President Eisenhower receives an honorary degree from the University of Hawaii during ceremonies at Kaneohe Marine Air Corps station at Honolulu. From left, are Philip E. Spalding, chairman of the board of regents; the President; Frederick K. Lam, vice chairman of the board of regents; Gov. William Quinn of Hawaii (seated), and Laurence H. Four Talesmen Recruited For Grand Jury

It took four talesmen, picked up from the streets, to recruit a depleted grand jury panel sufficiently for Judge Ralph Caton, 118th District Court, to fill the box Monday morning. Excuses dwindled the original 20 panel members to 13 last Saturday. When court convened Monday morning, only 12 were in the courtroom. Two of these had legitimate excuses. Judge Caton recessed court and instructed Deputy Sheriff Fern Cox to bring in four talesmen to augment the panel. At 10 a.m., the remaining regulars and the four talesmen were present and the court empaneled the grand jury. The members are: Jim Bill Little, foreman; Donald McAdams, Hezlie Reed, Jr., Neal E. Hatch, R. V. Forsyth, Rexie Cauble, Leslie Clawson, Ray Boren, V. R. Patton, John Brent and Milton Knowles. Gil Jones, district attorney, said that only 18 matters remain to be presented to the grand jurors who have already begun their work. He said he had dropped two cases from the original list of 20 which he had announced earlier would be aired. Jones believes that the work can be wound up by noon Tuesday. Most of the cases to be heard involve worthless checks, forgery and similar complaints. One murder with malice charge and one murder by automobile case will be laid before the grand jury.

Congress Begins Last Week (Maybe) Of Present Session

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congress heads today into what could—probably won't—be the final week of its 1960 session. The decision whether it closes up shop next Saturday or carries over into the following week, or even beyond, rests largely with the House Rules Committee. That group is sitting on two major "must" measures and soon may be perched on a third. The trio of key bills deals with minimum wages, federal aid to education, and medical care for the aged. Congressional leaders see little chance of final adjournment by the weekend, but that is their goal. They fear the session will carry over into next week but are dead set against returning after the national political conventions. That means final adjournment not later than July 9 or early on the morning of July 10, the eve of the Democratic convention in Los Angeles starting July 11. It also means that many bills not of a pressing nature will die because there will be no time to consider them in the usual adjournment rush. Personal political considerations may enter heavily into adjournment plans. House Speaker Sam Rayburn

Ike To Describe Asia Tour Tonight

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower, back from a 23,000-mile goodwill tour of the Far East, tells the nation tonight why he reportedly considers it a big success despite cancellation of his Tokyo visit. His speech from the White House at 6:30 p.m. EST will be carried nationwide by television and radio. Advance reports are that he will stress a belief the trip was valuable in strengthening U.S. ties with the countries he visited. The chief executive returned to the capital Sunday exactly two weeks after setting out on the trip which took him to Alaska, the Philippines, Formosa, Korea and Hawaii. He was to have visited Japan as the climax of his tour beginning June 19 but Premier Nobusuke Kishi withdrew the invitation when left-wing and Communist-led riots against a new U.S.

Lyndon Denies Charge He Used Bill For Campaign

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Lyndon Johnson (D-Tex.) caustically labeled as untrue today the charge that he had sought to use a bill proposing medical aid for the aged as ammunition to aid his presidential campaign. Michigan Gov. Mennen Williams made the allegation Sunday at the national governors' conference at Glacier National Park. Johnson, in a prepared statement, called the story untrue and the result of election campaign panic. He mentioned neither Williams nor Sen. John Kennedy (D-Mass.), the front running candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination whom Williams is backing. Williams asserted that Johnson had made a threat to Walter Reuther, president of the United Auto Workers Union, to block the Fire Licks Hungrily At U. S. Forest

GRAND CANYON, Ariz. (AP)—Fire licked hungrily today at the Kaibab National Forest about six miles from the north rim of Grand Canyon National Park. One of Arizona's worst fires, it burst out of a remote pocket in the forest Wednesday and by Sunday night had consumed 7,500 acres of timber, scrub pine and brush. Most serious was the loss of 3,500 acres of prime yellow pine and Douglas fir trees amid the scenic splendor of a forest visited by tens of thousands each year. Manned the rambling 15 miles of shallow trench encircling the flames were 1,000 firefighters equipped with bulldozers, hand tools, three small water pumps and backed by a small aerial fleet. "We fought it to a standstill yesterday," said Forest Ranger Merle C. Oleson, who put in 19 hours helping direct the fight. "Barring too much wind, we should be able to control it within two or three days," he said. Six hundred of the firefighters are Zuni, Santo Domingo and Jemez Indians from Arizona and New Mexico. Fanning the fire up the slopes were winds of 35 m.p.h. Temperatures along the fire front ranged from 100 degrees at 4,000 feet to 80 and 8,500 feet. All but cut off by a swift crown fire, bulldozer operator Jens McCormick and his crew abandoned the vehicle and dived into the shelter of a narrow canyon. "Just as we reached bottom," said McCormick, "here came a huge buffalo snorting and rumbling like a wild bull." Part of the House Rock Valley herd of 300, the buffalo had become separated from the rest and was terrorized by the fire. The herd itself, within easy reach of the Colorado River on the canyon floor was in no danger.

GOVERNORS CONFERENCE Feuds Scuff Out Party Lines

GLACIER NATIONAL PARK, Mont. (AP)—Feuding governors are scuffling out party lines as Democrats blast at political kinsmen and Republicans harpoon each other in this election year governors' conference.

With snow-thatched Rockies as a backdrop, the Democratic battle is hot and heavy between adherents of the top contenders for the party's presidential nomination—Sens. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts and Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas.

On the Republican political shooting range, it's Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York against a rampaging field of Republican state executives pledging their campaign all for Vice President Richard M. Nixon. The score card on Sunday's opening-day round left the definite impression that a sizable majority of Democratic governors believe Kennedy needs only to tie the final strings to have the nomination in the bag.

ISSUE DISPUTED This is disputed by Johnson's backers. But there seemed almost no sentiment among the governors—most of whom will head state convention delegations—for Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo.) or Adlai E. Stevenson, who says he won't dodge a draft.

On the Republican side it was Nixon almost all the way. But there was an ominous note from the party's publicized lone wolf—Rockefeller—that the election is going to be "very tough and close race this year for the Republicans."

3 Timber, Brush Fires

Timber or brush fell today before three Western fires—two in California and one of the worst in Arizona's history. Flames in the Kaibab National Forest about six miles from the north rim of Grand Canyon National Park had charred 7,500 acres of timber, scrub pine and brush. A uncontrolled blaze forced the closing of the southwest entrance to Sequoia National Park in central California. Approximately 2,000 acres of brush were consumed. Between 50 and 75 carloads of campers were evacuated. Control was expected today.

Flier Killed

RAMSTEIN, Germany (AP)—First Lt. George Tarr, 26, of Houston, Tex., was identified Sunday as one of four U.S. Air Force pilots killed in an automobile accident near here Saturday.

WATER USAGE IN SHARP DROP

The weekend relief from the torrid temperatures of the past week was reflected in the water consumption figures at the city filter plant. Water usage dropped sharply to the nine million gallon level.

With a high degree reading Saturday of 89, residents only turned the tap for 9,961,800 gallons, a considerable lag from Friday's record-breaking 12,218,000 gallons. Friday's mercury soared to 102 degrees.

Again Sunday, water consumption was lowered along with the lowering of temperature. Residents used 9,623,800 gallons of water as the thermometer only reached 96 degrees.

Water usage was expected to gain today, however, with a predicted high of 100 degrees. It was 81 at 8 a.m. as the day got off to a running start.

Several Months Wait Expected In School Case

Next step in the litigation to test the action of the Howard County School board in annexing Gayhill and Center Point school districts to the Big Spring Independent District may not develop until mid-October.

Hartman Hooser, Jr., one of the attorneys for the annexed districts, said that he and his colleagues are preparing a transcript of the hearing last week in which Judge Ralph Caton, 118th District Court, ruled an appeal in his court was without standing.

When this transcript is ready, it will be filed in the state court of civil appeals. The districts have up to 90 days in which to file such an appeal. When it goes to the appeals court, it will be placed on the docket and will be heard in regular order when its turn develops.

Hooser said that he did not think the entire 90 days would be used up by his clients but he did not expect a ruling by the appeals court under two or perhaps three months.

In the event that either side wants to continue the struggle before the appeals court, a motion for rehearing can be filed after the appeals court rules. This could further postpone final decision and delay still longer the ultimate determination of whether the county board acted within its powers in ordering the annexation.

8 Drown, 2 More Missing

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Swift flood waters raced through a huge section of the Texas Gulf coast Sunday sweeping some persons to their death and forcing thousands from their homes.

The floods, caused by steady and heavy rains since Thursday, were called the worst disaster to hit some towns since a 1945 hurricane. Eight persons drowned since Thursday. Two are missing and presumed dead.

Flood waters began to recede Sunday night but more thunder showers were forecast for today. Up to 30 inches of rain fell in some areas since Thursday, forcing the Brazos River at West Columbia 10 feet above flood stage. Port Lavaca requested aid from the Navy and the 4th Army. Cots and blankets were sent to the city by helicopter and trucks.

While the floods caused widespread hardship many youngsters considered it an occasion for joy. They paddled down flooded streets in wash tubs and floated in inner tubes.

Floodwaters Are Receding

HOUSTON (AP)—Floodwaters that took four lives receded under a bright sun in Houston today. A rainfall of 14.27 inches in 48 hours forced scores of families from low-lying areas Sunday and caused an estimated $1,500,000 damage to homeowners and farmers in Harris County.

Police searched the swollen bayous for the bodies of the missing. They were Willie Hamm, 31, a city fireman; Lee McKee, 24, University of Houston student; Calvin Joseph, 16, and Martin Aguilar, 16.

At one time police estimated 25 per cent of all Houston streets were flooded Sunday morning. Water entered from 150 to 200 homes. Truck farmers in the area estimated crop damage at $500,000 to $1,000,000. Floyd Miller, city civil defense director, said damage to homes and cars would exceed $200,000 easily.

Most of the bayous were falling today. An exception was Buffalo, the largest of five bayous which cut across the city. There was no danger even though Buffalo bears the load of flood water because of its tributaries. Earthen dams to the west of Houston and flood control projects within the city minimized danger from flood waters.

Scores of home owners refused to leave their flooded homes. They preferred to stack mattresses on tables rather than evacuate. Most homes had about a foot of water, but a number in the Pleasantville addition in northeast Houston had from three to four feet. Most evacuated families were back in their homes today but faced major cleanup jobs caused by water, mud and silt.

Ammo Dump In Cuba Goes Up; Area Is Sealed Off

HAVANA (AP)—Cuban army streams of autos and crowds milled about. Many persons appeared dazed and in a state of shock.

NARROW ESCAPE Castro himself had a narrow escape when his car crashed into another car racing to the scene. He jumped into another car and kept going.

The prime minister and President Osvaldo Dorticos, who inspected the area with him, had no immediate statements. Flying glass caused most of the casualties in the blast—the second munitions explosion in Havana Bay in three months.

The munitions dump was on a tongue of land less than a mile from where the French ship La Coubre blew up March 4 while unloading munitions, killing about 100 persons. Castro suggested that U.S. officials were to blame for the La Coubre explosion but admitted he had no evidence to back up his suspicions. U.S. Secretary of State Christian A. Herter denounced Castro's statements as

250 Southern Votes Lined Up For Johnson

ATLANTA (AP)—A first ballot total of more than 250 Southern votes, not including those of his native Texas, apparently are on tap for Sen. Lyndon Johnson at the Democratic National Convention next month.

Despite the fact that he sponsored a Civil Rights Bill, Johnson seems likely to get some of his support for the Democratic presidential nomination from the Deep South states of Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi and South Carolina.

Tennessee and Virginia delegations already are pledged to him. And he is favored in Alabama, Arkansas, Kentucky and North Carolina.

Florida will cast a first ballot favorite son for Sen. George Smathers, but after that Johnson probably can count on some support from that state.

The leanings of the Southern delegates were compiled from an Associated Press poll.

Georgia, one of the larger uncommitted delegations with 23 votes, will vote as directed by Gov. Ernest Vandiver. No final decision will be announced until just prior to the convention, and the young governor is "likewise toward Johnson."

But Vandiver has called him the least objectionable among the candidates with a chance to get the nomination. And Sen. Herman Tamm, Vandiver's close political ally, is a strong supporter of Johnson.

Because of its alphabetical position, Alabama can determine who will be first to be nominated. The latest poll of Alabama's 29 votes shows 11 1/2 are for Johnson, 5 for Sen. Richard Russell (Ga.) and 1 1/2 for Sen. Sturgis Symington (Mo.). The rest are uncommitted.

Arkansas will caucus after reaching Los Angeles. The state is under the unit rule and a recent poll of delegates showed a majority for Johnson which would mean a first ballot vote for him.

South Carolina similarly is under a unit rule with a majority leaning to Johnson. The best guesses are that Louisiana and Mississippi will give their first ballot vote to the Texan.

