tally, a sister of the bridegroom, was maid of honor. Of lilac silk organza, her frock featured large puffed sleeves and a bouffant skirt. A braided halo of self-material was worn on her hair. Miss Tally accented her attire with white shoes and short white gloves. She carried a nosegay of deep orchid carnations.

Serving as his son's best man was R. B. Tally. Guests were ushered by Teddy Groebel and Wesley Hildreth.

In the church parlor the newly-wedded couple, along with their parents and attendants, greeted guests.

TEA TABLE

Refreshments were served from a table with a white satin underlay. A white net cloth with many rows of ruffles reached to the floor. White candles based in fern flanked the bridal bouquet, which formed the centerpiece. The wedding cake was three-tiered, separated by white columns and topped with a miniature bridal couple.

In charge of the guest register was Tommy Carter, who wore a lilac dress. Out of town guests were the E. S. Andrews of Clovis, N. M.; the Floyd Bells and C. H. Pences of Midland, and Mrs. Dove Tally of San Antonio.

Mrs. Tally is a recent graduate of Big Spring High School where she was chosen FHA Homemaking of the Year in 1959. She belonged to the Tri-Hi-Y, Junior Historians, Pep Squad and Bible Club.

The bridegroom graduated from BSHS in 1957. He attended Weaver College in Ogden, Utah, for two years. He is a member of the Aces Motor Club and the Marine Reserves. Now he is in business with his father at Tally Electric Company.

A beige silk shantung dress with a matching jacket that had three-quarter length sleeves was worn by the new Mrs. Tally on her wedding trip to an undisclosed destination. White accessories and the orchid from her bouquet were used. When the Tallys return they will reside at 1013 Wood.

REHEARSAL DINNER

The couple presented gifts to their attendants at the rehearsal dinner given Friday evening at Coker's Restaurant. Hosts for the party were the parents of the bridegroom. Mixed flowers decorated the table where 15 guests assembled.

Shower Is Given For Miss Brown In Lamesa Home

LAMESA—Alvah Ruth Brown, bride-elect of Raymond Hollis, was in the honor spotlight at a shower held Thursday night at Woman's Study Club Building.

She received the guests along with her mother, Mrs. S. E. Brown, her future mother-in-law, Mrs. R. W. Herndon and her sister, Mrs. Glenn Long.

A lace cloth over blue covered the tea table which featured a large brass-footed crystal epergne arranged with blue tapers, banked in blue flowers and grapes. A large blue bow rested at the epergne's base, and clear frosted grapes and pears circled the crystal punch bowl.

Hostesses were Mrs. R. T. Bingham, Mrs. M. H. Crawford, Mrs. Bob Newsum, Mrs. Edwin Carnes, Mrs. Jimmy White and Jo Crabtree.

August Plans

The engagement of Kay Sharon Leatherwood and Herman Bouchard has been announced by Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Leatherwood, Lamesa Hwy., the bride-elect's parents. Bouchard is the son of Mrs. Azilda Bouchard, Fort Kent, Me. The couple will be married Aug. 5 in the First Baptist Church.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Cardwell are spending the weekend in Odessa and Fort Stockton.

The Roy Walravens and Kay are in Burnett this weekend with Mrs. Walraven's parents, the Luther Stovers. Another daughter, Sherrie, will return to Forsan with her parents. She has been a guest of her grandparents for two weeks.

Year Of Moving Ends For Local Newcomers

Life in Lancaster, Penn., was reasonably settled during the years John Samson was studying at Penn State and his wife, Jerry, worked as a switchboard operator for Bell Telephone Co. All that well-ordered life came to a halt last June when John was graduated and interviewed for a job with Hughes Aircraft as a missile engineer. Samson was accepted for the job and sent to Los Angeles, Calif., where the couple lived for five months. Then they were sent to Seymour-Johnson Base in Goldsboro, N. C., where he received training, and after three months back they went to Los Angeles. Here they spent two months before he was assigned by the company as field engineer with the 331st Fighter Interceptor Squadron at Webb AFB. They are now making their home at 1212 Ridgeway.

The couple took on a little bit of Texas four months ago when residing in Goldsboro. Friends who were living in Abilene told the Samsons of the kennels there where French poodles were sold. The couple asked that one be sent to them and into their lives came Dominique, a completely black bit of French fluff. Her eyes are so black it's hard to tell where they are located in her face. Anyway, she's a happy dog, who traveled quite a bit before she settled down little more than a hundred miles from where she started.

Had the couple stayed longer in Goldsboro, they might have been operators of a home for foster children. Javing read of a need for qualified homes for children whose parents were unable at the time to care for them, Mrs. Samson inquired into the matter and decided to try for a license. The couple qualified and had received their permit only a month before they were transferred.

Since coming to Big Spring just a week ago, Samson has joined the Western Sportsman Club where he can shoot to his heart's content. The couple also likes hi-fi and has a fine FM tuner which the man of the house made. A friend made a beautiful cabinet to house the speakers but the Samsons don't know how loud it can be tuned as they have lived in apartments since they received it and none of the neighbors liked it even tuned a little loud.

Pretty red-haired, blue-eyed Mrs. Samson keeps busy with her house, her dog and knitting which consists of a sweater for her husband; she doesn't display her handwork, however.

Natives of Lancaster, Penn., the couple belongs to the Lutheran Church.

How To Preserve A Husband

(Paste this recipe in your cook book)

Select one not too young, but once chosen, give your entire thoughts to prepare him for domestic use.

Some wives keep them in a pickle, others are constantly getting them in hot water. This makes them sour, hard to get along with and sometimes bitter.

Even poor varieties become sweet, tender and good, if garnished with patience, well sweetened with kisses.

Keep them warm with a steady fire of domestic devotion, a mantle of charity and forgiveness and serve with peaches and cream.

Prepared this way, they will last and taste good for many years.

THIS RECIPE IS A PUBLIC SERVICE MESSAGE TO BENEFIT ALL HUSBANDS AS OUR FATHER'S DAY TRIBUTE.

Carolyn Miller, Lt. Aston Recite Wedding Vows Saturday Evening

MRS. MILTON LEROY ASTON

Lt. Milton Leroy Aston of Fort Huachuca, Ariz., and Carolyn Jean Miller took their wedding vows Saturday evening in the First Presbyterian Church. Dr. R. Gage Lloyd, pastor of the church, read the double ring ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Miller, 511 Hillside, are parents of the bride; the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Charles M. Taylor, Clinton Sherman AFB, Okla., and the late Mr. George Aston.

Calla lilies and tall white tapers were spaced amid emerald palms for the background, while the altar was centered with a white prie-dieu, flanked with white Grecian columns topped with tapers and entwined with garlands of greenery.

Tall white tapers, held in wrought iron candelabra tied with bridal satin and foliage, lighted the bridal aisle.

"Because" and "The Lord's Prayer" were selections sung by Mrs. Don Newsom, accompanied by Mrs. Champ Rainwater, organist.

Miller escorted his daughter to the altar and gave her in marriage. Magnolia white peau d'ange lace combined with white taffeta, which formed an oval back panel to sweep into a court train on the wedding gown; scalloped lace emphasized the portrait neckline and the elbow length sleeves of the figurine bodice. The bell-shaped skirt was of lace.

Floating in tiers to her waist was a veil of imported illusion, which was caught to a cap of orange blossoms and taffeta roses.

WEDDING TRADITION
On a white Bible the bride carried a white orchid in a shower of Stephanotis and picot satin ribbon; the Bible, which she named all of something old, had been given to her by her grandmother, Mrs. H. H. Stevens, in 1941. Something new was a diamond pendant, a gift from the bridegroom, and blue was a garter which a bridesmaid, Mrs. Eugene Fish of Fort Worth, had given to the bride. A penny had been borrowed from the bride's sister, Mrs. William Barnard of Abilene, who served as her matron of honor.

Joining Mrs. Barnard and Mrs. Fish were Mrs. Harry D. Aston, Kay Busch and Bethene Sheffield, all of Fort Worth; Corrie Brazzil of Houston and Glenna Coffey.

All attendants were identically attired in frocks of pale yellow silk organza, with shirred bodices and full waltz length skirts. Tiny circular veils were attached to organza bows, and flowers were calla lilies tied with mist green satin.

Elwin Edward Aston, of Fort Worth served his brother as best man; ushers were William Barnard, Dick Preston of Stillwater, Okla.; John Blanton, of Dallas; Steve West of Keller; Lt. Dwayne West, of Salina, Kan.; Lt. Jerry Williams of Ft. Bliss and Win Spofford of Hoider, Mass.

Terry Lynn Martin was flower girl, and taper lighters were two cousins of the bride, Fredda Bonifield and Ronald Miller of San Angelo. The rings were carried by Blake Aston of Fort Worth, nephew of the bridegroom.

During the reception, held at Cosden Country Club, Mrs. Lee Rogers assisted the couple and their parents, along with the feminine attendants, in welcoming guests.

A cloth of white silk organza, floor length and finished with an embroidered flounce, covered the satin underlay on the bride's table. A Grecian urn holding calla lilies and white stock was flanked by tapers in silver holders.

The bridal cake of three tiers was decorated with confection roses on the frosting and held a miniature bridal pair.

Mrs. John Blanton of Dallas was at the guest register; others in the house party included Dr. Rogers, Mr. and Mrs. Rainwater and Julie; Mr. and Mrs. Newsom; Mrs. Walter Wheat; Mrs. Robert Thomas; Mrs. Elwin Aston; Mrs. Joe Latham of Midland; Mrs. Robert Miller of Fort Worth; Mr. and Mrs. Richard Johnson; Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Thompson; Mary Ann Nugent; Martha Charles of San Angelo; Sally Cowper and Iris Jones.

The occasion was the bridesmaids luncheon honoring the girls who will attend Miss Arrick in her wedding Saturday when she becomes the bride of Lt. Darrel Gene Burris. The couple will be married in the chapel at Webb AFB.

Fall Fashions From Germany Sure To Please Americans

German fashions are more to the American taste this trip. Ninety designs now on tour in America illustrate the trend to loose, easy lines that please style-conscious women everywhere.

The trend to beads and fur in American fall collections showed up in the German model lineup presented by the German Fashion Institute.

Many coats and suit jackets are lined with fur or with Norwegian patterned fabric resembling popular Scandinavian sweater designs. Ponchos for after-ski wear stole the show because of their striking contrast to the generally conservative line of coats, suits and ball gowns. One poncho was black-trimmed with cherry braid. Another—old coat—was black, brown and beige plaid with enormous cuffs.

Gifts, presented to the girls, were also wrapped in the colors corresponding to each of the dresses.

Seven were present for the party.

Rebekah Officers Are Honor Guests
Honoring outgoing and incoming officers of the John A. Koe Rebekah Lodge, Mr. and Mrs. Jones Lamar were hosts for a coffee Saturday morning.

Baptist Church Scene Of Wheat-Henson Nuptials

LAMESA — Jackie O'Neil Wheat of O'Donnell claimed Sharron Jeanette Henson of Welch as his bride in a double ring ceremony at 3 p.m. Friday in the First Baptist Church of Welch. The Rev. Howard Marcom, pastor of the O'Donnell Methodist Church, was the officiating clergyman.

Mr. and Mrs. Ira Henson of Welch and Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Wheat of Brownfield are the parents of the couple.

Mrs. Judy Coar, organist, accompanied Mrs. LaVeda Raynes and Carolyn Fielder, who sang "Whither Thou Goest" and "Always" as vocal duets.

Patsy Henson sister of the bride, and Kathy Fannoff-Lubbock, niece of the bridegroom, lit the tapers which were placed in branched candelabra at the altar and flanked a bridal archway entwined with huckleberry leaves and blue shaded carnation. Baskets of white gladioli completed the altar setting.

Mrs. Wheat's father gave her in marriage. She wore a formal gown of Chantilly lace and tulle over taffeta with scallops of Venetian lace edging the portrait neckline of the bodice. The long sleeves tapered to points over the hands and a skirt of tulle full over tiers of nylon ruffled net to be enhanced with an apron of Chantilly lace edged in scallops of Venetian lace.

Her fingertip veil of silk illusion was edged with matching Venetian lace and was attached to a seed pearl crown. She carried a bouquet of white carnations atop a White Bible.

The bridegroom's sister, Jerry Wheat of Lubbock, was maid of honor. She wore a blue cotton satin dress with fitted bodice and bouffant skirt; her matching fabric headband held a circular tulle veil, and she carried a colonial bouquet of white carnations.

Sandra Winford and Geneva Gibson of Welch, bridesmaids, were dressed identically to the honor attendant, and the bride's niece, Robin Sue Stanfield of Midway, was flower girl.

John Wheat of Brownfield was his brother's best man. Ushers were Beal Finch and Kent Thompson of O'Donnell.

Uncle Of Bride Reads Twin Ring Ceremony

The Rev. Bobby Phillips, pastor of the Westside Baptist Church, Lamesa, read the double ring ceremony which united in marriage, his niece, Carol Anne Phillips, and James B. Drake Friday evening. The couple took their vows in the First Methodist Church.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmo Phillips, 1306 Mt. Vernon, are the bride's parents; Mr. and Mrs. Jack R. Drake, 200 Creighton, are parents of the bridegroom.

A white satin bench, upon which the couple knelt, centered the background banked with emerald foliage and illuminated with white tapers. A large sunburst arrangement of snowshoe gladioli and white chrysanthemums was immediately behind the prie dieu.

Wedding music was played by Jeribyan McPherson of Snyder, who accompanied Delores Howard, as she sang "Because" and "The Yord's Prayer." The organist used the traditional marches for the professional and recessional.

The bride's father gave her in marriage. Chosen for the bridal gown were white silk organza and Alencon lace, which alternated in wide bands to make the full, floor length skirt. This was joined to a molded bodice of lace with scalloped neckline extending to a V in the back. Pearls were embroidered as a border.

RAINBOW BIBLE
To a small coronet of lace and pearls a veil of bridal illusion was attached. The bridal bouquet was shaped as a crescent and made of gardenias and white satin picot ribbon. Underneath was a white Bible which had been given to the bride when she served as worthy advisor for the Rainbow Girls.

With a nod to tradition, she named a lace handkerchief as something old; it had belonged to her great-grandmother, the late Mrs. J. W. Phillips. The wedding veil had been borrowed from Mrs. Royce Walker; the bride wore a blue garter, which will be worn by 12 friends for their weddings, and in her slippers, she carried birthdate pennies.

Attending as maid of honor was Carolyn Sewell, who was attired in peacock crystallette over taffeta, styled with an off-shoulder neckline on the fitted bodice. She wore matching gloves, half-hat and pumps.