Kentucky's delegation is expected to be 27 for Johnson, 3 for Kennedy and 1 for Adlai Stevenson. A North Carolina poll shows Johnson 16, Stevenson 2, Symington 2, Kennedy 1 and 16 uncommitted.

Methodists Consecrate New Bishops

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—The eighth-annual South Central Jurisdictional Conference of the Methodist Church ended Sunday with the ancient rite of "laying on of hands."

Five ministers of the church were consecrated to office of bishop in the highest ritualistic act in the Methodist liturgy.

Retiring Bishop A. Frank Smith of Houston, assisted by others in the Jurisdictional College of Bishops and Bishop Arthur J. Moore of Atlanta, Ga., conducted the consecration service.

Bishop Moore represented the church's Council of Bishops.

"These are peculiar and strange days both of thought and action," Bishop W. Angie Smith of Oklahoma City told the bishops in his sermon. "Your leadership in the episcopacy is desperately needed for the new day in the life of the church."

Last week, conference delegates chose five pastors to be Methodist bishops. Sunday each of the men chosen was accompanied to the chancel by two ministers he had chosen as his sponsors.

The new bishops and their sponsors included:

Bishop Eugene Slater—The Rev. Dr. Ennis B. Hill, San Angelo, and the Rev. Dr. Marvin Lee Boyd, Lubbock.

Bishop W. Kenneth Pope—The Rev. Dr. Alfred Freeman, Houston, and the Rev. Dr. Durwood Fleming, Houston.

Bishop Paul V. Galloway—The Rev. Dr. Fimis Crutchfield, Norman, Okla., and the Rev. Dr. Ira E. Williams, Tulsa.

Bishop Arthur G. Walton—The Rev. Dr. Arthur Terry, Texarkana, Ark., and The Rev. Dr. Marshall T. Steel, Conway, Ark.

Bishop Kenneth W. Copeland—The Rev. Dr. Donald E. Redmond, San Antonio, and The Rev. Dr. Margaret B. Howell, Waxahachie, Tex.

In the final act of consecration, the consecrating bishops, surrounding the kneeling candidate, joined by the sponsoring elders, laid their hands upon his bowed head.

Lenate Predicts Nixon, Johnson

MEXICO CITY (AP)—U.S. Ambassador Robert Hill said today he believes Vice President Richard Nixon and Sen. Lyndon Johnson will be nominated for the Republican and Democratic tickets next month.

Hill returned to Mexico after a four-week visit to the United States.

Russian People Won't Give Up Liking For Americans

Editor's Note — William L. Ryan has revisited the Soviet Union after an absence of seven years. This is the first of five stories in which the Russian-speaking news analyst compares the Russia of Stalin and Khrushchev, pointing up the problems that today's Soviet leader faces in trying to discredit the United States. Ryan writes these unmeasured dispatches after leaving Moscow.

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
Associated Press News Analyst

The citizen of Moscow, expert at spotting foreigners, approaches you shyly.

"Excuse me," he says, "are you German?"
You shake your head.
"English?"

You say your are American. The shyness vanishes. He breaks into a broad smile and showers you with questions.

The pattern was much the same in many an encounter during long walks in Moscow's hot summer sun.

The smiles are tokens of one of Nikita Khrushchev's big worries. Many Russians are not willing to believe all he tells them about the West.

That is a factor behind the Kremlin's strenuous campaign to blacken the name of President Eisenhower and vilify American leadership. But my experiences, coupled with samplings by competent Western observers in the capital and countryside, indicate the majority of Russians do not want to believe all that Khrushchev is telling them today.

Torrents of abuse have been poured on the United States by Moscow's propaganda machine since the U2 spy plane incident and the collapsed summit conference. But ordinary Russians remain cordial and friendly — perhaps more than ever — to visiting Americans.

FEELINGS HURT

Russian popular opinion did react to the American confession of spy flights over Russia. The reaction amounted to a feeling of hurt and disappointment rather than one of anger. The attitude seems to reflect genuine fear that Soviet-American relations will bring back the iciest days of the cold war, in contrast to the warmth generated by Khrushchev's United States visit.

There can be little question about this: Russians hope for a higher standard of living. They relate this hope to better relations with the United States. They relate their fears of dashed dreams to the specter of renewed cold war.

When Khrushchev called Eisenhower a man of peace, Russians were eager to believe it.

But in the Communist party, the Soviet army and among Communist allies — particularly the Red Chinese — certain elements viewed the Khrushchev peace campaign as dangerous to the communist world movement.

PROMISES

In the U.S.S.R. Khrushchev's activities seemed to generate new pressures from the population. Khrushchev himself from time to time reacted with promises and often a show of performance.

Some among the eight million members of the ruling Communist party likely were worried. Were their privileges in danger? Just one straw in the wind: some new apartment housing projects were giving priority to those needing housing rather than offering first chance to privileged party members.

Some in the armed forces were annoyed. Officers, high as the rank of general and admiral, had been demobilized and sent to civilian tasks, often as administrators of enterprises in remote, primitive areas — hardly suitable places for officers' ladies accustomed to the amenities of a privileged caste.

international tensions as threatening to bring a weakened world movement.

Khrushchev evidently reacted to these pressures.

The U2 incident provided an opportunity to backtrack on the overdose of peace and smiles. At high levels, the cold war was on again. At lower levels, Russians were reluctant to accept the idea.

IMPACT OF TOURISTS

Tourism has had a heavy impact in Russian cities. In addition to hordes of well-heeled Western Europeans, about 12,000 Americans visited the U.S.S.R. in 1959, as compared with about 250 Soviet citizens visiting the United States. Possibly 15,000 Americans will visit Russia in 1960. The more Western tourists there are in the Soviet Union, the more opportunity there is for Russians to compare standards.

When I was in Russia seven years ago, Soviet people had seen little of Americans. Only violent propaganda kept them informed. They often would ask, querulously:

"Why does the United States want war?"

This time the refrain was:

"We want peace, just as you do."

In Stalin's time, ordinary Russians concentrated their energies on the problems of day-to-day living. Under Georgi Malenkov, with his promises of abundant consumer goods, they keyed their hopes to being able to buy the things they long had yearned for.

Today, many a Russian has raised his sights. Hopeful of buying the things he wants, he even dreams of emulating the Americans and traveling on his own, unguarded and unsheltered, to foreign lands.

To such Russians elimination of dangerous tension means hope that a living standard approaching the West's is an attainable goal. That's why they want to believe in better relations with the United States.

DEAR ABBY

YOU'RE SELFISH

By Abigail Von Buren

DEAR ABBY: Please print your opinion of parents who come to visit their married children without an invitation and whenever they feel like it.

The only advance notice we ever get is, "We are dying to see the grandchildren."

My husband and I have been annoyed by these spur-of-the-moment visits from his parents and mine. No sooner does one set leave when the other set shows up. Don't you think parents should realize that if they were wanted they would be invited? Just because our children happen to be their grandchildren seems to be a pretty poor excuse for barging in.

IMPOSED UPON: Do you need an invitation to visit your parents' home? I doubt it. Most parents make it plain that THEIR home is THEIR CHILDREN'S home. And many parents have kept their large homes in spite of the added work and expense so their children and grandchildren may visit them. Your parents probably feel welcome because they don't suspect you are as small and selfish as you really are. You two make a serpent's tooth look dull!

DEAR ABBY: There is a young woman who drives by our house every morning about 8:05 in a blue and white Chevy. My husband feels that it's his duty to smile and wave at her. He doesn't know her from a load of hay. I say he can look the other way. He says it will hurt her feelings.

I am getting upset over this routine. Am I wrong to object or not? Please put your answer in the paper, Abby. I want my old goat to see it. UPSET: DEAR UPSET: If he doesn't know her from a "load of hay," maybe he is just feeling his oats. Next time, stand right beside your husband, embrace him affectionately and smile and wave to the friendly stranger. I'll bet she either changes her route or her routine.

DEAR ABBY: I am a boy of 12 and I am having trouble with my brother, who is 10. He wore my Boy Scout uniform and took my bugle outside and blew it all day. When I caught him I gave him a little tap on the head. He was standing on the porch by the mailbox and his head accidentally hit the mailbox and a little tiny cut was made and maybe two drops of blood came out. He ran in the house screaming and my mother went into hysterics.

I am now being punished by having to stay in the house all day Saturday and Sunday. My brother didn't get punished at all for wearing my uniform and blowing my bugle. Do you think this was fair? PUNISHED: DEAR PUNISHED: Your brother had punishment coming, too. But your mother probably felt that matter was taken care of when you "tapped" him (some tap!) on the head. Next time, leave the punishing to your mother.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "UNDER AGE AND DESPERATE": I can't help you unless you send me your name and address. I offer advice and refer people to the proper agencies; I do not "turn them in."

"What's your problem?" Write to Abby in care of the Big Spring Herald. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Abby's best-selling book, "Dear Teen-ager," is on sale at all bookstores.

Donald Wilkinson Weds Sharon Mann In Dallas

A former Big Spring resident, Donald Wilkinson, took as his bride Sharon LaVorne Mann in Dallas Sunday in a mid-afternoon ceremony.

The couple was married in Christ Methodist Church with the Rev. William Childress, pastor of the church, reading the double ring vows.

Mr. and Mrs. Doc Wilkinson, 620 Ridgelea, are parents of the bridegroom; the bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond C. Mann of San Diego, Calif.

White stock and white gladioli in baskets tied with bronze bows formed the altar decorations.

Nuptial music was played by Mrs. Norman Blubaugh, organist, who accompanied James Massey, soloist, as he sang "You'll Never Walk Alone."

The father of the bride gave her in marriage; she was attired in a formal gown of white silk organza with sequins and pearls outlining the neckline of the fitted bodice and also scattered the patterns on the full skirt. A veil of illusion floated from a crown of organza.

Bridal flowers were lilies of the valley arranged to form a border for a bronze orchid.

Pamela Mann was her sister's maid of honor. She chose pale green organza for her street length frock, which was fashioned with a dark green cummerbund ending with a sash. Her half-hat green feathers held a brief circular veil. Identically attired was Mrs. Drusilla Honeycutt; both wore bronze mums as corsages.

Charles Pipkin served as best man; ushers were Tommy Wilkinson, brother of the bridegroom; Bill Ellis of Dallas and Jerry Wilkins, a cousin of the bridegroom.

Velda Sue Ralls was flower girl.

MRS. DONALD WILKINSON

Rings were carried by Raymond C. Mann Jr.

Mrs. Myrna Rushing registered guests at a reception held in the social hall of the church. Here, the couple was assisted by their parents and the attendants in welcoming guests.

A yellow cloth showed through an overlay of lace, and the floral centerpiece was of yellow and white blossoms. Yellow roses of

Moores' Guests

Sunday guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Moore, 1200 Scurry, were her brother and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Steve Burnett of Odessa, and two nieces and their families. They were Mr. and Mrs. Dick Swann and daughter of Venezuela and Mr. and Mrs. Major Taylor and daughters of Brownfield.

Lamesans Take Vows In Sunday Ceremony

LAMESA—Marriage vows were recited at 3 p.m. Sunday in the Five Mile Baptist Church by Lucy Marie Lobstein and James Darrel Derington. The Rev. L. P. Lee, pastor of the church, officiated for the ceremony and was also featured vocalist for "The Wedding Prayer" at the conclusion of the rite.

Mrs. L. R. Earnest was organist for the nuptial music. Baskets of pink and white gladioli flanked a bridal archway entwined with greenery and white gladioli; cathedral tapers in pedestal candelabra completed the altar setting.

Mrs. Lucy Lobstein is the mother of the bride, and Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Derington are the bridegroom's parents.

Given in marriage by her brother, the bride wore a formal gown of Chantilly lace and tulle over taffeta with scallops of Venetian lace outlining the tulle of the portrait neckline. The molded bodice of Chantilly lace had long sleeves tapering to points over the hands and terminated in a point at center front and back.

An underskirt of nylon net ruffled in tiers was beneath a skirt of tulle enhanced with side aprons of Chantilly lace edged in scallops of Venetian lace. A half-crown, encrusted with pearls, held her fingertip veil of illusion, and she carried a cascade of white roses.

The maid of honor was Charlotte Lee, and bridesmaids were Wanda Peuge and Linda Derington, sister of the bridegroom. They were gowned in dresses of pink nylon tulle over pink taffeta fashioned with scooped necklines and fully shirred shirts accented by softly draped midrifts. They carried bouquets of pink and white carnations.

The bride's niece, Carolyn frosting decorated the three-tiered cake, which was topped with wedding bells.

Members of the house party included Barbara Gerdis, Tommy Wallace and Patricia Ralls.

Out of town guests were from Big Spring and Odessa.

For the wedding trip to Colorado, the bride chose a sheath of black, with which she used bone accessories; her corsage was the orchid from her bridal bouquet.

The couple will be at home at 2905 Hawthorne in Dallas.

A graduate of Texas Woman's University College of Nursing, the bride has had clinical experience in Parkland Memorial Hospital, Dallas.

The bridegroom was graduated from Big Spring High School; he received training in the Southwestern Medical School of X-Ray Technology and now is employed by the Dallas Osteopathic Hospital and Clinic.