Dressed identically to the maid of honor were the bridesmaids, who wore turquoise frocks. They were Linda and Marilyn Phillips, sisters of the bride, and the junior bridesmaid, Sue Lynn Drake, sister of the bridegroom.

The girls carried bouquets of azalea pink carnations, in cascade and tied with matching ribbon. Taper lighters were Marilyn Big-bam and Loan Phillips, cousins of the bride, who chose aqua for their costumes.

Jackie Richbourg served the bridegroom as best man. Guests were seated by Preston Yarbough and Dale Rector; groomsmen were Wayne Clay of Albuquerque, N.M., a cousin of the bridegroom; a brother, Don Drake, and a brother-in-law, W. D. O'Donnell of Austin.

Organza with bands of silk embroidery over satin covered the table where a five-branched candelabrum was festooned with greenery and gardenias. A four-tiered cake was topped with wedding bells and embellished with roses of frosting.

The couple left for points in South Texas and along the Gulf Coast as their wedding trip. The bride wore a suit of linen in melon hue, with black accessories and a gardenia corsage.

Upon their return the Drakes will make a home at 110 E. 17th. The bride is a graduate of Big Spring High School, where she was a secretary of the student council; worthy advisor of the Rainbow Girls; a member of Tri-Hi-Y and the volley ball team. She is employed by Cosden Petroleum Corporation. The bridegroom, also a BSHS graduate, was president of the Distributive Education Club and HS-Y. He is employed by Hull and Phillips.

REHEARSAL DINNER
Mr. and Mrs. Phillips hosted the rehearsal dinner held Thursday evening at Coker's Restaurant. Gifts were presented to his attendants by the bridegroom. About 23 guests were seated at a table decorated with an arch, based in pink carnations and sheltering a small bride and groom.

BRIDESMAID LUNCHEON
Trees of aqua and turquoise net puffs and pink carnations emphasized the color scheme of the bride when her attendants were honored Friday at a luncheon in the K. H. McGibbon home.

The trees centered the two tables where guests were seated. Gifts were presented to the attendants by the bride, who was attired in a transition cotton fashioned with full skirt and fitted bodice.

MRS. CHARLES WRIGHT

Glaser-Wright Vows Exchanged

Layla Ann Glaser and Charles Wright exchanged nuptial vows Saturday evening in the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Odas Williams, 1304 Vines Ave.

The double ring rite uniting Miss Glaser and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Melton Wright of Coahoma was read by Leonard L. Ware, minister of the West Fourth Church of Christ.

The couple stood before baskets of pink and white gladioli. Wedding music was played by Billy Evans, uncle of the bride.

Miss Glaser, given in marriage by her grandfather, Earl C. Evans, wore a white street-length dress. Horizontal bands of embroidery embellished the skirt and collar.

The shirtwaist-styled dress had three-quarter length sleeves that were slightly puffed. Gauntlets of lace complemented her attire.

A locket belonging to the bride's mother was worn as something old; the white Bible to which the bridal bouquet of white flowers was attached was something new.

Miss Glaser borrowed her wedding dress from Mrs. Don Cannon and wore a blue garter.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Cannon. Claude Nichols served as best man.

A scalloped white cloth over a pink underlay covered the refreshment table. On a reflector base stood a tiny bride and groom, flanked by candles and surrounded by fern. The bride's cake was three-tiered with a miniature wedding couple.

Members of the house party were Judy Mikesell and Velma Ware.

For her wedding trip to an undisclosed destination, Mrs. Wright selected a sleeveless dress of white pique. The V-back was edged with blue ribbon.

Mr. and Mrs. Wright will reside at 506 4th Street in Coahoma. He is employed by R. E. Jones Sand and Gravel Co.

Easy Barbecue

Barbecue sauces need not be complicated. Here is an especially good one for chicken: Brush cut-up chicken with a mixture of 2 tablespoons soy sauce, 1/2 cup Spanish olive oil, a crushed garlic clove and a teaspoon of honey or maple-blended syrup.

Salt is not necessary (the soy sauce provides it) but add salt to your taste if you prefer. Brush chicken frequently with the mixture as it grills over the charcoal. Chicken takes on completely different flavor and olive oil keeps the meat juicy and succulent.

Pickled Fish Makes Hors d'Oeuvres

In all Spanish-speaking countries, a favorite hot weather hors d'oeuvres is pickled fish. Use any small whole fish, fish steaks or fillets. First sprinkle with salt and a little lemon juice, let stand an hour. Then wipe off, and simmer in a cup of Spanish olive oil for 15 minutes. Add no water and keep the heat moderate.

When fish is tender, gently remove to deep jar or bowl. To hot oil add 10 peppercorns, two bay leaves, half a cup of vinegar and 1 small onion, thinly sliced. Place all this in a deep jar or bowl and store for at least 24 hours. Delicious served chilled as a first course or snack.

Local Women End Washington Trip

Mr. and Mrs. James D. Phillips and Mr. and Mrs. V. L. Daniels are parents of the bridal pair.

Baskets of white carnations and greenery with candelabra decorated the chapel altar. Wedding music was presented by Mrs. Ronnie Hamilton, pianist and Jean Stone, vocalist.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a street-length dress of white brocaded faille fashioned on princess lines with bracelet length sleeves and large shawl collar; her shoulder veil was attached to a headpiece of seed pearls, tulle leaves and satin ribbons. Her flowers were white carnations.

Tissue Paper Helps Eliminate Wrinkles In Packed Clothing

AP Newfeatures
To keep your garments wrinkle-free when you travel, use tissue paper, advises Frieda Stoll, Purdue University clothing specialist.

Fabric areas should be separated by layers of tissue, she says. Spread it between the back and front of dresses, blouses and skirts; push a sheet of it down into the sleeve. Tissue adds nothing to weight.

One of the most economical ways to use suitcase space is to roll garments into long cylinder-shaped rolls, she says. Then pack rolls close together in parallel rows, taking care to avoid wrinkling when rolling by contact of fabric with fabric.

Another trick is to lay garments out flat beginning at the bottom of the suitcase, protecting each layer with tissue.

Miss Stoll suggests locating items conveniently in your suitcase, protecting each layer with tissue.

An old-fashioned ice cream supper and lawn party was given for members of the Barbara Reagan Class of the First Baptist Church Thursday evening at the home of the teacher, Mrs. W. F. Taylor.

Mrs. R. M. Dean was cohostess for the affair at which the husbands of members were special guests along with the Rev. and Mrs. Frank Pollard. The Rev. Mr. Pollard brought the devotion on Paul's indebtedness to Christ and His gospel, using as his text Romans 1:14-16.

A patriotic theme of red, white and blue was used on the game tables and a flag grouping was combined in a floral centerpiece. Refreshments were served to 24 members and guests.

Part Of California Like This Area—Hot And Dry

By JESS BLAIR

MODESTO, California — From the beautiful highlands of Lake Tahoe into the steamy San Joaquin Valley took two hours and was like going to a different world. The temperature was up around 103 today, and no relief is expected for several days. As I progress south the heat will get worse. People here say I'll be lucky not to run into 112 degree-temperature around El Centro and Yuma.

This is the flattest part of California I've seen. It is much like the area from Lubbock to Plainview except for the flowers and trees. There are nice shade trees scattered along the highways and around the farm houses. Trees may be nice, but they're not worth much on a day like this unless you are under one. And I didn't linger beneath many this afternoon.

Spent last night in Sacramento and made only about 85 miles today. The towns are similar to the larger ones in West Texas, except they may be a bit more up-to-date. The stores are prettier and better-arranged, but prices higher.

Motel rooms are cheap enough because not even a tourist is foolish enough to linger here long in the summer months. Other things are higher, though. Regular brand gasoline costs over 35

Methodists To Elect Bishops, Review Work

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—Methodist ministers and laymen from eight states meet here next week to elect five bishops and review the work of the south-central jurisdiction of the church.

Delegates also will name the jurisdiction's representatives on the boards and agencies of the church at the national level.

Bishops will be named to succeed the late Bishop Bascom Wall of Nebraska, who died since the last jurisdictional conference four years ago, and Bishops A. Frank Smith of the Houston-San Antonio area and Dana Dawson of the Kansas area, who are retiring.

If the 314 voting delegates approve, two other bishops will be elected for new Episcopal areas to be established in the San Antonio and Louisiana areas.

Approval of the delegates is considered a formality, according to the Rev. Donald Redmond, superintendent of the Southwest Texas Methodist Conference. Establishment of the new Episcopal areas already has the approval of General Council of the church.

San Antonio and the surrounding area currently are in an Episcopal area with the Houston area. The New Orleans Episcopal areas would serve Louisiana, which now is part of the Louisiana-Arkansas Episcopal area.

Delegates will be present from Texas, Louisiana, Arkansas, Oklahoma, New Mexico, Kansas, Missouri and Nebraska.

Bishops are nominated through a system of written ballots in which each voting delegate writes the names of five ministers he considers most qualified for the positions.

There are no nominating speeches or open campaigns.

Voting continues until five ministers have received 188 votes each or 60 per cent of the votes cast.

Visitors at the sessions are expected to boost attendance to around 3,000.

Delegates will hear reports on the operations of hospitals, schools and colleges in the jurisdiction. They will discuss plans for work in missions, evangelism, lay activities and the administrative and financial fields of the denomination.

Belton Railroad Wants MKT Line

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Belton Railroad Co. has asked Interstate Commerce Commission authority to acquire 7.14 miles of branch railroad in Bell County, Tex., operated by the Missouri-Kansas-Texas Railroad.

The application said Belton was incorporated April 14 and is seeking permission to acquire and operate the line from Smith Belton, Tex. It added that the line is a branch which MKT proposes to abandon.

Belton said it has entered into an agreement with the MKT under which the 7.14 miles of track will be sold to it at estimated salvage value, less cost of salvage pickup and of shipping salvage to market. This would bring the net cost to about $15,000.

African Stabilizer

ROME (AP)—African respect for family life will be the means for laying a foundation for an ordered society on that continent, Bishop Laurian Rugambwa, recently named the first Negro cardinal for Africa, told a news conference here.

Johnson Says Cuba Is Next

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas told the Senate that the next tension spot for the cold war may be Cuba in events stemming from Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's visit there.

Johnson said "we can only speculate as to the events which may take place right on our doorstep" but that this country must now "do some very serious thinking as to how we will react to even closer collaboration between the Soviets and the Cuban government."

"Premier Khrushchev will receive a warm welcome in Cuba. That will be guaranteed by the army, the police and all the organs of government," he said.

"We do not know what else he may receive in Cuba," Khrushchev announced early this month that he had accepted an invitation to visit Cuba and that the time would be decided later.

No date for the visit has yet been announced. There have been reports in diplomatic circles here that the Soviets were shopping around for invitations for their Premier to visit some other Latin-American countries on the same trip.

Johnson said "it is clear that we face a period of heightened cold war tensions."

'Year Of Jubilee'

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—Formation of the American Lutheran Church, through a merger of three Lutheran branches at a convention here, marked the start of a "Year of Jubilee" for the new church, extending into the spring of 1961. It's theme: "On the Way Rejoicing."

cents per gallon, and meals listed at $1.50 in Big Spring would cost $2.00 or more here.

ALL HIGHER

If living costs are higher, however, so are wages. The fruit packing workers are threatening a walk-out, which will cause fruit and vegetables to rot in the fields. There has also been a strike in a large feed mill and another plant is expecting one.

A mill superintendent says he is possibly paying the highest wages in the country. His lowest paid workers, who are sweepers and janitors, are drawing $2.24 an hour, while the mill mechanics are getting $3.08. Agricultural workers are also high-paid, and no one would even walk into the field for a dollar an hour.

Nearly every kind of crop that grows in warm countries is found here. This includes farm crops, vegetables, strawberries, almonds, grapes, and a few I didn't recognize. The irrigation water comes from rivers, though those along the highway were dry. Without irrigation there would be no farming, but it isn't a desert like one finds around Indio and Needles.

HAVEN OF STARS

I'll carry some nice memories of Reno and Lake Tahoe. From Reno I drove South to Carson City, which is the smallest capital city in the nation. Only slightly larger than Stanton, it sits between high mountains on one side and sagebrush range on the other.

Turning westward, one climbs 2,000 feet in 14 miles, and there in a beautiful setting of tall pines is the blue waters of Lake Tahoe. This is the playground of California and was swarming with people. At Harrah's Lake Tahoe Club is where the movie stars hang out during hot weather. I enjoyed hearing a bearded man and a girl sing western songs. They were very good, but the crowd wanted to see Rose Mary Clooney who puts on three shows a night.

Even though a dozen stars are around, you seldom see one. They are like owls and come out only after dark. One of the rest room attendants didn't think much of the actors. He said they were hard to get along with and seldom tipped anyone except good-looking waitresses.

FANCY PLACE

The Harrah club is really fabulous, according to the natives, and no one could dispute it. Nearly a city block in length and two-thirds as wide, it must have cost a million dollars. The floor is completely covered with an expensive carpet, some of the rest-rooms have piped-in music and there are large mirrors in the ceiling, so that when you raise your head the people look upside down. A good-many of the customers had been to the bar so often they didn't need a mirror.

Had planned to go to San Francisco this morning, which was only about 60 miles away, but decided the traffic was too heavy. One thing about California is that it's completely saturated with people. All day long on every highway there is a steady stream of cars. When stopping for a red-light, 15 to 20 cars will be stretched out behind, waiting to get a fast jump on the signal change.

Tonight at 11:00 the hum of traffic still goes on—big deiseles, family cars, little foreign models, all streaming madly along the highway almost on top of one another.

Compared to this, the Northwest has its points. It may be rugged and unpopulated, even lonely, but driving is easier on the nerves. Mountains may be dangerous if you drive off one, but seldom attack you, which is more than I can say for some of these California drivers.

A Devotional For Today

Ye are my friends, if ye do whatsoever I command you. (John 15:14)

PRAYER: We thank Thee, dear Father, for the friendship of Jesus. Help us to be willing always, to give Him our love and friendship every moment of our lives. We ask in His dear name. Amen.

An Area In Need Of Help

When the all new home for the crippled children center blossomed, there was some speculation that facilities previously proposed for it would be available for the park in northwest Big Spring. We are not advised whether such is a solid proposal or whether it was mere speculation.

We do know, however, that some sort of community center is needed for the park. Right now about all that can be said for the park is that it contains a swimming pool. The pool has suffered some damage because of its isolation.

Our citizens in proximity to the northwest park deserve some substantial improvements. They deserve a park that looks like a park and serves needs as a park should. Moreover, they are in urgent need of some sort of structure that will serve as a community center. The school district has been generous in providing its facilities to help meet such needs, but there are many times that a center could fill the bill much better.

The record as concerns the swimming pool is not one to brag about when it comes to vandalism, but if enough can be done to improve the area to cause pride, we believe the folks will take pride in seeing that the improvements are protected.