Use Less Liquid

If your baking powder biscuit dough is very sticky you've added too much liquid. Flours vary, so sometimes a few tablespoons more or less milk than the recipe calls for is required.

Candidates' Aides Are Of Many Complexions

Editor's Note—The candidates make the speeches, take the bows and capture the headlines but behind each is a corps of workers to handle the myriad details of the campaign. Jack Hall, head of the AP's Senate staff and a veteran reporter of many political campaigns, here takes you on a tour of introductions to the brain-trustees workers.

By JACK HALL
WASHINGTON (AP)—The men and women who man the campaign ramps for this year's presidential hopefuls represent a kaleidoscopic cross-section of American politics.

From Harvard professor to real estate broker they have one objective, to put their man in the presidency.

Many of them work for nothing beyond the satisfaction of trying to elect the kind of man they think ought to run the country—and perhaps the hope of having White House entree beginning in 1961.

Some are pros, well paid for their labors. Others are friends of the candidates who have taken leave from better paying jobs or booming businesses to give of their time and talent in the effort to nominate and elect a man they like and respect.

Whether they are volunteers or payrollers, these are the people who make it possible for a candidate to operate in a complex system of primaries, conventions and general election campaigning that rivals a missile in its demands for precision, timing and organization.

NOT LARGE
Vice President Richard M. Nixon's campaign staff is not an especially large one yet. But he has the advantage of being able to plan strategy for the general election campaign with the almost certain knowledge that he will be the GOP nominee.

This has tended to put GOP National Chairman Thurston B. Morton at Nixon's disposal, although Morton remains officially neutral as between Nixon and Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York. Rockefeller virtually has conceded Nixon's nomination but remains available.

Presiding over Nixon's campaign staff is Leonard W. Hall, former GOP national chairman, who works without the title of manager.

DUTIES
Hall takes care of convention delegates. Bassett checks the issues for Nixon. Shepley does research, Rogers lines up TV spots and Drown helps plan campaign trips.

Robert H. Finch, who has been Nixon's chief campaign adviser for months, has moved from the vice president's Capitol office to the campaign headquarters. Charles H. McWhorter, a former president of the national Young Republican organization, is on hand to deal with youth organizations.

Herbert G. Klein, a San Diego editor and press Nixon's right aide, is the logical successor to White House press secretary James C. Hagerty—if Nixon wins in November.

Nixon's top confidante remains Rosemary Woods, who has served him as executive secretary since he came to the Senate in 1951.

Volunteers like Californians Ray Arbutnot, a cattleman, and Ray Brook, a grain man, do such chores as that in which they scoured the country for the farmers' ideas about a new agricultural program.

OUTSIDE AIDE
Outside of his staff Nixon consults often with Gen. Wilton B. Persons, an assistant to President Eisenhower, and with various members of Eisenhower's Cabinet.

The vice president has a close coterie of idea men. They include Harvard Professors William V. Elliot and Lee A. Fuller; Philip Watts, a Washington investment broker, and the Rev. John F. Cronin of the staff of the National Catholic Welfare Conference.

Nixon also draws ideas from such men as nuclear scientist Edward Teller, economist Arthur Burns, Brig. Gen. David Sarnoff and Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

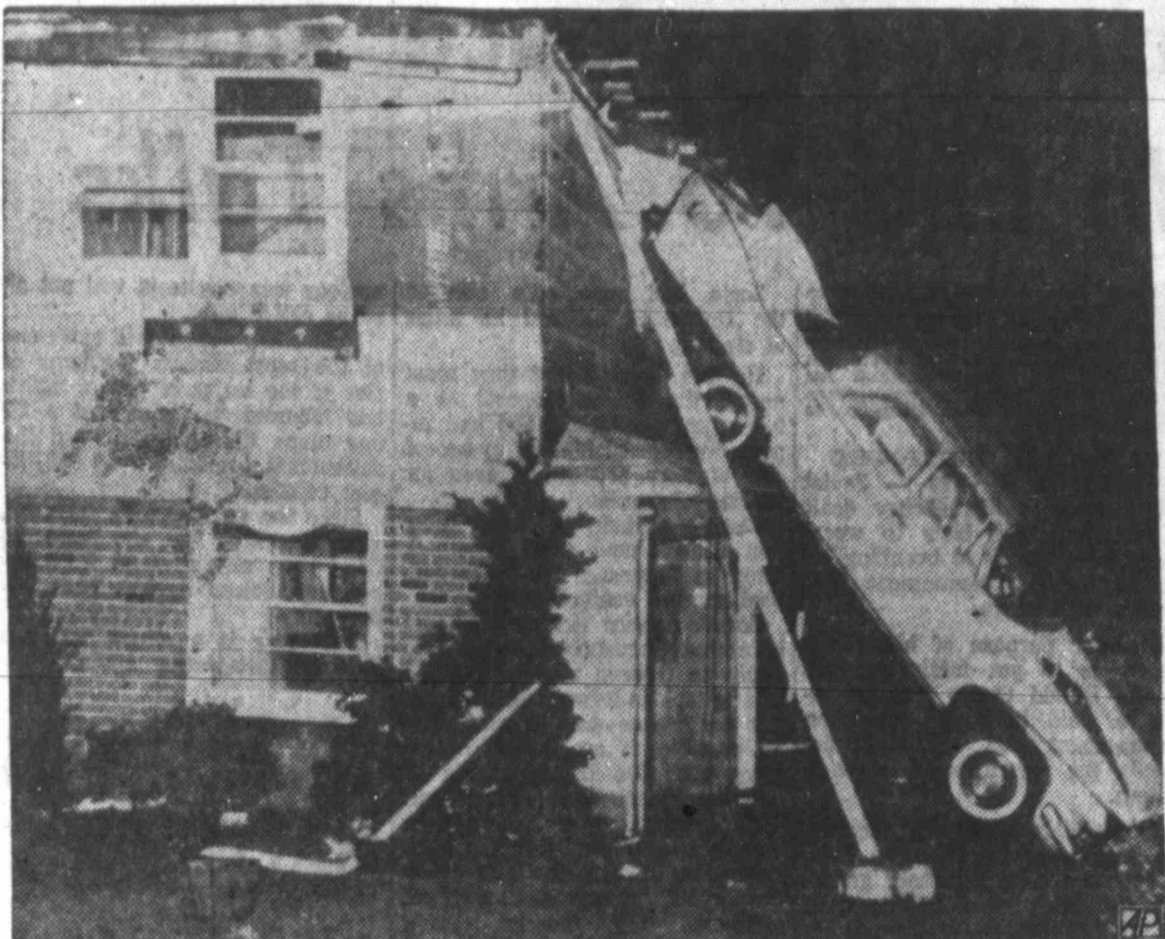

The man Nixon thinks will be his November rival, Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.) has built up his organization on the family plan. His far-flung organization is run by the candidates himself, although his brother, Robert Kennedy, nominally serves as campaign manager, and Theodore Kennedy as a deputy.

The whole Kennedy clan has had a hand in the well-financed activities that have been going on for more than two years to elevate the 43-year-old Massachusetts senator to the presidency.

IN BACKGROUND
In the background is the immensely rich head of the clan, Joseph P. Kennedy, whose reputed 600-million-dollar fortune was made in whisky, movies, real estate, banking and stock investments. A former ambassador to Great Britain, the elder Kennedy's views are considered far to the right of those held by son Jack.

A brother-in-law, Stephen Smith runs Kennedy's Washington headquarters. Another brother-in-law, Argent Shriver of Chicago, campaigns where he is needed. Kennedy gets encouragement but not much political help from a third brother-in-law, actor Peter Lawford.

Kennedy has an impressive brain trust. Members include Rep. Chester Bowles (D-Conn.), his foreign affairs adviser, who will serve as chairman of the Demo-

Yale Man Had No Sense Of Humor

NEW YORK (AP)—A crossword puzzle in the New York Times listed this definition to fill 10 spaces in the vertical column: "For God, for country and for Yale."

The correct answer was "anticlimax."

An irate letter of objection appeared in Sunday's Times. The writer, a Yale graduate, said, "I presume the creator of the puzzle was a Harvard man."

Not so, replied the Times. It said the puzzle was designed by a Smith girl—married to a Yale man for 34 years.

N. Dakota's Vote Is Weather Vane

FARGO, N.D. (AP)—North Dakota's neck-and-neck Senate race comes down to the wire today, watched by the nation as a potential weather vane in the presidential election next fall.

The contest pits Gov. John E. Davis, a Republican, against Rep. Quentin Burdick (D-ND). At stake is a seat in the Senate left vacant by the death of Republican Sen. William Langer.

Political analysts are watching it closely for these reasons:

1. As a possible barometer of the farmers' feelings toward Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson and his farm policy, and therefore the outlook in the farm belt for the Republicans next November.
2. The outlook for the GOP in a state which, until recently, has been a rock-ribbed Republican stronghold.

Polls open at 9 a.m. Tuesday. A total ballot of around 300,000 is expected. Some North Dakota observers believe it may exceed the record of 260,000 set in the general election in 1956.

The race looks so close that impartial observers say it may be decided by a few thousand votes either way. Even the partisan backers of Burdick and Davis seldom predict a margin of 10,000 for their man.

Although North Dakota has been considered a Republican stronghold, GOP leaders say the senatorial election has important implications for the future of the party. Milton Rue, former GOP national committeeman, said, "It is the survival of the Republican party in North Dakota that's at stake on Tuesday."

Benson's farm program has

Candidates Are All Over

Here is what the presidential hopefuls are doing:

Vice President Richard T. Nixon: Presides over Senate today and Tuesday.

Mme. Sun Hints Formosa Chinese Price For Peace

TOKYO (AP)—Red China indicated today that acquiring Formosa might be Peiping's price for going along with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's policy of peaceful coexistence with the capitalist world.

Mme. Sun Yat-sen, a vice president of Red China and widow of the founder of republican China, declared: "China is willing to coexist peacefully with anyone, even imperialism. In fact, we have to coexist with it (because) imperialism exists as an objective reality."

But she added, "We will not allow U.S. imperialism to rob us of our own territory (Formosa). We have not won, after untold sacrifices, the independence of our nation and the benefits of our Socialist (Communist) revolution just to give them away under the false illusion of maintaining peace with insatiable imperialism."

Mme. Sun Yat-sen, now 69, is the former Soong Ching-ling and a sister of the wife of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek, president of Nationalist China, which controls Formosa.

Red China's official Peiping radio broadcast her declaration, which appeared in an article written for Peiping newspapers today. It appeared to take a softer line than previous Peiping assertions that coexistence was out of the question.

Mme. Sun Hints Formosa Chinese Price For Peace

TOKYO (AP)—Red China indicated today that acquiring Formosa might be Peiping's price for going along with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's policy of peaceful coexistence with the capitalist world.

Mme. Sun Yat-sen, a vice president of Red China and widow of the founder of republican China, declared: "China is willing to coexist peacefully with anyone, even imperialism. In fact, we have to coexist with it (because) imperialism exists as an objective reality."

But she added, "We will not allow U.S. imperialism to rob us of our own territory (Formosa). We have not won, after untold sacrifices, the independence of our nation and the benefits of our Socialist (Communist) revolution just to give them away under the false illusion of maintaining peace with insatiable imperialism."

Mme. Sun Yat-sen, now 69, is the former Soong Ching-ling and a sister of the wife of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek, president of Nationalist China, which controls Formosa.

Red China's official Peiping radio broadcast her declaration, which appeared in an article written for Peiping newspapers today. It appeared to take a softer line than previous Peiping assertions that coexistence was out of the question.

5 Killed When Car Hits Train

CLARENDON, Tex. (AP)—Five persons, returning home from a religious convention, died early today when their car smashed into the locomotive of a freight train near here.

The accident occurred at 1:05 a.m. at the intersection of the Rock Island tracks and State Highway 70 on the outskirts of Jericho, 15 miles north of here.

All the victims were from Pampa, Tex. They were Mr. and Mrs. Daudie Mize, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Hammond and Mrs. Ethel York. Highway Patrolman R. C. Parker said Mize, 55, apparently was the driver. Attendants at a Methodist funeral home where the bodies were taken, estimated the ages of the others at 45 to 55.

Parker said the car hit the first unit of a three-unit diesel locomotive of a 78-car freight train. The train was able to continue its trip after the accident.

The car was demolished. Four victims were killed instantly and the fifth, Mrs. York, died shortly afterwards in a Groom hospital.

Parker said the Pampa car apparently was trying to pass another vehicle but had swung back into the right lane seconds before the crash. Occupants of another car ahead of Mize's said they heard the train whistle.

The victims were returning home from Fort Worth.

water supply was knocked out and would be out of operation until about Tuesday or Wednesday. Plans were made to get drinking water to the city in trucks.

SHIPS BREAK OFF

Two tugs and one shrimp boat moored in the city harbor broke their moorings and were swept into Matagorda Bay.

One man said the water was so swift in the streets of the city that grown men could not stand up. Evacuees took refuge in two schools at Port Lavaca.

Rains of from 10 to 15 inches forced about 50 persons from the lowland section around El Campo into the city for refuge. And many families were evacuated from the low areas near the San Bernard River east of Boling.