Today's Needs, Tomorrow's Crises

If there can be any doubt of West Texas water needs, one has but to peruse a map of Texas showing the population gains and losses by counties within the past decade. Draw a line parallel to the east line of Howard County and there won't be a dozen counties west of that line which failed to gain population within the last 10 years.

The only other area which can approach this record is the fringe of counties hugging the Texas coast line.

Another thing, not totally unrelated to the population increase, is the record of water consumption for the past week. If cities in this area have ever exceeded the volume of water delivered within that same space of time, we do not recall when it was. Almost every city in the area has come up with peak days just as they have for several years.

Thus, water needs are not something that to be projected upon some distant and nebulous date; they are here right now. They are real today and will be pressing tomorrow.

Gov. Price Daniel pin-pointed this last week in calling for a crash program on a statewide basis.

A crucial step happens up Monday in Austin when the State Board of Water Engineers holds a hearing on the application of the Colorado River Municipal Water District to impound a lake in southern Mitchell County. Not only those served immediately by the district but those who may be potential consumers are vitally interested in this proposal, for by the time planning and financing can be arranged, the demand for the water will be urgent.

There's A Time And Place To Criticize

WASHINGTON — There is a good deal of discussion going on these days, inside and outside of Congress, as to the propriety of some of the criticisms recently directed toward President Eisenhower with respect to the collapse of the "summit" conference and the U-2 incident.

Republican leaders in the Senate are saying that it is a mistake for Democratic presidential candidates to be attacking President Eisenhower while he is abroad engaged in very important missions.

One hears, too, from defenders of the Democratic tirades a cry that anyone who questions the timing of the criticism uttered by Democratic spokesmen is therefore against all criticism or in favor of censorship of the press by the government.

It is the all-important step of ordering our military forces into action in Korea, this correspondent reported: "There is no more partisan politics now, as both parties get behind the President in a remarkable demonstration of unity before all the world."

The idea advanced in some quarters recently that those who decry partisanship in the midst of an international crisis are, therefore, against all forms of criticism is absurd on its face. Nobody objects to criticism of any governmental policy, but there is a time and place for everything.

ONE DOESN'T like to see efforts made in Congress today to publicize military information about our missiles or about our system of handling U-2 flights at the very time that Nikita Khrushchev is engaged in a crusade of insults against the President of the United States. No governmental censorship of the press need ever be imposed, but self-restraint can be imposed by conscience, and a feeling of patriotism can be engendered, so that all concerned would forego opportunities to publicize things that for military reasons should remain secret.

There will be plenty of chances between now and election day in November for Democratic party speakers to rake the administration over the coals for various things, national and international. But there is a wrong time and a right time for such criticism. When Nikita Khrushchev and the Moscow radio were blaring forth their insults was certainly the wrong time, and that's the point this writer has endeavored to make.

WHEN A FINAL decision has been made, however, or a negotiation has been completed, there is plenty of opportunity for criticism of the results.

Discussion is always healthy. The critics, however, who give aid and comfort to the enemy in a crisis do so unwittingly and not deliberately. It is the judgment they display, rather than their loyalty, which is open to question and subject to condemnation.

Saves And Slims, Too

BELMAR, N. J. — Mrs. Viola Haberstick, 42, is saving and slimming at the ocean's edge — by beachcombing.

"It's fine for the figure," says Mrs. Haberstick after a day of bending down to pick up lost coins, her specialty. Coin combing is best after storms have washed the top beach sand away. In one month Mrs. Haberstick picked up $39.78 in coins, beating husband Bert by just one penny.

River Foils Escape

GRADY, Ark. — The swift, muddy Arkansas River foiled convict John Easton's bid for freedom.

Easton escaped from Cummins Prison Farm, stole a horse and started across the river. The horse got stuck in the mud. Easton tried to swim the river, but the current turned him back.

He started wading back toward the prison when guards captured him.

$40 Per Day For Fun

CHICAGO — Your family vacation by car will cost you more this year.

The Chicago Motor Club estimates an average vacation budget of $40 a day will be required for each couple driving 300 miles a day. Last year the estimate was $36 a day.

Reasons for the increase are the higher costs for food and lodging. Car operating costs have held steady.

Unemployment—Result Of Industrial Progress

Stubborn. That describes present-day unemployment. It persists in particular industries in particular places and for particular persons and reasons. That's not good. And, yet, it's a mark of progress.

This is a period of industrial and economic change. Inevitably, some industries expand, others contract. As householders and industries switch from coal to oil and natural gas, coal miners in Pennsylvania and West Virginia lose their jobs. As freight moves by truck and passenger by airplane and auto, railroad employment falls. And progress proceeds heartlessly.

Displaced workers often are not readily re-employable. Business men aren't anxious to take on older men. Older people hate to move. They have their homes, their friends, their habits. So we get pernicious pools of unemployment. The saving grace is that this change has occurred during general expansion. Disemployment has been cushioned by increased employment elsewhere.

CONSEQUENTLY, May cannot be called merry, even though employment reached the all-time high for the month of 67,200,000, an increase of 1,049,000 over April. The previous high was last year—66,016,000.

And unemployment declined 201,000 to 3,459,000. Yet, 49 out of every thousand persons in the labor force were jobless. And the rate of joblessness has held near 5 per cent or higher for 31 consecutive months, or since October 1957, when the 1957-58 recession began gathering momentum. The high was 7.5 per cent in August 1958; the low 4.8 per cent in February of this year.

IN THE 1953-54 recession, the high was 6.2 per cent, and in the subsequent recovery the low fell to 3.8 per cent. The peaks and valleys get higher, a primary indication of the stubbornness of the problem.

A second indication is the unusually high number of persons who have been out of work for 15 weeks or more—920,000 or a quarter of the unemployed. Almost half of these have been out of work more than half a year.

A third indication is the Department of Labor's list of "Areas of Substantial and Persistent Labor Surplus." These are located in 24 states and Puerto Rico and include such localities as Evansville and Terre Haute, Ind.; Fall River, Lawrence, Lowell, and New Bedford, Mass.; Detroit, Mich., notwithstanding the high level of automobile production this year; Atlantic City, N. J.; numerous coal sectors in Pennsylvania and West Virginia; Providence, R. I.

THE NATION is suffering from white collarism. Once manual workers far exceeded white-collar workers. Now, white-collar workers exceed blue-collar workers. In 1940, blue-collar workers constituted 53.3 per cent of the work force; in 1957, the proportion had declined to 47.6 per cent and today, it's just under 45 per cent.

Manufacturing, long the hard core of American industrial activity, continues to expand, but with fewer workers. Five years ago, manufacturing accounted for 33 per cent of the non-agricultural workers; today, for less than 31 per cent. Such industries as steel, rubber, automobile are not employing as many persons in this prosperity as in the prosperous era of 1956-1957. Railroad employment is down much more—25 per cent from 1956 — and bituminous employment, 27 per cent.

THESE ARE high-pay industries. Not readily will workers leave them for lower-paying jobs as clerks in five-and-dime stores or supermarkets, assuming the coal miner, or steel worker, or metal worker could adjust to such tasks.

As already noted, habit also causes viscosity. The older coal miner, the railroad worker, the steel man, the cotton spinner, whose job has "progressed" elsewhere, stagnates in America's pool of disutility. He's disfranchised economically by change.

A surge of the economy to new highs—a taking up of slack—will reduce the unemployment that results from temporary layoffs. It will cut down the amount of frictional unemployment—waiting between jobs.

Tough Bird

SOUTH BELMAR, N. J. — A nearsighted alley cat has been waging a bloody battle for the conquest of a concrete cardinal.

The imitation bird perches on the rim of a backyard bird bath. Twice it has been knocked to the ground, its painted plumage marred from the claws of the cat.

The cat, its teeth cracked and out of line, seems to have learned nothing from its painful experiences. It goes on stalking and leaping.

BUT IT WON'T

eliminate the idleness of "progress." This is, in large part, an industrial-welfare problem, which John L. Lewis, in his vast wisdom, foresaw when he set up the United Mine Workers' Health and Welfare Fund.

There's also a touch of solace. If a high level of employment is less dependent on manufacturing, if the white-collar workers, who heretofore, have had more stable jobs, predominate, then we will be less depression-prone. May this not be an explanation of the shallow brevity of our postwar declines?

Nervous Tension A Common Cause Of Diarrhea

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

"Dear Dr. Molner: Is there any way other than surgery to remove a wen, or one of those soft spots (raised places) on my head? I have had one a few inches above my right ear for several years. —Mrs. C.R."

Yes, it's a common cause. Victims of this are high strung and sometimes a little unsure of themselves. Often they are perfectionists who insist that everything has to be just so. Fatigue, therefore, can become a factor.

Some women are so intent over having everything perfect for a dinner party that they become irritable and upset—and for them the party is no fun. With holidays it's the same sort of thing. Fatigue and tension from shopping, getting ready for festivities. Fancy foods may also, at such times, help set off diarrhea.

What to do about it? See if you can discover any particular circumstances that get you too wrought up. Try to decide what things really don't be done and do them. Don't exhaust yourself by doing needless things, or worrying.

You are by no means alone in this problem. If you can relate your troubles to particular occasions, your doctor may find that a mild sedative and perhaps an anti-diarrhea medicine, will help you considerably.

I have been on a diet, and thought the stone was being dissolved. However the past month I have had considerable trouble and just had another picture taken which shows the stone still there and increasing in size.—C.A."

There are different kinds of stones, so different diets and medicines are required to keep the urine as dilute as possible. This means drinking large amounts of water. Sometimes not drinking enough water cancels the advantages of diet. This dilution is extremely important.

NOTE TO MRS. M.A.W.: A blood transfusion from a person of ANY race will have no effect whatsoever on children born to the recipient. For your other question, there is no way that a laboratory test can determine the race of a blood donor.

"Dear Dr. Molner: Two years ago I had an attack of kidney stones and finally passed one. The X-ray picture showed another small one still there. Ever since,

Father Gets Called Everything

The story as I got it was that when Bob Wilcox out at Webb got new of his promotion from major to light colonel there was, of course, much jubilation around the household. A lot of comment, too, about new titles, forms of address, and all that sort of thing.

A very young one in the Wilcox family pondered the new situation for awhile, and then asked, "Is your name still going to be Daddy?"

So, what more can you ask from a devoted little tot, to whom—at one age, certainly—Daddy means an awful lot of security.

THE SENTIMENTALISTS can be making much out of Father's Day, and it would be nice to think that every one would have love and respect and esteem for the paternal parent, I have heard a few people in my lifetime say "my old man was a bum," but even if the old man didn't measure up to the highest standards, I always suspected that filial regard was not completely lacking.

The head of the household, so-called, has been subject to a lot of down-grading in recent years, it seems to me, and if you want to be seeking out causes for the world's decline in straight standards of living, you might list lack of respect for parents as one of them.

A GREAT MANY people of mature years recall their Fathers as stern disciplinarians—men who were mighty handy with the razor strap — and I doubt if youngsters can ever say the same for their Dads.

A great many shows—stage, screen and TV—stories, and all that sort of output having to do with family life seem to make out Pop as a sort of addle-pated duffer, who is absent-minded, easily tricked, and much too preoccupied by his own good. His mate steals money out of his pants pocket, the teen-age kids insult him, and the younger ones perform outrageous frauds upon him.

YES, SIR, Fathers must have to take a lot. The names they get called, for one thing. When the babies are just learning to talk, "Daddy" is a pretty fine word. A few years later a degree of informality has set in, and it's "Pop" who is supposed to take everybody to the ball game. By the time that state of the teen-ager arrives, it's too often "the old man," and they're ashamed of him for appearing at the front door in his undershirt, or for forgetting to get a haircut. By the time of college sophomore year—and there is no more obnoxious period in life—the title has changed to "the Pater," both to show off the gloss of the gloss of the campus, and to indicate a sort of disregard for the chap who is paying the tuition.

WELL, THINGS get better, as they are bound to, and Father later comes back into his own, reaching new delights when his title becomes that of "Gramps."

I suppose a good Father doesn't care really what the rest of the family calls him, if they'd just pay some attention to him, try to help keep the family budget under control, and, well, just be reasonable, for heavens' sake.

This is too much to hope for, but maybe he can count on special treatment one day out of the year. This is it.

—BOB WHIPKEY

A Vital Fraction Of Foreign Aid

WASHINGTON — Within a few days 180 college students will be flying to Africa to take part in an experiment that owes something to America's pioneering spirit and to the deep strain of idealism that is a part of the American character.

Once there, they will divide into groups and go back into the bush in 10 West African countries to join with African students in working on particular projects such as schools and community halls in new settlements. Living under rugged conditions, asking no favors, they will work long hours alongside Africans of their own age.

IN A TIME OF cynicism and the "realism" of avowed espionage and more and more nuclear arms, Operation Crossroads Africa has certain simple, direct objectives. One is to spread an idea of what newly developing Africa means through intelligent young people who will come home to lecture as widely as possible about what they themselves have learned. Another is to show that Americans are deeply and immediately concerned with the future of those who are struggling to achieve independence and nationhood.

Crossroads Africa is a wholly voluntary organization. It illustrates one of the great advantages of a free society in which, in contrast to a dictatorship, people themselves may take the initiative and do what government could not or would not do.

THIS IS the second year that Crossroads Africa has sent students to work with Africans. Although the project has had little publicity, more than 700 young men and women applied for 180 places. Represented in the group now undergoing a week's indoctrination in New York are students from 100 colleges across the country representing every religious faith and racial background.

"The problem of the impact of communism upon Africa was not our primary concern," a report by the organizing group states. "We did not begin by being against something; we were rather motivated by the democratic concepts within ourselves.

"OUR INITIATIVE was not provided by the role of communism, but rather by the firm conviction that the United States has a moral responsibility to develop a positive relationship and to create a large, capable, intelligent and devoted body of experts who would understand and interpret to the American people every area of African life."

In 1958, the first year for Crossroads Africa, one group of 13 students went to the impoverished village of Buel in French Cameroons to help build a two-room cement-block elementary school and a stone chapel with seats for 400 worshippers. Another group went to Ghana and took part in the construction of a seven-room school in the remote Ashantiland village of Saso.

IN SIERRA LEONE, the work project at Gbendembu was to build a village water supply in rugged, hilly bush country. Working without sufficient or proper tools with the ever-present danger of cobras and black mambas — the students killed six during their six weeks on the project — they were able to accomplish the greater part of their project.

Long and serious discussions went on, with the African students and the Americans speaking with complete frankness about every subject under the sun. The Americans discovered that Little Rock loomed large, and they set out to convince their friends that this was only one small part of America and that there was an earnest effort in almost every section of the country to find a way for the races to live together in equality of opportunity.