The Brazos, Guadalupe and Colorado rivers all flooded some lowland areas and were expected to pose threats for another week. The Trinity River near Liberty was expected to hit flood stage later this week as were other rivers.

Eight miles southeast of Victoria, just east of Placeo, a washed-out section of track caused the derailment of a Missouri Pacific freight engine and 25 cars. The derailment was blamed on the 29 inches of rain that fell there since Thursday. Railroad officials hoped to have the line opened by Monday night.

WEEK OF TROUBLE

Flood threats were expected to continue for a number of days through the weekend and Monday. A radio was taken from a car at Rhoads Used Car lot at 601 W. 4th; two cases of soft drinks were taken from the Rainbow Cafe, 908 E. 3rd; and George O'Brien, Highway Motel, said that his billfold containing $35 was stolen while he was at Speck's Cafe on the Lamesa Highway.

Burglars Take Cash Register

Culprits who made off with the cash register from Roy Bruce's service station, 215 E. 3rd, early Sunday, took the $400 it contained and abandoned the register under a Neal's Transfer trailer. Police recovered the 75 pound cash register this morning.

In other thefts reported during the weekend and Monday, a radio was taken from a car at Rhoads Used Car lot at 601 W. 4th; two cases of soft drinks were taken from the Rainbow Cafe, 908 E. 3rd; and George O'Brien, Highway Motel, said that his billfold containing $35 was stolen while he was at Speck's Cafe on the Lamesa Highway.

Assistant Police Chief's Wife Injured In Crash

Mrs. Leo Hull, wife of Leo Hull, assistant chief of police in Malone-Hogan Hospital, as result of an automobile collision at 6:15 p.m. Sunday. The accident occurred 1 1/2 miles north of Big Spring on the Lamesa Highway. Mrs. Hull's injuries are not believed to be serious.

Jimmy Parks, highway patrolman, who investigated the mishap, said that Hull and Mrs. Hull were traveling north in their Buick. Ahead of the car was a Chevrolet driven by John Campbell Gimblin, Wichita Falls.

Parks said that Gimblin attempted to turn into the driveway of a service station and the Hull car crashed into it.

Some damage was caused to both cars.

Big Spring Exploration Stakes Galveston Project

Big Spring Exploration has staked a new wildcat in Galveston County to test the Herrick sand about three miles southwest of the Lake City field.

The project, Ross Unit No. 1, will drill 6,730 feet from east and 1,650 feet from south lines of the S.P. Austin survey to a depth of 10,700 feet. It is three miles southwest of Lake City.

Commission Has Light Agenda

A comparatively light agenda faces the city commission at its regular meeting Tuesday, 5:15 p.m. in the city hall.

Bids on at least four new cars, two for the police department and two for the department of public works, will be considered.

Four ordinances will be presented to the commission for its consideration, including one to create a Municipal Defense and Disaster Relief committee and on creating a Board of Equalization. Other ordinances are to release $100,000 in government bonds now held at Security State Bank as security for city funds, and to add the streets approved at the last meeting of the commission to the assessment paving program.

First reading of an ordinance annexing 100 acres of Kentwood addition to the city, and the second reading of an ordinance rezoning the Robb property at Gregg and Marcy Dr. will also be heard during the meeting.

Study Grant Given Mrs. Petty

Mrs. Rosetta Petty, the former Rosetta Williams, has been awarded a grant to attend a summer workshop at the University of Denver in Denver, Colo. The workshop is a five-week graduate course on education in family finance.

Candidates for the grant were selected on the basis of interest, scholastic and professional record, evidence of leadership and geographic distribution. The program is sponsored by the University of Denver and grants for all thirty-seven graduates now enrolled.

Mrs. Petty lives in Roswell, N. M., and is presently a home-making teacher.

No Injuries In 2 Minor Mishaps

No injuries were reported in two city accidents which occurred within the past 24 hours.

This morning, Roy C. Johnson, 707 Wyoming, and Harold G. Pitts, Sawyer, Okla., collided in the 300 block of Gregg.

Sunday, a collision at 2nd and Gregg involved Marcus Leonard McCoy, 1701 Rummels, and Mathie Lovell Page, Cotton Wood Trailer Park.

Rites Slated For C. R. Martin

Funeral services for Charles Raymond Martin, 52, heart victim who died Saturday, are set for 3 p.m. Tuesday in River Funeral Home chapel. The Rev. Jack Strickland and the Rev. George Neil will officiate and burial will be in Trinity Memorial Park.

Mr. Martin, an employe of the Continental Oil Co., for 31 years, had lived in Big Spring since 1943.

He had suffered several previous heart seizures. The most recent was Wednesday last week, which led to his death.

Addison In Jail Pending Hearing

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—Uranium promoter John Milton Addison went to jail early today pending a hearing on re-instatement of bonds totaling $70,000.

A Dallas deputy sheriff turned Addison over to Bexar County officers after bringing the stocky young promoter here on a fugitive warrant.

Addison said he hoped to secure his release today in order to begin his campaign for governor.

The warrant was issued last week after bondsmen withdrew sureties posted when Addison was charged with felony theft and violation of the State Securities Act.

He is scheduled for trial here Nov. 28.

Addison, 36, also faced trial in Fort Worth on charges of violating the Federal Securities Act.

The state and federal indictments charge Addison acted illegally in financing uranium developments.

County Agent's Office Has Brisk Poison Business

The Howard County agent's office is doing a brisk business in poison to kill jackrabbits.

Business is so good that the office is having difficulty keeping a supply of the poison on hand.

Cotton farmers are being hard hit by the rabbits, who are migrating from the seared and parched pasture lands into the fields. Shipments of the poison arrive almost daily and the supply is quickly exhausted. Orders are being accepted at the county agent's office. A small quantity was due in Monday but at 11 a.m. advance orders had already used up the shipment.

Supreme Court Dismisses Appeal In Golf Race Case

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court today dismissed an appeal by five Negroes convicted of trespassing on a former municipal golf course in Greensboro, N.C., which was leased to private operators who maintained a segregated policy.

Justice Stewart, announcing the high tribunal's action, said the case had to be dismissed because it presented no federal question.

He said this resulted from the fact that counsel for the Negroes, in appealing to the North Carolina Supreme Court, had failed to present the fact that a U.S. District Court earlier had declared that the leasing of the golf course was an attempt by the city to evade its duty not to discriminate against any citizens.

Chief Justice Warren wrote a dissenting opinion in which Justices Black, Douglas and Brennan joined. Warren said he did not agree that the case before the high tribunal did not now present a federal question.

Warren said he favored sending the appeal back to the North Carolina Supreme Court and permitting the Negroes "to correct their case."

Warren said he was sure the state would not object to such a step, "for North Carolina has no interest in depriving its citizens of their liberty on assumptions that do not accord with facts. It seems clear, therefore, that under North Carolina law, appellants (the Negroes involved) may yet have their federal question reviewed."

Blow To Peace Hopes In End To Arms Talks

Zorin had repeatedly accused the United States and its allies of stalling.

He had insisted that they must accept the Soviet proposal as a basis for negotiations and had repeatedly refused himself to accept any Western proposition even for serious discussion.

Zorin's attitude hardened after the disarmament talks resumed. They had recessed for the scheduled summit conference.

Zorin's tactics led to the belief here that Khrushchev intended to apply to Geneva negotiations the line he took in torpedoing the summit conference—that it would not be possible to reach any agreement with the United States so long as Eisenhower is president.

No resumption of negotiations, therefore, can be foreseen until after the change in administration next January and until an additional few months during which a new U.S. executive and new secretary of state will figure out their policies—all together, at least a year from now.

Collapse of the disarmament talks, which had deadlocked from the moment they began, raises serious question as to whether negotiations among the United States, Britain and the Soviet Union for a treaty banning nuclear weapons tests will not also be called off.

If that happens, it will raise one of the most serious problems of any of the series of crises which has followed the failure of a U2 spy plane flight May 4, and the subsequent breakdown of U.S.-Soviet relations.

Since the nuclear tests talks began 18 months ago, the three nations have all refrained from exploding nuclear devices even underground.

But there is a strong pressure here to start testing again.

James Daniel McCrealess, resident of Stanton for thirty-seven years, died this morning at 6:22 a.m. at the Physician's Hospital in Stanton. Born October 6, 1895, in Mt. Hilliard, Ala., Mrs. McCrealess moved to Stanton from Colorado City in 1923.

After the death of his first wife, Anna Lee, he married his second wife, Beatrice, January 20, 1940, in Hawley, Texas.

A retired farmer and long time board member of the R.E.A., he is survived by his wife; one daughter, Kathleen Lewis, Stanton; one sister, Mrs. J. W. Turner, Sylvester, and two grandchildren.

He was preceded in death by two sons, J. D. Jr. and Arnold.

Funeral services will be conducted Tuesday afternoon at 4 p.m. in the First Methodist Church in Stanton with the Rev. Ellis Todd officiating. He will be assisted by the Rev. J. D. McReynolds of Midland and the Rev. N. L. Range of Courtney. Burial will be in Evergreen Cemetery.

Funeral expenses will be met by Stewart, Bill J. Smith, Minter McReynolds, M. H. Nance, Casey Jones, B. F. White, Owen Kelly and Gene Clements.

William Reuther here couldn't support the medical aid bill if Williams openly backed Kennedy for the nomination.

Gov. Price Daniel of Texas, supporting Johnson, promptly denounced the assertion as "a pure political fabrication."

"Landon Johnson made no such threat," Daniel declared. "I am surprised that Gov. Williams would give credence to any such report."

Daniel said he hadn't checked on the story with Johnson and didn't intend to. He said Johnson doesn't want that way.

"It would be an insult to call him up and ask him if he did it," Daniel said.

In Washington Johnson said that "it seems hardly necessary to point out that this is totally untrue. It ought to be evident to anybody that this is pure political convention nonsense."

FEUDS

Kennedy's supporters among the governors appeared abruptly and supremely confident their favorite all but has the nomination in the bag.

Daniel, booming Johnson's chances, predicted Johnson will have 502 votes of the first ballot and that Kennedy will begin to fade with the second count, when Daniel said Johnson should reach a total of 664.

Daniel said Johnson expects to get Missouri's vote on the second ballot, with the elimination of Symington. He predicted other Johnson support will come from Indiana, Maryland, Ohio, Delaware, Idaho, Michigan, Nevada, Pennsylvania and Utah on that count.

By Daniel's figuring, Johnson should win the nomination by the third or fourth ballot.

Gov. J. Hugo Aronson of Montana, Harold W. Handley of Indiana and Christopher Del Sesto of Rhode Island, who sponsored their action was called to embarrass Rockefeller. They said they acted without having consulted Nixon.

Handley told Rockefeller, as they met at the entrance of a lake shore building where press conferences are being held: "We didn't want to put anybody on a spot."

ARTISTS

"You're artists, is all I can say," Rockefeller shot back.

In 30 minutes of questioning by reporters, Rockefeller left the Republican situation standing about where it had been. He has said he will be available for the nomination in the unlikely event a draft materializes.

Rockefeller rejected an implication by Gov. William G. Stratton of Illinois that he had been "quibbling" in his demand that Nixon spell out his stand on major issues before the nominating convention.

The New York governor said his call for full discussion of the issues had been misinterpreted as criticism of Nixon. He said there is need for debate within the party.

What he has been making, Rockefeller continued, have been "constructive suggestions."

He said he recognizes there is every likelihood Nixon will be the nominee. He added his statements have not been directed at trying to further his own political position because he thinks the nomination is "a closed issue." He denied he is thinking about 1964.

"I don't consider that I'm quibbling," Rockefeller said. "I consider that I'm taking a fundamental position on subjects of vital importance to this country and therefore to our party."

Rockefeller said he is "not unkindly disposed" to Nixon's candidacy.

Gov. Foster Furcolo of Massachusetts, a supporter of Kennedy, said he believes Rockefeller would be a stronger candidate for the Republicans than Nixon. As a Democrat, he added that "I think that Nixon is not too strong and I would like to see him nominated."

T. SGT. ROBERT EICKHOFF

Airman Gets Alaska Duty

T. Sgt. Robert D. Eickhoff of the 31st Fighter Interceptor Squadron will depart Webb on July 15 for a remote duty assignment in Alaska.

Eickhoff, who likes to be called a 31st "oldtimer", joined the squadron in May, 1957, at Stewart AFB, New York, and was among its first members to move to Webb in August of 1958.

The Lowell, Michigan, native began military service in October, 1947, when he joined the Michigan Air National Guard. He reported for active AF duty in July, 1948. Eickhoff was stationed at Tachikawa AB, Japan, 1955-56. His job in the 31st is communications quality control inspector.

Since January, 1959, the sergeant has been serving as a board member of Webb's Federal Credit Union. He holds membership in the Masonic Lodge, the Big Spring Shrine Club, the Suez Shrine Temple at San Angelo, and has gained his 32nd degree in the Dallas Scottish Rite.

Eickhoff is a charter member of Webb's newly-formed Talon Toastmaster Club. His wife, Doris, has held different offices in the NCO Wives Club at this base. She and their son, Bobby, 5, will stay at Lowell, Mich., during his stay in Alaska. Their present home is at Webb Village.