AFTER EXTENSIVE planning last year, the number of students was tripled for the current project. They pay a part of their own way, although there are fellowships and lack of money is not necessarily a barrier. The organizers believe that the program can be enlarged to take in eventually several thousand students.

Voluntary help such as Crossroads Africa can be no more than a tiny fraction of the total foreign aid America sends abroad. But it is a thrilling and a vital fraction.

Make A Habit Of Happiness

The other night before going to sleep, I was reading in the Book of Proverbs. The Book of Proverbs is packed full of wisdom. In Chapter 15, Verse 15, I came across these words: "He that is of a merry heart hath a continual feast." I lay in bed thinking about that statement. It simply means, of course, that life will be full of good things for the person who learns to keep his heart merry and happy.

But that is the catch. Just how does one do that—what with all the problems and difficulties that come along. One thing is sure—no one can promise you immunity from troubles, but you can have victory over them. And one secret of such victory is the merry heart.

BUT, YOU MAY WELL ask, how can one have such a heart? My answer is that you simply practice being that way. I know a man who is always on top of things. He has a radiant spirit and nothing ever really gets him down. He has what might be called an upbeat of his personality. I had noticed this spirit of happiness for some time and recently I asked him about it.

"You always seem happy," I commented. "How do you get this way?"

"It's very simple," he replied. "I just make it a habit to be happy."

THAT COMMENT is very sound. It is a fact that happiness essentially is a habit. It depends upon how we have been thinking over a long period of time. Our thoughts, habitually held, groove in and follow the same unbroken pattern. So you can, by habit, be either happy or unhappy. The wise point of view is to make a habit of being happy.

Recently a physician told me of a patient who let misery thought get the better of her, and she was full of unhappiness. She complained that she "itched all the time." This doctor tried many remedies, but none seemed to help, and the woman became more and more miserable.

FINALLY, THIS happened: "One day when I went to see her," the doctor explained, "I was in an extra gay and happy mood. I had been at a meeting where a number of good stories had been told and I got to telling them to her. She laughed at the first one. Encouraged, I told her another and still another. Presently she was in gales of laughter, even holding her sides. All of a sudden I turned to her and asked, 'Are you itching?'"

"Caught off guard she replied, 'Come to think of it, no... no, I am not.'

"I told her, 'Well, forget that itching. It's all in your mind. Why don't you practice believing that by the help of Almighty God you are not going to be an itcher any longer.' She followed this wise advice and got well."

CERTAINLY SHE GOT over it, for there was no physical basis to her trouble. She itched in her mind from unhappiness. This doctor told me that by reconditioning the mind of his patient the physical symptoms of inner frustration gave way to sound health and energy.

An old friend has perhaps the best system for developing the happiness habit. Every morning he spends 10 minutes "making himself happy." Actually, he practices what he calls "thought conditioning."

He does several quick physical exercises. He breathes deeply, then reads a few verses from the Bible. Finally he "runs his mind over his personal world," praying for people who have some special need. He forgives anyone who has "done him wrong," as he puts it. "Then I spend a couple of minutes just loving God and thanking Him for everything."

This is a good and practical system, for developing the habit of happiness.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Fence-sitting isn't the safest occupation for the small fry, even if it is fun.

But fence-sitting for grown-ups is neither safe nor fun!

A man has to take a stand. He must let the world know his convictions. He must live them!

The principles in which we believe can perish while we dawdle uncommitted, uncertain, or unchurched.

Behind the iron curtain, men who are determined to overthrow freedom and faith hide neither their communism nor their atheism.

Here in America on a Sunday morning; no man can afford to sit on the fence if he believes in God, and in the right to worship Him in the Church of his choice.

Mark Twain's Finn Is On Ritz Screen

Mark Twain's "The Adventures of Huckleberry Finn," one of the great literary classics of all time, has been brought to the screen. The cast is headed by 13-year-old Eddie Hodges who plays Huck, with Tony Randall, Patty McCormack, Neville Brand, Mickey Shaughnessy, Judy Canova, Andy Devine, and Buster Keaton.

Boxing's light heavy-weight king, Archie Moore, makes his acting debut in the film as Jim, the runaway slave who accompanies Huck on his trek down the Mississippi River.

"The Adventures of Huckleberry Finn" was filmed in color, largely on location on California's Sacramento River, which today is much like the Mississippi of Twain's era. It is on the river that the adventures of Huck and Jim begin as they run away from the little town of Hannibal on a raft.

The picture follows their exploits as they become involved in the plot of a bogus king, played by Randall, and a phony duke, played by Shaughnessy, to get their hands on a family fortune; the episode of the near capture of Jim and Huck by slave hunters; the festive river boat, the "Natchez Queen," when the pair falls into the hands of the King and the Duke, and escape from the sheriff after Jim is captured.

A Formosa Production for MGM, the picture was directed by Michael Curtiz from a screen play by James Lee.

"The Adventures of Huckleberry Finn" shows today through Wednesday at the Ritz.

Sales Pitch

In a scene from "The Adventures of Huckleberry Finn," starting today at the Ritz, Huck falls into the unscrupulous hands of the King and the Duke. Eddie Hodges is starred as Huck, along with Tony Randall as the King and Mickey Shaughnessy as the Duke.

'The FBI Story' Slated At Sahara Wednesday

"The FBI Story," starring James Stewart and Vera Miles, plays today through Wednesday at the Sahara Drive-In Theater.

The film traces the life of a typical young agent, his home life as well as his career with the Bureau. Paralleling his story is the development and growth of the FBI from a struggling organization in 1924 to the operation of today.

Included in the production are such events as gun battles with notorious gangsters John Dillinger, "Pretty Boy" Floyd and "Baby Face" Nelson and the undercover work by agents in solving murders of Osage Indians in Oklahoma to obtain their oil rights.

FBI operation during World War II to counter-act German espionage in South America is another highlight of the story, along with the intensive investigation used in breaking the airline bombing at Denver, Colo., where insurance was the motive.

'Hannibal' Fights Again This Week At The Movies

The Carthaginian general Hannibal's violent battles with the Romans, his prodigious crossing of the Alps with elephant-borne troops and his ill-starred love for the niece of his major enemy make up the story of "Hannibal," coming to the Ritz Thursday.

Victor Mature plays the title role in the color spectacle. Rita Gam and Gabriele Ferzetti are also featured.

Four thousand foot soldiers, 1,500 horsemen and a horde of elephants participate in the re-creation of the battle of Cannae, which took place 2,200 years ago. It was one of the most devastating defeats in early Roman history.

When Hannibal crossed the Alps to engage the Romans he used his own secret weapon—elephants.

The Romans thought the Carthaginian general could never make it over the Alps with his troops to attack Italy. There was no transport that could negotiate the mountains, and the snow and ice made it out of the question for foot soldiers.

The Romans hadn't reckoned on the elephant, however, and Hannibal rounded up a fat, sturdy herd of them to transport his army right into Italy's front porch. The battle of Cannae is one of the 12 most famous battles in history, and compares in historical interest with the 10-year siege of Troy by the Greeks in 1184 B. C., which introduced the wooden horse to history.

Edgar Ulmer directed "Hannibal" for Warner Brothers. The picture is filmed in SuperCinescope, it will run through Saturday.

They're also assigned library study, a series of tests, lectures with experts from various industrial and professional fields, and private conferences with university faculty.

Asbury is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John R. Asbury, Forsan. He will be a junior next fall at Forsan High School.