Business Outlook Still Optimistic

EDITOR'S NOTE: At mid-year 1960, the national economy is healthy but the rate of advance has slowed down. What's ahead for the rest of the year? Economists think business will be on a high plateau, having only a slight decline and possibly a slight recovery in early or middle 1961. In the following article, Sterling F. Green of the Washington Associated Press staff reviews business as of now.

By STERLING F. GREEN
WASHINGTON (AP) — There's less business buoyancy this June than there was in January. Still, the midyear finds many more optimists than pessimists in Washington.

A majority of economists interviewed predict the economy will keep on making gains and setting records throughout 1960, and possibly beyond.

But the rate of advance has slowed markedly. It may slow further. National output probably will show less growth in the last part of the year than it did in the first quarter alone.

By the year-end, in the private view of government and industry economists, the economy will be moving on a high plateau having only a slight incline.

The time to watch out for a recession, if one is in the offing, is in early or middle 1961, some of the experts believe.

SECOND HALF

Meantime the outlook for the second half of 1960 is for:

1. A national output totaling about 507 billion dollars worth of goods and services. That is lower, by around five billion, than the average of the new year's forecasts. It would be 5 1/2 per cent better than last year's gross national product, however.

2. A stable cost of living. Consumer prices are expected to advance by not much more than 1 per cent during the entire year, in spite of the May bulge caused by bad crop weather.

3. A rather sluggish job picture. Employment keeps setting records, but it is not full employment. Joblessness is staying stubbornly close to 5 per cent of the working force, compared with 4 per cent or less in recent years of high prosperity.

4. Rising incomes. Total personal income probably has topped by now the 400-billion-dollar mark; it reached 399 1/2 billion in May. The steady rise of wages, salaries and other forms of income has surprised many economists. Income rose during the 1959 steel strike and this year's March weather setback.

5. Strong consumer demand. Most economists believe the consumer is the real key to business growth in second-half 1960. The householder's proven willingness to borrow and spend should offset an already visible slowdown in business outlays.

6. Easier credit. The Federal Reserve Board's decision on June 3 to cut the discount rate — the interest charge on money it lends to banks — amounts to a proclamation that the board will wield its huge money power to stimulate business activity.

The board's move has a curiously stimulative effect. Nine times out of 10 in the past, businessmen would have taken alarm. They would have interpreted a drop in the discount rate as an official recognition that a recession already was under way.

This time, the stock market went up and business confidence firmed. Businessmen generally accepted at face value the board's emphatic statement that "the economy is on a solid base and inflationary psychology has lessened."

MOVED SLOWLY

Actually, the board moved deliberately and cautiously to make sure its action was properly timed. The reasons for its caution reflect the economic pattern of the past six months.

When the year began, economists and businessmen alike expected a rapid and possibly inflationary surge of demand. Industry had to replenish stocks depleted by the steel strike, and optimistic car manufacturers thought they could see a tremendous seven-million-car year ahead. It was commonly believed that inventory building would keep production climbing through most of the first half of the year.

But the inventory rush played out much sooner than expected. The auto outlook, while still very good indeed, wasn't up to the rosiest expectations. In March a noticeable business slowdown occurred. The board and everyone else had to wait and see whether a recession was developing or whether the economy had merely stalled temporarily in the massive March snows.

The latter guess proved correct. By the time this was clear, however, the U2 spy plane incident and the collapse of the summit had aroused fresh inflationary alarms.

Lack Of Direction In Spy Case Cited

WASHINGTON (AP) — The administration's handling of the U2 spy plane case lacked direction more than anything else, says the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

Just Couldn't Leave 'Em Alone

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Stanley Halvorsen II, who sailed boats on the bay during his boyhood, enlisted six months ago in the Navy.

The Navy stationed him in the Nevada desert. The nearest body of water was 30 miles away at Lake Mead.

Halvorsen, 21, on a weekend pass home went out with a friend, William E. Shubin, 16.

Police said they took over the tug Despatch at Pier 62 early Sunday morning. Seaman Halvorsen was skipper, with a one-man crew, until they spotted a Coast Guard craft and ran for cover at Aquatic Park.

Charged with grand theft, Halvorsen was lodged at city prison. Shubin was taken to the youth guidance center.

"I wish I was back in the desert," said Halvorsen.

LEOPOLDVILLE, Belgian Congo (AP)—Joseph Kasavubu was sworn in today as the first national president of the Congo.

Soviet Bloc Walks Out Of Disarmament Parley

GENEVA (AP) — The Soviet bloc walked out of the 10-nation disarmament talks today. The Russians and their Communist allies curtly ignored a new American plan for a world disarmament treaty.

Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian Zorin and his colleagues charged the West had refused to negotiate. Zorin said the Soviet Union will place its new plan for "generally and complete disarmament" before the U.N. General Assembly.

Poland's Marian Naszkowski, chairman for the day, rejected all the Western delegates' demands to be heard and, after recognizing all the Soviet bloc delegations in turn, joined in the walkout. The Western delegations decided to continue the meeting alone under the chairmanship of British Minister of State David Ormsby-Gore.

U.S. delegate Frederick M. Eaton then presented the new American disarmament plan, which was still under negotiation among the five Western delegations.

The plan, drafted by Eaton and State and Defense Department officials in Washington, last week, provides for three carefully controlled stages of disarmament beginning with the establishment of an international disarmament control organization under the United Nations.

U.S. Attorneys Plan Moves In Multiple Murders Case

BALTIMORE (AP) — Federal attorneys confer today about their next move against a man charged in the slaying of five persons and wanted for questioning in the murder of four others.

Four members of a Virginia family are among the victims. Melvin D. Rees Jr., 31, a dance band musician and piano salesman, is in jail at Memphis, Tenn., awaiting a July 6 hearing on the charges.

U.S. Atty. Leon H. Pierson of Baltimore said he would meet with Asst. Atty. Gen. Malcolm R. Wilkey, head of the Justice Department's criminal division.

Pierson said if Wilkey concurs, the case will be taken before the federal grand jury in Baltimore Tuesday.

The FBI explained that a federal grand jury indictment would permit Rees' transfer to Maryland merely by proving to the U.S.

commissioner in Memphis that Rees is the man named in the indictment.

U.S. Commissioner H. Allen Mezger said Sunday night that a hand-written account, describing the last journey of Mrs. Carroll Jackson and her daughter, Susan Ann, was found in Rees' Hyattsville, Md., home.

The Washington Post quoted Mezger as saying the FBI asserted the account, dated two months before the bodies of the victims were found, was in Rees' handwriting. Mezger said the FBI told him the account contained statements which were supported after the discovery of the bodies.

Mezger said Rees was charged with kidnaping the mother and daughter on the basis of the hand-written account.

The FBI arrested Rees Friday in West Memphis, Ark., where he was selling pianos. The federal warrant charged him of unlawful flight to avoid prosecution in the 1957 murder of Margaret V. Harold.

Within 24 hours, he also was charged in the slayings of the Carroll V. Jackson Jr. family of Apple Grove, Va., and police indicated he would be questioned about four other murders—dating back to 1955—in a triangular area formed by Washington, Baltimore and Annapolis.

The FBI here has declined to discuss possible motive in any of the nine slayings.

A Devotional For Today

The Spirit helps us in our weakness. (Romans 8:26. RSV.)
PRAYER: Merciful Father, help us to live our lives in the Spirit that we may bear fruit which will help others to know Christ as their Lord and Saviour. Help us also, through the Holy Spirit, to be more like Thee. In Jesus' name. Amen.
(From The 'Upper Room')

The Right Of People To Vote

In the July Good Housekeeping magazine Eugene Burdick, author of the controversial "The Ugly American," raised a subject that shouldn't cause any controversy at all.
He points out that any number of young Americans, many of them young married couples, are being disfranchised every year because the firms for which they work, or the jobs of whatever nature they hold, keep them frequently on the move from state to state. The result of these frequent changes of residence is that these people seldom get a chance to vote, least of all for President, since that election comes only once in four years—and in most states one year's residence in the state, 90 days in the county and 30 days in a district are required to qualify.
We daresay not many people, except those most affected by the situation, ever gave a thought to this wholesale and largely unintentional disfranchisement of many young Americans.

In most cases this is due to no fault of the voter's own; he must earn a living, and to do so he must go wherever his job calls him.
It would take action by all the 50 state legislatures to wipe out these inequities, some of them absurd; but all the same we hope our Texas lawmakers give some thought to it, and take whatever action is needed.
Texas probably has more newcomers and transients or semi-transients among its population than almost any state you can mention.
In any case Mr. Burdick has brought up a subject that needs widespread attention.

Learning Foreign Languages

A speaker at the San Diego convention of the National Commission on Teacher Education and Professional Standards notes—amazingly big increase to more than 800,000—in children taking instruction in some foreign language, and wondered out loud if it's worth the effort.
He is Prof. Elson Hocking of Purdue University.
"Obviously," he said, "many of these children are getting sub-standard instruction because their teachers are not properly prepared.
"Poor instruction is worse than no instruction at all. If the teaching is inadequate, the program never should be started."
Prof. Hocking said the movement for instruction in foreign languages has caught on nationally. There is tremendous pressure from parents on the schools, as well as from parent-teacher groups, for language courses. And the entire program may collapse some day because of inadequate results.

The idea behind a language course is of course a sound one. Language instruction amounts to more than just teaching kids to speak a few words in some foreign language. It is fine mental discipline, and helpful in other courses.
Compared to Americans the peoples of Europe are customarily familiar with a second tongue, which they are taught in the public schools.
It is almost a necessity for them, not so for most Americans—hence its neglect in this country.
Teaching foreign languages in the public schools—especially Spanish for Texans—is a sound procedure, but worthwhile only if the instructors are competent, as Prof. Hocking says. Perhaps it would help to develop competent teachers if the teachers were given some sort of incentive to bone up on a foreign language.

David Lawrence How Catholic Issue Affects Demos

WASHINGTON—Paul Butler, chairman of the Democratic National Committee, may have unwittingly put his finger on what is the real key to the Democratic presidential nomination. He discussed frankly the "Catholic issue" in talking to the National Press Club here last week, and indicates plainly the dilemma that the Democrats may find themselves in if they fail to choose Sen. Kennedy of Massachusetts as their nominee. Here is a tape recording of the question asked and the answer given by Mr. Butler:

"Q. IF JACK KENNEDY is denied the nomination because of objections of some leaders to his religion, do you think many Catholics will vote Republican?
"A. I think that I've spoken on this before, although only perhaps in an isolated press conference which did not get national attention, particularly here from the press corps in Washington.
"This puts me right on the spot. I am an American Catholic, or, perhaps more properly, I am a Catholic American. And I believe that, up to now, the religious issue in the presidential primaries, the religious issue in the discussion by the leading newspapers and magazines and radio and television commentators, has been made such an issue that a Catholic bloc vote, which does not exist ordinarily—and I think anybody who knows anything about American politics cannot contend otherwise.

THERE IS NO SUCH thing as a Catholic bloc vote normally, but the Catholics of the country, in a feeling of discrimination which may very well be expressed in the denial—not necessarily altogether the reason, but certainly a very important reason—why Jack Kennedy would be denied the nomination, if he is—and might very well result in just a normal reaction on the part of any American who felt that one of his own, in a particular religious faith, had been discriminated against on the grounds of religion.
Now, it so happens that long before the primary contests in the various states in the last few months began, Sen. Kennedy let it be known that he would not remain silent on the "Catholic issue." He told newspapermen that, if after winning most of the primaries he were turned down by the Democratic national convention, he would conclude that his religion had been a deterrent factor.

THIS POINT OF VIEW, indeed, has been shared by many of Mr. Kennedy's followers. In fact, there have been some who have argued that the "Catholic issue" would be a benefit to a Catholic who happens to be nominated. During the 1956 Democratic convention when the Massachusetts senator was being boomed for the vice presidential nomination, his supporters used statistics to show that the Catholic vote holds the balance of power in some of the states with big electoral votes and that a Catholic on the ticket would be an asset rather than a liability.

The significance of the argument is not lost on the politicians, especially those in the large cities. For, if Sen. Kennedy fails to get the nomination, whether because of his religion—because of some other factor—such as his youth or inexperience—the leaders of the big Democratic organizations know they may have something of a debate on their hands with the rank and file of the precinct workers if they have not done everything they could to nominate the Massachusetts senator for the top spot. There are among the organization men those who hope that, if this is not possible but Mr. Kennedy is chosen for second place, some of the resentment will disappear.
The opposition to Sen. Kennedy inside the Democratic party is in large part based on reasons other than the "Catholic issue." There are those who want a candidate more friendly to union labor. There are others who want a candidate more experienced in public affairs and older in years.

THESE POINTS HAVE generated considerable momentum for the campaign of Sen. Lyndon Johnson of Texas, the majority leader of the Senate. He will naturally get some of the delegate strength that is lining up now for Sen. Kennedy if the latter, on the first or second ballot, does not come close to the majority needed. The friends of Adlai Stevenson, on the other hand, think he would inherit many of Mr. Kennedy's delegates if the latter's boom begins to dissolve. But it looks now as if the Stevenson position isn't strong enough to capture the Kennedy delegates, many of whom are privately for Sen. Johnson, especially those from some of the large cities.
The race is between the senator from Massachusetts and the senator from Texas. One or the other will be nominated on the Democratic ticket. No one else seems now to be in the running for the Democratic presidential nomination.

Happens In Best Circles
TULSA, Okla. (AP)—Vice squad Capt. Louis Skinner stepped in front of the crowd of 900 persons, most of them women attending a club event, and urged them not to be alarmed.
"This is a raid," he announced.
"How shameful," replied one woman, "most of us are widows."
Five persons were arrested for operating an illegal lottery.

Shoplifting Lesson
CONWAY, Ark. (AP)—Mrs. Howard Lawrence got an unintentional lesson in shoplifting.
While shopping, she glanced down to discover a nightgown folded across her arm. She had looked at gowns in several stores, she said, but hadn't bought one. "I had no idea where the one on my arm came from."
Red-faced, she finally found the store that was missing the gown.

Still Some Unanswered Questions

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two trips, two embarrassments, two explanations, and some unanswered questions.
A month ago President Eisenhower reported to the nation on his trip to Paris where Premier Nikita Khrushchev after the American U2 spy plane had been downed over Soviet territory, wrecked the summit meeting and canceled the President's trip to Russia.
Tonight the President reports on his far Eastern journey where millions cheered him in the Philippines, Formosa, Okinawa and Korea but Japanese rioters forced cancellation of his trip to Tokyo.
There is no doubt Khrushchev blew up the summit. But whether or not he would have done so had there been no spy plane involved is open to question. The spy plane gave him a handy wrecking excuse.

THE U2 WAS SENT over Russia May 1, just 15 days before the summit. There was always the chance it might be downed and thus interfere with the summit. Thus, sending it on its mission was a risk.
What was so important about the information it sought that the administration was willing to take that risk? Neither Eisenhower in his report to the nation May 23 nor anyone else in his administration has ever given the answer to that question.
In his May 23 explanation the President said:

"The question was really whether to halt the program and thus forego the gathering of important information that was essential and that was likely to be unavailable at a later date. The decision was that the program should not be halted."
BUT TWO DAYS later the Senate Foreign Relations Committee questioned Secretary of State Christian A. Herter and last Saturday night the committee issued a report on what Herter said.
Although Eisenhower told the nation "the decision was that the program should not be halted," the committee said Herter told them "that so far as he knew no actual decision to proceed with the flight or not to proceed with it was made."
But why was this particular flight on May 1 so necessary? This was where the committee ran into a wall and admitted it could not get the answer from any official of the administration.
Tonight Eisenhower no doubt will blame the Tokyo riots on Communists. They were a tremendously active force in the Tokyo disorders which got so out of hand they compelled the Japanese government, for the sake of the President's safety, to call off his trip.
But other, non-Communists, took part in the riots, for labor unions, non-Communist leftists, neutralists, all were involved in protesting the signing of a new American-Japanese defense treaty.
These disorders had not only a long history—going back over a year—but were increasing in intensity. If they occurred during Eisenhower's visit, and he was injured or killed, there would have been an international crisis.
Why then didn't his advisers call off his trip without waiting for the Japanese government to decide it was too hazardous to be permitted?
The Senate Foreign Relations Committee asked Herter that at another session. The best he could say was that the President's advisers' judgment had been bad.

"Dear Dr. Molner: Are soft-boiled eggs less fattening than fried or scrambled?"—O. B. E.
Yes, especially if you don't put butter on them. The fat from frying, or the milk in scrambling adds calories. A boiled egg, afloat in butter, is not a good way to reduce. A boiled egg, without the butter, gives you protein without too much fat.

Avoiding Constipation As Good Insurance

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.
"Dear Dr. Molner: Please discuss diverticulitis. I was X-rayed a year ago and told I have a diverticular condition of the colon, but given no instructions on eating habits or the seriousness of this condition. In other words, all I know is I have it and that it isn't ulcers or cancer."—Mrs. L. W.
Rather a frequent question—but readers sometimes mix their terms, and I can see why. So let's start from the beginning. A diverticulum (the plural is diverticula) is a sort of outpouching of the colon. It may be in one or two spots. It may be in several. May be high or low or anywhere in the long intestine tract.
We aren't too sure of the cause, but the probabilities are that there are occasional weak spots in the wall of the colon where the blood vessels enter the muscle layer.
Anyway, it's a common condition, especially after the age of 50 or so, and often discovered incidentally as a result of an X-ray study of the colon. In one study of more than 1,000 X-rays showed diverticula in one person out of five.
A small outpouching of "bulge" isn't necessarily serious, isn't necessarily going to cause any trouble at all. It's a little bulge and that's all. No symptoms, no cause to worry about it. If it doesn't bother you, don't you bother it! That is called "diverticulosis," and it just means that the bulge exists.

Every now and then, however, one of these pouches may become irritated or inflamed. Then you call it "diverticulitis." This diverticulitis and "diverticulosis" are quite different. One means a bulge exists; the other means the bulge has become irritated.
In the latter case, associated symptoms may be pain in the abdomen, tenderness, fever. It may mimic appendicitis or other inflammatory abdominal conditions. Recurrent attacks can be quite troublesome: spasms of the colon, obstruction (perhaps partial) due to scarring; bleeding. This, however, is not common.
There is no apparent connection, by the way, between this trouble and cancer.
Thus, presence of diverticula may have no significance at all so far as the possessor of it is concerned. No special diet is necessary, no treatment is required or advisable. However, avoiding constipation is an excellent means of insuring against trouble in the future. (And avoid harsh laxatives; in fact, avoid laxatives by keeping the colon operating normally by proper diet and adequate fluids.)
If, despite this, you have trouble from the diverticula, or pouches, or bulges, or whatever you prefer to call them, and they become irritated, then medical supervision is advisable. Notice I said "supervision," not "treatment." Wise care in avoiding further irritation is the basic aim. Medication will go along with this aim.

If a case gets well out of hand, and becomes very annoying, then sterner measures are in order. Such cases are not frequent. Don't be alarmed if your doctor says you have diverticulosis, or says you have a diverticular condition. Just take the simple and ordinary precautions I've mentioned and relax. Ever Answer A Child's Questions?

If your fear your mental processes are slowing down and need to give them a shot of adrenalin, you need a small child dashing here and there about the house.
They can ask more questions in less time than a roomful of Perry Masons—some of which, no doubt, will have you reaching way back for the answers.

IN CONVERSATIONS with the daughter, Carol, age 3, I haven't come up with suitable replies every time. Fact is, one question detonates another, with the result that the conversation has no end—merely a recess for a drink of cold water or a session with the lawn mower.
Consider this recent tete-a-tete with the hellress. We have, on our wall at home a painting of an adult Christ, knocking on the door of a house. It is early evening, light enough that the lights and the outlines of buildings of a town in the background can still be seen:

"DADDY, WHO is that man?"
"That's Jesus Christ."
"What's he doing?"
"He's knocking on the door."
"Why?"
"He wants to talk to the people in the house."
"Why?"
"They're his friends."
"Who lives there?"
"Some people. A man and his wife."
"And a little girl?"
"Yes, a little girl lives there, too."
"Who's going to answer the door?"
"THE MOTHER, I suppose."

"The little girl can't answer the door because she's too little!"
"I suppose."
"Why doesn't someone answer the door?"
"They're coming right now. I'm sure they're coming."
"Is he going to spend the night there?"
"I doubt it."
"Why not?"
"Well, he's got a home and I imagine he wants to go back there."
"Why?"
"Just because."
"What are those things on the house?"
"That's ivy."
"Why?"
"LOTS OF HOUSES have ivy growing on them. It keeps them cool and it looks nice."
"Does it grow on our house?"
"No."
"Why not?"
"It's too dry, I guess."
"What's he got on?"
"A robe."
"Why don't he wear pants, like other daddies?"
"Most men wore robes of some sort in those days."
"Where are his feet?"
"His robe is so long, it hides them."
"Why?"
"Just because."
"How is he going to get home?"
"Walk, I suppose."
"Why don't he run?"

One Thing For Sure—It Goes!

If various groups of U. S. citizens keep up the heady work of explaining Americans to the rest of the world, eventually we may even come to understand ourselves and our fascinating folkways.
A noble effort in this direction is a pamphlet produced by the Freedom Fund to enable American tourists in the U.S.S.R. to answer the question most often asked of them by uninhibited Russians. Let's see where does your money go?

THE FREEDOM FUND is surely fulfilling an obvious void. Certainly no American tourist on the main street of Minsk, asked, "Where does your money go?" wants to answer "Who knows?" or "Where the woodbine twined?" or "Down the drain" or even "To Intourist."
Nor does he want to stand there with borsch on his face and exclaim, "Brother you tell me!"
Ask the average American tourist the comparative size of Texas and Alaska, Mickey Mantle's batting average, the speed limit on the Pennsylvania Turnpike, the grain tonnage in Federal storage, the Republican Vice-Presidential candidate in '48, his own recipe for barbecue sauce, the number of U. S. satellites aloft or the composition of the Electoral College, and he's with it.

BUT ASK HIM "Where does your money go?" and he's up the creek. He won't even try for the $4 question.
We Americans know HOW it goes: with the relative speed of Mach 5. But where it goes is something else again. In the U. S., our money has an unsurpassed circulatory system. Only pessimists ever give a thought to its respiration.
It has long been my contention that the Federal wildlife department, which bands migratory birds and fish to trace their peregrinations, ought to do us citizens a favor and make a similar study of money.

MONEY IS A SOMETIME thing in the United States. But this is nothing new. I can remember "way back when my mother, in honest puzzlement, used to say, "You break a $5 bill today and there's absolutely nothing left!" Today, her daughter says, in the same kind of honest bewilderment, "You break a $20 bill and you've had it!"
Only when mama broke a $5 bill at the grocery store, it took a delivery boy and a truck to haul home the loot, while I don't have too much difficulty carrying home the vittles from the supermarket when I break a 20.

TOMORROW, good-bye U. S. Grant! A $5 bill in today's economy is the same kind of chicken feed that a 25-cent piece was in Dawson during the Gold Rush, if Uncle Horace was leveling. Yet when I was a sophomore in high school and earned, as a high school correspondent, my first $5 bill, I felt that I held in my hands all the fabied wealth of the Indies.
I wonder how much cash it would take to make a teen-ager feel that rich today?
THE FREEDOM FUND booklet, free to American tourists headed for the U.S.S.R., not only explains where an American's money goes, but clears up other foggy questions such as, "How much of your income goes for taxes?" and "How can you afford to travel?"
Well, sir, I am not en route to Russia. But I surely would admire to know the answer to all these questions. They have been puzzling me for years. Before it gets too preoccupied with the Russians, I wish the fund would let us homefolks in on the secret first.

Let Teachers Stand Up For America

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Students have been rioting all over the world these days—Turkey, Japan and Cuba. Now in San Francisco, figuratively speaking, they are up in arms against the oath-taking provisions of the National Defense Education Act of 1958. What's the reason? Spring fever, parental neglect, nuclear unrest—or is it their teachers?
This daring afterthought leaped to mind in reviewing the Senate debate on the ripper amendment which is now before the House. There was this nugget of wisdom from Senator Richard Russell of Georgia, who was arguing to leave the act alone:

"I REGRET THAT some 20 institutions—universities and colleges—have already announced their refusal to cooperate in the student loan program. I think, Mr. President, these institutions are wronging the young people of this country."
Later in the debate, but dependent on Russell's remark, Senator Dodd of Connecticut, went further in indicting the faculty groups which have been inciting students to intellectual rioting (different in violence but not in kind from the snake-dancers of Tokyo) against the Defense policy of this country. Dodd said in a prepared address:

"... these college and educational spokesmen... chose to repudiate a Government program... to stir up the students against the act which is aimed to benefit them... chose to liken our Government to the Nazi regime of Hitler, to shed crocodile tears and to put on an air of persecution."
LIKE THE Japanese snake-dancers, the demonstrators against oath-taking are a pestiferous minority. The figures show that only 26 out of 1,350 institutions have declined to participate in the student loan program which is controlled by the objectionable oath. Numbers are not very meaningful, since non-counting never tells much about the rights and wrongs of anything. In a civilized country the minorities are allowed to have their fling within limits. The thing which sent me digging back into the Congressional Record to review the Senate debate was an episode that happened several days later.
DURING THE testimony of Dr. Linus Pauling, the nuclear pacifist, a spattering of frantic applause burst from a knot of college-age boys and girls when the witness seemed to be getting hostile toward the committee. I went back and interviewed them (not asking for any names) and discovered this unhappy but prevalent situation. As between a hostile, lay-down-your-arms witness and the four U. S. Senators who were questioning him with the utmost courtesy, the Youth Movement was for the witness—and against the American Government.

How did their twigs get bent that way? I think Senators Russell and Dodd suggested the answer. To understand how the faculty groups have been leading their students wrong, let us summarize the oath-taking issue. The student loans were authorized by the 85th Congress on the Sputnik-scare argument that a National Defense Education Act should be passed to send more people to college.