Archie Moore Turns Actor In 'Huck Finn'

Archie Moore, one of the sports world's most remarkable celebrities, may be about to turn in his light heavyweight boxing title for a more simple one, that of actor.

He will appear Sunday through Wednesday at the Ritz Theatre. "This new career of mine is just about to get me out of the fight business. It's not just a passing fancy. I love it. I guess I've always been a ham at heart."

So said the "Old Mongoose," as he is called affectionately by the sports scribblers, after completing his role at Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer in "The Adventures of Huckleberry Finn." Moore's introduction as "Jim," the runaway slave in Mark Twain's beloved story, has attracted more interest than any other Hollywood acting debut of the year.

"Of course, I'm not ready to hang up the gloves quite yet," Moore continued. "There are a couple of gentlemen I'm still looking forward to fighting, one of them being the heavyweight champion of the world."

'Third Man On Mountain' Is Another Disney Film

Glaciers and snow covered peaks provide the setting for "Third Man on the Mountain," mountain climbing adventure story which plays at the Sahara Drive-In Theater today through Wednesday.

Surrounded by the Matterhorn and Mont Rosa, Switzerland's tallest summit, James McArthur, Janet Munro, Michael Rennie, James Donald, Herbert Lom and Laurence Haismith, play in a story of human courage in defying a killer mountain.

MacArthur is a Swiss youth who dreams of conquering a killer alp. The lad is encouraged in his dangerous goal by Miss Munro.

The young mountaineer attempts to climb the one peak that killed his father and in doing so nearly brings about his own end. His courage, however, brings a famous English climber, played by Rennie, to his side in conquering the icy pinnacle, the "Citadel."

Walt Disney produced the Technicolor film and it was released by Buena Vista. Ken Annakin was director.

Bulk Of Roadway Requirement Met

Assuming that verbal agreements already made by the owners of the longer expanses of land that easements for highway needs will be met, only a mile and a half of right-of-way on U. S. 87 north remains to be signed, Ed Carpenter, county judge, said Saturday.

Deals were made on Friday with Mrs. J. B. McNew for $100 for an acre of right-of-way and for 14 acres from W. C. Fryar. Fryar was paid $90 an acre for the land taken.

Assurance has been given Judge Carpenter that easements will be on hand for tracts along the Garrett ranch, the O. E. Hamlin property and the Slaughter estate.

These are the larger portions of the needed right-of-way. Hamlin's property, which will have to be incorporated into the road involves 24.493 acres. The land needed from Slaughter and Garrett is also extensive and accounts for the bulk of the 11 miles of right-of-way which must be acquired.

Negotiations are under way with the Weber Estate for 12.92 acres. Remaining to be signed are 1.57 acres owned by E. G. Cates; 6.967 acres owned by Edward Lauderdale; 6.987 acres owned by W. H. Lauderdale and one half mile of land 100 feet wide owned by Walter J. Reed.

Judge Carpenter said that condemnation may have to be taken on some of these tracts since all efforts to negotiate with the owners have failed. However, he is convinced that the county will have title to the needed lands, either by purchase or condemnation, well ahead of the deadline set by the Texas Highway Commission. The highway commission proposes to let contracts for making a 4-lane highway of U. S. 87 north of Fairview to the Martin County line sometime in late summer or early fall.

The county is charged with acquiring needed right-of-way. When this is acquired, the state will reimburse the county for the money spent on the right-of-way on a 50-50 basis.

Later on plans will be drawn to continue the broadening of U. S. 87 south from Fairview to the Big Spring city limits.

U. S. 87 from the south edge of the city to the Sterling County line is now being extensively improved. It is being widened and new bridges and paving laid. However, it is not being made into a four-lane highway in that direction.

Brace Yourself, Summer Hasn't Yet Arrived

Even though the temperature has been high as 106 degrees on one occasion and despite the fact that days and nights for the past two weeks have been uncomfortably hot—it's not yet summer. Summer officially begins on Tuesday. It makes its debut at 3:43 a.m. June 21 and holds sway until 7 p.m. Sept. 22.

On June 21, we begin what meteorologists call the summer solstice. On that date, the North Pole is tilted 23 degrees and 27 miles away from the sun. As a result, the days are longer and the nights shorter in the temperate zones. Needless to say, the days are also hotter. In the south polar areas, the reverse is true—the nights are longer, the days shorter and temperature cooler.

LOOKS AT BOOKS

THE GOOD YEARS by Walter Lord. Published by Harper Bros.

What about the period in American history between 1900 and 1914? Were they truly the "good years?"

Walter Lord, whose "Day of Infamy" and "Night to Remember" won him an army of readers and placed him high in the ranks of men who do painstaking research and then write entertainingly of the results, has titled his newest effort "The Good Years." It is a recital of that amazing period in our nation's history from the turn of the century to the beginning of World War I in Europe.

He became interested in the idea of such a book while gathering material for his story of the sinking of the Titanic—recorded in "A Night to Remember."

He expresses his views on the prevailing theory that the people who lived in 1900-1914 had the best of everything as follows: "Good, not because rich men rode in private railroad cars and Society gave magnificent parties. Most people rarely travelled and many went to no parties at all. "Good, not just because the world was at peace. Millions of "little brown brothers" took violent exception to America's fumbling (if well intentioned) imperialism.

Good, not even because a shirt cost 23 cents. The child who made the shirt got only $3.54 a week.

"These years were good because, whatever the trouble, people were sure they could fix it. The solutions differed, of course—Theodore Roosevelt had his Square Deal; Carry Nation her hatchets—but everyone at least had a bold plan and could hardly wait to try it."

In 1958, Lord was asked to write a magazine piece on his research technique. This work brought him in contact again with the interesting details he had unearthed as he worked on his story of the Titanic.

"I found it was simply impossible," he says, "to be exposed to those gigantic ladies hats, those huge brass headlights, those flashing teeth of Teddy Roosevelt, without wanting to write some more about those days."

Result of this allure was the current Lord book, "The Good Years."

The book covers a wide range of time and place. It begins with the Boxer Rebellion in China in 1900; deals with the panic of 1907, and includes Peary's dash for the North Pole in 1909. It recalls the struggle for women's suffrage which was climaxed in 1912. The assassination of Archduke Ferdinand and his wife in July 1914 marked the end of the era. It brought death to the good old days and Lord does not believe they will ever return.

The book is the current selection of the Book-of-The Month Club.

TV Still Looks For Right Way

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—That electric doll, Emmy, puts her best foot forward Monday night—or so it is hoped.

The Academy of Television Arts and Sciences marks a dozen years in the awards business, still searching for an entertaining and logical way of rewarding the best on the TV screens.

This year will see an about-face from previous Emmy awards events, when TV's stars and workers gathered for evenings of somewhat forced gaiety in local night spots. The awards have been given at the Coconut Grove, the Moulin Rouge, Pan-Pacific Auditorium and other places that had little to do with television effort.

"We're trying to get the Emmys out of the night clubs and back to TV, where it belongs," explains Bob Finkel, who is staging the show for NBC.

The aim of the 1959-60 awards is to make them seem as indigenous to TV as possible. The tone will be intimacy, which is what the medium conveys. Shows will originate from Studio 2 at NBC (Burbank) and the Ziegfeld Theater. There will be no studio audience.

Also, no dais, no envelope openings, no presentations by stars with nothing to do but announce the winners.

Court To Receive Car, Paving Bids

The paving bids will be considered at 10 a.m.