SINCE THIS was a quasi-military measure, it was thought that the students ought to take substantially the same oaths that are required of ROTC students and scholarship beneficiaries under the National Science Foundation. These oaths asked of student loan-takers are two in number. One simply and beautifully pledges allegiance to the Constitution. The other declares that the taker is not a Communist and does not plan to help overthrow the U.S.A.
The anti-oath agitators at first opposed both these oaths. When they couldn't rub out the pledge of allegiance, they concentrated on the anti-Communist statement. In the final Senate action, the anti-Communist declaration was killed, but a much stronger, and legally-binding substitute by Senator Prouty of Vermont was passed. Thus, despite much public misunderstanding, the anti-oath professors and their Senate cohorts took a beating.

LEFT IN THE embattled air was the plaintive cry that American students were being "singled out" for the anti-Communist statement.
"Well, why not? To be in the van of battle used to be considered an honor. Their teachers ought to teach these students that it's a privilege to be first in any fight against Communism."

January, Jennings Win Odessa Meet With 258

ODESSA (AP)—Don January, Dallas and amateur Dick Jennings of Lubbock won the $15,000 Odessa Pro-Amateur Sunday and kept alive a tradition that they don't repeat in this unique golf tournament.

In the 12-year history of the links feature, no combination ever has been able to put championships back-to-back.

January and Jennings shot a 9-under-par 63 on the closing 18 to compile a 258 total for 72 holes. They won by four strokes over Jay Hebert of Lafayette, La., and amateur Bill Hightower of Midland, who had a 67 for 262.

Doug Higgins of Fort Worth and amateur Buddy Branum of Midland, who won first place last year, wound up in a tie for 14th place with 266.

January won $2,500 while Hebert received $2,000.

Frank Wharton of Dallas and amateur John Farquhar of Amarillo tied Billy Maxwell of Odessa and amateur Red Roden of Odessa and Horace Moore and amateur Jack Williams, both of Plainview, for third. Each combination had 263. The Maxwell-Roden and Wharton-Farquhar teams each shot 66 on the final round. The Moores scored a 64.

Wharton and Farquhar missed 8-foot putts on the 18th green that prevented their tying for second place. Wharton, Horace Moore and Maxwell each received $1,250.

In sixth at 264 were Miller Barber of Texas and amateur Dick Martin of Dallas. Barber won $750.

January had the greatest shot at the tournament on the ninth green. He chipped in from 60 feet out for a birdie.

The leaders' scores won by professional in parentheses):

January, Dallas, 65-67-65-63-64 (5750).
 Dick Jennings, Odessa, 66-66-67-66-65 (5500).
 Jay Hebert, Lafayette, La., 67-67-68-67-66 (5300).
 Bill Hightower, Midland, 68-65-67-67-66 (5400).
 Doug Higgins, Fort Worth, and Buddy Branum, Midland, 67-67-67-67-68 (5150).
 Jack Williams, Odessa, 67-67-68-67-68 (5150).
 Frank Wharton, Dallas, and John Farquhar, Amarillo, 68-65-66-66-63 (5150).
 Horace Moore and Jack Williams, both Plainview, 68-64-64-63 (5150).
 Miller Barber, Texas and Dick Martin, Texas, 68-64-64-64-64 (5150).

TOP COLLEGE WRESTLER Training As Pilot At Webb AFB

ROTC Officer Is College Wrestler

One of the nation's top college wrestlers is presently receiving summer training at Webb, along with 150 ROTC cadets. He is Sidney C. Terry, 1960 Big Eight midweight champion and last-year NCAA runner-up.

The 21-year-old athlete is a senior at the University of Oklahoma. In the 1959 NCAA Wrestling Finals, Cadet Terry lost to Dick Beatty, two-time NCAA champ, and U. S. representative at the 1956 World Olympics at Melbourne, Australia.

"I was then 20," the cadet remarked, "and Beatty was 26 at the time. He never did pin me, but won the match by one point." Terry then explained how close he came to being the nation's top college middleweight a year ago:

"I threw a half nelson on him and nearly had him late in the third match, but he managed to get off the mat, and so I had to break the hold and go back to center." (Under NCAA rules points are awarded for takedowns, throws, escapes, reverses, falls, near-falls, and riding time).

Cadet Terry's best offensive holds, he said, are the split and guillotine. He relies on the switch or the sit-out for escapes.

The all-round athlete attended Edmond, Okla., high school, where he saw four years of football, three years of basketball and three years of track. In his freshman year Terry was State runner-up champion in golf. As a sophomore he took the State (high school) tennis title.

At Oklahoma University, where he majors in business administration and economics, Cadet Terry carries a high academic rating. The "O" Club member made the Dean's Honor Roll for two semesters.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Advance ticket sales for the July 1-2 Olympic tryouts in Palo Alto, Calif., are nearing the 60,000 mark and may hit 75,000.

For the first time in many years, it's unlikely that Texas will have any representatives in the track and field phase of the Olympic games. Bobby Morrow stands some chance of being included as a sprinter.

Officials within the Texas Thoroughbred Association are reasonably confident that the Texas Legislature will act favorably upon a plan to legalize pari-mutuel betting at the next session.

At the same time, they're not going to do anything to agitate the issue with those who might be against it.

Bobby Moegle, who brought the Lubbock Red Check baseball team here the other day to play the local American Legion Junior team, is a brother to Dickie Moegle, Rice Institute's one-time All-American footballer.

One of the supporting bouts on the Gene Fullmer-Carmen Basilio fight in Salt Lake City Wednesday night will pit Pete Rademacher against Lamar Clark.

Clark is the awkward Utah who had knocked out 45 men in a row until he was billed on a Friday night TV show. He then suffered an ignominious defeat at the hands of an unknown named Bartolo Soti. He had about as much boxing finesse as a bull moose.

A fellow who professes to know says Susan Mistral will retire at the end of the current season but will be retained on the St. Louis Cardinals payroll in some capacity for ten years, at a salary of $40,000 per annum.

Freddie (Trumpet) Rodgers, one-time Big Spring, is hurrying for the St. Paul entry in the American Association.

He's plumper than he was when he worked here but still blinding fast.

Glen Amerson, the 170-pound Texas Tech quarterback from Munday, Texas, is among the ROTC students in training at Webb AFB this summer.

Quoting Bob Milburn of the San Angelo Standard-Times, Ahlens's new high school (Cooper), will be a full-fledged member of District 2-4A in 1961.

The school will play a B team schedule only this year, which will be rugged enough, considering the fact that little but sophomores will be enrolled there.

Chuck Moser has lined up 1961 dates with Sweetwater, Waco and Breckenridge for the new school.

Piper Davis, who has paid several visits here with the Harlem Globe Trotters, was recently hired as a scout by the Detroit Tigers.

Piper played with Fort Worth three or four seasons back, before the Cats exited the Texas League.

Davis is a good friend to Jim Zapp, Big Spring's all-time home run king who still resides here.

Up around Aberdeen, Wash., you could have seen the Ingo Johansson - Floyd Patterson fight for free. It was being piped into homes, bars and restaurants.

The viewers were placed on an honor system. They were asked by the promoter, Ted Otis, to pay $2 voluntarily to help foot the bill. About 1,600 persons did but Otis expects to lose up to $1,500 on the venture.

Snead, Palmer Collect Canada Cup Golf Trophy

By JOHN FARROW
 PORTSMARNOCK, Ireland (AP)—Arnold Palmer who teamed with Sam Snead in winning the Canada Cup golf trophy for the United States, left for Scotland today with some new shots in his bag and hopes of adding the British Open to his American Open and Masters titles.

The Canada Cup tournament was decided Sunday over the 7,903-yard Portmarnock links on the edge of the Irish Sea, and it was a new experience to the Ladbroke, Pa., golfer.

"It's been entirely different playing this course," Palmer, 30, said.

"It's the first time I've played a course like this one. I've learned a lot of new shots — shots I've never played before in my life. I'm taking them with me to St. Andrews for the British Open."

Snead of White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., passed up the century of the British Open starting July 7-7-69-284 and Palmer 69-71-75-69-284 to tie for third.

The United States took the team title with a total of 565. England was second with 573, Australia third with 574, Ireland fourth with 575 and South Africa fifth with 578.

Six of the world's top pros from 30 nations competed.

PENDER NEXT Gene Fullmer Favored To Retain NBA Title

By The Associated Press

Gene Fullmer and Carmen Basilio will meet again Wednesday night at Salt Lake City's Dicks Field for the National Boxing Assn. version of the world middleweight title.

Fullmer won the title by knocking out Basilio in 14 rounds last Aug. 23 after the NBA stripped Ray Robinson of the crown for not defending within the specified time limit. Robinson subsequently lost the New York-Massachusetts and European version of the championship to Paul Pender of Brookline, Mass.

The durable Fullmer of the fighting clan from West Jordan, Utah, is favored to whip the ex-champ from Chittenango, N. Y., although Basilio, 33, claims he didn't fight his fight last time.

CONDITIONAL Jim Gentile Helps Orioles Take Over

By JACK HAND
 Associated Press Sports Writer

Jim Gentile, a conditional purchase from Los Angeles last fall, is showing the Baltimore Orioles how to take charge of the American League.

Gentile's seven runs batted in Sunday helped the Orioles regain first place by a one-game margin over the New York Yankees. His three hits in five at bats sent him into first place in the league batting race at .347 with a 10-point edge over Boston's Pete Runnels. The slugging first baseman is right up there in RBIs too with 49, good for second place.

The former Dodger farmhand wasn't the whole show in Baltimore's success story. Chuck Estrada, a young rookie right-hander, had a no-hitter going for seven innings and wound up with a two-hit no-hitter in the Orioles' 9-2 victory over Kansas City.

New York faltered after Whitey Ford had pitched the Yankees to a 6-2 first-game victory over Cleveland with a four-hitter.

Despite Roger Maris' two home runs and four RBIs, the Indians won the second 7-6 in 11 innings on an error by Maris. After the game, Jimmy Piersall, high strung Cleveland outfielder, was sent home for an indefinite rest.

The Chicago White Sox, awakening from their springtime slumbers, looked like defending champions once more in taking a pair from Boston, the first gently 4-3 and the second with a sledge hammer 21-7.

Washington sent the fifth-place Detroit Tigers reeling under a double defeat 4-2 and 7-4 with three former Tigers—Don Lee, Bill Fischer and Reno Bertoia—making major contributions.

Pittsburgh lost a doubleheader to the Chicago Cubs who had dropped nine straight. The scores were 7-6 and 7-5. The Pirates still lead second-place Milwaukee by three games because the Braves were beaten by Los Angeles 6-3. Cincinnati knocked off third-place San Francisco 10-4 and Philadelphia topped St. Louis in the first

New Names, Marks Enter AAU Records

By BOB MYERS
—BAKERSFIELD, Calif. (AP)—New names and marks went into the track and field record book today as attention turned toward Stanford University for the next pre-Olympic Games action.

The National AAU Championships records registered here Saturday night:

An American and meet mark in the hop, step and jump, by Ira Davis of the Philadelphia Pioneer club — 53 feet, 4 1/2 inches, (old American mark 52-5 1/2, by Al Andrews in 1959; old meet mark, 50-11 1/2, by Louisiana State University's Billy Brown in 1941).

A meet record in the 1,500-meter run, by Jim Grele, Oregon Emerald Athletic Assn. — 3:42.7 (old time, 3:47.5, by Dyrrol Burleson, Oregon, last year).

A meet record in the discus, by Al Oerter of the New York Athletic Club — 193-9 1/2 (old mark, 186-5 by Oerter last year).

A meet record in the 3,000-meter steeplechase, by Phil Coleman, Chicago Athletic Club — 8:55.6 (old mark, 8:57.3, Charley Deacon) Jones in 1958).

A meet mark equalled in the 400 meters — by Otis Davis, Oregon Emerald Club — 45.3 (set by Tom Courtney in 1958).

The fierce finish between Coleman and Jones in the steeplechase, with Coleman regaining the lead and the victory in the final stride.

And the cozy stride-for-stride run by Bill Dellinger and Jim Beatty in the 5,000 meters. The lads said later Beatty more or less urged Dellinger to go on and win because he was the defending champion. But Dellinger declined the sporting offer. It appeared they even hoped for a tie. But Dellinger was the winner by a bare inch or so and both were clocked in 14:28.4.

Front Office Concerned Over Detroit's Losses

DETROIT (AP)—President Bill Dewitt of the Detroit Tigers dud with Manager Jimmy Dykes in a hastily called summit meeting Sunday night after the Tigers dropped a doubleheader to the Washington Senators.

Dewitt said later he plans no changes in the organization at this time.

Dewitt stalked into the Tiger clubhouse and walked directly to Dykes' quarters. He sat and talked with Dykes for more than 15 minutes in view of the players.

Several players complained privately it was a bad time and a bad place for such a meeting.

"This club is unsettled enough, struggling around trying to snap out of it," said one veteran. "This sort of thing doesn't help."

Said Dewitt: "It won't hurt the players to know that I'm concerned."

Joyce Ziske Wins Open

CHICAGO (AP)—Barbara Romack, the fashion plate of women's golf, still has to win her first pro tourney—thanks to efficient Joyce Ziske.

Miss Ziske daintily pulled the rug from under Miss Romack Sunday on the second hole of a playoff for top money in the $7,500 Women's Western Open.

Miss Romack, 27, already had completely rattled the defending champion and 54-hole leader, Betty Rawls, as they battled head-to-head in the last three holes.

But, one threesome ahead, Miss Ziske came booming in with a one-under-par 72 for a final 301 aggregate. Miss Romack faltered after moving five strokes ahead of the waverling Miss Rawls and salvaged a 73 to the Joyce at the finish of the regulation 72 holes.

On the first extra hole, Miss Romack bravely sank a nine-footer to match Miss Ziske's par four. But on the 74th hole, Miss Romack was unable to deliver a five-foot pressure putt and took a bogey six while Miss Ziske sank a four-footer for a par and the $1,313 first prize.

Legion Team Begins Second Round Robin

Big Spring's Junior American Legion baseball team, was slated to meet Denver City here today in a 4 p.m. game in Steer Stadium. This is the second round of the double round robin schedule between the two teams, Denver City having won the first.

The Big Spring team advanced in 19th District south zone play here Sunday with a 17 to 5 victory over Tahoka, giving them a 4-2 won loss record for the season.

Defeats were at the hands of Denver City and a game still under protest with the Lubbock Red Chicks.

Big stick for Big Spring was Herb Sorley, with 3 hits, 3 runs and 5 RBI. Jeff Brown poked a four baser for the winners. Sorley who commutes from nearby Stanton had a perfect day with 3 for 3 and two walks.

Jimmy Green led the Tahoka attack with 2 hits, one a round tripper and Fernando Lopez scored 2 singles in 4 times at bat.

Big Spring was victorious over Tahoka in the first game of the double round robin schedule in the south zone. The Legion 19th District with 19 teams has more than any other in the state and is divided into three zones. Two top teams from each zone will play for District champion honors.

Chicago Spoils Sure Thing Beating Pittsburg Twice

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

Once in a great while a baseball game looks like a sure thing. A can't miss proposition like Inge-Mar Johansson over Floyd Patterson last week. Or Patterson over Ingo last year.

The sure thing was all ready for the picking Sunday. Pittsburgh, leading the National League, was playing Chicago, the last-place team. The Pirates had two of the best pitchers in the league going for them. Bob Friend (9-3 going into the double header) and Vern Law (11-2). The Cubs had lost nine straight. Just to put the lock on it, the games were to be played in Pittsburgh.

So what happened? The Cubs turned on the Pirates and beat them twice 7-6 and 7-5.

Even the Pirates could afford to enjoy the irony of it all. Their league lead hardly was touched. Second-place Milwaukee also lost, bowing to Los Angeles 6-3 and third-place San Francisco also fell before Cincinnati 10-4. As a result Pittsburgh dropped only a half game and still leads by three full games.

The best pitching effort of the day was turned by the Phillies' John Buzhardt who settled down after a shaky start and held St. Louis hitless for 9-2-5 innings of a 12-inning 9-2 victory. The Phils Chris Short had a 3-1 lead going to the ninth of the second game only to have the Cards' Hal Smith hit his first homer of the year with two on for a 4-3 victory.

Baltimore recaptured first place in the American League with Chuck Estrada and Jim Gentile showing the way to a 9-2 romp over Kansas City, New York split with Cleveland, winning the first 6-2 but dropping the second 7-6.

Doctor Advises Jim Piersall To Take Rest

By BOB GREEN
—BOSTON (AP)—Jim Piersall, Cleveland's high-strung outfielder, was bewildered by a doctor's order that he take a rest to soothe his jangled nerves.

"It's a complete shock to me," the Cleveland firebrand said Sunday night. "I don't really understand it."

Piersall, who spent part of 1952 in a suburban Boston hospital after a nervous breakdown, said he had no idea when he may return to the team.

"I'll just wait until I hear from Mr. Lane (General Manager Frank Lane)," he said.

Dr. Don Kelly, the Indians' team physician, advised the rest after Piersall was ejected from the second game of a double-header with the Yankees in Cleveland. Piersall left immediately and didn't know of the decision until he arrived in Boston to visit his family in suburban Newton.

"This was a big series," he said. "I always play hard against the Yankees."

He was thrown out of the game for disputing a call by umpire Hank Soar after he unsuccessfully attempted to steal second base.

Jim has been at odds with umpires since early May. He has been arguing with opposing players and has a running verbal and sign battle going with the official scorer.

Dodgers Edge Cards 3-2 Saturday

In a postponed game Saturday, the Dodgers edged the Cards 3-2, behind the pitching of Tommy Dobb, Randy French was the losing hurler.

The Dodgers carded their victory with three hits. Larry Harp slammed two doubles and Tommy Dobb helped his own cause with a single.

The Cards had two hits in their halves of the innings.

Cook Splits In San Angelo

Cook Appliance Co. of Big Spring split a double header with Rex-All Drug in softball play at San Angelo Sunday. Cook Appliance mauled the drugists 9-2 in the nightcap edition after dropping the first game 2-1.

Valley's Giants Pace Texas League But Lose Ground

By The Associated Press
Rio Grande Valley's Giants are showing the Mexican League folks why they are kingpins of the Texas League.

The Giants, playing an interlocking schedule in the Pan American Assn., swept a 3-game series with Poza Rica when they whipped the Oilers 5-3 Sunday.

The Valley boys lost a little ground in pacing the Texas League, however, because second place San Antonio played a doubleheader and won both games. The Missions clipped Veracruz, the Mexican League leader, 7-4 and 4-2. Rio Grande Valley now leads the Texas League by 5 1/2 games.

Al Steiglitz and John Orsino clouded home runs in the ninth to give Rio Grande Valley its decision over Poza Rica.

Felipe Montemayor's home run in the sixth inning broke a 2-2 tie and sent San Antonio on to victory over Veracruz in the first game.

Parking Ticket Leads Way To Acting Jobs

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—J. Edward McKinley built a $2 parking ticket into a $25,000-a-year acting job. "It's crazy," McKinley says. "One day I grabbed a parking ticket off my windshield and a few weeks later I was an actor."

He fought—and beat—the rap on the parking ticket. Appearances on television news and interview shows followed because of the uproar over the case. "Next thing I knew," he says, "the movie producers were calling up making me offers to act in straight dramatic shows."

McKinley appeared in 51 television shows and motion pictures. Among the TV shows have been "Alcoa Presents," "Sunset Strip," "Mr. Lucky," and "Colt 45."

He has played lawyers, judges, crime bosses and scientists. He still is hanging on to his sales promotion business and owns part of an oil company in Colorado. He's still interested in traffic tickets, promoting a plan for night traffic courts so that the working man can fight tickets. McKinley, who hasn't got a ticket since he went into acting, has taken nine citations to court and lost but one.

Shock For Kin

NORTH HOLLYWOOD, Calif. (AP)—"Be sure and come up," said the letter to Mr. and Mrs. Albert Singleton. "I have a surprise for you."

The Singletons drove 125 miles from their home in San Diego for a weekend visit with Mrs. Singleton's sister, Helen Jones.

They found her sprawled dead on her bedroom floor, a plastic bag over her head. Police listed the death of the 47-year-old office clerk as suicide.

'Sick' Fellas No Good For TV Mysteries

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Movie Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — In television, even in the Westerns, the villain is increasingly being depicted as a pathetic, pitiable fellow in need of competent psychiatric assistance.

That's all right for serious drama, but it isn't fair to use him in a mystery, to most of us an entertaining puzzle. In this form you got to have a villain who is a bad guy.

NBC's hour-long Mystery Show Sunday night was no mystery at all. It was, instead, a story about a fear-ridden husband and wife—he afraid that something in his past would be found out and she afraid of her husband.

What suspense there was involved whether Simon would toss his wife down a 100-foot cliff and what was causing her migraine headaches. That may be an adequate plot of a month or so of soap opera episodes, but it's not the stuff for a 60-minute evening mystery show while Alfred Hitchcock and his bright suspense tales are opposite on another network.

This one called "Fear Is the Parent" was pretty dull. It featured Mona Freeman, Arthur Franz and the interior of a perfectly delightful country house.

CBS radio will repeat its 55-minute recapitulation of events leading to the fall of France Thursday night (9:05-10) after receiving requests from listeners who missed it when it was originally broadcast on June 12, the 20th anniversary of that sad day.

Doug McClure who this season plays Flip Filpen in this season's NBC period "Overland Trail" will turn up next season playing a modern private eye in CBS's "Checkmate" series. The series promises well, incidentally. It was dreamed up by Eric Ambler, one of the best in the mystery-and-suspense writing business.

ABC says its broadcast of the Johansen-Patterson fight last week had the biggest radio audience in history for an entertainment or sports event. It was estimated by a rating service at more than 30 million listeners and the network claims this total has been exceeded only by the numbers who listened to FDR's wartime speeches. And on a night when TV was competing with its Emmy awards show, too.

Variety, the show business trade paper, says that when the rumor got around that "Person to Person" was in the market for a new producer, some 131 applications flooded in within a few days.

Recommended tonight: Special musical salute to teen-agers ABC, 9:30-10:30—with Pat Boone, Paul Anka, Edd Byrnes, Frankie Avalon, Bobby Darin and others; "After Hours," NBC, 10-11 — repeat of a spoof of psychiatry with Sally Ann Howes and Christopher Plummer.

All times Eastern Daylight.

Soviets May Start 'Minor Actions'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Thomas S. Gates Jr. says the Soviet Union is not likely to start a major war, but may cause cold war pressures "that might involve us in minor military actions."

But he contended during a television interview Sunday that "we're militarily ready and sound" to deal with either a small conflict or a major war.

"Our readiness is intact and sensible, and we can quickly deploy forces and augment forces if we need to do so," he said.

USED RECTANGULAR SHAPES
For his "space painting," Van Veen worked in mainly rectangular shapes formed with a continuous line. Colors are soft tones of blue and green with rose accents. Some sections are opaque and some almost transparent, with texture done in irregular brush strokes.

"I've removed painting from the wall and call it color in space," Van Veen explains. "It's part of the violent desire among artists these days to try new materials."

Traditionists may deplore the use of an unconventional glasslike background for painting, but Van Veen counters: "I feel that the whole achievement of the space age, with man conceivably going a million miles into space, clears away any and all restrictions on artistic concepts. Discipline in craftsmanship is needed but ideas should have no limit."

Pioneering Astro-Artist Uses Space As A Medium

By NORMA GAUHN
AP Newfeatures Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — If you're a modern artist in search of a medium, how about trying space? You won't be the first, though. Already in orbit is pioneering — Stuyvesant Van Veen.

The 50-year-old New Yorker, descendant of two of this country's earliest Dutch families, has done an abstract painting on both sides of a 3 by 5 foot panel of clear plastic.

It is mounted in a light aluminum frame to show its possibilities as use for a room divider or partition.

"I've removed painting from the wall and call it color in space," Van Veen explains. "It's part of the violent desire among artists these days to try new materials."

Traditionists may deplore the use of an unconventional glasslike background for painting, but Van Veen counters: "I feel that the whole achievement of the space age, with man conceivably going a million miles into space, clears away any and all restrictions on artistic concepts. Discipline in craftsmanship is needed but ideas should have no limit."

ture done in irregular brush strokes.

"I wanted a light hearted feeling to go with the medium," the artist says. "Light coming through the panel also gives a third dimension. And of course the background against which it is placed can change the effect."

Noting that people often key color schemes in their homes to a favorite painting, Van Veen feels space paintings could be used in the same way but as an integral part of furnishings. The plastic panels can be mounted in both movable screens and stationary dividers.

Van Veen has worked with plastics before, as long ago as 1937 when he used laminated plastic for a mural at the Chicago World's Fair.

ORDINARY MATERIALS
Widely known as a muralist, he used ordinary bartoop or kitchen tile for recent school and industrial mural commissions.

For a mural at a Bronx elementary school, he says: "The superintendent advised me to use some impervious medium because youngsters can be rough on anything decorative. Plastic was ideal because it can take a lot of punishment."

On that job, Van Veen ordered special colors at a plastic tile factory and relates: "The custom work cost the plant an extra $5,000 and now they won't do business with me." However, he found a wide enough color range in commercial plastics for his latest murals in a large New York housing development.

As evidence that he feels no limit to a muralist's artistic expression, Van Veen has done commissions on such unattractive topics as "The Romance of the Doughnut" and "Progress in Soap."

"I feel that a muralist is the interpreter between a building and the people who come into it," he says. "He can give meaning to a place with his work."

Space Art
Artist Stuyvesant Van Veen displays his abstract painting done on both sides of clear plastic panel. He says such art would make a perfect room divider or partition.

Feeling Jumpy?

CORNER BROOK, N.H. (AP)—In a jocular, unguarded moment, paper-millman Eric Beck attached a note to a roll of paper going to Australia about two months ago, saying, "If you have a spare kangaroo, please ship it to the undersigned." A reply said the recipient hoped to comply shortly. Beck hopes the Australian is joking or, he said, "maybe they'll send me a toy kangaroo."
